Hamilton's Slow Gait.

Woodstock Wins a Game.

St. Thomas, June 17.—The Wagon Makers played in professional style to-day, and won a well contested game from the Saints. Pears pitched a nice game, and would have won it had the locals been able to do anything with Thompson's shoots. The latter kept the home team down to five hits, and seemed to be an enigma to the locals, Rodden being the only one to find him to any extent, Billy getting three of the five hits. Score.

Wellingtons Win From Globes, 18 to 4, and St. Mary's Beat Night Owls 11 to 9.

The games at Old Upper Canada College Saturday afternoon brought out one of the largest crowds of the season, over 700 people being present. In the first game, between the Wellingtons and the Globes, the quality of the ball played was not of the finest, the Globes being short a couple of their best players, and the Wellingtons seemed to have had a batting streak with them, aided by errors by their opponents. The Second Game.

The centre of interest for the afternoon was in the second game, between St. Mary's and the Night Owls, the two leaders in the league. The supporters of the Owls were confident that their team was going to be victorious, and, although the Owls played hard, they were unable to get a lead on the Saints. Both teams played well, there being only one innings on each side where there was any show of fireworks. In the third innings the Saints scored 6 runs, the Owls returning the compliment in their half of the sixth. Score:

Toronto Beat the Caps.

The championship lacrosse match Saturday at Rosedale was brought to a result under the most favorable circumstances. One of the biggest assemblages of recent years made the journey, and all were pleased with the spectacle, save the 200 sympathizers and supporters of the visiting team. The outcome was expected, though many believed the margin in goals would have been greater. The Capitals showed themselves worthy foemen, and for five games exhibited a model spirit of fairness. During the two hours' play Toronto was not behind once, and only until goal No. 6 was scored had the boys in blue more than a single point the better of the argument. The Torontos defended the western goal when hostilities began, and the sun shining in the eyes of their opponents, gave the homesters confidence and some aid to start the struggle. Indeed, Old Sol proved a big factor in the game, for his rays must have assisted in scoring the first five goals, as the teams alternately shot successfully through the eastern flags.

The Capitals played in desperation for the sixth, when Toronto's staying power began to assert itself, and the home players seemed sure of turning the tide with a sure shot at the western goal. And forthwith the hitherto skilful and scientific lacrosse was abandoned for the rougher tactics that lose games and spectators dislike, the visitors, at least one of them, being clearly in offence. Consequently, Referee Dixon sent the culprit to the wall, and, thus handicapped, his side lost a point, when the first goal at the west was scored. With a short time to play, the Rosedale twelve showed extra confidence, essayed to increase the tally, and leave off with a majority of three. But the Ottawa players, in sheer desperation, made the same goal a vulnerable target and reduced the majority again to one.

In the final stages, it was evident that considerable money was betted on the result, so vigorous was the work displayed on both sides, coupled with the frantic cries from supporters in grand stand and club house. And the Torontos were quite equal to the emergency, for, with about five minutes to play, and the score 4 to 3 in their favor, they deliberately tobled to one another, with the evident object of killing time. Their play worked correctly, as soon the whistle blew, the game was ours and the team proudly stand far up on the top of the league.

The modern style of lacrosse was utilized by both sides. The old long shots in clearing were entirely abandoned, and almost invariably the defence player passed out shortly and accurately to one of his confederates, who continued the method until within shooting distance or deprived of the ball. The Capitals had a decided advantage in weight, while their experience was also an evident assistance. In speed there was little to choose, while both sides stuck to their men tenaciously. Both Caps and Torontos went after the ball instead of the man for three-quarters of the game, making it one of the best lacrosse spectacles from a viewpoint ever witnessed in the city. The boys in blue won because they shot the better, adhered to the program mapped out, and were always after the balk Their superb condition all round warranted the fast pace to the finish. Had the Caps been able to continue the gait set at the outset, and Rolph had subdued his pugilistic proclivities, the result might have been different, for in the middle of the contest it was clearly a toss-up as to which was the better team.

The Toronto management are to be congratulated on perfecting such a grand home-brewed combination, and may they continue their good work until the lacrosse championship of the world is landed.

Notable personages in the ranks of the Capitals were Messrs. Gleason and Westwick, who are known hereabouts as skilful in other lines of sport, and, while they may be the best of amateurs, this shifting of one's place of abode for a matter of athletics looks suspicious, to say the least.

From the face-off the ball travelled to the visitors' end, when several attacks were made on their goal, but for over three minutes O'Doherty cleverly warded off, when Lillie, on a pass from McLean, did the trick, and the Torontos were ahead. This did not last long, however, for in less than a minute, Gleason tied the score.

From that out play began in earnest. The third game was the longest, Toronto having decidedly the best of the play, but, owing to some wild shooting, did not tally for 21 minutes, when Ed. Moran, a clever junior, carried the ball from centre and turned the trick.

The next was even a harder fight, for both were kept busy on the defence and did a lot of shooting. Cope, who was unaided, got a clear shot, and again tied the score. After that it came easy for the home players, as they outran and checked their opponents. Moran scored the fifth game for Toronto, putting them in the lead.

The sixth game was not so long as the others, but was by far the roughest—in fact, the only one in which foul tactics were resorted to. The first go off was a fistic battle between Rolph and Moran, the former being sent for a rest for fouling. Shortly after play was resumed, Powers hurt his knee, and had to be replaced by McIntyre.

In a scrimmage in the Capitals' goal, Peaker and O'Doherty got into trouble and were also sent off, Toronto playing 11 men to the Caps' 10. This game was taken by McLean.

On resuming play the Caps were playing stronger than they had, and in three minutes had scored their third and last game. With five minutes left it was soft for the home team, as they only had to kill time, while the Capitals fought like tigers for victory; but it was too late.

The exhibition of goal-keeping given by Allan was unsurpassed, even by the once famous Ross McKenzie, for Allan practically won the match for his club, stopping shot after shot.

The Toronto team showed up particularly brilliant, while the Capitals were, if anything, weak on the home.

Cornwall Left the Field.

Montreal, June 18.—The Nationals defeated Cornwall Saturday afternoon by six games to three. It was certainly the best team that won, and yet the match had a most unsatisfactory ending. For the Cornwalls refused to play after the ninth game, and, in the opinion of many of the spectators, they were perfectly justified in so doing. From the first it was apparent that the game, although fast, hard and even, was not going to be one of those gentlemanly exhibitions that are the delight of all lovers of lacrosse. Kicking began early. Every decision that did not suit either party was vigorously denounced, and the partizans on the stand were permitted to revile the umpires in a way that should not have been allowed. The climax came in the sixth game, when Ed. Quinn of the Shamrocks was absolutely bowled off the grounds. There is no question that his decision was perfectly accurate. The ball came straight up and through, yet, because this tied the game, the Nationals insisted upon Mr. Quinn being put off the field. After a long and dreary wait, Henry Thomas from Quebec was accepted. In the eighth game he put up his hand before McKeown fired the shot that scored—it so happened all right. In the ninth game he put up his hand for a shot that bounded a foot wide of the poles when it touched the ground. Then Cornwall felt that they had enough, and so Captain Riley took his men off the grounds. The teams were:

Nationals (6): Foley, Joe Valois, W Murphy, Marcellin, Brown, Wells, McKeown, White, Shanahan, Martineau, J Mercier (captain).

Cornwall (3): Hess, Cameron, W Broderick, Tobin, J White, Burns, Black, Munroe, Madden, J Broderick, P White, Degan, James Reilly (captain). J. Reddick, referee.
