HAMILTON HAPPENINGS

HOODLESS MAY WREST HONORS FROM COOPER

Controller Not Sure of Being Allan Studholme's Opponent—Deputy Chief's Views on Crime.

HAMILTON, Nov. 5.—(Special.)—The political situation in the East Hamilton constituency, which is in a very unsettled condition, is being watched with considerable interest.

When the provincial elections were announced, it was suggested by one of the local newspapers that Col. J. S. Hendrie, the Conservative member for West Hamilton, and Allan Studholme, the Labor representative in the east, be returned without opposition. While this course was favored by influential men in the Labor, Conservative and Liberal parties, it evidently did not meet with the approval of the Tory organization, which was determined that Studholme should be opposed. The party leaders, however, did not readily agree upon the candidate to be put into the field, and the nomination conventions which have been announced for Friday night of this week were delayed on that account.

Not Sure for Cooper.

In the meantime, Controller Cooper has been persuaded to make the race, and things have apparently been cut and dried for his nomination. But tho the party machine is to all outward appearances working smoothly, it is said that the inside mechanism is not in perfect order, and The World is reliably informed that Mr. Cooper will not get the nomination without a fight at least. It is understood that the friends of John Hoodless will make the fight against the controller. Mr. Hoodless has performed many valuable services to his party in Hamilton. He is said to be anxious to carry the Conservative banner in the east, and his friends think his record and popularity entitle him to the honor.

It is also understood that he has the endorsation of Premier Whitney, and, as things stand now, the convention Friday night promises to be a pretty lively affair.

Labor in West Riding.

The Independent Labor party will hold a meeting to-morrow night to further discuss the question of contesting the West Hamilton seat, but it is no likely that any definite action will be taken in the matter before the end of the week. There is hardly a doubt, however, that a Labor man will opose Col. Hendrie.

Making Criminals.

Deputy-Chief of Police Whatley this morning essayed the role of lecturer when he addressed the Brotherhood of the First Methodist Church on "The Beginings of Crime." The deputy's address displayed considerable evidence of erudition, and while it contained a paucity of original ideas on the important subject which he discussed, it was well received by the members of the brotherhood, who evidenced their appreciation by a unanimous vote of thanks, which the speaker received with blushing modesty.

Crime, said Mr. Whatley, began in the home, and was largely caused by the failure of parents to properly discipline their children.

Crime to Under Pay.

The speaker deplored the economic practice of measuring so much service with so much money. As between the man whose greed for gold caused him to underpay his servants, and the man whose necessity tempted him to commit robbery, the deputy was uncertain as to which was the greater criminal.

Rev. Mr. Lancely was greatly pleased with the address, and said he hoped it would be printed, so that others might get the benefit of it.

Would Abolish Bars.

Next Sunday morning the Brotherhood of the First Methodist Church will discuss the subject of the abolition of the drinking bar and of having such question in corporated in the platform of one of the political parties in this province.

The condition of Fred Bell, the Burlington fruit grower who was run down by the G. T. R. newspaper train from Toronto Saturday morning near Burlington Junction, and who was brought to the city hospital here, is said to be greatly improved. Bell's injuries are not so serious as was at first thought, and there is now no doubt that he will recover.

Training School for Toronto.

A training school for hotel help will be established in Canada, following the steps taken by the UnitedS tates stewards, by the International Stewards' A sociation. It was announced at the re ent meeting of the local branch of the association in the St. Charles that it would probably be located in Toronto.

The local branch is working on arrangem nts for the convention of the In ernational Stewards' Association, wh ch is to be held here next August. Dele ates from all over the continent, over 6 0 in number, will be present.

Why Actresses Never Grow Old

(Theatrical World)

Nothing concerning the profession seems more puzzling to the dear old public than the perpetual youth of our feminine members. How often we hear remarks like, "Why, I saw her as Juliet forty years ago and she doesn't look a year older now!" Of course allowance is made for make-up, but when they see us off the stage at close range, they need another explanation.

How strange women generally haven't learned the secret of keeping the face young! How simple a matter to get an ounce of mercolized wax at the drug store, apply it like cold cream, and in the morning wash it off! We know how this gradually, imperceptibly absorbs old cuticle, keeping the complexion new and fresh, free from fine lines, sallowness or over-redness. We know, too, that this mercolized wax is the reason actresses don't wear moth patches, liver spots, pimples and the like. Why don't our sisters on the other side of the footlights learn the reason, and profit by it?

IMMIGRANTS INCREASE CANADA'S DRINK BILL

Have Sent Figures Up, Says Ald. McCarthy—Raps Three-Fifths Clause.

Preceding an eloquent address on the evils of intemperance by Rev. Father MacCorry, the Paulist temperance advocate, in Massey Hall yesterday afternoon, Ald. J. O. McCarthy severely criticized the three-fifths majority required by the laws of the province before a local option victory could be won.

He also declared that the reason the per capita consumption of liquor in Canada had gone up was because of foreign immigrants, who brought their habits of heavy drinking from their home lands. By making allowances for the drinking of foreigners he calculated that the drinking on the part of native Canadians had decreased by one-third.

If there was a local option fight in Toronto, said Ald. McCarthy, there would be probably 50,000 votes cast. The temperance side of the question would have to get 30,000 votes to win. In those 50,000 votes there would be the votes of about 6000 foreigners who would be against local option. So out of the 44,000 votes left after allowing for the foreigners, the temperance people would have to get 30,000.

Absolutely Unfair.

"It is a two to one proposition against us in this province," he declared, "and we might as well recognize it first as last.

"The law ought to fit the majority, not the minority as it now does. I would like to know any other country where the law is made to fit the minority and the majority is not allowed to rule.

"It is not British. It is not fair play," he asserted emphatically. "But if the government won't help us we ask them not to help the other fellow.

Canada was much concerned over the discovery that the consumption of liquor was increasing. It had been thought Canada was the most abstemious country in the world. It was still so, as far as the native Canadians were concerned, he said. By considering what the foreigner drank and taking that amount from the total amount consumed in Canada it would be found that the drink consumed by the native Canadians per head had decreased by one-third.

Abolish Club Licenses.

Ald. McCarthy was of the opinion that the cutting off of bar licenses and the giving of more club licenses was "absolutely ridiculous." There was no more dangerous element in the lives of the men of Canada than licensed clubs, he said.

"I see a man in this hall at the present moment who can go out and within twenty minutes can buy a drink," he asserted. "Why this class legislation?"

As for attempting to get consideration from the parliament buildings for the temperance party he said it was useless to go to Queen's Park. It would be better to go out into the constituencies and fight for the cause by getting men into power who would represent public opinion. Public opinion was 15 years ahead of either political party, he said.

Traffic in States.

Father MacCorry spoke eloquently, giving little incidents from life about the work of the liquor traffic. He told mainly of what it was doing in the United States, his own country. After giving the figures of the money spent in liquor and those spent in getting food, etc., in the United States, he declared that more money was spent there to make people die than to make them live. He did not want to be called an extremist, he said. The cause had suffered a great deal from the hands of such people.

He also spoke at night.

J. S. Robertson, president of the Canadian Temperance League, was in the chair.

TOILS OF THE LAW FOR BOOK KEEPERS

Library Board A'ter Fine Evaders and Those Who Carelessly Retain Volumes.

At a recent meeting of the public library board the secretary-treasurer reported that he was having difficulty in getting in books and fines from certain borrowers, some of whom ignore all appeals and others promise but do not carry out their promises.

The board have now decided to enter action for recovery against these persons. The officers of the library are very reluctant to take this extreme measure, but in some cases it appears to be necessary. The regulations of the board allow of a book being kept out for two weeks with the privilege of renewal for another two weeks.

The date for return is stamped on the borrower's ticket, and if it is not returned on this day a fine of three cents is exacted for every day beyond the time limit. This fine is collectible by law under the provisions of the Public Library Act.

The board are of the opinion that the prosecution of a few offenders will have a wholesome effect on others. It may not be known to all who use the library that if a book is not returned within 14 days after the prescribed time, an additional charge of 25 cents may be made for collection, and if the book is not returned within six weeks after issue, legal proceedings may immediately be taken to recover it, with all fines and charges. A collector has been engaged and is now drumming up the recalcitrants.

The fine is imposed not for punishment, but for the protection of users of the library, who, by the neglect of careless borrowers, are deprived of use of the books detained.

FIRE AMONG GROCERIES.

Fire from some unknown cause did $270 damage to the building and contents of 499 West Queen-street, occupied by Southcomb Brothers, grocers. The cause is unknown, there having been no one in the building after 12 o'clock Saturday night and the fire not being discovered until shortly after 2 o'clock Sunday morning. The property is owned by the Hughes' estate.

TO GIVE EXPOSITION OF BOYS' HANDIWORK

Youthful Artists and Artisans Promoting Big Project For Schoolboys.

A big enterprise, which is being promoted by the boys of Toronto was successfully launched at a banquet held on Saturday night at the St. Charles. It is called the Boys' Arts and Crafts Exposition, and is to be held in Association Hall on December 8 and 9.

The purpose of the exposition is to encourage all branches of art and craft work among boys. Among the guests of the executive were Jas. L. Hughes, J. J. Evans, F. R. Halliday, J. N. Moffatt, D. W. Armstrong, and H. J. Baker.

Each public and high school was represented by two boys, these representatives forming the board of directors.

A. W. Forgie, secretary of the Boys' Club of the Central Y.M.C.A., proposed the toast to the Arts and Crafts Exposition, which was responded to by Kenneth Jackson, president; Ken. C. Dudd, jr., advertising manager; and Gordon R. Davis, secretary-treasurer. These members of the executive outlined the plans of the exposition and called for the hearty support of every one present.

The president expressed his confidence in the ability of the directors to reach the goal of 1000 exhibits of boys' work. This is the slogan of the exposition.

The whole project is in the hands of boys and will demonstrate what boys can accomplish thru united organized effort. The following list includes many of those attending on Saturday night: Douglass Gray, publicity department; Roy Wemp, asst. bus. mgr.; Leonard Self, supt. of arts; John English, supt. of crafts; and Gilbert Frawley, supt. of contests. Directors: V. Hornibrooke, Oakwood H.S.; B. Brodie, Riverdale H.S.; N. Gurnett, High School of Commerce; M. Howarth, G. French and R. Davidson, Jarvis C.I.; H. Gorrie, Harbord, C.I.; W. Caiger and N. McArthur, Wellesley; E. Day, Technical H.S., A. McDonald, Church-street; Harry Row, King Edward; S. Turofsky and A. Stephenson, McCaul; W. Thompson, S. Davis and A. Tuck, Model; W. Cuthbert and H. Snow, Ryerson; H. Penstone, Borden; D. Grant, Lansdowne; N. Blaney, Withrow-avenue; W. Tarlton, King Edward; C. Uhlig Ogden; G. Gwyn, representing W. E. Y.M.C.A. and John Dade, representing Broadview Y.M.C.A.

Jas. L. Hughes, the honorary president, expressed his hearty sympathy with the object of the exposition. He felt that it was a very important educational feature that the schools of the city should support in every possible way. He said the day was fast approaching when more time would be spent teaching pupils how to do things and less time on recitations and examinations.

Mr. Hughes felt that the lessons in organization, promotion and co-operation that would be learned by the boys would be of greater value to them in after life than much of the work being taught in the schools.

In closing Mr. Hughes offered to give a five-dollar prize to the boy winning the most prizes in the exposition and promised his fullest co-operation in all the plans and assured the directors that they felt sure every principal, manual training and art instructor would give them the very heartiest support.

The directors are starting at once securing entries. A handsome thirty-two page prize list is being distributed to every boy in the city. Everything points to a most successful exhibition.

Can Now Work With Comfort

The Old Pains and Aches Are Now Only a Memory.

Tells of the Wonderful Benefits Obtained From

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

Like many another Newfoundlander living far from doctors, Mr. Stone feels unbounded gratitude for the benefits obtained from the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

For years he had suffered from a congested condition of the liver and kidneys, with headaches, backaches, pains in limbs and body. Words fail to describe his sufferings as well as the gratitude he wants to express for the cure.

Mr. Alex. J. Stone, West Point, Nfld., writes: "I suppose you thought I had forgotten all about you when I got Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, but I haven't. You must excuse mistakes, for like many Newfoundland men I have not much education, but I want to thank you many times for your medicine.

"I cannot tell you what I suffered from liver and kidney derangements, indigestion and constipation, nor can I find words to express how much good this medicine has done me. I feel better than I have for five years and have given some of these pills to friends, who tell me they have done them a wonderful lot of good. I want to express my heartfelt gratitude for the benefit derived from the great medicine."

CANADA'S GREAT FUTURE HON. W. T. WHITE'S VISION

In Address to Gananoque Board of Trade, He Gives Reasons For Faith.

GANANOQUE, Nov. 5.—(Special.)—No more eloquent tribute has ever been paid to the past achievements, the present prosperity and the future prospects of Canada, than that which Hon. W. T. White, minister of finance, gave expression to in his address at the banquet tendered him last evening by the Gananoque board of trade.

"Canada," said Mr. White, in his oration, "is the land of hope and promise. I believe I may say it of all of us, without distinction of party, that there are no more loyal people anywhere under the British flag. That is the way we face the future."

Mr. White strictly observed the proprieties of a non-partisan gathering and did not talk politics.

"Few men," he said, "have had such sudden changes as I have had in the last few days of my life. A manager of large financial institutions, now I find myself in the hurlyburly of politics. But I shall not trespass. I shall observe the three mile limit laid down by the chairman (Cries of "Go ahead"), I shall speak for a few minutes upon the one subject on which all Canadians cannot, that of our beloved country of Canada.

Glories of History.

After a brief reference to the "splendid audacity of our forebears of the fur trading period," he passed on to 1759, the victory of Quebec. It was truly a British victory, one in which the vanquished enjoyed as much as the victors the advantages of the victory. Stopping to pay a tribute to the heroic stand of the French-Canadian heroes on the field of Chateauguay, he came to "Canada as it is, and Canada as we see it."

"We have the better half of this continent, and climate will keep us right, however we might be tempted to stray."

Speaking of immigration, Mr. White said: "I am not afraid of any good stock, from wherever they might come."

Foundation is Firm.

The flaming furnaces of Sydney were an object lesson of Canada's progress. Montreal was the second port on the American continent. Thru it not less than a million dollars passes for every day of the year. The C. P. R. had become the premier railway security of the continent. The C. N. R. had built more than a mile a day for the last 13 years. Compared with the United States at the beginning of the last century, Canada started the 20th century with a firm foundation on which to build for the future.

"Young men are living to-day," he declared, "who will see the population of Canada equal to the population of Great Britain. Canada will become the centre of the British Empire. We are getting more reach now that we used to have in the possibilities of this country."

Confidence in Bankers.

Mr. White paid a high tribute to the banking system of Canada, and spoke in the highest terms of the ability and integrity of the men entrusted with the administration. "I hope and believe," he said, "that it will be possible to devise regulations which will prevent such mismanagement on the part of officers as resulted in the wrecking of the Farmers' Bank. And I am satisfied that we can in this count upon the active co-operation of the bankers themselves. Canada has unbroken confidence in the integrity of its judiciary. "I believe, said Mr. White, "that the average man in Canada is about the best average man in the world, and I put it down to our public school system."

Mr. White, in expressing his sense of the honor of his being associated with the County of Leeds, said that it was his intention to take up his residence in the town of Gananoque.

Nearly 150 persons sat down at the banquet, which was one of the largest ever held in the town. Fred J. Sawyer, president of the board of trade, presided at the head table, beside the guest of the evening sat his colleague Hon. J. P. Reid, minister of marine and fisheries; Geo. Taylor, ex-M.P., and Charles Macdonald, the pitcher manufacturer of the town, who proposed the toast to Mr. White. The toast to Canada was proposed by R. G. Graham, and responded to by Geo. Taylor, ex-M.P., in a speech bristling with anecdotes of the old days "when Montreal was east and Toronto was west." Addresses were also delivered by W. T. Sampson, C. E. Britton, Hon. Dr. Reid and Rev. S. J. Robins.

Mr. White was entertained at dinner to-day by C. E. Britton, a political foe, but an old friend.

PRESBYTERIAN MISSIONS

Women's Society Meet to Discuss Canadian Work.

The annual meetings of the Toronto Presbyterial of the Women's Home Missionary Society, will be held in High Park Presbyterian Church, corner Roncesvalles and Wright-avenues, on Tuesday, morning and afternoon, Nov. 7.

GIBSON IS DOUBTFUL ABOUT OPPOSING WHITE

Nominated by Leeds Liberals, He Shows Vein of Caution—Might Affect Hon. Mr. Graham.

GANANOQUE, Nov. 5.—(Special.)—The County of Leeds is hesitating in the throes of uncertainty as to whether the candidature of Hon. W. T. White will be opposed, of whether he will be, at to-morrow's nomination, declared elected by acclamation.

Yesterday the Liberals of the riding gathered in convention at Delta and nominated W. J. Gibson, a prominent Gananoque manufacturer, but it is yet uncertain if he will face the electors.

When seen last night on his return from the convention, all Mr. Gibson would say was, "Well, I have till Monday to think over it."

"You will fight, Mr. Gibson?" he was asked.

"If I decide to run, I certainly will put up the best fight I can," was his response.

It is believed here that the question rests with the chiefs of the party at Ottawa. If Sir Wilfrid says "Fight," he will fight. There is some talk here about the doubtful wisdom of opposing Mr. White, as it is believed it would make it difficult to arrange later for an easy re-entrance of Hon. G. P. Graham into the federal house.

W. J. Gibson, the prospective candidate, is a harness manufacturer, and has been in business in Gananoque for the past 28 years. He is possessed of considerable means. He ran against George Taylor, the ex-member in 1904, and at that time succeeded in considerably reducing his majority.

R. & O. Service—Steamer "Belleville"

The steamer Belleville will leave Hamilton and Toronto, Tuesday, Nov. 7, for Port Hope, Cobourg, Bay of Quinte ports, Kingston, Brockville, Prescott, Cornwall, Montreal and intermediate ports. Returning will leave Montreal about 13th inst., for Toronto, where she will lay up for the winter 61

CRYING NEED OF INDIA IS CHRISTIAN MISSIONS

Sir Andrew Fraser, in Preaching University Sermons, Calls For Workers For That Land.

The "call of missions" was the subject of a strong missionary address by Sir Andrew Fraser, late lieutenant-governor of Bengal, in Convocation Hall at the University yesterday morning.

It was not the usual call to go forth into the field. It was the intimate invitation of one who knew the land and knew India in its darkness of superstition and idolatry—in its need of civilization and Christianity—to work hand in hand with Christ for the redemption of His peoples in distant lands.

For 37 years had Sir Andrew labored in the service of the crown in India. From province to province he was transferred. He became imbued with the spirit of the land, and now he has a son in the mission field and he himself is telling in a personal manner the great need for Christianity of the Hindus, Brahmins, and Parsees.

He told of the mission work. He had seen it chiefly in the field of education. An elder in a native church he had seen the missionaries laboring in the colleges, schools, hospitals and congregations. He intimately knew their work. Men whom now he numbers among his personal friends were worshipping idols when he went to India.

He had seen character moulded by the influence of Christianity—and Christianity was the great need of India.

"There are many places where Christ is not known—many men have heard of Jesus," he declared. "There is a cry going up from India stronger than it has ever been. This is a special opportunity for those who have talents. If any man has means, if any man has intelligence, if any man has leadership, let him give it at this time to the service of the Lord, that in the end he may hear him say, "Well done."

"During my period of office as lieutenant-governor of Bengal, I was standing beside the king at a great durbar, and was giving the honors away that the king had seen fit to bestow on those who had labored for the empire. One man I will always remember. He was a brave little Brahmin, who had dared his life in defence of the British sovereignty and the peace of the country was largely due to his efforts. As he came forward he staggered. He could hardly thank me fittingly for the decoration. He was astonished that he should get a reward for doing his duty. I think that on that last day there will be some to whom, when He says "Well done," will come great astonishment.
