THE DOUBLE TEAM RECORD.

It Was Not Broken by Justina and Belle Hamlin at Point Breeze.

[From The Philadelphia Record.]

There seems to be little doubt that the record of 2.15¼ taken by C. J. Hamlin's double team, Belle Hamlin and Justina, at the recent Grand Circuit meeting of the Philadelphia Driving Park Association was a gift of the judges. The pair did not break the double-team record of 2.15¼, held by Neta Medium and Maxey Cobb, nor did they equal the performance of Maud S. and Aldine—2.15¼ to top wagon with W. H. Vanderbilt driving. Mr. Hamlin's performance was a good one and deserving of praise, but the mile was not trotted in 2.15¼. The judges were probably not guilty of intentionally hanging out the wrong time, but they allowed the veteran Buffalo tarfman to get away with a very cleverly worked trick.

It is usual in exhibitions and trials against time for the driver to express his readiness for the word by nodding as he scores up. If the driver gives no sign the starting judge takes it for granted that he does not want to go and will score up again for the word. Mr. Hamlin scored up at such a moderate gait that few thought he would ask for the word, but when nearly to the wire he suddenly started up his team and nodded for the word when right at the wire. The judges were apparently taken by suprise, for the team was nearly a length past the wire when Mr. Wenderoth shouted "Go!" presumably starting his watch at the same time. The watches should have been started as soon as the horses' noses were under the wire.

Knowing that the team was to be sent to beat the record, almost every horseman in the crowd held his watch on them, but no one who was near the wire seems to have made the time as fast as that hung out by the judges. William Van Osten, the well-known starting judge, sat with the reporters directly over the judges, and he made the time 2.16½—just one second slower than the judges. Mr. Van Osten even went so far as to call out the time of the quarters for the reporters. Every man in the grand stand opposite the wire timed the performance, and no one made it faster than 2.16. The majority made it 2.16½, and the others found their watches stopped at 2.16¼. Frank Bower made it 2.16¾. Mr. Johnson, of the firm of Bedell & Johnson, Jersey City, N.J., who owns Elmo and Major Ulrich, made it 2.16¾. So did John E. Turner, Jacob T. Bunting, the Market-street merchant; C. A. McCully, Frank Gallagher, Robert Young, and James B. Green made it 2.16¾. Frank Herdic, Jack Feek, Frank Burridge, owner of Frank T. and Daniel Sprague, made it 2.16. Edward Lyster, George L. De Wael, James G. Weldon, Mr. Early, Adam Fuch and George E. McCracken, secretary of the Pittsburg track, timed the mares, and none made it faster than 2.16. Many of these gentlemen also held their watches on other events earlier in the day, and seldom varied a quarter of a second from the time hung out by the judges.

Nelson's Great Performance.

TERRE HAUTE, Oct. 9.—On the track here to-day the Maine stallion Nelson beat Axtell's time of 2.12 by ¾ secs. The time by quarters was 32, 1.04¾, 1.36¼, 1.11¼.

A MILE UNDER A MINUTE.

Wonderful Indian Foot Race in Wisconsin in 1844.

[From The Milwaukee Sentinel.]

"Did you ever hear of the most remarkable race ever run in Wisconsin, or anywhere else for that matter?" asked an old-timer the other day. "No? Well, I will tell you about it, for I saw it myself. In the summer of 1844, with my uncle I was making a business trip to what is now the Oneida Reservation. A St. Louis sportsman, Henry Stanton, was stopping there at the time, having been taken sick while on a hunting trip, and the Indians were taking care of him. Stanton one day witnessed a fast race by some of the young bucks, and an idea struck him. It afterwards struck others to their sorrow. He had the bucks try their speed, and soon was sending letters to his friends east and south. They were confidential letters, but the answers promised him all the money he needed. He then sent out notices to the sporting fraternity that on a certain day of that summer (1844) he would wager his pile that a foot race of ten miles could be made in ten minutes. It seemed preposterous. But few locomotives had ever made such time.

"Stanton, however, knew what he was about. With a trusted buck, 'Peep-o-Day,' he engaged 10 Indians and put them on the trail, on a ten-mile straight stretch and return, the Indians to relieve each other at the end of each mile. He had them practice in secret at night. One day 'Peep-o-Day' informed Stanton that a stranger had offered him a bribe to let him see a trial race. 'All right,' said Stanton, 'take his money and let him see it.' But Stanton had his men make poor time, and thus deceived the briber.

"The day of the race arrived, and with it about fifty of the sports of St. Louis, New York and other cities. The betting ran high, with odds against the feat being accomplished. Among the party was a young man named Desmoyers, from Detroit, on his way to Green Bay with $60,000 in money and accepted paper to pay debts and contract for furs. The race was duly opened, the first young buck making his mile in sixty-four seconds; just four seconds short. The next young buck was about to start when a chief—'One-Eye-Gone'—grasped him in his arms and said he was his son and the 'run would kill him.' Stanton hastily explained that in their attire, with cloths like circus riders and a belt tightly strapped over their stomachs, no harm could be done them. But time was wasted in the controversy, and the young buck reached the stand with Stanton 30 seconds behind.

"The bettors against Stanton saw his crowd now began to laugh and jeer, and freely offered 10 to 1. Stanton and his friends looked sad and dejected enough. But they took all the bets offered just the same, and young Desmoyers lost his head and put up $40,000 of his money against the making of the race on time. It is said some $200,000 changed hands there and then, but I don't know about that. The sum is probably exaggerated, but it was large enough. The race went on. The third buck made his mile in fifty seconds, reducing the losses to twenty seconds. This was kept about the same until the ninth buck stepped to the front with a total gain of five seconds. The last buck must make up the 15 seconds now lacking. He was a tall, gaunt, wiry Indian and seemed to be all legs. The bettors against Stanton began to waver, and now calls for even bets and even odds by Stanton and his friends failed to bring a response. The buck started on time. And such strides! From six to eight feet each and he went like a whirlwind let loose. He must make his mile in 45 seconds or all was lost. It was an exciting moment. But the buck got there with both feet and had just two seconds to spare. There was no great excitement over the result. The gamblers present were accustomed to winning and losing large amounts. One St. Louis man, however, did make a remark about a 'put-up job' and even drew a derringer and demanded his money returned. Stanton raised his arm and the 50 or more bucks who stood around to witness the race dropped their long blankets and stood calmly leaning on ugly-looking guns. That settled it. The race was over. The young racing bucks spent money freely for a while, as did also the chief who interfered with the race. Young Desmoyers was never seen again, either in Green Bay or Detroit. It was said he went south to redeem his lost thousands. It was the most remarkable foot race ever held in the world, and were the newspapers of that day what they are now columns upon columns of its report would have followed. As it is, this is, I believe, the first time it has been in print."

ANTIPODEAN AQUATICS.

Neil Matterson Wins a Race—Bubear Beaten—A Close Contest.

Matterson defeated Stephenson over the Parramatta course August 18 last for a stake of £200, Matterson was a strong favorite, the odds being 3 to 1 on him. His registered weight in the morning was 11st Stephenson showed his weight to be 11st. 8lb., or 8lb. heavier than Matterson. He rowed a far better race than was anticipated, and he proved he was game enough, but his condition was not as good as Matterson's. When the sculls dipped Matterson had slightly the best of it and he soon opened out. The contests was very lively on the way to Ryde, but Stephenson began to spoil whatever chance he possessed by taking a bad course. At Uhr's Point Matterson had gone a length ahead, the time, 1min. 53sec., being pretty fair. On the way to the mile post Stephenson was steering a bad course, and when the men shot past the beacon Matterson was about three lengths ahead, the watch showing 5min. 58 sec. Stephenson was evidently "a game one," for he tried again and again to gain on Matterson, but it was useless, as Matterson was equal to every try. The race was a splendid one. Stephenson never gave it up until he reached the Sydney Rowing Club's branch wharf. Matterson kept going and finally won a good race in 20 min. 58 sec.

At Melbourne on the same date a professional sculling race took place between J. H. Kerr and George Bubear, the ex-English champion, on the Saltwater River, Kerr winning easily.

On the following day Couche and Roberts rowed on the Parramatta course for £100 a side. Roberts was trained by Stanbury, was favorite in betting at 6 to 4 on. Couche got the start, but Roberts soon forged to the front, being two seconds ahead at the mile. Soon Couche crawled up even. When the pair got level Couche had barely room to pass and they touched. Both men immediately claimed the foul. They however soon got going again, and nearing One Man Wharf Couche got in front and was soon a length ahead. Roberts tried to reverse the order of things, but to no avail and Couche won by a length and a half in 21 mins.

FOOTBALL AT UPPER CANADA.

A Closely Contested Rugby Game Favors the Canadians.

Canadians: 5, try Langtry (4) rouge.
Upper Canada: 4, try Snetsinger (4).

A lively Rugby football match took place yesterday afternoon on Upper Canada grounds, between the college fifteen and the Canadians, which resulted in a draw in favor of the Canadians. There was a fair crowd present as a close contest was expected. U.C.C. played Morrice, their new back, who did fairly well.

Ireland kicked off and Gilmore returned well, the College forwards rushing them in rare style. Snetsinger secured a try thus early, which was not converted to a goal. The Canadians made a rush just before half time and secured a try and Parker missed the kick. A subsequent rush by the nimble Kanuck forwards again sent the leather over the College line and Morrice was compelled to rouge.

The game was fast and furious in the second half and some rough play was witnessed. An ugly crack on the nose did not prevent McFarlane from finishing the game. For the Canadians Parker, Morton, Wragge and Laidlaw played well, while Gilmour, McFarlane, Primrose and the McMurrichs played well for the college. The teams were:

Canadians: Back, Laing; halves, Gale, G. Parker; quarter, Watson; wings, Laidlaw, Wragge, Wadsworth, Armstrong, Ireland (capt.); forwards, Hardy, Meek, Walbridge, Montgomery, Langtry.

Upper Canada: Back, Morrice; halves, Bryce, McMurrich, Gilmore, Hargraft; quarter, McFarlane; wings, Mitchell, Mill (capt.), McKay, A., Mackenzie; forward, McMurrich, J., Primrose, Flintoff, Eby, McIntosh, Snetsinger.

Referee, Dr. Hugh Smith; held captains, Mr. Burritt, Dr. Gordon.

Marlboros Will Play at the College.

The protest lodged by the St. Michael Club against the ruling of the referee in last Saturday's game against the Scots was disposed of last night at the committee meeting of the Toronto Football League. Mr. Peat occupied the chair and ruled that according to the constitution the protest would have to fall through. The Marlboros, on receiving a guarantee of fair play from the St. Michael College representative (Mr. Hayes), consented to play their game as scheduled.

The playing the first of the final ties for the championship of the Western Football Association was next brought up and the club representatives were unanimous in favor of the first game taking place in the west, provided the W. F. A. is agreeable.

The Toronto Rugby Team.

There was a big practice of Toronto Rugby players on the cricket grounds yesterday afternoon. The first fifteen fought nobly against 22 of the second team. All the men were out. The Match Committee had considerable difficulty in finally selecting the fifteen which is:

Bob Teadley will manage the Pittsburg Players' League team next season, says The Times of that city.

A match trot for a $400 stake took place yesterday at St. Catharines between Gen. Howard and Guy Allan, the latter won by taking the third, fourth and fifth heats. Best time 2.49, made in fourth heat.

Since the McDowall tournament in August shooting at artificial birds has been quiet here, but the Wide-awake Gun Club at Ayr are giving a two days' tournament, commencing to-day, in which a number of our local marksmen will participate.

If it were not for the fact that a good lunch and liquids of fair quality can be obtained at Morris Park at moderate rates, the track would be entirely deserted on race days except by employes.—N.Y. Sporting World.

This is how The New York Times disposes of the present unsatisfactory condition of baseball affairs. It says an understanding has been arrived at for next season and that "there will be only two leading baseball organizations in the field—the National League and the American Association. The Players' League will be a thing of the past. There will be no conflicting dates or between clubs and the leaders of the present Players' League will be stockholders in both the National League and the American Association. Both organizations will be composed of the very best players in the baseball arena, the league having first choice, for the reason that they charge 50 cents admission and pay the largest salaries. The American Association clubs will continue to play in cities that have been accustomed to 25 cent ball. There will be but eight clubs in each organization, and at the close of their respective championship seasons a world's championship series will be played as heretofore."

Britannia needs no bulwark,
No towers along the steep;
Her march is on the mountain waves,
Her home is on the deep.

While the supremacy of Britannia on the seas is recognized all the world over, "Diamond Dyes" reign supreme over all other makes, and the ladies who acknowledge their superiority and who testify in their favor are legion. "Diamond Dyes" are a strong bulwark to every household where domestic dyeing is done. They are a sure defence against loss of material, time and labor, and are the only dyes that can do effective work, giving every guarantee of great durability and permanency of color. Ladies when buying dyes, see that each package is marked "Diamond Dyes."

From Police Blotters.

The police began their annual revolver competition in Garrison Common yesterday afternoon.

John Hobbs, St. Clarens-avenue, was arrested on a warrant last night charging him with aggravated assault on William H. Smith.

John McCullough, a sailor on board the schooner Island Beauty, was arrested yesterday for alleged assault on the mate, James E. Young.

Samuel Alleh, a Turkish peddler, is held at headquarters charged with the larceny of $3.70 from Esther Kanakfosky, 161 York-street.

Walter Cooper, the young man arrested here charged with horse stealing in Tara, has been sent to the Central Prison for 22 months.

The police yesterday found the badly decomposed body of a female child in the Bay at the foot of Lorne-street. It was taken to the morgue and Dr. Powell has not yet decided on an inquest.

The Game Is in Danger.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 9.—John M. Ward to-day said: "I observe that President Day and other National League men talk for a compromise just as our people have been doing for some time. The League certainly cannot afford to neglect an opportunity to meet us and carry out this plan, and it would certainly not be a backdown on their part to do so.

"Of course, I'll admit that last spring it was their place to refuse all offers of this kind, for they thought they had us beaten. But now it's different—the game is in danger, I'll admit."

"What brought about this state of affairs?" was asked.

"Well, this fight has disgusted many patrons. You will notice it everywhere, and if the League helps on its cause, why, the fight will still go on."

Detroit the Champions.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The first baseball championship of the Amateur Athletic Union was decided here yesterday, the Detroit Athletic Club defeating the New Jersey Athletic Club in the fifth and deciding the contest. The score was:

This is how The New York Times disposes of the present unsatisfactory condition of baseball affairs. It says an understanding has been arrived at for next season and that "there will be only two leading baseball organizations in the field—the National League and the American Association. The Players' League will be a thing of the past. There will be no conflicting dates or between clubs and the leaders of the present Players' League will be stockholders in both the National League and the American Association. Both organizations will be composed of the very best players in the baseball arena, the league having first choice, for the reason that they charge 50 cents admission and pay the largest salaries. The American Association clubs will continue to play in cities that have been accustomed to 25 cent ball. There will be but eight clubs in each organization, and at the close of their respective championship seasons a world's championship series will be played as heretofore."

Britannia needs no bulwark,
No towers along the steep;
Her march is on the mountain waves,
Her home is on the deep.

While the supremacy of Britannia on the seas is recognized all the world over, "Diamond Dyes" reign supreme over all other makes, and the ladies who acknowledge their superiority and who testify in their favor are legion. "Diamond Dyes" are a strong bulwark to every household where domestic dyeing is done. They are a sure defence against loss of material, time and labor, and are the only dyes that can do effective work, giving every guarantee of great durability and permanency of color. Ladies when buying dyes, see that each package is marked "Diamond Dyes."

From Police Blotters.

The police began their annual revolver competition in Garrison Common yesterday afternoon.

John Hobbs, St. Clarens-avenue, was arrested on a warrant last night charging him with aggravated assault on William H. Smith.

John McCullough, a sailor on board the schooner Island Beauty, was arrested yesterday for alleged assault on the mate, James E. Young.

Samuel Alleh, a Turkish peddler, is held at headquarters charged with the larceny of $3.70 from Esther Kanakfosky, 161 York-street.

Walter Cooper, the young man arrested here charged with horse stealing in Tara, has been sent to the Central Prison for 22 months.

The police yesterday found the badly decomposed body of a female child in the Bay at the foot of Lorne-street. It was taken to the morgue and Dr. Powell has not yet decided on an inquest.

ELECTRICITY

DR. W. H. GRAHAM'S

Medical Institute,

198 KING-STREET WEST

Has procured the most complete Electrical Apparatus for treatment by Faradic or Galvanic Electricity ever used in Canada.

This treatment has been indiscriminately used by ignorant persons, without regard to system, and consequently without success.

Faradicism is useful only as a tonic or stimulant to the system and in general debility, while Galvanism is the true system employed in medicine, and should not be confounded with any form of belt or attachments, which are perfectly useless, it being impossible to generate or apply electricity in this way.

Galvanism is most usefully employed in Catarrh, Piles, all Facial Blemishes as Birth Marks, etc., Rheumatism, Moles, Warts, Superfluous Hair, Paralysis, Ulcers, Tumors, Stricture, all Skin Diseases, Nervous Diseases, and all diseases of a private character in both sexes.

Where indicated Electrical and Medicated Baths will be given, it being possible to give electrical and vapor baths at the same time, or electrical and medicated, the electricity facilitating the absorption of the medicine and thus increasing its beneficial results.

PROTECTION

RUN MAD

THAT M'KINLEY BILL

The climax of chastisement to the United States will come from their own national folly. The McKinley Bill is a disgrace to the intelligence of this continent. The London Times compares it to the Berlin and Milan decrees of Napoleon. The ambition of that despot was his ruin, so likewise will suicidal legislation prove the ruin of the United States. Chicago is to be the theatre of a world's fair. What a farce in the light and operation of the McKinley Bill! The world and civilization will ignore such a travesty. How can it be otherwise? A world's fair in a country so protected as the United States can only partake of the character of a miserable fake. By absurd legislation the people are made to pose as fools unconsciously. Ruling that vast country there is not a statesman in power that would pass muster in a class of school boys. The people are showing themselves unworthy of their country and are courting destruction in the shape of explosion. Never was a more sinister piece of legislation concocted than the McKinley Bill. It has become law. Not only that, it presupposes further measures of extremes. To effectually meet such neighborly hostility down should go Canadian tariff walls against Britain. Let Canada be free trade with Britain. Let the British Empire be an empire of free trade. It is perfectly idle to talk of Imperial Federation when our present tariff discriminates in favor of the United States. Britain has done her part in the premises. The attitude of Canada is false to Britain, and while that obtains all talk of Imperial Federation on the part of Canada is sheer blatherskite. Free trade with Britain is an indispensable prerequisite to Imperial Federation. Of Britain's enormous trade Canada only represents 2 per cent., and all the colonies put together only 26 per cent.—74 per cent. then of British trade is with foreign countries. These are simple facts which no sentimental twaddle can cover up. Free trade has made Britain wealthy to a degree which no other nation or empire has ever approached. Free trade has been the salvation of Britain, and through British prosperity Canada has been enabled to develop her resources. If free trade has been a blessing to Britain it cannot prove other than a blessing to Canada. Protection is culminating in the shape of a curse. The essential element of trade restriction or protection is fraud. It must effectually kill itself. Rope and time are all that it needs. The McKinley Bill is a kind of final struggle to augment the national spoils of robbery. Every intelligent and honest American citizen must condemn it and exclaim, Down with the McKinley Bill!
