A SHARP RAP OVER KNUCKLES

County Councilors Get It from Dr. Bruce Smith, Provincial Inspector.

The June session of the Middlesex county council opened at 2:30 this afternoon. Among the communications was a rather warm letter from Dr. R. W. Bruce Smith, provincial inspector of prisons and charities, regarding the changes in the county jail, which were decided upon by the council at its January session. The letter read as follows:

"In my recent visit of inspection of the London jail, I was surprised to learn that the house occupied by the matron had been taken from her and given to another subordinate official of the institution, and that the salary of the matron had been at the same time reduced from $400 to $300. It is my duty to draw your attention, in order than you communicate at once with the proper authorities, to the fact that under the statutes all 'such salary increases are subject to the 'revision and requirements of the inspector of prisons and public charities,' and that as such officer I require that all such changes be communicated to me before going into effect.

"Respecting the house from which the matron was recently removed, I desire to draw your attention to the requirement of rule 16 of the rules and regulations for the government of common jails of Ontario, that 'the jailer shall reside convenient to the jail, in a house provided by the county,' and while the jailer does now reside in the 'jail building,' yet, as the senior officer of the jail, his wishes should have been ascertained, and he given the refusal before the house was otherwise disposed of. I have refrained heretofore from insisting on a proper house outside the jail being furnished the jailer, but the opportunity which presented itself when the matron was removed from the jail, of meeting the requirements of the regulations, was so completely ignored that I must insist on a reconsideration of this action, or, otherwise, that I press for a proper house being furnished for the jailer elsewhere.

"The house now occupied by him is not that contemplated for a family, though quite suited to the circumstances of the present night watchman, to whom the other premises have been given. At the same time there would be sufficient room left, and still available, to house the matron more comfortably than at present.

"I desire to also draw your attention to the fact that the county jails of this Province and provincial institutions, to the support of which the provincial treasury largely contributes, and that the statutes which confer on me the power and responsibility to which I have referred, also places heavy obligation on the Province in respect to these jails. In the case of the county of Middlesex, the Province pays broadly one-fourth of the cost of maintenance, while the cost to the county is only 22 per cent of the remainder, or about 17 cents on every dollar of jail expenditure other than repairs.

"In this connection, I desire to correct a prevailing impression as to the maintenance of prisoners sentenced to the Central Prison, but allowed to remain in jail. The maintenance of these prisoners, as well as others committed under indictable offenses both before as well as after trial, including the salaries of all the jail officers, is paid by the Province in proportion as the number of days in which they are in jail bears to the total number of days in jail of all prisoners, and that the cost of their maintainance thus ascertained is paid over to the county four times yearly.

"Taking the year ending 31st December last, 22 2-3 cents on every dollar of the cost of maintaining the London jail was paid by the Province, 60 1-6 cents by the city of London, and 17 1-6 cents by the county of Middlesex.

"For the reason given, and which I trust will be self-apparent to the county of Middlesex, I trust to have this suggestion acted on at an early date, and beg that you will communicate to them the contents of this letter with that end in view, and that they amend their action in accordance with their powers under statute."

CITY HAS A STRONG CARD

May Spring a Surprise in Connection With the Saunby Damages.

Tomorrow Judge Finkle, who has been appointed to assess the damages of the plaintiff Saunby in the suit of Saunby vs. the City of London, will hold a session at the court house, and will hear the argument of the counsel for the parties interested.

It was said today at the city hall that the city will play a strong card tomorrow, and that as a result the damages matter will not appear such a bugaboo as it has the past few months.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY WILL DISCUSS THE QUESTION OF CHURCH UNION

Gathering of Presbyterian Body Opens in This City on Wednesday Evening.

Commencing on Wednesday next, and continuing for a week, and possibly eight days, London is to be honored with the presence of one of the leading religious bodies in Canada—the Presbyterian General Assembly.

The assembly will include representatives of every presbytery in Canada, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from the home and foreign mission fields, and from the several religious institutions under the control of the church in Canada, and among these delegates will be the intellectual giants of the church.

Over ten years have passed since the last General Assembly met in this city. The meetings were then attended by about four hundred clergymen and laymen, and the same number is expected to be here on Wednesday evening or the following morning.

The General Assembly has a great deal of important business to transact, and this fact makes it possible that the sessions will exceed a week. On Wednesday evening the retiring moderator, Rev. Dr. Armstrong, of Ottawa, will deliver his sermon, and his successor will be appointed, as well as the other officers for the ensuing year. There is the usual amount of interest shown in the election of the presiding officer for the great body. To be chosen moderator of the assembly is an exceptional honor, and it falls to the lot of but a very small percentage of the clergy to secure it. A number of names are prominently mentioned in connection with the position, among them being those of Rev. Dr. Falconer, of Pictou, N. S.; Rev. Dr. Somerville, of Owen Sound; Rev. Dr. Torrance, of Peterboro; and Rev. Dr. Duval, of Winnipeg. It is said that Rev. Dr. Falconer is the most likely candidate.

Important Position Vacant.

Another important appointment to be made on Wednesday evening is that of treasurer. The position was rendered vacant during the past year by the death of Rev. Dr. Warden, of Toronto, since which event the duties have been performed by Dr. Warden's son, Mr. Alexander Warden, of Toronto. There is said to be a number of aspirants for the place. The present clerk of the assembly is Rev. Robert Campbell, B. D., of St. Gabriel's Church, Montreal.

That ever-absorbing topic among church workers—church union—is possibly the most interesting question to come before the assembly, and it will in all probability create a very lively discussion. However, it is not at all likely that the assembly will take a final stand on the matter.

Then there are various matters to come up from the many courts of the church throughout Canada, but none of these will arouse the same interest as church union.

Three Sessions Daily.

Meetings are to be held morning, afternoon and evening. The morning and afternoon meetings are to be given over almost entirely to business matters, while in the evening matters of public interest are to be considered. These will include the work in home and foreign fields, and the meetings will be addressed by missionaries of the church from various fields of labor and will be full of interest. Reports of the various educational institutions, together with a report on French evangelization, are also to be submitted.

The sessions are to be held in the First Church, corner of Park and Dufferin avenues. Everything is now in readiness for the assembly. One of the biggest tasks in connection with the gathering was the providing of billets for the four hundred visitors. This work was in the hands of a committee, of which Mr. W. C. Allen was chairman, and it has been successfully carried out, accommodation having been secured for all who may come.

Union School Service.

The various committee chairmen were as follows: Finance, George A. Somerville; printing, C. R. Somerville; entertainment, George M. Reid; reception, Rev. J. G. Stuart; church arrangements, John Cameron; pulpit supply, Rev. Dr. Ross.

On Sunday afternoon next the assembly communion service will be held in the First Church, and at the same time a union Sunday school service, to be addressed by missionaries, will be held in St. Andrew's.

They will live in Thamesford.

THIEVES FOUGHT WITH WATCHMAN

Caught in Act of Stealing, They Beat Barrel Works Employe and Escape.

William Mitchell, who resides at the corner of Simcoe and Rectory streets, and who is employed by the London and Petrolea Barrel Company, had a rough and tumble fight with a couple of thieves on Friday night which he will not soon forget.

For some time past, the Barrel Company has been missing much valuable timber, and last week Ald. Forristal, owner and manager of the concern, decided to place a couple of men on watch at nights.

These men were Mitchell and Ben Leech. Each took up a position in different parts of the company's yards and waited for the thieves to put in an appearance.

They saw no one, however, until Friday night, when Mitchell, who was in the south yard, saw a man carrying away a load of headings in his arms. These headings are very valuable, and as they have been stolen in great quantities, the loss to the company has been considerable.

Mitchell followed the man cautiously, and suddenly springing toward him, seized hold of his arm.

The stranger at once gave Mitchell a fight. Over and over the two men rolled in the darkness, the man muttering and shouting in a foreign tongue.

Mitchell at last got his man on the ground, and he shouted for Leech to come and help him. He heard a man approaching and thought it was Leech, but he was suddenly rendered almost unconscious by a blow with a heavy piece of oak. He struggled manfully and held on to his prisoner, but the two men, both of whom spoke in a tongue he did not understand, were too much for him, and they broke away and ran.

When Mitchell regained his feet he was bleeding from a wound on the head, and his vest was gashed by a knife which one of the foreigners had pulled on him.

Mr. Leech was in the north yard all the while, but was too far away to hear the struggle.

Ald. Forristal has laid the facts before the chief of police, and an attempt to locate the thieves will be made. Armed watchmen will also be kept on the premises of the London and Petrolea Barrel Company until further notice.

OUTING ENDED BADLY

Couple Thrown from Rig, and Had to Walk Rest of Journey.

A bartender at a local hotel and a young woman were returning from a day's outing in the country last evening, when they met with an accident. They were driving south on Richmond street, and just as they had crossed the city limits the horse became frightened and made a very short turn, upsetting the rig, and throwing the occupants out. Fortunately the horse, in turning, threw itself, and was unable to gain its feet before several men, who happened to be near, seized it and righted the rig. The young man's nerves received such a shock that it was not considered advisable to allow him to drive the horse any further, so the couple had to finish the day's outing on foot. The horse gave evidence of having been abused. It was turned over to the owner, a local liveryman.

PREPARING FOR CAMP

The Army Service Corps Is Busy on Carling's Heights.

Preparations for the militia camp which commences tomorrow on Carling's Heights are being rapidly completed. A detachment of the Guelph Army Service Corps arrived in the city on Saturday afternoon, and after pitching their tent, got to work fixing up temporary sheds, storing provisions, and getting everything in readiness. They have laid out the grounds, marking off the roadways and placing signs for the guidance of the public. The cooking contrivances are being erected, and by the time the men come to camp tomorrow everything will be in tip-top order.

Precautions will be taken this time to prevent the civilians from wandering amongst the tents, as they, by so doing, cause a lot of confusion, and interfere with the discipline of the camp.

The quartermaster-sergeant's staff is expected to arrive today, and will superintend the storing of provisions, and see that the comfort of the soldiers is provided for in every way possible.

THEY MADE IT GO

Alderman Gillean and City Clerk Did Fine Work at Reception.

Chairman Gillean, of the committee which arranged the reception to the Governor-General, is being congratulated on all sides today for the great success of the reception. Certainly the alderman covered himself with glory, and in the opinion of Hon. Mr. Hyman, Mayor Judd and others, he was the right man in the right place Saturday.

City Clerk Baker is given great credit for the work he put in, both the mayor and Chairman Gillean declaring that to the clerk belongs no small share of the credit for the general success of the affair.

Today the cost is being counted at the city hall. It will take in the neighborhood of $400 to pay the bills. It cost over $100 for the fourteen carriages at $1 an hour, and the address cost another $30.

During the drive Saturday afternoon, a lad followed the carriage in which Lady Sybil was seated for several blocks. Lady Sybil called the lad her boy, and endeavored to shake hands with him as he ran along. The little fellow had almost as great staying qualities as Sherring, and he kept pace with the procession for fully a mile.

ALLEGED TO BE STOLEN

A Large Quantity of Silk in Prisoner Greenbaum's Trunk.

The baggage belonging to Jacob Greenbaum, who was arrested at Detroit on Friday, and who appeared in the dock at the police court this morning on a charge of stealing from R. C. Struthers & Co., was examined today, and an expert described the goods as follows: One roll of gray taffeta silk (which has been identified as the silk stolen from R. C. Struthers & Co.), and eight other rolls of silk, ranging from 50 to 90 yards each, including one roll of taffeta olive green silk, one roll of blue and green shot silk, one roll of peau de sole black silk, one role of taffeta black silk, one roll gros-grain black silk, one roll tamaline black silk, one roll of navy blue taffeta, and one roll of satin de lyon black silk.

FIRE AT OLD LAKDMARK

White Ox Inn Threatened With Destruction This Morning.

One of London's oldest landmarks, the White Ox Inn, had a narrow escape from being destroyed by fire this morning.

At 10:48 two fire companies were called to the old hotel, which is situated on the Hamilton road, just this side of the city limits.

The firemen found the entire rear portion to be in flames, and it required a vigorous fight to subdue the blaze. Three lines of hose were laid, and they were kept busy until noon.

What the loss will be, could not be learned, but it will be considerable. The building was occupied by the owner, Mr. Chris. Butterworth, who is insured, and a Mrs. Campbell, who carried no insurance.

An overheated stove pipe is blamed for the blaze.

Many years ago before steam railways entered London, the White Ox Inn was a headquarters for the stages which plied the Hamilton road, then the main artery to the east in and out of London.

In its glory it was the pride of "Orange John" Wilson, well known to the older generation of Londoners.

For many years the inn has been used simply as a residence, but it is only a few years ago that the swinging sign with the picture of a white ox, was removed.

BUT ISAAC CAME BACK

Man Wanted on Assault Charge Is at Last Arrested.

Isaac Groat appeared in the dock at the police court this morning, on a charge of assaulting J. Anderson, and striking him with some sharp instrument, which caused bodily harm.

Groat pleaded not guilty to the charge of striking Anderson with an instrument, but did not deny the charge of assault.

The accused is a brother of William Groat, who appeared some time ago on the same charge, and was acquitted. At the time of trial, Isaac Groat, who was wanted on the same charge as his brother, could not be found, as he had left town. He came back the other day and was locked up.

As all the witnesses required were not present this morning, the case was adjourned until tomorrow.

Alexander Jackson, who was found sleeping in Victoria Park on Saturday afternoon, and who, when ordered to move on by the policeman, became quite disorderly, and would not give any account of himself, appeared in the dock charged with being drunk and disorderly, and was fined $10 or 21 days.

Samuel Brown was charged with being drunk and disorderly, and was fined $3 or 10 days.

One drunk, a first-timer, was discharged.

DOUBLE HEADER WRECKED

Freight Jumps Track and Thirteen Cars Smashed to Pieces.

Fergus, June 4.—At 2 a.m. a double-header southbound freight with 28 cars left the track one mile north of here. Both engines are badly wrecked, and thirteen cars heavily loaded are smashed into pieces. Engineers Jeffrey and Munro and Fireman Muirhead, together with a brakeman, all of Palmerston, were slightly injured, but it is expected they will be around in a few days. Traffic through is stopped, but passengers are transferred. It is hoped to have the track cleared by night.

STOCK MARKETS.

H. C. Becher, stockbroker, next Free Press building, received the following by private wire fgrom Bartlett, Frazier & Carrington today:

New York, June 4—Noon.—In spite of the fact that the London market was closed, prices on our exchange showed moderate advances at the opening, and the whole market had a decidedly good undertone. Bull tips were freely circulated on St. Paul and Union Pacific, and it is expected that the details of the St. Paul financing plant for the extension to the Pacific coast will be published during the present month, and will contain valuable privileges for its present holders. In the early dealings Copper was rather weak, owing to rumors circulated that the annual report to be published today would not show more than 7 per cent earned upon the stock. What was really shown in the statement was the amount of money drawn from the constituent companies for the dividends of the parent company, and did not show the large amounts of cash left in the hands of the constituent companies. Sentiment on the floor is more hopeful than it was last week, and the impression prevails that there has been an improvement in the character of the buying. Sales to noon were 355,000 shares.
