THE BEAVERS DEFEAT THE Y. M. C. A'S.

The Beavers and Y. M. C. A's. met for the third of the Nelson trophy series Saturday afternoon. The attendance of spectators was fair, and while some few good points were shown, the game was too one-sided to be of general interest. Several of the Y. M. C. Harkins' Dramatic Company.

Will. S. Harkins and his Fifth avenue dramatic company begin a limited engagement at the Institute to-night. Mr. Harkins in his previous visits has given great satisfaction, always bringing a first-class company and staging his plays with every attention to detail. He now proposes to outdo all previous efforts, having secured all the latest novelties in the shape of plays and a strong company to interpret the same. He has also brought Mr. Hillyard, a first-class scenic artist, and Mr. Rose, a stage machinist of reputation, to properly present the plays with new scenery, stage effects, etc. To-night will be produced for the first time here that powerful melodrama "The Black Flag," which gives full scope for good acting, cunningly devised scenic effects and a series of surprises that will enchain the attention from start to finish. A full house and a royal welcome should endorse Mr. Harkins' efforts.

After The Parade.

After the parade Saturday afternoon, the Orangemen adjourned to the Lansdowne rink, where several of the higher members of the order made eloquent and interesting speeches. Major A. J. Armstrong, G. M., Wm. Wilson P. G. M.; Rev. R.B. Thomas, G. C.; Rev. Thos. Fullerton, J. DeVeber Neales, C.M.; H. A. McKeown and county master Roxborough were all called upon and delivered stirring addresses. Enthusiasm was the order of the day, and cheers were given at the conclusion of each address. It was three o'clock before the gathering dispersed for dinner, but the great occasion and the success which attended the demonstration more than compensated for the exertions which had been made during the day. A number of the Orangeman left for home Saturday evening; some returned yesterday, and there are still a few in the city. Many strangers are yet in town.

Police Court.

Richard Jones, William Wilson, Richard Watson, Stephen Brown, John McDonald, Robert Dixon, Cornelius Deneen, Alonzo Higgins, Joseph Mulligan and John Sullivan, drunks, were fined $8 each.

Robert Morris and Edward Doughty charged with fighting together on Sheffield street, were fined $20 each.

This Evening.

THE VALENCIA.

Notes of a Lady's Trip to New York.

A lady who has recently made the trip to New York by the steamer Valencia send us an interesting account of her voyage, which seems to have been a delightful experience. She says:—

"To say the trip was enjoyable would be too weak. The Valencia left the wharf in St. John in rather murky weather, a something which is almost sure to fill the minds of passengers with a feeling akin to gloom. Notwithstanding the chilly weather, however, all gathered on deck in one family and forgot the coolness, basking in the sunshine of sociability. Eight o'clock brought the steamer into East port where she lay all night taking in freight. This was good news to those who were afraid of sea-sickness, as it was an assurance of a good night's rest. At 11 o'clock on Saturday forenoon Rockland, Me., was reached, a rather pretty place, a sort of summer resort. Just as you sail into Rockland, nestled in a cove to your right is a pretty villa called Rockport. Here we remained probably half an hour and it was rather a sorry half hour for us for we lost our musicians, two ladies and two gentlemen, who kindly favored us with some of the best of music. No further stoppage was made until we reached Cottage City on Sunday morning at about 10.30. There we remained until about 6 p. m., and enjoyed every minute of the time. Carriages were placed at the disposal of the passengers who wished to visit Cottage City. We were taken in a sail boat to Vineyard Haven, and through the courtesy of our escort to many points of interest on the island. The most interesting to me was the Sailors' Home, kept by Rev. Dr. Stevens, an aged Unitarian clergyman. He has provided for the sailors a good library, museum, chapel, and reading room, cool and inviting. It would be more correct probably to say that the sailors have provided him with a museum, as most of the collection has been given by sailors whom he has befriended, and who on their return have not forgotten him. In one of the departments of the house he has a room fitted up as a chapel. Here he preaches to the sailors and others who came to attend.

"From the Sailors Home we drove to Cottage City, which is three quarters of a mile away, over asphalted roads. It is a pretty place, deserted in winter, but densely peopled in summer. At 3.30 we were all down at the wharf and taken back to the steamer to find a grand dinner awaiting us to which we did ample justice.

"Monday at 9 o'clock ended a delightful trip whose only fault was its brevity, at least for pleasure seekers. The trip up the Sound was charming. I would like to say before closing that a great many people have the idea that the steamer arrives at New York on Sunday night. Well she does but as it is 12 at night, and therefore an unpleasant time to land in a large city, she is anchored just outside of Hell Gate until Monday morning. The round trip to New York and back is but $16 and your stateroom included. No one who has not made this trip ought to miss it. I cannot say too much in regard to the kindness of the captain and the attention of the other officers to the passengers. Capt. Miller is every inch a gentleman and a sailor and his ship is in the highest state of discipline and efficiency."

Of Personal Interest.

Mr. Frank L. Christie returned home last evening.

Mr. A. P. Lee, who has been visiting his home in this city for the past two weeks, left for New York to-day.

Among the Orangemen who visited St. John on Saturday was Mr. J. C. Henry of the St. Croix Courier.

Mr. John T. Hawke, editor of the Moncton Transcript, was also in town.

The many friends of Mr. Ken. Hatt, of Fredericton, were pleased to see him here Saturday. Mr. Hatt, who has been taking an engineering course at Cornell University, is spending his vacation in the province.

ELECTRIC CAR measurements are being made to-day for locating the poles for the wires to carry the current for the electric street railway.

COBURG STREET Christian Sunday school will hold their annual picnic at Watters' landing to-morrow. Steamer Clifton leaves Indiantown at 9.30. There will be no afternoon boat.

BASE BALL MATCH.—There will be a base ball match at the Centenary S. S. picnic tomorrow between nines from the Centenary and Exmouth street schools. Look out for home runs.

ICE SHIPMENTS.—Mr. B. H. Appleby has so far this season shipped thirty-four cargoes of ice. He is now loading his thirty-fifth cargo in the four masted schooner Lucy H. Russell at Sand Point, Carleton.

BROKE SEVERAL RIBS. — Alexander Torrens, an old man, fell down the elevator in Pugsley building Saturday, and broke several ribs. He was removed to the General public hospital, where he has since been suffering much.

VISITORS GOING HOME.—A large nnmber of the people who came to the city to spend the 12th July and see the big Orange demonstration stopped over Sunday. This morning all the trains and steamers leaving the city were crowded with passengers, most of whom were the visitors of the 12th.

FOG IN THE ATLANTIC.—Bark Truro, Capt. Mahon arrived yesterday from Liverpool. Captain Mahon reports having had heavy westerly gales the first of the passage. Nearly all the voyage fog was met. Near the banks considerable ice was sighted. Several French fishermen were also seen in this vicinity. The Truro came out in thirty seven days. Captain Mahon says that during thirteen years he has not met so much fog in the western ocean as he encountered on this trip across.

A NEW STORE.—Mr. John Godard, the Simonds street grocer, has just opened a fine branch store on the corner of Adelaide road and Victoria street. Mr. Godard has worked up a large trade at the Simonds street store by strict attention to business and by always keeping a fresh and well selected stock on hand. His new branch store has been stocked with the best of everything in the grocery line, and is in charge of Mr. S. T. Vaughan, a veteran grocer, who knows well how to satisfy the wants of his customers. The good location in a growing section of the town, and on the highway of country travel from Milkish and other parts of Kings county should ensure Mr. Godard success in his new venture.

THE ACCOMMODATION IS LIMITED.

Those Who Live in the Suburbs are Asking for a Better Train Service.

The various places along the line of the Intercolonial railroad are favorite summer resorts of a large number of our citizens. Many reside at Rothesay; many at Hampton, and many at other equally inviting stations. A few years ago the I. C. R. offered excellent accommodation for this local travelling public, and it has only been within the past two years that any dissatisfaction has been felt in regard to the train service. Complaints have been made lately in abundance in reference to the poor accommodation on the road. A GAZETTE reporter has talked to several of the most prominent people living at Rothesay and Hampton, and while all these were satisfied with the time table of the road, they united in condemning the make-up and arrangement of the trains. Said one of the gentlemen, "We are somewhat better off this year than last, but the accommodation is not by any means good. There used to be a special to Sussex but now that is attached to the through train; by this both through passenger and surburban passengers are discomoded. Through passengers are inconvenienced by the great number of stoppages along the line, and people who live in the suburbs are frequently compelled to stand during the entire trip, owing to the fact that the number travelling exceeds the accommodation."

Another gentleman made the same statement and in addition drew attention to the make up of the train, which in part consisted of two first class carriages, separated by a smoking car. This, he said, was felt by many to be a great inconvenience, almost precluding the possibility of ladies passing from one car to another, and in many cases necessitating a lady's standing during the entire trip.

Others who were seen by the GAZETTE reporter were strongly opposed to the present arrangement, and believed that it could be bettered with very little additional cost to the road. They felt that for the convenience of the people who live along the line as far as Sussex,—and there is a very large number—that a special train could be put on for surburban traffic exclusively. This arrangement was carried into effect last winter when the travel through this section did not amount to one-fifth of its present proportion, but has since been changed.

The people of Rothesay and Hampton believe that much could be done toward securing better accommodation, and they have petitioned the Dominion government with that end in view.

The Baby's Sermon.

The children had said their morning texts
Standing at mother's knee;
And now they were having a game of play
In the sunlit nursery.

For a while their laughter rang clear and sweet,
Then a cloud on the fair scene fell,
In angry faces and angry words
Between Charlie and sister Nell.

In the doorway list'ning stood baby Fred,
On his face a sad surprise,
While a look of growing wonderment
Crept into his deep blue eyes.

"Little children" the voice was sweet and clear,
And the angry tones were stilled;
"Little children" again in reprocachful notes
Thro' the nursery sunshine thrilled.

"Love one another" and Charlie's head
Hung low with a sense of shame;
While over the face of little Nell
A flood of crimson came.

The morning text, and so soon forgot!
How the tears of sorrow fall!
And baby Fred had the victory won,
With a kiss from sister Nell.
