MEATS FOR CHRISTMAS.

A MAGNIFICENT DISPLAY IN ST. LAWRENCE ARCADE.

The Stock shown by Mallon & Co., H. E. Franklin, Park & Son, James Maloney, Thos. Adams and Hugh Kelly.

A walk through St. Lawrence Arcade these days would do your heart good. Rows and piles of Christmas meats and poultry abound on every side, liberally and cheaply.

The whole being set out with decorations of evergreen, mistletoe, variegated rosettes and illuminated cards. The supply may not be larger than in past years, but the quality is improved. As Ottawa King Frankland only says: "Our breeders and farmers now know what value of stock to raise for the butchers."

John Mallon & Co., 12 to 16, command the attention of every passer-by. This has been established from the earliest times, and the display is a fine price, reliability and value of business.

Mallon & Co. are now showing the hundreds and embrace all classes of the commodities, their meat being of the highest quality, and their prices are low.

Before making their really magnificent display perhaps it would be well to say that the quality of the meat is not only of the highest but also of the most reliable.

It is mainly owing to the character of the meat that the business of the firm is so successful. The quality of the meat is not only of the highest but also of the most reliable.

Number of Voters in Toronto.

Editor World: Will you kindly give me the number of electors entitled to vote in Toronto (inclusive of Parkdale) at the forthcoming municipal election?

There are 125 polling stations in the city and Parkdale. There are, on an average, about 180 voters in each sub-division, which would make a total of 22,500 voters. Including my 500 duplicate votes, leaves the total vote at 23,000.
