LAWSUIT ABOUT A LANE.

Brought by St. Paul's Church Corporation Against J. Ferguson.

Monday afternoon the first case called at the assizes was one in which considerable local interest has been taken. More than quarter of a century ago Peter Weston, now of Chicago, purchased the northwestern corner of the square on which St. Paul's cathedral stands from the wardens of the church, and around the square he purchased were lanes leading respectively from Richmond street and Dufferin avenue. These lanes have never since been closed, and the one leading from Dufferin avenue is the one under dispute. John Ferguson purchased the lot east of this lane and built upon it soon after Mr. Weston's purchase, and when Mr. Weston's property was sold some years ago Mr. Ferguson purchased and built on the lot west of the lane. Now it is claimed by the churchwardens that of the entire distance between Richmond street and Park avenue about seventeen feet was never sold by them, and this suit is to recover possession of this lane and a portion of the land purchased and occupied by Mr. Ferguson. Bayly for plaintiffs and Purdom for defendant.

Architect C. A. Jones, who made the survey of the church property, was the first witness. Mr. Welch, a photographer in the employ of Frank Cooper, produced a photograph of the Ferguson property which he had taken last summer. Mr. Jones found that Mr. Ferguson's fence was 1 foot 11½ inches on the church property. The witness had used the city monuments, and not the ones the Government had recognized.

John Ferguson, the defendant, purchased the property from George M. Mann in 1886. He had used the lane between the two lots for a number of years and did not dispute the right of the church to use it, but he claimed the right of way. Messrs. Bayly & Bayly had written to Mr. Ferguson in July, 1890, requesting him to restore to the churchwardens the property he had taken possession of. He had bought the lot and right of way for $1,700.

Wm. H. Weston stated that his father, Mr. Ferguson, the church people and tenants of his father, Peter Weston, had always used the lane in question. James Ferguson said that for the last 25 years the lane had been used as stated by the previous witness. James Smith, teamster for Mr. Ferguson, was of the opinion that the lane was used by the defendant eight or ten times a day. Fred Dickerson stated that the lane had for fifteen years been used by people going to church, Mr. Ferguson and by Mr. Weston's tenants.

Samuel Flory, J. Cook, J. Purdom and John Dodd, builders, had all used the disputed land, entering the lane by Richmond street and going out by Dufferin avenue. Wm. Higby and Jas. Gillean had frequently used the lane. Canon Innes' evidence and also that of John S. Pearce went to show that the churchwardens had had their coal drawn in over the lane in dispute.

Peter Weston said he had been shown a plan when he purchased the property, corner of Richmond street and Dufferin avenue. The lane from Dufferin avenue then lay beside the lot of Mr. McMullen, sexton of St. Paul's. Shortly afterwards Mr. McMullen wished to buy the lot afterwards sold to Mr. Ferguson, the only lot between McMullen and witness, and he came to witness and asked if he was willing to allow a lane to be located next to his (witness') lot, saying the churchwardens were willing if he was. Witness did not object and the lane was located where it now remains. Mr. McMullen's lots then being together, and Mr. Ferguson soon afterwards buying the one next to the lane as then located.

If Mr. V. Cronyn, who is at present in Manitoba, be present on Oct. 16 or 17 his evidence regarding the case will be heard, otherwise it will be taken by Col. Shanley. The case was, therefore adjourned until next week, and should Mr. Cronyn not return before the end of the Assizes, until next January.

Correspondence Between Dillon and Parnell.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—John Dillon, M.P., has published the correspondence which has been going on between Mr. Parnell and himself, in which the latter proposes that Mr. Parnell should appoint two of his supporters and that Justin McCarthy appoint two of his friends, the four to form a committee to distribute the Paris funds to the evicted tenants. The correspondence shows that Mr. Parnell refuses to agree to the appointment of such a committee, insisting that he himself must consider the claims of evicted tenants in conjunction with Mr. McCarthy.

Fatality at a Funeral.

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 6.—A series of accidents occurred in a funeral procession at Altoona yesterday. A procession of 40 carriages was following the remains of Nicholls Holstreet from the church to the cemetery. While the procession was winding down a hill a team in the rear, frightened at a steam threshing machine, became frightened and ran into and upset a dozen carriages, breaking six of them into splinters and scattering the occupants. A panic ensued and other teams ran away. Men and women jumped out from the carriages only to be trampled on by runaway teams. Edwin Dresel, of Altoona, was killed; Joseph Perdue, a telegraph operator from Grinell, internally injured, cannot live; Mrs. J. O. Mason, aged 70, leg broken in two places and otherwise injured, not expected to live; M. F. Sayre, skull fractured and cannot live; Mrs. R. C. Lane, of Newton, so badly frightened that there is believed to be no chance for her recovery. Among others badly injured were Mrs. James Parker and Mrs. Isaac Parker, both of Altoona. Fully twenty others were more or less injured.
