TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 24, 1888.

The Law on Intimidating and Besetting in Case of Strikes.

In the Canadian Law Times of August, 1883, there was published an article on "Strikes and Strikers in their Legal Aspect" by Wm. Seton Gordon, a young barrister of this city. The article was copied in The Irish Law Times, in The Central Law Journal of St. Louis and in other organs of legal opinion, and threw not a little light on what was an obscure question in law, or rather showed quite clearly what were the rights of employer and employer in cases of strike.

The occasion of the article was the strike of the telegraph operators in that year, but the law as expounded therein stands good for strikes of any kind.

We have only room for the following:

The criminal statute now in force relating to violence, threats and molestation contains the following provisions:

(i.) Every person who wrongfully and without legal authority, with a view to compel any other person to abstain from doing anything which he has a legal right to do, or to do anything from which he has a legal right to abstain—

(i.) Uses violence to such other person, or his wife or children, or injures his property; or—

(ii.) Intimidates such other person, or his wife or children by threats of using violence to him, her or any of them, or of injuring his property; or—

(iii.) Persistently follows such other person about from place to place; or—

(iv.) Hides any tools, clothes or other property owned by such other person, or deprives him, or hinders him in the use thereof; or—

(v.) Follows such other person with one or more other persons in a disorderly manner in or through any street or road; or—

(vi.) Besets or watches the house or other places where such other person resides or works or carries on business or happens to be—

Shall be liable to a fine not exceeding $100 or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months.

"It is well in these days of strikes, that this law should be known. If strikers beset a place or "picket" it, it is not necessary to swear out a warrant; the police are bound to act once their attention is directed to any such illegal conduct. This is the law that Police Magistrate Denison enforced the other day in the case of the striking plumbers.

The Tariff Fight in the States.

The Mills Tariff Bill has passed the House of Representatives, and by 13 majority, which is rather more than was expected. But that does not settle the matter. We believe no Democrat is sanguine enough to believe that the same bill can pass the Senate. The Republicans say that now the Senate will pass another bill, which will, of course, be rejected by the House. Then there will be two bills before the people for consideration, with all members of either House or Senate, except a few, on the record by their votes.

One fact there is which cannot be denied, and that is that the Republicans are as a party pronounced and conspicuous in going for Protection. They "go the whole hog," and they seem to be anxious that everybody should know it, too. On the other hand the Democrats, or a good many of them, seem to be half-hearted and hesitating in the matter, as if they feared that Free Trade would not "take" very well with the people after all. But don't take our word for it, for perhaps The World is prejudiced. Listen to The Globe:

"It is said by some American papers that the passage of the bill and its probable rejection by the Senate, will serve to define more clearly that the issue between the Republicans and Democrats is Free Trade. [More likely the effect will be the contrary. Instead of a straight fight on principle the controversy will rage about the clauses of the bill, and the faint-hearted Democrats will be likely to damage their cause by alleging that it isn't really a Free Trade measure. There was in the speech with which Mr. Mills closed the debate, a note of weakness, inasmuch as he again and again flouted the Republican assertion that the measure is a measure of Free Trade. It does not stand to experience in any democratically-ruled country that a political party can gain anything by minimizing its devotion to a great principle to which it is certainly bound. No Protectionist can be conciliated by the allegation of tariff reducers that they are not moving toward Free Trade, but their trimming is likely to cost them the enthusiastic support of the good fighters who love an out-and-out struggle. Were it not for the eagerness of the apparent Democratic wish to dodge the issue that the President's Message clearly evoked, we should have no doubt of their success in November."

Coming to a Crisis.

We are surely coming to a crisis in "this Canada," or, let us say, in the Province of Ontario, at all events. How the times do change, and how we change with them, too. But yesterday, as it were, we all believed this to be a country of farms and farmers. Our "grangers" were supposed to be the mainstay of the country, upon whose prosperity that of all the rest of us depended. When the farmers had good crops, and when the surplus of the same for export brought good prices, then prosperity for the country was assured. But when either prices or crops, or both, were poor, then so much the worse for the country. This is a fair statement of what has been firmly believed by at least three generations of Canadians.

But a change has come, and it is a sad one. Ontario farmers, instead of feeling pleased with prospects of good prices for what they have to sell, are "worried" over the question as to how they shall get cheap produce to buy. Time was when wheat at $1.50 was counted far better for the country than wheat at 75 cents; when oats at 50c. was counted better for the country than at 25c. only; and when hay at $12 was counted a better thing for the country than when it was slow of sale at $6. But if we are to believe certain vigorous story-tellers of to-day, these times are past, probably never to return. A correspondent of The Kingston Whig, endorsed by The Mail, says that down about Napanee the great wants of the farmers is to be allowed to import American corn, hay and oats free of duty, for food for their starving animals.

It did not use to be so in the old Midland district, but so it is now, that is if we are to believe all we hear. But really, we don't believe it all. The Mail has had bad accounts from Grey, and so has The Meaford Monitor, published at the north end of the county. But the worst accounts of all come from Eastern and Central Ontario, or, let us say, from what used to be called the Midland district.

Taken as a whole, The Mail's story of famine looks pretty bad; and yet we think it as well to wait for proof ere we take it all in. On Saturday our contemporary had a column of crop reports from various quarters, which we must say are not wholly discouraging. And we are not without hope that, when we get fuller accounts and more of the truth, things will not look nearly as bad as The Mail and The Montreal Witness would have us believe. One assertion we do make with some confidence. And that is—that even while these birds of ill omen are talking famine, the season is changing, and more rain is falling than before. We say—while they are talking as if any improvement in the season were impossible, or would be too late now if it did come, a great and welcome change is actually on hand, and is now doing wonders of good. Now for a few selections from the crop reports in Saturday's Mail, just to show that Ontario is not wholly gone to the bad yet. Paris: There is every prospect of a successful harvest, which is just on now. Port Hope: Barley inclined to be light, but the late rains have wonderfully helped to fill out the head; probably an average yield. Oats good, corn and potatoes first class. The root crops will doubtless be over an average. The late rains have saved them. St. Thomas: Fall wheat largely winter-killed. Spring crops promise an abundance. Chatham: The grain crops in this section are magnificent, and will be away above the average. St. Catharines: Fall wheat very poor; spring wheat and all the other spring grains an average. Cobourg: Hay almost a failure, barley and spring wheat short in the straw, but the ears now developed and the grains filled. Oshawa and Whitby report hay light, but grain up to an average on the whole. Peterborough: The farmers well satisfied with the general condition. Guelph: Crops better than expected a month ago. Orangeville: Crops better than was anticipated a few weeks ago, owing to the late local showers. Newmarket: Hay very light, spring crops heading up well, but straw will be short. This (last) week's showers make a more promising aspect. Accounts of roots are good.

Speaking of its own district The London Free Press has not merely a good account, but one extra good. We quote: "To say that the spring crops are exuberant is mild. The terrains have worked marvels, and if anything some of the oats and barley are too heavy. The straw is immense. The peas are the greatest crop ever seen in this neighborhood. With regard to roots the acreage is large, and with regard to potatoes the crop will be phenomenal. Along with all this, be it remembered that so far the crop prospects in Manitoba and the Northwest are reported as magnificent."

On the whole we venture to believe that some of the famine reports published are instigated, if not written by men who are hot partisans of Commercial Union—too hot to give anything like a fair and unbiased account. And we cannot forget that the same crowd who are howling now for C. U., so that our farmers may import American grain cheap to feed their stock, were last year howling for the same thing, in order that our farmers might sell to American buyers at the bir prices current over the border. We also make this point: that the famine prophets have been talking much of the thing which once was, rather than of the thing which now is; and that ever while they have been talking, the season has been greatly changing.

Up and down, up and down—one day a millionaire, next day "dead broke"—one day buoyant in spirit, next day gloomy as a fog—one day in seeming perfect health, next day "laid out" with a bilious attack of your stomach "on a strike." If you are bilious, melancholic, dizzy headed, dyspeptic, want appetite or have any section of liver, kidneys or bowels, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets—purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, one a dose. 25

Methodist Mission Notes.

1888 will be remarkable in the history of Methodism as the year in which the greatest advances in mission work have taken place.

The General Board of Missions will meet at Winnipeg on September 11th, and this is the first time the board has met at any place west of Hamilton. From reports already to hand it is known that the meeting will be one of the most important ever held.

On account of the great increase in the number of pupils at the Tokio Academy, Japan, it has been found necessary to increase the training-staff, and for this purpose two first class teachers will be sent from Canada on an early date and the Academy Curriculum so raised that students will be trained for matriculation. Dr. Sutherland has the arrangements in hand.

The services of the Methodist mission amongst the Chinese on the Pacific Coast have been so great that a preacher and teacher from China has become necessary. Dr. Sutherland has just received word that a married Chinaman with his wife and three children, possessing the highest qualifications for the work, are ready to come as soon as arrangements can be made for their entry into British Columbia.

The reported troubles on the Skeena river are causing a good deal of anxiety to the Methodist Missionary Committee, as they have a station not far from the scene of the troubles. It is alleged that most of the trouble with the Indians is caused by the provincial authorities entirely ignoring the sentiments and wishes of the natives, and it is stated by some of the white settlers that of the $45,000 to $50,000 voted for the Indian service only a very small proportion goes to the natives.

—When young indeed in full content we sometimes nobly rest, unanxious for ourselves, and only wish as dutious sons our fathers were more wise and when in want of first class clothing instead of paying two prices for it they would patronize reliable stores like the Army & Navy, who are to-day without doubt offering clothing at prices which are really astonishing. Great reductions during July and August at the Army and Navy Stores.

The Irish and Hon. Ed. Blake.

A meeting of Irish citizens of Toronto has been called for Friday evening next at the Rossin House. The object in view is the arrangement of a reception to Hon. Edward Blake, as an expression of gratitude for his frequently manifested sympathy with the Irish people, especially as displayed during his recent visit to Ireland. Mr. Blake is expected to arrive home about the end of next month.

For a fact "the tears almost unbidden flow" when we see the way the knife with a red handle has gone in and cut our prices in two, entirely obliterating the shadow of profit at our closing out sale. However, we lose, you gain, ladies, and it's got to be done. The summer goods have to go. Now's your chance at McKendry's, The Waterloo House, 278 Yonge-street, cor. Alice.

Other Games Yesterday—Racing at Brighton Beach and Chicago—Yacht Races at Rochester—Teemer Accepts O'Connor's Challenge—Lacrosse Notes—Rifle Shooting—Sports of Sport.

A cloudy sky, which threatened rain, had a tendency to keep many people from the Ball Grounds yesterday afternoon. Notwithstanding there was a fairly good attendance to witness the game between Toronto and Rochester, which resulted in a close contest, and was won by the home team. Umpire Curry, who was unable to use his voice to any extent, was assisted by Manager Cushman, who called balls and strikes. Atkinson pitched an excellent game for the champions and received good support, the visitors not being able to get a man as far as first base until the sixth inning, and only securing three scattered singles. Barr, who was in the box for Rochester, was very effective, and held the Toronto down to six hits. Rain began to fall at the end of the first half of the seventh inning, and Umpire Curry called the players off the field. After waiting within a few minutes of the half hour, it cleared up and the game was resumed.

The Toronto scored their first run in the second inning, when Decker hit safe for two bases, reached third on Kearns out to Kennedy, and crossed the plate on Barr's wild pitch. In the third inning Atkinson hit to Miller, who threw wild to Kennedy, and Atkinson reached third. McLaughlin sent a grounder past Kennedy, and Atkinson scored. The third run was added in the fourth, when Burke hit to Miller, who fumbled and Burke was safe. He then stole down to second and scored on Mansell's hit to centre field. In the fifth and sixth innings they went out in the one, two, three order. Atkinson got as far as second in the seventh inning, when the side was retired and the one, two, three order was again administered in the eighth. Burke opened the ninth by getting his base on balls. Mansell hit to Miller, who tried to throw Burke out at second, but McKeough dropped the ball and Burke was safe. Hartnett was struck by a pitched ball and given his base which filled the bags. Atkinson then went to the bat and hit a liner to Sutton which he secured and Burke, who was off the base, also fell a victim, allowing Sutton to make a double play. McLaughlin struck out and the side was retired.

Up to the sixth inning the visitors failed to hit safe and never reached first base. Miller opened the sixth with a grounder to McLaughlin, which the latter very cleverly stopped, but threw wild, and Miller was safe. Foy secured the first hit for Rochester and Miller went to second, reached third on Barr's out to Kennedy and crossed the plate on Griffin's fly out to centre-field which Mansell secured and made an exceptionally fine throw from centre into Decker's hands to cut off Miller, but the latter beat the ball and scored. The visitors secured their only other run in the seventh, when Peltz hit a fly to right centre which Mansell could only manage to touch and made a brilliant effort to recover. Hits by Miller and Foy then allowed Peltz to score. The eighth and ninth were repetitions of the first part of the game, every player being retired at the plate. The score:

The Yacht Races at Rochester.

ROCHESTER, July 23—The Yacht Club regatta began this morning under favorable auspices. A brisk, fresh wind was blowing from the northwest, when the gun was fired at 9.45, to warn the yachts to get ready. The yachts in the first class did not start, the Atlanta being the only one ready. At 9.50 the starting gun was fired for the second-class yachts. The White Wings was first across the line, followed by the Madge and the Cygnet. At ten o'clock the gun for the third-class boats was fired. The Coquette was the first to cross the line at 10.06.40, the Modjeska at 10.06.50, the Iolanthe at 10.07.46, the Fascination at 10.07.46, the Merle at 10.07.55, the Amelia at 10.08.40, the Gem at 10.09.15, and the Lola at 10.10. The Madge, Modjeska and Gem withdrew owing to accidents to their sails. The third class yachts got their warning at 10.20, and the outer Mollie crossed the line first at 10.21.8, the Mary cot 10.21.12, and the Valenette and Florence together at 10.22.17. When well on the course the topmast of the Madge which was bent at Oswego last Friday, again broke near the centre and she was withdrawn. The White Wings won the race.

In the third class there was an extremely exciting finish. The Merle crossed the line about 20 feet ahead of the Iolanthe, the time allowance, however, gave the first prize to the Iolanthe by 3 seconds. The corrected time in this class was: Iolanthe 3.55. 32, Merle 3.55.45, Coquette 4.18.56.

In the fourth class the Velonette won, with the Mallie second.

The regular meeting of the Parkdale Town Council was held last night. Mayor Lynd occupied the chair, and there were also present Reeves Terry, Goodwin and Gewanlock, Councillors Babe, Bateson, Gander, Hewish, Hall, Miles, Sinclair, Tait and Willoughby. Mr. McMillan, town clerk, was absent, and Mr. Fenwick assumed his duties.

A number of communications were read and referred, among them being one from Holmes & Gregory, solicitors, asking for $140 damages claimed by G. Webster, as he had been prohibited from running his engine in Elm-grove.

The Council went into committee of the whole to consider reports. On motion of Reeve Terry it was decided that a deputation from the High School Board should be heard. Mr. J. W. St. John, chairman of the Board, in addressing the Council stated that the Board wished to purchase a piece of land on Close-avenue, 182 feet by 300 feet, at a cost of $35 per foot, and that it was proposed to erect thereon a building of eight rooms, to cost $26,000. Therefore, the Board desired that the Council should vote for the purposes referred to the sum of $40,000. Mayor Lynd moved that the amount be granted, and the motion was adopted.

Mayor Lynd stated that the by-laws recently quashed at Osgoode Hall had not been drawn up by Messrs. McDonald, Merritt & Shepley the Toronto papers had been in error in making this statement. The by-laws were passed before the firm named became solicitors for Parkdale.

The report of the Finance Committee recommended that accounts amounting to $2,046 be paid. The recommendation was adopted.

The report of the Waterworks Committee recommended that the inspector be instructed to strictly enforce the plumbing by-law in all cases. Also that an assistant engineer be added to the staff of the waterworks. All clauses of the report were adopted.

The report of the Board of Works recommended that Wm. Stewart's tender for constructing sidewalks at these prices be accepted:—4 ft., $18; 5 ft. 4 in., $24.80; 6 ft., $25.96; 8 ft., $34; 12 ft., $38. That the tender Ardagh & Leonard for the contract of lowering the block paving on Spencer avenue be accepted, the sum asked for the work being $240. Deputy Reeve Gowanlock and Councillor Hall opposed the acceptance of this tender, as it was the only one asked for. They contended that tenders for the work should have been advertised for. A vote was taken, when the committee's recommendation was adopted, along with the other clauses in the report. The Council adjourned at 11 o'clock.

THE DOCTOR'S DEFENCE.

The Medical Health Officer Declares that His Powers are too Limited.

Dr. Canniff, Medical Officer, yesterday declared the three houses on Elliott-street, in one of which the Middleton family resided, to be unfit for human habitation. There is only one closet for three houses, one water supply and no drainage whatever. The only wonder is, not that the four young Middletons died of diphtheria, but that every one living in those wretched kennels has not had disease of some kind or other. The doctor says his duties are well defined, and that in many cases all he can do is to bring them under the notice of the Board of Health. He states that for several years he has drawn attention to the Yonge-street and other slips, but mostly in vain; that he has done all he can with regard to the Ashbridge Bay; that the cause of its insanitary state is quite patent and the remedy easy to be seen. The powers he possesses he is using to the utmost, and has frequently pointed out to the Board of Health his inability to deal with cases because of his limited powers. He states that some of the city papers have credited his present powers with those he would possess were he to be appointed by the Provincial Board in case of the failure of the City Council to appoint a medical officer. In that event he would have all the powers of the Board of Health, in addition to the powers he now possesses. Slowly but surely he claims to be compelling attention to the sanitary condition of the city, and if the board backs him up Toronto will be as she ought to be, the "queen city" in sanitary matters.

From Police Blotters.

George Beamish, aged 12, is a prisoner in Wilton-avenue Station, charged with raiding a cherry orchard at 318 Pape-avenue. Joseph McFarlane was arrested last night by Precinct Detectives Cuddy and Black, charged with complicity in the mills burglary on Danforth-road. They caught their man hiding in the Rosedale Ravine.

Libby Kelly was brought to Agnes-street Station last night, on a charge of keeping an irregular house at No. 110 Terauley-street. James Darby and Ann Buckley were run in as frequenters.

Edward Kupitz was so very drunk on York-street last night that Policeman Rowe thought it necessary to arrest him. He was taking his man down to the patrol box when Fred Johnston attempted a rescue with the result that he is now a prisoner in Headquarters along with Kupitz.

The shed of John Martin, 70 Beaconsfield-avenue, was entered on Sunday night, and two boxes of clothes stolen.

A Bad Gang Captured.

The city detectives made a great arrest yesterday morning in a Simcoe-street lodging house. They succeeded in making a haul of nine suspects, and they believe in capturing them they hold in their hands the men responsible for many of the outrages which have of late been so rife in the country. The names of the prisoners are Daniel Norris, Windsor; Thomas Breenan, St. Louis; Thomas McLaughlin, Pittsburg; William Adams, Charles Lyon, Chris. Bingham, James Callaughan, John Ryan, William Carson. They are the toughest looking crowd in Headquarters for a long while and will be up before the Police Magistrate to-day. The detectives will ask for a remand, in order that their records may be inquired into.

For the thorough and speedy cure of all blood diseases and eruptions of the skin, take Northrop and Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. Mrs. R. Forbes, Detroit, had a running sore on her leg for a long time; commenced using Northrop and Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, and she is now completely cured. Her husband thinks there is nothing equal to it for ague or any low fever.

The Street Cars Did Big Business.

A heavy shower of rain began to fall at eight o'clock last night, and continued a steady downpour for about an hour. The crowds landing at the wharves from the Island and other resorts either huddled under the sheds or took a drenching, except those who were well provided with umbrellas and rubber wear. There was a very light passenger traffic Islandward, but the street cars did big business in all directions.

Missed from His Home.

The friends of James Lindsey, of 604 King-street west, are greatly exercised over his disappearance. He left his home on Saturday last to talk a walk down town, and nothing has been heard from him since. He was 20 years old and apparently of sound mind.
