British Grain Trade.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—The Mark Lane Express in its weekly review of the British grain trade says: A lack of dry heat has caused the harvest to be late, but in few cases has it been unfavorably affected. The next fortnight, however, is the critical period for the failure or success of the crops. English wheat has been in slow sale at 38s to 39s for red and 40s to 41s for ordinary white. Many of the exchanges are almost empty and business has been extremely limited. Foreign wheat advanced slightly. In spring grain the trade was in favor of holders for barley, oats, pulse and corn, while lentils and rye were stronger. To-day English wheat was so scarce as to be practically unquotable. In foreign wheat there was a small advance in spot. Russian wheat was stiffly supported. Samples of American red winter wheat were received to-day by post and were eagerly scanned, as a large surplus of that quality of wheat is expected and has greatly affected the markets. Good milling is usually shown. Flour was dull. The scarcity of barley prevented a decline in the prices of that cereal, but the market could not be called firm. Swedish oats were firm and English oats were almost unobtainable. Corn was firm but inactive. Pulse was sometimes salable at an advance of 6d.

THE SCOTCH TRADE.

EDINBURGH, Aug. 1.—John Swan & Son's weekly report says: The supply of home-fed cattle in Edinburgh was extremely small, consequently there was a sharp advance in value, even though the warm weather was against the trade. In Glasgow there was also a small show of home cattle, and they too met a fair trade. There have been about 1,100 Canadian cattle shown of a very good class. A large lot of these were taken for short keep. At Yorkhill there has been about 1,000 head of States cattle, which are reported to have met a fairly good demand. Fat cows and bulls have not made any more money.

Fat sheep have been shown in fairly large numbers. The best descriptions were easily sold at fair prices, but secondary made less money. Lambs are coming to hand in large numbers; for those of good quality a good demand is experience, but secondary sorts, which formed the bulk of the supply, made 1s a head under previous rates.

Calves were a much smaller show and they made more money, while pigs, although shown in small numbers, met a very dragging trade at rather lower prices.

Store sheep and cattle have been shown in small numbers, and they met only a moderate inquiry. Milch cows met a very bad trade at £1 to £2 a head less money.

Best beef, 9s 3d; secondary, 8s 9d; inferior, 7s 6d per stone. Best mutton, 8½d; secondary, 7½d to 7¾d per lb.

Kings Daughters in South London.

The annual meeting of the order of the King's Daughters of St. James' Church, South London, was held in the Bible class-room of the Sunday school Monday evening. Reports of the year's work were handed in, the members having been busy in the lines they chose. The chief object of their work is to look after the poor and needy, and to do all in the name of Christ. The jail, hospital, aged men's and women's homes have been visited regularly and many outside helped and cheered in times of trouble. The officers were all changed with the exception of the president, Miss Pacey, who was retained. Miss Johnstone is vice-president, Miss Hoare secretary, Miss Fewings treasurer, and Miss P. McNamara organist. The convention to be held in Toronto on Oct. 6, 7 and 8 was a subject of discussion. Members from the whole Dominion are requested to attend or send a substitute.

Fatal Accident at Hyde Park.

Wm. Steele, age 70, a well-to-do farmer of London township, was run over and killed by a west-bound passenger train at the Hyde Park crossing of the London, Huron and Bruce Railway last evening. He had been to the city and was returning home with a wagon-load of flour. The team of horses escaped unhurt. Mr. Steele was well known in the county. The inquest takes place to-day at Hyde Park.

Hon. G. W. Ross on the Coast.

Hon. G. W. Ross, Minister of Education for the Province of Ontario, arrived here to-day on his first visit to the Western Province of the Dominion. He is accompanied by Mrs. Ross, and has made an easy trip through from Winnipeg, where they stopped over a day or so. In Ontario Mr. Ross is regarded as one of the most advanced Liberals, and one, too, who has possibly a more thorough belief in the ultimate greatness of Canada than any other Liberal in the country. In answer to an inquiry he said he had enjoyed his trip out here immensely, and what he had seen had convinced him more than ever of the inestimable value of the Canadian heritage. For some years he had been anxious to see the western country, but had been detained by official business. Last year he had even secured tickets, but at the last moment was prevented from leaving Toronto. He leaves here in a day or two for Victoria, and hopes to get back to Toronto by Sept. 1.—[Vancouver World, Aug. 4.

The Glandon Company, of Boston, has failed. They were engaged in the general lumber trade and the manufacture of sash, blinds and interior furnishings. Last March the official statement was: Debts, $210,843; nominal assets, $431,839. The debts have since increased, while a forced sale of the assets would doubtless reduce their figures. The company ran large spruce lumber mills in New Brunswick.

The Street Railway Agreement—Fatal Fall.

TORONTO, Aug. 12.—The street railway difficulty is nearing a settlement one way or the other. City Solicitor Biggar yesterday morning telegraphed the mayor that the agreement of transfer had been drafted to the satisfaction of consul for the company, and Mr. S. H. Blake, Q.C., and himself for the city. The agreement will come before the Street Railway Committee at once, and if there are no sensational developments in the criminal libel proceedings at the Police Court it will probably go to a special meeting of the City Council for final action some time next week.

Edward Allingham fell down a flight of stairs yesterday morning and was fatally injured, dying at the hospital shortly after 6 o'clock in the evening.

Acting for ex-Ald. E. A. Macdonald, who has figured so prominently in connection with the street railway scandals, Mr. Hilton applied for an injunction to restrain the Empire from publishing news or comments or otherwise reflecting on Macdonald's connection with the case. On the other side an affidavit was produced from David Creighton stating that comments made had not been and would not be unreasonable. The case was enlarged until September, the judge refusing to make the order asked.

CRANE VERSUS CRANE.

Interesting Divorce Case—Married for Money and Didn't Get It.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—Mrs. Walter Beverley Crane, formerly Miss Alice Cooper, of New York, but more recently of Paris, has brought an action in the Divorce Division of her Majesty's High Court of Justice for the annulment of her marriage, on the ground that it was brought about through force and duress. Sir Henry James, for the petitioner, told her story in court to-day. The couple are cousins. Mrs. Crane alleges that while she was in London in 1888, Crane, whose offer of marriage she had rejected, invited her to visit St. Paul's Cathedral with him. She accepted the invitation, but instead of driving to St. Paul's, Crane, who had secured a special license without her knowledge, took her to the Church of St. Bride's, on Fleet street. On the way thither Crane drew a revolver and threatened that unless she married him immediately he would shoot himself. Miss Cooper was in delicate health and Crane's action was so sudden and unexpected that she was dazed and, hardly knowing what she was doing, she entered St. Bride's and was so frightened that she made no protest and went through a marriage ceremony with him. Upon the conclusion of the ceremony Mrs. Crane returned at once to her mother. Crane, apparently satisfied that he would obtain control of the money which he believed his wife possessed, returned to America shortly after his marriage. Letters have passed between Mrs. and Mr. Crane, but in them no mention is made of their marriage. Sir Henry James said the citation in the present action had been served upon the respondent in America. The respondent and his father had expressed regret that the lady was not as wealthy as they had supposed she was and had demanded the money, intimating that if proceedings to annul the marriage were not undertaken in England steps would be taken in the United States to set it aside. The solicitor for Mrs. Crane testified that he went to New York and saw Crane, who is a clerk in a real estate office. Mr. Crane said to him, "I went into it (the marriage) for her money. I don't care a cent for the girl. I thought she had money, but afterwards found she had none, or at least very little." The solicitor also testified that Crane asked him for money on condition that he (Crane) would make no defense in the action which Mrs. Crane would bring in the English court.
