Magistrate Love Learns Thing or Two

Magistrate Love had a two-hour lesson this morning into the mysteries attending the running of a second-hand furniture business.

The business as conducted by Samuel Richmond, an exceedingly voluble German, must be very exciting, and the description of his adventures proved highly diverting not only to his worship, but to numerous spectators.

Richmond laid a charge against another German named William Brotherinlaw, who was, if anything, more voluble than himself, and whose counsel had the utmost difficulty in preventing Brotherinlaw from telling the story in half a dozen different languages.

Brotherinlaw's story was that he went to Richmond's store and arranged for the purchase of beds, mattresses and other thing amounting in all to about $70. Brotherinlaw gave the court to understand that he had reason to believe later that the goods were not brand new and fresh from the factory.

Hard on Collector.

When Mr. Richmond came to collect some money at the place where Mr. Brotherinlaw worked, it is alleged, that the last named gentleman used him in a most unfriendly manner, handling him roughly and telling him to get out.

As a result Mr. Richmond had Mr. Brotherinlaw summoned and for about an hour there was enough broken English flying around to start a new language.

The magistrate decided that Brotherinlaw was in the wrong and ordered him to pay a fine of $4 and $2 85 costs and bound him over in the sum of $100 to keep the peace.

William McDonald was given to understand that he was a good for nothing individual and that his society wasn't wanted in London unless he quit drinking. His worship also stated that Mrs. McDonald did not want to have anything more to do with such a man and that McDonald was in future to keep away from her and give up possession of the furniture in the house and also one child. McDonald agreed to sign documents doing all this and was allowed to go.

William Larrah was fined $5 or 20 days for being drunk. He took the days.

Angus Cameron after being in jail a week, promised not to drink any more if let go, and was given a chance.

One first-timer was allowed to go.

WAGON RAN OVER HIM

Feared That Willie Bowring Is Injured Internally.

Willie Bowring, the 10-year-old son of Mr. Jacob Bowring, 262 King street, had an escape from being killed yesterday afternoon, while coming home from Colborne street school. The little fellow caught on a sand wagon and climbed in the back. In some manner he fell out, and the hind wheels passed over him. A physician was called and it is feared that internal injuries may result.

MEN ARRESTED ON A SERIOUS CHARGE

Thomas Cameron and William Bavin Taken Into Custody.

Thomas Cameron and Wm. Bavin were arrested by Detectives Egelton and Nickle this morning charged with committing an indecent assault upon a little boy. It is stated that the two young men induced the little fellow to go with them along the river bank at the back of Victoria Hospital and there committed the offense.

Both men have police records, and if found guilty of the assault, are liable to a term of fifteen years in the penitentiary. They will appear before Magistrate Love tomorrow morning.

Line Blocked.

The breaking of a pile driver near Caradoc blocked the main line of the C. P. R. last night, and the express arrived here from Windsor over five hours late. No damage was done to the roadbed, but the delay was occasioned by the break taking place upon an embankment where it was almost impossible to get at the pile driver to repair it.

The Labor Party.

Nearly every delegate enrolled himself as a member of the party, with the distinct understanding that a person who was a member of any other political party must sever his connection with it before being eligible to membership in the labor party. The doors of the new party are open to all, union or non-union, who are ready to subscribe to the platform and stand for independent political action. The platform of the party is the same as that of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada already adopted by the trades council as the platform upon which the nominee of the larbor party shall appeal to the people. One of the main planks calls for direct legislation, that the voters shall have the right to initiate legislative measures of which they approve or veto those of which they disapprove. The executive committee was instructed to meet this evening to secure the necessary literature and start the enrollment of members throughout the city.

The Council Business.

After the business of the labor party had been completed the Trades and Labor Council meeting was resumed. Only one or two matters of minor importance were touched on, and as the hour was late the report of the delegates to the convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada held in Winnipeg, was laid over until the next regular meeting.

MISS VANDERBILT TO WED A COUNT

Gladys' Hungarian Fiance Is Said To Be Good Looking, Young and Rich.

New York, Oct. 3.—Formal announcement of the engagement of Miss Gladys Vanderbilt to Count Lazzolo Szecheny, of Budapest, is made in the Herald today. The Herald says that the announcement is authorized. No date has been set for the wedding, but it is expected it will take place at The Breakers—the Vanderbilt mansion in Newport—some time this autumn.

The count, who is the youngest son of the late Count Emeryh Szacheny, for some years ambassador from Austria-Hungary to Germany, is now in Newport, having arrived from Europe Tuesday night. He is 28 years old, rich, and good-looking, has an hereditary seat in the Hungarian Parliament, and is one of the chamberlains.

The announcement of the engagement will be received with great interest, owing to the prominence of both families.

Miss Vanderbilt, who is the youngest child of the late Mr. Vanderbilt, inherited from her father a fortune of more than $10,000,000.

ALLEGED ELOPERS ARE IN LONDON

So Says a Dispatch From Owen Sound—Local Police Know Nothing.

Owen Sound, Oct. 3.—The authorities are looking for Thomas A. Richardson, of this town, to answer to a charge of bigamy. He was in London yesterday morning, but has not yet been arrested.

Richardson, it is alleged, is a married man, having a wife and three children living on Union street hill, and on Sept. 2 last, under the name of James D. Wilson, he was married by the Rev. Mr. Franks, of the Methodist Church, Brooke, to Miss Margaret Weir, second daughter of Mr. Adam Weir. He left his wife with only $10 the night of the marriage.

Richardson, it is claimed, has been leading a double life since early in January last, when he met Miss Weir, who is only 19 years old, at the home of H. McKenzie, St. Vincent street. He passed himself off as Jas. D. Wilson, and said he was a locomotive engineer on the C. P. R. He frequently told the girl and her people of relatives by the name of Richardson, residing on the east hill, referring to himself, with whom he was very friendly. All this time he was employed as foreman at Findlay's mill—and not at the C. P. R. He explained his spasmodic visits by the reason of the irregular arrivals and departures of his trains. The marriage was bitterly opposed by the girl's friends, but on the evening of Sept. 2 the marriage ceremony was performed. The couple stayed at one of the local hotels over night and left on the 5:30 train over the Grand Trunk the next morning. Richardson said he was going to live in Lindsay.

Last Sunday, as nothing had been heard of the couple, inquiries were made at the home of the alleged relatives, and the wife identified a portrait of "Wilson" as her husband. Later Mr. Weir located the couple in London by telephoning to friends there. Richardson, who is 35 years of age, came from Elora a year ago.

The local police say that they have not been asked to locate the couple in this city.

McWATTERS' FUND COMPLETE

Captain Delighted.

As added contributions came in yesterday Captain MacGillivray expressed himself as delighted beyond all measure with the manner in which the people of this vicinity had responded to his call for aid.

"We haven't had a worthier cause in a long time," said he, "and never have we had less trouble in raising funds."

It is not known just how soon the mother of the little girl can be brought over from the old country, but with the fast steamers now plying between the two continents at frequent intervals it cannot be very long.

Although the story of the little McWatters girl has been told fully in this paper a brief outline of her history may not be amiss.

Martha McWatters formerly lived in Belfast, Ireland, with her father and mother and four children. A number of years ago the father took to drinking heavily, and finally disappeared, and has not since been heard of. Finding herself unable to provide for the four children the mother was compelled to place two of them, Martha and a younger brother in the Barnado Home in Belfast.

At the tender age of 9 years little Martha, along with her small brother was shipped to this country. The boy is now in St. Catherines, while the girl, who is now fifteen, lives with a Miss Stiles in London Township.

For years the little girl has wanted her mother. One week ago today she plucked up courage enough to tell her sad story to the Salvation Army people. The rest is known.

Advertiser Correspondence

Five Englishmen Explain.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

In reference to the piece put into today's paper, re Five Young Englishmen, we wish to contradict some of the statements. The five Englishmen lodged with Mrs. Smith on the Hamilton road, eight weeks before she decamped. On the Saturday the Englishmen came from work and as usual paid her $3 50 in advance, and also $4 was loaned to her. She told them that she had to meet some bills and that if they would help her this week they could deduct it from their week's board. The young men putting faith in her, lent her the required sum, and as usual, retired to rest, little knowing what was going to happen, but a great surprise was waiting for them when they got up on Sunday morning. Instead of breakfast being ready they found the landlady had decamped, taking with her more than she owned, not even leaving anything to eat. A council was held, and the young Englishmen came to the conclusion that it would be better to look after themselves, and so on the Monday they rented a house and are quite comfortable in their new home, where they have no one to dupe them, one of them being housekeeper and cook.

Besieged With Begging Letters and Has No Money.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 3.—A letter was published here today from Count Tolstoi asking that the requests for financial assistance addressed to him be discontinued, explaining that twenty years ago he surrendered his property to his heirs as already dead, and the sole sum at his disposal now are occasional foreign contributions which I distribute in the neighborhood." The letter with the petitions said: "I regret being unable to help the petitioners. If the public will believe me when I say I have no property it would spare me from such petitions.

RUBBER

When you buy rubber it pays to get it. There are few things in which quality counts for more than in rubber goods.

The demands of our trade require us to carry more than one quality of rubber goods, but each quality is sold for what it is, and is sold at an honest price. We carry practically everything in the line of Syringes, Hot Water Bottles, Sickroom Supplies, etc.

OFFICIALS WORK THE MINE PUMPS

Mechanics at Springhill Quit—The Company's Property Jeopardized.

Springhill, N. S., Oct. 3.—The officials of the Cumberland Railway and Coal Company are manning the pumps and doing their best to carry on the work abandoned by the 300 members of Mechanics' Lodge, who struck work yesterday.

This is a hard time of the year at the pumps, as a large quantity of water is running.

Mr. Mackenzie King, deputy minister of labor, has arrived, and had a conference with some of the men. John Moffatt, grand secretary of the P. W. A., also arrived in Springhill.

The company will do their best in the meantime to keep the pumps at work and the engines going.

The mines act provides that the Government shall step in where it is necessary to save property, and heavy penalties may be imposed on men who refuse to work when called on in such a case.

FOUR ITALIANS HANGED

Quartet Were Implicated in Daring Robbery and Murder.

Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 3.—Anthony Delero, Stephen Cariul, Sivora Rodelli and Joseph Celione were hanged here today.

The crime for which they paid the penalty was the murder of Plato Albamase, and was the culmination of a daring robbery.

On the night of Aug. 30, 1906, they robbed a shanty near Gap, Pa., occupied by Italian laborers, who were asleep. One of the quartet was stationed as guard at the door, while the other three awakened the sleepers, and with drawn revolvers and knives, demanded their savings. The amount secured was small, because the men had only a few days before sent away their money. In the melee, Albamase was killed.

STOCK MARKETS.

H. C. Becher, stockbroker, received the following by private wire from Bartlett, Frazier & Carrington today:

New York, Oct. 3—Noon.—Depression on the stock exchange today was more marked than for some time. Prices for Americans in London were lower, and the market there was described as gloomy. The Bank of England made a poor showing in its weekly report. Its rate was unchanged. Consols were higher. Money on call here was 5½ per cent at one time, and the market quite depressed. Professionals to a man are working for lower prices. The Southern Railway made a new low record, and C. P. R. sold at 160. The date of its new stock issue is not yet known. The chances favor a rally before the close. Sales to noon were 307,000 shares.

SAVE WHILE YOU EARN

Don't forget that each day brings you nearer to the time when your talents will no longer serve you as a money-earner. Save while you earn—prepare for the future. Even the money of millionaires has to work for them—indeed, if they had not early put it to work they probably would not have been millionaires at all. In any case, your money should be working for you, and you may begin a savings account here with as small a sum as you please. It will earn 3½ per cent interest. It will work for you.
