TORONTO'S GREAT SCHEME

TO IMPROVE THE WATER FRONT AND PROTECT THE PUBLIC.

Meeting of The Esplanade Committee Last Night—The City has Three Recommended Solutions—Discussing and Amending the Montreal Agreement.

The big Esplanade problem continues to be almost as much a problem as ever. Many meetings have been held and many suggestions have been made, but beyond this the city or its representatives have not committed themselves to any definite action. It may be said that there are now three solutions of the difficulty before the city: what is known as the Montreal agreement, which was published in full about last April, Messrs. Gzowski and Shanly's report, and Mr. A. M. Wellington's viaduct scheme. The latter is rather a report to the Toronto Board of Trade and can hardly, therefore, be considered as being before the City Council. Yet it is one of the three solutions offered. That of Gzowski and Shanly is in the main similar to the report submitted by Engineer Wellington, with all the principal features of which the public are familiar. The Montreal scheme differs distinctly from both. Rather than the construction of a viaduct it proposes that a number of bridges be erected across the tracks to a new street to be known as Lake-road and to be located as far south as the new Windmill line. These bridges will be for the accommodation of the citizens of Toronto in gaining safe access to the water front.

In neat pamphlet form all the three reports outlined above were placed before the members of the Esplanade committee at the City Hall last night. There were present Ald. Boustead (chairman), Shaw, Baxter, Gibbs, Lennox, Carlyle (St. Thes.), Maughan, Small, Gowanlock, George Verral, McDougall, Davis, Tait and Denison.

A communication was read from the Assessment Commissioner giving the valuations on property which it is proposed to hand over to the railway companies under the Montreal agreement. The various amounts aggregate $146,300.

The report setting forth the terms of the Montreal agreement was then discussed and amended in many important particulars. Clauses 1 and 2 were passed, but a lively discussion took place on this paragraph:

3. Upon the railway companies constructing the proposed new street along the Windmill line between Parliament and Berkeley-streets, on a temporary road not less than 40 feet wide across the property of the Midland Company, south of the Grand Trunk tracks, between the said streets, the city agrees to close Berkeley-street south of the southern line of the deviation thereof already herein referred to, and to convey the land occupied by the portion so closed to the G.T.R., reserving to the city the rights referred to in paragraph 11. of this agreement.

It was objected that Berkeley-street would by such an arrangement be closed up. But His Worship pointed out that such an objection was unfounded. Not an inch of ground, said he, would be closed up. Teams could as at present come down Berkeley-street and proceed along the Esplanade as far as York-street if necessary, and crossing the tracks at any point desired. It was at length decided by an addition that the railways do not hold the city responsible for any damage that might result from the closing of Berkeley-street south of the Esplanade.

The next clause was that the G. T. R. take up and remove the tracks of the Midland Company now on Esplanade-street, between Berkeley-street, as also deviated, and Rogers' siding and to have a right to connect the Midland track now in Esplanade-street west of Sidney-street with their main line at or near Frederick-street. This clause was also amended by the insertion of the obligation that the tracks mentioned must be taken up within 6 months from the signing of the agreement.

The next clause of importance is that dealing with the proposed John-street bridge in which it is agreed that upon the G. T. R. constructing such a bridge the city close the Esplanade between Brock and Simcoe-streets. In connection with this proposition Ald. Verral moved that that portion of the Esplanade from Brock to John be an open street and that Peter-street be not closed.

Ald. McDougall said such a proposition was inconsistent with the general principles of the scheme under discussion, which proposed a system of overhead bridges.

Ald. Carlyle said that his objection to Ald. Verral's motion was that by it the John-street bridge which they had been endeavoring so long to secure would have to be entirely abandoned. The amendment was finally voted down. An amendment was then made in the clause that the G.T.R. construct the bridge within one year from the signing of the agreement.

The clauses relating to the construction of bridges at York, Yonge and other streets were so amended as to make the railway companies liable to a share of any arbitration which may arise.

This clause was also productive of criticism: When the Yonge-street and York-street bridges are open for traffic, the level street crossings on York, Bay and Lorne-streets, south of Esplanade-street, shall be closed to the public.

Ald. Verral asked: Do we give away the right of opening up Bay or Lorne-streets?

A brief discussion followed this enquiry. It resulted in the amendment of the clause by adding "shall be closed on a by-law passed by the council."

Other amendments of a rather less important character were made. Ald. Davies got an opportunity to explain his idea of solving the Esplanade difficulty, which idea is mainly based on the viaduct system. Ald. Tait expressed his views of the entire difficulty, which are briefly put: This Montreal agreement can never be a solution of this question; you cannot get free access by these proposed bridges.

When the question of increased taxation were the viaduct scheme adopted came up, Mayor Clarke read a letter from Treasurer Coady stating that the increase if the city erected a $3,000,000 viaduct would be about 1½ mills on the $, not 2 mills as had been supposed. This would be on an assessment of $115,550,000, upon which run the taxation of the present year is based.

Of course the committee does not stand committed to the Montreal agreement, but merely met to consider and to amend it if necessary. As amended it will be printed and placed before each member of the committee.

RICH AND ELEGANT FURS.

An Extensive Display Made by W. & D. Dineen, King and Yonge-streets.

Furs are a luxurious feature of feminine toilet—a great many furs can be worn all the year round. In England ladies do not lay aside their furs any time during the year, their beloved fur caps they wear over their tresses even in July; and though our summers are hardly such as to encourage such practices, it is now the thing to bring out. Capes and furs will be the first fall wraps. In discussing furs, big or little, from a collar to a sealskin sacque, it is natural to think of Dineen's store, because in his great establishment can be found every sort of article in fur that civilized man or woman can wear. The great feature of the establishment is sealskin—sealskin, that prime favorite of all the world, whose steadiness of value is only surpassed by diamonds themselves. Dineen has an immense stock of all kinds of ladies' garments made from genuine Alaska sealskins, London dye, at very moderate prices considering the great rise in the value of seals and other furs, such as bear, sable, lynx, beaver, otter, fox, &c., which are made into boas, capes, muffs, &c. The establishment is worthy of a visit to those looking after furs for the coming winter.

J. R. Armstrong & Co., of the "City Foundry," have removed from 161 Yonge-street to 211, 213 and 215 Queen-street east.

THE CRY OF THE NEGRO.

Despair May Drive the Colored People of the South Into Rebellion.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—The colored people of the city filled to overflowing yesterday the different churches which they attend, and passed the day in fasting and prayer. The colored pastors preached sermons and prayed for the power of the Almighty to relieve the colored people of the South from oppression and wrong.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Rev. W. B. Johnson (colored) of the Second Baptist Church preached a sermon yesterday in which he likened the negro to Samson and told the members of his race to secure homes in the south and west and prepare to stay in them even if every inch of land must be defended with Winchester rifles. The negro, he said, was learning the lesson of organization from the Socialist and the Irishman, and twenty years from now would not be the docile being of to-day.

Rev. George W. Lee (colored) of the Fifth Baptist church preached on Southern outrages and advised the negroes to strike back when they were assaulted or their wives and daughters were wronged and insulted. The civil rights bill, he said, had always proved a failure and all that was wanted of the negro from either party were promises at election. It was useless to seek redress from Congress, for two-thirds of them were sinners and the other third drunkards.

CHISHOLM CAN'T GET IT.

A Fugitive From Justice. He Can't Sue for a Divorce in Canada.

OTTAWA, Oct. 21.—There is absolutely not a word of truth in the report that Mr. Chisholm will sue for a divorce in Canada from his wife, who recently married Hon. G. E. Foster, Minister of Finance. Mrs. Chisholm secured a divorce in Chicago from her first husband, who cannot appear before the Canadian Senate with his application, as he is a fugitive from justice.

The Daily Smash.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 21.—A passenger train on the Northern Pacific Railroad was derailed yesterday near Hunter's. The engine went down an embankment. James Nolan, the fireman, was fearfully scalded and died. Engineer H. Jones will probably die. Several cars were smashed. The twenty passengers escaped with a good shaking up. The accident was caused by a cow getting on the track.

RHINELANDER, Wis., Oct. 21.—Edward Hicks, conductor on the Soo road, was killed yesterday at Bradley. His train was standing on the main track, when another train ran into it. Hicks jumped, but the collision lifted the caboose off the track and threw it upon him, crushing him to death. None of the passengers were seriously injured. Both trains were wrecked.

Death of Capt. Sawle of Welland.

WELLAND, Oct. 21.—Capt. W. T. Sawle of The Welland Telegraph died here last night at 11 o'clock. Although Mr. Sawle has been sick for some time his death will be a surprise and shock to his many friends all over Western Canada. He was born in Ilfracombe, England, some 42 years ago and for the last 19 or 20 years has been connected with the Conservative press of Western Canada, in Caledonia, Brantford and for the last two years or so in Welland as proprietor and editor of The Welland Telegraph. Mr. Powell subsequently became sheriff of the same county. In 1847 he edited The Bytown Gazette. He is a brother-in-law of Senator Clemow.

The Mexican Bond Steal.

CITY OF MEXICO, Oct. 21.—It is positively stated the stolen government bonds were of the face value of only $1,250,000. They bear the signature of the Secretary of the Treasury but lack the Treasurer's. The bonds were probably stolen while being moved from one department to another. As they are not properly signed nor sealed the government is not responsible for them.

THE SINEWS OF WAR.

Arranging for the Sham Fight and the Big Review.

A large number of officers, representing the four city corps, were present at the adjourned meeting held yesterday at Major Mason's office to arrange for the Thanksgiving Day parade and sham fight. Col. Otter, D.A.G., presided. The committee appointed at the last meeting to raise funds towards paying the expenses of visiting regiments and to furnish horses for the Field Battery and Body Guards reported that they had applied to the City Council for a grant of $200 and had reason to believe their request would be acceded to. They had also promises from the hotels and private subscriptions, so that together with what they have been promised and what they hope to obtain they expect to be able to raise the necessary amount.

It is believed the Dufferin Rifles and 13th Battalion will be present. Arrangements have not been finally completed as yet, but this much has been arranged: the Redcoats will be on one side and the Rifles on the other, two of each, while the guns of the Field Battery will be divided between the two, and a detachment of the Body Guards will act as scouts for each side.

The fight will wind up with an inspection, at which General Middleton will be present.

The officers meet again this day week at Major Mason's office at 4.30 p.m. to arrange further details.

FORGED CHEQUES AFLOAT.

How Tradespeople Have Been Duped for a Week Back.

The detectives just now have in hand a series of clever forgeries in which the name of City Treasurer R. T. Coady has been most successfully duplicated. No less than seven gentlemen engaged in business chiefly around and in St. Lawrence market have been presented with cheques which they have been requested to cash for small amounts varying from $20 to $50. The presenter of these bogus checks is described as a well-dressed man of middle age. The checks all bear what is apparently the signatures of Commissioner Manning and Macdonald, and they each and all are endorsed by a good imitation of Treasurer Coady's signature.

Early on Saturday afternoon a man bearing the above description dropped into Matt Evans' well-known saloon on Jarvis-street opposite St. Lawrence market. He took a drink at the bar and after a little friendly chat with the proprietor took a cheque out of his pocket-book and requested Mr. Evans to cash it. The little piece of paper was on the Bank of Montreal and called for $22.25. It was signed by Manning & Macdonald in favor of Mr. Coady and endorsed by him. Mr. Evans carefully examined the cheque, and observing the endorsement it bore paid out the amount. On presenting it at the bank yesterday it was pronounced a forgery.

Yesterday the wholesale butcher firm of Crealock & Smith were also presented with a cheque bearing the same signatures and payable at the same bank. It bore the number 271 and was dated Oct. 16. The amount called for was $21.25. This cheque was also cashed and was also pronounced a forgery when presented at the bank. Since that day five forged cheques exclusive of those mentioned have been presented. The fact that one was cashed by Thomas Adams, the St. Lawrence Market butcher, on Wednesday last, just three days before Matt Evans was visited, goes to prove that the forger has been working his game during the greater part of a week. Among others who have been worked for various amounts is John Holderness of the Albion.

WILL THERE BE A LOCKOUT?

Master Builders Discussing the Trade Situation—The Striking Stone-Cutters.

The master builders met yesterday to discuss the situation of the striking stone-cutters of the Toronto Stone Company. A committee was appointed to wait upon the strikers, which however did not come to any satisfactory terms. The master builders will not yield and the men are as determined to hold out to the last. Some fear that a general lockout of bricklayers, carpenters, plasterers, &c., will be the result of the action of the stone-cutters.

Suggestions Re The Esplanade.

A Toronto professor who spent the summer over in Germany and part of his time at Antwerp says he got an idea there, which might be applied to a solution of the Esplanade problem here, and that is to leave the tracks as they now are, to build overhead bridges at the ends of the main, north and south streets, and these bridges to end in an elevated promenade carried on iron pillars and extended all along the city front, or as far as might be deemed advisable. From the bridges and this elevated promenade there would be ramps or descents running east and west for vehicles and pedestrians to the new Esplanade-street south of the tracks and to the boat houses, harbor and other water front properties. He thinks his scheme could be carried out at comparatively small cost and would make the water front the greatest attraction Toronto had.

"A Canadian" comes out with yet another solution of the Esplanade difficulty. His proposal is to have all railways converge at the head of a central street in the northern part of the city, at which point a union station might be erected. If the present one be not used. From here he would construct a tunnel to the Esplanade, having four tracks. Two wharves of say 1000 feet in length to be built south of the southern terminus of the tunnel, having tracks for the tran-portation of freight from vessels to cars. "Canadian" thinks an exchange could be made with the railway companies of the Esplanade for the right of way north of the city limits. As the city grows if the tunnel is too small another could be built.

Inspecting the Subways.

Yesterday afternoon a sub-committee of the Board of Works, consisting of Ald. Lennox, George Verral, Small, Tait and Chairman Carlyle, accompanied by Assistant City Engineer Cunningham, Ald. Baxter and Mayor Clarke, visited the King and Queen-street subways. The conclusion arrived at with regard to the latter was that the work was being carried out in the most substantial manner. There has been some delay owing to the inability of the contractor and engineer to get the railway tracks shifted in order to excavate underneath them. At present they are waiting for the bridge company which is conducting the work to go on with the superstructure.

The Queen-street subway was also inspected and suggestions made as to the best means of widening it. Had not the Mayor and Ald. Baxter been absent on this investigation it was their intention to have been present at the Waterworks Committee meeting.

He Wept for His Wallet.

Last evening James Morrison, 75 Adelaide-street west, reported that his till had been tapped for $65. Later on James Wegans, a youth of 20, was marched into Police Headquarters to answer the charge to-day. His heart was almost cleft in twain, not so much at being arrested as at the prospect of losing "my money that I worked hard for." He said he worked at A. R. Williams & Co.'s, that the $44 found on him was drawn from the Home Savings Co., and that he wanted the money that he worked hard for. The money was taken in charge and he was allowed to go. As he went through the door he dropped a tear and said he would be on hand all right in the morning to regain his hard-earned money.

'TWAS A REAL HOUSE-WARMING.

His Neighbors of Other Folds Wished Pastor Harris God-Speed.

Five religious denominations through their respective ministers vied with each other last night in praising a sixth. This friendly rivalry had the ring of sterling honesty, and the object of the commendation was worthy thereof. It was the fires of the bizarre entertainments conveniently and comprehensively termed "socials," held in the Walmer-road Baptist Church, so auspiciously opened on Sunday. The affair was on the co-operative system; the ladies of the infant church provided the good things which a couple of hundred people were "truly thankful" for; no charge was made nor ever will be in connection with this church, still a substantial return was voluntarily made; ministers and laymen of Anglican, Methodist, Congregational and Presbyterian folds adjacent compared notes and made the acquaintance of the crew of the new ship which has already let down its nets for a draft as "fishers of men"; the sister church on fashionable Jarvis-street sent its three dozen trained singers with their sacred repertory; the well-to-do society people smiled on the new venture whose inception six months ago they did not bless, the working folks and their wives and families from a goodly circuit around looked happy in the comfortable sanctuary, and prized the cheery words and genial smile which accompanied Pastor Harris' hearty welcome.

The speeches had one merit—they were brief. They were equally bright and pithy. Mr. Harris introduced Dr. Johnston, president of the Toronto conference, as an old University fellow-student. The latter assured his Baptist brother that Trinity Methodists sincerely welcomed their new neighbors and wished them good success in God's work. Personally he was glad the last arrival in the district was a Baptist church. He was glad it was a Christian church. He hoped none of them were like the young man who, when asked if he were a Christian, replied "No, sir; I'm a Baptist." [Applause and laughter.] Then the Doctor eulogized the catholicity of true Christianity and the practical exemplification of religion pure and undefiled.

And what was left for the other speakers? Only to endorse, to parallel, to amplify the generous compliments of Dr. Johnston and reciprocate the good wishes of Pastor Harris that the Master of the vineyard, the Lord of the harvest, might own and bless all true work. Those who said this in varying tenses were: Rev. W. G. Wallace, on behalf of Bloor-street Presbyterian Church; Rev. T. W. Campbell, pastor Reformed Episcopal Church, College-street; Rev. A. F. McGregor, minister Western Methodist church, Spadina-avenue, and beaming Dr. Thomas of Jarvis-street Baptist Church.

To-night there will be a large attendance of citizens to hear the brilliant son of an honored father—Rev. Dr. Judson of New York, son of the eminent missionary Adoniram Judson.

THE ALLEGED OBSTRUCTION.

Further Evidence in The Macdonald Case—Decision Reserved.

The charge of obstruction preferred by the Street Railway Company against Ald. R. A. Macdonald again came before the Police Magistrate yesterday. The evidence at the last hearing having been read, Police Magistrate Denison said that the injunction granted the company at Osgoode Hall to restrain the alderman from further obstructing the cars expired on Friday next, at which time the case will be argued before the Superior Court. No decision that he, as Police Magistrate, might give would be of any avail before that court, and consequently he considered it a waste of time to go on with the case. He would adjourn it until the case was argued before the Superior Court.

"No, I would rather you would go on with the case now, your Worship," said Mr. Macdonald. "Supposing the Superior Court decides in my favor, and the injunction is removed, and supposing that on Saturday next I desire to further obstruct Broadview-avenue, am I to be arrested and subjected to abuse by a policeman because you have not tried the case?"

"Now, I'll tell you what I'll do in this case," said the Magistrate. "I'll hear the evidence, take it home and consider it carefully, and the instant that the Superior Court removes the injunction if it sees fit to do so, I will give my decision, so that no time may be lost."

Evidence the purport of which the public are familiar with was then given, and the decision of the court reserved.

A Pleasant and Profitable Anniversary.

The 56th anniversary entertainment of Carlton-street Methodist Sunday school was well attended last night. Rev. Dr. Hunter presided. The Superintendent's report showed an increase in attendance, average attendance, etc. There was a total registered attendance of 502 scholars with an average attendance of 347. The average attendance of teachers was 56. The librarian's report showed a total of 673 books at present in the library. The total amount of receipts are $820. The pastor, Rev. Dr. Hunter, took occasion to remark that he was sorry that Rev. Joshua Denovan of Immanuel Baptist church, Jarvis-street, had seen fit to criticize the inauguration of Flower Sunday in churches. Carlton-street was, he believed, the first of the Methodist churches in this city to introduce Flower Sunday, which he regarded as a noble institution. The program consisted of solos, recitations, anthems and choruses by the scholars, ably conducted by Superintendent John Kent.

Watch for the Letter-Box Breakers.

Attention is called to an advertisement offering a reward for the apprehension and conviction of any of the young reprobates who break the tell-tales attached to the street letter boxes. No city can boast of a more disorderly mob of youngsters than Toronto, and it is the duty of any citizen who discovers a boy in the act of molesting these boxes to hand him over to the nearest policeman. A man might be ruined by the time of next search being so altered that his letter therefore missed a post.

The Bishop Encourages The Teachers.

In accordance with the proclamation recently issued by the Archbishop of Canterbury, a meeting of all the English Church Sunday school teachers in the city was held last night in St. James' schoolhouse. The Bishop of Toronto presided over the large audience, and interesting addresses on Sunday school work were delivered by Rev. Canon Dumoulin and Rev. C. Ingles of Parkdale.

A vein of natural gas was opened yesterday by the workmen engaged in sinking the shaft of the new Chicago water tunnel, about two miles out in the lake. The gas was ignited by lamps in the workmen's hats. There were five at work in the shaft and all were more or less seriously burned.

In Western Montana the grass has literally withered away for want of rain. Many thousands of cattle have starved to death for want of grass and famished for want of water. Ranchmen are paying $40 to $25 a ton for hay, and in a week or two it will be impossible to get it at any price. Water is being hauled, in some cases, twenty miles.

ABOUT OUR WATERWORKS

IMPORTANT BUSINESS TRANSACTED BY THE COMMITTEE.

The Hewitt Matter Disposed of—The Salaries Sub-Committee Discharged—The Superintendent's Report—Electric Lighting—A Batch of New Mains.

Two rather important matters were disposed of yesterday at the committee meeting on waterworks. One was the disposal of the Hewitt matter, the other was the discharge of the Waterworks sub-committee on salaries, which, though called for yesterday afternoon, failed to secure a quorum. Ald. McMullen and Hill were the only members who turned up, and it was on the latter's motion that the sub-committee was discharged.

The Hewitt matter was dropped chiefly on account of Chairman Boustead's statement that Mr. John Hewitt of the Waterworks Department has found that instead of his position having been lowered it had rather been improved. He is now, it appears, responsible for the whole of the rating department.

To Ald. McMullen's enquiry of Superintendent Hamilton why he did not have a talk with Mr. Hewitt and report to the committee Mr. Hamilton replied: I was instructed not to write any more, or to say any more about it. So the matter was dropped.

Ald. Ritchie sent in a letter to Chairman Boustead stating that he was rapidly recovering from the severe attack of illness which he has lately been suffering. Mr. Ritchie will, doubtless, soon again occupy his old seat in the council chamber.

An application was received from Lieut. Brown asking for leave of absence to pass his examinations confirming the position now held by him as an officer. On motion of Ald. Graham it was decided to grant the applicant leave of absence not to exceed six weeks, his salary to be paid during that period.

Contractor McNamee for the new conduit pipe sent in a letter containing a request the effect of which would be to adjourn the work until next spring. The committee decided not to grant the request.

Superintendent Hamilton's report stated: The electric lighting is now complete and in good working order. It will make a decided reduction in the cost of lighting the engine and boiler house as well as the surrounding yard approaches.

Mr. Abell, the contractor for the 60-inch steel conduit pipe, has 200 feet riveted up complete. He has steel plate on hand and can complete the same at the rate of 100 feet per day.

Mr. Law, the contractor for the 48 inch steel pipe, shipped the short pieces on Monday and promises to ship early this week the first lot of steel pipe and will continue to do so from that time.

Re the report made last year about the cost of a portable steam boiler mounted complete on wheels, the acceptance of Mr. Doty's tender, namely $200, is recommended.

The contractor for the high level pumping station will have the walls ready for the roof to-day. Mr. Inglis of the Blake Manufacturing Company has selected the site for the foundation of the engines and they will be put down at once.

These new mains have been petitioned for and are urgently required: Woolfrey-avenue, east of Broadview-avenue, estimated revenue $90; Sumach-street (extension), estimated revenue $800; Poucher-avenue, east of Pape-avenue, estimated revenue $500; Arlington-avenue, west of Walmer-road, estimated revenue $400.

The report was adopted.

OUR YOUNG POLITICIANS.

A Rift in the Liberal Lute—What the Junior Conservatives Did.

The Young Liberal Club met last night in their clubrooms in Richmond Hall, President Macpherson in the chair.

This executive committee was elected: R. Downe, jr., T. Wallace, D. P. Cahill, F. Armstrong, W. D. Gregory, S. Macdonald, J. S. Williams, B. Lynch, J. F. Edgar, H. H. Dewart and J. W. Roswell.

The great problem of the evening was the framing of a resolution thanking Hon. Wilfrid Laurier for his address, in such a way as to suit all the members. Finally the following resolution was adopted, although in the face of strong protests that the motion was expressing too great accord with the opinion of the Liberal leader:

That the Young Men's Liberal Club of Toronto desire to express their sincere thanks to the Hon. Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. S. A. Fisher, M.P., for their cheerful response to the invitation extended to them to address the people of Ontario on the political questions of the day. We feel that the manly, talented and patriotic address delivered by Mr. Laurier in Toronto may tend to remove distrust, promote a better understanding between the various provinces and race elements in Canada and conduce to the peace, harmony and unity of the Dominion. We feel that the Liberals of Canada have reason to be proud of such a leader, who has exceeded the most sanguine anticipations of his friends and proved himself to be a true patriot and worthy Canadian. And worthy successor of the leaders of the Liberal party in Canada.

Budding Conservatives.

The Young Conservative Club met in Shaftesbury Hall last night. The club is flourishing numerically and financially. G. G. Robinson, J. R Macabe and G. M. Furniss were elected members. The election of the Leader of the Government and of the executive committee was postponed till next meeting. A. G. McLean and J. C. Hopkins will contest the leadership of the Government, and the following are expected to stand for the executive committee: J. B. Rogers, F. R. Bluett, H. McLean, E. A. Holmes, F. S. Lightbourne, G. Greene, J. Baird, O. M. Arnold, J. B. Mackintosh, P. S. Harris. An interesting contest is expected for both offices.

Mr. J. A. Worrell, the retiring president, was personally sorry that he had to sever a connection which had always been a great pleasure to him from the cordial support he had received from the officers and members. He reviewed the career of the association for the five years he had presided over it, and congratulated the members on its flourishing condition and prospects.

Mr. W. D. McPherson, on being installed as president, expressed his gratitude to the club for the honor conferred on him. He eulogized the retiring president and hoped the association would long continue in the tide of progress into which he had launched it. He touched on the political issues of the day, and exhorted the members to fortify themselves for the events of the near future by a close study of constitutional questions; especially should they be familiar with the provisions of the British North America Act.

Mr. J. A. Ferguson, 1st vice-president; Mr. P. H. Bartlett, 2nd vice-president; Mr. J. H. McGhee, 3rd vice-president; Mr. W. H. Harrison, corresponding secretary, felicitously said ditto.

Fred. Douglass is to write a novel. His own career furnishes incidents more strange than fiction.

The Mail's inferential claim that it has 500 subscribers may be correct, but it has not yet published the exact figures.

Kansas makes the forfeiture of both principal and interest the punishment of usury. This varies the form of stealing.

Three burglars, all under 17 years of age, have been arrested in New York. Burglary as an "infant industry" is not to be encouraged.

Grit organs deem it worthy of special mention that Mr. Laurier is spoken of as an able gentleman by Tory organs. Should all opponents be dubbed ignorant rascals?

A Detroit footpad explained to the police justice that he had "held up" his victim "just for fun." As he was arrested in the act it is certain he did not find much money in it.

"Funeral private" is the legend attached to many of the death notices in the London, Ont., papers now-a-days. This is conclusive evidence as to the presence of contagious diseases.

Ex-Senator Riddleberger and ex-Governor Cameron of Virginia both appeared "loaded" at a recent political meeting, and were greeted by a brass band playing "We've all been there before many a time."

The St. Thomas Journal rather flouts the idea of a canal between that city and Lake Erie, as the city is 182 feet above the level of the lake. This objection may be fatal to a canal, but it would be a great argument in favor of a toboggan slide.

The Buffalo News gives up all idea of annexing Canada after learning that one of the men concerned in the jury fixing at Chicago is a native of Toronto. Jack's heroic resolution to do without his supper was formed after he found that he could not get it.

Ex-Mayor Howland is in favor of indeterminate sentences in the cases of criminals who are not regarded as hopeless. The question is too broad to be disposed of in a paragraph, but how long would a friend of the jailer remain in prison under such a system?

The fact that the manager of the all-American excursion has telegraphed to the cities, yet to be visited, requesting reception committees to omit that portion of their entertainment embracing a banquet seems to be a quiet little snub for the orator at the Niagara Sunday banquet.

As an offset to the Eiffel tower in Paris, the Yankees are talking of digging a hole 2000 feet deep and fitting it with lenses so as to make of it a monster telescope for the 1892 exhibition. Some of those who are boasting so much in advance of the exhibition might find such a hole a convenient refuge.

The Winnipeg Free Press says that "the Mormons, aside from their revolting doctrines, are very likely not such a bad lot." It was a Kansas man who, boasting of the good qualities of his town, said that all it needed was plenty of water and good society, and was met with the retort that all Hadtes needed was the same.

The post. cent. dividend declared by the Western Union Telegraph Company is equivalent to a dividend of 15 per cent. on the actual investment of the company. Of the $120,000,000 representing its capital at least two-thirds is water; and the profits obtained for service are two-thirds extortion.—Philadelphia Review.

A certain portion of it may also be said to be the result of Ras's manipulation of the Canadian lines.

The Mail is getting to be quite friendly with the Ontario Government. It is put on a par with The Globe as far as getting exclusive cabinet news is concerned, and in other ways little attentions are being shown it by Mr. Mowat. Of course if Mr. Nelson insisted on a big school-book contract for a continued lease of The Globe, Mr. Mowat might say, "Well, take your old Globe; I can have The Mail by whistling for it." The Globe may in the meantime just as well quit calling The Mail hard names, or endeavoring to keep The Mail out of the Reform nest.

Professional Dignity.

The present inquiry into the actions of certain doctors by the Medical Council makes an opportune time to consider the principle involved. The gist of the charge is that they have disgraced the profession by conspicuous advertising and that one of them professes to heal by laying on of hands; if guilty it is proposed to debar them from practising. As to the merits of healing by laying on of hands we have nothing to say, but to prevent any physician from practising on the ground that he professes to heal by laying on of hands is bad in principle. Stuart Mill states it concisely: "The opinion which it is attempted to suppress by authority may possibly be true. Those who desire to suppress it of course deny its truth, but they are not infallible. To refuse a hearing to an opinion because they are sure that it is false is to assume that their certainty is the same thing as absolute certainty. All silencing of discussion is an assumption of infallibility."

As to conspicuous advertising; the offence it would seem consists not in its being evil per se, but in detracting from the dignity of the profession and thereby disgracing it. This so-called professional dignity is of such a shadowy, intangible nature that it is difficult to analyze it, but is apparently a survival of the olden aristocratic times when the professions were denominated (as we believe they still are) "learned" and embraced the largest share of cultivation and learning. It is not now and never has been considered improper for a banker, merchant or mechanic by conspicuous advertising or by solicitation to endeavor to advance his business interests and dispose of his wares; on the contrary the public and even the professions deem it evidence of commendable energy and business skill. What, then, makes it a fatal indignity the moment it is indulged in by the professions? If there is any distinction is it not based on the idea that a doctor has some merit which makes him superior to a merchant or a lawyer to a banker? It is essentially an aristocratic conception and repugnant to that spirit of equality which we believe to be the vital essence of our democratic institutions. It is the old story of the classes and the masses. By all means let us have the highest professional excellence which thorough training and strict examination can produce, but let us avoid in toto what partakes of the nature of caste. We do not want each profession to constitute itself protector of the public in its particular domain; let the people be trusted to discriminate and choose between quackery and honest excellence, and let our professions abandon their exclusive and irrational ideas of professional dignity.

The Cure of the Throat and Lungs.

Dr. Robert Hunter of New York and Chicago, the founder of the practice of treating throat and lung diseases by medicated air, who has made a specialty of these diseases for over 40 years, in association with Dr. James Hunter, has opened a branch office for Canada at 73 Bay-street, Toronto, where catarrhal, bronchial and consumptive diseases are now treated by medicated air as successfully as in New York and London. This treatment has been so successful as to cause its adoption in all hospitals for the special cure of the lungs in England and throughout Europe, where Dr. Robert Hunter introduced it in person, as he is now doing in Canada.

Patients can be treated at home. Those unable to come to the office for examination are sent a list of questions to be answered, on the return of which Dr. Hunter gives his opinion of the case and explains the treatment.

A little book explaining their mode of cure can be obtained free by applying at 73 Bay-street. 246

PROFESSIONAL CYCLISTS.

ONLY FOUR START IN THE BIG TOURNAMENT.

A Small Attendance Present—Mr. T. C. Patteson Talks of Driftwood's Going in the Hunt Steeplechase—Opening of the Lexington Fall Races.

The opening of the big bicycle tournament last evening was rather disappointing in some respects. Only four of the eight entered riders appeared on the track and the attendance was much less than expected. However, this will become more satisfactory with the progress of the race. There is every evidence of an exciting contest between the famous riders Dingley and McDowell. These two met in the big Philadelphia race two years ago, when the Minneapolis man won doing 900 miles in the 72 hours. McDowell is a remarkably pretty rider and only 19 years of age. Desmond is the amateur champion long distance winner of England and became a professional only yesterday. Rhodes, the fourth man on the track, was one of America's fastest amateurs until he won the Victor cup at Hartford, Conn., in '87.

The flyers are mounted as follows: Dingley on a 52-in. Rudge; McDowell on a 50-in Rudge; Rhodes on a 56-in. Victor and Desmond on a heavy 54-in. English machine.

Champion Wm. O'Connor asked the men sharp at 8 o'clock last evening if they were ready, H. P. Davis fired the pistol and they were off. Dingley at once took the lead and held it, but could not shake little McDowell off. These men soon gained a lap on the other two and tore around the track at a lightning rate, making nine miles in the first half hour. If she men keep up this pace they will easily beat the record, but it is hardly likely they will. Rhodes and Desmond fall behind the other two regularly, and, bar accidents, apparently cannot win, but will make a race for third money.

At 10 o'clock Rhodes began to spurt, but Dingley would not permit him to gain a lap, so there was a great race between this pair, the result being the New Englander closed up on Desmond and McDowell and Dingley gained 9 miles on the Philadelphian.

The officers of the race are: Starters, Wm. O'Connor and H. P. Davies; judges, Messrs. Wells and Fane; referee, Fred Foster.

The hours for riding to-day are from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. At the conclusion of the day' riding the one mile amateur race will take place. The distances covered at the close at midnight were as follows:

	Miles.	Laps.
F E Dingley, Minneapolis	67	—
Eddie McDowell, Philadelphia	58	—
Frank Desmond, England	57	8
W A Rhodes, Massachusetts	56	1

THE BROTHERHOOD PROBLEM.

Chicago Players, Except Anson, Refuse to Sign.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—This was the day when the men who are going to play ball with the League clubs next season should sign their contracts. Mr. Spaulding, president of the Chicago Club, was at headquarters early to receive them, but up to 3 o'clock Capt. Anson's name was the only one put down.

"I cannot say when the rest will sign," said Spaulding, "as I have only talked with three or four of them."

Spaulding said that the Brotherhood of Ball Players had been bidding for the old league grounds here and the League is demonstrated to them that the grounds had been obliged to take a lease for 3 years although it had intended to keep them only a year longer. At Springfield to-day a baseball organization called the Chicago League was incorporated. It is believed this has something to do with the proposed brotherhood club.

The Smoky City Men Also in Arms.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 21.—The management of the Pittsburg Baseball Club to-day officially notified the players reserved by them that they had retained their services for next season and were ready to execute the agreement. Rowe and Sunday refused to accept the document until they had satisfied themselves as to its contents. The others took the notice without comment.

Rowe, in speaking of the matter, said, "I do not propose to allow the League to get the drop on me if I can help it. They violated faith with the Brotherhood once by arbitrary salary business, and we do not intend getting the worst of it again if we can help it."

Subsequently Sunday, Beckley and Rowe called on President Nimick and stated they were willing to pass their contracts if they could leave for their homes this evening. The three players were each paid in full and were given permission to start home at once. When Sunday went forward to receive his check Nimick said: "Well, Billy, your contract is all ready, will you sign it now?"

"No, sir, I cannot," replied Sunday. "I am a member of the Brotherhood and until the League settles the matter of our grievances none of us can sign."—"Well, but you said there was no use in our reserving you; that you would play with us next season."

"Yes, sir, I did, and if the Brotherhood is settled satisfactorily I will sign; otherwise I will stick by the Brotherhood." Several other players talked in the same strain, but they all refused until after the League meeting, which will be held in New York Nov. 12.

Third Game Prevented By Wet Grounds.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—The third of the series of championship games between the Brooklyn and New York ball teams which was to be played to-day was postponed on account of wet grounds.

The Price of Burke and Vickery.

EDITOR WORLD:—To decide a bet please state the price paid by the Philadelphia club for Burke and Vickery. Yours truly, E. J. C., City. Ans.—President McConnell told The World yesterday that the price agreed on was something less than $3000, but would not give the exact figure, which is most probably $2500 as stated in yesterday's paper.

Dust from the Diamond.

The University of Pennsylvania nine played a strong game against the Phillies on Saturday. The score was 8 to 3 in favor of the professionals.

On the Garrison common yesterday the Rossin House married men defeated the bachelor employes by 12 to 6. Batteries—Adams and Brown; Osborne and Hollingsworth.

There was a tremendous demonstration at the New York benefit Sunday night in the Broadway theatre. De Wolf Hopper formally presented the pennant to the Giants. Ewing, Mutrie and Ward made speeches.

Secretary Scandrett of the Pittsburg club says: "The way in which players talk about the profits of ball clubs is absurd. I estimate that Boston clears $80,000, New York $60,000, Chicago $40,000, and Philadelphia about $10,000. The other clubs, on an average, are losers. Well, then, the profits named make a total of $100,000. Messrs. Ward, Keefe and others may know all about playing ball, but depend upon it they have little idea of the financial department of the club, and that is the most vital after all."

The annual meeting of the Western Association has been postponed by mutual consent from Oct. 15 to some time in November. This is done to see what is accomplished at the National League and American Association meetings, and whether or not the Brotherhood engineers a compromise or concludes to start on its own hook. It is broadly hinted that both League and Brotherhood officials have made overtures to whole Western Association clubs for transfer to the East in case there is a general rupture.—St. Paul Globe.

"It will be a great surprise to his many friends in this city to learn that Marr, the ex-Star player, is openly accused of having thrown the last Brooklyn-Columbus game. Marr has been playing short for the Columbus team lately. He has done steady, reliable work all the season, and when he made four bad errors, which let in about all the runs Brooklyn got, Pitcher Baldwin refused to play out the game, stating that he did not wish to be 'made a monkey of,' and so retired at the end of the sixth inning. The charge will be investigated. Marr, while in this city, was always regarded as an honest player who always tried to win."—Syracuse Standard.

THE DRIFTWOOD INCIDENT.

The Committee's Action on Starting the Horse.

So much talk has arisen from the curious way in which Driftwood was ridden at the Hunt races on Saturday that The World interviewed Mr. Patteson with the view of ascertaining that gentleman's opinion on what had occurred.

Mr. Patteson said that he was not present at the races, as the latest train on a Saturday afternoon by which he could reach home for Sunday left long before the races would be over. He had therefore only seen the reports of the occurrence as detailed in the several city papers and they might not be accurate.

"But can an owner or rider," was asked "under any circumstances do less than his best to win a race for which he starts?"

"No; and if he started determined to do less than his best, and doing obviously less pleaded, as I see Mr. Phelan does, the concurrence of the stewards, who had been anxious to secure his starting to make up the requisite number of competitors and had told him he need not press his horse, I think the Hunt Club should pay any bets lost on Driftwood. A declaration on the notice board that Driftwood started to make up the number, but would not be ridden to win, would be, so far as I know, a new departure in racing practices. I think the club might possibly have seen that the bookmakers scratched Driftwood off their slates, and failing that they should now recoup those who, trusting to the usual good government of the races, put their money on Driftwood. But I am all this time taking it for granted that the club's assent to Driftwood's exercise gallop was given, as alleged. It may not have been so. If it was not so, then Mr. Phelan made himself liable to very unpleasant consequences, and it does not make any difference at all what opinion he had of his horse's chance to win, he was bound to ride to win, and he did not do so."

"Could Mr. Pringle have added to his censure any punishment if he had so chosen?" asked The World.

"No," said Mr. Patteson, "he could only report to the committee for whom he was acting, and would naturally leave them to do what they thought proper. As the committee took no action, it would seem that they were not unaware of Mr. Phelan's intention not to try. The fact is that any stipulation as to the number of entries and starters is a direct encouragement of undesirable issues."

Mr. A. J. Cassatt Retires.

Mr. A. J. Cassatt, Chesterbrook has announced his retirement from the turf. The N.Y. Herald says of the step: The American turf loses a gentleman whom it can scarcely spare. It is to be hoped that the master of Chesterbrook will not make his present decision final. Congressman Scott, Barker Belmont and Millionaire Pierre Lorillard have each taken a turn at retiring "in years gone" by, but all of them repented their action in time and returned to the race track, entering into the sport with renewed ardor and vigor. Too few indeed are the gentlemen of social position and wealth who lend their time and their means to the advancement of thoroughbred contests, and Mr. Cassatt is not numbered among those that the turf can afford to let go.

Gossip of the Turf.

L. W. Jerome has resigned as President of the New York Jockey Club.

The Hounds will meet this afternoon at Davisville at 3.30 p.m., sharp.

Albert Bonner, son of Robert Bonner, has purchased 40 acres of land near Long Branch, N.J., and will turn it into a private track. The price paid is said to be about $75,000.

C. W. Williams, the late owner of Axtell, in speaking of his great performance in 2.12 said: "Axtell wore only protecting boots, the entire shoe in front and three-quarters behind, with no weights. I never was behind him when he was so full of trot. I am sure that if I had a month more chance to work him sharply, with periods of rest, he could go a mile in 2.10."

The Duke of Portland's winnings on the English turf during the past two years have been stupendous. Ayrshire in 1888 won £8675 and in 1889 he has won £20,000, making his total £28,675. Donovan in 1888 won £16,487.15, and in 1890 he has won £38,206.15. Making his two winning leaders. Mr. Abdy's winnings this season reach £38810.8. Thus the Duke's winnings with the three amounts to £92,179.18. This does not include the Duke of Portland's minor winners, who have won quite handsomely.

The Colonel Goes to Montreal.

On Saturday evening the members of the Prospect Park Club and directors of the company were called together for the purpose of bidding farewell to their caretaker and manager, W. E. Hampton, better known among the curlers and skaters of Toronto as "Colonel." Mr. John A. Mills secretary of the club, read the farewell address, and the President, Mr. John Dunouth, presented Mr. Hampton with a purse of gold as a slight token of esteem in which he is held by the members of the club. Mr. David Carlyle, president of the company, also read a resolution passed by the board of directors expressing their regret at his removal from their midst and wishing him every happiness in his new home. The directors also presented Mrs. Hampton with a silver water pitcher which bore an appropriate engraving. Mr. and Mrs. Hampton will always be remembered as to the way in which they tried to make the club a success and take with them the good wishes of all the company. Mr. Hampton left for Montreal on Sunday where he is about to take a position in the new Windsor C.P.R. station.

Bowling at Victoria Club.

The competition for a pair of prize bowls, given by Mr. Cosby, President of the Victoria Club, for the best single player, closed last week. There were thirty-two competitors and the finals in the contest were Mr. H. Duggan and Mr. W. Smith; their play was excellent and very exciting. It resulted in a victory for Mr. Smith.

Golf Medal Competition.

The second draw in the golf medal championship competition was played on the club grounds at Woodbine on Saturday. Following is the result: A. W. Smith beat W. P. Sloane, A. Scott beat C. Hemper, (capt.) T. W. Scott beat E. B. Osler, E. W. Phillips beat G. E. Keith.

This leaves A. W. Smith, E. W. Phillips, A. P. Scott and F. W. Scott in the third draw, which will be played off next Saturday.

The postponed championship match of yesterday between Montreal and Toronto at the Woodbine did not take place, owing to the easterners defaulting.

Parkdale C. I. and Islington Draw.

It was a great match at the Exhibition grounds on Saturday between the Parkdale Collegiate Institute eleven and Islington. The Islingtons put the ball through in the first half, but the goal was disallowed. The game resulted in a draw, no goals each. The teams:

Parkdale Collegiate Institute—Goal, Webster; backs, Shaver, Shaver; halves, Murchison, Scott, Fraser; forwards, Wilson, Switzer, Stanners, Fitzpatrick, Young.

Islington—Goal, Evans; backs, J. Hall, G. Hall; halves, Shaver, Dyken, J. Elliott; forwards, Devitt, Musson, James Elliott, Wilcox, McNamara.

Notes of the Rickers.

The Varsity fifteen play in Hamilton next Saturday.

On account of the weak showing of the Hamiltons on Saturday it is expected that they will default to Ottawa College on the 2nd prox., provided Toronto does not win next Saturday. Then Varsity will likely secure the date.

The Osgoode Hall Association team will go to Cobourg on Nov. 2 to play the Victoria University fifteen. The Vics. have promised the law students a good time.

As the Varsity Rugby team will be in Hamilton on Saturday the Association club will sadly miss the services of Watty Thomson and Ivan Sneider, their clever centre forward and goal-keeper in their League match with Osgoode Hall.

Canadian Cross Country Races.

A committee meeting of the Toronto Athletic Club was held last evening in Mr. James Pearson's office. It was decided to hold the annual cross country race for the Canadian championship on Saturday, Nov. 2. The course will be the usual one, from the Lacrosse grounds, over the Don, to Cadmore's, then over the C. P. R. and back to Ontario's. The date is subject to the approval of the N. A.A.A. Invitations will be sent to all the athletic clubs on this continent including the local sporting organizations. Clubs can enter teams of not more than six men. The first man in gets the individual prize, while the team aggregating the least points will take the team prize. The first man in counts one point, the second two, &c. There will be a good dinner at Ontario's hotel after the race.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA.

A Play Full of Go at the Grand—Harbor Lights Steam at the Toronto.

The Grand Opera House last night was nearly full and the big audience was treated to a show that was light, lively and full of "go" from the word go. Hallen and Hart, two talented young comedians, are at the head of a company of a round dozen people, and the stage is the scene of music, mirth and merriment from start to finish. "Later On," like many other of the present day dramatic productions, is without plot or reason, but it serves to introduce witty and novelty sayings, incidents and situations, but wishal it is interspersed with catchy music and airs. Every member of the company has music in their composition and they show it to good advantage. Miss Annie Lewis (Fanny Wood), by her petiteness, pertness and singing and dancing, made herself a favorite all through the evening. So did John T. Kelly, the "Irishman" of the party. Of course Hallen and Hart themselves were the lions of the night. "Later On" can be seen any evening later on during the week, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday. The bowling, lively and ought to be seen by all.

Harbor Lights.

There was a crowded house at Jacobs & Sparrow's Opera House last evening to witness the production of Messrs. Sims & Pettit's powerful spectacular melodrama "Harbor Lights." This is not the first time the play has been presented to a Toronto audience, and the frequent applause—the repeated recalls of the principal actors—demonstrated that it has lost none of its popularity. The principal characters were well depicted—probably seldom better; the scenery was elaborate and effective—all that the lovers of the spectacular could desire; and the dresses were appropriate. The scene representing the deck of H. M. S. Britannia, the cease from the cliffs, and the bay at night were wonderfully realistic. The fine manly qualities of Lieut. David Kingsley, R.N., were well portrayed by Mr. O. H. Barr. Mr. Orford Stephens presented the scheming Nicholas Moreland in sufficiently detestable colors and got what is the best reward to one entrusted with such a task—well hissed for his pains. Miss Gale Forrest made a very creditable Dora Vane.

Other Amusement Notes.

To enjoy a few hours of pleasant and beautiful surprises go to the Cyclorama and Museum, where are to be seen some of the most wonderful political and scientific illusions ever produced. Helping distraction and promoting continued merriment, the public have but two weeks more in which to see that great and grand work the battle of Sedan prior to its removal to the United States.

The chorus list of the Philharmonic Society positively closes to-night, and all old members who have not yet signified their intention to sing for membership, should apply at Victoria Hall to-night. The chorus is at present well balanced and very strong numerically.

An evening paper stated that Miss Nora Clench would a-sist at a military band concert to be given at the end of next month. Mr. Greene, Manager of the new Academy of Music, says Miss Clench will positively not appear here until she makes her debut at the Academy, Nov. 7th next.

The program for the Y. M. C. A. concert this evening is a varied and attractive one. Madame Fry and her three daughters are highly spoken of and come here with flattering testimonials. Their string quartets are selected from classical and standard music and are rendered in an exquisite and artistic manner. Solos on the flute and violin will be given by young ladies. Mr. W. Warrington, elocutionist, who accompanies the party, possesses a clear flexible voice, a good presence and considerable dramatic ability. He will read "The Chariot Race" from Ben Hur. Reserved seats at Nordheimer's.

"A Word to the Wise is Sufficient."

Catarrh is not simply an inconvenience, unpleasant to the sufferer and disgusting to others—it is an advanced outpost of approaching disease of worse type. Do not neglect its warning; it brings deadly evils in its train. Before it is too late, use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It reaches the seat of the ailment, and is the only thing that will. You may save yourself with quack medicines till it is too late—till the screamer becomes a resistless torrent. It is the natural invention of a scientific physician. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

Around the City Hall.

City Clerk Blevins will this morning swear in the returning officer for St. Matthew's Ward.

A petition has been received against the construction of a sidewalk on the north side of Howard-street.

A sufficiently signed petition for the opening of Oscar-street, between College and Bloor, has been certified.

The petition against making a public street on Kew Beach, recently received by the City Clerk, is insufficiently signed.

The petition for the extension of Sherbourne-street including the Rosedale ravine bridge has been certified by the City Clerk as being sufficiently signed.

Returns from the Western Cattle Market for last week show receipts of 2331 cattle, 1283 sheep and 1061 hogs; the amount received for weighing was $415.70.

A petition against the extension of Arthur-street has been certified as being sufficiently signed. The proceedings before Judge McDougall have therefore been abandoned.

A granolithic pavement is to be laid on the north side of Queen from O'Hara to West Lodge. As an experiment Street Commissioner Jones will lay the work by day labor.

These committees will meet to-day: The Street-Naming Sub-Committee of the Board of Works at 11 a.m., the Board of Works at 2 and the Markets and Health Committee at 3.30 p.m.

Proceedings before Judge McDougall in the matter of the kind of pavement to be laid in the Queen's Park drive have been adjourned for a month pending a report from the City Engineer.

City Solicitor Biggar in a communication to his Worship the Mayor points out that a bylaw will be necessary to give effect to the recommendations of the Board of Works regarding the Metropolitan Street Railway.

Yesterday Judge McDougall was to have heard appeals against the assessment for extending Arthur-street. A petition sufficiently signed was, however, received causing its abandonment. The appeals against the assessment of Queen's Park were adjourned for one month.

Some time since Secretary Roden informed the Board of Works that the bond guaranteeing the life of the pavement in Toronto-street had either been lost or also never executed. Since then a search among the musty files of the Engineer's office has brought the document to light. The people in Toronto-street have the means of compelling the proper maintenance of the road way for the time specified.

In February last a contract was let for laying a wooden sidewalk from Baldwin to Cecil on the east side of Beverley-street. About six months afterwards the Engineer recommended a eureka pavement in the same place. A contract for this pavement will be recommended for acceptance by the Board of Works to-morrow. Meantime work had commenced in laying the wooden walk when the people of the locality called the attention of the Engineer's department to the blunder which had been made and work was stopped.

Success in life is the result of push and energy. If the blood is impure and sluggish, both body and mind lack vigor. To cleanse and vitalize the blood and impart new life to the system, nothing else has such a marvelous effect as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

THE GREAT U. S. SUPREME COURT

As It Appeared to a Toronto Lawyer—Little Idiosyncrasies of Judges and Counsel.

Mr. D. A. O'Sullivan, who has been in Washington for some time for the good of his health, writes to a friend here some particulars of the Supreme Court, from which we extract the following: I was present at the opening of the October term of the United States Supreme Court some days ago, and as it is the most important judicial body in the world a good deal of interest attaches to its proceedings. Statesmen and generals and colonels were present from all parts of the Union. It is Max O'Rell who says that the American citizens are chiefly colonels. In courts of law one certainly finds the army well represented. In nine or ten cases that I heard argued there were as counsel several civilians but not a few were generals, colonels and other officers. These do not wear the blue uniform, nor the black coats; they do not refer to each other as my learned friend, nor as my military or martial friend, they simply say the general who represents so and so, or Mr. Blank here, counsel for plaintiff or defendant as the case may be. Neither the black coat nor the white tie is a necessity and there seems to be no precedence among members of the bar except for the Attorney-General of the United States.

The court is held in the Capitol in a semi-circular room very richly furnished. There are marble busts of several distinguished deceased judges and vacant niches for more. The ceiling is decorated in the ornate way in which everything is done in the Capitol, but the profusion of marble pillars is less than is to be seen elsewhere. The nine judges occupy the diameter line of the semi-circle, and the officers of the court are stationed at the end of the judges' desk. A long table and a narrow passable separate the bench from the bar.

On the opening day of the court the first case on the list was a patent case about incandescent lighting, and the entire table was covered with electrical and other apparatus. When counsel for the appellant took his stand in front of it and of the Chief Justice, he reminded me of old days when Prof. Croft used to lecture on chemistry behind a table full of unknown things in University College.

At 12 o'clock precisely the crier of the court called for order and announced the entry of the honorable the judges of the U. S. Supreme Court. The spectators—a large number—stood up with the bar as the distinguished jurists appeared: Chief Justice Fuller, followed by Mr. Justice Miller and the better known Mr. Justice Field with the other members of the court. They entered from a room at the north side of the court and passed along in single file to their places. They were apparelled in plain dress, black neckties and very common looking gowns. They were bare-headed, but later on Mr. Justice Brady arrayed himself in a tight fitting purplish skull cap, which I hope was no part of the court costume. The court bowed low to the bar and the bar having returned it in equal statelines everybody sat down. As happens elsewhere several of the judges found they had forgotten something and the pages who attend on them were summoned for that purpose. Three pages were found sufficient and these stand behind the judges and supply them with pens and books and deliver messages. The court opened its order by the thrice-repeated "O yes," and concluded by saying, "God save the United States and this honorable court."

Before proceeding with the twelve hundred cases on the list a few motions were made and gentlemen were sworn in as members of the bar. As each person addressed the court he advanced from his seat to a little stand in front of the Chief Justice and spoke as from a tribune. Some began by saying, May it please the Court and others, May it please Your Honors and others rushed in as Homer does in the Iliad, carrying the sound of battle in their first sentences, whether it pleased the Court or not.

An application for a writ of supersedeas claimed on the ground that a certain civil suit began in 1867 it did not seem to interest some of the bench after a half hour's discussion. General Henderson, from Missouri, opposed the issue of the writ and concluded himself with a few sentences chiefly to the effect that he couldn't understand what there was to supersede in the case—a part of the argument which even the spectators appreciated. Those who went to hear eloquence were somewhat disappointed, but there was some pronunciation that was a little startling. They do not appear to use the English method of pronouncing Latin phrases and the way one hears "indicata" and "mandamus" is not heard in Osgo

MARKETS AND EXCHANGES.

Large Increase in the Visible Supply—Toronto, Montreal and London Stocks—Money and Exchange—Chicago, New York and English Markets.

The visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States increased this week more than 2,000,000 bushels, 700,000 bushels more than was anticipated. That accounts for yesterday's weak market.

C.P.R. stock has declined about two points from the highest in Montreal. In London, the interest is still strongly sustained with quotations yesterday at a shade under the highest point reached on that exchange.

Brokers in the local market complain of a scarcity of funds. In New York money is fairly easy at rates for call loans ranging usually at between 5 and 7 per cent., with occasional spurts to 10 per cent. The Bank of England rates remains unchanged. Grain dealers say that the movement of grain in the interior has assumed large proportions; that the farmer has come to accept present prices and is selling freely. Complaints are beginning to be heard as to the scarcity of cars.

MONDAY EVENING, Oct. 21.

Prices in local stocks were firm and advancing to-day, but transactions were light. With 300 of London and Canadian sales totalled 115 shares. The features of the day were the strength of Standard and the up turn of London and Canadian. Quotations are:

There was nothing doing on call this afternoon.

THE STREET MARKET.

The receipts of grain to-day were small.

Wheat steady; 200 bushels of red sold at 80c to 83c for fall; red winter and spring and 65c to 70c for goose.

Loose straw, one load was sold at $8.

Dressed hogs—None offered. Prime nominal at $8.50.

TO SELL BY WEIGHT.

New Market Bylaws—The Area Should be Extended.

A meeting of the sub-committee on Markets and Health was held yesterday afternoon. There were present: Ald. Hewitt (chairman), Frankland, Crocker, Woods.

The only matter before the members was the bylaw recently prepared to regulate the public markets and wrech houses. In the course of the discussion thereon Ald. Frankland expressed the opinion that the area of St. Lawrence Market should be extended. Said he: "It's a great pity that we can't clear away all those building up to Church-street. Four and a half acres right fully belongs to St. Lawrence Market."

"Yes," said Inspector Awde, "It really requires that much for this town."

"You had the chance some years ago," said the Chairman, "and did not take it."

The following clauses are now embodied in the bylaw:

In contracts for the sale and delivery of any of the undermentioned articles, the bushel shall be determined by weighing, unless a bushel by measure is especially agreed upon—the weight equivalent to a bushel being as follows: Potatoes, turnips, carrots, parsnips, beets and onions, sixty pounds.

Every person who violates any provision of this section shall be liable for a first offence to a penalty not exceeding twenty-five dollars, and for each subsequent offence to a penalty not exceeding fifty dollars.

All apples packed in Canada for sale by the barrel shall be packed in good and strong barrels of seasoned wood, made as nearly cylindrical as may be; the staves of such barrels shall be twenty-seven inches in length from croze to croze with heads from sixteen and one-half to seventeen inches in diameter, and such barrels shall be sufficiently hooped with a lining hoop within the chimes; the whole well secured by nails.

Every person who offers or exposes apples for sale by the barrel otherwise than in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this section, shall be liable to a penalty of twenty-five cents for each barrel of apples so offered or exposed for sale.

All articles sold by weight shall be sold by avoirdupois weight, except that gold and silver, platinum and precious stones and articles made thereof may be sold by the ounce troy or by any decimal part of such ounce, and all contracts, bargains, sales and dealings in relation thereto shall be deemed to be made and had by such weight, and when so made or had shall be valid.

Every person who violates this section shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty-five dollars for each offence.

The sub-committee decided to pass the bylaw. It will be reported to the whole committee and will then go on to council.

Reduction in the Price of Gas.

The Consumers' Gas Company have decided to reduce the price of gas as follows, to take effect from Oct. 1: To ordinary consumers, $1.12½ per 1000 feet; to consumers of 200,000 and less than 500,000 feet, $1.05 per 1000; to consumers of over 500,000 feet, $1 per 1000. There is no other place in America that supplies gas at that figure except Pittsburg, Pa., and at that city the coal is at their very doors. The Consumers' Gas Co. seem determined to supply a good article at the lowest possible price.

Most of the complaints peculiar to females may be promptly benefited and cured by the purifying regulating tonic power of Burdock Blood Bitters.

"Naked and Ye Clothed Me."

As the Free Breakfast in Richmond Hall will commence on the first Sunday in December, and as the men who partake of it return to the city from the boats and farms in a ragged, filthy state, it will be a great help to those who are engaged in the work if they can get cast-off clothing of any kind. Almost every family at this season of the year has more or less on hand. If a card is sent to H. C. Dixon, P.O. Box 334, stating where to call for a parcel, it will be gratefully attended to. The committee will do their best to have the clothes wisely distributed.

—C. L. Easton of Hamilton, Ont., speaks in terms of gratitude and praise of the great benefit he derived from Burdock Blood Bitters, taken for Dyspepsia.

To Celebrate Balaklava.

The Battle of Balaklava dinner will take place on Friday next at the residence of Mr. D. Smith, late Scots Fusilier Guards, No. 210½ Queen-street east. The chair will be taken at 9 p.m. After dinner a social will take place, consisting of Highland reels, dances, songs and recitations. Piper Munro will be present in full Highland costume and will entertain the guests with some of his favorite selections, including the Slogan of the Mackenzie or the 78th Highlanders' March to Lucknow and the 79th Highlanders' Farewell to Gibraltar.

—Rheumatism, Gout, Lumbago, and similar troubles will not linger with you if your blood is pure, if it is not, we would recommend you to take Burdock Blood Bitters at once.

Is it Wrong For a Doctor to Advertise?

Within the last few days this question has been argued before a committee of medical gentlemen of this city. Several physicians gave testimony pro and con and one medical gentleman eminent in his profession, and occupying a high official position under the Ontario Government, admitted that he could see no wrong in advertising providing facts only were advertised, but some others who are not so high up officially, but would like the public to think they are authorities on the treatment of disease, stated while witnesses in a court that no matter whether a doctor could do all he advertised or not that it was unprofessional, and his name should be stricken from the list of licensed doctors of Ontario. Does not this look a little queer? Do you think it possible they were actuated by motives similar to the person who called the grapes sour, and have made no remarkable cures which are vouched for by good reliable citizens? Of course we would not impute such motive to the gentlemen who take the affirmative side of this question, but we are inclined to the negative side, especially when they are skilled and learned and do not advertise unreasonable demands, and believe physicians justified in advertising extraordinary cures so that sufferers may learn where they may get relief, and as an illustration give the case of Mr. S. C. Finlay of 280 Parley-avenue: Mr. Finlay had suffered for months, had consulted three physicians, one of whom treated him for six months; he continued to grow worse, his appetite failed, had a cough, his liver was inactive and greatly enlarged, the pain in his right lung was hard to bear, the palpitation of his heart prevented him from making but slight exertion, he was generally run down in health and was obliged to give up work, and he had almost given up hope when he was advised to try the physicians of the Medical Institute for the cure of Catarrh, Dyspepsia and Chronic Diseases, located at 198 King-street west, which he did, and in two months was a well man and is so to-day, although it is nearly two years since. Mr. Finlay is a good, conscientious and honorable man, and will be glad to talk with anyone who may wish to call on him.

AMBITIOUS CITY NEWS.

The Grand Trunk Makes a Proposition re the Projected Railroads.

HAMILTON, Oct. 21.—Mayor Doran to-day received a letter from General Manager Joseph Hickson of the Grand Trunk Railway with reference to the routes of the two projected railways through the city. Mr. Hickson writes:

"Having a very substantial interest as taxpayers, this company desires to prevent if possible unnecessary waste of money, and therefore make through you the following proposition: The Grand Trunk will afford to the two companies access to and egress from the city by its various lines for a reasonable distance from the city limits and facilities over its lines and in its stations and yards within the city. If the yards, etc., should be considered insufficient for the entire traffic, we are willing to extend them. The company is prepared to agree with the two companies as to the compensation to be paid for the accommodation furnished, and failing an agreement as to the amount, they are willing it should be settled by arbitration in the usual way."

The funeral of the late Senator Turner will take place at Highfield at 3 o'clock to-morrow afternoon. The burial service of the Presbyterian Church will be conducted at Highfield, and the remains conveyed directly to the cemetery.

This morning an elderly man named Alfred Hall was arraigned before Mayor Bertram of Dundas, charged with placing stones on the rails of the Hamilton and Dundas Railway, with intent to cause an accident. George Lyall, an engineer, testified to seeing Hall place the stones on the track near the Dundas station about noon on Sunday. The prisoner was committed for trial. Hall is thought to be insane. He formerly carried on business as a butcher, and also as a livery stable keeper, but recently has not been doing anything.

The Hawkins case stands over for a week. The ex-constable will not be placed under arrest.

"A constantly increasing sale with the same satisfactory results for which it was first noted," writes W. W. Brancombe, druggist, of Picton, of the noted blood and liver remedy—Burdock Blood Bitters.

The Baptist Convention.

OTTAWA, Oct. 21.—At the Baptist convention to-day, Rev. A. Grant spoke on the Manitoba mission. He contended that the Baptists even in Quebec, although having terrible odds against them, were the only body that could do anything against the Roman Catholic Church. In Manitoba he had tested the feeling and he was afraid that the great questions were being looked at too much from the political standpoint and he had never prayed so much for Baptist ministers as he did now. He then read a letter from Baptists in Manitoba asking for $3000 from the churches of Ontario and Quebec to pay their work there. This would mean $150 from each association. The amount was finally granted. The Manitoba education question was then taken up and it was stated that $3000 for three years was wanted.

"Has given the most unqualified satisfaction in this section," writes John B. Dale, druggist, Wyoming, of the great blood purifying tonic, Burdock Blood Bitters.

A Toronto Night in Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Wheeler gave a reception Friday evening at the "Oxford" to students and others of our city who are passing the winter in Boston. It was essentially a Toronto night as none but Torontonians were invited.

Miss Irene Gurney played two selections from Schumann most delightfully, and songs were sung by Miss Jardine Thomson, Miss Birdie McKeown and Mr. Sims Richards, Mr. Percy V. Greenwood acted as accompanist, and was heard in a charming vocal duet with Miss McKeown. All were rendered in a manner worthy of Toronto and of Boston.

A. D. Noyes, Newark, Michigan, writes: "I have enquired at the drug stores for Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, but have failed to find it. We brought a bottle with us from Quebec but it is nearly gone and we do not want to be without it, as my wife is troubled with a pain in the shoulder and nothing else gives relief. Can you send us some?"

Ministers' Conclave.

There were 25 members present at the regular semi-monthly meeting of the Ministerial Association held yesterday morning in the Y.M.C.A. Rev. Dr. Blackstock occupied the chair, and Rev. Dr. Kellogg delivered an address on the Oriental Congress, which was held at Stockholm last summer. Rev. Dr. Johnston read a dying message from Rev. Dr. William, General Superintendent of the Methodist Church, and special prayers were offered in his behalf.

Mr. T. J. Humes, Columbus, Ohio, writes: "I have been afflicted for some time with kidney and liver complaint, and find Parmelee's Pills the best medicine for those diseases." These pills do not cause pain or griping, and should be used when a cathartic is required. They are Gelatine coated and rolled in the flour of Licorice to preserve their purity, and give them a pleasant, agreeable taste.

Mr. John McCarthy, Toronto, writes: "I can unhesitatingly say that Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery is the best medicine in the world. It cured me of Heartburn that troubled me for over thirty years. During that time I tried a great many different medicines, but this wonderful medicine was the only one that took hold and rooted out the disease."

Important Reduction IN THE PRICE OF GAS.
The Directors of the Consumers' Gas Company hereby announce to their consumers and the public generally, that on ascertaining the result of the year's business just closed they have decided to reduce the price of gas per 1000 cubic feet, as below:
The gross price of all gas consumed will be reduced from $2 to $1.50, and the net prices for prompt payment as follows:
To consumers of 200,000 cubic feet and over, per annum, from $1.25 to $1.12½.
To consumers of over 300,000 and under 500,000 cubic feet, per annum, from $1.15 to $1.05.
To consumers of over 500,000 cubic feet, per annum, from $1.10 to $1.
For gas for gas-cooking stoves and engines, supplied by separate meter as heretofore, $1.
The additional discount to large consumers will be allowed at the end of each year, on September 30.
The Directors are satisfied that the above low prices will make gas cheaper than any other illuminating or cooking agent, and thus place it within the reach of all classes of the community.
According to recently published statistics of American gas companies the above prices are, with the exception of two or three places in the bituminous coal district, lower than those charged by any other gas company in America.
W. H. PEARSON,
General Manager and Secretary.
