GENERAL COURT-MARTIAL.

Two Conscientious Objectors and One Sinn Feiner Tried at Niagara Camp.

Niagara Camp, July 31.—A general court-martial was held here this morning, when Lieut.-Col. A. J. McCausland of the 2nd Battalion, 2nd C.O.R., presided at the trial of two men, Sherman S. Babcock and Joseph Toorish of the 1st Battalion, 2nd C.O.R. Lieut.-Col. C. L. Francis of the railway troops depot presided at the trial of the third man, Paul Joseph Forst, of the 2nd Battalion, 2nd C.O.R., in place of Col. McCausland, as Forst is a member of Col. McCausland's Battalion.

Babcock and Forst are conscientious objectors, and Torish is a Sinn Feiner, who was charged with having "wilfully defied authority" by refusing to put on the King's uniform and having declared that he would not fight for the British, who had killed his people in the Sinn Fein rebellion in Dublin in 1916.

SING IN QUEEN'S PARK ON CIVIC HOLIDAY

Mayor Church has issued a proclamation calling upon and earnestly urging the people of Toronto to foregather together at Queen's Park, Toronto, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon of August 5 (Civic Holiday), to celebrate, by singing, the fourth anniversary of the entrance of Great Britain and her dominions into the war, and to reconsecrate themselves, unreservedly, to victory.

The Toronto Symphony Orchestra, Frank S. Welsman, conductor, will lead the singing, which will include the songs of the allies. The leaders and members of various singing organizations and several soloists have consented to join in this free public song festival, which, it is hoped, will stimulate loyalty and unity.

Hon. Dr. Cody has consented to give an address, and Mayor Church will explain the object of the community singing.

Military bodies will attend and programs will be distributed by the Boy Scouts.

Seats will be reserved for invalided soldiers and seats supplied for women and children.

THE LAKE OF BAYS.

The Lake of Bays is one of the popular resorts this year and the Grand Trunk are carrying a heavy traffic, mostly Canadians, to that district. Several attractions have been added at the Wawa, where a young ladies' orchestra of clever musicians play for the evening dances and the Sunday evening sacred concerts. In addition to the regular golf course at Norway Point, the management of the Wawa have laid out a nine-hole domestic course thru the hotel grounds, the first tee being almost at the front door of the hotel. The course is in charge of Lieut. Fraser, a returned officer, and the links are in excellent condition. For further particulars, illustrated descriptive literature, and all information, apply to any Grand Trunk Agent, or C. E. Horning, District Passenger Agent, Toronto.

PROTEST AGAINST TAX.

Petition Going Among Americans Has Already Been Signed by Many.

Following the meeting on Tuesday of American citizens in Toronto, who objected to paying the double income tax, yesterday saw the petition which had been circulated, with many signatures attached. The petition points out that Americans residing in Canada are taxed by Canada in the same manner as Canadians residing in the States. By the act of congres all Americans residing here are taxed to the same extent as those present residing in the United States, so that they are now compelled to pay two taxes—the American and the Canadian—and in consequence the Americans are up in arms. Toronto is not the only place where the Americans in Canada are taking the matter up, but the protest is practically all over the Dominion.

VARLEY DISCUSSES NICKEL QUESTION

He Claims Government Was Slow in Dealing With It.

ALIEN PROBLEM

Several Returned Soldiers Speak in Support of Comrade.

"If it is ever proven that a single Canadian soldier was shot down by a bullet tipped with nickel which reached Germany thru the lack of precaution of the governments of this country, it will be the greatest disgrace that could possibly sully the history of this country," said William Varley, soldier-labor candidate in the coming by-election in Northeast Toronto, in the course of an address last night.

The meeting was held in the Winchester Hall, and was much better attended than any of the earlier gatherings during the present campaign.

Dealing with the nickel question, Mr. Varley said that, while it might be treading on dangerous ground to state that nickel from the Ontario mines had reached Germany with the knowledge of the governments of this country, it was not dangerous ground to tread on when it was said that neither the federal nor the provincial government had taken any steps to prevent nickel reaching Germany thru neutrals.

In the United States, President Wilson, as soon as that country had entered the war, had taken good care that none of the nickel in the United States could be used to shoot down any of the American soldiers. A firm dealing very largely in metals, with a capital of $70,000,000, had been at once confiscated by the President of the United States, so that it could not send any nickel to any neutral, who in turn might sell it to Germany to make bullets to kill any soldiers of the United States. It that had been a good policy for the United States—and no one denied it—why would it not have been just as good a policy for the governments of this country? Why should the government of this country not have taken over the International Nickel Co. at the outbreak of the war, and thus prevent the possibility of one of the greatest disgraces in history, the shooting down of a single Canadian soldier by a bullet tipped with nickel produced in one of the Ontario mines?

The Alien Question.

Dealing with the alien question, Mr. Varley referred to what he claimed was a misstatement made by one of the local papers which had stated he was opposed to the conscription and internment of aliens. What he had said, explained the speaker, was that the conscription and internment of aliens would only serve as a palliative and would not be a true remedy. Unless a solution was found to the alien problem, the local labor markets would be flooded during the period of transition between the end of the war and the final and conclusive establishment of peace.

He claimed Premier Hearst was responsible for the election as he had made the election necessary by appointing a friend of the government to a position carrying with it a salary of $5000 a year. It was the premier who had chosen the time for the election.

Returned men were being looked upon by the government as surplus labor which it was trying to place on land which had been refused by railway companies and large interests.

He did not need to criticize the educational system as Dr. Cody was doing that at every one of his own meetings.

Shortage of Food.

Nothing had ever been done by the governments to make use of unproductive labor, altho it must have been well-known that with so many men being taken from production, there must be a shortage of food for a long time. The shortage of food served the interests of certain friends of governments and was therefore not looked upon as any great harm.

Post-war legislation must be carefully studied, particularly as women were in industry to stay with it. Mr. Varley advocated the establishment of labor exchanges which would see that returned men were completely discharged from the army, only when decent positions had been found for them.

To a member of the audience he said he was endorsed by all the labor organizations in the city and at least tacitly by the G.W.V.A.

The chair was occupied by Pte. McGuigan of British Columbia, and among the speakers of the evening were Pte. T. A. Barnard of New Westminster; Pte. McLeod of Toronto, and Lieut. Jack Munro, all returned men, who all stated they did not appear officially for the G.W.V.A., and strongly appealed for the support of returned soldiers for the soldier labor candidate in the coming election.

"In a successful raid in the Sasso Rosso region, in northern Italy, we captured 25 prisoners."

DECREASE IN CUSTOMS RECEIPTS.

Ottawa, July 31.—A decrease of $4,876,854 in the customs receipts for the first four months of the fiscal year, as compared with the same period in 1917, is shown by the monthly statement issued from the customs department today. For the four months ending today, the total receipts were $56,072,983, while on July 31, 1917, they were $60,949,847. The decrease for the month of July as compared with July 1917, is $684,663. During July 1917, the customs receipts totalled $14,269,643, while for July in the present year, the total was $13,584,980.

CARRIERS EXPLAIN PRESENT POSITION

Letter Sent to Secretaries Thruout Canada, Answers Criticism.

Robert H. Cox, secretary of branch No. 1 of the Federated Letter Carriers' Association, Toronto, has sent out the following circular letter to all the secretaries of local branches in the Dominion:

Toronto, July 31, 1918.

Dear Sir and Bro.:

We are in receipt of telegrams from a few cities in the west, criticizing our action in returning to work, demanding we again lay off, and stating we started the trouble.

Now let me state our side of the case. Previous to our meeting of the 13th instant, we are informed, Winnipeg and Ottawa had passed resolutions, calling on the government to remedy grievances. On the 13th instant we called a mass meeting and drafted resolutions, a copy of which was sent to each branch. We did not ask any branch to endorse or co-operate.

The replies from the government at Ottawa, not being satisfactory, and the press reporting one hon. member as saying it was a joke, on the morning of the 22nd we did not report for duty. Then the mayor and business interests at once got busy with the government, who decided they would receive a delegation. We sent as our delegation, Max. Wellman, vice-president of this branch; Dr. Sheard, M.P.; and T. A. Stevenson, secretary of the Toronto District Trades and Labor Council, accompanied by Controller Robins, for the city council, and Mr. Alderson, treasurer of the board of trade. In Ottawa they were joined by the secretary and treasurer of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, and our respected federation secretary, Alex. McMordie, so you can see our delegation was a most representative one, and we gave them our complete confidence.

They met the cabinet and put in our claim for a straight salary, with a minimum of $1000 and a maximum of $1400, if not a board of conciliation, or a commission. The best they could get was a special committee of the cabinet, with a promise to take up our case at once and hear our representatives, and give us a satisfactory settlement.

Our delegates accepted and unanimously advised us to go at once to work, reserving the right to walk out if the finding of the special commission of the cabinet was not satisfactory.

We demonstrated that the press, pulpit, business, and the people, are with us. Business was at a standstill and in deference to it, and the public whom we serve, with full confidence in the advise of our delegates, we went back to work, being assured if we had to again walk out, we will be stronger than before.

We are being congratulated on all sides on our conduct thruout the trouble, and we have the respect of our officials to a man.

With the hope that all matters will have a satisfactory settlement in the interest of us all,

I am yours fraternally,
Robert H. Cox,
Sec'y Branch No. 1, Fed. Association Letter Carriers.

Wife of Hamilton Commanding Officer Now Serving Overseas.

Ottawa, July 31.—Mrs. Edith Morgan Millen, wife of Lieut.-Col. Millen, of Hamilton, now serving with the 19th Canadian Battalion in France, died here this evening. She had accompanied her husband as far as England and while there her brother, Ernest Hubbell, was wounded, in France. She undertook to nurse him but the effort proved too much for her strength and she contracted tuberculosis, returning to Canada several months ago.

FIRE DESTROYS WORKSHOPS.

Quebec, July 31.—The workshops of the Quebec Railway, Light and Power Company, at St. Anne de Beaupre, were practically destroyed by fire last night. The blaze broke out in the old shops, and spread to the roundhouse which with three freight cars and a passenger car were destroyed.

EXAMINE CADETS BEFORE A FLIGHT

Recommendation of Jury at Inquest Into Death of Lieut. Hill.

ERROR OF JUDGMENT

Reason for Fatal Accident Given in Verdict Reached Last Night.

The inquest into the death of Second Lieut. A. W. Hill, who was killed at Armour Heights on Saturday, July 13, when his machine made a nose dive, was concluded last night before Coroner Dr. F. Winnett. The only witness heard was Capt. M. A. Seymour, who presented the reports of accidents as requested by D. H. Greer at the last session. The jury returned a verdict that death was due to an error of judgment, and recommended that in future all those under instruction should be medically examined before flying, and also that a record be kept of the hours of their return to camp.

The list of airplane accidents as submitted by Capt. M. A. Seymour of the R.A.F. headquarters staff was made up from 36,253 flights, totaling 13,566 hours flying in four units: 42nd, 43rd and 44th wings and the school of aerial fighting. The total number of crashes was 128. These were divided as follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| (a) Write off (machine complete wreck) | 33 |
| (b) Two longerons or more broken | 5 |
| (c) One longeron broken | 21 |
| (d) Undercarriage or plane broken, etc. | 69 |
| Total | 128 |
| Admission to hospitals | 36 |
| Fatalities | 7 |

Error of Judgment.

This worked out at one fatality per 1938 hours, or 5179 flights, and one admission to hospital per 377 hours, or 1007 flights. It was pointed out by Capt. Seymour that the primary cause, resulting in a forced landing, was error of judgment.

"We have found that a great many accidents have occurred when a man is neither a novice nor beginner," said the captain, "but happen at a certain stage in the cadet's training when he becomes over-confident and disobeys orders."

The 128 crashes were categorized as follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| (1) Airplane defects: | |
| (a) Breakage | .. |
| (b) Engine failure | 6 |
| (c) Faulty rigging | 1 |
| (2) Error of judgment | 32 |
| (3) Loss of head | 10 |
| (4) Brain fatigue | .. |
| (5) Fear | .. |
| (6) Physical illness | .. |
| (7) Unavoidable | 6 |
| (8) Disobeying orders | 59 |

Change Machines.

The minor crashes, totaling 69, were not included in the foregoing table. R. H. Greer, representing the crown, asked if it was true that the type of machine used was to be changed. Capt. Seymour stated it was, but pointed out that the change was to be made, not because the Curtiss machine was not safe, but because the new machine would be much quicker.

The following was a comparison of English and Canadian figures:

| | English. | Canadian. |
|---|---|---|
| Flights | 9000 | 9000 |
| Crashes | 58 | 15 |
| Admission to hospital | 16 | 9 |
| Number of flights per fatality | not noted | 5179 |

In addressing the jury Dr. Winnett pointed out that as far as he could see the training system here compared favorably with that in England, as regards accidents, but expressed the opinion that a physician should be required to personally examine every one before he made a flight. "I believe if this system were to be adopted, it would result in many lives being saved," he said.

BEAUTIFUL LOVE STORY IN "HEARTS OF THE WORLD"

There have been many motion pictures dealing with the war, having elaborate battle scenes staged for the purpose, but it remained for that master producer, D. W. Griffith, to go direct to the battlefields of France for the scenes in "Hearts of the World," his latest triumph, which is playing at the Allen Theatre. Under the authority of the British and French Governments, Mr. Griffith and his company of players were able to enact scenes within the danger zone, many times amid the bursting of shells.

A charming love story was woven about a boy and girl in a small French village, which was captured by the onrushing Germans immediately after the outbreak of the war. The courageous French troops beat back the Huns and recaptured the village, after a terrific battle, and the boy who went to war and the girl who stayed at home were happily reunited.

PLAYS PICTURES AND MUSIC,

"Johnny Get Your Gun."

Keen interest continues to centre in next week's production at the Royal Alexandra Theatre of John Cort's farcical success, "Johnny Get Your Gun," which is to receive its first stock production at the capable hands of Edward H. Robins and his players. The story of "Johnny Get Your Gun" is novel and has a strong appeal, particularly to laugh-lovers and seekers after adventure and entertainment of the clean and better sort in the theatre. Reserve seats are on sale this morning at the box office of the Royal Alexandra Theatre. Matinees will be as usual on Wednesday and Saturday, with a special matinee on Monday, Civic Holiday.

"Cleopatra" at Hippodrome.

"Cleopatra," the most wonderful of all Fox productions, will headline the bill at Shea's Hippodrome next week. With that queen of vampires, Theda Bara, essaying the role of the ill-starred Egyptian queen, patrons of the popular Teraulay street house will see the role given adequate interpretation. Tom Nawn and Company will present the laughable comedy playlet, "Pat and the Genie." Eldora, billed as "The World's Greatest Juggler," handles unwieldy objects with perfect ease. J. C. Mack and Company present a bright miniature musical comedy, entitled "Mother Goose." Bell and Eva, "The Bouncing Girl at the Soda Fountain," present a unique attraction, while Bogard and Nichols are singers and dancers of exceptional ability. Emily Earl, "The Musical Comedy Girl," in new songs and stories, completes the bill.

Loew's Next Week.

One of the most powerful pictures ever screened is Wm. Farnum's engrossing de luxe production, "Rough and Ready," which comes to Loew's Theatre and Winter Garden next week. The story, depicts, in great bold strokes, a man's sturdy fight in the north land to right a deep wrong. The vaudeville will be featured by America's greatest story teller, Frank Bush, the man who carries a million tales at the tip of his tongue. McLallen and Carson, spectacular roller skaters; Arthur De Vey and players, in the domestic comedy "His Wife's Mother"; the Vesper Duo, "The Singer and the Accordionist"; De Dio, clever animal circus; Smith and Tosel, the "Dapper Darktown Dandies," and the Loew's Universal pictures complete the bill.

Star's Reopening.

You think you know what pretty girls are, but go to the Star Theatre, starting Saturday matinee, when "The Tempters" will play an engagement there, and you will be obliged to admit that there is a new beauty standard that you were not aware of. This chorus of "The Tempters" is ravishingly beautiful, and the way these girls can dance singles them out collectively and individually as real terpsichorean artists.

May Allison at Strand.

May Allison will be seen at the Strand Theatre for the latter half of this week, commencing today, in an exceptionally charming photoplay entitled "The Winning of Beatrice," from the well known story of the same name, which appeared in The Saturday Evening Post. May Allison's part, as the Beatrice in question, is that of a successful business girl who is, at the same time, an adorable and radiant young woman. This girl, so charming and so capable, succeeds in outwitting the head of a big financial trust, compelling him to come to her terms, but she also clears her father's memory of the stain that a rascally partner had put upon it. The moral is that a girl may be a business success without losing anything of her feminine charm.

Clara Kimball Young—Regent.

Clara Kimball Young, the heroine of many a good story, will be seen at the Regent Theatre next week in one of the most thoroly enjoyable dramas this season, "Hearts Afire." It is from the novel, "Hearts in Exile," by John Oxenham, and permits the brilliant star to give full sway to her excellent dramatic ability. A beautiful girl marries a rich and aristocratic man whom she does not love, but whose wealth can help her in her charities. She has spurned the affections of one she loves and who loves her. They are arrested, charged with being nihilists, and the police chief falls in love with the girl. Then commences a series of thrilling adventures that are wonderfully interesting.

Clara K. Young at Madison.

Clara Kimball Young in "The Easiest Way" will headline the bill at the Madison Theatre today, tomorrow and Saturday. The picture is the film version of Eugene Walter's famous stage play, revealing the pitfalls which beset the path of young women seeking theatrical careers.
