CHATRIAN, THE NOVELIST, DEAD.

The Countryman and Collaborator of Erckmann Gene.

PARIS, Sept. 4.—A void has been made in the literary world, and a sudden termination put to certain legal proceedings by the death of the well known Alsatian novelist, Alexandre Chatrian, who so long wrote in collaboration with his fellow provincial, M. Erckmann. Unfortunately the personal and literary friendship of years was not long ago broken by a misunderstanding that resulted in an action at law, and for several months Paris has been on the tiptoe of expectation awaiting the developments of the approaching cause célebre. M. Chatrain, although the younger of the two writers, was nearly 64, and had for some time been ailing.

M. Chatrian was born in the hamlet of Soldatenthal, department of the Meurthe, Dec. 18, 1826, and was usher in the college at Phalsburg, where he made the acquaintance of M. Emile Erckmann. The two composed numerous tales bearing their joint names, but of such as were the product of a single individual. Their early efforts were discouraging, but the production in 1859 of "L'Illustre Docteur Matheus" won popularity, and since then their reputation has steadily advanced. Their works contain faithful and graphic narratives of the manners and customs of Germany and of the glories and military reverses of the revolution and the first Empire.

THE ELECTION IN RIDDEFORD.

The City is Exceptionally Quiet and no Naturalization Disturbances.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE GAZETTE.

BIDDEFORD, Me., Sept. 8.—The election opened very quietly here. A large vote was polled the first half hour, but the disturbances which it was thought would arise out of the naturalization troubles, have not occurred at any of the polling places and the city is exceptionally quiet. No special police officers were appointed and no deputy sheriffs or federal officials are stationed at the polls. Biddeford will probably give a Democratic majority of about 50 against 400 last year. Wardens hired by the Democrats are keeping tally at all the polls, of the men who present themselves, but find their names erased from the lists.

A FAITH CURE VICTIM.

INQUEST ON THE LATE JOHN KENT, SCHOOL TRUSTEE, TORONTO.

He Consulted a Faith Curist Who Prescribed for Him—The Crown Attorney to Investigate.

TORONTO, Sept. 8.—At the inquest begun on Saturday evening, on the late John Kent, school trustee, who died from diabetes under the treatment of a faith curist named Mrs. Stewart, the evidence showed that two weeks before Kent's death he went to the Christian Scientists. They prayed over him and ordered linseed tea with lemon in it as a drink. He believed in them and ate and drank what he pleased.

The Rev. Mr. Hooper was called in on Monday, the clergyman insisted that a doctor should be sent for and Dr. Carveth arrived to find his patient in a state of coma.

The Crown Attorney watched the proceedings with a view to indicting Mrs. Stewart the faith curist. The proceedings are continued today.

RAILWAY CHANGES.

Mr. C. E. McPherson in Charge of the Passenger Branch of the C. P. R.—Other Appointments.

Mr. C. E. McPherson, district Passenger Agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway has been placed in charge of the New Brunswick Division of the road. Mr. McPherson's headquarter's will hereafter be in St. John with a branch at No 24 Washington street Boston as heretofore.

The appointment of Mr. McPherson to the New Brunswick division has been anticipated ever since it was known that the Canadian Pacific company intended to have a man here in St. John. His knowledge requisite for a passenger agent than Mr. McPherson and it goes without saying that the appointment is not only a good one for the company, but will be a popular one among the patrons of the road. Charlie, as he is known among his friends, is a prince of good fellows while always full of business. He is a genial jovial companion on the road and a hard worker in his office. He has been coming to St. John for the past ten or twelve years and in that period has made many friends who will learn of his promotion with satisfaction. Commencing with the Grand Trunk in charge of the Eastern passenger traffic of that road, he removed to Toronto where he was appointed travelling passenger agent of the Rock Island, which he left to take a position with the Canadian Pacific. Mr. McPherson enjoys the fullest confidence of Mr. McNichol, the general passenger agent of the Canadian Pacific, and that confidence is fully warranted. With Mr. McNichol at the head office and Mr. McPherson in St. John there is not the slightest doubt that the passenger travel over the short line will develope rapidly. More maritime province people go to Western Canada every year and the efforts of the Candian Pacific railroad will certainly be in the direction of making the people of Canada better acquainted with each other. Mr. A. J. Heath is continued in office under Mr. McPherson's direction.

A general freight agent will be appointed from Montreal, to have charge of the N. B. division, and to look after the through freight business. G. N. Fairweather, who had charge of the freight department of the New Brunswick road, will be continued as assistant. It is the intention of the Canadian Pacific people to develope the through fright business as much as possible, and it is necessary, to place its control in the hands of an experienced man.

In connection with other C. P. R. changes, the auditing department will be removed to Montreal, and it is probable that E. S. Waycott, will be continued in his present position, at that place.

A BOAT RACE.—Mr. Elijah Ross, of Carleton, received a telegram this morning from Mr. Geo. Smith, of Halifax, concerning a race between the Williams crew of Halifax, and a St. John crew. It read as follows: "Williams will make a three-mile race for $500 a side, give or take expenses, on or about 15th October. Wire me if acceptable and limit rig for boats." Mr. Ross will answer this telegram this afternoon, and find out whether it is open for any crew in St. John or whether one is to be specified. As soon as possible a race will likely be arranged.

COAL FOR THE C. P. R.—Bark Lepreaux arrived yesterday from Glace Bay with [illegible] for the C. P. R. [illegible] ton. The Lepreaux was 14 days on the passage and had considerable fog and head winds.—On the 27th of August she was in a heavy southerly gale of wind for 36 hours during which her decks were almost continually flooded. The vessel labored very heavily but weathered the gale in safety. A few days ago she spoke the barks Catherine, and Emma Marr and the ship Eurydice, outward bound from this port.

Has left the Town.

William Haslam, who was at one time a member of the Carleton Jubilee fife and drum band, left town last Thursday. Several days before his disappearance, members of the band say; Haslam borrowed the hats belonging to the band, to lend to the Fairville fife and drum band to wear at a picnic. After the Fairville boys returned from the picnic they left the hats at a place where Haslam said he would call for them. He did not do so for a day or so, when he informed the Fairville bandsmen that the Carleton boys had decided to sell their hats, and that they could have them for 75 cents each. They bought them, and now Haslum is in the States, and so is the money paid for the hats, a little over $11. The Carleton bandsmen say that they did not authorize Haslam to dispose of the hats, but merely loaned them to him.

Brilliant Social Event.

Says the Bangor Commercial of the 5th inst;—Bangor society has seen few such brilliant parties as that of last evening at the lovely home of Hon. and Mrs. E. R. Burpee on High Street. Over 500 invitations were sent out for the event and the result was a gathering of beautifully costumed ladies and gentlemen in the conventional evening dress, which thronged the spacious residence and grounds and continued the festivities of the occasion until a late hour.

There are few Bangor residences, perhaps none so well adapted for the giving of a large reception. The handsomely kept grounds were brilliantly illuminated with Chinese lanterns and walks and summer houses presented themselves most invitingly to the gaze of the young people, who quickly became unable to resist their fascinations. The interior of the residence ablaze with light, was equally attractive to the more staid of the guests and the general crush was not too great to prevent the pleasant meeting of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Burpee received in the drawing room, assisted by Mrs. Isaac Burpee and Mrs. F. T. C. Burpee of St. John.

Exquisite flowers were arranged artistically in convenient places throughout the house. The large billiard hall was turned into a ball room and was profusely decorated with evergreen and cut flowers. This was the centre of attraction for the younger class the whole evening, while scores of deluded people who imagine their dancing days are over, watching the dreamy dancers and listened with unalloyed delight to the sweet strains of Andrews' orchestra which was stationed at one corner of the room.

Refreshments were served throughout the evening to the dancers in the ball room and in the main dining room.

Scores of people were present from away, among them being Mrs. Isaac Burpee, Mrs. F. T. C. Burpee and Miss Kate A. Burpee, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Busby, Mrs. George K. McLeod, Miss Nan Burpee of St John, and many well known society people from Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Florida.
