THE A. M. C.

[Pte. Walter Belland, A. M. C.]

The A. M. C. is calling
For more recruits today,
So get right into khaki, boys,
And your pay will start today.

Our officers are the best of men;
They will show you all they can,
For khaki is the color
For every eligible man.

The draft will soon be leaving
For far across the sea,
Then you'll be proud that you signed up
In the good old A. M. C.

And, when you get to England, boys,
Be careful what you do,
And don't forget that good old drill
That the sergeant put you through.

This is the twenty-second draft
That we have sent away,
And some of them are at the front
And doing their bit today.

AGED INGERSOLL RESIDENT DEAD

INGERSOLL, July 18.—The death of George Chambers, in his 94th year, occurred at his home, corner Thames street and Cottage avenue. He was one of Ingersoll's oldest residents and widely known in the town and neighboring districts.

He had been failing for several years, but was able to be around, and was comparatively active up to a few months ago. For a long period the deceased followed farming in West Oxford very successfully, and on retiring he settled in this town. He was a man of marked geniality, and merited the esteem of many friends. He never married and resided with his sister, Miss Mary Chambers. He is also survived by a nephew, George Chambers of Columbus, Ohio.

GILLETTE—INNES.

GLENCOE, July 18. — A pretty wedding took place Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Innes, Glencoe, when their youngest daughter, Marion, was married to Avery R. Gillette of Chatham.

Rev. G. S. Lloyd performed the ceremony. The bride was given away by her father, and was beautifully gowned in white silk crepe de chine, trimmed with real lact, with bridal veil of tulle caught up with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl set lavalier.

Immediately after the ceremony the guests sat down to a dainty wedding dinner.

OVER 6,000 CITIZENS ATTEND BIG PICNIC OF RETAIL GROCERS

Annual Event at Port Stanley Best in History.

DANCING CONTESTS

Program Was Carried Out in Detail Without Hitch.

More than six thousand Londoners at Port Stanley Wednesday afternoon and evening helped to make the annual picnic of the Retail Grocers Association one of the most successful in the history of the organization. Perfect weather conditions and capable management by those in charge of the arrangements did the rest.

Trainloads of citizens began to pour into the summer resort early in the morning, and the crowd was soon augmented by hundreds enjoying the Wednesday half holiday. Although final arrangements for the event were not made until the early part of the week, not the least trouble was experienced, and although judges and members of the various committees were kept hard at work, every number on the long program came off as arranged.

A feature of the day was the Scotch and Irish dancing contests, in which more than a score of little boys and girls from the city participated. So numerous were the entries that it was necessary to award several special prizes. These were presented by the judges, Arch McPherson and Ken McCormick, who fulfilled their rather difficult task to the complete satisfaction of everybody.

Athletic Program.

In the athletic part of the program, an interesting event was tilting the bucket. Contestants in this competition made their entries in pairs. One member of the duet occupied a seat in a wheelbarrow, which the other contestant navigated. The man in the barrow was provided with a lance, which, as he passed under a block of wood upon which a pail of water was balanced he attempted to pass through a small hole in the block. Failure to do this tilted the pail, deluging both the contestants. Nobody on the grounds was able to turn the trick properly, so there were no prizes awarded. There were any number of contestants, however, and at one time His Worship Mayor Stevenson was almost induced to try for honors. The running high jump brought out a fairly good showing of contestants, and there was keen competition in all the other events.

The Baby Show.

Judges had a difficult time when it came to picking out the winners of the various cups donated for the baby show. There was a score of babies, and all of them would undoubtedly have qualified for a prize had it been possible to make the awards to more than four in each event.

The largest family one the grounds proved to be that of A. Wright of Madison avenue.

Music throughout the day was provided by the Marconi Club Band, under the direction of Prof. Pasquale Venuta, and the Cortese Orchiestra.

Boss grocers from the north and south of the city provided one of the best little exhibitions of baseball witnessed at Port Stanley in some time. Fred Brown, at bat for the south end team, lined out three home runs. These brought the score for his team up to 20. The north end aggregation secured only five runs.

The players on the south end team were: W. Craig, Charles Ross, H. Langford, Fred Brown, P. Chadwick, K. McCormick, G. Player, F. St. Lawrence and G. Drake.

The players on the north end team were: A. Henry, H. Ramahan, M. Young, R. Donaghy, C. Pierce, J. Manning, F. Harley, J. Gillett and F. Lapthorne.

Arch McPherson acted as umpire, while E. Moore was the official scorer.

MISS POWELL TELLS HOW TO PRESERVE GREEN VEGETABLES

Demonstrates Ways of Canning Swiss Chard and Beets.

RECIPE FOR WAR BREAD

Interest Grows in the Lectures Given by Domestic Science Expert.

Keen interest was manifested at the second demonstration in canning fruit and vegetables given by Miss Powell in the Lord Roberts school, under the auspices of the Women's Gardening Association.

For the benefit of those who were not present at the opening of the demonstration, Miss Powell repeated several of the methods of preserving fruit and vegetables, and again emphasized the importance of thoroughly sterilizing the jars and other things used, as it could not be expected that the product would keep in jars that contained bacteria. "Another important fact that few people realize," she said, "was to get the fruit before too late in the season." Miss Powell stated "that if they could only realize the difference it would make to the whole of Canada if everyone would can or preserve all the surplus products, they would then not have to import these goods from other countries and so keep their money in the country."

Greenstuff of every kind except cabbage, are almost unobtainable in winter, yet these being the most healthful Miss Powell urged that as much greenstuff as possible be canned. She demonstrated several ways of canning beet-tops, Swiss chard, and beets.

To successfully can beet tops, they should be thoroughly washed and drained, and if the stalks are heavy they should be cut into jar lengths and plunged into water for ten minutes and then packed tightly into jars. A teaspoonful of salt should be added to every quart jar and this filled with boiling water. "Put rubbers on and partly seal," said the speaker, "put into boiler with water to within one inch of the top of the jar and boil for forty-five minutes. After turning off the gas the lid of the boiler should not be removed for five minutes. Spinach, Swiss chard, and other greenstuffs may be done in the same way."

Canning Beets.

Small beets about two inches in diameter are the best flavored to can. They should stand in boiling water for ten minutes and then be plunged into cold. In this way the skins are easily removed. Fill the jars with the flat part of the beet at the bottom, then fill the jar up with boiling water and add one teaspoon of salt to the quart, put in the boiler for one hour and a half.

Pickled Beets.

Boil beets in salted water until tender, remove skins, fill the jars as full as possible and cover with one part vinegar and four parts water. The water must be boiling, then steam for one and a half hours.

In speaking of jelly-making, Miss Powell said to use as little water as possible, and use three-quarters of a pound of sugar to a pound of fruit. Under-ripe fruit is preferable and a clear bright day to a rainy one, as it will jell much more quickly.

A war bread recipe which Miss Powell recommended as very good was for entire wheat bread as follows:

1 cup of brown sugar
2 cups of buttermilk
3 cups of whole wheat flour
1 teaspoon of soda.

Mix with a fork and bake twenty to thirty minutes.

Miss Powell is a domestic science expert and will be pleased to answer any problems which the housewife finds cropping up during the canning season.

Today, Miss Powell will give a demonstration in canning cauliflower and other green vegetables and will repeat some of the already demonstrated recipes. Although there was a large attendance on the first day, yesterday reached the hundred mark.

MORAVIANTOWN.

MORAVIANTOWN, July 18.—John Tomago of this reserve, who went overseas with the 135th Battalion, returned to his home here yesterday. Of all those who went overseas from this community he is the first to return, having been invalided home on account of illness.

Conductor George Nethercott and wife of St. Thomas, and Lieut. Pliny Nethercott of Toronto, visited at the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Nethercott lately. They returned to their homes yesterday.

Although the hay crop is quite heavy, it is almost impossible to save it because of the rainy weather.

Mrs. Whiteye of this reserve is ill at her home.
