500 MEN STILL NEEDED FOR 55TH

The 55th Battalion needs approximately 500 men to fill its ranks—full strength with reinforcements—and in all parts of the province persistent appeals are being made to hustle the unit along. The urgings have not been altogether fruitless but the recruits are not falling in line as rapidly as the officers would like. It is felt that there are many hundreds throughout the province who are willing to enlist, but are holding back for no legitimate reason but a paltry domestic or business impediment. To people whom this strikes, an earnest request is made to come to the decision quickly, so that New Brunswick might, within the properly allotted time, be holding the trenches which destiny is making for her soldiers. Her work is cut out, and let no one falter in the making this one cog in the wheel run smoothly.

The answer came back:—

"I'm one hundred and five.

"Go on," said the boy. "If's time you were dead."—Weekly Scotsman.

The mayor did not know last night how the details could be worked out but he believed that the money would be forthcoming. Those who would like to co-operate are asked to communicate with his worship.

The amount of linen and cotton that was sent to the committee in charge of "Linen Day" from St. Stephen, Milltown and outlying country, was beyond expectation. "Is the man your sister is goin' to marry rich?" "Naw; every time the marriage is mentioned pa says 'Poor man!'"

LETTHR FROM PRIVATE I. W. LONG

With his thoughts turning back to the old farm, Private Irvine W. Long, 14th battalion (formerly with the 12th) writes to his sister at Walton Lake, Kings county, giving a graphic description of the fighting in France. Having recovered from his wounds, which he received at the battle of Langemarck, he is discharged from the base hospital and is on his way back to the firing line once more. A part of his letter is as follows:

"I am quite well again, and am leaving the base today to go back to the front. I suppose it is farming time home and Joe is busy as can be. I have not heard from Ed. (another brother, since enlisted) since I came to France, but I suppose he will soon be out here, as they need more men now since that few days of murder. If hell is any worse than that was, I don't want to go. I would like to tell you all about it, but don't know how to write it down. Jack Johnsons' coming over and dropping mour trenches as fast as a mowing machine cuts grass. One shell would kill a bunch of men and the next would cover them up. The dead were lying around in heaps. But we held the Germans and General French says we saved the situation, but oh! at what a cost. I will write again as soon as I can and hope mother is not worrying and also that the war will be over in a few months.

Private Long sent his sister a beautiful bunch of fleur-de-lis, the flower of France.

Miraculous Escape.

"My serge was riddled and a pipe in my pocket cut in two. The strap of the haversack was cut and my canteen had two bullet holes in it." The man who had such a narrow escape was Private E. H. Smith, of St. John, and the incident is mentioned, as above, in a letter to Mrs. Elmer Young, West St. John.

"A man that came out of it," he writes, "should be very thankful. It is a wonder that I didn't make the grave, considering the narrow escapes I had from shrapnel and bullets. I lost all my kit, including, I am sorry to say, a plug of tobacco which you sent me; but the rest was in my haversack.

"We received a draft of men from England to make us up to full strength again. Quite a lot of them come from New Brunswick. Several of the McNicoll boys went under. I don't think we will ever have to make the same sacrifice again, at least I hope not; but of course it's all in the game.

"It is pitiful to see the refugees here. Old men, women and children whose homes have been bombarded. We are now in a big town getting the battalion in shape, and may move off any hour. The greatest thing that is keeping the British back is the gas which the Germans are using. It is awful 'dope'; we had a little experience with it."

He brings his letter to a close by saying that he hopes to be working in the winter port here next winter.

A Fighting Family.

Mrs. Alice A. Sears, of Centreville, has received an interesting letter from her son, Driver Leonard Sears, who is with the divisional ammunition column, 2nd brigade, Canadian Field Artillery, on the firing line in Flanders.

Mrs. Sears has two sons at the front, Driver Stanley Sears being the other. They are both brothers of Corporal Geo. Sears, who was stationed in Fredericton for three years with "H" company, R. C. R., and is now with that unit in Bermuda. The fourth son of Mrs. Sears is only 11, and he is already inquiring of his mother when he "will be able to go to the front."

Extracts from the letter of Driver Leonard Sears, who is a member of a real fighting family, on May 5 follow:

"A few lines to let you know we are not among the casualties yet, though we have had some narrow escapes. Stanley had one of his horses shot, but so far we have managed to dodge the 'Jack Johnsons' ourselves.

"I guess you have read in the papers what the Canadians have been doing, and I can assure you they do not exaggerate one bit. It was the hottest drive I ever made. The weather has been lovely for the past week or two. I will try to write again soon. Tell Dot (his sister) I will write to her as soon as possible. Love to the kiddies and all at home."

The Sick Man of Europe.

(By T. W., in Manitoba Free Press.)

By the beard of the Phophet, I'm full of woes—
Listen to my tale of woe!—
From the crown of my head to the tips of my toes,
Listen to my tale of woe.
I'm knocked about and battered and torn,
And now I'm to be driven from the Golden Horn,
And I'm sorry for the day that ever I was born,
Listen to my tale of woe.

Four years ago, O sad mishap!
Listen to my tale of woe.
With Italy I had a scrap,
Listen to my tale of woe.
The Italians are a dreadful crew,
They punched and kicked me black and blue,
And swiped my African lands, boohoo!
Listen to my tale of woe.

The Balkan bunch, with a gleeful yell,
Listen to my tale of woe,
Three years ago just gave me—well,
Listen to my tale of woe.
They hammered me, and drove me back,
And kicked and punched me blue and black,
And fairly put me on the rack—
Listen to my tale of woe.

A Phoenix Bird I tried to be,
Listen to my tale of woe,
By tying up with Germany,
Listen to my tale of woe.
But a Bear and fierce Poodle bit my ear,
And a Bulldog grabbed me by the rear—
I know they'll lay me on my bier,
Listen to my tale of woe!

The World's Nuisance.

(Toronto Star.)

The Zeppelin raid on London is another instance of what the Germans call "frightfulness." It may be otherwise described as making Germany a general nuisance. It is the policy which has disgusted the United States, and turned Italy from an ally into an enemy.

The duty of humanity outside the German sphere of influence is to abate the nuisance, and the more innocent people and their homes destroyed, the stronger will be the determination to choke off the source of all this evil and danger.

FOUND DEAD BY SIDE OF ROAD

St. Stephen, N. B., June 6—Caleb Bartlett was found dead on the Roix road at an early hour this morning. Mr. Bartlett had been employed in Charles W. Cone's stable, Calais (Me.) and last evening he informed Mr. Cone that he wished to drive out to Rolling Dam, about fourteen miles from this town, to visit his son, in whose family there was illness. He took one of Mr. Cone's teams and left the stable about 10.30 and nothing further was heard from him until some men in an automobile discovered the body of a man on the Roix Road about one and a half miles from the corner of the Board Road, this morning, and reported the fact at the first house they came to, which was Harvey Ashley's at Oak Bay. The body was identified as that of Caleb Bartlett, a former resident of that section of the country.

He had evidently fallen from his carriage and his face was lying in a pool of water and mud. The coroner, Dr. James D. Lawson, after viewing the body, decided that he had smothered. Mr. Bartlett was sixty-seven years of age, leaves one son, Harvey Bartlett, at Rolling Dam; a brother, Wellington Bartlett; two sisters, Mrs. John Shea, of Roix Road, and Miss Etta Bartlett, of New York.

Barrington, N. S., June 4—One soldier is dead and another has been arrested as a result of an accidental shooting, which occurred at Heig-Ho, near here, on Thursday.

Private Grooves was the victim of the shooting and was killed almost instantly, while Sergt. Lohnes, who fired the fatal shot, is under arrest and an investigation will be held.

The entire district has been greatly disturbed over the sad affair. It appears that the shooting took place when the two soldiers, who belong to the detachment of volunteers stationed at Heig-Ho, were mimicking a military arrest, when the revolver in the hand of Sergt. Lohnes was accidentally discharged. The bullet struck Private Grooves in the eye. As soon as Sergt. Lohnes realized that his comrade had been hit every effort was made to save the unfortunate man's life, but it was all to no purpose. Death was almost instantaneous. Sergt. Lohnes is stricken with grief at the loss of his comrade.

The news of the accident did not reach here until today. It happened at 5 o'clock on Thursday morning. Later in the day the body of Private Grooves was sent to this town and this afternoon the funeral was held here. Private Grooves was buried with military honors.

86 Pages of Personal Advice

Free to Any Man

MY DEAR READER:

In the handsomely printed little book or private pocket compendium for men (containing 8,000 words and 40 half-tone proto-reproductions), which I publish and gladly forward by mail, free, sealed to any man anywhere in the world who sends me the coupon below, I have included certain parts that contain some very important advice or suggestions of a strictly private nature which, I believe, cannot be found in any of the Private Hygienic books for men that are now sold at high prices all over the country. It will thus be seen I have endeavored, through the medium of my free book, to give my readers absolutely free of cost really MORE, in some respects, than others offer and make a large charge for. All you have to do to get this free book of mine is to use the coupon below, or if in my neighborhood, I extend an invitation to you to call at my office. I want everybody that this free offer involves absolutely no obligation on your part, and there is nothing whatsoever for you to buy in any way, unless you should decide at some time in the future that you would like to try one of my mechanical VITALIZERS (described below), but that rests with yourself. Over a million of these little free books have now been sent to men who wrote for them, as I want you to do, and who live in all quarters of the globe. I publish this free book in English, Swedish, Danish, Finnish, German, French and Polish, but I always send the English edition, of course, unless otherwise instructed. Kindly use the little coupon.

SANDEN, AUTHOR.

In reference to manly strength, I believe it is now more generally acknowledged than ever before that the manly man stands back of all achievement in the world, a truth which any of us can easily verify if we but look about us with impartial eyes.

As a matter of fact, the man who is debilitated, unstrung and enervated cannot, for perfectly obvious reasons, expect to approach these real and masterful attainments which seem but a natural and easy accomplishment for him whose nerve force, brain power and manly strength are perfectly normal. Hence, while we acknowledge the debilitated, weakened man to be handicapped in every walk of life where real manhood counts, yet it would indeed be cruel of me to here so state the fact in public print were I not of the honest opinion that there is every hope for the unmanly man to restore himself to a state of health and vigor, if he but clear his mind of abnormal fear, and then make a fair, square effort to redeem himself.

There are two specimens of humanity for which I have no earthly use: one is the man who, though now strong and vital, yet plunges into dissipation and excess with the certain knowledge of his unmanly fate. The other is the man who, though knowingly debilitated and enervated, makes no effort to get away from his life of dissipation and wrong practices. As a matter of fact, there is no hope for either of these unfortunates. But for him who acknowledges his errors, who may come to me and say, "I have paid the penalty of my past follies, but I am THROUGH with my life of dissipation, and I am going to make a manly effort to restore myself," to such a man, I care not what his physical condition may be, I can say in all truthfulness, "You, my friend, are on the right road to new strength and new manhood," for he really is, and there is no doubt about it.

I make a little appliance that I call a VITALIZER, which I designed to aid just such men who seek manly strength. I am not offering this VITALIZER here for sale, but merely suggest that you, reader, take the opportunity to learn all about what this little appliance is doing today everywhere throughout the world; then, if in the future you want to use one yourself and will so write me, I will gladly make some liberal proposition whereby you may have one to try. The VITALIZER is fully described in one section of the free book which the coupon below entitles you to.

The VITALIZER is made up in a very light form, weighing only several ounces, and you wear it on your body all night. It generates a great, soft, pleasant FORCE which I call VIGOR and which flows in a continuous stream into your nerves, organs, blood and muscles while you sleep. I am satisfied in my own mind that I have access to a great POWER in this little VITALIZER which in the future will be more relied upon all over the world in the treatment of debilities and nerve weaknesses.

With special attachments which carry the FORCE of the VITALIZER to any part of the body, it may be used by women as well as men for the treament of rheumatism, kidney, liver, stomach, bladder disorders, nervousness, lack of energy, etc. Therefore, please send for the book today, or, if you happen to live in or near this city, I should be very happy to see you in person. Office hours 9 to 6.
