A MEDICAL REVOLUTION!
THE WORLD UNANIMOUS!
HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.
THE GREAT COUNTER IRRITANT!

The virus of disease often makes its way to the internal organs through the pores of the skin. This penetrating Ointment, melting under the hand as it is rubbed in, is absorbed through the same channels, and, reaching the seat of inflammation, promptly and invariably subdues it, whether located in the kidneys, the liver, the lungs, or any other important organ. It penetrates the surface to the interior, through the countless tubes that communicate with the skin as summer rain passes into the fevered earth diffusing its cool and regenerating influence.

SKIN DISEASES & GLANDULAR SWELLINGS.

Every species of external irritation is quickly reduced by the anti-inflammatory action of this Ointment. Angry Eruptions, such as Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Tetter, Ringworm, Scald Head, Nettle Rash, Scurvy (or Itch) &c. &c. cease not to return no more under its application. Humid eruptions in all parts of the world prove its infallibility in diseases of the skin, the muscles, the joints and the glands.

ULCERS, SORES, AND TUMORS.

The effect of this unrivaled external remedy upon Scrofula and other virulent ulcers and sores, is almost miraculous. It first discharges the poison which produces suppuration and proud flesh, and thus the cures which its healing properties effected are complete and permanent as well as rapid.

WOUNDS, BRUISES, BURNS, AND SCALDS.

In cases of the failure of the bones to unite after fracture, stiffness of the joints, Rheumatism, Stiffness of the joints, and contraction of the sinews, it is employed and its efficacy unprecedented by the healing. This marvellous remedy has been introduced by its inventor in person into all the leading Hospitals of Europe, and no private household should be without it.

UNDENIABLE TESTIMONY.

The Medical Staff of the French and English Armies in the Crimea have officially signed their approval of Holloway's Ointment, as the most reliable dressing for sabre cuts, stabs, and gun-shot wounds. It is also used by the surgeons of the Allied Navies.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:

Bunions,	Elephantiasis,	Sore Throats,
Burns,	Ringworm,	Sores of all kinds
Chapped hands,	Salt Rheum,	Sprains,
Chilblains,	Scalds,	Stiff Joints
Piles,	Skin Diseases	Tetter,
Gout,	Swelled	Ulcers,
Lumbago,	Glands,	Venereal Sores,
Mercurial	Sore legs,	Wounds of all
Eruptions,	Sore Breasts,	kinds.
Fits,	Sore Heads,

Poetry.

ARISTOCRACY.—By JOHN G. SAXE.

Of all the notable things on earth,
The queerest one is pride of birth,
Among our "fierce Democracy!"
A bridge across a hundred years,
Without a prop to save from sneers—
Not even a couple of rotten Peers—
A thing for laughter, sneers and jeers,
Is American aristocracy!

Depend upon it, my snobbish friend,
Your family tree you can't extend,
Without good reason to apprehend,
You may find it waxed at the further end,
By some plebian vocation:
Or worse than that, your boasted line
May end in a loop of stranger twine,
That plagued some worthy relation!

Because you flourish in worldly affairs,
Don't be haughty and put on airs,
With insolent pride or station!
Don't be proud and turn up your nose,
At poorer people in plainer clothes,
But learn for the sake of your mind's repose,
That wealth is a bubble that comes—and goes!
And that proud flesh, wherever it grows,
Is subject to inflammation.

A SONG FOR ENGLAND.

Written for the Ladd's Season, by MRS. MOODIE, authoress of "Roughing it in the Bush," etc.

The wind that sweeps out native sea
No tyrant's power can chain;
Resistless, unalloyed and free,
It rules the restless main:
Nor massive mast, nor swelling sail,
May long defy the mighty gale.

Free as the wind strong as the wave,
That clasps the lovely strand,
Thy sons, Britannia long shall have,
The storms of ev'ry land—
And hostile power shall strive in vain,
To quell thy empire on the main.

Vain useless boast, whilst hearts of oak,
With manly courage glow:
For foreign arms with vengeful stroke,
To lay thy proud crest low—
Thy shield or sword dare see shall be—
"I LIVE WAS—AND DARE BE FREE!"

Miscellaneous Selections.

THE HERMIT OF THE ISLES.

A more strange, confused and romantic group of islands is not to be found in the world than the Western Isles of Scotland. Hundreds of them lie scattered about in wild rugged masses, while the ocean rushes between them with an impetuosity that is truly startling. Here and there a bare rugged rock appears fit only for the cry of the sea fowls which skim around them, while others, with scanty patches of verdure in the interstices of the crags, afford a small supply of oats or potatoes to the few inhabitants domiciled in them. In the distance, the wonderful mass of black rocks, piled one above another in awful grandeur, marks the Island of Jura, and farther on rise the barren hills of the Island of Mull. Both of these island seemed placed like sentinels, to guard the rush of the ocean's storms, and defend the smaller islands from their furious turmoil.

One of the loneliest of these smaller islands was long looked upon with superstitious dread by the islanders around. On it a stranger had fixed his solitary abode. Whence he came no one knew; or why he settled on so bleak a spot no one could tell. The fishermen crowded all sail, and plied their oars with double alacrity as they passed this dreaded spot, and many a prayer was uttered to shield them from the evil influence of this strange and solitary being whom they dreaded so much.

And the house of that lone individual was as wild as she rock on which it was erected. A narrow strip of land, covered with the soil washed down by many a storm from the hill side, and carefully manured with seaweed, was the only spot fitted for cultivation, and this was planted with culinary herbs and small patches of corn and potatoes. The dwelling which he inhabited was a rude hut, one end of it rested on the hill side, which formed as it were a side wall to it. The interior was as rude as its exterior—a clumsy bedstead fitted with fresh heather, was his resting place, a coarse table and a stool composed all the furniture. Two pet sheep and a dog were his only companions; and thus he lived, far removed from the cares and toils of busy life—shunning all society, and shunned by all.

One evening he sat, as was his usual habit, upon the summit of the hill which overhung his dwelling, and watched the gathering masses of clouds which came rapidly across the sky. Mull and Jura loomed like mighty giants in the gloom. The sea-birds, dreading the coming storm, flew screaming to the eyries and several fishing wherries with all canvass hoisted, rushed through the rising waves with all speed. In the distance, was a large merchant vessel, the sailors were busy taking in their sails, and preparing actively for the coming struggle with the elements.

'Yes,' soliloquized the solitary one, 'yes, furl your sails, for you will need it before midnight. Yes, you will need some strong hands and firm hearts to steer you," continued he, "if you drive amongst the boiling whirl of Corryvreckan, nothing can save you. But why do I feel so interested in your fate? Many a good and noble vessel have I seen go down and their crew hushed to rest beneath the raging billows."

So saying, he rose, and slowly descended the hill, he [illegible] his hut. The sheep [illegible] to rise from their [illegible] with fear, and gently rub their heads against his hand.

'Even you,' he said, seem to dread the coming hurricane. May he who sends it be merciful to those who encounter it!'

Having fed the sheep in a small shed he entered his hut, [illegible] was composed [illegible] Long, and taking up a [illegible] reading it, when the [illegible] a coming conflagration [illegible] the red [illegible] darkness of the coming night increased, and the roll of thunder became distinctly from the murky horizon, while the [illegible] and foamed amongst the rocks, throwing [illegible] sickly phosphoric glare that caused the night to look more horrible.

"It was certainly a signal of distress," said the Hermit, "and still how can I aid them? The fearful masses of rock and shoals which surround this lonely isle would only lead to their destruction, and not even a boat could live in such a sea."

Straining his eyes in the direction from which the sound had come, he [illegible] which was followed again by the [illegible] the cannon.

"Heaven help them!" he exclaimed, "they are drifting fast on the rocks. I will venture," he added, "and trust to the Disposer of events what the result may be!" So saying he hurried a small pan at the side of his hut, and [illegible] forth a quantity of wood and [illegible] where secure from the operation of the [illegible] they could be [illegible] with [illegible] ship's crew.

As the flames flickered up, two [illegible] in rapid succession where heard, and gave assurance that his signal was seen and answered. His hopes, however, were but short-lived, for the wind taking a sudden turn, [illegible] in all directions, and [illegible] blew them from [illegible] after floating, [illegible] they were extinguished by the [illegible].

Again the signals of distress were heard, but thinking all aid to be vain, the Hermit, with melancholy thoughts, sought the [illegible] of his rude hut once more.

Three hours passed in [illegible] The signals of the distressed crew were no longer heard, and the Hermit [illegible] close to the door, [illegible] to get out.

Stooping up a fire brand, the Hermit [illegible] the door, and [illegible] towards, reaching a bay at the [illegible] island. A faint shout [illegible] ears as he flourished his [illegible] heartily did he return the [illegible] furiously, dashed [illegible] the beach. A [illegible] forward the Hermit [illegible] his arms [illegible] weed and wreck. [illegible] spoke kindly to him, for [illegible] to reply. Supporting him with [illegible] he led him to the hut, and placing him [illegible] fire, administered some [illegible] swallowed eagerly and [illegible]

"You are young to [illegible] remained the Hermit, [illegible] almost girlish [illegible]

'I am not a sailor,' replied the youth, [illegible] I was a passenger [illegible]

'For Cuba!' said the Hermit, as he [illegible] back. 'For Cuba?'

'Yes, my father, who died [illegible] some property there,' said the youth.

The Hermit seemed [illegible] listening to his tale. No [illegible] addressing the youth, he said, 'You [illegible] rest; in the morning we will [illegible] home.'

Thanking him for hospitality [illegible] retired to rest, while the Hermit [illegible] dried heath and fern on the [illegible] sat upon it. Night was [illegible] young man was [illegible] groan. He arose and [illegible] behold the Hermit standing [illegible]

'He is safe,' he muttered, [illegible] could can deny it. [illegible] Indeed! [illegible]

Rousing merily the youth [illegible] check him, when, speaking [illegible] balls glaring wildly upon him, the Hermit stood [illegible] to the spot gazing on him.

'Pardon me,' said the [illegible] you seemed troubled by [illegible]

'Thanks,' replied the Hermit, [illegible] than thus. I have [illegible] foolish dreams. It was only a [illegible] night.'

So saying he composed himself [illegible]

ENGLAND AND THE CONTINENT OF EUROPE.

Strange rumours are afloat about the health of Napoleon, and in spite of all my endeavours to ascertain the real state of the matter, it is impossible to assert either their truth or their falsity. It is said that he has fits, and gets occasionally raving mad, but that with the exception of short periods of depression following these crises, his mental powers have not generally suffered. Whether these rumours be true or false, they have considerable influence on the French nation, and a presentiment of revolutions looming in the next future gets hold of the population. Republican, Socialists, Legitimist and Orleanist 'placards' appear on the walls of Paris. People are arrested by scores, and even the cautious London Exchange loses its belief in the stability of the Imperial Government. The pressure exercised by the French financial crisis on the English money market has depreciated the estimate of the French alliance. The wisdom and statesmanship of Napoleon are not worshipped any longer in the city, since the time that the result of the reckless speculation of the Credit Mobilier began to be felt in the drain upon the Bank of England. The credit of the oppressed nationalities' is steadily arising even among members of Parliament and rich merchants and manufacturers. Felice Orsini, the victim of Austrian oppression, is lecturing in the south of England, and describing the horrors of Austrian dungeons. Aurelio Saffi, the late Roman Triumvir, and now Professor of Italian language and literature at Oxford, has been invited by several towns to deliver a course of lectures on Italy, and especially on the Roman States; and Kossuth is once more to have an ovation at Manchester, Bolton, Preston and all the manufacturing districts. Invitations pour on him as densely as six years ago, signed by High Sheriffs, Town Councils, and Members of Parliament, all of them anxious to hear him on the state of Italy, the Neapolitan question and the Austrian Concordat. The movement is so sudden, and so extensive, that it really seems as if it were countenanced by the secret influence of some members of the Government; at any rate it cannot fail to have its effect on Continental Europe where the air is again impregnated with a revolutionary electricity. Seven years of despotism have passed over the Continent of Europe without improving the condition of those classes which made the revolution. We see repression in all its forms, but nowhere no real reform resulting in the contentment of the people; and the thrones are still resting upon bayonets and questionable back manœuvres—a rather unsafe foundation for the weight it has to carry. Under such circumstances, it must be a very bad impression here, in England, that the Credit Mobilier has undertaken to build the railways of Russia at a cost of $200,000,000, to be furnished by the capitalists of the West. The English press, without exception, warns the public not to embark in such a hazardous enterprise, which even in the best case must drain the gold of the West, and by transferring it to the cellars of the fortress of St. Petersburg, cannot but increase the financial crisis. But still a Count Morny, and Napoleon himself, are interested in the Credit Mobilier, the immediate advantages of the stock jobbing community will outweigh all other considerations.

The news is important as regards this changing aspect of relations between France and England. Public rumor no longer hesitates to say that an Anglo Austrian alliance is necessary to counteract the threatened alliance between Russia and France.

The London Times Paris correspondent says:—Whether well founded or not, the opinion is very general that not only does there exist a serious difference of opinion between England and France, on more than one point, but also that England has been somewhat reconciled to Austria, and that France is now on more than friendly terms with Russia; and the Austrians in Paris boast, that it is not possible for two Cabinets to be on more amicable terms than those of Vienna and London. That a corresponding sentiment prevails between Russia and France is equally believed, and a certain ex-minister of Louis Philippe is said to have recently offered to wager a reasonable sum that England and Austria, on one hand, and Russia and France on the other, would soon be more openly hostile. In all these predictions, the wish, no doubt, is father to the thought. If these statements are to be believed, the same rivalry that formerly existed between the French and English Ambassadors at Constantinople is revived, owing to the alarming progress of French influence, obtained by their great tolerance in Turkish affairs. Lord Stratford demanded and received unlimited powers; it being evident that France and the support of Russia, of course, England accepted the co-operation of Austria. Again, in the Neapolitan question, France has been equally all along disposed to act in this matter also, with extreme forbearance, in comparison with the more decided policy of England.

SOUTHERN DEMOCRATIC VIEWS OF THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

THE UNION SAFE, BUT ONLY FOR FOUR YEARS.

Our readers will find, in another part of this paper several interesting extracts from our Southern exchanges, on the results of the late election and the prospects of the future. First among these extracts is a leading article from the Petersburg (Va) South Side Democrat on the great disunion vote at the North,' in which it is confessed that the election of Mr. Buchanan is not a conclusive democratic victory, but a narrow escape from a crushing defeat; not a positive salvation of the Union under the programme of the Southern nullifiers, but a simple truce of four years'—'a lease of protection from invasion for four years'—and that the political zodiac indicates that four years hence we are to have presented to us (the South) the solemn question of degradation or revolution.'

On the other hand, the Richmond Enquirer (the leading Virginia nullification colaborer of this South Side oracle) says that all danger of a dissolution is over, that slavery will hereafter be, as it always should have been, the strongest bond and cement of the Union; that 'negro slavery is becoming popular as it becomes known,' &c. and that the African slave trade will have to be restored. Now, all this nigger philosophy may be very nice, but resting, as it does, upon false premises concerning the election of Buchanan, it must fall to the ground. The Augusta (Ga.) Filmore organ, places the boot upon the right leg. It was Filmore, and not slavery, nor the Atchison and Pierce policy of the extension of slavery, nor the African slave trade, that elected Buchanan. Had Fillmore withdrawn from the fight with the nomination of Fremont, every Northern State would have been carried by the latter, including, beyond a doubt, the State of Pensylvania, by a handsome majority.

Let it suffice, however, that Mr. Buchanan is elected, and that, according to our Augusta (Ga.) contemporary, the 'democratic disunionists are claiming that the Union has been saved through their means; that they have, in reality, bullied the North out of the support of Fremont,' and have thus elected Buchanan, what follows? What is Mr. Buchanan to do? According to the Richmond Enquirer his course is plainly chalked out before him, in the new Southern programme of the extension of slavery; and under this policy all danger to the Union is over.

But according to the Charleston Mercury, henceforward there can be no peace, for that this Presidential election has shown most emphatically that the North are one distinct people and the South another; and even according to Governor Wise and Jefferson Davis, and their organs, Mr. Buchanan's accidental minority election is at best, but a doubtful armistice to the Southern ultras, of four years' limitation.

But what if it should be less? What if this armistice with our Southern nullifiers should be of less than four years duration? What if it should be broken by the admission of Kansas as a Free State under an honest enforcement of the Kansas-Nebraska law of popular sovereignty? What if it should be ruptured in the appointment of Mr. Buchanan's Cabinet and in the division of the spoils? These are ominous questions, for there is something in them. Mr. Buchanan has but two alternatives before him. The first is to repudiate this whole brood of Southern nullifiers, and to reorganize his party upon a conservative and national basis; and the second is to permit these Southern disorganizing traitors to saddle and bridle him as they did poor Pierce, and to ride him, booted and spurred, as they have ridden poor Pierce, full gallop on the downhill road to destruction.

We perceive that several of our Fremont contemporaries of this city, adhere to the theory of the Southern nullifiers, the Cincinnati platform and the Ostend manifesto, as the inevitable policy of Mr. Buchanan. We think they are mistaken. We predict a wholly different policy on the part of the President elect from that of the extension of slavery into Northern latitudes by Border Ruffianism, and that of the acquisition of Cuba by an authorized Lopez expedition under Gen. Walker. We are aware that the foreign and domestic programme laid down for Mr. Buchanan is magnificent and attractive; but it is surrounded by too many dangers to be either splendid or fascinating to Mr Buchanan. It is our serious opinion that he will set out upon a foreign and domestic policy so very pacific and conciliatory as to disgust the Southern nullifiers and drive them off into a little fussy outside faction before a single year of the new Administration—and perhaps before a single month of it shall have expired. We await the issue.—Montreal Herald.

The Chronicle.

Saint John, N. B., Dec. 5, 1856.

ONE WEEK LATER FROM EUROPE!

The steamship Arabia, which sailed from Liverpool on the 22d Nov., arrived at Halifax yesterday at a quarter-past one o'clock.

The Atlantic arrived out on the 30th. The City of Manchester sailed from Liverpool for Philadelphia on the 19th.

The North America, from Quebec, arrived at Liverpool on the 21st.

The American ship Gen. Dunlop, while passing to the Eastward, close to Europa Point, missed stays, went ashore, and became a total wreck.—Her Majesty's steamsloop Curlew gave prompt aid.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The ships James Baines and Lightning had arrived at Liverpool with one million and three hundred thousand pounds in specie. In connection therewith, and with the absence of further withdrawals from the Bank, the London Times anticipates an early return to the rate of 6 per cent; but says that much will depend on the next advices from China and India.

The Bank returns for the week show considerable increase in bullion and in unemployed notes. The bullion is now £9,684,167, and the notes, £3,606,815.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH.

The British Government has, at the request of Cyrus W. Field, of New York, ordered steamers to be fitted out under efficient officers to examine thoroughly the coasts of Ireland and Newfoundland, and to sound across the Atlantic between these ports, to ascertain the best place for laying and land the Submarine Telegraph Cable. The Government has further agreed to guarantee four per cent. interest per annum on the whole capital required to manufacture and lay down the cable between Newfoundland and Ireland. Contracts for the whole extent of the Atlantic cable were signed in London on Tuesday the 19th, one half to be manufactured by Glass & Co., of London, and the other by R. S. Rowell, at Liverpool. It is all to be completed and placed on board two steamers on or before the 31st of May next, and by the 4th July next it is confidently expected here that we shall be in telegraphic communication with the United States.

The Nottingham lace trade continued dull, but there was a tolerable business for the American Market doing in plain nets.

FRANCE.

PARIS, Friday, 21st.—Everything to-day announced a vigorous reaction in the French Funds, which closed to-day as follows:—Three per cents 67 to 85c.; four and a half per cents 91f. 60c.

SPAIN.—A Republican movement has taken place in Spain, at Malaga. On the 18th, the Garrison was attacked by persons proclaiming the Republic. The troops resisted and order was soon re-established. Five of the insurgents were killed. The Garrison had seven men wounded.

MADRID, Nov. 20th.—The force of the artillery is fixed at 12,000; the Engineers at thirty-six hundred, and the Cavalry at twelve thousand.

Tranquillity is restored at Malaga.

There have been slight disturbances at Madrid. Numerous arrests have been made among the lower classes.

THE EAST.

Advices from Constantinople of the 13th, state that M. D. Boutenieff had again endeavoured to obtain from the Porte the dismissal of the English ships from the Bosphorous.

The attempts of Feronkh Khan had failed to effect with Lord Radcliffe a settlement of the disputes between England and Persia.

An English frigate had arrived at Constantinople, and other ships were expected.

The following is a partial list of the Ottoman Ministry:—Redchid Pacha, Grand Vizier, President; Asli Pacha, ex-Grand Vizier, Minister of Foreign Affairs; Riza Pacha Seraskier, Minister of War; Mustapha Pacha, Minister without Portfolio. The names of the other Ministers were not known.

LATEST.

SPAIN.—The reported arrangement between the Spanish Bourbons has failed. The Queen of Spain was kept in the dark as to the real object of the Clerical party, which was her own eventful abdication, and the marriage of her daughter to the eldest son of the Infanta Don Juan.

The latest accounts from Spain report the Malaga insurrection as having no political aim, but as simply intended for smuggling purposes. It is understood that all the prisoners have been executed. Further movements are expected, as the incorporation of the Militia into the regular army had led to the desertion of vast numbers who will be quite ready for such attempts.

PORTUGAL.—The elections at Lisbon have not been favourable to the Government. The majority has been obtained by the candidates of the "Regeneration."

NAPLES.—The Governor of Palermo has ordered a strict surveillance to be exercised upon all French and English commercial vessels.

It is probable that within a day or two the Neapolitan question, which has remained in a state of stagnation for a long time, will be advanced a stage, one way or another.

DENMARK.—The Prussian Correspondence of Berlin says:—We learn from a good source that the last notes sent to Copenhagen by Prussia and Austria fix the 10th December as the period when those powers will bring the question of the Duchies before the Germanic Diet. In the event of their representations being unattended to by the Danish Cabinet, it is announced that England has agreed to pay to Denmark, as the price of redeeming the Sound dues, a capital sum calculated on an annual revenue of £45,000 stg. British vessels at present pay £70,000 yearly as passing tolls.

THE GUN-BOAT AFFAIR IN THE BLACK SEA.—The Paris Pays contains the following explanation relative to the firing on an English gun-boat at Yenikale. We believe this affair has been explained to the satisfaction of both parties. The gun-boat being about to pass the straits, a gun loaded with powder was fired according to common signal—the Captain to explain with the Commandant of the forts his reason for being in these waters. The first shot not having been heard, a second one was fired; and subsequently a third—after which the English vessel answered, and excepted the required parley. The two commanding officers, Russian and English, agreed to refer the matter to the two embassies at Constantinople, when it was amicably arranged.

SHIP NEWS.

Arrived, Nov. 11th, John Miller, Warren Point; 15th, Marthine, Gravesend; 16th, S. C. Grant, Liverpool; 17th, Sarah Dickerson, and Cambria, Liverpool; Samuel P. Mussen, and Fame, at the Clyde; Dominick, Queenstown; 18th, Alfred Lemon, Gravesend, Favorite, and Eyrey, Liverpool; Grangerlot, Yarmouth; 19th, Artizan, Liverpool; 20th, Agnes Anderson, Dublin.

Sailed, 15th, Henry, Stornaway; Rectitude, Cromarty; 18th, Levanter, Clyde.

The present condition of this Province affords, we think, to every lover of his country, cause for sincere and honest thankfulness. Notwitnstanding the scarcity and dearness of money in the commercial world generally, we have little reason as yet to complain of any of those distressing results which always attend a pecuniary crisis. Our commerce may be somewhat checked by the existing steady drain upon the monetary resources of England; but the demand for our staple products is as large as could reasonably be expected, and the prospect of an increased consumption for the coming year is, if we are correctly informed, altogether cheering.

The general demand for labor, and the high wages paid throughout the Province, during the past season, shows that the general business of the country is in a healthy condition, and the ready markets and exceedingly remunerative prices which our farmers have for some considerable time past had for all descriptions of agricultural produce, cannot but prove a powerful and enduring stimulus to that most important branch of industry—the cultivation of the soil.

In the present state of our Provincial finances, and in the prudent and steady progress of our public works, we have a solid grounds for solid satisfaction and for lively expectation of better things to come. We believe that we are now fairly embarked in a course of continued and successful developments of our resources, and that our growth in population, wealth, and intelligence will become more and more rapid with each succeeding year.

We do not claim the power of being able to measure and weigh out the exact amount of credit to which each of our public men, or any particular set of men, is entitled for having assisted in bringing our affairs into a position which gives us so much encouragement and hopes. Nor if we had the power, should we have the wish to do so. But we cannot help seeing that the present government have raised the public credit, which under the late administration had been sensibly impaired, to a high standing. We see that our Railway works are being pushed forward as fast as is consistent with a prudent management of the public funds, that the work is being done well, and at a comparatively cheap price; that the contractors are faithfully fulfilling their engagements; and that they are being promptly paid out of funds raised by the government on simple and advantageous terms. It seems, that in order to build railways here, it is not absolutely necessary either to organize a new and expensive department, styled a Board of Railway Commissioners, or to bind ourselves as debtors to a particular banking establishment in London.

We have, we repeat, no desire to make comparisons or allusions which may be galling to our opponents. But we cannot help contrasting the administration of the public business since the present Executive came into power with the state of affairs under their predecessors. And this comparison is being made by the public generally, and among others, by many of those whose political leanings are decidedly adverse to the party now in office.

The present Executive are every day gaining friends, and whatever may be the schemes contrived for their overthrow, whatever secret influences of a personal and selfish kind may be sought to be exercised upon some individual members of the Assembly, for the purpose of inducing them to go into opposition at the approaching Session of the Legislature, we feel and know that so long as they administer the affairs of the country in the same spirit, and with the same prudence which they have so far manifested, the Government may safely rely upon their own strength. They have laid the foundations of a support which is far better and more secure than any mere party support, based upon foolish prejudices, or high-sounding theories. They are receiving and will receive that quiet and undemonstrative, but firm and reliable support which is based upon the common sense and the hearty goodwill of the great body of the people.

This is a state of things every way desirable in a new country, where the promotion of our material interests is of vastly more importance than the temporary success of any political faction. We cannot afford to waste our energies upon trifling disputes, or in the nice and exact settlement of this or that man's claim to office and emolument. We have work of quite another kind to do, which will not bear to be neglected, if we wish to maintain our proper position among the British Colonies. We have great resources, agricultural, mineral, and commercial, waiting to be fairly developed and applied properly.

And it is only by the united action and patriotic efforts of our whole people that the results we confidently look forward to from a wise and spirited use of the means placed within our reach, can be fully accomplished.

If, then, we have at last got the management and direction of our public affairs into the hands of a set of men who are honestly doing their best to carry out an enlarged and liberal policy, and whose efforts are being rewarded with the success they deserve, we may, we think, with reason calculate that no silly advocacy of empty theories, no hollow pretensions to eminent ability, no unmeaning party cry, will help any political jugglers to remove from office men who have shown themselves to be good public servants, and immeasurably superior in energy, business capacity, and administrative ability to the leaders of those understood to be opposed to them.

The New Brunswicker of the 4th inst. has the following leader:—

The Executive Council met at Fredericton on yesterday, and will have, we understand, matters of great public importance before them for consideration. Among other things which will probably promote materially the highest interests of our Province, the new Land and Immigration scheme awaits the action of the Government. The details of this scheme are all prepared, and we have no doubt that they will be promptly and efficiently carried out.

It may not be amiss to mention, in connection with this subject, that the statements and insinuations lately made in one of our city papers respecting Mr. Perley's mission to England, are as unfounded as they are malicious; that they are, in short, entirely worthy of the source from which they emanated. Mr. Perley goes to England at the request of Lord Clarendon, the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, upon business connected with, and at the expense of, the Foreign Office. The Provincial business which Mr. Perley will have to transact in England has been entrusted to him by our Executive, probably to save the expense of a separate delegation.

Quite independently of Provincial affairs, Mr. P. had to go to England, and it can only be considered reasonable that, in justice to Her Majesty's Government, this Province should pay a portion of Mr. Perley's expenses, while he is engaged in our behalf. We do not know where our Executive could have found a better agent, or how they could have made a better arrangement. So far as Mr. Perley is personally concerned, the only result of having this additional business, which he has not sought for, imposed upon him, will be to deprive him of no small part of the pleasures of his trip, by having him, no leisure time while in England.

Protestantism is gaining ground very rapidly in France. The Protestants in Havre number now three thousand, with a moving population of one thousand, at least. They have four schools and four hundred pupils. Two churches are insufficient, and a third is being built to accommodate two thousand. In Marseilles there are five thousand Protestant church attendants, and in other Departments flourishing churches are now to be found.—State of Maine.

TWO WEEKS LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.

ARRIVAL OF THE ILLINOIS.

New York, Nov. 20.

The steamer Illinois arrived this morning at 9 o'clock from Aspinwall, with California dates of the 5th inst. She brings nearly $2,000,000 in treasure.

California has gone for Buchanan. The returns received up to 2 o'clock on that day, foot up—Buchanan, 14,000; Fillmore, 9,000; Freemont, 7000. There is nothing definite concerning the Legislature. Nearly full returns from San Francisco give Buchanan 100 over Freemont, and the latter nearly 2,700 over Fillmore. The Republican Legislative ticket prevailed in San Francisco Co., through Buchanan would probably have 150 majority there. The vote in the City was much less than at the State Election last year. This is attributed to the unavoidable absence of several working politicians. The election passed off quietly.

Advices were received by telegraph on the day of the steamer's sailing, that a fire was raging in Sacramento, in the National Theatre Block.

D. L. Wells, Republican candidate for Mayor of Amador County, was killed on the 2nd, by being thrown from a carriage.

General Crosby had a fight with a party of Indians on the Kiamath River, killing several.—Another party attacked the whites near Bland Mountain, killing many.

Chester and Sprague, professed Agents of the United Insurance Company, had absconded from San Francisco, after swindling the citizens.

Advices from Oregon, Washington on the Sandwich Islands are unimportant.

Nathan P. Cook came passenger in the Illinois. He is a delegate to Washington from the inhabitants of the Gadsden purchase, who have taken steps for forming a Territorial Government, under the name of Arizona.

San Francisco, 5th.—The returns thus far foot up—Buchanan, 17,300; Fillmore, 11,300; Freemont, 7,150.

P. T. Herbert leaves to day for Washinton. On Monday he challenged Thomas S. King, Editor of the Evening Bulletin, for the articles commenting on the murder of Keating, which challenge Mr. K. returned with a contemptuous message. On Tuesday Herbert stood on Montgomery street all day, with a bludgeon, waiting avowedly to attack King. The latter, however, brushed past Herbert at 5 o'clock, on his way to dinner, in company with two friends, without any hostile demonstration on the part of our Congressman. Had Herbert assaulted Mr. King, he would have adorned a lamp post ten minutes thereafter.

Stockton, (Cal.) Oct. 27th.—A fight occured near Hound Spring, on the Sonora road, about 5 miles from this City, last Sunday, at noon, between two parties of Chinese. There was no general engagement, but several skirmishes took place, in which four men were killed and as many wounded. There were about 2500 combatatants engaged on both sides, all armed and equipped. Many had fire arms. A stop was put to the hostilities by a Sheriff's posse, assisted by citizens. Some 250 arrests were made.

The San Francisco Bulletin of the evening of the departure of the steamer, says—"It is impossible to give a correct return of the time for the sailing of the steamer. Sufficient, however, has been ascertained to give the State to Buchanan by at least 8000. The democrats will have a majority in the Legislature. The people's reform ticket has been carried in this County by an overwhelming majority. Our County Legislature ticket will in all probability be Republican. The County Electoral vote is for Buchanan."

FROM THE ISTHMUS.

Dates from the Isthmus are of Nov. 20th.—Advices there from Costa Rica to Oct. 30th state that Congress had voted $75,000 for the campaign against Gen. Walker, and had also purchased the American brig Dover, to convert into a war-vessel.

The Chilian Government had offered assistance to Costa Rica, and Commissioners had left the latter county on a special mission to Peru and Chili.

Eight hundred San Salvadorians were embarking at Realejo, Oct 21st and eight vessels were waiting at La Union for 2000 Guatemalan troops, under Carrera.

Aspinwall, Nov. 18th.—The news from interior respecting the issue between the British Minister and the New Granadian Government, upon the MacIntosh debt, has caused considerable excitement. There are now in our harbor two of H. B. M. ships of war, awaiting orders from home, although the Admiral of the fleet in the West Indie is understood to have received instructions to enforce the demands of Minister Griffin respecting the aforesaid matter.

A postal Convention had been concluded between Great Britin and New Granada.

Commodore Merwin continues to furnish an escort to protect the California passengers, on their arrival and departure.

The Thames arrived at Aspinwell on the 7th Nov. from Greytown.

Everything quiet at Nicaragua. Walker had troops posted at San Carlos, Zurapiqui, and other points. He had just received 450 recruits, well provided with arms ammunition and provisions.

Aspinwall, Nov. 15th.—The British mail steamer Dee has just arrived here from Greytown. Walker was waiting the receipt of provision and ammunition, which has not reached him at the latest advices. The full conviction of classes at Greytown is, that as soon as he has received the supplies and arranged his forces, he will proceed to drive all the allied forces out of the State. The allies were very much divided and quarreling amongst themselves.

SAILING OF THE BARK "RESOLUTE."

(From the New York Herald.)

The British discovery bark, Resolute, sailed yesterday at noon, from the Brooklyn Navy Yard, under the command of Captain H. J. Hartstein, one of the officers of the late Artic Expedition, for Portsmouth, where she will be delivered into the hands of Her Majesty's Government as a present from the Government of the United States.

The singular history of the Resolute must be fresh in the recollection of our readers. It will be remembered that she was despatched by the British Government in search of Sir John Franklin, and was frozen in among the icebergs, and her officers and crew had to abandon her, leaving all their effects on board; that she was found several months ago by the crew of a whaling vessel belonging to New-London, Ct., having drifted about 1200 miles from the spot where she was abandoned. Nor will it be forgotten that the sum of $10,000 was appropriated by our own Government for the purpose of purchasing her from the fortunate whalers of New-London—the English having waived all claims to her. Now that she been repaired and fitted with the utmost care at the expense of our Government, with the design of restoring her to the Queen, in, at least, as good a condition as she was at the time the exigencies of their situation compelled her crew to abandon her. With such completeness and attention to detail has this work been performed, that not only has everything found on board been preserved, even the books in the captain's library, the pictures in his cabin, and a musical box and organ, belonging to other officers, but new British flags have been manufactured in that Navy Yard to take the place of those which had rotted during the long time she was without a living soul on board. From stem to stern she has been repainted; her sails and much of her rigging are entirely new, the muskets, swords; telescopes, nautical instruments, &c. which she contained, have been cleaned and put in perfect order. Nothing has been overlooked or neglected that was necessary to her most complete and thorough renovation. Several thousand pounds of powder which was found on board will be taken back to England, somewhat deteriorated in quality, but still good enough for ordinary purposes, such as firing salutes.

Her massive build surprised every one of her numerous visitors while she remained at the Navy Yard. Her upper-decks and between-decks are double planked throughout, while her bows and sides are of three thicknesses. Her builders had regard to the comfort of her officers and crew in the Arctic seas. Under every birth runs a steam pipe, and through the entire length of the cabins and between decks are rows of pipes, three feet in diameter, which must have effectually heated the vessel, even when the thermometer fell to sixty degrees below zero. The pipes in question are connected with a huge furnace, which also served as a cooking range.

The officers appointed by the Government to conduct the Resolute to England, are Commander N. J. Hartstein, Lieutenants C. H. Wells, E. E. Stone, and Hunter Davidson. The Surgeon is Mr. R. T. Maccoum, and the Secretary, Mr. Otis.

The Resolute is undoubtedly a slow sailer, and it is not expected that she will reach Portsmouth under forty days. The reception which will be given to her officers and crew, will, undoubtedly, be worthy the generous conduct of the American people.

THE QUARTER SESSIONS.

On Tuesday the regular Quarter Sessions for the City and County of St. John were held. No Grand Jury was empanneled. Several civil cases were entered for trial, but as the Circuit Court is still sitting, the hearing of these was postponed till January.

The attendance of Justices was small, as usual. The principal subject under discussion, was the appointment of County burdens on the city and parishes; the city now pays over seventy per cent of the whole. The Committee to whom this matter was referred reported,—suggesting that to enable then to make the necessary calculations—some person be employed to add up the Assessor's books of the several parishes, as this was a work of some labour and they had not time to do it. Hon. Mr. Simonds moved that the Auditor be requested to make the calculation. Ald. M'Avity suggested that Mr. Keans be appointed for the purpose. Then followed a desultory conversation on the whole subject. Alderman Littlehale thought a person should be appointed to make a proper valuation of all the property in the county, and that this was the only means of determining the question fairly. The Recorder said there was no doubt that this was the only proper mode of proceeding. In 1851 he had drawn the attention of the Grand Jury to the subject, and they had themselves taken the trouble to make all these additions, and reported that some very slight change be made. But everyone knew, at the time, that the premises on which that presentiment was based were really fallacious, that the Assessors' books give no real and reliable information whatever. He thought they wanted a correct valluation much. At present, the practice was to lay hold of some persons who were well known, and to tax them pretty roundly, while many valuable properties escaped taxation altogether, and thus the taxation was unfairly distributed. This he knew to be the case with respect to property held by members of his own family. He then referred to the presentment of Dec. 1851, in which the valuation of the several parishes was stated. The city was valued at two and a half millions pounds; the parish of Saint Martin's with its ship building and large settlements, and wealthy inhabitants at only £61,000; the parish of Simonds at £110,000; and the parish of Lancaster with its mills, &c. at £70,600. The Corporation property alone in that parish was worth £70,000.

R. Bowes, Esq., said that several properties in Simonds were not taxed, and thought a proper valuation desirable whatever the cost.

All the Justices seemed to be of this opinion, and there seemed to be some intention of letting the subject lie over until March Sessions, but when the questions were put, the order passed that the Auditor make the additions.

THE LUMBER TRADE.

While a heavy stock of timber remains unsold in the Quebec market, we find that at Saint John, New Brunswick, the market is cleared, and prices have ranged high, while the business of manufacturing for next year's shipment is there going on with unusual briskness. The cause of this difference, we understand, is, that New Brunswick Timber is classified and branded by the Cullers, which prevents unsound Timber, such as the Quebec market is drugged with, being made or sold there. All interested in the trade of Quebec now find that the character of the market must be raised, and an understanding has arisen from this that the shippers will only purchase sound Timber while the lumbermen will take out none but such. This arrangement, together with some legislative measure for the Culling and branding of Timber will leave no demand in that market for the trash which has for years past been thrown upon it. We would then seriously advise our readers to risk no means in the manufacture of Timber which will not bear the character of first, or, at least, second quality, as all other must cost nearly as much to produce in Quebec, while it will be there found unsaleable. This arrangement may for a season cause a slight depression in the business of some districts, but it will eventually be found most valuable to the country.—Ottawa Tribune.

DISASTERS.—Cape Canso, Nov. 11.—Barque Elizabeth, P. Whiteman, Master, from Belfast for Richibucto, with salt, cordage, &c., got on shore to-day, near Cape Canso, and lies in a very dangerous position. Schr. John Benson, Capt. Quinn, from Newfoundland, sixteen days, experienced heavy weather. On November 6th, in lat. 45, and lon. 59, fell in with schr. "Grenville," Captain Delap, of Digby, with loss of sails, gaffs, bulwarks, stanchions, and in a sinking condition, sea running high. Captain Quinn and two men went in their boat and took crew from Wreck.—C. B. News.

THE GREATEST CELEBRATION.—Fifteen States of the Union were represented at the Montreal Celebration. Speaking of the celebration, the correspondent of the Chicago Tribune says:—Beyond all question, it was the greatest banquet ever given on the American continent. I doubt not it England herself, the country of banquets, ever surpassed it.

THE WEATHER.—The Head Quarters says:—Old Boreas mounted his crystal throne on Saturday the 15th November, and on the following Monday the ice-bridge was formed opposite Fredericton, which is now in excellent condition. Heavily laden teams pass over it in perfect safety anywhere. We had some very sharp weather during the last ten days. The Snow is about five or six inches deep, and the roads excellent.

A Panther, measuring seven feet from tip to tip, and weighing one hundred pounds, after receiving two balls, and the contents of two shot guns, was killed in West Greenwich, R. I., on Sunday morning last. The animal is supposed to be the one which escaped from a menagerie, on the Stonington Railroad, some two years since. Elwin C. Nichols, of Coventry, his brother-in-law, and John James, of West Greenwich, were the fortunate sportsmen.—State of Maine.

At a Quarterly Meeting of the Saint Patrick's Society, held at Stubbs' Hotel, on Monday evening, 1st inst., the following gentlemen were duly elected Officers for the ensuing year:

Mr. Robert Armstrong, President;
Mr. John A. Morrison, Vice President;
Mr. John Magee, Treasurer;
S. R. Thompson, Esq., Secretary;
Mr. Robert McAfee, Assistant Secretary.

FIRE.—A house in Harding-street, owned by Mr. Wymond, was partially destroyed by fire, on Wednesday afternoon. Several firemen have enquired of us why the city Fire Bell did not give the usual alarm. The wife of John North was burned to death.—New Brunswicker.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—We regret to learn that Mr. J. McDonaugh, clothier, Market-square, was unfortunately drowned by falling in the slip at Peter's Wharf, last evening, about half-past seven o'clock. Mr. McD. leaves a wife and family to mourn their sudden bereavement.—N. Brunk.

CALIFORNIA.

LARGE INGOTS.—Messrs. Harris, Merchand & Co Assayers, in Sacramento, have two ingots of gold one of which weighs 703 ounces, and the other 701 ounces. They are worth twenty-five thousand one hundred and fifty dollars, and are the largest ever before made in that city.

MINING NEWS.—We have heard of several rich lodes of quartz being opened in this vicinity.

The late rains have not been of sufficient duration to check mining on the Merced River, and there is no perceptible rise in the water.

The miners on Mariposa creek are doing well, and particularly on Smith's bar, where they are making from six to eight dollars per day. This is doing very well considering the bar has been worked over so many times.

The miners on the San Joaquin River are doing well, generally. Last week Hashfield & Co. took out of their claim four thousand and forty-four dollars. Pretty well for three partners.—Mariposa Democrat.

A NARROW ESCAPE.—On Monday morning last as the Admiral was leaving the wharf, in the confusion, a woman, who was standing on the plank, would most likely have been drowned, had not Professor Talbot (a coloured gentleman) rushed to save her, and thus endangered his own life, as he was, with difficulty, saved form drowning. It is matter for congratulation that Professor Talbot was saved, as his loss would have deprived us of his valuable services at the Restaurant, at Secord's Saint John Hotel.

A lecture was delivered at the Mechanics' Institute on Monday evening by Mr. Manning, on "The Rhine." Next Monday evening the Rev. E. N. Hart's will lecture on "Female Education."

ANOTHER SUDDEN DEATH.—A butcher of the name of Denis Hurley fell down dead on the Marsh Road, this morning as he was coming into the City from the slaughter-house.

THE CAVERNS OF ADELSBURG.—All the imitations of grottos, all the stage effects in England combined, to produce haunted caverns or dens of demons, would utterly fail to realise the beauty and grandeur of this exquisite, yet stupendous, work of the great architect. It is not a grotto nor a cavern, it can be compared only in extent, to colossal cathedrals, a succession of domes, naves, transepts, galleries, and buttresses, of fretwork ornament, tracery work, and tastefully executed columns, formed thus wonderfully by constant, droppings of water through the calcareous rocks above hardening into stone as it falls surpassing, in the exquisite character of its varied mouldings, the laboured efforts of the most talented artist; and yet on the the other hand a directly opposite similie may be used namely that by a stretch of the imagination, one would be led to believe that he was wandering among the ruins of an entombed city where the work of the sculptor's stages art continually present themselves in various stages of preservation. In colour, the stalactites are of a light soft yellow, or white, and partly transparent, and they hang about in continuous clusters, and points, and draperywork, except when broken by low damp tunnels or disrupted blocks of rock intervening; the eye at length becomes stated and the mind confused by the never ending wonders.

☞ Holloway's Pills.—In chronic dyspepsia where the stomach has become callous to all ordinary remedies, and stimulants fail either to provoke appetite or facilitate digestion, these Pills, by their simultaneous action upon the fluids which dissolve, assimilate and adapt to the purposes of nutrition the food taken into the system, will quickly impart a healthy tone to the whole physical machinery. Indigestion, and all its concomitants and consequence, including general debility, liver complaint nausea, pains between the shoulders, headache, low spirits, a feeling of oppression after meals, sleeplessness, languor, flatulence, bowel complaint, etc., are among the ailments invariably cured by a course of this inestimable remedy.

Married.

On Monday morning, at Trinity Church, by Rev. W. Harrison, Charles E. Milner, of New York, to Lydia C. second daughter of Thomas Merritt, of this City.

On Thursday evening last, by the Rev. William Donald, A. M., Mr. Joseph Storemen, Jr., Merchant of Yarmouth N. S., to Henritta, third daughter of Capt John Brown, of this City.

On the 25th ult., by the Rev. Wm. Ferrie, A. M., Mr. Thomas Rankine, to Miss Grisella Donovan, both of St. John.

On the 27th ult., by the Rev. W. Alves, Mr. Mr. Richard M. Record, of Upham, to Miss Sophia Odell, of the same place.

At Simonds, on the 30th ult., by the Rev. J. W. Disbrow, Mr. Charles Adams, to Miss Mary Forsyth.

Died.

Suddenly, on Wednesday evening, Mr. Joseph McDonagh, Merchant Tailor, in the 34th year of his age.

On Monday, 1st inst., Mrs. Winifred Flood aged 84 year.

On the 30th ult., Anna Maria, the only daughter of David and Anne Johnston, aged 4 years and 11 months.

On Friday, the 28th ult., Mr. Thomas Dunn, Stevedore in the 36th year of his age, leaving a wife and five children to mourn their loss.

At his residence in Queen's County, on the 20th ult., in the 84th year of his age, Samuel Scovil, Esq., senr., Justice of the Common Pleas, and formerly M. P. P. for that County.

BAZAAR!

IT is proposed to have a BAZAAR at SAND POINT, CARLETON, in aid of the Sabbath School at that place.

This School is a revival of the one which was founded and most efficiently conducted by the late Mrs. BONN, whose memory is dear to not a few on both sices of the harbor. The children now in the School are in number about fifty. To procure Books and a Library for them, as well as other things necessary to a well conducted Sabbath School, is the object of the Bazaar.

Such articles as are generally saleable in a BAZAAR, as well as contributions in money, will be thankfully received from such Ladies and Gentlemen as can appreciate the object in view.

The following Mercantile Firms have kindly consented to receive Articles and Contributions:

Messrs. Chubb & Co. Prince William street; Lawton & Vassie, Market Square; and Wells & Davis, Sand Point. They will also be received by the Rev. E. Clay, M. D., Carleton, and any of the following Office-Bearers:

Mrs. A. B. SHAW, President.
Miss SOPHIA TOOLE, Vice-President.
Mrs. J. GANONG, Treasurer.
Miss AUGUSTA WHEATON, } Committee.
Miss CATHERINE TOOLE, }
Miss ELIZA LANE, Secretary.
Mrs. NEWCOMB, Assistant Secretary.

HEALTH OR SICKNESS

CHOOSE BETWEEN THEM

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

The blood furnishes the material of every bone, muscle, gland and fibre in the human frame. When pure, it secures health to every organ; it necessarily produces disease. HOLLOWAY'S PILLS operate directly upon the elements of the stream of life, neutralizing the principle of disease, and thus radically curing the malady, whether located in the nerves, the stomach, the liver, the bowels, the muscles, the skin, the brain, or any other part of the system.

USED THROUGHOUT THE WORLD!

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are equally efficacious in complaints common to the whole human race, and in disorders peculiar to certain climates and localities.

ALARMING DISORDERS.

Dyspepsia, and derangement of the liver, the source of infinite and suffering, and the cause of innumerable deaths, yield to these curatives, in all cases, however aggravated, acting as a mild purgative, alternative and tonic; they relieve the bowels, purify the fluids, and invigorate the system and the constitution at the same time.

GENERAL WEAKNESS—NERVOUS COMPLAINTS.

When all stimulants fail, the renovating and bracing properties of these Pills give firmness to the shaking nerves and enfeebled muscles of the victim of general debility.

DELICATE FEMALES.

All irregularities and ailments incident to the delicate and sensitive organs of the sex are removed or prevented by a few doses of these Pills, but infallible alteratives. No mother who wants her own or her children's health should fail to have them within her reach.

SIENTIFIC ENDORSEMENTS.

The London "Lancet," the London "Medical Review" and the most eminent of the faculty in Great Britain, France and Germany, have eulogized the Pills and their inventor.

Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known in the world for the following diseases:

Asthma	Female Complaints	Piles
Bowel Complaints	Fevers	Stone and Gravel
Coughs	Indigestion	Secondary Symptoms
Colds	Inflammation	Venereal Affections
Chest Diseases	Inward Weakness	Worms, of all kinds.
Costiveness	Liver Complaints
Dyspepsia
Diarrhœa
Dropsy
Debility
Fever and Ague	Lowness of spirits

Poetry.

WHAT MAKES A MAN.

BY WM. BRYANT.

Not numerous years, nor lengthened life,
Not pretty children a wife;
Not pins and canes and fancy rings,
Not any like trumpery things;
Not wine, cigar nor bottled wine,
Nor liberty with wings to dine,
Not coat nor boots, nor yet a hat,
A dandy vest or trim cravat;
Not houses, land or golden ore,
Nor all the world's wealth in a store,
Not Mr., Rev., Sir, nor Squire,
With titles that the memory tire;
Not ancestry, traced back to Will,
Who went from Normandy to kill;
Not Latin, Greek nor Hebrew lore;
Nor thousand volumes rumbled o'er
Not judge's robe, nor mayor's mace;
Nor crowns that deck the royal race;—
These all untied never can
Avail to make a single man.

A truthful soul, a loving mind,
Full of affection of its kind;
A spirit firm, erect and free;
That never basely bends the knee;
That will not bear a feather's weight
Of slavery's chain, for small or great;
That truly speaks from God within,
And never makes a league with sin;
That snaps the fetters despots make,
And loves truth for its own sake;
That worships God, and him alone,
And bows no where but at his throne;
That trembles at no tyrant's nod,
A soul that fears no one but God;
And thus can smile at curse or ban;
That is the soul that makes a man.

THE CHILD AND THE SUNBEAM.

I saw a youthful mother
Once, on a summer's day,
Set down a smiling infant,
To watch its frolic play.
It gambolled on the flowerets
That deck the carpet o'er,
And seemed with childish wonder
Each object to explore.

A something on the instant
Its glad career arrests,
And earnestly it gazes where
A golden sunbeam rests;
While on the new-found glory
It fixed its wondering eyes,
And trustfully reached forth its hand,
To seize the glittering prize.

And now, its tiny fingers clasp
The treasure rich and rare,
Which, in its baby innocence,
It surely thought was there
But ah! that hand uncloses,
And to its earnest gaze,
Reveals no gem of beauty—
No bright, imprisoned rays!

And then the first of many tears
Fell on that cherub face—
The first sad disappointment
In life's uncertain race!
And thus it has been with us all,
Who its dark game have played,
We've sought to grasp the sunshine,
And only found—the shade!

VARIETY.

Sale of a Slave.—An Incident in New Orleans.—The New Orleans Bulletin of the 20th inst., says:—Passing through the Arcade saloon, we noticed at one of the auction stands a negro girl up for sale, and around a closely packed crowd that appeared to be deeply interested in what was going on, curiously led us to pause and inquire what was the cause of the apparent excitement. The bids were going on in a very spirited manner, and generally at an advance of only five dollars at a bid, and at every bid the eyes of the crowd would quickly turn in the direction whence the bids proceeded, the interest and excitement being, in the meantime, upon the increase. The girl, a bright intelligent mulattress, about fourteen years old, evidently not indifferent to what was transpiring.—There was no moisture in her eyes, but they assumed an expression which indicated that she felt some anxiety in regard to the result of the sale, which is not generally the case. As the bids reached near a thousand dollars, the excitement became intense, and as that figure was called, a spontaneous hiss was heard from one end of the room to the other, followed by a vehement shout of "Turn him out!" "Turn him out!" A rush was made for the door, the hammer had fallen, and the girl also, into the arms of—her mother, who had become her purchaser. The explanation of it all was that the woman had been freed by her owner, and had earned money enough to buy her child, the mulattress in question, and being a very valuable servant, several persons were anxious to obtain her, but all of them, with one exception, had pledged the mother that they would not bid against her, and they honorably kept their faith. It was the conduct of this one, who was bidding against the mother, which so excited and exasperated the crowd on the occasion. The man made good his escape; but fortunately so for him, we think as we heard sundry expressions about "Lynching," &c., as the crowd came back to talk over the matter. The mother was much affected by the joy of having succeeded in retaining possession of her child that she swooned away and was carried out of the saloon. We may add the sale was a succession sale, and was not designed to be anything more than nominal, and nobody intended that the mother should be deprived of her child.

Extravagance in Dress.—Its effect upon the Market.—In the city of Belgium, extravagance has assumed such alarming proportions, that the ladies themselves have been obliged to combine for the purpose of arresting its disastrous progress. It appears that extravagance had been for some years a source of constraint in families, and it was noticed that no marriages were contracted, as the young men, frightened at the bills that loomed up in the distance, preferred to live in celebacy. The mothers, recognizing the inconvenience of a state of affairs encouraged by themselves, have resolved to bring about a salutary reform; and with this view, they have formed a committee, which meets once a week. They have declared open war with extravagance, and every member announces publicly the retrenchments made in her own household expenses. They say that happy results have already been obtained, and that similar associations are to be formed in the neighbouring towns.—Courrier des Etats Unis.

Earnest Prayer Answered.—It was on a very cold evening, some years since, when a number of young men and women started for the neighboring village of——, in one of the middle States, on a sleighing party, in high glee for the dance and entertainment. A mother sat sad by the earth, as her beloved daughter and sons jumped with joyous step into the sleigh, and soon the sound of the whip and bells was heard in the distance. She proposed to their father (who was looked upon as a patriarch in Isreal) to put the horse to the chaise, and go to her brother's house, and spend the evening in united prayer with his wife and himself, for their children. He denied her not, but took her there at the great risk of their lives, between one two miles, through the deep snow drift. The evening was spent in prayer and supplication, and then this devoted couple returned to their house, at a late hour of night. A few months after this their prayers were fully answered, even beyond their highest expectations. Nearly every member of these two families became the subjects of Devine grace. It was the commencement of a powerful revival religion in that region.—Pres. Banner.

Good Advice.—If you have great talents, industry will improve them; if moderate abilities, industry will supply their deficiencies. Nothing is denied, to well directed labor; nothing is ever to be attained without it.

THE EMPEROR'S HORSE.

BY REV. C. MALAN, D. D.

Dedicated to those who would gather the fruit of holiness without planting the tree of faith.—

The Emperor Napoleon I was reviewing some troops on the Carrousel at Paris, and in giving an order he accidentally threw the bridle over the neck of the horse, which started off at full gallop. At this moment, a common soldier, an active and vigorous young man, rushed from the ranks, and meeting the terrified animal, stopped it by seizing the bridle, which he presented respectfully to the Emperor. "Thank you, Captain," said the chief, who by this single word promoted this private to the rank of captain on the spot. The latter behaved it accordingly, and saluting the Emperor, said, "Of what regiment, sire?" Napoleon, charmed with the faith or belief of the soldier, replied instantly, "Of my guards!" and galloped away.

Now, what will the soldier do? He belongs to those who must see or feel before they will believe, and who, with the apostle Thomas, wait for tangible proofs before they will confide in a testimony. He will say to himself, "A captain of the guards always wears such and such a uniform, but I have only my private's dress—I cannot possibly believe myself a captain!" And necessarily, he will return to the ranks.

But if, contrary, the soldier confides loyally in the words of the Emperor, and starts no unbelieving difficulty as the reality of the fact, if he reasons that the rank of captain of the guards does not result from the uniform he wears, but that, on the contrary, the uniform is the consequence of the rank, to which it adds nothing in reality, being merely its external evidence; if such is the soldier's conviction (and it ought to be if he honours his Emperor) he will not concern himself about his dress, and certainly will not return to the ranks.

And such, in fact, was the conduct of this man. As soon as the Emperor had departed, the soldier laid his musket on the ground, saying "Let who will take it now," and instead of returning to the ranks, he marched straight up to the staff. Upon which one of the generals said, laughing, "What does this fellow want here?" "This fellow," said the soldier, proudly drawing himself up, "is captain of the guards!" "You, my poor fellow," said the general, "are you mad?" "He has said it!" replied the soldier, pointing to the Emperor in the distance. "Pardon me, sir," said the general, saluting him. "I was not aware of it."

Here, you see, was a double display of faith; for, in the first instance, the soldier believed the Emperor upon his bare word, because he "had heard him himself," (as the Samaritans said to Jesus) and afterwards, upon the testimony of the soldier, the general believed the word of the Emperor.

"For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosever believeth in Him shall not perish, but have everlasting life.—But these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life through His name.—Believe in the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved."

Work.—"There is," says Carlyle, "a perennial nobleness, and even sacredness in work. Nothing else can elevate manhood, say what you will. In idleness, politics, literature, religion we must work if we would be anything or do anything."

We should have been pleased, says the Sierra Citizen, to see Thomas Carlyle with a buck and saw, trying to elevate and enoble himself by that salutary exercise! What a number of fine things are said about the dignity of labor, yet how few like to work when they can help it!

New-Brunswick Branch

OF THE

ROYAL INSURANCE COMPANY

Capital, £2,000,000 Sterling.

TRUSTEES.

[illegible]

The Subscriber having been appointed Agent to the above Company for New-Brunswick, begs to announce that he is prepared to receive Proposals for FIRE AND LIFE ASSURANCE. The large Capital of the Company, and the number and influence of its Proprietors, enable it to rank with the most eligible Offices, either in America or Europe, with respect to the advantages offered to the Public.

FIRE BRANCH.

Persons Assured by this Company are not subject to any covenants or calls to make good losses which may happen to themselves or others, nor do they depend on any uncertain and contributory Capital Stock or fund. The Company being an unquestionable security to the Assured in case of Loss or Damage by Fire.

LIFE BRANCH.

In addition to the more customary methods of Insurance, the Company likewise Assures Lives on any of the following contingencies:—

For the term of One Year, Seven Years, or any other definite period.

For the whole continuance of Life.—The Premiums to cease, after a limited number of Annual Payments.

For Two Joint Lives.—The sum assured to be paid on the death of either.

On the longest of Two or Three Lives.—The sum assured to be payable at the death of the last survivor; or,

The Survivorships.—To secure the payment of the sum assured, if a life A die before another life B.

For a sum to be payable at age 60, or at death.

Premiums on Credit.—A portion of the Premiums on Credit. Assurances may be effected in various ways, not enumerated, to meet the convenience of parties.

The important advantages afforded by the Company in the Life Branch will include the following viz:—

The Guarantee of an ample Capital, and Exemption of the Assured from liability of Partnership.

Moderate Premiums.

Large Participation of Profits by the Assured, amounting to Twenty-nine-tenths of the net amount, which may be applied at the option of the party effecting the Assurance:—1st, By the immediate payment of the sum so apportioned.—2nd, By an equivalent increase of the sum assured.

Small Charge for Management.—The expenses of the Office being borne in due proportion by the two Branches.

Prompt Settlement of Claims.

Policies lapsed by non-payment of the Premium may be renewed within three months, by paying the premium with a fine of 10s. per cent., on the production of evidence to the satisfaction of the Directors of the good health of the life assured.

The Company will always be prepared to Purchase the Policies of any Office at their equitable value, or will grant a New Policy in lieu thereof without any further payment of Premium, for a sum to be agreed on.

Extra Premiums suitable to special circumstances will be accepted to enable a party possessing a Policy on the life of another to guard against the possibility of its being vitiated by the Life departing beyond limits, or by any other cause.

Forms Duly authorised for the Payment of Premiums, and the Day on which they respectively Accrue.

Advantages Peculiar to Lives Assured with this Company in St. John, N. B.

I.—RESIDENCE.—Persons assured for the whole term of Life will have permission, without the payment of extra Premiums, to reside in any part of Europe, or in any place in North America to the north of 38 degrees of North Latitude, but not to the westward of the Mississippi River.

II.—VOYAGE.—They will also, if not sea faring Expectants, be allowed, without any extra Premium,

To cross and recross the Atlantic Ocean, in steam or first class sailing vessels;

To pass from any part of Europe to any other or from any part of North America to another within the limits above specified; also,

To pass to and from, but not to reside in any place which shall not be further south than 35 degrees of North Latitude, but not to the westward of the Mississippi River.

IMPORTANT TESTIMONIALS.

Recent Testimonial from a native Medical man in Bombay.

Agiari Lane, Native Town, Bombay, October 2nd, 1855.

Dear Sir,—I have great pleasure in informing you of the great good your excellent Cough Lozenges do in Pulmonary diseases.

I am a Medical Practitioner in Bombay, and am satisfied with their good effects, and would feel obliged by your sending me the wholesale price for a quantity.

I remain, Sir, yours, respectfully,

COWASJI RUTTONJI KHARADI.

T. Keating, Esq.

Recent Testimonial to the value of Keating's Cough Lozenges.

I can express what I suffered,—coughing, expectorating, and the respiration impeded. Suffice to say, I gradually recovered, without any relapse, except by taking a few boxes of Keating's Cough Lozenges. My lungs were so much affected and the general health so debilitated, that I had but little hopes of recovery.
