We sing the praises of the little store—that one at the head of the market. 'Twill be time enough to talk about the prestige of the large store when our own covers a block—for the present our eye is single to the advantages of the small store.

And it has its advantages.

Do you want a dress? And before you buy do you wish to see what is in the market? Don't go to the small store but to the large; the latter can show you ten pieces to the latter's one. To be sure you may be asked to pay a little more for the goods because you have been shown such a variety and because the firm must make up for the loss of goods that will never be paid for.

But some people don't mind paying for other people's parcels, and some people don't consider it an advantage to get a pattern free. Do you?

Lacrosse.

THE ORIENTS DEFEATED.

[Boston Herald, 13th.]

About 300 persons saw the lacrosse match between the Orient club, junior champions of Montreal, and the South Boston Lacrosse Club on the Congress street ball grounds yesterday afternoon. The grounds were in a wretched shape after a heavy rain, and a toss on almost any part of the grounds was as good as a shower bath. ***

After the ball had been tossed a few times very prettily by Cooper and Joyce (Boston men) it was sent among the bleachers. Recovered it was sent down to the Montreal goal, where it hovered about 10 minutes when Cooper took it, and passed it to Joyce, who, in turn, passed to J. Blakely who goaled it amid much applause. Facing for the second goal, Cooper got the ball, and, again passing it to Joyce the latter threw between the sticks from 10 yards distance in just 50 seconds from the time of starting The third and fourth goals were handily won by the Orient players, each in six minutes, and by Paton. Honors were even on the goal when the whistle stopped play for the first half.

After the usual rest, the second half commenced. M. Joyce of South Boston quickly laid out Irwin, the centre of the Orients, with an accidental blow that cracked the Canadian's nose, and Irwin went off the field, and, as a matter of courtesy, Kirwin of South Boston accompanied him, leaving 11 men on a side. There was no let up after play started again, and both goal tends had work to do, but they put up an excellent defence till J. Cooper got the rubber in the rear of the Montreal goal and tossed to Walls just in front of the goal, from which position Walls tossed the ball through. Time 21m. For the remaining minutes of the second half both teams worked like Trojans, but the South Bostons held their lead, and when the whistle blew the victory was theirs, three goals to two.

THE MURPHY-DIXON MATCH.

The second deposit of $350 a side in the Murphy-Dixon fight has been made. The referee was not agreed upon Saturday. The next deposit of $500 is to be made Sept. 26, when the place is to be agreed upon. The final deposit is to be made Oct. 16. Two offers have already been made for the fight between these two clever bantams. The Gladstone Athletic Club of Providence, R. I., offers $1250, while New York parties agree to give $1500. O'Rourke thinks that he would get a better show in New York, as well as more money, while the Murphy people are willing to go where there is the most money.

TO BOOM THE OPERA HOUSE.

A Public Meeting Will be Called, and Subscribers Will be Invited—The Work is Advancing Step by Step.

The work of erecting the new opera house on Union street is still going steadily on, although the chances are that it will not be finished this year. What is needed, however, is sufficient money to complete the outside walls, and to put the building in such a condition as to withstand the effects the winter season might otherwise have on it. The directors of the new institution have been energetic, and earnest but they have not met with that encouragement which their efforts merit. Stock-takers have been more numerous than stock-payers; merchants who would be greatly benifitted by the erection of an opera house in St. John, have manifested little or no interest in the work, but there are others who are into the scheme, and who will use every endeavor to see it carried through successfully.

President A. O. Skinner was seen by a GAZETTE reporter this morning, and that gentleman looked as cheerful as ever over the prospects of the new Opera House. "It is certain" he remarked, "that something will have to be done to put the building under cover for the winter. It will not be finished this year, and it will take a considerable sum to roof it in. Already $5,000 have been expended in the work, and if we could raise five or ten thousand dollars more, the Opera House could be finished immediately and $10,000 would cover all expenses, with the exception of the staging and scenery."

"What are the prospects for raising this money?" asked the reporter.

"That I can hardly say," replied Mr. Skinner, "I think it will be necessary to call a public meeting, in order to find exactly what support the people will give the directors in pushing on the work. Very few understand in what position the directors of the opera house are placed. We have used a good deal of the stock-holders' money, and we feel morally, though not legally, responsible for the completion of the work. If it must be, I am ever willing as one of the directors, to advance my share of the money needed to finish the building.

"I cannot," continued Mr. Skinner, "see why the business men of the city do not take hold of the scheme with more readiness. Aside from the fact that the opera house is intended solely for a place of amusement, its erection means trade, distributed in various directions. It must necessarily follow that when ladies go to a hall of this kind they will dress well, and as a consequence dry goods merchants will reap the benefit. Hotel men, too, will receive some additional patronage, and altogether there will be many little ways in which benefits will be experienced.

"If rightly managed the opera house, I have no doubt, whatever, will return fully 6 per cent on all money expended. It should bring in $5,000 a year, and must eventually mean a good speculation for the investor."

The public meeting which President Skinner intends calling will likely be held in Berryman's hall. As a rule the people do not turn out very nnmerously at public meetings and the opera house directors will probably arrange some interesting entertainment which will be free. The question of the evening will be discussed during the intervals, and the public will be invited to become stockholders and assist in pushing on the good work now so far advanced.

The Japanese Village

Was crowded on Saturday night with a much interested and good tempered audience. Every face beamed brightly on all around. The corn kernels in the jar were counted by a committee of three gentlemen and the total was found to be 1614. The duplicate vote showing these figures was Mr. J. S. Frost who had guessed the exact figures. Mr. Frost thus became the winner of the $85 bedroom set. Manager Somerby in a neat speech announced that in compliance with a general request the "Japs" would remain in St. John for three nights longer, next Wednesday evening being positively their closing appearance. He also indicated additional features of interest for each of the three evenings this this week, as follows: A prize of a pair of elegant Japanese vases to be given to the gentleman who brings the largest number of ladies to the village on Monday night, no one being considered a competitor who brings less than 10 ladies. On Tuesday night from 9 to 11 o'clock, there will be a grand social hop complimentary to their patrons, the music for which will be furnished by the City Cornet band. No extra charge for dancing, and on Wednesday night every lady attending will receive a present of a beautiful Ikkani fan, made in Tokio. No doubt these last few nights the village will be extensively patronized.

THE particular attention of smokers is called to my new stock of 25,000 new fine imported Havana cigars the highest grade from the Standard factory and at very lowest prices. L. Green 59 King street.

Police Court.

George Martin, Michael Kelly, John Mc Intyre and Thomas Cleary week day drunks were fined $4 each. John Kiley and John Mooney Sunday drunks were fined $8 each. Wm. Connors was given in charge by Thos Durick for assulting him was allowed to go on Mr. Durick withdrawing the charge. Herbert Brown arrested on suspicision of breaking windows in Peter Brown's house on Carmarthen street was discharged.

Square Rigged Vessels.

Saturday was a great day among the shipping. Only on one other occasion during this summer were there so many square rigged arrivals in one day. Most of the vessels that came in Saturday were from Cape Breton, where they there received orders to proceed to St. John.

They are all after cargoes of deals, and the great hurry is to get loaded before the deck load law comes into force, on the first of October. Schooners are arriving daily with deals from up the river and up the bay and there is a continual bustle among the stevedores. The majority of Saturday's arrivals would undoubtedly have loaded coal at Cape Breton had it not been for the delay at that place in securing a cargo.

A number of the vessels in port will not be able to get loaded before the first of October as they have to go on the blocks for repairs. The bark Lepreaux and the barqt. Myrtle are to be reclassed; the brigt. Buda is to have her deck caulked and the bark Sylvan is to receive some repairs. The ship Vancouver was towed off the blocks to-day after being extensively repaired, and she, too, will endeavor to escape the deckload law. The difficulty now is to find enough men to work on the vessels that are to be repaired.

Accidental Drowning.

At the inquest held Saturday afternoon on the body of Joseph Cameron, the man who was found dead on Courtenay Bay sands opposite the foot of Sheffield street, the jury returned a verdict of accidental drowning. The circumstance of Cameron's watch being missing was explained by the evidence of Amos Tower, who said that when Cameron was in his place Friday night Cameron called him aside and asked him to loan him $6. He (Tower) replied that he could not. Deceased then said: "I wish you would, to oblige me; I am going to be paid tomorrow night and I will leave my watch with you until I return the money." Tower said he did not want the watch. Deceased again asked him to oblige him by letting him have the money and Tower did so. Cameron left the watch on the counter before going out.
