

We need people who care about what's happening at our university.

We need people who are probing and opinionated.

We need people who give a damn about this university.

We need people who think the system here at York is wrong and should be changed.

We need people who think we're not getting a good education.

We need people who feel the faculty is ignoring us.

We need people who want administration changes.

We want change.

DIG IT