METHODIST MASS MEETING DISTURBED AT WINGHAM

Lightning Struck Town Hall but Occupants Escaped.

Final Report of Stationing Committee Will Be Vastly Different.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Wingham, June 6.—The conference today met for only a short time, part of the day being needed for committee work and preparation for the Sabbath.

The report of the General Conference fund, prepared by the Rev. Dr. Griffin, showed receipts and disbursements of $8,800. Out of this fund are met the salary of the general superintendent and general expenses of the General Conference.

Rev. W. H. Butt presented the report of the contingent fund, making appropriations as follows: For supply work, Trowbridge, $172; Fullarton, $25; Tiverton, $20; Walton, $17; Hensall, $116; Shedden, $14; for medical expenses, $109; funeral expenses, $110.

The Union Church relief fund report, read by Rev. S. Salton, showed receipts of $647, to be devoted to relief of embarrassed churches.

Rev. W. McMullen, B.A., read the report of the superannuation fund. The amount paid into the fund during the year by churches and ministers of the London Conference is, in round numbers, $14,000. Besides the superannuated ministers, 79 children and 205 widows receive an annual allowance from this fund.

The proposal to discontinue the billet system, in a motion by Rev. R. Hobbs, led to a very lengthened debate. The motion was finally carried by a considerable majority. That, of course, means that the delegates hereafter will make provision for their own entertainment and pay for it at hotels or other places open to them. Such a system is now in operation in the Toronto and Hamilton Conferences and is giving satisfaction.

The conference next year will be held at London, either in the Wellington Street or Dundas Center Church.

Permission to sell or exchange church properties was granted as follows: Sale of Jubilee Church on Attwod circuit; exchange of properties at Listowel; sale of former M. E. Church property, Kincardine; sale of church at Henfryn, on Ethel circuit; sale of old parsonage and purchase of new at Ethel; sale of parsonage at Dungannon and purchase of new property; sale of church lot at Walton; sale of property at Elimville; sale of church at Maxwell, on Camlachie circuit; sale of lot at North Ridge; sale of lot on Tupperville circuit.

At 3 p.m. Rev. C. W. Wells, B. D., delivered the annual lecture before the Theological Union. The subject, "Inspiration," was presented in a way that was unique and interesting.

With the coming of the Sabbath, hundreds of people came into Wingham to attend the conference services of the day. It was a matter of regret to the conference to find that a special train had been run in from Teeswater early in the morning, thus violating the sanctity of the Sabbath in a way that the Christian people are now expected to avoid. Many people failed to find entrance to the morning service, which began at 9:30 with a fellowship service. At 11 o'clock the public service opened, and was followed by the ordination service. The ordination discourse was preached by Rev. James Henderson, D. D., of Toronto, who ranks first among Methodist ministers as an eloquent preacher. His effort at this time was accompanied by much power. The text chosen was Acts, ii., 4: "And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost."

At the close of the public service, George W. Rivers, B.A., and John E. Osterhout, B.A., B.D., were ordained to the full work of the ministry, the president of the conference conducting the service.

A mass meeting in the afternoon was addressed by Rev. Dr. Cook and Rev. J. Livingstone.

Another mass meeting was held in the town hall, conducted by Evangelist Kerr. The meeting was much disturbed by a violent thunderstorm. Lightning struck the hall, which was filled to overflowing. Whilst the building was injured, no one within was hurt, though all were more or less frightened.

Rev. Dr. Young, of St. Thomas, preached at the evening service from the words "Looking Unto Jesus." The sermon was thoughtful and appropriate.

The communion service that followed was attended by many hundreds.

The stationing committee sat on Saturday evening to hear deputations from official boards.

The final draft of stations will be made on Monday evening and is likely to be very different from the first. Many changes must be made.

The conference will close on Tuesday.

MAKING NEW RECORDS

G. T. R. Shows How It Can Handle Live Stock.

Gets Trains From Tunnel to Yard in Eight Hours.

The Grand Trunk is making an endeavor to secure a good share of the live stock traffic between western points and Toronto and Buffalo, one of the means taken being to run the trains on fast time.

The cattle shippers have shown an independent spirit since the rush of the winter months is past, knowing that all of the roads were in a position now to handle the traffic without any trouble, so far as rolling stock is concerned, and they are insisting on extra good time being made, and giving the business only to the lines that are capable of making it.

To snow the shippers the possibilities of the road, the Grand Trunk has been handling trains of live stock between the tunnel and the bridge in eight to nine hours, whereas regular freight occupies between ten and twelve hours to make the same distance. Even better time than this was made one day last week by a trains of stock bound from the tunnel to York, a few miles east of Toronto. The train was hauled via London and the junction cut, near Hamilton, and it reached York in something less than eight hours. The run from London to the cut was accomplished in better than three hours, which is seldom heard of with a freight train. The live stock for Toronto might be hauled by the old main line, but the grades at some points are such that trains with eight cars more can be taken via London and the junction cut in better time.

In order to get the live stock over the road in the best possible time the road has been giving the trains the right of way over almost everything except the passenger service.

The United States National Association of Master Horseshoers intends to establish a college devoted to the trade. A course in horse anatomy, the study of elementary chemistry and metallurgy and the rudiments of veterinary surgery are to be included in the curriculum.

THREW BANANAS AT P. C.

This Act Caused Young Man to Be Fined Five.

Wm. Squire, of Cleveland, Permitted to Pass on His Way.

Bananas proved the downfall of one young man today. He did not step on them, either. The nature of his affair was the throwing of two of the long yellow fruit at a policeman while the latter was on duty.

P. C. Green told the magistrate this morning that he had been standing on the market last Tuesday, when the defendant threw two bananas at him, and when rebuked, followed these up with the stock of the bananas. Hence the P. C. took the offender's name and had him brought to court on a charge of being disorderly. The defendant declared it was only a joke, and the magistrate said unto him: "That is an unseemly joke and was intended to make the policeman ridiculous in the eyes of the public, and as policemen were performing an important duty in keeping the peace of the city they should not be made the butt of jokes from strangers. Five dollars or fifteen days."

There were four intoxes. Two of them made their first appearance in this role and were discharged. George Nichols had been on remand for a week, and when he came up the magistrate commenced to tell him that he had had complaints about the man's conduct, but the latter's hearing was not as good as it was hoped, and his case had to be left until the magistrate could talk to him after court. He did so then very effectively, letting him go with a severe warning. Another man who had been drunk was Ira Halliday, who looked very sober when he was fined a dollar. He was warned that on the next appearance in this court he would be fined more heavily.

NOTHING AGAINST HIM.

William Squire was arrested a week ago and charged with vagrancy, being remanded to see if there was anything against the man elsewhere. Nothing was found and the magistrate let him go. When asked about himself Squire said that he came from Cleveland and was bound for London, where he had been informed that he could get employment as a railroad man.

The only other case in open court was a wages dispute between John Craine and William B. Davidson. The former charged the latter with hiring him at $1 50 a day and with not paying him for a day's work which he did. He said he did no further work because the defendant was like a slave driver. The defendant said that he had hired the man for two days for $3 and the man had fooled on the second day and put him out in his work. The magistrate wanted the plaintiff to go to work the other day, but this he could not do. As he had worked one day the magistrate awarded him one day's pay, but did not impose costs.

The little Italian lad who was arrested a week ago for stealing goods from Mr. Meredith's cigar store and found guilty, came up for sentence in the juvenile court. The boy was penitent and promised to not do anything wrong again and the mother of the boy promised to look after him. So under the circumstances the magistrate decided to be lenient, warning the boy that another offense would mean his being sent to the reformatory.

A civil charge was laid against another boy, that of driving across a bridge faster than a walk. He was discharged.

A Whistling Language.

The aborigines of the Malabar Islands employ a perfect whistling language by means of which they can communicate with each other over long distances. A stranger wandering over the islands is frequently surprised to hear from a hilltop the sound of loud whistling, which is quickly repeated on the next hill, and so is carried from summit to summit until it dies away in the distance. But perhaps the most curious means of communication in the world is the drum language of a Kongo tribe. These queer people can talk to each other with large drums made of bamboo hoops, over which the skin of some animal is stretched. The drum, however, is used only on important occasions.

WATT-LACEY NUPTIALS

Young Detroit Architect Takes a Bride From London.

A quiet wedding was solemnized this morning at the residence of Squire R. F. Lacey, Albion street, West London, when his youngest daughter, Miss Annie A. Lacey, was married to Mr. John McLeod Watt, son of Mr. P. J. Watt, of this city, who is now a resident of Detroit. The ceremony was performed in the presence of only immediate friends and relatives by Rev. T. E. Harrison. The services of groomsman and bridesmaid were dispensed with. Miss Lacey was attired in a traveling gown of gray winpcord over pink, with chiffon and heavy applique trimmings. A wedding luncheon was served at the conclusion of the ceremony. Miss Lacey will be missed in musical circles. Mr. Watt is an architect and is employed in the offices of Mason & Painter, of Detroit, the staff of which firm presented him with a solid silver chafing dish and a set of solid silver bon-bon dishes. The office staff of Mr. Herbert Matthews, of this city, where Mr. Watt was formerly employed, also sent a handsome present. Mr. and Mrs. Watt will reside in Detroit, after spending their honeymoon in Chicago and other western cities.

Secrets of Success.

A certain fellow who answered advertisements in cheap story papers has had some interesting experiences. He learned that by sending $1 to a Yankee he could get a cure for drunkenness. And he did. It was to "take the pledge and keep it."

Then he sent fifty 2-cent stamps to find out how to raise turnips successfully. He found out—"Just take hold of the tops and pull."

Being young, he wished to marry, and sent 34 1-cent stamps to a Chicago firm for information as to how to make an impression. When the answer came it read, "Sit down on a pan of dough." It was a little rough, but he was a patient man, and thought he would yet succeed.

Next advertisement he answered read, "How to double your money in six months." He was told to convert his money into bills fold them and he would see his money doubled.

Next he sent for twelve useful household articles, and he got a package of needles.

He was slow to learn, so he sent $1 to find out "how to get rich." "Work like the devil and never spend a cent," and that stopped him.

But his brother wrote to find out how to write without pen or ink. He was told to use a leadpencil.

He paid $1 to learn how to live without work, and was told on a postal card, "Fish for suckers, as we do."—London (Ky.) Echo.
