THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

ARRIVAL IN TORONTO OF LORD LORNE AND PARTY.

Their Reception at the Union Station—His Excellency at Government House—Around the City—Vice-Regal Notes.

The governor-general arrived in Toronto yesterday by special train from the east, accompanied by Col. de Winton, R. A.; Capt. Chater, A.D.C.; Hon. Capt. Bagot, A.D.C.; Capt. Clifton Percival, A.D.C.; Rev. Dr. McGregor, of Scotland; Mr. Sidney Hall, London Graphic; Mr. Austin, London Times, and Dr. Colin Sewell. His excellency was met at the Union station by the lieutenant-governor, the mayor, the minister of education, Colonel Gzowski, A. D. C., and other prominent citizens. There was quite a large turn-out of people. A well-mounted body-guard attended to receive his excellency. After shaking hands all round, including some old men in the crowd who pressed forward to enjoy that honor, Lord Lorne and Hon. J. B. Robinson entered a carriage and were driven to government house. The remainder of the party, with the exception of Rev. Dr. McGregor, who is the guest of Mr. H. W. Darling, went to the hotels.

After luncheon at the gabernatorial residence, the marquis drove out with Col. Gzowski, A.D.C. Subsequently his excellency and one of his aides took a drive through the city with the lieutenant-governor, visiting the weather observatory in the Queen's park, and honoring Hon. G. W. Allan with a call at Moss park.

There was a dinner party at government house in the evening, when the following select few met Lord Lorne: Mr. Justice Morrison, Hon. Adam Crooks and Miss Crooks, Lieut-Col. Gzowski and Mrs. Gzowski, Hon. Alex. Morris and Mrs. Morris, Hon. G. W. Allan and Miss Allan, and Mr. J. Burr Plumb, M. P. The table was elegant and unique, being surmounted by a large and beautiful aquarium filled with fountains, rockeries, gold fish, water flowers and other lovely objects.

To-day the governor-general will lunch with Col. Gzowski. Another dinner party will be given at government house this evening, to which several prominent citizens have been invited.

VICE-REGAL NOTES.

Col. R. B. Denison and Col. Milsom were at the station.

The vice-regal party will take their departure for the Northwest to-morrow.

Troopers McGregor and Brown rode ahead of the party with their carbines drawn.

As usual with vice-regal trains, Col. Gzowski drove down to the Don and boarded it there.

It would be in perfect order for the McCallum More to attend the Caledonian gathering in kilts.

His excellency wore a large drab helmet banded with muslin. He is looking well, and has very pretty teeth.

The body guard numbered twenty, under command of Lieut. Heward. They presented a splendid appearance.

"I take more pride in the boys than in the governor" is what an enthusiastic woman said as she surveyed the body guard.

The "brace" that Trooper McGregor puts on when the governor-general appears is a long way ahead of any "North of Ireland brace" extant.

The Queen's Own furnished the guard that was on duty at government house. The Tenth will mount a guard to-morrow. The pay is $1 per day.

Governor Robinson is at his happiest when he has Lord Lorne in a carriage along with him and twenty dragoons galloping after them all the way up the street.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Charles Austin, representative of the London Times, accompanied Hon. Mr. Crooks to the education department. They were escorted through the educational museum and normal and model schools by Dr. May, who, together with the minister of education, explained and commented upon the system pursued in the schools, and pointed out the objects of interest in the museum. At the time of the visit over one hundred students were in attendance for first-class examination. Mr. Austin evinced great interest in the art museum, also in the normal and model schools, and expressed himself as much pleased with his visit, and requested to be supplied with pamphlets explanatory of the schools and museum.

THE MANITOBA TRIP.

WINNIPEG, July 16.—The meeting on Thursday night to make arrangements for the reception of the governor-general was poorly attended. The Free Press thinks that the lack of enthusiasm is in a measure due to "a display of supercilious arrogance not at all palatable to Canadians"—meaning the treatment of the Canadian press. The Free Press does not blame the marquis, but the "idle danglers about the Ottawa court." The Free Press hopes that the reception will be characterized by elegance rather than extravagance; as such it will be better appreciated by Lord Lorne.

A PRIEST FATALLY BURNED.

A Roman Catholic Presbytery Destroyed by Fire—The Building a Complete Wreck.

ROXTON FALLS, Que., July 19.—A serious fire occurred here about midnight in the Roman Catholic presbytery, which was burned to the ground, nothing but the stone walls remaining. The priest, Father Larne, who was in the house at the time, was found to have been burned to death in the flames. His nephew, who was in the house with them, had retired to his own room about 10 p.m., and was awakened by the smoke and flames, and escaped with his life by jumping out of the window. The fire was first seen as coming from the reverend father's room, who had been ill for some days but was not confined to his bed. The doctor had left him not long before the accident, and it is supposed that after his departure Mr. Larne had a fit and overturned the lamp, which set fire to the surrounding materials. Every possible means were taken to rescue the lamented gentleman and to save the building, but without any effect. The other residents of the presbytery were absent at the time on a visit. The deceased has been priest here for five years.

OUTRAGED AFFECTION.

A Philadelphia Young Lady Enticed From Home And Shamefully Treated—A Woeful Tale.

PHILADELPHIA, July 19.—Laura McGrath, aged 15, the daughter of respectable parents here, was enticed from her home under promise of marriage by John Malone. The parties went to Wilmington, Del. After a few days, Laura's money being spent, Malone took her to a grove, pushed her into a river and absconded. She regained the shore with difficulty, and half crazed wandered through the woods. She was captured by four notorious characters, who kept her in the woods several days and brutally outraged her. When rescued by the police, the girl was in a terrible condition, and nearly insane. She has been brought home.

GARFIELD STILL IMPROVING.

Free From Fever and His Appetite Good—He Wanted to Smoke—Guiteau to be Kept in Custody.

WASHINGTON, July 19th, 8:30 a.m.—The president passed a very good night. This morning he is free from fever and expresses himself as feeling quite comfortable. Pulse 90; temperature 98.5; respiration 18.

2 p.m.—The president is passing a comfortable day. He had for breakfast toast, milk, and meat juice, and [illegible] them with apparent relish. His pulse [illegible] ow 92, temperature and respiration nor[illegible]

7 p.m.—The president has passed an excellent day, and in the afternoon the fever has been less than on any day [illegible]ce he was wounded.

THE SURGEONS' REPORT.

The following was sent by [illegible] attending to the consulting surgeons [illegible]night: Last evening the president received [illegible] hypodermic injection of one-eighth of a grain of sulphate of morphia and slept well during the night. He continues to take sulphate of quinia in three grain doses, three daily, and has an enemata when required. As anticipated, the increased fever of yesterday proved only temporary, and he has had a better day today than any since he was injured. The wound looks well, and is discharging healthy pus freely.

NOTES.

President Garfield recently insured his life in the Equitable for $25,000.

It is reported that the president Monday asked permission to smoke, but his physicians would not allow him.

The missing bullet fired at the president has been found in a box carried by a glazier, who was in the depot at the time of the shooting.

The president told the doctors several days after he was shot: "I will stand all the pain, but you must stand all the worry; I can't stand both."

A southern politician of some prominence states that on the 17th day of May, while visiting the state department, he overheard Guiteau say to a companion in an angry tone: "They have put me out of the white house; I will show them whether I can get even with them." Next day Guiteau purchased the pistol.

The district attorney has directed that Guiteau be retained in custody to await the action of the authorities, and that in the meantime he be perfectly isolated in the prison, not being permitted to hold any communication, verbal or written, with the guards of the prison or anybody outside except through the district attorney.

It is stated that as Guiteau's punishment will be utterly inadequate to his offence, should the president survive, the district attorney is determined to take every advantage authorized by law to secure for the assassin the greatest possible punishment, and will therefore hold him in close confinement awaiting the results of the president's injury for a year and one day before having the culprit arraigned.

ANOTHER NIAGARA MYSTERY.

The Body of a Young Lady Found Floating in the River Opposite Queenston.

QUEENSTON, July 19.—The body of a young lady was found floating in the Niagara river opposite this place this afternoon. The body is apparently that of a young lady sixteen or eighteen years of age, five feet four inches in height, dark brown hair, full round face, good teeth, and it has been good-looking. Her clothing, of which she retained nearly the whole, consisted of a white cotton chemise, with a woven cotton waist or Jersey over it. The dress is black cashmere, modern style, with bead and lace trimming. The face is somewhat bruised and disfigured. The right arm is broken above the elbow, and there is a gash on the jaw and several other bruises. The coroner, who is a practising physician, thought from the appearance of the body that it had been in the water but a few days, as decomposition had scarcely begun to set in.

THE ALBANY CONTEST.

Lapham Stock Rising Rapidly—His Election Considered Sure—Conkling Feels Bitter.

ALBANY, July 18.—On the first ballot the vote stood as follows:—Lapham, 68; Potter, 45; Conkling, 28; Woodford, 1; necessary to a choice, 72.

NEW YORK, July 19.—The Tribune's Albany special says that such assurances of support for Lapham have been received as to leave no doubt of his ultimate election.

The Times says all signs indicate that the Conklingites can't expect to prolong the struggle more than two or three days at most.

It is stated that Conkling says to-day that he was satisfied that his position was stronger than it was a week ago, and unless the "missions" were more plentiful than he believed, he would yet succeed. "Men who betray their friends," said Conkling, "as Lapham and Sharp have done, will live to deeply regret it. Time cures all things."

THE CREDIT VALLEY.

The St. Thomas Extension—To be Opened by August 31—The Road and Roadbed.

INGERSOLL, July 19.—The extension of the Credit Valley to St. Thomas is being rapidly pushed forward and will be completed by the end of August. The road is twenty-four miles long, runs in a direct line over a level country, and will cost $300,000. The contractors have over 300 men on the works. St. Thomas will be 121 miles from Toronto by this new and direct line. The formal opening of the road will take place during the week of the southern counties' exhibition. On Wednesday, October 5th, a special passenger train will be run over the Credit Valley from Toronto, conveying the railway officials, together with the mayor and board of alderman of the Queen city, who have accepted an invitation to participate in the ceremonies of the day. Governor Robinson is also expected to lend his presence to the fair.

ONTARIO AND QUEBEC ROAD.

Meeting of Shareholders Yesterday—Permanent Directors Appointed—The Work to be Proceeded With at Once.

MONTREAL, July 19.—At a meeting of the shareholders of the Ontario and Quebec railway, held here this afternoon, the following board of permanent directors was appointed: Geo. Stephen, Duncan McIntyre, Hon. J. R. Thibaudeau, Hon. Peter Mitchell, A. B. Chaffee, of Montreal; Adam Brown, of Hamilton; H. S. Howland, C. J. Campbell, and E. B. Osler of Toronto. At a subsequent meeting of directors, Mr. Osler was elected president. A committee was appointed for the prosecution of the work, and Mr. Lumsden, C. E., was instructed to permanently locate the line, commencing at Perth. It was resolved that the president, Mr. Osler, leave for London, England, on Thursday, via New York, in connection with the interests of the company. Hon. Mr. Thibaudeau was appointed vice-president.

Counterfeit 25c. pieces are in circulation in Montreal.

A TERRIBLE EXPLOSION.

A HAMILTON FIREWORKS ESTABLISHMENT BLOWS UP.

A Man Blown Thirty Feet—Two Others Scorched and Terribly Shaken Up—How it Happened.

HAMILTON, July 19.—Among the industries peculiar to our ambitious city is that of fireworks, and without any warning Hamilton celebrated her third explosion in this line to-day. Prof. Hand was blown up twice before this affair, which occurred in the factory of Messrs. Dixon Bros., on Tisdale street, near Cannon. The establishment was of frame and rather light construction. It was on a lot well fenced in, and was not unpleasantly near the neighboring dwellings, though the inmates of one house in the vicinity removed a good deal of their furniture. There were four persons on the premises at the time, and though it is probable that none of them will die from their injuries, they are very severe and serious. William Dixon, sen., John Dixon and Harry Martin, a nephew of Mrs. Wm. Dixon, jun., were on the floor standing about some composition which was being made. John Dixon saw some sparks and shouted to the others to run for their lives, setting the example by starting for the front door which was open. He passed through the door, which must have shut behind him, as Mr. Wm. Dixon could not get out. In an instant the whole place was in flames and the place immediately blew up, and the roof falling against the timbers struck both the unfortunate men. The younger Dixon's injuries were principally from the falling timber cutting his head, but his eyebrows and hair were very much singed. After the explosion he heard William Dixon calling him, and they took him from under the timber and rolled him on the grass, tearing his burning clothes off him. His injuries are burns about the back, arms, head and loins. Harry Martin, who was hurt most severely, was knocked down by the explosion, and when taken out his clothes were almost all burned off him. His hair and eyebrows are completely scorched off, and great quantities of flesh dropped off his arms and hands, the ends of several fingers being gone. Robert Lefevre, also employed in the factory, was just entering the door when the explosion occurred. He was blown against the fence, about thirty feet away, and shaken up, but not otherwise injured. Of course, the slight frame building was completely burned in a very short time; the explosion blew it to pieces. The wounded men were taken to Mr. Dixon's house and cared for by Drs. Biggar and White. Though their injuries are very severe, it is probable that all will recover, but convalescence will be slow, and the terrible scars will always remain.

Lefevre says that the violence of the explosion blew Martin out into the street over a high board fence thirty feet from the building.

A Revolutionary Congress.

LONDON, July 19.—The revolutionary congress last night was crowded with an enthusiastic audience of both sexes. The resolution declaring that the time for agitation by means of the press and the platform had ceased, and the time had now come for force, was moved by Lecourt, a delegate from the United States, with Louise Michel of Paris as seconder. The resolution was carried unanimously.

There were delegates from various parts of America and Europe, representing the democratic party. An officer with Herr Most, the imprisoned socialist, was present. About seventy attended, mostly workmen. Red flags were displayed. Mrs. Lecompte is an American delegate.

Louise Michel, the French communist, and male delegates from Switzerland, Italy and Germany, made speeches. Prince Krapolkine, a Russian socialist, applauded the assassination of several Russian generals. The socialist congress prohibited at Zurich is sitting secretly in London.

Terrible Accident at Gananoque.

GANANOQUE, July 19.—This morning about 8 o'clock, Mr. Henry Germain, aged 33 years, employed in Cowan & Britton's nail factory, was in the act of putting on a belt up a ladder when his sleeve caught on the shaft, making 125 revolutions per minute, carrying him round it. Before it could be stopped his left arm was severely cut at the elbow, and torn from the shoulder. His legs were fearfully mutilated, and one of them was badly broken by striking the timber three feet above the shaft. Drs. Giles and Dumble are caring for the sufferer, but it is feared he cannot recover.

More Talleyrand Memoirs.

LONDON, July 19.—The correspondence of Bacourt, secretary and literary executor of the Prince de Talleyrand, has been published by his niece, the Countess Mirabeau. The letters date back to the administration of Van Buren, when Bacourt represented France at Washington. The letters were not intended for publication. Bacourt was so afraid of giving offence that he forbade a single line of the Talleyrand papers being published before 1888.

Dean Stanley's Last Words.

LONDON, July 19.—In convention to-day the archbishop of Canterbury said the last audible words of Dean Stanley were: "I have labored amidst many frailties and much weakness to make Westminster Abbey the great centre of religious and national life in a truly liberal spirit."

The Water Supply of Paris.

PARIS, July 19.—Something like a panic was caused by the announcement last night that, in consequence of the hot weather, the water supply of Paris is running short. At best it is utterly inadequate to the wants of the population, and a drought would be quickly followed by a rapid rise in the death rate.

The Weakest Money Market.

LONDON, July 19.—The Pall Mall Gazette says thoughtful men regard Paris as the weakest great money market in the world at the present time, and feel that upon it depends the time as well as the intensity of the next credit storm. All other great money markets are also forced to such an unprecedented extent that it is impossible for one to relieve the other.

THE WEATHER BULLETIN.

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, TORONTO, July 19, 1 a.m.—There is a depression to the north of the lower lakes and another one over the extreme western states, whilst the higher pressure covers the southern states and the northwest territories. There have been showers over a few districts, but on the whole the weather has been fine, both in Canada and the United States.

Probabilities for the lakes—Moderate to fresh southwesterly to northwesterly winds, fine hot weather, possibly a few local showers.

Premier Chapleau arrived in Paris Monday.

IRISH AFFAIRS IN PARLIAMENT.

The Irish Party and the Land Commission—They Are Inclined to Favor It.

LONDON, July 19.—The Irish party in the house of commons seem not quite so hostile to the commission under the land bill, on second thought, as they at first appeared to be, though O'Donnell, who is sometimes more extreme than Parnell, declares all of them unacceptable, and says the home rulers will obstruct the appointing clause. The Conservatives are not dissatisfied. John E. Vernon, who is a business member, is the confidential agent of two Conservative peers. It is believed the appointments will smooth the way for the bills in the house of lords. The salaries of the commissioners will be £3000 each. Sergeant O'Hagan, the judicial member, will have rank equal to that of a puisne judge of common law of the division of the high court of justice.

The News announces that Attorney-General Law has decided to serve as a member of the land commission, owing to lack of physical strength. Sergeant O'Hagan is well known in Ireland as a writer of verse, chiefly political. Mr. Vernon gave evidence before the Richmond and Bessborough commissions, where his evidence was so fair and friendly to the tenants that his appointment is the one most approved by the home rulers.

Lytton's appointment will cause a vacancy in parliament for Tyrone. This, however, need not occur until the land bill becomes law. Mr. Dickson of Dungannon will probably be the Liberal, and the Marquis of Hamilton the Conservative candidate for the vacant seat.

It is understood that Parnell will not oppose the land commission.

A FIERY WAVE.

Destruction of the Weiting Opera House in Syracuse—A $2000 Fire at Welland—Other Blazes.

SYRACUSE, N.Y., July 19.—Nearly a whole square of buildings, including the Weiting Opera house, have been burned. The Weiting Opera house is situated in the very centre of the finest business portion of the city of Syracuse, and is one of the finest opera houses in any city of its size in the United States. The loss on the opera house building alone is $190,000. The aggregate loss is $390,000. Fifty tenants are all losers. Among them are Rosenbloom Bros., shoe dealers, loss $30,000; Ingalls & Co., shoe dealers, $35,000; Everson, Frisselle & Co., hardware, $50,000; Giles Everson, private books, $10,000; Pierce & Co., crockery, $10,000; Shattuck's saloon, $40,000; Powers, drugs, $18,000; Crofut & Co., seeds and agricultural implements, $8000; Warner & Co., and many offices. The New York state banking company saved money and papers. Half a dozen persons were more or less injured by the falling walls and debris. No lives are lost.

WELLAND, July 19.—The woollen factory lately established in this place by Mr. A. E. Pitts was entirely destroyed by fire this morning. The fire is supposed to be the work of an incendiary. The loss on the building and machinery is about $2000, and on stock about the same amount. There was no insurance.

A KAOKA COLLAPSE.

The New Beverage Bubble Burst, and St. Thomas Men Out $11,000.

ST. THOMAS, July 19.—Some time ago the Canadian public was, by wide and judicious advertising, introduced to a marvellous, new and wonderfully-proportioned beverage called kaoka, which was to drive tea out of the market, and supplant coffee on the breakfast table. So great was the demand that the factory here was run night and day, and an enterprising Yankee named Henry Wood Booth, at the bottom of it, induced some St. Thomas men to put $11,000 in a joint stock company to extend the work. Lately, however, the demand for kaoka dwindled to nothing, and so did the profits, till now the thing is a "busted concern." The stuff was made out of bran and molasses, and cost next to nothing.

An attempt was made to introduce the drink into the United States and Great Britain, but failed, owing to the high duty demanded. At one time the agent in Montreal sold ten tons a month.

DANGEROUS CATTLE DISEASES.

Precautions of the American Government—A Commission to Nova Scotia.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Dr. Thayer, of the cattle commission, has been ordered to Nova Scotia to investigate reports of a dangerous cattle disease at Halifax. Instructions have been issued to the collectors of customs to-day that neat cattle imported may be quarantined at any place which in the opinion of the collector may be suitable, to which they can be transported from the importing vessel at the port of arrival to such place of quarantine by another vessel without further transfer.

Another Northwest Ranche Company.

OTTAWA, July 19.—A ranche company, composed of Ottawa capitalists, has been formed to operate on an extensive scale in the Northwest territories. Capt. Stewart and James Christie, late of Fort McLeod, N. W. T., who are both largely interested in the company, leave to-day for the Bow River country by way of the Union Pacific railway. They have negotiated for the purchase of 2000 head of cattle, which they purpose to winter in the eastern slope of the Rocky Mountains, and it is their intention in spring to add largely to their herds, in both their horses and improved stock.
