ROCHESTER HERE TODAY.

Arthur Irwin's Rochester team will furnish the holiday attraction at the island today, with morning and afternoon games with the Leafs. The morning game will begin at 10.30, and the afternoon game at 3 o'clock. There will be a special ferry and jitney service from the foot of Bay street. Rochester always gives the locals a hard argument, and two lively games are anticipated.

EARLY ENTRIES FOR O.B.A. TOURNAMENT.

For the first time in the history of the Ontario Bowling Association, entries for the annual tournament at Niagara, on July 7 were received one month in advance. The honor of the first entry fell to A. C. Longstreet, the present champion, and in order to still further secure the permanent possession of the trophy, another Woodstock rink will journey to Niagara as pacemakers for the veterans.

Entries are coming in daily, and the association suggest that all rinks make early reservations at the Queen's Royal or other hotels, a list of which can be obtained from the hon. secretary, Geo. M. Begg, Equity Life Assurance Co., Toronto. The grounds committee have paid their final visit of inspection, and the chairman, Dr. Geo. Creelman, reports that the greens are in the very best condition, far better than ever before. The prizes that accompany the various trophies are novel and sure to be appreciated by the winners, being specially selected for the association by a committee headed by Mr. A. E. J. Blackman, the vice-president. The entries close on Wednesday, July 2, and the draw will be made at the Granite Club at 8 p.m. the same evening. The Friday World will contain the result of the draw.

Royal Canadian Henley Regatta to Be Held in Four Weeks at Welland

The warm and favorable rowing weather during the past few weeks has materially changed the outlook for the sport this season. During the cold, wet days of early May there was little cheerfulness, but reports from all the leading Canadian clubs now indicate an enthusiasm on the part of new and old members that quite surpasses the palmy days before the war. The Dominion Day fixture here will be productive of some splendid sport, as the entry list is large, while the contestants are in better condition than is usually the case at so early a date.

As for the Canadian Henley, which is being revived this year, the prospects were never brighter. Quite contrary to early expectations, it now seems as if the eights will have the largest number of entrants. Argonauts and Dons will have several in the various classes; Lachine and Ottawa will likely send two each. Mr. Davie Duffield, the grand young-old man of the Detroits, writes Joe Wright that his club will probably send a lightweight and a junior eight. It is almost certain, also, that the Undine Barge Club of Philadelphia will send along their senior eight and a four.

There will be no lack of entries in the other sweep-oared events, but it will be in the sculling races that the greatest surprises may be staged. The Dons, as usual, have several dark horses, not to mention the redoubtable Bob Dibble. The Argonauts, however, may surprise the talent. The light and dark blues have a number of promising youngsters, including young Durnan, who, as the son of his father, may be counted on to establish as proud an amateur record as his famous sire achieved in the professional field.

Buffalo is not saying very much as yet. Prospects are that, as in the past, they will have several claimants for the Canadian honors in both the sculls and sweeps.

On Wednesday afternoon an important meeting of the executive and regatta committees of the C.A.A.O. was held in the president's office.

In view of the improved outlook and the prospect that some of the winners at the Canadian regatta will desire to compete in the national championships of the United States, which are to be held at Boston on Aug. 1 and 2, it was decided to hold the Royal Canadian Henley on Friday and Saturday, July 25 and 26.

The Argonauts and Dons were each granted permission to compete in the cup and people's regatta at Philadelphia on July 4. The former are sending a senior eight and a four, while the Dons are sending Bob Dibble, who has rounded into quite his old-time form. Ottawa also were granted permission to compete in a local regatta at Duluth on July 12.

Junior eights (inadvertently omitted from list previously announced), senior eights and intermediate doubles were added to the proposed events, which will consist of:

Program.

Single-scull shells—Junior, intermediate, senior.

Double-scull shells—Junior, intermediate, senior.

Four-oared shells—Maidens, junior, intermediate, senior.

Four-oared working boats—Junior.

Eight-oared shells—Primary, junior and senior.

—Special Events.—

Four-oared working boats, for juniors who have never competed in an open regatta.

Veterans' four-oared working boats, for contestants who have served overseas in the great war.

Veterans' eight-oared working boats, for contestants who have served overseas in the great war.

It has not yet been definitely decided whether the big event will be held over the old course at Port Dalhousie or not. The people of St. Catharines, never over-enthusiastic, seem during the war years to have developed an apathy as to the interests of the Royal Canadian Henley which may prove fatal to the Garden City, so far as the annual rowing classic is concerned.

The few may be aware of it, Toronto today possesses one of the best rowing courses on the continent. Part of the harbor board's improvement work in Ashbridge's Bay consists of an enclosed channel 1¼ miles long and 400 feet wide, with concrete walls on either side. The harbor commission, if it should be decided to hold the regatta over this course, would, no doubt, provide adequate accommodation in the way of dressing quarters for the contestants, with necessary housing accommodation for shells. Along the side of the course an unlimited number of spectators could view the races.

ACTIVITIES AT ELIZABETH PLAYGROUNDS.

A fast game of soft ball was the feature at Elizabeth Playgrounds, Friday night, when the intermediate open defeated the junior open by the score of 8 to 4, Brown having a shade on Wilks. Both pitched good ball.

For the interest of the people attend Elizabeth Playgrounds games will be run off every day and night, excepting Wednesday, when athletics take hold. Also other activities, consisting of: For boys, active games, baseball, hard, basketball, football, quoits, rope and iron, tip cat, volley ball, swimming. For girls: Singing games, rope quoits, tether tennis, folk dancing, industrial work, story telling, bean bags, active games, baseball, basketball, volley ball and sand boxes for the kiddies. The point competition is very keen.
