MAINE STATE STILL REPUBLICAN

Fernald Elected Governor, Prohibition Being Principal Issue.

Augusta, Me., Sept. 14. — Late tonight it was estimated that Bertrand M. Fernald, the Republican nominee for governor, had a majority of about 8,000 in the biennial election, which was held today, or about the same margin as that given Gov. Cobb, Republican, over his Democratic opponent, Davis, of Waterville, in the election two years ago.

In 1904 the Republical plurality was 26,816.

The Republicans have carried 11 of the 16 county tickets, have elected their four candidates to Congress, and have chosen a legislature which will be overwhelmingly Republican.

The prohibitory liquor law issue very largely entered into this election, and the vote of the cities and the larger towns, which is favorable to the Democrats hinged largely upon the so-called liquor question.

Bert M. Fernald, the Republican candidate for governor, declared that he was not only in favor of prohibition, but that he was absolutely opposed to the re-submission of the constitutional amendment which prohibits the manufacture and sale of intoxicants.

Mr. Gardner, the Democratic candidate, was outspoken in favor of re-submission, and denounced in the strongest possible language what he alleged was hypocrisy in the present enforcement of the prohibition law.

BLIND TEN YEARS REGAINS HER SIGHT

Operation Restores Vision, and Reads Bible and Papers.

Chatham, Ont., Sept. 15. — After being blind for over ten years, and for the last two years an inmate of the Kent House of Refuge, Mrs. William French, aged 62 years, today sees as well as she did before fate drew a veil of darkness over her existence.

Her unfortunate condition had been caused by a cataract forming in each eye. County Physician Dr. C. R. Charteris was from the first deeply interested in the case, and several months ago drew the attention of Dr. George W. Fletcher to it. An operation was performed a few weeks ago, which was highly successful, and today she is able to walk about the place unaided, and, like a new-born babe, takes an intense interest in all around her. She now plucks flowers and reads the Bible and newspapers. Her case had at first been deemed hopeless.

THE KING EDWARD RELEASED.

Port Elgin, Sept. 15—The passenger steamer King Edward, of the Algoma Central Navigation Company's line, which grounded off Chantry Island in Lake Huron on Sept. 5, was released by the large tug Ottawa, of the Reid Wrecking Company's fleet, and towed down to Port Elgin harbor for temporary repairs. The diver on examining the bottom of the King Edward, found a crack about eight feet long. After receiving the temporary repairs, the King Edward left in tow of the tugs Ottawa and J. M. Diver, for Collingwood dry dock.

MET HEAVY WEATHER.

Albany, Western Australia, Sept. 15.—The battleship Kansas, which remained behind at Melbourne to pick up stragglers from the American fleet, sailing from that port several days days after her sister ships, arrived here today. She encountered tempestuous weather.

The governor of West Australia, Admiral Sir F. G. D. Bedford, reviewed 2,500 of the bluejackets and marines from the American warships.

SPLENDID DISPLAY BY CITY GAS CO.

Dainty Rooms Fitted Up Like Modern Dwelling—Object Lessons.

The City Gas Company and the Gas Appliance Company of this city, have big exhibits at the Western Fair and nearly all spaces in the buildings are lighted by gas.

In the Main Building the City Gas Company and the Gas Appliance have dainty rooms fitted up as the modern family kitchen and the home parlor. The kitchen has the McClary gas stove, with the hot water attachments and a sink with hot and cold water faucets. The gas stove has the special acquipment which may be attached to any stove made by the McClary Company. By means of this attachment hot water may be had at any time, but only the water used is heated. When the gas heater is cut off the water comes through the pipe direct from the city mains. A great saving is therefore made in the amount of gas used.

The Gas Appliance Company has many fixtures throughout the buildings on the grounds. The large arc dome Welsbach gaslight is a distinctive feature. The light is a money-saver in that although no matches are needed to light it, the gas is not burning while the lamp is not in use. Many of these lights are in use in the piano and other exhibits. The Main Building is lighted throughout with Welsbach lights supplied by the Gas Appliance Company, as are the Poultry and Dairy Buildings. The latter two are illuminated with 400 candle-power lamps.

A striking example of the difference in these lights and others is shown by the fact that last evening the Poultry Building had a much larger crowd than the Main Building owing to better light at the former. At times it was practically impossible to get through the Poultry Building on account of the crowd. A large number of arc lights have been installed in the Main Building, and the increased light afforded is very noticeable.

An interesting exhibit is the group of Welsbach inverted reflex lights. They are very good illuminators, and are also gas savers.

The City Gas Company is also making good at the Fair. All dining halls, including those beneath the grandstands, are using gas for lighting and cooking, the company having recently laid the mains throughout the grounds.

The McClary Manufacturing Company has an exhibit in the Main Building which requires the use of a 12 horsepower engine. Gas is being used for the purpose with good results.

Specimens of gas coke are being shown by the City Gas Company. Gas is gradually taking the place of coal for heating, and the company is issuing an interesting booklet, "There Is Just One Reason." It tells why gas coke is better than other fuel. Gas coke will burn ton for ton with other coal, and gives greater heat. Then the retail price of this fuel is much less than that of other coal. A person accustomed to the use of coke has more genuine comfort during the winter than the person who sticks to the hard coal. There is no cause to worry over genuine gas coke. No dust, no clinker, no annoyance, and the danger from coal gas is lessened considerably. It requires less kindling, and is cheaper all round. No kindling is needed if the gas kindler is used. The company freely admits that it takes a little more coke than hard coal, but at that the consumer wins out, in that he gets more for his money.

Some inexperienced people have the idea that coke is injurious to grates. This is not the case if the company's directions are followed. If the directions are followed there will be no trouble with warping bars. Coke will burn in any furnace, although it is advisable to have a little fine coke on hand.

It would be well to visit the companies' booths at the Fair, and secure prices on gas and fixtures.

THE HEINTZMAN PIANOS.

The piano exhibit of Heintzman & Co., 242 Dundas street, is one of the most beautiful at the Western Fair, Flemish oak, mahogany, rosewood and other pianos are exhibited in a beautifully-decorated parlor. The walls are covered with handsome oil paintings, which give a very homelike effect. The Flemish oak piano is a decidedly pretty one, and is the desired thing for the gentleman's den. It is wired and fitted with electric lights on either end, which are shaded with a pretty art glass globe. The piano is guaranteed to stand any usage, and the finish cannot be injured by handling, as is the case with inferior instruments. Another new style piano on exhibition is the Miniature Grand. It is much smaller than the Baby Grand and has the same volume of tone. The special X piano and the Marquetry instrument is also being shown. The firm of Heintzman & Co., is the only one manufacturing the instrument fitted with the transposing equipment. By shifting a small lever the keyboard may be moved to the proper key. This piano is particularly adapted to the uses of the vocalist, as it may be arranged instantly to suit any voice. The Heintzman Company is certainly flourishing in this vicinity, having recently opened up a suite of the most beautiful warerooms in Canada. There is a recital hall in connection with the new store, which has a seating capacity of 300.

It's Expensive to Use Bad Language

Magistrate Love is determined if possible to put a stop to disorderly conduct and loud talk on the city streets, and James Beattie and James Angles, two young men who were arrested last night for using bad language downtown, were each fined $5 in court this morning.

R. McKee, an Indian lister, went into a hotel to get a cigar. He stated in court that he forgot for the moment that he was on the prohibited list. The police, however, did not forget, and McKee was fined $10 with $2 costs, and warned that he must not go anywhere near a hotel.

Henry L. Smale was charged by Park Commissioner Pearce with tying his cow to trees belonging to the city, and damaging them to such an extent that they died. Magistrate Love, after hearing the evidence, ordered Mr. Smale to make good the damage done.

J. Weaver, the young man who assaulted Frank Edison during Old Boys' week, and then fled to Detroit, was balled in the sum of $100 to keep the peace, and was allowed to go, as he and Mr. Edison have come to satisfactory arrangements regarding the loss of time occasioned to the latter by his injuries.

W. Blackwell charged with assault by Teresa Karn, was bound over in the sum of $200 to keep the peace towards her in future.

Frank O'Neil, a drunk, was fined $3, and several first-timers were allowed to go.

Traffic Is Very Heavy on Railroads

The railroads today report that traffic is very good, but not so heavy as it is expected to be for the next three days. All the trains are carrying special coaches, and special rates for the Western Fair are now offered.

Hotelmen report that they have had a busy day, and keepers of restaurants are looking ahead and getting in big supplies of all kinds of eatable. All the amusements down town were kept busy handling the crowds, and this evening will be busier than ever.

FOR A $25 SIDE BET.

Two Citizens Engage in Footrace to the Fair Grounds.

A race, which was pulled off last evening between Mr. Harry Andrews and John Taylor from the Windsor Hotel to the Fair Grounds, made the sports at the Franco-British Exposition look like children's day at a country fair.

Mr. Andrews is the bartender at the Windsor, and his adversary a man of 65 years. The race was started at 6:30, and very good time was made to the grounds, Taylor finishing first, with Andrews somewhere down the road. He led for a while, but tripped, and lost the race.

The race was for a $25 side bet.

MISSIONARY WORK IN SOUTH AMERICA.

Interesting Lecture Given in Gospel Hall by Mr. J. Crane.

Mr. John Crane, the missionary recently returned from Venezuela, gave a very interesting lecture on the work of the missionary in South America at the Gospel Hall, East London, last evening.

Mr. Crane stated that the difficulties encountered by the missionary are many, and that although the natives are courteous, they are, in his estimation, deceitful. Catholicity holds full sway, and it is almost impossible to bring the natives to a public meeting in any number. But it is not the orator who does the most work, for the man going from door to door secures a much better hearing. The largest public meeting ever held was attended by about 80 persons. Eight or ten idlers are often found in shops, and the missionary there gets his opportunity to talk about the Bible.

Although the tract method of missionaries is often successful, there is much difficulty encountered. When the missionary passes along the day after the tracts have been distributed, he often finds the literature torn up and deposited neatly on the doorstep. This is very discouraging. The country is about as large as France, Germany and Italy, but the population reaches only 2,500,000. A large portion of the country is still unexplored, although it has been attempted by men who have never returned. The Indians living in the interior are all heathen, who have never associated with white people. They are continually revolting, and have threatened to overthrow England, France, United States and other countries.

In closing, Mr. Crane spoke of the bubonic plague. It is transmitted to rodents by a small insect, after which the former contaminates the human being. Twenty-four hours after contamination, the victim dies. There is no known cure for the dread disease.

Mr. Crane, who is a native of London, Eng., left last evening for Detroit, where he will attend a convention of "Christian Believers."

The harvest thanksgiving services will be held next Sunday, and the church is being tastefully decorated for the occasion. Rev. Mr. Hughes will officiate at the services.
