R. Cochran received the following to-day from Counselman & Day of Chicago: Markets in the speculative crowds to-day were affected almost wholly by local trading. Early cables were tame for wheat, but corn was quoted ½c higher. Wheat was raided from the start, causing ½c decline, after which there was a gradual recovery of 9½c, mainly caused by liberal visible decrease and outward movement of wheat from store. Corn was active, early decline caused by outside selling and hammering by shorts. Strong parties, however, were steady buyers. Market was narrow. We should expect a 3c to 5c break in corn, with 500 cars daily for three days, but weather westward promises continued rain and consequently light loadings in the country. Provisions were dull and shade higher on firmer hog market.

Drummond & Brown received the following to-day over their private wire from Schwartz, Dupee & McCormick of Chicago: Wheat market has been very dull, with trading chiefly by local scalpers and prices fluctuating within a very narrow range. Important news has been very scarce. London, Berlin and Paris cables were lower and weak in tone. The clearances from four Atlantic ports were 202,000 bushels of wheat and 57,000 packages of flour. Towards the close of the market it was rumored that large freight engagements had been made for wheat shipments from this port, but these stories have been started so often that this had no effect. Our letters from abroad, received to-day, say that whatever effect their bad crops may have later on, the large amount of wheat afloat, which will be kept up by India for some time yet and will then be supplemented by American shipments, is likely to prevent any further advance in their markets and is more liable to produce a decline. The outlook for higher prices in American markets is for the present not flattering. All our weather crop advices to-day are of the most favorable kind. Corn has been strong and higher, although the volume of trade has not been large. Oats were dull, with but little of interest in the market. Provisions have been dull and weak, in spite of the fact that receipts hogs were smaller than estimates and prices fractionally higher. A noteworthy feature of the market was free selling of lard for foreign account. July stuff continues to come on the market, and before the end of the month seems likely to produce a heavy pressure. The close of the market was weak.

J. J. Dixon & Co. received the following to-day over their private wire from Henry Allen & Co. of New York: Manipulation of a pretty desperate character was resorted to by bull speculators to-day. They rigged the London market in every active stock, and by bidding up quotations on the other side a point or so tried to hold quotations here up on the sentiment thus manufactured. There has been no pressure to sell from anybody to-day, disbelievers in the market holding aloof, waiting apparently to see how far the washing up process would be continued. When the manipulation was not active the ticker stood still. Even with all their industry, however, the bull contingent met with some obstacles of a pretty pronounced sort. Such, for instance, as treason among their own followers, for there are suspicions that one or two imported leaders in some big pools have been selling out upon their followers. Among bankers there is a very blue feeling touching the future of the money market; from every source come agreeing statements that nothing like a bond market is to be found anywhere. It is one of the gravest features of the present situation that such a company as the L. & N. has had a loan fall upon its hands, but the L. & N. is not lonesome. Every company with bonds to sell is in the same shaky boat. There is no perceptible short interest in what by courtesy is still called the stock market.

Drummond & Brown received the following to-day over their private wire from Lamontagne, Clarke & Co., New York: Market opened this morning ⅛ to 1 per cent. above Saturday's closing with buying orders by London in L.N. and St. Paul. The principal feature in stock market again was Chicago Gas, which opened ⅛ p.c. above Saturday's close and advanced 2 cent to 55¼ by heavy buying by traders and covering by shorts. Atchison also advanced by London's buying. We are inclined to think the market has advanced only temporarily, there yet seems to be a bearish undertone and it will take some time before bulls are again finally on top. It is doubtful if any gold will go out to-morrow. We still believe the market is a sale on all rallies and a purchase on all weak spots. Don't load up too heavily for time being.

The Financial Situation.

Henry Clewes of New York in his Weekly Financial Review says: Wall-street has been somewhat disappointed during the past week at the non-cessation of the exports of gold. Nearly $7,000,000 of specie has been sent to Europe within the six days, in the way of regular exchange transactions; which shows that there is still outstanding a foreign balance against us, and that European bankers prefer to have it settled in cash rather than to allow it remain here earning interest. The amount of gold already received from the United States would, under ordinary circumstances, amount to a gift which would induce a quick reflux of a good portion of that supply. But the circumstances at present affecting European finance are not "ordinary" ones. To say nothing of the lingering after-effects of the South-American disasters—which still remain a serious element of uncertainty—the relations of Russia to the Continental and London money markets constitute a grave source of disturbance. The question is not so much whether that country is either able or likely to call for more gold; for it seems to be generally conceded that Russia has already withdrawn nearly all her funds from foreign depositories; the point of anxiety is as to whether the Czar's Government will disburse the money in redemption of matured loans, or will it allow the loans to run and keep the gold.

Miscellaneous.

Receipts wheat in Duluth 47,000 bushels, shipments 185,000, against 81,000 and 77,000 Saturday.

Receipts wheat in Detroit 18,000 bushels, against receipts 19,000 and shipments 2000 Saturday.
