STEAMER STRUCK ROCK OFF PARTRIDGE ISLAND

S. O. Benin Met with Slight Mishap while Leaving Port Saturday Night-Survey Held—Will Proceed.

While the Elder-Dempster South Africa line steamship Benin, bound to Cape Town, was proceeding to sea Saturday night in charge of Pilot Alfred Cline, the steamer struck the rocks off the eastern end of Partridge Island. How the accident happened is a mystery, as the night was clear. The vessel afterwards proceeded about a mile off the Island and came to an anchor. Captain Cole discovered the vessel was leaking at the rate of four or five inches an hour. He at once sent word to the city and had the Lloyd surveyors' agent visit the ship. Charles McLaughlin, the agent for Lloyds, with Captains Brickley and Mulcahey held the survey and ordered the ship to proceed. She will sail today.

COAL BUNKERS OF BRAY HEAD EMPTY

The Head Line steamer Bray Head, Captain Murphy, arrived in port yesterday from Port Talbot, G. B., after a rough passage and with her coal bunkers nearly empty. The vessel was 23 days on the voyage and was at one time within 113 miles of Louisburg, N. S. She tried to make that port to replenish her coal bunkers, but met with field ice which prevented the vessel making port. The vessel being light, she was at the mercy of several severe storms which caused the vessel to roll. She was blown off the coast two or three times. At last the storm abated and she made for the Bay of Fundy and met the pilot-boat, Howard D. Troop, was just in time for her coal would have been used up in another day.

Empress Arrives.

Royal mail steamship Empress of Britain, Captain Murray, arrived and berthed at West St. John yesterday morning from Liverpool and landed 1430 passengers, made up as follows: 178 saloon, 456 second cabin, and 796 steerage. The steamer was a day late, having met with severe stormy weather, but came through it all without a mishap. All the passengers for the West left with the usual C.P.R. quick despatch.

HEAR FINE LECTURE BY A BOSTON LADY

Mrs. T. J. Bowlker, of the Womens Municipal League, Gave Practical Address Before Womens' Candian Club

In Keith's assembly rooms on Saturday evening, the members of the Women's Canadian Club, with guests, including several members of the Canadian Club, His Worship Mayor Frink, His Lordship Bishop Richardson and others, heard with pleasure a practical and highly interesting address on the aims, work and methods of the Women's Municipal League of Boston. The lecturer of the evening was Mrs. T. J. Bowlker, of Boston.

The audience of Saturday evening was a representative one, among the number being members of the school board and common council, and was also one of the largest of the year. The president of the Women's Canadian Club, Mrs. E. A. Smith presided during the evening. The rooms presented a most attractive appearance, being beautifully decorated for the occasion. Conspicuous among the decorations were a Union Jack and the stars and stripes, the latter as a tribute to the lecturer, both of which were artistically draped above the platform. The rooms offered a brilliant spectacle.

The lecturer of the evening was introduced by Mrs. E. A. Smith who in a graceful address, extended a cordial welcome, and expressed the great pleasure which the club experienced in having the privilege of hearing Mrs. Bowlker, whose broad experience along the lines of municipal reform work, as regards the home life, admirably fitted her to speak on the subject.

Mrs. Bowlker's address proved most instructive and entertaining. Being a graceful speaker, her lecture proved doubly enjoyable. Having closely allied herself with the Women's Municipal League, she spoke with the conviction born of an extensive and varied experience acquired through her earnest study of conditions and effective remedies.

In featuring the work of the municipal league of Boston, which has a membership of over 1800, Mrs. Bowlker explained the object of the organization which is to promote the betterment of the city by ameliorating conditions of the home, and rendering the atmosphere of the homelife wholesome and congenial. The prerogative which is women's by nature in the home, is most potent, and through the good influence wielded by women in her natural sphere, the community must indirectly benefit.

Among the matters with which the Women's Municipal League occupies itself in working out its object are to be noted, the lecturer said, the housing problem. To remedy this evil, a committee appointed especially to deal with this phase of the work seeks to impress upon all the evils resultant upon congested habitation. An educational campaign is conducted in connection with this work by school visitation. Sanitation is another important feature of the work, as is also the matter of playgrounds, which remove many of the menaces which surround children.

That the league is a potent factor for good is evident Mrs. Bowlker pointed out. Much that would escape the eyes of men, or might pass as of little consequence in the great scheme of civic or municipal betterment comes under observation of the League which can come into intimate association with the home life, and by raising the standard of the home, aid in ameliorating existing conditions in the municipality.

At the close of the address a hearty vote of thanks, moved by Mrs. T. H. Bullock and seconded by Mrs. D. P. Chisholm, was tendered the speaker By Mrs. Smith. On behalf of the club Mrs. H. B. Schofield presented Mrs. Bowlker with a handsome bouquet of Killarney roses.

Upon the invitation of the president, Mrs. E. A. Smith, His Worship Mayor Frink, Bishop Richardson and other gentlemen gave brief addresses appreciative of the lecture.

Preceding the lecture the club held a business meeting at which the following were elected to membership:

Mrs. Robert McIntyre, Mrs. George H. White, Mrs. Cowie, Mrs. L. B. Knight, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. J. St. Clair Sutherland, Mrs. E. G. Evans, Mrs. Ralph March, Mrs. Clifford S. Williams, Mrs. Herbert Wetmore, Miss J. Sadleir, Mrs. Atcheson, Mrs. Joseph Murdock, Miss Catherine Murdock, Miss Knodell, Miss Georgie Knodell, Mrs. Rupert Rive, Miss Rhoda Alcock, Mrs. W. H. White, Mrs. Percy Bourne, Mrs. R. G. Haley, Mrs. James Walker, Mrs. Alfred Wilson, Mrs. C. H. Ferguson, Miss Railton, Mrs. Sherwood Skinner, Mrs. F. E. Sayre, Mrs. James Jack, Mrs. James Sterling, Mrs. Boyer, Miss B. N. Boyer, Miss L. Parks, Mrs. Phillip Grannan, Mrs. Belding.

Refreshments were served during the evening, the ladies in charge being Mrs. H. C. Schofield, Mrs. Silas Alward, Mrs. Wm. Downie, Mrs. F. B. Schofield assisted by a number of the young ladies of the club

Mrs. Ernest Wood.

The many friends of Mrs. Ernest Wood will be grieved to hear of her sudden death in the 31st year of her age, at her home on Chubb street yesterday morning, at 9.30 o'clock. On Saturday evening the late Mrs. Wood was in the best of health, and the news of her death came as a severe blow to her friends. The deceased leaves besides her husband, her father, John McConnell, a brother, John McConnell, Jr., and one sister, Mrs. Edward Ross, all of this city. THE IMPORTANCE OF ENVIRONMENT

E. C. Weyman was the speaker in the Every Day Club last night and the subject of his address was Environment. The speaker spoke on the influence of environment on communities and individuals, especially on social environment. It made a difference to families what street they lived on, and what kind of children played with theirs in the same yard, he said. It made a difference in health and in other ways. Environment was divided into two classes, healthful and hurtful, and he showed how it was possible by any individual to form habits which could be superior to environment in the moral and religious life.

During the evening a solo rendered by Miss Brown was well received.

There was a large audience present and the lecture proved most enjoyable.

A Vote for John McGoldrick means the placing of a man in charge of Public Works who has had the confidence of the People for Twenty-Five Years.

ELECTION CARD

To the Electors of the City of St. John:

Ladies and Gentlemen,—Now that the New Charter has materialized I have decided to accede to the earnest solicitation of the citizens in general to become a candidate for the Mayoralty at the approaching Civic Election. During the eight consecutive years you so loyally supported me, I think I faithfully and impartially discharged my duty (at least I have heard nothing to the contrary). I also will be pardoned if I assume the credit of having made a banking agreement that has saved the city thousands of dollars and of launching a system that has helped to bring about the very strong financial position that the city now enjoys. The re-organizing of the Chamberlain's Department was also a distinctive feature during my term of office. I am not out with any cheap pre-election promises. If you support my candidature my aim will be to give you the best that is in me and that will mean a lot and decidedly to the advantage of the city.

The Board of Trade should be encouraged in their endeavor to induce new factories and business houses to locate here and in order to bring this about in these days of keen business competition, we must have something to offer something for the manufacturer and something for the men employed by him. Furthermore a more persistent effort is required seeking for the nationalization of the port.

The Railway and Harbor facilities are to be expanded—never before equalled in the City's history and with the growth of our population and community—civic business will certainly assume larger proportions and your representatives increased responsibilities. Personally I will see that the future is not jeopardized by extravagant expenditures and contracting of debts. I think all are bound to admit that an active, successful business man and one who is well versed in Civic matters is a pretty good combination. If I did my work before, I stand to accomplish even better results under new order of things.

Thanking you in advance for your vote and support,

T. H. BULLOCK.
