PASSION PLAY IN SEATTLE

Former St. John Lady Writes Interesting Description of Event.

25,000 PEOPLE ATTEND

Magnificent Scene and Chorus of Three Thousand Voices —Pageant of the Nations.

Mrs. A. H. McCready, whose husband is publisher of the Sackville Post, and who was formerly a resident of St. John, was a Sackville delegate to the convention of the National Council of Women, and has since been touring the Pacific province and coast. She has written a very interesting series of articles for the Post, of which the following is one that appears in this week's issue:—

On the "Princess Victoria"
Seattle to Vancouver, July 28—

This is a most delightful trip—so very restful! Very few people complained of being ill. I am told these boats are crowded every trip just as this one is today, and I do not wonder at it. One meets people from all over the land here. For instance a young woman asked me if I were not in Calgary this summer; she said she remembered me in the Hudson's Bay store. Then we spoke of the National Council, and another traveler who had been visiting her sister in Kansas, spoke of her sister belonging to the American National Council of Women. This lady belonged to Philadelphia. One party of tourists whom I noticed particularly had left Boston and reached Seattle by way of the Pacific coast and were returning to Boston through Canada.

The last night of my stay in Seattle I was privileged to enjoy "The Wayfarer," or America's Passion Play. The Stadium of the University of Washington made a fitting place for such a play. Twenty-five thousand people filled the seats, so arranged that no one need remove her hat. I shall not attempt a description of the scene, with the great searchlights of the American Navy playing over the vast human sea and lighting up the dark corners when the crowd were dispersing. I was with a very enthusiastic American woman who never failed to stand and salute the flag when it passed near us.

The leading actors were "Wayfarer" an Anglican clergyman, and "Understanding," a noted actress, both of whom had truly magnificant voices, rich and full, and floating out clearly even to the rear seats. The chorus of three thousand voices, male and female occupied seats in the centre of the stadius or rather close to the stage, from which "Wayfarer" and "Understanding" always spoke. Some members of the chorus left the floor at times to take part in the scenes enacted on the stage. The grand finale was the parade, or march past the audience. Such a magnificant scene, I have never witnessed, including United States marines and military, the Eagles in their spotless white, the Elks in their attractive uniform, the police, the Red Cross Nurses, the Camp Fire Girls, Indians and Squaws in their velvet and plush apparel embroidered gold, and all their feathers, brought especially from the Indian Reservation to take part in the pageant.

Every nation in the world had its group of men and women in that pageant. Great Britain's band was led by John Bull and Britannia. As this army marched from each side of the stage they met and passed in the centre at the rear and passed upon the stage again. One wondered how ever so large a stage could hold them but it did, with the regulars or doughboys in a single line at the rear as the remainder of the procession marched past.

The twenty-five thousand audience was asked to join in the singing of "Onward Christian Soldiers" as the procession took its place on the stage. Needless to say, the chorus sang as one voice. A familiar soprano solo was "The Holy City". Much of the music was familiar, including "Lead Kindly light" and the "Alleluia Chorus."

I shall nat attempt a description of the Bible scenes so beautifully depicted in true oriental coloring from the Babylonian Captivity to the Resurrection.

If Seattle wished, I understand this pageant may become an annual institution.

We are nearing Vancouver, and the close of a perfect day. And now my western wanderings of nearly two months must speedily come to an end. I have tried to tell my readers of the Post something of the many things I have seen and heard. There is much that might be said of this wonderful western land of ours, as well as that of our neighbors to the South. A brief stay in Vancouver another stop-over in Winnipeg and a day or so in Montreal and the continent will be crossed and I shall again be where the Tantramar breezer blow.

PITY THE POOR BOOTEGGER

To the Perils of the Law are Now Added Perplexities Regarding the Supply of Illicit "Hootch."

(Toronto Globe.)

The illicit sale of liquor in Toronto through "blind pigs" is very likely to come to a sudden stop before the arrival of winter through the operation of causes other than the efforts of the police. The generally expressed opinion in the city was that the vendors of illicit liquor have stocks on hand to last a "lifetime". But from well informed sources it is learned that this is far from the case.

One man, who is in a position to know, says that if the Exhibition rush equals that of last year all the surplus stock of liquor now providing for illicit trade in Toronto will be exhausted, and that there is no source which can be tapped for renewal of supplies.

This man, who has been taking chances with the O. T. A. since its first enactment, says that there is no system to bring in liquor by the underground route, and that at the present time there is only a mere trickle of smuggled liquor and that it is unlikely that it will ever grow greater in volume. He stated that after Exhibition he expected to have exhausted his stock, and that he intended to go out of business. Others engaged in the same illicit trade had similar intentions. After the Exhibition they expected that the sale of liquor by bootleggers would shrink to a minimum, and that within a few weeks there would be no such thing as the illicit retailing of liquor.

This man also stated that the price of liquor at "blind pigs" has gone up 100 per cent. since a few weeks after the carrying of the referendum, and he says that this reflects the growing scarcity.

DOG HIGHWAYMAN AIDS IN HOLD-UP

Black and Tan, With Sharp Barks, Notifies Masked Robbers of Approach of Victims.

(New York Times.)

Frank Feis, 26 years old of 345 East 151st Street, was escorting Miss Jennie Ganley of 480 East 137th Street to her home early yesterday after a reception, when a little black-and-tan dog ran from a vacant lot on the east side of Southern Boulevard near 143rd Street.

On seeing them about 100 feet off, the black-and-tan stopped, lifted a hind leg, dropped his tail to horizontal, aimed his nose at them like a pointer and gave two sharp yelps.

The couple was puzzled, but they proceeded toward the dog, which shifted slowly sideways to keep its nose aimed at them. When the man and woman came alongside of the black-and-tan two masked men suddenly jumped from behind a sign board in the lot, where they apparently had been using the little animal as a sort of periscope to indicate the approach of hold-up prospects.

"March into that lot. If you make a sound, I'll shoot you both," said one of the robbers who carried a revolver. They were soon about sixty feet from the sidewalk and the second robber began to search Feis. He had hardly begun when Feis saw across the vacant block a man walking briskly from the driection whence he and Miss Ganley had come. He had hopes for a minute that the robbers would become frightened and run. Both men looked nervous and watched the dog.

When the newcomer was about forty feet away, the black-and-tan began to bark savagely and make short rushes in the direction of the pedestrian. The black-and-tan was estimated by Feis to weigh about forty karats, but it had a high-pitched snarl which caused the newcomer to bound backward at the first note. When it jumped up on its hind legs, showed its teeth and barked again, the passerby edged out into the street and described a half-circle, reaching the sidewalk again about 150 feet further on.

The two robbers glanced admiringly at their dog and then significantly at each other, according to Feis, as if to congratulate themselves on the thoroughness of the dog's tutoring. Then they proceeded with the robbery, taking $43 and a gold watch from Feis.

"Stay here for five minutes. We'll be waiting out thede to shoot you if you come out before that," said the man with the revolver. Then they started off, petting the dog, who danced frantically about their legs and gave little suppressed barks of delight.

Defying The Evidence

"Robinson is mighty careless with the truth, isn't he?" askcd Brown.

"Yes," replied Jones. "Why, he'd eat a raw onion and then say he hadn't.

ALLEGED SEANCE WITH CARUSO

Says "My Singing is Miserable Noise Compared With Harmony Here."

London, Aug. 11.—"My singing was miserable noise compared to the divine harmony here."

This answer came from the spirit of Enrico Caruso, immediately after his death to intimate friends who arranged a seance, according to a story telegraphed to the Daily News from its correspondent at Milan. A series of questions, it is related, were put to the late songster and the answers, as given, were without equivocation. He was asked especially about his new surroundings.

"Do you prefer your new home?" the spirit of Caruso was asked.

"Absolutely yes," came the answer.

"Do you not regret the loss of your glory?" was the next query.

"No," was the response, "for the world is all misery and vanity. My singing was miserable noise compared to the divine harmony here."

Q.—Are you perfectly happy?

A.—No, for I am afraid some trouble will happen between my relatives on account of my bequests.

BRITISH STEAMER CANASTOLA WITH 41 MEN MISSING

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

London, Aug. 10.—The British steamer Canastola, from New York via Sydney (N.S.W.) for Wellington (N.Z.), was today posted at Lloyds as missing.

The Canastola sailed from New York on May 4 with a general cargo and was last reported leaving Sydney on June 13 for Wellington. She was built at Glasgow in 1907, is 4,904 tons gross register and carries a crew of about forty-one men.

SUIT HOLDS UP BURIAL.

Body of Rhinebeck Man Lies in Vault During Lot Dispute.

Beacon, N. Y., Aug. 11—An appeal has just been taken in the suit of John Lown of Rhinebeck against the late Joseph Arnett which will prevent the burial of Arnett's body in the cemetery which for several years he managed. The body will remain in the cemetery vault until the higher court settles the suit.

Lown was Arnett's stepson. Arnett, president of the Wurtemberg Cemetery, in Rhinebeck, planned to be buried in a plot alongside his wife's remains. He had a monument erected over the plot, upon which was to be inscribed his name and that of his wife.

Lown had bought from Mrs. Arnett her right in the burial plot, and was, he contended, its sole owner. So Arnett bought another plot and was preparing to re-inter Mrs. Arnett's remains there and move the monument to the new plot. Lown sued to prevent Arnett moving the gravestone or acquiring a right to be buried there. While the litigation was pending Arnett died. His body was put in the cemetery vault, awaiting the outcome of the suit. Justice A. H. Seegar found for the defendant after he was dead. Now Lown appeals to the Appellate Division.

WAVE OF SUICIDE SWEEPS OVER U. S.

Number of Children Who End Lives Apparently on Increase.

New York, Aug. 11. — A "suicide wave" has spread over this country since the first of the year, according to Dr. Harry M. Warren, president of the "Save-a-Life" League.

"During the first six months," he said, "there were reported to the league 6,509 suicides, of whom 4,527 were males, and 1,982 females. In the first half of 1920, 2,771 suicides were reported in the United States—1,810 males and 961 females."

The average age of the male suicide is forty-three years. Unsettled economic conditions, with loss of employment and business failures are blamed by Dr. Warren for the "wave."

"The most dreadful phase of this report," his statement continued, "is the pitiful fact that, while 225 children ended their lives in the first half of 1920, the number has more than doubled this year." Of these latter 214 were boys and 193 were girls, a total of 307. The average age is: Boys, sixteen; girls, fifteen. A large percentage of the girls took poison and most of the boys shot themselves, according to the report.

POLICE CHIEF SENT UP FOR TRIAL ON FORGERY CHARGE.

Sherbrook, Que., Aug. 11—Charges against Etienne Laramee, chief of police of East Angus, of forging legal documents were heard before Judge Melvena in the local magistrate's court yesterday, and Chief Laramee was committed for trial at the next term of the court of King's Bench.

CHOLERA INFANTUM
THE FATAL DISEASE OF CHILDREN

Mothers should look well after their young ones during the hot summer months as this is the time of year when this summer complaint is most prevalent. It begins with a profuse diarrhoea, the stomach becomes irritated, vomiting and purging set in, and the matter ejected from the stomach has a bilious appearance; the child rapidly loses flesh and is soon reduced to great langour and prostration which in a great many cases terminates fatally.

To quickly offset the vomiting, purging and diarrhoea

DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY

should be administered.

Mrs. Charles Kretlow, Wideview, Sask., writes: "I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for summer complaint. I think it saved my little girl's life one time as she was so bad I thought she was going to die. A friend advised me about "Dr. Fowler's," so I got a bottle and it helped her right away."

Don't endanger your child's health by accepting a substitute, but get the genuine "Dr. Fowler's," price 50c. a bottle; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SPEAKS TWICE HERE YESTERDAY

Very Rev. Dr. J. D. Hertz, chief rabbi of the British Empire, yesterday concluded an eleven months' pastoral tour of the empire in making his last official appearance in St. John. He is to leave this evening on the Boston train for Boston and New York and after visiting his mother in New York, will sail for England from that port. He spent a busy day yesterday. In the morning he addressed the children at the Hebrew school, speaking of the duty of patriotism and telling the children they could best be good Canadians by being good Jews. At noon he addressed the Canadian Club at Bond's. In the afternoon he was entertained at Rothesay by the lieutenant-governor and in the evening he addressed a large gathering in the Opera House.

During his stay in the city he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Webber and the following ladies assisted in his entertainment: Mrs. L. Isaacs, Mrs. I. Webber, Mrs. J. Goldman, Mrs. C. J. Bassen and Miss Ray Gilbert. The committee in charge of his reception was W. Webber, chairman; M. Budowitch, I. Elman, B. L. Amdur, W. Levi, Max Marcus, William Levi, I. Goldberg and Dr. C. A. Press. Those who were guests with Dr. Hertz at Government House were his secretary, Mr. Valentine, W. Webber, B. L. Amdur and Dr. Press.

The Opera House was well filled in the evening when Dr. Hertz spoke and hearty applause marked the audience's evident appreciation of an address that was at once an education and an inspiration. His Honor, Governor Pugsley, presided and in introducing Dr. Hertz said the city was proud to welcome him not only because of the high position which he holds, but because of the high regard in which the members of his congregation in St. John are held. He could be assured that in St. John, the winter port of Canada, he found his congregation in a city that had a great future where they would enjoy the greatest possible civil and religious liberty.

The chief rabbi said it was his intention to speak of the Bible as a book and to understand it a knowledge of the land from which it came was necessary. He outlined the country Palestine in its various aspects and spoke of the contrasts presented there. He touched on the history of Palestine and dealt with its freedom under Jewish rule and under the Crusaders, tracing it down until 1917, when it became part of the British Empire. Of the Bible he said that in the last 100 years 200,000,000 copies of the English Bible had been circulated. He described the Bible as the Magna Charta of the poor. He quoted Matthew Arnold as saying that men could not live without the Bible.

H. A. Powell in an eloquent address moved the hearty vote of thanks which was tendered by the Lieutenant Governor, and Dr. Hertz in replying said he would cherish the hope of delivering a second address in St. John. The Chief Rabbi cordially thanked Governor Pugsley for presiding, and the meeting was dispersed after the National Anthem had been sung.

SAY SIX-CENT FARE NEEDED IN WINDSOR

Wage Increase is Held to be The Cause —May e Request For Arbitration.

Windsor, Aug. 11—A six-cent fare will be necessary on the local street railway system if the wages of motormen and conductors are to be increased five cents an hour after one year's service, the Ontario Hydro Commission has notified the Windsor Council.

A letter from W. W. Pope, commission secretary, in reply to notifications that the council had endorsed the men's wage demands, said the commission felt that because of decreased living costs there should be no increase granted.

Ald. Hooper, appointed by the Car Men's International Union to represent the employes, said he was convinced a six-cent fare is not necessary to allow for the increase asked for. He said further that, with arbitration of the question practically declined by the commission, he would seek redress under the Industrial Disputes Act.

An increase from six tickets for a quarter to a straight five-cent fare was ordered by the commission recently. Commission officials said the increase was necessary because of the $900,000 to be expended this summer in rehabilitation of the system's rail-bed and rolling stock.

FIRE-TRAPS MUST GO.

"Down with the fire traps" is the slogan of the Edmonton city hall these days. Old buildings that are "eyesores" are to be removed if owners do not take steps to put them in a safe condition. Mayor Duggan and Fire Marshal W. Peters recently made a round of the city and found that poor buildings were numerous. Some were veritable fire traps, while others were a menace to the safety of the people. Some had been standing in this condition for years, said the mayor, and it was clear that something should be done. The mayor states that it has been decided to notify owners of these buildings, if these property owners could be located, that the structures must be repaired and made habitable, or removed. If this is not done the buildings will be offered for sale by the city, and if no applications are received, then they will be taken down and destroyed.

COULDN'T SERVE THE GERMAN WINE

But Joffre's Chef was Loath to Throw it Away — Amusing War Reminiscences.

Paris, July 26—(Associated Press by Mail)—The latest war reminiscenses to be printed are those of the "chef" who presided over the destinies of the French general staff during the Battle of the Marne and who prepared the simple but abundant menu that Marshal, then General, Joffre sat down to at very irregular hours.

If the chef's culinary accomplishments were not superior to his literary talent then one pities poor General Joffre and it must have been a relief to the Commander-in-Chief to leave the mess table and return to the battle line.

"During the Battle of the Marne," says the chef, "the General put away enough food to feed three ordinary men." Then he adds naively: "I hope, Monsieur le Marchal won't mind, what I say about the General."

One of the most amusing incidents related by the chef is that on September 12, when it became clear that the enemy was in full flight northward and that the battle was won, congratulations were in order and he received instructions that the menu for the dinner would be as much of a banquet as his raw material would permit.

Just as the meal was about to be completed a British automobile came up to headquarters with a basket of champagne as a token of congratulation to the French staff. It came from a British unit "in liaison." The chef was just getting ready to serve it when he noted that the bottles bore a German mark and he informed the officer of the fact. That worthy forbade him to serve the champagne to the staff and orderer him to throw the bottles away. "We did," says the chef, "but only the next morning, and they were empty."

ESCAPES TRIAL FOR DEATH OF GIRL

Montreal, Aug. 10—Alfred Leger, the fourth year medical student of Laval University, who was accused of manslaughter in connection with the death of Alice Lavalles, of Sorel, who died last June from the effects of an illegal operation alleged to have been performed by the accused, was today liberated by Judge Cusson, who said that the only real evidence against Leger, that of the dying girl's ante-mortem statement, was inadmissable, and not sufficient for him to commit Leger for trial.

GETS A CONTRACT FOR $8,000,000

Halifax, Aug. 10—J. P. Porter, contractor, of Halifax, was notified from Ottawa tonight that the government had awarded him the contract for sections one and two of the Welland Canal, from Lake Erie to Lake Ontario. The distance is seven miles, and the cost is $8,000,000. It is estimated that it will take four years to complete the work. Mr. Porter expects to start work in ten days. There were three other tenders, and Mr. Porter's bid was $17,000 below the lowest.

DRUGGISTS OBJECT TO CLOSING SUNDAYS

Windsor, Aug. 11. — Windsor retail druggists, who several months ago were notified to keep their stores closed on Sundays except for the sale of drugs and for the filling of prescriptions, or else face prosecution in the courts, are seriously considering making representations to the attorney-general's department, on the ground that while they are prohibited by law from selling soft drinks, candy and cigars, half a score or more individuals have opened little stalls all over the city, where these articles, as well as ice cream, are being sold openly all day Sunday.

"We pay a heavy business tax, the same as firms in other lines of trade, yet, on the ground that we are violating the Lord's Day Act, we are told we cannot sell on Sundays. It's time the attorney-general's department looked into this discrimination and forced these little shops to put up their shutters on Sunday," said a prominent Ouellette avenue druggist today.

"JUDGELESS" COURT.

But Judge Choquet Saved The Situation.

(Montreal Herald)

The arraignment court was without a judge this morning until the breach was filled by Judge Choquet, who curtailed his sitting at the Juvenile Court to relieve the congested condition at the court house. Judge Leet was out of town and not expected to arrive until this afternoon. Judge Lanctot is at Old Orchard Beach for his holidays and Judge Cusson, it was reported this morning, missed his train from St. Johns.

On account of the absence of all the judges, Judge Choquet, who was informed of the delay, stepped into the breach and the arraignments were gone through with. In the La Presse case, in which argument was to have been completed this morning, there was no hearing. Judge Cusson presided in the session and was in possesion of all the facts presented by the defence and the prosecution. This case was not called and may come before the judge in the afternoon.

NEW INTERNATIONAL POSTAL TREATY

Berne, July 23—The delegation of the Universal Postal Union entrusted by the last international Congress in Madrid with the task of preparing the programme of the next postal conference to be held in Stockholm, will meet at Zermatt, a health resort near here, early this month.

They will elaborate a new and simplified international postal treaty to be presented for discussion at Stockholm.

PLAN TO DECREASE NUMBER OF AUSTRIAN CIVIL SERVANTS

Vienna, July 25—The retrenchment and economy commission of business men appointed by the government some months ago has submitted its first report. Its most interesting feature is a plan for decreasing the number of government employes.

It purposes gradually to select men in groups from various departments and give them full pay for a certain period to enable them to find new positions or make themselves self-supporting. The government also is urged to establish an employment bureau.

Lives of Many Babies Saved

At least half of the thirty-one babies that have been receiving free milk through the milk committee of the St. John local council of women, would have died without that kindly provision, says the report of the distributing committee convener, Miss D. Coates, superintendent of the Victorian Order of Nurses, told the committee at its meeting yesterday. Mrs. R. J. Hooper, the chairman of the committee, presided and the meeting was held in the board of health rooms with a good attendance. The finances of the committee were considered seriously and it was suggested by one member that some citizens might wish to adopt a baby for one year to the extent of providing milk for that one particular baby. The sum of thirty dollars was said to be sufficient to keep one baby supplied with milk for one year and thus enable it to grow up healthy and unhandicapped in the race of life.

Miss Coates in her report said the women's council deserved the highest commendation for its work in organizing the milk fund committee in an effort to save the lives of tiny babies. She told of the manner in which the milk was distributed and of the investigations made of each case. Mrs. J. H. Doody for the ways and means committee reported the finances had reached a low ebb and various means of replenishing the treasury were discussed. The plan of asking those who could to "adopt" a baby was the most favored suggestion. Miss Coates and Miss Alice Estey were appointed to take charge of the funds received for "adopting" babies.

The following who had been on the distribution committee were transferred to the ways and means committee as the need of enlarging that committee had been pointed out; Mrs. M. Bohan, Miss Stella Payson, Mrs. Herbert Mayes, Miss Ethel H. Jarvis, Mrs. R. J. Hooper, Mrs. E. A. Schofield, Mrs. A. M. Rowan, Miss Alice Fairweather, Miss Mary Flett and Mrs. A. F. Robinson.

The secretary, Mrs. F. E. Holman, was asked to write a letter of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. F. Neil Brodie for their generous and unsolicited gift of twenty-five dollars. Miss Estey reported that nine dollars had been received as three months' payment of the contribution promised by the Royal Standard chapter of the I. O. D. E.

POLICE RESCUE NEGRO FROM DETROIT MOB

Detroit, Aug. 11—A fight starting at a baseball game on the outskirts of Detroit led to the shooting of two white boys, one perhaps fatally, and an attempt to lynch Sam Griggs, a negro, who is alleged to have done the shooting.

Griggs was saved by the arrival of local police and reinforcements from Hamtramck, a suburb, after a crowd of men and boys had severely beaten him with fists and baseball bats, and had tied a rope around his neck with the announced intention of hanging him.

The boys wounded were Victor Budkuski, and Peter Nadradowski, each twelve years old. The condition of the latter is said to be serious. They were in a crowd that had chased Owen Griggs, a negro, to the home of Sam Griggs, his cousin, after Owen was said to have struck a white child in an altercation over a seat at the game.

Owen sought safety in the house, according to the police, and when Sam Griggs came outside and faced the crowd at his front door, Mrs. Mary Andrews, his sister, handed him a revolver and he fired into the crowd, wounding the boys.

The crowd attacked the negro, and some one brought a rope and put it around his neck.

Stanley Gorlezvk, a Hamtramck policeman, tried to rescue Griggs, but was overpowered. A riot call was sent in, and police reserves succeeded in getting Griggs away from his attackers and dispersing the crowd. The three negroes were arrested.

Griggs is said to have admitted the shooting, but declared he was fired on first.

GIRL OF 22 YEARS OF AGE CHIEF OF GANG OF BANDITS

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 11—The police have arrested Marjorie Irwin a 22-year-old girl, who says her home is in Philadelphia, and her alleged "gang" of five men, said to be responsible for many daring holdups and robberies in this section during the past six weeks.

VERY IMPORTANT DISCOVERY MADE

Block of Marble Unearthed at Bengasi Bears Letter from Augustus on Laws of Cyrenaica.

London, July 27—A discovery which, it is claimed, will form one of the fundamental sources for a history of the Roman Empire under Augustus has been made recently by Dr. Oliverio, an Italian savant in Cyrene, the ancient Greek colony in Africa, founded in the seventh century.

A Morning Post correspondent, writing from Cyrene, says that excavations at Bengasi—the ancient Berenice which stood in the midst of the Gardens of the Hesperides near the mouth of the river Lethe—have resulted in the unearthing of a block of marble eight feet long, one face of which bears a flawless Greek inscription of over 100 lines; the translation of justice in Cyrenaica, giving a wonderful insight into the financial and judicial conditions of the country at that time.

Other interesting finds are a sanctuary dedicated to eastern divinities, probably of the time of Julian the Apostate, with a remarkably well-preserved black marble statue of an Egyptian goddess. An extensive Ptolemac cemetery also has been located. An Apollonia, a Christian basilica of the fifth century is being excavated and at Merdj, the ancient Barce, some Cufic inscriptions have been found which are held to be of great importance when the history of the Arab conquest comes to be written.

A CALAIS DOCTOR DROWNED IN N. H.

St. Stephen, Aug. 10—Word has just been received by residents of Calais announcing the drowning of Dr. J. W. J. Marion of Calais. The drowning occurred at Enfield (N. H.), where the doctor had been with his family. No particulars have been received as yet.

Enfield is in the valley of the Mascoma on the main line between Boston and Montreal. It is near the Vermont border.

The prescription, which you can prepare at your own home, is as follows:

"Go to any grocery store and get ten cents' worth of ordinary oatmeal, and from any department or drug store a bottle of Derwillo. Prepare the oatmeal as directed in every package of Derwillo. Before applying Derwillo cleanse the skin thoroughly with a good cleansing cream. (Liska cold cream I have found to be the best.) The first application will astonish you. It makes the skin appear transparent, smooth and velvety. I especially recommend this method for dark, sallow skin, shiny nose, freckles, tan, sun spots, coarse pores, rough skin, ruddiness, wrinkles, and, in fact, every blemish the face, hands and arms are heir to. If your neck or chest is discolored from exposure, apply this combination there and the objectionable defect will disappear as if by magic. It is absolutely harmless and will not produce or stimulate a growth of hair. Since short sleeves are in vogue it is necessary to have beautiful hands and arms and no matter how rough and ungainly the hands and arms are or what abuses they have had through hard work and exposure to sun and wind, this combination will work a wonderful transformation. Thousands who are using it report the same results I have had."

Miss O. C. says: "My complexion was poor and my skin rough. My neck, chest, hands and arms were dark from exposure. The very first application of this wonderful Derwillo-oatmeal combination convinced me that my poor complexion and skin blemishes would soon be a thing of the past. In a few weeks all these unsightly defects had entirely disappeared and I shall always use it to keep my complexion at its best all the time. I have recommended it to my girl friends and they are just as enthusiastic over it as I am. We all use it before going to the theatre, dances or parties and it's wonderful what a difference it makes in our appearance."

Mrs. G. V. writes: "Oatmeal and Derwillo have worked miracles with my complexion. I had many despised wrinkles and a sallow, rough skin. My hands and arms were covered with freckles. After eight weeks' use of Mae Edna Wilder's wonderful complexion prescription these objectionable defects have entirely vanished. I look ten years younger, and advise every girl and woman to try it and feel confident after one or two applications they will use it continually and be just as favorably impressed with it as I am. I recommend it to all of my friends."

NOTE—To get the best effect be sure to follow the complete directions contained in every package of Derwillo, and it is so simple that anyone can use it, and so inexpensive that any girl or woman can afford it. Department stores and druggists guarantee that there will be a noticeable improvement after the first application or they will refund the money. It is sold in this city at all toilet counters under a money refund guarantee, including Wassons Drug Stores.
