BASEBALL.

THE MORNING GAME.

The weather in the morning was bright and clear, so an enthusiastic and large crowd gathered at Tecumseh Park to see the game between the Londons and Detroits. It did not prove either as close a contest or as well played a game as either of Friday or Saturday with the same teams, the fielding of both being loose and none of the pitchers doing very effective work. Detroit's hitting was timely and London's was not, London's errors were costly and Detroit's were not—that was the combination which defeated the Tecumsehs. Mickey Jones took the box and Wheelock hit his first ball for two bases, Higgins, Campau, Goodfellow and Virtue also made singles, and but for loose base running by Campau and Smith the fireworks might have continued indefinitely. Such slugging was not what London wanted, so Maguire and Roche took the place of the former battery. Maguire did better work, but the Detroits bunched two-thirds of their hits in the sixth and eighth innings and were helped to score by rather bad errors.

After the three runs had been made in the first Donnelly scored in the third on a base on balls, a steal and Goodfellow's hit, while in the fourth Virtue got first on Wright's error stole second and third and scored on Rhue's sacrifice. In the sixth Parks threw wild to first. Virtue made a single, Hulin a double and Wheelock a single, which with Roche's error and a wild pitch netted the Wolverines four more. On the eighth Wright had a chance to retire Virtue, but muffed the ball; Hulin and Rhue went out but Lutenberg made another error, Higgins, Donnelly and Campau made hits and four more unearned runs were added to the string.

For London in the third Wright got first by forcing Friel out at second and was brought home on hits by Lutenberg and Reidy. In the fourth, errors by Virtue and Wheelock, with Maguire's hit, gave another. In the sixth Hiland got his base on balls and scored finally on Friel's hit. Leighton made London's last run in the ninth by securing first on balls and getting the assistance of hits by Wright and Lutenberg and Friel's sacrifice.

The game was a peculiar one. Smith was by no means a Chinese puzzle to London as can be seen by the base-hit column. However, the same man Smith was very watchful of the bases, and the Tecumsehs died easily at the hands of the Detroit battery whenever they tried to steal bases. The men belonging to the Wolverines played with a dash, and were lucky enough to make their mistakes and be steady at points where it was best. The umpiring was not as satisfactory as McLaughlin has been doing. London seemed to get the best of all the close decisions, but on one occasion, when a clean hit inside third by Hiland was called a foul, he leaned decidedly the other way. The score was as follows:

NOTES OF THE GAMES.

Twice!

Campau was angry.

Wheelock is a sprinter.

A slugging match and a pitcher's battle.

The total attendance totaled over 5,000.

Wanted—Better luck. Apply at the ball grounds.

London's citizens showed old-time interest in the game.

Detroit had to hustle to take three out of four from London.

Wright's former phenomenal work is being evened up now.

Now that Banning has a fractured arm, Goodfellow is more than earning his salary.

"Knauss so bad, but bad enough," said a punster, when a Tecumseh was struck out.

London made seventeen hits yesterday—not a bad day's batting. Detroit secured nineteen.

If Jones was hit for five singles and one double in one inning, how many would have been made in nine innings with the same battery?

"Wait till we get you on our grounds," said Campau in a tell-my-big-brother-on-you tone of voice. The crowd laughed at him till it wept.

The Detroit men spent several dollars in big firecrackers, and set them off on the grounds before the afternoon game. It was an attempt to start fireworks, but it did not work. Although they won, they could not pound Demaris.

In the sixth inning of the afternoon Hulin sprained his leg enough to stop the game for five minutes. He was sliding to third. Goodfellow took his place on the bag, but the little left-fielder took his place on the green in a few minutes.

A game of baseball was played here yesterday morning between the Corkers of Ward 6 and the Beavers of Ward 5, resulting in favor of the Beavers by a score of 14 to 6. Batteries—For Beavers, Fallis and Cripps; for Corkers, Compass and Kearns.

At the conclusion of Sunday's game at Three Rivers, N. Y., where the Syracuse Stars and Louisvilles were playing, part of the grand stand fell in with a crash, and 50 persons went down with it, but fortunately no one was seriously injured. A number were taken out from under timbers.

The old Star B. B. C., of London West, which has been dormant for the past four years, has held a meeting and reorganized for 1890, with the following officers: Manager, Thos. Jeffries; captain, J. Collins; secretary, H. Payne. They are now ready to receive challenges from any club in the city.

With the bases full, Haddock at New York (P. L.) made a fearfully wild pitch that went clear to the backstop. O'Day, on third, started for home, but Mack secured the ball on the first rebound from the backstop, and throwing it to Haddock, who was covering the plate, caught the runner, and Umpire Ferguson said he was out. Ewing immediately claimed that the ball had passed the catcher 90 feet, and consequently the runner was entitled to the case. Measurement showed that it was 89 feet to the backstop.

CRICKET.

THE FIRST LOCAL MATCH.

The match yesterday between the South London and Asylum clubs was close and exciting. The wicket was very dead, almost too wet for cricket, and the players very much out of practice, most of them not having seen a cricket bat since last August. Messrs. Butler, England and Sippi and Drs. Beemer and Fairchild for the asylum showed they had not forgotten the art, while London South's old standbys Messrs. Pope, J. H. Pope, H. C. Pope, Green and Tanner did well both in batting and bowling, while a new aspirant, Mr. Parnell hit up the winning runs in good style. The score is appended; the last three men in the asylum team being from "D" Company, I. S. C., Club. South London Cricket Club will be seen to have been the victors by two wickets.

A Dinner Pill.—Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment it becomes a poison to the sytem. Dr. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions and convert the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with Indigestion or Dyspepsia.

Vegetable Diseases.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has just issued bulletin No. 11 of the Section of Vegetable Pathology. This publication, prepared by B. T. Galloway, chief of the section, is a report on the experiments made in 1889 in the treatment of several important plant diseases. The work was carried on in nine States, embracing nearly every variety of soil and climate and the results as set forth are as a whole highly encouraging, despite the fact that the season was one of the worst ever known for fungous diseases of all kinds. The diseases under treatment were scab, rust and bitter rot of the apple; powdery mildew, downy mildew, leaf-blight, anthracnose and black rot of the grape; leaf-blight of the pear; leaf-blight, rust and fire-blight of the quince; leaf-blight of the strawberry; rust and leaf-blight of the blackberry; rot and blight of the potato, tomato and melon. Considerable space is devoted to a summary of volunteer reports on vine diseases, from which it appears that nearly everyone who followed the directions laid down by the department succeeded in saving the greater part of their crop. From all accounts it would seem that the Bordeaux mixture, containing 6 pounds of copper and 4 pounds of lime to 22 gallons of water, is still the most reliable remedy for grape diseases. The results, however, of the treatment with the ammoniacal carbonate of copper solution are highly encouraging, and lead to the belief that in ordinary seasons it will be the cheapest, most desirable and effective remedy. One great advantage it possesses over the Bordeaux mixture, is that it does not spot the fruit, which is a matter of importance, especially where the grapes are used for the table. Mr. Galloway suggests that the Bordeaux mixture be used for the first three treatments after which the ammoniacal solution be substituted for the rest of the season. Apple scab was treated in Wisconsin and Michigan with remarkably satisfactory results, the best remedies being the ammoniacal solution and modified eau celeste. By the application of these preparations at a total cost of 25 cents per tree, the yield of fruit free from scab was from 60 to 75 per cent. greater than on trees of the same variety not treated. The Wisconsin treatment and mixture were recently described in the ADVERTISER.
