NINTH YEAR. SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 23, 1888.—EIGHT PAGES. PRICE ONE CENT.

DEPEW OUT OF THE RACE.

HE WITHDRAWS HIS NAME IN THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Three Ballots Taken Without a Nomination—Sherman Leads, with Gresham Second and Alger Third—Rob Ingersoll Booms the Illinois Judge.

CHICAGO, June 22.—The Republican National Convention was called to order at 11.16 this morning by Senator Frank Hiscock of New York, Chairman Estee having temporarily lost the use of his voice as a consequence of his efforts to preserve order yesterday. After the usual preliminaries the roll by states was called for the nomination of a presidential candidate, the vote being announced by the chairman of each delegation. Three ballots were taken during the morning session, none of which resulted in a nomination. The candidates and the votes received by each on each ballot were:

Whole number of votes			853
Necessary to a choice			427
	1st.	2d.	3d.
Alger	84	116	122
Allison	72	75	88
Blaine	33	32	35
Depew	99	99	90
Fitler	21	—	—
Gresham	114	108	123
Harrison	79	45	94
Hawley	13	—	—
Ingalls	28	16	—
Lincoln	—	3	2
McKinley	31	3	8
Miller	—	—	2
Phelps	25	18	5
Rusk	25	20	16
Sherman	229	249	244

At the conclusion of the third ballot there was great confusion and cheering for Gresham. When the noise subsided, it being 2 o'clock, Senator Miller of New York moved an adjournment until 7 o'clock, and the convention adjourned.

Pipe Laying.

During the recess the various delegations retired to their headquarters to talk over the situation and to come to some agreement as to the candidate for whom their votes should be counted in case it was found that their first choices had no chance of a selection. The meeting were protracted up to nearly the hour for reassembling of the convention, and for this reason there were few delegates in the hall at 7 o'clock.

The friends of Judge Gresham were much elated at the recess taken this afternoon and regarded it as favorable to the chances of their favorite.

The convention was called to order at 7.15 p.m. by Chairman Estee, who had recovered his voice to a certain degree. The bands struck up inspiriting national airs, amongst them being "Dixie," which, however, did not create the enthusiasm which its every rendition excited at the recent St. Louis convention.

Depew Withdraws His Name.

As the music ceased Mr. Depew ascended the platform and received an enthusiastic ovation from the delegates and audience. He said that he came to Chicago as a delegate, neither expecting nor desiring to appear in any other capacity. After his arrival New York presented his name for state reasons. After weighty consideration he was constrained to believe that his vocation and associations might raise questions which would prejudice the prospects of the party, and therefore he withdrew his name from the list of candidates.

The announcement took the convention by surprise, and hardly had Mr. Depew sat down when General Hastings of Pennsylvania, who placed Sherman in nomination, was on his feet and was recognized by the chair. He said he believed those interests dearest to the convention would be best served by an adjournment until to-morrow morning in order to give the convention time to have a more thorough understanding and to prevent hasty and unconsidered action. He therefore moved to adjourn until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning, and upon this motion he demanded a call of the roll of states.

There was at once a half-dozen seconds to the motion and the call was ordered. It resulted in a vote of 535 yeas to 282 nays. The chair then declared the convention adjourned until 10 o'clock to-morrow.

A Boom for Gresham.

Immediately after the adjournment the audience sent up a wild yell for Bob Ingersoll, in which a majority of the delegates joined. Col. Ingersoll was received with cheers. He addressed the meeting in a rattling speech favoring protection. He continued without any trouble and was applauded vociferously until he reached the close, when he declared for Gresham. Then there was a scene. The Illinois delegates mounted their chairs, cheer after cheer went up, flags were waved and the Greshamites were very enthusiastic, but the other faction expressed their dissatisfaction by hisses, catcalls, derisive howls and shouts of Blaine, Sherman and Alger. The Harrison delegates left the hall in disgust.

Why the Convention Adjourned.

After this morning's session of the convention there was a conference of the New Yorkers. Mr. Depew announced his withdrawal in much the same terms that he used in the convention to-night, and added that as Harrison was the only man that could carry the state he would advise his fellow delegates to give him their support. It was decided with but two dissidents to turn the delegation into the Harrison camp. News of this action was quickly carried into the Sherman camp, and it was conceded something would have to be done to stem the Harrison tide, and that something was an adjournment. Supporters of Allison, Alger and Gresham felt the same way, and so when the proposed adjournment came up the supporters of the candidates mentioned were prompt in advocacy of it.

In the main the vote of to-night represents the field against Harrison. The latter appears to have gained considerable since adjournment. His friends claim that on first ballot to-morrow he will have, beside the vote of his State, 62 from New York, the solid vote of West Virginia, 13 from Wisconsin and support from Tennessee, Vermont and Nevada.

It is reported to-night that the Alger support will jump to Blaine in the morning with a view to securing a place on the ticket for the Wolverene Governor.

EVA HARRIS' ALLEGED CRIME.

Before a Coroner's Jury on a Charge of Concealment of Birth.

At the Police Court last night Coroner Duncan and a jury were engaged four hours in investigating the cause of death of a newborn child which was found dead in the room of the mother, Eva Harris, at 327 Yonge-street. This was the adjourned inquest, and the facts of the case have already appeared in The World. The witnesses examined were Mr. and Mrs. Pitts, with whom Miss Harris has been a servant since 1882, Doctors McPhedran and Nevitt, Detectives Black and Burrows, and a hospital nurse. Nothing very material was elicited apart from the evidence of Dr. Nevitt, who had made a post mortem examination. He testified that the cause of death was loss of blood. The child really died from the want of proper attendance at the time of birth. The Doctor did not attribute any negligence or wrong doing to the mother. When in the hospital she told her master that at the birth of the child she fainted and when she recovered the child was dead. She concealed the body under the register.

It was midnight when the jury returned their verdict: "That the child came to its death through the carelessness of the mother in not providing medical attendance." The jury recommended that proper provision be made at the jail for the care of persons charged with crime who may not be in a condition of health to allow of their being placed in an ordinary cell.

Mr. Carson represented the Crown and Mr. N. Gordon Bigelow appeared for the prisoner. Eva Harris was conveyed to the jail and will appear in the Police Court this morning.

THE CAMP BREAKING UP.

The Toronto Field Battery the First to Depart—The Gun Practice.

NIAGARA CAMP, June 22.—The first outward sign of the approaching dissolution of camp was the departure of the Toronto Field Battery, which left for home at 8.30 this morning. The battery was inspected by Col. Irwin, Inspector of Artillery, late last evening, having to undergo this ordeal just after returning from firing practice. As, however, the Colonel said he knew the difference between dust and rust, and would make allowances accordingly, the battery did not feel so badly handicapped as would otherwise be the case. The Welland Canal Field Battery was inspected this morning and the Hamilton this afternoon, and these have both left for home, so that none but the infantry and Col. Davis' battalion of rifles remain to be sent off tomorrow morning, when the camp breaks up. Col. Davis' battalion, the 37th, came to camp green in every other sense as well as in the color of their uniform, the majority of the men having their first outing for three years, but they picked up their drill wonderfully. Their Indian band and the No. 3 company, which are composed of Dr. Montague's Six Nation Indians, continued throughout to be objects of curiosity to the camp. The Indians have been models of drill and discipline, and for quietness have been unsurpassed.

In the field artillery final competition yesterday Toronto picked up a little, scoring 123 points out of a possible of 296, diminishing Hamilton's lead by 10, but falling 34 more behind the Welland Canal Field Battery, one of the best in the Dominion when firing is to be done. The totals of these batteries now stand:

	Welland.	Hamilton.	Toronto.
Preliminary	173	167	115
Final	157	113	123
Total	330	280	238

To-day has been spent by the foot soldiers in undergoing inspection, each regiment on its own parade ground, by Col. Otter. The sun has been fiercely hot, and numbers of men have dropped in the ranks overcome by the heat. Fortunately there have been no serious cases, and no action for manslaughter can yet lie against the parties responsible for burdening the militia with their present uniform.

Capt. Adam, 13th Battalion, the Brigade Musketry Instructor, expresses himself as well satisfied with the results of the target practice, but his satisfaction is perhaps based on comparative rather than actual results, as the average of the six regiments participating is just 20 points out of 80 possible, which means that the hits were 12 out of 20. The ranges ranged from 100 yards to 400. The highest company average was made by No. 1, the Whitby Company of the 34th, who made the creditable average of 50 points, just four times that made by the company at the tail end, No. 1 company of the 77th, hailing from Dundas. By corps the averages were out of 80 points:

34th Batt.	27	37th Batt.	31
12th "	34	36th "	30
35th "	33	77th "	27

From the commandant down to the rawest recruit there is pronounced disgust and indignation at the treatment accorded the contingent who too brazenly went to the opening of the Niagara Falls Park in response to an urgent invitation from a local committee.

DEFAULTER PASCOE EXPELLED.

The Ex-Secretary-Treasurer Voted Out of the International Typographical Union.

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—It was learned last night that David M. Pascoe, ex-Secretary-Treasurer of the International Typographical Union, was expelled from the International Union at its meeting held in Kansas City last week. He is charged with appropriating the funds of the union to his own use and in failing to account for over $2000 which he should have on hand. The exact amount of the defalcation is not yet known, but so far a shortage of $2000 has been discovered.

Part of this money belonged to the Childs-Drexel Fund, which he had collected and failed to turn over to the treasurer of the fund. As soon as it was discovered that some of this money was missing an appropriation was made to cover the deficit. James J. Dailey, treasurer of the Childs-Drexel Fund, said last night: "The Childs-Drexel Fund is intact and is not affected in any way by the defalcation. Every penny of it is now in the treasury and the small amount collected by Pascoe, which was less than $50, was at once made good by the union."

The resolution expelling Pascoe from the international body also provides for his expulsion from Philadelphia Typographical Union No. 2, of which he is a member. Pascoe was re-elected secretary-treasurer at the meeting of the International Union held in Buffalo in 1887, but he resigned before the session adjourned. It was charged at the Buffalo meeting that he was short in his accounts, but that was explained as an error in book-keeping. Since then an examination of his books has been made and the defalcation discovered. At the next meeting of Philadelphia Typographical Union the instructions of the International Union will be carried out.

VERY HOT IN ONTARIO AND QUEBEC.

But Much Cooler in the Northwest—The Register in the States.

The hot spell still prevails in Quebec and Ontario, and yesterday showed no signs of any diminution of the intense heat.

In the Northwest, however, there has been a great fall in the temperature, and to-day will decide whether Ontario will follow suit. On Wednesday the thermometer registered 84° at Winnipeg, yesterday it fell to 60°. This was a remarkable drop, but other places
