DELEGATION INTERVIEWED GOVERNMENT

Special to The Standard.

Fredericton, April 22.—A large delegation from Stanley waited upon the Provincial Government this evening and asked that the Government grant the usual subsidy for the extension of the York & Carleton Railway through from its present terminus at Ryan's Brook, about five miles above Stanley to connect with the Grand Trunk Railway at Nappadoggan Lake, the divisional point.

Dr. Moore, the chief owner and manager of the road, was present with the delegation which included prominent residents of the parish of Stanley including Ex-Coun. Stanley Douglass, Howard Douglass, Arthur Pringle and about fifteen others.

Mr. Marsh Present.

Mr. Marsh, of Marsh Bros., Toronto, who are interested in the Canada Docks, Terminals and Railway Company, who propose the development of Port L'Etang, Charlotte county, was also present and it is stated that Marsh Bros. and those interested with them think of acquiring the York and Carleton Railway. The bill which the Canada Docks, Terminals and Railway Company have before the Legislature gives them permission to acquire such a railway and to use it as part of a railway running through to Port L'Etang and to be used for carrying freight from the Grand Trunk Pacific and Intercolonial Railways through to L'Etang for shipment to the West Indies and elsewhere.

ATTEMPTED TO ENTER A FREIGHT CAR

The I. C. R. car inspector at the Union Depot had an encounter last evening with two vicious tramps, whom he detected in the act of trying to enter a freight car, evidently with the intention of stealing a ride.

Broke The Seal.

As the west bound freight due to leave at 6.55 p. m. was about to pull out, he caught the two men, who are Englishmen, attempting to enter the car, after they had broken the seal on the door.

When he stopped them, one of them threatened to beat him, and the inspector told him that he would have him and his companion arrested. He went away in search of a policeman, but by the time he had secured one, the train had pulled out, and the two men had disappeared.

THE KINRADE MURDER CASE IS ON AGAIN

Special to The Standard.

Hamilton, April 22.—The adjourned session of the much heralded Kinrade murder inquest was held this evening.

Mrs. Ernest Kinrade, the witness, testified that the Kinrade sisters were at her home in the evening before the murder. She swore that she always thought the family very affectionate. She had heard Florence speak of Miss Elliot, but outside of her, no person knew that woman.

Harry Dirtsz, a carpenter, swore that he was working with Ernest Kinrade the day of the murder from one till after four o'clock.

Miss Erskine, employed by the Stanley Mills Co., swore that she saw Miss Florence Kinrade in that store on the morning of the murder.

Mrs. and Miss Florence Kinrade were then called for, but they did not answer their names. Mr. Blackstock announced that these two had been notified to attend and had given no intimation that they would not be present. He would ask the referee for an adjournment until such time as the Crown could enforce the presence of these witnesses. It was decided to adjourn until tomorrow evening. It was stated that Mrs. Kinrade and Miss Kinrade were subzpeoned in Toronto yesterday and the detectives do not know where they are. The Toronto police have been notified of their non-attendance.

A New Company.

The well known firm of stone cutters, Emery & McLaughlin, on the City Road was incorporated by provincial charter on April 7th, under the name of The Emery & McLaughlin Company, Limited, with Hon. Robt. Maxwell as president, E. E. Fawcett, vice-president, Edward N. Emery, secretary-treasurer and John F. McLaughlin, superintendent. The capital stock of the company is $15,000.

Besides stone cutting the firm has prepared to manufacture Portland Cement blocks which is becoming popular for building purposes. Among the new machinery installed is a surface cutter operated by compressed air. This is the only one of its kind in the city and saves a great deal of extra labor in cutting the hard surface of the rough rock.

Gordner—Manuel.

On Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the presence of a large number of friends, Mr. William Gordner of this city was united in marriage to Miss Eva Manuel also of this city. The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Flanders. The bride wore a princess gown of white silk organdie and veil and carried a bouquet of carnations and ferns. The bride was assisted by Miss Marguerite Quirk, and the groom by Mr. B. Baisley. A wedding supper was served after the ceremony. The presents were many, beautiful and costly, bearing testimony to the esteem of which the young couple are held. The groom's present to the bride was a beautiful diamond ring, tiffany setting. Mr. and Mrs. Gordner will reside at No. 9 Horsfield street.

TOBIQUE BILL STANDS OVER FOR ONE YEAR; VALLEY RAILWAY BILL

Fredericton, N. B., April 22.—The Corporations Committee this morning further considered the Tobique Pulp & Paper Co. bill and unanimously agreed to stand it over for one year.

The bill to incorporate the St. John Valley Ry. Co. was taken up and explained by J. J. F. Winslow, solicitor for the company. The estimated cost of the road was quite fully discussed, it being stated that it was intended to construct a first class road. The route of the railway was discussed at length. Premier Hazen stated that it must be insisted that the road follow the St. John River as closely as possible below Woodstock. Unless that was insisted upon, it might be that after the Oromocto was reached the route would be across country to Westfield, and thus leave out the section of country most in need of railway facilities. Hon. Mr. Flemming discussed somewhat in detail the proposed route above Woodstock saying that Centreville, Waterville and other villages would be served by railway. Mr. Tweddale thought the bill should specify that from Andover to Grand Falls, the Valley Railway should be on the opposite side of the river from the C. P. R.

Mr. Upham suggested some alternate routes that might be followed without duplicating the C. P. R. and at the same time serve an important section of the country. Mr. Winslow said it was impossible for the committee to locate the line of railway in the change of surveys and he suggested that the final location of the route be subject to the approval of the Lieutenant Governor in council. The capital stock of the company was increased to two million dollars.

SEPPEPIL ON STAND YESTERDAY

Ryan went to Ottawa to petition for us but failed. I then had no hope and confessed."

On re-examination Tony said: "I testified this morning that I took bread with me when the murder was committed. I got the bread at the Emil Johnston camp No. 2. I had my share in my pocket. I don't know whether Leon left."

At the time of making the confession did Mr. Carter hold out any hope of pardon? Tony was asked.

Mr. Carvell objected and was overruled.

Ans.—No, I did not have any hope.

We hid all the watches we had but three which Leon kept. We gave them to James Hatch.

Leon Sepeppil.

Leon Sepeppil was brought in. Counsel for the defense made the same objection as in the case of Arosha, but the judge allowed the evidence. He said: "I am one of the men who murdered Green, and am condemned to die on the 4th of May for that offence. I worked at the Emil Johnston camp. Sandy Murray, James Hatch and Andrew Hatch were also working there. We quit Friday noon, Dec. 18th. We tried to get our time Friday night but they told us to come in the morning. We went in the morning and received our time one hour before daylight. We took valises and rifles with us. Tony had no gun. He gave his shot gun and revolver to Sandy Murray to pay for the watch. We had working clothes and blankets and a couple of razors. We intended to go away. We stayed a while at camp No. 1. Tony looked at his watch and said the train had gone. We went to the Italian camp and tried to sell the rifle. Could not sell it. We went to Plaster Rock to Croco's store and left the rifle at the store while getting our cheques cashed.

"We then went to the hotel. After dinner we went to the store again. We tried to sell the rifle to Croco or exchange it for two pairs of pants. He refused. We stayed until dark. Tony and I then started back to camp. We went to camp No. 2 where we had worked formerly. We had only one gun going and returning. On the way back we met a man with a team. The men had not quit work when we arrived but did so soon after. Andrew Hatch, James Hatch, Frenk Neill, a little boy, and Sandy Murray were there.

A Deep Plot.

"They asked, why we did not go away. We said we missed the train. They cooked macaroni and all ate together. After the meal Murray said if any one would kill the jewelry men we would all be rich. Nobody answered. I heard nothing more, but Murray asked me to sleep with him. Tony slept with James and Andrew Hatch. We talked during the night about the peddlers. In the morning after rising I told Murray to give me mitts as my hands were cold. We aroused Tony and Murray took him outside. I stayed in the camp, Hatch standing close to me. I could see them outside but could not hear.

Heard "All Right."

"Murray said 'All right,' and the Hatches said 'All right.' Andrew handed a knife to Tony and said: 'If you don't kill with the gun, finish with the knife.' " Then Sepeppil identified the knife in court as the one. "Murray went as far as the dump. I carried the rifle. Sandy carried a shot gun. Tony had nothing. While going to the dump we were talking about the intended deed. Murray pointed the road out to us and said, 'Go beyond camp No. 16 a mile and a half and hide.' He said that murderers in this country got free. We went on. When Murray was half way between the camp and the dump I heard him say: 'All right.' We hid behind a pile of logs. The peddlers passed so near we could almost touch them with the gun. We fired. One man was killed. We rifled the pockets of the murdered man. I took the box and the valise.

"Tony took out a knife and cut the valise open. We filled our pockets with watches. We found money in the jewelry box. Threw the gun away. We left the knife where the jewelry box was. We hid the watches under a windfall. Later we took out the money. Tony counted it and said it was $2,600.

Lost Their Way.

We started about midnight, lost our way, built another fire and stayed until daylight. We came out behind camp No. 16. went down the right of way, one on each side and to Johnston's camp, No. 2. Murray came and asked me if I had the money. I said yes. He told me to give him the money. I refused. He told me not to say anything as we would both die if I did. He gave me a bag with two or three loaves of bread and a couple of pairs of shoes. Murray got the bread in the camp. Murray said to cross the C. P. R. track and go away. I saw Tony in the woods by a fire. I joined him. Tony said, let us go to the camp. We went, Sandy Murray, James Hatch and a little boy were in the camp. They said we would be arrested. I gave the money to the old man also three watches. I heard James Hatch and Sandy Murray say to hide the money so it could not be found. I had been with Tony since I landed and we worked together.

I did not have anything to eat except snow from the time we left the camp until the return. Sandy told me to buy a gun because the bears were thick. Tony bought a gun at St. Leonards. I saw Tony hand Murray a revolver.

At this tsage Mr. Gallope and Mr. Lovely were brought forward in the court room and Sepeppil was asked:

Do you know what this trial is for? No.

Do you know what it is to find out? No.

Do you know that Sandy Murray, James Hatch and Andrew Hatch are at the bar charged with murder?

No, only that they were in jail for something.

Have you no pity for them?

Certainly I have pity. We were in camp half an hour before we were arrested.

Hatch said he would send to Montreal for an interpeter and a lawyer to set us free.

On cross-examination Sepeppil said that there is no reward offered for him in Italy.

Did you say in the cell that you stole horses in Italy? No.

What did you do in Italy for a living?

I was foreman of a plantation. I landed in Quebec on the 15th of June last. Went to Montreal, worked about 11½ months, worked 40 days with Murray. We killed Green for money. Murray said his life was not worth anything.

The Evening Session.

In the evening the cross-examination of Sepeppil was resumed. He said that Tony opened the jewelry box with a knife, but that he did not take anything out of the valise.

Green fell on his side when I shot him. Tony was with me when I took the watches out of the box. We reached Green at the same time. Did not see if the man was dead or not. He was carrying a box on his shoulder I did not open the box I asked Tony to open the box with his knife. We found watches and money in the box. I did not see any blood We intended to divide the money between the five. We made a division of the money at the first fire. I intended to give myself up to the court after I found I had done the deed. I said I would give the money up in court.

Did you expect to tell the truth in court? Yes.

Then why did you not? They said I would get free.

Why did you give the money to Hatch? He said he would get a lawyer from Montreal and free me.

You know that Murray and the two Hatches are on trial for complicity in helping to kill Green? I don't know.

No plans were made when we left camp. The two Hatches told me to go and kill the men when Murray and Tony were outside. I went because they said murderers in this country were not punished. I met Sandy Murray a little ways from the camp Monday when I came back. Murray was coming from work to camp. When I would not give him the money he did not seem disappointed but told me to go away. He brought three loaves to me. I was separated from Tony about one hour. I did not see Tony try to shoot himself. Don't know if Tony had any more cartridges or not.

This concluded the cross-examination. The Solicitor General stated that he was not prepared to go any further this evening, and the court accordingly adjourned until tomorrow morning at ten o'clock.

CANADIANS FIRE ON A U. S. CRAFT

Vancouver, B. C., April 22.—Swept by bullets from the machine guns of a British patrol cruiser, the American fishing schooner Charles Levi Woodbury, hailing from Seattle, was forced to surrender.

She was towed into this port yesterday in the wake of her captor, the cruiser Kestrel.

The Woodbury, which was out after halibut, is stated by the British cruiser's captain to have been poaching in Canadian waters. The affair took place last Sunday off Cape Scott, which is the northernmost point of Vancouver Island.

Four rounds were fired from the Kestrel's guns, the sails and part of the woodwork of the American schooner being riddled. The captain of the fisherman would not surrender until driven to do so by consideration for the lives of his crew, as he feared the cruiser's shots would sink the craft.

City Court.

In the City Court yesterday Judge Ritchie did not deliver judgments in any cases which were left from previous dockets.

The case of John Isaac vs. James McDevitt was heard in the city court yesterday afternon. The dispute arose over the pasturing of three cows during the summer of 1907. The defendant bought one of these cows. The plaintiff's action was on a promissory note. The defendant claimed that he signed the note understanding that it was an agreement to let the matter drop. He also gave evidence of money due him for pasturing the cows, milk supplied, and work done. The case was adjourned for two weeks.

FIRE BUG AT WORK OVER IN FAIRVILLE

What was plainly a case of incendiarism was discovered last night just in time to prevent a serious fire at Fairville corner. Mr. John Carey was the party at whom the attack was aimed.

Mr. Carey accupies a building of one story and a half which was formerly the property of the late Mr. John Avery. In it he conducted a fish store and a small grocery. Above these is an occupied story and this the firebug made the immediate scene of his work.

About 11.15 o'clock Mr. Carey locked up the store and left for his home on Lancaster Heights. Shortly after that time, Mr. James Dawson, of Fairville, caught sight of blaze in the top of the building, just after he had alighted from a street car. The fire was evidently well under way, and, realizing the need for haste, Mr. Dawson gave the alarm and burst in the door of the shop.

Soaked Trunk in Oil and Fired It.

He found that an old trunk in the upstairs portion of the building had been saturated with oil and ignited. The thing was all ablaze when he arrived. It had been set close against the wall of the building, but this had, fortunately, only started to burn. He turled the trunk out of the window, and with the assistance of others, who soon arrived upon the scene, quickly extinguished the fire in the walls.

The damage was slight, but was so only on account of the fire's timely discovery and the prompt if somewhat forcible action which was taken. The intent of the firebug was however, very complete.

Broke Window to Get In.

Entrance had been gained to the building by breaking in a window in the rear of the store.

EASTERN PRODUCE EXCHANGE

Fairville is to have a new company. Its name is the Eastern Produce Exchange, Limited, and the object among others is to "carry on business as buyers of and dealers in all kinds of fruits, vegetables, fish, dairy products, meats, poultry, eggs and all other kinds of varieties of animal products, food products, breadstuffs and consumable articles of all kinds; and to make advances for the purposes of the company on all or any such property and generally to engage in every kind of business or transactions which may seem to the company conducive to its interests."

The provincial directors are Messrs. W. H. Edgett, merchant, of Moncton, Andrew D. McCain, trader of Florenceville, Ald. VanWart and H. Ross, Manager of the N. B. Cold Storage Company of this city, and R. E. Mutch of Charlottetown.

Mr. . B. M. Baxter, K. C., is the solicitor.

HELD ANNUAL DINNER AT THE PARK HOTEL

No. 1 battery, 3rd New Brunswick Regiment C. A., held its annual dinner at the Park Hotel last evening. The gathering was a merry one and did not break up until one o'clock this morning. About eighty of the officers, non-commissioned officers and gunners attended the dinner. The guests of the evening were, Lt. Col. Baxter, commanding officer of the regiment; Major Armstrong, adjutant of the regiment; Lieut. Magee, of No. 3 battery, who was attached to No. 1 at Petewawa last year; Major Robinson; Sergt Major Edwards. The chair was taken by Major W. H. Harrison, commanding officer of the battery. Capt. J. L. McGowan was in the vice chair. Lieut. Allen was also present.

Toast List.

The dinner was in the Park's best style and after the bill of fare had been discussed the toast list was taken up.

"The King" was received with musical honors.

Major Harrison proposed "The 3rd. Regiment, C. A." to which Lt. Col. Baxter responded in a brief but fitting speech in which he complimented the battery on its efficiency and prophesied success in the future.

"No. 1 Battery" was proposed by Major Robinson and responded to by Major Harrison who urged the members of the battery to surpass the good record made.

Capt. McGowan proposed "Our Guests" to which Major Armstrong, Lieut. Magee and Sergt. Major Edwards replied.

"The Ladies" was proposed by Lieut. Allen and drew responses from the majority of the battery's noncoms., including Sergt. Lindsay, Sergt. Stevenson, Sergt. Tonge, Q. M. Sergt. Starkie, Sergt. Lamb and Sergt. Whitebone.

Musical Numbers.

During the evening there were songs by Sergt. Tonge, Mr. S. J. McGowan and readings by Mr. Cecil Boult of the staff of the Daily Sun.

"God Save the King." brought the dinner to a close.

Battery Trophies.

Conspicuous on the table were two statuettes, the Mercier prize won by the battery which took second place in the Dominion last year for shooting with the 4.7 inch guns. The Solomon Cup emblematic of the regimental rifle championship was also there.

FREDERICTON POPULAR AS HORSEMEN'S HEADQUARTERS

Hugh O'Neill, the prominent Fredericton horseman, was in St. John yesterday. Mr. O'Neill is enthusiastic over the prospects of the two Fredericton racing meets to be held in July and in September. He also expressed the opinion that Fredericton would very likely be made the Maritime headquarters of some of the New England stables which will have strings of horses racing in this part of Canada during the coming season.

New England Horses.

Two American horsemen who have made inquiries concerning accommodations at Fredericton are George E. Davis of Combination Park, Medford, Mass., and William Gordon, of East Cambridge. Both of these gentlemen are prepared to bring fast strings of horses to the Maritime Provinces this year. They have been encouraged by the Fredericton people and in all probability will locate at the Provincial capital.

Fredericton within the last few years has become one of the principal horse centres of the Maritime Provinces. Interest in horse racing has grown among the sporting fraternity there to a most marked extent. In St. John the opposite is true. Public support would not be lacking but the horsemen make no move towards holding a meet.

The fact that the dates of the other meets to be held througnout the Lower Provinces have not been definitely fixed has prevented many New England racing men from deciding to bring their horses east. A good Maritime circuit would attract some fine strings of racers.

Sussex Dates Too Early.

In some quarters there has been criticism of the directors of the Sussex track in fixing June 22 and 23 as the dates of their first meet. It is thought that the date is too early and that the result will be that the entries will be practically all local. It is urged that even July 1 is early for racing and that horsemen with a long campaign in view for their horses might hesitate about entering for races so early in the season.

THE WOMAN'S AUXILIARY IN LAST SESSION

The sixth annual meeting of the Fredericton Diocesan Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary was concluded last evening. It was a splendid success in every way. The different reports presented were all very satisfactory. Yesterday afternoon's meeting was largely attended. After the opening hymn and prayer, Mrs. Arthur Coster, of St. Jude's Branch, gave many valuable suggestions for study classes on "The Moslem World."

The reports of the several branches of the Woman's Auxiliary in this city and throughout the province were read. The financial report for the past year showed a surplus of $470. By vote of the meeting a part of this was distributed among the home and foreign needs, $50 was given to the Bishop's fund, $25 to Miss McKim for work in Persia, $25 to Mrs. Heber Hamilton for work in Japan, and many others.

Mrs. W. B. Howard and Mrs. S. Neales were made life members.

The Diocesan officers elected were:

Honorary Prsident—Mrs. Richardson.

President—Mrs. T. Walker.

First Vice-President—Mrs. G. F. Smith.

Second Vice-President—Mrs. L. R. Harrison.

Third Vice-President—Miss Hanington.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. W. D. Forster.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. W. B. Howard.

Dorcas Secretary—Mrs. J. M. Hay.

Literary Secretary—Mrs. J. F. Robertson.

Junior Secretary—Miss Edith Coster.

Babies' Branch Secretary—Mrs. Kuhring.

Leaflet Editor—Miss Sadlier.

Dr. Gould.

In the evening Dr. Gould, the medical missionary of Palestine, gave a very interesting and instructuve address on his work. The lecture was well illustrated with lantern views which clearly showed many places of historical and Biblical interest, as well as the several missionary hospitals and numerous incidents connected with the work of Dr. Gould. The most of the views he had taken himself and his descriptions and explanations were very clear. A vote of thanks was tendered Dr. Gould.

Bishop Richardson thanked all who had helped to make this annual meeting such a success and expressed a wish that the response would be the dedication of some lives to the work of carrying the Gospel to some foreign world.

FOR BENEFIT OF METHODIST CLERGYMEN

During the time of the meeting of the Mount Allison board of regents, a session was also held of a new organization for the benefit of the Methodist clergymen of the N. B. and P. E. Island and Nova Scotia conferences.

This is dominated a Ministerial Union. The constitution adopted states that the Union is founded for the discussion of matters relating to the intellectual welfare of the ministers of these conferences; and of technical subjects connected with their profession.

Rev. (Dr) B. C. Borden was elected president, and Rev. (Prof) W. Gladstone Watson was made secretary of the Union. All of the Sackville clergymen are members as well as every minister in the Maritime Provinces who can make it convenient to attend.

At the session mentioned Rev. Prof. Miller, of the Mount Allison Theological faculty read a paper on The Nature of Faith and Knowledge.

Rev. S. Howard, Rev. (Dr.) W. H. Heartz, and Rev. Dr. D. W. Johnson, Rev. M. R. Knight, of Elgin, secretary, of the N. B. and P. E. Island conference, and Rev. James Strothard, of Moncton, were among the members present from points outside of Sackville.

THE RABBI IS PLEASED WITH GOVERNMENT

Rev. B. L. Amdur (Rabbi) returned from Fredericton yesterday where he had gone for the purpose of opposing the proposed legislation in connection with the peddler license. He freely expressed his pleasure at the kind reception tendered him by all the members of the Government.

"No distinction or favors," said the Rabbi, "are shown to races and creeds, but all men are given fair play. I have visited many Governments in different parts of the world but a more honest hard-working lot of men I have never met than those who sit at Fredericton. I found them hard at work from early morn until past midnight in the interest of the province.

"Personally I would like to express my gratitude to all the members of the Government for their kindness. Of course we do not yet know what will be done about the bill in question, but I think we may trust the sense of justice of the legislature and its leaders."

A Good Concert.

A well attended and financially successful concert and candy sale was held in the Exmouth St. Methodist Church last evening under the auspices of the Star Mission Circle.

The following programme was carried out: vocal solo, Mr. E. E. Thomas; reading, Miss R. Smith; vocal duet by the Misses Irvine; selections by the Exmouth St., Male Quartette; reading, Miss B. Compton; vocal solo, Miss Hazel Wood; piano duet by Miss McIntyre and Mr. Medley Beaman; vocal solo, Miss Baskin; violin solo, Miss Minnie Myles; vocal solo, Miss Lou Verinder.

CHEERFUL TONE OF THE STOCK MARKET

New York, April 22.—The speculative mood in the stock market today took on a more cheerful hue, although in a somewhat subdued fashion. Stocks which were sold yesterday were repurchased today and the upward movement became more uniform and consistent than the halting and irregular decline of yesterday. The subdued tone of the speculation may be justly attributed to the firmer tone of the market for call loans, rates for that form of credit, ranging above two per cent. again today. The money market situation exacts no arduous terms from borrowers and there is no apparent expectation that it will immediately. The situation is distinctly altered, nevertheless, from the recent plethora of funds seeking employment experiencing difficulty in finding lodgment. The loan account continues to expand and additional issues of new securities are still in prospect. Yesterday's payment of an installment of subscriptions on the new Southern Pacific convertible bonds is given credit for some of the absorption of available credits which is influencing the call money market. Lenders of finance counsel some caution about extending expansion of values to a point where a pinch for credits might cause a collapse that would harm the extensive projects of financing still to be concluded. The intentions to refund high interest-bearing bonds of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy was announced today.

Gives Strength.

The improved financial position of many railroad companies as a result of loans already placed makes strong sustaining influence for values. Another substantial support to confidence is found in the subsidence of apprehension over the grain crop position. This is partly due to the decline in the price of wheat, which was continued today. Cheering advices of the condition of the growing winter wheat crop and of the spring wheat seeding were added to this symptom. The impression made extravagant claims of completed stocks of grain in the interest of the wheat speculation is thus diminished.

Special strength in the New York Traction stocks was traceable to the reports of earnings coming from the receivers in whose hands those properties are held. The announcement that the Pennsylvania had purchased the Norfolk and Western stock sold some time ago to its bankers during the height of the anti-corporation agitation was considered highly significant of the increased insurance felt by corporation managers regarding the tone of public sentiment towards them.

The bond market showed notable breadth and strength. Total sales, par value, $10,240,000.

U. S. threes coupon, advanced 1-4 per cent. on call.
