EDITOR OF JUDGE DIES OF INJURIES

Carlton T. Garretson Was Thrown From Horse on May 10.

New York, Sept. 3. — Carlton T. Garretson, editor of Judge, died here today at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. G. Finch, as the result of injuries received when he was thrown from his horse on May 10. Although he had been paralyzed from his neck down since the accident, he had dictated from his bed frequently during his illness material for his publication.

Prior to his connection with Judge, Mr. Garretson was connected with the editorial staff of Leslie's Weekly, and the New York Evening Globe, and had published small newspapers on the Pacific coast.

"YOU'LL SUFFER ALL YOUR LIFE"

That's what the Doctor told him

"Fruit-a-tives" Cured Him

Chesterville, Ont., Jan. 25, 1911.

"For over twenty years I have been troubled with Kidney Disease, and the doctors told me they could do me no good, and that I would be a sufferer for the rest of my life.

I doctored with different medical men and tried many advertised remedies, but none of them suited my case.

Nearly a year ago I tried "Fruit-a-tives." I have been using this fruit medicine nearly all the time since, and am glad to say that I am cured.

I give "Fruit-a-tives" the credit of doing what the doctors said was impossible.

I am now seventy-six years old, and in first-class health."

GEO. W. BARKLEY.

In all the world, there is no other remedy that has cured so many cases of so-called "incurable" kidney disease as "Fruit-a-tives."

This famous fruit medicine acts directly on the kidneys—healing and strengthening them—and ridding the system of the waste matter that poisons the blood.

PAPER SHOWS PLOT TO TAKE MEXICO CITY

Messenger Captured While Passing Through Capital Tells of Hidden Rifles.

Mexico City, Sept. 3. — Papers captured from a rebel messenger passing through this city yesterday reveal a plot on the part of Zapatistas to capture and loot the capital on Sept. 15. Information obtained when the "third degree" was applied to him resulted in the finding of 100 rifles and a quantity of ammunition concealed in the lower part of the town.

The papers stated that 1,000 Zapatistas had entered the city, disguised as workingmen; that they had their arms concealed, and that on Sept. 15 they would mingle with the merry-making crowds, and incite the lower element to start looting. Meanwhile it was arranged that Zapatistas should attack the city from three sides, and, while the police and soldiers were occupied with the mob in the centre of the capital, the incoming rebels would take the barracks at Guadalupe, Chapultepec and the Plaza de Las Armas, where are stored all the guns and ammunition in reserve there. Zapata has approximately 12,000 rebels within 100 miles of this city.

Rebellion has broken out openly in 20 states and Americans in outlying sections are in greater danger than ever from the rebel bands.

Music and Drama

O'Hara Scores.

Fiske O'Hara, a young Irish tenor, who is rapidly achieving fame, completely filled the Grand Opera House both at the matinee and evening performances on the holiday. His new offering, "The Rose of Kildare," proved to be one of the best vehicles he ever had. There is sufficient sentiment in it to make it a delightful attraction, and gives O'Hara plenty of opportunities for displaying his excellent voice.

The play deals with the troubious times in Ireland prior to the eighteenth century. There is a touch of melodrama in the whole play, but it is never overdone. The situations are all well worked out.

Mr. O'Hara is an actor of more than ordinary merit, but his talents as a vocalist were most appreciated. His best song was "There is Only One Ireland," and it delighted the crowd greatly.

The support tendered Mr. O'Hara was even and clever. Miss Gladys Wynee, as the Rose of Kildare, is an actress of unusual promise, and soon became a favorite. John C. Hickey, an interpreter of Irish character of more than ordinary ability, excelled in the role of Terrence Malone, while Miss Marie Quinn, as an Irish colleen, was clever. The others were good.

Mr. O'Hara is extremely popular with London theatregoers, and will undoubtedly pack the Grand at his next appearance in London.

Cohan's Biggest Comedy at Grand Tomorrow Night.

The tremendous vogue that has been attained by George M. Cohan's comedy, "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford," is a distinct compliment to the genius of that prolific playwright whose pen has been successfully wielded many times in the past. Prototypes of Wallingford, the shrewd conspirator of the comedy classic, are to be found in countless numbers, but to vitalize and visualize the type as the author has done, to present him in a way that awakens the sympathy and compels the love of an audience which, though realizing that he is no more nor less than a commercial buccaneer, are still in accord with his get-rich-quick schemes, is a piece of stagecraft equalled by few playwrights of modern times. "Get-Rich-Quick" Wallingford" will be presented in this city at the Grand tomorrow night.

"The Light Eternal."

Lofty ideals and sentiments that ring as true today as in the fourth century form the keynote of "The Light Eternal," the big spectacular religious drama to be offered at the Grand on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights and special Saturday matinee. All the glamor that wealth of coloring, splendor of costumes and scenic settings can lend has been utilized in making this producton worthy of the ideas embodied. History has been consulted for the theme, and the horrible tortures of the early martyrs make the climax for a story of love and religious devotion. The name of Louise Dunbar appearing in the principal feminine role, lends to the offering an added eclat gained by her fine training and artistic achievement. However, Miss Dunbar's regal personality and marked dramatic skill cast but slight shadow over the excellent work of John Milton, her immediate support. The cast of "The Light Eternal" is unusually large for a dramatic offering, even in these days of big things theatric. Seats no won sale. This is the company that played four performances here in February to delighted audiences.

THOUGHT THEY SAW VIRGIN.

Dublin, Sept. 2. — The reported miraculous appearance of the Virgin Mary in a house at Newry has been causing a great sensation there.

Crowds assembled on Saturday night, endeavoring to see the manifestation, and the police were obliged to interfere.

MANY PARADES MARK HOLIDAY

Labor Day Fittingly Celebrated at Various Cities of the Dominion.

BIG TIME AT CAPITAL

Ottawa Unions Have a Record Turnout—Ten Thousand March at Montreal.

Guelph, Sept. 2.—Under auspices of the Iron Molders' Union, the Labor Day celebration here, while considerably dampened by a heavy downpour all morning, proved very successful. The morning events were cancelled, as was the horse race matinee in the afternoon, but the Westinghouse Football Club, of Hamilton played the Guelph team, winning by 5 to 2; and the sports and band concert in the afternoon and evening were well attended. The results of the sports were:

Five mile open, Owen J. Dalby. Ted Ingles, Sydney Johnson, Hespeler; two-mile, L. Peere, B. Boyd, T. Hall, Jas. Walsh, C. Coyan, P. Davison; half-mile, open, J. McKen, M. C. Peere, J. Bard, G. Mutrie, Emslie; 220 yards, union, McGowan, G. Murray, A. McAinsh, B. King F. King, J. Horn; 220-yard, open, L. Spalding, J. McKen, McGowan, F. King, Mallott, Wm. Graham.

At Railway City.

St. Thomas, Sept. 2.—Rain marred but did not stop the Labor Day celebration here. An incessant downpour kept the morning parade from starting till near noon, when the Twenty-fifth Regiment Band, the Oneida Indian Band and the London Pipe Band preceded several hundred union men with floats, fancy turnouts, etc., along the streets.

In the afternoon a picnic was held at Pinafore Park, a large number attending. The usual program of races and games was run off, and a ball game between St. Thomas Amateurs and Strathroy resulted 6 to 3 in favor of St. Thomas. A concert was held in the evening. Hon. T. W. Crothers, Minister of Labor, was the guest of honor and delivered a speech at the park in the afternoon.

Kingston Celebrates.

Kingston, Sept. 2.—The Trades and Labor Council of this city held a big picnic at Lake Ontario Park in honor of Labor Day, and thousands were in attendance. Baseball matches and other sports were the attractions. The rain held off till the evening and the demonstration was a success.

Small at Montreal.

Montreal Sept. 2. — Labor Day parade today was the smallest and least impressive for many years past. It had been expected that at least 20,000 men and women would have turned out for the procession but less than 10,000 actually joined in the march while there was an almost complete absence of the spectacular floats which were picturesque features of previous Labor Day demonstrations. Most of the unions were lightly represented, while many failed to turn out at all. This was largely owing to the bad weather, the morning opening cold, with lowering skies, while the procession had hardly got started before a steady light rain began, which kept up all morning. In the afternoon the unions held their annual picnic at Dominion Park, which was also lightly attended.

Berlin's Demonstration.

Berlin, Ont., Sept. 2.—Rain interfered seriously with the Labor Day demonstration here today. A steady downpour from early morning until 10:30 o'clock caused a postponement of the Labor Day parade until 11:30, when only a few unions put in an appearance, with the result that the procession was not as representative as usual. The afternoon program of races was pulled off in the Auditorium with the Twenty-ninth Regiment Band in attendance. A band concert and prize drawing in the Auditorium closed the celebration this evening.

Big Day at Ottawa.

Ottawa, Sept. 2.—The Labor Day celebration here passed all previous records, the monster parade attracting no fewer than 4,000 trade unionists, who, with their different floats, streamers and uniforms, made a picturesque and brilliant procession. The parade took over half an hour to pass any one point on its route through the heart of the city, and when eventually it lined up in Cartier Square at midday an enormous crowd was present to witness the judging. The paper-makers, with a really fine float of different papers and gay trimmings, won first prize. In the afternoon an excellent program of athletic sports was run off at the South Side Park before a great crowd.

KAISER REVIEWS A MIGHTY ARMY

Sixty Thousand in Force Gathered For Inspection at the German Capital.

Berlin, Sept. 2.—Emperor William passed in review today the most powerful army ever gathered in Berlin in time of peace. It comprised over 60,000 men and was composed of the artillery, cavalry, infantry, engineers, auxiliary troops of the guards and of the Third Army Corps.

The army Flying Corps took part in the parade for the first time since its formation. Eight aeroplanes and two dirigible balloons, under the guidance of officer airmen, flew at the head of the marching columns as they passed the Emperor.

His Majesty stood beneath the solitary poplar in the centre of the great temple of paradeground, and returned the salute of the troops as they went by.

AUSTRIA SUPPORTS BRITAIN

Vienna Press Indignant at Attitude of the United States.

Vienna, Sept. 2.—The newspapers here are supporting the British view of the Panama canal act. The official Fremdenblatt says that if arbitration should fail in a case so peculiarly adapted to it and between such friendly nations as the United States and Great Britain, it may be doubted whether the time is ripe for the arbitration idea.

Die Zeit suggests retaliatory measures against the United States by European countries because of the alleged discrimination of the act in favor of American shipping.

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT TOURING THE WEST

Tells Prince Albert He is Glad to Visit Outposts of Empire.

Prince Albert, Sept. 2.—The vice-regal party arrived here this afternoon and departed for Edmonton, after a busy day. At every stop on the line there were enthusiastic crowds, and the Duke of Connaught often spoke to farmers on the wayside. Saskatoon gave a striking demonstration, and the duke congratulated the city, and said it was a real type of the western city, full of energy and self-confidence.

In this city, he said, he was glad to pay a short visit to the outposts of the Empire, and to witness the success crowning efforts to establish agriculture on a sound basis in this northern latitude. He hoped they would maintain the balance between the financial conditions of the present and confidence in the possibilities of the future.

BLANCHE BATES TO MARRY.

Denver, Sept. 2.—The engagement of marriage of George Creel, police commissioner and journalist, and Blanche Bates, the actress, was announced here yesterday. The wedding is announced for December, and the couple will reside on a ten-acre ranch near this city.

ITALY CAN TAKE FIRM ATTITUDE

Position in Peace Negotiations Appears To Be Better Than Ever.

INTERVENTION UNLIKELY

Both Rome and Constantinople Agree That Any Act by Powers Would Be Ruinous.

Chiasso, Switzerland, Sept. 2. — The proposition of Count Leopold von Berchthold, the Austro - Hungarian foreign minister that autonomy be gradually given all the European provinces of Turkey, has spurred on Turkey to hasten the unofficial negotiations for peace with Italy, which are in progress in Switzerland between Turkish delegates and Pietro Bertolini, former Italian minister of public works, and Guido Fusinato, who was an Italian delegate to the last peace conference at The Hague.

Turkish View.

The Turkish delegates to the peace "conversations" repeatedly have insisted upon the abrogation of the law passed by the Italian Parliament last February, annexing Tripoli to Italy, even if such abrogations were merely a matter of form, advancing the proposition that the Government of Tripoli be intrusted nominally to a prince appointed by the Sultan, but chosen by Italy. Among those urged by Turkey for this office is Caraman Ali Pasha, a descendant of the ancient rulers of Tripoli, who is now mayor of the city of Tripoli, which is controlled by the Italians. But the Italian premier, Signor Giolitti, has steadfastly refused to concede this point, as he also has done on the proposition that Tripoli be given to Italy, but that Cyrenaica remain nominally Turkish.

The Italian premier's position now is even stronger than it was last year at the commencement of the war, as he is backed by the entire country, and also has no opposition in Parliament. In addition, the Italian army and navy are in excellent condition and the financial situation in the kingdom is so good after fourteen years of surpluses in the budget that no loan would be needed to carry on the war. This year a large sum is available for the purposes of war, and an equal surplus is expected in the budget of next year.

Agree on One Point.

A point on which the Italian and Turkish peace negotiators are entirely agreed is that they will do their utmost to avoid intervention in the controversy between the two countries, which several times has been attempted. They argue that intervention would cost both Italy and Turkey dearly, and that the intervening powers would be animated by Bismarck's principle of the "honest broker."

Count von Berchthold's attempt to secure autonomy for the European provinces of Turkey is considered to be a move for veiled intervention in European Turkey, which, if accepted, would place European Turkey, like Crete, practically under the tutelage of the powers, with a predominant Austrian influence owing to Austria's frontage on the Balkan States.

Naturally Turkey opposes the proposition, and while Italy, as a member of the Triple Alliance, has adhered to it, she hopes that peace between her and Turkey will be brought about before the scheme advanced by the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister is ratified and put into practice.
