CHIGNECTO POST AND BORDERER

SACKVILLE N. B., APRIL 20, 1893

THE PROVINCIAL SESSION.

The session of the local house which terminated on Saturday has been marked by much active business. There have been few long party speeches and straight party divisions were rare. The government with its large majority kept a rein on the house, throwing out bills not pleasant to its senses when introduced by the opposition. The usual deficit was reported. The difference between the total deficit up to 1891 and up to 1892 was $274,137,29 to which must be added a floating debt of about $150,000 besides unpaid warrants and overdrafts. To prevent in a measure a repetition of this continual deficit, Mr. Blair extended his direct taxation system in new directions. Last year he saddled the banks, electric light companies, telephone and telegraph companies, insurance companies and dead men's estates, this year he got in a body blow on the municipalities by throwing upon them the cost of maintaining the pauper insane, and the registration of births, deaths and marriages, and upon private parties by compelling every litigant to pay the cost of reporting his case at court.

If Mr. Blair fails to make his accounts balance under this system he will forfeit all claims to being the sharp and shrewd politician that people say he is.

The opposition have made considerable headway. They have the government's stand on record on several measures pointing to economy which is bound to count against them They made no party fight but opposed in a dignified manner all measures which threatened to work injury to the country or increase the already heavy taxes.

RAILWAY STATISTICS.

The report of railway statistics for Canada has been issued and gives in detail the capital, traffic, mileage receipts and expenditure of all the roads in the Dominion. The growth of railroads is of interest and is presented in the form of a table giving the total mileage at the end of each year. In 1837 there were 16 miles in operation; 1847 there were 59; 1857, 1,428; 1867, 2,258; 1877, 5,574; 1887, 11,692; and 1892, 14,588.

Towards paying for this system the following amounts have been paid by the different governments: Dominion, $148,083,305; Ontario, $6,365,507; Quebec, 15,438,567; New Brunswick, 4,617,346; Nova Scotia, $2,175,995. The municipal aid given has been: Ontario $10,409,041; Quebec 4,256,674; New Brunswick $316,500; Nova Scotia $289,685. The total amount of loans, bonuses, etc, promised to roads completed and under construction is $195,039,963 95.

The total earnings for the year were $51,685,768, and the expenses $36,488,228, leaving the net earnings at $15,197,540. The number of passengers carried is 18,533,414, of whom 14 were killed; 22,189,923 tons of freight were carried.

The following table of earnings is of interest:

	Gross earnings.	Net earnings.	Net deficit
Albert Southern	$ 152	$ .62
Buctouche & Moncton	12,453		5,506
Canada Eastern	83,130	23,332
Caraquet	18,890		2,180
Elgin, Petitcodiac and Havelock	10,496	195
Kent Northern	10,155	2,162
N. B. & P. E. Island	20,818	5,581
Salisbury and Harvey	22,835		371
Shore Line	34,962		10,879
Cumberland Coal Ry.	119,983	65,650
Douglas	18,319	7,829

The figures representing the business done by the New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island Railway during the year is as follows:

Passenger traffic	$ 5,902.07
Freight	13,658.44
Mails and express	1,167.57
	$20,818.08

OPERATING EXPENSES.

Maintenance line, buildings etc	$ 7,009.43
Working and repairs engine	5,009.38
" " cars	938.59
General expenses	2,780.12
Total	$15,236.54

This shows net earnings of $5,581 54, which we are informed is used to pay the interest on the one hundred thousand dollar issue of bonds made some time ago. It is complimentary to this road that each year it has met its interest charges regularly, a statement of fact that very few of the branch roads can make.

THE LOBSTER FISHERY.

A report devoted exclusively to the lobster fishing in Canada has been issued by the department of marine and fisheries Deputy Minister Smith in introducing the report states that beyond a doubt these fish are becoming fewer in number and smaller in size in many localities and that it has become a matter of imperative necessity that the regulations which have been passed from time to time with a view to protect the fish and prevent their extinction, be respected and enforced. The reproductive powers of the fish have been overestimated, the report says, and that although each female lobster produces from 12,000 to 20,000 eggs per season, the catch has been enormous, in 1891 at least 76,475,385 were taken. The lobster is not a great traveller and this explains why certain localities may be irretrievably injured through persistent fishing Quoting Supt Neilson of Newfoundland, the report says that the only way in which the industry can be fostered is by artificial propagation, by having a short season, by allowing factories only at stated points, or by regulating the construction of the traps. The report hints that the license system may be instituted in order to bring the fishing under control. Last year 186 factories were operated in New Brunswick, having 172 022 traps. The catch is given as 3,204,320 cans, and 1,132 tons valued at $493,804. In 1891 the catch was 3,330,120 cans and 922 tons, valued at $503,096. The highest value was in 1884, when $900,580 were realized out of lobsters. In Nova Scotia there are 182 factories and on the Island 212, which packed last year 2,819,572 cans, valued at $394,739. Although there were more factories on the Island than in New Brunswick the pack in the mainland was much greater. In Canada the catch last year was 12,524,497 cans, valued at $1,758,425 and 6,028 tons, valued at $238,300, a total of $1,996,725. In Westmorland county 920,000 cans, valued at $128,000, and 200 tons, valued at $8,000, were taken.

The Post regrets that it is not able to give the pack of each factory in the county as in previous years. The information it was enabled to give its readers through the courtesy of a gentleman then in the fishery service, who has since severed his connection with it, and the only person who has the statistics now is Inspector Chapman. Mr. Chapman says he has made it a rule to give no information to the papers and the secret will remain forever locked in his own breast We are not aware that the publication of these figures has ever caused any inconvenience but we are aware that local and foreign buyers were able at once to open correspondence for lobsters and that probably sales were made by our packers quicker and better through the buyers knowing just where to look for what they wanted.

Provincial Parliament.

FREDERICTON, APRIL 11.—Mr. Powell in Indroducing the bill to amend the Controverted Elections act, said its object was to provide for such cases as of Dr. Atkinson and others, in which the returning officer had improperly returned one of the candidates, and also to prevent the absurdity of the present law by which parties petitioned against could by resigning throw all the cost upon the petitioner. The government had announced in the Atkinson petition that the supreme court was the proper place to decide the question, and this bill gave the court the same power it had in dominion controverted elections to remedy such cases. The government doubt'ess would in pursuance of their avowed declaration support the measure. Mr. Blair said he was not sufficiently familiar with the election law to know whether the provisions of this bill were appropriate or not, but all such measures should emanate from the government, and he would call upon the house to reject the bill.

Dr. Stockton claimed that the bill overcame a pressing want and should be supported in view of the announced policy of the government that such matters should not be decided upon by the house. Mr Phinney stated that in his opinion the bill was a most desirable one, as it did away with the anomalies of the present law and gave an opportunity to persons desirous of purifying elections to work out the law. The bill was rejected on a strict party vote.

April 12.—Mr. Blair committed a bill relating to the Lunatic Asylum threw upon the municipalities the cost of paying for the pauper insane. The exact wording of the clause is as follows:

In case of pauper lunatics who may be in the asylum when this section comes into operation, or who should be thereafter admitted, the expense of maintenance shall be chargeable on the respective municipalities in which case they have obtained legal settlements, and the same shall in each case be a charge on each municipality in the first instance, but shall be assessed by the municipality upon the parish in which such lunatic has his legal settlement, and shall be levied and collected in the same manner as poor rates are now assessed, levied and collected. The amount of each charge shall in each case be at the rate of $1.25 per week for each pauper lunatic confined in the asylum, the time to be reckoned from the date on which the section comes into effect in all cases then in asylum, and from the time when such cases shall in the judgement of the commissioners come within either of the class of cases herein before mentioned in the case of those admitted after this section shall come into operation.

This is an entire change of the present law. Under this law the province will realize about $30,000 a year from this class of lunatics over and above what is now charged for the same service

April 13.—Dr. Stockton opened up a debate on the general financial condition of the province It came out that already 7, or $8,000 had been paid to the Woodstock bridge contractors for extras and Mr. Pinder stated that the two Carleton county members had already cost the country $50,000.

The floating debt of the province is between $100,000 and $150,000.

Mr. Wells presented the petition of Geo. Oulton, Geo. L. Allen and one hundred and forty others, ratepayers of Westmorland, praying for an aboideau across Timber river, Westmorland county.

April 14.—Mr. Smith (Westmorland) committed the bill authorizing the Moncton city council to provide a system of lighting for said city. Mr. Smith explained that the bill proposed to give power to the city of Moncton to erect its own lighting system.

Mr. Killam supported the bill. The Moncton council were unanimous in its favor. The bill proposed that the council had power to take over the plant of the existing company.

Mr. Stockton thought in justice to all concerned the bill should stand till next session.

Mr Kiliam spoke again, stating that he was willing that the bill should be amended so that the city might not come into competition with the existing company in supplying customers with electricity.

Mr. Powell said he would support the bill as amended.

Mr. Emmerson strongly supported bill, and Mr. Smith (Westmorland) spoke again in its favor.

Mr Wells would support the bill, but would have preferred that it had been allowed to go through in its original shape.

Agreed to with amendments.

Mr. Powell committed the bill to lessen registry fees and to provide for the payment of salaries of registrars of deeds. Mr. Powell spoke at some length as to the excessive fees obtained by registrars. In Westmorland county the receipts of the registrar amounted $4,500, and the entire work was done by a clerk who received $500. In Kings the registrar received in fees over $2,000, though he was a non-resident and his work was performed by an assistant at a salary of about $300 or $400. It was absurd that these officials, who did nothing but clerical work of the most mechanical kind, should receive more than the judges of our superior courts. Even the fees he proposed were above those paid in the province of Nova Scotia.

Mr. Blair agreed that there were anomalies in respect to the fees received by registrars in some of the counties, but the bill did not meet the difficulty. The government had obtained accurate information from all the registrars a few years ago and it appeared that in one or two of the larger counties the fees derived were excessive. They had considered the idea of appointing registrars at a fixed salary in there counties, the registry fees to go into the provincial exchequer, but the representatives from Westmorland had objected to this proposal and demanded that the fees should be paid to the county. The subject was a large one, and while some remedial measure was necessary it was to late to deal with the suebjct now. He moved that progress be reported.

April 15.—The house prorogued at 10 30 this morning, after the acts passed were read and given the Royal assent.

The statue is to be of bronze 9 feet high. Models to be one-fourth that size. The artist whose model is accepted, will receive a premium of $500, to next in order of merit $300 and the next $200.

—Your correspondent heard an interesting conversation to day in which a prominent liberal supporter of the local government referring to Premier Mowatt's announcement that the Ontario provincial elections would not take place this year, said that Premier Fielding had decided to dissolve the legislature and appeal to the country immediately after the close of the present session. The reason given was that the Whitney coal deal was not popular, and that the government were in financial straits which rendered it expedient to appeal to the electors before the existing disaffection becomes too pronounced. The source of the information affords good grounds for the belief that there is a general election pending. — Amherst cor. Herald.

That Bayfield Case.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE POST:—

SIR:—Mr. Charles E. Knapp must guess again, for he is as far from knowing who "D" is as he is from making the people believe, he wrote the article signed "C." The sophistry that he thought the initial "C" sufficient to indicate the cognomen Knapp, while the letter was dated Bayfield, where I am happy to say no such person dwells, is as absurd to suppose a man would write a letter exposing himself for not enforcing the criminal law when it was his duty so to do. Does not such an act establish the fitness of the titles which Mr. Knapp has disowned as his.

I want to know if Mr. Knapp does not betray in his letter that trait with which his face is so visibly stamped; when he accuses "D" of abusing a minister whose only offence seems to be that the latter does not see eye to eye with him in denominational matters. Why is not that minister in a position to defend himself? He is not known as being any more scrupulous than Mr. Knapp himself; nor does he profess any more than Mr. Knapp aspires to and yet the latter will throw off his ministerial gown that it may not be defiled while the animal fights.

Mr. Editor, the answer is apparent. Again, is not Mr. Knapp guilty of what he accuses "D" of having done, when he (Knapp) attacks two professional men who are innocent of his charges and know their duty too well to be dragged into a controversey so ridiculous to society. The man who applies himself as faithfully to his profession as the doctor and divine referred to have to theirs, would not give himself over in his gray hairs, so servile to a churlish snob nor puppet to a people's scorn.

I am more sorry I am sure for the aged Knapp than he is for the youthful "D" and will excuse him without "an apology for his own good;" and trust that he will not again cumber your columns and tire your readers with his "da da" the incoherent twaddle of his second childhood.

Yours Truly,

"D"
