FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

BERRIES TOOK A JUMP ON THE MARKET TODAY

Sold For Nine Cents a Box Wholesale—Higher Prices Are Predicted.

Strawberries were the feature of the market. The supply was not as large as was anticipated, and as a result the prices jumped from 7½ cents a box wholesale to 9 cents a box. Retail they sold at from 9 to 10 cents a box. There was an excellent demand, and the supply was pretty well cleaned up before noon. It is thought that the crop will last but little longer, and higher prices are predicted.

There was a large supply of eggs on the market, but the demand was not so keen as formerly. There was no change in price. Butter was firm at 18 to 25 cents a pound, according to quality.

There were several loads of oats offered for sale, with quick sales. The prices ran from $1 10 to $1 18 a cwt.

There was a good supply of vegetables with stationary prices. Poultry was in only fair demand. There was no change in values.

The market was not large, there being comparatively few rigs there.

NEW YORK, June 20.—(10 a.m.)—London is busy with the coronation festivities, and for that reason little interest is manifested in American stocks, the changes being only fractional with more advances than declines. So far as news goes, there is nothing in the developments over night to change the situation, and the same professional backing and filling will probably be witnessed. Sentiment is bullish as a rule, however, so that the trend should be upward, even though the move may be slow for the present. The subway committee report will be unanimously accepted by the board of estimate, and the Interboro and Brooklyn are planning to make the most of it. Rains in the cotton belt have materially improved the outlook for the crop, which promises to be large, and the drop in the option market is only in keeping, this tending to help the textile business. Comment on the results of Panama bond offering by the Government are favorable, for though the average price did not come up to the expectations of some enthusiasts, it was good, considering the circumstances. Damage stories from the spring wheat section should not be given too much credence for the general conditions there have been satisfactory. Unless all signs fail, the harvest will be large and business is bound to pick up in the fall. Wall street is discounting this, and for this reason we would advise buying the better class issues on all reactions.

NATURAL GAS MEN AGAIN IN LONDON

A Conference Was Held, and There Will Be Another Later On.

Mr. O. L. Lewis, K. C., Chatham, and several representatives of the natural gas promoters were in the city yesterday afternoon discussing an agreement with the City Gas Company relative to the distribution of their product.

According to the information given out after the interview, nothing was accomplished, but a conference will take place some time later on the subject.

It is understood that the parties are getting together, and this within a very shor time the matter will be straightened ou.

"There was a shor conference yesterday," said Major Beattie. "Nothing definite was done, the solicitors for the natural gas people merely discussing the nature of agreement to be entered into between the parties."

BUNTING IS GOING UP FOR THE CORONATION

London Is Beginning to Assume a Holiday Appearance.

London is beginning to assume its holiday regalia in honor of the coronation, and all day today bunting, flags and other decorations are being put in place. The work of decorating the customs house and postoffice began last night, and was practically completed today. Many of the storekeepkeepers will not finish their decorations until tomorrow evening.

A large number of the homes of the city will be adorned with flags and bunting and dealers report a great demand for red, white and blue cotton, all kinds of flags and also for the large streamers with King George and Queen Mary on them.

Arrangements have been completed by which the exact service which will be conducted in Westminster Abbey on Thursday morning will be reproduced in St. Paul's Cathedral at the same hour. The service will commence at 10:30 sharp, and all citizens are invited to attend. The choirs of all the Anglican churches in the city are invited by Mr. G. B. Sippi to meet in the choir vestry at 10 o'clock in the morning and unite with the choir of St. Paul's in the song service. All the members of all the Anglican churches of the city have been invited to attend the service at the cathedral. The choirs will form up outside Cronyn Hall and followed by the clergy will march around and enter by the front entrance and proceed slowly up the main aisle to their places, while all in the cathedral stand. Bishop Williams will preach a special sermon, and he will be assisted in the service by Canon Tucker and Rev. G. F. B. Doherty.

A meeting to which all the members of the Anglican choirs of the city are invited has been called for 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening in St. Paul's, and a rehearsal will be held to arrange for the marching from the church to the Armories after the service in St. Paul's is over on Thursday morning. All these details will be arranged at tomorrow night's meeting in order to avoid any confusion and loss of time on Thursday morning.

BOYS' SWIMMING POOL

The Opening Will Take Place in a Week.

The London Playgrounds' Association is arranging to have the opening of the swimming pool to the boys of the city some afternoon within a week or so.

The girls will have their first plunge on the morning of Friday, June 30, but boys' day will precede this. However, in order to avoid a confliction with the school examinations some hour in the afternoon will be named for the youths.

TALK OF AN INJUNCTION

To Prevent the Sale of a Part of the Market Square.

There is some talk of an injunction being issued to prevent the sale of the city hall.

Several citizens down town are considering the advisability of taking that action, and it is rumored have taken the advice of counsel that they would be successful in an injunction action.

The contention is that when the people voted they did so on a proposition to sell the city hall, not a portion of the Market Square, and in that they were deceived.

Nothing definite could be learned today as to the possibility of such action, but it is one of the possibilities of the case.

Pretty June Weddings

A quiet wedding was solemnized at 310 Thames street on Saturday evening when Miss Lily E. Crockford, of this city, was married to Mr. Daniel H. Wood, a C. P. R. fireman. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. K. Birks, of the Askin Street Methodist Church. Miss Mabel Crockford was bridesmaid and Mr. W. D. H. Denton, groomsman. Blachford, a Toronto musician. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. J. Allin, of Windsor, an uncle of the bride, assisted by Rev. Dr. Manning, of Dundas Centre Church.

The bride was given away by her father and looked very charming in a beautiful gown of Irish crochet lace over white satin with a court train. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Her sister, Miss Lulu Ashplant, was bridesmaid, and wore a dress of pale blue satin, veiled with white marquisette. Dr. Nicholai, of Toronto, was groomsman.

The ceremony took place under a canopy in the drawing-room which had been beautifully decorated with daisies. The bridal party entered amid the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, played by the Tony Cortese orchestra. Following the ceremony a dainty wedding supper was served to a large number of guests from Toronto, Hamilton and other points and in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Blachford motored to St. Thomas, where they took the train to Buffalo. GOVT. REINDEER FOR THE NORTH

Fifty Head Purchased From Doctor Grenfell

INTERESTING EXPERIMENT

Animals May Be Used For Transportation Purposes in Barren Lands.

Ottawa, June 19.—The Government of Canada has made an addition to the transportation facilities of the country in the form of 50 reindeer. The purchase was made from Dr. Grenfell, of Labrador, who is being paid $51 each for the animals. They will be taken from Labrador by boat to Quebec in September, and will go by train to Edmonton or to Athabaska Landing, if the Canadian Northern has rails down to that point, early in the autumn. Scows will be built to complete the journey down the Athabaska River to Fort Smith, which is the destination of the herd.

The reindeer have proved a great success in Labrador. The conditions have been found entirely suitable for them, and the original herd of three hundred have grown by natural increase to some twelve hundred. They have proved to be as good for travel as in Lapland, and their fresh meat and milk have proved a boon on more than one occasion.

It is believed that they will prove even more useful in the Canadian north, where dog teams are now used for winter travel. The great problem of finding food for teams, which has to be calculated upon where dogs are used, is solved by the reindeer, which thrives upon moss, not only drawing its load, but giving nourishing milk upon this food. It is expected that the experiment at Fort Smith will prove a success, and that winter travel in the Canadian north will be robbed of its dangers entirely, and of a good deal of its hardship. Other depots, will probably be established, and the natives may be induced to adopt and breed them as they are bred in Lapland. The country abounds in the moss, which is their nautral food.

The purchase of the herd for the Government was made through Mr. R. H. Campbell, head of the forestry branch, and the herd will be installed at Fort Smith under his directions. Dr. Grenfell will send two men along with the animals, to give instructions in their care and management. A quantity of moss will be taken from Labrador to provide the herd with food, until it reaches the Caribou feeding grounds, where moss is plentiful.

The experiment is largely the result of the northern trip which Hon. Frank Oliver made last year. He then had the opportunity of learning some of the difficulties which the northern climate puts in the way of existence in that region, and willingly agreed to the experiment of introducing reindeer to make life in the north less difficult and hazardous. The Government is paying for the reindeer exactly what they cost Dr. Grenfell. The experiment will be watched with interest by the Mounted Police, the Hudson Bay Company, Revillon Freres, and all others who have affairs in the north.

$80,000 FOR LONDON MEN

Grand Trunk Pay Car Arrived Here Today.

The Grand Trunk pay car arrived in London shortly before noon, and from the time it stopped in front of the depot until it was taken further down the yards to be out of the way of the incoming trains, was the centre of the greatest activity. The great majority of the men drew big checks this month owing to the unparalleled activity in both the freight and passenger departments. As a result of the heavy traffic many extra men are employed, and the pay roll is somewhat larger than usual. In all about $80,000 was paid out today.

"Our returns show that we have been handling an average of 800 freight cars a day through London," said one official. "I have been in the business many years and never remember when traffic continued so steady for so long a time."

CENSUS WORK IN LONDON

ease would be spread to them through the enumerator, considered well before allowing him to enter, but very obligingly supplied all information required of them with the greatest possible celerity.

A man upon learning the identity of his visitor, settled himself in his chair to discuss the possibilities of the situation. He declared that a friend of his had quit the job owing to the meagre salary and the obstructionist methods of the populace. However, he stated that being in sympathy with the workers he would provide the details of his family with all possible speed. Despite this, the gentleman and his wife engaged in five-minute debates on the reason for it all after each question was put, although the enumerator gave him every reason to believe that the discussion was of little interest.

A Nine-Hour Day.

"I favor a nine-hour day," declared a striking molder warmly, as the enumerator interrupted the cutting of the front lawn a moment after the whistles shrieked 12 noon.

The striker, believing that the census men were paid by the day, and that they were compelled to work in certain hours, stood out for "better conditions," for which he was at the time fighting in his own work. However, when informed that the enumerator had left his breakfast but a couple of hours before, he "loosened up" and cheerfully provided the information.

It is surprising the number of people who honestly admit that they are quite uncertain of their ages and birthdays. One aged lady stated that she used to know but that two years ago her home was burned, and that the dates were consumed with the family Bible.

Want Sunday Cars.

A great many people, concerning themselves greatly as to the possibility of the census showing 50,000 people, readily named the entire family, and told of other members who had left some months ago, but who would possibly return.
