ST. PATRICK'S DAY falling this year upon Sunday, the Charitable Irish Society postponed the celebration of the Festival to the day following (yesterday,) when they attended to hear Mass at St. Mary's Chapel. After service they paraded through several streets of the City, headed by the Temperance Band, returning to the Chapel, where mass was celebrated. The splendid banner and other regalia of the Society had a capital effect though the bad weather detracted much from the effectiveness of the spectacle. In the evening the Society dined together at the Hotel, where the mirth and festivity was kept up to an early hour this morning.—Halifax Times.

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND, March 5.—The House of Assembly in Committee last evening on Ways and Means, decided that the following articles of importation here should not be subject to Colonial Duty:—Lumber, Staves, Barley, Oats and Oatmeal, Potatoes, Cattle, Horses, Fresh Meat, raw Hides Tallow, Burr Stones, Hemp and Flax, Salt, Lime, Gypsum, Building Stone, Fish, Pig Iron, Live Stock, Implements of Husbandry and Textiles. We have heard it reported that the New Brunswick Legislature intend to impose a tax on our produce. We trust that there is no foundation for this rumour, but if there should be the slighest disposition in that province to that effect, we hope it will be dissipated by the friendly movement on our part and that reciprocity will be fully and fairly carried out.

QUEBEC Feb. 16.—The Roman Catholic Bishop of Montreal has dispensed the people of his Diocese, for the present year, from the usual rigid observance of Lent. The use of one meal of meat a day is allowed on Sundays, Mondays, Tuesdays & Thursdays. Palm Sunday excepted. The reason assigned is the dearness and scarcity of Fish, and the unusual privation among the people of his Diocese.—Gazette.

NEW ORLEANS, March 2.

DREADFUL STEAM BOAT ACCIDENT AND LOSS OF LIFE.

We have just received the distressing intelligence that yesterday morning, between 2 and 3 o'clock, the steamers De Soto and Buckeye came in collision on what is called Old River, just below Atchafalaya, and that the latter boat was sunk to her hurricane deck in less than five minutes.

The Buckeye was ascending the River with upwards of three hundred souls on board, white and black—of this number between 60 and 80 are estimated to have been lost!

A gentleman who was on board the De Soto describes the whole scene as heart-rending beyond description. The passengers were all asleep at the time of the accident, and such as were saved only escaped in their night clothes. Mothers rushed frantically about in search of their children—husbands in search of their wives and sisters.

Of the deck passengers on board the Buckeye, but few were saved, so suddenly did she go down.

Many of the passengers lost every thing, but it is impossible at present to estimate the full loss. The captain of the De Soto, which boat was but little injured, succeeded in saving the lives of many, and also some of the property.

THE ANSWER

To the Inhabitants of Her Majesty's Province of Nova Scotia, Subscribers to the Address from that Province to Sir Charles Metcalfe.

I beg you, gentlemen, to accept my warmest thanks for the honour conferred on me by your address.

It is highly gratifying to me to be assured that my conduct in resisting unconstitutional demands has your approval.

A compliance with those demands would have reduced the authority of Her Majesty's Government in this Colony to a nullity, and would have rendered the Governor a mere Tool in the hands of a Party.

Such a subversion of the Constitutional Government conferred on this Province could not be effected without the total destruction of the supremacy of the Mother Country, and can never therefore under any circumstances be submitted to by Her Majesty's Representative.

It is cheering to observe that an abundance of Loyal feeling prevails throughout the North American portion of the British Empire, which will it may be hoped maintain those ties of affection that bind the Mother Country and the Colonies together, notwithstanding the extreme views of independence partially entertained in Canada, which would utterly prostrate Her Majesty's Government, and obviously tend to sever a connexion that is replete with mutual benefit: and in which the perfect liberty of the subject, Provincial Legislation, and Administration, adapted to the interests, wants and wishes of the people, and every privilege compatible with allegiance to the British Crown, are combined with the fostering care and powerful protection of Imperial supremacy and strength. It is lamentable that those real advantages should be brought into jeopardy by aiming at an object involving the extinction of Her Majesty's Government, which can only be attained at the sacrifice of the connexion that produces those blessings.

In addressing these sentiments to you, I am confident that I am communicating with gentlemen who are determined as any in the world to maintain the just rights, liberties and interests of the people, and who value and uphold the Prerogative of the Crown as conducive to that end. It is the happy effect of the operation of the British Constitution that the true friends of the people are also the most loyal supporters of the Crown.

The number of journeymen shoemakers in the United States is estimated at 150,000!

The St. Louis New Era truly remarks, that all these have a deep interest in the protective tariff, for if the shoes made by the pauper labour of Europe were permitted to be introduced, free of duty, nearly all the shoemakers of the United States would be thrown out of employment. The actual working men have a deeper interest in the maintenance of a fair protective duty on foreign articles than any other class of people. The heavy establishments of Europe, who hire their workmen at ten cents per day, could crush all our infant establishments, if the protective arm of our Government were withdrawn.

Insurrection in Matanzas.—By an arrival in New York, intelligence from Matanzas to the 20th ult. has been received. On the 19th, an insurrection broke out among the slaves on the plantations in the neighbourhood of that port, and it was supposed that their plan of operations had been concerted throughout that part of the island. The people from the country were hastening to the city for protection; great numbers had already arrived. An engineer on one of the plantations had been thrown into one of the sugar boilers and scalded to death. The inhabitants of Matanzas were seriously alarmed. One planter at Matanzas having 400 slaves on his estate, had put 300 in irons. Several hundred soldiers had started in different directions to quell the disturbances.

Consular Establishments.—A bill is before Congress relative to United States Consuls, embracing very important alterations in the system. It proposes to appoint none but citizens of the United states. Consuls are to be paid a certain salary for their services, and where there is no accredited agent in a foreign country, the President may invest the consulate at his discretion with certain diplomatic powers.

GAME LAWS—CANADA.

TORONTO, Feb. 29.—It is but right the public should be reminded that the Act for preventing deer and game, from being killed during the breeding season, is in full force as the Law of the Land; and that any person violating its provisions is subject to a heavy penalty.—No person to take or kill in any manner, any red or grey Deer, or any Moose, Elk, or other Deer, or Fawn, after the 1st February, until the 1st August, in each year.—No person to take hunt, shoot, kill, destroy, any red or grey deer, or any Moose, Elk, or other Deer or any Fawn, between the 1st of August, or any wild-Turkey, Prairie-Hen, or Grouse, Pheasant, Partridge or Quail, between the 1st of February, and the 1st September, or shall sell, offer for sale, buy, receive or have in possession any Venison or Game aforesaid, between those periods—(such venison or Game having been killed after the 1st February, in any year, the proof to the contrary whereof shall be on the party charged)—nor shall any person take, shoot, kill, or destroy, nor sell, offer for sale, buy, receive or have in possession any Woodcock between the 1st February and 15th July, in any year, nor shall any person erect, make or set, either wholly or in part, any pen, trap, gin, net, or snare for taking any wild turkey, &c.: on pain of being brought up and fined before the justice of the Peace, in a Penalty not exceeding £10, nor less than 10s. and all costs.—The act not to extend to Indians; but no person is to have, receive, purchase, or take from them any Venison or Game killed out of season, under the penalties aforesaid.

Patent Horse Power Saw Mills.—Mr. John Norcross, of Putnam, Ga., says the Milledgeville Journal, has obtained a patent for a horse power saw mill, on the plan of the inclined tread wheel and adhesive pulley, the saw running in guides. From the different certificates we have seen, it appears that Mr. N. has built several mills, and that all of them work well, sawing from five hundred to one thousand feet of lumber per day, with three mules or horses. The cost of building one of these mills is comparatively small, and requiring no water to propel them, they will no doubt be of the greatest advantage to persons living far from water courses, or those residing in the prairies.

The Lake of Como.—Bulwer describes the Lake of Como in his (and Macready's) Lady of Lyons as a very beautiful place, and so it is; but one little circumstance he has forgotten to mention, viz: that the vicinity is infested with scorpions. They are so plentiful that they drop from the chamber walls, thereabouts, into the beds and dishes of the inhabitants. The poisonous tarantula spider is also plentiful in the same place. The still life may be charming, but the animated nature is wofully uninteresting.

Deaths in Boston.—During the twenty-four years ending 31st December, 1843, thirty-seven thousand five hundred and forty deaths occurred in Boston, of this number six were over 100 years of age; 107 were aged between 90 and 100; 628 were between 80 and 90; 1235 between 70 and 80; 1553 between 60 and 70; 8966 between 30 and 60; 6013 between 10 and 30; 15,513 under 10; 967 unknown and 2572 stillborn—total 37,540—Females 17,065; males 17,903. The sex of the stillborn is not designated.

From the Fejee Islands.—A letter received from the captain of the brig Gambia, at this port, from the Fejee Islands, states that in the month of June last, a boat which he had employed was taken by the natives and robbed of 70 pounds of tortoise shell and about £25 dollars of trade, and Thomas Jones (who had been left by the Gambia on her previous voyage) was killed, together with four natives belonging to the Island.—Salem Gazette.

January, 1844.—The Coldest on Record.—A letter from a gentleman residing in Hampden, Maine, to a friend in Baltimore, which is quoted in the Baltimore American, states that the first month of the present year was probably the coldest January experienced in this country for more than one hundred years—certainly the coldest within the memory of the oldest people. Deep, rapid tideways in the vicinity of Hamden, which had been clear of ice for more than sixty years, were frozen over sufficiently to bear an ox-team.

Atlantic Steamers.—It is stated that the steamers Great Western and Great Britain will make two trips to New Orleans during the next summer.

New Machine for opening Ice Bound Harbors.—There is a new machine just brought into existence in New York, by which, it is said, harbors and rivers can constantly be kept in navigable order. It cuts through the ice and pushes the blocks away at the same time, thus leaving a clear passage for ships or steamers. It will be ready for service early next winter.

Died.

On Wednesday the 20th instant, at his residence in Germain street, in the 48th year of his age, Doctor Henry Cook, leaving a wife and young family to lament the loss of a kind parent.—Dr. Cook was a native of Hamilton, Scotland—came to this city in the year 1822, since which he has discharged the duties of an extensive practice, and will long be lamented in this community for his strict integrity and moral worth in private life, and usefulness in public.—Funeral to-morrow, (Saturday,) at 2 o'clock, when the friends and acquaintances are respectfully requested to attend.

On Tuesday evening last, in the 26th year of her age, Abigail, wife of Mr. Elias Flaglor.

At Portland this morning, Catherine, wife of Mr. John Tobin, aged 35 years.—Her end was peace.

On Friday, the 8th instant, after a long illness, which he bore with Christian patience, fortitude and resignation to the Divine will, deeply deplored and lamented, Mr. William Bourke, a native of Mallow, County of Cork, Ireland, aged 30 years.—He was a dutiful son, an affectionate brother, and an ardent friend.

On Thursday morning, Mrs. Ann Nepton, in the 55th year of her age, wife of Mr. Charles Nepton.

At the Wesleyan Academy, Sackville, on Monday morning, the 19th inst., Mrs. H. M. Pickard, A. M. Principal of that Institution, and daughter of E. Thompson, Esq. Boston, U. S. aged 39. The sudden death of this amiable, talented, and godly-minded lady has thrown a deep and sorrowful gloom over the minds of her attached relatives and very numerous friends, by whom she was greatly beloved for her varied excellencies, domestic, intellectual, and religious. Her education and habits were of essential service in carrying forward the household designs of the Academy, to the interests and prosperity of which she was ardently devoted, and the success of which formed one of her highest earthly enjoyments. Inscrutable, indeed, are the decisions of such a Providence,—admonitory and instructive the lessons designed by its visitation to be imparted.

At Pembroke, Upper Canada, on his return to Byetown, where he resided, on the 20th January, very suddenly, John Young, Esquire, for many years a Justice of the Peace, and a resident of the County of Gloucester, New-Brunswick.

At Montreal, on Friday, 23d ult. Mr. Richard Perceival Robinson, aged 26 years and 6 months.

At Cienfuegos, in November last, of fever, after an illness of four days, Mr. Charles W. Umphray, aged 20 years, son of the late Mr. Alexander Umphrey, of Windsor, (N. S.)

On board brig Tadmour, at Sea, of fever, Benjamin Bryant, aged about 26—son of Mrs. Roop, of Digby, N. S.

On the 27th January, at Ealing, Lady Carr.—Her Ladyship, previous to her union with Sir H. Carr, was the widow of the late Spencer Percival, who was shot in the lobby of the House of Commons, in 1812, by Bellingham.

On the 26th ult., at the residence of Mr. Joseph Carlee, Grand Lake, in the 93d year of her age, Catherine, relict of the late Alexander McPherson of St. John.—Mrs. McPherson was a native of the West of England, and migrated first to Quebec, then to st. John, and lastly to the Grand Lake, from which place her happy spirit took its flight to the regions of bliss, which she had long anticipated.
