CAMP NUMBER TWENTY.

ONE OF THE INNER CIRCLE TELLS ALL HE KNOWS.

How Cronin was Tried, Found Guilty of Being a British Spy and Sentenced to Death—His Assassins Selected By Lot—Important Discovery at Winnipeg.

CHICAGO, June 25.—One of the inner circle of Camp No. 20 of the Clan-na-Gael, a man who attended the meeting when Cronin was tried and sentenced to death, has told State's Attorney Longenecker all he knows. There were ten men present at this meeting, and one of them—the State's Attorney's informant says—refused to vote on the death sentence because his heart and nerve failed him. He insisted that Cronin should be present and heard in his own behalf, but, as might have been expected, this reasonable request was refused. The charge against Cronin—that he was a British spy—was brought up by a man whose name has been prominently identified with the case, but preferred through a second party. The man who conducted the prosecution was an Irish lawyer here, an honest fellow under ordinary circumstances, but a blind follower of his leader. The names of seven of the ten men present at the secret meeting are in the possession of the State's Attorney, together with the name of the lawyer who acted as prosecutor upon that occasion. A German saloon on the North side is given as the rendezvous of the Inner Circle at the time the trial took place, but it is not thought that the conspirators would have chosen this place when there are saloons kept by good Clan-na-Gael men in plenty in that section of the city.

The informer has been on nettles ever since the body of Cronin was discovered, and at last determined to ease his conscience by telling the State's Attorney everything. He did not vote at all on the death penalty, he says, and Judge Longenecker is inclined to believe him. The meeting of the inner circle, at which Cronin was condemned, was held one Friday night in the latter part of February. Whether the Senior Guardian of the camp presided or not is not as yet known; at any rate the informer says he was there. Those in attendance were men known to be faithful, beyond a shadow of a doubt, to the behests of their superiors. Cronin was found guilty of being a British spy and the punishment was fixed at death. Death was always the penalty which traitors paid, and Cronin was to be no exception to the rule.

Selecting the Assassin by Lot.

The law of the order is that whenever dangerous work is to be done, if no one volunteers for the mission, lots must be drawn in the camp to which the accomplishment of an object is intrusted, and the brother to whom chance awards the task undertakes it without question and without thought of life or liberty. In the matter of the removal of Dr. Cronin no volunteers were called for. It was necessary to preserve the greatest secrecy, for Cronin was a man of many friends, and some of them were sufficiently attached to him to run the risk of their lives to save his. Lots were therefore drawn. The names of those present were put on separate slips of paper and the lottery of murder was carried out in all its details. The names of the men selected for the fearful deed were not made known at the meeting. No one knew the names of the men who were to "remove" Dr. Cronin except the man who was to notify them that they had been selected for the act of blood and were expected to begin at once. This man was one of the prisoners now under arrest, and he directed the murderous proceedings.

Investigating Coughlin and Beggs.

Chief of Police Hubbard said last night: "Dan Coughlin was not at home the night of May 4; he was not at the East Chicago-avenue station and we have traced him almost to the very door of the Carlson cottage."

The police will not say that Senior Guardian John F. Beggs is one of the men who is eagerly and anxiously wanted, but it is a fact that detectives were looking for him all day. It is not believed that he has left the city and therefore his usual haunts were thoroughly searched without success.

Detective Palmer had a long interview with Judge Longenecker early in the morning and about an hour later a flurried-looking man was admitted to the Judge's office by the side door. He was a Clan-na-Gael man, and he was the one who gave the State's Attorney the names of seven of the ten men who compose the inner circle of Camp No. 20.

Following the Carey Model.

The trial, condemnation and execution of Dr. Cronin was entirely in accordance with the usages of the Clan as practised in other cases, notably that of the informer Carey, who was tried by the same process under which Dr. Cronin suffered death.

The gravity of the charges made against the men composing the inner circle of Camp No. 20 is fully appreciated by the State's Attorney, who has had several officers detailed to guard the informer, to prevent harm being done him. He will not be arrested, and no sign will be made by the officers that would indicate to the conspirators that he is under the protection of the police.

A Crime Against Civilization.

These disclosures confirm the worst apprehensions of the character of Clan-na-Gael. The facts show pretty conclusively that this organization should have no abiding place in the Republic, but be destroyed root and branch. The authorities here have a very serious business on hand. They may rightly claim the sympathy and support of every right minded man in the world. It is a crime against the country and the civilization of the century which they are bringing to light. The task is difficult, but the necessity of punishing the guilty is urgent.

The Burke Extradition Case.

WINNIPEG, June 25.—The indications are that the only evidence to be given in the Burke extradition case to-morrow will be that identifying the prisoner, other witnesses being unable to arrive in time.

It transpires that on the day of his arrest Burke sent a telegram to a friend in Hancock, Mich., telling him not to reply to a note sent him. Burke did not take the telegram to the office himself but got another person to take it. This is an important fact, as it forms another link in the chain of evidence against the prisoner.

A MYSTERY OF THE SEA.

Wreckage Comes Ashore on the Massachusetts Coast.

VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass., June 25.—For several days there have been evidences of some ocean disaster in the washing ashore on these islands of wreckage. Yesterday a bundle of woman's clothing, evidently done up in great haste, was picked up on the beach at Edgartown. A life preserver that came from the steamer City of Rome was also found. At Smith's Point gilt mouldings belonging to some steamer and also steamer Victoria bills of lading were washed ashore. Wine cards of the steamship Haytian Republic were washed ashore at Nantucket. A mast was also found with the wreckage at that point. Everything points to a collision between the Victoria and the Haytian Republic, though the life preserver belonging to the City of Rome adds to the mystery.

Washed Ashore at Nantucket.

NANTUCKET, Mass., June 25.—Several English electric lamps have been washed ashore on the west side of the Nantucket since the last report. They are thought to be from the steamer Victoria.

A WOMAN HANGED.

Mrs. Whiteling Suffers the Death Penalty at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 25.—Mrs. Whiteling was hanged here this morning for the deliberate poisoning of her husband and two children with arsenic, for the purpose of securing the insurance on their lives.

The woman's bearing throughout the ordeal was a most remarkable exhibition of fortitude and resignation to her fate. During the entire morning she never for a moment showed the slightest evidence of weakness and frequently expressed her pleasure at the "prospect of meeting her husband and children." Mrs. Whiteling spent her last night walking about in her cell singing and praying. She ate with apparent relish a breakfast consisting of fried eggs, toast and chocolate. She was then taken to another cell, where she was joined by her spiritual adviser, Rev. W. D. Jones, of the South Methodist Episcopal Church. Mrs. Whiteling joined in the devotional services with considerable spirit and apparently obtained much comfort therefrom.

She was escorted to the scaffold by two ministers. She walked firmly and showed no hesitation. At 10.07 the trap was sprung. The fall was about five feet, and the physicians stated that death was instantaneous from strangulation, though the heart continued to beat spasmodically for some time thereafter. The body was turned over to Dr. Alice Bennett of the Norristown Hospital for the Insane for examination of the brain, after which the body will be buried by the side of the murdered husband and children.

[Mrs. Whiteling's husband died March 20, 1888, apparently of gastric fever. April 24 followed her daughter Bertha, 9 years old, apparently of gastric fever also. Thirty-two days later Willie, her 3 year-old son, died, apparently of congestion of the bowels. June 13 of the same year Mrs. Whiteling confessed to having poisoned her two children with rat poison, but denied having caused the death of her husband. Two days later she told the coroner how she murdered her husband by putting rat-poison in his egg-nogg. She was convicted of the three murders and sentenced to death. Opponents of capital punishment tried hard, but unsuccessfully, to secure a commutation of sentence to life imprisonment. It is believed the unnatural wife took her husband's life for the insurance upon it; also that of her eldest child, whose life she had insured before she killed it. The baby, she said, she killed "because it was in the way." There are those who believe the woman was insane.]

Cheated the Gallows.

PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—Geo. McCann, awaiting trial for the murder of his wife, hanged himself in the county prison early this morning. His cell was but a few yards from that in which Mrs. Whiteling was awaiting execution. He hanged himself with a pocket handkerchief fastened to the door knob.

Blew Her Brains Out.

HALIFAX, N.S., June 25.—Hattie Conrod, aged 19, blew her brains out at Laurencetown, near Halifax, Sunday afternoon. Her body was found at midnight in a clump of bushes near her parents' house; she was lying on her back and had an open knife tightly clenched in her right hand and a pistol all smeared with blood, resting on her breast. She had shot herself through the mouth. The back of her head was shot to a jelly.

A CLEVER SWINDLE.

How a Young New Yorker Worked Montreal Brokers by Forged Checks.

MONTREAL, June 25.—A young man named Charles Keeler, hailing from New York, succeeded in getting several forged checks, purporting to be signed by J. J. Curran, M.P., cashed to-day by a clever ruse. The swindler called up a number of brokers' offices by telephone and told them he was Mr. Curran and that a boy would be around in a few minutes with a check which he would like cashed as it was after banking hours. The boy duly appeared and in several instances the checks were cashed.

A Brakeman's Find.

MONTREAL, June 25.—Louis Rock, brakeman on the passenger train from Toronto to Montreal, on Saturday picked up a purse containing a substantial sum of money in bills in one of the cars. THE BAROMETER OF WAR.

FRANCIS JOSEPH'S SPEECH DEPRESSES THE BOERSES.

But the Emperor Doesn't Think Matters are so Bad as They Look—Jack the Ripper's Latest Victim—Jubilant Boulangists—General Cable News.

LONDON, June 25.—A despatch from Odessa says that war clauses have been added to nearly all Russian private commercial agreements.

The Standard's Vienna despatch says: Emperor Francis Joseph, speaking individually to the delegates yesterday, said the public and the press view the foreign situation in a far more disquieting light than the facts warrant either in Roumania or Servia, where good immediate prospects of peace exist.

The Russian censorship of the press, which has never had a reputation for extreme leniency, has redoubled its vigilance in the past two weeks, and is now so rigorous that the items of news which come by telegraph from St. Petersburg or elsewhere in the empire are of the mildest and most colorless nature. Everything of a political character is now forwarded by Russian correspondents by mail as far as the German frontier, whence it is telegraphed. Such news as is allowed to filter through in this way confirms the reports heretofore received of the strained relations between Russia and Italy, and indicates that the Italian Ambassador at St. Petersburg, M. de Marochetti, finds himself at the Russian Court in a position that is all but unbearable. The Russian Imperial family is preparing for a yachting cruise in the waters of Finland, but the Czar will not accompany them.

The origin of the present strained relations between Italy and Russia is purely of a personal nature. Col. Baron Rosen, the Military Attache of the Russian Embassy at Rome, had given vent to some exceedingly outspoken criticisms, sneers and even jibes on the subject of King Humbert's army. The matter becoming known at the Quirinal Premier Crispi directed Baron Marochetti, the Italian Ambassador at St. Petersburg, to make an official complaint concerning Col. Rosen's discourtesy and to ask for his immediate recall. The Czar accordingly summoned the Colonel to Gatschina and demanded an explanation. The latter appears to have been of a satisfactory nature, at any rate, the Czar ordered him to return at once to Rome and to remain there, thus ignoring and treating with silent contempt the request of the Italian Government. King Humbert, indignant at such treatment, gave orders that the Colonel should no longer be invited to any military or diplomatic functions, and with the object of avoiding any reprisal of the same nature withdrew from St. Petersburg the Military Attache of his Embassy there.

The Bourses Depressed.

VIENNA, June 25.—The speech made by Emperor Francis Joseph in receiving the Delegations has had a depressing influence on the Vienna and Berlin Bourses.

The Neue Freie Presse says the Emperor's remarks indicate definitely that the idea of conciliating Russia has been abandoned, otherwise the Emperor would not have referred to Bulgaria as he did.

Prince Victor Napoleon has written a letter endorsing the sentiments expressed in the manifesto of the members of the Right in the Chamber of Deputies, in which the action of the Republican majority is condemned and an appeal made to the people to unite in the name of France and Liberty against Parliament and Feudality. He Did Not Die a Freethinker.

Mr. Alexander Simpson, executor of the will of the late Mr. John Clarke of Parkdale, writes: "I am sum I am only doing what my deceased friend would like to have done when I wish it to be publicly known that he did not die a Freethinker. In his last illness he was led to see his condition as a sinner in God's sight, and his closing days were spent in earnestly seeking the great salvation which our Lord Jesus Christ died to procure for fallen man. It was his great concern as to whether the Saviour would receive and pardon one who had openly denied him. Shortly before passing away he was asked what he was leaning upon, and he stated plainly that he died trusting in the Lord Jesus Christ."

THE SEAL "PIRATES."

Mr. Blaine of Maine is Very Stiff on the Behring Sea Question.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Secretary Blaine and Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Minister, held a conference, at which the Behring Sea controversy was discussed in detail. The principal points developed were that imperative orders have been received from England, and that no steps will be taken for the present to protect Canadian vessels sailing in Behring Sea. The British Government suggests a joint commission of all the maritime powers of the world to decide on the validity of the claim of the United States to exclusive jurisdiction of the water. There will be no interference on the part of the British or Dominion cruisers with the United States vessels carrying out their instructions in excluding British sealers from Behring Sea. France and Germany sup; ort Great Britain in their contention that Behring Sea is an open sea.

The policy assumed by Mr. Blaine at the outset will be maintained, conference or no conference. The President intends that the "pirates" shall be driven out no matter whether it pleases the Canadians and the British Government or not.

Ex-Treasury Agent Thos. F. Ryan insists that the reason why the seal "pirates" were not molested by the Cleveland administration was that they contributed large sums to the campaign fund collected to ensure Cleveland's return to the White House.

As the time for nominating a representative for the college has passed it was decided to take no action in the matter. Great dissatisfaction was, however, expressed at a circular purporting to come from the Brantford Association nominating certain members as candidates for the college, being representatives of associations, which is misleading because it is not the fact.

Before adjournment, which took place at 5 o'clock, the association decided to hold its next meeting at Brampton.

DEATH OF MRS. HAYES.

The Wife of the Ex-President Passes Away at Her Home.

FREMONT, June 25.—Mrs. Lucy Webb Hayes, the wife of ex-President Rutherford B. Hayes, died this morning. The funeral will take place Friday.

All night the sorrowing family watched around the bedside. Mrs. Hayes lay motionless and but for the faint breathing and the weak flutter.ng of the pulse there were no signs of life. As morning dawned the hold on life grew weaker and weaker, finally the spirit took flight. In a voice choked with grief the physician announced that the end had come. General Hayes and his four grown sons were deeply affected, while Miss Fanny is nearly prostrated with grief and her long watch at her mother's bedside. The entire city is in mourning and flags are at half-mast. Telegrams of condolence have been received from many friends, among them President and Mrs. Harrison.

[Mrs. Hayes, who was a daughter of Dr. James Webb of Cincinnati, was married to Mr. Hayes in 1852, and was her husband's counsellor during the whole of his public life. During her occupancy of the "White House" she banished wine from the state dinners in accordance with her pronounced total abstinence views. In manner she was singularly simple and unaffected. Mrs. Hayes was the mother of eight children, of whom five survive her.]

OUR MODERN CRUSADERS

AGAINST INTOXICATING BEVERAGES OF EVERY KIND.

Another Convention in Toronto—Grand Lodge of I.O.G.T. Dispatched Business—Endorsed Woman Suffrage—Property They Took to the Water.

The 30th annual session of the Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Good Templars commenced yesterday morning in the Good Templars' parlors at Yonge and Alice-streets. There were about 150 members and delegates present in addition to these officers and past officers, Grand Chief McMullen in the chair: Past Grand Chief E. Storr, Grand Councillor J. E. Wilson, Grand Secretary Thomas Lawless, Grand Treasurer A. Burritt, Grand Marshal Fredrick Dane, Supt. of Juveniles J. J. Noble, Right Worthy Grand Councillor Dr. Oronhyatekha. The Grand Lodge degree was conferred upon 36 candidates.

It was moved by J. S. Robertson and carried, That this Grand Lodge endorses the White Cross and White Shield movements. By resolution of Daniel Rose, seconded by Mrs. Macdonnell, the Grand Lodge also endorsed the woman suffrage movement.

Brother Taggert of Ottawa moved to have the juveniles represented on the floor, but the resolution was voted down.

The delegates to the Right Worthy Grand Lodge, a session of which was held in Chicago last May, presented a report giving an account of the proceedings of that body.

The report of the Grand Chief Templar was submitted and adopted. It stated that in one organised district alone through removals to the Northwest Territory and other causes 400 members had been lost. Otherwise the affairs of the order were encouraging. For seven years the net increase was only 366, whereas in one year, the present term, the increase stands 844.

Last September Bro. T. W. Casey, P.D., was appointed to work in the interests of the order in Renfrew, Stormont, Dundas, Glengarry, Essex, Welland, Haldimand and Norfolk. The result had been satisfactory. Bro. E. Dawson had organized 23 lodges and resuscitated two. Bro. J. P. Bissell had done good work in Muskoka District lodges, had organized 28 lodges and resuscitated 8. The Grand Lodge had organized 37 lodges, resuscitated 22. Amount paid to District Lodges for organizing, $934; for missioning District lodge territory, $209; for organizing by Grand Lodge organizers, $774.

Under the head of property the value of halls owned by lodges is reported to be $16,610; pianos, organs, regalias, rituals, etc., $5537.

The Good Templar Benefit Association is gradually progressing in spite of the fact that no extra effort has been made to push it. Concluding, the Grand Chief says:

I believe that the attention of our people and the public favorable to the temperance cause is directed more to-day than ever it was to a total prohibition law. Scarcely a temperance paper or periodical of a respectable character or article in reference thereto, and the different religious bodies give no uncertain sound as to their position. The repeal of the Scott Act has swept our ranks. Recklessness is ceasing. Old fields of labor in which lodges were given up when the Scott Act was carried have seen their folly in this respect and are open for us to enter again.

The report of the Grand Secretary states the membership at the commencement of the year to have been, in Canada 10,869, in Outside Jurisdiction 1,825; total, 11,694. Present membership 12,537, a net gain of 843. Lodges on the roll at the year's commencement, Canada 255, Ontario 12; total 267. Lodges now on the roll 303, a net gain of 36.

In the financial department the receipts for tax, supplies, charter fees, etc., are shown to be up to May $4083. Of this amount $2348.25 was realized from the capitation tax and $1015.57 from supplies and charter fees. As compared with last year there is an increase in the receipts of $955.46 and in the receipts from supplies and other sources of $282.25, or a total increase of $877.75. The total expenditure for the year has been $4798.12; balance in treasury at the close of the year $367.37. The assets of the Grand Lodge are $930.68, liabilities $316.59. The value of hall properties held by the Grand Lodge is not included in the assets, but $600 may be set down as an estimate for this item. The profit on supplies sold amounts to $312.69. The other branches touched upon in the financial report are in a generally satisfactory condition.

The Delegates on the Lake.

In the evening the members and delegates took a trip on the Cibola, returning at 11.30. Down in the cabin, on behalf of the Toronto Good Templars, Mr. Harry Tugwell presented an address of welcome to the visiting delegates. It was responded to by Mr. J. H. MacMullen, Grand Chief Templar, Dr. Oronhyatekha, E. Murr, Ottawa; J. Wilson, Galt; Thomas Lawless, Rev. J. J. Noble, F. S. Spence and others delivered short addresses. The proceedings were presided over by Mr. J. L. Roberts.

On deck light refreshments were provided and a stirring band made tuneful music during the trip.

THEIR $60,000 HABITATION.

A Peep Into the Toronto Club's Wellington-street Premises.

Many members of the Toronto Club yesterday inspected their new club house on the corner of York and Wellington-streets. The building is a grand one, in every respect superior to the old and dingy premises so long occupied by the club a few doors south of the Rossin House. Although the new house is nearly finished a month will elapse before the final flitting from the present snug quarters. That no expense has been spared in the erection of their new home may be gathered from the fact that its erection alone has cost $60,000. It is of red brick with stone foundations, of pleasing design and good proportions. The hall, staircases and principal rooms are of ample dimensions and well finished. The house is replete with the latest improvements and will be handsomely furnished. From the basement to the roof everything is adapted to the purposes of a first-class club. That desideratum, a first-class kitchen, has not been overlooked. It is all that is required, and the same may be said of other departments of this temporary home of the members. From the upper windows pleasant views are had of bay and lake, and several balconies furnish coigns of vantage and more or less cool breathing places. Messrs. Darling & Curry were the architects, and the consensus of opinion by the members is that the new local habitation is a credit to that well-known firm.

Families leaving town for the summer can have their furniture carefully stored with Mitchell, Miller & Co., 45 Front-street east.

A Local Company Stands Up For Its Representative in British Columbia.

The Toronto Rubber Company has issued a writ for libel against the Gutta Percha and Rubber Manufacturing Company connected with the securing of various contracts in British Columbia. The damages are placed at $50,000, and the libel is understood to have been embodied in various telegrams reflecting on the Toronto Rubber Company's representative at present in that province.

George Paxton Young Memorial.

The first reply to the circular issued by the Young Memorial Committee on Saturday last was received yesterday by the secretary. It was a subscription from an Ottawa gentleman of $500 to be paid in five annual instalments. Any who may have been overlooked in the sending of the circulars will have one sent them by addressing T. C. Des Barres, jr., the secretary, at 117 Bloor-street east. The committee propose to raise $10,000. This first subscription is a good starter towards that amount.

AMBITIOUS CITY NEWS.

The Sunday Observance Convention—Equal Rights Association—Girl Burglars.

HAMILTON, June 25.—The convention called to form a permanent organization for the protection and preservation of the Lord's day met this morning in the school-room of St. Paul's Church. Rev. D. L. Brethour was elected chairman and Rev. John Mordy secretary. A resolution was adopted that forms of petitions be prepared and forwarded to ministers of the gospel in charge of congregations, with a request to have them signed by residents of 21 years of age and over in their respective localities, and returned to the executive before a date agreed upon hereafter. In the evening a public meeting was held in James-street Baptist Church, when addresses were delivered by Rev. George Burson of St. Catharines, Rev. D. L. Brethour, Ph.B., Thorold, and others.

There were three small fires yesterday and to-day, none of which did much damage. One about midnight, apparently the work of an incendiary, partially destroyed a small unoccupied frame house, owned by Lawrence Connelly in Burlington-street west. The pork-packing establishment of Thomas Lowry was slightly scorched yesterday afternoon, and the kitchen of the temperance dining-room was the scene of the other blaze.

A branch of the Equal Rights' Association was organized here yesterday on the lines laid down by the Toronto convention on June 12. These officers were elected: Chairman, Edward Martin, Q.C.; Vice-Chairman, Dr. Macdonald; Treasurer, E.A. Colquhoun; Secretary, William Murray; Executive Committee: Revs. R. G. Boville, R. J. Elliott, Mungo Fraser, R. J. Laidlaw, Samuel Lyle, John Pickering, J. S. Ross, D. H. Fletcher, Messrs. A. Gaviller, Wm. Bell, James Hutchison, Seneca Jones and John Alexander. The work of circulating petitions praying for the disallowance of the Jesuit Estates Act was fully considered and arrangements made to secure signatures. The association will meet on July 2.

They took away a bracelet, a gold ring and a bottle of perfume. The house of Mrs. Hill, 75 Tisdale-street, was also entered and a gold watch taken. Constable Campaign recovered all the articles, but in view of the extreme youth of the culprits they were not prosecuted.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JUNE 26, 1889.

Queen's College and Standard Fixing.

Our amiable contemporary The Kingston News saw fit last week to indulge in a column of garrulous invective, ostensibly as a reply to our assertion that Vice-Chancellor Mulock's convocation address was unanswerable. That assertion, by the way, we reiterate here.

If the article were intended merely to hurt our editorial feelings we should try and bear with becoming meekness. But we do not intend to keep silent, for the article in question apart from the invective and apart from much extraneous matter contains what we must accept for the time being as the creed of Queen's with regard to matriculation examinations, being as it is the latest utterance.

Let us contrast this view with our own: Queen's believes the matriculation standards of Great Britain, the United States and Australia are the ones that Canadian universities must adopt. The World does not believe any such thing. Those examinations may be higher or they may be lower. That makes no difference. We do not want any exotic plants in the shape of university curricula. We want a curriculum that has grown up in the country and is suited to its conditions. To change the metaphor we don't want the cast-off clothes, or even the Sunday best, of any foreign university, big or little. Why this everlasting harping on the standards of Great Britain, United States and Australia? Dr. Grant asserts these standards are higher. That is susceptible of proof or it is not. If it is so, why does he not prove it? He has not done so yet. He must not wonder if we doubt the assertion. The matriculation-on-payment-of-a-guinea test of Glasgow, which it is well known Dr. Grant favored until recently, does not look like higher standards. But as we have said already, the question is not one of superiority or of inferiority, but of suitability.

Queen's believes that the teachers of Ontario are not competent advisers in the framing of a curriculum. Let us not misrepresent our contemporary. This is the way he puts it: "We deny that the teachers of Ontario are any more qualified to frame a proper matriculation examination than the profound scholars who set the entrance examinations for the great American, British or Australian universities." The same story, indeed, as above. But he continues: "If the present matriculation standard is the best that a consensus of opinion thus the teachers of the province can produce, then the sooner this course is put into the hands of men more experienced in the work of higher education the better." Well, that is how the curriculum has been constructed, and The World holds that no wiser or better way could have been found to adapt the curriculum to the educational wants of the country. The high school teachers of Ontario are equal in learning and intelligence to any similar body of men in America or Europe. What is more, they are the best judges of what the schools can teach, and we have yet to learn that the high school teachers are less anxious for the proper elevation of the standard than the suddenly zealous quondam protestors of Queen's.

Queen's believes that the cure for the present state of things (which The World holds needs no curing), is in taking the work of standard fixing out of the hands of those who now do it. We give the proposal in his own words: "If the present matriculation standard is the best, etc. * * then the sooner the preparation of this course is put into the hands of men more experienced in the work of higher education the better." We are tempted to say to our Queen's friends: "No doubt, ye are the people, and wisdom shall die with you." But we wish to inform Queen's, as well as the denominational universities that have joined in this new attempt to bring some part at least of the public educational system under private or denominational control, that such a thing has been a dead issue since 1888. And we would add for the benefit of Queen's that there is but one leader issue, and that is the question of the control of our system of public education or any part of it by a private university under the control of no denomination.

After the above statement of cardinal points in Queen's creed, and of our own views on the matter, we have no space to decide the question as to whether arithmetic is disguised algebra or vice versa, on which Dr. Watson directed his metaphysical mind the other day in a letter strangely and strongly suggestive of The News' article. The ill-starred snarl at the staff of Toronto University and the sour grapes of our contemporary's allusion to Toronto graduates and John Hopkins fellowships do not come within the range of matters which The World proposes to discuss.

Rumors of War.

Again the principal talk over the cable is of war; and now it looks as if what has long been looked for must come at last. One of the worst signs is when Emperors and such like men of mark permit themselves to indulge in conduct and language unfriendly towards representatives of other Great Powers. About twenty years ago, when Louis Napoleon was believed to be the arbiter of peace or war in Europe, and when the Continent trembled at his nod, it was his brusque talk to the Austrian ambassador at a New Year's day reception which first gave Europe to understand that war was at hand. It is an ominous sign that we are hearing of such talk now. Within a few days back the Czar has, before the diplomacy of Europe, made himself conspicuously rude to the Italian ambassador at St. Petersburg. As the Czar is accustomed to do just as he pleases, a good deal of importance is attached to this, and it is believed that his making himself unpleasant to Italy is not without a purpose. And whatever uneasiness may be caused by this "incident" will be increased by the fuller report now published of what was said a few days ago by the Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria to the Delegations of the Empire on a formal occasion. London comment on this important speech is that it does not contain a single reassuring word. The Emperor is at no pains to conceal his deep distrust of the Servian Regency, a scheme invented and engineered by Russia for Russian purposes, nor does he make any effort to disguise the threat at Russia which his commendation of the Bulgarian Government carries with it. The speech excites much comment in London, as it proves an exception to the rule that such documents usually convey no information. To those accustomed to interpreting State documents the speech supplies what is missing to convey an understanding of the present European mess. It brings home to us the readiness of the great Austrian Empire for war, and its thinly-disguised expectation that war must come. Meantime in the provinces of Croatia, Bosnia, Herzegovina and Slavonia, where the German and the Slav elements come conspicuously in conflict with each other, Austria visibly encourages the former and Russia the latter. In the southeast of Europe the materials for an explosion are fizzing away in dangerous fashion.

In England Germany's very pressing demand upon Switzerland to suppress anarchist and socialist consultations there is considered a particularly bad sign. By all accounts the feeling between the governments of Berlin and St. Petersburg respectively is worse now than it has been in any recent experience; but as regards gatherings of red revolutionists in Switzerland the two are probably pretty well agreed. Even the Republican government of France feels itself threatened by these dangerous customers; and we can imagine them not indisposed to "take a hack" at King Umberto of Italy if opportunity offered. Between the great powers the struggle will be—each for itself and against all the rest—to find some excuse for seizing military occupation somewhere in Switzerland which might be advantageous when the great struggle is actually "on." Of course Germany would march on the instant were French troops to pitch their camp anywhere within the Mountain Republic, and France would do the same were Germany to try a similar game. But of all the bits of recent cable news the most disquieting are those which tell of the Austrian Emperor's official speech just referred to, and of the Czar's apparently gratuitous affront to the King of Italy. These incidents are not made up by sensational newspaper correspondents, and evidently there is something in the wind.

To Appear Before Sir John.

At 8.35 last night the joint deputations of the Board of Trade and City Council left for Ottawa to fight the C.P.R.'s intended expropriation of the Esplanade property. President McMillan, Ald. Baxter, Shaw, Maughan, Boustead, Carlyle (St. Thos.), Gillespie and Macdougall, City Engineer Cunningham and City Surveyor Sankey composed the City Council's contingent, City Solicitor Biggar having gone ahead of them. The Board of Trade delegation consisted of Messrs. W. R. Brock, R. W. Elliot and Hugh Blain, who had been appointed for that purpose at a meeting of the B. of T. council yesterday morning. The C.P.R.'s interests were represented on the train by Civil Engineer Jennings and Lawyer W. G. McWilliams. Assistant Manager Shaughnessy and Mr. R. M. Wells will meet the last two at Ottawa.

The Principalship of the Law School.

At a meeting of the benchers at Osgoode Hall yesterday general regret was expressed that Mr. Justice Strong declines the post of principal of the Law School which has just been instituted. It was reported that there are a number of applications for the position, but nothing definite was done in the matter. Further discussion will take place at the adjourned meeting on July 8.

Their Closing Day.

The closing exercises of the Public schools will be held to-morrow. The presentation of prizes will take place at the various schools between 9.30 and 12 and 1.30 and 3, the trustees officiating in their respective wards. The prizes for the combined examinations will be presented at the Pavilion in the evening.

Sir Fred Is All Right.

Major-General Sir Fred Middleton was to have gone west on Monday to inspect the camps but was detained in Toronto by reason of a sore throat, remaining at the residence of Lt.-Col. Dawson, A.D.C. He was better yesterday and was driving with Mrs. Dawson yesterday afternoon in a fashionable surrey. He will go west to-day.

Yankee Lager at a Discount.

GOSSIP ABOUT ROYALTY.

Edmund Yates Writes of Queens, Princes and Eastern Potentates.

LONDON, June 25.—The Queen left Balmoral yesterday afternoon for Windsor, where she will not stay much more than a fortnight before going to Osborne. The Prince and Princess of Wales dined at the castle to-day with the Queen. There will also be a dinner party on Thursday. The Queen will come to town on Thursday week for the Marlboro Lodge garden party. During the Queen's present stay at Balmoral a messenger has left London every morning, dispatched from Buckingham Palace and the Home Office alternately. These messengers leave King's Cross at 10 and arrive at Balmoral at 2 the next morning. The return messenger leaves the castle at 1 and reaches Euston station at 8 the following morning. The Queen deals every morning with the boxes which arrive during the previous night. Usually she sends them back by return messenger the same day.

The royal agricultural show at Windsor was opened under most favorable conditions. The most interesting feature so far has been the visit of the Prince and Princess of Wales, who, with their five children, attended morning service on Sunday in the show yard. To suit their convenience this service, generally held at 11, was postponed until 12 o'clock. The Prince and Princess brought Lord and Lady Londonderry, Lord Cadogan, Lord Fife, Lord Clonmel, Col. Mont gue and Christopher Sykes. The platform upon which the Dean of Windsor, assisted by one of the minor canons and a surplice choir, was waiting to begin the services, was crowded with royalties. Prince and Princess Christian and their young son and two daughters were also present. A great many other well known people were among the congregation.

The Shah of Persia will never probably know to what extent he is indebted for the reception which waits him in England to the energy and influence of the Prince of Wales. The visit, when first proposed, was very unfavorably received in many quarters, but the Prince's arguments about geographical position, the flank of India and the advance of Russia carried the day and silenced all would-be objectors.

Last week George Lewis, acting under instructions from Mrs. Mackay, served writs in an action for libel against two well-known newspapers, one published in London; the other in the country. Sir Charles Russell will appear for the plaintiff, whose object is to discover, if possible, and severely punish the libellous authors of the gross calumny in question. In the event of obtaining damages Mrs. Mackay proposes to give them to a London charity. EDMUND YATES.

The Criminal Court.

The duties of County Attorney Badgerow, who acted as crown prosecutor at the Criminal Assizes yesterday, were not very onerous. The Grand Jury returned true bills against William Williams for house-breaking and Wm. G. McKay for larceny. The prisoners were arraigned before Mr. Justice McMahon and pleaded not guilty.

George S. Nelson, keeper of the Model Lodging House, was tried on the charge of assaulting William Walsh, an old man sleeping at the place on the night of Queen's Birthday. Walsh stated that the defendant had given him a bad beating, but the accused was acquitted of the charge of felonious wounding. A man named Michael Sullivan, one of the witnesses in this case, fished by mistake or intentionally, took the crier's hat in place of his own. Detective Burrows was put on the track of the witness. The latter had taken the entire lining and band out of the purloined hat, presumably to avoid detection. He was arrested by Detective Burrows.

Thomas Beattie, charged with the larceny of a silver watch from Henry Robinson, Carlaw-avenue, on May 24, was found not guilty.

William Williams was brought into court to be tried for breaking into Charles Brownlow's house and stealing Mrs. Brownlow's watch, but owing to the absence of crown witnesses the trial had to be postponed until to-day.

Timothy Hallahan, charged with obstructing Detective Cuddy, and for whom a bench warrant was issued, was found yesterday sick in bed and excused from attendance.

The Guards Getting Into Shape.

The Governor-General's Body-Guards put in a hard day's work yesterday in camp on the Garrison Common. In the early morning there was mounted drill and the rest of the day was spent in target practice.

The men of the Guards have no soft snap, as besides the three drills a day they have to clean their harness and accoutrements and they are big hustlers too.

The Markham and Oak Ridges troops are getting into shape, but it is to be regretted that all of them will not be able to take part in the Dominion Day celebration.

Tents will be struck on Monday morning and returned to stores, and all the men will have to do will be to take part in the parade and go home.

Sunday School Excursions.

The picnic and excursion season has set in and for a couple of months the boats will be busy carrying crowds to the various summer resorts. Yesterday the Ladies Aid Society of Cooke's Church went to Niagara Falls by the Chicora; the Edward-street Mission Sunday School and the Christ Church Sunday School went to Long Branch on the Rupert; the Sunday School of Bloor-street Presbyterian Church enjoyed themselves at High Park, going by the steamer Merritt; and the Central Presbyterian Church Sunday School went to Victoria Park by the Chicoutimi.

SAVED.—A fine family of children were all afflicted with scrofula. Two died early; the rest would soon have followed but for the timely and persevering use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which built them up into a healthy and vigorous manhood.

WON WITHOUT AN ERROR.

TORONTO DEFEATS ROCHESTER IN A PERFECT FIELDING GAME.

Syracuse Beaten by London—Other Ball Games Yesterday—The Dwyer's Day at Sheepshead—Racing at Washington Park—Trotting at Charter Oak Park.

ROCHESTER, June 25.—Rank errors on the part of the Rochesters combined with lucky hitting by the visitors gave Toronto an easy victory over the home team to-day. Serad was a puzzle except in the seventh, when four singles and a double were made off him, yielding two runs. Barr was hit hard throughout, Burke getting a home run over the left field fence and a double. Barr fielded his position badly. Simon's error was the first made by him this season and was a muff of an easy fly. The fielding of Griffin, Hoover, McLaughlin and McGuire were the features. The score:

A FAMILY OF CROOKS.

The Detectives Make a Big Haul of Stolen Property.

James Pierce, 60,	George Pierce, 24.
Mary Pierce, 20,	Edward Pierce, 20.
Thomas Pierce, 27,	John Pierce, 17.

The Toronto detectives have behind prison bars the Pierce family, the names of whom are given above. It will be recollected that on Sunday morning George and Edward were arrested after some shooting and considerable running by the police for the attempted burglary of the residence of Mr. S. E. Cox, Wellesley-place. Immediately following their capture the residence of the Pierce family, 50 Power-street (old number), was searched and seven silver spoons bearing the monogram W.J.G. found on a cursory examination. Yesterday these articles were recognized by Mr. W. J. Gibson of 32 King-street east as a portion of his household goods stolen between October, 1887, and June, 1888, from his summer residence, Kew Beach.

In October, 1887, Mr. Gibson and family left for Europe, and previous to their departure stored all their household goods in the Kew Beach cottage. On their return in the following June they discovered that the place had been thoroughly ransacked, and not only had the silverware and such like articles been carried off, but curtains, pictures, in fact everything which did not take particular trouble to cart away. The matter was reported to the detectives, but all efforts to trace the property proved a failure. Mr. Gibson placed his loss at fully $1500.

When Mr. Gibson yesterday identified the silver forks as his a second search warrant was sworn out, and the Pierce homestead was subjected to a second visit by the police. This time they carried with them a full description of the articles stolen from Mr. Gibson, and the result of their search surpassed their expectations. Fully $1000 worth of his property was recovered. The curtains on the windows of the house, the dresses Mrs. Pierce was wearing, in fact half the household utensils used by the Pierce family, were identified as belonging to Mr. Gibson. The result was the arrest of the father and mother and sons, all of whom were taken to Wilton-avenue station to answer the charge of larceny and receiving.

In addition to the Gibson stuff about $500 worth of articles stolen from other people were found with the pieces. Under a mattress was a field glass belonging to Mr. R. B. Temple, engineer in charge of the Island works, stolen a year ago, and a valuable gun belonging to M. White, 129 Parliament-street. Detectives Ali. Cuddy, John Cuddy, Watson and Policeman Tripp conducted the search and made the arrests. The prisoners took the matter coolly and kept a discreet silence. Thomas Pierce, the eldest son, is the only one in the gang of males against whom a conviction has not been registered, but the detectives believe that they have a good case against him for receiving at least.

In connection with the same case Andy Ennis, alias Foley, 86 Carlaw-avenue, was arrested last night as being the third man in the attack on the Cox residence. He is an old West Ender, and it is thought that his knowledge of Clarence-square proved useful to the gang in the Macdonald silverware burglary. The detectives expect to be kept busy to

THE TOWN OF PEMBROKE.

BEAUTIFULLY SITUATED ON THE UPPER OTTAWA.

New Railway Extensions Place it on the Canadian Pacific Transcontinental Line—The Lumber Interests, Stone Quarries, etc.—Public Buildings—Enterprising Business Men.

It is only a few years comparatively since Pembroke was difficult of access and was seldom visited by the outside world excepting by commercial men and tourists anxious to see for themselves the magnificent scenery of the Upper Ottawa. The extension of the Brockville and Ottawa Railway, now a part of the Canadian Pacific Railway, brought it into direct communication by rail, and the building of the Canadian Pacific Railway to the Pacific Ocean has placed it on the direct line of trans-continental travel. From Pembroke to Des Joachims, 45 miles above, was and still is a favorite trip, and all along nature is seen on her grandest scale. An expansion of the river, known as the Upper Allumette Lake, and an island 40 miles in length, also named Allumette, are directly in front of the town, while away in the distance the Laurentian range of mountains, which follows the course of the river, forms a back-ground majestic and imposing. During the trip the famous "Oiseau" Rock (bird-rock) is passed and also the islands in the Narrows, pronounced by many to be far more beautiful and picturesque than even the Thousands Islands of the St. Lawrence. The river is always the same majestic, irresistible stream, well worthy of being called the Grand River, the name given it by the early French explorers. Among the historical names associated with its early history are those of Champlain and Cadieux. On the summit of a hill near the Grand Chute is the grave of Cadieux, who died from exhaustion after an encounter with the Indians, and the trees all around are carved with names and crosses, one by the devout Indians and lumbermen who come here to pray, believing that doing so brings good luck on forest and river. Champlain, captivated by the story told by Vienau of a great lake and river beyond, started from Montreal on the 27th May, 1615, with glowing dreams of bringing within the reach of France the gold of India and the riches of the Orient. Pembroke was one of his stopping places, and what transpired between him and the dusky children of the woods there is very little record. After his visit 200 years elapsed before another white man appeared upon the scene. In the spring of 1828 Peter White paddled his way up from Ottawa, and built his cabin near where the Muskrat discharges into the lake. Others followed and by and by it became the greatest centre for lumbering operations in the Province. It was incorporated as a village in 1832 and as a town in 1877. In 1861 it was made the county seat of the county of Renfrew, after which the present Court House and Gaol were built at a cost of some $50,000. The Court House is 98x46, and is built of a free-stone, almost white, quarried about 4 miles from town. Though exposed for over 20 years it is as bright and clear as ever, and without the faintest trace of rust. Other valuable building stones are quarried in the immediate vicinity, one being a brown free-stone, of a warmer tint than the Adjuda brown stone of the Credit Valley. This stone was selected for the post office now in course of erection.

The town is 115 miles from Ottawa and 758 from Port Arthur. The Canadian Pacific Railway connects it with Ottawa on the south side of the river, and the Pontiac Pacific Junction Railway on the north side. Though lumbering has to a certain extent moved nearer to the great pine woods, Pembroke still retains much of its former importance in this industry. Immense quantities of logs come down the tributaries of the Ottawa, and there are two extensive saw mills manufacturing lumber. It is also the headquarters for lumbering supplies.

The modern town is substantially built up with two and three story brick blocks, and many of the private residences are models of elegance. It has both the arc and incandescent system of electric light, and waterworks are in contemplation. Here we find the arc light costs $75 per annum and the incandescent $10.

The Town Hall is a commodious 2-story brick building with clock tower, erected in 1874 at a cost of $18,000. On the ground floor are the council chamber, the clerk's office, lock-up and fire station, and the upper story is fitted up as a hall with stage and scenery and is seated for 800 people. The Council consists of—Wm. Murray, Mayor; W. O'Meara, Reeve; R. C. Millar, Deputy-Reeve; Councillors: F. E. Fortin, R. Russell, H. Jamieson, W. C. Irvine, R. H. Roe, J. L. Morris, P. Kehoe, R. Menzies, jr., and R. W. Kenny. A. J. Foster is Clerk and Richard White Treasurer. The total assessment is $1,550,000 and the population is given as 4465.

The county officers are—John Deacon, Judge; Jas. Morris, Sheriff; Andrew Irving, Registrar; Arch. Thomson, Clerk County Court; J. H. Metcalfe, County Attorney; Wm. Moffatt, County Treasurer; R. G. Moles, Warden; R. G. Scott, School Inspector; S. E. Mitchell, County Clerk; and J. Wright, Jailer; W. C. Irving, Clerk Division Court, has also his office in the Court House.

The High School is a brick building erected at a cost of $8000, and 3 teachers are employed, L. Lapp being the Principal. The Public School is also a brick structure which cost $13,000. In it 8 teachers are employed, J. C. Stewart being Headmaster. There is also a Separate School and a Convent.

The Presbyterian, Methodist, Anglican and Roman Catholic churches are all remarkably fine structures of advanced architecture.

The press is represented by The Observer, published by R. C. Miller, and The Standard, published by Bone & Ross.

There is a Mechanics' Institute and all the various institutions usually to be found in a live, progressive town.

BUSINESS HOUSES.

T. & W. Murray.

This firm has been in existence over 30 years and is one of the most widely known in the northeast section of the Province. They are extensive traders in raw furs, produce, lumber, real estate and general merchandise. They are proprietors of the Copeland House, the leading hotel here, and of the Pacific Hotel in North Bay. Their mercantile establishment in Pembroke is of mammoth proportions, and they have branch stores at Cobden, Des Joachims, Mattawa, North Bay and Chapeau. They are largely interested in real estate, particularly in the western part of the town, which is called Murray Ward, and the growth of the town is in a great measure due to their efforts. They also own the western section of the promising town of North Bay. The senior partner has represented the North Riding of Renfrew in the Provincial Legislature during the last three Parliaments, and the junior partner is serving his second term as Mayor of the town. Both are active, energetic business men, with remarkable administrative capacity.

Devlin & Son

are the proprietors of a foundry, established in 1870, and have an excellent record for the superior quality of their products. The articles manufactured consist chiefly of stoves, plows, road scrapers, school desks, cresting and fencing. In addition to these general lines they do jobbing of all kinds, for which they have the best facilities.

Behan's Hotel,

J. and E. Behan, proprietors, has undergone various improvements since the present proprietors assumed control, among them being a new balcony outside, and general renovating of the interior. The stables have also been enlarged to accommodate 17 teams. The whole appointments make this a first-class $1 a day house. A bus meets all trains. They are also engaged in the manufacture of ginger ale, ginger beer, lemon soda, grape soda, etc., for which there is a large and increasing demand.

Albion Hotel,

B. Teevens, proprietor, maintains its old reputation and is largely patronized. The present proprietor has been in control during the past 18 years and is one of the most popular landlords on the road. The hotel has 30 well furnished and airy bedrooms, besides parlors and sitting rooms, and has ample yard and stable accommodation. It has telephone connection and a bus meets the trains.

W. B. McAllister,

miller and manufacturer, is one of the most enterprising business men of the town. His mills consist of a full process flouring mill of 140 bbl. capacity, a combination stone and roller mill of 100 bbls. daily capacity, and a woolen mill in which tweeds, grey and white blankets are manufactured. The blankets are conceded to be the best manufactured in the Ottawa Valley. In the flour mills Manitoba wheat is extensively used, and about 40,000 bushels are obtained annually from local sources. The local gristing amounts to about the same number of bushels. The machinery is all run by water power supplied by the Muskrat River, and power is also furnished by him to run the electric light and some small industries. He is also proprietor of a woolen mill and flouring mill at Pakenham, and in the flour mill is putting in the roller process, with a daily capacity of 200 bbls.

F. Slattery

has lately moved his business into the large and handsome new brick block erected by himself to accommodate his rapidly increasing business. The store is double, all fitted up in modern style, and contains a varied and attractive stock, consisting of drygoods, ready-made clothing, gents' furnishing, boots and shoes, carpets, groceries, hardware, crockery and glass ware. A tailoring department is also successfully carried on, clothing of the most fashionable styles being supplied.

E. Russell & Co.

occupy a large and elegant store, with a glass front consisting of one mammoth plate. The store is 28x60 feet, two stories, the whole of which is taken up by the business. The stock consists of staple and fancy drygoods, mantles, carpets, floor oilcloths, and embraces all the novelties in the various lines. Tailoring is also carried on, and the clothing manufactured here is justly celebrated for fit, style and durability. The firm has been in business since 1870, and does a large and flourishing trade.

D. C. Chamberlain

is one of the old residents, and during the past 14 years has been extensively in the fire and life insurance business. His office is in Foster's Block.

W. G. Irving

is Clerk of the Division Court, having his office in the County Buildings. Uniform courtesy to all and efficiency in the discharge of his duties make him a desirable and popular officer.

deals in furniture of all kinds and keeps a large and varied stock suited for all demands. Upholstering is done by skilful workmen in the neatest and most reliable manner. Undertaking in all the departments is also promptly attended to, a hearse and a large supply of everything in the line being kept on hand. In addition to the strictly retail business in furniture a large jobbing business is done, his facilities for the best markets enabling him to do this to advantage.

Thos. Pink

is one of the progressive and enterprising manufacturers of the place, and pushes a large and successful business. He manufactures the "Pink Mower," a machine which has obtained a wide celebrity for its general excellence. Screw stumpers, sockets cant dogs and lumbering tools generally are some of his specialties, and engine, mill and general machine work are executed in the most workmanlike manner, and finished shafting furnished complete, steam fitting and all kinds of repairing are promptly attended to. This business was established by the present proprietor 22 years ago, and has grown to be one of the most important industries of the town.

W. Beatty

is proprietor of a new planing mill and door and sash factory, erected to replace the one burned down a year ago. It is a 2-story building 40x80 feet with basement and attic, and is supplied with all the most approved machinery for the business. Doors, sash, blinds, turned work and mouldings are manufactured and everything required for building kept on hand and supplied. He also takes contracts for buildings and has erected some of the finest structures in the town, including the Bishop's palace, McAllister's and Russell's blocks, and in company with Monroe and Greene he is now engaged on the new postoffice and customs house which the Government is erecting for the town.

Wm. Sparling & Son

are proprietors of a planing mill, equipped in first-class style with the best modern machinery and manufacture doors, sash, blinds, mouldings, flooring, turned and scroll work, and house furnishings generally. They also do a good deal of mill and bridge work, and of late built eight bridges for the Government. Another branch of their business is contracting and building, and many monuments bearing witness to the excellence of their work are to be found in town, among them being the Presbyterian Church, the Mackay residence and Slattery's new block.

J. Findlay,

chemist and druggist, is located on the corner of Pembroke and Victoria streets, and has a well-filled store, the stock consisting of a full line of drugs, chemicals and medicines, perfumery, toilet soaps, sundries and all the most reliable patent and proprietary preparations. The compounding of physicians' prescriptions and family recipes receives the most careful attention.

W. H. Kearney,

watchmaker and jeweler, is located east of the Copeland House, and has a neat shop well supplied with watches, clocks and general jewelry. It is managed by J. Wickware, who has obtained a high reputation for the skilful manner in which he does all kinds of repairing. He is a practical workman who understands the most intricate movement and whose work gives general satisfaction.

If You Can Find the Cause the Cure is Easy.

Our work speaks for itself, we do not ask the public to accept mere assertions, but in fulfilment of a promise made last March, to publish 600 testimonials of parties who had been successfully treated for Catarrh, Dyspepsia or their consequences, we add one more to those already published. We produce facts backed up by the signatures of good responsible citizens who have been cured; many of whom had been given up as incurable by the medical curealls of this and other cities. We make Catarrh, Dyspepsia and Chronic Diseases our specialty, have made it a lifelong study, take no other cases, and should and do know more about them than physicians who pretend to do everything, from pulling a tooth up. Mr. Alex. Gill of No. 6 Eden Place, who consulted us three years ago, he suffered from dyspepsia with all its bad symptoms, the result of enlargement of the liver, and catarrh, had pain in the left lung, headache, dizziness, pain in the back, legs and arms, was tired and done out on the least exertion, had no appetite, was gradually losing weight, had no ambition, and had almost concluded there was no hope, when he consulted us, but after a few weeks' treatment on our plan was a well man and to-day is the picture of health. He was surprised, his friends were surprised, and to-day he and his friends are our friends and patrons. This is only one of the thousands suffering from the same trouble who might be cured should they consult some honest physician who makes a specialty of their diseases, and aims to remove the cause instead of intrusting their lives to a man who directs his treatment to the symptoms. Our address is 198 King-st. w, (old No. 170.) Office hours: 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.; Sundays 2 to 4.

THE BRAIN (reduced photograph.)
In Healthy Condition. With Paresis Lesions.

There are many well known men confined in our Asylums who but a short time ago were prominent among our business and social circles.

Why are they there?

Paresis!

Did it come on at once?

Not at all. It was a gradual but positive growth. They overtaxed nature. The drain on their vitality, their nerve powers, their brain tissue, was too great, and they gradually but surely sank under it. The things they did to bring this sad end about are precisely the same things that are being done by thousands of men and women to-day. It is not necessary to name them. They all end disastrously unless checked or regulated.

Prof. Phelps, of Dartmouth College, knew this fully when he began his experiment which resulted in the discovery of the wonderful Paine's Celery Compound. He realized that paresis (consumption of the brain) was our great National weakness. He knew that the brain and nervous system must be fortified to meet the great strains which modern life bring upon it. He saw that men were becoming debilitated and women weakened by the pressure and demands of life, and he sought and discovered the remedy Paine's Celery Compound, if rightly taken, will renew the brain and build up nerve tissues as fast as they become exhausted. It is not a narcotic. It contains no drugs, no nostrums. It is perfectly pure. It is absolutely harmless. The high character of its discoverer guarantees this, and the indorsement of the medical and chemical professions prove it.
