LETTERS FROM STANLEY.

A THRILLING STORY OF PERIL AND PRIVATION.

Enemies in Front and Rear—Plots and Treachery—A Near Approach to Absolute Starvation—An Ex-Premier's Opinion About Australian Federation—The Italian Government's Program.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—Mr. McKinnon, Chairman of the Emin Relief Committee, has received a letter from Stanley, dated Aug. 5, and written at Kafurro, an Arab settlement on the Karagwe. On Dec. 9 the party halted for forage in the middle of a vast forest. Stanley proceeds:

Six days had now passed and he wondered why the foragers did not return. On the fifth day he had distributed all the flour in camp and killed the only goat. He was compelled to open the officers' provision boxes. With butter and flour he made gruel, there being nothing else save tea, coffee, sugar and sago. In the afternoon a boy died, and the condition of a majority of the rest was most disheartening. Some could not stand. Before night a Mahdi carrier died. The last of the Somalis gave signs of collapse and the few Soudanese were scarcely able to move. On the morning of the sixth day a very scanty breakfast was made and the chiefs and Bonny were called to a council. Bonny offered to stay with ten men in camp if Stanley provided ten days' food for each person while he could set out to search for the missing men. Stanley says that he started in the afternoon of the seventh day, leaving 29 sick and enfeebled wretches in camp. Early on the eighth day the foragers were met returning in easy fashion. The pace was speedily quickened, and Stanley reached camp again in 26 hours from the time he had left it, bringing abundance of food. Stanley says this had been his nearest approach to absolute starvation in all his African experience. Altogether twenty-one persons succumbed in the camp. Dec. 17 the Thuru River was reached. The expedition crossed it next day, and on the 20th reached Fort Bodo, where Stanley had left a garrison. There were 51 out of 59 persons left there.

A Later Letter.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—Chairman MacKinnon of the Emin Relief Committee, has received another letter from Henry M. Stanley, written at the camp at Kizinga Uzinja, Aug. 17. Stanley says Emin with Zelim Bay, seven officers and 65 people, arrived at his camp Feb. 17. Lieut. Stairs arrived on the 18th with his column from the Ituri. As a meeting on the 18th Zelim, who had retaken Dufile from the Mahdists, killing 250 of them, stated on behalf of the deputation that they had come to request time to allow the Equatorial troops and their families to assemble at Kavalli. Stanley continues:

I explained through Emin the object of my expedition and offered them a promise written in Arabic to wait a reasonable time for them to join me. The deputation replied that my offer was satisfactory. They said they would proceed directly to Wadelai and proclaim it and commence the work of transportation. The deputation started for Wadelai on the 26th. Emin returned on the 27th with his little daughter Fenda and a caravan of 144 men. He and I agreed that twenty days was a reasonable time. Emin offered a written undertaking, which I declined. The interval was occupied by Surgeon Parke in healing our sick. So devoted and skilful was he that I was able on April 1 to turn out 290 able bodied men, whereas in February it would have been difficult to muster 200.

Stanley then bitterly complains of the immense loads of property the refugees brought in, entailing endless work upon his men to bring it to the plateau, and which was practically rubbish, because it must be abandoned on the march. On March 1 he ordered that the stuff be stopped from being brought to camp. Thirteen hundred and fifty-five loads had already been brought in. A month after Zelim's departure a letter arrived from him announcing that rebels, officers and everybody were unanimous in their desire to depart for Egypt under Stanley as escort.

Stanley, now finding great delay likely in assembling the refugees, called a council of the officers, and stated in detail the position of the case, also the danger of trusting the rebels implicitly as Emin was inclined to do when they had already boasted of their intention, with cajoling words, to entrap Stanley and strip his expedition. Finally Stanley asked the officers whether he would be justified in waiting beyond April 10. Each officer replied in the negative. Stanley continues: "Then Pasha, I said, "you have your answer. We march on the 10th." In reply to Emin's question I said we could certainly in our conscience acquit him of having abandoned the people if they had not arrived. Then a few days later Emin was troubled by Cassati's scruples as to whether they were justified if they abandoned the people.

His Eyes Opened.

Stanley deals at length with these difficulties, convincing Emin that food was plentiful and the Egyptians living in concord. The natives showed no disposition to depart. On April 5 Emin informed me that but few of his servants would go. "Here was a disappointment," exclaims Stanley. "Out of 10,000 only a few were willing to accompany me. We all had our eyes opened. It was a farce on the part of the Wadelai force. It was clear that the Pasha no longer had authority. Yet Emin was obstinate in his belief in them. But now the Pasha said "never mind. I can do with two servants as well as with fifty." "At this time" continued Stanley, "I discovered conspiracies in the Camp. The Egyptians tried to steal the rifles of the Zanzibaris and the number of malcontents kept increasing. Emin also had received news of a bad state of things at Wadelai. Therefore I decided upon immediate action. I formed a square of rifles and assembled all the Pasha's people within it. Those who refused to come were arrested and placed in irons and some were flogged. All denied any knowledge of a plot. I told all who desired to accompany me to stand aside and though the Pasha threatened to exterminate them wholly if there were any more rebellious tricks, they promised religious obedience. This muster consisted of about 500 persons."

Plots and Counterplots.

On the 10th we started, numbering about 1500 people, including 350 newly enrolled native carriers. On the 12th we camped at Mozambonis, and that night I was struck down with a severe illness. The intercepted letter of Zelim revealed another plot to attack the expedition. On May 7 a letter was received from Zelim containing various insolent charges against us and an appeal to wait longer for them, the rebels having again robbed them of all their ammunition." Stanley replied offering to go slowly so as to enable them to overtake him, but he never heard any more from Zelim.

We resumed the march, says Stanley, on May 8, and adopted a route skirting the Baleggs Mountain, 40 miles from Nyanza, arriving at the south end of the mountains. We had a successful encounter with the King of Ungoro which cleared the route as far as the Semliki River. Then follows a description of a snowy range seen the year before, and the valley of the Semliki with its enormous grass plain. The ripening grasses made the people, and even one of Stanley's own officers mistake it for a vast lake. Stanley describes the Semliki as a powerful stream 80 to 100 yards wide. Crossing the river he says the Warasmas attacked the expedition with a well-directed volley but fortunately without casualty.

He gives a picturesque description of the snowy mountain which he estimates at between 18,000 and 19,000 feet high. It took 19 marches to reach the south-west angle of the range. The huts of the natives were seen at an altitude of 8000 feet above the sea. All the officers wanted to climb the mountain but were not in condition to do so. Emin attained the height of a thousand feet above the camp. Stairs managed to climb 10,677 feet only to find two deep gulfs between him and the snowy summit. He collected a number of plants and Emin was happy in classifying them.

He Dearly Loves the Princess.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—It is stated that the betrothal of the Czarewitch and Princess Maud, the youngest daughter of the Prince of Wales, will shortly be announced. It is understood the Czarewitch greatly admires Princess Maud.

Australian Federation.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Nov. 25.—In an interview to-day Mr. Diffee, formerly Prime Minister of New South Wales, declared it will be impossible to form a colonial federation unless a commercial policy is adopted by the whole of Australia.

Strained Relations.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—The Pall Mall Gazette states that a virtual rupture has occurred in the relations between Germany and the Vatican.

Editor Parke Admitted to Bail.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—Mr. Parke, editor of The North London Press, who charged that the Earl of Euston was one of the principals in the Cavendish-street scandal, was arraigned today on the charge of criminal libel preferred against him by the Earl. No evidence was submitted and he was remanded until to-morrow. He was admitted to bail in £100.

A Russian Conspiracy at Belgrade.

BELGRADE, Nov. 25.—The authorities have discovered a plot to depose King Alexander and replace him by Prince Peter Karageorgevich. Many Russian diplomats are implicated in the conspiracy. Three of the conspirators have been arrested.

A Disastrous Gale.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—A gale prevails along the southwest coast. Much damage has been done and a number of minor casualties are reported.

Cable Flashes.

The Pacific mail steamer China, ashore at Yokohama, has been floated. She sustained no damage.

The 250 miners entombed in a flooded mine at Rockinghausen in Westphalia, Friday last, have been rescued.

Two hundred Clyde engineers went on strike yesterday. Eighteen firms under pressure of contracts have conceded the strikers' demands.

In his speech yesterday King Humbert announced that the government intended to propose the abolition of differential tariffs between France and Italy.

A steerage passenger named Muller on the steamer Aurania, which arrived at Liverpool Sunday from New York, committed suicide with a revolver on the voyage.

The prospectus of the Canadian Meat Company was issued in London on Saturday, the capital being $1,500,000. Its object is to develop the trade in Canadian dead meat.

The Italian Government will introduce in Parliament bills for reforming charitable institutions, for establishing primary schools and for protecting workmen against accidents.

The North German Gazette says the situation in Brazil causes the powers no anxiety. The Government at Rio Janeiro appears to lack neither the power nor the will to maintain order. There is no need of sending a German man-of-war to Brazil.

SO FAR IT IS $90,000.

These Assignees Will Probably Call Their Creditors.

The absence of Mr. Milne, of Donaldson, Milne & Bell Smith, assignees, trustees, etc., which made creditors of that firm a little nervous on Saturday, was talked about in down town offices a good deal yesterday.

Mr. Milne, according to Detective Newhall, who is acting for the Campbell estate, is now in New York, and R. E. Dickson, representing that estate, left last night to see if Mr. Milne could not be induced to disgorge. The first intimation which the estate had of there being something wrong was that cheques given on the trust fund went to protest.

This is not the only estate entrusted to this firm to wind up which is short of its money.

It is said that the Molson's Bank is interested to the extent of $10,000.

THAT PROPOSED BELT LINE.

The Company Want to Confer With the City Authorities.

One of the communications read at the City Council last night was from President J. D. Edgar, stating that in view of the construction of the Toronto Belt Line Company the board would be glad to meet the city authorities to discuss the most suitable plan for bringing the proposed line over the railway reserve on the west side of the Don and the compensation to be paid for the privilege. As to the first point, the company only required sufficient facilities for the passage of trains, which may be either by means of an independent right of way or by means of proper running powers over a common track. With reference to compensation, Mr. Edgar considered that an efficient belt line service would be of immense public advantage to Toronto as a whole.

Ald. Frankland's Little Joke.

One of the clauses in the waterworks report submitted to the council last night stated that they had again had under consideration the account against the Works Committee for flushing sewers, amounting to $10,718.83. The Waterworks Committee concluded that the Works Committee should pay for water used by its officials the same as other consumers. The executive objected to this clause.

The chairman of the Waterworks Committee, in moving that the Executive's recommendation be struck out, asserted that he was not a candidate for the mayoralty.

"Am I to understand that you are not running for Mayor? I am sorry," said Ald. Frankland.

Ald. Boustead stroked his chin meditatively. "I am not making electioneering speeches," he said. His motion was lost.

Sugar Beet Culture.

Mr. Robt. Lawder, who has been commissioned by the Ontario Agricultural Department to make a report on the results obtained from sugar beet seed distributed throughout the province this year, has sent in his report. This report concerns the yield per acre. The minister is now having an analysis made as to the sugar yield of the beet, and when it is completed, reliable information will be available as to the value of beet culture.

Don't Want Newfoundland.

The Young Liberals met last night, President McPherson in the chair. The debate of the evening was on Mr. McCallum's motion:

Resolved that it is desirable in the interests of United Canada that Newfoundland be admitted into the confederation at once.

After a long discussion the motion was lost.

Tickets for Balmoral Concerts 50c. and 75c., to be had from committee and at Sucklings', 107 Yonge-street.

Furs.

We call our readers attention to the sale of furs now going on at the Atrodome, 73 King-street east. Messrs Bastedo & Co. are well-known and reliable manufacturers, and the public can depend on getting fine well-made goods at lower prices than they have been paying for inferior articles.

To Dine Hon. Edward Blake.

The Benchers of the Law Society will give a dinner to their Treasurer, the Hon. E. Blake, Q. C., on Dec. 7, next.

A MELANGE OF BUSINESS.

CITY FATHERS' MULTIFARIOUS BUD. GET LAST NIGHT.

Poor Relief—Day Work Not Contract—Expensive Excursions—Fit for Tat: City and County—Sherbourne-street Bridge—Those on Dundas-street—Taylor's Lease—The Street Railway.

In council last night Ald. McMillan moved, and it was carried:

That the mayor, Ald. Frankland, Gibbs, Gillespie and the mover and seconder be appointed to represent the city at the coming conferences of the combined city charities as to the advisability of appointing a paid city officer to attend to the relief of the poor.

Ald. Boustead moved, it was seconded by Ald. Hill and carried:

That the Waterworks Committee be authorized to repair the burst at the engine house by day work instead of by contract so as to save time in the completion of the work at an estimated cost of $1,500.

Ald. Boustead brought in the report from the sub-committee appointed to consider the Esplanade matter and asking for an appropriation of $2500 for expenses in connection with the proposed trip to Ottawa.

Ald. Baxter endeavored to defeat the proposition by declaring that no appropriation could be made without first passing the executive. The resolution was carried on a two-third vote.

Ald. Frankland got this motion through:

That when the contract for the collection of market fees is being drawn up a clause be inserted that if the County Council abolish all tolls the city reserve the right to cancel all market fees and to cancel the contract at a month's notice.

Ald. A. A. Macdonald gave notice that he would to-day move:

That Ald. McMillan, Dodds, Shaw, Fleming, Tait, Verrall, Gillespie, Denison, Baxter and the mover be a special committee to consider and formulate a scheme to be reported to the council for taking over the franchise and assets of the Toronto Street Railway Company, pursuant to the notice served on the company, and also to consider and report on the advisability of this corporation, or not to what disposition. If any, ought to be made of the franchise and assets.

The council went into committee to consider the report from the Board of Works. The first clause discussed at any length was that recommending that the city pay $30,000 towards the proposed new Sherbourne-street bridge.

The clause was adopted.

This clause was referred back:

Your committee recommend that that part of Report No. 24 of the Committee on Works referring to the bridge over the railway at Dundas-street in line of College-street, be adopted as designated in the plan presented by the City Engineer, and that the cost of the bridge is $38,000, of which the city is to pay the sum of $14,000, leaving the balance to be paid by local assessment.

Another snag struck was the recommendation that the Executive take the place of the Property Committee's report, recommending that J. & J. Taylor be granted a 21 year's lease of a lot near the morgue, be referred to the Works Committee for approval. Ald. Baxter moved that the recommendation of the Executive be struck out and that the clause granting the lease be reinserted. The resolution carried.

From Hamilton to Goderich.

Goderich Signal: We learn that arrangements are on foot for notice of application for a charter from Lake Huron to Lake Ontario, the terminal points being Hamilton and Goderich, which if proceeded with, will prove to be one of the best railway services in Ontario. The road would in all probability run by Blyth, Brussels, Listowell, and through Wellesley township to Berlin, Preston, Galt and Dundas to the great business centre of Hamilton, there to connect with the Vanderbilt system. Should this scheme be carried out—and with the influential and ambitious business points on the route there is no reason to doubt its ultimate development—it would serve a central portion of the western part of the province, and run through a number of wealthy municipalities, some of which are now lacking in railway service.

Caledonian Society's grand concerts Dec. 5th and 6th. Plan opens at Sucklings' Thursday, Nov. 28th, at 9.30 a.m.

They Had a Mock Parliament.

At the meeting of the Young Conservatives Club last night Mr. J. A. Ferguson occupied the chair. Mr. P. H. Bartlett, second vice-president of the club, sent in his resignation, having moved into the city. A committee was appointed to find out the standing and number of members of the various Young Conservative Clubs of the Dominion. Mr. Richard Armstrong was appointed second vice-president. The club then resolved itself into a Mock Parliament and a lively debate ensued.

What the Matter With the Opposition Is.

Said a member of the Albany club last night: Mr. Meredith is busy, more than busy, with his law business; Mr. E. F. Clarke has Toronto to govern; David Creighton has the devil's own job in keeping The Empire on its feet; H. E. Clarke is wrapped up in his trunk factory. What We want are more men of leisure and means to take a share in the politics of our province.

An Order From Smyrna.

A Toronto firm has received a letter from Smyrna asking for quotations on cotton goods, etc. The writer of the letter says he could do a big business in this line with Toronto houses. Perhaps not; but The World would like to know if any other Toronto houses have received similar inquiries.

Tickets for Balmoral Concerts 50c. and 75c., to be had from committee, and at Sucklings', 107 Yonge-street.

Women Are People.

A representative government is by and for the people. Women are people. Susan B. Anthony, the noble and heroic advocate of equal rights for men and women for more than thirty years, will speak on that subject (under the auspices of the Woman's Enfranchisement Association of Canada) Monday evening, Dec. 2, in Shaftesbury Hall. The Mayor will preside. Admission 25 cents, to defray current expenses. Ministers and leaders of organizations please announce the above in their week meetings.

The Popular Bazaar.

St. Paul's bazaar still continues to be as attractive as ever. Immense crowds thronged it all day yesterday. In the evening the band of the G.G.H.G. played many enlivening airs. The tables are handsomely decorated with ornamental and useful articles too numerous to mention. This evening another of those popular vocal concerts will be given. The bazaar will be continued till the end of the week.

Those High-Living Students.

The wicked printer spelt Mr. John G. Holmes first name as William in yesterday's paper, thereby misleading the public to that extent. All Mr. Holmes desires is that the Mr. Thompson, stewart of the University College residence, be given a fair show in the dispute between him and the over-exacting students. It would appear that the latter desire Jersey butter and Nasmith's mealed bread, Southdown mutton and sweet potatoes, and the like for $2.27 a week, which makes the row a hard one for the stewart to hoe.

HARVEY'S FATE.

The Minister of Justice Declines to Interfere With the Sentence.

OTTAWA, Nov. 25.—The Minister of Justice stated this morning that he had decided not to interfere with Harvey's sentence, but would allow the law to take its course. He declined to give any grounds for the decision, stating that he made it a rule not to do so in capital cases. Harvey is sentenced to be hanged on Nov. 29.

LIBERTY OF CONSCIENCE.

"Granted" By Bishop Racine to the Catholic Voters in Brome.

MONTREAL, Nov. 25.—Bishop Racine of Sherbrooke has granted the Catholic voters in the county of Brome liberty of conscience as regards their vote and advised the cures thereof. Is it considered an innovation in Quebec.

The split that occurred in the National Liberal camp some time ago and the resignation of President Lebouef of the Club National has been the cause of the formation of a new club, having for a basis the true old Liberal principles of "48."

Premier Mercier has addressed the following telegram to Hon. J. A. Chapleau: "Do you authorize me to publish your letter of April 9 relative to the settlement of the Jesuits Estate question. Answer at once. HONORE MERCIER."

Fires of a Day.

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill., Nov. 25.—A conflagration occurred here early this morning entailing a loss of $300,000.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—A fire broke out tonight in the foundry of the Hecla Iron Works in Williamsburgh. The main building is 200 feet square. The flames extended to and imperiled other buildings in Division-avenue and two five-story buildings in North Tenth-street and North Eleventh-street. The damage to the buildings and machinery is estimated at $250,000, covered by insurance.

SOMERTOWN, Pa., Nov. 25.—The postoffice, general store of P. J. Cover, dwelling of John Snyder and the dwelling and meat market of Frank Taylor were burned here last night. The fire is supposed to be incendiary. Loss $30,000.

Ambitious City Notes.

HAMILTON, Nov. 26.—An investigation into the circumstances connected with the death of Thomas Lucas, jr., whose body was found yesterday lying on the Northern and Northwestern railway track near the city lumber yard, was opened yesterday by Coroner Woolverton. It was shown that deceased frequently used liquor to excess. The inquest was adjourned until Thursday.

At the next meeting of the police commissioners a deputation will likely be present to urge the reinstatement of Constable Hawkins be not accepted.

Mayor Doran has called a public meeting of the ratepayers for to-morrow evening to discuss the railway situation.

Parliament to Meet Jan. 16.

OTTAWA, Nov. 25.—Parliament will be summoned to meet for the despatch of business on Jan. 16. The date selected is two weeks earlier than last year. It has been decided to reintroduce the bill respecting bills of exchange and promissory notes, and copies of the draft measure are now being distributed by the Department of Justice to banking interests, boards of trade, etc. This is to permit of its provisions being thoroughly discussed.

Died of His Injuries.

A Wonderful Typewriting Machine.

Wiger's cryptograph is a small typewriting apparatus leading itself admirably to the purpose of secret correspondence, says The English Mechanic. The apparatus is only about 12 inches long by 3 inches wide and 1½ inches high. It consists of a type-carrier for ordinary letters and figures, which can be placed in any order that may be desired. There is also a movable index plate, on which the letters and figures appear in the order in which they are placed in the type-carrier. On a small tablet in the centre of the machine are four white spaces and a central black one, and opposite these spaces is a movable pointer. By setting the pointer to the black space the machine can be used as a simple ordinary typewriter. To work it the index plate is shifted to the right or left until each required letter is in front of a pointer connected with the printing key. By adjusting the plate and pressing the key an ordinary type-written letter can be prepared. For secret writing the movable pointer is set, say, to the first white space, reading from left to right. A message can then be written in an unintelligible cipher, which can be varied in its details as may be previously agreed upon by the parties corresponding. If so agreed the recipient of the message sets his movable pointer to the fourth white space, and then reproduces, as it would seem, the jumble of letters and figures in the communication before him; but on removing the printed paper from the machine he will find that he has before him in clear and intelligible language the precise information the sender desired to convey.

THAT KEW BEACH DRIVE.

Two Opposing Delegates Come to Words at the Court of Revision.

The Court of Revision met yesterday to confirm a number of local improvement assessments. There were present Ald. Carlyle (St. And.) in the chair, Macdonald and Hewitt. A lively discussion took place over the opening of the Kew Beach drive. A deputation opposing the drive was present with Mr. Williams acting as spokesman. Ex-Ald. Pells, representing 28 families in favor of the drive, was also on hand. The meeting between the opposing deputations was productive of the dispute above mentioned. In the course of the argument Mr. Williams forgot his courtesy and insinuated that the ex-alderman was departing from the truth. It was decided to refer the whole matter back to the Board of Works. A number of assessments for sewers, pavements and sidewalks were confirmed before the court adjourned.

DESTITUTE INDIANS.

The Toronto Methodist Ministers Organize for a Relief Fund.

At the Toronto Methodist Ministers' fortnightly meeting in Wesley Building yesterday, Rev. C. O. Johnston and Rev. K. C. B. Adams were present as visitors. An interesting communication was received from Dr. Beers of Montreal relating to the destitute condition of the Oka Indians, N.W.T. A committee of Rev. Dr. D. G. Sutherland, Rev. Dr. Parker, Rev. Manly Benson and Rev. George Webber were appointed with an equal number of laymen to bring the matter before our city churches. The Hospital distribution for the year was reported and adopted.

Extending the Fire Limits.

At the meeting of the special committee on the Building Bylaw yesterday there were present Ald. Ritchie (chairman), Moses, Hill, Hewitt, G. S. Macdonald, Maughan and Fleming.

In a discussion on the brick fire limit question Ald. Hill moved that it be extended easterly 120 feet east of Parliament-street. The proposition was opposed by Ald. Fleming, but after a brief discussion the motion was adopted. This limit was again extended to 200 feet west of the Don and north 120 feet south of Gerrard-street, thence east to 120 feet west of Pape-avenue, running north. Limit A was extended eastward to 120 feet east of Portland-street, and north to Queen on the west limit. B was extended to the city limit south of Queen, excluding the exhibition grounds. North of Queen the westerly limit was fixed at Dundas-street and Ossington-avenue to 120 feet north of College-street.

Burglary and Arson.

At about 3 o'clock Monday morning young Alexander Burroughs, son of the night watchman, discovered fire in the office No. 32 Toronto-street, occupied by Mr. Wickens of the Commercial Union and by Mr. W. G. Hewish in the front as a real estate office. Considerable damage was done to the partitions, to maps on the walls, etc., and had the young man not given the alarm the damage would have been extensive. The fire seems to have been set by burglars, who effected an entrance with a skeleton key, rifled Mr. Hewish's hand satchel, threw the papers about and generally overhauled the office furniture. They got nothing of value and then either deliberately or by accident set the on fire.

Motion to Commit Earnest Albert.

Lawyer Schoff applied to Mr. Justice Robertson yesterday at Owoode Hall, to commit Ald. E. A. Macdonald for contempt of Court in not appearing for examination under an order of the Court. The order was made in an action brought by Mr. Schoff against the alderman in which he has recovered judgment and placed writs in the sheriff's hands. Mr. F. N. Ebenin appeared for Ald. Macdonald and made a strong argument for his client, urging that the alderman having satisfied the amount due by Mr. Schoff the object of his examination failed, and his attendance for examination became unnecessary. His Lordship reserved judgment.

Families leaving the city or giving up housekeeping, can have their furniture carefully stored at moderate cost with Mitchell, Miller & Co., 45 Front-street East.

Christmas at Home.

Passengers cannot nowadays complain of facilities for traveling, but among not the least of the opportunities for revisiting the old scenes are the steamers Adriatic and Teutonic on the 4th and 11th of December. These steamers take an extreme southerly route and carry a limited number of saloon, second cabin and third-class passengers in accommodations which certainly cannot be surpassed. In the latter class married couples and families are given special private rooms and electric lights.

Expensive Titles.

J. Zielinskie, 186 Simcoe-street, was charged with assuming the title of Doctor without being a regular licensed practitioner. Wm. H. Clinkenbroomer, a detective acting for the Ontario Medical College, testified that he had gone to defendant's house and had been prescribed for. Defendant had a "shingle" out headed "German Doctor," and further down J. Zielinskie, M.D. The "Doctor" was fined $25 and costs. Cooke of 98 Peter-street was fined $25 and costs on a similar charge, this being his second offence.

CAMP NO. 20 CLAN-NA-GAEL

CUTS QUITE A FIGURE IN THE CRONIN CASE.

So the State's Attorney Says—Longenecker's Argument Interrupted by an Excited Reporter—Did the Executive Body Order the Death of Dr. Cronin?—The Defence all in—The State to Close To-day.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—When Judge McConnel's court was called to order to-day, William Mertes, the milkman who had testified for the prosecution in the case, was recalled by Mr. Forrest, for the defence, and went over his testimony again, and also testified as to a conversation he had with policemen about the case a day or so after the body had been discovered. Witness told the officers that he saw a bay horse with a white face coming north as he was coming south; that the buggy stopped in front of the Carlson cottage, and that he saw a tall man get out and go into the cottage. The witness was then examined at length as to his conversation with policemen and admitted that he told the officers he did not know what day he saw the horse and buggy drive up.

J. W. Fralick testified that Kunze had been employed by him from April 26 until June 29, the day of his arrest. Kunze went to work on the morning of May 4 at 8 o'clock and stopped work about 5.30. On the Monday after he went to work and quit at the usual hour.

Dyer Thompson was next called on behalf of O'Sullivan. The witness was foreman for McBride in the ice business at 95 Union-street, and had been in his employ for eight years. He testified that on March 19, when he went back at noon from the cars, where he had been shipping ice, to the office, he saw O'Sullivan waiting there, and he was there at 2.30, when witness went away.

Henry McBride, the employer of Thompson, corroborated the testimony of his man.

An Alibi for the Iceman.

Dyer Thompson, a son of the Thompson who had just testified, followed in the same line. The object of this testimony was to contradict the evidence given by Carlson to the effect that on March 19 he heard Dr. Cronin tell O'Sullivan that he had rented the cottage. The testimony of these witnesses was to the effect that O'Sullivan was several miles from Lakeview at the time mentioned.

M. J. Carroll, a policeman for the past 16 years, was the next witness. He had not been a member the United Brotherhood for 12 years. He said soon after the Cronin murder he was in the neighborhood of the cottage with Officer Rowan, and he had a conversation with Milkman Mertes regarding the event. Witness told Mertes he understood he knew something about the affair, and the milkman told him what he knew about the horse and buggy driven up, and "a tall, slim man with a dark overcoat and silk hat" going quickly up the steps of the cottage. Mertes told witness he did not see the man's face, and that he did not see much of the man in the buggy, as the top was up, but that he was a nervous man. Mertes told witness he could not tell what day this occurred.

The State's Attorney cross-examined the witness at considerable length. Mr. Forrest then said the defence would rest its case.

Mr. Foster, on behalf of defendant Beggs, moved to admit in evidence the record of the proceedings of Camp 20 Clan-na-Gael on Feb. 8, when the motion to investigate the reading of the report on the trial of the triangle in Dr. Cronin's camp was made and carried. Mr. Forrest objected, but the court admitted it as Beggs.

Evidence in Rebuttal.

The state then proceeded with its testimony in rebuttal, and Dr. Patrick Curran testified that he saw James Lyman on the night Cronin's body was lying in Battery D armory. This question was then asked: "Did he in conversation say the executive body had ordered the death of Cronin?"

The defence objected and made the point that the direct examination had not laid the foundation for it. Mr. Foster said this question had been asked of Lyman and objected to on cross-examination, but the court had admitted it as a matter of impeachment, and Dr. Lyman had answered that he never made any such remark, that it was made by Dr. Curran himself.

The State's Attorney said: "This is simply bringing a witness here to impeach a witness that they produce. The only question to be raised is whether the impeachment is in regard to a material matter. In this case Camp 20 cuts quite a figure. The prosecution introduced evidence to show that on Feb. 8 a secret committee was appointed in this camp. There was also evidence tending to show that there was also a resolution made and introduced showing that they wanted the executive body notified at once in reference to the report of the trial committee. In rebuttal of the evidence introduced on the part of the people on that question, as to what took place on Feb. 8 in relation to the appointment of the committee; in relation to the Mortes, Beggs, Kunze, Carlson and others in that camp had said; in relation to what Capt. O'Connor and Mr. Foy had said, he was testifying directly upon a matter that was in this case. Now when you take into consideration the fact that on Feb. 8, about which he was talking, there was a resolution passed in Camp 20 calling upon the executive, or making an imperative demand upon the executive, as it says, to see why this report had gone into other camps, and they had not gone in, you will see the importance of this matter. Gentlemen will argue here in the discussion that this had reference to that committee instead of a trial committee. Now this witness comes here and who testified as to the starting point in Camp 20, is asked the question: "Did not you say, on a certain occasion, that this subject about which the committee was appointed, was about the matter which led to Dr. Cronin's death, and didn't you say that it was all right and justified the act? and he said "no," and denied the statement. Now we have a right to contradict that and show that he did say that and so impeach his testimony.

That's a Lie.

A voice: "That is a lie?" [Sensation.]

The State's Attorney: "Well, you are not the court or the jury in this case."

Mr. Forrest: "I wish to say that I did not say that. That remark was not made by any of the counsel for the defence, or by any of the defendants."

The State's Attorney: "Well, some one said it was a lie."

The Court: "Who made that remark? The court desires to know who made that interruption."

Mr. Wood of The Daily News (rising in his seat): "If it will please Your Honor, I made that remark. I was speaking in an undertone, but I suppose I spoke louder than I thought or intended to."

The court: "Well, please do not let it occur again."

Mr. Foster: "There is not one word of truth in it when he says my client (Beggs) appointed a committee to try Dr. Cronin. We have followed that thing right through on that ground and will follow it to the bitter end and they will seek, if Your Honor please, to put a coil around my client's neck and suspend him between earth and heaven solely on the false evidence that there was such an appointment. There was no such committee as Harry O'Connor says, and there is no truth whatever in the statement that he suggested some other way than the English Free Traders to Reconsider.

Many a time and oft it must have appeared to reasonable people a conspicuous blot on the English Free Trade system that it should include the keeping up of duties on tea and coffee. These articles have long since passed away from being counted luxuries in England, and the extensive use of tea by even poor people is good reason for counting it among the necessaries of life. Considering the very low import price of at least nine-tenths of the tea brought into England, the duty of sixpence a pound is really a very high one according to values. Without having the official figures at hand to refer to, we venture to say that this sixpence per pound is more than a hundred per cent. on the value (average) of the tea used by the "British workman" of whose interests most Free Traders profess to be so careful. We have often wondered whether this very conspicuous blot upon the system, as we must call it, would have to be accepted in perpetuity as an indispensable part of English Free Trade. However, now it is beginning to be called in question, and by a man who in England is esteemed orthodox on the trade question—one against whom no charge of protectionist heresy can be made.

Mr. John Morley, M.P., will be acknowledged as a man of note in England—one whose word counts for something as an influence on public opinion. About a week ago or more he spoke at a meeting of the Eighty Club, and a brief cable despatch told us at the time part of what he then said. We note first that he showed himself a loyal follower of Mr. Gladstone by using the following language:

He said the social questions to which many Radicals were now seeking to give the first place in the program could not efface the Irish question, on which the next election would turn.

That is straight enough Gladstone doctrine to save him from any charge of being a Tory, either in disguise or otherwise. But he follows it with something else, which even a Tory or a Protectionist might approve of. We quote further:

It was true, however, that in view of existing social injustices there was urgent necessity for legislation for the benefit of the masses. The burdens of taxation were unfairly borne by the poor, and ought to be relieved. Among other things the taxes on tea and coffee should be lowered. He favored free education, free meals for poor school children, reform of the pauper system and the regulation of the wages question. He believed the principle of giving equality of opportunity to all classes to defend their own interests. The well-off classes, he said, should sympathize with the poorer classes in their efforts to ameliorate their condition.

Part of this sounds like Protectionist Radicalism, our only objection being that it is not half Radical enough. But English Free Traders are surely beginning to see in the tea and coffee question now; and they will be more open to the light as time moves on. By the substantial and the "irreconcilables" among them the duties on tea and coffee will continue to be sustained, from the fear that if they were let go their place in the revenue might be taken by some other duties, possibly of a protective character. Against this popular and most desirable reform the Simon Pure free traders will fight to the last.

More recently another cable despatched has come to hand, also referring to Mr. Morley's speech above quoted from. It is brief, and we think it well worth repeating here, just as we find it:

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The Liberals are lavishly bestowing praise upon Mr. John Morley for his speech at the Eighty Club last evening, and predict that the influence of his utterances will be far reaching and permanent. A few of them take exception to the views he expressed with regard to an eight-hour system, but the general excellence of the speech commended themself so strongly to the party, as a whole, that the societies are impelled to forgive the speaker for his one disagreement with their opinions.

Enough for the present about Free Trade England's absurd and indefensible duties on tea and coffee. But we fully expect to hear more on the same subject ere long.

The large audience at the Grand Opera House last evening were thoroughly well pleased with the presentation of "Ingomar," as cast above. Miss Marlowe is making rapid strides in her profession, and possesses, as she does, so many natural advantages—grace of form, expressive, handsome and mobile features—she bids fair to rank with the world's greatest tragedienes. Her support is excellent. Eben Plympton, as the barbarian brought to beauty's feet by the power of love, was awarded with Miss Marlowe the honor of several curtain calls. He is a vigorous and conscientious actor. Messrs. C. L. Allen, Allan, Ian Robertson, Emma Hinckley and Mrs. M. A. Pennoyer also deserve a word of praise. It is on the whole one of the strongest dramatic combinations of the day.

The Wages of Sin

This stirring new melodrama, well known to theatre-goers, was presented before a large house at Jacobs & Sparrow's Opera House last night. Miss Rose Osborne is the particular star of the company and she created a decidedly favorable impression and secured the good will of the audience. "The Wages of Sin" will be given during the rest of the week with the usual matinees.

Helen Barry.

The engagement of this famous actress at the Academy of Music for three nights and Saturday matinee, commencing Thursday, Nov. 28, will be a treat to theatre goers. The St. Paul Dispatch says: "To see Miss Helen Barry as the Countess D'Autreval in "A Woman's Strategem," is one of those bright occasions in the experience of a theatre goer which stands out luminous and prominent from the roll of a woman's performances. Majestic and handsome, coquettish, passionate, willfull, determined, loving and yielding, she possesses all the attributes and perfections of a thousand woman blended in one perfect woman. Her smile is sweetness and her laugh music. The finished grace of her acting and the charm of her voice is the summit of art. The play gives her ample scope for her magnificent powers and the supporting company, instead of forming a background, are living and moving parts of the charming picture."

Preparing for Miss Wainwright.

Julian Magnus, who was for several years a dramatic writer on The New York Tribune, arrived here yesterday to prepare for the appearance of Miss Marie Wainwright. Miss Wainwright will be at the Academy on Dec. 5, and will fill in her grand production of "Twelfth Night." This is said to be the neatest and most appropriate and artistic setting ever given to a Shakespearean comedy. Miss Wainwright is one of the most attractive and able of living actresses, and is supported by a company of well-known players. Everything shown upon the stage down to the smallest "property" is carried by the company, and a brilliant and hitherto unequalled spectacle may be confidently expected.

Music and Stowers.

A floral and musical fete was given in the Academy of Music last night in aid of the Protestant Orphans' Home. There was a fair attendance and an attractive program was presented. Several selections were given by the orchestra; the University Glee Club, numbering about 35 volunteer sang, filled two numbers; Mr. Fred Cowley contributed a cornet solo, and Mr. Elton a piccolo solo. An operetta in one act was given by Mr. A. Bromley Davenport and Mr. Grant Stewart. In the gallery flowers, candies, ice cream and tea were on sale, the ladies being presided over as follows:

Flower table—Mrs. Gordon Brown, Miss Forsyth Grant.
Candy table—Mrs Caythra, Mrs Spragge.
Ice cream table—Mrs Armstrong, Mrs Bromley Davenport, Mrs Henry Duggan.
Tea table—Mrs W J Hamilton, Mrs J S McMurray, Mrs Lockhart.
Stewards—Messrs Bromley Davenport, S C Rutherford, Herbert Cawthra, Leonard McMurray, Scott Griffin, William Burritt, R J Cowan, G Vankoughnet, Percival Ridout, H Symons, Chenoweth, R H Lockhart.

The Fisk Jubilee Singers.

The famous Tennesseans, under management of B. W. Thomas, formerly of the original Fisk Jubilee Singers, were greeted with a large and enthusiastic audience in Zion-street Methodist Church last night. The programme contained many of the old and ever popular melodies, with not a few new and equally taking quartette and choruses. Mr. Will H. Thompson, the basso, who possesses a wonderfully deep and rich bass, was warmly received and liberally applauded. In "One Hundred Sixteen Dollars" he was heard at his best and brought down the house. His humorous drolleries were very amusing. Miss Jennie Gatewood also scored a success in "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." An encore was enthusiastically demanded. The old favorite "Way down upon the Swanee River," was sung by Miss Lulu Cannan in her usual sweet and finished manner. The choruses showed fine training and were encored in almost every instance. Altogether the Tennesseans are well worth hearing. They sing again this evening in Zion-street church for the last time this season.

Y. M. C. A. Entertainment.

Professor Cumnock, who will give an evening of readings tonight in Association Hall, has been well named the "Silver Tongued" elocutionist. With a fine physique, a physiognomy capable of most remarkable transformations and expressions, a clear, rich, baritone voice and easy and effective gestures, Prof. Cumnock has attained a foremost place among the first elocutionists of the country. Among other selections he will read "The White Squall," "Connor" and "A Georgia Sermon."

Cyclorama and Museum.

This popular place of amusement will be open again this week, as the enormous work of putting in the American cyclorama, Battle of Gettysburg is almost completed. The price of admission will be 25 cents and 15 cents for children, as usual. Many new and wonderful attractions have been added to the museum, among them Abarkaklya, the human spider; Natoma, the mystery of the Nile, poisonous snakes, etc. The admission to the museum will be 10 cents, so that persons wishing to visit that only can do so.

The Torrington Orchestra.

This society held its usual practice last Saturday evening and some very fine pieces were rehearsed and will be played at the first concert of the society, which will be given in January.

The Toronto Orchestra was established by Mr. F. H. Torrington, our veteran musician, who saw that a large and progressive city like Toronto should not be behind cities of equal population in the United States.

The orchestra comprises about 60 members, one half of which are amateurs, well advanced and good musicians, and these are strengthened by some of our best professionals, who make up the complement of the orchestra.

In order to realize what has already been done, it is only necessary to look back to the delightful concerts given by this society last winter and the winter before. The benefit of such a society to our young musicians must be very great, and much praise is due to Mr. Torrington for the pains he has taken in order to give Toronto an orchestra that she has every reason to be proud of.

INCREASES RECOMMENDED

By the Waterworks Sub-Committee on Salaries.

Ald. Hill, chairman, McMillan, Ritchie and Maurhan, composing the sub-committee on Waterworks salaries, met again yesterday afternoon. Superintendent Hamilton was also present. In spite of the fact that Mr. Hamilton has studied the matter and knew what he was doing when he sent in the supplementary report, the committee did not consider it advisable to adopt all his recommendations. Ald. Ritchie, while supporting any increase for employes of the department who have the heavy work to do outside, discouraged the recommended increase for some of the clerks in the department. Ald. McMillan was in favor of adopting all the recommendations of the superintendent. It was finally decided to recommend these increases in the office:

THE McKERFEY SCANDAL

He Denies the Statements Made in The Mail —as quoted by the Mayor.

The Mayor yesterday decided to suspend Police Court clerk Meyerfey pending a further investigation. Police Magistrate Denison and the Mayor held a long private conference at the City Hall early in the afternoon in which the conclusion was reached that an investigation is imperative. This, of course, will be made by the Board of Police Commissioners most likely at their next meeting. The Mayor explained to The World yesterday that the most serious thought vague charges had taken root in the minds of the individuals in their duties through information thrown out by the Police Court clerk.

Mr. Meyerfey was at the office yesterday afternoon. He stated that since Thursday he had been confined to bed through a serious attack of congestion of the liver, which he not deny that he was in the resort on Adelaide-street, but said that he had gone there with a man looking for some one he wanted. He denied that he was shaking dice or that he had fired any bullets into police arrived. The innendo that he divulged the secrets of the police he characterized as utterly untrue.

A Christmas Corner Frustrated.

In Montreal the publishers of The Star are besieged by newsdealers anxious to secure precedence in recording their orders for Christmas numbers of The Star. The publishers have adhered to their resolve to open the sale on the same day throughout the Dominion and in the States. It is significant that a speculator who was permitted to view the advance sheets has been unable to buy up the entire edition. The publishers, it is understood, have refused to be a party to any such exclusive sale and the issue will be divided amongst dealers as far as it will go.

Judgments at the Assizes.

Mr. Justice Falconbridge gave judgment yesterday in the case of Manning v. McDonald & Shields, dismissing the action with costs. Mr. Burney & Co. against William Robbins and Richard Hayes, a contractors' dispute, was decided. Judgment was entered for the defendant Hayes on and after the second day of the next divisional sitting and against the defendant Robbins, in default of his appearance, for $473.20, the amount claimed. In Donaldson v. Coleman, an action for breach of contract, judgment was entered dismissing the action with costs.

In the suit of George Barras, commission merchant of Toronto, against Bannerman Bros., manufacturers of Montreal, to recover $281, being 2½ per cent. commission on a sale of tobacco for defendants, judgment was entered for two per cent. or $225 in all, less a counter claim of $51.71 and costs, with a staying of proceedings until Tuesday, Dec. 3.

The case occupying the attention of the court during the greater part of the day was that of Bates v. Prittie. Richard Gugh, architect, assigned the balance of an account amounting to $436 to Mrs. Bates, and she is now suing for the claim. The defence is that Gugh's work was unsatisfactory. Judgment was reserved. Neville, McWhinney & Ridley for plaintiff, and Pearson, Macdonald & Trow.

To-day's list: Holden v. Butler, Ryan v. McConnell, Ridley v. Casey, Dickinson v. Dickinson, Bryce v. Coleman (two cases), O'Brien v. Turskeld and Lee v. Campbell.

New Cure for Asthma.

HAMILTON RIDGE, Oct. 21, 1889.

To the Editor of The Telegram:

I read a letter in your paper from a lady living at Sunderland, Ont., giving the particulars of her cure from a lung disease by Dr. Hunter's treatment by Medicated Air. My own experience of this treatment is quite as satisfactory. I had been for thirteen years a victim of asthma, and had tried in vain to find relief. I was treated by a great many different doctors, and took all kinds of cure-alls without getting any real benefit. Hearing of Dr. Hunter's success with Medicated Air inhalation, I applied to him, and have since been under his care. His treatment has worked wonders in my case. I can now breathe with ease, sleep without coughing or oppression and feel in all respects as well as any man in this township. I began to gain my flesh and strength from the first week and have continued to gain right along. None but those who suffer as I have suffered for want of breath can know how thankful and grateful I feel for the great benefit I have received. I want all the world to know of this treatment, and those who have asthma to hear of my case. Kindly publish my letter and say that any who want to know more can come to see me or write to me. My address is Oak Ridge P.O., Ont. Yours

T. R. C.'s EIGHT OARED CREW

A $450 RACING SHELL TO BE ORDERED FROM CLASPER.

Toronto Will Have a Strong Octette in the Spring—The Arguments Propose to Follow suit—The C.A.A.O. Will Give a Race —R.C.V.C.'s Initial Smoking Concert—Jake Kilrain at the Rink.

Although Toronto is probably the best known city in the world for its aquatic renown, hitherto there has not been an eight-oared racing shell on her waters.

Not long ago F. H. Thompson set to thinking and brought the idea out of his fertile brain that his club should secure a racer of this kind. One evening at the Toronto rowing club's quarters in Adelaide-street, Mr. Thompson gave his plan to the oarsmen there and every one of them were captivated with the idea. It was shown that the boat would cost about $450. Immediately subscription books were opened and within a few days half of this amount was subscribed, and there will be no trouble whatever in securing the remaining portion.

J. H. Clasper, the Putney builder, has been communicated with and he will shortly begin operations on the craft. She is expected to be in the Toronto quarters before the ice closes out of the bay in the spring. A strong crew will be selected and practice will be indulged in that the men will be ready for the national regatta which is has already been decided to enter.

"Will the C. A. A. O. give an eight-oared race next year," asked The World of a prominent officer in that organization.

"Yes," was the answer "providing we can secure sufficient entries."

The World also learned that the Argonauts would not remain behind their brother oarsmen and that in case the Toronto's secured one of these shells they would follow suit and make matters interesting for the big city club.

So in case two eight-oared crews are afloat here in the spring the C.A.A.O. should have little difficulty in securing one or two entries from the N.Y. Crescents, Atlantas, Bradfords, Fairmounts, Pull, and Columbias, Wash.

The above additions to the racing craft of Toronto Bay should make a boom in aquatics here and next year will probably be one of the most interesting in Toronto boating history.

The Yachtsmen Spend a Jolly Evening.

The first of the series of Royal Canadian Yacht Club's fortnightly smoking concerts was held last evening in the Town Clubhouse and was most enjoyable affair. There were about 100 yachtsmen and their friends present. Mr. Michison was in the chair. Songs were given by Messrs. Greville Harston, Jim McDonald, Lary Boyd, A. J. Boyd, Dickey and Scott, and Messrs. Paul Jarvis and Harry Bowley broughtdown the house with clever recitations.

Too much credit cannot be given Messrs. Frank Wade, Greville Harston, F. Arnoldi and S. Y. Baldwin, the energetic committee who successfully inaugurated the winter social season of the club. Every person there last night enjoyed themselves hugely. It was midnight before the jolly crowd broke up. They all say they will come to the next concert two weeks hence.

Meeting of the Canoe Club.

A meeting of the Toronto Canoe Club was held last night in the quarters in the Esplanade, when the candidates for the season's officers were selected. There should be a strong committee next season judging from the number of candidates out. Commodore Powell was in the chair and Coms. Kerr, Neilson and Tyson were also present. After the nominations the final arrangements were made for the smoking concert that takes place in Webb's on Friday night. Nothing has been left undone to ensure success of the affair, which promises to be one of the best of the kind of the season.

Aquatic Echoes.

A local yacht man has offered Mr. Monk of Hamilton $800 for the Cyprus.

Courtney writes that the Cornell crew would be willing to attend the C.A.A.C. with an eight next spring.

Now that St. John has deserted the oarsmen what will become of his put professional oars men's scheme?

Joe Rogers says the professional oarsmen's convention sat down for Boston on the 5th prox will be a mere farce.

Messrs. F. H. Thompson and Jos. Wright will pull a pair-oared shell next season, and have ordered the same from Warin, the local builder.

O'Connor has received many letters from Vancouver regarding Caikin's big regatta there on May 24. They are anxious for him to have the great Toronto oarsman as a guest of the city during the event.

Mr. G. L. Watson, the great Scotch designer, in a letter to a Hamilton yachtsman mentions that the 20 rater Vreda, built in 1888, and a most successful racer can be bought for £600, her original cost being £1600. She is 40 ft. 3 beam and 8 ft. 8 draught, built of iron and cabins fitted up in mahogany.

KILRAIN'S BENEFIT.

Another Large Attendance at the Mutual-Street Rink.

There must have been considerable curiosity or admiration among Torontonians when upwards of 2000 persons again attended the Mutual-street rink last evening to see Jake Kilrain the Baltimore pugilist. The program was a good one and every one present appeared to enjoy himself. The locals went at each other with a vigor that must have warmed them as well as the spectator's enthusiasm. Among the exponents were Owen Swift and Ned Adams, Stemyer and Billy Bettle, Popp and Lovett, McArthur bros., Mike Burns and Charles McDole. Prof. Loyett swung his clubs and Reid and Savage thurst each other with the foils. The three-round bout between Kilrain and Scholes was a very mild affair. Neither men tried very hard to hit, but the crowd seemed satisfied with the exhibition. Geo. Cooper was master of ceremonies. Kilrain leaves to-day for Elmira, where he has an engagement. Then he goes to Baltimore and Mississippi for his trial for prize-fighting in that state. He has not heard from Sullivan anent his offer to fight for $5000.

THE MEDS WILL AGAIN PLAY.

The Twice Postponed Match to be Fought out To-day.

The annual matches between the Varsity Medical School and the Trinity Medical College are always the source of considerable comment at the respective schools, and have drawn the largest attendance of any matches played on the Lawn. The game to-day at 2.30 between these two schools promises to be more exciting than ever, as both schools will be closed, thus affording every student a chance to "howl" for his team as only medicals know how to. The professors have begun to look upon the match as a sort of reminder of bygone days and nearly all will be on hand, including the lady meds and the genial face of Dr. O'Reilly. The teams will be:

Trinity—Goal, Potter; backs, Thibido, Wright; halves, King, Smith, Bell; forwards, Webster, Hosch, McQueen, Fatrohilds.

Toronto—Goal, Senkler; backs, Gordon, Edgar, halves, Warbrick, Booth, Huggie; forwards, Jamieson, Large, Thomson, Chrystal, McLaren.

Notes of the Kickers.

The Torontos have given up the idea of another game with Varsity this season and must wait another year for revenge.

In the football match at Ottawa on Saturday the Y.M.C.A. Ramblers defeated the Nondescripts by 3 goals to nil. Lord and Lady Stanley were at the game.

Ottawa admirers of the college football-team met on Saturday night and subscribed $100 towards the price of a cup for them to take the place of the Union trophy which they have returned. It is proposed to increase the amount to $300, of which $200 will be paid for the cup and $100 for a scarf pin for the players.

The college football clubs of Harvard, Yale and Princeton are hustling after big gate receipts, and they are doing it in the advertising line, as witness the manner in which they tackled the professional question so as to boom the Harvard-Princeton match at Cambridge last week. The National League people, who these days are getting up baseball sensations, can learn a lesson from the college gains on advertising.—Sporting Life.

Gossip of the Turf.

William Lakeland's stable the past season won $14,921 of which Exile won $12,425.

The English Derby, as well as the Oaks, has a fixed value of $25,000 each under the new plan.

Alcryon, 2.15 1-4, winner of the Charter Oak $10,000 purse, will be placed in the stud next year.

In Buenos Ayres the rules and regulations respecting jockeys and trainers are very strict. No one engaged in the occupation of training or riding is allowed to bet or even to be seen in the betting ring.

"McCormick," said a well-known N.Y. sporting man the other night, "is beginning to run his horses funny. He is near as bad as Carroll with Vivid and Eleva. Look at the running of Beside K. and She lately."

Speaking of Ormonde's sale an English writer says: "It is always with regret that we part with such heroes as Ormonde, but I believe that the Duke, who used to frequently ride him as a hack, so gentle and good-mannered was he, was far more influenced by the belief that the climate of South America would cure, or at least alleviate his suffering infirmity, than by the enormous price offered. By the way, Peeler has also been sold to go to Buenos Ayres."

Dust from the Diamond.

A Pittsburner who ought to know says that Comiskey will not only play first here for the Chicago Brotherhood, but he is a stockholder in that club.

Bierbauner, formerly second baseman of the Hamilton Primroses and Philadelphia Athletics, has signed with the Brooklyn Brotherhood Club.

A special committee of the Brotherhood of baseball players—Ward, Ewing and Andrews—have issued an address to the League. It states that the Players' League will do everything to preserve the integrity of the national game.

"Will Mr. Cushman manage the Torontos next season," was asked of President McConnell yesterday, to which he replied: "I will not commit myself until after the meeting of the directors next month," with an air that gave the belief that Cushman would be here next season.

Boyle, the Star catcher of the St. Louis Browns, yesterday signed a Chicago players's League contract and next season the battery of King and Boyle will do business for the Brotherhood. This fills the only weak spot in the local club. An effort is being made to secure Daley and it is thought it will prove successful.

The Tecumseh directors have information from Manager Fessenden that he has secured for next season a rattling first baseman, another Sullivan or a good pitcher who figures will be divulged later on. The Tecumseh team of 1890 promises to be a pennant-winner and no mistake.—London Free Press. Pretty early for the championship.

We expect to stay in the International but may join the Association if it is strengthened up. Rochester and Syracuse threaten again to go into the Association, and the Cannucks talk of organizing a Canadian league. All this is fanfaronade, but what remains to be done will be soon accomplished, and the dust will settle down in the usual channels. One thing is sure, no matter where Toledo plays next season, they will have a winning team, and as usual will show up one of the best ball towns in the land.—Toledo Bee.

Sports of sport.

Porter, the old-time Pittsburg sprinter, will go into active training again for the Sheffield Christmas Handicap of 1890. He is 27 years of age now.

John Lawrence Sullivan, champion of the world, is taking good care of himself and the unanimous challenge which have been lately issued to him don't trouble him to the slightest degree with his sleep. The big fellow is turning in most Jackson, Smith, McCaffrey, Slade, Kilrain or any other living pugilist can produce enough of what he terms "collar."

The London correspondent of The Police Gazette called as follows: "Toff Wall, the middleweight champion of England, and Bill Goode, who recently fought Slavin, the Australian champion, met at the Pelican Club on Monday to arrange a match. The proposition mooted between the pugilists and the backers, which ended in the Pelican Club offering the pugilists £250 to fight for, £200 to the winner and £50 to the loser. These terms were accepted and articles of agreement signed for the men to fight in the Pelican Club in February.

The Wanderers extend a cordial invitation to the members of all city sporting clubs to attend their smoking concert on Thursday evening in their rooms on Yonge and Alexander-streets. The program is well arranged and a jolly smart time is warranted to every one attending.

Against Orange Incorporation at Present.

At the last regular meeting of Parkdale True Blue L.O.L. No. 207, W. M. F. Reeves in the chair, the following resolution was moved by the W.M., seconded by Bro. James Virtue, and unanimously carried:

That this L.O.L. put on record its entire disapproval of the suggestion of the committee appointed by certain members of the Grand Lodge to apply for incorporation of the Orange Association to Parliament. The present would be no time for such an application, when among the alleged representatives of a Protestant country we see among such representatives so many who have favored Jesuitism, the enemy of all liberty and progress. That Orange incorporation should not now be accepted from such a Government. It would be undignified on the part of the Loyal Orange Association of B. N. A. to make any such application until we can have a representative Government by and for the people in power.

A SUB-COMMITTEE APPOINTED

Who Will Prepare the City's Case re Esplanade Matters.

Another meeting of the sub-committee appointed by the joint Esplanade committee was held yesterday Mr. E. C. Gurney presiding. There were also present Ald. Boustead, Gillespie, and Messrs. Thomson, Blain, Cocking, Wilkie and Lee. The Board of Trade delegates stated that they would not have their expenses paid to the Capital. The Board would pay its own way. Mr. Thomson said the same could safely be promised for the Citizens' Association.

Mr. D. R. Wilkie stated that he had been assured by a gentleman holding a high position on the C.P.R. that the company would do all it could to arrive at a feasible plan for the solution of the Esplanade difficulty and would co-operate to that end. The various details of the viaduct scheme were then fully discussed. A sub-committee composed of Mr. Gurney, Mr. Thomson, Ald. Boustead, was appointed to wait on Mr. Biggar in reference to preparing the city's case to place before the Privy Council. Another meeting will be held to-morrow.

Grain and Produce.

On call at the Board of Trade to-day 85c was bid for No. 2 red; 29c was bid for oats weighing 34 pounds or over at points and G.T.R. west; 29c was bid for oats on track at North Toronto, with sellers at 31c, to arrive; oats on track offered at 30c; 29c bid.

THE STREET MARKET.

The receipts of grain were larger to-day. Wheat—Steady, 300 bushels selling at 80c to 85c for fall, red winter and spring, and 85c to 86c for goose.

Barley—A little dearer; 3000 bushels sold at 32c to 46½c.

Oats—One-half to one cent higher; 200 bushels selling at 33c to 33½c.

Peas—Steady; 100 bushels of shipping peas sold at 54c.

Hay—Firm; 20 loads sold at $8 to $8.10 for clover and $11 to $14.50 for timothy. There is now a fair demand for clover at the cattle byers to feed stockers. The cattle exporters pay $8 per ton for clover. As the receipts of clover are about ten loads to one of timothy, farmers are fortunate in having this means of disposing of their inferior hay. Good timothy is scarce and full prices may be obtained for the best quality.

Straw—Scarce and firm; 7 loads sold at $8 to $8 for loose and $9 to $11 for bundled.

Dressed Hogs—There were none offered.

PROVISIONS.

Commission houses quote provisions as follows: Pork—Barrels, [illegible] per barrel; 22c to 24c, store packed 12c to 15c; eggs, fresh 22c to 24c, and limed 17c to 18c; mess pork, $13 50 to $15; lard, bacon 8½c to 9½c; lard, Canadian 12½c to 13½c, and American 8½c to 9½; smoked hams 12c to 13c.

Don't hawk, hawk, blow, spit and disgust everybody with your offensive breath, but use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy and end it. 50 cents, by druggists.

Jacob H. Bloomer of Virgilia, N.Y., writes: "Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil cured a badly swelled neck and sore throat on my son in forty-eight hours; one application also removed the pain from a very sore toe; my wife's foot was also much inflamed—so much so that she could not walk about the house; she applied the oil, and in twenty-four hours was entirely cured.

NOTICE.

Take notice that the Council of the Corporation of the City of Toronto intend to pass by-laws in pursuance of "The Municipal Act," for levying a frontage rate to pay for the construction of the following Local Improvement Works, viz.:

WOODEN SIDEWALKS ON:

1. Broadway-place (north side) from Spadina-avenue to its west terminus.
2. Walmer-road (east side) from south side Lowther-avenue to a point 90 feet southerly, to meet the walk now laid down.
3. James-street (east side) from a point 60 feet north of Queen-street to Albert-street.
4. Bloor-street (both sides) from Queen-street to Janima-street.
5. Sully-crescent (both sides) from Shaw-street to Sully-street.

WIDENING OF:

6. Howland-avenue, from Wells-street to the C.P.R. Also
7. Raising and grading of Broadview-avenue from Wishrow-avenue to Danforth-avenue.

And that a statement shewing the lands liable to pay the said rates, and the names of the owners thereof, as far as they can be ascertained from the last revised Assessment Roll, is now filed in office of the City Clerk, and is open for inspection during office hours.

The following schedule shows the estimated cost of each of the said proposed works, the amount thereof to be provided out of the general funds of the municipality, and the amount to be charged in each case as a special assessment upon the lands immediately benefited.

Location of the Work.	Total Cost.	City's Share.	Special Assessment.
WOODEN SIDEWALKS:
(1) Broadway-place	33	10	23
(2) Walmer-road	22		22
(3) James-street	189		189
(4) Bloor-street	150	55	95
(5) Sully-crescent	200	20	180
WIDENING OF:
(6) Howland-avenue	4045		4045
(7) Raising and grading of Broadview-avenue	3900	*1700	2200

* Note.—This amount includes $500, being Street Railway Company's share of cost.

And further, that unless in each of the above cases respectively, the majority of the owners of the lands liable to pay the said rate, representing at least one-half in value thereof, petition the said Council against such assessment within one month after the last publication of this notice, which will be on the 3rd day of December, A.D. 1889, the said by-law will be passed.

A Court of Revision will be held at the City Hall on the 16th day of December, A.D. 1889, at 2 o'clock p.m., for the purpose of hearing complaints against the proposed assessments, or accuracy of the frontage measurements, or any other complaints which persons interested may desire to make, and which are by law organizable by the Court.

NATURAL REFRESHING SLEEP.

How this Terrible Disease, the Forerunner of Insanity, Can be Positively and Permanently Cured.

NO ONE NEED DESPAIR.

Your doctor can tell you by reference to his case books that sleeplessness, with restless and wakeful nights, followed by a weak, tired, and exhausted feeling on arising in the morning, is more frequent among his patients than any other trouble. He will assert most positively that it is the sure forerunner of physical prostration and complete nervous exhaustion, ending in insanity. Thousands allow themselves to drift toward the awful verge of insanity, without knowing that the feelings and sensations which they experience day by day are fast hurrying them on to utter mental collapse and absolute prostration of nerve power.

Those who have felt the maddening misery of sleeplessness know only too well that insanity is its near relative. Save yourself from these terrible results while there is yet time by the use of that wonderful nerve restorer, Paine's Celery Compound. For all the different forms of bad sleep it is a true remedy. It soothes, calms, and quiets the weakened, irritated, and over-excited nerves, producing perfect repose and refreshing natural sleep; at the same time it imparts renewed life, strength, vitality and vigor to the nervous system, and restores the physical energies and powers to perfect health and strength.

"In the summer of 1888 I had to work very hard, and was troubled considerably with insomnia (sleeplessness). I resolved to try your Paine's Celery Compound, and after taking the contents of two bottles, felt like a new man. A good night's rest gave me strength for the duties of the day, and instead of starting out to business in the morning feeling as if I had completed a day's work instead of being about to commence one, I started out in good spirits, feeling fresh and strong." A Sanderson, Montreal.

Paine's Celery Compound may be purchased of any druggist at one dollar per bottle. Refuse substitutes, for this medicine has no equal.

MR. S. C. FINLAY.

He Wishes to Give His Experience to the Public.

Mr. S. C. Finlay of 200 Farley-avenue, an old and well-known citizen, wishes to give his experience with the Medical Institute for the Cure of Catarrh, Dyspepsia and Chronic Diseases, located at 198 King-street west.

Mr. Finlay had suffered for months, had consulted three physicians, one of whom treated him for six months; he continued to grow worse, his appetite failed, had a cough, his liver was inactive and greatly enlarged, the pain in his right lung was hard to bear, the palpitation of his heart prevented him from making but slight exertion, he was generally run down in health and was obliged to give up work, and he had almost given up hope when he was advised to try the physicians of the Medical Institute for the cure of Catarrh, Dyspepsia and Chronic Diseases, located at 198 King-street west, which he did, and in two months was a well man and is so to-day, although it is nearly two years since. Mr. Finlay is a good, conscientious and honorable man, and will be glad to talk with anyone who may wish to call on him.

This institution besides treating Catarrh and Dyspepsia, treats all chronic and private diseases, and this testimonial is only one of over six hundred testimonials which can be seen on application. No testimonial published without consent of patient. Office hours, 9 a.m. to 8 p.m., Sundays, 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

The noble philanthropic M. D's who petitioned the Medical Council to erase the name of Dr. Washington from the Medical Register for malicious certain charges. Here is a specimen: "The publication of the symptoms of Catarrh by Dr. Washington is misleading and the ignorant and simple minded imagine they are afflicted and make his medicines a fortune to offerers." Oh, ye public benefactors, read the following:

Dr. Washington will from day to day publish new evidence of the magnitude of the absurdity of such an idiotic contention.

Catarrh, Head and Throat Cured—10 Years Standing.—All Remedies Failed to Effect a Cure.

B. A. BENNETT, Brantford, Harness Maker.

DR. WASHINGTON, 79 McDougall-street.

Dear Sir,—I have great pleasure in informing you of the effect of your medicine with my cons. I feel confident it has cured me. Complete cure in my case. I have, as I said to you at first, suffered from catarrh for over ten (10) years, and at times have had great noises in my ears with deafness and sore throat and have suffered a great deal of pain in my head from its effects. I have declared almost constantly for the last three years and had about given up all hope of ever being cured. I have always been prejudiced against traveling doctors, and when I saw your notice in the papers of this city I hesitated quite a while before going to see you; but on seeing you and hearing your opinion of my case, I concluded to give your medicine a fair trial, which I did, with this great result—that I am again Free from any of the effects of Catarrh. I am sorry I did not see you when you were here on the 16th to tell you how grateful I feel to you and your medicine. I cannot express my feeling of gratitude to you for your prompt action in my case. I shall always remember you as the only traveling doctor I ever had enough co fidence in to allow them to treat my case simply because you made the best and fairest proposals of any I have consulted—the number being great. The only way I can repay you is to write to every success with every sufferer as it has had in my case. I shall be pleased to answer any person who may feel inclined to consult me about the merits of your treatment in which I believe a most loathsome disease. You are at liberty to use this letter as you see fit.

Yours very truly,

B. A. BENNETT.

Dr. Washington or his eminent assistant member of the Royal College of Surgeons, England, will be at his office, 78 McDougall-street, my day during office hours, viz., 9 to 11 a.m., 1 to 5 and 7 to 8 p.m. Consultation free. 246
