BOW PARK FARM VISITED BY FORTY THOUSAND FIRE

Big Building Containing Horse s, Cattle, Agricultural Machinery and Hay, Entirely Consumed—Origin Believed to Be Incendiary—Secon d Conflagration Within a Few Months.

(Special to The Toronto World).

BRANTFORD, Dec. 8.—Thirty-three horses and six head of cattle perished in a disastrous fire believed to be of incendiary origin, at Bow Park farm, early Saturday morning. The fire makes the second of its kind suffered by the management within a few months.

Besides the horses and cattle valuable seeding and farm machinery, as well as hay and stock, was destroyed, and the total loss, it is estimated, will be around $40,000.

The fire was discovered at 3 o'clock when the entire loft seemed gone. The start undoubtedly was secured in the hay, and nothing could be done at that stage to stop it. In fact, it was so far advanced that an attempt could not be made to remove any of the horses. There appeared to be danger of other buildings catching fire, and all the manager and his staff could do was to direct their efforts to preventing further loss.

The big building, which was the scene of the blaze, consisted of the main stables of the farm. It was of brick construction with slate roof and had been standing for some years. The other buildings about were new, having just been completed, following the bad fire last spring.

Manager Herold was greatly chagrined over the loss and the nature of the fire. It was only recently announced that he, with a number of others, was interested in a syndicate to take over the Bow Park farm from the Dominion Canners Company. The deal had not been consummated, altho an official of the company announced in Toronto that it would likely go thru.

It was in the latter part of May this year that the first fire occurred. Twenty-two horses, eight colts and fifteen breeding sows were destroyed, besides three large buildings and equipment.

An investigation has been launched, the services of County Constable Kerr being called in.

ROWELL SPEAKS ON TAX REFORM

Tells Woodstock Liberals That Present Law Should Be Amended.

(Special to The Toronto World).

WOODSTOCK, Dec. 7.—Speaking before the North Oxford Liberal Association here, on Saturday afternoon, N. W. Rowell, K.C., leader of the Ontario opposition, referred to the assessment law, especially with reference to the tax on Sir Henry Pellatt's Toronto castle, which was reduced by Judge Winchester a few days ago.

Under the present system, said Mr. Rowell, the poor man had to pay his taxes, while the rich man escaped. He did not blame Sir Henry Pellatt for taking advantage of the law by getting his assessment reduced.

About a year ago, he continued, Sir James Whitney and Hon. W. J. Hanna, speaking in the legislature, stated that the present assessment law was all right, and that all that was needed was to have the law enforced. Any change, they said, would make it worse instead of better.

The present law, he repeated, legislated in favor of the rich man, and, in his opinion, if there was to be any differentiation, it should be in favor of the poor man.

He referred to the vote in Toronto last year in favor of tax reform, and said that if the wish of the people had been carried out, workmen's taxes in Toronto by this time would have been reduced.

FEDERAL REVENUE SHOWS INCREASE

Fair Gain for Eight Months Despite Shrinkage in Customs.

(Special to The Toronto World).

OTTAWA, Dec. 7.—The total revenue of the Dominion for the first eight months of the present fiscal year amounts to $114,646,295, which is about four and one-quarter millions increase over the same period last year. Customs revenue which amounted to $75,001,169 shows about a million dollars decrease. There is an increase of half a million in excise, of $675,000 in post-office revenue, and of nearly one and one-half millions in public works, which includes railways. The revenue from the Chinese poll tax amounted to $2,230,296.

The net debt of the Dominion is $303,115,195, which is a decrease of four and one-half millions since November, 1912.

Guelph Reporter is Successful in Eighteen Cases and Was Not Caught.

GUELPH, Dec. 6.—(Can. Press.)—A local newspaper reporter, in looking for material for a story, started to pass a bogus 25-cent piece on the stores around town, afterwards informing the dealer that he had done so, and getting the coin back. Before he was thru he passed the bogus coin in no less than 18 places, always sliding it across the counter to avoid letting its sound be heard.

SLIPPED HANDCUFFS OFF AND RACED TO RIVER

Special to The Sunday World.

MONTREAL, Dec. 6.—Edward Barry did not like the prospect of a term in Bordeaux Jail, so when he was being removed from the court house to the car to go out to the prison, he slipped the "nippers" off his wrists and bolted. He raced across the Champ de Mars and up the side streets, with police and detectives hot on his trail. They lost him, however, in the maze. Then he visited his mother's house and demanded money, which she refused. He tore off to the river, muttering that "he would end it all." So far he has not been found on land or in the water.

NO DIFFICULTY TO PROCURE TOBACCO

Convict at the Pen. Inquiry Clinches Argument by Bootleg Exhibit.

THE TUBBING PROCESS

One Prisoner Not Permitted to Write Letter Home in Italian.

(Special to The Toronto World).

KINGSTON, Dec. 7.—Quite a sensation was sprung at this afternoon's session of the prison reform commission, when a convict declared there was traffic in tobacco at the penitentiary, and that any convict who wanted it had no difficulty in securing it. The convict followed up his statement by producing half a plug of smoking tobacco from his bootleg.

The commission has now real evidence of the fact that tobacco finds its way behind prison walls, and, altho no statement has been made, it is generally understood that the commission in its report to the government will ask that a moderate supply of tobacco be provided convicts as a means of keeping proper discipline in the big prison.

That guards made a rake-off for tobacco they got into the "pen" for convicts was another startling statement by certain convicts, who refused to give the names of the guards, fearing persecution.

Another charge by a convict was that prisoners had died as the result of neglect in the hospital.

One convict declared that a prisoner who was "tubbed" and beaten by a guard one day died the same night.

Dr. Phelan informed the commission that the convict referred to dropped dead from apoplexy.

An interesting point was brought out in the evidence of a young Italian, who complained that under prison rules he could not write a letter in Italian to his wife in Italy. The rules said he must write in English, but, as his wife could not read English, it was no good for him to write in that language.

The commission ordered him to write his letter in Italian, and leave it with the warden, who would see that it was mailed.

At the morning session, the "tubbing" system was very much in the limelight.

Samuel McCormick, a guard, who did duty in the insane ward, told how a colored convict had been given this treatment. The convict was strapped and given two "dips" in the water. He knew of other convicts, who had been placed in the tub. Each one had been given this treatment for misconduct.

One man given a "tubbing" was in the insane ward, altho the witness declared that he knew well enough what he was doing. The convict was "tubbed" without an order from the superior officers. The convict attempted to bite an ear off one of his guards and for this he was punished. An order was received from the surgeon not to do any "tubbing" and it was stopped for a time, but afterwards resumed when convicts became unruly.

The convicts he had reference to were undressed before being bathed.

"I could not say that any guard had been persecuted by the deputy warden or that the deputy had shown any favoritism to any guards," said one witness when questioned.

Several guards were named, but the witness declared he could not say that any of them had been shown favoritism.

"There are no real easy posts," said the witness. "Every post has hard duty. If a man does his duty he will find lots of hard work."

Ross Davis, another guard, asked about favoritism shown guards by the deputy, said:

"I don't think he was just fair in all cases." He added that on one occasion he had asked to get half a day off to do some important business. The deputy refused, altho he allowed other guards a half day off.

75-CENT EGGS.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Dec. 5.—(Special.)—Welland county farmers predict that the price of eggs will be 75 cents a dozen before Christmas. They are now selling at 60 cents a dozen. The price on the American side is 56 cents. The farmers say the high price of hen fruit is due to the increase in the cost of food.

OTTAWA'S WATER SUPPLY IS BAD

Canada's Reputation Suffers in Europe Says Exhibition Commissioner.

IMMIGRATION AFFECTED

"Better Not Go to Canada," is Often Heard Across Atlantic.

(Special to The Toronto World.)

OTTAWA, Dec. 7.—That the position of Ottawa with regard to its water supply has become a menace to the reputation of Canada in European countries, is the statement of Mr. Hutchison, Canadian Exhibition Commissioner, who has just returned from Belgium.

He states that one often hears it said across the Atlantic, "Better not go to Canada. Bad water in Ottawa. You will get typhoid."

In the mind of many Europeans Ottawa is confused with Canada, and the fact that the capital of this country is still dallying with and fighting over its water supply, is causing anxious thought to the government. It is affecting immigration.

The situation is peculiar. A year ago J. A. Ellis, M.L.A., finding typhoid epidemic becoming common and nothing being done to get a pure water supply, ran for mayor on the platform of getting the best British engineers available to suggest a plan and going thru with it at once. He was elected, and he proceeded to at once carry out his pledges. He was assisted by the Borden government. Sir Alexander Binnie came and decided in favor of water from the Gatineau hills. The city council decided to go ahead. An injunction was got out by a man name Clarey, who thinks the Ottawa River is good enough, and Judge Lennox decided in favor of Clarey on a technicality. The city council negatived Judge Lennox's finding by voting over again to go ahead, but there are promises of other injunctions.

Meanwhile, says Mr. Hutchison, Ottawa abroad is confused with Canada, and Canada is suffering from the evil repute of her capital.

AIMED AT WAGON, HIT HORSE.

BROCKVILLE, Dec. 7.—(Special.)—One of a party of four boys, on a shooting expedition just outside the corporation limits, took a pop at a passing delivery wagon with a 32-cal.bre rifle. He aimed at the tailboard but the bullet went wide of the mark and lodged in the leg of the horse, which is thought to be permanently injured.

RIDING ON WRONG SIDE.

GUELPH, Dec. 7.—(Special.)—Geo. A. Coons, a machinist, while riding a bicycle on the wrong side of the road on Woolwich street, was run down by an automobile last evening, getting badly cut about the head and having his shoulder dislocated. He was removed to the General Hospital, where it was found that his injuries, altho serious, would not prove fatal.

DROPPED FROM THIRD STOREY.

GUELPH, Dec. 7.—(Special.)—A young lad, brought from a neighboring township, on Friday and placed in the children's shelter, dropped, from a third storey window at that institution this morning, in an attempt to escape from confinement. He was picked up in a semi-conscious condition and removed to the hospital. The extent of his injuries has not yet been ascertained.

INJURED IN A RUNAWAY.

GUELPH, Dec. 7.—(Special.)—G. Strome, a Guelph Township farmer, was seriously injured yesterday evening, when his horses took fright on Neeve street and ran away, throwing him out on the roadway. At first he was not thought to be seriously hurt, but internal injuries developed, and he was removed to the General Hospital, where he lies in a critical condition.

INCREASED ENTRIES SHOWN IN ALL THE DEPARTMENTS

All Ready for Opening of Gue lph Winter Fair Tomorrow—Many Improvements This Year, But Accommodation is Proving Inadequate—Ho rses a Feature.

(Special to The Toronto World).

GUELPH, Dec. 7.—When the thirtieth annual Provincial Winter Fair opens here on Tuesday morning it will be found that never before in the history of the show has there been such a splendid exhibition of live stock under one roof. Not only are there more animals this year, but they are the finest to be secured in the land and a credit to the stock breeders of Ontario.

In every department there has been a decided increase in the entries, but it is more noticeable among the horses than elsewhere. Ever since the equines were added three years ago this department has continued to increase. Additional stables were built, with accommodation for a hundred horses, but this is still inadequate, and it is now a certainty that the building will have to be enlarged again next year. There are a hundred more horses here this year than last, and quite a number of owners have been compelled to quarter them in hotel stables.

Seed and Power Exhibits.

The cattle, sheep, swine, poultry and seed departments have all shown a tendency to increase this year, and for the first time the city hall has had to be requesitioned for show purposes. In this hall the seed department will be situated, and the exhibit this year will not only be beautiful to look upon but made interesting and instructive as well. It occupies the entire two halls, which have been tastefully decorated. The hydro-electric exhibit will be situated on the stage. Power will be used in the demonstration of the various machines, and the farmers will be shown in a practical manner how they can utilize the hydro-electric power in their houses and barns.

The Educative Side.

A splendid list of lectures, all of them of an educative value, has been prepared, and this feature of the show is better than ever. Every subject relating to farming activities will be dealt with by men who are most fitted by reason of their training and experience to impart information.

Many improvements have been made to the buildings since last year, and the officers and directors of the show are looking forward to the most successful winter fair in its long history.

The civic luncheons will be events of unusual interest. Among the speakers are Hon. James S. Duff, minister of agriculture; W. Bert Roadhouse, deputy minister; John Bright, Dominion live stock commissioner, and others.
