The Bracken County (Ky.) Chronicle says: "One of the most interesting features of the pic-nic at Locust Ford, on the 4th, was the dancing of a regular 'Old Virginny Break-down' by the two candi-dates for the Legislature, W. T. Marshal and Uncle Vince Hamilton."

An Italian named Glione has been arrested in New Haven for keeping several boys in a den, and supporting himself upon their earnings, as boot-blacks and musicians. It appears that he had treated them cruelly and so attracted attention, but it would be worth somebody's while to inquire how many of the poor, forlorn Italian fiddlers and boot-blacks may be supporting lazy task-masters in a may be supporting lazy task-masters in a tagious insanity the things gets to be much more serious. Dr. Dudley, of the Eastern Lunatic Asylum at Lexington, Kentucky, who took morphine and killed himself on Friday, is said to have shown symptoms of insanity, of late, and the circumstance is supposed to be owing to his intimate relations with insane people.

The Boston Herald is making "odorous" comparisons. It says that soup for the poor of Boston last year cost $4,000, and "refreshments" for the city govern-ment cost $41,000 or about $2.50 a day for each member of the council. Boston must board her eity council and give them pretty good board, too, but as for her poor, they are always on hand and there is much philanthropy in $4,000.

It has been decided in St. Louis that the laws of Missouri do not recognize such a thing as a soul, and when one gets to wandering about in purgatory it must take care of itself. The decision was rendered in a case in which the relatives of a deceased man sued for the sum of $4,000 devised for the purpose of praying for masses for the dead man's soul. The relatives got the money and the poor soul has no redress in the courts of Missouri.

An excellent dog story is now at hand A New York gentleman has at his country seat a pair of fine Scotch deer hounds. try seat a pair of fine Scotch deer nounds. One of them paying a casual visit to a neighbor's was ferociously assaulted by a mastiff and badly wounded in the breast. He refused all help from surgery, but dug a hole, into which his breast just fitted, on the borders of a lake on his master's grounds. There he established his hospital, and by the earth treatment soon cured himself. Then he and his companion "went for" that mastiff. Stealing upon his secure hour they attacked panion went for that mastin. Stearing upon his secure hour they attacked him with the fierceness of revenge, and did not leave him till they had torn him limb from limb. Here was much sagacity exhibited, but it was accompanied by a vengeful spirit unbecoming in the gentle canine.

Punch, or the London Shah-rivari, is making great capital out of the visit of the Eastern monarch. Five foolish young Belgians lately laid wager that they would remain awake uously for seven days. They kept up all manner of exciting exercises and drank large quantities of coffee, and one of them won the bet, though with the loss of twenty-five pounds in weight. Two fell asleep after 130 hours, one was seized with inflammation of the lungs and had to give in to save his life, and the other fell asleep on horseback and then fell off and broke his arm. Next that we know some rash St. John youth will be betting that he can live a month without betting that he can live a month without taking the matutinal cocktail.

A rumor is circulated in London that a wealthy baronet, long of unsound mind, and represented to be still living, really died years ago, but that some affectionate relatives, to whose care he was committed by the legal authorities, have invented, with a view of retaining the ample allowances made to them for taking care of him by the Court of Chancery, a lay figure, an admirable likeness of the decreased gentleman, which sected in an ceased gentleman, which, seated in an easy chair and cowering over the fire, they show to the official inquisitors, with the intimation that he can't bear to be approached or disturbed.

The Nautical Gazette has been discus ing the dimensions and construction of SAINT JOHN, N. B., FRIDAY EVENING, JULY 25, 1873.

property on the occasion of a certain memorable storm. The most interesting portion of its remarks are to the effect that the ark "is now in a good state of preservation, but lying under an eternal mantle of snow, hundreds of feet deep, at an altitude of 17,500 feet above the level of the sea. Ever since the flood dried up, the climate of Armenia has been colder, and snow always covers the top of Ararat, rendering it impossible for any of Noah's descendants to go up and find the ark." Here is a hint for the Herald. It should send a commissioner to dig the old hulk out of its mantle of snow. Barnum might join in the enterprise and contrive to make it profitable.

Messas. R. C. Marcesson & Co.—Gentlemen:
I have been afflicted with gravel and stone upwards of a year and a half—tried everything I could hear of for its relief, without avail; saw your advertisement of CALCULL*UGE in the Halifax papers—took three bottles according to directions, and in the short space of four weeks am entirely cured. I willingly add my testimony to its value, and heartily recommend it to all ifflicted as I have been.
