A gloom was cast over the Rounthwaite district with the announcement on Saturday of the death of Mr. James R. Dilworth aged forty-four years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dilworth, of Rounthwaite. The late Mr. Dilworth went to Winnipeg accompanied by Mr. Wm. Hedges, of Rounthwaite, a little over a week ago to visit his sister and had just been in Winnipeg a day when he contracted pneumonia to which he finally succumbed Saturday morning. He was at an hotel when he became ill but was removed to the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Farmer, 245 Bell avenue, who were friends of the deceased and who did all they could to help him. The late Mr. Dilworth came to the Rounthwaite district from Carlton County, Ontario, sixteen years ago and was one of the best known and most popular farmers in his community. He will be greatly missed by many friends both in Brandon and district.

Besides his parents the late Mr. Dilworth is survived by one brother, Mr. Wm. Dilworth, Gull Lake, Sask., and five sisters, Mrs. W. H. Maher, of Brandon; Mrs. John Graham; Mrs. H. Graham, of Rounthwaite; Mrs. R. Burns, Erinview, Man.; and Miss H. Dilworth, Winnipeg, Man.

A CLERGYMAN'S RECOMMENDATION

The Zam-Buk Co.
Dear Sirs:

Appreciating what your balm has done for me, I should like an opportunity of recommending it to others who may be similarly afflicted. For the last forty years I have had a patch of eczema on my right hand. I tried in every possible way to get rid of it—had treatment from several doctors and tried innumerable remedies, but received no lasting benefit. If a remedy eased it or cured it for a time, it always returned as bad as ever. One of my friends is a great believer in Zam-Buk, so I decided to give it a trial and sent first for a sample. You can imagine my amazement when even this small quantity brought me more relief than anything I had ever before used. I continued the use of Zam-Buk for two weeks, by which time the eczema, although of forty years standing, had entirely disappeared. That was one year ago, and there has been no return of it.

Yours sincerely,
(Name of clergyman, from whom the above letter was received, will be given upon request)

CREE INDIANS PROVIDE SITE FOR MEMORIAL

Transfer Valuable Property for Nominal Sum to the Great War Veterans

The Pas, Man., Feb. 28.—For a nominal sum of a few dollars, the Great War Veterans Association, The Pas branch, have been given the highest priced corner lot in town by the Cree Indians, to be used for the erection of a memorial building. The lot is controlled by the Indian Department who fixed a nominal price, in order to comply with the regulations. The lot is valued at $15,000. The Indians in council passed a resolution asking the department to transfer this lot to the veterans, that it might serve as a memorial to the dead and living of bath races from the Northland. It is estimated that 200 Cree Indians served in the Canadian forces from this part of Manitoba, many of whom lie buried in France, and others returned maimed and crippled for life.

ACTIVE LEADERS IN PARIS RAILROAD STRIKE ARRESTED INTERFERING WITH LIBERTY

Paris, March 1.—Three active leaders in the Paris railroad strike were arrested this morning, charged with "interference with the liberty to work and provoking disobedience".

PUBLIC WORKS IN MANITOBA

Report of Provincial Department Submitted To the Legislature

Winnipeg, March 2.—The report of the Department of Public Works for the past year, covering eighteen sub-departments, which was laid on the table of the house Monday evening, and the sub-departmental reports are preceded by one from the deputy minister on various construction works in progress or under consideration. With regard to the new parliament buildings, the report notes the delay due to the strike, and says that owing to the retention of Osborne barracks for military purposes nothing has been done on the grounds. It is expected the entire building will be complete in time for the formal opening at the jubilee of the province in July.

Hospitals for the Insane

Plans are being prepared in the department for the addition at Brandon of a nurses' home to train and house seventy-five nurses. A colony unit for incurables is under construction one mile north of the main building, which will provide comfortable quarters for incurable women patients. Major Barager, who succeeds Dr. Chambers as superintendent, will take charge in March. Dr. Goulden, a returned soldier, is meanwhile acting medical superintendent. The deputy minister and Dr. Goulden visited a large number of institutions in the States and Eastern Canada and as a result find that the most modern form of institutional building consists of segregated cottage unit instead of one large building, added to by wings from time to time. Brandon now has a sufficient water supply filtered from the Assiniboine river and treated by ultra violet rays.

At Selkirk, owing to the new Mental Diseases act and the opening of the psychopathic ward at the General hospital, it has been decided that the Selkirk institution will be required for many years as at present and it will not be possible to use it for a school for the feeble-minded. A plan for further development is being prepared for this institution. A new isolated laundry building is under construction and a small sterilization building. A cottage unit that will accommodate 56 patients and various laboratories is to be erected this year. It is designed especially for a receiving station but will be used at first exclusively for mentally affected soldiers.

Manitoba School for the Deaf

Plans for the new school for the deaf at Tuxedo at the South end of the University site are under way. This building, or group of buildings, cannot be completely ready before the end of 1921. Recommendations are made for additions at the home for incurables, Portage la Prairie, owing to the congestion and the danger from fire in the present old building and it is suggested that cottage units might be constructed and the present building remodelled and made into a school for feeble-minded. The industrial training school at Portage has undergone extensive repairs. The detention home, at corner of Sherbrook and Portage avenue, is very congested. The agricultural college is suffering from lack of housing facilities for the staff and faculty.

Good Roads

During 1919 more construction work was accomplished than in any other year under the Good Roads act, in spite of the labor situation, which prevented municipalities completing their full programs. The use of road building machinery is gradually meeting the labor shortage. During the year, 411 miles of roads were graded and 143 graded and gravelled. 58 concrete bridges, 4 timber and 2 timber on permanent abutments were erected. The cost to the municipalities was $629,588.76, on which the government paid its percentage. To date $2,963,790 has been expended on roads and bridges under the act, of which the government provided $1,296,381.26. Last year the government provided $305,185.53 for this work. The estimated cost of roads authorized in 1919 is $7,098,584 and of bridges $143,285. The mileage of roads authorized is 2,796 and 47 bridges in 1919. Since its inception, 5,028.99 miles have been authorized and 298 bridges, exclusive of those on good road systems.

LANGHAM HOTEL, TENNANT'S GARAGE DESTROYED BY FIRE

Fireman John Selbie Injured By Falling Wall, Now In Hospital

$10,000 ESTIMATED LOSS

School Board Had No Insurance On Hotel—$3,500 On the Garage

One of Brandon's old landmarks disappeared on Friday when fire completely destroyed the Langham Hotel and badly damaged a garage on the South side of the old building. The total loss caused by the fire is estimated at about $10,000 on which very little insurance is carried, it being stated this morning that the School Board carried no insurance on the Langham Hotel building. One fireman was badly injured when he was crushed beneath a fallen wall, John Selbie being at present in the hospital suffering from injuries to his right thigh. Two other firemen and Chief Melhuish narrowly escaped being pinned under the falling wall. The origin of the fire is not known at the present time.

Tennant's Garage Destroyed

The first alarm was turned into the Fire Department at 4.25 a.m. and when the department arrived on the scene a few minutes later the Langham building was a seething mass of flames. Great headway had been made by the fire and flames were bursting out all over the building. The firemen therefore concentrated their efforts on the saving of the auto garage to the South of the building leased by W. Tennant and owned by the Northern Trust Company. Six lines of hose were laid to the fire, but shortly after the water was turned on the building, the South wall gave away and buried several firemen underneath the debris. John Selbie was dragged from underneath the fallen wall and taken to the hospital with an injured thigh, while Chief Melhuish and another fireman were also slightly injured. How many of the firemen escaped is a miracle as the men were between the burning building and the garage. The fallen walls severed the hose, and other lines had to be laid. Work done recently on the lower part of the building, caused the walls to be top-heavy, according to Chief Melhuish, and this caused them to give way.

The firemen fought the spread of the flames and although the garage was on fire when they arrived they saved this building, which is, however, badly damaged. There were a number of autos in the garage at the time, but none of them are completely destroyed. The autos were run out by Mr. Tennant when he arrived on the scene and the tops of the cars were burned. The proprietor of the garage estimated his loss at about $4,000, with no insurance on the contents of the building. The building itself is owned by the Northern Trusts Company of Winnipeg, and there is $3,500 insurance carried by this company.

Severs Link with Past

The Langham Hotel building is a complete loss. There is not one brick left standing of the famous old landmark and one of Brandon's pioneer buildings has disappeared forever. Built in 1882 by a Captain Granville, the building was first called the Langham Club. It's purpose was to provide a home and club for the farmers to live in during the Winter months and it was a very popular club for years. Remittance men made it their home and for a long time it was the centre of Brandon's social functions. Later it was turned into a hotel and in the early days was recognized as one of the leading hostelries of the West, practically all of the dances and banquets being held in the hotel. It's use as a hotel was discontinued several years ago, and a few months ago the building and property was sold to the Brandon School Board for the sum of $6,200. It was intended by the School Board that the building should be renovated and made over into a Manual Training and Domestic Science School. Occupation of the building was planned for next September.

Remodelling the Building

In the meantime the work of remodelling the building was being conducted under the direction of Supervisor Mellor, no contracts being let for the work. In order to heat the premises for the workmen, it was stated this morning that stoves were placed in the building, and Chief Melhuish gave it as his opinion this morning that the fire must have in some way originated from these stoves. However, no official cause for the fire has been given as yet, but at the School Board meeting this afternoon it is possible that an explanation will be given. It was further stated this morning that the School Board carried no insurance on the building, but that it had intended to put a policy on it this week.

So much water was poured into the building that it ran in a torrent down on Rosser avenue and for a time held up the street car service. Large gangs of men were kept busy clearing the tracks and draining the water into the manholes. Chief Melhuish stated that the water pressure was splendid during the fire.

NINETY JUNIOR 'TEEN AGE BOYS ENJOY SUPPER AND GAMES IN "Y" GYM.

About ninety Junior 'Teen Age Boys of the Sunday Schools met for supper in the Y.M.C.A. at 6-15 Thursday night and enjoyed to the utmost the sumptuous repast which was provided. The Ladies' Auxiliary to 'Teen Age Boys' Work, who are working in co-operation with the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A., served, the refreshments provided by the ladies of the First Baptist Church, St. Paul's Church, the First Methodist Church and Knox Church. The number of boys who were present Thursday night was an inspiration for better work along these lines and shows that the lads are becoming keenly interested in the program mapped out for them by the Advisory Committee on Boys' Work. Owing to the unavoidable absence of Dr. J. S. Clark there was no special address given at this meeting, but Mr. Roy Hunter outlined the proposed Indoor Athletic Meet to be held early in April and the idea was received with enthusiasm by the boys. Just prior to adjourning to the gymnasium the boys enjoyed a sing-song and later in the evening they were invited to remain to watch the basket ball game which took place immediately after the 'Teen Age Boys finished their games in the gym.

YUKON VOTES "BONE DRY"

With a Few More Poles To Hear From, Drys Have 185 Majority

Dawson, Y.T., Feb. 27.—Territorial-wide prohibition of the liquor traffic was endorsed by the people in the plebiscite just held. The bone drys, with a few more polls to hear from, have a majority of 185 over those favoring continuance of the bar, and 265 over those favoring the establishment of Government liquor agencies.

LIABILITY OF RAILWAY COMPANY ARGUED BEFORE THE SUPREME COURT

Ottawa, Feb. 27.—The first case argued before the Supreme Court Thursday was Dunn vs. Dominion Atlantic Railway Company. The narrow question raised in this case is whether or not, if a drunken man travelling by rail and being so disorderly to the annoyance and discomfort of the other passengers that the conductor would have a right to eject him from the train, the latter is justified in putting him off at an unlighted station at one o'clock a.m. The plantiff's appellant's husband being so ejected was killed on the track some two hours later. The appellant claimed that he was so drunk when put off that he could not take care of himself. Defendant's theory is that from the evidence given of when he was last seen, he probably walked through the town and got on a crossing.

The jury's findings were against the respondent company, but the trial judge held that its negligence, if there was any, did not cause the accident and he dismissed the action which the full court sustained. Judgment was reserved.

NEED AGGRESSIVE POLICY TO SETTLE WESTERN LANDS

Winnipeg Board of Trade Endorses Formation of Western Colonization Association

Winnipeg, Feb. 27.—An enthusiastic meeting of the Board of Trade, Winnipeg, at luncheon Thursday, endorsed the formation of the Western Canada Colonization Association. The aims of the organization were put before the assembly by Mayor Brown, of Medicine Hat, M. R. Jennings, of Edmonton, Dr. A. O. MacRae, of Calgary and Brig.-General H. F. McDonald, of Calgary. The speakers emphasized the need for an aggressive policy for settlement of the vacant lands of the West and the improvement of rural conditions generally. A strong appeal was made for the co-operation of all business men, it being pointed out that an organization effort was urgently needed to supplement the agencies at present at work.

The large audience consisted of Winnipeg's most representative business men, and at the close of the meeting a resolution was passed instructing the Western Development Bureau of the Board of Trade to proceed actively with the creation of the Manitoba branch of the association. Several prominent local speakers emphasized the need for immediate action and pledged their entire support to the movement whose success in Manitoba is now assured. Mayor Brown reviewed the preliminary steps of the organization and quoted interesting figures which showed the disappointing results of our immigration for the past ten years especially in regard to the exodus from Canada to the United States. He stated that the problem was one which needed more than merely Government action and that it is essential that the business men themselves take the initiative. He assured his hearers that with the backing of the Western business men there would be no difficulty in securing the necessary financial support. Other speakers referred to increased population and production as necessary to readjust financial conditions and reduce the burden of public indebtness. The Eastern Canada Colonization Association is to be actively fostered by the Winnipeg Board of Trade.

NO INFORMATION ON NAVAL POLICY AT THIS TIME

Minister of Marine Declines To Make a Statement Just Now

VOTE TWENTY MILLIONS

To Be Asked To Complete Government's Mercantile Marine Shipbuilding Program

Ottawa, Feb. 27.—Hon. Mr. Ballantyne, Minister of Marine, stated today that the Government would ask parliament for a vote of twenty millions to complete the Government mercantile marine shipbuilding program.

Hon. Mr. Ballantyne would give no information with regard to the Government's naval policy, saying that the Government had decided on the course which it is proposed to pursue, but that it was premature to make an announcement at present. He said that Admiral Jellicoe's report is now being printed and may be brought down in the House within a week.

LIMIT QUANTITY, GUARANTEE QUALITY, REGULATE PRICE

Proposals With Regard To Liquor Legislation—100 Prescriptions a Month

A Winnipeg man visiting Brandon is authority for the statement that there is not the consumption of liquor in this province that is often times supposed. During February in Greater Winnipeg there were issued 10,891 prescriptions for an average quantity of twenty ounces. This takes no account of the operation of bootleggers, and during this period inter-provincial shipments were permited.

In reference to Provincial legislation, this gentleman declares that the Government plans to handle all liquor through a Government wholesale house. There is to be a limit in the prescriptions which one doctor may write for liquor. This will be fixed at 100 per month, for a nine ounce sealed bottle which will sell for a fixed price. Thus there will be an absolute check on the quantity, a guaranteed quality and no profiteering in the price.

It is proposed to authorize the taking of a plebiscite on the question of a bone dry province some time during the Summer.

EXECUTION OF KOLCHAK IS TOLD OF IN A WAR OFFICE OFFICIAL DISPATCH

London, Feb. 27.—The execution of Amiral Kolchak, head of the All-Russian Government, is related in a War Office dispatch as follows.

"Irkrutz had been re-occupied by Siberian troops, formerly under Kappel, but now commanded by Voitschovski. This force, after cutting through partisan detachments, appeared at Cheremhovo, a Northwest city. Voitschovski proposed terms to the revolutionary military soviet, in exchange for which his troops would not enter Irkrutz. These terms included unmolested passage of his army Eastward, the cessation of hostilities, the payment of a large sum of money, the provisioning of his troops and the surrender of Kolchak. This occurred on February 5th.

"The Soviet refused these terms, executed the Admiral, and began the evacuation. On Feb. 8th Voitschovski's men are reported to have enter-

TO EDUCATE AGENTS REGARDING THE PACIFIC SLOPE

C.P.R. Plans to Show Passenger Agents Beauties of Vancouver Island

During the latter part of March more than fifty of the Canadian Pacific Railway's passenger agents will visit Vancouver Island as the result of plans made by President Beatty to put the passenger agents in closer touch with the requirements of the tourist trade. This is the first time in the history of the company that the entire force engaged in the supervision and solicitation of tourist traffic will visit British Columbit. The party will be conveyed to their destination in a special train and will be given every opportunity to secure a better knowledge of Vancouver, Victeria and other prominent places in British Columbia.

While it is expected that Mr. Robert Dawson, General Passenger Agent of the C. P. R. in this city, will be one of the party to take this trip, it was impossible to secure definite information as Mr. Dawson was out of the city.

FLIN FLON MINE DEAL AGREED ON

The Pas, Man., Feb. 28.—From reliable sources it is learned that the deal for the sale of the great sulphide ore body at Flin-Flon may be closed at any time now. HON. WALTER SCOTT AND SENATOR J. H. ROSS ON A TOUR AROUND WORLD

Regina, Sask., Feb. 28.—Hon. Walter Scott, ex-Premier of Saskatchewan, who is accompanying Senator J. H. Ross on a trip around the world for the benefit of the latter's health, states in a letter received by a friend here that Mr. Ross is distinctly improving in health. They left San Francisco shortly before Christmas, spent eight days in Japan, arriving at Manilla, where the letter was sent from, on Jan. 3rd. They intend visiting Egypt and India, thence across the Mediterranean to Italy, and across Europe through France and England.

COMPLETION OF RAILWAY IS MOST DESIRABLE

Hudson's Bay Railway Taps Rich Country Resources of Which Becoming Known

The Pas, Man., Feb. 28.—To tap the rich fisheries in Hudson's Bay, which Professor Prince, Dominion Commissioner of Fisheries, describes as more valuable than the Pacific fisheries at Prince Rupert, and to give access to the mineral deposits reported on both sides of the Bay, are leading considerations put forward for the immediate completion of the Hudson's Bay Railway. Professor J .B. Tyrrell believes that when the railway reaches the Bay it will cause a rush of mining men and prospectors to search every nook and corner of the huge inland sea for the mineral wealth reported upon by various members of the Geological Department of Canada. Tyrrell himself made one report concerning the prospects of finding mineral on the shores of the bay, and he pointed out that he expressed no fears as to the outcome of an organized search by trained field men.

Originally projected as a grain carrying route, and a shorter one to Europe, the Hudon's Bay Railway has now developed itself into a colonization road to tap resources hitherto conjectured at, but of which very little definite information was possessed. Only recently a report was issued describing the vast pulp wood areas South of the railway at a point near Kettle River, and a s cond area 15 miles off the railway on the Grassy river. These two areas combined approximately fifty million cords of pulp wood, it is stated. Coupled with what is already known of lesser pulp areas, and the total known pulp wood areas tributary to the railway may contain one hundred million cords. The railway was projected in 1911 and work was pushed until the Fall of 1917, when war conditions brought further work to a standstill. The grade, however, was fully completed from The Pas to Port Nelson on Hudson's Bay, a distance of 424 miles, and the steel laid for 332 miles, leaving a balance of 92 miles upon which to lay steel. Nothing has been done upon the railway since 1917, and unless work is resumed this year, it is claimed the road bed will suffer great deterioration and create an expense of ten million dollars to repair the damage.

STREET CAR SYSTEM WILL BE OBSOLETE WITHIN SEVEN YEARS

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 28.—Motor busses will be the prevailing system of transportation in Winnipeg within seven years, J. G. Glassco, manager of the city light and power department, predicts. He said he believed the present street car system will be obsolete by that time and that rails would be removed from the streets.

BRANDON UNITED FARMERS TO PLACE CANDIDATE IN FIELD

At the Next Provincial Election—Right and Justice Only Platform Necessary

SUGGESTS A BOYCOTT

Of Canadian Manufacturers As Retaliation For Withdrawal of Advertising

The United Farmers of Brandon decided on Saturday afternoon to place an independent candidate in the field at the next Provincial election. The decision was made at the regular meeting of the local branch of the United Farmers of Manitoba which was attended by about eighteen members. There was quite a lengthy discussion as to the platform to be adopted by the farmers for their provincial fight but it was stated that this was only a side issue and could be left over for further debate and deliberation. The local branch has also requested the head office of the United Grain Growers Limited to establish a store here and have recommended T. B. Stewart as manager.

Whether or not the farmers should enter the Provincial election field was a point which occupied considerable time at the meeting on Saturday. T. B. Stewart was strongly in favor of the placing of a local independent candidate in the field at once. R. Drysdale said the subject resolved itself into the question if the district warranted a candidate being put forward in Brandon. He said that 50 per cent. of the voters in the constituency lived in Brandon city. "The day is coming when we will get rid of hide bound politics," said Drysdale, "and as a farmers' organization we are getting away from the old system. We have been bled long enough."

Right and Justice

Roy McPhail wanted to know if any definite policy had been outlined by the local branch. He was answered that "what is good enough for Ontario is good enough for Manitoba," while another member replied that the only platform the farmers needed was "right and justice." A. Wilton declared that it was only right that the farmers should tackle both governments.

Telling of the way in which he had been robbed of many pounds of grain in the early days when he had been compelled to take the elevator weights and not the city weights, T. B. Stew- said that the City Board of Trade and Government had refused to make any move to remedy the matter. "But the Farmers' Government will," said Stewart. A. M. Macpherson declared that the farmers should not go into the provincial field without a program. "Right" is the only platform we need, replied Stewart.

Dr. J. F. Fisher was strongly in favor of the "right and justice" platform. A condition of affairs in the governments was slowly bringing about ruin to the country, and unless an independent man was placed in the field he would not get out and vote at the next Provincial election.

Farmers' Party a Wedge

Urging the farmers to form a party which would act as a wedge, H. L. Layet, Secretary of the Great War Veterans, said that the only way the farmers could get anything would be to send farmers to parliament to represent them. "If you send a lawyer down there and tell him what you want, he is only going to pass the buck. Form your party and you will soon have both parties at your feet."

That the electors had lost faith and confidence in both parties was the opinion of A. B. Hamilton, but he stated that there was no chance of electing a candidate unless that candidate had a platform. The Rev. Mr. Salton suggested that the first thing the farmers needed to go after was the party system. The producing class needed to be represented and not the few. He believed the farmers were the solution of the question and that they co-operate with the other producing classes. The labor units and returned men working with the farmers would speedily put labor on it's feet too, he asserted. He did not support class legislation in any form.

Necessary to Have Platform

President Tom Patterson said that it is absolutely necessary to have a platform, and to couple with it the referendum and recall. But there was no use in having a few men draw up a platform as it would then be a clique. H. L. Layet suggested that each local prepare a platform and submit it to the others. Dr. Fisher decrared that a platform could be drawn up satisfactorily. Roy McPhail wanted to know if it would be right for the farmers to ask the returned men and labor to co-operate with them in the coming elections, but was informed that that matter could be dealt with later.

The following motion was then proposed by George arMsden and carried unanimously: "Resolved that we the members of the Brandon branch of the United Farmers of Manitoba, deeming it in the best interests of the Province of Manitoba do hereby resolve to place an independent candidate in the field at the next Provincial election."

Speaking for those whom he termed the "returned citizens," H. L. Layet said that what the returned men wanted was a square deal. "The returned man does not care a whoop for Liberal or Conservative policies nor class legislation. The motion passed by the farmers will appeal to all soldiers and will invite them in on the new policy." He stated that the returned men would always look with suspicion on men like Flavelle and Davies. "The returned men and labor will stand by you, if you stand by them," asserted Layet. "Party politics is at the edge of destruction, they have done as much harm as they are going to, and the final judgment is to be passed on them soon." He urged them to be a party in themselves, a power in the House in a get-together spirit of co-operation.

Suggests a Boycott

That the Canadian Manufacturers' Association are doing their best to put the Grain Growers' Guide out of existence and have withdrawn over $10,000 worth of advertising from that Journal was the statement by President Patterson. As a step against the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, he suggested that the farmers cease buying Canadian goods, boycott them and buy from England and the United States. Mr. Patterson urged the opening here of a branch store or warehouse of the United Grain Growers' Company Limited, as he stated that the farmers could then buy their goods very much cheaper. He introduced Mr. T. B. Stewart to speak on the subject.

At the conclusion of the meeting it was decided to ask the head office of the United Grain Growers Limited to establish a branch store here, and the meeting recommended that Mr. Stewart be made it's first manager.

U. S. RAILROADS RETURNED TO PRIVATE OWNERS

Formal Transfer Completed At 12.01 Last Night—Wilson Signed Bill

Washington, March 1.—President Wilson signed the railroad bill, on the eve of the return of the roads to their owners and to private operation.

In a proclamation issued at that time the President vested in Walter D. Hines, Director General of Railroads, practically all the powers conferred on the executive by the bill. He will continue to exercise such duties of the office as carry on after the relinquishment of the roads at midnight Sunday.

The White House also made public the text of a letter written by Mr. Wilson to the representatives of the [illegible] him to name a commission composed virtually of employers' and employes' delegates to consider wage demands. The President tells the union men that the railroad bill itself provides for a bi-partisan board to act on wage questions.

The railway systems of the United States, operated as one great public utility since Dec. 28, 1917, will again be divided among their 230 respective owners after the government releases control. hus property and equipment valued at approximately $20,000,000,000 changes hands.

While all arrangements for formal restoration of the roads to their owners were completed Saturday, explanations were sent out Sunday to operating representatives of the railroads informing them that they would report to the proper officials of th corporations which resume control at 12.01 a.m. March 1st.

Mr. Hines will continue in his present capacity until about May 1st. He still faces the settlement of thousands of claims contracts and grievances.

RAILWAYS PUT EMBARGO ON CARS TO CALGARY UNTIL CONGESTION EASES

Calgary Alta., March 2.—So great is the accumulation of railroad cars containing wheat and oats, particularly the latter, that another embargo has been placed by the railways upon any more cars being billed to Calgary until the congestion has been relieved. The Canadian Pacific Railway states that there are 500 cars now here, which are only being unloaded at the rate of about forty a day.

It is stated on the Grain Exchange that a record amount of wheat and oats have been arriving here recently. The general inspections of inward cars from September last to March 1st were 7,028. For the corresponding period last year they were 4,110, while the total inspections for the whole of last year were 6,248. For January and February last year the total inspections were 492 cars, compared with 2,679 for these two months this year.

COLONIZATION PLAN TO GET AND KEEP SETTLERS

Mayor Brown, of Medicine Hat, Outlines Plan and Suggests Methods

FOR BETTER BUSINESS

Endorsation By Brandon Gathering of Business Men — Other Speakers

A resolution supporting the formation of a Provincial association for colonization purposes was passed Saturday after some interesting addresses on the subject had been made by several Western speakers. About 100 business men of Brandon sat down to a luncheon in the Prince Edward Hotel at noon Saturday, following which Mayor Brown of Medicine Hat, Principal A. O. McCrae of West Canada College, Calgary, General H. F. McDonald also of Calgary, and Mr. Sweatings, Industrial Commissioner of the C.P.R., all spoke on the need for colonization in the West and the great need for assistance to the settlers after they had come to Canada.

The decline in the rural population in recent years is the cause for the step now to be taken to bring more settlers into the country. It was stated that the United States has drawn many thousands of settlers away from Canada in the past ten years, despite the fact that Canada offers unequalled opportunities. The efforts of the Alberta Industrial Development Association and the success the association had had were set forth by the speakers who urged the organization of a provincial body to take over the colonization efforts for Manitoba. At the conclusion of the addresses a resolution was passed by the meeting endorsing the establishment of such an organization in Manitoba.

Interest the Business Men

In his opening remarks Mayor Brown of Medicine Hat paid a special tribute to Mr. A. E. McKenzie for his efforts in promoting a conference here between the representatives of the Western Boards of Trade. The speaker then said that if we wish to develop progress in Western Canada we must get together and form an organization similar to that formed in Alberta. This organization created a research bureau for iron and coal and is still carrying on research. He advised this province to establish a research bureau and to get the business men interested in the things that the Government found hard to handle.

When the Alberta Industrial Development Association was formed they took the view that outsiders must come in the province to view the resources if Alberta wished to go ahead with the development of the resources. As the result of the activities of this association the Government has now taken an active interest in the development work. Mayor Brown stated that during the past few years there has been a decline in the rural population of Western Canada. In Manitoba for instance in 1901, 72.04 per cent of the population lived in rural districts while in 1914 the percentage had shrunk to 44. This condition needs an immediate remedy, and the remedy is to get settlers into the country. At present there are 20,000,000 acres of vacant arable land within fifteen miles of a railway. If settlers are brought in this will mean increased business all round. The time has now arrived for an organization to be formed to promote colonization. Mayor Brown paid a compliment to Brandon when he said that he believed this city has done more for agriculture than any other city in Canada.

Canada Loses Settlers to U. S.

Speaking of the coming and going of people between the United States and Canada, Mayor Brown submitted figures that proved that the country to the South of us has made a gain of 265,000 in population during the last ten years at the expense of Canada. The figures showing the number of people going to the United States from Canada between 1909 and 1919 were 1,200,000 while those crossing from the United States to Canada were 935,000. With a country every bit as good as the United States we are losing citizens every year. The time is come when we must stop knocking Governments and co-operate with them. We must try to co-ordinate our efforts, make an effort to colonize the lands within a few miles of the railroads, and render effective aid to the settlers when they do come here. The speaker suggested a special campaign fund to raise $500,000 per year for three years to put over the colonization scheme. He stated that the per capita debt of the Provincial and Dominion debts in Alberta was $500 and that if we ever hoped to make all our debts and develop our country we must get settlers into Canada.

Keep Settlers in Canada

That one reason why the C.P.R. is behind the colonization scheme is because that railroad does not like to see the settlers go back to the United States was the statement made by Mr. Sweatings Industrial Commissioner for the C.P.R. The general reason why the men went back to the United States was because the settlers did not see what we have here. He urged the organization to proceed with the work of getting all the available land settled as soon as possible, and that assistance be given the settlers after they did settle on the land.

Need Disinterested Body

A disinterested public body is needed in Western Canada to deal with the colonization scheme, said Dr. A. O. McCrae, principal of West Canada College, Calgary. The movement must not be one of class or body. It would do away with the professional boosters. "We don't need to exaggerate the resources of Canada, the truth is enough," declared Dr. McCrae. "We can show prospective settlers that we stand behind them. It is not enough to send them out to the farms—we need to look after them. No land can truly prosper which produces solely for foreign consumption." He asked for less individualistic and more co-operative efforts to be made, and that the spirit of Canada needs to be electrified with a spirit of mutual helpfulness. The class cry is a passing feature, and when we learn to co-operate our efforts then will we make for a real Canada.

Tell the World

General H. F. McDonald of Calgary, Secretary of the Alberta Colonization Association said that one thing we learned out of the war was co-operation. He looked upon the opportunity of taking part in the colonization movement as a public service. We have many national policies but the only one for Western Canada is one agriculturally and industrially. We must not face the world as a certain class of industry but as an entity which would stand for rights and get them. He advised business men forming advisory boards and backing the settlers. He said that there is no use telling each other about our country but to get out and tell the world.

Resolution Endorsed

The following resolution supporting the formation of a Colonization Association, was then moved by Mr. A. Shewan and carried: "Whereas the great need of Western Canada today is an increase in the agricultural population and production, and the development of the country is being seriously delayed by the large areas of vacant arable land, and whereas the immigration and colonization efforts of the past have proved inadequate.

"Be it resolved: That this meeting of the business men of the City of Brandon do pledge their unqualified support to the movement for increased settlement inaugurated by the Western Canada Colonization Association and do heartily endorse the formation of the Manitoba branch of this Association, and further be it resolved that it is in the opinion of this meeting that the utmost discrimination should be exercised in the selection of the settlers."

The committee which was formed a week ago to make arrangements reported and after some discussion it was decided to have the reunion of the Battalion, Friday evening, March 26th. A dance will be held on this date in the City Hall.

PETITIONS FOR THE RELEASE OF JOHN FARNELL

Sentenced To Nine Months In Provincial Jail For Seditious Utterances

Petitions for the release of John Farnell, sentenced to nine months in the Provincial jail for seditious utterances, will be circulated throughout the Dominion among returned soldier organizations, Thos. Dunn, Secretary of the ex-Soldiers' and Sailors' Labor League announced Monday. The petition is based on compassionate and patriotic grounds.

The petition is being prepared by the Labor Defence League and the ex-Soldiers' and Sailors' Labor League. Attempts will be made to have other returned soldiers' organizations join in an endeavor to obtain the release of the prisoner.

Marcus Hymanz, defence counsel for John Farnell during the trial, is preparing the petition. This petition will be based on a number of grounds; according to his counsel. These are: Farnell is a returned soldier, having twice enlisted and been as far as England. He also has voluntarily served in the U.S.A. Liberty Loan campaign. Farnell is a married man, his wife at present being in a precarious condition in the General Hospital due to the shock of the sentence inflicted on her husband. The general public will be asked to sign the petition, officials of the Defence League stated. The main response, however, is expected from the returned soldier organizations.

John Farnell was convicted on February 18th on a charge of having made seditious utterances on the evening of June 20th, 1919, which resulted the following day in the holding of a parade contrary to Mayor C. F. Gray's proclamation. In the riots two men were killed.

A BUG WITH 25,000 EYES

Answers: Are you aware that there is a species of beetle, called the mordella, which can see out of the back of its head? Yes, the mordella beetles are well provided for in the matter of eyesight, for they possess twenty-five thousand tiny optics each.

Under a magnifying glass, these eyes are beautiful "sights," giving off wonderful prismatic colors. A miscroscopic examination reveals what looks like a section of honeycomb, and each of these seemingly unlimited number of eyes has a perfect lens system.

Probably next to the magnificent mordella beetle, the ordinary common dragon fly ranks for its remarkable supply of eyes. This insect is said to have no less than twenty thousand eyes, and naturalists have been known to declare that the dragon fly can observe anything from any point without even moving the head or any part of its body.

The horsefly, too, has eyes by the thousand, and its head is one mass of miscroscopic optics.

Spiders, however, have not so many eyes, though, judging by the way spiders look out for flies as food, one would think they have "eyes all over the place."

NEW HOME RULE BILL FILLS HEALEY WITH DESPAIR

Fought For Ireland Forty Years In House of Commons—Bill Is Impossible

Dublin, March 2.—"The new Home Rule Bill fills me with despair," said Tim Healey, in discussing the government's last Irish measure, which was first published here on Thursday. "For forty years in the House of Commons I have been fighting the battle for Ireland, now it all seems wasted. Five years ago this bill might have been acceptable, but now, after the increased bitterness, the bill is impossible. I despair at seeing during my life-time any hope for Ireland," added Mr. Healey.

With practically no exceptions the bill is condemned throughout the South of Ireland. There is a widespread belief that the measure was only introduced in order to wipe the act of 1914 off the statute books. As yet there has been no definite decision on the part of the Nationalists as to the tactics and measures by which the bill is to be met.

May Signal Carson's Downfall

The Sinn Fein refuse to undertake any constitutional action. At least three suggestions are made regarding the results of the bill. First, that the government meant its enforcement beyond the clause cancelling the previous act. Second, if enforced, the elections will see the first sitting of parliament at Dublin a signal for bloody riots and rebellion. Third, that the Machiavellian observer sees in its enforcement the possibility of the downfall of Sir Edward Carson.

The South of Ireland would accept the partition and then, when the dividing line was drawn, would boycott the North. As the Southern counties are the best customers Belfast possesses, Ulster would be forced to accept union parliament on any terms. The general disposition, however, seems to be to treat the bill with contempt, disregarding it absolutely.

ALLIED SUPREME COUNCIL EMBODIES ECONOMIC IDEAS IN SERIES OF RESOLUTIONS

London, March 2.—Indications were given for the first time Monday as to what the Allied Supreme Council expects to do as a result of its investigations of high prices, exchange and other economic questions, when it was decided to embody the council's ideas in resolutions. So far as is known, nothing more will be the definite outcome of the council's investigations.

The council has reached an agreement on general lines and the data in hand was turned over to a drafting committee to draw up the resolutions. Baron Moncheur, the Belgian ambassador in London has joined the conference.

While the economic discussions were going on at No. 10 Downing street, the foreign ministers, with Viscount Chinda, the Japanese ambassador, continued work on the Turkish treaty at the Foreign office.

ARRESTS ORDERED FOR ASSAULT ON FRENCH OFFICER

Who Refused To Rise When Deutschland Uber Alles Was Played In Dining Room

PROVISIONAL ARREST

Of Cousin of Former German Emperor Ordered — Missiles Hurled at, Frenchman

Berlin, March 8. — Gustave Noske, Minister of Defense, has ordered the provisional arrest of Prince Joachi Albrecht, of Prussia, cousin of the former Emperor, and Baron von Platen for assaulting Capt. Rougheven, French officer in the hotel Adlon, when he refused to stand up in the dining room when "Deutschland Uber Allies" was played. Candles, crockery and other missiles were hurled at the Frenchman.

MONTREAL COMMENT ON CANCELLATION OF VISIT OF JANE ADDAMS TO TORONTO

Montreal, March 8.—The Montreal Gazette says: Toronto university's president protests the cancellation of Miss Jane Addams' visit, but it is probably just as well that the event was declared off. Toronto invited William Jennings Bryan to come and then grossly insulted him. It would be unfortunate to have such incidents occur before invited foreign guests. The Torontonians should first assure themselves that the persons singled out for the high honor, absolutely conform to the local exalted standard of thought.

STIFF OPPOSITION TO A RETURN TO PATRONAGE SYSTEM

[illegible] Service Federatio, is strongly opposed to a revision to the party patronage system in regard to civic service appointments, was plainly evidenced at Monday afternoon's session of the convention being held in the Great War Veterans' Association club rooms. The members practically unanimously endorsed the action of the president Mr. Frank Grierson, who on receipt of a letter from W. P. R. Preston, of Port Hope, stated he intended instituting an active campaign for the support of party patronage, replied in no uncertain terms that Mr. Preston need not look to the federation for any assistance in his efforts and intimating that he (Mr. Grierson) could not conceive of any sane man, much less a good citizen, espousing the cause.

A resolution endorsing the action of the president was almost unanimously supported, the only member against this proposal being Mr. Matheson of Toronto, who while not in favor of party patronage, thought the expression of an opinion by the federation would stir up trouble between that body and the many members of parliament. He argued that as they were shortly going to bring the bonus question up, it would be foolish to make enemies over a matter which really rested with parliament.

The only other business of importance was an application from the Amalgamated Postal Workers' for affiliation with the federation. The president and secretary of the Postal Workers were both in attendance and stated their case, but the matter was referred to committee for report.

Juryman Taken Ill With Influenza—Adjournment May Be For Some Time

Winnipeg, March 9. — Indefinite postponement of the trial of the seven strike leaders is predicted today. James Jack, Riddville, the juryman who was taken ill during the morning session on Monday is reported to be suffering from an attack of influenza. Justice Metcalfe formally adjourned the court until 10 a.m. Thursday but stated that the adjournment would be continued if Jack had not improved by that time.

A Flimsy Excuse

Winnipeg, March 9. — Ridiculing what he termed the flimsy excuse the "Reds" had given for calling the general strike of last Summer, A. J. Andrews, K.C., senior counsel for the Crown in the trial of the seven strike leaders Monday, contended that the real reason was that they had been obsessed by the spirit of damning everything associated with constituted authority.

"Damn interest, damn rent, damn profits, damn agreement!"

These words from red propaganda Mr. Andrews quoted against the accused, and followed up the quotation with the statement: "You will learn later on that the pretext or excuse for calling this strike was to enforce their interpretation of collective bargaining, and yet the very first act was to encourage men who had entered into bargains collectively with the city of Winnipeg and other people to violate their agreements almost before the ink was dry."

"That was their doctrine," commented Mr. Andrews, after a pause that gave dramatic effect to the words, "damn agreements!"

Mr. Andrews did not finish his address Monday afternoon, as was expected. One of the jurymen was seized with illness.

WELL KNOWN MEN TO GIVE ADDRESSES TO KIWANIANS

Col. P. E. Perrett, Principal Saskatchewan Normal School Coming Here Monday

Colonel P. E. Perrett, Principal of the Saskatchewan Normal School, who went overseas in April, 1916, with the Sixty-eighth Battalion, will be the special speaker at the Kiwanis Club luncheon next Monday in the Prince Edward Hotel. For perseverance and pluck it would be difficult to beat the record of Colonel Perrett. Blinded while on active service, he entered St. Dunstan's School and there fitted himself to return to Canada and resume his duties as Principal of the Normal School. This he accomplished and arrived home early last year. He has had a wide field of experience and his address should be of deep interest.

Within the course of the next few weeks Brandon Kiwanians will have the opportunity of hearing addresses from two other eminent speakers. The Hon. William Ferdinand A. Turgeon, K.C., B.A., M.L.A., Attorney General of the Saskatchewan Legislature since 1907, will address the Kiwanians and the Hon. S. J. Latta, Minister of Highways for Saskatchewan, has also consented to visit the city for this purpose.

At the meeting of the club held on Monday at noon, a committee was appointed to co-operate in the plans for opening the new river park. The Kiwanians are very much in favor of this project and intend to give it all the assistance possible.

FEATURES OF DEBATES IN THE HOUSE COMMONS

Ottawa, March 9. — Features of Monday's session of the Dominion Parliament are:

Committee appointed to confer with a committee from the Senate on the form of memorial to be erected in the parliament buildings to Lieut.-Col. Baker, former member for Brome, who was killed in action.

Sir Henry Drayton said that gold [illegible] discharge obligations and not to correct exchange.

Sir Thomas White, in a two-hour speech on the address, said that the government should carry on. Canada wanted an opportunity to go about her business, not an election. He defended his financial administration.

A. B. Copp insisted that the opposition was in earnest in demanding an election. He urged greater Maritime representation in the cabinet.

R. L. Richardson declared his opposition to increased freight and passenger tariffs.

G. A. Gauvreau objected to the proposed appointment of Hon. Albert Sevigny as Parliamentary Librarian.

Dr. R. J. Manion announced that he would vote against the amendment and favored a high tariff on luxuries and a low one on necessaries.

Other speakers were P. Michaud, Restigouche-Madawaska, who said he would vote for the amendment. Dr. Peter McGibbon, Muskoka; James McIsaac, Kings (Prince Edward Island), and Dr. D. W. Cowan, Regina, who were all opposed to the amendment.

BRITAIN NOT TO BORROW OUTSIDE UNITED KINGDOM

London, March 9.—J. Austen Chamberlain Chancellor of the Exchequer, discussing in the House of Commons the decision not to renew the Anglo-French loan in the United States, stated that Great Britain had no intention of re-borrowing outside the United Kingdom any part of the sum required, so that when the loan is repaid Great Britain will have regulated her external debt by more than £50,000,000.

The Chancellor added:

"We shall employ for the purposes resources already available in the United States, and to the extent to which they are not sufficient we shall ship gold. We have already made a beginning by buying Anglo-French bonds in the market at a considerable discount below par."

POSTAL WORKERS SEEK AGREEMENT

Delegation Would Heal Breach Created At Time of the Strike

Ottawa, March 9.—With the object of bringing about co-operation in common among post office employes throughout Canada, five delegates from Western Canada are in the city this week conferring with the post office employes here. In a word it is an endeavor to heal a split in the ranks of the Letter Carriers' Federation, which occurred last year.

The Western delegates are: F. Knowles, Vancouver; F. W. Redman, Regina; J. McConaghy, Vancouver; C. Sivert, Victoria, and J. A. Elrick. The delegates stated that during their stay in Ottawa they expected to meet representatives of the railway mail clerks, but stated that the representatives of the letter carriers were not prepared to meet them.

They held a most friendly meeting with representatives of the postal clerks and presented to them suggestions on which could be based co-operation of both the postal employes from the [illegible] The representatives of the clerks, however, did not give their reply at Monday's meeting but decided not to give their reply until after the convention of postal clerks to be held here on March 22nd.

The trouble, it is said, started from a strike in July, 1918, when practically all the post office employes from Sault Ste. Marie to the Pacific coast went out on strike. The heads of the organization ordered the strikers back to work, which led the Western body to break away.

MANY EX-SERVICE MEN LEAVE OLD LAND FOR CANADA

Twelve Thousand Have Already Sailed or Are About To Do So

London, March 9.—In the house of commons yesterday the under-secretary for the colonial office explained that the overseas settlement committee having secured effective co-operation with Dominion in directing emigration to Canada, had granted ex-service men easy terms. Eighteen thousand applications had been received and eleven or twelve thousand had already sailed or are about to sail. From the point of view of safety of the empire, one emigrant to Canada is worth twenty times as much as one who went to a friendly country like the United States.

Quebec, March 9.—The Bureau of Mines report that the mineral production of 1919 totalled $20,701,005, nearly two million dollars more than in the previous year. Asbestos accounted for half the amount.

FAT CATTLE SALE THURSDAY NETTED SUM OF $37,238

Premier Norris Presided Over Sale of 206 Fat Cattle—Feature Event

AN EVEN BREAK

Manager Smale Estimates That Winter Fair Did Not Lose Money

The record sum of $37,238.00 was realized from the sale of fat cattle held in the Arena on Thursday evening. The cattle were weighed on Saturday before being shipped to Winnipeg and the price of each animal reckoned. The amount received from this sale is away in excess of any previous sale figures as there was 206 animals disposed of Thursday night. This year the carload lots added a large number of cattle to the show and their disposal made a big jump in the sale figures. Practically all of the cattle were shipped to Winnipeg, the majority of the buyers being agents of the Winnipeg Live Stock Exchange and of the packing houses in that city.

Handicapped by sickness in the office staff, Mr. Smale and his assistants are hard at work making out the prize money awards and completing the last details connected with Manitoba's big Winter Fair. Mr. Smale stated this morning that he believed the Fair would go an even break this year with the receipts and expenditures. This is most encouraging in view of the fact that the Fair went behind several thousand dollars in 1919. About thirty horses still remain in the horse barns owing to the fact that they are unable to make proper train connections until Tuesday. It is expected that by Tuesday night all exhibits which took part in the Winter Fair will have left the Arena.

WELL KNOWN FIRMS MAY OCCUPY FINE PREMISES

Brandon Being Favorably Considered By Another Wholesale Grocery Firm

There is every reason to believe that the Gordon McKay building will shortly be occupied by several well known Western firms. Negotiations are now being conducted to induce a large wholesale grocery concern to establish here, while it is understood that two other firms may also decide to take some space in the building. The arrangements have been practically completed, but a final decision on the matter will not be arrived at until the end of this week. The matter is being taken up with the directors of the grocery company in Winnipeg and a further report on their decision is looked for this week. It is also known that the Dominion Rubber Company and the J. F. Price Company have the McKay building under consideration if the Winnipeg concern decides to locate here.

Another matter which received the attention of the Board of Trade during the week and which will be taken up further was the location of a permanent barracks for the Mounted Police in this city. At present the Government has under consideration the building of ten barracks throughout Canada for the Mounted Police, and a wire dispatched to Dr. H. P. Whidden, M.P., at Ottawa, brought back the response that Brandon's claim for the location of a permanent home for the Mounted Police is being seriously considered.

CHAMPIONSHIPS FEATURE LAST DAY AT WINTER FAIR

Dunure Gayman, Champion Clydesdale Horse; Marquisat, Best Percheron; Paramount Flashwood Judged To Be Best Belgian—Third Judge Called In To Award Manitoba Stud Prize

Manitoba's big Winter Fair for 1920 has passed into history. With the staging of a complete program by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and a parade of the prize winning horses, the fair came to a close Friday evening. Only a small crowd turned out to see what was probably the best program of the week. The work of the judges was concluded in the afternoon when the championships in the horse classes were awarded, many horsemen being in the Arena to watch the final placing of the premier ribbons.

The Winter Fair of 1920 was the best quality show ever held in Canada, said Manager Smale. The attendance was not as large as it might have been owing to sickness in town and country, but the Fair officials state that they are well satisfied with the week's results. Professor Pew, who is not only the best cattle judge in America, but who is also a splendid horse judge, stated that the Clydesdale class was the best he has ever seen, while the Percherons were also par excellence. So much has been said about the beef cattle that it is unnecessary to say more, except to repeat that it was the best exhibit of cattle ever gathered together in Canada. The poultry show also set new records with over 4,000 entries and there is much credit coming to the poultry officials for the efficient way in which they handled their work.

Special Stock Train

A large number of the animals were taken from the barns on Friday, but the majority left this morning. A special stock train of twenty-six cars leaves today over the C.N.R. for Winnipeg carrying the cattle which were sold on Thursday night to the members of the Winnipeg Stock Exchange and the Winnipeg packing firms. Owing to train schedules, several owners will be compelled to keep some of their stock over until Monday in the Arena barns. The poultry [illegible] started to move Friday night at nine o'clock and the work of crating up and sending the exhibits to the owners will take a lot of time.

Large Crowd to See Judging

There was a large crowd in the Arena, Friday afternoon when the champion classes in the horses were brought together. Ben Finlayson of Brandon secured a notable win in the Clydesdale class when his imported horse Dunure Gayman was declared grand champion. W. I. Elder's Rose of the Maples was the champion mare. Trotter and Trotter with Marquisat took the championship among the Percherons, making a three-times champion. In the Percherons, Mandy Lee was champion mare, while Paramount Flashwood, George Rupp's Belgian stallion was champion of his class. The Manitoba Stud prize was only decided after a third judge was called in, Prof. Pew finally giving the award to Baron Wallace of Hillcrest.

Sales and Exchanges

Among the big sales which have been made lately was one by Ben Finlayson of Brandon who sold Footprint Legacy, a Percheron stallion to W. Tyndall of Bradwardine for the sum of $5,000. Tyndall has just recently moved from Saskatchewan to Bradwardine and this addition to the stock he already has will give him a big boost among Manitoba horse men. W. I. Elder of Brandon sold an agricultural team, a draft team and the grand champion mare, Rose of the Maples to Alex. Murchie of Shoal Lake for the price of $3,700. Mr. Murchie is the man who visited his farm, via the airplane route, last Summer while he was in Brandon visiting the Fair. W. H. English of Oak River exchanged his Clydesdale Duke O' Craigie Mains to McLelland Bros. of Emerson for Elator Baron.

Among the events on the program arranged for the Winter Fair, the attractions staged by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and the playing of the Salvation Army band, come in for special mention. The performance of the Mounted Police was splendid all through. The Salvation Army band provided excellent music during the week, many favorable comments being made on their program.

The Championships

In the Clydesdales, Ben Finlayson secured the Purple ribbon on Dunure Gayman, the aged horse, newly imported from Scotland.

Taylor of Souris was reserve with the Canadian bred Baron Wallace of Hillcrest. This horse having a chance to compete against Gayman, only because he was a Canadian bred champion. There are bett" horses in the show as he stood fourth in the open class, being beaten by Passion Flower and Leviot Knight, both belonging to Finlayson. Champion mare went to W. I. Elder, Brandon, on Rose of the Maples, a decidedly outstanding win.

Trotter & Trotter, Brandon, with Marquisat again took the championship among the Percherons. This makes him three times Champion. Judges declare that this is the best fitted and shown horse they have seen on the American continent. Picked from a farmer's yard running at a straw pile in North Dakota, Bill Rogers, the man to whom the credit must be given, saw a winner and with good handling and fitting has developed a remarkable horse.

Catalpha Grove Paulua ,owned by C. D. Roberts of Winnipeg, was reserve.

In Percheron female championship, Mandy Lee again displayed her superiority over all comers by being decked with the purple ribbon.

C. D. Roberts got reserve with Marion, a smooth, big grey.

Paramount Flashwood, belonging to Geo. Rupp of Lampman, Sask., repeated his International win by beating Dr. Head's Fox De Rosbecke for the Belgian Championship.

Champion and Reserve Belgian mare both went to C. D. Roberts, Winnipeg, on Martha and Cad Carter, respectively.

Judges Disagreed

The class for the Manitoba Stud prize created a deal of enthusiasm and in that the breeds clashed.

R. E. Drennan and W. Gibson, the judges, could not agree, and a third man had to be called in.

The dispute arose over the two horses, "Marquisat," the champion Percheron, and Baron Wallace of Hillcrest, the Canadian bred Clydesdale. Drennan claimed that the Percheron horse was a better specimen of the breed than the Clyde was of his. The Clyde weighs 1,760 lbs. while Marquisat tipped the beam at 2,190. Prof. Pew was called to decide and awarded first to Baron Wallace, owned by Taylor of Souris, giving Trotter & Trotter second.

Thursday was easi[illegible] the greatest day of the fair. Featured by the attendance of the members of the Legislature and the Winnipeg Live Stock Exchange, and attended by a crowd which packed the big Arena particularly for the evening program, the fourth day of the fair was a huge success from every standpoint. The judging in the Boys' Fat Calf Competition provided the feature event of the day, when Glen Campbell's Angus steer secured first prize out of an entry list of 76 calves and later was proclaimed Grand Champion of the show. Another sensation was sprung late on in the evening at the sale when Richard Hamilton's Grade Shorthorn, which took second place in the calf competition brought the record price of $1.31 a pound, and the prize winner was sold for fifty cents per pound.

One of those features that are not found on the program was the presentation of a flock of sheep to Miss E. Cora Hind by the Wool Growers of Manitoba. The presentation took place just before the evening performance. During the day the Poultry men held their annual meeting and elected their officers for the coming year, while their banquet in the evening was largely attended. The judging in the cattle and horse classes were finished, except the championship awards in the horses which are being awarded this afternoon. The evening performance started early, and was cut short at 9.30 to permit the sale of fat stock.

Winner Grand Championship

Glen Campbell, of Chater, Man., the nine year old exhibitor in the Boys' Fat Calf Competition, Grand champion of the show with his Angus Grade calf, Elapsis Junior, sired by Elapsis of Glencarnock 3rd, in addition to capturing the first prize of $100 awarded by the Winter Fair Association, will receive the fifty dollar prize given by the Canadian Aberdeen Angus Association for the first prize calf sired by an Angus bull. He also receives the thirty-five dollars award from the American Aberdeen Angus Association for the highest standing Angus in the class and another prize of ten dollars. This makes a total of $195 in prize money secured by this young stock feeder. The calf was sold to Dan Couglin of the Winnipeg Stock Exchange for the sum of $525, which brings the total up to $720.

Richard Hamilton's Earnings

Richard Hamilton, of Brandon, who exhibited a beautiful white Shorthorn calf, netted $1,312.10 as a result of his winnings and the sale of his calf for $1,192.10, or $1.31 per pound, to Mr. Wright of Drinkwater, who intends to exhibit it at the International Stock Show in Chicago next Fall. This exhibitor, who is just ten years of age, secured the second prize of $90 in the Boys' Fat Calf Competition; the Dominion Shorthorn Breeders' Association prize of $20 for the calf sired by a Shorthorn bull standing highest in the competition; and an additional prize of $10 donated by the Shorthorn Club of Manitoba.

Wonderful Calves

When the seventy-five entries in the Boys' Fat Calf Class appeared in the ring, stockmen had the opportunity of gazing upon the finest class of beef cattle shown anywhere in the Dominion. With very few exceptions the calves were all top notchers, well fitted and well shown.

Prof. Pew of Iowa. had no small task to pick out the winners and after two hours strenuous work finally selected, to the satisfaction of all, the beautiful Angus calf fed and exhibited by nine year old Glen Campbell of Chater. This calf is extremely well fleshed and handles well. Richard Hamilton, aged ten, of Brandon, was an extremely close second with Snowball, a beautiful white Shorthorn showing equally as much beef conformation but not so firm in flesh. A beast much after the style of the first, an Angus grade, exhibited by James Sandercock, of Justice, Man., was third. This animal did not carry the covering of the first two, but was indeed a credit to the boy who fitted her.

Glen Campbell, the boy calf feeder, walked off with the Grand Championship of the show with his Angus grade calf, Elapsis Junior. The calf showed to great advantage, displayed more beef conformation, had more covering and was much more finished than the McGregor steer which stood reserve. Prof. Pew stated that this was the finest calf he had ever had his hand on.

Prize Winning Boys and Calves

Result of judging in Boys' Fat Calf competition:—1, Glen Campbell, aged nine, Chater, Man., Grade Angus steer; 2, Richard Hamilton, aged ten, Brandon, Man., Grade Shorthorn; 3, James Sandercock, aged twelve, Justice, Man., Grade Angus heifer; 4, George W. Curry, aged twelve, Kenton, Man., Hereford steer; 5, Duncan Craig, aged sixteen, Brookdale, Shorthorn heifer; 6, F. Norman Robinson, aged fifteen, Millwood, Angus heifer; 7, Kenneth Anderson, aged eleven, Roland, Shorthorn steer; 8, James Bowman, aged twelve, Alexander, Angus steer; 9, Birkett Mitchell, aged fifteen, Douglas, Shorthorn steer; 10, Frank Allison, aged eleven, Roland, Shorthorn steer; 11, Stewart Simpson, aged fourteen, Beresford, Hereford heifer; 12, Jonnie Turner, aged nine, Carroll, Angus steer; 13, G. W. Wilkinson, aged fourteen, Brandon, Angus steer; 14, Eddie Wadorck, aged fifteen, Millwood, Angus heifer; 15, Russell Wishart, aged fourteen, Portage la Prairie, Angus steer; 16, Togo Martin, aged fourteen, Margaret, Angus heifer; 17, Ross H. Allison, aged fourteen, Roland, Shorthorn heifer; 18, George Thomster, aged fourteen, Brandon, Shorthorn heifer; 19, George Cole, aged twelve, Burnbank, Shorthorn steer; 20, Arthur Cochrane, aged thirteen, Brandon, Shorthorn steer; 21, W. M. Duthie, aged fourteen, Hartney, Shorthorn steer; 22, Crossley Cheavyins, aged fourteen, Douglas, Shorthorn steer; 23, Dick Warrener, aged nine, Miniota, Shorthorn steer; Willard Scharff, aged eleven, Hartney, Hereford steer.

Clydesdales

Lovers of Clydesdales had the opportunity of witnessing what was probably the greatest showing of its kind in Canada. There were forty-two entries in this class and all good ones. Ben Finlayson, of Brandon, made a clean sweep capturing first, second and third awards with three wonderful horses. Dunure Gayman, a typical Clydesdale stallion, ired by Baron of Buckyvie from the Dunlop stud was first. He is a credit to Mr. Finlayson and a wonderful future is predicted for this horse in the West. Passion Flower by Auclen Flower, brought out a very different type. He is a massive horse, well coupled, lightly rougher than Gayman, has a splendid set of feet and is a very graceful mover. Leviot Knight, a horse with less range, but very smoothly got up showing rare quality, obtained third place. Baron's Clyde, owned by J. H. Garbett, of Rapid City, was fourth. This horse shows considerable breeding. He has a beautiful set of limbs and is a good mover.

Belgians

There were six entries in the class for four year old Belgians. First place went to the International Champion, Paramount Flashwood, a beautiful strawbery roan, showing a top and set of underpinning that would take some beating. This horse was exhibited by George Rupp of Lampman. C. S. Head of Regina, Sask., with his John De Montignies was a good second. This was a massive colt and belgian men would do well to watch his future. He was bred and raised in Brandon district by John Crawford.

Percherons

The aged class of Percherons brought forth the greatest showing of horses of this breed ever seen here. Judge Drennan said, "This is beyond doubt the greatest class on which I have ever been asked to pass judgment."

Twenty-four beautiful greys and blacks fitted to perfection and well groomed, graced the sawdust ring for over one hour before the judge finally selected Marquisat, owned by Trotter & Trotter, of Brandon, to take first place. This horse is a splendid big black, very symetrical, in wonderful bloom, has excellent feet and legs and is a good mover. Second place went to Dr. Head, of Regina, for Kiev, a big powerful black, well balanced, with a good set of underpinning. W. H. Devine, of Brandon, was third on Durant, which looks like a real horse. He had the best top of any horse in the ring, but lacked the quality at the ground of those above him. This horse stood fourth in a strong class at the recent Chicago International. C. D. Robertson, of Winnipeg, was fourth with a well coupled black, Harry, with less weight than the other horses which secured awards. Vincent Shore of Alexander, captured fifth for Napier, a product of the Bar U Ranch, Alberta.

[illegible] morning at the Arena was that of a Percheron mare owned by James Ramsay, of Lauder, to another exhibitor, for the price of $1,500.

THURSDAY'S EVENTS

Car Lots of Steers

A new feature to this year's Fair in the cattle class was judged this morning. This was the carload lot of fat steers, fifteen steers comprising a carload. Professor W. H. Pew, of Iowa, judging the cattle in the pens. James Turner, of Carroll, had an outstanding win with his group of Angus grades. They have been well fed and carried a good deal more flesh, and showed, with one exception, more beef type than those following. Second place also went to Angus grades exhibited by the Industrial School, Brandon. This car lot, while not showing as much type as those in third place, carried more flesh and were in better finish. The agricultural College, of Winnipeg, showed a very uniform lot, but lacked finish and secured third place. There were seven entries in this class, and the first prize was worth $450 to the winner.

In groups of five steers over 1100 pounds, James Turner was again first with Angus Grades. The Indian Industrial School was second, James Turner third, and John Killoh, of Hamiota, fourth. The steers competing in the car lots were not eligible for this class. The judging in the cattle events is proceeding, the judges having a big task ahead of them to complete their work on schedule time.

Dray or Cartage Team

When the nine entries in the dray class appeared in the ring it did not look as if the motor truck had by any means supplanted the draft horse in this particular business at least. All the outfits were a credit to the men who fitted them and all were worthy of a prize in any show ring. The crowd displayed a great deal of interest in this class. In the judging forty per cent. was allowed for the horses, thirty-five per cent. for grooming and fitting and twenty-five per cent. for harness and dray.

The Western Canada Flour Mills secured a popular win with their big draft team of grey Percherons. They still show plenty of style and keep in wonderful trim considering their age. The Coca Cola Company of Brandon was awarded second prize for a nicely matched pair of dappled greys, well groomed and neatly harnessed. McDiarmid & Clark were third with a pair of chunky Clydes, but slightly overdressed.

Clydesdales

There were forty-two entries in Clydesdale three year olds, a remarkable showing of Canadian breeding. After an hour's strenuous work Judge Gibson finally selected the Canadian bred colt Zero King, sired by Baron of Arcola and owned by R. W. Hammill, Regina, Sask., for first place. This animal is a very uniform colt of fine quality, ample substance and very fair action. Ben Finlayson of Brandon was a good second with his imported horse, Footprints Legacy, by Dunure Footprints, undoubtedly the greatest sire in the world today. This horse had just arrived after a long journey and did not show to the best advantage. He has a wonderful set of feet and legs showing rare quality. Caradoc Magic, owned by Swanton Haggerty, Belle Plains, was third. This colt was very evenly balanced and showed good action. Andrew Graham of Pomeroy was fourth with Sandy Johnston by Johnston Count, one of Manitoba's outstanding stallions. Sandy showed real draft type and was a nice mover, although a little plainer than those above him.

The newly imported colt Jack Canuck, owned by Ben Finlayson of this city was at the top in the two year old class. He has great substance, with quality and splendid action. Caradoc Hiawatha secured second place. This animal is a smooth colt with symmetry, hard quality of bone, a good mover but a trifle plain. The owner is Swanton Haggerty of Belle Plains. Andrew Graham of Roland obtained the third award with Garloch, a younger looking colt with lots of style and a flash of movement. Carry On, owned by W. J. McCallum, Brampton, Ont., stood fourth. This horse was a little heavier type than the others above him, and not so good in action. It had more substance and will develop into a fine draft stallion. This colt was bred and raised in the Brandon district by J. P. Hopwood.

A strong class showed up in the four-year-old Clydesdales. First place going to Ben Finlayson on an imported horse, Bonnie Earn, a very typical horse, showing ample size combined with good underpinning. Glenifer Stamp, exhibited by John Todd, of Rapid City, a horse with a wonderful top, came second. R. H. Bryce, of St. Charles, with a grandson of old Baron's Pride was third.

Belgians

Six well balanced colts appeared in the three year old class, all displaying much more of the desired type than has been seen previously. First prize was secured by George Rupp of Lampman, Sask. for his Pioneer Masterpiece, a well balanced horse with ample bone of the right calibre, a wide flat foot with a nicely sloped pastern. E. Armstrong & Sons of Russell, Man. obtained second place for a colt equally as well turned as the first but a little faulty in the quality of bone and not so good at the ground. Farceur Ft., by the $47,000 horse, Farceur, is a long piece away from his dad. He showed flat in rib and carried little style.

There were only two entries in the yearling class. First place went to George Rupp, Lampman, Sask., for Farceur Again. Milton, owned by Charles Andries, of Deloraine, secured second place.

Percherons

A nice group of stallions turned out in the three year old Percherons. They all showed real type and were nicely fitted. C. D. Roberts & Sons of Winnipeg were first with a big colt, Catalpa Grove Paulus. This horse is a splendid mover and showed more type than the others. W. H. Devine of Brandon was a close second on a very uniform colt, Linot P., which showed a good set of feet and legs and moved a trifle better than the first place horse. Third prize was secured by P. & S. Wicklund, of Mutrie, for Mark, a nicely turned black with scarcely the range of the first two. B. H. Moore of Rouleau, stood fourth with Abraham, a well balanced grey.

The yearling class produced a good bunch of colts. J. H. Crowe of Gilbert Plains was first with President Wilson, a smooth black, well topped, set on good limbs and a flashy mover. Second prize went to V. Shore of Alexander, for Pride of Lea View, a horse much the same as the first place animal, but scarcely as good on the ground and with a discount for action. J. W. Reid of Forrest carried off the third award on Sultan, a thick colt lacking a little in type.

W. H. Devine made a clean sweep in the class for four-year-old Percherons, his four entries standing clear at the top of the list. The class was a strong one composed of seventeen colts, and all good ones. First place went to Chevalier, a big growthy grey showing a great top. Robert Braden, a nice smooth black came second, while third went to Dunhams Iago, a well balanced horse showing better underpinning than the two above. Honorable Rex, a compact little grey was fourth.

Agricultural Class

In the agricultural class for grade geldings or mares foaled previous to 1917, W. I. Elder, of Brandon, was an easy first with a smashing big smooth mare, well ribbed, showing excellent quality throughout and a wonderful mover. Second place went to A. Galbraith, of Hartney, on a mare, a little more compact but lacking the style of Elder's filly. Robert McPhail, of Brandon, was a good third on a well balanced mare with great action.

Clydesdale Awards

Judging commenced Tuesday on Clydesdale horses, awards being placed by W. R. Gibson, of Girvin, Sask. In the aged mare class only three animals entered the ring, but the lack of quantity was overcome by the quality displayed by all three mares. First prize went to Merry Chris, a beautiful black mare with white points, nicely topped and a splendid mover, owned by Ed. McLenaghen, Portage la Prairie. J. H. Jackson, of Hartney, secured the second award for his Meritorious Lass, a mare following the type of the first place horse but not quite as well balanced. Bonnie Lass of Dee, owned by W. H. English, Oak River, was awarded third prize.

In the four-year-old class only one entry appeared, "Queenie of Oak River," shown by Wm. Miller & Son, Oak River.

Some good material was shown in the three-year-old class. W. I. Elder, of Brandon, secured first place for his smooth well balanced mare, Rose of the Maples. This mare showed splendid style and proved an admirable mover. Gip Kelvin, owned by George Gray, of Crandall, obtained the second award, and third place was given to Jas. McGhee, of Hamiota, for his Molly of Bellisle. Jessie Craig owned by Lorne Wilkin, of Carman, secured fourth prize in this class.

Seven fillies faced the judge in the class for foals of 1918, and with one exception were a very even lot. Caradoc Ideal, a big colt with plenty of substance and a nice sloping pastein, was awarded first place. The owner of this colt is S. Haggerty, of Belle Plains. Margaret, owned by Raison Bros., of Wawanesa, a smooth flashy black, was a good second. W. H. Bryce of St. Charles, secured third award for his Deanston Maggie. Fourth prize went to Andrew Graham, Roland, Man., for Countess Freda; fifth award to John Wilcox, Brandon, for Sally of Crystal Springs, and the sixth prize in this class was given to Myrtle, owned by John Graham, of Carberry.

Heavy Delivery Horses in Harness

In the class for heavy delivery or express horses in harness, eleven beautiful specimens of horseflesh presented a bold front to Judge Gibson. This is undoubtedly the strongest exhibit of its kind since this feature was added two years ago. First place went to a beautiful dark bay gelding showing great form in harness, owned by J. H. Hanover, of Oakburn, Man. The second award in this class was secured by John Kirkpatrick, of Kemnay, and the third went to the Coco Cola Company of Brandon.

A very uniform and typical group of horses appeared in the class for heavy draft mare or gelding sired by Clydesdale stallion, foaled previous to 1917.

Swanton Haggerty, of Belle Plains, was an easy first with a real draft gelding, showing a fine set of feet and legs and carrying a wonderful top. This horse showed excellent form in action. Major as this animal is named, won first place at the recent Chicago International.

Belle, owned by J. A. Bell, of Kaleida, Man., secured second prize with a mare with scarely the range of the Haggerty horse, but showing a great deal of form.

W. I. Elder secured third prize for his gelding, which was of a very uniform type, but not as heavy as the first two previously named. Mr. Elder also secured fourth place for a dark bay gelding with plenty of style.

Judging Percherons

Judging commenced this morning in the Percherons, six beautiful mares appearing in the aged class. This is the strongest class of the show and all the entries showed real draft conformation. Roberts and Son of Winnipeg secured first on a fine dappled grey, with a wonderful top, set of good legs, a wide flat foot and a rattling stride. G. H. Fallon of Foxwarren came in for a second with a well balanced black showing a good deal of type and moving with a snappy stride. Third place went to B. H. Moore of Rouleau on a nice grey showing ample femininity on good underpinning. Roberts and Son also took fourth place with Karmaline, a rangy black.

In the four year old mares, B. H. Moore of Rouleau took first place with Gruisette while second place went to J. H. Tett of Foxwarren with Lycette. The foals of 1917 brought out two outstanding specimens of the breed. Dr. Head of Regina was an easy first with Mandy Lee, a colt weighing over a ton, well balanced, a fine carriage and a snappy mover. This mare was first in her place and grand champion at Regina last November, and looks to be a mare with a wonderful future. She was sired by Keir, the big imported stallion which weighs over 2,300 pounds.

In the fillies foaled in 1918, C. D. Roberts and Sons of Winnipeg again got into first place with Lagorine, a nice filly sired by the wonderful champion, Lagos. Second place also went to the same people on Marnina, while J. H. Crowe of Gilbert Plains secured third with Piera of Maple Valley.

Only two entries showed up in the aged class of mares among the Belgians, the first prize mare, Martha, owned by Roberts and Sons of Winnipeg, being one of the best bred mares of any class seen in a Brandon show ring. She is a thick, well balanced mare with a beautiful head, and showing a set of feet and legs that would be hard to beat. She has a wonderful foot and moves with the grace of a hackney. E. Armstrong and Sons of Russell secured second with Nellie. In the four year olds, A. J. Andries' single entry Dora Vancler from Deloraine was given the red ribbon.

LEECH, OF BARING, WINNER OF GRAND CHAMPIONSHIP

In Sheep, With a Beautiful Oxford Lamb That Greatly Pleased Judges

THE LEECH ENTRIES

Really the Class of the Show, Winning Five Firsts—The Prize List

Philip Leech of Baring won the Grand Championship in the sheep class with a beautiful Oxford lamb, the judges having no hesitation in placing Mr. Leech's entry at the head of the list. The grand championship award came after the Baring man had proved a large winner in the classes he had entered and his win was justly deserved on his great showing. Mr. Leech secured first in every event he had made an entry with the one exception of the group of ten lambs, which class was won by the Manitoba Agricultural College, after a very close fight with the group entered by the Baring exhibitor.

In the pure bred long wool sheep, the Agricultural College were the only entries in this class and their three entries therefore took all the awards. Six entries were made in the Shropshire class for ewes or wethers lambed in 1919, and Philip Leech took first in this class with the Agricultural College in second place and Fred T. Skinner of Indian Head, third.

For ewes and wethers lambed in 1919 in the Oxford class, the Agricultural College again had the only entries and they swept the board. W. R. Bowman of Alexander was all alone in the Suffolks and secured two firsts. Fred T. Skinner of Indian Head secured first, second and fourth in the pure bred medium wools, while Ed. Harte of Brandon got a third.

The largest entry list in the sheep class came in the Grades, sired by rams of short and medium wool breeds, and out of nine entries, Philip Leech got first, second and third. He also got first for ewes or wethers lambed in 1918, and followed this win with another in the pen of three ewes or wethers of 1919. In the group of five lambs, Mr. Leech secured first and the Agricultural College second, but this verdict was reversed in the next class, that of a group of ten lambs.

The Grand Championship brought out seven prize winning sheep, only the animals getting first place in the different classes qualifying for the championship. The judge spent very little time in making the award, Mr. Leech winning it with his Oxford lamb.

The only class still to be judged is the dressed carcasses, but this class will not be judged until Thursday.

Sheep Prize List

The following were the awards in all classes:

MANAGER SMALE'S STATEMENT OF MOFFATT AFFAIR

The statement given by James I. Moffatt regarding the reasons for the withdrawal of his entries at the Manitoba Winter Fair has drawn a statement from W. I. Smale, manager of the Winter Fair. It follows:

Editor, Brandon Sun.

Sir,—Under the heading "Moffatt Cattle Withdrawn from Winter Fair" you Tuesday published a statement by Mr. Moffatt which purports to be a correct statement as to why Moffatt's cattle are not on exhibition at the Manitoba Winter Fair.

In order to place this matter fairly before the public, that they may judge the case according to its merits, I will be obliged if you will give the same publicity to the following statement as you have already given to Mr. Moffatt's statement.

It is unnecessary to quote the rules of the Boys' Fat Calf Competition in detail, but there are certain rules which necessitate a statement by the boy and his parent or guardian as to the length of time the calf has been under the boy's care, and as to the breeding of the calf. Following is the entry form in full, showing the nature of such statements:

To W. I. Smale, Secretary, Brandon.

I hereby make entry for this competition of one Steer or Grade Heifer (steer or heifer), calved (day of the month) 1919, sired by the (breed of sire) bull (name of sire).
Record No. (..).

This animal, which I will myself exhibit in the show ring, has been cared for by me only for at least four months immediately previous to March 1st, 1920. I was born on ...., 19....

Signed.....Exhibitor,
Post Office Address.....

PARENT'S, GUARDIAN'S OR EMPLOYER'S ENDORSEMENT

I hereby certify that all the statements made by the above entrant for this contest are true and correct, and that both the boy and animal are eligible to compete in this competition according to the published conditions.

Signed.....
(Parent, guardian or employer)
Post Office Address.....

I received from Mr. Moffatt an entry signed by his son, Robert, and certified by Mr. Moffatt for the calf, Bonnie Lad, with the breeding of the calf in detail. This entry was accepted in good faith by me. At a later date I had a letter making an alteration in the breeding of the calf. Just prior to the opening of the Winter Fair I received information which led me to believe that all was not right concerning this entry. Inquiry led me to believe without question that this calf had been purchased by Mr. Moffatt in the United States some time in December, 1919, and that the calf had not been delivered to Mr. Moffatt until a very few days before the opening of our Winter Fair. I was also led to believe that the sire of the animal as given by Moffatt was not the actual sire of the calf. Believing my information to be correct I laid the whole matter before Mr. Moffatt, who admitted that these were the facts of the case. I then told Mr. Moffatt that he would not be permitted to show this calf. He then asked me if he would be permitted to show the calf in the open classes. I replied by asking if he owned the calf, and he stated that he did and had paid a long price for him. I then told him that as far as I was concerned personally I did not see any reason why he should not do so. After thinking the matter over I decided to lay the whole matter before the President of the Winter Fair, Mr. J. D. McGregor. Mr. McGregor decided that the situation warranted action by the Directors as a body, drawing my attention to the fact that Mr. Moffatt in giving a wrong breeding for the calf had rendered himself ineligible to show in any class. A board meeting was called on Monday afternoon, when Mr. Moffatt was given an opportunity of explaining his action in the whole case. Mr. Moffatt admitted the offence in its entirety, but gave no satisfactory explanation of his conduct. The Board, after careful consideration of the case, passed a resolution which called upon Mr. Moffatt to withdraw his entries from the Fair this year, and disqualified him for the year 1921. The Board felt that this was sufficient punishment for Mr. Moffatt and were not disposed to give publicity to the matter at all, but since Mr. Moffatt has taken it upon himself to publish the case, and that in no fair manner, I feel it is only just that the management's side of the case should be presented in detail, and I have no hesitation in certifying as to the accuracy of the foregoing.

(Signed) W. I. SMALE.

ADDRESSES WANTED OF GERMANS WHOSE TRIAL IS DEMANDED BY ALLIES

Berlin, March 3.—A proclamation has been issued calling upon all Germans whose names are on the list demanded by the allies to make known their place of residence.

MANITOBA BOYS ARE EXPERTS IN STOCK JUDGING

Due To Interest Stimulated By the Competitions at Manitoba Winter Fair

ENTERTAINING VISITORS

Premier, Members of Legislature and Live Stock Exchange Guests at Breakfast

Headed by Premier Norris, about 100 Winnipeg men arrived here Thursday morning and were the guests of the Winter Fair Board at an early breakfast in the Prince Edward Hotel. The Winnipeggers arrived on a special train, about fifty-two members of the Winnipeg Live Stock Exchange and the same number from the Legislature making the trip. They were met by the fair officials and conducted to the Prince Edward hotel where they had breakfast.

Following the breakfast a few short addresses were made. President J. D. McGregor of the Winter Fair Board said that it was a great pleasure to welcome the visitors. He was highly gratified to see such a large turnout and if it meant anything it meant that the officials' efforts were appreciated. Mr. McGregor stated that the officials here would show the visitors the most remarkable exhibit of cattle ever shown in Canada, the quality of the exhibits improving year after year until the show this year produced the highest quality of cattle ever shown here. The show held now is strictly a fat stock show. The fat calves competition has developed from an entry list of four just four years ago, to an entry list of 76 today. "Brandon was the first place to introduce the Boys' Fat Calf Competition, and not only have the Western provinces followed the lead of this city, but the Western States are now introducing this feature."

Mr. McGregor said that the Winter Fair always made an effort to secure the best judge of calves in the world to come here, in order to set a certain type. Professor W. H. Pew, Ravena, Ohio, who is now here judging this class, stated to Mr. McGregor Wednesday night, that there had never been 76 calves at any show that averaged as high as those on exhibition here. The president of the Winter Fair paid a great tribute to the Government and the members of the Packers Association and Live Stock Exchange for their support and assistance to the Winter Fair.

Boost for Manitoba

Premier Norris said that the visitors had no doubt about the quality of animals at the Fair as Brandon always led in this respect. He endorsed everything Mr. McGregor had said about the entries. Manitoba had entered Confederation only fifty years ago, but in that time this city is able to compete with the best producing beef centre in the world. All the stock was raised on the grains and grasses of Manitoba which spoke well for the climate of this country for stock raising purposes.

Boys Know Stock

The calf competition should also be fostered, said Premier Norris. As the result of the recent events held here, there are now hundreds of boys who could judge animals better than many experts could twenty years ago. The Brandon Fair has proved conclusively that Manitoba can produce the best in the world.

C. W. Rowley, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Winnipeg, urged the encouragement of the boys calf competition in every way possible. He further said that although Winnipeg would like to have a fair, it could never hope to equal the fair held in this city. Mr. D. Cochrane, who is the dean of live stock men in the province said that a provincial holiday should be granted to give everyone an opportunity to come to the Winter Fair. The directors of the Winter Fair should feel well satisfied with the results obtained from their efforts in making the fair here the best in Canada.

Following the breakfast the visitors went to the Fair where they watched the judging in the cattle classes, and were interested spectators at this afternoon's performance as well.

ABERDEEN ANGUS ASSOCIATION MEET

J. D. McGregor Re-elected President—Provinces To Elect Directors in Future

The Canadian Aberdeen Angus Association held its annual meeting in the Winter Fair Arena on Wednesday afternoon, electing officers for the coming year and making several changes in the constitution. As a result of the amendments made the election of officers to represent each province will hereafter be made by a mail vote. This will do away with the proxy vote. The Association also decided to put on many sales during the coming season.

The following were the officers elected: President, J. D. McGregor, Brandon; Vice-Persident, James Bowman, Guelph, Ont.; Ontario Directors, J. Lowe, Aurora, and Colonel McEwan, together with James Bowman; Saskatchewan Directors, James Browne of Neudorf, S. A. Ferrie, North Battleford, and S. J. Collyer, Wellwyn; Alberta, Prof. Hutton, C.P.R. Natural Resources Commissioner, and A. E. Noad of Olds; Manitoba, K. McGregor of Brandon, James Turner of Carroll, J. R. Hulme of Souris and J. D. McGregor of Brandon. S. W. Crawford of Brandon is the secretary of the Association.

ASYLUM FARM SWINE ENTRIES BIG WINNERS

Awarded Six Firsts By Judge W. E. Reneker—F. H. Wieneke Secured Four Firsts

The Asylum Farm entries in the Swine classes practically swept the boards. Besides having the best bacon hog in the show the Asylum Farm walked off with firsts in the light bacon, heavy bacon, pen of three light bacon hogs, pen of heavy bacon hogs and in the class for finished bacon hogs. Judging was concluded Wednesday afternoon by W. E. Reneker of Winnipeg. (The best bacon hog in the show was a Yorkshire, bred by a boar that was reserve champion at the Summer Fair. F. H. Wieneke of Stony Mountain was the second heaviest winners with four firsts.

The light bacon class brought out fourteen entries, but the Asylum animals secured the first four awards, fifth place going to the Experimental Farm. There was close rivalry between the Asylum and Agricultural College in the Heavy bacon class, but the Brandon entry again carried off the honors with W. R. Bowman of Alexander in third place.

F. H. Wieneke of Stony Mountain proved the winner with his entry in the light lard hogs out of a large field. D. W. Agnew of Douglas was in second place and the Experimental Farm third. The largest class in the Swine show was the heavy lard hogs over 220 pounds, twenty animals showing. F. H. Wieneke repeated his win in this event, with the Agricultural College runners up and H. J. Hesketh, third. The Asylum entries came right back with a win in the pen of three light bacon hogs, T. W. Moore and the Experimental Farm getting second and third.

In, the pen of light lard hogs Wieneke got first and Agnew second. The Asylum Farm got the honors in the pen of heavy bacon hogs with T. H. Lowes of Brandon and the Experimental Farm following. F. H. Wieneke repeated a win in the pen of three heavy lard hogs, and the Asylum Farm did likewise with finished bacon hogs. The best bacon hog in the Winter Fair Show was awarded to the Asylum Farm.

PAY ONLY FOR VALUE RECEIVED

YOU cannot judge gasoline by price—only the miles produced per gallon count.

So called gravity tests mean nothing—Gasoline quality depends primarily on its range of boiling points. In fact the only measuring rod for gasoline efficiency is the adjustment of its range of boiling points.

Imperial Premier Gasoline has the complete chain of boiling points to give quick starting when the engine is cold, quick pick-up and gives more power, more speed and more miles per gallon.

IMPERIAL Premier MORE MILES PER GALLON Gasoline

Look for this Imperial Premier Gasoline Red Ball sign before you say "fill her up."

More than 90% of the motor cars and trucks in Canadian service use Imperial Premier Gasoline the year round with best results. There is no better gasoline made anywhere at any price.

Imperial Premier Gasoline is made by the most modern scientific methods in our five Canadian refineries. Every batch is tested for uniformity.

GOOD PRICES FOR SWINE: FEW BIDS OFFERED FOR SHEEP

Twenty-one Hogs Brought $2,025 —$200 Highest Price Paid For Animal

Good prices prevailed at the swine sale held in the Arena Thursday morning an average of $96.50 being paid for each hog auctioned off. In all there were twenty-one animals offered for sale and $2,025 was realized. This is considered to be a splendid figure and the swine exhibitors were well pleased with the results. The highest price paid for any one animal was paid by George Harpells of Miami who bid $200 for Mastocton Lady, a Poland China, contributed by W. H. Wieneke of Stony Mountain. J. B. McLatchie paid $180 for another Poland China, Wonder Maid, also owned by Wieneke. The top price obtained for a Yorkshire was paid by A. Hawley of Roland for College Y 11 when he bid $122.50. The best price obtained for a Bershire was $65, E. E. Lowe of Waskada buying one of George Gordon's contributions to the sale.

The sheep sale did not produce very good prices. The buyers were not bidding long prices on the offerings, with the result that the owners did not care to sacrifice their sheep. There were no bidders at all in the lots of ten in the Oxfords, while the lots of ten in the Suffolk class were not at the show. The top price obtained in Oxfords for a single animal was $45, while H. A. Robertson bought two Oxfords for $100. In the lots of five Oxfords, John Duncan of Carievale paid $160 for a group contributed from the Experimental Farm, while R. McComb bought in another group of five for $125.

BELGIAN STALLION SOLD FOR $11,200 AT WINTER FAIR

Paramount Wolver the Animal For Which This Record Price Was Paid

A sensational sale reported at the Arena Thursday morning caused much comment from the horsemen attending the big Fair. George Rupp of Lampman sold Paramount Wolver, a Belgian stallion, for the record price of $11,200. The sale was made to Messrs Kuhill & McKecknie of Doughtery, Iowa, the sale being completed by wire. This stallion was second in the aged class at the recent International Stock show at Chicago and second in the Belgian show at Waterloo.

Two other sales were reported Thursday morning when Doune Lodge Bell and Doune Lodge Dora were sold for $4,000 each to the Experimental Farm at Aggasiz, B.C., by W. H. Bryce of Arcola, Saskatchewan.

SALE OF SHORTHORN CATTLE

A sale of Scotch Shorthorn cattle was held in the Arena Friday morning, thirty-five animals being offered by Lorne C. Wilkin of Myrtle, Manitoba. The sale was proceeding rather slowly this morning and up until noon only ten animals had been sold. The highest price paid up until noon was $400 for Marjory, an exceptionally good heifer. J. A. Perkin of Heaslip was the buyer. Two other animals brought $255 each, Fashion Maid being sold to the Walch Farm of Marquette, while Walnut Missie V. was sold to R. McComb of Brandon, Ramsden Nell realized $200, the Walch Farm also buying this anima..

THE WINTER FAIR

The Manitoba Winter Fair and Fat Stock show held in this city last week was a tremendous success. Through the efforts of Manager Smale and his assistants, a remarkable exhibit of horses, cattle, poultry, sheep and swine was assembled here. From the opening hour to the close there was every evidence of careful, thoughtful management. Adequate provision was made for handling the crowds of people, receiving, stabling, showing and dispatching the animals. In addition to this an auction sale of fat cattle was arranged for and conducted under circumstances and conditions carefully calculated to secure the best results. In retrospect it is difficult to conceive, under the circumstances, regarding buildings, space, etc., how the show could have been improved—that is as a show of fat stock.

The one disappointing feature was the attendance. True, there was a far larger attendance than last year, but there were hundreds of city people who were not inside the Arena. They lost the opportunity of seeing the finest array of live stock which has probably ever been assembled in Canada. They lost an opportunity to acquire knowledge along lines which every Canadian should possess. They failed to receive the inspiration which comes from the contemplation of achievements such as is only obtained through the application of scientific principles to the breeding of livestock.

This failure on the part of many citizens to attend the stock show not only was a lost opportunity for an increase in knowledge on the part of large numbers of people, but it has an adverse effect on the fair. In order to fulfill its purpose the Winter Fair must attract larger numbers of people. The quality of the show is such as should draw capacity houses every night. Not only should people interested in livestock find themselves drawn as by a magnet, but people from town and country should be as keen to see the Winter Fair and to enjoy its features as they undoubtedly are for the Summer fair. That they are not immediately suggests that they do not find there what they want to see. The popularity of the Mounted Police events shows the need for a spectacle, varying each night, in which the livestock should have outstanding place. That the men who control and direct the operations of the fair are aware of this is shown by the speeding up of the show and the improvements made in this direction this year in comparison with immediately preceding years.

NO, THANKS

During the visit of Hon. William Howard Taft to Hamilton, Ontario, a short time ago, he was asked concerning the rate of exchange on Canadian money and in reply said, "I offered you reciprocity in 1911."

Taft's statement bears out the interpretation of the reciprocity offer which the Canadian people were not slow to perceive. As an adjunct of the United States there would, of course, be no discount on Canadian money in the United States, because the monies of the two countries would be the same. In no other way could reciprocity have helped Canada in this respect, for, if anything it would have made the balance of trade worse by the withdrawal of many American branch industries in Canada.

Mr. Taft asks too great a price. An exchange equilibrium will have to come some other way. His explanation in 1911 was that he hoped thereby to make Canada an "adjunct of the United States."

It is true that if Canada were merely an adjunct of its Southern neighbor, there would be no trouble about the rate of exchange, but we can endure this disadvantage in preference to the greater national loss involved in acceptance of the Taft offer.

GERMAN DYES AGAIN

By the peace treaty the Reparation commission was invested with power to demand delivery of one-half of the German dye stocks, as they existed on the day of ratification, and 25 per cent. of the normal production for five years. It is said by the American Chamber of Commerce in London that a British Commission is going to Germany to buy 1,500 tons additional of dyes, the Government to do the financing. The British textile trade is so enormous that early possession of the rarer German dyes will give it marked advantage in the race to control the world's markets.

Among the technical rivalries left by war conditions that of the dye manufacturers is bound to be of the keenest. The British dye industries grew during the war to several times their pre-war capacity, and at least 80 per cent. of all dyes used in Britain were manufactured at home. But there are large gaps still, especially in vat dyes. Before the war imported intermediates were the basis of most British dyestuffs made, but after the loss of German dyes, production of the difficult vat dyes was organized and the chloranthene, duranthene and durindol series have made a special name. One British firm multiplied its output eleven times during the war. Yet there is much to be desired, and though the Government has declared its intention of protecting the new dye industry, it is being urged by the textile interests to put the need of high-class exports before other considerations, and get an adequate supply of German-made dyes, especially the rarer kinds. In the United States there is before Congress the Longworth bill, which proposes to protect United States dye producers by licensing imports. The idea is to prevent dumping. In the United States the number of people employed in dye and associated industries in 1918 was 27,000, and they produced 29,000 tons of dyes. Some of the companies have already quit, and more will be giving up as dye competition returns to normal. The United States dye interests are much perturbed that the British textile men should be turning to Germany for the rarer dyes, because they want protection, and yet have not these rarer dyes.

It is said that the reason British dye producers still are unable to produce at home the secondary dyes so much needed for fine fabric printing is that they lack the plant. Dyemaking is a highly scientific process, and requires years of establishment to get the best results. The Toronto Mail and Empire says the growth of the British dye manufacture has been phenomenal, considering that Germany supplied nearly all pre-war needs, and it is to be hoped that renewed opportunity to get German dyes will not lead to abandonment of projects to make Britain self-sustaining in this respect.

WHAT A FINE THING

The Canadian dollar is worth one hundred cents in Canada. It is worth only about eighty-four cents in the United States. Let us not love our neighbors less, but let us love our own folks more. With Canadian money at a discount of from ten to fifteen per cent. exchange with the United States bids fair to cost Canadian consumers between seventy-five and a hundred million dollars. What a fine thing it would be for Canada and for Canadians if that hundred millions could be spent in Canada.

RUSSIA UNDER TROTZKY

Trotzky is putting his dupes to work. First he drove them to accept his bloody mission as soldiers; now he needs the peace goods that they can produce, and again he uses force. Russia, the Utopia of the theorists, is the home of an autocracy more galling than that of the czarist regime. Fancy being compelled every morning at a fixed hour to present one's self at a workshop willy nilly. John Jonesky rebels; says he does not like the work, or the foreman, or the pay. John Jonesky quickly discovers that a platoon of soldiers have come for him, and that except he obeys inplicitly and immediately the commands of one Trotzky he will be whipped or perhaps shot. A nice state of affairs after the nation has been fighting for freedom for going on six years!

M. Trotzky defends his course vigorously, says an exchange. He says the men will not work willingly; therefore force must be applied. All must do their share of work, which is logical and fair. The trouble is, we have different ideas touching what is a fair and reasonable allotment of toil. We exaggerate our own and depreciate another's. Trotzky permits none of this nonsense. The worker may prefer to be a bookkeeper, but his preference does not save him from being a hodcarrier. Or he may wish to be a farmer; Trotzky selects him for a scavenger, and a scavenger he is. The point is, of course, that men and women lose their individuality. They become automatons. They are chess, to be moved upon a board by an overruling and autocratic hand—the hand of Trotzky, the self-appointed czar of Russia.

No Trotzky could impose similar conditions here. But in Russia, broken, bankrupt, ignorant, the thing exists. It is one of the marvellous developments following the war. The fact gives encouragement to idealists elsewhere, even in our own free land, where men may work if they choose, or take a holiday; where they have some voice in the hours of labor, the compensation and the form. How will it work out in Russia? Failure sooner or later will be written all over the system that must be maintained by force.

SECOND PRIZE WINNER SELLS FOR $1.31 POUND

Feature of Sale of Fat Cattle When Premier Acts As Auctioneer

FIFTY CENTS A POUND

Paid For Two Other Calves — 207 Animals Auctioned Off

A record was established when Richard Hamilton's Grade Shorthorn which won second prize in the Boys' Fat Calf Competition sold Thursday night for the price of $1.31 per pound. The calf was bought by R. A. Wright of Drinkwater, Secretary of the Saskatchewan Shorthorn Club, and a breeder. Mr. Wright intends exhibiting the calf at the International Stock show in Chicago. The first prize calf and the grand champion of the show sold for 50 cents per pound, being bought by Dan Coughlin of the Winnipeg Live Stock Exchange, who also purchased last year's prize calf.

The prices obtained by the owners were very fair and the sale which was conducted by Premier Norris in the centre of the Arena attracted many buyers. The principal buyers were the men from the Live Stock Exchange but there was spirited bidding for practically all the animals. The record price paid by R. A. Wright for the second prize calf netted the young owner exactly $1192.10 as the calf weighed 910 pounds. The champion calf netted Glen Campbell, its owner the sum of $720. The sale price was $525 while the prize money won during the day amounted to $195.

The prizes offered in the carlots were a big disappointment to the feeders. Feeders stated to The Sun this morning that when they bought these steers last Fall from the United Grain Growers they were promised a premium of five cents per pound, and it now transpires that Grain Growers did not buy a single animal. Turner's select group of Angus grades brought 17¾ cents per pound. Mr. Turner stated that this was not enough by $5.00 per cwt. to cover the cost of feeding of the animals, and that had it not been for the prize money he won, he would have lost money on his entries. Including prize money, Mr. Turner received $5020.50 for his carload of cattle.

The sale included about 207 animals altogether, but it is not known as yet what the sale will amount to in cash. The animals have yet to be weighed but it is expected that the sale figures will be complete on Saturday. To auction off the large number of cattle offered in the ring took over four hours but interest in the sale was kept up until the last animal was disposed of. The principal buyers proved to be the Pat Burns Company, the Swift Canadian Co., Gordon, Ironsides and Co. Dan Coughlin of the Winnipeg Stock Exchange and Ryce & Whalley, of Winnipeg. The average price paid per pound was around 17½ cents.

U. S. MUST JOIN NATIONS LEAGUE OR BUILD NAVY

If Peace Treaty is Ratified Huge Naval Expenditure Can Be Checked

Washington, March 8.—The United States must continue its pre-war naval building program until it is determined whether this country is to be a member of the League of Nations, Secretary Daniels told the House Naval Affairs Committee.

If the Senate fails to ratify the Peace Treaty and thus refuses to join the league, the United States must immediately start to build the greatest navy in the world, Daniels declared.

If the treaty is ratified, the huge naval expenditures can be checked, the Secretary said, adding that gradual disarmament would follow.

THE GOOD ROADS CONVENTION IN WINNIPEG IN JUNE

Section of Road To Be Built During Convention Under Expert's Direction

HIGHWAY OFFICIALS

From All Parts of Canada To Discuss Road Laws, Traffic Regulations, Etc.

For the first time in the history of the Canadian Good Roads Association, the seventh annual convention of this organization will be held West of Ontario and will take place in the Royal Alexandra Hotel, Winnipeg, June 1st to 3rd next.

A feature of the convention will be a conference of government highway officials, who will meet on the second day of the convention and discuss such matters as road laws, traffic regulations, automobile taxation, systems of construction and maintenance of highways and similar questions, with a view to arriving at a uniform system of regulations for the whole Dominion. Officials of the Federal Government will also participate in this conference, which will proceed concurrently with the meetings of the delegates.

During the convention a section of road will be actually constructed in the district under the personal supervision of the best experts on the continent, who will be among the speakers, and who will thus be able to demonstrate the proper method of grading, ditching, draining, foundation laying and building up of a complete modern highway.

Property In England Valued At $560,000—Of This Widow Gets $80,000

London, March 8. — Robert Montgomery Cox, Ottawa, timber merchant, left an estate in England of nearly 140,000 pounds sterling ($560,000). A legacy of twenty thousand pounds ($80,00) was left his widow, 10,000 ($40,000) to his partner, and several annuities to other members of the family. The residue goes to the Lady Grey and to St. Luke's Hospitals in Ottawa and to Bootle Hospital, Lancashire.

QUALITY OF BIRDS NEVER EXCELLED CANADIAN SHOW

Famous Judge Says Wyandottes, White Rocks, White Leghorns Can't Be Beaten

THE COLISEUM SHOW

At Chicago Brings Out Larger Number of Entries—Poultrymen Enjoy Supper

The big job of sorting out the winners from among 4,000 entries in the Poultry Department was finally completed Thursday afternoon. The championships in the various classes were awarded and many of the consistent prize winners during the week followed up their winnings by capturing championships. The annual meeting of the Manitoba Poultry Association was held during Thursday and was very largely attended. Over twenty Winnipeggers were present at the meeting at which the officers for the coming year were elected.

Among the championships awarded was the Sir James Aikins Cup which was won by Peter Kahler of Moline with a White Plymouth Rock hen, which was judged the best solid colored bird in the American class. The Nor' West Farmer's Cup went to J. Davies of Winnipeg for the best solid colored bird in the Mediterranean class. Kay Bros. of Carlyle secured a notable win in the White Holland Turkey class, said to be the largest event of its kind on the American continent, by annexing most of the awards. A. B. Fleming of Brandon was second in this class.

J. Fieldhouse of Souris won the gold medal donated by the Winnipeg Poultry Association for the best four birds in any one variety owned by one exhibitor with his S. C. Black Minoreas. Messrs. Beach & Morgan of Winnipeg won the House of Knowledge Trophy No. One for the best solid colored Asiatic birds with his Black Langshans, and also the E. L. Drewry Cup for the best three male and best three females in any variety, with his black Langshans.

Mrs. Jos. Woods of Brandon secured a trophy by annexing the Coldwell Cup for the best solid colored class in any English class with Black Orpingtons. She also secured the prize for the best display in this class. The Crawford Trophy for the best game bantam in the show was won by Messrs. Kerr & McGuinness of Brandon.

Judge's Statement

During the day's judging, Richard Oke of London, Ont., stated that the class of Wyandottes, White Rocks and White Leghorns was the finest that could ever be exhibited and quite the equal of the showing made at the Coliseum at Chicago. A. G. Gibson of Regina, a director of the Saskatchewan Provincial Association, said that it was a privilege to attend such a show as was put on here.

Enjoy Splendid Banquet

In the evening the poultry men sat down to a supper served in the crypt of St. Matthew's Church. Some 150 members and their friends enjoyed a splendid supper served by the ladies of the church, following which short addresses were made. Prof. Evans, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, said that he believed this show was the best in the Dominion of Canada. The co-operation of the members was what had made the show the success it obtained. He said the poultry business of Manitoba amounted to between twelve and fifteen million dollars. He urged that the same spirit displayed by the poultrymen be injected into other branches of industry and that when this was done the success of the Province would be assured beyond all doubt. He praised the enthusiasm of poultrymen like N. W. Kerr of Brandon.

At the banquet the handsome S. L. A. Smythe Challenge cup for the best exhibit of Silver Wyandottes was on display. This cup was won by J. M. Scott, of Moore Park, Man., who was also the successful winner of this trophy in 1919 at the Saskatoon show.

Best Show of High Quality Birds

That the poultry show in Brandon had gathered together the greatest number of high quality birds that had ever been assembled in Canada, was the statement of W. I. Smale, secreary of the Fair. Quality is the standard here, rather than quantity. He said that the poultry association is extremely fortunate in having men like N. W. Kerr and W. F. McGuinness at the head of the organization and that as long as men of their calibre were at the head of the association, the Poultry men could rest assured that the Winter Fair would stand back of them in granting them the highest premium list in Western Canada.

Following a short statement by Mrs. Ellis of the Edmonton Bulletin and the moving of a vote of thanks to the ladies of the church, the gathering broke up.

Club Officers for 1920

During the day the annual meeting of the Association was held and the following officers were elected:

Patrons—Sir James Aikins, Hon. Valentine Winkler and Mayor Dinsdale.

Honorary President—J. H. Evans of Winnipeg.

Honorary Vice-President—Professor Herner.

President—N. W. Kerr, Brandon.

Vice-Presidents—A. E. Edgar, St. Boniface; J. R. Dougal, Killarney; N. Merritt, Melita; J. F. McLean, Brandon; Mr. Parrott, Neepawa; W. Deverill, Souris; A. E. Irdale, Dauphin.

Treasurer—J. F. McLean, Brandon.

Secretary—W. F. McGuinness, of Brandon.

Representatives to the Winter Fair—N. W. Kerr, W. F. McGuinness and John Yellowlees, Winnipeg.

CARSON TO GIVE HOME RULE BILL DEEP THOUGHT

Refuses To Endorse It At Present—Address To Ulster Unionist Counsel

ANXIOUS PERIOD

Definite Decision May Be Reached At a Meeting On Wednesday Next

Belfast, March 6.—At a meeting of the Ulster Unionist Council, Sir Edward Carson was re-elected President. He submitted and analyzed the proposals for future Government as laid down in the Home Rule bill. Sir Edward said he was not proposed to make a decision for or against the the Governments proposals at the present session. He declared that the period was one of the greatest anxiety, and that whatever decision was reached should be taken only after the most mature deliberation.

It was announced by Sir Edward that another meeting of thhe council would be held next Wednesday at which it was proposed to proceed to a definite decision.

AIKINS LIBERAL GIVER TO FORWARD MOVEMENT

Winnipeg, Man., March 6. — Sir James Aikins, Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, himself a Methodist has donated $1,000 to the Presbyterian Forward Movement fund. This is in addition to $2000 which already he had donated to the same fund in his own denomination.

PRESENTATION OF SHEEP TO MISS E. CORA HIND

A pleasing feature of Thursday night's program was the presentation of twenty-three ewes to Miss E. Cora Hind, Commercial editor of the Free Press. Just before the evening program commenced, Miss Hind was called into the centre of the big Arena and the presentation made by George Gordon, of Oak Lake. The sheep were in a specially constructed pen, and it had been the intention of the donors to also give Miss Hind a collie dog and a staff.

Mr. Gordon, in making the presentation said that it was an appreciation from the wool growers of Manitoba for the splendid services Miss Hind had rendered not only the sheep men of the Province but agriculture in general. Mr. J. D. McGregor, president of the Winter Fair, added some remarks to those made by Mr. Gordon in stating that the Fair officials were deeply indebted to the work done by Miss Hind and that the gift was a practical demonstration of how the stock men valued her services.

Miss Hind was too overcome to make any remarks further than thanking the wool growers for their valuable gift, and added that she hoped to be always worthy of the confidence the stock men placed in her. It is expected that Mr. George Gordon will keep the sheep for Miss Hind until further arrangements are made.

Among the contributors to this gift were: George Gordon, Oak Lake; I. J. Ruston, Rocanville, Sask.; Wm. Knight, G. H. Hutton, Calgary; W. I. Smale, J. D. McGregor, E. C. Harte, Kenneth MacGregor, Dr. Coxe, A. D. Gamley, Hugh Gilmour, J. S. Monroe, J. R. Hume, John Strachan, D. W. Agnew, F. E. C. Shore, R. L. Lang, W. I. Elder, J. G. Barron, Hilton MacGregor, J. B. Davidson, F. W. Cillyer, James Turner, H. H. Simpson and two or three others.

NO PROFITEERING WITH ZAM-BUK

Before the war, Zam-Buk was 50c. a box. All during the war, when the cost of production was rapidly advancing, the price of Zam-Buk to the consumer remained the same. Now, with the war over, while some prices continue to soar, Zam-Buk is still 50c. a box! Not only so, but the same high standard of quality has been maintained throughout.

There has been no profiteering in regard to Zam-Buk. For every box you have bought, you have been asked to pay fair value only.

MANITOBANS PROVE BEST STOCK JUDGES IN SEVERAL EVENTS

While In Open Competitions Saskatchewan Students Secure Three of Four Firsts

GRAND AGGREGATE

Awarded F. Laughland, Manitoba With a Score of 702½ Out of 800

The stock judging team from the Manitoba Agricultural College walked off with the J. D. McGregor Cup in competition with the Agricultural College from Saskatchewan when they totalled 3,275½ points to 3,173½ from the Westerners. The win by the Manitobans was a very popular one as the Saskatchewan team had won the cup in 1919 and there was some very keen competition between the colleges over the results of Tuesday's tests.

The students were given eight rings to judge, four animals comprising a ring. Judging in the ring consisted of beef steers, draft class, mare or gelding; Clydesdale stallions; Shropshire ewes, fat lambs; bacon hogs and Yorkshire sows. Two teams composed of five men each competed from the two colleges, the students being given eighteen minutes to make their placings and three minutes to explain their reasons to the judges. The judging occupied the greater part of the day and it was not until well on in the evening that the final results were made known.

Laughland Won Grand Aggregate

As a result of scoring 3,275½ points out of a possible 4,000, the Manitoba Agricultural College team not only secured first place but each member of both teams received some cash. Not content with winning first place in the team event, one of the members of the stock judging team, Frank Laughland won the grand aggregate among the teams competing with a score of 702½ out of a possible 800 points.

Open Competition

The judging in the open competition brought out sixty entries and the final results were so close that the judges were forced in one case to decide a winner by the narrow margin of a quarter of a point. None of the winners in the four classes were able to repeat their wins in the other classes, although F. Laughland the winner of the Grand Aggregate got second place in judging swine. The winners each received a gold medal donated by the presidents of the various associations while the winners of second place got silver medals donated by the vice-presidents of each association.

Winners and Points

The following was the result of the stock judging in the open competition:

Horses—1, H. B. Sommerfeld, Saskatchewan, 182; 2, Trembath, Manitoba, 178.

Cattle—1, G. Black, Manitoba, 188; 2, Benson, Manitoba, 187.

Sheep—1, G. A. Mutch, Saskatchewan, 196½; 2, S. Einnarson, Manitoba, 196¼.

Swine—1, W. S. Benson, Saskatchewan, 182; 2, F. Laughland, Manitoba, 180.

The perfect award in each class would have been 200 points.

166 ENTRIES FOR ANNUAL BULL SALE IN MARCH

The annual bull sale will be held in the Winter Fair Arena on March 17th and 18th and 166 entries have been made for the sale. Ninety-six Shorthorns, 33 Aberdeen Angus, 32 Herefords and two Holsteins will enter the auction ring and be sold to the highest bidder. Every animal has been inspected and the sale promises to be one of quality bulls only. The officers are very optimistic over the predicted success of the annual sale and believe that some record prices will be paid for some of the entries.

FURTHER INCREASE GROCERY PRICES IS PREDICTED

Ontario Wholesale Grocers in Annual Session at Toronto Adopt Uniform Terms

SUCCESS ATTENDS MOFFATT'S SALE HEREFORD CATTLE

A successful sale of high class Hereford cattle was held in the Winter Fair Arena on Wednesday, when Mr. James I. Moffatt of Carroll auctioned off forty head of his stock from the Echo Grove Stock farm. Forty lots which included eleven bulls, twenty-nine cows and a heifer and a few cows were disposed of during the sale. A large attendance of buyers and spectators gathered round the auction ring which was held in the centre of specially constructed bleachers erected in the Arena.

Although the full details of the sale have not been made as yet, the highest price paid up till noon today was $710 for May Fairfax, which was sold to D. A. Harper of Hayfield. Several animals were brought into the ring together and sold in pairs, F. Lansing of Virden paying $720 for Alto B and Lady Gomez. H. H. Sevinnson of Cypress River paying $600 for Lulu and Lady Lee. Cora Fairfax brought $380 from J. Cormack of Kenton who also purchased several other animals. John Davidson of Two Creeks, Roy Londry of Minnedosa and W. H. Baker of Brandon were other buyers at this morning's sale.

MEN WELL KNOWN IN BRANDON WIN TARDY RECOGNITION

For Valuable Services Rendered During the Great World War

In a recent addition of the magazine "Canada," the following men, well known in Brandon, are listed as having been brought to the notice of the Secretary of state for War, for valuable services rendered in connection with the war: Lieut.-Col. H, M. Cherry, C.A.P.C., formerly of this city and now of Ottawa, Ont. Captain A. F. Campbell, C.A.P.C., of Brandon, and Lieut.-Col. F. Palmer, of the First Canadian Mounted Rifles, who has many friends in the city. Private H. E. Drope, 475823, of Regina, Sask., formerly of this city, who was a member of the Princess Patricia Canadian Light Infantry, is listed as having been awarded the Military Medal, in recognition of gallant conduct and determination displayed in escaping or attempting to escape from captivity whilst a prisoner of war. Private Drope had the distinction of being the only Canadian soldier who escaped from Germany via Poland and Russia. For twenty-two months he was imprisoned at Hellsberg, East Prussia, and had to tramp through forest and morass for thirty-five days before securing transportation—at the hands of the Bolshevists.

New York, March 3.—Thieves last night, in search of $500,000 worth of pearls, forced the steel vault in a West side warehouse. The pearls had been previously removed, but the thieves secured $50,000 in other goods.

PRINCESS LED LAND ARMY FAREWELL PARTY

Come out of the towns,
And on to the downs,
Where a girl gets brown and strong,
With swinging pace
And morning face
She does her work to song.
The children shall not starve,
The soldiers must have bread.
We'll dig and sow and reap and mow,
And England shall be fed.

It is the land army song, and lasses of the army opened their country throats and sang it to Princess Mary till the painted roof of Drapers' Hall, London, rang, and only the kings and queens of England on the panels between the marble pillars were not moved

The princess, with whom walked Lord Lee and Lord Ernle Miss Talbott Mrs Lyttleton and Miss Dorothy Yorke, had a triumphal pathway through the middle of the hall when he arrived.

Forty of the girls stood with long wands crowned with roses held to make an arch of flowers and as the girlish figure, in gray crepe de chine with a silver hat, passed under it the girls sang "God Save the King."

But when she stood on the dias and faced them and they raised their own song, the pretty pink of her cheeks flushed a deep rose. She wore the* country color. She became a maiden of open air cheeks like themselves and ready to share the joys of the evening to the full.

Leaf and Berry Circlets

It was a striking scene before her. those ranks on ranks of bonny lasses in their white smocks and slouch hats, each with a boutonniere of red and green—their army's color— and the long archway of roses between would have been striking anywhere; but in the sumptuous hall of the Drapers' Company, whose guests they and the princess were, at the army's farewell rally, it was forever memorable.

A bevy of girls whose heads were wreathed with green leaves and red berries walked to the dais and handed to the princess a beautiful rush basket ornamented with needlework fruits wrought by themselves, and in it a volume of the "Landswoman", tied with their colors. With a smile of delight and a pretty bow and "Thank you," the princess took the gift.

Then Lord Ernle spoke in glowing terms of the girls' work afield —how they toiled "to song" and fed their country, and were brave and devoted all the time. And immediately the long tale of heroines who gained the distinguished service bar was unfolded by Miss Talbot, while one by one the girls strode under the roses to have the bar pinned on their breasts.

Courage of the Land Army

Then the princess spoke. Lifting her clear voice in the dead quietness to the far end of the hall, she said:

"I have watched with much interest the organization and growth of the land army and today I realize more than ever all that it has accomplished, and, moreover, what skill and courage have on many occasions been displayed by its members. I am glad to know that although the women's land army is to be demobilized an association is being formed to carry on its tradition among all women land workers.

"I congratulate the president of the Board of Agriculture and the women's branch on the work they have done, and I wish you all every happiness in the future."

When the girls' cheers subsided Lord Lee announced that the government would make a gift to all of them who intend to remain on the land of a complete new outfit. There was more cheering, but all that had passed was a small noise compared with the 'Hip, hip, hooray!" called for by one of the girls for the princess—all standing and waving their arms.

Princess Pulls Snap Crackers

And then to supper—to tables loaded with baked meats and delicacies and piles of snapping mottoes—laid in two of the court rooms.

Princess Mary caught all the merriment as well as the color of the occasion. She leaned across the table this way and that continually to snap crackers with the girls, she signed their autograph albums, and one came back with her book saying: "Isn't she just sweet, and she is going to keep with us to the end." But the princess' merriment reached its height when she turned and saw Lord Ernle at her side wearing a tall and tasseled fool's cap and on the other side Canon Dalton, master of the Drapers' Company with a purple cocked hat. There were shouts of laughter on every hand.

And that was the spirit of the feast and of the concert which followed it. There were morris dancing and a clog dance, songs by the girls a dance of three Cumberland lasses to a mouth organ accompaniment, recitations and fun and innocent pleasure until after 10 o'clock, when the "uniquely happy occasion," as Miss Talbot called it, came to an end."—London Mail.

U. S. STOCK GROWER UTTERS BITTER COMMENT ON BEEF PACKERS

Washington, March 4. — The "big five" meat packers were charged in testimony given before the House Agricultural Committee by J. H. Montgomery of Basin, Wyoming, with having reduced livestock prices and driven growers out of business.

Mr. Montgomery described himself as "just an ordinary stock grower." He deplored injunction and "immunity baths" in proceedings against the packers. The packers thrive on injunctions, he said. An "injunction does not bother them any more than insect powder does a cootie. The whole beef packing industry should be put through a de-lousing station."

Mr. Montgomery charged the packers with efforts to influence stock growers and prevent their protesting against legislation for their control.

TRIAL MARRIAGE MAY BE COSTLY

Former Soldier Charged With Bringing Woman To U. S. For Immoral Purposes

Phoenix, Arizona, March 4.—A trial marriage contract, entered into in England by a soldier and an artist's model, resulted in the conviction in Federal court here of Henry O'Brien, former British soldier, on the charge of bringing to the United States Miss Vera Mort for immoral purposes.

The girl testified that she met O'Brien in London and that he had asked her to marry him. "I said I would give him six months' trial," she said. "I promised to marry him if I liked him well enough at the end of that time."

ROBSON GIVES REASONS FOR HIS RESIGNATION

From Chairmanship of the Board of Commerce—Criticizes Fair Prices Act

Ottawa, March 4. — Sir George Foster has tabled in the House of Commons the correspondence between himself and Judge Robson, covering the latter's resignation as Chairman of the Board of Commerce. Judge Robson states simply that he finds it impossible to remove his home to Ottawa and his presence is required in Winnipeg. The acting premier in his acknowledgment accepts Judge Robson's resignation with regret.

On the same day as he resigned, February 23rd, Judge Robson wrote a long letter to the Acting Premier giving his views on the operation of the Board of Commerce, suggesting that a Federal machine to inquire into costs and profits of commodities and to act in an advisory capacity to provincial boards would be more useful than the board as constituted at present, the matter of dealing with profiteers being better left the Judge thinks, to the Provincial authorities.

Judge Robson says: "The economic policy of the country should be toward high prices and against low prices. Numerous governmental agencies at the expense of the people of Canada are doing their best to get the highest world price for Canadian produce. In view of this, any machinery to reduce prices of this produce is simply abortive."

The Combines and Fair Prices Act, adds Judge Robson, has been administered by the board to deal only with the necessaries of life, and profiteers in other commodities were left to do as they pleased. The effect appeared to be to deter business men from dealing in such necessaries of life, on which, the judge points out, dealers had a right to get the highest price in the export market.

Calls Act a Hindrance

Judge Robson continued: "It seems to me further that the act actually contains a provision which removes the last chance the consumer had to do anything for himself in reducing the cost of living. There never was before this act anything to prevent a group of consumers from co-operating in the purchase of necessaries. They took their chance of being able to buy. But a declaration of parliamentary policy crept into the act and the large wholesaler is not bound to sell to classes who were not accustomed to purchase from such manufacturers and wholesalers. This was designed to stand off co-operative movements which were likely to make progress for the benefit of the consumers and members, and as I say, restricted a remedy which elsewhere has been of some effect in price control.

"My short experience on the Board of Commerce in the administration of the Combines and Fair Prices Act has led me to views which make it improper for me to hold a position on the board. The fact is that I am out of sympathy with the act and it is my duty to inform you thereof," declares Judge Robson in closing.

The expected controversial points in the correspondence are entirely absent.

URGE UNIFORMITY OF CANADIAN LAWS OF DIVORCE

Toronto, March 4. — Uniformity of Canadian laws of divorce was urged by President N. B. Gash in his address to the Ontario Bar Association, which opened its fourteenth annual meeting at Osgoode Hall Wednesday morning. He said: "The judicial systems of the civilized countries throughout the world are too varied and conflicting to permit any dream of an international and uniform system of divorce laws, but it is high time that Canada began to put her house in order, and for this purpose parliament should bring down a general law superseding all the provincial laws on the subject and transferring to courts constituted for the purpose the disposition of such cases. Only in this way shall we put an end for all time to the uncertainty, confusion and conflict of laws that have been cropping up and are bound to increase as the time goes by."

FEW FARMERS WHO HAVE SILOS WOULD BE WITHOUT THEM

Silos Are Constructed of Different Materials and Each Have Firm Believers

Problems of every kind seem to weigh down the farmer who is trying to keep level with the times. Not many years ago the farmer hired any extra help he required in the Spring, and paid his men off in the Fall, having no need for their services during the Winter. But nowadays the question of farm help is a "problem," and serious too. It is not only for the period between early Spring and late Fall, but for the long Winter months now that so many farmers are realizing the possibilities, if not the actual necessity, of engaging in mixed farming.

Only a very few years ago the farmer did not worry about this labor problem, he hired and fired men with little more concern than he would bestow on buying his week's groceries. But now it is different. He has to adopt all the labor-saving devices that are possible in an attempt to solve the labor problem.

Of course everyone knows how to tackle it except the man who has it to do.

It is not intended to offer the silo as a panacea for all farm problems but merely to point out a few facts in relation to it that may not have occurred to some who are victims of this epidemic of problems.

Some of these facts may be summarized as follows:

Advantages of Silo

A feed crop can be put into the silo during weather in which haying or harvesting work would be impossible.

More feed can be stored in an accessible place as silage than when put up as fodder.

An acre of feed crop can be placed in the silo at less expense and trouble than the same area can be dug out of snow and hauled to the barn in the Winter.

In addition to the foregoing facts which directly affect the labor problem there are a few others of scarcely less importance.

There is far less waste of food value when a feed crop is made into silage than when stored in any other way.

More stock can be fed on a given area of land when silage is the main ration.

Silage is more palatable than dry fodder, and will keep the digestive organs of cattle in better condition.

Converting a corn crop into silage clears the ground and leaves it ready for another crop.

Almost any kind of forage crop can be put into the silo and it will keep until needed.

Many more facts might be stated, but these, every stockman and expert will agree, are beyond contradiction.

The Origin of the Silo

Just a word here on the origin of the silo. The first were deep pits and when filled were covered with earth. This kind is still used in France and other European countries. A French farmer named Coffart was the first to describe the modern silo. Francis Morris is credited with building the first silo in America in 1876. Now almost every farmer who raises stock in Eastern Canada and the United States has one.

Two Classes Modern Silos

Modern silos may be placed in two classes:—wood stave and concrete. Although the former for various and obvious reasons can scarcely be termed modern.

The promoters of this type are deserving of great credit, for they have rendered a very valuable service. More perhaps than any other agency have they helped to educate the farmer to the importance of the silo. Without their efforts the silo would not hold the place it does today in the minds of modern stockmen and farmers, and for this reason they should be given just credit.

The concrete silo is without a doubt one of the greatest assets to the farmer who has stock or who intends to safe-guard his farm and income by engaging in mixed farming.

It is not intended to deal with the theory of silage in this article, but it might be well to mention the principle upon which rests the storing of a feed crop in the form of silage.

It is very much like preserving vegetables and fruit for human consumption. The food remains good so long as fermentation is prevented. In the case of silage a certain amount of fermentation is allowed, although the less fermentation the better. Excessive fermentation of silage is prevented by the material being packed so tight as to exclude most of the air, and when it has completely settled no further air can get in, therefore fermentation must stop through lack of oxygen.

Concrete Silos

It has been said that a huge glass jar would make the best silo, meaning that it possesses qualities most desirable in preserving silage. As the glass jar is not commercially practical it leaves us to use some material that is, and this brings us back to the concrete.

We have two types of silos built with this material, those of staves or blocks and the monolithic or one-piece type. The former possess some good features and have given fair satisfaction. In the construction of this type large molds or forms are not required and a more artistic appearance can be produced, than the usual plain cylindrical structure that characterizes the monolithic or one-piece type. The numerous joints between blocks or staves is their chief objectionable point. As practically all block silos have to be plastered this materially adds to their cost. Also when frozen silage is being removed the plaster may be damaged at a place where two blocks join, which might not be detected until the silo was again filled. Beside leaking, this would allow air to reach the silage which should be as far as possible prevented. This danger does not enter into the monolithic silo. It is as near to the ideal glass jar as science has been able to produce a material for.

Hollow Walls Costly

Of course, for the West, a silo with hollow walls, or two walls with an air space between, would be ideal, but the matter of cost enters in, and, after all, the question of frozen silage is not a serious one. If the frozen part is thrown into the middle, or into the warm cattle barn after each feeding, it will thaw out. Freezing does not hurt silage if it is fed as soon as thawed out.

The solid wall silo is as practical as can be built, looking at it from every standpoint, that is, of course, where the material is available the chief item being a supply of suitable gravel.

The idea that this type of wall would crack with unequal contraction and expansion of the concrete and reinforcing material in extremes of temperatures, is not founded on fact. Scientific men have tested such a wall and find that the reinforcing used expands and contracts equally with the concrete.

The greater initial cost, if any, of such a structure is more than counterbalanced by its durability. Instead of deteriorating it grows stronger and stronger with each succeeding year.

Perhaps the strongest argument in favor of the silo is the testimony of farmers and stockmen who have them. They invariably say, it pays better than any other part of their equipment.

Fine Show of Pigeons

Practically all of the large classes were judged on Wednesday, and the judges will now confine their efforts to the smaller classes. The pigeon show, which really is a show of its own, with its large entry list, provided a lot of work for the judges. Many pigeon fanciers who have been flying Homers all season and who have competed with the best in Western Canada, had birds entered in the Brandon show. The quality of the pigeons was very high throughout. The feature win in the pigeons took place in the Flying Homers when Huber Creelman of 322 Fifteenth street, Brandon, won two firsts in this competition out of an entry list of 46 birds. The win is remarkable considering the fact that practically all of the well known pigeon men had birds in this class.

J. Davies of Winnipeg took the principal awards in the S.C. White Leghorns with his entries. Honors were evenly divided in the White Plymouth Rocks between J. & A. Burrows of Winnipeg and Peter Kahler of Moline, Man. In the Single Comb Black Minorcas, E. W. Fieldhouse of Souris took the lion's share of the prizes, while the McArthur Farms of Winnipeg and F. J. Keen of Grassie Lake divided the prizes in the Buff Orpingtons. Dr. Cal. Bricker followed up his wins in the White Wyandottes on Tuesday with more winnings in the White Orpingtons on Wednesday.

Youthful Exhibitor's Success

A young lad by the name of Willie Hutton, of Brandon, proved that the young exhibitors have a good chance to win among older competitors when his pullet secured first prize in the R. C. White Leghorns out of a very large class. In the Barred Plymouth Rocks, E. B. Carruthers, of Moose Jaw took the majority of the prizes, with Mrs. Dixon, of Brandon, a close second. In the pigeon classes, all varieties, L. J. Buckely, of Winnipeg, proved to be a big winner.

MEIGHEN DECLARES PEOPLE WILL STAND BY HONEST GOVT.

Election Not To Be Held Till Western Canada Gets Additional Representation

POINTER FOR CRERAR

No Charge of Favoring Special Interests Laid Against U. S. Statesmen

Ottawa, March 5. — Hon. Arthur Meighen in a speech in the house last night said the tariff question belonged to the debate on the budget, but in passing he wished to bring to the attention of Mr. Crerar the fact that Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln had been ardent supporters of the principle of protection and such men could hardly be termed protectors of special interests or indifferent to the rights of the common people of their country, which reproach had been placed on Canada's protectionist government.

He said the present unfavorable exchange rate was the outcome of buying so much from Americans and selling them so little. There was no use trying to overcome that state of affairs by exhortation, prayer or meditation. Legislation which aided the Canadian producer was the more effective way. "Buy less there and sell them more" is the only remedy, he stated.

"There is no intention to have an election until the opportunity has been given Western Canada to get this additional representation," said the Hon. Arthur Meighen in closing, "and when that has been done I believe that the people will stand by a stable, firm and honest government."

Crerar Is Critical

Ottawa, March 5.—Criticizing both the leader of the Government and the leader of the Opposition for the lack of constructive thought in their speeches, Hon. T. A. Crerar, leader of the cross-benchers in the House of Commons last night declared he would support the King amendment calling for a general election because he felt that the Union Government had served its purpose and a house cleaning now was due. A new administration was needed to cope with the problems facing Canada.

It was expected throughout the evening that there would be a vote on Mackenzie King's amendment at the conclusion of Mr. Crerar's speech but Hon. Arthur Meighen unexpectedly took part in the debate which was prolonged until after 11 o'clock. Then Dr. Clark, of Red Deer, moved the adjournment although there were loud calls to continue, from the Government side of the house.

Hon. Arthur Meighen, Minister of the Interior, who followed the farmer leader, declared that the Union Government had followed the course it considered in the best interests of all classes and sections of the country. Mr. Crerar's plan of government would be class government, and Mr. King's move for an election was based on a flimsy platform of suppositions and the thought that Canada was hungry to acclaim the Liberal leader as its Prime Minister.

PLUNKETT CALLS BRITISH AIMS MERE HYPOCRISY

Where They Profess To Have Any Regard For Liberty of Small Nationalities

IRISH TROUBLE A FACTOR

In Delaying America's Decisive Participation in the World War

Dublin, March 5.—Sharp criticism of the new Irish home rule bill was expressed by Sir Horace Plunkett before the Irish Dominion league. He declared that from 1911 the Prussian government was organizing a German-Irish alliance in American politics with a view to a coming attack upon the world's freedom. The Irish trouble, he said, was an important factor in delaying American decisive participation in the war. To the same cause was due a great deal of the political embarrassment to the war administration in Washington. "Ireland has become increasingly during the last decade the final proof to every enemy of England and America that British aims in war and peace are mere hypocrisy where they profess to have any regard whatsoever for the liberty of small nationalities."

USE NO FOOD UNLESS CERTAIN IT IS WHOLESOME

Recent Food Poisonings Due To Organism Known as Bacillus Botulinus

Recent food poisonings, from the organism known as Bacillus Botulinus, which have been traced to the eating of ripe olives, have created considerable concern in the Public Health Service in the United States, and have led to extensive chemical researches by that department. It has been shown that this organism prevailed especially in olives put up in glass containers, and it has also been traced in a lesser degree in canned vegetables such as string beans, home-canned asparagus and home-canned corn.

The following is an extract from the "Public Health Reports," issued by the United States Public Health Service.

"Investigation so far carried on have shown that fatalities due to the consumption of olives have been limited to ripe olives packed in glass. No cases have been reported from the consumption of ripe olives packed in tins. Representatives of the Bureau of Chemistry have made careful investigations of the olive-packing plants in California, and it has been found that the process of sterilization employed in the case of olives packed in glass is usually inadequate. The jars are usually heated for a period of approximately one-half hour at the temperature of boiling water, which is not sufficient to incure the destruction of the Bacillus Botulinus if this organism is present in ripe olives. According to investigations made to date by the Bureau of Chemistry it would appear that the public may protect itself by refraining for the present from the consumption of ripe olives packed in glass. As a further measure of precaution no food of any description showing even the slightest unnatural odor, unnatural color, swelling of the container, signs of gas, or any evidence of decomposition whatever, should be used for food purposes. In practically every case of botulism the food was shown to have had an offensive or abnormal odor. While all spoiled food may not contain Bacillus Botulinus, any spoiled food, even though the spoilage is slight, may contain it, and, in view of the fatal effect of very small amounts of the toxin which this organism generates, the only safe rule is to examine carefully all food products before they are served and to discard those which are even slightly suspicious.

CANADA'S STATUS AS A NATION

To Be Discussed By Dr. New, Professor of History, on Tuesday Evening

The third of the series of lectures by the Faculty of Brandon College will be given in the Collegiate auditorium on Tuesday evening next, by Dr. C. H. New, Professor of History. His subject will be "Canada's New National Status." Those who had the pleasure of hearing Dr. New last year will be eager to hear him again. The subject he is to discuss is a particularly live one. Every Canadian should be keenly interested in Canada's status as a nation. We have reached a point in our development that would have been almost inconceivable ten years ago.

How many of us know what our present relations to Great Britain actually are? Do we realize the extent of the changes that have taken place as a result of the Peace Conference and the organization of the League of Nations? Do we understand the nature of the objections made by the United States Senate to the treaty and its bearing on Canada's place in the League of Nations? Many of us cannot answer these questions. On Tuesday next, however, Dr. New will discuss these and similar questions of vital import.

In all such questions the historical background is important and Dr. New will trace rapidly Canada's development into nationhood from before 1837 to the present day and further he will discuss the possibilities of future development.

Among other matters of interest that will inevitably come up for consideration will be Canada's responsibility for naval defence and also its foreign policy. These are surely questions that every good citizen should be considering that it is to be hoped that the students of our city and the citizens in general will take advantage of this opportunity to hear Dr. New. The lecture is being promoted by the Educational Society of Brandon and the Board of Trade.

SOURIS DEFEATS RESTON, TIES UP LEAGUE RACE

Teams May Agree on Sudden Death Game in Brandon Next Week

The championship of the Southwestern League was tied up Wednesday night, when Souris defeated Reston by the score of 2-1 after a fair exhibition of hockey played in the Caledonian Rink. The game was played as the result of a protest lodged and won by the Reston team some time ago over a game won by the Souris team two weeks ago. The league officials ordered the game to be replayed and the teams agreed to play in Brandon. The win by the Souris team sewa up the district championship and it is expected that a sudden death game for the league honors will be played here next week.

A bad play by one of the Reston players was directly responsible for that team losing the exhibition. It came towards the end of the third period when one of the defense men carried the puck back towards his own goal, went around the nets, and started up the ice. A Souris forward was waiting for him however, grabbed the disc and with nobody to beat but the goaler scored what proved the winning tally. Up till that time the game had been a very close one with little to choose between either team. The back checking by the Souris players was really what won them the game as they were right after the Reston men when they started a jaunt up the ice, and on many occasions they spoiled what looked like sure tallies by their persistance in checking.

Reston More Finished Team

The Reston team really were the more finished team but they lacked the staying powers of their opponents, and the two or three outstanding players on the losing team were too closely watched to get away for tallies. Benson in goal for the winners looked after what shots did come his way in a manner which kept the opposing team out of the score list until a few minutes before time was called.

About 900 fans witnessed the game, the majority of the spectators coming in to Brandon on the special train. The teams got away promptly on time and from the time that Referee Evans dropped the puck in centre ice both went at it hammer and tongs. The play was about even in the first period, until Holmes took a nice pass from Stephenson and scored the first one for Souris. Both teams then tried many individual rushes in order to break through, the combination work of both Reston and Souris being badly out of commission for the evening. The end of the first period found the score still 1-0 in favor of Souris.

No Score in Second Period

Neither team was able to find the net in the second period although the puck was kept in the Souris end of the rink for practically the full time. The individual efforts of the players could not solve the defense system on either side, and the play went through twenty minutes without a change in the score. During the third period, the Reston team worked hard to even up the count. They sent their defense men well up the ice in an effort to get the equalizer. Towards the end of the period, the puck came down towards one of the McDougal boys. He grabbed it and instead of making straight up the ice, circled his own net. Townsend, who back checked like a fiend all night, was waiting for him, blockd McDougal's effort to bump the puck around the boards, and grabbed it. The rest was easy work and he shot the disc passed Miller for what proved to be the winning counter. Just a few minutes before full time Reston scored their lone tally while Souris was playing five men, a long shot fooling Benson.

For the winners, Benson, Stephenson and Townsend were the pick while E. McDougal and Munro were the pick of the losers. The following were the line-ups:

DEFENCE TO HAVE LAST WORD TO JURY

Justice Metcalfe Refuses To Allow Case To Be Withdrawn From Jury

Winnipeg, March 4.—Conclusion of the Crown's case in the trial of the seven accused strike leaders was reached at noon today, A. J. Andrews, K.C., senior counsel for the Crown, making this announcement following arguments by the defence on the admisalon of exhibits. The motion by R. A. Bonnar, K.C., for the defence, to have the case against the accused R. E. Bray, withdrawn from the jury, was over-ruled by Justice Metcalfe. Similar motions were introduced by Mr. Bonnar on behalf of Aldermen John Queen and A. A. Heaps. Arguments will be proceeded with at the afternoon session. On the advice of Justice Metcalfe the defence withdrew their point as to the admission of exhibits and will have the privilege of addressing the jury last.

ANOTHER CLEAN UP OF NEW YORK POLICE PREDICTED

New York, March 4. — Startling revelations as to the Police Department were predicted at the District Attorney's office after John J. Gunson, a police detective, had been indicted on charges of bribery and extortion. Three women testified before the grand jury against him.

Further indictments against members of the police force were forecast and it was said that disclosures would result in the greatest upheaval in the department since the Becker case. The grand jury for several months has been investigating the methods of members of the "vice squads" who arrest women.

Evidence has been obtained that some detectives are not only grafting upon women but are preventing them from leading better lives, according to the District Attorney's office.

Farmers Attention!

Prices for all Harness and Parts have advanced 20 per cent. during the past few days, and you will pay more for Harness Goods in the spring when you need them.

Our advice is—buy your requirements now, and we will give you the advantage of our early buying last November, when we paid spot cash for our present stock of Leather Goods. This stock is limited, however, and when all sold out prices will advance 20 per cent.—perhaps more.

is busy day and night turning out work for early delivery. Be wise and have your repairing done now and avoid the big rush at the last moment. We have three men repairing now, and can take good care of your order—but let us have it soon.

SCHROEDER FELL FIVE MILES IN TWO MINUTES

Shattered Altitude Record and Very Nearly Lost His Life

Dayton, O., March 5.—Major R. W. Schroeder, chief test pilot at McCook Field, fell more than five miles in two minutes after shattering the world's altitude record.

Major Schroeder climbed to a height of 36,020 feet, then plunged downward more than five miles when he lost control of his machine after his oxygen supply was exhausted. While still 2000 feet above the ground the aviator righted the plane and sailed down to make a graceful landing on McCook field.

When attendants rushed to the machine they found him sitting erect in the plane; blinded and unconscious. His eyeballs had been frozen, the temperature at the height to which he had ascended being 67 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit.

Battle Against Cold

At the hospital Major Schroeder told of the climb to heights never before attained; of his battle against cold, wind and lack of air, and of his determination to mount 40,000 feet, his objective when he took the air.

"I was thinking only of my desire to climb 40,000 feet, when suddenly my oxygen stopped flowing," he said. "Then, all at once, it seemed that an explosion took place inside my head. My eyes hurt so that I could not open them and I knew I was falling. I guess I pulled hard on the stick, for I knew I must straighten out for a glide. The plane rode easy. I opened my eyes, but could see nothing of the ground. Then I closed my eyes again for a moment, and when I opened them saw Wilbur Wright field. I knew I couldn't land there because of the hangars, and tilted my machine for a climb, intending to make sure of a good altitude and then jump with my parachute. But at that instant I saw McCook field. I guess I just became an automaton and came down all right.

Electrically-Heated Clothes

Major Schroeder took the air about 10.45 in the morning and battled for two hours and five minutes against changing air currents and bitter cold before he reached his record-breaking altitude.

Riding alone, almost seven miles above the earth in a Polar climate and against a wind that blows always at 100 miles an hour or more, Schroeder fought foot by foot to drive his plane higher.

Major Schroeder was dressed more warmly than any Polar explorer. He was literally wrapped in flexible electrical heaters. His flying suit was lined with the fur of Chinese mun-wang dogs and between the fur and outer lining flexible electric heat units, connected by silk-covered wires with the dynamo of the engine, heated the entire outfit.

Mysterious Visitant

Major Schroeder mounted far above the clouds, but the exhaust gas from his plane, freezing in the frigid temperature, caused a cloud-like formation to hang in the sky. As the plane was not visible from the earth, this curious formation puzzled Dayton citizens. Some believed it to be the tail of a comet and some inclined to the belief that a strange body was coming with a message from Mars. Professor William Beck, astronomer of St. Mary's College, observed the airplane through a telescope.

As the machine, on its downward rush, drew nearer to the earth, it came into view as a black speck with a long black tail in its wake. When the machine was about 2000 feet above the ground the watchers saw the machine suddenly righted. It was at this time that Major Schroeder pulled the control stick.

VALUES OF FARMS AND STOCK SHOWS FAIR INCREASES

Value of Improved and Unimproved Farms Including Buildings Is Now $52 An Acre

Ottawa, Ont., March 8.—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics publishes today a report on average values for the year of 1919 for farm lands; wages on farms for help and value of livestock.

The average value of farm land in Canada, including improved and unimproved lands, together with the value of the dwellings and farm buildings is placed at $52 an acre against $46 last year. This is an increase in value of $14 an acre in five years. Manitoba values rose to $35 in 1919. The average wages paid for farm help in Canada last year was for males, including board, $78, females, $43 per month. Manitoba figures were $89 and $52 respectively. Values of farm livestock now show a downward trend for horses, the value of milch cows increased while the value of other horned cattle, sheep and swine is either stationary or slightly lower.

OBITUARY

Thomas Bradley

On Thursday the remains of the late Thomas Bradley, who passed away in the city on Monday, will be shipped to Deleau, Man. where interment will be made.

Mrs. Elizabeth Jones

Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, aged seventy-four years, passed away on Sunday at the home of Mr. Hanna, 116 Seventh street. It is understood that Mrs. Jones was acting as housekeeper for Mr. Hanna.

Mrs. Frank Kerr

The remains of the late Mrs. Frank Kerr, who passed away in the city on Monday night, were shipped from George Brockie's undertaking parlors Wednesday to Redvers, Sask., for interment. The late Mrs. Kerr was a former resident of Redvers and leaves her husband, who is ill at present, and five children to mourn her loss.

Janet Clements

The death occurred on Wednesday in the city of Janet Clements, aged seventy-eight years, formerly of Killarney, Man. The remains were shipped this afternoon from Campbell & Campbell's undertaking parlors to Killarney, Man. where interment will be made on Saturday.

Maud and Albert Hardwick

Following a short service at Campbell & Campbell's undertaking parlors Tuesday afternoon, the remains of the late Miss Maud Hardwick and her brother the late Albert E. Hardwick, were laid to rest in Brandon cemetery. Rev. J. W. Churchill officiated. A large number of people attended the service and many beautiful floral tributes testified to the esteem in which the young people were held by their friends.

Mrs. Margaret McLeod

After a short illness of one week, Mrs. Margaret McLeod, the widow of the late James W. McLeod, of Brandon, Manitoba, died at the home of her brother, David Rattray, at 1522 Eleventh avenue, West, on Saturday, February 28th from pneumonia. The deceased who was 41 years of age is survived by her three small children and her mother Mrs. Rattray of this city, bsides her brother, David Rattray.—Calgary Herald.

Mrs. H. A. Black

One of Brandon's best known women passed away this morning in the person of Mrs. H. A. Black, wife of Mr. H. A. Black, 312 Tenth street. The late Mrs. Black was just sick a week and her death was caused by plural pneumonia. The deceased has lived in Brandon practically all her life and has a host of friends in the city who regret her death. Besides her husband, four children, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. McChesney, Princess avenue, East, and several brothers and sisters, are left to mourn her loss.

Mrs. John A. Langford

Mr. W. J. Miller, 240 Louise avenue, has received the sad news of the death of Mrs. Miller's mother, Mrs. John A. Langford, who passed away Saturday afternoon at her former home in Chatham, Ontario. Mrs. Miller was called East about a month ago owing to her mother's illness and was with her at the time of her death. A large number of Brandon friends will sympathize with Mrs. Miller in her bereavement. The late Mrs. Langford is survived by one daughter and four sons, three of the sons reside in the East and the fourth is a resident of Los Angeles, California. Mrs. Miller expects to return to Brandon in about a week's time.

Mrs. May Gamey

The death occurred Saturday morning in the city of Mrs. May Gamey, beloved wife of Mr. J. W. Gamey of Strathclair, Man., and third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. McDonagh, 17 First street. The late Mrs. Gamey was ill for about six weeks, the immediate cause of her death being influenza. The deceased, who was 29 years and 10 months of age, came to Brandon with her parents from Ontario when just a small child and had lived practically all her life in the city. She was very well known and had a host of friends who will regret her death. Besides her husband, two small sons, aged two years and six weeks respectively, her parents, and three sisters, Mrs. Brims, Winnipeg, Man., Mrs. J. J. Singleton of this city, and Miss Maud McDonagh at home, are left to mourn her loss.

Mr. Reginald Lawrence

After an illness of two weeks duration, Mr. Reginald Lawrence passed away this morning at the family residence, 232 Twentieth street. The death of Mr. Lawrence, from pneumonia, occurred under particularly sad circumstances as his wife is very seriously ill and there are two small children to be cared for. The late Mr. Lawrence has been a resident of Brandon for several years and was a member of the Manchester Unity, I.O.O.F. Sunday afternoon the remains of the late Mr. Reginald Lancelot Lawrence, who passed away late Thursday, were laid to rest in Brandon cemetery following a short service in St. George's Church. The members of the I.O.O.F. Manchester Unity, attended the service and acted as pall bearers. Owing to the illness of Rev. S. R. Hammond, the service was conducted by Rev. E. A. Anderson, Rector of St. Matthew's Church.

Mrs. M. Macdonald

Many Brandon friends will regret to learn of the death of Mrs. M. Macdonald, beloved wife of Mr. A. F. Macdonald, 144 Twenty-second street, which occurred this morning. The late Mrs. Macdonald, who was twenty-five years of age, had been in bed since last Saturday suffering from a mild attack of influenza and although she seemed better early this morning passed away very suddenly a few hours later after an attack of heart trouble. The late Mrs. Macdonald was formerly Miss Molly George, daughter of Dr. Henry George and Mrs. George of Red Deer, Alta. She was born in Alberta and came to Brandon from Red Deer about two years ago when Mr. Macdonald, a veteran who saw service in France in the early days of the war, accepted the position of accountant with the Imperial Life Insurance Company in this city. The late Mrs. Macdonald had a severe attack of influenza last year and since that time has suffered occasionally from pleurisy. Besides her husband and small son of three years, she is survived by her parents and several brothers and sisters in the West.

James R. Dilworth

The remains of the late James R. Dilworth were laid to rest Tuesday afternoon in Brandon cemetery, the pall bearers being Messrs. W. McFadden, George Ayres, I. Beattie of this city and E. Granger, D. Oliver, and C. Clark of Rounthwaite, former neighbors of the deceased. Following a short service at the home of the deceased's sister, 321 Ninth street, the cortege proceeded to St. George's Church, where the service was conducted by Rev. S. R. Hammond, assisted by Rev. E. A. Anderson. The funeral was under the auspices of the Loyal Orange Lodge No. 1512, of which the deceased was a prominent member. Rev. Bro. Lougheed, County Chaplain of the Lodge also assisted with the service. During the service Mrs. E. Pike sang very feelingly "Sometime we will understand."

In the course of his remarks Rev. S. R. Hammond expressed the regret of Rev. Stoddart of Wawanesa, who was to have assisted with the service but owing to illness in his own home, was unable to attend. Mr. Stoddart stated in his message that he had a high personal regard for the deceased both as a churchman and as a personal friend. Continuing his address Rev. Mr. Hammond spoke of the splendid character and life of devotion and Christian faith of the deceased which gave those whom he had left behind every hope for a future meeting.

The service was largely attended and many beautiful flowers testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held.

MARY, MARY, QUITE CONTRARY, MERELY WANTS FREEDOM

Denies She Divorced Owen Moore To Marry Some Other Man

Los Angeles, Cal., March 8.—Mary Pickford will never marry again, but will devote the remainder of her life to motion pictures, according to an interview she gave here to the Los Angeles Times. This was the first statement she had made to the press since she was granted a divorce from Owen Moore, Tuesday at Minden, Nevada.

"I sought a divorce because I wanted to be free," Miss Pickford said. "Mr. Moore is a charming man and most genial—but there are many instances where even two genial persons cannot agree. I went to Minden three weeks ago with mother. I had not planned to secure a divorce at that time. I was nervous and unable to work at the studio and wanted a rest. While I was there I was informed that Mr. Moore was not far away, working on location.

"Then I determined it was the opportune time. I had no knowledge beforehand that Mr. Moore would not contest the case, so I immediately secured a lawyer and filed my complaint.

"Some people think my divorce was secured to permit me to marry again," she continued. "This is not so, I merely wanted to be free. Mr. Moore and I have been separated for three years, and I had wanted a divorce, but it was simply to avoid such a situation as I have found myself in today that I put it off so long."

Most women would rather be flattered than praised.

WORST STORM OF WINTER: MANY TRAINS CANCELLED

Forty Mile Wind Downs Telegraph and Telephone Wires, Packs Snow Into Railway Cuts

ONE WIRE EAST

And This One Used By C. P. R. Dispatchers—C. N. R. Train Service Tied Up

With a forty mile an hour wind, now falling and the thermometer registering about two above zero, the storm which has prevailed since Sunday seemed to reach its height during Monday night and the people of Brandon and district experienced the most severe blizzard of the Winter. During the night five inches of snow fell. Telephone communication to Winnipeg, cut off Monday night, had not been resumed up to noon Tuesday. Southern Manitoba lines are also pretty well down. One C.P.R. telegraph wire, the dispatchers, was working East Tuesday morning. West of the city, better conditions prevailed, only one main line wire being down and others clear as far as Moose Jaw, Sask.

All trains out of Brandon on the C. N. R. running East to Winnipeg and West from the Capital and the Belmont train, were cancelled. No freight is moving on this road in Brandon district. Eighteen pole lengths of wire are down near Elie, Man.

There are a few electric light wires down around the city, but beyond several of the street lamps being effected very little damage was caused on Monday night.

Monday evening the street cars were forced to stop running at ten o'clock, but early Tuesday morning they were running practically on schedule time and during the day the service has been good considering the difficulties caused by wind and snow.

COMMONS MAY NOT SIT LATER THAN MAY 15TH

Debate On Address Concluded in Short Order—Little Contentious Legislation

Ottawa, March 16.—Leading members are predicting that the session will end by about May 15th. In support of this contention they point to the fact that fully two weeks was saved on the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne, which last year continued from February 20th to May 18th. Then it is pointed out there is apparently little legislation of a very contentious nature to come before the house, so they are hopeful of reaching prorogation by the above date.

SIMS SAYS U. S. HESITATION COST ALLIES 500,000 MEN

Also Treasure Amounting To $15,000,000,000—Failure To Act Promptly

Washington, March 16.—Blame for a loss to the Allies of 500,000 lives, 2,500,000 tons of shipping and $15,000,000,000, was laid on the Navy Department by Rear Admiral William S. Sims, testifying before the Senate Investigating Committee. This terrible loss, he said, resulted from failure of the Navy Department to take prompt action against the German submarine menace.

America could have lanced 1,000,000 men in France by March, 1918, instead of 300,000, and forced a German surrender by July 1, 1918, instead of in the following November, Sims asserted.

"These are conservative estimates based on official figures," he added, reading cables and letters he sent to the Navy Department on his arrival at London, pleading that every destroyer and light vessel available for anti-submarine service be rushed to the European zone.

Control of the sea was 'imperilled' and Allied communications "threatened," one cable to the department declared.

"My policies were finally adopted, [illegible] months later," Sims said.

Sims devoted much time to reading dozens of cables urging the Navy Department to send him anti-submarine craft. Even President Wilson was appealed to through a cable from Ambassador Page at London.

"A message received from the Navy Department on July 5, 1917, ndcated that they were at last begnnng to perceve that there was a war being fought in Europesan waters," Sims said.

"On July 1, 1917, the Secretary of the Navy sent me in a cable dispatch the first full statement of the Navy Department's policy which had been received. I particularly wish to stress the point that the first definite statement of policy was received on July 10, a few days over three months after we had declared war, as stated in my original letter of Jan. 7."

ANNUAL BULL SALE POSTPONED UNTIL THURSDAY

Many Buyers and Bulls Unable To Reach Brandon Because of Storm

SIXTY ANIMALS HERE

Delay in Starting Sale Necessary To Permit Appearance of Late Arrivals

The annual bull sale advertised to commence Wednesday has been postponed until Thursday when all the animals entered will be sold. This postponement of the sale has been found necessary in view of the fact that many of the bulls entered from outside points are unable to reach here owing to the difficulties of transportation due to the big storm. Many buyers who expected to be present at the sale will be unable to attend until Thursday so it was decided this morning to postpone the sale for one day.

Several more annimals arrived at the Arena today making about sixty bulls now quartered in the Arena stables. A few of the exhibitors have phoned to say that storm conditons will prevent them from sending their entries in to the sale. Among the animals to arrive today were those contributed by D. H. McFadden of Emerson, W. L. Parrish of Winnipeg, J. G. Washington of Ninga, Andrew Graham of Pomeroy and Dave Allison of Roland. One of the most outstanding animals of the sale will be a Shorthorn entered by George Allison of Burubank. This animal has not been placed in the catalog, but will be disposed of at the conclusion of the sale. W. T. Draper of Elgin and J. W. Durno of Calgary are the auctioneers for the sale.

A PEEP INTO THE INNER STRUCTURE OF THE UNIVERSE

To Be Given by Prof. T. R. Wilkins, M.A., at Fourth of Extension Lectures

EXPERT ON THIS SUBJECT

Prof. Wilkins Has Done Special Research Work—Lecture on Friday Night

On Friday evening of this week the fourth in the series of extension lectures being presented by the Faculty of Brandon College will be given in the Collegiate Auditorium. It will be a new voice this time and a distinctly new subject so far as past lectures are concerned. Professor T. R. Wilkins, M.A., teacher of Mathematics and Physics, will give an illustrated lecture on "Atoms Molecules and Electrons" a peep at the inner structure of the universe. While the title may appear somewhat formidable, the lecture itself will be in form and matter of the variety known as popular. It will also be illustrated by good slides that will add much to its effectiveness.

Professor Wilkins will try to demonstrate that some of the things that appear most mysterious to the ordinary mind are in reality simple, while some of the so-called simple things are full of mystery. His subject will naturally be intensely interesting to anyone who has any interest in scientific ideas.

Amongst the subjects that he will discuss will be electricity. He will tell something of its discovery and the steps in its development up to the present time. The speaker will describe the work of the famous Becquerel family and of Madame Curie in the discovery of Radium and will make clear what revolutionary changes we must make in our conception of matter. He will also tell something of the work of Prof. Rutherford late of McGill University, an acknowledged authority on the transmutation of matter.

For the benefit of those who are particularly interested in the subject, Prof. Wilkins will have an exhibit after the lecture in one of the class rooms of a number of things that could not possibly be shown by means of the screen.

Prof. Wilkins is no novice on this subject. He has done special research work on the Structure of Matter at Chicago University under Professor Michaelson and Millican, two of the world's greatest living physicians. He also worked with Prof. Millican on the U. S. National Research Commission at Washington, and later on war research work for the Western Electric Company of New York.

The lecture will be an unusual opportunity to hear a thoroughly qualified spectalist on a great subject, told in a simple popular way.

CAUCUSES OF BOTH POLITICAL PARTIES OTTAWA, TODAY

Naval Policy Is Likely To Be the Chief Topic For Discussion

Ottawa, March 16.—Canada's naval policy is to be discussed, at a caucus of the government supporters which has been called for today. It is expected that there will be a full discussion of the report on naval defences by Admiral Jellicoe and that this discussion will have much to do with the drawing up of a naval bill by the government. Just when that bill will be brought before the House is problematical at the present time.

Liberals Also

The Liberal members of the House also met in caucus today and it is expected their discussions will be along similar lines. The franchise bill brought down last week by Hon. Hugh Guthrie, will also probably come in for some discussion, and it is expected that the attitude of the Liberals in opposition to the government bill will then become crystalized.

Quebec Opposed

The forthcoming naval bill, and the attitude of the members from various sections of the country toward it, is causing considerable discussion in and about the parliament buildings at the present. It is expected that any proposals the government may bring down will meet with heavy opposition from certain quarters on the ground that the present is not an opportune time for any heavy expenditure for either naval or military defences. The chief opposition it is expected will come from Quebec.

Maritime Support

There is little doubt as to the attitude to be taken by members from the Maritime Province or from British Columbia. They are said to be strongly in favor of naval protection and some take the attitude that it is humiliating, particularly in view of Canada's recently acquired national status, to have to depend on Great Britain for the protection of merchant marine.

ALLIES WATCHING EVENTS IN GERMANY WITH GREAT INTEREST

London, March 16.—Premier Lloyd George, referring in the House of Commons to the German revolution, said the Allied Governments would regard with anxiety any movement representing a monarchial or military reaction, but that it was well to wait developments before taking any definite action.

The Premier read to the house a telegram from Lord Kilmarnock, British charge d'affaires, at Berlin, stating that the position of the new German Government appeared to have been strengthened.

GERMAN PROFESSOR DISCHARGED AS UNWORTHY OF CONTINUING BECAUSE OF BOOK ON WAR

Berlin, March 16.—Professor Nicolai, of the University of Berlin, has been declared unworthy of continuing his lectures by the Academic senate of the university, according to the London Times' correspondent. Judgment of the senate, it is asserted, was based mainly on Nicholai's book, the Biology of War, which contained condemnation of Germany's war aims and methods.

COMPLETE REPORT ON THE BRANDON WATERWORKS PLANT

Not Considered By Council As Only Two Members Answered Call

UTILITIES COMMISSION

Prepares Exhaustive Report and Recommends Several Great Changes

The preliminary report on the Brandon Waterworks system prepared by the Utilities Commission of Manitoba has been received by the City Council. It is stated that it will come up before the next meeting of the Council which will be held Wednesday night. The City Fathers did not meet Monday night only two members showing up for the regular meeting so that it was held over until Wednesday.

The report of the Utilities Commission covers forty-three pages of typewritten matter and is very exhaustive. Many improvements are recommended it is understood, the most important being that the city buy electric power from the Canada Gas & Electric Company to run their plant and dispense with the steam system. The report states that the Canada Gas & Electric Company offer a low rate on what is known as the off-peak power, that is power not used between midnight and four a.m. The Company is said to be willing to let the Utilities Commission decide the cost of the power. A stand pipe is also recommended but owing to the present high cost of iron and plating it may be inadvisable to erect this at the present time unless the city is willing to spend a considerable sum of money.

The report covers every department of the waterworks system and is very interesting. It was prepared by W. Scott, a consulting engineer with the Utilities Commission. It is stated that the report will be gone into very fully by the Council on Wednesday night.

RETURNED OFFICERS MAY FORM AN ASSOCIATION

About Forty Gather at Dinner and Discuss Questions of Interest

Monday evening, about forty of the returned officers in Brandon and a few guests from outside points, met for dinner in the private dining room of the Prince Edward Hotel. Brigadier General James Kirkcaldy presided and the guests from out of the city included, Major Belcher, of the R.C.M.P., Regina, Lieut. Goad of the Somerset Light Infantry, Capt. Doyle, Beulah, Man., Lieut. Magee, R.F.C., of Kemnay, and Lieutenant Waters of the King's Royal Rifles.

In an interesting address, Brigadier James Kirkcaldy spoke of the proposed Soldier's Memorial, the re-organization of the militia and the formation of a "War Anniversaries' Association." The object of this association would be to perpetuate what the Canadian's did in the war and to arrange for suitable celebrations in the schools, etc., to take place on the anniversary of the great battles in which the Canadians won honor for the Dominion.

During the evening Lieut. Robinson, formerly of the Royal Irish Rifles, told those present some of his experiences while a prisoner of war in Germany.

The committees formed at this meeting with the officers appointed on each are as follows. The War Anniversaries' Association Committee which will make further plans regarding the association, Brigadier General James Kirkcaldy, Major W. J. Creelman, Major C. J. Whillier, Capt. W. H. Shillinglaw, Capt. A. F. Campbell, Capt. H. Groff and Lieut. E. C. Whitehead. Social committee, to look after the programs etc., for celebrations of anniversaries, Capt. G. Coldwell, Capt. A. R. Hurst, Capt. J. T. Norquay, Lieutenants J. M. Donaldson, A. Meadows, Stone, Camp and West.

Memorial Committee, Major Epton, Captains D. Marshall, J. C. B. Inkster, and V. E. Latimer.

FRANCE'S PREPARATIONS A USEFUL WARNING TO GERMAN FERMENTATION

Paris, March 16. — The Echo de Paris says that Marshal Foch, who on his recent trip to the Rhine, affirmed that he possessed, as President of the Military Commission at Versailles, his former commission as commander-in-chief of the Allied armies, will soon return to Mayence, adding: "France's preparations of every kind will be a useful warning to German fermentation."

FARM WORKER SUES FOR WAGES: A COUNTER CLAIM

Set Up By Employer For Loss of Time By Teams During Employe's Absence

Only one County Court case was heard Tuesday morning when sitting opened, the remaining three cases being referred back to Chambers and will be argued later. The case before His Honor Judge Cumberland this morning was that of Pscherza vs. Kelly, in which the plaintiff sought $121 as back wages, while Kelly counter-claimed for the amount of $115.50 as damages caused by the absence of Pscherza for fifteen days during harvest. At the conclusion of the case, His Honor reserved his decision.

The plaintiff William Pscherza went to work for Martin Kelly of Douglas last July. He claimed the sum of $121 as being the balance of wages earned by him while in the employ of Martin from the first of July 1919 until the 15th of November at $75 per month, less fifteen days lost time.

Kelly claimed that the plaintiff was hired by him for a period of four months for the lump sum of $300. He completed his time with the exception of fifteen days when he was absent without leave or notice. Kelly said that he had already paid Pscherza the sum of $141.90 for services rendered, and counter-claimed for a set-off against the plaintiff's claim in the sum of $115.50. This amount was made up as follows; To four horses and outfit idle from plowing for 4 1-2 days, $49.00; to loss of work for 4 1-2 days by plaintiff absenting himself, $10.50; and to loss of work by Pscherza absenting himself while threshing, $56.00.

The case resolved itself into a knotty problem when it was explained that the cause of Pscherza's absence from work was because he had been summoned to appear before the Court under a charge laid under the Military Service Act last Summer. The Pscherza case was before the Court for some time. In his evidence this morning, Kelly stated that up until the time that Pscherza's case was settled the employe had been quite satisfactory but after that he became insolent in many of his answers. On the first of November he stated that he was going to leave, and Kelly asked him to work fifteen additional days [illegible] call it square. Pscherza refused to do this and left, saying that the house was too cold to sleep in.

Following the presentation of the case by both counsels, His Honor Judge Cumberland said that the case was a peculiar one as the man had been called away by a process of law. He could see no reason why Pscherza did not accept Kelly's offer. However as there were some authorities to be looked up on the case he reserved decision.

The case of Kelly vs. Gooding was set back to Chambers when it will be heard March 26th; the Cristal et al vs. Canada Gas and Electric Company case will be argued April 23rd while the Cristall vs. Gold action will come before Judge Cumberland April 22nd.

DUTCH KEEP CLOSE WATCH OVER FORMER GERMAN EMPEROR

Amsterdam, March 16. — Advices here Monday indicated that the Dutch Government will take no chances with the former Kaiser of Germany and his son, the former Crown Prince. Alarmed by reports of the monarchistic tendencies of the revolution in Berlin, the Dutch authorities, the dispatches said, have increased their guard on the former Emperor's retreat.

Take Precaution Against Escape

London, March 16.—The reactionary movement in Germany makes the question an acute one at Rotterdam, says the Times' correspondent in that city. It is learned from reliable sources, he adds, that the decision of the former Emperor's future residence is being seriously considered. Meanwhile extensive measures are being taken for any eventuality.

The Dutch Government has considered allotting him a residence in one of the Zeeland Islands. This was abandoned owing to the possibility of escape by boat, and, further, because the climate is not suitable for the former empress, whose health has given rise to anxiety lately.

Evidently the former Kaiser is being well posted on events; great activity prevails in this neighborhood and a constant stream of cars is going and coming.

Wiljiam Under Strain

Amerongen, March 16.—Former Emperor William spent the greater part of Sunday in the garden of Bentinck Castle, where he passed up and down with evidence of being under great nervous strain. Religious services which have been held regularly there every Sunday were omitted.

INSPECTOR FOSTER TO HAVE CHARGE BRANDON DISTRICT

Of the Provincial Police Under the New Plan of Organization

RECORD OF SERVICE

Unequalled In Provincial Police Circles in Whole of Western Canada

J. R. Foster, who has been a Provincial police constable since 1881, has been appointed Inspector for the Brandon district under the new reorganization scheme for the Provincial Police. Under the plans now being worked out Manitoba has been divided into six districts. The Brandon division takes in all the Western Judicial District, the other district centres for the Province being located at Winnipeg, Portage, Morden, Dauphin and Minnedosa. Adam Ross, one of the best known constables in the West will come here from Virden as Sergeant in the Brandon district. It is understood that another constable will also be stationed here.

As the local district takes in the towns of Souris, Melita, Reston and Virden, it is intended to have constables in each of these towns. Sergt. McSherry of Souris is the only known appointment as yet in these towns.

The appointment of Mr. Foster to the position of inspector comes as the reward for a service which is unequalled in Provincial Police circles in Western Canada. Detective Foster first joined the police service in 1881, when he became a member of the Winnipeg police force. In 1882 he entered the Provincial service and has served under every Attorney-General since that time. He is the oldest Provincial constable still on duty and his record is an admirable one in every way. He has never been reprimanded by the head of his department since he took over his duties as a constable.

Beginning with his participation in the boundary disputes of 1882 between Ontario and Manitoba, Foster's record has been an active one. He has acted in five murder cases in which there were convictions and he has been a prominent figure in the handling of thousands of cases since he first entered the service. One of his more recent cases was the solving of the [illegible] which he and Constable Ross of Virden acted.

PORTABLE HOUSES SAID TO BE BOTH WARM AND CHEAP

Chicago, March 16.—If the portable house plan is adopted to any great extent in Chicago, manufacturers and their employes will have solved one of their greatest problems. The manufacturer whose plant is on the outskirts of the city will be relieved of the worry of having his men late to work and the employes themselves not only will be living more cheaply and probably more comfortably than they have, but will also save car fare and can sleep later in the morning.

This estimate of the value of the portable house was expressed today by W. S. Adams, an appraiser, Mr. Adams has been appraising buildings and houses for more than thirty years.

Move Plants to Outlying Districts

"Manufacturers are beginning to learn the folly of crowding their plants close together in the districts near the loop," he said. "More and more are they going to the outlying districts, where they have lots of room, and are building one story plants. In the neighborhood of these plants there are any number of vacant lots that can be purchased from $250 to $500.

"Now, if the employes of these manufacturers are wise they will snap up these lots and erect portable houses. From the standpoint of economy they will be saving money from that of convenience they will be able to walk to work. The portable house scheme will be a boon to employers and employes alike. On the northwest side there are many manufacturing plants transportation is good on Elston avenue, Milwaukee avenue and Cicero avenue cars.

Can be Made Comfortable

"Regarding the theories of the skeptical, I will say that the portable house has reached a state of perfection whereby it is as warm as any stove heated house with an eight-inch brick wall. By means of a concrete foundation eighteen inches deep, sleepers' on top of that, siding on the outside, the houses are airproof. The distribution of heat throughout the house is even. I think everything is in favor of the portable house."

An assistant engineer of the board of education maintained that the portable schoolhouses, without concrete foundations, had heat approximating 68 degrees. The portable houses, with the foundation, should be even more comfortable than the schoolhouses, which had proved eminently satisfactory.

POLICE SEARCH FINALLY LOCATES MISSING MAN

Alex Tyo Left Employ of Douglas Farmer, Did Not Claim Wages

One of the mysteries which confronted the police last Summer and has been somewhat puzzling to the people of Douglas has been cleared up through the location of a man named Alex Tyo. Word has been received by Detective Foster that Tyo is now working near Cornwall, Ontario, and that he has been employed for some time there by a farmer.

Tyo was a farm hand in the employ of Martin Brothers, North of Douglas. On the 13th of June last he disappeared, leaving his trunk and clothes behind him and also a sum of wages amounting to over $150. His identification papers and other valuable documents were also left behind in an old trunk. Following his disappearance the police were notified, but efforts by the authorities were unsuccessful in their search. Not a trace of the missing man could be found and no one had seen him leave any of the surrounding towns.

The search was kept up by the Provincial Police and letters sent in all directions in order to get some trace of the missing man. Finally a letter reached Tyo's brother and finally Alex was located at Cornwall. How he got there and why he left in such a mysterious manner is still to be cleared up, but his papers and vainables are being sent East along with his wages.

C. P. R. PASSENGER AGENTS HAVING NOVEL EXPERIENCE

Time of Arrival of Their Special Train Uncertain Owing To Storm

OWING TO DELAY

Plans For Their Entertainment While In Brandon Have To Be Cancelled

Mr. Robert Dawson, District Passenger Agent of the C.P.R. in this city who has been in Toronto, Ont., attending the annual convention of the C.P.R. officials, is expected to pass through the city tonight in company with the other District Passenger Agents who have been attending the annual meeting and who are now en route to Vancouver Island, on a trip across Canada for the purpose of getting in closer touch with the requirements of the tourist trade.

The party is travelling by special train and while it is expected to arrive in the city about eight o'clock tonight, the trains have been so delayed on account of the storm, that it is impossible to state definitely just when it will arrive. Owing to this fact it has been impossible to arrange for an informal reception which it was at first hoped could be tendered the visitors upon their arrival in Brandon, as they were scheduled to make a three hour stop here.

This is the first time in the history of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company that the entire force engaged in the supervision and solicitation of tourist traffic will visit British Columbia. The party will be given every opportunity to obtain a better knowledge of Vancouver, Victoria and other places on the coast.

SUSTAINS BROKEN HIP FROM FALL ON ICE

A rather serious accident occurred on Monday when Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, 27 Thirteenth street, slipped on some ice in the yard and fell, sustaining a fractured hip. She was taken to the Brandon General Hospital, where she is getting along as well as possible. Dr. W. J. Elliott is the attending physician.

ADMIRAL JELLICOE PRESENTS REPORT ON NAVAL PROJECT

Which Canada Should Undertake If She Is To Play Worthy Part in Empire

A NAVAL MINISTER

And Canadian Naval Board To Administer Service and Account To Parliament

Ottawa, March 11.—Admiral Lord Jellicoe recommends the administration of the navy by a Canadian naval board along the lines of the Militia Council at present in existence. There should be a Minister of the Navy, and exclusively responsible for the service to parliament.

Ottawa, March 11.—"If Canada decides to co-operate in the general naval needs of the Empire it may be convenient to possess a basis on which to build up her fleet. The basis suggested under these conditions is a fleet-unit, which it is considered that war experience has shown should comprise in the case of Canada: One battle cruiser, two light cruisers, six destroyers, four submbaines, and two fleet mine-sweepers.

"The naval force suggested as adequate purely for the protection of Canada's ports comprises: Three light cruisers, one flotilla leader, twelve torpedo craft, eight submarines with one parent ship."

Report Tabled

The above excerpt from the report of Viscount Jellicoe, admiral of the fleet, on his naval mission to Canada, which was tabled in the Commons Wednesday afternoon by Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, Minister of Naval Service, indicate what this minent authority on naval affairs considers are Canada's naval requirements if she is to play her part in empire affairs, and also if she is to protect her own shores.

The report, which is not a lengthy one, after mentioning the subjects on which advice was requested by the Government of Canada, deals with the question of a Canadian navy under a number of specific heads. It mentions that naval assistance in the shape of cruisers, destroyers and other small vessels rendered during the last 18 months of the war by the United States, was of great help in the institution of protecting trade by convoy, and that without this help Great Britain would only have been able to use convoys to a sufficient extent to meet the submarine menace by abandoning some of her overseas expeditions.

Four suggestions ranging from a $25,000,000 fleet to one costing $5,000,000 are made by Admiral Jellicoe in his report. Although he does not state specifically what would be the cost of the fleet recommended for Canada, as given above, he includes a table in his report which shows the cost of the various vessels mentioned. It places the cost of a battle cruiser at four million pounds or approximately $20,000,000, and that of a light cruiser at approximately $2,500,000. He emphasizes the importance of air work in the navy, stating that any navy to be complete must possess its proper complement of aircraft.

Under the heading of "administration," the report states that "it is impossible to omit mention of the immense advantages that result from keeping the naval service outside the region of party politics." It expresses the view that there should be a Minister of the Navy and exclusively responsible for that service, and that the other seafaring affairs should be conducted by another minister. The Minister of Naval Affairs would be responsible to parliament and the administratiin proposed would place the final control of the navy under civil authority.

Admiral Jellicoe goes into the questions of personnel and discipline. He makes recommendations with regard to rates of pay and pensions for officers and men. He also recommends the continuation of the Royal Naval Canadian Volunteer Reserve under the title of Royal Canadian Naval Reserve.

PRUSSIAN OFFICERS TRAINING SCHOOL HAS BEEN CLOSED

Von Hindenburg Tells Cadets Services Rendered Country Will Never Be Forgotten

Berlin, March 11.—The chief training school for cadets at Grosslichterfelde, Prussia, through which most of the officers of the German army passed, was closed Wednesday in accordance wth the terms of the Peace Treaty.

There was an imposing military demonstration attended by a number of officers in gala uniform, including General Ludendorff.

Field Marshal Von Hindenburg telegraphed to the cadets that the services they had rendered the country would never be forgotten.

PACIFIC FLIGHT TO BE GREATEST AIR RACE IN HISTORY OF AVIATION

New York, March 11.—The race between America and Great Britain to be first to fly across the Pacific will be the greatest air race in history, according to navy aviation officers attending the second aeronautical exposition here. It will surpass even the trans-Atlantic race, they said and will take place within the coming year.

While Secretary of the Navy Daniels has made a qualified denial of the statement that the United States was preparing to build two planes each larger than the N. C.4, which made the trans-Atlantic hop, for the purpose of bridging the Pacific by air, naval aviation officials maintain this is the ultimate object for which the giant airships are being constructed.

BRITISH WARSHIP IN BLACK SEA STRUCK BY SHELL

London, March 11.—It was stated in the House of Commons that the British warship Steadfast had been fired upon in the Black Sea by "Green Guards" and struck by a 60 pound shell. No details have been received as to casualties or damage.

U. S. NAVAL CRAFT HELD AT HOME FOR EVENTUALITIES

According To Intimation In Admiral Sims' Testimony Before Naval Committee

Washington, March 11.—Indications that the United States navy department withheld sending all available American naval craft to European waters early in the war because of a desire to keep the main body of that nation's sea strength intact, for possible eventualities, were contained in Admiral Sims' testimony today before the senate committee, investigating the naval conduct of the war.

ALLIES DETERMINED TURKS MUST OBEY ARMISTICE TERMS

Treating Armenians and Other Subject Races as Human Beings

TO OCCUPY POSTS

By Military and Naval Forces To Enforce Terms If Necessary

London, March 11.—It is believed that the report presented to the supreme council by the allied commissioners in Constantinople, proposes very sharp measures to impress upon Turkey that the allies are determined to have Turkey comply with the armistice terms and treat Armenians and other subject races in accordance with the ideals of Western civilization.

To this end the council is believed to have ordered certain important points in European and Asiatic Turkey occupied by allied naval and military forces.

NO OBLIGATION TO MAINTAIN STANDING ARMY

Copenhagen, March 11.—Whether joining the League of Nations is synonymous with the duty of keeping up a standing army to be placed at the disposal of the league to enforce the league's decisions has been for a long time a burning question in Denmark and Norway. The democratic majority, against the protests of Conservatives in both countries, read the treaty as giving a member of the league full right to abolish its army and navy.

Lord Robert Cecil, the British representative of the league, in reply to an inquiry by the President of the Norwegian Storthing says: "I have no doubt that your reading of Article 8 of the treaty is right. Undoubtedly it was never meant to put on any member of the league the burden and duty to keep up military forces."

STRONG RALLY IN FOREIGN EXCHANGE ON NEW YORK MARKET

New York, March 11.—Another strong rally in foreign exchange occurred at the opening of the market. Rates on demand notes for English pound sterling ent up to $3.82 1-4.

BRITISH PARLIAMENT DISCUSSED FINANCES: SHIPS HUGE EARNINGS

London, March 11.—The House discussed finance at great length today. It was stated that the earnings of controlled ships had exceeded the estimate by 54,000,000 pounds.

ARCHBISHOPS OF CANTERBURY AND YORK TELL PLANS

Will Close Western Canada Fund and Give Over Trust Fund of $250,000

WESTERN DIOCESES

To Benefit Largely in Change of Plans of Administration

London, March 11. — The Archbishops of Canterbury and York have issued a statement regarding the closing of their Western Canada fund. They propose to hand over their missions and equipment to the church in Canada as a permanent part of its organization, together with a trust fund of £50,000, the interest on which will maintain a mission and supports a body of pioneer clergy, especially minister emigrants and settlers in the new districts in the West. The gifts will be presented at the great centenary service at Winnipeg on October 13th.

TO ASK FOR REFERENDUM ON LIQUOR IN ONTARIO

Toronto, March 11.—Asserting that it was merely a difference of opinion between the Rev. Ben Spence and the majority of the members of the executive committee of the alliance, Rev. Dr. A. S. Grant of the referendum committee, declared that the referendum committee was going ahead with its proposal to have a referendum taken in this province, on the important question he intimated that the Drury government was with the committee.

CANADA IS A FIRST CLASS MEMBER LEAGUE OF NATIONS

According To Statement By. Hon. N. W. Rowell in House of Commons

Ottawa, March 11—Canada is among the "first class" members of the League of Nations, according to a statement by Mr. Rowell in the House of Commons Wednesday afternoon.

In conformity of Article Six of the Peace treaty with Germany, Canada's contribution toward the league is fixed on a basis of the apportionment of the expenses of the international bureau of the Universal Postal Union, but the actual amount which Canada may be called upon to contribute must necessarily depend upon the number and classification of these states which become members of the League of Nations. Canada's contribution for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1920, was fixed at 16,234 pounds, which at the current rate of exchange on Feb. 13, the date on which the draft was sent to London amounted to $64,043.15.

GERMANS TO BE ASKED TO IMPOSE SEVERE PENALTIES

On Those Who Inflicted Outrages On the Inter-Allied Commission

Paris, March 11.—The conference of ambassadors today decided to send the German government a very firmly worded note, demanding immediate application of penalties promised for the outrages suffered by the officers of the inter-allied commission to the Baltic states during the German evacuation of this region.

SOUP AROMA BREAKS DOWN HUNGER STRIKE

Two Hundred Aliens Unable To Withstand Aroma and Arguments

Detroit, March 11. — Two hundred aliens who went on a hunger strike on Tuesday at Fort Wayne, called it off last night when they succumbed to the aroma of soup and the arguments of Dr. P. L. Prentis, immigration inspector.

ALL AGREEABLE AT UNIONIST CAUCUS

Sir Geo. Foster To Issue a Statement Later In the Day

Ottawa, March 11.—At the close of today's caucus of union government supporters, Sir George Foster stated that he would prepare a statement to be issued later in the day.

Private members stated that there had been perfect unanimity on all the questions touched upon.

WORK FOR NATIONALIZATION BY CONSTITUTIONAL MEANS UNION CONGRESS DECIDES

London, March 11.—The special trade union congress in session here, voted overwhelmingly today against the strike policy and in favor of continued efforts, by constitutional means, to effect the nationalization of mines.

SILVER MINES IN ONTARIO SHOW BIG PROFITS 1917-18

Net Profits From Mines Were $9,731,000—Gold Breaks About Even

Toronto, March 12.—In his address on "Expectations" at the session of the Canadian Mining Institute, G. R. Mickle, mine assessor at the parliament buildings, stated that the profits from silver mining in Ontario during the season 1917-1918 were $13,534,000. Out of this was deducted a provincial tax of $285,000, a municipal tax of $174,000, and a war tax of $389,000, making a total of $848,000. The net profits from the mines were $9,731,000. In speaking of the paying and non-paying enterprises in the mining districts, he said that at the present time gold mines were breaking about even with no profits or loss, while there were profits in the silver mines.

The big development in mining and metallurgy which has marked the camp at Cobalt during the past 10 years was rferred to by J. G. McMillan in his address on "Recent Developments in Mining in Northern Ontario."

"Manitoba is the most recent province to become interested in mining," said J A. Campbell, M.P., in his address on "Attitude of Canadian Governments Towards Mining Develment." He declared that the Dominion Government should state definitely whether it intended to turn the natural resources of Manitoba to the province or still keep them under Federal control.

KURDISTAN MAY BE AN INDEPENDENT NATION

Constantinople, March 10. — The Turkish press is much agitated over the understanding between the Armenians and the Kurds and the efforts of the Kurdish leaders in Paris to obtain autonomy for Kurdistan.

Abdul Kador Effendi, representing Kurdestan in the Senate, when approached by the journalists, confirmed the agreement between the Armenians and the Kurds to cease fighting. He also stoutly defended Kurdistan's claims for autonomy.

The Turkish newspapers insist that it is proposed to sever religious ties, and they attack the Kurdish leaders on religious grounds. The Tasvir-I-Efkiar (Mirror of Opinions) says: "What good can come to Kurdistan, which is not a part of the Ottoman Empire and the Mussulman world. It is ridiculous that an Ottoman senator should cherish such ideas."

An autonomous or independent Kurdistan, it is argued, connecting on the North with an independent Armenia, and on the South with Mesopotamia under British control, would form an effective barrier between Turkey and the English-controlled Persia project for a route to India. Therefore diplomats here assert that they would not be surprised to hear of an autonomous or even an independent Kurdistan receiving the support of Great Britain.

TO CURTAIL IMPORT OF LUXURIES INTO THE DOMINION

Ottawa, March 12.—Measures to curtail the importation of luxuries, it is rumored, may be the feature of the next Budget proposals.

NEW BRUNSWICK MAY HAVE NEW LABOR PARTY

Fredickton, March 12.—The New Brunswick Federation of Labor yesterday endorsed the proposal that the executive call a convention to ogranize an Independent Labor Party in the province.

ANTI-BRITISH STICKERS

Chicago, March 12.—Postal inspectors have begun an investigation of complaints from a Chicago manufacturing firm that anti-British stickers have been pasted on its mail recently after the letters had left the office. The stickers placed on the reverse of the envelope read: "Buy nothing that is made in England."

ELTON COUNCIL MAY CONSTRUCT SOME GOOD ROADS

Asks That Engineer Be Sent To Prepare Estimates of Cost of Roads

GRANT TO REST ROOM

In Brandon Is $275—John Crawford Named Weed Inspector

One of the most important meetings this year of the Elton Council was held Wednesday in Forrest, when a large amount of business was transacted. The application of John Crawford for Weed Inspector and Assessor was accepted, a grant of $275 was made to the Brandon District Rest Room Association, plans were made for better roads in the Municipality and many other weighty matters were dealt with.

At this meeting communications were received from the Children's Aid Society of Winnipeg asking for a financial grant; Mr. B. Swan, explaining his position regarding horses impounded; and five applications for weed inspector and assessor.

The following deputations waited upon the Council. Mr. Alex. Miller requesting a grant for the Justice Boys and Girls Club Fair. A representative from the United Grain Growers Limited and also from the Minneapolis Steel and Machinery Company, Limited, who explained the merits of their graders and engines for road building.

Reeve Davidson explained to the latter that as the municipality had not as yet come under the Good Roads Act, they were not in a position to purchase road building machinery.

The following resolutions were passed at this meet.

Anderson-Black;—That we, the Council of the Municipality of Elton, do hereby recommend that Mrs. Geo. McKay get a monthly allowance of sixty-five dollars from the Mother's Allowance Act.

McDougall-Forsyth,—That each councillor be appointed fire guardian for their respective wards.

Black-Anderson,—That the communication of B. Swan be laid over until the next meeting of the Council and that the parties interested be requested to attend.

Webster-McDougall,—That we accept the application of John Crawford as assessor and weed inspector for 1920 at a salary of $600.

Black-Anderson;—That we grant fifty dollars to Justice Boys and Girls Club Fair.

Robertson-McDougall;—That we grant the Children's Aid Society thirty-five dollars.

Anderson-Forsyth;—That we grant the Brandon District Rest Room Association the sum of $275.

Reeve Davidson explained to the Council that at a meeting of representatives from the municipalities interested in the Rest Room it was agreed that larger grants were required in order to meet the increased expenditures. So the grant of $275 was made.

Black-Webster;—That the auditors report be accepted and that the secretary be instructed to get 500 copies printed and distributed to the ratepayers.

Prepare Estimate on Good Roads

McDougall-Webster;—That we, the Council of the Municipality of Elton do hereby request that an engineer be sent from the Good Roads Board to prepare an estimate for the following roads, for the purpose of placing the same under the Good Roads Act.

Douglas-Treeford road. Starting at Douglas and running North to the boundary of the Municipality.

Justice road. Starting at the correction line and running North to the boundary of the Municipality.

Minnedosa Road. Starting at the correction line East of 4-11-18 and North to the Municipal boundary.

Forrest road. Commencing at the correction line and running North to the boundary of the Municipality.

Rapid City road. Commencing at the correction line East of 4-11-19 and running North to the Northeast corner of 21-12-19, then West one mile and North to the Municipal boundary.

Carnegie-Forrest and Justice road. Commencing at the West boundary of the Municipality and proceeding East between township 11 and 12 to the East boundary of the Municipality.

The correction line. Starting at the Southwest corner of 6-11-19 and running East to Eighteenth street.

FOREIGN BORN PEOPLE LEAVING UNITED STATES

Prohibition Said To Be Cause of Emigration Exceeding the Immigration

New York, March 12.—Prohibition is causing so many foreign born to leave the United States that emigration is now exceeding immigration. Since January 53,000 came to the United States and 61,000 people left.

TO SELL 'WORKERS' LIBERTY BONDS' TO NEW YORKERS

Another Little Touch To Be Made On Those Who Have Ready Money

New York, March 12.—New York is becoming the happy hunting ground for those who are in need of a little ready money for propaganda purposes. No sooner has De Valera departed, leaving a trail of "Irish Republic" bonds behind, and carting a lot of the hard-earned money of the Home Rule faction of the Irish colony, than there comes the announcement of another little touch—this time for propaganda purposes in Canada. The announcement was made by the Workers' Defence Union, and is to the effect that "workers liberty bonds" issued by the Winnipeg Strike Defence Committee are on sale at the union's headquarters over on the other side. Evidently it is not believed that the New York Socialists are as open-hearted or as affluent as the supporters of the Irish republic, for while De Valera's bonds ranged from $10 to $100, the rate is considerably lower in the case of the latest propaganda issued. The workers' liberty bonds are denominations of $1, $2 and $5. A mass meeting is being arranged by local Socialists to protest against the sentence of Bob Russell, the Winnipeg strike leader, and an attempt will be made to dispose of some of the Winnipeg labor bonds at this gathering.

ONTARIO'S FARMER-LABOR LEGISLATURE NOW IN SESSION

Toronto, March 10.—Under circumstances of exceptional interest and considerable speculation, the first session of the 15th legislature of the Province of Ontario was opened here Tuesday. It is the first Farmer-Labor legislature in the history of Canada, and the Farmer Government of the Hon. E. C. Drury holds power by the narrow nominal majority of two members in the legislature of one hundred and eleven seats.

The speech from the throne was in part as follows: "Under the provision of the Temperance Referendum Act, certain questions therein set out were submitted to the electors of this province on the 14th day of October last. The answers to those questions, declaring by a substantial majority against the repeal of the Ontario Temperance Act will be laid before you. By the revocation of the Dominion order-in-council, prohibiting the importation of liquor during the war, a new problem has arisen, which will call for careful consideration and appropriate action.

"Recent developments point to a departure from the long-established rigidity of party lines and to a greater measure of freedom on the part of the representatives of the people. It is the wish of my ministers that this house will, both by initiative and free discussion, give the full benefit of its wisdom to the shaping of legislation and the framing of public policy.

"The educational needs of the province, arising out of the conditions which prevailed prior to and during the war, have received the thoughful consideration of the government. Measures will be submitted to you providing for a revision of the public school law, and for a revision of the Public Libraries Act so as to afford encouragement to those institutions.

"Plans have been matured by the Department of Agriculture for affording a greater stimulus to agricultural production in this province, for improving the quality of livestock, and for fostering certain undertakings on behalf of the farmer which cannot be accomplished by individual effort."

WOMEN'S PLATFORM ACCORDING TO INTERIM REPORT

Includes Knowledge of English or French Before Receiving Franchise

INDUSTRIAL STANDARDS

Provide For Equal Pay for Equal Work of Equal Quantity and Quality

Ottawa, March 11—Citizenship from different angles, was the subject under discussion at yesterday's session of the executive of the national council of women.

Included in the interim report to be used as a basis for women's platform to be presented for adoption at the annual meeting of the national council, are, basis—truth, justice, righteousness, loyalty, equal moral standards in public and private life, political equality for men and women, speaking knowledge of either English or French language for men and women before receiving franchise, naturalization of women independent of nationality of husband, uniform dominion marriage laws and uniform divorce laws with no financial barrier.

Under the heading of industrial standards, comes equal pay for a work of equal quantity and quality, the principle of collective bargaining, minimum wage and eight hour day.

The platform fixes political standards in provincial affairs the same as in federal activities.

COST OF UNFINISHED PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS ALREADY OVER $6,000,000

Ottawa, March 11.—The new parliament buildings cost $6,954,118.15 to February 28th last, according to a return tabled in the House Wednesday afternoon. The contractors are to receive 8 per cent. on the total cost of the building dating from February 3rd, 1916, up to the amount of $4,000,000 and 7 per cent. on the cost in excess up to $1,000,000, it being understood and agreed that he is not to receive any commission on the cost in excess of $5,000,000. The architects receive 5½ per cent. on the total cost of reconstructing the parliament buildings, this commission not to apply to an amount exceeding $5,000,000.

KING AMENDMENT FOR AN ELECTION LOST BY 34 VOTES

It Was a Straight Party Vote Without "Switches" From Either Side

LIBERALS SANG ALOUETTE

An Old French Folk Song During the Registration of Votes

Ottawa, March 10.—The debate on the address concluded in the house at 2.20 this morning. Mr. Mackenzie-King's amendment calling for a Federal election was defeated by 112 to 78, a majority of 34. The Government supporters cheered wildly on the announcement of the vote. It was a straight vote without "switches" on either side of the house. The eleven cross-benchers present all voted with the opposition. The eleven were: Messrs. Crerar, Dr. Clark, Thompson (Qu'Appelle), Maharg, Reid (MacKenzie), Johnston (Last Mountain), Kennedy, Gould, Halbert, Knox and Caldwell.

The amendment was declared lost and the address was adopted without further division. The house adjourned at 2.50 a.m.

During the registering of votes the opposition sang "Alouette," an old French folk-song, and cries of "Are we downhearted?" and "No, No," resounded throughout the chamber.

Lapointe Continues Debate

Ernest Lapointe, member for East Quebec resumed the debate in the evening, following Hon. N. W. Rowell's reply to Hon. Chas. Murphy. Mr. Lapointe said the government was trying to exploit the illness of the Prime Minister. They must not be allowed to screen themselves behind that misfortune, when everybody sincerely regretted as they had managed to screen themselves for several years behind the deeds of our brave soldiers.

When Captain Thomas Wallace, York, Ont., West, asked how many Unionists Mr. Lapointe thought would be elected in Quebec province if they went to the country now, Mr. Lapointe answered "Not one."

Hon. Martin Burrell followed Lapointe. Mr. Burrell spoke of the esteem in which Mr. Rowell was held by his colleagues in the cabinet. Mr. Burrell declared that he could not conceive of a speech more calculated than that of Mr. Murphy to thwart the purposes which the Liberal party was formed. Mr. Burrell claimed that there was less unrest in Canada than in any other country. The amendment was couched in unfortunate language. It was more than an ordinary want of confidence vote.

Referring to the farmer movement, the Minister of Customs said the campaigns being carried on by the farmers' organizations in the different provinces made it clear that it was purelyy a class movement and he was surprised at Dr. Michael Clark, of Red Deer, tieing up to it.

Defends Farmers' Party

R. H. Halbert, of North Ontario, one of the newly-elected farmer members observed that the farmer movement was not a class organization. He pleaded for national unity, and Horatio Hocken declared that one of the presumed Orange publications read by Mr. Murphy. bore none of the ear marks of an Orange organization.

"I venture to say that this document," Mr. Hocken added, 'was printed either in ova Scotia or in the province of Quebec." Mr. Hocken said, amidst laughter from French-Canadian members, that the province of Quebec was ruled by the ecclesiastics.

"When Secretary of State," Mr. Hocken went on, "Mr. Murphy filled the department with so many men of his own faith that they were bulging out of the windows."

Joseph Archambault (Chambly-Vercheres) said that Mr. Hocken had claimed to be moderate in his utterances in the house, while in the Sentinel, he indulged freely in anti-Catholic propaganda.

Beginning his speech shortly after two a.m., J. A. Maharg, Maple Creek, said that Hon Arthur Meighen's charges that the farmer movement was a class movement were probably based on the assumption that the platform of the new party was like the platform of a railway car, designed to get in on and not stand on. The honorable minister probably knew that most political platforms were of that class. When the ex-Minister of Finance spoke in the house, said Mr. Maharg, the voice of big interests was heard. Approval of the ex-minister's sentiments was not altogether unanimous on Government benches.

Lieut. Ernest Hall, of Vancouver, and Hubbard, of Seattle, have been engaged and will go North with these aircraftss in April. The planes will be of the flying boat type, and will operate between the lake and the seashore, twelve miles. The cars will carry 1,000 pounds per trip.

URGES BOARD OF TRADE TO HELP GOVERNMENT WITH NEW LIQUOR LAW

Vancouver, March 11.—W. J. Blake Wilson, manager for P. Burns and Company, was loudly applauded in his inaugural address as President of the Board of Trade, when he said: "One of the greatest problems the board will have to face, and one of the most serious confronting citizens, is that of liquor law enforcement. It is the duty of all business men to get together and aid the government in bringing in a liquor law which all members of the community can and will respect. British Columbia has a great chance to show the way to other provinces in Canada."

PEACE TREATY RATIFICATION FIGHT IN FINAL PHASE

Washington, March 11.—The Peace Treaty ratification fight in the United States Senate entered its final and most bitterly contested phase Wednesday with Article X of the reservation still to be disposed of.

While discussion of the possibility of further negotiations looking to a compromise on this reservation was in progress Wednesday morning interest also reverted to the action of the Senate in passing the reservation regarding the voting power of the League of Nations. This reservation, which entailed but little discussion on the floor of Senate was hurriedly passed over by legislators and observers here, was considered by a number of Senators to be of particularly vital importance in view of the statement of Hon. N. W. Rowell, Canadian Secretary of State, that the Dominion Government would not ratify the Treaty if any reservation similar to that proposed by Senator Lenroot was incorporated in the American resolution of ratification. It is held by some observers here that the Senate's action may go further toward defeating the treaty than any steps which may be taken regarding Article X.

Read Rowell's Statement

Senator Hitchcock. in opposing the reservation, read Mr. Rowell's statement into the record. He declared this declaration by Canada's Secretary of State meant that if the United States ratification of the treaty with reservations could only take effect with Canada's consent, it could be declared with full confidence that Canada would never give that consent.

The Dominion would not sacrifice its own full membership in the league in order to get the United States in and the Ottawa Government had notified London to that effect, requesting that the United States be informed. Mr. Hitchcock called attention to Mr. Rowell's declaration that it was inconceivable that any Canadian Government would ever take any other course the more so as several minor states economically and politically dependent upon the United States are freely given votes.

The point was not debated in the Senate but discussion in Washington indicates that Canada's future action regarding the reservation is being watched with keen interest.

DRIVEN INSANE BY OUIJA SEANCES

Martinez, Can., March 11.—After their arrest as insane suspects as the result of a 24-hour seance with Ouija boards, Adeline Bottini, her mother, Mrs. S. Bottini, Mrs. Joseph Moldavisi and Mrs. Edward Borro were committed to state hospitals for the insane by the Superior Court.

The women were in a group of seven men and women arrested in a house at El Corrito, near here.

The three men of the party testified at the hearing that they had tried to induce the women to cease the Ouija seances, but without effect. The men admitted that the last seance in which they participated had lasted for 24 hours, and they were so devoted to the boards that they did not take time off to eat or sleep.

Insanity charges were placed against all seven.

MINIOTA FARMERS' MUTUAL COMPLETES GOOD YEAR'S BUSINESS

One of the strongest farmers' mutual companies in Western Canada, namely the Miniota Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company, held its thirty-fourth annual meeting recently, at Beulah, Man. The directors' report showed increased business of $5,358,903, with a total volume of business at the end of 1919 amounting to $30,870,421. Assets also increased during the year by $100,774 and the total surplus now held for members amounts to $569,548.58. The directors elected for 1920 are as follows: President J. A. Frazer, Beulah, Man., Vice-Presidents, G. Rowan, Miniota; F. J. Collyer, Welwyn, Sask.; J. R. Lynch, Arrow River; A. Doig, Birtle; and R. W. Brethour, Hamiota. Secretary-Manager, M. G. Doyle, Beulah. Treasurer, H. E. Hemming, Miniota.

GOVERNOR SMITH AGAIN REFERS TO HEARST'S "MUD GETTER GAZETTE"

Albany, N.Y., March 11.—Governor Smith referred once more to William Randolph Hearst's New York Evening newspaper as the "mud gutter gazette," and attacked Hearst for publishing an editorial declaring that he vetoed a cold storage bill last session at the behest of the Meat Trust and the Wholesale Grocers' Association.

Governor Smith declared "Hearst's lying newspapers fool nobody. They are losing in prestige and influence every day."

ESTIMATED REVENUE WILL NOT EQUAL THE EXPENDITURE

Provincial Treasurer Brown Looks For a Deficit of at Least $76,899.84

COST OF ELECTION

To Be Held This Year Estimated at $152,000—Business of Province Growing

Winnipeg, March 11. — Estimated expenditure of the Provincial Government for 1920 is $10,012,103.98. Hon. Edward Brown, Provincial Treasurer, in a speech in the legislature Wednesday afternoon, tabled the estimates and pointed out that the estimated expenditure would exceed the estimated revenue by $76,899.84.

The increase in the expenditures shown by the actual figures for 1919 and the current year, is $1,467,313.13. The increase in revenue, on the same basis is $949,127.53.

Mr. Brown accounted for the increase in the estimated expenditure under the following headings:

Elections Mean Expense

Expenses of the provincial election, $152,000.

Interest on the new parliament buildings, $450,000.

The balance of the increase in the estimates amounted to $867,313, he pointed out, was slightly greater than the increase of the estimates for 1919 over the actual expenditures of 1918.

The business of the province, he said, was growing and the number of services demanded by the people were increasing, while the cost of the necessaries of life continued to advance.

Mr. Brown outlined several means by which the government proposed to increase the revenue during the present year, including an increase in succession duties, taxation of brokers, an increase in the levy under the Supplementary Revenue Act, and a royalty on furs.

Mr. Brown's statement is in part as follows:

The estimated expenditures for the current fiscal year total $10,012,103.98. They are made up as follows, compared with the amounts actually incurred by each of the departments during the past fiscal year.

	Estimated 1920	Incurred 1919
Legislation . . .	$ 140,060.00	$ 159,111.53
Ex. council . . .	244,300.00	32,061.87
Treasury.	2,591,455.98	2,235,490.16
Prov. Sec. . . .	40,660.00	30,586.08
Education	1,550,048.00	1,319,125.22
Ag. and immi. .	782,000.00	688,779.59
Attorney-Gen. .	822,950.00	710,013.32
Prov. lands . .	15,200.00	12,763.65
Ry. commis. . .	22,900.00	20,729.93
Telep. & Teleg.	1,880,000.00	1,753,414.30
Pub. works . . .	1,833,440.00	1,534,124.39
Mun. Com... . .	89,090.00	48,585.76
	$10,012,103.98	$8,544,790.85

This gives a net increase of $1,467,313.13.

Estimates of Revenue

"The total estimated revenue amounts to $9,935,204.14, so that there will be an estimated deficit of $76,899.84.

Treasurer Gives Details

"The actual net increase," went on Mr. Brown, "of the estimated expenditure for the current year over the actual expenditure for last year is $1,467,313.13. Of this amount at least $600,000 is accounted for by two circumstances. In the first place on account of this being an election year the expenses of revising the lists and conducting the elections has been set up at $152,000. It might be well to bear in mind, however, that for the last five years we have not incurred the cost of an annual revision of the lists so that a large expense has been saved. The cost of preparing lists this year has been considerably increased by the fact that for the first time we have to add the names of women voters. In this estimate of $152,000 the wage schedule for registration clerks has only been fixed at $5 a day. Probably in some places this will have to be increased. Another important item is the interest on the new parliament buildings, together with the upkeep of same which will be paid this year out of consolidated revenue, and amounts approximately to $450,000. Of this balance representing $867,313, this is slightly in excess of the increase of the estimates of 1919 over the actual expenditures of 1918 and represents an increase of only 10 per cent. In view of the fact that the business of the province is growing and the number of services demanded by the people are increasing, while the cost of the necessaries of life continues to advance, this should not be a matter of surprise.

Increases and Decreases

The house will notice an apparent decrease of $19,000 in the item of legislation. This is merely due to the transfer of the expenses of the library to the department of the executive council under the Library Act of last session. The increase in the executive council vote is due to the above transfer, and as already explained to the cost of registration and election expenses this year.

"In the treasury department the amount of the net increase is $335,965, and this is largely due to the fact that there is $100,000 additional for mothers' allowances, $25,000 additional for patriotic fund, and additional interest charges due to last year's borrowings. The increase in the provincial secretary's department of $10,000 is attributable to the increase in salaries which amounts to $4,000, to the increased cost of printing the Gazette, and the natural increase of all expense, while there is an entirely new service—the Municipal hospital for which $2,500 is provided.

"In the department of education the largest increase is in the educational grants which are over half the total increase. It amounts to $131,643, and includes $40,000 for the university, of which $15,000 is for secondary schools. The Manitoba school for the deaf shows an increase of nearly $7,000, inspection of schools, $16,000, free text books over $10,000 of an increase, salaries $5,500, training schools, $8,000, and a general increase due to higher cost of living and higher salaries in all departments.

"In the agricultural and immigration department two sub-departments alone practically account for the increase over last year's actual expenditure. There is an increase of $50,000 for the Agricultural college, and $35,000 in the item of agriculture and statistics, which includes the dairy commission, weeds commission, aids to associations and other useful services.

"The large increase in the attorney-general's department is accounted for in three items. Law enforcement shows an increase of $72,073, which is due to the change in the policing of the province and the establishment of provincial constables who will enforce the Temperance Act and other laws. Nearly $20,000 extra is required for the Northern Manitoba commission, and $25,000 for the County Court Temporary Aid Act. There is a large decrease for the public utilities commission, which is offset by small increases in other departments.

"The increases for the provincial lands and railways commission are merely normal, but there is the usual increase of $126,586 in the telephones department, which is, of course, offset by increased revenues.

Public Works Increases

The public works estimates show an increase of a total of $299,315. This is accounted for by three new services which have been established. The psychopathic ward will cost $48,700, the power commission $20,000, and the well drills $65,480. This last item was formerly paid for out of aids to municipalities, but owing to the increasing demands of the farmers for this service and the growth of this department it has been thought advisable to ask for a separation of the appropriations. The account for "aid to municipalities" has not been reduced, because this service is also increasing each year, but the $65,480 for well drills is requested as an additional and new appropriation.

These three services alone amount to $134,150. In addition the new system adopted in the institutions for the care of our insane have meant an added medical staff and the eight-hour day for the attendants, necessitated one-third more attendants on the staff. These improvements have been adopted as the result of the public welfare commission's and special investigations and recommendations made, and they increase the budget for Brandon Hospital for the Insane this year by $71,210 and Selkirk by $46,360, or together $117,570. The three new services mentioned and the improvements at the two asylums for the insane will cost the province $251,750 extra this year.

Ways and Means

"With respect to the revenue which it is necessary to provide for to cover the large increase in the estimated expenditures, it is not the intention of the government to resort to new forms of taxation, but rather to rely upon the sources of revenue already in existence and which have shown encouraging results during the past year, in the hope that there will be further buoyancy by way of increase of the various classes of revenue during the present fiscal year.

"The following amendments are, however, proposed for increasing the revenue: 1. In accordance with the recommendation of the assessment commission an amendment will be brought in to the Succession Duties Act, bringing the rates in this province more in line with the other provinces of Canada, and providing for further increases with respect to large estates.

"2. There will be an amendment to the Corporal Taxation Act providing for a tax of $100 per year upon brokers, custom house brokers, shipping brokers and pawnbrokers.

"3. There will be an amendment to the Supplementary Revenue Act, providing for a levy of two mills instead of 1½ mills as at present, and there will be a further amendment to the patriotic levy for the payment of the balance of the moneys required to complete this work of the patriotic fund out of consolidated revenue. This will prevent the necessity of making another levy for patriotic purposes of half a mill, and the two levies made during the past year of 1½ and ½ a mill each will be consolidated into one levy of two mills, which will mean that there will be no increase of the amount asked for from the property owners through the municipalities.

"4. By means of a bill introduced by the minister of agriculture there is provided a royalty on furs produced with in the province, and in the estimates there appears an item of revenue which may be derived from this source of $250,000. This item is purely conjectural, as we have no idea of the actual amount that may be produced, and the amount of revenue received from this royalty may fall far short of the estimated amount.

CUSTOMS TARIFF MAKES TOO MANY MILLIONAIRES

And Therefore Boosts High Cost of Living Says Senator Legris

CRIMINAL CODE

May Be Amended To Secure Leave To Appeal Against Sentences

Ottawa, March 11.—In the Senate Wednesday afternoon, blame for the high cost of living was placed by Senator Legris on the custom tariff, which he said, made too many millionaires. These, with their money invested in companies, had been able to make profits from 32 to 110 per cent. Senator Legris declared that Quebec was loyal, industrious, and happy and only desired to be left in peace.

The address from the throne was adopted.

Senator Casgrain congratulated Senator Chapais on his coming to the Upper Chamber.

Senator McMeans again brought in his motion to amend the Criminal Code, the idea being to secure leave to appeal against sentences. He cited the case of a soldier being sentenced to five years for whiskey stealing.

National Unions Not Excluded

Senator David was informed by Senator Lougheed that there had been no resolution adopted by the National Industrial conference in Ottawa in September last excluding the National Unions in Quebec; the minister had not advised the workmen that they should belong to the International rather than to Canadian and National unions; the Minister of Labor was not aware that in Montreal International unions were trying to organize a strike to exclude the members of National unions.

Senator Boyer corrected his statement that a billion and a half fur pelts had been auctioned at St. Louis. He had read the statement, he said, but it transpired that the number had been a million and a half.

MORE BENEFITS FOR SOLDIER-FARMERS WANTED

Winnipeg, March 11.—Great expansion of the benefits of the Soldier Settlement Act as an incentive to cause a greater number of ex-soldiers to go on the land and as a means of enabling all honorably discharged men to participate in the benefits under the Soldier Settlement scheme, is recommended in a clause of a resolution adopted at Wednesday's session of the provincial convention of the Great War Veterans' Association. The main clause of the resolution is: "That the benefits of the Soldier Settlement Board should be extended to all honorably discharged men, regardless of place of service."

The other clauses of the resolution recommend:

"That a sufficient staff of veterinary surgeons should be employed by the Soldier Settlement Board, and that each settler under the board should be visited at least semi-annually by the representative of the veterinary staff, and all stock inspected and treatment administered where necessary, all expenses in this connection to be borne by the Soldier Settlement Board.

"That all settlers be allowed two years free of interest on their stock and equipment agreements and that they be allowed three clear years before making the first payment on such agreement."

"That the present system of ballot for choice of soldiers' homesteads, soldiers' grants and school lands be abolished, and that they be allotted by priority of application, the same as ordinary homesteads."

"That the board should make a practice of securing the assistance, as valuators, of any returned soldiers, who, in the opnion of the board, are qualified to handle the work."

"That the advisory committee should be instructed from Ottawa that the act as it concerns them is for guidance in their decisions, and that the head of the Soldier Settlement Board should arrange that these advisory committees have sufficient latitude to deal with cases which vary from the ordinary in some manner not covered by the act."

Want Mountain Lands

"That all desirable land in the Riding Mountains and Duck Mountain forest reserves be made available and thrown open for soldier settlement."

"That the land of the old St. Peter's reserve should be declared a settlement area under the act."

"That the Soldier Settlement Board make arrangements for the breaking of wild land in any locality where there are a number of soldier settlers, and the cost of such work to be charged to the settlers receiving the benefits.

"That settlers under the act shall be classified according to ability and qualifications as farmers, and that the age shall not be allowed to interfere with them receiving "A" class certificates and the extra privileges available to settlers of this class."

SCOTLAND MAY GO DRY SELLING BOOZE TO CANADA

Declares Scotch Distiller—Scoffs At Idea of Prohibition In Scotland

A SPLENDID MARKET

In Canada For More Whiskey Than Scotch Can Spare, He Declares

London, March 11.—The only way Scotland is likely to go dry is by Canada draining her of whiskey, says a special correspondent of the Daily Graphic. A Scottish distiller scoffed at the idea of prohibition in Scotland, adding: "prohibition in Canada is a farce and we have a splendid market there for more whiskey than we can spare."

THE NEW FRANCHISE BILL

Hon. Hugh Guthrie's franchise bill, introduced into the Canadian House of Commons on Friday, does not contain one most important feature and one which was generally looked for by Western Canadians. This is an educational test for voters. The new act is praiseworthy in many respects. There is no longer the necessity for the restrictions on the franchise imposed under the War Times' Election Act—though these served a useful purpose.

The new measure provides a uniform franchise throughout the Dominion, a uniform method for the preparation of voters' lists, and what is said to be a simple and satisfactory method for the conduct of elections. The only requirements placed on voters are: British citizenship; residence in Canada one year and in the particular constituency for two months; that voters be 21 years of age. These requirements apply equally to men and women.

There is provision in the bill for the holding of advanced polls in order to enable railway men, sailors, and others who were unable to vote on election day to cast their ballots. The period fixed between nomination day and polling day is fourteen days.

That the Hon. Mr. Guthrie should have failed to include in the provisions of the bill a provision for an educational test is somewhat remarkable. It is generally a matter for regret that people who are unable to read and write the English or French language, and in too many cases, any language at all, are to be permitted ballots. There have been in the past some remarkable instances of what amount to an abuse of the privilege. So glaring have these been that it seems hard to understand that there should not be provisions in the law making repetition impossible. Take for instance the last civic election in Winnipeg. In the North end of that city there were polls where the voters were herded like a lot of sheep. Along the line formed by them outside the polling booth, marched men repeating [illegible] these men were being herded in to vote for. This repetition was continued until the voters entered the booth with just two names in his mind, and for these they voted as the count of the ballot proved.

The continuance of voters such as these on the lists cannot but be prejudicial to themselves and the nation. Herded and unlettered they vote en-bloc and their votes count equally with those of men and women holding the highest ideals of citizenship. Continuance of the unlettered foreign born residents of Canada on the voters' lists, places on the lists a purchasable vote. Money may not always control such a vote but there are influences which will. They constitute a temptation to any party for power, a temptation which in the past has too often resulted in a debauched and purchased electorate.

The only amendment to the new franchise bill that seems desirable from the fragmentary statement of its provisions so far set forth, is that of an educational test. This is needed badly.

TWO REAL FAILURES

The satisfaction which has recently been expressed with the news service which Canadian papers have been providing, has recently received two rude jolts. The first came with the announcement that the South African people were voting, practically for or against the maintainence of the British connection. Then on Saturday, the counter-revolution in Germany became a fact without there having been any information in recent news dispatches concerning such a movement.

The failure of news gathering agencies to furnish news of the South African situation as it developed, is somewhat remarkable. Elections in one part of the Empire are of interest and importance to all other portions. Particularly is this the case when the issues in the contest, are, as they apparently were in South Africa, of first importance. Then again, since the election, there has only been one brief item, from which it was difficult to glean information as to the result of the poll. In regard to the South African election there was no language difficulty. All South Africans knew the issues. The complete fall down to keep Canadians informed is hard to understand.

In regard to the revolution in Germany. The German plotters would make every effort to keep their plans secret. Correspondents of English language papers, no matter what tongue they spoke, would be up against the same sort of a stone wall as they were previous to the outbreak of war. It is hardly likely that official circles in Allied lands did not know what was coming but even there the newswriters would find no assistance.

Canadians are looking to the newspapers for an explanation. The newspapers are asking why of the great news gathering agencies.

IT is very important that a mother should have her child's molars examined by a competent dentist as soon as they are fairly in place. Many times there are minute fissures in the enamel surface which require filling when the teeth first appear.

ADMIRAL SIMS' CHARGES

A hush may now fall over the idle discussion on who won the war. Rear Admiral William H. Sims testifying before the United States Senate Naval Affairs sub-committee, charges that the American navy's failure to cooperate fully with the Allies resulted in needless sacrifices. The Rear Admiral spends no time in unprofitable discussion as to who won the war, but he charges among other things, that efforts to get team work towards that end were delayed or nullified.

It may be that there is no more justification for Sims charges than there was for those made on the floor of the Canadian House of Commons by a miserable old man against the Canadian high command, but on the go in, Sims' statements are considered so serious that they are being investigated while the discredited Canadian's slurs received the contemptuous treatment they deserved. Admiral Sims appears to have the support of many of his fellow officers.

Sims well said that the gravity of his charges can be appreciated when it is realized that the war was costing three thousand lives and one hundred million dollars a day. Establishment of Sims' charges, if such there should be, cannot be followed by adequate punishment for the guilty but will nevertheless serve a very useful purpose.

WHY NOT MILCH COWS?

Publication of milk production records by Canadian cows forcibly reminds Brandon people that this district which is known far and wide for its fat cattle, for the creameries which are located here, and for poultry, does not appear to be in the running when milch cows are mentioned. Surely the same quality grains and grasses that produce such wonderful results in beef, can be utilized for the production of milk. Cannot Brandon stockmen, known far and wide as they are, turn some of their attention to milking strains of cows? Prices for milk and butter appear to justify the assumption that there is money in it. A movement along this line is desirable.

LUMBER PRICES DOWN

A decline in prices of lumber is reported from British Columbia points. News dispatches state that there has been a reduction of five dollars a thousand within a few days. The reason given is that shipments of lumber into the United States have been prohibited by the Canadian Railway Association for National Defence, except when made in American owned cars. This is said to virtually constitute an embargo as the American railway lines are so short of cars that they will not allow them to enter Canada to secure lumber. The reason for the refusal to allow shipments on Canadian cars is due to the fact that when Canadian cars enter the States they are virtually lost to the Canadian railways. The American roads are so short of cars that they pay the charges agreed on for the use of cars by the railways and retain them. The statement is made that 19,320 Canadian cars crossed the boundary during the last four months, and most of them are there yet.

The explanation given for the raid on Canadian lumber is that there is such a car shortage in the United States that the railways are unable to supply cars to American mills, while orders given to Canadian concerns were dispatched promptly. The Americans having the money and wanting the material were prepared to pay almost any price to get it. They could not get it at home and they could get it in Canada, so that Canadian prices were boosted and Canadian wants denied, to supply American demand. The placing of the embargo on cars puts the Canadian mills on the same basis as those in the United States and they have been forced to turn their attention to the Canadian trade with its price limitations.

No doubt the Coast mills have been speeded up under pressure of American orders and now that there are almost unsurmountable difficulties in the way of shipment, prices will be in a measure regulated by the Canadian demand. Dwellers on the plains have something to thank the railway association for. It may be some time before the benefit is felt at points far away from the source of supply, but it will come.

ONTARIO TOBACCO GROWERS FIGHTING THE COMBINE

U. F. O. May Take a Hand If An Export Market Cannot Be Established

Toronto, March 15.—The tobacco growers of Kent and Essex are up in arms, and unless steps that are now being taken to establish an export market for their product in England are successful it is entirely probable that the United Farmers' Co-operative Company will widen its sphere of activities still further by launching into tobacco manufacturing.

For some time past the resentment of the growers against the manner in which they are dealt with by the big purchasing companies has been growing, and last week a deputation from the two counties called upon Hon. Manning Doherty and discussed the possibility of creating an overseas market for Ontario tobacco. As a result of that conference the deputation proceeded on to Ottawa, Mr. Doherty telephoning to Hon. Dr. Tolmie, the Federal Minister of Agriculture, his support of the growers. The Ottawa trip, it is stated, was entirely satisfactory to the growers, and an assurance was received that Mr. Charland, head of the Tobacco Division of the Department of Agriculture, would be sent to England to investigate the market and to see whether a stable market for Ontario tobacco can be established there. He will get in contact with the big manufacturers, with the assistance of the Ontario Agent-General in London, and present to them the possibilities of extending their sources of supply.

Hon. Manning Doherty stated that Kent and Essex tobacco was equally as good as that grown in the Southern States, yet the growers here receive from thirty to forty cents per pound less than is paid to growers in the United States.

"The position of the growers," said Mr. Doherty, "is that they are at the mercy of the combine, which pays them only what it feels like paying. If they do not sell to the combine at the prices fixed there is nothing they can do with their crop."

The Minister stated that the Southern counties were becoming an important factor in tobacco production, and it was estimated that Ontario would this year produce 20,000,000 pounds of tobacco.

WHISKEY ON SHELF NO FOOD IN PANTRY MOTHER FOUND DEAD

Cobourg, Ont., March 13.—A shocking case of neglect and hardship has been uncovered in the vicinity of Glen Miller when the mother of two young children was found dead. The children were huddled over a fire with nothing to eat. In a cupboard was found three full bottles of whiskey. An investigation is being made. The woman's death is attributed to a broken heart.

ASQUITH REBUKED BY TIMES FOR INTENTION TO REJECT HOME RULE BILL

London, March 16.—The Times Monday rebukes Mr. Asquith for his intention to move the rejection of the home rule bill for "such action threatens to dethrone the Irish question from its true position as a great national issue and make it once more the subject of merely party controversy.

Meanwhile there is published a vigorous protest to the prime minister by the Anti-Partition league against this measure, which will divide Ireland, leave the Southern Unionists without representation of power. As the signatories include some of the most influential peers and representatives of the business interests in Ireland, the protest cannot altogether be ignored.

FRENCH GOVERNMENT TAKES NO ACTION ON THE WILSON CHARGES

Paris, March 15.—The French Government has not and will not send any instructions to Ambassador Jusserand in Washington regarding President Wilson's charges of militarism against France. A report from the ambassador stated that on his own initiative he called upon Under Secretary of State Polk and told him of the surprise and emotion caused in France by the President's letter. The ambassador added that he made no representations.

MOBS OF ANGRY HUNS ATTACK ALLIED MISSION

Only Saved From Brutal Handling By Efforts of Strong Escort

Paris, March 13.—The Entente military mission which went recently to Bremen on official business and was attacked by the crowds when leaving the barracks after preliminary negotiations with the German officers, was ultimately obliged to leave the city without having accomplished the purposes of their visit. The Entente officers were the object of a fresh demonstration upon their departure, a crowd gathering before the hotel, breaking glass in the windows of the automobiles conveying the party, and displaying so much hostility that the German authorities were compelled to send a strong escort to accompany the mission to the station.

DOMINION OFFICERS ARE INVESTIGATING RECENT RED ACTIVITIES

Ottawa, March 12. — The Journal Thursday afternoon publishes a report to the effect that the Dominion Secret Service police are investigating "Red" activities, evidences of which have been found in Ottawa. It is alleged that the suspicions of the authorities were first aroused by the visit of a stranger to the home of Rev. George Bousefield, a prominent Anglican clergyman of this city. The report is that the stranger visited the rector to secure his co-operation in a scheme which had as its object the "removal of a prominent Canadian."

Mr. Bousfield was ill at the time and the stranger refused to wait until further information could be secured. Any information with regard to the other clues on which the Dominion authorities are working have been kept secret, although it is known that there has been some activity regarding the circulation of incendiary literature.

BLIND TEACHER TALKS TO CITIZENS ON THEIR DUTIES

Regarding the Education of the Child—Its Preparation For Life's Battle

A WONDERFUL MAN

Col. T. E. Perrett Lost Eyesight During Overseas Service—Still Able To Carry On

"The citizen's interest in education" was the topic of an address by Col. T. E. Perrett of Regina to the Kiwanians at their regular weekly luncheon in the Prince Edward Hotel today at noon. Colonel Perrett organized the 68th Battalion and while serving in France with that unit, lost his eyesight. He attended St. Dunstan's School in England and prepared himself for a re-entry into civil life, with the result that he was able to return to Regina and again take up his duties as principal of the Collegiate Institute. Today, Colonel Perrett gave a splendid talk on the rights and obligations of the citizens in the education of the child.

Too frequently, Colonel Perrett said, we think of education in a theoretical way and not in a practical way. Education today is one of the largest problems we have to deal with. There are four great factors in the building of the educational life. The first of these is the home. The speaker asked what was being done for the boy or girl in the home to educate him or her? The state is another big factor. What is it doing? Is it making laws which will stand for advancement and which cannot be easily broken with regard to school matters. Then there is the church. It is divorced from ordinary education more or less because people seem afraid of religion and yet it is the highest motion we have.

The Public School

The greatest factor is perhaps the ordinary public school. Every citizen, said Colonel Perrett, has the right to see that every child is educated. The citizen has the right to know the kind of a building the child goes to, whether it is sanitary or not, whether the desks are modern, and whether the child has a good teacher. "If you want a good teacher, you need to pay a good price to get one," said the speaker. On the other hand the boy has the right to a good playground in order to help him be stronger physically as well as mentally. The citizen has also the right to know whether the blackboard is a good one and whether the curriculum used is also the best and most efficient there is.

That there are less than 400 minutes in an ordinary day's schooling and that this does not allow much time to be spent in individual instruction was a statement of Colonel Perrett's. But as citizens, we have a right to know whether this is sufficient and just how much progress the child is making at school. Then every parent has the right to have the child at home. In these days every inducement is being made to take the boy or girl away from the home, but we should reserve some part of the day for an hour with the child.

Everything the Best

"Supposing you have all these rights," said the principal of the Regina Collegiate, "there are certain obligations for me as a citizen to fulfil." It is the duty of the citizen to provide good schools and make conditions better for the teachers. People are too prone to blame the teachers for many faults and habits formed outside the school. It is also a duty to see that the equipment of the school and the medical attention is everything that is best.

"We are members of the largest joint stock company in the world, sharing in the greatest and fattest profits ever paid by any company, and yet we never attend or pay attention to the meeting of the board of directors," said Colonel Perrett, speaking of the School Board meetings. "We have certain rights and duties as citizens and with a true recognition of these, we will do much to promote education to the benefit of the youth of this generation and for the next," concluded the speaker.

EGG-LAYING CONTESTS ALREADY PLANNED TO BEGIN LATE THIS FALL

While no official information has been received from Ottawa concerning the continuation of the egg-laying contests at the Brandon Experimental Farm, it is understood that they will be continued. F. C. Elford, Dominion Poultry Husbandman, has announced at Ottawa that the contests will be continued next year by the Experimental Farm system throughout Canada and they will start Monday morning, November 1st, 1920.

The Provincial contest will be held at the Brandon Experimental Farm and the contest at Ottawa will be for the Dominion. Other Western provincial contests will be held at Indian Head, Sask., and at Lethbridge, Alta., at the Experimental Farms there.

MRS. GOODERHAM RESIGNS FROM EXECUTIVE I.O.D.E.

Was a Visitor in Brandon Several Years Ago and Has Many Friends Here

Toronto, March 15. — Mrs. Gooderham, of this city, announced on Saturday that she had resigned from the National Executive and from the War Memorial Committee of the Independent Order of the Daughters of the Empire. Mrs. Gooderham was President of the I.O.D.E. At the last annual meeting charges in connection with the administration of the order, made against her by Lady Kingsmill, were aired and supposed to have been set at rest, but Mrs. Gooderham states that the charges have been reiterated by Lady Kingsmill. As Lady Kingsmill continues to be a member of the National Executive Mrs. Gooderham states that she cannot continue to hold a responsible position in the order.

Mrs. Gooderham has issued a statement which she has forwarded to the secretaries of the various chapters of the I.O.D.E., in which she denies Lady Kingsmill's charges in toto. She says she is content to leave it to the members of the order "whether the administration of the affairs of the order under my presidency were not open, fair and calculated to ensure harmony.'

Mrs. Gooderham visited in Brandon a few years ago and has many friends here.

THREE BALTIMORE NEGROES SHOT: TWO OF THEM KILLED

Baltimore, March 15.—Two armed negroes who attacked policemen, were shot and instantly killed in different parts of the city, and a negro burglar was shot as he leaped from the second storey window of a home in Northwest Baltimore. The burglar was captured when he applied for treatment at University hospital.

PRESENTATION BUNCLODY COUPLE PRIOR TO COMING TO BRANDON TO RESIDE

Prior to the departure of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Rose of Bunclody who have arrived in Brandon to reside they were accorded a farewell reception in Bunclody Church and were presented with a handsome library table as a slight remembrance in appreciation of the work they had done in the community. During the evening vocal selections were contributed by Mrs. D. A. Rose, Mrs. Joss, and Mr. T. J. Neelands. Mr. Adam Tawse rendered several violin selections. At the conclusion of the program refreshments were served by the ladies.

C.P.R. PRESIDENT'S VIEWS ON SUPPORT GIVEN COMPANY

Considered By Some Critics As Over-generous—Royal Commission's Report

Speaking at the banquet of the C. P. R. officials in Toronto on Saturday, President Beatty said:

"In the railway alone there has been invested in cash in excess of eight hundred and thirty million dollars, so I am safe, I think, in saying that it is the largest privately owned and operated transportation agency in the world. It has been conservatively financed, supported by the people and the Government in its inception in the way which was then considered as only substantial enough to keep it alive for a short time, and in later years when it made these properties valuable largely by its own efforts and by the same efforts increases the value of all lands in the West, the same support has been considered by some critics as over-generous. For myself I am prepared to leave it to the judgment of the people as a whole whether or not it has fulfilled the onerous obligations imposed upon it, both to the advantage of itself and the country, and I would draw your attention to the finding of the Royal Commission appointed to inquire into railways that the people of Canada receive full value for the support given to the Canadian Pacific under the agreement of incorporation made in 1881—a conclusion I venture to suggest which was reached by all Canadians before the finding was made."

BANDITS ROB NEW YORK STORES, HOLD CROWD AT BAY

New York, March 13.—While Broadway, Friday night, was crowded with theatregoers, three armed bandits smashed the windows of a jewelry store at Thirty-fifth street, kept the crowds at bay with revolvers until they had emptied the contents of several trays into their pockets and then escaped, after shooting one pedestrian who attempted to stop them.

A few minutes later three men entered another Broadway jewelry store a few blocks farther up town, and after throwing pepper in the clerk's eyes, grabbed some trays of jewelry and ran from the store. Two men, alleged members of the trio were arrested by the police after a chase.

CANADA'S NEW NATIONAL STATUS: DR. NEW'S LECTURE

Peace Conference Admitted Canada As Having Status of a Sovereign State

BORDEN WON RECOGNITION

Retaining Old Forms, Canada Controls Its Own Destiny — Gradual Growth

Quite a large number of people attended the lecture in the Collegiate auditorium Monday night when Chester W. New, B.A., B.D., Ph.D., Professor of History at Brandon College, gave an address on "Canada's New National Status." Dr. H. O. McDiarmid made a splendid chairman and introduced the speaker of the evening. This was the third of a series of lectures presented by the Brandon College Faculty under the joint auspices of the Education Society and the Board of Trade. The next lecture will be given Friday, March 19th, when T. R. Wilkins, B.A., Professor of Physics and Mathematics at Brandon College will be the speaker. His subject will be "Atoms, Molecules and Electrons," a peep into the inner structure of the universe.

Borden Won Recognition

Describing the way in which Sir Robert Borden secured for Canada and the other self-governing British dominions, their representation at the Peace Conference, an equal standing with the other nations of the world in the League of Nations and their separate signatures to the Peace Treaty with separate ratifications by their parliaments, Dr C. W. New commenced his interesting address on "Canada's New National Status."

Continuing the speaker said in part. This clearly meant recognition as nations among the nations, and yet while these are all perogatives of a sovereign state, Canada is not formally a sovereign state. This situation is one which is very difficult for Americans to understand, especially as in their own constitution, form and fact correspond so closely. The Lenroot resolution now being discussed in the American Senate could have little influence if it were not for an unfortunate ignorance of Canadian history and Canadian conditions in the United States. But it must not be forgotten that, except in a manner incidental to something else, not one line of American history is taught in Canadian schools and not one full course in any Canadian University.

There may be some antipathy toward Great Britain behind the Lenroot resolution, but there is no antipathy toward us. There exists throughout the United States the most cordial spirit toward Canadians. The "we won the war talk" is laughed at by the educational leaders and is not sympathized with by the commercial leaders. The most influential Americans frankly recognize the superiority of our war service. Firm as we must be in insisting on our national status, we must maintain the most cordial attitude toward the American people.

Retain Old Forms, Change Facts

Many American people really believe that the British Government owns Canada and would control its vote in the League of Nations. The very genius of the British constitution lies in the fact that in the process of development the old forms were retained while the real facts were changed and consequently "things are not what they seem." In form, for instance, the King does nearly everything; in fact, he does nothing. In form the Ministers advise; in fact, they rule. It is just the same in the relations between Great Britain and Canada. The British Government has a certain formal control over Canada; in fact, these legal powers are either not exercised at all or are exercised according to the wishes of the Canadian Government. The power of disallowance over Canadian legislation has not been exercised for forty years and will never be exercised again. The same is substantially true of the power of reservation. We are represented at foreign courts by British ambassadors but they constantly carry out the wishes of the Canadian Government. The British Government appoints our Governor-General but the Canadian Government is always consulted in regard to the selection and the Governor-General must always act on the advice of the Canadian Ministers. Our constitution can be amended only by the British Parliament, but they will make any change the Canadian people see fit. We need not take part in any British war unless we choose to. Practically the only restriction on our real independence is the fact that the final court of appeal for Canadian law cases is the Judicial committee of the British Privy Council.

Two British Empires

We speak of the British Empire, but in reality there are two British Empires—a real empire governed from London consisting of crown colonies with large native populations, and something entirely different,—an alliance or partnership of self-governing nations with only formal and sentimental bonds to the government of Great Britain and having no connection whatever with the crown colonies. It was Canada who led the way from one group to the other and the other four followed.

Still further changes are advocated. Mr. Ewart and his followers want an out-and-out declaration of independence, with a common king as the only formal bond. The Imperial Federationalists on the other hand want a new imperial federal government representative of Great Britain and all the Dominions which would have full control of all matters of common imperial concern. It would have its own parliament and have control over the whole empire, crown colonies included. A third group has no use for imperial Federation which would have to deal with an extremely complicated situation, would actually imperil the sentimental bonds and would mean a sacrifice of our autonomy without getting any real value in return. They also do not believe that a formal declaration of independence is either necessary or advisable although they agree with Mr. Ewart in advocating a final supreme court for Canada and the legal right of the Canadian parliament to mend our constitution. They are also interested in affecting a closer co-operation in foreign affairs.

A Common Patriotism

Dr. New described the development of the self-governing empire as — "five full grown daughter-states in body so far apart yet in spirit clustering about their great mother-state, each rapidly developing a national sentiment of its own and yet all showing a common patriotism that is as intense as that of the most compact and unified nation on the globe.' This wonderful development in the political history of the world is a Canadian product worked out in our own national history. Every step developed out of a Canadian suggestion or the solution of a Canadian problem. Canadians went ahead, the others followed, the mother country generously consented. What Canadians think today the self-governing empire is tomorrow and the next steps forward, whatever they may be, will also be determined by Canadians.

In spite of frequent statements to the contrary Dr. New claimed that in the matter of colonial policy Great Britain learned very little from the American revolution. Most of the old mistakes were repeated in Canada up to the rebellion of 1837. There was on British tyranny in Canada but the attempt to govern from London permitted the development of a very real Canadian tyranny, the "Family Compact." The result of the rebellion was Lord Durham's famous report which has been called the "Magna Charta of Canadian Liberty" and was the corner-stone of the new empire. His main suggestions — responsible government as in England and complete Canadian self-government in Canadian affairs — were too radical to be accepted immediately by the British Government, but supported as they were by the able letters of two Canadians, Robert Baldwin and Joseph Howe, they were put into practice ten years later by Lord Elgin, in spite of the stones and rotten eggs of the Tories and their burning of the Parliament Buildings.

Colonies Not Liked in England At One Time

The Durham idea included only Canadian self-government in Canadian affairs, leaving to the British Government control in affairs of imperial concern. But the distinction proved an impossible one and Lord Durham's "matters of imperial concern" passed over into the list of Canadian affairs controlled by the Canadian government. This development included Canada's control of its tariff secured by Sir A. T. Galt and Sir John Macdonald in the face of the opposition of British manufacturers. At the time of Confederation, British sentiment wanted Canada to "cut the painter." The sentiment was shared by all the leading British statesmen of the period. Disraeli spoke of the self-governing colonies as "those wretched colonies" hanging "like a milestone around our necks." Gladstone suggested annexation to the United States. It was Canada following the leadership of Sir John Macdonald that maintained the true ideals of British destiny and made the self-governing empire of the present day a possibility.

Sir John Macdonald also began for Canada the development of the treaty-making power. This was practically completed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier in 1911. The international recognition of that right was secured by Sir Robert Borden last year together with the other powers previously referred to.

Hiding Behind Mother's Skirts

"It is upon the seas that Canada must be defended," stated Dr. New when speaking on the status of the Canadian Naval defense. We cannot trust too much to the League of Nations. It, and it alone, is the hope of the world and it claims our loyalty and support before everything else. But as yet it is only learning to walk and we must be ready to face the hard facts of the international situation. Of course the British fleet will protect us as it has always done and as it, with the assistance of the Australian Navy and the battleships of New Zealand, is doing every day. But we are in the humiliating position of hiding behind our mother's skirts, and shielded by all our younger sisters, even the little tots. We should realize the fact that we are simply grafting on the tax-payers of the other British nations. Canada's Government should control its own ships, but must not be content with a "local navy." We should make our contribution to the great attacking force which is the real defense in time of war.

A Possible Solution

We practically control our own foreign policy, but the policy of Great Britain is of great concern to us as is also our attitude to them. The speaker suggested as a possible solution, a permanent group, consisting of one cabinet minister from each dominion meeting continually in London and keeping in contact with the British foreign policy, each of these ministers to be also in constant touch with the minister at home who would answer all essential questions in the dominion parliament and report to London the attitude of that parliament. The latter minister in Canada might administer the present department of external affairs. Dr. New criticized the Imperial Federation idea and supported the position taken by the "third group."

New York, March 10.—A total of $5,159,075 was realized yesterday at the public auction of the estate of Henry Astor, which, many years ago was part of the Eden farm, but is now dotted with theatres, private dwellings and tenements.

FIRE DESTROYS PORT ARTHUR CAR BARNS AND 4 CARS

Port Arthur, March 10.—One hundred thousand dollars damage was caused by a fire which destroyed a portion of the street car barns and four cars this morning.

REV. W. H. VANCE APPOINTED TO INVESTIGATE DISPUTES BETWEEN FORTY-ONE FIRMS

Ottawa, March 10. — Rev. W. H. Vance, of Vancouver, has been appointed a commissioner, under the Inquiries Act, to investigate and report on a dispute between some forty-one firms, members of the General Cartage and Warehousemen's Association of British Columbia, and employes who are members of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Stablemen and Helpers.

An application was received in the Department of Labor on February 21st, from the Vancouver local union of the brotherhood, for the establishment of a Board of Conciliation to deal with the dispute, but the employers would not concur in the reference of the dispute to a board. The number of employes said to be affected, directly and indirectly, is 600. The dispute grew out of a request by the employes for a new agreement covering wages and working conditions.

SPEED RECORD FOR TUG TRAVEL MADE IN NEW YORK HARBOR, CAPTAIN WINS $100

New York, March 10. — A speed record for tug travel through New York harbor was made Tuesday by Lieutenant Travers Williams-Taylor, son of Sir Frederick Williams-Taylor, of the Bank of Montreal.

Lieut. Williams-Taylor had booked passage on the Cunard liner Imperator. Just after the departure of the big steamer shortly after noon he arrived at the dock. Waving two fifty dollar bills, he shouted: "The man who puts me aboard the Imperator gets $100, and the one who makes a good try and loses gets $50." The captain of the tugboat Lewis Bulver immediately cut loose, shouting to the lieutenant to jump aboard. The tug cut down the harbor through the shipping at full speed and the captain won his hundred dollars when the Imperator stopped off the Statue of Liberty in response to whistled appeals and Lieutenant Williams-Taylor climbed aboard.

Other passengers who left by the Imperator included Sir Ernest Glover, of the British Ministry of Shipping, and Lady Glover, Sir Newton Moore and George N. Nairn, jute merchant, of India.

PRESIDENT ROCKEFELLER FOUNDATION IN TORONTO

Toronto, March 10.—G. E. Vincent, President of the Rockefeller Foundation, and Dr. R. M. Pearse, have reached here from Winnipeg. They state the object of their visit is to go over the whole situation regarding the $5,000,000 to be devoted to Canadian medical research. Tuesday morning they met the representatives of the Faculty of Medicine, and conferred on the object of their visit.

PRISON GUARD COULD NOT STAND SHOCK—SHOT HIMSELF

Columbus, Ohio, March 10. — A double electrocution so affected the nerves of W. D. Shoemaker, a prison guard, that he shot and killed himself just before the men were marched to the death chamber. The two who paid the death penalty were Jacob Edinger and Edward Ness, who murdered a baker in Cincinnati.

ANOTHER ARREST DUE TO WAKAU ELEVATOR FRAUDS

Saskatoon, Sask., March 10.—A further arrest in connection with the Wakaw grain elevator frauds took place in Saskatoon early Tuesday, when, after a four days' search, Corporal W. J. Sulaty, of the Provincial Police, apprehended William Cantlon, former poolroom proprietor and livery keeper of Wakaw. Cantlon is held on a charge of destroying account books with intent to defraud the grain company. Six men are now undergoing prison terms of from four years to three months for complicity in the case.

ASQUITH SAYS CILICIAN MASSACRES OUGHT TO BE LAST CHAPTER TURK RULE

London, March 10—Former Premier Asquith in the house of commons last night denounced the government for its policy of delay in settling the Irish solution. In referring to the Turkish situation he said: "The massacres in Cilicia ought to be the last chapter of Ottoman rule."

MONTREAL OPENS ITS FIRST CHINESE HOSPITAL

Montreal, March 10.—The inauguration of the Montreal Chinese hospital took place Tuesday night, when for the first time in this city—and it was also claimed in Canada—a separate institution for Oriental sick, was provided.

WAR PROLONGED UNNECESSARILY FOR FOUR MONTHS

U. S. Navy Department Fails To Act Promptly States Rear Admiral Sims

Washington, March 10.—The war was prolonged four months by failure of the Naval Department to act promptly on recommendations of naval authorities, Rear Admiral William S. Sims declared Tuesday before the Senate naval affairs sub-committee, testifying in its probe of the navy's war work.

Sims, who was the first witness called, attacked the American naval policy and Secretary Daniels and in beginning his testimony charged: That the navy's failure to co-operate fully with the Allies resulted in needless sacrifices; that Sims' efforts to get team work were "delayed or nullified"; that Daniels committed a manifest outrage in making public one of Sims' letters regarding Admiral Wilson and various other naval officers, and then sending it out by radio; that a campaign of deliberate propaganda had been resorted to by Daniels to injure Sims.

Hearing Room Crowded

The big committee hearing room was crowded with naval officers and society women. Sims was applauded as he took his seat at the Senators' table. He was flanked by half a dozen high naval officers and an aide sat at his elbow.

"The gravity of his charges can be appreciated," Sims said, "when we realize that the war was costing three thousand lives and $100,000,000 a day."

AMERICANS WHO SERVED WITH CANADIAN ARMY OBJECT TO EXCHANGE RATE

Minneapolis, Minn., March 10.—American soldiers who fought with the Canadian armies have launched a movement to bring the Canadian exchange rate back to normal. They are suffering from a discount of 20 per cent. on bonus payments from the Canadian Government, they said. Appeals will be made to Congress to take steps to restore normal exchange rates.

SUPREME ALLIED COUNCIL AGREES TO FRENCH OBJECTION

Makes Alterations To Proposed Economic Memorandum To European Countries

London, March 10.—French criticism of the proposed economic memorandum to European countries has been considered by the Supreme Allied Council, according to reports, and such alterations as will meet French objections have been agreed to. These include an engagement to maintain the authority of the reparations commission to give or withhold permission for German revenues to be mortgaged to possible neutral leaders to Germany until Germany's treaty obligations to France are fulfilled.

It is understood that the council has notified the Bucharest Government it will recognize the reunion of Bessarabia and Roumania. Members of the Roumanian delegation deny reports emanating from Reval Tuesday to the effect that 150,000 Bolsheviki had crossed the Dniester river and would soon enter Bessarabia.

EARTHQUAKE NEAR TIFLIS

Tiflis, Feb. 24.—Via Constantinople, March 10.—Several hundred persons are dead and thousands of others are homeless as a result of an earthquake which destroyed Makhet, Grakali, and other villages within a radius of sixty miles of Tiflis.

The city of Tiflis was shaken and many buildings were severely damaged.

Thousands of refugees are pouring into Tiflis. The Constituent Assembly of the Republic of Georgia immediately voted 20,000,000 roubles for first aid to the sufferers.

CANADIAN COINS SHIPPED HOME $1,500 PER DAY

Large Numbers of New Fifty Cent Pieces Indicate There Is Trafficking

Minneapolis, Minn., March 10.—Canadian coins are being taken from circulation and shipped back to Canada from Minneapolis at the rate of $1,500 a day, following the decision of banks here to charge 20 per cent. discount on all Canadian silver owing to the adverse exchange rate.

Shipments to Winnipeg from Minneapolis formerly amounted to more than $500 a week. As fast as the coins reach the banks, they are shipped by express across the border.

Large numbers of brand new Canadian half dollars are being found among the flood of Dominion coins, indicating a considerable trafficking in Canadian coins across the border, in which operators have been making a profit of 20 per cent. Bankers here expect Canadian coins will be completely forced from circulation here in view of the discount situation.

PRINCESS MARY TO PAY VISIT TO NORTHERN EUROPE

Only Continental Capital Young Princess Has Visited Is Paris

London, March 10.—It is announced that Princess Mary during the coming Summer will make a tour of the capitals of Northern Europe.

The tour will extend to about six weeks and among the places which her Royal Highness is expected to visit are Copenhagen, Christinia, and Stockholm. Queen Alexandra may go to Copenhagen this year for the first time since 1913, and if her Majesty does so she will make the journey in company with Princess Mary.

So far, owing largely to the war, Princess Mary has enjoyed but limited opportunities of visiting the Continent; indeed, the only Continental capital of which she has any personal knowledge at the present time is Paris, where she stayed for a few days with the King and Queen, when they paid their last state visit there, shortly before the war.

The Queen of Norway is extremely anxious to have a visit from her niece at Christiania, and extended her a cordial invitation to do this during the present year before she left Appleton Hall recently.

It is also suggested that Princess Mary should extend her tour in order to include Stockholm, where she would meet another relative and great friend, in the person of the crown princess, the eldest daughter of the Duke of Connaught. No definite plans for this tour have yet been made, but it is understood that these will shortly be taken into consideration.

I.O.D.E. MEMORIAL DISCUSSED IN EAST

Eight Provincial Chapters Represented At Meeting In Toronto

Those interested in I.O.D.E. work will be glad to learn that eight of the nine provinces were represented at the I.O.D.E. War Memorial Committee meeting, sessions of which were held in Toronto.

The question of scholarships for the different provinces was thoroughly discussed—first, the scholarships in Canadian universities, for which sons and daughters of deceased or totally disabled soldiers and sailors are eligible. Secondly, there was the question of post graduate scholarships in the departments of history and economics in Imperial universities, for which candidates will be selected annually by provincial committees appointed for that purpose.

To arrange further details, a sub-committee was appointed, comprising Mrs. George H. Smith, Mrs. Sineff, Quebec; Miss Gordon, Kingston; and Miss Laing, Toronto.

The next meeting of the Memorial Committee will be held in Calgary the last week in May, on the occasion of the annual meeting of the National Chapter.

INDIAN ADMITS KILLING WIFE WHILE INTOXICATED

Winnipeg, March 10.—Charged with the murder of his wife at Hole River Wednesday, March 3rd, at 3 a.m., while crazed with drink, Alex. Thomas, an aged Indian, was brought into the city in irons by Provincial Constable James Bain to go on trial for his life at the assizes, which open Tuesday, March 16th.

At a preliminary hearing, which was conducted in Riverton on Monday night before Magistrate H. W. Sopher, little evidence was taken, the accused having made confession both to neighbors and to the police, police officials stated. More than twenty Indian hunters and trappers, as well as the chief of the tribe, attended the preliminary hearing. Thomas was committed for trial.

The story of the crime, as related by the police, is briefly this. Thomas is alleged to have arrived home early on Wednesday morning crazy with drink. Expostulation by his wife led to a quarrel in which he discharged a shotgun at her, hitting her in the side and resulting in instant death. A grown daughter, who was in the house at the time of the shooting, but did not see it, notified Sandy Star, a well-known Indian trapper, shortly after the tragedy occurred. Word was sent on to the Provincial police. Dr. Ross, of Selkirk, coroner, reached the scene of the crime on Sunday night, where an inquest was conducted. Constable Bain then took charge of the accused.

CLAIM FOR A THIRD OF A MILLION DOLLARS AGAINST GOVERNMENT THROWN OUT

Ottawa, March 10.—Judgment involving a claim for a third of a million dollars made against the Dominion Government was handed out by Sir Walter Cassels in the Exchequer Court Tuesday. Grant Smith and Company and McDonald, Limited, a Western firm, took a contract from the Government some years ago for building of two wharves at Victoria B.C. This firm sublet the contract, and although the action was taken in their name, they were not directly interested in the outcome.

The claim was for a sum of $292,110 for excavation and a further sum of $27,000 for filling.

The entire claim was thrown out, Sir Walter Cassels finding that the resident engineer was in collusion with the contractors, that anything he certified should be set aside, and that an attempted fraud was intended by him and those representing the contractors.

Sir Walter Cassels found that the estimate of the work as prepared by the Department of Public Works was correct.

GRADUATE CLASS '20 HONOR GUESTS AT ANNUAL BANQUET

Brandon College Faculty, Students and Friends Enjoy Delightful Affair

SPLENDID TOASTS

Proposed and Responded To In Easy, Spontaneous and Brilliant Style

Brandon College graduating class, students, members of the faculty and the small group of friends whose privilege it was to attend the annual graduating banquet held in the Prince Edward Hotel, Friday night, will long cherish memories of that occasion. To the members of the graduating class in Arts and Expression, eighteen in number, the occasion was especially noteworthy. Within a few weeks of the completion of their course, they assembled outside the lecture hall to mingle with their fellows, sampling the freedom and responsibilities which they must encounter on leaving the protecting walls of Alma Mater. Their fellow students gathered to enjoy with them the delights of anticipation and to participate in the enjoyment the occasion provided. The President, members of the Faculty, their wives, must have found in the occasion a very real opportunity for a degree of satisfaction in having had the privilege of directing the thoughts and training the minds of a class the representatives of which acquitted themselves so creditably. College friends, including graduates of former years, found the occasion one of thorough enjoyment. The whole affair was set in an atmosphere of scholarly culture as wholesome and desirable as it was creditable.

Brandon College graduates in Arts and Expression, class '20, gave what must have been to their mentors eminently satisfactory proof of the excellence of the course of instruction. College friends are more than ever convinced of the value of the training given in that institution. Members of the graduating class proposed and responded to toasts in splendid fashion. Both in subject matter and in delivery, the toasts were of a high order of excellence.

The menu provided, the arrangements for reception and placing of guests left nothing to be desired, while the dainty place cards were inscribed with quotations showing studious care and judicious selection. Printed menues and place cards were done in silver and blue, the class colors, and added a distinctiveness all their own.

The scene in the drawing room where President and Mrs. Whidden, Mrs. Olive A. C. Wilkins, B.A., Lady Principal of Clark Hall; Miss Sybil Kerr, Mr. Orval Calverly and Mr. Robert Darrach received the guests, was brilliant. The sweet girl graduates—and they were sweet—were the centre of attraction. In the dining room they occupied seats of honor and they graced the assemblage. President Whidden as Chairman was in great form and it would be difficult even in retrospect, to suggest improvements in the annual graduating banquet for Class '20.

The Graduates

The graduates in Arts 1920 are as follows: Misses Ethel A. Bolton, Stella Bolton, Jean F. Cameron, Elizabeth Greig, Cordelia B. Mackay, Annie A. Sanford, and Messrs. David H. Beaubier, Orval Calverly, Maurice C. Fitz Gerald, Frederick E. Howard, Robert W. McBain, David McL. McNaught, Clarence A. Morgan, Leonard C. Nelson, Victor E. Nordland, Charles G. Whidden. Misses. Elizabeth Greig and Ethel I. Mackay, will graduate this year in Expression.

The Toast List

Dr. Howard P. Whidden presided at the banquet and proposed the toast "King and Country." Miss B. Clendenning, '21 proposed the toast to the "Graduating Class" and it was responded to by Misses A. A. Sanford and E. I. Mackay. A vocal solo by Miss Maud Wilson was enjoyed and Miss Wilson responded to an encore. Mr. L. Harris '21 proposed the toast "Our City" and Alderman G. B. Coleman responded on behalf of the Mayor who was unable to be present. "Alma Mater" was proposed by Mr. W. Rathwell, B.A. and responded to by Dr. C. W. New. Miss Georgia Newbury charmed all with her readings. The toast to "Our Heroic Dead" was drunk in silence. Mr. W. Abey '21 proposed the toast "Our Ladies" and Miss E. Manthorne '23 responded.

$410,000 BONDS STOLEN BY BANDITS IN PHILADELPHIA

Effect an Entrance From a Nearby Building and Rifle Safes In Two Offices

Philadelphia, March 13.—Bonds totalling $410,000, a third of them negotiable, were stolen by bandits in a raid on the Weightman Building. They entered by a balcony from a building nearby and rifled the safes in two offices.

PRESIDENT PRIVY COUNCIL STATES CANADA IS NATION

Dominion Not Afraid To Take Place In World—May Challenge United States

New York, March 15. — The New York World says editorially:

"The word-mongering and phrase-making at Washington have spread into Canada like a contagion, and the Dominion House of Commons is painfully interpreting Senator Lodge's interpretation of that clause of the league covenant which gives Great Britain and its dependencies six votes.

"As the President of the Privy Council views the matter, the reservation adopted by the United States Senate does more than deprive Canada of a vote in the league when some portion of the British empire is in disagreement with the United States —a principle which applies to all members engaged in disputes and to which he offers no objection. What he condemns is the apparent denial that Canada is a nation and the purpose of certain States Senators to relegate it to its former colonial status.

"If the United States is to ratify the Peace Treaty on any condition impairing the independence of Canada, he said, that country, already a signatory, will refuse its assent and if through any influence Great Britain should fall in with such a proposition, Canada would withdraw from the league at once.

"Here we have an ultimatum for London no less than for Washington and there is a great deal of reason behind it. Canada has earned its place in the world, and unlike the senatorial representatives of its powerful neighbor, is not afraid to assume the attendant responsibility. In beginning its career as a nation by challenging both the United States and Great Britain, it has set a smart pace for itself."

ONE MAN WILL LOSE $30,000 WHEN CANADIAN ONE CENT PIECE IS REDUCED

Ottawa, March 15.—When the size of the Canadian one-cent piece is changed to the proposed smaller coin one Ottawa man will lose $30,000 or more, besides having a lucrative business closed. Several other businesses using slot machines in Ottawa and throughout the country will be losers to a smaller extent, and the Post Office Department is faced with the necessity of changing the mechanism of stamp vending machines which represent an investment of more than $100,000.

CATTLE EMBARGO IN GREAT BRITAIN SINCE YEAR 1896

Ottawa, March 15.—In answer to questions of C. A. Fournier, Bellechasse, in the house, the Minister of Agriculture explained that the embargo on Canadian cattle exported to Great Britain was placed by the United Kingdom in 1896 on any cattle entering that country except for immediate slaughter.

The Canadian Livestock Commission had made presentations to the British Government in 1899 for the removal of the restrictions as they apply to Canadian cattle. The Imperial Government had replied, said Mr. Tolmie, that it fully recognized that the embargo could no longer be continued against Canadian fed cattle on the ground of disease, but that in consideration of the unsettled condition of British agriculture and the lack of confidence amongst feeders and breeders which would be created by removing the embargo, the government considered it inadvisable to take any action in the matter.

CANADA'S WHEAT BOARD UNDER FIRE IN COMMONS TODAY

A. B. McCoig Asks Whether Board Will Handle 1920 Crop

Ottawa, March 15.—Canada's wheat board, which has been under fire at recent farmers' conventions throughout the west and which was strongly defended by H. W. Wood, President of the United Farmers of Alberta, in Calgary last January, will be the subject of a question in the commons today.

A. B. McCoig, member for Kent West, will ask the number of members on the board, the number of employes, the monthly expenditure of the board including salaries and operating expenses; if the expenses are paid by the government out of general revenues or deducted from the price obtained by the board for the wheat before it is divided among the farmers, and whether it is the intention of the government to have the board handle the 1920 crop.

BRITISH WAITERS OPPOSE TIPPING, EVOLVE PROGRAM

Through Which They Hope To Improve Their Status and Better Conditions

London, March 15.—A public meeting was held in connection with the British and Allied Waiters, Chefs and Employes Union at the Holborn Empire at which a resolution was unanimously adopted pledging the immediate obedience of those present to any order which the officials of the union might issue, in order to obtain from employers recognition of the union, and the Union de Cuisiniers, and to secure improvements in wages and conditions of employ.

It was intimated by Mr. Cann, secretary of the union, that definite action would be taken immediately in the case of one big firm of carters, whose employes would be called out at very short notice.

Fred Bramley, assistant secretary of the Trades Union Congress, described the hotel and restaurants employes as the lowest paid, the most badly treated and least respected group of workers in the country. Waiters, he said, according to the general opinion, were persons who had no right to be respected for the services they rendered, but who were expected to show a servile, almost crawling, regard for the people for whom they worked.

The Underground Kitchen

Emphasizing the necessity for united and powerful organization in order to enforce their demands for improvement, Mr. Bramley said that he looked forward to the time when the workers of the country would be so effectively organized, that, marching under one banner, and inspired by one purpose, they would be able to control every department of production and distribution, and to protect themselves against the increases of prices which now followed an increase in wages.

Indicating certain conditions of labor, affecting the catering trade generally, which called for drastic reform Mr. Bramley referred particularly to the underground kitchens of some hotels and restaurants, the conditions of which were indescribable.

"There are certain restaurants in London," Mr. Bramley said, "where it would be disastrous for the firms if the customers were to take a stroll around the place where their food is prepared. Therefore I hope you will fight for conditions of health so that a man may not only be properly paid for his labor but can leave his work walking upright as a result of his efforts to get a living."

Faults of Tipping System

Duncan Carmichael strongly urged the abolition of the tipping system, giving an instance where in one restaurant a waiter was receiving only 12s. a week in wages in view of the fact that he made £3 5s. weekly in tips; the employer in this way taking advantage of the generosity of customers to save himself expense.

The resolution put to the meeting pledged those present to withdraw their labor if called upon to do so, and reaffirmed their determination to establish a national program for the trade, including a minimum wage, a 48-hour week, and healthy accommodation and food.

The secretary, Mr. Cann, in moving its adoption, declared that protests were useless and the time had come for fighting. The employers, he added, had not the pluck to fight against an organized body of employes if the latter would only realize it.

REGINA BONDS ON SALE OVER COUNTER

Regina, March 15.—Bonds of the city of Regina bearing six per cent. interest were offered for sale over the counter of the city treasurer's office in the city hall on Saturday. If the effort to sell city bonds to Regina people proves a success, city officials state, arrangements will be made to sell much larger amounts in the same way.

Two issues were on sale Saturday. The first amounts to $56,000, maturing February 1st, 1928, repayable in equal annual instalments of principal and interest. The other is for $61,000, maturing July 1st, 1934, repayable at date of maturity with interest payable semi-annually.

The bonds may be purchased in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000.

London, March 15.—Revolt broken out among several units of Japanese troops in Siberia. The soldiers ripped off their shoulder straps and substituted a red strap. The growth of the revolutionary movement in Korea is also reported. Japanese authorities have made many arrests.

400,000 PERSONS ON STRIKE IN FRANCE

Paris, March 13.—Estimates today place the number of persons on strike in France at 400,000, scattered through many industries.

RE-ORGANIZATION OF INFANTRY IN THIS DISTRICT

Ottawa, March 13.—Perpetuation of the overseas battalions, which Canada contributed to the forces of the field during the war, is provided for in the re-organization of the infantry of the Canadian militia, according to a statement issued from militia headquarters. The statement precedes an announcement of the re-organization in three of the military districts of Canada. No. 3 district, with Kingston as its headquarters; No. 10, with headquarters at Winnipeg; and No.11, with headquarters at Vancouver.

The present organization of the 90th regiment, Winnipeg Rifles, and 203rd battalions respectively, under the scheme becomes the Winnipeg Rifles, with the active unit known as the 1st battalion and formed to perpetuate the name of he 8th battalion, C.E.F. There are four reserve battalions, the 2nd, 3rd, 4th, and 5th, formed from the 90th, 144th, 190th, and The 96th Lake Superior regiment with one active and one reserve battalion. The first battalion will be formed from the 52nd battalion C.E.F. and the reserve battalion from the 94th battalion C.E.F. The 141st battalion will be the active battalion of the 98th regiment, and will be known as the Rainy River and Kenora regiment. The Manitoba Rangers will take the place of the 99th Manitoba Rangers and will incorporate the 45th battalion C.E.F, as the active battalion and the 79th Battalion C.E.F., and 181st battalion C.E.F. as reserve units.

The 100th Winnipeg Grenadiers will be known as the Winnipeg Grenadiers, with the old 78th battalion C.E.F. as the 1st battalion, and the 111th and 100th battalons C.E.F., on reserve. The 79th Cameron Highlanders of Canada, will be known as the Cameron Highlanders of Canada, with one unit active and two reserve units. The 43rd battalion C.E.F., will be the 1st battalion and the 174th and 179th battalion, C.E.F., will form a reserve.

The Winnipeg Light Infantry will have one active battalion, C.E.F., and four reserves the 61st, 101st, 222nd and 226th battalions, C.E.F.

The Manitoba regiment will be formed from the 27th City of Winnipeg battalian and will have one active and one reserve battalion.

GROWTH OF B. C. FISHING INDUSTRY REMARKABLE

Prince Rupert, B.C., March 13.—The lumbering business has grown to such proportions that it rivals the fishing industry despite the remarkable growth of the latter. Many millions of feet are being shipped. This Spring will see about 500 fishing craft operating out of here, ranging from iron steamers to small wooden boats, carry a few men and two or three dories.

NEW YORK POLICE OFFER 'SQUEALERS' A $20,000 BRIBE

Vice Conditions Being Probed By Grand Jury—Criminals Raise Defence Fund

New York, March 13.—Assistant District Attorney Smith, conducting a grand jury investigation or the alleged vice conditions in New York, said a "defence fund" was being raised to silence "squealers" who might be called to testify against police officers found to be protecting undesirable resorts. A $20,000 bribe is offered by the police.

BERLINERS DO NOT WANT STATUE VON HINDENBURG SOLD TO AMERICANS

Berlin, March 15.—Berlin is much exercised over a rumor that speculators, believed to be Americans, are trying to buy the great wooden statue of Von Hindenburg, into which nails were driven by the people during the war at so much per nail. The government will be asked to prevent the sale.

WHOLESALE GROCERS' CASE TO COME UP AGAIN MARCH 22

Hamilton, March 15.—Investigation by the Board of Commerce into the alleged wholesale grocers ' combine was concluded here Friday. The board will resume hearing at Toronto, March 22nd.

ANOTHER REVOLT IN GERMANY: TROOPS FROM BALTIC PROVINCES SEIZE THE REINS OF GOVERNMENT

Proclamation Issued in Berlin Says Government Has Ceased To Exist and Power Has Passed into Hands of Director General von Kapp, Who Becomes Chancellor—National Assembly Dissolved—Socialists Declare a General Strike

London, March 13—A proclamation was issued in Berlin this morning at ten o'clock stating that the German Government had ceased to exist, according to Reuters dispatch from Berlin. Revolting troops entered Berlin this morning, occupying the Wilhemstrasse, the dispatch declares. No violence is reported.

Von Kapp Becomes Dictator

Paris, March 13.—The Ersk proclamation issued in Berlin today declares the government of the empire has ceased to exist and that the power of the state has passed into the hands of Director-General Von Kapp, who becomes chancellor and has appointed General Von Luettwitz commander of the military forces.

The issuance of the proclamation followed the occupation of the Wilhemstrasse by troops returned from the Baltic provinces.

National Assembly Dissolved

Berlin, March 13. — Reports state that a proclamation has been issued stating that the national assembly has been dissolved. A new government is being formed. The Socialists have declared a general strike.

Paris, March 13.—A military pronunciamento has been issued at Berlin proclaiming a new chancellor, according to advices received here.

Berlin, March 15.—The conviction has prevailed from the start among men not identified with the present revolution that it will be short-lived, as it is outwardly without support of conservatives or reactionary leaders, and is viewed in many quarters as a "trial baloon" which will collapse shortly. The most immediate danger is a general strike throughout Germany.

Berlin Workers on Strike

Berlin, March 15.—The streets of Berlin at ten o'clock this morning were almost deserted, patrols were moving about. Workmen in electric power stations struck and the surface cars and underground railways were suspended. The water supply has been cut off. It is expected that everything will be at a complete standstill today. The bread shortage is already causing great concern.

Ebert Forces at Hamburg

Copenhagen, March 15.—Public security troops at Hamburg, favoring the Ebert Government, succeeded in taking possession of the town hall, the trades union building and other public places.

France Doubles Rhine Guards

Paris, March 15.—France contemplates sending three more army corps to Wiesbaden, Neustadt and Boin, thus doubling her forces along the Rhine. Marshall Foch will call a meeting of the Supreme Council as soon as he returns from Mayence, where he will confer today with the Allied commanders.

Reports state that every step has been taken to maintain order in the occupied district of Germany. The utmost calm is prevailing in Germany, according to information here, although the severe censorship in Berlin may be responsible for the lack of news reaching the outside world. Advices from other sources, however, indicate that the reactionary movement is confined to Berlin and that mobs are busy looting stores in some quarters of the city.

London, March 15.—One of the first acts of the new government in Berlin was to request recognition from the Allied Commissions in Germany. The request was ignored the commissioners taking the attitude that they would not give recognition even to the extent of answering the communication.

Report of Agreement

Berlin, March 15.—An unconfirmed report was current before midnight Sunday night that the new government had reached an agreement with the Ebert Government in order to avert a threatened railway strike. Reports state that the South German generals and Saxon troops have given their adadherence to Gustave Noske, Minister of Defence, in the Ebert Government.

To Proclaim Soviet Government

Paris, March 15.—Independent Socialists and Communists met yesterday at Mennheim and decided to take advantage of the present situation in Germany and proclaim a Soviet Government.

Denial of New War Plans

Copenhagen, March 15.—The statement issued by the Wolff Bureau evidently emanating from the new government says: "There is no truth in defamatory rumors circulated with regard to the re-introduction of compulsory military service and the existence of plans for a new war. The government desires peace externally and internally."

Cologne, March 15.—The new government established in Berlin is not intended to promote the aims of the monarchists or the reactionaries, it is declared in a dispatch to the Cologne Gazette from Berlin Saturday. The message reads: "The new government under Chancellor Kapp will say in its program to be made public that it will honorably fulfil the Treaty of Versailles. It gives emphatic assurances that the government has no reactionary or monarchial aims."

Will Not Restore Monarchy

London, March 15.—A wireless dispatch received here from Berlin says: "The new men in power definitely declare that they do not intend to restore the monarchy. They are prepared, under certain conditions, to form a coalition government in which the majority socialists would be included, but they insist on appointing non-partisan experts as chiefs of certain ministeries, hoping thereby to improve political and economic conditions.

"In all the government offices yesterday work went on as usual, and business in the city was not interrupted. The new government warned the Socialists that strong measures would be taken if they interfered with vital industries.

"The type setters Sunday morning refused to set up the new government proclamation, if that of the old government and of the Socialist party were not issued simultaneously with it, consequently the publication of all the newspapers has been suspended for the time being.

Will Not Suppress or Rob Workers

"Herr Rauscher, chief of the Government Press Bureau, was arrested for his own protection. He has been succeeded by Dr. Brederik, a well known member of the Fatherland party. It is stated on behalf of the government that the government is aware that a large part of the workers will oppose it, but that there is no intention to suppress the workers or rob them of their acquired rights. At the same time, the government will take strong action if the workmen attempt to use force.

"So far quiet has prevailed."

Chancellor Kapp issued a proclamation Sunday promising to order elections for the Reichstag as soon as quiet is restored, and adding that drastic emergency decrees would only be issued to an extent requisite for the maintenance of order and the protection of the economic life of the country against usurpers, exploitations and corruption.

The government says the proclamation will protect the vital industries and the workers, but will resolutely suppress and resistance. Elections will be held within two hundred sixty days.

Fleet in Control of New Government

A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co., from Hamburg, dated Saturday, from its correspondent at Kiel, says that the naval commander there has handed over the German fleet to the new Berlin government. Shots were exchanged between a torpedo boat in the harbor and workmen at Kiel Saturday afternoon, says a dispatch to the Central News, quoting the Berlinske Tinden's Kiel correspondent as confirming the surrender of the fleet. Marines are now occupying the dockyard. A general strike has been declared by all th workers, except those in the gas and water plants.

CIVIL SERVANTS ARE ASKING FOR LARGER BONUSES

Ottawa, March 13.—A deputation of civil servants last night waited upon the acting Premier urging that the bonuses given by the Government last year were entirely insufficient to meet the increased cost of living . Sir George Foster intimated that the Government would not decrease the bonuses but might improve them.

TWENTY-SIX IRISH POLICEMEN KILLED SINCE JANUARY 21ST

Belfast, March 13.—Constable Scully who was shot at Glenmire, County Cork, last night, was the 26th policeman murdered since January 21st. Two soldiers and a number of civilians also were killed by the gangs in th same vicinity yesterday.

GOVERNMENT CRITICIZED FOR RECENT ACTION

In Regard To Handling of Crisis Between Rural Credit Societies and Banks

W. R. WOOD THE CRITIC

Declares That Banks Should Have Been Called On To Prove Contentions

Winnipeg, March 13.—The budget debate was continued in the legislature last night. W. R. Woods criticized the Government for the manner in which the recent crises between the Rural Credit Societies and the banks had been handled. Wood questioned the attitude taken by the banks in demanding a higher rate of interest, stating that he thought that the Government, as representatives of the people, ought to have demanded a complete detailed statement from the banks as to the conditions which they claimed made an increase in interest rates necessary.

He praised the initial work of the Rural Credits Societies which had reduced generally and perciptibly, the charges which the banks had been making and had secured from the banks very much more practical recognition of the service they might render in rural communities. Wood expressed an opinion favorable to the Government taking deposits and financing the credits system itself.

DAIRY FARMERS IN B. C. MAY TRY OUT MUTUAL INSURANCE

To Compensate Owners Whose Animals Are Destroyed Because of Tuberculosis

Victoria, B.C., March 12.—British Columbia dairy farmers are seriously considering the launching of a mutual livestock insurance company of their own. To prevent the spread of tuberculosis amongst cattle many valuable animals are slaughtered each year, and the Provincial Government's compensation for such loss amounts to but one-third of the present value. The proposal calls for payment by farmers into a general insurance fund. No shares will be issued; no dividends paid The idea is merely to creae a compensation fund on the theory that all slaughterings of infected cattle promote the welfare of the entire industry.

CANADA TO INSIST ON RIGHTS: LET U.S. DO AS IT WISHES

Hon. N. W. Rowell Declares Canada Will Not Consent To Surrender Status

TO GET U. S. INTO LEAGUE

It Is For the American People To Say Whether They Come In Or Not

Ottawa, March 12.—Canada's status in the League of Nations again loomed up in the Commons Thursday afternoon, when Hon. N. W. Rowell, President of the Privy Council, brought in the Government's resolution to approve of the peace treaty with Bulgaria.

After some members had complained that they had not received printed copies of the treaty sent out from Mr. Rowell's office, it was decided that he should make a statement. The adoption of the treaty, he said, embodies the principles of democratic control in that it could only be ratified after the consent of parliament. It also involves the consideration of the League of Nations' covenant and the status of Canada. Since the house passed upon the covenant of the League of Nations some months ago, Canada's status had been questioned. In submitting this to the house—and I hope it will be approved unanimously—the Government will be asked to reaffirm, in principle, Canada's status as a member of the league. If the House adopts the resolution, it means that the House places itself behind the Government in maintaining Canada's status already established," he said.

"It also means the reaffirmation of the labor clauses in the treaty of the League of Nations," went on Mr. Rowell. The main provisions, he said, were on similar lines to those contained in the peace treaty with Germany and with Austria, and already approved by this House.

Canada Entitled to Vote

The question of Canada's status was discussed at some length by the President of the Privy Council. His own reading of the covenant was that Canada was entitled to membership in the council of the League of Nations. There was certainly no question as to Canada's right to vote in the assembly. Neither Canada nor Great Britain had ever advanced the contention that any portion of the British Empire should be entitled to vote in the assembly on any matters in which a portion of the empire was vitally interested and which might lead to a rupture.

In answer to L. Cannon, Dorchester, he said the large powers had no more rights in the league than small nations.

Asked by Hon. Mackenzie King if the proposed Labor Conference differed in any way or had any more authority than the old system of international conference, Mr. Rowell said the old system met voluntarily, while under the new order it was a direct outcome of the peace treaty and the recommendations arrived at were bound to be submitted to the members of all nations embraced by the league. He agreed that the public opinion of each country, as represented by parliament would have the final say in adopting any such recommendation. He was glad to announce that Canada was well represented on the governing body which had to be appointed under the labor conditions of the treaty.

Asked if the United States was officially represented at the International Labor Conference at Washington, while she had not yet ratified the peace treaty, Mr. Rowell replied in the negative.

The Lenroot Reservation

Turning to a discussion of the Lenroot reservation, Mr. Rowell stated that Canada could not accede to the first part, which stated that the United States assumed no obligation to be bound by any decision or report in connection with which the British Empire had cast more than one vote. He also referred to a reservation recently introduced by Senator Lodge in the United States Senate in the form of a resolving clause. The effect of this resolving clause was that none of the reservations which might be adopted could go into effect unless they were accepted by all of the Allied associated powers. And they might be accepted by the Allied and the associated powers by the failure of any one of those powers to dissent within the time mentioned in the resolving clause.

Only One Course for Canada

"If they failed to dissent, their assent would be thereby presumed, and it is on that account that Canada feels that there is only one possible course open to her," said Mr. Rowell, "namely, that if any country should say that its ratification of the treaty was conditional upon our assenting to our own position being impaired and our status challenged and our right to vote denied, as a self-respecting people, we could not give that consent.

"In other words," he continued, "we all recognize the importance of the United States coming into the League of Nations; no country is more interested than Canada that the United States should come in; we should be the last people in the world to put any obstacle in the way of the entry of the United States, and I am sure that that will be the sentiment of the country and of the House. But if the United States should finally say, 'we will come in on condition that you practically get out or have your status impaired,' we can only reply, 'well, you have a perfect right to say that if you chose, but we, as a self-respecting people, have an equal right to say that we cannot accede to your terms.'"

Recognize Equality of Canada

Continuing, Mr. Rowell said that the equality of status of Canada in the empire had been fully recognized by Great Britain and the other overseas dominions.

"All agree," said Mr. Rowell, "that the status is one of equality, though not of equal power, under one sovereign, bound together by ties of interest and sentiment."

There were only two other alternatives before the Dominion, Mr. Rowell went on—a return to the old colonial status, or independence. The first was unthinkable, and the government stood unhesitatingly and unequivocally for the maintenance of the British connection.

"Why not say that parliament does?" interposed Mr. Mackenzie King.

Mr. Rowell agreed.

"If," Mr. Rowell proceeded, "the reservation is finally adopted by the United States Government, and it stipulates as a condition of its going into effect that all Allied and associated powers shall give their consent, and Canada gives her consent, she is relegated back into the colonial position.

Mr. King—"Would any action on the part of the United States change the status of Canada?"

Government Wil Never Consent

Mr. Rowell—"Not unless we consent, and the government will never give its consent; in the exercise of our sovereign right to control our own affairs, we will not give it. There lies the importance of the parliament of Canada standing behind the government on this issue."

"Suppose Great Britain accepted the reservation, what would be the position?" asked Mr. Cannon.

Mr. Rowell—"I do not believe Great Britain would accept there reservations as against Canada's protest. But if Great Britain did accept them, Canada would till dissent. Then the reservation would not go into effect because it was not assented to by all the associated and Allied powers."

Great Britain, Mr. Rowell said in reply to a question by W. S. Fielding, would have no right to give consent on the part of Canada.

Mr. Rowell concluded that he thought the position taken by the Government went to the basis of Canada's whole national future. Therefore, consent could not be given to the Lenroot reservation.

OUTRAGES IN IRELAND ALMOST EVERY NIGHT

Shooting Constables Appears To Be a Favorite Sport In South Country

Dublin, March 12. — A number of additional outrages are reported to have taken place in various parts of Ireland. Police Sergeant Nazer was shot dead and Constable Doyle was wounded at Rathkeale, 17 miles Southwest of Limerick.

In the Cork district, Inspector McDonough was dangerously wounded in the head by a bullet from a revolver while exchanging shots with crowds which attacked him and another officer. One civilian was badly wounded during the fighting.

At Limerick Constable Murphy was ambushed and shot and dangerously wounded.

At Kilbeggan County Westmeath, one hundred armed men raided Durrow Castle, a private residence, for arms. The family was absent and only two servants were in the castle. The raiders gained entrance to the building by smashing the big door with sledge hammers.

CANADA'S FIRE LOSSES DURING FEBRUARY ARE MORE THAN YEAR AGO

Toronto, March 12.—The Monetary Times estimates Canada's fire losses during February 1920 as $1,895,573, compared with $1,091,834 in February 1919.

BRITAIN MUST INCREASE REVENUES THROUGH TAXATION

Controller of Finance To Treasury Says Rising Prices Must Be Checked

London, March 12.—Giving testimony before the committee on taxation of war wealth, B. R. Blackett, Controller of Finance to the Treasury, advocated special taxation. He said there was real necessity for large contributions to the reduction of the national debt and urgent necessity to obtain cash by taxation.

For this it was most desirable, he said, to get rid of what he termed the everlasting rise in prices. He said the longer this situation was left the worse it would be, for the vicious system would continue and a crash would come.

Mr. Blackett said there were one billion pounds in treasury bills and two hundred million pounds in ways and means advances to be refunded or paid off, and until this was done, it would be impossible to stop the "present vicious circle."

HUGE ADVANCE IN OCEAN RATES ON FOODSTUFFS

British Shipments In U. S. Held Up Pending Confirmation of New Rate

New York, March 12.—Freight rates on foodstuffs shipped to England on British vessels have been increased thirty cents a hundred pounds from 45 to 75 cents, it is announced here. As the British Ministry of Food has 300,000,000 pounds of hog products in warehouses in the United States, the increase means that the English public will have to pay $90,000,000 more for them if they are shipped under the new rates according to Robert Graham, chairman of the Ministry here.

The former rate of 45 cents a hundred pounds was fixed by the British Ministry of Shipping, and shipments were made in space requisitioned by the British Government, Mr. Graham said.

Now, however, shipments are ordered held up until the new rate is confirmed by the British Government, and Mr. Graham declared he would sail for England this week to adjust it in conjunction with other matters concerning the Ministry of Food.

BLINDNESS AND DEATH AMONG THOSE IN JAIL

Albany, March 12.—A mysterious malady, which caused the death of two prisoners at Dannemora prison, caused five to become blind and twenty-five to partially lose their eyesight within the past week. One opinion expressed was that the men were partaking of wood alcohol, another conjecture is that the men were poisoned by canned goods.

STATEMENT OF U. S. NAVAL POLICY SENT SIMS, JAN. 1917

Three Months After War Declared by United States First Definite Statement Received

OPERATIONS CONDITIONED

Admiral Was Calling For Destroyers As Late as January, 1918

Washington, March 12.—Continuing his testimony before the United States Senate Committee, Admiral Sims stated that the first definite statement of the United States Naval policy was received by him January 10th, 1917, three months after the United States declared war. The astounding feature of this statement was that while the United States intended to co-operate their operations were conditioned. Even as late as January, 1918, the Admiral was still calling for destroyers.

Admiral Sims read a cablegram from the Navy Department, dated July 10, 1917, containing an outline of the department's policy and declared that "while a successful termination of the present war must always be the first Allied aim and probably will result in diminished tension throughout the world, the future position of the United States must in no way be jeopardized by anf disintegration of our main fighting fleet."

Statement of Policy

The same cablegram, Admiral Sims said, contained this statement:

"The Navy Department announces as its general plan of action the following:

"Its willingness to send its minor fighting forces in any number not incompatible with home needs, to any field of action deemed advisable by the Allied Admiralty council;

"Its unwillingness as a matter of policy to separate any division from the main fleet for service abroad, although it is willing to send the entire battleship fleet abroad to act as a united by co-operating unit when the emergency is deemed to warrant it."

Regard this message, Admiral Sims said: "It was the first definite statement of policy I had received, arriving a few days over three months after we had declared war.

"The astounding features of this policy were, however, that while it stated our intention to co-operate to the fullest degree, still such co-operation was conditioned, first upon an adequate defense of our own waters and next upon the future position of the United States after this war was finished," said the Admiral.

"I am wholly unable to conceive of any war policy, particularly in a war of this nature, which was certain to exhaust all the participants with the possible exception of ourselves, based upon the requirements of any possible future war."

Realized War Later

A message received from the Navy Department, dated July 5, to the effect that several small vessels were being sent to augment his forces "indicated that they were at last beginning to realize that there was a war being fought in European waters," declared Sims.

Even as late of January, 1918, he was still calling for more destroyers, the Admiral said. On April 23, Aug. 24 and Sept. 19, 1918, Admiral Sims declared he wrote to the department expressing his disappointment at the apparent non-success of the destroyer building program in the United States and urging the necessity of "speeding up" production of anti-submarine craft and sending every available small vessel to the war zone even at the expense of the protection of the coasts of the United States.

"I am only introducing testimony so far along in 1918 at this time pointing out the accumulated effort of not having thrown our full weight into the war at the beginning," the Admiral said.

MARY PICKFORD DENIES SHE WILL NOW MARRY DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS

Los Angeles, Cal., March 12.—"The rumors circulated that I intend to marry Douglas Fairbanks are absurd. Such a thought has never entered my head."

With that statement, Mary Pickford discredited reports that have had film circles abuzz, and thousands wondering what next move would be made by the celebrated star following her divorce from Owen Moore, granted in Nevada recently on grounds of desertion.

"Some people think my recent divorce was secured to permit me to marry again," she said. "This is not so. Is it necessary to marry again simply because a person is divorced? I don't think so. I merely wanted to be free."

NATIONAL COUNCIL WOMEN DISCUSS CITIZENSHIP ANGLES

Urge Special Evening Meetings For Girls and Women—Want French Taught in Schools

Ottawa, March 12.—Citizenship from different angles was the subject under discussion at Thursday's session of the executive of the National Council of Women. The interim report to be used as a basis for a woman's platform to be presented for adoption at the annual meeting of the national council was submitted.

A resolution was passed urging federated associations to arrange for special evening meetings in order to interest groups of girls in National Council work, and opportunity for service, and suggested that the same opportunities shall be given to groups of business and industrial women.

It was also resolved that in the highest interests of good citizenship and patriotism, that French, as a language, shall be taught in all public schools, commencing in the senior third room or its equivalent, and that this policy be approved from the national viewpoint by the National Council of Women of Canada and passed on to the provincial councils for such action as they deem fit.

DECLINE OF LUMBER PRICES AT MILLS ON PACIFIC COAST

Canadian Railroads Refuse to Ship Lumber To U. S. Points Except on U. S. Cars

Vancouver, March 12.—The price of lumber at the mills has declined $5 a thousand during the last few days. Apparently further declines are inevitable.

The reason for the decline is that the Canadian Railroad Association for National Defense has prohibited shipments to the United States in the coast districts except in American owned cars. This virtually means an embargo on lumber shipments to the United States.

A few days ago the lumber manufacturers apparently had things where they wanted them and could afford to neglect the home market. Bids they received from American consumers were always one better than the consumer on the Canadian prairies was willing to pay. As a consequence the price of the roughest or rough sheeting at the mills has gradually advanced from a pre-war figure of $18 per thousand feet to $48 per thousand.

It has been a matter of surprise that the mills of Oregon and Washington could not take care of the American demand. The fact is they could. Their yards are today piled high with all lines of saw-mill products but the United States railways in the last few years have run short of rolling stock and the fact is that they have no cars to move lumber from the mills.

The demand for building material in the United States is acute and an advantageous solution was found in buying Canadian lumber shipped in Canadian cars. In this way a supply of both lumber and cars was obtained. Canadian flat cars that went over the boundary did not return. No less than 19,320 Canadian cars have crossed the boundary the last four months and most of them are there yet.

The coast lumbermen are up in arms at being practically cut off from their most lucrative American market.

CURZON BLAMES U. S. FOR TROUBLE WITH THE TURKS

Difficulty In Framing Treaty Due To Delay—America Held Responsible

London, March 12.—Blame for the troubles that are being experienced in settling the Turkish problem were laid at the door of the United States by Earl Curzon, the Foreign Secretary, in explaining the Peace Conference negotations to the House of Lords, Thursday.

"The difficulty in framing the treaty is largely due to delay, and America is responsible for the delay,' Lord Curzon said.

The Foreign Secretary added that the Peace Conference hoped that when the new states were set up in Asia Minor, however, that the United States would help materially in assisting the new Armenia.

New York, March 12.—Harry Carlton, hack driver, was killed last night when he resisted arrest for alleged violation of the Prohibition Act. An other man and his wife, at whose home the shooting took place, are under arrest. The officers claim they were offered $730 worth of whiskey.

O'CONNOR SAYS LAW NOT OBEYED

By Manufacturers and Wholesale Grocers—Manager of Starch Co. Admits Price Consultations

Hamilton, March 12.—Chairman W. F. O'Connor, of the Board of Commerce, which is here investigating the alleged wholesale grocers' combine, declared Thursday that practically everything disclosed at the inquiry showed that the manufacturers and wholesale grocers were not acting in compliance with the law.

The chairman broke into the cross-examination of Joseph Ruddy, vice-president and general manager of the Canada Starch Company, with his declaration, Mr. Ruddy having admitted that his company and the St. Lawrence Starch company consulted before they fixed the prices for the trade. Mr. Ruddy further admitted that representatives of the two companies had gone over their price lists last Friday. He claimed that they were justified in doing this because if one company sold cheaper than the other company that company would be flooded with orders it could not fill.

W. G. Williams, the Ontario manager of the Canada Starch Company, admitted that there was a "gentleman's agreement" between his Company and the St. Lawrence company as to prices.

GRAND JURY ASKS FOR NEW AND UP-TO-DATE HOSPITAL

On Thursday the Grand Jury visited local and government institutions and their report, which is given below, shows that very satisfactory conditions exist in almost all the places visited. The Hospital for the Insane was found in excellent condition, and after a very thorough inspection of the Provincial gaol it was also approved by the Grand Jury. The Jury were impressed with the utter inadequacy of the Brandon General Hospital buildings for the work which this institution is called upon to perform and heartily recommended the proposed erection of a new and up to date hospital and hoped it would be given the liberal financial support of the city of Brandon and the surrounding municipalities.

The text of the report follows:

A Very Light Docket

To the Honorable Mr. Justice Curran.

"May it please your Lordship: Your Grand Jury desires to congratulate your Lordship upon the small number of criminal cases that have come before you at this Assize, considering the large area of the western judicial district. We consider the docket a very light one. After hearing the Crown witnesses in the case King vs. Kram your Grand Jury is of the opinion that the age of consent should be raised from 16 years to 18 years.

"Following the usual custom we visited the Hospital for the Insane, The Brandon General Hospital and the Provincial Gaol and beg leave to report as follows:

"At the Hospital for the Insane we were shown over the building by the Medical Superintendent Dr. Golden and found everything in connection with the institution in excellent condition. At present there are 745 patients, 431 males and 314 females. Everything possible seems to be done for their comfort and well being.

Complaints at Jail

"Provincial Gaol: We made a very thorough inspection of this institution, going over every department carefully. Owing to the fact that prior to our visit several complaints had been handed in to the Grand Jury by former inmates. These complaints consisted of several statuary declarations which we attach to this report and suggest that such action be taken by the proper authorities as they may deem necessary. We are however, glad to report as the result of visit we found everything in connection with this institution in a very satisfactory condition. The building being well kept, clean and sanitary and the inmates 22 males, all appeared in good health and well cared for. We received some minor complaints but as they were of a trivial nature and conflicted with the rules and regulations governing the gaol we did not deem them worthy of consideration.

"The Brandon Hospital: On our visit to this most worthy Institution we were impressed with the utter inadequacy of the buildings for the work which this institution is called upon to perform. At the present time there are 99 patients in the hospital. 23 of these being returned soldiers receiving treatment under the S. C. R.

"We understand a scheme is at present under way for the erection of a new and up to date hospital in keeping with the ever increasing requirements entailing a large expenditure of money. This scheme we heartily recommend to the liberal financial support of the city of Brandon and the surrounding Municipalities."

The reports mentioned in connection with the Provincial Gaol statement are not available at present.

SEED WHEAT MAY BE MADE RUST PROOF

Cambridge, March 12.—Canadian Farmers may soon be able to have their seed wheat vaccinated against rust and other troublesome diseases before they plant it. Tests by botanists of Cambridge University are said to have shown the possibility of breeding disease-proof plants and immunizing wheat, oats, barley and potatoes.

A new wheat has been produced known as "Yeoman" which has yielded 96 bushels to the acre.

FALCONS PROVE RIGHT TO PLAY SENIOR HOCKEY

Show Critics That They Are Real Champions By Performance During Season

The winning of the Manitoba championship by the Falcons is a pretty good example of why certain efforts were made to keep that team out of senior hockey at the commencement of the season. Without a doubt they are the best team that has represented Manitoba in any Allan Cup finals. Even the Victorias and 61st Battalion team will have to take a back seat to the speedy Falcons, who are favorites for the Dominion championship despite the fact that they have to play the games on a foreign ice and rest up until March 26th.

Fighting for a berth in the Winnipeg City League, the Falcons found their efforts blocked mainly because of the fact that inroads had been made on local teams and players were needed to fill their places—and the Falcons had the material. Selkirk and Brandon stood solidly for their admittance and it is due to the stick-together spirit of these two teams that the Falcons got their chance to make Manitoba hockey history. The Manitoba Senior Hockey league provided the hockey attraction for the fans of Winnipeg and Brandon, as attendance figures showed, while the Winnipeg City League drew small crowds. Indeed one game was shunted over a week as the senior league drew the spectators on Monday night killing the interest in the Winnipeg City League on Tuesdays.

Showing wonderful speed and a system in their play that was unbeatable, the Icelanders went through the season with but two defeats. One of these was a hard battle to Selkirks, the early-season favorites, and the second game to the Brandon team. From Frederickson in centre to Byron in goal, the team has a line-up of stars. Frederickson was the leading goal getter of the league, Mike Goodman is the speediest man on skates today and Halderson is a wizard with the stick on left wing. Johanneson and Benson team up for an almost impregnable defence, while Byron in goal earned the honors for the league's best goal keeper. Fridfinnson, Benson and Woodman make capital substitutes, and if the Falcons do not lift the Allan Cup with this line-up, their many favorites will be greatly disappointed. They leave for the East a week today to play their first game on March 26th.

STRUGGLE IN ALL PARTS OF GERMANY IS TEST OF POWER

Political and Territorial Forces Refuse To Yield an Inch

STRIKE RAPIDLY SPREADING

Throughout Germany—May Be Suppressed Through Use of Machine Guns

London, March 16. — The struggle between the Von Kapp revolutionists and the Ebert government for control of Germany, Monday apparently had settled down to a test of political and territorial powers.

Reports indicated the present alignment as follows:

The Socialist and Democratic groups, with the backing of the powerful south German states of Bavaria, Baden, Saxony, Wurttemburg and Hesse, have declared themselves for President Ebert.

Conservatives, Nationalists and Liberals, with the North German states, including East Prussia, Bremen and Prussia, have offered their support conditionally to the revolutionists.

The Centrist political group has held aloof, its leaders adopting a passive attitude.

Dictator von Kapp, dispatches said, was in constant conference with the Berlin political leaders, trying to win their unqualified approval of the revolution.

General Strike Spreading Throughout Germany

Late dispatches reported the general strike, called by the Ebert government in an effort to defeat the revolution, continues to spread throughout Germany. That the revolutionists realize the potency of this weapon was indicated by a dispatch quoting Defence Minister von Luettwitz intimating the revolutionary government stands ready to suppress strikes with machine-guns if necessary. The strike, a Berlin dispatch said, has spread to the Krupp works at Essen and throughout the great Ruhr and Dusseldorff industrial districts.

Other dispatches said the revolutionary government has ordered the arrest of Mathias Erzberger, former minister of finance; Chancellor Bauer and President Ebert.

In London, the allied supreme council went into conference in Downing street to consider the situation in Germany.

Some observers here believe that Germany may be split in two by the Von Kapp coup. The Southern states, they believe, never will recognize the Prussian militarists.

President Ebert, from his stronghold near Dresden, a hundred miles South of Berlin, has reaffirmed his determination not to make concessions to the revolutionists, a dispatch said, and has appealed to the German people to close their ranks around the "legitimate government."

WHITE HOUSE COMMENT ON GERMAN REVOLT

Americans Think Germany Impotent From Military Point of View

Washington, March 16.—Press dispatches brought to official Washington its first news of the overthrow of the German Government by the military.

"Such a revolution was inevitable" was the comment of White House officials, but officers at the State Department would make no statement, preferring to wait for official advices and additional details.

Reports from Germany to other government departments, however, have indicated a growing feeling of unrest because of the slowness of reconstruction and return to world peace and demonstrations on a large scale had been expected.

Although without late information as to events in Berlin, some high military officers were inclined to regard the uprising as a "palace revolu- gard the uprising as a 'palace revolu- out Germany. Recent reports to them, they said, had indicated that the morale of the forces under Minister of Defence Noske was good and that the government would be able to cope with both the monarchist troops and Sparticist discontent.

Assuming that the royalists might be able to gain complete control in Germany, officials turned their attention to the possible effect on the carrying out of the terms of the Treaty of Versailles. British and American military experts have held that the military terms of the pact have been sufficiently carried out to make Germany impotent as a military power. But Marshal Foch and other French officials have not shared this view.

Strength of Organized Military Force

Latest reports here show that the organized military forces in Germany consist of the reichswehr of slightly over 300,000 men and the home guard constabulary of about 500,0000. The reichswehr organized under the terms of the peace treaty, is to be reduced to 100,,000 men by July 10, under the treaty stipulation. The home guard was formed to maintain internal order and is subject to call to suppress local uprisings near the home of the members. The German navy is said to be practically non-existent.

The principal elements of discontent with the present Republican government are said to be the junkers who yearn for Prussian supremacy, the Spartacists and returning war prisoners who are dissatisfied with the slow reconstruction methods of the administration and the reactionaries. Included in the last-named category, it is said, are the 63,000 troops recruited by Von Der Goltz for their loyalty to the old regime. This force occupied the Baltic states until its withdrawal was forced by the Allies, and was afterwards reported to have disbanded, the men returning to their homes in Prussia. It was a picked army of men all of whom were reported to be out of sympathy with a republican form of government.

LONDON PRESS ON REVOLUTION BY THE GERMANS

Morning Post Says Social Democratic Chaff Deceived Two Credulous Birds

London, March 16.—Indications of the trend of a large part of London's editorial opinion relative to the German revolution are given in headlines appearing over comment on the situation Tuesday morning. "Allies fooled again," "The old adage" and "As was to be expected," appeared as captions in leading journals. There is a disposition to await developments before giving a decisive opinion as to happenings, which are as yet admitted to be imperfectly reported.

"While our politicians have been filling us with hot air, the junkers have been biding their time," says the Daily Mail. "In dealing with Germans one must always calculate upon bad faith. They set up a 'dud' government to sign the Treaty of Peace, but when the time comes to carry out the capitulations, the junkers again take charge. Whatever their purpose is, our visionary statesmen are ignorant of its nature."

Commenting in a similar strain, the Morning Post recalls it has always contended the German revolution was a "sham."

The French have understood from the beginning, the newspaper declares, "but Social Democratic chaff completely deceived those two credulous birds, President Wilson and Premier Lloyd George. That wary old bird, Premier Clemenceau, was never deceived, but he was overruled."

May be Placed on Throne

One of the Hohenzollerns, in the opinion of this newspaper, will soon be placed upon the throne of Prussia, but whether given the imperial crown will be another question, and hopes are expressed that Bavaria, Saxony and the Rhenish states will have something to say as to this development.

"The time calls for swift decision," the Morning Post concludes, "and we can only hope the decision will be along lines of the French rather than recent British policy."

The London Times, editorially discussing the German revolution under the heading "The Junker Revolution," characterizes it as a struggle in its present phase between Prussia and the rest of Germany, and says that if the Supreme Council had taken warning when the reports were published of the strength of the German army in November last "it would have been far better for Germany and for ourselves."

It is significant, adds the Times, that Noske declares the revolution to be a monarchist plot and that "there should be so many excursions and alarms at Amerongen."

"It may be a coincidence that Horthy has ordered an extensive mobilization in Hungary; the government at Constantinople is in a defiant mood; Moslem unrest never was so widespread and dangerous."

The paper concludes with the assertion that the situation demands an extraordinary degree of vigilance on the part of the Allies.

YOUNG SCHOOL BOY MAY BE U. S. CANDIDATE FOR STANDING JUMP TITLE

Providence, R.I., March 16. — At Moses Brown school here there is a remarkable standing broad jumper who will probably gain a place on the American Olympic team, which will compete at Antwerp next Summer. He is Irving Reid, an eighteen-year-old lad, and he has cleared ten feet four inches in competition, and recently in a practice jump he is reported to have cleared two inches further.

William H. Taylor, America's leading broad jumper, won the title last year with a jump of ten feet five and three-quarter inches. The year previous the winner cleared only ten feet two and a half inches.

WILL COST ONLY $4,000,000 TO COMPLETE H. B. RY.

Winnipeg, March 16.—Completion of the Hudson's Bay Railway from The Pas to Port Nelson will involve a total estimated expenditure of $4,000,000, according to information contained in a letter which was received Monday by W. E. Milner, managing secretary of the Winnipeg Board of Trade, from G. A. Bell, C.M.G., Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals.

Mr. Bell, in his letter, intimated that the Dominion Government was carefully feeling its way with regard to distribution of money available for railway construction in the West this year. After reviewing the situation with regard to the H.B. line, he mentioned the many demands for transportation facilities which were being received from districts in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta where settlers were compelled to haul their produce long distances to market.

"The question of how much can be spent this year, and the order in which the lines will be completed, is receiving the careful consideration of the government," he added.

Mr. Milner said that the information contained in Mr. Bell's letter would be placed before the Board of Trade Council at its meeting this week. He expressed confidence that the council would be favorable to the completion of the Hudson's Bay line as soon as was reasonably possible.

Mr. Bell explained that grading on the Hudson's Bay line had been completed from The Pas to Port Nelson and that the track had been laid to Mile 332. The estimated cost of completing the track laying to Port Nelson, Mile 424, was $1,750,000. The total estimated cost, including bridges, trestles, culvert, telegraph lines, section houses and water stations, etc., was $4,000,000, which included the amount already mentioned for track-laying.

The letter said that on many branch lines in the three prairie provinces grading had been finished but the tracks had not been laid and the government was being urged to complete the work, which would involve a very large expenditure of money.

THREE MEN MEET DEATH SOUTHWEST OF CAPE COD WHEN ACUSHNET SINKS

Woods Hole, Mass., March 16. — News of the death of three Nova Scotia seamen was brought here Monday by the coast guard cutter Acushnet, which rescued two of the crew of six of the schooner Isaih K. Stetson, which was wrecked off Half Moon Shoal, Southwest of Cape Cod in Nantucket Sound, Saturday night. The schooner was bound for Lunenburg, N.S., with a cargo of coal. The Nova Scotians who were lost were N. McKay, the mate; Manford Nickerson, seaman, of Yarmouth, and Emden Ellis, seamen, of Digby.

The survivors are Captain William Reiker and Seaman Joseph C. Watkins, of New York. They had been lashed to the rigging of their ship for fourteen hours. She sank just after they had been taken off. The men who lost their lives were washed away by the heavy waves.

BUSY WOMEN OF FORREST

A splendid work has been accomplished during the Winter months by the women of Forrest and district who are members of the local there of the United Farm Women of Manitoba. Each Saturday night they served lunch in the Skating rink and in this way made thirty-nine dollars. Part of this amount was donated to the Forrest Curling Club for prizes and the balance was sent in to the Central Office of the U.F.W.M. where it will be placed in the reserve fund. Next Friday night, March 19th, the women have promised their assistance in helping to make probably the last skating carnival of the season a success. They are providing some of the prizes for this event and competition by the young people of the district for the war ads is expected to be very keen.

OBITUARY

Alfred Whitall

The death occurred at Douglas on Wednesday of Mr. Alfred Whitall, aged twenty-nine years, who was formerly a farmer about two and a half miles North of the town. He was only sick a short time with influenza.

Mrs. Mary Majeski

This morning the remains of the late Mrs. Mary Majeski, beloved wife of Mr. Charles Majeski, 206 Twelfth street, North, were laid to rest in Brandon cemetery, following a short service in St. Augustine's Church. The deceased was forty years of age and succumbed to pneumonia.

Miss Violet Mable King

The death occurred in the city Saturday morning of Miss Violet Mable King, aged forty years. The late Miss King had been on the staff of the Indian Industrial School for the past four months. The remains were shipped East on Sunday and were accompanied by a brother of the deceased, Mr. W. S. King, of Winnipeg.

F. E. C. Shore

Saturday afternoon the remains of the late Mr. C. E. F. Shore, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Shore of Alexander, were laid to rest in Alexander cemetery, following a short service in the church which was conducted by Rev. A. Birch. The members of the Canadian Order of Foresters attened the service as well as many friends of the family. The floral tributes were particularly beautiful and testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held.

Harry Baker

After an illness of four years' duration Mr. Harry Baker, formerly of this city, passed away this morning at Ninette Sanatorium at the age of twenty-eight years. The late Mr. Baker was well known here being for some time a member of the staff of the International Harvester Company. He was also a member in pre-war days, of the Ninety-ninth Band. The late Mr. Baker is survived by a wife and three children all of whom reside in Brandon.

Edward J. Yeowell

After a short illness from influenza, Mr. Edward J. Yeowell passed away in this city on Wednesday, at the age of twenty-eight years. The late Mr. Yeowell came to Canada from England a number of years ago and up to three months ago was cashier for the Canadian General Electric Company, Winnipeg. Early in the year he came to Brandon and had been acting as accountant for Adolph & Blake since his arrival in the city. The deceased was a Roman Catholic and a member of the Knights of Columbus.

F. E. C. Shore

One of the best known young men of the Alexander district passed away this morning following a short illness from influenza, in the person of Mr. F. E. C. Shore, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Shore of that place. The late Mr. Shore, who was thirty-two years of age, was in Brandon last week showing thoroughbred stock at the Winter Fair and became ill with the disease to which he finally succumbed. The deceased came to Alexander from Ontario with his parents about 1892 and was one of the most popular young men of the district and well known as a farmer throughout Manitoba. Besides his parents, one sister, Mrs. L. Bray, of Alexander, is left to mourn his loss.

Thomas Magill

One of the most respected of the old-timers of Brandon district passed away Thursday night at the family residence 749 Eighth street, in the person of Mr. Thomas Magill aged seventy-eight years and six months. The late Mr. Magill was born in County Down, Ireland, and came to this country when just a boy. He homesteaded in 1881 South of the city and later moved to the Chater district where he farmed for a number of years. In 1907 he retired and came to Brandon to reside. The late Mr. Magill is survived by his wife, three daughters, Mrs. Jos. Black, North Brandon; Mrs. Hudson, Winnipeg, and Miss Emma Magill at home, and two sons Messrs. George and William, who reside in the Chater district.

Miss Mary Reid

There passed away at Ninette Sunday morning, Miss Mary Reid, formerly of Brandon. For nearly four years the late Miss Reid was an esteemed member of the staff of the Brandon Normal School. Her ability, enthusiasm and unselfish devotion to her work endeared her to the many students who came under her tuition. Miss Reid had a strong personality and students could not come in contact with her without being influenced for good.

In addition to her very efficient work as a teacher, the late Miss Reid rendered valuable patriotic service during the war. Much of the credit for the successful work of the Normal School students along these lines, was due to Miss Reid's capable guidance and direction. She was a member of St. Matthew's Church and a faithful worker in the Girl's Auxiliary. The late Miss Reid's nearest relative is Mr. A. P. Van Koughnet, of Winnipeg.

CREDITABLE RECORD BY MANITOBA PENS EGG-LAYING CONTEST

At End of 19th Week Two Pens of White Wyandottes Are Leading

TOTAL PRODUCTION

By the Twenty Pens, Manitoba Stands Third—Heaviest Laying Hens

On November 1st a Dominion wide egg laying contest was commenced on the Dominion Government Experimental Farms. The purpose of this contest is to test the egg producing qualities of the many different breeds, and the different strains of the various breeds under uniform conditions of housing, feeding and care. Also it is desired to establish an official "Record of Performance" for laying hens. The contest will last fifty-two weeks and any bird that lays 150 eggs in the fifty-two weeks will be eligible for registration in the "Record of Performance," and any bird that lays 225 eggs in the fifty-two weeks will be eligible for registration in the "Advanced Record of Performance." No hen that lays eggs that average less than 25 oz. to the dozen during the month of April will be eligible for registration.

A pen consists of ten hens and 163 pens have been entered and are now under test at the Dominion Experimental Farms in Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia, Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. There are twenty pens in the contest at the Brandon Experimental Farm.

The end of the 19th week of the contest finds some of the Manitoba pens with very creditable records. In total number of eggs per pen laid during 19 weeks, the White Wyandotte pens of Mr. Thos. Lund, Stonewall, and Mr. G. J. Thompson, Minnedosa, with 551 eggs each are tied for second place among the 163 pens entered. A pen of Single Comb Anconas, owned by Mr. W. H. Howe, Winnipeg, holds sixth place. This pen suffered more from the extreme cold than did the Barred Rocks or White Wyandottes, but recently they have for two weeks in succession made the highest records for the Dominion with two totals of fifty eggs for a pen in one week.

In total production from 20 pens for the 19 weeks, Manitoba stands third, with Ontario and Nova Scotia leading.

The most remarkable showing of the Manitoba contestants is in records of individual hens. Mr. Thompson's hens Nos. 68 and 70 with totals of 90 and 93 eggs are the two heaviest laying hens among the 1630 hens in the contest. Hen No. 68 during the 98 days of an extremely cold Winter, December 5th to March 12th, missed laying on only 14 days. The third highest hen in the contest is a Barred Rock at Ottawa, with a total of 86 eggs at the end of 19 weeks. Mr. Lund's hen No. 78 with 80 eggs also holds a good record.

RECREATION FOR BRANDON BOYS

Committees Named To Tackle Immediate Problems and Report Friday Night

A number of citizens attended the special meeting held in the Council Chamber of the City Hall Monday afternoon for the purpose of discussing the provision of recreation for children of the city. Particular consideration was given to the "teen" age boys and the discussion which took place included the consideration of playgrounds, swimming pools, night classes and other facilities for boys development. Rev. J. George Miller was chairman of the meeting.

It was finally decided to form an association to make provision for the general recreation and advantage of the "teen" age boys and to appoint a committee of fifteen, composed of two representatives of each ward in the city.

The following were nominated as a temporary committee to commence immediate operations. Commandant Howell, Messrs. Alfred White, W. S. Maguire, Alderman J. A. Grantham, Rev. H. G. Salton, P. M. Ames, W. S. Harris and W. A. Robertson.

Messrs. P. M. Ames, W. S. Harris and W. A. Robertson were appointed to interview the School Board to request their co-operation in this work, and also if necessary the city council.

Mr. W. S. Maguire, Rev. H. G. Salton and Commandant Howell, were appointed a committee to recommend suitable recreation grounds for the boys.

A general meeting for permanent organization will be held Friday Mar. 26th at 7.30 p.m. in the City Hall.

WINNIPEG TO HAVE TEN SEATS IN THE PROVINCIAL HOUSE

Winnipeg, March 23.—The electoral division of Winnipeg will be represented in the Legislative assembly of Manitoba by 10 members according to the bill amending the Manitoba Election act, which was distributed in the legislature Monday.

The present divisions of the city into North, Centre and South, constituencies is abolished and entire city treated as one electoral unit. The election of members shall be it is provided, according to the principles of proportional Representation, the system adopted being the single transferable vote.

An elector in giving his vote shall place on his ballot paper the figure "1" in the square opposite the name of the candidate of his first choice. He may in addition if he wishes to express also a second, third or other choices place on his ballot paper the figure "2" opposite the name of his second choice, the figure "3" opposite the name of his third choice and so on in the order of his preference. He may thus express as many choices as there are candidates.

A ballot paper shall be invalid in which the figure "1" is not marked; or the figure "1" is set opposite the name of more than one candidate; or the figure "1" and some other figure is set opposite the name of the same candidate; or an "x" or any mark, contrary to the provisions of the act, is made.

When a person claiming to be a naturalized British subject applies for registration he shall produce a certificate of such naturalization or a duly certified copy thereof and such production shall be prima facie evidence that

U S SENATORS CONSIDER WHAT IS TO BE DONE NOW

Washington, March 23.—In the absence of any authoritative prediction of what President Wilson would do with the unratified treaty with Germany, the impression gained weight in diplomatic circles Monday that the first step probably would be a notification to the other powers that ratification had been refused by the Senate.

Diplomats holding that view pointed out that such a notification could be given to clarify the status of relations between the United tates and the other powers, regardless of what decision they might make later on the question of the treaty's re-submission to the Senate or negotiation of a separate peace.

In some quarters it was predicted that Mr. Wilson might, however, combine a notification of the treaty's failure with an announcement of his future purpose in the matter, in order that the nations that have ratified may be advised of what course they can expect developments here to take.

Senate leaders are understood to have been influenced in part by such a possibility in their decision to delay on the Peace Treaty, waiting to see what the President will do before they take any further steps. Monday there was some discussion of the peace declaration proposal in informal conference among Senators, but it was predicted that it would not come up on the floor for two weeks more.

Bill Proposing Peace

A bill proposing a separate peace between the United States and Germany and Austria for the purpose of peaceful commerce was introduced by Representative Britten, Republican, Illinois. Creation of European trade council to promote trade with Europe generally also was proposed Washington, March 23. — Government control over maximum prices of bituminous coal was withdrawn today by President Wilson to be effective April 1st.

MAN AND WOMAN KILLED IN A DUBLIN RIOT

One Report States That Soldiers Were Attacked When Leaving Theatre

REVOLVER SHOT

Fired By Soldier in Self Defence Signal For Promiscuous Shooting

London, March 23. — Reports from Dublin dealing with the riot there last night differ in detail from the first statement. One report says the soldiers were leaving the theatre when they were attacked by the crowd. A soldier fired a revolver in self-defence, whereupon the shooting became general and a man and a woman were killed.

Latest advices say that there is considerable excitement in Dublin.

STRONG NATION IN CENTRAL AMERICA

Five Small Nations May Unite To Form One Strong Republic

Washington, March 23. — Agitation for the re-union of the Central American republics into one great nation has been revived in Guatemala, according to advices reaching Washington Monday, the result being that a tense political situation has developed.

President Cabrera, of Guatemala, has been an active opponent of the unionist idea. The report stated that the prisons were filled with political offenders but the popular clamor continued.

Demanding the adoption by the Guatemala National Assembly of a resolution calling a congress of all central American nations on April 1st, the Unionist party has issued a manifesto declaring that the time has come to end the internecine warfare that has prevailed in Central America since the Central American union was dissolved in 1821; that the political disintegration should disappear and the people should re-establish a new, free and independent Central American union worthy to stand by the side of the greatest nations of the world.

Salvador and Honduras have been contending for such a union for years, Costa Rica is favorable to it, but Nicaragua is opposed to the project.

C.N.R. SHORT TERM NOTES TO BE SOLD IN NEW YORK

New York, March 23.—A local financial house is forming a syndicate to underwrite and offer to the New York public $12,000,000 Canadian Northern Railway three and five year notes. The Dominion of Canada unconditionally guarantees by endorsement, the principal and interest of the notes.

★ RADICALS HAVE STRONG HOLD ON INDUSTRIAL DISTRICTS IN GERMANY ★

Copenhagen, March 23. — The whole Western industrial district of Germany is held solidly by radicals and a disaster is inevitable if government troops try to interfere there.

ITALIAN PREMIER SAYS FAMINE IS A REAL THREAT

In European Countries Where Numbers of Workers Hardly Produce Anything

Rome, March 23.—Premier Nitti outlining to the Chamber of Deputies Monday the policy of the new cabinet, declared that all the European countries were facing an extremely difficult situation and were threatened with famine unless peace should quickly be restored.

The premier said that more than 300,000,000 workers do not have the necessaries of life. Russia, which should furnish raw material, and Germany, with its great number of workmen, were producing hardly anything. Europe, according to Signor Nitti, could only recover its balance by recognized Russia and Germany, and the nations must unite in sympathy and clemency for the vanquished.

The political and economic disorder would only disappear when Europe had become imbued with the spirit of peace, the Premier continued, and Italy would work to this end, feeling that the interests of Europe, threatened with ruin, should be put above hatred and divisions.

PROPOSED DATES FOR BALLOTING FOR FINE LANDS

Open To Purchase By Soldier Settlers, Are Near End of April

Ottawa, March 23.—The proposed dates of ballotting for the purchase by soldier settlers of Indian reserves, Doukhobor and Hudson's Bay lands in Alberta and Saskatchewan are as follows

April 15—10,000 acres, Doukhobor lands at Kamsack, Sask.; 17,000 acres Hudson's Bay lands at Calgary, Alta.; 16,000 acres (approximately), Pope lease at Calgary, Alta.

April 20—8,000 acres, Poorman's reserve at Saskatoon, Sask.

April 30—27,000 acres, Hudson's Bay at various points in the prairie provinces.

The opening of the other two Indian reserves will be announced later. They are: Big River, 960 acres Northwest of Prince Albert; Mistawasis, 16,548 acres Northwest of Prince Albert.

THE SUN'S MAGNIFICENT PRIZE COMPETITION

This Unique Profit-sharing Proposition Is Certainly Worthy of Your Consideration

In Monday's edition of The Sun we made the announcement of a huge circulation campaign to be conducted on this paper. The opening date will be announced within the course of the next few days, together with a complete list of the prizes to be given. Arrangements are being made at the present time for a very elaborate list of awards and our readers may rest assured that the competition will be up to the usual Sun standard in every detail.

The first two prizes in the competition will be expensive touring cars of well-known and reliable manufacture; the third prize will be a player piano of a no less popular make, following which will be pianos, gramophones, cutlery, jewelry, etc., making in all a very attractive list. The ten per cent. commission offer, which will be explained in detail later, is an added feature which assures to every energetic competitor ample reward for his or her efforts.

The Plan of Campaign

Points will be the deciding factors in the winning of the prizes. To the competitor with the most points at the close of the campaign will be given the first prize touring car; to the competitor with the second highest number of points, the second prize touring car will be awarded, etc. The idea then is to secure the points. These will be given according to a schedule which will be published showing the number of points given for each subscription either to the Daily or Weekly Sun.

Early Start Half the Battle

No competitor need wait for further details before beginning his work. The first in the field has a decided advantage and in the absence of a regular receipt book, the names of subscribers may be listed on an ordinary sheet of paper. Make a thorough canvass of your own territory at once before another, as ambitious as yourself, steps into the field. A list of subscribers will be sent you on request whose subscriptions you can renew; points are given for the renewing of old subscriptions as well as for those of new subscribers and the collection of arrearages.

If you possess ambition and determination this offers a wonderful opportunity. Grasp it.

AURORA PLAYS HAVOC WITH THE TELEGRAPH WIRES

New York, March 23.—Aurora borealis danced all over the sky Monday night and put telegraph wires out of commission from the Atlantic seaboard to the Far West.

The wire chief at Western Union headquarters reported the company had no instruments strong enough to measure the voltage in the electrical currents which swept across the heavens.

The interruptions in telegraph service came early in the evening, and a complete tie-up came after nine o'clock. At 10 o'clock the Western Union reported it was beginning to recover some of its circuits, but a realignment or balancing was necessary.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company, which reported its telegraph service completely demoralized, said the Northern lights had not interrupted its long distance telephone service. Cable terminals were hard hit.

Starting early Monday morning, all telegraph wires in Canada were tied up, and throughout the day and night but small dribbles of news leaked through to the West.

MONTREAL FUR SALE A SUCCESS THE FIRST DAY

Montreal, March 23.—At the close of the first day of the fur sale yesterday, $614,712 worth of furs had been disposed of.

LENINE ASPIRES TO HEAD GREAT COMMUNISTIC STATE

Said To Be Seriously Endeavoring To Bring Order Throughout Russia

Warsaw, March 23.—A report submitted to the American and British authorities in Warsaw says that Nikolai Lenine, the Bolshevik premier, has personal aspirations soon to become the head of a continental communistic state, and that owing to these hopes is seriously endeavoring to bring order throughout Russia, establish peace with Poland and eventually create credits abroad for Russia.

(The expression "continental communistic state" as used in this dispatch does not indicate clearly whether a continent-wide state in Europe or one less in scope is meant.)

The report describes Russia as being without wheat or flax for export, saying the peasants have disposed of all the stocks they had hidden from the Bolshevik. The mills are not operating and the peasants are spinning only enough for their clothing, raising just enough flax for their own uses.

The report says that even if stocks for export existed shipment of them would be impossible because of the lack of rail and water transportation.

Would Resume Relations

Paris, March 23. — The Russian Soviet Government has proposed to Italy that relations between the two countries be resumed immediately, according to a dispatch to The Temps from Reval.

WOMEN CHARGE VIGOROUS LOBBY IN NEW YORK

Albany, N.Y., March 23.—Charges that a "powerful and perilous influence," is exerted over public opinion in the state by a "well financed and active combination," backed by the Associated Manufacturers and Merchants and aided by Speaker Thaddeus C. Sweet, of the assembly are contained in a report filed with Governor Smith Monday by the New York State League of Women Voters, through its executive counsel and the chairman, Mrs. Frank A. Vanderlip.

The report declares that this combination, under the direction of Mark A. Daley, of Buffalo, secretary and legislative agent of the Associated Manufacturers and Merchants, is interfering with open and orderly legislative action on important matters.

3 MILLION ACRES, IN MANITOBA TO BE SOWN IN WHEAT

Winhipeg, March 23.—The provincial department of agriculture officials estimate that three million acres of Manitoba land will be seeded to wheat this Spring, this figure being a slight increase over last year.

FEW AMERICANS USE TOOTH BRUSH DENTISTS DECLARE

At Annual Convention of Illinois State Dental Society In Chicago

Chicago, March 23.—Statistics made public Monday at the annual convention of the Ilinois State Dental Society indicated that only fifteen per cent. of the people of America used a tooth brush and that not more than twenty per cent. of the inhabitants took any care of their teeth.

A speaker said that ninety-five per cent. of the school children of Chicago had cavities in their teeth and that if every dentist in Chicago were to devote his entire time to filling these cavities it would require six months.

TOURIST TRIPS TO THE ARCTIC TO BE MADE THIS SUMMER

Vancouver, B.C., March 22.—Tourist trips to the Arctic, going by way of the North Pacific and returning via the Mackenzie river, Great Slave Lake and Edmonton, will be inaugurated this Summer according to an announcement made here by W. Lloyd Owen, representative of the Lampson and Hubbard Canadian Company, of Boston, who has just returned from a visit to the Peace River country.

As a result of arrangements made by Mr. Owen, a steamship service will be inaugurated connecting the Arctic circle with the more settled regions of the Canadian Northwest. The Lampson and Hubbard iterests, which succeeded the Peace River Trading Company, will operate large, moder steamers along the Athabasca, Slave and Mackenzie Rivers to Fort Yukon, where passengers will be transferred to the White Pass and Yukon Company's boats. The journey from Vancouver to Fort Yukon could be accomplished in three weeks and would cover a distance of some three thousand miles.

A portage of seventy miles between Chipierre House on the Athabasca river and Fort McPherson, near the mouth of the Mackenzie, will have to be made to allow the return journey by way of the Peace river to be accomplished. The company, according to Mr. Owen, purposes erecting this Summer a series of cabins twelve miles apart. Hunting and fishing, together with the wild scenery of the Northland, will attract many tourists, Mr. Owen declares.

Traffic on the Peace river has increased to such an extent that a third steamer, the Hudson's Hope, will have to be put in commission this year. It will ply between the towns of Hudson's Hope and Peace River.

FORMER MEMBERS CHUMS BATTALION TO HOLD REUNION

There will be well over 400 ex-members of the 181st Battalion here on Friday for the first re-union of this battalion. With acceptances of invitations pouring in each day to the Secretary, the re-union promises to be a great success, as ex-members from all over Canada have signified their intention of being present to meet their pals on Friday. The final arrangements for the reception of the visitors have been made and the decorations for the City Hall will be put up on Wednesday. Although the former 181st Battalion members will be in the city all day, the real re-union will take place in the evening when a dance, supper and social evening will be held in the City Hall.

MUCH FIGHTING STILL CONTINUES IN GERMANY

Central German Government Lacks Power To Restore Normal Conditions Westphalia

Berlin, March 23.—Heavy fighting between regular troops and insurgents occurred yesterday North of Shandau. Strong bands equipped with machine guns, which plundered the village of Boetzow met the regulars. After a heavy battle they were forced to retire leaving fourteen dead and many wounded.

Admission was made today that the central German government lacks the power to restore normal conditions in West Phalia, where fighting continues and where but a small portion of the miners have returned to work.

IVENS DENIES PREACHING THE DOCTRINE OF HATE

Declares He Preached Brotherhood Based on Equity and Justice

CONCLUDES ADDRESS

In the Trial of the Seven Strike Leaders—Overcome With Emotion

Winnipeg, March 23—Declaring that his fate but not his destiny were in the hands of the jury, and making an impassioned appeal for a verdict of not guilty, William Ivens brought his address, in the trial of the seven strike leaders, to a close Monday night a few minutes before 10 o'clock.

The address was commenced Thursday afternoon, continued all Friday, and resumed Monday afternoon, the intervening time being taken up by E. J. McMurray, counsel for George Armstrong, in consequence of Ivens having to leave the courtroom through throat trouble.

At the night session, Ivens broke down. While making a reference to the hardship which his family would suffer if he were sent to prison, he was overcome by emotion, but kept on, his voice shaking and tears rolling down his cheeks.

Getting control of himself again, he declared that although imprisonment might cause his family hardship, he would accept it, knowing that he was innocent of preaching sedition, of engaging in a seditious conspiracy, or of entering into an illegal strike. "All I would ask," he exclaimed, "is that my ideals will be taken up outside and that my wife and bairns will be looked after."

In a peroration delivered with vigorous eloquence, Ivens asserted that the Crown's contention that he had preached the doctrine of hate was not true. "I preached brotherhood, based on equity and justice," he said. "I believe a better system of society is possible. We ought to try to evolve it, and it will never come unless some man or woman will dare and will do in order that it may be established."

Ivens took the opportunity to reply to the criticism of the Labor church by A. J. Andrews, K.C., senior counsel for the crown. No criticism of Mr. Andrews should turn us the attitude, if it were of God. If it were not of God it would not prosper. He left it at that, after stating that he believed it was a real Christian church and making the prediction that there would be Labor churches throughout the country at no distant date.

Pritchard Making Address

Winnipeg, March 23. — Ridiculing what he called the attempt of the crown to establish their case and upholding the actions of the Socialistic party in Canada, W. A. Pritchard, one of the accused, commenced his address to the jury at the trial of the seven strike leaders today. Pritchard stated that the crown had attempted to revive prosecution common centuries ago, and were one hundred years behind the times in their theories and ideals of economic principles. He interspersed his address with parables and stories and launched into eloquent denunciations of the trial. Pritchard is expected to continue his address until the Friday session of the court. R. A. Bonnar, K.C., the last of the defence to speak, will then address the jury.

VETERANS DIFFER AS TO WHO SHOULD BE ABLE TO VOTE

Contentious Clause Temporarily Withdrawn From Declaration of Principles

Montreal, March 23.—The first disagreement in the Great War Veterans' association convention, in session here, occurred yesterday when the executive sought to introduce its declaration of principles of organization. This declaration contained a clause which proposed to extend the franchise, among other classes to "all persons of foreign birth of like age, who have properly declared their desire for citizenship and who after due probation have been naturalized and have assumed the full responsibility of Canadian citizenship." After a lengthy discussion the clause was withdrawn temporarily.

MANUFACTURERS TO MEET

A meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association will be held here on Friday night in the Prince Edward Hotel at eight o'clock. A meeting was called for Monday but as many of the members were unable to be present it was postponed until Friday. At present there are about fifteen manufacturers in Brandon affiliated with the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

CHARITY BUDGET PLAN WORKS WELL IN MANY CITIES

Experience In Cities Where It Has Been Tried Seem To Be Favorable

OBJECTIONS NOT SUSTAINED

Duluth Commercial Club Issues Digests of Reports From Other Cities

Duluth, March 17. — The charities committee of the Commercial Club is sending out to those interested in local charitable institutions and causes, either as officers, managers or contributors, copies of a digest of reports received from a number of other cities where the charity budget plan has worked out successfully.

The questions asked these various organizations were designed to express possible objections to the plan and to bring out the experience of other communities on these points.

While the charities committee is still investigating the subject and consulting with those interested either as officers of local charitable institutions or as contributors, the results of the investigations thus far are so favorable that it is altogether likely that the plan will be approved for adaptation to fit Duluth's needs.

The first inquiry in the questionnaire, as to how long the plan has been in operation, showed that in one form or another it has been operating from two to six years, and in the case of Denver, since 1888.

Objections Not Sustained

The second question, "What were the principal objections raised to the plan when first proposed," brought such answers as the following:

Kansas City—No objections.

Louisville—That it might destroy the initiative of charitable institutions and organizations and might not raise the money needed. Neither has been sustained in practice.

Erie—Many agencies thought their initiative and independence would be taken away. Erie's answer to another question shows that this did not happen.

South Bend—Principally that the popular organizations would carry the less popular, but we soon overrode that.

Cincinnati—(a) Loss of identity of the individual agencies and the breaking of contact between the giver and the agency to which he gives.

Detroit—The individual interest of givers would be lessened.

Springfield—That it might encourage extravagance and might reduce personal interest.

Cleveland—Interference with individual liberty of agencies and loss of personal contact.

Minneapolis—Elimination of public interest by labor, educational value, religious prejudice.

Answers to other questions show that in no case were these objections—virtually all of which, it will be noticed, came from the managers of the institutions—realized in practice.

Interest Not Lessened

Question No. 9, for instance, "has the organization of the federation had the effect of lessening interest on the part of the public or that of the former supporters of these societies in the work of the societies, or any of them?" brought out these answers.

Kansas City—No. In one or two cases where the work of a small organization depends largely on the interest of its members the committee has recommended that it do not participate in the fund.

Milwaukee—It has increased the interest very decidedly.

Louisville—It has greatly increased the interest of the public because of a continuous educating policy.

Detroit—Increases interest on the part of the public.

Erie—No.

South Bend—No; stimulated city-wide interest and increased the size of subscriptions.

Oshkosh—Apparently not.

Cincinnati—Decidedly not.

Decatur—Interest of public increased.

Grand Rapids—Believe that interest has been increased.

Springfield—Increased public interest.

Cleveland—Increased public interest and supporters of individual societies.

Minneapolis—Increased public interest.

Answers to question No. 4, "How many societies originally composed the federation and how many at this date?" show generally that the tendency is for institutions that do not join at first to come in later. Kansas City increased from 24 to 32; Detroit from 42 to 57; Cincinnati from 12 to 80; Denver from 18 to 23; Cleveland from 55 to 75, etc.

More Money Raised

Question No. 5, "How much was the total budget of these societies before the federation and how much is it now for the same societies?' shows that more money is raised on this plan than on the old. For instance: Milwaukee, $190,000 to $27,000; Detroit, $50,000 to $1,500,000; Louisville, $135,000 to $208,000; Cincinnati, $500,000 to $1,400,000; Springfield $75,000-$100,000 to $125,000; Grand Rapids, $70,000 to $237,000; Cleveland, $1,000,000 to $2,461,000; Minneapolis, $500,000 to $625,000.

Question No. 6, shows that almost invariably a relatively small number of supporters was greatly increased by enlisting city-wide public interest; for instance: Milwaukee, originally 3,000, now 6,000; Louisville, 3,400 to 12,428;; Detroit, 8,000 to 90,000; South Bend, 600 to 7,500; Cincinnati, 4,000 to 12,000, and then, through "war chest" drive to 125,000; Springfield, 500 to 5,000; Cleveland 4,800 to 150,000; Minneapolis, 3,000-5,000, now 30,000.

It is estimated that much less than 500 persons now support all of Duluth's charities, and that the federation plan would easily increase this ten or twenty times.

Questions 7 and 8 show that the percentage of cost of collection and administration of charitable funds is greatly reduced by the budget plan. The present cost of collection is shown to be from 2 to 5 per cent., and the cost under the old plan from 7 to 20 per cent. or more.

Standard of Work Improved

Question No. 10 touches a point of great interest to the friends of particular institutions: "To what extent has the standard of work in each of the important affiliated organizations been raised or lowered by federation?" Here are some of the answers:

Milwaukee—Standards have been improved. Exchange of ideas and methods valuable.

Louisville — Tremendously increased.

Detroit—Standards of work have been materially improved.

Erie—Has secured a greater uniformity in the conduct of business and increased the efficiency and raised the standards of work in the various organizations.

Oshkosh—Since federation it has been possible to devote more time toward constructive work instead of raising funds.

Cincinnati—Raised to a very great extent. Every society in our budget is doing a very much larger piece of work in a more efficient and successful way.

SISTER PROVINCE TO HAVE CANDLED EGGS AFTER JUNE 1

Regina, Sask., March 17.—After the first day of June, 1920, in accordance with the new Egg Marketing Act, every dealer in eggs in Saskatchewan, either wholesale or retail, who purchases eggs directly from producers, must be licensed, and after that date no eggs may be purchased by such dealers until they have been candled and all eggs unfit for human food rejected.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT SELLS NEW ZEALAND MUTTON IN NEW YORK

New York, March 18.—According to the Globe the British Government is now offering New Zealand and Australian sheep in New York at 12 3-4 cents a pound wholesale against the prevailing wholesale price of 24 cents, and is taking orders for lamb at 16 1-2 cents a pound wholesale, as compared with 30 cents a pound, the prevailing wholesale price.

This is made feasible by the fact that the five-year contracts which this British Government has held with the ministry of Australia and New Zealand are now expiring, and these countries will be free to divert their sheep and lambs to any part of the world without restriction. The Globe forecasts extremely low retail figures as a result.

SUNKEN TREASURE WORTH $50,000,000 SALVAGED FROM SEA

New Device Cuts Holes in Vessels Submerged Around British Isles

London, March 18—Sunken treasure worth £50,000,000 has been raised, since the war began, around the British Isles.

The Restorer and the Reliant, two salving vessels that were bought by a British concern from the United States navy, have a new device, an oxytalene flame which is worked under water, for cutting holes in the sides of submerged vessels.

Each ship has 25 electric pumps, capable of pumping 1,000,000 gallons of water an hour and carries two divers, searchlights, line throwing guns, electric welding plants, rock drills and other accessories. Each diver is equipped with a telephone.

The Restorer last year recovered £1,000,000 in gold from the Laurentic off Lough Swilly and both vessels are now operating off New Haven on the Channel coast.

VIRDEN PAYS LAST RESPECTS TO AGED VETERAN

Sergt. Patrick Noon, Spent 21 Years in Army—Through Indian Mutiny

Virden, Man., March 17.—Virden and district has paid its last tribute to the venerable patriot, Sergt. Patrick Noon born at Mount Bellah, County Galway, Ireland, March 17, 1827, a veteran of the Imperial army in the early Victorian days. He enlisted in the 61st regiment in the year 1847, and followed the fortunes of his regiment for 21 years going through the whole of the Indian Mutiny, and being present at the siege and capture of Delhi. Sergt. Noon came to Canada in 1871, and spent 11 years in Ontario, coming to Virden in 1882.

HOMESTEADER DISCOVERS UNDERGROUND RIVER WHEN DIGGING WELL ON FARM

Winnipeg, March 18.—While digging for a well last week, D. F. McKee, a homesteader in the Whitemouth district, a short distance Southeast of Winnipeg, forced his pick through the earth into a subterranean channel. The water gushed through the opening with great force, completely submerging him, according to information reaching the city. It is quite probable that Mr. McKee would have been drowned if he had not been able to catch a rope close at hand, with which he was hauled out of danger.

This exciting incident happened at a depth of 23 feet. A report received by the Resources Department of the C. N. R. here suggests that the underground stream in which Mr. McKee was nearly trapped is an ancient river, which connects with the Lake of the Woods by unknown channels far below the earth's surface. The fact that there are many freely running springs in the district is held to support this theory.

RETURNED SOLDIER WANTS WIFE BACK: DIVORCE ANNULLED

Filed Suit For Divorce and Also Sued Bydalek For $10,000

Ottawa, Ill., March 18.—Peter Jos. Van Graen, who was wounded while serving with the Canadian army in France, upon returning and finding his wife had divorced him and married John Bydalek, of La Salle, filed suit to annul the divorce and also sued Bydalek for $10,000 for alienating his wife's affections.

HOUSEWIVES URGED TO GET NECESSARY SUPPLY OF SUGAR

Ottawa, March 18 —Housewives of Canada are urged to begin now laying in a supply of sugar for the canning season, buying a few pounds extra each week from now on, until they have sufficient set aside to cover their canning requirements.

Control over import and export licenses for sugar has been vested in the Canadian Trade Commission, which body will grant no export licenses while there is a demand in Canada for sugar. However, there is no likelihood of a reduction in prices, and it is pointed out that because of increased population, higher wages and prohibition, the consumption of sugar has increased twenty per cent.

In regard to prohibition it is stated that many people are taking to sweets as stimulants, where they formerly consumed liquor. It is pointed out also that Canadian refiners could secure at the present time an average of $1.35 per hundred more by exporting their sugar to the United States market than they can get in Canada, but despite this they will not be allowed to export while there is a demand here.

BRITISH STEAMER GOES ASHORE NEAR CAPE PINE OFF COAST NEWFOUNDLAND

Halifax, March 18. — The British steamer Tewkesbury, 2,740 tons, Eastward bound from Hampton Roads, went ashore at 2.30 o'clock Wednesday morning, four miles Northwest of Cape Pine, Newfoundland, according to information reaching the naval department here.

Further advices stated that the ship began to break up shortly after striking and that the crew of approximately thirty men seized their one opportunity and took to the boats in an endeavor to find shelter at the base of the 200-foot cliffs which line the Newfoundland coast at this point.

Disaster, overtook the ship with such suddenness that it was impossible to render assistance and it will be some hours, it is believed, before help arrives on the scene.

PROVINCE ONTARIO GOT $12,000,000

Toronto, March 18.—In financial circles, gossip has it that the Province of Ontario has borrowed $18,000,000 in the States during the last three months, and that the Chicago syndicate that took over the last Ontario bond issue of $5,000,000 made six points, or $300,000. Toronto gossip in bond circles, puts the profit at five points. Both stories are denied.

"I do not know what profit the Chicago syndicate made," said the Hon. Peter Smith, the Provincial Treasurer. "We invited tenders from a number of firms, and four of them replied that they did not want Ontario bonds at this stage. Then we got an offer from the Aemelius Jarvis Company, and believe we did very well in getting 100.65 for every hundred dollars of bonds.

"It is not true that we have borrowed $18,000,000. We did get $12,000,000. Nine million dollars had to be found to pay off maturing loans, and $6,000,000 had to be secured for the Hydro, $1,000,000 of which probably will be paid over to the Hydro when I see Sir Adam Beck. This total of $15,000,000 was made available by the loan, the turning into consolidated revenue of four and a half million dollars received from the Dominion Government for housing, and from ordinary revenue."

ANOTHER MURDER MARKS LABOR WAR IN CHICAGO

Joe Hurley Found Dead on Street In South Side "Bad Lands"

Chicago, March 18.—Chicago's labor war, dormant since the murder of Maurice "Mossy" Enright, on February 3rd, broke out again Wednesday with the finding of the body of Joe Hurley, labor leader and Enright's lieutenant, lying in the street in the South Side "bad lands."

Harley had been shot in the back, dying instantly.

A trail of blood led from the body to a nearby saloon, noted as a gathering place for labor leaders. The proprietor of this place is held by the police.

Hurley was a pal of "Sonny" Dunn, brother-in-law of Enright, who recently forfeited his bonds in a grand larceny case and disappeared.

KIPLING'S CHECKS GOOD AUTOGRAPHS

How Bank Balance of Author Practically Remains the Same

At one time Rudyard Kipling always paid his bills, no matter how small they happened to be, with checks. After a while he discovered to his amazement that his bank account showed a much larger balance than the stubs of his checkbook warranted. In fact, while he was drawing checks for small amounts almost daily, his money in the bank did not seem to dwindle in the least.

For a long time he was at a loss to account for this astonishing fact until he happened one day to visit an office, the occupant of which was an enthusiastic autograph collector. There the author saw one of his own checks, framed and hanging on the wall.

Thus the mystery was solved. It appeared that the local shopkeepers found that they could often get more for Kipling's checks by selling them to autograph hunters than they could by cashing them at the bank, and so, although the author kept on drawing checks, his bank balance remained almost intact.

HUNDREDS WOUNDED 700 KILLED IN GERMAN REVOLUTION

Kiel Has Largest Number Fatalities—Berlin Next and Dresden Third

London, March 18.—Nearly 700 persons have been kilned and hundreds wounded in fighting resulting from the German counter-revolution since Saturday, according to compilations Wednesday. Unofficial dispatches revealed the casualties distributed as follows:

Kiel—400 to 500 killed, many wounded.

Berlin—60 killed, large number wounded.

Dresden—59 killed, several hundred wounded.

Essen—30 killed, 80 wounded.

Frankfort—20 killed, 200 wounded.

Duisburg—14 killed, 80 wounded.

Leipzig—9 killed.

Hanover—Some killed.

Breslau, Hamburg, Weimar and Gorelitz—Fighting.

WANTON WASTE OF FOREST WEALTH MUST BE STOPPED

Prof. Howe Advocates Re-investing Forestry Profits In Young Trees

In a comprehensive address on the forestry situation in Canada, Professor C. D. Howe, of the Faculty of Forestry, University of Toronto, told the members of the Royal Canadian Institute at the University Physics Building, Toronto, that the continued neglect to conserve the forest resources of this country would mean still further increases in the high cost of living. He said that from one-half to two-thirds of the forest wealth of Canada had been destroyed by fire in the past 75 years. There are 1,900,000 square miles of forested country in the Dominion, he stated. He advocated the re-investing of forestry profits in the replenishment of the merchantable timber supply.

"I trust that you will not consider me tinged with red when I assert my belief that the community should share in the increased cost of lumber." he said. In British Columbia, for example, when the market price value of lumber goes above a certain price agreed upon as furnishing the producer a reasonable profit upon his investment, the royalties exacted by the Province increase in definite ratio. Thus, the people as a whole, profit by the upward tend of prices. I would suggest that a certain portion of such graduated tax be re-invested in the forests by the community to accelerate the regeneration and growth of the commercial species, and thus keep our woodlands at our market doors continually productive.

"Most private business is sustained by a reinvestment of a certain portion of its profits. The communities' forest business can only be sustained in the same manner. The Dominion Government spends about $3,000,000 a year for the encouragement of agiculture, which is another way of saying that amount is re-invested in the business of increasing the productivity of the farm soil. The forest soil products have a value equal to that of our wheat crop, yet we are re-investing almost nothing to continue its productivity. The lumber industry created for Canada in 1917 forest products valued at $116,000,000. The pulp mills of the country produced in the same year materials to the value of $96,000,000, a total of over $200,000,000. The lumber and pulpwood industries stand third as producers of wealth in this country, being surpassed only by agriculture and manufacturing. We re-invest a portion of the earnings of agriculture and manufacturing to keep those industries going, but with the exception of spasmodic planting we have re-invested very little of the forest revenues to encourage the regeneration of the present commercial species.

Much Timber Destroyed

The speaker with the aid of a very clearly defined map showed the regions of Canada that were productive and non-productive of commercial timber. He said that south of the vast barren lands stretch there is a very sparsely wooded transcontinental belt containing about 700,000 square miles. This is the "little stick region," and will never contribute materially to the Canadian supply of sawlogs or pulpwood.

Professor Howe stated that 1,600,000 square miles of the Dominion are incapable of producing forests of commercial value.

"Over 40 per cent of the land area of Canada is either too cold, too high or too dry to produce sawlogs or even pulpwood," he said. "This is a fact that is overlooked by those who talk boastingly of our inexhaustible forest supplies. Subtracting the treeless areas from the total land area we get 1,900,000 square miles of forested country."

Prof. Howe said that from one-half to two-thirds of our forest had been destroyed by fire in the past 75 years, and pointed out that it would take twice that length of time to make a tree 12 inches in diameter.

"In other words forest fires have destroyed the sawlogs in over 1,000,000 square miles of good Canadian territory. Ninety per cent of these fires were caused by sheer carelessness. We are already beginning to feel the pinch of the diminishing supply of accessible timber. You will more readily comprehend what the destruction by past fires means when I say that the loss is equivalent to about 450 years' supply at our present rate of consumption of four billion board feet a year."

Professor Howe gave an extended resume of the forest resources of the various provinces, the greatest of which are those of British Columbia, where at the present rate of use the supply will last for 300 years. He said that definite statistics on the forestry outlook in Ontario would be obtainable when the Dominion Commissioner of Conservation had completed the survey it was undertaking at present. The wanton destruction or indiscreet use of Canada's forest resources should be discouraged by the newspapers, because it would mean a still further increase in the present high cost of living.

Professor Howe said that fighting fires by airplane was all very well in its way, but that a good ground system with excellent avenues of communication was needed for the best results.

IMPERIAL ORDER DAUGHTERS OF THE EMPIRE

A Message To Men:

EVERY now and then, in the hour of some National crisis, the men of our country are brought face to face with a realization of the unselfish devotion, the supreme accomplishment, and the unerring instinct of method which the motherhood of Woman brings to the accomplishment of a noble and inspired purpose.

THE end of the war brought the problems of peace; and in the solution of the greatest peace problem we have—the Canadianization of Canada—the heart of the mother has again gone direct to the crux and fountainhead of the problem.

THEY propose to plant the seed of Canadian Patriotism in the hearts of the children of the foreign-born; and, as their memorial to our own men who died, to see that the children of these dead are given a birthright of education, to the end that they may grow to understand, preserve, and carry forward those ideals for which their fathers bled.

THE women of Canada associated in the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire have undertaken, as their Memorial to the men and women who died so gloriously in the Great War, a tribute that will be living, lasting and constructive, instead of a monument of bronze or marble. To accomplish this they are raising, by their gifts and sacrifices, and through an appeal for general assistance, an endowment fund with $500,000 as its initial objective, which will provide the following:

1. NATIONAL INCULCATION OF PATRIOTISM THROUGH THE CHILDREN OF THE NEW CANADIANS:
   To be accomplished by the distribution of National and Empire pictures in every school.
   By the display of Historical motion pictures and slides in the schools.
   By the distribution of small libraries to every Public School. The books in these libraries, written in simple language, are intended to be read by the children of the foreign-born in their homes, to carry the message of national patriotism and British traditions, and inculcate some of the ideals of Imperial citizenship.
2. UNIVERSITY EDUCATION FOR THE SONS AND DAUGHTERS OF OUR FALLEN HEROES:
   By providing and offering free University education to every son and daughter of a Canadian soldier or sailor who fell or was disabled in the Great War.
3. POST-GRADUATE UNIVERSITY COURSES AT OXFORD OR CAMBRIDGE:
   In addition to the above, the I.O.D.E. will provide a post-graduate course of one year at an English University, one to be awarded for each Province each year, and open for competition to all University graduates.

TO secure their proportion ($50,000) of the National Endowment Fund, the Daughters of the Empire in Manitoba will carry on a province-wide canvass during the fourth week of March, Tuesday and Wednesday being set apart for the canvass by each Chapter. With all their effort and energy, these few women cannot possibly see every citizen during those days. They cannot even attempt a thorough canvass. This appeal is written on their behalf by the Men's Advisory Committee, whose help they have enlisted. It is directed to every Canadian in the prairie west. Today is the day! Fifty Thousand Dollars is the objective of the Women in Manitoba. It can only be secured through the generous and unstinted gifts of the Men. No nobler cause has ever been put before a Canadian Citizen.

OBEY the impulse now. Do not wait to be called upon, or reminded. Cut out the subscription form below—now, while your mind is on it. Sign it and slip it into an envelope with a bill or a cheque attached, and mail it at once to its destination. Your gift will be duly acknowledged, gratefully received, and properly accredited to your District organization of the Order.

WHITE'S SPEECH BRINGS HIM INTO GLARE OF SPOTLIGHT

Taken By Some To Indicate He Is Not Averse To Being Borden's Successor

THREE THORNY QUESTIONS

Before Parliament, the Tariff, Franchise Bill and Naval Program

Ottawa, March 18. — Sir Thomas White again occupies the centre of the political stage. His speech in the debate on the address drew the spotlight upon him. How long he will hold his place remains to be seen; but undeniably his remarks made the politicians sit up in a way that nothing else had during the last year. By some he is looked on as the man of destiny for the party that sit on the Government benches. By others he is described as a "White hope." Only the fates know whether he is the real man of destiny; but he did say to the Government supporters—this is the way, walk ye in it. And eighty per cent of them said, Hear, hear!

Sir Thomas plainly told the House that it would have to go back to party politics, to the bi-party system. In as many words he said that Union Government was due to disappear. The name of its successor he suggested should be the National Liberal Conservative party, composed of old Conservatives and Liberals who believe in maintaining the present fiscal policy. For this party, under the leadership of Sir Robert Borden, he predicted a great triumph. It looked very much as though Sir Thomas having named the new party and having sketched in outline its policy, had left his hearers to draw their own conclusions as to whom the new leader should be—the only reasonable one being Sir Thomas himself.

Is White's Hat in Ring

It is not always easy to tell just what Sir Thomas means. For example he talked of resigning so long before he actually did so, that when he did step out everyone was surprised, having come to the conclusion that he would not really do it. So it has come to pass that shrewd observers are now inclined to attach more importance to the straws that seem to indicate his attitude, rather than to his words. Just now there is a large number of persons who do not know what to think; on the other hand quite a number are as convinced as can be that Sir Thomas has thrown his hat into the ring.

So clearly did Sir Thomas indicate the course that the Unionists must eventually take that, in some quarters, the opinion is expressed that his remarks were inspired. This is improbable. It will, however, be observed that the caucus acted upon his advice—carry on. Still it would have done this anyway. Another line indicated by Sir Thomas will certainly be followed, Sir Robert Borden will come back and take charge of affairs, for a time at least. No one can tell how long he will stay, and very probably he himself does not know; but he will make a determined effort to place the Government's following on a permanent footing. He is the only one who can, with safety, undertake the work of permanent organization and with the support of an assured united following.

Large Following for White

If Sir Robert remains at the helm it is idle to speculate on possible successors; but should he retire, Sir Thomas White, would, from present indications be most favored. He has a large following among the members and there is reason to think that a majority of the ministers endorse him. Furthermore, he has the support of substantial interests outside of Parliament, notably in finance and commerce. In some respects this may be a handicap in an election; but there is no mistaking the attitude of these interests.

Not a very great deal happened at the Unionist caucus after all. The most important thing was the decision to carry on until after the Prime Minister's return. He will shape the policy and the rank and file will give him the fullest possible liberty in doing so. No inkling has been given as to what the policy will be; but in this respect Sir Thomas White pretty well hit the nail on the head. It is worth recalling that four-fifths of the Unionists said hear, hear. Still, there was not unanimity. It is no secret that some of the Western Unionists do not endorse his views on the tariff.

The speech of the ex-Minister of Finance was the best in the debate. To use a common expression, he cut loose. Being free from the responsibilities of office, he spoke his mind. But he did more than that, he spoke the minds of many others. Some one had to give the lead; who could do so better than Sir Thomas. It is more than probable that he did so off his own bat. Indeed, subsequent developments tend to confirm this view, for some think that he went too far.

Borden's Health Improves

In the meantime reports from the South say that Sir Robert's health continues to improve. This means that he will probably be back three weeks or a month before the end of the session. This may bring him home in less than two months; for, at present, it is difficult to see how the session can be spun out three months. The debate on the address only lasted about one-half the time it did last year. But when it is desired parliamentarians can mark time just as easily as they can speed up when it is considered necessary.

Third Party Now Against Government

The Government's majority of 34 on the first division was about what was expected. On the amendment to the address a year ago it had a majority of over 50; but it would hardly be a fair conclusion to say that the difference in the figures is a certain indication of the extent to which it has lost support. The McMaster amendment last year called for an expression of opinion on the tariff; the King amendment made no mention of this subject. Last year a number of Western Unionists, who recently voted for the King motion, refused to support that moved by McMaster on the ground that it was really a catch motion. It is doubtful whether on a straight tariff amendment the Government's majority could be cut to 34. Some of the French Liberal members, who are not keen on tariff reductions keep away when a vote on the subject is likely to be taken. The most important feature of the division is that from the very first days of the session the Third Party men came out against the Government. Still, a great many more defections will have to take place before the position of the Government becomes endangered.

The Third Party's membership remains at 12. When the House divided on the King amendment Mr. McNutt was ill, so that only eleven Third Partyites voted for it. Major Andrews, who sits next to Mr. Crerar, but is not a member of his band, did not vote. He is a free-trader, Liberal in his views, who considers himself more a representative of the returned soldiers than of anything else.

Three Thorny Questions

Sufficient is known of the business ahead to say that there will be at least three thorny questions—the Tariff, the Franchise bill and the Naval program. Both the high and the low tariff men are eager to get at one another. In some respects, the debate on the address developed into a skirmish on the tariff. Mr. Crerar, Dr. Clark and other Third Party men lugged it in, and, once there, Sir Thomas White, Cockshutt, Burnham and others were not loath to touch it. In the House of Commons the tariff is the cat that always comes back, it can't be kept out. The debate on the budget should be a battle royal reminding one of the days of the reciprocity campaign. Among the Western Unionists there is a considerable low tariff element that demands recognition.

Jellicoe Naval Report

The Jellicoe naval report has brought back the ghost of the Naval bill blockade. Not that there is likely to be a repetition of that memorable event, for the closure has put an end to lengthy blockades. But the report may give rise to quite a discussion. The Liberals seem t be taking quite a lot of comfort out of it, considering it a vindication of the Laurier naval policy. Unionist opinion is not yet crystalized, awaiting an announcement of the Government's policy. Those who favor action will probably be influenced by the cost, the four estimates—$25,000,000, $17,500,000 and $5,000,000 allowing for considerable freedom of action. The indications are that whatever policy the Government adopts will be strongly opposed on the ground of cost, the expenditure for other purposes being very heavy. The changed position of the parties on this policy well shows how opinions have altered during the last eight years. Then the Admiralty believed in the centralization of naval strength in the North Sea; now its chief officer recommends national units, with the expression of the hope, implied at least, that there will be oneness of action on the part of the various portions of the Empire.

NEW HOSPITAL PROJECT OUTLINED TO SEVERAL REEVES

Deep Interest Manifested—Hearty Co-operation Assured—Dr. Fraser Gives Address

Several of the reeves of Western Manitoba municipalities met the Brandon General Hospital Cammittee in a conference held in the Prince Edward Hotel, Wednesday evening. His Worship Mayor Dinsdale and Aldermen Hall and Shewan were also present representing the city. The new hospital proposition was fully explained to the reeves and they manifested a deep interest in the work which the committee is undertaking. They also gave assurances before leaving that the Western Municipalities would lend their hearty co-operation in the movement for the new hospital here, and that the municipalities would do their full share in any scheme the committee might outline.

Dr. M. S. Fraser of the Public Health Department, who happened to be in the city during the day, was present at the meeting and gave a splendid address on central and municipal hospitalization. He also dealt with the great importance of caring for the child life of the province and outlined some of the work that his department was doing in this respect.

DOHERTY SAYS U.F.O. DOING MUCH TO CONTROL PACKERS

More Than Liberal or Conservative Party Did In Last Years

Toronto, March 18.—The debate on the speech from the throne was advanced another stage in the legislature Wednesday afternoon, but still gives no indication that it is nearing its end, as a number of members on both sides of the House are still slated to speak.

Hon. Manning Doherty and Sam Clarke, Liebral member for West Northumberland, were the only speakers Wednesday. The Minister of Agriculture gave a comprehensive outline of the aims of the Government with regard to rural Ontario, in addition to enunciating clearly in reply to queries by the opposition, hs personal position on the tariff issue. "The U.F.O. may not be strong in platform," the minister admitted, "that is a secondary consideration. But we are strong on performance. The United Farmers have done more in the last thirteen months to control the packers of this province than either the Liberal or Conservative party has done in the past thirty years."

The farmers of Ontario, he continued, were prepared to pay their fair share of Canada's war debt, but other classes must likewise bear their share.

"The man who attempts to sow dissension between country and city dwellers, is a worse criminal than an ordinary thief in my opinion," declared the minister. "We are not seeking any advantage for ourselves; the interests of business men and other classes will be guarded as safely as ever in the history of this province."

Mr. Doherty, amid applause, affirmed his position on the tariff question. "I am not a free trader," he averred. "I do not think there are many on this side of the House who would tear down the tariff wall in a week. But I consider that in Canada we have the most unscientific ,the most unjust, the most iniquitous tariff legislation, which any nation enjoys today."

REDUCTION OF NAVAL STRENGTH NOW SUGGESTED

First Lord British Admiralty Practically Issues Invitation To United States

London, March 18.—Introducing the naval estimates in the House of Commons, Walter Hume Long, First Lord of the Admiralty, said the Government was adhering to the traditional policy that the British navy should not be inferior to the navies of other powers. Then, alluding to the United States as the only country whose navy approached that of Great Britain in strength, he said that the idea of competition in armaments between the United States and Great Britain was repugnant, adding:

"We hope and believe that if there is any emulation between us, it is likely to be in the direction of reducing that ample margin of naval strength which we alike possess over other naval powers. This is the foundation of the British naval policy.

BRANDON MAN HONORED

Mr. F. A. Wood,
Principal of the Wheat City Business College, who was elected District High Vice-Chief Ranger of the District High Court, at the annual convention of the Canadian Order of Foresters in Winnipeg.

DISTRICT HIGH COURT C.O.F. TO MEET IN BRANDON

For Annual Convention in March, 1921—Brandon Man Given High Office

At the afternoon session of the annual convention of the Canadian Order of Foresters held in Winnipeg on Wednesday it was decided to hold the next District High Court Annual meeting in Brandon on the third Tuesday of March, 1921. Officers were elected at this session for the ensuing year, Mr. F. A. Wood of this city being chosen District High Vice-Chief Ranger of the District High Court. Others elected included J. W. Morley of Winnipeg, District High Chief Ranger; D. E. McKinnon, Winnipeg, district high secretary; B. H. Holman, Winnipeg, district high treasurer; J. B. Speer, Winnipeg, district high chaplain; district high auditors, W. Wilson and R. G. Stinson of Winnipeg. The following were elected as representatives to the high court: W. F. Ross, Holland, Man.; J. W. Morley, Winnipeg. Members of the executive committee: W. F. Ross, Holland, Man.; J. R. Taylor, Winnipeg, and M. H. Woolley, Port Arthur.

The session was brought to a conclusion with a banquet held in the Manitoba hall Wednesday night. W. M. Coupar, of Montreal, high registrar, C.O.F., briefly outlined the financial standing and activities of the order during 1919. He pointed out that 1,096 death claims had been paid over, involving more than one million dollars. Six claims, he said, had amounted to $225,255 for the year, leaving a grand total of $6,742,771 in the accumulated fund. An enrollment of 2,592 new members, he showed, had been made during the past year. "We look back with pride to the splendid record established by the 5,646 members who enlisted for war service," he said, "and of this number approximately 900 paid the supreme sacrifice." Mr. Coupar pointed out that the order had subscribed three million dollars towards the Victory Loan, "surely a record to be proud of."

PUBLISHERS APPEAL ORDER BY FORMER PAPER CONTROLLER

Involving Payments Totalling $110,000 As Ordered By R. A. Pringle

Ottawa, March 18.—An appeal by Canadian newspaper publishers involving approximately $110,000.00, was heard Wednesday here before Chief Justice Middleton, Judges Archer and White. The publishers, represented by W. N. Tilley, K.C., Toronto, claim that an order made by R. A. Pringle, as former Paper Controller, is in direct opposition to an order made by the judges named sitting as an appeal court to deal with prices for newsprint. The Fort Frances Pulp and Paper Company, it is claimed, has been receiving under the Pringle order of December 24th last, $73 instead of $69 per ton.

Justice Archer remarked that to his recollection the Appeal Court took into consideration prices charged by the Fort Frances Pulp and Paper Company, limited, prior to the time specified in the order, and that the Paper Controller should have taken all such previous prices to have been settled. His lordship's view was concurred in by the other judges.

I. E. Hellmuth, K.C., Toronto, for the company, mentioned that the jurisdiction of the Board of Commerce, which body had since acted in the matter, was being questioned. It involved the right of the Dominion parliament, he said, to direct its Paper Controller to make orders such as those given by him to the Fort Frances mill to supply a certain amount of newsprint at a certain fixed rate.

Price is no Criterion of Quality

YOU cannot judge the quality of a product by the price tag. Imperial Premier Gasoline though low in price is the highest quality gasoline made or sold anywhere in the world for general automobile and truck use.

The only measure of gasoline quality is its chain of boiling points. If these are complete, the fuel will give full-power service. Imperial Gasoline has a perfect chain of boiling points—starts on the first decent spark—gives instant accelleration and "most miles per gallon."

More than 90 per cent. of Canada's motorists use Imperial Premier Gasoline the year round with complete satisfaction.

Judge gasoline on the "miles per gallon" basis and you will use Imperial Premier Gasoline exclusively.

You cannot buy a better gasoline at any price, so why pay more?

ALLIED FORCES NOW OCCUPYING CONSTANTINOPLE

Under Protection of British Fleet Contingents Landed, Occupying City

Constantinople, March 18.—Constantinople was occupied Tuesday morning by Allied forces under Gen. Sir George F. Milne, of the British army. This long looked for military demonstration by the Allies against Turkey was carried out with only one untoward happenings, a serious clash at the War Office, where the Turks resisted the Allied troops.

An exchange of shots resulted in which several Punjabs of the British East Indian forces and a few of the Turks were killed.

The excitement caused by the occupation calmed down before darkness which brought absolute calm.

The forces included four thousand blue-jackets and marines from the British warships, and contingents from the forces of all the Allies represented here. Indian detachments having Moslems on their rosters were among the troops taking part in the operation.

Comprehensive military and naval plans had been made for carrying out the Allied measures and precautionary steps taken. Monday night a number of Turks and other persons, who were regarded as possible disturbers of the peace, were arrested including the commander of the Tenth Turkish division.

Threaten Court Martials

The dead walls of Constantinople have been placarded with a proclamation by Major-Gen. Henry F. M. Wilson, of the British troops, declaring that any one committing any act that threatened the safety of the Allied forces would be tried by court martial and sentenced to death or such other penalty as the court might fix. The proclamation was printed in Greek, Egyptian and French, and it was eagerly scanned by curious crowds in all sections of the city, which after the landing took place wandered around the streets in a dazed manner, apparently unable to understand exactly what had happened.

The French Tuesday evening were patrolling Stamboul with Senegalese troops. he British guarding Pera, the suburb Northwest of the Golden Horn, while the Italians were guarding Scutari, the portion of Constantinople on the Asiatic side of the Bophorus.

The flutter that occurred in Stamboul as the troops marched in was on the part of the shopkeepers near the War Office, where the clash occurred. They closed their shops, in their first fright, but speedily re-opened them. The Allies are declared to believe their measures have provided amply for the maintenance of security and order in Constantinople and consider it questionable whether even the so-called Nationalist forces in Anatolia are in a position to attempt anything serious.

French General in Command

Paris, March 18.—The Temps Wednesday evening publishes what appears to be an officially inspired note concerning the situation at Constantinople. It says that French General Franchet D'Esperey remains commander-in-chief of the Allied forces in European Turkey, while General Sir George F. Milne, British, commands the troops of occupation in Constantinople.

Shipping is Suspended

Constantinople, March 18.—The Allied high commissioner here has issued a statement declaring that the Allies have no intention of destroying the authority of the Sultan but wish to strengthen his power. It also says the Allies will adhere to their intention not to deprive the Turks of Constantinople, but that they may be compelled to modify their decision if massacres and disorders continued.

The Allies have occupied the Ministeries of War and Navy and assumed control of the posts, telegraphs and telephones, which have been temporarily suspended. Shipping also has been suspended.

U. S. PEACE TIME ARMY OF 316,800

Washington, March 20.—A peace time army of 299,000 men and 17,800 officers has been approved by the House in passing the re-organization army bill.

INVITE PARENTS TO VISIT SCHOOLS

Brandon public school authorities might follow the example set in other centres and invite the parents of the school children to visit the schools. If necessary, in order to interfere as little as possible with school work, the invitation might be issued for a certain time—some particular week. If such an opportunity were provided there is no doubt many parents would avail themselves of it. This would in a great measure spread information concerning what is taught in the schools and the methods of instruction—something that is woefully lacking at present.

It would be a good thing if every parent took enough interest in what is happening to his children in this vitally important period, when the foundations are being laid for success or failure, to acquaint himself with the course of instruction in the public schools. If the School Board would invite the parents to visit the schools, fixing a definite time, it would encourage them to to do so. An occasional visit to the schools by the parents would keep them in a measure at least, informed concerning what the schools are trying to do; there would be a better understanding by the parents of the problems of the children; there would be closer contact between the teachers and the parents; there would be less opportunity for ignorance and narrowness to spread misinformation about the schools; there would be more sympathy with the problems of the teachers; and there would be more vigorous support of the public schools.

Unless there is a special invitation extended comparatively few persons will visit the schools during the year. Experience shows this. Why not then extend that special invitation? No question of special crowding in preparation for examination should be allowed to stand as a barrier. The supreme test of education or the efficiency in schools is not ability on the part of pupils to write off examination papers. That is only one of the indications of proficiency along certain lines. An invitation to visit the schools would be appreciated by many parents who otherwise would not think of visiting the schools.

UNCLE SAM'S NAVY

The size of the navy required in the future by the United States, according to Secretary Daniels, will depend largely upon whether or not that country joins the League of Nations. If it does, Mr. Daniels says his nation can afford to dispense with building major vessels, super-dreadnoughts and battle cruisers, being content with the construction of some destroyers, submarines and airplane carriers. If the United States should not join the League of Nations the Secretary says it will be necessary to carry out another three-year program with the aim of making the American navy ultimately the most powerful in the world. So long as American membership in the League is in doubt, he believes an intermediate program of construction should be authorized by Congress.

The New York Tribune says that the United States will join the League of Nations after the next presidential election if not before, and while there may be reservations it believes international relations will not make necessary any attempt to create a supreme navy, or in the meantime to decide upon an intermediate program of construction.

As to the classes of ships of war which will be effective in the future, there is considerable debate. The American government is being reminded by naval critics that Lord Fisher believes the old style dreadnoughts, and in fact all heavy ships of the old first class, will not be useful in the future, his opinion being that warfare at sea will be carried on chiefly by submersibles and aircraft, a view which has the support of Admiral Sir Percy Scott. The opinions of British naval experts will carry much weight at Washington, as the British navy has led the way in new types of construction. The United States fleet is already next to the British in striking power. The Germans are out of it. The Americans have no cause to build in competition with Britain, France and Italy. Japan remains; and that country's naval construction will undoubtedly depend largely upon progress in making the League of Nations a mighty instrument for world peace.

SAFETY ON THE FARM

Accident prevention in industry is an accomplished fact and is being conducted with humanitarian and sound business principles. Accident and fire prevention are taught in the schools, on the streets and in the homes of the cities. Is it not time though to teach accident prevention on the farm? It is said that nearly one half of the accidents in Ontario happen to farmers and farm hands. Reports in the press point to accidents caused by chopping machines, binders and other farm machinery. The farmer has as much right to demand safe working conditions as labor in factories and should insist that the manufacturer of farm machinery should guard all exposed gears and moving chains before selling the article. Other accidents are due to binders or mowers striking obstacles hidden by the standing crop. After a serious accident from one of these causes the offending rock or stump will be removed but the time to do that clearing is when the prospective accident maker is in plain view.

Then again there is the fire hazard in the barn and the home. These are conditions that can be guarded against by ordinary precautions—the oil stove can be kept clean; matches can be kept out of reach of children; hand fire extinguishers can be kept ready for instant use; lamps and lanterns can be so placed that they are not likely to be knocked over. Fire losses and accident losses are a national calamity and for the good of the country [illegible] on the farm as well as elsewhere.

WATCH YOUR STEP

A hole in the pavement, a broken board, a banana peel, or an icy spot may cause you to trip and fall, and may throw you under a passing car or auto. Therefore watch your step because danger lurks everywhere in the streets.

When walking on the sidewalk or crossing the street, don't read a newspaper, don't "lose yourself" in thought or conversation, but keep alert with your head up and your mind on what you are doing.

Don't take a chance and try to beat the car to the crossing. It is ridiculous to risk your life to save a minute—and wholly unnecessary.

FEAR STOCK SUFFERED IN BIG BLIZZARD

Moose Jaw Ranchers Have Not Heard Yet But Are Most Apprehensive

Moose Jaw, March 18.—Local ranchers are entertaining grave fears as to the welfare of cattle and horses on the neighboring ranches, as a result of Monday's storm, although the interruption of communication and the impassability of the roads has made it impossible to arrive at any estimate of the loss.

W. K. Cross, one of the most prominent stockbreeders in this district, stated that, while he had had no word as to his stock, he feared that they must have suffered very heavily.

"And the loss in horses," Mr. Cross added, "will probably be greater than in cattle, as the weather had been fine for several days and the breeders had been taken by surprise."

He expressed the fear, however, that the loss in both horses and cattle must have been very substantial, not only on account of the hardship to which they were exposed, but by reason of their having suffered from drifting snow and high winds.

Ole Olafson the well known rancher of this city, when asked as to the amount of loss suffered by horse and cattle breeders of this section of the Province, stated that it was yet too early for anyone to have any accurate information on the subject.

No reports had been received at noon by Mr. Olafson from his ranch near Mortlach, and he would not hazard an estimate till some information from the ranching country is available as a guide.

Frankness makes people disagreeable, but not all disagreeable people are frank.

150,000 ELECTORS BEHIND NATIONAL PROGRESSIVE PARTY

Manitoba Has 40,000 Organized Voters For the Cause—Financial Campaign Successful

Ottawa, March 22.—There are now approximately 150,000 organized electors behind the candidates of the three prairie provinces who are championing the cause of the new National Progressive party, according to O. R. Gould, member for Assiniboia. There are 75,000 in Saskatchewan, and 40,000 in each of the provinces of Alberta and Manitoba.

"And with each elector making a small contribution to the campaign funds they will be doubly interested when the next federal fight comes," said Mr. Gould.

Asked if his party expected to obtain a majority at the next election Mr. Gould replied: "No, that is not our ambition. We do expect, however, to have a sound balance of power which will form a worthy opposition."

Canvass is Successful

Other farmer members declare that the canvass being made of the praire provinces for election campaign funds is proving very successful.

There is also talk among the so-called agrarians of holding a caucus early this week to discuss the estimates. One other item which promises to crop up at this session is the matter of cheap railway rates to immigrants intended for the West. Eastern men have recently complained that the West is being given undue favors in this respect, but the Western members plan to fight any change in the present advantageous rates to the limit.

EX-SERVICE MEN SUFFERING FROM TUBERCULOSIS

Of the 8,676 Treated, 6,636 Have Been Discharged From Institutions

Canadian methods of treatment and care of ex-service men suffering from tuberculosis have attracted considerable attention in professional circles outside of the Dominion.

Amongst other bodies interested in the system in vogue in Canada is The National Tuberculosis Association, the Headquarters of which are situated in Atlanta, Ga. The Regional Secretary, M. A. Auerbach, in asking for information on this subject from the Medical Branch of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-Establishment, writes:

"We are making a study of the rehabilitation of the tuberculous ex-soldier, particularly as some difficulty has been experienced in this section of the country. We understand that you have had some notable success in handling these cases . . ."

In Canada the care of the tuberculous ex-service men devolves on the Medical Branch of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-Establishment.

Statistics recently compiled show that 8,676 ex-service men have been treated in sanatoria maintained by this Branch. Of that total 6,636 had been discharged from these institutions, some as cured, and others in quiescent condition. At the time of the survey there were 2,040 patients undergoing treatment of whom 158 had had previous treatment and had been re-admitted to a sanatorium. This percentage of 7.7 of re-admission is regarded as being exceedingly low, and furnishes satisfactory evidence of the success of the efforts of the Medical Services in coping with tuberculosis among ex-service men.

Men who have been under treatment in sanatoria and whose condition on discharge from treatment is such that they require a certain amount of rest and relief from the necessity of earning a full livelihood, are, by arrangement with the Board of Pension Commissioners, usually granted a total disability pension for a period of six months after discharge from an institution.

The Vocational Branch has given special attention to the re-training of the tuberculous patients who cannot return to previous occupations, and similarly, the Information and Service Branch has made provision for placing such men in touch with employment opportunities.

The Social Service Nurses of the Medical Branch keep in touch with former patients and give assistance, or advice, where such is required.

There are Medical Representatives in every city, town and village of Canada to whom men may apply for medical attention.

STORM NEWS FROM SEVERAL POINTS IN RURAL MANITOBA

It is not until now that storm damage news from rural districts is available and it is expected that it will be several weeks before the final results of the storm are known. Condensed reports from district points follow:

Treherne

The Monday evening train, due here at 6.09 left Holland at 1.30 on Tuesday morning, and arrived at Treherne at 9 p.m. spending the time meanwhile half covered with snow near Frank Parker's farm. The Tuesday noon train arrived 9 p.m. and met the East-bound here. It was necessary to use two engines to pull the East-bound from the rails and it came in with two dead engines and two hot ones, 27 hours late. The West-bound train stood in Rathwell for 9 hours.

One passenger on the East-bound train; a lady who was going to the hospital at Winnipeg, was brought to Treherne from the stranded train, on the snow plow.

Later trains were all running on any time that was convenient. One could but guess the thoughts of those sixty families from Illinois who recently settled near Elm Creek, guess, and sympathize with them.

It was on March 15th and 16th, 1902 that the last severe storm visited this district continuing three days. Old-timers still like to talk about it.

Amaranth

Word of fatalities was received from Amaranth this morning, when it was learned that Mrs. D. Furley, who resides ten miles north west of Amaranth, with her nine year old son, lost their lives, and the sad part of it is that they had reached within 100 yards of their home.

Mrs. Furley was in Amaranth, when the storm started, and started to drive home. It was a long drive of ten miles, and while particulars are not known, it was presumed that the horses became exhausted, and although within a stones throw from home could not proceed further. When they did not arrive home a search was instituted and it was Tuesday morning when the body of Mrs. Furley was found, as stated, within a hundred yards of her home. She was in a sitting position, resting her body on her hand, with her head up. One of the horses was found near her frozen to death.

It was not until Wednesday that the boy was found. It is surmised that he had seen a light in passing a neighbor's house, a Mr. Solomon's, and, not knowing that he was so near home had started for assistance. His body was found within five minutes walk from the Solomon place. His body was also in a sitting position, with head in the air.

Mrs. Furley's husband is in Saskatchewan, and there survives five children, the eldest of whom is eleven years old.

Minto

The heaviest snowsform and most blinding blizzard that has visited this district for many moons is now raging. Everything is tied up. Railway traffic on both the C.N.R. and the G. N. R. is closed for perhaps a week. Telegraph and telephone communication with the outside world is shut off. In fact all country lines connected with the local central are out of business. This is the condition of things in this neck of the woods on this the 16th day of March, 1920.

Since Monday morning snowdrifts of immense height, 10 to 15 feet have risen up as if by magic. Local householders found no other means to get out of doors this (Tuesday) morning than by going through a window. In fact we learn of many who had to resort to this method of exit this morning, among them being one of our local sky pilots, who had visions on Sunday of piloting his Henry 4d around the circuit next Sabbath. School children and teachers had a pleasant time getting to school, snowbank swimming being a popular means of locomotion. The Bonspiel which was nearing the critical stages had to be withdrawn until after the storm.

Oak Lake

A blizzard, accompanied by a thirty mile wind struck the district on Monday and by Tuesday noon streets, sidewalks, lanes, etc., were packed with drifts which made going about very disagreeable. Train service was very badly out of commission. West bound passenger No. 59 came in nearly on schedule time but had only gone 2 miles west when it encountered a heavy snowdrift in the cut, and could not proceed further. The snowplow came to the rescue and it was not until 4.30 in the afternoon that the track was cleared for the passenger to continue its journey. All trains were off schedule and, although everything possible was being done to clear the way, the storm was apparently in evidence throughout the West as well as East.

Macgregor

One of the worst blizzards in years struck Manitoba on Monday and for twenty-four hours raged with much violence. Trains were delayed and stalled at many points until snow plows had cleared the tracks. Telegraph and telephone communication was cut off in many places, and between Minnedosa and Neepawa it is reported that over fifty telephone poles were broken during the height of the storm. In the town and country the snow is piled up ten to twenty feet deep in places. On account of the telephone and telegraph interruptions, very little information has yet come to hand as to the extent of the damage done. In this district a number of farmers have lost a few head of stock. Mr. Sheard also lost a team while he and Mrs. Sheard were trying to get to their farm on "the hills" on Monday. When part of the way the horses became exhausted and Mr. and Mrs. Sheard had to make for the nearest house on foot. The horses perished in the storm.

The blizzard on Monday and Tuesday was easily the worst in the experience of many of the people in the district. Starting about 9 in the morning with a slight fall of snow, it gradually increased in volume until late in the evening and the high wind increased to a hurricane filling the air with flying snow until it was impossible to see any distance, and it was extremely dangerous for any person to be any distance from the regular paths of travel. So bad was the storm that no animal would face it and live and many of the horses and cattle in the stables had to go thirty six hours without water. The trains were late and in many cases cancelled. The storm came from the Northwest and the Regina train ran into it at Souris. The East bound was several hours late, the trains crossing at Reston. Up to the time we go to press no fatalities are heard of in this district but any person caught out in the blizzard ran a good chance of suffering severely if not losing their lives.

Macgregor

It is evident that G. W. Quinn's sale on Monday was well attended as we understand that some fifty were compelled to put in the night as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Quinn. How did they spend the night? Well, some went to bed and slept; some couldn't sleep for the snoring of others; some sat up and played cards, others smoked and told yarns and anything to put in a night to be long remembered. The storm was so bad that even Billie Glover could not get the Banker home, so had to return and help ensertain the crowd who kept awake. And it was some night, said W. H.

FLOCK OF SHEEP PERISH IN STORM

Travelled With Wind Till Exhausted—Seven Hundred May Have Perished

Winnipeg, March 22. — Seven hundred sheep, out of a flock of 1,400, belonging, it is said, to Hon. J. W. Armstrong and Dr. W. A. Schultz, perished on the farm of A. J. McKay, two miles East of Macdonald, Man., it is reported.

Hon. Dr. Armstrong and Dr. Schultz are both out of the city, but it was learned at the office of Dr. Armstrong and at the office of W. A. Fraser, Provincial Livestock Commissioner, that a loss of sheep belonging to the flock had occurred. It is presumed Dr. Armstrong has gone to Macdonald to investigate. Dr. Schultz is in the East, it is said.

The storm caught the sheep while out in the open, it is reported, and they travelled with the wind until exhausted. After the storm had subsided the sheep were found dead or dying in hundreds.

TO SELL PALATIAL HOME TO PAY TAXES ON THE WOOLWORTH ESTATE

New York, March 22.—The estate of Frank W. Woolworth, who made a fortune estimated at more than $50,000,000 in five and ten cent stores, must pay an inheritance tax of $6,800,000 to the Federal Government and $1,050,000 to the state of New York. This was made known when Hubert T. Parson, committee of the property of Mrs. Jennie Woolworth, who inherited the entire estate of her husband got permission to sell the city residence at Fifth avenue and Eightieth street to help pay the tax. Supreme court Justice Newburger, who gave permission for the sale, appointed Abraham Stern referee to conduct it.

Mr. Parson explained that the interest of Mrs. Woolworth requires the sale of the Fifth avenue home because the income from her estate and personal property together was not sufficient to pay the debts, including the income taxes, and she does not desire to sell any of the personal estate, including the Woolworth store stock.

He says he wants "to conserve the income-producing assets to maintain her in the comfort to which she is accustomed."

LORD MAYOR OF CORK SHOT DEAD BY ASSASSINS

Men Invaded Home, Threatened Wife, Killed Mayor, Fled In Motor Car

London, March 22.—Advices from Cork indicate that a state of excitement prevails following the murder of Lord Mayor Thomas Maguirin, of that city, by a gang of so-far unidentified assassins. Mayor Maguirin was shot down without being given a chance to defend himself by six masked men who invaded his home. His murderers escaped in an automobile.

Mayor Maguirin was a Sinn Fein leader and had taken a prominent part in the activities of that organization. He was interned after the Easter rebellion, but later was liberated.

When the men knocked at the door of the Mayors house at one o'clock in the morning, Mrs. Maguirin answered the call. As soon as she unlocked the door the six men rushed in. Two of them held her and the others ran upstairs to the Mayor's bedroom. Dragging him out of bed, they forced him out to the landing, where one of them produced a revolver and fired at close range, the bullet entering his chest. As he fell they hastily retreated, the two who had been holding Mrs. Maguirin joining them at the door, and all six jumped into an automobile which was waiting for them at the curb outside the house, riding swiftly away.

Dies in Few Minutes

Mrs. Maguirin telephoned for a doctor and a priest. The Mayor died a few minutes later, just after the priest arrived.

Mayor Maguirin's body has been moved to the city hall, where it will lie in state. Two hours before the Lord Mayor was murdered Constable Murtag, of the Royal Irish Constabulary was shot dead in the street. His body was riddled with bullets.

The Cork district has been the scene of several crimes of violence within recent weeks, and it is expected that this latest killing will result in stringent measures being adopted by the Government to maintain order there. On the night of March 11th, Constable Scully was shot down and killed while on duty at Glenmire. Two soldiers and several civilians were killed by gangs in the same vicinity the day before.

Widespread Demand for Protection

The latest outrage in Cork has caused a widespread demand for the taking of special precautions by the Government for the protection of life in Ireland. This is regarded as a particularly dangerous and critical time in view of repeated assertions that have been made that Easter will bring a renewed attempt on the part of the Sinn Fein to organize a general revolt. The possibility of an outbreak is feared by many of those who have watched the trend of recent events in the island.

Discussing a report that recent plans have been formulated by the Sinn Fein for an armed rising and that this has been known to the authorities for some time, the Daily Mail says: "It is not believed that the movement is sufficiently supported to be really formidable, although it is possible there may be sporadic outbreaks in certain districts."

Served Terms for Disloyalty

Cork is one of the strongest Sinn Fein centres in Ireland. Mr. Maguirin was elected Mayor, after a bitter campaign, in the elections early in January. A few days after he assumed office the Cork city council, by a vote of 30 to 11, declared its loyalty to the Irish republic. The council also refused to appoint a sheriff because that act would necessitate swearing allegiance to the King. After his liberation from an internment camp following activities in the Easter rebellion, Mr. Maguirin was prominently identified with Irish republican propaganda work and was one of the leading figures in the party. He has served several terms of imprisonment for disloyalty to the British crown.

Martial Law Expected Soon

Dublin, March 22.—Martial law throughout Ireland before Easter is now anticipated on every side. It is fully believed trouble again will be renewed on a big scale. The increase in successful attempts on the lives of constables is merely the beginning of the real warfare now planned. Some support is given such statements by the fact that, though violent crimes are denounced, in no unmeasured terms by high church authorities, no attention seems to be paid to these commands from the church. In many cases where priests took such action the only result was a decreased attendance. The question of Edwards in the Commons regarding an alleged rebellion early next month is believed merely to have an opportunity for further coercive measures. If any outbreak is planned the Sinn Fein system makes it extremely unlikely that details will leak out. While in certain quarters it is felt that the Sinn Fein throughout the country are now beyond the restraining influence of responsible leaders, evidence that discipline is still maintained is found in the fact that raids on private houses for arms has ceased.

AVIATORS TO ACT AS DROVERS OF NORTHERN HERDS

Caribou and Musk Oxen May Be Driven Into Corral By Use of Airplane

The Pas, Man., March 22.—Manipulation of the countless thousands of barren lands caribou and musk oxen by use of the aeroplane is the scheme of W. H. P. Jarvis, of Toronto, in planning the best means of herding these animals. It is Jarvis' theory that aviators act as drovers and as the herds come down in the autumn drive them against the shores of the Hudson Bay and down along the coast and behind a strong fence built from a point above Port Nelson, the tide water terminal of the Hudson's Bay Railway, once they are jammed between the sea and the fence he expects to segregate the sexes, and the does could be let through a gateway and given their freedom while the fat bucks could be driven to the Hudson's Bay railway and there slaughtered and shipped out to the Canadian and American markets. The scheme provides for aerodromes at Fort Churchill, Lake Athabasca and Chesterfield inlet. The aviators would be expected to go scouting with machine guns for wolves and destroy them in order to preserve the caribou. This scheme relies upon the Hudson Bay Railway entirely for its success, as providing means of transporting the meat to civilization involving 100,000 carcasses a year.

MRS. CLEMENTS NOT GUILTY ATTEMPTED MURDER JURY'S VERDICT MONTREAL CRIME

Montreal, March 22.—In the King's bench Saturday the jury, without retiring, returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of Mrs. Joseph Clements, of Ste. Anne de Bellevue, charged with attempted murder of P. Richer last December.

Mrs. Clements, to protect her husband, who was threatened by Richer, a powerfully built man, fired first at the floor and then put a bullet in his thigh. In evidence she stated that Richer's wife on the morning following the shooting had said to her, "Why didn't you kill him?"

LEWIS KING LOSES LIFE IN $60,000 FIRE AT OXFORD, N.S.

Halifax, March 22.—Lewis King, 21, acting postmaster at Oxford, N.S., lost his life in the fire which early this morning destroyed the Wood Hatton block at an estimated loss of $60,000. The body has been recovered.

KEMNAY COMMUNITY CLUB

Last Friday evening the Kemnay Community Club met for the first time in three weeks, the previous meetings having been cancelled owing to sickness in the district. Mr. Dixon, the President, occupied the chair and as this was the last meeting of the Winter, plans for the coming Summer months were discussed. At this meeting the Secretary-Treasurer, Miss I. Allan, reported the financial standing of the Club. Community singing opened the meeting and during the evening the Vice-President, Mr. W. A. Evans, concluded a synopsis of Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables," which he had commenced at an earlier meeting of the club.

Y.M.C.A. CONFERENCE CLOSES WITH STUDY OF BOY PROBLEM

Followed By An Address on "Character, the Basis of Service"

MEETING ON MONDAY

Called To Devise Plans Ror Reaching Children Who Have Not An Even Chance

The All-Manitoba Y.M.C.A conference came to a close Tuesday night after being in session all day. Storm conditions kept several of the speakers away and the attendance was not what it should have been, but the conference was nevertheless a success. Following the addresses and discussions which took place in the afternoon, Rev. R. S. Laidlaw, of Winnipeg, formerly of Brandon, delivered a stirring address in the evening on "Character, the Basis of Service." A discussion on how the under-privileged boy is to get an equal chance, also featured the evening program.

"The Rural Field" was sketched and a discussion on this question was ably led by Prof. R. W. Murchie, of Manitoba Agricultural Colege, who opened the conference in the afternoon. Mr. James McDonald, Indian agent at Griswold, who was to have opened the afternoon session with a talk on "Our Indian Brothers" was unable to be present owing to the storm. A statement of the finances was given by J. H. Crocker, General Secretary of the Territorial committee, while the "Y.M.C.A. and the Religious Council" was the topic for a splendid address from George H. Stewart, of Winnipeg. The sessions of the conference were brought to a close in the evening, following a supper given in the Y.M.C.A. to those attending the conference.

Help Under-Privileged Boy

J. H. Crocker, who opened the evening's program, spoke for a time on the problem in connection with giving the under-privileged boy an equal chance with other boys. He said that it is the duty of everyone to stop and help grapple with this problem, There is too much working "in the mass" and less of the personal touch being applied in our efforts today, Mr. Crocker said. The hand-to-hand work is what accomplishes the real good.

Getting the "gange of boys" interested needs real leadership. The under-privileged boys are the ones who do not have an equal chance mentally, physically, educationally or spiritually. He suggested that leaders be sent down to dig these boys out, and that the statistics showing the number of under-privileged boys in this city would be amazing. "We are not functioning as we should unless we are reaching these boys," said Mr. Crocker.

Suggest Hut on Flats

In the course of a discussion which followed, Mr. Alfred White said that there are over 500 children in the North part of Brandon who have not got a chance in life. Not one child in every 200 finished its education in the Collegiate, and that it is pretty near time that some organization touched these children. In reply to a query from Mr. White, Mr. Crocker said that it might be possible to erect some building in the North part of the city and place a man there who would be trained in the work he could do to advantage among the children and young men of the Flats.

Chas. A. Fletcher, who was chairman of the meeting said that it is to the disgrace of our government that they have an agent going among the people on the Flats urging them to buy transportation back to their own country. He said that the foreigners were getting worried over the efforts made to get them out of the country, and were puzzled at this attitude being taken.

Meeting on Monday

Finally the solution of the discussion was to leave the matter in the hands of the Rev. J. George Miller, who has called a meeting on Monday afternoon at five o'clock in the City Hall to outline some program to be followed in the work of reaching the children of this city who have not an equal chance with the others. Everyone interested in this program is being urged to attend, as the need is urgent.

The Basis of Service

Dr. R. S. Laidlaw, of Knox Church, Winnipeg, gave a splendid address on "Character, the Basis of Service." He sail that the subject of character was never so pertinent as it is today. Character values have come into the foreground in recent years. The war has brought home to us the unseen values of character in controlling life. Character was what really induced the Allies to take up the challenge of their enemies. It was a clash of ideals with ideas.

Ferment of Demands

Since the war we have a chaos across the world, which is nothing more than a ferment of character demands and impulses. The economic loss, adverse exchange value, loss of life, all made possible that men may realize that after all there is something more important in life than the mere holding of property. In the class struggle going on with all the false interpretations being placed upon it, there is an inner demand for an equitable adjustment of life. The impress on the nation today is of character potency and impulses. The educational leaders have come to realize that unless youth be shown the importance of character, that we will fail in our duty. The League of Nations will become a fond and foolish dream unless we are buttressed by the cultivation of character.

Foundation of New Era

Character is the foundation of the new era. The difficulty today is that people are not willing to pay the price to bring about the new era. "The way of Christ is the way of peace and progress," said Dr. Laidlaw. The weakness today is the lack of personal sacrifice in our efforts to make for real truths. What a man is, determines what he will do. When we retire to our secret shrine the difficulty is that we do not all worship at the same shrine. We so concentrate upon our wordly stores that we forget the Kingdom of God. If man is in earnest with himself he will make the impact of his character felt.

A man's character is shown in his work. The man who does a slovenly work is a slovenly man. The man who is determined to make a worthy contribution to the benefit of mankind is making for real character. The men who are to do the work among the boys and girls are the ones who are working for the Kingdom of God, and only lives that are animated by Christ can put it over. The social service among the boys and girls is going to test the quality of our manhood.

Worth to Community

What a man does with his personal equipment will determine his worth to the community. How do you estimate the wealthiest man in Brandon? The wealthiest men are the ones who are the most worth to the community. What is he worth as a home-maker—as a father—as a chum for the boys—as a leader for boys, these are some of the wealth factors in life. The test for the men is their worth in contributing to parenthood and challenging the nobility of character in the coming citizens.

The citizen of today must have a national outlook. Too many citizens today have a narrow outlook on life, and our contribution can never come in an narrow way. We need to understand that Canada should be linked up with the other nations in terms of contribution of Christian spirit. The new citizenship makes a mighty demand on our lives.

Emphasis on Character

There never was a time in the history of our world when we have such an emphasis placed on character value. The world is infected with the idealism of Jesus Christ. The lack today is the Christ-like spirit among our men and women. The old world will never be rebuilt until we get the spirit of Jesus Christ in our lives; we cannot build on any other foundation. We are impotent today because we do not know the spirit of sacrifice for other lives. The people of today are waiting for the contagion which comes with spiritual fellowship. There is a cleavage in classes because we are tarrying on the lower planes instead of getting on the heights with God.

There is only place of unity, one power to unify, and that is the uplift of Jesus Christ. The peace that our boys died for overseas is only possible in so far as our sacrifical life is dedicated. Our character must ring true to Him if we are to advance the world. Keep faith with Christ, as the cause for which lives have been sacrificed can only triumph as we keep faith.

NOTED ENGLISH ARTIST TO PAINT HON. J. A. CALDER

Commissioned By Saskatchewan Government To Make Life-sized Portrait

Regina, March 17.—Englis Sheldon-portrait of Hon. J. A. Calder,LL.D., formerly of Regina, has been commissioned by the Provincial Government of Saskatchewan to paint a life-sized portraiti of Hon. J. A. Calder, LL.D., Minister of Immigration. It will be placed in the Saskatchewan Legislature building at Regina, with others of those who have been notable in connection with efforts for the advancement and development of the province.

BLANKET QUARANTINE IN MANGE AREAS MAY BE LIFTED THIS SUMMER

Calgary, Alta., March 17.—The hope was expressed by W. . Stevens, the newly appointed Secretary of the Western Canada Stock Growers Protective Association, that a blanket quarantine in conection with the mange areas in the province would be lifted this Summer.

PEOPLE VOTE FOR GERMAN CONTROL IN SCHLESWIG

German Mob At Horshoel Alleged To Have Drowned Chief of Police

Copenhagen, March 18.—Latest unofficial figures relative to the plebiscite held Sunday in the second zone in Schleswig show that 13,025 votes were cast for Denmark, while 48,148 were in favor of German control. The districts of Goting, Hedhesum and Utersum show Danish majorities. Results in four districts have not as yet been learned.

A message from Tonderm, on the edge of the plebiscite area, says a German mob at Horshoel threw the local chief of the international police into the water. He has not been seen since and it is presumed he was drowned. Authorities have arrived at Horsboel to investigate the affair.

The Extrabladet's Flensburg correspondent telegraphs that early Wednesday the Flensburg Avis newspaper office was wrecked by a German mob. The correspondent says that since the result of the voting has been known the Germans have become increasingly belligerent, several Danes being threatened with shouts of "Tomorrow all Danes must leave town—we will prepare a new St. Bartholomew night."

MONTREAL BOYS AND GIRLS MUST HAVE EDUCATION

Those Under Sixteen Years of Age Must Get Certificates or Return To School

Montreal, March 18—Beginning next Monday all boys and girls in Montreal who are under sixteen years of age, and are working, must get a certificate of education from the Labor Department of the Province of Quebec. To secure this they must be able to read and write fluently.

Another regulation which will be enforced is one making it illegal for any child, educated or not, to work after eight. Newsboys are not excepted.

WOODSWORTH NOT TO BE CALLED AT PRESENT ASSIZES ON SEDITION CHARGE

Winnipeg, March 18.—J. S. Woodsworth will not be called up this assize to answer to a charge of speaking seditious words, it is announced by John Allen, Deputy Attorney-General. A stay of proceedings will be asked for by the Crown, he stated.

Indictments of speaking seditious words and seditious libel were turned in against Woodsworth at the 1919 fall sitting of the grand jury. The charge of seditious libel was dismissed by Mr. Justice Galt at the conclusion of the Dixon case, in which the evidence was similar.

DRURY BREAKFASTS IN A CHINESE 'LUNCH'

Premier Drury has so far been unable to find a house in Toronto, so he has gone to live in a big apartment house. One morning, during the recent by-elections, he had to get up early to catch a train, too early for the apartment house dining-room, which does not get down to business before 8 a.m.

But Ontario's democratic Premier did not go breakfastless to his electioneering. He had time before his train left to shoot into a quick lunch "joint" near North Toronto station, perch himself on a high stool at the counter and order a meal from a sad Celestial who knew not the identity of his quiet-voiced customer.

The Premier, believing in the axiom about a healthy mind in a healthy body, finds it hard nowadays, with the press of his official duties, to get enough exercise to make up for the exercise he used to get from his work on the farm. The other day he walked all the way from his home at Crown Hill into Barrie, a distance of six miles, in an hour and a quarter. Which is "going some," even for a Premier in the early forties, on a bad road in Winter.

Washington, March 18.—Preparing for the final vote on the ratification of the Peace Treaty he Senate today adopted the modified reservation preamble, worked out in the bi-partisan conference under which affirmative acceptance of reservations by other powers would not be required.

VANCOUVER PILOTS MAY SEE FIGHTING

Offer Services To Chinese Government To Help Suppress Conflicts

Vancouver, B.C., March 17. — Two Vancouver pilots formerly of the R. A. F.—Lieut. Charles Bayley and Lieut. A. McBride, may again take to the air in airial warfare. They are negotiating for positions with the Chinese Government in connection with efforts to suppress the Tong conflicts in the Far East.

WORKMAN KILLED WHEN COMPRESSED AIR TANK EXPLODES

Winnipeg, March 17.—William Howey, 50 years old, 492 Agnes street, was instantly killed Tuesday when a compressed air tank exploded at the A. L. MacIntyre Marble Works, Princes street at Notre Dame avenue, where he worked as a tombstone cutter. Mr. MacIntyre, the proprietor, and Edward Bullen, plumber, were in the same room at the time, but were uninjured. The room was badly wrecked.

An inquest will be held by Dr. B. J. McConnell, Provincial Coroner, Thursday night. The jury will be sworn today and the inquest adjourned until Thursday, he said.

According to the police report of the accident, Mr. Bullen had been called to the building to make some repairs on the tank, which supply air for the marble cutting drills. Mr. Howey and Mr. MacIntyre had helped him. They started the air pump to test the tank which was supposed to be able to withstand 135 pounds pressure. Before the maximum pressure was reached the tank burst, ripping out at the seam. Some repairs evidently had been made on the seam as there was a lagge piece of sodder on one of the broken edges.

The force of the explosion ripped the plaster from the ceiling, broke three windows in the room, displaced machinery and broke a hole in the side wall. Men working in the building declared that it was miraculous that all three men were not killed outright.

LARGE TRACT OF IRRIGATED LAND TO BE OPENED UP

Kettle Valley Railway To Build Track From Penticton, B.C. To Boundary

Vancouver, B.C., March 17. — Announcement is made that the Kettle Valley Railway will next year build a branch from Penticton, B.C., South to the international boundary—35 miles, thus opening a great tract of irrigated land, which will contain the largest soldier settlement area in British Columbia. The land will be devoted to fruit-growing.

SCHOOL CADETS OF SASKATCHEWAN MAKE WAR RECORD

Regina, Sask., March 17.—Saskatchewan School Cadets established a wonderful war record. Figures available now show that 1,620 cadets enlisted during the war, of whom 178 were killed and 205 wounded. Members were awarded fifty-two decorations, including one Victoria Cross.

SASKATOON TAX RATE TO BE 40.40 MILLS: PUBLIC SCHOOL RATE 15.10

Saskatoon, Sask., March 17.—This year's tax rate will be 40.00 mills, Commissioner Yorath pointed out in correction of the report that the City Council had settled on 20.20. For separate school suporters the rate of 17 would be substituted for the public school rate of 15.10 making their total tax rate 42 mills.

TO INSIST ON REVISION OF HUNGARY BOUNDARIES

London, March 18—Signor Nitti, the Italian Premier, has telegraphed the Supreme Council insisting on the revision of the frontiers of Hungary as defined by the Peace Treaty, says the London Times.

DR. ELDER RESIGNS FROM McGILL BECAUSE GERMAN PROFESSOR IS EMPLOYED

Montreal, March 18—Dr. J. M. Elder, lecturer in the medical faculty at McGill university, has resigned because a German professor is being employed by the board of governors. Dr. Elder was a colonel in the Canadian army and served in France.

HOLSTEIN RECORDS FROM OFFICIAL TESTS

During the last two weeks of February the official tests of 50 cows were accepted for entry in the Record of Merit. A class of 14 mature cows is headed by Lady Keyes Mercena with 27.89 pounds butter in seven days, followed by Ourvilla Canary Posch with 26.35 pounds and Lilly Ormsby De Kol with 26.74 pounds. Queen Colantha Dewdrop is best of the senior four-year-olds with 26.35 pounds butter in seven days, while Lady Margery has 22.64 pounds and Sadie Segis Prescott 22.37 pounds. Among the junior four-year-olds the leader is Pauline Echo Lass with 25.54 pounds; Lady Pietertje Elgin has 23.83 pounds and Home Farm Katie Lyons 22.16 pounds. It is the three-year-olds that show the outstanding performance for the fortnight. In the senior three-year-old class Belle DeKol Pontiac 2nd makes a fine showing with 30.02 pounds in seven days and 60.49 pounds in fifteen days. Woodcrest Johanna comes second with 23.09 pounds in seven days and Laningdale Mechthilde Mercena third with 20.23 pounds. Hill-Crest Rauwerd Sadie, a junior three-year-old, is high cow of this report with 31.86 pounds in seven days and 130.02 pounds in thirty days. Colantha Butter Girl 3rd is a good second with 27.86 pounds and Belle Abbekerk 2nd comes third with 22.54 pounds. May Sylvia Fayne leads the senior two-year-olds with 19.77 pounds, followed by Patsy Hengerveld with 12.94 pounds. Among the junior two-year-olds Daisy Faforit 2nd is best with 17.87 pounds, while Donview Lady Segis has 16.02 pounds and Fineview Lily Schuiling 13. 64 pounds.

Semi-Official Holstein Records

During the month of February ten cows and heifers qualified in the yearly Record of Performance test. Only two mature cows are reported, viz.: Gretqui Hengerveld Keyes with 680 pounds of butter from 16,724 pounds of milk and Daisy Posch 5th with 567.50 pounds butter from 12,804 pounds milk. Colony Poetess Korndyke is the only four-year-old of the month making 550 pounds butter from 11,621 pounds milk. The seven three year-olds all make 400 pounds of butter or better, the highest being Queen Colantha Dewdrop with the excellent record of 860 pounds butted from 19,457 pounds milk. Pauline Westport 2nd has 610 pounds butter from 13,755 pounds milk, while Pontiac Daisy De Kol has 558.75 pounds butter from 13,588 pounds milk, and Home Farm Katie Lyons 501.25 pounds butter from 11,743 pounds milk.

A New Sixty Day Champion

The world's championship for sixty days' production of milk as well as of butter in the senior two-year-old class has just been broken by the Canadian heifer, Lady Waldorf Sylvia, owned by Mr. A. C. Hardy, Brockville, Ont., whose 28-lb. record was reported recently. A recent letter from Mr. H. Lynn, manager of Avondale Farm, informs us that this heifer has now got in 66 days of her test, and that her last sixty days totalled 4,834.7 lbs. of milk containing 230.52 pounds of butter, which is a world's record by a substantial margin, displacing the former world's champion, Beauty Beets Walker Segis, owned by J. M. Hackney, of St. Paul, Minn., with 4,791.7 pounds of milk containing 219.99 lbs. of butter. The new champion is a daughter of Champion Echo Sylvia Pontiac out of the Canadian champion four-year-old, Lady Waldorf Pietje.

TO CURB ACTIVITIES OF MANY WILD CAT PROMOTERS

Hon. Wm. Sloan Introduces Measure in British Columbia Legislature

Victoria, B.C., March 17—In his bill to amend the Mineral Survey Act, Hon. William Sloan believes he has a measure that will drastically curb, if not actually bring to an end, the activities of "wild cat promoters." One of the prime objects of the bill is to ensure that money invested in mining and other enterprises will be spent in actual work and "not for the benefit of brokers and promoters whose chief interest is commission." Promoters of mining companies must not only file their prospectuses with the registrar of joint stock companies but also with the resident engineer of the district in which the mine is located. The latter official is charged to report on the truthfulness of the claims for the property as set forth in the prospectus.

ANNUAL CONVENTION OF ALBERTA EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION APRIL 6-8

Calgary, Alta., March 17.—The Annual Convention of the Alberta Educational Association will be held in Calgary, April 6-8. Sir R. A. Falconer, President of the University of Toronto, has been secured to give three addresses at this convention.

IMPORTER SELLS FINE HORSES

Ben Finlayson Disposes of Five Animals For More Than $17,000

Ben Finlayson, the well known importer of Clydesdales, has just completed the sale of five high grade horses to Western buyers, the total prices of which go over the $17,000 mark. Importing thirteen of the best Clydesdales from Scotland that he could purchase, Mr. Finlayson has disposed of all but three now from sales made in Brandon. Every horse has been sold in Brandon and the buyers have in every case shipped the animal themselves. Two of the horses sold by Mr. Finlayson during the recent Winter Fair brought $5,000 each.

The most notable of the importer's sales was of course Footprints Legacy during the Fair Week, which brought the price of $5,000. Dunure Gayman, the champion Clydesdale of the show here, has been sold to Peckover Bros. of Sperling, Man., for a price said to be $5,000 also. Tiviot Knight, the 3rd prize horse in the aged stallion class, has been disposed of to W. McLean, of Reston, while Royal Harp went to George P. Saunders, of Griswold. Bonnie Earn, the first prize four year old at the Winter Fair was sold to W. Winn, of Moose Jaw, for a splendid figure, it is reported. Altogether Mr. Finlayson's sales are said to have totalled $17,000 as the result of their showing to buyers during Winter Fair week.

It is posssible that Mr. Finlayson will keep the three horses he now has for future showings. He has had remarkable success with the Clydesdales imported from Scotland and is now considering another trip across the ocean for more horses. If his plans are carred out he may buy some geldings in Ontario and take them over to Glasgow, sell them there and return with some of the best Clydesdales that can be bought in Scotland.

OPERATIONS LIGNITE UTILIZATION BOARD TO BE INCREASED

Development of Saskatchewan Lignite Fields Means Cheaper and Better Fuel

Regina, Sask., March 17.—Interesting developments are looked for this year in connection with the operation of the Lignite Utilisation Board of Canada. The object of the Board is to develop the Saskatchewan lignite fields and give the people of the West cheaper and better fuel than is possible at the present time, as well as placing the briqueting industry on a commercial basis. The federal, Manitoba and Saskatchewan Governments have appropriated $400,000 for the use of the Board, one half of this amount to be paid by the Federal Government and one-quarter each by the two Provincial Governments.

$3,000 WORTH DOPE FOUND IN TOP OF A HEAVY DOOR

Vancouver Oriental Dope Pedlar Hides Stock In Trade In New Place

Vancouver, B.C., March 17.—In their aggressive efforts to stop the illicit peddling of "dope," local police recently brought to light a clever device employed by an Oriental named Yung in concealing his stock in trade. Persistent search of Yung's home resulted in the finding of three thousand dollars worth of drugs and hypodermic needles secreted in a huge pocket bored in the top of a heavy door.

79TH CAMERON HIGHLANDERS DO SPLENDID WORK

Winnipeg, Man., March 17. — The 79th Cameron Highlanders of Winnipeg sent 3,891 officers, N.C.O.'s and men overseas during the late war, according to Lieut.-Col. H. F. Osler, Officer Commanding. Of this number 1,189 were killed in action or died of wounds. Those receiving honors and awards totalled 368, one member being awarded the Victoria Cross.

TO WITHDRAW SPECIAL TAX ON HORSE RACING

Provincial Treasurer Says Tax Was Made Heavy So As To Be Prohibitive

Winnipeg, March 17.—Amendments to the Amusement Taxation Act, to be introduced in the Legislature by Hon. Edward Brown will withdraw the 50 cents per ticket tax on boxing bouts and racing meets. This statement was made by Hon. Edward Brown Tuesday. In the place of this tax the usual 10 per cent of the charge will be levied.

Mr. Brown stated that the reason the government placed such a heavy tax on these forms of amusement was in order to make it unprofitable to hold them, or in other words the tax was prohibitive.

Charge Patriotic Levy

Mr. Brown also stated that amendments would be introduced to the Manitoba Patriotic Levy Act and Supplementary Revenue Act. The one-half mill formerly raised for patriotic purposes will not be leved this year but amendments to the Supplementary Revenue Act will increase the levy under this measure from one and one-half mills to two mills, thereby raising the same sum of money.

Patriotic, charitable and educational institutions will still remain exempt from taxation, said Mr. Brown.

BITUMINOUS COAL DEPOSITS LOCATED AT JASPER PARK

Total Nearly 30,000,000 Tons and Are Only Three Feet Beneath Earth's Surface

Winnipeg, Man., March 17—Bituminous coal deposits totalling nearly 30 million tons, and lying within three feet of the earth's surface so that it may be loaded on cars as cheaply as gravel can be loaded in a ballast pit, have been located near Jasper Park, according to Geo. E. McDonald, general manager of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, who was recently in the prairie provinces on a business trip.

REPORT ON LETHBRIDGE NORTHERN IRRIGATION PROJECT MADE BY EXPERT

Edmonton, Alta., March 17.—That the proposed $500,000 for the construction, operation and maintenance of the Lethbridge Northern irrigation project is an extreme outside figure is discernible in the report of George C. Henderson, the United States irrigation expert employed by the Provincial Government to make a full report on the subject.

CANADIAN NAVAL UNITS TO BE LAID UP, IS RUMOR

Action Said To Have Followed Decision Reached At Unionist Caucus

JELLICOE'S PLANS

Said To Have Been Turned Down In a Decisive Manner

Ottawa, March 22.—A statement regarding demobilization of Canadian naval services will be made in the house in the next two or three days. No official announcement has yet made regarding demobilization but in authorative circles it is declared that demobilization follows the decision of the Unionist caucus held recently at which it is said the plans of Jellicoe looking to the establishment of a Canadian navy were turned down in a decisive manner by those present.

Put Caretakers in Charge

Ottawa, March 22. — Orders which will have the effect of demobilizing the 500 officers and men now engaged in the Canadian naval service; of withdrawing ships from commission and placing naval dockyards in charge simply of caretakers at the end of the present month, are reported here to have been issued by Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, the Minister of the Naval Service.

The story in circulation is that the majority of the force of officers and men now employed on ships, in dockyards and in clerical capacities in the Naval Service Department here will be disbanded by April 1st., the beginning of the new fiscal year 1920-21.

A skeleton force, it is said, will be retained until July 1st to wind-up the business of the department, laying up certain ships, sell others and close-up the yards.

It is stated that the closing of the Royal Naval College at Esquimalt was at first ordered, but that subsequently the order was countermanded.

The principal vessels of the Canadian naval service are the cruisers Niobe and Hochelaga, on the Atlantic coast, the cruiser Rainbow and the Stadacona on the Pacific coast, and a number of lesser craft, including trawlers, drifters, tenders and other auxiliary boats. The Niobe has not been in full commission for some time. The Rainbow is a small, unarmed cruiser, and certain other vessels which were employed in the mine sweeping and coast patrol services during the war are naturally not required now. Certain of these auxiliary craft, it has been reported, are to be sold.

Several members of the government, spoken to with regard to the reported action, stated that it must have been a departmental order, no action having been taken by the government. Hon. C. C. Ballantyne and his deputy are both out of the city. The news comes, however, from an apparently good source, and is confirmed by despatch from Esquimalt announcing the receipt of such orders here. The orders are said to result from the placing of only $300,000 for the naval service in the estimates for 1920-21, which are to be presented in parliament today.

The appropriation to be sought in the main estimates was limited to that amount, it is alleged, pending a decision whether or not Canada should embark on a new naval program. The Unionist caucus, however, pronounced against naval legislation during the session. The amount to be voted—$300,000—it is stated, is sufficient to carry on the present naval service until July 1st.

NO PERMANENT BARRACKS FOR POLICE THIS YEAR

No Thought at Ottawa of Moving Squadron Away From This City

It will be impossible to proceed with the building of permanent quarters for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in Brandon this year, according to information received from Dr. H. P. Whidden, M.P. His Worship Mayor Dinsdale is in receipt of a letter from the Brandon member in which Dr. Whidden states that both he and Mr. N. W. Kerr interviewed the Hon. Mr. Rowell on the subject or a permanent barracks for Brandon. The Hon. Mr. Rowell stated that it will be impossible for his department to proceed with the erection of permanent barracks here this year.

There is no intention of moving the Manitoba squadron away from this city. This fact was made plain by Dr. Whidden who states that there is no thought entertained at headquarters that any move in this direction would be made. The force will be permanently located here, and Brandon will remain the headquarters for this squadron.

Happiness is the result of being poor and respectable—according to the story books.

NEW FISCAL POLICY READY DECLARES BALLANTYNE

Will Cover Diversified Interests of Canada While Yielding Necessary Revenue

Montreal, March 22.—Announcement that a new Canadian fiscal policy is ready and that it will be presented to the House of Commons on the return of Sir Robert Borden about May 1st, was made by Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, on Saturday night in an address to members of the Canadian Workers' Federation of Returned Soldiers and Sailors, who tendered the minister a banquet in the Windsor Hotel here.

The minister intimated that the proposed tariff will not be class legislation nor a free trade policy, but one that will grant favors to none and will cover the diversified interests of Canada while yielding necessary revenue.

Discussing the question of shipbuilding, Mr. Ballantyne said that the government had not arrived at a final conclusion in regard to the building of passenger ships, but that with the completion of 62 cargo ships that part of the program was at an end.

In the course of his speech, Mr. Ballantyne said that the Dominion Steel Company would in the next few days be officially informed that the Government would take the maximum quantity of 50,000 tons of steel ship plate.

U. S. SENATOR TO SERVE JAIL TERM

Newberry Must Also Pay $10,000 Fine—Trial Lasted Eight Weeks

Grand Rapids, March 22.—Senator Truman H. Newberry was found guilty of criminal conspiracy by a jury in the United States district court here Saturday and sentenced to two years' imprisonment at Leavenworth and fined $10,000.

The case has been on trial for eight weeks, starting with 123 active defendents and finishing with 35. Sixteen of the other defendants were also found guilty and the remainder acquitted.

ALLIES MAY SEND SPECIAL MISSION TO SOVIET RUSSIA

London, March 22. — The supreme council of the league of nations is expecting an hourly reply from the Russian Soviet government giving terms on which the league's special mission will be allowed to investigate internal conditions in Soviet Russia. It is anticipated the reply will not be a refusal but that it will contain conditions that a similar Soviet mission be allowed to visit allied countries for identical purposes. The league's mission, which is to consist of ten commissioners, five representing the big allied powers and five from neutral countries, probably will be headed by Fridtjof Tansen, Arctic explorer as president. Its personnel will consist of about fifty officials who will live entirely on a special train which will be made up at Warsaw.

The Soviet government acknowledged the receipt of the league's request for carte blanche for its mission on St. Patricks Day, adding that the matter would receive its early attention.

CANADIAN FUR AUCTIONS: FIRST SKIN SOLD FOR $13,750 A BENEFIT TO UNIVERSITY

Montreal, March 23.—Sales at the opening session Monday morning of the Canadian fur auctions to be held here all this week totalled $190,473. Skins disposed of included mole, polar and black bear and mink. The first sale was that of a beaver skin, emblematic of Canada, which was auctioned off for the benefit of the Montreal University Building Fund. It brought $13,750, and this sum and the skin were presented to the university authorities.

DECREE NISI GRANTED RICHARD OGG: DIVORCE EFFECTIVE IN SIX MONTHS

Gregor Ogg has been successful in his petition for a divorce, Mr. Justice Curran having granted a decree nisi to the petitioner. Ogg petitioned for a divorce from his wife Bertha Ogg, and also asked damages against the co-respondent named. The case was heard at the recent sitting of the Spring Assizes and after hearing the evidence, Mr. Justice Curran threw out the claim for damages as against the co-respondent, but reserved his decision as to the petition for divorce. He has now granted a decree nisi to the petitioner Gregor Ogg, which means that a complete divorce will be effective six months from the date of the judge's order.

BIG REDUCTIONS IN EXPENDITURES FOR 1920-21

Minister of Finance Tables Main Estimates For Coming Fiscal Year

Ottawa, March 23.—After numerous revisions and much paring, the main estimates for the coming fiscal year were tabled by Sir Henry Drayton, Minister of Finance, in the House of Commons Monday afternoon. They provide for heavy reductions in public expenditure, as compared with the estimates of last year. Last year's estimates totalled $900,000,000; the main estimates for 1920-21 amount to $537,000,000. Included in the estimates of last year, however, was an appropriation of $350,000,000 for demobilization. The provision for demobilization in the coming year is $38,000,000. With the exception of $2,000,000 for completion of the parliament buildings at Ottawa, no provision is made for expenditure on public buildings on capital account. The government shipbuilding program is reduced from $40,000,000 to $20,000,000, but there is an increase in capital expenditure on harbor and river improvements of from $3,201,000 to $4,400,000, of which $897,000 are revotes.

FARMERS WILL OPPOSE LIBERALS IN NORTH YORK

R. W. H. Burnaby President of United Farmers Ontario, To Stand Against King

Toronto, March 23. — The farmers will oppose Hon. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, in his own constituency of North York at the next Federal elections. A convention to choose a candidate has been called for April 10th. R. W. H. Burnaby, President of the United Farmers of Ontario, will be nominated.

The action of the farmers shows distinctly that there will be no cooperation with the Liberals at all. Premier Drury, in his recent speech in the legislature, said the Liberals could not be consulted on the Farmers' movement. His ministers in the debate on the speech from the throne have shown no inclination to get closer to the Liberals although the latter, in provincial matters of any sort, have tried to "flirt with the farmers."

Mr. Burnaby succeeded R. H. Halbert, who was elected to the commons as head of the farmers. He was formerly an insurance man and is said to have "gone back to the land," with considerable wealth.

ADMIRAL BEATTY AND HIS SON

An Ensign in the American Navy, who is an expert tennis player, was invited to visit and play with Admiral Beatty, also an ardent devotee of the game. The Ensign closes an account of this visit with the following interesting paragraph:

"After tea I had a glimpse of another side. In talking to David, Jr., the thirteen-year-old son and heir of the Admiral, he told me of the stunts he is doing with mechanical toys. He took me to his playroom, where he showed me a model 'Sub' that really dived; a miniature Tiger whose turrets actually train; a baby 'tank' quite complete in detail; perfect little steel dock cranes which revolve and lift weights precisely as the big ones. The lad is an admiral in the making. He already knows as much of the Grand Fleet organization as I do, and speaks several languages. We had not been there long when in came the Admiral, quite tickled to death. He insisted that I must see everything, and, indeed, seemed as pleased with the toys as his young son. I don't blame him. He put all sorts of questions to the kid, who seldom failed in his reply. When he did, the Admiral became very stern. His whole attitude was a sort of constructive devotion. Neither his duties nor his gold lace have made him any the less chummy with the boy."

SHIMMY NOTHING TO SHADOW DANCE

With the Opportunity It Gives To Pickpockets To Ply Their Trade

New York, March 23.—Dance hall inspectors in Paterson, N.J., who embarked recently on a campaign of purification of that city by forbidding jazz and the shimmy, took another step onward and upward and promulgated an edict barring the shadow dance from dance halls. Shadow dancing, it was explained, is merely dancing with the lights turned out, and under a spot light which plays first on one couple and then another.

The inspectors said they found shadow dancing was worse than the shimmy, and also gave pickpockets, particularly women pickpockets, unusually fine opportunity to ply their trade.

COMMENT ON ACTION BY THE U.S SENATE

Liverpool, March 23. — The Daily Post, commenting editorially on the action of the United States Senate in adopting a new treaty reservation introduced by Senator Shorp, expressing sympathy for the aspirations of the Irish people and declaring the hope that Ireland would have a government of its own choosing in the near future, says:

"The American Senate has surely overstepped the bounds of good sense, to say nothing of good taste, in adopting a reservation to the peace treaty on Ireland. It has as much as said it will welcome the emergence of Ireland into full independence. That is hardly neighborly. Moreover, it is an example of the kind of inernational meddling which the Senate professes to condemn in the covenant of the League of Nations.

"At the same time the Senate's unfortunate resolutions ought to warn our own government of the serious consequences further 'shilly-shallying' with the Irish question is likely to entail. Truly the Irish question is international."

The Hayti Incident

New York, March 23. — Discussing the action of the United States Senate, in declaring for the Irish Republic the World says:

"Why should the enthusiasm of United States Senators for the principle of self-determination be suddenly exhausted when in the fullness of their hearts they have renewed the expression of their undying sympathy with Ireland.

Not for from the coast of the United States lies Hayti, where an officer in the United States uniform, with a company of marines at his back dictates to the president of the republic of Hayti the decrees that shall be issued in his name. Why did no Senator raise his voice to plead the right of self-determination for the people of Hayti?"

The amendment referred to in the Post was passed last Thursday by a vote of 38 to 36 after an all day debate was as follows:

"The United States further understands that in fulfilment and execution of the great principles of self-determination and equality of all nations prevading and underlying the covenant of the League of Nations, Great Britain will forthwith recognise the existence and political independence of the Republic of Ireland, and agree that it become a member of the League of Nations with equal representation accorded to all other sovereign and independent governments."

In Exceedingly Bad Taste

Toronto, March 23.—A special dispatch quotes the Detroit Free Press as follows:

"The Irish reservation introduced by Senator Gerry and adopted by the Senate is in exceedingly bad taste. This reservation undertakes to deal with a matter that in no wise concerns the government of the United States, however much the people of the country may as individuals be interested.

"The action of the upper house is in the direction of interference in the internal affairs of another nation, and the one excuse to be found for it is the rather outworn plea that we are a young country and have not learned to be mannerly.

"Those who voted for it ought to be ashamed of themselves, the more so since Senator Townsend is correct when he says it was offered for some purpose other than to benefit Ireland. The Irish reservation has been dragged in entirely for home consumption and as a piece of reaction politics for the garnering of votes.

"It is purely hypocritical. The Gerry reservation is not only in bad taste and hypocritical, it is also rather foolish."

UNDERWRITERS' ASSOCIATION

At a recent meeting of the Life Underwriters' Association of Brandon the following officers were elected for the ensuing year. Honorary President, Mr. J. E. Matthews. President, Mr. S. W. McCullough. Vice-President, Mr. A. C. Tanset. Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. J. T. Jordan. Executive committee, Messrs. R. H. Wright, C. Fletcher, C. King and H. L. McGill.

At this meeting committees were appointed to look after the arrangement of programs for the different meetings and enrolling of life insurance men in the association membership. It is anticipated that the year 1920 will bring good results through the working of the association.

DUCHESS TO BE FREE

London, March 23.—The Duchess of Marlborough, who was Consuelo Vanderbilt, of New York, has been granted a decree restoring her conjugal rights.

The decree is effective in fourteen days. The Duke did not contest the court action, which was believed preliminary to an action for complete divorce.

8,000 KILLED IN GERMAN REVOLT

Paris, March 23.—Eight thousand persons have been killed since the German revolution broke out on March 13th, according to advices received here. Of this number 850 were killed in Berlin alone. Berlin, despite the return of the Ebert Government to control there, still presents pretty much the aspect of an armed camp with the food supply short and sanguinary fighting occurring at intervals in the suburbs.

In the Ruhr industrial region, immediately adjoining the Allied zone of occupation, there is veritable civil war with opposing armies of Communist and Government troops drawing up their forces in line for battle. Government detachments have been defeated in some preliminary skirmishes. Leipsic has quieted down after the government victory there. Among the agricultural population in some sections of Northern Germany there is increasing unrest.

Southern and Eastern Germany are reported fairly quiet. There is a threat, however, of a renewal of the general strike in Batavia because of dissatisfaction over some of the terms of settlement.

Re-organize Reichswer

London, March 23. — Dispatches here today indicated the situation in Germany is becoming quieter. The government has re-established its authority at Kiel and Liepsic, dispatches said, and the Attorney-General has started proceedings against Dr. von Kapp and Gen. Baron von Luettwitz, the leaders of the insurrection.

One official Berlin wireless gave these terms as the agreement between labor and the government for calling off the general strike: A new cabinet will be formed with the cooperation of the unions; officials of the von Kapp insurrection will be punished; re-organization of the administration through appointment of republican officials; socialization of industry, including nationalization of mines and the potash industry; stronger measures to conserve and increase the supply of foodstuffs, prosecution of illicit trader and new agrarian measures; re-organization of the reichswehr under leadership of republican officers, with social recognition of the labor unions.

NEWBERRY AND ELECTION HELPERS ARE PUNISHED

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 23.—Truman H. Newberry, junior United States Senator from Michigan, convicted by a jury of having conspired criminally in 1918 to violate the election laws, and sentenced to two years' imprisonment and fined $10,000, has issued a statement declaring he would retain his seat in the upper house unless that body decides otherwise or the Supreme Court upholds his conviction.

Convicted with the Senator were his brother, John S. Newberry, and fifteen campaign managers, including Frederick Cody, New York, and Paul H. King, Detroit. Cody and King received the same seentence as their chief.

Charles A. Floyd, Detroit, also was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary, but he was fined only half as much as Newberry. John S. Newberry was fined $10,000, but was one of four who were not sentenced to Leavenworth. The lightest sentence went to George S. Ladd, of Sturbridge, Mass. He was fined $1,000.

Others seentenced were:

William J. Mickel, two years.

Allen A. Thompson, one year and six months.

Roger M. Andrews, one year and six months.

Milton Oakman, one year and six months.

Richard H. Fletcher, one year and three months.

James F. McGregor, one year and three months.

Fred Henry, one year and three months.

Hannibal Hopkins, one year and one day.

E. V. Chilson, one year and one day.

Harry O. Turner, $2,000 fine.

B. Frank Emery, $2,000 fine.

AMERICAN RAILWAY EXPRESS CO. TO DEMAND PREPAYMENT ON SHIPMENTS TO CANADA

New York, March 23.—The American Railway Express Company has announced that, beginning April 15, prepayment on all shipments to points in Canada will be asked, due to heavy rate of exchange.

BENSON MADE REMARK ABOUT AS SOON FIGHT THE BRITISH AS THE GERMANS

Washington, March 23. — Rear-Admiral William S. Benson, then chief of naval operations, was the official who told Rear-Admiral Sims "not to let the British pull the wool over your eyes; we would as soon fight them as the Germans," Admiral Sims testified Monday before the Senate Committee investigating the navy's conduct of the war.

BIG CAMPAIGN FOR NEW SUBSCRIBERS

Automobiles, Pianos, Gramophones, Etc., Etc., Will Be Given Away By The Brandon Sun in a Tremendous Drive For Increased Circulation—Full Particulars Will Be Published In the Course of the Next Few Days

The Brandon Daily and Weekly Sun wants more subscribers. Our circulation is not what it should be either in the city or the district. To remedy this and to give the paper the representation which it should have, we are going to inaugurate a tremendous circulation campaign. Automobiles, pianos, etc., will be given away as prizes, full particulars of which will be published within the next few days.

The Sun should be the home paper of every resident of Brandon and its environs. In addition to the current topics of the day, given in their fullest detail, much space is devoted to the news and events of the locality. Our readers are furnished with a complete resume of the happenings of the surrounding districts and combining as it does all the news both outside and local it is logically the paper of the community. Consequently we want The Brandon Sun recognized in every home in this district and we are prepared to pay liberally and well in order to gain this recognition.

A Business Proposition

One way to secure the increased circulation desired would be by making use of paid solicitors to canvass the country. The expenses involved by this method in the paying of salaries, railroad fares, hotel expeses, etc., would run into thousands of dollars. We are going to give the public the opportunity of earning this money by giving it away in the form of valuable prizes. Our campaign will make a lot more noise and with every competitor sharing in the profits we figure it will be more advantageous all around. There will be no losers as in addition to the valuable prizes, a commission of ten per cent. will be given to non-winners.

Prepare the Ground Now

Although full particulars are not as yet ready for publication, prospective competitors would be wise in beginning at once to arrange their campaign. Begin your organization at once by advising your friends and acquaintances of your plans, and in soliciting their aid, in order that when the complete details of the campaign are given out, you will be well prepared to join in the big race. In this as in the majority of cases it is the "Early bird that catches the worm."

CANADA TO HAVE REGISTERED PURE BRED POULTRY

Canadian National Poultry Association Formed at Ottawa—To Be Incorporated

WESTERN VICE-PRESIDENT

Is N. W. Kerr, of Brandon—Record of Performance of Birds To Be Kept

Ottawa, March 22. — Representative poultrymen from all parts of Canada in convention at Ottawa last week completed the organization of a Canadian National Poultry Association, to embrace the consideration of all matters tending towards the improvement and advancement of the poultry industry, and to keep a record of registered poultry and collect, preserve and publish data, information and documents relating to registration. The basis of registration to be qualification in the record of performance for poultry. Application will be made for the incorporation of the constitution and rules of entry under the Livestock Pedigree Act.

This association will be controlled by a directorate of twenty-two representatives from each province, together with the Dominion poultry husbandman and the chief of the poultry division of the livestock branch. The provincial men are representative of the poultry associations and the Departments of Agriculture. The following officers were elected:

WHY IS IT

that chronic skin diseases which have defied all other treatments yield to Zam-Buk?

It is because Zam-Buk is germicidal, and also has such power of penetration that it reaches disease in the underlying tissues and cures from the "root" up. That is the only way a permanent cure can be effected.

Mr. H. C. Buckley of 461 E. Broadway, Portland, Oregon, says: "For chronic skin diseases there is nothing like Zam-Buk. For fifteen years I had eczema, and I tried an endless number of so-called 'eczema cures,' but nothing was capable of curing me permanently until I used Zam-Buk. Ten months' use of Zam-Buk has effected a complete cure."

For ulcers, abscesses, boils, ringworm, blood-poisoning, piles, burns, scalds and cuts, Zam-Buk is equally good. All dealers or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. 50c. box, 3 for $1.25.

SUMMER AIR PATROL OF ALBERTA FOREST RESERVES

Landing Places Must Be Located and Wireless Stations Set Up

Edmonton, Alta., March 20. — The scheme to establish an air patrol of Alberta forest reserves will be put into effect during the coming Summer, according to Colonel R. H. Palmer, Chief Fire Ranger for the Northern section of the province. A patrol of the Eastern slope of the Rocky Mountains, beginning in the South, is to be carried on this year. It will be entirely experimental at first. Suitable landing-places must be located before the patrol can really be established and wireless stations will also be a necessary part of the scheme. Two machines are already on the way. The plan is that the airplanes will be used for the purpose of locating fires, the fact that a 65-mile range is possible at an elevation of 5,000 feet indicates the great usefulness of the air patrol as an addition to the other protective measures.

INDIANS TO DO FARM WORK IN SASKATCHEWAN

Regina, Sask., March 20.—The officials here are organizing a program of farm work among the Indians this year. Indications are that more land will be under cultivation than ever and the Indians will contribute no small share of the increased production of the province as a class. The livestock of the Indians has wintered well and when Spring work begins the farmers among the Indians will be ready with horses in good shape to stand the work.

FINE LAND MAY BE THROWN OPEN TO SETTLERS

Four Million Acres in Smalkameen and Kootenay Districts To Come Under Land Act

Victoria, B.C., March 20.—A bill introduced in the Legislature would bring the large area of land along the British Columbia Southern and Columbia and Western Railway Companies—4,065,076 acres—in Simalkameen and Kootenay districts, under the Land Act for administration, cancelling all existing reserves.

GRAND TRUNK DEVELOPING JASPER PARK AS A TOURIST CENTRE: TO SPEND $150,000

Vancouver, B.C., March 20. — The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway will spend $150,000 during the year in creating a tourist hotel in Jasper Park, in addition to considerable sums in tent cities and camps for mountaineers and tourists in Robson Park, it has been announced.

VANCOUVER MAY HAVE DAYLIGHT SAVING AGAIN FOR SUMMER

Vancouver, B.C., March 20. — The Vancouver City Council has formally endorsed the principle of daylight saving and will probably exercise the power of local option in adopting it, provided the legislature extends the same privilege in that respect as last year.

DIXON MAY BE MAYORALTY CANDIDATE IN WINNIPEG FOR THE YEAR 1921

Winnipeg, Man., March 20.—A local paper states that F. J. Dixon, M.L.A., may be advanced next autumn as Labor's candidate for Mayor of Winnipeg in 1921. He is considered Labor's strongest candidate for the position, it was said.

SIXTY-ONE BULLS SOLD FOR GRAND TOTAL OF $14,095

Big Storm Blamed For Keeping Both Buyers and Animals At Home

TOP PRICE OF SALE

Paid By D. A. Harper, of Hayfield, For "Excel Gomez" a Hereford Bull

The fourteenth annual sale to be held under the auspices of the Manitoba Cattle Breeders Association was concluded Thursday. The sale did not commence until 1.30 in the afternoon as many of the buyers were unable to reach the city before that time, but beyond a doubt the big storm of the first part of the week had an injurious effect on the sale. Altogether there were sixty-one bulls sold for a total of $14,095, the average being $231.65 per animal. Only eighty-nine bulls of the 153 entered came into the ring for sale.

The top price of the sale was paid by D. A. Harper of Hayfield who purchased Excel Gomez, a Hereford bull from J. C. Chapman of Hayfield. Fenton Brothers of Solsgirth, purchased several Herefords their best purchase being Petition 6th owned by W. Macdonald of Manson, Man. John Kirpatrick of Kemnay paid $675.00 for Gloster Victor, a shorthorn bull contributed by D. G. McPherson of Myrtle, Man. This was the highest price paid for a Shorthorn at the sale. E. W. McConnell of Hamiota secured Master Stroke owned by J. G. Washington of Ninga for $495 while W. H. Lucy of Elgin bought Ringmaster from George Allsion of Burnbank for $350. The highest price paid in the Aberdeen Angus class was $510 for Black Jack of Kirkfield. Clint Bennest of Brandon bought him from W. L. Parrish of Winnipeg.

The Dominion Government was a heavy buyer at the sale securing nineteen animals, principally Shorthorns. The price paid for the bulls was $3,725 or about an average of $200 each. The Indian Department of the Dominion Government also bought five animals for which they paid $940. Fenton Brothers of Solsgirth proved to be the largest of the individual purchasers.

Plan Sale Some Time in May

Following the sale, a meeting of the directors of the Cattle Breeders Association decided to put on another sale. This will probably be held during the last week in May, and will be for both bulls and females. The directors were influenced in this decision by the fact that about fifty bulls entered were not able to be here on account of storm conditions.

Many buyers who had intended attending the sale were unable to be present and therefore the directors decided to put on another sale in order to accommodate both buyers and sellers. Arrangements are now being made for this sale and if the response is sufficiently encouraging the sale will be held during the last week in May.

IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY TO USE B. C. ORES

Company Capitalized At Five Million Pounds Sterling, To Locate on Pacific Coast

Vancouver, B.C., March 20.—That a powerful British iron and steel company will locate in British Columbia and establish a complete plant for turning out all products of the industry is the word reaching Vancouver from England. Work on preliminaries connected with the firm's flotation for activity in this province has already started. The company will be capitalized at five million pounds sterling, and will work here with an established coal company having rail and water connections. Natives ores of British Columbia are to be utilized.

CLOSE UP VIEW BRILLIANT METEOR

Winnipeg, Man., March 20. — Do meteors hiss? Rev. A. J. Warwick, Anglican missionary at Shoal River, Man., asserts they do. "I was returning across the river, near the mission on this reserve when all at once there was a brilliancy through the whole air, and I turned Southward, to see a most intensely white meteor, in appearance about twice the apparent size of the planet Jupiter, and issuing from that point. Streamers of very vivid sparks trailed at all angles behind, and the whole river side was as though lighted by an electric bulb," he states. "There was one peculiarity, the sound of hissing, which was continuous, was without doubt present, along the whole course of the phenomenon; and was not supposition on my part. It was present with the light, the sparks and the meteor.

MOOSE JAW IS TALKING ABOUT CENTRAL HEATING

Brandon Only City In Western Canada Which Has This Advantage

ADVANTAGES OF SYSTEM

Confined To Business Section of City—Delegation May Visit Brandon

Moose Jaw, Sask., March 20. — A proposal by the Engineering Corporation Limited of Vancouver, to install a central heating system of this city has been brought before the City Council. While the advantages of the system are admittedly usually confined to the business section of the city, economy and the elimination of the smoke nuisance are claimed among the principal benefits of the central heating system. Brandon, Man., is the only city in Western Canada at the present time with such a system. The Light and Power Committee of the Council is considering the question, and may send representatives to view the Brandon plant.

PROF. R. C. WALLACE TO RESIGN AS COMMISSIONER OF NORTHERN MANITOBA

Winnipeg, March 20.—Hon. Edward Brown, Provincial Treasurer, stated Thursday that it was the present intention of Prof. R. C. Wallace, Commissioner of Northern Manitoba, to resign from that position at the end of the government fiscal year—November 30th, 1920. He expressed the hope that Prof. Wallace could be persuaded to continue his duties in Northern Manitoba in the meantime.

If Mr. Wallace resigns from the post at The Pas, it is understood that he will return to the faculty of the University of Manitoba, where he was formerly professor of geology.

FIRST COPIES OF MOST NEWSPAPERS CANADIAN WEST

Regina, Sask., March 20.—A scrap book compiled by the late Superintendent Routeledge of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and now in the possession of Assistant Commissioner McGibbon, is to be presented to the museum at the University of Saskatchewan. Among the host of other things, the book contains first copies of practically every newspaper printed in Western Canada. It also contains a detailed history of the Reil Rebellion in newspaper clipping form.

RETIRES AFTER FORTY YEARS SERVICE WITH THE MOUNTED POLICE

Regina, Sask., March 20.—Assistant Commissioner John McGibbon of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, will retire to civil life on April 1st of this year when he will start a six months' leave of absence which has been granted him. He has served with the force for forty years, being the 427th man to join the force.

ENGINE JUMPS TRACK

An ice-coated rail was sufficient to throw the front driving wheels of a C.N.R. engine off the tracks in Brandon Friday. The derailment occurred about two o'clock in the afternoon near the freight offices and it was nearly five hours later that the engine wheels were placed back on the track again. No one was hurt when the fore part of the engine left the track.

ATTENDANCE AT ALBERTA THEATRES

During Past Year 7,374,393 According To Statement Made In Legislature

Edmonton, Alta., March 20.—During the past year 7,374,393 people passed through the doors of the theatres in the province of Alberta, according to information given to the Legislature by W. M. Davidson, respecting theatres for Alberta. The total receipts for the theatre tax during the year 1919 was $143,926 as compared with $90,275 in 1918.

RELIEF FOR INFLUENZA SUFFERERS IN THE OIL FIELDS OF ALASKA

Seattle, March 20. — Influenza has spread among the scores of Alaskans who stampeded to the Katalla, Alaska, oil fields. The coastguard cutter Algonquin with medicine and doctors has left Juneau for the oil fields. The fields were recently re-opened when the president signed the Oil Lands Leasing Bill.

CAPT. M'CALL TO TURN RAIN MAKER

Calgary and District To Benefit Through Operations On Scientific Lines

Calgary, Alta., March 20—Rain making by scientific means and human efforts is becoming an accomplished fact, and according to the announcement made by Captain E. S. Brett, Secretary of the McCall Airplane Co., attempts to produce rain in Calgary and district will be made by Captain McCall whenever rain is considered necessary. Certain scientific lines will be followed, as already tested in South Africa and Tasmania.

LINES AGAIN CLEAR OF SNOW

Owing to the snow plow accident near Ladysmith, the C.N.R. passenger trains came in over the C.P.R. lines from Portage la Prairie Friday, transferring again on their own line here. It is reported today that the main line of the C.N.R. between Winnipeg and Brandon is now clear and that the trains are running according to schedule again.

B. C. INDIANS TO CONTINUE FISHING FOR FOOD SUPPLIES

Join In United Protest To Government Against New Fishing Regulations

Vancouver, B.C., March 20.—Indians have joined hands in protesting against the new fishing regulations. According to Chiefs Benedict and Louie James there are hundreds of aged, orphans and other tribal children who are unable to get work to buy sufficient food. "The Government,' said James, "apparently wishes to take the food from their mouths; and under these conditions we shall be within our rights to continue fishing sufficient for food.

ALBERTA FARMERS ARE BUYING SEED OATS

Edmonton, Alta., March 20.—Considerable activity in the shipment of seed oats from the Central and Northern parts of the province is reported now, the drouth-stricken areas in the South having already drawn upon local supplies for their Spring requirements. More than 300,000 bushels of seed oats have been supplied from the Dominion seed branch in Calgary in addition to what has been bought direct from farmers. The price is $1.11 for No. 1 and $1.02 for No. 2.

557 ALBERTA SCHOOLS CLOSED; NO TEACHERS

Of This Number 377 Have Been Closed Since the First of the Year

Edmonton, Alta., March 20. — Hon. George P. Smith, Minister of Education, stated in giving further information relative to educational problems in the province, that 557 schools are closed at present for lack of teachers.

VANGUARD BRITISH IMMIGRATION REACHES WEST

First Time in Six Years Enough Immigrants To Warrant Use of Special Train

Port Arthur, Ont., March 20.—Fifteen hundred immigrants—men, women and children—the vanguard of 30,000 English, Irish, Welsh and Scotch, who are coming to settle in Canada, passed through here Friday in three special trains over the Canadian Pacific Railway. They arrived at St. John on the ocean steamers Metagama, Minnedosa and Empress of France. They are all of a prosperous class and seem to be physically fit to pioneer. Every ocean steamer due to arrive in Canada from now until the 15th of May is booked ahead to carry these people, several hundreds of whom will settle in British Columbia. This is the first time in six years that there have been enough immigrants, apart from soldiers' dependents, to warrant use of a special train.

MOOSE JAW POLICE GET WAGE INCREASES

Moose Jaw, Sask., March 20.—At the meeting of the Police Commission it was decided to increase the wages of the members of the police force by ten per cent. No agreement has yet been reached with the civic employes who are demanding a twenty per cent. increase in wages.

FRESH ELECTION OR COALITION NEEDED IN SOUTH AFRICA

Manchester Guardian Thinks Labor or Hertzog May Aid Smuts

London, March 19.—Discussing the result of the South African elections the Manchester Guardian thinks there must either shortly be a fresh election or General Smits must be kept in office either by the Labor party or by General Hertzog, probably by the former who, though they have been extremists and irreconcilables, have more in sympathy with the premier than the back block Nationalists.

NOSKE GERMAN DEFENSE MINISTER ASKED TO RESIGN

Socalist Leader Asks Why Kapp Forces Were Allowed To Strangle Government

Stuttgart, March 20.—The Majority Socialists leaders here have demanded that Gustav Noske, the Minister of Defense, resign his portfolio. Herr Noske has complied by tendering his resignation to President Ebert, but the government has not reached a decision as to its acceptance and will not do so until the cabinet has considered the question. Should Noske retire, it seems probable he will be succeeded by General Von Seecht, now in command of the troops in Berlin. Dr. Schiffer, the Minister of Justice, is being mentioned for the Premiership in the proposed re-organized cabinet. Herr Noske was present at the Assembly session when Philipp Scheidemann, Majority Socialist leader and former Premier, attacked the Minister of Defense in a stirring speech and demanded a radical overhauling of the cabinet. Herr Henke, leader of the Independent Socialists, asked Herr Noske where he was when the Kapp forces had their hands at the government's throat, and why he did not "break their bones," but Herr Noske by this time had disappeared from the chamber.

'PEG PLANS TO BE AVIATION HUB WESTERN CANADA

With Airial Services To Points South, East, West and North

Winnipeg, Man., March 20.—Winnipeg is expected this coming season to become the hub of aviation in Western Canada. Preparations are being made by the local companies to run an airial service from Winnipeg to the beaches. A service between Winnipeg, Minneapolis and St. Paul will be commenced, while flights will be made almost daily to the various towns and cities within a radial distance from the city. A scheme for a service of large passenger and freight machines connecting Winnipeg with towns and cities East, West and South is being projected. Winnipeg will be the Northern station and will act as terminal, and will also be a stopping place for all trans-continental flights in Canada.

SASKATOON TRADES COUNCIL WANTS SOLDIERS AMPLY REPAID FOR WORK OVERSEAS

Saskatoon, Sask., March 20.—Trades and Labor Council decided that it could not endorse the resolution for placing an armory in the city, "until such time as the government saw its way clear to amply repay the men who were overseas fighting for us."

WINNIPEG TO HAVE

the person named in the certificate is a duly naturalized British subject.

In regard to by-elections there is the following provision: If one of the members for the electoral division of Winnipeg dies or resigns or a vacancy arises in any other way, the ballot papers on which the deceased or retiring member was elected shall be re-examined and the unelected candidate indicated as next choice on the largest number of such ballot papers, shall be elected to fill such vacancy; and in the event of such unelected candidate not being available to fill such vacancy there shall be no by-election to fill such vacancy until there shall be two or more vacancies in the representation, when the vacancies shall be filled by the holding of an election of two or more persons in the same way as at a general election in Winnipeg.

It is provided that every day on which polling takes place shall be from and after 1 o'clock in the afternoon a public holiday except in the case of a by-election in the city.

In regard to deposits, the act declares that a candidate at a general election of members to represent the electoral division of Winnipeg shall be entitled to the return of the deposit made by him if he is declared elected, or if he is marked as first choice on a number of ballots amounting to not less than one-fourth of the quota as determined in accordance with the regulations enacted by the act.

At the session of the legislature yesterday afternoon on the motion of Premier Norris, the legislature adopted a motion declaring each sitting of the house a session.

The following bills received third reading: To amend an act to validate by-law 518 of the rural municipality of Dufferin, E. A. August, Rufferin; to amend the act regulating the practice of optometry, R. N. Lowery, North Winnipeg; respecting the rural municipality of Edward, John Williams, Arthur.

Should Make Penalties More Severe

That a physician should go to jail for a second offence in addition to having his supply of prescription forms cut off, as well as a druggist who gets imprisonment in addition to having his license cancelled, was the feeling of the majority of the law amendments committee when considering the bill amending the Manitoba Temperance act last night, but final decision was deferred until today when the probability is that the law will be made a fine in both cases coupled with the cancellation of the other privileges.

George Armstrong, Manitou, and Dr. Clingan, Virden, could not see why there should be different treatment and Hon. A. B. Hudson added that a doctor who prostituted his profession in this way was worse than a bootlegger because he should know better.

When the matter comes up for consideration again Mr. Armstrong indicated that he would have re-opened for consideration a sub-section eliminated last week which would enable a physician to obtain more than the prescribed 100 prescriptions in a month under special circumstances, such as an outbreak of influenza.

Dr. Anne Young Deals With the Development of the Girl

"The Juvenile Court" was the subject of a most interesting address given by Miss E. Margaret Lowe, of Winnipeg, Western Students Secreary of the Y.W.C.A., before the members of the Canadian Club at a meeting in the Prince Edward Hotel, Monday afternoon. The Juvenile Court works against its own organs, commenced the speaker, as the main work of the court is preventative work. The court feels that it is doing the greatest work when the majority of cases can be dealt with outside the court. As the child is not altogether responsible a thorough investigation is most essential. The speaker thought the adult court should adopt some of the Juvenile Court methods for mental defectives, namely the probation system.

Miss Lowe gave an interesting description of the Juvenile Court in Toronto, where she was a probation officer. The public were not allowed in and no curious people were present, and the court room was as natural yet dignified as possible. One of the parents was always present. Various means of punishment were given such as suspended sentence, out on probation or sent to the Industrial School, according the degree of the crime. Where the home conditions were good the children were very frequently let out on suspended sentence but the worst cases were always sent to the Industrial School, where they received a splendid training and usually left the school entirely reformed. Speaking of the offences for which the children were brought before the court, the speaker said they included everything from riding bicycles on the sidewalk to theft and truancy. Boys were usually charged with theft and truancy and the girls with theft, truancy and immorality.

Each case brought before the court was thoroughly investigated and the causes for delinquency were found to be feeble minded parents, neighborhood conditions, school life or the physical condition. These cases were followed up and watched until the juvenile in question had become regenerated.

Co-operative agencies are a great help to the Juvenile Court. A detention home, a place between the court room and the Industrial School, is most essential. The speaker thought the court room should be in the detention home and should link the juveniles up with playgrounds and clubs. The churches, Y.M.C.A. and Y. W. C. A. are the agencies which can accomplish a great deal in this respect. The work of the probation officer is to see that the child is linked up with a normal natural agency. In conclusion Miss Lowe said that the parents often are glad to receive the advice of the probation officer.

Development of the Girl

Dr. Anne Young, of Toronto, Health Education Secretary of the Health Department of the Y.W.C.A. for the Dominion then gave a very instructive address on "The Development of the Girl." What we want is to improve Canada, said Dr. Young. We have much to be proud and thankful for but we have a great space for development. The Y. W. C. A. feel that they must work with the girls if we are out for a better Canada. "We want to put into the minds of the girls that they have a high standard to live up to. No nation rises higher than its womanhood and men will come up to the standard women set. We must put our shoulder to the wheel and demand that we have a higher state of morality. When our men go up for physical examination we do not want them to be turned down on account of disease."

The Health Education Department was added to the Y.W.C.A. work last year and the speaker thought it arose from finding so many men unfit for active service. "We were faced with a fact of which we were not proud."

Statistics show that in Canada 30,000 infants die yearly and that 25,000 of these deaths are preventative.

Dr. Young said that as she travels over the country she tells of the development of the girl, feeling that this will help her feel her responsibility in the world. Many crimes are committed on account of ignorance. She thought everyone should have a better knowledge of the human body, which will result in a better Canada.

In order to have healthy children they must be born healthy. If a child is not doing well at school an investigation should immediately take place. It is not always the fault of the teacher or the scholar but of some minor defect previously unnoticed.

To have our girls in good condition they must walk. Deformity of feet sometimes commences when a child wears woolen stockings which have shrunken in the wash.

Condemnation of Women's Clothing

Women's clothing came in for its share of condemnation. The Doctor emphasized the fact that women should wear sufficient clothing under garments made of gauzy material. We want a single standard of morals for men and women, and we want to blot out syphilis and venereal diseases. "We are temples of God and we must be kept clean within and without. We must promote good laws and see that they are carried out," concluded Dr. Young.

Mrs. S. E. Clement moved a very hearty vote of thanks to the speakers of the afternoon, which was seconded by Mrs. J. H. Edmison. The President, Mrs. A. Shewan presided. The meeting opened with the singing of "O Canada," with Mrs. H. M. Arnold at the piano, after which the names of the new members were read by the Secretary, Mrs. G. B. Coleman.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

SMITH-HAGGERTY

A quiet wedding took place Wednesday afternoon at the home of the groom's mother, 346 Eleventh street, when Rev. M. L. Orchard united in marriage, Miss Pauline Haggerty, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Haggerty formerly of Kemnay, and Mr. Ernest Smith, son of Mrs. Fred Smith of this city. The young couple were unattended and only the immediate relatives were present. After the ceremony a delicious supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will reside in the Humesville district where the groom is a well known farmer.

* * *

CLARK—GOULD

A marriage of interest to many Brandon people took place in Winnipeg, March 15th, at the home of the groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hazelwood, when Vera Pearl, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Clark, 228 Thirteenth street, Brandon, became the bride of Mr. Verne Gould, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Gould, of Rivers, Man. Rev. Mr. Pritchard of Greenwood Church officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Gould will take up residence at Rivers.

* * *

KNOWLTON-LAIDLAW

The marriage of one of Brandon's popular young business men to a former Brandon girl took place at Portland, Oregon, Saturday afternoon, when Edna, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Laidlaw, 595 E 52nd street N., Portland, became the bride of Mr. Bruce Knowlton of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Mulligan at the home of the bride's parents in the presence of about fifty friends of the bridal party. After spending a honeymoon at the coast Mr. and Mrs. Knowlton will take up residence in this city.

* * *

TACKABERRY-SUTHERLAND

A quiet wedding was solemnized at Knox Church Manse, Saturday, when Grace, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Sutherland, Smith Block, was united in marriage to Harold, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Tackaberry, 443 Fifth street. Rev. R. H. Lowry officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Tackaberry have taken up residence in the Smith Block.

Both the bride and groom are well known in Brandon. Mr. Tackaberry enlisted and went overseas with the 79th Battalion and was awarded the D. C. M.

ELDER—MOBBERLEY

A quiet wedding was solemnized Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. I. Elder, 237 Eleventh street, when Gertrude Silvers, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Mobberley 232 Morley avenue, Winnipeg, became the bride of William, better known as "Wis," second son of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Elder. The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. L. Orchard in the presence of the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends.

To the strains of "The Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin," played by Mr. Harold F. Kirby, of Winnipeg, the bride entered the drawing room, leaning on the arm of her brother, Mr. Jack Mobberley, of Winnipeg. During the signing of the register Mr. Kirby sang "All Joy Be Thine."

The bride was becomingly attired in a peacock blue jersey cloth costume and carried a sheaf of American beauty roses. Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served and later the happy young couple left for Winnipeg, where they will reside.

NO MORE PAPER MONEY TO BE ISSUED BY THE AUSTRALIAN GOVERNMENT

Sydney, N.S.W., March 23.—Premier Hughes announces that the Australian Government will issue no more paper money for the present. Australian experts who have studied the currency situation are firmly convinced that the restoration of a metallic basis is the only solution, and that this applies in a world-wide sense.

Mr. Hughes has promised the early introduction of a tariff adequately to protect Australian industries. At the same time it must be understood that this is a temporary measure designed to help industries to a better basis, and that ultimately they must be prepared to compete against the world.

OBITUARY

Miss Mary Reid

The funeral of the late Miss Mary Reid which was to have taken place today from St. Matthew's Church has been postponed until Thursday at two o'clock. The postponement was made necessary owing to delayed trains.

Miss Helen MacDonald

The death occurred Sunday night of Miss Helen MasDonald who was well known as Night Supervisor at the Hospital for the Insane.

Erdman Klassen

The death occurred in the city on Friday of Mr. Erdman Klassen, formerly of Altona, Man. The deceased was thirty-six years of age and was a well known farmer of the Altona district.

Mrs. Mary Jane Baker

On Friday there passed away at the General Hospital, Winnipeg, Mrs. Mary Jane Baker, beloved wife of Mr. W. H. Baker, 835 Seventh street, Brandon. The deceased had been only ill a short time and her death will be regretted by many friends in Brandon.

Raymond H. Macauley

The death occurred on Tuesday at the Brandon General Hospital, of Raymond H. Macauley, nine months old son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Macauley, 444 Fourteenth street. The cause of death was pneumonia following influenza.

C. Leachman

The remains of the late Mr. C. Leachman, formerly of the Wawanesa district, who passed away at his home last Friday, following a relapse from influenza, were laid to rest in the Union Church cemetery Sunday afternoon. The late Mr. Leachman was a pioneer of that district and was also very well known in Brandon. He was a member of the I.O.O.F. and this association looked after the arrangement for the funeral.

Frank E. Brownlee

The death occurred at Rounthwaite early this morning of Frank E. Brownlee of Unity, Sask., from pneumonia following influenza. He had only been sick a week and his death will be a shock to his many friends around Brandon and Unity where he farmed for a number of years. Mr. and Mrs. Brownlee and family have been visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Clark, and intended leaving for home this week. Besides his wife and five children he leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Brownlee, and a sister, Mrs. A. Ross of Alisa Craig, Ont., and one brother Cleve of Unity, Sask.

C. L. Lynch

Brandon friends of Mr. C. L. Lynch, who was a resident for many years in this city willl regret to learn of his death which occurred on Tuesday at Penticton, B.C. The late Mr. Lynch came to Brandon from Nova Scotia and was first employed by W. J. Young, later being junior partner in the firm of Mutter & Lynch. Owing to ill-health he left Brandon for the West in 1917 and has resided in British Columbia since that time. Death was due to influenza. The deceased was a 32nd degree Mason and a member of Lodge No. 6, I.O.O.F., Brandon. Besides his wife, he is survived by four sisters, Mrs. J. A. Kirkpatrick, Vermilion, Alta., Misses Minnie and Mary Lynch of Winnipeg, Miss Bessie Lynch of Wetaskiwin, Alta., and three brothers, Messrs. F. B. Lynch, Moncton, N.B., H. H. Lynch, Winnipeg and E. A. Lynch, Wetaskiwin.

The remains of the late Mr. C. L. Lynch were laid to rest in Brandon cemetery Sunday afternoon, the Masonic Order performing the rites and conducting the burial service at the graveside of their deceased brother.

About sixty members of Lodge No. 19 accompanied the funeral cortege from Campell & Campbell's undertaking parlors to St. Paul's Church where a large number of former friends of the deceased were waiting to pay their last tribute. Rev. J. George Miller conducted the service at the Church, the pall bearers being, Messrs. C. H. Spearin, E. Knapp, W. W. Donaldson, R. R. Steeves, Edam, Sask., an old school friend of the deceased, F. J. Wright and J. S. Laughton. Relatives and friends of the deceased who attended the funeral from outside points included, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lynch of Winnipeg, Miss M. Lynch, Winnipeg, and Mr. J. Donald, Souris, Man. Mrs. Lynch accompanied the remains from Penticton, B.C., and is the guest, while in Brandon, of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Creelman, 322 Fifteenth street.

Alex. Colquhoun

Information has been received of the death which occurred last week in Calgary, Alta., of Mr. Alex. Colquhoun, one of the best known horsemen in Western Canada. The late Mr. Colquhoun was a former resident of Brandon for many years and judged horses at both the Brandon exhibitions and many of the Fairs in the district. He is survived by four daughters, who reside in Calgary, Alta., and two sons, G. D. Colquhoun, B.A., of Strassburg, Sask., and A. R. Colquhoun of Saskatoon, Sask.

T. H. Hetherington

Mr. T. H. Hetherington of this city received the sad news Monday of the death at Vancouver, B.C., of his father, Mr. R. B. Hetherington, who passed away Sunday morning after several months illness. The late Mr. Hetherington was a former pioneer of the Douglas district, afterwards moving to Brandon where for many years he was a resident and was Governor of the Provincial Jail about 1909. Rev. A. E. Hetherington of Wesley College is a brother of the deceased.

The late Mr. Hetherington is survived by one daughter, Miss E. Hetherington at home, and six sons, Mr. T. H. Hetherington, who with Mrs. Hetherington has been making his home with the latter's mother, Mrs. J. C. Kyle, 327 Seventh street; and Messrs. George, William, Frank and Charles Hetherington of Vancouver, B.C. and Mr. A. E. Hetherington of Kerrobert, Sask.

Mrs. A. C. Hargreaves

One of the old timers of Brandon district passed away this morning in the person of Mrs. A. C. Hargreaves, aged seventy years, whose death occurred at her former home, eight miles Southeast of Brandon. Although the late Mrs. Hargreaves had suffered from rheumatism for several years she was only really ill since last Thursday and succumbed this morning to heart trouble. The announcement of her death will be a great shock to many friends in both city and district. Coming to Brandon district thirty-three years ago with her late husband, Mrs. Hargreaves was one of the few pioneer women who survived the hardships of the early days and during her many years of residence in Brandon district she was highly respected by all who knew her. She was a member of the "Busy Bees" of Brandon Hills and did splendid work for the society during the war. Six daughters and four sons survive her. They are Mrs. J. Page, of Beresford, Misses Mary, Alice, Nancy and Rae Hargreaves, of Winnipeg, Miss Esther Hargreaves, of Kinley, Sask., and Messrs. Tom and Harry Hargreaves, of Beresford, Mr. Noah Hargreaves, of Brandon Hills and Mr. Aaron Hargreaves at home.

DEATH LIST IN U. S TORNADOES STANDS AT 158

Relief Measures For 5,000 Injured and Homeless Well Under Way

MAY BE MORE DEATHS

When Reports From Isolated Districts Are All In Hand

Chicago, March 30.—The death toll in Sunday's tornadoes which ripped a path of destruction through sections of eight states, stood at 158 at noon today with fears expressed that reports from isolated regions and deaths among the injured might increase the total. The stricken communicates were emerging today from the wreckage, and relief measures for thousands of injured and homeless are well under way.

An unverified report that fifteen white persons were killed at Stovalt, Ga., is being investigated.

Chicago, March 30.—The death list of the Palm Sunday tornadoes that swept sections of eight states last night stood at 160.

Telegraph and telephone service with many isolated communities in the middle West had only been partly restored last night, and indications were that the toll of death and destruction would be augmented.

The known dead in six central Western states numbered 105, while 55 were killed in Georgia and Alabama. The property loss in the Chicago area alone was estimated at $6,000,0000 while in the other states affected the material loss was large. Elgin, Ill., suffered the heaviest property loss, the damage there being $4,000,000.

Illinois was the hardest hit of the central states with thirty dead, more than one thousand injured and two thousand made homeless.

Indiana reported 36 fatalities, and Ohio 26. Eleven were killed in Michigan and one each in Wisconsin and Missouri. The death list in Georgia was placed at 38 and in Alabama at 17.

The districts most severely affected in the Chicago area were Irving Park, within the city limits, with six dead; Melrose Park, nine dead; Elgin, eight dead; Maywood, four; and Plainfield, three dead.

Heavy property damage resulted in these towns and also in Wilmette and Evanston, North shore suburbs. No fatalities occurred in the latter places.

At Joliet, Ill., three persons were probably fatally injured, 14 were seriously hurt and the property damage was estimated at half a million dollars.

Caring for the Stricken

Troops patrolled the streets of Elgin, Melrose Park and Wilmette on Monday. Health Commissioner Robertson, of Chicago, mobilized every available surgeon and nurse and sent them to the stricken areas.

Mayor Thompson acted with the City Council in raising funds by public subscriptions, and Red Cross headquarters were opened.

In several places American legion posts sent volunteers to watch for looters and assist in relief work.

Henry J. Cox, weather forecaster for Chicago, said the tornado was the result of a combination of two storms. One developed in Alaska, travelled through British Columbia, and joined a storm from the Southwest, which developed in the arid plateaus of Southern Arizona and Nevada. This combination, Professor Cox said, resulted in a rotary motion which formed eddies and caused a tornado.

Although the tornado travelled forward at a rate of about 50 miles an hour, the wind at the core of the tornado was estimated to have had a velocity of from 200 to 300 miles an hour.

Freaks of the Storm

A number of freaks of the big storm were reported in messages received here.

In a Chicago suburb, a trunk travelled from the garret of one house and lodged in the window of another, a hundred feet away.

A lath blown from the Sacred Heart Academy at Melrose Park, Chicago, penetrated a tree seven inches in diameter, 300 feet away.

One half of the roof of St. Augustine Episcopal Church at Wilmette was cut away and carried more than three blocks, but the parsonage next door was not damaged.

A cow on a farm at North Evanston was blown across a field into a haystack. The haystack had to be torn down to free the animal.

A man and two children were eating their dinner in a portable house on the outskirts of Chicago. Suddenly the house disappeared and all three were blown into an abandoned basement sixty feet away.

At Elgin, people rushed to one of the churches for shelter. The church collapsed and four were killed.

TO PRESS FOR COMPLETION OF H. B. RAILWAY

Brandon Board Responds To Request To Send Delegate To Ottawa

The three prairie provinces are lining up strongly on the completion of the Hudson's Bay Railway and the handing over to the provinces the natural resources of each province. A delegation from the three prairie provinces is to proceed to Ottawa very shortly to take the question up with the Federal Government and the Brandon Board of Trade was asked today to appoint a delegate. As a result of the meeting held today, the Board appointed President Mr. P. A. Kennedy to proceed East with the delegation.

It has not been decided when the delegation will leave for Ottawa, but notification will be sent each member at Easter. In a letter received from the Secretary of the Board of Trade at The Pas, it is stated that the ore from thte Flinn Flonn mine is everything that was expected and that the ore will now be sent to Trail, B.C., or New Jersey. They point, however, that if the Hudson's Bay Railway was completed that the copper could be shipped direct to Swansea, Wales, and a regular trade established between the Northern country and England.

BRANDON BIRDS LEAD AT LETHBRIDGE

Kerr & McGuinness Entry of Golden Campines Do Well In West

A pen of Golden Campines owned by Messrs. Kerr and McGuinness of Brandon led all other pens entered in the egg-laying contest at Lethbridge for the number of eggs laid during the twenty-first week. The Brandon hens laid forty-five eggs and were just four ahead of the second pen. The entry of Mrs. J. Woods of Brandon was in sixth place with thirty-six eggs for the week.

In the local egg-laying contest, the pen of Anconas owned by W. H. Howe of Winnipeg is out in front with a total of fifty-one eggs laid last week. The entry from the Peerless Products is in second place with fifty eggs. In the total number of eggs laid in the twenty-one weeks that the contest has been running, the pen of White Wyandottes entered by George Thompson of Minnedosa has jumped into the lead with a total of 628, just three eggs ahead of the number laid by Thomas Lund's pen from Stonewall.

TRANSFORMATION SHOULD FAVOR THE PROLETARIAT

General Secretary of French Railwaymen Corrects Alleged Statement

Paris, March 30.—The statement crediting M. Ridegaray, General Secretary of the Federation of Railwaymen, as declarig at the congress of the General Federation of Labor here yesterday that the railroadmen must be ready for revolution May 1st, were denied today.

"What I said," he declared, "is that when it came the workingmen must make it their business to see that the social transformation should be in favor of the proletariat and not the bourgeoise."

FLOUR PLENTIFUL IN CANADA NOW

Brandon Mill Running To Capacity—Western Mills Without Export Orders

While many mills in the West have been idle for a week owing to the lack of orders, the Western Canada Flour Mills in this city has been running to capacity supplying domestic orders, and so great is the demand that the supply is distributed almost as fast as it is made. At present repair work is being done at the Maple Leaf Milling Company and no flour is being manufactured.

Mr. H. W. Wood, President of the United Farmers of Alberta stated in Calgary on Monday that he could give no indication when further export orders would be received. "Canada is pretty well filled with flour," said Mr. Wood, "while the United States has five million barrels that they cannot sell." Mr. Wood had just returned from a meeting of the Canadian Wheat Board at Montreal.

BRANDON MUST 'GET BUSY' TO GET GOOD ROADS BUILT

Provincial Engineers Soon To Start Out To Make Ready For Working Parties

BOISSEVAIN-BRANDON

Road Through To Minnedosa Would Be Boon—Need For Action

If Brandon people want the Minnedosa-Brandon and the Brandon-Boissevain roads they will have to get busy. In spite of the prolonged Winter the municipalities under the Good Roads Act are preparing for the snow to go and Provincial engineers are making preparations to leave Winnipeg with working parties for various places in the Province where work will be commenced as soon as possible. On Sunday two engineers and ten men arrived in Portage la Prairie to lay out the roads for that district. If Brandon secures the building of the two roads mentioned, this Summer, it will mean a highway from Devil's Lake, N.D., to this city and will be used by thousands of people. It will also mean a good road to this city from Minnedosa. The Brandon-Virden road has been practically decided upon by the various municipalities and may be finished this year.

It is expected that Messrs. A. C. Emmett and Davis will visit Brandon about April 9th, or shortly after Mr. Emmett returns from Ontario where he has been conferring with Premier Drury regarding a road from Kenora to Winnipeg. At a recent meeting of the Manitoba Good Roads' Association it was decided to form auxiliary good roads bodies in various districts and Brandon was named as one of the places where such an organization might be formed.

The Canadian Good Roads' Congress will be held in Winnipeg, June 1-2, and many matters of importance will be discussed at this meeting.

SINN FEINERS CONDEMN SEVEN MEN TO DEATH

Expelled Lord Mayor Maccurtain and Six Others From Inner Circles

KILL UNTRUSTWORTHY

Murderers Said To Be Sinn Feiners Acting Under Orders

London, March 30.—The Daily Mail says Lord Mayor Maccurtain and six other prominent men, who were expelled from inner circles of the Sinn Fein and condemned as untrustworthy to the cause were doomed to death. There is no doubt now in the minds of Irish officials that the murderers were Sinn Feiners acting under orders from the inner ring of the Irish Republican Brotherhood. There may be other similar cases of vengeance, as it is known that as soon as any member is known to be untrustworthy by the Sinn Feiners, he is shot by his own comrades. Maccurtain, the first to be killed, Prof. Stockley, was shot at four times, but escaped and a third man was found dead in a field at Limerick. Four others are still alive so far as known.

Protestant Rectory Bombed

London, March 30.—Bombs were exploded yesterday in the Protestant Rectory at Thurles, Ireland, and in the residence of the poor law guardian there. Both houses were badly damaged but no one suffered personal injury.

HARRY KYNMAN GETS THREE YEARS HARD LABOR: STEALS REGISTERED LETTERS

Calgary, March 30.—Spending the proceeds of stolen registered letters on slot machines was the way in which Harry Kynman, a mail carrier, got rid of his ill-gotten gains. He stood charged before the Police Magistrate on Monday with the theft of a registered letter containing $40. Accused pleaded guilty to the offence and was given three years imprisonment with hard labor.

Sydney, N.S.W., March 30.—Premier W. A. Holman has been defeated in New South Wales elections. The Assembly likely will be evenly divided between Labor and anti-Labor forces.

SOVIETS READY TO NEGOTIATE PEACE TERMS WITH POLAND

London, March 30.—George Tchitcherin, Russian Soviet Foreign Minister has notified Poland of their willingness to open peace negotiations on April 10th as Poland suggested.

McDONALD GRANTED DIVORCE FATHER NAMED CO-RESPONDENT

Fredericton, N.B., March 30.—Wm. McDonald, of Upham, Kings County was granted a divorce Monday morning in the New Brunswick Divorce Court, from his wife, Louise. His father, Richard McDonald, was named as co-respondent.

COST FOUR MILLION TO COMPLETE THE HUDSON'S BAY RY.

Track Laying Into Port Nelson Can Be Completed For $1,750,000

Ottawa, March 30.—The Commons will probably have a sort of field day on railways today. The Canadian National Railways will be the chief item on the bill of fare and the operation of these roads, together with the vote in the estimates necessary for the operation and maintenance of the system, will be discussed in detail.

When the House meets at three o'clock this afternoon, it is expected that Hon. J. D. Reid, Minister of Railways, will move to go into supply, and he will then submit his annual statement, showing the results of operation of the Canadian National system from January 1, 1919 to December 31, of the same year.

Replying to Mr. Campbell in the House Monday afternoon, the Minister of Railways said that 332 miles of steel had been laid on the Hudson Bay Railway. There were 92 miles still to be laid. The total expenditure of the railway at the end of last fiscal year was $13,890,337, and on the terminals, $6,344,499. The estimated cost of completing the track-laying into Port Nelson was $1,750,000; but to complete the railway would require $4,000,000.

ASQUITH SAYS HOME RULE BILL IS DUPLICATION

London, March 30.—Former Premier Asquith in Parliament today described the Home Rule Bill as "a cumbersome duplication of institutions and offices," adding that "from a viewpoint of efficiency, nothing can be said for it."

SECOND READING OF THE IRISH HOME RULE BILL

London, March 30.—The second reading of the Irish Home Rule Bill, was moved in the House of Commons Monday by Ian MacPherson, the Secretary for Ireland, amid an atmosphere of terseness, but with little evidence of excitement.

The Government, fearing that Sinn Fein sympathizers might make a demonstration, had caused special guards to be stationed at Westminster, but their services were not needed.

Motions for Rejection

Two motions for the rejection of the bill have been prepared, one by the Labor party and the other by former Premier Asquith. The speaker has given precedence to the former. Interest, however, centres upon the proceeding expected today when Mr. Asquith will speak against the bill and will be answered by Premier Lloyd George.

Partition Necessary

Explaining the provisions of the bill, Mr. MacPherson stated that the recent events in Ireland had only strengthened the view that an undivided Ireland was impossible.

Referring to the proposal for an Irish council, which one of the points in the bill that has been severely attacked, he said the Government was prepared to listen sympathetically to suggestions for improving the council. The Government, the Secretary declared, had acted magnanimously toward Ireland in past years. The present prosperity of the country was due to its connection with the United Kingdom, he asserted, and any secession in whole or in part could not be tolerated. It would be suicidal, he insisted, for Ireland to be separated from the Empire.

KING OF DENMARK REFUSES ACTION SOCIALISTS DEMAND

Dismisses Zahle Ministry and Refuses To Reinstate It Upon Demand

REPUBLICAN GOVERNMENT

Demanded By Crowds In Public Squares—General Strike May Be Called

Copenhagen, March 30.—King Christian announced today his refusal to comply with the ultimatum of the Social Democrats demanding the reinstatement of the Zahle ministry, dismissed by the King, and to take other action demanded in connection with the Government crisis.

Copenhagen, March 30.—Socialist and trades union representatives demand immediate reinstatement of the Zahle ministry, an immediate call for a meeting of the Rigstag, and the introduction once more of constitutional conditions in this country. If the demands are rejected a general strike of all Danish trades unions will be called. Crowds in the public squares up to an early hour this morning were raising cries for the establishment of a Republican form of government for Denmark.

King Demanded Resignation

Copenhagen, March 30.—The cabinet of Premier Zerhle resigned Monday. It was formed in June, 1913. The King demanded the resignation of the cabinet because of differences which had arisen concerning the plebiscite in the Flensberg region, and called the Liberal leader, M. Neergaard, to form a cabinet.

The progressive parties of Denmark will reply to the King's dissolution of the cabinet by proclaiming a republic, the Koebenhaven says it is rumored.

FRANCE WILL NOT STAND NONSENSE FROM GERMANY

Paris, March 30.—Assurances have been given by the German Government that it will not send into the Ruso Valley more regular troops than are allowed by the terms of the [illegible] the French press, that if the Germans violated the terms of the treaty, by sending a strong armed force into the Ruhr district, France would occupy part of the neutral zone, whether the Allies agreed or not.

Naval Brigade at Ruhr District

Berlin, March 30.—General von Lovvenfeld, at the head of the naval brigade, entered Ruhr to fight the insurgents there.

LABOR MAY DEMAND A BILL OF RIGHTS

Labor Leaders Intimate Sedition, Unconstitutional Action and Strike Rights Must Be Defined

Toronto, March 30.—The probability that Canadian organized labor will demand a "bill of rights" in which sedition, unconstitutional action and strike rights will be clearly defined is intimated by several prominent labor leaders here in a general discussion following the verdicts against the Winnipeg strike defendants. Opinion among the leaders here on the justice and legality of the verdict is divided. The moderate men say it indicates that red propaganda and One Big Union methods are no good in Canada, and only constitutional action should be undertaken by the labor movement. On the other hand the more radical laborites declare that all labor unionists must take up the fight to compel the release of the convicted men.

BRITISH MINE WORKERS MAY GO ON STRIKE

To Ballot on Acceptance of Government's Offer of 20 Per Cent. Increase

London, March 30.—The mineworkers' delegates in conference here decided upon a ballot of the members as to whether the Government's offer of a 20 per cent. increase on gross earnings should be accepted or a strike called for the three shillings minimum increase demanded. This decision was arrived at after consideration of the Government's new proposal of a 20 per cent. increase on gross earnings, with a minimum flat advance of two shillings for all workers over 18 years of age, one shilling for workers between 16 and 18 years, and ninepence for workers under 16 years.

STRIKE AT STOCK YARDS MAY TIE UP PACKING PLANTS

Throwing Out of Employment 50,000 Workers—Strike Began Monday

Chicago, March 30.—Chicago's livestock market, the largest in the country, is at a standstill today and fifty thousand packing house employes face suspension as a result of a strike f nine hundred feeders at the stockyards. An embargo has been placed on shipments.

Chicago, March 30.—Nine hundred stock handlers, cleaners and unloaders employed by the Union Stock Yards and Transit Company, began Monday a strike which tied up shipping to and from the stock yards. Packing companies' officials said if the strike continues, they will be crippled to such an extent their plants probably would have to be closed, throwing fifty thousand employes out of work.

The Chicago junction railroad, which handles the traffic of all railroad entering the stock yards, announced that no livestock would be accepted save horses. Other railroads made the embargo general.

PARKS BOARD PASS ESTIMATES

Summary of Last Year's Work Presented by Superintendent Shrives

A report on the work of the Parks Board during the past year was given by Superintendent Shrives at the regular meeting of the Parks Board held in the City Hall, Monday evening. The estimates for 1920 as suggested by the City Council for the Board were approved. The Parks Board also have decided to approve and adopt any schedule of wages and conditions that may be adopted by the City Council.

The strike interfered with the Parks Board program last year according to Mr. Shrives report, but assistance was obtained in time to get the planting and bedding of the trees carried [illegible] serious set back at the most critical time of the year, the parks were well looked after, and the boulevards put in a presentable shape. Superintendent Shrives recommends the repairing of the grand stand in Stanley Park and the resumption of band concerts in the parks. Over 9,000 plants were placed in Rideau Park, but owing to the strike, the work was somewhat held up. In connection with the City Hall grounds, Mr. Shrives points out the desirability of a new fence being erected at once.

Over 250 maples and 125 cottonwoods were planted on the boulevards as fillers, but owing to the scarcity of labor resulting from the strike about forty per cent. failed to grow. It was an utter impossibility to attend to everything at that time with a staff of two men and 9,000 feet of boulevards, three parks, greenhouse and nursery all calling for immediate attention. The work of the citizens in caring for their own boulevards during the strike was commended in the report by Superintendent Shrives, one street alone having but 150 feet of boulevard that required attention from the Parks Board. There are now over 5,115 trees planted on the boulevards of the city.

During the past year 23,500 bedding plants were propagated in the greenhouse and 22,000 of these planted in the parks and City Hall grounds, the balance spoiling through the inability of the Board to plant at the right time. the greenhouse is now proving inadequate to the City's needs, and more space is required to carry on the work. Over 375 trees were supplied from the nursery. Nearly 2,500 four-year-old maples were planted in nursery rows for future street planting. At present the stock in nursery comprises 10,000 trees, of which amount there are over 5,000 maples.

Should the city decide to macadamize some streets, the Parks Board decided on Monday that they would at that time call for tenders for boulevards. Other matters discussed were of a routine nature.

Death of Last Survivor of Confederation Parliament of Canada

Annapolis Royal, N.S., March 30.—Judge Alfred Wm. Savary, the last surviving member of the Confederation Parliament of Canada, died today.

WIDE OPEN DOOR FOR IMMIGRATION NOT DESIRABLE

Canada Can Only Assimilate a Certain Percentage of Aliens

EDUCATE FOREIGNERS

Compel Them To Observe Laws of Health and Society—Prevent Exploitation

Ottawa, March 30.—The wide-open door policy in regard to immigration, which has been followed in past years, has not been an unqualified success, Hon. Arthur Meighen, Minister of the Interior, admitted to the Commons last evening during the debate on the education of the aliens. A country, declared Mr. Meighen, can only assimilate a certain percentage of aliens within her people, in other words, the body politic can only digest a certain amount of foreigners. The importance of teaching the aliens real Canadian citizenship had not been overlooked by the Government, but education was a matter left in the hands of the provinces, and it would be better to leave this question entirely in their hands.

Dr. Michael Steel (South Perth) was the father of the resolution which occupied the House during the whole of Monday. In introducing his measure he said Canada was receiving yearly thousands of immigrants of every race and tongue, and these people were growing up without any proper conception of Canadianism. Canada had welcomed more than three million immigrants in the last twenty years and if our population in the next twenty years was to be twenty million people, it was important that the number of undesirables should be reduced to the minimum. In the prairie provinces 8.3 per cent. of the population could not speak English and seven and a half per cent. could not read or write. The census of 1911 revealed 147,228 illiterates in Ontario alone.

Must Educate Foreigner

The increase in this alien population would become a menace to Canada, and a unified dominion was im- [illegible] If these people were not [illegible] be said should be compelled to observe the law of health and society. These people were being exploited by the agitator and political agitator.

F. B. Stacey (New Westminster) declared that while Orientals had performed essential labor in certain British Columbia industries, oriental immigration in the future must be placed on a basis of national requirements and sentiment must be dropped. If British Columbia is to remain as a white man's country then there must be restrictions on oriental immigration. Mr. Stacey favored the idea of federal Canadianization to work in co-operation with the provincial school system.

J. A. Maharg (Maple Creek) said it was the exception and not the rule for an immigrant not to be desirous of becoming a good Canadian citizen. Canada was retarding the assimilation of the alien when it denied him naturalization for a period of ten years.

A. R. McMaster (Brome) made a plea for the friendly co-operation of all parties in Canada for the Canadianization of the foreign population within the Dominion.

Dr. Steel's motion was adopted.

Hundred Japs Naturalized

The Secretary of State, replying to Mr. Tobin, said that 106 Japanese, residing in Canada at present, had been naturalized. The total number of Japanese residing in Canada in 1911 was 9,021. Naturalized Chinese at present resident in Canada numbered twenty-five. In 1911 the number of Chinese in Canada was 27,774.

SOURIS TO HAVE 12-BED HOSPITAL

Colonel A. L. Young's residence at Souris will soon be transformed into an up-to-date hospital. At a recent meeting of the Souris Hospital Committee it was decided to adopt the recommendation of the Government Inspector, Mr. John MCrea, and purchase the residence for this purpose.

Good ward accommodation can be secured on the first and second floors of the building with bedrooms on the third floor. This property would have a capacity of twelve beds, and all the necessary accommodation and equipment of a modern institution.

Many Brandon people will remember Col. Young's residence, which is surrounded by such beautiful grounds and which for many years has been pointed out with pride by many Souris citizens as one of the best built, most beautiful homes in the district.

CALLS LEAGUE A HARPOON IN THE INSTRUMENT OF WAR

If It Fails Nothing Can Save Us From War, Says Ida M. Tarbell

PICTURE OF CONFERENCE

At Versailles at Which Treaty and League of Nations Were Fashioned

"The League of Nations is a good strong harpoon in the instrument of war. If we let it get away nothing in this world can save us from another war in ten or twelve years. The people must learn that we are all knit together, that nothing can happen anywhere in which we may not be involved. We must have patience and we must also have faith in our ideal."

These were the concluding remarks in the address on "Remaking the World" given by Miss Ida Tarbell, M.A., L.X., L.H.D., in the City Hall, on Wednesday evening. This was the first of three entertainments in the final program of the Lyceum course. The next program will be given by the Josephine Martino Opera Company, Wednesday night, April 7th.

Continuing her address the speaker, who was a Press representative at the Peace Conference, said in part:

"The Peace Conference began in a very high way. Human beings cling closely to ideals and never quite lose them. The nations persisted in clinging to their ideals. There was a great flame of idealism evident during the war and as time went on people began to plan a program for the years after the war. This program consisted of President Wilson's fourteen points, which were really the various ideals of the Allied Nations gathered together. There was a different administration needed for this program and the League of Nations was formed as the new instrument of administration."

Description of Peace Conference

Miss Tarbell gave a very interesting description of the arrangement for the conference. The then, President Clemenceau, presided, at his right were the representatives of the United States, on his left the British delegates and next them the Canadian representatives. She stated that the British peoples had the greatest number of delegates there. The sessions were pretty well cut and dried beforehand as the work was all prepared previously. From the journalistic viewpoint the most interesting man at the Conference was Clemenceau and next to him came Lloyd George, who seemed to be always the alert, no matter how long and tedious the sessions were. Every speech was given twice, once in English and the second time in French or vice versa. Another remarkable thing was the color of the faces around the peace table. Thirty different Nations were represented, so that there were representatives from many races present. Each Nation sent experts with its delegates. These experts being equipped to handle the many intricate problems which came up. So that the members of the conference were not only the seventy or eighty who were around the peace table but numbered altogether several thousand. The whole effect was one of dignity, there was no social side to the conference. There never was a more hardworking body than these people who met to try and arrange an everlasting peace.

Unexpected Difficulties

Committees and commissions were formed to discuss the more intricate problems before bringing them to the peace table. Many unexpected things were presented so that what at first, with the aid of the fourteen points, seemed easy, was a most difficult job. Things had to be adjusted and compromises made.

The mixed population in the various countries made it very difficult for the Conference when it came to deciding just which should have a certain amount of territory. It was wonderful the way the news spread over the world that a body of men were gathered together in Paris to help the small peoples of the world. Delegates began to arrive from many places to pray for aid and many heart-rending tales were told the representatives. It made it very difficult for the members of the Conference who could not act immediately on these people's problems.

Application Presented Difficulties

Although all nations agreed to the fourteen points, when it came to applying them there was a good deal of hedging among the delegates. Early in the conference Clemenceau said, "If we commit ourselves to this program we must be prepared to sacrifice."

France was almonk the first of the Nations to refuse. When one considered that France had suffered twice as much as Germany it was easier to understand their attitude. "France is a dead place. I stood on Vimy by the monument in memory of the brave Canadians and as far as I could see there was not even a stone to show that there had once been a house in that vicinity." Part of France did not realize the desolation until the war was over and then they wanted Germany to pay.

These many discussions developed two things. The cynics boasted that the world could not be run by ideals. Then there was the radical revolutionary point of view. The people who wanted to run the world by revolution instead of evolution. The men who in spite of all the difficulties put the program through did a noble piece of work.

Treaty and League

In the end the Treaty of Versailles was obtained. This treaty has the League of Nations back of it. It is built around the League and cannot be separated. The League of Nations is obligated to correct mistakes in the treaty as they come up. The League was made to bring about a permanent peace and there never was such a League formed to keep the peace. The machine is now moving and the Council is about to hold its third session. Nine different nations are represented, the United States is not yet represented, but they will come in at last.

Tribute to Press

Mrs. S. E. Clement, President of the Local Council of Women, presided and in a short address prior to her introduction of the speaker, expressed the appreciation of those present for the splendid lectures and concerts which have been brought to Brandon by the efforts of the business men who secured the Lyceum course for this city. She also paid a splendid tribute to the press and to the work done in this connection by Miss Tarbell, who as an editor and special writer has accomplished much along these lines.

In honor of Miss Tarbell one verse of "My Country 'Tis of Thee" was sung at the conclusion of the program and this was followed by the singing of the National Anthem. Mrs. W. L. Birnie acted as pianist.

WESTERN MEMBERS PREPARE QUERIES ON H. B. RAILWAY

J. A. Campbell, of The Pas, To Ask Many Questions in the House, Friday

TO ASK TRANSFER

Of Natural Resources of Prairie Provinces From Federal To Provincial Government

Ottawa, March 25. — (Canadian Press).—Western members who have been gathering strength for their fight to secure the completion of the Hudson Bay Railway this year, have lined up a series of questions to be raised in the House Friday. They have also framed the resolution for the order paper, which resolution was decided upon at a well attended meeting of themselves last week.

[illegible] of The Pas, who has been very active in organizing the effort, stated Wednesday night that they hoped to get the discussion opened in the House during the earlier part of the next week. They want to settle it before the Easter recess, although they will not press for this.

The list of questions goes fully into the history of the construction end of the project, while the resolution after pointing out that the road, if left in its present unfinished state would mean the loss of many millions of dollars, states that over one-half of the $30,000,000 worth of land set aside to be disposed of in the manner stipulated have been sold for cash. It calls upon the Government to lay the ninety-two miles of steel necessary to complete the project this year, also to be ahead as far as possible with such other work as may be necessary to put the road in proper shape for operation.

Wants Resources Transferred

A series of questions dealing with the transfer of natural resources of the three prairie provinces to the provincial government from the federal authorities are to be asked in the Commons on Friday by J. A. Campbell, member for The Pas.

Mr. Campbell asks if Sir Robert Borden made a pre-election promise in 1911 that if he were successful he would have the transfers of the resources made. He also asks if such promise or pledge contained any stipulation or change regarding terms of transfer; whether such promise has been carried out; if not, why not; if parliamentary action is necessary to carry out such promise or pledge; if so, will parliamentary action be taken at this session and if this promise is being fulfilled, "as soon as possible."

To Prepare Easter Recess

A resolution coming from Sir George Foster to the Commons Friday asks that the House adjourn from Thursday next to Tueday of the following week for Easter recess.

Questions before the Commons on Friday will deal with the number of Japanese and Chinese in Canada. A further question will seek to ascertain the number of Indians and Indian reserves, also the scope of the latter.

TRANSFERRING CONVICTS FROM EDMONTON PENITENTIARY

Edmonton, March 25.—Seventy-five convicts from the Alberta penitentiary left Edmonton Tuesday over the Canadian National Railway for Prince Albert in a special train consisting of two cars and a baggage car, where they will be imprisoned to serve the remainder of their sentence.

FEAR FRANCHISE ACT MIGHT HURT ORGANIZED FARMERS

By Prohibiting Their Organizations From Contributing To Political Funds

Toronto, March 25.—The proposed Federal Franchise Act occupied the attention of the delegates to the annual convention of the Canadian Council of Agriculture here Wednesdan, and it was the expressed belief of the council that clause ten of the new act would interfere with the legitimate political activity of organized farmers.

Clause ten provides that no company or association, unless incorporated for political purposes may contribute to political funds.

It was the opinion of the council that any organization incorporated or otherwise, should be permitted to contribute to political funds but that in all cases the source of such contributions should be made known before an election takes place.

John F. Reid, M.P., Yorkton, Sask., and John A. Maharg, M.P., Moose Jaw made statements to the convention which were backed up by telegrams from the West to the effect that the clause as drawn would prevent contributions by farmers' organizations to campaign funds for political purposes. The fear was expressed that the clause might even debar the Canadian Council of Agriculture from issuing campaign literature, as this would be for "political" purposes.

Rural Credits Approved

A committee was appointed to investigate the whole banking situation of Canada, to report at a subsequent meeting of the council.

Rev. J. G. Shearer, superintendent of the Presbyterian Social Service Council asked the Council of Agriculture to support the movement to prohibit commercial betting; to make it a criminal offense for an employer in a home, restaurant or laundry to seduce a female employe under 21 years of age; to abolish the age of consent in the case or reeble minded females and to make it an offense against the law for a man and woman to register at an hotel as man and wife when not man and wife.

R. W. E. Burnaby, Jefferson, Ont., president of the United Farmers of Ontario, was elected President of the Council of Agriculture at its closing session. Roderick McKenzie, of Winnipeg, was elected Vice-President and the [illegible] were chosen on the executive committee: G. A. Maharg, M.P., Moose Jaw; Peter Wright, Myrtle, Man.; G. W Chipman, and C. E. Rice Jones, both of Winnipeg.

C.P.R. TO FLOAT SPECIAL NOTES IN NEW YORK

Amount Said To Be $12,000,000—Two Syndicates of Financiers Conduct Negotiations

New York, March 25.—According to the Sun and New York Herald, the Canadian Pacific Railway is issuing twelve million dollars of special notes which are to be handled by New York bankers. The Sun says:

"Two syndicates of United States bankers conducted active negotiations with the Canadian Pacific Railway for the purchase of $12,000,000 equipment trust notes and the meeting held in Montreal was protracted.

"The questions at issue were maturity and rate of exchange, difficult matters to solve in connection with the negotiations. It was assumed that the equipment notes would bear 5½ per cent. interest."

At the New York office of the Canadian Pacific Railway it was said that nothing was known of the reported deal. At the offices of the financial companies mentioned in the story no statement was obtainable, it being announced that any official announcement in connection with the reported deal would come from Montreal.

PASTMASTER'S JEWEL TO REV. G. E. LOUGHEED

At a joint meeting of the Orange Lodges of Brandon held in the Orange Hall Tuesday night the presentation of a Past Master's Jewel was made to Rev. G. E. Lougheed, Immediate Past Master of the Loyal Orange Lodge 2035, County Chaplain of Brandon County and Grand Chaplain of the Grand Orange Lodge of Manitoba. Mr. Lougheed has rendered many years of service in the Order and is one of the most active members of Brandon Lodge. The presentation was made on behalf of those present by the Past County Master.

During the evening degree work was put on when several candidates were initiated into the first degree.

SHORTHORN BULL BRING $1,000 AT CALGARY SALE

Sale Prices Ran All the Way From $80 To $1,000

Calgary, Alta., March 25.—The high water mark in prices at the annual bull show now on here, was reached when Lavender Ringmaster VIII, first reserve champion, and owned by Harry Heard, of Lacombe, was knocked down for $1,000 to W. Lyons, of Didsbury. Lavender Ringmaster is a fine type of Shorthorn, red with white marking and star. He was born June 14, 1918.

The next highest price was $750, paid for Tranby by R. McLean of High River. Tranby is a Shorthorn, owned by C. G. Beeching of Dewinton.

Roy Hamer, of the cattle branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, is present at the sale with the intention of buying several hundred bulls, and made some purchases, including Limdum Marquis for $260, and three of the Fowler herd, Prince Northman, Will Northman and Hugh Northman. The first two sold for $180 apiece and the latter for $265.

John Reynolds, from Waterhole, in the Peace River district purchased Baron Sultan, a roan Shorthorn, for $500. The Department of Indian Affairs, Regina, took Lone Birch Champion for $225 and Atlas for $255. W. L. McAlister, of Dalroy, paid $450 for Model Chief, from the herd orf A. H. Bolton, of Lacombe.. Other sales ranged from $80 to $200.

JAPANESE FUR DEALERS MAY SEND SKINS TO CANADA

Representative of Japanese Government Watches Sale To Weigh Its Importance

Montreal, March 25.—Keishi Ishino, representing the Japanese Department of Agriculture and Commerce, was present at the fur auction sales Tuesday. He states that if his report is favorable a proportion [illegible] the great Siberian fur catch, now controlled by Japan will probabl find its way to the next Canadian fu rauction. M. Ishino states that the outlet through Russia being closed Japanese dealers were taking full advantage of the situation. During the year 1919, he said [illegible] $1,000,000 worth of furs out of Siberia and had sent them to various sales at London, New York, and St. Louis. If the Montreal sale is a success Japan will send part of her catch here in the future.

DEATH OF MRS. HUMPHREY WARD

London, March 25.—Mrs. Humphrey Ward, the novelist, died of heart disease Wednesday in a London hospital.

HORSES MAY BE BANISHED FROM DENVER STREETS

Denver, March 25.—Denver is to banish the horse from her streets if a bill now before the City Council becomes a law. No horses, cattle, sheep or swine may, after January 1, 1925, be kept within the city limits or driven on the streets.

REFUSE TO ASSIST SCHOOL OFFICIAL AND ARE FINED

Plum Coulee, Man., March 25.—David Loewen, Daniel Loewen, William Loewen, Abram Loewen, Gerh Loewen and Bern Loewen, all farmers living in the Mennonite village of Hamburg, two miles North of Plum Coulee, were fined twenty-five dollars and costs here Wednesday by Magistrate C. C. Milen, of Morden, for refusal to comply with the provisions of the Manitoba School Act.

E. H. Dewart, of Winnipeg, official enumerator for the Plum Coulee school district, testified that the accused refused to give him information as to their children of school age. Mr. Dewart will, in the course of a few days, endeavor to obtain the desired information, and the magistrate advised the accused that for the next offence the fine would be one hundred dollars.

The village of Hamburg has had its own private school for many years, but has lately been brought into the Plum Coulee school district, and supported by the leaders of the old church, of which they are members, the Hamburgers refuse to have anything whatever to do with the public school.

SUCCESS OF FRENCH LOAN

Paris, March 25.—Unofficial figures of the amount subscribed to the peace loan places the total at between 15,000,000,000 and 16,000,000,000 francs. There is a larger proportion of currency than in the former loans.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION IN SASKATCHEWAN

To Assist Vocational Education Which Includes Technical and Commercial Courses

Regina, March 25.—Within a day or two Premier Martin will affix his signature to the proclamation putting into force the first vocational education act passed by the Saskatchewan Legislature. All of the preliminary steps have been completed. While he was in Ottawa last month, Premier Martin signed an agreement with the educational authorities there covering the Dominion grant to this province for the encouragement of vocational instruction in the schools. The agreement was forwarded here to receive the seal of the province and has now been returned to Ottawa. The Superintendent of Education, who has been working for some time on the regulations to be prescribed by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council under the Provincial act, will have them ready shortly.

$50,000 Grant

The grant received by this province from the Dominion Government will amount to approximately $50,00, and for every dollar of this grant the Provincial Government must appropriate another dollar for the same purpose. The purpose of the Dominion grant is to encourage and assist vocational education, which is defined to include both commercial and technical education among the provinces.

Local Option

The Provincial act is very liberal in its provisions. It leaves to each town, district and high school district, whether it will adopt vocational education or not. It reads:

"With the approval of the minister the board of trustees of a town district or of a high school district may provide for the instruction of pupils in the following classes of schools:

"(a) Day schools, which shall have an independent organization or be constituted as a department of an existing educational institution, the purpose or such schools or departments being to train adolescents for greater efficiency in industrial pursuits and for the duties of citizenship.

"(b) Evening schools, in which adolescents and adults may receive theoretical and practical instruction in such occupations as they may be engaged in during the day."

Committee

Anr where a district elects to conduct vocational courses in its school, ample representation on the governing committee is assured to the various classes [illegible] community to justify the [illegible] courses will have the [illegible] party support of the entire citizen body. The committee is to be composed as follows:

"To assist in the establishment and management of any school or department organized under this act there shall be appointed annually a Vocational Education Committee with the powers hereinafter specified. This committee shall be composed of ten members, four of whom shall be nominated by the board, three by the members thereof; of the remaining members three shall be employers of labor and shall be nominated by the council; the remaining three shall be employes and shall be nominated by such local organizations as the board may determine.

"The members of the committee shall be British subjects and shall be ratepayers of the district."

SIX COLORED MEN WERE ARRESTED IN CEMETERY AT HAMILTON, ONTARIO

Hamilton, March 25.—Detectives here arrested six colored men at the cemetery, where four of them had been acting as pall bearers at a funeral. hTey and two women, who acted as housekeepeers for the men, were charged with vagrancy and remanded for one week, at the request of the crown. The police think they know something about the robbery of two jewelry stores here recently. Some of the jewelry has been recivered.

AMERICAN RHODES SCHOLARS TO VISIT IN BEST ENGLISH HOMES

London, March 25.—Fifty American Rhodes scholars, residents in Oxford University, have been invited to spend their Easter vacations in English homes, in order that they may gain a more intimate insight into English family life. POLITICAL FUTURE OF LLOYD GEORGE

Outlook Declared To Be Black—Repudiated by Liberals and Labor

London, March 25.—Whether Lloyd George will survive the present governmental crisis, is the question of the hour here. The Premier has been engaged with his political advisers in an effort to find a way out of an obviously difficult situation.

Rumors of a general election were afloat following the publication in the Daily Mail of an editorial in reply to Lloyd George's "Fears of Socialist Peril" statement, headed "Labor Will Govern, Why Not?"

The Premier's position is conceded to be increasingly untenable. Eighteen months ago the little Welshman was the nation's great hero, the man who had won the war. Today, rejected by both Labor and Liberal parties, he is searching for a program that will unite behind him the scattered efements of modern opinion. Unless such is forthcoming, he stands with his single slogan, "Down with Socialism."

Better Organization Needed

London, March 25.—J. L. Gravin, discussing in the Observer Premier Lloyd George's political future, said that the Premier is convinced that with better organization for the coalition the recent counts of the by-elections could be reversed and if the confidence of the country were so demonstrated the Premier would prefer to postpone the dissolution for a couple of sessions. He would then appeal to the country with the biggest program of achieved work behind him that any parliament has ever accomplished and with an equally strong program for the future.

INQUIRY INTO TREATMENT WOUNDED U. S. SOLDIERS

Washington, March 25.—An inquiry into the treatment of wounded soldiers by the Federal board for Vocational Education will be started by the House Education Committee Monday. A list of thirty-nine witnesses was called Tuesday, the list having been submitted by the New York Evening Post, which printed articles charging mistreatment of wounded men.

BRANDON HARDWARE

CALLS LEAGUE A HARPOON IN THE INSTRUMENT OF WAR

If It Fails Nothing Can Save Us From War, Says Ida M. Tarbell

PICTURE OF CONFERENCE

At Versailles at Which Treaty and League of Nations Were Fashioned

"The League of Nations is a good strong harpoon in the instrument of war. If we let it get away nothing in this world can save us from another war in ten or twelve years. The people must learn that we are all knit together, that nothing can happen anywhere in which we may not be involved. We must have patience and we must also have faith in our ideal."

These were the concluding remarks in the address on "Remaking the World" given by Miss Ida Tarbell, M.A., L.X., L.H.D., in the City Hall, on Wednesday evening. This was the first of three entertainments in the final program of the Lyceum course. The next program will be given by the Josephine Martino Opera Company, Wednesday night, April 7th.

Continuing her address the speaker, who was a Press representative at the Peace Conference, said in part:

"The Peace Conference began in a very high way. Human beings cling closely to ideals and never quite lose them. The nations persisted in clinging to their ideals. There was a great flame of idealism evident during the war and as time went on people began to plan a program for the years after the war. This program consisted of President Wilson's fourteen points, which were really the various ideals of the Allied Nations gathered together. There was a different administration needed for this program and the League of Nations was formed as the new instrument of administration."

Description of Peace Conference

Miss Tarbell gave a very interesting description of the arrangement for the conference. The then, President Clemenceau, presided, at his right were the representatives of the United States, on his left the British delegates and next them the Canadian representatives. She stated that the British peoples had the greatest number of delegates there. The sessions were pretty well cut and dried beforehand as the work was all prepared previously. From the journalistic viewpoint the most interesting man at the Conference was Clemenceau and next to him came Lloyd George, who seemed to be always in the alert, no matter how long and tedious the sessions were. Every speech was given twice, once in English and the second time in French or vice versa. Another remarkable thing was the color of the faces around the peace table. Thirty different Nations were represented, so that there were representatives from many races present. Each Nation sent experts with its delegates. These experts being equipped to handle the many intricate problems which came up. So that the members of the conference were not only the seventy or eighty who were around the peace table but numbered altogether several thousand. The whole effect was one of dignity, there was no social side to the conference. There never was a more hardworking body than these people who met to try and arrange an everlasting peace.

Unexpected Difficulties

Committees and commissions were formed to discuss the more intricate problems before bringing them to the peace table. Many unexpected things were presented so that what at first, with the aid of the fourteen points, seemed easy, was a most difficult job. Things had to be adjusted and compromises made.

The mixed population in the various countries made it very difficult for the Conference when it came to deciding just which should have a certain amount of territory. It was wonderful the way the news spread over the world that a body of men were gathered together in Paris to help the small peoples of the world. Delegates began to arrive from many places to pray for aid and many heart-rending tales were told the representatives. It made it very difficult for the members of the Conference who could not act immediately on these people's problems.

Application Presented Difficulties

Although all nations agreed to the fourteen points, when it came to applying them there was a good deal of hedging among the delegates. Early in the conference Clemenceau said, "If we commit ourselves to this program we must be prepared to sacrifice."

France was almonk the first of the Nations to refuse. When one considered that France had suffered twice as much as Germany it was easier to understand their attitude. "France is a dead place. I stood on Vimy by the monument in memory of the brave Canadians and as far as I could see there was not even a stone to show that there had once been a house in that vicinity." Part of France did not realize the desolation until the war was over and then they wanted Germany to pay.

These many discussions developed two things. The cynics boasted that the world could not be run by ideals. Then there was the radical revolutionary point of view. The people who wanted to run the world by revolution instead of evolution. The men who in spite of all the difficulties put the program through did a noble piece of work.

Treaty and League

In the end the Treaty of Versailles was obtained. This treaty has the League of Nations back of it. It is built around the League and cannot be separated. The League of Nations is obligated to correct mistakes in the treaty as they come up. The League was made to bring about a permanent peace and there never was such a League formed to keep the peace. The machine is now moving and the Council is about to hold its third session. Nine different nations are represented, the United States is not yet represented, but they will come in at last.

Tribute to Press

Mrs. S. E. Clement, President of the Local Council of Women, presided and in a short address prior to her introduction of the speaker, expressed the appreciation of those present for the splendid lectures and concerts which have been brought to Brandon by the efforts of the business men who secured the Lyceum course for this city. She also paid a splendid tribute to the press and to the work done in this connection by Miss Tarbell, who as an editor and special writer has accomplished much along these lines.

In honor of Miss Tarbell one verse of "My Country 'Tis of Thee" was sung at the conclusion of the program and this was followed by the singing of the National Anthem. Mrs. W. L. Birnie acted as pianist.

WESTERN MEMBERS PREPARE QUERIES ON H. B. RAILWAY

J. A. Campbell, of The Pas, To Ask Many Questions in the House, Friday

TO ASK TRANSFER

Of Natural Resources of Prairie Provinces From Federal To Provincial Government

Ottawa, March 25. — (Canadian Press).—Western members who have been gathering strength for their fight to secure the completion of the Hudson Bay Railway this year, have lined up a series of questions to be raised in the House Friday. They have also framed the resolution for the order paper, which resolution was decided upon at a well attended meeting of themselves last week.

J. A. Campbell, of The Pas, who has been very active in organizing the effort, stated Wednesday night that they hoped to get the discussion opened in the House during the earlier part of the next week. They want to settle it before the Easter recess, although they will not press for this.

The list of questions goes fully into the history of the construction end of the project, while the resolution after pointing out that the road, if left in its present unfinished state would mean the loss of many millions of dollars, states that over one-half of the $30,000,000 worth of land set aside to be disposed of in the manner stipulated have been sold for cash. It calls upon the Government to lay the ninety-two miles of steel necessary to complete the project this year, also to be ahead as far as possible with such other work as may be necessary to put the road in proper shape for operation.

Wants Resources Transferred

A series of questions dealing with the transfer of natural resources of the three prairie provinces to the provincial government from the federal authorities are to be asked in the Commons on Friday by J. A. Campbell, member for The Pas.

Mr. Campbell asks if Sir Robert Borden made a pre-election promise in 1911 that if he were successful he would have the transfers of the resources made. He also asks if such promise or pledge contained any stipulation or change regarding terms of transfer; whether such promise has been carried out; if not, why not; if parliamentary action is necessary to carry out such promise or pledge; if so, will parliamentary action be taken at this session and if this promise is being fulfilled, "as soon as possible."

To Prepare Easter Recess

A resolution coming from Sir George Foster to the Commons Friday asks that the House adjourn from Thursday next to Tueday of the following week for Easter recess.

Questions before the Commons on Friday will deal with the number of Japanese and Chinese in Canada. A further question will seek to ascertain the number of Indians and Indian reserves, also the scope of the latter.

TRANSFERRING CONVICTS FROM EDMONTON PENITENTIARY

Edmonton, March 25.—Seventy-five convicts from the Alberta penitentiary left Edmonton Tuesday over the Canadian National Railway for Prince Albert in a special train consisting of two cars and a baggage car, where they will be imprisoned to serve the remainder of their sentence.

FEAR FRANCHISE ACT MIGHT HURT ORGANIZED FARMERS

By Prohibiting Their Organizations From Contributing To Political Funds

Toronto, March 25.—The proposed Federal Franchise Act occupied the attention of the delegates to the annual convention of the Canadian Council of Agriculture here Wednesdan, and it was the expressed belief of the council that clause ten of the new act would interfere with the legitimate political activity of organized farmers.

Clause ten provides that no company or association, unless incorporated for political purposes may contribute to political funds.

It was the opinion of the council that any organization incorporated or otherwise, should be permitted to contribute to political funds but that in all cases the source of such contributions should be made known before an election takes place.

John F. Reid, M.P., Yorkton, Sask., and John A. Maharg, M.P., Moose Jaw made statements to the convention which were backed up by telegrams from the West to the effect that the clause as drawn would prevent contributions by farmers' organizations to campaign funds for political purposes. The fear was expressed that the clause might even debar the Canadian Council of Agriculture from issuing campaign literature, as this would be for "political" purposes.

Rural Credits Approved

A committee was appointed to investigate the whole banking situation of Canada, to report at a subsequent meeting of the council.

Rev. J. G. Shearer, superintendent of the Presbyterian Social Service Council asked the Council of Agriculture to support the movement to prohibit commercial betting; to make it a criminal offense for an employer in a home, restaurant or laundry to seduce a female employe under 21 years of age; to abolish the age of consent in the case or reeble minded females and to make it an offense against the law for a man and woman to register at an hotel as man and wife when not man and wife.

R. W. E. Burnaby, Jefferson, Ont., president of the United Farmers of Ontario, was elected President of the Council of Agriculture at its closing session. Roderick McKenzie, of Winnipeg, was elected Vice-President and the following were chosen on the executive committee: G. A. Maharg, M.P., Moose Jaw; Peter Wright, Myrtle, Man.; G. W Chipman, and C. E. Rice Jones, both of Winnipeg.

C.P.R. TO FLOAT SPECIAL NOTES IN NEW YORK

Amount Said To Be $12,000,000—Two Syndicates of Financiers Conduct Negotiations

New York, March 25.—According to the Sun and New York Herald, the Canadian Pacific Railway is issuing twelve million dollars of special notes which are to be handled by New York bankers. The Sun says:

"Two syndicates of United States bankers conducted active negotiations with the Canadian Pacific Railway for the purchase of $12,000,000 equipment trust notes and the meeting held in Montreal was protracted.

"The questions at issue were maturity and rate of exchange, difficult matters to solve in connection with the negotiations. It was assumed that the equipment notes would bear 5½ per cent. interest."

At the New York office of the Canadian Pacific Railway it was said that nothing was known of the reported deal. At the offices of the financial companies mentioned in the story no statement was obtainable, it being announced that any official announcement in connection with the reported deal would come from Montreal.

PASTMASTER'S JEWEL TO REV. G. E. LOUGHEED

At a joint meeting of the Orange Lodges of Brandon held in the Orange Hall Tuesday night the presentation of a Past Master's Jewel was made to Rev. G. E. Lougheed, Immediate Past Master of the Loyal Orange Lodge 2035, County Chaplain of Brandon County and Grand Chaplain of the Grand Orange Lodge of Manitoba. Mr. Lougheed has rendered many years of service in the Order and is one of the most active members of Brandon Lodge. The presentation was made on behalf of those present by the Past County Master.

During the evening degree work was put on when several candidates were initiated into the first degree.

SHORTHORN BULL BRING $1,000 AT CALGARY SALE

Sale Prices Ran All the Way From $80 To $1,000

Calgary, Alta., March 25.—The high water mark in prices at the annual bull show now on here, was reached when Lavender Ringmaster VIII, first reserve champion, and owned by Harry Heard, of Lacombe, was knocked down for $1,000 to W. Lyons, of Didsbury. Lavender Ringmaster is a fine type of Shorthorn, red with white marking and star. He was born June 14, 1918.

The next highest price was $750, paid for Tranby by R. McLean of High River. Tranby is a Shorthorn, owned by C. G. Beeching of Dewinton.

Roy Hamer, of the cattle branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, is present at the sale with the intention of buying several hundred bulls, and made some purchases, including Limdum Marquis for $260, and three of the Fowler herd, Prince Northman, Will Northman and Hugh Northman. The first two sold for $180 apiece and the latter for $265.

John Reynolds, from Waterhole, in the Peace River district purchased Baron Sultan, a roan Shorthorn, for $500. The Department of Indian Affairs, Regina, took Lone Birch Champion for $225 and Atlas for $255. W. L. McAlister, of Dalroy, paid $450 for Model Chief, from the herd orf A. H. Bolton, of Lacombe. Other sales ranged from $80 to $200.

JAPANESE FUR DEALERS MAY SEND SKINS TO CANADA

Representative of Japanese Government Watches Sale To Weigh Its Importance

Montreal, March 25.—Keishi Ishino, representing the Japanese Department of Agriculture and Commerce, was present at the fur auction sales Tuesday. He states that if his report is favorable a proportion of the great Siberian fur catch, now controlled by Japan will probabl find its way to the next Canadian fu rauction. M. Ishino states that the outlet through Russia being closed Japanese dealers were taking full advantage of the situation. During the year 1919, he said Japan had taken $1,000,000 worth of furs out of Siberia and had sent them to various sales at London, New York, and St. Louis. If the Montreal sale is a success Japan will send part of her catch here in the future.

DEATH OF MRS. HUMPHREY WARD

London, March 25.—Mrs. Humphrey Ward, the novelist, died of heart disease Wednesday in a London hospital.

HORSES MAY BE BANISHED FROM DENVER STREETS

Denver, March 25.—Denver is to banish the horse from her streets if a bill now before the City Council becomes a law. No horses, cattle, sheep or swine may, after January 1, 1925, be kept within the city limits or driven on the streets.

REFUSE TO ASSIST SCHOOL OFFICIAL AND ARE FINED

Plum Coulee, Man., March 25.—David Loewen, Daniel Loewen, William Loewen, Abram Loewen, Gerh Loewen and Bern Loewen, all farmers living in the Mennonite village of Hamburg, two miles North of Plum Coulee, were fined twenty-five dollars and costs here Wednesday by Magistrate C. C. Milen, of Morden, for refusal to comply with the provisions of the Manitoba School Act.

E. H. Dewart, of Winnipeg, official enumerator for the Plum Coulee school district, testified that the accused refused to give him information as to their children of school age. Mr. Dewart will, in the course of a few days, endeavor to obtain the desired information, and the magistrate advised the accused that for the next offence the fine would be one hundred dollars.

The village of Hamburg has had its own private school ror many years, but has lately been brought into the Plum Coulee school district, and supported by the leaders of the old church, of which they are members, the Hamburgers refuse to have anything whatever to do with the public school.

SUCCESS OF FRENCH LOAN

Paris, March 25.—Unofficial figures of the amount subscribed to the peace loan places the total at between 15,000,000,000 and 16,000,000,000 francs. There is a larger proportion of currency than in the former loans.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION IN SASKATCHEWAN

To Assist Vocational Education Which Includes Technical and Commercial Courses

Regina, March 25.—Within a day or two Premier Martin will affix his signature to the proclamation putting into force the first vocational education act passed by the Saskatchewan Legislature. All of the preliminary steps have been completed. While he was in Ottawa last month, Premier Martin signed an agreement with the educational authorities there covering the Dominion grant to this province for the encouragement of vocational instruction in the schools. The agreement was forwarded here to receive the seal of the province and has now been returned to Ottawa. The Superintendent of Education, who has been working for some time on the regulations to be prescribed by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council under the Provincial act, will have them ready shortly.

$50,000 Grant

The grant received by this province from the Dominion Government will amount to approximately $50,00, and for every dollar of this grant the Provincial Government must appropriate another dollar for the same purpose. The purpose of the Dominion grant is to encourage and assist vocational education, which is defined to include both commercial and technical education among the provinces.

Local Option

The Provincial act is very liberal in its provisions. It leaves to each town, district and high school district, whether it will adopt vocational education or not. It reads:

"With the approval of the minister the board of trustees of a town district or of a high school district may provide for the instruction of pupils in the following classes of schools:

"(a) Day schools, which shall have an independent organization or be constituted as a department of an existing educational institution, the purpose or such schools or departments being to train adolescents for greater efficiency in industrial pursuits and for the duties of citizenship.

"(b) Evening schools, in which adolescents and adults may receive theoretical and practical instruction in such occupations as they may be engaged in during the day."

Committee

Anr where a district elects to conduct vocational courses in its school, ample representation on the governing committee is assured to the various classes [illegible] community to justify the [illegible] courses will have the united and hearty support of the entire citizen body. The committee is to be composed as follows:

"To assist in the establishment and management of any school or department organized under this act there shall be appointed annually a Vocational Education Committee with the powers hereinafter specified. This committee shall be composed of ten members, four of whom shall be nominated by the board, three by the members thereof; of the remaining members three shall be employers of labor and shall be nominated by the council; the remaining three shall be employes and shall be nominated by such local organizations as the board may determine.

"The members of the committee shall be British subjects and shall be ratepayers of the district."

SIX COLORED MEN WERE ARRESTED IN CEMETERY AT HAMILTON, ONTARIO

Hamilton, March 25.—Detectives here arrested six colored men at the cemetery, where four of them had been acting as pall bearers at a funeral. hTey and two women, who acted as housekeepeers for the men, were charged with vagrancy and remanded for one week, at the request of the crown. The police think they know something about the robbery of two jewelry stores here recently. Some of the jewelry has been recivered.

AMERICAN RHODES SCHOLARS TO VISIT IN BEST ENGLISH HOMES

London, March 25.—Fifty American Rhodes scholars, residents in Oxford University, have been invited to spend their Easter vacations in English homes, in order that they may gain a more intimate insight into English family life. VALUABLE STRING OF PEARLS WAS TOY FOR INFANT

Postman Found $7,500 Worth In Street—Gave Them To Baby

New York, March 25.—John C. Carson, a postman, was making his round when he saw "a bright trinket" on the pavement in front of the Hotel Majestic, Central Park West and 72nd street.

"Something for the baby to play with," said the postman. He picked it up and went on delivering mail.

Shortly before this a woman had called at the hotel with a package addressed to Mrs. L. T. Lazard, one of the guests, and insisted upon getting a receipt for a necklace valued at $7,500. Mrs. Lazard was out at the time and when she came in was notified of the package and accepted it.

Taking it with her unopened, she left the hotel, but returned in a few moments highly excited, declaring that the necklace was not in the package. House detectives got busy and soon found a passerby who said he saw a postman pick up something from the sidewalk. Trailing the mail carrier the detectives went to his home at No. 566 Amsterdam avenue.

"Sure, I picked up something," said Carson. "I thought it was just some bright trinket. The baby has it in the kitchen now."

Detectives found the baby playing with the necklace, which was promptly returned to its owner.

Mrs. Lazard at once sent Carson a check for $100 as reward.

JOINT COUNCIL OF INDUSTRY TO BE SET UP

According To Provincial Legislation With or Without Labor and Employers

Winnipeg, March 25.—With or without the co-operation of the employers and the employes, the Government by amendments to the Industrial Conditions Act, will provide for the creation of the joint council of industry as a semi-judicial mediatory body before which all labor disputes will be thoroughly investigated, before a strike or a lockout can take place, it was announced officially Wednesday. The joint council was not set up during 1919, although the Industrial Conditions Act providing for it was passed at the last session of the house, because the necessary co-operation between the government and labor and the employers could not be brought about. Under the former act, it was necessary for both employers and employes to nominate men to be chosen as members of the joint council, and because these nominations were never forthcoming, the government was unable to set up the council.

The amendments to be given a second reading, on motion of Premier Norris, according to official sources of information, provide that the Government shall set up the council whether co-operation is given by labor and the employers or otherwise.

Premier Norris declined to give any particulars concerning the amendments, and stated furtner that collective bargaining in its technical sense would not be defined in the amendments. There is every possibility, however, that a clause will set forth that labor can organize for all lawful purposes.

The amendments will also provide that it shall be illegal for a strike or a lockout to take place until the dispute has been brought before the joint council and a decision made.

TIMES THINKS DUAL LANGUAGES IN CANADA A SOURCE OF STRENGTH

London, March 25.—The Times, in an editorial, sympathizes with Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux's views expressed at a luncheon on the bi-lingual problem in Canada, but it regards as unsound his analogy between the attitude of some British Canadians towards the French speaking fellow subjects and Germany's language policy in Alsace and Poland. The paper thinks that the existence of two languages in the Dominion might be a source of strength rather than a weakness, and it finds difficulty in understanding why hindering regulations should be made.

FLYNN GRATUITY PROPOSALS ENDORSED BY PETITIONS TO MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENT

Ottawa, March 25.—Supporters of the Flynn gratuity proposals almost flooded the Commons with petitions, there being half a dozen from Toronto alone introduced in the House by Sir A. E. Kemp and H. H. Hocken. Several thousand names were attached to the petitions.

There would be fewer old bachelors if single man were not allowed to associate with married men.

TECHNICAL SCHOOL DISCUSSED BY SCHOOL BOARD

Committee Appointed To Go To Winnipeg To Wait on Minister of Education

$10,000 A YEAR

Estimated Cost of Upkeep—Teachers To Be Paid Half Bonus Before Easter

A discussion of a technical school for Brandon and the appointment of a special committee to interview the Minister of Education next week was the main feature to a special meeting of the School Board called for Tuesday night. Mr. R. B. Vaughan of the Agricultural Extension Service was present and explained fully the proposition as put forward by the Dominion and Provincial Governments and urged the erection of the technical school here. The cost of such a school would be approximately $100,000 he stated, which would include the building and equipment. The School Board decided to take the matter up further and appointed a committee of three to go to Winnipeg next week and take the matter up with the Minister of Education.

During the evening it was stated by the members of the School Board that the Brandon teachers would be paid the first half of their bonus before the Easter holidays. There was a short discussion on the question as to whether an increased schedule should be given the teachers commencing the new term or whether the bonus system should be employed. It was stated that the teachers preferred the bonus system, as an expression to this effect had come from the Teachers Association through one of the officers. However, the School Board did not take any stand in the matter, although they showed a preference for the increased schedule instead of the bonus system.

Explanation of Scheme

R. B. Vaughan of Winnipeg in setting forth the scheme which the Government has for the erection of technical schools, stated that Brandon is really an ideal city for such a school. Among the vocations which could be taught in the school here and which would really cater to the needs of the city would be wood work, the manufacture of gas tractors and engines, electrical work, commercial courses, women's work and manual training. He said that he had interviewed many of the employers in Brandon and that they were all quite enthusiastic over the scheme and were willing to assist the school in every way. Some of the firms had already promised to give many prizes for work turned out in the school while one of the wood work concerns in Brandon has offered to buy all the work done by the students in certain lines. A survey showed that there are about forty boys ready now to enter a wood work school while there are twenty or more apprentices willing to commence study in a gas engine school.

Building to Cost $100,000

A plan of the building was then given by Mr. Vaughan which would cost about $100,000. It would be three storeys in height and have a basement. He stated that it would mean at least an annual expenditure of $10,000 for maintenance and upkeep. Mr. Vaughan was of opinion though that the establishment could be self-supporting in a few years, while he said that many outside students would come to Brandon for the courses which would be put on in the technical school.

Dr. Condell said that a building costing $100,000 was about four times as large as they had originally intended it should be, and that the proposition was a large one. Mr. Maxwell said that it was a very desirable feature and should be introduced at once. If the Government gives the necessary assistance he believes that the project would have the support of the citizens. Mr. Maxwell suggested the drawing up of plans and submitting them to the Provincial Government and ask them to state what the maintenance and cost would be for five years. If the Government is willing to pay the cost of the school it is certainly a splendid opportunity for the citizens of Brandon, declared Mr. Maxwell.

It was finally decided to appoint a committee composed of Dr. Condell, J. H. Matthews and J. S. Maxwell to go to Winnipeg and interview the Minister of Education and find out how far the two Governments are willing to assist the School Board in the building and maintenance of a technical school here.

Bonus for Teachers

The question of when the bonus cheques for the teachers were to be paid was brought up and it was decided that separate cheques should be made out and half of the bonus paid at once as per the original agreement. It was stated by one member that the teachers would prefer the bonus system being put into effect at the commencement of the new term instead of an increased schedule. Later it was stated that this intimation came through one of the officials of the Teachers Association. There was some discussion from the Board as to this proposition but nothing was decided although many members expressed themselves as against the bonus system and favoring the increased schedule.

School Estimates $150,000

The estimates for the year were placed at $150,000. This is about the same amount as was expended in 1919, the amount for that year being over $149,000. The City Council will therefore be asked to levy the amount of $150,000 in this year's taxes for school purposes.

For Supervised Play

Rev. J. George Miller and Mr. Paul Ames appeared before the School Board and stated that an organization now on foot to promote recreation among the boys, would be glad to cooperate with the Board in the playground work. They extended an invitation to the members of the Board to be present at a meeting to be held Friday night at which the organization will be proceeded with.

Dr. Condell said the School Board is most desirous of fostering such a movement as presented by Mr. Miller. He said it was the intention of the Board to undertake playgrounds work this Summer, and that plans were being made now for the supervision of the work by Physical Instructor Black. The intention is to give Mr. Black his holidays in June and have him on hand to conduct playground work during the Summer holidays. The School Board, through Dr. Condell, stated its willingness to further the playgrounds interests, and Messrs. Magee, Marlatt and Dr. Spiers were appointed as a committee to be present at the meeting in the City Hall on Friday night.

KING GEORGE HOLDS FIRST LEVEE SINCE 1914

London, March 24.—King George's first levee at St. James Palace since 1914, held Monday, was a brilliant affair. The King drove in semi-state from Buckingham Palace, being escorted by household cavalry. A feature of the function was the presentation of a number of representatives of new states, including Finland, Poland and the new republics of the Balkans. Dr. St. Hamer, German charge d'affaires here, was presented by Earl Curzon, British Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, and in turn introduced the members of his staff.

COMPETITION IN SCRAPPING SHIPS OF WAR

London, March 24. — The Duke of Devonshire arrived in London just in time to preside over the Canada Club dinner to Sir Auckland Geddes, the new British ambassador to Washington.

In the course of a speech at the dinner, Rt. Hon. Walter Hume Long, the head of the admiralty, remarked that the Imperial Parliament had not only refused to build new vessels, but had actually scrapped glorious ships.

"The time has arrived," continued Mr. Long, "when we should enter into new competition, not in regard to the size of armaments, but into the reduction of armaments. I am a believer in the League of Nations, but we who have great possessions and above all are the real security for the freedom of the world, cannot agree now to abandon all our protective armament."

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION COUNCIL ASSISTS AT INSTITUTE MEETINGS

Rev. R. O. Armstrong, Field Secretary of the Religious Education Council of Manitoba, was a visitor in the city today. He has just returned from a trip to Kenton and Harding where he attended Institute meetings on Monday and Tuesday. Interest shown in Sunday School work is very encouraging in that vicinity and despite unfavorable roads the meetings were well attended. Rev. Mr. Armstrong was assisted by Rev. Mr. Wallace, Rev. Mr. McCortney and Rev. Mr. Colpitts.

While in Brandon Mr. Armstrong conferred with local leaders about some special work for Brandon under the Religious Educational Council which has lately been organized to take the place of the former Sunday School Association and which gives evidence of being a much more aggressive and helpful organization.

The Tuxis boys of Harding gave a very successful luncheon at the Institute there on Tuesday evening. This organization was formed just a few months ago as a result of the Boys' conference held in Brandon, and is doing a splendid work in the Harding district.

It was proposed at the meetings that a general convention be held some time in June to discuss a better organization of all the Sunday Schools. Mr. Donald Patterson of Kenton was appointed convenor of a committee to arrange for a district convention.

TWO PEOPLE WERE KILLED AND OTHERS WOUNDED IN RIOTS

Situation in Ireland Grows More Serious Daily—Soldiers Quell Riot

Dublin, March 24.—One of the two persons killed in Tuesday night's riot here was a woman, Margaret Dowling, a domestic servant. The other was an unidentified young man. Several persons were wounded, including one of the soldiers, who was shot through the hand.

The conflict, according to one correspondent, had its origin in the boisterous conduct of the party of soldiers who had been attending a performance in the Theatre Royal. On leaving the theatre they attracted the attention of numerous civilians by their conduct and a steadily growing crowd followed them towards the barracks. When they approached the vicinity of South Richmond street the firing began. After a few shots had been fired the soldiers entered their barracks, but soon reappeared, it is declared, firing several volleys, as the result of which the fatalities occurred.

Official reports issued by the military and police do not say that the soldiers entered their barracks and then returned to fight the crowd. One hundred and twenty soldiers were in a serious melee with civilians when a patrol wagon was sent from the barracks to assist them, according to the official reports. Four soldiers were wounded, one of whom has a bullet wound in the chest.

Affect Irish Situation

London, March 24.—The murder of Thomas MacCurtain, lord mayor of Cork, Ireland, will have a profound effect upon the entire Irish situation, political observers believed Tuesday. In the opinion of many the government's position has been weakened.

Irish sympathizers said Tuesday's tilt in the house of commons is only the beginning of new and more bitter debate on the government's attitude toward Ireland. When the Irish question came up in the commons late yesterday, T. P. O'Connor, Irish Nationalist member for Liverpool, asked if it was not true that the military searched MacCurtain's home immediately after the lord mayor was shot to destroy evidence of the crime.

Ian MacPherson, chief secretary for Ireland, indignantly characterized O'Connor's suggestion as "monstrous." It was the duty of the military authorities, he said, to investigate the crime.

Open charges that MacCurtain was killed by the police were made by Jeremiah MacVeagh, who characterized the lord mayor's assassination as a "police murder." MacVeagh's charges threw the commons into an uproar.

Armored Cars Escort Judges

Dublin, March 24.—Armored cars, police with drawn swords, and an infantry guard wearing helmets, escorted judges of the assizes court at Galway to the court house Tuesday. One justice, in addressing the grand jury, said there had been four murders, two robberies with arms, and many other crimes, such as shooting in the houses, since the last assizes.

The major-general in command at Cork, in a letter to the press of that city, expressed his regret that it was necessary for the soldiers to search the MacCurtain home immediately after the murder. The general was acting under orders, however, he declared.

SIMS' EVIDENCE STARTS ARGUMENT

Washington, March 24. — Virtual chaos existed in the navy department at the time the United States entered the war, Captain Harris Laning, assistant chief of the bureau of navigation during the war, told the senate investigating committee today. He said no one knew what to do after the plan of action submitted by the bureau of operations had been disapproved and that the personal characteristics of the secretary of the navy often made it impossible to get approval of important policies.

Washington, March 24. — The controversy started by Rear Admiral Sims' criticism of the Navy Department's conduct of its war activities, was broadened last night by the effort of the War Department to deny some of the admiral's statements regarding the land forces.

General Tasker H. Bliss, American representative in the Supreme War Council, not only denied categorically that he had recommended the brigading of United States troops with foreign armies, as testified by Admiral Sims, but declared "the truth is exactly the reverse."

General Bliss made his denial in a letter to Secretary Baker, who transmitted it, together with a copy of the original order assigning General Pershing to command the forces overseas, to Secretary Daniels, and he, in turn, sent both on to Chairman Hale of the senate naval sub-committee at the same time making all the correspondence public.

Senator Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, read an unsigned letter, found in Admiral Sims' file, urging that American troops passing throughout Great Britain be brigaded with the British forces. He called the document "British propaganda," and said it was part of English organized efforts to prevent the formation of a separate American army. Admiral Sims replied that while he had not written the letter, he objected to having it called propaganda and said it was "purely good military reasoning," and "what Bliss recommended."

Cross-examination of Rear Admiral Sims was concluded by the Senate Committee.

Criticism of Sims

Admiral Sims was charged by Senator Pittman with a desire to turn over the whole American navy to the British during the war, regardless of protection of the coasts of the United States and with having "favored the French or British policy, certainly not the American policy, of sending raw, untrained troops to France."

"The testimony before this committee proved to my satisfaction that you relied very largely on the British admiralty for your opinions and recommendations," declared Senator Pittman. "You talked freely to Americans abroad during the war of your belief that the American expeditionary force transport system had broken down and on November 9th, 1918, you still thought General Pershing's supply arrangements behind the Argonne front had broken and you never expected him to succeed there."

"That is the worst kind of rot," retorted the admiral. "No officer of my experience, not to say record, would allow himself to be governed by any such policy."

PAY ONLY FOR VALUE RECEIVED

YOU cannot judge gasoline by price—only the miles produced per gallon count.

So called gravity tests mean nothing—Gasoline quality depends primarily on its range of boiling points. In fact the only measuring rod for gasoline efficiency is the adjustment of its range of boiling points.

Imperial Premier Gasoline has the complete chain of boiling points to give quick starting when the engine is cold, quick pick-up and gives more power, more speed and more miles per gallon.

PRESIDENT WILSON WILL VETO KNOX PEACE RESOLUTION

Is "Standing Pat" For the Versailles Treaty Or Nothing

Washington, March 24. — President Wilson will veto the Knox resolution declaring a state of peace with Germany, or any other measure congress may pass in an effort to bring about peace without ratification of the treaty of Versailles, it was learned Tuesday.

The President is "standing pat" for the Versailles treaty or nothing. His only concession will be, as previously announced, negotiations of "modus vivendi" agreements with the allies and Germany to preserve American rights under the Versailles treaty until the people express their wishes in the presidential election.

Wilson's Candidacy Uncertain

No move is expected to come from the White House until congress has acted on the Knox resolution. The president, it is believed, desires first to veto this measure and then to announce that the treaty fight is in the campaign. Whether this will be followed by announcement of his own candidacy for a third term is still problematical, depending largely upon the advice of his physician, Dr. Grayson.

There may be some delay in the resumption of the fight over peace, because Congress is prone to wait until President Wilson shows his hand before acting on the Knox resolution. Meanwhile, the president is steadily taking more and more of a hand in the preparations for the Democratic national campaign.

The present situation leaves Attorney-General Palmer in a predicament. He announced his candidacy when the "all clear" signal was given from the White House. Now that the possibility of the President himself being the Democratic nominee is again being discussed, Mr. Palmer finds himself obliged to go a bit lightly with his campaign plans, until the situation is clarified. If President Wilson becomes a candidate, the Attorney-General will be expected to withdraw from the race at once and announce that he will support the President.

GOLD FOUND ON SASKATCHEWAN FARM

Moose Jaw, March 23.—What an analysis reveals to be nothing less than gold has been located on the farm of W. Andre, ten miles West of Alsask.

The find was made recently by George Egstead, who had an analysis made of what appeared to be a gold nugget which he had located there, and it was pronounced to be gold. When his belief was confirmed, Mr. Egstead filed a creek claim at the Dominion Lands Sub-Agency at Alsask and Mrs. Egstead has also acquired a placer claim.

SINN FEIN LEADERS NOW UNDER GUARD

Cork, March 24.—More troops and Royal Irish Constabulary have been sent here, and empty houses at strategic points have been occupied by military and police. The Sinn Fein organization is maintaining secret watches and guards to protect its leaders, some of whom are reported to have received threatening letters.

SELF CONDEMNATION

The American papers and people are the severest critics of the Senate's action on the Peace Treaty and on many phases of the war effort. Regarding Benson's statement about fighting the British or any one else the New York Tribune has the following comment:

Admiral Sims has named the high official who told him: "Don't let the British pull the wool over your eyes. It is not your duty to pull their chestnuts out of the fire. We would as soon fight the British as the Germans."

The man who made these extraordinary statements was Admiral W. S. Benson, Secretary Daniels' chief of operations, the officer responsible for the handling of the fleet. They were made twice in Washington, just before the admiral started for London, war having not yet been declared, and a third time, substantially, in Paris six months later, when the United States was a co-belligerent.

The obvious primary role of the American navy was to co-operate with the British fleet in maintaining the blockade of the German coast and in checking the devastations of the enemy submarines in the "war zone." How could a whole-hearted effort to co-operate in this critical task be expected of a strategist who even six months after war had been declared was still harping on the idea that he would as soon fight on one side as the other.

Admiral Sims' disclosures put a staggering burden on the President, on Secretary Daniels and on his chief naval adviser. Can they break the force of the case of inefficiency and indifference in the conduct of the war which the Sims hearings have so convincingly built up? The honor and zeal of the United States as a co-belligerent have been impugned. Surely no American will be proud of a record which will say to the future that in one conspicuous case responsible agents of our government said one thing in public and quite another in private.

FREEZING OUT THE WEAK

Here is an eloquent table, compiled from four successive numbers of the American Newspaper Annual and Directory:

	1917	1918	1919	1920
Dailies	2,866	2,604	2,562	2,528
Weeklies	17,168	16,599	15,735	14,959

This table tells its own story. It is a story of how the pressure of war-time costs, of print paper and materials and labor, have gradually frozen out the weaker newspapers, so that from year to year their numbers are growing fewer.

The number of dailies fell off sixty from 1917 to 1918, forty-two more from 1918 to 1919, and thirty-four more from 1919 to 1920; a total of 136 dailies gone in three years.

But still more tragic is the mortality in the ranks of the weekly papers, because the local paper serves a high purpose, too, and is a great power for good in this land.

Here, too, a steady loss is shown: a falling off of 569 from 1917 to 1918, of 864 from 1918 to 1919, and of 776 from 1919 to 1920—a total loss of 2,209 in the three years.

In 1916 there were in Canada and the United States 11,692 towns in which newspapers were published. This year there are only 10,983 towns with newspapers. In four years 704 towns have lost their last newspapers, and now remain without even the humblest country weekly to voice their aspirations to growth and development.

The war piled up the heavy cost of newspaper living that has made the period one of struggle for all newspapers, and that has become a fatal burden to these 138 dailies and 2,207 weeklies—with, unhappily, more to come because so far no relief is in sight. Indeed, so far as newspaper cost of living is concerned, now that the war is a year and a half over it is still at its highest peak and growing higher.

A REVOLUTIONARY PROPOSAL

The Farmers' Government of Ontario is no respecter of persons or of institutions. It has declared against the silk stockings formerly worn on state occasions by the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province, although he is a rich man and can well afford them. It has wrested the sword of state from his side, and presumably will beat in into a pruning-hook. The Government is not satisfied with its attack upon the dignity of the person Now it is on the warpath against one of our oldest and most firmly-established institutions. It is going to shear the Government of the cherished privilege of dissolving the Legislature and appealing to the people at the most convenient, and, presumably, most favorable opportunities. Provision is going to be made for elections at stated periods of four years.

Are we to understand from this decision that a government may survive defeat in the Legislature and cling to power until the expiration of the statutory term of its office, although it may have behind it merely a minority of the representatives of the people? If that is the case, says the Victoria Colonist, then indeed an axe will be laid at the root of the tree of our system of responsible government. That would be almost a sensational departure from the procedure that has characterized the British system of government and has developed from precedent to precedent for hundreds of years. Is it possible that Premier Drury, a man of such high ideals, has unfolded this plan for the purpose of covering his own particular case? His Government, as it stands, is supported alike by what amounts to a minority in the House and by a very substantial minority indeed in the country. If the Conservatives and the Liberals unite against it it may be defeated any day in the Legislature, and this very proposal is one calculated to create unity of action on the part of the opposition. Does it propose under such circumstances to retain power for four years and administer the affairs of the Province as though it had, as required by practice, the confidence alike of the majority of the Legislature and of the constituencies? If such be its intention, there will be a fine furore throughout all Canada.

BELGIUM'S WORTHY EXAMPLE

Belgium bids fair to set as illustrious an example to the world at peace as when the Germans offered them dishonorable peace or terrible punishment. Belgium is coming back. The workers are now returning to pre-war activities with as fine a spirit as they showed when the Huns rushed for France. Only a small percentage of the population is receiving government aid.

Immediately following the signing of the armistice the farmers returned to the methods of intensive cultivation with which they had long been familiar, and the 1919 crops were almost as heavy as those of 1913. The coal output is about ninety per cent. of the pre-war standard. Those factories that had been operated during the war, and others that were able to secure machinery to replace that taken to Germany, have set about producing goods. Even the steel and cotton industries which were very hard hit by the war and the destructive and plundering proclivities of the Huns, are beginning to feel the mighty throb of renewed life. Of the machinery transported to Germany, about 50,000 tons has been returned, much of it damaged.

The Belgians are showing rare good sense in turning without delay to productive effort. In this respect the little kingdom is leading the other nations of Europe. In peace as in war, Belgium performs notable service in the cause of civilization.

DISQUIETING SYMPTOMS

Recent news dispatches from Germany concerning the failure of the Germans to obey the terms set forth in the Peace Treaty, both as regards disarmament and demobilization, are most disquieting. The fact that the Kapp rebellion was an accomplished fact before the outside world had any knowledge of it, shows that we are in dense ignorance as to what is going on in that land with which we were so recently at war. Now comes the account that there are 3,500 field guns in the district near Berlin.

There are many things which point to the conclusion which military leaders have long held, that the end of hostilities came too soon. The Germans had not experienced the bitterness of defeat in the field, of destroyed and ruined towns, the desolation that war on German soil would have left. They appear to cling to the notion that their defeat was all due to superior prowess by Allied armies and navies. They do not realize that right is more potent than might. And their attitude towards the terms of the treaty is one of evasion and duplicity rather than honorable intention.

The French people and the Dutch appear to regard recent incidents as significant and as the Hun appears to appreciate only one force, that of superior military preparation, they are demonstrating that they possess it. That it will be unnecessary to do anything more than rattle the sword in the scabbard, is the wish of civilized peoples everywhere.

CHICAGO MUNICIPAL EMPLOYES STRIKE: INCREASES HELD UP

Chicago, March 30.—Municipal office employes went on strike today for higher salaries following the rejection by the City Council at an all night session of a revised budget carrying $4,000,000 for the proposed increases. City garbage collectors also went out and a general strike of 18,000 municipal employes is threatened.

Death List Stands at Forty

Atlanta, Ga., March 29.—Demoralized wire conditions still delay details last night's storm which struck Alabama and Georgia. This morning the death list stood at forty with many hundreds injured. There is no estimate of the property damage yet, but it is expected it will run into many millions

Six States Hit, 64 Dead

Chicago, Ill., March 29.—The possibility of large increases to the death list of 64 already reported, loomed up today when communication was restored at various points. The property damage will run into many millions. Compilation of reports show six states in the Central West hit by yesterday's series of tornadoes. Southern Michigan sends in the most foreboding reports. Chicago district shows the heaviest loss in life, 29 killed.

Chicago, March 29.—At least twenty-eight are dead, hundreds of injured and property loss of several million dollars were left in the wake of a tornado that swept Northeastern Illinois and portions of Indiana, Missouri and Wisconsin Sunday. Elgin, Joliet, the Western outskirts of Chicago and North Shore and Western suburbs were in the path of the storm which destroyed hundreds of buildings, uprooted trees and destroying railroads and telegraphic and telephonic communication.

The fury of the tornado was felt chiefly at Elgin and Melrose Park, a Chicago suburb. Eight were killed and more than 100 injured at the former city, thirty-six miles West of Chicago, and the property loss there was estimated at $4,000,000.

At Melrose Park seven were killed and four were reported missing. In Chicago proper, two persons were killed and a score injured, while at Dunning, a Northwestern suburb, four deaths were reported, more than a hundred were injured and 1,000 rendered homeless.

While Northeastern Illinois sustained the principal damage, the tornado in its freakish career swept several Indiana towns near Fort Wayne, resulting in three deaths, caused the death of one man and the injury of several persons in St. Louis, and killed Mrs. Louis Brown at East Troy, Wis.

Communications Destoryed

Reports from some of the country districts in Illinois and Indiana were meagre, and it was feared the death toll might be considerably augumented when isolated points were heard from. Telegraphic, telephone and power transmission to nearly all the places in the path of the tornado were out of business.

At Wauconda, McHenry, Woodstock, Algonquin and Marengo, all felt the full strength of the storm, but communication with them was cut off.

Edgerton, Ind., eighteen miles from Fort Wayne, was reported hard hit. Three persons were reported killed near Fort Wayne.

Property loss to the extent of hundreds of thousands of dollars was caused at Evanston, Wilmette and other shore suburbs, while Bellwood, Maywood and Edgebrook and other villages West of Chicago were damaged. No fatalities were reported from the latter places, but many were injured by flying glass, timbers, etc.

The tornado struck Elgin at noon, coming from the Southwest and swept Northwest. In the Chicago territory the tornado first passed through the village of Bellwood, and sweeping from there through Maywood and Melrose Park, left a path of destruction 200 yards wide and a mile and a half long. In ten minutes 175 houses in the quarter were levelled and four were damaged.

ELECTIONS BEFORE HARVEST PREMIER NORRIS ANNOUNCES

Fifteenth Session of Manitoba Legislature Ended Saturday Afternoon

The Provincial elections will be held before next harvest, according to an announcement made by Premier Norris in the closing session of the Legislature on Saturday. The fifteenth sitting of the Manitoba Legislature was brought to a close Saturday afternoon by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor Sir James Aikins. Royal assent was given to 136 bills which with the forty assented to when supply was voted makes a total of 176 measures enacted during the session. Before the closing of the Legislature a lengthy discussion on the Rural Credit's situation took place. Premier Norris made his announcement regarding the elections late in the afternoon.

The activities of the assembly have embraced new legislation in every phase of Manitoba civil life. Industry, agriculture and social welfare have received attention and the members have worked hard to put on the statutes acts that will not only be found valid in the courts but that will remedy many evils and give equally of opportunity to all.

Industrial Act Amended

Outstanding in the field of industrial legislation is the bill amending the Industrial Conditions Act of 1919. By means of this bill the legislature, by unanimous consent, recognized the right of labor, and of capital, to organize for mutual benefit, and in addition made statutory the principle of collective bargaining. This later principle is defined in the amended act, and although not as far-reaching as was desired by labor, is wholly accepted by that section of the community as a step in the right direction.

"Employers and employes shall have the right to bargain with one another individually, or collectively, through their organizations or its representatives, provided that in case of any dispute between employers and any such organization of employes or its representatives as to the manner or the terms and conditions of such bargaining such disputes shall be submitted to the Joint Council of Industry, and dealt with by it in the manner prescribed by this act."

Another industrial act of vital importance is the new Workmen's Compensation Act, which, providing for state insurance, increases the basis of compensation to 66 2-3 per cent. of wages, which is the highest basis paid on the continent of America, experts declare.

In the realm of agriculture probably the most important acts are those relating to Rural Credits, District Hail Insurance, new regulations concerning the protection of game, the Dairying Commission act and many others.

May Accept Deposits

The rural credits amendments radically change the principle upon which this valuable scheme is financed. Because the banks have refused to continue loaning for this act on the six per cent. basis, Hon. Edward Brown introduced a scheme whereby the societies can accept deposits and do a limited business, and the province is authorized to borrow these funds for rural credit purposes.

Among the general reforms established by the government are included a bill re-organizing the provincial police and establishing the law enforcement department, the appointment of a permanent tax commission and the redistribution bill, which increases the membership in the assembly from 48 to 55 seats, giving Winnipeg ten members in place of six, as at present and the rural districts 45 in place of 42.

GREATEST SUM EVER PAID WINNER AT CANADIAN FAIR

Manitoba Winter Fair Sent Check To James Turner, of Carroll For $1,040

The largest cheque for prize winnings ever paid out at a Brandon Summer or Winter Fair, was issued from the Winter Fair offices today by Secretary Smale to James Turner of Carroll. The cheque amounted to $1,040, the previously high figure being $740. This cheque does not include the prize money won by Mr. Turner's son in the Calf and Continuation classes. Mr. Smale stated today that as far as he was aware, the cheque for $1,040 handed to Mr. Turner is the largest cheque of its kind ever issued from an exhibition or fair in Canada. The money is solely for prizes actually won in competition at the Winter Fair by cattle from Mr. Turner's farm. The total prize money issued from the Fair office for the Winter Fair is about $14,000.

BRANDON FARMERS MAY ENTER THE FEDERAL CONTEST

Apparently Do Not Contemplate Contesting Seat For the Provincial Legislature

SUBMIT RESOLUTION

To a Meeting To Be Held Saturday Next, To Enter the Federal Contest

The United Farmers of Brandon are considering placing a candidate in the Federal field and are making their plans along these lines. A meeting was held on Saturday afternoon in the City Hall but owing to the small attendance, definite action on several subjects was left over until next Satrday when a special meeting is being called at four o'clock. It is stated that the local branch of the United Farmers of Manitoba does not contemplate placing a candidate in the Provincial field but will back some candidate in a body.

A resolution which was submitted to the meeting on Saturday by Rev. A. Salter and seconded by Secretary A. Macpherson was not passed upon by the members present as the meeting was not representative enough, and therefore the final decision on it will be made next Saturday. The resolution reads as follows: "Be it resolved that we, the Brandon branch of the United Farmers of Manitoba, having for our motto—equal rights for all and special privileges to none, do hereby agree to co-operate with all classes of producers and urban dwellers who are in sympathy with the new national policy and other doctrines kindred to it, and that an effort be made forthwith to secure such co-operation in the Brandon Federal constituency."

A delegation composed of Mr. C. Blake and Alderman Grantham spoke on the advantages of the co-operative store and urged the farmers to get behind the move for a store in this city.

ENCOURAGING REPORTS AT Y.M.C.A. ANNUAL MEETING

Basis of Membership To Be Taken Up When Policy Is To Be Considered

MORE HELP NEEDED

To Carry On the Work—Brandon Y Proves Real Community Centre

Election of directors, presentation of committee and Secretary's reports, and discussion of business arising therefrom, occupied the attention of the small group that assembled at the annual meeting of the Brandon Y.M.C.A., Tuesday night. Consideration of the proposed new constitution was brief, adjournment being taken until Saturday night for this particular purpose. A pleasant break in a solid evening's work was the singing by Miss Aleta Burchill, accompanied by Miss Hildred Smith. It was near midnight when the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary served refreshments.

The election of directors to fill vacancies caused by removals, and retirements resulted in Messrs. J. F. Kilgour, J. F. Dobbie, A. B. Downing, and P. M. Ames being elected for three year terms, and Mr. W. J. Miller for a one year term.

There was considerable discussion arising out of a recommendation in the Physical Department report "that there is reasonable ground for profitable speculation as whether some basis might not be found for membership other than a money payment which seems to present a great obstacle to those who might otherwise receive the greatest benefit." Action was postponed until the whole question of policy is taken up.

That there is general agreement that the Brandon "Y" is understaffed was apparent when the House Committee's report was discussed. A special committee is to engage additional office help immediately.

To Popularize Pelican Lake Camp

The Y.M.C.A. Camp at Pelican Lake may be visited by the Board of Directors for a week-end about May 24th with the object of looking over the situation and seeing what can be done to stimulate interest in this fine annual outing as well as discuss "Y" problems.

The Finance report was presented by Mr. R. B. Hunter owing to the retirement of Mr. R. J. Campbell who is leaving the city. Receipts for the year amounted to $14,870.42. The larger items in this are, room rentals, $7,559.65 and memberships of nearly 3,000. Of the disbursements which amounted to $15,027.36, salaries accounted for $5,979.12, light, heat and water cost 3,011.73. The liabilities total 27,10, life insurance policies providing for $17,000 of this sum.

Religious and Educational Committee activities were reported on by Mr. Richard Burn, whose plans for the future call for much greater activity along these lines than has been possible in the past.

There are at present 302 active members of the Y.M.C.A. with a total of 443 on the lists this year. Owing to the inadequate staff employed, there has not been a follow up on expires that will be a feature of his year's work.

A Community Centre

The use of the Y.M.C.A. as a community centre is shown by the fact that during the past year seventy-one different groups held meetings within the building.

The military work carried on during the past year was shown to have been enormous. More than 5,200 returned men found beds in the Red Triangle Hut within the Y and 20,500 meals were served in the cafeteria. Trains were met night and day and, quoting from the report, "many fellows returning were in such a frame of mind that the kind of reception accorded them in Brandon meant more than words can tell."

Secretary Maguire's report reviewed the year's work, and recommended that the weaknesses of committee should be overcome by more thoughtful and vigorous effort. Touching on the year's work, he said, "The membership has increased, the dormitories are constantly filled to overflowing, and many expedients have been necessary in order to care for those who seek housing accommodation in our Association. The Cafeteria, which is a new venture, has been a boon, in type and quality of assistance given, and the spirit of its service."

OSCAR JALBERT CHARGED WITH WIFE MURDER ON WAY TO REGINA FOR TRAIL

Moose Jaw, Sask., March 24.—Oscar Jalbert, who is charged with the murder of his wife at their home in the Gravelbourg district, was brought to this city Tuesday night by the Provincial Police and was taken to Regina last night. During his stay between trains Jalbert was in the city police cells and was very closely guarded.

CHINESE TROOPS TO BE WITHDRAWN FROM SIBERIA

Announcement of Policy Said To Indicate Accord With Allies' Powers

Pekin, March 24.—The government ordered the withdrawal of Chinese troops from Siberia. This important action is taken as indicating accord with the powers relative to Russia and also tantamount to abrogating the China-Japanese military convention, which provided for common action in case of invasion across the Northern frontier.

DIVORCE GRANTED FRENCH OFFICER OWING TO WIFE'S CONDUCT DURING THE WAR

Paris, March 24.—All the evidence brought by a French cavalry officer against his wife was a packet of photographs circulated by the Germans as propaganda. One showed his wife surrounded by a group of German officers, laughing and chatting with them and apparently very much at her ease.

The officer's wife had been detained in the area occupied by the Germans during the war.

The court was unanimously of the opinion that her attitude as shown in the photograph was a grave insult to her husband, who was then risking his life fighting for his country. The court granted the husband a divorce.

SASKATCHEWAN PILOTS WAIT ON PREMIER MARTIN

Suggestion That Police Use Planes To Chase Criminals, Not Favored

Winnipeg, March 24.—A delegation representing the Saskatchewan Air Service Association called on Premier Martin Tuesday to lay before him certain proposals which have been under discussion by the association.

One of the proposals was that the Provincial Police should be equipped with airplanes for the better pursuit of criminals and the detection of the elusive private still; but the delegation failed to convince the Premier that at present there would be sufficient use made of airplanes by the provincial force to warrant the government in investing in a fleet of planes for it.

The delegation also suggested the advisability of establishing at the University of Saskatchewan a course in aeronautics, and intimated that a small provincial grant to the association would be appreciated. These matters will have the consideration of the government which they merit.

VALUE OF CANADIAN DOLLAR IN NEW YORK IS MOUNTING FAST

New York, March 24.—The Canadian dollar was quoted at 90.80 cents, a new high record in the present upward movement, at the opening of the Foreign Exchange today. The English pound sterling is at $3.81, or 1-2 c above yesterday.

AVIATOR PLANS 10-HOUR FLIGHT, SAN FRANCISCO TO NEW YORK: HIS PLAN

Cleveland, March 24.—Major R. W. Schroeder, of Chicago, holder of the world's record for airplane altitude, plans a ten-hour flight from San Francisco to New York late this Summer, flying at a height of 30,000 feet, which, he says, will permit him to attain a speed of from 350 to 400 miles an hour. Schroeder, who set a record February 26th, by reaching an altitude of 36,130 feet, said he would fly at a height of 30,000 feet, "at which trade winds blow West to East at 200 to 240 miles an hour. With their aid," he added, "I will be able to fly nearly 400 miles an hour."

SIR WILLIAM SUTHERLAND ELECTED IN ARGYLESHIRE

London, March 24.—The result of the Argyleshire election is: Sir William Sutherland, 10,107; Rev. E. MacCallum, 5,498. Sir William Sutherland on appointment as a junior lord of the treasury, sought re-election.

MORE THAN 16,000 ANTI-BOLSHEVIKI SOLDIERS FROZEN TO DEATH

London, March 24.—More than 16,000 anti-Bolsheviki soldiers have been found frozen to death on the steppes, it is announced in a Soviet military communique. The statement reports progress by Red troops against General Denikine's force along the railway in Ekaterinodar, on the Caucasus front.

ELNICH GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER JURY DECLARES

William Elnich, who was arrested in Brandon last Fall and taken back to Winnipeg to stand trial for the murder of William de Forge, was found guilty of manslaughter by the jury sitting on his case Tuesday. The jury was out a little over an hour and when they returned brought in the above verdict. Sentence on the prisoner was not imposed, it being understood that Harold Burdie and Jack Clements will be tried first, and the sentence passed on Elnich at the conclusion of their trials.

Detective Barlow of the City police force is attending the trials in Winnipeg, as it was his capture of Elnich which resulted in the solving of the de Forge murder.

GRASSHOPPER PLAGUE FEARED THIS SUMMER

Southern Portions of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta May Be Overrun

THE GREAT HOPE

Is That Early Warm Weather Will Hatch Eggs and Late Frosts Kill Hoppers

The grasshopper plague may become very serious in Southwestern Manitoba and Eastern Saskatchewan this year, according to reports received in the city. Residents of Oxbow and Carnduff who arrived in Brandon on Tuesday bring alarming reports of the millions of hoppers already to be seen on the hills and bare spots in the country. The districts in which the hoppers appeared last Summer will probably be visited again by the plague, if some remedy is not soon found to rid the country of the pest.

Some of the farmers in Oxbow district are seriously considering abandoning their fields this Summer as they do not want to run the risk of losing their crop and a large sum of money invested in seed wheat by the swarming of the hoppers. The poison does not seem to be working satisfactorily according to some reports as the hoppers are not only in the fields, but on the roads, hills and unoccupied territory and the districts are now getting too large to be covered by a poison which will kill the hoppers. Some hope is expressed that the snow fall of Tuesday and the comparatively cold weather of the passed few days, will destroy millions of the pests and rid the country of what may be a serious menace to the crops.

Winnipeg, March 24.—Almost alarming news was received in the city Tuesday from more than one source, that the grasshopper plague which worked such havoc with the crops last Summer in extensive districts in Southwestern Manitoba and Southeastern Saskatchewan, was giving evidence of coming back with increased fury, and that already grasshoppers were to be seen in millions on the hills and bare spots.

J. Mills, who farms a thousand acres in the Oxbow district, was in the city Tuesday and stated that he had seen these hoppers this Spring, and he was of the opinion that they were going to be worse than ever, and that the country would be almost entirely at their mercy. In Mr. Mill's opinion, little headway can be made against this plague by the use of poison, as they are far too numerous and cover entirely too much ground. The grasshoppers not only infest the crop fields and the roadways, but the hills and valleys of unbroken land, thousands of acres of which are held by speculators. This land is alive with them and prove favorable breeding grounds.

"There is only one hope we can look forward to," said Mr. Mills. "If this warm weather continues, the great majority of the eggs will be hatched out, and if followed by cold and heavy frosts during April the swarms of grasshoppers will be killed." Mr. Mills said he believed that hundreds of farmers would not sow crops this Spring unless the climatic conditions were such as to greatly curtail the increase of these pests. Owing to the high cost of wheat and other seed, with the great scarcity of labor, it will not pay to take the chance of securing a crop with such a plague in sight, and that the land will be summerfallowed instead.

An Expert's Opinion

Winnipeg, March 24.—Professor F. W. Broerick, entomologist at the Manitoba Agricultural College, said today that the predicted plague depends on weather conditions. Millions of eggs were hatched last Summer in districts in Southwestern Manitoba, Southern Saskatchewan and Alberta, he declared. Warm dry weather at an early period will tend to bring about hatching of these millions of eggs into lively hoppers, while on the other hand if the weather is first warm and is then followed by frost, the damp young ones may be all killed off, he said.

U. S. SHERIFF UNDER ARREST FOR HELPING TO SHIP LIQUOR

Into Minnesota From Canada — Alleged Offense Occurred January 1st

Minneapolis, N.D., March 24.—Sheriff Oscar Martinson, of Hennepin county, was arrested Tuesday by agents of the United States Department of Justice on a Federal warrant charging conspiracy to ship liquor into Minnesota from Canada. At the same time warrants were issued for the arrest of six others prominent in Minneapolis on the some charge. Others arrested were Morris Posnick, David Posnick, Mike Weisman, Abraham Isaacs, Harry Isaacs and Charles Banks.

Arrests were made on warrants secured by Federal District Attorney Alfred Jacques and cite date of alleged offense as January 1st this year, when liquor is said to have been shipped into Minnesota in barrels, hidden in carloads of scrap iron and unloaded in Minneapolis January 17th. One of the Federal agents declared deputy sheriffs guarded cars of "scrap iron" while being unloaded.

Martison, Abraham and Harry Isaacs and Posnick were arrested Tuesday morning and arraigned. They peaded not guilty and bail was set at $5,000 each.

The round-up in Minneapolis is a sequal to an attempted raid on the carload of liquor in the railroad yards in St. Paul on January 14th, which ended in a pistol battle when guards disturbed raiders at their work and in which Jack Burke, motor cab driver, who attempted to unload cases of whiskey from the car, was shot and killed, according to the chief of the Department of Justice.

EQUALIZATION OF PENSIONS WANTED BY THE G.W.V.A.

Montreal, March 24.—The question of equalization of pensions was brought in as a motion at the G. W. V. A. convention Tuesday. There was only one opponent of the principle that a private's pension should be as great as an officer's. It was the unanimous opinion of the delegates that the country is able to equalize pensions, upwards, raising the private soldiers pension scale to that of the officers. One delegate who is blind, impressed the convention by asking "if it was right that his eyes were worth only $600 while a brigadier-general's eyes were considered worth $2,700.

EXPERT TO TALK ON INDIANS AND THEIR HISTORY

H. P. Godsell, Hudson's Bay Factor at Long Lake, Ont., To Speak in City Hall

A splendid address on the "History of Indians in Canada, their religious life and habits" will be delivered on Saturday night in the City Hall by H. P. Godsell of Long Lake, North of Lake Nipigon, Ont., who will speak under the auspices of the Graduate Nurses Association. Mr. Godsell's intimate knowledge of Indian habits and their every day life has been gained through over twenty years of work among them in the employ of the Hudson's Bay Company. He has made a close study of the Indian history and is well qualified to speak on the subject he has chosen for Saturday night.

Mr. Godsell will be dressed in the costume of an Indian chief while delivering his address. A splendid musical program is also being arranged for Saturday evening, further announcement of which will be made later. The proceeds of the lecture will go to the fund which the nurses are raising for the new hospital.

LEMIEUX RECEIVES MILITARY CROSS WON BY DEAD SON

At the Hands of King George — Says Isolation and Exclusiveness Not a Policy, a Blunder

London, March 24.—The King today received Hon. Rodolphe and Mrs. Lemieux and handed them the Military Cross won by their son. Hon. Mr. Lemieux later was entertained by the Empire Parliamentary Association, Sir Auckland Geddes presided. Lemiuex spoke on the bilingual question and said in part: "I am not speaking as a party man but as a Canadian who gave his all for the cause of small nations. From Sir Wilfrid Laurier I learned that isolation and exclusiveness is not policy, but a blunder."

NO PHYSICAL TRAINING AT THE COLLEGIATE

There will be no Physical Instructor appointed to look after the physical training in the Collegiate Institute until the beginning of the new term, according to Principal McDougall of that institution. It is then the intention of the School Board to engage a teacher who will devote part of his time to educational duties and part time to the training of students in the gymnasium. The work in the gymnasium was supervised for a time by the teachers, but at the present time no physical training is being conducted in the Collegiate.

The matter was brought up some time ago of engaging an instructor who would handle both the public schools and the Collegiate, but this was thought too large a job for one man to take care of, and when the position of Physical Instructor was assigned to Mr. Black he was instructed to look after the public schools. It had been the intention of the Collegiate to have one of teachers supervise the training in the gymnasium until other arrangements were made, but this plan also fell through, and at the present time the students in the Collegiate are not getting any physical training. Mr. McDougall stated this morning that nothing would be done in regard to getting a physical instructor until the commencement of the new term in September.

CANCER CURED BY X RAY TREATMENT NEWEST WAY: MEYER MAKES DISCOVERY

New York, March 24.—Dr. William H. Meyer, director of the X-ray department of the New York post-graduate medical school and hospital, announced the discovery of a new method of treating cancer by X-ray, which resulted in 50 consecutive cures of superficial cases in the last four years. He says his success was due to determining the correct diagnosis.

PAUL MAGNUS GETS YEAR IN JAIL FOR MANSLAUGHTER SPEEDING IN 'PEG TO STOP

Winnipeg, March 24.—"Furious driving must stop!" was the ultimatum delivered by Justice Macdonald Tuesday as he sentenced Paul Magnus to serve a year in the Provincial jail for running over and killing Louise Dalstrow last December. Magnus was found guilty of manslaughter Friday by an assize court jury.

"There are too many fatalities altogether," declared the judge. "People are hurt every day because of the reckless manner in which automobiles are driven. Its a constant wonder to me that there are not more accidents."

"If I let you go," he said to Magnus, "it will be an encouragement for others to keep on driving furiously through the main streets. They will obtain the impression that even if they do run down and hurt someone all that they will receive will be a suspended sentence."

Justice Macdonald complimented the police Constable Alex. McIvor, particularly for the efficient manner in which they ran down the crime.

MARITIME PROVINCES TO INSIST ON RIGHTS, CLAIM WEST HAS PREFERENCE

Halifax, N.S., March 24. — In the house of assembly Tuesday J. C. Tory, member for Guysboro, gave notice of a resolution calling for a conference of representatives of the governments of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island to insist upon the rights of the Maritime provinces, which he claims have been neglected by the Federal Government through their policy of Western preference. Among the questions to be considered will be compensation to the Maritime Provinces for Western school lands, for subsidies to the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, and for territory annexed by the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec.

PRESENTATION TO PEOPLE LEAVING STORTHOAKS TO RESIDE IN THIS CITY

Mr. and Mrs. McArthur, of Storthoaks, Sask., are expected to arrive in Brandon this week to reside, Mr. McArthur having accepted a position with the International Harvester Company of this city.

Last week the people of Storthoaks met at the home of Mr. J. Chicoine to say good-bye to Mr. and Mrs. McArthur and family and during the evening they were made the recipients of a china dinner set. Messrs. J. Clark, W. Raymond and Mrs. J. Shiels expressed the regret of those present at the departure of Mr. and Mrs. McArthur from the district, where they have resided for the past eleven years. Mrs. McArthur is known to many people in Brandon as she is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. H. Edmison, and a sister to Dr. J. H. Edmison.

BOLSHEVISM FINDS FERTILE GROUND WESTERN CANADA

Commissioner Perry in Report R. N.W.M.P. Gives Interesting Facts Concerning Aliens

Ottawa, March 24. — The onerous duties carried out by the officers and men of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police in the Western provinces during the war period are told of at some length by A. B. Perry, for the year ending September 30th, 1919, whose report was tabled in the Commons Tuesday by Hon. N. W. Rowell.

Dealing with the work of the Mounted Police among the enemy aliens in Canada, and particularly in the West, Commissioner Perry reports that many of these men had to be brought to book for refusing to comply with

STANDARDIZATION FARM MACHINERY NOT FEASIBLE NOW

Committee To Meet the Manufacturers at Smith's Falls and Go Over Work

Ottawa, March 24.—Standardization of farm machinery is hardly feasible at present, according to the report given to the Agricultural Committee of the Commons Tuesday morning, by the subcommittee which had met the manufacturers of farm machinery in Toronto. The manufacturers had stated that standardization would give away many of their trade secrets.

John Farold, Brant, member of the committee, stated that the results sought by the committee could not be attained by co-operative means.

R. C. Henders, Macdonald, the chairman, said the suggestion had been made that the committee meet the manufacturers at Smiths Falls and go over the work there with them. He thought this plan might be carried out, and the committee decided later on this course.

The committee heard an address from Hon. F. S. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture.

HOUSE OF COMMONS DISCUSS ESTIMATES FOR FUTURE ARMY

Make Allowance For 525,000 Troops and Expenditure of 125,000,000 Pounds

London, March 24.—The army estimates, making allowance for 525,000 troops which will be gradually diminished to 280,000, and expenditure of 125,000,000 pounds sterling, occupied the House of Commons Tuesday when many army questions were discussed and much criticism indulged in of policy at home and abroad, but the vote was ultimately agreed to.

At question time, the Prime Minister expressed his regret that a question had been put down in connection with the possibility of another Easter rising in Ireland, to which obviously no answer could be given. The Prime Minister stated that no date had been fixed for the assembly of the League of Nations.

Late in the sitting, the second reading of the National Health Insurance Bill was carried. The bill provided for increased sickness benefits at the additional cost of three pence for each person, of which the employer pays two pence and the worker a penny.

MAYOR GRAY AGAINST WINNIPEG BUSINESS GOING TO FIRMS IN THE U. S.

Winnipeg, March 24.—No civic money for the United States firms, was a principle urged by Mayor Gray and Alderman Jones at the meeting of the Winnipeg Fire, Water and Light Commission. The Mayor stated that he did not think that the Council should spend any money for contracts in the United States, a country which had turned down the peace treaty.

LINCOLN HANDICAP WON BY "FURIOUS"

Lincoln, Eng., March 24.—The Lincoln Handicap, over a mile straight-away course for a purse of $7,500 was won today by C. Harris' "Furious," Lord Glanely's "Scatwell," second, and R. Thornburn's "Monteith," third.

WINNIPEG STRIKE BULKS LARGE IN NEW YORK TRIAL

Because Communist Party Went on Record as Favoring Plans of Winnipeg Strike Leaders

New York, March 24.—Evidence regarding the general strike in Winnipeg in May, 1919, figured largely in the trial Tuesday morning of Harry Winitsky, secretary of the New York Communist party, who is being prosecuted by the state on a charge of criminal anarchy. Documents produced at the trial showed that during the Winnipeg strike the Communist party here went on record as favoring the plans of the Manitoba strike leaders. Tuesday two Winnipeg men, George P. Lovatt and Captain Sidney B. Harris, were called by the prosecution to describe the conditions prevailing in Winnipeg during the strike.

Lovatt told the court that he was a charge of the Enemy Alien Registration office in Winnipeg in 1918 and part of 1919. He said he was a member of the Policemen's union, and on May 15th, 1919, when the strike started he was made a member of the General Strike Committee.

Defence Objects

When Lovatt tried to tell what order had been given by the committee at the beginning of the strike, the counsel for the defence raised numerous objections and endeavored to block his testimony. The witness offered to produce a copy of the original order sent by the Labor council to the Policemen's union, but the defence objected to its production, as evidence. The objection was overruled by the court which held that as the Communist party had expressed approval of the Winnipeg strike, it was proper that the prosecution should show the nature of the strike.

The witness then gave a recital of the events of the strike and described conditions prevailing in Winnipeg at the time. He declared the Police Department was under the control of the strikers and that no department of the city government had been able to function properly after the strike was declared. He told of the riot of June 10th, when the strike committee tried to take over the functions of the mayor.

ESKIMOS FACE STARVATION IN THE FAR NORTH

Dawson, Y.T., March 24.—Natives of the Arctic Red River region are facing starvation because of the shortage of big game this Winter, according to members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police expedition to Herschel Island and Fort McPherson, on the Arctic coast, who arrived here Monday. Not even enough skins were available to supply natives with clothing.

LOOK AT QUALITY THEN PRICE WHEN BUYING GOODS

Advice To Shoppers By Dr. Cossley-Batt, Addressing Women's Canadian Club

WOMEN AND PRICES

Australia Can Supply Canada With Leather, Wool and Fruits

When purchasing an article, examine the material, judge the quality instead of the price, use your own discretion as to the wearing qualities of the article, and you will be surprised at the result, was the gist of a practical address given by Dr. J. L. Cossley Batt, O.B.E., B.A., D.Ss., on "How to Bring Down the High Cost of Living," at a meeting of the Women's Canadian Club in the Prince Edward Hotel, Monday afternoon. Continuing, the speaker emphasized that because a low price was put on an article that article is not necessarily cheap. Women can do a great deal in keeping down the prices. Prices today are very high, in fact some have increased as much as one hundred and fifty per cent. and some even as high as two hundred per cene. since 1914. The speaker cited several cases where she knew people to buy articles of inferior quality, that had been priced high, in preference to articles of superior quality that had been priced lower. She urged the women to examine the quality and study the prices before purchasing.

Dr. Cossley-Batt emphasized that we should always buy Canadian produce when possible. If the commodities desired cannot be bought in Canada we should then buy from the country where foods are the richest. The speaker thought New Zealand was the next best country for purchasing food and after that she suggested Australia.

Wonderful Resources of Australia

The speaker told of the wonderful resources of Australia. Australia is a vast country and can offer much more than we know. The commodities of which Canada is usually short can be supplied by Australia and Australia will export these reasonably. Australia on the other hand is anxious to import certain products from Canada. The time is now ripe the doctor thought, for these countries to open up trade with each other. Not only food produce is reasonably priced in Australia but also many articles of clothing, including leather and wool. The speaker said she brought a pair of blankets to Canada which she had bought in Australia for $6 and sold them here for $30. These blankets contained only five per cent cotton.

Card-board boxes and paper of all kinds are very scarce in Canada and Dr. Cossley-Batt stated that she knew of five large factories in this country where the pulp is all being exported. After this pulp has been exported and made into finished material it is sent back to Canada. Canada is now in a position to finish her own products and should keep all the raw material here. Moreover it is one way to keep the people employed.

Look for Quality, then Price

The speaker emphasized over and over again that if the women of Canada stand together, study the matter and let the man behind the counter realize that they know what they are buying and what an article should cost, it will greatly assist in bringing down the high cost of living, both of food produce and clothing. The people of Switzerland stood for the quality and not the price the buyers understood what they were doing and today the prices are much lower than here although labor is higher. The people of Canada seem to shum costumes and material made in Canada even though the material is of a very fine type. Made in Canada articles should be bought by all. The speaker also pointed out the high price of silks, which mostly come from Japan and China. Kimonas which sell for $1.50 in those countries are sold for $12 in this country. The doctor thought that mothers should instruct their children in economy and values. This, she thought, was a very important factor in the advancement of Canada.

Use Australian Fruits

Dr. Cossley-Batt then spoke of the wonderful fruits of Australia which should be imported into Canada. In travelling through the country you can pick lemons, tangerens and oranges off the trees as they practically grow wild. On account of the abundance of these fruits there is a terrible waste of them every year. As Australia is only three weeks travel from here and the cheapest sea rates in the world are between our countries it seems strange that Canada cannot get these fruits, the speaker thought. Prunes, apricots, grapes and tomatoes grow to a larger size and are more juicy than in any other country in the world. In fact anything will grow there. In the desert parts, where nothing else will grow, poultry does well. The greatest drawback to the country is the drought. On this account cattle and sheep die by the thousands. Women use the same water for cooking and washing their clothes.

Welcome Munition Workers

In conclusion, Dr. Cossley-Batt spoke of the munition factory girls who are coming to Canada weekly. These women did most scientific work on machinery, manufactured all kinds of fabrics and did a great work in explosive factories. If the women of Canada realize what these girls have done they will realize what they also can do. They were the backbone of the boys at the front and on account of the way they worked in the factories year in and year out their health is ruined. When these girls arrive in Canada they should be given a warm welcome. Don't give them money but give them a helping hand.

Mrs. E. H. Johnson moved a sincere vote of thanks to the speaker of the afternoon for her splendid address on such a practical subject, which was seconded by Mrs. J. S. Wilmott. Mrs. A. Shewan presided.

After the meeting the usual afternoon tea was served.

LYNCH A NEGRO

Paris, Kentucky, March 30.—A negro charged with assault on a four-year-old girl was taken from the county jail by a mob last night, rushed out of town and hanged to a telegraph pole.

DIVORCE JUDGE FAVORS CHANGE IN BRITISH LAW

Six Months Experience Sufficient To Convince Him of Need For Change

London, March 26. — During the course of his speech on the divorce bill, which passed its second reading in the House of Lords, Lord Chancellor Birkenhead said that thousands of women had been married by overseas soldiers and deserted.

This assertion drew from the Archbishop of Canterbury, who opposed the bill, the opinion that a perfectly undeserved stain had been cast upon the colonial troops. The Archbishop said that the allegation was unsupported by any evidence. He stated that the number of desertions by Canadians was 200 out of over 400,000 troops.

Lord Birkenhead also said that the principle that marriage was indissoluble disappeared by almost universal admission 350 years ago, and those taking the other view did not live in this world. Their arguments were whisperings of the abandoned superstition of the middle ages.

Lord Coleridge, who was a divorce judge for six months, said he approached his work with the settled conviction that divorce restrictions should not be relaxed. He was not now ashamed to confess that his experience had entirely changed his view. Among the speakers opposing the bill was Lord Salisbury, who preferred St. Matthew as guide rather than the Lord Chancellor. "I agree with St. Matthew," said Lord Birkenhead. "A compliment truly to St. Matthew," retorted Lord Salisbury.

CANADIAN STEERS SURPRISE FRENCH

Toronto and Guelph Grand Champions' Triumphal Tour

Toronto, March 26.—Canada's grand champion steers "Black Hector" the winner at the Toronto Fat Stock Show and "Roan Jasper" the winner of the premier honor at Guelph Winter Fair, are creating quite a stir in France where they are now being exhibited. H. P. Kennedy purchased the Toronto champion and gifted it to the Canadian Government to be used as a means of advertising the Dominion's cattle products, Mr. Kennedy in addition to paying the cost of the animal undertaking the expenses of a keeper's time throughout the tour. The Government bought the Guelph champion and latest advice reported both cattle at Le Mans, in Southern France. Lieut. P. W. T. Ross, government representative in charge of the exhibit has urged going to Switzerland So far the champions have been shown at Caen, Lisieux, Rouen, Nevers, Moulins and Lyons.

Sam Cooper, Mr. Kennedy's man from Toronto in charge of the steers, in a recent letter states that the cattle are in good show condition. All classes of people have flocked to see them and farmers have expressed the opinion that Canada must be "some country." Most folks regard the champions as bulls and seem amazed when told they are not. Already the mission would appear to be bearing fruit as one Frenchman has already asked for a quotation on 200 yearlings and another has declared his ability to handle a consignment of stockers and feeders. The French people, Sam Cooper states are boosting Canada all the time but they say very little about the United States. "I could not have been better treated by the people here if I had been a king," Cooper adds.

MAKE LIQUOR ISSUE DEAD AS SLAVERY BRYAN ADVISES

Democratic Convention, So It Will Never Be Revived Again

Elmwood, Mass., March 27.—Adoption of a prohibition plank by the democratic convention at San Francisco was favored by William Jennings Bryan in an address here. He asked his hearers to help make the liquor issue "as dead as slavery, so that it will never be revived again."

ALLIES FAVOR NEW LEADER OF THE OTTOMAN GOV'T

Constantinople, March 27. — The Cabinet of Sali Pasha resigned today and the Sultan authornzed Damad Ferrid Pasha, former Grand Visier and Foreign Minister, to organize a new ministry. Damad represents the Liberal party and is apparently acceptable to Entente representatives, who have been urging the retirement of Sali Pasha who has shown himself favorable to the Nationalists.

McGREGOR BRED BULL BRINGS GOOD PRICE AT CALGARY BULL SALE

Calgary, Alta., March 26.—At the Calgary bull sale Thursday Aberdeen Angus bulls were sold all morning, and 37 sold for $10,920, or an average of $295.40. In 1919 the average was only $183.16. The high figure of sale was $610 for Cheltwick Royal Oak Second, a three-year-old bull. He was bought by Thos. Wilson, of Halton, Sask. Prince Eoodle of Glencarnock, a McGregor bred bull, five years old, sold for $525.

PROUT WITHDRAWS CHARGE AGAINST PROVINCIAL TREAS.

Winnipeg, March 30.—Following the statement made by Premier Norris that the Government would continue to wholeheartedly support the Rural Credits' Societies, Mr. Prout informed the House that he desired to withdraw the suggestion that the Provincial Treasurer had agreed to the banks stopping credits to the societies and that he also wished to withdraw the statement that the rural credits scheme would not be safe in the treasury department.

RETURNED SOLDIER SAVES FRIEND BUT DIES HIMSELF

Suffocates In Well After Helping To Hoist Comrade To Safety

Somerset, Man., March 30.—A sad fatality is reported from Notre Dame Des Lourdes. A Mr. Gour was having a well dug, and after a certain depth had been reached the workers sent down a charge of dynamite. As soon as it was considered safe, Mr. Gour was lowered into the well, and as he did not return and did not answer to shouts Jacques Galliot, brother of Dr. Galliott, and, who has only lately returned from France, volunteered, in spite of protests, to go to Gour's assistance. Jacques found Gour unconscious, and attached a rope around him. He was drawn to safety and soon revived in the fresh air. Young Galliott, who had saved him, however was suffocated before his friends could reach him.

NO CANADIANS IN HONOR LIST FOR WAR SERVICES

London, March 30.—The long expected Order of the British Empire honors list for war services appeared Monday Three thousand names, knight commanders, officers and members, are included in it. No Canadian names not even of Canadians permanently resident in the British Isles, appear.

Among the hundred odd knights are Percival Phillips, Philip Gibbs and Perry Robinson, war correspondents. The list as a whole ranges over every conceivable phase of civilian, war or semi-war activity, including marchionesses doing Red Cross service, chief constables, town clerks, railway officials, clergymen, medical men, Salvation Army directors canteen manageresses and tax inspectors. Clerks, typists and cooks are not forgotten.

PRESENTATION TO THE CAMPBELLS

By Members of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church—Club Bag, Umbrella, Addresses

After thirty-eight years' residence in Brandon, Mr. R. J. Campbell and Mrs. Campbell leave Thursday for Oakland, California, where they will reside. They will make the trip via Vancouver, B.C., and will visit there en route.

Monday night many of the members of St. Paul's congregation met in the Bible Class room to say farewell to their co-workers in the church. The reception tendered Mr. and Mrs. Campbell was very informal and during the evening reminiscences of the early days in Brandon were given by various speakers who told of the deep interest Mr. Campbell has taken in every good cause for the city's welfare. Both Mr and Mrs. Campbell will be missed by a large number of Brandon people in both social and business circles.

Mr. A. T. Colquhoun acted as chairman and during the evening Mr. A. Trotter read a short address to Mr. and Mrs. Campbell. Alderman A. Shewan then presented Mr. Campbell with a handsome leather club bag on behalf of those present, and Mrs. Campbell was made the recipient of a silk umbrella lined with money. Mrs. Murdoch McKenzie made the presentation to Mrs. Campbell.

A short musical program was much enjoyed, Mrs. R. E. McBurney and Mr. S. E. Lowes contributing vocal numbers. At the conclusion of the program dainty refreshments were served.

A copy of the address read and presented to Mr. and Mrs. Campbell follows:

Address to Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Campbell
Brandon, Man.,
March 29th, 1920.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Campbell:

Having learned with sincere regret of your intended departure from our city and congregation, we, your friends and fellow workers of St. Paul's Church cannot allow this occasion to pass without expressing our deep sense of loss and our cordial appreciation of your splendid services in connection with our work during the many years in which you have labored with us.

Your Christian spirit and kindly sympathy and intense loyalty in connection with every good cause have proven a constant source of inspiration to us, especially your earnest co-operation in the Sunday School, the Board of Management and the Choir.

We feel we cannot part from you without in some tangible way giving expression to our general regret at your going, and our kindly regard of your worth and work among us.

We ask you accept as a slight token of our esteem and appreciation this Club Bag and umbrella, and we trust their possession may serve as a frequent reminder of the happy associations during your residence in Brandon, and your intimate connection with St. Paul's Church.

Wishing you every blessing and expressing the hope that you may some day return and take up again the work in which you have been so long interested with us.

Signed in behalf of the members of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church.

WM. FENWICK,
Chairman Bd. Man.
ALEX. TROTTER,
GEO. R. MILLER,
Pastor,
A. WHITE,
Clerk of Session.

FRANCHISE BILL TO BE CHANGED TO MEET OBJECTIONS

Ottawa, March 27.—Sir George Foster has introduced a bill in parliament designed to establish a uniform period of copyright protection and to extend copyright protection to gramphone records, films and lithographs.

Hon. Arthur Meighen announced it was the intention of the government to amend the proposed franchise act in line with the objections raised by the opposition and that persons who had resided here for forty or fifty years as British subjects would not be disfranchised. The debate was continued on the franchise bill which was given a second reading and reached the committee stage. In committee the contentions clauses were allowed to stand over.

ST. CATHARINE BICYCLISTS MUST NOT USE SIREN HORNS THAT WHINE LIKE SHELLS

St. Catharines, Ont., March 30.—In consideration for the feeling of shell shocked or wounded soldiers, Chief of Police Greene has issued a warning to bicyclists in this city that they must not use siren horns which give out sounds resembling the whine of high explosive shells.

OBITUARY

Charles Wesley Speers

There passed away at Butte, Montana, on Saturday another of Brandon's old timers in the person of Mr. Charles Wesley Speers, Inspector of Immigration Agencies for the United States and Canada, who resided for many years at 113 Princess Avenue, East, Brandon. The late Mr. Speers left Griswold March 19th on a business trip North and later proceeded from Regina, on his way to Spokane, with the intention of stopping off en route at Butte, where Mrs. Speers was visiting her daughter, Mrs. H. C. Hopkins. While in Butte he became very ill and died within a few hours. The announcement of his death will be a great shock to many friends in the city and district where he was widely known.

The late Mr. Speers was born in Halton County, Ontario, February 22d, 1856. He came to Manitoba thirty-eight years ago and homesteaded three miles South of Griswold. Later he also farmed at Speers, Sask., and both these farms were owned by him at the time of his death. He was very actively interested in the breeding of thoroughbred horses and cattle and had many prize animals amongst his stock. The late Mr. Speers took a keen interest in local and municipal affairs and during the year 1896 was candidate for the Brandon constituency for Federal House, withdrawing in favor of Mr. Dawson McCarthy.

Besides his widow, the late Mr. Speers is survived on one son, Mr. John Speers, manager of the farms at Griswold and Speers, Sask., and three daughters, Mrs. A. W Harcourt, Seattle; Mrs. H. C. Hopkins, Butte, Montana; and Mrs. I. Parker Veazey, Jr., of Great Falls, Montana. Brothers and sisters surviving are, Rev. W. J. Speers and Rev. Luther Speers, who reside in California, Messrs. A. R. and F. H. Speers of Winnipeg; Dr. Elizabeth Speers, of Newark, N.J.; Mrs. T. Reynolds, of California, and Mrs. Barker, Bloomfield, Maryland.

Mrs. Elizabeth White

The death occurred in the city on Saturday of Mrs. Elizabeth White, aged forty-five years, beloved wife of Mr. C. W. White, a well-known farmer of the Brandon district. The late Mrs. White had been ill since June, 1919. Besides her husband, two daughters, aged thirteen and eleven years respectively are left to mourn her loss.

William Betts

The remains of the late Mr. William Betts, who passed away in the city on Friday after a short illness from influenza with pneumonia developments, were laid to rest in Brandon cemetery Sunday afternoon following a short service at Macpherson & Bedford's undertaking parlors. The late Mr. Betts was twenty-five years and six months of age, and came to Brandon from Maryfield, Sask., to take a business course in this city. He was an Englishman by birth and as far as is known had no relatives in Western Canada.

John Wallace

The death occurred very suddenly on Sunday at the family residence, one mile North of Griswold, of Mr. John Wallace, one of the best known farmers of the district, who was about the year 1894 a member of the police force in this city. The late Mr. Wallace was about fifty years of age and his death will be regretted by a large number of friends in the district.

Felix Dagmont

The remains of the late Mr. Felix Dagmont, formerly a well-known farmer of the Deleau district, were shipped this afternoon from Brockie's undertaking parlors to Deleau where interment will be made. The late Mr. Dagmont passed away in Brandon last Saturday.

Donald J. Macdonald

The death occurred from influenza on Thursday, Marh 18th, of Mr. Donald J. Macdonald, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Macdonald, of Vancouver, B.C. The deceased, who was twenty-three years of age, was well-known in Brandon having been employed as operator in the Allen Theatre for some time. Besides his parents, three sisters, Misses Mary, Phyllis and Aileen Macdonald are left to mourn his loss.

Mrs. Annie Paledwr

The death occurred very suddenly this morning of Mrs. Annie Paledwr, formerly of 60 Seventh street, North.

Mrs. A. C. Hargreaves

This afternoon the remains of the late Mrs. A. C. Hargreaves who passed away Monday morning were laid to rest in Brandon cemetery following a short service in Brandon Hills Church. Rev. J. George Miller officiated.

Archibald Shewfelt

The death occurred in the city on Tuesday of Mr. Archibald Shewfelt, aged sixty-two years, formerly a well-known farmer of Basswood, Man. The remains will be shipped Thursday from Campbell & Campbell's undertaking parlors to Basswood where interment will be made on Friday.

Miss May Arthur

The death occurred on Saturday of Miss May Arthur, who passed away at her home in the Elkhorn district. The late Miss Arthur was a daughter of Mr. J. T. Arthur who farmed East of the city for many years, moving to Elkhorn a short time ago. Besides her father, one brother is left to mourn her loss.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Neilly, 108 Princess Avenue East, announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Effie, to Mr. Harry N. Shuttleworth, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Shuttleworth, 319 Eleventh street. The marriage will take place about the middle of April.

MRS. PATTERSON HONORED

Mrs. S. J. S. Pierce, was the charming hostess at a most delightful reception given at her home, 1608 Lorne avenue, Tuesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. J. V. Patterson, who is leaving the city to reside at "Willow Dale" farm, McKelvie district. The spacious rooms presented a most attractive appearance, yellow daffodils being used in decoration. Daffodils and smilax centred the tea table. Mrs. W. H. Elsie presided over the coffee cups, while Mrs. R. Lane cut the ices, for the first hour. Mrs. E. H. Johnson, Mrs. W. A. Bigelow and Mrs. D. Clement did the honors for the second hour. Mrs. L. J. Carter supervised the dining room and those who assisted serving included Mrs. A. Ferguson, Mrs. H. O. McDiarmid, Mrs. J. F. Price, Mrs. O. W. Townsley, Mrs. R. Dawson, Mrs. C. Blake, Mrs. W. L. Birnie, Mrs. A. R. Hurst and Mrs. McQuilla.

GOVERNMENT AGAIN CONSIDERS REQUEST FOR CASH BONUS

Resolution Presented Calls For Payment of Dollar a Day For Time On Fighting Front

Ottawa, March 29—The government has taken the request of the Great War Veterans' Association for a cash bonus under consideration and will announce its decision in the course of a few days. On Monday a large delegation from the G.W.V.A., headed by its president, R. B. Maxwell, and representative of G.W.V.A. members in every province, waited on Sir George Foster, acting Premier, and members of the government to present a resolution adopted at the Montreal convention. Sir George promised the delegation an early reply and full consideration.

The Montreal resolution submitted calls for a cash bonus of one dollar for each day's service payable to those who saw service on a belligerent front, with a proportionate amount to those who saw service in Great Britain, Siberia or Canada. The minimum bonus is given as $1,000, or "such sum as may be equitable and acceptable to our re-establishment commitee and Dominion executive." There is the reservation that in no case shall the sum of $2,500 be exceeded "as the maximum under this and the war service gratuity combined."

In the meantime it is to be noted that very considerable appropriations have been provided for in the estimates for the coming fiscal year. The items are as follows: Soldiers' land settlements $50,017,000; Soldiers' civil re-establishment (outside), $34,000,000; demobilization, $38,463,400; a total of $122,480,400.

DUTCH READY FOR TROUBLE ON HUN FRONTIER

The Hague, March 27.—Preparations to meet any emergency at the frontier have been made by the Dutch Government. Plans have been perfected for instant mobilization of three levies of the second division, and if it becomes necessary, Civic Guards and volunteer corps from the frontier villages will be called to the army.

CHANGE IN NAME WIDEN POWERS OF THE SUMMER FAIR

Exhibition Association To Have Power To Deal in Livestock, Conduct Market

BILL BEFORE HOUSE

Passage Today Is Expected—Idea Is To Improve Summer Fair

The Western Agricultural Arts Association under which name the Summer Fair has been run since its first exhibition is now to be changed to the Provincial Exhibition of Manitoba. A bill authorizing this change is going through the House today and the Brandon Summer Fair will henceforth be known as the Provincial Exhibition of Manitoba. Word to this effect was received this morning from the local member in the Legislature, S. E. Clement, M.L.A. The delegation which first presented the bill from the Summer Fair were Messrs. W. Dowlin, R. M. Matheson, K.C., and W. I. Smale.

Under the provisions of the bill now passing the Legislature, the Provincial fair is given wide powers. They may now acquire land and property, purchase or sell livestock, conduct public markets, conduct co-operative markets, buy or sell all farm products and manufactured products, may lease live stock or enter into any object which has to do with the development of the Provincial Fair. The second reading was given this bill about five weeks ago.

TEN WEEK COURSE IN HOME ECONOMICS

To Be Put On By Agricultural College If Enough Students Apply

Winnipeg, Man., March 27.—In an heroic effort to meet both the high cost of living and the impossibility of getting help, the Agricultural College, if sufficient students apply, will put on a ten week course in Home Economics, the course to conclude the latter part of June. Staff professors will be in charge and the subjects covered will be cookery and food values, management and marketing, home nursing and hygiene, textiles and dressmaking, millinery, laundry and dry cleaning and household arts.

ALBERTA HAIL INSURANCE HAS SURPLUS ON OPERATION FOR SEASON OF 1919

Calgary, Alta., March 27. — Losses from hail in the district covered by the Hail Insurance Board of Alberta totalled $503,957.78 last season. The net assessment was $778,132.48. The total surplus and reserve was $198,358.23, after deducting commissions to municipal districts, expenses and interest charges. At the end of the financial year there was a reserve fund of $100,000.00 invested in provincial bonds, while the accounts outstanding totaled $108,279.39.

SASKATCHEWAN AUTO DEALERS OPPOSE LEGISLATION

Which Compels Them to Name Depot Where Repairs Can Be Had Promptly

Regina, Sask., March 27.—The Regina Motor Trades Association members will soon be enlisted among the forces that are gathering throughout the province to forstall, if possible, the enactment of the Automobile Repairs Act passed by the Provincial Legislature. This act requires every vendor of an automobile in this province to name in the contract of sale a depot in the province at which repair parts may be obtained for the car, promptly and at a reasonable cost at any time within a period of five years from date of sale.

SPECIAL ANALYSIS OF "HERB" WHICH SMELLS LIKE SCOTCH WHISKEY

Vancouver, March 27.—A special analysis is to be made of an "herb" which when immersed in water smells and tastes like Scotch whiskey, but actually possesses more authority. The "herb" was found on an Oriental named Gun Shee, charged with infraction of the prohibition act. He claims to be the discoverer, but refuses to say whether it is a local or imported "herb."

Ottawa, March 26. — Considerable worry was felt recently over the condition of the Hon. J. A. Calder who is suffering from an attack of influenza and is also threatened with pneumonia, however, the Minister is reported much improved today. He may have to go away for a rest.

EDUCATION SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS

Members Enjoy Group Games, Song and Literary Program

Thursday night in the Collegiate Auditorium the annual meeting of the Brandon Educational Society was held, the following officers being elected for 1920. President, Mr. B. J. Hales, representing the Normal School; Vice-President, Dr. H. L. MacNeil, representing Brandon College; Secretary-Treasurer, Miss A. E. Clarke, representing the public schools in the city. Executive, Miss McKeever, representing the Wheat City Business College, Miss M. Buck, Brandon Collegiate Institute, and Mr. H. E. Eburne, Indian Industrial School. Mr. G. H. Hogarth was appointed to represent the Society at the meetings of the Social Service Council.

Those present enjoyed to the utmost a program of group games under the direction of Mr. Black. This was followed by a sing-song. During the evening Mr. B. J. Hales gave a short address on "The Next Step in the Public Library Proposition." A musical and literary program given by Miss Maud Wilson and Miss Georgia Newbury added much to the evening's entertainment.

Moose Jaw, Sask. March 27.—Saskatchewan's share of German guns captured by the Canadians during the late war amounts to about eighty pieces, according to Brigadier General Ross.

MRS. RALPH SMITH PREACHED SERMON CURE FOR UNREST

Declares Mothers' Pensions Not Charity But Recognition of Service

Vancouver, March 26.—Stirring the congregation several times to applause Mrs. Ralph Smith, M.L.A., filled the pulpit at the First Congregational Church last Sunday. Mrs. Smith took as her subject, "Christainity in Politics," the text being the commandment of Christ, "Love One Another."

Explaining her presence in the pulpit, Mrs. Smith stated that she believed the time was coming when the preaching of the gospel would be as much the work of women as of men.

During the war, she said, people had disregarded or smoothed over industrial and social troubles. The whole effort of the nation was concentrated on the winning of the war. With the end of the war, long pent-up feelings were finding outlet and could no longer be ignored.

At this point Mrs. Smith took occasion to remark that any one who was richer as a result of the war had nothing to be proud of. The declaration called forth applause and cries of "Hear, Hear!"

The cure for unrest, the speaker continued, was not in higher wages, for with all the increase in earnings the average worker still had as much difficulty in "making ends meet." Assurance against poverty in old age or in case of accidents and assurance that their children would be given education to fit them for the battle of life were the things working men and women wanted and had a right to expect.

A man who had worked long and hard, expending the best of his energy for the nation, deserved from that nation protection in his declining years. Mothers' pensions were not charity, for, after all, when a mother raised a family it was not for herself but for the state.

"I am very pleased to say," concluded Mrs. Smith, "that we are on the verge of getting mothers' pensions in British Columbia. I believe that within the next two or three weeks, it will be on the statute books of the province."

CHICAGO CARPENTER REFUSE TO SET UP PORTABLE HOUSES

Union Carpenters' Official Declares Portable Houses Against Interests of Organization

Chicago, March 26.—The debut of the portable house as a solution of the high cost of renting has received a jolt here.

Chicago union carpenters refused to complete the setting up process of the first of these houses. They were ordered to stop work by William Brims, union carpenters' official.

"The portable house is against the interests of our organization," Brims said. "The real union-made house is made by union carpenters here, not out of town."

"The house is union-made, every part of it," R. S. Dassett, lumberman at the head of the project, stated. "The rub is that the material was not produced by a Chicago concern."

Inwood, Man., March 25.—Gloom was cast over this place last week when the news reached here that Filious Fortin, son of A. Fortin, an old resident here, had been killed by the bursting of a saw in a mill some miles North of this place.

He was taken to Winnipeg, but died shortly after reaching the hospital. Deceased was 26 years of age, and a favorite with the young people here. He leaves, besides his father and mother, two brothers and seven sisters.

TO MAKE DIVORCE EASIER IN BRITAIN

Baron Buckmaster's Bill Passes Second Reading, Despite Opposition

London, March 25.—The House of Lords, by a vote of 93 to 45, passed the second reading of a bill introduced by Baron Buckmaster proposing important divorce reforms.

The bill extends the grounds for divorce to cover, among other reasons, three years' desertion, habitual drunkenness and cases where a sentence of death has been commuted to life servitude.

After a powerful and impassioned speech by Baron Birkenhead, the second reading was carried, despite the opposition of the Episcopal bench and Catholic peers and the high Anglican church peers.

The bill has not yet appeared in the House of Commons, but it is said to be almost certain of passage there.

PROCLAIM FIUME A REPUBLIC IS PRESENT PLAN

U. S. GOVERNMENT WOULD OUST TURKS FROM EUROPE

Resentment of Mohammedans Not Feared Because of Conduct During War

Washington, March 25.—The original position of the United States Government that the Turks should be expelled from Europe is re-stated in a note to the Allied Supreme Council which has been prepared at the State Department and which will be transmitted soon.

The communication is in reply to an inquiry from the French and British Governments as to the views of the United States on the Turkish settlement.

The position of the United States Government is understood to be that there is no sound reason for retaining the Turkish capital in Europe. The United States is said to take the view that the contention that the expulsion of the Turks might be resented by the Mohammedans is not supported by the facts since the war in the near East was won largely by the aid of Mohammedans.

The United States, it is understood, desires that Armenia be set up as an independent state and that it embrace as much territory as the Armenian Government can control. It also takes the position that any arrangement that is made with regard to Turkey should guarantee to all nations equal opportunities for commerce and that no belligerent should be given paramount claims in any part of the near East.

The position of the United States, it is said, also is that in any arrangement for the Government of Constantinople and the Turkish states a place for the participation of Russia should be made as the United States Government is convinced that no plan of settlement can be successful in the long run which does not take into account the interest of Russia in the matter.

230,000 CASES OF TYPHUS UNCARED FOR IN POLAND

In Montenegro, Four Doctors Are Trying To Look After 42,000 Persons

1,500 MILE CORDON

From Baltic To the Black Sea, Is Plan Red Cross Is Working On

Paris, March 25.—Henry P. Davison, Chairman of the League of Red Cross Societies told newspaper correspondents of terrible conditions prevailing in Central and Eastern Europe. In Poland there are 230,000 cases of typhoid without adequate attention. He said that in Montenegro four doctors are trying to look after more than 42,000 persons. The Red Cross has been trying to establish a 1,500 mile cordon from the Baltic to the Black Sea against the pestilence.

ASQUITH CALLS PREMIER'S APPEAL MISCHIEVOUS

Liberals Must Now Choose To Follow Lloyd George or Asquith

London, Mach 25.—Herbert H. Asquith, former Premier, who recently was elected to the House of Commons from Paisley, Scotland, in a speech at the National Liberal Club Wednesday, replied to Premier Lloyd George's declaration that all the old parties should unite against the Labor party to prevent Bolshevism. Mr. Asquith said the appeal was for class cleavage and the most mischievous thing that had been done.

He branded the Irish bill as "a most fantastic and impracticable scheme and the greatest travesty of self-government ever offered a nation."

The significance of Mr. Asquith's speech is that it registers the formal split in the Liberal party. It is pointed out that all Liberals will now have to choose whether they will support the coalition party of Lloyd George or give their adherence to Mr. Asquith, who claimed to be the leader of the legitimate Liberal party.

U. S. MAY FURNISH ARMENIA WITH ARMS, AMMUNITION

Washington, March 25.—A recommendation that the United States Government supply the new Republic of Armenia with sufficient arms and ammunition to "equip a stable army" is made today by the Senate sub-committee investigating the conditions in the near East.

BRANDON GREYS DISCUSS PLANS FOR BALL SEASON

Have Splendid Material For Fast Team, and Anxious To Organize League

The Brandon Greys are going to have another successful season judging by the enthusiasm and reports at a special meeting of the players and executive held Wednesday night. Plans for the playing season were discussed and the prospects for forming a fast league which will give the fans the best ball received a lot of consideration from the meeting. The executive has already decided to make big improvements to the grounds and this will be done as soon as the weather permits.

Outside towns are anxious to get in a league with Brandon, and many suggestions are being made as to the formation of a fast organization in which the Greys can stack up against the best teams. Virden is going to have a ball team this year such as they used to put in the field, so it is certain that there will be plenty of opposition in this town for the Greys. Moosomin is also in the field, and probably Elkhorn, so that a league comprising Virden, Elkhorn, Moosomin and Brandon may be formed. Another proposition is a league which will take in Souris, Hartney and Reston, while still another is an organization taking in Souris, Glenboro, Baldur and the Greys. It was stated at the meeting that a league with Winnipeg and Portage would also go big, but the heavy expense and the time which would be spent travelling each week makes it impossible to consider the proposition. However many exhibition games will be arranged with these teams during the season.

To Form Fast League

The league which would probably furnish the best ball would be one taking in Deloraine, Boissevain, Bottineau, N.D., Hartney and Brandon. The Greys favor trying a league with the Southern towns, although the long auto trips would make it impossible to have a long schedule. However the Secretary has been instructed to write the clubs and following his report, a decision will be reached.

Despite the high cost of living the ball prices will remain the same as last year, with twenty-five cents the admission at the main gate and a charge of twenty-five cents for gentlemen and fifteen cents ladies in the grandstand. The Greys are not absolutely certain as yet whether they will build additional bleachers or not, a plan having been put forward that the present bleachers be continued to the grandstand. The grounds are to be greatly improved, and dug-outs will be made for the players on each side of the playing field. A caretaker will also be employed to look after the field for the season.

Plenty of Players

The whole of last year's team is available again this season, and several new stars are looked for from the recruits who will be given try-outs. There are many newcomers to the city, and the Mounties also have some fast players who will add strength to the Greys. With last year's line-up still intact and the expected strength coming from the players who will turn out at the practices of the team, the Greys look for even a better season than they had in 1919.

FARMERS ARE CARELESS ABOUT CERTIFICATES

For Comparatively Small Amounts of Wheat——Elevators and Mills Are Bothered

Over 600 Participation Certificates showing a total of nearly 30,000 bushels are still waiting the call of the owners in the local mills and elevators. Following the scramble in the Fall to pick these certificates up, they have piled up in the offices here until the officials are trying to devise some means of getting them to their owners. Just why the farmers should have this number of certificates in the hands of the companies when they represent so many bushels of wheat is a question the local officials cannot fathom.

It was stated today that many of the Certificates representing large amounts of grain had been picked up quickly by the farmers but that the Certificates showing small amounts are left behind in the offices. This trouble is apparently only local as the country points report that they have no difficulty in disposing of the Certificates, the farmers picking them up as soon as they arrive. It is probable that some scheme will be devised shortly which will enable the companies to mail the Certificates to the farmers and thus avoid the inconvenience of having them pile up.

NEGOTIATIONS ARE COMPLETED FOR ARGENTINA'S LOAN

Great Britain To Get Forty Per Cent. of 200,000,000

New York, March 30.—The announcement that negotiations for Argentina's loan of $200,000,000 to Great Britain, France and Italy for the purchase of foodstuffs in that South American country has been completed was made by the High Commissioner of Finance of Argentina on his arrival from Europe. Great Britain and France each received 40 per cent. and Italy 20 per cent. of the loan.

MRS. JOHN QUEEN MAY BE ALDERMANIC CANDIDATE TO SUCCEED HUSBAND

Winnipeg, March 30.—Mrs. John Queen may run in Ward Five as a candidate for alderman to succeed her husband, who was convicted Saturday of seditious conspiracy in connection with the strike of 1919.

Ald. W. B. Simpson, labor alderman, stated Monday, that in the case of a by-election, if Mrs. Queen was on the voters' list the labor party would ask her to be a candidate.

As soon as it becomes certain that the seat will be vacant, immediate steps will be taken by the labor element to appoint a nominee for the vacancy, he said.

TRIBUTES TO LATE C WESLEY SPEERS

E. A. Field land commissioner of the Canadian National Railways, said: "I feel the death of Mr. C. W. Speers keenly. He was a very close personal friend of mine. I had the pleasure of working under him many years ago and was with him fifteen years ago when the Doukhobors in the Pelly district, Sask., first became restless. Mr. Speers took charge of the situation and handled it most satisfactorily. He was a most capable immigration official. As a practical pioneer farmer, he thoroughly understood the country and its agricultural problems and was therefore of great service to newcomers, being a trustworthy counsellor and guide. His unfailing affability and integrity won for him the respect of all who came in contact with him, and the news of his sudden demise came as a great shock to his old colleagues and numerous other friends in the West. In his passing I feel a deep sense of personal loss."

Man of Special Gifts

With regard to Mr. Speers' death John Wardrop, general agent of the C.N.R. Industrial and Resources Deparement, Winnipeg, sare:

"Mr. Speers' death is certainly a loss to Western Canada. As a citizen, an enterprising farmer and an immigration officer, he was an asset to the country and it would be a hard matter to find his equal. He had special gifts for colonization work, as those who have been closely associated with him well know. I think I am not wrong in saying that his practical ideas of immigration and land settlement matters largely affected the policy of the department, though very few people were aware of the fact His selection for the post he occupied was a wise one and he rendered valuable service to the country. As a private citizen and personal friend, his death will be deeply regretted by a very wide circle of friends.

REPORT OF ROYAL COMMISSION MADE

States Mass of the Workers Loyal To British Institutions

Winnipeg, March 30.—"The Commissioner finds that the great mass of the workers is intelligent and loyal to British institutions, did not acquiesce in all that was said and done, and that it was not clear to the latter that the motive of the radicals was not that of obtaining the right to a mode of collective bargaining for a group of workers, but that their purpose was to elevate labor into a state of dictatorship," is the statement made in an official report of the Robson Royal Commission released for publication by Premier T. C. Norris.

The report also states that "the Commissioner finds that the character of the Western Labor News from its inception in August, 1918, was toward radical socialism rather than craft unionism, and that the circulation of this paper had a large part in stirring up discontent and bringing it to a head."

It is pointed out that had the Industrial Conditions Act been in operation the strike would have been averted and recommends the setting up of the joint council under the act as soon as possible.

An excerpt from the report reads: "It is found that these Socialist leaders made the utmost use of the strike to advance their own plans and to convert the general strike into a practically socialistic movement and to thrust themselves into its leadership."

JUDGE'S CHARGE IN TRIAL OF SEVEN LABOR LEADERS

Took Six Hours To Deliver and Covered All Points In the Case

ASK FOR RESERVED CASE

Counsel For Ald. Heaps Asked For Reserve Case—Riots Were Vicious

Winnipeg, March 29.—The fate of the seven labor leaders, charged with seditious conspiracy as a result of the Winnipeg general strike last May and June, was placed in the hands of the jury at 12.45 o'clock Saturday morning, after Justice Metcalfe had completed his lengthy charge. After hearing a technical objection to the charge by E. J. McMurray, which he later withdrew, Judge Metcalfe dismissed the jury for the night.

Judge Metcalfe's charge took more than six hours to deliver. He read from eight o'clock Friday night until 12.45 Saturday morning without a pause, after having taken an hour and a half of the afternoon session. It was a great strain on the judge, and he appeared nearly exhausted when he had finished.

Deals with Individuals

With the exception of William Ivens, the judge dealt briefly with the individual strike leaders. His charge was regarded by persons in the court room as strongly against Ivens.

W. H. Trueman, K.C., counsel for Alderman Heaps said he would ask for a reserved case on several points in the charge.

The judge characterized the riots of June 10 and 21 as "extremely vicious". He said he would not have discussed the riots in detail if defence counsel had not attempted to belittle them and to attack the Royal North West Mounted Police. He took occasion to point out the high standing of the "mounties" in Canada, and said it was "unthinkable" that defense counsel or the accused should attempt to make light of that body without bringing any evidence into court.

Judge Metcalfe intimated he believed the strike was illegal, but it was for the jury to say whether any of the accused men were connected with a conspiracy He said a combination of workers to prevent others from working was illegal on its face.

"It is your duty and mine," he said, in conclusion, "to hue to the line, let the chips fall where they may"

Andrews Interrupted

A. J. Andrews, K.C., chief crown counsel, concluded his rebuttal speech at 4.30 Friday afternoon. He was frequently interrupted by Pritchard and others of the accused men. They asserted crown counsel was not fair in his presentation of facts to tht jury.

"My lord, I cannot allow this to go on," Pritchard exclaimed on one occasion. "It is not the matter that is being presented to the jury but it is the manner in which i is being done that makes me bitter. He reads from an O. B. U. Bulletin which he knows was printed May 1, when Johns was out of town, and then tells the jury Johns was responsible for it."

Mr. Andrews read from minutes of the Trades and Labor Council to show that Johns was a member of the press committee named to publish the paper.

R. A. Bonnar, K.C., defense counsel, objected to Mr. Andrews' rebuttal speech at its conclusion.

"I'd like to have it noted," he said, "that this is not a reply but an address in chief."

Answers Challenge

Mr. Andrews covered most of the points shaken by the defense, and read new matter in answer to Bonnar's challenge to produce anything seditious from any of the literature put in as evidence.

In beginning his charge, Judge Metcalfe referred to the great length of the trial, saying he had been sitting on the case since Jan. 20 and the jury since Jan. 28.

"Your careful attitude has convinced me it is your desire to give evenhanded justice," he said. "There are two presumptions in the prosecution. First, that the accused are innocent until proved guilty; and second, if there is a reasonable doubt in your minds, the accused are entitled to benefit from it.

"The constitution of this country is an excellent one, handed down from our forefathers. The continued enjoyment of that constitution depends upon our juries. Any offense committed against the constitution is an offense against an attack on the constitution in his case.

"To be a juror is to hold a high judicial office. You are a judicial power, and where you differ with the judge in points of fact, it is for your conscience to dictate what you decide. It is my duty to instruct you in the law and you should take its interpretation from me. It is also my duty to point out certain facts.

"I must ask you to put entirely from your minds anything you have read in the newspapers or have heard second-hand in this court room.

Two Main Charges

"There are two main charges, the first, seditious conspiracy, and the second common nuisance. There are six separate parts of the first charge, each charging seditious conspiracy by commission of some overt act. The crown must show seven different classes of evidence before there can be a conviction on all the counts. You must find all or some of these men guilty on some counts, on all of them, or innocent of all.

"A counsel for the accused has made it more difficult for me by referring to laws contrary to what was decided in the Russell case and which was unanimously upheld by the court of appeal. When I told him he must not give statements of fact, he said he must go on but with the protest that he was being denied unalienable rights of counsel for the defense. I asked if he wished to withdraw that statement, and he brought his case to a close. I allowed considerable latitude to counsel and to undefended accused, but there are bounds that cannot be overstepped.

"A lawyer who advises his clients that the strike of last May and June was lawful, assumes a great responsibility.

"The matter of intent is one of fact, and this is for you to determine. You should apply the law to the facts you find. Action of counsel has made it necessary for me to instruct you fully in the law.

"We are not here to decide what should be done with capital or labor, but whether these men are guilty as charged or innocent. This court is bound by the law as it is, and it is not for the accused to say what the law ought to be. It is the function of parliament to say what the law shall be. It is my duty to see you get the law as I believe it to be, and then if any wrong is done the accused, justice may still be done".

Exhaustive Instruction

Judge Metcalfe then instructed the jury exhaustively in the laws governing sedition, conspiracy, seditious conspiracy, seditious libel and common nuisance.

"You have heard much about the crown acting unfairly in regard to putting in parts of exhibits," he continued. "The law says that parts of newspapers may be put in, and the rest of the articles which might go to explain the parts marked as exhibits, may be looked at. In this case, you have been permitted to look at the whole newspaper.

"As I said, the question of intent is a matter of fact, and it is for you to decide. If you find that the accused did not have a guilty intent in their minds or that they did not intend to do mischief, I tell you to find them not guilty.

"A torch applied to a green field may not cause a conflagration, but if applied to a dry field undoubtedly will cause a fire. If, in times of stress, words are spoken which are designated to cause trouble or disturbance, the person speaking them must be found to have a guilty intent. He can hardly show the lack of intent by relying in the laws of natural justice, the rights of humanity or conditions of the poor.

"I refer you to the Western Labor News of April 25, 1919, to an article, 'World Unrest.' We know from evidence who was responsible for that paper and who was editor of it. It would be hard for me to believe, after reading that, that the man who wrote it and published it, didn't know the "grass was dry.' It would take very little other evidence to make me believe he acted with full knowledge of the consequence of his acts.

Asks For Fairness

"According to the law which has recently been repealed, a man who does something in good faith may be excused. But if he acts in bad faith, the law offers no defense. While that statute has been repealed, I think it fairly states the law and the accused should have the benefit of it in this case. Do you think their acts were bona fide? If you do you may find such accused as you decide were in that state of mind, not guilty.

"To convict of conspiracy, you must first find if there was a common design. If there was, the actions of one member of the conspiracy is evidence against the others who had a part in it.

"Some of the resolutions adopted at the meetings of which we have heard, were not unlawful in themselves. For instance in regard to the Soviet and Russia. There should be no objection to these so long as the Soviet system was not advocated for this country. If that was done, would it be liable to create a breach of the peace? If it would, then that act could be construed to be seditious. It is for you to say what the purpose of those meetings was."

He then discussed the law governing unlawful assembly, and said:

"I want you to remember all I have told you about unlawful assembly when I come to discuss the disgraceful riots of June 1st and 21st.

Reads "Labor News"

He then turned to the Western Labor News and read several extracts.

"It is fair that you should read all of these articles," he said. "If you can find anything that will offset what I believe to have been the purpose of this paper, the accused is entitled to have credit for it.

"It will be for you to decide whether the Majestic theatre meeting, held at such a time, the things that were said and the literature that was distributed, led to the riots in January, 1919.

"At the Calgary convention, Pritchard and Russell spoke. A complete report of the convention was printed in the Western Labor News. The convention was in favor of a drastic change in our form of government. It expressed a preference for a soviet, for a dictatorship of the proletariat.

Holds Strike Illegal

"A general strike was decided on to carry the objects of the convention into effect, a strike wholly illegal for the purposes expressed, the withdrawal of troops from Russia, repeal of orders-in-council dealing with censorship and release of certain men from jail.

"You may read all this Western Labor News supplement which contained the Calgary report and come to your own decision as to whether these things were legal or not. The accused contend they were merely engaged in a legal industrial organization.

"Coming to the Winnipeg strike, Strike Bulletin No. 2 says the gasoline supply had been shut off, and that a decree had gone forth from the strike committee that the dailies must close down. It said a special committee had been named to deal with the food question.

"Referring to the issue of the Red Flag distributed at the Majestic theatre, we find an article by N. Lenine. He says the world was never so near the rule of the proletariat. This is indicative of the propaganda being circulated among the workers.

"The O.B. U. Bulletin of May 1st contained the article, 'Spectre of Industrial Unionism,' which said among other things that 'right never did prevail and never will until right is might.' Also the article, 'The New Morality.' If there was anything else in the paper that would put it in a better light, I would read it.

Questions Protest

"Do you wonder that Pritchard wired a protest against the 'Spectre of Industrial Unionism'? You have read his telegram. He may have disclaimed responsibility for such stuff, or he may have meant something else. It is f r you to determine. He should have the benefit of any reasonable doubt.

"The Communist Manifesto was part of the propaganda distributed. 'Proletariats have nothing to lose but their chains, and the world to gain. Workers of the world, unite,' it says. Does that sound like something you have read in the Western Labor News and Strike Bulletin?

"I think after considering the speeches and the literature distributed that you will have little doubt that a seditious conspiracy existed to educate the proletariat. It is your task to decide whether these accused were members of the conspiracy. If any of these men were not connected up, you should not find them guilty.

Cites Manifesto

"One count in the indictment is that the accused are guilty of seditious conspiracy in that they sought to bring the judiciary into disrepute. The Communist Manifesto says, 'Monster capital sits on the throne and judges do its bidding.' That means that capital is in the throne and I am here to do its bidding. Do you believe that? You may think our courts have reached that stage where you no longer wish them to exist.

"If they are told they are downtrodden and are slaves, and the power of the labor party is pointed out to them, I wonder what effect it would have on the workers to tell them their courts sit ready to do capital's bidding? Personally I don't care what they say against me, but if the public wants these statements sent broadcast over the country, abusing the judiciary to educate the plugs, then the sooner the courts are swept out of existence the better.

"Reports of Ivens' speeches at the Labor church shows he attacked capitalism and the judiciary. Does that sound anything like the Communist Manifesto?

"A number of cards, evidently notes of speeches, were found in Ivens' possession. 'Bribery of judges,' 'Farce on the judiciary,' are extracts. These notes are very important. A man may say things in the heat of the moment for which he may not be held liable, but if you find these cards, and reports of his speeches corresponding, the inference is that they were said deliberately.

Asks Comparison

"Do the quotations I have given you show a remarkable resemblance to the headings on reports of his speeches in the Labor News? If so, what is your verdict as to his intention? Reames' reports corresponded closely with the reports in Ivens' own paper. Of course Reames may have made up his report from the cards, as Ivens suggested. We may have a crooked prosecutor who suborned Reames to perjury. Some of the accused have not hesitated to say crown counsel should be in jail. But do you believe it?

"Do you believe the judiciary of this country is controlled by capital, labor or any other class? If you do, then the country has come to a sorry plight. But it is for you to say as to fact and intent."

Referring to Ivens' "poisoned jury, poisoned judge and poisoned sentence" speech in commenting on the Russell trial, Judge Metcalfe said:

"Do you think any person who heard that speech could have believed otherwise than it was designed to shake the public's confidence in the courts? Any such intention is plainly seditious on its face."

The judge then reviewed at length the laws governing strikes.

"If the strikers of Canada have a wrong idea of their rights, it would be a palpable wrong on my part if I did not warn them," he said.

"Knowledge of the fact that many of the unions had contracts with employers which were broken when the general strike was called is shown by referring to the Strike Bulletin," the judge continued. "Here is an article which says labor has risen above technicalities. What do you make out of men, knowing it is illegal to break contracts who still go ahead and do it? Does it mean 'damn contracts?' The facts are for you to decide.

"How can such a strike as that of 1919 be carried on without violence, or without endangering life and property? In a strike where 30,000 men are out, you may incite terror without hitting people over the head, or breaking windows or damaging property. A combination to prevent others from working is illegal on its face. Trades unions exceed their power when they try to tell other people when or how they shall work.

Who Called Strike"

"Who called the strike? You heard that the Trades and Labor Council wasn't responsible. Well, the accused are entitled to their defense that they didn't call it. The strike, apparently, like Topsy, just grew. The evidence is that the Trades Council sent out the strike notices and received the vote. It decided when the strike should take place and assisted in carrying it out.

As secretary of the Trades Council, we find Alderman E. Robinson. The evidence shows he sent wires to Montreal, Toronto and other places during the strike, saying the city was under the control of the strike committee. You may connect up such of the accused who took part in the strike with this man Robinson who cared not at all for his oath of office and used his position to aid the strike.

"Reports in the Strike Bulletin show that the city was completely tied up. Surely that is conclusive proof against the men who were responsible for it."

Speaks of Riots

Turning to the riots he said:

"It is my belief that the riots of June 10th and 21st were of an extremely vicious character. I wouldn't have said that if Mr. Bonnar hadn't tried to make light of the riots and the work of the R.N.W.M.P. Was the purpose of the June 10th riot to demonstrate the power of the proletariat?

"The Strike Bulletin said: "Special police driven from the streets; clash with strikers results in complete rout of police." Mayor Gray had issued a proclamation June 6th, forbidding parades or public meetings during the balance of the strike. He had a right to tell people not to loiter on the streets or gather in crowds. There was another proclamation after that, and still another one on the morning of June 21st, saying the parade planned for that city would be stopped.

"The mayor was clearly within his constitutional rights that day in calling on the Mounted Police. If he had not done his duty, he would have been liable to indictment. Were the bricks, bottles, stones and other missiles which were thrown at the police that day brought there for that purpose. Such things do not grow on the asphalt pavement.

"There was something said about Mounted Police shooting down people in the streets, and endangering the lives of women and children. If women will go to witness what they know probably will be a bloody battle they must take their chances on being hurt if they loiter on the streets when they are ordered to get off. There are no innocent bystanders in a case like that. Those who remained after being ordered away were guilty of riot."

Discusses Bargaining

Discussing collective bargaining the judge said it was a very wide term that had not been defined.

'You may well believe the workers intended by that term more than they had power to enforce," he said.

"Political action. Judging from this literature, do you believe they meant political action by the ballot?" he asked.

"If you think it was a lawful strike, that is for you to decide. You can hardly find it legal, however, if you follow the law as I have stated it. If the strike was illegal, you may decide there was a conspiracy.

"In determining whether the accused are guilty of common nuisance, you must decide whether the strike endangered the lives and health of the people of Winnipeg. There is evidence that children were on the point of death through lack of milk."

Referring to the individuals, Judge Metcalfe summed up their connection with the alleged conspiracy, in this manner:

"Bray—There was no evidence of his activities prior to the strike. He was very active in heading street parades and making speeches. He openly declared himself a bolshevist. He was the accredited representative of the strike committee."

"Armstrong—He was a member of the Trades and Labor council and Socialist Party of Canada. He was one of the censors of the Strike Bulletin and a member of the editorial committee, and the strike committee. He spoke at the Walker and Majestic theatres and at the Calgary convention."

"Heaps—Lovatt said he was a delegate to the Trades and Labor council in 1918 and 1919 and was one of the radical members. He spoke strongly against the action of the city council in forcing civic employes to sign the so-called slave pact."

"Queen—He was advertising manager of the Western Labor News and acted on the press committee of the Strike Bulletin. Lovat said he helped get Blumenberg on the Trades and Labor council, although Blumenberg was not a union member. He was chairman at the Walker theatre meeting."

"Johns—He spoke at the Quebec conference, the Majestic theatre and was prominent in the Calgary convention. He was a member of the Socialist party and One Big Union executive. He had a prominent part in the O.B.U. propaganda work. He went East to boost the O.B.U. and was out of the city during the strike.

"Pritchard—Member of the Socialist party. He had part in forming the One Big Union at Calgary and spoke there. He spoke at a meeting in Winnipeg."

Turns on Ivens

"Ivens—He said I said the labor men were entitled to get more wages if they could put it over. I never had any intention of saying such a thing. I have had the court reporters search their notes, and they can find no record of my making such a statement in this court. He was editor of the Western Labor News and Strike Bulletin. He was a member of the press committee of the Trades and Labor council and the council was working in harmony with the Socialist party at this time. He challenged the law governing censorship and, according to the crown, nearly all the sentiments he expressed in the Western Labor News, were very similar to things that appeared in the Communist and Socialist Manifestos.'

"I do not think," he continued, "that I'd consider any of these men as undefended accused. They have occupied some time in putting theid defense before you. They put no defense that I saw.

"Here is what their defense should have been: Was there sedition? If so, was it a conspiracy? Were any of the accused connected with it? Were the Quebec conference, Walker and Majestic meteings and Calgary convention linked up? Was there propaganda?

"It is for you to say if sending propaganda throughout the country constituted sedition. It will be safer if you do not say that there was seditious conspiracy if you don't consider these men have been sufficiently connected. One person is not responsible for the acts of any other unless that person has to your satisfaction been connected up with the others.

Consider Counts Separately

"You must consider every count separately, and return a verdict for each man on each count. If you have a reasonable doubt, each of the accused is entitled to a disagreement on each count if you are unable to decide whether he is guilty or innocent. If you find any of them guilty and want to recommend leniency, you may do so and it will receive the attention of the court."

Mr. Andrews on suggestion of the accused, asked the judge to tell the jury that Pritchard, Queen and Johns were not in Winnipeg when the riots occurred June 21st, and that the others had been released on bonds after agreeing to take no further part in the strike.

181ST BATTALION FIRST REUNION A GREAT SUCCESS

Colonel Beaubier Congratulates Men on Splendid Overseas Record

AWARDS AND DECORATIONS

Won By Members Are Evidence of the Spirit With Which Men Carried On

The 181st Battalion's first re-union was a great success and one that promises now to be an annual affair. Friday night over 300 members of the Chums Battalion gathered in the City Hall, renewed their war time acquaintances, met old pals, whom they served overseas with and enjoyed a splendid evening of dancing and music. The attendance at the re-union was larger than anticipated by the officials Friday morning, many of the ex-members of this battalion coming to the city at the last moment. Some of the Chums came from as far East as Quebec while members were ealso present from Alberta.

The Colonel of thee battalion, D. W. Beaubier, in opening the evening's program and welcoming the men said that it afforded him great pleasure to be present at this first re-union. He hoped that it would be an annual affair and promised to give it his hearty support. Colonel Beaubier congratulated the men of the 181st on their splendid record overseas in saying that no reinforcement battalion from Canada excelled the record of the Chums in the number of awards and decorations gained in the field. Men from the 181st had risen in the ranks to as high an office as Brigadier-General. The losses suffered by the battalion were about fifty officers and men killed and about 130 men wounded. Col. Beaubier extended his sympathy to those who had suffered loss through the war, and paid a great tribute to the women of Canada for the hardships and sufferings borne by them during the war months.

That Brandon is proud of the war record of the 181st Battalion and that this battalion stands among the best that went from Canada, was the message from His Worship Mayor Dinsdale. Not only did the members have a great record overseas but they also had a great record at home. Major Newcombe said he was glad to see so many of the old faces again, and as it would be his last opportunity of seeing the men in Canada before sailing for England where he hoped to make his home in the future. He declared that the re-union would be a great success and the men should always remember to instill the spirit of helpfulness to one another in their daily life. Former Adjutant Hurley also spoke for a few minutes.

Dancing and card playing carried the evening through to a successful conclusion, and it is stated that the re-union for 1921 is already an assured success.

RYE WHISKEY FLU CURE ON PACIFIC COAST

Vancouver, B.C., March 27.—Three hundred and fifteen thousand liquor prescriptions were issued last year by British Columbia physicians, according to the annual report of the prohibition commissioner. Rye whiskey is the popular flu cure. During the year, in all British Columbia, 25,000 gallons of rye were prescribed, and only 9,051 of Scotch. Total sales amounted to $1,579,000 during the year. Amendments to the British Columbia Act provide that the limit of liquor prescriptions hereafter will be eight ounces, instead of two quarts as heretofore.

HYDRO PLANES TO CARRY SUPPLIES TO MINING CAMP

Three Machines Being Built in Seattle to Maintain the Service

Vancouver, B.C., March 27. — Early this Summer hydroplanes will provide the Stewart mining camp all the comforts of a rural mail delivery, and will deliver from the Southern markets everything from prunes to lumber. Several machines are now being constructed in Seattle and early next month the first one will fly to Stewart. In May the other two contracted for will leave. They will have a carrying power of 1,200 pounds, and a speed of ninety miles an hour.

SIX STRIKE LEADERS TO SERVE JAIL TERMS

One Year in Jail Imposed on Wm. Ivens, George Armstrong, W. A. Pritchard, John Queen and R. J. Johns—Six Months' Term for R. E. Bray

Winnipeg, April 6.—Sentence was pronounced on six convicted strike leaders by Justice Metcalfe at the assize court today. William Ivens, Geo. Armstrong, W. A. Pritchard, John Queen and R. J. Johns were sentenced to one year on each of six counts of seditious conspiracy on which they were convicted, and to six months on the count of a common nuisance, sentences to run concurrently, making the term to be served by each in the provincial jail one year. R. E. Bray, found guilty on the charge of a common nuisance, was sentenced to six months in the provincial jail.

Before sentenced, each convisted man, with the exception of Wm. Ivens, when asked if they had anything to say, condemned the trial as unfair and reiterated their adherence to the principles of the right of a general strike and free speech. Crowds of sympathizers thronged the court and crowded the halls in the court house. They were more orderly and took the announcement of the sentence without any demonstration.

TO RAISE RED FLAG IN EAST

Moscow, April 6.—At a recent meeting of the Persian Communist party a manifesto was issued stating that the "time is not far distant when the red flag of the free proletariat will be raised in the East.

WARSAW HUMS WITH WAR ACTIVITY AND CITY IS CROWDED

Population Has Increased from 800,000 to 1,300,000 Since World War Began

HUNDREDS DIED DAILY

During Iufluenza Epidemic Because of Lack of Care and Food

Warsaw, April 6.—Warsaw is humming with war activity and is crowded to its very doors with hordes of poverty-stricken refugees from the areas for which the Poles and Bolsheviki are fighting. Travelers say it is the most crowded city in Eastern Europe. The population is estimated to have increased from 800,000 to 1,300,000 since the world war began.

Everywhere there are officers and soldiers. Military automobiles, tractors and various other vehicles of war traverse the streets all day and most of the night. The cafe life is as bright and gay as ever, but the restaurants and theatres close at 10 p.m. to save food, light and labor. The refugees from the war-stricken areas began streaming into the city about a year ago, and have been coming ever since, hoping to find food and places to sleep. The problem of providing for them has baffled the city officials.

In the poorer districts, basements, which for generations were used for storage purposes have been used for refugees' sleeping quarters. In instances fifteen to twenty persons, and even more, sleep on a basement floor, on straw. Others have found shelter in stables or in buildings intended for schools. Many of these refugees are women, with children who have come out of the East virtually without funds. During the day these people are partly supplied with food by the municipality or some of the welfare organizations. Many exist only by begging.

Warsaw's tenements, always crowded as New York's East side has been for years, are jammed with humanity as never before, and during the severe Winter weather when there was an epidemic of influenza here old men and women and children died by the hundreds every day in this land of the poor.

City officials see no relief in sight until warmer weather comes, when they hope the people will gradually begin leaving for the country to work on farms.

SENATOR HIRAM JOHNSON LEADS BY 44,457 VOTES

Half Precincts Counted in Presidential Preference Primaries in Detroit

Detroit, April 6.—With almost half the precincts counted in Monday's presidential preference primaries, Senator Hiram Johnson, California, was leading Major General Wood for republican endorsement by 44,457 votes.

NO HOPE THAT G.T.P. WILL FINISH LINE THIS YEAR

Letter From Dr. Whidden Explains Government's Attitude on Construction

TO ASSIST FARMERS

Branches to Be Built in Districts Where There Are No Railways

The Dominion Government will not undertake to finish the Grand Trunk spur line into Brandon this year, according to a letter received by the City Council from Dr. H. P. Whidden, M.P., at Ottawa. The letter was read at the committee meeting of the City Fathers held Monday night and was in response to a letter sent some time ago by the city asking that the final link be completed this year to connect Brandon with the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

Dr. Whidden's reply is to the effect that the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway would not complete construction in the older parts of Canada this year, as the Government's first obligation was to supply the farmers with transportation for their grain and to provide suitable markets for their produce. In some instances the farmers were fifty miles from a railway, and the policy of the company this year is to run their railroad through country not now served by a railway. In view of this therefore they could not complete the Brandon spur this year. Dr. Whidden did state though that it is expected that the Hudson's Bay Railway will be completed and that the energies of Western members are now being turned to the passing of the bill enabling the Government to proceed with the completion of the Northern railway.

Wants Wires Grounded

City Electrician Boden wrote to the Council suggesting the grounding of secondary wires in alternating current systems of the Canada Gas and Electric Corporation in such a manner as may be outlined by the Public Utilities Commissioner. He also suggested that an electrical engineer from the Public Utilities Commission should visit Brandon and make a full report on the system of grounding the wires and that probably as a result of the engineer's visit that the Utilities Commissioner would make an order similar to the one made in Winnipeg some time ago. Mr. Boden stated that the grounding of these wires would prob-

RE-ORGANIZED PROVINCIAL POLICE FORCE ENTERS ON DISCHARGE OF ITS DUTIES

With the appointment of J. H. Hornby to the Brandon city staff, the local district personnel of the Provincial Police is now complete. The district will be under the direction of Inspector J. R. Foster as announced some time ago, while Sergt. Adam Ross, formerly of Virden, will be Inspector Foster's chief officer. J. H. Hornby, the third man appointed for Brandon is a Winnipeg man, and has not as yet joined the department here.

The out-of-town constables under the supervision of the Brandon officers are J. R. Tulloch, Melita; J. H. Forman of Rivers; Charles T. Young of Virden, and James McSherry of Souris. All these men saw service overseas and several of them had previous police experience. The police department for Manitoba is headed by Col. J. G. Rattray of Winnipeg, who is Commissioner for the Province. The new department has already commenced work under the re-organization plan and several cases are now being handled by the Brandon officers. Both Inspector Foster and Sergt. Adam Ross have seen long service in the Provincial Police and are well known throughout the West as efficient police officers.

The offices of the Provincial police are located in the Court House.

DISTRIBUTION OF ENEMY WARSHIPS AMONG THE ALLIES

France's Share is Ten Per Cent. of Total Tonnage or 92,000 Tons

THE SUBMARINES

France to Receive Forty of Them and to Put Ten Into Service

Paris, April 6.—Particulars of the distribution of enemy warships among the Allies has just been published here. France's share, 10 per cent. of the total tonnage, with the exception of submarines, represents 92,000 tons, half in German ships and the remainder in Austrian. Five cruisers and ten destroyers are allotted to France and the same number of cruisers and destroyers to Italy. France will receive forty submarines, ten of which may be put in service, France being the only power to which the privilege of using captured submarines has been granted.

ROWELL HOME FROM WASHINGTON—STATEMENT TO BE ISSUED SHORTLY

Ottawa, April 6.—Hon. N. W. Rowell returned from Washington today after a visit. It is understood that the question of a representative from Canada was under discussion. A statement will be issued shortly.

CURRIE'S SPEECH MADE IMPRESSION ON NEW YORKERS

Straightforward Tribute to Canadian Soldier Evokes Warm Appreciation

New York, April 6.—The speech delivered by General Sir Arthur Currie, commander of the Canadian Corps on the Western front, and now Inspector-General of the Canadian Military Forces, appears to have left a deep impression here.

General Currie's recital of the deeds of Canada's fighting men was heard by the largest gathering of members of the Canadian Club and their friends that has assembled to hear any speaker during the past year. The big ballroom of the Biltmore Hotel was crowded, many Americans being present as guests of members of the club.

"I never before realized the extent of Canada's sacrifice in the cause of humanity," said one American guest afterwards. "The forceful way in which General Currie told of the wonderful work of the Canadian Corps made a deep impression upon me."

General Currie's speech really was a simple, straightforward tribute to the Canadian soldier. He told of the men in the ranks, of their suffering and their heroic qualities of self-sacrifice and service. He put forward no claims for the higher officers, said little or nothing of himself or of the others who had directed the battles. The Canadian "Tommy" was the subject of his address, and he kept his audience keyed to a high pitch of interest as he described the achievements of the men in the ranks.

He told story after story of incidents which had come under his personal observation, little tales of heroism unsurpassed by anything which has been said or written, and each was greeted with a round of applause that was a tribute to the men who had upheld the honor of the Dominion.

There is a general feeling among Canadians here that General Currie's visit has helped to create a better understanding of Canada, and a keener appreciation of the great war record of the Dominion on the part of hundreds of citizens of New York.

MORE'S GENERAL STORE AT SOURIS DESTROYED BY FIRE ON SUNDAY

Souris, Man., April 6.—The general store of J. H. More, corner of Main street and Crescent avenue, was destroyed by fire Sunday morning, the building and contents being a total loss.

At the time that the conflagration was first discovered, about two a.m., the flames had gained such headway that it was realized that there was little hope of saving the building. The fire brigade responded promptly with the chemical apparatus, and in a few minutes had several streams of water from the town hydrant on the building.

Efforts to prevent the fire spreading to adjacent structures were successful. The building was recently purchased by Mr. More. The loss is partly covered by insurance. The origin of the blaze is a mystery.

DIRIGIBLE R-34 ALREADY DECLARED AN ABSOLETE TYPE

First Dirigible to Cross Atlantic to Be Used Only For Experiments

Pulham, Eng., March 18—(By Mail).—The dirigible airship, R-34, which crossed the Atlantic Ocean to America, already is declared to be an obsolete type, although she was not completed until after the war had ended. It is announced that this trans-Atlantic dirigible, her sister ship, the R-33, and the R-32 are to be used hereafter only for experimental purposes. The Globe says that reports that they may be used for commerce or passenger-carrying are untrue and that they could not be used with any success for such purposes.

The R-34 is 640 feet long and was expected to have a cruising radius of nearly 5,000 miles.

ASTOR BUYS PART OF ISLAND FOR GAME RESERVE

Island Said to Be a Natural Deer Forest—To Build Mansion and Houses

London, March 18.—(By Mail).—Viscount Astor has bought part of the island of Jura, off the West coast of Scotland, and plans to erect on it a mansion and some smaller dwelling houses, the latter apparently for the occupation of his friends. Lord and Lady Astor will reside on the island only during deer stalking season. Jura is about 25 miles long, is described as a range of mountains rising out of the sea and is a natural deer forest.

BRITISH AUTHORITY IN IRELAND NOW SERIOUSLY MENACED

Saturday's Incidents Show Need for Better Methods of Combatting Crime

AUTHORITIES OUTWITTED

Damage to Police Barracks Will Not Be Less Than £50,000

London, April 6.—A Dublin dispatch says that two morals are generally drawn from Saturday's incidents in Ireland; first, that the Republican movement has become a really serious menace to British authority in Ireland; second, that the Government must have a better method of combattting the campaign of crime. The brains at Dublin Castle are being outwitted at every turn by the brains of a revolutionary movement. Damage to barracks aggregated a loss of 50,000 pounds sterling.

OLDER TEEN AGE BOYS TO GAMBOL IN Y GYM

Thursday night the Older Teen Age Boys of the Sunday Schools will meet in the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium at seven o'clock. A splendid program of athletics has been prepared and it is hoped that there will be a good attendance.

The Junion Teen Age Boys' Indoor Athletic Meet will be held Thursday, April 15th. The boys have been busy for some time practicing for this event and it is expected that final preparations for it will be completed in the next few days.

HOLIDAY SPIRIT PREVAILS IN ALL HEBREW HOMES—FEAST OF THE PASSOVER

This week a holiday spirit prevails in the home of the Hebrews in Brandon for this is the Feast of the Passover, the great Spring Festival of the Jewish people in commemoration of the exodus from Egypt when Moses delivered them out of the hands of Pharoah. Special services were held on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, and will also take place next Friday, the eighth and final day of the feast.

In memory of the first Passover the Hebrews all over the world will eat "Mazzoth" or unleavened bread during the week and no other bread will be allowed to be eaten. The first and seventh days of the feast are the most important and are strictly observed by the Hebrews.

SATURDAY IS OPENING DATE THE SUN'S $8,000 CIRCULATION CAMPAIGN

Competitors Should Enroll Now Now and Get Away to an Even Start

The drive begins on Saturday next. All workers intending to share in the $8,000 prize list should fill out the nomination blank appearing on the Competition page in this issue and forward it to the Competition Department of The Sun. Receipt books, lists of subscribers, and all other necessary matter to assist you in your work will then be sent you.

Grasp This Opportunity Now

First in the field is a big factor. Naturally if you secure your supplies and commence your campaign immediately you will be several laps ahead of any competitor who might enroll later on. Seize the easiest course to victory by sending in your name now. Competitors are needed in every district.

Very few sections are so far represented by candidates. Considering the huge prize list and the amount of work to be easily accomplished, this should not be the case. Two big touring cars are the first and second prizes, the former of which is a big $1855.00 Chevrolet "Baby Grand." A small amount of extra effort on your part will win this enviable prize.

Read carefully the details of the Competition and the list of prizes awaiting owners, on the Competition page. Read also the article regarding the ten per cent commission which assures to every energetic competitor ample reward for his work.

There is not a district in which there is not a great deal of work to be done. There are new subscribers to be taken; the subscriptions of old subscribers to be renewed, and many arrearages to be collected. The work is really a pleasant, and no less profitable diversion for your spare time; what is more, we can guarantee that no energetic competitor will lose.

Send in your name today. Surely you have as much ability as the "other fellow".

NEW AIRSHIP MAY FLY FLOAT AND SUBMERGE

Sir Fortescue Flannery, M.P., Predicts New Type of Machine for Future

London, April 6.—An "airship, which could fly and in fact float and submerge" is in the judgement of Sir Fortesque Flannery, M.P., "no impossible dream of the future." He addressed the Society of Consulting Marine Engineers at a banquet held recently, and added that some of those present might live to see this materialize.

RETURNING HUNS NOT WANTED IN ENGLISH CITIES

Those Who Have Crept in Are Made to Feel They Are Unwelcome

London, April 6.—Large numbers of German and other undesirables who were deported from England in the war have managed to make their way back to London, but have encountered warm receptions when their identity has been discovered. They managed to cross from the continent by working their way as sailors on tramp steamers to Northern English and Scottish ports.

These Germans who have come back to take up business again find it a hard row to hoe, says the Evening Standard. One German business man gave it up and returned to his Fatherland after being refused admission to five London hotels. He found rooms in a Bloomsbury boarding house but two days later the other boarders discovered him, and notified the manager they could not live under the same roof with a German; and he was turned out.

A German butcher in a London suburb was prevented by his neighbors from re-opening his old store the other day although he had lived in England for over 40 years, and there are many similar cases.

Neither captain nor crew of the liner Spios, the first German [illegible] August, 1914, were allowed ashore at Methil and, in deference to local feeling, the vessel did not display the German flag.

On the other hand, a revival of "Tannhauser" at Covent Garden Opera recently drew a crowded and appreciative audience of society people. The cast, however, was wholly English.

FOREIGN SPIES BUSY IN BRITAIN

Anti-Spy Regulations to Make Their Operations Some What Difficult

London, March 18—(By Mail).—The British Government is taking steps to restrict the operations in England of spies from foreign countries. The House of Commons has just adopted anti-spy regulations at the request of Sir Ernest Pollock, the Solicitor-General, who told the nembers of the House that information was now being collected here for foreign governments and that this ought to be stopped for the sake of the country's safety.

"Spies are as active in this country as ever" said Brigadier-General Cockerill, Director of Special Intelligence at the War Office.

SUBSCRIBING TO SINN FEIN LOAN IN IRELAND IS AN OFFENCE AGAINST THE LAW

Dublin, April 6.—Subscribing to the Sinn Fein loan in Ireland is an offence against the law, according to the ruling of two magistrates in the county of Wexford, who in a recent case held such action as an "attempt to overturn the King's Government."

ONLY POLES CAN BE PRESIDENT OF POLISH REPUBLIC

Candidates Must Be at Least Forty Years Old and Roman Catholics or Protestants

Warsaw, April 6.—The constitutional commission of the Diet adopted a resolution recently providing that to be eligible to the presidency of the Polish republic a candidate must be of Polish nationality, at least forty years old, and Roman Catholic or Protestant in religion. The commission began its task of framing the Polish constitution nearly a year ago.

FRENCH TROOPS NOT OPPOSED BY GERMAN FORCES

Issue Proclamation to People of Neutral Zone Explaining Reasons for Advance

NO HOSTILE INTENT

French to Withdraw as Soon as German Government Forces Evacuate Neutral Zone

Mayence, April 6.—French troops entered Frankford and Darmstadt at five o'clock this morning, finding only a small German force left there to afford police protection for the people. The occupation was a mere military march and was not attended by any fighting. The proclamation issued by General De Goutte to the cities and towns within the area occupied, declares that French troops crossed the Rhine to compel the Berlin Government to respect its agreement with the Allies and asserts there is no hostile intent toward the people in the region. The French troops will be withdrawn as soon as the German Government forces evacuate the neutral zone. All cities and towns within the occupied district are declared under a state of siege.

CHINESE MAY WRITE SCRIPT AND USE TYPEWRITERS

Instead of Plying a Brush to Draw 10,000 or More Hieroglyphics

Shanghai, April 6—Chinese of future generations will write in phonetic script and use a typewriter with only 39 characters instead of plying a brush [illegible] It mission workers succeed in an effort they are making to revolutionize handwriting in use in China for more than 4,000 years. The work of the missionaries is at last beginning to receive official sanction and they entertain hopes that eventually the Chinese brush, ink block and ink tablet will have to go to give place to more modern methods of communicating ideas.

Their purpose is not only to simplify China's handwriting system but to give the country a common tongue to replace the present day babel which renders even the native who is away from his own home district almost as helpless as a foreigner.

New Phonetic Script

The system of phonetic script now urged upon the Chinese was worked out in England in 1903 by Wang Chao. Beside its 39 characters, it contains 10 numerals. There are no capitals.

Rev. E. G. Tewksbury, of Shanghai, secretary of the China Sunday School Union, and a member of the Phonetic Promotion Committee, who has devoted 30 years to teaching in China, has put the new script into use on American typewriters with complete success. For this purpose typewriters with blank type faces are obtained from the factories and the characters are cut from these faces here by Chinese engravers.

Realize Importance

That the Pekin Government attaches importance to the effort being made is seen in the following excerpt from a recent mandate issued by the Ministry of Education.

"We recognize that because of the difference between our classical and spoken language, education in the schools makes slow progress and the keen edge of the spirit of union, both between individuals and in society at large, has thereby been blunted. Moreover, if we do not take prompt steps to make the written and spoken language the same quickly, any plans for developing our civilization will surely fail."

ST. LOUIS POLICE KILL BANDIT AFTER HE KILLED OFFICER, WOUNDED THREE

St. Louis, Mo., April 6.—At bay in an orchestra pit, the unoccupied theatre surrounded by fifty policemen, a bandit killed one officer, seriously wounded three others and himself was killed, after he had robbed a trust company of $20,000 yesterday.

TO ADJUST DIFFERENCES

Manitoba has the Industrial Conditions Act, which is designed to bring together the parties to an industrial dispute and bring about a settlement of their differences. Recent amendments to the act, passed at this last session of the Legislature are designed to make it workable and to prevent strikes and lockouts with the tremendous loss involved. Its effectiveness has yet to be demonstrated.

The State of Kansas has adopted a plan requiring industrial disputes to be adjudicated in court just like any other disputes. The plan is based on the theory that there is no more reason why disputes over wages and working conditions should not be peacefully adjudicated without interrupting industrial production than there is why a business firm, having litigation in mind, should suspend business until the case is finally decided.

The theory looks good; but it will take experience in the practice of it to show whether or not it is good. If it works it is good; if it doesn't it isn't.

On the face it appears as if there is no good reason why anybody should oppose such legislation except professional labor leaders whose occupations and salaries might be jeopardized if some better way than the present one of adjusting industrial disputes should be found. Of course revolutionaries who don't want industrial peace because they want to use industrial chaos to make a Bolshevist world will not favor it.

The test of all such legislation will be the results achieved. If either proves in practice capable of settling industrial disputes justly without interrupting industrial production then it will be and it should be, widely copied. If it doesn't, then that will be an end of it, and another way will have to be sought.

But the present way is so crude, so costly to the public, that the search for a better way must not stop until it is found.

GRAVE RESPONSIBILITY

To the extent that the press agent is responsible for publishing falsehoods and to the careless statements by people who loom large in the public eye, may be attributed some of the discredit for the low standard of honesty and lack of truthfulness which is one of the evils of society.

Mary Pickford is a name that is known to almost every man, woman and child on the continent of America. Little Mary is the term of endearment which millions of people use in speaking of her. Because of the light of publicity which beats upon her, everything she says, and does, what she wears, is a matter for public comment. Now it is known that she, or the publicity agent on her behalf, is guilty of deliberate untruths, for she was reported as having said she would never marry again and to have denied rumors of her approaching marriage to Douglas Fairbanks. It is known now that they were married on Sunday.

Mary Pickford owed it to the plain people, the people who have been good to her, and who have contributed to her wealth and fame, to have told the truth or to have remained silent. Her denial, or the denial that she permitted to be made on her behalf, stands as an example to thousands of young girls who almost worship her. Her example in this instance is such as to afford an easy self defense for those seeking one when an opportunity for duplicity seems to afford an easy exit from a difficult situation. Mary may be truly said to have failed to set a noble example for her countless admirers. In a day when honesty is more to be desired than riches the great and the near great have tremendous responsibilities.

WOULD 'DORE HOUSES DO?

One reason given for the failure to build enough homes is the scarcity and high cost of building materials. But, just as people in war time found suitable substitutes for nearly everything, so now they may be able to find suitable substitutes with which to build homes for themselves.

Adobe is generally regarded as a most undesirable, makeshift substitute for brick and stone and lumber, useful only to Mexicans and perhaps other dwellers in rainless regions. But the Scientific American makes it known that adobe is now being extensively used for pretentious homes. In California, for example, in the outskirts of Los Angeles, 200 houses of this construction are going up, among them at least one to be occupied by a millionaire.

Adobe is simply clay mixed with water and straw, cast in molds and left in the sun to bake. "Generally speaking," says the Scientific America, "any earth with a clay base that makes it 'gooey' and cohesive when watered will be desirable" Further, "the process of manufacture is almost as simple as that whereby children turn out pies at the nearest puddle." The straw added to the clay it seems, "serves a purpose similar, though in greater degree, to that of steel re-enforcement in concrete."

One is further assured that adobe has certain marked advantages over some other building materials. Tests prove that it is cool in Summer and warm in Winter. It is a non-conductor of heat. Houses built of it, according to the claims of those who have used it, show little deterioration over a long term of years. Such houses are virtually soundproof and fireproof and can readily be made waterproof with a cement plaster. While they are economical of construction they are attractive in appearance and lend themselves to a variety of architectural effects.

So much for the solemn assurances of those who know the adobe houses in warmer regions than Manitoba. The claims of 'dobe cannot be altogether overlooked while there is the present necessity for more houses, although it remains for some obliging person to demonstrate that these claims are justified when Manitoba requirments are understood.

WHAT IS A "DEMAGOGUE?"

A demagogue, of course, is a plausible fellow who plays unscrupulously upon the passions and prejudices of the people for his own political advantage.

But that's only what a demagogue actually is, and there are other definitions.

In the more common use of the term a demagogue is a man with whose principles we disagree; and the more effective he is in drawing people to his standard, the more demagogic he looks to us.

Mr. Asquith having referred to him as a demagogue, Mr. Lloyd George recenly responded with this very apt definition of a demagogue:

"It is an epithet which has always been hurled by the dull and pomptuous against any man who has a greater power of appealing to the masses than they have."

There are real demagogues, and they are dangerous to democracy. The only safeguard against them is a keen and enlightened public.

But in about nine cases out of ten when the term "demagogue" is used it is to be understood in the sense of Mr. Lloyd George's description.

TO REDUCE FIRE LOSS

Twenty-five years ago if any public man had suggested an act of Parliament to compel the erection of lightning rods he would have been deemed a ripe subject for the saylum or jail. In those days every farmer was counted fair prey for the cupidity of the lightning rod agent. During the intervening years, however, studious investigation and scientific improvement have shown that properly erected and carefully grounded lightning rods and equipment will, beyond any peradventure, protect buildings against loss from fire by lightning. One of the bills to be introduced at the first session of the new Ontario Government will be an act to make compulsory the installation of lighthing rod equipment on practically all barns, elevators, mills and other buildings housing foodstuffs which might be erected in the province in the future. And this bill will be presented by a member of the Drury Government. If enacted this bill will require all such buildings to have lightning rods installed as soon as possible after January 1st, 1921. A penalty of non- compliance is provided in the bill.

WHAT ABOUT THE BOYS!

More Brandon people are busying themselves with problems concerning the boys than ever before. A so called Recreation Association, composed of about fifty men who have given tangible evidence of their interest in boy life, is considering the question of recreation in its broadest sense. The question is being approached from the angle of providing for the needs of the under privileged teen age boy. The object is to make it possible for him to indulge in wholesome recreation with his fellows, and to get all the fellows playing rather than to develop groups of skilled players. With this in mind, and provided the necessary financial support is forthcoming, it is first proposed to establish four play grounds one each in the North, East, South and West ends of the city.

In order to do this and to provide the necessary equipment and expert supervision, funds are needed. A committee is now busy estimating the amount that will be required and when this is known with some degree of accuracy, the City Council is to be approached with a request to supply it. Already the School Board has been approached and different members have expressed hearty agreement with the plans suggested though the Board may find itself unable to supply the expert leadership that was at first counted on.

The plans of the Recreation Association are at present very much in the air. This is partly due to the fact that the only mandate the association has is the need of the boys for expert supervision and guidance during critical years. That this is both an opportunity and a source of weakness is clear. The opportunity to do an effective piece of work presents itself with an obviousness that has long been apparent. The weakness is the organization method of a group that petitions the City Council for a portion of public funds to be used, it is true, in a high form of community service.

One cheering fact stands out. A group of citizens are making serious efforts to cope with what has been too long neglected—the boy problem in Brandon.

HOPE SPRINGS ETERNAL

The late Spring and continued cold and snow are causing serious loss to many Western farmers. Feed is scarce and high in price and animals which at this season in other years were picking the most of their living off greening pastures, have still to be fed. On the other hand it is said by many that the late Spring presages an abundant crop and that the cold spell means death to the plague of grasshoppers which otherwise would have been most serious this year.

Let us retain our hope in promised blessings, it helps to lessen present unpleasantness.

OLD FALLACY EXPLODED

There is an old belief that minister's sons are more likely to "go wrong," and become "fast" or "go to the dogs," than the sons of other men.

Well, of course there was never anything to it. All there ever was in it was this: that when a minister's son did go wrong and all the rest, the case was rendered more conspicuous by the fact that he was a product of an environment so sharply in contrast with the deviltry he chose.

It isn't that ministers' sons go wrong any more than other peoples' sons, if, indeed, as many of them go wrong.

It is simply that when it happens it is noticed by more people.

All of which leads up to this: that when a committee was looking for the right man to do a most exacting and particular piece of work, it investigated the records and training of many men and among those deemed worthy of further inquiry because of their seeming fitness for the post, one-third were found to be ministers' sons.

STOCK SHOWN HERE STANDS HIGH AT EDMONTON FAIR

Alberta Boy Placed Second Here Awarded First at Northern Show

BOYS' FAT CALVES

Nearly Twice as Many Shown at Brandon As at Edmonton

Prize winners from Brandon and live stock that was shown here are gaining much prominence at the Edmonton Winter Fair. The horse show feature has been a feature and one of the noted wins was the double win of "Donald" and "Sandy," two horses in the class for draft mares and geldings, 1,500 pounds or over. These horses were formerly owned by W. I. Elder of this city, but were sold last year to McKay Brothers, of Carmangay, Alta. The horses won first and second in the above event and also captured first prize in the team event.

The championship in the fat steer class went to Alberta Boy, owned by Frank Colicutt, of Crossfield. This steer got second at Brandon out of a class of twenty-five, Phapis' Junior, owned by John Campbell, of Chater, beating it out for the premier honors. Alberta Boy has been handed over to the Alberta University to be included in the bunch of steers to be fitted for the International Stock Show at Chicago next Fall.

The Boys' Fat Calf competition was not the success at the Edmonton Fair that it was here. The Western fair only had thirty-seven beef and ten dairy calves entered, while the Brandon fair had seventy-five calves in the line-up before the judges. The car lots of fat steers were not as good as those shown at Brandon, or as numerous. There were only three entries in the car lot class at Edmonton, while there were seven here. Other classes also had much smaller entry lists than the big Winter Fair held here last month.

One feature that was put on at Edmonton and which was missing from the local fair was the driving classes. An excellent feature was made at the Edmonton show of this, Miss Lemon, of Winnipeg, winning second and fourth in the ladies' carriage horse class with "England's Pride" and "Merry Maid," while Governor Brett's mare "Lady Mathias" captured first.

OBITUARY

Margaret Murray

The death of little Margaret Murray, the eleven months and nineteen days old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Murray, occurred at Nurse Mitchell's home on Saturday. The circumstances are exceptionally sad. The child was taken ill about a month ago while teething, with influenza, and was greatly weakened when spinal meningitis set in. When first taken ill she was at home at 321 Twenty-third street and was later taken to the nursing home.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray contemplated moving to an Eastern city and in preparation therefor had disposed of their effects and were awaiting the recovery of the child before leaving. The funeral was held from McPherson & Bedford's undertaking parlors at 2.30 Tuesday, Rev. J. W. Churchill officiating.

The late Mrs. Taylor was fifty-seven years and five months of age and had lived in the district for the past thirteen years coming from Kidderminster, England.

$20 A MONTH WAGE BOOST FOR WINNIPEG CIVIC EMPLOYES

Winnipeg, April 3.—Salaries of civic employes will be increased on a flat rate of $20 a month, the wage committee o fthe City Council decided at a final meeting Wednesday afternoon This will mean an approximate increase in the civic pay-roll of $300,000 yearly, or $25,000 per month. Approximately 1,300 employes are affected by the increase, which applies to all civic departments.

The yearly increase in the pay-roll may be still further increased following consideration of the salaries of civic officials, which will be dealt with at a final session of the committee. Special cases will also be considered and some individual adjustments may be necessary, officials said Thursday.

Taken on a percentage basis, employes receiving from $80 to $90 a month will receive a raise if 23 per cent. As the salaries increase the percentage correspondingly drops as in the case of an employe receiving $250 a month the raise would be 2 per cent.

WARRANTS FOR ARREST OF 3,500 CLEVELAND OWNERS TO BE ISSUED IN FEW DAYS

Cleveland, O., March 31.—Warrants for the arrest of more than 3,500 Cleveland landlords for alleged violation of the city tenement house ordinance by failing to obtain 1920 licenses will be issued within a few days, the City License Commissioner announced Tuesday.

Other city officials are preparing to attack rent profiteering from four different angles through legislation adopted by the City Council.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

BURTON—ELKINS

A quiet wedding was solemnized this morning at the home of Mrs. A. M. Elkins, Suite 9, Alexander Apartments, when her eldest daughter, Hazel Marion, was united in marriage to Frederick Patton Burton, son of Mrs. M. Burton, Mutter Block. Rev. G. E. Lougheed performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate friends and relatives of the bride and groom. Mr. and Mrs. Burton left on the 7.45 train on a short honeymoon to Winnipeg and on their return will reside in the city.

MISS COULTER AND MR. COULTER ENTERTAIN

Miss Minnie Coulter and Mr. Reginald Coulter entertained at a dance in the Connaught Hall, Monday evening, in honor of the former's birthday, at which about one hundred and twenty-five were present. Mr. and Mrs. J. Coulter, Miss Coulter and Mr. R. Coulter received the guests. Mrs. Coulter was becomingly gowned in gray silk while Miss Coulter wore a dainty pink frock with an overdress of white tulle trimmed with pink rose buds. The hall was attractively decorated with large maple leaves, in varied colors, and Japanese lanterns, which made a very pretty setting. Music for the occasion was supplied by Higgins Orchestra while extras were played by Miss Hildred Smith, Miss Irene Shea and Mr. Sidney Higgins. Card tables were arranged for those who did not dance. Refreshments were served about eleven o'clock after which dancing was continued. Those who assisted serving included Chief and Mrs. Hardy, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Morgan and Mr. and Mrs. R. Cross.

CLERGYMAN SAID TO BE MOVING SPIRIT OF BAND OF THIEVES

Followers Included Postmaster, Photographer, Schoolmaster and Letter Carrier

Vienna, April 2. — A clergyman, Thomas Pfefferkorn, alleged to be the leader of a band of 25 thieves and incendiaries, has been arrested with his followers at the town of Mitterseil, according to the Salzburger Volksblatt. Pfefferkorn, the paper says, recruited his followers from among persons of some standing in the town of Metterseil, including the photographer, the schoolmaster, the postmaster and the postmistress, and the letter carrier. They are alleged to have burglarized the inn and then set fire to it and to have practiced blackmail on a number of prominent citizens.

NEW POLICY FOR RUSSIAN SOVIET FOLLOWS VICTORY

Moscow, April 6.—Consolidation of party interests and centralization of departmental activities as the result of Russian victories "on all fronts," were emphasized as the key-note of the Soviet Government's policy by Nikolai Lenine, Bolsheviki Premier of Russia, speaking at the opening session of the ninth convention of the Communist party here.

"That this miracle or victory happened," he declared, "notwithstanding the imperialist world was against us, was due to centralization, sacrifice and discipline."

Recent peace proposals received by the Soviet Government denote a change of sentiment in the outside world and an Entente policy indicative of lack of unity."

"Our position cannot be determined from the viewpoint of jurisprudence," Lenine said.

Lenine's address which outlined the political activities and general policy of the Central Communist Committee was the most important feature of the day. Representatives of Swedish and Norwegian workers were welcomed at the conference and a general committee which included Lenine, Trotzky and other Bolsheviki leaders, was elected.

More men would become famous if they didn't attempt to write poetry.

START FLOWERS OR VEGETABLES IN THE HOUSE

Now is the time to plant tomato, pepper, cabbage, cauliflower, celery and such flower seeds as can be grown in boxes in the house or in a hotbed. These seeds planted at the present time will be ready t be transplanted as soon as the garden can be made ready and as a result the plants if properly cultivated, will be much farther advanced than if the seeds are planted outdoors at a later date.

Some Brandon citizens firm in the belief that Winter will disappear eventually, have their tomato plants well under way and expect to have ripe fruit, which will be the envy of their neighbors, very early in the season.

When tomato plants are two inches high they should be transplanted from small boxes or pots and later on transplanted again so that they will have all the room they need. These plants should never be crowded but be kept short and stocky. To ensure fruit ripening out of doors, the plants should be allowed to grow in the small pots until they show bloom or even small fruit. They may then be transplanted to open ground without disturbing their roots and will continue to bloom and fruit without check.

Brandon soil seems to be particularly adapted for the growth of tomatoes and many people have obtained bushels of luscious fruit each year from these plants.

MANITOBA BOSSES ORGANIZE: TO INSIST ON THE OPEN SHOP

Winnipeg, April 1.—Positive determination to insist upon the open shop principle in all lines of business was voiced at an organization meeting of the employers of Manitoba held Tuesday evening in the Board of Trade building.

The policy and principles of the new organization are:

1. To promote a fair and equitable basis, industrial peace, and commercial prosperity in the community, and the steady employment of labor.

2. To discourage lockouts, strikes and unfair demands by either employer or employe.

3. To secure for employer and employe freedom of contract in the manner of employment.

4. To disseminate a knowledge of the fundamental economic laws and conditions upon which successful production depends.

Not only was it pointed out in the constitution, but it was emphasized in many of the speeches made, that employers were not organized to combat unionized labor, but that as long as labor organized for the purpose of assisting their members by honest effort to improve conditions in general, the association would work with them in every possible way.

Urge Organized Effectiveness

That a proper solution of many of our economic problems of today is more dependent upon the organized effectiveness and influence of the business men of Manitoba than ever before, and that organized effort of business men was necessary to offset many radical movements and depressing influences that were effecting production and general business prosperity were the key-notes of the speeches delivered.

Fifty tables with half a dozen executive heads at each table of the leading business firms of Winnipeg, Brandon, Portage la Prairie and St. Boniface filled the big banquet hall. Twenty-five different groups of trade and industry were represented, including building traders, printers and publishers, wholesale jobbers, retail merchants, builders supplies, packing and cold storage houses, metal trades, garment workers, cartage, transfer, and coal companies, creameries, ice companies and milk dealers, brewers, bottlers and grocers sundries, flour, grain and elevator, transportation and telegraphs, hotels and restaurants, lumbering and wood working, bakers and candy manufacturers, farm implements and machinery, financial, autos, and supplies, rags, jute, tents, laundries and dye works, paints and oils, glass and sundry employers.

The report showed a founder membership that had enrolled voluntarily since January 20 of 243 firms, which were employing outside of executive officers, 13,817 workers, of which 10,386 were male employes and 3,431 female and a total annual wage of $11,368,105. Nothing like a full canvass of the field was made before organizing permanently, but steps will be taken immediately by the directors appointed last night to extend the organization until it has covered every town of importance in the province.

All Trade Groups Represented

Every trade group is represented in the 51 directors elected and include representatives from the City of Brandon, Portage and St. Boniface. The election of officers will be dealt with at a later meeting of the directors. The draft constitution and by-laws which had been prepared by the provisional executive which has had charge of the organization work during the last few months, were confirmed at the meeting.

Recognizing that present financial conditions make it wise and imperative for business men to establish and maintain in Manitoba the most favorable conditions obtainable in order to take advantage of the future opportunities this province offers for its agricultural, industrial and commercial development, employers took a positive and absolute stand for the open shop principles, in all lines of business, and, further, that as citizens with large sums of capital invested, they will urge upon Provincial and Dominion Governments in establishing and maintaining such priciples and will lend the association's moral and active support to maintain these principles in the future working out of the Provincial Industrial Conditions act and other Canadian-wide uniform legislation with a view of stimulating greater production and turnover in all lines of industrial trade and commerce.

THIEVES POSE AS OFFICERS AND STEAL WHISKEY

Lake Geneva, Wis., April 1.—Posing as Federal prohibition officers, eight men carted away $15,000 worth of choice whiskey here from the Summer home of Frank Rehm, son-in-law of J. M. Grommes, of the Grommes & Ulerich Liquor Company, Chicago. They are held at Woodstock by Sheriff Roy Stewart, of McHenry county.

SALOONS CLOSED LABORERS HAVE LOTS OF MONEY

Declares Employment Agent Who Says Men Won't Go Out To Farm Work

Chicago, April 1.—Jazz, luxurious dinners, plenty of shows and late hours, together with easy jobs at high wages, threaten to cause a labor shortage on farms this year which may cause further increases in living costs, observers here say.

Tempting offers by farmers in the grain belt are meeting with little response and unless farm help is obtained shortly, farmers will have to work night and day to get in their crops, according to reports.

"There is a great labor shortage on the farms,' said C. S. Boyd, head of an employment agency here. "We receive 50 orders for farm hands daily and are able to only fill 10. The jobs pay from $50 to $80 a month, with room, board and washing. This is an increase of 25 per cent. over last year. Jobs for married couples pay $100 a month and they are given a house, garden and a cow."

"The lack of farm labor is caused by the fact that the saloons are closed and the laborers have lots of money," said Sam Cummings, farm labor agent. "They can get $5 a day and city life attracts them. With plenty of money to spend they don't care to give up life in the city."

Boyd estimated the shortage in farm laborers would be 30 per cent.

MILES OF MOLESKINS TO BE OFFERED AT NEW YORK SALE

New York, April 1.—Nearly seventy-five miles of moleskins are to be sold at the forthcoming Spring fur auction in the Masonic Temple here. Placed end to end, and allowing an average length of four inches per pelt, the 1,182,000 of these skins, which will be offered, would make a strip of fur long enough to reach five-eighths of the distance between this city and Philadelphia.

The collection is the largest of its kind ever auctioned at one time anywhere in the world, and every country in which moles are found has contributed to it. Many of the skins came from Bavaria and they are said to be the first German pelts ever offered at a New York fur sale. Because moleskin is high in fashion's favor for Spring and Summer wear, active bidding and high prices for the entire offering are predicted.

The coming auction, which will begin on April 19, will be the largest ever held in this city by the New York Fur Auction Sales Corporation. The value of the entire collection is estimated at $12,000,000, making the second sale here within sixty days in which more than $10,000,000 worth of furs will have been involved. Altogether, more than 5,000,000 separate pelts will be sold at the coming auction.

MATHERS MAY BE CHAIRMAN OF JOINT COUNCIL

Winnipeg, April 1.—Strong rumors are in circulation at the Parliament Buildings that the choice for the chairmanship of the Joint Industrial Council, to be set up in the immediate future by the Provincial Government, would fall on Chief Justice Mathers, of the Manitoba Court of King's Bench.

Premier T. C. Norris, in a recent inerview, stated that no time would be lost in getting the council into operation. He said that the Government would forward letters to the organized employes and employers during the latter part of the week to receive recommendations from each side for the appointment of four members of the council. The Joint Council of Industry will be composed of five members, two from labor, two from the employers, and a neutral chairman.

In supporting the measure in committee stages at the session of the Legislature just concluded, T. J. Murray, counsel for the employes, said that the success or failure of the measure would largely depend upon the government's choice of chairman of the council. Labor, he said, regarded this appointment as being of the greatest importance.

It is said that the appointment of Chief Justice Mathers to this position would meet with the approval of both the employers and the employes.

INSTRUCTOR AND STUDENT KILLED, PLANE CRASHED

Sioux City, Iowa, April 1.—Harry E. Simon, 26, flying instructor, and Arthur L. Peterson, 22, student from Viborg, S.D., were killed here Tuesday when an airplane from the Sioux City Flying Club went into a tail spin and crashed. An attempt by the student to take control of the plane is thought to have caused the accident.

GOVERNMENT RAILWAYS COST ABOUT $41,500,000

Deficit of $19,500,000 on C.N.R., Intercolonial, Transcontinental and G. T. P.

Ottawa, April 1.—Dr. J. D. Reid, Minister of Railways, has laid before the House of Commons the first annual budget of the Canadian National Railway system since its inauguration. His statement had been keenly awaited, and was followed with interest from all sides of the House. It traced in detail the financial results of the year's operations; it outlined the needs of the roads in the future; it stated their program for the coming year, and it discussed the vital question of the suggested increase in freight rates.

The year's work showed an operating deficit on Government roads of $14,000,000, namely: Canadian Northern, $6,500,000; Intercolonial and Transcontinental, $7,500,000. To this there has been added $19,000,000 for fixed charges, or a total deficit for the year (including fixed charges) of $33,000,000. Revenue, too, has advanced nearly $12,000,000. But—so Dr. Reid explained to the House—operating expenses had increased from $84,000,000 to practically $108,000,000. The advances in operating expenses were largely due to increases in wages granted under the McAdoo award. Out of every dollar earned by the roads, 78 cents went in wages to the employes. In fact, given the same operating costs as in 1918, Dr. Reid claimed, the earnings in 1919 would have taken care of operating costs and, in addition, provided the tidy sum of $9,000,000 towards fixed charges. In all this, however, Dr. Reid did not take the Grand Trunk Pacific (of which the Government is in possession as receiver), into account. The Grand Trunk Pacific, Dr. Reid intimated, would be the subject of another statement later, but he indicated a total loss to the road during the last year of $14,000,000 as follows: Operating loss, $5,500,000; fixed charge, $8,500,000.

Thus, deficits on all lines for the year, including the G.T.P., including both capital charges and operating loss, totalled $47,000,000.

Question of Increased Rates

From deficits, Dr. Reid passed to suggested increases in freight rates. It is in this regard, probably, that his whole statement will awaken the widest public interest.

There was the point to be considered, he said, that any increase of rates on Government lines would apply equally well to the C.P.R. Should, therefore, Dr. Reid asked, freight rates be generally increased for the particular purpose of enabling the Canadian National Railway systems to meet operating expenses and fixed charges? an increase of say 25 per cent. in rates would mean an additional charge on the public of $88,000,000 approximately.

"Whether," Dr. Reid pursued, "we shall take $88,000,000 in increased freight rates out of the people of Canada to show a surplus for the National system is a question which I myself am not prepared to take the responsibility for deciding either one way or the other. He would leave it to the consideraation of the House and of the people of Canada."

Program for 1920

The program for 1920, as outlined by Dr. Reid, may be summed up as follows:

New construction—In the West, completion of branch lines on which work is well under way; in the East, postponement of important connections till the coming of better financial conditions.

No more work to be done on the Hudson Bay Railway during the coming year.

New equipment—75 locomotives; 4750 freight cars; 50 passenger cars.

MUSICIANS DEMAND BIG INCREASES OR THREATEN TO STRIKE

New York, March 31.—If the demands for an increase ranging from sixty to 115 per cent. are not met the Musical Mutual Protective Union threatens to strike.

CUDAHY ESTATE VALUABLE

Milwaukee, Wis., April 1.—Patrick Cudahy, wealthy meat parker, who died several months ago, left an estate valued at approximately $2,500,000, according to the inventory of appraisers filed in county court. The real estate inriudes large tracts of land in British Columbia that were not appraised.

ANOTHER MYSTERIOUS MURDER FOR BROOKLYN POLICE FORCE TO SOLVE

New York, April 1.—Brooklyn police today have another mysterious murder to solve when Dennis Meehan, alleged notorious leader of gunmen, was shot dead while asleep in bed with his wife. The bullet passed through Meehan's head and wounded his wife, but she told the police later that she was sound asleep and did not know she had been shot or her husband murdered.

U.S. SENATE CONSPIRE AGAINST PRESIDENT WILSON

Peace Treaty Rejected As Result "Great Conspiracy" Against Woodrow

Jackson, Miss., April 1.—The Peace Treaty was rejected by the Senate as a result of a "great conspiracy" against President Wilson, Senator John Sharp Williams (Miss.) declared in an address to the Mississippi Legislature. Declaring the treaty debate was the "most confused gab-fest in the history of the world," Senator Williams said:

"The long-winded argumen s in the Senate were like iddling as Rome burned, talking with a world in chaos. Do you blame me for saying that I would rather be a dog and bay the moon than spend one minute in the Senate after the expiration of my term of office?

"The great conspiracy commenced when the President went to Versailles, and every time news came from Versailles that the President advocated or proposed something, the conspirators opposed his plans. They are two-by-four politicians. Senator Lodge is the head of the poison squad.

"I believe there are now men glad that the President is sick, perhaps hope for his death. When McKinley was shot down, when Garfield was shot, was there a Democrat but expressed sorrow? Has anyone seen words of sympathy for the President in any Republican paper? A great man is sick, a great mind and a great character, and they have whispered 'we've got him now.'

Men sometimes disparage idealists, but they are coarse-grained jackasses who do so, and do it because they are coarse-grained, but the idealists point the way and cheer men's souls."

OUR LANGUAGE IS MOSTLY SLANG

Idiom of Today Will Be In Correct Usage Tomorrow, Says Professor

That the slang and idioms of today will be correct English tomorrow is the opinion of Prof. H. Glicksman of the English department, University of Wisconsin.

"Our language is made up of what was once slang, idiom, colloqualism, and jargon," he said lately, and warned that the only deplorable feature about slang was its tendency to produce mental slovenliness.

Professor Glicksman then referred to the word "mob" as slang of two hundred years ago and as such denounced in the Spectator by Addison|

"It is an abbreviation of the word 'mobile.' Even so the word 'pep' is vital and virile and will survive with the word 'snappy.' But to gain recognition slang must be free from vulgarity and cheapness," said Professor Glicksman.

"The term 'How do you get that way?' is condemned because it is meaningless, but the term 'he has a pull' is approved as it is the opposite of 'push,' a word that has forged ahead through its own strength."

PREPARING TO REPEL INVASION OF ARMY WORMS

El Centro, Cal., April 1.—Rangers here are organizing to repel an invasion by millions of army worms, which are on their way from the desert West of Dixieland. They are reported to completely cover an area of several square miles in the desert, and are migrating toward the growing crops of this valley.

TWO STEAMERS COLLIDE NEAR VANCOUVER ISLAND: ONE DAMAGED, BEACHED

Vancouver, March 31.—Two steamers of the Grand Trunk Pacific fleet, the Prince John and Prince Albert, collided in a fog Tuesday morning near the Northern end of Vancouver Island. The Prince John was badly damaged and beached. Her passengers, who were bound North, are being brought back to Vancouver aboard the Prince Albert.

FRENCH WARN TURKS THEY WILL BE RESPONSIBLE FOR UNTOWARD INCIDENTS

London, March 31.—The French Government which has been unable to get troops to Hadjin, Asia Minor, in time to forestall the threatened attack on that city by the Turks, has informed the Turkish Government that it will be held responsible for any untoward incidents.

BANK CASHIER INDICTED

Newport News, Va., April 1—Frank R. Bartlette, cashier of the defunct Colonial State Bank, has been indicted by a state court grand jury on a charge of theft of $190,420 from the institution.

SEVERE CRITICISM OF U.S. BY PREMIER OF GREAT BRITAIN

During Debate on the Second Reading of the Irish Bill

ENCOURAGES CIVIL WAR

Resignation of Ian Macpherson, Chief Secretary For Ireland Has Been Accepted

London, April 1.—Ian Macpherson, Chief Secretary for Ireland, has resigned office and his resignation has been accepted, it is officially announced.

London, April 1.—The Globe says the resignation of Ian Macpherson, Chief Secretary for Ireland, has been accepted. He will probably be succeeded by Sir Hamar Greenwood, under Secretary for Home Affairs, The Globe adds. Other newspapers announce definitely that Sir Hamar has been offered the secretaryship.

Criticize United States

London, April 1.—The United States was handled without gloves by Premier Lloyd George and Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster Unionist leader, in the debate Wednesday in the House of Commons on the second reading of the Irish Bill. The Premier said it was action such as that taken by the United States Senate in adopting the Irish resolution that had fostered secession.

"De Valera is putting forth the same views in the same words that Jefferson Davis used," the Premier declared, and added, that such a movement had led to civil war. "We are doing nothing more than the United States claimed for themselves," he continued, "and will stand no less."

Sir Edward Carson, in opening the debate, said he believed that the Irish murders were committed "not by my countrymen but by ill-conditioned Americans, misled by Sinn Fein propaganda," which he exclaimed pointing to the Government," you are doing nothing to counteract."

"Do you suppose that if I worked against the bill and it was killed and the 1914 Act becomes effective I could call upon my followers to get their rifles to maintain our position in the six Ulster counties, when this bill gives us the right to control those counties," asked Sir Edward Carson.

Would Kill Own Child

He declared that Mr. Asquith by his proposals for amending the 1914 measure "killed his own child," which was so distasteful to Ulster. He promised that Ulster would do the best it could under the two parliament plan.

Premier Lloyd George also attacked the Asquith plan saying that it was leading to the proclamation of an Irish republic and secession.

William Adamson, Labor leader said he was opposed to the bill and that his followers had adhered to his decision in a vote but he did not outline any definite plan for a solution. He stated his personal views, which he said, should not be confused with the views of his party, as he had not placed them before the leaders of Labor. He was for one parliament with full powers for everything except defence and foreign affairs, and for immediate calling a constituent assembly.

The second reading of the bill was passed by 348 to 94. Those who voted against it included Mr. Asquith and his following among the Independent Liberals, the Irish Nationalists and a few Unionists. The attendance for the vote was the largest during the present session.

NEW AGREEMENT FOR ANTHRACITE COAL MINERS NEXT

Bituminous Mine Workers Get 27 Per Cent. Increase—Agreement For Two Years

New York, April 1.—Now that the new agreement of the bituminous mine workers has been disposed of, negotiation for a new agreement for the anthracite miners will be made, John L. Lewis, International President of the United Mine Workers, said today. More than 400,000 mine workers will receive a 27 per cent. wage increase. It goes into effect today and continues for two years. It is impossible to increase the output until the mine owners are assured of an "adequate car supply," a mine operator stated. The demand for coal is 10 per cent. greater than the output and because of the shortage of cars the mines can operate only 50 to 60 per cent. of the time.

Berlin, April 1. — Twenty million marks being taken from this city to Essen have mysteriously disappeared, according to a report today.

KIRKCALDY RESUMES POSITION

Mr. James Kirkcaldy assumed his duties as City Assessor this morning after absence from the City Hall offices of nearly six years. Mr. W. H. Bates, who has been acting City Assessor during Mr. Kirkcaldy's service over seas, will look after the appeals to be taken before His Honor Judge Cumberland before severing his connection with the department.

HUSBAND RETURNS TO PRISON REQUEST ENGLISH WAR BRIDE

Pittsburg, Pa., April 1.—Heeding the request of his war bride, an English girl, that he surrendered himself to the police and serve the remainder of a penitentiary sentence, which was interrupted by his escape from Rockview, Pa., prison in August, 1917, Walter Dress is in a cell at the Western penitentiary at Woods Run, near here.

Dress appeared at the penitentiary gate Wednesday, informed the guard he was a fugitive from justice, and asked that he be allowed to enter. He told prison officials that shortly after his escape he enlisted in the army, and was sent to England, where he married. He served in France, he said, and after the war came to the United States, where his wife joined him.

Mrs. Dress recently learned that he was a fugitive from justice, he told the authorities, and she urged him to surrender, saying she would go to work and support herself until he returned from jail.

CREW 18 MEN AND THREE OFFICERS TO ATTEMPT A TRANS-ATLANTIC FLIGHT

New York, April 1.—A crew of 18 men and three officers of the United states navy will sail for England April 5th to attempt a trans-Atlantic flight in the giant dirigible R-38, recently bought by the navy from the British government, it was announced here Wednesday.

SOCIALIST PARTY URGES FORCE TO UPSET U. S GOVT

Five Suspended Members New York Assembly Declared Disloyal and Unworthy

Albany, N.Y., March 31.—The five suspended members of the New York Assembly were declared disloyal and unworthy of their seats in the majority report of the Judiciary Committee filed Tuesday.

A minority report filed by William S. Evans, one of the 13 members of the committee asserts that while the five Socialists have been proved disloyal the assembly has no constitutional right to prescribe loyalty as a test of eligibility for its members and urges they be re-seated.

Regarding evidence tending to show the Socialist party is a revolutionary body, Evans said: "We cannot try and acquit or convict the Socialist party."

Attitude Negative

A second dissenting opinion was filed by Assemblyman William Pellett and Theodore Stitt, Republicans. They declared that while the evidence disclosed that Socialists, both as a party and as individuals, refused to render the government any service during the war, there was nothing to show their attitude was other than negative and that the suspended men should be re-seated.

They declared the legislature can not prescribe membership in a political party as a condition for voting or holding office, but maintained in this regard that the Socialist party has been recognized as a bona fide political organization for years. Both admitted the right of the assembly to expel its members and that its action is final.

Vote to Declare Seats Vacant

The majority report recommends that the assembly vote declare vacant the seats of the five men—August Classens, Louis Waldman, Charles Solomon, Samuel A. Dewitt and Samuel Orr. It holds that all charges made against them on the opening day of the session have been fully sustained; that the Socialist party has been proven to advocate force and violence for overthrow of the United States Government and that the American Socialists are in full accord and sympathy with the Russian Government.

Further, the majority report urges legislation which would in effect prevent the Socialist party from occupying a place on the official ballot.

ST. LOUIS FIREMEN VOTE TO STRIKE IF DEMANDS NOT MET

St. Louis, March 31.—Two-thirds of the city's 826 firemen today voted to strike unless they are granted a wage increase from $126.50 to $150 a month by May 1st.

RENTORS LEAGUE PLANS A CAMPAIGN AGAINST PROFITEERING LANDLORDS

Pittsburg, March 31.—The Alleghany County Rentors' League, representing 10,000 persons who are facing eviction from their homes May 1st, because they cannot pay increased rentals, met last night and made plans for a campaign against profiteering landlords.

EXPEL SOCIALISTS FROM NEW YORK STATE ASSEMBLY

Suspended on Opening Day on Charges of Disloyalty—Charges Sustained

Albany, April 1. — Five Socialists, the entire delegation for their party in New York Assembly, were expelled from membership in the Lower House of the Legislature today. The majority in favor of unseating the men, suspended in the opening day on charges of disloyalty was substantial.

Information Rules and Conditions

For Competitors in the Sun's Circulation Campaign.

Everyone who is of good character is eligible as a competitor.

Nominations must be accompanied by the proper address.

No employe of The Sun or member of an employe's family may enter or compete for any of the prizes.

The Sun reserves the right to reject any nomination.

All certificates for points issued for subscriptions are good until the close of the Competition and will be polled at the discretion of the competitor or of The Sun

Competitors who seek to lessen competion by endeavoring to discourage other competitors will be ruled out of the Competition.

Certificates of points cannot be transferred to another competitor except in the case of where the latter is a new candidate never before accepted in the Competition.

A committee of well-known business men will be selected by The Sun to count the points and decide upon the prize winners.

The final count of points will be made in public and all competitors and their friends may be present.

Cash must accompany all subscriptions where points are to be issued.
Competitors can secure subscriptions anywhere.
The list of competitors and the number of points obtained will be published throughout the entire period of the competition.

The Competition begins April 10th, but competitors may start subscription getting at once.

The Sun reserves the right to add more prizes or to give extra prizes.

The Sun reserves the right to encourage the competitors in every way possible.

The Sun reserves the right to give extra points and to alter the schedules, but it guarantees the competitiors that all subscriptions turned in from the beginning of the competition will receive the benefits of any alterations in the schedules if the same are altered or if any extra points other than those mentioned in this ad. are given.

We wish to make it perfectly clear that the carrier boys are in no way affected by the Competition. They receive their commission the same as usual, whether they turn in the subscription money, or whether a competitor turns it in.

The Sun guarantees fair treatment to all competitors, and should any question arise a decision of the management will be considered final and absolute.

No statement or promise made by any solicitor or agent varying from the rules or statements published in The Sun will be recognized by The Sun.

Competitors influencing or attempting to influence any of the judges shall forfeit all rights to either prize or commission.

A competitor is not required to be a regular subscriber or agent of The Sun to enter the competition.

The Sun reserves the right to alter the rules and regulations or any of the offers, everything in fact except a reduction in the prize list.

Persons who enter and take part in The Sun Competition, therefore, bind themselves to abide by the foregoing rules.

Object of the Sun's Big Circulation Campaign

The object of this big undertaking is to secure new prepaid subscribers to the Daily and Weekly Sun; also to secure paid-in-advance renewal subscriptions and collecfion of back subscription accounts, and while doing this, to ascertain who are the most ambitious, persevering and determined men, women and children in the field covered by this paper. It costs nothing to participate in the competition. We furnish valuable prizes while you furnish new subscribers, renewals and collections in your spare moments.

A SQUARE DEAL FOR ALL.

is the motto of the competition. Every competitor will receive equal treatment and there will be no favorites. All the books and records will be open to the inspection of the public after the close of the competition, and all records will be audited before the final count.

THE FINAL COUNT of points will be public—all The Sun competitors and their friends may be present.

The District Prizes

District No. 1—All territory within the limits of the City of Brandon.

District No. 2—All territory on the outside of the limits of the City of Brandon.

For the purposes of the campaign the area covered by The Sun has been divided into the above two districts. An equal number of prizes have been alloted to each district and only the competitors living in the district will be allowed to win such prizes as are allotted to that particular district. After the winners of the four capital prizes have been decided upon and these prizes can be won in either district, the district prizes will be awarded. The two competitors with the greatest number of points in their respective districts, after the winner of the fourth capital prize, will receive a beautiful Brunswick Cabinet Phonograph, the next two cabinets of silver, etc.

The Brunswick is sufficiently well-known to require no further remarks here in it's favor. These two valuable prizes are quite in keeping with the high quality of all of the awards in this exceptional competition. After the winners of the phonographs have been decided upon the winners of the second district prizes will be ascertained. To these two lucky candidates will be given elegant sets of "Community Plate," consisting of knives, forks, spoons, etc., in the latest design. Following these will be jewelery, cameras, etc. No sacrifice has been made in the selection of the prizes and as a consequence an opportunity is opened up to every person possessing the required amount of ambition and determination to "get there." The 10 per cent. commission prizes absolutely guarantee to every energetic entrant an ample reward for his or her labors. Money is "talking louder" today than ever before, and the person who can turn into money their moments of leisure is more than wise.

The prizes are here all awaiting owners. Are you going to stand by and allow someone else to carry off what might as easily have been your?

Fill out the nomination blank now. Ten weeks is but a very short period of time for the prizes at stake.

$45,000,000 THEFTS FROM CARS SHOWN

Booty Obtained by Thieves in U. S. Double That in Any Previous Year

Wholesale looting of merchandise in transit on the railroads of the United States caused a loss of approximately $45,000,000 in 1919, according to United States Railroad Administration statistics made public recently.

This is estimated to be more than double the losses sustained in any pre-war year, but it is pointed out that the increased cost of of the commodities stolen, roughly estimated to average 85 per cent. must be taken into consideration when comparing the losses in the days of law prices with losses now. Nevertheless there that the increased cost of the comber of packages stolen, and the organization combatting the thieves have met an increased ingenuity in diverting goods from their owners.

A technique of robbery has been developed so highly that the methods of "master thieves" are similar in the United States, England, France, Italy and Argentina, according to a recent report of the United States Chamber of Commerce in Argentina. Detectives, however, are inclined to discredit that organization's belief that a "widespread international organization" is at work stealing merchandise.

Substitution is the usual method used by the thieves. Sometimes boxes supposed to contain velvets are found at their destination to be filled with calico or other cheaper grades of cloth, but as a rule, waste paper is found. These are referred to as "concealed losses" by railway men, and are especially difficult to trace, as the shipment leaves and arrives apparently in good condition and it is almost impossible to discover at what point the theft occurred.

The silk industry has been one of the most severely hit in the last year, and so great has the risk become that the Railroad Administration has been considering excluding raw silks from the privilege of freight transportation by rail. The Merchants' Association of New York through its traffic bureau has protested against such an exclusion, advocating some less radical measure to minimize or prevent the theft of silk in transit.

LITERARY SALONS ARE COMING BACK

London, April 5.—It is not all jazz in London's social life, although jazz is still dominant. The reaction from dancing is shown, in one way, by the increasing interest in literary salons. Many titled women are vieing with each other in reviving the glories of the old time salons.

In the days before the war Lady Londonderry's salons were brilliant gatherings. Among the younger hostesses now aspiring to such distinction is former Premier Asquith's daughter, Princess Bibesco. Mrs. Asquith, her mother, who was Margot Tennant, had one of the most notable salons of recent years. Her forthcoming book, expectation of which has stirred social London as no recent book has, will, it is thought, speak very frankly of numerous prominent personages who shone at these gatherings.

SO MANY WOMEN SMOKERS SMOKING CARS ON LONDON TRAINS ARE UNNECESSARY

London, April 5—Smoking cars have been done away with on several railways here and instead smoking will be permitted on all cars save a few. The new rule is made because of the increasing number of women smokers.

UNITED FARMERS FREELY OFFER FULL CO OPERATION

With Other Organizations Supporting Principles of New National Policy

PROVINCIAL POLITICS

Not Discussed—Brandon Local Not to Enter Candidate in Provincial Elections

The Brandon branch of the United Farmers of Manitoba will not enter the Provincial political field this year. Instead they will confine their efforts to electing an independent candidate for the Federal House and will cooperate with any organization that adopts the new National policy of the farmers. This line of action was endorsed at a special meeting of the local branch of the United Farmers on Saturday afternoon by a resolution passed with only one dissenting voice.

The resolution states that the United Farmers of Brandon are willing to co-operate with other organizations on the principles of the new National policy of the farmers at the next Federal election. It was brought out at the meeting that the local branch will not nominate a candidate for the Provincial elections next Fall, but will support a Federal independent candidate. The farmers platform is to be used as a working platform for the independent candidate if he wishes to secure the support of the local farmers in the Federal elections, it is stated.

There were about thirty members of the United Farmers present at the meeting on Saturday afternoon and Mr. T. Patterson, the president was in the chair. No other business was discussed at the meeting.

UNITED STATES WILL NOT BE REPRESENTED ON COMMISSION TO RUSSIA

London, April 5.—The United States will not be represented in any capacity on the special commission which the Council of the League of Nations recently decided to send to Russia. This announcement was made by the League of Nations here.

INDEPENDENCE OF SYRIA NOT TO BE PRESSED

London, April 5.—The demand made on the Allies that the independence of Syria be recognized, has virtually been dropped by Prince Feisal, according to a dispatch to the Daily Mail from Damascus. It is likely that the Prince will visit London and explain the situation.

LABOR JOINS VETERANS IN BOYCOTTING FOREIGN MADE GOODS, VANCOUVER

Vancouver, B.C., April 5.—Labor here as represented by the International Trades and Labor council, joined hands with the Army and Navy Veterans' Association in boycotting foreign-made goods from countries where the Canadian dollar is not accepted at par. A resolution endorsing the stand of the veterans was unanimously passed. The delegates recommended that only goods manufactured in Canada by white workers be used.

SLAYERS OF DE FORGE TO BE SENTENCED ON TUESDAY MORNING

Winnipeg, April 5.—William Elnech, George J. Clements and Harold Burdie, convicted of manslaughter in connection with the killing of William J. De Forge, will come up for sentence before Chief Justice Mathers Tuesday morning.

The maximum penalty for manslaughter is life imprisonment, but owing to the youth of all three, lighter sentences are anticipated.

Elnech, who fired the fatal shot, may be given the severest sentence.

RELATIVES ON THREE CONTINENTS WANT SOME OF RAG-PICKER'S FORTUNE

Danville, Ills., April 5.—Relatives on three continents are striving to participate in the "estate' of Robert Pledge, recluse rag-picker who died here.

Pledge had no close friends and when he died not long ago there was not a single mourner at his funeral.

Now, long depositions and legal documents are collecting in the circuit court here filed by nephews and nieces in England, France, South Africa, India and British Columbia clamoring to share the "property" of the old man.

Pledge left an "estate" of about $6,000.

UNITED STATES' NATIONAL DEBT NOW $24,698,000,000: SUM LESSENED IN MARCH

Washington, April 5—A reduction of $705,660,000 in the national debt—more than double the amount by which the debt was lowered during anyq previous month—was accomplished during March, it was reported Saturday. The national debt now stands at $24,698,000,000.

BRAVE GIRL GIVES HER LIFE TRYING TO SAVE SISTER

When Humble Home Is Destroyed by Fire During Mother's Absence

Winnipeg, April 5.—Grace Cossar nine years old, and here sister Lillian, aged two, were burned to death Saturday afternoon when fire destroyed their home at 62 Lansdowne avenue. Grace lost her life while trying to save Lillian from the flames. A third child, Ella Cossar, seven years old, escaped.

A high wind drove the flames throughout the three-room shack in a few moments time. The shack was destroyed and the house next door, 60 Lansdowne, was seriously damaged before the flames were extinguished. The fire was under control by four p.m.

The three children had been left at home by their mother, Mrs. Clara Cossar, while she went to work at the general post office. She is employed as a charwoman and left the house at two p.m.

About three o'clock, while the baby was asleep in the bedroom and the other two children were playing, a tablecloth caught fire from a coal heater in the living room. Grace and Ella tried to extinguish the flames but failed. Crying to Ella to go out and give the alarm, Grace groped her way to the bedroom to try and rescue the baby, Lillian.

Flames Drove Brave Girl Back

The three rooms were rapidly filling with smoke. The flames were being driven on by the draught from the open door, through which Ella had gone for help. Grace reached the bedroom and tried to lift her younger sister. The fumes from the blazing adjoining room were too intense and she was overcome. She perished by the side of the bed on which the charred remains of the baby were found.

Ella ran to the home of C. Dixon, 50 Lansdowne. Mr. Dixon hurried to the burning shack with Constable Thomas, Johnston, 51 Lansdowne, and E. S. Surridge, 60 Lansdowne. The shack was a roaring furnace of flames and none of the three men could force ar entrance. The high wind drove the flames towards Mr. Surridge's home, and as nothing could be done at the burning shack, efforts were put forth to save Mr. Surridge's household goods.

Upon investigation after the fire was extinguished, the burned body of Grace was found beside the remains of the bed, where she evidently had made a desperate attempt to rescue her sister. The bodies were viewed by Dr. B. J. McConnell, Provincial Coroner, and were ordered removed to the undertaker.

There was no insurance on the shack or the contents, according to the police report.

The funeral of the two children will be in the hands of the Salvation Army. It probably will be held from the Salvation Army Citadel on Wednesday.

The father, Norman Cossar, a returned soldier, has not been living at home. He has been taking treatment at Tuxedo and has been staying at 570 McDermot avenue.

LABOR CONFERENCE TO NAME CANDIDATE FOR LEGISLATURE

At a Meeting Called for April 13th —Favor Release Winnipeg Strike Leaders

Brandon labor men have passed a resolution expressing sympathy with the convicted Winnipeg Labor leaders and also requesting the Dominion Government to take steps through the Minister of Justice to secure their release. A largely attended meeting of labor supporters was held in the Willis Theatre, Sunday night when the above resolution was passed and will be forwarded to Winnipeg at once. No discussion took place on political action. Mr. J. G. Davies moved the resolution expressing sympathy for the Winnipeg labor leaders, the resolution being seconded by some one in the audience. After a short speech from Mr. Davies Mr. A. E. Smith spoke in favor of the resolution and it was passed by the gathering. Mr. J. H. Skene was chairman of the meeting.

A meeting or conference of representatives from every union organization in the city has been called for April 13th when a candidate will be nominated from Brandon City for the next Provincial elections. The labor men are preparing only for the provincial election.

CARDINAL LOGUE AGAINST IRISH EDUCATIONAL AND THE HOME RULE BILLS

Drogheda, Ireland, April 5—Cardinal Logue at a conference of clergy today, denounced the Educational and Home Rule Bills.

A CLERGYMAN'S RECOMMENDATION

The Zam-Buk Co.,
Dear Sirs:

Appreciating what your balm has done for me, I should like an opportunity of recommending it to others who may be similarly afflicted.

For the last forty years I have had a patch of eczema on my right hand. I tried in every possible way to get rid of it—had treatment from several doctors and tried innumerable remedies, but received no lasting benefit. If a remedy eased it or cured it for a time, it always returned as bad as ever. One of my friends is a great believer in Zam-Buk, so I decided to give it a trial and sent first for a sample. You can imagine my amazement when even this small quantity brought me more relief than anything I had ever before used. I continued the use of Zam-Buk for two weeks, by which time the eczema, although of forty years standing, had entirely disappeared. That was one year ago, and there has been no return of it.

Yours sincerely.

(Name of clergyman, from whom the above letter was received, will be given upon request)

APPEALS TO WOMEN TO STOP SMOKING

Chief Medical Officer United States Alarmed at Increased Cigarette Habit

Washington, April 5.—Surgeon-General Hugh S. Cummings, chief medical officer of the United States Government, Saturday voiced an appeal to women to swear off the cigarette habit. Dr. Cummings' appeal was based on government reports which indicate that cigarette consumption increased 47 per cent. in the United States in the last year.

"The cigarette habit indulged in by women tends to cause nervousness and insomnia," said Dr. Cummings. "If women generally contract the cigarette habit, as reports indicate they are doing, the entire nation will suffer. The physical tone of the whole people will be lowered. The number of women who are becoming inveterate smokers is amazing.

"The habit harms a woman more than a man, however. The woman's nervous system is more highly organized than the man's. The reaction on a woman, therefore, is more intense."

BUILDING OF TOWN SUSPENDED A YEAR

Price Brothers Construction of Mills Awaits Arrival of Machinery from England

Quebec, April 5.—It is reported that the plans made by Price Brothers & Company, Ltd., for the construction of mills and a model town on the Saguenay river, four miles from Chicoutimi, have been temporarily suspended.

The estimated cost of the project is $20,000,000, but it is asserted that as the machinery for the mill, which has been ordered in England, cannot be delivered before next year, the work on the construction of the town of Saguenay will be delayed until that time.

KANSAS MAY HAVE FIRST LEGAL HANGING IN LAST 50 YEARS

Though Death Penalty Was Abolished in 1907—Sentenced Under Federal Law

AFTER THREE TRIALS

Death Sentence Will Be Carried Out Unless President Wilson Intervenes

Leavenworth, Kansas, March 31.—Robert F. Stroud, of Juneau, Alaska, will be the first man legally hanged in Kansas in almost fifty years unless President Wilson saves him by exercise of executive clemency.

The last legal hanging in this state took place in 1870 and the death penalty was abolished in Kansas in 1907; but Stroud was tried and convicted in Federal courts for a murder committed in the Federal penitentiary here and sentenced under Federal law to be hanged.

Another unusual feature of the case is the fact that he would have escaped with life imprisonment if he had not insisted upon a third trial which resulted in a death sentence. If it is carried out he will be the first man to be executed in Leavenworth prison.

Stroud was serving a 12-year sentence in the penitentiary for the killing of a man in Alaska in a quarrel over a dance hall girl, when in 1916 he attacked Andrew E. Turner, a prison guard, and stabbed him to death with a dagger which he had made from a table knife, and carried in a concealed pocket in his coat. Stroud asserted subsequently that Turner had called him a name.

For this killing Stroud had three trials. In the first he was found guilty of murder and sentenced to death, but the court of appeals remanded the case on the ground that the trial judge had failed to inform the jury of its privilege or bringing in a "qualified verdict" limiting his punishment to life imprisonment. In the second trial the jury availed itself of this legal provision and sentenced him for life. Stroud's lawyers felt that they had gained a victory but at the prisoner's insistence the case was again appealed, and at his third trial Stroud was once more found guilty and sentenced to death. The case was carried to the United States Supreme Court which affirmed the sentence.

Stroud has been aided by his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Stroud, who came from Alaska in an effort to save his life. She appealed to President Wilson to commute the death sentence.

HAVE YOU MADE OUT YOUR INCOME TAX RETURN YET?

Every Person Must Do So Before the End of April—Response Good So Far

FARMERS ARE SLOW

About Doing So But Will Speed Up When the Roads Are Good

Income Tax returns are being returned to the local taxation office in great numbers according to Mr. J. F. Clark, the inspector for this district. He stated that no difficulty is being experienced in getting the returns filled out and that all persons were following the advice given some time ago to fill out the forms as quickly as possible. The returns for trustees, employers and corporations declaring dividends, had to be in today, March 31st being the last day set for these returns. The time limit for all individuals and corporations not declaring dividends is fixed for April 30th. Any person who fails to make a return by that date shall be subject to a penalty of twenty-five per cent. of the amount of tax payable.

There are still a large number of farmers who have to fill in their forms as yet, but Mr. Clark stated that he expected that they would be in just as soon as the roads are fit to travel. He did not expect that any difficulty would be experienced in getting complete returns from the farmers. Mr. Clark thought that the farmers are now beginning to keep a closer check on their earnings and expenditures since the Income Tax came into force There are a number of individuals still hanging back in making their returns according to the records, but the Taxation Office is keeping a close tab on these persons and failure to comply with the regulations of the Income Tax Act will probably lead to penalties being added.

DOMESTIC DIFFICULTIES CAUSE DOUBLE TRAGEDY

Cornwall, Ont., March 31.—William Cline, 70 years of age, shot and killed Gordon Fetterley, 28 years old, of Williamsburg, with a rifle and later took his own life with a revolver. Domestic difficulties are said to have been the cause of the double tragedy.

WARM WORDS OF APPRECIATION FOR R. J. CAMPBELL

Address Presented Good Citizen By Canadian Club and Board of Trade

The value of good citizenship was emphasized Tuesday evening at the Canadian Club when the members of that Club and the Board of Trade presented Mr. R. J. Campbell with an address which set forth the splendid work Mr. Campbell has done in the community and the good name he is leaving behind him. Dr. MacNeill read the address and following this several prominent Brandon citizens spoke. S. E. Clement, M.P.P., said that Brandon is losing a first class scout in every sense of the word and that the city would suffer a great loss in Mr. Campbell's departure.

That his loss could not be exaggerated was the opinion of J. F. Kilgour, creasingly large number today carrying us back to the principles of Jesus Christ and these are the only principles to help us out.

Our leaders in national and international affairs are beginning to see and state that nothing will be sufficient that does not turn the whole trend of our life towards the Man of Galilee. No program is sufficient unless it has the direct application of all principles of the Man of Peace.

Feeling and sentiment towards Jesus Christ will not be sufficient. Nothing less than full loyalty to Him will save us. Let us not forget that business, pleasure, pain, etc., are all incidental, but loyalty to Jesus Christ is fundamental. The only true passport from one realm of citizenship to another is that you have done your duty.

To Lose Peace Seems Incredulous

If the past five years has taught us anything it has taught us that force is not enough. Force can never build the new. After throwing away millions of dollars we are just about where we started, and a new start has to be made. Germany still says that the Peace Treaty is a scrap of paper. The attitude of the United States on the League of Nations shows how far the Allied countries are apart. To have won the worst war in history and then to lose peace seems incredulous. But today two nations are looking at each other across the Atlantic and mapping out program for two immence navies, and to go on building for power or force will mean the losing of peace. We must bring the Anglo-Saxon people together and get the principles of the brotherhood of Jesus Christ instilled in the nations, and until we do we stand in great jeopardy.

To Overcome Bolshevism

Bolshevism is a menace today but the United States system of herding them out of one country into another is not a cure for the trouble. The world is too small now to think that planting the people in another country will cure a wrong. The trouble in Russia effects us today, and the trouble would be worse if it spread to India. There is only one way to get rid of it and that is to preach a more effective principle. Force as applied to Bolshevism is a failure, but what is needed is a real revival of religion.

Views of Hard-Headed Men

An article on the financial page of the New York "Evening Post" of January 10th, 1920, quotes as follows:—"There is a growing feeling that the only hope of checking the Bolshevik spirit throughout the world lies either in a stronger suppression by the leading Governments of the revolt against law and order, or in a genuine religious revival. This statement, while startling, reflects, not the opinions of excited politicians or religious fanatics but the views of hard headed business men."

There Must Be Education

Democracy will not be enough, either. The granting of full democracy to some countries would mean that they would soon be in a worse condition than Russia is today. The biggest thing in the world after all is not to make the world safe for democracy but to make democracy safe for the world. Democracy will not be sufficient until we have educated the whole rank and file. There should be a school system in Canada whereby every child would get at least a Collegiate education. It is not to our credit that Brandon and Portage show the greatest number of illiterate children in the Province today.

Patriotism is not enough. There should not be enmity shown to any one. It is not sufficient to be ministered unto, but to minister, and we should be workers and not shirkers in this respect. "It is not enough to shout patriotism, to talk about democracy, to eradicate the Bolsheviks, to fight war and hold out for force, not enough to be ministered unto, but we must instill the principles of the Man of Galilee in our work and we will be seeking the remedies of today," concluded the speaker.

Following Rev. Orchard's address a vote of thanks was moved and seconded by Mr. J. S. Maxwell and W. C. McKillican.

WHAT IS NEEDED IS A GENUINE RELIGIOUS REVIVAL

Opinion of Hard Headed Business Men, Students of World Affairs

MASTERLY ADDRESS

By Rev. M. L. Orchard Held Undivided Attention of Canadian Club Members

One of the most brilliant addresses given before the Canadian Club in Brandon was delivered on Tuesday evening, when the Rev. M. L. Orchard, pastor of the First Baptist Church of this city, spoke to a large gathering in the Prince Edward Hotel. The Rev. Orchard was in fine form and his address was inspiring and intensely interesting. He dealt with the troubles which surround us today. He stated that no cure can be found for the unrest of today unless the principles of the Man of Galilee were instilled in our program for Peace.

"Unless this generation can be better than the generation preceding us, then our generation will be a failure," said Rev. Mr. Orchard at the commencement of his address. This statement is true because we are living in a changing world, and because we are living in an unfinshed world. On account of the tense strain of war we have just come through, this period is bound to be the most critical or constructive of all ages.

Seeking the Right Way

Today is one of general unrest and the great mass of citizens are today seeking a commanding ideal or standard which will steady humanity, and which will show them the right way out. Among those who are seeking a remedy for today are those who know and those who do not know what they are talking about. There is an in-K.C., who stated that Mr. Campbell had been very active in every sphere of life and that wherever he would go, he would find his niche. G. F. Doig, on behalf of the Retail Merchants of Brandon, said that Mr. Campbell's versatile ability and activities had made him a general favorite. Without a doubt, Brandon is losing one of its real citizens and he wished both Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Godspeed. The gathering then rose to their feet and sang, "For he's a jolly good fellow."

In replying Mr. Campbell depreciated the eulogy accredited to him, but had he known that he had so many friends in Brandon he would have dug his stakes in a little deeper in the ground and camped here. He said he had always boosted the city and had never knocked it during his thirty-eight years' residence and hoped that it would soon be one of the outstanding cities of the West. He would go away from Brandon carrying many tender memories and his new home in the West would always be open to any of his Brandon friends.

The following is the address presented to Mr. Campbell. It was signed by over one hundred Brandon men:

Dear Mr. Campbell:

Comings and goings are inevitable in the life of every community. Often they seem to cause scarcely a ripple. Other changes are felt deeply and widely. Of such is your removal from Brandon and the severance of your long and active association with many phases, religious, business, social, athletic and others of its constructive community life.

You have lived busily in Brandon and for it almost from its infancy, certainly through the formative years of its growth and progress. You have been of the elect few who could be counted on in all sorts of weather to do the thing that needed to be done and for which too often others grudged time and lacked inclination, and your public spirit, untiring energy and infectious optimism have many a time saved the day.

With all the stressful years you have spent among us it may be doubted if there is any livelier youngster in town, and in many breasts there must be dismal forebodings of New Year's Day dog races without their chief figure. To the irrepressible spirit of youth are joined in you those solid and unselfish qualities that have combined to make the personality of "Bob Campbell" a much loved power for good in the community and will keep his memory green alike in church and business circles, the Y. M. C. A., to which you have been a tower of strength, and wherever lawn bowlers, curlers, golfers, duck hunters, small boys, or other good fellows gather.

In short, and without attempting to catalogue your virtues, you have earned the honorable title of "Good Citizen" in the best sense of that fine term, and as such, for the brotherhood is not too numerous, you will be sadly missed in Brandon and a very wide surrounding district.

This gathering, therefore, of the Canadian Club and Board of Trade, assuming, as it may for this purpose, to represent the whole citizenship of Brandon, without distinction of class or creed, would in saying good-bye to you take the opportunity of telling you publicly how deeply we regret your removal from our city and how sincere and heartfelt are our good wishes for you that the years to come may be full of happiness, prosperity and increasing usefulness.

GIFT CARGOES FROM OTHER STATES FAVORITE PLUNDER

Food Shipments Stand Little Chance of Coming Through Intact

Vienna, March 31. — Looting of freight trains, particularly of food stuffs and wearing apparel, goes on unchecked throughout Austria. Unless convoyed, it is said, a shipment stands little chance of coming through intact. The robbers seem well organized and armed and often so numerous as to resist arrest.

Gift cargoes from other European states seem the favorite plunder and, according to report, much of the stolen goods has been found for sale in the open market.

A large consignment of this character from Sweden arrived this week and when the well arranged food parcels, containing flour, fats and other staples, were opened it was found that a portion of the fat and flour had been skillfully removed from each package and a sack of Austrian salt substituted to make up the requisite weight.

Clark will be the special speaker on this evening and his subject will be "Health." At the conclusion of the address the boys will adjourn to the gymnasium where the high jump, broad jump and potato race will be practiced in preparation for the coming indoor meet.

REYNOLDS MAY BE PRINCIPAL OF ONTARIO COLLEGE

Said To Have Been Offered Far Larger Salary Than Is Now Paid Him

Toronto, March 31.—J. B. Reynolds, President of the Manitoba Agricultural College, has been offered the principalship of the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, at a salary greatly in excess of what the Manitoba Government is paying him, according to a report obtained here at the Provincial Department of Agriculture.

Teacher of Drury

President Reynolds was a member of the Guelph College staff from 1893 to 1915. In October, 1915, he was appointed head of the Manitoba institution.

While professor of English and literature at Guelph Mr. Reynolds had as students under him E. C. Drury and Manning Doherty now Premier and Minister of Agriculture respectively in the new Farmers' Government of Ontario. Both graduated while Mr. Reynolds was at Guelph.

PRINCE OF WALES' VISITS PANAMA

Appears To Be In Better Health Than When He Visited This Country

Panama, March 31.—The Prince of Wales, who arrived here yesterday, will spend the day in sight seeing. Prominent members of the British colony presented an address to him today and the Panama Government will give a state banquet in honor of the Royal visitor tonight. Before the Renown could proceed through the Culebra cut section of the canal yesterday, a rock, fifty feet square, directly in the course taken by the vessel had to be removed. The Prince appears to be in bettetr health than when he visited Canada and the U. S.

Ottawa, March 31.—The annual boxing championships of the A. A. U. of Canada will be held in Ottawa on April 23rd and 24th.

BETTING MACHINES NOT LIKELY TO BE PERMITTED HERE

Pari-Mutuels May Be Used At Saskatoon—Prince's String May Race Here

There will be no pari-mutuel betting machines at the Summer Fair according to information obtained today. The Government has decided to permit the operation of the machines in the West on the Fair circuits, and several Western cities are allowing the machines to come back. Saskatoon has stated it's intention of permitting the pari-mutuels to operate, while other cities may fall in line with this move. When seen today, Mr. Smale, secretary of the Brandon Summer Fair said that he did not think the machines would be operated at the Summer Fair. The directors had expressed themselves as against the pari-mutuels and as far as he is aware, the betting machines will not be on the grounds this Summer.

With regard to the rumor that the Prince of Wales' string of thoroughbreds from the Windsor stables, England, would show here at the Fair, Mr. Smale said that there is nothing definite to announce at the present time. The horses have not arrived in Canada as yet, but will come across some time in May or June. Mr. J. Carlyle, manager of the Alberta ranch which His Royal Highness purchased on his trip through the West last Fall, has left for the East to complete the arrangements for the unloading of the horses. The string numbers seven thoroughbred animals, most of them two year olds. They are of the purest English stock and may be raced on the Western circuit. Arrangements may be made later that will bring the Prince's string here for the Provincial Fair, but at the present time the arrival of the animals is too indefinite to complete any plans, stated Mr. Smale.

100 ARMED MEN ATTACK DURRUS POLICE BARRACKS: TWO POLICEMEN WOUNDED

Skibbereen, County Cork, March 31. —More than 100 armed men attacked the police barracks at Durrus with rifles and petrol bombs last night. A portion of the building was blown up, two policemen wounded, one seriously. After a fierce fight, the raiders, some of whom were believed wounded, were

PARIS MAY MAKE VISITORS PAY TAX

The Municipal Council of Paris has decided to ask the Chamber to authorize a law declaring Paris a "tourist resort." This means that the Council would be empowered to impose a tax daily or weekly, on all visitors, which might be anything from ten centimes to a franc per day. This plan is already in operation in many French resorts and in most Swiss and German ones, but it has never yet been applied to a great city, much less a capital.

The justification for the tax is that Paris needs an immense sum of money spent on public improvements and repairs since the war, and that the financial condition of the city entitles it to exact some help from visitors.

WAREHOUSE BURGLARS ARRESTED BY POLICE

New York, March 31.—The police routed five burglars as they were removing $60,000 worth of silk from a bonded warehouse of the Public Storage Company here early Tuesday, and arrested three of them after running pistol fights extending several blocks.

FRENCH REFUSE GERMAN OFFER TO SEND TROOPS

To the Ruhr District In the Neutral Zone Near the German Border

Paris, March 31.—The French Government has denied the request of the German Government that it be permitted to send troops to the Ruhr district, in the neutral zone near the German border.

Request Suspension Military Operations

Berlin, March 31.—Requesting that all military operations be suspended in the Ruhr Valley, leaders of the three Socialist parties have sent an ultimatum to the Government. The Government has been given until Thursday afternoon. Should the Government not comply a general strike will follow. In the Ruhr region, Government troops have been pushed forward, the time limit fixed in the ultimatum to the workers there having been reached.

New Attacks on Wesel

The Hague, March 31.—The army of rebellious German workingmen besieging the fortress of Wesel received reinforcements and made new attacks. The town of Hamm, and several other places have been repored plundered. At Essen, a general strike has been proclaimed and carried out in full force.

Berlin says all eyes today are centred upon the crisis in the Ruhr region. The general strike has broken out only at a few places.

AMALGAMATION OF DEPARTMENT STORES IN ENGLISH CITIES

Retail Business Soon To Be Concentrated In Control of a Few Big Interests

Washington, March 31.—Amalgamation of department stores in England is noted in official trade reports received here as the latest development of a tendency toward combination in each branch of England's national industries. Big stores, especially those in the more important cities, are combining through purchase or consolidation and already it has become apparent to some observers that the business soon will be concentrated in the control of a few big interests.

The American Chamber of Commerce in London reports that one of the largest department stores of that city recently absorbed three competitors and has branched out in South America through the opening of a large establishment in Buenos Aires.

"The value of advertising as a selling factor is becoming more realized in England," the report said. "This movement towards amalgamation is not expected to destroy competition, though it may tend to narrow its scope."

MANITOBA BONDS CAN BE BOUGHT OVER THE COUNTER

At the Office of the Provincial Treasurer—No Special Plans To Push Sale

Winnipeg, March 31. — Provincial Treasury bonds bearing current interest rates will be on sale in the office of the Provincial Treasurer, Hon. Edward Brown, for any person in the province who wishes to purchase them, according to a statement made by Mr. Brown at the Government building. He also announced the projected sale of $1,769,000 of Provincial bonds at an early date.

Mr. Brown said that the Government would not make any special effort to sell the bonds in this manner. There would be no campaign or drive such as featured the sale of Victory Bonds. Mr. Brown said that the department would be very busy, from now on, raising the necessary funds to finance the Rural Credits Societies and the Farm Loans. For these organizations it might be necessary, he said, to launch something in the nature of a drive. No question as to the jurisdiction of the department to sell bonds in this matter arises, it is stated, as the Treasury Department is already authorized by the Legislature to sell bonds to carry out the work of the Government, approved by the Legislature.

To Raise Money in New York

Mr. Brown announced that a bond issue of $1,769,000 will be sold in the immediate future, probably within the next six weeks. This issue will cover the items of capital expenditure voted by the Legislature at the present session. The issue will be sold by public tender and the money will be obtained, if possible, in New York.

Mr. Brown said that by receiving New York funds for the loan, the Government would be assisting the general condition of Canada, as every dollar brought into the country meant that the equivalent amount of gold would be shipped to New York. This would aid in correcting the exchange situation.

Mr. Brown said that, in his opinion, the exchange would be normal in five years, which would mean that by the time the loans were due the American and Canadian dollar would be of equal value and the refunding of the money would not be effected.

MANY GAMBLING DENS IN GERMANY: A STATE LOTTERY

Millions of Marks Made and Lost Nightly In Berlin

MONEY IS NEEDED

So the Government Runs a Lottery In Order To Raise Funds

How would you like to be a millionaire? There is no need for an answer, unless you already happen to be one. If you desire strongly enough to have a million, and you will run far enough for it, you have a straight gambling chance for it by moving to Germany. Ah, that is the "but" in the case. Who would want to go to Germany for the sake of being a millionaire? Only those whose gambling instinct dominates every other desire.

They say that in Berlin and other large German cities every night there are thousands of great gambling dens going full blast, at which millions of marks are won and lost. These gambling dens are the resort of men and women alike, and there is a great fever among those with money to try their luck, says the Toronto Mail and Empire. The German Government needs money desperately, and seeing this huge, ruinous gambling mania, asked itself why it could not have some State gambling. It decided to have a great lottery loan, which would make ten millionaires each year. To induce subscriptions on a large scale, in spite of the ruin of the country, it has begun a loan fashion that has since spread to France and has even a large following in Britain.

Gigantic Plan

Germany's new lottery loan is the most gigantic thing the world has ever seen. Who would not put a few marks in it on the chance of becoming a millionaire, one of the ten to be made each year? It is safe betting that French, Dutch and English money will find a way into Germany to run that chance. The loan is to be for an amount of 5,000,000,000 marks or not much more than $1,000,000,000. Lists were open for subscription. The bonds that are to be taken will be for eighty years—the longest period any nation has dared to stipulate—and may be paid for one half in cash and one-half in bonds of other war loans. Each year there is to be drawing for bonds for redemption, and in the first forty years about three billion marks will be repaid. But the surprising feature is that there is to be no interest, or at least a return bearing that name. There is to be a bonus of 5 per cent. per annum; but payment of this is withheld until the bonds are drawn and paid, when the bonus is paid also. A bond drawn for repayment at the end of the first year will be entitled to a bonus, or interest of fifty marks. At the end of five years the bonus would be 250 marks.

No Interest Paid

There is no interest on the deferred payment of the interest, and this means that on the whole sum paid in, there is an accumulation of interest for the Government. This fund is the reservoir from which the ten millionaires are to be created each year. As the interest of 5,000,000,000 marks at five per cent would be 250,000,000 marks most of it deferred, there would be ample to allow for the payment of 10,000,000 to ten individuals, especially as in the course of time interest upon interest would accumulate. But the German financial genius that conceived this scheme would go further. Twice each year there are to be lottery drawings, at which there will be 2,5000 prizes, with prize money of 25,000,000 marks. The maximum is five prizes of 1,000,000 marks each, and the lowest is 1,000 prizes of 1,000 each. In addition to this, every second certificate or bond drawn for repayment gets a bonus or 1,000 marks if drawn during the first thirty years, 2,000 marks if drawn during ensuing ten years, and 4,000 marks if drawn during the last forty years. That is, 58 per cent of the certificates can receive prizes and bonus, apart from interest, while the total prize money distributed through the eighty-year period will amount to 4,000,000,000 for lottery drawings, and 5,750,000,000 for bonus on every second certificate. This is nearly 10,000,000,000 marks.

Great Gambling

Surely this is gambling with a vengeance. To get a national loan of 5,000,000,000 marks, during eighty years the nation will repay, besides principal, nearly 10,000,000,000 in prizes. Up to 25,000 marks, holdings of the loan are exempt from succession duty taxes, and profits from prizes are exempt from income taxes. The ten millionaires each year will feel chesty when they escape income taxes, when everyone else is paying everything but a living cost to the State. Any old subscriber has the right, after twenty years, to call for payment of bonds, but there will be a discount of 10 per cent on them. This gigantic gamble is the first effort of the Socialist Government to raise money, and the result will be watched with curious interest. Evidently the Government felt that no chances could be taken regarding the success of this loan, because one collapse would destroy the whole credit of the Berlin treasury. The virtual collapse of the mark's value in foreign markets has had the result of frightening and unnerving the German people, who believe that the whole financial structure will cave in and bury them without value for any bonds or paper money, and the prizes and millionaire bait are an effort to rouse their cupidity.

MEDICINE HAT TO TRY NEW FORMS OF TAXATION

Given Right to Levy Tax on Rental Values of All Properties

Edmonton, Alta., April 3.—Medicine Hat was given the right to institute a tax on rental value of all properties by the Municipal Law Committee of the Legislature which considered amendments to the Medicine Hat charter. The tax will be ten per cent. of the rental value of property and will be collected from all occupiers of property whether owners or tenants. The city was also given the right to institute a poll tax of 10c per person which, however, is offset against any other taxes paid so that it will catch only those who pay no other sums.

JAP TROOPS TO STAY IN SIBERIA TILL TROUBLE CLEARS

Honolulu, April 3.—Premier Hara, of Japan, has officially announced that the Japanese forces in Siberia will not be withdrawn "until the situation clears," according to a Tokio cable to a Japanese newspaper here.

MAKE CANYON NAVIGABLE

Prince Rupert, B.C., April 3.—Gwinehah Canyon, one of the most forbidding stretches of water along the Naas River has become navigable, and is no longer the bugaboo of travellers to and from the Naas Valley region. Gaius Peck, of Vancouver, a brother of Col. C. W. Peck, V.C., M.P., and his party of 13 men, spent practically all Winter in making the canyon safe for human beings. The canyon is now practically clear for all boats under 100 feet long, and the river may be ascended 51 miles from the mouth.

URGES SEPARATE SCHOOLS FOR SEXES AMONG THE HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Regina, Sask., April 3.—That there should be separate schools for the sexes among high school students, is the opinion expressed by Dr. John A. Rose after careful study of this subject. Dr. Rose has recently returned from a trip to the Pacific Coast and Western American cities. He has been making an investigation of the school problem in Vancouver, Victoria, Seattle and other Western points.

LABOR IS A BIG PROBLEM FOR C.P.R

Class of People Relied on for Pick and Shovel Work Going East

Saskatoon, Sask., April 3.—Labor is the big problem which the Canadian Pacific Railway has to consider in drafting its construction program this year, according to D. C. Coleman, Vice-President and General Manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The class of people the company has had to rely upon in the past for pick and shovel work he said, is leaving the country in large numbers. "At least," Mr. Coleman declared in qualification, "they are down East trying to return to Europe."

FIVE MEMBERS OF FAMILY OF SEVEN AT PIERSON, MAN. DEAD OF FLU WITHIN WEEK

Pierson, Man., April 3.—Five members of a family of seven, died within a week from influenza here recently. The father, I. R. Melvin, and two daughters died first and then the mother and one daughter a few days later. Two other members of the family are recovering.

METHODIST CONFERENCE MEETS IN VANCOUVER BEGINNING MAY 13TH

Vancouver, April 3.—Many Eastern Methodist church leaders are expected to be in Vancouver for the 34th annual session of the Methodist Conference which meets here May 13th. The Program Committee has already completed its arrangements. The Stationing Committee will meet Monday, May 10, and other committees will hold meetings early so that they may have everything in readiess for the opening of the conference. This year more than ordinary interest will centre in the reports as all records will be passed, the Forward Movement having given a great impetus to church work generally.

ALBERTA TO HAVE SUFFICIENT TEACHERS FOR ALL PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Edmonton, Alta., April 3.—The closing of the normal schools at Calgary and Camrose by April 16th, two weeks earlier than usual, has been announced. This step has been decided upon in order to make available a supply of teachers for the early opening of the rural schools of the province. The total number of teachers released from these Provincial schools will be 425, and together with a number of university students who will be available, the supply will be sufficient to enable every school in the province to operate at an early date.

FRENCH TO PAY FOR HUN SHIPS SEIZED BY BRAZIL

Syndicate to Get Possession of Vessels on Payment of $26,000,000

Paris, April 3.—German ships seized by Brazil will be taken over by a syndicate of French shipowners on payment of $26,000,000, according to the journal, which says the matter has been definitely settled.

IF ALBERTA VOTE FAVORS LIQUOR

Another Plebescite May Be Taken on the Question of Rationing By Government

Edmonton, Alta., April 3.—Should the coming plebiscite under Dominion authority result in a vote in favor of continuing the importation of liquor into Alberta by private persons, another plebiscite under Provincial authority will be held shortly afterwards on the question of rationing liquor by the Government.

Washington Police Declare They Have No Power to Stop Annoyance

Washington, April 3.—Efforts of the State Department to have the Washington police authorize a break up of picketing of the British Embassy by women favorable to the Irish Republic, failed. Police said that in the light of the decision of the Federal Court in the case of the suffragists who picketed the White House two years ago, they were powerless to act unless there was disorder.

The women are on picketing duty this morning. A dozen are marching up and down the sidewalk in front of the Embassy displaying banners criticizing the British Government.

This fact was brought to the attention of the State Department and the officials immediately conferred with the District of Columbia Commissioners and the police authorities. It was said that the British Embassy had made no complaint.

NO HOPE THAT

ably cost the Corporation thousands of dollars.

In his letter Mr. Boden pointed out that the danger in the present system is that should a primary wire touch a secondary, the primary voltage, which is 2,300 volts, would be imposed on the secondary wiring entering a building, with the result that in the absence of a safeguard anyone handling electrical fittings and devices on the alternating current are in danger of receiving very serious if not fatal shocks. The Council decided to leave the matter in Mr. Boden's hands to bring to the attention of the Public Utilities Commission.

Care of Injured Firemen

The City Council has recommended that all firemen who are injured while on duty or become sick through attendance on duty are to be cared for at the city's expense for a period of thirty days. After that time they are to be considered special cases and dealt with by the Council in that manner. It was stated that the firemen do not come within the Compensation Act and that it is evident that the city should do something towards protecting it's employes in the discharge of their duties. The City Fathers also recommended that the age limit on the Fire Department be raised from thirty to thirty-five years.

Weed Inspector's Report

A report from the Weed Inspector, Mr. McCormick, was received during the evening and filed. Mr. McCormack stated that during 1919, over 396 notices re weeds had been sent out to land owners last year and that the work had grown steadily each year. He again applied for the position of Weed Inspector at a salary of $500, but as the inspector's time has been cut down from six months to five, the Council has recommended that his salary be the same as last year, viz. $400 for one month's less work.

To Stop Smoking on Street Cars

Complaints of men smoking in the street cars has been received by members of the Council, and as there is no by-law to prevent this, it has been decided to draw up a by-law which will enforce the prohibition of smoking and spitting in street cars in Brandon.

Await Court Decision

Acting upon the advice of the City Solicitor the by-law forcing canvassers for magazines and periodicals in Brandon to take out special licenses will not go into effect until a certain decision is handed down in the courts on this very question. The City Solicitor also suggested that the by-law making bicycle licenses and tags a necessity, should be suspended from operation for some time, to give the Chief of Police plenty of time in which to advertise the fact that he is going to take steps against all who fail to comply with this new by-law within a certain time.

A letter was read from the Recreation Committee asking for a grant of from one to two thousand dollars for the carrying out of their work among the teen age boys of the city. The Council will meet a delegation on Wednesday evening when the aims and objects of the Recreation Association will be fully explained to the Council and a final decision reached.

Discuss Purchase of Motor Car

The question of a motor car and its kind was the basis for a long discussion from members of the Council. The car is for City Engineer Smith, but whether it is to be a touring car or an auto truck is still to be decided. Certain members fought hard for the touring car while others were of the opinion that a truck would be more serviceable in the transportation of both men and materials to certain parts of the city in working hours. The question of a car for the police was also suggested but nothing came of the suggestion.

A report from the Memorial Committee, which was to have been a feature of the meeting, was very short. The chairman reported that progress of some $7,000 has already been secured on the eprices asked for the property to the rear of the present City Hall. Nothing further was reported.

A City Market

R. A. Hunt wrote again to the Council outlining his plans for a City Market but the City Fathers decided to leave the Market Committee to decide what action should be taken.

Who Is To Pay?

The J. H. McLean Company wrote asking the city to pay for the breaking of a large plate glass window on their former Rosser avenue store, which they said was caused by the Street Railway sweeper throwing a large stone against the glass. The Council repudiated the claim. A claim was also made from Hughes and Company re the breakage of globes and standard lamps below their buildings on Tenth street. These lights had been broken when snow was shovelled off the buildings, but the Hughes Company stated that the snow was taken off to protect passers-by. They therefore asked that the city wipe off the charges they had against them for breakages. The City Council recommended that the bill be paid by Hughes and Company as the city is not liable in any way.

Percy Clarke, a coal passer, asked the Council for permission to do his work by contract at the Pumping station in order to leave him free to work on part of College grounds this year which he had rented for the Summer. The Council could not see its way clear to grant the request however. Residents living on Nineteenth street and Van Horne avenue want the City Council to lend its support towards the installation of electric light in their district. Their request was referred to the special committee appointed in their case.

GOLD RUSH TO SNAKE CREEK, SOUTH OF CALGARY —POCKET OF GOLD FOUND

Calgary, April 6.—Miles of ground have been staked in the gold rush to Snake Creek, twenty miles Southwest of the city. Wise ones believe that the cause of all the excitement has been the discovery of a pocket of gold which is not uncommon.

BELIEVE PRESENT PEACE TREATIES CANNOT ENDURE

Impression Received by Count Apponyi While Holding Conferences in Paris

Budapest, April 3.—Count Albert Apponyi returning here from the Conference at Paris with Admiral Horthy, Hungarian regent, declared that Peace Treaties between Allied powers and the Central Empire were only temporary in nature. "My impression is that no Allied statesmen sincerely believe the Peace Treaties can hold for long.

Y.M.C.A. CASH BOX RIFLED AND $275 STOLEN—LOSS DISCOVERED ON MONDAY

A thief or thieves broke into the Secretary's office at the Y.M.C.A. over the week-end and stole a sum of money said to be approximately $275. The robbery first came to the notice of the Y.M.C.A. authorities Monday morning when it was found that the cash box was missing. After a search was made the cash box was located on the North window of the Director's room, but the cash had disappeared. The police were at once notified of the robbery and are now working on the case.

Usually there is not as large an amount of money left in the Y.M.C.A. over night, but the receipts from the cafeteria and office could not be banked on Good Friday and one of the staff was sick on Saturday, so that the receipts of Thursday, Friday and Saturday were put away in the cash box on Saturday night. The box was kept in the Secretary's room, and all the doors were either bolted or locked with a Yale lock. However the bolts had been withdrawn from a door at the rear of the office and entrance through the Director's room gained to the Secretary's office. No clue was left by the thief or thieves.

DEPUTATION ASKS FOR P. T. IN THE COLLEGIATE

School Board Decides to Co-Operate With Collegiate Staff to This End

TO ERECT BUILDING

On Twelfth Street Site for Manual Training and Domestic Science

Physical training in the Collegiate Institute and the report of the delegation that visited Winnipeg in connection with the proposed technical school for this city, featured the regular meeting of the School Board Monday night. A delegation waited on the School Board and asked that some course of physical training be undertaken in the Collegiate at once and the Board passed a resolution advising that this be done at the earliest date practicable. As a result of the report of the committee on the technical school, this building will not be erected in Brandon this year and the Board will proceed with the erection of a manual training and domestic science school on Twelfth street.

Messrs. J. F. Kilgour and J. E. Matthews waited upon the School Board and urged that physical training in the Collegiate be undertaken. They stated that the students were at an age when they needed physical training and that a training course should be mapped out at once. Mr. Fitton expressed his surprise at no physical training being carried on in the Collegiate, and the Board gave the delegation to undersand that a change would be made in Physical Instructor Black's schedule so as to give the Collegiate pupils a course of physical training.

Principal McDougal's Explanation

Later in the evening Principal McDougal arrived on the scene and explained the situation. He stated that since July there had been no training course prescribed for Collegiate students. He pointed out that one physical instructor for the public schools and the Collegiate is not enough and that there is enough work for two and possibly three men. He did not see what Mr. Black could do unless it was outside work for the boys and they formed a small group at the Collegiate.

Mr. Fitton again voiced his surprise that no training had been going on and Principal McDougal replied that rather than make a farce of the physical work, he had recommended to the Board that the work be dropped for this term and a fresh start made the next term. Dr. Condell said that a unified system should be put into force, with a supervisor put in charge of all physical training work. He didn't want one system in one school and another system in another. Principal McDougal here stated that the introduction of a physical training course at present would mean a new time table and this would take two weeks to prepare. The Board was of the opinion that in view of the short time from now until vacation time that nothing should be done to interfere with the work of the Collegiate as mapped out by the principal, for this term.

Later in the evening a resolution was passed as follows: "That this Board, realizing the importance and value of physical training, co-operate with the Collegiate staff in securing thorough and efficient organization and teaching in this department at the earliest date practicable." Principal McDougal was then advised to make some efforts to secure a capable physical instructor for the Collegiate for the commencement of the next term.

No Technical School

That a technical school for Brandon will not be possible this year is the opinion of the School Board, after hearing the report brought back from Winnipeg by the special delegation who interviewed the Minister of Education, Dr. Thornton. In speaking to the Brandon delegates, Dr. Thornton said that the proposition that the Provincial Government should put up dollar for dollar with the Dominion Government for the erection of a technical school, did not work out in practice. He said he did not know where the Province of Manitoba is to get the money for such purposes. Dr. Thornton therefore could not give the School Board any definite answer in the matter.

In the distribution of the money, had there been any to distribute, Dr. Thornton said that he believed that the distribution should be made according to population. That is, Winnipeg should get ten times as much as Brandon, Brandon three times as much as Portage, and so on in this manner.

WHITEHORN TO ATTEND CONFERENCE DELIVER ADDRESS

Conference to be Held Around Supper Table in 'Y'—Public Meeting in Church

Mr. H. Whitehorn of London, England, who is closely associated with the Brotherhood movement in England and who is visiting various cities in Canada on an extensive transcontinental campaign, will arrive in Brandon on Wednesday. Mr. Whiteorn will meet a number of Brandon men at supper in the Y.M.C.A. at 6.30 after which an informal conference will be held. An adjournment will then be made to the First Methodist Church where a public meeting will be held commencing at eight oclock at which Mr. Whitehorn will be the principal speaker.

Mr. Whitehorn has been connected with the British labor movement, having been official reporter to the Trades Union Congress since 1902. During his address in Winnipeg on Sunday he referred repeatedly to the hopeful outlook for the Labor party and stated that "Labor today, is marching along the organized lines of progress."

Mr. Whitehorn was one of the principal speakers at the Provincial Conference on Christian Brotherhood which commenced its sessions in Winnipeg Monday morning and concludes tonight.

CITY WATER SHOWS VAST IMPROVEMENT

It Is Believed That Impurities Come Down the River in Waves

The city water is fast improving, according to information supplied from the Health office today, but it is still advisable to boil the water before using it for drinking purposes. Recent tests of the water made as it came directly from the river, from the mains and from the taps show a big improvement over the tests made last week. It is now stated that the impurities come down the river in waves and that the condition of the water is apt to vary from time to time.

Whether the School Board should take precautions with regard to the use of the city water in the schools was taken up at regular meeting of the School Board on Monday night. Superintendent White stated that the condition of the water has improved, but that the school children always drink a good deal of water during school hours. It was suggested that possibly some filtering apparatus could be placed in the school, but no action was taken by the Board.

The City Council was to have taken up the question of buying a chlorinator at the last meeting but the subject did not come up in the regular business. It is expected,however, that some steps will be taken soon by the City Fathers to arrange for the installation of a chlorinator.

SOME FARMERS TO START WORK ON LAND ON MONDAY

On Hill Top North of City, the Frost is Now Out of Soil

FIELDS ARE BARE

Work on Land To Be Fairly General in This District Next Week

If favorable weather continues, farmers in Brandon district will be on the land next week. Those residing along the hilltop Northwest of the city state that the frost is pretty well out of the ground, the land is practically dry and with continued good weather, work on the land should be commenced next Monday.

While the fields in the Forrest district have been pretty well bared by the recent high winds, the frost is not yet out of the ground and it will be a week at least if the present weather continues before work is commenced.

In the Brandon Hills district and West of the city the snow is disappearing slowly and the land is very wet. Farmers in these districts do not expect to start work on the land until the end of next week.

Some of the farmers of the district stated this morning that if help could be got at a reasonable price the same amount of crop would be put in this year as during 1919. Others state that the average wage being about eighty dollars a month, farmers cannot afford to pay for help and consequently some of the land at least will not be seeded. It is expected that seeding will become general about the last week of this month.

LATE SPRING PARTIAL CAUSE BUTTER SHORTAGE

Pacific Coast Points Looking to Prairies to Supply Demand

Owing partially to bad roads which make it almost impossible for the farmers to reach the city, there is very little dairy butter obtainable in Brandon stores today. Some stores have been two weeks without a supply while a very few have several pounds on hand but it is ordered as fast as it is obtained. Dairy butter is retailing at sixty-five cents a pound and creamery butter at seventy-five cents.

The manager of one of the leading creameries stated today that there was a temporary shortage of creamery butter owing to present production being about thirty-five per cent less than last year. The season is unusually late this year and consequently the storage supply is becoming exhausted. Pacific Coast points are depending on the prairies for their supply, especially is this true of Vancouver and Victoria. Butter of any kind as almost an unknown quantity in Calgary, Alta., where a faminine is expected if a supply is not obtainable in the near future.

EXTEND TIME FOR PURCHASE OF SEED WHEAT AT $2.45

After April 30th the Price To Be $2.80 Whether for Seed or Feed

Winnipeg, April 13.—In view of the late seeding season and in order to assist the farmers, in the drought stricken areas of the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, to purchase their seed wheat requirements, an extension of another fifteen days has been granted by the Canadian Wheat Board in an order issued today effective from April 15th. The price of wheat for seed purposes will be $2.45 per bushel on a basis of No. One Northern in store at the public terminal elevators at Fort William and Port Arthur until April 30th. After that date the price of wheat for use as seed or feed shall be $2.80 per bushel.

MOTOR LEAGUE DRIVE NOW ON

More Than Forty Members Secured During the First Day of the Campaign

The result of the first day's campaign in the Manitoba Motor League membership rally for the city of Brandon, resulted in the enrollment of over forty members. This gives evidence that some of the motorists in Brandon are fully alive to the value of the Manitoba Motor League as a body for the protection of their interests and it is anticipated by the members of the various committees that before the two weeks' campaign is finished Brandon will have the second largest motor organization in the Province.

A combined committee representing the Brandon Board of Trade, the Kiwanis Club and the Brandon Auto Trades Association together with Mr. R. Lloyd Davies, special organizer of the Motor League, commenced work Monday and are enthusiastic over the results of the first day's campaign. The office of Mr. G. J. Nearing, 149 Ninth street, Vice-President of the Motor League, is the headquarters for the campaign.

Arrangements have been made so that motor owners may obtain memberships from any of the following garages during the campaign: The Reliance Garage, Sixth street; The Central Garage, Ninth street; The Brandon Auto Garage Twelfth street; Dennison & Curtis, Eleventh street; Cristall Garage, Rosser avenue; Butcher & Reynolds, Pacific avenue. Western Motors Ltd., Ninth street.

RECOMMEND BOARD TO DISTRIBUTE ALL ALCOHOLIC LIQUORS

Dominion Alliance Makes Such Recommendation at Annual Meeting

BUDGET OF $25,000

Asked For in View of Growing Demand for Help to Combat Alcoholism

Ottawa, Ont., April 13.—J. H. Carson, Montreal was appointed President, and Miles Vokes, former President, was elected Vice-President, at a meeting of the Council of the Dominion Alliance, held here yesterday. The Board recommends "that the respective legislatures exercise their powers as regards the liquor traffic to the fullest extent and that the distribution of such alcoholic liquors as is allowed for sacramental, industrial, scientific and mechanical purposes be placed exclusively in the hands of boards appointed by the governments."

A budget of $25,000 was recommended in view of the growing importance of securing Dominion prohibitive legislation and in the face of the growing demand for assistance in the world-wide movement to combat alcoholism.

STRIKE SPREADING IN EAST APPEARS DYING IN WEST

Switchmen's Strike Centre Shifts East—Some Return to Work at Chicago

Chicago, April 13. — The main strength of the striking railroad workers today was exerted in the section East of Pittsburg and in the Pacific Northwest, with conditions, according to Railroad Brotherhood leaders and railway officials, in the remainder of the country pointing toward a return to normal.

Mediation Board Officials Arrive

Buffalo, April 13.—The arrival today of Mark Crowley of the Federal Mediation Board and the calling of a meeting of the railroad men for tomorrow, were the basis for rumors of an impending offer from the railroads that might pave the way to a settlement of the country-wide strike.

Less Serious at Chicago

Chicago, April 13.—While the unauthorized strike of railroad employes which started in Chicago two weeks ago with the walk-out of 700 switchmen on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad Monday appeared gradually to be waning in the middle West and the far East, the situation in the territory East of Cleveland took on a more serious aspect. The centre of development in the walk-out of insurgents had definitely shifted to the East, where additions to the ranks of the rebel railroad workers had caused a serious stoppage of freight and passenger traffic and the closing of several industries dependent on the railroads for supplies.

The situation in the Chicago yards showed a marked improvement and reports from other large railroad centres in the middle West, indicated that the crisis of the strike was past and that strikers were returning to work in considerable numbers. Officers of railroad brotherhoods, who have been fighting the strike since its inception, were confident that the breaking up of the walk-out in the Chicago territory would be followed by a general resumption of work in other areas.

More freight moved into the Chicago yards Monday than on any day since the strike started, railroads announced. At the stock yards 229 cars of livestock were received and more than 9,000 employes who had been forced out of work by the strike returned to duty.

CITIES MUST HAVE AIRPLANE HARBORS BARKER DECLARES

Before There Is Hope For Any Real Progress in Commercial Aviation

Montreal, April 13.—"There is little hope of progress in commercial aviation until municipalities or the governments start constructing harbors for airplanes," declared Col. W. G. Barker, addressing a meeting of the Aerial League here last night.

NEXT OF KIN OF WAR HEROES TO RECEIVE MEMORIAL

From the British Government With a Message From The King

Ottawa, Ont., April 13.—The next of kin of every Canadian soldier killed in the war or who may die within the next six years from causes attributable to his services during the war, is to receive a handsome memorial placque and scroll, accompanied by a message from His Majesty the King. The memorial will come from the British Government, which will bear the entire expense.

SOCIAL SERVICE COUNCIL OFFICERS

Elected Monday Evening—Interesting Address by Rev. D. B. Harkness

At a special meeting of the Social Service Council held in the Y.M.C.A. Monday night the Brandon branch of this organization was re-organized, and the following officers elected for the ensuing year. President, Rev. M. L. Orchard; First Vice-President, Dr. E. R. Howes; Second Vice-President, Mrs. W. L. Clendenning; Third Vice-President, Mr. J. H. Skene; Secretary, Mr. F. A. Wood; Treasurer, Miss N. M. Moore. A representative from each unit represented on the Council together with the officers of the organization will form the executive.

During the meeting an interesting address was given by Rev. D. B. Harkness, of Winnipeg, General Secretary for Manitoba, on the present status of the prohibition question in Western Manitoba.

The policy of the Council was also discussed and plans made for the year's work.

HUNDREDS KILLED BY EXPLOSION OF MUNITION DUMP

Paris, April 13—The latest reports say that three hundred were killed in the explosion of the munition dump at Rotensteein, East Prussia, on Sunday, and several hundred others were injured.

WATER SPOUT AND HAIL STORM WRECKS VILLAGE: 2 KILLED

Havanna, April 13.—Three hundred houses and a number of tobacco warehouses were wrecked when a waterspout and hailstorm struck the village of Baez, early Sunday. Two ersons were killed and a large number injured, and 150 families are homeless.

SOME EVIDENCE TAKEN IN FIRST DIVORCE CASE

To Be Heard at the Non-Jury Sittings of the Spring Assize Court

The non-jury sittings of the Spring Assize Court commenced this morning with Mr. Justice Macdonald presiding. There are ten cases on the docket, four of which are petitions for divorce. None of the divorce cases are defended. The first case to be heard this morning was that of a petition by Charles Emery of this city for a divorce from his wife, Alice Emery. The parties were married in July, 1915, before the husband went overseas. Misconduct of the wife during the husband's absence is charged and evidence was taken this morning. The case was not concluded as there is evidence still to come from Winnipeg, and this will be put in the form of an affidavit.

The second case to be proceeded with was that of G. H. Fallis vs. W. W. Fallis. Both parties are Souris men. The defendant W. W. Fallis erected a fence on the plaintiff's land and although warned by the plaintiff to remove the fence, had not done so. The plaintiff G. H. Fallis therefore is claiming the sum of $500 damages and for an order directing the removal of the fence. Evidence in the case was taken this morning and the case is still proceeding.

It is expected that the docket will take all week to go through as the list is one of the heaviest that has come up at the Brandon court for some time.

FORMAL NOTE BY FRENCH WILL END DIFFICULTY

Bitter Attack by German Chancellor on French Premier's Militarism

NATIONAL ASSEMBLY

Re-opened Monday With British Charge de Affairs Present

London, April 13.—Verbal assurances given by the French Government in answering the sixth note of Great Britain relative to the occupation of German cities were discussed by the Cabinet Council yesterday. They are expected to be followed by a formal note which will mean a satisfactory solution of the difficulty.

Berlin, April 13.—"Military action in the Ruhr basin is about to come to an end," said Chancellor Mueller in the course of a declaration before the National Assembly Monday. "All troops not indispensable will be withdrawn. Negotiations are going on with the Allies for a three months' extension of the convention of August, 1919. The occupation of the main cities will end shortly."

The Chancellor's declaration was a bitter attack on the French Premier's militarism. It justified the German action in the Ruhr basin by arguments already advanced in the German notes and maintained that a democratic Germany was possible only if the Franco-German duel ceased and economic collaboration was undertaken seriously instead of merely announced.

The National Assembly re-opened Monday with Lord Kilmarnock, the British charge d'affaires, and other diplomatic representatives present. The proceedings began with a strong protest from Pres. Fehrenbach against the Allied commission in preventing the Upper Silesian deputies from attending the Assembly. Herr Fehrenbach denounced the ntente for this "encrouchment in the rights of the German people's representatives.

President Mueller then read from manuscript a speech, the delivery of which required 90 minutes. At the outset it emphatically echoed Herr Fehrenbach's protest.

The Premier [illegible] strongly against [illegible] region, saying "Senegalese are quartered in Frankfort and are guarding Goethe's house." Then, reviewing the events in the Ruhr region, he said that in the confusion following the Kapp uprising the Ruhr workers were unable to recognize whether they were faced by loyal or disloyal troops.

"This atmosphere of distrust," he added, "was exploited by communists, wirepullers, and instead of an impressive workers' movement there gradually came into existence a Red army.

"The organized workers," Herr Muelner said, "returned to the mines and factories, but the deluded champions of soviet dictatorships remained in arms and were joined by the rable of the Ruhr area, whose only desire was to exploit lawlessness. This was the situation when the German government gave permission to the troops to march into the neutral zone, where almost the entire population was crying for relief from terrorism."

Street Clear After Nine

Frankfort, April 13.—Citizens of Frankfort are not permitted on the streets after nine p.m. without special permits from the French occupational authorities, while in Darmstadt and other towns in the newly occupied territory, the public is allowed on the thoroughfares until 11 p.m.

NO INDICATIONS OF SPRING FLOOD ON ASSINIBOINE

Ice Breaking Gradually and There Is Little Likelihood of Ice Jams

There has been no great rise in the Assiniboine River during the past few days and as yet there is no danger of a flood. The ice is breaking up with the mildweather but there is nothing approaching an ice jam at any point in the river, according to information. The City Engineer has a quantity of dynamite on hand in case there should be an ice blockade at the First or Eighteenth street bridges, but from the way the ice is moving at present there is very little likelihood of the dynamite being used.

As there have not been any rains this month it is hard to compare the condition of the Assiniboine at this season of the year with that of previous years. Superintendent Shaw at the Pumping Station stated that the Assiniboine has not risen noticeably the last few days and that there is no indication yet that there will be a Spring flood.

EDMONTON TO GET MONEY BEFORE SPENDING ANY

City Council Finance Committee Agrees on This Policy at the Bank's Suggestion

Edmonton, Alta, April 12.—That no new capital expenditures shall be made in Edmonton until the debentures covering the work are sold and the money actually received, is the announced policy of the Finance Committee of the City Council. Members of this committee met G. R. F. Kirkpatrick, manager of the Imperial bank, who discussed with them the city's finances. The committee was chiefly interested in gettting assurance from Mr. Kirkpatrick that the bank would advance the city funds necessary to carry on until the tax payments begin to come in.

WINNIPEG NEEDS NEW DWELLINGS

To Accommodate the 15,000 Persons Seeking Homes There

Winnipeg, Man., April 12. — This city requires between 2,500 and 3,000 new dwellings, including 65 apartment blocks to accommodate properly the 15,000 persons seeking homes, according to Building Inspector E. H. Rogers. He said that the new buildings required would cost approximately $16,000,000. Information in the city's possession revealed that hundreds of workmen who came to Winnipeg to live permanently cannot bring their families because homes are not available.

ORIENTAL LABOR IN SASKATCHEWAN

Weyburn Board of Trade Suggests Importation of Chinese Labor Under Contract

Moose Jaw, Sask, April 12.—The possibility of introducing Oriental labor into Saskatchewan to replace the unskilled foreign labor which is withdrawing from the country, is the subject of a communication from the Weyburn Board of Trade. The proposal is not set out in detail but is assumed here that it will provide for a system of importing Chinese labor under contract which will keep it under proper supervision until the time arrives for its return to China, much in the same manner as was done in South Africa.

DENIKINE'S FORCES REFUSE TO FIGHT, SAYS BOLSHEVIKI DISPATCHES

London, April 12.—A Bolsheviki wireless communication received from Moscow says "Evacuation of Crimea by troops of Gen. Denikine (anti-Bolsheviki leader in South Russia), is in full swing and remnants of the volunteer army, perceiving the futility of further resistance have refused to fight and are leaving the country by steamers.

"At Simferopol, war material and merchandise from warehouses belonging to private owners is being placed aboard ships."

BRANDON PEOPLE MAY BE ABLE TO PURCHASE HEALTHY DAY OLD CHICKS

A 2,400 egg incubator has just been installed at the Experimental Farm and was started Saturday. In a few weeks, if all goes well, people interested in starting a chicken farm in their back yard may purchase day old chicks from the Experimental Farm. This incubator is probably one of the largest in use in the Western provinces and should be a great advantage to the people of Brandon and district who are interested in the raising of poultry.

OLD FASHIONED CANNON BALL FOUND IMBEDDED IN HEART OF B. C. TREE

Vancouver, B.C., April 12.—An old fashioned cannon ball, of the 25 lb. variety, used years ago on this coast by the Admiralty ships, caused the False Creek Lumber Company a loss of $250 the other day. It was embedded in the centre of a huge log cut at Duncan Bay. The tree had grown around the ball and concealed it so well that it was not discovered until the saw struck it The missile must have been discharged many years ago by a passing warship.

134 HEAD HOLSTEIN CATTLE SELL FOR AN AVERAGE PRICE OF $606

Toronto, April 12—An average price of $606 was paid for 134 head of Holstein cattle at a sale here riday.

P.E.I. LEGISLATURE HAS BIG PROGRAM

New Liberal Government Proposes to Make Many Important Changes

Charlottetown, P.E.I., April 9.—The Provincial Legislature was opened on Tuesday by the new Lieutenant-Governor, Hon. Murdock McKinnon.

It was the first session since a change of government. The Lieutenant-Governor's speech, after reference to the signing of the Peace Treaty, the visit of the Prince of Wales last Summer and the unprecedented prosperity enjoyed by the province last year, foreshadowed the following measures:

Bills to increase the teachers' salaries; to fund the Provincial debt; to take advantage of the Federal Government's grant under the highways act, and to increase the revenue by levying an equitable system of taxation and to supply the 30 per cent required from the province, in order to secure the Federal 40 per cent for roads. It is proposd to fund the automoville license fees. When the last house dissolved the Conservatives had a majority of six; today the parties stood: Liberals, 24; Conservatives, 5.

BIG CHICAGO BROKERAGE FIRM PLEADS BANKRUPTCY

Chicago, April 9. — The brokerage firm of Eugene M. Hoyne and Company which was forced to suspend Monday when it was announced it could not protect its trades in May corn, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy on Wednesday.

Liabilities were listed at $4,222,579.69, of which $1,589,834.64 is un-579.59, while assets are $94,518.80.

IF SETTLEMENT MADE JAPAN WILL WITHDRAW TROOPS

Honolulu, April 9. — Cable advices received here from Tokio by the Nippu Jiji, a Japanese language newspaper, state that Minister of War Tanaka has dispatched a note to the Social Revolutionary government at Vladivostok, saying that Japan will immediately withdraw her troops from Siberia if the Russian revolutionists will settle the unrest in Vladivostok.

Reason for Attack

Washington, April 9.—The Japanese attack on Vladivostok, which gave them control of the city, resulted from "threatened and aggressive acts of a portion of the Russian army," according to an official dispatch from the Japanese War Department received by Major-General Kazutsugu Inouye, the Japanese military attache here.

FLOODS IN NEW BRUNSWICK

Fredericton, N.B., April 9.—The St. John river has overflowed its banks, part of the St. John Valley Railway tracks have been carried away by the rush of water and ice, while the roadbed of the railway is under water for a long distance.

On the Nashawaaka river, similar conditions prevail at Durham, where the tracks of the Canadian Eastern division of the Canadian National Railways are overflowed and the traffic has been tied up since Tuesday night.

PREMIER DRURY'S ELECTION LAW AMENDMENT TO BE FOUGHT TO THE LAST DITCH

Toronto, April 9.—Premier Drury's election law amendment is going to have a rough passage in the house. Hon. Howard Ferguson, the Conservative leader, intendes to fight it to the last ditch.

"The section providing for a four-year term," he said, "is an Americanism. We see now what trouble they are having in the United States with a Congress and President not responsive to the will of the people."

DRUGGISTS OBJECT TO PROVISIONS OF BILL TO AMEND OPIUM DRUGS ACT

Ottawa, April 9.—Provisions in the bill to amend the Opium and Drugs Act, now before the house, were the subject of representations made to Hon. N. W. Rowell, president of the privy council, by a large delegation of druggists Wednesday. The druggists objected to the provisions in the bill, which prevent them from selling mixtures containing small quantities of opium, morphine and other narcotics, unless a medical prescription has first been obtained. They claimed that many household remedies, cough mixtures and so forth, contained small quantities of narcotics which were harmless in their effect, but necessary, and they asked for such amendment to the bill as would permit them to use narcotics in small quantities in mixtures of their own makeup, as they have been in the habit of doing.

Consideration of the representations made was promised.

VIOLINIST QUIETS RIOTERS IN ITALY

Lad Playing on Hotel Balcony at Lucca Halts Maddened Throngs

Milan, April 8. — Lucca was the scene of an extraordinary incident recently, which recalls the classic fable of Orpheus with his lute, who charmed wild beasts with his music. The playing of a boy violinist suddenly halted a mob in the streets and the rioters abandoned their violent purpose. The violinist is Vosa Frikoda, a Bohemian lad of eighteen. A great crowd assembled, Enrico Malatesta, an Anarchist leader, made a harangue which excited his hearers to fury, and ready for any excesses, they started through the main street to the public square.

"On the balcony of this hotel near the entrance to the square, the Bohemian lad was playing his violin to a few admiring people below. The first of the mob reached this group, listened to the violinist, and remained fascinated by his playing. All the others stopped to listen and as the boy continued playing their fury subsided . Instead of smashing heads they applauded him, and half an hour later they were all walking quietly to their homes."

ALLEGED CORNER IN MAY CORN TO BE PROBED

Chicago, Ill., April 9.—An alleged corner in May corn will be the subject of a Federal grand jury investigation, according to a statement at the offices of U. S. District Attorney Charles F. Cline here. In addition to examining the books of grain men, many members of the Chicago Board of Trade are expected to be called to testify. The investigation was started at the request of several Chicago grain men, who claimed the market was being manipulated by speculators.

COMMERCE BOARD TO KEEP HANDS OFF THE CANNERS COMBINE

Ottawa, April 9.—The inquiry which the Board of Commerce will conduct into alleged combine of canners in Canada is postponed indefinitely. The Board feels that, in view of the fact that the Government had already gone into activities of the canners in Canada, it is not justified in proceeding with its separate inquiry until a third commissioner had been appointed and the board is in a position to make a comprehensive review of the alleged combine.

The two firms stated to be forming a combine are the Dominion Canners, Ltd., and the Canadian Canners, Ltd.

TRAPPER LOSES LIFE IN FIGHT WITH BLIZZARD

Body of Lea Hile Found on Moose Lake Surrounded by Firewood

The Pas, Man., April 9—Surrounded by three small piles of unlit firewood, and sitting in an upright position, the body of Lea Hile, a trapper, was found on Moose Lake by Indians. Hile's body was frozen stiff, and there was evidence of his heroic attempts to light the wood to save himself from freezing. He left the Portage on the far side of Moose Lake with his dog team and Winter's catch of furs, and got lost in a raging blizzard. His dogs forsook him and arrived at the Moose Lake settlement unattended. The dead man's home is in Sioux Falls, North Dakota. He leaves a wife and two children. The Indians buried the body at the Hudson's Bay trading post.

This is the second fatality from freezing reported here in the past week. A lumberman named Peter Lappa was found lying in the snow within a mile of the town where he got lost in a blinding snowstorm and perished.

ADVANCE IN SUGAR PRICE PREDICTED BY WESTERN MEN

Calgary, Alta., April 8.—That sugar is liable to reach 25 cents a pound, though there will be plenty to supply the demand, is the opinion of several of the retail and wholesale grocers in the city. What is causing the raise they are not prepared to say.

Lethbridge, April 8—Sugar is selling at 21 cents a pound here, with apparently a good supply, though a waiting market absorbs it so that no reserve is being built up against the fruit season.

Moose Jaw, April 8.—Retail prices on sugar quoted Wednesday are 20 cents for white and 19 cents for brown. The supply at present is rather scarce.

RAILWAY SHOPMEN WANT WAGE RAISE IN RATES OF PAY

If Their Wishes Are Not Met Convention To Be Called To Consider Action

Montreal, April 8.—Canadian railway shopmen, comprising 400,000 workers within No. 4 district of Federated Railway Shop Trades, will request the Canadian Railway Association to open negotiations with the men's representative in Montreal on April 27th. If the men's wishes in regard to the revised wage scale are not met, a call will be made for a convention of shopmen from all parts of Canada to decide what action shall be taken.

CAUSE OF RIOTS IN JERUSALEM NOT YET KNOWN

Ten Civilians Killed, Three British Officers and 180 Civilians Wounded

London, April 9—It is reported that ten civilians were killed and one hundred and eighty wounded, and that three British officers were wounded in the disturbance in Jerusalem on April 4th, between Jews, Moslems and Arabs The exact cause of the trouble has not yet been ascertained. The situation is well in hand.

$40,000 PAID FOR POLAND CHINA HOG

Which Fifteen Months Ago Was Sold For $265—Highest Price Recorded

Villisca, Iowa, April 9.—A thoroughbred Poland China hog which was bought fifteen months ago for $265, today sold for $40,000, declared to be the highest price ever paid for a hog.

FROM PARIS TO LYONS IN AN HOUR AND 50 MINUTES

Paris, April 9.—Henri Roget, aviator, has established a record by flying from Paris to Lyons in one hour and fifty minutes, the speed being estimated at 147 miles an hour.

PRINCE OF WALES STARTS ACROSS PACIFIC OCEAN

San Diego, April 9.—The British cruiser Renown steamed away from its berth off Coronado shortly after six o'clock last night carrying the Prince of Wales towards Honolulu on the next leg of the trip from England to Australia.

OSTRICHES MIGHT GROW MORE PLUMES

Scientific Effort by South African Farmers to Increase the Quills

An effort is being made by South African ostrich farmers to increase the plume quills of ostriches, and Prof. W. P. Pycraft, the great English naturalist, is sceptical.

The number of plumes from each wing averages thirty-six, and occasionally runs as high as forty-two in the South African species, and thirty-nine in the North African. The latter is the larger bird and its bones are denser. The Groofontein School of Agriculture is trying by proper mating to breed a race of forty-two plume birds.

Prof. Pycraft writes in the Illustrated London News that the ancestor of the ostrich undoubtedly possessed the power of flight, when the wing quills of the hand numbered sixteen, while the secondary feathers, attached along the forearm, probably did not exceed twenty-six. This was the original inheritance and it can never be increased, especially now that the whole wing has degenerated into a mere wreck of its original self.

There are now about 1,000,000 birds on the African ostrich farms, and the value of their exported feathers is about $150,000,000.

FATHER AND DAUGHTER KILLED: LEAP FROM FIFTH STOREY BURNING HOTEL

Seattle, Wash., April 9.—Fred R. Hamilton, 45, of Los Angeles, and his daughter Grace, 22, were killed when they leaped from the fifth storey of the burning Hotel Lincoln early Wednesday.

ARREST IRISH PICKETS IN FRONT OF BRITISH EMBASSY AT WASHINGTON, D. C.

Washington, April 9.—Irish pickets again appeared at the British embassy Thursday and were promptly arrested.

HUN WARSHIPS BEING HANDED OVER TO ALLIES

First Delivery of German Naval Vessels Since Scapa Flow Incident

AT BRITISH ADMIRALTY

Opinion Is Expressed That There May Be No More Quibbling Over Surrender of Ships

London, April 9.—The surrender of the remainder of the German warships under the terms of the treaty of Versailles started Wednesday when the battleships Nassau and Ostriesland arrived at the Firth of Forth. This is the first delivery of German naval vessels since the Scapa flow incident. There remain six battleships, several light cruisers and some 40 or 50 torpedo boat destroyers and a number of submarines to be delivered.

The opinion is expressed at the British admiralty that the delivery of the remainder of the German vessels will now proceed speedily, and that Germany intends to carry out this provision of the treaty without further quibbling.

GOING TO STOP ALL PROFITEERING DECLARES JUDGE

New York, April 9. — Rent cases heard in New York courts this week since the passage of anti-profiteering measures, have passed the 4,000 mark.

Restriction of rents to 25 per cent. more than those paid a year ago caused such joy among 500 tenants in a Bronx court that Justice Rolitzek broke his gavel in maintaining order.

Tenants who had been ordered out of their apartments because they would not pay the increases sought by landlords howled with glee, applauded the judge, and hissed landlords when eviction proceedings were dismissed. Babies, who with their mothers and fathers crowded about the perspiring judge, added to the din by screaming.

"We are going to stop all profiteering," said Justice Davies. "First, we are getting after the landlords and next in turn will come the servant girl profiteers, then the dealers in flour."

GAS EXPLOSION WRECKS CAFE KILLING MAN

One Other Seriously Injured and a Man and Woman Are Missing

Ponca City, Oko., April 8.—One man is dead, one seriously injured, and a woman and a man are unaccounted for as a result of a gas explosion which early today wrecked a cafe here and caused property damage estimated at $100,000. Every building in the business district and many residences were damaged. Twelve persons were asleep in the lodging house above the restaurant but ten escaped with bruises.

GRUMMETT TO SERVE TWO MONTHS MORE FOR KILLING FATHER

Ruben Grummett, who was charged with murdering his father, but found guilty of manslaughter by the jury sitting at the Assizes in Minnedosa last week, was sentenced to one year's imprisonment by Mr. Justice Galt on Wednesday. As Grummett has already been in custody for ten months, this time has been allowed on his sentence so that Grummett has but two months longer to serve before he becomes a free man.

Grummett was accused last Fall of murdering his father on a farm near Oak River. The father's body was later recovered in a manure pile where it had been hidden by Ruben Grummett, and the prisoner brought to Brandon. He was later removed to Minnedosa where he stood trial on the charge of murder. The jury last week found him guilty only of manslaughter and Mr. Justice Galt passed the above sentence on Grummett Wednesday.

FIRE DESTROYS U.S ARMY AVIATION REPAIR DEPOT

At North Dallas, Texas: Estimates of Loss are $1,000,000: Airplanes Burned

Dallas, Texas, April 9.—Fire destroyed the army aviation repair depot at North Dallas, early today with an estimated loss of one million dollars. Several airplanes, large supplies of lumber, the engine house building and the unloading shed were destroyed.

161 HEAVY WORK HORSES BROUGHT $32,315 AT SALE

Seven Hundred Dollars Paid For One Team—Horses Used In Lumber Camps

The largest and most successful horse sale ever held in the city was concluded Thursday afternoon when 161 horses owned by the Indian Lake Lumber Company were sold for a sum which totalled $32,315. The sale was attended by a large crowd of buyers from out-of-town points and there was also a large number of local buyers present to bid in some of the horses auctioned off by Dan Hamilton of Dauphin. The bidding throughout the stance. The average price obtained sale was very brisk and good prices were obtained in almost every infor the 161 horses was $200.71.

The highest priced team went to J. McManus of Alexander who paid $700 for a splendid pair of horses. Several other teams went for prices in the neighborhood of $600. The City purchased a team of horses for the Works Department for a price said to be $525. The large buyers at the sale were M. Smith of Calgary, A. E. Smith of Vancouver and J. W. Upham of Veregin, Sask. who took away many horses from the sale.

The sale was a much larger one than last year when about 100 horses were disposed of. The horses were purchased in the Brandon district last Fall and have been working in the lumber camps of Western Ontario with the Indian Lake Lumber Company. This company disposes of the horses each Spring, buying horses again in the Fall for their work each Winter. The horses were brought here and the sale supervised by W. I. Elder.

FREIGHT RATES TO BE INCREASED

North Atlantic Shipping Lines Advance Rates from the United Kingdom

London April 7.—The North Atlantic shipping lines have decided to increase freight rates very substantially from the United Kingdom to North America, says the London Times. The decision is attributable to the high level of the expenses and the rise in the prices of bunker coal.

The newspaper adds that a message received gave an intimation that American and other lines may increase passenger rates ten per cent owing to additional costs in operation. The present surcharge however, is to be slightly reduced, and will now be 25 per cent. This would appear to indicate, says the Times, that provision is being made for a permanent increase in passenger rates.

HARD TO GET EVIDENCE WHEN CELESTIALS DO NOT UNDERSTAND ENGLISH

Wong Chee, a laundryman at Napinka has preferred a charge of theft against Kun Low, another Celestial, and the case is being heard in the Police Court today. Kun Low is a restaurant keeper at Napinka and is alleged to have stolen the sum of $650 from the premises of Wong Chee last January. None of the parties interested understand English and the interpreter is making a slow job of getting the evidence from the witnesses. The case is still proceeding and will take most of the afternoon to hear all the evidence.

BRANDON MAN TO PRESS CLAIM FOR $1,000 REWARD

C. W. Harrison Supplied Information Leading To Arrest of Slayer of de Forge

A reward of $1,000 offered by the Attorney-General's Department for any information leading to the arrest of William de Forge's slayer will probably come to this city. Now that William Elnick and his two accomplices Clements and Burdie have been convicted and sent down for long terms, the Attorney-General's Department will turn its attention to settling the claim made for the reward. An application for the reward was made last December by Mr. Harrison, but as the case was not settled at that time nothing further was done in the matter. It is stated that Mr. Harrison is the only person to whom the reward could be paid.

The arrest of William Elnick was the direct result of information furnished by C. W. Harrison. One day last Fall Elnick came into the Brandon store with two overcoats which he wanted to sell at a cheap price. Mr. Harrison became suspicious of the man and told him to leave the coats and call back when he wasn't so busy. While Elnick was out Mr. Harrison phoned the police and Detective Barlow arrested the man when he came into the store a second time. While taking the man to the police station, Barlow saw Elnick drop a revolver in the deep snow, and recovering it found it to be a German gun. Elnick confessed to robbery in Winnipeg and after being found guilty of carrying concealed weapons was sent to Winnipeg for trial.

In the meantime the German revolver furnished a clue to the murder of de Forge and some clever work on the part of the local police connected the shooting with Elnick. Later he confessed to the shooting and he has now been sentenced to twenty-five years in the penitentiary.

DIVORCE COURTS IN ALL PROVINCES EXCEPT QUEBEC

Ottawa, April 9.—Two bills were introduced in the Senate yesterday, the effect of which would be to create divorce courts in all provinces except Quebec. This would have the effect of taking divorce cases out of Parliament almost entirely, since of the hundred odd cases now before the House, all from Ontario and Quebec, the proportion is about a dozen from Ontario to one from Quebec.

The only provinces which will not set up their own divorce courts are Ontario and Quebec, while the power of the Prince Edward Island courts has been limited. Two bills introduced give divorce powers to the Supreme Court of Ontario and to the courts of Prince Edward Island. In the latter province there has never been a divorce case.

BRANDON HARDWARE

England after the War

By Talbot Mundy

CHAPTER I.

That the proof of the pudding is in the eating is not the least sound of old wives proverbs; and the best answer today to England's stinging detractors is to sample England. After that the stings no longer smart, for there is a new spirit abroad there, so obvious to the observer with open eyes and so sound and reasonable that for the future and suspicions of today disappear in the glow of reassurance. It is the same old Merry England only with better excuse for it, because the faces of the poor are not ground as they used to be; and in return for that the process of destroying class distinction is today more than levelling up than down.

The same old demagogues, of course, are trying to get credit to themselves for a new order that they would rather prevent if they could; and the old "interests" that are moribund, and know it, are roaring and threatening. But the man in the street is aware of a lighter heart within him, bought and paid for certainly by sacrifying sacrifice, but undeniable. And the stranger within England's gates can as it were, lean against that new friendliness; finds and feels himself surrounded by it; and grows contented with it even against his will.

England Happier Today

Almost the most interesting feature is that the shortage of necessities, and the high prices so complained of are very real and difficult to deal with. England is happier today in spite of those things; friendlier today in spite of political bitterness, and of syndicalism that has reared its ugly head in a blind effort to prevent the inevitable.

Nobody seriously doubts today that the next Government will be controlled by the Labor vote, and that most of the seats in the Cabinet will be occupied by Labor members. Fifteen years ago that prospect would have carried consternation into all ranks, Labor not least of them; today, even the bitterest opponents of a Labor government are agreed that responsibility will be good for the Labor Party and therefore for the country as a whole.

The man in the street is as convinced as anyone that a Labor government will make astonishing mistakes, but, as one capitalist aptly put it, "they can't make worse ones than the old crowd did, and we're all learning. A few years ago very few were willing to learn. Today we all want to."

Not So Enamored of Class

The new labor members who are entering Parliament are vastly less enamored of class interests than the earlier labor agitators, whose day of usefulness seems pretty nearly done. The new men, whom their noisier leaders complain of finding it so difficult to control, have in view legislation that will benefit all classes, and so unify them, rather than favor even labor in particular. The men who are the exception to this rule stand out with cameo-like distinctness, because of their difference from the rest, and so cause the superficial observer to imagine for himself a discontent and an intolerence that are not really there. England is sounder at heart than ever, and, from Duke to street sweeper, immensely more brotherly; readier to give to every man his due; and set more than anything else on this one thing; that the under-dog shall not only have succor, but that he shall cease to exist at all in a realm in which any social condition shall be unimaginable, because of fair play for all. And things move fast in these after-war days—much faster than the very necessary military control and permit systems allow to appear on the surface. The world will one day wake to England's principles and sanity.

CHAPTER II.

Signs of the Times

There are signs of the times abroad in England that aanyone with eyes can see, especially anyone familiar with conditions fifteen years ago who has spent the "years between" elsewhere. No doubt, the men who have wrought the changes, are largely unaware of them as yet, having been too busy at the toil to check the output. Statesmen, editors, politicians, reformers, are all more or less blinded by the conflicting opinions of dividing "interests," and it may be that the alien with friendly eyes can see easiest, and be first to recognize the tremendous forward strides that the Mother of the Anglo-Saxon race had made.

England is sweeter today than yesterday, readier to look you frankly in the eyes and laugh; readier to listen to another viewpoint, and surely bent on orderly and reasoned progress in spite of printed boasts and strident clamoring by the men who fear the new order of things. There is a new born willingness among all classes to forego prejudice and face proposals squarely.

Symbol of New England

But Lady Astor, M.P., is the symbol of the new England that is easiest to understand. Plymouth sent her up to Parliament, but all England has accepted her, and the House of Commons has undergone almost without resentment and without a struggle, its greatest change in history. Lady Astor was never in any sense a sex candidate, and all efforts to capture her on behalf of any faction or set of special interests have been ridiculously futile. She stands for the new-old principle of universal equal rights and privileges, without distinction of sex or creed. She is the representative for Plymouth; and if she represents any other constituency it is that of the fair minded men and women so liberally scattered throughout Great Britain who are determined that all classes of the community shall in future have fair play, and all new plans for orderly and careful progress shall be considered squarely, and accepted or rejected on their merits.

An England whose House of Commons has a ladies' room, in which working men members meet on equal terms the wealthiest Viscountess in England, an M.P. like themselves, enjoying just their privileges, and discuss with her their families and their little garden plots, is an infinite distance in advance of the same stout-hearted country that only a few years ago knew nothing of such things and hardly ventured to imagine them. In the year when the Tercentenary is being celebrated of the departure of the Plymouth Pilgrims to establish a new freedom in a new land, America, Plymouth has sent to Parliament a true descendant of those Pilgrim Fathers to represent the birth of new freedom in the Mother Country—Freedom based on Principle, and so incorruptible, inviolate, irreversible forever.

CHAPTER III.

Be Done With Old House Slavery

One thing noticeable at once in England is a quiet intention to lead a more spacious life and be done with the old house-slavery. The expression of it takes a thousand forms, from eager questions about the United states and Canada addressed to every new arrival from those parts, to a studied carelessness of ceremony, with all imaginable nuance between. It is in many cases overdone, as all new movements are by those who see the goal but not the steps by which to reach it; but the solid good sense of the great majority is a rock against which the tides of nervousness and irresponsibility must beat in vain.

It begins on the British ship on which one leaves the United States. There is little of the old-style servility. The obsequious effusiveness of a bathroom steward that could have passed muster a few years ago is in such contrast to the new manner of the rest that one despices him and doubles one's estimate of the others who do their work without a word of make-belief, but do it well for the sake of their own opinion of themselves. Nothing used to stir the Colonial or the American so deeply as that assumed, illogical misnamed politeness of the English "lower class," it gave rise to most of the legends about England's insincerity. But today it has vanished with the false sense of values that created it, and England looks you squarely in the eyes, self-proven in the fire of grim adversity. It is almost the best sign of the times, that new self-recognition by the one-time under-dog. There is nothing querulous about it, nor any begging of the question, but knowledge earned and won; although of course, there is the inevitable scattering of weaklings who construe freedom into license to be insolent. But one can suffer the little insolvence gladly enough, for pleasure in the real thing. England has found herself.

The New Spirit

It works both ways, that new spirit. I have talked with a peer of the realm and a laboring man together; one of the wealthiest peers in England, a working man who owned little save his medal ribbons and the obligation to support a family, and myself from the United States, where we think we know most about man's brotherhood with man. There was no patronage; and inferiority was not as much as suggested by an effort to appear on equal terms; nor was there any effort to understand each other, for none was needed. There was complete mutual recognition of each other's manhood. We all three disagreed entirely on the subject under discussion, but the American went away with a song in his heart, for he had seen deep calling unto deep because the barrier of class no longer stood between them and two decent men could see each other as they were. I tried to ask the working man about it afterwards, to get at his estimate of the new condition of things. "What do you mean," he answered. The new order of things is already so natural that the old is forgotten, and my question was the only puzzle. But a great book could be filled with illustrations of England's quiet awakening, and the men who imagine they can drown the world in Bolshevism have England yet to reckon with her who thought they could whelm France under an avalanche of steel and fire.

CHAJTER IV.

Roar About Extravagance

They are raising a roar in England about extravagance, and preaching tirades against it; and of course extravagance is bad. But the roar is coming mostly from the "interests" that would rather see the working class a measure or so too short of cash with which to pay the piper. If a bricklayer's wife buys a fur coat, that is fairly presumptive evidence that her husband has already paid the rent and that her children's stomachs are not empty. If she pawns the fur coat later, that is her privilege. She and her husband will have learned a lesson, more or less, that they certainly never would have learned without that opportunity. And for every laborer's wife who spends her money foolishly there are twenty who display thrift

It always looks like extravagance when the man who never had anything to spend begins spending. Besides, the government set a bad example, as all governments in war time always do. But, like the government that he has reasonable expectation of soon controlling, the working man can learn the lesson of the day. There isn't a doubt he will. He has learned that he can rise to higher estate without destroying others' equal privileges, and any other lesson must be child's play after that.

Dawn of Bright day

Wisdom does not expect the uninitiated to learn all the secrets of the new order in a day or two, nor to gather facility in ordered progress from the aftermath of choas. Adjustment is taking time. But the dawn of the day that is arriving is the rosiest England ever knew, or that ever gladdened the heart of a friendly alien; the process of readjustment is no longer in the hands of any one class, not even of Labor, that only seems to be securing a lion's share because formerly its division of the profits and the privileges was not great enough. 'All classes, except the profiteers (who form a sort of international bad-brotherhood of their own), are bent on getting the utmost out of life without too much infringing on the other man. There are regrets for the old order. That is inevitable. It is going to be as difficult for the upper class to learn the ways of readjustment as for the lower to grow used to greater affluence of time and means, no more no less. But in spite of regret there is an assumed willingness among "those that have" to reshuffle the cards so to speak, and to give the fellows who never yet did have, at least an opportunity. That attitude portends a levelling up, not down.

No Talk of Keeping People In Their Place

There is a very great deal less talk than there used to be of "keeping people in their place," and, in return for that, much less resentment of success. At present there is a lot of unemployment, partly due to mismanagement, and partly to the unrest following four years of war. But it is a very safe assertion that today in England any man's chance of rising from the lowest rank to the highest in almost any walk of life is ten thousand times greater than it was ten years ago; and that he could accomplish the feat today without arousing much ill-will. The consequence of that will be that the bitter-minded man, who in all lands are preaching class warfare as the new crusade, will be confounded, and, in England at any rate, the march of predestined progress will be accomplished without bloodshed, or more than enough excitement to make headlines in the daily press. The heart of England is as sound as ever, and England is readier than ever to oppose an unbreakable front to the attack of despotism. Last time it was against an enemy with cannon and poison gas. Now it is another kind of poison gas, and specious argument in place of bursting shell. But none of those weapons are of use against a nation whose very "working men" are guided in their efforts to improve their lot by their own best understanding of fair play. Such a nation can make the most awful mistakes, and sustain most terrible defeats, but will recover. And the world is safe while such a nation continues true to her ideals.

ELNECK GETS 25 YEARS, OTHERS FIFTEEN EACH FOR KILLING OF DEFORGE

Winnipeg, April 7.—Sentences totalling fifty-five years' imprisonment were passed Tuesday by Chief Justice Mathers on three men convicted of manslaughter for the killing of William Deforge in Winnipeg on October 18th last. W. H. Elnech is to spend 25 years in prison, and Jack Clements and Harold Burdie 15 years each.

PERMANENT UNIONIST POLICY MUST BE MADE KNOWN THIS SESSION

Return of Premier Borden in May Should Make Tremendous Difference in House of Commons —How Is Money To Be Raised To Meet New Deficit on Government Railways?

Ottawa, April 8. — Easter holidays mean that the first lap of the parliamentary session is over. This does not, however, mean the longest lap. Like good wine, the best has undoubtedly been kept until the last. Indeed, it is quite probable that the session will consist of three laps or stages; the second consisting of the weeks intervening between Easter and the return of Sir Robert Borden, which has generally been fixed for the second week in May; the third lap extending from that time until the end of the session. From present indications there will be more developments following the return of the Prime Minister than during all the rest of the session. This is to be expected; for usually things move much more quickly when the boss is on the scene. At present it is a case of marking time until he comes.

Deficit on Government Railways

During the last week Parliament has been reminded that wrile it is a fine thing to be able to boast ownership of the biggest railway system in the world, it is nevertheless a luxury the expense of which is proportionate to the size. Canada has aptly been called a country of magnificent distances; but if we keep on it may, insofar as railways are concerned, yet be known as a country of magnificent deficits. To run behind to the extent of $47,000,000 on the year's operations, as Dr. Reid stated was the case in respect to the Canadian National and the Grand Trunk Pacific, is unfortunate. But the Opposition will have it that the actual deficit is much greater. D. D. McKenzie and F. S. Cahill having put it at $80,000,000. When the $40,000,000 mark is reached one's attitude toward a deficit is like that towards 40 below zero on the prairies —a few more degrees don't count.

Placing the Blame

The question naturally arises, what is going to be done about it? The only answer that really can be given is—pay the bill. Indeed, as the bill has already been paid, there is nothing to do but to settle with the bank. While to have to present such a statement is unpleasant to the Government, still it is amusing to watch how both sides draw satisfaction from the situation. The Opposition says—"we told you so." The Government replies "see what the railway projects of the Laurier regime have got the country into." So between allegations and counter-allegations there is enough ammunition available to produce a very lively and lengthy discussion. After all, in view of the railway undertakings entered into some years ago, and the war, the situation such ernment in every country has to come When railways get into financial troubles beyond their depth the Government in every country has to come to the relief of the situation. Private interests in Canada today could not command money enough to take over the Canadian National and its obligations plus those of the Grand Trunk.

Method of Payment

Since the bills must be paid, the most important question seems to be —how will these deficits be made up? By taxation, or by higher rates? At present it looks as though both methods might, to some extent, be used. An increase of 25 per cent. in the railway rates would produce $88,000,000; but as this would hand over $44,000,000 to the C.P.R., which doesn't need it, the proposal hardly seems practicable. Some say that this could be got back from the company through taxation; but, as the Minister of Railways intimated, the Government has discovered that once money gets into the wallet of that great corporation, to get any of it back is the hardest task possible. So the Government doesn't like the thought of handing the C.P.R. another $44,000,000 and taking its chances on getting it back again. What the C.P.R. does not know about keeping money is hardly worth learning.

Policy for Providing Money

To get $40,000,000 or more a year out of the public treasury to make up railway shortages is bound to be a difficult task from now on. The old slogan of Victory Bond campaigns—"Come across or the Kaiser will," used to bring the money during the war; but the signs are not wanting that when the Kaiser can't come across any more than an infant could, the public is not inclined to come across to the extent of millions and yet more millions for Victory or any other kind of bonds. Very probably the Government has decided on a policy of raising the money, but would prefer to have Parliament, or at least the Opposition, commit itself. It is quite probable that several years of good sized railway deficits lie ahead of the country, at the end of which it should have a good national railway system, to say nothing of the completeness of the demonstration that folly always comes high.

Huge Wage Scale

In the meantime Hon. W. G. McAdoo, who used to run Uncle Sam's railways during the war, is being criticized for his wage scale, which was introduced into Canada. It cost the Canadian Nationals $19,000,000 more in wages last year than in 1918, which possibly accounts for his great popularity among railway employes, and his unpopularity among railway managements. His reply has been—"well, if you paid munition workers and shipbuilders from $5 to $10 a day, how could you expect railway men to work for much less?" And the reply is unanswerable. At the same time it does not take a great deal of arithmetic to convince a person that a railway which has to pay in wages 78 cents out of every $1 it takes in, will have a hard time making ends meet. That is the position of the Government road today. Nor is it probable that wages will come down; in the United States the tendency is to ask for more. The war put up wages and the high cost of living is expected to keep them up.

The Hudson's Bay Railway

After he had made his railway statement to the House, Dr. Reid had no hesitation in saying that no money would be spent on the Hudson's Bay Railway this year; nor, after what they had heard, had the Western members the hardihood to press their demands. The subject will be discussed; but the effect will be to demonstrate to their constituencies that the prairie M.P.'s did not fail to bring the subject strongly before both the Government and Parliament. It is a very convenient thing for a member to be able to say, "I did so-and-so; here are my words in hansard." The Western members will now attempt to persuade the Government that it is in the public interest to maintain towards certain public works in the East the same attitude that is assumed towards the road to the Bay. It begins to look as though several more election campaigns would be fought on the Hudson's Bay Railway issue. It having taken 25 years to get the project as far as it is, how long will be required to finish it? Nothing more can be said than its completion lies in the dim, distant future.

The Bye-Elections

In politics these are not like the good old times. In the days before the war a by-election used to be a great event especially when Parliament was in session. Everybody was willing to lend a hand to help a new candidate into the House, or to assist an old member to come back. At present, however, most members seem to consider discretion the better part of valor. In Kamouraska, one named Stein, a rather German name for a French-speaking constituency, has been elected by acclamation. Mackenzie King got the news first and he took pleasure in announcing it to the House, to the great satisfaction of his followers. In St. James (Montreal), a Liberal and a Labor man are fighting it out. As both are French, which ever is elected will be opposed to the Government. In Temiskaming Mr. Meighen, who seems to be doing more work in the firing line than all the other ministers combined, is making a strong fight to elect Major Pullen. But the absence of master organizer like Frank Cochrane is greatly felt. This has developed into a very warm contest, with the Labor candidate possessing the best organization.

Like many another noted man, Mr. Crerar has been ill with boils and thus has been absent from the House. The duties of Third Party leader have thus devolved upon Dr. Michael Clark, who has discharged them well. Indeed, as a parliamentary figure he is much superior to the ex-Minister of Agriculture. This is not to the disparagement of the latter, but solely because parliamentary experience is begotten only of a long apprenticeship and a special aptitude for public life. "Red Michael" has a free and vigorous style that takes well.

It is not surprising that Mr. Calder has had to go South to recuperate. Several weeks ago he had a heavy attack of the grippe, having been threatened with pneumonia. As he did not recover as quickly as could be desired it was decided that he should spend a few weeks in the South. Since he came to Ottawa few ministers have been more busily engaged than he has been. Indeed those who know him know that he has had a continuously busy time of it since 1905. Of all ministers who work hard, Mr. Meighen seems to stand it best, and he is anything but rugged in appearance.

The West will be pleased to hear that it is the intention of the Canadian National to build 350 miles of line West of Port Arthur this year, 300 of it on the prairies. The carrying out of these good intentions may be prevented by the lack of money and difficulty in securing labor; but the work will be provided for in the estimates. A great deal of betterment work is also announced for the West.

Little is heard of Sir Robert Borden these days; indeed it is said that mail does not reach him, which is a good indication that he is pretty well hidden from the public eye. He had need husband his strength for a heavy task lies before him on his return, Unionists members freely expressing the opinion that it would be suicidal to delay longer than this session the announcement of a permanent policy.

FOUR KILLED, HUNDRED HURT BY EXPLOSION

In Explosive Plant at Fayville, Illinois—Falling Glass Injured Many

Cairo, Ills., April 8.—Four persons were killed and approximately 100 injured, three probably fatally, in an explosion late yesterday at the plant of the Aetna Explosives Company, Fayville, near here. The cause of the explosion is unknown. The majority of those injured were hit by falling glass, every window in Fayville being shattered. The explosion occurred in the out-buildings.

RESTORATION OF CHINESE RIGHTS IS FREELY DOUBTED

Pekin, April 8.—Restoration to China without compensation of the Chinese Eastern Railway and all mining and forestry concessions and privileges seized by the former Russian Imperial regime, Alexander Kerensky, and other Soviet generals, is announced in a note to the Chinese Government from Soviet authorities at Irkutsk The communication is couched in extravagant terms, and the Foreign Office is not inclined to take it seriously, doubting the authority of the Soviet to make the renunciations.

$400,000 FIRE IN WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, April 8.—In a spectacular fire Wednesday night the central barns of the Winnipeg Electric Railway Company, Main Street and Assiniboine Avenue, were destroyed, resulting in damage estimated by the company's officials to run to about $400,000.

ABERDEEN ANGUS CALF CLUB PLANS TO INTEREST BOYS

In Care and Breeding of Pure-bred Cattle Rather Than Grades

TO ACCEPT NOTES

By Boys and Girls Under 19 Who Join Club—To Arrange Sale Next Year

A pure bred Aberdeen Angus Calf Club is being formed in Brandon, and forms are now being sent out to the likely members by the Aberdeen Angus Association. The club is to assist in the Boys' and Girls' Club movements and will try to induce the young stockmen to take care of pure bred and not grade stock. The young stock fanciers are to receive every attention from the club in the raising of live stock and many well known men are giving the Aberdeen Angus Club their support. Mr. W. V. Gordon, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce has already done some valuable work in boosting the work along. It is hoped that all members of the club will be selected and the calves distributed to the members before the Summer Fair, and then after the calves have been carried along for one year, a sale will be held in 1921.

Under the rules of the Aberdeen Angus Calf Club any boy or girl in the Brandon district who wishes to undertake the care of a calf can become a member. The club is to be under the control of a committee composed of John R. Hulme, James Turner and Kenneth McGregor as directors of the Canadian Aberdeen Angus Association. Mr. Aubrey Weir, District Representative, W. V. Gordon of the Bank of Commerce and the Secretary of the Canadian Aberdeen Angus Association. This committee will arrange for the financing of the club, purchase and allotment of the calves to the members of the club, arrange for prizes and for a show and sale of the calves at the end of each year.

Any girl or boy over nine and under nineteen years of age is eligible for membership, and the club is for the purpose of interesting boys and girls in pure bred Aberdeen Angus cattle. The Canadian Bank of Commerce will accept the boy's or girl's own note for the purchase price of the calf, and group insurance will be arranged for by the committee. The calves are to be heifer calves from ten to fifteen months old, and the distribution of calves will take place about July first. All calves are to be held until the Summer Fair of 1921 when they are to be put up for sale.

220 POLICE POSTS DESTROYED DURING RAIDS IN IRELAND

Dublin, April 8.—Two hundred and twenty police quarters were destroyed during the recent raids in Ireland. It is officially stated from claims already made that compensation asked for will exceed $2,000,000.

MAY DAY 1920 TO BE MOMENTOUS ONE FOR FRANCE

Paris, April 8.—Labor demonstrations of an imposing nature are expected here May 1st and it is declared that extremists may seek to foment serious trouble. An effort may be made to start a nation wide walkout on that date.

AN AMERICAN VIEWPOINT

The Chicago Daily News presents a view of events in the far East which is commonly held in the United States. One can hardly read it without speculation as to the views of these same people on America's failure to accept a mandate for Armenia, and its position regarding the League of Nations. The article follows:

"Japan's sudden stroke in Vladivostok is entirely in keeping with the expectations of Americans in that part of the world. It has been commonly believed by such observers, officers and private soldiers, that American troops were kept in Siberia solely to prevent contemplated aggressions of the Japanese. It was felt that only the presence of the Americans had prevented the Nipponese regiments from disclosing long ago the intentions of the Tokio Government.

"It is true that the Americans, with only 8,000 men, never had a really powerful fighting force in Siberia, but these 8,000 exercised great moral force and so they acted as a deterrent to Japanese aggression. Just as soon as the Americans left Vladivostok the Japanese seized the city and raised their imperial flag.

"The excuse offered by the Japanese is that the Russians attacked them. But whether the Russians or the Japanese struck first, it is certain that the Japanese are now in possession of one of the world's strategic points, the gateway to vast and immensely rich Siberia."

IS IT RIGHT?

The right of policemen and firemen to go on strike will be questioned in many sections of Eastern Canada should the St. Catharines firemen walk out as they are threatening to do. The right of any man to leave the employment at which he is engaged is one which no one questions. But when policemen or firemen decide to walk out in a body, to remain away from their employment and seek to induce others to refrain from taking up their duties, thereby endangering the lives and property of others, they are using a club which they have no right to wield.

At the same time it is true that they should never be compelled to go to such lengths to secure either decent hours or a wage that will enable themselves and their families to live in decency and moderate comfort. Recognition of fair claims would make many threatened strikes unnecessary. In the other instances when the men are led to make excessive demands or where they interpose their weight to assist others in disputes in which they have no direct interest, they generally have sufficient reason to regret such indiscretion.

MOUNTING COSTS

There is a general abandonment of the hope for decreased costs of the necessities of life in the immediate future. It may be true that the pool is filling up, but the pool appears to be a quicksand capable of absorbing no end of filling. The removal of control from the price of sugar has resulted in advances in price with still further increases in prospect.

Now comes the announcement by the Canada Wheat Board that as a preliminary step to decontrol the maximum price of flour sold for domestic purposes has been abolished. Though a large number of Canadian flour mills are idle and there are said to be immense stocks of domestic flour in Canada few there be who anticipate lower prices for flour for any extended period if at all.

DON'T WASTE WASTE

There is value in the warning recently issued to the effect that the world has not yet reached a point where it can indulge in waste without paying for it, and that now, with the period of Spring cleaning at hand, everybody, and especially the housewives, should beware of the extravagance that lies in the custom of burning or throwing away vast quantities of so called waste materials.

"The lesson learned during the war should not be forgotten," says Mr. Alexander. The reclamation of waste is a problem which is not only fitted for war times, but for times of peace as well. It is very essential that some means of off-setting the high cost of living should be found. Do not waste waste, but turn it back into the channels of commerce."

The cost of such materials as paper, rubber, metals and the like that are wasted during a year runs into the hundreds of millions of dollars. About 90 per cent of this waste could be prevented if proper efforts were made.

The world is suffering greatly from underproduction, and the suggestion that the pinch of high prices can be mitigated by stopping waste and taking proper care of so called waste material is worthy of everybody's consideration.

SERIOUS SITUATION IN GERMANY

News from Germany continues to be of a most disquieting nature. French occupation of German territory because of repeated failure to fulfill the terms of the Peace Treaty, appears to have roused Hun mobs to greater excesses of fury. In order to encourage these malcontents rumors were spread that the Allies and the United States were opposed to French methods. Immediately the German mob at Frankfort received this rumor it began to taunt the French troops, shouting—"You've got to get out." An order to disperse was disobeyed and six Germans were killed and about forty others wounded.

The Germans are beginning to feel the effects of having successfully evaded Peace Treaty terms. They have a large army, immense stores of equipment, and they believe that the Allies and the United States have ceased to co-operate to the same degree as during hostilities and the immediate following months. No very large section of German son felt the burden of occupation by armed forces during hostilities; immense numbers of Germans do not believe they were defeated but that the leaders betrayed them. The situation is serious, just how serious it is doubtful if it is generally recognized.

A LABOR CANDIDATE

If the more radical element among the Labor leaders in Brandon succeed in their plan to nominate one of the convicted Winnipeg strike leaders, as Labor candidate in the Brandon constituency, it appears as if the choice must fall on R. E. Bray.

At the time the plan was conceived it is not likely that Bray was foremost in the minds of the Labor men, but recent events indicate that he may be the choice if the plan is not abandoned. The developments referred to are the nomination by the Winnipeg Branch of the Socialist party of Canada of Messrs. R. B. Russell, George Armstrong, W. A. Pritchard and R. T. Johns; the nomination of Rev. Wm. Ivens on the tentative slate of the Dominion Labor Party; and the general admission that Ald. John Queen is to be the nominee of the Social Democratic Party. These men to contest Winnipeg seats.

That there are Brandon men who seek the nomination, or the endorsation of Labor in the Provincial election, cannot be doubted. At least one of these has been busy for some time in an endeavor to win such recognition as will make him a factor. Another possible candidate would use Labor or any other organization, that afforded him any hope of stepping up.

The average man will look with favor on a candidate who is not bound down by hard and fast ties to any set of political bosses, nor to seek particularly to further the interests of any group. If Labor fails to recognize this, or if it deliberately ignores it and insists on a candidate such as Bray, or any other extremist, it is deliberately throwing away any chance of representation.

HOOVER FOR PRESIDENT

From this distance it appears as if there is only one Presidential candidate in the United States for whom there is a distinct public call. This candidate is Herbert Hoover. That Hoover is not a strong partizan is certain from the fact that when his name was first mentioned, it was uncertain in the United States even, whether he would run as a Democrat or a Republican. His recent letter promising acceptance of the Republican nomination if offered, settled all doubts. It also brought to the fore his views on the Peace Treaty issue. Mr. Hoover has all along been an advocate of the United States discharging its duties in regard to world economic disorder, and an ardent champion of the League of Nations. In his message to the California Hoover Club he stated:

"I understand there is a great wish among the Republicans of California to have opportunity to express themselves in favor of the League of Nations, with proper reservations safeguarding American tradition and interests, as against the extreme view advocated against any League at all. I differ just as strongly with this view as I differ with the position taken by the President on participation in purely European affairs. This issue is whether, with reservations protecting our position, we should join the moral forces of the world to reduce the dangers again growing around us, or whether we will, by pretence of an insularity we do not possess, sit by in the face of growing reaction, or, in reverse, the spread of Bolshevism, through much of the world. This would be the defeat of the hopes for which our sons were sacrificed in this war. . . . If the Republican party—with the independent element of which I am naturally affiliated—adopts a forward-looking, liberal, constructive platform on the Treaty, and on our economic issues, and if the party proposes measures for sound business administration of the country, and is neither reactionary nor radical in its approach to our great domestic questions, and is backed by men who undoubtedly assume the consummation of these policies and measures, I will give it my entire support. While I do not and will not myself seek the nomination, if it is felt that the issues necessitate it, and it is demanded of me, I cannot refuse service."

The impression Mr. Hoover made during a public appearance in Boston last week, was carefully noted. Critics declare his voice is weak, and that he spoke in a monotone, reading most of the time. As an orator he is a failure. As his subject matter was economics, in spite of the obvious defects of platform manner, the audience was favorably impressed. As a man of great practical sense, and familiarity with European conditions, his views on the Peace Treaty will carry much weight. From present indications it appears as if he is neither of the Wilson nor Lodge factions, but that he occupies a compromise ground. From many points of view this is now the safest and most practical. It is apparent that the election of Hoover to the Presidency of the United States, provided he wins the nomination, will be no easy task.

VICTORIAN NURSES

Many states and monuments all over the Empire perpetuate the memory of Queen Victoria. The Victorian Order of Nurses does the same thing. It is one of the best examples of the class of memorials which seek to commemorate a great name by some institution of useful service. Begun at the Diamond Jubilee as a distinctly Canadian organization it has relieved an immense amount of human suffering, and during the past twenty years it has brought help to many homes.

Not only is the Victorian Order of Nurses a Canadian institution but it had its origin in this city, says the Vancouver Province. Mrs. James Macaulay and the late Mrs. Duncan Gavin, who came to Vancouver from prairie homes and had witnessed the need for nurses among the scattered population brought the matter up before the Local Council of Women. The help of Lady Aberdeen, wife of the then Governor-General, was obtained. Queen Victoria graciously and gladly accepted the proposal, and in the end the women of Canada raised a sufficient sum to establish an order of nurses as a diamond jubilee commemoration. That it has gone on ever since, doing its merciful work with great efficiency and credit, is sufficient testimony to its stability and to the necessity for it. The order extends from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and has branches in every province. None but competent graduate nurses are admitted to the order. The managers of the Vancouver branch have recently acquired a new nurses' home. There are fifteen nurses in connection with this branch, and as an illustration of their usefulness it may be said that during the recent epidemic of influenza they attended to 158 cases. They go into the homes of the poor as well as those of the well-to-do. Some of the work of the Order is done gratis and some for very small fees. The aim is not to pauperize but to help over the hard places that so many have to pass through.

BETTER BOYS AND GIRLS

A great deal is being planned in Brandon for the benefit of the underprivileged boy. The lad, who, especially during vacation time, has little to do at home and although he may deliver parcels or be engaged at other work during the day, is liable to get into mischief, if nothing else offers, in the evening hours.

It is for these boys that some Brandon men are trying to establish supervised recreation in this city, with the opportunity of healthful, clean sport, which will make for the betterment of those who participate.

Most boys given the chance will choose the right thing rather than the wrong, but if no opportunity offers and there is "nothing to do" in the way of recreation then very often there is someone in "the bunch" who will propose some form of mischief which may eventually land the lads in the juvenile court.

Cities throughout Canada, where, by the way, juvenile crime seems to be on the increase, are awaking to the fact that supervised play is one of the greatest, if not the best preventative. The people of many cities are advocating supervised play with the hope of brightening the lives of the children of their particular community. Expert instructors are being engaged and plans made for the coming Summer vacation whereby the children who cannot leave the city for their holidays will have some form of healthful amusement.

Brandon is ahead of many cities in the matter of boys' work. The success of the Father and Son banquet recently held was proof of the splendid work being accomplished in this city. But there is a wide and fertile field North of the tracks and in other areas of the city where supervised play is badly needed.

But what about the Brandon girls? Boys are not the only ones who get into mischief. Splendid work is being accomplished in connection with "The Canadian Girls in Training," but there is also need for further work along the lines of supervised play for girls during the Summer months and recreation of the right kind for all the girls of this city.

Some mothers think that girls have very little time left for play after they have finished their lessons and accomplished the many household tasks assigned them. However, there must be some time for recreation with other young people for every girl, and it is during this period that supervised play is needed.

Realizing the need for Girls' work as well as Boys' work, several cities in the West have adopted the "Mother and Daughter week" conducted on somewhat similar lines as the "Father and Son week." "Mother's Day" will soon be here and would be an appropriate time for the commencement of a "Mother and Daughter Week" in this city.

With the zeal for better boys it is well to remember that better girls also help to make a better city. The girls also need careful guidance in healthful recreation so that they may be able to face whatever the future holds for them.

PHYSICAL TRAINING NEEDED

The request preferred by Brandon citizens that immediate steps be taken to restore, or institute, a thorough course of physical training in the Collegiate, has behind it a great deal of public support. There has been no such training for some time and it does not appear as if there would be any for the balance of this term. It seems to many as if the proper emphasis is not attached to the value of this training for growing boys and girls, particularly during 'teen age years. When the present Physical Instructor was engaged for the public schools, it was made clear that he would not handle the work at the Collegiate. One of the reasons given being the very good one that his time would be so fully taken up with the work in the public schools that it would be impossible for him to take on the other.

That was the time when the School Board should have faced the problem of providing a competent physical instructor for Collegiate pupils, instead of attempting a makeshift. Attempts to fill in this gap in the education of the youth failed, and have now been abandoned for the term.

Not until next September is there to be any physical training for the Collegiate, and there may be none then if more interest is not shown by the School Board members, than they have hitherto evinced.

Judging by results, which after all, is the proof of the pudding, a very different emphasis is laid on physical training in the Collegiate in Brandon to that in Ontario towns. Collegiate Institutes in Ontario have to engage a physical instructor, and give reasonable attention to the physical education of the pupil before they can get the Government grant.

The failure to provide such a course of training at the Brandon Collegiate, results, after citizens call their attention to it, in the School Board passing a resolution "to co-operate with the Collegiate staff in securing thorough and efficient organization and teaching in this department at the earliest date practicable." Though there may be no uncertainty in the minds of the members of the Board as to what they want done, their resolution provides cause for speculation as to what will be the result if the staff should not care to co-operate.

CRERAR TO SOON RESUME LEAD OF CROSS BENCHERS

Farmer's Leader Expects to Return to House of Commons This Week

Ottawa, April 13.—Hon. T. A. Crerar, leader of the New National Progressive Party in the Commons, is expected back at the end of the present week after absence of about a month, during which time he has been recuperating from the effects of an operation. It is expected that he will lead the cross benchers in their moves against the tariff, and there is also a strong hope on the part of his followers that he will be back in time to champion the cause of the men protesting against the clause in the Franchise Act which forbids any group or class of electors subscribing toward the cost of running candidates at a Federal election.

NO CASH BONUS FOR VETERANS IS GOVT'S DECISION

Ottawa, April 12.—Two important announcements were made by the Government in the House of Commons on Friday. The first of these was the statement by Acting Prime Minister Sir George Foster, that the Government had not changed its mind in regard to the granting of a cash bonus to returned soldiers and that it did not consider it a wise measure of re-establishment to place a lump sum of money in the hands of each returned man.

The second announcement also from the acting premier in answer to a question by J. E. Armstrong, Lambton, was to the effect that the Government had no daylight saving bill under contemplation at the present time. Daylight saving, said Sir George Foster, was entirely a matter for the towns and villages which wished to adopt it.

In announcing the policy with regard to cash gratuities, Sir George stated that the opinion of the Government had been fairly expressed at the last session of parliament after a long and careful examination into the whole subject of readjustment, reconstruction of relief by a committee of the House. At that time it was intimated that the Government was not in favor of a cash bonus or gratuity. Since then additional consideration had been given to the matter and the Government had decided that it could not change its mind with reference to the principle of a cash gratuity.

Financially Impossible

The financial condition of the country, said Sir George, as well as other considerations would not justify the Government in acceding to a request for a gratuity. The indeterminate amount running anywhere from four hundred million to a billion dollars, formed the most essential factor in the Government's conclusion, and the Government was not of the opinion and never had been, that the best way to re-establish the soldier was by putting a sum of money in his hands over which there would be no Government supervision.

Sir George stated that the Pensions Committee established this session would take the question of re-establishment into consideration and the Government would, as in the past, have the benefit of its advice and suggestions. The methods of re-establishment now in force, such as land, had the support of the Government settlement and vocational training and would be continued.

PROF. J. B. REYNOLDS LEAVES MANITOBA

Accepts Principalship of Ontario Agricultural College—Leaves July 1st

Winnipeg, April 12.—Prof. J. B. Reynolds, President of the Manitoba Agricultural College, will resign in order to take over the leadership of the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, Ont., according to an official announcement made at the government buildings by Hon. Valentine Winkler, Minister of Agriculture.

Mr. Winkler said that the Government had not received Mr. Reynolds' resignation yet, but expected that he would ask to be relieved of his duties by July 1st. The Minister of Agriculture expressed keen regret that Mr. Reynolds has decided to leave the M.A.C., stating that the task of selecting a successor would be a most difficult one.

CHILD'S RESTAURANT CO. TO BUILD BIG BLOCK KING STREET, TORONTO

Toronto, April 12.—Properties on King street, West, have been sold to the Child's Restaurant Company, of New York, for $475,000. The deal was completed by F. B. Bobins, who announced that it is the intention to erect a 12 to 14 storey building on the property, to cost about $1,000,000.

VANCOUVER TO ENTERTAIN CANADIAN MEDICAL MEN, JUNE 22ND TO 26TH

Vancouver, B.C., April 12.—The annual Canadian Medical Congress is due in this city June 22nd to 26th inclusive. BOOST MEMBERSHIP IN MOTOR LEAGUE

Advantages of Belonging to Such an Organization to be Made Plain

A special membership campaign will be carried out during the next two weeks for the Manitoba Motor League by a combined committee representing the Board of Trade, Kiwanis Club and the Brandon Auto Trades Association, together with Mr. R. Lloyd Davies, special organizer of the Motor League.

The object of the campaign is to secure proper membership representation on the Manitoba Motor League for Brandon, which is at present away down in membership compared to such points as Gladstone and Dauphin.

The Manitoba Motor League has now been in existence for the service of the motorist for the past fifteen years and has secured many benefits for the motorists which far offset the small membership fee paid by its members.

Among other features provided is an excellent road guide containing routes over the entire Province of Manitoba and extensions to Vancouver on the West, New Orleans on the South, Minneapolis, Chicago and Detroit on the East with affiliation of routes with the Ontario Motor League, available to members at reduced rates, covering all of Eastern Canada.

Headquarters for the campaign have been established at the office of the Western Motors, Limited, on Ninth street, where G. J. Nearing, Vice-President of the Motor League of Brandon and district, is supervising the campaign arrangements.

CRITICAL CONDITIONS IN FIUME AMONG D'ANNUNZIO'S MEN

Factional Quarrels Said to be Due to Lack of Food and Work

Trieste, April 12.—Conditions in Fiume are becoming more critical daily owing to factional quarrels among D'Annunzio's troops, labor unrest and lack of food and work. A committee has been sent to Rome to discuss with Premier Nitti plans for relaxation of the blockade of that city.

CLARK DECLARES TARIFF MAKES POOR POORER

Red Michael Says Protection Lowers National Character, Repels Best Immigrants

Toronto, April 12.—Declaring that the tariff "makes the rich richer and the poor poorer," Dr. Michael Clark, in an address at a meeting of the Independent Labor Party here yesterday, scored the tariff in strong fashion. He said the tariff repelled instead of attracted the best British immigrants corrupted public life, lowered national character and individual enterprise and produced and perpetuated inequality of fortune. He attributed the small increase in Canada's population in the past eighteen years to the tariff notwithstanding the millions of immigrants that came to the country and the natural increase and said that millions had gone to the United States because it was comparatively a free trade country.

INCREASE SLEEPING AND PARLOR CAR RATES 20 PER CENT.

Montreal, Que., April 12.—Twenty per cent increase in sleeping car and parlor car rates to meet the increase of from one hundred to two hundred per cent in the cost of these services, will be put into effect May 1st in the tariffs of Canadian and United States railway systems, according to a statement issued by the railways concerned.

PASSENGERS AND E CAR FALL TO NEW YORK STREET

New York, April 12.—Passengers on an elevated train had a remarkable escape from death today when they were catapulted to the street, a distance of 25 feet, in the midst of the debris of the car in which they had been bound to work. The front of the car was knocked off the elevated structure by a collision with another train and demolished. About a dozen passengers have been removed to hospitals.

TORONTO JOB PRINTERS ASK HIGHER PAY OR WILL LEAVE BUSINESS

Toronto, Ont., April 12.—Compositors, type setting machine operators and proof readers in job offices in this city threaten to seek employment in other industries carrying better pay, if the wage scale is not advanced to eighty-five cents an hour by April 24th.

MUNITIONS DUMP ON FIRE: 7 KILLED, 200 INJURED

Armored Cars Used to Rescue Those in Danger at Rotenstein, East Prussia

London, April 12.—Two hundred persons were injured in the explosion of an amunition dump at Rotenstein, East Prussia, in which seven persons were killed yesterday. The explosions are continuing and the rescuers are able to approach the scene only in armored cars.

SECRECY SURROUNDS MOVEMENTS BY MARSHAL FOCH

It is Suggested That Costs Be Met by Levy on German Cities Occupied

Paris, April 7.—The utmost secrecy is being maintained in official circles concerning the nature of the "military precautions" which Premier Millerand has instructed Marshal Foch to take in the Rhine occupation zone. A rumor was current in Paris that General Goutte's army began moving from Mayence and Wiesbaden upon Frankfort, but the War Office refused either to confirm or deny the report.

All Leave Cancelled

All officers and soldiers on Easter holiday leaves have been ordered to join their units immediately, and the local police in the various cities of France have been instructed personally to inform those on leave to return without delay.

Paris, April 6.—It is advanced in some well-informed quarters that occupation of Frankfort, Darmstadt, Homburg and Hanau is unlikely to exercise sufficient pressure upon the Germans since they may well argue that this occupation is distasteful to the French as well as to themselves and cannot continue indefinitely. On the other hand the expense of the operation comes up as a vital question in the present state of French finances. Monday morning's newspapers recall war tributes imposed by German troops upon French and Belgian cities and suggest similar measures being applied to German cities occupied by the French troops.

Ready to Move

Dispatches from Wiesbaden saying that General De Goutte's forces are under "alert" orders, are explained as not necessarily meaning an immediate advance, but complete readiness to move forward unless Berlin promptly recalls the troops which have entered the Ruhr district against protests from France.

No censorship has been established here on news of the intended operation, but since the matter now is entirely in the hands of Marshal Foch, communications from the army will probably be surrounded with the usual precautions, although the operation is not considered on a basis of war.

The Wiesbaden correspondent of The Matin declares that French troops commanded by General De Goutte, which are stationed along the Rhine, were prepared to enter German territory.

Newspapers continue to discuss the situation resulting from the entry of German Government troops in the Ruhr basin, and the Petit Parisien declares the indications given by the German note concerning these forces do not correspond with information received by Marshal Foch.

The British Government will decline to co-operate in the occupation of Frankfort, Darnstadt and other German cities, according to the London correspondent of Petit Parisien. but will, he says, "favorably follow the action of France, realizing the importance of the situation."

In the Southern part of the Ruhr district, says the Echo de Paris, the German Government troops have advanced without resistance, but have encountered serious opposition in the central portion of the Ruhr basin. Two hundred persons have been killed in a fight near Duisburg, according to information reaching this city.

SPARLING DISTRICT PEOPLE BID FAREWELL TO MR. AND MRS. ROBT. CROZIER

Following the evening service at Sparling Methodist Church last Sunday the members of the congregation remained to say farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crozier and the younger members of the family who leave this week for Pembroke, Ont., to reside. For nearly forty years Mr. Crozier has been a resident of the Justice-Sparling district and has always taken a keen interest in the various activities of the community. He was a Councillor of the Municipality for several years and was an earnest worker in the church and church choir. Mrs. Crozier also did splendid work in various church societies and they will both be much missed in the district. Last year during the influenza epidemic Misses Hazel and Gladys Crozier worked untiringly to help stem the tide of the disease in their district. Miss Hazel Crozier is now a member of the Nurses' Training School at the Brandon General Hospital. Mr. John Crozier, a son, who recently returned from France is now residing at Tisdale, Sask.

Rev. James Wilkins and several other people present gave short addresses expressing the regret of those present at the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Crozier from the district. Mr. James Powrie read a very appropriate address to Mr. and Mrs. Crozier and Mrs. J. S. Nelson, on behalf of those present presented them with a case of silver cutlery.

CORNWALLIS GOOD ROADS PROGRAM AN EXTENSIVE ONE

Will Take Three Years To Complete At a Cost of Over $100,000

THIS YEAR'S WORK

Is To Be Building of Thirty Miles —Lake Clementi Road To Be Made First

The good roads program mapped out by the Municipality of Cornwallis will be actively undertaken upon the arrival of S. A. Button of Winnipeg who is expected to arrive here Thursday. Mr. Button is a district engineer with the Good Roads Board and will have as his assistant on the work Mr. W. H. Shillinglaw who will represent the Municipality on the work. The program of road building for the Municipality of Cornwallis will cover a period of three years and will mean an expenditure of over $100,000.

This year's work will mean the making of thirty miles of good roads in the municipality and it will be the work of both Mr. Button and Mr. Shillinglaw to oversee construction. The first road to be built under the Good Roads plan will be the Lake Clementi trail, while the attention of the Municipality will then be directed to the Brandon Hills and Wawanesa road. Tenders are now being called for the work and it is expected that a start on the work will be made as soon as the weather permits. Both resident engineers will have offices in the Smith Block.

FIRST CONVENTION OF MUSIC TEACHERS IN WESTERN CANADA

Prof. W. L. Wright, of Brandon College Named a Member of the Executive

Prof. W. L. Wright, Director of Music at Brandon College, was appointed a member of the executive of the Manitoba Music Teacher's Association which was formed in Winnipeg, Tuesday, at the first annual convention of music teachers ever held in Western Canada. Miss Eva Clare of Winnipeg was elected President and D. B. McHardy of Gladstone, Secretary Treasurer.

The introduction of music credits into the high school curriculm crystallized the need for a provincial organization of music teachers. The constitution adopted declared the aim of the association to be raising the general teaching standards of music; to uphold the interest already aroused in music credits in the high schools, and as occasion arises, to extend the same; to hold an annual music teachers' convention; to assist the promotion, extension, and development of the art of music in Manitoba; to promote friendly relations and unity in the profession; to encourage time limits for stated terms of lessons. Membership is confined to those teachers who are members of local associations, or who are unable to join locals and apply to the executive.

Many interesting discussions took place at this convention and addresses were given by Dr. W. A. McIntyre, Mr. C. K. Newcombe and Mr. Rhys Thomas, all of Winnipeg. The visiting delegates were the guests of the Winnipeg Music Teachers' Association at the Symphony concert Tuesday night.

GREEK TROOPS TO MAKE ADVANCE IN ASIA MINOR

In Anticipation of an Eventual Attack By Mustapha Kemal

Athens, April 7.—Greek troops have been authorized by the Supreme Military Council of the Allies to advance in Asia Minor in anticipation of an eventual attack by Mustapha Kemal. They occupied a stragetic position East of the sector they held around Smyrna.

ALL-RUSSIAN FORCE DISARMED BY THE CHINESE

Upon Crossing the Mongolian Frontier When Pressed By Bolsheviki

London, April 7.—A Pekin dispatch says that 8,000 troops and 1,200 officers, part of the forces of General Dutoff, of the All-Russian army closely pressed by the Bolsheviki, crossed the Mongolian frontier and were disarmed by the Chinese authorities. The Russian force was accompanied by 10,000 civilians.

PREPARING TO GIVE BATTLE TO GRASSHOPPERS

Brandon District Organized—Reports of Appearance of Hoppers To Be Sent in at Once

A province-wide organization is now being planned to combat the spread of the grasshopper plague. The plans for the organization are being made by the district agricultural representatives and it is expected that the subject of grasshopper plague prevention will be the important discussion at a meeting of the Provincial Agricultural Representatives being held in Winnipeg this week. The reported outbreak and appearance of grasshoppers in the Oxbow district has been the signal for a great deal of activity to combat the spread of the plague this Spring.

Mr. A. Weir Agricultural Representative for Brandon stated this morning that the organization had already been effected here. One council man on each of the six councils in the Brandon district is to look after grasshopper preveitative work and to report the first signs of an outbreak in the district. A large quantity of poison is being shipped here and will be allotted to the various districts by the Agricultural Representative. Mr. Weir stated that he did not think there would be an outbreak here, but that they are taking measures to guard against the spread of the plague. Two minor outbreaks had occurred North of Douglas last year and there were a few isolated cases reported in Elton municipality, but no damage was done by the hoppers in the Brandon district in 1919.

ST. CATHARINES FIREMEN THREATEN TO WALK-OUT THURSDAY AT NOON

St. Catharines, Ont., April 7.—Following the refusal of the city council to grant an advance of twenty-five per cent. salary increase, every fireman on the local brigade, except the chief and assistant chief, yesterday, tendered their resignations, to take effect on Thursday noon.

JAPANESE OCCUPY CITY VLADIVOSTOK

Russians Surprised by Attack Make Little Resistance to Japs

Vladivostok, April 7—The Japanese forces are now masters of Vladivostok after several hours of severe fighting.

Vladivostok, April 7.—Throughout Tuesday night the Japanese fought with rifles, machine guns, grenades and small artillery in all portions of the city. Their incessant firing met little opposition as the Russians were taken by surprise, the Japanese move toward occupation having been unexpected by the party in power.

Early Tuesday the Japanese launched their attack in the Korean quarter, which they occupied. Later they marched Korean and Russian prisoners, tied together with ropes, through many of the streets of the city.

The last of the United States expeditionary forces left Vladivostok on April 1. A few hours subsequently to their departure, a proclamation was posted throughout the city stating Japanese troops would not evacuate Siberia at the present time. The proclamation warned all inhabitants against any unfriendly attitude on the part of the Russian population. The tenseness of the situation had increased hourly since the time until the clach Tuesday.

TO PUT A STOP TO SALE OF BABIES

Salt Lake City, April 7.—A campaign to prevent extension of the practice of selling babies was inaugurated here by Judge Hugo Anderson, of the juvenile court. The practice, according to the judge, has grown to alarming proportions and the plan he suggested would make the transfer of a baby from its mother to another person a legal process.

Reports to Judge Anderson from juvenile court workers, it was said, indicated that such transfers were so common as to be termed "promiscuous" between the real mother and women who yearned for children but desired to evade the discomforts of childbirth.

A state organization was being formed to secure legislation through arousing public sentiment against the sale of babies, as if they were real estate.

APPEAL DENIED IN GRIMM CASE

Seven Men Convicted of Second Murder for Part in Centralia Armistice Day Killings

Montesano, Wash., April 7.—C. C. Bland, Bert Bland, John Lambs, Eugene Barnett, James McInerney, Ray Becker and Britt Smith were sentenced to not less than 25 nor more than 40 years each in the state penitentiary by Judge John M. Wilson, after he had denied a defense motion for a new trial. The seven men were convicted March 13 of second degree murder for the slaying of Warren O. Grimm, a Centralia armistice day parade victim. Lorn Roberts, who the jury found insane, was ordered to be sent to the criminal insane ward at the state penitentiary.

The defense attorney took exception to the sentence and gave notice of appeal.

Judge Wilson said he could not pay any attention to the jury's plea for leniency for Barnett and Lamb, in the light of the evidence which was submitted. He said he regarded the cases against all the men as identical.

OTTAWA DISTRICT TO HAVE ANOTHER LARGE PULP AND PAPER MILL

Ottawa, April 7.—It is intimated in prominent pulp paper and lumber circles that the Ottawa district is shortly to have another large pulp and paper mill which is to be erected on the banks of the Gatineau river near Chelsea by the Royal Securities Corporation, Limited, Montreal, at a cost of approximately $1,000,000.

It is stated that the corporation will acquire the holding of the Gilmour and Hughson Lumber Company in that district.

BAVARIAN PLOT NIPPED IN BUD UPON DISCOVERY

Berlin, April 7.—A great military conspiracy which was to have been a Bavarian parallel to the recent Berlin revolution has been discovered in Munich, it is announced today. Part of the plan was that General Ludendorff was to be made dictator over Bavaria and Dr. Heim, of the Bavarian Spartacists, a sort of civil and economic dictator.

MANITOBA ARBOR DAY IS MAY TENTH

Winnipeg, April 7.—By a Provincial order-in-council the date for Arbor Day this year was set for May 10th. This announcement was made by Hon. Valentine Winkler, Minister of Agriculture, after the session of the cabinet council.

BRISK BIDDING GOOD PRICES AT SALE OF HORSES

With nearly three hundred buyers and horse enthusiasts in attendance the big horse sale is being held in the Winter Fair Arena today. The sale commenced at noon with Dan Hamilton of Neepawa doing the auctioneering of the animals. Up till the time The Sun went to press this afternoon the prices obtained for the horses were splendid and it was predicted that this sale would eclipse all previous horse sales held here in the average price for each animal. In all 175 horses are to be disposed of today. The horses worked all Winter in the Ontario lumber camps and are being bought up for Spring work on the farms.

Mr. M. Smith of Calgary is one of the heaviest buyers at the sale and has bought in a number of animals this afternoon. One of the high prices paid for a single horse was $325, A E. Smith of Vancouver being the purchaser. McDonagh Shee of Winnipeg bought a pair for $600 while several other pairs went for $580 and $555. Robert Flock of Brandon bought a good looking animal for $325, and James Turner of Carroll is also a heavy buyer of horses.

BRANDON BOY IS CALLED TO BAR AND JOINS WELL KNOWN LEGAL FIRM

Mr. G. F. Fisher, B.A., son of Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Fisher of this city, was called to the Manitoba Bar at the Law Courts in Winnipeg on Wednesday. He completed his law course last November, and has also completed his course at the University leading to the degree of L.L.B. and this degree University Convocation next month. Mr. Fisher has accepted a position with Messrs. Kilgour and Foster of this city and will commence his law practice with them about the first of May.

BRANDON SOON TO HAVE A GOLF AND COUNTRY CLUB

Club House May Be Formally Opened on the 24th of May

WORK ON NEW COURSE

To Be Commenced Soon As Weather Permits—Use Old Links For a Time

Probably the most enthusiastic meeting of golfers ever held in Brandon took place Wednesday night in the Prince Edward Hotel when the shareholders of the Brandon Golf and Country Club met in annual session. A very satisfactory financial report was presented and a general discussion took place concerning the further development of the proposed new golf course and the regulations with regard to members fees, etc. At this meeting the following were elected directors of the Club. Mr. R. G. Macdonald, Alderman A. L. Hall, Messrs. O. L. Harwood, A. W. Kreutziger, J. S. Willmott, E. L. Christie, Wm. Ferguson, G. F. Doig and A. B. Fleming.

After the adjournment of the general meeting the Directors met in special session and officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows;—President, Mr. R. G. Macdonald. Vice-President, Alderman A. L. Hall. Secretary Mr. A. G. Hatcher. Treasurer, Mr. J. B. Cordingley. Chairman of the House and Grounds Committee, Mr. A. W. Kreutziger. Chairman of the Building Committee, Mr. R. G. Macdonald. The chairmen were given power to choose the members of their committees from among the shareholders. A discussion took place as to the proposed amendments to the by-laws regarding membership in the club and it was also decided to canvass for further shareholders with a view to disposing of all liabilities. In the near future the price of shares will be raised.

Start Play on Old Course

Golf will be played on the Brandon Golf Club course until the new Brandon Golf and Country Club house is completed when the old course will be closed and the assets handed over to the Brandon Golf and Country Club as per agreement with the Brandon Golf Club. It is expected that the opening of the new club house will take place May 24th. As soon as the weather permits work will be commenced on the new golf course to get it in shape for play. Arrangements have been made with Mr. Fletcher, one of the leading professional players of Winnipeg, to come to Brandon at a day's notice to lay out the new course.

Organization Plans

It was in the Spring of 1914 that the Brandon Golf and Country Club was incorporated with a capitalization of $50,000, the price of shares being $100 each. During the first year a campaign was launched and $18,000 worth of stock sold. This made it possible to purchase the quarter section next to the Indian Industrial School known as the Jory farm, and plans were made for its development. With the declaration of war all plans regarding the new golf course were dropped and during the years of war no shares were sold. However through the efforts of some of the shareholders all stock was paid up and the land held until peace was declared.

With the end of the war, interest in golf revived and a campaign was commenced for the sale of further stock so that the Brandon Golf and Country Club could be developed this year. The campaign was a huge success and now there are 150 shareholders holding from one to six shares each.

This campaign enabled the directors to have the title for the land transferred to them and to undertake the development of the course this year.

The Club House

Contracts have been let for a comfortable and roomy club house which may be completed by May 15th. The club house will be a frame building thirty by forty with a fourteen foot screened verandah on the South and East side. It will have a full sized basement with outside entrance containing ladies' and gentlemen's dressing rooms, lockers, shower baths, etc. The main living room on the ground floor will be thirty feet square, have a hard-wood floor and a handsome cobble stone fire place. The dining room and kitchen will be situated off this room and there will also be a caretaker's dormitory on this floor. When the club house is completed it is expected that it will be one of the nicest for its size in Western Canada.

CONSIDERING RELEASE OF CONTROL OF WHEAT AND FLOUR IN ONTARIO

Toronto, April 7.—According to a circular received from the Canadian Grain Board, the Board will consider the matter of the control of wheat and flour for Ontario, although it proposes to maintain control in the Western Provinces until the crop is marketed.

BRITAIN'S CHAMPION BUTTER COW

The full year's work of Mr. John Bromet's great cow, Stanfield Dorrit, is 22,685 lbs. milk in 365 days and 1,013 lbs. of butterfat, which is equivalent to 1,192 lbs. of commercial butter. She was the first cow in the country to give over 1,000 lbs. of butter in the year.

the Leeds University Authorities for the Leeds Universit Aauthorities for the Yorkshire Milk Records Society. Her three-year-old son Routh Dorin is to be sold at Crewe on April 8th. Will he bring a record price? This great cow now weighs 15 cwt, 2 qrs., and her twelve-month-old son scales exactly 9 cwts, (112 lbs. per cwt.) Critics must find another name for these 2,000 galloners than "milking machines."

WEALTHY GERMANS ASKING ADMISSION TO SWITZERLAND

Geneva, April 7 — Thousands of German refugees, the majority of them wealthy, are gathering on the Northern Swiss frontier, and unsuccessfully demanding entrance into Switzerland.

The refugees declare they considered the occupation of Frankfort and other Southern German cities by the Allies a question of only a few days, and therefore are anxious to leave Germany.

WOMAN SHOT DOWN IN STREET

Lived in Winnipeg for Seventeen Years — Belonged to Well Known Colored Family

Winnipeg, April 7.—Mrs. Maurice Anderson, who was shot and killed last Saturday by her husband, according to reports received here from Chicago, had lived in Winnipeg for 17 years. Her name before her marriage three years ago was Idelle Blackburn, a well known colored family of this city, her parents being Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Blackburn, residing in the Steele block. Mr. Blackburn is G.T.P. mail clerk at the Union station. A younger brother, William, lives in Winnipeg, and a brother and sister, Tom and Lottie, who are also younger than Mrs. Anderson, are in Chicago. The sister was with Mrs. Anderson at the time of the tragedy. There is also one child, a two-year-old boy, surviving Mrs. Anderson and it is possible that Mrs. Blackburn will bring him back to Winnipeg with her. She went to Chicago as soon as she learned of her daughter's death.

Shot Down While in Street

Mr. Blackburn stated that he had not received full information about the shooting, He believed that Mrs. Anderson and her younger sister, who were living together in Chicago, were walking along the street shortly after noon last Saturday when they met Mr. Anderson. He shot his wife, who died almost instantly, according to the report from Chicago. Mr. Blackburn thought that the couple had not been getting along very well together. They lived in Winnipeg for a period after their marriage, he said, but Mrs. Anderson took her little son to Washington some time ago and was employed there as a stenograper. She was transferred not long ago to Chicago and Mr. Anderson also went to Chicago from Winnipeg, where he had been working as a porter in a drug establishment. The girl's father conjectured that the couple met in Chicago and made an unsuccessful attempt at reconciliation.

He said that Mrs. Anderson was 23 years old and that she attended Kelvin high school and afterwards graduated from a local business college.

After her death an Easter greeting card, mailed to her mother two or three days before, and stating that things were "going pretty well now," was received here.

BOLL WORM THREATENING U. S. COTTON INDUSTRY IN TEXAS AND LOUISIANA

Washington, April 7.—Department of Agriculture experts say the reappearance of pink boll worm in Texas and Louisiana presents the most serious situation which has ever confronted the United States cotton industry. Unless prompt measures are taken, they say, the boll worm will become a serious and permanent limiting factor in the production of cotton. They blame Texas for failure to carry out a program of control. A drastic quarantine is now in force in Louisiana.

AN IRISH FARMER BREAKS NEW LAW

Subscribes to Sinn Fein Loan and Gets a Three Months' Prison Term

Dublin, April 7.—Subscribing to the Sinn Fein loan in Ireland is an offence against the law, according to a ruling of two magistrates in County Wexford, who in a recent case held that such action was an "attempt to overturn the king's government."

A wealthy farmer who had bought Irish Republic bonds, worth £25, was to give bail for good behavior, was brought into court, and as he refused sent to jail for three months. Some Catholic bishops have subscribed for these bonds, but they have done so by sending their money to the United States.

The bitterness of feeling dividing the people of Ireland into two main sections extends even to learned societies, the Royal Irish Academy, the most learned body in Ireland, having just refused to re-admit Professor John MacNeil to its membership. He was formerly a member and the society published in its tracts many of his contributions to the study of early Irish history, in which he is an acknowledged expert.

After the rebellion of 1916 he was expelled on being sentenced to twenty years' penal servitude. He was long since released from prison and restored to his professorship in the National University of Ireland. His friends thought he should get back to the Royal Irish Academy but his re-admission was contested and defeated.

Opposition to the government never has been so general throughout Ireland as it is today. Some critics protest against the alleged severity of the military regime, but their attacks are met by demands from others, who assert that steps taken have not been sufficiently drastic and that measures intended to be coercive have failed of their object. Inability to discover leaders of recent disorders and failure to gain information as to plans for raids in future has resulted in sharp criticism.

Government agents are apparently often victims of misinformation and some military raids seem to have been based on data given by persons who are desirous of embarrassing the administration. From time to time raids result in the capture of arms and ammunition, but very often the soldiers take quantities of seditious literature. So much is printed adverse to the government that many homes quite innocent of sympathy with rebellion contain pamphlets that might be easily classified as seditious but possession of such literature is in itself a criminal offence.

A BEAUTIFUL

Ennis Piano

valued at $450 to be given for the best work done in the next 3 weeks

THE EXTRA PRIZE PIANO

To date the list of competitors in the big $8,000.00 Competition is extremely small as will be seen by the list shown on this page. The great majority of places are not represented at all by a Candidate. This means that an enormous opportunity lies open for more live contestants. The large sum of money to be given in prizes will make it certain that every worker will be rewarded magnificently.

Quite probably a great many prospective contestants have been hesitating about entering in order to first see how many others were in the field. The list given below tells the tale.

Practically nothing has been done to date and in order to start the Campaign off we are going to give an elegant mahogany finish, Ennis Piano, valued at $450.00 to the competitor doing the best work in the next three weeks. The winner of course may also win the big $1855.00 Chevrolet "Baby Grand" Touring Car at the close of the Competition which makes it an offer doubly attractive.

The winning will not be difficult. A little effort is the essential factor and The Sun guarantees that it is effort that will win.

First Prize - - Value $1,855.00

The first prize in the Sun's Big $8,000 Prize Competition will be an elegant Chevrolet "Baby Grand" Touring Car, with a cash value of $1,855, purchased from and on exhibition at the firm of Dennison Bros., Brandon.

A Competition That IS Different

The Sun is out not so much for new subscribers as it is for the renewal of the subscriptions of old subscribers and the collection of arrearages. New subscriptions will of course be accepted and points are given for same. No subscriptions of over five years will be accepted in the competition, however. If we can renew our old subscribers during the competition and collect what arrearages there are we will be well satisfied. In accepting new subscribers we will accept only those that we are fairly certain will renew their subscriptions when the time expires.

This type of subscription is the kind a competitor who gets out and "rustles" will secure. The worker will win and we mean to see that he does. If you possess the ability to exert this extra effort you will enter the competition and win.

WARM SUPPORT INTERNATIONAL WATER ROUTE

By A. P. Nelson, One of Wisconsin's Representatives in U. S. House of Congress

THE OPPOSITION

To the Project Comes from New York and Montreal, and is Mistaken

Washington, April 10.—(By Canadian Press)—One of the strongest supporters in Washington of the proposed international water route from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic is A. P. Nelson, representative of the Eleventh District, Wisconsin, in the House of Congress. Representative Nelson is an outspoken advocate of the co-operation of Canada and the United States in everything which tends to the mutual benefit of the citizens of the two countries, and he sees in the proposed deep water St. Lawrence route a means, not only of promoting the interests of his own country, but a further strengthening of the bonds of friendship which unite the peoples of the Dominion and of the United States. He recently presented a very forceful and lucid argument in favor of the projected route in a speech delivered in Congress.

Representative Nelson believes that if the United States neglects the present opportunity, Canada will ultimately have an all-Canadian route from the lakes to the sea, forcing the United States to find a route of its own. In an interview with the Canadian Press, he said:

"In a broad way there are three possible routes from the Great Lakes to the sea; one all-American; one all-Canadian; and one joint Canadian-American route. From every point of view the joint Canadian-American route down the St. Lawrence, along the international boundary line, is the only logical, practical, and economical route to construe. It is evident that if you Canadians should build, as I believe you ultimately will do, an all-Canadian route, we Americans would be compelled to do likewise, and the duplication of cost of construction and expense of upkeep of two routes would have to be borne by Canadian and American commerce and paid by the producers and consumers of the two countries.

Opposition to the Project

"The only opposition to the project," Mr. Nelson continued, "has come from Montreal, in Canada, and New York, in the United States. Montreal argues, 'Why should Montreal give up her prestige for the benefit of ports of the United States on the Great Lakes and a few Canadian villages on the North shore?' Meantime New York argues, 'Why should we spend our money to develop a waterway through Canada and promote the commerce of foreign ports and lessen the commerce of the port of New York?' Both are wrong; both are selfish. It is merely a case of selfish monopoly by reason of stragetic position on the seaboard against the welfare and happiness of the entire peoples of the two countries

"Our nation as a whole, and the great Middle West in particular, should not be sacrificed to the selfish and narrow provincialism of any one or two ports or any one province or state, or terminal. I cannot of course speak for Montreal, but as for New York, I believe when she sees this project in its broadest aspect she will enthusiastically support it. The opposition in New York is very limited and the rank and file of the people of the state will overwhelmingly support this project when they realize the tremendous advantage to be derived from it.

Flatly Contradicts Argument

Representative Nelson flatly contradicted the argument presented by some of his fellow countrymen that the proposed route would give Canada too great a military advantage.

'The naval terror can be dismissed as a mere nightmare and bugaboo, which will neither scare nor delude and well-informed American citizen," he said. "Hostilities with Canada, our friend and neighbor, are well-nigh inconceivable, such a situation would mean that both Christianity and civilization had completely broken down. Over 100 years without a fort or a gun on our 4,000 miles of international boundary assure us that we can build in perfect faith and peace. And closer international business relations will undoubtedly tend to bind us closer as friends and neighbors.

"From a military point of view the joint route is the only correct one for my country, as we would continue to have, as now, absolute joint control of all war vessels entering the lakes from the sea. Independent routes might place either government in a position of military suspense and in an attitude of feeling called upon to provide military fortifications and defences upon the Great Lakes, which I fervently hope may never maintain. I hope that the only line of defence between Canada and the United States may continue to be that imaginary boundary line.

Develop Immense Power

"Sooner or later," continued Mr. Nelson, "the immense power of the St. Lawrence must be developed. So great a natural resource can not much longer be neglected just because it happens to lie on an international boundary. If there are complications, business diplomacy must overcome them. As there is a prospective preponderance of benefits, engineering skill must adjust them. Coal is getting each year more costly to bring to the districts removed from the mines. Hydro-electric power is every year becoming more of an economic necessity. The people of Canada and the United States cannot afford not to use the St. Lawrence.

"If within ten years the major portion of the available horse power could be utilized at the present price of coal, the total cost of the entire project would be saved in two years. Lake access to the sea is not only an expenditure to encourage navigation, but also an investment in hydro-electric power that promises to pay large dividends.

"I sincerely hope that my country will not hesitate to join Canada in the St. Lawrence development, particularly as competent engineers have declared the project is perfectly feasible and that the return on the water power alone, leaving out all advantages of transportation, will more than pay for the entire investment.

"Courageous and far-sighted, Canada, with a population of less than one-fifth of that of the United States, and with an estimated national wealth of less than one-twentieth of that of the United States is ready to join hands with the United States on a fifty-fifty contribution basis to develop this marvellous water power and navigation project. The United States must not and will not hesitate."

OUTRAGES REPORTED FROM DIFFERENT PARTS OF IRELAND

Of Three Constables Attacked One Was Killed, Another May Die

London, April 10. — Further Outrages in different parts of Ireland were reported today. The vacated police barracks at Black Roy, outside Limerick boundary, was burned down. Four men arrested under the defense of the realm act, were taken to Cork.

At Nemagh, Tipperary, reports say three constables were shot while riding bicycles from Rearcross to Newport. It is said that one of the constables was killed, another fatally injured, and the third badly wounded.

The mail van from Cavan to Arva was held up near Crossdonney and more than £100 sterling representing old age pension money, was stolen.

The Protestant cathedral at Ross Carbery, County Cork, was entered Wednesday night and the statue of the late Lord Carbery, valued at £1,000, damaged beyond repair.

GERMANS WORKING FEVERISHLY ON NEW MONSTER AIRSHIPS

Genova, April 10. — The Germans are working feverishly to construct giant commercial and passenger airships and airplanes, according to a report from Romanshorn. The first trials were successfully held yesterday of two monster machines above Lake Constance.

The airship Nordstern, greatly surpassing the Zeppelin odenzee, in size, capacity, and power, flew for half an hour around the lake with a crew of seven. At the same time the new giant hydroplane whose motors totalled 1,000 horsepower, made airial trips with 20 passengers. Both machines were recently completed atFriedrichhaven, where the factory is said to have been doubled insize since the armistice, and other monsters have already been begun.

The Germans are concealing the results of the trials and no reports of them are published in the press.

VETERANS TELL TALES OF VIMY

On Anniversary of That Great Battle in Which Canadians Figured so Largely

The anniversary of the battle of Vimy Ridge was commemorated Friday night when the Army and Navy Veterans and the members of the Great War Veterans' Association met in the G. W. V. A. rooms and exchanged reminiscences of this great Canadian battle and also of other battles in which they had taken part. Mr. D. Shirriff acted as chairman and during the evening made the announcement that the anniversary of Vimy will be observed in St. Matthew's Church on Sunday and that all Veterans in the city had been invited to attend the morning service.

A pleasing feature of the evening was the presentation of gold signet rings with the G. W. V. A. badge upon them to the gentlemen who rendered "Yeoman Service" in the meeting of trains during the past few years to welcome home Brandon men and to speed others on their journey. Messrs. George Stordy, H. Cater and W. Williams were the recipients and Mr. C. Blake made the presentation.

Short addresses were given during the evening by Messrs. C. Whillier, W. J. Creelman, C. Blake and T. M. Percival. Artists contributing to the musical program included Mrs. Winn, Messrs. S. Lowes, P. Boden, G. Butler, C. Blake, and an exhibition of Indian club swinging was given by Mr. Allen Campbell. The accompanist was Mr. Alfred Francis. Several selections rendered by the Great War Veterans Juvenile Orchestra were very much enjoyed.

A number of the men present had seen service at Vimy and told some modest but interesting stories of their experiences.

SASKATOON STREET CARS MAY OPERATE AT A LOSS THOUGH FARES ADVANCED

Saskatoon, Sask., April 10.—The street railway for this year is not due for any dazzling gains, according to an estimate made by the City Commissioner, C. J. Yorath, for the information of the City Council. On the contrary, he states, it is doubtful that this utility will break even at the end of the year, in spite of the fact that the fares have been increased.

FRANCHISE BILL LIKELY TO PASS

Ottawa, April 10.—That the Franchise Bill will in all probability go through Parliament in its present form and without any further amendments in the way of disenfranchisement, is the general concensus of opinion of Government followers, following the caucus held Friday. There were some very outspoken passages from soldier members in regard to the proposed disfranchisement of defaulters.

No Daylight Saving Law

Ottawa, April 10.—A goodly number of the non-contentious clauses of the Franchise Bill were put through committee Friday.

Sir George Foster announced that there would be no Federal Daylight Saving Law this year.

CHIEFS DECLARE STRIKE DESIGNED TO DESTROY UNION

Of Trainmen and Switchmen—Wage Demand Injected for Purpose of Deception

STRIKE BEYOND CONTROL

U. S. Department of Justice Declines to Make Statement at This Time

Cleveland, April 10.—A signed statement was issued last night by the chiefs of the four big transportation brotherhoods, saying that the present strike of switchmen was originated for the purpose of destroying the brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Switchmen's Union of North America, and that the wage demand of the later were injected for the purpose of deceiving the yardmen through out the country and promoting the One Big Union.

Union Loses Control of Strike

Washington, April 10.—Virtually admitting that the strike of railroad trainmen and switchmen over the country had gotten beyond control of union officials, W. G. Lee, President of the Brotherhood of Trainmen, telegraphed Representative Cooper, Republican, today, asking whether the present laws "apply to renegade organizations or those inciting illegal strikes."

Cooper, as a member of the trainmen's union, took the matter up with Acting-Attorney General Ames, and was told that while the Department of Justice was watching the situation, it had no statement to make at this time.

Before the telegram was received, the Senate had adopted without a record vote, Senator McCormick's resolution directing the Inter-State Commerce Committee to investigate all strikes of railroad employes not sanctioned by responsible officers of the railroad unions.

SNAILS MAKING OSPREY PLUMES OF POPLAR LEAF

For years and years there has been an ineffectual crusade against the wearing of osprey feathers, owing to the cruelty practiced on the birds in obtaining the feathers. Now, however, an unexpected turn has been given to the campaign by a Chelsea woman named Mrs. Sainthill, who claims by means of an alliance with snails, to have discovered an effectual substitute.

"I have been one of the foremost in preaching against the wearing of osprey feathers," Mrs. Sainthill is quoted in London interviews, "and came to the conclusion that the only way was to find an efficient substitute.

"My new osprey feather is a poplar leaf. But it took me months and months of investigation before I found how to convert the leaf into the feather. Eventually I discovered that in the Gloucester Cotswolds there exists a certain species of snail of a very minute type that will feed continuously on the poplar leaf and on the poplar leaf alone.

"When I discovered this I started a snail farm, and have now thousands of leaves which have been treated by snails.

"They are very good snails, though there are lazy ones and stupid ones. They eat all the matter from the leaf, leaving nothing but the absolute fibre, thereby producing a skeleton leat. When they are stupid and silly they eat the fibre. When they do this I give them my blackbird, who is a very old friend of mine.

"Jackie, the blackbird, is my only assistant in sorting the snails. He sleeps in a corner of my studio in the bungalow and during the day spends all his time stalking around the place and devouring with avidity all the snails that he and I together reject as useless or lazy.

"They are very particular snails. They will not eat any leaf but the poplar. I have tried them with every kind of leaf, but they merely get into a corner and sulk together. By dint of starving them very hard I have managed to get them to tackle the lime tree leaf, but they would rather die in most cases.

"For years I have been experimenting, and some time ago arrived at a permanent process of hardening the leaf and gilding or bronzing it. Bronzing is the passion of my life.

"My room is full of bottles of dyes and snails and gold and silver bronze, and I can produce the most amazing colors.

"If that isn't better than the osprey that is torn from the mating bird, I should like to know what is.

"Sell any? Of course I do. Hundreds and hundreds a year. My work has now reached such a stage that I have been asked to put up a big show at the horticultural exhibition."

BRIEF GLIMPSE INTO EARLY CRADLE OF HUMAN RACE

Prof. C. H. Lager Presents Historical Facts in Most Interesting Manner

CRADLE OF MANKIND

Yields Secrets Only to Students Who Spend Years in Research

The Education Society of Brandon and the Board of Trade offered their last lecture for the Winter in the Collegiate Auditorium Friday night. Prof. Lager, of Brandon College, who was the speaker of the occasion, was favored with a large audience who, for an hour and a half, attentively followed the lecture and the many interesting slides, as they were projected on the screen. The new Brandon College lantern, which probably is the best and most modern lantern in our city, was run with great skill by Professors T. R. Wilkins and B. L. Allen.

The World Did Not Begin To Think Yesterday

The speaker stated that 5,000 or 6,000 years ago, our ancestors living in the Nile Valley or the Euphrates Valley, were surprisingly like their children living today. They had schools and libraries, could read and write, had highly efficient business methods, built magnificent temples in which they worshipped their gods. some people lived in the crowded cities of those ancient days. Others were shepherds, moving their flocks and black tents from pasture to pasture, while others, a very large percentage of the population too, were skillfull farmers, cultivating the fertile soil in the river valley.

Until recently, however, our knowledge of the ancient Orient, the cradle of mankind, has been deplorably fragmenaary.Since the fall of the Egyptian and Babylonian empires, long before the birth of Christ, the ancient home of mankind has been a closed book, sealed with seven seals. Expeditions have been sent into the Euphrates Valley and private individuals have visited many sights of ancient civilization, but they have been unable to read the Cuneiform inscriptions. Scholars worked for nearly a hundred years trying to discover a key for the language. It was finally found, and the riddle of the centuries began to reveal its hidden treasures.

Explorations have been conducted in the ancient ruins for nearly three generations. Henry Rawlinson, a young Englishman and officer in the Persian army, in 1835 discovered several great inscriptions on the Behistun Rock. They had been engraved by Darius in the year 515, B.C. Exposing himself to great dangers, Rawlinson spent four years in copying the texts from the high and steep rock. He also succeeded in changing the mysterious Cuneiform signs into an intelligible language. Some private individuals, universities and different countries began to send expeditions into the Orient. Priceless treasures in monuments and inscriptions have been recovered, and millions of dollars have been spent in science's determined and untiring effort to recover the ancient world for modern science.

Inscriptions and Monuments

Prof. Lager showed a number of clay tablets covered with inscriptions and belonging to the Sumarian age, 2,500 B.C. The Code of Emperor Hammurabi, who was a contemporary of Abraham, is the oldest law-book in the world. It was engraved upon a large black diorite stela, discovered a few years ago and now kept in the museum in Paris. Some of the 247 laws were recited. Most of these laws would be considered to be quite modern, but some evidently belong to a primitive society. Hammurabi, for instance, says:

"If a son strike his father, they shall cut off his fingers."

"If a man steals a young son of a man, he shall be put to death."

"If a man has struck the cheek of a man who is his superior, he shall be struck in the assembly with sixty strokes of a cow-hide whip."

"If a doctor has treated a gentleman for a severe wound with a bronze lancet and has caused him to die. . . . one shall cut off his hands."

A large number of other pictures revealing social, political and religious conditions in early human society, was projected on the screen, such as:

A Babylonian creation tablet, more than 4,000 years old.

A deluge tablet of the same age.

The famous "Israel Stela," belonging to the Mosaic age and containing the name "Israel" in the Egyptian script.

The Pyramide, seen from different sides.

The Sphinx, the national monument of the ancient Egyptians.

A Tell El-Amarna tablet from the 15th century B.C.

Ramses II., the Pharaoh who oppressed the Hebrews in Egypt.

The Palace of Omri and Jehu, recently found in the excavations of Samaria.

The famous "Black obelisk" of Shalnaneser, containing a sculptured picture of King Jehu of Israel, paying tribute to his Assyrian over-lord.

The Moabite stone, from the 9th century B.C.

The Rosetta stone, and many other portraits and inscriptions.

During the last half-hour, the lecturer took his audience with him on a tourist visit through the Holy Land. By means of beautifully colored slides about forty of the most interesting sights in Palestine were visited, such as Jaffa, Jerusalem, Bethlehem, the Grotto, in which Christ was born, Hebron, Sea of Galilee, the Temple of Jerusalem, the Mosque of Gethsemane, Calvary and other places.

cases ended in death! So a recent Canadian investigation showed. These were not cases of infectious diseases — of consumption — of typhoid! They were cases where a person had sustained some slight injury—a cut, a burn, a wire-prick—and where the wound, being thought not serious enough for careful treatment, had been neglected. Blood-poisoning and death resulted.

When you or your children sustain any injury, ensure against infection by applying Zam-Buk. This balm soothes the pain, stops bleeding, and by destroying all germs prevents blood-poisoning, etc. Hence no time need be lost from work or pleasure by those who use Zam-Buk. All dealers, 50c. box.

The gifts were presented to the guest of honor in an Easter basket carried by little Miss Helen and Master Donald Edmondson. Mrs. Marshall presided at the cups while Mrs. Chantler cut the ices. Miss Baxendale and Miss Jean Wilson assisted serving. During the afternoon musical numbers were rendered by Miss Gladys Cochrane and Miss Frances McKellar.

Just prior to leaving Caron, Sask., last week, where she had been a member of the teaching staff for some time, Miss Pelton was made the recipient of a cut glass water set and some cash.

MOSSOP—RICHARDSON

A quiet wedding was solemnized at St. George's Church Wednesday afternoon, when Rev. S. R. Hammond performed the ceremony which united Miss Martha Frances Richardson of Miniota in marriage to Mr. Jonathan Mossop, also of Miniota. The bride was becomingly gowned in white silk heavily embroidered, and wore a picture hat of pale blue. Her corsage bouquet was of carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Mossop will return to Miniota the end of the week, where they will reside. While in Brandon they are guests at the Cecil Hotel.

DAVIES—REDDOCK

A quiet wedding took place last Thursday at the home of Rev. R. S. Laidlaw, Devon Court, Broadway, Winnipeg, when Robertson Davies was united in marriage to Miss Mary Reddock, formerly of Brandon. Rev. Mr. Laidlaw officiated. The bride was attended by Miss Jean Templeton while the groom was supported by Mr. R. S. Hamilton. Both bride and bridesmaid wore navy blue tailored suits with hats to match. After the ceremony dinner was served at the Olympic Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Davies will reside at suite 7, Anoka Apartments, Fort Rouge, Winnipeg.

The groom, who is now a member of the staff of the Merrick Anderson Hardware Co., of Winnipeg, was formerly with the 8th Battalion and was awarded the Military Medal for services rendered while overseas.

HUMESVILLE ENDEAVOR ENTERTAINS

Humesville church was the scene of a merry gathering Friday evening, when the Christian Endeavor Society entertained at a crokinole tournament and pie social. Seven tables were placed for the tournament and the games were keenly contested. Messrs. Allan Law and Gordon Grant carried off the winning honors while the booby prizes went to Miss Eva McDonald and Mr. Jack Hutchinson. Following the tournament pies were auctioned off, the young men bidding and paying for the pies with beans. Rev. M. J. Leith performed the duties of auctioneer in a capable manner. Tea and sandwiches were then served by the young ladies after which the party was brought to a conclusion. Those present were Rev. M. J. Leith and Mrs. Leith, the Misses Marjorie and Isobel Leith, Annie Law, Grace McDonald, Eva McDonald, Gertrde Watkins, Reta Watkins, Lottie Leybourne, Ida Hutchinson, Barbara Ferguson, Mary Ferguson, Edna Burton, Bessie McPhail, Laura Cole, Jennie Burton, Mary McPhail, and Messrs. Elmer and Jack Hutchnnson, Norman Leybourne, Elmer Grant, Peter Ferguson, Allan Burton, Dan McDonald, Gordon Grant, Gordon McDonald, Fraser Marshall, Jack Hutchinson, Norman Leybourne Haword McPhail, Carman McPhail, Willie Evans, Allan Cole, Clarence Cole, Stewart Park, Allan Law, and Leslie Walker.

McMILLAN—HEATLIE

The marriage of Janet, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Heatlie, 148 Thirteenth street, to Frederick James McMillan, son of Mrs. F. McMillan, Chamouny Apartments, took place today at one o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. M. L. Orchard officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, entered the drawing room to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin," played by Mrs. G. Harrup. Miss Marguerite Gardner acted as bridesmaid while Mr. William Dodds supported the groom.

Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served and later the happy young couple left on the afternoon train for Winnipeg en route to Toronto and other Eastern points. Mr. and Mrs. McMillan will reside in the East.

SHOOTS GIRL AND THEN HIMSELF

George Locke Taken to Winnipeg Hospital in Serious Condition From Bullet Wounds

Winnipeg, April 13. — After firing four shots at Miss Myra Fidler, a boarder, and putting a bullet in his own temple, a man whose name was as George Locke was taken to the General hospital Monday at noon in a serious condition, from a house at 139 Kennedy street. The girl jumped through a window at the rear of the house and was also taken to the hospital in the same ambulance with Locke.

Andrew Cloughton, who runs the boarding house where the shooting occurred, said that dinner was in progress when Miss Fidler came in, accompanied by a man who was unknown to anyone in the house. The two were heard arguing in the hall, and a few minutes later the shots were heard. It has not been established whether or not any of the four shots fired at the girl as she fled from the house took effect. Before anyone could reach the hall the man placed the gun to his head and pulled the trigger, according to information furnished by the police.

Two Had Kept Company

Locke is said to be a market gardener, of the Argyle district. He served overseas with the Canadian forces and returned recently. It is understood that Locke and Miss Fidler had kept company with each other for some time and that Locke was insanely jealous of her,

Miss Fidler is 20 years old. She had worked for two years in the mail order department of a large departmental store in the city. She is a native of Manitoba.

A letter was found by the police in Locke's possession, explaining his action in shooting Miss Fidler and himself. In the letter he asked that they be buried together. He said she refused to marry him, and he couud not live without her. Thirty rounds of ammunition for a 38 calibre automatic revolver were found in his possession. Hospital authorities say there is a chance Locke may recover.

PROGRAM FOR PEACE CONFERENCE AT SAN REMO, ITALY

Paris, April 13.—The Peace Conference at San Remo will probably open on April 19th. It will consider the treaty with Turkey ,and among other things, probably settle the military clauses not determined at London. The question of Constantinople will not be raised again, but the question of Smyrna will be taken up.

FIVE AUTOMOBILE BANDITS ESCAPE WITH $25,000 OF TRACTION COMPANY CASH

Wheeling, W. Va., April 13.—Five automobile bandits entered the Wheeling Traction Companys barn at Follansbee, W. V., 20 miles North of here, Monday morning, bound and gagged three barn men and a motorman and conductor, blew open two safes and escaped with the Saturday and Sunday receipts of the division, amounting to $25,000.

FRAUD AND WASTE IN U.S. ARMY CAMPS

Department of Justice to Bring Suit to Cover $78,000,000 Alleged Losses

Washington, April 13. — Criminal prosecutions by the Department of Justice and suits to recover $78,000,000 alleged to represent government losses through fraud, waste and extravagance in the cost-plus system of contracts for building the sixteen ational army cantonments, were demanded Monday in a report to the house by the sub-committee on camps and cantonments of the War Department expenditure committee.

The report, which is the result of nearly a year's investigation, recommends an amendment to the constitution making profiteering in wartime, treason, and legislation to prohibit all cost-plus contracts. Representative McKenzie, Illinois, and Representative McCulloch, Ohio, Republican, of the sub-committee, signed the report, while Representative Dorium, Michigan member, in a minority report, declared there was found "very little" evidence of fraud, and had the cost-plus system not been adopted "the Germans would have been in Paris before our soldiers reached the battle lines"

Of all camps and hospitals built during the war at a cost of approximately $1,200,000, the majority report estimates that the alleged loss to the government from fraud and extraragance due to the cost-plus system ranged from 30 to 50 per cent. The committee audited the contracts of the sixteen national army camps, and claims that the loss to the goveramet was $78,000,000 out of a total of $206,000,000.

DAUPHIN DISTRICT MAY BE RICH IN OIL

Area Between Gilbert Plains and Dauphin to Be Explored for Oil

Winnipeg, April 13.—The area between Gilbert Plains, Man., and Dauphin, Man., is to be explored for oil by the Anglo-Dominion Company, A. F. A. Coyne, managing director and Canadian financial commissioner of the company, who is in Winnipeg, announced. In addition 30 wells will be sunk in September in the territory, 367 square miles in extent, between Athabasca Landing and Fort Mackenzie, between 100 and 260 miles North of Edmonton, according to Mr. Coyne. The leases for this ground have been all filled up, he announced. The yield from these 30 wells is expected to be between 5,000 and 10,000 barrels. At House river, on the Athabasca river, it is reported, one well spouted 500 barrels in 7 minutes on October 18th, 1919. Piping valued at $1,000,000 and 30 drilling outfits are held under option by the company, and these will arrive in the country prior to the commencement of operations in September.

"There is no question that Manitoba and Western Canada possess an inexhaustible supply of petroleum and Great Britain has realized that she must control an abundant oil supply in view of the lessons learned of the importance of oil fuel in the war," declared Mr. Coyne. He also stated that it is a practical certainty that the discovery of this oil, and the working of the fields will provide for Canada an industry on a par with those of the railways and the grain businesses.

BERESFORD PLOWING MATCH TO BE HELD ON THURSDAY, JUNE 24TH

At a recent meeting of the Beresford Local of the United Farmers of Manitoba much business of importance was transacted. It was decided to hold the Beresford annual plowing match on Thursday, June 24th. Interesting addresses were given by Rev. Mr. Sallons and Mr. Jas. Adderson on the subject of "Proportional Representation" and after they had thoroughly outlined the situation an instructive general discussion took place.

The following resolutions were passed:

Resolved that this Association petition the United Grain Growers Ltd. to establish a warehouse in Brandon.

Resolved that this association place itself on record as disapproving the action of certain Canadian manufacturers in boycotting the advertising pages of our official organ "The Grain Growers' Guide."

The question of petitioning the oil company in regard to erecting an oil tank or warehouse at Beresford was thoroughly discussed. A resolution was passed endorsing the scheme and promising the support of the Association. This was handed to Mr. R. A. Cox who will present it to the headquarters of the various oil companies in Winnipeg.

There isn't very much hope for the man who has reached the age of 40 and isn't more or less of a crank.

HOW GANGH THE LION WON THE VICTORIA CROSS

Tale Told by Blind Man Who Would Not Admit He Was the Hero

Vancouver, B.C., April 12.—Bhai Ranghi Singh, priest and reader in the Sikh temple on Second avenue, closed the Granth Sahib, from which he had been reading to the assembly the maxims of Bhai Gohind Singh. With a show of reverence he drew over the Holy book its silken covering and Hasub Singh, who while the volume was unprotected had waved a big white duster over it to guard it from possible contamination, put away the duster.

Bhai Ranghi now addressed the congregation, stroking his great curly black beard.

"Brothers, we have with us under this roof today, one of our brotherhood who has added to the records of the Khalsa and to the lore of the people one more story for men to tell.

"Our brother, Ressaldar Gangh the Lion, who is now with us under this roof, is one of those whose deeds are recited in the books of the English. Our brother was also honored by the King of England in due proportion to the greatness of his deed. As it is known to you the highest reward given by the English King for services in battle is a little cross fabricated of metal from guns taken from the enemy in conflict. To the honor of the Khalsa it may be said, that not a few Sikhs have gained this cross. Our brother the Ressaldar Gangh Singh, is one of those. He is here today, but tomorrow will take ship for Hind. For your edification he will tell the tale of his deed which brought honor to the Khalsa."

Then Ressaldar, Gangh the Lion, came from where he had been seated among the congregation. He presented a deplorable spectacle, but he smiled cheerfully as if his injuries were quite negligible. He had lost his eyesight; and artificial limbs had replaced an arm and a leg taken off close to the body. Guided by a companion he clumped forward and seated himself in a chair placed for him in front of the assembly.

"Brothers," he began, in the toneless voice of the blind, "I have listened to the words of the Bhai, who is a good man. Before the great war, in my regiment, we often said that we would be perfectly happy if we had a war, fighting. War came and we were happy. We fought for nearly four years. The regiment gained much merit, honor. There are few of us left.

"The Bhai, who is a good man, has promised you that I would tell the tale of my small service. That I cannot do, a soldier cannot speak of his own service, duty. I esteem very highly the honor you have done me. It is good to be here with you, my brothers.

"I have dealt some good strokes. But I am alive. It is the dead to whom honor is due. Your Bhai, who is a good man, has told you that I, Ganga Singh, made in the war another story for men to tell. Let me speak of the deed of certain men of my regiment who, dying, left a story more worthy to be told.

"It was at Baim, in Roum, (Turkey). There was a river to cross and a bridge must be made of boats, under very heavy fire from machine guns. It was asked that men from my regiment volunteer to prepare the bridge, a very dangerous service. All volunteered, though death was almost certain. A number were chosen, and made ready the bridge. But when the work was almost done, all had been slain save one man, to whom it was given to complete the work alone. But it was finished and a battalion rushed across, and though many were slain the enemy was driven from his trenches and victory was won. Those who prepared the bridge died, but the tale of their deed will never die.

"And the leader of those who prepared the bridge and the man who completed the work alone, the only survivor, and the first to volunteer, my brothers," said Bhai Ranghi, when the flat voice had ceased, "was the Rassaldar, Gangh the Lion."

The members of the congregation rose to their feet, their arms raised in the Sikh salute.

"Rango! Rango!" they shouted.

MRS. A. WILDE, VANCOUVER, DEAD AS RESULT DRINKING SOME FERMENTED BREW

Vancouver, B.C., April 13.—Believed to have succumbed to poison engendered by the fermentation of fruits, Mrs. A. Wilde was found dead on Sunday morning. An unidentified Japanese is also dead through drinking some of the fermented brew, the nature of which will be determined by an analyst der the special war revenue act 1915 for the 1917 period.

298 STRIKES AND LOCK OUTS IN CANADA IN 1919

Strikes and Labor Disputes Last Year Break Country's Record

Ottawa, April 12.—There were more strikes, labor disputes and general industrial turmoil with consequent time lost in Canada during 1919 than in any other year in the country's history. This is revealed in a report compiled by the Labor Department at Ottawa and just issued.

Including eight carried over from 1918, there was a total of 298 strikes and lock-outs in Canada during 1919. The number of employes involved was 138,988 and the number of employers 1,913. The total number of working days lost was 3,942,189. The previous record in working days lost was in 1911 when the record stood at 2,046,650 days lost.

There were several outstanding strikes which contributed largely to the total time lost. Among these were the general sympathetic strikes in Winnipeg from May 15th to June 26th, involving (according to Labor Department figures) 22,860 employes and a time loss of 924,562 working days; the strike of coal miners in district 18 from May 24th to the end of August, involving 6,266 employes and a time loss of 462,879 working days.

MAJOR PULLEN FINISHES LAST, VOTING FOR FEDERAL SEAT IN TEMISKAMING

Cobalt, Ont, April 13.—Major Pullen, Conservative, Union Government candidate in the recent by-election, will finish last in the contest. Belated returns from the North, put A. G. Slaght, Liberal, in second place. Monday's standing is McDonald, 5,258; Slaght, 3,094; Pullen, 3,042. There are two polls still to come.

DEPUTATION ASKS FOR

Dr. Condell stated than in view of the unsatisfactory report that it would be best for the School Board to go ahead with their plans for the erection of a school on Twelfth street. It is understood that this building will be proceeded with at once and that a three storey building will be erected instead of a two storey as originally planned.

Can't Open Rooms: No Teachers

Superintendent White's report on the public schools provided some interesting features. He stated that for the first time in eleven years there is a scarcity of teachers, and that it was found impossible to open two additional rooms on this account after the Easter holidays. An effort will be made to open the rooms Wednesday. Sickness is one of the causes given by Mr. White for the scarcity of teachers.

Situation on the Flats

The situation on the Flats was fully investigated by Mr. White who reported that several Polish families moved away some weeks ago, but the movement has apparently stopped. Those familiar with the situation say the people are unsettled. So far as the schools are concerned, Mr. White says that he only had a record of one family moving away whose children attended public school. The enrolment had been maintained quite steadily during this period. In the Eighteenth street school there are more than fifty junior Grade One pupils, and ten new pupils are expected to enter school this month. The number of children attending school on the Flats is steadily increasing and Mr. White pointed out that the situation is growing more and more difficult on account of the lack of accommodation.

Fitton Suggests Conference

That the School Board is not gaining anything by delaying the drawing up of a new schedule for the teachers was the statement made by Mr. Fitton, who urged immediate action on the part of the Board in securing data and then meeting the teachers in a round table conference. The other members of the Board favored this move and a special evening will be given over to the consideration of a schedule and the whole matter gone into at a meeting to be held shortly.

School Board Estimates $158,265

The school estimates for the year 1920, which had been first fixed at $150,000 was formally passed Monday evening at $158,265. The City Council will be asked to levy for this amount in this year's taxes. Mr. J. B. Beveridge, secretary of the School Board, said that these estimates did notprovide for the schedule increases expected to be given to the teachers.

The first half of the bonus to the teachers was paid before Easter and amounted to the sum of $7,350.

ROYAL CROWN WEEK AT JACKSON'S

We are of the opnion that the Royal Crown Soap Co., which is a purely Canadian organization, manufacturing Canadian made goods, are worthy of the best support that it is possible for all Canadians to give them. For a great number of years they have been manufacturing lines of Soaps, Cleansers and Washing Powders which are equal if not superior to other lines that are being imported from the United States for the Canadian trade, and upon which there is at the present time a very heavy rate of exchange. We see no reason why our money should be sent out of Canada when we have right here in Manitoba manufacturers who have spent a lifetime in their particular lines and are offering us goods which are second to none in quality and whose prices are much lower than that which we would have to pay for practically the same goods imported from the United States.

We have just purchased a very large order of Royal Crown Soaps, Cleansers and Washing Powders, and we are making a special deal for you for one week. It will pay you to check up your requirements and put in a stock of these goods.

Royal Crown Soap, 144 bars in a case, per case $6.60

Royal Crown Soap, 72 bars in a case, per case $3.45

Royal Crown Washing Powder. This is the large package and is exceptionally good value at 2 pkgs. for 75c

Or 1 doz. pkgs. for $4.25

Royal Crown Cleanser, for all cleansing and scouring purposes. We want you to include some of this in your order, then you will be convinced that it is not only equal but is superior to any cleanser on the market. Per doz. tins $1.10

Mail in your order today and get in on some of the real values we have to offer you.

NINETEEN APPEALS TO JUDGE OVER 1920 ASSESSMENT

Five Claims for Reductions Presented at Morning Session of Revision Court

SOME LARGE PARCELS

Assessment on 1,060 Lots Owned by Kensington Brandon Land Dev. Co.

Nineteen appeals are being heard before His Honor Judge Cumberland, who is presiding over the Court of Revision now being held in the City Hall. The Court opened on Tuesday when five appellants presented appeals as to their 1920 assessment, but Judge Cumberland did not give his decision in any one case. Some large parcels of land are being dealt with and in all cases the assessment is claimed to be too high. Those who appealed and were heard this morning were G. S. Morris, M. G. Abey, J. F. Kilgour, Canadian Guaranty Trust Co., as executors of the Noonan estate, and J. C. Murray for the Kensington Brandon Land Development Company.

The appeal made by the Canadian Guaranty Trust Company covers the old Noonan property to the West of the city, and in their appeal the executors state that the property is not assessed in an uniform and equitable proportion to the actual value and that the assessment is excessive and beyound the actual value. They also state that by reason of the present assessment the rate of taxation will not fall equally upon all property in the city. Mr. J. F. Kilgour appealed against the assessment on eight parcels of land.

The greatest number of parcels of land appealed were those owned by the Kensington Brandon Land Development Company. There are 48 parcels here containinfi 1060 lots, the assesshere containing 1060 lots, the assessing to Mr. J. C. Murray, who acted for the appellants. In his appeal he stated that in 1912 some of the lots were assessed at $22.50, but had since that time jumped up to as high as $115. These lots had sold during the boom of 1912 at an actual average of $86 per lot, but were now under option to a French and English concern at $68 per lot. The property is known as Kensington Park and is East of the city, the Gun Club having their shooting lodge on this property. The City Assessor in giving his figures said that the parcels of land referred to were only assessed for $48,403, and that the average assessment per lot was $69.84. As there appeared to be some discrepancy between the figures presented by Mr. Murray and those of the City Assessor, the figures were gone into over the noon hour and were taken up this afternoon, when the Assessor stated that the actual figures are $62,190.

ICE JAMS CAUSE RISE IN RIVER AT PUMPING STATION

Large Cakes of Ice Move Slowly —Heavy Rainfall Might Cause Floods

According to figures furnished today at the Waterworks plant the Assiniboine River is seven and one-half feet above it's normal level at present. This is four feet higher than it was at this time in 1919. It is reported that this rise in the river water has ceased and that no great rise has been observed within the past twenty-four hours. Unless there are heavy rainfalls in the West it is not expected that the water will rise above it's present level.

Superintendent Shaw of the Waterworks Pumping Station, stated today that the ice is breaking up very slowly and that this was causing the rise of the river water. The large cakes of ice are moving slowly and are blocking up the river and causing the water to flood in some districts. A peculiar feature of the rise in the Assiniboine River is that there has been no noticeable rise at the First street bridge although a high level is reported at the Waterworks which indicates that there must be an ice jam between First street and the Waterworks.

SANITARY CONDITIONS IN BALKAN REGION SERIOUS: DANGER TYPHUS EPIDEMIC

Belgrade, April 20.—Sanitary conditions in the Balkan region are daily assuming more serious aspects, and there is grave danger from the spread of typhus in many localities Reports received here from Constantinople state that stations there and in the islands of he Sea of Marmora are filled with people who have been exposed to typhus infection.

HUNS AGREE TO ALLIES' DEMANDS TO DISBAND GUARDS

Under Pressure from Those Who Ignore Facts, is Their Statement

Berlin, April 20.—Disbandment of German civil guards, demanded in the Allied note of March 12th, has been decided upon by the Berlin Government. The Government states it is taking steps "under pressure exerted by those who ignore the actual facts." The assertion is made that there was no idea of using the civic guards for military purposes.

ALLIES AGREE ON PRESSURE TO BE PUT ON GERMANS

To Compel Compliance With Terms of Peace Treaty—Not an Ultimatum

IN EVENT OF REVOLTS

Allies May be Forced to Hold Up Shipments of Food and Supplies

San Remo, April 20.—All the Allies powers concerned now have approved of the form of collective representations to be made the Berlin Government regarding the Versailles Treaty. The declaration is not regarded as an ultimatum. As a disagreeable alternative to compliance with the terms of the Peace Treaty regarding disarmament the Allies will be unable to continue the relations re-established by the Peace Treaty. Strong steps will be made likewise regarding the continuance of an insurrection in Germany, and the prospects will be held out of withholding food and other necessities in event of the development of a counter revolutionary movement.

WORK ON STREETS TO BE COMPLETED

Eighteenth Street Between Rosser and Victoria to be Macadamized

It is probable that the city will complete the road building which was held up last season. The plans call for the macadamizing of Eighteenth street between Rosser and Victoria avenue, First street between the same avenues, and on Princess avenue between Fourteenth street and Eighteenth street. There is some doubt about the same work being done on Princess avenue between Sixth street and First streets as there was some opposition to the macadamizing of this road last year. However the city intends going ahead with the plans as laid out at present, the stone for the road building having been secured already.

Repairing and re-bedding many of the streets and avenues will be undertaken as soon as the new scarifier arrives which the city purchased some time ago. This scarifier cost the city some $1,300 and has been ordered, but its delivery has been held up on account of the strikes in the United States. Other work to be commenced by the city very shortly is the replanking of the East approach on the overhead bridge at the foot of Ninth street. The first car of lumber for this job has arrived, and the work is to be rushed to completion.

SWITZERLAND REFUSES TO RESUME RELATIONS WITH SOVIET RUSSIA

Berne, April 20.—Resumption of relations between Switzerland and Soviet Russia cannot be considered by the Federal Council pending the report from the League of Nations' Commission, Prest Motta of Switzerland has announced. Economic relations would also be difficult, he said, because the Russian co-operative societies are merely governmental instruments.

RAILWAY CLERKS AGREE TO HEARING OF WAGE DEMANDS

By the Railroad Labor Board at Washington—Not So Shop Laborers

100,000 TO WALK OUT

April 28th in Chicago District if Demands Not Granted—Strike Not Authorized

Chicago, April 20.—The strike fever among the railroad employes suffered a set back today when 30,000 railway clerks and 8,000 weight handlers in the Chicago district announced their decision to permit a hearing of their wage demands by the Railroad Labor Board at Washington.

Ultimatum Issued

Chicago, April 20.—One hundred thousand members of the North West District Brotherhood of Maintenance Employes and Railroad Shop Laborers last night made a request for temporary increase in wages of a dollar a day, with time and one-half for overtime after eight hours, pending the decision of the Railroad Labor Board on the original wage demand. If the demands are not granted by April 28th they will leave work individually.

Strike Not Sanctioned

Detroit, April 20.—The walkout on April 28th, on the part of 100,000 members of the Brotherhood of Maintenance Employes in the Chicago District will not receive the sanction of the Brotherhood, E. F. Grable, President, said here today.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF EDUCATION IS DISCUSSED

In House of Commons—Dr. Edwards Later Withdraws Resolution

Ottawa, April 20. — "That, in the opinion of this house, a Federal Bureau of Education should be established at Ottawa"—the motion proposed by Dr. Edwards, of Frontenac, gave rise to a debate in the house Monday which monopolized the proceedings and [illegible] in the withdrawal of the resolution.

Dr. Edwards urged the establishment of such a bureau as a central clearing house of information an education, as a "treasury of good ideas." Dr. Clark, who is temporarily leading the third party, was in general agreement with the resolution. But it met with strong opposition from Quebec members. They took the ground that it was a flank attack on the constitutional rights of the provinces to control their own educational policy. Captain C. G. Power, (Quebec South), said Quebec held her autonomy in education sacred and would not change one comma of her magna charta.

Sir George Foster did not see in the resolution any effort to interfere with provincial rights. It was rather an effort to work on the understanding between all the provinces in regard to education. But the passing of the resolution would mean a direct instruction to the Government to do something based upon rather vague form; and the Government would not care to take an instruction so positive as was expressed in the resolution.

Adjournment of the debate was moved by Mr. Davidson, but Mr. Davidson failed to secure a seconder and Dr. Edwards closed the debate with a general reply. Here he took issue with the view of Quebec members. How, Dr. Edwards asked, could the establishment of such a bureau be construed as an attack on constitutional rights. The bureau would have no power to make laws. It would merely gather information.

TRAIL OF FRENCH OFFICERS ACCUSED OF ABANDONING POSTS

Paris, April 20.—The trial of Brig.-Gen. Fournier, commander of the French fortress of Maubeuge at the beginning of the war; Gen. Ville, Colonel Charlier and several other officers accused of abandoning their posts in the face of the enemy by surrendering Maubeuge to the Germans in September, 1914, began for the second time by a court-martial here. Gen. Maistre, who commanded the French army which conquered the last remaining German positions in the Chemin-des-Dames, presided.

The first trial was commenced in November, 1919, but at the first sitting the Government applied for a postponement, which was granted.

MRS. COMMISSIONER EADIE who shares with her husband the leadership of the Canada West Territory of the Salvation Army, is expected to arrive in Brandon on Saturday and will spend the week-end in the city. Mrs. Eadie will address the Local Council of Women Tuesday afternoon.

FORMER BRANDON MAN PROMOTED BY THE C. P. R.

J. K. Savage Now General Superintendent of the Quebec Division C. P. R.

Mr. J. K. Savage, who was formerly Trainmaster and Chief Dispatcher on the C.P.R. here, has been appointed General Superintendent of the Quebec Division with headquarters in Montreal. Mr. Savage is well known here having made a wide circle of friends during his term with the C.P.R. here and his promotion to one of the highest positions on Eastern lines comes as the reward of merit. Mr. Savage came here in March 1907 as Trainmaster and when he left here in December, 1911, was Chief Dispatcher. Transferred from Brandon to Regina as Superintendent, Mr. Savage later went East to Smith Falls and then on to Toronto as Assistant General Superintendent. Following these promotions comes his appointment as General Superintendent of the Quebec district. Mr. Savage originally came from Quebec, and got his start in railroading in that province.

CANADIAN NATIONAL EXPRESS CO. AND MEN HAVE DISPUTE

700 Employes Concerned—Want Wage Increase from 20 to 35 Per Cent.

Winnipeg, April 20.—Serious difficulties have occurred between the Canadian National Express company and the committee representing the employes which is sitting in Winnipeg for the purpose of drafting the schedule for an increase in wages which is to be submitted to the management. Approximately 700 employes, working on the company's system between Quebec and Vancouver, are concerned, and they are claiming, through the medium of their committee, an increase in wages ranging from 20 to 25 per cent.

J. W. Watson, Provincial Vice-President of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railroad Employes, interviewed on the matter, said: "The committee representing the majority of the 700 employes convened in Winnipeg on April 12 with an understanding from W. C. Muir, gen. superintendent, Canadian National Express Company, that there were two committees seeking to represent the employes and that he could only deal with the committee representing the majority. Three days were entirely taken up counting credentials. After the count, when it was shown that the committee, all members of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railroad Employes, which negotiated the last schedule, had the majority, Mr. Muir refuted his statement that he would deal with the committee representing the majority, and stated that he would not negotiate unless the committees were amalgamated. The second committee sprang into existence, the majority of the employes believe, at the instigation of the company to combat legitimate labor organization."

Mr. Watson added: "Monday the committee met Mr. Muir following an ultimatum that if they did not attend in joint session with the other committee at 10 a.m., he would proceed to negotiate with those present at that hour!

"It is not the policy of legitimate labor," declared Mr. Watson, "to amalgamate a committee of non-union men with that of a committee of union men and we intend to stick out for the rights of our committee as we represent the majority.

"The tactics we suspect the officials [illegible] labor unrest," concluded Mr. Watson.

The result of the situation at noon Monday was that both committees handed in their demands and an adjournment was made until 2 p.m. to allow the officials of the company to consider the whole matter.

NATIONAL INSTITUTE SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

May be Erected at Ottawa at a Cost of $500,000—Bill to be Drafted

Ottawa, April 20.—(Canadian Press) —Plans for he establishment of a National Research Institute for Canada were before the Commons committee on scientific research Monday morning It was recommended that a site of at least 50 acres should be secured near Ottawa and a building of laboratory type four stories in height, to cost $500,000, should be erected.

Scientific instruments required would cost approximately $100,000, and salaries would require about $100,000 per annum.

This institute would be similar to the bureau of standards at Washington and the Mellon institute at Pittsburgh. It was felt that such an institution would meet the most pressing requirements for developing the resources and make provision for assistance to Canadian industries.

A bill covering the establishing of such an institution is to be drafted by a sub-committee composed of Dr. S. B. Steele, Dr. Thompson (Yukon), and Dr. R. J. Manion (Fort William), who will report back to the committee.

SUN CIRCULATION CAMPAIGN IS JUST STARTING IN EARNEST

List of "Dont's" Should be of the Greatest Assistance to Competitors

This little list of "Dont's" which follows is set forts for the guidance and welfare of the competitors who really are in earnest in their efforts for one of The Sun's big prizes. We would advise every "live" competitor to clip out the list, paste it up where it can be read night and morning and then follow it to the "T."

"Don'ts" for Competitors

Don't let a day pass without securing some points and subscriptions. Remember, it will take points to win the prizes.

Don't sit idly by and watch someone else walk off with the prize that could just as easily have been yours if you had made the proper effort to secure it. Enroll your name today and get busy in the competition.

Don't take a rest while a special point offer or a special prize offer is in force. Be one of the wise ones and figure out that you might as well get all you can for your efforts.

Don't wait until the last day or two of a special offer before getting busy.

Don't stop subscription-getting or point-getting when you have seen all your friends and acquaintances. Begin on strangers. If they see that you are really in earnest in your efforts they will give you their support.

Don't stop after you have thoroughly canvassed your town or city. You are allawed to get points and subscriptions anywhere.

Be Thankful Anyway

Don't let a little warm weather cause you to lose out on a valuable prize. Being out in the fresh air is good for your health; also be thankful that it isn't zero weather.

Don't be skeptical of your chances of winning a prize. Enthuse and get busy on the extra points offered this week. Your chances of winning are as good as anyone's.

Don't fail to send in your nomination at once, if you have not already done so. You will be losing valuable ground if you do not get your share of the 75,000 extra points offered this week. Extra point offer is for this week only and this offer will not be extended or given again during the course of the competition. Read full details of the offer in The Sun Circulation Campaign page.

VOTING LIKELY TO BE HELD ON A DAY IN JULY

Next Manitoba Legislature to Contain 55 Members, an Increase of Seven

NEW METHOD OF VOTING

To be Tried in Winnipeg Where There Will be Many Candidates for Ten Seats

Winnipeg, Man., April 17—(Canadian Press)—Manitoba's sixteenth legislative assembly is to be elected before another harvest is gathered, and it is expected that a date in July will be chosen. The 16teenth legislature, which concluded its last session recently, was elected in mid-Summer of 1915 and thus, under the premiership of Hon. T. C. Norris, conducted the affairs of the province during the greater part of the war. Mr. Norris is to lead the Government forces in the forthcoming campaign, and from present indications every member of his cabinet will go back for re-election. Hon. A. B. Hudson, who has been a conspicuous figrue in the government ranks for the past five years, part of the time as Attorney-General, will retire to private life.

The old legislature contained 48 members. In the next there will be an increaes to 55; an increase made up by giving four more members to Winnipeg and by the creation of three new rural constituencies. Winnipeg has had six members being two each for Centre, North and South Winnipeg constituencies. Henceforth there will be ten members sitting for the capital, to be elected at large by proportional representation. Outside of Winnipeg the voting will be conducted in the old-fashioned way.

The New Constituencies

A portion of the old constituency of Dauphin, lying Northwest of the town of Dauphin, has been created into a new constituency of Ethelbert. Two new constituencies have been created in the newly-settled district between Lake Winnipeg and Lake Manitoba. They are named Fairford and Fisher.

In the old legislature the government had an overwhelming majority. There was an official Conservative opposition of three members, and two or three independent members. Various new factors will influence the membership which gathers next Winter in Manitoba's palatial new government buildings.

Plans for Campaign

It is expected that the government will [illegible] every seat. The Conservative party elected R. G. Willis as Provincial leader some months ago and began making plans for the campaign.

There is a movement by the official Winnipeg Liberal Association, called in some quarters "Laurier Liberals," to offer candidates in opposition to the government. The United Farmers' of Manitoba officially will not undertake a province-wide campaign, but it is expected some constituencies will have to deal with candidates running on the Farmers' ticket. Labor and Socialist interests will endeavor to secure representation, and it is predicted that all or most of the strike leaders recently convicted by the Assize Court will be put in the field in their enforced absence from the hustings. If to these are added the usual number of independent candidates of one kind and another it is seen that the election promises to be of uncommon interest.

It is freely predicted that in Winnipeg the proportional representation ballot will contain thirty or forty names. It will be the first experiment with this modern polling system in Manitoba, and those who favor proportional representation equally with those who dislike the innovation are anxious to learn to what extent the claims made on its behalf are justified by its practical operation.

PROCURATOR SUMS UP PROSECUTION'S CASE AGAINST JOS. CAILLAUX

Paris, April 17.—After speaking for the greater part of three days, Theodore Lescauve, Procurator General, last night concluded summing up prosecutions in the case against Joseph Caillaux, on trial for alleged treason. He declared that article 205 of the military code, which calls for the death penalty was inapplicable and clearly exempted Caillaux from the same degree of guilt which applied to Bolo Pasha and M. Duval.

PROTEST APPOINTMENT OF MEN TO REPRESENT LABOR ON JOINT COUNCIL

Winnipeg, April 17.—Claiming that they did not represent labor as a whole the appointment of Ald. W. B. Simpson and H. J. W. Powers, as labor representatives on the Provincial Joint Council of Industry, has been protested by the Street Railway Men's Union. Ald. Simpson and Mr. Powers were selected by the Government from five names presented by the Trades and Labor Council at the request of Premier Norris.

BODIES OF 11 NOTED RUSSIANS FOUND ON STRANDED YACHT

Bucharest, April 17.—Discovery on the yacht Ostara, stranded at Sulina on one of the mouths of the Danube of the dead bodies of eleven noted Russian men and women, each shot through the head and not a living soul on board, has presented to the Roumanian authorities one of the most mysterious tragedies of Bolshevism in the Black Sea. Soldiers found the cabin half filled with water and eleven bodies floating around. One of the party still grasped a pistol in his hand and whether the people committed suicide or were murdered is a question that remains unanswered.

NEWLY APPOINTED POLICE CHIEF AT STRATHMORE, ALTA., IS UNDER ARREST

Calgary, April 17.—Roy Beavis, the newly appointed police chief at Strathmore, was arrested by city police today on four charges of receiving money under false pretences, from army and navy veterans, G.W.V.A. and K.C. It is stated that he had been posing as a war hero with several decorations.

FLOATING DOCK TONNAGE TO BE GIVEN TO ALLIES

By Germany to Compensate Loss of Fleet Sunk in Scapa Flow

Paris, April 16. — The Council of Ambassadors at Thursday's session received the report of the naval experts with regard to the German floating dock tonnage to be handed over in compensation for the scuttling of the German fleet at Scapa Flow. It developed that a total of 192,000 tons of this material had been discovered by the commission. A basis for the distribution of this tonnage among the Allies was adopted by the council.

The reply of the Hungarian peace delegation with regard to the peace-terms submitted by the Allies to Hungary was taken up and further considered. The discussion of the reply, however, was not completed at this session.

The council has decided to ask for a report from the international commission appointed to supervise the fixing of a boundary between East Prussia and Poland in the Marienwerder district before deciding upon the date of the plebiscite to be held in that district under articles 96 and 97 of the Peace Treaty.

CARRANZA FACES CRITICAL TEST IN MEXICO NOW

Revolt of Troops and New Presidential Candidate is Real Menace

Nogales, Ariz., April 16.—Sonora, Mexico, has won her first fight for independence. General Angel Flores, of the independent forces Thursday morning fought his way across the Simaoloa border, taking San Blas on the boundary line, and is proceeding with 2,500 men, 1,000 of whom are Yaqui Indians, toward Culiacan, capital of the state.

Gen. Arnulfo Gomez, commanding federal troops in the San Louis Potosi district, has revolted against Carranza, and openly declared for Gen. Alvaro Obregon as presidential candidate, stated reports to headquarters here of the Sonora state army.

Unconfirmed rumors were circulated here today that Carranza's hold in Mexican City is threatened by the pro-Obregon government. The rumors hinted at an anti-Carranza coup by the Obregonistaas in the federal army.

Martial Law Proclaimed

Agua, Prieta, Sonora, April 16.—Martial law was proclaimed in Agua Prieta Thursday in preparation for a possible attack by Carranza forces should the Mexican president's troops break through the barrier of soldiers the new republic has stationed between here and the Chihuahua-Sonora boundary.

Carranza troops were reported at Casas Grandes, 200 miles from here, preparing to march into Sonora and toward this border port. Sonora leaders here described the Sonora secession as the most critical test President Carranza has faced.

BIG FIRE AT GRAND PRAIRIE DESTROYS BUSINESS BLOCK: LOSSES AMOUNT TO $40,000

Grand Prairie, Alta., April 16.—Fire, which caused loss amounting to about $40,000, destroyed the Spencer, Donald, Patterson and Morrison buildings, and did damage to adjoining structures. Ten different business concerns suffered losses in amounts varying from $600 to $10,000. The fire broke out in the basement of the Spencer block, and the heat was so intense that the volunteer brigade fought some considerable time before the flames could be gotten under control.

POLES WILL OCCUPY GERMAN TERRITORY IF HUNS FAIL TO KEEP PACT

Berlin, April 16.—The Vossische Zeitung says the Polish government has informed the Allied Supreme Council that it intends shortly to occupy German territory should Germany fail to carry out her engagements with the Poles. The newspaper asserts that the government considers the situation extremely serious and has taken all necessary precautionary measures.

MUSKRATS CANNOT BE TAKEN AFTER APRIL 30

At the end of this month the season for the trapping of muskrats, South of the fifty-third parallel, closes. Several amendments were made to the "Game Protection Act" at the last session of the Legislature which will mean the better preservation of game in this province. The closing of the open season for muskrats on April 30th is fifteen days earlier than last year, the season being closed in 1919 on May 15th.

REFUSAL OF CASH BONUS BRINGS FLOOD OF LETTERS TO THE GOVERNMENT

Ottawa, April 16.—Refusal of a further cash bonus to returned men has brought a flood of letters on members of the government. Requests are piling in for almost everything. One letter asks for assistance in a divorce case; a second wants a motor lorry that the applicant may go into business for himself; a third requests help to get mourning for a relative.

MACHINE GUNS PLACED IN CITY PREVENTS RIOTS

Kewanee, Ills., April 16.—Machine-guns were posted in the city square and state troops patrolled the streets here Thursday to prevent recurrence of rioting which Wednesday resulted in injury to several people.

VAN WYCK TO HAVE CHARGE SUMMER HOTEL AT MINAKI

Mr. J. Van Wyck, manager of the Prince Edward Hotel here, will leave about May 15th for Minaki, where he will take charge of the Government hotel at that place during the holiday season. Mr. Van Wyck will still retain supervision over the local hotel, but will give special attention to the hotel at the famous Summer resort, which is expected to open about the middle of June.

67 EXPORT LIQUOR HOUSES TO CLOSE

Export Firms Will Go Out of Business in Alberta in June

Edmonton, Alta., April 16.—Export liquor houses in Alberta will go out of business under the provisions of the act just passed by the Provincial Legislature on May 10th, thirty days after the passage of that act being allowed them before the closure takes place. Sixty-seven export houses now doing business within the province will be affected by the closing order. It is understood that liquor exporters propose testing out the new legislation, and will possibly appeal to the courts.

According to the terms of the new act only Dominion bonded warehouses will be permitted in Alberta after May 10th. Licenses for such establishments will be issued from Ottawa after consultation with the Alberta Attorney-General whose sanction it is understood, must be secured before licenses are issued. The Attorney-General has already intimated that he will not sanction such licenses.

TO CONSIDER WIDENING SLEIGHS

Calgary, April 16.—The U.F.A. is sending out a questionaire to all its locals in connection with the proposed widening of sleighs to conform with the width of wagon and automobile tracks. There would appear to be a considerable diversity of opinion on the matter and the central executive is sending out this questionaire in order to secure a representative opinion.

In connection with this matter it is stated that some farmers strongly object to any change in the width of sleighs being made as it is argued that the action of wheels on the roadbed in Winter was calculated to make sleighing difficult and unsatisfactory.

CHICAGO PAWNBROKERS BUSINESS BIG: PEOPLE SELL TO BUY NECESSITIES

Chicago, April 16.—Heirlooms, wedding rings and diamonds are being used more than ever to help bridge the gap between wages and the cost of living, according to pawnbrokers here. Persons who have never before resorted to pawning cherished belongings to obtain enough money to help them live, are now steady patrons of the loan pawnbrokers.

"Our business has been greater than ever before,' said Paul Korshak, loan broker "I have noticed a steady increase in amounts we lend as well as a change in class of persons to whom we advance money. The middle class, clerks, teachers and department sales girls, patronize us to a great extent now. The laborer is making plenty of money and we don't see him so often."

PAN-RUSSIAN COMMUNISTS AT WARSAW TO ABOLISH THE SOVIET SYSTEM

Stockholm, April 16.—A dispatch to the Tidningen from Helsingfors, Finland, says the pan-Russian Communist congress at Moscow has decided to abolish the Soviet system in the management of industrial concerns and to replace it by "fully competent managers."

BRANDON HARDWARE

BURNHAM WANTS AN END OF ALL CAMPAIGN FUNDS

Seconder Only Permits Use of Name to Get Motion Before House

ORIGIN OF PROHIBITION

Said to be With the Devil, to Whom It Will Return

Quebec, April 15—Echoes of the Quebec riots of 1918 and charges and counter charges on campaign funds were heard in the house Wednesday. George Parent, of Quebec W., raised the question of the riots on the point of compensation for "innocent victims" who "were either killed or wounded by the soldiers of His Majesty."

Mr. Parent claimed that newspaper reports of the resistance offered to conscription officers were greatly exaggerated and publication of such reports had influenced the government to use military force. He read letters in which soldiers were accused of looting a cigar store and seriously injuring the proprietor, of unnecessary molestatio of civilians and of insulting priests who had gone out to minister to the injured and dying. Mr. Parent had submitted a motion which was merely one for production of papers. Following debate, Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice, announced that there was no objection to production of papers and the motion passed.

Mr. Doherty promsed further that cabinet consideration would be given to the general question of compensation. But the specific cases cited by Mr. Parent, he added, were exparte. They were not evidence; payment of public moneys on such statements would not be justified.

Would Prohibit Campaign Funds

There was considerable discussion on a motion by J. H. Burnham, East Peterboro, dealing with large campaign funds. The resolution follows:

"That in the opinion of this house in view of the reported statement by the Rev. Ben Spence, that another prohibition referendum in Ontario would cost the prohibitionists $5,000,000 and in view of the fact that such immense sums tend to the corruption by patronage and otherwise, of press and people, and to the destruction of public liberty, and public morals, and in view of the reported collection of party funds for the Farmers' party and parties, and in view of the fact that a coming struggle in Canada will probably be between the owners of land and the employers of labor, and in view of the charges made against other parties in respect of party funds, it is desirable that all campaign funds be prohibited and made a criminal offence and that an amendment of the criminal code be made to that effect."

Campaign funds, said Mr. Burnham, should be made illegal. Mr. Burnham was particularly critical of the Dominion Alliance, the Y.M.C.A. and the Farmers' party. He spoke of the Farmers' shaikng their fists in the faces of the people after deluding them into believing that they have given their money to rid the country of corruption." Mr. Burnham, at the outset, had some difficulty in securing a seconder for his motion. Two members to whom he appealed declined the honor. Thomas Hay, of Selkirk, who consented, was careful to explain afterward that he did so only to have the question discussed—he did not agree with all Mr. Burnham had said.

Says Prohibition Anti-Christian

Mr. Burnham, in finally withdrawing his motion, concluded with the remarks that so far as prohibition was concerned, he believed it was anti-Christian and came from the devil to who it would finally return.

During the discussion Mr. Burnham had a warm encounter with J. A. Maharg, of the Farmers' party. Mr. Maharg had drawn a parallel between Mr. Burnham to a wood-pecker of which it had been said that if left alone, it was a laugh. Mr. Burnham retorted that Mr. Maharg had given him credit for possession of some brains, "but that is more than I can say for Mr. Maharg," Mr. Burnham added, as the house laughed again.

BRITISH COAL MINERS ACCEPT GOVT.'S OFFER

Of Twenty Per Cent. Increase in Gross Earnings—Obviates Strike Danger

London, April 15.—Members of the Miners Federation by a majority of 63,135 votes, decided to accept the Government's offer of twenty per cent increase in gross earnings.

The decision of the men obviates the danger of a strike. The Government's offer provides for a minimum flat advance of two shillings for all workers over 18 years of age; one shilling between 16 and 18, and nine pence under 16.

EXTEND TIME FOR MAKING AND SALE OF OLEOMARGARINE

Proposed in a Resolution by the Federal Minister of Agriculture

Ottawa, Ont., April 15.—Extension of time for the manufacture and importation of oleomargarine until August 21st, 1921, and for sale until March 1st, 1922, are proposed in a resolution by the Minister of Agriculture. Further amendments are proposed to fix the minimum fine for infringement of the act at $50.

PROTEST CAMPAIGN INCREASES COST OF OVERALLS

Designed to Reduce the Cost of Clothing—Originated in the South

New York, April 15. — Dispatches from many points today indicate that the "overall campaign" of protest against the high cost of clothing is spreading rapidly through Southern and Western states. Incidentally, the retail price of overalls has increased from $2 to $6 a pair.

Police Reserves Called to West Side Market District Where Strike Is in Progress

New York, N.Y., April 15.—Police reserves were called out today to the West side market district where several hundred teamsters, chauffeurs and porters walked out on strike.

New York is virtually cut off from food supplies.

MANITOBA CIRCUIT RACE PROGRAM FINALLY APPROVED

Races in Brandon on June 17th and During Provincial Fair Week

At a meeting of the Manitoba Fairs Association held in Portage la Prairie this week the program of races as drawn up at the meeting on March 25th, for the Manitoba circuit, was approved, with the exception of the race for three year old colts, in which event Colin McMillan has offered a silver cup and $100 in cash to the winner, all colts to be Western bred. This program includes races at Brandon on June 17th and also during the week of the Provincial Exhibition.

With the exception of Virden, whose entries close on July 12th, all race circuit entries close on June 10th, an entrance fee of three per cent. to accompany the entry.

Mr. W. I. Elder of this city attended the meeting at which a very representative number of delegates from various points were present.

FARMERS OF NOVA SCOTIA AGAINST EIGHT HOUR DAY

Only Six Voted for Resolution at Convention Held at Truro

COST OF EVERYTHING

Grown, Sold, Manufactured or Produced Would Increase

Truro, N.S., April 15.—Last night's meeting of the Nova Scotia farmers' convention turned into an uproar over the introduction of a resolution bearing on the eight hour day. A great majority of the delegates declared this would increase the cost of everything grown, manufactured, sold, or in any way produced. The resolution was defeated, only six voting in favor of it.

A resolution adopting the platform of the Canadian Council of Agriculture as the best policy for the advancement of the party, was adopted.

PROVINCES NOW HAVE FULL POWERS IN PROHIBITION

Necessary to Wring All the Alcohol Out of Their Systems

Ottawa, April 16.—The low water mark has been reached in the matter of Federal prohibition legislation. This, in effect, was the answer given by the Government to a deputation of the Dominion Alliance which waited upon the ministers urging the imposition of a provincial bone-dry law. The Government, other opinions to the contrary, believes that it has provided all the machinery necessary to wring all the alcohol out of their systems, and it does not intend to go any further. Two acts are provided for their choice, the Doherty Act and the Scott Act, and the initiative in making them effective is with the provinces.

There has been provided in the estimates for the coming fiscal year the sum of half a milion dollars for the holding of such plebiscites under the latter act as may be requested by the various provincial legislatures. From present indications the majority of the provinces will ask for plebiscites.

Delegation Large

The Alliance was represented by a delegation headed by J. H. Carson, Montreal, President of the Council. It was received cordially by the Government members present, who were Hon. Sir George E. Foster, acting Premier; Hon. Newton Wesley Rowell, and Hon. C. J. Doherty. This memorial was read by Rev. Ben Spence, Secretary of the Council, who supplemented the reading by a short and forceful address. tI was spoken to by Mrs. G. Black, Montreal, Provincial President W.C.T.U. of Quebec and Calvin Laurence, Ottawa, legislative representative of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Ottawa, April 15.—A decision on the suggested liquor deferendum in Saskatchewan, it is understood, has not yet been reached. July 19th has been tentatively proposed as a date for the referendum.

CIVILIANS MAN NEW YORK TRAINS

New York, April 16.—Civilian volunteers to break the strike of rebellious railroad workers here were drilling in New York and New Jersey terminals Wednesday, and railroad officials announced services of several hundred men probably would be utilized to operate suburban trains.

The first volunteer trains for commuters on the Erie Railway were greeted at stations by crowds waving flags and cheering. On one of these trains, Mayor A. F. Wood, of Westwood, N.J., was firinfi the engine and the crew consisted of well known, wealthy residents of the ew ersey town

"The millionaire special" from upper Montclair rolled into the Erie terminal after a 45-minute run. The firemen were Richard Sanderson, New York manager of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, and J. R. Quinn, the New England representative of the same concern. Another Erie crew included Captain Charles Mett, of J. P. Morgan & Co., and Joseph Andress, jr., one of the vice-presidents of the Bank of New York.

Mayor Charles H. Martens, of East Orange, N.J., and Frank L. Kramer, for 17 years national bicycle champion fired a train from South Orange to Hoboken. All the trains were greeted with shouts of approval at every station.

AMERICANS IN C.E.F. ASK FOR BIGGER PENSIONS

Ottawa, April 16.—E. G. Nightingale, vice-president American Volunteers in the C.E.F., was called when the pensions committee resumed Wednesday morning. He said there were three main questions in behalf of these men. Being a Canadian he did not wish to represent the Americans, but they had not wished to send a United States citizen lest he be unkindly treated or "might fall in with a certain gentleman named Flynn, whose methods had not met with their approval."

The cost of living in the United States was 20 per cent higher than in Canada, and there had been a great deal of distress among pensioners.

They asked an increase of one dollar for each per cent of disability. For total disability he asked that an allowance of $50 yearly be made to cover the cost of an attendant. Inequalities in regard to pensions for officers and men should be removed. There were reciprocal arrangements where the Canadian soldiers were received into United States hospitals, but it was often a matter of weeks or months before any pay or allowances were received. They asked quicker action.

Vocational training allowances of $60 per month were insufficient in the United States. They asked that the scale be made the same as the United States, which recently had been increased to $120 per month.

The men also asked that they be allowed to take vocational training in the United States instead of being forced to come to Canada.

In Chicago men with empty sleeves were the victims of "arrogant commercialism." War records and decorations in a pro German city were "not worth a d—." The United States volunteers did not want any $800,000,000. All they asked for was a decent show in re-establishment. The land scheme in Canada was not understood in the United States. The men there thought that every soldier was given land.

Asked by Dr. J. W. Brien if it was the rule or exception for a man to be without pay or allowance for five or six months, the witness said it was the exception. Whenever anything of this nature occurred the Bureau of War Risk at Washington blamed Ottawa.

KENMAY UNITED FARMERS TO CONFINE ENERGIES TO FEDERAL CONTEST

At recent meeting of the Kemnay local of the United Farmers of Manitoba the members decided to take no action in Provincial politics at this time, but to confine their energies in the Federal field.

The action taken by the Forrest local, to have the United Grain Growers, Limited, open a warehouse in Brandon so that purchasers may be able to inspect supplies from that source before ordering, etc., was endorsed.

It was decided to procure orders for a car of binder twine to be delivered at Kemnay July 15th, and to ask the council to purchase gopher poison at their earliest convenience. They will also be requested to purchase and erect a set of public weigh scales at Kemnay.

WHAT WILL U.S. DO WITH MARTENS?

Senate Sub-Committee Recommends Department of Justice Take Action

Washington, April 16.—The case of Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, Soviet resentative in the United Stat s, is more suitable for investigation and action by the Department of Justice than by the Senate Chairman Moses or the Senate sub-committee, investigating Russian propaganda, reported

The Moses sub-committee spent many days interr gating Martens in an effort to ascertain whether he was conducting Bolshevik propaganda in the United States. Martens is already under arrest on a deportation warrant issued by the Department of Labor, and his trial on deportation charges is pending.

The Moses report held that Martens has no diplomatic or official statue in this country; that he assumes to represent the Russian Soviet republic which has no standing as a constituted authority in international law; that he has received no official or personal recognition from the United States Government; that he is a German subject, enemy alien, and that although he has not been openly engaged in advocating overthrow of this Government, he has publicly associated himself with groups which do advocate such a course and expressed his sympathy with them.

Aside from his own declarations, the committee found no means to ascertain Martens' real misconduct in the United States.

TRANS—CANADA MAKES FIRST TRIP ON MAY 20; 2 HOURS CUT OFF TIME

The C.P.R. "Trans-Canada Limited," discontinued during the Winter months, will make its first trip of the season of 1920 on Sunday, May 20th, from Vancouver and Montreal and will make the run in ninety-two hours each way. The Westbound train will leave Brandon at 2.15 p.m., and the Eastbound at 2.35 p.m.

These are all-sleeping car trains and only passengers holding first-class tickets for passage and who also hold tickets for sleeping car space or have made reservations for such, will be allowed to board them. A limited quantity of personal baggage will be carried. These trains will carry dining car and two sleeping cars between Montreal and Vancouver, two between Toronto and Vancouver and one between Winnipeg and Vancouver; a compartment car between Toronto and Winnipeg and a compartment observation car between Montreal and Vancouver.

INDEPENDENCE MOVEMENT IN KOREA DYING

According to Statement by Japanese Governor-General—Training Koreans

Tokio, March 23—(By Mail)—Baron Suito, overnor-General of Korea says he believes the independence movement in Korea is dying out, although he admits that the Koreans still are making secret efforts to free themselves from the Japanese rule. The Baron has been in Tokio lately to urge the Japanese Diet to provide funds to enable him to abolish the flogging of Koreans and substitute imprisonment as punishment.

The Baron said that he was making efforts in Korea to put into effect the Emperor's rescript that the Koreans be advanced politically with the ultimate objest of establishing local autonomy. Koreans, he said, were being trained to conduct the public service in Korea. In addition the government will establish a railway engineering school in Seoul to teach Koreans to operate their own railways.

RED TAPE BINDS GIRLS BODY, LEAD THROUGH STREETS

For Purpose of Drawing Public Attention to Demands of Women

London, March 30.—(By Mail)—A girl clerk whose arms and body were wound with red tape has just led an unusual procession through Whitehall, the home of government departments, to draw public attention to the demands of women in government employ for equal pay and equal opportunities with men. She was followed by a large number of women employed in the Civil Service, each of whom carried a poster, while all were linked together with red tape. Inscriptions on the posters were "Fair Play for Women" and "No Favoritism in the Civil Service."

The march was organized by the Federation of Women Civil Servants and served its purpose to attract public attention to the women's protest.

London, April 16.—The rate of discount of the Bank of England has been raised from six to seven per cent.

OPENING DATE OF REGISTRATION FIXED FOR MAY 3

But Brandon Voters Will Not Register Until Possibly May 18

Winnipeg, April 16.—It is officially announced at the Government building that the opening date for registration for the Provincial elections will be May 3rd. The proclamation to this effect has not been issued yet but will be given out in a few days, it was intimated.

This proclamation must contain the dates of the sittings of the Courts of Revision and the County Court Judges have not completed the schedule yet. It is understood that they are working on this now and will finish in a few days.

The proclamation will affect all of Manitoba with the exception of Greater Winnipeg—including St. Boniface, Assiniboia, the urban portions of Kildonan and St. Andrew's and other suburbs—Brandon, and other urban centres. The registration in these districts will follow later and will take place under another proclamation.

It is expected that registration in Winnipeg and other urban centres will be held about May 18th. Courts of revision will be in progress during a great part of June.

It was stated at the buildings that the registration officials had all been appointed and that the list would be given out for publication in a few days.

The registration of Manitoba voters will be completed, it is expected, in time for the holding of the elections during the first week of July. Women will register the same as men and will be entitled to poll their votes on election day.

LIMERICK CROWD ATTACKS POLICE ESCORTING MAILS

Limerick, Munster, April 16.—While the constabulary were escorting the mails from the post office to the railway station last night, the crowds pelted them with stones and alleged civilians fired some shots. The police returned the fire wounding two or three civilians.

SALE OF PURE BRED CATTLE IN BRANDON, WEDNESDAY JUNE 2

Under the Auspices of the Manitoba Cattle Breeders Association

TO INSPECT OFFERINGS

It is Expected That 150 Animals Will be Disposed of—Sale on Fair Grounds

A sale of pure bred cattle is to be held here on June 2nd, the executive of the Manitoba Cattle Breeders' Association making this decision Thursday afternoon. Following the sale held here in March, the cattle breeders of Manitoba were written for an expression as to whether it would be wise to hold another sale this year, and from the replies received the executive has decided to put on another sale. Already seventy animals have been promised for the sale while many cattle breeders intimated that they would be here to buy some of the offerings of the sale.

The sale is to be held in the Exhibition Park instead of in the Winter Fair Arena and entries will close on May 5th. All animals entered will be subject to inspection by a committee appointed by the Board. It is expected that fully 150 animals will be entered.

The directors of the Cattle Breeders' Association have decided to refund a portion of the entry fees paid by the contributors who were unable to get their animals to the March sale on account of the big storm. The refund will amount to $10 per head. The secretary's report giving the financial statement of the March sale was very satisfactory. Those present at the meeting Thursday were F. J. Collyer, Welwyn; James I. Moffatt, Carroll; J. G. Washington, Ninga; and Secretary W. I. Smale.

HAY IS HIGH PRICED AND VERY HARD TO GET

Thirty-five to Forty Dollars a Ton Being Paid on Brandon Market

It is almost impossible to procure feed for cattle in many districts of Saskatchewan and Alberta. Feed of any kind is being sold at almost prohibitive prices and the demand far exceeds the supply. At present, hay is selling in Brandon for from thirty-five to forty dollars a ton. Very little shipping is being done to the Western provinces from this immediate district, but a good quantity of hay is being shipped to the two Western provinces from the Oak Lake district.

Prosser, Wash., April 16.—Demand from Alberta and Montana has advanced the price of first quality hay to $35 a ton and dealers predict $40 hay by June 1st. Alberta buyers are reported to be bidding in all the hay they can get, here and elsewhere, throughout the state. The average price for the last three years was $25 a ton.

OVERALLS CLUB MOVEMENT IS STILL SPREADING

Throughout Southwest—Women May Don Gingham Dresses and Join In

Kansas City, Mo., April 16.—The Overalls Club movement, intended as a protest against the high prices of clothing, is spreading rapidly throughout the Southwest. Dispatches said that new clubs have been formed in numerous places in Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Arkansas. It is proposed that the women join in the movement by donning gingham dresses.

FARMERS AND LABOR

Hours of labor is the obstacle against which efforts to unite farmers and labor beats in vain. The farmer combines in his person both the boss and the workman. According to his labors shall be his reward, provided always nothing intervenes to rob him. This being the case the boss in him impels him to put forth not only his best efforts but for so long a period as he can sustain them in fairness to himself. According to his lobars shall be his reward. This is too infrequently the case with labor men. Not by any means all of them do their utmost each day. The measure of a day's work on which they are engaged does not necessitate that the highest skilled ones do their best. Because of the minimum wage which labor has introduced, and the definite restriction imposed in some cases, on output, expert workmen do not need to exert their best efforts in order to get their pay.

What then is the common ground on which farmers and labormen can unite. Certainly not on the ground presently occupied by labor. This was plainly shown at the convention of farmers at Truro, Nova Scotia, when the introduction of the eight hour day on the farms was opposed by all but six men, on the grounds that it would increase the cost of everything grown, manufactured, sold, or in any way produced.

There is a common ground though the tendency at present is to face away from it rather than towards it.

MAKE WAR IMPOSSIBLE

Information concerning the perfection of death dealing appliances, now being perfected, and which will be used "in the next war," provide a powerful argument for making war impossible. The development of airplanes equipped with death dealing appliances, recent results in experiments with poison gas, and the collaboration of the English and French in the production of a gun that will deliver a shell 150 miles away from the firing point, or about twice the distance of the famous Big Berthas which sent nearly two hundred high explosive shells into Paris during the war, makes the war of the future bristle with more hideous possibilities than one ever conceived.

In regard to the new gun. The impetus for its perfection comes from the Big Bertha incident. The fact that the Germans could not direct their long range shells with perfect accuracy, detracted but little from its effectiveness. They could and did pour them into the metropolis. Slight inaccuracies contributed towards their distribution without particular favoritism. It added something to the dread in which Parisians lived, and caused a very heavy exodus.

While the moral and physical effects obtained were not such as to count heavily upon the side of the Germans, it directed thought towards the possibilities. The German gun was an experiment, and as such capable of development, as the results obtained by the British and French already indicate.

A perfect gun, able to drop shells accurately at a distance of 150 miles, operating in conjunction with aircraft, could command the crossing of the Rhine for example. It could destroy cities on either side of the Franco-German boundary. In the event of enemy occupation of sections of France, English cities would be destroyed. From points far out at sea, coast towns could be wiped out.

The possibilities for destruction of life and property are such that humanity, if it wishes to survive, must bend all energies towards making "the next war" an absolute impossibility.

BREAKING THE OUTLAW

Good citizenship and unionism have a common interest in the breaking of the outlaw strike which radicals have brought about in the railroad service in the United States.

Unionism, of the kind that is represented by the brotherhoods is liable, as are all human organizations, to error, but it is possible to do business with it.

The unionism that is represented by the leaders of the outlaw strike, is unionism that is a menace to decent unionism. It is not of a kind with which it is possible to do business. It is a strike against unionism as much as it is against the railroads. There is evidence, though not conclusive at this time, which points to this outlaw strike as being fostered and financed by the Reds in many lands. Whether this is true or not, it is the sort of strike which would be welcomed and supported by such influences.

The success of this outlaw strike means the collapse of the railroad brotherhoods concerned. For these organizations it would substitute a lawless organization which would make no agreement with employers, and would not keep it if it did make one. The aim of the outlaws is revolutionary, its objective communism, its methods are those of violence and disorder.

Railroad brotherhoods are not the only unions which this element struggles to control. If it wins, unionism is doomed. Such issues as open or closed shop would vanish. In their place would come the greater issue of whether there is to be organized democratic government or an autocracy of radicalism in industry and government.

The outlaw strike is failing. It failed to win the support of thinking men or to deceive sufficient others. In the interests of orderly government, and of intelligent and trustworthy unionism, it deserved no better fate.

A SWEET, SICKLY MESS

Two news dispatches, concerning the sugar situation, one dated Friday and the other on Saturday, really should be presented together in order that their significance be not lost. They follow:

Montreal, April 16.—Advanced prices on sugar became effective yesterday, when the Canada sugar refiners increased their charge by $2 per 100 pounds, making their price now $18 per hundred pounds; and the St. Lawrence and Atlantic sugar refiners each advanced $2.50 per hundred pounds, bringing their sale price to $19 per 100 pounds, these being prices at the factory. Retail merchants here say that their prices will now range from a minimum of 20 cents to a maximum of 23 cents per pound.

The other is:

Toronto, April 17.—An Ottawa special says: On the understanding that the United States interests will furnish, in April, two thousand tons of raw sugar to the Atlantic Sugar Refinery, the Dominion Government, through the Canadian Trade Commission, has granted export permits for 10,000 tons of granulated sugar to go to Central and Western State points where an acute shortage of sugar has developed. It is pointed out that the situation in Canada will not be affected.

First of all the refiners announce a two dollar to a two and a half per hundred, increase in the price of sugar. Then follows a statement that the Dominion Government, through the Canadian Trade Commission, has granted export permits for 10,000 tons of granulated sugar to go to Central and Western State points. It is pointed out that the situation in Canada will not be affected.

From the statements contained in the news dispatches, it would appear as if the law of supply and demand has been suspended in regard to the cost of sugar. The refiners announce a tremendous increase in price. The Canadian Trade Commission grants permission for the export of ten thousand tons and it is presumed that it is from them that the statement comes that the situation in Canada will not be affected.

If, as seems apparent, the refiners are able to dictate sugar prices according to their own sweet will, and they are allowed to export what might be regarded as a surplus, the putting of which on the market might have a tendency to weaken it, what possible hope is there for reduction in the price of sugar? A Government agency, the Canadian Trade Commission, grants permission for such export. Is it reasonable to expect a Government whose creature permits such a course to be adopted, to take any real steps towards reduction of costs on an article which is used in every household?

This is the way a people who are crying vainly for reduction in costs are being treated. And it is to these same people that the Government which permits this sort of thing to go on, must ultimately appeal for election. The disheartening part of it all is, that this same Government is the one of which there was such high expectations when it assumed office.

MUST STAND TOGETHER

Britain and France have reached a settlement of their differences incident to the French military occupation of Frankfort and other German cities. The settlement was reached through concessions made by both sides. It is a good thing and it is in the interests of peace that they have done so. Under the new agreement, Britain is committed to a more strict enforcement of the terms of the Peace Treaty, particularly those relating to Germany's disarmament, France agrees to withdraw troops immediately after the Berlin Government withdraws from the neutral area all forces in excess of the number permitted there by the protocol.

France acted hastily and without sufficient reason in invading German neutral territory. This action was not entirely without justification. The Germans had roused the resentment of the French by failing to pay any of the cash indemnity and had withheld coal much needed in French industries. In other ways too Germany had aroused resentment. Above all, France made the mistake of taking too seriously, exaggerated reports circulated by its own military staff. Thus it persuaded itself that Germany had prepared another army of three million men with no other purpose than a revengeful raid over the border. This was easily done at a time when it appeared as if the other Allies, Belgium excepted, had disassociated themselves from France over the enforcement of the treaty terms.

The new agreement ought to quiet such fears. It is essential at any rate, in the present condition of the world that there be no break in the bulwark of civilization which Great Britain and France provide.

DEFEAT OF SIMPLIFIED SPELLING

The Kansas City Star may be said to have spoken for all who use the English language in an article which tells of the admitted defeat of Modern Language Association in its attempt to popularize simplified spelling. The Association gives it up in its own publication and admits the world does not want to be torn from its old habits. Doesn't want to be and won't be.

The Star continues:

There was, of course, hardly any rational argument that could be used against many of the simplified forms. They corrected cumbersome and involved combinations of letters that took time and space to form and looked like anything but the word intended. Most everybody admitted that, but most everybody strongly resisted the conclusion that because reason and argument had the best of it they should prevail to overthrow habit and tradition. The new spelling may have appealed to our heads, but the old spelling possessed our hearts.

The Star's defenses were repeatedly thrown down and emissaries penetrated our innermost citadel with the articles of capitulation all written out. This newspaper, although utterly exhausted, refused to sign. It admitted all the facts of the new spellers. It surrendered everything but conviction. It conceded its opinion was only prejudice, but it stood on that and rejected all terms. Even with its back to the wall it could not look at "thru" and accept it as through. The Star conceded its engaging shortness and its appealing simplicity, but it was not the word of our altars and fires.

Violent wrenches of this sort seldom further the processes of change. The more we are pulled the more we pull back. Yet changes do come, even in spelling. But they do not come by edict. We have simplified Sheakespeare's spelling and even Franklin's, but it was not done by system or prescription. We hardly know when we lost the "k" off the end of traffic. If we had known when it was dropped we would have picked it up again, but we imagine it was just allowed to slip without publicity or remark. If a society had taken that "k" in hand to banish it there would have been a pretty fight, we wis. These quiet processes doubtless will go on and a few generations hence some progress in simplification of spelling may be remarked. But they will come to notice so unobtrusively that none will know just when they took place. That is the process by which our language was formed, its reform must come about by the same methods.

SHAVED HEADS AND POINTED BEARDS THE FASHION IN FIUME

Fiume, April 20—Gabriele d'Annunzio's bald head has set the fashion for the officers of his little army, many of whom have shaved their craniums and are endeavoring to grow miniature Vandyke beards as copies of the poet's chin adornment.

The Fiume aviators have adopted the craze with greater zeal than other branches and call themselves "Iron Heads" Youthful officers in their teens and early twenties have shaved their heads and are wearing little pointed beards in an effort to look as much like the poet as they can.

Mixed uniforms of French horizon-blue and Italian grey-green are worn by d'Annunzio's men with great pride.

TORONTO MAY DAY COMMITTEE REPUDIATES ANARCHIST DOCTRINES

Toronto, April 20.—The following statement was issued by Tom Mills, of the May Day committee: "The sticker that was posted on the trolley poles last night was not authorized by the May Day committee. The doctrines of the anarchist will never receive any sanction, insofar as I am concerned. Apparently the persons responsible are a few misguided people who, having become intoxicated with an enthusiastic fanaticism, in their own self-ordained way, have done this thing in order to satisfy their own petty minds. The poster should be traced to its origin by the people."

WILDERNESS DAYS TO LIVE AGAIN IN RED RIVER PAGEANT

Historical Spectacle to be Staged at Tower of Fort Garry May 3rd

Winnipeg, Man., April 20.—With Indian fur brigades and York boats loaded with peltries on Red river, council fires burning at Lower Fort Garry and the smoke of the peace pipe scenting the air, the romance of wilderness days will live again at the celebration of the 250th anniversary of the Hudson's Bay Company, which will be inaugurated in Winnipeg, May 3rd.

Sir Robert Kindersley, G.B.E., latest of the distinguished line of Hudson's Bay Company governors that began with Prince Rupert, valiant champion of the House of Stuart in the Cromwellian wars, will come from England and take part in the river pageant and in the subsequent street pageants which will be held successively in Edmonton, Calgary, Vancouver and Victoria.

The Red river pageant, which promises to be one of the most interesting historical spectacles ever staged in Canada, will start from the site of old Fort Garry, eacry capital of the company's once vast empire and about which Winnipeg grew, and pass down stream eighteen miles to Lower Fort Garry. Tricked out in bravery of paint, feathers and beaded buckskin, Indians from a dozen tribes will man York boats and canoes in fur brigade formation. To do honor to the company to which their ancestors paid loyal allegiance, Crees will come from the shores of Hudson's Bay; Swampy Crees from James' Bay; Ojibways from the Lake Superior fur country; Plain Crees from Northern Saskatchewan; Blackfeet, Piegans and Assiniboines from the prairies and the Rocky Mountains, and tribesmen from the Athabasca and British Columbia.

A flotilla of freight boats piled high with bales of furs will trail in the wake of the York boats in charge of factors and trappers in pioneer costumes. As it glides in long procession through a countryside famous in Hudson's Bay traditions, past the site of old Fort Douglas, the scenes of Lord Selkirk's Red River settlements and the battlefield of Seven Oaks where Governor Semple and twenty men fell in conflict with their rivals of the North West Company, the pageant will seem to sail out of the past of 250 years ago.

When it reaches Lower Fort Garry whose stone buildings and battlemented stone walls still preserve the picturesqueness of early days, two ancient brass cannons at the gate will boom a salute from their rusty throats. Within the walls of the old stronghold where the first treaty was signed between Canada and the Western Indians in 1871, Governor Kindersley will seal anew the ancient friendship between the Redmen and the company by smoking the calumet of peace. The pipe, specially designed for the occasion, will bear carved upon its stem the totems of all the tribes and will be presented to the governor as a souvenir. Sir Robert will confer upon each of the braves a medal struck in honor of the anniversary and at a council at which the Indians will squat upon the ground in a wide semi-circle, will reply to orations by the sachems and chieftains. After the speeches, the Indians will present a wampum belt to the governor in ratification of their pledges of fealty, and will partake of an old fashioned feast.

Street pageants will celebrate the company's birthday in Edmonton from May 6 to 8, in Calgary from May 11 to 13, in Vancouver from May 17 to 19, and in Victoria from May 21 to 24. Symbolic floats and tableaus, interspersed with Indians trappers and dogteams, will picture the company's pioneer achievements while Dominion, provincial and city officials, clubs, sociciteis and civic bodies will swell the parades. During the pageants it is expected the five cities concerned will declare holidays.

MANITOBA FIRE LOSS $71,273 MORE THAN DURING MARCH 1919

During the month of March there were 122 fires in Manitoba which is an increase of two fires over the same period of 1919. There was also a total increase in loss of $71,273 during the past month over March 1919. Since the beginning of the year there have been 360 fires in the province with a loss of $449,082. This is an increase of forty-eight fires over the same period of last year and a corresponding loss increase of $190,182.

As far as Brandon is concerned there were just eight fires during March with a total loss of $400. In March, 1919, there were just two fires.

Most of the fires in the province during March were caused from stoves and furnaces. Electricity was responsible for fourteen fires and gas caused two conflagrations.

Men have been arrested for taking things as they come.

RAW FURS VALUED AT $12,000,000 TO BE SOLD IN NEW YORK

New York, April 19. — Raw furs valued at $12,000,000 comprising the largest and most valuable collection to be offered in this city, were placed on sale today. The sale will continue for eight days.

"BILL RAISERS" BUSY AT VANCOUVER

Vancouver, B.C., April 19.—The demand for American currency here has been taken advantage of by clever "bill raisers." Many American tendollar banknotes artistically designed to represent hundred dollar bills have been picked up by the authorities.

FIGHT FOR CONTROL OF VAST FUR TRADE

In McKenzie River Valley Between Hudson's Bay Co. and Lamson & Hubbard

Dawson, Y.T., April 19.—Constables Wm. A. Campbell and Brooker, who arrived here with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police expeditions from Herschel Island and Fort McPherson on the Arctic coast, bring the first advices from the vast region on the topmost end of the world since last Summer. They report a titanic battle for control of the fur trade in the vast McKenzie valley between the Hudson's Bay company and the new American firm of Lamson and Hubbard, who are cutting prices f commodities and raising offers on furs in order to get established. The average prices paid for mink were fifteen dollars and for muskrats a dollar and a half. Three ships made Herschel Island late last season. One of the ships forged ahead of the others and beat them to Banks Land, where there had been no ship for two years, and scored a big scoop, buying up two years' fur catch. Constable Campbell reports meeting Jukiro Wada, noted Arctic Japanese gold discoverer and stampeder, who was outfitted in New York last year. He made an expedition down the Mackenzie last year, and is now exploring for lost gold mines reported to exist on the Arctic slope South from Herschel. He was last seen enroute there last Fall.

LEGISLATION TO PLACE AGREEMENTS ON LEGAL BASIS

Contracts Between Labor Organizations and Employers May be Made Enforceable

Ottawa, April 20.— Legislation to place agreements between labor organizations and employers in the same class as legal contracts, enforceable by the court is talked of here as a result of certain "outlaw" strikes. These strikes are in violation of agreements and contrary to the wishes of international executives.

For instance, in Montreal, certain printers have walked out, although their agreement has some time yet to run, any wages have been supplemented by bonuses, and although their action has been disapproved by the executive officers of their international organization in Chicago. Such difficulties are regarded in some quarters here as menaces to international trade unionism. There has been suggestions that labor organizations should be incorporated, and thus attain corporate entity, which would permit of their suing or being sued in the courts. The talk here at present, however, is of the possibility of legislation being enacted to give agreements such a legal status that the parties thereto would be individually and collectively responsible for carrying out the obligations they have assumed.

SEEDING ON TOP OF SNOW

London, Ont., April 20.—According to R. A. Finn, local representative of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, recent heavy snows have failed to interrupt seeding operations on certain farms in the district. Many are continuing work, he claims, and are seeding with clover on top of snow. The practice is adjudged sound by the department, particularly in view of the fact that the frost is out of the ground.

MANY DIVORCE CASES READY FOR HEARING IN PROVINCE OF ONTARIO

Toronto, April 20.—Several divorce cases will be ready for hearing when the Dominion Government passes legislation authorizing the establishment of a divorce court in Ontario. One London, Ont., lawyer already has received representations to act in fifty divorce cases.

A Toronto lawyer reports 75 divorce applications on his list.

THREAT OF NEW STRIKE IN THE CHICAGO DISTRICT

Thirty Thousand Railroad Clerks to Take Strike Vote Tonight

CLAIM STRIKE BROKEN

May Not be Justified by Impending Events—More Switchmen at Work

Chicago, April 19.—The threat of a new strike among the railroad employes in Chicago district today, confronted the claims of railroad managers and brotherhood officials that the "insurgent" switchmen's strike had been broken and the situation rapidly was returning to normal. Eight thousand freight handlers and 30,000 railroad clerks employed on all lines entering Chicago will take a strike vote tonight. There is little chance of compromise and the men will probably strike tomorrow.

In the switchmen's strike there is continued improvement in conditions throughout the Central and Far West. On the Pacific coast, the railways are reported today for the first time since the strike as without embargoes on perishable freight.

As a result of the new Federal descent on the strike leaders at Chicago, ten men were arrested and will appear today.

THIEF SELECTS ARTICLES FOR HIS WARDROBE

From H. W. Ball's Stock—Made Careful Selection—Left Door Open

A thief who was very particular about his wardrobe, broke into H. W. Ball's store at 712 Rosser avenue some time during Sunday night and stole merchandise to the amount of $100. No money was taken, the thief confining his attention to the selection of two silk shirts valued at $10 each and other articles. Apparently the thief took plenty of time and secured his size and the color suitable to his taste as the goods had been gone over in a business like manner.

Entry to the store was made through a back window and the thief then calmly left by the front entrance, leaving the door unlocked when he left the premises. The matter has been placed in the hands of the police but so far there is no clue to the thief's identity.

DETECTIVE DESCRIBES LIQUOR AS WORST STUFF I EVER HANDLED

Winnipeg, April 19.—According to the verdict of the jury investigating the death of Mrs. Olive Rose, 23 years old, who was found dead last Wednesday in her home, deceased died as a result of alcoholic poisoning. The liquor which caused the woman's death was described by Detective D. Mercier as "the worst stuff I have ever handled in all my experience," a statement in which the jury agreed.

A recommendation was included in the verdict that the "medical profession be requested to exercise extreme discretion in prescribing alcoholic stimulants."

TROUBLE MAKERS BUSY IN TORONTO STIRRING UP DISCORD

Toronto, April 19.—Evidence that Toronto Anarchists are endeavoring to stir up discord and precipitate conditions similar to those in the United States as a result of the switchmen's strike, was shown today when the local police discovered a number of small stickers reading: "Fellow workers now is the time to strike. The Government is with Capitalists. Get ready for the First of May." The bills were signed by the Anarchist group.

FOUR MEN LOOT MINNEAPOLIS BANK OF ABOUT $11,000

Minneapolis, Minn., April 19.—Four men armed with revolvers entered the Fidelty State Bank this morning, held up the clerks and escaped with $11,000 in cash and Liberty Bonds.

JAMES DOUGLAS MAY BE SENATOR

Edmonton, Alta., April 19. — That James Douglas, M.P. for Strathcona, is likely to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Talbot, of Lacombe, is the interesting report brought back from Ottawa by Alderman J. C. Bowen.

WEALTHY SURGEON KILLED IN NEW YORK CHURCH SUNDAY

Dr. Markoe Was Taking Up Offering in Fashionable Church When Shot

ASSAILANT CAPTURED

After Chase by Church Members and Proves to be Escaped Lunatic

New York, April 19.—Dr. James A. Markoe, a well-known surgeon, was shot and instantly killed Sunday while taking up the offering at the morning service in the fashionable St. George's Protestant Episcopal church in the old aristocratic district of New York.

Hiss assailant was captured after a short chase by a group of parishioners, headed by William Fellowes, Morgan, president of the Merchants' Association of New York, George E. Brewer and J. Morgan Jones. At the East 22nd street police station the prisoner gave his name first as Thos. W. Shelley and later as Thomas W. Simpkin. The police said he told them he had escaped Thursday from the Eastern state hospital for the insane at Williamsburg, Va. The man was born in London, England ,and said he had spent some time in Canada before coming to the United States.

Dr. Markoe, a wealthy vestryman of the church, was a friend and personal physician to J. Pierpont Morgan, also a parishioner there. He was 56 years of age. The church was crowded with parishioners, many of them representatives of the wealthiest families in New York, when the shooting took place.

Formerly of Calgary

Duluth, Minn., April 19.—Thomas W. Simpkin came to Duluth with his wife and three children from Calgary, Alberta, in September, 1916. He was employed in several job printing plants here. He joined Duluth Typographical union, and is still carried on the rolls of the organization. In April, 1917, he was adjudged insane in court and sent to the state asylum at Fergus Falls. He escaped from that institution a year later, and the authorities failed to locate him. His wife lived here until April, 1919, when she was deported to England as a dependent British subject.

Simplin went under the alias of Shelley, which was his wife's maiden name. It is reported that he enlisted in the Canadian army, but deserted.

TANKS GUARD MOUNT JOY PRISON: HUGE CROWD SULLEN

Dublin, April 14.—The general strike declared in Ireland in protest over the treatment of the political prisoners who are on a hunger strike in Mount Joy prison here, went into effect Tuesday amid tumultuous scenes in the vicinity of the prison.

The crowd which had assembled outside the prison edifice grew as the day wore on until it comprised 20,000 persons, among whom threatening demonstrations occurred. The authorities thought it necessary to augment the defences, and three tanks and several armored cars with a large force of police and military were stationed about the structure.

Will Continue

It was announced the strike, which originally was intended as a one-day celebration, would continue until the prisoners were released.

All the shops, public houses and restaurants of Dublin are closed and the hotel staffs have quit. No tramcars or trains are running, except a few on the reat Northern Ireland Railway. The Punches Town races nave been postponed.

The strike is not in effect in Belfast and in the North of Ireland. In Dublin and throughout the West and South of Ireland, however, business is at a standstill.

The vast crowd outside the prison Tuesday afternoon was offering prayers for the hunger strikers. The Lord Mayor was officially informed at the prison that all the prisoners were very weak, and that anything might happen.

Fears Disaster

The Lord Mayor and the High Sheriff thereupon telegraphed the Chief Secretary of Ireland in London, asking him to intervene in the interest of peace and humanity, stating that Dublin was in a fever of excitement, and adding: "We fear that a dreadful tragedy is impending."

Announcement of deaths among the hunger strikers have been expected by the people for the past 24 hours. As the time went by and the prisoners still survived, however, expressions were heard among the most devout elements in the crowd of faith in the efficacy of their prayers.

Meanwhile all the visitors who left the prison were urgently questioned regarding the condition of the hunger strikers.

Dublin is tied up more effectively by the present strike than in the memorable anti-conscription strike in 1918. Even the post office services, with the exception of the telegraph department i sat a standstill, no letters being delivered. As the workers left the College street post office early Tuesday morning armed detectives rushed in and took possession of the building.

No Charge Preferred

London, April 14.—Many of the Irish prisoners, both at Mount Joy and in English institutions, are being held without charges having been preferred against them and without trial, it was admitted by Andrew Bonar Law, the government leader, in the House of Commons Tuesday. Replying to questions, the confirmed statements which hed been made to this effect, he declared that the fact had been stated many times, and he should have thought the whole house would have recognized that under such conditions as existed in Ireland, where murder was rife, it was necessary, if lives were to be protected, that people be arrested on suspicion.

This had been done before when Ireland was in a similar state, Mr. Bonar Law pointed out, and the government had no intention he said, of altering the practice.

Referring to the hunger strikers, Mr. Bonar Law said that all would greatly deplore deaths caused by people committing suicide. In these circumstances, however, to give the impression that political action in the Commons might alter the decision of the government was likely to increase the danger, he declared.

MARK TWAIN'S HOME TO BE PRESERVED FROM HANDS OF REAL ESTATE DEALERS

Hartford, Conn., April 14.—A campaign has been launched here to preserve the former house of Mark Twain from threatened destruction by real estate operators. Governor Holcolm, speaking at a meeting of citizens interested in the movement Tuesday night declared the real estate men who planned to destroy the old house "belong in the same class as radical agitators," and should be deported.

PETER ANDERSON KILLED WHEN GUN DISCHARGED

Ludlow, S. D., April 14.—Seeing a rabbit by the roadside, Ralph Anderson started to hand his father his rifle. It was accidentally discharged, and the shot killed his father, Peter Anderson, instantly.

FAMOUS OLD BAY TREE HOTEL, TORONTO, SOLD FOR $325,000: TO BE TORN DOWN

Toronto, April 14.—The famous old Bay Tree Hotel and the land it stands on, at the corner of Bay and Adelaide streets, has been sold by the owner, J. J. McCaffrey, president of the Toronto ball club, to a local syndicate for $325,000. t is understood that the present building will be torn down to make way for a million dollar ten-storey office building.

SCHOOL SYSTEM WRONG BASED ON MISCONCEPTION

Declares Dr. C. E. Clark, Chairman of Council on Mental Hygiene

Winnipeg, April 14.—"Our whole school system is wrong, in that it is based on the misconception that all children are alike," declared Dr. C. E. Clarke of the University of Toronto, chairman of the National Council of Mental Hygiene in an informal address before the provincial convention of Christian Brotherhood.

"Approximately 60 per cent. of the school children are of an average mentality; 20 per cent. are above the average, and 20 per cent. below," Dr. Clarke declared.

"Of the last named, about 15 per cent are low type morons."

The ideal that all mental defectives should be placed in institutions and shut up tight was erroneous the speaker said, much could be done by education and training through special classes in school.

Dr. Clarke declared that the council looked to the West in making its health crusade, illustrating the advances made in Manitoba and British Columbia.

TO CO-ORDINATE PROVINCIAL LAWS REGARDING LABOR

Conference to Assemble at Ottawa On April 26—Dominion Interested

Ottawa, April 14.—The conference for the purpose of co-ordinating the various Provincial Labor laws of Canada, both Provincial and Federal, will open in Ottawa on the 26th of April. This conference was anounced by the Minister of Labor in the Senate some days ago, and follows a resolution passed at the National Industrial Conference in September, 1919, emphasizing the importance of obtaining uniformity in the various laws of the country relating to labor. The resolution passed in 1919 suggested the appointment of a commission to deal with this work, consisting of three representatives from the Dominion as a whole, and three representing each of the provinces. One of the representatives was for the government, one for the employing interests and one for the employes.

RAILROAD OFFICIALS WON'T DISCUSS PLAN

Washington, April 14.—The Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads were asked Tuesday by the Department of Justice to send the names of all their striking employes and to indicate which of them were leaders in the walkout.

Pennsylvania and New York Central department officials refused to discuss the meaning of the messages or to indicate whether similar requests would go forward to the executives of other railroad corporations.

With freight traffic in the East seriously crippled, administration officials regard the strike situation as very serious.

The president has been kept advised as to the general conditions. Attorney-General Palmer was studying additional reports Tuesday from the department of justice field agents and was expected to make a complete report with recommendations to the executive.

President Wilson Tuesday called a meeting of the cabinet for today to discuss the general situation." While house officials will not say that the "unauthorized" railroad strike has prompted the call, it was understood that this would be the principal subject discussed. This is the first cabinet meeting called by the president since he returned from his Western trip last September, "a very sick man."

HON. ED. BROWN ACCEPTS NOMINAT'N

Constituents in The Pas Ask Him To Remain in Office

Winnipeg April 14.—Hon. Edward Brown, Provincial Treasurer, in replying to a letter from his constituents in The Pas constituency, in which he was offered the unanimous nomination for the coming Provincial elections, has declared his willingness to continue as Provincial Treasurer if the Norris Government is again returned to power. He stipulates, however, that he may not be able to give a full five-year term of service, but may resign from the administration before that term expires.

The letter is addressed to a new organization which has been formed at The Pas, known as the Northland Society, which is composed of men of both political persuasions, and, it is stated, has taken the place of the former Liberal and Conservative organizations. Mr. Brown therefore has been offered the seat of The Pas by acclamation to all intents and purposes.

Accepts Nomination

Mr. Brown's reply, in part, is as follows:

"I understand that the people of the Northland express a desire to come together as a united electorate for the purpose of promoting common accord with respect to the important undertakings necessary to the successful development of the natural resources of the district known at the "added territory".

"I understand that what you want is business administration of a non-partisan character, and that in view of our past relations you have confidence that I would give you such an administration, and that all elements in the constituency have united to offer me an unanimous nomination. This policy represents a very broad-minded view, and is greatly to your credit. The spirit which is in evidence, if steadfastly adhered to, will, in my opinion, eventually bring success in the fullest sense of the undertaking in question.

Had Intended to Resign

"Previous to hearing from you I had entered into a serious compact with my family, agreeing to retire from the administration just as soon as the Premier would find it convenient for me to do so; and there are reasons of a fairly imperative character which make this course necessary. However, in the light of your action, my family agrees that I have no alternative but to bow to the wishes so graciously expressed, of the people of my constituency.

"I am willing to accept nomination, provided that the government of the province secures an expression of confidence from the electors of the province as a result of the appeal now pending; otherwise the constituency would have liberty of action.

It is quite possible that I may not be able to give another full five-year term of public service. In the event of circumstances arising which would necessitate my retirement from the government at any time, in the light of these negotiations, my action will not be misunderstood. I will take the earliest opportunity of visiting my constituency, when I can discuss this matter further with you."

TWO BRITISH BYE-ELECTIONS

London, April 14.—The Right Hon T. J. MacNamara was today declared elected for the Northwest Camberwell seat in the House of Commons. MacNamara sought re-election on assuming the office of Minister of Labor. The voting was: T. J. MacNamara, Coalition Liberal, 6,618; Susan Lawrence, Labor, 4,733.

London, April 14.—In Basingstoke constituency, Sir Arthur Holbrook, Coalition Unionist, has been elected to the House of Commons to succeed Sir Auckland Geddes. Liberal and Labor candidates are second and third respectively, with a difference of only 41 votes between them .

DEFICIT OF THREE HUNDRED MILLION POUNDS IN BRITAIN

In Addition, The Chancellor Has to Find £1,200,000,000 for Revenue

London, April 14.—The Chancellor of the Exchequer will introduce the budget next Monday. He will be called upon to make up a deficit of £326,000,000, while the revenue needed amounts to £1,200,000,000. The postal letter rate will probably be increased from three half pence to two pence. Several important alterations in the income tax will be inaugurated giving additional relief to married people, especially with children. The postmaster-general states that there is no intention of increasing press telegram rates, although some assert the present loss on this traffic is two hundred thousand pounds yearly.

NARROW CIRCLE OF SUSPECTS GLENELLA MURDER MYSTERY

Winnipeg, April 14.—The circle of suspects in the Glenella murder mystery, where the dismembered remains of Samuel Dubienvicz were found in the smoking ruins of his farm house, is narrowing down to the persons living in the immediate locality, Provincial Police force officials stated. Inspector J. W. Clark, of the Eastern judicial district force, stated that the officers working on the case had done good work. The statement that a stranger had been seen in the district on March 31st, the date of the murder, had been proven false. Owing to the population in the district not being able to speak English, great difficulty is being had by the officers in conducting their inquiry, he said.

HOUSING SCHEME SUBMITTED TO THE TORONTO COUNCIL

Builders' Exchange Offers to Build Homes at Actual Net Cost

Toronto, April 14—The Toronto Builders' Exchange, Inc., submitted a housing scheme to the City Council on Tuesday by which the exchange offers to build houses at actual net cost. The proposition, to some extent, is counter to one submitted last week by the Building Trades Council, which also suggested the construction of houses at cost, and provides for supervision of construction, co-ordinating the several trades and guaranteeing the efficient execution of the work.

The Builders' Exchange proposes to erect houses in accordance with plans prepared by the city architect for actual cost of labor and material, plus five per cent to cover cost of supervision, the city to finance the work by paying for materials monthly and labor weekly, and the Building Trades Council to co-operate by waiving any union rules which may lessen production.

MINE WORKERS' OFFICIALS ARRESTED: DISREGARDED SUMMONS TO KANSAS COURT

Pittsburg, Kan., April 14.—Following the example of their district president, Alexander Howatt, twenty-three lesser United Mine workers' officials Tuesday disregarded summons to appear before the Kansas industrial court. Twenty-five had been called. District Judge Curran ordered the arrest of the twenty-three for contempt of court.

CYCLONE SWEEPS NORTH CAROLINA COUNTY; KILLS THREE, INJURES OTHERS

Charlotte, N. C., April 14.—Three persons are known to have been killed and half a rozen or more injured in a cyclone which swept portions of Union county, Monday night.

APPEAL COURT RELEASES SEBAL FROM JAIL

Winnipeg, April 14.—Nathan Segal, sentenced at the Spring assizes to one month in jail for perjury in connection with an alleged attempt at bribery in the last civic elections was released Tuesday morning, his conviction being quashed by the Manitoba Court of Appeal.

Appeal was made by Ward Hollands, defence counsel, on the ground of non-corroboration of evidence. The appeal was upheld and the sentence imposed by Mr. Justice Macdonald was upset. Adolphe Friedman, convicted on the same charge with Segal, and sentenced to a similar term in the provincial jail, is being held to complete his sentence.

CHARGES LIQUOR USED TO INFLUENCE N. Y. ASSEMBLYMEN

New York, N.Y., April 14.—Charges that liquor was used in great quantities to influence votes to unseat the five Socialist Assemblymen were made in the Senate by Senator Geo. F. Thompson of Niagara, today.

LORD BYNG TO BE HEAD OF THE LONDON POLICE

London, April 14.—The Daily Chronicle says that Lord Byng, former commander of the Canadians, is to succeed General Macready as head of the London police.

CHURCH UNITY TO BE DISCUSSED AT LAMBETH CONFERENCE IN ENGLAND

St. Jonn, N.B., April 16.—In the opinion of Right Rev. Charles D. Schofield, Anglican Bishop of British Columbia, who arrived here Wednesday from Victoria, B.C., on his way to the Lambeth conference in England church unity will be the leading topic of discussion at the meeting. More than 300 bishops from all parts of the world are expected to attend.

Bishop Schofield is visiting his former home before sailing on April 23.

VIRDEN PEOPLE ENJOYED PLAY BY BRANDON CAST

Virden Empire Advance: A fair crowd attended and enjoyed the bright farce-comedy success, "Some Baby," at the Auditorium last Wednesday evening. Of the play it might be said that it is one of the most laughable ever presented on a Virden stage. It is replete with lively dialogue and unusually funny situations, without a dull moment. Of the players it must be said that each one played the part allotted in a convincing manner, showing a conception of what was demanded, which would reflect credit on even the best of professionals. In fact the production was one of the best laugh producers theatre patrons have been privileged to enjoy. Anything that might suggest "amateur" was noticeably absent. While credit must be given to all the players, the splendid acting of Mr. William Lovell, who also directed and staged the production, is worthy of special comment. Mr. Lovell, previous to the war, was in the theatrical business, which he gave up to go overseas, and expects to again take up this line of activity in the near future. Should he return to Virden with a company, patrons may be sure that they will get whatever he promises. He is a good actor, a good producer, and a good fellow. The same ma ybe said for the rest of the players as regarding their ability, and should they decide to come to the Auditorium with further productions they may be assured of a warm welcome.

Those who were unable to enjoy this play or stayed away because it was only "amateur," missed many a hearty laugh and an evening of splendid entertainment.

ITALIANS HAVING TROUBLES WITH SLAVS IN ISTRIA

Territory Which Passed Under Italian Control at Armistice Time

Trieste, March 28.—(By Mail)—Italian military authorities here say they have inherited from the war a lot of difficulties and problems in controlling the Slav population in Istria and the region surrounding Gorizia. This territory constitutes part of the Adriatic question which still remains unsettled by the Supreme Council. It passed under Italian control by the establishment of the armistice line at the end of the war.

In this territory there are more than 400,000 Slovenes who resent the surveillance of the Italian military police. Revolting Slav elements fired with Socialism, Communism and Bolshevism, intermittently attack the Italian military patrols and carabineers of the army of occupation.

In these districts there have been within a year 20 assassinations and 1,000 arrests. Attempts have been made to set up a Communistic regime at Dignano where large stores of ammunition which belonged to the old Austrian army had been collected and hidden beneath a building used as headquarters of a workmen's committee. The plot was discovered by the Italian police who raided the headquarters and arrested 130 Slavs. During the fighting with the Communists the building was wrecked by bombs.

Bolshevik outbreaks alleged to have been organized by Slav workmen nave taken place at Pola, and a large Italian garrison is maintained at this formerly Austrian port, now the Eastern base of the Italian Adriatic fleet. Disorders by Slavs have been frequent near Gorizia.

MONUMENT TO EDITH CAVELL IN TRAFALGAR SQUARE

London, April 16.—A monument to Edith Cavell, the British nurse who was shot by the Germans at Brussels, has been erected in Charing Cross Road, just off Trafalgar Square, and almost under the shadow of the Nelson Monument.

The unveiling ceremony was conducted before a huge crowd by the Queen other, Alexandra, being the first act of state she has performed in London since the death of her husband, King Edward VII.

The monument is of grey granite and stands forty feet high. On the four panels are the words: Humanity, Sacrifice, Devotion and Fortitude. On the back is the British lion trampling on a serpent and above it are the words: "Faithful unto Death."

The statue, of white marble, shows Nurse Cavell standing erect in her nurse's uniform. On the base is the inscription:

"Edith Cavell
Brussels
Dawn, October 12, 1915."

INDUSTRIAL TORPOR MUST BE SHAKEN OFF BY FRANCE

Writes Former President Poincaire — Deals With Tragic Comedy at Ruhr

PROOF OF ENERGY

By France in Dealing With Ruhr Situation is Approved

Paris, April 14.—Former President Poincare, writing in the Revue des Deux Mondes, of the financial situation in France, speaks optimistically of the future of the export trade. He emphasizes the need of shaking off the industrial torpor and of an adequate supply of coal for the nation's industries M. Poincare dwells especially upon the success which has attended the peculiar means employed by Germany to restrict shipments of coal and tries. M. Poincare dwells especially England and America, for the condition of German industries. He characterizes the events in Ruhr as a "tragic comedy" and approves as absolutely necessary the French Government's manifestation of energy in dealing with the situation.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY TAKES ON NEW LIFE

Flower Show to Be Held This Fall to Be Best Ever Attempted

The Brandon Horticultural Society was re-organized at a well-attended meeting held Tuesday evening in the City Hall. Officers for the coming year were elected and plans made for the carrying on of the Society's work during the present season, while there was also discussion on the flower show to be held. This show is to be the largest of its kind ever attempted by the Society and will probably be held in August or September. The prize list will be a large one and should attract many entries.

The officers elected for 1920 were as follows: Honorary President, P. Middleton; President, T. M. Percival; 1st Vice-President, R. Burn; 2nd Vice-President, E. Knapp; 3rd Vice-President, H. L. Patmore; Secretary, A. G. Warr; Treasurer, D. Shiliff; Auditor, D. H. Scott; Botanist, B. J. Hales; Horticulturist, F. Shrives. Mr. H. Brown was appointed as the Society's representative to the Summer Fair Board.

COMMONS PASSES CLAUSE TEN OF FRANCHISE BILL

Which Prohibits Contributions to Campaign Funds by Associations

Ottawa, April 14.—Clause 10 of the Franchise Bill, prohibiting contributions directly or indirectly to candidates, campaign funds by any incorporated of unincorporated company or association unless incorporated for political purposes alone, passed in the Commons last night without a division. An amendment introduced by A. R. McMaster (Brome) which would prohibit contributions by any but private individuals and then enforce the publication of all such contributions was defeated, also without a vote.

Mr. McMaster's resolution brought out the first really spirited fight of the session. Farmer members from the Western provinces figuring largely in the list of speakers.

F. A. Davis (Neepawa) from the government benches declared he would vote for the amendment because it provided for the publication of all contributions.

SARNIA PLANTS MAY CLOSE BECAUSE OF STRIKE ON U. S. RAILWAYS

Windsor, April 14.—Unless the United States Railway strike comes quickly to an end, thousands of Sarnia residents may be thrown out of work as a result of a number of industrial plants being forced to close within a week on account of a fuel shortage, and not being able to secure raw material from the U. S.

NEW BUILDINGS PLANNED FOR THE SUMMER FAIR

At Probable Cost of About $40,000 —Directors to Consider Report

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

To House Offices Which Have Been Provided for in Grand Stand

New buildings and many improvements to the Fair grounds are now being planned for this year by the Summer Fair officials which will probably mean an expenditure of more than $40,000. A meeting of the building committee of the Summer Fair was held on Tuesday and many recommendations for new buildings were made and these will be passed on to a meeting of the Board of Directors to be held next Tuesday. It is expected that the Directors will decide on the extension work being carried out, and that many new buildings will make their appearance on the grounds of the Summer Fair.

Among the buildings planned is an administration building to take care of offices now taken care of in the East end of the Grand Stand. Here all the business in connection with the Fair could be handled, while provision could also be made for other offices. Another display building is needed and a recommendation has been made to the directors for its erection this Summer. Further sanitary arrangements are being planned for the use of the stockmen, while roads and walks will probably receive the attention of the Fair Directors when the recommendations made by the Building Committee come up for discussion next Tuesday.

TURKEY TRICK PROVES GOOD ONE

"It's over, and can't be helped, and that's one consolation as they always say in Turkey." But for two turkeys to remain in a snow drift for three weeks and be none the worse for their imprisonment surely beats all records in Manitoba.

On the day of the big snowstorm about the middle of March, Mrs. J. R. Anderson, Pelican Lake, Brandon, lost two turkeys and expected to find their dead bodies when the snow disappeared. On Wednesday, April 7th the turkeys came to life again after being buried under the snow for three weeks and two days. One of the turkeys was able to get out of the snow prison and when the other was liberated it flew away as if nothing had happened. Both turkeys seem to be none the worse for their confinement and lack of food.

$8000! COULD YOU USE IT?

If you think you could, why not represent your district in this big Campaign.

Notice the very small list of workers shown below and figure out for yourself the brilliant chances you are bound to have.

We guarantee that every energetic competitor will be well rewarded.

Send in your name now.

Read These TWO BIG EXTRA OFFERS

An Extra Point Offer

In order to oassist each and every competitor to get an early start towards the special prize "Piano," we will give a bonus point certificate good for 75,000 Extra points for each and every $15 worth of subscriptions secured this week, that is before next Saturday night, April 24

These $15 clubs may be composed of either new, renewal or arrearage subscriptions. $30 worth of subscriptions secured this week will entitle the competitor to 150,000 Extra points: $45 worth to 225,000 Extra points, etc. There is no limit to the number of points a competitor may secure this week through the $15 club offer—one certificate good for 75,000 Extra points will be given for each and every $15 worth of subscriptions secured.

MAKE REPORTS OFTEN

It is not necessary to send or bring in the entire $15 or $30 or $45 etc., at one time. An accurate record is kept at the Competition Department of what each competitor turns in, and as soon as $15 worth of subscriptions have been received, the competitor will be issued with the certificate good for 75,000 points.

Phone all of your friends at once. Get them to give you the promise of their subscription before some other enterprising competitor reaches them. Then be sure to see them this week, collect the subscription money and turn it in to the Competition Department before Saturday night, next, in order that you may receive the bonus certificate of 75,000 Extra points.

THE EXTRA PRIZE PIANO

To date the list of competitors in the big $8,000.00 Competition is extremely small as will be seen by the list shown on this page. The great majority of places are not represented at all by a Candidate. This means that an enormous opportunity lies open for more live contestants. The large sum of money to be given in prizes will make it certain that every worker will be rewarded magnificently.

Quite probably a great many prospective contestants have been hesitating about entering in order to first see how many others were in the field. The list given below tells the tale.

Practically nothing has been done to date and in order to start the Campaign off we are going to give an elegant mahogany finish, Ennis Piano, valued at $450.00 to the competitor doing the best work in the next three weeks. The winner of course may also win the big $1855.00 Chevrolet "Baby Grand" Touring Car at the close of the Competition which makes it an offer doubly attractive.

The winning will not be difficult. A little effort is the essential factor and The Sun guarantees that it is effort that will win.

The Prize For Three Weeks Work

This elegant Ennis Piano valued at $450.00 will be given as an extra prize for the best work done in the next three weeks only. The piano is finished in mahogany and of an exquisite design. See it on exhibition at "Kennedy's," Rosser Avenue, Brandon. Remember—The winner can also win one of the Touring Cars.

Is Your Name on This List?
You Are Losing If It Is Not.

There Can Be Nothing More Simple

Competitors are wanted in every section of the territory. The field covered by The Sun is very large and there is a great deal of work to be done. There are a few competitors in various parts of the country but certainly not nearly enough to cover all of the ground that is to be covered. It is an appeal to your sense of good judgement to see that an opportunity lies open to you which is second to none and it is not very likely to be repeated again. Your chances of winning are extra good because there is so much to be won. They are better because there are so few competitors to win what is to be won. On top of that, if you are at all energetic and determined you cannot lose because The Sun guarantees a commission of ten per cent. to every energetic competitor who does not win a prize.

What bigger inducement could be offered. Effort will win the prizes and few people would admit that they did not possess the same amount of grit as the next fellow.

Don't be hampered by a little timidity or lack of confidence. You could never win a race without running it and you would quite probably never know how many friends you had to help you until you got into it.

Everything is in your favor. You have everything to gain and nothing to lose. Why hesitate? The Competition is just starting. Send in your name.

THERE WILL BE NO LOSERS

A Commission of 10 per cent. will be given to every energetic Competitor who does not win a prize.

The Free Prizes
and how they will be awarded

The prizes listed below will be designated in the competition as Capital Prizes, and they will be awarded to the four Sun Competitors who receive the highest number of points to their credit at the close of the Competition (regardless of district). First Capital Prize will be awarded to the person having highest number of points; Second Capital Prize to the one having the second highest number of points, etc.

FIRST CAPITAL PRIZE—$1,855.00 Chevrolet "Baby Grand" Touring Car.
SECOND CAPITAL PRIZE—$1,145.00 Chevrolet Touring Car.
THIRD CAPITAL PRIZE—$850.00 Ennis Player Piano.
FOURTH CAPITAL PRIZE—$300.00 Starr Phonograph.

GERMANY MUST BE BROUGHT TO TIME AT ONCE

Allied Premiers Discuss Steps That May be Taken for This Purpose

ECONOMIC PRESSURE

Advocated by Lloyd George, Condemned as Inefficient by the French Premier

San Remo, April 19.—The Inter-Allied Supreme Council began its formal sessions here today. There seems no doubt that the premiers are agreed that a joint declaration must be sent Germany requiring her to fulfil the conditions of the Versailles Treaty and if she does not do so, the Allies will take measures to compel her.

Premier Lloyd George suggested economic pressure depriving Germany of food, raw materials and intercourse with Allied countries. Millerand declared such pressure without the use of naval or military aid would in effect be no pressure at all. The only pressure to be effective, he asserted, would be force—application of such force as military and naval advisors might deem sufficient.

No Revision of Treaty

Paris, April 19.—Demands that the Allies during the San Remo meeting resist all attempts to revise the terms of the Versailles Treaty with Germany, was made by Raymond Poincaire, former President of the French Republic, in an article published by The Matin. France and Belgium have been "deprived of guarantees" by the failure of Great Britain and the United States to put the Tri-Partite Convention into operation, he says.

Peace Treaty With Turkey

San Remo, April 19.—Questions in connection with the peace treaty with Turkey will comprise the first business to be taken up by the Supreme Council of the Allies at its first formal session here today. This was decided upon at a conference in the Duvachan palace, where the sessions are to be held, attended by Premiers Lloyd George of Great Britain, Nitti of Italy, and Millerand of France, for the arrangement of the official procedure. With the premiers were Foreign Minister Scialoia, of Italy, Earl Curzon, the British Foreign Secretary, and General Berthelot, the French Chief of Staff.

It was agreed that daily communiques should be issued as upon the occasion of previous sessions of the council.

U. S. Not Represented

It has developed definitely that the United States would not be represented at the conference. The prime ministers of the three great powers — Lloyd George, Nitti and Millerand — have expressed regret that the United States was taking no part in what is regarded as one of the final acts of the Peace Conference. So far as it can be sensed the feeling here is that the absence of America is only a temporary one and that the reasons for her present detachment are likely to disappear. For the present, however, the prime ministers, foreign ministers and ambassadors of Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, Belgium and Greece, at the meeting are pre-occupied with problems particularly affecting themselves, and there is no desire to swell unduly upon the lack of American participation.

May Last Two Weeks

Nice, France, April 19.—Earl Curzon, British Secretary for Foreign Affairs, on his arrival here Saturday, en route to the Supreme Allied Council meeting at San Remo, said he expected the conference to last ten days or a fortnight.

FRANCE MAY HAVE STANDING ARMY OF 700,000 MEN

French Government Officials Propose That 350,000 Conscripts be Kept Constantly Training

Paris, April 19.—France must maintain an army of 700,000 men until enemy countries show their good will by executing the terms of their treaties, in the opinion of the Government officials. Plans now under contemplation call for 350,000 conscripts constantly under training, eighteen months service being required of each man.

RENEWED RIOTING IN LONDONDERRY

Belfast, April 19.—There was renewed rioting in Londonderry, Sunday evening, between Unionists and Sinn Feiners, the police clubbing both impartially. Revolvers were used freely.

EXPENDITURE BY BRITAIN BELOW LATEST ESTIMATE

Austen Chamberlain, Chancellor of Exchequer, Estimates Revenue at £1,341,650,000

London, April 19.—Austen Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, introducing the budget in the House of Commons today, said that the expenditure for 1920 was approximately £144,000,000 in excess of budget estimates last year, but £63,000,000 below the revised estimates made last October. Revenue, he said, was exceedingly favorable, being estimated at £1,341,650,000.

HAY SELLS FOR $40 A TON ON THE MARKET HERE

The hay faminne which has caused so much trouble for the farmers of Saskatchewan and Alberta, is keenly felt here. Hay is practically off the market in this city and what little can be obtained occasionally has advanced in price and is selling for forty dollars a ton. Some farmers West of the city are shipping what little they can spare to the Western provinces and supplies are being shipped from all districts where hay is obtainable so that the shortage will be lessened. Saturday thirty tons of hay and straw were destroyed during a fire in Winnipeg.

Only in the extreme North of Saskatchewan does there seem to be an adequate supply of hay for the herds. A shortage of this commodity is reported from all other parts of the province. At Jack Fish Lake there is practically no hay left and the herd owners are faced with the serious problem of carrying their cattle over until the pastures are once more available.

Owing to the late Spring in Vancouver hay has been in great demand as cattle have been unable to get on the range. Two carloads of hay will be shipped this week from Vancouver to relieve the shortage in Alberta.

DOES FLAVORING EXTRACT CAUSE A JAZZY JAG?

Victoria, B.C., April 19.—What is a "jazzy jag?" The Attorney-General of British Columbia has been asked to answer this question before the present terms of the Provincial legislature closes. In a set of questions filed in the legislature, Mr. J. Pooley (Esquimalt) asks for particulars as to the amount of alcohol purchased by a company during the last three years to be used in the manufacture of a flavoring extract. Finally he inquires: "Does the extract manufactured produce what is technically known as a "jazzy jag' among the users?"

MYSTERIOUS SHOOTINGS PUZZLE NEW YORK POLICE: TWO VICTIMS HAVE DIED

New York, April 19.—Three mysterious shootings on the East side during the past twenty-four hours, all of them apparently the work of unidentified snipers, are puzzling the police. Two of the men have died and the third is in a serious condition. They were found on the street by the police.

BROOKLYN WHARVES ABLAZE: FIRE STARTED ON BOARD SHIP

New York, N.Y., April 19—Fire starting on the steamship Halfried, loaded with nitrates, today threatened the destruction of the Bush street terminals in Brooklyn. Two piers caught fire quickly. All available fire fighting apparatus is fighting the flames.

KEMNAY COMMUNITY CLUB MEMBERS TO PLAY TOGETHER THIS SUMMER

The first meeting for the Summer session of the Kemnay Community Club was held Friday evening at Kemnay, when a discussion as to what form the meetings should take during the Summer months, took place. Mr. Dixon, the President, gave a short address an "Community Ideals," and told some of the ideals which should be before a community in order to keep it united. The motto of the club is, "Work together, think together, play together," and Mr. Dixon stated that nothing tended to draw people more than the social life of the Community.

It was finally decided that the club members meet each Friday evening during the Summer to "play together," and a recreation committee was appointed to plan the program of games and sports for the season.

A program of community singing was enjoyed and the meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

UNITED VETERANS TO AGAIN DEMAND $2,000 GRATUITY

From the Dominion Government, According to Resolution Passed at Toronto

AN EARLY ELECTION

To Give People of Canada an Opportunity to Express Their Wishes

Toronto, April 19. — A resolution was passed by the United Veterans League here, Sunday, to the effect that the Dominion Government would be given one more chance to vote the demanded $2,000 gratuity, and if they did not "come across" the veterans would send a delegation to the Governor-General to present their appeal. The resolution also advocated an early general election to give the people of Canada an opportunity to express their wishes on the question of further cash bonus to returned soldiers, and added that copies be sent to the King, the Governor-General, the Premier, and the Acting Premier.

PEOPLE BELIEVE IN LEAGUE OF NATIONS

All That is Necessary is to Provide It With Means of Action

Paris, April 19.—Leon Bourgeois, President of the Council of the League of Nations, is convinced of the usefulness of the league, declaring in the course of an interview that it is no longer a theoretical organization or a splendid Utopia.

"The work of its executive council I sufficient proof that the league is a practical body," said M. Bourgeois. "The Governments and people who want their differences settled or wish to make a complaint have been coming to the council with the certainty that they are appealing to a powerful and moral authority which is capable of having its decisions respected."

"Of course," M. Bourgeois continued, "differences of opinion occur during preliminary discussion, but how can these be avoided. All the delegates are inspired with deep feelings of humanity and strict justice.

"Enormous progress has been made in the direction of world peace. The people believe in the League of Nations, and to provide it with the necessary means of action is all that now remains to be accomplished."

PRUSSIAN PRINCE IS FINED FOR RECENT ASSAULT

Prince Joachim Albrecht and Party Pay for Attack on French Members

Berlin, April 19.—Prince Joachim Albrecht of Prussia was fined 500 marks Saturday for the part he played in the recent attack on members of the French commission in the dining room of the Hotel Adlon. Baron von Platen, who accompanied Prince Joachim Albrecht at the time of the assault, was fined 300 marks for attempted violence, while Prince Hohenlohe Langenburg, also a member of Joachim Albrecht's party was fined 1,000 marks for assault.

During the trial the accused men adopted the attitude that they were only remotely concerned in the assault.

CONTROL OF WHEAT BY FRENCH GOVT. FOR THREE YEARS

May Requisition Domestic Supplies, Monopolize Importation and Fix Prices

Paris, April 19.—The Government's program for wheat control provides for price fixing for three years, guaranteeing the producer an adequate return. The Government will monopolize the importation of all wheat and will retain its right to requisition domestic supplies.

J. SCHLITZ BREWING CO. RE-ORGANIZES BUSINESS

Milwaukee, April 19.—The Joseph Schlitz Brewing Company here has signalized the complete passing of the old fashioned saloon by organizing an entirely new corporation with 10,000 non-value shares, to take over all plants and warehouses of the old company. The new company is to engage in the manufacture and sale of beverages. The company is disposing of its saloon sites in various parts of the country.

SUIT AGAINST MARY PICKFORD CHARGES CONSPIRACY OF ALL

Suit Filed in Nevada to Set Aside Divorce Decree

Minden, Nev., April 19.—Mary Pickford-Fairbanks and her former husband Owen E. Moore, were named as defendants in a suit filed here by the State of Nevada to set aside a divorce decree recently granted the famous movie star. The suit to dissolve the divorce follows the marriage a few weeks ago of Miss Pickford to Douglas Fairbanks. It charges all three with conspiracy.

Allegations of fraud, perjury and collusion are contained in the complaint.

The Attorney-General describes Mrs. Moore's testimony, given at the divorce trial, which is attached to the complaint, as fraudulent and untrue, except as to the statement of the time of her marriage to Moore; and that "when she swore that she was a resident of Nevada she knew the fact to be the cantrary, and that she did not intend to make this state her home."

The marriage of Mrs. Moore and Fairbanks was referred to at length and characterized as illegal and of no force.

DOMINION WIDE THRIFT CAMPAIGN

Calgary Women Start Organization for Great Big Thrift Movement

Calgary, Alta., April 19. — Calgary women have organized a thrift campaign which they propose to make Dominion-wide. At the instigation of the Business Women's Club, all the women's organizations of the city sent representatives to the meeting where the movement was launched. Mrs. Bertha Stavert is chairman, and in her brief speech of acceptance of office, she declared that to make the movement effectual it must have all the women of Canada behind it. The work of the board is divided into five sections, national thrift, provincial thrift, community thrift, personal thrift and the press section. Each of these branches will have a junior branch. The city will hold a thrift week in the near future when all local merchants will be asked to make suitable window displays and as well plans were put forward for the holding of a three days conference in June to which it is hoped women from all over the Dominion will be drawn.

HEGGIE SELLS CLYDESDALES

Thomas Heggie of Condie, Sask., who has been a frequent exhibitor and consistent prize winner at Brandon fairs, has disposed of his Clydesdale stud consisting of three stallions and seventeen mares. The sale was a very satisfactory one, the twenty head of pure stocy averaging $657.50 per head. One team of geldings sold to the Cartage Company of Regina for $630, while one gelding went to W. Staton of Gray for $340.

The head of the stud, Prince of Muirhouse (Imp.) was sold to J. Beatty of Tregarva, Sask., for $3,950, which makes him the highest priced stallion ever sold at public auction in the Province of Saskatchewan. Golden Rose, a rising three year old and a noted winner at Western fairs, was sold to Alex. Nolan of Rouleau, Sask., for $1,025, and another three-year-old was disposed of to William Gibson of Indian ead, for $975.

MINISTER HESITATES TO GO TO COAST

Fears He May be Committed to Jail—Asks That Court Order be Set Aside

Vancouver, B.C., April 19.—Rev. R. G. Stewart, of Winnipeg, who is expecting a call to a Victoria church, fears he might be committed to jail if he enters British Columbia, his solicitor states in court here in an application to have set aside an order appointing Dr. M. Swenerton guardian of his six-year-old granddaughter, who, on the death-bed request of the child's mother, is being reared by Rev. Mr. Stewart and his wife, uncle and aunt of the child.

A writ of habeas corpus against Mr. Stewart was obtained by Dr. Swenerton last summer, but the child was in Manitoba and the order had no effect unless Mr. Stewart or the little girl comes into the province

Mr. Justice Killam suggested that Mr. Stewart come here and fight it out. He said it had never been suggested that he would be jailed for contempt of court.

KILMARNOCK WINS SCOTTISH SOCCER CUP ON SATURDAY

Play Superior Football and Defeat Albion Rovers 3-2 Before Large Crowd

Glasgow, April 19. — Kilmarnock won the Scottish Association football cup final at Hampden Saturday by defeating Albion Rovers by 3 goals to 2. The weather was splendid and 95,000 saw the match, a record for Scottish cup games. The play throughoutwas very keen and fast, but Kilmarnock showed better football, particularly in their forward division. In the first half Watson scored for the Rovers and Culley for Kilmarnock. Short and Smith added two more for Kilmarnock in the second half and Hillhouse scored for Rovers. In the final stages of the game players on both sides were excited and fouls were frequent, but Kilmarnock to the finish were always the more dangerous and thoroughly deserved their victory.

MRS. FINLEY-SHEPARD RESIGNS FROM NATIONAL BOARD OF Y.W.C.A. IN U.S.

Cleveland, April 19. — Mrs. Finley Shepard, formerly Miss Helen Gould, Saturday announced her resignation from the National Board of the Y.W.C.A. because of the "course of action" Friday of the convention here.

The action included the adoption of the "social ideals" of the churches and the adoption of a measure to have the association actually work for the legislation to make the "ideals a reality." The "ideals" include abolition of child labor, an 8-hour day for women in industry, a living wage as a minimum in every industry, old age pensions, relief from employment one day in

CHILD KICKED BY COLT

Stanley Hare, the small grandson of Mr and Mrs. J. Hinch of Brandon district was rather badly hurt last week when he was kicked by a colt. He was brought in to Brandon General Hospital where it was necessary to take nine stitches in the cut above his eye.

Two boys were driving with a man in a wagon on the farm and the man had told the boys to keep the colt away from the horses. They succeeded in doing this for some time, and then seeing the colt returning Stanley jumped out and went after it with the result that the colt kicked him, leaving the imprint of his hoof on the child's head. The lad is getting along splendidly and is back on the farm recovering from the result of the accident.

DEFEAT SCHEME FOR REFORM OF DIVORCE LAWS

British House of Commons Acts Contrary to General Expression of Opinion

London, April 19.—The curious feature about the defeat of the resolution in the House of Commons calling for the reform in the divorce laws is that while practically every newspaper has been urging some scheme of reform, the Commons defeated the resolution which, if carried, would have facilitated further progress with Lord Buckmaster's bill, which received its second reading in the House of Lords last month. On that occasion the Archbishop of Canterbury spoke of the perfectly undeserved stain cast on the Dominion's troops by the Lord Chancellor who asserted that thousands of women had been deserted.

The archbishop refuted this by stating that there were two hundred Canadian desertions out of 400,000 troops.

Several speakers in the Commons pointed triumphantly to the archbishop's assertion, although in his vindication Canadians were not specially mentioned. Ronald McNeill wittily said that the archbishop was a better lawyer than the Lord Chancellor because he called evidence in proof of his assertions. Only one-third of the members participated in the Commons' vote, it being asserted that Catholics and High Anglicans and "old-fashioned people," who prefer middle ages to the present, turned up to defeat the motion.

BETTER DEMAND FOR HORSES

During the past six years many horses have been shipped from Brandon to points in Western Canada and n some cases to Ontario. The demand for good work horses is brighter and farmers realize that much improvement must be made in machinery before it is equal to the horse.

Several buyers from outside points attended the sale of horses and cows held Saturday at Trotter & Trotter's horse exchange, and a number of good sales were made at reasonable prices.

BRILLIANT GRADUATE OF BRANDON COLLEGE GOES TO LOS ANGELES CHURCH

Rev. O. U. Chapman, pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist Church, Winnipeg, has resigned to accept the post of assistant pastor of the First Baptist Church, Los Angeles, California, of which Dr. James A. Francis is pastor. This is one of the largest Baptist churches on the Pacific coast.

Rev. Mr. Chapman will be remembered by many Brandon people. He is a graduate of Class '15, Brandon College, where he proved himself a very clever student, obtaining the general proficiency scholarship in his second and also in his third year course. During his Arts course he won honors in philosophy and history and during his final year won the scholarship for philosophy. While at the College he was the leader of the Evangelistic band which toured the three prairie provinces in 1915.

While taking his course Rev. Mr. Chapman had charge of the Emmanuel Baptist Church in this city for a year, and was also in charge of a church at Moosomin for a year.

LABOR MEN BUSY ON CANDIDATE AND PLATFORM TO BE DECIDED NEXT WEEK

There has been no developments in the nomination of a labor candidate over the week-end, according to information supplied this morning. Prominent Labor men have stated that as yet there is no general discussion of any name which is likely to come before the meeting of the various nominating committees to be held in about a week's time. Nominations to come before the general meeting are in the hands of the special committee appointed to look after that particular subject. As far as can be ascertained no names have been prominently put forward yet by any section of the labor men, although individuals have suggested the names of R. T. Smith, A. E. Smith and R. E. Bray.

That the putting forward of a radical nomination is bound to cause a split in the labor vote is the opinion expressed by a prominent labor man today. He stated that the labor men generally would not stand for any radical's name being put forward before the convention when it meets next week.

The railroad organizations are to meet next Sunday when the question of a Labor candidate from this city will come up for discussion and some policy to be followed at the Labor meeting next week, decided on.

TORONTO CARPENTERS GET 75 CENTS PER HOUR

Toronto, April 19.—Toronto carpenters and cabinet makers, including sash and door makers, have signed an agreement with their employers for a 44-hour week and 75 cents an hour, with he abolition of all piece work.

When some people spend their time in self-contemplation it looks to others like time thrown away.

SIX ARRESTS FOR HOLD-UP: QUICK WORK BY POLICE

Minnipeg, April 19.—Quick work on the part of the police resulted in the arrest of five men and a woman early Saturday morning, in connection with the hold-up shortly after midnight of William McLean, in his home at the Canada Cement works. Three men participated in the robbery, the police say. The third member of the trio is still at large.

Those under arrest are: George Loboduk, Joseph Wyrosub, Fred Smith, Julia Smith, Mike Skwarczynski and Dan Kamranski. The first two are charged with robbery with violence. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are charged with receiving the stolen articles, and the other two men are held as material witnesses.

Loboduk, Wyrosub and a third man drove out to McLean's house in an auto, the police say. McLean is employed as a foreman at the cement works and was in bed asleep. The three men, wearing masks and carrying revolvers, entered the house and demanded McLean's valuables, it is alleged. McLean was slow in putting up his hands and one of the men fired a shot under the bed. Then they rifled the bedroom, securing a watch and chain and $410 in cash. After warning McLean not to make a noise, they departed.

Find Stolen Articles

The city police were notified, and they in turn notified the Provincial Police, as the robbery occurred outside of the city limits. A few hours after the offence, Detectives Charles McIvor and James Melville, of the city police and Provincial Detective James Bain went to a house at 280 Jarvis avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Skwarszynski and Kamranski were in the house at the time, the police say. They were placed under arrest. Two revolvers, the watch and chain and $340 were found in the bed in which Mrs. Smith was sleeping, it is alleged. After a second trip to the house, Loboduk and Wyrosub were apprehended.

GEORGE LOCKE CHARGED WITH ATTEMPTED MURDER: IN WINNIPEG HOSPITAL

Winnipeg, April 19.—A charge of attempted murder faces George Locke if he recovers from the self-inflicted wounds which he received April 12 after wounding Miss Myra Fidler in a Kennedy street boarding house. The charge was sworn out against Locke Saturday morning in the city police station. At present Locke is lying in the Winnipeg General Hospital, with a bullet wound through his head.

There is no improvement in Locke's condition, according to hospital authorities. It is doubtful whether he will recover, they say. If he does, his brain may be affected, specialists claim.

Miss Myra Fidler was able to leave the General Hospital Friday. She has nearly recovered from the wound caused by the one shot which struck her.

KERR—MORSE

A very pretty wedding was solemnized Wednesday morning, April 14th, at the home of P. N. Marshall, 672 Beresford avenue, when Hilda Henrietta, only daughter of Rev. C. K. and Mrs. Morse was united in marriage to Colin Archibald Kerr, son of Mrs. Cain, 562 Rosedale avenue. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father in the presence of about forty relatives and immediate friends. The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Brenton C. Morse, of Brandon College, was attended by Miss Eva Fanson. The groom was supported by his cousin, Dr. D. Young. Miss Lillian Wilkinson played the wedding March and during the signing of the register Miss Fanson sang "At Dawning."

The bride looked charming attired in cream bunny's paw satin, trimmed with pearls. She wore a bridal veil caught with pearls and carried a bouquet of bridal roses and sweet peas. The bridesmaid was prettily gowned in pale pink satin, embroidered in blue and carried a shower bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Kerr will reside at Suite 15, Beresford Block, Fort Rouge.

FALCONS STAGE EXHIBITION FOR ANTWERP CHARITY

The Falcons are already having some work outs on the artificial sheet of ice at Antwerp in preparation for the games which commence next Friday. A game staged for charity purposes was put on by the Falcons when two teams were picked from among the defense and forwards and resulted in a win for the latter by 9-6. The Falcons are already finding their feet but find the narrow rink somewhat of a handicap. The speed of the players is bound to be hampered to some extent as there are to be seven men on the ice instead of six. However the Canadians look good o lift the world's title in the coming series the American team being their only serious contenders.

Among the teams entered are the Czecho-Slovaks from rague, but their style of play is vastly different from the Canadians. They run on their skates and it is every man for himself no attempt being made at combination play. The other teams entered are Sweden, France, Switzerland, Belgium, making seven teams in all that will compete for the world's championship.

ACCIDENT AT NOTTAWAY ONTARIO, RESULTS FATALLY FOR MISS HOPE CORBEAU

Collingwood, April 20.—Miss Hope Corbeau is dead, and Mrs. Charles T. Stephens, Samuel Galloway and others badly hurt, as a result of an automobile accident near Nottaway on Sunday. Two automobiles and a buggy all full of people, as well as pedestrians walking along the road were concerned in the accident.

SONS OF ENGLAND TO INSTITUTE JUVENILE LODGE ON APRIL 22

Lodge Brandon No. 174 Sons of England Benefit Society will institute a new Juvenile Lodge of the Society on St. George's eve, April 22nd, 1920. Parents of the candidates are requested to arrange for their sons to be at the lodge room, Fraternal Hall, Sixth street, at eight o'clock sharp.

The juvenile department of membership shall consist of an unlimited number of male members above the age of five and under the age of seventeen years, whose parents are both of Protestant faith and their ancestors English, according to the constitutional definition of that term, whether members of the Sons of England Benefit Society or not.

The new Juvenile Lodge being under the supervision of Lodge Brandon 174, it shall be optional to admit a child under the age of eight years.

FIRST STEAMER ARRIVED AT THE SOO ON MONDAY ICE THICK ON SUPERIOR

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 20.—Canal activity became a reality Monday when Sooites heard the sonorous blasts from the whistles of the steamer Harvester as she headed for the locks at nine o'clock. While reports had been prevalent that steamers would probably arrive, no news had reached here that they were already on their way. Slipping past Detour during the night, Capt. Smith put his boat into the ice above Pipe Island early Monday morning and successfully made his way through; the heaviest ice was encountered just above Sweets point.

The remainder of her trip through the river was uneventful. The steamer John J. Harlum is at Detour for fuel. When she arrives at Soo, both steamers will make an attempt to proceed further up the lakes. Ice conditions at White Fish Point, however, are not promising. The ice extends almost from Iroquois Point to beyond vision above White Fish Point. White Fish Bay is heavily packed and windrowed and no open water is visible in Lake Superior.

REV. RUPERT G. STEWART WELL KNOWN IN BRANDON LIVED HERE FOR MONTHS

Rev. Rupert G. Stewart, who hesitates to accept a call to a church in Victoria B.C., fearing that he might be committed to jail if he enters British Columbia, is well known to many Brandon people. He was a resident of this city for several months during the past year, coming to Brandon in the Fall of 1919 and going to Winnipeg in March to supply the pulpit of Westminister Church during the absence of Dr. David Christie. Rev. Stewart did excellent work in this city in connection with the Forward Movement and also gave several addresses at district points during the campaign.

Prior to coming to Brandon, the Rev. Mr. Stewart had been visiting in Victoria where he took his family to recuperate after influenza. While in that city he acted as minister of the First Presbyterian Church. Rev. Mr. Stewart was for nine years minister in charge of the Robertson Presbyterian Church at Edmonton, Alta.

GERMANS IN PRAGUE ATTACKED ACTORS WITH KNIVES, CLUBS, STONES

Prague, April 20.—A band of Germans caused a disturbance in a theatre at Biskupitz, Southwest of Bruenn, attacking the actors with knives, clubs and stones. Three of the actors and several of the spectators were injured. There was no guard of Allied troops in the town at the time, but on the demand of the French commandant, British troops were sent to preserve order.

FRANCE TO TAKE IT'S PLACE IN ATHLETIC WORLD

Paris, April 20.—Athletics and athletic development is occupying a prominent place in French politics at the present time. The recent successes of native talent in various branches of sport, such as the cross-country performances of Guillemot, the French rugby victory in international contest with Ireland, and the brilliant achievements of the French idol, Georges Carpertier, have all contributed toward this. France will soon have a national athletic field, which is to be established at Sevran-Livry (Sein et Oise). According to present intentions, the grounds will contain a motor racing track with a perimeter or five kilometres and an Olympic stadium to accommodate 60,000 spectators. A swimming pool, football fields, lawn tennis courts and running tracks will also be laid out and as a modern departure, a landing ground for airplanes will be allowed for.

Another development showing the interest the government is taking in sport comes from the department of war, which has ordained that association football (soccer) shall be compulsory in the French army. The "Poilus" will therefore learn to bang a ball toward goal with the same precision and under the same discipline as they "form fours" or take post for "action front."

ESKIMO AND INDIAN MUST ANSWER TO MURDER CHARGES

Eskimo Said to Have Slain Husband of Woman He Desired

The Pas, Man., April 20.—Two natives charged with murder are en route to civilization from Hudson's Bay in charge of Mounted Police and are expected here on May 9th. One is an Eskimo who killed a fellow tribesman at Chesterfield Inlet, the most Northerly trading post on the bay, and the other is an Indian from York Factory. The Eskimo murder occurred two months ago and arose over a dispute about an Eskimo wife. The victim refused to give up his wife to the demands of his slayer, who immediately shot him and challenged the tribe to a battle royal in the open. It was not accepted and the murderer, according to information received here, seized the woman and escaped to the Barren Lands with his dog team. Sergt. Douglas, of the Mounted Police, took up the trail and after several weeks he caught up and captured him.

The second murder took place at Ten Shilling Creek, near York Factory, on April 1st. Isaac Miles, an Indian, shot and killed James Astesticont, another Indian, during a dispute over traps. Sergt. Thompson, of the Mounted Police took Miles in charge.

DENIM OVERALLS IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

Ottawa, April 2.—Denim overalls invaded the House of Commons today. C. G. MacNeil and David Loughnan, Great War Veterans' Association officials, appeared before the Pensions ommittee clad n khaki denim suits. All members of the executive have donned such suits. They hope to encourage he returned men everywhere to wear overalls until the price of other clothing is reduced.

YORK COUNCILLORS TAKE COVER FROM MADMAN AND A GUN

Toronto April 20.—Henry Hayes made the entire Council of York Township take cover yesterday. After delivering a long story to the Council of land troubles and refusing to discontinue he produced a revolver and pointed it at Reeve Miller shouting "This is a .44; now I will get justice" Hayes was put under arrest. It is supposed he is mentally unbalanced.

OBITUARY

Mrs Mary Jane Tindall

Many Brandon friends will regret to learn of the death of Mrs Mary Jane Tindall, aged fifty-four years and ten months, which occurred Saturday, at the General Hospital. The late Mrs. Tindall was only ill a short time and the announcement of her death was a shock to many who knew her. Throughout the war the late Mrs. Tindall worked untiringly for patriotic causes and also did splendid work for the Great War Veterans' Association. One son, Sergt.Major S. Tindall, made the supreme sacrifice in France, August 26th, 1918. Two daughters, Misses Beatrice and Millie Tindall, and four sons, Messrs. Robert, Fred, and George all at home, and Mr. Charles Tindall of Toronto, are left to mourn the loss of a loving mother.

James L. Blodgett

The remains of the late Mr. James L. Blodgett who passed away at his home, 437 Fifth street, on Saturday at the age of seventy-two years, were laid to rest in Brandon cemetery this afternoon. Staff Captain Howell officiated.

After a short service at the family residence the cortege proceeded to the Salvation Army Citadel where many friends were assembled to pay their last tribute to the deceased. The late Mr. Blodgett was a member of the Loyal Orange Lodge and many members of the Lodge were present at this service, and also later at the cemetery.

In the death of Mr. Blodgett the Salvation Army of this city has lost one of its most earnest helpers. Coming to Brandon sixteen years ago from Palmerston, Ontario, the late Mr. Blodgett continued the excellent work in the Brandon corps that he had been doing in the East. He had been connected with the Salvation Army for thirty years and was one of its keenest supporters. He is survived by his wife, two daughters and a son.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Parker

The remains of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Anne Parker, beloved wife of Mr. John Hyde Parker, were laid to rest in Brandon cemetery Wednesday afternoon, following a short service at the residence of the late Mrs. Parker's son, 551 Sixth street. Brother Fidler of the Associated Bible Students, officiated, and was assisted by Brother White and Brother Darke.

The late Mrs. Parker was born in Burnley, Lancashire, England, in 1845, and came to Canada with her husband and family in 1899, and resided in the Nesbitt district since that time.

Besides her husband there are left to mourn her loss two daughters, Mrs. Thos. Lingard of Brandon, and Mrs. Wm. Burnard of Toronto, and three sons, Richard and William of Brandon, and Clifford of Nesbitt.

Miss Annie Mabel Clark

The remains of the late Miss Annie Mabel Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Clark, 228 Thirteenth street, were laid to rest in Brandon cemetery, Tuesday afternoon, following a short service in St. Paul's Church. Rev. J. George Miller conducted the service at both the church and the graveside. The pall bearers were Messrs. Bruce and Glen Thompson, Bert Moore, Alvah Quigley, Fred Howard and Hector Eyres.

The cortege left the family residence at 1.45 and proceeded to the church where a large number of friends were waiting to pay a last tribute to the late Miss Clark. Many beautiful flowers testified to the esteem in which she was held by those who knew her. After the impressive service at the church the cortege proceeded to the cemetery where interment was made.

Mrs. Meryel Robinson

The death occurred in the city this morning of Mrs. Meryel Robinson, beloved wife of Mr. A. J. Robinson, Suite 6, Chatham Block, and daughter of Mrs. Charles Callender formerly of this city and now of Walpole, Sask. The late Mrs. Robinson, who was twenty-two years of age, was operated upon for appendicitis at the Brandon General Hospital a week ago Monday and later contracted pneumonia to which she finally succumbed. Besides her husband, and mother, five sisters, Mrs. Jos. Shott, Fleming, Sask., Mrs. C. Clay of Fairlight, Sask., and the others residing in Walpole, Sask., and three brothers, who all live in Walpole with the exception of Mr. E. Callender of Marsden, Sask., are left to mourn her loss.

QUANTITIES OF SMALL ARMS BEING SMUGGLED INTO IRELAND NOW

London, April 20.—Replying to a question Monday in the House of Commons as to whether there had been attempts at gun-runing into Irish seaports recently, Andrew Bonar Law, the government spokesman, said there had been numerous rumors regarding illegal landing of arms and undoubtedly small arms were being introduced surrentitiously into Ireland.

DR. CROMARTY OF TORONTO TO JOIN BIGELOW CLINIC

Dr. R. Cromarty of Toronto, Ont., is expected to arrive in the city in about two weeks time to commence his new duties as a member of the staff of the Bigelow Clinic. Dr. Cromarty, it is understood, is a graduate of the Toronto University and saw service overseas. For some time he has been a member of the surgical staff of the Toronto General Hospital. Dr. Cromarty comes to this city highly recommended and should prove a welcome addition to the medical life of Brandon.

SUBURBAN PARK DEAL EXPLAINED TO PARKS BOARD

Committee Report Steps Taken to Secure Park Site for City

ORIGINAL CROWN GRANT

Being Looked Into—Purchase of Small Strip Has Been Decided on

A report from the specal committee appointed to look after the Suburban Park project was made at the regular meeting of the Parks Board held Monday night. It was stated in the report that negotiations have been undertaken that should complete the deal at an early date and allow the Parks Board to proceed with their plans for the park. At Monday night's meeting Superintendent Shrives' salary was increased from $1,600 to 1,800, while H. L. Adolph was again appointed chairman of the Board for this year.

The three standing committees for the year were chosen as follows, the first named in each case being the chairman of his committee:

Finance—J. S. Maxwel , A. F. Campbell, Alderman McKenzie and Alderman Curran.

Parks—A. F. Campbell, Alderman McKenzie, Mayor Dinsdate, and Dr. S. J. McKee.

Boulevards—D. Shiriff, A. F. Campbell, Alderman McKenzie and E. Knapp.

A committee from the Stanley Park Lawn Bowling Club waited on the Board and asked for certain extensions, which were granted.

Negotiations for Park Purchase

The report of the special committee to the Board on the Suburban Park was as follows:

"The following is a brief resume of the steps which have been taken to acquire the Suburban Park, situated on the Industrial School grounds, and the results of the negotiations to date. After the resumption of negotiations, your special committee had several meetings with the Rev. Mr. Ferrier, who went both to Toronto and Ottawa in order to interview his Church Board and the Indian Department with reference to the proposed park establishment. Finally on January 7th, 1920, a cheque was issued to the Department of Indian affairs in the sum of $6,000 for the 99 years lease of the lands referred to, and this cheque was taken to Ottawa by Rev. Mr. Ferrier. In the meantime your committee were negotiating with the Dominion Government for the acquisition of a small strip of river frontage (about two and one-half acres), not included in the Industrial School site, but adjacent thereto, together with a portion of the old road allowance, and both of which are very necessary for the proper completion of the park. Our requests were duly acknowledged, but we were advised that the Department was looking into the original Crown grant to Mr. Stewart. In the matter of the purchase of the small strip etc. we received definite word on April 12th that the Government had decided to allow the city to purchase the strip at a valuation to be fixed by a Homestead Inspector, and that the Dominion Land Agent at Winnipeg had been instructed to detail an inspector for that purpose.

"On the 13th of April we wrote Hon. Arthur Meighen and Dr. Whidden, requesting them to close the deal as quickly as possible as the season was advancing. In all probability the lease will be forwarded from Ottawa shortly."

GERMAN MINISTER PREDICTS FINANCIAL COLLAPSE SOON

Minister of Treasury Declares War Profiteers Take Advantage of Nation

Berlin, April 26.—Germany's financial collapse is near, according to a statement made before the National Assembly yesterday by Dr. Wirth, Minister of the Treasury, while presenting the budget for the coming year. The Minister attacked war profiteers who, he declared, are turning the nation's economic plight to their own advantage.

CALEDONIAN RINK IS BEING TORN DOWN

Soon the Caledonian Rink will be but a memory. The tearing down of this large building was commenced last week and is well under way today. It is being very carefully taken apart and the lumber, it is understood, will be sold. Whether a new rink will be built on this site or the land sold for other purposes has not yet been announced.

REPORT ANNIHILATION OF JAPANESE DIVISION

London, April 27—A Russian firm in Tien Tsin, China, has received a cablegram announcing the annihilation of a Japanese division in the Khabarovsk district of Siberia. No official statement could be obtained.

COL. CY. PECK'S SON BADLY HURT BY FALLING DOWN STAIRS IN OTTAWA HOTEL

Ottawa, April 27.—As a result of a fall on Saturday, Horace Peck, the four-year-old son of Col. C. W. Peck, V.C., M.P., lies in St. Luke's hospital in a serious condition. The little lad is suffering from a fractured skull, and although his physician considers that he is progressing satisfactorily, he is in a very critical condition. While playing around the Chateau Laurier, he fell down one of the iron stairs at the rear of the hotel.

ANCIENT VENTURE RECALLED BY NEW ROUTE SHIP TAKES

Megantic Sails Over Route Laid Out for Golden Age in 1854

Sydney, April 27.—Departure from here recently of the White Star liner Megantic for Liverpool by way of New Zealand, the Panama Canal, the West Indies and New York, recalls her historic forerunner of 1854.

This vessel, the Golden Age, was a wooden paddle-wheel steamer, belonging to the New York and Australian Steam Navigation Company The intention of the company was to run six vessels "via Panama," the Panama Railroad, capitalized at $7,000,000, being the connecting link on the then undivided isthmus with the West India Royal Mail Steam Packet Company running from Southampton.

The Crimean War, yellow fever on the isthmus and other causes, conspired to defeat the company's plans. The Golden Age was commanded by Lieutenant D. D. Porter, of the United States Navy, who afterwards became famous as a Union Admiral during the Civil War.

The Golden Age left Melbourne for Panama via Sydney and Tahiti, May 5th. 1854. She reached Sydney on May 11th with 300 passengers. Her cargo included a consignment of gold dust.

NEW AUSTRALIAN TARIFF INTENDED TO GIVE BOOST

To Manufacturers Who Will Be Set on Road, But Must Walk Alone.

Sydney, Australia, March 18.—(By Mail) — The proposed new Australian tariff is not intended to encourage manufacturers in "slothful ease" or to enable them to operate on any other basis than merit, declared Prime Minister Hughes, at a luncheon given here by the Australian Industries Protection League.

"The manufacturers of Australia," he said, "must take advantage of the opportunity which now unfolds itself before them. The government intends to lay upon the table of the House a tariff bill which has been carefully prepared with the deliberate intention of encouraging effectively the industries of Australia; but I want to tell the manufacturers that they must not think to find a safe and permanent shelter behind that tariff all.

"You must live on your merits. The manufacturers of Australia must realize, as some have already done, that the bulwarks are imposed by the sparseness of our population. They must build their plants with the fullest intention of competing in the markets of the world. The tariff can set you on the road; but you must walk alone."

800 MEN WOMEN CHILDREN KILLED GUATEMALA CITY

During the Revolt Which Resulted in Overthrow of President Cabrera

San Salvador, April 27.—Men, women and children to the number of 800 were killed in recent fighting in Guatemala City during the revolt which resulted in the overthrow of President Manuel Estrada Cabrera.

RAILROADS IN RUSSIA SUFFER BIG SETBACK

Present Facilities for Production Unequal to Task of Catching Up

NEW ROLLING STOCK

And Locomotives will Have to Be Imported to Restore Normal Conditions

Moscow, April 27.—Russian railroad shops, working at the maximum of peace time capacity, will require more than 10 years to restore normal traffic with the present facilities of production, according to a survey recently published in the Economic Life. The chief needs are shown to be the importation of rolling stock and the home development of the transportation industry.

The survey shows that in 1914 the number of locomotives was approximately 20,000 with 16 per cent unfit for use. The present number of locomotives is about 10,000 with fifty-nine per cent out of commission or in need of repairs, and the number of cars 250,000. Lines in operation have also diminished about 20 per cent.

The maximum pre-war production in the Russian shops was 1,800 locomotives and 40,000 cars annually, and the number that retired each year was 1,300 locomotives and 30,000 trucks. The present need is for 15,000 locomotives and 450,000 cars.

EXPLOSION AND FIRE KILLS MAN; DESTROYS DES MOINES GAS PLANT

Des Moines, April 27.—One man was killed and six others seriously injured when an explosion and fire destroyed the Des Moines city gas plant early today. The explosion rocked buildings all over the city.

RADICAL PARTY IN DENMARK LOSES FIFTEEN SEATS

In Lower House of Parliament in Election Held on Monday

Copenhagen, April 27.—As a result of the elections held throughout Denmark yesterday, the Radical party lost fifteen seats in the lower house of parliament. "The Liberal party has conquered with an enormous number of votes and the election passed like a steamroller over the Radical party," says the Berlinske Tidende.

GAGNON BEATS DAUGHTER WITH WHIP AND BARREL STAVES; HAD 52 WOUNDS

Quebec, April 27.—Witnesses heard Monday morning at the trial of Telesphore Gagnon, charged with the murder of his daughter, Aurore, for whose death by brutal treatment, her stepmother, Marieanne Houde Gagnon, is awaiting execution, swore that he beat the girl with a whip and barrel staves. One beating took place just before Aurore was removed to hospital, where she was found to have 52 wounds, evidence showed.

CHAPMAN SHIPS TWO FINE BULLS TO INDIANA TO BE SOLD AT CHICAGO

Mr. J. A. Chapman, one of the best known cattle men in the Brandon district has just sent two fine young bulls to Indianna, where they will be fattened and put in condition for the big sale to be held at the Blue Ribbon fair at Chicago in June. Both buls are from Mr. Chapman's Hereford herd, Cliffora Fairfax and Royal Perfection and are two splendid animals. They are expected to realize large prices. It is anticipated that over $6,000 will be paid to Mr. Chapman by the purchasers, as the bulls are said to be the best in his herd. Mr. Chapman left on Sunday to look after the animals on their arrival at their destination.

PRINCESS PATS D COMPANY TO MOVE TO 'PEG

London Dispatch States They Are Part of Force to Keep Order On May Day

KETCHEN'S DENIAL

Officer Commanding M. D. Ten Says Move is Part of Plan

London, April 27.—D. Company, Princess Patricia's regiment, left here yesterday for Winnipeg, where it will be stationed indefinitely. It is understood that the troops are part of a force being made up to maintain order in the case that undue trouble should arise out of the May Day celebration in Winnipeg.

Nothing to do with May Day Parade

Winnipeg, April 27.—Major General H. D. B. Ketchen, declared this morning that the stationing of a company of the Princess Pats was simply part of the re-organization scheme for a permanent corps and had nothing to do with the May Day Parade. From other sources the same information was advanced.

FLATS MAY BE FLOODED; RIVER WATER RISES ONE FOOT

That there may yet be a flood on the flats seems to be the opinion of at least some people in the city. This morning Superintendent Shaw stated that the river had risen a foot higher and that the water was beginning to flood some of the pasture land along the banks. It is now necessary to keep a man employed at the intake to clear the ice away and a peculiar feature of this is that the ice seems to come down the river between the hours of 1 a.m. and 9 a.m. only. The rise in the river is possibly due to the increased supply of water coming down from the North country where the Spring is just beginning to break.

FRENCH LOSSES NOT SO GREAT AS FIRST REPORTED

Paris, April 27.—The latest information received at the foreign office from Asia Minor indicates that losses to French troops at Urfa, Northwest Mesopotamia, were less serious than first supposed. One large detachment is thought to have got back into the town while others escaped in other directions. The official version attributes the French reverse to treachery.

DOOR OF OPPORTUNITY STILL STANDS AJAR

Live Competitors Who Enroll Still Have the Most Excellent Chances of Being Big Winners.

From the standpoint of work done so far, the big Sun Competition has scarcely started. It is not a question of how many days of the Campaign have passed, which decides how good a new competitor's chances are, but rather how great a lead in subscriptions the workers already enrolled have got. To date little has been done, and possibly little will be done until the good weather permits getting down to the work of subscription-getting in real earnest.

This state of affairs makes it especially good for some new competitor to step in now and overtake those who have already started. This would certainly not be a difficult thing to do, the only requisite required being sufficient energy and determination to exert a little effort.

Two Special Inducements

In order to assist new entrants, two splendid offers are in force this week—a big extra point offer and a big extra prize offer. On the former, 75,000 Extra points will be given this week for each and every $18 worth of subscriptions secured. These points are EXTRA and are given in addition to the regular schedule which gives new competitors the opportunity of gaining sufficient points to set them up even with the leaders.

The second offer is even better still. A $450 Ennis Piano will be given for the best work done in three weeks time. Two more weeks still remain of this offer and as little has been done so far towards the winning, this enviable "special" may be said to be anyone's prize to date.

The amount of work done, coupled with the two big offers of this week make the chances of a new competitor, second to none, for the big awards.

If you have been hesitating about enrolling, send in your name at once. Begin your campaign now, before all of the other competitors have settled down to work in earnest.

CANADA MOVES TOWARDS DIRECT RELATIONS WITH U.S.

Sir Auckland Geddes to Come to Ottawa to Arrange Details

BRITAIN APPROVES

Of Establishment of Direct Diplomatic Relations—To Assist Canada

Washington, April 27.—With the approval of the British government, Canada has made definite overtures to the United States for the establishing of direct diplomatic relations between the two adjoining countries. It is understood that Sir Auckland Geddes will soon go to Ottawa and there arrange details of the new relationship, including the selection of the Canadian representative to be sent to Washington.

MEASLES EPIDEMIC NOT CHECKED; 85 CASES HERE

The measles epidemic continues to spread over the city. It was stated at the Health Department this morning that there are nearly eighty-five cases in the city at the present time. Last week the number was set at sixty and it was expected at that time that the spread of the measles had been checked, but such is apparently not the case. The spread does not seem to be confined to any one district recently, as was the case in the first report when fifty-eight cases out of the sixty reported last week were traced to the Central School. Efforts are being renewed by the Health Department to check a further spread of the measles, and precautions have been issued to all those infected not to mingle with other people and to keep away from large gatherings.

ESTIMATES OF WHEAT YIELDS IN MANY LANDS

Export Available From All Countries Which Is Estimated to Be 20,290,000 Tons

Washington, April 27.—According to cable advices from London, the commission on wheat supplies estimates the yield from Canada, Australia, New Zealand, United States, Argentina, Algeria, Roumania and India will be 50,250,000 tons, and exports available from all countries 20,290,000 tons.

These figures refer to the 1920 crop. The importation of wheat and rye requirements of the United Kingdom is given as 5,700,000 tons, and South Africa as 100,000.

PEOPLE OF U. S. MAY PAY MORE FOR SUGAR SUPPLY

Refineries Declare They Will Have to Advance Prices Because of Costs

Washington, April 27.—Representatives of the large sugar refineries and the department of justice officials conferred here but got no farther than discussing the whole sugar question. In the meantime reports persisted that another rise in sugar was imminent. Refiners declare they cannot guarantee adequate supplies without further increases in price, the abnormal demand for sugar having forced them into hard competition with foreign buyers.

HUNDREDS SLAIN BOLSHEVIK REVOLT IN JUGO-SLAVIA

Machine Guns Brought into Action in Belgrade—Riots Several Cities

London, April 27.—A Bolsheviki revolution has broken out in Jugo-Slavia. Machine guns have been brought into action in Belgrade, where hundreds are said to have been slain, while fatal riots have occurred at Laibach and Agram, ays a Central News dispatch.

Ten Civilians Killed

Vienna, April 27—Ten civilians were killed and twenty-one wounded in a conflict between strikers and gendarmes at Laibach, the capital of Carniola in Jugo-Slavia.

RUSSIAN DELEGATES ARE RECALLED FROM FINLAND

Moscow, April 27.—Armistice negotiations between Russia and Finland reached a crisis on Sunday and ended with the recall of the Russian delegates.

FIRE DESTROYS PLANT AND PREMISES OF ST. HENRI SHOE CO., MONT.

Montreal, Quebec, April 27—Fire destroyed the premises and stock of the St. Henri Shoe company, valued at $200,000, early today. Seven families residing over the factory were nearly trapped and were saved by the prompt action of the firemen.

FORMER KAISER CONSTANT MENACE TO WORLD'S PEACE

So Long as He is Left Within Forty Kilometres of German Frontier

RESPONSIBILITY PLACED

On Shoulders of Netherlands Government for Potential Centre Reactionary Propaganda

The Hague, April 27—Responsibility for the continued residence in Holland of former Emperor William of Germany was placed squarely and exclusively on the Netherlands government in a note sent by Premier Lloyd George on March 24th and published for the first time in the Orange Book. The note pointed out that William is a "very serious danger so long as left within forty kilometres of the German frontier and is the potential centre of reactionary propaganda and a constant menace to the peace of Europe."

BRANDON POULTRY LEADS

Last week's returns from the Dominion egg-laying contest at Lethbridge show the two Brandon pens which are entered at the top of the list. The pen entered by Mrs. Jos. Woods led the way with fifty eggs during the week while Kerr & McGuinness' pen came second with 49 eggs.

W. F. O'CONNOR MAY RESIGN FROM BOARD OF COMMERCE INVESTIGATIONS PENDING

Ottawa, April 27.—It is understood that W. F. O'Connor, K.C., will resign shortly from the Board of Commerce, of which he is senior member. Asked if the rumor was true, Mr. O'Connor declined to confirm or deny it. He intends to do nothing, he said, which will imperil the continued existence of the board.

The board has several investigations pending, it is understood, and will proceed with them as soon as a complete board of three commissioners has been appointed.

At present Mr. O'Connor and James Murdock, Labor Commissioner, constitute the board, and it is felt that the board should await the government's appointment of a chief commissioner to replace Judge Robson, who resigned some time ago, before it proceeds with important work.

CANADIAN PULP FOR BRITISH PAPERS

Million and a Half Acres of Forests in Southern Labrador, Surveyed

Ottawa, April 27.—A million and a half acres of pulpwood forests in Southern Labrador immediately North of Cape St. Charles in Newfoundland territory is being acquired by a United States securities firm to supply the British trade. Details of the deal are not yet available, but it is understood that full survey of the area has been made by means of photographs from an airplane and the corporation has practically completed its arrangements to take over the forests, install machinery and prepare to ship pulp direct from its own harbors to Great Britain, where the pulp will be converted into paper.

RONALD AMUNDSEN MAY GIVE UP SEARCH FOR NORTH POLE

Washington, April 27.—Radio messages received Monday by the Navy department from its station at Cordova, indicate that Ronald Amundsen, the Arctic explorer, intends to abandon his effort to reach the North Pole. The messages said it was understood that Amundsen, who arrived last week at Anadir, Siberia, intended to take the steamer Victoria at Nome for Seattle.

ROAD TO FIUME SET WITH TRAPS IS WELL GUARDED

Nine Posts of Carabineers Placed Along 48 Miles of Road From Trieste

JOURNEY BY RAIL

More Inconvenient Than by Motor—Precautions Almost Perfect

Trieste, April 27. — The road to Fiume is set with "traps" to catch the wandering adventurer. Nine posts of carbineers are placed along the way of 48 miles from Trieste and passports and other documents are examined with the closest scrutiny at each. An automobile cannot pass the post unless the man on watch has consented and raises a wooden gate similar to those at an American railroad crossing.

Seven of the "traps" are on the Italian regular command's side of the route and two on D'Annunzio's side. There are three within five miles of Trieste and the remaining four are scattered at about equal distances apart for the rest of the way until the poet's frontier is reached. At the poet's frontier, the regular carbineer seeks the vise of the local zone guarding the armistice line and if the traveler has not got it, he is sent to the headquarters of the nearest carbineer command, which is located at Abbazia, two miles away.

At Abbazia, the wanderer to Fiume must satisfy the carbineer officers, who are the military police of Italy, that his mission to the poet's stronghold is legitimate, otherwise the vise is refused. The vise given, one must return to the last post on the frontier for the final examination before being admitted to the No Man's Land between the two forces. The crossing of No Man's Land is made especially romantic by the nature of the terrain, which is woody and rocky and situated on a hill running down into the sea. The two frontiers are marked by stone walls and barbed wire protruding on the road at short intervals so that an automobile must twist and turn to evade them. Speed is thereby rendered an impossibility.

Reaching the D'Annunzio lines a careful examination takes place of the mission to Fiume. Scrutinizing of passports ensues and questions are asked about "What are you doing here?" Baggage is examined and false money looked for because of the recent falsification of banknotes in the city. The word is given to "go forward" and then one passes for another examination along practically the same line to another group of D'Annunzio soldiers perhaps a hundred yards from the first. After passing this, there are no more examinations or posts in the city, except at the stations and wharves.

Inconvenient Rail Journey

By rail the journey is even more inconvenient. The train takes five hours to do the 48 miles. Carbineers travel aboard it and make a minute scrutiny of their charges. At Abbazia, all must detrain, bag and baggage. The baggage is given a thorough search by the armed custom-house guards. Then the passengers to Fiume are ushered into another room where they are searched.

At Fiume D'Annunzio's soldiers conduct another examination. When D'Annunzio first entered Fiume, no one was allowed to pass into the city. It was necessary to evade carbineers and guards day and night. Today even, searchlights play upon the various approaches to prevent anyone "running the guard line."

CONDITION OF IRELAND WORSE THAN EVER BEFORE

Bonar Law Says Excesses Now Directed Against Sinn Feiners

London, April 27—Bonar Law speaking in the house said that there was no good in denying that Ireland's condition is deplorable and very likely worse than it has ever been before. There were signs that excesses were having an effect and they were now being directed against the men who called themselves Sinn Feiners and that they were suffering. He said he could not help thinking that the effect on Ireland would be to bring about a restoration of reasonable government. He stated that there as no foundation for the suggestion that Viscount French had been invited to resign.

THE BRITISH LIBRARY

KEEPS FEWER COWS AND SELLS MUCH MORE MILK

An interesting and significant story is told of a Saskatchewan farmer who owned a milking herd of 14 cows. He decided to test them and the result of his careful investigations in this line was absolute proof that 10 of the cows were not paying their feed bill. Of course he disposed of these expensive animals at once and secured some real milk producers to take their places; but—here is the most interesting part of the whole story—only five good cows were required to replace the 10 poor ones, for they gave more milk than the 10. We may well credit the farmer with amazement, chargin and thankfulness—as the truth dawned upon him concerning his past operations with cows and what the future might now hold for him. Yet there are still, doubtless, many farmers uselessly carrying the same burden of unprofitable investment and labor under which this man struggled so long, and, like him, in ignorance of their mistake. Any man owning cows, the production of each one of which is not known to him in weight and fat percentage should read it and take its warning to heart. A cow that does not produce milk enough to pay for her feed should be fitted for the butcher at once.

Cow Testing Helps

A man in Missouri was milking 50 cows when he joined the cow testing association in June. The test eliminated 26 and he is now making more profit from the remaining 24 than he made on the whole 50, besides reducing his labor by one-half. His neighbor, who started in a year ago with 37 milk cows, has reduced that number by 14, with the same result—more profit for fewer cows. It was found that 36 per cent of the cows in the country association were losing money for their owners. The cow-testing associations have done much for dairymen: They teach the way to find the profitable cows by the use of milk scales and Babcock test.

IRRIGATION SYSTEM TO SERVE FORMER RESERVE TO COST ABOUT $100,000

Vancouver, B.C., April 24.—The irrigation system to be installed in the Kamloops Indian Reserve, which the government attempted [illegible] for soldier settlement, will cost about $100,000 Chief Engineer G. W. Swan estimates. Work of mapping the district has been completed.

AT LEAST 25,000 FAMILIES IN MONTREAL WILL MOVE

Montreal, April 24.—With the approach of Montreal's great moving day estival May 1st, it is stated that real estate agents are swamped with applications to find house room. It is estimated that 25,000 families, at least, will be moving.

EFFORTS IN NEBRASKA TO CATCH SIGNAL FROM MARS WAS A FAILURE

Gamer Ranch, Cedar Creek, Neb., Apri 24.—An effort early Thursday to catch a signal from Mars failed. Dr. Frederick L. Milliner and Harvey Gamer, electrical experts, who made the attempt, announced they would try again.

NEW FRENCH TAX BILL

Paris, April 24.—The Chamber of Deputies yesterday adopted the clauses of the new tax bill imposing a tax on business turnovers which is estimated will yield a revenue of five billion francs. There will be some exceptions such as sales of bread and brokerage, which are already covered.

MADDEN NOT GUILTY

Dublin, April 24.—John Madden, charged with the murder of Sergeant Brady at Lorry, Tipperary, last September, was acquitted in court here today. A remarkable demonstration followed the announcement. The county of Tipperary was placed under martial law for several months in con-

AMERICANS HAVE GREAT APPETITE FOR ICE CREAM, RECORDS DEMONSTRATE

Washington, April 24.— Americans are the greatest consumers of ice-cream in the world according to a report of the Department of Agriculture which shows that 511,360,816 quarts were manufactured commercially in 1919, not to mention the enormous quantity made in home freezers.

Other phases of the country's vast dairy industry are summarized in the following figures for 1919:

Butter	869,055,223 pounds
Cheese (all kinds)	409,529,240 pounds
Butter (evaporated condensed and powdered	2,085,114,103 pounds

NORTH MANITOBA MAY BE BEST MINING DISTRICT IN FUTURE

Winnipeg, April 24.—Within the next five years the development of the mining country of Northern Manitoba will be of such a nature that it will have become the greatest mining district in Canada, said J. E. Hammell, one of the original owners of the Flin Flon copper mine, who was at the Parliament Buildings Friday. Work to cost one-quarter million dollars will be done on the Flin Flon property this year, he said, and will be spent in sinking two shafts in order to find out the physical character of the ore, a proceeding that must take place before mining on a large scale is commenced. Mr. Hammell said that before a return on the money invested in the mine could be gained ten million dollars would have to be spent in development work, including the erection of a smelting plant. The mine was recently taken under option by a syndicate representing English Canadian and American capital, and Mr. Hammell is satisfied that there will be no hold-up on that score.

Perhaps Five Thousand Tons a Day

Mr. Hammell stated that he was practically certain that the company would be able to guarantee an output of at least 2,000 tons, if not 5,000 tons, of ore per day, to be effective three years from now. This guarantee would be forwarded to the Provincial Government, which was under obligation to construct a railroad 80 miles in length into the mining district to handle the output.

The Government has promised that if this guarantee is forthcoming it will put through the railroad at a cost of approximately $2,700,000, to be handed over when completed to the National Railways for operation.

Mr. Hammell said that he had just completed getting the machinery into the mine for the sinking of the two shafts. These would be prospecting shafts, but would not be abandoned as the mine developed, but would be utilized as man shafts and for the lowering and raising of tools and other material. The big shaft, he said, would be made from the bottom up. By this, he explained that galleries would be drifted to connect the two shafts to be sunk this Summer, which would be about 500 feet apart and from these galleries mining operations upwards toward the surface would be commenced.

BRIGHT PROSPECTS FOR RIFLE ASSOCIATION

Prospects are good for a most enthusiastic Rifle Association in this city this year. At a meeting held in the Y.M.C.A. Friday night, plans were discussed for the re-organization of the Association and it was decided to hold another meeting next Friday night in the "Y" for the purpose of re-organizing.

BACK TO THE FARM FOR THE BROWNS

Clinton, Mass., April 24.—"Betty" and "Billy" have gone back to the farm and Cuinton's fire department has returned to its moorized efficiency. An upstandng pair of browns, the horses were the pride of the fire-fighters until they became the cause of their disgrace.

Sleek and fat from a farm in an adjoining town they were obtained to pull the town's old fire-engine while the new motor aparatus was being repaired. The browns swept out of the engine-house to their first fire in a manner to make old firemen speak with happy reminiscence of the horse-drawn days. Then came a night alarm.

Back on the farm "Betty" and "Billy" had been accustomed not to stir from sundown to sunrise, and no din of fire-gong or urging by anxious firemen would move them to answer the alarm. All the fire department's split-second aids to a quick start were lost on the browns. They refused to budge, the firemen had to go to the blaze with chemical lines, and the town folks laughed.

The firemen vowed the thing would not happen again and the horses were put through a stiff training. They went to the day fires with spirit, and the fire crew hoped they understood. But another night alarm came, and again "Betty" and "Billy" would not move; once more the firemen went afoot, hose in hand, and again the town laughed at their discomforture. The next day "Betty" and "Billy" went back to the farm.

CANADIANS IN NEW YORK SEE HEADLINERS TONIGHT

New York, April 24.—(Canadian Press)—Canadians resident in New York will witness a special performance by vaudeville performers, picked from the leading roadway theatres tonight. he event will be the wind-up of the Canadian Club's season of social activities and will take the form of a "smoke" to be held in the club rooms. Hans Kronold, the noted 'cellist, will be the headliner.

WIRELESS PHONES TO BE INSTALLED NORTH MANITOBA

Winnipeg, April 24.—Commissioner R. C. Wallace, of Northern Manitoba, stated at the Parliament Buildings Friday that initial experimental work in wireless telephony was being undertaken by the Manitoba Telephone Commission between Winnipeg and Selkirk with the ultimate design of installing wireless telephones in Northern Manitoba. He said that one instrument had been placed at the Kelvin Technical High school and the other in Selkirk, and that the testing was being carried on under the supervision of J. M. F. Wilson, in the charge of the electrical engineering work in the Kelvin school.

No appropriation was provided at the last session of the legislature for the installation of a wireless telephone system in the North country, he said, because it was thought that the mature development of the scheme was too far distant. He expressed his opinion, however, that such an appropriation would be made at the next session of the legislature and that next year would, in all probability see the telephones installed. Each set of instruments, including aerials, he said, would cost approximately three or four thousand dollars.

The idea in conducting the experimental work in Winnipeg and the vicinity, he said, was in order to find out the weaknesses of the process with a minimum of delay. It was assured, he said, that it would not be a private undertaking, but would be carried out by the government.

Reports on Oil

Prof. Wallace stated that he had not been able to conduct a first-hand investigation into the Dauphin oil fields, under the authority given at the recent session of the legislature but said that he had made a report to the government of a preliminary nature. He said that he was well acquainted with most of the facts of the claims for oil in Dauphin, but declined to make a statement as to the contents of the report.

In the North country this year, he said, there will be activity in mining and timber. An Ottawa syndicate, he said, possessed rights on large pulpwood tracts in the North which called for certain development work in the near future. The members of the syndicate, he said, had been notified by the Minister of the Interior, Hon. Arthur Meighen, that unless this development work was carried out the rights would lapse.

HOWDY DO !!!

"Take a fellow when he's lonely
And the things are breakin' wrong.
Does him good to hear a story,
Or a little lilt of song.
And it makes his spirits tingle
When he's feeling sick and blue
Jest to get a hearty handshake
And a cheery—"Howdy Do !!!"

There's a lot o' fellers hustlin'
In this wondrous business game
For a mighty pile o' dollars
And a little bit o' fame.
So the Item is acomin'
Ev'ry little while to you.
Jest to show its friendly feelin'
And to say its—"Howdy Do !!!"

NEW CANADIAN STEEL MERGER IS BEING ARRANGED

Total Capitalization Will be in the Neighborhood of $500,000,000

Montreal, April 24.—In banking circles reports are in circulation that Col. Grant Morden and his associates have completed tentative arrangements with practically all the concerns which will be included in the new Canadian steel merger. There is a possibility of an offical announcement by May 1st. Developments up to the present time indicate that the total capitalization will be $500,000,000.

ASTON VILLA CHAMPIONS: WIN FINAL GAME 1 TO 0

London, April 24.—Aston Villa today won the English Football Cup from Huddersfield by a score of 1 to 0; extra time had to be played. The attendance is given as 50,018.

ARMENIA TO BE AN INDEPENDENT STATE COUNCIL DECIDES

None of the Powers Willing to Accept Mandate Over the Country

PREDICTION OF WAR

Italian Premier Declares That There Will be War in Asia Minor

San Remo, April 24.—Armenia is to be created an independent state. This decision was reached by the Supreme Council of the Allies today because neither the United States nor any other power was willing to accept a mandate over the country.

A Prediction of War

San Remo, April 24.—"You will have war in Asia Minor and Italy will not send a single soldier nor pay a single lire," said Signor Nitti, Italian Premier, in an interview following a critical analysis by him, of the Turkish Peace Treaty.

"You have taken from the Turks their sacred city of Adrianople," said Nitti. "You have placed their capital city under foreign control, you have taken from them every port and the larger part of their territory, and the five Turkish delegates, hom you will select, will sign the treaty which will not have the sanction of the Turkish people, or the Turkish Parliament."

Complete Agreement

San Remo, April 24.—Complete agreement with respect to the attitude the Allies shall adopt toward Germany in connection with the carrying out of the Peace Treaty has been reached by Premier Lloyd George and Premier Milerand, it is stated here today.

BODIES OF SEVEN RUSSIANS MOVED TO PEKIN CEMETERY

Said to be Remains of Members of Imperial Family First Thrown Into Mine

Pekin, April 24.—Seven bodies, four of them said to be those of members of the Russian Imperial family, have arrived in Pekin from Harbin and were buried in the Russian cemetery outside the city wall. The whole proceeding was surrounded with the greatest secrecy, even the Russian legation receiving scant information of the circumstances. The bodies were declared to be those of Grand Duke Serge Michaelovitch, Prince Ivan, husband of Princess Helene, daughter of King Peter, of Serbia; Prince Igor, a brother of Prince Ivan; Grand Duchess Elizabeth, sister of the late Empress, and three servants who shared the fate of these members of the royal family, when, it is alleged, they were killed and their bodies thrown down into a coal mine near Perm.

JAPS AND RUSSIANS FRUSTRATE BOLSHEVIK PLANS FOR CHINA

Tokio, April 24.—Bolshevik attempts to threaten China by advancing from Ingoda valley, northwest of Chita, have been frustrated by Japs and All-Russian forces who routed the Reds at Werkneinakoje on April 12th.

CHEAPER TO RIDE THAN WEAR OUT SHOES IN ROME

Carfares Advance from Two to Six Cents—Boots Cost $25 to $60

Rome, April 1—(By Mail)—Car fares in Rome, which were originally two cents and were lately raised to three and then four, it is now decreed, shall now be six cents from eight o'clock in the morning until ten at night, after which they will be eight cents.

Those who, going to their work before 8 a.m., used to pay one cent, will now pay three for the privilege of hanging to a strap in the overcrowded cars. Cabmen have also doubled their prices, but, because the cost of a pair of shoes or bots now ranges from $25 to 60 it is more economical to ride than to wear out leather.

SOVIETS WARNED TO BE FAIR WITH DENIKINE ARMY

If It is Desired to Re-establish Economic Relations With Britain

London, April 24.—Earl Curzon, of Kedleston, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, has warned the Russian Soviet Government that the re-establishment of economic relations with Russia cannot proceed unless sympathetic treatment is given the beaten army of General Denikine in the Crimea.

CHECKERED CAREER LIFE PRESIDENT OF THE NEW REPUBLIC

Thomas G. Masaryk, "life" president of the Czecho-Slovak Republic, one of the great awakeners of the Bohemian and Slovak people, was born March 7, 1850, in an obscure district of Moravia. His father was a coachman. As a youth he cherished the hope of some day freeing his people who, following the disastrous Thirty Years' War, had been reduced to political, cultural, social and religious impotence.

Young Masaryk, who had been a student in Vienna and Leipsic, met an American girl Miss Charlotte Garrigue of Brooklyn, N.Y., while in college. She was studying music in a European conservatory and, finishing her course, had returned home. The Bohemian youth shortly afterward, in 1878, came to America, sought Miss Garrigue and they were married. Returning to Europe with his bride he became a leader in the Czech struggle for emancipation.

He became a college professor, an author of international fame, a deputy for Moravia in the Austrian parliament and, finally, a soldier and commander-in-chief of the Czecho-Slovak army in Russia. Masaryk's career was one of the most picturesque of any of the historic figures who emerged from the World War.

In 1916, together with four other Czech deputies in the Austrian parliament Masaryk was sentenced to death as an accessory to high treason. All five fled the country, Masaryk taking refuge in London where, for a time, he taught in King's College. Later the Emperor of Austria pardoned all the exiles except Masaryk. In 1917 the latter went to Russia and organized a volunteer Czecho-Slovak army out of the Slavic prisoners of war taken by the Russians, troops who later fought valiantly for the Allies. After relinquishing command of the army Masaryk came to the United States where he directed the Czecho-Slovak fight for independence.

It was while he was in the U. S. that Masaryk was elected in May, 1918, first president of the infant Republic. The following October, formal recognition having been extended to his nation by the Allies, he returned to Prague where he resumed his new duties. In February, 1920, the Czecho-Slovak Natonal Assembly accorded hm as "Lttle Father" Taticek) Masaryk, the privilege of remaining in office "for life."

President Masaryk, upon taking office, bent his energies to strengthening the new Republic's industry, agriculture and commerce. e fostered the idea of free schools, and, in a letter to Cardinal Skrbenski, declared Czecho-Slovakia desired the separation of church and state. Masaryk's hold upon popular favor was attributed to his great "civil courage." It was said of him that he never strove for the favor of the great nor feared the hatred of the masses.

ITALIAN CITIES MAY EXPERIMENT WITH RULE BY SOVIETS

Milan, April 24.—The Italian Socialist National Council has decided to make an experiment with the Soviet form of Government in all the large Italian cities where the proletariat is well organized.

REAR ADMIRAL BRITTAIN SUICIDES WHILE ON DUTY WITH U.S. FLEET NEAR CUBA

Washington, April 23.—Rear Admiral Charles C. Brittain, Chief of Staff for Admiral H. H. Wilson, Commander of the Atlantic fleet, committed suicide by shooting himself yesterday while on duty with the fleet in Cuban waters.

DANISH MONARCH SECURE ON THRONE: A GREAT DEMOCRAT

Changed His Mind on Finding What He Wanted Was Against Popular Wish

That crisis in Denmark which unbridled cables indicated was whether the nation should remain a monarchy or should become a republic has not been properly understood in Canada; and it is with only a faint hope that matters may be a little more clearly explained that these few lines are written by an optimist. It can be said at once that there is no fear or hope that Denmark will immediately become a republic. The reason is that the King is more democratic or republican than any other Dane whose name is known outside the country. There was some stage business of crowds demonstrating under the royal windows, and this was followed by the announcement that Christian X. had changed his mind. The inference that he had changed his mind because he feared to lose his throne is unjustified. He changed his mind because he saw what he wanted was not wanted by his subjects.

The Zahle Cabinet

The question at issue was between the Zahle Cabinet and the King. The Cabinet had become popular in Denmark, apart from its more active virtues, because it could claim, as President Wilson could claim a few months previous, that it "kept us out of war." It has been pointed out before that war was never so unpopular with the immediate neighbors of Germany, like Denmark, Sweden, Holland and Switzerland, as it was with Brazil and Haiti; and this served to compensate the inhabitants of the neighbors of Germany for the fact that they made no great hit with the Allies while the war was on—or afterwards, for that matter. But Zahle did spare his country from a stand-up fight with Germany, by a more dignified expedient than lying down to Germany. In his course he had the almost unanimous support of the Danish population. It was not until the Versailles Peace Conference began to operate that he had any reason to think that his general policy was not approved by both King and country.

Schleswig Goes German

Under the provisions of the Peace Conference Schleswig, which had been filched from the Danes by Germany many years before, was to vote whether it chose to go with Denmark or Germany. The district was divided into two zones, one of them, nearer Germany, showing the incredible taste of preferring the old Fatherland. When the voting in the second and more remote zone was completed King Christian thought there must have been an error in the ballot boxes, and when Zahle advised that the vote be accepted he declined. The King thought that he spoke for the nation when he said that if the voters in the second zone signified that they wished to remain part of Germany that they did not know their own interests best. His proposal was that the second zone should be internationalized, and that the inhabitants thereof should be neither Danes nor Germans. When his Prime Minister said that he purposed following the voice of the people, the King asked him to resign, and he did resign.

It was then that the crowds of the capital made their demonstration, and the news—as we call news these days—was flashed to the world that the throne was in jeopardy. But unless the people of Denmark arrive at a conclusion that a republican form of government is in every way preferable to a monarchial form, there is no prospect that King Christian will be dethroned. There is no King, apparently, more ready to do what the people want. Speaking to the Social Democratic leader before the last elections, he said: "If you come back with a Socialist majority I will have a Socialist ministry, and you will see that we will work excellently together." He possibly made a political error in dismissing the ministry that disapproved of his plan of internationization, but as soon as it was plain that he did not have the support of the public, he dismissed the ministry that had succeeded that of Zahle, and called up another as a stop gap, which will carry on the Zahle policies.

No Error of Patriotism

In the matter of patriotism it can hardly be said that King Christian made an error. There is more that a suspicion that Zahle was tainted with pro-Germanism. When the voting in the first Schleswig zone showed the trend toward Germany to be so strong it is contended that Zahle ought to have exerted himself to bring about a different verdict in the second district, but he remained inactive and postponed an election which would have brought about a reduction in the suffrage age from twenty-five years to twenty-one. It is contended that if all voters more than twenty-one had voted the majority would have cast in their lot with Denmark; but Zahle feared also that they might have chosen another leader and thus his own position was at stake. If he preferred his own interests to those of his country he has done no more than other politicians have done in the past.

WHY IS IT

that chronic skin diseases which have defied all other treatments yield to Zam-Buk?

It is because Zam-Buk is germicidal, and also has such power of penetration that it reaches disease in the underlying tissues and cures from the "root" up. That is the only way a permanent cure can be effected.

Mr. H. C. Buckley of 461 E. Broadway, Portland, Oregon, says: "For chronic skin diseases there is nothing like Zam-Buk. For fifteen years I had eczema, and I tried an endless number of so-called 'eczema cures,' but nothing was capable of curing me permanently until I used Zam-Buk. Ten months' use of Zam-Buk has effected a complete cure."

For ulcers, abscesses, boils, ringworm, blood-poisoning, piles, burns, scalds and cuts, Zam-Buk is equally good. All dealers or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. 50c. box, 3 for $1.25.

KING THREATENS TO INVOKE LAW

Upon Those Persons Who Utter Slander Concerning His War Record

Ottawa, April 21.—Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King made a statement of his war record in the House of Commons. It came on a motion to go into supply. He referred first to statements made at a meeting of the Progressive Club, Montreal, by Mr. McNaughton, who was reported as having said that Mr. King deserted Canada in her hour of crisis and served Standard Oil millions. Mr. McNaughton, according to the report, also spoke of relationship between Mr. King and Rockefeller interests which "at no distant date might prove a menace to Canada."

It would be perfectly apparent, Mr. King proceeded, addressing the House, that such statements were intended to arouse prejudice of the most bitter and cruel kind, prejudicing the minds of Labor, of returned soldiers, and of all patriotic citizens. The statements were absolutely false in fact, and misleading in inference. They constituted an utter slander and amounted to a criminal libel. If he had not taken steps to proceed against the parties guilty of them it was because he felt the statements were in complete ignorance of the facts. But ignorance would not in future be any defence should he desire to proceed criminally against any party making similar statements.

DEMENTED PRINTER MAY BE COMMITTED TO MATTEWAN

New York, April 21.—The grand jury will hear evidence, Thursday, in the case of Thomas W. Simpkin, demented printer, who shot and killed Dr. James W. Markoe, at St. George's Protestant Episcopal Church on Sunday.

Indictment on charge of murder in the first degree will be asked. The court will then appoint a lunacy commission and efforts will be made to have Simpkin sent to the state hospital for the criminal insane at Mattewan.

POOR SILVER FOX PELTS SELL IN NEW YORK AS LOW AS $5 EACH

New York, April 21.—Silver fox featured Tuesday's session at the fur sale in the Masonic Hall here. The finest pair of pelts fetched $670 each, but some of the poorer and older pelts sold as low as $5. The general run of prices on silver fox, however, showed advances of 35 per cent. over the corresponding figures at the April 1919 sale here. The largest advance over last Spring which was shown by Neutria or South American beaver was 80 per cent. The choicest of these skins brought $6.10. Blue fox was 10 per cent above last April, while the red foxes, the best of which sold for $4.62, brought prices that ranged from unchanged on Northern to 15 per cent. high on Eastern and Central skins. Foreign red fox fell off 10 per cent. Sales for the day amounted to $550,000 which brought the grand total for two days to $1,450,000.

LABOR PROTESTS SECTION TEN NEW FRANCHISE BILL

Ottawa, April 21.—A letter protesting against Section ten of the new Franchise bill and bearing the signature of Tom Moore, President of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, as well as of the representatives of the four great railroad brotherhoods, has been sent to the Hon. Hugh Guthrie, the Solicitor-General. This letter states that the section named appears to debar labor organizations from contributing directly to election expenses or raising money by individual subscriptions to defray such expenses. It submits that the section is too drastic and will interfere with legitimate interest and activity of citizens who desire to give practical support to the political and economic welfare of the country through the machinery of their unions.

WHO IS MY NEIGHBOR?

"Who is my Neighbor" will be the subject of an address to be given at the mid-week meeting in Forst Methodist Church tonight by Fred C. Middleton, Community Secretary of the Social Service Council. Mr. Middleton will deal with the citizen's obligation to the children of the province, to the mentally defective and to those suffering from venereal disease. He will also refer to the present status of prohibition and the problem of community building.

The meeting will commence at eight o'clock and will be held in the Club Room.

4,150,847 BUSHELS OF POTATOES EXPORTED FROM CANADA IN ONE YEAR

Ottawa, April 21.—A total of 4,150,847 bushels of potatoes were exported from Canada to all countries from August 1st, 1918, to July 31st, 1919. This information was given to T. W. Caldwell in the House of Commons.

BRANDON AUTO CLUB FORMED: OFFICERS ELECTED

E. W. Hamilton Says Club Must Have Definite Aim or Purpose

MANY SUGGESTIONS

Which, If Followed Out Should Be of Benefit to the City of Brandon

A very enthusiastic meeting was held Wednesday night in the City Hal, when the Brandon Automobile Club was organized and the following officers elected: Honorary President, Premier T. C. Norris; President, F. W. Hobson; Vice-President, O. W. Townsley; Secretary-Treasurer, A. J. Hatcher; Executive, W. A. Robertson, M. J. Gammon, W. Crozier, B. H. Campbell and Dr. E. S. Bolton.

An interesting address on "Good Roads" was given by Mr. S. A. Button, resident engineer who stated that the Auto Club might have a big influence in assisting in the maintainance of Good Roads by offering prizes for road dragging, etc. The Western end of the Province is to be known as the Brandon Good Roads District and includes sixteen municipalities covering an ultimate expenditure of $2,000,000. Mr. Button said that the Auto Club could help him much in mapping, etc.

Mr. E. W. Hamilton of Winnipeg, publisher of "Motor and Sports," was the other speaker of the evening. He stated that he had no great faith in the motor league. "Enthusiasm, which is the vital thing, cannot be engendered by having a membership scattered over the entire Province. All the enthusiasm must come from the local automobile club.

"Brandon is an ideal size for the formation and maintaining of a live club."..... The club must have a definite aim or purpose. "An organization that will compel sacrifice at times and to which public services may be rendered. Because it is only through sacrifice and service that any organization is kept alive and commands the respect of the public at large."

Reasons for Forming Club

Mr. Hamilton gave the following reasons for the formation of an automobile club. To see that the traffic by-laws of Brandon are rigidly enforced, and that new ones are inaugurated as the occasion arises."

"To see that those in authority do not inaugurate traffic by-laws that will interfere with the rights of the automobile upon the streets."

"Boost Brandon and keep Brandon well on the map." "Get your farmers interested in the club. Get them to be members. Encourage them to come to meetings, and they will become better acquainted and it will encourage them to patronize Brandon and take an interest in building up the city and business in Brandon, rather than to patronize the mail order house a hundred miles away."

"Take the boys and girls who scarcely get outside of the city limits for an afternon's picnic and they will have a greater pride in the city of Brandon that will make them want to stay here."

Organize a few sociability runs and get better acquainted with the different members.

Keep in touch with automobile legislation introduced in the Provincial parliament and protest against any unjustness to the automobile owner.

The work of an automobile club is such that every man can and should help and if this is done a successful club will result.

At this meeting it was decided to charge a fee of three dollars for membership which will include a suitable membership badge for the car to be selected by a special committee consisting of Messrs. Gammon, Macpherson, Ames and Smiley.

All those present at the meeting enrolled and each is to secure at least one new member and each of these also to secure a member.

An explanation of the situation concerning the proposed suburban park was given at this meeting by Alderman J. B. Curran.

The next general meeting of the club will be held in the Council Chamber of the City Hall, Wednesday, April 28th, at eight o'clock.

CHANGES ON EDITORIAL STAFF FARMER'S ADVOCATE

Winnipeg, Man., April 23.—In agricultural circles in Western Canada there will be much interest in the change that has taken place in the editorial staff of the Farmer's Advocate and Home Journal, of Winnipeg R. P. Thomson, P.S.A., who has been editor-in-chief for the past seven years has been forced by the condition of his health to give up continuous office work and he is taking up practical farming near Indian Head, Sask. His successor will be J. H. McCullock, B. S. A., who has been for the past three years associate editor and livestock specialist with the Farmer's Advocate. Mr. McCullock is well known throughout the West, having been Superintendent of Dry Farming Station in British Columbia and Associate Editor of the Farm and Ranch Review of Calgary.

1,347 ACCIDENTS ON RAILWAYS IN NINE MONTHS

Ottawa, April 23.—There were 1,347 railway accidents during the nine months ending December 31st, 1919, according to the report of the Board of Railway Commissioners covering that period, which was tabled in the House of Commons. In these accidents there were 223 persons killed and 1,502 injured. The board in its report notes that only the nine months period can be covered in this report as the amendments to the Railway Act require that the report be presented December 31st each year, instead of at the end of the fiscal year as formerly. The number of trespassers killed during the nine months was 64 and 68 trespassers were injured. Automobile accidents at highway crossings are increasing. In the four years and nine months previous to December 31st, 1919, there were 231 such accidents.

Derailments and the deadly unprotected highway crossings accounted for more victims than any other class of accident during the period of 1919. In the former class of accidents there were 13 people killed and 247 injured. At crossings there were 38 killed and 138 injured.

Chief Operating Officer G. Spencer reporting on this phase of the board's work, points out that in reporting upon and investigating accidents, inspecting safety apparatus, motive power buildings, etc., the members of the staff engaged in this work had travelled 375,000 miles!

The board deals briefly with the matter of daylight savings and remarks that in view of the decision of the Government not to carry the daylight saving law any longer than the end of 1918, it is inadvisable that the board should take any action.

DOUKHOBORS START SAWMILL AT KOCH: MANY LOGS READY

Result of Winter's Logging Activities Gives an Abundance for Summer's Work

Nelson, B. C., April 23.—After an active Winter's logging in the two camps in the Koch limits of the Little Slocan, the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, otherwise the Doukhobors, have started up the sawmill at Koch. The mill has a capacity of 50,000 feet per day, and there are logs already accumulated to keep it operating throughout the Summer.

BLIND VETERAN BEFORE COMMITTEE

Urges More Generous Treatment of Widows, Dependents, and Totally Disabled Men

Ottawa, April 23.—James A. Rawlinson, a blind veteran from Toronto, was a witness before the Special Committee on Pensinos recently. He pleaded for more generaus treatment of widows and dependents, also of totally disabled men and urged the committee if they were going to try any cheese paring economy not to practice it on these classes. He asked that $1,200 per annum be awarded for total disability with $500 per annum for an attendant. Of the difficulties of the blinded soldiers he said there was no monotony like that of total blackness and many men were compelled to sit in blackness in their rooms, though in his own case he had learned to read Braille at St. Dunstan's.

Several of the members sought to blame the Pensions Board for a too strict interpretation of the act, but Dr. J. W. Brier (Middlesex), registered a protest against "passing the buck" if the blame was coming to the committee it should bear it, he asserted.

J. DERONOSKI COMMITTED FOR TRIAL CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER: ON BAIL

Winnipeg, April 23.—John Deronoski, Transcona, charged with manslaughter on account of the death of his wife, was committed for trial after a preliminary hearing at the provincial police court. He will remains out on bail of $4,000.

It is alleged that Victoria Deronoski, wife of the accused, came to her death through the neglect of her husband to call a doctor in time when she gave birth to a child. Dr. W. H. T. Peake, the physician in attendance, testified that if he had been called several hours sooner death would not have resulted. The doctor declared that when he arrived at the Deronoski home he found the woman in great distress and so weak that he was unable to administer anaesthetics.

John Sandul, of the provincial police, who made the arrest, testified that the accused had volunteered to him a statement that he (Deronoski) had not intended to call a doctor in this case, as he had never done so in any other case of the kind.

PLANS TO WREST TREASURES FROM THE OCEAN FLOOR

Vancouver, B.C., April 23.—To delve into the unknown depths of the sea off the West coast of Vancouver Island and wrest therefrom treasures hidden for many years, is the object of S. Maddison and his party of salvagers, who will begin operations early in May. Last autumn Mr. Maddison made submarine cruises among the crags which line the coast of the island and located four large wrecks besides a number of smaller ones. Two of the larger he identified as the Pass-of-Melford and the Valencia, and one of the others he thinks is the long lost H.M.S. Condor which disappeared in 1903 and has never been heard of since. Some of the numerous boats which met their fate on the perilous West coast carried cargoes which at the time of sinking did not make it worth while salvaging; but under present day conditions there is freight aboard those boats which must be worth its weight in gold.

CROP ACREAGE WILL BE REDUCED

Owing to Late Spring, Shortage of Feed and Labor Conditions

Winnipeg, April 24—That the acreage to be seeded this year will be from 10 to 15 p.c. lower that the average acreage for a number of years past and that this decrease will be due to the shortage of feed, the lateness of the spring and general laor cbonditions is a statement made by Hon. Valentine Winkler, Minister of Agriculture.

"Work on the land has become fairly general," said Mr. Winkler, "In the Southern and Central portions of the province and seeding has commenced at Brandon and Morden. In Northern portions of the province it has not yet been possible to take up work on the land, indeed in some districts there is still snow on the ground. "Shortage of feed is becoming general in Manitabo," declared the Minister.

JOHN WILSON, FORMER MEMBER R.N.W.M.P., PAYS PENALTY FOR MURDER

Prince Albert, Sask., April 24.—John Wilson, condemned to death for the murder of his wife, Mary Wilson, was hanged Friday morning at the Prince Albert jail. He went quietly to the scaffold. He prayed a few minutes with the Rev. R. J. McDonald before the drop. Arthur Ellis, the official executioner, sprung the drop and life was extinct in five minutes.

Wilson, who paid the extreme penalty Friday was formerly a member of the Royal North West Mounted Police and later of the Military Police. He took his wife driving in a motor car, and near Waldheim, Sask., shot her through the head. He buried the body under a culvert and then went on to Blaine Lake, where next day he married Miss Jessie Patterson.

DALY'S LONDON THEATRE IS SOLD

Capitalists Continue to Invest in Established English Theatres

London Telegraph: Slowly but surely London theatres are passing into the hands of the capitalists, who fortunately, as much for themselves as for the public, have up to now shown no inclination to enter upon the perilous business of management, being content to sub-let to others possessing a better understanding of the requirements of playgoers, at a rental leaving them a substantial profit. The latest theatre to suffer this fate is Daly's, which has just been acquired for the Beecham trust. The change of ownership does not happily, imply any alteration in the general policy of the conduct of the house, which has won for itself an unique position as the home of what have become known as the "George Edwards Productions." When that enterprising manager died the work he had carried on for so many years was taken up by Robert Evett, formerly a member of his company, and it is part of the new arrangement that he shall retain his position on a scale of remuneration which even a cabinet minister would not disdain. For the moment there will be no interruption to the run of "The Maid of the Mountains" nor any change in arrangements already settled and duly made public. The contract price it is understood, reaches the figure of one million dollars or a little over, including not only the theatre itself, but the offices in Lisle street, together with the performing rights in the many successful musical comedies produced since 1894, the year when Daly's passed from the hands of Augustin Daly, the original proprietor, into those of George Edwards.

TWO SHIPS REACH DULUTH: CROSS LAKE SUPERIOR

Duluth, April 22. — The steamer Harvester reached the Duluth-Superior harbor early today after three days tussle with the ice, the first arrival of the season from the lower lakes. A few hours behind the Harvester is the steamer J. J. Barlum.

DEATH PENALTY CAN'T BE IMPOSED ON CAILLAUX

Charge of High Treason Has Been Eliminated by French Senate

Paris, April 22.—Charges of high treason and having intelligence with the enemy, against former Premier Joseph Caillaux, were eliminated by the High Court of the Senate by a vote of 213 to 28. This eliminated the possibility of the death penalty being inflicted.

FORMATION OF AMERICAN LEAGUE PROPOSED: TO SECURE COMMON ACTION

Montevideo, April 22.—The formation of an "American League" on a basis of absolute equality between all American nations for common action against aggression threatening any one from outside nations, and for the arbitration of inter-American disputes, was proposed by Dr. Baltazar Brum, President of Uruguay, in an address here last night.

U.S ALARMED OVER REPORTS REDUCED WHEAT ACREAGE

Department of Agriculture Issues Appeal for Revision of Planting Plans

WINTER KILLED FIELDS

Hessian Fly and Grasshoppers Will Cut Down the Total Yield

Washington, April 22.—Reports from spring wheat regions of plans for reduced acreage this year, caused the Department of Agriculture to issue a statement today urging farmers to revise their planting plans. It was pointed out that the estimates of 483,617000 bushels of winter wheat may be even less because of winter-killed fields and indications that the hessian fly will be unusually active throughout large areas. The grasshopper menace is serious in a large part of the great plains belt.

TEACHERS AIM TO BUILD CHARACTER NEW CANADIANS

Would Have Them View Life in Right Way and Be Ideal Canadians

Regina, Sask., April 22.—"Our aim is to build character, to make men and women who will look upon life from the right point of view, who will feel the 'still, sad music of humanity,' and who in turn will strive to help others, never faltering until they have reached the ideal—Canada Canadian, and the world a brotherhood of man," declared Miss Irene Thompson, B.A., a teacher among new Canadians at Lurnsey, Sask., at the recent convention of the Saskatchewan Educational Association in Saskatoon, and as a means to this end, Miss Thompson dwelt upon the use of music as a way to the hearts of the foreign people.

WHAT IS TO BE ENGLAND'S NEW IRISH POLICY?

Daily Sketch Declares It May Be Somewhat Similar to Dominion Home Rule

London, April 22.— England's new Irish policy may be something broader than the existing Home Rule scheme but not unlike Dominion Home Rule, says the Daily Sketch. Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, and General Sir Cecil MacCready military commander, are said to favor moderation and are making attempts to determine just what the Sinn Fein wants. A favorable atmosphere is being created and the Government will go further to reach a settlement than is generally believed.

TO BLOCK PROBE INTO NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

Albany, April 22.—The Black resolution which is intended to provide for an investigation of the New York Stock Exchange will not be adopted, Senator J. Walters, majority leader in the House, announced today.

HOLLAND MAY BE OFFERED MANDATE TO ADMINISTER CONSTANTINOPLE, ARMENIA

Brussels, April 22.—Holland may be offered a mandate to administer Constantinople and Armenia by the Supreme Allied Council in return for the transfer of the control of the Scheldt river to Belgium, said Major Delannoy, addressing the Belgian chamber of deputies.

TO FORCE TURKS TO OBSERVE TREATY

Supreme Council Decides That Armed Forces Will Enforce Obedience

San Remo, April 22.—The Supreme Council of the Allies is fully prepared to execute the Turkish treat by military force if necessary. The council accepted a plan drawn for the employment of the Allied armies by Marshal Foch, Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, British chief of staff, and General Badoglio, Italian chief of staff, who were present at the morning session.

Two hundred thousand Allied troops are now within the borders of the Turkish empire, stragetically disposed, and these forces can be increased if Turkish resistance develop formidably to any essential number. Greece will probably supply the largest number of troops.

Supplementary naval plans were also approved by the Council, to which Baron Beatty, commander of the British Grand fleet, and Admiral Levavasseur assistant to the chief of the general staff of the French navy explained the plans in person.

REV. W. E. KELLY TO RETURN TO WELLWOOD AND OBERAN

At a recent meeting of the Brandon Presbytery the rural charge of Wellwood and Oberan, North of arberry, extended a call to Rev. W. E. Kelly, at $2,400 a year, with manse and a month's holidays. Rev. Mr. Kelly was formerly pastor in this field and it is expected that he will accept the invitation to return.

The date of the induction was left to the decision of the Moderator of the pastoral charge. The induction will take place at Wellwood and Rev. Mr. Leith of Humesville will preside. The preacher on this occasion will be Rev. Mr. Nichol of Carberry. Rev. J. George Miller of this city will give the formal address to the people, and Rev. J. W. Allen of Douglas will address the minister.

PROSPECTS OF BIG PARADE IN OVERALLS AFFECTS PRICES

Price Cutting Movement Spreads From Brooklyn to Manhattan Today

New York, April 22.—Ten thousand persons, at least, will parade here Saturday in overalls, according to estimates today by the Cheese Club which is fostering the drive against the high price of clothing. The price cutting movement by department stores, which started in Brooklyn, has spread to Manhattan today. It is also stated that two big stores have volunteered to cut clothing and shoe prices, one being a large Fifth avenue departmental store.

TO STOP EVERYTHING BUT CLOCK IN PARIS, MAY 1

Paris, April 22.—Just who will work, and what service the public will get on May 1st when the labor leaders purpose to have everything except the clock stopped, is still the main topic of discussion in all circles in Paris. At present it seems certain that all means of transportation will cease on May Day.

THE MOCKERY OF FATE

It sometimes seems as though fate takes a grim delight in dealing out sardonic dispensations that make a mockery of hope.

An illustration of this comes from Detroit where a man fell heir to a fortune of two hundred thousand dollars.

This wind-fall, for it seems like nothing else, provided not only complete assurance against poverty and financial adversity in any form, but affluence, the means of realizing every detail of the normal heart that money can satisfy. Travel, leisure, comfort, even luxury if desired, came with that bequest.

And the man to whom this fortune came is ninety years old, and drawing towards the close of a life of hardship and poverty. He is bent with toil, feeble with age, and deaf. The thing which that money could do that your mind will instantly conjure, he no longer has any appetite for.

He is old, his days are spent, his capacity for enjoyment of the creature comforts which this money would bring has passed away. Hardly any of the countless things he might have procured with that fortune interest him at all.

Fate, at the end of four-score-years-and-ten of toil and poverty, bring this man fortune. How Fate must have laughed at the mockery of it!

A RECENT PROPOSAL

A measure which was introduced in the Senate and read for the first time on April 15th is likely to create a great deal of discussion throughout Canada. It is in the form of an amendment to the Criminal Code and is described as "an Act for the identification of Traders in German Goods." The provisions are as follows:

(1) Every person who willingly deals in goods, wares or merchandise which are, in whole or in part, the growth, product or manufacture of Germany or Austria-Hungary, shall keep posted in letters easily legible over each outside entrance to his premises the words "Dealer in German Goods," and shall print the said words prominently in all his advertisements and stationery.

(2) Every person who fails to comply with the provisions of this section shall be liable for each offence on summary conviction to imprisonment for six months or to a fine of five hundred dollars or to both such imprisonment and fine.

(3) The provisions of this section shall not apply in dealings in any such goods, wares or merchandise as are in Canada at the date of the passing of this Act.

BE FAIR

The overall movement is not likely to become very popular in Canada. Men are not going to buy overalls as a protest against high prices of clothing. Some have been and are still wearing old clothes, and as soon as a sufficient number sacrifice the false pride which tends to drive them towards overalls rather than wear old clothes, then the lessened demand for clothing will bring down the prices.

Clothing men all tell the same story. It is in effect, that customers when shown the lower priced articles of clothing invariably ask for something better, and nine tim s out of ten purchase the higher priced article which though it may not be of as good quality conforms to the reigning styles.

If people must have style, even if it be only in overalls, they must be prepared to pay for it. Laying all the blame for the high prices of clothing on the dealers is hardly fair.

THE ONE BIG UNION

There is room in this country for only one big union—a union of loyal Canadians in the interests of Canada.

The One Big Union that is talked about mostly is the one that is trying to supplant the American Federation of Labor, the railroad brotherhoods and the unions associated with them. It also is trying to supplant the Canada we have known and loved and to set up in its place a Russianized monstrosity, a tyrannical dictatorship.

Canada has had in the past too much control by one class in the interests of that class, and is trying to get away from it. Evidence of this may be found on every hand.

In getting away from it Canada will not fly to the other extreme of submitting itself to the tyranny of red radicalism.

There is a one big union now—the union of Canadian provinces and peoples. That is the only one big union that Canadians are for, and the only one big union they will tolerate.

It will be a union dominated neither by money nor mobs, but a union operated by and for all the people. The Reds are learning that the only one big union that can exist in Canada is one that is not controlled by any class for the benefit of that class.

WHY NOT A GARDEN?

From every point of view Spring vegetables are better than Spring medicines.

An informed writer tells us that a piece of ground twenty feet wide and forty feet long if properly cultivated will supply a family of four persons with fresh vegetables during the entire growing season. Further, a little garden will manage to get the householder out of doors, will put him into close communion with nature and will promote his mental, moral and physical welfare.

All this is very good, but the argument for the garden that will win the day with most of us in this materialistic era is the fact that it will knock a sizable hole in the cost of living.

The war is over, but the world has acquired an enormous appetite. Food is going to be high for some time to come. Every man who can ought to get out and raise his own vegetables for his purse's and his soul's sake.

A LIVING FACT

Leon Bourgeois, one of the greatest of living Frenchmen, says that the League of Nations has already demonstrated its practicability and its usefulness, and that it is no longer 'a splendid Utopia" but a living, working fact.

Governments and peoples, he says, 'are appealing to the league knowing that they are appealing to a powerful and moral authority which is capable of giving its decisions effect." He predicts that the time is near when a nation that refuses to appeal to the league in a controversy involving other nations will find itself in a fatal position of opposition to world sentiment.

And therein lies the whole force of the league concept.

"Already," says M. Bourgeois, 'enormous progress has been made in the direction of world peace."

NOT SERIOUS

If there is any truth in the special cable to the Toronto Mail and Empire that "Workingmen's Clubs" in the old country are doing anything else than having a little fun when they discuss a tax on those who do not take strong drink, the world will be astounded. Presumably the teetotallers are not in a majority in the Workingmen's Clubs, but British fair play makes such a proposal monstrous. Until there is corroboration of the Mail and Empire story it should not be taken seriously.

CONDEMNING PROFITS

A number of people have convinced themselves and are now busy in an effort to impart the conviction to others, that profits are criminal and ought to be abolished.

At first glance it looks plausible too. Wages are too low the world over; profits have made and are still making a few people rich ;abolish profits and everybody will be comfortable. It looks reasonable, but it is not.

Labor would make better progress in its not yet won fight for fair treatment if it could oust from its ranks those who are planning and fighting for a condition where industry will yield no profits at all —only wages.

That proposal sounds alluring to some, but it wont stand serious thought.

In the very first place, if all that now goes to make up profits were distributed as wages it would not make much of an increase in anybody's pay. If you don't believe this get some statistics and figure it out for yourself. You will be amazed at the result.

But the great factor is that if the incentive to possible profits were removed, who would start enterprises that give service and supply employment? The government? Perhaps; but only for the barest necessities.

The fact s that as society is at present constituted, and while human nature remains the same, the incentive of possible profits is too valuable a factor in progress to be dispensed with. If human beings were imbued with the idea of service, and as enthusiastic for it as they are for profits, then the abolition of the profit system would come easily and naturally, and mankind would receive a rich blessing. But we must deal with things as they are and with human nature as it is.

The men who get the profits should not try to hog it; they should not try to take all the cream and leave labor only the thinnest and bluest of the skim milk. It isn't decent it isn't honest. They should deal fairly with labor —and even though it is in a measure under compulsion, they are learning to do that.

Profits are not necessarily earned at the expense of impoverished labor. Inordinate congestion of wealth, paralleled by scanty wages that do not yield a full living, comes where the division between capital and labor is not fairly made. It can be made fairly without destroying the incentive of profits—the incentive that has made thousands of workers cease to be laborers and climb into the ranks of employers.

Those who talk so glibly about abolishing profits overlook entirely the indebtedness of society to the profit system, they focus their attention entirely on its abuses. They are out to abolish the system without having an acceptable substitute, even in theory.

RED RIVER PAGEANT IS TO BE UNIQUE

Indians in York Boats and Canoes —Governor of H. B. C. in North Canoe

Winnipeg, Man., April 23.—The historical pageant on Red River at Winnipeg will be unique among the elaborate spectacles with which the 250th anniversary of the Hudson's Bay Company will celebrate in the five most important cities of Western Canada, Edmonton, Calgary, Vancouver and Victoria will commemorate the company's birthday with street pageants

No stream in Canada was more intimately associated with early Hudson's Bay history than Red River. It was the highway by which furs were freighted from lower Manitoba, Minnesota and the Rainy Lake country. Along its great Western tributary, the Assiniboine, the canoe brigades brought the beaver from the prairies. Up the stream the first farmers in Western Canada come from York Factory by way of the Hayes river and Lake Winnipeg to occupy land in Lord Selkirk's Red river settlements.

Fort Garry on the site of Winnipeg, Fort Douglas and Lower Fort Garry, successive capitals of the company, stood on its banks. Douglas has disappeared but Lower Fort Garry, eighteen miles below Winnipeg, still stands in fine preservation, one of the best illustrations of a Hudson Bay fort of early times. Near the junction of the Assiniboine and Red rivers in Winnipeg, stands a great gateway of stone and masonry, all that is left of Fort Garry. It is a monument to the pioneer past as modern Winnipeg is to the present.

The river pageant, which is to be held on May 3rd, will lift the curtain of centuries and present to the view of modern Winnipeg a spectacle such as Red River knew only in years long gone. Indians from a dozen tribes that have been loyal in friendship to the Hudson's Bay Company from the earliest times, will appear in York boats and canoes in fur brigade formation. They will be followed by Sir Robert Kindersley, governor of the company and other company officials in "North canoes," while Indians and trappers in pioneer guise will man a flotilla of other boats piled high with peltries.

EIGHT PERSONS KILLED ON NORTH DAKOTA FARM: ONLY ONE SURVIVOR

Turtle Lake, N.D., April 26.—Eight persons were found dead Saturday at the farm home of Jacob Wolf, three miles North of here, the victims of a mysterious tragedy. The dead are: Jacob Wolf and his wife, their five daughters, Bertha, aged 13, Edna 8, Mary 10, Lydia 5, and Martha 4, and Jake Hofer, 13, who was employed on the farm.

Only one member of the family escaped, Emma, eight months old.

Indications are that a murder was committed in the kitchen of the Wolf home and that the weapon used was a hatchet. The bodies of the mother, three daughters and the hired man were thrown into the cellar by the slayer or slayers, those of the father and two daughters put in a cow shed and barn and covered with hay.

Wolf was about 45 years old and was well liked by his neighbors and the residents of Turtle Lake. He was considered to be well to do. The State's Attorney and the Sheriff left at once for Turtle Lake to investigate.

MOORE DECLARES STRIKES MAY BE AGAINST PRICES

One Big Union Losing Ground as a Result of Visit to Winnipeg

Ottawa, April 26—"I might have been more popular had I come to this meeting in overalls, but I think in connection with the movement that if those wearing them now had given more consideration to those forced to wear them, there might not be so much industrial unrest in the country," Tom Moore, President of the Dominion Labor Congress said in an address to representatives of the International Union of Steam Engineers, on the world labor situation today. Mr. Moore declared the day is coming through formation of industrial councils, when strikes will not be conducted by the labor movement to obtain better hours or more wages, but in order to prevent manufacturers and employers charging exorbitant prices.

Earlier in the day, Moore declared that as a result of his visit to Winnipeg he believed the One Big Union was losing ground and the Internationals recovering their former place.

GUNMEN HOLD UP NEW YORK POLICE AND PRISONERS

New York, April 26—Five masked gunmen held up two police detectives and the fourteen prisoners they had saptured in a raid on a card game yesterday, and in escaping after the detectives opened fire one of the bandits shot and mortally wounded a negro elevator operator. It is believed that the same men shortly before this incident held up a card game and escaped with $1,000.

ODDFELLOWS AIM TO ELEVATE MEN RELIEVE DISTRESS

A Grimy Hand Can Do a Kind Deed, But a Black Heart Never

ODDFELLOWS WORSHIP

At First Baptist Church, Sunday Morning—Stirring Message by Rev. M. L. Orchard

Giving the object of the Oddfellows to "elevate human character and to assist in the relief of distress," the Rev. M. L. Orchard delivered a stirring address to the Independent Order of Oddfellows who paraded to the First Baptist Church, Sunday morning. There were over 100 Oddfellows in the line of march, and they were headed by the newly organized band of forty pieces under the leadership of Bandmaster Cox.

In commencing his sermon the Rev. Mr. Orchard welcomed the Oddfellows to the church, and then gave a short sketch of the growth of the Order since it had been organized. He stated that the Order was first formed 101 years ago in Baltimore, for although there may have been some lodges before that time, Washington Lodge No. 1 is really recognized as the parent lodge of the organization. In the 101 years the membership has grown until it now reaches a total of 2,250,000, or a growth of 22,000 a year. The first lodge was formed in Manitoba in 1873.

"Oddfellowship is a modern organization to meet the modern needs of the world," said the Rev. Mr. Orchard. The purpose and object of the Oddfellows is to elevate human character and assist in the relief of distress. It represented the mind and works of man, he said. A grimy hand can do a kind deed, but a black heart never—unless it is for that person's own self-advancement. Jesus preached repentance or the elevation of character—to change your ways of thinking towards the Kingdom of God. And then doing this, went out healing the sick. Christ is the great Oddfellow, said the pastor.

In giving a few more facts concerning the Order, Rev. Mr. Orchard said that eleven per cent of the Oddfellows membership went overseas and eight per cent of that number paid the supreme sacrifice. The Order has distributed $118,000,000 for the alleviation of distress, while fifty-five homes have been built for aged persons and orphans. There is at present a fund of $64,300 in hand in Manitoba for the erection of a Home in this Province.

"We live in two worlds today; one the visible and the other the invisible," said the speaker. There are as many definite things about the invisible as there are about the visible world. What we need today is a re-discovery of a spiritual world, and men who will take the principles of Jesus Christ and instil them into the lives of others. We have got to have a social salvation as well as the individual salvation, declared Rev. Mr. Orchard. "We want men who believe in the reality of Christ."

"Lots of men today put the principle of Euclid in their worship. They think that Christianity is a straight line from their heart to Christ—but that's not Christianity at all," said the speaker. Your religion is two lines, one from you to God and the other from you to men. Always keep the right relation between these two lines, and you will be travelling in the right direction towards the city of God.

A time will come in our life when we will look at life from the other end, and we should stop to think what life means when we regard it as a retrospect instead of a prospect. What God will do for us, will be pretty much what we do for God, said the pastor. If there are men who find it harder to get into the Kingdom of God than another, then it will be because that man has failed to make the most of the opportunities he had. "Engage every opportunity for Him." Don't let us make the mistake of putting service to men first, and to God second. Social service must grow out of social service to God, and we must have the kind of love in our hearts that will overcome every obstacle, concluded the pastor.

PROPOSE TAX ON NON-DRINKERS IN GREAT BRITAIN

Workingmen's Clubs Want More General Distribution of Taxes Borne by Drinkers

Toronto, April 26.—A Mail and Empire, London cable says: Taxation on teetotallers in the United Kingdom is proposed in the House of Commons on behalf of 'Workingmen's Clubs" to seek a more general distribution of the heavy taxation borne by drinkers. L. F. Jones head of the prohibitionists, says: "The idea is ridiculous; if I had my way, I would have the state pay a pension to all abstainers.

BETTER GET BUSY AND FILL INCOME TAX RETURNS

Forms Must be Filled Out and Sent in Before the First of May

Brandon citizens who have failed to make out their income tax return have only four more days in which to comply with the Taxation Act. Failing to make out their income tax form, a penalty of twenty per cent of the tax assessment against the person, will be added. Mr. J. F. Clark, who is in charge of the local Dominion Taxation office here, stated this morning that there are about three or four hundred persons in Brandon who have thus far failed to make out their income tax forms. No extension of time can be granted, and Mr. Clark advises that all forms should be filled out and returned before Friday of this week.

The returns have been much better this year than in former years, according to the local office. There has been very few misunderstandings in filling out the forms, and both citizens and farmers have come forward in greater numbers and so assisted in the work of the Department.

BELFAST POLICE OFFICERS KILLED

Saturday Night, Near Bandon, County Cork—Prisoners on Hunger Strike

Belfast, April 26—Sergeant Cornelius Crane and Constable McGoldrick, both of whom are reported to have belonged to the Belfast force, were shot and instantly killed Saturday night near Bandon, County Cork, from which Sinn Feiners allege the police departed to assassinate Lord Mayor McCurtain of Cork.

Tavern Keeper Wounded

Dublin, April 26—A man named Behan, keeper of a tavern, was shot late Saturday night and seriously wounded as he was leaving his place of business. His assailants escaped. Constable Swenton was wounded by a revolver shot in Ennis, County Clare, Saturday. Three suspects were arrested.

Prisoners on Hunger Strike

London, April 26—Among the 250 prisoners in Wormwood Scrubbs prison, a large number have been on hunger strike since Wednesday as a protest against detention without charge or trial. One of the men was released unconditionally Friday night in a state of collapse.

The London branches of the Irish Self-Determination League hastily organized a big demonstration outside the prison, thousands responded and last night indulged in manifestations similar to those recently carried out at Mount Joy prison, Dublin. The crowd sang patriotic songs and burned flares.

GERMANS TO STATE INDEMNITY THEY ARE ABLE TO PAY

It is Hinted That the Amount Will be Below Hundred Million Marks

Berlin, April 23.—Germany will announce before May 10th the amount she is able to pay as part of her indemnity to the Allies. The Finance Minister has not yet definitely indicated the sum but it is hinted that the amount will be below 100,000,000 marks.

RETAILERS WANT TO KNOW WHAT CAN BE DONE

Towards Putting a Stop to Increasing Costs—To Consult Manufacturers

Toronto, April 23.—Retail clothiers of Ottawa, Belleville, Barrie, Chatham, Sarnia, Lindsay and Toronto gathered here yesterday and passed a resolution deploring the ever-increasing prices of men's and boys' clothing and resolving to appoint a committee to meet the executive of the clothing manufacturers to see if something cannot be done to stop increasing costs.

Price Reductions in New York Store

New York, April 23.—One of New York's large ready-to-wear clothing houses advertised today reductions to $37.50 in prices of suits and overcoats ranging as high as $55, and reductions to $57.50 on those priced as high as $75. It is announced that the drop is a deliberate cutting out of profits for the purpose of helping the movement to force down the high cost of clothing.

President of Trades Congress of Canada Charges Them With Attempt to Befog

Winnipeg, April 21.—Charging O. B U. leaders with trying to befog the minds of the workers, and declaring that if they would only come into the open and state their policy this would be found only to lead to one end, the predomination of one class over other sections of the community. T. Moore, President of the Trades Congress of Canada, addressed a meeting of the Winnipeg Trades and Labor Council Tuesday night.

Mr. Moore, with other International labor leaders, is in the city at the request of the Trades Council to review the situation with a view to the Trades Congress formulating a policy in connection with the release of the convicted strike leaders, the support of their dependents, and the establishment of labor before the law. He refrained from making any statement as to the policy that might be adopted, saying that in all fairness to his colleagues on the executive, this could not be done till he had consulted them. He made it clear, however, that the conferences which had been held so far in the city, had demonstrated that there was no division of opinion between the officers of the Trades Congress and the members of the Trades Council executive as to what should be done.

Mr. Moore made a sharp retort to the circular issued by the Defence Committee, and especially the paraprapph stating that the Canadian Congress had tried to do their best to retard the work of defence by lying insinuations. "The men who issued a statement of that kind" he said, "are simply stating that they are willing to gamble with the comfort of the wives and children of the convicted men, that they are willing to gamble with the men's liberty, and that they are willing to gamble with the workers in order that they might maintain the prejudice created against the international labor movement." Mr. Moore repudiated the statement as being entirely unwarranted, and claimed that the whole question could only be effectively handled by the Trades Congress backed by the rank and file of labor.

Appeals for unity, toleration and cooperation if labor were to get reforms established and if it were to wage a winning battle against the forces of capitalism, which, he said, were being more and more directed against labor, featured the address.

JAPANESE STOCK EXCHANGES CLOSED FOR THREE DAYS

Because of the Failure of Operators to Put Up Additional Margins

Washington, April 21.—The American Embassy at Tokio reported to the State Department yesterday, under date of last Saturday, that the principal stock exchanges in Japan have been closed for three days because of the failure of operators to put up additional margins. Rumors have been widespread for several days in the United States, that some large banking firms in Japan were experiencing financial difficulties. The Japanese Government has taken steps to restrict loans made by banks for speculative purposes.

LIGHT KEEPERS RETURN TO POSTS FOR THE SEASON

Port Arthur, Ont., April 21.—Light keepers about the head of Lake Superior were taken to their posts for the season.

SEEDING REPORTED NEAR CARTWRIGHT

In the Neighborhood of Glenboro Land is in Shape to Work

Winnipeg, April 21—Seeding is now under way in the Cartwright district, a number of farmers havine done a little seeding the latter part of last week. The land is drying up rapidly and except for low spots most of the fields are now in condition for work.

Most of the country between Winnipeg and Glenboro is getting into splendid shape and farmers in the district of Glenboro were on Monday engaged in plowing. By the end of the week, if good weather continues, plowing will be fairly general throughout the district.

Reports from various Western points indicate that owing to the early Winter there is a great deal of plowing to be done.

POLITICAL POT A-BOILING ON PARLIAMENT HILL

Uncertainity Brings to Front Influential Forces Outside of Parliament

THE FRANCHISE BILL

Declaration by Col. Cy Peck, V.C., Against Disfranchisement a Great Surprise

Ottawa, April 22.—Parliament without the Prime Minister is like an attempt to produce Hamlet, with the character of Hamlet left out. There may be sessions when this statement is not as literally true as it is during the present one; and undeniably the Prime Minister's absence has produced a void which is not only noticeable; but, at times seems likely to be followed by important results. No one who desires to sustain his reputation as a prophet would venture to predict what may happen on Parliament Hill these days; but certain it is that a large number of persons who usually know what is going on are on the tiptoe of expectation.

This feeling has been caused by the growing impression that Sir Robert Borden, while recovering, is not gaining as rapidly as could be desired, the strength necessary for the conducting of a vigorous leadership. Now it is this quality that is badly needed. Since the Temiskaming by-election one thing the Government supporters are agreed upon, and that is the need of vigorous methods. They want a strong platform, a reconstructed cabinet, an organization and a bang-up campaign throughout the country. This is a large order and none but a stronge man could fill it. But after agreeing on the necessity of these things, the faithful pause and ask themselves, will Sir Robert be equal to it? There is a growing conviction that he will not be and that while he may retain the leadership, it will be rather nominal in character.

Gathering of the Clans

The truth is that the uncertainty of the situation has brought to the front forces outside of Parliament, and which always have a great deal to say when important decisions are to be made. The presence of Hon. Robert Rogers, Sir William Mackenzie and others of note, who singularly have arrived at the capital simultaneously, has given rise to the impression that there is something in the air. In this connection it is no secret that a number of the dyed-in-the-wool Tories having resolved to take no further chances, are quietly gathering together their forces and perfecting plans for what they say will be vigorous action. The Ginger group, which is the echo of this element in Parliament, has come to life again during recent weeks. They talk knowingly and confidently, as though they had made up their minds as to the course they would take. Their expressed intention is to resurrect the Liberal-Conservative party; to give those on the Government side a chance to get on the band waggon, if they so desire, and to pass them right up, if they don't get right on. Of course during the past few years so much has been said of what is going to happen that one is inclined to wait and see.

Differences Over Franchise Act

As was thought probable, the Franchise Act has caused a wide difference of opinion. The Government, however, is not inclined to make concessions with a view to putting more teeth in the measure. It was expected that the advocated of a stronger act would make quite a stand in the caucus; but Col. "Cy" Peck, V.C., upset expectations. As those acquainted with his military record well know, Col. "Cy" is a great man in an emergency, and when he gets into action there are developments, which fact many Germans discovered to their cost. At the caucus Col. "Cy" declared against disfranchising against the defaulters, not that he had any sympathy with them, but because he could not see that it would do any good. There had been slackers everywhere he said, at the front, just as well as at home. Indeed so difficult was it to detect the genuine from the false that the efforts to punish them through disfranchisement would not do any good. When a full-blooded V.C. colonel talks like that in a group of men, one can pretty well conclude what the result will be. The upshot was that the caucus sided with Col. "Cy's" opinion. The Western Unionists don't favor disfranchisement to anything like the extent that the Ontario men do. Everybody does not place the same high opinion on the franchise. Take Indians for example, their contempt for it is amusing. A bill now before the House not only proposes to enfranchise them, but to make it compulsory. Instead of the Indians considering this a boon, as the women do, they are vigorously opposed to it, even going so far as to say that they are not even subjects, but allies of the King. It is just possible that a number of the Noble Red men have been closely following the proceedings of Parliament and the careers of some of our leading politicians.

Gould Gave All Facts

Gould of Assiniboia has been getting into the limelight. When the campaign contributions feature of the Franchise Act was under discussion some one twitted him about his election expenses and he promptly admitted that they amounted to $6,000. As he seemed to be willing to give almost any information desired, a number of the crafty old-timers on the Government side started to draw him strongly, and before he got through he had put his whole election expense statement on hansard and had told the story of his agreement to resign if his electors demanded such action through the recall. Gould, being too easily drawn, told more than he should have done. It is a mistake for a new member to accept every challenge thrown at him. If in such matters he does not exhibit some of the wisdom of the serpent, he will soon be as harmless as a dove. The member for Assiniboia displayed such a readiness on his feet and took care of himself so well as to demonstrate that he is a very promising member. Indeed, aside from Messrs. Clarke and Crerar, he seems to be about as promising as any of the Third Party men. It cost quite a little to elect him; but the indications are that he will give his constituents a real run for their money, which is more than can be said of some M.P.'s. The House will keep its eye on Gould.

Watching McDonald

McDonald, the Laborite from Temiskaming, will also be watched, for a time, at least. Those who don't like him have been proclaiming him a "Red" with a capital R. Indeed so much has been made of this that some of the Farmer members have become frightened, and have been wondering whether it would be wise to let him sit with them. Very probably it will be found that McDonald is not nearly as red as he has been painted. As for being able to take care of himself, that may very safely be left to any man who in a three-cornered fight, can trim his next opponent by over 2,100. In the Ontario House the Labor members who have made common cause with the Drury government have given no trouble, and there is little likelihood that any elected to the House of Commons will give any more trouble.

An Amusing Fuss

It has been amusing to see the fuss that a number of the Ontario members have been making over the Farmers collecting and spending a little money for election purposes. To hear some of them talk, one would think that they had never heard of people contributing to a campaign fund. When they heard that $6,700 had been collected in Assiniboia they got their lead pencils working and figured out that at this rate the Farmers would have a fund of $1,400,000 for the next general election campaign. Such a thought almost drove some of them into hysterics. One could not but think that the size of the fund did not worry them so much as the thought of the Farmers having it. "Tom" Tweedie came down hard on the recall, declaring it to be unconstitutional. He also denounced the thought of allowing incorporated, or unincorporated business concerns to contribute towards a campaign. Levi Thomson defended the Farmers and Davis of Neepawa was also inclined to support their views.

The day following the duel between Gould and the Ontario men, Reid and Maharg had a set-to with Burnham over the same subject. The latter had introduced a resolution denouncing campaign funds in general, and in speaking to it he denounced both the methods of the Farmers and the Prohibitionists in collecting funds for the furtherance of their views. Reid and Maharg took him up on this and there was quite a lively time for a while. The Western Unionists while they enjoy any fun there may be in these encounters doubt the wisdom of these attacks, holding that while it may be good politics in Ontario, it is bad politics in the West.

Western Unionists Reorganize Caucus

The Western Unionists have reorganized their caucus, the departure of the Third Party men having made quite a hole in it. Committees have been appointed to work up special subjects such as the Tariff, railways, and a number of other subjects of special importance to the prairie provinces. The future of the Wheat Board is again coming to the front, some holding that if this year's crop is to be sold on credit there must be a body such as the Wheat Board to handle it. This, however, is by no means the case; for outside of what was sold to the United Kingdom the wheat is supposed to have gone to cash buyers.

Excess Profits Tax

The Budget should make its appearance before the first of May. There is not the same interest in it this year as there was last. This is occounted for by the fact that as much is not expected in the form of tariff changes, as was the case a year ago. It is admitted that the new Finance Minister must be allowed to feel his way, which puts out of question the probability of important changes. The announcement on taxation other than that imposed through customs will probably be the most important part of Sir Henry Drayton's remarks. A strong agitation for the abolition of the Excess Profits Tax has been conducted, those who would abolish it favoring the imposition of a tax on consumption instead, that is a tax on every article purchased. This may be popular among merchants but it would be most unpopular among consumers.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC INTO NEW YORK GREATLY INCREASED

Passenger Traffic Virtually Normal, Railway Officials Declare

New York, April 21.—Freight traffic, which has been almost completely crippled by the unauthorized strike, had reached 40 to 50 per cent. normal today on lines entering New York and Jeresey City. Passenger service is virtually normal again. Claims of the strike leaders that 70 per cent. of the strikers were still out were denied.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY PLANNING ALREADY FOR SEPTEMBER EXHIBITION

The biggest and best flower show that has ever been held in this city is now being planned by the Horticultural Society and active plans are being formed to make a success of this year's show. At an executive meeting held on Tuesday night, various committees were appointed to look after the matter of securing prizes and also to make arrangements in connection with the show which will be held on September 1st and 2nd. Messrs. A. Shrives, R. Burn, W. G. Oakey and A. White are the committee to arrange for prizes.

It is the intention of the society to use Arbor Day as a special day for the distribution of plants among the members. This will really consist of an exchange of plants, it is stated.

ALLIES DIFFER OVER POLICY TO BE PURSUED

Paris, April 21.—The withdrawal of Allied troops from part of Rhineland in consideration of immediate execution of the terms of the Treaty of Versailles is proposed by Italy and Great Britain, at the great San Remo conference. Premier Millerand has refused to agree to the plan. The Anglo-Italian program would include the disarmament of Germany under threat of blockade and the simultaneous inauguration of a policy of reconciliation. In view of the refusal of the French Premier, it is not likely that the proposals will be carried out.

GREAT BRITAIN STANDS FOR NATIONAL HOME FOR HEBREWS IN PALESTINE

London, April 21.—Recent rumors of a change in the policy of the British Government regarding the Jews in Palestine gave rise to another question in the House of Commons when the Foreign Secretary was asked to define the Government's exact policy with respect to the future position of the Jews in Palestine.

Cecil Harmsworth, Under Secretary, replied:

"The policy of the Government remains as defined in Mr. Balfour's declaration on November 2nd, 1917."

It will be recalled that Mr. Balfour's declaration on that occasion was to the effect that Great Britain was in accord with the Jewish aspiration for the establishment of a national home in Palestine, and would give its support to this project.

KEMNAY STUDENT WINS SCHOLARSHIP AT COLLEGE

The Manitoba Agricultral College examination lists for first and second year students, contain the name of James Guild of Kemnay, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Guild. Mr. Guild obtained the highest marks in his class for the first year in Agriculture. He also secured the Ogilvie Flour Mills Scholarship of twenty-five dollars for the highest general proficiency in the class of students taking their first year in agriculture.

The Mrs. McKee Cunningham scholarship for twenty-five dollars for the best work in chemistry of the first year Home Economics, was won by Miss Mildred Shanks.

CORNSACK WINS SUBURBAN

London, April 21.—Cornsack won the City and Suburban Race to day Square Measure, second; Furious, third.

GERMANY WANTS GENERAL STAFF GREATER ARMY

Huns Would Retain Entire Framework of an Active Army

A STANDING ARMY

Proposal by Germany to Increase Army from 100,000 to 200,000

Paris, April 21.—Germany has asked the Inter-Allied conference at San Remo to increase from 100,000 to 200,000 the men of the standing army provided for Germany by the terms of the Treaty of Versailles. This increased force is necessary, says the note delivered to the Foreign Office, for the maintenance of order in the interior, and that, fundamentally, the army would not accept an order for its dissolution. It is further requested that Germany be allowed to retain the entire general staff and corps officers, which means the entire framework of an active army.

FARMERS NORTH OF CITY NOW AT WORK ON THE LAND

James Shockey Commenced Cultivating, Tuesday and Several Others Today

This morning the first reports of work on the land in the Brandon district were received. Mr. James Shockey, who resides about five miles Northwest of the city commenced cultivating on Tuesday. In spite of the lowering skies and threatening bad weather the following farmers who reside North of the city commenced work today: Mr. L. Nelles whose farm is next to Mr. Shockey's, started cultivating this afternoon, and Messrs. D. G. McGregor, Albert Hamilton and W. P. McGregor all residents of the Forrest district started plowing this morning. Mr. John Clark, who resides half a mile North of the Hospital for the Insane, also started cultivating this morning. Work on the land will be general in the Forrest district as soon as the weather clears.

The land upon which work has been started is very light and has been free of frost for some time. One farmer stated this morning that he could commence seeding at once if he wished. No reports of operations on the land South of the city have been received as yet.

PRESENT CLAIMS FOR TUBERCULAR SOLDIER PATIENTS

At Meeting of Special Parliamentary Committee on Pensions —Insurance Wanted

Ottawa, April 21.—Representations of tubercular soldiers were placed before the special committee on Pensions this morning. Representatives urged that the present scale is inadequate to provide for tubercular men and their dependents. They also requested the following changes in regulations governing pay and allowances to patients in sanatoriums; free issue clothing to pensioners taking soldiers civil re-establishment training; extension of the training period; reservation of civil service positions for tuberculosis men fit to hold them; provision of life, sickness, and accident insurance to all disabled ex-service men.

NORTH AMERICAN BANKERS BLAMED AS TOO SEVERE

Newspaper Declares Argentina Will Turn to Britain in Future

Buenos Ayres, April 21.—La Razon, commenting on the fact that the British Government is loaning Argentina $500,000 to pay off a loan of the same amount by New York bankers, after the latter had refused to renew it, criticizes the lack of indulgence on the part of North American bankers. The newspaper says this means that Argentina in future financing, will turn to England.

MONTREAL EGG HANDLERS WANT $35 PER WEEK

Montreal, April 21.—Egg handlers in this city are threatening a strike if their demands for $35 a week are not met by their employers. The men claim they cannot live on $20 and $22 per week which are their present wages.

NO INDICATION OF UPRISING IN THE DOMINION

Reported Plots for Revolts in Canada, Egypt, Ireland and India

IRISH AGITATORS BUSY

Republic Sympathizers Said to Have Left U. S. to Make Trouble in Canada

Ottawa, Ont., April 21.—Authorities here are so far without any official information of the reported investigation by British officials into the New York plot for simultaneous uprisings in Canada, Egypt, Ireland and India, in June. There is, it is stated, no indication of an uprising in Canada. According to the report a number of "Irish Republic"agitators have left the United States for Canada, Egypt and India to plan the revolt.

OUTLAW STRIKE MONTREAL STAR HAS COLLAPSED

Montreal, April 21.—The outlaw strike of the typographical staff of the Montreal Daily Star has collapsed. Last night the men decided to ask the management to take them back at the wage scale in force before the strike, but without discrimination against any of them.

DR. JOLLIFFE OF MANITOBA UNIVERSITY, TO ADDRESS CANADIAN CLUB APRIL 30

"Education and Democracy" will be the subject of an address to be given by Dr. Jolliffe, of the University of Manitoba, to the members of the Canadian Club of Brandon at a luncheon which will be held Friday evening, April 30th. Dr. Jolliffe was formerly a professor at Wesley College and for the past four years has been professor of Greek at the University. He is probably one of the most brilliant and forcible speakers of the West and the subject he has chosen is one to which he has given much thought. This will be the first occasion on which Dr. Jolliffe will address a Brandon audience and it is hoped that there will be a large attendance of club members.

ASSESSMENT APPEALS HEARD

Judge Cumberland Withholds Decisions — Assessor Warned Against Bad Practice

The hearing of the appellants before the court of appeal as to the 1920 assessment, was concluded Tuesday afternoon. In all there were eleven appeals which came before His Honor Judge Cumberland who presided during the sittings held in the City Hall. Five of the appelants were heard in the morning and the remainder gave evidence in the afternoon as to why their assessment for this year should be lower than it has been fixed by the City Assessor. No decisions were given by Judge Cumberland.

The appellants heard Tuesday afternoon were Thomas Hamilton of Winnipeg, re the King Edward Hotel; Independent Order of Foresters re their property on the corner of Eleventh street and Rosser avenue; E. Crawford as to his block on the corner of Seventh street and Rosser avenue; J. H. McLean and Company as to their store property at 1112 and 1114 Rosser avenue; C. C. McGregor as to the South-East corner of Rosser avenue and Twelfth street; and C. S. Unicume as to the assessment on the Avenue Block on Rosser avenue between Eleventh and Twelfth streets. All the appeals were based on the claim that the assessment for this year was too high and out of proportion to the value of the property.

The action of the former City Assessor in placing the original values back on parcels of property this year when they had been appealed against and reduced last year, by the Court of Appeal, was commented on by His Honor Judge Cumberland. He said that where this practice had been followed he would seriously consider charging the appeals fees against the Assessor.

BANDITS FAIL TO SEIZE ROYAL PLATE: ATTACK TRAIN

Queen of Spain and Her Brother on Train—Two Trainmen Wounded

Seville, Spain, April 21.—Bandits attacked a train on which Queen Victoria and her brother, the Marquis of Carisbrooke, were travelling from Madrid to Seville. The robbers made an unsuccessful attempt to carry off the royal plate, which the queen was taking with her. The robbers, who were well armed, opened a regular fusillade when discovered, wounding two of the railway men, one of them probably mortally. The bandits escaped, in a two horse carriage, leaving no clue to their identity.

MOOSE JAW MAY HAVE DAYLIGHT SAVING MAY 20

Moose Jaw, Sask., April 21.—A by-law was introduced at Tuesday night's City Council meeting to take a vote on daylight saving on May 15th. Should the by-law be carried it would go into effect from May 20th until September 21st.

BLUE PENCIL SALE of high-grade

Clothing

marked down at 25 cents on the dollar

a plain statement of facts

the big reason for this sale

Last fall when we were placing Spring orders—we were being constantly reminded, through short shipments, of the scarcity of clothing stock aand furnishings and to make doubly sure that we'd have an adequate supply of Men's wear for spring we placed double orders—not dreaming that our orders would be filled.

This spring—we have received 100 per cent of our orders—which means that we have twice as much stock on hand than we require to meet normal demand—and on account of a late spring and cold weather—even the demand for Spring and Summer wear hasn't been normal.

WE MUST HAVE THE MONEY

We are overloaded with stock—stock that ordinarily we could not dispose of in six months steady selling. We must meet our bills for goods received—and in order to cut our stock in half, we are opening tomorrow morning for ten days selling at prices that will literally pack the store with ready buyers.

WILL SEEM LIKE OLD TIMES

We've taken the blue pencil and marked down Clothing and Furnishing prices all the way from 25 to 50 per cent. Every piece of stock is clean, fresh and up-to-the-minute in style. It is all Spring and Summer wear that we can't afford to hold over—we must turn at least half of it into cash immediately.

DOUBLE VALUE FOR YOU

Whether you want a full rig-out—including a suit and overcoat, or only want a pair of socks or a new tie—buy it here now. You'll never again have the chance of buying high grade merchandise at such low prices. There are a few items on this page—which show just how we are cutting prices—look them over now, and make up your mind to visit Thompson's tomorrow.

Better come in the mornings if possible—you'll avoid the crowd and receive better attention.

A $450.00 SPECIAL PRIZE

Get Out of the Shade

—and into the Sun. If you are not taking a hand in this big Competition you are missing something. $8,000 will be distributed in prizes among a very small number of competitors in a Competition in which there is absolutely nothing to lose. With the few competitors an energetic person is sure of an excellent prize and in addition is backed up by the 10 per cent. commission guarantee. The fine weather is here.

Make Your Spare Time Count

Have You Read the Details ?

An Ennis Piano, valued at $450.00 is being given for the best work done this week, next week and the week following.

This being a special prize, the winner can also carry off one of the big Touring Cars to be given at the close of the Competition.

The Car's the Thing

Within a very short time the country roads will be decorated with autos. In this country, perhaps more than in any other part, a car does more to fill in that "spare time" gap. What about yourself? Are you driving your own car this summer or are you depending on the good nature of some kindly neighbor for your holiday outings? Do you know that the Sun is offering you your own car this summer if you will only exert a small amount of effort?

Why Not Grasp This Opportunity Now?

The Extra Prize

A $450 Ennis Piano will be given to the competitor doing the best work this week, next week and the week following. This prize is offered as an "extra" to get the Competition started in earnest, and the winner may also win one of the big Touring Cars at the close of the Competition.

To date little has been done, making it an unusually good offer for any live and ambitious person.

The Free Prizes

And How They Will Be Awarded

The prizes listed below will be designated in the competition as Capital Prizes, and they will be awarded to the four Sun Competitors who receive the highest number of points to their credit at the close of the Competition (regardless of district). First Capital Prize will be awarded to the person having highest number of points; Second Capital Prize to the one having the second highest number of points, etc.

FIRST CAPITAL PRIZE—$1,855.00 Chevrolet "Baby Grand" Touring Car.
SECOND CAPITAL PRIZE—$1,145.00 Chevrolet Touring Car.
THIRD CAPITAL PRIZE—$850.00 Ennis Player Piano.
FOURTH CAPITAL PRIZE—$300.00 Starr Phonograph.

FIRST DISTRICT PRIZES
"Brunswick" Phonographs valued at $170.00

SECOND DISTRICT PRIZES
Complete sets of Cutlery, "Community Plate," including knives, forks, spoons, etc.

THIRD DISTRICT PRIZES
Gold Watches, either lady's or gentleman's, of a well known and reliable manufacture

FOURTH DISTRICT PRIZES
"Ansco" Folding Cameras

How You Are Guaranteed

Ten Per Cent.

To each and every active Sun Competitor who works up to the close of the competition and does not win one of the valuable prizes we will give 10 per cent. of all the subscription money which he or she has personally collected, provided that the amount turned in by said competitor exceeds the amount of $25.

Another Surprise

—is being outlined for our competitors next week. This week it was a special prize Piano. Those who enter before the offer is made will naturally have a better chance than those who enter later, and as a consequence we advise all prospective competitors to send in their names at once.

The Competition will be full of pleasurable surprises.

Why Not Win Two Big Prizes In This Competition?

Working for the Special Piano will also accumulate you the points for winning the Chevrolet "Baby Grand"

More Competitors Are Needed

—in every section of the field. Although there is no question of the fact that the prizes will be easily won, it is only right that a certain amount of effort should be expended in the winning. There is no doubt that it is a big advantage in having few to compete against and those who are wise enough to see this will be the lucky winners at the finish.

Why not enroll now and avail yourself of this splendid opportunity? Competitors are needed in every district.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

ALLNUTT—HANDS

A quiet wedding was solemnized at St. George's Church, Wednesday afternoon at 5.30 when Rev. R. S. Hammond united in marriage Miss Violet Hands, of Hartney, to Mr. Edward Allnutt, of Napinka. Mr. and Mrs. Allnutt will reside in Napinka.

HURD—OLSON

The marriage of Mary, only laughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. Olson, of Hilltop, Man., to Lorne Hurd, of Brandon, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. Hurd, 131 Donald street, Winnipeg, took place at the home of the groom's parents, Thursday. Rev. R. S. Laidlaw officiated. Miss Clara Collins, of Winnipeg, attended the bride while Mr. Harry Irving supported the groom. Following the ceremony supper was served and later the happy young couple left for Brandon. Mr. and Mrs. Hurd will reside in Brandon at 735 Seventh street.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Thomas Clarke

The death occurred on Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James McLatchie, 333 Russell street, of Mrs. Thomas Clarke who has been ill for about two months, suffering from complications following an attack of influenza. She is survived by her husband and four small children.

Stephen Steen

The death occurred in the city this morning of Mr. Stephen Steen, aged fifty-five years. The late Mr. Steen has been working for farmers in the Souris district and was only ill a few days with pneumonia.

The remains of the late Mr. Stephen Steen who passed awey in this city last Wednesday were shipped Saturday from Campbell & Campbell's undertaking parlors to Papineauville, Quebec, for interment. Mr. R. Steen of Oak Lake, a brother of the deceased, accompanied the remains East.

Edward Reynolds

The death occurred in the city on Monday of Mr. Edward Reynolds, a returned soldier who had been ill for several months, and whose home was at 632 Princess Avenue, East. Many people will know Mr. Reynold's work perhaps better than they know of him, as he was one of the experts in basket weaving in connection with the vocational work at the Brandon General Hospital and made many of the cradles, baskets, trays etc. exhibited and sold during the Christmas season by the soldiers. The late Mr. Edwards was thirty-seven years of age. He went overseas with the Sixtieth Battalion in 1915 and saw two years ser- April 1917. Ne was wounded and gassed while on service. He is survived by his wife.

Mrs. Mary S. Forsyth

After a short illness from pneumonia Mrs. Mary Sutherland Forsyth, beloved wife of Mr. Alex. Forsyth, 546 Twelfth street passed away on Wednesday afternoon at the age of sixty-three years. The late Mrs. Forsyth came to Manitoba in 1882 and was one of the pioneer teachers in the province. She was at one time a member of the teaching staff at the Okarese Indian Reserve near Iphinstone, Man. For many years Mr. and Mrs. Forsyth were residents of the Newdale district where they are very well known. They moved to Brandon in 1908 to reside. The late Mrs. Forsyth has many friends both in Brandon and at Newdale who will regret her death. Besides her husband she is survived by one daughter, Miss Mary A. Forsyth, and one son, Mr. Donald S. Forsyth, B.A.

Lieut. Victor Inman

Brandon friends of Lieut. Victor Inman, son of the late Mr. Herbert Inman, formerly Manager of the Bank of Hamilton at Hamiota for many years, and Mrs. Inman, 121 Royal street, Fort Rouge, Winnipeg, will be sorry to learn of his death which occurred Sunday after a short illness from diptheria. The late Lieut. Inman was Scout Officer of the Forty-third Cameron Highlanders in France and was wounded at Amiens. Besides his mother one sister, Miss Gwen Inman of Fort William, is left to mourn his loss.

The late Lieut. Inman was very well known in Brandon and had a host of friends in this city who will regret his death.

DATES OF SEEDING IN MANITOBA FOR PAST 25 YEARS

During a tardy Spring, such as the present, everybody will be interested in having a record of previous springs, together with information as to the crop outturns for each succeeding season. The Manitoba Department of Agriculture, therefore, presents a table below indicating the approximate dates for the past 25 years—1895 to 1919—when seeding became general throughout Manitoba, together with the official provincial record as to the average yield of wheat per acre.

FALCONS DEFEAT SWEDEN 12-1 FOR WORLD'S TITLE

Only Goal Scored by Sweden Came As a Surprise—Half Time Score 5-1

The Falcons won the world's title at hockey when they defeated the Swedish team in the final game on Monday night by the score of 12-1. From the start of the game it was largely a case of how many goals the Canadians would score and the only counter secured by the Swedes was a surprise to the winners. The Falcons had scored five times in the first ten minutes when Sevennsson, the Swedish right defence player grabbed the puck, hustled down the left wing and drove the puck at Byron. The shot was a surprise one and so astonished Wally that he fell in trying to clear it.

The score at half time was 5-1, and the winners ran in seven more goals in the last half for good measure. The losers played heroically against the well organized play of the Canadians but could do nothing with the Falcons defence. The game gave the Canadians the world's championship.

Under the rules in force at Olympic games the teams beaten by the winners must play off for second place. Therefore the Americans, Slovaks and Sweden will play off for that honor with the Americans prime favorites for the second position. The first game will be played this evening when the U. S. team plays Sweden, and the winner of this game will meet the Slovaks on Wednesday in the final, the Slovaks having drawn a bye.

INSULATED HOUSES BEING BUILT IN SASKATOON: SAID TO RESIST COLD

Saskatoon, Sask., April 23.—Insulated houses are attracting attention in Saskatoon, and University drive will have another of the same type as that built by H. Gauvin, of Saskatoon, yast year. The first one was the subject of a recent article in the Literary Digest as a model type of cold resisting scientific construction.

NEW SCHEDULE OF SALARY FOR RURAL SCHOOL PRINCIPALS

Only Applicable in Rural Schools and for High School Assistants

Winnipeg, April 27.—A new salary schedule for rural school principals and high school assistants has been approved by the executive of the Manitoba Teachers' Federation, and a circular is being sent to all school boards asking their co-operation in making it effective, according to an announcement made Monday morning by H. W. Huntley, President of the Federation.

According to this schedule, principals of two-roomed schools will receive $1,600 for the first year, with increases up to $2,000 for the sixth year; three-roomed and four-roomed schools, $1,800 for the first year, increasing to $2,200 for the sixth year; five-roomed and six-roomed schools, $2,000 for the first year, increasing to $2,500 for the fifth year; high schools, $2,200 for the first year, increasing to $2,850 for the sixth year.

The circular also states that if more than $500 increase is necessary to put a principal in his proper place, this amount would be considered satisfactory for the first year, if in the following year he be given his proper place in the schedule.

High School Schedules

For high school assistants, the schedule provides a minimum of $1,600 for the first year, with an increase of $100 per year up to $2,100 for the sixth year. The minimum increase required this year is $400, providing that in 1921-1922, assistants be placed in their proper position. These schedules do not apply to the city of Winnipeg, its suburbs, or any other cities in Manitoba, Mr. Huntley said. Both apply equally to men and women, and deal only with minimum salaries. Any special arrangements between principals or assistants and their board of trustees, in excess of these figures, would not be interfered with.

"This schedule has been prepared to meet the urgent appeal made by the rural principals at Easter," Mr. Huntley said. "The splendid spirit of co-operation shown by the rural principals, and their decision to meet in committee and not as a local association, gave heart to all workers in the Federation. The work of our organization is progressing very favorably, and we are co-operating with all agencies which aim at the uplifting of the teaching profession and the welfare of educational interests in the province.

"It is now only six months since the federation approved a minimum of $1,200, or $100 per month, for grade teachers, and already reports are coming in that school boards have adopted this minimum for the coming year. Winnipeg and suburbs are paying $1,000 minimum, as well as many rural boards. Before the year is up we expect to see most boards offering a minimum of $1,200 to all grade teachers, as well as the above schedule to the principals."

The Federation has nominated an advisory board, consisting of Doctor Daniel McIntyre, representing the Eastern part of the province; W. Dakin, Souris, representing the Western part, and E. K. Marshall, Portage la Prairie, representing the high schools, Mr. Huntley said.

GOVERNMENT WON'T FINISH BUILDING H. B. R. THIS YEAR

Tells Business Men That 300 Miles of Track Will be Put in Good Repair

A message from President P. A. Kennedy of the Board of Trade was received from Ottawa this morning to the effect that the Dominion Government has agreed to put the 300 miles of track of the Hudson's Bay Railway in good repair in order that the mining camps can be properly served in that vicinity. The Government will not go ahead with the plans to complete the railway this year however, but have given their promise to proceed with the completion of the road as soon as possible.

Mr. Kennedy was one of a number of representative Western men who waited on the Acting Premier of the Dominion and several Ministers at Ottawa on Thursday. The object of the Western men was to secure the completion of the Hudson's Bay Railway and so open up a route to an ocean trade with Europe through the Hudson's Bay.

UNION PRINTERS

in Newspaper Accused of Censoring News Items Regarding Labor Offices

Indianapolis, May 4.—Charges that the International Typographical Union exercises a censorship over the newspaper columns of all except four newspapers in the United States were declared to be "absolutely untrue" by Walter W. Bartlett, Vice-President of the organization here Monday. "There have been a few attempts in newspaper offices, of shop chapels to exercise censorship in keeping out of print stories unfavorable to organized labor,' he said, "but in every instance the Typographical Union has supported the publisher."

A Sensational Charge

Washington, May 4. — The charge that the International Typographical Union exercised a censorship over part of the American press was made before the Senate Newsprint Investigating Committee Monday, by B. J. McCone, general manager of the Buffalo Commercial Union. Called upon for a specific instance in support of his charge, Mr. McCone declared that only four newspapers printed last October certain parts of Elbert H. Gary's testimony before the Senate Steel Investigation Committee, and that the Buffalo News, after putting the story in type, was forced to change it under pressure from the union's shop chapel. The witness said that the Commercial and the New York Times were the only papers in the Eastern section in the country that printed the Gary criticism of organized labor as given before the commission. The witness stated that only four newspapers were free of union censorship, he did not give the names, nor did members of the committee ask for them.

Mr. McCone charged that the union, through the exercise of censorship by the shop chapel, kept articles [illegible] most newspapers.

Before he had injected a new feature into the hearing, Senator Reeds' proposal to tax newspapers issuing more than a stipulated number of pages was discussed, commented and condemned.

MECHANIC KILLED; AVIATOR HURT, IN AIRPLANE CRASH

Accident Occurs Near Saskatoon —Machine Up About 1,500 Feet

Saskatoon, Sask., May 4—R. C. Hamilton, mechanic for McLelland & Lobb, aviators, was killed, and Lieut. Harry Lobb was seriously injured in an airplane crash Northwest of the city shortly before six o'clock Monday afternoon.

Eye-witnesses state that the machine was up about 1,500 feet. Lobb started a spin, out of which the plane was never righted.

It whirled with frightful velocity to the earth. The machine struck absolutely head-on. When it struck it bounced back eight feet. The engine, forced back by the impact, crashed upon Hamilton, who was in the front seat. Lobb miraculously escaped death, but suffered a splintered jaw and possibly a fractured skull. He recovered colsciousness almost as soon as he was extricated from the wreckage.

Hamilton had to be cut away from the debris, an axe being needed to free him.

Winnipeg, May 4.—Pilot Harry Lobb is well known to Winnipeggers. Last Summer he flew from Saskatoon to Winnipeg in the interests of the Chinese aviation school at the former place where he was instructor. During his sojourn in Winnipeg he gave several exhibitions of flying and took dozens of citizens on their first flight.

PASSENGER FARES BETWEEN CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES MAY BE INCREASED

Ottawa, Ont., May 4. — Increased passenger fares between Canadian-American points to take care of the exchange will be considered by the Board of Railway Commissioner this afternoon. It is expected that a decision will be made regarding suspended tariffs, which the railways sought to be made effective March 29th last.

ARTHUR WALLACE ADMITS HE LOST SEVERAL THINGS TRAVELLING IN CANADA

Montreal, May 4.—Arthur Wallace, associate editor of the Manchester Guardian, addressing the Reform Club Monday said that in his 14,000 mile journey through Canada, he had lost three pairs of gloves, two umbrellas, two trains and one ship, and he feared too that he had lost his reputation, temporarily at least, in Toronto where he said he had made some injudicious remarks about prohibition and its efficiency.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY DISAPPOINTED IN TEIPER ACQUITTAL

States Sensation Would be Caused if Circumstances of Case Were Known

Buffalo, May 4.—The acquittal Monday of John Edward Teiper on a charge of having murdered his mother, Mrs. Agnes Teiper, was followed by a controversy between District Attorney Guy V. Moore and Roscoe R. Mitchell, of Teiper's counsel.

District Attorney Moore was disappointed with the verdict not guilty and issued a statement in which he said that social unrest and Bolshevism must be expected to grow "if on the evidence in this case, courts and juries will allow the wealthy and powerful to go free." He added that all the circumstances of the case, if known, would prove sensational.

Attorney Mitchell replied to the prosecutor with a statement which read: "We are in complete ignorance as what is meant by the District Attorney when he says: 'If the facts were known in the case.' If Mr. Moore has anything, let him lay his cards on the table. That is what he is in office for."

District Attorney Moore refused to add to his statement or to reply to Mr. Mitchell.

TAYLOR URGES THAT VETERANS SOCIETIES UNITE

President of Provincial Command Army and Navy Veterans Urges Unity

A "get-together" meeting of the Army and Navy Veterans was featured Monday evening by the attendance of F. G. Taylor of Portage la Prairie, President of the Provincial Command. Mr. Taylor in a talk to the members advocated the amalgamation of the Great War Veterans, Army and Navy Veterans and other veteran movements, and told of the benefits that would arise from such a procedure. The speaker also gave an account of the organization work of the Army and Navy Veterans in Manitoba, and of the progress made since its inception.

A most interesting account of the Battle of Amiens was given by General James Kirkcaldy, who had an active part in the direction of the movements of some of the troops. The social part of the evening was enlivened by some songs by Mr. W. H. Bates, which were greatly appreciated by the members present.

CANADA-NEWFOUNDLAND DISPUTE TO BE HEADED BY PRIVY COUNCIL SOON

St. John's N.F., May 4.—The Minister of Justice of Newfoundland is preparing a brief in connection with the dispute of this country and Canada over the Labrador boundary. The case will be submitted to the Privy Council in the near future.

NO ADVANCE IN PRICE OF BREAD IN THIS CITY

There has been no advance in the price of bread in Brandon and the bakers in the city do not predict an increase unless the price of materials take another jump.

Bread prices were raised in Winnipeg on Monday to seven and a half cents for the sixteen ounce loaf, and nine and a half cents for the twenty ounce loaf wholesale, which is an increase of half a cent on the wholesale prices.

Retail prices in Winnipeg are now nine cents for the sixteen ounce loaf and eleven cents for the twenty ounce loaf is compared with eight and a half and ten cents respectively, the former prices.

High wages to employes and the prevailing high price of flour are given as the causes for the increase.

CROWDS WATCHED START OF HUDSON'S BAY PAGEANT

Red-skinned Indians and Bronzed Fur Traders Added to Picturesque Sight

Winnipeg, May 4.—Crowds witnessed the start of the Hudson's Bay pageant today. Metaphorically speaking the "clock of history" was put back 250 years when the red-skinned Indians, bronzed fur traders of the North and the Hudson's Bay factors from the fur territory paddled down the Red River under Provencher bridge in 18 canoes to two York boats, headed North for Lower Fort Garry.

Thousands of Winnipeg citizens thronged all the vantage points in the vicinity of the bridge in an endeavor to obtain a glimpse of the spectacle, and it was indeed a picturesque sight that greeted their eyes.

Shouts Welcome Canoes

"Here they come" went up in one mighty shout as the canoes rounded the bend South of Provencher bridge; the delighted squeals of the tremendous concourse of children mingled with the more sedate cheering of the elders as the sight unfolded itself. There, paddling majestically down the Red River, were the frail craft, followed by the more stately York boats. The sun fully illuminated the curious dress of the redskins, and plainly showed the spectators the hardened and grim visages of the factors and fur traders.

Rounds of cheering rent the air as the procession wended its way under the bridge. The Indians in the canoes not to be outdone, responded to the modernized shouts of "Hurrah!" with their old-time battle and tribal cries, and if anything more were needed to remind the onlookers that the pageant was organized to remind the present-day Winnipeggers of the olden times, the cries of the Indians certainly fulfilled the object.

Delighted with the curiosity they aroused, the Indians waved their paddles in the air, and the vicinity echoed to the quaint whoops and yells with which they filled the air.

Expert Paddling

Intent upon responding to the cheers of those on terra firma, some of the Indians came perilously near to allowing their canoes to crash into the stanchions of the bridge. The men with the rear paddles, however, realizing the danger attendant upon such a contingency, simply paddled the harder, and with mighty sweeping strokes averted any possible danger. It was, indeed, a sight to see the case with which they manipulated their small craft. They did not appear to be in the least troubled by the swirling waters of the Red river. Smiles at those on the banks encircled their faces as they paddled toward the North.

Immediately in the wake of the canoes followed the ponderous York boats which were used in the olden days to transport the furs to the Hudson's Bay forts. Manned by stalwart Indians from the Keewatin district, who were obviously some of the best physical specimens of that territory, they were rowed steadily and strongly, and considering the weight of the boats, it was a wonder they kept so close to the smaller canoes.

APRIL, 1920, A COLD MONTH

April, 1920, was the coldest of any corresponding month for many years. The highest temperature during the past month was 55; lowest 9½ below. Mean temperature 27. Snowfall one inch. Rain .11 and sunshine 229.5 hours.

SAILING OF LINER LA FRANCE FOR NEW YORK INDEFINITELY POSTPONED

Paris, May 4. — Announcement is made of the indefinite postponement of the sailing of the liner La France for New York, which was fixed for Monday. Officials of the French line are unable to set any probable date for the departure of the vessel, although they were optimistic she would get away before the end of the week.

The postponement caused great inconvenience to many people who had booked passage and who expected to depart by a special boat train from the St. Lazare station. They found to their surprise the train had been cancelled.

INCREASED RATES OF GRAIN DOORS FOR FREIGHT CARS

Rates Are Fifty Per Cent. Higher $2.60 for Uppers

Ottawa, May 4.—Increased allowances for grain doors supplied in Western Canada by shippers for ordinary freight cars carrying grain are placed at $2.25 per door for lowers and 75 cents for uppers, in a ruling of the Canadian railway commission. These rates apply on cars with five-foot doors and compare with the current rate of $1.50, just 50 per cent. higher. For six-foot doors, the new rates will be $2.60 for uppers and 90 cents for lowers.

J. Hardwell, chief traffic officer of the board, in his recommendation which the board adopts as its ruling, states that he has based his allowances for grain doors as nearly as possible on the actual cost of materials, with no allowance for labor on the principle that the allowance should be adequate but not high enough to encourage shippers to equip ordinary freight cars rather than wait for the railway companies to supply a grain car.

VERDICT OF $800 FOR GAS COMPANY

Cousins Sentenced for Theft Ordered to Pay for Gas Used

In the case of Canada Gas and Electric Corporation vs. Cousins, Mr. Justice Macdonald has given his decision in favor of the plaintiff corporation for the sum of $800 and costs. The original claim was for $812.30. Cousins piped the gas into his home on Tenth street without notifying the Company and used the gas during the Winter months to heat his house. Charged later in the Police Court with the theft of the gas, he was sentenced to six month imprisonment. Later he was also sued for the amount of gas said to be used by the defendant Cousins, and the case was heard last Saturday before the non-jury sitting of the Assizes. Mr. Justice Macdonald has now given his decision as above.

MARYLAND REPUBLICANS FAVOR MAJ. GEN. WOOD

Baltimore, May 4.—Major-General Wood defeated Senator Hiriam Johnson, California, in a light vote yesterday in the primaries of the Maryland preference of the republican party. Woods' majority wos 7,841.

FOUR MONTREALERS ARRESTED ARE IN A NEW YORK JAIL

Held in Connection With Five Million Dollar Bond Robbery

Montreal, May 4.—Four Montrealers are in the New York jail in connection with the five million dollar bond robbery on Wall street and the visit of "Nicky" Arnstein to this city a few weeks ago. Three of the men, whose names are carefully guarded by the lawyers they have engaged to defend them, are said to be well known business men, part of a gang of twelve who helped Arnstein get rid of his bonds—a million and a half of Liberty bonds was sold here through a Montreal broker at a discount of fifty per cent. The authorities know who the broker is, but wish to round up the rest of the gang before they lay hands on him.

The fourth man is a Montreal private detective who was captured by a clever trick played on him by two New York detectives, who had reasons to suspect him of having accepted bribes from Arnstein in order to let him go free. Pretending that they had arrested two prisoners who had to be taken to New York, the New Yorkers engaged the Montreal man to take the prisoners to New York. As soon as he was across the border they ordered him to release his prisoners, and, to his surprise, placed him under arrest. The two supposed prisoners turned out also to be detectives and the Montreal sleuth is now with his fellow-citizens in jail. Further developments are expected soon.

TWO WORKMEN KILLED, FOUR ARRESTED; POLICE QUELL STRIKERS RIOTS

Valencia, Spain, May 4.—Two workmen were killed and four arrested as a result of a clash between the strikers and gendarmes in the centre of the city Monday. The mob had gathered in the business section, and was breaking shop windows when the police interfered. Order has been reestablished.

TWO MEN KILLED, TRAIN STOPPED, WHEN NITRO-GLYCERINE EXPLODES

Montreal, May 4.—Two men, James Morin and John Landrigan, were killed and a Grand Trunk train in motion was stopped when five tons of nitro-glycerine exploded at the plant of the Canadian Explosives Company, at McMasterville, Que., at noon Monday. The portion of the plant containing the nitro-glycerine, and in which Morin and Landrigan were working, was entirely destroyed. The Grand Trunk train was proceeding across a bridge over the Richelieu river, nearly a mile away, and was stopped by the force of the wind caused by the blow.

All the windows in the train were smashed. The cause of the explosion is not known.

MOTHER OF SEVEN KIDDIES GIVES BIRTH TO TRIPLETS

Birtle, Man., May 4.—The value of a women's institute to a community was amply proved here. Mrs. Ed. Reed, a member of the institute and the mother of seven children, had the misfortune to lose her home some time ago by fire.

Recently Mrs. Reed gave birth to triplets. Immediately the organization of the institute rose to the occasion, and in a short time provided for the three where one had been planned for. The three babies are progressing splendidly and are receiving all the attention due the first triplets born in these parts.

FOUR SUDDEN DEATHS OCCUR IN MONTREAL DURING THE WEEK END

Montreal, May 4. — Four sudden deaths were reported over the week-end. One was a shooting accident in Rosemount, when a boy was shot by another lad while examining a revolver. Two others were sudden deaths of persons found dead in bed. The fourth was that of Auguste Eckstein, brother of Willie Eckstein, the well known Montreal pianist. He was run over by a street car in Westmount, both legs being severed and died on the way to the hospital.

ST. CATHARINES JOURNAL SUSPENDS PUBLICATION

St. Catharines, Ont., May 4.—The Evening Journal suspended publication Saturday because of the steadily increasing cost of material and advancement in wages. The paper was established in 1859.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION OF NEW YORK ATTORNEY PROVES TO BE A FAILURE

New York, May 4.—An attempt to assassinate Captain Harold Content, former assistant United States attorney, who prosecuted Alexander Berkman and Emma Goldman, deported anarchists, was made last Saturday night, it became known Monday night. Four shots were fired at him from the shelter of a work bridge in front of a building in the course of construction as he neared his home at Park avenue and 52nd street.

None of the shots took effect, and the two men who fired them escaped.

40 CANADIAN NAVAL TRAWLERS MAY BE SOLD

To British Syndicate for Fishing Fleet for the North Sea

Halifax, May 4.—Developments involving a big money turnover and which may result in the disposal of the entire fleet of Canadian naval trawlers, are now in progress with a British syndicate. A syndicate has been formed for this purpose and if the purchase goes through the ships will be used in the North Sea for trawling. There are forty of these boats.

BUNCLODY FARMER FAVORS PRESENT G. N. R. SCHEDULE

The subject as to whether the present train service on the Great Northern Railway is to be continued or the old schedule put back into effect is causing some discussion. From figures submitted by the local office it is shown that the amount of travel over the Great Northern since the introduction of the present service, has fallen off. Some local merchants have claimed however that the service at present is bringing business to the city from outside districts, and should be continued.

Now the farmers are heard from. J. S. Williamson of Bunclody, in speaking for the farmers of that district, said that the present service is the best they have ever had. They are able to arrive in Brandon at eleven o'clock in the morning, spend four hours in Brandon doing their shopping and then leave in the afternoon for home, without having lost a full day, as they would under the old schedule. Mr. Williamson said that it was the farmers who supported the road both with their grain shipments and travelling and that they should be considered before a change is made in the present schedule. The question is a live one, which will probably receive much attention before it is finally settled.

BUILDING TRADES DISPUTE REACHES PECULIAR STAGE

Probably Not More Than Three Hundred Men Out of Work

Ottawa, May 4.—The situation with regard to the building trades dispute which precipitated a strike of upwards of 2,000 members of the Building Trades Council, Saturday, has reached a peculiar stage. While there is a strike on, there are very few men out of work, probably not more than three hundred. Carpenters, electricians and the painters have so far been unable to come to a temporary agreement with the contractors and they are attempting to break the strike by finding employment with contractors who are not members of the Association of the Canadian Construction Industries. The union officials claim they are meeting with some success.

WAY PAVED FOR AN ADVANCE ON THE CITY OF MEXICO

Revolutionists Control State of Chisuahua and Advance Against Torreon

Jaurez, Mexico, May 4.—Through the bloodless revolt of Jaurez and the capitulation of Gen. Francesco Urabale-Jo and his Yaqui Indians at Casas Grand es Sonora, the revolutionists today claimed they had virtual control of the State of Chisuahua and that the way was paved for an unobstructed advance against Torreon, from where the campaign is to be launched against Mexico City.

DEVELOPMENT OF SUBURBAN PARK IS POSSIBLE NOW

Proposition Submitted by Council Accepted by the Dominion Government

WIRE FROM MEMBER

Dr. Whidden Advises That Minister Approves—An Immediate Start

The last obstacle in the way of proceeding with the Suburban Park was removed this morning when a telegram was received from Dr. H. P. Whidden, M.P. The Brandon member stated that the park proposition as submitted by the Council has been approved by the Government. This means that the title to the property, which has been holding up the preliminary plans with regard to a start on the park, has now been cleared up.

The telegram received from Dr. Whidden this morning is as follows:

"The Minister approves the park proposition as submitted by Council in relation to Indian Industrial School farm. You will be notified by him immediately." This wire was sent in reply to a letter written by the City Clerk in which it was requested that the title to the property be determined at once, to allow an early start being made cleaning up the park property. With the confirmation of the title, the special committee appointed from the Parks Board will now proceed with their plans for making a road into the park and planting trees. Further plans will now be decided on, and the work of clearing out underbrush will be proceeded with at once.

ROYAL COMMISSION MAKES REPORT ON NEW LABOR LAWS

Department Feels Much Good Will Come of Conference

Ottawa, May 4.—The report of the Royal Commission for the unification of labor laws which concluded its meeting on Saturday, is now in the hands of the Minister of Labor. It is a very brief summary of the proceedings, the important features of the conference being the recommendations of various committees which were adopted by the delegates as a body. These committees dealt with workmen's compensation, minimum wages, inspection and regulation of factories, shops and offices, regulation of mines and industrial disputes legislation. The recommendations were made public as reports were received from the committees during the past week.

It is felt at the department that the conference cannot fail to have good results. Expressions of opinion by the delegates were frank, and the fact that there were representatives of provincial governments present should result in the recommendations of the Commission receiving provincial, as well as federal, attention. There are still a number of delegates in the Capital but they will probably not be here long.

The province of Prince Edward Island, which was not represented at the opening of the commission, had for its representatives at subsequent sittings, J. E. Sinclair, member for Queen's, and Senator Murphy.

WRITE HOME ON MOTHER'S DAY

Brandon Y.M.C.A. Will Furnish Stationery for Special Letter to Mother

Sunday, May 9th, will be Mother's Day, and in this connection the Y.M.C.A. in this city is instituting a "Write Home" campaign. Special stationery having a neat letter head appropriate to the occasion will be placed in the writing rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association, the Young Women' Christian Association, the Brandon District Rest Room, and the Great War Veteran's Association Room, and other places for the use of those who wish to write home on Mother's Day.

As an aid to the campaign display cards will be placed in various store windows and will attract attention to the day and the "Write Home" idea. The Brandon "Y" has the co-operation of nearly all the ministers in the city in their plans to make next Sunday a real "Mother's Day" for Brandon people.

WHAT'S WHAT THIS WEEK

A Big Seven Days for Every Live Competitor. Piano Offer Closing and a Big Decline in the Point Schedule at the End of This Week

One more week remains of the special prize Piano Offer. A check up of the records to date gives every appearance of their being a very close race for this prize. Had the offer closed Saturday night last a number of competitors would have been losers by a very small margin. At the present time a few extra subscriptions would tie the balance on one side or the other. This week will be the deciding week and any competitor who is really in earnest will do well to make this a record seven days.

Everything depends on the work done this week. No competitor has done enough in subscription-getting but what he or she could be easily overtaken. There has not been enough done on the special prize Piano to prevent an entirely new worker to step in and carry it off.

Four more new candidates have enrolled names since the last publication of the list and all of these bid fair to make the race an interesting one. There is still room for more and an exceptionally good chance of winning for the one who will enter.

The Declining Point Schedules

If you are planning on entering the Competition, do so now. There is nothing to be gained by waiting. The regular point schedule declines from time to time, with an exceptionally big one at the close of this week. Next week a six month's subscription will allow 1,000 less points than the same length of subscription this week. Longer subscriptions lose you a very much larger number of points.

The additional points of this week might easily be the deciding factors in the winning.

The sooner you enroll, the greater are your chances. Join in the race now. Do not stand by and see a magnificant prize list be divided among comparatively few competitors.

RIGHTS OF EVERY CHILD SHOULD BE CAREFULLY GUARDED

Declares Dr. Jolliffe of Manitoba University, Addressing Canadian Club

THREE GREAT SOURCES

of Education, the Church, the Home, and the School—Democracy and Education

One of the finest addresses ever delivered before the Canadian Club was that given on Friday evening by Dr. R. O. Jolliffe of Manitoba University who spoke on "Democracy and Education." There was quite a large attendance at the supper to hear the brilliant University professor. Speaking of democracy Professor Jolliffe said that it's education came from three great sources, the church, the home and the school. He also defined the difference between German autocracy and English democracy in forceful style. The rights of the child to a good education was dealt with by Dr. Jolliffe, and he predicted a wider program for education within a very short time.

"The world ship has been rocked to it's very bottom by the madness of the past five years" said Dr. Jolliffe in commencing his address, "and now that the war is over, it is still being rocked." The world ship is agape at every seam, and this is no time for smug complacence. It's high time for every man to mann the pumps and plug the seams.

Never Such a Display of Christianity

Certainly it is no time for despair either. We should view the situation with eyes wide open and hearts of steel, for on us, the manhood of Canada, rests the responsibilities of solving our present difficulties. The world has never seen such a display of Christianity as has been shown in the past six years, or so much patriotism. The great task now is to use the patriotism for construction instead of destruction. The men who have come back are to be asked if they are prepared to live for the country they would willingly have died for. The task is to build the country up to the standard that demanded the sacrifice the men were willing to make.

German Pollution

Dr. Jolliffe said that we went into the war with many strange conceptions, but the progress of war and the [illegible] us that Germany was rotten to the core and that they had run amuck. There was only one remedy left and that was to beat that spirit out of them. The spirit that led Germany into war had risen from the doctrines instilled into the Germans from three sources. The first was from Nietsche who had proclaimed the doctrine of the superman, and which was eventually the doctrine of the state. Then there was the doctrine of Treitschke, a professor of Berlin University who had proclaimed that Germany had always shown a conquering and governing spirit and that being efficient, had a right to conquer the world. Then the political system was filled with the divine right of kings, and from these three sources, one can see how Germany was fed educationally for years.

Know the Right Road

"Don't think that the influence of the University stops in the University said Dr. Jolliffe. It ultimately penetrates into the remotest parts of the Province and makes the life and thought of the Province." The same result attained in Germany, can be attained here—but with a different goal. Education must permeate our whole life. We must always have the right goal, but we must also know the right road to that goal, and to know this you have to educate the public.

Democracy is largely an attitude of the mind, explained the speaker. Democracy must be for the people and by the people, but we must remember that democracy is not infallible and is not eternal. It will only last so long as it proves worthy of itself. Democracy is too big to let the irresponsible control it.

Education for Democracy

"The education for democracy must come from three great sources (a) the church, (b) the home and (c) the school. These are the three great social laborities," said Dr. Jolliffe. "The church must be the great teacher of social justice. There is no place like the home for the elementary training and the school must also play it's part. Nobody with the right instinct, needs a list of rules for "what not to do"."

"The difference between German autocracy and English democracy is the difference between "thou shalt not do this," the German creed, and "Do, and thou shalt live," the English motto."

The Child Has Rights

A child has certain rights, and one of them is that he shall be well born, declared the speaker. His parents should, and if not the parents, then the state should give the child adequate protection. The child has a right to be protected from ignorance, and a right to a training for life. It should know that there is such a thing as a rein of law. It has the right to be taught obedience, which may not be popular among the children of today. The child also has the right to be taught submission to authority.

"Teachers are not infallible," said Dr. Jolliffe. They make mistakes sometimes, but the wonder of it is that they don't make more. "Have you a right to expect that you should get a teacher with an angelic disposition and an encyclopedid education for $800 a year?" Continuing the speaker said that the worst thing that could be possible would be a vocational training in the schools that would be purely vocational.

Greatest Lie Ever Written

The child has a right to be trained for citizenship, and the first element in the training is against individualism. "Charity begins at home" is a dangerous motto for the boy, while "self-preservation is the first law of nature" is the greatest lie ever written. The child has a right to be prepared for the life of this social order in no fragmentary way. Democracy is inherited and we have no right to diminish it, but we must pass it on undiminished to our coming generation.

Dr. Jolliffe said that if he was a school trustee and was going to hire a teacher the four points he would inquire into were the teacher's scholarly education, his intellectual honesty, his library and his qualifications for leadership. In 1919 in the United [illegible] teachers left the profession. The clerk, the railwaymen and others are all getting more than the teacher to whom you trust the education of your children, said the speaker. Poor as he is, Dr. Jolliffe said that he would not change places with anyone in America, for there is something great in living your life in the midst of young lives and keeping in touch with the rising generation. Teachers may not be rich in world's goods, but they know that they have a great part here in the building up of the Kingdom of God.

Public Opinion Stirred

Public opinion is being stirred up on matters of education. There is going to be more education. At present only five per cent. of the students that go through the public schools, continue into the higher grades. Why is it? Dr. Jolliffe said that a great part of the cause is directly traced to the conversation around our own dinner table. Do we impress upon our children the fineness for a passion for learning. No, we talk about the price of wheat, or Mr. Blank's new car. "Try talking on a higher plane, and dropping the highbrow language," the speaker urged.

There is no doubt about the fact that we are going to have better education, and that we are going to have a better professional training for teachers. At the present time there is not one atom of professional training for high school teachers in this province. In conclusion, Dr. Jolliffe said that if the children are taught along the right lines, that they will never fall when the inevitable hour of testing comes.

SASKATCHEWAN BREEDERS PLAN JOINT EXHIBIT

To be Shown at International Exhibition in Chicago Next November

Regina, Sask., May 1.—The proposal to organize a joint Saskatchewan exhibit of purebred animals to show at the International Exhibition in Chicago the last week in November and the first week in December met with general approval at a meeting of the Saskatchewan Live Stock Board. Practically the entire board was present and it was decided to request the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture to co-operate with the board by assuming transportation charges and assisting in organizing the exhibit.

FARMER DECLARES "WE HAVE COUNTRY BY THE THROAT"

John Best, M.P., Dufferin, Blames City Dwellers for Dear Food

DEFEND OURSELVES

"They Had Us by the Throat Long Enough, Now We Will Defend Ourselves"

Ottawa, May 1.—During the afternoon and evening the House on Friday discussed oleomargarine. The debate arose on the Government resolution to extend the time limit for the manufacture and importation of oleo to August 31st, 1921, and for sale to March 1st, 1922. Criticism came chiefly from rural members on the Government side of the House, although George Boyce of Carleton, himself a farmer, declared that if a man wanted oleo and was prepared to pay for it, there was no reason why he should not have it. John Best, Dufferin, took occasion to charge the responsibility for dear food on the city dweller. To get shorter hours, labor was leaving the farm for the city "Thank God," exclaimed Best, "thank God, the farmers have got into a position where they can say, and they are doing it, and will continue to do it, we have this country by the throat. They had us by the throat long enough and now we will defend ourselves."

FALCONS GIVEN MEDALLIONS

And Diplomas at Close of First Series of Events at Seventh Olympiad

Antwerp, May 1.—The Falcons, of Winnipeg, winners of the Olympic hockey championship, were presented with diplomas and commemorative medallions Thursday night at the close of the first series of events of the seventh Olympiad. Olympiad gold, silver and bronze medals are to be presented when the competitions are completed, through the various National Embassies.

NO ORIENTALS ARE DESIRED IN STEWART

States a Sign Placed Prominently on Wharf—Alaskan Miners Flock There

Vancouver, B.C., May 1.—"No Orientals are desired in Stewart." So states a sign placed conspicuously on the wharf at Stewart, B.C., by the Stewart citizens' Association, officials of which assert that they are looking to the welfare of the town, according to Mr. Morris Soskin, who has just arrived here from Stewart. Mr. Soskin says there is every indication that there will be a great influx into the town this Summer. Special vessels have been chartered to carry machinery to the mines there. Many old Alaskan miners are on the scene.

48 HOUR WEEK FOR WOMEN AND GIRLS ADVOCATED

Ottawa, May 1.—Dominion-wide application of the principle of the minimum wage and a 48-hour working week for all women and girls, excepting those engaged in domestic or agricultural employment was strongly favored by the Royal Commission on unification of labor laws at the session today. Another important item of the session included the adoption of a motion that a committee of five be appointed to report upon the unification and harmonizing of the law on industrial disputes within Canada.

CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS AGAINST MEN HOARDING 168,000 POUNDS SUGAR

Omaha, Neb., May 1.—Criminal action under the Lever Act will be started against the owner of 168,000 pounds of sugar seized in warehouses by Assistant United States Attorney Frank Peterson. The men will be charged with hoarding, Peterson said, while the sugar will be placed on the markets and sold.

RUSSIA TO AGREE TO JAP DEMANDS

Tokio May 1.—The War Office announces as imminent the signature of the Russo-Japanese agreement which will concede virtually all the Japanese demands.

CORONER'S JURY BLAMES POLICEMAN FOR DEATH OF THOMAS MULHOLLAND

Dundalk, Ireland, May 1.—The coroner's jury conducting an inquest into the death of Thomas Mulholland, who was shot on a street here on April 16th and died an hour after the shooting, returned a verdict that "death was due to a bullet fired without justification and with intent to kill by Sergeant Bustard." The verdict was wildly cheered by the Sinn Feiners present.

PRISONER SAYS HE ALONE KILLED STATION AGENT

Confesses to Crime in Effort to Save Three Companions

Ossining, N.Y., April 30.—A drama on which hangs the fate of three men was enacted Thursday morning in the death house at Sing Sing prison.

Condemned to die, in the electric chair Thursday night with three companions, Joseph Milano made a confession to Warden Lawes in which he asserted that he alone was responsible for the death of Otto Fialo, Bronx station agent, robbed and murdered last year. The confession made, its purport was at once telegraphed to Governor Smith, while relatives and friends sped to Albany and New York to appeal to the Governor and Supreme Court for a stay of execution.

The three men condemned to die with Milano for the crime are James Cassidy, Joseph Usefof and Charles McLaughlin.

Judge Denies Request for New Trial

New York, April 30.—Supreme Court Judge Mitchell late Thursday denied an application for a new trial for Joseph Usefof, condemned to be executed Thursday night at Sing Sing prison and denied also a motion for a stay pending appeal from his decision. His attorney announced he would ask Governor Smith for a reprieve pending appeal.

Governor Will Not Prevent Executions

Albany, April 30.—Governor Smith will not interfere with the executions of the death penalty on the four Bronx subway murderers.

Under the statutes all persons participating in the commission of a felony, in which some person is killed, are equally guilty of murder in the first degree.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH AT BEULAH BURNED; WAS USED AS SCHOOLROOM SINCE JAN.

Beulah, Man, April 30.—The Presbyterian Church here burned Thursday morning. It was the only church in the village and the basement has been in use as a schoolroom since January 1st. Fire broke out some time following the lighting of the fire in the stove by the caretaken. When noticed the fire had got in behind the plaster and was smoking round the eaves. All the school furnishings were saved, as was all moveable church furnishings, including the organ. Insurance on building was $2,000, the net loss being about $3,000.

FIUME BLOCKADE NOW MOST SEVERE

Regular Italian Forces Tear Up Sections of Railway—D'Annunzio's Threats

Trieste, April 28. — The blockade which Fiume is now undergoing is admittedly the most severe to which it has been subjected. Communications from the town have been completely cut off, regular Italian troops tearing up sections of the railway and bringing up machine guns to guard the frontiers. D'Annunzio, insurgent commander, is threatening a counter-action.

ADABAZAR REGION NOW CLEARED OF TURKISH NATIONALIST FORCES

London, April 28.—The entire region of Adabazar, 75 miles Northeast of Brusa has been cleared of Turkish Nationalist forces. Mustapha Kemal Pasha has issued a call for 30,000 men to fight Government troops.

HALIFAX MERCHANTS IMPORT DRY COD FROM NEWFOUNDLAND

Halifax, N.S., April 30.—Large quantities of dry cod are being purchased by Halifax merchants Newfoundland, and during ten days seven cargoes aggregating 35,000 quintals arrived at this port. This fish is of the 1919 catch, a surplus of which was on hand in St. John's and outports. The price paid in Halifax is $13 per quintal, making the value of the importation $445,000. In the ordinary course of trade this fish should have been marketed abroad last year.

DECLARATION OF LONDON IS NOW PUBLISHED

By it Italy Was to Receive Trentino, Southern Tyrol, Trieste, Istria and Dalmatia

London, May 1.—The text of the Declaration of London, signed by Great Britain, France, Italy and Russia, in London, April 26, 1915, was published textually in Parliamentary papers Friday. The treaty was made known to the world when the Russian Bolshevik Government published it in 1917. The agreement provided, among other things, that Italy, at the conclusion of the war, was to receive Trentino, part of Southern Tyrol, Trieste, Istria and Dalmatia. The four powers signatory to the document agreed not to conclude a separate peace. The declaration bears the signatures of Sir Edward Grey, then British Foreign Secretary; the Marquis Imperiali, the Italian ambassador; Paul Cambon, the French ambassador, and Count Benckendorff, the Russian ambassador.

BIG DEMAND FOR SCHOOL FUNDS SASKATCHEWAN

Hundred Applications Received by the Soldier Settlement Board

Regina, April 30.—R. E. Johnston, local manager for the Union Trust Company, has been appointed by the Saskatchewan Government as the provincial representative on the board of arbitration which will fix the values at which school lands will be sold to returned soldier settlers. Announcement of the appointment was made by Premier Martin in a letter to Captain M. A. Wood, superintendent of the Regina office of the Soldier Settlement Board.

There are, according to Captain Wood, approximately one million acres of school lands in the province available for settlement. Since the announcement was made regarding the procedure to be gone through in connection with filing on this land, about 100 applications have been received at the local office of the Soldier Settlement Board from returned soldiers who desire to secure farms.

The appraisers are now being sent out to value the land for which applications have been received and the first meeting of the board of arbitration will be held as soon as the reports of the appraisers have been received at the local office.

ROYAL COMMISSION AGAINST ADOPTION DECIMAL COINAGE

English People Reckon Income in Shilling and Pence—Change Inadvisable

London, April 30—The Royal Commission which has been inquiring into the question, has decided against the adoption of the decimal system of coinage by this country.

Alteration of the established system, it is pointed out, could not be made as an experiment.

"In our opinion," the majority of the commissioners say, "a large part, including the least instructed portion of the community, reckons its income in terms of shillings and pence, and we are satisfied it is idle to expect that the public would accept the disturbance created by the interference of their habits and the basis of their established notions of values by a change for which they have expressed no desire, and which will not benefit them except insofar as they keep accounts"

REGINA HAS FIRST REGISTERED AIR HARBOR IN THE DOMINION

Regina, Sask., May 1.—Regina has the honor of having the first airplane registered in Canada, the first commercial pilot's license and the first air engineer's license and the first registered air harbor, or airdrome in Canada. Col. Scott and Major Britton, of the Certificate Branch of the Air Board in Ottawa, put Lieut. Groome and his machine through their paces here recently. Part of the tests for a commercial pilot's license is a 175-mile cross-country trip and a night flight.

WINDSOR HOTEL GUESTS DRIVEN TO STREET BY FIRE; $100,000 DAMAGES

Windsor, April 28.—A fire of undetermined origin this morning destroyed the old International Hotel here driving a number of guests to the street and entailing a loss of $100,000. The stocks in several stores on the first floor were also destroyed.

BRANDON MAN AWARDED CONTRACT FOR ADDITION TO SCHOOL AT BROOKDALE

A contract for an addition to a school at Brookdale, Manitoba, has just been let to Mr. J. E. Blackwell, of Brandon. The contract price for the addition is given at $17,000, and Mr. Blackwell was the successful tenderer over many outside contractors. This is the second school addition, the local contractor has secured recently, as he was given the work of building the addition to the King George School last week.

The new school addition at Brookdale is being built by the Consolidated School District and is to be finished by the 15th of August. A. Melville, of Winnipeg, is the architect for the building. The addition will be 32x35.

CANADIAN GETS PRIZE BOUNTY FOR DESTROYING U-BOAT

Ottawa, April 30.—Major Basil D. Hobbs, D.S.O., whose home is in Soo, has received a prize bounty of £90 for destruction of a German submarine, the UC.5, which was sunk while he was in command of an American seaplane.

The announcement of the award was made in the recent list of similar prizes which had been issued by the prize court of the British Admiralty.

The submarine was carrying a crew of 18 men when destroyed, and the award was made on the basis of £5 for each member aboard her. Major Hobbs is one of the Canadians who became famous while serving overseas with the Royal Air Force, and in addition to the submarine for which the award was made, he is credited with the destruction of others, as well as that of a Zeppelin.

LONDON RESTRICTS BUILDING TO HOMES

London, April 30.—An order by the London County Council restricting building operations to houses and dwellings is meeting with a storm of criticism in building and commercial circles. The building trade says that a large amount of the labor employed represents specialists in erecting commercial buildings, such as steel workers and masons. Quite 60 per cent. is unsuited for the building of houses.

Several large department stores which are in process of extension are already held up by the order, which also prevents the erection of the Bush building on the Alywych site and several buildings of American firms in Kingsway and other parts of London. Many partially erected buildings will have to remain unfinished until the order is rescinded. All local authorities have the power to stop the erection of any building which may cause a shortage of labor or material for building homes under an order issued by the Ministry of Health.

SASKATCHEWAN LAND SETTLEMENT CONGRESS, MAY 25-28

Saskatoon, Sask., April 28.—J. H. Haslam, president of the Saskatchewan Land Settlement Association, has been in Dakota and Minnesota in the interest of the Land Settlement congress to be held in Saskatoon on May 25th to 28th. Mr. Haslam has arranged for a number of speakers from different parts of the United States to address the congress. The motto of the congress is to be "A farmer on every farm in five years." One whole day at the congress will be devoted to the subject of immigration.

MY DEAR!

Are you aware that an ointment applied to the skin is absorbed into the system just as surely as medicine that is swallowed? It is! You see, therefore, how necessary it is we should use a pure ointment; and the purest you can get for yourself and your children is Zam-Buk.

Dr. Scott, the great English analyst, says: "I have analysed Zam-Buk, and have no hesitation in certifying its purity."

There is another reason why you should prefer Zam-Buk. It is of such a refined nature that it can penetrate to the very seat of skin diseases; whereas ordinary ointments, owing to their coarse ingredients, remain on the surface skin. Skin diseases, like plants, have their "roots." Zam-Buk can get down to the very root of the disease, kill the germs and thus effect lasting cures.

There is nothing like Zam-Buk for ending eczema, old sores, or eruptions; nothing that can so quickly draw out the soreness of a cut, burn or scald. Try it!

Proof. Mrs. A. J. Cameron of Melita, Man., writes: "My little son's head and hands were completely covered with eczema. I tried numerous treatments, and he was under doctor's treatment for some time, but nothing would cure him. Then I tried Zam-Buk. After a week's treatment I noticed a marked improvement, and perseverance with Zam-Buk resulted in a complete and permanent cure."

All druggists and stores 50c. box or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Send 1c. stamp for free trial box.

ZAM-BUK
WILL HEAL THAT SORE!

NOMINATION TO FILL SEAT VACATED BY DEATH OF HON. A. G. MACKAY

Edmonton, Alta., May 1.—A nomination for the vacant seat in the Athabasca riding caused by the death of Hon. A. G. Mackay, will be made, it is expected, very shortly, the local organization of the Liberal party having the matter in hand. Premier Stewart said he expected that a by-election would be held during the late Summer or early Autumn.

George Mills, of Athabasca, and Colonel J. R. Cornwall, are mentioned as likely candidates.

UNIFIED SOCIALISTS RALLY TO SUPPORT OF THEIR LEADER

Deputy Vaillant-Courturier May Be Prosecuted for Writing Article

Paris, April 29.—Every unified Socialist member of the Chamber of Deputies has come forward to support of Deputy Vaillant-Couturier, who, on April 23, published in the newspaper Le Populaire an article addressed to the 1920 class of recruits which has been considered an effort to incite the troops to disobedience. The article was re-published in L'Humanite Wednesday and was subscribed by all the 35 members of the party. Removal of parliamentary immunity so that M. Vaillant-Couturier may be prosecuted has been demanded and was to be discussed in the chamber.

"Soldiers and comrades," says M. Vaillant-Conturier's article, "you are to be sowers of hatred and new wares. You, along with colored troops are the sole hope of the bourgeoisie which feels the time of revolutionary truth mounting. Sanguinary libations always attend the funerals of moribund regimes. It is not simply a case of mitiny at the hour of those funerals. It is incumbent upon you to understand now where lie the interests of the country you love. It is a case of knowing how if you desire your country to be veritably yours.

"Assassinations at Frankfurt and occupation of the neutral zone of Germany East of the Rhine have done more for the cause of German revenge than twenty years of political action led by skilful pan-Germanists. It is a government of treachery, which now under the pretext of obtaining execution of a still-born treaty seeks to crush the pacifist revolution in Germany.

"Remember that on May 1st last year when the Parisian guard with fists, clubs and sabres repulsed Socialists crowding against the infantry barrage near the Madeleine, pale soldiers, with fixed bayonets, opened their ranks and permitted the red flag to proceed."

Marcel Oachin says in L'Humanite that if criminal proceedings are instituted against the deputy, Minister Steeg, of the Department of the Interior, will have to take similar proceedings against the whole unified Socialist party. It is the concensus of opinion in the lobby of the chamber however, that the Government will not institute proceedings against the whole party and that the move of the Socialists Wednesday morning simply means the elimination of the signers from participating in the vote upon removing parliamentary immunity from M. Vaillant-Couturier.

CALGARY MEN DECORATED BY KING OF BELGIUM FOR SPLENDID RELIEF WORK

Calgary, April 29.—J. H. Woods, Editor and Managing Director of the Calgary Herald, has been created a Chevalier of the Order of Leopold by King Albert of Belgium, and on behalf of His Majesty the star of the order was presented to him Wednesday at noon by H. DeBurlet, Belgian consul at Calgary, at a public ceremony. The honor was conferred on Mr. Woods because of his signal services during the war as secretary-treasurer of the Belgian Relief Committee for Southern Alberta. Addresses were made at the ceremony by Mayor R. C. Marshall and A. Allen, the chairman of the Belgian Relief Committee, and Mrs. Harold Riley of the woman's auxiliary of the committee.

SASKATCHEWAN'S NEW MINISTER OF AGRICULTURE ASSUMES HIS DUTIES

Regina, April 29.—The Hon. C. M. Hamilton, has arrived in the city to take up his new duties as Minister of Agriculture. At the Parliament Buildings Mr. Hamilton was the recipient of congratulations from many quarters. He will occupy the offices at the buildings formerly used by the Hon. W. R. Motherwell while he was Minister of Agriculture, and since occupied by Hedley Auld, Deputy Minister of Agriculture.

MURDERER SAYS HE KILLED GIRL BECAUSE SHE BEGGED HIM TO

Pontiac, Mich., April 29. — Vera Schneider, pretty 19-year-old telephone operator, found choked to death, Sunday night, on the porch of an abandoned dwelling here, was murdered at her own request, according to an alleged confession made to Prosecutor Gillespie by Anson Bell, aged 24, of Flint, announced.

"She put her arms around my neck and asked me to kill her. She said she was tired of life," the alleged confesor said. "I took out a couple of handkerchiefs, knotted them together and slipped them over her head. I thought they were around her month but the noose must have slipped farther down. I went away and washed my hands."

RUMORS OF JAP MASSACRE NOT YET CONFIRMED

Another Report From Siberia Indicates That Several Hundred Were Killed

Washington, April 29.—Japanese guards in the district of Nikolaevsk, Eastern Siberia, are believed to have been annihilated and several hundred Japanese residents, including the Japanese consul there, hassacred, according to an official statement issued by the Japanese Foreign Office and made public Wednesday by the State Department. The Japanese statement said the suspension of comunication with the district rendered it impossible to get at the real state of affairs, but that it was evident that "a serious upheaval" had taken place. Efforts of the Japanese to dispatch a military relief expedition into the district have failed because of the ice.

Meantime, however, the Japanese have sent an expedition to Alexandrovsk, accompanied by the warships Mikasa and Mishima. The forces reached their destination April 22, and found the Japanese residents in that district safe. Most of them were taken aboard the Mikasa.

A London dispatch on Tuesday reported that a Russian firm in Tien Tsin, China, had received a cablegram announcing the annihilation of a Japanese division in the Khabarovsk district of Siberia.

ENGLAND'S DIVORCE LAWS MAY BE CHANGED VERY SOON

New Grounds of Divorce Include Cruelty, Lunacy, Habitual Drunkenness

London, April 29.—Legislation modifying England's divorce laws will be urged in the present session of the House of Commons. The Government, it is contended, will in that event, be morally bound to facilitate the passage of a measure which will sanction divorce on the following grounds:

Wilful desertion for three years, cruelty, lunacy, habitual drunkenness and commuted death sentences.

The church view concedes the demand for cheapening of divorce proceedings, the equality of the sexes and increased grounds for nullity, but declines to go further.

Names of prominence in the social world figure in another heavy list of suits to be heard in the divorce court during the coming term, and of the 1,388 cases on the docket, 1243 are undefended. There were 1,544 slated at the beginning of the last term. In the latest list Lady Katherine De Vere Somerset, daughter of the Duke of St. Albans; Viscountess Torrington, Sir William Willoughby Williams, Hon. C. E. Cholmondeley and Mrs. Sherwood-Kelly appear.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT TO OFFER NEW BONDS FOR PUBLIC SUBSCRIPTION

London, April 29.—Austen Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, announced in the House of Commons Wednesday that, in order to make further provision for reduction of the floating debt, the Government had decided to offer for public subscription on Monday next new government bonds maturing in from five to fifteen years. The issue price will be at par.

The bonds will carry five per cent interest, Mr. Chamberlain added, but additional interest up to 2 per cent might be payable during a period of five years according to the discount rate of the treasury bills.

AVERT PANIC BY STRICT ECONOMY

Toronto, April 29. — John Moody, President of Moody's Investors' Service of New York, addressing the Toronto Board of Trade on "World Finance,' pictured the world as at present walking on a tight-rope. In spite of this dangerous position, however, he was optomistic and expressed the opinion that even if a panic came there would not be a long period of depression. Prosperity would soon return he predicted, because the whole world was in need of goods.

A panic would be averted. Mr. Moody warned his audience, only by the practice of strict economy, increasing production of necessities and decreasing production of luxuries.

Mr. Moody said if the people went on spending money lavishly, and the governments of the world went on wasting the public's money, as was the case in the United States, the result probably would be the worst panic the world had ever seen.

CANADA TO HAVE REPRESENTATION AT WASHINGTON

New York Times Says Dominion Has Negotiated Commercial Treaties for Thirty Years

New York, April 29.—Under the heading: "A Canadian minister at Washington," the New York Times says editorially:

For some 30 years Canada, though she had no ambassadors in foreign capitals and her affairs there were in the hands of the British diplomatists acting in unison with the Dominion Government, has negotiated commercial treaties. She has a Department of External Affairs, the organ of imperial and inter-Dominion communication with London, with the other British Dominions and colonies, with the foreign consults in Canada and with the British ambassador at Washington. The war greatly strengthened and enlarged the sense of unification and nationality among the Canadians. The desire of Canada for a place in the League of Nations was another evidence of her practical independence.

"Minister of Justice Doherty said in the Dominion Parliament the other day that precedent and principle have been established that no treaty can bind Canada which she has not approved. Canadian nationality was further affirmed, last month by the Government's notice of its intention to ask for the amendment of the British North America Act so that an act of the Canadian Parliament shall operate extra-territorially to the same effect as if enacted by the parliament of the United Kingdom. It is in line with these movements toward sovereignty that for some time the Canadian government has been pondering the status of its representation at Washington. In the war it was represented at Washington by the Canadian War Mission. Canadian relations with the United States are so numerous and important that their discussion and settlement need to be reached by some quicker way than the roundabout one through the British Colonial Office."

DETROITERS WANT LAWS TO GOVERN RENTALS

Detroit, Mich., April 29.—The Detroit Tenants League sent a petition to Governor Albert E. Sleeper Wednesday asking that a special session of the legislature be called to enact a law governing rentals. The petition suggests that profits on rents be fixed by law, that the landlord be required to give six months' notice to vacate and that he be required to provide premises similar to those vacated when he desires immediate possession.

TO TRY USE OF GAS AGAINST GRASSHOPPERS

Gas of One-Fifth the Strength Used in Trenches to Be Given Trial

Ottawa, April 29.—The use of gas to combat the grasshopper plague in the West is to be tried after all, it is announced today. O. R. Gould, member for Assiniboia, has been assured by the minister of agriculture, also the department of scientific research that tests will be made. A gas of one-fifth the strength of that used in the trenches will be tried out. This could have little effect upon human beings, it is stated.

VICTORY LOAN COMMISSIONS $1,110,402.37

Ottawa, April 29.—A total of $1,110,402.37 was paid out by the Minister of Finance in commissions to canvassers and brokers who handled the last Victory Loan. These fees ran proportionately higher in Quebec province than elsewhere: $352,952.17 was paid on this head in Quebec, representing .22 per cent. of the total subscriptions to the loan. In Nova Scotia, $57,575 was paid out, or 20 per cent. of the subscriptions.

In Saskatchewan the figures are $38,900, or .18 per cent.; in New Brunswick, $26,500, or .17 per cent.; in Ontario, $538,670, or .15 per cent.; in Manitoba, $54,200, or .13 per cent.; in Alberta, $19,150, or .11 per cent., and in British Columbia, $22,455, or .6 per cent. Prince Edward Island did not cost the federal government anything in brokerage or commissions.

FIVE KILLED IN WRECK NEAR SANBORN, MINN.

Sanborn, Minn., April 29.—As a result of a collision of two passenger trains on the Chicago Northwestern early today, five persons were killed and twelve injured.

STOCK FOODS TO BE UNDER CONTROL OF FEDERAL DEPT.

It is Proposed That All Brands Be Registered and Sacks Plainly Marked

Ottawa, April 29. — A start was made today by the Agricultural Committee of the House of Commons on a bill which seeks to place the control of all commercial feeding stuffs entirely in the hands of the Federal Department of Agriculture. Every brand of feeding stuffs offered for sale is to be registered, and sacks are to be plainly marked. Stringent measures are also to be taken to prevent adulteration. There was little opposition at today's session. A. R. McMaster, (Brome), thought infraction penalties were too high especially for second and subsequent offences, in which case the sky is the limit. Hon. S. A. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture, promised to amend the penalty clauses.

OTTAWA MAN NOW PREDICTS SUGAR AT 30c A POUND

Ottawa, April 29.—There is every prospect of an early and considerable increase in the price of sugar, states a man closely in touch with the market. He predicted that the price will soon be thirty cents a pound.

MAY SEND A BILLET DOUX TO THE MOON

Washington, April 29.—The test of a new rocket apparatus designed by Prof. Robert Goddard to reach altitudes far above the earth's air envelope and as a vague possibility, even to the moon, will be made late in July at Worcester, Mass., the National Geographical Society announces.

STREAM OF JEWELS AND ART TREASURES LEAVES BRITAIN

London, April 30.—The insatiable appetite of the United States for precious stones as well as art treasures of the Old World has caused London to disgorge in the last three months precious stones to the amount of $10,796,657. This compares with $9,333,268 for the same period last year. Works of art amounting to $2,348,694 also have been bought for or by Americans, against $1,043,567 for the similar period of 1919.

With this increasing drain on Old World art treasures by United States has come a growing demand here that the floodgates be closed by means of a heavy export tax. But meanwhile the stream increases in volume, and this promises to be a record-breaking year for export through London of works of art. These are only two of the items in the long list of London exports to the United States, which during the first three months of this year increased 316 per cent. over the same three months a year ago.

Of more interest to the proletariat than diamonds or art treasures is the fact that wool exported from London from January to March, inclusive, reached the huge total of $13,821,860, compared with $77,163 for the same period last year. It shows, as do the exports from London of leather and hides, that Britain has a surplus of wool and leather.

During the firt three months of this year a total of $3,379,599 worth of hides was exported from London, compared with only $41,936 during the similar period of 1919, and, whereas no leather was exported in the first quarter of 1919, leather exports in the last three months jumped to $3,565,681.

CANADIAN RUBBER REPORTS RECORD YEAR

At the annual general meeting of the Shareholders of the Canadian Consolidated Rubber Co., Limited, held on Tuesday, April 27th, an exceedingly satisfactory report was presented.

Sales for 1919 set a new record exceeding by eighteen per cent those of 1918, which, in itself, was a banner year. Sales for 1919 totalled $22,152,977.

OFFICIAL PERMIT FOR MAY DAY PROTEST PARADE

Winnipeg, April 30. — An official permit for the holding of the May Day protest parade against the conviction and imprisonment of the strike leaders has been granted.

James Law, secretary of the Winnipeg Defence Committee received the permit from Chief of Police Newton, which states that the marches will be given right of way as far as possible.

HOW TO MAKE COMPENSATION LAWS UNIFORM

Ottawa, April 30. — Recommendations designed to promote uniformity in laws respecting workmen's compensation and control of factories were made to the Royal Commission on the unification of labor laws at the meeting Thursday. These matters had been referred to two committees which spent the whole of Wednesday in their consideration.

The recommendations regarding workmen's compensation number, and one of them is to the effect that all provinces adopt the idea of exclusive state insurance to be administered by a board. It is also recommended that all employes of provincial governments and of municipalities, including police and firemen, be included within the scope of the Workmen's Compensation Act.

With regard to the Factories Act, it is recommended that no boy under fourteen or girl under fifteen years of age shall be employed in any industrial establishment. The committee also recommend inspection of all factories.

Recommendations of Committee

The special committee on workmen's compensation legislation consisted of Messrs. MacDonald, Melvin, Francq, Harris, Lyall, Leckie, McNeill and McVeity. Their recommendations as finally adopted were as follows:

1. That all provinces adopt the idea of exclusive state insurance to be administered by a board.

2. That all workmen, not especially exempted under the act, who work in an industry which comes within the scope of the act, shall be under the act, regardless of the amount of their remuneration.

3. That all employes of provincial governments and of municipalities, including police and firemen, be included within the scope of the act.

4. That the scope of compensation acts be extended as far as practicable to include industries not now covered by the act.

5. That in all provinces contributions to the accident fund shall be borne exclusively by the employer.

6. That all medical, surgical and hospital attention be supplied in cases of injury or industrial diseases.

7. That in every province there should be a time limit within which claims for compensation should be filed.

8. That except in special cases payment of compensation shall be made periodically direct to the claimant by the board.

9. That injuries due to disease or accident arising out of and in the course of employment should be considered as coming within the scope of the acts.

10. That the cost of administration of workmen's compensation in each province be borne by the government of that province.

11. That rules and regulations for prevention of accidents be made by the board in each province and safety committees composed of employers and employes be established in the various places of employment, and further that first aid appliances be installed at the various plants; all the foregoing to be under the direction of the board.

12. Where under any compensation act the employer has the right to bring his employes under the act by election, the employes should have the same right where a majority so decide.

13. That in cases of death or injury all provinces should adopt a uniform scale of compensation.

MAORI WARRIORS MAIDENS DANCE BEFORE PRINCE

Picturesque Celebration in New Zealand on Shores of Potorus Lake

Rotorua, N. Z., April 30 —The picturesque celebration arranged by the Maori tribesmen, enemies of the Brit- Potorus Lake furnished one of the Prince of Wales on the shores of Potorus Lake furnshed one of the striking features of the Prince's tour. A thousand native warriors, clad only in loin cloths and armed with spears, performed fierce war dances while a thousand graceful Maori maidens in brilliant Maori dress, did their languorous dances to the accompaniment of soft native music.

The address of welcome to the Prince in the quaint Maori language began thus: "Ye who sleep the long last sleep arise and stand forth to give welcome for lo, the first born son of the royal line draws near. The son of our Lord is welcome."

The strike of locomotive engineers and firemen continues and the Prince with his party arranged to return to Auckland.

DURUM WHEAT: ITS GOOD AND WEAK POINTS

Difficulty in Marketing Small Lots Should Not Be Overlooked

The query "shall we or shall we not grow Durum wheat?" is sometimes asked, and with a view of giving all the information possible excerpts from a bulletin on the subject by Prof. John Bracken, of Saskatchewan University, are herewith published:

Advantages

Resistence to rust—(not immune).

Resistence to drought—more so than common wheat.

Non-shattering tendency—less loss from shattering but harder to thresh.

Long straw—an advantage in some seasons in dry areas.

Heavy producer—particularly in rust years.

Disadvantages

Not a common "bread" wheat—will not take the place of hard Red Spring in our ordinary export trade. Must be sold in the United States markets or in markets of Southern Europe, or manufactured into macaroni or other similar products or used in small quantities in the making of white bread or used for making flour for low volume, yellowish colored bread.

Difficulty in marketing small lots. Each grower should have a carload or the elevator companies object to handling it.

Frequently lower in price than common wheat, even in the United States.

Possibility of over-supplying the demand, thereby lowering the price.

More easily injured by Spring frosts than common wheat.

Matures later than Marquis—most varieties as late as Red Fife.

Danger of mixing with other wheats and lowering the grade.

Compact heads—dry out slower after rains than open-headed varieties.

Now that rust has damaged so much of our common wheat and left the "Durum" type very little injured many inquiries are reaching us concerning the desirable and undesirable characteristics of this wheat.

In view of these facts it has been decided to give this wheat a thorough trial in several parts of Southern Saskatchewan, and for the information of the persons who will grow it as well as for the information of wheat growers in the areas where it may be found suitable, the accepted facts concerning this type of wheat have been brought together in this article.

Chief Advantages

In the season now just past, a season in which rust has damaged the Western Canadian wheat crop to the extent of $100,000,000, Kubanka, the leading variety of the so-called Durum or Macaroni wheat, outyielded Marquis, the best standard variety, by 7 bushels per acre in our trials at the university. In the year 1912, after a four days' rain at harvest time followed by hot weather and a heavy wind, the loss in yield from common wheats, Marquis and Red Fife, as a result of "shattering" was 10 to 13 bushels, while Kubanka did not shatter at all. It has been reported that this rust-resisting, non-shattering wheat is also drought resistant, and its productiveness in the semi-arid states seems to bear out this contention. In any case it has averaged in a 6-year test on fallowed land at Saskatoon 45 pounds per acre more than Marquis, its highest competitor, and in a two-year test on Fall plowed land 4 bushels 52 pounds more than Red Fife, the next highest in yield.

Disadvantages

The chief advantages claimed for this wheat are resistance to rust, resistance to drought, and non-shattering tendency. Its obvious defects in our market are the poor quality of its gluten and the yellow color of the flour made from it, the latter being a defect chiefly in our imaginations, but, nevertheless, one which affects the price. The hardness of the kernel increases slightly the cost of milling. It yields as high a percentage of flour as our common wheat, but the percentage of high-grade flour is rather lower. It contains more protein than any of our standard varieties but the quality of the protein is poor. The flour is yellow in color but its water absorption is high. The bread from Kubanka flour is highly nutritive and very palatable, but the loaf is smaller in volume and more yellow in color than we are accustomed to use.

REV. DR. D. SPENCER, WELL KNOWN BAPTIST DIVINE DEAD AT FORT WILLIAM

Fort William, Ont., April 29.—Rev. Dr. D. Spencer, one of the best known Baptist ministers in Canada, who has been acting pastor of the First Baptist church here, died this morning at the age of seventy-three.

CHAMBERLAIN BUDGET PROPOSALS ADOPTED BY BRITISH HOUSE COMMONS

London, April 29.—Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, has carried the whole of his budget proposals. A motion rejecting the increase excess profits duty and corporation tax was defeated in the house of commons last night by 287 to 75. Chamberlain declared it was his duty to make a real effort to reduce the vast debt while trade was prosperous.

MODERN CITY GREW ABOUT PALISADED STRONGHOLD

Victoria to Celebrate 250th Anniversary of Hudson's Bay Company

Victoria, B.C., April 28.—The celebration of the 250th anniversary of the Hudson's Bay Company in Victoria, May 21 to 24, will throw two buildings in the city into curious comparison. One is a diminutive, weather-beaten one-storey house built of brick brought round Cape Horn from England. The other is a towering concrete and terra cotta edifice of imposing architecture. The former is the first store built here in pioneer days by the Hudson's Bay Company. The latter is the Company's newest department store structure, soon to be opened.

Victoria, beautiful "City of Sunshine," is a child of the Hudson's Bay Company. When it became necessary for the Company to withdraw from Oregon, Sir James Douglas, then a factor, built a fort on Vancouver Island in 1843. About this old palisaded stronghold the modern city grew. The little brick store built just outside the walls of the fort is still standing in perfect preservation and is used by the Company as a warehouse.

The old store became a veritable gold mine to the Company as an outfitting point for miners and prospectors who swarmed into the country in the successive gold rushes to the Cariboo in 1856, the Omineca in 1869, the Cassiar in 1870 and the Klondyke in the closing days of the last century. These mining stampedes developed both Victoria and Vancouver into thriving cities.

In its observance of the Hudson's Bay Company's birthday, Victoria will not be outdone by the other four cities in which the celebrations will centre.

A holiday will be declared during the festivities. Schools and business houses will be closed and Victoria's streets will be elaborately decorated.

TROUBLE OVER TRIFLES

Great is the power of a kiss. The cynic may scoff, the lover laugh, and the maiden blush. The power of the kiss endures. Recent proof comes from the South. In Norfolk, Va., a short time ago a railway employe named Brady kissed a girl clerk in fun. A timekeeper named Divers joked Brady about it and Brady resented the jest. Then came another girl and told Brady that Divers had found fault with her work and "made her cry." In resentment of the timekeeper's jest about the kiss administered in fun, and on account of his harsh words to the other young woman, Brady and his associates demanded Divers' discharge.

The Norfolk & Western Railway refused to discharge the timekeeper and a strike followed that badly hampered the system for several days. The walkout involved 10,000 clerks, shopmen and brakemen and the tie-up of the railway was to have been completed by the accession of the firemen and engineers. Fortunately on the eve of this new calamity, which would have caused the Norfolk & Western to stop functioning, the strike was settled and all hands returned to work.

This reads like a ridiculous story, suitable only as a plot for a comic opera. But to the thousands of workmen and their families, and to the country served by the Norfolk & Western Railway, there was nothing comic about it. The strike that had been precipitated by a kiss, administered purely in fun, upon the cheek of an estimable young lady, caused inconvenience and even suffering out of all proportion to the cause that had brought it into being. Some day both labor and capital will achieve a truer realization of their joint responsibilities to the community. And then it will not be possible for a railroad system to be paralyzed by the sort of airy persiflage that for a time put the Norfolk & Western Railway partly out of business, caused loss to thousands of workers as well as the company, and caused no end of inconvenience and loss to the public served by the railway.

FATE OF THE WHITE COLLAR MAN

In a recent article in a British review, the New World, C. F. G. Masterman, describing the "collapse" of the middle class in England, says of the members of that class: "One of the strongest elements in their character was the harmless vanity of display. They liked to make an appearance of possessing a little more wealth than they owned. They would send their children to a little too expensive school. They would pay for rent of a too expensive house. They spent a little too much on little ostentations and pleasures. The appearance of poverty or even of strict saving was regarded almost as a crime. And now that the poverty is real they are still partly bound by the tradition of reticence. They starve in silence. They think it more dignified so to do. They are far more badly hit than the workingman by the immense increase of prices."

The American in his abhorrence of class distinctions is prone to call a person corresponding in some degree to the British middle class citizen a "white collar man." In this country he is not in nearly so bad a way as is the Briton because of the unprecedented rise in prices for he has found more opportunities to better himself. Yet he grievously feels the pinch. To some extent Mr. Masterman's description of the present state of mind of the middle class Britons applies to many Americans: "They have been very patient, but their patience is well-nigh exhausted. Whenever an opportunity is given to them of expressing an opinion, they vote against the government. They spend their leisure in cursing the workingman and cursing the profiteer." For they, like their British brothers, are experiencing serious discomforts in the midst of a society whose other members show great prosperity. The skilled workingman, indeed, in many instances, "has suddenly passed over their heads and taken the second place in the economic scale of income."

Mr. Masterman draws a picture of what may presently come about in England: "The incoming trains from the suburbs to the centre may carry from pleasant suburban homes well dressed and prosperous crowds of dock laborers, carters, engineers, plumbers and window cleaners, returning from their seven or eight hours of occupation to spend their leisure in feeding the chickens and trimming their suburban gardens. In the old slum and crowded areas the professional men and clerks will compete for crowded accommodation in block dwellings or tumbledown cottages." But will they? Mr. Masterman thinks that those with pluck will emigrate to new lands across the seas, that many will go in for race suicide by never marrying, that some will marry and both husband and wife will work to rear the family and that women will "find whole professions handed over to them in which before the war, they occupied only subsidiary positions." Then there is another interesting possibility. "In the older order the ambition of the child of the dustman or scavenger was to become a clerk. Will the ambition of the child of the clerk in the future be to become a dustman or scavenger?"

The laborer, whether he wears a white collar or a flannel shirt, is, of course, entitled to a decent wage. Any honest day's work must furnish a living to the worker, provided the work be worth doing. In the present readjustment of labor values there is likely to be a general elimination of piffling jobs. Then the "white collar man" will get a living wage or he will quit, shed his collar and play a manly part in some profitable field. Meantime the struggle first and foremost should be to bring production up to normal in order that settled standards of existence may be established and prosperity cease to reward only individuals or classes that tread others down.—Chicago Daily News.

JELLICOE'S NEW POST

The appointment of Viscount Jellicoe to be Governor-General of New Zealand has, no doubt, special meaning in a naval sense. The British Government would not depart from the custom of selecting men of experience in civil affairs of state unless it was urged thereto by the Dominion affected, or some larger element of Imperial policy were present. In the case of the appointment of the late chief of the British navy, some prompting apparently came from the Dominion. The chief newspaper of New Zealand recently asked for an Admiral-Governor. "There is obviously no reason," it said, "why the King's representative should necessarily be an earl or a baron, as has been the case for the last thirty years, and there is even less reason why the post should be used as a jumping-off place for the peerage of British party politicians. New Zealand does not want a purely ornamental Governor-General, nor yet one with an ingrained and lifelong habit of having a finger in the political pie." But, more important, the whole question of naval policy in the Pacific, with which Viscount Jellicoe is so familiar, is in a state of flux. The Jellicoe report to the New Zealand and Australian Governments recommending a naval policy in which Britain would bear the main expense of a large Pacific fleet, and Australia and New Zealand a relatively small part, has been before the Australian public for months. As in Canada, says an exchange, nothing is being done in Australia toward carrying it out, nor is the issue likely to take more definite form before the next Imperial Conference. But both Australia and New Zealand intend to enlarge their naval protection, and to form a basis of direct co-operation with the Imperial Pacific fleet, and the presence of Viscount Jellicoe will be of specific value. No one knows better than the Admiral the constitutional limitations upon the King's representative in a self-governing Dominion, and his appointment cannot be construed as portending any policy of interference with the Dominions' naval program. But his presence, and the availability of his keen insight into Pacific developments as they arise, will be very important in the critical years to come.

THE LIBERAL CONVENTION

Brandon Liberals and supporters of the Norris Government in convention Thursday night, selected Mr. S. E. Clement, member for Brandon in the Manitoba Legislature, to be their standard bearer in the coming election. The decision came as the result of a ballot, and was not followed by a resolution to make it unanimous. The simplest possible methods were employed in regard to the selection of the candidate, and if there are supporters of the Norris Government who are not in full accord with the candidate they failed to attend in sufficient numbers to secure the selection of their favorite.

When about seventy men gathered the convention was called to order and a chairman and secretary elected. The scrutineers named were well known party men, this apparently being the only safeguard that the ballots did not get into the hands of persons not in sympathy with the Government. A nominating ballot was then arranged for and after the count had been made the chairman announced that aside from a few straggling ballots there had been general agreement on four names, Messrs. S. E. Clement, J. W. Fleming, A. L. Hall and W. I. Smale. Messrs. Hall and Smale thanked their friends but declined to allow their names to go before the convention. In the absence of Mr. Fleming there was no statement as to his willingness to be a candidate. Mr. Clement remained silent. An amendment calling for a ballot on the two names was carried as against a motion that a ballot be taken on the four. After this decision had been registered it was suggested that it might be better to postpone the selection of a candidate at this time, but this was dropped, the convention having recorded its intention of balloting on the two names.

Announcement of the ballot created little enthusiasm. Mr. Clement thanked his friends and reviewed the conditions under which he was originally selected as Liberal standard-bearer, the position of the Norris Government when it assumed office, the legislation that had been enacted and his own modest share in it.

During the course of Premier Norris' speech, which, while comprehensive and full of information, lacked the polish it will no doubt receive during the campaign, he declared that he had absolutely and resolutely refused to interfere in the selection of candidates. In reply to the charge that has been made that Mr. Clement is not close to the Government, he said that he is as close as any private member and that he had rendered Brandon good service as a member of the Manitoba Legislature. He also declared that a good deal of committee work had been entrusted to Mr. Clement and that he had faithfully performed it.

It is a matter for comment that there was so small an attendance at the convention and meeting. Publicity was given to it and the fact that Premier Norris would make his first campaign address was well known, and yet there was not one hundred persons in the hall at any time. It is a strange commentary that the Retail Merchants in annual meeting at the same time mustered almost as large an attendance as the public meeting addressed by the Premier. And yet it cannot be said there is lack of interest in politics. There never has been greater interest in political questions than there is today. There is a reason and a definite one, for the apparent indifference by the citizens, and it should be recognized at once if wholly irresponsible elementsare not to gain an importance for which they have no qualifications.

HUMAN NATURE

Human nature has still to be reckoned with. Human nature guiding and dominating man's relation to man since Adam was a boy, has changed but little. It is so much a part of us that when man starts out to rearrange details of the universe he is apt to leave it out of his reckoning. Failure to count on this factor has spoiled many a fine recipe. Certain Russian gentlemen evolved a millennium. According to their recipe despotic rulers were to go. They would have no managers, no capitalists, no private ownership of land. All men were to be free and equal, the basis of equality being that of the lowest. It was all worked out carefully, possibly it was charted.

But there was a cog missing. In abolishing despotism a more terrible despotism was set up. More soldiers, more police, no life safe, scaffolds in the streets.

Industry stagnated and died when the managers were removed. Today Lenine is bringing managers into Russia at fabulous salaries.

The economic structure collapsed when he abolished capital and today the prime minister is coaxing foreign capital into his stricken country by offering concessions that no czar ever dreamed of making.

In abolishing private ownership of land, for some strange reason incentive atrophied. "We cannot maintain nationalization of land," admits Lenine today: "the peasant wants his own acre of ground."

The "something" that was not taken into account was human nature.

MAKERS OF SHOES NOT PROFITEERS SAYS F. S. SCOTT

History of the Shoe Trade From Its Introduction in 1667

Toronto, April 30. — An emphatic denial of the assertions of the Grain Growers' Association and Hon. Mr. Crerar that the shoe manufacturers of Canada were profiteers and were enabled to be so on account of the tariff, characterized the address of F. S. Scott, M.P. for South Waterloo at a recent luncheon of the Electric Club. The speaker, who is President of the Getty Scott Shoe Company and also President of the Canadian Shoe Manufacturers' Association, presented the case of the shoe trade in a clar, concise manner, and also gave credit to the tariff, as now constituted, of making Canada's part in the recent war prominent industrially as well as military.

"The fact that the Grain Growers in their campaign in the West," said the speaker, "have referred to the shoe manufacturers brings the industry into the political limelight. This has compelled the trade to inaugurate a system of advertising to place the shoe industry in its proper light owing to the statements which were made in Western Canada and which are erroneous. "He traced the history of the shoe trade from its introduction in 1667 by the Jesuits, when twenty men were employed, up to the present day when there are 160 factories employing 14,000 workmen. Owing to the introduction of special machinery the number of factories has dropped from about 5,000 in 1885 to 160 at the present time but the average number of employes per factory have increased from four to almost 100.

Within the last fifteen years the shoe industry has developed rapidly in spite of the competition with the United States and kept pace with the American trade. This is due almost entirely to the tariff and figures were presented to emphasize the assertion. In the United States today there are 1,500 factories producing a million pairs of shoes daily while in Canada the daily production is 60,000. But for the tariff restrictions the Canadian shoe manufacturers would soon be driven out of business as the American production fills the home demand in nine months and the market in Canada [illegible] with seventeen days' production of the across-the-border factories. The duty of thirty per cent has resulted in 95 per cent of the shoes used in Canada being of Canadian manufacture and also has compelled the American producers who wish to cope with the competition here to open Canadian branches. One big difficulty of the home trade is the demand created for American made goods through the extensive advertising done in magazines which have a circulation in Canada, and the lack of a similar opening for the local manufacturers.

The claim of the opponents of the protective tariff in favor of the shoe manufacturers, that the duty is taken into consideration when the Canadian made shoe is priced was emphatically denied and it was shown that the prices of shoes at present in Canada was very little, if any, in advance of the American price. The preservation of the duty will build up the industry now that Canadian manufacturers have followed the tendency of the Americans in specializing and the improved methods of manufacture and the present product is responsible. In closing his address, the speaker stated that a protective tariff was necessary to the continuance of industrial life of Canada.

COMMONS BACK BENCHERS STRAIN THEIR EARS TO FOLLOW PROCEEDINGS

Ottawa, May 4.—Hon. T. A. Crerar, leader of the National Progressive party in the Commons, will be back today. Members of the party will hold a caucus either today or Wednesday, and one of the matters to be discussed is failure to hear what is being said by government leaders, when estimates are being put through. On Friday night several items of considerable importance were put through, while the Progressives were straining their ears to follow the proceedings.

"We certainly intended to have something to say on them," commented one member.

EARLY AGREEMENT ON ORDER REGARDING THE REPAYMENT OF FREIGHT

Ottawa, May 3.—An early solution is probable of the difficulties arising out of the order issued by United States railroads directing that charges must be prepaid on freight to Canadian points. As a result of the conference which representatives of Canadian importers are having with the Canadian Railway Commission negotiations will be entered into with the United States roads through the Interstate Commerce Commission with a view to arranging for the payment of charges up to the Canadian boundary in U. S. money, the balance of the haul being paid for in Canadian currency.

It is understood that representatives of the U. S. roads have assured Canadian interests that they seek only their fair proportion of the through rate unimpaired by any variation in exchange and are willing to enter into any arrangement which will provide this protection and nothing lower.

FISH CONVENTION TO BE BIG AFFAIR

Leading Men of Industry to Attend Gathering in Vancouver

Vancouver, B.C., May 4.—Between four hundred and five hundred Eastern visitors are expected to attend the convention of the Canadian Fisheries Association in Vancouver on June 3, 4 and 5, and they will include leading figures in the fish and canning business from the Maritime Provinces, Newfoundland, Boston and other American cities and the Great Lakes.

Announcement to this effect was made by Mr. F. E. Burke at a dinner of the Vancouver branch of the association held at the Hotel Vancouver, and at which the chairmen of the various committees were appointed. It is hoped that Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, Minister of Marine, will attend, and a number of other high government officials will be pressed to come West and participate in a convention which is already an assured success. Invitations will be issued in a few days and an excellent program of entertainment is in course of preparation.

All phases of British Columbia fishing and canning will, as far as possible, be shown the guests and the convention is expected to have a great effect in making familiar this leading provincial industry. In addition to a banquet, a fish luncheon and a theatre party the delegates will be taken for a steamer trip, the Union Steamship Co. having offered the use of its new passenger vessel, the Capilano.

UNIONS IN ENGLAND ASTONISHED WHEN SCOTCH VOTE "DRY"

Officials Declare Prohibition Resolution Little Short of Revolutionary

London, May 3.—Officials of the British trades union congress were surprised by the Scottish trades union congress resolution in favor of prohibition as against state control of liquor. The British trades unions officials say such action on the part of the Scottish Labor party was more to be expected as it might be regarded as useful for the party's political purposes.

Advocacy of prohibition by a section of the British unionized labor is declared to be regarded by British union officials, as little short of revolutionary, especially in view of the fact, they say, that it is this element on which the liquor interests have been concentrating their appeals in an effort to out-manouevre the prohibitionists.

New York, April 28.—James Larkin, Irish labor leader, charged with criminal anarchy, late Tuesday was found guilty by the Supreme Court, before which his case was presented.

J. HARRY FLYNN TO VISIT BRANDON WHEN HE TOURS THE WEST

Toronto, May 3.—J. Harry Flynn, of the Grand Army of United Veterans, will next week start on a tour of the West in the interest of the gratuity, pensions and soldiers' movement in general, holding the first mass meeting at Port Arthur, Ont., Sunday May 9, and proceeding to Kenora, Winnipeg, Portage la Prairie, Brandon, Regina, Moose Jaw, Medicine Hat, Edmonton, Saskatoon, Calgary, Kamloops, New Westminster, Vancouver, Victoria and Nanaimo, B. C.

CONFESSED BIGAMIST RETURNS TO LAWFUL HUSBAND, STARTS EAST

Mrs. Annie Gerow was this morning given six months suspended sentence when she appeared in the Police Court charged with bigamy. She was found guilty of the charge some time ago, but was remanded from time to time until her husband should arrive from the East. He appeared in the Court this morning and Mrs. Gerow promised to go back to him, and make a fresh start. The Magistrate then gave Mrs. Gerow six months suspended sentence, and she has left for the East with her husband.

E. Choquette who was found guilty on Saturday of indecent assault was remanded for sentence until the 12th of May. He was to have been sentenced this morning but the authorities want some more information regarding him.

W. McRae charged under the Illegitimacy Act was ordered by the Magistrate to pay the sum of $400 and costs. Mike Raddish was fined $10 and costs for an assault upon Pete Ober.

TORONTO'S CHIEF CONSTABLE TO QUIT AFTER 33 YEARS

Toronto, May 3.—Chief Constable Henry J. Grassett, C.M.G., who for 33 years has been at the head of the Toronto Police Department, will resign from the force on June 1, according to reports at the city hall. It is stated that the chief will tender his resignation and he has his passage booked to sail for England on Saturday, June 19th.

FIFTY PERSONS KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK IN INDIA

Simla, India, April 28.—Fifty persons were killed and fifty injured in a train collision on the Oudh and Kholkild Railway, near Noradabad, East of Delhi, Saturday, four coaches being burned in a fire caused by the collision.

FRANCE PROHIBITS IMPORTATION OF CERTAIN GOODS

Presentation of Import and Export Figures Followed by Issuing of Order

Paris, April 28.—A decree prohibiting the importation of certain foreign goods has been issued following a report showing that the total French imports during 1919 reached nearly 30,000,000,000 francs, while the exports did not reach 9,000,000,000 francs.

ICE JAM CAUSED FLOOD ON ASSINIBOINE NEAR POPLAR POINT

Portage la Prairie Graphic: As the result of the Assiniboine river going over its banks on Saturday night, a considerable portion of the country in the neighborhood of Poplar Point and Baie St. Paul was badly flooded. Today, however, the water is reported to be receding and the situation, which was yesterday somewhat alarming, has been relieved to a great extent.

A big ice jam, which extended for several miles, took place in the river between Poplar Point and Baie St. Paul, this being responsible for the rapid rise of the water, and while no damage was caused in the immediate vicinity of Portage, a close watch was kept on the action of the river yesterday, and while the water rose three feet during Saturday night it is back to normal today.

Shortly after 10 o'clock Saturday night Thomas Rowe left for the scene of the ice jam, taking with him a quantity of dynamite with which he was successful in breaking the barrier. Several farmers report that a considerable portion of land was badly affected by the water, and it has been stated that 400 acres of the Hamilton farm, formerly owned by McMillan Bros., was under water.

SPRING FUR SALE OVER

New York, April 28.—New York's annual Spring fur auction came to a close Tuesday with total sales estimated at $8,000,000. Beaver was the best seller of the day and not only brought prices ranging from $8.50 to $50 each, but showed an advance of 60 per cent. over the corresponding prices at the Spring sale here in 1919. Marmot also advanced 60 per cent over last April, and Northern and Southwestern racoon pelts, respectively, were 50 and 45 per cent. higher, racoon prices began at $1 and ran up to $15. Gray fox was 10 per cent. up, the only drop for the day being in Australian fox, which fell off 40 per cent. The next sale scheduled here by the New York Fur Auction Sales Corporation will begin on Oct. 18th.

PEN PICTURE OF AN HISTORIC INTERVIEW FOCH AND GERMANS

When German Plenipotentiaries Were Before Foch Asking for an Armistice

New York, April 28. — Germany's appeal for an armistice on November 7th, 1918, met with the laconic reply, "I have no terms," from Marshal Foch to Erzberger and the other plenipotentiaries, according to Raymond Recouly (Captain X), French biographer of Foch and Joffre, in an article entitled, "What Foch Really Said," which will be published in the May issue of Scribner's Magazine out tomorrow.

Captain Recouly, describing the historic scene of the morning of November 11th, when the generalissimo of the Allied forces, attended by a few members of his staff, signed the document in a railway dining car in a forest near Rethonde, a town between Compiegne and Soissons, declared "the sight of butter seemed to fill the German envoys with joy."

The radio from the Germans asking for "a cessation of hostilities in the name of humanity," was received by Foch shortly after midnight on the 7th and at 1.25 a.m. on the 8th Foch sent back his answer: "The German plenipotentiaries will have to go to the outpost on the main road from Maubeuge-la-Capelle-Guise." From this point they were brought by delayed stages to Rethonde, which they reached about seven o'clock in the morning. Two hours later they were in the presence of the commander of the conquering Allied armies.

A Historic Interview

"There was a cold salute," says Captain Recouly, "a bow in return; no presentations. The Germans took their places at the table in the dining car, where their names were written, and remained standing. The officers seemed embarrassed and upset. Not so the civilians who did not seem to care at all. They talked familiarly together; it was impossible to believe that their country's fate was hanging in the balance, and that they were there to sign the most 'Kolossal' capitulation the world has ever seen."

Foch's piercing eyes, gruff voice and curt manner were impressive. "To whom have I the honor of speaking?" he asked. The Germans replied. "What is the object of your visit?" he asked. Then followed this dialogue:

Erzberger: "We have come to inquire into the terms of an armistice, to be concluded on land, on sea, and in the air."

I Have No Terms

Foch: "I have no terms to submit to you."

Count Oberndorf, the diplomatist in the German party, interceded: "If the Marshal prefers, we may say that we are here to learn the conditions on which the Allies would be willing to grant us an armistice."

Foch: "I have no terms."

Erzberger, drawing forth a greasy paper: "President Wilson has informed our Government that Marshal Foch had been invested with the power of submitting the Allies' conditions to the German plenipotentiaries."

Foch: "I will let you know the Allies' conditions when you have asked for an armistice. Do you ask for an armistice?"

"Ja!" exclaimed Oberndorf and Erzberger together.

Foch: "In that case I will read you the terms drawn up by the Allied Governments." He sat down and the reading began. It lasted for an hour, for the document had to be translated. The Germans pleaded for an immediate suspension of hostilities and for time to permit the Berlin Government to examine the terms. Again Foch spoke:

"I am but the mouthpiece of the Allied Governments. It is those governments that have drawn up the conditions of the armistice, limiting the delay to 72 hours' duration. I have, therefore, no power to suspend hostilities without their authorization."

Germans Fired on White Flag

The Germans at once dispatched a messenger to Spa, with credentials and the request that his journey to Berlin be "facilitated." When the messenger reached the German outposts, it is related, the troops were so demoralized that they fired upon his white flag. Promiscuous volley firing continued and the emissary was unable to reach his destination until the next day. Meanwhile the German envoys had notified Foch of their difficulty and Foch agreed to permit them to send a German officer to Berlin by air. A plane was equipped and ready for the flight when word was received that the messenger had reached Berlin.

Envoys Painted Black Picture

Captain Recouly declares the armistice was signed because Foch and his staff were convinced Germany was already in the throes of a revolution. The armistice envoys painted a "black picture" of conditions. While the German Government was analyzing the terms the plenipotentiaries remained near Foch in the forest at Rethonde. They were permitted to leave their train and, guarded by armed soldiers, exercise in the open air. On the afternoon of the 10th, Foch informed Erzberger, the head of the delegation, that hostilities would be resumed at 11 a.m. the next day. At seven o'clock on the night of November 10th the following radio message was intercepted by the French:

"German Government to German Plenipotentiaries: The plenipotentiaries are authorized to sign the armistice. (Signed) The Chancellor of the Empire." Three ciphered figures at the end of the message proved its authenticity. More than twelve hours of deliberation and debate over the "harsh" terms followed. Foch granted some concessions and refused the others.

Subsequently the wearied French, English and Germans appended their signatures to the document, and, by prearrangement, six hours after the signing, or 11 a.m. of the morning of the 11th, operations ceased along all the fronts. Four years of warfare which had cost more than 9,000,000 lives was at an end.

SHOULD GIRLS WORK FOR LOVE

During the Probationary Period in Hospitals?—Wide Differences of Opinion

Calgary, Alta., April 28.—Should a nursing probationer labor for love or for pay, was the subject of the discussion which occupied the delegates at the hospitals conference. There were many adherents to the old-time principle that probationers should still continue to offer their services without any consideration of the monetary remuneration.

Dr. M. T. McEachern, of Vancouver, and Dr. MacKid, of Calgary, were both strongly of the opinion that the attractiveness of increased salaries for probationers would have a tendency to decrease the discipline and efficiency secured through the appointment of nurses for training who had volunteered from a higher motive. Against this contention, Dr. C. E. Rothwell, of Regina, was strongly in favor of paying probationers a living wage, considering the cost of living nowadays, and he had the support of a number of prominent Western Canadian hospital authorities.

Mayor Hardie, who is attending the conference as chairman of the Galt Hospital Board, was of the opinion that the present scale paid probationers was entirely inadequate.

300 POUNDS OF MAIL BURNED WHEN POST AIRPLANE CRASHED

Orange, N.J., April 28.—Three hundred pounds of mail were burned up late Tuesday when a postal plane, on its way to Newark, became lost in a fog over the Orange mountains, grazed some trees on the hillside, crashed to the ground and burst into flames. Wesley L. Smith, pilot, was only bruised.

HUGE SUM VOTED TO MAKE UP U.S. GOVT. DEFICIENCIES

Washington, April 28.—The house bill appropriating $300,000,000 for deficiencies in Government operation of railways and $9,000,000 for miscellaneous deficits was passed Tuesday by the Senate and sent to conference.

LABOR SECRETARY MAY BE DISMISSED

Louis Post Charged With Blocking Deportation of Aliens From United States

Washington, April 28.—Investigation looking toward the impeachment or dismissal of Louis F. Post, Assistant Secretary of Labor, on a charge of blocking deportations of aliens seeking to overthrow the Government by force and violence, was started Tuesday by the House Rules Commission.

Representative Hoch, Kansas, declared that hundreds of radical alien deportation orders were cancelled by Post. He charged that Post ordered the release of at least 38 radical aliens, the evening before hearings were held.

Members of the commission attacked Secretary of Labor Wilson for allowing the decisions of Post to stand. Representative Johnson declared that the failure of Wilson to over-rule Post in any case indicates he must be held responsible for the failure to deport radicals.

"There is no doubt," said Hoch, "that there exists a widespread and carefully planned effort to Russianize this country. The movement is not only against orderly government, but it is against the institutions of marriage, the church, religion, and all the establishments of civilization."

SPANISH KING FINED FOR WALKING ON GRASS

Madrid, April 28.—King Alfonso was fined two pesetas by the guardian for walking across the grass in the garden of the Alcazar. Every member of his suite who followed the King across the greensward likewise was fined.

Later the mayor of the town called at the palace and apologized to the King, but his majesty told him the guardian had acted properly, and should be rewarded for devotion to duty.

MINER'S STRIKE IN CROW'S NEST OFF

United Mine Workers of America Gain Victory—Mean Wage Increase 11 Per Cent

Calgary, April 28.—The coal miners' strike in the Crow's Nest Pass, which has more or less affected the mines in that district since the beginning of March, has now been settled, according to information given the Canadian Press at the office of the director of coal operations, the United Mine Workers of America, having gained a complete victory. There is a full crew now working at Blairmore. At Bellevue, the men are being signed up as fast as they can be taken on, while additional men have turned in at Hillcrest, which was expected to be working to full capacity today.

Now that this dispute has been settled, the new wage scale in line with that adopted in the United States, will be discussed at an early date. This will mean an additional increase of approximately 11 per cent. in the miners' wages.

POSSES OF FARMERS LOOK BURNED CREAMERY PLANT FOR MASKED BANDITS WHO

St. Paul, Minn., April 28.—Posses of armed farmers are scouring the countryside near South Haven, Minn., about 65 miles Northwest of here, in search of three masked bandits, who early Tuesday burned the creamery and produce plant there after twice wounding the owner, A. W. Swenson, in a hand to hand fight, when he resisted their attempt to loot the office safe.

Swenson is at his home with bullet wounds in his right arm and left foot. The robbery occurred about two o'clock in the morning. Only $21 was obtained from the safe. Destruction to the building caused a loss of $20,000.

CANADIAN ARTIFICIAL LIMBS ARE GOOD AS ANY

Ottawa, April 28.—The artificial limbs turned out in the Government factories are the equal of any in the world, Col. Hiram Starr, orthopedic specialist of Toronto, told the special committee on Pensions Tuesday. The Canadian artificial leg, he thought, was giving general satisfaction. It was difficult, however, to secure a satisfactory arm, and every country was having difficulty in securing a mechanical hand which would satisfy Col. Starr said every effort was made to fit and satisfy the patient. Men have come home from England and discarded the artificial limbs they were allowed to chose from in England, and adopt the Canadian limb, which they found satisfactory.

It is impossible to acquire money without making sacrifices; most men and women who marry for it sacrifice their happiness.

LABOR CONVENTION NAMES A. E. SMITH TO CONTEST SEAT

Five Planks in Platform Adopted at a Meeting in the Y. M. C. A.

EMANCIPTION OF WORKERS

Demanded in a Proposal for the Socialization of Industry

A. E. Smith was chosen as the Labor candidate for Brandon in the coming Provincial elections at a meeting held in the Y.M.C.A., Tuesday night. When the first ballot was taken there were ten candidates voted on. Following the dropping of the five candidates who received the lowest number of votes in the first ballot, two of the remaining five, withdrew. This left A. E. Smith, R. T. Smith and H. Bartholomew in the running for the nomination and on the second ballot A. E. Smith led R. T. Smith by twenty-two votes, with H. Bartholomew third. The meeting by a standing vote then made the nomination of A. E. Smith, unanimous.

Five Planks in Labor Platform

A platform for the local Labor party was discussed and adopted at the meeting. Briefly the platform has five planks (a) The introduction of vocational training into the secondary schools; (b) The adoption of the principle of collective bargaining; (c) The enforcement of a national minimum of living; (d) The extension of the Hydro-electric power line to Brandon and the Western portion of the Province for domestic and commercial use; (e) The socialization of industry and capital. A campaign committee is to be composed of one member from each affiliated local in the city with George Ayres acting as permanent chairman of this committee. Mr. Ayres has also been chosen as a permanent chairman at all future meetings.

Delegation of Veterans Present

It was stated that the Labor party here is not affiliated with a Provincial party, but the political fight made here will be purely local. A delegation from the Great War Veterans composed of James Kirkcaldy, C. Blake and C. Bagg were present but before the platform was discussed or a nomination made stated to the meeting that they were not present to support any candidate or platform but simply in acceptance of an invitation extended to the Great War Veterans.

The nomination of a Labor candidate brought out ten names in the first ballot. The result of the voting was as follows: A. E. Smith, 23; W. Hill, 17; R. T. Smith, 14; H. Bartholomew, 14; W. Webb, 9; A. H. Skene, 7; H. Cater, 5; Ald. F. E. Carey, 4; Ald. J. G. Grantham, 3; R. Crawford, 1. The last five names were struck off for the second ballot, but before the voting took place W. Hill and W. Webb both withdrew which left the field to A. E. Smith, R. T. Smith and H. Bartholomew. The voting on the three names resulted as follows: A. E. Smith, 52; R. T. Smith, 30; H. Bartholomew, 13. As A. E. Smith had a big majority over his opponent it was decided to make his selection unanimous, and this was done by a standing vote.

Preamble To Platform

In putting their platform forward, the Labor party in a preamble to the platform program state that the time has arrived to test the sincerity of the old party politicians, and all others, as to their war time attitudes towards the cause of the common people, which finds a voice in the Labor party. The Labor party therefore is putting forward a candidate for the Provincial House. They state that "in all conscience, from the complexion of the war time deliverances of party men and party newspapers, the Labor candidate should be elected by acclamation; but that may be too much to expect. Nevertheless, it is surely a justifiable expectation, on the basis of good faith, that he will be victorious at the polls."

The platform which is being adopted by the Labor party in seeking to elect A. E. Smith to the Provincial House, is as follows:

PLATFORM

The introduction of Vocational Training into the Secondary Schools.

Our children look to the school to fit them for the many duties of life. Let them not be disappointed. To this end we must construct such Educational Policies and employ such materials and methods as shall make the school a true picture of life outside in all its essential activities. To accomplish this, we must introduce vocational studies freely, not only for their pedagogic influence, but for their own sake and for the professional skill and creative energy they will give the learner. We must do this too, without excluding the non-professional, either from the school, or from the individual.

Further we believe there should be established a school Literature Bureau, through which the school books and other supplies would be furnished to the pupils in the Public Schools at cost price.

The Labor party stands for the adoption of the Principle of Collective Bargaining in all dealings between employer and employe.

By this term "Collective Bargaining," it is to be understood to signify: (1) The right of the employes to organize into a union for self-protection and self-improvement; (2) The right to affiliate with any central body or group, or become a part of an industrial organization which may commend itself to the judgment as progressive and sound in principle; (3) The right to be recognized as a union, and to negotiate through their chosen representatives whether members of the union or otherwise.

The enforcement of a National minimum of living which will ensure to every member of the community all the requisites of healthy life and worthy citizenship. Legislation along this line would include Workmen's Compensation Act, Mother's Pensions, Etc.

The extension of the Hydro-Electric power line to the city of Brandon and the Western portion of the Province for commercial and domestic use.

The franchise of the present company supplying electrical power in this city, expires in the near future and the question must therefore be faced in a very practical fashion.

The extension of the power lines throughout the province was dealt with at the last session of the Legislature and a large appropriation was made, but Brandon and the Western portion of the Province was not included in this appropriation. The reason for this omission, we believe, was the desire of the present Government to protect vested interests and mortgage companies in place of furthering the benefits for the common people. The Labor party stands for the interests of the people as the paramount duty of the Government.

The Socialization of Industry and Capital.

The central problem of the social life of the world is the emancipation of the working class from economic and industrial oppression. This problem is not only social and economic but it is also fundamentally an ethical demand, calling for the transference of the whole basis of industrial activity from that of self-interest and profits to that of service and use.

The justification for advancing this position is discovered in the demand of the workers for better conditions of life; the severe condemnation of the competitive system which is disclosed by the application of economic principles already made by great trusts; and as well in the revelation of superior efficiency made by rational organization and true co-operation.

We believe it is possible to develop a generation which will be as strongly disposed to service for the community, as the present system has developed in the people of this generation, the dominating disposition to selfishness and greed.

SYLVIA PANKHURST HELPS TO SPREAD RANK PROPAGANDA

According to Documents Found in Possession of Communist Couriers

Washington, April 28.—Documents purporting to be signed by Sylvia Pankhurst, British Suffrage leader, James Gordon and Clara Zelof, promising assistance in spreading Bolshevik propaganda throughout the world, were found in possession of three Communist couriers arrested in Letvia, the state department is advised today.

14,000 BRITISH SOLDIERS NOW ON THE RHINE

According to a Statement by Winston Churchill, Secretary of War

London, April 28.—The number of British troops on the Rhine is approximately 14,000, according to a statement by Winston Spencer Churchill, Secretary of War. There are about 25,000 French, 16,000 United States and 20,000 Belgians.

Madrid, April 28. — The Spanish Cabinet, headed by Allende Salazar, handed in its resignation today.

DEAN MOYSE RESIGNS FROM McGILL UNIVERSITY

Montreal, April 28.—Dean Charles E. Moyse, who has held the rank of professor at McGill University for 42 years, tendered his resignation. It has been accepted.

DISCREPANCY IN REPORTS OF TIMBER SOLD AND GOVERNMENT RETURNS

Toronto, April 28.—A discrepancy of nearly 4,000,000 feet of timber in a report made to the government on sale of timber by the Spanish River Lumber Company of Chicago, was commented on by Mr. Justice Riddell at the timber limits probe at Queens Park. Some 11,800,000 feet were sold, while only 7,906,932 were reported to the government.

W. F. Bell, manager of the Spanish River Company, stated that the difference was due to the use of two different systems of measurement, and promised that the company's books would satisfactorily clear up the matter.

WAR GRAVES HEADSTONES SAME FOR ALL WHO DIED

According to Decision by the British War Graves Commission

London, April 28.—The War Graves Commission has decided unanimously on absolute uniformity of headstones for the graves of every man and woman who was killed or who died in the war. A plain design in Portland stone has been selected, recording the name, regiment and rank, symbol of religious faith and the inscription which Kipling chose—"Their Name Liveth for Evermore"—with room at the foot of the stone for an inscription limited to 66 words to be personally chosen by those nearest to the dead. This principle of equality, whether for field marshal or camp follower, has the approval of the government.

Kipling and Winston Churchill with other members of the Commission, addressed a meeting of the Army Committee in the House of Commons last night. Kipling, with intensity of feeling, spoke in favor of absolute equality. He said the main object had been to aim at dignity and simplicity, as well as abidingness.

Mr. Churchoill said that the whole spirit of the army was in favor of equality and uniformity.

MAY 16th LATEST SEEDING DATE

Regina, Sask., April 28.—April 1st, 1910, was the earliest, and May 6th, 1907, the latest date that farmers commenced seeding in the province of Saskatchewan during the period 1905-1918, according to a statement giving the commencement and the date seeding became general in the province. Seeding became general April 10, 1910, and May 10, 1907. The highest average yield was recorded in 1915, 28 bushels being given. Seeding commenced April 4th and became general April 10th in 1915. In 1910 the average yield was thirteen bushels and in 1907 fourteen bushels.

Freight on Shipments Into Canada Must Be Prepaid in Full in U. S. Money

Montreal, Que., April 28.—Intimation was given yesterday by the United States Railways that they intend to proceed with the regulation providing that on and after May 1st all freight shipments to any point in Canada must be prepaid at the point of shipment clear through to the point of destination in Canada, in United States currency, irrespective of mileage on United States lines, or mileage on Canadian lines.

STRIKE TIES UP TRAFFIC NORTHERN NEW ZEALAND

Progress of Prince of Wales is Not Likely to Be Affected

Rotorua, New Zealand, April 28.—Railroad traffic has been suspended through the Northern Island, New Zealand, as a result of the strike of engineers and firemen, but it is not expected to delay the progress of the Prince of Wales, as the walkout was not directed against him. A thousand are involved in the strike, preparations for which were made long ago.

SUPERANNUATION FOR CIVIL SERVANTS

Employed by Ontario Government —Premier Drury Introduces Measure

Toronto, April 28.—Retirement from office of all civil servants who have reached the age of 70 years is provided in a Superannuation Bill introduced by Premier Drury in the Legislature. All employes who have been 30 years in the service or who are over 65 years of age may be retired, either at the option of the government or themselves. Superannuation allowances to a maximum of $2,000 yearly will be paid such retiring employes.

The superannuation fund will be made up by contributions from the civil service and the government. Employes will be required to pay into the fund a portion of their salaries, ranging from 3¾ per cent. to eight per cent., according to age. Employes under 26 pay the minimum and the rate increases for older employes.

The government will pay into the fund an amount equal to that deducted from employes' salaries, and will pay interest upon the fund at five per cent. The province will bear the cost of administration of the scheme.

MEXICANS PLAN TO PUT DOWN REVOLT

Complete Carrantista Division to Start Offensive Before Rainy Season Opens

El Paso, Tex., April 28.—Formation of a complete Carranzista division to start an offensive against the Sonora-Sinaloa rebels, before the rainy season opens, is reported here. According to the reports the division will be headed by Gen. Manuel Dieguez, whose mission to the West coast last month precipitated civil war in Mexico. The land transports will be supported by naval forces, it was said.

The arrivals of eight bombing airplains at Guadalajara was expected to be announced, together with details of the plan of offensive. Gen. Rafael Buelna, Federal commander along the West coast, was expected to command a brigade under Dieguez.

Martial law has been declared in Pachuca, Hidalgo, following the discovery of a rebel plot.

YOUNG LAD FEELS THEFT CHARGE SO KEENLY THAT HE ENDS HIS LIFE

Spokane, Wash., April 28.—Bernard Lindley, 14 years old, a schoolboy, was found this morning in the furnace room of a local hotel, where he was employed, shot through the heart. The coroner said he had committed suicide. The boy's father, Alba A. Lindley, declared his son had been falsely accused of having stolen a small amount of money from a room in a hotel.

LARGE FORAGE CROP IS NEEDED EXPERT DECLARES

Farmer Who Gambles on Mild Season to Get Stock Through is Unwise

Ottawa, May 3.—With every probability that meat prices will remain fairly high for some time to come and with a desire to do everything possible to combat as far as humanely possible to present high cost of living, the Federal Department of Agriculture is planning an extensive campaign to overcome at least one element of the difficulty by inaugurating a comprehensive campaign for an increased acreage of forage crops in Canada for the coming year.

Dr. J. H. Grisdale, assistant to Dr. S. F. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture, stated Saturday night that while every member of the government recognized that the potential possibilities of the livestock in this country were enormous, it was essential that something more be done to develop forage crops to the fullest possible extent in order that a sufficient quantity of good feed could be provided to carry the stock over long and severe Winters. This applied particularly to the Western Provinces, where the serious droughts of the last two seasons have caused great hardship to the cattle thereby cutting off the supply of prairie hay, which, with green sheaves, constitutes practically the whole feed supply of these animals during the Winter.

Possibilities Unlimited

"The possibilities for the production of such feed have been demonstrated to be practically unlimited in almost every district in the Dominion," said Dr. Grisdale. On every Experimental Farm in Canada, and on nearly every illustration station was produced last season, probably the most trying year ever experienced in this country, forage quite sufficient to carry much more than the quantity of livestock that is carried on the average farm of the size of these institutions.

In Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, Western rye grass, brome grass and oat sheaf have been proven to produce profitable crops of these forages, no matter how dry the season, provided always that the fields devoted to such crops are handled in the right way.

No stock man on the prairies should fail to plan to grow this year, from one quarter to one half more of these crops than he feels that he could possibly use in the most severe season. Experimental Farms weather records show that because one Winter has been severe it does not by any means follow that the next will be mild. The farmer or rancher who gambles on a mild season and bets his stock can get through the Winter of 1920-21 on half the feed it would take under average conditions is in a fair, if not certain way to lose his bet and get himself and probably his neighbors into a lot of trouble. Such an example of "nerve" or "foolhardiness" is usually only too apt to influence the neighbors and lead to trouble throughout the district.

High Prices Likely to Continue

Probabilities are that meat prices will keep up for some years to come, hence any surplus feed will still almost certainly be a safe investment, even at present rather high costs of production. Unlike cereals, forage can be held from year to year at practically no cost—all that it needed is a little care in stacking and a fence around it to protect from livestock.

"The well-made stack of well-made hay, held in reserve year by year, is the best insurance against loss and the best investment any cattleman can have in practically every district in this country," concluded the Minister.

LOSS OF MINED COAL AND MINER'S WAGES FROM MAY DAY STRIKE

Sydney, N.S., May 3.—The loss of ten thousand tons of coal is the net result of the May Day strike of the Cape Breton colliers. Reports from various mines state that collieries closed down today, but no disturbances of any kind resulted. The wage loss to the miners is estimated at $25,000 to $30,000.

50 PERSONS DEAD 150 INJURED IN PEGGS, OKLA

Storm Destroys Town Leaving No Buildings Standing—Communication Cut

Muskogee, Okla., May 3.—Fifty persons are reported killed and more than 150 injured in a storm that is said to have destroyed the little town of Peggs, Okla., last night. A special train carrying doctors and nurses and equipment left here for Peggs this morning. Direct communication with the stricken town is impossible today. Reports state that not a house was left standing in Peggs.

FRENCH LABOR MANIFESTO IS MOST COMPLETE

Wants International Fleet Under League of Nations to Bring Down Freights

Paris, May 3.—The strike situation in this city was generally stationary at North and East stations this morning, only about 50 per cent of the usual number of trains being in operation At St. Lazare station, traffic was affected seriously. Virtually no freight trains moved during the forenoon.

The general labor federation issued a manifesto declaring it will continue the struggle and disclaims all responsibility for present events. The manifesto recapitulates its program comprising a national economic council; international commission to apportion raw materials; international fleet under the League of Nations to bring down freights; re-organization of railroads and other measures. The execution of this program, the manifesto states, would have prevented all the ills from which the country is suffering and would have brought wealth and prosperity.

Marseilles Docks Deserted

Marseilles, May 3.—This harbor has almost been completely paralyzed by the strike. No ships have left since the walkout was declared and the docks are deserted.

169 CASES OF MEASLES

The measles epidemic still continues to add fresh numbers to the already long list of cases now in the city. A report from the Health Department shows that there are 169 cases in Brandon at the present time, and that this number instead of decreasing, is increasing each day at the rate of four and five. All the cases reported are of a mild type though. Everything possible is being done by the Health Department to stop the spread of the epidemic, and it is expected that an improvement in the health situation will be reported shortly.

POLES AND GERMANS FIGHT IN SILESIA OVER POLISH NATIONAL FESTIVAL

Berlin, May 3—Violent collisions occurred between Poles and Germans at Ratisbon, Silesia, yesterday on the occasion of the Polish national festival. Many people were injured, some seriously.

TOWN IS ENTERED IN THREE MILE RACE SATURDAY

Tommy Town, Brandon's premier runner and who is the present five mile champion of the Dominion, will compete in the North End Club's three mile race in Winnipeg next Saturday. This will be the first real test of the year for many of the runners, and especially those with Olympic aspirations. Town is conceded to be at his best at the three mile distance, and his win of the five mile event at Ottawa last September was really his first venture over the longer course.

Town has kept in good shape all Winter, but received a setback in his training a short time ago, when he was laid up for a while with tonsilitis. He expects to be at the top of his form for his first race on Saturday, but he will get plenty of opposition from Joe Keeper and others who are entered for the three mile event. Keeper is Town's closest rival for the honor of representing Canada at the Olympic games next July, and it will be up to the Brandon runner to show his heels to the Indian next Saturday. Should the local runner win and follow

TO WIND UP ESTATE OF A. J. SMALL

Toronto, May 3.—On behalf of a downtown departmental store which cannot get settlement of an account for $419 against the estate of Ambrose J. Small, Gordon Shaver, of the legal firm of Price, Cochrane, Shaver and Parry, has made a motion before Judge Denton to appoint a receiver to wind up the estate of the missing millionaire theatrical magnate. An affidavit which has already been filed in the County Court states that all efforts to locate Ambrose J. Small have failed, and that the plaintiff will be unable to recover the amount owing unless a receiver is appointed. Mr. Shaver asks that N. L. Martin, chartered accountant, be appointed receiver.

MAY DAY STRIKES OCCUR IN MANY CITIES AND TOWNS

Winnipeg, May 3.—"We demand the release of our brothers," real the inscription on the first banner carried in the parade of labor men through the streets of Winnipeg Saturday forenoon as a protest against the imprisonment of seven strike leaders in last year's general strike. A large Union Jack headed the parade. Following the flag was a brass band and then stretched out in long lines representatives of many of Winnipeg's classes of industrial workers.

Spectators estimated that about 6,000 people were in line. Most of them were men, but several hundred women and children marched, the children with red ribbons on their hats and on their arms.

"Their sentence is our sentence," read another banner carried by the marchers. "Our brothers in gaol should be in the legislature. See to it," and "Those who are not with us are against us," were other inscriptions carried aloft. A float well at the head of the line carried a party of children of some of the imprisoned leaders. On the float was a bed with the legend: "They came like thieves in the night."

No banners were carried to identify the industrial units marching. About one hundred conductors and motormen of the Winnipeg street railway marched in their uniforms but the car service was not interrupted. The parade formed up on York street and marched through the principal streets, passing the jail, where the leaders were held until their removal to the prison farm a few days ago, and disbanding on May street. There was not the least sign of disorder at any stage and save for an occasional cheer from spectators who lined the sidewalks, the parade passed in silence.

1,000 Soviets Exist in U.S.

Washington, May 3.—At least 100,000 native Americans hold membership in radical societies which planned demonstrations Saturday throughout the United States, according to investigations of Justice Department secret service agents.

"The Communist party alone claimed a membership of 25,000," said Special Agent Keohan. "That organization is the smallest of three radical organizations, the I.W.W., the Communist Labor party and the Socialist party."

Among themselves members of radical societies refer to their local groups as Soviets, according to Assistant Chief Burke, of the Bureau of Investigation.

This would indicate that at least 1,000 Soviets are in existence in the United States, according to the bureau. In New York alone more than sixty Soviets have been organized, according to one report to the department, other cities where many Soviets are at work are Chicago, Rochester, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Seattle and St. Louis.

Developments in East

Toronto, May 3.—The reported idleness of 12,000 coal miners in the Sydney, N.S., district, as a May Day protest against the imprisonment of Winnipeg strike leaders; and a possible general tie-up of the building trades in Ottawa, including those at work on the new parliament buildings, and a street car strike in London, Ont., are the most serious developments reported in Canadian labor circles. In Toronto there is a strike of milk drivers and a threatened strike of bread bakers and drivers. There are murmurings among the sheet metal workers and plumbers, but they are so far still at work.

Montreal reports the situation industrially quiet, but many people taking a holiday to "get moved."

Hamilton reports trouble among the steel workers.

At many points in the Dominion Socialistic demonstrations were arranged for Saturday afternoon principally in protest against the imprisonment of the Winnipeg strike leaders. These demonstrations will take the form of meetings in the parks. No serious trouble was expected.

Labor Holiday in Britain

London, May 3.—Eight million workers are estimated to have participated in Great Britain's observance of May Day by taking the day off, parading and speech-making, but there were no interruptions to the nation's essential public services, probably partially due to the fact that Saturday is normally a half-holiday.

The move to impede railway traffic through the work to the rules policy proclaimed by the London and Liverpool railwaymen's locals, proved a fiasco, not a single instance of a hold-up due to this attempt to enforce the workers' demand for increased wages, unauthorized by the executives of the unions, being reported.

The feature which gave more promise of distinguishing the day was the inauguration of an overall-wearing campaign similar to that in Canada and the United States, by the "middle class union," calculated to cut down the price of clothing.

The union officials appeared at their offices Saturday morning garbed in denim and issued appeals to the membership of the union to emulate their example.

Miners, factory hands, shipbuilders, dockers, builders, painters, engineers, agricultural workers and municipal employes made holiday and joined in locally organized demonstrations or went to see the season's opening cricket matches but no disorders were reported up to three o'clock Saturday afternoon.

LADIES' GARMENT WORKERS MEET

One Proposal is Closer Alliance With Organized Needle Workers of Europe

Chicago, Ill., May 3 — (Canadian Press) — Three hundred delegates from Canada and the United States have assembled in this city to attend the 15th annual convention of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, which will open today and continue for two weeks. The union membership in the two countries is placed at 110,000.

According to Benjamin Schlesinger, president of the organization, one of the proposals to come before the convention will be closer alliance between the garment workers of this continent and the organized needle trades workers of Europe. At a recent meeting of the general executive board of the union it was decided to propose to the convention an international federation of needle trades workers of the world. This proposal was a result of a visit to Europe of President Schlesinger, in the course of which he attended a general conference of European needle trades workers at Amsterdam.

Another European conference is planned to be held in Copenhagen in August, and it is expected that at this gathering the world wide federation of needle trades workers will be formally agreed upon.

SIX MEN FOUND GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER AT VANCOUVER ASSIZES

Vancouver, B. C., May 3. — At the close of the Spring Assizes here 11 men, found guilty on various counts, were sentenced by Mr. Justice Morrison. "Blackie" Ford, manslaughter, was given ten years; Cecil Pynn, Alfred Simpson and Philip Schrodt, all of whom were guilty of manslaughter, arising from automobile fatalities, were sentenced to five years' imprisonment.

Two men, guilty of manslaughter, were released on suspended sentence. Other sentences imposed were for less serious crimes.

PAPER PRICE RAISED

Montreal, May 3—Beginning May 8th the price of La Presse will be raised from one to two cents for the daily issue and from two to three cents for the Saturday paper, on account of the increased cost of production.

R. D. WAUGH IS NOT CHAIRMAN OF SAAR VALLEY COMMISSION

Winnipeg, May. 3.—Ex-Mayor R. D. Waugh of Winnipeg, who is a member of the Saar Valley Commission, is not chairman of this commission as was announced in the House of Commons. Mr. Waugh in a letter to a friend in Winnipeg, states that a mistake was made and that M. Roualt, the French commissioner, was appointed chairman a week before Mr. Waugh received his appointment.

Mr. Waugh states that he is commissioner in charge of finance and supplies, and expresses himself as delighted with the work and the surroundings.

AMERICAN JEWS THANK BRITAIN FOR ACCEPTING MANDATE FOR PALESTINE

Washington, May 3.—Sir Auckland Geddes, the British ambassador, received a delegation from the Zionist Organization of America, which called to thank the British Government on behalf of the American Jews for accepting the mandate for Palestine which was awarded it by the Supreme Council at San Remo.

The ambassador was invited to address a big convention af the Zionist Organization to be held in New York.

SHIPS CARGO OF BINDER TWINE WORTH $1,750,000

Port Arthur, Ont., May 3. — The steamer Kearsarage, of the Canada Atlantic Transit Company, in charge of Capt. Jaeanke, has arrived in Port Arthur with one of the most valuable as well as the largest cargo of binder twine ever unloaded at one dock at Port Arthur. The twine is shipped to the order of the International Harvester Company, and is valued at $1,750,000.

The Kearsarge wintered at the twine factory in Chicago and as the material was manufactured, it was loaded direct in the ships holds.

ANCONAS LEAD AT HALF WAY MARK IN LAYING CONTEST

Two Pens of White Wyandottes Forced from Lead at Last

BEST WEEKLY REPORT

For a Pen is 59 Eggs Laid by W. H. Symington's Rhode Island Reds

The Manitoba Egg Laying Contest at the Experimental Farm, Brandon, reached its half way mark on Friday April 30th, at the end of the twenty-sixth week. At this stage of the game the pen of single comb Anconas owned by Mr. W. H. Howe of Winnipeg is in the lead, with a total of 882 eggs for the ten pullets. The two pens of White Wyandottes which held the lead between them all through the severe Winter weather are now in second and third place, Mr. G. F. Thompson's pen from Minnedosa being second with 846 eggs and Mr. T. Lund's pen from Stonewall being third with 832 eggs.

Mr. G. F. Thompson's White Wyandotte pullet No. 70 holds the individual record for the twenty-six weeks, having laid 120 eggs in that time. Mr. Thompson's pen also holds the second place with pullet No. 68 laying 116 eggs. Other individual records of 100 or over in twenty-six weeks are pullet No. 184, 112 eggs and pullet No. 187, 101 eggs, Anconas owned by W. H. Howe; pullet No. 64, White Wyandotte, 106 eggs, owned by G. F. Thompson; pullet No. 77, White Wyandotte, 102 eggs, owned by T. Lund, Stonewall, and pullet No. 166, 105 eggs, and pullet No. 167, 100 eggs, Rhode Island Reds, owned by W. H. Symington, Brandon.

The best weekly report for a pen is 59 eggs laid in the twenty-sixth week by Mr. Symington's Rhode Island Reds.

Total Number of Eggs 9,611

The total number of eggs laid by the twenty pens in twenty-six weeks was 9611.

In comparing the results of the Manitoba contest with those of the six other contests, it is very gratifying to observe that at the end of the twenty-fifth week (the last returns received from the other contests) Manitoba pens held second, third and fourth places among all the pens in the seven contests, a pen of Barred Rocks at Ottawa being the only one ahead of them. For seven out of the last eight weeks Mr. Howe's Anconas had the highest pen totals in any of the contests, and Mr. Thompson's White Wyandotte pullet No. 70 has the second highest individual record of any of the 1,630 hens in the contests.

The contest started November 1st, 1919, and will continue until November 1st, 1920. Each pen in the contest contains ten birds and the birds in each pen are numbered from one to ten. The following list contains the names of the pen holders, the number of pens and the total number of eggs per pen to date.

Pen 1, Barred Rocks, 430 eggs, Jos. Woods, Brandon; pen 2, Barred Rocks, 263 eggs, H. L. Farmer, Rapid City; pen 3, Barred Rocks, 247 eggs, F. H. Johnson, Brandon; pen 4, Barred Rocks, 565 eggs, F. E. Merritt, Melita; pen 5, Partridge Rocks, 439 eggs, Peerless Products Company, Brandon; pen 6, White Wyandottes, 846 eggs, G. F. Thompson, Minnedosa, Man.; pen 7, White Wyandottes, 832 eggs, Thos. Lund, Stonewall; Pen 8, White Wyandottes, 489 eggs, W. Gregg, Desford; pen 9, Silver Lace Wyandottes, 539 eggs, J. N. Scott, Moorepark; pen 10, White Leghorns, 627 eggs, Arthur Howell, Brandon; pen 11, White Leghorns, 578 eggs, E. S. Kay, Karnac; pen 12, Brown Leghorns, 500 eggs, G. F. Windsor, Crystal City; pen 13, Buff Orpingtons, 388 eggs, David Russell, Two Creeks; pen 14, Buff Orpingtons, 230 eggs, J. B. Ober, Brandon; pen 15, Buff Orpingtons, 360 eggs, H. G. Osborn, Winnipeg, Man.; pen 16, Rhode Island Reds, 663 eggs, W. H. Symington, Brandon; pen 17, Rhode Island Reds, 209 eggs, G. J. Gill, Broadview, Sask.; pen 18, Anconas, 882 eggs, W. H. Howe, Winnipeg; pen 19, Campines, 218 eggs, Kerr & McGuinness, Brandon; pen 20, Rhode Island Reds, 306 eggs, Chambers & Maguire, Brandon.

BODY OF MISSING BOY FOUND ON BANKS OF SASKATCHEWAN RIVER

Saskatoon, Sask., May 3.—A citizen's volunteer search party Sunday afternoon found the body of Mansell Stebbins, aged 17, who has been missing from his home since April 21st, on the banks of the Saskatchewan river.

From the position of the body, it is thought that the boy fell from a tree into the water and was drowned. He was still grasping a tree branch, which corresponded to one broken from a tree twenty feet away.

TURK NATIONALIST LEADER MOVES AGAINST BRITISH

Constantinople, May 3.— Mustapha Kemal, Nationalist leader, apparently is relaxing his efforts along other fronts in order to concentrate his strength against the British and anti-Nationalist fronts along the sea of Marmora.

THREE KILLED IN RIOTS IN PARIS ON MAY DAY

Paris, May 3.—Official figures issued Sunday give the casualties resulting from the disorders Saturday as three dead and 102 wounded, of whom six remain in hospitals, two of them in a dangerous condition. The arrests aggregated 103.

The foreigners among those arrested are to be deported. Alex. Blanc, extreme socialist deputy, who was injured, will be prosecuted on a charge of abuse of the police.

MOST OTTAWA CRAFTSMEN AT WORK AGAIN TODAY

Ottawa, May. 3.—The most of the crafts engaged in the building and construction industry which went on strike on Saturday, will return to work today. All have reached agreements with their employers except the carpenters, electricians and painters. Upwards of 3,500 men were on strike on Saturday.

ONTARIO TO HAVE POLICY REGARDING STANDARD HOTELS

All Licenses Extended for Month to Permit of Policy Being Determined

Toronto, May 3. — The Ontario license board extended for a month all standard hotel licenses, as well as licenses under which native wines are sold within the province in wholesale quantities. It is understood that the government wishes matters to remain as they are until the government decides on its policy with reference to hotels.

IMPORTANT WITNESS AGAINST RADICALS COMMITS SUICIDE

New York, May 3.—Tony Tazio, detained by the department of justice as an important witness against a number of radicals involved in bomb outrages last June, committed suicide early today by hurling himself from a window on the fourteenth floor of the office building where the department headquarters are located.

PRESENT SCHEDULE ON GREAT NORTHERN UNSATISFACTORY

According to Figures on Ticket Sales—Some Merchants Claim Benefits

Many complaints are being received by the Great Northern Railway offices here regarding what is claimed to be an unsatisfactory service for many persons leaving the city. Commercial travellers who formerly used this road to make connections with the C.P.R. and C.N.R. trains in the Southern part of Manitoba, and others who use the Great Northern route to St. Paul, are the chief complaints regarding the present service. Passengers journeying to St. Paul have to stay overnight in St. John's, N.D., at the present time, while no connections are made with the C.N.R. and C.P.R. trains at Boissevain and Minto under the present schedule.

Figures supplied by the Great Northern officials show that for the month of March the ticket sales in Brandon showed a loss of $500 as compared with the same month last year. At Boissevain the same condition prevailed in the number of tickets sold to Brandon, and this town showed a loss of $300 for one month. These figures were taken for a month during which the farmers used the railroad more than at any other time of the year. In addition to this many of the trainmen on the Great Northern have moved to St. John's, N.D., as they now finish their run in that town.

Although many complaints have been received regarding the present schedule which brings the train in here at 11.145 each morning, and which departs at 3.15 in the afternoon, many local merchants claim that the schedule brings a lot of money to the city. They state that outsiders now do their shopping in Brandon and are able to return home the same day. The Board of Trade has taken an active interest in the schedule and its advantages and disadvantages, and at the present time has a committee working on the schedule.

TWO MORE BIG OFFERS

We stated at the start that this Competition would net a handsome profit to every energetic worker who would enter it. Look over these additional offers. A big offer for country competitors only. Competitors are badly needed. Be wise! Send in your name now.

FORD TOURING CAR for subscribers

THE SUBSCRIBERS' "WHEAT GUESSING" COMPETITION

A Latest Model Ford Touring Car to be Given as a Prize to Subscribers

How many kernels of No. 1 Northern wheat are there in the standard quart Gem jar at present on exhibition in the show window of the firm of W. E. Crawford, Brandon? The subscriber who has sent in the correct answer to the above question when the Competition closes will be awarded the Ford Touring Car. This is an ordinary Gem fruit jar of the standard quart size, which has been filled level to the top, with No. 1 Northern wheat, and the cover put on and sealed by Mr. H. Brown, City Clerk, Brandon. At the close of the Competition, the seal of the jar will be broken and the contents counted by several well known business men. The count to be made in public.

The best way to arrive at a correct estimate, is to fill a jar yourself with the same grade of wheat as specified and count it.

HOW TO GUESS

Either the Sun or one of the competitors in the Prize Competition will supply you with the necessary guessing coupons.

One coupon must be used for each guess, i.e. if you have five guesses you fill out five coupons.

The Guessing Competition applies to only subscriptions taken during the time of the Circulation Campaign.

The guessing coupon appearing on this page, may be filled in now and sent in, with a subscription and additional coupons will be sent a subscriber in the event that he is entitled to more than one guess.

When the subscription is sent direct to the Competition Office be sure to ask to have it credited to one of the competitors appearing in the list as every one of them merits this assistance.

In the event of two subscribers both having the correct guess, the Ford Touring Car will be awarded to the one first sending in the subscription.

ONE YEAR'S SUBSCRIPTION TO THE DAILY OR WEEKLY SUN MAY WIN YOU THIS ELEGANT 1920 MODEL FORD TOURING CAR. YOU WILL BE ASSISTING YOURSELF AND A COMPETITOR AS WELL BY SUBSCRIBING.

SEND IN YOUR SUBSCRIPTION NOW.

The number of guesses in the Competition vary according to the length of subscription, as shown in the scale below.

Weekly Sun—		Daily Sun—
1 year	1 guess	1 year	2 guesses
2 years	2 guesses	2 years	4 guesses
3 years	4 guesses	3 years	7 guesses
4 years	6 guesses	4 years	11 guesses
5 years	8 guesses	5 years	15 guesses

Guesses will be given for either new subscriptions, renewals or the payment of arrearages.

The winner of the Ford Touring Car for subscribers, will be announced with the other prize winners at the close of the Competition.

An offer for country competitors only $250.00 CASH

ENROLL NOW

The results, so far, in the Competition are by no means what we expected them to be. None of the competitors seem to have gotten down to work in real earnest, and as a consequence the work done, so far, on the special prize piano and on the other big Capital Prizes amounts to but a very little.

The bulk of the subscriptions should come from the country territory, as in the city the people are paying each week to the carrier boy, and are more satisfied in paying this way. This is not the case in the country, and as a consequence a competitor in the country has a much better chance. All of the big prizes can easily go to the country if you will only get out and work for them.

Any competitor who will give this matter a little thought, cannot help but see what an opportunity there is offered of being a big winner, but in order to give you a special inducement of the big possibilities, we are going to make the following offer:

$250.00 IN CASH WILL BE GIVEN TO THE COMPETITOR DOING THE BEST WORK IN THE TWO WEEKS STARTING MONDAY, MAY 3.

Remember this offer is for competitors outside of the City of Brandon only. Think what this means to you. There are very few competitors to work against, and very little work has been done to date.

You are in this way, by a small amount of effort, able to win three big prizes, as follows:

1. $250.00 in Cash.
2. $450.00 Ennis Piano.
3. Chevrolet "Baby Grand" Touring Car, or any other of the big Capital Prizes.

The special prize Ennis Piano offer will close on Saturday night, May 8, and so little has been done towards winning it so far, that any competitor who will set to work with a will can easily capture this prize as well as the $250.00 cash prize. You will then have collected enough points, in working for these two prizes, to make the winning of the big Chevrolet "Baby Grand" Touring Car a fairly easy matter.

This is a wonderful offer, as you can see.

If you have not enrolled, do so at once. New opportunities will be the order of the Competition.

THE BIG SPECIAL PRIZE $450 PIANO

The special prize Ennis piano is being given for the best work done in three weeks' time. This is the last week of the offer. The race is a very close one, and the prize is anyone's to date. Even an entirely new competitor could set in now an dwin, as very little has been done so far. This is only one of the three big offers given for the benefit of new competitors.

If you have not enrolled as yet, join in the race now. Secure the benefit of all the prize offers you can during the Competition. No live competitor need be satisfied with only one costly prize in this campaign.

The "Subscribers' Guessing Competition" will help you get subscriptions. Enroll now as a candidate for one of the big free prizes. Look over the list. Competitors are badly needed. Little has been done so far. Send in your name now.

NORRIS GIVES ACCOUNT OF HIS STEWARDSHIP: CLEMENT IS NOMINATED

Brandon Supporters of Norris Government Listen to Address Setting Forth Achievements and Program of Activities if Returned to Power—S. E. Clement, M. P. P. to Again be Liberal Standard Bearer in Brandon.

Mr. S. E. Clement, the present member for Brandon in the Provincial House, was nominated as the choice of the local Liberals to contest the Brandon seat in the forthcoming elections. The nomination came at a meeting of the Liberals and supporters of the Norris Government held in the City Hall, Thursday night, at which about ninety persons were present. There was little enthusiasm displayed during the evening and the meeting was a very quiet one, in view of the fact that it was practically the opening meeting of the Summer's political campaign.

The speech of the evening came from Premier T. C. Norris who gave a splendid account of the work carried on by the Government during the time it has held office. He recounted the various legislative enactments that has placed Manitoba in the forefront among the provinces of the Dominion and outlined briefly some of the program which will be followed should the present Government be returned to power. The Premier said that he has confidence in the successful outcome of the elections for the Liberal party as the Government is appealing solely on the record it has made during the past five years.

The Nomination

In order to secure a suitable candidate from the convention, a nominating ballot was held and the scrutineers appointed as follows: O. L. Harwood, J. D. Kennedy, W. I. Smale, Kenneth McGregor, J. R. Brodie and J. F. Baird. Following the balloting for nomination, the chairman of the meeting, Mr. J. F. Kilgour, announced that four men, Messrs. A. L. Hall, J. W. Fleming, S. E. Clement and W. I. Smale had received the greatest amount of support, with a few straggling nominations. Mr. A. L. Hall then rose and asked that his name be taken off the nomination list. He thanked his supporters for complimenting him in this fashion but could not accept the honor of being one of the candidates. Mr. W. I. Smale also withdrew, by stating that he could see no criticism for the present Government, and that the nomination was also a big compliment to him. "The main idea is," said Mr. Smale, "to see that the most objectionable man of the three is not elected." Mr. Brodie then asked the meeting if it would be a good thing to get in touch with Mr. Fleming before putting up his name for nomination. He suggested that nominations be not proceeded with but as the meeting had already decided to vote on the names of S. E. Clement and J. W. Fleming, a vote was taken.

Following the balloting on the two names the scrutineers brought in the report that Mr. Clement was the nominee of the convention, and would therefore be the Liberal candidate from Brandon for the coming elections. Mr. Clement was then called to the stage to make a speech.

Clement Outlines Position

Mr. Clement stated that this was the third time that he had been in the painful position of being a candidate, and the third time that he had accepted the nomination of the Liberal party. Previous to the Liberal party coming into power in this province, Mr. Clement said Manitoba was cursed with the worst Government Canada has ever seen. Advanced legislation had been frustrated at every turn by the former Government, while the school question needed immediate attention, not to say anything about the financial difficulties of the Province.

Since the election of the Norris Government in 1914 the Province has prospered, Mr. Clement said. After dealing with the progressive undertakings of the present Government, the speaker said that it was his belief that the Norris Government has carried out its pledges better than any other Government in Canada. Manitoba is now in the forefront of the provinces of the Dominion, said Mr. Clement, and it will continue to be so if the Norris Government is again returned. The member then thanked the convention for the confidence reposed in him, and gave an assurance that he would do everything in his power for Brandon, if returned. Mr. Clement said he had absolutely no fear at all over the result, and that the Norris Government will be returned to power.

No Fear of Result

The chairman, Mr. J. F. Kilgour, in introducing Premier Norris, said there was no doubt but what the province had been well looked after since the present Premier had taken over the leadership. The progressive politics and advanced legislation which the Norris Government enacted had placed Manitoba in the van, and now the Government is seeking an expression from the people as to whether all the promises made have been fulfilled satisfactorily. Mr. Kilgour said he had absolutely no fear as to the result locally, and that the Norris Government would be returned in the Province.

Premier Norris' Address

Premier T. C. Norris, commencing his address stated that while there was not such a large crowd present still he was glad to see so much interest displayed in the meeting. This time he was appearing before a Brandon audience under different circumstances than at other election time. He had always been a critic of the Government before, and representing a Government without a record. Now he was here with a five year record. The Premier said that he would like to address every elector personally, and especially the new half of the electorate—the ladies—but that is impossible.

"Some time ago I took the stand that no man should have two standards, one for public life and the other for private life. I still take that stand," said the Premier. One of the unpleasant things he had to do was to refer to the late Government. In referring to the progressive program which had been outlined by the Liberal party, Premier Norris said that "no opposition has the right to make any representation for the sake of getting into office solely." "We think we have a progressive policy and now intend to ask the people about it. I have never believed in shrouding the date of an election from the opposition and this year an early announcement was made that the elections would be held before the harvest. I believe good business is good politics, and good politics, good business. The people are now to be the judges of how well we have carried out our promises."

Mr. Clement Endorsed

Speaking of the Liberal member, Mr. S. E. Clement, the Premier said that the Brandon man had been one of the most active and one of the most useful members of the Government. If Brandon had not received all the city wanted it was not Mr. Clement's fault but the fault of the Government. The Brandon member is as close to the Government as any member and should Mr. Clement be elected there is no fear but that the interests of Brandon will be well served in the Legislature through Mr. Clement.

"It is the duty of the Government to lay before the people their record and to state what their policy will be if elected," said the Premier. There has been some very severe criticism of the government by the opposition, but these criticisms have been for the most part, wild statements. As yet there is no cohesion of opposition. The Conservatives are not well organized and the Farmers have not decided to go against the present government, and there has been no serious complaints against the Liberal party now in power.

The Early Difficulties

The conditions under which the Liberal Government took power were terrible, said the Premier. The late Government had left a terrible state of affairs, and then the war came on, and most difficult problems had to be met. One of the most difficult promises fade, was to proceed with the investigation of the late Government's affairs, but this promise has been fulfilled. The investigation had cost a lot of money, but if it has been a great moral lesson to the politicians of Canada then it is money well spent. The Fullerton charges directed against the Premier and Attorney-General Hudson had cost the government nearly $10,000 for an investigation, but every cent paid out in connection with lawyers' and court fees has been properly taxed.

"Then the cost of living went up and the Government was up against the problem of increasing costs. A decision to finish the Parliament buildings was reached and this is being done at an increase over the original contract price. There has been increased grants to various institutions and the protection afforded the dependents of soldiers who were overseas. Over $1,000,000 a year had been raised for patriotic purposes in the Province. But the provincial affairs have been carried through on a business-like basis, and the Premier said that he did not believe that anyone would say that the money was foolishly spent. The feeling of confidence had been retained only by business-like methods.

Accused of Extravagance

The criticisms directed at the present Government by the opposition leader, Mr. Willis, were not upheld. Mr. Willis has accused the Government of extravagance, but in showing the figures for it had overlooked many items. The services of the Government had to be increased in order to provide more service for the people, and the Premier added that he had always tried to run the Government for the people. He asked if Mr. Willis had any objection to the taxation for the Patriotic fund. The expenditures of the Government had of course increased. The salaries to Civil Service employes had gone up $212,000 a year alone, but the need was great, for the employes have to be given a living wage. One noticeable feature is that the telephone rates in the Province have not been increased.

New Features Introduced

Speaking of the new features introduced by the present Government, Premier Norris said that one of the first acts when the Government came into power was to wipe out the Coldwell amendments. Now the English language is being taught in all the schools, and the "new Canadians" are getting opportunities they never had before. Over 6000 children who were previously outside the school districts have now been provided for and over 150 houses built for teachers. Every branch of education has been cared for.

There has been some criticism of the enforcement of the liquor laws, but this could be understood when about fifty per cent of the people were in favor and fifty per cent against the legislation. Direct legislation had been applied to the Liquor Act. A proposition had now been submitted to the Dominion Government to make Manitoba "bone dry" and to submit the question to the electors this Fall.

Cheap Money for Farmers

The agricultural conditions have been improved since the advent of the present Government, stated the Premier. The Rural Credits plan has provided money at the same rate to the farmers as the business men could get it. Recently the banks had refused to loan money to the Government for the purpose of loaning it to the farmers and now a new plan is being put into force. The people are going to be asked to loan money to the Government on bonds, which will in turn be loaned to the farmers. The "long date farm mortgage loans" has also had the effect of bending the mortgage rate to where it is today.

Direct legislation had been given the seal of approval by the Government but the referendum and recall had been found unconstitutional. The enfranchisement of women is going to have a big uplift effect on the province, and Manitoba showed the way by being the first province to grant women the vote.

Advanced Labor Legislation

Manitoba boasts today of the most advanced legislation on labor and capital. The Premier then named the following as some of the acts put through—the Factory Act, the Bakeshop Act, the Shop Regulation Act, Inspection of Passenger Elevators Act, the Steam Boiler Inspection Act, Electrical Workers' License Act, Public Building Inspection Act, Fair Wage Act, Building Trades Protection Act, and the New Workmen's Compensation Act. There is also now a well established Bureau of Labor, while the Minimum Wage Board for Women has done good work.

The Industrial Conditions Act with it's joint council of industry is a splendid piece of legislation. The Compensation Act and the insurance for laborers which begins next year is very advanced legislation. The joint Council of Industry is to be a permanent board, and the Premier paid a splendid tribute to the chairman of that Board, the Rev. C. W. Gordon. Premier Norris also stated that he believed that if a thorough discussion can take place on the difficulties confronting both capital and labor that there will be no more strikes. He said that the Government has always attempted to deal fairly with labor and has kept pace with the advance made by both parties.

Cow Scheme a Good One

The money spent by the Government in buying cows for farmers had been well invested. In the great territory in Northern Manitoba 4,500 cows purchased by the Government had made the undertaking so successful that not one dollar had been lost. Seven creameries and two cheese factories have been built since the introduction of this plan, and the province of Manitoba instead of importing fifty-five carloads of butter to provide for the provincial consumption, is now exporting over 150 cars a year.

The Mother's Allowance Act provided for an original expenditure of $15,000 but this has been increased since it's first year to $300,000, the sum set aside for this year. The health Department had inaugurated the rural system of nursing and now there are forty nurses in the Province working under this department, and giving great satisfaction in their work. This service is costing $50,000 a year now. The Child Welfare work also has been well looked after.

For the Future

The program of the future, the Premier said, provides for the distribution of the hydro-electric power throughout the Province. He named the different extensions being planned, and said that Brandon was not included on account of the great cost to bring the power here. The building of good roads throughout the Province is also been ably looked after.

In conclusion Premier Norris said that the Government has carried out every promise made to the electors, and that everything has been done to govern the province for the people. He asks every elector to inquire into the administration of the Government and to find out whether the Government has made good. On the strength of it's showing, he therefore appealed for the support of the electors at the coming elections and said that he had a great deal of confidence in the outcome and the return of the present Government to power.

Registration Dates

Before the meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem, Mr. Clement announced that the registration dates for Brandon have been fixed for May 10th, 11th and 12th and that it is the duty of every elector to register on those days.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

HENDERSON—LORD

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Henderson, Eighteenth street North have received the announcement of the marriage of their eldest son, George, to Lilly, second daughter of Mr. Arthur Lord, Berry, N. S.W., Australia. The marriage took place April 24th at Berry, N.S.W., Australia. Mr. and Mrs. Henderson will reside in Australia.

The groom served overseas for four and a half years with the Imperial Forces.

SIXTY-THIRD WEDDING ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gibson, who are at present visiting their daughter, Mrs. W. J. Burchill, 404 Eleventh street, celebrated their sixty-third wedding anniversary Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Gibson were married at Huntington, Que., by the Rev. Mr. Brown, sixty-three years ago. Coming to the West in 1882 Mr. and Mrs. Gibson settled in Saskatchewan in the Alameda district, and later moved into the town of Alameda where they have since made their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibson have always taken a very keen interest in all that pertains to the good of the community and have been most energetic church workers. They are still hale and hearty and bid fair to celebrate many more anniversaries. Mr. and Mrs. Gibson have a host of friends in Brandon and Alameda who will congratulate them upon attaining sixty-three years of wedded life.

ATKINSON—EAGLE

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. George's Church, Saturday afternoon, when Winnifred, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Eagle, 2041 College avenue, was united in marriage to Mr. Merton Atkinson, of this city. Rev. S. R. Hammond officiated, only the immediate friends of the bridal party being present.

Mrs. A. Jackson, of Regina, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Miss Amy Leybourne acted as bridesmaid. Mr. F. C. Eagle supported the groom.

The bride, who entered the church leaning on the arm of her father, wore a becoming gown of white silk, trimmed with georgette and seed pearls, and a regulation veil with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of roses and carnations.

The happy couple left on the afternoon train for Winnipeg where they will spend a short honeymoon.

OVATION GIVEN MISS LAURETTE TAYLOR BY AUDIENCE AT GARRICK

London, May 4.—An enthusiastic audience packed every corner of the Garrick theatre Monday night for the postponed performance of "One Night in Rome," which, when it was presented in London for the first time last Thursday night, was broken up by a gallery demonstration. At the close of the first act, when each member of the company took a separate curtain call, Miss Laurette Taylor, the star, was given an ovation.

The performance went with the utmost smoothness, and there was no sign of anything but good will. A long line of people had waited outside the theatre from one o'clock Monday afternoon to secure seats for the evening's performance.

OBITUARY

Mrs. C. C. Russett

The death of Mrs. C. C. Russett, beloved wife of Mr. Charles C. Russett, 239 Percy street, occurred at noon on Wednesday, following a month's illness. The late Mrs. Russett was a member of the Emmanuel Baptist Church and had a great many friends in the East end of the city who will regret her death. Besides her husband, three children are left to mourn her loss.

Mrs. C. C. Russett

The remains of the late Mrs. C. C. Russett were laid to rest in Brandon cemetery Friday afternoon following a service at the Emmanuel Baptist Church, which was largely attended. Mr. C. G. Stone conducted the service both at the church and the graveside. The pall bearers were Messrs. A. Heselgrave, A. Pue, A. Stranks, B. Churchill, A. Robson and J. Robson.

Henry Hargreaves

Many Brandon friends of the late Mr. Henry Hargreaves will regret his death, which occurred recently at his home in the Beresford district. The late Mr. Hargreaves was forty-four years and seven months of age and was one of the best known farmers in the district. He was only ill a short time and succumbed to complications following an attack of influenza. He is survived by his wife and several brothers and sisters.

Mrs. A. G. Nation

Many Brandon friends of Mrs. A. G. Nation, beloved wife of Mr. Fred Nation, will regret to learn of her death which occurred in Victoria, B.C., on Sunday, after an illness of about four months. The late Mrs. Nation was formerly Miss Abbie G. Bawden and lived in Brandon for a number of years prior to, and after her marriage to Mr. Nation, who was for many years senior partner in the firm of Nation & Shewan. In April, 1911, Mr. and Mrs. Nation and family moved to Victoria to reside. The late Mrs. Nation was always interested in the welfare of the community and during the years of war she was an active worker for the Red Cross and other patriotic societies in Victoria. In addition to her own work she gave two sons to aid the cause of Canada in the Great War, one of these, Lieut. George W. Nation, made the supreme sacrifice on the fields of France, July 31st, 1916. Besides her husband, one daughter, Miss Helen Nation, at home, and a son, Major A. F. Nation, of Montreal, are left to mourn her loss.

Mrs. Elizabeth Fowler Livingston

The remains of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Fowler Livingston, relict of the late Rev. P. S. Livingston, formerly minister of the Presbyterian Church at Broadview, Sask., were laid to rest beside her late husband in Brandon cemetery this afternoon. Rev. J. George Miller conducted the service at Campbell & Campbell's undertaking parlors and later at the graveside. The pall bearers were Rev. G. E. Lougheed, Rev. Robt. Patterson, Mr. A. Trotter and Mr. D. Shirriff.

The late Mrs. Livingston had been a resident of Winnipeg for many years and had been in failing health for some months following a paralytic stroke last Summer. Her life was one of intense Christian service and for many years she was Superintendent of the Presbyterian Training School for Deaconesses in Toronto. Funeral services were held in Winnipeg prior to the shipping of the remains to Brandon for interment. Dr. Gunne of Kenora, Ont., a nephew of the deceased, accompanied the remains.

Mrs. E. Collins

The death occurred in the city on Saturday at noon of Mrs. E. Collins, beloved wife of Mr. A. Collins, 1013 Louise Avenue. The late Mrs. Collins had been ill for the past six months and succumbed to heart trouble and complications. As a girl the late Mrs. Collins came to Manitoba from Clinton, Ontario, in 1882 with her parents and was married to Mr. Collins in 1887 after which they moved to Markham, Ont. to reside. Four years later Mr. and Mrs. Collins returned to Brandon and have resided in this city since that time. Those who share the bereavement besides Mr. Collins include three daughters, Mrs. S. E. Webb of this city and Misses Lucy and Rena Collins at home, and four sons, Messrs. J. G. Collins, South Brandon; S. J. Collins, who resides in the Southern States; and Bert and Ernest Collins at home.

TWO KILLED AND OTHERS INJURED WHEN WALLS TOY FACTORY COLLAPSE

Burlington, Vt., May 4.—At least two were killed and an unknown number injured by the collapse of three walls of the W. C. Hoag toy factory Monday. A weakened second floor structure is believed to have been the cause of the accident.

Immediately after the accident, the police said it was possible that many more persons were buried in the debris. How many were in the building when it collapsed was not known.

COSTUME WORN BY COMEDIENNE CAUSED A RIOT

Paris Actress Says Now is Time for Really Smart Women to Dress Better

Paris, May 4.—The Comedie Francaise was the scene of a violent clash recently between the cotton and silk stocking 'clans," as a result of the appearance of Cecile Sorel, the famous comedienne, in a $10,000 gown and a $1,000,000 pearl.

Society women who usually copy Mlle. Sorel's gowns, rose in the middle of the performance to express disapproval of what they considered a deliberate flaunting of the Government's de luxe import restriction. Partisans of the actress were quick to take her side and argue that France must keep up her reputation as the land of the smartest fashions. Considerable tumult reigned for a while, with the rivalling factions hooting and denouncing each other.

"Clothes riots" are becoming more and more frequent in Paris. The overall movement is gaining favor with those who were once rich, but have been inpoverished by the war and who are unable to keep pace with the prices.

Mlle. Sorel, after the performance, made this statement:

"Women who protest against what they call my extravagance are like the fox with the sour grapes. When clothes are within the reach of their incomes, they do not hesitate to buy, but when the prices are too high, they denounce those who can afford to pay. This cotton stocking movement is backed by jealous women who are unwilling to be outdone."

Yet, now is the time for really smart women to dress better than ever in order to set the right example in styles. It would be a crime to allow French fashions to be created only by the newly rich who have little or no taste.

"I for one intend continuing to dress more smartly than ever."

REGINA BUSY ON PLAY GROUND WORK AMONG THE BOYS AND GIRLS

Regina, May 4.—The Rotary Club is the first organization to get its representatives names for the community conference on playgrounds and work among boys and girls, called by Mayor Grassick. On the motion of M. L. Moyer the two representatives named at Monday's meeting were Dr. W. A. Thompson and W. A. Wilson.

SELLING REGINA'S FIRST DOMESTIC LOAN FLOTATION

Every Business Man to be Seen by Canvassers from Local Club Organizations

Regina, May 4.—Monday saw the commencement by members of local club organizations in the campaign to secure subscriptions for the City of Regina's first domestic loan. The campaign will last for three days and every business man in the city will be visited and given an opportunity of buying a debenture. Returns will be made to the City Treasurer.

John E. Snowball, City Treasurer, reported Monday that the total amount of the subscriptions received to date is $87,500, which only leaves a balance of $29,500 of the original issue to be subscribed. There is, however, a further issue of $35,000 to be placed on the market immediately, covering debentures for improvement work done last year. It is anticipated that the organization which commenced a three-day campaign, will secure enough to fully subscribe the first issue of $117,000 and have sufficiently large over-subscription to cover the second issue.

Among the recent subscribers to the issue is Capital City Lodge, No. 1, Knights of Pythias, which purchased bonds to the value of $300. Several other local organizations are contemplating the investment of surplus funds in the local issue.

MINISTERS LEAVE CHURCH: CANNOT LIVE ON SALARIES

Toronto, May 4.—Salaries of Methodist ministers throughout the country are so inadequate that many ministers are resigning and leaving the pulpit altogether, according to Rev. R. J. D. Simpson, of the superannuation department of the church. Mr. Simpson, in a statement issued by him, claims that while the cost of living has increased 100 per cent. or more, some of the Methodist ministers are still attempting to live on their old remuneration.

FARMERS IN THE U. S. AND CANADA MAY JOIN HANDS

National Board of U. S. Farmers Meeting in Chicago to Prepare Plans

STABLE CONDITIONS

May Be Secured by Increased Production—Urge Farmers to Stay on Land

Chicago, May 11. — The National Board of the Farmers Organization met in Chicago today to consider the program of co-operation between farmers and consumers. International agrarian problems also will be discussed at a conference and some means of federating the farmers of Canada and the United States may be decided upon. The meeting will recommend that an effort be made by the farmers to increase production as a means of achieving stable conditions, and will urge that farmers remain on their land.

MANY PEOPLE SPEND ARBOR DAY IN THEIR GARDENS

City Hall Grounds and Parks to Be More Attractive Than Ever This Year

Arbor Day was fairly well observed in Brandon on Monday. Many people spent at least part of the day in their gardens, either cleaning up the Winter debris or planting seeds. The tree planting on the boulevards etc. which was commenced about ten days ago under the direction of Superintendent Shrives was completed today. About 475 trees were planted this season.

Although unusually late the tulips are coming up splendidly in the City Hall plots and will soon be in flower. About 25,000 plants are ready in the city greenhouse to be set out in June in the various parks, city hall grounds etc. Superintendent Shrives has some special bedding plants for the City Hall grounds this year which will make them even prettier than usual.

The city parks have been put in splendid shape and some bad places on the bowling green at Rideau Park have been repaired. A new bowling green will be made at Stanley Park and work in this connection will be commenced on Wednesday.

CHLORINATORS ARE PURCHASED

Expert to Be Sent to Supervise Installation at Waterworks Plant

The city has purchased two Wallace and Tiernan Manual Control Solution feed chlorinators at a price of $3,150 and they are being shipped at once by the manufacturers. The Company will send along an expert who will supervise the installation of the chlorinators at the Waterworks plant here, while Mr. J. M. Scott, the consulting engineer with the Public Utilities Commission will also be present when the much-needed chlorinators are installed. It is expected that the city water will be improved with this latest purchase by the City Council.

The chlorinators have been under discussion for considerable time by the City Council, and when Mr. Scott was here some time ago he recommended the immediate purchase of the chlorinators. His suggestion was followed and the chlorinators are now on their way.

REPORT MEASLES PROMPTLY TO HEALTH DEPARTMENT

According to information given this morning there have been 325 cases of measles reported to the Health Department since the epidemic broke out Easter week. Of this number there are still some 155 placards on houses, while 170 cases are reported as now being over the measles. The number of cases still being reported daily however, leads one health official to state that he does not think the epidemic will stop until it has swept over the entire city. The number of cases in the public schools is increasing and the epidemic seems to be gaining ground. The Health Department is trying to impress upon all citizens the necessity of reporting all cases at once, as some cases have come to their notice, where the parties were trying to conceal the disease.

STORK VERY BUSY IN BRANDON DURING APRIL

The Stork was very busy in Brandon during April and he set a new record as far as 1919 statistics show. During last month no less than fifty-five births were reported, an increase of twenty-five over April 1919. Dan Cupid was a bit lazy, however, and fell just five marriages short of his mark last year, in only reporting fifteen marriages for April this year, and twenty in 1919. The number of deaths reported for April 1920 are twenty-two, while for the same period in 1919 they are set at twenty-six.

CURRIE MAY BE HEAD OF M'GILL UNIVERSITY

It is Reported in Montreal That Currie Has Tentatively Accepted Appointment

Montreal, May 11.—The governors of McGill University held an important meeting Monday to decide upon the appointment of a new principal for the college. While no information was given out at the conclusion of the meeting, it was reported on reliable authority, and not denied in official circles, that the man to fill Sir Wm. Paterson's place will be General Sir Arthur Currie, commander of the Canadian army in France.

Sir Auckland Geddes, the present British ambassador at Washington, was first appointed to succeed Sir Wm. Paterson, and, although he had accepted the principalship, he later decided to go to Washington as representative of the British court.

It is understood that General Currie has tentatively accepted the appointment. A further meeting of the board will be held Wednesday, when an official statement will be issued.

1,076 WOMEN AND MEN REGISTERED IN BRANDON, MONDAY

Necessity for Speeding Up of the 7,000 Electors in Brandon to Secure Ballots

SHOWN IN MORNING

Few Attend Booths Before Noon—Residents on Flats Alert to Opportunity

The total number of electors registering on Monday was 1,076. The nineteen booths at which registration is being carried on today and Wednesday show an improvement over the early returns available on Monday. The large share of registration took place late in the afternoon and in the evening. This morning the registration clerks again reported that the registration is slow, but expect it to pick up this afternoon and evening. Registration will have to be speeded up if the 7,000 Brandon people eligible to vote are to secure that privilege.

The people on the Flats appear to be registering better than in any section of the city. Over 146 persons registered at booths No. 17, 18 and 19 on Monday and possibly every person who is entitled to a vote in that section of the city will be registered today. No. 4 booth reported the highest number of names registered, the total being 88. No. 1 booth, which should register the greatest number of names, had only 60 in the first day.

It is absolutely necessary that every one wishing to vote in the coming elections, should register. A new electors list is being prepared and therefore every one must register again. The registration booths are open until ten o'clock at night today and on Wednesday, and persons should avail themselves of the first opportunity to register, as it is expected that there will be a big rush on Wednesday evening.

DANIELS BLAMES SIMS AND BRITISH FOR LONG DELAY

In Establishment of North Sea Barrage—Sims Efforts to Belittle U. S. Navy

Washington, May 11.—A charge that the establishment of the North Sea mine barrage was delayed six months because of the opposition of Rear Admiral Sims and the British Admiralty, was made by Secretary Daniels today, before the Investigating Committee. The Naval Secretary charged that Sims had attempted in his testimony, to rob the United States navy of credit for this project and give it to the British.

WARD V. TO ELECT ALDERMAN: BOURKE RESIGNS SEAT

Unable to Discharge Duties, Ald. Bourke Sends in His Resignation

An election will be held in Ward Five to elect an alderman to fill the seat vacated by Alderman Bourke. A warrant was given by His Worship Mayor Dinsdale this morning authorizing this procedure. Alderman Bourke has been absent from the city for several months, and although his leave of absence was extended from time to time, he now finds it impossible to return to his civic duties. His resignation is in the hands of the City Clerk, and another member for the City Council will be elected from Ward Five to fill the vacancy.

The City Clerk will issue notice of nomination shortly and it is expected that should more than one candidate be nominated that an election will be held within a month's time. Alderman Hales, is at present the only alderman representing Ward Five on the Council.

Provision is being made for the accommodation and entertainment of people of all ages at the camp and classes in Bible study, Sociology, Missions, Sunday School methods, will be given suitable for young and old as well as many popular lectures on various subjects.

PROGRESSIVES HOLD CAUCUS

No Decisions Reached on Matters Likely to Come Before House

Ottawa, May 11.—Nothing of outstanding importance was discussed at the caucus of Progressives today. The statement at the conclusion was to the effect that various matters likely to come before the House before prorogation were taken up but no decisions were arrived at.

WATSON, BIGAMIST, MURDERER ACCOUNTS FOR TWENTY WIVES

Los Angeles, May 11. — Eleanor Frazier reported last night to be the ninth murder victim of James P. Watson, bigamist, murderer, belonged to Calgary. Besides the alleged murder of Miss Frazier, the convicted man is reported to have confessed to murdering two other Canadian women. An alleged confession accounts for all those missing among the twenty or more women the man was said to have married.

FARM WOMEN WANT TO KNOW WHERE TO REGISTER

Inquiries From Distant Points—Court of Revision Only Means of Getting on Lists

REGISTRATION IN COUNTRY

During First Week in May—Revision Courts At Later Dates

A vast and profound ignorance concerning registration seems to prevail in the rural districts. On Monday and today many inquiries were received by The Sun from women in the country wanting to know when and where to register.

In the district surrounding Brandon there are any number of women and some men who have not registered and unless they hand their names in to the Court of Revision in their district will not be allowed to vote in the coming elections.

The following is a list of the constituencies surrounding Brandon, the place where the Court of Revision will sit and the date of the sitting.

Glenwood at Souris, June 4th; Nesbitt, June 5th. Hamiota at Hamiota, June 2; Rapid City, June 3. Lansdowne at Rivers, June 10; Alexander, June 11. Minnedosa at Minnedosa, May 29th; Strathclair, June 1. Killarney at Killarney, June 1; Cartwright, June 2, Russell at Rossburn, June 8; Russell, June 9. Virden at Virden, June 7; Elkhorn, June 8; Reston June 9.

NEW RULERS OF MEXICO ASK FOR RECOGNITION

Interest Shifts From Military to Political Developments in South

Washington, May 11.—The revolutionary Government of Mexico will ask for immediate recognition by the American Government.

Washington, May 11.—With practically all of Mexico dominated by revolutionists, and Carranza reported a prisoner, official interest here shifted today from the military phase of the situation to expected political developments. Agents of the defacto rulers believe that steps should be taken immediately towards the establishment of a provisional government, to be succeeded as soon as possible by constitutional regime. Reports received indicate the absence of serious disorders.

MANY FARMER CANDIDATES FOR THE LEGISLATURE

In 17 Provincial Constituencies There is Movement to Select Candidates

Winnipeg, May 11.—Action by the farmers as an independent force in provincial politics is still largely in a nebulous condition, it was learned Monday from men in close touch with the movement.

In 17 provincial constituencies a movement to place candidates in the field has been started. In some, definite decisions have been reached; in others nothing definite has been done, but there is considered a chance that a nomination may be made.

According to an authentic source the movement, to enter independent farmer candidates in the race his begun in these constituencies: Swan River, Birtle, Roblin, Ethelbert, St. Rose, Dauphin, Beautiful Plains, Gladstone, Iberville, Rockwood, St. George, Fairford, St. Andrews and Kildonan, a Verandrye, Morris, Emerson and St. Clements.

Convention at Ashern

The latest definite announcement is from Fairford, one of the new constituencies in the North Central portion of the province, where a call for a general convention of the electoral division has been issued by: Chas. Hoffman, Sam Berowin, W. H. Hyde, W. Whiteway, Fred King, R. H. Frapp, W. R. Whittaker, T. B. Bowford and R. H. Faulkes. The convention is to be held at Ashern, Thursday, at 12.30 p.m. "for the purpose of selecting and nominating an Independent Farmer candidate to represent the above division at the forthcoming election," it is announced.

United farmer officials say that their organization is taking no part in the provincial campaign as an organization. Any provincial political action will be taken, they say, purely on the initiative of the farmers in a constituency.

L. WARD TO ANSWER CHARGE OF BIGAMY

L. Ward, who is wanted here on the charge of bigamy, was arrested at Morden on Monday by Inspector Woods of the Provincial Police, and the accused will be brought here tonight by Constable Hornby of the local force. Ward is alleged to have married two women, one in Killarney, and the other in another Southern Manitoba town. He will probably appear before Magistrate Fraser, Wednesday morning.

James Kovack was arrested near Elkhorn on Monday by Sergeant Adam Ross and Constable Young of Virden and will appear in Virden to answer a serious charge preferred against him.

FEDERATION OF FRENCH LABOR MAY BE DISSOLVED

Paris, May 11.—The French Cabinet at a meeting today instructed the Minister of Justice to open proceedings against the General Federation of labor with a view to dissolution of the organization, which has been supporting the strike of the French railwaymen by calling other strikes.

Conflicting Reports

Paris, May 10.—The French General Federation of Labor announced tonight that the electrical plant workers would be ordered to go on strike to strengthen the walk-out of transportation lines, intended to force nationalization of public utilities. Employes of the Metropolitan subways were ordered to strike today.

The government's forecast that all railroad workers on strike would be back at work Monday was not realized and neither were the somewhat extravagant contrary claims of the Federation, for the railroads all were reported operating trains on more or less normal schedules. Thirty thousand out of 200,000 metal workers in the Paris region are reported idle.

The strike movement among the miners appears to be spreading especially in the Northern fields. Little importance is attached to the strike in the building trade, where unemployment is chronic. The strike of the seamen [illegible]

PIRATES HOLD UP FRENCH PACKET

After Robbing the Passengers Send Them Ashore in Small Boats

Constantinople, May 11.—Pirates held up the French Packet Souirah, which left Batum, May 6, for Marseilles, and after robbing the passengers went ashore in boats which they compelled members of the crew to man. Among those robbed were several women whose husbands are connected with relief work in Armenia. They were fleeing before the Bolshevik advance and were compelled to give up their money and jewelry at the point of the revolver. The pirates boarded the steamer at Batum, either as passengers or members of the crew. At nine o'clock on the night of May 6, fifteen men sprang up from various parts of the ship, covered officers and passengers with pistols, and took posession. The women passengers were later taken off by a French destroyer.

BROOKLYN POLICE BAFFLED BY MURDER OF TWO BROTHERS

New York, May 11.—The Brooklyn police were baffled today by a mysterious double murder in which two brothers were shot to death. There was no sign of a struggle and $5.00 in cash was intact in the bedroom. Revenge is believed to be the motive as the brothers gave information to the police concerning a Manhattan hold-up.

POWER EXPERT TO VISIT BRANDON

J. M. Leamy Expects to Spend Thursday or Friday in This City

The power question will be fully gone into this week when J. M. Leamy, Manitoba Power Commissioner comes to the city to consult with the City Council. Mr. Leamy has written the Council to the effect that he will visit Brandon possibly Thursday or Friday and that he will then take up with the City Fathers any questions relating to the development of power. Mr. Leamy will possibly explain why Brandon was left out of the proposed extension of the power throughout Manitoba, while he will also make some report on the various power projects which this city has in view.

WAR TROPHIES FOR BRANDON NOW EN ROUTE

Guns, Trench Mortars and Machine Guns Are Among Trophies Sent West

SOME UNCERTAINTY

As to Whether German Guns Gen. Kirkcaldy Marked for Brandon Are Included

The war trophies allotted to Western Canada are now on their way, according to information received in the city, this morning. This means that the guns which this city has been expecting for some considerable time will arrive in Brandon very shortly. In a letter received from Dr. H. P. Whidden, M.P., it is stated that Lieut.-Colonel Doughty, Director of the War Trophies Branch, has already forwarded the trophies to Western Canada. Dr. Whidden stated that Brandon's share of guns, trench mortars and machine guns were among the trophies sent West, and that they would arrive here in a very short time.

When the trophies arrive the larger guns will no doubt find a place in front of the City Hall, while the machine guns will be placed in some public building. It is not known whether the German guns which General Kirkcaldy marked for Brandon will be among the trophies directed here, as the General has not received any definite word regarding their whereabouts.

FIVE CLUBS IN WESTERN LEAGUE FORMED MONDAY

Harry Stuart and C. C. Simpson Elected as Chief Officers of New Ball Circuit

The Western Manitoba Baseball League was organized at Souris on Monday and will be composed of Souris, Reston, Beresford, Virden and Brandon. Delegates were present from all the teams, except Virden. The Virden team was under the impression that the meeting was being held in Brandon and consequently their delegates did not reach Souris. Officers for the league were appointed and several important matters came up for discussion. The schedule was not drawn up, but it is to be made up shortly and submitted to the different teams for their approval.

The officers of the Western League are as follows: President, H. A. Stuart, Brandon; Vice-President, C. Smith, Souris; 2nd Vice-President, Major Bullock, Reston. Secretary-Treasurer, C. C. Simpson, Brandon. The executive will be composed of D. Davidson, Beresford; C. Carscadden, Virden; and Frank Brady, Reston. An entrance fee of $10 was decided on, and in case of default this amount will have to be added to by another $10 before schedule games can be proceeded with. Games that are not played off according to schedule are to be played within ten days from the date set in the schedule. Any protest that is made must be accompanied by a certified cheque for $25 to the Secretary of the League. It was also decided that the visiting team supply the umpire for all games. Should any umpire be unsatisfactory, the executive will deal with the matter.

When the formation of the League was discussed, it was stated that Boissevain would not enter the league on account of the long journey they would have to make in order to reach Virden. Beresford made application to enter and claimed that they have a team of senior calibre lined up for this year, so were admitted. Souris, Reston and Virden are right in line with strong teams and were also voted in as members. This therefore makes a five-team league which should furnish some fast ball for the fans here this year. Judging by the reports that have come from the four Western clubs, the circuit will be every bit as fast as the one last year.

While nothing definite is arranged as yet, it is expected that the opening game in the league will be played on May 27th with either the Souris or Virden teams appearing here on that date.

WILLIAM MEAN HOWELLS DEAN OF AMERICAN LETTERS IS DEAD

New York, May 11.—William Dean Howells, 83, novelist, known as the "Dean of American letters," died here today. He completed and published more than 71 volumes, beginning his first book just before the Civil War.

THE NEW CHEVROLET AROUSES INTEREST

This Exceptional Offer Will Make Every Live Person "Sit Up and Take Notice

Although the Chevrolet offer does not begin before Monday next, great interest is already being displayed by competitors and prospective competitors in this big new inducement. An elegant Chevrolet Touring Car, valued at $1,145 to be given for the work of three weeks only, is certainly an offer which no ambitious person can very well afford to turn down. Monday next is the opening day of the offer and no work done to date will count in the winning. Everyone starts at the starting point on Monday, but lucky is the man who has equipped himself with receipt books and other supplies, this week in order to make the start.

Those Who Have Hesitated

up to now, about entering this big $8,000 Prize Competition have absolutely no further grounds, with this new good offer introduced, for further delay. Three weeks of good, snappy work and an elegant $1,145 Chevrolet Touring Car as a reward at the end of this three weeks. No better opportunity could be given. To competitors in the country the offer is especially good. So much work is to be done in the country territory, where every subscription taken is one of either a year or more, that a good live worker in the country could capture this enviable prize with little difficulty.

Three weeks from Monday next, some competitor will be the proud possessor of a costly Touring Car. Will it be a competitor now in the list, or will it be some new entrant? Decide this matter for yourself NOW. If you have not as yet enrolled, send in your name now; if you are already on the list prepare yourself for the campaign. Three weeks is but a very short time to work.

The Special Prize Piano Results

The winner of the special prize $450 Ennis Piano, which was given for the best work done in the last three weeks, will be announced in tomorrow's issue of The Sun. The race, at the finish, was a very close one, and as all of the results from the country competitors have not as yet been entered and checked, the real winner will not have been determined before that time.

CRITICS OF INCOME TAX SYSTEM GIVEN AN EXPLANATION

About One Million People Will Make Returns This Year

Ottawa, May 8.—With a plea that the Dominion income tax system was as yet in its infancy and expressing the hope that within five years it would be second to none in the world, R. W. Breadner, Commissioner of Taxation, made a lengthy reply to many critics of the system before a meeting of the members of the Commons Friday.

There would be about one million persons in Canada making returns this year, he showed, as compared with about half that number in 1917, when the act was passed. The system had already won commendation from other countries, including Great Britain and the United States, and it was the ultimate aim to see that no person escaped his or her full duty right back from 1917. Every class in the community was being reached and there were only two now outside the pale of taxation.

May Deduct Tax from Pay Cheques

These were coupon clippers and miners and fishermen who had a dozen homes in various parts of the country within a year. He hoped to see legislation passed to get the former into line, and as to the latter they may adopt a system compelling employers to take one per cent. from the men's monthly salary, provided it went to $100.

Mr. Breadner denied that the forms were cumbersome or that there was any discrimination. "Every person will be made to do his or her duty," he assured the meeting.

Several members strongly urged for wider publicity for the system on the ground that as the people of Canada had to bear increased taxation they wanted to know that every person entitled to pay income tax was being made to do so.

Complaints Voiced

Among the complaints voiced by Dr. Cowan (Regina), Levi Thomson (Qu'Appelle), and other Western members were that the system was entirely too complicated, too cumbersome, lack of facilities, discrimination in sending out forms, and absence of the necessary forms at post offices. Tom Best (Dufferin) declared that the Eastern farmers complained bitterly that while men not making $500 per year were receiving forms, there were wealthy men being left alone entirely. The people wanted to know just exactly who was entitled to pay the tax.

Other speakers emphasized the complaint that there were too many questions.

R. W. Breadner, commissioner of taxation, said the law only was enacted in September, 1917. The onus to file a return was on those with a taxable income.

Loss is Heavy

In Great Britain, where they had no card index system, they lost £70,000,000 since 1842.

In the last two weeks over 10,000 letters were sent to persons who had not filed a return in Toronto. Last year, between ten and twenty thousand such letters had been sent out, as to being cumbersome, both British and United States officials had complimented his staff on the simplicity of the Canadian form.

"Despite what anyone says to the contrary, the people of Canada are certainly honest," added Mr. Breadner.

In 1917, declared Mr. Breadner, 17 Senators and 80 members of the Commons, did not have a taxable income. He went on to give cases where men were getting incomes of $100,000 were not taxable because of large contributions to patriotic funds and Red Cross campaigns.

FINANCIAL CRISIS NARROWLY AVERTED BY BANK'S AID

"Decrease in Cost of Living Will Gradually Be Felt" Says Provincial Treasurer

Winnipeg, May 8.—Through the action of the banks of Canada and the United States, said Hon. Edward Brown, Provincial Treasurer, who returne Friday from the East, a financial crisis of the most serious character has been narrowly averted. The banks, he said, by curtailing credits and forcing business men to face existing conditions, had already caused a reduction in the prices of some goods.

"We have entered into a period," said the Provincial Treasurer, "when decrease in the cost of living will gradually begin to be felt and when adjustments will have to be made."

During his visit to the East, said Mr. Brown, he was successful in floating two loans of provincial bonds to the total amount of $1,000,000. This loan, he said, was for the purpose of financing the Farm Loans Association in Manitoba.

TAX ON BACHELORS SUGGESTE DFOR STATES IN NEED OF MONEY

Washington, May 8.—A tax on bachelors by states in need of cash is suggested by Actuary McCoy, of the Treasury Department. McCoy is an expert at devising new ways of raising money for the Federal Government.

France now is ready to tax bachelors, he pointed out.

From $40,000,000 to $1,000,000,000 a year could be raised by the bachelors' tax, McCoy said.

EDMONTON WITHOUT WATER

Edmonton, Alta., May 8.—Through the removal of a cap on the intake pipe at the waterworks pumphouse, without first seeing that the intake valves at the river were shut off the pump house pit was flooded Friday morning to a depth of over 15 feet. As a result the city of Edmonton is paralyzed. There are no street cars, lights or water, and, in addition all utilities are without power and water.

RUTER OF LICHTENSTEIN MAY LOSE HIS SOFT JOB

Geneva, May 8.—There is evidence of a movement to bring about the dethronement of Prince John, ruler of the tiny principality of Lichtenstein, according to advice. Complaint is made that the Prince has done nothing to assist his people since the armistice, and has been living in Vienna. The people have several times been forced to appeal to Switzerland for aid. Lichtenstein wants to become a Swiss canton, but the Swiss Government is opposed to the policy of expansion. A revolution is possible, it was said.

FARMERS LAUGH AT WOMEN'S POTATO BOYCOTT ASK SEVEN DOLLARS, BAG

Hamilton, Ont., May 8.—Farmers are asking $7 a bag for potatoes on the market here, this being the highest price asked to date. The lowest price quoted Thursday was $6.50 a bag. The farmers laughed at the women's potato boycott, and predicted that prices would go still higher as potatoes were very scarce.

LABOR LEADER LOSES LIFE LONG COMPANION

Washington, May 8.—Mrs. Samuel Gompers, wife of the President of the American Federation of Labor, is dead at her home here, after a long illness. She was over seventy years of age, and had been married for more than half a century. Funeral services will be held here, and the body will be taken to New York for burial Sunday.

TRADE UNIONS MAY HAVE TO BE INCORPORATED

Before Arbitration Can Be Made Compulsory—Unions Object

Calgary, Alta., May 8. — "Trade unions would have to be incorporated before making arbitration compulsory," remarked Alex. Ross, M.L.A., in the course of an interview in discussing the proposed action of the Federal Government in the matter. "Quite a number of the unions are incorporated," he said, "but speaking generally the unions have always been opposed to this because it places a tremendous weapon in the hands of the capitalist," he continued. Mr. Ross stated that if they were compelled to incorporate it would mean that all their activities as industrial organizations would be subject to legislation passed at Ottawa.

MANITOBA COLLECTS ROYALTY ON FURS

Winnipeg, Man., May 8.—Hon. Valentine Winkler, provinial Minister of Agriculture, states that the collection of the royalty on furs, established by statute at the last session of the legislature, was being made principally at The Pas, where the department has a representative to do this work. In addition to this, he said, the department received a monthly return from all fur dealers in Winnipeg in which they declared the amount of furs that they handed during the month as well as the source they received them from. A dealer, he said, could not get a fur tanned in the province without a permit from the department which stated that the tax had been paid. Neither will the railway companies handle furs for shipment unless a similar permit has been received. Mr. Winkler said that some thousands of dollars had been received from this source of revenue already.

TRAIL B. C. TRIES DAYLIGHT SAVING FOR EIGHT DAYS

Trail, B.C., May 8. — The city of Trail has again reverted to standard time after a short trial of eight days only of Daylight Saving. Notices to the effect that the offices would be open during the usual hours as per standard time have been posted at the city hall, thus settling the much vexed question at least as far as official action goes.

Ottawa, May 8.—Sir George Foster announced in the House of Commons that the budget would be brought down Wednesday.

NEGRO FLOGGED TO DEATH CHARGED WITH A THREAT TO KILL A WHITE MAN

Beaumont, Texas, May 8.—Charles Arline, a negro, was flogged to death by forty masked men last Tuesday according to a delayed message reaching here. He was charged with having threatened to kill a white man.

REGINA TO BE ONLY TRAINING DEPOT FOR ROYAL CANADIAN POLICE

Regina, Sask., May 8.—Regina will be a special training depot where every man who enlists in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police force will get his training. It was believed that another training depot would be established at Ottawa but according to officers of the force Regina will be the only training depot.

PRINCE OF WALES MAY PAY VISIT TO INDIA AND JAPAN NEXT YEAR

Honolulu, May 8.—The Prince of Wales is expected to visit Japan next year, according to advice from Tokio. The message added that on the tour the Prince would visit India and also Australia for a second time.

IMPROVEMENT IN LABOR SITUATION IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

Vancouver, B.C., May 8.—Continued improvement in the labor situation of British Columbia is indicated in a statement issued by the office of the Dominion employment service for the province here. The report shows a steady decrease in the percentage of out-of-works, with a more steady demand for all classes of help.

NINE MASKED BANDITS HOLD UP ST. LOUIS BANK; ONE KILLED, ONE CAUGHT

St. Louis, Mo., May 8.—Nine masked bandits held up the Drovers National Bank in East St. Louis, Illinois, Friday. One bandit was killed. Another bandit was captured in a revolver duel. Nineteen thousand dollars in cash stolen from the bank, was found later in an abandoned automobile.

RESIGNATION OF PHYSICIANS UPHELD BY THE CORONER

Five Doctors Resign From Marquette University—Disagree with Head

Chicago, May 8.—The action of five physicians who resigned from the faculty of Marquette University of Milwaukee because they disagreed with Father H. C. Noonan, head of the school, on the question of whether a mother's life should be saved at the cost of her unborn child, was upheld here Friday by Coroner Peter M. Hoffman.

Hoffman was cononer when the late Dr. Harry J. Haiselden allowed a baby to die rather than let it live a defective. Hoffman charged Haiselden's act was "murder."

"I would say we have hundreds of cases in Chicago where the mother's life is saved at the cost of the child's," said Hoffman, "and I believe it perfectly justified.

"I think that when a mother's life is in danger and a sacrifice should be made either way, the sacrifice should be made for the mother, because she may bring more children into the world and is needed to raise her other children, the children she may already have.

"To let the child live and the mother die does not give progress to the world. The necessity of the mother is more important than the child."

Members of the American Medical Association said the question was an individual one and not for the association.

"It is a question which has been discussed for years, but which has never been settled," said on of the Association. "The question is not one of medicine, but of morals."

THREATENED SPLIT IN LIBERAL PARTY IN GREAT BRITAIN

London Papers View Situation From Many Different Angles

London, May 10.—The press and politicians are emphatic in the view that the Liberal party conflict means an irrevocable split in the Liberal party. There is a disposition to regard the present situation as even more dangerous for Liberalism than Home Rule secession. Steps have already been taken to organize a purely coalition Liberal election machine. Attorney-General Hewart and his colleagues are angry over the Leamington treatment. One joins the Sunderland results with the Leamington experience as a visible sign that public opinion is bursting party fetters and, on the other hand, some independents profess to be jubilant over the withdrawal of the coalitionists as clearing the situation.

The Daily News, which calls the Leamington incident a coalition rout finds in the Prime Minister's position a reason why the vote against coalition was salutary and necessary.

Let Liberalism fight and lose for a while if it must, it says, but let it at least not surrender its soul to inaction.

The Times is against coalition and thinks that the moral of the Liberal split is that a great part of the nation is tired of the insincerities of the present system.

The Mail says that coalition is not justified as it is an anachronism. Public opinion is not in a state of coalition though the government may be.

The Chronicle regards the proceedings as extremely regrettable and methods of opposition by the Liberals as an unmistakeable confession of weakness.

DO SMALL SPUDS MAKE GOOD SEED?

Three Calgary Horticulturists to Make Practical Test on Wager

Calgary Herald: A discussion anent the now important question of seed potatoes arose in the Club cafe during the lunch hour the other day in which Dr. Patrick, A. E. Shoebottom and L. U. Fowler were the principal expounders.

The secretary of the Vacant Lots Garden Club, Mr. Fowler, who is supposed to know all about seed potatoes, since he is a descendant of the island from which this tuber takes its name said that he would not plant little potatoes on a bet; that he had sold some 15 bushels of small potatoes at $1.50 a bushel, and that he would plant the big ones.

A chap who had just "come over," gave a rebuttal to this argument on the other side of the story. Ever since the potato famine in Ireland in '47 small seed has been used in England, and he clinched his point with the declaration that the potatoes in England were as good as any growing in any other part of the British empire.

Mr. Shoebottom upheld this rebuttal, asserting that in Ontario, and particularly London from whence he came, they grew the big mangels and politicians from very small seed; and he intended to plant small seed this year on his vacant lot, he declared. He said he would bet the price of a banquet to be given to the five men around the table next autumn if he could not show 20 bigger potatoes than his friend, the secretary of the garden club. The bet was made, and the seeds are to be selected from the same pile and planted, hoed, watered and watched, and the results are to be checked up under the supervision of Dr. Patrick in harvest time. This is expected to settle forever the question of small seed vs. big sets, and the outcome will be watched with interest.

TURKS SLAUGHTER FRENCH TROOPS

That Evacuated Urfa Under Promise of Safe Conduct Home

Aleppo, Syria, May 10.—The slaughter of the little French garrison which evacuated Urfa on the promise of safe conduct by the Turkish Nationalist troops after the town had been beseiged for 61 days, is described in the diary of General Woodward, accountant for the American Commission for relief in the near East, who was an eye-witness of the massacre. He escaped and returned to Urfa after several hundred French soldiers had been killed or made prisoners by tribesmen. The French were ambushed by the tribesmen in violation of an agreement made by Temik Effendi, who came from Angora as the Turkish Nationalist government's representative, the diary says, and promised the Frenchmen safe conduct if they would evacuate. At that time the French had only four days' rations left and had eaten all their horses and mules, and evacuation was considered inevitable as the garrison was greatly outnumbered by the enemy.

BROWN LOOKS FOR $3 WHEAT AND CONTINUANCE OF FEDERAL CONTROL

Winnipeg, May 10.—In the course of an interview Hon. Edward Brown, Provincial Treasurer, expressed belief that wheat would sell this fall at $3 a bushel, and that the Federal Government would fix the price again as was done last year. He intimated that such a decision might result from pressure brought on the Federal authorities by the banks.

PARLIAMENTARY SESSION MAY LAST TILL MID-SUMMER

Occasional Lively Squalls, But Situation Has Been Uneventful

CONTROL OF LAKE FREIGHTS

By Railway Commission, Though Advisable, Makes Little Progress

Ottawa, May 6. — Parliament has been drifting like "a painted ship upon a painted ocean." Hopes of an adjournment by the 24th of May have been a mere mirage. Most people talk now of the session running on until the middle of June, and others say two weeks longer. In a four months' session a fortnight is of little account. At present the latter, end of June would seem to be the more probable time for prorogation. Even the date for the delivering of the Budget speech has receded into the second week in May. Of course there are occasional squalls that make things lively; but, on the whole the situation has been singularly uneventful.

The date of Sir Robert Borden's homecoming has also, apparently, been put off. Those who are supposed to know as much about it as any now say that he will return about two weeks before the end of the session. This is very indefinite, especially as the session is spinning out to a considerable length; but it is as good an answer as can be given. What the Prime Minister's plans are after his return nobody knows; for he has kept his own counsel. His colleagues know what his plans were when he went away; but whether he still holds to them is a different matter, so the unfolding of his purposes must be left to time. Definite statements made now as to re-organization and a permanent policy are mere guesses. All that can be said is that if the Unionist following is to remain together it must have both a policy and an organization, and, this being self evident, it is assumed that they will in time appear.

Interest is beginning to centre on the approaching round table conference at Toronto on May 10th; or thereabouts. In times like these one can never tell what may come of such a gathering; but there is an impression that more will come from this than has come from any other that has been held for some time. Whether the parliamentary representation will be large or not it is impossible to say; very probably it will not be. The average M.P. is not inclined to get in on a new movement until he is fairly sure of his footing. There is no doubt that in the hearts of a large number of the Commoners there is a desire to revive the old Liberal-Conservative party; but they are content to allow others to attend to the resurrecting. When they are convinced that the old flag and the old policy is certain to succeed the present government they will show little hesitation in getting in behind. In short they will not publicly identify themselves with the resurrectionists until the cheering stage is reached, if it ever comes; then up will go their hats. A pumber of old-time Conservative senators may put in an appearance; for being assured of their seats for life, they can afford to follow the impulses of their hearts without endangering their position.

Conference in Toronto

That Washington Post

It having been decided that the Canadian Ambassador at Washington shall have very wide powers, and that $80,000 shall be set aside for him and the office, much curiosity is expressed over the probable appointee. Mr. Rowell, by his own statement had, apparently, put himself out of the running; but he seems to be so well fitted for the office that it is difficult to persuade some that his name is not to be considered. Sir Robert Borden's name is also mentioned; but if his health is not good, it is doubtful whether he would assume the responsibilities. Still they would not be as nerve-racking as those of the Premiership. The name of Sir Charles Gordon, who headed the Canadian Mission at Washington during the war, is mentioned in some quarters; but while, from a business standpoint, his fitness is admitted, there seems to be an impression that he is lacking in a political sense. It is also whispered that Speaker Rhodes would like to go; but he is unlikely to be chosen. Next to the premiership itself, the ambassadorship is the most important office in the gift of the Government and there is general recognition that the best man possible should be selected. He should be a statesman, a man of international standing, highly rated both at home and in the United States, which considerations narrow the selection down to four or five men. If the impression gets around that the office is looking for a man, one may be sure that there will be several score men looking for the office.

Hudson's Bay Railway

The Hudson's Bay railway is finding support in an unexpected quarter, New Brunswick. Senator Fowler from that province having been a member of the committee enquiring into the proposal, seems to have become a genuine convert to its feasability. The Committee's report will be along these lines recommending that the road be completed as soon as possible.

On the location of the chief port there seems to be a difference of opinion, some experts contending that Port Nelson is the only one worth considering, and it is probable that further enquiry to determine this matter will be recommended. There is general agreement that the route could be used for five months in the year. The prairie members are putting up a game fight for the completion of the line; but to conclude that this will be done within the next two years would seem to be indulging a false hope.

Armstrong's Game Fight

J. E. Armstrong, who for several years has been fathering a bill the object of which is to bring vessels sailing on the inland waters and engaging in the coastwise trade under the control of the Railway Commission, is finding out that it is easier to get a camel through the eye of an eagle than to get a bill such as this through the House. As far as the argument goes, Armstrong has it; but arguments butter no parsnips when the votes are against you. He has demonstrated that the Canada Steamships, which pretty well controls traffic on the lakes, levies excessive charges, that it discriminates against certain interests, and makes a great deal more money than it should be allowed to keep. These things are generally admitted; but withal Canada Steamships comes sailing through. It is directed by Grant Morden's group, in which is to be found some of the cleverest business men in the country, and they have the situation so well in hand that to buck them successfully single handed is out of the question. If the Government should decide to support such control no doubt it would soon be brought about. Control of railway rates would have been a long time coming, if it had depended upon the efforts of a private member. The prairie members always back Armstrong; but from Fort William East it is different.

Trouble Over Canadian National

If the Canadian National survives it will be because it has inherent strength. There is every indication that between now and the end of the session it will have to run a long and trying gauntlet. The $47,000,000 deficit is only one of its troubles. The members of the Opposition being suspicious that the old C. N. R. crowd, through the selling of supplies and contracting, are closer to the management than they should be, have been asking for a lot of information, which the Government is not inclined to give. The position taken is that this is not desired for the enlightenment of the public; but really to embarass the road by giving away its business secrets to rivals. The other day this point gave rise to one of the keenest debates of the session. And the fun has only started. F. S. Cahill, who used to have a real estate office at Saskatoon, and who since entering Parliament has become known as the Opposition's railway critic, stated before a recent meeting of the Montreal Reform Club that townsites along the road in the West were being changed to suit certain interests. This angered President Hanna so that he has entered a libel action against Cahill. There will be a warm time when the Canadian National estimates come before the House.

Board of Commerce

The Board of Commerce is, for the present, in a kind of bottomless bog. Some think that it is gradually sinking out of sight. There never was much of a chance of it becoming popular with a large class that has much influence in public life, though there seemed to be a possibility of it becoming popular with consumers. When it was started on its career ten months ago high hopes were entertained of its success, which have been greatly upset. The trouble seems to be that too little attention was paid to the legislation under which it operates, the bills having been hurried through so quickly that Parliament did not really comprehend the extent of the powers that were granted. The recent decision of the Supreme Court declaring that newsprint is not a necessity of life, as the Board had ruled, was a black eye. In addition the constitutionality of the Board itself has been called in question.

Time has also shown that the personnel of the Board was unwisely selected. In the opinion of the general public Judge Robson was an able and level-headed man, and W. F. O'Connor had a reputation for thoroughness that augured well. But it has been all too apparent that they did not work well together, and so Judge Robson resigned. Following this were rumors of a scandal that have never been established. In the meantime the Board has lost prestige and prices are attaining dizzy heights. The future of the Board has become a source of worry to the Government and a source of amusement to the Opposition.

Dr. Reid has been down South to see Sir Robert and have him o. k. the Budget and, incidentally, the two have talked over the general situation. So when the Doctor gets back there should be more definite news. The trouble with the statements of politicians is that they are usually made with mental reservations, are subject to such interpretations as those who make them care to place upon them, and equally subject to change.

DAY OLD CHICKS SOON TO BE HAD: FARM PLANS TO RAISE 1,000 AT LEAST

About three weeks ago the second largest incubator in Western Canada was installed and started at the Experimental Farm. The first chicks, numbering 500, were hatched out early this week and it is expected that there will be an additional one or two hundred every few days until the end of the month, when incubation will cease. The first thousand chicks from this incubator, which has a capacity of 2,440, will be kept on the Experimental Farm, and after this number has been secured day old chicks will be sold. Advance orders for chicks are received daily and so far about 600 day old chicks have been ordered by people interested in raising poultry.

PECK AND COOPER QUIT COMMITTEE ON PENSIONS

Ottawa, May 6.—Resignation from the committee of Col. C. Peck, V.C., and Col. R. Cooper, came before the special commission on pensions and re-establishment this morning. The letters were considered but no further action taken. It was suggested that in view of a full investigation of the incident surrounding the resignations, they should not be withdrawn, and it was also suggested that these resignations could only be made through the House as the committee had been appointed in that way

15 FISHING BOATS SUNK DURING GIBRALTAR STORM

Cadiz, May 6.—A furious hurricane is raging in the straits of Gibraltar and much damage has been done. Reports arrive stating that fifteen fishing boats have been sunk.

FIFTH MEETING OF COUNCIL OF NATION'S LEAGUE

To Be Held in Rome May 14th—Business to Be Taken Up

Washington, May 6—A full program awaits the attention of the council of the league of nations due to assemble in Rome, May 14th for the fifth meeting. The routine of preparations for the meeting received here shows that the first steps are to be taken towards the carrying out of such provisions of the league covenant as international disarmaments, publication of all treaties entered into by league members, plans for the first meeting of the league assembly and admission of new members.

OVER CAPITALIZATION OF STEEL MERGER, A DANGER

London, May 6.—The Times' financial writer returns to the question of the new Empire Steel Combine to remark on local opposition to the scheme as a "gigantic stock watering merge." He recalls the hope expressed here that the temptation to over capitalization be firmly resisted, but he admits that sensitiveness of this point is only natural after the experience of other big amalgamations, with the United States Steel Corporation's beginning as a noteworthy example.

TANGLE OVER PAYMENT OF FREIGHT CHARGES ON CANADIAN AND U.S. ROADS

Ottawa, May 6—Canadian exporters will be obliged to ship freight to United States charges collect, as long as the Canadian railways refuse to accept prepayment of such charges, according to the judgment of the Canadian Railway Commission, claiming they have no jurisdiction over the matter.

HAMILTON PLUMBERS STRIKE: WANT 90c AN HOUR WAGE

Hamilton, Ont., May 6.—Their demand for a wage increase to 90 cents an hour being refused, the union plumbers of Hamilton went on strike Wednesday. Over one hundred men are affected.

LLOYD GEORGE TO IGNORE MESSAGE FROM CONGRESSMEN ABOUT IRELAND

London, May 6—Premier Lloyd George will not take cognizance of the message from the United States congressmen relative to Ireland. "This sort of thing has ceased to cause any stir here," an official at Downing street told the Associated Press.

CHINESE NEED MEDICAL AND DENTAL SERVICE

Dr. Chas. W. Service Gives Facts To Brandon Nurses, Doctors, Dentists

Addressing twenty-two representatives of the medical, dental and nursing professions of this city at the conclusion of the luncheon tendered him in the Prince Edward Hotel, Wednesday evening, Dr. Charles W. Service, emphasized the need for medical and dental training in West China so that these services could be given the people of that land whose need for such attention is so great. Dr. F. S. Spiers acted as chairman in the absence of Dr. A. T. Condell and during the discussion which followed the address, many questions were asked the speaker by those present. A committee of three, Dr. H. S. Sharpe, Dr. F. S. Spiers and Miss Pike, was appointed with power to add to their number to arrange for the distribution of information in pamphlet form regarding the proposed plan for a medico-dental college in Chengtu, China.

Continuing his address Dr. Service said in part. "Mukden, Pekin, Shanghai and Chengtu have been closen as the four great university centres of China." He explained that the project that he represented was connected with the West China University already an entity since the year 1910. Medical teaching began in 1914 and dental teaching in 1916. Facilities at present for medical and dental training are most inadequate. The University is an international and an interdenominational concern and the plan is to obtai as a gift from Canada and Newfoundland the Medico-Dental College with laboratories and equipment complete. To attain this object about $100,000 will be needed and it is hoped is to obtain as a gift from Canada and Canadians from physicians, surgeons, dentists and nurses and their friends in these countries."

Dr. Service fully explained the terrible health conditions in China and the need for educated Chinese people as well as doctors and nurses from other lands to combat disease which is such a menace to the world.

BRITISH NAVAL OFFICERS HELD BY TURKS AT BAKU

Will Not Be Released Until Equal Number Turks Are Set Free

Batum, May 7.—Azerbaijan troops which were holding Baku when the city was approached by Russian Bolshevik forces, failed to make any serious defense of the place, according to reports reaching here. Bolshevik gunboats fired a few shots over the city but there was little attempt to do actual damage.

Two British lieutenants and several British sailors who were captured by the Soviet Army at Baku, will be held, it is said, until an equal number of Turkish nationalists are released from Malta by the British.

Danger of the entire Caucasus region turning Bolshevik is causing great uneasiness here.

Alignment of Georgia with the Bolsheviki is expected soon, and there are indications that Allied occupation of this city may be abandoned because of the hostile attitude of the people. If Allied forces do not take control here, it is believed Armenia may form an alliance with the Soviet. Conversations between Moscow and Eriven are now in progress, it is declared.

TURKEY TO MAKE PROPOSAL TO ALLIES REGARDING SMYRNA

London, May 7.—There is reason to believe that Turkey will make a counter proposal to the Entente when she is officially informed that Smyrna has been handed over to the Greeks. She will propose that Greek troops be withdrawn and a plebiscite be taken under the auspices of an Allied force. Smyrna would be a free port and large political and municipal concessions to the Greek element would be guaranteed by Turkey if the majority voted in favor of Turkish rule.

MENNONITES MAY NOT BE TOLERATED IN MISSISSIPPI

Jackson Paper Declares Mississippi Wants Only 100 Per Cent Americans

Jackson, Miss., May 7. — Governor Russell states that he has given no assurance, either verbally or in writing, that Mississippi will extend a welcome to the colony of 8,000 Mennonites in Manitoba who desire to move to this state; that he has not had the matter under consideration, and is therefore unprepared to say what he will do in the matter.

Since the announcement from Winnipeg that the Mennonites intend to move to this state, the matter has been rather freely discussed in the state press, and the opinion seems to be somewhat general that the Mennonites will not receive a cordial welcome, especially if they insist on having their own schools, with German as the only language taught.

The teaching of German was abolished in the public schools of Mississippi during the war. At that time the language was being taught in a few of the high schools, and sentiment demanded that it be discontinued. There has been no reversal of opinion since that time, and the speaking of German, even in ordinary conversation, is quite sufficient in some communities to get one into serious trouble.

The Daily News, Mississippi's leading newspaper, in an editorial discussing the subject, says, while Mississippi needs immigration, "We are rather particular about the kind we get, and the Mennonites appear to be far from desirable. No person or set of persons is welcome to Mississippi except on the 100 per cent. American basis. The Mennonites do not seem to belong to that class."

GREENWOOD HAS GREAT MAJORITY IN BYE-ELECTION

Receives 22,813 Ballots Against Combined Vote for Opponents of 19,444

Sunderland, May 7.—Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, was re-elected to Parliament today in the bye-election necessitated by his recent appointment to the Irish Secretaryship. Sir Hamar received 22,813 votes against 14,379 for V. H. Rutherford, Labor, and 5,065 for W. Howe, Independent Liberal.

BODY OF SASKATCHEWAN MAN FOUND IN TANK CAR

Pierre, S. D., May 7.—When a special train of empty oil tank cars arrived here on their return to the Wyoming oil fields,one of the cars which came from Haverley, Sask., was seen to be open. As it was being closed the body of a man was seen in the tank and removed. Papers found on the body, with a small amount of Canadian money and a railway switch key, would indicate his name to be Frank Kushurs and Condie as the town.

JAPANESE ACTION IN SIBERIA DOES NOT NEED ALLIES' APPROVAL

London, May 7.—The British Government considers the action taken by Japanese in Siberia is not of a nature requiring the approval of the Allies, according to a statement of Bonar Law.

REDUCED COMMODITY RATES ON GRAIN FOR EASTERN U. S. POINTS

Washington, May 7. — The Inter-State commerce commission today approved the filing of reduced commodity rates on grain from Fort William, Port Arthur and West of Fort William, Ont., to Eastern United States points by the Canadian National and the Canadian Pacific railways.

AMAZING FIGURES SHOWN BY STUDY OF PROFITEERING

Conducted Under Auspices of the Railway Brotherhoods—Figures for Sugar and Meat

Washington, May 7.—The study of profiteering under the auspices of the Railway Brotherhoods showed the increase in sugar now amounts to 300 per cent. while the labor cost charged the consumer accounted for only fifteen per cent.

In the meat packing industry where the profits are said to have increased 300 to 400 per cent., the labor item shown is so small that a wage increase of 100 per cent. would add less than five per cent. to the total cost of meat.

AIRPLANES TO BE OFFERED FOR SALE TO CANADIANS

Big Developments in Commercial Flying in Canada This Summer

Toronto, May 7.—A portion of the 10,000 airplanes purchased by the Aircraft syndicate of England will be shipped to Canada for disposal through the Bishop-Barker Aeroplanes Limited. Big developments in commercial flying in Canada are promised for this summer.

SASKATOON AIRMAN INJURED IN CRASH WILL RECOVER

Regina, May 7. — Lieutenant Harry Webb, seriously injured in an airplane chash in Saskatoon on Monday, will recover, according to news to reach this city. It is stated that the airman has battled his way successfully through the critical stage, and that unless unforeseen complications set in, will live. He is still unable to give an account of the accident.

HUN MILITARY AIR SERVICE HAS BEEN DISBANDED

States a Berlin Newspaper, According to Terms of Versailles Treaty

Berlin, May 7.—Germany's military air service has been disbanded under the terms of the Versailles treaty. The Entente Commission here intends to destroy all airdromes and flying establishments, which were built at a cost of 60,000,000 marks, according to the Taglische Rundschau. The newspaper says the commission will leave standing one hangar and one airplane factory, which will be used in the International Air Service.

COMMITTEE ON PENSIONS ADJOURNS UNTIL TUESDAY: PRESENT INTERIM REPORT

Ottawa, May 7.—The special committee on pensions and re-establishment adjourned yesterday to meet Tuesday to begin hearing evidence on re-establishment and of inquiry in the matter of pensions. The house may have an interim report by the early part of next week.

GEDDES TO RECEIVE MEDAL AWARDED TO BRITISH ENGINEER

Washington, May 7.—Sir Auckland Geddes will go to Philadelphia on May 19th to receive from the Franklin institute the medal awarded by the institute to Charles Parsons, British engineer, who invented the steam turbine engine. He will also attend various other functions later.

£430,000 OFFERED FOR EMPIRE MUSIC HALL BY ALLEN'S THEATRICAL CO.

London, May 7.—Allen's theatrical enterprises of Canada have offered £430,000 for the Empire, one of London's principal music halls. The contract was put before the shareholders for ratification, but the resolution was withdrawn and the meeting was adjourned to consider a higher bid made by Sir Alfred Butt. S. W. Smith, who made the Canadian offer, hotly protested. The money, he said, was British capital, and he expected to be treated in a British way.

SEEDING GENERAL BRANDON DISTRICT

Seeding is general in the Brandon district and some farmers who were able to commence work on the land earlier than others, will finish sowing wheat tonight. The sowing of oats will commence on Friday in some districts and others will start the beginning of next week. Winter Rye is well up in the Beresford district and looks particularly good. According to the farmers the land was never in better condition and although the acreage seeded will not be as large as last year the farmers are well satisfied with the progress they are making in spite of the late season.

Reeve Wm. Davidson of Elton expects to finish seeding 200 acres with wheat the end of this week and will start to sow oats the beginning of next week. His brother, Mr. Peter Davidson will also finish wheat seeding this week and is putting in 200 acres in wheat.

Owing to the late season, the difficulty in securing labor, and the fact that the horses are not so fit for work as usual, there will be a decreased acreage sometimes estimated at ten per cent. in this district.

Mr. Wm. Fardoe of South Brandon, who resides in a district where the snow was very slow in disappearing, finishes seeding a hundred acres with wheat tonight and will begin sowing oats Friday. The huge snowdrifts which accumulated during the Winter in this district made it particularly difficult for the farmers to get on the land this Spring and so far Mr. Fardoe is the first to report his wheat crop all sown.

Mr. W. J. McComb of Beresford reports wheat seeding general and preparations being made for sowing oats. Winter rye is up and doing splendidly.

FARMERS CARELESS ABOUT CERTIFICATES NOW VALUABLE

Over $24,000 is represented in the Participation Certificates which the local milling and elevator offices still have on hand and which have not as yet been claimed by the farmers. This amount is figured on the reported value of forty cents per bushel announced by James Stewart, chairman of the Canadian Wheat Board. There are at present over five hundred certificates waiting the call of their owners in local milling offices and these represent well over 60,000 bushels of wheat. Figuring these 60,000 bushels at forty cents farmers have at present $24,000 in securities lying in wait for them in the offices here.

There has been no flurry caused here yet over the announcement of the Canadian Wheat Board chairman judging by the ignoring of the Participation Certificates. Local offices report that there has been no attempt recently by any of the farmers to secure their certificates some of them making the remark that "they are just as safe with the Companies as at home." Due to the fact that practically all the farmers are busy on the land at the present time, there is not any likelihood of a rush.

It is reported that all the certificates have been picked up by the farmers at the small towns surrounding Brandon, where grain was marketed last Fall and during the Winter.

AUTO THIEVES BUSY AT REGINA

Regina, May 6.—Automobile thefts are now becoming almost a daily occurrence notwithstanding the best efforts of the police to watch them.

INDUSTRIAL COURT ATTACKED

A struggle of great importance is now being fought out in Kansas. It is to determine whether it is possible to maintain modern industry without constant resort to industrial warfare. In this question employers, employes and the public generally are equally concerned.

The law constituting the industrial court was not enacted to hold down labor or to harass capital. It was enacted to give both sides the chance to get a square deal without resorting to force. In the Kansas coal fields there have been scores of strikes every year. These have been costly to the miners as well as to the operators. They have helped increase the price of coal to the consumer. Yet the miners have felt the strike was a necessary weapon to obtain justice.

Governor Allen and the Kansas legislature said in effect: "This constant warfare bears heavily on all concerned, including the public. It is a relic of barbarism. Civilization surely has reached a stage where it is possible to get justice in a community like Kansas without fighting for it. Let us organize a court to take cognizance of all grievances and to adjust them without fighting. In doing this we shall be following the lesson of history. There was a time when every man sought to avenge his grievance personally. But that produced an intolerable situation. So now he goes to court. Courts aren't perfect, but they are far better than duels. Our industrial court may make mistakes. But in the long run it will do substantial justice and everybody will be better off."

It was a splendid enterprise, the organization of this industrial court. It is full of promise for America, says the Kansas City Star. If it succeeds in Kansas it will be adopted in other states. The widespread adoption of resort to a court instead of to the strike would be a wonderful thing for the country.

Without trying the plan a trial, the Kansas miners are trying to wreck the law. This is not a petty matter. It is not a matter of politics. It is a matter that concerns the welfare not merely of Kansas but of the whole nation.

It is hard to conceive that the miners themselves when they have reflected on the issues will continue on their course. Surely public sentiment in Kansas cannot permit the law to fail. It is bound to back Governor Allen to the limit in making the court a success. Its destruction would be a tragedy.

SEND THEM OFF

If the Mennonites do not really desire to become good law abiding Canadians, the sooner they move out of the Dominion the better for all concerned. We have no room in Canada for any but one hundred per cent Canadians and if the Mennonites, or any other ites or hyphenites, do not intend to qualify, the sooner they make way for those who do, the better for Canada. The announcement that they have found an asylum in any country where they can have German the only language in their schools and whatever text books they desire, does not sound reasonable, but Canadians should put no obstacles in the way of their departing immediately.

The announcement that they are going to Mississippi is no concern to us. If Mississippi desires that sort of citizen then that state is welcome to them. The war has crystalized opinions of Canadians as to what constitute good citizenship and desirable citizens, and the demands of the Mennonites for any other than the English language and only such text books in the schools as they prescribe, shows them as imbued with ideals that clash with ours. They cannot hold such ideals and become good Canadians. When they refuse to yield and to obey Canadian laws, they should either be encouraged to depart in haste or suffer the fate of others who resist the laws.

DISFRANCHISING FARM WOMEN

Failure to give full publicity to registration dates in rural constituencies will have the effect of disfranchising thousands of women on Manitoba farms, unless strenuous efforts are made to acquaint them with the dates and places where Courts of Revision are to sit.

So little publicity was given the registration dates that thousands of rural voters are today inquiring where they should register and the registration booths are closed. They cannot register now. They can however apply to Courts of Revision to have their names added to the lists, but if no more effort is made to acquaint them with the sittings of the Courts of Revision than was made to impart information concerning registration, the result will be that thousands of them will be virtually disfranchised.

The existing list is the basis from which the voters lists in rural constituencies is being compiled. This list, compiled some time ago, is not complete and it is not up to date. The names to be found on it are those of male voters at the time it was compiled and the comparatively small number of women then entitled to vote.

Manitoba farm women are in extreme danger of being denied the ballot, and very largely through no fault of their own but because of a failure on the part of the authorities to supply necessary information to enable these women to get on the voters lists.

In order to get on the lists the Courts of Revision must be made to do the work that it was intended should be done by registration. The women should acquaint themselves with the places and dates of sitting of the Courts of Revision, attend there, and get their names on the list. Failure to do so will place them in the position of being denied not only the ballot at the coming Provincial election, but denial of the right to vote on the referendum upon the proposal to apply the Dominion Temperance Act to the province, and if the Dominion Government appeals to the country within one year from the compilation of the list, they will be unable to vote in it.

DEATH SENTENCE CHANGED TO LIFE IMPRISONMENT

Ottawa, May 5.—The sentence of death imposed on George Coppen, at Toronto has been commuted to life imprisonment. Tuesday morning T. J. [illegible] counsel for Coppen, interviewed the Minister of Justice and submitted an affidavit from Dr. Silverthorne, who performed the autopsy, that the appearance of the body was not inconsistent with accident.

INCREASE IN OATS AND FODDER CROPS IN SASKATCHEWAN

Reports Vary From "Considerable" to 25 Per Cent. at Star City

Regina, May 5. — The outstanding feature of the crop report issued by the Provincial Department of Agriculture is the increase in acreage that will be sown to oats and fodder crops this Spring. This increase runs all the way from "considerable," as reported from a generality of the districts, to 25 per cent. at Star City. Several districts report a ten per cent. increase in the amount of fodder crops to be put in this year.

Generally throughout the province, seeding will be in full swing by the end of this week. It started in several districts as early as April 27th, and many districts report it already "general." At other points snow is still on the ground, especially in the sloughs, and a good deal of water is reported on the ground.

Less Spring Plowing

There will be a considerable decrease in the amount of Spring plowing for wheat this year, according to the report, and some farmers are turning from wheat to oats. At Lloydminster many farmers are reported to be seeding their Spring feed, although seed is being brought into the district. The outlook for Winter rye is given as not good at many points. At one point there is reported to be no winter rye at all.

DENY LIBERALS WAVER IN SUPPORT OF DEWART IN ONTARIO LEGISLATURE

Toronto, May 7.—In the Legislature F. W. Hay, North Perth, and P. R. Hall, Parry Sound, repudiated with considerable heat an article in a Toronto evening paper, which stated that Liberal members of the House were wavering in their support of H. R. Dewart.

"The article has been written with malicious intent and purpose," declared Mr. Hay while Mr. Hall went him several better, characterizing the report as scurrilous, libelous, and untrue and demanding that the Government either obtain a retraction from its writer or exclude him from the House.

WHEAT SHOWS ABOVE GROUND ON TWO FARMS

L. Nelles and G. A. Brownridge, North of Brandon, Have "Green" Fields

Mr. L. Nelles who resides Northwest of the city and was among the first of the farmers in this district to start work on the land, reported today that his wheat is up about an inch. Mr. Nelles has 130 acres sown to Marquis wheat and the wheat which is now up was put in exactly two weeks ago today. This enterprising farmer has about thirty acres of oats in and expects to finish seeding in about two weeks time.

Mr. G. A. Brownridge, whose farm is about four miles North of the city reports his wheat just showing in the fields. He has 110 acres of Marquis planted which he put in about the first of this month. He starts seeding oats on Tuesday.

Both farmers reported the land in excellent condition. Today's wind is causing some drifting of light land Northwest of the city, but the farmers are all at work.

DEMAND GOVERNMENT SHALL CONTINUE THE SHIPBUILDING INDUSTRY

Montreal, Que., May 10.—A large delegation representing the Canadian Workers' federation of Returned Soldiers and Sailors will make corporate demands upon the part of a large body of ex-service men that the government shall in some way, continue the shipbuilding industry in this country.

PLOTTERS AGAINST VENIZELOS ARE SEVERELY PUNISHED

Three Officers to Serve Life Terms, Fifteen Others 15 to 20 Years

Athens, May 10.—General Libritis, Colonels Derleres and Karapateas and Captain Kanabouvos, leaders in the plot against the life of Premier Venizelos last December, have been sentenced to life imprisonment. Fifteen other officers received sentences of [illegible] years. [illegible] accused of complicity in the plot, were acquitted.

M'BRIDE POURS HOT SHOT INTO U. F. O. MEMBERS

Souht Brant Member Asks if They Represent the People or U. F. O. Clubs

Toronto, May 10.—M. M. MacBride, M.L.A. for South Brant, has issued a statement in which he criticises the U.F.O. Government for its refusal to increase the members' indemnity, as requested in a recent "round robin," characterizes Premier Drury as a dictator and refers to Andrew Hicks, member for South Huron, and U.F.O. whip, as having given to Ontario public life "the best example of hypocrisy paraded under the guise of sincerity," that has ever come to his notice.

Mr. MacBride states that "machine politics" rule at Queen's Park, and he says the members of the Legislature would like to know whether the U.F.O. members are sent to the legislature as representatives of the people or as "delegates from the U.F.O. clubs."

MESOPOTAMIA TO GROW COTTON

Oldham, Eng., April 22.—The British cotton growing association has received a report from an investigator to the effect that Mesopotamia is likely to produce a large amount of cotton in the next few years. This opinion is expressed by B. Crapper, vice-president of the Oldham Chamber of Commerce, who went to the East to investigate the possibilities of increasing cotton growing in Mesopotamia, Egypt and the Sudan.

Mr. Crapper has told the British Cotton Growing Association that Mesopotamia possesses soil and climate to grow excellent cotton but that its production is limited by its small population of 3,000,000 persons, lack of irrigation and transport facilities and the need of instruction in scientific methods of production.

He said that the Gash delta in the Sudan afforded an opportunity for substantially increasing the production of Egyptian cotton but there was need of better transport facilities.

One of the drawbacks he found in Egypt was improper distribution of seed.

BORDEN URGED CANADA KEEP CONTROL OF ORE

For Benefit of Empire — This Started Great Empire Partnership

London, May 10.—Mark Workman, chairman of the Dominion Steel Co., has arrived in London. He said that during the war Sir Robert Borden saw him twice and urged the importance of Canada keeping control of her great iron ore fields for the benefit of the Empire. Mr. Workman gave much time to thinking out the great empire partnership and had much consultation with the directors and Lord Furness. To Col. Grant Morden belonged the great credit for developing the scheme of which the Dominion Steel Corporation was parent body, he said.

TRAGIC DEATH OF C. N R ENGINEER AND BRAKEMAN

Brakeman Pinned in Water Up to Neck When Engine Plunged Over Embankment

LIVED FOR HOURS

Gillis Body Pinned Down by Boiler That Could Not Be Moved

Fredericton, May 10.—J. Gillis and John Estabrooke, engineer and brakeman, respectively, were killed when a locomotive of a wey freight train on the Canadian National Railways plunged into the Nashwaak River at Penniack Bridge, early this morning, and dragged the tender and one freight car down the fifty-foot embankment into the river. Estabrooke lived for several hours pinned under the tender with only his neck and head out of the water, while the doctors administered restoratives. It was only by cutting off his leg below the knee that his body could be rescued from the water. Gillis' body was found under the boiler, but cannot be removed until the wrecking crew are able to move the engine.

NEW YORK MAN BADLY BURNED: DIES IN HOSPITAL

Found Unconscious in Bathtub Full of Boiling Water in Winnipeg Hotel

Winnipeg, May 10.—C. Brewster Chapman, 5 years old, of New York, N.Y., died Saturday at the St. Boniface hospital from burns to the head and body.

He was found Friday afternoon unconscious, in a bathtub full of boiling water in his room at the Corona hotel. He was fully dressed when pulled out by hotel clerks and police.

His body nd head were covered with burns and cuts when doctors at the hospital cut his clothing from him. The skin was completely scalded; some of it peeled off with the clothing. He died from the burns and heart disease at 4 o'clock Saturday morning.

Coroner B. J. McConnell ordered the body removed to an undertaking establishment. An inquest will be held this week.

At 3 o'clock clerks, attracted to the room by moans, forced the door and entered. They found him in the bath face downward.

Chapman came to Winnipeg several days ago, registering at the Corona last Tuesday. He is a native of New York, N.Y., and is said to be well known there.

MEXICAN REBELS HAVE CAPTURED MEXICO CITY

El Paso, Tex., May 8.—Revolutionary forces, under Gen. Benjamin Hill, have taken Mexico City, according to an unconfirmed report received here from Chihuahua City, and made public by revolutionary leaders.

Three state capitals in Mexico fell into the hands of the revolutionists, through the revolt of Carranza garrisons coincidentally with the unconfirmed report that Mexico City had been taken.

Capital Cut Off From Outside World

Washington, May 10.—Mexico City is believed here to have been virtually cut off from communication with the outside world, through the destruction of the wire lines by the revolutionists. The State Department has received no word from the American embassy at the Mexican capital since Thursday.

Reports official and unofficial Friday credited Mexican rebels with further bloodless successes. Information reaching the rebel agents here, they said, pointed to an early occupation of Piedras Negras, Laredo and Matamoros, the only important border port of entry remaining in Carranza control.

News of the revolt of the garrison at Vera Cruz was received through official channels, the town being immediately evacuated by the rebels, presumably because of the presence in the harbor of Mexican gunboats loyal to Carranza.

Official confirmation of the report received early in the day by rebel agents that Carranza already had left the capital was lacking.

The message from Chihuahua said: "It has been confirmed that President Carranza left the capital for Vera Cruz."

GENERAL DYER SAYS HE ONLY DID HIS DIRTY DUTY

Declares He Ordered Troops to Fire into Crowd of Indian Civilians

TO SAVE BRITISH RULE

To Preserve India for Empire and to Protect English Men and Women

London, May 5.—"It was my dirty duty." Thus Brig.-General R. E. H. Dyer, ex-commander of British troops in India, today explained his order to the small squad of troops to fire into the crowd of 5,000 Indian civilians at Amritzar, in April, 1919. Dyer's men killed 500 and wounded 1,500 inside less than a quarter of an hour. "It has taken the Government a year to decide that I did wrong. I shot to save British rule, to preserve India for the British Empire, and to protect English men and English women who lived under my protection."

First praised for his action, by his chief, then when after nearly a year's complete suppression of the affair, the world learned of it, reprimanded, investigated and order to resign, General Dyer arrived in London today to protest against what he considers being made a scapegoat.

TO PROBE PAST WAR GROWTH OF ALLEGED TRUSTS

Profiteering Committee Looking into Activity of Electric Light Makers

London, April 19 (By Mail)—England has started an investigation of the past-war growth of alleged trusts and monopolies.

A profiteering committee which has been looking into the activity of electric light companies and lamp bulb manufacturers, in a report recently made public, says that "a trade combination does exist among electric light manufacturers in this country and exercises a powerful influence over the conduct and development of the industry."

It is known as the Electric Light Manufacturers Association, the report says, and has been created primarily in the interests of three firms—the British Thomson-Houston Company, the General Electric Company and Messrs. Siemens Brothers. It is reported to include from 90 to 95 per cent of the industry, to fix prices and regular output, says the profiteering committee.

The prices fixed by the Association, the report says, become the standard for all lamps sold in this country, whether made by Association or non-Association manufacturers, or imported from abroad. Because of this standard price policy the general public reap no benefit from lamps or cheaper manufacture, the advantage going wholly to distributors.

Standard vacuum lamps, now sold to the public for three shillings, states the report, could be sold at two shillings, at which price the manufacturers and distributors would still have a satisfactory working profit.

"One and a quarter million half-watt lamps," adds the report, "sold to the public in 1919 at twelve shillings and sixpence each were purchased in Holland by three associated manufacturers at about three shillings a lamp. They could have been sold at not more than eight shillings which would still have left ample margin for the importers and distributors. Importers and distributors between them made profits on these lamps, of something like $1,400,000 over and above what would appear to us reasonable.

"Since the largest of the three dominant firms," continues the report, "is under the majority control of an American electrical concern, there is some danger that the interests of the British lamp industry may be subordinated to American interests.

"There is a possibility of an international combination comprising British, Dutch and American manufacturers which would be able to control supplies and dominate prices over a considerable part of the world.

"The operations of an association which so effectively controls an important industry," concludes the report, "should be subject to public supervision and control."

Washington, May 5.—The division of destroyers, now at New York with the Atlantic fleet, has been ordered to sail immediately for Key West, where they will be held for possible duty in Mexican waters.

VETERANS WANT STEADY WORK MORE THAN CASH BONUS

Workers in Shipyards to Ask Encouragement of Shipbuilding

Montreal, May 5.—That they want work rather than a cash bonus is the idea of the Canadian Federation of Returned Soldiers and Sailors. Plans toward this are being worked out. Delegates are to be chosen at a meeting here on Thursday to wait on the Government and the Opposition leader to ask encouragement for shipbuilding in Canada to ensure steady employment of veterans now engaged in the various yards in Canada. Delegates will include British Columbia and from the Great Lakes through to the Maritime Provinces.

PURSE TOTALS $1,800 FOR RACE MEET, JUNE 17TH

Four Harness Events for $400 in Prizes and One Running Event

A splendid racing program for June 17th has been drawn up by the Brandon Surf Club, four harness and a running event being carded for that day. At a meeting held Tuesday evening it was decided to put up a purse of $1,800 with $400 for each harness event and $200 for the running race. This will ensure a good class of horse coming here for the opening meet in Western Canada, and will also serve to get the horses in shape for the circuit meets which open some time later.

The five races carded are: 2.15 pace or 2.10 trot; 2.20 pace or 2.15 trot; 2.25 pace or 2.20 trot; free-for-all; and a running race. The distance of the running race has not been determined as yet. The races will be run under the three heat plan, with every heat a race. The entrance fee is fixed at three per cent of the prize money and no deductions made for the winner.

There are a number of horses training at the Exhibition grounds at the present time and some more horses are expected from Moose Jaw within a few days. With several of the trainers who drive winners on the Western Canada circuit sending their entries here for training, it is expected that the June 17th races will be productive of some of the best sport that has been seen for years. Preparations are being made to make the day of a holiday nature, and the Turf Club are also endeavoring to have the Greys Baseball team put on a ball game in the morning and play a second fixture in the evening with an outside team.

NAVAL PROGRAM STORY DENIED BY C. C. BALLANTYNE

Minister of Marine and Naval Affairs Denies Statements Attributed to Him

Ottawa, May 5.—Absolute denial of the story credited to the Halifax "Echo" which said the Government proposed carrying out the naval program recommended by Admiral Lord Jellicoe, was made this morning by Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, Minister of Marine and Naval Affairs. "I have never privately nor publicly made such statements as are attributed to me, and the whole thing must be the creation of some newspaperman's brain," he said.

Yeomans and R. H. Murray.

At present there are about sixty-seven Rural Credit Societies in Manitoba, of which number there are over fifteen in the Brandon district. The work of organization in many municipalities is now proceeding and it is expected that many other societies will be formed shortly.

RAILWAY COSTS INCREASE FASTER THAN REVENUES

Net Earnings by the C. P. R. $1,569,351 Less Than During 1918

Montreal, Que., May 6.—At the annual meeting of shareholders of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company held at Montreal today, Mr. E. W. Beatty, President of the Company, gave an address a part of which follows:

"The annual report of the Company and statements attached, which have been in your possession for some time, reflect very vividly the situation prevailing generally in respect of increased costs of operation. Notwithstanding that the gross earnings of the company were the largest in its history, and exceeded the gross earnings of 1919 by $19,391,862, the net earnings were less by $1,569,351. The large increase in working expenses of $20,960,713 following as it does an increase of $17,191,993 in the working expenses during the year 1918, or a total increase in 1919 over 1917 of $38,152,706, is a striking example of the effect of the increased cost of wages and material in the operation of a company. Even one conservatively and economically administered as are the affairs of your company.

"While it is a matter of great gratification that, even with these exceptional costs, your company has been able, during the past two years, to earn its fixed charges and usual dividends and very moderate surpluses it is nevertheless important that the relation between earnings and expenses should now receive the most careful consideration. The results of the operations during the past two years show an upward trend in costs, which even extensive increases in gross earnings and effective operating economies due to heavier loading, larger power and consequent reduced train mileage, have not equalized.

For the past sixteen years the freight and passenger rates of all Canadian railways have been subject to review or have been fixed by the Dominion Railway Commission. The rates have been readjusted from time to time, first being lowered and then increased, but the extent of the increase has not equalled the increased costs which have recently been forced upon all companies, and reductions in which cannot with any confidence be predicted at this time.

Working Expenses Climb

"The fiscal year ended June 1914 the working expenses of your company, with a mileage somewhat less than the operated mileage of last year, were $87,888,000 which for the year 1917 they have climbed to practically $144,000,000 an increase of 64 per cent. Within that period increases of nominally 40 per cent in freight rates and 15 per cent in passenger rates have been authorized by the Railway Commission. The actual increases owing to the adjustment of rates made by direction of the Board were in fact thirty per cent in freight rates and ten per cent in passenger rates. The result, therefore, has been that during the past five years the percentage increase in operating expenses was double the percentage increase in tolls according to the companies.

"Owing to the parity of conditions existing between the United States and Canada the Canadian roads were forced, during the war, to put into effect the high wage scale made effective under Government control of the American roads and they were also compelled to continue operating under tariffs of tolls substantially the same as those in force in the United States. These tariffs were entirely inadequate as results in the United States clearly demonstrated. By legislation recently enacted the American carriers are assured of rates which will return a fixed percentage on the value of the undertakings used in the public service which will mean a reconsideration of, and increase in, the rates now current in that country. No doubt the necessity of rate adjustments in Canada will be given earnest consideration by the Government and the Dominion Railway Board. While it is not my purpose to anticipate any action which may be taken, it is only proper, I think, to say that a re-adjustment is amply warranted, both on the ground of the value of the service rendered by the carriers and the cost to them of performing such service.

Looking for Immigration

"I look forward to immigration to Canada on a large scale and while a period of retrenchment and financial conservatism may conceivably be the part of wisdom, your directors have the same implicit faith in the future growth and prosperity of the country that they have always had, and also the same confidence in the ability of your company to play an important part in its development and prosperity."

Los Angeles and San Francisco have more than 25,000 women motorists.

STRIKE ON FRENCH RAILWAYS IS NOW VIRTUALLY OVER

Paris, May 5.—The announcement that the strike of railway workers throughout France was virtually over was made in official quarters last night. Since Saturday traffic has been seriously embarrassed, but the volunteers have given material aid, and yesterday a large number of strikers returned to work.

THREE SENTENCES OF DEATH IMPOSED QUEBEC ASSIZES

Gagnon and Remillard Sentenced to Life Imprisonment for Manslaughter

Quebec, May 6.—Telesphore Gagnon, found guilty of manslaughter in the case of Aurore Gagnon, his daughter, who died after brutal beatings from her father and ill-treatment from her step-mother, who is under sentence of death for the crime, has been sentenced to life imprisonment by Mr. Justice Desy.

Romeo Remilliard, found guilty of shooting and killing Lieut. Lucien Morrisette and also found guilty of manslaughter, who received a life imprisonment sentence. Remillard's father, charged with murder with his son, will be tried at the next session of the Quebec assizes.

The cases of the four men under arrest on a charge of robbing the Ocean Limited of $71,000, was postponed till the next assizes.

With the sentence of Gagnon Remilliard Wednesday the most sensational assizes Quebec has known, came to a close, as far as the criminal cases were concerned.

Six murder cases were up on the docket and three sentences of death and two of life imprisonment have been imposed.

MENNONITES WILL MOVE RATHER THAN BECOME CANADIANS

Manitoba Mennonites So Decide After All Day Conference Near Plum Coulee

THEIR OWN SCHOOLS

The German Language and Bible as Text Book, Their Plan in Mississippi

Plum Coulee, Man., May 6. — The Mennonites of Manitoba after an all-day conference held on Tuesday by the members of the old Mennonite church at the village of Rineland decided to leave Canada and seek new homes in the state of Mississippi, where they have secured options along with the Mennonites of Saskatchewan on large tracts of unoccupied land.

They hope to be permitted to have their own schools conducted under the direction of their own church with German as the only language and the bible as the lesson book.

Preparations are being made by them to move after this year's crop has been harvested and delegates have left for Mennonite settlements near Swift Current and North of Saskatoon to advise them of the decision of their compatriots in Manitoba.

CONFERENCE MAY SUGGEST PROGRAM

Not Alone for Defence of the Empire, But on Other Questions Also

London, May 6.—Earl Surzon, Foreign Secretary, speaking in the House of Lords last night, concerning the creation of an Imperial General Staff, said that he thought it unwise to state a definite policy till the conference of Dominions next year. He said: "There will be a conference as to relations between the Dominions and the Mother Country. There is some hope that there may come out of it an Imperial Cabinet not only for defence but for other matters."

PARTICIPATION CERTIFICATES MAY BE VERY VALUABLE

Canadian Farmers May Get 30c a Bushel on Grain Sold Through Wheat Board

U. S. AVERAGE PRICE $2.14

Some Members Look for $3.00 Wheat for the 1920 Crop

NOT LESS THAN 40c

Winnipeg, May 5.—James Stewart, chairman of the Canadian Wheat Board, announced this morning that the value of "participation certificates" will be not less than 40 cents per bushel.

Ottawa, May 5.—Canadian farmers may get as high as thirty cents per bushel for Participation Certificates on wheat sold through the Canadian Wheat Board, it was predicted today by members of the House of Commons who have watched the situation very closely. This, with the $2.15 already guaranteed, will bring the price to $2.45, United States wheat sold for an average of $2.14.

It is also freely predicted in authoritative quarters, that the price of the 1920 crop will be high, some members believing that it will go to $3.00 per bushel, provided there are no internal troubles in any large countries of the world.

Continuance of the Wheat Board is still looked for in view of the fact that European Governments have practically decided to stand together on purchases.

LEMIEUX ACT AMENDMENTS AGAIN DISCUSSED

Amendment Submitted by Member for Temiskaming adopted by Government

Ottawa, May 5.—Amendments proposed to the Lemieux Act were again before the House last night and again they remained unpassed. Previously, the House had talked on capital as exemplified in the British Empire Steel Corporation. Reversion to a labor topic revealed that much of the previous discussion had been at cross-purposes. Under the Lemieux Act, men employed in a public utility, who think they have a grievance, can apply for a Board of Conciliation, providing the application has the approval of the majority of union members present at a meeting specially called for the purpose.

The amending bill which came down from the Senate, where it was introduced by the Minister of Labor) modifies that provision. When introduced in the House, the bill was interpreted as providing that application for a Conciliation Board must have the approval of a majority of all the members of the union. On this ground, the bill was strongly attacked.

McDonald Amendment Accepted

Angus McDonald, Labor-O.F.O. member for Temiskaming, last night submitted an amendment to require approval by a majority of the men affected rather than by a majority of the union. Mr. McDonald was emphatic that he belonged to no "Red" organization as had been reported of him. He was a member of an International trade union. What the workers wanted was "plain English" on the statute books. Mr. McDonald's amendment had the support of the leader of the opposition.

Finally it was accepted by the Government. Here Hon. Arthur Meighen, who was in charge of the bill, explained that the terms of the bill were not in accordance with the previous interpretation. The bill did not provide that the application must have the approval of all the members of a union, but the majority of union members employed by a single employer.

Warm Welcome for Crerar

Hon. T. A. Crerar, who has been ill for some weeks, received a warm ovation from all parts of the House when he resumed his seat in the chamber.

Late in the evening the House resumed consideration of the Franchise bill. An amendment was adopted providing for the use of standard time in elections. Another amendment provides for the use of provincial polling places unless, in the discretion of the returning officer, it is extremely inconvenient to adopt such a course.

Just after midnight a surprise vote was taken on the question of designating those who may vote at advanced polls. The opposition, which sought the designation, on motion of F. W. Pardee, was defeated by 35 to 23, the five National Progressives present going with the Government.

ATTRACTIONS AT SUMMER FAIR TO BE OF GREAT MERIT

Famous 48th Highlanders Band from Toronto to Provide the Music

The greatest and most expensive platform attractions available in Canada or the United States have been secured for the Western Canada Fair circuit. This was the statement made by Manager W. I Smale this morning who further added that this year's attractions would even outdo the high class performances put on in front of the grandstand in 1919. There will be six distinct acts at the Provincial Fair here in July and each of the acts is said to be the best obtainable.

First and foremost there will be the 48th Highlanders band from Toronto. This band will be composed of forty pieces and they will put on an act which includes both singing and dancing. Then there is Ebenezer and his mule act, the International Nine in acrobatics and pyramid work, a Japanese troups of four, Lloyd's Casting Act and Madam Hughes ballet of twenty-five dancing girls. These six acts will furnish the best of amusement for the spectators during the Fair here, and should be one of the real features of this Summer's Provincial exhibition.

To Erect New Buildings

A start on the new buildings to be erected in the Exhibition grounds this year will probably be made next week. The administration building will be the first addition made to the buildings already on the grounds, while a display building is to be erected later.

PROTEST SENT TO BRITAIN BY 58 U. S. CONGRESSMEN

Against Imprisonment Without Trial of Political Offenders in Ireland

Washington, May 5.—A cablegram, signed by eighty-eight members of the house, protesting against imprisonment, without arraignment or trial, of persons arrested in Ireland for political offences, was sent Tuesday to Premier Lloyd George and the British Parliament.

The message said: "With the profound conviction that further wars and acts of war should be avoided and believing that wholesale arrests without arraignment or trial disturb the peace and tranquility of a people, are destructive of human rights, and are at variance with that principle of liberty which is embodied in the U.S. constitution in the provision that no person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law, the undersigned members of congress of the U.S. of America, protest against further imprisonment without arraignment or trial of persons resident in Ireland arrested for acts of a political nature; and we ask in the spirit of American freedom and love of justice, out of our friendliness to the peoples of England and Ireland, and in the name of international peace, that, hereafter, if arrests based on acts of a political nature, are made in Ireland, by color or any form of authority, the right of trial shall without unreasonable delay be accorded to the accused.'"

WILL 1920 WHEAT CROP BE SOLD THROUGH BOARD

Ottawa, Ont., May 5.—Whether or not Canada will sell the 1920 crop through the wheat board will be discussed on the floor of the House, Thursday, if a question by Major G. W. Andrews (Winnipeg Centre), is taken up. Andrews asks whether the Government intends to continue the Board when its present term expires. He is also anxious to know when will Participation Certificates be issued and whether the Government expects that farmers will get any cash payment for certificates.

St. Paul, May 5.—Mayor L. C. Hodgson has been re-elected by more than 2,400 votes over Wm. Mahoney, Labor, at yesterday's civic elections. Three Labor candidates were elected Councilmen.

FULLEST FREEDOM FOR DOMINIONS

New Zealand, Australia, South Africa to Follow Canada's Lead

Montreal, Que., May 5.—A Montreal Star cable today says "If Canada is permitted to establish individual diplomatic representatives at Washington, New Zealand, Australia and South Africa may be expected to ask the same recognition. The view is expressed that the Dominions should be accorded the fullest freedom in conducting their International tariff, customs, boundaries and immigration affairs. The only matters strictly reserved for the British Ambassador are those pertaining to the foreign policy of the Empire as a whole."

PERMANENT BOARD TO BUY SUPPLIES

Ottawa, Ont., May 5.—Communications from business interests throughout the country have been received by the Government favoring a bill to establish a permanent board for the purchase of governmental and other supplies. The point generally taken in the question is that the establishment of such a board would mean greater economy in the purchase of supplies and give every man engaged in business a fair chance to compete.

HEAD OF RUSSELITE FAITH AND EIGHT OTHERS LIBERATED

Freed in Federal Court of Charges of Violation of the Espionage Act

New York, May 5.—Joseph Rutherford, head of the "Ruselite' faith and eight of his church officers, were freed today in Federal Court when indictments against eight of them charging violation of the Espionage Act, and an indictment charging perjury against the ninth, was dismissed.

GRAVES OF BRITISH WAR HEROES TO BEAR UNIFORM MARKINGS, HOUSE DECIDES

London, May 5.—On the vote for expenses of the War Graves Commission, taken in the House of Commons the decision of the committee, especially that against permitting private choice of the memorial design, were vigorously discussed, and as the Government allowed a free vote, there was expectation of a close division. The commission's action was, however supported by a considerable majority. The estimated cost by the commission for the current year is £2,787,000, of which £515,098 falls on the dominions, India and the colonies.

A great big New Offer as interesting to new competitors as to old. Everyone starts on an equal basis. Enrol your name NOW.

Another 75,000 Extra Point Offer The Last One of the Competition

In order to assist the country competitors in getting an early start on the new special prize Chevrolet, we are going to give a big extra point offer this week. 75,000 Extra points will be given for each and every $19 worth of subscriptions turned in this week.

There is no limit to the number of extra points certificates that a Sun Competitor can secure before Saturday—One of the Extra Point Certificates will be given for each and every $19 worth of subscriptions collected.

The $19 Clubs may consist of either the new, renewal or arrearage subscriptions to either the Daily or Weekly Sun. and they may range from six months to five years to the Daily Sun or from one year to five years to the Weekly Sun. It is not necessary to bring or send in the entire $19 at one time.

Send in your subscriptions as you secure them. We keep an accurate record, and when you have brought in the total of $19 we will issue you your Extra Point Certificate.

Any subscription money turned in last week will count towards the $19 clubs. If you have already turned in a sufficient amount of subscription money to entitle you to an Extra Point certificate it will be sent to you when you make your nex remittance. If you have not turned in a sufficient amount hurry and get one of the EXTRA point certificates, for they assist greatly in swelling your point totals.

This EXTRA point offer of 75,000 extra points for each and every $19 worth of subscriptions is ABSOLUTELY THE LAST CHANCE TO Secure the 75,000 Extra Point Certificates.

The $1,145.00 Chevrolet for the work of three weeks only

This elegant Chevrolet Touring Car, valued at $1,145.00 will be given as a special prize, for the best work done between the dates of May 17th and June 5th, both dates inclusive, a space of three week's time.

No work done before or after these two dates will count for this prize as it is for the work of THREE weeks only.

In this way EVERYONE STARTS ON AN EQUAL BASIS.

NEW COMPETITORS HAVE EXACTLY THE SAME CHANCES AS OLD COMPETITORS.

The points secured while working for the Chevrolet will also count towards the winning of one of the other Touring Cars or other big prizes to be given at the close of the Competition.

The Competition for the Special Prize Chevrolet starts the week from today.

If you have not as yet enrolled, send in your name now and supplies will be sent you in order that you may be all lined up for the start.

Competitors in the Country

The Sun wants subscriptions in the Country.
This offer is made especially for Country Competitors.
Why cannot you exert a little extra effort for three weeks only and win it?
Send in your name now.
Don't pass up this wonderful opportunity.

Country Competitors

An offer for country competitors only, $250.00 CASH

ENROLL NOW

The results, so far, in the Competition are by no means what we expected them to be. None of the competitors seem to have gotten down to work in real earnest, and as a consequence the work done, so far, on the big Capital Prizes amounts to but a very little.

The bulk of the subscriptions should come from the country territory, as in the city the people are paying each week to the carrier boy, and are more satisfied in paying this way. This is not the case in the country, and as a consequence a competitor in the country has a much better chance. All of the big prizes can easily go to the country if you will only get out and work for them.

Any competitor who will give this matter a little thought, cannot help but see what an opportunity there is offered of being a big winner, but in order to give you a special inducement of the big possibilities, we are going to make the following offer:

$250 IN CASH WILL BE GIVEN TO THE COMPETITOR DOING THE BEST WORK IN THE TWO WEEKS STARTING MONDAY, MAY 3.

Remember this offer is for competitors outside of the City of Brandon only. Think what this means to you. There are very few competitors to work against, and very little work has been done to date.

You are in this way, by a small amount of effort, able to win three big prizes, as follows:

1. $250.00 in Cash.
2. $1,145.00 Chevrolet.
3. Chevrolet "Baby Grand" Touring Car, or any other of the big Capital Prizes.

In working for this big $250 cash prize you are also working towards the winning of the new special prize Chevrolet Touring Car as well as towards the big $1,855.00 Chevrolet "Baby Grand" Touring Car or and other of the big Capital Prizes.

This is a wonderful offer, as you can see.

If you have not enrolled, do so at once. New opportunities will be the order of the Competition.

FORD TOURING CAR for subscribers

THE SUBSCRIBERS' "WHEAT GUESSING" COMPETITION

A Latest Model Ford Touring Car to be Given as a Prize to Subscribers

How many kernels of No. 1 Northern wheat are there in the standard quart Gem jar at present on exhibition in the show window of the firm of W. E. Crawford, Brandon? The subscriber who has sent in the correct answer to the above question when the Competition closes will be awarded the Ford Touring Car. This is an ordinary Gem fruit jar of the standard quart size, which has been filled level to the top, with No. 1 Northern wheat, and the cover put on and sealed by Mr. H. Brown, City Clerk, Brandon. At the close of the Competition, the seal of the jar will be broken and the contents counted by several well known business men. The count will be made in public.

The best way to arrive at a correct estimate, is to fill a jar yourself with the same grade of wheat as specified and count it.

HOW TO GUESS

Either the Sun or one of the competitors in the Prize Competition will supply you with the necessary guessing coupons.

One coupon must be used for each guess, i.e. if you have five guesses you fill out five coupons.

The Guessing Competition applies to only subscriptions taken during the time of the Circulation Campaign.

The guessing coupon appearing on this page, may be filled in now and sent in. with a subscription and additional coupons will be sent a subscriber in the event that he is entitled to more than one guess.

When the subscription is sent direct to the Competition Office be sure to ask to have it credited to one of the competitors appearing in the list as every one of them merits this assistance.

In the event of two subscribers both having the correct guess, the Ford Touring Car will be awarded to the one first sending in the subscription.

BRIG. GEN. KIRKCALDY ACCEPTS NOMINATION BY CONSERVATIVES

After Stating That He Will Follow Dictates of His Own Judgment in All Matters—Great Enthusiasm Over Acceptance by Gallant Soldier—R. G. Willis Condemns Extravagance of Norris Government, and Declares That it Should Be Defeated on its Administration of the Temperance Act.

Brigadier-General James Kirkcaldy, C.M.G., D.S.O. and two bars, Croix de Guerre, is the Conservative Candidate for the city of Brandon in the coming Provincial elections. His nomination came as the unanimous decision of the Liberal-Conservative convention held in the City Hall, Friday night, and at which great enthusiasm was displayed. For a political gathering it was the most successful yet held, and was attended by quite a number of electors. The Conservative nominee accepted the honor in a brief speech in which he stated that he would accept the nomination only on the condition that he be allowed the fullest liberty to vote as his judgment dictated.

The Conservative leader for the Province, R. G. Willis, was also present at the meeting and gave an address in which he characterized the Norris Government as the most extravagant that ever held office. He also criticized the administration of the Temperance Act and stated that the Norris Government's administration of this act alone would justify the present Government's defeat. That the Manitoba Farm Loans and Rural Credits Act are being handled in an unbusiness-like manner was a statement made by Mr. Willis, who also could see no reason why expenditures in Northern Manitoba should be incurred until the Province has secured control of natural resources.

Kirkcaldy Only Nominee

Mr. W. H. Bates acted as a preliminary chairman until one was appointed from the audience, the choice falling upon Dr. C. P. Templeton, while Mr. E. Whitehead was appointed secretary. Dr. Templeton called upon the meeting to chose a candidate, and Mr. M. Donaldson rose to nominate Brigadier-General Kirkcaldy. In moving the nomination, Mr. Donaldson said that as a citizen and as a soldier the nominee filled the bill. The Brandon general is 100 per cent Canadian, and has always worked for the best interests of the city. He had no doubt but what Brigadier-General Kirkcaldy would represent the city, not as a partisan, but for the general good of the people. Mr. Fred Young in seconding the nomination said that as a man, the nominee had brought honor to the city, and he had no doubt but that he would make as good a record here in the elections as he had overseas. There were no further nominations and the nomination of Brigadier-General Kirkcaldy was then made unanimous by a standing vote. Loud cheers greeted the nomination, the gathering voicing it's approval in no uncertain manner.

Accepts as an Independent Conservative

In accepting the nomination, Brigadier-General Kirkcaldy said that he would only do so on condition that he be allowed the fullest liberty with his vote in the interests of his party. He realized the privilege that was his in representing the Conservatives, and of the opportunity that was also his in furthering the interests of the citizens and particularly of the men who went overseas. The men who had gone overseas and returned were now working and he believed them to be as loyal in the ranks of Labor as they were in the ranks at the Front. He said he was not afraid of the Labor candidate here, for his supporters were not a unit, and he did not believe that all labor men could be stampeded by a local section.

Brigadier-General Kirkcaldy said the local Liberal member could have achieved victory if he had chosen. There is a lot coming to the man who went overseas, and as one-twenty-fifth of the total population of Canada enlisted, he believed the fighting men were entitled to more representation. If Stephen Clement had looked over the field, said the Conservative nominee, he would have seen men more capable to represent these overseas men in persons like Major Whillier and Captains Inkster and Campbell. The returned men would have got in behind one of these men as a candidate, but the Liberals preferred to risk defeat by making a three cornered fight, and it is up to them to put up with the results of their action. The speaker said he would not criticize the acts of the Government at present, but would reserve further discussion until a later date. He called upon the party to organize and prepare for a successful fight, in conclusion.

Willis Complimented Brandon

R. G. Willis, leader of the Conservative party in Manitoba, in commencing his speech, complimented the meeting on choosing Brigadier-General Kirkcaldy as their candidate. He assured those present that if the gallant soldier conducted his local campaign along the same lines as he did his overseas campaign, that he would be successful beyond a doubt.

ACCEPTS NOMINATION

Brig.-Gen. Jas. Kirkcaldy, C.M.G., D.S.O. and two bars, Croix de Guerre.

Brandon as the second city in Manitoba should have Cabinet representation, said Mr. Willis. There is no just reason why it has not unless the Government does not consider the present Liberal member of Cabinet calibre. Some people have whispered it around that the Conservative party is dead in Manitoba but they will find after elections that the Conservative party has been very much alive. The great question to decide now is whether the people will return to office, a Government who was pledged to economy, but who really is the most extravagant Government Manitoba has ever had.

Brandon Discriminated Against

No other Government had imposed a direct tax on the people previous to 1915. The Norris Government was at their wit's end to know how to increase their revenue and they decided to do it through the Municipal Commissioner's levy. When the Patriotic Fund body was organized it was requested that a direct levy on the people should be imposed for patriotic purposes. Before doing this however it was decided that there should be equalized assessment. This was done in 1916 and the assessment was supposed to stand until 1921. However a great many complaints were received and courts of Revision were held all over the Province to adjust the assessments. Brandon's assessment was fixed at $12,900,000. By virtue of a short Act passed in January 1918 the Municipal Commissioner was given power to increase or adjust the assessment as he saw fit. The Province's total assessment was therefore reduced some $47,000,000 but Brandon's assessment was raised to $15,000,000. Last year Brandon paid $35,700 through the Municipal Commissioner's levies, while in 1915, it only paid $5,420. Brandon is being discriminated against in this respect, said the Conservative leader.

Estimated Expenditure

The Government's estimated expenditure for next year is over $10,000,000, an increase of over 100 per cent. on what it was under the old regime, and they were said to have been extravagant. The Municipal Commissioner's levy is supposed to raise $1,359,204 this year, although there is to be no levy for Patriotic purposes. In 1915 the revenue licenses etc. under the Automobile Act amounted to $40,000; this year it is fixed at $367,000. The Public Amusements Act is estimated to raise $400,000 next year. Mr. Willis went on to show the large sums which had been expended by the Government. The Tax commission had made their report but little has been heard concerning it. The Government is not satisfied with the assessment made previously in the rural districts and was said to be preparing to ask the rural assessors to assess the land at it's full value and the buildings at two-thirds their value.

Extravagant Administration

Mr. Willis said that under the former Government the Noxious Weed inspections only cost the Province $1,500, now it costs $15,000 and he does not believe that the service given is satisfactory. The Civil Servants are costing the Province $500,000 more than in 1915 and he did not think it necessary to increase the amount to that extent. The administration of justice is costing the Province over 100 times as much as it did under the old regime, and he mentioned the amounts of $32,132 paid to J. B. Coyne of Winnipeg, $16,500 to Hart-Green also of Winnipeg and to W. D. Card of Carberry the sum of $6,000.

Economy the Question

The great question to be considered at the present time is an economic administration, as there are no great public questions before the people, said Mr. Willis. The people should not be satisfied with the Norris Government as they have been very extravagant. Mr. Willis was strongly in favor of the money spent on the Mother's Allowance Act, but he did not consider that the affairs of the Province under the Manitoba Farm Loans and Rural Credits Acts are being conducted in a business-like way. The Farm loans have cost the Province over $60,000, and he did not think it good business on the part of the Government to loan money out at six per cent. when they could not get it themselves for that.

As far as the Rural Credits Act is concerned, it would be all right if it was carried out along the lines originally planned. It was intended for the needy farmers in the outlying districts, but it is now being carried all over the Province, and $3,000,000 had been loaned to the farmers. The banks had closed down on granting the loans at six per cent. and now the Rural Credits Societies are empowered to receive deposits from the people, but it is not likely that the people will fall in line with this new plan. The Norris Government does not tell the farmers that there is a tax of from $8 to $10 on every quarter section in the Province.

Why Pay Mileage?

In speaking of the Hon. Edward Brown's nomination at The Pas, the Conservative leader said that Mr. Brown first wanted to reclaim large lands in Northern Manitoba, and then promised that if the Dominion Government did not finish the Hudson's Bay Railway that Manitoba would, and even now he had a large number of men building a road through to the Flin Flon mines. Naturally when the people of The Pas heard that Mr. Brown was going to retire, they were very much interested and requested that he stay on. Mr. Brown reconsidered as The Pas elections are deferred, and should the Norris Government be defeated it will give him a chance to withdraw without going to the polls. The speaker mentioned the amount of $500 which Mr. Brown has inserted in this year's etimates for a dog race at The Pas, while he also asked why Mr. Brown should draw $500 for mileage when he never came down from The Pas. In fact Mr. Willis could not see why any members of the Legislature should draw mileage when they all have railroad passes.

People Demanded Temperance Act

The people deserve the credit for bringing the Temperance Act into force in the Province, and not the Norris Government as claimed. Mr. Willis does not think that the Temperance laws have been administered satisfactorily. About six months ago it was reported that fabulous sums had been made out of the act by Inspectors McLean and White, and an investigation followed. The Attorney-General published a report as a result of the investigation claiming that the administration of the Temperance Act is being done on a proper basis. However, when the session of parliament come on, returns were asked from the Attorney-General asking for the amount of confiscated liquor on hand, and where it was stored. The Attorney-General said they did not wish to disclose the place of the warehouse as it had been broken into and a large amount of liquor stolen. In pressing for a return of the amount of liquor confiscated throughout the Province it was found that no record is kept. The act says that all liquor confiscated must be sold or destroyed, and none had been sold. Mr. Willis asked why this was not done.

One of the inspectors, F. J. White, took a hurried departure for France and has not yet returned. Mr. Willis said the people of Winnipeg believe that confiscated liquor is being bootlegged on the streets of Winnipeg. The reurns for remitted fines showed forty land's fine of $300 had been returned, and Mr. Willis mentioned one in the Brandon Court where Mr. George Burland's fine of $30 had been remitted. In view of the facts presented Mr. Willis said no one will believe that the Temperance Act has been properly administered.

Mr. Willis said he had no apologies to offer for the Conservatives. The bonded indebtedness of the Government has increased over $10,000,000 while the estimated expenditure for next year is over $10,000,000, when the old regime had never spent over $5,000,000. Not one cent had been expended out of the consolidated revenue for public buildings by the Norris Government who will tell you, that they have spent the money for patriotic purposes. But all this money, said the Conservative leader has been paid out of the capital account and future generations will be paying for our patriotism.

Advance legislation had been placed on the books by the old regime, said the speaker. Then again the Province secured 2,000 miles of railroad that never cost the country a cent, while they have secured a reduction in the freight rates of three cents per 100 pounds to Port Arthur. Another act by the old regime was to give every person a telephone, and the revenue from the telephone system will shortly pay the cost of civil government. The farmers can all secure the phones now, but Mr. Willis predicted an increase in rates if the present Government continued their extravagance. The auto tax will probably be increased also, but the Conservative leader did not see that this should be unless the money so raised goes back into the roads.

A Supposed Non-Partizan

The Norris Government has created many new department. He mentioned the Civil Service Commissioner and that he was supposed to be non-partizan, and yet his name was mentioned at the Liberal convention here. This department is costing the Government $10,000 a year and he did not believe that the Province is getting any good out of it.

That the affairs of this Province could be conducted by the Conservatives for $8,000,000 this year, or $2,000,000 less than the Norris Government was the statement made by Mr. Willis, and that the direct tax on the people could be done away with. The Norris Government has been taxing the farmers off the land. Mr. Willis advocated a vigorous immigration policy that will place a family on every half section in Manitoba. He would not recommend large sums of money being spent in Northern Manitoba until the Dominion Government hands over the control of the natural resources to the Provincial Government.

In closing Mr. Willis said that the candidate selected by the convention to represent Brandon City was a splendid man, and he urged all the the true state of affairs before Allied in the interests of good economic government it is the duty of the electors to send Brigadier-General Kirkcaldy to the Legislature.

The meeting then closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

PROPOSE ELEVATORS TO STORE POTATOES

Member of Ontario Legislature to Introduce Bill for Providing Storage

Toronto, Ont., May 8.—T. L. Kennedy, M.P.P. for Peel, has given notice of motion that on account of the present high prices of foodstuffs, steps be taken by the government to remedy the situation by the construction of storage elevators for potatoes.

HUN DELEGATES WANT TO BE HEARD AT SPA CONFERENCE

Claim to Be Able to Prove Economic Position of Continent Depends on Germanay

Berlin, May 8—Germany's delegates to the Spa conference will refuse to attend that meeting if not assured that they will be given a hearing. Dr. Wirth, minister of finance, declared that they will be prepared to lay the true state of affairs before allied representatives and will be able to demonstrate that the economic position of the continent depends upon Germany.

CREW OF GERMAN STEAMER REVOLTS—SHIP IS SEIZED ON ARRIVAL IN RUSSIA

Copenhagen, May 8.—The German steamer Senator Schroeder has arrived at Archangel with sixty delegates of the German Independent Socialists who were smuggled aboard when the steamer left Cuxhaven on April 10th for Iceland. En route the crew is reported to have overpowered the officers, placed them in irons and made for Murmansk.

The steamer has been placed at the disposal of Soviet Russia.

MUTINY IN FIUME

Trieste, May 8.—A mutiny broke out in Fiume at five o'clock Thursday evening, a fierce battle between the carabineers and the Arditti developing. Twelve men were killed and fifty others wounded in the struggle. The troops involved are those of Gabriele D'Annunzio's forces.

THIEVING VERY COMMON IN BERLIN NOW

Robberies and Burglaries Increase At An Abnormal Pace Since War

Berlin, April 21.—(By mail)—In these disturbed days, when the "revolution profiteer"—the successor of the war profiteer—flaunts his newly acquired wealth in the face of an impoverished populace, robberies and burglaries in Berlin increase at an abnormal pace. Street signs are full of announcements offering rewards for the return of stolen goods, and in one of the main business streets of Berlin a fancy goods store displays this notice:

"Gentlemen burglars are requested not to break open the shop front nor to tamper with the ocks. There is nothing to steal here. All property is removed from the shop windows at night."

There have been scores of hold-ups, and the other day a man was stripped of his clothes, shoes and hat, and left on the sidewalk in his underclothes.

It is not safe for hotel guests to leave any portable property of any description in their rooms. Articles of clothing have a way of vanishing into thin air, and hotel proprietors decline all responsibility. Police statistics indicate that the number of hotel robberies has trebled within the last five years.

To leave typewriters unpadlocked is sheer culpable negligence on the part of the owner. The Berlin criminal police has been obliged to organize a special department dealing exclusively with stolen machines.

Cases of housebreaking have quadrupled within the last three years. Articles of clothing, bedclothes, carpets and curtains are the objects most desired by the thieving fraternity.

Dishonesty among factory hands has grown to a deplorable extent, the police say. Leather belting disappears wholesale; it is cut up and sold to shoe repairers.

Nor are churches, cemeteries and museums immune from robberies, the booty corried off being mostly ancient gold ornaments and jewelry.

FRENCH BELIEVE BRITISH MERCHANTS STEAL MARCH ON THEIR TRADE RIVALS

Paris, May 8.—That Great Britain has stolen a march on the United States and France in the resumption of business relations with Germany, is the opinion expressed by French merchants who have tried to buy goods across the Rhine. In the great majority of cases, merchants report that the German manufacturer replies to a query, that his plant will be tied up for a long time to come, by contracts with British customers.

ELECTION DATES MAY BE JULY 2 OR 5

Report at Manitoba Parliament Buildings Lacks Official Confirmation

Winnipeg, May 8.—Although lacking official confirmation it was stated at the Parliament Buildings that the date of the provincial elections will fall on July 2nd or 5th. Registration will commence in Winnipeg on Monday and will continue until Wednesday. It is pointed out that everyone must register and that the fact that an elector voted at the last election does not mean that his or her name is carried over on the new lists. The voters' lists for Winnipeg and the other urban centres of the province are prepared brand new, and all wishing the vote must register.

BULLET FROM STARTER'S PISTOL KILLS MOTHER ATTENDING FIELD MEET

Bowling Green, Ohio, May 8.—While attending a school field meet, in which her son was a participant, Mrs. F. Mahl, 46, mother of three children, was instantly killed when a bullet, said to have been fired from a starter's pistol, struck her in the chest.

MINIMUM WAGE FOR FAMILY OF FIVE IN U.S IS $2,500

According to Consulting Economist Employed by Railroad Brotherhoods

FUNDAMENTAL CAUSE

for Present Day Ills Said to Be High Prices and Profiteering

Washington, May 8.—A minimum of $2,500 a year is necessary for the support of a family of five in the United States, W. Jett Lauck, consulting economist for the railroad brotherhood, asserted today before the railway labor board. Lauck, who yesterday charged corporate profiteers with being chiefly responsible for present living costs, presented today a demand on behalf of 2,500,000 American railway employes for the establishment of a minimum wage throughout the industry. In his statement he declared that the "fundamental cause of all the economic instability, all the industrial unrest, all the interruptions of production and distribution has been high prices and profiteering by organized capital and middlemen and retailers."

CATHOLIC PARTY MAY UPSET THE ITALIAN PREMIER

It is Condemned by Them; He Showed Weakness in Dealing With Socialists

Rome, May 8.—Opinion in parliamentary circles is that Premier Nitti is running a risk of being overthrown. This is said to be due to the decision of the Catholic party to vote against the Premier. The members of the party consider that he showed weakness in his lenient attitude toward the Socialists during recent disturbances in Northern Italy.

COMMISSIONER AND COUNCIL TO LOOK AFTER PALESTINE

Until Popular Representation Can Be Introduced Into That Land

London, May 8.—Dr. Chayim Weisemann, president of the World Zionist commission and head of the Zionist delegation to the peace conference, says the government of Palestine will be placed in the hands of the high commissioner and a council until such times as popular representation can be introduced in the country. The new administration will begin in about a month or six weeks.

A Terrible Penalty

frequently follows the neglect of an injury. Germs and dust get into the wound, it begins to fester, blood-poisoning sets in, and sometimes the loss of a limb is the result.

Safeguard yourself against such a possibility by applying Zam-Buk at once. This antiseptic balm destroys all germs and prevents festering and blood-poisoning. Then the healing essences promote the growth of new tissue and it is not long before the wound is completely healed.

Zam-Buk should be kept handy in every home, office, store and factory for cuts, scratches, burns, scalds and bruises. It is equally good for eczema, rashes, boils and ulcers. All dealers, 50c. box.

DYNAMITE LETS GO INJURING FOUR WELL DIGGERS

Four Men in Morden Hospital Suffering From Injuries Received

Morden, Man., May 8.—Four mean are lying in the General Hospital here suffering injuries occasioned by the premature detonation of a charge of dynamite which occurred while they were engaged in sinking a well at Walteim, yesterday afternoon. Operations were in charge of Isaac Kaler, senior, a well digger whose home is at Winkler. Helping him, were his 18-year-old son Isaac, and two other men. It appears that Kaler was handling the charge when it exploded.

Kaler had his right arm blown off at the elbow, his son's left arm was blown off at the wrist and his body terribly lacerated. Peter Heppner and Isaac Dyck, while badly bruised and shaken by the explosion, escaped mutilation.

ABERDEEN ANGUS BOYS' CALF CLUB A HEALTHY ONE

Thirty Applications Already Received—Boys and Girls Interested

Already about thirty applications have been received for membership in the Brandon District Aberdeen Angus Calf Club. Boys and girls are taking a great interest in this new movement with pure bred cattle and they are writing continuously for application forms to join this club. Many of the details which held some boys back have been cleared up and definite answers can now be given to all questions on organization and membership.

Members who wish to do so may purchase their own calves, but if they do so the committee does take any responsibility for the financing of their purchase, they are obliged to make arrangements with the breeder from whom they buy. Most of the breeders are quite willing to take the boys or girls notes on the same terms as the bank so that this provision does not prevent really progressive boys who like to back their own judgement from becoming members. Members may also secure their calves from their parents or guardians providing such parent or guardian is a breeder of Aberdeen Angus cattle. In the case of all others who join, the committee will purchase the calves and allott them by numbers after having had a competent judge place a valuation on each calf.

To overcome the difficulties that certain members might meet with on account of a suitable bull not being available to breed the heifers at the right time, the committee will undertake to put a good bull in the district if their are a number of members of the club. In this way the difficulties of taking the heifers a long way to be bred will be overcome and there will be every assurance that all heifers will be bred before the competition.

The prize list for this great competition is nearing completion and it should be attractive to every boy and girl in the Brandon District. The total prize money offered in this class will be not less than $1,000. The following is the approximate amount of each prize: 1st, $100.00; 2nd, $95.00; 3rd, $90.00; 4th, $85.00; 5th, $80.00; 6th, $75.00; 7th, $70.00; 8th, $65.00; 9th, $60.00; 10th, $55.00; 11th, $50.00; 12th, $45; 13th, $40.000; 14th, $35.00; 15th, $30.00; 16th, $25.00. This makes a total of sixteen prizes with $1,000 in cash offered and in addition to this the calves will be eligible to show in the regular classes of the exhibition. In addition to this it is hoped to be able to announce a cash payment to every member of the club who exhibits a heifer at the first show of the club at Brandon Provincial Exhibition in July 1921.

The financing of this club is done upon the boys and girls own responsibilities by the Canadian Bank of Commerce. The parents do not assume any responsibility or liability. The object is to interest the young people of the Brandon district in the best of pure bred live stock and at the same time teach them something about the care and handling of the such animals.

Any boy or girl over nine and under nineteen may become a member, providing that they are willing to undertake the care and feeding of a yearling pure bred Aberdeen Angus heifer. All anyone has to do is to make formal application for membership in the club and the heifers will be provided and the members' note taken in settlement. Only good calves will be supplied and they will be supplied at a reasonable price by a number of breeders of Aberdeen Angus cattle. If sufficient calves are not available to supply all club members they will be imported under the supervision of the committee.

Application forms are supplied on application to F. W. Crawford, Secretary of the Canadian Aberdeen Angus Association, Brandon, Manitoba.

NEW YORK RESORTS CLOSE: PLEASURE SEEKERS NOW MOVING TO MONTREAL

Regina, May 11.—Except for its lights, the "Great White Way" of New York has disappeared. With the coming of prohibition the night life of Broadway is a thing of the past. This is the information brought to the city by W. H. A. Hill, of the firm of McCallum, Hill & Co., who has just returned from a business trip to the East, during which he visited Toronto, Montreal and New York.

Mr. Hill reports that much of the former activity of New York has been transferred to Montreal, and that that city is now one of the most lively on the continent. He says that all the favorite resorts of the American city are closing down, are being forced to give up business, because they have no patronage. On the other hand, Montreal is full of American tourists who appear to find the city a convenient and agreeable place in which to spend a vacation.

BETTER SALARIES FOR METHODIST CLERGY IN CANADA

Sec'y. Superannuation Department Issues Challenge to Laymen to Improve Conditions

Toronto, May 5.—"Does the church know, and, knowing, does she care, that scores of the families at present occupying our parsonages, despite the most rigidly practiced economy, are driven almost to desperation because of failure to make ends meet?"

That is the challenge that Rev. R. J. D. Simpson, Secretary of the Superanuation Department of the Methodist church, gives to the church as a whole on the issue of ministerial salaries just a month before the various conferences are due to meet.

He puts it up to the Canadian Methodists to deal generously this year with their clergy. The church does not know, because these men are too proud and too heroic to voice any complaint, but is it not high time that someone should lift up the voice of protest against conditions which are little short of tragic and which today are wholly unnecessary?

TIMES EXPERT PRAISES MERGER

Declares British Steel Workers Take Wise Step to Safeguard Materials

London, May 5.—The press gives ample details of the great industrial merger that Colonel Grant Morden has organized, but there is little editorial comment offered.

The Times financial writer says it marks a new stage in the era of industrial combinations, and it will probaby prove the forerunner of others if the British Empire is to reap full benefits from the association of self-governing nations in development. The British steel makers are taking a wise step in safeguarding their future supply of raw material and providing Canada with the opportunity of working her mineral resources on a big scale.

The writer urges the promoters to eschew temptation to create excessive capital.

The Daily News advises the public to carefully examine how the capital figures were arrived at and the prospects of profit-earning.

The Express congratulates Colonel Morden on what is not only a brilliant success for him personally, but also "an event of tremendous importance to the economic life of the British people."

ALBERTA BONDS SOLD IN STATES

Bonds Were Offered in the U. S. to Yield the Invertor 7½ Per Cent

Toronto, May 7.—Alberta bond issues were disposed of quickly in the U. S. market Wednesday through a syndicate of Toronto and American bond houses. Only one bid was made for the $1,000,000 issue. Later arrangements were completed whereby the syndicate which bought the $12,000,000 purchased the additional 1,000,000.

At the price of 101.57, the province borrows on a basis of about 5.40 p.c. in Canadian money. Owing to the position of exchange the bonds were offered in the U. S. to yield the investor 7 1-2 per cent.

FARMERS MAY NAME OPPONENT TO J. D. BASKERVILLE, M. L. A.

Emerson, Man., May 5.—The meeting of United Farmers called to consider the question of nominating a candidate to contest this constituency at the elections this Summer in opposition to J. D. Baskerville, M.L.A., and the Norris Government, failed to come to a decision, many of those attending not being very strongly in favor of the proposition. Not much fault was found with either the Government or Mr. Baskerville. A committee was appointed to consider the matter of holding a farmers' convention and authorized to call same if it is deemed advisable.

T. W. Knowles was the chief spokesman at the meeting.

SEARCHERS RECOVER BODY

CANADA TO SEND DELEGATES TO THE GENOA CONFERENCE

Second International Labor Meeting to Take Up Questions Effecting Seamen

Ottawa, May 6.—Canada will be represented at the second international labor conference called under the auspices of the League of Nations. The conference is due to open in Genoa, Italy, on June 15th. The Canadian delegates will be: Government, Sir George Perley, high commissioner in London; G. J. Desbarats, deputy minister of naval service; employers, Thomas Robb, Montreal, Shipping Federation of Canada; workers, G. J. Gauthier, Montreal, Seamen's union.

The conference has been specially called to deal with labor questions affecting seamen. It will deal, among other subjects, with the question of the application to seamen of the eight-hour day convention passed at the first conference held in Washington last November. In this regard, one phase of the discussion will be of special interest to Canada. When the original draft was submitted to the Washington conference, it made the eight-hour day applicable to men employed in transportation on inland waterways. On the suggestion of the Canadian Government delegates, this feature of the proposed convention was held over for the special conference and will be considered at Genoa.

The special conference will take the place of the regular international labor conference for this year. The next regular conference will probably be held in Geneva in March, 1921.

CANADIAN MERCHANT MARINE TO HAVE 8 MORE VESSELS

Ottawa, May 11.—Before the end of the month, eight more vessels will have been added to the Canadian merchant marine, increasing the number of ships built and actually delivered to 84. By the end of the fiscal year, it is stated at the marine department, the shipbuilding program will be practically complete. All but eight of the vessels contracted for will then have been delivered and these will be well on the way

RUSSIAN INSTANTLY KILLED WHEN RUN OVER BY TRAIN

Got on Train to Say Farewell to Friend—Killed After Alighting

Winnipeg, May 11.—John Kowal, a Russian, 38 years old, 11 Simmons block, was instantly killed shortly after 8 a.m. Monday when he was run over by C.P.R. train No. 2, Eastbound, at a joint just opposite Ogilvie's flour mill.

Lena Grebenczuyk, with whom Kowal is said to have been living, was on the train with her 18-year-old son, bound for Austria. According to information, Kowal boarded the train at the C.P.R. depot to say goodbye to her. He remained on the train until it reached the flour mill, when he was seen on the platform of one of the cars by some boys who knew him.

He waved to the boys, it is said, and shouted good-bye to them. He then jumped and ran alongside the train for a short distance.

The boys next saw a cloud of dust arise. The train stopped after running about 90 yards, someone having pulled the bell cord.

Boys Find Decapitated Body

When Walter Polosky, one of the boys, reached the spot he found Kowal's body lying between the East and West bound tracks. The head had been severed and was lying between the rails about two yards from the body.

A certain amount of conflicting evidence has been given by persons who are said to have witnessed the affair. Some say that Kowal jumped from the platform between the cars to the track below. Others declare that he jumped from the train and, running alongside in a last effort to say goodbye, fell under the wheels. His home was just opposite where the accident occurred.

The Grebenczpyk woman told the police that she knew nothing of the affair. She and her son remained on the train when it proceeded.

TRIAL WINNIPEG STRIKE LEADERS COSTS DOMINION GOVERNMENT $154,271.09

Ottawa, May 11.—The trial of the strike leaders in Winnipeg cost the Dominion Government $154,271.09, of which $50,000 has not yet been paid. This information was given by the Minister of Justice in the House of Commons in answer to a question by Ernest La Pointe (Quebec East). The government counsel, it was stated, were: Andrews, Andrews, Burbridge and Basteed; J. B. Coyne, K.C., Travers Sweatman, Isaac Pitblado, K.C., and W. W. Richardson. They were retained direct by the Dominion Government.

WHEAT BOARD MAY BE RETAINED ANOTHER YEAR

Because European Governments Are Buying on a Co-operative or Controlled Basis

Ottawa, May 11.—The Government has not yet contemplated renewing the term of office of the Wheat Board, Sir George Foster informed the House Monday afternoon in answer to a question by Major D. W. Andrews (Centre Winnipeg). The term of the present board expires when the entire wheat crop of 1919 has been marketed probably about September 1st next.

Full payment on Participation Certificates cannot be made until all the crop has been marketed and the payments and expenses adjusted. Farmers holding these certificates can reasonably count on receiving at least 40 cents per bushel in cash payment for the certificates, Sir George stated.

Ottawa, May 11.—Western supporters of the Government in caucus Monday practically decided to favor the principle of continuing the Canadian Wheat Board. Members who represent large farming constituencies contended that as European Governments were buying on a co-operative or controlled basis, the only safe course was for the farmers of Canada, through the Government, to adopt a similar course. Another matter taken up was the plea of the rural postmasters and mail carriers for increased pay. A committee was appointed to take the matter up with the Government.
