YOUNG OLSON TAKES ANDERSON'S BELT.

Last night at 8.30 before a large audience assembled in the C. L. B. Armoury, Sam Anderson of Boston and Young Olson of Newfoundland wrestled to a finish for the middleweight championship of the world and the belt held by Anderson since 1908. Anderson entered the ring first and was well received by the audience. A minute or so later he was followed by Olson, who received quite an ovation. Mr. R. Dowden, of the Evening Herald, then entered the ring, and, after introducing the wrestlers and the referee, Mr. Horwill, of H.M.S. Calypso, announced the conditions of the match. The sum of $100 had been deposited by Anderson as a forfeit should he not weigh in at the weight agreed upon, viz., 158 pounds. Anderson failed to make this weight and weighed in at 161 pounds, or three pounds above the middleweight limit. Olson, however, waived his right to claim the forfeit of $100 and was loudly applauded by the audience when it was announced. The men now discarded their sweaters and came to the centre of the mat and shook hands, and then the referee calling time, they got to work. Both men worked cautiously for several minutes, coming together repeatedly in head locks and trying carefully for effective holds, this stage of the bout being rather slow. After a few minutes' wrestling, however, Olson dived in and secured a double leg hold, bringing Anderson to the mat, but the latter making a tremendous effort as he went down wriggled over and assumed the top position and immediately became aggressive, trying hold after hold in quick succession, but was successfully held off by Olson, who again got on top and put in a lot of aggressive work, just failing on one occasion to turn his man over with a "further Nelson," and on several occasions nearly succeeding with the crotch hold. Anderson, however, was watching his chance, and again getting on top put in some clever work, and seeing his opportunity put a cradle hold on Olson and placed the shoulders of the latter to the mat, winning the first fall in 33 minutes and 58 seconds.

After ten minutes interval the men came together again, and it was noticeable that Olson was fresher than Anderson, the latter still appearing distressed from his exertions, whilst Olson seemed quite as strong as when he started. Olson worked much faster than Anderson all through this stage, although once he was nearly thrown by the same hold as in the first fall—the cradle. He broke it, however, and worked more aggressively than ever, and securing a scissors hold and following up with the half Nelson, pressed Anderson shoulders to the mat in 16 minutes and 19 seconds. The scissors hold punished Anderson severely and he was hardly able to stand after it, having to be assisted to the dressing room by his seconds.

After the regulation ten minutes rest the men resumed wrestling, and it was immediately apparent that Anderson was in distress; his work was slow and he was rushed to the ropes repeatedly, staggering as he came back to the mat. Olson was very aggressive, but Anderson was very game and defended well, escaping some dangerous holds by the sheer strength of his arms and neck; but his wind was gone and his strength failing, and after 15 minutes and 46 seconds, Olson secured a cradle hold and pinned his shoulders to the mat amidst loud applause.

When he got to his feet again Anderson congratulated Olson, and when the cheering subsided spoke to the audience. He stated that it was his first defeat in five years and again congratulated Olson on his wrestling. He said that he himself was not in his best condition, having felt the effects of his long train journey.

The match was clean all through but not very fast—as the men worked very cautiously. The referee had a lot of work in replacing the men on the mat, as they rolled off repeatedly in various stages of securing holds. However, Mr. Horwill is a competent man, and is to be congratulated on the way he did his work last night.

Anderson was seconded by Messrs Pat. Neville and R. Jackman, and Olson by Messrs. F. Marshall and E Goodland.

Have 66 Whales.

By the Fogota, we learn, that the Puma and Lynx which are fishing out of Beaverton, have done very well with the whales of late and that the big fish are plentiful on the coast. The whalers remain out for two days at a time and return with 2 and 3 fish each. Up to the time the Fogota left the ships had to the credit of their joint account 66 fish, most of them fin backs. If the fish remains as plentiful as at present they will make a good voyage during the fall.

Splendidly Kept Park.

Mr. John Ryan, the efficient and capable caretaker of Victoria Park, might well feel proud of this popular resort. The flowers are now all in bloom, there being 35 beds set out. The Park is well worth a visit. Before the season becomes too cold the Council should have a couple of band concerts in this excellent Park. These would be a source of pleasure to our citizens and would give many an opportunity to visit and see for themselves the beauties of the Park.

Event of the Season.

Great preparation is being made to celebrate the arrival of the first of the railway to Tor's Cove. The people of this Parish with their energetic Pastor will leave nothing undone to show how delighted they are by preparing a public entertainment to which they cordially invite not only all the people of the Southern Shore but as many from the city as can find conveyances; perhaps the railway may be used for the occasion.

The attraction besides the scenic beauty of the harbour and country about, races will be held on the harbour in which skiffs, fishing boats, dories from the other parishes will compete for prizes; land sports will be thrown into the intervals; platforms for dancing will be prepared and an orchestra will discourse music to the "light fantastic toe." Refreshments will be ready in abundance, and everything possible done by the good people to make the day an enjoyable one. The programme will finish at night in the halls of the spacious High School with feast and song, music and dance. Such a time! Surely nobody will lose such an opportunity for enjoyment and merriment. Who will be so generous as to offer prizes? Who will help to supply refreshments? We will want such a lot!

Mr. P. Fortune will take care of donations; Mr. Brown, at Goodridge's, will look after anything sent to his charge.

French Proposals Under Consideration

Special Evening Telegram.

PARIS, To-day.

The French Foreign Office was advised from Berlin that the French ambassador had presented written proposals of France for the adjustment of the Moroccan question. The German Foreign Minister is unable to indicate in advance what Germany's response to the proposals will be. He said they would be examined with the greatest care and in a spirit of goodwill, with the hope that a full and satisfactory solution will be found. Certain shadows hang over France in consequence of the long continued tension and it is visible in the stock exchanges of Paris and the French provincial cities. No date has been fixed for Germany's reply which it is persumed will be received at the end of the week.

Bourse Not Optimistic.

Special to Evening Telegram.

BERLIN, To-day.

The German Foreign Minister and the French Ambassador met to discuss France's proposals to Germany, looking to a settlement of the Moroccan dispute. The impression continues to prevail among German statesmen that the chief difficulties of the negotiations will be experienced over the problem of adequate guarantees for the maintenance of Germany's economic status in the Moroccan Empire, it being the belief that the questions of the French political predominance in Morocco and the compensation to Germany in the shape of concessions of territory in the French Congo are of easier arrangement. The resumption of the Franco—German negotiations did not create optimism on the Bourse the tone being weak.
