TO ERECT SIXTY HOUSES.
 A charter has been granted the St. John-Montreal Development Co., which has planned to erect sixty houses of the bungalow and semi-detached type at Fairville. The company will also build dwellings, etc., in other portions of the city and county. The capital is authorized in $20,000, and the incorporators, who are also the provisional directors, are Glendon H. Allan, Thomas Stephen, J. P. Beaudry (Montreal), and W. H. Gunter. Capt. Sparrow is the company's architect.

It was hoped that the foundations would be prepared for some dozen or more houses, but on account of delay in organization the company believe it will be spring now before a start is made. This will be definitely settled, however, on the arrival from Montreal this week of Joseph P. Beaudry and Roland Prokentine, the latter being a large stockholder of the company. On their arrival a meeting will be held at which directors will be chosen and at a subsequent meeting officers of the company.

The houses will be sold through the office of Taylor & Sweeney, who are the local agents.

Daring Robbery On Wright Street

Door of LeB. Wilson's Apartments Smashed, Rooms Ransacked, Things Taken.

A robbery of the boldest type occurred on Saturday evening, between the hours of 7:30 and 9:45, when the apartment of LeB. Wilson, 41 Wright street, in this city, was forced into and a number of articles of wearing apparel taken. The occupants of the apartment left shortly after seven o'clock for the purpose of doing some purchasing, and upon their return found the furniture scattered about in their rooms and the drawers of the dresser, cupboards and wash removed and the contents partly strewn about the floor.

Rear Door Smashed.
 Upon examination Mr. Wilson found that the robber or robbers had opened the door leading to the back stairs to the apartment, and the door at the head of the stairs minus its panels. The latter had been smashed into atoms, apparently by means of a hammer, leaving an opening of about two and one-half by three and one-half feet, through which the violator or violators of the law had entered. A careful examination also revealed that some overcoat, one suit of clothes and several other articles of clothing were missing.

A One Man Job.
 It is quite possible that the crime was perpetrated by one man only, and it would seem that he was in some way familiar with the apartment and waited until the occupants had gone out. The reason for this deduction is that the apartment is an upstairs one and the thief must have made a considerable amount of noise in breaking the panels of the door; and the indications are that he used a hammer in doing so. All other doors of the apartments were very securely locked.

It is rumored also that the thief entered the residence of a neighbor on the same street, but apparently became frightened as the house was occupied and made a quick exit. The matter has been placed in the hands of the local police and developments may shortly occur.

Address To Men By Bishop Richardson

"The Essential Elements Necessary to National and Civic Life" the Topic.

"The Essential Elements Necessary to National and Civic Life," formed the subject of an earnest and thoughtful address delivered by His Lordship Bishop Richardson of Fredericton to the Men's Guild of the Mission church yesterday afternoon.

Duties to Carry Out.
 His Lordship propounded the duties which faced every citizen and which must be carried out if Canada, the nation, were to take her place as one of the world powers of the future. It lay with native born Canadians to adhere to a strict moral standard, in the home, in political and in commercial life, that an ideal might be created by which the new citizens of our land might be guided toward the common goal of a truly great Canadian nation.

The essential elements of national greatness consisted in the right use of political and public responsibilities. Many today were prone to say politics here too dirty for them to have anything to do with them. It was not by inaction, but an active participation in politics that the evil might be rectified. Many again talked much of their rights, but seemed to forget their duties.

Political Partnership.
 Political partnership was the nation's great weakness, and the whole English speaking press were corrupted with the idea that nothing was too low to serve political ends. Political corruption was the worst feature of political life, and many men in public life considered politics as purely a matter of business.

If Canadians had fought and died for liberty and high ideals, it remained with those who live to see that such ideas prevailed in Canada, and to do this there must be a right use of the franchise.

Marriage should not be regarded as an unlimited opportunity for license coupled with a refusal to accept the duties of parenthood, the birthrate must not be allowed to lower if English influence within the province was to be maintained.

The war did not create the social evil but stripped it bare to the public eye. The evil venereal disease was man's sin and his responsibility. There would be no fallen women were it not for men. The state and society must recognize the fact that there was but one standard of morality.

Prohibition.
 Touching on the matter of prohibition, the Bishop said there was room and latitude for a great difference of opinion on the subject, and no one school of thought could claim to be absolutely right and sincere alone. But every man should live to help his weaker brother, for there must be social strength and purity to assure national greatness.

The last point raised was the necessity of national commercial honesty, the greatest asset in the building of a nation lay in a reputation for honesty and fair dealing. The label "made in Canada" should be ever the seal of honest value.

In closing His Lordship said that neither the political, social or temperance evil could be stamped out by legislation alone, but that could be secured by respect for and obedience to the law.

Spiritualism must be introduced into the national life, for a nation lives by its faith in God. The Bishop urged each of his hearers to make their lives not only one of faith but one of duty, to serve God in serving their fellow man.

Dedication of Boy Scouts' Flag

Presented by Col. M. B. Edwards to Knox Church Troop—Sermon by Pastor.

Boy Scouts' service was held yesterday afternoon at four o'clock in the Knox Presbyterian Church by the Rev. B. MacGowan, Legate, at which dedication of the flag presented by Col. M. B. Edwards to the Knox Troop of the Boy Scouts of the church also took place. The attendance was a very large one, and every Boy Scout of the Knox Troop was present for the occasion.

The Scout Movement.
 The service was opened by the "In-Procession," which was followed by the hymn "Stand up for Jesus." Scout Frank Thompson then read the Ten Commandments, and Scout Douglas McElhiney read the Scout Law. The Legate delivered a sermon on the subject: "The Scout Movement," which the speaker reminded his audience, had been founded by one of the bravest and noblest British and American citizens. His address dealt with the purpose of the movement was to obtain the interest of the boy, then having won it to lead him off step by step to the acquisition and formation of qualities that will make a happy and better boy, and bring him up as a man possessed of the highest qualities of brotherhood and become a most useful citizen. The speaker also pointed out that the movement supplemented the influence of the church and home in a most attractive manner by giving the boy labor and study that would bring forth his many qualities and help to develop them. This organization had been proved and tested, and he felt that it was capable of being a dominant factor in dealing with the boy problem, in St. John which is now existing.

The Presentation.
 After its dedication, A. C. Skelton, head of the Scout Movement in New Brunswick, after delivering a brief address to the Boy Scouts, presented the flag to Scout David Legate, standard-bearer of Troop No. 1. The flag is a very beautiful one, green in color, bearing the fleur de lis and the Scout's motto "Be Prepared."

The collection which was taken up during the service amounted to $23.45, and the Boy Scouts are donating this amount to the Animals' Rescue League.

Special Services At Anniversary

First Service in Church of the Good Shepherd, Fairville, Held Thirty-Five Years Ago

To celebrate the first service held thirty-five years ago in the Church of the Good Shepherd, Fairville, services of an unusually interesting nature took place yesterday. Large congregations assembled morning and evening, the church being crowded at the evening service.

The Holy Communion was celebrated at 8 a. m. At eleven o'clock the preacher was Rev. Canon Armstrong, Rector of Trinity Church. His text was taken from Isaiah 46:9. The subject was "Memories," upon which an able sermon was delivered.

At 3 p. m. a Children's Service was held which was addressed by the Rector, Rev. W. P. Dunham. The children took the opportunity to make a substantial birthday gift to the church.

Archdeacon Crawford.
 Venerable Archdeacon Crawford, Rector of St. Paul's was preacher in the evening, taking his text from Isaiah 12:7. "Hitherto hath the Lord helped us." The excellent singing of the surpliced choir was a feature of both morning and evening services.

The week's programme includes a concert on Monday evening in the Church Hall; Tuesday, continuous intercession in the church from nine o'clock until five, with evening service to be addressed by Bishop Richardson at seven thirty; congregational re-union on Wednesday evening; Anniversary high tea on Thursday at five thirty; closing on Friday with regular service.

Church History.
 Originally the parishes of Lancaster and Musquash were united, rectors being Rev. Mr. Robertson Rev. G. Bedell and Rev. W. F. Covert. From 1874 to 1884 the parish was supplied by St. George's church of Carleton Place. Rev. Theodore E. Dowling officiated, followed by Rev. LeBaron Fowler. About 1885 Fairville was set apart and made a mission with Rev. J. C. Trilcomb as priest in charge. During his seven years incumbency the present church, which had been in an unfinished state was completed. The next rector was Rev. W. H. Huggell followed by Rev. William LeBaron McKel who remained for eighteen years, giving faithful service. Upon his retirement in 1912 Rev. Walter B. Dunham, the present rector was appointed. The mission then became self-supporting and entitled to be called a parish. During the incumbency of the present rector the church has made rapid progress, increased in numbers and has given generously to many causes.

The Church Hall, which is used as a Sunday School is inadequate for the requirements, and plans are now being formulated to excavate under the church making an auditorium which will be used for all meetings of the various organizations.

Pleasing Ceremony.
 A pleasing ceremony took place at German street Baptist church yesterday when at the close of the morning service a presentation was made to Deacon and Mrs. Colwell.

Rev. S. S. Poole, with congratulatory words handed to Deacon Colwell a handsome leather bound copy of the following address:
 To Deacon and Mrs. Colwell:
 Dear Friends:—The Pastor, the Deacons and your many friends of the German street Baptist church and congregation extend to you loving greetings on this the sixtieth anniversary of your wedding day.

We rejoice that you have been spared for so many years to each other, to your family, to your friends and to the church you love so dearly. From the day you entered our fellowship, you brought to the church a mature judgment and an added power that have meant much to the advancement of the interests of the Kingdom. Mr. Colwell's services as a member of the Board of Deacons, to which office he was elected in 1900, were always characterized by clear vision, keen judgment and loyalty to the best traditions of our Faith—as Senior Deacon he has performed his duties faithfully and well.

Both of you have taken the deepest interest in the spiritual welfare of the church—your loving counsel and advice in things of God and your unselfish devotion to the cause of Christ have endeared you to our hearts. We congratulate you on so many well spent years of service together—We bless God for your Christian faith and thank you for the example of your most hearty congratulations on this anniversary season.

On behalf of the German Street Baptist Church:
 S. S. POOLE, Pastor.
 J. H. WILSON, S. H. DAVIS, C. CROSS, DONALDSON HUNT, S. E. FISHER, L. W. SIMMONS, Deacons.

Little Change In Labor Situation

Freight Handlers and C. P. R. Come to Terms—Waterfront Deadlock Still on.

There has been but little change in the labor situation over the week-end. The Freight Handlers and the C. P. R. have come to terms, the company has agreed to raise their offer, making the wage 58 cents per hour.

The Clerks expect to have their contract satisfactorily adjusted by Wednesday. The striking conditions having been agreed upon, the question of wages only remaining to be settled. The water front workers' deadlock is still on. The hitch in proceedings is due to a matter of an increase of 20 cents an hour asked by the Coal Handlers for night work. The question is now under consideration by the Dominion Coal Co.

The various unions were in session yesterday, but nothing was given out regarding questions under consideration.
