U. S. BAR BANQUETS LORD READING

Chief Justice Rugg Says He Is Returning to Take Up as Important a Mission.

EARL READING'S REPLY

Says It Is Duty of Both Nations to See International Law Is Safeguarded.

New York, April 5.—Dignitaries of the bar, from every Atlantic coast state, were present at a dinner given by the Bar Association of New York here tonight to the Earl of Reading, British ambassador to the United States, who will soon sail for home.

John G. Milburn, president of the association, presided. There were only three speakers—Elihu Root, who spoke on behalf of the American bar; Chief Justice Arthur Prentice Rugg, of the supreme court of Massachusetts, who spoke on behalf of the judiciary, and Lord Reading.

Chief Justice Rugg, in bidding Lord Reading godspeed on behalf of the American judiciary, asserted that in returning to England to don the ermine, he was returning to a work as important as the exacting diplomatic mission "whose unparalleled exigency for the first time in history caused a lord chief justice temporarily to lay aside the ermine."

Lawyers' Responsibilities.

"The close of the great war," he said, "leaves courts and lawyers charged with an awful responsibility amid the shifting conditions. It is nothing less than the duty of administering justice so that it may command the respect of the average citizen. The administration of justice must be so pure and perfect that all right-minded citizens shall yield assent to its righteousness.

"These endowments and more we have every reason to believe that you, lord chief justice, possess in ample measure."

Mr. Root discussed the league of nations proposal, assuring the Earl of Reading that "it is the earnest hope of the American people that in due form and by wise and suitable provisions, the country which you represent and our own may unite for effectual and perpetual organization to preserve the peace of the world for all the centuries to come."

The same sense of loyalty, he said, that kept American and British soldiers "side by side, charging against death, must keep our countries side by side, to make certain the fruits of their victories."

Must Be the Last War.

When the Earl of Reading rose to speak, he was given an ovation that lasted several minutes and was acclaimed as the only honorary member of the bar of New York.

He was cheered again when he declared early in his address he was "assured that the feeling in America toward Great Britain is far better since the war than before."

Both the U. S. and Great Britain, he declared, went to war to "vindicate the public law of the world," and it was the duty of both countries to see to it that international law is properly safeguarded in the future.

"Thruout the war," he declared, "there was always one thought in all our minds—that this war must be the last war that shall take place."

Speaking unofficially, the lord chief justice discussed the league of nations plan which he indicated he was confident would be adopted.

"I have no doubt," he said, "that a number of amendments will be made in the covenant. Innumerable discussions appear to have taken place. That is not unnatural. The subject is a difficult one, as all those well know who have ever attempted to change a phrase or to introduce one.

"Ambiguities will doubtless be removed, and I can well imagine that further consideration by the light of comment and criticism has led to alteration in the phraseology hitherto adopted. The alteration may or may not be changes of intention, but I presume they will make plain what has hitherto been matter for argument."

The dinner to the Earl of Reading was attended by nearly 1,000 members of the New York bar and by a score of diplomats, representatives of the U. S. Government and of the army and navy.

MONTREAL GRAIN MARKET.

Montreal, April 6.—The feature of the grain trade this week has been the pronounced strength in all the option markets, the free buying by short interests and the comparatively light offerings, consequently prices for all lines of grain scored further good advances, and all deliveries of corn scored new high records on the crop. Car lots of No. 3 Canadian western barley were quoted at $1.20, No. 4 C.W. at $1.18, extra No. 3 Ontario at $1.21, No. 3 at $1.20, sample grades at $1.10; No. 2 Canadian western oats at 85½c, No. 3 C.W. at 81½c, extra No. 1 feed at 81½c, No. 2 feed at 76½c, and No. 3 Ontario white at 79c per bushel ex-store.

Uneasy feeling has developed in the market for flour, and considerable cutting in prices is reported indirectly, but no actual change has been announced.

A very firm feeling prevails in the mill feed at the recent advance in prices recorded.

The feature of the local egg situation this week was the strength which developed in the market in the early part of it, and prices scored an advance of 2c per dozen.

A firm feeling has prevailed in the market for potatoes thruout the week.

The feature of the local butter trade this week was the renewed strength which developed in the market, and prices for fine to finest creamery scored further advances.

MONTREAL MARKET DISTINCTLY STRONG

Chief Feature Sudden Return of Cotton Stocks—Milling Group Advances.

Montreal, April 5.—Trading in stocks on the Montreal Stock Exchange for the half-session on Saturday aggregated more than 1000 shares above the aggregate for the full day on Friday, and was relatively the most active trading of the week. The market was distinctly strong, with few price recessions, the outstanding feature being the sudden return to prominence of the cotton stocks and milling. Canadian Cottons common made a new high for the year at 78, and closed at 77, a net gain of two points, with closing bid again advanced to 77⅞. Sales amounted to 595 shares. Pennmans common came next in this group, making 92¾, a net gain of 1¾ points, with more stock wanted at that price. Transactions in this issue totaled only 225 shares. Montreal Cottons common, on the sale of a 35-share lot, advanced one point, to 66, with closing bid further advanced two points, to 68, and nothing offered under 70. Dominion Textile sold up ¼, to 110, and Converters and Wabasso sold again at 52 for the former and 70 for the latter.

The milling stocks also showed decided strength, Maple Leaf selling at 138, ex-dividend, equal to a net gain of two points. St. Lawrence added 1¼ points, at 91¼, and Ogilvie sold up to 202 in broken lots, against a previous last sale at 200, and closing bid was advanced to 203, with 206 asked. Sixty shares of Lake of the Woods sold up two points, to 160, with closing bid advanced a further 1½ points, to 161½, and no offerings under 163.

The war loans were practically featureless. The general bond list was irregular, with the strength of Riordon Paper sixes a feature. That issue sold up 2½ per cent., at 96¾. Tram debentures added one per cent., at 75, and Quebec Railway fives lost a fraction, at 70½.

Total business for the day with comparisons for the corresponding day a year ago:

	1919.	1918.
Shares	3,714	2,832
Shares, unlisted	295	110
Bonds	$116,400	$13,950

Farming Outlook in Alberta Reported Good; Labor Scarce

Calgary, April 6.—The Calgary Herald published Saturday reports from all parts of Alberta covering moisture, seeding and labor conditions. Generally speaking, these indicate that the rain and snow of Friday were general; that there is plenty of moisture; that seeding conditions are excellent; that many places report farming conditions ideal and that labor is comparatively scarce, altho good wages are offered.
