DR. MACGREGOR NEW CHIEF OF MEDICAL STAFF AT VICTORIA

Dr. H. A. McCallum Resigns—Dr. J. G. Gunn Recommended Clinic Head.

At the regular monthly meeting of the hospital trust held in Victoria Hospital Monday afternoon, Dr. J. A. MacGregor of this city was appointed chief of the medical staff in succession to Dr. H. A. McCallum, whose resignation was accepted by the trustees with regret. Dr. J. G. Gunn, at present on military service here, will be recommended to the local and provincial boards of health as chief or the venereal clinic, it being necessary for these two bodies to confirm such an appointment. It was announced at the meeting that owing to lack of space at the hospital, the clinic was delayed, but with the arrival of equipment and available space, the clinic will open about August 1.

The monthly report for June, as submitted by Superintendent T. H. Heard, follows: Number of patients admitted, 408; patients discharged, 418; births, 14; deaths, 15; patients treated in free dispensary, 374; cash receipts, $13,690.41.

The plans for the new Children's Memorial Hospital were not prepared for the meeting, but are expected to be ready in the near future, when a special joint meeting of the hospital commission and representatives of the local Daughters of the Empire will be called to ratify them. Those present at the meeting Monday were: Chairman Lieut.-Col. W. M. Gartshore, James Gray, Mayor E. S. Little and Superintendent Thomas Heard.

LONDON DOCTORS ARE GIVEN HIGH DEGREE

Three Members of Western Teaching Staff Get F. A. C. S. Without Examinations.

Still further honors have come to the Western University Medical School, three of the teaching staff, namely, Dr. D. G. MacNeill, associate professor; Dr. Emerson L. Hodgins, associate professor, and Dr. Cameron Wilson, lecturer, having been granted the degree of Fellow of the American College of Surgery without having to qualify by means of examinations. Ordinarily, the applicant for the degree must show details of 300 major operations which he has performed.

The degree of F.A.C.S. is one which is conferred on doctors both in the United States and Canada. Owing to their time being occupied in war activities, few Canadian doctors have had the time at their disposal to prepare data showing that they had qualified for the honors. As a result representatives of the fellowship called a meeting in Toronto some weeks ago of members of the staffs of Queen's, McGill, Western and other medical schools, and asked the members of the respective staffs to name a few of the medical men in their district whom they considered qualified to receive the degree. The result was that the three Londoners shortly afterwards received the degree, which is one of the highest honors which can be bestowed on members of the medical profession on this continent.

SHAMROCK TO GIVE RESOLUTE INCREASED TIME ALLOWANCE

Additional Twenty-One Seconds Due To Use of Larger Club Topsail.

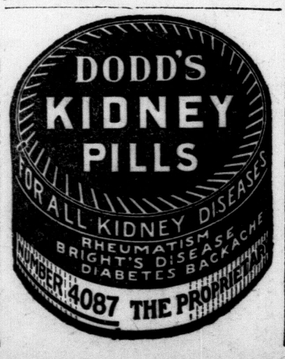
SANDY HOOK, N. J., July 19.—Shamrock IV, challenger for the America's Cup will be required to give Resolute, American defender, a time allowance of seven minutes and one second in tomorrow's race, the regatta committee of the New York Yacht Club announced tonight. This increase of 21 seconds over the previous allowance followed the granting of the application of the Lipton craft for permission to use a large topsail.

The new time allowance was announced after an official measurement had been made of the Shamrock's canvas.

Moderate and mostly northwest winds with fair weather was the bureau's forecast tonight for the race tomorrow.

GROCERS' PICNIC.

The city grocers expect to have one of the greatest picnics in their history at Springbank Park on Wednesday of this week, and one of the largest and best lists of sports ever held at the city park. There will be Irish and Scotch dancing and a baseball game at 10 a.m. The baby show will be held in the dancing pavilion in the park proper with an orchestra in attendance. Band music will be provided for the entire day, so that the picnickers will have plenty of music.



At The Theaters

AT LOEW'S.

A society butterfly appearing in wonderful costumes, who almost breaks her husband's heart because of her too frivolous nature, is the role played by Ethel Clayton in "Young Mrs. Winthrop," showing at Loew's Theatre for the first half of this week.

Mrs. Winthrop, a young wife of an ambitious businessman, and a favorite in society after five years of happy married life begins to misunderstand her husband. She is of the flirtatious type herself, and suspects him of being the same. She has an enemy in the next door neighbor, who, with them, has a telephone on a party line. The neighbor next door hears Mrs. Winthrop make engagements over the phone, and on these occasions does her best to entertain Mr. Winthrop, whon she drags into conversation on some pretence or other. One the night that he promises to be home for their child's birthday, and a party is held, the next door neighbor holds him up and makes him stay for dinner.

In exasperation, Mrs. Winthrop goes to a "jazz dance" to which her husband had forbidden her to go. While away her child is taken ill and she returns just after it is dead.

Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop make arrangements to separate, but the old family lawyer, whom both consult, unites them again.

"Half Past Two" heads the vaudeville bill. Six are in the cast. The four young ladies are possessors of delightful voices, and the male members of the cast put over some real wit in the form of an amusing little skit interspersed with good songs.

Vee and Telly and their little dog perform some very clever and hair-raising stunts. The dog is most intelligent. George A. Mack has an original line of songs and humor. Loew's Weekly and a comic complete the bill. This program will be repeated today and on Wednesday.

AT THE ALLEN.

Replete with action and dramatic situations, all of which are pictured in Canadian territory, James Oliver Curwood's adaptation of the famous novel "The Courage of Marge O'Doone," showing at the Allen Theatre today and Wednesday, is a delightful change from the usual hum-drum film scenario. This offering presents a rugged human characters both male and female, good and bad, in an impressive manner and is a picture not easily forgotten by those who view it.

The story opens in Quebec with a cabin in the wilderness within which is seen a happy family, and when this domestic circle is broken by a third party, husband, wife and child are cruelly separated. The scenes then shift through Western Ontario to the Canadian Northwest, with each member of the family in search of the other. The child grows to womanhood without a memory of either parent, and falls into the hands of a wicked gang of men on the death of her foster mother.

At this stage in the story she meets a Canadian youth of the better type and her appeal for assistance is not in vain. Together they battle the gang and win out with the assistance of an outlaw dog and a pet bear, later to meet Marge's parents and the vehicle ends in a happy reunion with a romance looming on the horizon.

This Universal production is a credit to the director responsible for same, and presents an appeal to London theatre patrons, not because of its Canadian scenario, but on account of the splendid plot and beautiful scenes portrayed. Possibly the most dramatic moment in the entire film is the bear fight, which is real, sharing premier honors with the fight between Marge's lover and her would-be captor, with the latter fighting fearful odds to victory for her sake. "The Courage of Marge O'Doone" would not be a Curwood novel without animals playing a prominent part, in addition to an all-star cast of motion picture artists.

A comedy of the highest order, which kept the house in an uproar, is included on the screen program, along with "The Illiterate Digest," which proves amusing, and a Canadian Pictorial Weekly.

An added feature to the Allen program is the rendition of the overture by the theatre orchestra under the leadership of Maurice Poure. So well was this number presented last night that the leader was forced to respond to repeated oncores on behalf of the orchestra, lovers of good music scattered throughout the audience in large numbers insisting on a repitition of the treat.

AT THE PATRICIA.

What happens to a youth who finds gold and love where men have sought them in vain forms the theme of "The Joyous Troublemakers," a fine William Fox production, in which William Farnum opened a three-days' engagement at the Patricia Theatre Monday afternoon.

The story is based on a treasure hidden in the bed of the river by nature. William Farnum plays the role of the youth who finds the treasure, and then the one who comes back to claim it. A pretty love story runs with it, in which William Farnum turns out to be the hero on many occasions.

"The Joyous Troublemakers" provides Mr. Farnum with one of the most thrilling romantic roles he has had. It is filled with laughter and tears, pathos and humor. Mr. Farnum plays the role with convincing skill.

Louise Lovely also has many opportunities to shine, first as the disdainful heiress, and then in a series of gripping love scenes. She makes good use of her opportunities, as in other pictures in which she has played opposite Farnum.

Others in the cast are Henry Herbert, Harry Devere, G. Raymond Nye, Clarence Morgan, George Nichols, Sedley Brown, John Underhill, Harry Archer, Al Fremont, Earl Crain, Chiek Leyca, Pedro De Leon, Claire Delorez and Molly Bishop.

The Universal Western Drama, "Bought and Fought For," describes how a young rancher will fight to retain his homestead which others are doing their very best to obtain.

The Rainbow Comedy, "Moonshine and Jailbirds," provides many hearty laughs for the audience.

The bill will be shown today and tomorrow, both afternoon and evening.

AT THE P. S. B. M.

Although it was Monday, when few picnickers gathered at the lakeside, and despite the chill in the air, a crowd which filled the many seats and overflowed to the walk to the rear, witnessed the open air movies on the beach at Port Stanley last evening. The popularity of the innovation was proven beyond doubt, for long before the darkness fell every seat was filled. The long program of pictures that lasted well onto 11 o'clock held the interest of the spectators until the very end.

The feature picture was especially interesting not only because of the gripping story with its many tense scenes well worked out, but also because of the clever acting of pretty Mae Murray in a dual role. "The Twin Pawns" is a thrilling melodrama based on the book called "The Woman in White" from the pen of Wilkie Collins. Everything that could be desired in a melodrama is supplied in the picture. There are desperate fights, narrow escapes and pursuits and even ghosts. The villain is a dyed-in-the-wool bad man who is so crooked that they named him Bent. The dual role, that of a poor girl and a rich one, is staged without any trick photography for at no time do the two characters appear on the screen together.

The plot is built around the attempts of a villain to secure possession of a fortune belonging to two sisters, twins. The sisters are unknown to each other, as their relationship is known only to the man who attempts to defraud them. After taking desperate chances he has the money almost within his grasp, when his designs are defeated in an exciting denouement.

The settings in the picture are gorgeous in spots. The supporting members of the cast are unusually good.

Besides the feature picture there is a comedy film called "By Order of the Court." It kept ripples of laughter continually running through the crowds. A Pathe News opened the program. Special music was supplied by an orchestra. The bill will be repeated today and tomorrow.

PRACTICES WHAT SHE IS TAUGHT ON SUNDAY

In the opinion of the local police there is a little girl residing on Bathurst street, who remembers her Sunday school lessons during the week and puts them to practical use. The little girl in question turned up at the police station Monday afternoon with a heavy wooden box, contents unknown, and informed the officer in charge that she found in on the street near her home. Not content to call up the police, she delivered the goods in person, utilizing a small wagon to carry the heavy package, which is nailed and bound with wire.

The box is now being held at the police station awaiting a claimant. It is addressed to a hardware firm in Toronto and weighs about 80 pounds. Local detectives stated last night that the box likely contained hardware of some description and dropped off a lorry while in transit to freight sheds here.

FARMERS MUST CO-OPERATE TO FIGHT HESSIAN FLY PEST

Plowing Under of Early Sown Seed is Plan Recommended

CLANDEBOYE, July 19.—The alsike clover crop is so short that there is difficulty in harvesting it this year.

The rain on Sunday, through it caught some hay in the swath, was much needed, as plowing was at a standstill.

Fall wheat harvest will begin this week, with prospects of a good crop where it has escaped the Hessian fly, by which a lot of damage has been done.

The instruction given in farm journals to get rid of that most destructive fly are that a piece of wheat be sown about three or four weeks before the proper seeding season and then plowed under and reseeded at the proper time. By this method most of the insects' eggs would be safely buried and save next year's crop.

But this is a case where one farmer cannot make an impression alone. Co-operation is absolutely necessary if any section is to be rid of Hessian fly.

RUSSIANS OCCUPYING ARMENIAN PROVINCE

TEHERAN, Persia, July 19.—The Armenian Government having refused to obey an ultimatum of the Russian Soviet Government, the Bolshevik army has received orders to advance and has already occupied the province of Karabagh. The Bolsheviki are continuing their advance in order to operate jointly with the Turkish Nationalist forces of Mustapha Kemal Pasha.

SOUTH OXFORD FARMERS ARE FULL OF REJOICING

INGERSOLL, July 19.—In the dairying districts of South Oxford there is more or less rejoicing because of the excellence of the pasturage. Frequent rains have promoted the growth, and the result has been astonishing so far as some of the grain crops are concerned. Oats, which a few weeks ago were viewed much in the light of a disappointment, now promise to be up to the average, and in some cases better. In the vicinity of Foldens Corners some oat fields are standing level with the fences and give every promise of a big yield. There has also been a big change in the hay crop, which is far better than at first anticipated.

They Used To Strap On Spectacles!
Old pictures and collections show grotesque shapes in early spectacles.
In the earliest styles the lenses were round, very large and fastened in a rind of black horn half an inch wide.
They were strapped on with a leather thong over the nose and another about the head. Small wonder wearers of spectacles were ridiculed in those days. Obviously, the adjustment could not have been very good. Such crudeness makes those shudder who appreciate the scientific necessity of delicate, accurate adjustment, as practiced at
