England and Russia Negotiating Peace.

Switzerland Following Holland's Lead -- Howling Hurricane at St. John N. B. -- Allied Premiers to Consider Extradition Question -- Three Marine Disasters.

GRASPING THE HAND OF BLOOD.

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 7.

Peace negotiations between Great Britain and Soviet Russia are now in progress, according to a statement attributed to Adolph Joffre, before his departure from Dorpat, where he headed a Bolshevik peace delegation.

THE ADRIATIC DIFFICULTY.

PARIS, Feb. 7.

Hope is entertained in Peace Conference circles that if the Jugo Slavs would accept Italy's proposition for the settlement of the Adriatic question, the Italians will consent to any modifications that are not considered vital.

BAULKING JUSTICE.

GENEVA, Feb. 6.

Swiss Federal authorities have reported that they will follow the precedent set by Holland in dealing with demands from the Allies for the extradition of Germans in this country. Rupprecht of Bavaria as well as several minor officials on the extradition list are in Switzerland.

FINANCIAL CONFERENCE.

PARIS, Feb. 6.

Proposals that an international financial conference be called immediately to consider measures for the immediate relief of the exchange situation, find support in French Government circles.

ST. JOHN, N.B., HELD IN STORM.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Feb. 8.

The street car service was suspended last night, the telephone and telegraph service cut out, and St. John is almost isolated from the rest of Canada except for a wire to Halifax. A heavy snow storm followed by sleet and rain caused havoc with the roads, snapped the telegraph poles and trees, and caused many wires to fail. All train despatching is at a standstill because of the wires being down.

PULP EXPORT TAX.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.

Senator Underwood's resolution, calling for the appointment of a special commisssion to interview Canadian Federal and Provincial Governments regarding the removal of restrictions on the export of pulp wood from Canada, was considered by Senate Rules Committee yesterday, and referred to a sub-committee.

A VOICE FROM THE SEA.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 6.

A bottle, found on the beach at Ocean City, Maryland, to-day, contained the following note: "May God give us help. Good bye. February 4. Small Boat of Anna Othe Thomas."

A VETERAN'S CALL.

OTTAWA, Feb. 6.

GERMANY'S CRIMINALS.

PARIS, Feb. 7.

Allied Premiers at a meeting in London next week, are expected to examine minutely the question of extradition of Germans accused of war crimes, and the consequences of German resistance to the Allies' demands.

WRECKED SEAMEN RESCUED.

HALIFAX, Feb. 8.

The steamer Monmouth advises by radio, via Cape Race, that she has saved two members of the crew of the British steamer Bradboyne, three thousands tons, and that the steamer Oxonian has saved twenty-three. The message gives no particulars as to what happened to the Bradboyne or the fate of the members of the crew unaccounted for. The Marine and Fisheries Department, to whom it was addressed, has asked Cape Race for further particulars. The steamer was bound from New York for Cherbourg.

U.S. TUG IN DISTRESS.

HALIFAX, N.S., Feb. 8.

The American tug Berwick is reported here to be in distress in latitude 45.50, north, longitude 47.57 west.

PASSENGERS AND SEAMAN LANDED.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.

Thirty-two passengers and 28 members of the crew of the steamship Princess Ann, which stranded on Sand Bar, Rockaway Pt., Thursday night, while bound from Norfolk, Va., to this port, were landed at the Battery by a police boat patrol on Saturday. Capt. Frank Seay, who was injured while navigating the boat through the storm, was among those landed. The other members of the crew remained aboard the ship.

Not 45,000.

By a typographical error, Saturday's Trade Review is made to report in its Market column that the consumption of Newfoundland codfish in Oporto last week, was 45,000 quintals. The correct figures should have been 4,572 quintals, with stocks on hand 48,900. Quite a difference.

Grove's O-Pen-Trate Salve
Opens the Pores and Penetrates

A Remedy for Chest Colds, Head Colds, Sore Throat, Stiff Neck, Earache, Spasmodic Croup and kindred ailments. Apply freely to the skin just over the affected parts and rub it in.

GROVE'S
O-PEN-TRATE SALVE

is also an Excellent Germicide for the Nose and Throat.

It should be applied to the nostrils so that you will be continually inhaling the vapors while in the presence of patients who are sick with contagious diseases, or when you are entering crowded cars or other public places during an epidemic of Grip or Influenza. Any Grip or Influenza germs breathed through the nose are destroyed by this germicide salve before the germs can reach the throat.

FOR THE SICK

Place One Level Teaspoonful of GROVE'S O-PEN-TRATE SALVE in a hot saucer in the sick room. The Antiseptic Vapor rising from the heated salve makes breathing easy for the patient. It induces sleep and is a great comfort to anyone suffering with Spasmodic Croup, Asthma, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Diphtheria or Pneumonia. The Healing Effect of the Vapor relieves the patient and is very comforting. Price 35c per box. If your Druggist hasn't any, send 35c in postage stamps to Paris Medicine Company, 193 Spadina Ave., Toronto, and a full-size box will be mailed to you promptly.

The Evangelists

At Gower Street and Wesley Churches.

By invitation of the Victory Class, which is composed, in the main, of a number of men; trophies of the campaign last winter, Mr. Demarest met them at ten o'clock yesterday morning. After making reference to their good success at Carbonear and the decision of so many men for "the better life," the Evangelist spoke from the words of St. Paul, "Examine yourselves whether ye be in the faith, that Jesus Christ is in you." It was a forceful appeal for loyalty and service. Mrs. Demarest was present at the eleven o'clock service, and after the usual devotional exercises conducted by Revd. Edwin Moore and her husband, the lady Evangelist spoke from "the miracle of the multiplying of the loaves and fishes," (Luke, 9-12-17.) and the audience was much impressed. She said in part "We as Christians must be fully yielded to the Master in order that He might 'take' us, as He did the five loaves and two fishes, and 'bless,' 'break,' and 'give' us to the multitude. Without consecration we cannot receive God's blessing upon our lives. Unless we are willing to be broken,—that is, to have our wills in complete subjection to God's will, to be fully and wholly surrendered, we cannot expect to be the means of feeding the multitude. As Christ, the living bread from heaven, was broken that we might partake of Him as our divine food, so we must also be broken, be crucified with Him, before we can impart Him to others. The true Christian is filled with a passion for service, not only to God, but to the multitude, and in order to serve in the things that are highest he must be blest, broken, and given by Christ Himself."

In the evening, at Gower Street Church, Mr. Demarest conducted a short song service. The hymns used were familiar to the congregation, but Mr. Demarest announced that at to-night's service, all who had the Victory Song Books should bring them, and others could be bought at the church entrance.

Within the Communion Rail there was present—Revd. Dr. Curtis, Dr. Fenwick, T. B. Darby and E. Moore. After singing heartily the well known hymn, "Will your anchor hold," Rev. Dr. Curtis offered prayer. Mrs. Demarest then rose and expressed her joy that the good people of St. John's had appreciated their services last winter, and had invited them to come back again, and they were glad to be here safely, and announced her subject as "The finding of the Saviour."

In her usual dramatic and expressive manner, Mrs. Demarest told the story of the shepherds abiding in the field when the angel came upon them and gave them the great message, "For unto you is born this day——a Saviour, which is Christ, the Lord." (Luke 2: 8-20.)

"While Christmas is long since past, and our minds will not return to the celebration of the birth of our Lord for many months," Mrs. Demarest said, "the message of the angel is appropriate for all times and seasons. Men always need a Saviour.

"Notice to whom the Angel appeared—lowly shepherds. It is a startling fact that the most important revelations of God have not been given to the great according to this world, but to the humble. Also the vast majority of those who have been most in need of God have been chosen from the simple walks of life,—the shepherds, such as David; the fishermen, such as the disciples and apostles; and poor, simple Hebrew folk, such as those to whom Mary, the mother of the Lord, belonged. The plan of God, even in this day, is that only "the babes," the "poor in spirit," receive His revelations.

"The glory of the Lord shone round about them." Has the glory of the Lord ever shone round about you? Has Christ's beauty and glory been revealed to you? Has the Holy Spirit's power rested upon you, making it evident to others that the glory of the Lord was manifest in and around you?

"The message of the angel was "Good tidings of great joy." Salvation through Christ always means great and perfect joy,—"the joy that no man taketh from you."

"Unto you is born this day a Saviour." This is the sweetest title ever given to the Lord Jesus Christ. Note the angel's words, "unto you." They bring out the great truth that Jesus is the Saviour of the individual. "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that WHOSOEVER."

"After the shepherds heard the message they said, "Let us NOW go to Bethlehem and see the thing which IS come to pass." They did not question the revelation made to them, or waste time in arguments and speculation, but simply and implicitly believed what had been told them and acted upon it. Further on we read, "The shepherds returned glorifiying and praising God for all the things that they had HEARD and SEEN as it was told unto them." Because of their having believed and acted upon their belief in going to Bethlehem, they were enabled to "hear and see." Mrs. Demarest brought out most earnestly that it is only those who are humble in heart, childlike in faith, and simple in obedience, who find the Saviour, and who return praising and glorifying God.

It was announced that the services will begin at 7.30 nightly in Gower Street Church. Mrs. Demarest's subject for to-night will be "The Beatitudes." Fully thirteen hundred persons were present last night; many who hoped to have found a seat were disappointed. The ushers will do all possible.

At the Majestic.

An unusally good show will be put on at the Majestic Theatre to-night, when the William Fox picture. "Be a Little Sport," will be the feature. Albert Rae and Elinor Fair are the stars in this laugh-provoking story, which is one of a matrimonial mix-up. This is another of "the sweetest stories ever told," and Fox has picked the best of his youthful actors and actresses. The picture is full of laughs. It is the second Fox feature to be projected on the Majestic screen and it is even better than the first. In addition to "Be a Little Sport" the Sunshine Comedy, "The Lady Bell-Hop's Secret," will be shown and is guaranteed to raise a roar every half minute from start to finish. To have melancholy and blues massacred come to the Majestic to-night!

George St. Bible Class.

More than ninety young men attended the George Street Adult Bible Class yesterday afternoon, when a very helpful lesson was discussed. The attendance contest, started a few weeks ago, is proving successful and the two divisions differ by only six points.

A distinctive evening gown is of brown silk lace and tulle.
