Ottawa, May 11.—Sir Robert Borden will leave New York tonight, and will arrive at the capital in time to hear his new Finance Minister, Sir Henry Drayton, deliver his first budget on Wednesday afternoon. Thursday is Ascension Day, and it is quite possible that the house will adjourn until Monday in order that the premier may have an opportunity to confer with his collegues, and pick up the loose ends which have accumulated since his departure several months ago. The opposition critics will also have a chance to develop their lines of attack on the budget proposals. The Premier's health is said to be considerably improved, but there is nobody here who would predict that he will remain for long as active Premier and leader. The general impression is that Sir George Foster will continue to lead the house until arrangements can be made for complete reconstruction. A general caucus of Government supporters will be held shortly after the Prime Minister's return, and at this the whole question of the future of the Union will be threshed out.

Present Taxes to Remain

The budget proposals are a matter for conjecture at the present time. It is anticipated that present forms of taxation will be maintained, including the Income and Excess Profits Taxes. Collections during the past year from these two sources totalled about a hundred millions, which is an amount much in excess of the total for any previons year. It is believed that the collections for the coming year will be even greater, inasmuch as the machinery is now running much more smoothly, and the number of assessments under the Income Tax has increased.

There is talk of a tax being imposed on luxuries; there is further talk of an excise duty being imposed on Canadian manufacturers who now enjoy protection. The move for increased sessional indemnities continues, and it is now stated that an increase of from $2,500 to $4,000 a year is almost assured.

Wetern Unionists in Conference

Western supporters of the Government held a further conference to discuss their attitude in relation to budget matters, particularly in relation to the method of raising additional revenue during the coming year. While the Excise Tax is strongly favored, those most in favor of it now express some doubt of its being adopted to any extent this year. Tariff reduction, natural resources, and Income Tax were also discussed at some length.

Premier's Health Much Improved

New York, May 11. — Sir Robert Borden, Prime Minister of Canada, will be back in Ottawa on Wednesday. Sir Robert, accompanied by Lady Borden, arrived here from the South on Friday.

It is stated that the Premier finds himself greatly improved in health as a result of his sojourn in the South. The visit to New York was merely for the purpose of breaking the return journey to Canada, and while in this city Sir Robert refused to make any statement on public affairs. The Premier's party includes George W. Yates, his confidential secretary, and J. W. Pugsley, of the Canadian Department of Railways.

Her hat was a smart model of sand and navy taffeta with French flowers and she wore a corsage bouquet of Richmond roses.

OBITUARY

John W. Humbert

The remains of the late Mr. John W. Humbert, who passed away in the city on Monday, were shipped from Brockie's undertaking parlors on Wednesday to Grande Clairiere, Man., the former home of the deceased, where interment will be made.

Charles R. Stewart

One of the earliest settlers of Brandon district passed away last month at his home in Stellarton Nova Scotia, in the person of Mr. Charles R. Stewart, who with Rev. George Roddick, came to Brandon district to reside in 1879. At that time there was no railroad beyond Winnipeg so that they had to complete their journey with horse and oxen. Twenty-eight years later, the late Mr. Stewart moved to Kelowna, B.C., to reside, and after five years there, returned East to Nova Scotia, where he has lived since that time.

Born at Durham sixty-five years ago, the late Mr. Stewart was highly respected by all who knew him. He was a true friend and was always actively interested in every good work, religious, social and civic.

He was married 28 years ago to Anna Creighton of Durham, who, with two daughters, Kathleen and Bessie, survive him.

The tragic, but heroic death of his bright and only son, Creighton, who was killed in action just two years ago at the early age of 20 years, cast a shadow over his last years of weakness and undoubtedly hastened the end.

The funeral service was largely attended. Interment took place at Durham, as he wished, where the cemetery lies side by side his old school playground.

Henry Tooke

After just a few days' illness, Mr. Henry Tooke passed away this morning at the family residence, 522 Seventh street, at the age of seventy-six years. The late Mr. Tooke came to Brandon from England in 1889 and was well known in the city as a gardener and also as sexton of the First Methodist Church, which position he held for a number of years. His wife predeceased him a few months ago. The late Mr. Tooke is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Hearn, and two sons, Messrs. Percy and Sidney Tooke, all of Brandon.

Mrs. Wm. Hockley

Friends in North Brandon district of Mrs. Wm. Hockley were shocked to learn of her death which occurred very suddenly at her home in Eburne, B.C., on May 6th. Mr. and Mrs. Hockley were among the most popular and highly respected residents of the North Brandon district when they sold their farm last Fall and moved to the coast, largely on account of Mrs. Hockley's health. The late Mrs. Hockley and her husband were especially active workers in the North Brandon Union Church and their loss to the community when they moved West was greatly felt. Besides her hrsband there are left to mourn her loss, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hockley and family of Brandon district, a son, Vernon, and a sister, Miss Scott, who was residing with them at the time of Mrs. Hockley's death.

CITY COUNCIL PROCLAIMS JUNE 17 PUBLIC HOLIDAY

So That All May Enjoy Sports Program That Is Being Arranged

THREE DELEGATIONS

Wait on City Council—Decision on Abolition of Wards to Be Left to Ratepayers

A civic holiday will be declared on Thursday, June 17th, the day of the Turf Club's race meet in Brandon. This was decided Monday evening at the regular meeting of the City Council, following the hearing of a delegation who outlined plans for a big day's celebration. Three delegations were heard during the evening, and several matters of importance discussed. A decision regarding the abolition of the ward system will be left over until next Fall when the ratepayers will probably be asked to vote on this question. A grant was asked for the City Band, after it was stated that the Great War Veterans and City Bands have now amalgamated.

Asking that Thursday, June 17th should be a public holiday, Mr. P. Payne appeared before the Council on behalf of the Turf Club. He outlined the program for the day which included ball games, races at the Exhibition grounds, and a street dance in the evening conducted by the Kiwanians. All the proceeds of the day, after expenses have been paid, will go to the General Hospital, Mr. Payne said. Mr. N. W. Kerr also spoke to the Council and urged the granting of the request. He also asked that the Council grant the use of Ninth street between Princess and Louise avenues for the street dance in the evening. The Council unanimously declared for a public holiday in Brandon on June 17th.

Abolition of Wards

A letter was received from the City Clerk advising the Council to take some definite action as regards the abolition of the ward system. If it was the intention of the Council to take advantage of the legislation secured some time ago, the City Clerk asked that it be done at once, as the Voters' Lists could not be held any longer. Alderman Carey said that having the ratepayers vote on this single question, once would result in a great cost and advised that the matter be taken up next Fall at the time of the municipal elections. Alderman Grantham said that it might be possible to eliminate some of the cost by voting on the question when the Ward Five elections are being held, but the Council decided to adopt Alderman Carey's suggestion and leave the matter over until next Fall.

To Discontinue Normal School Car Service

The Normal School car is to be taken off the Normal School loop at once, and run on the Southern Avenue route. This was decided after another long discussion on this much-debated question. The suggestion to run both cars on the Southern Avenue route came from Alderman Carey, and it received bitter opposition from Aldermen Grantham and Hales. It appears that for the present the Council will not attempt to put in a small loop as originally planned but will merely take the car off the Normal School route. Alderman Hales said that if this is the intention of the Council, "why kill the service." H. L. Patmore was present and spoke regarding the proposed change. He said that the Council had an agreement with the Government that if the Normal School was built on its present property that the city would run the car line in front of the building and maintain a service. Mr. Patmore asked the City Fathers if they were considering this agreement as "merely a scrap of paper." He characterized the Normal School route as the best paying piece of track on the system, and that if it did not pay it is the fault of the Council. Following the discussion on the matter the Council voted on the question with the result that Alderman Carey's resolution taking the car off the Normal School route was carried.

Ask Grant for City Band

A grant for a city band was asked by a large delegation of bandsmen and

ANNUAL CLASS DAY EXERCISES AT BRANDON COLLEGE

Class '20 Bid Alma Mater and Fellow Students a Formal Farewell

The annual Class Day Exercises of Brandon College were held in the College Chapel on Monday afternoon commencing at three o'clock, when the members of the graduating class gave a formal farewell to their Alma Mater and fellow students. A large number of students and friends assembled for the occasion. Dr. C. W. New, B.A., B.D., Ph. D., the Honary President of Class '20 presided at the exercises and gave a very stirring introductory address. He commented on his close associations with the class during the past four years. Moreover he said he felt as though this were his valedictory as well because this too, is his last year at Brandon College. Dr. New closed his address with some very practical advice to the students, who are going out to various vacations ,counselling them to use to the best advantage in practical life all that they gained from their college training.

The Class history was read from a most imposing scroll tied with the class colors, blue and silver, by Miss A. A. Santord. Mr. F. E. Howard extolled the virtues of his classmates in his poem while Mr. D. H. Beaubier foretold their future in a most graphic way. The musical program included a violin solo "Legende" Wieniawski, by Mr. Weaver; the Class Song "Where Oh Where are the Verdant Freshman"; solo. One Fleeting Hour," by Mr. C. G. Stone; Song, "The Faculty" by Class '20; song, "Brandon,' also by Class '20 and the College Song, "Hail Our College." The valedictory which closed the exercises was delivered by Miss Elizabeth Greig and will be reproduced in another issue.

SALARY SCHEDULE TO BE PRESENTED TO THE TEACHERS

Decision Reached at Conference Between School Board and Teachers

SIX ROOM SCHOOL

May Be Built on Flats—Effort Now Being Made to Secure Property

As the result of an informal discussion between representatives of the Brandon Teachers Association and the Brandon School Board, a schedule of salaries is to be prepared by the Board and submitted to the teachers. The conference took place Monday evening, and except for a full discussion on the general terms of the schedule there was no committment by either the teachers or the School Board on any of the plans discussed. The representatives from the Teachers' Association did not have any definite plan to submit, so after giving some suggestions to the School Board it was mutually decided that the Board should prepare a schedule and submit it to the Teachers' Association for their approval. It was also agreed that this tentalve schedule should be prepared within a week's time if possible. Misses Redmond, Rathwell, Harrison and Noble and Mr. E. Knapp represented the teachers.

A Six Room School

Besides meeting the teachers, the School Board took up the question of erectnig a six roomed school on the Flats. Negotiations have been carried on for some time by the School Board to purchase certain property on Thirteenth street, North, with a view to enlarging the present school in that district. Should the present plans be considered favorably when later negotiations develop, the School Board will erect another six room school adjacent to the present building.

The School Board also passed a by-law to draw $75,000 of the $150,000 which the School Board has authority to raise by reason of the bylaw passed by the ratepayers last Fall. Of this amount, a large portion will be used in connection with the extensions to the King George School.

COURT OF REVISION IS ONLY PLACE TO ENROLL NOW

Some Particulars Concerning Regulations Made Known now Registration Is Over

Now that registration is apparently over, the cloud of mystery which prevailed during the days when it was possible to register is being somewhat lifted. It is leearned in rural districts that if a person neglected to register until the clerk has passed to another poll, he or she may attend the sitting there and have their name enrolled, though of course all must register in their own constituency. If registration is finished in the constituency one can still be enrolled by presenting oneself with evidence of eligibility at the Court of Revision. This is absolutely the last opportunity for those who have not registered who wish to vote in the election this year. As it is most important that every man and woman entitled to vote should cast their ballot in the coming elections, it is hoped that all names not alreeady entered will be submitted to the Court of Revision .

254 CASES OF MEASLES

Measles still continue to keep the Health Department officials busy placarding houses in the city, the total number of cases reported now being 451. Of this number there are still 254 persons ill with measles at the present time. No decrease is shown as yet in the number being reported daily, and it is stated by the Health Officer that the epidemic will probably run itself out only when it has travelled all over the city.

SIR HENRY DRAYTON FINANCE MINISTER PRESENTS BUDGET

Present Duty to Carry on Government Without Additions to Debt and to Promote Measures Which Will Reduce Indebtedness—Canada's Net Debt $1,935,946,312.85—Revenue for Fiscal Year 1919-20, Approximately $388,000,000, the Largest Ever Collected

Ottawa, May 18.—Sir Henry Drayton, Minister of Finance, presented his first budget to the House today. Prior to stating his taxation proposals, Sir Henry gave an extensive review of the financial and economic position of the Dominion. The conditions obtaining, not only in Canada but all over the world, he said, were very different from the conditions which prevailed while the war was in progress. Then, the compelling necessity of the moment required the raising of large sums of money. It was absolutely imperative that there should be no check on production, no hindering of the war effort. Today, conditions were changed, the war was won. Expenses were great, Canada, with other countries which participated in the struggle, was faced with a pyramid of debt. "Our duty today," Sir Henry Drayton declared, "is not only to carry on the government of the country without any additions to debt, but on the other hand to promote measures which will reduce the nation's indebtedness." The task, while heavy, was not so severe as the obstacle which Canada had overcome in five years of war and stress.

"Indeed," Sir Henry proceeded, "were it possible for the country again to become as united and earnest as it was during the war period, if it were possible for each and all of us to sink all differences, class and sectional interest and jealousness into an effort towards re-establishing a Canada as united and co-ordinated as that which won the war, the task would indeed be easy and simple."

"If," Sir Henry said, "the progress of the past be but a fair indication, the problems of today and tomorrow may be faced without doubt of a successful issue."

The National Debt

At the end of the financial year, the national debt according to the ledgers in the Finance Department, stood, gross debt $3,014,483,774.12 less an investment of $1,078,537,461.27. Net debt $1,935,946,312.85.

Beyond all question, he said, it was a matter of importance that the exact position of the country's debt should be clear. While the books were correctly kept and entries properly made, some of the investments could not be characterized as active investments.

Sir Henry allowed $337,359,124.04 for inactive assets. This included advances to the Canadian Northern, Grand Trunk Pacific and Grand Trunk Railways, and some other items, and this amount increased the net national debt to $2,273,305,436.92.

High Prices the World O'er

High prices in Canada were not made by Canadian action alone. They were the result of the general trend in prices of commodities the world over. Today, were it possible suddenly in deflate Canadian credits and circulation, with the general demand for commodities that today existed, the influence on the situation would be negligible. Prices would continue high and the only result of Canadian public consent to withdrawal of purchasing power would be stagnation of business, unemployment and loss of production. The revenue for the fiscal year 1919-20 would reach approximately $388,000,000. The largest revenue Canada had ever collected. It was no less than two hundred and fifty millions greater than that of the first year of the war. With a total revenue of $388,000,000 and ordinary expenditure of $349,000,000 it would seem that during the fiscal year, the government after meeting all ordinary expenditure, including an increased amount for interest account and pensions over previous year, totalling nearly $39,000,000, had a surplus of approximately $39,000,000 over ordinary expenditure, to apply on capital expenditure.

Demobilization expenditure for 1919-20 would amount to $350,000,000 making the total outlay for the year of $886,741,110. Total expenditures for war up to and including March 31, 1920, amounted to $1,674,000,000, apart altogether from such expenses resulting from war pensions, soldiers' civil re-establishment, soldiers' land settlement, and interest on the war debt.

CIVIC AIRDROME A POSSIBILITY THIS SUMMER

Air Board Asks City to Furnish Site and Markings—May Loan Hangar

Brandon may have a municipal airdrome. The matter is receiving the attention of Alderman H. O. McDiarmid, who has been appointed by the City Council to investigate the matter fully and report. Lieut.-Colonel J. S. Scott, Superintendent of the Certificate Branch of the Air Board was in the West some time ago deciding on locations for municipal airdromes, and will probably return West shortly when he will stop off in Brandon.

In a letter received from Lieut.-Colonel Scott a few days ago, the main features in connection with a municipal airdrome were discussed. The municipality furnishes the ground, and the Air Board makes it clear that they do not ask the municipality to go to any expense except acquiring the ground and marking a landing place. The airdrome would be managed on the basis of the present motor car garage, the city would give a contract to any reliable flying firm to operate their airdrome, and the revenue would be the landing fees, the storage of the machines, repairs, and the furnishing of gasoline and oil. Lieut.-Colonel Scott stated in his letter that if the city makes an application to the Air Board, that Brandon could possibly obtain the loan of a Bessoneau Hangar, whic his sufficiently large to hold six machnes.

There is a splendid site in the East end which belongs to the city and which could be used as a landing site for airplanes and when the Superintendent of the Certificate Branch again visits the West, he will probably be taken around the city, and the matter fully gone into.

A GREAT OPPORTUNITY FOR NEW COMPETITORS

The big $8,000 campaign has been in operation for some little time, and naturally prospective competitors who would otherwise enter the race for one of the big Touring Cars or other free prizes are somewhat backward about entering, fearing that other competitors already enrolled might have gained a lead which would be difficult to overcome. Although this is far from being the case, and although an entirely new entrant still has the most excellent chances of being the biggest winner, a great many might still hesitate about trying to overcome what lead there might be.

This is exactly why the new Chevrolet offer has been put on. New competitors and old, start in an equal basis on what might be styled an entirely new Competition. No work done before the announcement of the offer will count and consequently those who have hesitated about entering should "jump" at the exceptional opportunity.

Organize Your Territory

In every part of the country there is work to be done. It will take the subscriptions of the country territory to win the prize thus opening an excellent field for new competitors in country territory. Many parts of the country have competitors who are not working. Why not enter yourself and take up the work. Telephone all your friends; have them hold their subscriptions for you; supply them with receipts books to assist you in the work. The Competition Department will supply you with the necessary lists of subscribers for every part of the territory, thus making the work easier. A good, snappy three weeks campaign, and the $1,145 Chevrolet Touring Car is yours. No opportunity could be better. Get the early start by sending in your name Now. The Chevrolet will be easily won and yours will be the regret when you see someone else carry off the prize which might as easily have been yours.

ANOTHER BUILDING AT INSANE HOSPITAL

For Reception of Patients While Cases Are Being Investigated

A receiving building where all patients will be kept until their cases have been investigated, is now being commenced at the Hospital for the Insane. There are no particulars given as yet as to what the building will cost, but it is stated that it will be a large one, 283x207 feet, three storeys in height. Excavation has already been commenced, and the contractor is waiting further word from Winnipeg as to the other particulars in connection with the building .

The excavation for the Nurses Home has been completed and a start was made on the cement work on Monday. The difficulty in getting material for building is interefering somewhat with rapid progress being made both on the Nurses Home and at the Colony Farm, but the work is being rushed along as fast as possib.

WINNIPEG CITIZENS OBJECT TO DEEP WATERWAYS IDEA

Tell Commission They Would Rather Have Inexpensive Hudson's Bay Railway

FURTHER INFORMATION

Asked for Regarding Scheme—Not the Right Time for Expenditure

Winnipeg, May 17.—Opposition to the St. Lawrence Deep Waterways scheme on the ground, first, of expense, and second, because the comparatively inexpensive Hudson's Bay Railway—Western Canada's natural tidewater outlet—had been neglected, was voiced by Mayor C. F. Gray, and other citizens of Winnipeg at a sitting of the International Joint Waterways Commission held at he Civ Hall Saurday.

The commission, comprises H. A Powell, Sir William Hearst and C. A. Magrath, as Canadian representatives and Clarence Clark, R. B. Glenn and Obediah Gardner, as United States representatives, with Mr. Magrath as chairman.

The commissioners intended sitting here Saturday and again Monday, but so few persons attended the session that the entire hearing was concluded in less than two hours. The commission proceeded Sunday to its next stopping place, Grand Forks, N.D.

In opening, Chairman Magrath briefly outlined the object of the present inquiry. It concerned, he said, one of the most important questions ever given by a Government to a group of men to consider. The St. Lawrence Deep Waterways scheme, he said, would cost from $200,000,000 to $400,000,000 to complete, engineers had not as yet been able to determine.

"The first thing to be determined, however," he said, "and the commission must be satisfied on this point before making its report, is, will the benefits acruing to both countries be commensurate with the enormous expense involved. It is very easy to say we need waterpower traffic facilities, but the question is can net benefit be derived from the project. That is the problem we have to solve."

It was further explained that the commission will also determine what share of the undertaking will be borne by each government.

Gray Presents Views

Mayor Gray was the first delegate. He represented, he said, part of the City Council, and spoke generally as a Western Canadian.

In opening, his worship admitted that the scheme would be very good when completed, but at the same time he realized that it involved an enormous expenditure of public money. Furthermore, it would take a long time to complete.

"It is a scheme not for the near future," he said.

"For years in the West," he continue, "we have urged completion of the Hudson's Bay Railway, which would mean a total expenditure of $4,000,000. In view of this it seems a little premature in my opinion to ask the West to sanction the construction of an undertaking involving the expenditure of $400,000,000.

At some length the mayor dwelt on the good effect upon the West early completion of the Hudson's Bay Railway would have. This road would not only bring tidewater within a short rail- haul from Winnipeg, he argued, but it would open up 2,000 miles of territory, pregnant with possibilities and practically limitless as to development. The mayor also referred to the waterway scheme suggested for Northern Manitoba. This scheme would cost $35,000,000 to undertake, but it would release 2,000,000 horse power from the Nelson River, and would also open up an enormous tract of virgin territory rich in natural wealth.

Want Information

T. R. Deacon, vice-president of the Canadian Deep Waterways Association and Director of the Board of Trade, told the committee that Western Canada business men had not sufficient information regarding the project to discuss it intelligently at this time. He stated that he did not think that was the right time for such an enormous expenditure.

W. A. Milner, Secretary of the Board of Trade, stated that the Board of Trade thought the time was not opportune to ask the Dominion Government to spend so great a sum of money. He deprecated the lack of information regarding the proposal, and stated that in the opinion of the Board of Trade, the returns from deep waterways would not be commensurate with the cost. With regard to the possible benefits to Western Canada he did not think there would be any great advantage in the reduction of freight rates. It might mean the saving of one or one and a half cents per bushel on grain but not more. He did not think there would be any benefit at all to incoming freight. He pointed out that 92 per cent. of exports to the United States went by rail.

DOMINION CROP REPORT TO THE END OF APRIL

Only 4 Per Cent Fall Sown Wheat Winter Killed in Prairie Provinces

Ottawa, May 17.—The first crop statistics of the season of 1920 were issued Saturday by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. They deal with the Winter killing of Fall sown wheat, the condition of wheat and hay and clover meadows and the progress of the Spring seeding, the report being compiled from the returns of crop correspondents from all parts of Canada on April 30th. Notwithstanding the severity of the past Winter the proportion of Fall sown what that has been killed is reported to be very small, amounting, in fact, to not more than four per cent. of the area sown. This is the smallest proportion on record and compares with five per cent. last year after an extraordinary mild Winter, and with 52 per cent. in 1918 after the severe Winter of 1917-18. The small proportion this year is due to the depth of the snow and the late Spring as usually Fall sown wheat in Canada is damaged more by alternating thaws and frosts during March and April than by cold in the depth of Winter, when the ground is covered with snow. Deducting the areas reported as Winter killed, representing four per cent., of 28,700 acres, in Ontario; one per cent. or 400 acres in Alberta, and four per cent. of 600 acres in British Columbia, the total reduction by Winter killing is 29,700 acres, leaving 740,300 acres as the area of Fall wheat to be harvested in 1920, as compared with 672,793 acres the finally estimated harvest area of 1919.

The seeding season this year is later than in any previous year since annual systematic records were begun by the census and statistic office in 1910. In Manitoba and Alberta wet and cold weather, and in Saskatchewan snow falls and frosty nights have prevailed, so that in the Prairie Provinces very little seeding of wheat had been accomplished in April and practically none of oats and barley.

Such a state of backwardness is rare in the Prairie Provinces, as usually from 40 to 50 per cent. of seeding is done in April. At the end of April, 1919, when the Spring was also later than the average date, 40 per cent. of wheat had been sown in Manitoba, 62 per cent. in Saskatchewan, and 77 per cent. in Alberta. In British Columbia 22 per cent. of wheat seeding had been done in April, as against 45 per cent. in April, 1919.

Correspondents report generally an abundance of moisture in the ground, which, if the weather be favorable after seeding, should ensure rapid growth and carry the crop well on into June.

DR ADA SPEERS TELLS SOME OF HER EXPERIENCES

During Past Five Years as a Medical Missionary in West China

WOMEN ARE INTERESTED

In Religious teaching and Hospital Proves a Rich Blessing

Commencing her talk with a most interesting description of the trip from San Francisco to China, Dr. Ada Speers, returned medical missionary from Chengtu, West China, addressed the morning congregation at the First Methodist Church, Sunday. The party with which Dr. Speers made the trip included several missionaries for Japan as well as China. Sailing from San Francisco towards the end of October in 1914 the ship took the Southern route, the journey being rather uneventful as far as danger was concerned.

When the steamer reached Honolulu the passengers disembarked and spent the day sight-seeing. Hear they heard the wonderful strains of music that only the natives of Honolulu can bring forth and also visited the aquarium. On arriving at Japan the passengers went on another sight-seeing expedition.

Arriving at Shanghai, China, preparations were made for the journey into the interior. Here the travellers found many English shops as well as Chinese. The trip from Shanghai to Chengtu was hilly and very pretty, the earth varying from black to a brick red, and the hills being conspicuous for cultivation almost to the peak.

Chengtu, with a population of half a million, was where Dr. Speers made her home, first as a language student and later as a medical worker. The language, the speaker said was most difficult. She described the various meanings of the same word, the tone in which it is said conveying the meaning. For example one word said in one tone means 'our Lord' and in another 'pig,' so that until one gets accustomed to the various tones many mistakes are made even though the correct word is used.

Opening of Hospital

Dr. Speers then told of the opening of the hospital at Chengtu. The opening lasted two days, the first being for men and the second for women and children. After the formal program, including speeches, by those high in the affairs of state, and music by a military band, the people were shown through the building. The building is in the shape of a T. The speaker then gave a description of one portion of the building, telling the uses of the different rooms. The first floor consists of a dressing room, where the patients are taken each morning for dressings, etc. Just above is the Chapel, which is a much used room in the hospital. Here is found an organ and the other essentials of a chapel and on the walls are large prints from the life of Jesus Christ. On the third floor an up-to-date operating room is situated and on the fourth floor is a well fitted tubercular ward. This room is used throughout the year with the exception of the coldest part of the Winter

Although it was thought when this hospital was built that it would be large enough to supply the need for some considerable time, in 1917 it was necessary to build a home for the Chinese nurses in order that the rooms they occupied could be used for patients. Even though the superstitions of the Chinese play an enormous part in the life of the people of that country the prejudices in regard to medical work are rapidly being overcome.

Bible Lessons

At the dispensary, Bible lessons are taught each morning commencing at nine o'clock. As the medical examinations begin at 10.30 the majority of the patients take advantage of the religi us teaching prior to their examination or treatment and it is not infrequent that women after their treatment re-enter and return to where the scriptures are being taught. After some years of work along this line it has been shown that women become enthusiastic about the religious work, but lose interest quickly if it is not kept up. As many do not go to church, a club was formed for these which meets at the hospital fortnightly. Tea and cake are served and later a service held in the chapel. Three out of four of these meetings are gospel meetings, the fourth dealing with some subject which would help the women in their homes. Dr. Speers said that before she left the club had about eighty members who regularly attended the meetings.

Dr. Speers then cited a few medical cases, which had come under her care. Many come long distances to the hospital, the doctors often having a very difficult task to remedy the trouble after the patients had used their native treatment. She said the patients are extremely grateful and that the greatest drawback is that the doctors are not able to follow up their patients after they leave the hospital. Some join the church after being in the hospital. One woman said she would be persecuted when she went home but nevertheless would preach the gospel.

During the service, Mrs. R. A. Clement sang, "He was Despised," from the "Messiah," and the choir rendered "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains," by the choir leader, Mr. James D. McRae.

GERMANY MUST PAY $30,000,000 AS REPARATION

Allies Will Permit Issue of Bonds Payable in Annual Installments

FRANCE CAN DISCOUNT

Part of Her Claim and Settle Her Debts to Allies and U. S.

Paris, May 17.—It is understood in official circles here that the Anglo French conference at Hythe, which closed yesterday, decided that the sum total which Germany should pay as reparation would be fixed at approximately $30,000,000,000.

It is understood that Germany will be permitted to issue bonds covering her indebtedness to the Allies payable in annual installments. Such action, it is pointed out, would enable France to discount part of her claim on Germany and permit her to settle her debts to the United States and the Allies.

TRAFFICKERS IN LIQUOR GET TWO MONTHS IN JAIL

Two Half-Breed Indians Smuggle Whiskey to United States

Winnipeg, May 17.—Arrest and confession of two men Friday marked the first step in the disruption of an organization of liquor traffickers who have been smuggling whiskey into the United States, with operating headquarters in three Manitoba border towns, Commissioner J. G. Rattray, of the provincial police announced Saturday.

The men pleaded guilty in a Boissevain court Friday night and were sentenced each to two months in jail for violation of the Manitoba Temperance act. They are William Gosslin and Alex Peichie, of Turtle Mountain, both half-breed Indians.

Commissioner Rattray said the police had known of the existence of the liquor trafficking since February, when prohibition became effective in the United States.

The method of doing business was to receive liquor shipments from either Saskatchewan or another distributing centre. The traffickers then would either take it across the line personally, or notify accomplices in the United States, who would come for it.

From 30 to 50 cases of liquor a week were received. The police got wind of the business by checking up the express company's records, which is done systematically.

Commissioner Rattray said that most of the business was done from Goodlands, Waskada, and Bannerman, which are adjacent to the international boundary.

A brother of one of the prisoners arrested Friday is an outlaw with a reward of $1,000 for his arrest and conviction on a charge of murder, according to the Commissioner.

HOLD-UP IN SECTION HOUSE AT VANCE

Regina, May 17.—Four men have been arrested and are in the lock-up at Biggar, charged with being implicated in an alleged hold-up which took place at the section house at Vance, Sask., at an early hour Friday morning according to advice received at the headquarters of the Provincial police.

As the result of the hold-up the section foreman is slightly wounded from a revolver shot, and his assistant is injured about the head, whether from a bullet or weapon is not yet ascertained.

From the meagre information which is to hand it appears that four or five masked men appeared at the section house early in the morning armed with revolvers. They entered the house and ordered the occupants to throw up their hands.

The section foreman immediately closed with the ring-leader, and in the scuffle which followed a revolver was discharged, wounding his in the head. Hearing a freight train approaching, the men left the house in a hurry, having obtained nothing of any value.

Communication was quickly established with the Provincial police at Biggar ,and as a result Corporal Nutt and Constable James, with a doctor, left Saskatoon for the scene of the crime.

Making a quick decision, Corporal Nutt decided to track a motor car which had appeared in the near neighborhood earlier in the night. Catching up with the car, he found four occupants in it corresponding to the description given to him by the men at the section house. He arrested them and escorted them to Biggor.

The little town of Vance is deeply stirred as a consequence of this invasion.

DANIELS CLAIMS CABLE A FORGERY

Washington, May 14.—Charges that a cablegram produced before the Naval Investigating Committee during the testimony of Rear-Admiral Sims bore a forged signature were made by Secretary Daniels. He referred to a message which Admiral Sims had presented as part of his criticism of the Navy Department and which purported to have been signed by the Secretary.

"Somewhere somebody was guilty of signing my name to an official dispatch which the original here produced shows I never signed," Mr. Daniels told the committee, "or of altering the dispatch by erasing the real signature and substituting Daniels."

The concluding paragraph of the cablegram reads: "In regard to convoys I consider that United States vessels having armed guards are safer when sailing independently."

"The statement that it was signed 'Daniels' is untrue," said the Secretary. "No such telegram signed 'Daniels' ever was sent to Admiral Sims. In his testimony he reiterated over and over again that this dispatch made him 'about ready to jump overboard,' and that it was signed with my name, conveying the impression that the civilian Secretary to the Navy had personally passed upon the question of a particular method to protest shipping and was resisting the adoption of the convoy system.

"I know I never entertained the opinion the dispatch displayed."

SEEKS WIFE LAST HEARD FROM IN THE HOLY LAND

Regina, May 17.—Asking for action on the part of the Great War Veterans' Association to help him locate his wife and three children, who when he last heard of them were somewhere in Palestine on their way to join him in Canada, a native of Syria, now a naturalized Canadian who served overseas with a Saskatchewan unit, has written to John Cameron, Provincial Secretary. The man, Ernest Franklau, is now residing in Southwest Saskatchewan, and since the outbreak of the war has had no word of his missing family.

It's a far cry from Regina to Palestine, and inquiries by the Canadian Great War Veterans will take rather a long time, according to Mr. Cameron to have any desired effect. According to his letter Mrs. Franklau, when the war broke out, was somewhere on her journey between Damascus and Beyrouth in the Holy Land. The writer had hoped that the delay would have been only temporary, and that when the war was over his wife and children would have been able to resume their journey to their adopted land. He has been waiting, since his return from France a year ago, for some word from her, or even for her arrival.

At the present time, France has a mandate in Palestine, and French troops are occupying Damascus, and the Great War Veterans will have to make their efforts at location to the French authorities, through Imperial Veterans' headquarters in England.

ILLINOIS SOCIALISTS OPEN FIGHT FOR SOVIET PROGRAM

Demand Limitations of Citizenship and Dictatorship of Laboring Classes

New York, May 12.—Demanding limitations of citizenship and the dictatorship of the laboring classes, the Illinois delegation of the Socialist party's National Convention Tuesday opened an aggressive minority fight for the "radical principles of international sovietism in the 1920 platform." Struggling to defeat the "conservative" forces of Morris Hillquit, four Chicagoans—J. Louis Engdahl, Samuel H. Holland, Wm. F. Kruse, and Irving St. John Tucker—battled to substitute their program for that given the convention by Hillquit and his platform committee.

The keynote of the Illinois substitute platform was sounded in its preamble, which reads:

"The Socialist party summons all who believe in this fundamental doctrine, to prepare for a complete reorganization of our social system, based upon public ownership of public necessities, upon government by representatives chosen from occupational rather than solely from geographical groups in harmony with our industrial development, and with citizenship based on service, that we may end forever the exploitation of class by class."

Explaining this before the convention opened, Engdahl declared it called for the limitation of citizenship to those who gave service to the nation including aliens and excluding native-born Americans who did not serve.

"This means the dictatorship of the proletariat," Engdahl said. "It means real, red, radical Socialism, such as our comrades in France, Germany, Russia and Italy are fighting for. It means that we demand that we identify ourselves unmistakeably with the principles of international Socialism."

PEOPLE WILL PAY RATHER THAN RUN THE RISKS

Proposal to Increase Postage on Registered Mail, Well Received

It is not expected that the proposed new rate of ten cents for registered letters, if effective, will cause much difference in the number of letters sent. Postmaster Percival stated today that several years ago registered mail rates were eight cents for every letter and he did not anticipate much of a change if the new rates become effective.

Although, unlike the United States, Canada is still using the three cent stamp and is now faced with an increase in rates on registered mail, it is expected that registration of valuable articles will continue as usual as people will not take risks to save the extra five cents. However, for many years the rate for registered mail in the United States has been ten cents.

From reports received the postal business seems to be increasing all the time and with each increase there is an additional cost for more employes, etc., to handle the extra mail. The higher registered mail rate is said to be a necessity and it will mean an increase in overhead costs for some large firms such as jewellers and those who send many valuable parcels.

U. F. O INTERFERES WITH ONTARIO RURAL MEMBERS

Some Members Resent Constant Attempt to Check up on Legislation

Toronto, May 13.—"They tod me to go right ahead with it," said Premier Drury, referring to the attitude of Government supporters, in a caucus held before Tuesday's sitting of the Legislature, toward the superannuation of civil servants.

Following the letter of protest sent by J. J. Morrison, Secretary of the U. F. O., a petition was circulated among the farmer members requesting that the superannuation bill be left over for a year. Some sixteen members signed it, but on the whole, it had a chilly reception.

"Will any of the farmer members oppose the passing of the bill?" the Premier was asked.

"Some of them will, but it will be supported by quite a number," he replied.

There is a spirit of resentment against Mr. Morrison's action among many of the members, one of whom voiced the general feeling by saying "the U. F. O. elected us, and now I think we can represent them without having constantly to be told what we should do."

WILSON DID NOT LIKE BRITISH WAY OF DOING THINGS

Thought U. S. Naval Experts Could Show Them How to Do Things

BRITISH TOO PRUDENT

According To Cablegram Sent to Admiral Sims During War

Washington, May 12. — President Wilson was not at all satisfied with the way the British admiralty was directing the work of the British navy, and could not understand why the naval experts of Great Britain were reluctant to allow the United States navy experts in Washington to tell them just how things should be done, according to a confidential cablegram sent during the war to Admiral Sims by President Wilson, and made public today before the senate investigating committee.

Wilson considered British naval men too prudent and expressed surprise that the "British admiralty had failed to use Great Britain's great naval superiority effectively against the submarines."

COMMISSIONERS TO ASSEMBLY NAMED

By Brandon Presbytery—$54,000 Raised for the Forward Movement

Much business of importance was dealt with at the sessions of the Brandon Presbytery which met in St. Paul's Church Monday and Tuesday. A conference on Religious Education occupied the time of those present Monday evening and several members took part in the discussion. At Tuesday's session Revs. King, Royle, Liggitt, Dickson, and Messrs. Drummond, Witherspoon, Johnston, McKillican and Thos. A. McEwen were appointed commissioners to attend the General Assembly which meets in Ottawa June 2nd.

A special committee appointed to survey a Western position of the Presbytery, recommended that Elkhorn be asked to provide services at Kirkella, and that Woodville, Daly and Daybreak be grouped as a pastoral charge with student supply for the Summer and after that with an ordained minister.

Rev. Mr. Williams, of Wales, is expected to arrive early in June, to take charge of the Sinclair field. Miss More, a deaconess, is ministering on the Two Creeks field for the Summer.

The Forward Movement Committee reported that the splendid sum of $54,000 had already been subscribed and that there are yet several pastoral charges to be heard from.

Applications received from fourteen ministers from other denominations and from the United States were dealt with.

Moorepark and Creeford were reported as desiring to have an unmarried minister stationed on that field, they being at present without a manse. Elva and Rounthwaite charges are seeking an easy settlement of ministers on their respective fields.

U. S. FARMERS WANT LESS MONEY SPENT ON ARMAMENTS

Cooperative Buying Advocated as Means to Reduce Costs of Tools and Machinery

Chicago, May 12.—Resolutions asking Congress for legislation to reduce greatly the cost of naval and military establishments, were up for consideration today at a conference of representatives of farm organizations of the United States which is attended by a number of Canadian delegates.

Co-operative buying to reduce the cost of farmers' tools and other necessaries was another important topic on the program today, when the Canadian farmers and their organizations were praised by speakers at yesterday's sessions of the conference for progress of the co-operative movement among the farmers of the Dominion.

Propose International Board

Chicago, May 12.—The formation of an International Board of Agriculture to promote firmer co-operation between American and Canadian farmers, the organization of a campaign for passage this season by Congress of the Capper Hosman bill, providing collective bargaining for farm groups, and consideration of American presidential candidates, leading to a possible endorsement of a Republican and Democrat by the farm interests, were principal aims of a joint meeting of the National Board of Farm Organizations of the United States and agricultural leaders of Canada at the Hotel Sherman.

Four candidates of international reputation in agricultural political circles arrived early Tuesday and immediately went into conference with the American organization heads, who represent more than 2,000,00 farmers of fifteen farm organizations in thirty-eight states. R. D. Cooper, of New York, president; R. W. E. Burnaby, of Toronto, president of the Canadian Council of Agriculture; N. P. Lambert, of Winnipeg, secretary of that organization; J. J. Morrison, of Toronto, secretary of the United Farmers of Toronto, the man who made possible the rural control of the Ontario Provincial Government, and G. F. Chipman, of Winnipeg, were the candidates who came on for the meeting at the invitation of C. S. Barrett, of Union City, Ga., president of the Farmers' National Union.

Kept In Close Touch

"We have been in close touch with the Canadian farm movement in politics," said C. A. Lyman, of Washington, secretary of the National Board of Farm Organizations, who called the meeting, "and we asked the Canadians to come here so that we might become better acquainted with them and with the work they have been doing in their economic movement that has gained the great political strength. We wish to form an International Board of Agriculture, which will do for the farmers of the two countries what the American Federation of Labor does for workingmen, and what the American Association of Commerce does for organized capital."

DR. REID DECLARES C. N. R. NOT USED AS POLITICAL MACHINE

Ottawa, Ont., May 12. — Emphatic denial is given to charges attributed in Regina dispatches to Hon. George Langley, minister of municipal affairs, for Saskatchewan, that the Canadian National railway is being used by the federal government as a political machine. The statement is absolutely untrue, commented Dr. Reid, minister of railways and canals.

Langley's Criticism

Regina, Sask., May 12.—The Canadian National Railway is being used by the Federal Government as a political machine and the interests of bona-fide settlers and farmers is a minor consideration, it is charged by the Hon. George Langley, Saskatchewan's Minister of Municipal Affairs.

Mr. Langley made this charge upon his return from Ottawa, where he went to attend the recent meeting of the Railway Committee of the House of Commons in support of the application of the C.P.R. for a charter for the proposed line to Birch Lake, which application was refused. The Saskatchewan minister accuses the Federal Ministers of Railways and of Colonization and Immigration of "prevaricating" during the hearing before the committee.

He declared that it was not a pleasant feeling to find "while we have got rid of that obnoxious combination, Mackenzie and Mann," we have got in its place a system that is even more fraught with evil than the old method of managing the C.N.R.

"The prevarication indulged in by the Minister and Colonization, and the manager of the Government Railways," continued Mr. Langley, "was only equalled by the willingness of the Government suporters to vote as they were told to vote, whether they understood the subject or not."

JUDGE FINDS FOR GOLD, ALLOWS $50 COUNSEL FEE, CELEBRATED CASE

A verdict for the defendant in the case of Cristall vs. Gold has been handed down by His Honor Judge Cumberland. This case was heard some time ago but judgment was reserved by His Honor after hearing the evidence. The action was brought by G. Cristall to recover $500, the amount of two cheques given which were to be used should a certain real estate transaction go through.

In one section of his written judgment on the case Judge Cumberland states, "The bargain between the parties was that the plaintiff should pay the defendant $500 for dropping out as a competitor for the Sampson property, and he gave the cheques as security that he would carry out the bargain either by paying the amount in cash or giving his note therefor. The latter being the form that the transaction was expected to take; and that it was the contemplation of both parties that if the agreed conditions should arise, and if the plaintiff should refuse or fail to pay the amount, or give the note, that the defendant should be at liberty to use the cheques; that was the purpose for which they were given."

Regarding the contention made by the plaintiff Cristall that the words "or should I occupy the above premises" were added to one of the cheques, His Honor says, "After some fluctuation of opinion I have reached the conclusion that it has not been made to appear that the words in controversy were added after the plaintiff signed."

According Judge Cumberland has given his decision in favor of the defendant Gold, and has also allowed a $50 counsel fee.

WANTS DIRECTOR COAL OPERATIONS FOR ANOTHER YEAR

Senator Robertson Declares Plan in Operation Success, Should Be Continued

Ottawa, May 12.—In the Senate on Tuesday the Deputy Governor General Sir Louis Davies, gave the royal assent to the Grand Trunk purchase agreement bill.

Senator Robertson, on the second reading of the bill respecting the Director of Coal Operations, explained that its object was to continue in effect this office for another year. In 1917, by order-in-council, he said, a Director of Coal Operations had been appointed for District No. 18, which comprises Southern Alberta and the Crow's Nest, to regulate productions, price and wages. This control would cease at the end of this session unless continued by legislation.

Senator Robertson said that the control of coal operations in the district had been a marked success and in preventing disruption had saved the prairie population from disaster. There had been in the district a strenuous fight between the United Mine Workers of America and the One Big Union for control. While the U.M.W. were in the ascendancy the extreme radical elements were still dangerous. As a new agreement between operators and miners had to be negotiated this Summer, he was anxious that the director of operations should continue in his official capacity.

Some doubt was cast on the constitutionality of the bill by Senators Belcourt and W. B. Ross, and it was agreed that the legislation should be laid over until after the adjournment.

GREAT BRITAIN FOLLOWS EXAMPLE OF DOMINION

London Parliament Discusses Question of Second Chamber for Irish Parliament

London, May 12.—In the course of the discussion on the Home Rule Bill on the question whether there should be a second chamber for each of the two parliaments in Ireland as a protection for minorities, Right Hon. Walter Hume Long replied to criticisms which had been made that there was no precedent for the government's proposal for a single Irish council for two parliaments instead of two second chambers. He said so far from there being any ground for the suggestion that the experiment was being tried for the first time, the precedent did actually exist in Canada. When local government was first set up in Canada, he said, there was a second chamber in all the old parts whereas today in every province barring Quebec the second chamber had been abandoned because it had been found not to be a protection, but, on the contrary, rather a danger. The government had taken this as their example. He thought it was the best precedent that could have been taken.

O. R. GOULD TO BE BEST MAN AT WEDDING FARMER FRIEND AND ENGLISH GIRL

Ottawa, May 12.—O. R. Gould, member of Parliament for Assiniboia, Sask., is on his way to Winnipeg to fulfil a promise he made two years ago. At that time a neighbor farmer who had been overseas and had fallen violently in love with an English lady, secured a promise from him that in the event of the lady coming to Canada, Mr. Gould, if he were elected member of parliament, would go West to act as best man. The bride-to-be arrived in Montreal Saturday morning.

BRITAIN WILL TAKE STEPS TO PREVENT UNFAIR DISCRIMINATION

Washington, May 12.—The possibility of Great Britain adopting retaliatory tactics should the merchant marine bill, now before the United States Senate, include the proposed clause extending coastwise navigation laws to the Philippines, was discussed in the Senate. As now drawn up, the bill would require all coastwise shipping to be American owned.

Senator Thomas, Democrat, of Colorado, said such legislation was sure to provoke retaliation by foreign governments. Chairman Jones of the Commerce Commission retorted that if any nation was in a position to carry on a war of retaliation, it was the United States.

"The British ambassador has been instructed to transmit a copy of this bill to the British authorities, according to London press dispatches," said Mr. Jones. "It is evident that Great Britain is taking steps to protect her own interests. This action shows that Great Britain will leave nothing undone to prevent discrimination against her interests."

APOLOGY BY M'LEAN SETTLES ALL TROUBLES

Ottawa, May 12.—The resignations of Col. C. W. Peck, V.C., and Col. R. C. Cooper from the Pensions Committee have been withdrawn. A statement from Brig.-Gen. H. H. McLean, apologizing for any offence which his words may unintentionally have caused returned soldiers, their wives or widows, has been placed on the records of the committee, and the whole "McLean incident," which for a time threatened to disrupt the committee, has been settled.

Brig.-Gen. McLean's statement, which he read at a brief public meeting of the committee Tuesday afternoon, was as follows:

"There has been a distinct misunderstanding as to words used by me in the Select Committee on Pensions. This circumstance I regret exceedingly, as nothing was further from my mind than to reflect in any way either on soldiers or their dependents, and while still affirming my statement as to what I did say on that occasion, I desire to apologize for any offence which my words may have unintentionally caused to the returned soldiers, their wives or widows.

"(Signed HUGH H. McLEAN."

TWO YOUNG BRIDES DESERTED BY HUSBANDS GUILTY OF FORGERY

St. Catharines, May 12—Two young married women, each aged 15 years, Mrs. Gladys Dalgleish and Mrs. May Shales, were given indeterminate sentences recently by Magistrate Campbell, and the Shales girl, who comes from England, was ordered deported at her own request. The two girls were given a letter at the post office addressed to Mrs. Anna Dalgleish, no relation of either. In it was a cheque for $200 sent by W. E. Massey, of Port Carling, to his sister here. They endorsed her name on the back and cashed the cheque at a store, buying a suit for $27. The cheque was sent back to Port Carling, and the bank there said it was all right. The girls stated that they intended to go to Buffalo but went to Hamilton and Toronto first to throw the police off the scent. The husbands of both deserted them some time ago.

ONE AT A TIME

Mayor Gray and other Winnipeg men spoke for the prairie West when they voiced before the International Waterways Commission, opposition to undertaking the St. Lawrence Deep Waterways scheme, before completion of the Hudson's Bay Railway. Western Canadians have clamored for years for the Hudson's Bay Railway. When near completion it became necessary to stop work. Now that construction should be resumed, objection is raised on the ground of the need for national economy and curtailment of expenditures. In the meantime, a movement has been launched favoring a much more costly and ambitious project. Curiously enough, the movement owes its inception in quarters that have never been favorable to the Hudson's Bay Railway. The Deep Waterways project appears to be a good one, on the surface, but Western Canada rightly objects to chasing an enticing shadow and losing something substantial that is almost within reach.

There will be no objection to investigation of the Deep Waterways project at the proper time. It may be that it will prove even a greater boon to the West than the Hudson's Bay Railway. If, however, Canada is in too deep financially, to supply the comparatively insignificant funds needed to finish the one project, why flirt with one vastly more expensive?

It may be that the Hudson's Bay Railway does not come within the scope of the investigation being carried on by the International Waterways Commission. It is unlikely that it should. The hearing in Winnipeg, however, furnished a capital opportunity for Westerners to make clear their stand on matters affecting Canada, and the Winnipeg gentlemen who courageously urged the completion of the H.B.R. before embarking on other and more costly undertakings, deserve the commendation and support that they will receive in generous measure.

A CHALLENGE TO COMBAT

What is being done in Canada, in an organized way, to combat industrial unrest, social discontent and ignorant radicalism with ideas and ideals? The truth is that there is nothing being done in a systematic, comprehensive way. Since this cannot be done by physical force, why not organize to combat bad ideas with good ideas, and to supply ideals where none exist. It is the duty of good citizens to fight bad ideas with good ideas. It is the only effective way. Unfortunately, the inclination of too many Canadians who have had the advantages of education and opportunity and who fought bravely to save civilization in the great war, is to avoid the post-armistice combat to win decisive victory. Only half the forces threatening to destroy civilization were vanquished on the fields of France and Flanders. The others are still continuing the fight by the use of propaganda as dangerous as poison gas.

One reason for reluctance to enter the ugly civil strife is that there is no glory to be won. Nevertheless it is the duty of every good Canadian citizen to volunteer to do his part and if volunteers are not coming forward fast enough, they will have to be drafted. There can be no evasion nor discharge in this war, which can be won only by ideas and not by brute force.

The army that must move out to the combat by which good ideas will win over bad ideas must be armed with all the best equipment in the form of facts, logic and the lessons of experience. They must attack the strongholds of ignorance and fanaticism everywhere. Enemies of civilization must be confronted and exposed wherever encountered. No rascal sowing bad and wrong ideas should be allowed to escape from public exposure, condemnation and contempt.

"Ideas," it has been said, "go booming through the world louder than cannon. Thoughts are mightier than armies." To do so they must be sound ideas that will stand the test of analysis. They must be supported by experience. As most of the industrial unrest and social discontent is the product of insidious misinformation, malignant distortion of truth, ignorance and class prejudice, they can only be overcome by the slow and labored process of education—good ideas replacing and dispelling bad ideas. Though the combat is not pretty to contemplate, the necessity for thorough organization and considered action to save civilization, is so great that the challenge cannot go unanswered much longer.

THE BANKING VENTURE

Friendship for parties, legislators, or it may be local interest, may make it difficult for many Manitobans to render unbiased judgement concerning the Norris Government banking proposals. According to editorial opinion expressed in the Toronto Mail and Empire, the difficulty which induced the Norris Government to launch its present banking policy is the insecurity of many of the Farmers' Associations. The Norris Government refused to guarantee the loans, and as the security was not in all cases such as trustees of other people's money would be justified in lending upon, the banks refused to advance it. The article discusses the Government's policy in a fair and judicial manner. It is as follows:

The entrance of the Manitoba Government into the business of collecting deposits from the public, paying four and four and a half per cent., is not a minor innovation. The older Western Provincial Governments may be induced, by political needs, to enter the banking field also. British Columbia has a Farm Loan scheme, and pays about six per cent. for money for re-loaning. If Manitoba could get substantial deposits on a four or a four and a half per cent. basis, the other Provinces would be tempted to imitate her, and thus might become established a credit situation which would land them in embarrassments later on.

The difficulty in Manitoba that induced the Norris Government to make the innovation arose out of the insufficient security of many of the Farmers' Associations, of which there are sixty. The banks, which had been lending at six per cent., for periods of a year and a year and a half, have to keep in a state of readiness to meet the needs of regular mercantile business. A million dollars to these farm credit associations would be a considerable help to agriculture, but much of the money is devoted not to direct production, but to auxiliary conveniences, and the banks have felt that financing these was not, strictly, their proper business. The Norris Government, it is understood, refused to guarantee the loans, and the security in many instances, especially in some of the newer societies, was not in all cases such as trustees of other people's money would be justified in lending upon. If the Norris Government puts the credit of the Province behind acceptance of deposits, as it must, it will be guarateeing the credit of the farmers' associations. The costs of administering the Provincial banks may bring the cost of the money received up to perhaps six per cent. Thus the Government cannot hope to gain much by guaranteeing loans by the banks.

An election is coming in Manitoba in July and the idea of a Provincial banking system, to rake in most of the savings accounts of the people for re-loaning to the farmers, is inviting to vote-seekers. The Norris Government has been extravagant, and has lost much of its political strength, while the farmer movement has gained. The needs to loan-seeking homesteaders of the back sections will be exploited for all they are politically worth.

FIRST REAL TEST

The purpose of the Kansas industrial court is to insure justice between wage-payers and wage-earners while protecting the public against the loss and bad feeling entailed by strikes.

The theory of it is that there is no more reason why industrial disputes should be fought to the bitter end by archaic methods, and the victory go to the stronger, than there is why two men in a dispute over a note should settle it by a rough-and-tumble fight.

The official representatives of labor are fighting this plan bitterly on the ground that the right to strike is a sacred right which nobody can take away; which to the dispassionate bystander sounds very much like the contention that the right to fight with fists to settle a personal difference is a sacred right which no law and no court can take away, though of course it is true so long as the strike is the only means of securing justice.

But the real issue is whether this plan will produce justice to the worker—which is all the good that any strike can do, and strikes never do that good without also doing harm that often is greater than the good achieved—and the real test must be on that basis.

Therefore there is even greater interest in the almost unnoticed fact that there has been a real test of the system on this point than there is in the discussion over the right to strike.

The first decision of the Kansas industrial court was in favor of labor.

The linemen of the Topeka-Edison Company wanted more pay. The company offered an advance of two and a half cents an hour. The linemen said that that was ridiculously inadequate. The case went to the industrial court, where it was duly tried, and the court decided that the men were entitled to an increase of seven and a half cents an hour, which they are now being paid and are now enjoying without the discomfort, inconveniences and losses of a strike.

CITY OF ST. VLADIMIR

Holy Kiev, "the mother city of Russia," has now fallen for the thirteenth time since the Czar was overthrown a little more than three years ago. Though the oldest city, its origin being hidden in the age of myths previous to the fifth century, it is yet the most progressive city of the old empire, Odessa alone excepted. Yet it is a city of pilgrims, who before the great war came annually by hundreds of thousands from all parts of Russia to worship at its shrines of saints and view the wonders of the great Monastery of the Caves, where Russian Christianity took its rise. This city of ancient domes and towers, standing on its hills overlooking the broad Dnieper and fertile plains, now sees the return of the Poles, who first possessed it in 1569 and who lost it a century later.

Here is indeed a city of renown, says an exchange. Ever since Grand Duke Vladimir, son of Syyatoslav I., captured it from his brothers with his army of Scandinavian vikings in the year 980 and made it his capital while he built up by conquest a broad kingdom, Kiev has been spreading culture through the Slavic world. First it was heathen culture, for Vladimir built temples to furious gods and sacrificed Christians on their altars; but after he had installed his twelve sons as rulers over his various principalities he found time to make a critical survey of the various religions. He sent out envoys to his heathen neighbors and received back the report, "There is no gladness among them, only sorrow and a great stench." Going farther afield, they found in the temples of Odin in Germany "no beauty." Then they took a look at the Christian festivals of Constantinople.

Thus Vladimir found at last a satisfactory religion, receiving this report from his investigators, who had been admitted to solemn rites in the Church of St. Sofia: "We no longer knew whether we were in heaven or on earth." So Vladimir became a Christian and married the sister of Emperor Basil II. Then he baptized his subjects and went to building churches and finally died and was made a saint. From his capital of Kiev he had civilized and Christianized ancient Russia.

St. Vladimir's city, nearly 1,000 years later, is a great commercial centres, the seat of a famous university and the possessor of some of the most beautiful ancient churches in Eastern Europe. The capital of the Ukraine, which continues to live up to its ancient name of "frontier," it will always have an important place in history as it always has had in the past.

LARKIN IN U. S. PRISON

Jim Larkin, Irish agitator, has been sentenced to not less than five and not more than ten years in Sing Sing prison. Sentence was passed on Larkin by Justice Barlow S. Weeks, in the Criminal Division of the Supreme Court. The offense for which Larkin is being punished is that of criminal anarchy.

Larkin is a troublemaker with an international reputation. He left Ireland shortly before the outbreak of the war and has spent a large portion of his time in America denouncing hated Albion. Extreme Sinn Feinism and anarchism are pretty much the same thing and Larkin was unable to confine himself to making trouble for Britain. His arrest, trial, and sentence in the United States followed.

Had Larkin remained in Dublin and carried on along the same lines as he did in the United States, he would today be regarded as one of the Sinn Fein heroes, but he made the mistake of transferring his activities to the United States and the Sinn Feiners there have abandoned him to his fate without compunction. It suits the Sinn Feiners, wherever found, to make trouble for Britain, but if one of their number makes the blunder of applying the same tests to United States citizenship, that they insist in applying to British, they speedily lose interest in him.

DEAN HOWELLS

William Dean Howells, full of years and crowned with honors, has passed beyond. Thus America loses a link with a splendid literary past, and a great author who to the end stood true to the finest traditions of America's Golden Age of letters.

Born in what was then the West, educated in a country printing office, Howells, self-developed as all great men are, became America's greatest writer of fiction since Hawthorne. A realist in the right sense, his stories of life in the United States are true as all great fiction is true. Though their quieter tones are perhaps today drowned out by the jazz note so prominent in current fiction, they still represent much of America's claim to recognition in letters. They are true pictures of the time of which he wrote.

William Dean Howells lived far past the allotted three-score-years-and-ten, lived to see new times and new fashions which he interpreted with gentle humor even to the end, and died strong in the affections of his countrymen. His work lives after him.

BRANDON HOCKEY CLUB MAY HAVE PART IN WELCOME

To Be Given Falcons When They Arrive in Winnipeg Next Saturday

The Brandon Hockey Club has been asked to take part in the reception to be given the Falcons when they arrive in Winnipeg next Saturday. An automobile parade is to be one of the features attending the return of the world's champions at hockey and as league members, the Brandon Club will probably have a car in the parade, and several members of the local club and team may make the trip to Winnipeg. President Fred Scott and H. A. Stuart will probably go along while Dr. H. O. McDiarmid, President of the Manitoba Amateur Hockey Association will be one of the chief speakers at a banquet to be tendered the victorious Falcons on the evening of their arrival in Winnipeg.

The Falcons are to get a reception that will be long remembered by that team and followers of sport in general. The merchants in Winnipeg are being asked to close their stores for an hour or so on Saturday to give everyone a chance to get out on the streets and give the Icelandic players a great welcome. Signs are being placed all over the city with "Welcome Home, Falcons." An immense auto and float parade will have every club and every sport organization in Winnipeg represented, and the big procession will go to the Wesley Street grounds where the Allan Cup will be formally presented to the Canadian and world's champions. Then in the evening a banquet will be tendered the Falcons, at which the leading sportsmen will be present.

Not only in Winnipeg are the Falcons receiving a royal welcome on their return to this country. At Montreal the boys were treated to luncheon by Sir Montague Allan, the donor of the Canadian championship trophy, and they are to be given an immense reception in Toronto tonight. After that they will make straight for home, and arrive in Winnipeg about noon on Saturday.

Goodman a Favorite

The Falcons are saying very little about their win at Antwerp. In their sportsmanlike manner the Falcons give their opponents all kinds of credit for some splendid play, and predict a big improvement in the European team's play next Winter. Particularly the Slovaks and Swedes will pick the game up quickly, they report. The Americans disposed of all their equipment to the Swedes while some of the Canadian players got rid of their surplus skates. Mike Goodman was offered fabulous sums for his tubes, and when he turned the offers down, the fans who wanted them, became further convinced that he has a pair of motors concealed in them. The night of the prize giving at Antwerp, Mike gave an exhibition of trick skating along with the winners of the figure skating championships, and he made the hit of the evening, being the only member to be called back for an encore.

The team lost its captain, Frank Frederickson, who said goodbye to the boys at Harve and then sailed for Iceland. Frank is an aviator and wants to fly in his home land for the Summer, the other members of the Falcon team predicting that Frank will again be in Canada before the Winter comes around again. Trainer Sigurdson also went to Iceland, and later will assist the Swedes in training their men for the Olympic games.

BASEBALL SEASON OPENS HERE WITH GRANITES MONDAY

The baseball season will open in Brandon next Monday when the Granites of Winnipeg, 1919 winners of the City League, will stack up against the Brandon Greys in a double bill. Both teams have strong line-ups this year and are expected to put up even a better argument than they did in the opener last year. They Greys have strengthened their line-up for this season and have an added punch to their batting strength that should enable them to take both ends of the double header from the visitors. However the Granites will probably furnish plenty of opposition for the locals for with the exception of Sigurdson, they have the same team as won the pennant last year.

Among the Granites stars who will be here are Hunter Burgess, formerly a Brandon Maroon player. Burgess broke up the evening game of the double-header played with the Greys in 1919 and he is still wielding a big bat. Doc Flanagan, the league's leading slugger, Alex. Fidler and Brock Henry will take their turns in the outfield with Burgess. The Granites carry five pitchers, Alex. Ross, Lefty Fattison, Oscar Wynant, Bill Kennedy and Jack Merritt. Gordon Hudson and Singbush will do the receiving while George Trescott and Pitcher Fattison will look after first base. Tom Hood is on second, Jim Lawrie on third and Mike Goodman and Pelletier at shortstop. Mike will probably not be back in time to take part in the opening games here but is slated for a regular berth with the Granites.

In their communication to the Greys, the Granites have asked permission to bring sixteen players along for the double-header so that they will have plenty of baseball material for both games. Should the weather be favorable there is no doubt but what the opening games will be attended by record crowds.

MURDER CASE NEARLY FINISHED AT KINDERSLEY

John Arthur Declares Dorguerre Was Killed in a Hand to Hand Struggle

Kindersley, Sask., May 13.—Stoutly maintaining that Harry Dorguerre made an unprovoked attack upon him with the avowed intention of taking his life, John Arthur, giving evidence in his own behalf Wednesday morning, claimed that Dorguerre's death was the result of his own actions, and that he had not the slightest intention of causing him any bodily harm.

Fought in Barn

Arthur asserted that Dorguerre came to the barn on the evening of April 28 in an excited condition, that after asking the accused, "What about that hay?" he jumped at him and commenced to beat him up. Arthur shifted his position and obtained a grip on Dorguerre's neck. In the struggle the two fell to the ground and immediately Dorguerre's grasp weakened. The accused then desisted and releasing himself had the impression that his assailant was winded. It was not till after unavailing efforts had been made to restore him to consciousness that Arthur realized he was dead.

Evidence about Complete

With the exception of the charge to the jury and their verdict the case was practically completed before the luncheon adjournment.

Arthur who took the stand shortly after the opening, replied to all questions without emotion or hesitation. He is a well set-up man of average height. His face is tanned and his shoulders are well set back. His blue eyes keenly scanned the court room during the examination. He declared he was not at all vindictive toward Dorguerre, who had attempted to quarrel with him on various occasions, but on the contrary, rather felt pity for him. Just previous to the fight, he said, he realized a mixup was coming.

Evidence given by Dr. Charlton entirely refuted the suggestion of the defense that Dorguerre was under the influence of liquor at the time of the tragedy.

The Provincial Analyist said that no trace of liquor was discernable on the body.

Question of Liquor

Wednesday morning Mr. J. F. Bryant, counsel for Arthur, adduced evidence showing that Dorguerre was constantly in receipt of liquor shipments and made pointed reference to this fact in his address to the jury.

Arthur Frame, for the Crown, also referred to the liquor question as associated with the case, but drew attention to the fact that no liquor traces were adduced at the post mortem.

Opening the case for the defense, Mr. Bryant called Dr. W. D. Dixon at the resumption of the case. Dr. Dixon had examined Arthur when he was brought into Kindersley on April 29th. He said that the nose of the accused was badly scratched inside the nostrils. One lip was swollen and one eye was bruised. On the forehead were five abrasions as if caused by a series of blows. Speaking colloqually Dr. Dixon said the accused was pretty well battered up.

O. R. Phelps, station agent at Glidden, produced records of shipments of liquor to Dorguerre made in February, March and April. In February one five-gallon keg of whiskey was received. In March two shipments of Scotch and one keg of rye were received, and in April one case of whiskey.

Wilfred E. Morgan, implement dealer, related details of a conversation with Harry Dorguerre early in the Spring, in the course of which Dorguerre made threats against Arthur, saying that the only way to deal with a man like the prisoner was with a shotgun.

FIX SUGAR PROFITS

Boston, May 14.—Attorney-General Palmer, Wednesday set the margin of profit to be allowed on sales of sugar at one cent a pound for wholesalers, and two cents a pound at retail. In a telegram to United States Attorney James J. Boynton, the Attorney-General ordered that steps be taken immediately to prosecute persons taking larger profits.

The Attorney-General's order will not have the effect of standardizing prices either at wholesale or retail, according to Mr. Boynton. Dealers obtained their stocks at different prices and as a result sale prices will vary, but in no case can profits exceed the margin allowed.

CONSUMERS' LEAGUE IN TORONTO HAS RED HOT MEETING

Mrs. G. Brodie, of United Farm Women, Adds Warmth to Discussion

PRODUCTION IS URGED

Vacant Lot Gardening Advocated As Means to Beat H. C. of L.

Toronto, May 14.—The first public meeting under the auspices of the Consumers' League of Toronto was held recently at the Central Technical School, Mrs. A. M. Huestis presiding. The high cost of living was discussed thoroughly, and a few suggestions offered for its reduction. In reference to the letter sent to the Federated Women's Clubs of America, Mrs. Huestis said that Mrs. Moore, of the National Council of Women of the United States, had written saying that many women's organizations have already boycotted potatoes in the United States.

A letter was read from the convenor of Household Economics of the National Council, at Calgary, commending the action taken by Toronto women in trying to reduce the price of potatoes, and pointing out what may be accomplished by standing together. An invitation was extended to any of the members to attend the Dominion-wide conference on the high cost of living, to be held at Calgary the first week in June.

Urges Greater Production

Mr. Horace Davison, secretary of the Federation for Community Service, was the first speaker. He spoke entirely from the point of view of greater production, through such channels as the Vacant Lots Association. The Toronto Vacant Lots Association, which is now run in combination with the Rotary Club, was organized in 1915, in which year only 150 lots were obtained, the produce value amounting to $2,000. In 1918 there were 2,060 lots, and the value of the produce had risen to $90,000. Today there are only 1,200 available lots, and the estimated produce value is $100,000, showing the advance in the cost of vegetables.

Mr. Davison spoke not only of the money side of the question, but also of the educational value, particularly to children, and pointed out that the products exhibited in the Armories in the Fall of 1918 proved the amateurs could grow as good vegetables as professionals.

The allottment, or small holdings movement, did much to save England from starvation during the war, Mr. Davison stated, and he thought it probable that within the next few years a similar system might be started in Toronto. He urged the Consumers' League to make an effort to get some of the vacant land on the outskirts of the city put under cultivation, and to get it put into the hands of Toronto Vacant Lots Association, who have hundreds more applications for gardens than they have available lots. He also suggested that the league lend its influence to the allotment principle.

A Producer's Views

The United Farm Women of Ontario were represented by Mrs. George Brodie who explained that she was speaking from the producers' point of view, as an average farm woman. The producers are willing to meet the consumers half way, but will go no further, Mrs. Brodie announced. She stated that there must be some serious reason why the men are leaving the farms. She asked what an embargo on foodstuffs means? Ten years or so ago, she recalled, people were willing to live on food produced in Canada—as far as fruit and vegetables are concerned. Now these are imported in large quantities from the States. They are not paid for in money, other produce is sent in exchange. She spoke of the sugar, which she declared is used quite as freely at 20 cents a pound as it ever was.

At this last remark there were indignant denials from the audience.

Combines to Blame

"It comes to this, people are not willing to make any sacrifice, that's the trouble," Mrs. Brodie maintained, amid more protests from several women in the audience. "It is a matter of combines," Mrs. Brodie went on. "We have got to get down to the bottom. Women have the vote. We have got to produce. Thousands of acres are waiting for the plough." She pointed out that all the necessities should be produced in Canada. "If you women in Toronto had any spunk in you you would see that those vacant lots are taxed into use," she announced.

The speaker claimed town women were guilty of extravagance. "We see no lack of money when we come into the city," she stated, adding that the country people work 16 hours a day. "The world is suffering from insincerity," she maintained, "more than from anything else."

Would Stabilize Prices

The cost of production and distribution must be lowered, and Mrs. Brodie also would have stablized prices. If the people could own the cold storages and food be let out as needed and prices stabilized, then cold storage would be a God-send, she thought.

"If you are going to bring down the prices of farm produce, then how are farm people going to live?" she asked. "You either have to pay the price, go without or go out and produce yourself."

The international standpoint would have to be considered, Mrs. Brodie declared, and international trade is wanted.

"I want to see you work not so much to reduce prices this year, as to increase production. It is from the top six inches of soil that the war debt is going to be paid."

UNION CHURCH AT OAK LAKE

Vote Was 303 For, 40 Against—Tenth Union Church Brandon District

As the desire of the people of Oak Lake and surrounding district is for a local Union Church, the co-operative committee oft he Methodist and Presbyterian Churches in the Brandon district met in Oak Lake this week and decided to consummate union which will become effective Sunday, May 23rd. Church union was voted upon by signed ballot with the result that 303 people voted in favor of it and forty against. Oak Lake is the tenth place in the area of the Brandon Presbytery to consummate local union. All these places are eagerly looking forward to the consumation of organic union throughout the Dominion and are hoping that it will take place soon. It is not yet known who will be chosen minister for the Oak Lake Union Church, but one will be called at an early date.

In the past two ministers were stationed at Oak Lake, both preaching in the town. The Methodist circuit included two rural points, Ryerson and Salem; and the Presbyterian one rural point—St. David's. Local committees representing all these congregations have been working for many weeks on a plan of local union and finally decided that one minister could attend to all this area, thus saving one for work elsewhere. According to this plan, Salem Church will be closed and regular weekly service will be held at Ryerson, St. David's and Oak Lake. The Union Church will come under the joint supervision and direction of the Presbytery of Brandon and the Brandon Methodist District. A local basis including these points and other details was printed and it was upon this that the vote was taken.

The meeting of the co-operative committee was presided over by Rev. M. C. Flatt, President of the Methodist Conference for Manitoba, and Rev. Hislop Dickson of Alexander was Secretary. The other members of the co-operative committee present were: Dr. Murray, Superintendent of Presbyterian Missions for Manitoba, Rev. J. A. Doyle, Superintendent of Methodist Missions, Rev. J. W. Churchill of this city, Rev. J. W. Ridd, Rev. A. W. Churchill and Mr. Jas. Goodwin of Oak Lake.

QUIET WEDDING MADE POSSIBLE

Saskatoon Girl Slipped Away to Rosetown to Wed Man of Her Choice

Regina, May 14.—The Goose Lake line isn't the first place you'd look for romance, yet Cupid has a little way all his own. The Rosetown Eagle of May 6 prints the story of a semi-elopement of a Saskaton girl, Miss Esther Latimer, and her secret marriage to Isaac Burwise, of Kindersley, Sask., at Rosetown. And although papa and mamma were sort of worried at first, forgiveness was speedily forthcoming and the young couple will live happy ever after, of course.

The Eagle says:

Apparently to avoid the pomp and ceremony attending the customary celebration of the wedding of a daughter, when father and mother wish "to do the grand," a Saskatoon bride-to-be quietly slipped away from that city to join her intended and thus sprung a surprise on mother and "pop" and her friends. It was known to her parents that she had made her choice, but they did not suspect that little Cupid's wiles would so suddenly precipitate matters and carry daughter away to Rosetown and here be married quietly. There was no doubt considerable anxiety when daughter failed to arrive home as usual in the evening from her work. Then suspense was relieved the next day when a wire from Rosetown announced that there had been a nuptial knot tied. The bride was of age and needed not parental consent. She had the will and had her way. Mother arrived here the evening of the day of the marriage and poured her blessing on the happy couple, wishing them, only as a mother can, a long life of unsullied love and happiness. The bride has a wide circle of friends in Saskatoon who hold her in high esteem. She returned to the city with her mother to continue her position as stenographer until her month's notice of resignation has expired, when she will join her husband in Kindersley, where he holds a position as an electrical engineer. The contracting parties were Miss Esther Latimer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Latimer of Saskatoon, and Isaac Burwise of Kindersley. The marriage ceremony was performed at the Methodist parsonage by Rev. T. Jackson Wray on Tuesday afternoon.

JURY ACQUITS STREET CAR OPERATOR CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER: 2ND TRIAL

Saskatoon, Sask., May 14. — After being out less than an hour, a jury in King's bench court here Wednesday afternoon brought in a verdict of not guilty for Charles E. Stoneman, charged with manslaughter arising out of the death of H. T. Smith, a local mail carrier, who was killed last December when a street car operated by Stoneman ran over and killed him.

This was the second time Stoneman was placel on trial on this charge, the jury in the first trial in February failing to agree after deliberating five hours.

ROGERS DECLARES FARMERS IN WEST LOST MONEY THROUGH WHEAT CONTROL

Montreal, May 14.—"The farmers of the prairie provinces have lost more money on their last year's crop through their connection with the jobbing and tinkering wheat control as represented by the co-operative grain companies of the West, than they have to pay in duty for the past 25 years on their agricultural implements," is the statement Hon. Robert Rogers made Thursday morning.

"It is a mistaken idea that seems to have taken root in the East, that the Farmers' organizations of the West, will in any way affect the strength of the Conservative party. If there are Conservatives in the Farmers, they joined at a time when they were ready to join any organization in order to get a whack at the Union Government. The Conservatives of the West will give a good account of themselves."

DIAMONDS STREWN ON RAILWAY TRACK REMAIN IN HIDING

Lurching of Train at Spatsum, B. C., Brings Grief to Millionaire's Bride

Vancouver, B.C., May 14.—Jewels valued at over $40,000 are scattered in vague territory somewhere near Spatsum, 200 miles East of Vancouver, on the C.P.R. main line, and a tearful millionaire's bride has given up looking for the gems after three days fruitless effort. The husband, E. Lauber Stokes, of Philadelphia, is still trying to console the distressed lady with tales of other jewelry she can buy when they return home from their honeymoon, but he is meeting with indifferent success.

Mrs. Stokes does not mind so very much losing half a dozen diamond brooches, and she could reconcile herself to the idea that a once cherished string of pearls is somewhere in the rubble of rock that lines the track. But she weeps when she thinks of her prized diamond-studded wrist watch—a Christmas gift from hubby, and refuses to be comforted when she misses her beautiful engagement ring and the wedding circlet that she had worn only a few days.

All these treasured trinkets are now "Somewhere near Spatsum," about as bleak and desolate a spot as can be found in the railway belt of British Columbia. And there, most likely, they will remain.

Travelling East in regal style, Mr. and Mrs. Stokes had engaged a drawing room. While washing, Mrs. Stokes placed her jewelry on the window sill. Later she discovered that the lurch of the train had precipitated the watch, brooches and rings through the open window.

For the next three days, Mr. and Mrs. Stokes walked painfully along that portion of the track, seeking in vain to recover the jewelry. At night they slept, in an abandoned section hand's cabin.

Arrangements are being made for further searches by a private detective agency.

WORK STARTED ON ADMINISTRATION BUILDING FOR FAIR

Display Building Will Not Be Erected This Year—Cost Too Great

The Summer Fair Board has decided not to build the Display Building planned some time ago. The decision was reached when the Board saw that the high cost of materials and labor would make the erection of this building almost prohibitive this year. However the Administration Building is being proceeded with at once, excavation for the building having commenced. The construction is to be rushed along and the work completed in plenty of time for occupation during Fair week.

A large gang of men are at present working in the Exhibition Park gravelling many of the roads and putting the big park in shape for the Summer. The planting of flowers and trees on the grounds will be carried out on even a more extensive plan than ever before, and the Exhibition Park will again be a real beauty spot.

Police Barracks Attacked and Destroyed in Several Places

COUNTRY COMPETITORS!

the new Special Prize Chevrolet Offer is an exceptionally good one for you

To start the offer off

The Chevrolet Offer starts this week to last three weeks. Last week, being a week between two special prize offers, was as a result, a slack week, as many of the competitors seemed to be holding back, awaiting the Piano results.

All live workers will begin work in earnest again this week, and in order to start the new offer off in earnest we are going to give another Extra point offer.

100,000 Extra points will be given for each and every $28.00 worth of subscriptions turned in this week.

This $28.00 offer is for this week only and as the amount of Extra points given is liberal, every worker will be striving to secure as many of the $28.00 clubs as possible.

For every $28.00 worth of subscriptions turned in this week a certificate good for 100,000 Extra points will be given.

Make this your biggest week. While working for the Chevrolet, work to secure as many of the Extra points certificates as possible. You will need them at the close of the Competition.

BECAUSE

It will be the subscriptions taken in the country which will win the prize.

The work in the city of Brandon was finished during the first few weeks of the Competition.

It now remains for some competitor in the country territory to step in and take the subscriptions which will win this elegant $1,145.00 Touring Car.

Very few country competitors are working at all, giving a wonderful opportunity for some new entrant to step in and win.

This is a new competition beginning this week, in which everyone starts on an equal basis. New competitors have exactly the same chances as those already enrolled.

If you live outside of the city of Brandon, do not let this opportunity pass.

Send in your name now. The race is only starting.

Surely an $1,145.00 Chevrolet Touring Car for the work of three weeks only, is worth trying for.

Why Not You?

Why do you not enter the competition and make an effort towards the winning of the special prize Chevrolet? Here is a prize, which is exceptional in value, considering the short time required to win it. $1,145.00 is the price of the Car and three weeks work will win it, which amounts to over $380.00 per week as a salary for the winner—surely a magnificent reward for spare time effort.

The first special prize, the Piano ,was won by a small number of subscriptions; the new special Chevrolet will naturally be won by a still smaller number. This being the case, the winning will not be a difficult task, with the greater part of the terrtory still unworked and the small number of active competitors in the list.

If you possess the average amount of ambition and determination, you will not pass up this opportunity. It is not a case of luck or chance; effort will win the prize.

Why hesitate? There is absolutely nothing to lose and everything to gain as The Sun guarantees a commission of 10 per cent to every conscientious worker who does not win a prize. Be wise—Send in your name NOW.

The Winner of the $250. Cash Prize

Owing to the fact that the Weekly edition of the Sun goes to press too early in the week to allow us to have checked and audited all of the reports from the country territory, we are unfortunately unable to announce the winner of the big $250 Cash prize which is being given to the country competitor doing the best work in the past two weeks. We regret the delay, as all of the live workers of the country will be anxious to learn the final results. Not even a prediction could be made of the winner as several of the workers have been running a very close race. As soon as the final result is known, every competitor who has competed for the prize will be advised, and the official report will appear in the Weekly Sun of next week.

Country Competitors—Do not wait until you have found out the results before starting on the new Chevrolet Offer. You cannot afford to lose valuable time as the three weeks will slip by rapidly, and every subscription you can secure, will be necessary to carry off this big $1,145.00 Prize.

MAKE THIS A RECORD WEEK.

Masked Men Enter Offices, Destroy Documents, Take Money

REFUSE TO ACKNOWLEDGE

Any Government in Ireland Except the Sinn Fein Parliament

Dublin, May 15.—An official report issued last evening says that on Thursday night 17 vacant police barracks and huts were raided and wholly or partially destroyed. Five post offices also were raided, officials being held up by armed masked men. The money in the offices was taken and instruments destroyed. In addition, five revenue offices were raided and income tax books removed. Notices were posted in various districts conveying threats against persons who fail to abstain from speaking to policemen.

In raids on revenue offices, all documents relating to old age pensions were not disturbed. Notices were left behind saying that nothing had been taken from them "except matter harmful to the Irish Republic."

Maynooth town hall, which was the property of the Duke of Leinster, was destroyed by fire this morning.

Bodies of constabulary and military reinforcements are arriving in Counties Leitrim and Roscommon.

At Carrick-on-Shannon, the Board of Guardians unanimously adopted a resolution passed by the chairman refusing to acknowledge any government in Ireland except a Sinn Fein parliament.

Added to these 500 delegates will be others attending the Fisheries convention, which is booked for approximately the same time. Indeed some are intending to put in attendance at both conventions.

This is a splendid token of their interest in the enterprise which the students have undertaken in memory of their comrades who fell overseas during the Great War.

CATTLE SALES TO BE HELD JUNE 9

The cattle sale originally planned for June 2nd has now been postponed until June 9th. The change in that date has been made by the Manitoba Cattle Breeders' Association so that the Brandon sale will not clash with the Saskatoon sale being held the first week in June. Over seventy animals, mostly bulls, are entered and the quality of the stock is a very high grade. The sale is to be held in the Exhibition grounds and will commence at 1.30 in the afternoon.

The sale is the result of a request from the various exhibitors who were unable to get their entries here for the sale in March. The big storm completely tied up the railroads and many animals were withheld. The Manitoba Cattle Breeders' Association therefore decided to give the exhibitors another chance to dispose of high grade stock, and the sale has now been fixed for June 9th.

TORONTO PEOPLE PAY HONORS TO THE FALLEN PATS

Major Hugh Niven Carried Colors He Brought Out of Polygon Wood

Toronto, May 15.—Canada's crack regiment, the Princess Pats, will never be forgotten as long as the citizens show their tributes in the way they did Sunday at St. James' Cathedral, when this great building was packed to the doors and when scores were turned away on the occasion of the annual service in honor of the men of this fighting unit, who gave up their lives overseas. A special service was arranged in memory of the men, with Canon H. P. Plumptre taking the address, assisted by Rev. F. J. Moore. Canon Plumptre pointed out that it was not his intention to praise the men of the Princess Pats, as he felt it would be superfluous and impertinent on his part to attempt to talk of the deeds of the men whose praises are being sung from one end of Canada to the other, but instead he pointed out to the members of the Pats, who have returned, that there are many things they can do at home to carry on the work they commenced overseas. The speaker presumed that one of the underlying motives which took so many men overseas was the hope that this would be a war to end all wars, and while the aftermath of the war has shown the fallacy of that, Canon Plumptre knew that if the veterans would use their influence to back up the authorities, who are doing their utmost to bring about a peaceful condition, both among nations and among the factions at home, they would still be exercising their influence for good.

Use Overseas Spirit

Peace, he pointed out, is the one thing for which all are struggling just now, whether it be peace among nations or in the industrial world, and Canon Plumptre believed that if the Princess Pats would bring to bear at home the same spirit of good-will and fellowship which they displayed at the front, then their influence would be a great and deciding factor in the cause of industrial peace. His appeal, accordingly, was that they would do what they could to build up such conditions that their children would never be called upon to go through what they experienced in Europe. They could also help to build up Canada by bringing to bear in an industrial way the spirit which carried them so successfully through their trials overseas. He could not imagine any men whose influence would count more for good than the men who had fought, and who knew just how disastrous the lack of peace can become, both to the individual and to the nation. The general impression, he declared, was that there must have been among the Princess Pats some very special feeling of good-will and fellowship, and it was because of this impression that the citizens are looking particularly to the Pats who have returned to use their influence in the right direction. That same overseas spirit, he declared, if properly applied at home, would bring them the nearest to heaven that they could get upon earth.

Changes for the Good

So far as industrial conditions were concerned, Canon Plumptre recognized that there had not always been a display of justice between Capital and Labor, but he was glad to say that conditions are changing. Of late this change has become most marked, so that now there appears to be all over the continent a determined effort on the part of both employers and employes to get together and to understand in a greater degree the viewpoint of the other. While this might not be entirely due to the war, he felt that the war had been partly responsible, and he knew that the situation, though greatly improved, could be bettered still more if the returned men will but continue in their display of the right spirit. The changes in the relationship of Labor and Capital during the past ten years have been surprising, so that now there is no longer a feeling of bitterness towards men who unite with labor organizations. That was but a part of the new spirit. Another part of it was the general feeling that the workers should get a larger share of the things of the world which they produce.

So far as peace at home is concerned, Canon Plumptre made an appeal for unity and co-operation between all classes for the building up of a greater production to enable Canada to meet her war obligations. In some respects, he felt, we have been disillusioned as to what would happen after the war, but he did not see any reason why, with a display of the right spirit, there should not be complete peace at home.

Apart from the service, the occasion was an impressive one, as a large party of the Pats marched to the cathedral. An interesting feature of this was that Major Hugh Niven, who won such honor at Polygon Wood, carried the colors which he brought out of that battle. Special hymns were sung in honor of the fallen Pats, among them being the Hallelujah Chorus.

CALGARY TAX RATE TO BE AT LEAST 45 MILLS

Calgary, May 13.—Calgary's total mill rate, including the one mill levy on land values alone for the purposes of the provincial supplementary revenue tax, will be 45.75 mills, according to final calculations of the City Estimate Clerk. The estimates will be sent to the city council Monday night for final revision, but a special meeting of the council may be necessary to run through them.

The levy as figured out so far provides for the following:

For civic general purposes, including the school board levy, $8,255,057.92 requiring a mill rate of 44 mills.

Special levy for losses in collections, etc., $55,483.95; requiring a mill rate of .75 of a mill.

Levy on land assessment for provincial supplementary revenue tax, $52,592.55; requiring a mill rate of one mill.

Total, $3,343,134.42; requiring a total mill rate of 45.75.

Further reductions proposed by the special efficiency committee of the council may bring the total levy down to an even 45 mills.

FARMERS WOULD BENEFIT FROM DEEP WATERWAY

Fort William Man Declares There Would Be a Saving of 13c a Bushel

Fort William, Ont., May 14.—The price paid the farmer for every bushel of grain raised in the Canadian and American Northwest would be increased approximately 13 cents a bushel if ocean vessels could come up the St. Lawrence river to the head of the lakes and take on cargoes direct for Liverpool, representatives of the Boards of Trade of Fort William and Port Arthur asserted before the International Joint Commission in session here.

The commission is investigating to what extent the St. Lawrence deepening project would improve the resources, production and transportation of the two countries.

"The price of export wheat, rye, barley and hogs in North American markets at normal times is the Liverpool price, less transportation and other charges, and if we decrease the transportation, in a free market, the farmer would get the difference," said a brief presented by the two city governments and Board of Trade. Mr. I. Delamatre, presenting the brief, said the saving in actual transportation costs, if ocean vessels could load directly at the head of the lakes, would be five or six cents a bushel. Four transfers of grain, at two cents a bushel each, would also be saved, making a total saving of 13 or 14 cents a bushel. This, he contended, would go to the Northwest farmer.

Additional benefits detailed by Mr. Delamatre were elimination of shortages in Eastern elevators, retention of the identity of the grain shipped and elimination of shrinkages.

"Not only will the saving in freight rates be effected, but the equipment now used by the railway companies to transfer grain from bay port elevators to the seaboard can be moved Westward to relieve the annual car shortage," Mr. Delamatre declared. "It has been computed that the capital saving in rolling stock alone would pay for the entire cost of this waterway improvement over a comparatively few years. The matter also becomes of national importance in finding employment for the great national mercantile fleet we have created."

It was fully refuted, he added, by the Admiral's own testimony.

TO RETIRE CIVIL SERVANTS OVER 65 UNLESS EFFICIENT

Ottawa, May 18.—Details of the Civil Service Superannuation Act, introduced in the House by Hon. J. A. Calder, show that it is applicable to Government employes all over Canada who draw an annual salary, as distinguished from those temporarily employed or working half-time.

The Civil Service Commission will report at once on all who are over 65 and they can remain in the service only upon certificates of efficiency. Every Government employe over 60, who is retired, will receive two months' salary. Where the service has been over ten years he or she will be paid for any year of service one-sixtieth of the average salary received in the three years preceeding his retirement, but not to exceed in any case one-half his salary. This is the pension provision.

As retiring gratuities the scale is graduated. Those between 55 and 60 will get one month's salary for each year of service, but not more than eight months. Between 50 and 55 years one month's salary for every two years service, but not more than six months salary in all. Between 45 and 50 the scale provides one month's salary for every four years, not exceeding in all four month's salary.

Where a Government employe becomes physically disabled the gratuities may be increased, but not more than doubled, if the Civil Service Commission so recommends.

CITY COUNCIL

prominent citizens. Mr. James Kirkcaldy told the Council that the Great War Veterans Band and the City Band had amalgamated and were to make one strong city band. He said that it is impossible to have a military band in the city at present, and asked for a grant so that the City Band could carry on during the Summer. At present the band has no bandmaster, but a mail vote is being taken to decide on one. Mr. F. C. Cox said that they were asking the city for a grant of $54 each for twenty band concerts to be given during the Summer, or a total of $1080. He said that the street car earnings for the band evenings would more than meet the cost of the band concerts. Alderman Coleman said there was no doubt but what the concerts were a desirable feature, but that the matter should be referred to the Finance Committee first. This suggestion was followed by the Council and the matter will come up at a later meeting of the Council.

Request for Sewer

Secretary W. I. Smale of the Summer Fair asked that the City lay some 500 feet of lateral sewer mains in their grounds. These would connect up with the Eighteenth street mains. His Worship Mayor Dinsdale said that this was a rather unusual request, but Mr. Smale replied that the Exhibition is really a semi-public institution and that a free park is provided for the city in the Exhibition grounds. Mr. W. Dowling, President of the Fair Board, also supported the request and said that the Board had spent over $3,500 on the grounds last year to improve its attractivenes as a park. The matter came up later for discussion by the Council and Alderman Coleman said that if the Council granted this request that they would be establishing a precedent that would cause trouble. An ordinary citizen could not have this privilege extended to him, and he did not think that the Fair Board should be favored. It was decided therefore to offer the City Engineer and the city's men to the Fair Board at cost price if they wished to instal the sewer connections, but that the Council could not bear the expense of installation.

The tenders for 500 feet of fire hose caused some discussion among the members of the Council when the report of Fire Ghief Melhuish and Alderman Grantham was received recommending the purchase of the Imperial brand of hose from the Dunlop Tire and Rubber Company at $1.80 per foot. After several motions had been put to refer the matter for further discussion and many opinions had been expressed, it was decided to adopt that recommendation of the special committee and purchase the hose as specified.

Appreciation of Army Officer

A motion showing appreciation of the valuable services rendered by Staff Captain Howell in the performance of his duties for the city's welfare, was unanimously passed by the Council. A bylaw changing the closing time of the retail stores on Thursdays from noon to "12.30" was passed by the Council.

EARLY DAYS ON EXPERIMENTAL FARM BRANDON

Prof. S. A Bedford, Tells Kiwanis Club of Benefits From Experiments

HELPED SELECT SITE

of Brandon Farm—Over Thousand Experiments Being Made

"Early days on the Experimental Farm" was the subject of an address delivered to the Kiwanis Club today at noon, by Professor S. A. Bedford, now of Winnipeg, but one of the real old timers of this city. Prof. Bedford was engaged in Experimental Farm work for over twenty years, and was one of the three men to choose the present site of the Farm in Brandon. Always an active worker in the interests of Experimental Farms, Professor Bedford is one of the foremost men in that work in Canada, and his early work was mainly responsible for making the local farm one of the best in Canada.

"Thirty-two years ago there were only five Experimental Farms in Canada," said Professor Bedford, "but now they extend right across the Continent." The farms were started because of the fact that so little was known of the possibilities of farming, and there was a great need of experimental work. In outlining the vast amount of good which has been accomplished by the farms throughout Canada, Prof. Bedford said that the large increase in the number of bushels per acre was largely due to the experiments carried out by the farms in this country. The introduction of Marquis wheat was a feature of the experimental work that has increased the yield of wheat from thirty-five bushels per acre, up to as high as sixty-five bushels per acre. The introduction of this kind of wheat in Canada had alone paid for the cost and upkeep of the Experimental Farms in Canada, said the speaker.

Thousand Experiments

The extensive work carried on at the Experimental Farm was shown by the fact that there are about 1,000 [illegible] on the Brandon Farm. The experiments concerned stock, land, grains and everything that would be of interest to the Western farmers. In speaking of the location of the Farm here, Profesor Bedford said that it was one of the best on account of the fact that it has many kinds of exposure from the steep hill side to level flats. The soil also runs from shifting sand to stiff gumbo, and this variety of exposure and soil gives great opportunities for experimental work.

Early Difficulties

The hard work entailed to convert the prairie into a real Farm was explained by the speaker. The first few years were spent in clearing up the scrub and draining, and that over 5,000 feet of tile drains were laid on the Farm. Labor was hard to secure and the early trials were many. However, the Farm is now a real beauty spot and one of the best Farms in Canada. Among the early horticulturists at the Farm here, Professor Bedford said, were James Kirkcaldy, H. L. Patmore and City Clerk Brown, and they all assisted in making the Farm a success.

Speaking of the good accomplished by the Farms, the speaker said that big improvements had been made in farm machinery. By experimenting with drills instead of broadcasters it was found that the yield of wheat per acre could be increased five bushels, and that of barley eleven bushels. Professor Bedford then told of the experiments made in crossing different kinds of wheat and how successful the experiments had been, and of the success which had attended the introduction of Marquis wheat.

He asked the Brandon citizens to support the Farm and to be interested in its work and its development. The speaker also urged the extension of the Street Railway to the Experimental Farm, and thus make it the centre for picnics and gathering places for parties. In conclusion, Professor Bedford made a few remarks in connection with the noxious weeds, and asked for the co-operation of citizens with the local Weed Inspector in eliminating the weeds from Brandon property.

CHILD KILLED IN AUTO SMASH

Broken Glass Windshield Cut Boy's Throat—Fatality in Winnipeg on Holiday

Winnipeg, May 25.—Johnny, the five-year-old son of A. Thelfen, 378 Graham avenue, died shortly after five o'clock Monday afternoon from the effects of injuries received in a collision between automobiles in one of which he was riding, near the corner of Portage avenue and St. James street. E. C. Chasson, 188 Donald street, driver of the car alleged to have been responsible for the boy's death, is held by the police pending the completion of inquiries on which the police are now working.

The boy was riding with his father, mother and brother, in a car driven by G. Andrews, 119 Lenore street, in a Westerly direction, opposite St. Joseph's Orphanage, the automobile, according to statements of eye witnesses, going at a low rate of speed, when the car driven by Chasson said to be going in the opposite direction at a high rate of speed, and on the wrong side of the thoroughfare, dashed into it. As a result of the impact the child was thrown against the windshield which smashed. The glass of the shield cut a gash in the child's throat, and he was carried into St. Joseph's Orphanage, but died almost immediately, before medical aid could be secured.

Runge disappeared last November, and the provincial police have been working on the case for months.

MONEY WILL BE TIGHT ALL THROUGH SUMMER

The statement was made in New York at the close of the week that money would be relatively easy until the end of the month and that it would thereafter continue tight all through the Summer.

For this reason the belief was entertained that the [illegible] securities would tend to fall through the Summer, although conditions might be fair this week.

LAST OPPORTUNITY FOR EXTRA POINTS

Only Two More Weeks of the Big Chevrolet Offer

This should be the biggest week of the Competition for competitors who are really in the contest to win and win handsomely. The one who works this week is, in the first place, making a campaign for the winning of two Touring cars in the competition. Remember—no candidate need be satisfied with winning only one car; the winner of the special prize Chevrolet Touring Car given for the best work done in three weeks' time, can also win one of the other big cars to be given at the close of the campaign. The one who works this week, is also securing a far greater number of points for the effort, by taking advantage of the new extra points offer. This offer is the last one of it's kind in the Competition, and the wise competitor will make the most of it.

100,000 Extra Points

will be given this week for every $30.00 worth of subscriptions secured. As there will be no more extra points offer for clubs of subscriptions, it will be necessary for the winners to work their best this week. By this offer, an entirely new candidate or one who has already enrolled, but who, to date, has done little work, can secure the points which will bring him up ahead of the present leaders. This is the last opportunity. Make the most of it.

The Chevrolet Special Prize

We are now on the second week of the special three weeks' prize offer. The work of last week, by any of the competitors, does not at all merit the giving of the prize, and we are looking for some live worker to step in this week, and create a record and capture this enviable prize. This opportunity is every bit as good for a new candidate as for an old, as the work already done towards the winning, is by no means great enough, but what any new worker starting now, could double it with ease, this week. New competitors are needed and new competitors should see this wonderful opportunity that is open to them.

FORMER RUSSIAN CZAR AND ROYAL FAMILY SAID TO BE ALIVE

Geneva, May 25.—The Gazette De Lausanne publishes three columns concerning statements of Russian nobles and officers, recently returned to Europe, who declare that the former Russian czar and his family are still living, having escaped disguised by way of Vladivostok to Japan, where they are now living peaceably. Their existence is being hidden for political reasons, the returned Russians say.

One curious fact is recalled by the newspaper, which says it has been revealed that out of the ten thousand inhabitants of Ekaterinburg, not one [illegible] the fate of the former czar and his family, while even the Bolsheviki accounts of the incident lack confirmation. General Logoskowski and Engineer Natinof who were both at Ekaterinburg during the imprisonment of the former czar and his family, confirm other Russian reports of their escape.

BRANDON MAN HAS PILL BOX FULL OF HOPPERS

Which Hatched Out Since He Gathered the Eggs on May 14th

EFFECT OF HIGH WINDS

May Have Been to Distribute the Pest Over Wide Area

Convincing proof of the vitality and danger of the hopper pest in Southwestern Manitoba and Southeastern Saskatchewan is furnished by a Brandon man. Mr. S. S. Simpson, a representative of the International Harvester Co., carries in his pocket an ordinary pill box. The pill box contains between 150 and 200 hoppers, smaller than ants, the next stage after hatching. Mr. Simpson secured the lavra on May 14th by turning over about six square inches of earth on a farm in Township five, Range 26, about ten miles South of Pipestone. At the time the lavra was secured it was thought that there was no life left. Warmth caused hatching and the hoppers are lively as crickets, so much so that the lid has to be cautiously removed from the box to prevent their escaping. The box is amost airtight and it is a wonder the insects were not smothered.

Mr. Simpson states that if prompt and effective measures are not applied to the affected area at once there is great danger of the Western Prairies being overrun, as the hoppers do not leave a living green thing in their path.

It is feared that the high winds during the past week may have distributed the hoppers over a wider area than the one in which the eggs were laid last Fall.

Reports from Winnipeg indicate that the Provincial Government is actively co-operating with the municipalities to destroy the hoppers. The sncoess which meets their efforts is of intense interest to the whole Prairie West.

GREAT NORTHERN TRAIN SCHEDULE CHANGES MONDAY

Train to Leave Brandon at Seven a.m. and Arrive Here at 8.35 p.m.

The former train schedule on the Great Northern Railway will be restored Monday morning. Under this schedule, the company will run a train out of Brandon daily except Sunday at seven o'clock in the morning, returning the same evening at 8.35 p.m. This schedule will permit of connections being made with all branch lines of other railways and will also make possible through connections to St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Considerable discussion has been raised regarding the present schedule in force by which a train comes into the city at 11.13 in the morning and leaves at 3.13 in the afternoon. The company reported that the present schedule was causing a big loss in revenue, and following a decision of the Great Northern officials, the old schedule will be put in force commencing Monday morning.

EASTERN CANADA SETS FAST PACE

Toronto, May 25.—One-third of its total objective of a million and a half dollars has been raised by the Western Canada Colonization Association toward financing its project of settling twenty million acres of vacant prairie lands.

Eastern Firms Co-operate

Prominent Western men who are at present in the East on a financial campaign for the Western Colonization scheme are reporting huge success. Eastern corporations and firms are taking hold of the project in no uncertain manner and the objective of Western men to raise $1,500,000 in the East will be attained without any doubt. In a telegram received in the city on Monday it is stated that two prominent Eastern leaders contributed $50,00 0each to the scheme, and that many other donors had given $10,000 each.

Mr. K. Campbell of this city is one of the Western men at present on campaign and he has reported splendid success. The success of the campaign in the East will be a big incentive for Western leaders to follow when the campaign to raise $500,000 is started in the Western provinces at the conclusion of the Eastern campaign.

BORDEN HOME BUCKLES DOWN TO HARD LABOR

Should Premier Retire, Hon. Arthur Meighen Is Likely Successor

UNIONIST POLICY

To Be Taken Up Soon as Budget Debate Is Well Under Way

Ottawa, May 20.—It did not take Sir Robert Borden long to get down to work. Within a few hours after his return he was up to the neck in it, setting a pace that only a well man can maintain. Even if he intended to retire from the leadership he would have much work to do; for being a very careful man, Sir Robert is unlikely to leave much to chance. He is admittedly a capable administrator, which means that he pays much attention to detail.

The person who is quite sure as to what will happen, has, as the Scotch say, too good a conceit of himself, to be taken seriously. But beyond question there is a pile of work to be done whether Sir Robert stays or departs. If he decides upon the latter course he will take whatever measures he can to make the way of his successor and his followers as easy as possible. Knowing that in entering Union Government certain old-time opponents made sacrifices and took their political lives in their hands, he will certainly see that they are not left entirely to the sport of fate. This means that in any event Sir Robert will do what he can to mould his present following into a permanent party. He will certainly give it a platform, and will attempt to give it also an organization.

But who will take it upon himself to say definitely that Sir Robert will retire in the immediate future? Three out of every four of the political wiseacres think that he will; but in this matter making predictions is like trying to tell whence the wind cometh and whither it goeth. His appearance would indicate that Sir Robert is physically fit; he is a little thinner; but it is possible that he may have been dieting himself. Certainly he is active. But life on the golf links is an entirely different thing from life in the turmoil of politics. Some who have been very near to Sir Robert down South say that he is good for much hard work; but that he is disinclined to stay at the job; others who have seen much of him at short range say that he is not as good as he looks. As even doctors will differ in their conclusions respecting the condition of patients, it is not surprising that opinions differ as to the real state of Sir Robert's health. However, the average person thinks that he can tell a well or ill man when he sees him.

One guess being quite as good as another, one woud not be very far out in saying that Sir Robert will stay with the job for quite a while, at least, if he can. Political leaders, as a class, either die in harness or go down to defeat at the polls. Even the threat of illness, much less weariness, does not drive them from office; only stern necessity does that.

Get Parliament to Work

The first real work will be to get Parliament down to actual business. Since the latter end of February it has been sitting; but in concrete results has little to show for such an expenditure of time. The Budget, which has been several times delayed, would give the members something substantial to grind their teeth on.

When the Budget debate has been started well on its way, and the leaders have spoken, the matter of a permanent Unionist policy, an organization and the leadership will be taken up. This time it will hardly be a case of talking, but of acting. The by-elections have shown that time, tide and events wait for no party. The draft of a policy has been made several times; but outside of a few leading general principles, it is doubtful whether former drafts are of much value today. In these times of swiftly moving events the political leader must shape his course like the mariner on a treacherous stream. Besides, others are getting new movements so under way that attention has to be paid to them. For example, there is Hon. Herbert Rogers; his Toronto conference was not as large, or as representative as he probably desired it to be; but to ignore it would be foolish. To leave the political field to opponents is to court self-destruction.

Possible Successors to Borden

Speaking of possible successors to Sir Robert, it begins to look now as though the field had, for the present, been narrowed to two. Strange to say, Sir Thomas White, who three months ago was apparently the most favored, seems now to be out of the running. Of late he has been little in Parliament, which means that he is less talked about. Besides, his absence has given the impression that, perhaps, his inclinations lie to other directions. It is rumored that he will be the Government's representative on the Grand Trunk Arbitration Board. If he takes this appointment, it will put him definitely on the political shelf. Those who know him very well say that early in the year he would have been willing to take hold; but when he found that his suggested line of action did not find favor in certain quarters, he lost interest.

During recent weeks Mr. Meighen has developed strength. Of this there can be no doubt. He has always had a strong following among the rank and file, and those higher up seem to be more reconciled to him. Sir George Foster is favored by others, who think that he would be just the man to tide over the period of uncertainty until events disclose the real leader. Those who oppose this view say "What the party needs is youth and vigor, and, as a young men must eventualy be chosen, why not pick one now and be done with it?" This is a very strong argument in Mr. Meighen's favor.

But while this is the talk in and around the Parliament buildings, it must also be taken into account that strong influences outside of Parliament usually have considerable voice in the selecting of a government leader. It may be that they are not now as powerful as they once were; but if they do not have a hand in the matter it will surprise many; and the impression is that they are not very fond of Meighen.

What About the Wheat Board?

Shall the Wheat Board be continued? This is a question to which Western members are giving a great deal of attention. At first they were inclined to demand that it be continued, that is the Western Unionists were; but, as the matter has been discussed differences of opinion have developed. The probability is that they will be guided very much by the action of the British Government and by what the farmers through their representative organizations want. Trading in wheat is to be resumed in Britain this year; but it is still possible that the Government may exercise a measure of control over wheat. From present indications the Wheat Board in the United States will soon go out of business. The announcement that holders of participation certificates will probably receive forty cents a bushel for them at first gave the Wheat Board idea a strong boost; but the knowledge that No. 1 Northern is bringing higher prices in the United States than in Canada has somewhat checked feeling running in this direction.

Those who are opposed to the continuation of the Wheat Board say that the prospect of reduced crops this year will ensure high prices any way, so that the Board will not be necessary. They also say the continuation of the Wheat Board would almost certainly result in the prohibition of export to the United States, which would probably mean the removal of this provision from the statute books of the United States, and might result in very serious loss in years to come. It is practically certain that the abolition of the Wheat Board in the Republic would strongly influence action in this direction in Canada.

Criticism of Steel Merger

In the corridors much is heard of the British Empire Steel Corporation. Organized labor, as expressed by Tom Moore, President of the Labor Congress, seems to be rather alarmed over the prospect fearing that it means the open shop such as exists in the plants of the U. S. Steel Coporation. It is reported that the promoters of the merger are working strongly to secure subsidies for shipbuilding. If a subsidy is granted it will mean a big thing for British Empire Steel; for it will practically control all the yards between the head of the Lakes and the Atlantic. The indications are that the Third Party will probably have much to say on matters relating to the merger.

The announcement that the Canadian Manufacturers' Association is raising a million dollar fund to be used for promoting the interests of the association has stirred up the farmers. Speaking on the matter, President Howard of the C.M.A. said recently: "This is no political idea, but if the expenditure of a few thousand dollars would secure the presence of a real business man in Parliament it would be for the good of the country. But principally we need this million dollars as an emergency fund and the directors will disburse it in such manner as they consider best in the national interest."

CANADA AND U. S. SHOW HOW BEST TO SETTLE DISPUTES

International Joint Commission Exercise Wide Powers in Satisfactory Manner

WATERS ON BOUNDARY

Disputes Arising Therefrom Come Under Jurisdiction of Unique Commission

A lucid and interesting address on the purpose and work of the International Joint Commission was delivered to the Canadian Club on Wednesday evening by Mr. Henry A. Powell, D.C.L., K.C., M.A., of St. John, New Brunswick. Mr. Powell is one of the most distinguished men in Canada and an outstanding figure in the Maritime Provinces. He is a barrister, was a member of the New Brunswick Legislature, and represented Westmoreland in the House of Commons for two years. He is one of the three members chosen by Great Britain to represent Canada on the International Joint Commission.

"Following the Treaty of Ghent, the relations between the United States and Canada have been very harmonious," said Mr. Powell in commencing his address. There have been some problems come up between the two countries, but they have all been satisfactorily settled. Mr. Powell said that the International Joint Commission is composed of six members, three from the United States and three from Canada, and that they have greater powers than any other judicial body. The jurisdiction affects the waters of the boundary line, and where one country unlawfully attempts to divert the flow of water, then a suit for damages can be entered with the Joint Commission, and their decision is final. In case of a deadlock, the decision will be carried to The Hague and settled there.

Large Achievements

The United States and Canada have decided to settle all their questions in an amicable way through the Joint Commission, Mr. Powell explained. In giving a comparison between the reception of the Commission by ex-President Taft and President Wilson, Mr. Powell said that the reception of the latter was very cold, while ex-President Taft was very cordial. The speaker referred to some of the questions which had received the attention of the Commission and he cited the settlement of the waterways trouble at Sault Ste. Marie, as an accomplishment of the Commission. One of the largest arrays of legal talent in America was lined-up in the fight between the shipping interests and the surrounding towns, but the Commission had settled the matter so satisfactorily that there has never been one complaint since the Commission's decision.

The pollution of the waters in the Great Lakes had been gone into very thoroughly by the Joint Commission said Mr. Powell, and he gave several instances to show the vast nature of the investigation conducted. The report of the Commission has now been adopted and a recommendation is asked from the Commission as to how best to carry out the remedies. The speaker said that Winnipeg has a remarkably cheap power at three cents per kilowatt while St. John is paying 15 cents for the same amount, and he stated that Winnipeg has now been guaranteed its source of power. Taking up the question of the Milk and St. Mary's Rivers in Alberta and which rivers had caused a great deal of controversy over the proposed diversion of the waters, Mr. Powell related the various proposals made by both the United States and Canada. The matter is now in the hands of the International Joint Commission for settlement.

Great Power Projects

The greatest scheme for the development of power that the world has even seen, is the way Mr. Powell characterised the plan for the development of power on the St. Lawrence River and the deepening of that river to allow ocean going traffic to reach the head of the Great Lakes. This project, if carried out, will mean an expenditure of between six and eight hundred millions of dollars, but so sure are men of finance of the success of the venture, said the speaker, that capitalists have made the proposition that they will deepen the St. Lawrence River and make it passable for ocean going steamers in return for the power franchise. Two million horsepower lies undeveloped in the St. Lawrence River today, said Mr. Powell. The matter is being placed in the hands of many experts, and based on the facts submitted by the reports the Joint Commission will give their decision on this gigantic scheme.

Canada and the United States present an outstanding feature that shows the best of relations, one with the other, in that there is not one fort or any show of military force at any point in over 3,000 miles of border line. This fact, said Mr. Powell, emphasizes the amicable relations which always exist between the two countries, and although there may be slight differences between the United States and Canada at times, woe betide the outsiders who try to come between them. Mr. Powell said that he hoped that the relations between the two countries would always be as peaceable as they have been in the past.

Alderman G. B. Coleman moved a vote of thanks to the speaker for his very splendid address, which Rev. Thompson Ferrier seconded. The speaker was introduced to the club by the President, Mr. J. E. Matthews, in a neat speech.

12TH MANITOBA DRAGOONS TO BE RE-ORGANIZED

General H. Dyer, of Minnedosa, and Col. A. L. Young, Souris, Attend Meeting

It has been unanimously decided to re-organize the 12th Manitoba Dragoons, the re-organization to take place this year. The decision came as the result of an enthusiastic meeting of men interested in the Dragoons who met in the Prince Edward Hotel, Wednesday evening. Colonel Perry of the Military Headquarters Staff, was present, as was also General H. Dyer of Minnedosa and Colonel A. L. Young of Souris.

General Dyer spoke very enthusiastically of the re-organization and urged that the regiment retain its old name. Colonel Young outlined some of the plans and it was decided to proceed with the organization at once. As it will be impossible to secure the equipment and organize the Dragoons by June 21st when Camp Hughes opens, it is not likely that the regiment will go into camp this Summer. However Colonel Young will probably arrange to have squadron commanders appointed in each district, and these men will then organize each local unit.

FIVE YEAR TRIP IN REGIONS NEAR THE SOUTH POLE

British Expedition to Take Possession of Lands and Investigate Riches

WIRELESS STATIONS

To Be Erected at Several Points—Brother of Brandon Man Is Engineer

Among the members of the Imperial British Antarctic Expedition, who will commence their journey next month, will be Lieut. A. F. Birnie, brother of Mr. W. L. Birnie, Manager of the Bank of Hamilton in this city. Lieut. Birnie was recently demobilised from the Royal Navy and during his years of service won five medals. He has been appointed engineer to the expedition and gives the following interesting information concerning arrangements for the trip.

This expedition is subsidized by the Government and is to be the largest of all expeditions. It will probably secure all the land in the Antarctic circle for the Empire. The plan is to leave London, June 20th.

"There are three ships, one of which is at present in the course of construction, and I am in charge of the work and installation of the machinery. The intention was originally to purchase the 'Terra Nova,' Stefansson's ship . . . but the price asked was exorbitant.

"After calling at the usual places, Cape Verdi Islands, Capetown and Australia, we expect to arrive in Wellington, New Zealand, in October of this year, leaving immediately as soon as the ships have been filled with stones. The next stop will be at Macquerie Island where a wireless station and the necessary houses will be built of stone. From there we will continue our journey to Scott Island, where another wireless will be erected, and later to New Harbor in the Ross Sea within the ice circle. An extra powerful wireless station will be erected at this point, which will be sufficiently strong to speak to the ship at Enderby Land, Coates Land and the South Shetlands. Our ship is to circumnavigate the ice circle after leaving New Harbor, arriving back in Wellington, New Zealand, after erecting these three stations, in February, 1921. The ship will again be filled up with stores, especially carbide and coal, as the stations at these points have to be maintained for five years.

"After discharging at the various places the ship is to start the circular voyage, which has never been attempted before. It is expected that we will arrive at Wilkes Land, December, 1921, Enderby Land, February, 1922, Coates Land, March 1923, Falkland Islands, July 1923, and back to Graham Land and King Edward Seventh Land to New Harbor during the end of 1924. From there we will return to New Zealand and home about July, 1925.

"The other ships will develop the whaling industry in the Ross Sea side of the ice, open up the ruby, manganese and gold mines in Oates and Victory Land, working from New Harbor. An exploration party is also to work from there, first erecting an airdrome on Ross Island and then proceeding South to the pole, fitting up portable wireless stations at easy stages. Communication is to be kept up both by sledge parties and airplanes, but no spectacular stunts are to be indulged in as the main idea is to start sound commercial and permanent stations at the various points mentioned."

Commander John L. Cope, B.A., F.R.G.S., F.Z.S., etc., who is in charge of the expedition writes to Mr. W. L. Birnie as follows:

"Many thanks for your efforts on our behalf, will gratefully acknowledge any funds you may be instrumental in raising. Tell your Masonic brethren that we hope to be able to open 'Lodge Antarctica' as there are quite a number of us in the expedition."

SHIFTING VALUES

It may be good advice to Western Canada farmers to bale wheat and oat straw for sale in foreign countries. It is probable that there will be fair prices offered for such fodder. It is unlikely that advantage can be taken of the good advice. The farmers of Western Canada are paying such high wages for such indifferent farm help, that it is likely they will confine their activities to other and more certainly profitable undertakings.

Willy-nilly, the great back to the land movement is about due. Foods and other essential commodities are going to continue at such prices that the wealth of the family is not going to be reckoned for long in motor cars but in possession of supplies of food and other essential commodities. Since men will not undertake farm labor if they can secure any other, then the foods and the articles which the farmers produce are going to be among the valuable commodities. It may be that the back to the land movement that stern necessity will force, will bring with it the eight hour day and the weekly half holiday. Certainly, ownership of a bit of good land is going to again take its place among the most desirable possessions of man. Meanwhile the pleasure-seekers who crowd the cities are going to have to pay more dearly than ever before for the necessities as well as the luxuries.

GOOD CLEAN SPORT

The hold which good, clean sport, baseball particularly, has on the people of Brandon was convincingly demonstrated on Monday when about 2,500 persons paid admission to ball games in the afternoon and evening. In addition there were hundreds of boys admitted free and they formed possibly the most keenly interested and critical spectators. The sport provided proved to be worthy of such patronage. The Brandon and Winnipeg players, played the game in excellent form and provided a clean, snappy article of ball that was alike creditable to themselves and the throng of spectators.

That the Brandon players were able to win is a matter for congratulation. The sportsmanlike conduct of the players on both teams is an even greater reason for congratulations for it is the spirit which accepts defeat of victory smilingly, which counts. The game is a part of the training for life and the person who can accept defeat with a smile has learned something of immense value.

To the players and to the men whose interest and activity made possible the holding of such games, the public is indebted. Long may they be able to provide clean, wholesome sport.

WORDS NOT HARMLESS MISSILES

Apparently the Socialists are learning that words are not harmless missiles, and that often they are most dangerous to those who use them.

It appears as if the discovery has at last been made that some of the cant terms of common Socialist conversation, as well as that of the Reds, are very bad advertising—particularly that one about "the dictatorship of the proletariat."

At a recent convention, the Socialists repudiated that term, though the act was bitterly opposed by the Reds who compose a minority that is a slave to dogma and has lost its taste for language that is anything else than red hot with rhetorical tobasco.

The truth is, that talk of a "dictatorship of the proletariat" is particularly bad advertising in this country. To the calm, sensibly poised bystander the term causes more amusement than alarm. Marx, who invented it, had in mind a class of really oppressed and downtrodden workers that were plentiful enough in his time and place, but which it would be impossible to find in this country at the present time. Moreover, this father of Socialism changed his mind later in life, and repudiated the fanatical absurdity that revealed itself in that term. He originally thought that the "proletariat" would tend to increase, but instead it has been decreasing everywhere, and scarcely exists in this country at all.

The action of the Socialist party in America in repudiating its most fanatical elements is an encouraging sign, and shows that criticism has helped some even in that quarter. Socialists realize that a fanatic is more harmful to Socialism than to anything else, just as fanatical reaction is more harmful to stability than to radicalism.

It is a poor showing for the sense of humor of the Socialists that they delayed so long in repudiating that absurd phrase "dictatorship of the proletariat," which at best can only be a joke in a country where "proletariats" as Marx understood the term, are as scarce as millionaires.

CLOSES UP THE GAP

In considering wheat marketing under present conditions, there is one point that does not appear to have received the emphasis to which it is entitled. This is the fact that under the present scheme, whereby the Wheat Board sells all the wheat, the farmer who is compelled to sell his wheat immediately after threshing is not the poorer thereby.

Under the open market system, the price of grain when it first begins to pour into the country elevators has often been very much lower than what ruled later in the season. The reasons for this may have been proper and sufficient, they may have been due to market manipulation. The result was the same. The farmer forced for economic or other reasons, to sell immediately upon delivery, had to take what was offered and discoveries later in the season of world shortages, or other factors that enter into establishing prices, profited, not the producer but very often speculators possessed of advance information and able to provide the funds for holding the grain simply to reap a pront.

Under the system such as is at present in use, the grower receives a fair deposit. This deposit should be sufficient to discharge ordinary obligations connected with the crop, while through the operations of the single selling agency, his deferred payments make him the participator in any gains there may be through marketing where and when experts deem most advisable.

The present system, if efficiently manned, bridges the gap between the producer who otherwise would be forced to sell immediately the crop is marketable, and the favored ones who are able to wait and take advantage of the most favorable market conditions.

DESTROY THE PEST

If the hopper plague which threatens Southwestern Manitoba and Southeastern Saskatchewan should be mistakenly regarded as a nine days' wonder then Canada will experience a catastrophe. It is not something in the nature of the visit of a sea serpent to a seaside resort lacking patronage—a matter for comment, controversy and then to be forgotten when something else attracs the attention of an idle throng. The thirty odd square miles affected is a comparatively small area when the cultivated land in Canada is considered. It is, however, a patch from which if the plague be not removed by ruthless methods, if necessary, the Prairie provinces may be overrun. If the hoppers are permitted they will swarm over a large portion of this province this Summer and by next year may be found to have gained an ascendancy such as to threaten the entire crop.

It is said that the means to destroy this pest is known. That is comforting but it is not sufficient. The means must be applied. The present is no time to waste time while quarreling over who is to pay the bills. It should be the duty of some Government officials to get a clear understanding on this point, but the thing to concentrate on is the application of the remedy. The Government that fails to do this will earn deep censure, whereas eradication of the pest will win warm praise. The present is the time for action.

CANADA PUTS UP BARS AGAINST ALL IMBECILES

Ottawa, May 25.—The recent appointment of a number of extra medical inspectors in connection with immigration into Canada is understood to be consequent upon the representations of public health bodies throughout Canada that many imbeciles were being admitted to Canada without proper inspection. The staff of medical immigration inspectors has been more than doubled and every precaution is now being taken to prevent incurable imbeciles from entering the country and becoming a public charge.

Fifty per cent of patients in an asylum in British Columbia are said to be recent immigrants. Four of them are said to have been admitted at Atlantic ports after they were refused admittance to the United States. In answer to inquiries on the point, the Dominion Health Department stated there was no lack of precaution at the present time and modern scientific tests were being made by competent alienists at ports of entry.

Long Island, N.Y., was one of the first sections of the country to foster the racing of high-speed motor cars.

Following the ceremony a luncheon was served at the bride's home. Only a few of the immediate friends and relatives were present, among them being, besides her parents, the bride's two brothers, Russell of Oak Lake, and Jack of Winnipeg, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Cheasley, and Miss Aleta Cheasley, and Mr. S. H. Butler of Brandon.

Many beautiful and costly gifts testified to the esteem in which the young couple are held. Mr. and Mrs. Mills have taken up residence in Brandon.

OBITUARY

Oscar Rymph

One of Brandon's best known citizens passed away this morning in the person of Mr. Oscar Rymph, aged sixty-two years, who for the past seventeen years has been a conductor on the Canadian Pacific Railway. He was well known throughout the province and latterly was conductor on the Brandon-Moose Jaw run of the C.P.R. The late Mr. Rymph was a member of A.F. & A. M., Brandon Lodge, No. 19, the I.O.O.F., Brandon City Lodge, No. 6, and the Order of Railway Conductors, No. 464. Besides his widow, two daughters, Mrs. Raymond Skillman, of this city, and Mrs. Harry Evans, of Hamilton, Ohio, also his aged mother and one brother at Jamestown, New York, are left to mourn his loss.

H. Peacock

The death occurred at the Brandon General Hospital at five o'clock this morning of Mr. H. Peacock, one of the best known of the old timers in the Brandon district. Mr. Peacock, who was 86 years of age, was taken ill with pneumonia this week and removed to the General Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Peacock came to Brandon from Bruce County, Ontario, in 1882, and farmed for years in the Roseland district. Mrs. Peacock died two years ago. A large family is left to cherish the memory of a good father. They are: Mrs. W. Y. Rumney, Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. J. H. Temple, Victoria, B.C.; Mrs. S. L. Belden, Cupar, Sask.; Mrs. A. Mrs. Joan Jackson

The many friends of Mrs. Joan Elliott Jackson, of Alexander, will regret to learn of her death which occurred Sunday evening at the home of her son, Mr. Hugh Jackson, of Alexander. The late Mrs. Jackson was born at Agincourt, Scarborough Township, Ont., seventy-eight years ago. In 1864 she married John Jackson. The late Mr. and Mrs. Jackson resided at Scarborough and later at Forrest, Ont., until the Spring of '93 when they moved West settling at Alexander. In the Fall of the same year Mr. Jackson was called to the Great Beyond. Although the late Mrs. Jackson had been ill nearly all Winter, her health was so much improved that she was able to be up and just prior to a stroke on Friday, to which she succumbed, was working in the garden. A staunch member of the Presbyterian Church, Mrs. Jackson was highly esteemed by all those who knew her, and did much for the good of the community in which she lived.

There are left to mourn the loss of a loving mother, two daughters and five sons: Mrs. W. J. Miller, of Winnipeg; Mrs. W. J. Elliott of this city; William, Hugh and John of Aexander; Robert of Rapid City, South Dakota, and Arthur of Lead, South Dakota.

COMMENCEMENT DAY FOR CLASS '20 WILL LONG BE REMEMBERED

Largest Class That Ever Graduated From Brandon College—Notable Gathering Witnesses Conferring of Degrees and Presentation of Medals and Scholarships—Addresses of Rare Merit

Commencement day exercises for Class '20, Brandon College, the special convocation of McMaster University, conferring of degrees, diplomas, medals and scholarships, and the presence of gifted speakers, attracted a capacity audience to the City Hall, Tuesday evening. The spectacle there presented will long remain a fragrant memory. The sage advice and sound counsel from the lips of pro-Chancellor Gilmour, of McMaster University, and President Whidden of Brandon College, should bear ripe fruit in the coming days. Fourteen of the fifteen graduates introduced by Prof. MacNeill, knelt before pro-Chancellor Gilmour while he spoke the words that proclaimed each one a Bachelor of Arts. Dr. McKee placed the sheepskin over their shoulders, and on rising they received their parchments from Dr. Whidden, while for the five girl graduates there were also bouquets of beautiful flowers. One B.A. degree, that of Maurice C. Fitzgerald of Grenfell, Sask., was conferred in absentia, as was also the degree of M.A. conferred on Zoe Ellen M. Houga, Central Butte, Sask. The degree of D.D. was also conferred by pro-Chancellor Gilmour, on Rev. Charles B. Freeman of Saskatoon, Sask. Rev. Dr. Paterson, Winnipeg, gave a brief resume of the life and work of Mr. Freeman, which had earned for him this honor.

The Arts Graduates

The graduates in Arts of Class '20 are as follows:

D. H. Beaubier, B.A., Brandon; Ethel Annie Bolton, B.A., and Stella May Bolton, B.A., Brandon; Orval Earl Calverley, B.A., Ninette, Man.; Jean Ferguson Cameron, B.A., Calvin, N. D.; Maurice Crosbie Fitzgerald, B.A., Grenfell, Sask.; Elizabeth Greig, B.A., Howick, Quebec; Frederick Earl Howard, B.A., Wheatland, Man.; Robert Wellington McBain, B.A., Hamiota, Man.; David McLean McNaught, B.A., Rapid City; Clarence Albert Morgan, B.A., Brandon; Leonard Casimir Nel[illegible] Sask.; Victor Emanuel Nordland, B.A., Norway, Alta.; Annie Adelia Sanford, B.A., Virden; Charles Ganong Whidden, B.A., Brandon.

Diplomas Presented

After pro-Chancellor Gilmour declared closed the special convocation of McMaster University, President Whidden presented a diploma in Theology, English course, to John Scott, who was introduced by Rev. W. E. Matthews. Mrs. Wilkins, Lady Principal of Clark Hall, introduced Elizabeth Gregg and Ethelwyne Irene MacKay, who received their diplomas in Expression the value of which course they had the previous evening, given such splendid proof. This was the occasion for the presentation of still more flowers.

A New Scholarship

The announcement of a new scholarship, the Eric Dennis Scholarship, the gift of Senator Wm. Dennis of Halifax, was announced by President Whidden. The scholarship is given in memory of a gallant son killed in the great war and is for competition among returned men based on their standing in examinations, recognition as leaders and esprit de corps. D. H. Beaubier was adjudged the winner.

The medal in English was won by Miss A. Sanford, who also received the highest standing in History, but as one cannot win two medals it went to the next highest, Fred C. Howard. D. H. Beaubier won the medal in Political Economy.

A pleasing announcement made by President Whidden was that Class '20 has made a gift of $800 to the College Memorial Gym Fund.

Address to Graduates

Addressing the graduating class, Dr. Whidden said from the period of congratulations and felicitations they were now enjoying, the members would pass out from Alma Mater to begin the next great stage in the journey of life. He urged them to be true and like the Spartan youths to determine to make the world a better place for their having lived. Gowns, caps, and diplomas are little symbols believed to be deserved, they give confidence of a worthy discharge of opportunities for service, ability and willingness to carry on. The President urged the graduates not to abandon idealist views because they cannot be applied during the first weeks. If they chose to become leaders in spiritual things they were advised to keep their ideals in the clouds, feet on the ground and their hearts pure. A warning note was sounded lest the immense development of Canadian natural resources dwarf the moral, social and spiritual life. The test is always can I go out and carry on for the sake of my mother's and my father's God.

Tribute to Brandon Students

In acknowledging the honor conferred on him, Dr. Freeman said he recognized that he had been selected for decoration as a recognition of the services of the plain, undecorated missionaries of Western Canada, rather than for any special merit in his own work. He paid a splendid tribute to the spirit and work done by Brandon College students, and said that if the College continues to send out such men and women there is no need of fears for the future.

Pofessor Gilmour

That he had not had an opportunity of visiting Brandon since he was here at the laying of the corner stone of Brandon College, was the statement by pro-Chancellor J. L. Gilmour, M.A., D.D., of McMaster University, Toronto, who expressed pleasure at the prosperity and the place it has made for itself in the community and Western Canada. He conveyed the best wishes of Eastern friends unable to be present. The growth of the university idea was traced from the earliest times to the present when there are two ideas the state university and the universities allied with religious denominations. The university has a great mission in this nation which constitute the great gangway between active Europe and dreamy Asia. Shifting of the centre of activity to the Pacific was predicted and when it comes the day of Canada will dawn. Four great factors in the life of the people, factors on which great stress must be laid, were sketched at some length.

The colleges stand for intelligence. Marvelous forces of physical power have been unlocked. The duty of the colleges is to lead and to train sound men and women how best to use these powers.

One of the great problems is how to get large numbers of men and women to work together and to understand each other. The college can play a large part in doing this by the promotion of comradeship, teaching people to live together in understanding and harmony.

We Need Courage

Difficulties confront us. We need courage, the kind of courage that our Canadian boys gave such a convincing demonstration of in Flanders, when untrained Canadians inspired dread in the trained German legions. The task before us now is an even greater one than any we have yet faced.

The thing the country needs most of all is more real religion. "Put Christ in the centre of your thoughts and you will find He is the power to bring back the poor lost world to find itself and to find God." We are a small force in a big world but if we give our lives to the Master the poor dusturbed, depressed world will in some way be fed. The hope was expressed that Bandon College may expand and help develop intelligence, comradship, courage, and above all things the spirit of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Regret Over Resignations

Three resignations from the College faculty were announced with regret by President Whidden. Dr. S. J. McKee, for forty years a pilgrim father who has devoted his life and his strength to the development of Brandon College, has found the strain too severe and "tendered in a gracious, strong and sympathetic way his resignation as professor and Registrar." This the Board accepted with profound regret, knowing full well that they can never fill Dr. McKee's place. Recognition, satisfactory to Dr. McKee has been made and he is now Professor Emeritus. Dr. C. W. New, Professor of History, has also resigned to accept a position with McMaster. The history chair is to be filled by Joseph E. Howe, graduate of Acadia, post graduate of Yale, and teacher of history in the collegiate at Saskatoon. Miss Jean Fraser, lecturer in English, is also resigning in response to a call for duty in the home circle.

President Whidden stated that the College Board is preparing a statement regarding a new building program and the Endowment Fund which will enable needed salary increases to be made.

Reception at College

At the conclusion of the exercises in the City Hall, the graduates, faculty and friends gathered in the reception rooms at Clark Hall. The guests were received by President and Mrs. Whidden, Mrs. Olive A. C. Wilkins, B.A., Lady Principal, and Mr. Robt. Darach, Chairman of the Board. Refreshments were served and an enjoyable hour spent. The graduates were of course the centre of interest and congratulations were showered on them.

U. S DID NOT KEEP PACE WITH FREIGHT CAR NEED

Lack of New Cars and Action of Canadian Officials Causes Shortage

New York, May 19.—The New York Globe publishes an article which purports to endorse the recent action of Canadian officials in refusing to permit Canadian freight cars to cross the international boundary. The newspaper, dealing with the general car shortage at present prevailing in the United States, points out that the Car Service Commission, which acts under authority of the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington, so far has hesitated to exercise its authority during the present situation. It says:

"The Canadian border is the source of a car shortage which is particularly annoying to New York. It is provoked by neglect of American railroads to return empty cars belonging to Canadian roads.

"During the war, Canadian roads built almost a peace time quota of new and large freight cars. They allowed these cars to come to the United States to bring newsprint and other products to New York and other cities with the understanding that the Canadian cars would be returned immediately.

"American railroads disregarded this agreement it seems. Canadians assert that their cars have been diverted elsewhere, but back home. As a reprisal, Canadian officials now refuse to allow cars over the border, resulting not only in a paper famine for newspapers of the Eastern States, but also creating a delicate international situation."

When the United States' Government gave up the roads they were short some 226,000 freight cars, 7,000 passenger coaches, and 3,200 locomotives, according to conservative estimates made by The Globe. The newspaper adds these figures do not include an emergency surplus, nor do they allow for natural increase in traffic, which has grown on an average of ten per cent. per year. It also says there are some 2,500,000 freight cars in all on American railroads.

FOCH DECLARES FRANCE MUST PREPARE FOR WAR

Present Economic Struggle is the First Part of Peace Program

PREPARATION FOR WAR

He Declares to Be the Second—Who Dares Believe Germany Renouncing War

Paris, May 19. — Warnings that France must, in the midst of peace, make preparations for future wars, was uttered by Marchal Foch at the annual meeting or the Poltechnic School for Army Engineers today. Discussing the lessons of the great war he said the present economic struggle is the first part of the peace program, but preparations for war is the second part. "Which of us,' he asked, "dares to believe that Germany is renouncing war on the morrow of her ruin. Germany's neighbors, whether they wish to or not will be forced to keep up armies and maintain strong frontiers."

"How can we help mistrusting a nation,' he asked, "which reduced to impotence by a great napoleon was able to re-establish itself and bring about the complete overthrow of a colossal empire. Making war is its national industry, and might its right."

TOTAL REDUCTION OF ASSESSMENT THIS YEAR $84,721

The reductions made by the Court of Appeal in connection with the assessment of 1920 totalled $62,216. Of this amount $57,016 was on land and $5,200 on buildings. The reduction made by the Court of Revision was $22,505, of which amount $16,055 was on land and $6,450 on buildings. Altogether the total amount allowed off on the appeals from the 1920 assessment by the two courts was $84,721.

The total assessment for the City of Brandon for this year is fixed at $20,091,713. The exemptions on property in the city amount to $4,641,018, which leaves a total of $15,450,695 on which the city actually collects taxes. According to the assessment figures the population of Brandon is shown as 14,421, while the figures given in 1919 were 14,020.

NEW TAXATION IN FORCE TODAY ALL OVER CANADA

Finance Department Experts Make No Attempt to Estimate Exact Revenue

PURPOSES OF TAXATION

Are for Production of Necessary Revenue and Prevention of Extravagance

Ottawa, May 19.—Instructions for levying new taxes in force today, have been sent to tax collectors throughout the Dominion. What the revenue will be the Finance Department experts make no attempt to estimate in anything like exact figures, although it is thought that the additional revenue will be in the neighborhood of $75,000,000 or $80,000,000. The purposes of the tax are two-fold, more revenue and prevention of extravagance. The estimated loss of revenue from the repeal of tax legislation is $30,000,000.

65 CASES LIQUOR SEIZED ON FARM NEAR COULTER

Believed to Have Been Purchased for Smuggling into U. S.

SEVERAL SHIPMENTS

From Saskatchewan Points for Towns Near Border Caused Suspicion

Sixty-five cases of liquor valued at nearly $2,500 were seized by Inspectors Brethour and Rowe in a raid conducted at a small farm near Coulter, Manitoba, on Tuesday evening. The inspectors were assisted in their work by Constable Tulloch of Melita, and one man named Ryan was arrested and taken into Deloraine. It took three large trucks to haul the liquor into Deloraine where it is now stored. It is stated by inspector Rowe who returned to the city this morning that the liquor was to have been smuggled into the United States.

From information received by the authorities, the three officers went to Coulter on Tuesday and made inquiries regarding several large shipments of liquor, shipped from Regina to Elva, Lyleton and Coulter. After an investigation they proceeded to a farm near Coulter where they found a man named Ryan. A search of the house revealed twenty-four cases of liquor which Ryan is alleged to have stated was all there was in his possession. The inspectors were not satisfied however, and inspector Rowe began a search at the granary. A loose board and a small hole looked suspicious, and upon taking up several boards in the floor of the granary the hiding place of a great quantity of liquor was disclosed. When the last case had been taken out of the hiding place under the granary. It was discovered that forty-one cases had been hidden there. The total number of cases found on the farm was sixty-five, and at an average price of $36 per case, the seizure totals $2,440.

Returning to the house after making the liquor "find" under the granary, the man Ryan was placed under arrest and taken into Deloraine. Inspector Rowe states that the liquor had been shipped from Regina to several small stations near Coulter so as not to cause any suspicion. He states that it was intended to smuggle the liquor across the United States border which is only two miles distant from the Ryan farm. It is alleged that there is a ring of men connected with the wholesale smuggling, and at the present time the police are searching for three other men who are suspected of being actively connected with the disposal of the liquor. Inspector Rowe states that it is his opinion that the farm had been rented only as a blind for smuggling activities.

There will probably be further developments as the result of the seizure. It is suspected that organized efforts have been made for some time to ship the liquor across the border, but this recent seizure may check further activities at whiskey smuggling from Manitoba.

LABORITES RESENT POLISH ATTACK ON SOVIET RUSSIA

London, May 19.—Denunciation of the Polish attack on Bolsheviki Russia and what is claimed to be "Great Britain's complicity in that offensive," is contained in a manifesto issued here by a number of labor leaders, including a number of Laborite members of parliament.

GREAT DEMAND FOR FARM HELP

Employment Bureau Finds it Impossible to Supply Demand for Workers

The labor situation is acute in Brandon. According to information given at the Provincial Employment Bureau there is very little work in the city, and a great demand for farm help. The erection of the Nurse's Home at the Hospital for the Insane and the addition of the King George School is providing employment to a large number of men, but the difficulty in securing materials is holding up the construction somewhat. There are very few vacant jobs in Brandon.

The demand for help on the farms is still great and it is impossible for the Employment Bureau to fill the applications which are piling up. Wages on the farms run from $75 to $80 a month, while as high as $85 has been paid for one month's work. The railroads are in need of help in construction work, but are also finding great difficulty in getting men.

HEAVY RAINS QUENCH FOREST FIRES RAGING IN NORTHERN MINNESOTA

Duluth, May 19.—Heavy rains have practically eliminated further danger from forest fires in Northern Minnesota for the time being at least, it was indicated today.

WESTERN MEN SHOULD BE ON BOARD OF C. N R.

Calgary, Alta., May 20.—"In the opinion of this conference there should be a good representation of Western Canadian interests upon the board of directors who may be appointed to govern the affairs and direct the policy of the Canadian National Railways." Moved by W. E. Milner, Winnipeg, seconded by J. F. Kilgour, Brandon.

"In the opinion of this conference freight rates Westward should be based on approximately the same mileage rates as those Eastward and full advantage should be taken in fixing the rates of the reduced cost of operating government lines, which have easy grades to the Pacific coast." Moved by W. E. Payne, Vancouver, seconded by G. B. Armstrong, Merritt, B.C.

By almost unanimous vote the above resolutions were adopted Wednesday afternoon by the conference of Boards of Trades of Western Canada in session in the Palliser hotel, Calgary. A resolution urging the establishment by the National railways of Western executive offices was withdrawn.

The case of the Western representation, the case for the proposed adjustment of Western freight rates and the case for the establishment of Western executive offices were all strongly presented. There were three votes against the first resolution and one against the second.

TO SUPPLY OLD ONTARIO WITH WESTERN COAL

Calgary, Alta, May 20.—In answer to an appeal from the Manufacturers' Association of Toronto, for assistance in carrying them over the present situation caused by the attitude of American coal operators, the conference of the Boards of Trade of Western Canada Wednesday adopted a resolution, which ,if acted upon, will doubtless increase the coal output of the province to a considerable extent, and incidentally demonstrate to Ontario consumers that the products of the West are at their disposal.

Following is the resolution:

"That every effort possible be made to increase the use of Western Canada coal ,and that this conference favors the investigation of freight rates on coal from Western Canada to the manufacturing centres of Ontario with a view to making Canada independent of any other country in its fuel supply."

It was decided to ask the Canadian Pacific, Canadian National Railways, including the Grand Trunk Pacific, to give special freight rates for the Summer haulage of coal from Western Canada,

And further that the coal operators be requested, if they have not already done so, to make special Summer prices for the sale of this fuel.

A resolution, asking that immediate consideration be given the question of commercial and political union with the British West Indies, to the extent of requesting members of the various West India Island Governments to send delegates to Ottawa to consider the subject, was adopted by the delegates to the Boards of Trade Congress and forwarded to Premier Borden.

MANY REPORTS OF PRICE REDUCTIONS

Clothing Prices Appear to Be Falling—Cotton and Blankets Also Affected

New York, May 19.—Reports continue to come in here today from many outside points telling of reduction in the price of clothing. In Boston, reductions ranging from 15 to 50 per cent were advertised by various retail stores. Most of the reductions were in clothing, but one department store announced a reduction of 25 per cent. in lines of cottons, blankets, linens and other goods. In Cheyenne, Wyo., reductions of fifteen per cent. on prices of all dry goods and clothing were announced by one merchant. Another large department store in Youngstown, Ohio, announced a cut of 20 per cent. in prices of nearly all goods.

SELF WHIPPING STILL PRACTICED NEAR MANILA

American Tourists View Old Custom Which is Now Diminishing

Manila, P.I., May 19.—The practice of self whipping in public to appease divine wrath which flourished in certain countries of Europe centuries ago, still exists in the Philippine Islands, although in a diminishing degree each year.

Advices from the provinces where educational advantages are not enjoyed, show that the practice was indulged in during the Easter holidays this year though not by as great numbers as in former years.

Hundreds of Americans and other foreigners gathered at an open field, a few miles from the centre of the city, to witness the wierd performance, but only six appeared to do penance.

These beat themselves over the backs with heavy flexible bamboo flogging rods. Later they walked to seven places in the field, denoting the seven points of the cross, where they were beaten by the master of ceremonies. When the lashing is completed they throw themselves into a pool of mud and as they come from the stagnant water, their wounds are washed with pure water and healing medicines applied.

ANGLICAN BISHOPS MAY VOTE TO DO WITHOUT SERMONS

In Sunday Services—Published Volumes of Sermons Now Unpopular

London, May 19.—Are sermons indispensable? This is one of the questions on which a decision may be taken by the bishops of the Anglican Church at their meeting at Lambeth in July.

A section of churchmen are declared to be of the opinion that the day of the sermon has passed. They hold that if a man has not the gift of preaching, it would be better for everyone that he should not preach. The "two sermons each Sunday" custom, they say, imposes a great strain on the clergy—a strain equally if not more heavily felt by the laity who are required to listen to these effusions. The unpopularity of published volumes of sermons, once in great demand, is cited by this faction as evidence of the sermon's waning effectiveness.

BOTH IRISH PARLIAMENTS ARE TO HAVE SENATES

London May 19.—The home rule debate in the House of Commons on Tuesday had two important results; First, the government's concession of two senates, for Northern and Southern Ireland, respectively; and second, the decision of the Labor party as announced by John Robert Clynes, to vote against the first clause of the bill and thereafter to take no part in the discussions, following the example of the Nationalists, and to a certain extent, of the Free Liberals. Henceforth, therefore, the bill will meet with serious opposition only from the government side of the House.

BRANDON COLLEGE ALUMNI LUNCHEON

Held in Dining Room at College—Was a Most Memorable Affair

A delightful event occurred Tuesday at noon when the Alumni Association of Brandon College met for luncheon in the College dining room after which the annual meeting of the Association was held. The room was beautifully decorated with gold and white, the table being centred with American Beauty and Ophelia roses. Mr. R. J. Brandon, of Regina, Sask., President of the Association, presided, and after all had done justice to the luncheon, opened the program by proposing the toast to "The King." Rev. W. C. Smalley, '12, of Winnipeg, proposed the toast to "Alma Mater," and this was responded to by President Whidden. "Our Guests" was proposed by Miss Jennie Turnbull, '15, and responded to by Prof. Gilmour, of McMaster University.

The toast to "Class '20" was proposed by Mr. G. F. Fisher, '15, and responded to by Mr. F. Howard, '20. A solo, "Loch Lomond" by Mrs. Olive A. C. Wilkins and a reading by Miss Greig '20, were very much enjoyed.

Offcers of Alumni

At the business meeting the following officers were elected for the ensuing year, Miss Vera Leach acting as Secretary. Honorary President, Mr. A. P. McDiarmid, of Robson, B.C., formerly President of Brandon College; President, Miss Jennie Turnbull, M.A.; First Vice-President, Mr. G. Fred Fisher, L.L.D., of this city; Second Vice-President, Mr. L. Glinz, B.A., of Oak River; Third Vice-President, Mr. F. E. Howard, B.A., of Wheatland; Secretary-Treasurer, Miss Gwen Whidden, B.A.; Chairman of Alma Mater Committee, Mr. Charles G. Whidden, B.A., of this city.

The guests at the luncheon included the members of Brandon College Faculty, the members of 1920 graduating class and the following guests from other cities: Mrs. R. J. Brandon, Regina; Miss Vera Leach, Regina, now of Brandon; Prof. Gilmour, Toronto; Dr. Patterson, Winnipeg; Rev. W. E. Matthews, Winnipeg; Rev. C. B. Freeman, Saskatoon; Rev. D. R. The Last Extra Points Offer

Elsewhere on this page, are given the full details of the last Extra points offer of the Competition. Other offers of extra points have been given during the Competition, but very few of the competitors took advantage of them. Consequently, in order to induce ne wcompetitors as well as old ones to make a start now on the new special Chevrolet, we are going to make one more offer, absolutely the last of the Competition. These Extra points are given in addition to the regular schedule of points shown on the cover of the receipt books, and will swell the point totals to such an extent, that every competitor will need them in the winning.

Make the very most of this offer.

THE LAST EXTRA POINTS OFFER

We need new competitors in the Country territory because it will be the subscriptions from the country territory, that will win the Chevrolet. The work in the city of Brandon was finished weeks ago, and consequently a competitor from the country, who is wise, and can see what a big opportunity this offers, should not hesitate about stepping in and making a start.

Points—Points

Points are the big features of the Competition. Secure the points. It is not only a case of working hard on subscriptions, but it is also a case of studying the lay of the land, and working hardest when you secure the most points for your efforts. Do your best work when there is an extra point offer on, as points will win the prizes. There is one on this week. Read the details. New competitors and old—make a record in the time still remaining.

It is these Extra Points which will help you reach the top of the ladder with little difficulty.

An $1,145.00 Touring Car for three weeks only—Certainly an exceptionally good offer.

Two more big weeks still remain.

To date, very little has been done by any of the competitors towards the winning, so that any worker who is really in earnest, should be "on his toes" right now, and working his best. From all appearances, this enviable prize will be very easily won, and there is no question of doubt but what the winner will have secured a car, with effort, not at all in proportion to the value.

NEW COMPETITORS SEIZE THIS OPPORTUNITY

Your chances are exactly the same as those already enrolled, with an excellent opportunity of winning a Chevrolet Touring Car with the work of only two weeks. The work of this week gives no competitor a lead which cannot be easily overcome.

Starting now, you can capture the prize with TWO WEEKS WORK. You could never have a better offer. Why not take advantage of it?

Send in your name now and get started.

THE COMPETITORS TO DATE

There is an abundance of room for more workers—Send in your name now

The Subscriber's Touring Car

All of the prize money will not be given to the competitors, as we feel that the subscribers too, are entitled to a share.

An elegant Ford Touring car will be given to the subscriber making the correct or nearest to the correct guess, as to how many kernals of No. 1 Northern Wheat are contained in the quart gem jar at present in the show-window of Mr. E. W. Crawford, Jeweler, Brandon. Every person taking a subscription of a year or more is entitled to a guess. Demand the details from the competitor in your district.

It is certainly worth trying for.

More Competitors Are Needed

in every section of the field. The prizes are most certainly going to be easily won, and any new competitor can climb to the top of the ladder with little difficulty, even on the big Capital Prizes. Two more weeks remain of the special prize Chevrolet offer and little has been done, giving a splendid opportunity for a new entrant to step in and capture the honors. There are few in the race, making the winnin geasier still. If you are wise you will not allow this big opportunity to pass, as it will be a case of an expensive Touring Car, most easily won.

It is far from being too late to enter. Enrol Now.

For "Letter Writing in English," Grade 3, Assiniboine School, Mr. Rullen Teacher, first, second and third prizes were won by Lily Hudema, Tom Turner and Annie Leacha, respectively. Adams, while at the Assiniboine School, where about 150 children were gathered, the Chapter was represented by Mrs. C. C. Hearn, Educational Secretary of the Chapter, Mrs. W. H. Bates, Mrs. T. Lee and Mrs. Elkins. A number of the mothers of the pupils were also present. A Canadian flag, a Union Jack and a bag of candy was also presented to every child in each school. The prize winners all read their letters and told their stories in the most delightful natural manner, reflecting great credit upon themselves and their teachers.

In presenting the Assiniboine School prizes, Mrs. C. C. Hearn gave a short address to the children upon Empire Day and its meaning, telling them that the I.O.D.E. ladies were their friends and ready to help them in any way. Mrs. Hearn deminded the children that I.O.D.E. meant, "I owe a duty to the Empire," and she hoped every boy and girl there would do their best to carry out this splendid motto. A handsome stand for the gramphone (already donated by the Brandon Chapter), as well as new records were also given and were greatly appreciatel by teachers and pupils. At the close of the entertainment the children sang very nicely "O Canada" and "God Save the King," and gave three hearty cheers for their teachers and the ladies of the I.O.D.E.

CHARGES AGAINST SOME OFFICIALS of the Soldier Settlement Board in Manitoba—Evidence Forwarded

Ottawa, May 22.—Signed documents attacking the administration of the Soldier Settlement Board have been placed in the hands of Hume Cronyn, Chairman of the Pensions and Re-Establishment Committee, by the Dominion command of the G.W.V.A. These documents which consist of letters and affidavits by returned soldiers concerning their treatment at the hands of officials of the Soldier Settlement Board, in Manitoba, are in reply to a speech by Hon. Arthur Meighen in the House of Commons, May 7th.

Opinion was also expressed at the Pensions' Committee meeting Thursday, that the charges against the Settement Board should be backed up by evidence. The evidence has now been furnished, so far as Manitoba is concerned, and more will be forthcoming if needs be.

NO TRUTH IN RUMOR REGARDING APPOINTMENT OF WELL KNOWN EXPERT

That there is no truth in the rumor that he is to be the new head of the Manitoba Agricultural College, was the statement made by Superintendent W. C. McKillican of the Experimental Farm here. Mr. McKillican said that he had made no application for the position and that the rumor that he was to accept the principalship of the Agricultural College, is unfounded. A decision on the appointment of a new principal for the College to succeed Professor Reynolds was to have been reached Friday evening, but there has been no official announcement made as yet.

Mr. McKillican has been prominently mentioned for the past week to take the position made vacant on the resignation of Principal Reynolds, who leaves very shortly for the East where he will become head of the Ontario Agricultural College. But outside the reports in the press, Mr. McKillican has never been notified in any way of the Agricultural College Board's intention to ask him to take over the principalship, nor has the Superintendent of the Experimental Farm here made any move to apply for the position.

FOUR DROWNED IN PELICAN LAKE LAST FRIDAY

Four persons were drowned in Pelican Lake on Friday afternoon when a small row boat capsized during a storm on the lake. Three of the persons were patients at Ninette Sanatorium, while the third member of the party was the assistant engineer at the Sanitorium. It was entirely against the order of the institution that the trip was made, as the Sanitorium keeps no boats for the use of the patients, but Harry West, the engineer, had equipped a small row boat with a sail, and the party set off for the other end of the lake, Friday morning.

The party reached the other end of the lake and had lunch, but while returning in the afternoon the boat must have overturned in a squall as the men were thrown into the water. The accident took place about 3.25 in the afternoon as the watch in Mr. West's pocket stopped at that time. When the party did not return on Friday evening, very little notice was taken of it, as it was presumed that on account of the lake being exceedingly rough, that the party had stayed out all night in the bush. Saturday morning, however, the boat was found, and Mr. West's body was tangled in the ropes of the boat and floating about a mile and a half East of the institution. The police are dragging the lake for the other three bodies, but Dr. Stewart stated to The Sun this morning that up to the present time, the dragging had not been successful.

The names of the three returned men who were drowned are Amber R. Barnard, 372 Home Street, Winnipeg; F. W. Koecke, of Fort William, and A. Cottenie, of Veregin, Saskatchewan. Harry West, the engineer, had been employed with the institution about eighteen months and came from Winnipeg.

IRISH RAIDERS GET SUPPLIES OF GASOLINE

By Raid on Oil Company Stores at Athlone—No One Injured

London, May 24.—Fifty armed and disguised men raided the stores of the Anglo-American Oil Company and Shell Motor Spirit Company at Athlone, Ireland, early Sunday, carrying off gasoline valued at £500, according to a Central News dispatch. All approaches were strongly guarded and the raiders escaped unmolested, it is said.

BIG WHOLESALERS IN U. S. URGE THAT STOCKS BE REDUCED

Chicago, May 22.—Big wholesale houses here have begun preparing for a general drop in the cost of living and the restriction of credit by banks, by restricting credit to their own customers. Marshall Field & Co., reputed the biggest wholesalers of dry goods in the country, have urged retailers to cut their stocks to the bone, and have begun calling in "the slow buys," customers who are back on their bills. "There is a curtailment of credit—so much so that we are watching closely and getting in the slow ones," said an official. Advice to merchants is to cut their stocks down and to be prepared for whatever comes.

Butler Bros., one of the largest general jobbing houses in the West, predicts through their city credit department a steady fall m prices for the next two years. "By that time prices will be back at their pre-war level," said an official of the credit department.

Wholesale buyers say that fur and silk prices already are well on the down grade.

"Money is tight and will stay tight for a number of months," said a buyed of a large wholesale dry goods house. "There will be no relaxation of its tightness until autumn when the crops are moved. It has already had its effect in the usual way.

"Whenever money is tight furs fall, and they are now from 25 to 30 per cent. cheaper. Silk generally the next commodity to drop, are down 10 per cent. Cotton and wool will be the next to go, and that will be shortly. When that comes there will be a general fall in prices."

Prices in the large retail houses, such as Fields, Carson, Piere Scott & Co. and John V. Farwell & Co., were expected to decline very shortly though, as yet, officials said there had been little done so far.

Liquidation of Loans

New York, May 22. — New York banking and financial circles were bending every effort to readjust the loan and credit situation on a lower basis without a too violent disturbance of the financial structure.

The liquidation of loans ordered by the Federal Reserve Board was in progress. Just how sweeping it will be, no one will say. Bankers are trying to protect their customers' credit. It is regarded as certain that the merchants carrying large luxury stocks on bank credit have been ordered to reduce their bank obligation. The result has been to compel the merchants to offer inducements to break the "buyers' strike." Therefore the flood of sales, all over the nation.

So far, food has been little affected. It was understood, however, that some of the banks have been carrying paper for vast quantities of food in cold storage and that they have called in part of these loans.

Buy-Buy-Buy

St. Paul, May 22.—No less than 12 clothing firms announced 20 per cent. reduction in price and urged the public to buy, buy, buy. Women's outfitting stores and department stores were following suit with announcements of big reductions on waists, skirts and Summer dress goods.

WOOL PRICES AWAY DOWN

Boston, May 22.—Auctioneers said they were virtually giving wool away when prices at the final sale by the British Government here went slightly below low levels in the break of yesterday. These quotations which were from 10 to 20 per cent under recent prices, did not pass the dollar mark per pound for greasy wool, or $3 for clean wool in any lot.

TROUBLE BREWING IN BRITISH ARMY

London, May 22.—Disquieting incidents affecting the discipline of certain regiments of the British army occurred recently, declares the Daily Sketch, which investigation revealed originated by Russian Soviets who planned to make the army a "hot bed of dissention." Stern measures to smash this organization have been decided upon and important arrests are imminent. In addition, wholesale deportations are expected.

WINNIPEG HOTELS FIND BUSINESS GOOD

Winnipeg, Man., May 22.—Absence of receipts from the sale of liquor are proving no detriment to the profits of local hotels, according to F. W. McGill, city hotel inspector, who stated today that last year's profits by hotel keepers were the largest in the history of the city, and that as a result this year will see a great improvement in local hotel service. No hotels have closed their doors during the past year and business at present is proving a record.

NEW OUTRAGES EVERY NIGHT IN IRELAND

Police Barracks and Military Huts Destroyed—Official Records Stolen

London, May 22.—Destruction of several more police barracks and military huts in Ireland and other outrages are recorded in an official report received from Dublin. An attempt was made to burn the Court House at Port Arlington, forty miles Southwest of Dublin, but resulted in failure. In the county of Sligo masked men took a number of official books and papers from the Income Tax office and burned them. The Courthouse and Post office in county Kildare were burned as was a private house in Middleton and Armagh court houses were destroyed by fire with all their records. A mail cart was rifled between Thurles and Killenhaule and letters and valuables stolen.

NURSES GRADUATE FROM BRANDON GENERAL HOSPITAL

Nine Nurses Complete Training Receive Diplomas, Flowers and Prizes

FINE ADDRESSES

And Words of Advice From Men Prominent in Several Walks of Life

Evidence of the interest taken by the Brandon citizens in the nursing profession and in the Brandon General Hospital was given Friday night when a large crowd attended the Graduaton making the presentations on be- General Hospital Training School which took place in the City Hall. Mr. Robert Darrach, President of the Board of Directors, acted as chairman and also presented the diplomas to each of the nine graduates. After the presentation of the diplomas, Miss S. P. Johnson, Lady Superintendent of the Brandon General Hospital, pinned upon each nurse the "Nurse's Badge," which is a very handsome pin of silver, and then each graduate was the recipient of beautiful bouquets of flowers, little Miss Margaret Templeton making the presentatians on behalf of the donors. Dr. F. L. Beer on behalf of the Medical Staff presented the gold, silver and bronze medals to Miss Grace Cox-Smith, Miss Edith Lamb and Miss Minnie Fargey, who had each splendidly earned the medal they received. As well as being Gold Medallist of her class, Miss Grace Cox-Smith was the winner of three special prizes. The prizes were presented by the following Doctors and members of the Board who each made a short address of congratulation to the recipient, Miss S. P. Johnson, Dr. C. P. Templeton, Dr. H. O. McDiarmid, Dr. E. S. Bolton, Alderman A. Shewan, Mr. Robert Darrach and Mr. A. P. Jeffrey. Addresses were made by the chairman, Mayor Dinsdale, Judge Cumberland and Dr. M. S. Fraser. Musical numbers by Mrs. Olive A. C. Wilkins, B.A., Miss Helen Venn, Dr. E. S. Bolton, and a reading by Miss Virginia Bertrand, were all very much enjoyed. Miss Venn and Miss Adeline Bailey acted as accompanists.

Graduates Standing

The high percentage obtained by the Graduates is as follows: Miss Grace Cox-Smith, Portage la Prairie, 93.8; Miss Edith Lamb, Brandon, 92; Miss Minnie Fargey, [illegible] 91; Miss Bessie Chapman, Birtle, 88.4; Miss Grace Drummond, Griswold, 86; Miss Dorothy Suddaby, Birtle, 85.8; Miss Harriet Meadows, Brandon, 85.5; Miss Kathleen Amer, Qu'Appelle, Sask., 84.2 and Miss Ida J. McCuaig, Carman, 82.7.

Special Prizes

Special prizes were awarded to the following graduates. Prize for general proficiency presented by the Brandon General Hospital, Miss Kathleen Amer. Highest marks in Class '20 for eye, ear, nose and throat, presented by Dr. H. O. McDiarmid, won by Miss Grace Cox-Smith. Highest marks in obstetrics, presented by Dr. J. H. Edmison, won by Miss Grace Cox-Smith. Highest marks in oral and practical work, presented by Dr. W. A. Bigelow, won by Miss E. Lamb. Highest aggregate marks in three years, presented by Dr. H. S. Sharp, won by Miss Cox-Smith. Highest marks in Intermediate Class presented by D. A. Reesor, won by Miss Evelyn Burke. Highest marks in Junior Class, presented by Dr. W. J. Elliott, won by Miss Mary Jean Burnett.

Lights Went Out

To the tune of a march played by Miss Bailey the graduates of Class '20 and the members of the Intermediate class took their places in the front row reserved for them while the Lady Superintendent, Mrs. T. Lee, President of the Women's Hospital Aid Society, Miss Birtles, former Superintendent of the Hospital, the Chairman and members of the Board of Directors, officer of the Training School, members of the Medical Board and the speakers of the evening took their places on the platform.

In spite of the fact that about half way through the program the electric lights went out and for about twenty minutes it was impossible to proceed with the program, the members of the audience were most good natured about the delay, and as soon as the lights came on the program was proceeded with.

President's Remarks

Welcoming the many people who were present and thanking them for the interest taken in the graduates and the Brandon General Hospital, Mr. Darrach, President of the Board, traced the history of the Brandon General Hospital and its Suprintendents up to the present, and stated that he thought the nursing profession the finest in the world. He stated that at present the Brandon General Hospital was crowded to capacity, but he hoped that when the new building, the picture of which was mounted at the left of the stage, was built and the splendid nurses' home there would be plenty of accommodation.

Mayor's Address

"It is my pleasant duty to offer to the Graduating Nurses, the congratulations of the City Council and myself. The Nursing profession is a most noble calling to take up, and this profession shows the splendid spirit of service coupled with sacrifice which has made it what it is today.

"To relieve suffering in every form, to work unceasingly for the welfare of all who are under their care, has been the work of this noble profession since the time when that grand and glorious woman, Florence Nightingale, saw the need and stepped into the breach. In it, I can see God's hand leading on to higher service.

"To the Lady Superintendent and her assistants. You are accomplishing a noble work and under circumstances that are against you. I mean by this, the inadequate building that you have to contend with. But with a long pull, strong pull, and a pull altogether, this will be eliminated during the Summer months by the building of the splendid structure which is contemplated.

"I wish to thank the President and Board for their splendid co-operation in all things pertaining to the welfare of the city, the unceasing work they are doing for the welfare of the Hospital staff and the patients. Their work is certainly the proverbial casting of bread on the waters and the returns will be four fold.

"To the Graduates. Your success in the past has depended largely upon your own initiative. You have received an education the value of which cannot be counted in dollars and cents. Your opportunities will be great, and I want you to accept my heartiest congratulations and the best of wishes for your success in the future."

Judge Cumberland

Judge Cumberland, who spoke directly to the nurses, rather than to the audience, stated that he considered it a privilege to congratulate the graduates on behalf of the Board of Directors. He told the graduates that they had made good so far, but they would have many difficulties to overcome in the future and asked them to always help to keep up the high level of the profession. The Judge said that he hoped they would never forget the Brandon General Hospital and would be willing to come to its aid whenever needed.

Dr. M. S. Fraser

"Rally to the standard of service to man and be a friend to humanity," was the final advice given by Dr. M. S. Fraser, Winnipeg, of the Provincial Board of Health, in his address to the nurses. He traced the history of the nurse from the beginning and paid special tribute to the nurses who did such splendid work in the Great War. "The Training School of the Brandon General Hospital," said the speaker, "stands high in the roll of honor throughout the Dominion and its graduates have brought credit to it and to their instructors." Dr. Fraser predicted a war between the East and the West in the near future and said this must be prepared for. He said the demand for nurses far exceeded the supply, and made a special appeal to all those in the profession to enlist in the ever growing "army" of Public Health Nurses, who in Manitoba have set the pace for the Dominion.

At the conclusion of the Exercises a reception was held at the Nurses' Homt. In spite of the storm a large number of people attended and took the opportunity of congratulating the graduates.

GRASSHOPPERS GRAVE MENACE SOME DISTRICTS

South Western Portion of Manitoba and Southeastern Saskatchewan

PLANS FOR WARFARE

Saskatchewan Procures Immense Supplies to Fight Insects

Regina, May 22.—Grasshoppers have appeared in Carnduff, Stoughton and Carlyle districts. The Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture has purchased 50,000 gallons of molasses, 90 tons of arsenic, 1,000 tons of bran and two carloads of lemons most of which has reached Regina. Large quantities have already been transported to needy spots.

A Very Real Menace

Melita, Man., May 22.—The last two or three days have demonstrated, beyond a shadow of doubt that the grasshopper menace is a very real and threatening one here. Already millions of them are hatched and eggs are so plentiful that there is no escape for the crop once they are hatched out unless methods of destruction can be brought about in the immediate future.

A hopeful feature is that means of combating them are known and available, the only question is the determination of the people to use them effectively.

No Need for Panic

Winnipeg, Man., May 22.—The facts in the above dispatch are fully confirmed by the Department of Agriculture, which while hoping for the best has been steadily preparing for the worst. There is no need of getting in a panic over the grasshoppers, the great State of Kansas to the South, one of the most properous in the Union, has been fighting grasshoppers for 30 years, and makes an appropriation for the purpose every year, as regularly as an appropriation is made for education. It is a question of vigilance and applying of proper remedies.

TO KILL SEA LIONS TO GET HIDES FOR LEATHER

Prince Rupert Pioneer Declared and Three Others Killed 700 in Two Days

Prince Rupert, B.C., May 22.—Large numbers of sea-lions on the British Columbia coast which destroy annually vast quantities of food fish may be slaughtered and their hides placed on the market to reduce the world's leather shortage. The proposal, first put forward by Premier Oliver, has the approval of many experienced fishermen.

One Prince Rupert pioneer declared recently that, with three companions, he had killed seven hundred sea-lions on the Queen Charlotte Islands in two days. The sea-lions, it is said, weigh from 2,000 to 2,500 pounds. The hides are nearly an inch in thickness and make a tough and durable rough leather such as used in workmen's gloves and saddles. Fishermen declare that a sea-lion will eat fifty pounds of fish in a day.

WILSON ASKS THAT U. S. TAKE MANDATE OVER ARMENIA

Congress and Senate Refer Request to Foreign Relations Committees

Washington, May 25. — President Wilson has asked for authority from Congress for the U.S. to accept a mandate over Armenia. The President told Congress that he thought the wish of the American people was that the U.S. should become the mandatory for Armenia.

Mr. Wilson said he was conscious that he was urging "a very critical choice," but that he did so, "in the earnest belief that it will be the wish of the people of the United States and that this should be done." The President's message was read in both the House and Senate, but was discussed in neither. Each house referred it to its committee on foreign relations and there was no indication when either committee would take it up. Some Republican leaders in the Senate predicted privately that the message would lie in the Senate committee indefinitely.

Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, the Republican leader and chairman of the Senate committee, had no comment to make on the executive's recommendations. In the past, however, he has declared emphatically his opposition to a mandate.

Doubts if Senate Will Consent

Senator Harding, Republican, Ohio, chairman of the committee which investigated Armenian affairs, said he never would consent to taking a mandate over Armenia and added that he did not think the Senate would consent. "The Foreign Relations Committee," he said, "was almost unanimously against a mandate, all opposing such step."

Senator Harding is the author of the resolution recently adopted by the Senate congratulating the Armenian people on the recognition of their independence and asking the President to send a warship and American marines to Baku.

The President in his message informed the Senate that he had accepted the invitation of the Allied Supreme Council that he undertake "to arbitrate the very difficult questions of the boundary between Turkey and Armenia," saying he had thought it his duty "to accept this difficult and delicate task."

General Harbord estimated that acceptance of the mandate would necessitate the presence of 50,000 American troops there. Other estimates, however, have placed it at less, once the Turkish army has been demobilized in accordance with the terms of the Turkish treaty.

REGULATIONS FOR COLLECTION OF LUXURY TAXES

Are Being Prepared by Finance Department and Will Soon Be Made Public

Ottawa, May 25.—Regulations for the collection of luxury taxes are to be prepared by the Finance Department and will be made public as soon as possible. The numerous suggestions and difficulties reported to the department in connection with the tax have given material assistance in connection with the preparation of the regulations. When in effect, it is felt, the regulations will not only remove apparent anomalies, but they will tend to make the incidence of the tax more equitable. A case in point will be that of diamond rings. There is no tax on loose diamonds, and it has been suggested that a purchaser might buy a diamond at one store, have it set at another and thus escape paying the tax on the whole value of the ring. Such an evasion of the tax will be met in the regulations. In all probability, they will provide for taxation of the total value of the ring at the store where it is set in the clause which imposes a 20 per cent tax on "articles commonly or commercially known as jewelry, whether real or imitation, for personal use of for adornment of the person."

The 50 per cent duty on gold articles, it is pointed out, does not apply to jewelry for personal use, but to gold adapted for use in the household or office. Personal jewelry is taxed 20 per cent.

The delegation received a favorable hearing and were given to understand that the proposition submitted by the delegation would receive the Council's immediate consideration.

GRAIN EXCHANGE MEN WANT OPEN TRADING IN WHEAT THIS YEAR

Arguing That Producer Will Get a Better Price in Open Market—Dr. Magill Declares Price Will Be Between $3 and $5 Per Bushel—North America Only Will Have Wheat for Export, He Predicts

Ottawa, May 20.—Addressing a conference of Western supporters of the Government today, Dr. Robert Magill with a deputation from the Winnipeg exchange, declared that in all probability. Canadian wheat this year will sell anywhere between three and five dollars per bushel. He voiced a plea for open trading because of world conditions. Members present at the conference stated later that Dr. Magill strongly favored an open market, showing very clearly that no wheat could be exported from Russia owing to internal trouble; Roumania had none to export; India was prohibiting export; while Australia's acreage would fall from twelve to seven million, scarcely having enough to feed herself and there would be absolutely no wheat for Europe except from Argentine and North America.

Dr. Magill, according to the formal announcement, thought it would be impossible to secure as good a price for the producer by control as by open market. The United States market was now open and according to present prospects there would be mighty little to spare from that quarter. The net result would be that Canadian wheat would undoubtedly go to record high figures. A very free discussion followed Dr. Magill's address and a further caucus for this purpose, will likely be called within a few days.

VANCOUVER SHIP OWNER KILLED WHEN AIRPLANE CRASHED TO THE EARTH

Vancouver, B.C., May 25. — Under most tragic circumstances, E. H. Beasley, Vancouver's leading shipowner, met his death in an airplane crash Monday afternoon. Accompanied by his wife and Charles Meek, a son-in-law of the late Sir Wm. Whyte, and a former resident of Winnipeg and Montreal, Mr. Beasley motored to Minoru airdrome proposing that the entire party should go on successive flights.

Mrs. Beasley first went up and safely returned. Beasley was the second to go, and was with Pilot A. R. Baker, not more than six hundred feet from the ground when hundreds of watchers saw the plane become unmanageable and go into a nose dive.

Mrs. Beasley was one of the first to attempt to rescue her husband, but he was quite lifeless, being carried three feet into the ground when the crash occurred. Baker will recover from his injuries, consisting of only unimportant bruises. Charles Meek was to have been the next member of the party to go a flight.

Mr. Beasley was managing director of the Union Steamship company and was quite wealthy. He came here seven years ago from Liverpool, where his family, for several generations, has been engaged in the shipping business. He was 38 years of age and leaves three children.

NEW METHOD OF PURIFYING WATER

Installed at Hospital for Insane Said to Be Latest and Best

Brandon has one of the most-up-to-date water sterilizing plants in America now installed at the Brandon Hospital for the Insane. The water from the Assiniboine River is being sterilized by ultra-violet rays, which makes the water as near 100 per cent. pure as is possible. This is one of the very first instances in Canada where this system has been installed, and there are but a few similar plants in America and Europe. It is stated, however, that it is the Government's intention to instal this system in all provincial institutions where the water supply is impure.

The device used is much the same as the mercury lamp used in printing establishments. The water is pumped from the Assiniboine River into settling basins and is then filtered. It is pumped through pipes to the hospital and the Cooper-Hewit lamp, which generates the ray, is placed inside the pipe. The lamp is contained in a glass cylinder. Iit is much shorter than the mercury lamp commonly used and results in the intensification of the ultra violet ray, which passes through the glass covering and into the water. In order that all the water passing through may be properly treated, three of the lamps are installed at successive points in the pipe. The total capacity of the local pump at the hospital for the insane is 250,000 gallons per day.

The installation of the sterilizing plant has been made under the supervision of G. J. Brown, who is in charge of the electrical engineering work of the Department of Public Works. The preliminary plans were formulated by J. M. Leamy, the Power Commissioner, who will hold a conference with the City Council here next Tuesday evening. It is stated that the use of ultra-violet ray is a great improvement over all other known methods of purifying water, as it does not affect the taste, smell or color of the water as is the case with chlorine and other chemicals.

INCOME TAX BILL CAUSED WIFIE TO ACCUSE HUSBY

Toronto, May 22.—An income assessment bill apparently caused a furore in a Toronto residence. At any rate, the man who received it appeals to Court of Revision upon the following ground: "The sending of this notice caused my wife to believe I am holding back part of my wages." The appellant was assessed $380 and the department says that as his employer returned his income at $2,080 and he is entitled to only $1,700 exemption, the assessment was justified.

Many lads now earn more than the assessable $700 per year and among the appeals from the upper part of Ward Seven is that of Stanley C. Brent, who objected to income tax because 'my age is only 15 years next month," he says.

CONFERENCE OF ASSESSORS TO BE HELD JUNE 9 AND 10

Owing to several municipalities being unable to appoint their assessors before June first, the Tax Commission has decided to hold the conference of assessors on the 9th and 10th of June, instead of May 26th and 27th as originally planned. Many important questions are to be taken up by the Tax Commission, and City Assessor Kirkcaldy will attend the meetings from this city.

NINE MEN KILLED IN GUN BATTLE VIRGINIA TOWN

Mayor the First to Fall, Killed by Chief of Company Detectives

Huntington W.Va., May 21.—Nine men were killed in a gun battle between Matewan town officials and citizens and private detectives at Matewan late Wednesday. Mayor Cabel Testerman was the first to fall. His killing set off a fusilade of shots which subsided after nine men lay dead in the streets of the little mining town.

The Mayor was killed by Albert Felts, chief of Baldwin Felts' detectives. Felts, it was said, was instantly killed by Sid Hatfield, chief of police at Matewan. A general revolver battle followed. The firing lasted until the detectives who survived the gun-play fled.

The gun battle was the sequel to the effort of the detectives to evict from the houses of the P. M. C. and Stone Mountain Coal Co. the families of miners who recently went out on strike.

State constabulary arrived in the town early Thursday and took charge of the situation. No further violence was expected.

DELORAINE MAGISTRATE IMPOSES LIGHT FINES

According to a report received in the city, the man named Ryan, whose farm near Coulter was raided by the inspectors on Tuesday and a large quantity of liquor seized, was fined $200 and costs by the Deloraine magistrate. Another party who came to bail Ryan out, was arrested and fined $200 and costs also. The magistrate then made an order confiscating the liquor found under the granary, but restored the twenty-four cases seized in the house, to the accused.

HUNS TO OFFER SUM FOR REPARATION

Manchester, May 21.— Writing on the forthcoming conference at Spa with the Germans, a Berlin paper correspondent says: "I am assured on very high authority that Germany is potentiglly in a position to put forward a reparation estimate that ought not to fall short of intelligent and reasonable Allied demands."

ENTRIES ALREADY COMING IN FOR TURF CLUB MEET

The promise that there will be a large entry for the faces to be held here on June 17th will be fulfilled according to the entries now being received. A telegram was received in the city on Wednesday from Calgary inquiring about the different races and stating that several fast horses would be shipped to Brandon within a short time. It is understood that there are some fast harness horses in the Calgary stable and also several running horses. Inquiries from Saskatoon and Edmonton show that Western race horse owners plan to start their entries at the Brandon meet on June 17th and then follow up the Manitoba circuit during that month.

DEATH OF FLYING OFFICER JOHN DE PENCIER IS REGRETTED BY MANY

It will be with regret that the many Brandon friends of the Rt. Rev. A. U. de Pencier, Bishop of New Westminster, and Mrs. de Pencier, will learn of the death of their son, Flying Officer John de Pencier, who was recently killed in a collision of two airplanes near Cologne, Germany. The late Lt. de Pencier went overseas early in 1917 and proceeded almost immediately to France with the Royal Air Force. He was very anxious to join the colors at the commencement of the war, but was under age. Lieut. de Pencier was wounded in December, 1917, but returned to active service upon recovery. Up to April, 1918, he had three Hun planes to his credit. A brother of the deceased, Lieut. Theodore de Pencier, also saw much active service in France. Bishop and Mrs. de Pencier were residents of Brandon for several years when the Bishop was Rector of St. Matthew's Church.

YORKTON RIVER ICE BREAKS UP LATEST IN TWENTY-FOUR YEARS

Dawson, May 21.—Ice in the Yukon river broke in front of Dawson at 7.50 o'clock Tuesday night. It is expected that the river will be clear of ice in three or four days at all points and that steamers will be arriving here within a week or ten days with supplies that will relieve the fod shortage here.

The break-up this year is the latest since the Klondike camp was first established 24 years ago. The earliest break was on May 3, 1915, and on the same date in 1916.

All the above taxes are effective from Wednesday, the 19th, instant.

Under legislation of last session, the maximum scale of busines stax is in effect this year, and the modified tax will apply to 1920 profits, payable in 1921.

Tariff Changes—The 7½ per cent. War Customs duty is taken off all remaining items. Last year the 5 per cent. British preferential war tax was entirely removed, as well as the 7½ on food, clothing, agricultural implements, etc. The War Customs duties imposed in 1915 are now entirely removed.

Sir Henry also announced that public sittings for tariff revision would be held throughout Canada after prorogation. "Our policy," he said, "calls for a thorough revision of the tariff, with a view to the adoption of such reasonable measures as may be necessary."

Articles of luxury, Sir Henry said, should be heavily taxed. Food commodities and other necessaries of life, not produced or manufactured in Canada, should, if taxed at all, bear only such imposts as were necessary for revenue purposes.

Ottawa, May 21.—The fight between several members of the opposition and government supporters on the Marine and Fisheries Committee, came to a head Thursday, when after being overruled in a contention by the chairman, the Liberal members left the committee room. When the government supporters had gone ahead and passed the minor changes involved in the bill before the committee, H. H. Stevens said the action of the opposition members had not been equalled so far as he knew since confederation. It was therefore highly desirable that a decision on the whole matter should be made in the House. A resolution moved by him to this effect was then carried.

The bill under fire deals with regulations regarding size and capacity of barrels, etc.

ENGLISH CREW FOR SHAMROCK IV.

London, May 19.—Although Shamrock IV, Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger for the America's Cup, is an Irish yacht, the challenge being sent by the Royal Ulster Club of Belfast, she will have an entire English crew. She also was built in England.

Capt. Albert Turner, her professional skipper, and all but two of her crew are from Essex. The two exceptions are from Cornwall. The average age of the men is 35 years.

Three were in the crew of Shamrock III when she raced in the United States seventeen years ago. They are Edward Herd, mate; William Clark, chief cook, and Arthur Barnet, seaman. Herd was a seaman on the old challenger. Clark is looking after the stomachs of the men, but is a veteran at trimming sheets and will take a hand in the forthcoming races.

All the men were in the war. Several who went to the United States on the challenger in 1914 hurried back home when the war started. Most of them were on patrol vessels. A few planted mines.

Shamrock IV is Capt. Turner's largest racing yacht. He has been racing thirty years ,however, one of the craft he handles being the 19-metre Octavia. He has had 15-metre craft, 20-tonners and half waters.

Washington, June 1.—Charging that Louis F. Post, Secretary of Labor, had "perverted sympathy" for criminal anarchists, Attorney-General Palmer told a committee of Congress today that in dealing with the attempts of the Government to rid the United States of dangerous aliens, Post had employed "self-willed and autocratic substitution of his own mistaken personal viewpoint, for obligations of public laws."

BRANDON TO JOIN LACROSSE LEAGUE

Enthusiastic Practice Held Monday Results in Decision to Field a Team

Brandon has decided to join the proposed lacrosse league. A very enthusiastic practice of lacrosse enthusiasts was held on the Athletic Grounds Monday evening when over twenty players turned out for the initial workout. The team will get down to real hard practice and will be out again on Wednesday evening at the Athletic Grounds for another workout. Any players wishing to take part in lacrosse activities are asked to bring along their stick and help form a fast team from this city. As Brandon is one of the two cities in Western Canada listed in the American Blue Book just issued as having logged roads leading to the United States, there will probably be many visitors to this city during the next few months. American tourists who select their routes from the Blue Book will find that there are just two ways that they can obtain a good road to Western Canada.

Barnard, Secretary-Treasurer of the Sunshine Highway, which is a continuation of the Sunshine Highway in the United States and extends from Brandon to Crystal City and on to Devil's Lake, N.D., has notified the Brandon Good Roads officials, that sign posts will be erected up to Brandon district, but that it will be up to the Brandon people to place signs from the commencement of that district to this city.

MANUFACTURERS VISITED SEVERAL POINTS OF INTEREST

Welcomed by Mayor Dinsdale and Members of Automobile Club

PLENTY OF CARS

To Accommodate Visitors—Brandon Sends Two Representatives to Vancouver

A large party of Canadian manufacturers visited Brandon for two hours on Tuesday and were taken on a drive through the city and the surrounding country. There were only 195 manufacturers on the special train. There was a large turnout of Brandon automobile owners for the drive with the result that there was plenty of accommodation for the visitors and several cars were not needed. The Salvation Army Band played prior to the drive. The visitors left for the West at ten o'clock and will make their next stop at Regina.

The manufacturers arrived in a special train early this morning and were met by His Worship Mayor Dinsdale and prominent members of the Brandon Automobile Club this morning at eight o'clock. There were plenty of cars on hand for the drive, and the visitors were taken on a tour around the city. The drive carried the manufacturers through the main streets of Brandon, out First Street to the Hospital for the Insane, across to Eighteenth Street and through the Experimental Farm and back to the city. Many visitors went to the Exhibition grounds, and expressed themselves as more than pleased with the size and up-to-date character of the buildings and park. As the special train left for the West at ten o'clock, it did not permit of the visitors being entertained further than to a drive.

Prominent manufacturers from all parts of Eastern Canada are included in the party and they are en route West to attend the annual convention of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association which is being held at Vancouver. Members appointed from Western Boards of Trade and City Councils are joining the party at various points, and ex-Mayor A. R. McDiarmid and J. S. Wilmott left for Vancouver on the special train. Mr. McDiarmid goes as the city's representative, while Mr. Wilmott is the Board of Trade's representative.

The Train.

The train is made up of a baggage car, a tourist, providing sleeping quarters for the dining-car men, seven standard sleepers, two dining cars, two compartment cars and one compartment observation car. With the train are the following officials, F. E. Trautman, representing the Vice-President; W. B. Howard, District Passenger Agent, Toronto, in charge of the passenger arrangements; H. Elliott, in charge of the dining and sleeping arrangements.

The train goes to Edmonton over the C.P.R. lines and there is transferred to the C.N.R. for the trip to the coast, returning East over the main line of the C.P.R. The same equipment makes the entire tour.

SMALL FIRE AT LIGHT PLANT SOON EXTINGUISHED

Fire broke out about nine o'clock Tuesday in one of the cupolas on the Canada Gas and Electric Corporation plant, and for a time looked as if it would give the firemen much trouble in extinguishing it. A large quantity of water was played on the fire and except for considerable damage to the coal carrying machinery and the apparatus for unloading coal, there is no damage to any other part of the plant. The Canada Gas and Electric Corporation could not state what the loss would amount to, and the cause of the fire is unknown at the present time.

SUPREME COURT JUDGES DISAGREE ON BOARD'S POWER

To Limit the Profits any Retailer May Take on Men's Suits

REFER TO PRIVY COUNCIL

To Get Final Ruling—Status Quo Remains Unchanged

Ottawa, June 1.—The Supreme Court is divided in the opinion given today on the jurisdiction of the Board of Commerce of Canada as a profit-fixing tribunal. The order which any retailer may take on men's suits and overcoats, to not over fifteen per cent., was upheld by Chief Justice Sir Louis Davies and Justices Anglin and Mignault. Justices Idington, Duff and Brodeur refused to uphold the order.

It is understood that reference will be taken to the Privy Council in England. The gesture of the judgment is that the Supreme Court is divided as regards the power of the Board. The order which the Board referred for ruling to the Supreme Court, sought to apply power.

Others Promise Great Race for Honors at Wednesday Noon Luncheon

Unbounded enthusiasm marked the opening day's campaign in the Y.M.C.A. drive to secure $25,000. At a luncheon held at noon in the Y.M.C.A. the total amount reported for the first half day was $6,791, and it is expected that a considerable sum will be reported Wednesday noon. The canvessers report meeting with success in all parts of the city and there is every prospect of the amount needed being raised before Friday evening.

Successful Opening

The opening meeting Monday night was quite successful. Every team captain was present at its own table with a working force. The announcement that $5,000 had been secured already in a few large gifts was the feature of the evening and the Executive Committee are out for ten gifts of $500 each as necessary to win the campaign. Included in the $5,000 is one contribution of $2,500. Mr. J. E. Matthews, Chairman of the Executive Committee, presided. It was Presbyterian night with the ladies who waited on the tables and Revs. Lowry and Miller were in attendance. Mayor Dinsdale was seated beside the Chairman. He will speak to the workers Wednesday. Short talks were made by F. A. Wood, R. A. Cassidy, J. H. Crocker and T. F. Best and a start was then made on choosing names for solicitation. There was evidence of team competition from the beginning, the teams remaining longest to choose names being numbers one and four, Captained by J. F. Dobbie and C. A. Fletcher respectively.

TWO RESOLUTIONS ON LUXURY TAXES BY THE RETAILERS

Ask That Tax Be Collected on Amounts in Excess of Minimum Price

THE OTHER RESOLUTION

Declares That Merchants Should Not Be Allowed to Absorb Tax

Discussion of the new luxury taxes was the feature of a well attended meeting of the retail merchants in the Board of Trade rooms last evening. Further information regarding the taxes was forthcoming and the merchants were able to discuss the new taxes from many angles. As a result of the meeting two resolutions were passed.

The first resolution is as follows: "We, the Retail Merchants of the City of Brandon, would recommend, that the so-called luxury tax be collected over and above the minimum price and not the whole amount; and failing this that the gross sales tax be substituted."

The second resolution came as the result of information received regarding the proposed action of the mail order houses. It is stated that the mail order houses are planning to conduct sales, and that they will absorb the luxury tax, giving the goods to the customer free from the luxury tax. Many merchants have been doing this to a small extent, and it is causing some confusion in the sale of goods.

In order to eliminate the trouble, the retail merchants passed the following resolution on Monday: "We recommend that the Government insist that the tax be collected from the customer and that the merchant not be allowed to absorb the tax." The local merchants want it distinctly understood that this is not an attempt on their part to get from under the tax, but simply to stop any confusion which may result from the merchant absorbing the tax.

Copies of the resolutions were forwarded to Dr. H. P. Whidden, M.P. for Brandon, and to the Secretary of the Dominion branch of the Retail Merchants Association of Canada.

TO ATTEND GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Messrs. W. C. McKillican and Thos. A. McEwen of Brandon left Monday for Ottawa, where they will attend the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, which meets in that city this week. Drummond, Witherspoon and Johnston.

Cox, after three other names had been nominated, S. Butler, W. Reed and A. Williams. Active work to produce a first class band for this city is to be commenced at once, and open air concerts will be featured during the Summer months.

GOULD PREDICTS RIOTS IF ROBBING PEOPLE CONTINUES

Not Enough Police in Canada to Keep Order if There is no Change

CRERAR CRITIZED

By Donald Sutherland of South Oxford—A Curious Recall

Ottawa, June 1.—C. R. Gould, Assiniboia, speaking on the budget in the House of Commons, said he had waited 46 years for a chance to talk on the Canadian budget. The people had subscribed generously to the war, but the money had been wasted. He said there was no truth in the charge that the Progressives were in league with the Liberals to deceive the people. Alluding to Bolshevism, he declared, "if this wholesale plundering of the people is not stopped, if the working people are to be deprived of places to live in, while millionaire lumbermen demand the protection of the Canadian people and at the same time sell to foreigners cheaper than to their own people, and on top of that virtually rob the state of a large proportion of the dues they should pay for their lumber, then this Government has not enough police in Canada to quiet the riots that will surely follow."

Crerar's Criticism

Ottawa, June 1.—Mr. Crerar's main criticism of the budget was that its whole tenor was to place the burden of taxation on the shoulders of the man least able to bear it. On the broad question of protection and free trade, he declared that the Canadian Council of Agriculture did not stand for absolute free trade, as so many seemed to think. It stood for placing on the free list such articles as the implements of production needed for the development of natural resources.

"Are you in favor of free trade in Canada?" interjected H. H. Stevens, of Vancouver.

"I will say this," Mr. Crerar replied, "that the fiscal policy obtaining in Great Britain would be a better one for Canada than the policy we now have in operation here."

As an instance of protected industry, Mr. Crerar cited the Dominion Textile Company. The Dominion Textile Company issued 6,000,000 of common stock at $10 a share. It was "pure, undiluted water" but sold last year at $125 a share.

Criticism of Crerar

Donald Sutherland, of South Oxford, who followed, had some strong criticism of Mr. Crerar. He charged that while a member of the government, Mr. Crerar was drawing a salary from the United Grain Growers Limited (of which he was president) equal to his salary as a minister and his indemnity as a member of parliament combined.

Mr. Sutherland claimed also that the directors of the United Grain Growers put a curious "re-call" into effect by increasing Mr. Crerar's salary from $10,000 to $15,000 a year, "to go into effect when he dropped out of the government."

Subsequent debate continued late, Joseph Archambault, of Chambly Vercheres, claimed that the government had winked at profiteering. In distributing money lent to Greece and Roumania, it had helped its friends.

GASTON CHEVROLET WINS 500 MILE AUTOMOBILE RACE

Before a record breaking crowd of 125,000 persons, Gaston Chevrolet won the 500 mile automobile race at Indianapolis on Monday by driving his car around the course at a rate of 88.16 miles per hour. As the result of his win, Chevrolet wins $20,000 first money and $5,500 in lap prize competitions. Rene Thomas thundered across the line in second place three minutes after the winner, while Tommy Milton shot into third place.

All the thrills of the race came in the last thirty miles when Ralph de Palma, the favorite, with a lead of ten miles to his credit, seemed certain of winning. But with victory in his grasp, de Palma's car burst into flames. While his mechanic worked to put out the flames, de Palma ran to the pits a mile away for a fresh supply of gas, staggering back under the weight of the heavy cans. Getting his car going a second time, the flames broke out again, and again had to be extinguished, and de Palma only managed to catch fifth place in the race, but was given a tremendous ovation when he crossed the line. Only eleven of the twenty-three cars that started, finished the race.

SOME COMPETITOR WILL WIN CHEVROLET SOON

Time to get busy competitors. Only five more days are left of the special Chevrolet Touring Car offer. The regular points schedule also takes a decline at the close of this week, which is in itself a big incentive for a wise competitor to do his best work this week.

Miss McMurachy Still Leading.

According to the records checked up to Monday morning, Miss McMurachy of Hamiota is still holding a slight lead for the Chevrolet, on the two weeks' works already done. As some little time is required to receive and check all the reports, the real results for all of the candidates will not be known for a few days, and as a consequence the report may be changed somewhat. A number of other competitors are still very close behind the leader, and it is up to the competitor who is really in earnest about capturing this enviable prize, to spend as much time as possible this week on subscription-getting. The race is undoubtedly going to be a very close one, and any one of the competitors might easily tip the scales and carry off the car by an energetic campaign this week.

Although we are now on the last lap of the race, there is still plenty of time for some new competitor to step in and win. This may not appear possible, but this must be judged not from the standpoint of the amount of time already gone, but by the amount of work done by the leading competitor in the race. Figuring in this way, we can safely say that the amount of subscriptions necessary to overtake this lead, could be collected by a live competitor this week, by the exertion of a little extra energy.

This means then, that the work of one week only can win this elegant touring car. Surely this is something worth trying for. If you have not as yet enrolled, do so at once. You could not hope for a better opportunity.

COMMISSION FINDS FIRING ON NATIVES WAS JUSTIFIED

English and Indian Members of Commission Agree in Censoring Gen. Dyer

FIRED WITHOUT WARNING

Indian Members Stigmatize His Conduct as Inhuman and Un-British

London, May 26—The findings of the Commission appointed by the British Government to investigate the causes of unrest in India with the attending disorders, has now been made public. The incidents investigated included the Amritsar affair in April, 1919, in which a slaughter occurred when a crowd of natives in the Jallianwala-Bagh enclosure at Amritsar was fired upon by troops commanded by General R. E. H. Dyer, then in command in India.

The Commission, under the chairmanship of Lord Hunter, submitted two reports, a majority report by the five English members and a minority report by the three Indian members. An official summary of the two reports is given out by the British Government, which says in part:

"With the exception of the Jallianwala-Bagh and certain incidents, both the Indian and English members generally agree in justifying the firing done by the police and the military. They agree in pronouncing unfavorably on General Dyer's handling of the Jallianwala-Bagh meeting and upon certain orders passed in the administration of martial law. They further agree in exonerating the Government of India from all blame.

Anti-Government Outbreak

"Regarding Amritsar, the English members hold that the outbreak was anti-Government at every stage, hostility to government quickly merging into antipathy for Europeans as such and culminating on April 10 in the brutal murder of five inoffensive persons and savage assaults on others. The Indian members think that the anti-European sentiment developed subsequent to the firing on April 10, but do not dissent from the view that the firing was necessary.

"The English members approve the action of the authorities prior to April 13, considering it impossible that de-facto martial law could fail to result from the happening of April 10. But while admitting the difficulties of the situation, they consider that General [illegible] open to criticism in two respects: first, in that he fired without warning; and, second, in that he continued firing too long.

"They do not believe that the mob would have dispersed if warned, and consider that the firing would have been necessary in any case. They consider that General Dyer, through a mistaken belief that continued firing would be justified by the effect produced in other places committed a grave error in firing too long. They find no grounds for believing that this action saved the situation and averted a second mutiny. But they do not think that General Dyer can be blamed for not attending to the wounded, as they are not convinced anyone was exposed to unnecessary fire for want of medical attention.

"This opinion is not shared by the Indian members, who, while agreeing in the condemnation of General Dyer's action, take a graver view of the whole incident, stigmatizing his conduct as inhuman and un-British."

IRISH FARMERS TO HAVE UNION

London, May 27.—A dispatch to The Star from Dublin reports the holding of a meeting there by the Irish Farmers' Union which considered the draft of a plan for the formation of a country-wide body known as the Farmers' Freedom Force. This proposed force says the message, would seek to protect agricultural pursuits, "by force, if necessary, against labor, Socialism or Bolshevism, irrespective of whatever political developments may occur in the country.

The dispatch to The Star continues: "The organization owes its inception to the embargo recently imposed by the Socialistic Laborites against the export of pigs, bacon and butter to Great Britain, which the farmers claim threatens the ruin of the agriculturists. The draft of the scheme sets forth that the new force is 'to provide a permanent organized body in every branch of the union and in every country area in Ireland, ready for immediate action and capable of meeting force by force where action by the existing government is undesirable, unavoidable or unexercised."

London, May 27.—Russia will recognize the complete independence of Letvia, according to an agreement reached by the Lettish-Bolsheviki peace delegations at Moscow.

VOTE-GETTING NOT THOUGHT OF BY BUDGET FRAMERS

New York Sun Says New Taxes Conform to Science of Taxations

New York, May 27.—Under the heading "Sound Taxing in Canada," the Sun and New York Herald discusses the new Ottawa budget, declaring that the Canadian Government's "courageous and determined measures to make 1920-21 budget balance, merit commendation by all and emulation by other governments which have far less excuse for swollen expenditures which have to be met by higher taxes."

"Canada," continues the newspaper, "has problems of development, transportation and distribution that are even more difficult than our own. Except for a small section Northwest of Winnipeg and South of the Saskatchewan river, and along a strip of territory about 100 miles wide parallelling the border, the population of Canada is less than one person to the square mile. Only in a small section in the East does it exceed 16 to the square mile. Such a sparse population spread over so vast an expanse of territory spells hardship and privation for those engaged in the development of the country.

"One would think it difficult enough to endure the privations of pioneer life without being called upon to assume tax burdens to pay for a war fought thousands of miles away. Yet the Canadian readily shares his bread with the government, so we see the government slashing expenditures as much as possible and then imposing additional taxes.

"The one object was to make the revenue equal the expenditure. The object has been achieved. Apparently the budget framers were more engrossed in their task of making the budget balance than they were in winning the favor of the discontented voter. . . . . The new taxes are economically sound, and in the long run the money paid by the taxpayer will be a good investment, for the method by which it is being taken conforms with the science of taxation and not the game of vote-getting."

EXHIBITORS KEEN TO GET SPACE AT BRANDON FAIR

Exhibitors From Distant Points Applying for Space—Local Men Must Hurry

The applications of Eastern men for space reservations at the Provincial Fair here in July, are featuring the early rush at the Fair offices, according to Secretary W. I. Smale. Outside exhibitors who want to secure space at the Fair are making an early application and the space is being rapidly taken up. The rush is one of the largest the Provincial Fair here has ever had, and with the applications which are expected from local men within the next few weeks, the total space will probably be taken up.

Last year the revenue derived from concessions on the grounds amounted to $26,000 and Secretary Smale said that this amount would probably be exceeded this year. All the available space on the grounds is used every year and until the Fair Board build another Display building there will be no surplus space on the grounds. Owing to the high cost of building material the board decided to call off the original plan for a Display Building this year, and will make an attempt next Summer to have the building erected in order to more efficiently cope with the growing demand for concession space. The Industrial exhibit this year, said Mr. Smale would be the largest in the history of the Fair.

Arrangements for Parking Cars

Regarding the parking of the automobiles, the Fair Secretary said that in order to give outsiders an opportunity to park their cars inside the grounds, that local car owners will be requested to park their autos outside the grounds. Last year every available foot of parking space was used inside the Exhibition grounds while there was also a space reserved outside the park. With so many out-of-town visitors expected at the Summer Fair this year, extra provision will possibly be made to accommodate all out-of-town cars in the grounds.

DUKE OF DEVONSHIRE BLOWS UP GREENHOUSES: DISGUSTED AT COSTS

London, May 27.—Disgusted at the high cost of labor, the Duke of Devonshire has blown up his greenhouse—known as the world's largest. It was located on his ancestral estate, which he recently sold to a syndicate for $375,000. The glass palace, which covered hundreds of acres, was a famous Mecca of flower lovers. It contained more than 40,000 glass panes and thousands of tons of iron framework.

New President is Head of Field Husbandry Dept., Saskatchewan University

Winnipeg, May 26.—Professor John Bracken, head of the Field Husbandry Department of the University of Saskatchewan, has announced his willingness to accept the position of President of the Manitoba Agricultural College left vacant by the resignation of J. B. Reynolds, M.A. The appointment will come before a full meeting of the board for ratification on Tuesday next. This announcement was made by R. M. Matheson of Brandon, a member of a committee for securing a President.

Professor Bracken is a B.S.A. from Guelph, was born and brought up on an Ontario farm, was high man in the first stock judging team from Guelph that succeeded in bringing back the grand challenge trophy from the international at Chicago to his Alma Mater; took about everything there was to be taken in the way of medals and scholarships during his college course, and since graduation has spent practically all his time in Western Canada. He was a year in Manitoba, representing the Dominion Seed Grain branch; then took the superintendence of institutes and fairs in Saskatchewan; and when the university was formed and the Agricultural College established, he was appointed to the chair of Astronomy and Field Husbandry, a position which he has filled with conspicuous ability ever since. He has, in addition to his class work, carried on extensive research and experimental work, and has issued a series of bulletins on methods of culture, suitable forage crops for dry areas, etc., and is the author of "Crop Production in Western Canada." He has been keenly interested in the extension work of the college, and the farmers of Saskatchewan have found him ready and willing to assist them in any difficulty. He is a very popular lecturer with his classes and equally popular as a public speaker.

LEVER LAW HELD UNCONSTITUTIONAL BY FEDERAL JUDGE

Indianapolis, May 27—Federal Judge A. B. Anderson holds the Lever law to be unconstitutional. The ruling was in the case of coal operators and miners indicted in connection with the recent nation-wide coal strike. Those indicted include miners and operators in Indiana, Illinois, Pennsylvania and Ohio.

In declaring the Lever Act unconstitutional Judge Anderson sustained the motion of Charles Evans Hughes to quash the indictments against Indiana and Pennsylvania coal miners. The indictments were based on the Lever law. Others indicted are not directly affected by the ruling.

Judge Anderson originally granted an injunction based on the Lever Act, declaring the strike illegal. The injunction was at the request of Attorney-General Palmer. The miners contended the act was unconstitutional, not applying to strikes, but were overruled by Judge Anderson. Following the termination of the strike, a federal grand jury was empanelled, resulting in indictments charging conspiracy and collusion to restrict the nation's coal supply and to secure higher prices for coal.

Judge Anderson ruled the law unconstitutional on the grounds that it was "arbitrary," "discriminatory," "objectionable," and because he said it was "class legislation."

CROP DAMAGED BY HIGH WINDS

Saskatchewan Reports Vary From "Slight" to "Incalculable"—Opinions Differ

Regina, Sask., May 28.—The high winds of last week touched practically the whole of the province, causing from "slight" to "incalculable" damage to early crops, according to a report issued by the Statistics Branch of the Provincial Department of Agriculture. Cadillac characterizes them as the worst wind-storm in the history of the district," and reports possibly 20 per cent. damage. Sceptre reports that "four days of high winds have caused incalculable damage to crops," and adds: "Today finishes what the first three days left." A five per cent loss wind is estimated at Oxbow and Weyburn. Other points report more or less drifting.

Wheat seeding is practically completed in the province, according to the report, and a large percentage of the crop is already above ground. Several points in the Southern part of the province report rain needed, although the moisture situation in general appears to be satisfactory.

There has been no damage from grasshoppers or other insects to date.

Practically no damage has been caused to crops by the heavy winds of the last few days in the territory served throughout the Southern part of the province by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. Wheat seeding is reported completed in all districts and 50 per cent of oats and barley is now finished This is the general summary of reports received by W. A. B. Russell, commercial agent of the G. T. P. at Regina.

SUCH A PEACE INCONCEIVABLE DECLARES WILSON

Washington, May 28.—The Republican peace resolution was vetoed Thursday by President Wilson.

Such a method of making peace with Germany, the President said, would "place an ineffaceable stain upon the gallantry and honor of the United states."

Without announcing his intention regarding the Treaty of Versailles, the President declared that the treaty embodied the important things omitted by the resolution, and said that by rejecting the treaty, the United States had declared in effect that it wished "to draw apart and pursue objects and interests of our own."

The President added that the peace resolution omitted mention of many important objects for the vindication of which the United States entered the war.

"Such a peace with Germany," the message continued, "a peace in which none of the essential interests which we had at heart when we entered the war, is safeguarded—is, or ought to be, inconceivable as inconsistent with the dignity of the United States, with the rights and liberties of her citizens and with the very fundamental conditions of civilization."

W.C.T.U. ELECTS OFFICERS FOR YEAR

Delegates to Manitoba Convention Banqueted and Welcomed by Mayor Dinsdale

The W.C.T.U. Convention was continued in the First Methodist Church Wednesday. During the day important business was transacted and the election of officers took place. At six o'clock a banquet was tendered the visiting delegates in the club room of the church. Several special speakers addressed the evening session, and musical selections and readings added variety to the meeting.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. T. Duff-Smith, Winnipeg; Vice-President, Mrs. D. J. Grant, Winnipeg; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. A. H. Oakes, Winnipeg; Recording Secretary, Mrs. I. H. McDonald, Portage la Prairie; Treasurer, Mrs. Berry, Gladstone; Y. P. B. Secretary, Miss Landresn, Lauder; L. T. L. Secretary, Mrs. Jessop, Gladstone; Editor Mesenger, Mrs. Wm. Wright, Winnipeg.

Want Dower Law Amended

Mrs. Gee, Provincial District Director of the United Farm Women of Manitoba, addressed the convention on the Dower Law and the following proposed amendments:

"A wife should have an interest in all the property of her husband's, both real and personal instead of just the homestead."

"A wife should have a specified share in her husband's property (either one-third or one-half) and the right to will it to he rchildren."

"A wife should have personal notice served upon her regarding disposition of home or homestead, if living apart from her husband for any period of time."

"The full family should be protected."

At the afternoon session Mrs. Playfair, an old and valued provincial worker, was presented with a beautiful bouquet and book entitled "The Lady With the Other Lamp," in honor of her birthday. An interesting discussion took place regarding the nomination of women candidates for the Provincial Parliament, and the standing of independent candidates.

Enjoyable Banquet

A very enjoyable banquet was tendered the delegates at six o'clock by the Brandon W.C.T.U. Greetings were given by Mayor Dinsdale on behalf of the City Council, Rev. J. George Miller for the Ministerial Association, Mrs. H. L. MacNeill, Women's Missionary Societies of the city, Mrs. S. E. Clement, Local Council of Women, Mrs. Gee, United Farm Women of Manitoba and Mr. A. White representing the School Board. Mrs. Fred Smith ably presided over the gathering and Mrs. Cresswell, of Griswold, responded in a very happy manner.

Rev. J. George Miller presided at the evening session in the absence of Rev. J. W. Churchill. Miss Watt, Canadian Secretary of the Leper Mission gave a very vivid account of her work. No country can say it is free from leprosy, said Miss Watt as leprosy is becoming a disease of the West as well as of the East. There are known cases in Canada in Toronto, Montreal and British Columbia, while New York City has one hundred cases or more. Just as long as our people go to the East and the Eastern people come to the West there will be danger of the spread of this dread disease. A wonderful work is being done by the missionaries in the East who are endeavoring by education and medical aid to aselst those who are afflicted, and to prevent the spread of this disease.

Public Opinion A Great Force

Rev. M. L. Orchard delivered a very interesting address. As the three basic principles of the Empire, Mr. Orchard gave peace, justice and truth,—peace based on justice, justice baced on truth. He thought that united, mobilized public opinion was an outcome of the great war. Public opinion is a great force which ever way it is used. A massed public opinion based on truth as it is in Jesus Christ, would soon rid the world of the liquor traffic and similar evils and prevent a recurrence of the Senate throwing out bills for moral reform.

To co-operate is the first duty of citizens. We must all be producers in idealism and spiritual life as well as in material things. Men are not free to do as they will, neither are they born equal physically or mentally. Each one must find the place where God wants him to work and then do his best. Man is equal, however, in God's sight, whether talented or otherwise, rich or poor. When men realize this, capital and labor, realizing their own power and recognizing themselves as sons of God, will co-operate. In the trenches each man worked and suffered for the good of all. We must get this spirit, emphasized the speaker before we can be the men and women who count. We must get a universal and high standard of education and give our children a high school course. If this means sacrifice it is well worth while. First we must make our homes Christian, then our boys and girls will become men and women who will serve God, the highest type of citizen.

Interspersed with the addresses were musical selections by Mrs. J. Hall, Miss A. Bailey, Miss A. Burchill, Mr. John Davies, Mr. C. G. Stone and Master Gordon Bertrand, and a reading by Miss Georgia Newberry, of Brandon College, which were much enjoyed.

BIGAMIST TO SERVE 12 MONTHS IN BRANDON JAIL

Lionel T. Ward Pleaded Guilty, But Claimed Extenuating Circumstances

Lionel T. Ward was sentenced this afternoon to one year's imprisonment following his confession to the charge of bigamy. Ward was arrested at Morden on May 9th and brought here to staid trial. Before Magistrate Fraser Ward confessed to the bigamy charge, stating that he had married a Crystal City girl when she was fourteen years of age, and had lived with her a number of years. Following his desertion of his wife, Ward married another Southern Manitoba girl, and was arrested and brought to Brandon.

He claimed that there were extenuating circumstances in his first marriage that caused him to leave his wife, and the first Mrs. Ward was called to give evidence on Wednesday. She told of being threatened many times with a loaded revolver and of her unhappy married life with the prisoner.

In sentencing Ward this afternoon, Magistrate Fraser said that the crime of bigamy was being treated too lightly and that it is getting altogether too common. However he said he would deal rather leniently with the prisoner and he sentenced him to twelve months less the time he has already spent in jail.

SASKATOON TO HOLD THE NEXT MUSICAL FESTIVAL

Moose Jaw, May 27.—Saskatoon was selected as the next festival city by the Saskatchewan Musical Festival Association at a meeting of the executive held in Zion Methodist Church.

DRAYTON'S BUDGET SAID TO BE REAL CABINET PRODUCT

Rather Than Well Defined Conception of a Finance Minister

REPEAL OF WAR TAX

Surprise to Average Western Unionist—Women and Luxury Tax

Ottawa, May 27.—Nothing throws a scare into a Government so much as a snap division when its forces are scattered. This is exactly what happened on the Fielding resolution relating to the ambassadorship at Washington. No one expects a division on either a Friday or a Monday, and so the members thought that they could stay away over Monday night without danger; and a large number of them did so. It was hardly Mr. Fielding's fault that the subject was left over until Monday; but when it came up there was no help for it but to take the consequences. The Government's majority was cut to five, and it was lucky that nothing worse happened. If the twenty-five Liberal absentees had been on hand it is quite probable that the Government would have been in the minority. Needless to say the incident was followed by some very plain speaking.

Correspondence Not Produced.

Reading between the lines of Sir Robert Borden's speech on the Fielding resolution, one gained the impression that there was a reluctance on the part of the Imperial Government to go as far as to accede to the demand for an Ambassador at Washington. Undoubtedly it was this that caused Sir Robert to say that it would not be in the public interest to have the correspondence laid bare. There could hardly have been any objection to this had it not been for the attitude of the Home authorities. So the Government doubtless through a desire to screen the Home authorities, had to take the criticism, which naturally followed failure to produce the papers, which had practically been promised by Sir George Foster a few days before Sir Robert's return. It is quite evident that the increased recognition granted to this country during the last two years has only been secured through hard fighting.

The Premier's speech on this occasion was vigorous to the extent of indicating that he is in pretty good physical condition, this being evident from the way he drove his right fist into his left hand. He also put considerable punch into his remarks. His memory, however, seemed, at times, to fail him. He gave one the impression that under heavy fire in the House he might be irritable, and that a month or two in the warm temperature of the Chamber might be very trying. There is reason to think that he will expedite the work of the session by every means in his power.

Budget is a New Departure.

Sir Henry Drayton's budget is a new departure in Canadian politics; for it is an evidence of the at least partial conversion of an important political element to the principle of direct taxation. No better evidence of this could be desired than the remarks of Sir George Foster, at one time one of the leading champions of indirect, as opposed to direct, taxation. Sir George admitted that the indirect method, if adopted in its entirety, was not good for the country. For himself he favored a mixture of the two principles, which, he said, had been done in the Budget. This was quite an admission; but it shows how utterly the war has shattered traditional political theories and policies. Equally noteworthy was the position taken by Mr. Fielding, who thought that one's attitude on the tariff should be guided by circumstances. One's impression was that on fiscal policy he and Sir George Foster are not very far apart.

In addressing the House, Sir Henry, under the circumstances, acquitted himself very creditably, getting through without much trouble. This, however, was due, as much as anything, to the fact that with the members he is known as a good fellow. He has a jocular manner, which inclines one to think that the mountain of debt does not cause him to lose much sleep. It could easily be seen that he was not master of his subject in the sense that Sir Thomas White, Mr. Fielding, Sir George Foster, or Sir Richard Cartwright used to be. But everybody understood this; they appreciated the effort of a frank and candid man in a trying position and treated him with consideration.

Drayton Gets Along Well.

Sir Henry Drayton gets along very well; because, for one thing, he is not a strong partisan. A minister of the latter type frequently arouses opposition because of the too often assumed attitude that, having once taken a position, he is in duty bound to defend it, the more so if his opponents take another position. But the Minister of Finance apparently has no old political scores to settle. Moreover he evidently has the good sense to realize that, in proportion as he treats the Opposition with consideration, to that extent will his way be the easier. He showed particularly good judgment in marking down the assets on the national balance sheet. Nominally this added nearly $300,000,000 to the national debt; but it evidenced sincerity. The average Minister of Finance of strong party feelings would almost certainly defend any statement of assets put out by his department. Having investigated the railway situation thoroughly, Sir Henry had no hesitation in removing from the credit side of the ledger about $200,000,000 in the form of loans and advances to railways.

In the opening stages of the debate the best speeches were made by Sir Henry Drayton, Sir George Foster, Mr. Fielding and Mr. McMaster. Sir Henry's naturally owed its importance to his announcements. Sir George Foster's was rather general, but very able in character. Mr. Fielding was mildly critical, and while declaring for some tariff changes, did not like the thought of jarring things much. Mr. McMaster's speech was more in line with the traditional Liberal attitude on the tariff. It was frank, critical, positive and a distinct contribution to the debate.

Budget Work of Cabinet.

There is good reason to think that the Budget was more the work of the Cabinet than any other that has appeared for some time. In matters of financial policy most ministers of finance have their own way pretty well. This is particularly true when the minister is a man of recognized financial ability, as Sir Thomas White is. So while he doubtless has his own well defined conceptions of policy, without doubt Sir Henry Drayton was more influenced by his colleagues than Sir Thomas would have been, and for the very good reason that he does not pretend to speak with as much authority on financial matters as Sir Thomas does. Probably the best evidence of this is to be seen in the repeal of 7½ per cent customs war tax and the retention of the Business Profits tax.

The repeal of this tax was a surprise to the average Western Unionist, and may be attributed chiefly to the efforts of the ministers from the prairies—Meighen, Calder and Sifton—who possibly got some help from certain of their Eastern colleagues. It is very much to be doubted whether they could have secured this concession from Sir Thomas White; for the impression is that he would have said: "The revenue can't be raised without this tax" It's repeal made necessary the resort to new direct taxes, to the increase of five per cent in incomes of $5,000 and upwards and other changes. There seems to have been a merry battle over the Business Profits tax, the manufacturers and other Big Business interests having made a determined effort to secure its repeal; but necessity kept it there.

Tax Lopped Off.

Naturally the Western Unionists are happy that the 7½ per cent tax has gone. The Liberals say the action taken does not go far enough. As for the Farmers, their position is that even with the 7½ per cent off, the tariff is as protectionist as the one they fought before the war. A number of old-time Conservatives think that the lopping off of this tax is a great mistake, and they contend that it will mean the incoming of a tide of American goods. They put it this way—If while this tax was on the United States, even with the rate of exchange checking imports therefrom, was able to sell Canada $200,000,000 worth of goods last year, what will she not sell this year? This reasoning, of course, will not be very convincing to the West, but it goes down well with a number of Eastern people.

One's first impression is that the very nature of the Budget will add to the length of the sesion. The discussion over most Budgets usually centres almost entirely on the tariff; but in this one the tariff is only one of two very important features. It is quite probable that the debate proper may be shortened; but the indications are that the new taxes will give rise to a very great deal of discussion in committee. The effect of hot weather, however, on parliamentary proceedings is to shorten them.

What Will Women Say?

Much interest is manifested in the attitude of the new women voters to the luxury taxes. Those who are looking, and even praying for trouble, unhesitatingly say that the women will criticize the Government severely. On the other hand Government supporters contend that the women, realizing the necessity of raising large sums of money, will readily fall in with the new methods. One is pretty safe in saying that, in the main, they will act in Canada, as they have acted in the United States, where they do not seem to be raising much of a fuss over luxury taxes.

PETERBOROUGH FARMERS KEEP UP WITH THE TIMES

Peterborough, Ont., May 29. — At least twenty tractors have been purchased within the year in the country within a radius of ten miles of the city, and at least five per cent. of the dairymen have installed milking machines. Another progressiv factor to be noticed is the gener l use of three-horse teams on the farms.

TWO UNIONISTS DECLARE BUDGET NOT SATISFACTORY

Wright of Battleford and Richardson of Lethbridge are Bolters

TWO MORE MEMBERS

May Cross the Floor on Account of Dissatisfaction With Budget

Ottawa, May 27.—Interest in the Budget debate was renewed by events last night when Wright of Battleford and Buchanan of Lethbridge bolted from the ranks of the Government supporters. There was talk of the debate closing tonight but among the speakers at present lined up are Hon. R. Lemieux, Hon. T. A. Crerar, Ernest Lapointe and Major Andrews, Winnipeg. It is now felt that a division will not be reached before Tuesday. It is freely mentioned that there is likelihood of at least two more Government supporters crossing the floor of the house, owing to dissatisfaction with the Budget.

Break Away on Budget.

Ottawa, May 27.—The first break in the ranks of the Government supporters on the Budget came tonight. For several hours the debate had proceeded along wonted lines, members from the Government and opposition voicing support and criticism of the proposals contained in the speech of the Minister of Finance. At last H. O. Wright, member for battleford, and a farmer by occupation, rose, and in a concise and positive speech, announc that he would have to break with the Government and support the Opposition amendment. This announcement was met with loud applause from the Liberal Opposition, as well as the Farmers, but the former were somewhat dampened when Mr. Wright announced that he "did not think there was anything material in the amendment," but the rules of the House precluded the moving of any other.

Mr. Wright, however, was not the only Western Unionist who found that he must break with his party. He had not long concluded his speech when W. A. Buchanan, member for Lethbridge, declared he had come to the conclusion that the promised tariff revision meant only protection and he would also support the amendment. Again the Opposition benches broke into applause. He could not agree with anything which meant taxing the implements of production, thus making the cost of living higher, said Mr. Buchanan. He had been elected as a low tariff man and it was to be consistent that he was taking his present stand.

The decision of Mr. Wright to vote against the Government means that the new Progressive or Farmers' party have won another recruit. He declared that he stood four-square for the tariff principles contained in the Farmers' platform, that he was a subscriber to the Farmers' political campaign fund and heartily endorsed it. He had been elected to support the present Government for the period of the war and demobilization and felt that he had amply done his duty along these lines.

Early in the present session, and at the time when Major Andrews, member for Centre Winnipeg, during the debate on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, broke with the Government and joined the cross-benchers, Mr. Buchanan announced he would regard himself in future as a free-lance, supporting or opposing the Government as he saw fit. He announced then that he was a low tariff man, so his defection from the Government ranks is not unexpected. Whether he will join the ranks of the cross-benchers or not is not yet known. It was a noticeable thing that, in spite of the importance of the two speeches by the Westerners, there was not a large attendance in the House and but a small gathering in the galleries.

Edwards Critizes Clark.

The debate was opened by Dr. Edwards of Frontenac, who outlined the recent fiscal history of the Dominion to show that Conservatives had done more than Liberals to reduce the tariff on agricultural implements to its present level. He characterized the free trade parts of Dr. Michael Clark's recent speech as nothing but a series of quotations from the "Earl of this and the Duke of that." He found fault with the Grain Growers' Grain Company of the West, which he said was the most colossal pofiteering concern in Canada.

F. F. Pardee of Lambton said that the Minister of Finance was reaching in the wrong direction for money. The proposed taxes added to the consumers' costs and would not give the desired results. He favored the abolition of the duties on food, clothing and the implements of farm production.

J. F. Reid of Mackenzie, from the cross-benches, defended Hon. T. A. Crerar, President of the United Grain Growers, and incidentally attacked S. E. Elkin, member of St. John, who, he said might justify the term of a war profiteer.

Fernand Rinfret of St. James, Montreal, condemned the Budget proposals as merely adding to the burden of the people. The Government, he said, had met hard times and great difficulties with a weak mind, an empty heart and a false purpose. The Canadian people were longing for an opportunity to change the present administration for a better one.

GOOD ROADS WORK IS BEING PUSHED IN CORNWALLIS

New Road Drag Used is Being Favorably Commented On

Good roads work in Cornwallis Municipality is progressing favorably and S. A. Button, Good Roads Commissioner, stated this morning that the road on Victoria Avenue West would probably be finished this week. Considerable work has been done in finishing up this piece of road which was graded last fall. A start on the Lake Clementi trail will be made the first week in June it is expected, but operations have been somewhat delayed on account of the scarcity of grading machinery.

This morning a road drag invented by Fred V. McKinney of Boissevain was given a tryout on Victoria Avenue West and it worked satisfactorily. Mr. McKinney stated that about two hundred of these drags are being used in the grading of roads throughout Western Canada, and that they are ideal for keeping the road in perfect condition the year round. The drag is in two sections composed of heavy steel bars, and is drawn by horses. The demonstration this morning showed that they are capable of levelling off the bumps in the road, as well as filling in small holes and depressions. There is a possibility that some of these drags will be used by the Municipality in the building of their roads. The drags are made by a local firm, the Manitoba Engines, Ltd., having secured the contract for supplying the drags to Canadian purchasers.

DAUGHTERS OF EMPIRE AT CALGARY

Eight Delegates From Manitoba Chapters Attend Annual Meeting

Calgary, May 24 (by Mail)—Asking the members to think together, act together and work together even though it might mean sacrifice, Mrs. W. D. Spence of Calgary, welcomed to this city about 300 members of the Imperial Order Daughters of Empire who were present Monday morning at the opening session of the twentieth annual meeting held in Knox Church, Calgary, Alta. Mrs. Spence asked that the members remember the greatness of the British Empire and of the duty owed to her, to Canada and to the future of the Dominion. Mrs. Arthur W. Adams of St. John, N.B., replied to the address of welcome on behalf of the delegates.

At the meeting, resolutions of loyalty and devotion were passed and will be sent to their majesties, the King and Queen and also to their excellencies the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire. This is a custom which is followed every year at the annual meeting.

There are eight delegates from Manitoba attending the sessions. These include, Mrs. T. D. Cumberland of this city, Mrs. Colin Campbell, Winnipeg, Mrs. Wilson Smith, Winnipeg, Mrs. McQuillin, Winnipeg, Mrs. R. H. Brotherhood, Elkhorn, Mrs. Struthers, Dauphin, Mrs. Howey of Rivers and Miss I. Todd, Brandon.

Delegates from as far East as Prince Edward Island and as far West as Victoria are present and many Chapters of the Order in small places are represented.

An inspiring service of intersession was held Monday night in Knox Church, when a special order of service prepared for the occasion was used. Some of the most celebrated ministers in Calgary took part in the service which was one that will long be remembered by those present.

Sunday afternoon the delegates in Calgary were taken for a motor ride around the city and needless to say, enjoyed, what was to many, the first glimpse of this well-known Western city.

Interesting comment on the political situation in the Prairie Provinces is contained in a recent issue of the Vancouver Province. Residents on the Prairies usually know pretty accurately the views of the Easterners on Western topics or politics, but hardly give thought to the views of the residents on the Pacific Coast save on matters solely affecting the region on the other side of the Rockies. It is evident that the Province keeps pretty accurate tab on events on the Prairies according to the forecast in the following article:

Two Liberal Unionist members from the prairies, in addition to those who have previously seceded to the Farmer group, have announced that they will vote for the Fielding amendment, though one of them says that it does not amount to much. They vote for it because if they voted with the government against it they would support the protective tariff. There remain about a dozen Liberal Unionist members from the prairie provinces, including two ministers, who have not withdrawn their support from the coalition. The coming division will probably reduce their number and show on which side most of them may be counted hereafter.

It will be remembered that more than half the coalition candidates in the three provinces were Liberals, and as only three opposition members were returned, about half the government support from that region came from the former Liberal party. If these candidates had not run as Unionists most of them would have been defeated. It is quite probable that if they should now run against the Farmer party in support of a protectionist party most of them would be defeated. One who went to the Senate has been already replaced by a Farmer member and seven or eight others following the lines of least resistance have transferred their allegiance to the same group. It does not appear that any have announced their return to the Liberal party, though probably two or three will do so.

Prairie Conservatives elected on the Union ticket, with one exception, continue their support. They do so at some risk, for the Farmer group is likely to make further gains in the grain growing country. As there is practically no Liberal representation in the House from Western Canada the gain will be at the cost of Conservatives. It is yet to be seen whether the Government can find any redress in the Eastern provinces for this actual and prospective loss. As yet only two Eastern Liberals have returned to the opposition fold, but two Liberal Unionists seats and one Conservative seat have gone to the Farmers in by-elections.

THE PENSIONS

A new measure of the immense sacrifice made by Canadians in the war is afforded by some of the pension figures. At the end of 1919 the total number of Canadians receiving pensions was about 175,000, including dependents, made up as follows:

Disabled soldiers	70,950
Wives of disabled soldiers	27,649
Children of disabled or dead soldiers	58,582
Dependents of dead soldiers including widows and mothers	17,725

It has been shown from time to time that the pension regulations needed readjustment, and changes are still necessary as experience reveals defects and injustices. Up to the end of March, 1920, the country had paid out almost $50,00,000 in pensions, the amounts for the various fiscal years being these:

To March 31, 1917	$ 1,791,566
To March 31, 1918,	7,402,253
To March 31, 1919	16,589,021
To March 31, 1920	23,824,215
Total	$49,607,055

After the country began to pay pensions it was found that the original scale adopted was too low, and year after year the country's contribution to those who served it has been increased. In 1915 total disability meant a pension of only $264 a year. This was increased in 1916 to $480, and a year later to $600. Last year a bonus was added, raising the total to $720. From time to time the other pensions were increased in some proportion. It is nowhere contended that the scheme is anything like perfect yet, and a parliamentary committee has been at work steadily, considering complaints and recommendations and preparing such amendments to the pension law as may be necessary.

Few persons can be found in Western Canada who entertain the belief that $720 is a sufficient annual pension for a totally disabled man. There may be localities in this vast Dominion where this sum will support a man in comfort, but the West does not know of them. The same applies all the way down the line. The pensions are too small. If the Parliamentary Committee desires to carry out the wishes of the people in all Canada it will at once deal justly and fairly with the widows and orphans, the maimed and the blind. No pension can ever compensate them. It is not designed to, but it is designed to supply what it is presumed able bodied Canadians who suffered for us, could and would do—enable those dependent on them to live in decency and in comfort, and to provide educational facilities of an advanced type for the children of those who suffered because of their sacrifice.

DIRECT ACTION

The prices paid for potatoes in Montreal and in a nearby village where some Montreaters go fishing, are subjects for a great deal of comment. It is said that direct action is needed to get at the profiteers. The sort of direct action best calculated to hit a tangible enemy like the high cost of potatoes is to get out the rusty hoe and [illegible] potatoes in the back yard.

Just as the kind of direct action needed generally to hit the general enemy of the high cost of living is to produce.

Anybody with a few feet of ground can produce some potatoes, and every bushel produced that way will help. Every piece of ground that could produce a bushel of potatoes but doesn't is just that much help toward continuing high prices for potatoes.

The same principle goes all along the line. Production is the key-word the only magic formula that will solve the world's economic troubles.

Producing potatoes in backyard gardens will help not a little, and most people can do that.

Everybody cannot make sugar or grow lumber but everybody can buckle down honestly to work at whatever he has to do, and thus set an example that if generally followed will set this old world right again in no time.

IS THERE A BETTER WAY?

General price levels are heading downward.

Food prices are distinctly not heading downward.

So many men have left the farms to make automobiles for the rest of us to joy-ride in, and other luxuries, that the farms are dangerously short of help, and food production is being seriously curtailed.

It is a very grave problem. Food can't be brought down that way; and keeping food up helps to keep everything up.

The fields won't yield us food without labor. We can't all live in cities and make and buy automobiles, and expect cheap food or anything but very dear food.

What's going to happen? If enough men could be induced to go back to work on the farms, everything would be well. But they aren't going back to work on the farms, and they won't go there willingly. The farm help problem is becoming as bad as the domestic help problem—and that's pretty nearly hopeless.

This evil situation might be changed in two ways:

First—Food may get so scarce and high that the only way to eat will be to go out into the country and raise some food.

Second—A lot of factories may close forcing labor back to the farms in search of employment.

Neither way is pleasant, comfortable or safe. The fields will not yield food without labor, and if the drain of labor from farms to factories keeps on, the world may yet go hungry. It is a dangerous situation, and ought to have a lot of serious thought, and whatever action fruitful thought may indicate as the proper remedy.

A GREAT PROBLEM

Every decrease in the price paid to farmers for foodstuffs will merely serve to hasten the day of a food shortage so acute as to endanger the safety of our government.

In lessened food supply may be hatched the egg of revolution.

Every consumer who rejoices in reports of decrease of prices paid the farmers for grain, cotton, livestock and dairy products will soon realize that his joy will be turned to mourning. Cheap milk or bread or meats today will merely mean a smaller supply and famine prices later on.

The question of the League of Nations, of soldiers' bounty, of Democratic or Republican supremacy are mere soap bubbles blown by children as compared with the mighty food supply question, says the Manufacturers' Record. Heavy pay to industrial workers and short hours of labor are like great magnets drawing men and women from the farms to the cities, decreasing the number of farm producers and increasing the number of food consumers.

Economic forces will eventually push foodstuffs so high that the pendulum must swing back and force people from the cities to the farms to avoid starvation, but ere the swing turns that way food scarcity and the misinformation about it may, unless we are wise, wreck our government and our civilization.

This is the nation's supreme problem. To its solution the people must address themselves with a full realization of its import.

A NEW WAR BOOK

Scarcely a week passes but some new contribution to the literature of the war is made by or on behalf of some one who played a leading part in the struggle. Most of the matter is of an exceeding controversial nature and it is not going to be an easy matter to come to a final conclusion. The latest to enter the arena is Sir Ian Hamilton, the commander in Gallipoli, who publishes his diary of events there. He makes a strong indictment of the war office, and is said to be especially severe on Kitchener. He complains of lack of support and of how, if the facts had been known, the government would have been forced to back him up more strongly. The truth probably is that at that stage of the war it was quite impossible to send any more men or munitions to Gallipoli without exposing the situation in France and Belgium to too great peril. The criticism which confines itself to the action of the government in launching the Gallipoli expedition in the first place, must carry greater weight. One can sympathize with Sir Ian in the position in which he found himself, without sharing his indignation against those at home whom he charges with indifference to his predicament.

MARITIME PROVINCES MAY UNITE

There is a possibility that the three Maritime Provinces, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island may form one big province. The possibility has been discussed in an academic way for years and it now looks as if it might become a serious political problem in the near future. It is a disturbing fact that after each decennial census the three Eastern Provinces have been losing representation in the Dominion Parliament, owing to the far greater increase in the population of the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.

The Confederation Act of 1867 made Quebec the pivotal province. Its representation by 65 members in the House of Commons being permanently fixed, while that of the other provinces is determined by the proportion of their populations to that of the French-Canadian province.

Advocates of union of the three Maritime Provinces suggest that by such a union their interests would be better protected at Ottawa, while of course the economy of having one Legislature instead of four—Nova Scotia has a second chamber—would be considerable. If the three Maritime Provinces unite there will be no postage stamp provinces in the Dominion.

MRS. SMALE'S DEATH SUNDAY MORNING SHOCK TO FRIENDS

Retired in Usual Health Saturday Night—Funeral at 2.45 Tuesday Afternoon

Many friends in Brandon and district will be shocked to learn of the death which occurred very suddenly on Sunday at the family residence, 642 Fourteenth street, of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Smale, beloved wife of Mr. W. I. Smale, the well known manager of the Summer and Winter Fairs in Brandon. Although sixty years of age, Mrs. Smale was in her usual health and attended the theatre Saturday evening and seemed perfectly well when she later retired for the night. About half past twelve the family were aroused and found her gasping for breath. It was impossible for the doctors to do anything for her and she passed away at eight o'clock Sunday morning without having spoken a word. Death was due to the bursting of a blood vessel in the brain.

Of a kindly and capable nature, the late Mrs. Smale will be missed by many who knew her when she resided in Carberry and later in Brandon, where she made a host of friends. While in Carberry she was an active worker in the W.C.T.U., and for some time was President of the Ladies Aid of the Methodist Church. The late Mrs. Smale was a member of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Methodist Church in this city, a Director of the Women's Kiwanis Club, a member of the Brandon W.C.T.U. and also a member of the Red Cross Society. During the past few years Mrs. Smale, although always cheerful, has been living under a great strain owing to illness and death of several members of the family. Mr. Smale underwent a serious operation in Winnipeg, her son, Rae, was badly wounded overseas, her daughter, Mrs. H. O. English passed away in Victoria, B.C., and a daughter-in-law to whom she was very much attached died during the Influenza Epidemic at Saskatoon in 1918. Besides her husband, two daughters, Mrs. C. P. Old of Loverna, Sask., and Miss Ella Smale at home, and three sons, Mr. Hobart Smale, of North Battleford, Mr. Fred Smale travelling in Western Canada for a Toronto firm, and Mr. Rae Smale, at home, are left to mourn her loss.

The remains of the late Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Smale, beloved wife of Mr. W. I. Smale of this city, were laid to rest Tuesday in the family plot at Carberry cemetery. Many Carberry friends of the family were present to pay their last respects to the deceased who was a former beloved resident of that place. Rev. Mr. Wilkinson of Souris and Rev. J. W. Churchill of this city were the officiating ministers. The pall bearers were Messrs. J. D. McGregor, R. M. Matheson, Peter Payne, George Fitton, Wm. Nichol and James S. Gibson.

A large number of friends attended the funeral service which was held this afternoon at the family residence, 642 Fourteenth Street, Brandon, prior to the departure of the cortege for the C.P.R. train en route to Carberry. Universal regret was felt at the death of Mrs. Smale and the following beautiful floral tributes testified to the esteem in which she was held by her many friends throughout the province.

MARKETING SYSTEM CONDEMNED BY HERBERT HOOVER

Washington, May 26.—A decrease in agricultural production may result in the United States becoming dependent on overseas food supplies, Herbert Hoover declared in a letter to Representative Riddick, Republican, Montana, setting forth the former Food Administrator's views as "to practical measures to ensure better returns to the farmer for his labor and investment."

Asserting that present high prices on commodities sooner or later will decrease, Mr. Hoover said "this deflation must not begin on the farmer." Shortage in production outside the United States, wild extravagance and misuse of extended credits for speculation and profiteering and non-essential production are contributing factors in the present inflated prices, he wrote. When the collapse occurs, he predicted, "intermediate dealers will be able to pass the greatest portion back to the farmer no matter how carefully handled."

"The whole marketing system in many of our commodities is indirect, expensive, wasteful, obsolete and increases the margin unduly," the letter continued. "Our manufacturing industries have developed out of pace with our agriculture and labor is being drawn in thousands from the farm to the town at wages with which the farmer cannot contend."

A commission studying the whole situation, Mr. Hoover declared, "would deal with these things with that same common-sense with which commissions of farmers met the great economic problems of the food administration during the war with equal consideration for the farmer, distributor and consumer."

WHY HAS FARMER'S PLATFORM NOT BEEN MOVED IN HOUSE?

Hon. Arthur Meighen Asks if a Game of Polititcal Poker is Being Played

TARIFF REFORMS

of Liberals and National Progressives Attacked by Minister of Interior

Ottawa, May 26.—From the slough of the back benches, the budget debate swung Tuesday to a battle, keen and aggressive of the first order. On the one hand was Dr. Clark, of Red Deer, elected as a Unionist, now one of the chief spokesmen of the National Progressives; on the other, stood Hon. Arthur Meighen, Minister of the Interior, meeting Dr. Clark on his favorite economic ground, keenly arguing in favor of protection. The two occupied the greater portion of the sitting—Mr. Meighen alone spoke altogether for nearly three hours, but from beginning to end they closely held the attention of a crowded house and galleries.

Dr. Clark championed the free trade of Cobden and Bright. Mr. Meighen declared that free trade had depopulated rural England, scattered the manhood of Great Britain through the fields and workshops of the United States, repressed the national industry of Ireland and had taken away the supreme hold which Britain held for centuries in the industrial life of the world.

Mr. Meighen, later, strongly attacked the tariff platforms both of the Liberal opposition and of the National Progressives. Why had the Farmers' platform not been moved in the House? Mr. Meighen demanded. Why had the Liberal opposition not been placed in such a position that it would have to vote yea or nay. Was it a game of political poker? The free trade vote was sought in one part of the country; the protectionist vote in another. Thus the way was being paved for a great betrayal, should the time ever come.

Dr. Clark Wants to Answer

As he proceeded, Mr. Meighen made statement after statement in the interrogative and his questions led to a curious incident. Was it not better, government which did things, rather than a party which merely professed to do them?

"I'll answer that question," interjected Dr. Clark, rising from his seat.

The speaker broke in: "The Hon. member for Red Deer has already spoken," he observed.

"Well then,' replied Dr. Clark, "let me suggest to the minister that he should not put his speech in the form of questions.".

"The minister is at liberty to ask any questions he sees fit," the speaker rejoined.

On this, Dr. Clark rose from his seat, walked slowly to the bar, turned, bowed low to the speaker, then left the House. He did not return while Mr. Meighen was speaking.

Millionaire and Profiteer Untouched

In his previous speech, Dr. Clark was equally critical of both the budget and the Fielding amendment. The luxury taxes were a bad imitation of taxes which died two centuries ago in the old country. They were not excise duties, but an internal tariff, a new species in the zoological garden. Like an internal tariff, they would operate to decrease business. The most damning thing about the new taxes was that they struck at the man who had served overseas, at the worker in the factory, but they left the millionaire and the war profiteer practically untouched. A vote for the budget was a vote in favor of increasing the cost of living.

GOVERNMENT TO SUPPLY POISON TO FIGHT HOPPERS

Winnipeg, May 26. — Official announcement was made at the parliament buildings Thursday that the Government has decided to supply all the ingredients for the poison necessary to fight the grasshoppers in the Southwestern corner of Manitoba. Within a short time of this decision the Department of Agriculture shipped adequate supplies of the various materials required to all points in the district affected by grasshoppers.

It was announced that Prof. A. V. Michener, B.A., B.S.A., of the Manitoba Agricultural College will stay in the district during the season when the anti-grasshopper fight is on and will personally direct the campaign. The Department of Agriculture will place an agricultural representative in each municipality to work under Prof. Michener and also to supervise the mixing of the poison to be used against the hoppers.

SMALL BERRY GROWERS IN B. C. WANT PICKERS IN ABOUT TWO WEEKS

The small berry growers will be requiring some men and women within two weeks, and it is understood that they will offer the same wage scale as was in effect last year.

Col. Powley has offered to give space in the Vancouver office of the employment bureau for a representative from the growers, where he can meet with those who wish to pick fruit this Summer. It is likely that advantage will be taken of the offer.

Better accommodation for the pickers in some of the smaller camps was among other matters under consideration at the meeting.

VARIOUS VIEWS ON WILSON'S REQUEST

British Papers Not Inclined to Believe Congress Will Sanction Mandate

London, May 26—President Wilson's request that Congress sanction acceptance by the U.S. of the mandate for Armenia is attracting great interest here. The story is given much prominence, in the newspapers, but the news was received too late for editorial commenting.

Some of the newspapers, however, printed short, explanatory notes which are causing doubt as to whether the Presidential suggestion will be complied with.

The London Times remarks that recent dispatches from Washington have shown that the people of the U.S. just now have a strong distaste for any foreign commitments.

The Daily News points out that since acceptance of the mandate would implicate endorsement of the covenant of the League of Nations and membership in the league, it is hardly conceivabe that Congress will fall in line with the President's wish.

"The President's action," the Daily News adds, "doubtless has tactful bearing on the impending election campaign, in which the peace treaty and the issues arising from it will figure largely. There also are some grounds for reading in it a desire on the part of the President to manifest his own consideration as to the fate of Armenia."

The Daily Telegraph says the President's step certainly will cause considerable surprise in peace conference circles, and that the decision will be awaited with deep interest.

ALL SCHOOLS TO BE KEPT OPEN

Saskatchewan Government Department Makes Arrangements With Banks

Regina, Sask., May 26.—Schools in the Southwest part of the province will be enabled to keep open during the coming year as a result of negotiations between Government officials and the banks. Representations made to them by inspectors of the Municipal Department induced the banks in practically all cases to make advances sufficient to meet the financial needs of the schools.

STOPPED FIGHT BETWEEN PRINCES

Vancouver, B.C., May 26.—Capt. John Johncox is dead hereat the age of 81. He was perhaps the only man who ever engaged in fisticuffs with King Edward, when the later was Prince of Wales, and he was the man who separated the Prince from the German Crown Prince, now the ex-Emperor, when those two, as youths, mixed it in a rough-and-tumble on the sands at Cowes, Isle of Wight.

The Crown Prince was so disgruntled after the scrap that he immediately went aboard his yacht and ordered it to sail for Germany.

COST OF SUGAR IS NOT UNREASONABLE

Declares W. F. O'Connor, Beginning Informal Inquiry to Acquaint Public

Ottawa, May 26.—That Canadians are obtaining sugar at a reasonable cost was the keynote of a statement made by W. F. O'Connor, K.C., senior commissioner of the Board of Commerce, at the beginning of an informal inquiry commenced Tuesday into the sugar market in Canada.

Mr. O'Connor stated at the outset that the board had kept in closest touch with conditions in Canada, was in possession of all the facts of the sugar market, but wished to give the pubic an opportunity of hearing the facts. The object of the inquiry is to obtain information which will enable the board to decide whether it woud be in the public interest that sugar control, which was abandoned some time ago, should be resumed.

Representatives of the Canada, Dominion, St. Lawrence and Acadia refineries are attending the hearing. Wholesalers are represented by A. C. Pyke, Secretary of the Canadian Wholesale Grocers' Association. The opening argument of the refiners is that compelled to buy raw material in a common market in Cuba and faced with higher cost of transportation and refining, Canadian refiners are selling at lower rates of profits than United States refiners.

Shortage of raw sugar threatens the continuity of the supply on the continent, and indicated a probable further rise in the cost of raw sugar. Wholesalers in Canada being paid a commission of five per cent by the refiners. Retailers are subject to more fluctuations in price and profit than are refiners and wholesalers.

Many retailers have always sold sugar at less than cost and most retailers are selling at less than cost today in the sense that they are not taking the profit of 18½ per cent necessary to cover the average overhead cost of the grocery business. In giving these details, Mr. O'Connor stated, however, that the board did not consider the retailers justified in taking a profit of 18½ per cent on sugar, because of the big turnover and smaller capital invested in that community.

GREAT BRITAIN AND U.S. WILL PULL TOGETHER

Though There Be Many Wild Men Doing Their Best to Make Trouble

Leeds, Eng., May 9.—(By Mail)—Sir Arthur Shirley Benn, who was head of the British mission to the International Trade Conference at Atlantic City last Fall, has just told the members of the Luncheon Club that he believed the United States and Great Britain would continue to "pull together." If so, he said, he thought they and their Allies would be able to reconstitute Europe and get back to former conditions of trade.

A great many people had said there was no chance of Great Britain and the United States pulling together, because they were too much alike—too impetuous and aggressive. He did not believe it. He had known America since 1877 and had never known a better feeling to exist between England and America than exists today among the people who counted.

There were in America, he said, pro-Germans, Sinn Feiners and others—"wild men who were trying to uproot the whole American constitution." There were people who were working, with pro-Germans and Sinn Feiners, to do all they could against England. But they would not succeed, he said. The class of people in America who are descended from Anglo-Saxon stock were not going to give up the Government of the country to any "mixed cosmopolitan body of people like the Bolshevists and their class who were making the trouble in America today."

The bulk of the people of the United States, he declared, had the most absolute faith in the honesty, courage and determination of John Bull. Great Britain, he said, owed America a big debt, but the Allies owed this country a larger one.

CREATE WORLD'S SEEDING RECORD AT LETHBRIDGE

1,300 Acres Seeded in Twenty-Four Hours by Use of 26 Drills

Lethbridge, Alta., May 29.—The Noble Foundation which created a record last week by seeding 1,200 acres in one day has now achieved another world's record with 1,300 acres seeded in 24 hours. This was accomplished with 26 drills working on a double shift. The ground is in perfect condition for germination and wheat sown on May 1st made its appearance above the ground some days ago. Many farmers in Southern Alberta are working day and night to seed as large an area to wheat as possible.

PRES. WILSON'S MESSAGE GOES TO CONGRESS TODAY: VETOES PEACE RESOLUTION

Washington, May 27.—President Wilson's message vetoing the Republican peace resolution will be sent to Congress today.

HARTNEY TAKES PLACE OF RESTON IN BALL LEAGUE

Owing to the fact that they consider the distance they will have to travel for their league games is too far, the Reston team has announced the fact that they have dropped out of the Western Manitoba Baseball League. However Hartney has made application to take Reston's place in the league, and if this is considered favorably by the League officials they will fill all of Reston's baseball fixtures. Hartney is reported to have a strong team lined-up for this season and can always be counted upon to give a big battle to opposing teams.

The inclusion of Hartney into the Western Manitoba League would make a more evenly balanced league for teams to reach for out-of-town games, as Virden, Souris and Hartney are all easy to reach by automobile. Hartney has furnished some very fast teams in other leagues in which Brandon has had a place, and they state that this year they will have a good line-up.

Exhibition games in which the Greys will bring many outside teams here are already being planned by the club's officials. Neepawa will be here next Thursday evening for a game, while the Transcona team will come here the following Thursday for a doubleheader. On June 17th the Catholic Club of the Winnipeg City League will probably be here for two games. Besides these games, the Greys are planning to have Bottineau, Deloraine, Minnedosa, Portage, and other teams come here, so that local fans will probably have plenty of baseball this Summer. With three pitchers working regularly the Greys are able to play three or four games a week, and it is on this account that the officials are trying to arrange ball games while the season is young.

GREYS SHUTOUT SOURIS NINE IN OPENING GAME

Locals Show Far Too Much Class for Visitors in Winning 12-0

Showing altogether too much class for their opponents, the Brandon Greys walked away with the opening league game by winning from Souris over the shutout route, 12-0. The visitors could not locate the offerings of McInnes who twirled for the locals, with the result that the Greys' twirler hung up a strikeout record in making seventeen batters go out on strikes. The heavy stick work of the winners, coupled with some very loose fielding on the part of the Souris team, rolled up five runs in the very first innings for the Greys, and thereafter it was a rout.

The following is the box score and summary:

SEEDING NEGLECTED

According to Provincial Officer for Profitable Occupation of Rum-Running

More than fifty complaints against other Petite Cote farmers will be heard in Police Court. Rum running is so well established in Essex County that the farmers are paying little attention to seeding, said the Provincial officer.

MOSLEMS TAKE OATH ON KORAN TO DEFEND THRACE

Will Reduce It to Ashes Before Leaving It to the Turks

Constantinople, May 29.—Moslem leaders in the Vilayet of Adrianople, in European Turkey, are sending their families to this city in anticipation of fighting when the Greeks attempt to occupy Thrace. Christians, however, are not permitted to leave their homes in that region. Just before the conclusion of the recent Turkish congress in Adrianople, the presiding officer declared an agreement to defend Thrace had been reached between the Turks and Bulgarians.

A mass meeting was held at Rodosto, 60 miles Northeast of Gallipoli, on May 22, the keynote of addresses made there being: "We shall reduce Thrace to ashes before leaving it to the Greeks," it is said. Many of the speakers and prominent men in atendance took the oath upon the Koran to defend Thrace.

Paris, May 29.—The youthful chess phenomenon, eight-year-old Samuel R. Zeschewski, of Poland, taught 20 picked players from the Paris chess club Thursday how the ancient game should be played. Samuel, who is a mere infant in size as well as in age, played twenty games, winning 18, tying another, and losing only one. The games lasted four hours and were played at the Cafe de La Rotonde, the famous chess club of Paris, where Marshall, Pillsbury, Lasker, Janowski, and other great champions played when in Paris.

Regina, Sask., May 29.—A Regina black fox farm has established a record with 35 pups being born from nine litters, one year-old fox having eight pups which is one above the previous Western record held by a black fox farm in Winnipeg. The manager of the farm claims that each pup is worth one thousand dollars.

LLOYD GEORGE IS TO MEET RUSSIAN MINISTER OF TRADE

London, May 29.—Premier Lloyd George will meet Gregory Krassin, Russian Bolsheviki Minister of Trade and Commerce, this week, says The Times, which also mentions a rumor "circulated through channels notoriously in touch with the Premier's entourage," that both the subject of negotiations and the persons engaged in them "would be more widely extended than at present acknowledged." It is said that Earl Curzon of Kedleston, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, will, in addition to Lloyd George, confer with M. Krassin.

M. Krassin will propose, among other things, says the newspaper, to put ingots of Russian gold, stamped with the seal of the old Russian Government on the English market, and it is believed the main object of his visit here is to obtain a general license to send such gold to England and sell it here. The Times adds:

"By receiving Russian gold, stolen by the Soviet, we would be virtually recognizing the Soviet Government. It is impossible to dissociate the two ideas of trade relations and official recognition. It is absurd to imagine that two countries can trade with each other and not have diplomatic relations."

Hostile to Premier.

The newspaper which is equally hostile against the Premier and the Bolsheviki, denounces the "pitiful and dishonest pretence that negogiations are not between the Soviet and the British Government," and ironically congratulates Nikolas Lenine and Lloyd George upon the "success with which they have at least carried their point."

M. Krassin is tall and distinguished looking with grey beard. He was greeted by a large number of Russians as, accompanied by his wife, he stepped off the train. He cheerfully obliged a score of photographers and then drove away in an automobile amidst loud cheering and proceeded to the hotel where M. Nogin, M. Rosofsky and M. Klishke, members of the Russian Trade Commission, have been quartered for the past two weeks.

In his instructions to the jury, Judge Mantan mentioned the failure of the corporation to produce their books during the trial, and said that under the circumstances the jury would have to find the company guilty.

GOOD ADVERTISING FOR SUMMER FAIR ON NEW HANGER

A striking hanger for the Provincial Fair to be held here July 19th to 24th, has just made its appearance. The hanger is one of the best yet put out by the Exhibition officials and is got up in such a way as to attract the attention of all passers-by. An Indian smoking a pipe is seen looking down on the Grand Stand and track of the Exhibition grounds, while the Exhibition entrance with people thronging into the Fair, is also shown. An arrow across the foot of the picture calls attention to the dates of the Exhibition. The coloring scheme adds to the attractiveness of the hanger.

Over 5,000 of these hangers are being sent out over the West, 3,250 of them having already been sent out singly to different towns and villages in Western Canada. The remainder of the 5,000 will be sent out in bundles of tens, twenties and fifties, to the large cities, to be hung in conspicuous places.

D'ANNUNZIO'S MEN CONTINUE ADVANCE BEYOND FIUME

Police of Rome Arrest Fiumans and Dalmations to Prevent Disorders

Paris, May 31.—The troops of Gabriel D'Annunzio, which were reported as having occupied the village of Cavalaja and threatening to seize Sussak in the Fiume region, are continuing to advance from Fiume, according to information received by the foreign office from Belgrade. The dispatch says the Jugo-Slavs are preparing military measures to resist D'Annunzio.

The Italian embassy and Italian peace delegation had no confirmation of the Belgrade reports of D'Annunzio's continued advance. The impression in Italian circles from the information, however, was that the movement had ended and that D'Annunzio's troops were back in Fiume.

Fiumans Arrested

NEW LIBRARY BILL PASSED BY ONTARIO IS VERY ADVANCED

Toronto, May 31.—The Ontario Legislature has passed a bill providing for the maintenance of public libraries, which is declared by Dr. A. E. Hardy, Secretary of the Ontario Library Association to be in many respects the most "advanced library law in the world." The bill provides that the public library of the community shall be supported at the rate of 50 cents per head of population. In other words, in a city of 100,000 people the City Council will provide $50,000 to support adequately the institution known as the public library. In its financial provision, Mr. Hardy says the act is ahead of "anything on the continent."

PRICE MAY INCLUDE TAX ON LUXURIES

Ottawa, May 28.—That typewriter ribbons were subject to the new tax on ribbons was one of the points brought out in a citizens' meeting here, at which R. W. Breadner, Commissioner of Taxation, interpreted the new tax proposals of the budget. Mr. Breadner promised to consider exceptions which would remove such articles from the anomalous position of luxuries, which they might be technically interpreted to be.

The one per cent. sales tax to be charged by the wholesalers was much discussed. Some of the rulings on this head were: (1) Tax was applicable on cash discounts. (2) Tax does not apply on articles sold for export. (3) Specified luxuries sold by wholesale houses to contractors subject to one per cent. sales tax as well as luxury tax. (4) Goods delivered on May 19 or after subject to tax irrespective of when contract was made. Some technicalities on which Mr. Breadner promised consideration were:

Some Technicalities

(1) That a contractor who builds a house, or a merchant tailor who builds a suit are technically manufacturers.

(2) That small cash sales in wholesale houses may be reported in some way other than by copies of invoices, which might be difficult to produce.

As regarding the taxing of luxuries on the sale direct to the consumer, many questions asked brought the ruling that goods may be reduced in price to exempt them from tax. "One of the objects is to reduce the cost of living," said Mr. Breadner. Another ruling was that the vendor was responsible for the payment of the tax to the government. It was permissable to include the tax in the sale price if retailers believed that prejudice against the tax would destroy the sale. One dealer present stated that customers already had shown a willingness to pay an inclusive price, while they objected to paying the retail price plus the tax.

When a suggestion was made that the situation bristled with difficulties, Mr. Breadner cheerfully agreed. "This is unique legislation and there is no doubt that an act of this kind will present many difficulties," he said.

He assured the audience that he had learned many things from discussion and all feasible suggestions would be admitted for the approval of parliament. He promised that printed regulations for the application of new taxes would be distributed as soon as these had been whipped into shape.

Calgary May 29.—(By Mail)—Following the announcement of the scrutineers regarding the forty Councillors elected, Mrs. John Bruce, President of the Order resigned her office, and also asked to be released from the duties of a Councillor for which she was elected. Her reason for resigning was that members who threatened to disrupt the Order were also members of the Council and she could not work with them.

Personalities Prominent

Calgary, May 27.—(By Mail)—Personal feelings again almost caused strife at the Thursday session of the Imperial Order Daughters of Empire in Calgary. The discussion of the amendment on proxy voting was the cause of what might be termed the controversy. Mrs. Colin Campbell of Winnipeg, who carries forty-three votes, the largest member of any delegate, declared the amendment was incorrectly worded and so out of order especially as there is no "proxy" voting but "delegated" voting in the Order. The chair also emphatically declared that there was no personal proxy voting.

"No member may be an active member of more than one Primary Chapter." Mrs. Campbell again spoke to this amendment while Mrs. Wilson-Smith of Winnipeg was against it. The amendment was lost.

Although a constitution is provided for the use of the various Chapters, Mrs. McDougall of Montreal in speaking against the balloting of new members which was discussed among the amendments to the constitution almost created a riot when she stated that the thirty-six Chapters in Montreal took members into the Order without the formality of balloting. Many people in the room were amazed at this unconstitutional procedure and were pleased when Mrs. Bruce the National Regent, ruled that the members must abide by the Constitution.

Mrs. Gooderham withdrew her resignation and will continue to serve the Order as a member of the War Memorial Committee.

Splendid reports were read by Mrs. George H. Smith, National Educational Secretary, Mrs. W. D. Spence, I.O.D.E. delegate to the Canadian Council of Immigration to Women and another important discussion followed the presentation of the War Memorial Report, which is one of the most vital things the Order has ever undertaken.

Mrs. George H. Smith who has been National Educational Secretary of the Order for several years tendered her resignation at this session. When her resignation would have been discussed, Mrs. Smith asked that the discussion be closed.

All Round Education

"If education is to be a success the development of our boys and girls, mentally, morally and spiritually must be such that will enable them to fit into the many complexities of citizenship." Thus said Dr. J. T. Anderson members of the Order on "Education, its Relation to Citizenship."

Continuing he stated that "men and women of the loftiest ideals must be attracted to the teaching profession. He advocated a Municipal Board to transact business and stated that Manitoba had started along this line and it is working very well. Every trustee should be able to read, write and speak the English language. . . . There should be more consolidated schools. In Manitoba there are 100 such schools while Saskatchewan has forty. There is a man specially assigned to preach gospel of consolidation in Saskatchewan.

Salaries for teachers should be improved. The salary for the teacher of the non-English school should be $1,500 a year with free house and fuel. There should also be more yearly schools in rural districts, and more schools in session during the Winter.

More Night Schools

Another improvement advocated by Dr. Anderson was the opening of more night schools in either non-English or English districts. There must be more night schools for those over school age. There must also be more organization in the rural districts of societies for social work among these people, so that they may learn more of Canadian citizenship.

Dr. Anderson paid a special tribute to Ministers of Education in three Western provinces who are leading in improvements in connection with educational work. The other two defendants are N. D. Christie of Calgary, an inspector under the animals health act and J. C. Hargrave, chief inspector under the act for the province of Alberta. ANOTHER VIEW OF POOR WHITE TRASH

Descendants of English Settlers in Alleghanies, Unlettered But Cultured and Dirty

One of England's foremost authorities on folk lore, Mr. Cecil Sharp, recently gave an interesting account of the natives of the Appalachian Mountains. Mrs. Leonie Margoliouth who resides about four and a half miles Southeast of the city, often witnessed exhibitions of Morris dancing given by the pupils of Mr. Sharp at Stratford-on-Avon. Mrs. Margoliouth studied with Sir Frank Benson for some time and took part in the Shakespeare festivals.

The account given by Mr. Sharp to a representative of the "Sunday Times", London, is reproduced herewith.

Mr. Cecil Sharp, the famous collector of folk lore, songs, and ballads, has been lecturing recently on his astonishing seasons in the Appalachian Mountains. He visited the colony of descendants of English settlers from the Lowlands of England and Scotland, who, with a small group of Irish, went over to America about two hundred and fifty years ago, and became lost to civilization in the heart of the Alleghanies, where they live to this day, cultured but unlettered, affording an extraordinary interesting survival of the manners and customs and, above all, the simple music of our own country in past centuries.

"Poor white trash," is an American description of them, Mr. Sharp told a Sunday Times representative at the conclusion of his lecture at the University of London Club on Friday evening. "Yet there are about three millions of them scattered over the ranges where they have settled in the Appalachians, in the heart of the United States of America, stretching over an area of 650 miles.

"It is the last place one ould expect to find a primitive people. How they got there is a puzzle, there must have been an efflux from the North of Scotland, English Lowlands, and perhaps Belfast, between 250 and 300 years ago. They probably landed in the Southern States, and, finding there a slave-working population and no opening for them, they tried to get out, and to cut their way through the virgin forest. The ranges proved too steep for them, and the wild beasts and snakes also proved troublesome, and so, having passed through one or two ranges, they then stopped and settled and became lost to civilization and far from transport of any kind.

Language and Customs

"Today they speak Elizabethian English, and I have never heard the language used more beautifully. The reason of the Elizabethian words is because the Lowlands were always in language about a century behind the Highlands. The vegetation is magnificent, and the people have a wonderful knowledge of nature lone: curiously enough, they call rhododendron, which grows to great heights there 'laurel,' the laurel they call 'ivy,' and ivy 'grapevine.'"

"They live on what they make themselves; their clothing is nearly all hand-woven, save for some ready-made stuffs brought by hawkers who have managed to penetrate to them. They have discovered how little they can live upon, and in many parts of the range money is unknown. They value their leisure very highly and try to get the most out of it.

"They received us like old friends, showing great courtesy but no curiosity to know where we had come from or why we had come. They are great talkers and very Calvinistic. They know the Bible by heart and are born dialecticians."

Referring to their personal cleanliness, Mr. Sharp had to confess they were very dirty, and washing was, as in our ancestors' time, left alone; their houses had no windows, only a door, and were built of logs and mud. Their food was of the simplest, and consisted of sweet potatoes, maize (the staple food), tomatoes and beans.

Their hospitality was as great as their courtesy, and as there were no inns or hotels, they expected Mr. Sharp and his companion to stop in their houses, the expression always being: "Surely you will tarry for the night."

Selina Coffey's Welcome

"Once," said Mr. Sharp, "we were staying at the house of a woman named Selina Coffey, and their neighbors, a delightful old Irishman, Phil Fitzgerald, and his wife were most anxious that we would fall out with Selina and come and stay with them. Mrs. Fitzgerald used to ask anxiously every day, 'Is Selina still familiar?'"

Old Fitzgerald said to him before he left, 'We like you 'uns, you're so nice and common." "This," said Mr. Sharp, "was the nicest compliment I have ever been paid all my life. I have been preaching the value of the common-place and sincerety."

Their abundant leisure was spent in talking, singing and dancing. Everybody from the children to the old people sang, and their music was glorious, old Engwlish ballads of many verses and songs, some old songs made by themselves to old airs.

Once when Mr. Sharp was taking down some songs from Singing Billy, a famous local songster, a little boy pushed his way in. "I always follow where there is sweet music," he said, and then in his turn he sang the lovely old English ballad, "The Little Musgrave and the Lady Barnard," in a full version. And these people were quite illiterate, though astonishingly cultured.

During his stay Mr. Sharp collected 17,000 songs and ballads, and copies of these were subsequently made at Harvard University to be kept as records.

Early Marriages

These Appalachians lived in patriarchal style, the men sitting down to meals first and the women after. They then went out on the 'porch," as they called the verandah, to "chew," and in some cases the tobacco was ground up fine and put near the gum on a stick.

They married quite young, about twelve or thirteen years of age, but the first marriage was rarely a success, and remarriages took place, but they were not promiscuous.

When the cost of printing music goes down Mr. Sharp hopes to publish his Appalachian music, some of which was recently sung by Miss Dorothea Webb, and proved of great dramatic value and strange beauty. A ballad "The Cruel Mother," sung without accompaniment, and a comic song, "The Old Man," would create a furore on any concert platform.

Dan Cupid was right on the job and doubled up on his work for May, 1919, by tieing fourteen matrimonial knots as compared to seven last year. Sixteen people died during the month just past, which is three less than the number in May, 1919.

TRIPLE POINTS, THE BEST OFFER OF THE WHOLE COMPETITION

One Week's Work, Via This Weeks Points Schedule, is Sufficient to Place a Low Competitor Up With the Leaders

The work done by the competitors this week may change the aspect of the whole prize Campaign. $3,000.00 worth of valuable prizes are hanging in the balance awaiting owners and they will be won on points. This week's points schedule has been tripled and three times the regular number of points are given for all subscriptions and "second payments" secured. Such a quantity of points may be secured in this way, that it may be readily seen that the work done on this offer might easily alter the relative standings of the competitors to a big extent.

About Over-confidence.

No matter how many points you may have, secure more. Over-confidence has lost many a race. You may be holding what you consider a sufficiently large number of points to win, but so may the "other fellow." You have no way of telling what he has done or what he is going to do. The only wise plan is to secure YOUR share of the triple points, and to pile up a reserve which cannot be overcome.

Time to Get Busy

Competitors, low in the list, or prospective competitors who have not entered the race as yet, would do well to get busy on this splendid offer. The triple point offer will give those low in the list, as well as new competitors, an opportunity of making up for lost time, and will give those who have already got started, an opportunity to lay up a reserve force for the finish.

Second Payments

Remember—points for second payments are also tripled. This, coupled with the fact that these subscriptions are figured on the schedule in force when the first subscription was taken, makes it a wise plan to follow up these second payments this week. Call on all those who have already given you a subscription and endeavor to secure another one. This is what "second payment" means, and the liberal points involved, makes them well worth going after.

SUMMER SCHOOL AT ST. MATTHEWS

Dr. Westgate, Winnipeg, Field Secretary of the M.S.C.C. for Canada West, were the leaders of this conference continued for the rest of the morning. Lunch was served at noon in the crypt by the ladies of St. George's Church and this evening the ladies of St. Mary's Church will serve supper. At the conclusion of the discussion those present left on a motor trip to "Brandon House" an old Hudson's Bay post situated on the Assiniboine river, Southeast of the city, the site of one of the first churches West of the Red river.

Tonight commencing at eight o'clock an illustrated address will be given in the crypt of the church by Rev. Dr. Westgate. Rev. R. S. Masin will also give an address this evening. All those interested are invited to be present.

BRANDON LOSES GOOD FRIEND IN HON VAL WINKLER

Minister of Agriculture Collapsed Monday Night While Visiting Farm

DIED IN HOSPITAL

Late Mr. Winkler Had Not Been Well for Over a Year

Many men in Brandon and farmers in the surrounding district will regret to learn of the death of the Hon. Valentine Winkler, Minister of Agriculture, since the formation of the Norris Government, who passed away in the Morden General Hospital, Monday night, after a short illness. His death was most unexpected as he had gone to Morden to spend the week end with his son on the farm in that district and while he had not been in robust health for over a year, during the past two months seemed to have regained much of his old vigor. He became suddenly ill with erysipelas and later collapsed, passing away almost instantly. He is survived by his widow, three daughters and a son.

Honorary President of both the Provincial Exhibition, and the Manitoba Winter Fair, the late Mr. Winkler was a frequent visitor to Brandon and was always keenly interested in the success of both fairs and the splendid exhibition of stock shown each year. His death is regretted by members of the Board of Directors of both exhibitions.

Brandon Loses Valued Friend

In the death of Hon. Val. Winkler, Brandon has lost the best friend that she had in the Government, declared W. I. Smale, manager of the Winter and Summer Fairs. There had been misrepresentation of Mr. Winkler, but he was the best Minister of Agriculture the Province of Manitoba ever had, continued Mr. Smale, who said that the fair boards never approached Mr. Winkler for anything that was not granted. As a man as well as a minister of the Crown he was a splendid citizen and one that Manitoba could ill afford to lose.

PAPERS OPPOSE BACKUS' REQUEST FOR CONCESSIONS

"In view of the attitude of the Backus interests toward the domestic newsprint requirements, the public interest demands that the recent application of these interests to the Ontario Government for additional pulpwood and water concessions should not be granted, and that all pulpwood concessions previously granted to those interests in respect of which they may be in default should be cancelled forthwith."

This resolution was unanimously endorsed by the Ontario Daily Newspaper Publishers present at an emergency meeting of the Canadian Daily Newspapers' Association, held at Ottawa. The resolution had been originally adopted by a smaller meeting of the Ontario publishers held last week with respect to the reported application of the Backus interests, controlling Fort Frances Pulp & Paper Co., Ltd., for further pulpwood and water power concessions from the Ontario Government.

The publishers claim that the Backus interests, through the Keewatin Lumber Co., Ltd., secured the Lake of the Woods pulp limit, consisting of 1,860 square miles, on condition that they would erect a pulp mill within three years, spending $100,000 in the first year, $200,000 in the second year, and $200,000 in the third year. Although this agreement was dated August 19, 1914, and the pulp mill should therefore have been completed by August 19, 1917, the publishers claim the erection of the mill has not yet been commenced.

The Backus interests now claim that they have been held up by delays of the International Waterways Commission in reaching a decision following certain investigations. The publishers state that decision was reached over two years ago, and that the Ontario Government in the Fall of 1918 began to press for the fulfilment of the agreement. That pressure has not yet resulted in the Backus interests commencing the building operations required by the agreement, and the publishers ask that under these circumstances, and in view of the attitude of the Backus interests toward domestic newsprint requirements, the pulpwood concessions rovered by the broken agreement be cancelled forthwith.

MANY BOLSHEVIKI AGITATORS BUSY IN TREBIZOND

Armenia May be Swallowed up in Bolsheviki Movement

Constantinpole, June 4—Many Bolsheviki agitators are in Trebizond, an important port on the Southern coast of the Black Sea, but the situation there is quiet, according to the messages received here

President Wilson's recommendation that the United States accept the Armenian mandate caused much surprise upon publication here, among Americans, especially relief workers who recently left Armenia. British and United States officials as well as men and women engaged in relief operations seem to believe Armenia may be swallowed up in the Bolsheviki movement which has virtually engulfed the Caucasus region.

They say it is only a question of weeks until Armenia and Georgia will be avowedly Bolsheviki. It is asserted that troops in the Caucasus district are regarded by foreigners familiar with the situation as being engineered from Moscow to gain more time and pave the way for easier access to Persia. It is the apparent determination of the Bolsheviki to invade Persia and extend their activities into Afghanistan, and this feature of the situation is causing much comment in official circles here.

COMMISSION TO VISIT BRANDON FRI AFTERNOON

To Consider Grounding of Secondary Wires by Electric Light Co.

INFORMAL DISCUSSION

Of Other Questions Likely at a Conference That is Being Arranged

The Public Utilities Commission, headed by the Commissioner, Judge Macdonald, will hold a public sitting here on Friday afternoon in the City Hall at 2.30 o'clock. As yet there is only one question to come before the Commission on Friday afternoon, that being the grounding of the secondary wires of the Canada Gas and Electric Company. It was stated Tuesday that this is the only public question to be formally discussed but that all ratepayers interested in the matter are invited to be present.

An application was made some time ago by the City of Brandon to the Public Utilities Commission to have all secondary wires of the Canada Gas and Electric Company, grounded. The recommendation was first made by Superintendent Boden, who stated that the wires were dangerous to public safety unless they were grounded. Acting on his recommendation the city made the necessary application, with the result that the Commission will arive in the city on Friday to determine the merits of the application.

While here the Commission will probably take up many questions at an informal conference to be held between the Commission, the manager of the Canada Gas and Electric Company, J. M. Scott the engineer engaged by the city to make a survey of the Waterworks system, and members of the City Council. A power rate for the city, should it be decided to electrify the operation of the Waterworks plant, will be one of the questions to be brought up, as will the question of a further increase in the water rates be considered. The city did get power to give the water rates a 20 per cent. increase some time ago, but in view of the fact that the waterworks plant is losing money, a further increase in the rates may be necessary. The extension of water mains in certain sections of the city may also be taken up, and there promises to be a good deal of work for the Commission during its short stay in the city on Friday.

HOWARD SPEAKS ON OWNERSHIP BY THE GOVERNMENT

Declares People Want It When It Is Demonstrated as Most Satisfactory

Vancouver, June 8.—In the annual address of President S. T. Howard, of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, he had the following to say on Government ownership:

"Since our last annual meeting the Dominion Government has added to its railway systems, by the purchase of the Grand Trunk Pacific. The people of Canada will not be so much concerned with alleged principles underlying ownership of railways as they will be with results. They want service at the lowest cost consistent with quality of service. The standard of railway service furnished by the Canadian Pacific Railway in the past and at present to the people of Canada is a tribute to the efficiency of private management and should be maintained. The success of the Government's experiments cannot be estimated at the present time and it will succeed or fail according to the quality and cost of the service supplied and to extent to which Government management is divorced from political interference from the last report of the Minister of Marine it would appear that the new Canadian Merchant Marine has made a good beginning and has proved a great assistance to Canadian trade. We are al vitally concerned in the transportation problem. Transportation should be cheap as well as efficient because transportation charges form a very considerable part of the cost of our [illegible]. During the past there has been some extension of the principle which is commonly known as public ownership. Again here we should not yield to the temptation to argue over abstract principles. The application of the principle of public ownership is after all entirely a matter of degree. There must always be public ownership in the sense that the Government must control certain services and this has been admitted for centuries. No one, for example, would advocate placing the army or navy under private ownership and management. The post office should be under Government management. As in similar cases, the real question is, where shall the line be drawn. Some people advocate that all transportation systems should be owned and operated by the Government. A great many people argue that water power should be owned and controlled by the Government. A few people even advocate that all factories should be owned and operated by the Government. Other progressives contend that all land including farms should become Government property, should be divided into areas, and that over each area a Government inspector should have full control and that all farmers should become Government employes on salary. Similar proposals are advocated in regard to publishing, banking, insurance and wholesale and retail trade. If Government ownership and control is carried to the extreme lengths, which are advocated by some people, it logically means that private property will disappear and to some extent that personal freedom will disappear and that the entire population will become civil servants on the national payroll to be promoted, transferred, pensioned or dismissed, according to the pleasure of the Government in power.

"One naturally wonders in contemplating this tremendous scheme who would make the appointments, who would decide the type of work that would be done by each individual, who would fix his pay and decide his hours of labor, and what would be the incentive of the individual to put forth his best efforts. I believe that moderate thinking men do not condemn or approve public ownership or private ownership as such. On the other hand they are inclined to say, 'Let us have public ownership where it can be demonstrated that it is more satisfactory to all classes than private ownership.'

"It has been the practice of British people to go very slowly from precedent to precedent and only to accept what apears to have a reasonable chance of succeeding and in regard to this question of public ownership, we should do well to be guided by this practice."

BOARD PREPARES NEW SCHEDULE OF TEACHERS' SALARIES

Minimum Salary Said to be $1,100 —Increases for the Principals

BUILDING PROGRAM

Said to Have Been Curtailed in Order to Provide Salary Increases

A new salary schedule for the teachers in the Public Schools and Collegiate Institute has been prepared by the School Board and will probably be submitted to the School Teachers' Association on Monday evening. The School Board held another lengthy session Monday evening and went into details of the new schedule. The budget for this year will probably run close to $200,000 it is stated and that the increases given the teachers will not permit of the carrying out of the building program of the School Board with regard to new schools.

Nothing of a definite nature has been given out by the School Board with regard to the new schedule, but it is stated this morning that the minimum salary for Brandon teachers, will, under the new schedule, be fixed at $1,100 per year. A $200 increase to all teachers was aimed at by the Board in drawing up their schedule, and in nearly every case this principle was followed, it is stated. The principal of the Collegiate will receive $2,900, the principal of the Central School, $2,200, the principals of the Alexandra and Park School $2,000, while all teachers are given a boost in the same proportion. The assistants in the Collegiate will receive salaries ranging from $1,600 to $2,200, if the tentative schedule drawn up by the School Board is adopted by the teachers.

The schedule now prepared will in all probability be submitted to the Brandon School Teachers' Association for approval next Monday. If satisfactory the schedule will go into effect at the commencement of the new term. The School Board has spent many sessions over the schedule and Monday night's meeting was one of the longest yet held, in order that the new scale of salaries could be definitely determined.

NEW MINISTER AT WELLWOOD

Rev. Mr. Kellie Returs to Charge He Relinquished Owing to Ill-health

Monday night a service was held in Wellwood Presbyterian Church when Rev. Mr. Kellie, who recently accepted the charge of Wellwood and Oberan, was formally inducted. Mr. Kellie was at one time in charge of this field of work, but was forced to relinquish his duties owing to ill-health. Rev. Mr. Leith of Humesville presided at this service, Rev. Mr. Nichol of Carberry conducted the worship and gave a very helpful sermon, Rev. Mr. Allen of Douglas addressed the minister and Rev. J. George Miller of Brandon gave the address to the people. The service was very largely attended and after it was over the people adjourned to the Orange Hall, where refreshments were served.

In his address to the minister, Rev. Mr. Allen emphasized the responsibilities of the work of the minister as a spiritual leader in the community. He said that the view of so many church members that they can do some things in regard to pleasures, etc., that a minister cannot do, is hardly justified. A minister should, however, be careful not to preach what he cannot practise. He has a very great opportunity to raise the standard of life in the community by his example and the teaching of truth.

"There are three great institutions upon which the national life is being built," said Rev. J. George Miller of this city in his address to the people. Rev. Mr. Miller stated that the home must be essentially Christian, the school made one of the greatest factors for the teaching of right and the church an institution for the cultivation of the worship of God and service to humanity."

GOMPERS URGES BATTLE TO RETAIN RIGHT TO STRIKE

In Addressing Annual Convention of American Federation of Labor in Montreal

"I have no fear as to what the results will be," he added, "as long as I have life and my mind is not impaired I shall stand for the right of men and women toilers of the world to be free, and unowned by any force."

Senator Gideon Robertson, Minister of Labor of Canada, on behalf of Premier Borden, welcomed the delegates, declaring "that this convention would promote closer co-operation between labor in the United States and Canada." He appealed to Canadian labor men not to listen to agitation of promoters of the One Big Union ideas and "wilfully misrepresenting" the Federation.

FOXWARREN AND CONGOS PLAY TIE FOOTBALL GAME

Fast, Clean Exhibition of Soccer Results in Draw—Defence Play Features

NO OVERTIME PLAY

As Visitors Were Late in Arriving and Match Finished in Semi-darkness

The Congos and Foxwarren battled to a 1-1 draw Thursday night in one of the playdowns for the football championship of Manitoba. It was one of the best exhibitions of football played in Brandon, both sides putting up a clean game, and putting up a fast brand of soccer for the fairly large crowd of fans that turned out for the match. The score just about indicates the play, neither team having much superiority over the other. As the visitors did not arrive until late and the game did not get under way until 7.30, it was found impossible to play overtime in an effort to break the tie and decide the winner.

The Foxwarren team won the toss and elected to play with their backs to the sun. Right from the kick-off both teams entered into the game at a fast pace, and following twenty minutes of end to end play the Congos scored the opening counter. The goal came as the result of a nice centre by Forbes to Gillows, who scored from a close in shot. The Foxwarren team continued to press and after some very good combined play equalized, Graham, the inside left doing the trick from a scrimage in front of the Congos goal. There was no further scoring in the first half and the teams crossed over with the score 1-1.

Good Play by All

The second half was marked by good play by both teams, the goalkeepers and backs being called upon on several occasions to save the position when things looked dangerous. Both elevens tried hard to get the winning goal, and several breakaways by the visitors looked like certain goals, but Henry, the Congos' goalie made some splendid saves. On one occasion he pulled off a great save by pushing the ball around the goal post at the expense of a corner. The Foxwarren full back, Hume, played a good steady game and time and time again spoiled the work of the Congos forward line when they had worked the ball up to within a few yards of the goal.

Graham, the inside left, and Denton, at centre, played well for the Foxwarren team and placed some very accurate shots at the goal. For the Congos Johnson and Condick were very much in the limelight and were responsible in a large degree for keeping the score down to a draw. Both the half-backs and forwards played a fine passing game, but the visitors being equally as good, the Congos were not able to put the finishing touches to their good work. Full time found the teams still tied with one goal each, and it was decided not to continue play on account of the bad light. Later on in the evening it was arranged that the playoff will take place in Foxwarren on Saturday evening of this week.

Thursday night's game was a good one to watch, and played in a sportsmanlike manner. Penalties were few and far between and only of a minor nature. C. Shelton handling the game in an efficient manner. Following the match the visitors were tendered a banquet at Aagaard's, where a most enjoyable evening was spent.

The Teams

The teams lined-up as follows:

Foxwarren—Laycock, Rowan, Hume, Hudson, Woton, G. Leckie, J. Leckie, Matthews, Denton, Symonds and Graham.

Congos—Henry, Johnson, Condick, Brown, Woods, Jeffrey, Carter, Riley, Forbes, Gillows and Benn.

GRASSHOPPERS ARE A MENACE SAYS C. A. WEIR

Agricultural Representative Tells Farmers to Join in Preventative Measures

NO DANGER TO STOCK

If Poison is Properly Distributed it is Fatal to Hoppers, Won't Hurt Stock

There is a very serious outbreak of the grasshopper plague in the Brandon district, according to C. A. Weir, Agricultural Representative in this district. The hoppers have been making their appearance in all the surrounding municipalities, and in such numbers as to be regarded as a real menace to the crops this year. The fields are becoming covered with the grasshoppers in many places, but active steps are being taken to combat the spread of the hopper plague in all districts.

The various municipalities are joining in the fight, and Mr. John Crawford has been appointed in Elton Municipality to conduct the campaign against the hoppers in that district. He has established a mixing station at Douglas and one at Brandon for preparing the poison for the pest, and anyone in the locality desiring the poison has only to phone Mr. Crawford and the poison will be mixed up for them. Mr. Weir stated this morning that he could not impress too strongly the advice that every opportunity be taken now to put out the poison for the hoppers. The poison is working with great success, and if used properly and at the present time, will defeat the incoming of the hoppers.

The grasshoppers have been particularly noticed near Brandon just North of the Indian Industrial School, near Justice, at Little Souris to the South and at McKelvie. These districts appear to be the worst at present and efforts to poison the young hoppers are being taken at once. The coming of the hot weather will bring out what hopper eggs have not been hatched as yet, and the farmers are being urged to use their best efforts to combat a plague that may do serious damage to the crops of this year if it is permitted to go unchecked.

Full Instructions

Regarding the spreading of the poison, Mr. Weir stated that it would not be a danger to stock if properly spread. The secret in spreading it is to get it within as possible so that there is even no danger of a hen picking up sufficient poison to kill her. When the parties desiring the poison call for it, full instruction will be given by either Mr. Weir or Mr. Crawford as to how it should be spread on the land, so as not to be dangerous to live stock.

CANADIAN CONTINGENT OF BOY SCOUTS NOT TO GO TO JAMBOREE IN ENGLAND

Ottawa, June 7.—The annual meeting of the Canadian General council of Boy Scouts decided not to send a contingent to the jamboree to be held in England July 27th to August 8th.

The finding of the council was unanimously agreed on account of the need for economy in these strenuous days of high prices, the expense involved, the time required and other difficulties. It would not be good scouting business to send a Canadian contingent this year. The conference of provincial commissioners had unanimously supported this view and consequently no special contributions of money will be sought for this purpose.

PLAN TO REBUILD HUGUENOT CHURCH

Protestants in Canada May Be Asked to Spend $150,000 at Lens

Montreal, June 4.—At a meeting of members of all the Protestant denominations of this city, to decide if Canada will join Great Britain, the United States, Holland and Switzerland in rebuilding ruined Protestant churches in the war zone, and also to rebuild the English Church at Lens, it was sought to reach an agreement by which a campaign for $150,000 will be launched. The plan is to choose a Sunday, perhaps November 14, as being nearest to Armistice Day, on which collections in all churches throughout Canada will be devoted to the purpose of erecting a Protestant Church at Lens where the Canadians will rebuild the old Huguenot Church if they decide to do so.

The cost of the building was stated at the meeting to be about $150,000, and the church would be, said Professor Charles Bieler, a gift of the Protestants of Canada to the Protestants of France, and also a Canadian memorial church adorned with tablets bearing the names of the fallen at Vimy Ridge.

DEMAND RANSOM FOR THEATRICAL MAGNATE

Montreal, June 3.—A news dispatch from Toronto states that Mrs. Small has received letters demanding a ransom from a lawyer in New York. The detective department here discovered that John Doughty, the secretary of Ambrose Small, the Toronto theatrical magnate, and who had been reported missing soon after his employer disappeared mysteriously on December 2 last, was in Montreal for a month after that date. He lodged at a St. Catherine street boarding house and his grip and trunk have been found there.

DR. H. E. HICKS TO OPPOSE PREMIER

Accepts Conservative Nomination for Lansdowne at Convention at Rivers

Dr. H. E. Hicks was nominated as the Conservative candidate for the constituency of Lansdowne at a very enthusiastic meeting of the Conservatives held in Rivers on Thursday evening. Dr. Hicks will therefore oppose Premier Norris. Four names were brought forward by the convention, D. W. Beaubier of Oak Lake W. J. Cundy of Elton, J. W. Seater of Lalhair and Dr. Hicks of Griswold. The first three withdrew from the nomination list, and Dr. Hicks was declared the nominee.

In a short speech, Dr. Hicks accepted the nomination, but emphasized the fact that he reserved to himself the right to act independently of any affiliations supporting only those measures that appealed to him as being in the best interests of the Province. R. G. Willis, leader of the Opposition in the Province was also present at the meeting and gave a strong address.

CANADA TO HAVE NATIONAL HIGHWAY IN NEAR FUTURE

Winnipeg, June 4.—Early construction of Canada's national highway, endorsement of federal aid for the construction of good roads throughout the Dominion, and a suggestion that federal aid be granted without the necessity of submitting plans and advertising contracts, formed the context of the resolutions which were endorsed at the final session of the Good Roads convention in Winnipeg Thursday afternoon.

In addition to papers by H. S. Carpenter, Deputy Minister of Highways for Saskatchewan, on "Road Dragging and Maintenance Competition"; W. H. Connell, consulting engineer, Philadelphia, on "Asphaltic Concrete Pavements"; and M. A. Lyons, chief engineer, Good Roads, Board, Province of Manitoba, on "Highway Bridges and Culverts"; several committees met Thursday morning to consider and report on various matters relating to the Good Roads problem.

JIMMY WILDE MAKES A SMALL FORTUNE STAGING BOUTS IN UNITED STATES

New York, June 3.—Jimmy Wilde, world's flyweight champion, with about $60,000 to show for his visit to the United States has sailed for his home in England. He has been matched for several fights in London by Promoter Cochrane, the most important of which is a 20 round bout with Pete Herman, the bantam champion.

SPEECH MAKERS LOUDLY CONDEMN ALL PROFITEERS

If Oratory Could Strip Profiteers They Would Speedily Be Naked

Washington, June 4.—(By Canadian Press)—The profiteer has come in for a good deal of attention from speechmakers here during the past few days. Hardly a day passes but at least one Senator or Congressman cuts loose with a fierce volley of heavy oratory aimed at the men who have boosted the cost of living in the United States. If talk can eliminate profiteering on this side of the line, Washington observers profess to see a speedy slump in prices throughout the country. Here are a few of the hot shots from recent verbal broadsides:

"Jail is too good for the profiteer who is robbing his fellow men, but even jail sentences are novelties."

"Greed is the curse of the American people. Everyone seems to be trying to get while the getting is good."

"If there is not a hell, there ought to be one for the coal profiteers."

"Today the profiteer is the real menace of the nation, the greatest national curse."

SAYS COMMITTEE SUPPORTS POLICIES ALREADY DECIDED

W. H. Willing, Sec.-Treas., of Imperial Veterans Leaves Ottawa in Disgust

TO FORCE ACTION

Attitude of Pensions Re-establishment Committee Subject for Bitter Complaint

Ottawa, June 4.—W. H. Willing, Dominion Secretary-Treasurer of the Imperial Veterans in Canada, leaves this morning for the West after giving evidence before the Pensions Re-establishment Committee. "I am going home disgusted with the Government. I came down here," he said, "in the spirit and belief that the Government was willing to do what the returned men wanted them to do. I am leaving with the idea that the committee in question, is appointed merely to deal with quibbles and to support those policies which the Government already has decided upon."

"Returned men are now determined to force the Government to go to the country. Our association does not believe as a rule, in taking political action, but there are times when such is demanded by the circumstances and this time is one."

PRESBYTERIANS TO CONTINUE TO APPOINT ELDERS FOR LIFE TIME

Ottawa, June 4.—Decision to adhere to the present policy of appointing elders of the church for life, and lengthy consideration of the report of the committee on co-ordination were the chief events at this mornings session of the 46th annual General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church. The proposals by the committee on co-ordination when adopted, will have a far-reaching effect on the present church administration. It is proposed to do away with the present Board of Finance and to establish instead a General Board of 48 members drawn from existing boards, with a Chairman, a Chief Executive officer and a Treasurer.

SINN FEINERS GAIN CONTROL OF COUNTY TYRONE

As Result of Elections, and Also Maintain Hold on County Fermanagh

Belfast, June 4.—As the result of the county and district elections, the Sinn Fein National Alliance has secured control of County Tyrone for the first time, and also maintained its hold on County Fermanagh, by a majority of 559. These counties are included in the Ulster area, as outlined in the Irish bill now before parliament. Various election tricks were revived. One woman disguised herself and voted as her own mother, while another is said to have voted seven times. The feature of the elections generally in Northern Ireland was the ascendency gained by Sinn Feiners over Redmond's followers.

Police Barracks Attacked

Capaghwhite, Munster, Ireland, June 4.—A large number of men armed with bombs and rifles attacked the police barracks here this morning. The court house adjoining was set on fire, and a fierce battle ensued, the raiders finally withdrawing.

Bomb explosions were heard in Tipperary, a distance of seven miles. Several raiders were arrested.

DOMINION GRANTS SHOULD BE MATCHED BY PROVINCES

Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturists Make Some Suggestions

Ottawa, June 4.—Adverse criticism of many important reforms affecting Federal and Provincial Departments of Agriculture and agricultural colleges, were made at a conference of the Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturists. Among the proposals advanced were that the regulations in connection with giving grants by the Federal Department of Agriculture should be made more strict and that sums only be given to Provincial institutions by the Dominion, on condition that the Province gave an equally generous grant.

OHIO REFERENDUM UNCONSTITUTIONAL COURT DECIDES

Federal Income Tax on Salaries of President and Judges Must Be Refunded

Washington, June 3. — The Ohio referendum of last November, as the result of which the State attempted to withdraw its legislature's ratification of the prohibition, is unconstitutional, the Supreme Court decided.

The court held that the ratification of any constitutional amendment by a legislature is final.

It also granted an injunction restraining the State officials from submitting the woman suffrage amendment to a referendum next Fall.

Must Refund Taxes

The Federal income tax upon the salaries of the President and the judges, including the Justice of the Supreme Court, is unconstitutional, the Supreme Court decided in reversing decisions of a lower court.

The decision compels the Government to refund all such taxes paid.

Judge Walter Evans of Louisville brought the appeal to the Supreme Court on the ground the tax violated the constitutional provision that Federal judges and the President "shall receive for their services a compensation which shall not be diminished during their continuance in office." The tax, he argued, was a diminution of this compensation.

YOUNG WOMEN LEARN TO CUT COSTS

University of Texas Home Economics Department Has Right Idea

Austin, Texas, June 3.—Young women students in the home economics department at the University of Texas are learning how to cut the cost of feeding a family. At the beginning the prime thing is to get a meal, but toward the finish of the course the young woman has also to turn out the finished product cheap.

The University expects its young experts to cut about half off the cost of a lunch by switching deserts and leaving off biscuits. Here is a sample of its before and after college menus:

For 45 cents a plate for four persons: Salmon croquettes, mashed potatoes, iced tea, tomato salad, biscuit, strawberries and ice cream.

For 24 cents a plate for four persons (toward the end of the course): Creamed tuna fish on toast, French fried potatoes, apple and celery salad, hot tea, lemon pie.

SPECULATORS ARE CURSE OF LAND

Says Principal Reynolds Speaking at Ottawa Banquet—People Should Own It

Ottawa, June 3.—That the work of the Canadian Society of Technical Agriculture would open up vast avenues for the benefit of future generations was the assurance given to the society at its banquet here Wednesday evening by His Excellency the Duke of Devonshire. President J. B. Reynolds of Manitoba Agricultural College looked forward to the people owing the land leasing it to those who tilled it. Speculators were the curse of the land, he said.

QUEBEC RECOGNIZES MARRIAGE LAWS OF RELIGIOUS SECTS

Important decision in Case Brought by Jews Regarding Annulment of Marriage

Montreal, June 3. — The marriage laws of the Province of Quebec which have been tested several times with varying results during the past ten years, was the subject of an important judgment when Mr. Justice Bruneau ruled in an action in which two people of the Jewish faith were principals that the civil code of the province recognized all the impediments to marriage provided for, not only in the Catholic religion but all other accepted religions.

The principals in the action are Bessie Goldstein and Simon Kaplan, a priest of the tribe of Levi, who was married here some years ago. Kaplan has filed an action in the civil courts here asking the annulment of his marriage on the ground that the Jewish faith considers divorce of a woman as an impediment against her marriage with a priest. Kaplan claims that Bessie Goldstein was unknown to him, a divorcee at the time of his marriage to her. Bessie Goldstein filed an inscription in law to have this claim struck out from the plaintiff's pleadings and it was in the course of his decision on this inscription that Mr. Justice Bruneau delivered his dictum on the validity of religious impediments to marriage in civil law.

BOLSHEVIK FORCES MAKE ADVANCE ON BOTH ENDS OF THE POLISH FRONT

London, June 3.—Russian Bolshevik forces are advancing on each end of the Polish front, but are being held along the Beresina River.

GERMAN THEATRES FORCED TO CLOSE

Berlin, May 17.—(By Mail)—Taxation amounting to something like 55 per cent. of gross revenue and heavy running expenses are responsible for the recent closing down of 60 first-class theaters in Germany. Many theatrical and operatic companies are said to be in sore financial straits. Few can afford to pay for the higher priced seats at the present increased rates, and the moving picture houses, with their popular prices, are reaping the benefit.

The manager of the Reinhardt concern which controls the three most important Berlin theaters states that the latest "luxury" tax alone takes more than 20 per cent. of the box office receipts. Boxes and stalls are now rarely booked. The Kapp revolution week, he said, caused the concern a loss of 750,000 marks.

Director Barnowsky of the Lessing Theater, the home of the drama in Berlin, told a Tageblatt representative that the German stage is passing through a most critical period. Theatrical budgets, he said, can no longer be balanced. The greatest menace, he said, was "Americanism," by which he explained, he meant "Art for amusement's sake, not for art's sake."

A BETTER METHOD

In Washington dispatches to American newspapers dealing with the exportation of Canadian pulpwood from Crown lands an awkward word turns up. It is the word "must." Canada, some of these Washington writers say, "must" abandon embargoes on the export of pulpwood or the United States will cut off the supply of coal, sulphur and other materials which Canadians at present import from the republic. The Foreign Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives, which has taken up this matter of pulpwood, reviews some of the testimony submitted and declares that American paper mills will eventually be compelled to cease operations or move into Canada unless Canadian pulpwood can be obtained without restrictions. In endorsing the movement for the appointment of a commission to confer with the Dominion and Provincial Governments as provided in the Underwood resolution, reference is made to the uninterrupted friendly relations which have existed between Canada and the United States for more than a century, and to the fact that along the boundary which stretches for thousands of miles there is today no fortress or implement of war. The hope is expressed that an amicable adjustment of the matters in dispute may be reached through the proposed commission.

While some of the language is seemingly conciliatory, what has been called "the big stick" is very much in evidence, because the committee insists that there is no remedy but one, which is the surrender by the Canadian provinces of their right to control and conserve their supply of pulpwood. Just now American newspapers contain many pleasant references to Sir Auckland Geddes, the new British ambassador, who has just presented his credentials at the White House, and whose recent speech on Anglo-American relations is freely commended by American writers. Yet in the news columns of the same journals notice is served upon him and upon the Canadian Government that Canada's conservation policy with respect to pulpwood must be abandoned under threat of American reprisal. The tone adopted confronts the British ambassador with an unpleasant issue.

The American threats are too early in evidence. It would have been far better for all concerned had the Americans made representations at Ottawa in the usual way and refrained from making threats at least until they had all the facts in hand and had learned officially what is the attitude of the Canadian Government and the provinces concerned.

FRUIT CROP PROSPECTS

Prairie dwellers must be cheered by the optimistic statement by Grant Hall, Vice-President of the C.P.R., concerning crop conditions in Western Canada. His reference to the splendid conditions in the Okanagan Valley, imply that the fruit crop is also coming along well, reports from the fruit areas in Western Ontario also point to record crops. If record crops mean reasonably cheap fruit, then the Prairie dwellers will be thankful. So good is the outlook in old Ontario that already the people are beginning to wonder where they are going to get the sugar to preserve the fruit. This thought inspires a writer in an Eastern paper who thus summarizes the situation:

The prospects of a bumper fruit crop were never brighter than they are today. Fruit growers say there will be such a supply of small and tree fruits as the country has not before seen. So bountiful is the outlook, the question is being asked: Where will the sugar be found with which to preserve the fruit? Yet even the sugar supply may not prove so serious for dealers state that more than one-half the homes in the country are already supplied with enough sugar to last them a year. Retailers affirm that whereas they used to sell sugar by the few pounds they have for months past been selling it by the bag. A prominent wholesale merchant is authority for the statement that "the farmers have an abundance of sugar." However this may be, it is encouraging to look upon the orchards and fruit farms these Spring days. The strawberry beds are now in bloom, and are white with the blossoms. Cherries promise to outdo themselves. Plums are making a magnificent show. Pears are keeping pace. The early apple trees are giving every promise, and later fruit looks exceedingly well. Thus if there is little sugar for preserving there will at least be fruit for consumption while it is fresh. Prices may not be too low for harvesting, which would be a misfortune, since then much of the fruit would be left on the vine or limb. Householders are advised to study methods of preserving fruit without sugar, such as drying processes which are said to have proved highly successful. Foodstuffs continue at such prices and in so great general scarcity that it would be a pity were the healthful fruit crop not to be fully availed of to save perhaps consumption of less abundant kinds of food.

A MISERABLE PLEA

"We ask you to forget the past war, for which we are not to blame, and to support us with food and clothing or in any other way you may think fit," is the plea of Austrian Government officials to officials and clerks of the British law courts.

The plea is not even pitiful. It is contemptible. It is the whine of the cur that is down and is suffering. There is no remorse, no sorrow for wrong-doing. It is a plea for life at any cost. It is the "kamerad" of the coward who would shoot the rescuer in the back.

And yet these Austrians are human beings. They cannot be left to die. They know this and they are trading on it. Their plea for forgetfulness merits the rebuke given by an aged Irishwoman in Eastern Canada who informed her traducers: "I can forgive but I cannot forget."

In both instances the plea was the same, not for forgiveness, but to forget the past. The British people and the Canadians can forgive. They can never forget. To forget is to deny the sacrifice of those dear ones who gave their lives for us.

When the Austrian people show by their conduct genuine sorrow for their part in the great world tragedy, forgiveness may be possible. At present there is nothing that tends either to induce the Allies to forgive or forget.

SAFE AND SANE

In Chicago the Commissioner of Health called for fifty men and women, too fat for comfort, whom he promised to teach to reduce in weight and girth within six weeks by the faithful practise of a few simple and healthful exercises and regulated diet. Twenty women—twelve housewives, two typists, a stenographer, two clerks, a mercantile buyer, an office manager and a nurse—have responded. Their weight averages 220.6 pounds. They will spade gardens, walk and shun sundaes. Courage and confidence were required to start them on the course of treatment, courage to acknowledge their obesity, confidence in their power of endurance to see the thing through.

Only one man showed up at the first roll call, and when he saw how hopelessly in the minority he was he backed out. The reporter says he "fled." Here was the inferiority of the male amply demonstrated. Had the conditions been reversed and one woman found herself with twenty men, she would not have quit. Instead she would have stuck to the end and set an example to the men from which all of them might have derived profit.

This she would have done because, humiliating though the admission may be to the male sex, woman is more courageous than man. She proves it every day. A man who wipes his damp brow in a public place does it with shame, sneakingly, apologetically. A woman will set up a pocket mirror in a street car, use a powder puff, a chamois and a stick of lip rouge without thought of the surrounding multitude.

Undoubtedly Chicago's soda water and candy shops are jammed with fat men who ought to be reducing their waist lines for their own welfare and to ease conditions in the clothing market. Probably most of them fill up on sweets and then go home to dose themselves with somebody's flesh remover. They ought to watch the twenty women who have the grit to go at excess adipose tissue in the only safe and sane way.

THE NEWSPRINT SITUATION

Some understanding of the seriousness of the newsprint shortage in Canada may be gained when it is known that twenty-seven Canadian publications may have to suspend publication, because they cannot obtain further supplies of paper. Failure to secure such supplies is not due to inability or unwillingness to pay the price demanded. It is due to the refusal by the mills to forward the usual supplies to their customers.

The suggestion has been made that these papers should consent to a reduction of the size of their publications. An effective and truthful answer to this is, that the whole quantity necessary to supply the twenty-seven publications in question, amounts to only two per cent. of the output of Canadian mills.

Pulpwood cut in Canadian forests, ground up and made into paper in Canadian mills, is being shipped out of Canada to supply a foreign demand, while Canadian publications are denied supplies.

Some of these Canadian publications have obtained their newsprint supplies from a particular mill for seven and eight years. During the last three years there has been sudden price increases and arbitrary enforcement of conditions never previously suggested. Naturally the newspapers protested. Their protests proved unavailing. Following and as a climax, came a refusal to furnish any further supplies. These publications, unprotected by contracts, for the mills have steadily declined to accept these, are to be starved to death.

The newspapers are appealing to the Government. Surely their appeal will not be in vain. The facts are of such an extraordinary nature that the public cannot be blamed for being skeptical in accepting statements of them. That they are only too true the newspapers know to their sorrow, and proof can and will be furnished before a Parliamentary Committee, should the Government deem that the best procedure.

BACK TO THE LAND

There is a possibility that economic conditions in the cities and towns will be such as to induce a real back to the land movement, something that has long been desired by those who truly love their native land. Food prices will remain high for at least another twelve months—and probably for years—and shorter hours for farm workers will tend to continue high prices. The outlook is discouraging to those who wait for easier food conditions. In the face of lagging production, the world's output will be limited, with values higher. The indications are that for several years, Europe will be dependent on this continent for a large part of its food requirements. If there is a slackening of business in industrial centres the combined effect of high housing and food costs will compel a movement towards the farms.

Trading in luxuries is diminishing. The luxury taxes have had the effect of danger signals and the orgy of spending has suffered a check. The country has to have a greater production of foodstuffs, raw materials, coal, metals, etc. To induce men and their families to engage in occupations necessary to this increased production, greater attention must be paid to living conditions for the workers, particularly in rural districts. A condition which compels many people to go to the cities and towns is the lack of proper homes for workers on the farms and in the mining regions. The farmer must no longer look to casual labor for help in rush seasons. He has to so conduct his operations as to employ the help he needs steadily. Something like the English cottage system must be introduced if families are to move to the farms. Married men on farms demand separate cottages with sufficient grounds and sufficient leisure time to grow their own vegetables and keep chickens or a cow. High costs will not disappear in the cities even if there be a dearth of employment, but if workers find they can exchange an idle and unprofitable life in large centres for a happy, prosperous farm life, under such conditions, many a worried father who cannot see how to meet city food and housing costs, will gladly turn towards country life.

Lethbridge, Alta., June 5.—Considerable protest is being voiced by farmers in certain districts in being interfered with by the Provincial Police in asking them to desist from working on the land on Sundays. The action of the police, it is said, is the result of complaints made by the Lord's Day Alliance of the Province.

LAST MEETING BRANDON ART CLUB

The final meeting for the year of the Brandon Art Club was held Saturday afternoon in St. Paul's lecture room. The President, Mrs. W. L. Wright, presided. After the singing of the National Anthem, routine business was transacted, and splendid reports were submitted by the various officers and convenors. Mrs. Wright expressed the sincere appreciation and thanks of the Club to all who had so kindly assisted in the meetings and also to The Sun.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted in Mrs. W. L. Wright being again chosen as President, an office which she held with grace and marked ability during the year. The officers elected were as follows: Past President, Mrs. W. C. McKillican; President, Mrs. W. L. Wright First Vice-President, Mrs. K. Campbell; Second Vice-President, Mrs. W. T. Fyfe; Secretary, Mrs. P. M. Ames; Treasurer, Mrs. A. P. Jeffrey; Program Convenor, Mrs. Geo. Ferrier; Music Convenor, Miss Mary McKenzie; Membership Convenor, Mrs. G. H. Hogarth; Social Convenors, Mrs. W. J. Elliott, and Mrs. J. E. S. Dunlop; Librarian, Mrs. C. Blake; Press Reporter, Miss S. A. Redmond; Pianiste, Mrs. H. M. Arnold.

Mrs. E. H. Johnson gave a most interesting and illuminating paper on the subject of "Japanese Art," prefacing it with some latern views of Japan which gave a personal touch to the study of the art of the Flowery Kingdom.

"Of all the countries of the Orient," Mrs. Johnson stated, "Japan holds the most important place in art. In several branches of are manufacture it stands at the head of the civilized world. We are all familiar with the wonderful works in lacquer, ivory metal, embroidery, enamel and pottery of Japan, which testify to the very high position of the Japanese workman." The modern workman is quite as clever and painstaking as the one who worked two or three hundred years ago. The Japanese, she pointed out, always had a great love of nature, and with the greatest ingenuity have used such materials as colored woods, ivory, mother of pearl, tortoise shell, pure metals, also the sap of the lacquer tree. In the making of their masterpieces, the Japanese workmen have spared neither time nor patience.

Japanese art, to us seems full of distortion, especially in the drawing and their landscapes rarely appeal to our ideas of beauty, but in decorative art, much talent is shown. Their pictures are usually distorical or legendary. As a nation they are lovers of the beautiful in nature, of which there is such an abundance in this truly flowery kingdom, with its riot of chrysanthemums, cherry blossonms, azaleas, peonies, golden glans, comelias and mountain roses, butterflies and birds.

The great underlying principle of Japanese art is the life-giving movement, the speaker continued. The strident is taught it is impossible to express in art what one does not first feel, and so must study the real object. chivenda, the celebrated tiger painter, studied the eye of the tiger so long that he became mentally affected, but his tiger paintings were wonderfully realistic. Toku is a great painter of fish. Kano Motonobu before painting a crane would spend many evenings imitating its movements. Japanese art is very realistic and exhibits strong love of nature.

The intricate process of lacquer work was described. Kioto has been for centuries the centre of lacquer manufacture. Many very beautiful specimens of lacquer, representing infinite care, patience and skill are to be found in art collections in Europe and America. Eloisonne enamel was also described.

The pottery of Old Japan is its most precious art and is so esteemed by the people that very few of the best specimens have ever left Japan. Old Satsuma, familiar to some, stands for the best in Japanese pottery. Embroidery on silk is also an art with the Japanese, and their designs are most elaborate and beautiful. Japanese architecture also deserves mention. The buildings are of wood and are very simple in designs. The pagoda is the most distinctive style of temple. The many beautiful carvings on beams and panels are marvels of skill.

The landscape paintings of the Japanese artist seem grotesque. He subordinates his drawing to his decorative fancy. Every age has its "school of painting," bearing the name of the leading artist. Women are favorite subjects for the Japanese artist. Hokusai is probably the most outstanding artist. He died in 1849 at the age of ninety, having produced pictures of a great variety of subjects. Hiroshige, a contemporary, died in 1858. He is at the head of Japanese landscape painters. Modern Japanese art is showing Western influence in improved drawing and perspective.

Mrs. Johnson concluded her excellent paper with a reference to the value of Japanese works of art as shown at a recent sale in Tokio, when as high as $550,000 was paid for a large scroll. Many interesting pictures were shown on the screen. After the paper, several pieces of Japanese pottery, lacquer and enamel, loaned by various members of the Club, were on exhibition and added much to the afternoon's enjoyment.

During the afternoon Miss Bertha Anderson sang "Sylvia," very sweetly. Miss Adeline Bailey accompanied her.

The hostesses for the occasion were the executive of the Club.

JOHN FIRTH, FAMOUS HUDSON'S BAY FACTOR, GIVES UP FORT McPHERSON POST

Dawson, Y.T., June 5.—Word comes from Fort McPherson, on the Arctic Coast, of the retirement of John Firth, famous factor of the old Hudson's Bay Company post at that point, said to be the most Northerly station operated by the company.

Probably every trader, trapper and whaler along the Arctic Coast knows Firth. His son-in-law, Jack Parsons, has succeeded him as factor. The old factor will spend his remaining years in a home built for him at the fort.

JAPANESE FISHERMEN GAINING STRONG HOLD ON SALMON INDUSTRY, B. C.

Ottawa, June 4.—That the Japanese fishermen are gaining much too strong a hold on the salmon fishing industry of British Columbia, was the statement made by Lieut.-Col. Peck, V.C., to the Parliamentary Committee on Pensions and Re-establishment.

Last year there were 2,277 Japanese given licenses as against 417 native-born Canadians. The Japanese "jiggled" their naturalization papers back and forth and so overcame the law which required naturalization before a license could be issued. Col. Peck declared that 50,000 more returned men had gone to British Columbia than the total number which went overseas from that province.

William Foran, Secretary of the Civil Service Commission, said that of 60,000 civil servants, 25,456 were returned men, but only 7,609 were permanent.

WESTERN CANADA MAY HAVE OIL BOOM THIS YEAR

Winnipeg, June 3.—"There is going to be an oil boom in Western Canada this year. The oil is there and the operators will have no difficulty in securing the money necessary for development. The only question is, will this money come from Western Canadian people, so that Canada will reap all the benefits of the resulting prosperity, or will Canadians remain blind to the opportunity until American and British capital has flooded the country."

This question was asked by John Laycock, of Saskatoon, who is in the city for a few days He is interested in the development of Canada's natural resources, and has spent considerable time investigating the oil fields of the Peace River. Mr. Laycock is firmly convinced that oil exists there in great quantities. "The final test for proving the existence of oil is the drill," he said. There have been eight wells drilled in the Peace River oil field. Several of these gave a splendid showing of oil. In nearly every case they were made temporarily valueless by flows of gas and water, but these difficulties can be overcome by better equipment. The "Victory" well at Peace River Crossing has been drilled with a large bore to enable the driller to counteract the dangers of water and gas pressure, and the operators expect soon to have the honor of shipping out the first car of crude oil from the North country.

"Discovery of oil in sufficient quantities to take care of local demand is of itself important," said Mr. Laycock, "but it also opens up vast possibilities for the rapid creation of capital to develop the other resources of the West. Much of the wealth of the United States has come from oil production, but Americans are greatly alarmed over the possible exhaustion of their supplies. It is estimated that at the present rate of consumption this will occur within 20 years. Naturally, every possible source of supply is being investigated and no country is receiving more attention in this respect than Western Canada at present.

Grant Hall States There is a Big Shortage of Laboring Men in the West

Claims Share of Gold

London, June 3. — The Ukrainian diplomatic mission here has addressed a protest to Premier Lloyd George, to be forwarded to the Supreme Economic Council, claiming for Ukrainia a profitable share of the gold which the mission understands Gregory Krassin, Russian Soviet Minister of Trade and Commerce, proposes to use in the purchase of supplies for Soviet Russia. The protest says it is true that the Moscow Government has at its disposal gold belonging to the Russian State Bank and also the Russian gold reserve captured in the Kremlin. It points out that Ukrainia has accepted liability for its proportionate share of the debts of the former Russian Empire up to the time of the Soviet and the declaration of the Ukrainian Republic. Consequently, the protest says, this extends to the Russian gold reserve, and Ukrainia, like all the other border States of the former Empire, has a claim to a proportional share of the reserves of the former Imperial Bank of Russia.

It is stated that the Soviet Government has already spent much of this gold, the protest continues, and that the share now belonging to the Soviet Government must be a relatively small part of the original amount seized. Ukrainia protests against the disposal of its share.

GOVERNMENT MAJORITY ON BUDGET IS 26

Attitude of Liberals Explained by W. L. Mackenize King—Asks Resignation

ROWELL'S REPLY

Assures Members House of Commons Government Has Not Been Reckless

Ottawa, June 2.—Fielding Amendment—For, 94; against, 120; Government majority of 26. H. A. Mackie, Edmonton East, announced that in voting for the amendment he had voted in error.

Counting of the vote started at 5.57 a.m., and occupied about twenty-five minutes.

Ottawa, June 2.—The attitude of the Liberal Opposition toward the Budget was voiced by its leader in the House Tuesday afternoon.

"The Budget," declared Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, in the course of a three-hour speech, "is a budget to protect the profiteer. It is not a budget to protect the people of Canada." It revealed, he said, that the Government had no policy for dealing with the high cost of living. Instead of reducing the cost of living, the Government was making it more difficult for the people to live.

Mr. King declared the Government should resign. It had been elected for the term of the war, and should give place to an Administration competent to frame a sound peace policy. It had acquired the "war habit of mind," which resulted in autocratic rule and extravagant expenditures.

The expenditure of the last fiscal year had added nearly four hundred millions to the debt of Canada, or over a million dollars a day. One expenditure of $121,000,000 made by the Government during the war was unaccounted for, and the Auditor-General had been unable to find where the money went to. Proposals made in the budget would encourage the manufacture of shoddy goods, said Mr. King. He argued that duties should be taken off the necessaries of life and the instruments of production, thus reducing the cost of living. The Liberals stood for free food and free trade. There was but one Liberal platform which was based on the tariff resolution passed at the Liberal Convention last August.

Rowell Defends Government

Hon. N. W. Rowell answered the criticisms made by the Leader of the Opposition and other Opposition members. The Government had not spent a single cent recklessly, he said, and there was no increase in the ordinary expenditure of the country. Money had been expended on pensions, soldiers' re-establishment, as well as on interest on public debt and Civil Service bonus. Pensions had been increased. Was this one of the items that Opposition members objected to? "If they had any manliness in them they would retract their statements," remarked Mr. Rowell amid ironical laughter from the Opposition.

The President of the Privy Council referred to the charge than an expenditure of $121,000,000 made by the Government remained unaccounted for. This amount was largely used to pay Canadian soldiers serving overseas and the vouchers had not been received at the time the Auditor-General's report was published. The reason for the non-receipt of these vouchers was that two vessels carrying a number of these had previously been torpedoed by submarines and the Government was afraid to trust any more on the ocean. Again Mr. Rowell said that the Opposition members who had made this charge should publicly retract it.

INSTALLATION OF NEW OFFICERS BY COMMISSIONER

Staff Captain and Mrs. Habkirk Assume Duties of Divisional Officers

A FORWARD MOVEMENT

Other Countries Have Had Great Revivals After Big Conflicts

The new divisional officers of the Salvation Army, Staff Captain and Mrs. Habkirk, were installed Tuesday at a special service in the Salvation Army Citadel. Quite a large number of Brandon citizens attended, and heard a splendid address from Commissioner William Eadie, Commander of the Army for Western Canada. Many prominent outsiders were present to welcome the new officers and to take part in the services. Staff Captain and Mrs. Habkirk received a splendid welcome, and replied briefly to complimentary introductions made by Commisioner Eadie.

In opening the service, Commissioner Eadie said he was glad to be present for the occasion and what the occasion portends. He stated that the Salvation Army is making preparations for a forward movement, and they want to go ever the top as one man. Over the world a spirit of reaction has come, a spirit which may be described as a "sigh of relief." Other countries saw a great revival after big conflicts, and Commissioner Eadie said we are coming to such a time here. In view of this coming revival, the speaker said that the Salvation Army is planning to meet it, and the country has been divided into eight divisions in order to carry out the administration of the plans of the Army.

Need for Workers

Commissioner Eadie then told of the changes that have been made and the new officers who had been appointed to the new posts. He said that the work of the Salvation Army is to convert men and women, and that "to seek and save" is the motto of the Army all over the world. "What is the value of a man's life?" asked the Commissioner. It is really an investment, and it is up to every person to gather out of that investment, the treasure that is to come. In conclusion he made a plea for women workers. He said that there is money to carry out much of the work among women and to establish homes, but there are few women helpers. The cry today, said the Commissioner is for women and not for houses.

Glad to Come Here

Staff Captain Habkirk, following a glowing introduction from Commissioner Eadie, said that he was glad to come here. He had been here twenty-five years ago for a ten days service, and therefore was not a total stranger to this city. While in British Columbia he had been interested in young people's work, and he stated that he would not neglect the young people's work in this district. He concluded a brief reply by stating that he had come to serve and labor with the Brandon division.

Mrs. Habkirk was also warmly welcomed. In her reply she stated that in 1895 she had been stationed in Brandon, and that therefore she was simply renewing many acquaintances here. She said she was glad to come to Brandon to assist in Salvation Army work, and that she hoped their stay here would be filled with success and blessing.

Impressive Ceremony

Following the replies of both Staff Captain and Mrs. Habkirk, Commissioner Eadie installed the new officers of the Division in an impressive ceremony, which was somewhat spoiled by the lights going out. During the evening's service appropriate music was given by the Salvation Army Band, while there was also a special song service.

Those who were here for the installation services besides Commissioner William Eadie, were Brigadier George Phillips, Principal of the Salvation Army Training School, Winnipeg, Capt. Tom Mundy, the Commissioner's private secretary, Capt. and Mrs. Tyrer of Neepawa, Capt. and Mrs. McCaughy of Dauphin, Capt. Sowton and Lieut. Neilson, of Portage, and Capt. Weiss and Lieut. Bent, of Virden.

PRINCE ASKS THAT PEOPLE REFRAIN FROM CROWDING

Melbourne, Australia, June 2. — "President Wilson—God's deputy on earth," is the sardonic reference of Premier William Hughes in the course of an address he gave Saturday at a function given in honor of the Prince of Wales. Mr. Hughes was speaking on the subject of the need of Empire unity and courage.

Enormous crowds still throng the streets wherever the Prince is likely to appear. On several occasions his car has been blocked. One enthusiastic lady stuck a flag in Admiral Halsey's eye and he will have to take a few days' rest as a result. During an informal chat with editors of the leading Australian papers, the prince proposed that the papers ask the public to refrain from crowding him with such "enormous" enthusiasm.

At an "At Home" given by the Victoria Government, the Prince became so tired after an hour's handshaking that he was forced to discontinue this form of greeting except to the ladies. Twenty-eight vessels took part in the review of the Australian fleet.

Second Payment Subscriptions

If you have worked your territory thoroughly and do not know where to turn for subscriptions, why not call on those who have already given you a subscription and endeavor to get them to give you an additional one.

According to the rules of receipt books, the points for these "Second Payment" subscriptions, as they are called, are figured on the schedule of points which was in force when the original subscription was taken. For instance, if Mr. Brown gave you a subscription during the first week of the Competition for which you secured 32,000 points, and now gives you another year, to make a total of two years, you receive the same number of points as you would have had you received two years in the first place. In this particular instance you receive 80,000 less 32,000, which is 48,000, for the second subscription of a year.

This week these points are tripled, so that you would receive 3 times 48,000 points. Many extra points can be secured in this way. Ask all of your friends to add another six months or a year to their subscription. You have the advantage of the points on the first point schedules, and it gives you a chance to secure points from territory which you find pretty well played out as far as new subscriptions are concerned.

If this system of figuring the points on "Second Payments" is not clear to you, do not fail to ask for further information, as we will be only too pleased to give it.

Make these "Second Payments" pile up the points for you.

ACCORDING TO RULES.

All subscriptions turned in prior to the triple points offer will receive the benefits of the offer, in accordance with the rules of the Competition as follows:

"The Sun reserves the right to alter the schedules, but it guarantees the competitors, that all subscriptions turned in from the beginning of the Competition will receive the benefit of such alterations in the schedules, if same are altered, or if any extra points other than those mentioned in this ad. are given."

NEWSPAPER MEN PROTEST AGAINST GRANTING REQUEST

Ottawa, June 7.—The announcement that the Backus interests at Fort Frances have applied to the Ontario Government for additional pulp leases and power concessions, aroused a storm of protest from the publishers of Ontario daily newspapers, who are in Ottawa this week endeavoring to prevent the diversion of their newsprint supplies to the United States. At a special meeting of these publishers, the following resolution was adopted by unanimous vote:

"Whereas press dispatches from Winnipeg quote the Mayor of Kenora as stating that the Backus pulp and paper interests at Fort Frances have applied to the Ontario Government for valuable timber limits along the English river and power development rights at White Dog Falls near Kenora;

"And, whereas, the same interests have not yet fulfilled the conditions on which they secured from the Ontario Government several years ago a pulp wood concession of 1,800 square miles in the Lake of the Woods district;

Control Fort Frances Company

"And, whereas, these are the interests that control the Fort Frances Pulp & Paper Co., Ltd., which recently cut off the newsprint supplies of its Canadian newspaper customers in order to ship its entire production to the United States, and which is still refusing to supply the newsprint requirements of its Canadian customers, even at the current contract price for export to foreign countries;

"And, whereas, the Fort Frances Pulp & Paper Co., Ltd., was established partly with a view to supplying the newsprint requirements of the newspapers in that part of Canada, and in connection with its establishment received valuable concessions from the Ontario Government;

"Be it resolved, that this meeting of publishers of daily newspapers in Ontario, that have been facing suspension owing to the threatened diversion of their newsprint supplies to the United States, expresses its unanimous opinion that, in view of the attitude of the Backus interests toward domestic requirements of newsprint, it is not in the public interest that the Backus interests should be granted any further pulpwood or power concessions in Canada;

"And that all pulpwood concessions, previously granted to these interests in respect of which they may be in default, should be cancelled forthwith;

"And that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Ontario Government with a strong recommendation that effect be given to the recommendations herein made."

SUDDEN DEATH OF A. B. FLEMING

One of Brandon's best known men passed away Sunday morning after an illness of just eight days in the Brandon General Hospital, in the person of Mr. A. B. Fleming. The late Mr. Fleming underwent an operation several days ago and was getting along exceptionally well Sunday morning, but about 9.30 he became very ill and died in a few moments. His passing was a great shock to many friends in Brandon who thought he was well on the way to recovery after his operation.

Coming to Brandon in 1880 from New Brunswick with his father, the late Dr. Alexander Fleming, the deceased, who was then nine years of age, spent his boyhood days in Brandon. He was later in the hardware business for a number of years and then moved to Hamiota where he conducted a store. Returning to Brandon about twelve years ago he was engaged in the wholesale coal business here. The late Mr. Fleming, who was better known to his friends as Sandy, was a Director and shareholder of the Brandon Golf and Country Club, a member of the former Brandon Golf Club since its organization and always took a keen interest in sports of all kinds.

Besides his wife and five-year-old daughter, Ruth, the late Mr. Fleming is survived by four sisters, Mrs. J. H. Ingram, Vancouver, B.C.; Mrs. Wilfred Lemon, Winnipeg; Mrs. A. McDonald, Long Beach, California and Mrs. Bruce Waugh of Ottawa, and three Brothers, Messrs. J. W. Fleming, Winnipeg; Harry Fleming of Greenham, Sask., and Bert Fleming of Alsace, Sask.

They now are retailing as high as 35 cents.

CLEMENT'S DEFEAT FORECASTED BY A TRIBUNE WRITER

Who Predicts Norris Government Will Win 32 of 55 Seats

With provincial election day definitely set at June 29th, less than four weeks away, political dopesters are wearing out pencils by the gross figuring out possible results of the contest, writes W A. Tutte in the Winnipeg Tribune.

This is the open season for guessing, so the writer steps forward with his latest prophecy. This is what he believes will be the lineup in the 16th Legislature of Manitoba, after the smoke of the June 29th battle clears away and all the casualties are known:

Liberals	32
Conservatives	11
Independents	12
Total	55 seats

It is a common saying that two things in the world are impossible to forecast accurately: the changing of a woman's mind and the result of an election. Accordingly, these figures do not constitute a prophecy. It is not maintained that they will prove accurate when the final polls are counted. All they represent is what the writer believes to be an accurate calculation of the chances of each party, based on current conditions in each constituency.

Conditions May Change

Conditions may change greatly during the next thhee-and-a-half weeks, and election day may see much of the present dope upset.

According to current conditions in the ridings, the following allocation of seats appears to be in prospect:

LIBERALS: Winnipeg, 4; Arthur, Birtle, Cypress, Deloraine, Dufferin, Emerson, Gilbert Plains, Glenwood, Gladstone, Hamiota, Killarney, Kildonan, St. Andrews, Lakeside, Lansdowne, Manitou, Morden, Norfolk, Minnedosa, Mountain, Portage la Prairie, St. George, Swan River, Turtle Mountain, Virden, (Independent Liberal), Mimli, (Independent Liberal), St. Clements, (Independent Liberal), The Pas, and Rupert's Land—38.

CONSERVATIVES: Winnipeg 2, Brandon, Carillon, Iberville, La Verendrye, Morris, Roblin, Russell, St. Rose and Fisher—11.

INDEPENDENT: Winnipeg 4; Assiniboia, (Independent), Beautiful Plains, U.F.M., Dauphin, D.L.P., Ethelbert, Ind., Fairford, Independent Farmer; Rockwood, U.F.M., St. Boniface (?) Springfield, D.L.P.

The figures will not prove acceptable in any of the political camps, save perhaps among the moderate Liberals.

Conservatives Are Hopeful

Conservatives, filled with optimism, express the firm belief that they will get nearly twice as many seats. Outside of the Labor Party, the Independents have no central organization, but Labor believes it can take more than half the seats in Winnipg, six, and perhaps seven. If both these hopes proved true the Norris Government would be defeated, as many of the independents are "ag'in the Government."

LAKE WINNIPEG FISHERMEN STRIKE FOR HIGHER WAGES

Want Six and a Half Cents Per Pound for Whitefish

Winnipeg, June 7.—Lake Winnipeg fishermen are on strike.

They walked out a week ago, when first nets should have been cast, and the members of the United Brotherhood of Fishermen reiterated their intention to hold out for higher prices following failure of their grievance committee to come to terms with employers at a meeting held in Selkirk.

Fishermen want six and a half cents a pound for whitefish. Their original demand was seven cents, but they expressed willingness to compromise, provided the fish companies would make a slight reduction in boat rentals and the cost of board. The employers, according to H. Benson, President of the brotherhood, refused to agree.

The union claims the increased cost of twine and general equipment has forced them to insist upon wages.

One Big Union Headquarters in Winnipeg, Saturday sent out a strike notice, warning fishermen to keep away from Selkirk and Gimli.

GREAT WELCOME GIVEN VISITORS BY ORANGEMEN

Grand Lodge Officers En Route to Convention Tendered Reception in Brandon

ATTEND DIVINE SERVICE

Saturday Evening a Reception Was Tendered Visitors in Orange Hall

H. C. Hocken, M.P. of Toronto, Ont., Grand Master of the Grand Orange Lodge of British America, Rev. T. R. White of Chapleau, Ont., Grand Master of the Black Chapter of Ontario West, John Easton, Grand Master of the Grand Black Chapter of British America, G. B. McCready of Winnipeg, Provincial Grand Master of the Grand Black Chapter of Manitoba, and other officers of the Orange Lodge, were given an enthusiastic welcome by members of the Royal Black Preceptory, No. 732, of Brandon, when they arrived in the city Saturday evening. They were entertained at supper in the Prince Edward Hotel after which they were taken for a drive to some of the beauty spots of the city, and later these distinguished visitors were tendered a reception in the Orange Hall.

Robert C. McMullen, Worshipful Preceptor of the Brandon Lodge was in charge of the proceedings at the reception and in a very courteous address welcomed the visitors to Brandon. This was the official visit of the Provincial Grand Master to the Royal Black Preceptory in Brandon and his address to the assembled members of the Lodge was chiefly pertaining to the work of the Black Order.

In a short address given by Grand Master John Easton, who is a delegate to the Triennial World Council to be held in Belfast this year, he referred to the misleading statements regarding Ireland and claimed that the statement that the Sinn Feiners are taking possession of certain parts of Ulster is untrue. He stated that Ulster is as loyal as ever.

Pleased with Beauty of Brandon

Rev. Thos. R. White brought the fraternal greetings of Ontario West and in the course of his remarks he stated that he was glad to vis't Brandon and to see the splendid manner in which the Brandon local chapter had been carrying on its work. He said it was his first visit to Brandon and he was particularly pleased with the beauty of the city.

It was also Grand Master Hocken's first visit to Brandon but the members of the Lodge have his assurance that he will make a second visit in about four months, when it is expected he will be tendered an official reception. His work is chiefly of an organization nature and in an interesting address he outlined the plans for organization work which he will submit to the Grand Lodge convention at Calgary. He is urging the necessity of every citizen joining the forward movement on educational matters for a higher state of British citizenship in Canada.

Howard Brown of Killarney, Provincial Grand Master of the Grand Orange Lodge of Manitoba also gave a short address at this meeting.

Resolutions of thanks to the visitors were given by local officers of the Lodge, Messrs. W. H. Maher and John Miller.

At the conclusion of the address a delicious supper was served by the members of the Ladies Orange Benevolent Society of Brandon.

The officers continued their journey Sunday afternoon and will attend the convention of the Grand Orange Lodge to be held in Calgary this week.

Sunday Morning Service

Sunday morning the Royal Black Knights of Brandon, headed by the Fife and Drum band paraded to the First Methodist Church where they were addressed by the Rev. Thomas R. White. The Rev. Mr. White is Grand Master of the Grand Black Chapter of Ontario West, and he gave a very interesting sermon on our assistance in Empire building. The speaker took his text from the 33rd Psalm and the 12th verse, "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord."

"We are living in a great country and our nation is becoming a great nation," said the Rev. Mr White. He said we belong to the greatest Empire of all time, and when we recognize this fact we must turn to the question of what made it great." Many factors enter into the structure but the real secret of power in the hands of those who guide our Empire, is in the Word of God. "We are thankful to those who have controlled our Empire in years that have gone, that they have taken the Word of God as the guiding principle for national life," said the speaker. Interest in the Great Book does not lessen our devotion to our Empire, but rather increases it.

The Rev. Mr. White said that we are bound to the Empire by ties that he hopes will never be severed. There were those who at the commencement of the Great War, thought the time had come for dismemberment. But after years of war, the five strategic points, Malaccas, the Cape, Suez Canal, Gibraltar, and the Straits of Dover are still under British Dominion. By the Grace of God these have been preserved to the British and the power and influence of the Empire increased. "This is not said in a spirit of boastfulness," stated the speaker," but only to prove that the principles of the Allies have been preserved to the world."

Since the war we began to realize the strength of the bonds which bound the Dominions together. They were intangible and invisible ties but they held the Empire together and the spirit of loyalty was maintained. The answer to those who thought that the time to weaken the tie of Canada to the Empire had come, was 600,000 men in uniform. The same answer came in the same strength from Australia, South Africa and India. The Empire is now called upon to take a larger place in the world and Canada is called upon to take her share of it. We should be proud to help spread the principles of liberty. Canada is in the League of Nations and we have to assist in the promotion of Peace.

The English language is more and more excercising a great power in the world, said the Rev. Mr. White and he predicted that it would soon be universal in conveying the high ideals in life, for which it stands. He said that the institution represented at church that morning stood for the English language. That we must guard our privileges, and that we must carry out the work committed to us, were reminders from the speaker. If we place a true value on our citizenship, carry out the great trust in the right way, our work will never be in vain, but go toward making for the highest in life," concluded the Rev. Mr. White.

MARBLE TABLET IN MEMORY OF HEROIC DEAD

Unveiled in St. Matthew's Church—Presented by Returned Officers 45th Batt.

MEMORIES OF OTHER DAYS

Recalled Both by Warriors and Those They Left Behind

A large number of people attended the evening service at St. Matthew's Church on Sunday when a beautiful marble tablet presented by the returned officers of the 45th Battalion in memory of the members of the Battalion who made the supreme sacrifice in the Great War, was unveiled. The tablet was placed just to the right of the chancel and below the regimental colors of the Battalion which have been in the church since the Battalion left for overseas. The returned members of the Battalion with Col. C. J. Clark in command, headed by the 99th Regimental Band, many members of which were former 45th men, paraded to the church and occupied the seats reserved for them in the right transept. Lemories of former days when the Battalion paraded Brandon streets, were brought back to those who attended the service, as they listened once again to the Regimental march played by the band as the returned men entered the church. Many Great War Veterans attended the service to do honor to their comrades in arms who made the supreme sacrifice. Special hymns were sung on this occasion "The Supreme Sacrifice" being sung after the unveiling of the tablet. An anthem, "Who are These Arrayed in White," was also sung by the choir under the leadership of the organist, Mr. R. C. Macdonnell.

At the appropriate time in the service, the flags which veiled the tablet were drawn aside by Col. F. J. Clarke, former officer commanding the 45th Battalion and Major C. J. Whillier, formerly second in command. In a short address, Col. Clark stated that about 2,000 men had passed through the Battalion and they had all become very much attached to each other. It was in memory of the officers, noncommissioned officers and men of the Battalion who had made the supreme sacrifice that the tablet had been erected by the returned officers of the Battalion, and they also hoped that it would be a reminder and lesson to future generations.

An Appropriate Lesson

After thanking the officers of the Battalion for placing the tablet in St. Matthew's and stating that the officers and members of the Congregation felt it an honor to have it there, the Rector Rev. E. A. Anderson, remarked on the wonderful coincidence that the first and second lessons for the evening should be so appropriate. The first lesson was taken from Joshua and told of the placing of a stone in a field as a witness and the second lesson emphasized sacrifice.

Rev. Mr. Anderson took his text from Joshua 24, verses 26 and 27: "As in the days of Joshua God is calling to us to make up our minds what God we will serve. This tablet is erected first to the glory of God; secondly, in memory of those who have given their lives; thirdly, for those who still have their lives to live, and fourthly, as a witness to God, to stand as a reminder of what these men gave their lives for..

"The returned men have the tremendous reputation of the Canadian army, for honor, courage, good conduct, and discipline, to live up to. The honor of Canada is in their hands and I would say to them 'Beware of the professional veteran.' There are not many of these, but beware of them. The re-establishment of the soldiers is a great problem and I do not look forward to a solution that will please all. However, I feel certain the best possible thing will be done by Canada. The returned men might remember that it was their privilege to go overseas and those who could not go lost something, that was of value. So that while the men who went overseas lost much, the people at home who could not go also lost something. If all will get together then the right thing will be done. It is only through God that Canada may hope to reach happiness. We must choose whether we will serve God the Lord, or the worldly gods of today."

SUPERIOR COURT ANNULS MARRIAGE WINNIPEG MAN AND MONTREAL GIRL

Montreal, June 7.—The superior court annulled the marriage, on the wife's petition, of Albert Lorne Galvin, now of Winnipeg, and Olive Lalonde, of Montreal, for two reasons. The first was that it took place without her consent and secondly because, she being a Roman Catholic, the Protestant minister who officated was not competent to perform the ceremony so far as she was concerned. Miss Lalonde went to see Garvin in Toronto, January 17th and alleged "while ill and despondent and unable to give free consent, defendant took me to the house of a Methodist minister, Rev. A. F. MacKenzie, before whom we were married."

REAL ISSUE IN THE COMING ELECTION IS GOVT.'S RECORD

Conservatives Adopt Policy of Naming Candidates Who Reside in Constituencies

Winnipeg, Man., June 5—The record of the government's administration is the real issue in the forthcoming provincial elections, R. A. C. Manning, chairman of the Conservative Association general campaign committee, declared in an interview with the Winnipeg Telegram.

"The Liberals have always right from the commencement in Manitoba tried to make schools a public football," Mr. Manning said, in regard to the educational policy of the Government. "The Conservatives have never done that. They believe that the education of the children should not be made a political issue in any manner and they do not propose to change the public school laws so far as they relate to the teaching of English and compulsory attendance.

"The real issue today is the record of the active administration of the Norris Government. Whether they have conducted it in an economical manner or not. We say they have not. We say they have conducted the administration of this province extravagantly."

The Liberals have nominated men for representation in constituencies in which they do not reside, Mr. Manning said. "The Conservatives only nominate men who reside in the constituency." He instanced the nomination of J. W. Arnenych, Ruthenian, residing in Winnipeg, to carry the Liberal flag for Fisher, and of T. D. Farley, Winnipeg, to represent the Government for Gimli.

BRANDON GREYS SLUG OUT FOURTH STRAIGHT WIN

In a game full of baseball thrills and some heavy bating by the Greys, the Brandon team won their fourth straight game by taking the long end of a 10-5 score from the Neepawa team. The visitors put up a strong game once they got settled down to playing baseball and tied up the score in the third innings after the Greys had amassed a five run lead. There was no denying the Greys however and their heavy slugging was too much for Hawkins, the game being stowed away in the fifth and sixth innings when the Brandon nine chased five men across the plate.

Two Great Catches

Two running catches of outfield hits featured the game, one in particular by Wilkinson being the best ever seen on the Atheltic Grounds. The catch came with one Neepawa runner on third and Hawkins at bat. The Neepawa twirler drove a line drive which went clean back to the autos in right field and was labelled for a home run. Wilkinson turned and ran for the ball and just as it was sailing into the autos, leaped up and caught it with one hand. It retired the side and incidentally the Greys' outfielder got a wonderful ovation when he came in from the field. Alguire also made a great one handed catch of a long fly from Falconer's bat, jumping in the air to bring out a sure three base clout.

Visitors Strengthened

The visitors were strengthened by curves, Farquahar and Parkinson who played here on the 24th of May with the Granites and Farquarhar who played with the Greys in the holiday games against the Granites. They presented a formidable line-up with "Lefty" Hawkins in the box. However the locals are still travelling along in their slugging mood and the offerings of the Neepawa twirler were treated with scant respect, while his team mates fell down behind him and gummed up several plays. Four of the first five runs scored by the Brandon team came as the result of Neepawa errors.

GREYS SHUT OUT BERESFORD TEAM IN LEAGUE GAME

Getting an early lead in the game and with Cornell pitching unhittable ball, the Greys won their fifth start this season by defeating the Beresford team on their own lot by a 7-0 score. After the first three innings of play the game developed into a real close one, with the Beresford players doing some nice fielding to head off several batting rallies which the Greys were attempting. The Beresford team could do nothing with the offerings of "Happy" Cornell and he yielded only two hits.

The fielding of both teams was exceptionally good considering the diamond, one fast double-play started by Stuart featuring the game. The Greys outfielders had very little to do, the bulk of the work falling on the shoulders of Cornell and Cochlan. "Happy" had his floater working overtime as there are no less than six left-handed batters on the Beresford team Davidson twirled a good game for the losers showing splendid control and had plenty of speed. Neither pitcher gave a base on balls or hit a batsman during the evening.

Score in First Inning

The Greys commenced their scoring in the first inning. Stuart got on when his grounder was fumbled, Cochlan singled, and an error on Chabot's hit allowed Stuart to score. Wilkinson's out let Cochlan in. The Greys added two more in the second, when Cornell singled, Cochlan doubled, both runners scoring during that inning. In the third McNeill tripled and Crawford's sacrifice bunt scored the second baseman. There was no further scoring until the eighth when Fenwick singled, stole second, and scored on Cornell's second bingle of the evening. The last counter was added in the ninth when Wilkinson landed on one of Davidson's fast ones for a triple, and scoring on a passed ball.

The Beresford nine were in danger of scoring twice during the game, but some good fielding choked off likely locking counters. In the fourth inning they had a man on third with one out, but were lacking the necessary bingle to score him. They staged another rally in the seventh, but Stuart made a running catch of a hard hit ball, and doubled up the Beresford runner on first base. At all other periods of the game the home team could not hit safely off Cornell, and therefore went scoreless in their first league game of the season.

FOXWARREN WINS FROM CONGOS IN FAST EXHIBITION

Foxwarren won the right to take part in the semi-finals of the Manitoba Football championship by defeating the Congos 2-0 on Monday. The game was played at Foxwarren, and following the misfortune which befell some of the cars carrying the players on Saturday, the Congos decided to stay over and play on Monday. There was a fair sized crowd out to see the game, which was very fast and marked by some really brilliant work by the Foxwarren team in the second half.

The game was in progress about twenty minutes when Johnson, one of the Congos full backs fell and broke his wrist. Despite this injury the full back continued play. Following one end to end play, Wilson secured for the Foxwarren team and opened the scoring for the home team with a good shot which had Henry beaten. Both sides tried hard to score before half time, but half time found Foxwarren leading 1-0.

In the second half the Foxwarren boys showed their superiority by outplaying the Congos for most of the period, although the Brandon team played up splendidly under very trying circumstances. Art Henry got a bad kick on the ankle which forced him to retire from the game, and the Congos were forced to finish the game with ten men. Wilson made it 2-0 for the Foxwarren team when he scored half way through the second period. This ended the scoring, and the Foxwarren team therefore won the right to continue in the play-offs for the Manitoba football championship.

For the winners Hume, Wilson and Graham were the stars, their work being exceptionally good throughout the game. Woods was the best player for the Congos although his team mates all played good football.

The following were the line-ups:

Congos—Henry, Johnson, Condick, Woods, Jeffrey, A. Henry, Gillows, Brown, Forbes, Riley and Benn.

Foxwarren — Laycock, Rowan, Hume, Hudson, Woton, G. Leckie, J. Leckie, Matthews, Denton, Symonds and Graham.

WOMAN BILLY SUNDAY STARTS NO SENSATIONS

Denounces Christian Science and Spiritualism to Opening Day Audiences

Lethbridge Herald: Preaching about God's love, Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson in the curling rink concluded her first day's evangelistic work in Lethbridge recently. She v s supported by a good orchestra, the crowd was entertained by some catchy music and a long message from the evangelist.

The impression had got abroad in Lethbridge that the speaker would be pulling some stunts. She walked around her pulpit at different speeds, but did practically nothing that is not done every Sunday in Lethbridge pulpits. The only startling statement she made was that Christian Science and Spiritualism are false religions and are of the devil.

During her address she gave many stories of her girlhood days, all of which were amusing. She kept her audience in good humor and received considerable response from them One of her favorite stunts during the opening song service was making the members of the audience keep time by clapping their hands.

Previous to her address a song service was held the audience taking part in a few songs.

WAR-WORN WAIFS WELCOMED TO BRITAIN'S SHORES

Little Austrians Excite the Sympathy of English Kiddies

London, June 4—Nearly 500 half-starved, emaciated children between the ages of 6 and 12, from the Austrian war zone, have arrived at Folkestone from Vienna, and were greeted at the wharf by crowds of British children.

The little war waifs will remain in England all Summer, until their health is restored.

A special train took the children from Folkestone to a concentration depot from where they will be scattered throughout England. After reaching the wharf upon their arrival the children sang "God Save the King," and followed it with Schubert's "Lorelei," their childish voices ringing with hope and gratitude at the thought that their days of misery and want were past.

The children displayed all kinds of nondescript apparel as they marched off the boat. They were given a medical examination before they were allowed to proceed to the concentration depot.

NEW AUSTRIAN ARMY RECRUITED

Seventy Per cent of Force Said to Be Composed of Social Democrats

Vienna, May 15.—(By Mail.)—Recruiting for the new army that is to replace the Volkswehr under the terms of the Treaty of St. Germain has ceased, the allowed 30,000 men having been enlisted. It is said that 70 per cent of the force are Social Democrats in spite of the attempt made by the opposition to prevent it. This is due to the failure of the peasants to enter service in the provinces, where the Conservatives looked for heavy enrollment to offset the industrial centers. Many of the defaulting provinces failing to raise their quota, natives of the defaulting provinces residing in the cities were enlisted and sent to their home States.

RENEWAL OF THE ALLIANCE WITH JAPAN CRITICIZED

London, June 5.—The renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance is being sharply criticized by the Australian press. It is suggested that the terms of the alliance should include the provision which would prevent Great Britain from being dragged into war between China and Japan.

WOMEN IN U. S. POLITICS

Chicago, June 2.—Amid a tumult of shouting slogans and the droning hum of thousands of voices in hotel lobbies discussing politics and predicting the outcome of next week's Republican conventions, the woman voter is slowly but surely emerging to the fore.

As olitical chiefs here planned to capture the presidential nomination for their candidate, leaders of G.O.P. women were quietly organizing their strength and preparing to launch it at the psychological moment to gain for women standing for political equality with men.

With more than a hundred women delegates, including alternates, elected to the convention, the feminist movement in America is to be given a great push forward, it is believed here.

With that in mind, women delegates and Republican women leaders will certed action in the convention. The call was issued by Miss Mary Garrett Hay, of New York, one of the two women who attend meetings of the Republican National Committee.

Four of the major presidential candidates will personally direct their forces during convention week.

Senator Hiram Johnson of California, is expected to personally appear on the floor as a delegate, leading his own fight. Major-General Leonard Wood and Governor F. O. Lowden of Illinios, will command their armies from their rooms at the Congress Hotel. Senator Warren Harding, of Ohio, will be in personal charge of his own campaign. Herbert Hoover will be the only one of the big candidates not present.

COMMISSIONER EADIE ADDRESSES W. C. C.

Rest from political strife, increased population and a large system of irrigation are the three esentials required in South Africa, said Commisioner Eadie addressing the Women's Canadian Club Tuesday afternoon. Continuing the Commissioner said, if Africa can attain these things there is no limit to the wealth she can accrue.

Commissioner Eadie together with his wife and family spent eight years in Africa, returning to Canada last Winter to take command of the Salvation Army work in Western Canada and Alaska. The speaker took for the subject of his address, 'Certain Aspects of Africa," which proved to be most interesting as well as instructive. Commencing his address, Commissioner Eadie described their arrival at Africa and told something of the difficulty they had in landing.

Africa is a remarkable country said the speaker, but is not well populated, and consists of a conglamoration of races. There are approximately a million and a quarter whites, seven million natives, in addition to other colored persons and people from India. Many different kinds of whites are also found there. The country is divided into four states, which are under the British flag.

Speaking of the politics of the country, the Commissioner stated that Africa has four distinct political parties, namely, the South African, Nationalist, Unionist and Labor parties. The first named supports the constitution and the British flag, while the second says Africa for the Dutch, and stands for separation from the British.

Africa has the promise of being one of the wealthiest parts of the British Empire. Together with a magnificent climate, the soil is excellent and all kinds of farming and fruit raising are carried on with great succes. One portion of the country is adapted to wheat raising while another portion is splendid for sheep grazing. Although very little work is connected with the fruit growing, some of the fruits cannot be surpassed. One fruit season follows another and many excellent varieties are grown such as peaches, oranges, grapes, apricots, etc. The only drawback to the growing possibilities in Africa is the lack of irrigation. Abundance of rain falls in certain seasons and tons could be conserved, but as the speaker stated previously, a large system of irrigation is one of the necessities of this Eastern continent. Another part of the land is particularly suited to gardening.

Commisisoner Eadie speaking of the farming industry said the Salvation Army have eight farms in Africa. Five of these are devoted to misionary purposes. The Army works among the natives as well as the European population, the natives being taught the art of farming. Public schools and sabbath schools are also erected on the farms.

The Salvation Army is a powerful influence in the country. Many politicians look to the Army to bring healing to their strife. A leader of a political party recently said to the Commissioner, "There is more healing in one of your leaves than on many trees" The missionary work in Africa, said the speaker, is largely supported by England and the natives.

Mrs. A. Shewan, President of the Club, presided at the meeting which was held in the Prince Edward Hotel, and in introducing the speaker of the afternoon expressed the pleasure of the Club at having Commisioner Eadie present. The meeting opened with the singing of the National Anthem after which the Secretary, Mrs. G. B. Coleman, read the names of the new members and received the names of those wishing to join.

Mrs. J. A. McDonald moved a vote of thanks to Commissioner Eadie, which was seconded by Mrs. G. E. Peacock.

THE MASTER CALLS MRS. DONALD M'EWEN

One of the Pioneers in Women's Work Throughout the Great West

After years of faithful service for others, Mrs. Jessie Turnbull McEwen, beloved wife of Mr. Donald McEwen, of "Tullichewen," North Brandon, passed away Tuesday night in the Brandon General Hospital, at the age of seventy-four years and six months. One of the pioneers of this province, the late Mrs. McEwen did much to better the conditions of women and children in Western Canada and although there are many who will regret her passing they cannot help but feel sure that she who "labored faithfully" will indeed receive her reward.

Many organizations owe their birth to Mrs. McEwen. She was the first woman West of the Great Lakes to form a Foreign Missionary Society in connection with the Presbyterian Church. She was President for many years of the first Presbyterial until it was necessary for her to go East and upon her return was again chosen President, which office she held up to seven years ago when the Home and Foreign Missionary Societies amalgamated. Since then she has been Honorary President of the Brandon Presbyterial of the Women's Missionary Society. That splendid organization, the Local Council of Women, also owes its inception to the late Mrs. McEwen, who, when much oposition was given to public work for women, caught the broad vision of the future and organized the L.C.W. of which for twenty-one years she was President, latterly being Honorary President. The deceased was also Honorary President of the Young Women's Christian Association, which she started in Brandon and was always actively interested in. Partially through the efforts of this pioneer, Brandon has the advantage of having manual training and domestic science in the public schools, a public library and a Travellers' Aid Society.

Previous to coming to Brandon from Toronto, Ont., the late Mrs. McEwen together with Dr. Emily Stowe organized a society which was instrumental in securing the municipal franchise for women in Toronto, the admission of women to the colleges and universities and the establishment of the Ontario Women's Medical College.

Besides her husband, who is one of the best known farmers in Western Canada, there are left to mourn her loss, two daughters, Mrs. Gordon Bell of Winnipeg, Mrs. James Henderson of this city and two sons, Dr. M. D. McEwen of Vancouver, B.C., and Mr. D. G. McEwen of Brandon, who is at present a patient in the hospital. Two sisters, Mrs. Andrew Jeffrey of Toronto and Mrs. Walter Woods of Hamilton, Ont., also survive her.

The remains of the late Mrs. Jessie McEwen, beloved wife of Mr. Donald McEwen of "Tullichewen," North Brandon, were laid to rest Thursday in Brandon cemetery, following a short service in St. Paul's Church. Rev. J. George Miller officiated at both the church and graveside. The pall bearers were: Dr. John McDiarmid, Messrs. James Kirkcaldy, J. S. Maxwell D. Shirriff R. Darrach and A. F. Campbell. A large number of friends of the family attended the service and many beautiful flowers testified to the esteem in which the late Mrs. McEwen was held by those who knew her.

Albert Traford

After an illness of two months' duration as the result of an attack of influenza, Mr. Albert Traford, aged forty-five years, passed away in the Brandon General Hospital, Tuesday morning. Born in England, the late Mr. Traford, after coming to Canada, lived in Grenfell, Sask., for some time and came to Brandon to reside in 1901. For the past twenty years he was a locomotive engineer on the C.P.R., his last run being on the Brandon-Arcola branch. A member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and also a member of the Grenfell Lodge of the Independent Order of Foresters, the late Mr. Traford was very well known and had a host of friends who will regret his death. Besides his widow and four children he is survived by his mother who resides in Brandon and two sisters living in England.

Hannah Holton

The death occurred Tuesday evening, following an illness of two days duration, of Hannah Holton, the eight year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Holton, 1005 Tenth Street.

Mr. A. B. Fleming

The remains of the late Mr. A. B. Fleming were laid to rest in Brandon cemetery Tuesday morning. Rev. E. A. Anderson conducted the service, the pall bearers being Messrs. E. L. Christie, O. L. Harwood, H. R. Beaubier, J. Hilton McGregor, B. H. Campbell and Wm. Ferguson.

Following a short service at the family residence, 459 Victoria Avenue, the cortege proceeded to St. Matthew's Church where a large number of friends had gathered to pay their last respects to the deceased. The impressive burial service of the Anglican faith was conducted by the Rector, Rev. E. A. Anderson, the choir, under the direction of Mr. R. C. Macdonnell, leading the congregation in the singing of the hymns. Members of the Red Cross Society, of which Mrs. Fleming is a member, attended the service in a body. Many beautiful flowers testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held by those who knew him.

Mr. J. W. Fleming of Winnipeg, Mr. Hary Fleming of Greenham, Sask., and Mr. Bert Fleming of Alsace, Sask. brothers of the deceased, were present at the funeral.

NEW SCHEDULE OF TEACHERS' SALARIES NOT YET ADOPTED

Objection by Teachers to Board's Proposals Leads to Appointment of Committee

TO MEET TEACHERS

In an Honest Effort to Arrange a Schedule Fair to All Concerned

For several hours on Monday evening the School Board discussed the new salary schedule for the school teachers for 1920-21. Eventually, (after 11 o'clock) it was decided to appoint a committee to meet the teachers in an effort to draw up a schedule which will be satisfactory to the teachers, the School Board and the people who pay the taxes.

The School Board members have labored long in committee on this question and the report presented by Mr. Fitton had been the subject of a great deal of thought. So strenuous was the objection to the salary proposals for Grade teachers, in the fourth paragraph of the report, that it was decided to postpone final passage until further consideration has been given it and the position of the teachers is known. There was objection to the schedule on the part of members of the Board, but it was the warning on the part of Supervisor Alfred White and Principal McDougall, that the teachers would not agree to the Board's proposals, that resulted in calling a halt.

In reply to a question, Mr. Maxwell, who occupied the chair, (Dr. Condell preferring to sit as a member), said that the schedule was up for final passage, and that action by the Board would mean that the door for negotiations had been closed. Apparently the members of the Board were not prepared to render a decision on a question so liable to cause serious differences. The appointment of a committee to meet the teachers brought to a close a meeting of which the salary question was discussed from all angles in an honest effort to reach a fair decision.

In introducing the subject of a new salary schedule for the teachers, Mr. Fitton outlined the proceedings that have taken place up to date. He stated that the Board met a deputation of teachers, and following their discussion the present schedule was drawn up. This schedule provided a minimum of $1,100 and a maximum of $1.700 per year for grade teachers, with a yearly increase of $50 per year until the maximum was reached. The second clause in the schedule provided some difficulty. This clause reads, "That any teachers receiving less than $950 on the September 1919. schedule be raised to the minimum $1,100, and that all grade teachers receiving $950 or over as per this 1919-1920 schedule receive a raise of $250 for the year 1920-1921, and that this advance salary determine the standing of such teachers on the new schedule."

Rather than have this last clause in serted in the schedule, it was stated that the teachers would suggest that for every two years' service, they be given one year's standing. The members stated that this schedule would mean an extra cost of $6,300 to the present schedule. In one case it would mean an increase of $500 and in several cases would be over $350. It was stated that there is one teacher with 24 years' service, and another with 20 years on the Public School staff.

J. S. Maxwell, who acted as chairman for the meeting, wanted to know how many Boards in the West have acceded to the teachers' demands. Dr. Condell replied that some of the Western School Boards are going to cut their schedules, and suggested that the Board could possibly secure efficient service for less money. He wanted to know if an old preacher or doctor received increases in salary because of long service. Dr. Condell further stated that if the salaries are to be boosted in this way that the School Board would have to ask for the resignation of long service teachers. His contention was based on the fact that the teachers should be paid for efficiency rather than for long service.

Superintendent White of the Public Schools said that the best service was obtained from long service teachers. Dr. Condell, however, again objected to length of service only winning recognition in the salary schedule. Dr. Spiers said that they had to put sentiment into this, as the trouble with the world is that there is not enough sentiment mixed with business. J. S. Maxwell, from the chair, declared that the School Board could not afford to pay what the teachers are asking. Mr. White then submitted some figures which he said had been prepared by

PICTURE OF BRANDON 'Y' MAILED IN THE CONGO BRINGS AN INQUIRY

That it is impossible to get tinned fruits of any kind in Ghent, Belgium, and that they are needed is evident from a letter received by the Brandon Y.M.C.A. from a director in charge of a "Y" canteen at that place. He asks if it would be possible for the Canadian "Y" to supply this canteen with tinned fruits of all kinds.

It is interesting to note that it was through the receipt of a postcard from the Congo having a picture of the Brandon "Y" on it that the writer was inspired to write to this city.

TAX RATE TO BE 35 MILLS, CITY COUNCIL DECIDES

Hospital Will Not Need the Money This Year, Is Statement Made

The tax rate for 1920 will be 35 mills, and a bylaw fixing this rate will be passed at a special meeting of the City Council to be held Wednesday morning. After due consideration, the Council has decided to stand by the original rate and the rate as now fixed is one of the lowest in Western Canada. In order to keep the rate as low as it is the Council has pared down the estimates very carefully, and the city's funds will be doled out only where absolutely necessary.

The rate of 35 mills does not include the one mill tax for the new General Hospital, but the City Council will pass a bylaw on Wednesday morning [illegible] the Hospital Board the sum of $75,000 to be made up in five equal annual levies of $15,000 each, commencing 1921. This is said to be Satisfactory to the hospital officials. The extra mill which was suggested by the City Treasurer to create a tax reserve fund will not be included this year either. This would have provided a fund of about $15,000 to meet the unpaid taxes each year. The rate of 35 mills is five mills in excess of the 1919 rate, but is still considerably lower than the rates fixed in Western cities.

SUGAR PRICES ADVANCED MONDAY

Canadians Have to Pay More Because of Demand in the U. S.

An advance of two dollars per hundred in sugar prices became effective in Brandon on Monday. For some time, Canadian sugar prices have been lower than in the United States and the reason for the present advance is that it has been necessary to pay the competitive prices charged for this product in the United States in order to obtain a supply. Montreal and Toronto prices went up several days ago, and in several cities in Western Canadian commidity have advanced.

Although one of the largest wholesale houses in the city is at present without sugar, there isplenty in the retail stock at the present to supply the demand. A car is expected to reach the city on Friday. The retail price for sugar in small quantities is from twenty-three to twenty-four cents a pound. Retailers have not yet raised their prices, but state that they will be forced to do so in the course of a few days.

HESSIAN FLY DAMAGE TO U. S. WHEAT CROP

In Soft Wheat States, Present Crop Said to Be Half Last Year's Production

Chicago, June 15.—Hessian fly damage is further depreciating the Winter wheat crop, and in the soft wheat states, the present crop is less than half of last year's production, according to the crop outlook of the Modern Miller published here Monday.

Conditions are very spotted in some of the larger wheat states, and an average crop is not assured.

Flour buyers here have numerous reports from mills indicating that large quantities of old crop wheat will be held over by millers for mixing with the new wheat. Local men say that mixing is necessary because of the quality of the incomming shipments, but this is not regarded as true of the majority of new stocks. The holding over of old crop, however, is an indication that millers and buyers in close touch with wheat conditions have no fear of any slump in prices before the Spring wheat harvest.

DECREASE IN AREA SOWN TO WHEAT: MORE OATS SOWN

TWO CHANGES IN TAX RESOLUTIONS

Tax Increased on Sale by Manufacturers or Retailers to Consumers

Ottawa, June 15.—Sir Henry Drayton has given notice of two important amendments to the budget, taxation resolutions. One calls for a variation of the one per cent. tax on sales. The original resolution provided that a tax of one per cent. in addition to the present duties of customs and excise be levied on sales by manufacturers and wholesalers and on importations. The finance minister's proposed amendment would add a proviso to the resolution, reading "That in respect of sales by manufacturers to retailers or consumers or on importations by retailers or consumers, the tax payable shall be two per cent." That is to say, in cases where manufacturers sell to retailers or directly to consumers, or where retailers or consumers import goods, the tax will be two per cent. instead of one per cent.

Under the original resolutions, a stamp tax of two cents was payable on every bill of exchange or promissory note for $100 or less, with an additional tax of two cents for every additional $100 or fraction of that amount. The proposed amendments would make this tax applicable to "advances made by a bank by way of overdraft."

TRIPLE POINTS OFFER

The Competitor Wishing to Be a Big Winner Will Find it Adviseable to Work Harder Than Ever Between Now and Saturday Night.

The Sun's big $8,000 Circulation Campaign comes to a close at midnight on Saturday next. Less than a week remains in which to ensure your claim on one of the big Capital Prizes, among which are two big Touring Cars as well as many other awards of a very elegant and expensive order.

In order to assist the competitors in making a rousing finish in the race, the Triple Points offer is being repeated this week. Three times the regular schedule of points are being given for all subscriptions secured, the best offer that has been made since the beginning of the Competition.

It is absolutely necessary for competitors who wish to be good winners to do their very utmost this week. The points via this offer count up so rapidly that the ones who profit by them are going to gain an immense lead on those who do not. Not one worker can afford to slacken speed this week, as the race will be a close one, and every point available should be secured.

To Subscribers and Prospective Subscribers

Look over the list of competitors appearing in today's issue. The non-workers have been eliminated, and the present list represents only those having the most excellent chances of being winners. All of them will naturally not be prize winners but all merit every assistance possible to make them winners. See that the competitor in your district is one of the fortunate ones. If you have not as yet subscribed do so now to the credit of your favorite competitor. If you have already subscribed, why not add an additional year? It may furnish the points which will decide for this particular candidate the winning of one of the biggest prizes in place of one of the smaller ones. Remember, every subscriber has the chance of making a guess on the Ford Touring Car, which in itself is a big feature.

This is the home stretch. The competitor in your district deserves to win and will only win if they receive the proper backing.

CANADIANS LOOK INTO WAR RECORD SENATOR HARDING

New York, June 15.—Canadians resident here are delving into the political record of Senator Warren G. Harding, the Republican nominee for presidency of the United States, in an effort to ascertain his attitude in matters affecting Canada and the British Empire. The concensus of opinion appears to be that he has shown himself to be well-disposed toward Great Britain and the British dominion and that if elected he will be likely to interest himself in the maintenance of relations of cordial friendship between Canada and the United States.

While strongly opposed to the ratification of the peace treaty and the League of Nations, Senator Harding's war record shows that he gave support to the administration and favored close co-operation with the Allies. He voted for the arming of United States merchant ships against the German submarines and for the declaration of war on Germany. Once the United States was [illegible] he supported war legislation generally, with a few minor exceptions.

Paris, June 15.—Few newspapers in this city venture to comment on the action of the Republican National Convention at Chicago, although they all devote considerale space to the nomination of Warren G. Harding for president and Calvin Coolidge for vice-president. "It is a triumph of the machine of the party organization or its bosses over personalities sufficiently powerful or well supplied with funds to be in a position to appeal to the nation," declares Pertinax, political editor of the Echo De Paris.

In examining the platform of the Republican party Pertinax pays special attention to the possible resuscitation of the Panama controversy and the Canadian wood pulp question. This posture relative to England and Canada, he finds, to a certain extent symptomatic, but he adds:

"We need not fear that such an attitude will degenerate into abstention from European affairs or hostility toward Europe. Too many elements of the Republican party are bound up in our affairs and our preoccupations. The silence observed regarding Ireland shows the desire felt at Chicago to keep on good terms with England."

London, June 15.—Warren G. Harding's personality and record being virtually unknown here, newspaper comment this morning expresses neither satisfaction nor disappointment with the Republican choice of a presidential candidate. Several newspapers refer to him as a "dark horse" and infer from cabled reports that he represents a compromise.

Two or three journals assume the result of the Chicago convention has opened the possibility of the election of a Democrat to the presidency, which of late, has been regarded here as extremely improbable.

IDENTITY OF CRUISER TO BE GIVEN CANADA REMAINS A MYSTERY

Ottawa, June 15.—There is as yet, no indication of the name of the cruiser which Canada will receive as a gift from the British Government. Capt. Hose, Naval Advisor, to the Minister of Naval Affair, is now in England and it is thought that he has succeeded in getting the Admiralty to grant Canada a modern cruiser, as it was understood that the first cruiser offered was not sufficiently modern to suit the Canadian authorities. The name of the ship will probably be announced in a few days.

SOVIET RUSSIA REPUDIATES DEBTS FORMER REGIME

If Compelled to Accept Them, Would Demand Inheriting Rights

BOLSHEVIKI MINISTER

Said by Times to Have Made a Statement to This Effect

London, June 15. — Soviet Russia does not recognize its liability for debts contracted by Russia up to November, 1917, and if compelled to meet them, will have various offsets, says the Times. Gregory Krassin, Russian Bolshevik Minister of Trade and Commerce is credited with the statement. He also says that if the force of circumstances should make it desirable for them the Soviet would, as a counterbalancing factor, insist upon inheriting the rights and privileges secured to Russia by former treaties. He laid special emphasis on the convention of 1915 which awarded Constantinople to Russia.

WAR BRIDES NOT HAPPY IN U. S

Pittsburg, June 15.—Incompatibility of American and French customs has caused 12,000 of approximately 50,000 French war brides to return to France, according to Mrs. Reginald H. Johnson, president of the recently [illegible]

The club, formed at the suggestion of Mlle. Odette de Bouglon, of Paris, who was in Pittsburg recently, is expected to broaden the interests of the French girls who become the bride of Americans overseas, and to make them contented in their new home.

Mrs. Johnson, herself a French war bride and wife of a professor of languages at the University of Pittsburg, declared that members of the club are learning English, of course, but slowly, and "when one cannot talk, one thinks too much."

"We of France are individualists," she said. "We live within ourselves and think of our own people, and that makes it doubly hard for the French girls who have left their homes and families. Not that they do not love their hhusbands, but they miss their people."

Chicago's rate of growth was 23.6 per cent., which was 5.1 per cent. less than the previous ten years, and exceeded New York City's rate by 5.7 per cent., New York's 1920 rate having been 17.9 per cent.

GERMAN BANDIT CUT WIDE SWATH FOR SOME TIME

Leaders of Workingmen Endorsed His Threat of a General Strike

In what a demoralized condition affairs are in many parts of what was once the well-disciplined German Empire is well illustrated in the short career of one Max Hoelz, now in the hands of the Czechs and about to be returned to Saxony for trial. For several weeks he acted the star role in a play that in Germany has been obsolete since the middle ages—the robber baron holding a countryside for ransom and defying the Government. The most significant phase of the episode, in the opinion of William C. Dreher, the Berlin correspondent of the New York Tribune, is the ease with which an ordinary criminal gifted with some eloquence and glibly using the shibboleth of Socialism, was able to impose himself upon large numbers of German workingmen. Hoelz was nothing but a bandit, but he threatened the Government with a general strike if troops were moved against him, and leaders of workingmen endorsed this defiant note. In the end a vote of workingmen overwhelmingly decided that to arrest Hoelz would not be a violation of the sacred principles of Karl Marx, and they left him to his fate.

One of the Spartacains

Hoelz first burst into print at the time of the Spartacist revolt in Southern Saxony, for in the turbulence he saw the same opportunity that a pickpocket sees in a crowd. When the military moved into the district and order was about to be restored Hoelz escaped, but several of his gang were placed under arrest. He remained in hiding until the Kapp revolution began. Then he made a sudden appearance in Plauen, chief town of the Vogtland, as Southern Saxony is known, just as the military were withdrawn. Gathering around him a gang of other desperadoes he made an attack upon the prison where some of his former associates in the Spartacist episode were confined and released them. His band thus strengthened he appeared before the prosecuting attorney and made him surrender the papers by which prisoners had been held. These he burned. He was then in a position to become the dictator of the district. He dismissed the town officials and drove them out of town. Then he called upon the local manufacturers to supply him and his increasing gang with automobiles and other supplies.

Pillaging the Bourgeoisie

Well armed and breathing threats against the bourgeoisie wherever he went he kept the working population in a state between awe and terror while he proceeded to make excursions into the surrounding country and loot whatever was worth looting. On one of these trips he released more Spartacists and carried off plunder to the extent of 100,000 marks as a pledge for some thing or other. He caused notices to be published in the paper that so far no bourgeoisie blood had been shed and that personally he would not order any wholesale extermination if he could avoid it, a warning that made the bourgeoisie amenable to reason when he made fresh levies. He held up the Berlin-Munich express train, on the lookout for somebody, but not finding him went to a hotel and there discovered the correspondent of a Leipsic paper who had sent a report of his outrages to the city. Him he carried off, and the reporter found on reaching the bandit's retreat two other young men being held for ransom.

Defied the Government

By this time his fame had spread, with the usual sequel that he received many letters from impressionable women. But the staunch Hoelz caused a notice to be published in a newspaper to the effect that such communications were forbidden, because he was a married man. In the meantime the Government of Saxony was at a loss to know what to do with the bandit. It feared to send troops, and expressed the hope that the workingmen of Saxony themselves would discipline this formidable comrade. The Socialist representative showed no disposition to take this step, being hypnotized by Hoelz's claim that he was acting as a true Communist. Indeed, it was the organ of the Independent Socialists in Dresden that threatened a general strike if the Saxon troops were marched against the bandit, who was in possession of a feudal castle near Plauen, and was pillaging the countryside with impunity. Finally the situation became so intolerable with the prestige of Hoels increasing every day, that an appeal was made to Berlin for troops.

Robbing the Waiters

They were dispatched and proceeded with extreme caution to the disturbed area. Nevertheless, their approach caused the workingmen, who had previously rather sided with Hoelz, to reflect that bloodshed and wholesale hangings were likely to occur in the event of open defiance. So, with true German craft, they disowned Hoelz, and the bandit was left with only his immediate followers. When the troops were a considerable distance off, Hoelz burned the castle where he had established himself and took refuge in a little town near the Bohemian border. Realizing that he was near the end of his tether, he proceeded to plunder more recklessly than ever, even robbing the waiters in the hotel as well as the guests. He also demanded and received 1,000,000 marks from the town authorities. Then the band scattered, the chief making his way into Marienbad, where he was subsequently arrested by the Czechs.

JUDGE DISMISSES DAMAGE ACTION

By Which John Schinske Sought $5,000 Damages from Robt. Lane

Judgment has been delivered by Mr. Justice Macdonald in the damage action of John Schinske vs. Robert Lane, which occupied the attention of King's Bench Court here in Brandon in April. Schinske had claimed $5,000 damages for the alleged loss of eyesight in one eye, and which was alleged to have occurred while in Lane's employ. The case was heard by Mr. Justice Macdonald, and considerable evidence was submitted during the hearing, following which His Lordship reserved decision.

The presiding judge has now delivered judgment, dismissing the action with costs. He held that the evidence given at the trial did not fix negligence or responsibility upon the defendant for the accident, and that the evidence did not show that the defendant's saw or plant was otherwise than in good working condition.

The plank, he asserted, is directly contrary to what labor demanded of the Republican party.

PRESS WOMEN TO ASK GOVERNMENT CONTROL NEWSPRINT

Calgary, June 9.—The Calgary branch of the Canadian Women's Press Club passed a resolution asking that the Dominion Government take steps at once to assert its control over the exportation of the output of Canadian pulpwood mills and force the manufacturers of newsprint to adequately supply the needs of the Canadian publications, many of which are now threatened with extinction because of the refusal of the paper interests to serve them with newsprint. The members were strong in their protest against the attitude assumed by the pulpwood manufacturers, as the publishing business of the Dominion is being jeopardized and the unemployment of thousands of editorial and news writers, typesetters, compositors and pressmen is beginning to loom up as a grave possibility in the near future.

The resolution will be sent at once to the Minister of Finance, and letters asking for the support of this action will be forwarded to such nationally organized bodies as the National Council of Women, the I.O.D.E., The W.C.T.U., and the Federated Women's Institutes. These organizations will be urged to bring pressure to bear on the Government as quickly as possible.

EDMONTON PEOPLE TO PAY LESS FOR MILK 13 PINTS FOR A DOLLAR

Edmonton, June 9.—Milk prices in the city have struck a downward clip. A decrease in the rate paid producers was followed by Mr. and Mrs. Edmonton and family being informed that this article will cost less from now on.

The difference will amount to a cent a quart, according to W. W. Prevey, manager of the Edmonton City Dairy Company. A person will now receive thirteen instead of twelve pints for $1. The decrease in cream charges will be in about the same proportion.

Farmers and dairymen will be paid fifty cents less for each 100 pounds of milk than previously. Instead of $4, the new scale will be $3.50.

Milk production having increased, the decreased price to the consumers was a natural consequence. Pastures are getting into good condition and the feed situation has been largely eased.

INDICATION OF RECORD BREAKING SUMMER FAIR

Rush of Applications for Space by Exhibitors and for Entry Forms

FAMOUS BAND COMING

48th Highlanders Band Here for Week—Rush Work on New Buildings

Indications point to a record breaking Fair this year, said W. I. Smale this morning, the number of applications being received for entry forms and prize lists exceeding any previous year. Parties who have never exhibited at the Provincial Fair here have sent in for entry forms, and Mr. Smale stated that the demand is occasioning a big rush in the office. A feature of the entries this year will no doubt be the number of American exhibitors who will attend the big fair, and who will make entries in many departments especially in the cattle sections.

The livestock entries will probably set another record breaking mark, judging from the entries now coming in. The Industrial and manufacturers exhibit will also eclipse previous marks. Manufacturers as far East as New Brunswick have applied for space at the fair, the exhibits including all kinds of heavy machinery, automobiles and mercantile machinery. Mr. Smale stated that he is quite convinced that this year will be a record breaking one in every department, and that the attendance figures will be shattered again.

The features secured for this year are even better than in 1919 the 48th Highlanders band from Toronto being possibly the star attraction. This famous band will be here for the full week and will furnish a splendid musical program. Besides the band there are plenty of grandstand attractions to give a variety of entertainment to spectators.

Rush New Buildings

Work on the new buildings is being rushed to completion and they will be ready in plenty of time for use during fair week. The building expenditure this year will total $15,000. The Fair Board is graveling many of the drives through the grounds, besides putting in lateral mains, which will take all the surplus water off the grounds in wet weather. Park features are being improved and 20,000 plants grown in the Exhibition green houses, have been put out in different parts of the grounds.

Irish Labor Party Declares They Will Support Dublin Dockers

Dublin, June 11.—A manifesto pledging support for Dublin railwaymen and dockers in their refusal to handle munitions has been issued by the executives of the Irish Labor Party and the Trade Union Congress. Yesterday at Dingle, the railwaymen refused to handle a train until a number of soldiers aboard left it.

BANKERS BELIEVE THEY CAN COPE WITH SITUATION

Meet Anticipated Demands for Credit and Finance Wheat Crop

Toronto, June 11.—Under the caption: "Bankers can cope with Situation," the Globe financial editor says today: "A reassuring view of the situation in Canada is taken by members of the executive of the Canadian Bankers' Association who have been in session here this week. Looking over the field and appreciating the difficulties of the credit situation, the view expressed by a prominent banker yesterday, was that they will be able to cope with the situation. This is interpreted to mean that the existing and anticipated demand for credit can be met and that there should be no difficulty in financing the wheat crop, even should it be an unusually large one."

PLUPERFECT INDICATIVE

Was I so brave when I was young,
Or was it recklessness of youth?
There tripped so smoothly from my tongue
Great words sonorous or uncouth,
That echo through my head today—
But what they mean I cannot say.

When I was four—or maybe three—
I lisped about the Predicate,
And made Subjunctives bend the knee
In passive tense ere I was eight;
I viewed, unmoved, the bones of speech
And had a horrid name for each.

I never even turned a hair
When angry Surds the echoes woke,
I'd track a Gerund to its lair
And parse it at a single stroke;
Nor hesitate at raising ructions
With Participial Constructions.

Each Syntax fierce I calmly faced;
And scarce a second thought I'd give
To my own safety when I chased
The Absolutest Ablative,
Bold Datives at my feet would bow
Who governed Clauses, God knows how.

And now I'm old. I shy at Verbs,
When Adverbs rise I give them room,
A Pronoun all my joyance curbs—
I can't remember which is whom,
Poor I, who once could shake my fists
At first and Second Aorists!

A Novel Experience

Miss Ethel Dare of Kalamazoo, Mich., who practiced her mid-air plane changing thriller at Swope Park recently and who is engaged to appear in Kansas City again July 4, probably owes her life to the foresight of her two pilots, in discussing, during spare moments, ways and means of extricating her from various predicaments in which she might be placed while trying to make the change.

It was pointed out to her pilots, Partridge and Parmley, one morning at Swope, that, if she were to leave the lower machine and swing off on the end of the rope ladder and then suddenly discover that she could not climb to her seat in the upper plane, her only chance for life would be to have her pilot fly low over a body of water so that she might be able to fall into the water, rather than upon the ground.

At her first engagement of the season at Riverview Park, in Peoria, Ill., Miss Dare and her pilots were afforded an excellent opportunity to put into practice the theory that had been suggested to them at Swope Park. For, in swinging off the upper wing of her plane onto the rope ladder, dangling from the machine above, she sprained her wrist and was unable to make the climb.

In a letter to a friend in Kansas City Miss Dare vividly described her thrilling experience, which had, a few hours before the letter was written, so nearly cost her her life.

"We made three approaches before the races," wrote Miss Dare, "all of which I failed to get. Naturally the crowd was dissatisfied and so were my Pilots, Parmley and Partridge, who thought I should have made the change successfully, considering that their third approach was fairly good.

"After the races, I went up with Parmley, determined to do that act or die, and I nearly did the latter, I believe, through drowning. As the inclosed newspaper clipping shows, I managed to get the third rung of the ladder and made a very spectacular change, everyone said afterward.

"The crowd down below went wild. I was informed later, but of course I couldn't hear a sound from them, for the motor was roaring over my head, and anyway, we were flying nearly a thousand feet above the earth. When I grasped the ladder, I felt a shock in my left wrist which seemed to go through my whole body. I had sprained my wrist just when I needed it most. There I was, hanging on the ladder for dear life, unable to get either up or down. Three times I tried to throw myself up onto the lower rung of the ladder, but I couldn't do it and only succeeded in pushing the ladder away from me each time.

"I felt that I was fast losing my strength, and when Patridge saw, too, that I couldn't make it, he did the only thing there was to do under the circumstances. He made for the river. I don't suppose the fact ever entered his mind that I couldn't swim a stroke, but even so, the river was my only chance for life.

"It seemed like hours before we got above the river, but, in reality, it was only a few minutes. I felt that I couldn't hold on for another second, and it was fortunate for me that we reached the river when we did. Partridge throttled the motor and glided down until he was as close to the water as he dared to get.

"I looked up at him and saw him motioning me to let go my hold on the ladder, after I had been dragging through the water for several feet. When I finally let loose, realizing that it was my only chance, and that safety depended upon someone coming out after me, I thought of something that someone, somewhere, had once told me about not struggling in water, so I simply relaxed. My riding breeches had been torn from me while I was being pulled through the water, and were dragging me down all the time.

"I must have gone under twice, but I was not unconscious any of the time, and when I did go under, it was in trying to motion for help. The people stood around like a bunch of idots, thinking that it was all in the act. For Partridge was still circling overhead to see how I was getting out of my predicament. Finally Parmley, who had returned to the landing field and picked up one of the mechanics, came flying toward me with the mechanic standing out on the wing ready to jump overboard for me, but just at that time, I was hauled into a rowboat.

"My lungs were a little choked with the river water, but aside from that, I was feeling perfectly all right. It was a wonderful experience. One that I wouldn't have missed for anything in the world, but I don't imagine I'd care to go through it again."

GENERAL DEMAND FOR ELECTION IS FELT AT OTTAWA

Result of Bye Elections Will Have Effect on Decision by the Government

NO MORE BOLTERS

All the Members Likely to Cease Supporting Government Have Declared Themselves

Ottawa, June 10.—The growing militant nature of the proceedings in Parliament indicates the gradual oncoming of a general election. This is not to be interpreted as suggesting that such will take place this year, for even those who ardently desire it, and whose opinions thereon may be said to be the wish that is father to the thought, hardly think it probable during 1920. But the aggressive attitude of the Opposition and the demand throughout the country for a general election, will, if maintained, very probably produce results within a year. Of course much will depend on the results of the by-elections that may be held during the interval. If they go against the Government, they will precipitate the election sooner; if the Government can make gains it may, as Mr. Ballantyne has said, carry on until 1922.

No More Bolters

It is unlikely that there will be many more "bolters." Those who remained with the Government on the Budget will stay where they are. At the outside not more than one or two others wil break away, indeed, they may all stick to the end. The Eastern Liberal-Unionists are anchored safely. As for the Western Liberal-Unionists, while they may not be anchored so securely, as the Eastern ones, they seem to be there securely enough for working purposes. Not what a man thinks, but how he votes, counts.

Of the "bolters" Wright is now seated comfortably among the Crerarites and seems to be quite at home. Indeed, he has gone from the back row in the far corner of the chamber to the first row to the left of the Speaker. No doubt he hears better there and will command greater recognition. Buchannan retains his old seat; for his action on the Budget has not incurred the resentment that Wright's did. For one thing he did not declare himself a supporter of the Farmers' platform; moreover as he came to the support of Sir Robert Borden when Union Government was nothing more than a mere possibility, this no doubt makes the Government supporters more tolerant towards him. If he remains in politics, he will probably receive a Liberal-Farmers support. Campbell of Nelson will very probably remain where he is. He and Davis of Neepawa are very close friends and if Campbell's position were made undesirable it might have a bad effect on Davis, who is not very far from the farmers

The division list shows Mackie of Edmonton to be a "bolter," and it is true that he voted for the amendment. But when it was over he said that it was a mistake; that while he stood up for the amendment he did not mean it. He was sitting with Campbell of Nelson and when the latter rose to vote for the amendment, Mackie followed. It may be that the hour being so much earlier than his usual time of rising, he hardly knew what he was doing. However that may be, he had not been considered a probable "bolter." It is a long time since the House was in as weary a mood as it was on the morning of June 2nd. A session over fifteen hours long on the hottest day of the sesion in an atmosphere that had become very foul is very trying.

May be Changes

The debate lasted much longer than some had predicted; but there was no reason for thinking that it would be short. With the Opposition in its present mood it is impossible to say how long the committee proceedings may take; but from a week to two weeks would seem probable. The indications are that by the time the tax schedules are out of committee they will be radically changed, both Government and Opposition members having considerable fault to find with them. At times the debate reached a very high level, the best speeches being delivered by Messrs. Meighen and Rowell, King and McMaster, Crerar and Dr. Michael Clark. Meighen's has already been referred to; Mr. Rowell's was a fine, hard-hitting effort that kept the Government supporters pounding their desks and caused them to cheer loudly when he sat down

Some Fine Speeches

A very high place must be given to MacKenzie King's speech. Like Mr. Meighen's it was a kind of brief for his followers throughout the country. It was delivered with a great deal of spirit; but from the standpoint of its effect on the House, was much too long. Mr. Crerar's speech was not a masterpiece of eloquence, but it was full of meat and bristled with points, a great deal of it being directed against Mr. Meighen's criticism of British fiscal policy. Dr. Clarke's was one of those free-hitting, wide-swinging efforts that every audience likes to hear. In addition to the Westerners already referred to, Davis, Henders, Gould, Knox, Douglas and Andrews were heard to advantage. The protectionist element has vigorous champions; but they do not seem to be quite as doughty as they once were. It may be that they realize that a change is coming over the country.

Western Influence Grows

It is to be noted that of the six leading speakers three of them are from the prairie provinces, which is a good indication of the part that this portion of Canada is taking in the shaping of national policy. Of the four Western ministers, only Mr. Meighen spoke. No Western liberal participated in the debate—of course there are only two; while only three private Government supporters from the West took part, they being Douglas, Henders and Davis. For their numbers the Progressives loomed up strongly, every member taking part. Gould, who said that he had waited 46 years to take part in a discussion on the Budget, mixed it up well for an hour and a half after midnight.

From the standpoint of the great mass of the people the debate was one of the most hopeful that has taken place in Parliament for some time. The general support of the principle of direct taxation will do much to lighten the load that now rests on the masses. In this respect much has stil to be done before it can truthfully be said that the great bulk of the taxes are levied on those best able to pay them; but progress can be reported. It remains for the public to say whether the advance made shall be followed up. The searchlight of publicity disclosing the actual results in the work of tax-collecting is needed, if the best results are to be secured. In this respect publicity will be profitable to the public.

The broadening of the range of the Budget discussion is another great gain. The importance of the tariff in this debate cannot be overestimated but speeches that are confined to this alone fail to come to grips with some of the most important problems of present day fiscal policy. The amount of money that is being taken from the people in the form of watered stock and stock-jobbing operations generally, is colossal, and the public knows all too little about it. And the same remark may be made about the average M.P. But the speeches in the debate are evidence that all are fast learning.

The vote on the Fielding amendment contained very few surprises. There never was the slightest genuine indication of large defections from the Government's following. It is to be observed that the majority last year was fifty; this year it was twenty-six. The Government polled exactly the same number of votes as in 1919, and that in spite of the fact that, during the interval, it has lost several constituencies. The explanation is that every available member, with the possible exception of two, was on hand. The two Liberal-Unionists, Douglas and Davis, who last year voted against the Government, supported it this year. The majority may be considered the maximum.

Liberals Make Better Showing

The Liberals made a much better showing than they did last year, because they got out their vote; nor were there any "bolters" as there were a year ago. In the matter of organization, party discipline, etc., it is quite apparent that they are in much better condition than they have been at any time since the outbreak of war. To the last the members to the left of the Speaker lined up well behind Sir Wilfrid Laurier; but towards the end there was not the virility that more youthful leadership seems to have imparted. In opposition audacity is of more importance than finesse. All over the House there has been a marked tightening up since the session opened. From the "bolting," the Government supporters draw consolation; for they say that they have at least got rid of the waverers.

Increased Indemnity

The battle for an increase in the sessional indemnity still goes on. Those who demand it have played their last card. Whether they will be successful or not remains to be seen, a great deal depends on the opinion expressed by the press and the public generally. Behind the scenes there has been one of the cleverest struggles imaginable; but it would not be finished there; it has now been forced out into the open. Major Andrews is the only one who, in the House has had the courage to declare for an increase. Gould, who has recently been home consulting his committee says that he is authorized to take it; and some of the former bitter opponents of the recall say that if it works that way, the direct representation system may not be so bad after all.

AVERAGE SALE PRICE 53 PURE-BRED CATTLE $250

Shorthorns Brought the Best Prices and They Were Sold Cheap

JUBILEE STAR

Prize Winner at Many Fairs Sold for $585—Remains in in Manitoba

Fifty-three animals were sold at the pure bred cattle sale on Wednesday afternoon for $13,230. This was not as large a sum as was expected, the buyers getting many bargains during the afternoon when some exceptionally fine cattle sold at low prices. The average price obtained figured out at $250 per head. There were seventy-three animals entered in the sale, but twenty were not sold. The sale was held at the Exhibition Grounds and attracted quite a large number of outside buyers, who secured their animals at very low figures.

Shorthorns really made the best showing at the sale, 27 head averaging $326 each. This lot included three bulls belonging to John G. Barron, of Carberry, which sold at $1,520, a very low price considering the quality of the animals. The Carberry breeder obtained the highest price of the day for his "Jubilee Star," a bull that has been a consistent winner at Western Fairs. J. Motheral, of Snowflake, Man., was the buyer, and he gave $585 for the animal. Royal Prince, half-brother of the famous Lavender 47th, brought $535 when disposed of to Henderson Brothers, Wawanesa, while Selection, another Barron animal went for $400 to W. A. Ferguson, of Hillburn. Viscaria's Surprise was purchased by William Leece of Cartwright for $500.

Ten Hereford bulls sold at an average price of $215, the highest price being paid for a Hereford being $280, while seven Aberdeen Angus brought an average price of $200. The highest price paid for a female was paid by R. W. Rutherford, of Teulon, who bought Lady Perfection, one of James I. Moffatt's animals. R. H. Hamar, of the Dominion Livestock Branch bought nineteen bulls during the sale at prices ranging from $200 to $300.

Montreal, June 10.—By almost unanimous vote, the Charter Commission showed yesterday that they were in for making radical changes in the system of city government when they expressed an opinion in favor of the appointment of a city manager; of compulsory vote; proportional representation, referendum and recall and of the abolition of the ward system to be replaced by districts.

Several other addresses were given by various speakers and a most helpful and instructive days session closed with an interesting address by Rev. A. S. Lewis, of Regina, President of the Baptist Union of Western Canada.

LOGGER DIES: MAULED BY BEAR

Prince Rupert, B.C., June 11.—Clarence Thompson, a logger on Chicago Island, died recently from wounds inflicted by a large brown bear. Terribly lacerated, Thompson was found by a searching party, to whom he gave a connected account of his experience before he died.

Unexpectedly, he came upon the bear while it was feeding on the carcass of a deer. It rushed at him and he shot once before the huge paw landed with smashing force on his face. The animal knocked and buffeted him about for a time and then walked away. When found Thompson had not a stitch of clothing on his body and he had suffered terribly from cold and loss of blood.

NEW PROHIBITION ACT IN B. C. IS VERY DRASTIC

Limits Prescriptions to Eight Ounces, Except Under Special Conditions

Victoria, B.C., June 11.—On the first of May the remaining four sections of the amendments to the British Columbia Prohibition Act, passed at the recent session of the Legislature, went into effect. It is not possible to obtain a prescription for more than eight ounces of liquor now save and excepting under the special conditions set out in the amended statute. Sale of tinctures and essences are similarly regulated. It is also impossible to obtain delivery of liquor from a local warehouse within the province, and all manufacturers of near-beer must label their bottles and barrels with the name of the brewery from whence the product comes.

FINE ADDRESSES AT CONVETION

of the Women's Institute held in Souris—Sessions in Park Pavilion

A representative number of delegates from Brandon, Reston, Hartney and Beresford, attended the Women's Institute convention in Souris on Thursday. Practically all the time at the morning session was taken up with the registering of delegates. The afternoon session was opened with an address of welcome to the delegates delivered by Major T. A. Lockhart. This was replied to by Mrs. E. Knapp of Brandon. An interesting address was given by Mr. J. W. Breakey, M.P.P. on the need of a School Nurse at Souris. Miss Dutton, acting supervisor of Women's Institutes also gave an interesting talk.

The sessions were held in the park pavilion and about six o'clock a delicious community supper was served. At the evening session the principal speakers were Dr. W. A. McIntyre, Principal of the Normal School, Winnipeg, and Dr. M. S. Fraser of the Department of Public Health, Winnipeg Dr. McIntyre chose for his subject "The Child and the Community" and Dr. Fraser told of the need for the Public Health Nurse as an educator of children and parents in the ways of good health. He specially commended the efforts of the people of Souris and district who are hoping to establish a Municipal Hospital in the near future.

Community singing, vocal solos by souris artists and some splendid films shown by a representative of the Extension Department, Winnipeg, all helped to make this convention a huge success.

LUXURY TAX MAY BE PAID ONLY ON EXCESS AMOUNTS

Important Changes in Luxury Taxes Proposed by Sir Henry Drayton

TRUSTS MERCHANTS

Minister Declares it Unnecessary to Employ Army of Men to Collect Taxes

Ottawa, June 11.—Sir Henry Drayton in the House of Commons said he did not think the Government would require an army of men to collect the new Luxury Tax. The merchants of Canada were expected to do their best. He was prepared to trust the honesty of the merchants.

Ottawa, June 11.—Important changes in the luxury taxes are impending. In the House of Commons Sir Henry Drayton, Minister of Finance, indicated some changes he intends to propose. In brief they are:

(a) Boots and essential articles of clothing to be taxed 15 per cent. on the excess, instead of 10 per cent. on the total selling price.

(b) Expensive furniture, walking sticks and expensive china to be subject to luxury tax. They were not previously included.

(c) Exemption limit increased on furs, coats, caps, muffs, neck-pieces, robes and rugs.

(d) Modifications in the tax on sporting goods, velvets, velveteens, lace and braid, ribbons and carpets.

Sir Henry did not give formal notice of his proposed amendments. This will be given later. He also made it clear to the House that the taxes as laid down in the budget speech would be still in force for the present. "Nothing," he declared, "will alter the present law until the resolutions have passed the House."

Consideration of the proposed changes was referred until today, but the procedure aroused some criticism. Dr. Clark, of Red Deer, queried the minister of finance if the budget proposals were to be taken as serious proposals. Now, the minister was giving a whole list of alterations in detail.

No Changes in Principle

To this Sir Henry replied that no changes in principle were proposed. Certain luxuries were to be included which were omitted in the original resolution. Certain modifications were proposed in deference to suggestions received.

Sir Henry suggested that the tax on boots, shoes, pumps and slippers, must be raised from 10 to 15 per cent. on all of these costing over $9, the tax to be figured on the excess over $9 instead of the total cost of the articles.

Pay on Excess Only

Sir Henry submitted further amendment in regard to essential articles of clothing. Instead of 10 per cent. on the full cost, the tax on the following articles, if the present suggestions are adopted, will now be 15 per cent. on the excess.

Trousers, sold separately from suits, in excess of $12 per pair.

Coats, men's and boys, sold separately from suits, (not including leather coats lined with sheepskin) in excess of $25 each.

Cloth overcoats, men's and boy's, women's and misses, in excess of $50 each.

Waistcoats, men's sold separately from suits, in excess of $5 each.

Dresses, women's and misses (except suits) in excess of $45 each.

Suits, separate from dresses (except silk) in excess of $60 each.

Coats, women's and misses, sold separately from suits (except silk) in excess of $35.

The further stipulation is made that on articles of clothing, the selling price of material and the cost of manufacture, when sold separately are to be combined for determining the selling price. No change, Sir Henry added, was proposed on the tax on articles which might be regarded as an extravagance entirely within the control of the purchaser.

Sir Henry proceeded that he proposed to include walking sticks as subject to luxury tax. Fur coats would be exempted up to $200 value instead of $100 as provided in the original resolution.

W. D. Euler interrupted to ask in what instances taxes would be paid in the excess only.

Sir Henry replied that in the case of clothing he had previously mentioned.

The exemption on winter fur gloves would be increased to $15; on fur caps to $15; on muffs and neckpieces to $35, and on robes and rugs to $50. Knitted sweaters and sweater coats had not been included in the original resolution.

It was proposed to include them now.

COMMERCE BOARD ASKS GOVERNMENT FOR CONFERENCE

On Future Methods, if is it to Be Asked to Carry On

MEMBERS WILLING

To Deal With Greatest Combines If Given Powers and Staff

Ottawa, June 10.—Declaring that the operation of Civil Service Regulations has prevented it from carrying on effectively, the Board of Commerce, in a final report made public, asks the Government for a conference on the method in which the board is to be operated for the future, if at all.

The board asks for release from the necessity of accepting experts nominated by the Civil Service Commission. It declares its convictions that the board's first duty is to the consumer, and points out that the larger functions vested in it by the Combines' and Fair Prices Act, the investigation of combines, and the general supervision of trade processes, cannot be carried out without expert and trustworthy staffs.

Expressing their indifference from a personal standpoint, to the question of whether they remain commissioners of the board or not, they ask the Government to declare its intentions with regard to the board so that they may settle the question of their respective futures.

Full details of its activities throughout the Dominion, its hearings in Canada and the United States, for the purpose of investigating alleged profiteering or combines, and minute accounts of operation of its departments in Ottawa. Montreal, Toronto, Vancouver and its inspectors in other cities, are reported.

The present commissioners, W. F. O'Connor, K.C., and James Murdock, dissent from the opinion expressed by ex-Chief Commissioner Judge H. A. Robson, that the operations committed to the board are impossible of operation. Given the proper staffs, the report might be summed up as saying that the board will undertake to deal with anything from a continent-wide combine in restraint of trade to a corner grocer profiteer.

MILLS REFUSE TO SELL SUPPLIES TO CANADIAN PAPERS

Government Must Enact Legislation to Get Fair Deal for Canadians

Ottawa, June 10.—The Government has been unsuccessful in its efforts to secure assurance of continued supplies for Canadian newspapers now facing suspension, owing to inability to get newsprint, although quite prepared to pay the current contract prices for export to foreign countries. Legislation conserving for Canada's domestic requirements of newsprint, seems to be the only possible solution of the present crisis.

During the terrific electrical and wind storm which swept over Northwestern Minnesota and Eastern North Dakota, Tuesday night, Mrs. Wilke, mtoher of Mr. William Wilke, recently elected President of the National Editorial Association of the United States, was killed and his home in Gray Eagle, Minn., was destroyed.

Those who had the opportunity of meeting some of the American editors and their wives when they were in Brandon last August will remember Mr. and Mrs. William Wilke and their small son, William, junior, who were with the party.

So far the total death list as the result of the storm is seven.

ATTACKING ROOT OF DISEASE

Wide extended usefulness in preventing disease on its human side is closely allied with the movement, just started, to control and eventually to up-root disease in Canadian livestock. Indeed, it may turn out to be one of the most beneficial features of the plan to combat disease in livestock by the co-ordinated efforts of Dominion and Provincial Governments, farmers and ranchers.

The public has, within the last few years, been awakened to the enormous loss of human life, shown to be a greater mortality than that of war, resulting from tubercular disease. Yet the transmission of tuberculosis from farm products to humans has never received anything like the attention it demands. Physicians have fought the disease in every conceivable way except one. Clinics have been opened in all large centres; expensive sanitoria have been built; preventative treatment has been widely taught through nursing institutions and even the public schools. It may be that none of these have struck so radically at the root cause of the human disease—the presence of tuberculosis in domestic livestock—as the movement to eradicate disease from among farm animals.

An encouraging beginning has been made. A definite plan of work has been framed to co-ordinate the effort to combat disease in animals. It will be plain to farmers and stockmen that better prices will follow the raising of better stock—better because healthier, more robust animals which will feed well and make heavier weights in return for the expenditure of feed and labor.

The Diminion Minister of Agriculture, Dr. S. F. Tolmie, speaking in the House of Commons on May 14th, stated that the intention was to establish small centres of accredited, disease free herds. By this means the Health of Animals Branch hopes to eliminate tuberculosis from Dominion pure breds

When it is remembered that over one billion dollars are invested in livestock in the Dominion, it will be plain that if a saving of only one per cent. can be effected by the prevention of disease, it represents a value of ten million dollars to Canadian farmers.

NOW FOR THE SLAUGHTER

The Manitoba Department of Agriculture has put out a special poster proclaiming rooster week, June 21st to 26th, advising owners of roosters to either eat the birds, sell or confine them. The poster declares, and the public concurs, that the Province of Manitoba pays thousands of dollars annually for the privilege of hearing the rooster crow all Summer long. The reasons set forth for this slaughter are that fertile eggs will spoil in warm Summer weather and that tremendous losses are due to heated eggs, partly hatched eggs, mouldy, black rots, addled and dirty eggs.

This looks like a formidable indictment of the rooster. Added to this is the city dwellers plaint that his sleeping porch resounds from early morn till long after a decent rising hour with the challenges sent forth by roosters in neighboring back yards. The crowing rooster is the one grouch the average peaceable citizen has against the poultry fancier.

SHORTER HAUL, HIGHER FARES

The adoption of a higher schedule of fares for the Street Railway is a move by the City Council that will be generally commended. The Street Railway has been losing money. The manager has suggested more than once, and in doing so he has said what is commonly believed true, that operation of cars at low fares over long unproductive distances, is adding unnecessarily to mounting costs of operation. The logical thing is being done. One long haul that has been notoriously non-productive of revenue, showing that the service is not needed, is to be reduced. Fares are to be raised.

Brandon is not alone in increasing Street Railway fares. In many cities in Canada, fares on street railways have been increased, some once and other, more often. None but a public owned and operated system would reduce fares in an effort to increase revenue to meet mounting costs. The increased fares are to apply on Monday, June 21st and thereafter. They mean an increasing use of copper coins and this is an objection in the minds of many. It may however prove a blessing.

Adoption of the policy of eliminating notoriously unprofitable lines and increasing the fares will have many critics. It should be given a fair trial and judgment pronounced according to the results.

BRAVO GEDDES

There is no trace of the too common "crimes of adjectives" in the address of the British ambassador, Sir Auckland Geddes, at George Washington University commencement.

"So far only the swell of the storm centred in Europe laps your coast," declared Sir Auckland. "Yet your daily press is already filled with news of strikes, what is vaguely called industrial unrest. We all know that it was your tradition to keep clear of European entanglements. Here is a European entanglement that is already spilling the waters on your social beaches, a disentanglement of the complicated interweaving of man and man in the social fabric."

In Europe, said the British ambassador, it is known that an age is dying. Here in America, he added, the signs are not easy to read, but the indications are hardly to be doubted. "A realization of the aimlessness of life lived to labor and to die, having achieved nothing but avoidance of starvation and the birth of children also doomed to the weary treadmill, has seized the minds of millions." This is a blunt but accurate diagnosis of the malady that affects the mentality of greater masses of mankind.

The next fifty years are going to be either "the most glorious or the most disastrous in the history of the world," declares this alert diagnostician. The present generation cannot hope to see "a successful end to the world revolution now in progress."

In this turmoil what is to be kept in view? Three essentials are named—beauty, service, truth. Lose one or two of these and the ship of civilization staggers. Lose all three and civilization is gone. Babylon, Egypt, Rome tell the story.

Such an address with its marshaling of vital truths displays an unblinking courage that has an arresting quality quite unusual in these days of much megaphoning of platitudes and howling of raw prejudices.

This is no time for anything but free and open exchange of one's deepest definite reactions to the slow-heaving, irrepressible tide of events

Bravo, Sir Auckland Geddes, says the Chicago Daily News.

ONE KIND OF AN ALDERMAN

Woodstock, Ontario, rises to great distinction through the public services of one of her aldermen, who has astonished his fellow citizens, and thousands who live in less favored localities, by announcing that next Spring he will build twenty-five houses, and that he will refuse to rent any of them to families with less than six children, and that families with twelve children will be entitled to and will receive the very lowest rental.

Could Woodstock or any other community in Canada be given a more impressive lesson in practical patriotism. Little wonder that one of the outside telegrams reaching Alderman Malcoln Glaves reads:

"The man who proposed medals for mothers cannot compare with you in your patriotic decision re your stand unique as it is among landlords. As a father of seven, would suggest that you spread your gospel abroad, as much as lies within your power. Would like you to inject some of your patriotism into some of the London landlords."

We have an alderman or two, but none to go the Glaves route. On the contrary, at least one doesn't believe in working anybody's head off in the effort to add population to the city; at least, he has been heard to say that our present population is quite good enough for all purposes—that more people would require more schools, more responsibilities, and more expenditures on civic account. As more people would require more houses, the logical deduction is that citizens of his bent of mind would not throw up their hats over the promise of several hundred additional houses.

The puzzle is how that Woodstock alderman brought himself to his present state of mind. He has blazed a trail in community development. Will he be followed by any citizen in Galt? —Galt Reporter.

THE RUSSIAN SYSTEM

There is an ever widening breach between the radical factions of British Labor and the real Bolshevists. British Labor leaders who so loudly championed "direct action," and control of the Government by a Labor "Soviet" consisting of a Council representing the big unions are remarkably quiet. It is not the lack of sympathy on the part of the British people that is responsible, for these men believe that through agitation they can accomplish their ends.

From Russia comes the real check to the attempts to spread Bolshevism in Britain. Lenine and Trotzky have found it necessary to introduce a military system. The industries were taken over by Soviet agents, operating heads found and the necessary labor secured by a draft. The workers in the "people's commissars" are recruited by force, and, in turn, those round up the labor. The rule has been established, no work no food. The Russian Communist party in convention recently passed resolutions directing the co-operation of members in drafting labor. "Mass mobilization for labor conscription," it says, "must from the very beginning be placed on a correct footing. In every case of mobilization, the number of mobilized persons must be in accordance with the number of implements required, the amount of work to be done and the place of concentration. It is also of the utmost importance that labor detachments formed of mobilized persons should be provided with technically competent and reliable instructors. Also, every labor detachment must include a nucleus of Communist workers, mobilized during the party mobilization. In other words, in forming these detachments we must adopt the same policy as when forming the Red army."

It is no wonder that British leaders who would like to urge semi-Bolshevism, hesitate to do so. They know full well what would be their fate should they do so now that there is indisputable evidence of the fruits of the system they favor. Benjamin Turner, member of the British delegation to Russia, who returned to London this week, declares that fifty per cent. of the people in Soviet Russia are hungry.

In Canada, too, there is less talk of direct action than there was for some months, one year ago. The Canadian Labor leaders who were duped into the service of the arch-plotters have had their eyes opened, and the others—the Bolshevists—are keeping silent.

VIRDEN TALENT MAKES BIG HIT IN LIGHT OPERA

A large and enthusiastic audience greeted the Virden Operatic Society at the Willis Theatre Monday evening when they presented the Chimes of Normandy in a very artistic manner. The Chimes of Normandy is a light opera in three acts and was produced under the direction of Mr. John Davis, an experienced English opera producer. Each member of the cast enacted his part in a most skilful fashion and great credit is due the members of the chorus. Splendid lighting effects and appropriate scenery added much to the play. Too much cannot be said of the excellent manner in which the orchestra handled the musical score.

The role of Serpolette, the good-for-nothing, played by Mrs. Orville Anderson was enacted with great skill. Mrs. Anderson possesses a lyric soprano voice which, coupled with her clear enunciation won the appreciation of the audience. Germain, the lost Marchioness, acted by Mrs. D. M. Kydd, quickly won the hearts of those present with her charming personality and pleasing voice. Mr. John Davis, in the part of Gaspard, the miser, was all that could be desired. Mr. J. V. Harrison as Henri, Marquis of Corneville and Mr. W. Nunns as Jean Grenicheaux, a fisherman, performed their parts in a masterly fashion. Another member of the cast worthy of special mention was Rev. G. W. Findlay, who took the role of the Bailli.

A feature of the production was the excellent chorus work. Although all the choruses were much enjoyed by those in attendance "Ding Dong," "Just Look at That and Just Look at This," and "Silent Heroes," called forth hearty applause, the "Just Look at That and Just Look at This" chorus demanding an encore.

Much praise is due the director of the Operatic Society for the finished manner in which the production was put on.

BECKETT AND BURNS MATCHED

London, June 14.—Joe Beckett, the champion of England, and Tommy Burns, ex-champion of the world, have signed articles for a twenty round bout here on July 16th.

Burns left Canada for England in April with the fixed purpose of securing a young boxer and training him for some bouts with the world's best fighters. Apparently Burns still thinks he possesses some of that ability which carried him to the top of the boxing world, and made him a world's champion. Very foolishly he let Jack Johnson step into the ring with him at Melbourne and the championship drifted away from the Canadian fighter. Burns retired after this, and has been out of the ring for years. Beckett, although he holds the English championship, by reason of victories over Bombardier Wells, is only a second rater, having been knocked out by Carpentier within the first round. But they all want to come back, hence the fight on July 16th.

HARDING CHOICE OF CONVENTION TO LEAD REPUBLICANS

In Battle of Wealth, Wit, Ballots for President of the U. S.

A REAL DARK HORSE

Breaks Deadlock Between Wood and Lowden—Coolidge His Running Mate

Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio was the choice of the Republican National Couvention in Chicago for the presidency of the United States. Senator Harding only entered the convention four days ago and at the end of the fourth ballot he had just sixty-one votes. His vote soon crept up however and at the time of the seventh ballot he had obtained a total of 105; at the end of the eighth 133 1-2; the ninth, 374 1-2 and the tenth 695 1-5. After a hard fight in the beginning, Harding succeeded in breaking the deadlock between Wood and Lowden and many states swung over in partial or complete surrender to Harding. Kentucky an almost entire Lowden state, flopped completely into the Harding column.

Governor Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts won the nomination for Vice-President and upset the plan of the Harding supporters to give Senator Lenroot this place.

The official results at the end of the seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth ballots for the four leaders were: Harding, 105; 133 1-2; 374 1-2; 695 1-2. Lowden, 311 1-2; 307; 121 1-2; 10. Wood, 312; 299; 294; 155. Johnson, 99 1-2; 87 1-2; 82 1-2; 80 4-5.

HAIL DAMAGE SUNDAY EVENING

In Section Between Miniota and Varcoe—Fine Rain in Brandon

A hail storm, about seven o'clock Sunday night did considerable damage in the district between Miniota and Varcoe. Windows were broken in several buildings and houses, roubarb and small plants smashed to a pulp and the grain beaten into the ground. The grain in this district was not very far advanced and the farmers are of the opinion that it will come up again. The storm was not of long duration but was of terrific violence while it lasted. A small amount of hail fell in the Forrest district but did no damage.

This storm seems to have been confined to the area North of the city. In the Hayfield district it did not rain until late this morning and was just what the farmers needed to advance their crops.

After the sultry day the rain Sunday evening and this morning in Brandon did a great deal of good to the gardens. Mr. Harry Brown, who is an authority on horticulture, stated this morning that there had been more growth Sunday than on any ten days previously this year.

BIG TOURNAMENT WILL DRAW MANY CRACK SHOTS HERE

The tournament has been duly registered with the American Trapshooting Association, and the scores will be recognized as official, and will find a place in the records for the season. Trapshooters from all over Manitoba and the West are expected to come here for the tournament, and many record scores will probably be made during the day.

There will be ten events on the program and some good prize money is being offered for the various events. There will be 175 targets shot at during the day's shoot, ranging from ten to twenty-five pigeons for the different events. The shoot is to be held on the present quarters of the Gun Club, South of the C.N.R. tracks and East of First Street. The Club's committees are preparing for a record number of out-of-town visitors for the tournament, several prominent trapshooters in the Province having already signified their intention of attending.

UNION WORKERS TO PREVENT WARS IN THE FUTURE

UNION MEMBERSHIP

In Great Britain to Be 6,000,000 by Next August—Warning Issued

Montreal, Que., June 14.—An International organization of all union workers of the world to further their aims and prevent another world war, was advocated by J. W. Ogden, fraternal delegate of the British Trade Union Congress in an address before the American Federation of Labor convention. He warned the Federation however, that they must ignore any international similar to that formed in Russia and other countries. He predicted that the British Congress would have a membership of 6,000,000 workers by next August. This is an increase of one million from last year, and asserted that the spirit of the organization is sweeping England and the "non-unionist is almost extinct."

It is probable that the United States will not ratify the League of Nations, President Samuel Gompers declared in addressing the convention. He said, that if the covenant was submitted to the United States people without any other entangling questions, it would be overwhelmingly accepted.

SHOWN IN 3 RINGS — AERIAL ENCLAVE — HUGE HIPPODROME TRACK — 2 ELEVATED STAGES

SEED PURCHASING COMMITTEE WORK TO BE CONTINUED

Ottawa, June 9.—Abnormal conditions throughout the prairie provinces during the past two years have led the Federal Government to decide on a continuation of the Dominion Seed Purchasing Commission it was announced by Dr. S. F. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture. This means that the Government since the commission was established in 1916, has done business with the farmers of the country to the extent of approximately fifteen millions of dollars. The actual balance sheet, just completed by the Department and covering the three years to September last, shows $11,896,540.96 advanced to the Seed Purchasing Commission on the authority of the Minister of Agriculture.

On that date there had been refunded to the Receiver-General $11,903,437.76, and in addition the commission held assets, including seed grain in storage, amounting to $51,185.04. Referring to the need for a continuation of the work of the commission, Dr. Tolmie goes on to show that the money advanced for the past season's business amounted to $3,800,000 over $3,200,000 of which has already been returned to the Receiver-General. The final accounting of the year's business may not be completed before September, but the estimated balance at the end of May gives promise of the total amount being returned to the public treasury, an exceedingly satisfactory state of affairs, according to the Minister.

DESCRIPTION OF MISSIONARY WORK IN SOUTH CHINA

Miss M. Aikenhead Gave Graphic Description of Her Experiences

A most interesting and instructive lecture was delivered Wednesday night in the Congregational Church by Miss M. Aikenhead, a missionary from South China, now home on furlough. Mayor Dinsdale acted as chairman on this occasion and gave the visiting missionary a hearty welcome to this city, and also offered a prayer for the welfare of the work in China.

Miss Aikenhead gave a graphic description of her call from God to this work; of her departure from this country to the Orient in 1914 and her first impressions of the people in Honolulu, Tokio and Hong Hong. Many curios were exhibited during the address and a friend appeared in the national costume of China.

Continuing her address, Miss Aikenhead told of the Christian work being accomplished in China and the great need for the continuance of effort along these lines. She stated that from the time she first entered China she felt at home there and now in the midst of her much needed furlough she is joyfully anticipating her return to that far off land and expects to sail again as soon as the most intense heat of the Oriental Summer is passed.

Several of the Chinese boys residing in Brandon who came from the South China district were present at the lecture and were delighted when Miss Aikenhead conversed with them in their own language.

MISSING TRAPPER FOUND AFTER A GREAT SEARCH

Prince Albert, Sask., June 9.—After a 2,000-mile patrol of the far North, Constable Chappius, of the Saskatchewan Provincial police, successfully located Jess Brooks, a trapper, who had been missing since last August. In December Indians reported to Chappius at Ile a La Crosse that a trapper on Cree river was missing and had not been seen since August. Fearing foul play, Inspector Tait ordered Chappius to scour North. Chappius left in January with a dog team, and after four months' search found Brooks' traps lying on Cree river, where they had lain untouched for six months. He continued his search, and Tuesday a wire was received at police headquarters that he had found Brooks alive and well, at Jelwyn lake, many miles from the original trapping ground.

MERCHANTS BANK'S NEW CAPITAL WELL EMPLOYED DURING THE PAST YEAR

The growth of the assets of the Merchants' Bank of Canada during the year ending April 30, was so rapid that even the increase of $1,400,000 in the capital stock scarcely caused any change in the ratio of capital to total assets. The increase in capital was exactly 20 per cent., while the increase in assets was 18.40 per cent.

The assets are now over 197 million dollars, being nearly 31 million dollars in excess of the previous year. Of this growth the sum of $24,900,000 is accounted for by the growth of deposits, representing in the main the savings of clients of the bank, and totalling over 163 million dollars.

The bank's liabilities to the public are now just under 180 million dollars. Against these the bank holds liquid assets of 72½ million dollars, representing a ratio of nearly 40.81 per cent.

TWO CONVICTS MAKE BREAK FOR LIBERTY FROM ST. VINCENT DE PAUL PEN.

Montreal, June 9.—Garry and Forques, two convicts in St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary, who were serving sentences of four and two years respectively for theft, made a daring break for liberty Tuesday afternoon. These men and about forty other convicts were working in a quarry not far from the prison, when they asked the guard for permission to sit in the shade for a while. Permission being granted, they had started for the trees which surround the quarry, but as soon as they got near them they suddenly made a dive for the underbrush and disappeared. Forques was recaptured a littie over an hour after he had escaped, but Garry is still at large.

THREE DEAD AS RESULT OF COAL OIL EXPLOSION

Woman Pours Oil on Fire and Explosion Destroys Home—Husband Badly Burned

Regina, June 9.—Mrs. John Evans, her two daughters, one aged three years and the other an infant just a few months old, are dead, and Mr. Evans is in the hospital suffering from severe burns as a result of a coal oil explosion in their home at Tribune Sunday afternoon. A report of the case has been received at Provincial police headquarters here.

Fatally Burned

From information secured from Inspector Simpson of the Weyburn detachment of the Provincial Police it appears that Mrs. Evans had a two gallon can of coal oil in her hands and was pouring it on a smouldering fire in the kitchen range when the can exploded. She was badly injured by the explosion and her clothes caught fire and she was fatally burned before assistance reached her. She died on the way to the hospital. Her eldest daughter, aged three years, managed to escape from the house through the front door, but before she did so she was severely burned and died a short time later. The baby was burned in bed.

Attempted Rescue

Mr. Evans made a heroic attempt to save his wife and children and in doing so sustained severe burns himself and his condition now is very critical. The fire which followed the explosion completely destroyed the Evans' home. They had been living in the house only a short time.

BRANDON NEEDS AN INCINERATOR

A strong recommendation that the city take immediate steps to build an incinerator has been made by the City Health Inspector, A. G. Warr. The cost of the disposal of the refuse would be considerably lessened by the establishment of an incinerator on a central site, and the menace to health conditions under the present condition would also be done away with. Mr. Warr has recommended that failing the erection of a first class incinerator, that a temporary one could be built for a very small outlay of money, and that this would save money.

According to the report made by Inspector Warr, the collection and disposal of garbage for 1919 cost the city $18,579.55. The material is deposited on the nuisance grounds North-East of the city and the mileage for each load is figured out as four miles, with each team hauling five trips a day, or a total distance of twenty miles a day for each team. In order to reduce the cost of the disposal of refuse, it is proposed to reduce the distance of haulage, and this can be done with the location of an incinerator in a central location. A suitable location for this would be on Fifth street and Pacific Avenue, according to Mr. Warr. The hauling distance would therefore be decreased by one-half, and would mean a considerable saving to the city.

The installing of a modern incinerator would be very expensive according to figures submitted. A Reid Incinerator, on which the city secured prices in 1914, would now cost about $27,500. For use in the city of Saskatoon, a small incinerator has been invented and is now in use, which could possibly be built for about $1,500, but it would not be a permanent one. Another incinerator has been suggested by W. M. Scott, the consulting engineer, which is now in operation in Kitchener, Transcona, Fort William, Windsor and other cities, and this has been found to be very satisfactory.

The method of disposal of refuse on the nuisance grounds does not meet with the approval of the Sanitary Inspector. Material is thrown down on the open ground and is not even covered, according to Mr. Warr. He states that it is not only a menace to the health of the community, but is a public nuisance. The ground is overrun with rats, while the flies are very bad. It is suggested that if incineration cannot be erected in the near future that a man be placed on the nuisance grounds to see that all material is immediately buried, and the ground kept in a sanitary condition.

PAYMENTS TO INDIAN AGENTS

Ottawa, June 9.—The amount paid to Indian Agents in Ontario and Quebec is annually $19,370, said Hon. Arthur Meighen when the House of Commons was in committee on estimates of the Department of Indian Affairs last night. In the prairie provinces, it is $136,165. The Indian population of the prairie provinces is 34,348, he said.

SASKATCHEWAN CROPS ARE IN FINE CONDITION

Government Report is Being Encouraged—Report on Grasshopper Situation

Regina, June 9. — A crop report issued this week by the Bureau of Statistics of the Provincial Department of Agriculture shows that the wheat is growing very fast and that the seeding of oats, barley and flax is approaching completion. An abundance of moisture is reported by all districts heard from and the outlook for the grain crops is described as excellent. Crops thought to have been blown are reviving under favorable conditions. Grasshoppers are reported to be hatching in large numbers in many sections of the province. Outlook is the only point, however, at which they have done any damage to date, according to the report, and the damage there is not general.

Commenting upon the grasshopper menace, H. L. Lovering, of the field crops branch of the Department of Agriculture, states that arrangements have been completed by the Government, working hand in hand with the municipalities, that should prevent the pest from committing widespread damage in the province this year. The districts that were affected by grasshoppers last year have been under divisional field directors, who have been on the ground for some time, organizing the various municipalities in preparation for the anticipated outbreak. These directors have installed central mixing stations, where the poisoned bait is mixed under their supervision and then distributed to the farmers, and have organized combat divisions that include every essential factor from scouts, who patrol the land and report outbreaks to the men who sprinkle the poison.

"The hatch is just now becoming general," said Mr. Lovering," and everything points to tremendous possibilities of damage unless the war against the grasshoppers is waged to the knife. The necessary supplies have been shipped to all the districts requiring them. They are already on the ground. A large quantity of supplies is also on hand in Regina and can be sent out as needed.

"The wide extent of territory affected this year and the enormous number of eggs in evidence and the way in which they are not hatching indicate that the farmers are up against the stiffest fight of this sort that they have ever had to wage in Saskatchewan," added Mr. Lovering. "There is no reason, however, why they should not win out against the grasshoppers if they make use of the organizations perfected for their assistance. There is no sense in minimising the danger in which they stand. It is a very real and a very great danger, and it can be destroyed only if every farmer whose crop is threatened gets out and does his bit. It can be destroyed if every farmer does this."

BRITISH COLUMBIA TO CHANGE THE RULE OF THE ROAD

When This is Done Intricate Feat of Engineering Must be Undertaken

COSTLY UNDERTAKING

For the Street Railway to Change Cars, Wires, Rails and Switches

Vancouver, B.C., June 9.—When at a date yet to be indicated by the Lieutenant-Governor of the province, British Columbia falls in line with the rest of the American continent and changes the rule of the road from left to right, one of the largest and most intricate feats of engineering in the history of street railway operation in Canada will confront the British Columbia Electric Railway Company, costing anywhere from five hundred thousand to one million dollars. Large crews of men will have to work at least 150 days in Vancouver, probably somewhat less in Victoria where the problems are not so involved.

All cars, with the exception of the interurbans are built to conform with the "keep to the left" rule, and to change the rule of the road does not simply mean turning the cars around and running them on the other track. Many replacements must be made.

All switches must be taken up and new ones installed, but perhaps the most delicate operation involved will be the rectifying of trolley wires, which do not follow the natural curves of the car around the track, but are adjusted to the swing of the car.

As a result of the change a large influx of automobile tourists eager to view the splendors of the Sunset Province, and undtrrd by fear of accident, is expected.

APPLICATION FOR AN INCREASE IN FREIGHT RATES

Predicted by Canadian Manufacturers' Association Transportation Expert

Vancouver, June 9.—An increase in freight rates of which some idea might be gained by freight rate increases in the United States, is predicted for Canada by S. B. Brown, of Toronto, Assistant Manager of the Transportation Department of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. Mr. Brown is in Vancouver to attend the convention of the Association.

"The $33,000,000 deficit of the Canadian National Railways during the past fiscal year may be considered the biggest single agency liable to bring about an increase," said Mr. Brown, "but another and not so generally known is that the C.P.R., the king among railroads as far as efficiency is concerned, boasted a net surplus of about $840,000 in the past year's operation.

"This is, in the opinion of transportation men, far too small. The C. P. R.'s proportion of operation expenses to revenue ran somewhere in the neighborhood of 85 cents to the dollar, when American railway economists insist that 70 cents to the dollar is getting to the danger point.

"So when the superior organization of the C.P.R. compared to the average American road at the present time is considered, it is clear that the C.P.R. will also be forced to look for an increase in rates,"

Asked as to the probable increase to be asked for, Mr. Brown was cautious. "The American roads applied for an increase of from 26 to 30 per cent., which according to their financial statements, seems justified, but I scarcely think that when the Canadian roads ask for their increase they will expect that much, although it is declared that 50 per cent. more revenue would hardly place the Government roads on the right side of the ledger. Even counting the G.T.P., a colonization road and not as a commercial proposition.

"As to when the application will be made, I do not know. In the East, it is expected soon."

Mr. Brown is an expert traffic man and before being engaged by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association to untangle freight rate cases, was connected with the traffic department of Canadian Railways for several years.

CORNWALLIS AND WOODWORTH BUSY BUILDING ROADS

In Woodworth 103 Miles of Good Roads Being Built at a Cost of $195,000

Good road work in Cornwallis municipality is being rushed to completion and the portion of the highway in this municipality from Brandon to Hall's Bridge is just about finished. At present a gang is working on the Lake Clementi road.

A splendid amount of road building will be accomplished this year in Woodworth Municipality. Eighty teams are at work in this locality where 103 miles of road will be built at a cost of $195,000. The main highway will be from Hall's Bridge to Virden and when the Brandon-Hall's Bridge road is completed the Brandon-Virden highway will be equal to any in the middle West. Gangs are at work at present building the road from Oak Lake to Kenton and will soon be finished, while others are working on the Griswold-Harding road. Woodworth is well advanced in its progress of road work and every farmer seems to realize what a boom good roads will be to that district.

Whitehead Postpones Action

No road work will be done in Whitehead Municipality this year, which means that the Brandon-Virden road will not be completed until next year, as about eighteen miles of this highway runs through the Whitehead Municipality. This Municipality took up the matter of good roads but found that their assessment was not high enough to allow debentures to be issued to cover the cost of the program of good roads planned by the engineer. The plan was to build about 92 1-2 miles at a cost of about $107,000. Rather than change the splendid plan suggested, it was thought best to postpone the work until next year.

CRERAR PROPOSES CHANGE IN LUXURY TAX COLLECTIONS

Providing Tax Payment at Source Instead of From the Purchaser

CONDEMNS SYSTEM

of Collection Through Retailer—Amendment Defeated 39 to 25

Ottawa, June 12.—Shortly before midnight Friday, while the luxury taxes were still under discussion, the Hon. Mr. Crerar moved an amendment to have the taxes collected at the source instead of from the customer. The tax, so Crerar's amendment provided, shall be paid by the manufacturer or wholesaler at the time of sale, or on importations at the time of importation, in addition to duties of customs already imposed.

Crerar said this system of collecting through the retailer would prove inadequate and clumsy. There were something like 2,500,000 retail stores in Canada, and if every merchant made honest returns there would have to be a huge staff at Ottawa to check the 2,500,000 invoices.

Crerar's amendment was defeated 39 to 25, a Government majority of 14. It was a straight party vote. The National Progressives and the Liberals voting for the amendment. Progress on the resolution was then reported.

STEWART WINS APPEAL CASE

Grain Company Ordered to Pay for Wheat Facey Did Not Settle For

A unanimous judgment in favor of the plaintiff was handed down by the Court of Appeal in the case or Alexander Stewart vs. James Richardson and Sons Limited. This was an action commenced by James Stewart of Griswold for the purchase price of a car of wheat. Stewart delivered the wheat to the Brandon Grain Company, with the bill of lading drawn in his own name. One, A. J. Facey, who was then manager of the Company, improperly assigned the bill of lading to the defendants, and received payment, which he did not turn over to Stewart.

The Grain Company claimed that Facey was Stewart's agent in making the assignment, and the case was tried in Brandon early in 1919 before Mr. Justice Macdonald. A judgment was given at that time to the plaintiff, Mr. Stewart. The Grain Company appealed to the Court of Appeal, who on Friday handed down an unanimous judgment in favor of Stewart and dismissing the appeal of the Grain Company, holding all points in favor of the plaintiff.

GREAT VICTORY FOR SINN FEIN IRISH ELECTIONS

Out of 699 County Councils Sinn Feiners Alone Control 525

Dublin, June 12.—Complete returns in the County Council elections show the Sinn Fein victory greater than was expected. This was owing to the compact between the Sinn Fein and Labor not to oppose each other in Leinster, Munster and Connaught, while in Ulster there was a similiar compact between the Nationalists and the Sinn Feiners to make common cause against the Carsonites.

Out of 699 seats, the Sinn Fein as a distinct party, won 525, while the combined forces of Sinn Fein, Labor and Nationalists captured 590 seats.

GREYS FURNISH ERRORLESS BALL TO WIN GAME

Playing their first errorless ball of the season, the Brandon Greys added another win to their record Thursday evening by defeating the Oak Lake team in a good game 8-1. It made the sixth straight win of the season for the Greys, but they had to do some opportune batting to chase across enough runs to tuck the exhibition away. They were aided in this by some poor infield work on the part of the visitors in the first three innings, but the Oak Lake nine settled down to a good steady game after the fourth and provided the feature fielding stunts of the evening.

Carpenter who did the knolling for the visitors used a speedy ball to advantage during the game. He kept the Greys from registering as many extra base clouts as has been usual for them recently, while he would have had a much closer game but for some loose work in the infield during the early part of the game. Crawford had the game well in hand at all stages, the Oak Lake team nicking him but for three hits.

Some feature fielding was done by the Oak Lake team in which Storey shone brilliantly. The left fielder of the visitors was in a fly catching mood and he robbed both Cousley and Crawford of long hits by nice running catches. His spear of Cousley's liner was a particularly good piece of work. Storey batting the ball into the air and grabbing it again before it hit the ground. Strong in centre also made a nice catch of a hard hit ball.

The Greys had an easy night of it in the field, the outfielders handling three chances. The infield section of the Brandon team were working nicely, Stuart on short covering a lot of ground and nailing some runners at first by some pretty throws. Only one extra base wallop was recorded during the evening, Storey hammering one to left field good for three bases. He was left stranded on the third cushion however as the succeeding batters were unable to hit the ball out of the infield. Only eight men were left on the bases during the game which was played in one hour and fifteen minutes.

After the Oak Lake team had gone scoreless in the first, the Greys opened the proceedings by pushing across one counter. Three errors and one hit did the trick. The visitors evened the count when Strong made a hit, went to second on an out, travelled to third the same way, and scored on a close decision at home. McCarthy hit to Crawford who tossed to Cochlan, but the play favored the Oak Lake runner. The Greys took the lead in the third when two hits and an error, coupled with a stolen base, counted two for the Brandon nine. The winners pushed across four more in the sixth on some solid bingling and made it "eight" in the seventh inning with another lone tally by Wilkinson. The visitors only had two runners on the bases after the fourth inning.

There was quite a large crowd aut to see the game, and the fans were well pleased with the exhibition. The following is the box score and summary of the game

New York, June 12.—One man armed with a revolver and another with a knife fought an uneven duel in a lonely spot in East Fifteenth Street here last night until the knifeman had been killed. UCCESSION OF TIMELY HITS WIN GAME FOR GREYS

Souris Team Puts Up Good Battle for Four Innings and Then Lose Out 13-4

A succession of clean hits and one error in the fifth chased 6 runs over the plate for the Brandon Grey in their game with Souris on Friday evening and it was all over but the shouting. Grabbing a lead in the first three rounds when the Greys played their poorest ball of the season, the Souris nine looked like winning the league fixture on their own grounds and incidentally breaking the winning streak of the Greys. But the Brandon team came back strong in the closing innings and batted out their seventh straight win of the season by a 13-4 score.

BRANDON DEFEATS NEEPAWA IN FIRST LACROSSE GAME

The Brandon lacrosse team got away to a flying start in the Manitoba Northwestern League when they defeated the Neepawa team Thursday evening on the latter's grounds by a 6-4 score. The Brandon team had all the better of the play in the first two periods, and althoug outscored in the third period they managed to hold the comfortable lea dthey had established in the earlier stages of the game. For their first real game of the season the winners showed much promise and will be a hard team to beat for the league honors.

The Brandon team turned off to a good start when they notched two goals in the first period, waile holding the home team to one counter. They again dominated the play in the second period by scoring three times while the Neepawa team could only reply to one. The home team's goaler was hardly up to form so he was taken out in the final period and a substitute put in. His appearance in the game strengthened the Neepawa team, with the result that the Neepawa players gained the upper hand in offensive play. The Wheat City team felt the strenuous nature of the play, it being their first game of the season, and they were content to hold the Neepawa team in the final period.

For the winners Harry Crane scored three times, Pine got two and C. Crane one of the six goals scored for Brandon. All the players showed up well, but H. Crane, Boyer, Pine and Beaver furnished some spectacular playing, while B. Crane in goal made numerous stops that looked good as counters. For the Neepawa team, Parrott and Moore played well, their brilliant play keeping the home team in the fight at all periods.

The following were the line-ups for the game:

Brandon—B. Crane, Boyer, Beaver, McDowell, Cole, DeRouche, Mastberg, Pine, C. Crane, H. Crane. Substitutes, McKellar and Quigley.

Neepawa — Oliver, Parrott, Clyde, Priestley, Kerr, Moore, Murray, O'Donahue, McClure and McKenzie.

CANADIAN AND BRITISH VETERANS IN U.S. ORGANIZE

Chief Object is to Foster Pride in Achievements of Allies in Great War

HELP RE-ESTABLISH

New York, June 12. — (Canadian Press)—Canadian and British war veterans now residing in various parts of the United States will assemble at the Hotel Commodore, New York, during the last week in June for the first national convention of British Great War Veterans of America, Inc. This organization, launched in July, 1919, at a meeting held in Madison Square Garden, this city, has attained rapidly to numbers and importance. The New York command alone has a membership of more than six hundred, while many other cities and towns in the United States have large and flourishing branches. The Chicago command ranks second to that of New York in numbers. Lynn, Mass.; Manchester, N.H.; Bridgeport, Conn.; Philadelphia, Pa.; and Newark, N.J. each has a big enrolment, while new applications for charters are being filed constantly.

Association's Aims

The British Great War Veterans of America, Inc., enjoys the distinction of being officially recognized by the British Embassy at Washington. It is also proud of the fact that the Prince of Wales is a member, an active member, who duly qualified and who keeps up his dues. The announced aims of the association are:

To foster the spirit of pride in the achievements of the Allies in the Great War; to preserve their traditions; to bring together in close fellowship the ex-service men of the British armies; to aid and re-establish in civil life those who have fought and suffered, and are now endeavoring to secure a foothold in the business world; and to promote peace and unity between two great nations of English-speaking people.

The membership is largely made up of British and Canadian residents in the United States who enlisted in the Canadian forces and served in the Canadian uniform during the war. There is no bar to color, race or creed; but to be eligible for membership the applicant must have served under the British colors and have received an honorable discharge.

The New York command, which is the largest in the organization, recently held a most successful athletic meet in which five silver cups were competed for in special events. Two of these were presented by the Canadian Government, and one each by the British consul-general at New York, the president of the association, and the president of the Canadian club of New York. Sir Robert Borden, the British Consul-General and General Sir Arthur Currie were the patrons of the day. Club rooms have been secured, and the veterans will go in for an ambitious social program.

The officers of the British Great War Veterans of America are: President, Col. M. W. Sago; vice-president, W. W. S. Irwin; treasurer, T. G. Armstrong; secretary, Oliver Eastwood; directors, T. G. Armstrong, M. Childs, E. W. Whitwell, A. H. Gibson, F. C. Badgley, John Lewis, C. L. Richardson, Col. John A. Cooper, Canadian Government trade representative in New York, is chairman of the sports committee.

Officers are Well Known

Lieut.-Col. Sage, president, at the beginning of the war joined the C.E.F. as captain in the 56th Battalion, later being transferred to the 177th as second in command. Subsequently he was attached to the 211 Battalion, and while in England reverted to the rank of Major to go to the front. He served 18 months at the front; was wounded, and returned to Canada for treatment. While in Ottawa he commanded the Signal Training Depot. He also at one time, acted as instructor in one of the N.C.O. training schools, where some 2,500 N.C.O.'s qualified for officers under his rigid training. He was an expert rifle shot, and has participated in most of the Dominion matches in the past.

T. G. Armstrong, treasurer, a native of London, Eng., enlisted in August, 1914, and was posted to the 4th Canadian Infantry Battalion. He served with this unit until 1916 when he was invalided to Canada, returning to England the following year. He was transferred to the Cameronians, promoted to a lieutenancy on the field, and later received a captain's commission. In civil life he is connected with the Manchester Ship Canal Company.

Oliver Eastwood, secretary, enlisted in August, 1914, with the 13th Canadian Infantry Battalion (Royal Highlanders of Canada). He was wounded and gassed and returned to Canada for treatment in 1916. He was invited by the United States Government to aid in the Fourth Liberty Loan drive and also did work for the American Red Cross in New York, in connection with the drives of that organization. He was born in Montreal but has lived in New York for many years.

In the Gorral region, at the junction of the Beresina and the Dniester, a Polish detachment made a daring dash and destroyed 50 boats the Bolsheviki had prepared for crossing the river.

VIRDEN HANDS BRANDON GREYS FIRST DEFEAT

The Virden ball team, long reputed as dangerous rivals on the ball field, sprung some more ancient history on the Brandon team when they defeated the Greys in Virden on Monday night by a 9-8 score. Eight hits which were good for eight runs drove "Happy" Cornell, the Greys Southpaw off the mound in the second inning, but thereafter the Virden team could not score. With the home team receiving goose egs in their succeeding innings the Greys batled to get back the lear they had tossed away, but the win was not forthcoming. A belated rally in the ninth netted two runs and came within one run of tieing up the game.

NEW SCHEDULE OF

E. Knapp, and which showed that the $6,300 increase could be decreased by about $2,700. Mr. White said that teachers of experience should win recognition in the salary advances, and that it would not only meet the teachers in a fair way but also help to retain the staff.

Mr. Fitton said he doubted if the eight year schedule would mean a saving of $2,700, but thought that a twelve year schedule might mean a considerable saving. Asked whether this decision to be reached by the School Board was to be final or not, Mr. Maxwell stated that it was. Mr. McDougall, principal of the Collegiate, said that it was a mistake to put in a schedule which the teachers will not accept, and that dissatisfied teachers can't do good work. He also warned the Board that there would be trouble ahead if the teachers demands were not met.

That all teachers receiving less than $900 on the September, 1919. schedule be raised to the minimum $1.100 and that all grade teachers receiving $900 or more as per September, 1919, schedule, receive a raise of $250 for the year 1920-21.

Placing: 1. That the offer of the Teachers' Association to accept half the number of years' experience as a basis for placing them on the new schedule be accepted, subject to the modifications that follow:

2. That those teachers who would not attain their standing this year by the increments already agreed to in clause (b) would be raised to this standing within a term not exceeding two years.

3 That those teachers who are still $200 or less below their place on the schedule be granted full standing as per clause (3 in September, 1921.

4. That teachers who are more than $200 below their place on the schedule be granted full standing as per clause (1) by September, 1922.

Following the reading of this suggestion, Mr. Sutherland said that it would perhaps be will to have some meetings with the teachers before finally eccepting the schedule. Mr. Fitton suggested the acceptance of the suggested compromise. Dr. Condell declared that there could be no great cause for dissatisfaction among the teachers, but suggested that the teachers present in written form their salary schedule and it would then be considered by the Board. Mr. Sutherland, however, suggested that a committee of Messrs. Fitton, Condell, Spiers and Magee meet the teachers at an early date and go into the schedule in full. This suggestion carried eventually and the discussion regarding the teachers' salaries was closed.

Superintendent White's Report

The report of Superintendent White re the Public Schools shows 2,566 pupils enrolled with an average attendance however of only 79.5 per cent., the lowest mark of the year. Measles accounts for this poor attendance, however, as 633 pupils were away from school on this account during May. Mr. White gave an account of the physical display put on by the children on the Exhibition Grounds on Empire Day, and said that the pupils made a splendid showing. There are 135 pupils in the Entrance classes and Mr. White stated that about 100 of this number would pass on to the Collegiate. Promotion is now based on the year's work and not on examinations. He reported also new activities in sports and the success which attended the School's Football League and that an inter-school basket ball series will be commenced.

A report from Mr. A. Black, physical instructor in the schools, showed the work of insturction being carried on. A class is being held every twenty minutes, and as an added feature Mr. Black suggests swimming lessons for the boys. Mr. White told the Board that in fire drills held recently the slowest time it took any school in the city to empty was one minute and forty seconds. The revenue from the sport's day, Mr. White said, had been about $250 but it is not known yet what the expenses willl amount to.

At the Collegiate

Principal McDougall, of the Collegite, presented his report which showed a daily average attendance of 275. In reply to Dr. Spiers, Mr. McDougall said that the work of Mr. Harris, the Commercial teacher, is very satisfactory. Dr. Spiers said he had heard complaints, but Mr. McDougall reminded the Board that they must not take complaints seriously as so many of the pupils complained because they wanted to leave school. Regarding physical training, Mr. McDougall said that Mr. A. Files, principal of the Wellwood school, would arrive in the Fall and look after the physical training and several classes.

New Non-Glare Blackboards

Dr. Spiers said that he had received complaints regarding the glare from the blackboards in some of the rooms in the schools. Mr. Mellor offered to put in the boards and have the Board pay for them when able. This suggestion met with the approval of the Board and Mr. Mellor will be paid in 1921 for the 12 or 13 boards so installed.

A Summer School

A Summer School for backward pupils will again be conducted this year, Mr. White making the necessary arrangements for the holding of the school. A bylaw authorizing the School Board to purchase some property on the Flaats for the erection of a school, was also passed by the Board. The property will cost $1,951. Miss Struthers asked for a year's leave of absence, and the Board decided that if there is a vacancy on her return she will be given it. Miss Grantham's resignation was accepted.

Congos Give Shield

Mr. Hickling of the Congo Athletic Club, presented the shield won by the Alexandra School, and also submitted a list of regulations. The shield is to be put up for annual competition, and eight matches are to be played before the shield can be won. A guarantee of safe-keeping was given by the Board, while it is also stated that the Indian Industrial School team will be invited to take part in the games in the future.

TWO CIRCUSES COMING

Elephant barbers, well trained ponies, trained dogs, animal dancers, acrobats and tight wire walkers are just some of the wonderful things which may be seen at the John Robinson Circus which will exhibit in Brandon Wednesday June 23rd A gorgeous street pageant will proceed the two performances which will commence at two o'clock in the afternoon and eight o'clock in the evening. This is a circus of the old-fashioned kind with heaps of thrills for the kiddies and grown-ups who attend.

All the tents, red wagons, and animals together would not make a circus if the clowns were not there to make the show complete. But there will be many clowns to add to the fun of the Al. G. Barnes four ring wild animal circus which will appear in Brandon Friday June 25th. With its 1,200 animal actors, 600 people and 550 horses, all transported on fifty-two cars in two special trains, this organization presents a performance unique in the annals of circuses. The parade which precedes the performances is two miles long and will leave the show grounds at 10.30 a.m. The doors of the big show open at one o'clock in the afternoon and seven o'clock in the evening. One thing about this show is that it is a Canadian affair, all the official staff having their homes in the Dominion.

CANADIAN LOVER HELPS GIRL WHO JILTED HIM

Pays Her Passage Money on Ship With Man She Now Intends to Wed

Halifax, June 22.—When Captain R. Kitchen, of Sydney, C.B., and late of the Canadian expeditionary forces, boarded the steamship Caronia at her dock here on Saturday to greet Miss A. Butler, of Manchester, England, who had come out to marry him, he found that during the voyage, she had transferred her affections to Captain T. Mellor, late of the Guards, and said to be the son of Sir John Mellor, Bart., of London, and that no inducement was sufficiently strong to compel her to stick to her original intention. Immigration officials intervened and after numerous conferences decided that the only solution was to order the deportation of Miss Butler. This did not suit Captain Kitchen, who therefore paid the return passage of his former fiancee, and the boat proceeded to New York where, it is understood, Captain Mellor proposes to stage another attempt to wed the lady, with the aid, he intimated, of the British ambassador.

GOVERNMENT FAILS TO ENFORCE USEFUL LAWS

Declares Gen. Kirkcaldy in Address at King George School

DEVELOP RESOURCES

Of Province to Help Pay Taxes—Mrs. Jas. Munro Scores Government

An enthusiastic and well attended meeting in the interests of Brigadier General Kirkcaldy was held Monday night in thhe King George School. In a powerful address, General Kirkcaldy gave his views on many important questions, specially emphasizing the need for greater help for returned soldiers and the further development of the natural resources of Manitoba as a means of lightening the burden of taxation. Mrs. James Munro, of Winnipeg, Vice-President of the Conservative Association of Manitoba, held her audience from the commencement of her address, in which she told of of the difficulties of getting Premier Norris and his ministers to amend the laws, particularly with regard to women and children and of the colossal extravagance of the present government. Mr. W. H. Bates acted as chairman during the evening.

Constructive Effort Needed

"We must have construction, not destruction," said General Kirkcaldy. "We must avoid such strikes as occurred last year and we must have representatives ho are not out for strife, but will bring about peace. We must unite and have the co-operation of every individual to successfully develop the untold wealth of Manitoba; to provide for the children, so that they will be healthy in body and mind, and to do all that is possible for the returned soldier."

In the course of his address, General Kirkcaldy made it very clear that he never was in favor of militarism in the sense meant. He gave statistics to show the appalling unfitness of men when they were called up for service in the Great War and stated that the remedy for this unfitness lies in the children. He as heartily agreed with when he said there should be compulsory physical and medical inspection in every school in the province for all children and a remedy provided. If the children are suffering from mal-nutrition then they should be provided ith proper food. "The remedy lies in our hands," said the speaker. 'The child is the asset of the state and must develop a healthy body if it i to have a healthy rain."

Good Laws Not Enforced

In speaking of the other candidates in Brandon, General Kirkcaldy said that the charge of laxness in administration had been laid against Mr. Clement. He neither represents the Government or Brandon and does not know what the Government is doing. The Norris Government put useful laws on the statute books and then fails to live up to them or enforce them. Other charges laid against Mr. Clement were that labor had been brought to Brandon from Winnipeg to do Government work when Brandon men should have been employed. He said that the nomination of Mr. Clement was a hurried one and since then he had been asked to withdraw but refused to do so.

Mr. Smith does not represent Labor, said the speaker. The Labor party is divided. Mr. Smith has a platform, but he does not discuss it. He says laws are not intelligent. Anyone who advocates strife is an enemy to his country. Organized labor is against strife and Mr. Smith does not represent them.

The Conservative candidate spoke of the need of assisting the returned soldier who had given up the best part of his life to keep those at home out of danger and of helping the relatives of those who did not come back. In conclusion he stated that if he were sent to the Legislature he ould do all he could for the men who had done so much for those who remained at home.

Women Provided the Proof

"A great many women think Mr. Norris gave the women of Manitoba the vote. But it was the Women's Political Equality League of Winnipeg, who obtained it and secured a petition with 40,000 names upon it which they presented to Mr. Norris who wanted proof that the women of Manitoba wanted the vote. So it was no free will gift. Another act the Norris Government takes credit for, said Mrs. Munroe in her interesting address, is the Mother's Allowance Act, which was also originated by a band of women in Winnipeg, who thought the mother should be allowed to stay at home and care for her own children.

Speaking of the Dower Law, Mrs. Munro said that it helps some women but does not help others. It automatically does away with the married women's property act and by it, women who have worked for years side by side with their husband, enduring the hardships as well as he, were only entitled to a third of the husband's property up to $100,000. This Dower Law, which is the only one e have, was drawn up by Mr. Clement, of Brandon.

HON. DR. THORNTON ISSUES CHALLENGE

To Any Member of Opposition to Prove Money Misspent

A fairly well attended meeting of supporters of the Norris Government was held in the Collegiate Auditorium on Monday night when the political issues were discussed by three speakers. Dr. R. S. Thornton, Minister of Education, was present and gave an address defending the Government's administration and challenging any member of the opposition to lay a charge that could be proved against the Norris Government. Mrs. McWilliams of Winnipeg gave a talk more particularly to the women, while the Liberal candidate, S. E. Clement was the third speaker of the evening.

Dr. Thornton in commencing his address stated that the Norris Government did not want to take all the credit for the legislation enacted. Before legislation was passed, each private member of the Government had an opportunity to place the proposed acts before his constituents and therefore every piece of legislation really had the consent of the people before it became law. The speaker made a strong point of the fact that the services of the House had been utilized to the fullest extent, and that all committee meetings had been open to the public. In connection with the charges made against the present Government, Dr. Thornton challenged any opposition member to come forward and lay a specific charge. Not one had yet stated any definite charge, the Norris Government has not mis-spent one cent, said the Minister of Education.

Services rendered the people had necessarily created an increase in the expenditures, while the advanced costs of administration in the past four years was only natural in view of the advanced cost in living. With reference to the statement that $500 had been given by the Government for a dog race at The Pas, Dr. Thornton said that dogs are to the Northern people what horses are to Brandon farmers. The Winter dog race was a feature of their Winter Fair, and the people of The Pas were privileged as much to receive a grant for a dog race as Brandon was to receive a grant for the Winter Fair.

The changes that had taken place in the educational system of this Province since the Norris Government secured power, was referred to by Dr. Thornton. The disappearance of the bi-lingual system, the encouragement given to the teaching of English in every school, and the numerous grants to school districts, are placing Manitoba schools and Manitoba education in the lead of Canadian provinces, concluded the Minister of Education.

Mrs. McWilliams made an address on the legislation particularly benefitting women. She made mention of the Minimum wage law, the Mother's Allowance and the Public Nurses as advanced legislation by the Norris Government.

Mr. S. E. Clement reviewed his service as a member of the Norris Government and his work in the interests of this city. He also made reference to the record of the Norris Government and asked for the support of the electors on Tuesday.

CROP PROSPECTS IN CANADA ARE VERY FAVORABLE

Reasonable Ground for Optimism Regarding Food Production This Season

THE WHEAT CROP

In Western Canada Promises Well So Does Fruit in West and East

Toronto, June 22.—Crop prospects in Canada from coast to coast in regard to grains, fruits and vegetables, according to reports gathered by the Canadian Press Limited today, give reasonable ground for optimism as to Canada's agricultural and horticultural production for the year 1920. In the fruit growing districts of Eastern Canada the prospects are for bumper crops. Western Canadian wheat reports are optimistic. In some parts of Ontario record crops of wheat and oats are promised, while other grains are also doing well. The same is true generally speaking, of reports from Quebec and the Maritime Provinces.

Various pests are making themselves felt; Cut worms and grasshoppers being fought with every weapon known to agriculture science. There is still danger from frosts and the help problem is ever in sight, but so far as actual growth is concerned, Canada's crops, according to reports received today, are in a remarkably favorable position.

TO CRITICIZE BRITISH GOVT

On Charge of Extravagance Regarding Operations at Home and Abroad

London, June 22.—The Government this week is likely to sustain a somewhat rough handling in the House of Commons regarding expenditure. Wednesday the operations in Mesopotamia, will be criticised, also cost of proposal to re-clothe the army in scarlet. The Northcliffe group of papers for some time have been making a dead set against Austen Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer; they are now being joined by other anti-government journals.

It is asserted that the Coalitionists averse to the scarlet uniform proposal, have been officially warned that a vote against the proposal will be interpreted as a vote for a change of government.

Ex-Premier Asquith, speaking on Saturday, made a strong attack on the Government's alleged extravagance.

Many plate glass windows in Los Angeles were shattered by shock, several buildings were otherwise damaged, and persons struck by bricks from chimneys.

BEAUTIFUL DUNBAR FARM SOLD TO AMERICAN WHO FARMED NEAR REDVERS

One of the best known farms in Brandon district changed owners on Monday when Mr. W. H. Dunbar, who homesteaded in this district in '79 sold his farm to Mr. Bramnt, an American, who has been farming near Redvers, Sask. The purchase price was $25,600. Mr. Dunbar will remain on the farm until next March when Mr. Bramnt will take possession.

Coming to Brandon in 1879, Mr. Dunbar homesteaded Southeast of the city and resided there until about 1891 when he moved to North Portal. After eight years residence in North Portal he returned to Brandon Hills and has resided just North of the hills since that time. Always interested in the welfare of those around them, Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar will be greatly missed when they leave the district. Mr. Dunbar is an Elder in the Brandon Hills Church and Mrs. Dunbar is teacher of the primary class of the Sunday School and both have taken a keen interest in church work. Although it has not been definitely decided, Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar expect to make their home in Brandon after they leave the farm.

TWO QUESTIONS BEFORE CAUCUS OF UNIONISTS

Ottawa, June 22.—Sir Robert Borden announced at the close of the Government caucus today that the Government proposals under discussion were wheat control and aid to shipbuilding, under the authority of the Minister of Finance to endorse promissory notes of purchasers.

To both proposals, Sir Robert said, the caucus had given its approval. There was no discussion of the Government's naval estimates nor the leadership of the party. The caucus, he added, had taken no action on increased indemnity for members.

The question of leadership and reorganization of the Unionist party, it is stated, is to be discussed at a further caucus likely to be held Saturday next.

SPLENDID GARDEN AT JAIL ATTRACTS NOTICE

There are many gardens well advanced in Brandon for this time of year, but perhaps the splendid garden at the jail is causing more comment from citizens than some of the others. Many varieties of small vegetables sush as radishes, lettuce, peas, beets, parsnips, beans, etc. are well up and some are ready to eat. Cucumbers are in bloom in this garden, and some vines have cucumbers on them about an inch long. Citron, celery, and about 2,000 cabbages are doing splendidly and a plot about 80 by 90 feet of seed onions is also worthy of special mention. This year twice as many potatoes have been planted, about six acres altogether, and the growth considering the late season is nothing short of wonderful.

If Fighting Continues General Suffering is Bound to Occur

MORE TROOPS

Being Sent to Londonderry from Belfast—Director of Constabulary Attacked

Londonderry, June 22.—The civil war continued throughout the day with one more death, bringing the total list to eight. Troops were protecting some of the principal streets this afternoon, but enough firing was going on to terrify the citizens and keep them indoors, resulting in the stoppage of all usual business activities. General suffering is expected if deliveries of foodstuffs are not resumed soon.

Londonderry, June 22.—Firing was resumed in several parts of the city early today, after a comparatively quiet night. Several persons were killed in rioting here yesterday and scores were wounded, more or less seriously. Military forces held the streets during the night and today are guarding danger points in the centre of the city. Additional troops are being sent here from Belfast. There were no deliveries of milk or bread in Londonderry this morning.

An authoritative contradiction is given to the widely published statement that the Government contemplates a general round-up of Sinn Feiners and extensive operation of martial law. aids an darrests will only be relative to specific crimes.

FAST RACING IDEAL WEATHER BUMPER CROWD

In Every Place the Favorite Won Out In Straight Heats

Fast racing, an ideal day and a bumper crowd featured the program put on by the Brandon Turf Club, Thursday afternoon, the result being one of the best meets ever staged on the Exhibition track. There were no delays and the six race program was run off without a hitch. Another feature of the afternoon's racing bill was that the favorite had an easy time in every race, none of the races going over three heats. An East wind retarded the speeders a bit, but despite this handicap the horses stepped their winning heats in splendid time, considering that this is the initial meet of the year.

Phil Patch, a Brandon horse, formerly owned by W. E. Strange, but now the property of D. J. McDonald of Winnipeg, won the feature event on the program, the free-for-all. McDonald, who was driving Phil Patch, merely had a pleasure ride, as the fast pacer went out in the lead of all three heats and was never in any danger of being headed. The Wilkmer took second place, although it had to drop into third place in the second heat when Strathell showed a burst of speed that carried him to the second position.

Ten horses faced the starter in the fourth race, the 2.20 pace, and it remained for Helen Hal, the Yorkton entry, to give the dust to the entire field. Such a fast pace did she set in the first heat, that four horses were flagged while Dick Zena was distanced in the third heat. Friday ran second to Helen Hall in the three heats, but the winner was never in trouble at all. In the fifth race, the Black Bass, also nosed home first in straight heats, Togo Strathmore being the only horse capable of giving the Sanderson entry a run for the money. Becky Onward, after taking second position in the first heat could do nothing better than fifth place in the two remaining heats.

Bilston, owned by J. A. Shibley of Toronto had a walkover in the second race showing plenty of speed, and never being rushed under the wire. Canuck, a Brandon horse, took second money, while Gavalco secured third. The first race brought out eight entries, but E. B. Patch set the example for the remainder of the race winners by taking three straight heats. Only one running race was on the program, Chandlier, a Calgary runner taking the lead at the start and won by several lengths. He was not even extended, Little Miss, who took second, never having a look in for the lead.

STREET FIGHTING IN LONDONDERRY

Night of Terror Following Pitched Battle That Soldiers Stopped

Londonderry, June 19.—This city spent another night of terror Friday night as the result of pistol and rifle fightinb between the Nationalists and Unionists. There was a two hour battle at the river side. Comparative quiet was finally restored by the soldiery. The small police force in the city was powerless in the face of the violence of the opposing parties and the military ultimately had to be called out. The reports received by the authorities showed several men had been wounded. During the fray armed parties of both factions controlled large areas in various parts of the city. These parties stopped all pedestrians whom they searched for arms.

NATIVES OF ALAND ISLANDS WANT TO JOIN SWEDEN

Islands First Held by Sweden But Taken by Russia 120 Years Ago

New York, June 19.—The natives of the Aland Islands, which lie between Sweden and Finlad, at the mouth of the Gulf of Bothnia, are engaged in a lively agitation for reunion with Sweden, according to advices received by representatives of the Swedish Government in this country. The population of the islands is about 12,000. Formerly they were held by Sweden but they were taken over by Russia 120 years ago. After the world war a delegation from the Aland Islands presented to the Peace Conference a claim for annexation to Finland. A commission was appointed by the conference which recommended that the Archipelago be neutralized under a guarantee of the League of Nations.

Apparently this delegation did not faithfully represent the attitude of all the islanders for other Alanders have been agitating for self-determination and permission to join with Sweden since the beginning of 1918.

The Swedish Government has taken up the subject with the Powers and has asked the Government of Finland to submit the question by referendum to the natives of the Aland Islands.

According to latest accounts drawn up by a Swedish Premier, efforts to settle the matter between Finland and Sweden have failed and the Swedish Government has appealed to the Peace Conference in support of the demands of those Alanders who desire to be annexed to Sweden.

On June 1, a delegation of the County Council at Aland, empowered by 96 per cent. of the population of the Islands, visited Stockholm and was received by King Gustave. This delegation presented the demands of the islanders for their right of self-determination and their intention to reunite with Sweden, declarng that their failure to receive these rights were causing impatience and that if they were withheld while being granted to others would cause great apprehension with the Aland population.

The king assured them that Sweden was making all possible efforts to obtain a decision which would be based on the vote of the islanders themselves.

MUCH BUILDING BEING DONE IN LONDON, ENGLAND

Inrushes of Population Make Many Swift Changes Necessary

London, June 19.—London, which travellers maintain changes more slowly than any other great capital, is yielding to the necessity of providing for continued inrushes of population. There are many indications that the city is on the eve of an unprecedented era of rebuilding.

Instead of stretching further into the beautiful country lying immediately outside its bounds, the predicted building boom is likely to be a process of tightening up and levelling up, by better utilization of wasted spaces and acceptance of the American skyscraper idea.

Evidences of the last-named influence are to be seen today along London's newest downtown thoroughfare—Kingsway—near the Strand. Here a number of buildings, either built by Americans or designed for American occupancy, are in the process of construction. Shortage of skilled men in the building trades and hindrances due to England's leasehold system are the main handicaps, but the fact remains that London is verging toward marked physical changes.

COMMAND OF SEA LAND AND AIR IS BEING CHALLENGED

Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson Says Britain Entered War to Save Skins

London, June 19.—What was called a "straight talk" was given at the annual meeting of the Union Jack Club by Field-Marshal Sir Henry Wilson who described himself as "an old soldier who knows what he is talking about."

"We have been told," he said, "that we went into the war to end war. We did not. We went into it to save our skins. We are told that after the war we would have peace but we have not got it. There are at present between 20 and 30 wars, big and little, going on. We were told that the war should end war but it did not and could not.

"We are living in ticklish and dangerous times, and our command on sea, on land, and in the air is being challenged in various parts of the world."

BIG INCREASE IN PENSIONS FOR THE DISABLED

Committee on Pensions Presents Recommendations to House of Commons

TOTALLY DISABLED

Pension Raised From $600 to $900—Widows to Have $720

Ottawa, June 19.—Marked increases of pensions, state insurance for returned soldiers, and the grant of a war service gratuity based on three years' service to dependents of those who died during the war and who were in receipt of separation allowances, are the chief recommendations contained in the report of the Special Committee on Pensions and Re-Establishment, tabled in the House of Commons Friday night by Hume Cronyn, chairman of the committee.

The main pension increases are made by means of an increased bonus. The increased cost to the Dominion will be in the neighborhood of $8,000,000. The Pensions Bill for the current year is estimated at $26,000,000. The act proposed will come into effect September 1st, next, and will add nearly one-third to that amount. As the new rates will not become effective until September 1st, it is estimated that the Pension Bill for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1920, will be $31,000,000.

The private soldier in 1918, if totally disabled, received $50 amonth or $600 a year. Under the new schedule he will receive $75 a month or $900 a year. A widow will receive $720 a year against $480 in 1918. Same rates and increases will apply to widowed mothers or other dependents of deceased soldiers.

Pensions applicable to those of higher rank also have been increased by way of bonus so that pensions will equal those of the rank and file.

All pensions payable to those below the rank of Captain will be on a basis of equality under the new scale.

The committee affirms its opinion against granting further cash gratuity on the basis of war service.

The question of loans to returned men was considered by the committee but no recommendations are made thereon.

LIVESTOCK EXHIBIT FEATURE OF FAIR

Many Noted Breeders in United States Sending Entries—Speed Program Promises to Have Largest Number of Starters in History of Fair—Generous Grants Used to Augment Prize List—Exhibition Park Being Rapidly Put Into Shape for Big Week

With the Provincial Fair less than a month away, the entries in all classes are pouring into the local Fair offices, promising a new record for this year's fair. The livestock exhibit will, without a doubt, be the feature attraction at the exhibition, and the number of entries received already point not only to a new record in number, but also that the entries will be of a very high class. Two carloads of American cattle have already been entered, and Secretary Smale stated this morning that there would be a very large exhibit from stock breeders across the line.

One feature that cannot be overlooked this year is the speed program and the great trouble the Exhibition authorities will have will be to get all the horses started in the races. The entry lists are the largest ever received in the early closing events, while in those events which do not close until July 12th, there are already many entries made. In one race no less than twenty-two horses have been named, while there are nine horses named in one of the races where the entries do not close until July 12th. The list of horses in the early closing events will probably be announced on Tuesday, Mr. Smale said this morning.

Many Generous Grants

Big prize lists necessitate a large revenue, and besides the receipts taken at the gate and from concessions, the Fair Board also receive many grants. The five municipalities tributary to Brandon have again come forward with generous grants, Elton, Cornwallis and Oakland giving $200 each and Daly and Whitehead each $150. Besides these, the Dominion Government gives a grant of $5,000, the Provincial Government $10,000, and he City of Brandon, $5,000.

The Exhibition Park is rapidly being put into shape for the Fair in July. The park features have all been added to, and the new buildings will be completed in plenty of time for occupation during fair week.

A CHANCE FOR EVERY CHILD

To Receive Christian Training Objective of Religious Education Council

The pulpit of the First Methodist Church was occupied Sunday by Rev. R. O. Armstrong, Field Secretary of the Religious Education Council of Manitoba. The sermons both morning and evening emphasized the importance of Christian training of the young and making a larger effort through the Church to provide Christian leadership for all social activities. In making an appeal for support of the Religious Education Council, Mr. Armstrong explained the great need of organizing more Sunday schools and stimulating those we now have. Large sections of Manitoba are being left without church services of any kind. The aim of the Council, which is an affiliation of a number of Protestant churches, is to bring the privilege of a Christian training within the reach of every boy and girl in the province. This, the speaker explained, was a big objective and the people must get behind the organization with generous support. The appeal for the child was one of the first to which a church should respond. The Council this year is asking for a $10,000 budget, a very modest sum for a prosperous province like Manitoba. The returns for the First Methodist Church were not all in Sunday, but it was hoped that Brandon churches would exceed last year's contribution. The Provincial Sunday School Convention, Mr. Armstrong announced would be held in Brandon sometime in November. The Council is carrying out a heavy list of activities through the Summer months.

NATIONS LEAGUE MISSED GREAT OPPORTUNITIES

London, June 18—The League of Nations missed two great opportunities with regard to Russia and Persia, was the statement of Viscount Grey, in a speech last night. The former Secretary for Foreign Affairs contended that the only policy toward Russia was one of non-intervention, since Russia was too big for even all the Allies together to try to bring order in the country.

The Anglo-Persian agreement, he declared, has given the wrong impression that England was seeking her own interests in Persia. The only remedy now was to submit the agreement to the League of Nations for approval.

CANADA MAY DECLARE HERSELF INDEPENDENT OF GREAT BRITAIN

Boston, June 18.—"Canada, like Ireland, is going to declare herself independent of Great Britain within a measurable period of time," according to Lindsay Crawford, editor of the Toronto New Statesman, who spoke at the banquet in commemoration of the Battle of Bunker Hill at the Jefferson club here. "The Canadian soldiers on their return from the world war," continued the editor, "resolved that their home land shall not remain a British colony."

41 SINN FEIN COURTS IN 24 IRISH COUNTIES

Police Barracks Burned

Dublin, June 18.—Mount Pleasant police barracks, five miles from Brandon, were burned yesterday. They had been evacuated by the police two months ago, but patrols were placed on guard.

FOUR KNOWN DEAD IN VANCOUVER FIRE

Survivors Scattered As They Escaped From Burning Building and Death List May Be Larger—Balmoral Apartments Destroyed in Early Morning Fire Escape Cut Off by Flames Which Started in Basement

Vancouver, June 21.—An unknown number of persons, variously estimated at from four to ten, perished in a fire which late last night destroyed the Balmoral Apartments, a six storey building at the Southeast corner of Thurlow and Pendereil Streets in this city.

The known dead are:

Charles Dehnehy of the Pacific Steamship Company who was killed when he jumped into a net from the fifth floor.

Miss McLennan.

Two unidentified men.

As many survivors who were clad only in their night clothes, scattered as they escaped, it was impossible last night to check up the list of tenants and exactly ascertain who were missing. Early this morning however it was thought that the death list would be five men and one woman.

The fire apparently originated in the furnace room but so quickly did it spread that this cannot be positively stated. It jumped quickly from floor to floor until the flames were breaking forth from numerous windows and the roof. The startled inmates rushed into hallways but many found their escape cut off by the flames that poured up the elevator and air shafts.

GREECE GIVEN AUTHORITY TO STOP THE TURKS

Hythe Conference Decides That There Must Be Prompt Action

Boulogne, June 21.—Greece was given a free hand in military measures in Turkey, which were decided upon at the Hythe Conference yesterday, according to information here today. The premiers and their advisors found these measures required immediate action because of the grave situation resulting from Mustapha Kemal's Nationalists forces reaching the Dardanelles.

French and British troops and the British fleet will be concentrated for the defence of Constantinople and the Straits. Delegates to the Hythe Conference, it is declared, were of the opinion that taking these measures would be sufficient to deal with the situation.

Reparations and Russians Two Great Problems to Be Considered

Boulogne, June 21.—Premiers Lloyd George and Millerand, accompanied by Marshal Foch, arrived here this morning. The arrival of the two Premiers completes the delegations which will participate in conversations here today and tomorrow.

Questions relative to reparations and to Russia are expected to be the two most difficult problems. The British delegates still maintain a strong attitude regarding the manner in which the Allies should deal with Germany on reparations.

RETAIL MERCHANTS THOROUGHLY DISSATISFIED WITH NEW SUGAR ORDER

Ottawa, June 21.—"We are thoroughly dissatisfied with the new order of the Board of Commerce regarding sugar," said E. M. Trowern, Secretary of the Retail Merchants of Canada. The committee will lodge a protest with Commissioner O'Connor today.

POINTERS ON THE SUGAR ORDER BY COMMERCE BOARD

Cost of Sugar to Consumer Must Be Based on Price Paid by Retailer

Ottawa, June 21.—With reference to the Board's sugar order, the Board of Commerce suggests the public should keep in mind three points—first, that 23 cents per pound, plus freight, if any paid, is the maximum price to be charged the public. It can only be charged by those whose total stock consists of sugar purchased at an average cost of 21 cents per pound.

Secondly, other retailers must not charge more than 21 cents per pound over the average cost of all stock in hand. In many cases this averaged cost will be so low that they can sell at prices several cents below 23 cents per pound.

Thirdly, the principle of averaging the cost of all stocks on hand applies to wholesalers as well as retailers; so that considerable quantities of sugar now held by them must be released at prices which will enable retailers to continue to sell below the 23 cent maximum.

SUGAR PRICES ARE SOARING IN MONTREAL

Montreal, June 21.—It is stated that at most large retail grocery stores on Saturday that the price of sugar had gone up to 25 cents a pound. Some small grocers are however charging as high as 27 and 30 cents per pound.

CIVIL WAR IN LONDONDERRY: 6 PERSONS KILLED

Street Battle Which Commenced on Saturday is Still Raging

HUNDREDS WOUNDED

Military Unable to Quell Disorders—Sinn Feiners and Unionists Battle

Londonderry, June 21.—Rioting was renewed in this city this morning and resulted in one person being mortally wounded and two seriously hurt. Rifle and revolver firing was almost continuous, and as people feared to venture out, business was at a virtual standstill. The mob this morning openly fired on troops. At one o'clock this afternoon the rioting was still in progress.

Civil War Conditions

London, June 21.—Civil war conditions prevail in Londonderry and the authorities are powerless , an Exchange Telegraph dispatch says. Several additional persons were killed in this morning's rioting there, according to this message.

Five Persons Killed

Londonderry, June 21.—Five persons were killed, ten others seriously wounded, seven of them mortally, and about 100 others badly injured during a period of desperate rioting in this city Saturday night. The fighting was accompanied by several attempts at incediarism, one of which resulted in the burning of a large drapery store.

The rioting was a continuation of the disorders of Friday night when Nationalists and Unionists were engaged in clashes for several hours and the military had to be called out. The military remained in what were considered the danger zones, but notwithstanding its presence, the disorderly elements held sway for some time.

In many instances, persons who were suffering from minor wounds went home without receiving treatment. The authorities have no record of the number of such cases. Among the wounded are several shipyard workers, with bad gun shot wounds.

Great Precautions Useless

The authorities had taken great pecautions in view of the expected renewal of the disorders. The military, fully equipped, took positions at the head and foot of Bridge Street, which is the Nationalists quarter, and on Fountain Street, the Unionists quarters. An armored car was drawn up and Carlisle Street was guarded to keep the rival factions apart.

The hopes that these precautions would lead to the preservation of peace, howwever, were not fulfilled and another night of terror resulted. In an early stage of the battle two men were shot dead in Long Tower Street and a number of persons, including a baby in arms, were wounded.

A large crowd assembled in the non-residential quarter in the centre of the city, where fierce fighting also occurred. Two girls were among the combatants here. Armed police on duty were compelled to phone for military assistance. But before reinforcements arrived, the riot flared to grater intensity and the man went greater intensity and the firing by Unionists became so hot that people who had been seeking shelter in doorwways wewer seen to be crawling along the ground to places of safety.

A continuous Fire

Gradually the Unionists gained control of the entire district in the centre of the city, chasing the Nationalists into their own locality. In their retreat, the latter fired volleys into the Masonic Hall, the windows of which were broken. The Unionists posted small groups at vantage points and kept up a continuous fire.

The military arrived in the centre of the city at aout 11 o'clock and an armored car was moved to Bishop's Gate, whereupon the rioting subsided, although occasional shots were still heard. The Unionists left the neighborhood, singing and cheering.

There were scenes of wild disorder also in Waterloo Place, a Protestant quarter, where Nationalists for a couple of hours stopped and examined all persons who attempted to pass. Many shots were fired indiscriminately and several persons were injured Automobiles were stopped, the occupants were dragged from the car and searched.

Police Raid Shops

London, June 21.—A sergeant and six constables raided shops at Carrick-on-Shannon, County Leitrim, for food supplies Saturday after they were refused permission to make purchases in accordance with the Sinn Fein boycott against the miliary. Informed by shop keepers that the Irish Republican order could not be violated, the police served themselves with meat and milk and paid for them. They departed followed by a hostile crowd and succeeded in avoiding a collision only by rapid flight in motor cars.

Rob Mail Train

Cork, Ireland, June 21. — Armed masked men held up a mail train from Dublin Saturday morning at Buttevant Station, midway between Cork and Limerick. All official letters for the police and military authorities were seized.

TWO KILLED IN CHICAGO'S 'BLACK BELT' ON SUNDAY

During Rioting That Police Blame Upon Radical Agitator

Chicago, June 21.—Police today are searching for R. D. Jones alleged radical agitator and three negroes, in connection with the rioting in Chicago's "black belt," Sunday night, during which two white men were killed and two negroes seriously wounded. The police believe the rioting to be the result of a radical plot.

It is expected that Premier T. C. Norris will meet Mr. R. G. Willis, Conservative party leader, in a debate at the City Hall here next Saturday night. This has been officially announced at Liberal headquarters in Winnipeg but could not be corroborated in the city today. It is understood however that after plans are more definitely completed an announcement will be made regarding this event.

FOUR LIVES LOST WHEN MOTOR CAR RAN OFF FERRY

Mrs. Kinsley Floated Down Stream and Was Rescued By Galician Youth

Letellier, Man., June 21. — Four lives were lost when an automobile ran over the edge of the ferry here, into the Red river, at a few minutes after noon Sunday.

The dead are:

Joseph Knisley, a retired farmer, a resident of Darlingford, and widely known throughout the district;

His six-year-old son;

Thomas Bennett, a returned soldier, aged 27, clerk in the general store of J. F. Crosby, Darlingford; and Miss Edna Scott, aged 22 years, daughter of Police Magistrate and Mrs. James Scott, of Dominion City, teacher of the intermediate grade in the public school at Darlingford.

Mrs. Knisley, who was also in the car when it plunged into the river, miraculously escaped death, being rescued by a Galician lad, who was fishing from a boat at a point 660 yards further down the river than the scene of the fatality.

On Way to Dominion City

The party, comprising Mr. and Mrs. Knisley, their little son, Mr. Bennett and Miss Scott left Darlingford Sunday morning to spend the afternoon with Miss Scott's parents at Dominion City. They reached Letellier ferry shortly after noon, and found another car occupied by H. Macdonald and his daughter Miriam, who were returning home to Dominion City after attending service at Letellier church, already on the ferry.

Mr. Knisley ran his car on to the ferry behind Mr. Macdonald's machine. From what can be gathered he decided to draw up alongside the first car.

Upon reaching the edge of the ferry, however, Mr. Knisley failed to bring his car to a standstill and it plunged into the river.

The Macdonald party, horrified, immediately raised an alarm, but in spite of every effort that was made, Mr. Knisley, his little son, Mr. Bennett and Miss Scott sank for the last time before they could be reached by their would-be rescuers.

For some remarkable reason, which those who witnessed the tragedy cannot explain, Mrs. Knisley was carried down stream. A Galician lad, who is employed on the farm of Joseph Hule, unaware of the tragedy which had taken place at the ferry, was sitting quietly in a boat, fishing, when he was astounded to see the body of Mrs. Knisley float past him. He pulled the unconscious woman into his craft and rowed to shore. The spot where he recovered Mrs. Knisley from the water was 660 yards from the scene of the fatality.

Mrs. Knisley was taken to the farm home of Mr. Hule, where Miss Macdonald, who is experienced in nursing, rendered first aid. Although it was at first feared that life was extinct, the persistent efforts of Dr. Cloutier, of Letellier, and Miss Macdonald resulted in resuscitation.

AMERICAN LABOR MEN ENDORSE NATIONS LEAGUE

Want Peace Truly Ratified—To Use Picture Films for Propaganda

Montreal, June 21.—In spite of an outburst of feeling that wwas outstanding for bitterness and strong hatred against the League of Nations, principally because it was believed to be of British design and for British benefit the convention of the American Federation of Labor closed at seven o'clock Saturday evening by placing itself on record as endorsing the League of Nations by an overwhelming majority.

Particularly bitter was the Irish vote, and it seemed at times that the motion to endorse might be defeated. President Gompers broke his gavel trying to maintain order and was himself called to "time" for overstepping the speeh limit. The eloquence of Vice-President William Green swung the meeting around, and in the end, the endorsation by the Convention of the League of Nations was made almost unanimous.

A policy of "hands off" as regards Mexico was unanimously adopted by the convention.

Denver, Colorado, was chosen as the convention city for 1921.

The Federation has sent President Gompers ond the Executive Council to Washington to plunge into the task of fighting labor's battles for the next twelve months. The first move will be to obtain from the Democratic party at their convention in San Francisco, incorporation of labor's demands in that party's platform. The executive will also present the carrying out of the Federation's non-partisan political policy as approved at the convention.

The General Points

The general points outlined by the Labor convention were:

Ratification of the peace treaty; government ownership with democratic control of railways; curb on profiteering and high cost of living; jailing of food and clothing profiteers; right to strike and abolition of compulsory arbitration and anti-strike legislation; hands off in Mexico by the United States Government; endorsement of the Irish Republic; right of collective bargaining; advances in wages wherever necessary to maintain the U. S. standard of living; shorter working day, if necessary to prevent unemployment.

President Gompers was authorized to appoint a committee to investigate the feasibility of establishing a national labor university.

Congress was called upon by the Federation to permit the residents of the Panama Canal zone to be represented by a territorial delegate in national government.

The Federation urged the executive council to take steps to "utilize the motion picture films for the education and promotion of the ideals of organized labor."

To Issue Daily Papers

The executive council was also instructed to consider a plan which would ultimately result in labor securing control of a number of daily newspapers for the purpose of giving "fair representation of matters in which labor is concerned."

Union organizations throughout the country and all wage-earners are urged to invest in Victory bonds because of their present low prices, in a resolution adopted. They are also urged to hold all of such bonds until maturity.

The Federation pledged its support to a nation-wide campaign to union school teachers.

The Federation adopted a resolution calling upon Congress to renew the ten per cent. tax on child labor employers when the present law expires in December, and urges the enactment of "more effective" child labor legislation.

MINNEAPOLIS BALL TEAM TO PLAY IN BRANDON

On Tuesday June 29th—Double Header on Election Day

An all-star team from the Minneapolis City League will be here on Tuesday, June 29th, to play the Brandon Greys a double-header. This information was contained in a letter received from W. L. Dretchko, the President of the Minneapolis League, and he promised that the team to come here from the American city would be one of the fastest from the City League. The Minneapolis team will be seen in action on Tuesday afternoon and then will play an evening game at 6.30. Following their games here on Tuesday, the American all-stars will go to Winnipeg where they will play on July 1, 2 and 3rd.

The visitors are carrying sixteen men along with them and are quite confident of being able to win all their games on Canadian territory. They will represent the very best talent from the Minneapolis City League and their appearance here will give local fans a chance to see some real fast ball. The games have been fixed for Tuesday, June 29th, and as there is a statutory half holiday on that day for voting, there should be two large crowds out to see the games. In case of rain, the Minneapolis team will stay over and play on Wednesday, and then proceed to Winnipeg on Thursday for their first game there.

SERVICE BUREAU CLOSED SATURDAY

Information and Service Branch of Soldiers' Civil Re-Establishment Bureau Closed

The Information and Service Branch of the Soldier's Civil Re-establishment Bureau has been closed here. Mr. A. B. Howell who has been in charge of the branch here since Mr. J. Y. Norquay resigned a month ago, has been called to Winnipeg, and the Brandon branch is now permanently closed. This is in accordance with the plans for the closing of this branch of the Bureau. The head office in Winnipeg will not close until the 30th of this month, but all offices outside of Winnipeg closed on Saturday, and the officers in charge returned to Winnipeg.

The Information and Service branch of the Soldier's Civil Re-establishment Bureau was opened here about a year and a half ago, and has done some good work since its organization. Mr. M. McGregor was the first official in charge of the local bureau, and later there were other changes.

UNIONS PLAN TO FIGHT COSTS

By Establishment of Co-operative Stores—Decision Reached at Montreal Convention

Montreal, June 21.—Organized labor will fight "criminal profiteering" and the high cost of living by a co-operative movement. This action was decided upon here Saturday at the convention of the American Federation of Labor when the convention pledged its assistance to local and central bodies in forming societies and establishing and operating co-operative stores. A levy of one dollar upon every local union to establish a bureau of co-operation for 'promoting and advancing the cause of true co-operation in the United States and Canada," was endorsed.

LABOR AND REDS

It has been contended for long enough that the so-called Labor leaders in Brandon are using a Labor cloak to disguise their Red propaganda and purposes.

The recent convention of the American Federation of Labor affords striking proof of the correctness of this contention. The group which Mr. Smith leads has exalted and extolled the virtues of the Soviet system as they have it in Russia. To those who pointed to the weaknessess and abuses which the people of Russia have been subjected to, the reply was returned that the truth about Russia had not yet been told. The press was roundly abused for alleged misrepresentation concerning Russia and the wonderful Soviet system. Rule by the proletariat was pictured as being as near perfection as it is given to mortals to achieve.

Similar methods were everywhere pursued by the Reds. The Reds who have been "boring in" the ranks of organized labor wanted Labor as represented by the American Federation of Labor convention in Montreal to adopt resolutions of sympathy with the Soviet Government of Russia.

The effort was overwhelmingly defeated by the genuine Labor men who compose that body. Instead, the convention confirmed the judgment of the Resolutions Committee, which in a report that is a model of clear vision and common sense, set forth the truth about Russia under the Bolsheviki.

The truth is that the present Government of Russia lacks any authority from the Russian people; that it never has sought such authority nor dared to put the issue to a vote; that it conspires steadily to overthrow the established government of other countries and to set up in their stead governments like their own, created with as little regard to the will of the people concerned; that in its relations to labor and the people the Soviet Government is as militaristic, as autocratic and as tyrannical as any despotism the world has ever seen; that under its rule there is no such thing as free speech, free press or free assemblage.

That is the truth about Russia and Labor men know it. There is today no doubt about the truth of any of these points in the minds of any one who is not wilfully blinded. They stand as clear as the noonday sun above the mirk of doubt and controversy that for a time surrounded conditions in Russia.

That picture is the very reverse of what exists in Canada, the very antithesis of every Canadian ideal.

Yet, there are spokesmen for Labor and "the people" and Mr. Smith and the men who foisted him on the packed Labor convention are the best known among them, who applaud that picture, and who agitate and intrigue to secure the election of Mr. Smith so that he may be able to continue his efforts from a vantage point.

The majority of the members attending the American Federation of Labor convention put their heels upon the neck of the proposal of the Red minority. They thereby set a worthy example for Brandon Labor men who occupy a position from which they can also free themselves from the reproach of sympathy with revolutionary aims.

A SELFISH CHOICE

Responsibility for the defeat of the Norris Government candidate at the approaching election, rests with Stephen E. Clement. Had Clement not closed his eyes to the genuine and general signs of disapproval of his candidature both within and without the ranks of the Liberal party, Brandon would today be in a fair way towards representation by a Cabinet Minister, provided always that the Norris Government is returned to power.

The reason this was not made so plain to Mr. Clement that he could not even have denied it, was that what is everybody's business is nobody's business. Liberals were dissatisfied with Mr. Clement. They said so openly. They scouted the possibility of his selection even by a party convention. Conservatives felt they had no call to interfere in what was strictly a party affair. The great bulk of the people who do not now declare allegiance to any party, impatiently awaited news that the Liberals had turned towards a new leader.

While in this predicament the Liberal convention was called. Hesitation and indecision marked every step of the proceedings. The Clement faction, the only organized group present, drove steadily ahead. Pleas for delay at informal caucuses were denounced, and in the convention, when all the candidates save one—and he an absentee—had withdrawn, Clement was elected. Many votes went to him because there was no one else to vote for, as there was no certainty and little likelihood, that the other nominee would stand. Great dissatisfaction was apparent throughout the whole proceedings. A proposal to postpone selection of a candidate had to be ruled out of order because it was made too late. Clement and a few others conscious of their power in the convention, drove steadily ahead in spite of the very evident dissatisfaction.

After the death of the late Hon. Val. Winkler, Minister of Agriculture, it was realized that Brandon had strong claims for that portfolio, provided the Brandon member measured up to the position. Influential Liberals, after ascertaining that General Kirkcaldy was willing to make way for a man of Cabinet timber, again attempted to induce Clement to withdraw. Again he refused pointing to the fact that he had been chosen by the convention. He preferred to block attempts to secure a portfolio rather than to forgo a fancied personal advantage.

Since that time a vigorous effort has been made to whip former active supporters of the Liberal party into line. An attempt that has met with small success. Clement as a candidate is about as unwanted as a man could be and the support that he is receiving is on the part of those who close their eyes to the candidate and fix them steadily on the fact that he is a supporer of a Government of which they approve.

Brandon people are not likely to forget when the ballot is to be marked that Clement preferred his own personal advantage to that of the community.

WEEKLY HALF HOLIDAY ON FARMS

The movement for a weekly half holiday on the farms is spreading in Ontario. Secretary J. J. Morrison, of the United Farmers of Ontario, says of the action of the Calvert-Springfield Club in declaring a weekly half holiday on their farms in West Middlesex, that "I am delighted to see this action and the individuality of your club. He continues:

"There is no telling how far-reaching this act may be. . . . It may lead to decreased production, but even if it does why should the rural population become servants and spend their lives in toil that others may be fed. The population of Canada must be evenly apportioned in work, pleasure and remuneration. I heartily endorse all that has been done by your club in this matter, and I say go to it and see if we cannot elevate the rural people to a high plane of initiative in all these matters."

It is reported that the club members are standing loyally by their resolution to take a half holiday each week. The idea is simply the adoption of an idea of some years' standing in the cities, and one that has found general favor, so much so that retail business is practically at a standstill on these week-day afternoons.

The question of the eight hour day naturally follows the introduction of a weekly half holiday on the farms. Those who believe that this can never be arranged should ponder carefully what the West Middlesex club has done with respect to the weekly half-holiday.

It is almost certain that the introduction of an eight hour day on the farms will mean decreased individual production. The introduction of the eight hour day in the cities has generally had this result. But if production per capita is decreased it does not follow that eventually production will suffer. It may be that the better conditions which will prevail will induce many more people to engage in farming and the aggregate production may be increased say in a period of ten years.

In this connection it should be said that the interests of Secretary Morrison, of the United Farmers of Ontario, are bound up to the land. His life work has been there and he naturally endorses what to him appears to be of benefit to those who make their living directly off the land.

THE BOARD OF COMMERCE

The first annual report of the Board of Commerce reflects conditions that are satisfactory and conditions that are unsatisfactory. Of the valuable services rendered by the Board the record submitted in this report will serve to jog the memory of the appreciative public. If some of its investigations were not productive of great relief from high prices, others were. The Board has labored under disadvantages, some of which are set forth in the report, but, disappointing as some of its inquiries were, it still has the confidence of the people, says the Toronto Mail and Empire. In this report the Commissioners make no plea for the continuance of the Board's existence. Far from that, they express indifference, so far as they themselves are concerned personally, as to what the decision may be concerning the Board's future.

Launching the Shamrock IV., at City Island, New York, May 26, 1920

FACTS

The Canadian Club in New York issues a publication called the Maple Leaf, which the Daily Times of that city editorially discusses with favor. The strong claims which the Maple Leaf makes for the Dominion commend it to the larger and older journal. "There is a retail store in Canada which does a larger business annually than any retail store in New York." This is one of the statements. Another is that Canada's commerce with the United States is larger than that of all the South American countries combined. "Canada has the largest industrial corporation in the British Empire.' Canada "now rejoices in a university the largest in the British Empire." Such are the statements which the Times quotes from its junior contemporary without a suggestion of doubt. The Times concludes that "it is to our interest as well as to the interests of Canada that a knowledge of what is doing to the North of us should be wisely diffused."

A KNAVE OR A FOOL

"Canada, like Ireland, is going to declare herself independent of Great Britain within a measurable period of time," is the statement news dispatches attribute to Lindsay Crawford, editor of the Toronto New Statesman, at a banquet in commemoration of the Battle of Bunker Hill, held in Boston.

In making so rash a prediction, Lindsay Crawford is imposing on the credulity of American audiences. He is allowing sentiment to sway his judgement, and is continuing a line of talk which a Winnipeg audience refused to allow him to continue there, though he appeared before it on invitation. Independence and annexation has been the prediction of men of the Crawford stripe for many years. A large number of Canadian leaders have made somewhat similar predictions to what Crawford gave utterance to in Boston. At one time, leading Liberals could and would see nothing else just a little distance ahead. Today, those who are still living, are not making any such predictions. The whole trend of world events has altered since such an ultimate fate for Canada was freely predicted. Empire bands have been strengthened immeasurably, while Empire bonds are less irksome.

Never in the history of the British Empire have the men directing affairs been so filled with a desire to maintain the Empire and to give all the component parts full sway over their own affairs as today. Never have the peoples of the loosely connected section shown such a desire to maintain the Empire connections as today —with one or two exceptions where the trouble comes from without.

For Lindsay Crawford, or any other man, to state "that Canada, like Ireland, is going to declare herself independent of Great Britain," is to lay claim to so penetrating a vision as to brand him in the minds of Canadians as a knave or a fool.

KIRKCALDY, THE LOGICAL CHOICE

Though it may suit the purposes of the so-called Labor candidate in the Provincial elections to stow away for the time being, his extreme radicalism, there is no evidence of a change of heart. The man who has secured the nomination by the so-called Labor party is the same man who has preached revolution across the Prairies to the Rocky Mountains. True, the revolution that he has openly advocated, worked for and is still working for, was not always presented in the same light. To some audiences Mr. Smith's utterances contained little that could be wholly condemned. Often they were mischevious, upsetting, insidious but not always vicious. At other times, advocacy of constitutional methods for effecting changes were wholly lacking. His utterances not only lacked moderation, but seemed to be deliberately calculated to embitter and inflame. He set class against class exalting one and inciting hatred of the other.

Since the Winnipeg strike leaders were sent to jail there has been a marked difference in the general tone of his remarks and for a time the criticism of the Reds was that Smith was afraid, that he lacked courage. So strong was this feeling that it is said there was some criticism. Apparently the Reds saw the light for when the discussion of a Labor candidate arose he proved to be their second choice. Their support won the nomination for him. They are to a man backing him. It is fair to ask why? Is it because of the effective work he can do for their cause if elected? That would be a natural reason and a logical one. Presumably it is not because he opposes their ideas and ideals. If he did they would oppose him. If he has not the courage to take the extreme stand publicly that they would wish him to do, he may in private be able to give a reasonable explanation therefore. The nature of the assurances they have received are of public interest.

The question then before the citizens of Brandon is that of representation by a man who has been able to win the solid support of the Reds. Is it such a man that this community wants to have represent it in the Manitoba Legislature?

If it is not, and as Clement has had the opportunity and failed "to deliver the goods," Kirkcaldy with his splendid record of services rendered in a grave crisis, is the logical man. Everything points to his election

THE ONLY LASTING SATISFACTION

"There is no satisfaction in money alone. The only lasting satisfaction is in what you do for the world," declares Nathal Strauss, 72 years old, retired millionaire philanthropist.

That may be so, but I would like to try it, sneers the young cynic, a sneer that finds a responsive echo in too many hearts. If more people would only learn the truth of Strauss' statement this world would not be in such a chaotic state. Bolshevists, Reds, profiteers, would be so much useless baggage in a world where there was less fighting for individual treasure and more laboring for the common good.

It is a fact that too many ambitious people accept the terms wealth and happiness as synonymous. They are nothing of the sort. Some people scheme and plot for wealth with which to attain happiness and in the bitter fight kill the emotions out of which happiness grows. The process of getting wealth too often precludes entertainment of the humanitarian spirit. Public service becomes an aloof undertaking measured in dollars and cents and those who engage therein are considered fools. There is no recognition that engagement therein brings a thrill to the conscience. Love of home and family even is forgotten in the pursuit of wealth. All things are measured in terms of profit.

Wealth alone is a miserable substitute for happiness. It is useful in the purchase of luxuries. It can never buy the happy satisfaction that comes from a faith in God, the love of home and family, the comfort of health, the reward of virtue, the appreciation of the beauties of nature, the feeling of brotherhood with one's fellow men. Wealth and happiness seldom dwell together as may rich men testify when nearing the end of the journey.

THREE STORES AT CRAVEN BURNED ON SATURDAY

Regina, June 22.—Three stores owned by W. R. Scoville, general merchants at Craven, were burned to the ground on Saturday night, involving a loss estimated at $8,000 to the buildings and $10,000 to the stock. For a time the entire town was threatened, and only the most strenuous efforts of the volunteer fire brigade, which included every man and woman and small boy in the town saved it. The fire fighters were assisted by a number of Regina people who were on the way to the beaches to spend the weeek end. Mr. Scoville carried $4,000 on his store buildings—the three were connected and run as a departmetnal store — and the stock, valued at $15,000, was well insured.

AN ACCOUNTING NOW DEMANDED

Of Monies Raised in United States for Irish Republic Propaganda

New York, June 22.—The split in the ranks of the Irish citizens of the United States who have been prominent in the Irish Republic propaganda continues to widen.

Following the arraignment of "President" De Valera by John Devoy, editor of the Gaelic American, alleging expenditure of $50,000 of money raised by the sale of "Irish Republic" bonds on the delegation to the Chicago Republican convention, and the "President's" reply stating that the expenditure was less than half of that amount, and had been authorized by his "government" in Ireland, there has developed a demand upon the part of many of the subscribers to the Irish bonds for a statement of expenditures involved in De Valera's activities in the United States. According to Monday morning's World, one of the important results of the split will be the publication in the near future of all the totals of the several funds raised by Irish enthusiasts during the last three years. Catholic parishes are said to be practically demanding such a statement, especially concerning the separate drives conducted by the Friends of Irish Freedom and the $10,000,000 loan floated under the auspices of the "American Commission on Irish Independence."

RAILROAD MEN THINKS LLOYD GEORGE 'BLUFFS'

When He Demands That Irish Railwaymen Handle Munitions Trains

Dublin, June 22.—Premier Lloyd George's demand that Irish railwaymen handle munition trains gives rise to an issue which must be fought out, according to a statement made by the leaders of the Railroad Workers, here. Many declare the Premier's attitude is a "bluff" and that he is "too afraid of English Labor to give it effect." The general body of Sinn Feiners welcome the situation and are solidly behind the railwaymen.

Strike is Inevitable

Dublin, June 22.—A railroad strike is now regarded as inevitable. Most of the Irish companies hitherto have turned a blind eye to the refusals of the men to handle munitions trains and thereby avoiding a strike, but Premier Lloyd George's attitude makes it plain the Government will press the companies to accept munition traffic, and as the men outside Ulster will not handle munitions and troop trains a conflict is looked for.

The driver of the train which was held up at Cloughjordon because the railwaymen refused to take it further with armed policemena aboard, was summoned to Dublin and the expectation is that this will lead to trouble. It is believed the Government intends to make this a test case in order to determine its action towards striking railwaymen. All rail traffic between Nenagh and Dublin has been suspended.

CROP CONDITIONS GOOD IN SOUTH SASKATCHEWAN

Weather Conditions Ideal—Poisoned Bran Bait Effective Against Grasshoppers

Regina, June 22.—A crop report covering the Southern part of the province was issued by the Bureau of Statistics of the Provincial Department of Agriculture Monday. It shows seeding to be completed and the crops everywhere doing splendidly. Grasshoppers are reported very generally throughout the districts covered, but they are being controlled by the measures adopted against them by the Government. Very effective results are being obtained from the use of poisoned bran bait. Cutworms are reported to have appeared in a few places in the Vonda district. Weather conditions continue to be ideal, with plenty of moisture on all sides. There is no mention in the district reports of frost or hail.

The Government report follows:

Outlook, Elbow, Lawson and Loreburn—Seeding practically completed. Summerfallow quite general in many parts. Crops showing splendid growth. Local showers throughout the district in the past week. Grasshoppers quite numerous at all four points, but the "hopper brigade" is doing splendid work in controlling the pest.

Saskatoon — Splendid rain yesterday (June 19th). Ideal growing conditions during past two weeks. General conditon of all crops twenty per cent. above all crops during the same period last year. Grasshopper plague is well in hand.

Carnduff — Wheat, oats and flax making fine showing. Abundant moisture. Cool weather. Late sown wheat seems well advanced. Grasshoppers have made widespread attacks, but have caused no damage to any extent so far. The poisoned bran bait is proving an effective check as yet in R. M. 12, 31 and 32.

Weyburn — Crop report covering R. M. 37, 38,67 and 68: Crops doing fine. Wheat covering ground in many fields. Moisture fair. Grasshoppers working over whole district, but good success is being attained with bait. Some damage has been done where they were neglected.

Stoughton, Fillmore and Griffin — One hundred per cent. seeding completed. Grasshopper fight being waged in all parts. The damage to crops so far is slight. Good results are being obtained from use of poisoned bait.

Vonda — Seeding completed. Was getting very dry, but had a general rain today (June 19th), for four hours. Cutworms to be seen in dry spots, but in very few places. 85 per cent. indicates condition at present. No grasshoppers can be seen in this district. We are very favored.

LARGE ATTENDANCE KIRKCALDY MEETING

Election of Kirkcaldy Means Representation in Legislature for Returned Men

A GREAT OVATION

Given Brig. Gen. Kirkcaldy—Radicals Lead Labor—Kirkcaldy's Pledge

A very enthusiastic meeting in the interests of Brigadier-General Kirkcaldy was held in the City Hall on Tuesday evening, when a large crowd practically filled the auditorium. The candidate made a telling speech, setting forth his stand with regard to many questions, particularly emphasizing his position with regard to the returned men, and why they need representation in the Legislature. Mr. Kirkcaldy was supported on the platform by G. R. Coldwell, K.C., who also addressed the meeting, while C. E. Corness acted as chairman for the evening.

The Independent Conservative candidate got a real ovation when he commenced his address. He said that if the voters put him in the Provincial House that they would be paying a tribute to the men who fought overseas, for he is not personally seeking political honor. That he was not speaking on behalf of the Liberal-Conservative Association was an assertion made by the speaker. The Labor and Liberal parties are divided said Mr. Kirkcaldy, and he further added that Mr. Smith did not represent the Labor party, but rather represented that element which had for its object the destruction of constitutional government. If the Labor party had chosen a real Labor man to lead them in their fight in Brandon, there would be no three cornered fight in this city, said the candidate.

The speaker then told of the efforts made by the Liberals here to get S. E. Clement, the present member, to step down. In spite of advice given to the men who nominated Clement, they went ahead and placed him before the electors again, but are now trying to get him to withdraw. Clement, however, refuses to budge. Mr. Kirkcaldy then told of the suggestions that had been made to have a man of Cabinet timber nominated in Brandon but all schemes were blocked by Mr. Clement. That Brandon is entitled to Cabinet representation, there is no doubt, said Mr. Kirkcaldy, but the Norris Government, knowing the incapacity of Mr. Clement for such a position has steadily refused to admit him into the Cabinet. An opportunity arose in the death of the late Hon. Palentine Winwler to have Brandon represented in the Cabinet, but the Norris Government knows the capabilities of Mr. Clement as well as Brandon citizens, and Brandon is still without a Cabinet minister.

Fanatics Lead Labor

The speaker said there is no room in this country for any party that has as its object strife and the continual stirring up of trouble. Speaking of his attitude to Labor, the speaker said he is with them now and all the time. The fighters in the trenches were in the majority labor men, and he had fought side by side with them overseas. But Mr. Kirkcaldy expressed the opinion that if Labor is represented by a handful of fanatics who lead the here, that they will lose out in their good work.

That the man from the trenches wants nothing but what it right, was the statement made by the speaker. The returned men are seeking a new disability rate of $100 per month for those totally disabled, and $100 a month for all widows. He pointed out how many had failed to keep the trust that had been given to the man who went overseas, and cited the City Council as failing to carry out their agreement with him, followng his departure for overseas.

No Need for Standing Army

With regard to his attitude to militarism, Mr. Kirkcaldy declared that he is not in favor of a standing army for Canada. There is absolutely no need for it, and the country does not want it, he explained, but he did express himself in favor of a physical examination in all the schools. Better manhood, both physically and mentally, morally would be the result. The candidate then stated his stand fully as follows:

Kirkcaldy's Pledge

"If elected I will at all times represent the city to the limit of my ability.

"I will maintain the closest co-operation with the City Council, Board of Trade and any other organization which has for its object the advancement of our city.

"I will support any legislation which is calculated to improve the commercial possibilities of our province or which may be in the interest of the province and people from any other standpoint. Guard against extravagance and waste in the public service, and encourage co-operative marketing in every line of farm production in order thereby that the producer many obtain the maximum price for his products and the consumer the produce at its lowest cost.

"I will advocate and support the settlement of our vacant lands, as it is from that source our wealth must come.

"I will support any measure which will make rural life attractive; a contented and prosperous rurol population should be the desire of all progressive governments; work for the cause of labor and endeavor in every way to bring capital and labor into close partnership, as it is by this alone that I believe unrest will cease."

A Political Football

Referring to the platform of the three parties, the speaker said that they were all somewhat similar. However both the Liberal and Labor parties are making a football of the Hydro-Electric power scheme. There is no use putting catch planks in the platform, stated Mr. Kirkcaldy, as an investigation of the power system would show that the franchise of the present power company is held at the will of the Public Utilities Commission who can reduce or raise the rates of the present company when they wish. For power, the speaker said that he would urge the development of power in the Northern part of the province where thousands of horsepower is to be secured. He told of the rich promise of the North and how the completion of the Hudson's Bay Railway would be an important factor in the development of Manitoba. In conclusion, Mr. Kirkcaldy said that if elected he would carry out his parliamentary duties to the best of his ability an dagain declared his sincere independence.

Proof of Worth

Mr. G. R. Coldwell, K.C., introduced the speaker of the evening in a splendid address in which he set forward the war record of Mr. Kirkcaldy, and his brilliant services while overseas. Mr. Coldwell said that the Liberal-Conservative candidate had done his duty as a man and as a citizen and that he is deserving of all the honor that can be given him. A man who had proved himself of administrative ability at the front would be an ideal man for peaceful administration now that the war is over. He cited the case of General Currie, who has been recently selected as head of McGill University, and appointely solely on account of his administrative ability. He urged the electors of Brandon to give the candidate an opportunity to prove his ability in the Provincial Legislature, and that he would discharge his Governmental duties as well as he did his military duties overseas.

Mr. Coldwell also took opportunity to criticize the Liberal Government and their administration of the affairs of the province. Their expenditures have been wasteful, he said, while their placing a direct tax upon the people had placed the Norris Government in control of huge sums of money. In view of the facts submitted, said Mr. Coldwell, it looked as if the Conservative leader, Mr. R. G. Willis, could make good his statement that he could reduce the cost of Government operation by two million dollars in one year.

FORESTRY CAR ATTRACTS ONLY FAIR CROWDS

Illustrated Lectures Explaining Advantages to Be Secured From Tree Planting

An exhibition car sent out by the Canadian Forestry Association and showing the advantages or tree planting, was in Brandon Tuesday. Special lectures and moving pictures illustrating the work were given at two performances one in the afternoon and the other in the evening. The car was in charge of Mr. Archibald Mitchell of Lethbridge, one of the greatest authorities on prairie tree planting in Canada and who assisted in the building of the Experimental Farm at Indian Head. Accompanying Mr. Mitchell as his assistant was Mr. A. G. Cooch of the Forestry Branch at Ottawa.

A railway coach was fitted up to provide a lecture hall for the tour and Mr. Mitchell's lectures were illustrated by moving picture films both afternoon and evening. The object of the tour is to encourage the planting of trees as windbreaks on the prairies and also that it may prevent soil from drifting, and moderate the wind damage to standing grain. The planting of trees will also assist in conserving moisture and in beautifying the farm surroundings. Mr. Mitchell, during the course of his lectures, pointed out the many advantages to be derived from tree planting in the Western provinces and also suggested the kind of trees that would be most adaptable to this Western country. The lecture was attended by only a fair sized crowd.

The tree planting car is to tour through all the Western provinces stopping at every large sized town en route West. The same program as carried out here will be followed in all stopping places on the tour, although special lecture will be delivered to school children at several points. At Portage, Mr. Mitchell lectured to the Collegiate students, and it is expected that he will also speak to the Virden students today. The trip will be one of four month's duration, and the result is expected to further encourage farmers all over the West to plant trees.

UNITED FARMERS DISTRICT MEET GREAT SUCCESS

Protest Passed Against Proposal to Increase Indemnity for Federal Members

A most successful mid-Summer district convention took place on Tuesday when the United Farmers and Farm Women off Brandon district met in session at Oak Lake. Many delegates attended from Brandon and other points in the district and much important business was transacted. Rev. A. W. Churchill, of Oak Lake, conducted the devotional exercises which opened the meeting. Mr. Hugh Thornton, of Hillview Farm, South Brandon, was in charge of the community singing which was also part of the program. Mr. J. M. Allan, of Elpresided and Mr. J. G. Lothian, of ton, President of the District U.F.M., Pipestone, acted as Secretary.

"Be it resolved that we, the Brandon branch of the United Farmers of Manitoba having for our motto, 'Equal rights for all and special privileges for none' declare ourselves in favor of co-operation on equal terms with the various groups of producers and urban dwellers who are in sympathy with such independent ideals as set forth in the new National policy and other platforms and declarations kindred to it."

This resolution, which had been passed by the Brandon local, was submitted by them to the district conventon, but after much discussion was referred to the committee on politics.

Another resolution protesting against the iacrease of the Federel members' indemnity from $2,500 to $4,000 was passed and a copy of this will be sent to the representative at Ottawa.

Mr. D. G. McKenzie, of Brandon district, Director for the past year, resigned his position as he is also Vice President of the Provincial U.F.M. and could not give enough time to the district work. Thirteen nominations were received for this position, among them being Mr. McKenzie's name. Everyone nominated withdrew and it was decided to conscript Mr. McKenzie for this year. The latter accepted on the consideration that the locals be satisfied with his services in consideration that he had to give much time to Provincial affairs.

Mrs. S. E. Gee, of Virden, District Director of the Women's Section of the U.F.M., in an interesting address presented four points of the Dower Law which she thought should be discussed by everyone.

"Doors of Opportunity Open to the Canadian Women," was the subject of an address given by Miss Mable E. Finch, Provincial Secretary of the Women's Section, who spoke in place of Miss Mary McCallum, who was unable to be present. She told of the many opportunities given the women of today and urged careful consideraton of the uses to which these opportunities should be put.

Mr. J. Harris McKee, in reporting the work accomplished by the Political Committee, stated that twenty-two associations had made a canvass in the Brandon Federal District and twelve had not been able to do anything owing to the bad weatehr and sickness.

An address on "Manitoba's Situation in Federal Politics" was made by Mr. D. G. McKenzie, who specially emphasized the work done in the balance of the province. The Brandon District canvass was started before the rest of Manitoba became organized.

An interesting talk was also given by Provincial Secretary, Mr. W. R. Wood.

The remarks of the Prince were heartily cheered by a distinguished audience.

Sauvage, who made the announcement, said that farm associations of the various provinces are in full accord with the Agricultural Council of Canada, that if the public is to get cheaper agricultural products, the tariff on various farm machines must be removed. ALLEGED SUICIDE LEAVES HAT AND NOTE ON BANK

Winnipeg Woman Driven Nearly Crazy by Domestic Trouble Ends Life

Winnipeg, June 19.—"You will find my body in the river. Take care of my poor children," was contained in a note left by Mrs. Emerson Newman, 852 Home Street, who disappeared from her home Tuesday night. A hat worn by Mrs. Newman at the time she disappeared, and her pocket book containing the note, were found on the bank of the Assiniboine river near Academy road, Wednesday afternoon, by B. Wright, a boy who lives near by. These are the only clues as to her whereabouts.

According to reports made to the police, Mrs. Newman's husband is a taxi driver. They have three children two girls, five and three years of age, and a boy eleven months old. On Tuesday evening Mrs. Newman told her children to go over to a neighbor's house. The children were the last to see her.

Say Woman Worried

A neighbor, who reported the affair to the police, stated that Mrs. Newman had been driven nearly crazy by domestic troubles.

A description of the missing woman is: thrity-two years old, slight build, weight 110 pounds, dark complexion, dark hair, wore a blue suit and the hat, which was found.

The police believe that the woman either committed suicide or is using the hat and note as a "blind" for disappearing. She was a native of Ontario. The police in their investigations are having the river watched for signs of the body. The children are being cared for by a sister-in-law, it is said.

O'CONNOR QUITS BECAUSE BOARD'S POWER IS LIMITED

Changes in Legislature Curtails Powers of Board, Declares O'Connor

PRIVATE INTERESTS

Preferred Because of Restrictions On Efforts to Protect Public

Ottawa, June 16. — "I have several valuable retainers which make practice as a private counsel more satisfactory to me than my present work on the Board of Commerce," said W. F. O'Connor, K.C., today, when asked why he resigned from the Board.

"I have no quarrel with anybody. If the Combines and Fair Prices legislation was the same today as when the Board was formed, I should probably not have left the Board. If I can't look after the interests of the Canadian people as I undertook, and am expected by them to do, I may as well look after myself."

He denied the rumor which has been current that he would shortly be given a judgeship in Nova Scotia.

O'Connor's Resignation

Ottawa, June 16.—It is understood that W. F. O'Connor, K.C., whose resignation from the Board of Commerce has been handed the government, will retire to his private practice at the end of this month. There is a rumor that Mr. O'Connor will become counsel for a United States corporation which will shortly establish a pulp wood industry in Southern Labrador, and which will manufacture pulp wood exclusively for the British market.

Mr. O'Connor has been vice-chairman of the Board of Commerce since its inception last July, and he has acted as senior commissioner since the resignation of Judge Robson from the Board some months ago. The Board which originally comprised three commissioners, now consists of Mr. O'Connor and James Murdock. The latter is conducting an investigation at present into retail sugar prices in Toronto.

The Board of Commerce submitted its annual report to the government last week, in which it stated that it was unable to carry on effectively as an investigating and profit-controling tribunal under the limitations of staff imposed by the "red tape" regulations of the Civil Service Commission. The Board's operations as newsprint controller was declared ultra vires in a decision of the Supreme Court of Canada on April last, and more recently the Supreme Court divided equally in its opinion of the legality of an order of the Board which sought to regulate profit-taking on men's clothing in Ottawa.

Murdock Talks Plainly

Toronto, June 16. — Commissioner Murdock was not prepared to make public any statement of his own intention. He indicated, however, that he was willing to continue a member of the Board, along with men courageous enough t face the conditions, inevitably and legitimately attendant upon the performance of such work as the Commission was created to perform. On the other hand, he was emphatic in re-affirming the attitude of the Board as laid down in letters of protest to the Civil Service Commission under date March 2nd, March 20th and April 29th.

AIR DRILLS SINK SHAFTS AT THE FLIN FLON MINE

The Pas, Man., June 16.—Shafts at the Flin Flon mine are now being sunk by air drills. Recently the steam plants were put in operation and the shaft sinking changed from hand work to air drills. Both shafts have been sunk by hand to a depth of 50 feet each. The shafts, which are about 550 feet apart, contain two compartments of 4 1-2 by 4 1-2 feet clear. No. 1 is being put down in the foot wall and No. 2 is expected to strike ore at 100 feet. The two shafts will be connected up by drifts. It is understood that they will be sunk to a total depth of 400 feet, with levels at every 100 feet.

About 150 men are now engaged in the work. Three eight-hour shifts are being worked, and it is estimated that five feet of sinking in each shaft per day will be maintained throughout. This works out at about 150 feet a month.

WORKERS CALLED TRAITORS FOR FAILING TO SUPPORT THE LABOR CANDIDATE

Interest in the present political contest was in evidence at a well attended meeting held on behalf of the Labor candidate at King George school on Tuesday evening. Ald. Grantham presided.

Miss Beatrice Brigden dealt particularly with the educational problem. She criticized the fact that while men and women expressed themselves in their work and contributions in a productive sense to society, the present system of education failed to make any provision in that regard, by educating the children in matters that so deeply affected their after life.

J. G. Davies declared that any worker who failed to support the Labor candidate were either absolutely ignorant of the issues at stake, or were deliberate traitors to their own cause, the cause of the people at the present time.

LIBERALS WARMED TO HON. T. JOHNSON: COLD TO CLEMENT

Attorney General Explains Expenditures Basis of Charge of Extravagance

SMITH ON PLATFORM

Johnson Shows Labor Candidate is Working Against What He Asks for

There was quite a large attendance at the Liberal meeting held in the City Hall on Friday evening, when Hon. Thos. Johnston, the Attorney-General, Dr. Clingan and S. E. Clement were the principal speakers. The meeting was livened up considerably by the appearance of A. E. Smith, the Labor candidate, and his acceptance of an invitation to speak on the platform. There was very little enthusiasm to the first two speakers of the evening, but the Attorney-General received considerable applause and attention. Mr. A. L. Hall acted as chairman.

Mr. Clement was the first speaker the evening and commenced his remarks by saying that he had been elected to the Legislature by the citizens and not by any party. His party had undertaken a lot of good work, and its record spoke for itself. It is one of progressive achievement, he said. Anyone who is not proud of the record of the Norris Government does not recognize good government. No campaign of publicity had been undertaken by the Norris Government, and consequently the record was not known as it should have been.

Mr. Clement defended himself against the accusation that nothing had been done for the City of Brandon. He mentioned the large grants to the Summer and Winter Fairs, and the fact that the provincial fair will in the future be held here. He also said that he had been instrumental in securing the guaranteeing of the bonds of the new General Hospital, and the Government grant to that institution. The speaker said that one of the other parties here is using one of his planks, namely the Hydro-Electric power. With regard to the extension of the transmission line to this city he mentioned that its cost would really be too great at the present time, and the time is not ripe to bring the power here. Mr. Clement said that possibly at some future time, Brandon would be able to manufacture power by steam.

There were many injustices to women, said the speaker, and he stated that the Dower Act and other similar acts were remedies advanced by the Norris Government. He took all the credit to himself with regard to the Dower Act.

"No Government has guarded the interests of the returned soldiers, as the Norris Government has done," said Mr. Clement. To support this statement he mentioned the Patriotic Fund levy and that $3,870,000 was raised and distributed, a Returned Soldiers' Commission established to look after men; preference was given to returned men; a Provincial Employment Bureau opened; and along all lines had the Government led the way. The speaker also showed that a large sum had been refunded in taxes to returned soldiers or their dependents. He gave numerous other instances showing the activity of the Norris Government in acting in the interests of the returned men.

Mr. Clement read a letter from the Royal Air Force headquarters thanking him for his services in recruiting many men for the Air Force. In conclusion he said, they promised to furnish some more enlightment with regard to the record of the Norris Government at future meetings, and that when it was fully known, the Government would receive the wholehearted support of the voters. Mr. Clement urged support therefore at the polls on June 29th.

At this juncture, the chairman, Mr. A. L. Hall, asked if Mr. Smith or any of his supporters were present to speak. There was no response from the audience and the meeting proceeded.

Aids to Agriculture

Lieut.-Col. Clingan was the next speaker of the evening. He showed the advantages which resulted to the agricultural sections of the province from the Norris Government. Particularly did he mention the Rural Credits Society, and its operation. "Government should be judged by what it has done," said the speaker, and he pointed out the good work performed by the Norris Government. He particularly pointed out the capabilities of the Minister of Education, Dr. R. S. Thornton, in dealing with the school problems of the province.

Defence of Government

"We are disappointed that our opponets have not taken advantage of our offer to have them here," said the Hon. Thos. Johnson, in commencing his address. He further stated that should either of the other two local candidate appear before the close of the meeting, that an opportunity would be given either of them to speak. Continuing the Hon. Thos. Johnson said he would not try to set forth the record of the Norris Government, but would confine his attention to replying to the accusation that the Government had been extravagant. He accounted for an increase of some two millions of dollars in the Government's expenditures by the progressive measures inaugurated by the Norris Government..

In showing the difference of $2,906,000 between the expenditure of 1914 and 1919, the speakers said that this amount was made up of $200,000 to the Mother's Allowance, $892,000 for interest on borrowings, $361,000 for added costs of telephone service; $471,000 in grants to schools, $120,000 to agricultural interests, and $212,000 in advances in salaries to Civil Service salaries. He further pointed out that the budget of the new Government in Ontario exceeded the Manitoba budget by $4,000,000.

The Hon. Thos Johnson again deplored the fact that the Labor candidate was not present when he commenced to explain the benefits arising to Labor interests from new legislation. He called attention in detail to labor legislation undertaken by the Government.

Smith Given Ovation

At this point the Rev. A. E. Smith appeared and was given an ovation. He was immediately invited to the stage to speak and did so. He asked that he be given a chance to hear Johnson rad sttmn5,,$$0t3aeliTfp'5b what he had to answer. The Hon. Thos. Johnson read a statement which appeared in the Free Press which reported Mr. Smith as saying, "There is neither intelligence in law, judges nor the press." Mr. Smith replied to this by saying that he meant that nothing could take the place of intelligence. He asked if the press and legal profession had been using their full power to increase the intelligence of the people.

In explaining what he meant by intelligence, Mr. Smith said the whole thing gets back to the system which holds up as its object, the exploitation of men for other men. In determining the ill-health of school children Mr. Smith suggested going to the pay sheet of the parents to find the cause. "That's the context I wish to put on the statement," said the Labor candidate. Mr. Smith urged the putting of reality into politics, and called upon the voters to vote for the cause of the common people.

Talked for 20 Minutes, Said Nothing

On rising to continue his address, the Attorney-General created a laugh by saying that the Labor candidate had spoken for twenty minutes but if he had answered the question, it has missed him. Continuing from where he had left off, the Hon. Thos. Johnson showed the Fair Wage Act, the Minimum Wage Act, the Workmen's Compensation Act and the Industrial Conditions Act, as legislation for the benefit of Labor.

Denies Confederate Charge

The Provincial Attorney-General answered the charge in the Confederate regarding the Columbia Press, by stating that he has not been a shareholder, or directly or indirectly been connected with the Columbia Press since he entered the Legislature.

In reply to Mr. Smith, the speaker said that the Labor candidate here is working against the very things that he seeks to set forward. He mentioned the Industrial Conditions Act as one which could remedy the pay sheet of the parent, mentioned by Mr. Smith, and this act Mr. Smith is against. As for putting realities into politics, the Hon. Thos. Johnson asked if spending thousands of dollars on widows and orphans, the Minimum Wage Act, the placing of Public Nurses throughout the country was not putting realities into politics. He concluded his address by commending S. E. Clement for his work, and asking he suppor of the Norris Government at the coming elections.

Fruit Growing on the Prairies

Long before the advent of the wheat grower hundreds of varieties of small fruits grew in the sheltered spots of the great North-west of the American Continent, now known as the Canadian Prairie Provinces of Alberta Saskatchewan and Manitoba. Several varieties of wild currants and berries, of a most delicious flavor, are still found throughout these three provinces, and fruit-picking excursions form one of the most delightful diversions in the life on the farm there. In the woodlands, beside the creeks, lakes and rivers, it does not take long during the season for the women-folk and the children to pick sufficient wild strawberries, raspberries, saskatoons, red, black and white currants, gooseberries, etc., to keep the family well supplied in preserves until the following season

LLOYD GEORGE CONFERS WITH RAILWAY MEN ON THE IRISH SITUATION

London, June 19.—Lloyd George received a deputation of railway men in a conference lasting nearly three hours. No statement has been given out from Downing Street, but James Henry Thomas, General Secretary of Railwaymen's Union, stated after the conference that the government had declined to continue sending munitions to Ireland, but he said the government was prepared to do everything to prevent provocation and was ready to meet any body of Irish representative men, including representatives of the Sinn Fein organization. This, declared Thomas, leaves the question of the strike by Irish railwaymen untouched, but the government announced that should the strikers persist in refusing to carry troops and munitions, the Government would close Irish railways which would lead to a very serious situation.

BOTTOM FALLS OUT OF HIDE AND WOOL MARKETS

Large Stocks Purchased at High Prices Calls Halt by Buyers

Oklahoma City, Okla., June 18.—Hide dealers declare the bottom has fallen out of the hide and wool markets.

Green salted hides which were selling for eighteen cents a pound recently dropped to twelve. N. B. LaBryer, manager of a hide company here, says the price will go lower, adding that the same condition exists in all the markets of the country. Calf hides which six months ago brought a dollar a pound have been offered lately at 25 cents, Mr. LaBryer continued, and then can get no buyer.

The decline in prices is due to the inability of tanners to ship their goods because of railway congestion and because of the fear of a credit stringency, Mr. LaBryer declared. Big stocks of high priced leather purchased several months ago are still on hand and they want to get rid of it before buying more. Mr. LaBryer also asserted that many tanneries have closed down entirely and others are running only half time.

The wool market shows an even worse state of demoralization according to Mr. LaBryer. Wool which a year ago ranged from fifty to fifty five cents a pound now is virtually impossible to get twenty-five cents for, he states. The demand for wool is so slight, he said, that no dealers are making purchases except where they get an opportunity to buy at such low prices that they are willing to take a chance.

The recent attempt of the Wool Growers' Association to hold a wool sale at Enid, which was called off because there were no buyers, was cited by Mr. LaBryer as an illustration of the present day wool market situation. A single buyer offered twenty cents for the best grade of Shropshire wool if he could get a carload lot.

FEDERATION FAVORS STATE OWNERSHIP OF U.S. RAILWAYS

Building Trades Delegations Supported Gompers in Opposition to Action

Montreal, June 19. — The national committee for organizing iron and steel works has disbanded, it is announced here. All its organizers and field representatives will be recalled by July 1st and its funds will be transferred to the executive council of the Federation of Labor.

Endorse Government Ownership

Montreal, June 19. — Government ownership with democratic operation of the American railroads was endorsed here by the American Federation of Labor in its annual convention after one of the bitterest fights on record. The roll call showed that government ownership was endorsed by a vote of 29,059 to 8,349. Disorder reigned several times during the roll call when delegations of the various crafts divided on their vote.

Charges of "steam roller" were hurled at the chair by James Duncan of Seattle, and other delegates, when he denied the right of roll call to delegations that were split on the question.

Applause, "boos" and hisses alternately greeted the various delegates as they cast their votes. The building trades delegations presented almost solid front against Government ownership supporting President Gompers and the administration forces.

The railroad workers were supported by the great voting power of the United Mine Workers, machinist unions, textile workers, garment workers and the metal trade crafts.

CHARGES OF MISUSE OF FUNDS SUBSCRIBED BY FRIENDS OF IRELAND

New York, June 19.—A break between Eamonn De Valera, self-styled "President of the Irish Republic" and Supreme Court Justice Daniel F. Cohalan, head of the "Friends of Irish Freedom" reached a formal status last night at the executive session of the National Council of Friends.

Charges made by John Devoy that De Valera had used at Chicago $50,000 of the money subscribed for Irish Loan Bands and intended for use in Ireland only were counter-balanced today by accusations that Justice Cohalan had attempted to drive De Valera from the United States. These accusations were made in "Monitor," the official organ of the Roman Catholic Church, New Jersey, by Rev. W. P. Cantwell, in an editorial captioned "Despicable Treachery in a Holy Cause."

JAPANESE NOT LEGALLY ABLE TO MARRY FORMOSANS OR KOREANS: PRINCE DOES

ROUMANIA IS VERY PROSPEROUS AT PRESENT TIME

Bucharest, June 19.—If ever Roumania felt she was poorly compensated for her part in the war, the feeling must now be removed. Not in many years has the country been so prosperous. One must go back to the days of old King Carol and Carmen Sylva to find a parallel to the present conditions of material welfare among the people.

The scenes of gayety, animation and prosperity can find their counterpart only along the boulevards of Paris. The habitues of the gay metropolis—the artists, sculptors, students and savant that gave it so much of its Bohemian atmosphere in days gone by have come back. With them have come strange faces from the newly acquired provinces and from Austria and Germany.

The streets of Bucharest are crowded with flashly dressed men and sumptuously attired women, just as in prewar days. The stores display great stocks of pastries, confections, cosmetics, perfumes, silk stockings, expensive lingerie, rich jewels and other luxuries. The fashionable restaurants and cafes are always full. The theatres are taxed to capacity.

The old era of wine and song, of laughter and levity, of powder and paint, is coming back. Bucharest is trying hard not only to live up to its former reputation, but to justify its claim to be called "the Paris of the Balkans."

Sacrifices Forgotten

The sacrifices the little Latin country made during the war have been forgotten in the acquisition of the rich territories of Transylvania, Bessarabia and Bukovina. These fertile areas have brought tremendous wealth to the country. In crops, cattle, forests and mineral products they will easily treble Roumania's national wealth.

In normal times these marvellously productive countries have yielled enough to feed the whole of Europe. The wheat fields of Transylvania and Bessarabia are among the greatest in the world. The country contains also great herds of cattle and sheep.

Of Roumania's 10,000,000 hectares of cultivated land, more than 83 per cent. is given over to the growing of cereals, the largest per cent. of any country in the world except Russia, Serbia and the South African Union. Wheat is the largest crop. More than half the annual yield is exported.

When it is understood that 85 per cent. of Roumania's population is supported by agriculture and that the present crops promise to be the greatest in history, the reason for the country's prosperity and well-being will become apparent.

C. P. R. DEPOT WALL STOPS MAD CAREER OF RUNAWAY TEAM

A wild runaway down Tenth street on Friday caused considerable excitement for a few minutes. A team owned by M. O. Hedley of this city was standing in front of Herbert & McGregor's grocery store when they were frightened by a passing automobile. Although tied to a weight, the horses started a mad career down Tenth street, missing many standing cars and only being brought to a standstill when they crashed into the C.P.R. depot at the foot of the street. Except for some cuts to one of the horses, a broken window frame at the depot, and some damage to the wagon, there were no serious results from the runaway.

SUCCESS CROWNS GREAT PROGRAM ON SPORTS DAY

Beautiful Weather, Large Crowds and Plenty of Exciting Sport

FUN STARTED EARLY

Kiddies Enjoyed Auto Ride and Ball Game—Not An Accident or Mishap

Brandon's sports day passed off in a most successful manner, ideal weather and thousands of spectators greeting the varied numbers on the program. There was not one dull moment in the day's activities and from 10.30 in the morning until one o'clock this morning, there was something doing in the line of celebration and enojyment for the whole city. It was a most successful day from every angle, and although complete returns are not available yet, it is expected that the General Hospital will net a considerable sum as the result.

There was not a hitch in the program mapped out by those in charge of the Sport's Day. The children had their share of the day's fun when they were taken on a short ride by the Automobile Club to the ball game in the morning, and then watched the exhibition as the guests of the Greys Ball Club. In the afternoon a splendid racing bill put on by the Brandon Turf Club atracted nearly 3,000 people to the Exhibition grounds and revived the early Summer meets that used to be a feature of the local Turf Club's program. The Mounted Police provided an added attraction with an all-round program, while the City Band rendered splendid music. The Kiwanians worked hard to satisfy the crowds on the stands with soft drinks and candies, and it is stated that they realized a considerable sum from this endeavor.

Ball Game and Dance

In the evening the ball game between the Greys and the Bottineau team attracted the largest crowd inside the Athletic Grounds that has ever witnesed a game in Brandon. So dense was the crowd that there was not enough room in the grounds to park the cars, and every available seat in the stands was taken up long before the game started.

If anyone failed to find enjoyment out of the morning and afternoon events, they certainly found it at the big street dance on Ninth Street. Dancing was the order of the evening, although confetti batties and songs were additional features that kept a continual round of merriment up until the early hours of the morning. The street was gaily decorated, and the Kiwanis Club, under whose auspices the dance was held, sold drinks and ice cream and added another big sum to the amount they took in at the afternoon races.

Children Driven to Ball Game

School children from the East end of the city gathered on Victoria Averre and First Street early Thursday morning for their trip to the ball game at the Athletic Grounds, and it is estimated that nearly 2,000 children lined the playing fields at the game. A band provided music during the game and enlivened the exhibition up considerably.

Crowds Atend Races

At 12.30 the crowds started for the Exhibition Grounds, and well before 1.30, the time announced for the commencement of the racing program, the stand was half filled. The Brandon Auto Club put on an hour's free service to assist in carrying passengers to the grounds, the service being from five central stations. A brilliant day, with only a slight wind blowing from the East made it almost an ideal day for the Turf Club's meet. Splendid time was made in the races considering it is the first meet of the season, and the crowd was pleased with the way the different races were scored. There was not a hitch or an accident to mar the races, the six events being staged in a little over four hour's time.

The display by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police is to be commended as they put on a splendid program during the afternoon. Their work consisted of a musical ride, hurdle jumping, tent pegging, Victoria Cross ride and other features, all admirably put on. Their program showed preparedness and the Mounties gave a splendid all-round display. Only one minor accident occurred, when Corporal Christie fell with his horse at one of the jumps, but was only slightly bruised from his fall.

Kiwanians in costume proved able vendors of holiday drinks peanuts and smokes on the stands during the afternoon. The booths did a good business also and some idea of the amount of ice cream consumed is shown by the fact that over seventeen large freezers of ice cream were used during the afternoon for cones alone. It is not known what was realized from the sale of the refreshments but there probably will be a considerable amount made.

The big street dance was as great a success as the one conducted last August, the dance being better handled this time owing to the fact that the street was boarded off for the dancers. Pretty costumes were much in evidence and there was a riot of color and fun throughout the entire evening's program. There was no let-up in the dancing until early morning, and the pleasure seekers had plenty of opportunity to round out a real day's fun. Altogether the day was considered a wonderful success.

BOTTINEAU AND BRANDON BREAK EVEN IN GAMES

A batting rally in the ninth inning of the evening game snatched a double victory from the Greys, and gave Bottineau an even break in the double baseball bill on Thursday. Attended by the largest crowds that have ever witnessed ball games in the Athletic Grounds, the two games furnished brilliant baseball, in which both teams had an equal share of the honors. The Greys captured the morning game by a 3-1 score, but dropped the evening fixture 6-3.

BRANDON MEN ON THE EXECUTIVE OF MANITOBA COMMAND A. & N. VETS.

At the annual convention of the Manitoba Command of the Army and Navy Veterans held this week in Winnipeg, Mr. Charles Blake of this city was elected second Vice-President of this organization and Mr. C. Whillier of Brandon was appointed a member of the executive. Portage la Prairie was decided upon as the headquarters of the association for the ensuing year.

A resolution suggesting to the Provincial Government that a referendum on the liquor question be submitted to the people was thoroughly discussed at this convention. Interesting addresses were given at the afternoon session by F. G. Taylor, Provincial President, W. J. Tupper, Dominion President, and R. C. Irvin, Dominion Secretary.

GREYS PLAY FAST BALL TO DEFEAT VIRDEN TEAM

Playing brilliant ball in the field and displaying an all-round superiority, the Brandon Greys took a great game from the Virden nine on Wednesday evening by a 7-1 score. The game was featured by the splendid brand of twirling by Frank Lutes who got his first senior tryout, and who made good from the start. He let the visitors down with two scratch hits, and air-tight support from his team mates kept the Virdenites off the paths, and cinched a league win for Brandon.

ALBERTA LIVE STOCK LOSSES LAST WINTER

Estimated by Deputy Minister of Agriculture at Eight Per Cent

Calgary, Alta., June 19.—The total loss in livestock in the province during the past Winter and Spring has been estimated by the Department of Agriculutre to be not more than eight per cent. according to a statement made by H. A. Craig, Deputy Minister of Agriculture.

The Government has issued an official statement, said Mr. Craig, fixing the average loss in cattle at not more than eight per cent. The loss was much greater than this in some districts, but the average over the whole province was not more than that. It is estimated that about 90,000 head were lost, which makes the loss a little more than one head for every farmer in the province. Some districts lost as high as 25 per cent.

NOTABLE CURES BY HICKSON IN SOUTHERN STATES

Remarkable Man Recently Offered a Chapel in New York

Several months ago an account was given in this column which excited some interest of the cures effected in several American cities by James Moore Hickson, a layman of the Church of England. A few weeks ago he opened a mission at Trinity Chapel, in Twenty-fifth street, New York city, having gone there from the Southern States, where he added to his fame. A correspondent of the New York World writes of some of the marvellous cures effected by Mr. Hickson, testified to by persons of undoubted reputation and standing in the community. In Lexington thousands of people went to the services the healer was conducting in the cathedral. Fashionably-dressed women crowded in beside their poorer sisters, all anxious to see this wonderful man and, if afflicted, to feel his touch. Staid busines men, he says, went forward with the faith of children, and men, women and children wept as Mr. Hickson passed through the throng laying hands on the diseased and praying for them.

Notable Cures

To anyone who knows anything of Kentucky the name Daingerfield is as well known as that of Watterson, and a member of this distinguished family was healed by Mr. Hickson. This was Mrs. F. A. Daingerfield, widow of the famous turfman, and sister of the late James B. Keene, equally celebrated in financial and racing circles. Mrs. Daingerfield, who is seventy-six years old, has suffered from neuritis for six years, and was unable to go to the church where the mission was being held so Mr. Hickson went to her as he has gone to scores of other people in like circumstances. He prayed with her and laid his hands on her head. Then he went away, and half an hour lated Mrs. Daingerfield's children suggested that she should try to move her arm. For years she had not been able to raise it more than a few inches, but to her delight and the astonishment of the eyewitnesses she was able to hold it above her shoulder. That night she used the formerly helples arm at dinner, and the next morning she dressed her hair herself for the first time since her illness.

Deafness Cured

Mrs. Katherine Spears, one of the best known of the city's matrons, had been crippled by rheumatism so that for many years she had been able to hobble about only by the use of a cane. Hickson prayed over her and now she is walking about as well as she did thirty years ago. W. T. Schnaufer, head of one of the largest lumber companies in Kentucky, was injured two years ago in a railroad wreck, and since then has been unable to stand upright without pain. Mr. Hickson prayed with him and now Mr. Schnaufer stands as straight as ever he did. A nine-year-old boy named Leslie Woodford lay in a state of coma, and it was feared that he was dying. Hickson drove several miles through a storm to visit him, and when he left the lad was conscious and is reported steadily improving. Miss O'Brien, a trained nurse, had been deaf in one ear since childhood as a result of scarlet fever. She received a treatment and when she reached the street the roar of traffic sounded so loudly in her ears that she was frightenerd. Her cure is pronounced complete.

He Saw a Vision

Mr. Hickson is said to look like a business man, broad of shoulder, and powerful of frame, with a ruddy complexion, and shrewd, kindly eyes. He was employed in a London bank when, he says, he had a vision from Heaven. He was told that the healing power would be granted him and that all that was needed on his part was faith. As a religious man Mr. Hickson was not deficient in this quality, and soon began his career as healer. He insists that he is a mere vessel or medium; that whatever he is able to put forth comes to him from God. Just what it is he is not able to explain, and he believes that physicians, psychologists or other scientists will be unable to explain away the cures he has effected. Indeed it would seem difficult for them to do so in the face of the great number of authenticated cases, and the fact that his work is staunchly supported by leading Church of England clergymen both in the Old Country, where his first miracles were wrought, and also in the United States, where he has been ministering for a year.

No Incurable Disease

Mr. Hickson does not admit that any diseases ahe incurable. Such a belief, he says, would be inconsistent with a belief that God is all-powerful. If his gift is from Heaven, if it is God working through him that cures neuritis, why should it not be equally cimple for the Omnipotent to cure any other disease? If such major miracles are not wrought the fault must lie with the agents who lack the faith to move mountains. Mr. Hickson says that the gift he possesses is one that God gives to all whom He chooses, and that when in reliance upon the Holy Spirit hands are laid upon the sick in the name of Christ, the patient is brought into communication with the highest spiritual powers. He believes that many more people have this power if only they would realize it and work for its highest development. It is unnecessary to add that Mr. Hickson does not charge a cent for his ministrations, and that all whom it is physically possible for him to reach may be treated.

General Sir Richard Turner, V.C., who led the Second Canadian Division in France and later commanded all the Canadian forces in England, has been caught by the lure of the far North. "I have always wanted to see God's country up in the North and now that I have the opportunity, I am making the most of it."

Sir Richard has not yet moved his home to the West. Victoria appeals to him just now, and after his visit to Africa, which he plans to do early next year, he expects to settle down in the coast city.

LABOR ASKS THE AID OF CHURCHES

Montreal, June 19.—The American Federation of Labor in convention Friday authorized a nation-wide campaign to organize all telephone operators. Action was declared necessary because "of the oppressive anti- Labor policy of the Bell Telephone Company and its associated companies."

The fourth Sunday in May each year, was designated by the convention as Labor's Memorial Day upon which Labor throughout the country will pay a tribute to the memory of its dead.

The churches also were called upon to co-operate with Labor in the observance of a Labor Sunday.

Gompers May Quit

Montreal, June 19.—The endorsement of Government ownership of the railroads by the American Federation of Labor, leaders declared here Friday night, was the first real defeat that Samuel Gompers, veteran president of the Federation, has received in years. This repudiation of his policy, it is reported, prompted the labor chief to state before the convention that "he was not quite sure," he would be a candidate for re-election. Mr. Gompers fought hard against the convention's action, declaring that it was a step toward "the enslavement of the workers as Government employes," who, he said, had been denied many political and economic rights under past administrations. This caused a mild ovation.

LACK OF COAL MAY EFFECT INDUSTRY EASTERN CANADA

House of Commons Adjourns to Discuss Threatened Coal Shortage

Ottawa, June 19.—Claiming that dislocation of industries in Ontario and Quebec was threatened, Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux Thursday afternoon moved adjournment of the house to discuss the coal shortage and to ascertain the Government's intention on the matter. Mr. Lemieux quoted news dispatches to show the gravity of the situation. In Ottawa, he said, dealers had told him that coal was now selling at $15 and $16 per ton, and there was no guarantee that it would not go to $17 next week.

"What I want to know is the policy of the government in regard to the matter," he went on. The situation in Ontario and Quebec was serious and many important industries were threatened with dislocation. The Canadian Pacific purchasing agent had said that his company had placed orders for between three and four millions of tons of bituminous coal and was glad to get a single carload. Western Canadian operators were sending coal to the United States and Eastern operators were sending coal to European countries, all to the detriment of Eastern Canada.

Sir Robert Borden said the government took action several weeks ago and had done practically everything that could be done up to the present. A sub-committee to the cabinet was appointed composed of the Minister of Railways, Hon. J. D. Reid, and the Minister of Labor, Senator G. D. Robertson.

The question of future coal supply must be squarely met by Canada. There were increasing demands upon the coal reserves of the United States.

The lower grades of lignite among the coal deposits must be utilized and the research council now had a special board at work on the problem. Sir Robert thought the country need not be unduly apprehensive. The government was doing its duty in seeking to avoid all danger of serious coal shortage.

GOVERNMENT

Improvements Advocated

Better laws governing the guardianship of children—for the present law gives the father the guardianship, not the mother—laws to protect the illegitimate child, a sensible temperance act, were some of the improvements advocated by Mrs. Munro, who stated that delegations had appeared before the Norris Government and requested some of these laws amended but were not given any satisfaction.

Less expenditure in the Legislature and better educational laws, which would provide for the children of the province who need nourishment and clothes, more consideration of the soldiers, and less taxation were other things mentioned by the speaker.

Patriotic taxes, municipal levy, amusement tax, and corporation taxes are just some of the taxes imposed by the Norris Government. Some of these were war measures, but are still in force, said Mrs. Munro.

In the recent Winnipeg strike the Norris Government was neutral. The Conservative Government is prepared to have a Portfolio of Labor. If there had been a Minister of Labor last year there would not have been so much strife. The laws on the statute books were not enforced, continued the speaker. "I am not in favor of strikes and think there are better ways of settling disputes."

Extravagance by Government

In speaking of the extravagance of the Parliament Buildings, Mrs. Munro stated that at the time the buildings were erected, Mr. Norris, Mr. Johnston and the late Mr. Winkler, were members of the committee who approved the building, so that if one government was to blame for the erection of the Parliament Buildings, the other was just as much to blame. But the Norris Government only are for the colossal extravagance of the furnishings. Carpets at thirty-eight dollars a yard and other things on a like scale were used in these buildings, for the furnishings of which the government sent all over the world instead of buying what they could at home. The Norris Government instead of doing business themselves shifted the responsibility on to others and appointed commissioners, which also added to expenses.

Mrs. Munro said she would like to see more soldiers in the Legislature. "We entrusted the safety of the Empire in their hands so we should be able to entrust them with the Province of Manitoba."

Meeting for Women

A well attended meeting of representative women of Brandon was held Monday afternoon in the Council Chamber of the City Hall. Mrs. C. C. Hearn was in the chair and the principal speaker was Mrs. James Munro, who explained many things in regard to politics, which had been puzzling the women of Brandon. General Kirkcaldy was also present and gave a short address in which he stated that if sent to the Legislature he would try to represent Brandon as a whole and not just a certain section of the city.

R. C. M. P. CONSTABLE DROWNED IN FOOT OF WATER IN CELLAR

Regina, June 22.—In one foot of water, Charles Alden, constable on the R. C. M. P., was drowned in the cellar of his home at 1071 Retallack Street, shortly before noon on Sunday. He was found by his wife on her return from church at noon. When the body was discovered in the cellar the assistance of Mr. Derry, 1061 Retallack Street, was secured and he carried the body up from the cellar.

Dr. Scott was summoned, but attempts at resuscitation were futile. Coroner Mitchell was then notified and he decided that an inquest is unnecessary and the body was removed to Speers' funeral home.

The late Constable Alden was subject to fits of epilepsy and it is believed went down into his cellar to bale out some water, took a fit and drowned.

VENIZELOS AT FOLKESTONE TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

Folkestone, Eng., June 21.—The arrival here of the Greek Premier, Eliptherios Venizelos, occasioned great surprise. He was accompanied by the Greek minister at London. Officials do not seek to deny that the presence of M. Venizelos is unexpected, some even among the entourage of the informal conference talk of the "unbidden guest."

It can hardly be supposed, however, that the visit of the Greek Premier is a surprise to the inner circle and it is held to prove that in addition to the questions of the German indemnity, and the carrying out by the Germans of treaty obligations, an important point in the discussions will be the Turkish settlement, and the visit is interpreted to mean that M. Venizzelos intends to protect the Greek gains from the Turks in any possible modification of the Turkey treaty such as has been suggested.

FLOW OF GOLD INTO THE UNITED STATES

Members of the hispital staff were reticent aoout the nature of the cure, which is in the nature of a serum, which is injected into the diseased part, stating that it is still in the experimental stage, although proving so far to be effective. DETAILS OF PACT WITH WEST INDIES NOT PUBLIC YET

Ottawa, June 22.—Questioned in the House Sir George Foster said it was not intended to give details at present regarding the agreement reached between Canada and the West Indies in order to enable representatives from the West Indies to present the agreement to their respective governments, an understanding had been reached not to give out details until August 14. He hoped, however, to make a statement to the House later.

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King asked if the arbitrators of the Grand Trunk had yet been appointed.

Sir Robert Borden replied that the Government had not, as yet, appointed its nominee; nor, so far as Sir Robert was aware, had the Grand Trunk either made its nominee.

Both the Government and the Grand Trunk, however, were preparing evidence for submission to the board. It was not yet ready and, therefore, no time was being lost by reason of the fact that arbitrators had not yet been appointed.

Mr. King asked also when the supplementary estimates would be brought down. Sir Robert Borden replied that a sub-committee of the council was now engaged in giving to them any necessary further consideration.

Speaking on a motion by Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, for production of all correspondence between himself and Judge Robson regarding the latter's resignation from the chairmanship of the Board of Commerce, Sir George Foster said that such correspondence as was in the public interest would be brought down. On this understanding Mr. Lemieux's motion was adopted.

FARMERS TO GET AT LEAST 40¢ BUS. ON CERTIFICATES: PART PAYMENT BY JULY 15

Partial Payment Decided on Because it is Impossible to Make Final Settlement until All the Wheat Has Been Sold—Complete Settlement Before End of Year—Sir George Foster Makes Announcement in House of Commons

Ottawa, June 29.—The farmers will receive fifty per cent of excess due them on the Canada Wheat Board Certificates, about July 15th next. The definite announcement has been made that this excess on the original wheat price will be at least forty cents per bushel.

Just before the bill to empower the Government to extend the jurisdiction of the Canada Wheat Board, if necessary, until August 15, 1921, was passed by the House of Commons last night, Sir George Foster stated that the Wheat Board would pay fifty per cent. of the amount due the farmers out of the profit made by the Wheat Board on or after July 15.

Interviewed by the Canadian Press regarding the exact effect of the announcement, Sir George stated that the exact price of last season's wheat crop could not be decided yet. Several million bushels remained to be disposed of by the Board, but in the meantime the Board would be able to make a fifty per cent. payment to the wheat growers and this would not be less than twenty cents per bushel. The balance will be payable when the marketing of last season's crop is completed and not later than the end of the present year.

DEMOCRATS AT CONVENTION ARE STRONG FOR WILSON

Every Mention of His Name is Greeted by Outburst of Cheers

San Francisco, June 29.—The Administration forces went into the second day of the Democratic National Convention apparently in full control of the situation. The threatened anti-administration fight, so far as it related to the organization of the convention, [illegible] collapsed [illegible] a showing. At the same time the committee formulating the rules for the convention has cleared the way for nominating speeches to be delivered while the Resolutions Committee is working on the platform. By unanimous action it has been decided that various candidates may be placed in nomination while platform deliberations are going on, but no balloting for a nominee may be conducted until after the platform has been brought in, perfected and adopted.

San Francisco, June 29.—During its one brief session Monday the Democratic National Convention heard the key-note speech delivered by National Chairman, Homer S. Cummings, and several prolonged demonstrations for the President.

When adjournment was taken after t three hours' session, the real work of the convention began among the committees delegated to write the platform, decide appeals of contesting delegations and select a set of permanent convention officers.

Demonstrations for President Wilson began as soon as the session opened and every mention of his name thereafter was received with cheers. There is more McAdoo talk in the air, but there is no apparent change in the real situation among the various candidates.

TWO MORE FATAL AUTO ACCIDENTS IN WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, June 29.—Two more deaths were added to the already heavy list of auto accidents since the first of the year, when David Koffman, 17 years old, was instantly killed at 3 p.m. Saturday, and four year old Margaret McIntosh sustained fatal injuries four hours later, which resulted in her death Sunday morning. Melba F. Marten, eight years old, who was struck by an auto about the same time as the McIntosh child, is in a critical condition at the General Hospital. She is reported to be slightly improved

William Ryland, alleged to be the driver of the truck which caused the death of the boy, and Robert H. Irving, driver of the car which struck Margaret McIntosh, were arrested by the police and released on bail of $1,000. In the police court they were remanded until next Monday.

TOMMY TOWN TO RACE IN 'PEG ON DOMINION DAY

Tommy Town, Dominion five mile champion, leaves today for Winnipeg where he takes part in the Manitoba championships to be held on July 1st. The Brandon runner will defend his Manitoba title at the big meet on Thursday in the three mile event, and he expects to add more honors to his already long list. He will be matched against Joe Keeper and several other fast distance men, but if Towns runs in anything like the form he has been showing in his trials here, he should have little difficulty in annexing the Manitoba championship again.

Town will take part in the Western Olympic trials on July 7th also in which he will be pitted against all the running stars of the West. Walter Knox, the Canadian Olympic coach, will be on hand for this big meet, and the winners go to Montreal on July 17th for the final trials. Local enthusiasts are backing Town to carry off the Canadian honors again, and win a place on the Olympic team. When in the West some time ago, Knox stated that Town was the best looking runner in Western Canada at least, and there is every chance of the local runner making the Olympic team, and running against the stars of the world at Antwerp.

PREMIER OF B. C. SUES LAWYER CHARGING LIBEL

Lawyer Charges Premier With Trying to Take Unfair Advantage

Vancouver, June 29.—Premier John Oliver's $50,000 libel suit against R. T. Elliott, K.C., was called Monday and the defence is hoping for developments that will cause Oliver to relinquish his office. Mr. Oliver's friends on the other hand expect him to emerge with increased prestige.

During the last session of the House, Elliott was counsel for certain Chicago millionaires who were opposing legislation designed to aid British Columbia shareholders in the Dolly Varden mines.

Elliott and Oliver kept on fighting, and in the closing days of the session Elliott sent two hot telegrams to the Premier, a copy of one he sent to J. S. Cowper, a member of the Legislature, and it is upon this technical publication of this wire that the Premier's action is based. The chief charge contained in the telegram to which Premier Oliver objects is that he misused his position to force the private sale to him of lands which had already been reserved for soldier settlement. Elliott's allegation is that after Petley & Keith, owners of large sections of land in Northern British Columbia, had been prohibited from selling privately certain properties which the Government wished to acquire for soldiers, Premier Oliver actively attempted to buy twelve hundred acres for himself at a price less that a soldier would have to pany and that the deal was only called off when the Premier quarrelled with one of the parties in the deal over the Dolly Varden legislation.

The case is being heard by Justice Macdonald and a special jury.

The matter will probably be taken up again at a future meeting, as the City Council has decided that the Parks Board should look after the providing of music for the public parks this Summer. SASKATCHEWAN CROP PROSPECTS ARE EXCELLENT

Intermittent Showers From Now On Should Assure Good Crop

HOPPER DAMAGE

Not So Severe as That by Cut-Worms—Crop in Dry Areas Looks Good

Regina, Sask., June 29.—Wheat is now in the shot blade in nearly all parts of the province, according to weekly reports of the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture. The reports are encouraging, while in a few districts in the Eastern part of the province more rain would help rapid growth. Generally speaking, there is plenty of moisture in the ground and intermittent showers from now on should assure a good crop. Comparatively little damage has been done by grasshoppers. Where these pests have appeared in large numbers they are being fought with good results. More damage has been caused by cutworms at one or two points in the Southwest.

Excellent crop conditions are reported from Swift Current and in districts which have suffered a succession of crop failures during the last two or three years.

FRANCHISE BILL PASSES COMMONS

After Several Amendments Adopted—Brief Debate on Opposition Proposal — Majority on Final Vote Was 26—Indemnities Bill Given First Reading

Ottawa, June 29.—The franchise bill which has occupied the attention of the House of Commons for a large part of the present session was passed last night after several amendments had been adopted. There were several divisions and a brief debate on an opposition amendment which sought to compel the newspapers to print the name of advertisers paying for matter published in support of political parties.

The third reading of the bill was finally passed by a majority of 26 after an amendment proposed by A .R. McMaster, was defeated by a vote of 86 to 60.

Sir Robert Borden then introduced his bill to increase the indemnities to members of the Senate and House of Commons. The bill was given a first reading.

HIS LARGE FEET CAUSED MOTOR CAR TO JUMP AHEAD

When He Wanted to Stop, Plea of Defendant in Court

Vancouver, B.C., June 29.—In police court recently the unique plea of "abnormally large feet" failed to save the defendant, charged with speeding past a standing street car in his fliver, from a fifty dollar fine. The atuoist explained that he had just bought the car and through an oversight had neglected to make allowance for his over generous pedal extremites. In good faith, he said, he had placed his foot firmly on the brake pedal, but the accelerator also came within the zone of occupation and the car leaped forward with a bound.

BOOSTER'S PICNIC TO BE HELD AT LAKE CLEMENTI

Because Nothing Has Been Done Towards Preparing Suburban Park

THURSDAY, JULY 8

Is the Date Set for Annual Picnic That Boosters Make Memorable

The Booster's picnic will be held at Lake Clementi on July 8th. The original plan was to hold the picnic in the new Suburban Park, but there has been nothing done by the city to provide suitable grounds there so that a decision has been made to hold the picnic at Lake Clementi. An effort was made by the executive of the Boosters to have the Suburban Park grounds put in shape for the picnic, but after consultation with several of the Aldermen and an inspection of the grounds, the decision was reached to again hold the big day's outing at Lake Clementi.

A program of fifty events has been arranged for the day, and the picnic promises to be even larger than it was last year. Splendid prizes are being offered for the program events, and nearly $600 has already been promised in prizes by local merchants and others. The program is not completed as yet, but another meeting is to be held on Friday night when final arrangements will be made regarding the picnic.

One of the big featres of the picnic will be that all school children will be given free transportation to Lake Clementi and return. Motor car owners in the city are being asked to assist in supplying the necessary transportation on that day. An early start will be made on July 8th, as the transportation facilities were limited last year, and it was late in the afternoon before all the children arrived at Lake Clementi.

YACHT RACE FOR AMERICA CUP IS COSTLY AFFAIR

This Year's Race Will Cost About $2,000,000—No Returns From Contest

SIR THOMAS LIPTON

Has Spent Millions in Effort to Lift the Cup Since 1899

New York, June 28.—It is an undisputed fact that one of the most important events in the world of sports is an international yacht race for the America's Cup. There may be world series in baseball, international polo matches, tennis contests for the Davis Cup and other forms of sports, but few of these events create more interest than is centered in a race for the "blue ribbon of the seas." What creates the enthusiasm on the part of millions of people who do not know a boom from a gaff is now one of the wonders of the sporting world. Still it is the case and must therefore be accepted without comment.

The only solution to the mystery lies in the fact that the lay mind is astonished by the tremendous sums that have been spent in races for the America's Cup. That men are willing to spend a million dollars to defend a battered piece of silver that originally was worth 100 guineas appeals to the poular fancy. To make the situation even more unique, the money is gone forever, not one penny comes back in the way of "gate receipts." Again, once the series is ended, the yachts that raced are only worth what they will bring in junk. Nothing is more useless than an America's Cup boat when the series is ended.

Major Clifford, in whose behalf the Royal Canadian Yacht Club issued a challenge in 1876, was the first to build a boat especially to race for the cup. She was the schooner Countess of Dufferin. She cost probably not less than $25,000, and not more than $35,000 to build and race. It was the beginning of the building of specially designed craft for American's Cup races.

Both the Genesta and the Galatea were built especiall yto race for the cup. The former came in 1885, and in that year, the heavy expense of defense began, although the beginning was a matter of small importance compared with the expense of today. The cost of the building of Puritan in 1895 added to the cost of her management for the season figured up to about $35,000. It cost almost as muc[illegible] [illegible] of his Puritan's unsuccessful rival. According to reliable information, Sir Thomas spent $900,000 in his first attempt to capture America's cup. That was in 1899.

That sum included $400,000 that Sir Thomas spent in the purchasing of a steam yacht that he re-named the Erin, and another $100,000 to refit the boat. This boat, the Irish Baronet used until the World War started when he gave it to the British Government and she was torpedoed in the Mediterranean. Deducting the sum that Sir Thomas spent for the Erin, the cost of the 1899 race left the Irishman out of pocket $400,00, after his first attempt to lift the cup.

In that year, Columbia cost the New York Yacht Club $260,00 to build and race. Defender was used as a trial horse that year at a cost of about $60,000. The series cost the club at least $15,000 of which at least $2,000 a day was spent for tug boats and other vessels. In the rough, it cost the organization $335,000 to defend the cup. Both sides probably expended $800,000 for the cup series of 1899.

Regardless of the size of the yachts, the race would have been a fairly expensive proposition had it been held when originally scheduled in 1914. First, three yachts were built in the United States for the honor of defending the trophy. Resolute originally cost $120,000. Another $100,00 has been spent of the craft since she was first launched. Defiance and Vanitie, the other yachts built in 1914, did not cost so much. Possibly each was built for $100,000. Defiance was withdrawn after a few races, a failure. Vanitie still is in the game and since she first was built, it is safe to say that almost another $100,000 has been spent on the craft.

The figures do not include the sums that have been spent to race these yachts in 1914-15, and so far this season. Also when one adds on the storage bills that have been paid to keep the craft since 1914, to say nothing of the expense that the New York Yacht Club will have to meet to hold the race in July with ocean-going tugs worth $500 to 0500 a day against $75 and $100 a few years ago, it is evident that more than $1,000,000 will be spent by American yachtsmen in the present defense of the trophy.

Sir Thomas Lipton also will spend close to $1,000,000 in his present effort to lift the cup. First, there was the original cost of the Shamrock IV., which can be set down as $100,000. Then came the trip across the Atlantic under convoy from Erin. When she reached this country, the yacht was stored away in Brooklyn. This also cost a tidy sum. Then came the rebuilding of the craft, a matter that probably set the Irishman back another $50,000.

Now comes the 23-meter Shamrock to race against the other yacht. In round figures, it costs at least $3,000 a day to keep the two yachts in commission. In addition, Sir Thomas has a houseboat, a steam yacht, a tug, and a motorboat all under charter. If it will not cost close to a million dollars for Sir Thomas to have another try for the cup, then some of the best judges of yachting are wrong.

It is safe to say that before the races are decided, $2,000,000 will be spent by the challenger and the defender of the America's Cup.

POOR AMMUNITION: LOW SCORES

The Brandon Rifle Association held their first shoot on Saturday afternoon when fourteen members turned out at the ranges East of the city. The scores made were only fair, as the members were unable to secure new ammunition and necessarily had to use some very old ammunition. Good scores are reported at two ranges but the shooting was not as good as was expected. However the Rifle Association will have plenty of ammunition on hand for the next shoot which is to be held on Thursday evening.

MOORE PARK MAN OWNS WINNERS OF MOOSE JAW RACE

J. N. Scott Times in Only Two Birds to Finish Long Flight

J. N. Scott of Moore Park, again owned the winning birds in Saturday's pigeon race under the auspices of the Brandon and District Racing Pigeon Club. The race was held from Moose Jaw and about twenty birds took part in the longest flight that has been attempted since the club was organized. The fliers were liberated at six o'clock on Sa[illegible] morning and only two birds reached Brandon in the time limit for the race. Both the winners belonged to the Moore Park fancier, the first bird arriving at 5.05 in the afternoon and the second at 5.10. Another bird also arrived, but could not be trapped by Mr. Scott.

The winning of the big challenge cup for the season's racing is proving to be a walkover for Mr. J. N. Scott. He has amassed 50 points as the result of the winnings of his birds, and his next nearest competitor has 12 points. Only two more races remain on the program of the club for the older birds, one next Saturday from Chaplin and the last race from Swift Current. It is now proposed to hold a free for all race on July 17th, which will be open to all pigeon fanciers, whether members of the Brandon Club or not.

BOUNDARY LINES IN PORTLAND CANAL AREA TO BE CLEARLY DEFINED

Vancouver, B.C., June 28.—So that miners flocking to the new silver strikes in the Portland Canal country may know at all times on which side of the boundary they are prospecting, boundary lines between Canada and Alaska are to be clearly defined this Summer.

Several Canadian Government engineers were here recently on their way from Ottawa to Prince Rupert, where they will start North, working along the lines. They will proceed Northward until they meet a party of American Government engineers woh are to work South from the Unuk River, 100 miles North of Prince Rupert. A boundary trail cut fifteen years ago along the boundary and new cairns and monuments will be erected.

TAILORED SUITS ARE FREE OF TAX UP TO $60.00

Ottawa, June 29.—Men's clothing, made to measure, is not taxable at a lower price than $60 for suit or overcoat, under a new ruling of the Minister of Inland Revenue. This tax is retroactive to June 17 on clothing delivered since that date and not paid for. Clothes that have been paid for are not subject to a refund of any taxation paid.

Consideration was given the fact that tailors cannot make up men's clothing at the same prices charged for ready-to-wear factory goods. The absence of a distinction between the two on taxable price therefore worked a hardship on tailors, and the Government accordingly made a new basis of taxation for tailored clothes.

The tax on ready-to-wear men's clothing is 15 per cent. of the purchase price in excess of $45. On made-to-measure suits or overcoats the tax will be 15 per cent. on the purchase price in excess of $60.

LONG TERM FOR BOY DESPERADO

Through meekness appeared to be written all over the youngster's face, he had virtually terrorized the town of Buckingham for the last month by pulling off daring robberies and burglaries. It was at the request of his parents, the mayor and the parish priest of Buckingham that the little chap was placed in the reform school.

Following the daring highway robbery of two women who were driving in a buggy, the youthful desperado was arrested by Chief Constable Kearnan, after a two days' chase in the open.

MEMBERS WANT TO GET AWAY FROM OTTAWA

Measures May Be Withdrawn or Rushed Through the House

THE NAVAL POLICY

Is a Difficult Decision as Country is Weary of Heavy Expenditures

Ottawa, June 24.—Parliament is very weary and the members are very eager to get home. They are hoping that the end of the month may see the end of the session; but if their hopes are to be realized a lot of business will have to go by the boards. Still this is usually the case. Either the Government withdraws some of its measures, or the Opposition allows things to pass without much ado about them. When Parliament really takes it into its head to come home the members rush matters like cattle on a stampede.

The proceedings during the last ten days have been quite spirited. In committee on the Budget the private members had a final innings, and just when they seemed to be about through, interest was again aroused through the action of Sir Henry Drayton in introducing his new taxation proposals. His action was almost unprecedented; but since he has to raise an unprecedented amount of money through taxation, he perhaps was justified in taking unprecedented methods. Be that as it may, the result has been to confuse matters greatly. Corrections were no doubt desirable; but so many have been made as to convey the impression that the first taxation proposals were not well thought out. It is often wise to court the opinion of the House, especially when a departure is being made along new lines; but on such a subject as the Budget, to go too far in this direction is worse than not going far enough. Nor in the long run does it do much to remove difficulties; for in the last analysis the Government must take the responsibility for what it does.

A Month on Budget

Those whom imagined that the Budget would be disposed of in two weeks were much astray. A month has been spent in passing it, and it is quite possible that the heat and the length of the session has something to do with its getting through even then. If as new and as complicated a Budget had been submitted, in the days of the old Conservative opposition in 1911, or in the days of the old Liberal one before 1895, both of which had a strong array of first class fighting men, it is not improbable that two months would have been spent on it.

The Naval Policy

There are certain matters that are thorns in the side of any government, and the naval policy is one of them. It has given rise to a very great deal of trouble since the days when Sir Wilfrid Laurier endeavored to create a Canadian navy. Then it evoked a storm from the then Opposition and from Quebec, and did more to help the Nationalists in that province than anything else. The attempt of the Borden Government to secure from Parliament authorization to present two battleships to the Imperial government brought on the famous naval blockade. Now that the war is over and the world has been made safe for democracy the naval problem seems to be as difficult of solution as ever. The German menace has been removed and there is no new one on the horizon and still there is a feeling in certain quarters that quite a lot of money should be spent on this service, because most other nations are doing so.

Spending Program not Popular

For some time it has been apparent that something bigger than the $300,000 contained in the first estimates, has been lurking behind the scenes. The Government has not been committed to a big spending program; but some people very near it have evidently been doing their best to get it committed to something big. Now big expenditures on such matters are unpopular these days and the politician who knows anything of public opinion knows this. Hence there has been a certain amount of uneasiness among the Government's members from the prairies over the situation. Mr. Ballantyne's announcement that another $2,500,000 would be placed in the Supplementary Estimates has made matters more acute. The Farmers are strongly opposing this, a circumstance that has weight with the Unionists from the prairies.

Hughes Has Fling

There was every expectation that the Opposition would find fault with the Militia estimates; but no one expected the bomb that Sir Sam Hughes threw. The General, who is in much better health than he was six months ago, can't help but get into action when military matters are under consideration. Like an old war horse, he sniffs the battle from afar. It is well known that between him and Sir Arthur Currie there is no love lost but it had been thought that this had pretty well died down. On this occasion, however, Sir Sam came back stronger than ever. Sir Arthur had strong defenders and the House seemed to regret the incident. If Sir Sam were only an ordinary member he could not speak as boldly; but being one old member of the House and one of the country's most prominent men in the late war, it is difficult to head him off. Everybody looks alike to Sir Sam.

Patronage a Bugbear

Patronage is the bugbear of politics. When it was distributed lavishly it gave no end of trouble, and now that it is for the most part gone, there is quite a little trouble because there is none to distribute. Among the Commoners there is, on the quiet, much dissatisfaction expressed over the withdrawal from the members of the privilege of making recommendations for appointments. But they dare not say much about it in the House. But the senators being delivered from the painful necessity of defending their actions before the electorate, more freely speak their minds. When the Civil Service bill was recently before them, Senator Fowler and Senator Bradbury made a strong attack on it which was well backed up. Incidentally the senators are acting quite independently even with the Government's legislation, having among other things, thrown out the amendments to the Immigration bill. Having little or no opposition to fight the Government senators this session have manifested a disposition to fight among themselves.

A Strong Lobby

The representatives of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange are on the ground still, and a strong lobby they are conducting. From present indications they are not making much headway. Indeed Sir Robert Borden has stated that the Government is considering the advisability of introducing legislation to continue the Wheat Board for another year. The representatives of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange present some strong arguments, which the average member does not try to combat. With the latter it is a case of plausible theoretical arguments against the innate conviction as to what the folks at home want, and between these the choice is not difficult. The influence of the banks, which is believed to be strongly in favor of control, no doubt has weight with the Government. Add to this the opinion of the prairie members generally, and one has a combination of forces working for control which it is difficult for its opponents to combat.

Board of Commerce

The resignation of W. F. O'Connor from the Board of Commerce adds another chapter to the story of that ill-starred body. Beginning life with powers of the widest character, it has nevertheless been one of the most impotent of public bodies. The legislation that created it contained several grievous errors, but as much as anything, its troubles have been due to internal dissention. Judge Robson, a peaceful and well-balanced man, could not get along with O'Connor and Murdoch. Later, friction developed between these two. O'Connor hardly holds the high place in public estimation that he did a year or two ago. As for Murdoch, he is a little too assertive for a Canadian judge. The Board will probably be continued but with restricted powers.

Taft Offered Post

Whoever thought that Ex-President Taft, whose famous statement in 1911 that Canada was at the parting of the ways did so much to influence the election in that year, would be offered an important position by a government headed by Sir Robert Borden? And yet it has come to pass. Sir Robert practically admitted it when he was asked as to the truth of the statement that Mr. Taft had been resuested to act as one of the Grand Trunk Arbitration Board. Some remarkable changes have taken place during the last nine years. In 1911 Mr. Taft was very unpopular in this country; but the proferred position is the best evidence of the transformation of public opinion on some subjects.

Will Borden Quit

There is a conviction that before the Government members leave for home they will be called together to receive from Sir Robert a statement as to his continuance in the leadership and other matters relating to the welfare of the party. No official intimation to this effect has been given out, but it is expected. No one knows what Sir Robert may do, and still there is an impression that he will retire. In the matter of a successor Mr. Meighen seems now to have almost a clear field, the announcement that Sir Thomas White is to begin the practice of law in Toronto having just about finished the boom for him. If Mr. Meighen is selected he certainly will take aggressive measures to whip the Unionists into shape. The opinion among the fighting followers of the Government is that even though the prospects of success at the polls may not be of the brightest, there is but one course to take and that is to fight hard.

As soon as the session is over Mackenzie King will begin making arrangements for a tour of the West, which will take him through to Victoria. The Opposition is preparing for an election next year.

MADAM LORETTE FELL DOING A THRILLING STUNT

An accident which somewhat dampened the enthusiasm of the evening performance of the Robinson circus here, occurred half way through the feature acts of the big show. Madam Lorette, providing a thrilling 200 foot slide down a steel cable, suspended by her hair, fell about twenty feet to the hard ground. The knot tied in her hair to the cable slipped when Madam Lorette was coming down the incline, and she fell heavily on her face. She was picked up unconscious and rushed into an adjoining tent by her husband, and the services of Dr. Edmison were required. Within an hour she recovered consciousness, and it is stated no bones were broken, and she is not hurt in any way except being badly shaken up by her fall.

Madam Lorette has been with the Robinson shows about seven years, and is a Montreal girl. Her act is one of the features of the show, when she slides down the long cable from the top of the tent, suspended by hr hair. Her husband always ties the knot to the cable and last evening securely fastened his wife to the cable. Perspiration accounted for the hair knot slipping with the result that the performer fell when half way down the incline. Her husband rushed over to her, and carried her out of the ring, almost before the audience realized that an accident had occurred. She was able to proceed with the circus when it left Brandon Wednesday evening.

The showing made by the James Robinson circus here on Wednesday was one of the best that has ever appeared in Brandon. Although there have been shows through here with a larger collection of wild animals, still there have been few with better attractions under the main tent. Two fair crowds greeted both shows and were more than satisfied with the performances put on.

Possibly the feature of the whole fly, in acrobatic stunts on the main platform. Their work was a little short of marvellous and received a lion's shares of the applause. The performing elephants gave a great exhibition in the evening, while the clowns, equestrians and balancing bar women and men provided thrilling stunts, which were much admired by the crowds. Ideal weather helped circus day to pass off most successfully.

PLAYING ON FRINGE OF GREAT MISSION FIELD IN INDIA DECLARES ORCHARD

For years, he said, the churches had been merely playing on the fringe of the great field awaiting them in India.

GRASSHOPPERS REAL MENACE IN THIS DISTRICT

Ton of Flying Mixture Goes Out Each Day in Elton and Cornwallis

FROM BRANDON

Second Mixing Depot Located at Douglas—Supplies More Costly

That the grasshopper menace is more serious than townspeople know about, was the statement made by Mr. John Crawford, who is the representative of Elton Municipality in the fign against the hoppers. Although he is of the opinion that the farmers are holding their own in the fight against the grasshoppers, yet he states that the damage to be expected in this district from the inroads made by this pest, will be very serious, unless a great gain is made by the farmers in their campaign to exterminate the pest.

Some idea of the amount of poison being put out each day is gleaned from the fact that over one ton of poison mixture used is called the Kansas mix. mixing station in Brandon to supply the farmers of Elton and Cornwallis municipalities. At Douglas, where the second mixing station for these two municipalities is located, the same amount is being sent out daily. Other stations in surrounding municipalities have been spreading like amounts daily in the battle against the hopper. The mxture used s called the Kansas mixture, and ninety-five per cent. of the farmers securing it from Mr. Crawford have reported effectiveness from its use.

While the greater number of the Brandon farmers are enthusiastic over the results obtained and that the hoppers have practically been conquered on their farms, there are some who have not been able to cope with the inroads made by small pests. One farmer stated on Tuesday that thousands of hoppers had left a field of brome grass and settled on his wheat field with the result that already a large amount of that field has been completely destroyed.

Supplies Are Costly

In his efforts to supply the poison mixture, Mr. Crawford has bought up all the Paris green in the city, and has had to tlegraph to outside points for more. Like all other campaigns waged, the materials have advanced as the demand became greater. Molasses, which Mr. Crawford uses in large quantites has advanced from 67 cents a gallon to $1.05. So fast is the poison being used up that there is just enough for two more days, unless the Paris green ordered by Mr. Crawford reaches this city.

While not admitting that the grasshopper menace has been beaten all along the line, Mr. C. A. Weir, the Agricultural Representative in this district stated this morning that he was pleased with the results attained. The last two weeks had been ideal fr poisoning the hoppers, and that if anything a gain had been made on the grasshoppers by the farmers. He said that there are many large fields that have already been damaged by the hoppers and there is a great danger of the menace causing a great damage to the Manitoba crop for 1920. Every kind of grain is being attacked, but Mr. Weir said that the hoppers show a preference for wheat, and are making clean jobs of the fields they go after.

War on the Hoppers

For the past three weeks war on the grasshoppers has been waged at the Indian Industrial School and so far they have been held in check. Grain fields have been plowed around the edges, poison distributed and everything possible done to prevent the spreading of the insects. Northwest of the scheel farm they are very bad and just what will happen when they mature sufficiently to fly is a matter for conjecture.

Very few grasshoppers have been discovered on the Experimental Farm and drastic measures are being taken to eliminate these insects as rapidly as possible.

St. John Nfld., June 25.—William Caue, who was deprived of his seat in the Legislature by the Supreme Court on a charge of corruption, was returned in a by-election in Bay Deverde district Thursday. He had a majority of nearly 500 over the opposition candidate Huddister.

SAYS GOVERMENT SHOULD CONTINUE WHEAT CONTROL

Arthur Meighen Supports Wheat Board to Look After Farmers Interests

CRERAR MAKES REPLY

And Declares That Government Should Have the Powers Asked for

Ottawa, June 25.—During the debate in the House Thursday night on the Canadian Wheat Board, Arthur Meighen stated that if Canada threw off wheat control and European buyers got together to purchase the Canadian crop, the small farmer could not afford to let his wheat lay in the fields and a reduction in price inevitably would follow. Government selling will be much better able to meet such conditions than individual effort. With this in mind, the Government wants to be in a position to meet it. He ridiculed the idea that the Wheat Board cost the consumer anything like forty cents per bushel or two dollars per barrel of flour.

Mr. Meighen closed by attacking Hon. T. A. Crerar and others of the Farmers party for their tardy support of the Government in passing farmer legislation.

Mr. Crerar replying, expressed the opinion that it would do no harm to give the Government the powers asked for, owing to the conditions in Europe. He supported the Government when it first took over control of wheat and thought the Wheat Board had justified itself as a war measure.

POLAND AND SOVIET FORCES

Offensive for the purpose of defense, though sound military policy in many cases, is not proving wholly adequate in the Polish-Russian war now at its crisis in the marsh lands and empty reaches of Western Russia. The dramatic drive for Kiev dangerously extended Polish lines beyond adequate transportation facilities, and left Poland's weary army at a halt along the Dnieper with nothing in particular ahead and a waste of wrecked countryside behind. As political strategy it would have been grandiose but good if successful. As war strategy, considering the economic and military condition of the sorely tried state, it was in any case a dangerous risk. It was justified only by a desperateness of situation greater than the facts, so far as they are generally known, seemed to indicate.

The Poles now find themselves thrust from Kiev and from the Dnieper line by the slow pressure of the Russian forces. Their offensive stopped, their defense difficult to organize, the situation becomes for them less happy than before the drive. They have halted on a line difficult defensively or offensively and they dare not leave it.

Collapse of Poland's policy toward Soviet Russia presumably will come from this turn of military events. The probable change is more in line with Britain's policy and less with that of France. Once more French effort to penetrate Russia by military means has failed. Poland, one must think, will now adopt Britain's program, apparently of economic penetration. The recent nullification of Poland's military aims very possibly will work for Poland's eventual stability and good.

Meantime, according to the cabled report of The Chicago Daily News staff correspondent in Warsaw, foreign military observers in the Polish capital are alarmed at the threatening swarms of red troops massing apparently for a drive on Vilna. The Polish authorities, however, express confidence that they can successfully meet the menace. Certainly the world must hope that they will prove equal to this further test of Poland's remarkable fighting efficiency and that peace will soon come on just terms to the much enduring republic.

A LEVIATHAN

When the United States entered the war the German liner Vaterland, the largest merchantman in the world, which was interned in New York harbor, was placed in commission as an army transport and renamed the Leviathan. The handsome and costly interior fittings were torn out and the vessel fitted so as to carry as many soldiers as possible; and she actually did have more than 12,000 on board on one Eastbound trip, following the signing of the armistice. Recently the United States Shipping Board called for tenders for the work of reconditioning the ship, but, when it was found that the expenditure involved would be upwards of $8,000,000 in 500 days in a navy yard, or $10,000,000 in 334 days in a private yard, no firm could be found willing to take the job. All the ship construction experts declared it would be easier to build a new vessel, and that no one could safely estimate how much the work would cost. The Shipping Board then tried to induce two or three firms to take the contract together, but without result. The announcement was therefore made that the Leviathan would be sold as she is to the highest bidder.

This announcement came as a great surprise, as it was thought the government would finally refit the liner in one of its navy yards and then lease or sell her to an American company for operation. William Randolph Hearst promptly obtained an injunction prohibiting the sale, but the Shipping Board as promptly issued a statement to the effect that Mr. Hearst's injunction was nullified by the new Merchant Marine Act, which gives the board authority to dispose of its entire fleet. The Leviathan will accordingly be offered for sale "as is and where is." Last Fall the Shipping Board turned over the Leviathan to the American Line, a part of the International Mercantile Marine, but later it was explained that the allotment was merely tentative, and since then the American Line simply has hoped that it might get the coveted prize. Notwithstanding the reluctance of builders to tender for the work of refitting the vessel, it is expected that there will be spirited bidding at the sale. The terms of the sale were not given out by the Shipping Board, but it is assumed that only American steamship companies will be permitted to offer bids and it is probable that the successful bidders will be expected to recondition the ship according to their own ideas, presumably up to date, and at their own expense. Among the firms who undobtedly will strive to acquire the liner is the recently organized "all American" United States Mail Steamship Company, guaranteed by the France and Canada Steamship Corporation, which chartered from the Shipping Board not long ago more than a dozen former German liners on condition of refitting them for passenger service at its own expense. In this fine fleet are the George Washington, the Mount Vernon, the America and the Agememnon. The company has the privilege at the end of five years, the period of the charter, to purchase vessels at terms to be fixed by the board, meanwhile paying to the government "a bare boat charter hire at the rate of $3.50 per net registered ton per month."

The gross tonnage of the Leviathan is 54,282, and she was originally fitted to accommodate 4,000 passengers. She was built at Hamburg in 1914, and was the pride of the German mercantile fleet. The only steamship which approaches her in size is the former German liner Imperator which was also seized by the United States when that country entered the war.

LIFE IS—WHAT?

What is life, anyway? This question arose before the Illinois constitutional convention when the proposals of organized labor were under consideration. Those proposals embodied the doctrine that labor is not a commodity but something connected with life and that its legal status should be separate from the legal status of property.

The president of the Illinois State Federation of Labor, John H. Walker, told the convention that the distinctions between life, labor and property had been well drawn by a number of speakers and he did wish to insist upon the accuracy of the definitions of life which had been furnised him by two physicians of Springfield. These are the definitions:

"Life is a correlation of physical forces for the conservation of the individual."

"Life is a system of forces maintained by the continuous interchange of energy entering the system and its environments, these forces being so correlated as to conserve the identity of the system as an individual and to propagate it."

After this little excursion into the realm of realities and abstractions, the convention dropped back into its old seesaw of realities and obfuscations, facts and mirages, tangibles and prophecies.

If Mr. Falker again offers definitions of life to the wise men at Springfield he might include Ezra Kendall's apothegm: "Life is a whimsical combination of illogical improbabilities." Chicago Daily News.

HOOVER SAYS LEAGUE HAS NO NEED FOR FORCE

Should Rely Solely on Its Moral and Economic Power

New York, June 26.—Speedy ratification of the treaty of Versailles, after the elimination of Article X. of the League of Nations covenant, was urged by Herbert C. Hoover in a statement published in the New York Evening Post as the platform on which the Republican party should stand in the coming Presidential elections. Mr. Hoover took the stand that the implied threat of the employment of military force to guarantee the integrity of foreign states was out of place in a league which, he declared, was "the product of the liberal ideals of the world." The League power, he declared, would be more potent if the threat of military force were reviewed and the League relied wholly on its moral and economical power.

"It appears to me to be time to raise the question," said Mr. Hoover, "as to whether this same clause—I refer to the guarantees and the use of military force—that has brought about the dissension in the United States is not also undermining the League in Europe. I put it to the friends of the League in all countries. Has not experience and discussion shown that the time has arrived to reconsider this part of the League foundation?"

M'GREGOR CATTLE BRING TOP PRICES CHICAGO SALE

"Elba of Glencarnock," owned by J. D. McGregor, of this city, topped the sale in Chicago, Ill., a few days ago and brought the handsome sum of $4,000. This was the highest priced animal at the sale and was one of five sold by Mr. McGregor, who obtained twice as high an average for his five animals as any other contributor. Another animal was sold for $2,500.

TORONTO STREET CAR MEN GET 60c AN HOUR

Suggestion by Ontario Railway and Municipal Board—End of Strike in Sight

Toronto, June 26.—Walking or jitneying will probably be but a memory here on Monday. It is believed that the Street Railway strike will be settled tonight and that resumption of the service will take place on Sunday. In any case the street cars are promised for Monday. The Ontario Railway and Municipal Board this afternoon made a suggestion that is virtually an order and appears to be so regarded by the strikers, to the effect that the men must be paid five cents an hour more than the present wage scale calls for, a total of sixty cents an hour.

GREYS HAVE EASY WIN OVER SOURIS IN LEAGUE GAME

McInnes and Cornell Twirl Shutout Ball for Winners—Jesse Gets Poor Support

The Brandon Greys added another game to their long list of wins when they took the Souris team into camp on Thursday evening by a 8-0 score. The visitors could do nothing with either the offerings of McInnis or Cornell and only two bingles were registered for Souris in the hit column. Ten errors tell the story of the Greys' win however, for Jesse pitched splendid ball throughout the nine innings, allowing the heavy hitters on the Brandon team but six hits.

The following is the box score:

TEXTILE PROBE SHOULD CONTINUE BOARD SUGGESTS

Though This is Impossible Now Owing to Retirement of Commissioners

Ottawa, June 25.—The interim decision of the Board of Commerce of Canada concerning the operation of textile manufacturing concerns in Canada, was issued today. It expresses the opinion that the investigation should be carried through to completion in the interests of the public. The Board has found much that is susceptible to inquiry, but with the immediate retirement of all Commissioners, the Board finds it necessary to issue an incomplete report. The report says that the gross manufacturing profits of certain companies have during some years of the war run as high as double, and more than double those of pre-war years.

COAL MAY BE HARD TO GET THIS WINTER

Pennsylvania Hard Coal So Dear That Use of Western Coal Will Be General

Buy coal now. This is the advice of men in the city who have been studying conditions and predict a scarcity of coal and higher prices in the Fall. At the present time there is no shortage of coal, but Pennsylvania hard coal which has been used in past years by many people is now selling at from $22.00 to $22.50 per ton, which is almost a prohibitive price. This coal is only obtainable in limited quantities and although three small cargoes have been shipped up the lakes at present this is to supply the entire West. Dealers, in order to secure even a limited supply of hard coal must take a car of nut coal with every car of stove size and as few people use the nut coal it will probably have to be mixed with the stove size. Owing to price, conditions, and quantity otainable, it is not expected that there will be much hard coal sold on the Brandon market this year.

Drumheller and Lethbridge coal is selling at fourteen dollars a ton at present, with no reduction on the number of tons purchased. If all the dealer's sheds in Brandon were filled with this coal there would only be one-fifth of the total requirements of Brandon people stored in these buildings. This coal will keep perfectly well in the basements and as there will be about twice as many orders for this coal as lest year, owing to the fact that practically the supply for the entire city will come from the West, many people are ordering their coal now. The price quoted is just one dollar more than last year and yet the miners are receiving a wage increase of twenty-seven per cent. more than they did at this time in 1919. There is no increase in freight rates at present, but there may be next Fall, which of course, will add at least fifty cents a ton on the price of coal.

Although an increase in the price of Souris coal is expected at present, it is selling for the same price as a year ago. This coal also stores fairly well.

INSURANCE FOR RETURNED MEN

No Medical Examination Required—Death Must Be From Natural Causes

Ottawa, June 25.—When the bill to cover state insurance for returned soldiers, as provided in the Pensions Committee report was taken up in the House, Hume Croyn (London), Chairman of the Committee, said rates were slightly less than under private companies. No medical examination was required, but the man's death must be from natural causes. Death from actual war injuries was covered in another manner. No applications under the act would be received after Sept. 1, 1922. The act would come into force on Sept. 1 of this year. Insurance for widows of soldiers would be also provided, this to cover dependents upon the widow. All persons eligible for insurance under the act would be notified of its passage. The act will be administered by the Pensions Commissioners.

The bill was reported and given third reading.

Taft Offered Post

Whatever thought that Ex-President Taft, whose famous statement in 1911 that Canada was at the parting of the ways did so much to influence the election in that year, would be offered an important position by a government headed by Sir Robert Borden? And yet it has come to pass. Sir Robert practically admitted it when he was asked as to the truth of the statement that Mr. Taft had been requested to act as one of the Grand Trunk Arbitration Board. Some remarkable changes have taken place during the last nine years. In 1911 Mr. Taft was very unpopular in this country; but the proferred position is the best evidence of the transformation of public opinion on some subjects.

Will Borden Quit

There is a conviction that before the Government members leave for home they will be called together to receive from Sir Robert a statement as to his continuance in the leadership and other matters relating to the welfare of the party. No official intimation to this effect has been given out, but it is expected. No one knows what Sir Robert may do and still there is an impression that he will retire. In the matter of a successor Mr. Meighen seems now to have almost a clear field, the announcement that Sir Thomas White is to begin the practice of law in Toronto having just about finished the boom for him. If Mr. Meighen is selected he certainly will take aggressive measures to whip the Unionists into shape. The opinion among the fighting followers of the Government is that even though the prospects of success at the polls may not be of the brightest, there is but one course to take and that is to fight hard.

As soon as the session is over Mackenzie King will begin making arrangements for a tour of the West, which will take him through to Victoria. The Opposition is preparing for an election next year.

Spending Program not Popular

For some time it has been apparent that something bigger than the $300,000 contained in the first estimates, has been lurking behind the scenes. The Government has not been committed to a big spending program; but some people very near it have evidently been doing their best to get it committed to something big. Now big expenditures on such matters are unpopular these days and the politician who knows anything of public opinion knows this. Hence there has been a certain amount of uneasiness among the Government's members from the prairies over the situation. Mr. Ballantyne's announcement that another $2,500,000 would be placed in the Supplementary Estimates has made matters more acute. The Farmers are strongly opposing this, a circumstance that has weight with the Unionists from the prairies.

Hughes Has Fling

There was every expectation that the Opposition would find fault with the Militia estimates; but no one expected the bomb that Sir Sam Hughes threw. The General, who is in much better health than he was six months ago, can't help but get into action when military matters are under consideration. Like an old war horse, he sniffs the battle from afar. It is well known that between him and Sir Arthur Currie there is no love lost but it had been thought that this had pretty well died down. On this occasion, however, Sir Sam came back stronger than ever. Sir Arthur had ted to offer bids and it is probable that the successful bidders will be expected to recondition the ship according to their own ideas, presumably up to date, and at their own expense. Among the firms who undoubtedly will strive to acquire the liner is the recently organized "all American" United States Mail Steamship Company, guaranteed by the France and Canada Steamship Corporation, which chartered from the Shipping Board not long ago more than a dozen former German liners on condition of refitting them for passenger service at its own expense. Those proposals embodied the doctrine that labor is not a commodity but something connected with life and that its legal status should be separate from the legal status of pen pony.

The president of the Illinois State Federation of Labor, John H. Walker, told the convention that the distinctions between life, labor and property had been well drawn by a number of speakers and he did wish to insist upon the accuracy of the definitions of life which had been furnished him by two physicians of Springfield. These are the definitions:

"Life is a correlation of physical forces for the conservation of the individual."

"Life is a system of forces maintained by the continuous interchange of energy entering the system and its environments, these forces being so correlated as to conserve the identity of the system as an individual and to propagate it."

After this little excursion into the [illegible] convention dropped back into its old seesaw of realities and obfuscations, facts and mirages, tangibles and pro-

TORONTO STREET CAR MEN GET 60c AN HOUR

Suggestion by Ontario Railway and Municipal Board—End of Strike in Sight

Toronto, June 26.—Walking or jitneying will probably be but a memory here on Monday. It is believed that the Street Railway strike will be settled tonight and that resumption of the service will take place on Sunday. In any case the street cars are promised for Monday. The Ontario Railway and Municipal Board this afternoon made a suggestion that is virtually an order and appears to be so regarded by the strikers, to the effect that the men must be paid five cents an hour more than the present wage scale calls for, a total of sixty cents an hour.

GREYS HAVE EASY WIN OVER SOURIS IN LEAGUE GAME

McInnes and Cornell Twirl Shutout Ball for Winners—Jesse Gets Fair Support

The Brandon Greys added another game to their long list of wins when they took the Souris team into camp on Thursday evening by a 5-0 score. The visitors could do nothing with either the offerings of McInnis or Cornell and only two bingles were registered for Souris in the hit column. Ten errors tell the story of the Greys' win however, for Jesse pitched splendid ball throughout the nine innings, allowing the heavy hitters on the Brandon team but six hits.

The following is the box score:

Souris	R.	H.	H.	O.	A.	E.

COAL MAY BE HARD TO GET THIS WINTER

Pennsylvania Hard Coal So Dear That Use of Western Coal Will Be General

Buy coal now. This is the advice of men in the city who have been studying conditions and predict a scarcity of coal and higher prices in the Fall. At the present time there is no shortage of coal, but Pennsylvania hard coal which has been used in past years by many people is now selling at from $22.00 to $22.50 per ton, which is almost a prohibitive price. This coal is only obtainable in limited quantities and although three small cargoes have been shipped up the lakes at present this is to supply the entire West. Dealers, in order to secure even a limited supply of hard coal, must take a car of nut coal with every car of stove after the various competitors' reports have all been received, entered on the books, and checked by the auditor, Mr. R. C. Macdonell.

DUBLIN OFFICIALS ARE PRISONERS IN OWN HOUSES

States Col. Wilfrid Ashley in Speaking in House of Commons on Irish Trouble

DEMANDS MARTIAL LAW

And More Troops for Ireland—Attorney-General Regards Dublin Situation as Bad

London, June 23.—Moving the adjournment of the House of Commons for the purpose of calling attention to the rioting in Londonderry, Lieu. Col. Wilfrid Ashley, Unionist, declared today that victory rested with the assassins and not with the government, which appeared powerless to maintain the sancity of life. The Chief Secretary for Ireland and the Viceroy, he said, were prisoners in their own houses; the officials of Dublin Castle were equally prisoners and obliged to take exercise in the castle grounds. The nations of the world were pointing the finger of scorn at Englands' inability to maintain her authority in Ireland. He demanded martial law and more troops.

The Right Hon. Denis Henry, attorney-general for Ireland, replying to the criticisms of Col. Ashley and other speakers, threw little new light on the situation. He said the authorities in Ireland had given fullest authority to call for whatever was necessary and to adopt measures considered desirable and the police and troops had been given the utmost initiative, their instructions being to behave precisely as on the battlefield. He regarded the situation in Dublin as worse than in Londonderry. In this connection he expressed approval of the suggestion made in the course of the debate to invite the assistance of the loyal men of all parties to help in keeping order.

Lord Robert Cecil voiced his disappointment at the attorney-general's remarks. He declared that the government should adopt either a course of conciliation or coercion.

The motion for adjournment was then negatived without division.

FOOD RIOTS OCCUR SEVERAL PLACES IN GERMANY

Socialists Take Advantage of Unrest to Urge Dictatorship Proletariat

Berlin, June 23—Several persons have been reported killed at Ulm, Wuerttemberg, in the course of riotous demonstrations against the high cost of food. Similar demonstrations have occurred elsewhere in Wuerttemberg. The home circles of the Independent Socialists are taking advantage of the unrest to urge the people to demand a dictatorship by the proletariat.

Many Demonstrations

Berlin, June 23—Riotous demonstrations against the high prices of food in which many persons were wounded in clashes with the police are reported from the Ozanabrueck, Province of Hanover, from the Crefeld, Rhine Province, and from Frankfort-on-Main.

RIOTS OCCUR IN LONDONDERRY: MILITARY ACTIVE

Fierce Fighting Between Unionists and Nationalists—One Man Killed

Londonderry, June 23.—Londonderry was the scene of rioting again today. At 9.30 o'clock fighting between opposing parties of Unionists and Nationalists who shot over the barricades that had been erected at various points was going on. The military was active in preventing citizens from venturing into the streets, which were deserted except for active belligerents. Looting occurred in the city during the night. There was fierce fighting over a wide area here last night. St. Columbus College, a Catholic institute, was attacked by rifle fire and a Catholic named McKenna was shot dead on the street near the college. Numerous other casualties were reported.

SOVIET RUSSIA CAN TEACH NOTHING WESTERN EUROPE

Socialism they predicted, would prevail in Great Britain long before it would in Russia."

Ottawa, June 23.—"There has not been the slightest suggestion that one dollar has been wasted and I think it is a great pity that the country should be put to a heavy expense in such investigations," said H. B. Murphy, member for North Perth, and chairman of the Public Accounts committee when consideration of the item of one hundred and twenty-one million dollar overseas pay and account was concluded today.

WOMEN WANT MOVIE ADS TO BE CENSORED

Also British and Canadian Picture Films in Preference to American

St. John, N. B., June 23.—At Tuesday morning's session of the National Council of Women, Mrs. Stead presented a reworded resolution asked for at an earlier session. It was seconded by Mrs. Spence and carried in the following form:

"This National Council of Women shall recommend to the Local Councils that they ask their Provincial Governments to give power to the boards of censorship of the vaudeville houses and picture theatres over the advertisements and bill-boards as well as over the actual performances and that the local governments appoint women to the local board of censors."

On Mrs. Robson's motion, seconded by Mrs. George A. Watt, the National Council of Women passed a resolution in which it recommended that each local council should form such a good films committee which might act as a board of review.

The report of the committee on women in agriculture recommended that local councils in market centres use their influence to establish rest rooms for the use of the women and children from the farms, who bring their products to market, in such localities where these rest rooms do not exist.

Want Women Officials

St. John, N. B., June 23.—Conservation of natural resources, patronage of publications regarded as unfriendly to the British empire, supervised play grounds and censorship, were problems which were discussed at the afternoon session of the National Council of Women Monday.

Women's courts, a female magistrate and police women were advocated in a resolution adopted at this morning's convention.

The council went on record as being in favor of the exhibition of British and Canadian picture films. It was pointed out that 95 per cent. of the films shown in Canada were manufactured in the United States; that $2,000,000 annually went from Canada across the border for this purpose and that the children viewing these pictures were being brought up on American ideals.

Mrs. Richard Hooper presented a resolution suggesting that, as women are now qualified to act on juries, local councils should be urged to see that women are appointed on juries in their localities. This carried.

ALBERTA FARMERS DON'T WANT OTHERS IN ASSOCIATION

Inclusion of Persons Other Than Agriculturists Voted Down at Convention

Wetaskiwin, Alta., June 24. — An effort to have the membership of the Strathcona Political Association, U.F.A. and U.F.W.A., extended by the inclusion of persons not identified with agricultural pursuits, was voted down at the annual convention now in progress here. This step was tion and inter-organization had been given by A. Tarmilo, speaking for Federated Labor, and Alderman J. C. Bowen, of the Great War Veterans' Association, Edmonton.

Several members of the executive, notably D. W. Warner, F. Herbert, George Ball and Mr. and Mrs. George Root, favored the proposed widening of membership, while Alderman Rice Sheppard, Edmonton, led the opposition. The last named maintained that the end of bona fide farmers might be defeated through the inclusion of members of the old line political parties. The vote was emphatically against the motion.

President Wood of the U.F.A., is not in attendance at the convention. There are 64 delegates present, a much smaller number than in 1919. No invitation was sent to the central offices of the U.F.A., and Secretary Higginbotham was censured for the manner in which last year's convention was managed.

The executive regretted the steps taken at the last U.F.A. convention in Calgary, when it was decided that the organization's political activities should cease. The executive also referred to the lack of enthusiasm manifested, and thought U.F.A. membership fees should be accepted as entrance to the political association. Out of 1,200 U.F.A. members in the Strathcona riding about 700 paid their political dues in 1919.

A motion that the women of Canada generally be given the franchise was passed unanimously, and a copy will be forwarded to the Federal Government at Ottawa, together with a request for immediate action.

MEASURE NORTH BY PRODUCTIVITY NOT BY CLIMATE

Stefannson Declares Even School Books Spread Defamatory Propaganda

Winnipeg, June 24.—"It is deplorable and ridiculous what the schools of Canada teach Canadian children about the Northlands of the Dominion," today declared Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the noted explorer. "It amounts to most defamatory propaganda," he added.

People generally display a lamentable ignorance concerning this country, and it is simply due to the fact that they were wrongly instructed when they were children, according to Mr. Stefannson. He pointed out that the opinions of adults are hard to change when once they have an idea firmly rooted in their minds, and explained that the country North of the Arctic circle is very different to what people believe.

There are 640 different specits of flowering plants, and roughly three times as many species of flowering plants as non-flowering plants in the Arctic country, according to Mr. Stefannson, and he described some of the conditions responsible for what, to the people of Canada, seems anomalous, because of the climatic conditions there.

In the North, he explained, there are two seasons similar to the seasons of the settled part of Canada.

Blue Grass Near Pole

Just in the same way as grass cannot grow here in the Winter time, the grass cannot grow in the country around and North of the Arctic circle in the Winter. But in the Summer time, one can find Kentucky blue grass, which is the most prevalent among the vegetation up there, golden rod, poppies, blue bells, dandelions, timothy and watercress, "and these plants grow as far North as any land that has been discovered," added Mr. Stefannson.

Speaking of the development of the Northland, Mr. Stefannson predicted that it would be developed in the same way as other countries. He explained that there are rich resources up there, and when asked if the climate would act as a deterrent, replied, "A land is measured by its productivity and not by its climate, and if a land is productive, it will be developed irrespective of its climate."

To the Competitors and Subscribers

The Sun takes this opportunity of thanking the competitors, one and all, for the work accomplished during the big drive. Everyone of the prize winners did most excellent work and are to be heartil ycongratluated. Anumber of the higher ones among the non-prize winners also did extremely well and our one regret now is that we were not in a position to offer more prizes in order that these too might be included among the winners.

Thanks is also due to the many subscribers who assisted the various competitors to gain the success which they did. Many renewals were received and many new subscribers added to The Sun's lists. The hard working of the competitors backed by the well wishes of the many subscribers has helped us to bring the big Campaign to a very successful termination.

FLOUR MILLS OPERATE ON WHEAT BOARD'S ORDER

Demand for Bran to Fight Hoppers Has Kept the Mills Running

Winnipeg, June 24.—The Canadian Wheat Board issued orders to Western mills for 250,000 barrels of flour for export purposes.

Local millers report that domestic trade is now very good and with this order from the Wheat Board, they expect to have their mills running to full capacity for at least a month.

All the mills in the West have been helping to supply the demand for bran from the Federal and the Manitoba and Saskatchewan Provincial Governments which was needed in the fight against the "hoppers." One thousands tons have been supplied, often at the expense of regular customers, as, owing to the light demand for flour that has existed in the past, supplies of bran were very short. Additional supplies of bran are needed, especially for Saskatchewan, and further Government orders for bran were placed Saturday.

INCREASED INDEMNITIES MONOPOLIZE DISCUSSION AMONG MEMBERS TODAY

Ottawa, June 24.—The aftermath of last night's discussion on increased indemnities completely monopolized the talk around the parliamentary corridors today. Members of both sides of the House still hope that something will be done before the sessions close. One suggestion made among government supporters is that a bonus of $500 or $1,000 will be asked for this session and that the indemnity will be raised to $5,000 next session.

TO ASK C.P.R. TO STRAIGHTEN TRACK

"Resolved that we, the taxpayers of the Municipality of Whitehead, assembled at a meeting held in Kemnay, on June 23, to discuss the closing of the three crossings East of Kemnay, after discussing same, request the Council to take the matter before the C. P. R. and Good Roads Board and urge the C. P. R. to straigten the Eastbound track, which will obviate the necessity of altering the Provincial Highway. That this resolution be presented to the Council and that they proceed at once."

This resolution was passed at a meeting held in Kemnay on Wednesday at which the Reeve, Council and ratepayers of the Municipality of Whitehead, discussed with Mr. R. Armstrong, superintendent of the Brandon division of the C. P. R., and Mr. S. A. Button, resident engineer, the plans for the Good Road through this municipality.

If the road is built as the C. P. R. wish it then the Victoria Avenue road, which is the main Provincial Highway and may be a National highway some day, will be closed for about a mile at Kemnay and travellers will have to make an unnecessary turn at Kemnay, a detour and return to the town before proceeding on their journey. At present travellers must cross three tracks. If the C. P. R. would straighten the tracks as the resolution suggests. they would need to build just two miles of road and would overcome all difficulties including the elimination of the crossings which are a source of danger to travellers. This would als make it possible to keep the Provincial Highway straight which is another asset to travellers.

Only a man's philosophy will enable him to bear the burdens imposed upon him by the philosophy of others.

NEW PARSON FOR VICTORIA AVE. METHODIST CHURCH

Said to Be Splendid Speaker and Good Pastor—Has Fine Record

Rev. J. A. Lousley, accompanied by Mrs. Lousley and family, is expected to arrive in Brandon about the second week in July. Rev. Mr. Lousley is the newly appointed pastor of the Victoria Avenue Methodist and as there are Union services between the Victoria Avenue Methodist and Knox Church during July, he will probably not commence his duties until the first of August.

It was in the early days of Manitoba that Rev. Mr. Lousley commenced work in the Napinka Methodist field and later was sent to Norway House, where for fourteen years he did missionary work among the Indians there and was also principal of the Boarding School. Realizing the need for better educational facilities for his children, Mr. Lousley moved to Treherne four years ago and did such good work there that the members of his congregation asked him to come back this year. Rev. Mr. Lousley is said to be a splendid speaker, a good pastor and has accomplished excellent work in whatever field he has been sent to.

PIECE FLYING STEEL STRUCK A SPECTATOR

James Moore, a retired farmer lies in the Brandon General Hospital in a very serious condition as the result of an accident which occurred on Victoria Avenue and Ninth Street, Wednesday evening. A C.N.R. engine jumped the track, tearing up the rails for a short distance. A wrecking crew was sent at the scene of the derailment and were making efforts to get the engine back on to the track.

A large crowd had gathered to see the crew at work, among whom was Mr. Moore. A heavy steel cable was attached to the disabled engine and another C.N.R. engine attempted to pull the derailed one back on to the track. The strain was too much for the steel cable, and the huge steel eye split apart, a large piece flying through the air. Although Mr. Moore was standing a considerable distance away from the scene at the time, the piece of steel struck him on the temple, inflicting a very serious injury. He was rushed to the Hospital where he was given immediate medical attention. This morning hospital authorities stated that his condition is very grave.

Mr. James Moore is well known as a farmer in the Beresford district where he farmed for many years. He moved to the city some time ago, and his home address is given as 708 Thirteenth Street.

SERIOUS FIRE IN NORTH BATTLEFORD

Brandon Man Hears Entire Block on Main Street Was Destroyed

A fire which caused great loss occurred this morning in North Battleford Sask., when the buildings on an entire block of the main street were destroyed. The only hotel in the town, a three story frame building was burned, a pool room was destroyed and the general store, owned by Mr. Moses H. Lerner, of this city was a total loss. Mr. Lerner stated this morning that the store, a one story frame building and the contents were completely destroyed, the loss being about $30,000. There was some insurance carried. Mr. Lerner leaves today for the West.

The blaze which started in the pool room about three o'clock this morning spread rapidly and destroyed every building in the block, including the butcher shop and drug store. It was impossible to check the flames as all water used has to be hauled into the town.

RUSHING WORK ON THE ROADS IN CORNWALLIS

Three Miles of Grade West on Victoria Avenue Gravelled Last Week

Road work in the Cornwallis Municipality is advancing rapidly and one and three-quarter miles of what is known as the "Clementi" road on Eilghteenth Street has been graded and already the improvement is causing much comment from travellers to and from the city. There is still six and a quarter more miles of grade to be built and the whole will have to be gravelled before it is finished. The three miles of grade which was partly finished last year on the highway west of the city on Victoria Avenue, was gravelled last week, and another three miles of road is being built down the valley on what is known as the Douglas road.

STATEMENT ON PROHIBITION MADE BY BURLESON

Democratic Leaders Intensely Interested in Statement From Member Wilson's Cabinet

San Francisco, June 23.—Intense interest was aroused today among the Democratic leaders here for the national convention which opens Monday by reports of a statement by Albert Burleson on the subject of prohibition. Burleson stated that he would "vote for a repeal of the drastic and absurd provisions of the Volstead law if he were the rankist prohibitionist in Texas." While he said it would be impossible to repeal the act "ridiculous and unnecessary restrictions should be striken out,' this statement coming from a member of Wilson's cabinet was taken as a possible intimation of the administration's attitude on the prohibition issue before convention.

PENSIONS REPORT IS CONCURRED IN BY GOVERNMENT

Recommendations of Special Committee Increase Annual Pensions by $8,000,000

WITHDRAWS AMENDMENT

Col. Peck Does Not Want Anything to Stand in Way of Benefits

Ottawa, June 23.—Just before rising for dinner recess, the House after nearly four hours of discussion Tuesday, concurred in the report of the Special Committee on Pensions. Hume Cronyn, London, Ont., Chairman of the committee, had first outlined the scope of the committee's recommendations. Increased pensions under the report, he said, would raise the Dominion's annual pension bill from $25,000,000 to $33,000,000. For the benefit of approximately 177,035 pensioners, the Committee had found it necessary to recommend an average increase of fifty per cent. over the pension scale, a year ago.

Lieut.-Col. Peck, V. C., Skeena, B. C., who followed, had an amendment to the formal motion for concurrence which Mr. Cronyn had presented. Col. Peck moved that the committee's report be referred back with instructions that it be so amended as to provide for subsidies for fishermen as well as farmers. In the ensuing discussion, war mtribute was paid to the work of the committee. From the opposition there came the criticism that the Government should have taken the responsibility for refusing cash gratuities "instead of blaming the committee' as Captain Power, of Quebec, put it.

Considered Granting of Loans

Sir Robert Borden indicated that the committee had already considered the granting of loans to fishermen among others. He urged that the report as submitted be adopted. Were the committee compelled to reconsider its findings, it would not be possible this session to give effect to the necessary legislation.

To this, Col. Peck, speaking with some warmth, declared that, rather than run any risk of delaying benefits he would withdraw his amendment. "It is not a question of class with me," Lt.-Col. Peck claimed. "I do not care about technical forms. Perhaps I am ignorant of House procedure. I specified fishermen as only one way of re-opening the matter of the rights of returned soldiers."

The amendment being withdrawn, the House then adopted the motion of concurrence in the committee's report ,and bills to give effect to the committee's recommendations were introduced.

SERIOUS RIOTS OCCUR OVER WEEK END IN ITALY

Number of People Killed and Many Injured in Disorders

A DEEP SCHEME

To Overthrow Social Order Throughout Country—Red Flags Prominent

Rome, June 28.—Serious disorders have occurred over the week-end in several Italian cities in which a number of people have been killed and many injured. The impression prevails here that these disorders are part of a deep scheme to overturn the social order throughout the entire country. Unemployment is the alleged reason for the strikes now in progress and for the rioting. In a fight at Ancona women participated in the attack on the police barracks. Anarchists are concentrating around the labor bureau and dispatches indicate they have machine guns. Two trains were attacked near Borgaccio when six people were killed and seven wounded. At Pisa the barracks were attacked, but the rioters were repulsed. Two rioters were killed and many arrested. The police and soldiers also suffered a number of casualties. At Rezzato Socialists and Popularists clashed, one policeman was killed and it is believed that there were several other victims. At Cadore red flags have been hoisted above the municipal buildings and at several other places the Reds were blocked and the telegraph lines cut.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION AT SAN FRANCISCO

San Francisco, June 28.—Delegates and leaders were prepared for the fight over both platforms and candidates at the Democratic National convention assembled today for its opening session. The actual convention work itself, was only preliminary and perfunctory, but the arrival of convention day served to bring further into the open, questions which had been dividing the delegates and perplexing politicians in their pre-convention conference. The keynote speech of Homer S. Cummings, as temporary chairman, was the principal feature of today's program.

UNVEIL TABLET TO FIREMEN WHO GAVE THEIR LIVES

At the Fire Hall on Sunday Afternoon — Salvation Army Conducts Services

A very impressive service took place on Sunday afternoon when a memorial tablet was unveiled at the Fire Hall in honor of six former members of the Brandon City Fire Department who made the supreme sacrifice during the Great War. The service was conducted by the Salvation Army officials, while His Worship Mayor Dinsdale unveiled the tablet. Members of the City Council and many representative citizens of Brandon were present and paid tribute to the brave dead.

The service was opened with the singing of "Nearer, My God to Thee," after which Mrs. Staff Captain Habkirk and Adjutant Tutte assisted in the service. In unveiling the tablet, His Worship Mayor Dinsdale gave a short address in which he paid a splendid tribute to the Fire Department heroes, and the sacrifice they made. The Salvation Army Band then played the Dead March, and as each of the firemen filed by the tablet, they dropped a flower at the base of the memorial tablet. The names of the six men who were members of the Department and gave their lives for their country are: T. Calder, T. Dunnett, D. McDonald, W. Esselmont, W. Dingwall and L. Wismer. The tablet will be placed in a recess on the outside of the building.

HONORS PAID TO DEAD SERGEANT

Brandon Detachment of Mounted Police Marched in Solemn State

The remains of the late Sergeant Alexander Bryce were laid to rest in Brandon cemetery on Saturday afternoon following a short service in St. Paul's Church. The Brandon detachment of the Mounted Police marched first to Campbell & Campbell's undertaking parlors, where the members viewed their dead comrade for the last time. After the Police were lined up outside, the casket, wrapped in a British flag, and covered with flowers, was carried out by the sergeants of the Brandon force, who acted as pallbearers. The casket was placed on a gun carriage, and the Mounted Police then followed in Dead March. The late Sergeant's charger, with the deceased riding boots reversed in the stirrups followed the gun carriage.

As the cortege left St. Paul's Church, the Salvation Army Band played most impressively the Dead March in Saul. At the cemetery a firing party fired two volleys, and the Last Post was sounded. Superintendent Duffus was in command of the detachment attending the funeral.

GODLESS SYMBOL CANNOT REPLACE BRITISH FLAG

Even Though It Masquerades Under the Name of Freedom

CANADA HAS A PART

In the Making of the British Flag Declares Rev. R. H. Lowry

"Canada has had its part in the making of the flag . . . but she will never have its place taken by the symbol of a Godless tyranny masquerading under the name of freedom."

Thus said Rev. R. H. Lowry in an eloquent sermon on the "Building of a Nation," which he delivered at the evening service in Knox Church on Sunday. The gist of his address follows:—

"In building their nation and developing the vigorous national consciousness that has for many centuries been an outstanding characteristic of their life, the Jews had many foes to fight. There were foes that sought their territory and foes that sought their trade, but the foe that called forth most passionate opposition from the great prophets of Israel was the subtle undermining influence of the cruder religions of the surrounding tribes upon Israel's faith in Jehovah This made way for the brood of evils that were eating like a cancer at the roots of the nation's life. To sweep away the altars of God was to destroy the nation so for these altars the prophets suffered and died. We, too, love our flag. To see floating on the winds that makes out hearts thrill. Its strands of red have been dyed in the world's richest blood. Its field of white is the essence of a multitude of pure and holy lives and its blue is the shining of the unwavering loyalty of innumerable hosts of men and women who have been faithful unto death. Slowly, painfully and heroically this flag has been woven by men and women of many races. Now under tropical skies, now around the regions of Arctic snows, on stormy seas in the depth of the pathless wilderness, on the world's fiercest battlefields and in the council chambers of peace. It is woven by the missionary blazing a trail into the heart of a dark continent and by the teacher in the little school house on the lonely frontier.

"Flag that braved a thousand years
The battle and the breeze,"

"In countless homes, workshops, stores, fields and offices workers are consciously and unconsciously weaving the best of their lives into the glory of the flag: and it stirs my heart, because for over a thousand years it has received the concentrated essence of the holiest, wisest, bravest lives of the Empire, and it stands today for some of the finest, freest, most humane institutions in the world.

"It is not yet a perfect flag. It must have a deeper red, a purer white, a deeper blue. It must be the symbol of institutions, growing finer, juster and more humane, and this it may be if the life and teaching of the Christ of the Gospels remain the inexhaustable fountain of our vitality. When we hear sometimes the anti-Christian clamor of so-called reformers we tremble for the ark of God, but a review of the Christian history renews our faith. The great currents of life in our Empire are in God's control.

Canada has had a part in the making of the flag. She has protected it by a bulwark of her bravest sons and daughters because she knows that under its shelter here homes are safe, her religion honored, her schools encouraged and the road to life's richest development kept open. If there are under its shadow she will help to cleanse them; if there are wrongs under its shadow she will help to banishe them, but she will never have its place taken by the symbol of a godless tyranny masquerading under the name of freedom."

RAPID CITY WINS LACROSSE BATTLE FROM BRANDON

Winners Play Superior Combination Game and Have Greater Part of Play

Playing a combination game that carried with it the majority of the evening's play, the Rapid City lacrosse team took the measure of the Brandon team in a league fixture here Tuesday night by a 4-2 score. The score hardly indicates the play, as the visitors had all the play in the final period and dominated it in the greater part of the second period. That they didn't score more often was probably due to the fact that Bert Crane in goal for the locals put up a finished game and blocked many shots that had the goal label written all over them.

It made the first defeat for the Brandon team, and also gave the Rapid City team the lead in the lacrosse league. A fair sized crowd turned out to see the teams perform, it being an ideal evening for the national game. From the commencement of play the visitors showed superiority in their combination, while their defence work kept the dangerous shooters on the Brandon team well away from the nets. The winners were very fast in working the ball in on the locals nets and were continually after the ball. Only one penalty was handed out during the game, when things livened up a bit in the second period and B. Crane and Hotham were both put off, for starting a small squabble in the second period.

The game opened up with some end-to-end play, but finally centred around the Brandon nets, where Bert Crane was early called upon to make some close-in saves. The combination of the visitors was very much in evidence, and although the locals made some successful attempt to break this up R. Todd finally opened up the scoring for Rapid City with a shot that gave the local custodian little chance to save. The Brandon players then took a hand at dominating in the play for several minutes, and a few minutes later Pine carried the ball well in, and passed to McKellar who fooled S. Gardiner with the counter that equalized the score. At the end of the first period the score was 1-1.

Too strenuous lacrosse was indulged in for some minutes in the second period and B. Crane and Hotham got mixed up in a small fracas in the Brandon goal, for which both players went to the sidelines. The visitors kept working in on the locals' goal and finally G. Gardiner was rewarded by another close in shot that made it 2-1 for the Rapid City team. Cranston and Power engineered many attempts in the direction of their opponents' goal, their work being especially effective, but the Rapid City defence was sound and the second period closed without further scoring.

Play in the final period had only been in progress a few minutes when the ball was carried to the Rapid City goal and a scrimmage resulted in front of the nets. Pine and C. Crane secured the ball and the latter tied up the score for the second time during the match. Play was general for a time, but towards the closing minutes of the evening when he took a pass in the goal mouth and shot the counter that put his team ahead. It took three more minutes of play to put the Rapid City team on easy street, when R. Todd again bulged the nets with a shot that was impossible to save. For the remainder of the game, the visitors were content to hold their lead, but the Brandon team carried the ball into Rapid City territory only to have some splendid defence work keep them from scoring. The whistle blew for full time with the score 4-2.

The winners played a particularly strong defence game, and watched their checks in such a fashion, as to have the Brandon men shooting from a considerable distance out. S. Gardiner in goal made some good stops, while Millar and Crookshanks were hard to pass. Of the forward line, Hotham in centre, R. Todd and A. Dick played well, while G. Gardiner was the sharpshooter of the team.

For Brandon, Bert Crane in goal saved him team from even a worse defeat. The ones that did get by him were almost impossible to save. Powers and Cranston worked hard for the locals and were in the front of practically every attack on the Rapid City goal. Cranston looks like the best player on the line-up, and his willingness to go after the ball all the time, gave him some golden opportunities. McKellar and Pine gave flashes of brilliance but were held too far out of the nets to prove effective.

The following were the line-ups:

Rapid City—S. Gardiner, Millar, Crookshanks, McNaught, E. Todd, Hotham, Stewart, R. Todd, Dick and G. Gardiner.

Brandon—B. Crane, Boyer Beauer, Cole, McDowell, Cranston, Powers, Pine, C. Crane and H. Crane.

Referee—J. Fraser.

Peace Conference in Session Trying to Return Refugees to Homes

LEVY ON CORK

To Be Made for Purpose of Supporting the Railwaymen

London, June 26.—The situation in Londonderry following a week of civil warfare showed further improvement today, when business again started up. A peace conference is now in session largely with a view to getting the refugees back to homes. It is being attended by Protestant and Catholic bishops, magistrates and the Irish Under-Secretary.

At the inquest over the body of Augustus Austin, former soldier, who was killed while crossing the street, the Coroner promised to give Austin's widow every opportunity to identify the person who slew her husband. The Coroner said he regarded all such cases as that of Austin as nothing less than wilful murder.

Levy on Cork

Cork, June 26.—The announcement was made by the Lord Mayor at a meeting of the Corporation yesterday, that a systematic levy would be made on the city to support the railwaymen. He said the corporation is one of the bodies of the Irish Republican Government and that its decrees had to be obeyed. It might be necessary to make clear to the people that they were subject to corporation, which, he stated, was not recognized as a British institution.

Two Successful Hold-Ups

Belfast, June 26.—Two armed masked men held up the staff of the paymaster's office at the Great Northern Railway terminus this afternoon and carried off £1,000. The robbery was committed despite the fact that a number of people were in the station.

Discussing the German disarmament, he asserted this matter was not the destruction of 1,500 cannon, but the overcoming of the "hostile and militaristic spirit of the German people."

Ottawa, June 26.—At the opening of the Senate on Friday, Sir James Lougheed, Government leader said that the prorogation of parliament was expected on Tuesday.

RAISE PENSIONS THIRTY PER CENT

Ottawa, June 24. — increased pensions to returned soldiers and their dependents which will raise the countrys' annual pensions bill from $25,000,000 to $33,000,000, were outlined and explained to the House Tuesday afternoon by Mr. Hume Cronyn, Chairman of the Parliamentary Committee on Pensions. After exhaustive inquiries into economic conditions throughout the country, the Committee finds it neccessary to recommend for the benefit of approximately 177,035 pensioners in Canada an average increase of 50 per cent over the pension scale adopted a year ago. An anterior increase of 20 per cent went into effect last September with the result that the increases now recommended represent an average of 30 per cent over the present scale.

Bonus System

With few exceptions the increases recommended are in the form of bonuses. The committee points out that they are necessary to meet the high cost of living and therefore should take the form of bonuses but that increases should be assured so long as the high cost of living continues.

To meet the storm of complaints which followed the reduction in some of cash pensions to dead soldiers' dependents on account of their enjoying free lodging the committee recommends that widows and mothers be allowed to take or make an income up to $20 per month without any reduction in their pensions. The increase in pensions bills on this head is estimated at $240,000.

Permanent Increases

Certain permanent increases in addition to the bonus, are recommended by a Committe. A totally disabled soldier is awarded an addition of $300 a year for the first child and $120 a year for subsequent children. On the same basis widows are awarded an additional $120 a year for each child after the first. The increase in the pensions bill on this head is estimated at $225,000 per year.

Tables giving details of the precise effect of all the increases are attached to the Committee's report but were not read.

Mr. Cronyn read some figures giving expert opinion sumbitted to the committee on the cost of living, the committee, he said, had endeavored to base their recommendations on the minimum expenditure in the most expensive parts of the country and for obvious reasons had made the pension scale standard from coast to coast.

MENNONITES ARE GOING TO MISSISSIPPI

Leaving Swift Current District for New Home in the South

Regina, Sask., June 25.—Menonites will leave their lands in Swift Current district some time in July, according to a statement made to a Canadian Press representative by J. E. Friesen, administarator of the colony. Mr. Friesen, with J. J. Friesen and John Letkeman, were in Regina for two days completing final arrangements for the sale of the great tract of land that has been farmed on a community basis for many years. The Flood Land Company here held the option and it is understood that the sale is practically completed. The deal involves $5,000000, including the crop. In an interview Mr. Friesen said that the Mennonites have purchased 125,000 acres in Mississippi at $18 an acre.

FOR CANCELLATION OF ARMY CONTRACTS COMPENSATION

Secretary Declares There Must Be Error in Amount Given in Report

Ottawa, June 23.—Compensation paid by the Canadian War Purchasing Commission for cancellation of clothing contracts was the main item before the Public Accounts Committee of the Commons Tuesday.

When A. R. McMaster (Brome called attention to the fact that a firm in Hull supplied army socks at an average price of 45 to 50 cents, and received compensation for cancellation of contract at 50c per pair. W. S. Leckit, Secretary of the Commission, promised to look into it. On the face of it he agreed that the thing needed explanation, but he was sure there had been some mistake in making out the report. Mr. Lecket was on the witness stand all morning.

Dealing with compensation generally he stated that it was less than 10 percent of the contracts involved and much less than the sums allowed by allied powers in the war. At one point he stated prices quoted in Canada for overstocks of army boots were ridiculously low, and that the boots were traded to France through the Canadian Trade Commissioner at a good profit.

Valuable rugs or furniture, if any, disposed of from Camp Borden, would be sold through an Imperial board.

SUMMER SCHOOL TO HELP KIDDIES AT PUBLIC SCHOOL

Who for Any Cause Are Backward in Their Studies—Three Teachers

Classes for children who wish help in certain studies will be held in the Central and Park Schools during July. These classes will be held in the mornings from 8.30 until twelve o'clock with two recesses. The teachers will be Miss Cookson, Miss Wellwood, Miss Lander and Mr. Pullen. So far, about seventy-four children have been enrolled on the recommendation of their teachers. These have been organized into four classes, three of them meeting in the Central School and one in the Park School.

Every year there are children who have "hard luck." They get sick, lose time out of school and through no fault of their own get behind in their work. Some children miss so much in this way that they cannot cover the necessary work of the grade to enable them to pass. Other children are "born short" in some subjects—some cannot do arithmetic, others find spelling hard, still others find writing a letter no easy task. All these children can get help by joining these vacation classes especially organized for them. Some pupils will attend part time only, so as to get help in the subjects in which they are weak.

MOUNTED POLICEMAN DROWNED WHILE BATHING AT DAM

Sergeant Alex. Bryce Suddenly Disappeared While Swimming With Friends

30 FEET OF WATER

Immediate and Repeated Attempts to Rescue Strong Swimmer Unavailing

Sergeant Alexander Bryce of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police was drowned in the Little Saskatchewan River on Thursday afternoon. The fatality occurred between four and five o'clock in the afternoon, when Bryce and three companions were in swimming at the dam, where the local detachment of the Mounted Police are camped. Although efforts were made to rescue Bryce, they proved unsuccessful, and the body was not recovered until nine o'clock Thursday evening.

From the details given it appears that Bryce and three of his companions from the force, went in for a swim. All four men were known to be powerful swimmers. After they had been in the water a short time, Bryce suddenly grabbed two of his companions and pulled them down into the water with him, although he did not cry out. Thinking that he was fooling, the two swimmers came to the top gasping for breath, but on looking around, they could find no trace of Bryce. The victim of the fatality was not seen after that time, his body disappearing in about thirty feet of water.

The three swimmers dived many times in their efforts to locate their companion, and assistance from the Mounted Police force was soon forthcoming, but despite their many attempts at rescue, the body could not be recovered. Dragging operations were commenced and this also proved unsuccessful, the body finally being located in a deep hole about nine o'clock in the evening.

No inquest was deemed necessary by the Coroner, following an investigation made concerning the drowning. It is not known what caused the late Sergeant to suddenly disappear in the water, but it is presumed that it was heart trouble and not cramps that was responsible for his untimely end.

The late Alexander Bryce was one of the most popular men in the local detachment, and has been with the force nearly a year. He had eleven years service in the Imperial forces and served four and a half years in France. His age is given as 32. He leaves no relatives in this country, his father, David Bryce, residing at Port Logan, Scotland.

CANADA MUST DEVELOP THE CANADIAN MINES

Ontario Fuel Controller Points to Alberta as Source of Supply

Ottawa, June 26.—Canada need not look to the United States for its supply of fuel and that the present shortage serves as a good lesson for the Dominion to develop its own resources was the gist of an interview given by H. A. Harrington, Fuel Controller for the Province of Ontario.

"I would like to say that as far as possible the States are supplying Canada even at the expense of overseas customers, but when the demand is so great at home that the supply cannot be met, naturally Canada is going to suffer."

There was all kinds of coal in the Dominion, but the people of the Dominion were not "digging" for it. Rather they were depending upon the people to the South.

He pointed out that all the coalfields in the Sates had been exploited and the peak of the output had been reached. Canada's supply had not yet been tapped. In Alberta there were millions of tons of lignite coal and no attempt had been made to mine it; the lesson was obvious. Get after the Alberta supply.

FORMER BRANDON GIRL WINS HONOR

The following article from the Calgary Morning Albertan, of the piano recital of Miss Gladys McKelvie, will be read with great interest by many Brandonites. Miss McKelvie, is a daughter of the late Neil McKelvie and Mrs. McKelvie, of Calgary, for several years residents of this city. Miss McKelvie has just returned to Calgary from New York where she has has been studying pianoforte for the past two years. She won the gold medal and scholarship of the Royal Academy of Music at the age of twelve, continuing her studies at this institution for the following three years The article follows:

To say that Miss Gladys McKelvie in her piano recital last evening fulfilled the anticipations of her audience would be trite. She did infinitely more than that. The evening abounded in pleasure, real unforgetable pleasure that will endure when the mere fact of the recital, as such, is forgotten. To wed the people to one's one art and leave them satisfied as Miss McKelvie did, is to confess to the hallmark of the artist of rare and gifted attainments. The artist cannot sink personality; that is the vivifying and enlightening force behind the work, and upon the greatness of the artist depends the unifying and stimulating bond of appreciative sympathy between the art and the listeners. From her first number Miss McKelvie began to weave this link between herself and her listeners, and as the evening advanced it grew in strength until we felt that we were not so much at a recital as we were invited guests listening to the stories of old and modern masters, told in the manner in which they themselves would have told the stories. We forgot that we were one of an audience in seats of tiers and numbers; rather we seemed a comfortable circle gathered together, the guests of an intimate friend. The piano, as such, seemed not to exist; that there was a mechanical percussion instrument as a medium never entered our calculations; the music came to us as it was meant to come to us, as music pure and simple, without intrusion from another source, revealing to use the intended thoughts of the composers.

Miss McKelvie is a wonderful interpreter, with an almost limitless fund of technique to work upon. She possesses a keen sense of values, and throughout her program there was never a moment when this sense was missing. From the lightest pianissimo to the heaviest forte she kept it strongly in view So lightly she caressed the keys in the former, as in the Debussy Prelude, that we were almost surprised at her command of weight, round and full of tone, which she employed in the massive passages of the Lizt numbers.

The opening number, Beethoven's sonata Op 31.2, was a positive delight. The Allegro, with its theme of simplicity, at which more than one performer has failed, was raised to great interest, and as it alternated with the almost threatening outburst of the middle period, the contrast was very cleverly shown. The whole sonata, one of delicate fancy, almost Italian in style, was beautifully done. The Adagio was expressive without suggestion of pathos, and the Allegretto, in its half restrained, flowing style, was played so beautifully as almost to suggest diffused sunlight through the leaves. In her Chopin numbers Miss McKelvie, we think, showed her greater interpretive powers. The Etude Op 10.3, so much a nocturne with its suggestion of quartet, was almost sympathetically given. In the two other Chopin numbers, Waltz in C sharp minor and the Ballade in A flat, Miss McKelvie introduced the lights of a hidden voice, which together with beauttiful pedal effects, placed these numbers in the forefront of her achievement. The Ballade is a popular concert number, but never have we heard it with such unalloyed pleasure. In the two Debussy numbers Miss McKelvie made a happy selection. In the former we had Debussy the younger, not yet divorced from the conventions, while in the later we have Debussy embarking on the much discussed but nevertheless beautiful. It was in these two numbers that Miss McKelvie gave us the pedal effects one longs for, but so seldom hears. The half lights, the will o' the wisp fantasie that haunts and enriches Debussy's music; but, oh, how few players catch it and turn it to such good purpose as Miss McKelvie did! "Lotus Land," by Cyril Scott, was another phase of modern music, not so tangible as Debussy even, perhaps, but very well given, as also were the Seguidilla of Albeniz with its chasing rhythms.

The two Lizt numbers, the heaviest numbers on the program, were exceedingly well played. The elemental power and intensity of passion of the 12th Rhapsodie, was well known to concert-goers, was greeted with unqualified approval, and the encore number, "Juba," by Dette, brought to a close a thoroughly enjoyable musical treat.

Miss McKelvie has shown us her command of her instrument. We congratulate her heartily on her great achievement, attained, one may be sure, by a collosal amount of work and study. It requires no forensic ability to prophesy that she possesses the gifts and attainments to travel far on the path she has chosen.—G.

DOUG. AND MARY'S WEDDING ALMOST CAUSED A HITCH

Buffalo, N.Y., June 29.—When balloting for officers for the ensuing year was started by the Northern Baptist convention here Monday, the recent marriage of Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks cropped up and nearly caused a hitch in the proceedings. Brougher, also a Californian. Mr. Brougher performed the marriage ceremony for Douglas and Mary, and since coming here as a delegate to the convention has made a public address in which he emphasized his belief that it was not contrary to church laws to marry divorced persons.

INCREASES WILL MEAN DELAY IN PUBLIC BUSINESS

Montreal, June 28.—In a discussion on the decision of the Dominion Government to increase the sessional indemnity, the Gazette today says that making the increase dependent on the length of the session puts a premium on delay and dilateriness in the dispatch of public business, and because there will always be an inducement to spin out the sessions until the full indemnity can be obtained. The Gazette concludes that "it will be advantageous and may at times mean saving much money to fix the indemnity irrespective of the length of the session."

SOVIETS COULD NOT STAND TRUTH ABOUT INDUSTRIES

American Who Made Plain Conditions Arrested as About to Leave Country

GENERAL INCOMPETENCE

Upon Receipt of Report, Friendly Attitude Replaced by One of Hostility

London, June 19.—(By mail).—Royal C. Keely, an American engineer, recently arrested by Bolshevik authorities as he was about to leave Russia where he had executed an industrial commission for the Soviet Government, incurred the displeasure of the Soviets because he "told the truth, plain and unvarnished," Nicolas Isnard, chairman of the All-Russian Central Council of Trade and Industry, said upon his arrival here. Isnard fled from Russia where, he declared "the misery and dislocation of life is complete."

The fate of the American has not been learned. According to Isnard, Keely went to Russia in September, 1919, at the invitation of the Bolshevik Government, and as an expert on technical and industrial organization was asked to make a complete report to the Soviet Governement "on ways and means to save the Russian industrial situation."

"On his arrival in Russia, Keely was received with great honors and exceptional facilities were afforded him to travel all over the country," Isnard said. "He visited the industrial concerns of Petrograd and Moscow, travelled to the great textile centre of Ivanovo-Vosnesensk, and to the coal mines of the Donetz, and completed his trip by a tour in the Urals.

"Upon his return to Moscow in January, 1920, Keely was lodged in the Commissariat of Foreign Affairs, in the famous palace whether other distinguished visitors later found a sumptuous welcome and the Kremlin intimated its great desire for his report. Here the American committed his first and greatest mistake. In his report he told the Soviets the truth, plain and unvarnished. The gist of his report can be learned as follows:

Industrial Concerns Ruined

"The industrial concerns of Petrograd and Moscow are ruined completely, and it will need years to get them into some sort of working order The machines and tools are in a disorderly condition, rapidly deteriorating, and many vital parts are lacking. All skilled labor seems to have disappeared completely. The Donetz coal mines are in a very bad position also, and will need two or three years to put them straight. The work in the Urals are in a better condition and could be tuned up quickly. But nothing useful can be achieved until all decress against property and personal security are annulled."

Isnard declared Keely, in an explanatory note gave "extraordinary examples of Bolshevik administrative incompetence," one of which was that boilers of the electrical station in Petrograd were kept going for some time by stoking them with all the great stores of mahogany accumulated in car building shops there.

After this report Keely's position changed completely, Isnard continued, and although he prevailed upon the Foreign Commissariat to give him a permit to leave the country, he was arrested at the frontier, and since then nothing has been heard about him.

ROOSEVELT IS CANDIDATE FOR VICE-PRESIDENT

Cox and Roosevelt Are Democratic Nominees for U. S. Honors

San Francisco, Cal., July 7.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, was nominated for Vice-President Tuesday by the Democratic National convention, and became the running mate of Governor James M. Cox, of Ohio, Democracy's choice to rthe presidential nomination.

The first cries of 'Cox and Roosevelt" rang through the convention hall and were mixed with the shouts of tre vote of acclamation by which he was nominated without a ballot.

Despite disinclination of the Tammany organization to accept him, Roosevelt's name went over with a band wagon movement during which all other candidates were withdrawn. James Hamilton Lewis, Illinois, was withdrawn by former Governor Dunne; Governor Stewart, of Montana, announced his own withdrawal; Edward L. Doheney, California and former Governor Hawley, Idaho, were withdrawn, and Major Genera IL. D. Tyson, Tennessee, in person announced he would not be a contender ;as did David R. Francis, Missouri. Nomination of W. T. Vaughn, Oregon, who had received state primary endorsement, was changed into a second for the successful nominee.

Bainbridge Colby, Secretary of State, who was considered as a candidate and refused to allow his name to be used, finally was urged to consent if he should be "drafted." As it turned out, the Tammany crowd decided to accept Roosevelt and Mr. Colby's name was not considered further.

DISARMAMENT OF GERMANY IS CONTINUING

Spa, July 7.—A decision has been reached by the members of the German ministry and military officers attached to the German delegation to recommend that the plan for disarmament for Germany reported to the Allied representatives at this afternoon conference therefore will continue.

Execution of Treaty Terms

Spa, Belgium, July 7.—The question of the execution of the military, naval and aerial clauses of the Versailles Treaty was taken up immediately after the formal meeting of Allied premiers with the representatives of Germany began at 4.30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

The German Minister of Defence, Herr Gessler, explained the German situation in support of the contention of the German Government that it must have an armed force of 200,000 men to maintain order in the republic. He said there was little difference whether the force was labelled army or police, provided the men were under control of the Central Government. Herr Gessler insisted that the Allied plan for 150,000 police broken up into small bodies under local control and without coordination was insufficent to deal with the present situation in Germany, which he said, resembled that existing after the thirty years' war.

Armed Bands Raiding Country

Armed bands in various parts of the country were pillaging and killing; they were armed not only with ordinary weapons, but with machine guns which they knew how to use.

These bands, continued the minister, were so formidable that they could only be dealt with by considerable forces that could make a combined movement against them. Only last week a band of fifty or sixty issued from the Pomeranian Forest, raiding the surrounding country and villages. A smaller force of police met the band, but was defeated. These bands are centrally organized and directed; they are financed by the Bolsheviki, and if Germany were to muster out of her army 100,000 men, it was possible that many of them would enter the pay of the Bolsheviki.

"How can you feel that centrally organized bands can be dealt with by a police force that is not centrally organized and directed?" he asked. "It takes England 100,000 men to hold Ireland."

After Herr Gessler, Dr. Simons, the Foreign Minister, added some remarks on the difficulties which might result from the precipitious demobilization of a large number of men from the economic viewpoint.

IS THERE MARKET FOR WOOD OFF NORTHERN LANDS

Regina, Sask., July 7.—An offer for pulp wood at a price of $12 per cord f.o.b. cars, Fort Frances, has been received by the Bureau of Labor and Industries. An inquiry will now be instituted as to the freight rates, points of shipment and other features with a view to finding a market if possible, for the great quantities of this wood being cleared from the settlers' holdings in the Northern part of the province. At present this wood is being destroyed and a market would prove a source of revenue for settlers during the years the land is being cleared and before a crop can be secured.

TWO YOUNG LADS RESCUE WOMAN WHO FELL OFF A RAFT

ment on Monday evening was narrowly averted by the presence of mind of two boys, Alex. Porterfield and Joe Merrill. It appears that Mrs. Frank Pearce was on a raft and in some manner fell into the water, and although the water was not very deep she sank twice. Young Alex. Porterfield was wimming near the spot, and immediately swam over to where Mrs. Pearce went down and when she came up the third time seized her. He shouted for help and Joe Merrill rushed into the water with his clothes on, and with Alex. Porterfield, assisted Mrs. Pearce to reach land.

Both young boys are attending the Boy Scouts' camp at the Lake and some time ago learned to swim at the Y.M.C.A. Their training stood them in good stead in the first real test they had, and they are being warmly congratulated on their presence of mind and pluck.

HUN SOCIALISTS WOULD NOT HAVE NOSKE TO RUN

As a Candidate in the Elections Just Held—Feared Excess Baggage

Berlin, June 8.—(By mail).—Gustav Noske, formerly German Minister of Defence, who was a powerful factor in putting down the Kapp revolution, has been jettisoned by the Majority Socialists. His name was not included in the lists of candidates proposed by that party for the new Reichstag in the election just held.

Yielding to the pronounced opposition of the party's left wing, its governing body which Phillip Schiedemann now dominates, decided to keep the former minister out of the campaign, fearing that he might prove excess baggage to the party's already heavily overburdened craft. While Noske keenly feels the slight he is said to have become resigned to the fact that his party comrades have been forced to sacrifice a former strong man in order to vitiate the effects of the crusade against him conducted by the Independent Socialists.

Noske is shortly to publish his revolutionary reminoscences under the title, "From Kiel to Kapp." In the early days of November, 1918, Prince Max's Government hurriedly dispatched Noske to Kiel for the purpose of checking the naval insurrection which preceded the Berlin revolution.

Noske's strong hand succeeded in curtailing the outbreak there, but it had spread to all sections of the Empire. Betweent that episode and the Kapp coup Noske was given numberless revolutionary thrills which he now proposes to put into print.

DIFFICULTIES OF TRADING WITH RUSSIANS

Vancouver, B.C., July 7.—Some of the complications of trading with Russian subjects in Siberia are exemplified in the mission which is taking Major Ridwell, formerly an officer in of a second journey to try to recover some of the allegedly stolen millions from General Rezanoff or from Japanese merchants. He bears with him letters of recommendation from Sir Cecil Harmsworth, under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, to Sir Charles Eliott British ambassador in Japan and former British High Commissioner in Siberia. In addition he will attempt to recover the value of other British goods which have disappeared in Siberia.

In the early part of 1916 a great Manchester firm shipped cotton and other goods consigned to individual Russian subjects in Siberia to the value of one million pounds sterling. In August of that year General Rezanoff, who nominally was an adherent of Admiral Kolchak and was in command of the fortress of Vladivostok, seized some goods which could not be delivered up to that time. The General sold the cotton goods for a sum of £750,000 to Japanese merchants. Then came the Red invasion and General Rezanoff fled to Japan and is still there.

SIR THOMAS WHITE AT OTTAWA: MAY BE NEW PREMIER

Official Announcement May Be Made This Afternoon—Sir Robert Borden and Governor-General Visited by White—White Tells Newspapermen Health Will Not Permit Him to Accept Leadership of Government

Ottawa, July 7.—Clearing of a part of the skies is expected during the day. The morning has been one of conference. Practically throughout forenoon Sir Thomas White was in conference with Sir Robert Borden and the whole situation discussed. After the arrival of Sir Thomas, Hon. N. W. Rowell joined the conference. While there is no official intimation, it is considered probable in some quarters, that Sir Robert Borden will today tender his resignation to the Governor-General and that Sir Thomas White will then be formally required to form a new administration. Officially, however, the only indication of the trend of events is that an official announcement may possibly be made this afternoon.

White Visits Governor-General

The conference between the Prime Minister and Sir Thomas White lasted until practically one o'clock. Shortly afterwards the Governor-General arrived at his office. Subsequently he was called upon by Sir Thomas White. Prior to the interview with the Prime Minister, Sir Thomas repeated to newspaper interviewers the statement that he made in Toronto, that he could not, owing to reasons of health, accept the leadership of the Government."

SCHOOL BOARD DID NOT MEET WITH EXPERT

Col. Gill Unable to Attend Proposed Conference on Technical School

The Brandon School Board did not have an opportunity to meet Col. Gill, Director of Technical Education in Canada, on the subject of a technical school for this city. It was originally planned that Col. Gill would meet the School Board Tuesday afternoon at 4.30, and announcements were made to this effect. However, Col. Gill found it necessary to leave Brandon on the afternoon train and so the proposed conference did not take place.

Efforts have been made for some considerable time by the school Board to secure data and information regarding the proposal to erect a technical school here. A suggestion advanced some time ago to have the Province select Brandon as the site for a new school, was met at Winnipeg with the information that the province could not spend the money very well this year. However the School Board hoped that some way could be devised by which Brandon could take advantage of the Dominion Government's offer to assist in the furtherance of technical education and the conference with Col. Gill was to have been of special importance. Members of the local School Board are still hopeful that some means can be devised under which Brandon will have an up-to-date technical school.

DEMOCRATS NAME COX FOR PRESIDENT

At Conclusion of 44th Ballot the Nomination Was Made Unanimous—MacAdoo Forces Made a Game Fight—Slide to Cox Started Early in Evening—James M. Cox is Governor of Ohio

San Francisco, July 6.—James M. Cox, Governor of Ohio, was nominated as candidate for the Presidency of the United States in the Democratic National convention at one forty o'clock this morning. The nomination came at the conclusion of forty-four ballots in a struggle in which he had steadily beaten down the forces of Wm. G. MacAdoo, former Secretary of the Treasury.

When the balloting on the forty-fourth vote had gotten to a point where Cox had 720 votes and was rapidly approaching the necessary two-thirds of 729, Sam Amidon, Kansas, manager of the McAdoo forces took the platform and moved that the nomination of Cox be made unanimous. Immediately there was a roar from the tired and worn delegates, which lasted for fully four minutes before Chairman Robinson could put the question on Amidon's motion to suspend rules and nominate Cox by acclamation. At 1.43 o'clock this morning, the motion was formally voted over with the rolling of cheers and crashing of brass bands.

On the third ballot of the evening session the slide to Cox started and before the leaders of the opposition could realize it, votes were flopping over in twos, threes and fours, in a fashion which sent him over the majority mark and put him at a new level. After that the going was easy. Georgie went into the Cox column with her entire 28. The withdrawal of Palmer had released not only the Pennsylvania delegation, but other delegates who wanted to clide to the Cox column. Accessions of twos, threes and fours soon grew into blocks and when the 44th ballot was well on its way, the votes were tumbling into the Cox column so fast that his nomination seemed an assured fact beyond all doubt.

In the confusion and excitement of the nomination everybody forgot about the nomination for the Vice-Presidency, but leaders were figuring on the list which prominently included Franklyn D. Roosevelt, New York, Assistant Secretary of the Navy. While the crowd was demonstrating its release from the deadlock, the leaders arranged an adjournment until noon today to canvass the question of second place in the meantime, and to get again to prepare a complete ticket.

Manager Moore, of Ohio, said: "We did it without making a single promise, not even for a postmastership."

Within twenty minutes after the convention hall resounded with the rip-roaring shouts of the victors, the brass bands had blared out, the crowd rushed through the doors and the big fight was over.

VAST FIELD TECHNICAL EDUCATION

That eighty per cent of the school children do not get into high school, was the statement made by Col. Gill at the Canadian Club luncheon today at noon, at which he was the principal speaker. This showed the vast field for technical education in Canada, and the amount of work that there is to be accomplished if the plans of the Government are successfully carried through. Col. Gill gave a very lucid explanation of the working of the Government scheme for the appropriation of $1,000,000 a year for ten years for technical education in Canada.

The large sum of money voted by the Government was set aside following the request from industrial associations and labor bodies that steps be taken to introduce technical education in Canad. Each of the Provinces will [illegible] the grant from the Dominion Government, but Col. Gill stated that the money should not be spent unless it paid high dividends. He was confident however that high dividends would be obtained from the introduction of technical education in every part of Canada. The Minister of Labor is responsible for the administartion of the scheme.

The Department of Labor has laid down the policy that the money should be spent as far as possible in covering a field that has not been covered in the past. Col. Gill said that too often manufacturing interests were inclined to think of a boy in training only as a piece of machinery, but the Department of Labor are taking the stand that technical education must also make for good citizenship.

Failure to sort out the children attending school has been one failure of our present educational system, the speaker stated. Productive capacity is the test of ability, and a person must be able to produce to be a good citizen. Physical toil is quite as dignified as mental effort, Col. Gill said. The school records showed that only forty per cent of the school children complete their elementary school work, the number entering high schools is only twenty per cent and only two per cent go into the universities. This showed the enormous field that lay before the Department in carrying out the technical education scheme.

That there is laid aside, or could be laid aside, the sum of $4,000,000 a year for technical education for a population of 9,000,000 people, was a statement made by Col. Gill. Some of the big problems which face the successful furtherance of the progressive plans the Department has at the present time consist of school accommodation, efficient teachers, and the question of compulsory attendance. These technical schools are not to be trade schools the speaker pointed out, while he concluded by stating that although the question of education is a most delicate one, that harmonious relations prevailed between all departments in the carrying out of this technical education scheme.

ANOTHER WHITE BOOM AT OTTAWA

Ottawa, July 6.—The political situation is still uncertain. Within the last day or two the idea has gained currency that Sir Thomas White, in view of the situation, may yet be induced to accept an invitation to form a Government.

Sir Thomas, it is urged, would be likely to secure a considerable amount of support in Quebec.

A GOOD CLASS OF BULLS AT THE MANITOBA SUMMER FAIR

CITIZENS TO VOTE ON OPEN SUNDAY DURING ELECTIONS

Aldermen Decide to Pass Decision on to Citizens at Elections

MUST PAY LICENSE

Council Refuses to Remit License Fees Collected From Chautauqua

Confectionery stores in Brandon will not open on Sundays this year. This decision was reached by the City Council at a regular session on Monday evening, and by a resolution passed by the City Fathers it has been decided to put the matter before the ratepayers at the next ensuing municipal elections. A delegation appeared in the Council Chamber to speak against the proposed amendment of the present by-law, but it was not necessary for them to put forward their side of the argument.

The Council did not debate at any length on the question as to whether confectionery stores in this city should be open on certain hours on Sundays. Two weeks ago the City Fathers were unable to settle the question, and Monday night they were content to shift the responsibility on to the ratepayers at the next elections. The following was the resolution passed and which puts the question up to the ratepayers: "That in view of the differences of opinion re Sunday opening of refreshment parlors, the matter be laid over until the ensuing municipal elections, when a referendum be submitted to the City's electors, their opinion as to whether the said refreshment parlors shall remain open on Sundays during the months of June, July, August and september."

Chautauqua Must Pay License

There was very little business of momentous nature taken up at the meeting which was one of the shortest on record this year. The Dominion Chautauqua of Calgary, and which is now showing in this city, asked for a refund of their license fee of $50. In their letter to the City Council they stated that in scheduling the season tickets, the license fees had not been taken into consideration. No city in New Zealand, England, United States or Eastern Canada have or are levying a license fee on their Chautauquas, the letter stated. Should this city insist on a license, every other town in the Western Association would have an equal right to demand that a license be paid, and it was contended that as the licenses are of varying amounts in different towns, that a license demand from every town would kill the Chautauqua movement in Western Canada. Following the discussion on the letter the Council decided not to refund the license money.

Street Railway Loop

The matter of a short loop on the Street Railway near the Exhibition Grounds for the purpose of facilitating traffic during Fair week is still undecided. There was some discussion on this matter, and Alderman Patmore and Carey with His Worship the Mayor were appointed a Committee to wait on the Fair Board and report back as to the possibility of securing room within the Fair Grounds for the construction of a Street Railway loop to be used during Fair week. The right of way on Brandon Avenue and certain rights on that Avenue claimed by the C.N.R. is holding up the original plan of the city to build the loop along Brandon Avenue and down Twelfth Street to meet the Southern Avenue loop.

In connection with the C.N.R. right of way on certain streets in Brandon, the City Council passed a resolution that the railway be requested to arrange a meeting of their Right of Way Agent and the City Council at an early date to discuss the right of way on some of Brandon streets.

To Care for Boulevards

The centre boulevard on Victoria Avenue is to be placed under the jurisdiction of the Brandon Public Parks Board, and an immediate effort will be made to put it in shape. The City Council also promised to give the Kiwanians their full support on the occasion of the Kiwanis convention to be held in this city on August 23rd. The Kiwanis Club wrote the Council asking that the city decorate for the convention, and the City Fathers have promised to do everything in their power to assist in decorating the city for the convention.

New Rule of Road

Several by-laws were passed, the most important one being one regulating the driving of motor vehicles on cross sections of roads or streets. By this new by-law, "Whenever a person operating a motor vehicle meets another person operating a motor vehicle or driving any draft animal at a crossroad or intersection of roads or streets, the person to the right hand of the other shall have the right of way." This by-law will do away with the old by-law which gave the right of way in Brandon to cars travelling East or West. This new by-law goes into effect at once.

Music in Parks

The City Council has urged the Parks Board to take up with the Citizens and Salvation Army bands the question of supplying music in the public parks. An appropriation is to be made, and the Council advised of the amount, but the City Fathers laid special stress upon the fact that some immediate action should be taken to supply music in the parks.

London, July 6.—Turkish Nationalist troops on Monday occupied Beicos on the Asiatic shore of the Bosphorus, about ten miles from Constantinople and opposite the Allied Headquarters on the European side. Fighting with British and Greek troops in the town followed the entry of the Nationalists. The British fleet bombarded Turkish positions. The Nationalists, however, continued to hold Beicos, Allied troops having withdrawn.

Bombardment of the great mosque at Brussa and the destruction of the town by airplanes is threatened in an ultimatum received by the Governor of Brussa from Vice-Admiral De Robeck, British High Commission at Constantinople. The Turks are holding 40 Greek girls and men at Brussa as hostages and are threatening their execution if the British bombard the city.

CONFERENCE AT SPA REALLY BEGAN TODAY

After Formal Meeting Monday, Supreme Council Discussed Turkish Note

RENEWAL OF PLEDGE

By Premier Venizelos, of Greece, to Provide Troops to Enforce Treaty

Spa, July 6.—The Allied-German conference, owing to the late arrival of the German Minister of Defence and Chief of the German General Staff will not begin until 3.30 this afternoon.

Meanwhile the members of the Supreme Council held an informal morning conference to consider a reply to the Turkish note which explained why Turkey was unwilling to sign the Peace Treaty in its present form. Premier Venizelos, of Greece, took part in the conference. He was recipient today of congratulations from the Allied Premiers over the victory won by the Greeks. Venizelos has renewed his pledge to provide troops to enforce the execution of the treaty.

Monday's Meeting

Spa, July 6. — There was a brief meeting Monday of the Allied and German delegates who during the next few days will discuss matters relating to the Peace Treaty. The session was held in the drawing room of the Villa Fraineuse and the German delegates, Chancellor Fehrenbach, Dr. Walter Simmons, the Foreign Minister, and Herr Wirth, Minister of Finance, were present, seated at the left, next to the Japanese. There were no introductions nor shaking or hands.

The President of the Conference, M. De Lacroix, the Belgian Minister, arose and immediately opened what is considered to be the most important international event since the armistice by announcing the order of business, which included disarmament, reparations, coal supply, the trial of Germans accused of atrocities and the situation at Danzig.

Statement by Feherenbach

M. De Lacroix inquired of Herr Feherenbach if he desired to make any observations. The Chancellor said: "I desire to say in behalf of the German Government and of the German people that we have come here to take part loyally in the discussion of how the Treaty of Peace can be executed."

"I note that the military questions are to be first discussed. We are informed of this Sunday evening and tried to telephone the German Minister of War, but reached him too late for him to leave until Monday."

Premiers De Lacroix, Lloyd George and Millerand then conferred and agreed to postpone the discussion until today at an hour to be fixed later.

Ministers of Justice to Attend

"I should like to have Dr. Heinze, Minister of Justice here, when we take up the question of trials," said Herr Feherenbach.

The three Premiers again conferred privately. A few minutes later M. De Lacroix announced that the Lord Chancellor of England and the French Minister of Justice would also attend on Thursday for participation in the discussions. The conference recessed until called together by M. De Lacroix.

Mr. Justice Macdonald Presiding at Non-Jury Sittings of King's Bench Court

An action involving a claim for $5,000 damages is the first case being heard at the non-jury sittings of the King's Bench. Mr. Justice Macdonald is presiding, and not Chief Justice Mathers as had been announced. The case now being heard is that of T. A. M. Hughes vs. The International Harvester Company, James A. Callander and Harry T. Jackson. The seizure of some machinery which caused threshing operations to cease is the cause of the action.

In his statement of claim, Dr. Hughes of Winnipeg states that the bailiff James A. Callander and H. T. Jackson seized one Goodison separator, one sleigh, one horse and one binder from the plaintiff's premises. The plaintiff states that he enlisted and was entitled to protection under the Act granting protection to volunteers. Dr. Hughes further claims that at the time the separator was seized it was being used for threshing, and the sace is proceeding this seizure he was unable to finish threshing. In his statement of claim therefore, the plaintiff Dr. Hughes is claiming the sum of $5,000 damages. The defendants in their statement of defence deny each and every allegation set forth in the statement of claim, and state that they had a perfect right to seize the machinery and will attempt to show this at the trial.

THOROUGH PROBE CHARGES AGAINST ALL OFFICIALS

Of the Soldier Settlement Board—Evidence to Be Taken in Winnipeg

TO GET AT FACTS

Board and Veterans Satisfied That Proper Steps Are Being Taken

Ottawa, July 6.—The Soldier Settlement Board announces that inquiry under oath commenced by Major Barnett into cases of Matthew B. Fleming and others, will be resumed for taking of further evidence by Major Barnett at Winnipeg. The Board proposed to carry this inquiry to a conclusion and approves of the thoroughness with which its commissioner, Major Barnett, is carrying on the investigation to ascertain the facts. Winnipeg veterans also have expressed their approval. Major Barnett is expected to arrive in Winnipeg within a few days.

The Fleming charges of improper administration by officers of the Soldier Settlement Board were the chief complaints laid before the Parliamentary Committee on Pensions and Re-Establishment by C. G. MacNeill, Dominion Secretary of the Great War Veterans Association, who tabled a number of letters and affidavits on behalf of the veterans.

MANY CHANGES IN THE DOMINION FRANCHISE ACT AS ADOPTED

Ottawa, July 7.—That the Dominion Franchise Act was given every attention by members of the Commons and Senate, when it was being put through the various stages during the session just prorogued, is evident from the fact that an inspection of the Act which became law, together with the same act as it was introduced, shows more than 450 changes and amendments made by the members of either House in considering the measure.

The Dominion Franchise Act, 1920, is now in effect and whenever the by-election is held in East Elgin, for which writs are expected to issue shortly, this Act will be the one governing that election. It repeals the By-Eelection, 1919, as well as the War Time Election Act and other measures.

The lists to be used in East Elgin under the new Act will, it is expected, be made from those prepared for the Ontario election in October last year as these will not be two years old at the time of the election.

BRITAIN LEADS IN MAKING THE NEEDED CHANGES

Where Needs Are Foreseen and Changes Made There Are No Revolutions

DEMOCRACY IN INDUSTRY

Builders of Britain Organized for National Service—They Lead the Way

Dr. William Bohn gave his lecture at Chautauqua, Monday night in a way which must have inspired those who heard him to help prolong the record of Great Britain as leader in the great changes which become necessary and which this great nation has succeeded in making almost always peacefully. Dr. Bohn lectured on "The Resistless Tide," or revolutions. He traced the revolutions of the world, from the first in England in the seventeenth century, to the present day upheavals in Europe and then he predicted future revolutions. Dr. Bohn likened revolutions somewhat to evolutions. History shows that every few years as some radical change became necessary, if not made, then there was a revolution. "It has always happened and always will happen," said the speaker. Some great statesmen, like England was fortunate enough to have, foresaw these changes and made them gradually without bloodshed. Other nations did not have this vision and consequently there were bloody revolutions.

"Democracy in industry is coming," stated Dr. Bohn, "and once again England is leading in making this gradual change." The builders of Briton are organized for national service. They have formed a parliament of 132 men, half of this number employers and the other half employes, but they are not working for how much they can get for themselves but are organized to work for the good of the nation. This is the first great step towards placing democracy in industry."

Likening the present day people to the men who went over the top to meet the foe in France, Dr. Bohn said it was a question today whether the citizens would hold back against changes in the future, and thereby make revolutions, or go forward to meet the foe and in this way build a bridge of peace, which was the ideal the soldiers in France fought for.

Dr. Bohn referred to the 100 years of peace between the United States and Canada and asked that the people of Canada pay little attention to some of the speakers at Washington who were trying to make trouble in Canada. "There is going to be a change there," said the speaker. "But before this is possible we will have to have a new Senate." There must be co-operation in every way between these two countries. Canada has led in this by sending a representative to Washington and Dr. Bohn hoped that the United States would soon reciprocate by sending a representative to Canada. He also stated that with the appointment of the new Senate he felt sure that the United States would take their place in the League of Nations as had been the wish of many people in this great republic since the League was formed.

The musical prelude was given on Monday evening by the Venetian Trio who also gave a program in the afternoon. A lecture, "Peculiar People I Have Met," delivered by Prof. J. A. Armand, Monday afternoon was enjoyed by many.

Tonight the closing concert of the Chautauqua will be given by the Garner Jubilee Singers.

NEBRASKA CROP IS PROMISING

Though Yield is Estimated to Be Much Less Than in 1919.

Lincoln, Neb., July 7.—Federal and state officials state that Nebraska's 1920 wheat crop will reach 56,129,000 bushels or 4,546,000 under the 1919 production.

A report, prepared by A. E. Anderson, of the Federal Bureau, and Secretary Leo Stuhr, of the State Agricultural Department gives 88 per cent. as the condition of the Winter wheat crop, and estimates it will yield 50,896,000 bushels as compared to 54,997,000 bushels last Spring. Spring wheat production, according to preliminary estimates will reach 5,233,000 bushels compared to 5,678,000 bushels in 1919. These estimates are all based on June 1 conditions.

"The June 1 condition of Winter wheat," says the report, "is very promising and aside from possibilities of rust, hail or lack of moisture. Nebraska will harvest a splendid crop. Most of the fields damaged by March winds have fully recovered. Much of the wheat is getting very thick and rank and conditions are becoming ideal for the development of rust."

Continuing its review of crop conditions in the state, the report adds:

"The acreage of oats is the same as last year. Preliminary estimates forecast a production of 66,454,000 bushels compared to 69,962,000 bushels last year.

"Estimates on corn will be made in July. An increased acreage is expected due to the fact that the small grain acreage is considerable less than last year."

CHAUTAUQUA IS OVER: TO RETURN TO BRANDON AGAIN NEXT SUMMER

Chautauqua is over. Those who have enjoyed the six days program in the big tent will be glad to learn that Chautauqua will return to Brandon next year. This was made possible by those pwo pledged themselves to sell tickets next year, thereby supporting the business men who sign the guarantee.

As entertainers, "Garner's Jubilee Singers," who gave the final concert Tuesday night and the musical program in the afternoon, proved themselves artists indeed. The audience rocked with laughter at the realistic interpretation of some of the old Southern songs, and also appreciated the rendition of some of the more modern songs of today. Mrs. Garner's piano solo, Macdowell's "Etude d'Concert," was much enjoyed and showed her to be a pianist of rare ability.

In the afternoon an interesting lecture was given by Dr. A. D. Carpenter on "The Energy of the Universe."

MONTREAL MAN SUGGESTS INDUSTRIAL PLANTS SHUT DOWN FOR FIVE DAYS

Montreal, July 7.—"So far as we can see," said a prominent coal distributor of this city, "there is only one thing that can be done in order to allow the mines to catch up with the shortage and get the coal supply put on a firm basis again, and that is for all the plants in the country to shut down, say for five days or a week."

Numerous coal distributors of this city state that during the last ten days the coal shortage has become considerably worse.

HAUGDAHL LOWERS CANADIAN MILE RECORD FOR SHORT TRACKS

Haugdahl, champion dirt track automobile driver, lowered the Canadian National Automobile record for one mile on short distance tracks here Tuesday, covering the distance in 1.03 2-5 seconds. Y. CAMP AT PELICAN LAKE VERY POPULAR: MANY FAMILY PARTIES

Plans are being rapidly completed for the Y.M.C.A. Camp at Pelican Lake which opens next Saturday, July 10th. Several families have signified their intention of going to the lake as soon as the camp opens and it is expected that the camp at "Y" point will be more popular than ever this Summer.

Conditions were never better at the camp. The lake is two and a half feet higher this year which improves bathing facilities considerably. For those who are interested in birds and flowers the surroundings of the camp offer wonderful opportunities. This year the "Y" will have its own auto service to and from Belmont for supplies. The Belmont people are cooperating in every way this season to make the camp a success and the Municipal Council has promised to put the roads into shape for motor traffic. Twenty-five tents are in readiness for the influx of campers, an excellent caretaker has been secured and two cooks obtained. Many inquiries regarding the camp have been received at the Y.M.C.A. and the prospects are that this Summer will be the most successful in the history of the camp.

A FINE LAVATERA

Brandon flower lovers will be interested in a particularly fine specimen of the Lavatera which has been grown so successfully by Mr. Ed. Stone, corner Brandon Avenue and Ninth Street. This plant, the blossoms of which are such favorites with California residents, is of the tuee mallow family, and is largely grown in European countries for medicinal purposes. Mr. Stone has two plants of this variety, the larger of which has about twenty-five cup-like blooms in a delicate pink shade.

TO SETTLE QUESTIONS OF RIVER SHIPPING UNDER THE TREATIES

Paris, July 7.—Walker D. Hines, former Director-General of Railroads has opened offices in Paris for the purpose of arbitrating the question of river shipping under the German, Austrian and Bulgarian treaties. Mr. Hines was appointed Arbitrator for all this work and expects to be in Paris several months. He is accompanied by two secretaries and an assistant, M. Brice Clagett.

Mr. Hines soon will call together the delegates from the various interested countries to discuss the procedure of disposing of the shipping on the Danube, Rhine, Elbe and Oder rivers. Mr. Hines will determine under the German, Austrian and Bulgarian treaties, just what shipping shall be taken from these countries in part payment for reparation and will also distribute the shipping among the Allied powers.

OPERATIONS OF COMMERCE BOARD

To Be Restricted Until Decision is Rendered by Privy Council

Ottawa, July 7.—The new commissioners of the Board of Commerce held their first meeting Tuesday to discuss future operations. It was decided, in view of the questions raised as to their jurisdiction to function under part 2 of the Combines and Fair Prices Act, 1919, which deals particularly with hoarding and taking unfair profits on the sale of necessaries of life, not to institute any new investigations with respect to these matters but to continue the inquiries already under way. This course was adopted so that valuable time may not be lost between now and the determination of jurisdiction by the Privy Council in preparation for public hearings.

Carry on Investigations

The above statement, it is emphasized, is not to be understood to mean that if complaints of profiteering in necessaries of life be at any time received by the Board, from any part of Canada, they will not be investigated. The Board of Commerce will take the usual steps to deal with these complaints, as the Board takes the stand, notwithstanding the recent submission of its stated case to the Supreme Court of Canada now in appeal to the Privy Council, that it has jurisdiction to operate under the profit control sections of the Combines and Fair Prices Act, and it will deal with persons found guilty of such infractions of the act.

Proceed With Hearings

The Board of Commerce, the commissioners state, has unquestioned jurisdiction concerning the investigation and restraint of combines, monopolies, trusts and mergers, which constitute part 1 of the Combines and Fair Prices Act, 1919, and it is proposed to proceed with the hearing and determination of certain alleged combines saces, trial of which had to be postponed in April, owing to the disorganization of the late board

The first statement issued by the newly-constituted Board containing the above information, is signed by W. W. White, chief commissioner; F. A. Ackland and G. A. Dillon, commissioners.

AWARDED SERBIAN CROSS OF MERCY

Mrs. Robert Watson, of Portage la Prairie, is the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hilton McGregor, 534 Louise Avenue. In recognition of her splendid service during the war on behalf of the Serbian Relief, Mrs. Watson was recently honored by the Serbian Government, who presented her with the Serbian Cross of Mercy. Mrs. Watson first learned of the honor in a letter received from Miss Helen Losanitch, who some of the members of the Women's Canadian Club will remember, as she visited Brandon about four years ago and addressed the club on the work in Serbia. During the years of war, Mrs. Watson devoted much of her time to Serbian Relief work, and was one of Portage la Prairie's most energetic workers for patriotic causes.

BECK'S PROJECT NOT FAVORED BY GOVERNMENT

Commission to Be Appointed to Inquire and Report on Radial Purchase

Toronto, July 7.—The Ontario Government has decided to hold up Sir Adam Beck's hydro-electric radial railway project until a special government commission which is yet to be appointed can inquire into it and report thereon. An official statement was issued on the matter by the government the gist of which is that, so far as the government information goes at present, the government is doubtful as to the radial railway scheme being practicable. However, the government holds out hopes that if it can be convinced otherwise, it will be ready to act accordingly.

The whole project is to be delayed including Sir Adam Beck's proposal for the immediate purchase of the Toronto and Eastern railway; the Toronto Suburban Railway, and the Niagara, St. Catharines and Toronto Railway from the Federal Government at a total cost of $6,873,374.

After having secured the advice of experts and conferred with the Hydro Commission, Premier Drury reports that it appears to the Government that the arguments are against the adoption of Sir Adam Beck's proposals, and that until the whole subject has been fully examined there cannot be any possibility that the government will give its sanction to the radial idea being furthered.

The ultimate fate of the radial project apparently is still a matter of doubt.

The official statement mentions the Provincial debt as one of the deciding factors in the Government delaying the radial project.

FREE PRESS CARRIER BOYS ENJOY THEIR VISIT TO BRANDON

A party of twenty-four boys from the staff of the Free Press spent the forenoon in the city and were given a trip around the city by four members of the Brandon Auto Club. The boys are the winners of the Free Press carrier competition, and the award is a free trip to the Pacific Coast and return, on board a special car arranged for them. They were joined in Brandon by Lyle Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Moore, who is the Brandon winner of the trip for his record here.

Messrs. O. W. Townsley, F. W. Hobson, J. Dennison and A. B. Gold met the boys in their cars and took them for a drive around the city, in the course of which they visited the Experimental Farm, the Hospital for the Insane and the Exhibition Grounds. A game of baseball was to have been played between a Brandon team and the visitors, but through the non-arrival of a letter containing the instructions, the game was not played. The visitors were disappointed as they have a strong team and were anxious to play here. The boys left for Regina on the local at noon, after enjoying a swim in the "Y" pool.

In charge of the party is J. F. Sweeney, circulation manager; L. Collins, district manager; S. Mitchell, contest manager, and W. H. Belford, city editor of Free Press evening editions.

FATHER OBJECTS TO PUBLICITY

Used in New Brunswick Temperance Campaign and Issues Writs for Libel

St. John, N.B., July 7.—Writs have been issued out of the Supreme Court here in actions for libel growing out of advertising in the prohibition plebiscite of next Saturday. On June 30, there was published in four St. John, papers a picture of a group of six children from an institution and under it reference to "a drunken father, children from an institution and under the old license law," etc. The libel action is taken by D. Mullen, S.C., representing William H. Knox, father of three of the children, who was a soldier of the Princess Pats and who contends that he is libelled by the publication in the newspapers advertisement and in dodgers distributed.

Those proceeded against are the local executive of the New Brunswick Temperance Alliance; J. Williard Smith, L. W. Simms, T. H. Estabrooks, G. E. Barbour, Robert Reid, R. T. Hayes, F. W. Daniel and M. E. Agar, all prominent business men and F. G. Spencer, as publicity agent.

BRANDON POULTRY MAKES A CREDITABLE SHOWING

COUNTY COURT CONCLUDES A VERY SHORT SITTING

One of the shortest sittings of the County Court was concluded early on Tuesday afternoon, only one case being heard before His Honor Judge Cumberland. The case was that of Carnegie vs. Shoemaker, an action involving the amount of $307. There was considerable evidence taken during the hearing of the case. Judge Cumberland reserved his decision.

All the other cases which were on the docket and which were expected to come at the sitting Tuesday were either set over until the next court or set back to Chambers. Three garnishee orders were spoken to and three naturalization applications heard.

MOROCCAN HINTERLAND GREAT PHOSPHATE COUNTRY

Paris, July 7.—Discovery of large deposits of phosphate in the Moroccan hinterland, may soon make France the great phosphate producing country of the world.

The Moroccan deposits are reported by Professor Louis Gentil of the Sorbonne as being inexhaustible. One hundred miles inland from Casablanca there is a mountain plateau, 40 miles long and 25 miles wide which is a veritable storehouse of phosphate. A railway is being built to this mountain and a monopoly has been given to the Moroccan Government for the sale of the phosphate.

France already has huge potash deposits in Alsace.

COMPENSATION HARD TO COLLECT

Relatives of Murdered Policemen in Inland Cannot Get Settlements

Dublin, June 18.—(By Mail)—The net result of the recent county council elections is that now both in the cities and in the counties in 28 out of 32 counties the local government is in direct hostility to the central government.

The first conflict between them will arise out of the question of paying compensation for outrage. Every day the judges are awarding to the relatives of murdered policemen, to injured policemen, and to the owners of burned police premises large sums as compensation chargeable on the local rates. The total already runs up close to £750,000.

The local authorities have refused to collect taxes for these payments. In the case of some of them the government can secure money by deductions from the sums payable to the local authorities by the imperial exchequer in relief of local taxes.

In the majority of cases the parties awarded compensation have only acquired a right to sue the local authorities in the courts for the money. It is believed that even after judgment is given, the local authorities will refuse to pay. Many of them have passed resolutions saying they will recognize no authority save that of Dail Eireann.

The Government has decided to introduce a bill in Parliament to enforce payment of this compensation money.

FOUR SUSPECTS HELD BY MOUNTED POLICE

Montreal, July 7.—In connection with the murder of Constable Chicoine here on June 13, four men, Herbert Riley, Walter Cobourn, Ernie Banks and Jack Cox were arrested but were later shown not to have been concerned in the murder. They were held however by the police on suspicions of being involved in robberies. It now appears that one of the four men whose name is not given is wanted by the Winnipeg police on a murder charge. A Winnipeg officer is awaited heer for purposes of identification and o nhis arrival in this city the name of the accused will be published.

AUTO CRASHES INTO BRIDGE, ONE KILLED

Calgary Man Victim of Accident on Edmonton High Level Bridge

Edmonton, July 7.—One man is dead and another lying in the Royal Alexandra Hospital hovering between life and death and four others more or less seriously injured as a result of an automobile accident on the high level bridge Monday night. The dead man is Fred Timms, whose address is given as Calgary. He died on the way to the hospital. He is a partner of R. Stanlindors, who has a string of race horses competing at the exhibition. James Smith, the driver of the car and proprietor of the South Side Rink is suffering from concussion of the brain and remains unconscious at the hospital. The others are progressing favorably. The party of six were returning from the exhibition grounds and, in turning on to the high level bridge at a high rate of speed, collided with one of the steel girders. The car apparently went head on before the driver had a chance to turn on the slippery pavement.

Tre victims are: H. L. Robertson, Calgary, right shoulder broken, badly shaken up, cuts about the head and face, in the general hospital.

Thos. Melon, who works with the show horses for Capt. Harris, has no address.

CANADIAN TOBACCO IS IN DEMAND BY BRITISH IMPORTERS

Ottawa, July 7.—That British tobacco importers, including some of the largest cigar and cigarette makers in the world, are keenly interested in Canadian tobacco growing, is the gist of a report made by F. Sharlan, chief of the tobacco division of the Federal Department of Agriculture, just back from a trip to the old land and to France. Some time ago a representative o f several o f the large British firts visited Canada to look into the possibilities of Canadian growers being able to handle a larger portion of their needs. It was after his extensive inquiry into the situation here that the Canadian Government sent Mr. Sharlan to try and interest European buyers further in this Canadian crop.

AS OTHERS SEE IT

The result of the Manitoba elections has been the subject for a great deal of comment in Canadian papers. The London, Ontario, Free Press, puts in condensed form the general substance of the comment, aside from that made by strictly partizan newspapers. The article follows:

It is probable that Canada, federally and in the provinces, has seen the last of two-party governments. Ontario is governed by a coalition of United Farmers and Labor representatives, no single party having a majority of the House. This experience has now been repeated in Manitoba, where the Norris Government (Liberal) has been subjected to a defeat entitled to rank with that sustained by the Hearst (Conservative) Government in Ontario a year ago. Hon. Mr. Norris went to the country with a following of 44 members in a House of 48, all told. He returns with some 20 followers in a House increased to 55 members. The Conservatives have increased their standing from two to six or seven and the Farmer and Labor parties divide the remaining seats. The Liberals and Laborites might conceivably unite to form a Government. Possibly three parties will have to come together in a coalition to form an effective administration.

HONESTY PAYS

Britain has a record of scrupulously keeping her financial obligations. Since 1688 when her debt first began to grow large, payments have always been promptly made. Prior to the present time Great Britain's debt was heaviest in 1817 at the end of the Napoleonic wars. It then amounted to about four billion dollars and the interest charges amounted to about nine dollars a head based on the total population of the country. By 1895 it had been reduced by about a billion dollars notwithstanding cost the Crimean War, costing $350,000,000, exclusive of pensions, had intervened. The per capita carrying charge was brought down to less than $3.50 a year.

The world war cost Britain immense sums of money. At its conclusion Britain was about thirty-six billion dollars deeper in debt than when she entered it. This debt is largely owing to British people, about six-sevenths of it being so held.

Great Britain has always resorted to heavy taxation to enable her to pay her debts. To defray part of the cost of the Napoleonic wars, about four billion dollars was collected in taxes. About half a billion was collected to help pay for the South African War. While during the world war about eighteen billion dollars was collected in taxes towards paying expenses. And yet Britain's credit is good, so good that the world o'er, Britain is listed as "good pay."

The reason that Britain's credit is good is that not once, was there thought of repudiation, even when the burden of debt pressed heaviest. Fears were expressed concerning Britain's ability to meet the obligations, but never once a suggestion of trying to get rid of obligations in any other than the good old fashioned one of paying.

SEA FARMING

Though it may sound strange in the ears of dwellers on these fertile plains, experts declare that an acre of water will produce more human food than an acre of land. An acre of some waters will do better than others, just the same as an acre of rich loam will produce more than an acre of the rocky wastes on the North shore of Lake Superior. A fertile ocean bay has more power of sustenance than the fields about it. Farmers of the sea will become more and more a necessity these same experts predict.

On plankton depends ultimately the food productiveness of the ocean, says Ellis L. Michael of the Scripps Institution for Biological Research of California. Plankton is composed of cyclical microscopic lives; first, diatoms, one celled plants reproductive at an approximate rate of 1,000,000,000 a month; second, minute herbivorous animals that feed on diatoms; third, invisible carnivores that eat herbiverous animals. It is the usual order that nature has worked out, in this case microscopically. This is the plankton, the "meadows" of the sea.

The Atlantic is more fertile than the Pacific. It contains richer meadows that are capable of sustaining more life. But the potentialities of either the Pacific or the Atlantic are enormous. It is predicted that men will return for sustenance to the sea, the great engenderer of life, after their continental excursions.

The Chinese have more experience and more skill at sea farming than occidental peoples. China is conservative, she restores in a measure what she takes away. Western peoples raid the sea and bring forth food, but they have not learned to compensate for the life withdrawn.

WHY EXCLUDE HER

A short time ago newspaper dispatches told of a ruling by Immigration officials at Halifax refusing admission to Canada to a Manchester girl. An Eastern paper asks what we would all like to know, why this girl was refused admission. The girl refused admission is a Miss Butler, who was engaged to a Nova Scotia officer and came out to be married to him. On the boat was a British Army officer, who conceived a deep affection for her, and persuaded her to marry him instead. The Canadian immigration officials learned of the circumstances, and refused to allow her to land unless she carried out the original engagement. She then travelled by boat to New York, where the immigration officials ruled that as she had been rejected at the Canadian port, she would not be admitted to the United States. She had, therefore, to return to England. If the circumstances are as stated in the dispatches without other features material to the case, under what authority was this changeable bride-elect excluded? The Nova Scotia officer may have been in luck in escaping a bride so fickle, but a woman is not necessarily undesirable, in the eyes of immigration law, because she changes her mind regarding a husband. The slips between the engagement ring and the altar may be many. The question involved in this case is one of principle, and ought to be more clearly defined. The fact that the bride-elect is not entitled to much sympathy, in the circumstances, is no reason why she should not obtain full justice at the hands of the law. If she felt a sudden regard for the new suitor, she did the right thing in breaking off with the old, because marriage ought not to be based on regard that can be so fickle. The more why did these immigration officials exclude her?

IS TOBACCCO NEXT?

At the United States Tobacco Association annual convention in Atlantic City, it was expressed that the next assault of what was styled "Puritanism" will be on tobacco. The Association resolved that it will not be caught napping as the liquor people were. An offensive is to be undertaken at once to nip the heads of the antis as fast as they bob up.

The tobacco men see an analogy between their business and the liquor business. The oldest members recalled when intoxicating liquors were made, sold and consumed with the same degree of freedom now enjoyed in making, selling and using tobacco. They realize that if human habits could change so much as to go back on John Barleycorn, then tobacco is not safe.

It is hard to say whether or not there be any ground for these fears. One hundred years ago no one could have said that prohibition of liquor was sure to come. There are more non-smokers now than there were non-drinkers then. Anything may happen. Why the tobacco industry should be any more fearful than the tea and coffee industry is only partially clear. There are coffee topers as there were whiskey topers and cigarette fiends. There are a dozen directions in which the next prohibition may take.

If it is tobacco against which the next crusade is launched it will be because of abuses connected with its use. The chief of these is the evil effect it undoubtedlyl has when used in childhood and youth. An evil that is recognized in laws forbiddng the sale or giving of tobacco to those of tender years. These laws have never been adequately enforced partly through the fault of the tobacco business itself. It is recognized that the liquor business could have deferred its doom for many years had it been prepared to reform itself.

If the tobacco interests really want to head off the attack on their business which they foresee, they will give the authorities the best assistance within their power, sparing no pains or effort to see that tobacco is kept from minors.

WORK, THEN LEISURE

A truth which should be given deep and careful consideration is expressed by Samuel Crowther in the World's Work. "The point is that leisure succeeds, and does not precede work, that if you plan a day with four hours of work and four hours of poetry-writing you are perfectly justified provided that you find more nourishment in poetry than in beefsteak. The hours of labor are determned by an adjustment between what we want and what we are willing to work for, and the hope of leisure can spring only out of confidence, in the ability of collective brains to provide facilities by which a man may do more with less effort. The only way to provide these facilities is by increasing the margin of production over consumption, for it is that margin which provides the capital for increased facilities."

WEEDS FLOURISH

One noticeable effect of the scarcity and high cost of farm help is the growth of weeds on Manitoba farms A motor trip through Brandon district shows noxious weeds flourishing as never before. Such a condition cannot help but be reflected in a reduced yield when the crop is harvested and more than that, in a reduced fertility of the soil. Hundreds of farms show Summer-fallow, or what would be Summer-fallow under normal conditions, grown up with a prolific crop of weeds. If the Weed Inspectors could do their duty there would be even less help available for the farmers and tremendous costs piled up against many owners. If they do not do their duty, the Province will be almost overrun with weeds. The conditions that prevail in Brandon district are said to be typical all over the Province.

Smaller holdings would appear to be the only permanent solution. With a farmer on every 160 acres, this country would solve many of the present difficulties and show a tremendously increased average yield per acre, rather than a steadily diminishing one.

PREMIER BORDEN RESIGNS

Announcement of the retirement of Sir Robert Borden as Prime Minister though it will be received with regret, a regret which will be deepened as the years pass, ends an impossible situation. This fact tempers the regret which many people will feel at the retirement of a leader whose steady hand steered Canada through the most tempestuous period in the life of the Dominion. Recognition of Sir Robert's statesmanship will be freely accorded when time wipes out the petty irritations and vexations which presently obscure the view. History will accord to a high place Sir Robert Borden. That he may live long to enjoy the honors which the future has in store for him is a hope expressed by all.

The method adopted for the choice of a successor to Sir Robert Borden, is as far as the details are known, a consideration of the expressed wishes of members of the House of Commons, and such others as care to make known their preference. Apparently Sir Robert Borden is weighing the pros and cons for possible successors and when he reaches a decision is to make a recommendation to the Governor-General while tendering his resignation.

The process is not one that will be generally approved throughout the country. Temporary leadership might be thus awarded but the Canadian people want an opportunity for a voice in the selection. The choice of a leader by this means will not tend to increase public confidence in the Government. Should the man chosen even for temporary leader be associated with the interests—how could he be otherwise—it will be another source of irritation to a people already impatient of the delay on the part of the Government in asking for a new mandate.

The leader so selected will be in an unfortunate position. On him falls the burden of the sins of the present Government. His occupancy of the position of Prime Minister is liable to be the briefest on record, and his reputation to suffer serious impairment before he gets even a firm seat in the saddle. To a man with aspirations to be a statesman it is hard to imagine a more fatal predicament than to be chosen as successor to Sir Robert Borden as Prime Minister of Canada.

MORE LIGHT ON RUSSIA

To what Mrs. Pankhurst had to say about Bolshevism as exemplified in Russia, add Emma Goldman's summary. Emma is an anarchist, one of the Reds deported from the United States to Russia because of her activities. She has been in Russia long enough to mature a judgment of the system that Lenine and Trotzky have devised and forced on that unhappy land, and which some persons would like to see tried out in Canada.

To a representative of a Chicago paper, Emma Goldman is reported to have confided:

"It is rotten. But it is what we should have expected. We always knew the Marxian theory was impossible, a breeder of tyranny. We blinded ourselves to its faults in America, because we believed it might accomplish something.

"I have been here four months now, and I've seen what it has accomplished. There is no health in it. The state of socialism, or state capitalism, call it what you will, has done for Russia what it will do for every country. It has taken away even the little freedom the man has under individual capitalism and has made him entirely subject to the whims of a bureaucracy which excuses its tyranny on the ground that it is all done for the welfare of the workers."

"Where did you find the greatest degree of freedom?" asked the correspondent. "In the United States or in Communist Russia?"

"Any form of government is bad enough," she replied, "but between this and individual capitalism, the choice lies with the latter. At least the individual has a chance to express his individuality."

This report is almost identical with what John Spargo and other anti-Bolshevists have been saying about Russia for some time.

The freedom which Socialism promises turns out to be as great a tyranny as the world has ever known. It appears as if once the incentives of the capitalistic system to make men produce are withdrawn, Socialism must resort to compulsion or die of lack of production. The time may come when service for others shall be a sufficient spur. It is not so today, as the experience of Russia shows.

INDOMITABLE FRANCE

The spirit of France of which all have heard is being again demonstrated. Though 1,362,872 men, the flower and pride of that fair land were killed in the war, the task of rebuilding France goes on apace. For four years the tide of war surged back and forth, mainly on French soil, or stood at a destructive standstill there.

During the years of fighting mountains of barbed wire were erected and buried, put up and engulfed again; heavy metal by the ton shot out of great and small guns found a billet in mother earth. Imagination cannot picture the state of the soil of that once smiling land when fighting ceased.

And yet France, indomitable now as in the blackest days of war, is redeeming the soil from even that curse, and presently will have it all won back again.

What a task this reclamation of war devastated areas is, and how rapidly France is proceeding with it, though suffering the loss of nearly a million and a half of those best able to help. A recent report by the Prefect of the Somme Department shows that the old British battle line has been largely wiped out.

The report shows that though there were eight hundred square miles of devastated land in this Department alone, three hundred and sixty square miles of it is again under cultivation.

There were eighty million yards of trenches and shell holes to be filled, and thirty-six million cubic yards have been done. There were twenty-four million square yards of barbed wire entanglements to clear up, and half that is completed. Twenty-five per cent. of the ruins have been cleared away. Amiens, Corbie, Hant, Nesle and Boyes are entirely cleaned up. Out of twenty-five thousand damaged houses, eighty-two hundred have been entirely repaired, and ten thousand shelters have been erected. Of twelve hundred ruined factories, two hundred and thirty are at full production and four hundred are partly in operation. Five thousand wells have been cleaned and purified. The Somme canal was declared navigable some time ago for boats of five feet draft and it is expected that it will be navigable for normal traffic before September 1st.

This summary indicates what has been done in only one relatively small area of the total field of carnage and devastation. It presents a glimpse of one of the aftermaths of war. It shows what France is doing and it makes Canadians proud to call her ally.

PROPORTIONAL REPRESENTATION

Proportional representation was given a great trial in Winnipeg. It appears to have stood the test. Through the abundant publicity given this form of election during the present test, thousands of persons are very much more familiar with proportional representation than ever before. Had this system of recording the popular will been used at the Provincial election in Brandon, this constituency being set apart for a trial of proportional representation as a one member constituency, another test would have been made, and the result in Brandon might have been different.

Official figures give the results of the balloting as: Smith, 2,007; Clement, 1,403; Kirkcaldy, 1,245. Thus it is seen that Smith would not have been elected on the first ballot, as he polled less than half the votes. It is presumed that Smith polled as large a vote as he could have done under any form of balloting. If there was a second choice on Smith ballots it would have to be Kirkcaldy or Clement. Second choice on Kirkcaldy ballots would likely have been Clement, and second choice on Clement ballots likely would have been Kirkcaldy. As Smith did not receive sufficient votes to have elected him on the first ballot, and as there is reasonable ground for doubting that he would have been second choice on many of the ballots cast for other candidates, the election would probably have gone to Clement or Kirkcaldy. In any event the candidate elected would have been the one chosen by a majority of the people.

The modus operandi of proportional representation and the single transferable vote is outlined in a volume published by John D. Hunt, Clerk of the Executive Council of Alberta, entitled "The Dawn of a New Patriotism." Mr. Hunt writes:

The ideas which have led up to the single transferable vote are of a simple character. Constituencies returning several members are formed. A representative is given to every group of electors which attains a definite proportion of the whole, the proportion depending upon the number of members to be returned. If a candidate receives more votes than are sufficient, that is, if too large a group is formed, the surplus votes are transferred by means of a ballot on which the voter has placed the figure "1" against the candidate of his choice, with the figures "2," "3," etc., against the names of other candidates in order of his selection, which figures would instruct the returning officer in event of No. 1 obtaining more votes than were necessary to secure his election, as to whom the vote was to be transferred.

If, after all surplus votes have been transferred, there still remain more candidates than there are vacancies, the lowest candidate on the poll is eliminated from the contest, or, in other words, the smallest group is disbanded. The transfer of surplus votes and of votes recorded for candidates lowest on the poll are all carried out in accordance with the wishes of the electors as indicated by them on the ballot paper at the time of the poll. The proportionate representation of all the electors is secured. Each party obtains the number of members to which it is entitled. . . . . The number of votes necessary to secure the election of a candidate is called a "quota." In a single-membered constituency it is evident that if a candidate polls more than one-half he must be elected. No other candidate can equal him. The "quota" in this case, therefore, is one more than one-half. So in a two-member constituency, the "quota" is one more than one-third, for not more than two candidates can poll so much in a three-member constituency one more than one-quarter, and so on. Thus, in general terms, the "quota" is ascertained by dividing the votes polled by one more than the number of seats to be filled, and by adding one to the result.

POOR CITIZENSHIP

"A severe penalty of some sort ought to be imposed on those who, without good excuse, fail to vote at every election," remarked a man who is interested in public affairs. The talk had been of the men who more or less habitually fail to vote—many of whom believe themselves to be of "the better class."

The fact is that there ought to be not only a severe penalty, but a stigma as damning as that of a slacker in war time, attached to those who, without good excuse, failed to vote at every election.

For slackers they are, every one of them—whoever they may be. They forget how precious is the privilege of the ballot, to win which their fathers fought and bled and sacrificed and died. They forget that the very fate of free government itself is jeopardized, if not actually menaced, by such an attitude as theirs.

The good citizens will vote at every election. He will not fail because of another engagement. He will not fail because the polling place is a little out of his way—or if it is ten miles out of his way. He will not fail because he forgets. He will not fail because "he doesn't take an interest in politics." He will not fail because politics is a nasty mess which he prefers to leave to the politicians—who, because of the neglect of him and his like, are able to make it nasty.

Failures of government in a democracy are due to two evil elements; the designing crook and the negligent "good citizen." And the greater of these evils is the negligent citizen, because without him the crook would never have a chance.

In elections where women have the vote, they should not fail to exercise their franchise. The fact that nearly one thousand persons who registered did not vote in the recent Provincial election is a serious reflection on that thousand citizens. They do not value their citizenship as they should.

MORE HOME BUILDERS

One of the leading life insurance companies in the United States recently announced that it has set aside fifty million dollars of its investment funds to be used for small home loans at six and a half per cent., taking mortgages giving the home-builder fifteen years in which to pay.

That is good business for the life insurance company, and it is good business for the country.

Hardly anything of a public nature can be done that will accomplish more solid good to the country and every community in it than the promotion of home-building and home-owning.

The home-owner is a better citizen because he is a home-owner. He has a stake in the community and the country. He has a home, a real home, for his family. He is a property-owner, with pride in his own place and in his community. He is a taxpayer, and therefore more likely to watch public servants vigilantly and to help choose them wisely.

The ideal of this land should be to make it truly a nation of home-owners and anything that can be done to that end is sound public service.

Anything, whatever it is, that is wisely devised and will help to increase the number of home-owners in this land, is building firmly for the solidity, security and well-being of this nation and its people.

75 ALBERTA SCHOOLS CLOSED BECAUSE THERE ARE NO TEACHERS

Edmonton, Alta., July 7.—Due to lack of teachers and to certain conditions obtaining 75 schools in the province are not operating. In some cases the schools district is too much divided by rivers over which there are no bridges, in others there is a lack of proper boarding places and for one reason or another, it is impracticable to send a teacher.

FINE PROGRAM AT CAMP FOR OLDER BOYS

At Y. Point, Pelican Lake—Varied Program of Work and Play

Seventy-one boys are attending the Provincial Older Boys Camp being held this week at the "Y" point, Pelican Lake. They come from points as far West as Saskatchewan and East to Port Arthur and range in age from seventeen to twenty-one years. A big tent very like the one used by the Chautauqua has been pitched in front of the pavilion at the lake and it is in this tent that the boys assemble for the various instructive lectures, etc. on the program. The pavilion is used as a dining-room. The ceremony known as the setting up of the conference took place last Friday night around the camp fire, the leaders being Rev. H. J. Robertson, East Kildonan, Messrs. D. R. Poole, and G. H. Stewart, assisted by the Mentors and Praetors of the five groups, or Tuxis squares, into which the camp has been divided. The various groups are known as the "Pelicans"; "Nacileps"; "Climbers"; "Spartacans"; and the "K.O.I." John Barraclaugh of this city is one of the Mentors.

Several vocational talks will be given during the week by prominent Manitoba speakers. Rev. M. L. Orchard gave an address on Missions; Mr. E. B. Reynolds, of Winnipeg, on business; and others will place before the boys another side of vocational work. On Sunday evening, Rev. Harry Atkinson gave a splendid address on the under privileged boys of Winnipeg. An interesting talk on the origin of many of the favorite hymns was also given by Nicholas Fletcher, formerly of this city. Rev. J. George Miller conducted the special service on Sunday and gave an interesting address to the boys.

An echo of the Boy Workers' Conference was given at Blue Ridge, when Mr. E. B. Reynolds Territorial Chairman of Boys Work of the "Y," told something of what had been accomplished. He stated that there were native representatives from thirty-one nations at this conference and a great appeal was made to the men of Canada and the United States to visit some of these nations and commence similar "Y" work there, as is being accomplished in the Dominion or the Nation to the South. Mr. D. R. Poole and Mr. Reynolds attended the conference and pledged $100 from the boys of Manitoba and a similar sum from the boys in Saskatchewan to help the "Y" work in these far off countries. So greatly were the boys attending the camp interested that in a few hours they subscribed $175 towards this cause.

A talk on the physical geography of Palestine based on personal experiences while with the expeditionary forces during the war, was given by Mr. Knight of Winnipeg, who made this far off land seem very real indeed to the boys who listened so intently to the address.

Other interesting events on the program for the week are the musical activities in charge of Nicholas Fletcher; the Boys' Parliament of which Mr. Knight is the speaker, and which teaches the boys parliamentary procedure; and the moving pictures and stereoptican views shown by Mr. Barraclaugh. The athletic and acquatic program is under the direction of Mr. A. B. Clark, formerly of Brandon. Rev. H. T. Wright of Winnipeg formerly of this city, is Chef, with a staff of eight boys assisting. Mrs. Wright is nurse in charge of the camp.

FIVE WINNIPEG MEN SUSPENDED FOR TEN DAYS

Mild Punishment Meted Out to Players Who Took Pake in Tournament

Winnipeg, July 6.—For leaving the city without permission to take part in the baseball tournament at Carman on Dominion Day. "Snake" Siddle, Stuart Sheppard, Oscar Wynant, Jack Hines and Barney McPhail, of the senior amateur baseball league, have been suspended for ten days, and in the event of participating in further events of a similar nature without the permission of the league, the five will automatically suspend themselves for the balance of the season. This ruling was arrived at after two hour's heated discussion Monday evening, when the league executive held a special meeting to consider the question It was also ruled that from now on, any of the local pastimers who transgress the amateur rule will automatically put themselves out of local baseball for the remainder of the season.

There is no place like home—and some married men are glad of it.

BEST THAT CAN BE SAID OF TURKS IS THEY ARE BRAVE

If Valor Could Make Race Great They Should Stand High

When there is no publicist to say "a good word" for a country, it must either be very bad or have no friends. Such is the case with Turkey. Nearly every non-Turkey journalist denounces Turkey. She is pictured as a barbarous nation in a state of hopeless decrepitude and utter political chaos. Her association with Germany in the war has created additional prejudice against her. The Armenian massacres have been looked upon as a proof of the murderousness of the Turkish character. And yet much can be said for the Turks writes Lucion in the Rochester Post-Express. They certainly are a brave people, and if valor could make a race great, they should be viewed as one of the greatest of races. The founders of the Ottoman Empire were only a section of a wandering Turanian tribe. They had for a long time to face the bitter opposition from races akin to them in blood or in creed. The Turks believed in the sword, with which the Arabian prophet sought to propagate his religion, but in order to consolidate their empire they had to resort to iron discipline and political organization. The capture of Constantinople by Mohammed II. in the fifteenth century was a remarkable military achievement. But more astonishing was the formation of a strong Government in the course of a century so that when Solyman the Magnificent died in 1566 Turkey was a formidable and apparently irresistible nation.

Privileged Christian Converts

One element in Turkey's Governmental system was the creation of a privileged hereditary class consisting of Christian converts to Mohammedanism. From this class the officers of the army and the members of the Administration were selected. The Turkish-speaking Moslems had to be content with the modest career of a farmer, a merchant or a teacher. This state of affairs naturally led to discontent among persons of pure Turkish blood. Selim II. and Murad III., Solyman's successors, were weak rulers. They allowed Turks without education to obtain official positions, and palace intrigues helped to demoralize the Government. The ablest men now ceased to guide the destinies of Turkey. One result of this was that the country's progress was retarded. There was no mechanism for bringing about beneficial changes. Moreover, Vasco de Gama's voyage around the Cape of Good Hope, by causing the world's trade to shift from the Mediterranean to Western Europe financially injured Turkey.

Turkey vs. Christiandom

The burden imposed upon the Turks of fighting all Christendom was a severe one, and as we know, militarism is a two-edged sword. Even if the Polish King, John Sobieski, had not defeated the Turkish army in a terrible battle, it is more than doubtful whether Turkey could have achieved hegemony in Europe in the closing years of the 17th century. The leading minds in Turkey saw the need of adopting Western methods. In 1728 a printing press was established in Constantinople, with the help of the Government. Since that time there has been a fierce struggle in Turkey between the old and the new. The reign of the Sultan Mahmoud II., was one of strenuous effort and reconstruction. He came to the throne when the empire was almost disintegrated. The Janissaires, a powerful military corps, resisted all reforms. Owing to their aggressiveness, the provinces were disloyal to the Sultan, Mahmoud put the axe to the root. He destroyed the Janissaires—a harsh measure, but in Turkey nothing can be done "by halves." His advanced character was shown by his interest in the press.

A Turkish Newspaper

He founded a newspaper. There had already been several newspapers and periodicals in the Turkish language. Sultan Mahmoud in his order for the establishment of a newspaper said that it had long been for him an ideal. He gave it the name of "The Calendar of Events," and the first number appeared on May 14th, 1832. An article in this issue stated that it was necessary to make daily events public to avoid misinterpretation of them, and that it would be useful to the people to become acquainted through such a medium with facts about science, the fine arts and trade. A Turkish weekly with the title of the "Register of News" was established in 1843 by an Englishman named Churchill. The Crimean war gave an impetus to the Turkish press. In 1858 a group of intelligent young men, headed by a Turkish general named Husni Pasha, joined together in a demand for a Parliamentary system of Government. The attempt failed at the time, but the spirit of progress had taken root in Turkey.

The Young Turks

The Young Turk party arose in 1862. Kemal Bey became the leading spirit of the movement. As Turkish newspapers now displayed a tendency to express revolutionary views, a law censoring the press was passed in 1865. As the law had little effect, liberal newspapers were arbitrarily suppressed. The Young Turkish propaganda stimulated a national consciousness which French sympathy sustained. The defeat of France by Germany in 1871 was a blow to Turkish progress. Ali Pasha, a great Turkish statesman of the old school, died in 1871. Russia interfered in Turkish affairs with unfortunate results. Reaction set in. However, Turkish Nationalists were not daunted. Kemal Bey, after a visit to England, established in Constantinople a newspaper called "Admonition." In 1876 there were 47 newspapers in Constantinople, 13 of them being in the Turkish language. It was then that Abdul Hamid's regime, a period of intrigue, tyranny and dark palace crimes commenced, since when the Turkish record has been such as to forfeit the respect of the civilized world.

PARTICIPATION CERTIFICATES UNCOLLECTED

—Brandon farmers who expect to get part payment on their wheat receipts before July 15th should call at the local milling offices and secure their Participation Certificates before that time. It is authoratively stated that about 400 certificates representing nearly 40,0000 bushels of wheat are still unclaimed at the local grain offices. At 40 cents a bushel, it will be seen that about $16,000 is tied up in certificates still to be collected.

Besides the certificates given for local deliveries of wheat, there are also a number of certificates here from outside places where the elevators have closed down for the summer. No provision ha sbeen made to mail the certificates but it is expected that there will be a big rush to gather them in when the first payment is made about July 15th.

CZECHO SLOVAKIA HAS PROMISE OF GOOD HARVEST

London, June 12.—(By Mail)—Dr. Alice Masaryk, daughter of the President of the Czecho-Slovak Republic and herself the president of the Czecho-Slovak Red Cross, who has been visiting London, expressed herself hopefully with regard to the future of her country.

"There is a promise of a good harvest," she said, "the sugar beet crop is estimated at 700,000 metric tons of which 400,000 tons will be available for export. The political outlook is also good, the new constitution having provided a sound working basis. Its democratic character afforded protection for the minorities in the German districts which could not be given up.

"The Germans," she remarked, "will not have such a hard time in the republic as we had when they were in power."

The children of Czecho-Slovakia are being organized into a junior Red Cross, men of the Serbian army assisting. Over 3,000 schools were built in one year in the Eastern part of the country which was very much neglected under the Magyar rule and the children are being taught the importance of personal hygiene.

The Wednesday night union service will take place in the First Methodist Church Sunday School room. During August, the union services will be held in St. Paul's Church.

Comemncing Sunday, union services will be held in Knox Church during the month of July with Rev. R. H. Lowry in charge. In August, the services will be in the Victoria Avenue Methodist Church when the newly appointed pastor, Rev. J. A. Lousley, will conduct the services.

WILLIS WANTS RECOUNT IN TURTLE MOUNTAIN

Winnipeg, July 2.—That he was perfectly satisfied with the result of the election and that an application would be made for a recount of the votes cast in his own constituency Turtle Mountain, was the statement of R. G. Willis, Conservative leader in Manitoba, who arrived in Winnipeg for consultation with representatives of the party in the city. Accompanied by W. J. Tupper, K.C., and Robert O'Malley he was an interested spectator of the count of the votes in the university annex.

MACHIN DENIES HE ACCEPTED BRIBE

Toronto, July 2.—Following a denial from Lieut.-Col. H. A. C. Machin, former M.P.P. for Kenora, that he had accepted money from G. H. Greer for his influence in connection with liquor licenses, as stated by Mr. Greer before the commission investigating the timber concessions in Northern Ontario, Chairman J. D. Flavelle, of the Ontario License Board, said the Board had no knowledge of any bribe having been offered to obtain a license from the Board.

LONELY SETTLER BECOMES DERANGED, THREATENS TO SHOOT C. N. R. AGENT

Quill Lake, Sask., July 2. — The lonesomeness of a settler's life is blamed for deranging the mind of a homesteader in this district named Celland. He was arrested last week by Constable Stevens, of the Provincial Police, when he threatened to shoot an agent here for crosising his land. For some time past Clelland has been acting strangely, and when the report of his threat to shoot was brought to town the constable at once went out for him. On seeing the constable coming, Clelland made a break for his shack for his rifle, but was headed off by Stevens, who was compelled to wound him in the struggle which followed.

CHOWN CONGRATULATES METHODISTS ON RESULT OF FORWARD MOVEMENT

Toronto, July 2.—Rev. S. D. Chown, General Superintendent of the Methodist church in Canada, has issued an official message of congratulation to the membership of the Methodist church throughout the Dominion upon the social, moral and spiritual conditions of this country, as revealed during the recent inter-Church Forward Movement. Great as was the monetary result of the forward campaign, Dr. Chown states, the spiritual outcome of the campaign was greater.

A BRIDE OF A WEEK ENDS HER OWN LIFE

St. Thomas, nnt., July 2.—Mrs. Gordon Dennis 24 years old, the one-week bride of a prominent young Yarmouth Township farmer, threw herself into Pinafore Lake Wednesday while suffering from a mental depression believed to have been caused by extensive motoring and the heat.

MANY MESSAGES

Pouring Into Office of Prime Minister—Sir Geo. Foster a Possibility

Ottawa, July 5.—Letters and telegrams continue to pour into the offices of the Prime Minister. Today more communications were received from parliamentary supporters of the Government suggesting a successor to Sir Robert Borden. There is still gossip of the possibility of an outsider being called in although it is unquestioned that Hon. Arthur Meighen has a majority of the support of the members of the new party in both houses of Parliament. In some quarters, his following among Government supporters in Parliament, is placed as high as ninety per cent. Today there is a recurrence of the suggestion that Sir George Foster may be called in to form a temporary Government.

GOOD HOME MADE STILL TO BE DESTROYED

One of the best home made "stills" for the manufacture of whiskey was seized by the Mounted Police North of Oakburn in Manitoba, and following the conviction of the owner, the "still" was brought to Brandon. Geo. Skavinski had set the small brewery up in the bushes, about four miles North of Oakburn, and was making some very poor liquor. He had made considerable quantities, it was proved, and the Police paid a visit just when he had started operation for another big output.

The "still' was seized and Shavinski was fined $350 and costs in Oakburn on Wednesday by Magistrate Halliday. The "still" was confiscated and brought to Brandon by Sergeant Capstick, of the R.C.M.P. The home made "still" is very complete, and contains many features that have been missing from other contrivances seized, and which were for the purpose of making liquor.

IMPURE WATER CAUSE OF GOITRE

Contention of Experts at the Canadian Medical Association Convention

Decaying vegetable matter in the British Columbia water supply, was given as a reason for goitre by an eminent physician at one of the recent sessions of the Canadian Medical Association convention held in Vancouver, B.C. The following report of this session will be of interest to many in Brandon:

Papers on nursing and nursing standards occupied the attention of the gathering. The symposium was led by Miss Helen Randal, R.N., Vancouver, who was followed by Miss Ethel I. Johns, R.N., Vancouver; Miss Jean Brown, Saskatchewan; Mr. John Ridington, librarian of the University of British Columbia, and a paper by Dr. W. H. Hattie, of Halifax, was read concerning public health nursing.

"Standards for nurses must take cognizance of their physical condition, their education, their hospital training, and above all there must be the ethical standard," stated Miss Randal.

Contributions to a symposium on goitre were delivered by several prominent medical men, surgeons and X-ray authorities, at the joint meeting of the medical and surgical sections. Dr. R. N. G. Storr, of Toronto, Dr. J. M. Pearson, and Dr. H. W. Riggs, of Vancouver, Dr. G. A. Bingham and Dr. G. E. Richards, of Toronto, read papers which were followed by a general discussion of the subject in which many prominent authorities took part.

Great interest centred around the report made by Dr. J. M. Pearson, of this city, who stated that "In our therapeutic armory we posses no weapon which can act as an antidote to the poison of the thyroid gland nor have we any clue as to the causative factors of the disease which would enable us to prevent its development.

Lectured on X-Ray

Dr. Bingham and Dr. Richards were greeted with continued applause when they took the platform The latter discussed the subject from the viewpoint of X-ray treatment, which he stated had a physiological action on the thyroid gland, and that it reduced the toxic goitre to simple goitre, which could be operated on more safely by the surgeon. He claimed the X-ray cured 50 per cent. of cases treated and that while not a cure-all was a distinct adjunct to the surgeon in treating this disease.

Dr. Bingham objected to the pessimistic note of Dr. Pearson, stating that goitre was a disease that could be cured in most cases, particularly by a judicious mother in carefully watching her children during the period of adolescence, and seeing that they lived a clean out-door life.

The prevalence of goitre is British Columbia wa sascribed by Dr. R. W. Riggs, to the fact that in the Spring and Fall of the year a large amount of decaying vegetable matter is brought into the water supply. Dr. O'Day, of Honolulu, an expert on goitre, attributed its prevalence to minerals in the water supply. It was stated that up to 25 per cent. of the school children are affected by this disease.

WILD EXHIBITION IS FURNISHED BY BOTH BALL TEAMS

When Beresford and Greys Meet in League Fixture—Locals Win Slugging Match

In the wildest exhibition of baseball ever played on the Brandon ball lot, the Greys slugged out a win over the Beresford team, 18-11, in what was billed as a league fixture. Runs came with a rapidity that made the average fan dizzy trying to follow the boy at the score board tacking up the counters. There was a wild mixture of errors, poor fielding, long hits and a good play now and then in the nine innings of comedy baseball which the two teams provided. Four pitchers were used in an effort to stop the slugging habit the players got into.

The hitting of D. Rathwell for the losers featured his team's play although Wallace and W. Rathwell also connected for two hits apiece during the game. A summary of the game shews 29 runs, 27 hits and 17 errors in nine innings of play, which is just about the record for any game played on the Athletic Grounds. The follow-

AMERICAN TEAM TAKES BOTH ENDS OF DOUBLE BILL

Rugby, North Dakota Players Win Afternoon Game in Easy Fashion

EVENING GAME FAST

Both Teams Play Stellar Ball and Rugby Gets Verdict 6-5

Playing good, consistent ball in both games, the Rugby, North Dakotta, team took both ends of a double bill from the Greys on Dominion Day. They made a runaway affair of the afternoon fixture which they won 11-1, but they were forced to go the limit to take the long end of a 65 score in the evening game. Only the failure of Chabot to get back to third and score on a long fly to the outfield kept the Greys out of at least a possible tie game with the visitors.

HOCKEY CLUB ORGANIZED FOR COMING SEASON

An early start on the hockey season is promised as the result of a meeting held on Monday evening in the Prince Edward Hotel, when the Brandon Hockey Club was organized for the coming Winter season. Officers were elected and plans for a strong club discussed, with every prospect that Brandon will have a real team in this year's Manitoba League. The locals realize that they will have to be in the best of shape for the opening games, and a long training season will be commenced within a very short time.

The officers elected Monday evening are as follows: Hon. President, Dr. Elliott; President A. R. McDiarmid; Vice-President, F. E. Scott; Second Vice-President, F. W. Hobson; Secretary-Treasurer, H. A. Stuart. The Executive will consist of nine members as follows: F. E. Scott, F. W. Hobson, T. MacRae, W. Cameron, H. A. Stuart, Dr. Doran, G. McCulloch, J. Brodie and A. R. McDiarmid.

NURSING SISTER TELLS OF BAD CONDITIONS IN MILITARY HOSPITAL

Toronto, July 6. — Nursing Sister Mary E. Pollock, who was dismissed recently from Speedwell Military Hospital, Guelph, Ont., for refusal to serve in the diet kitchen, and whose dismissal resulted in eighteen other nursing sisters, in sympathy with Miss Pollock, being also cashiered, because they had also refused to work in the diet kitchen, in an interview with a representative of the Toronto Daily Star at her home in Chesley, Ont., said she had found the conditions so bad at Speedwell that she felt like resigning just after having gone there.

The rooms were not proper rooms for the tubercular patients, Miss Pollock said. "There was no proper method of heating the small, narrow cells for the purpose of bathing the patients. In the Winter time, I am told, the ink in the nurses pens would freeze before they could record the patients' temperatures, and the patients lay under fourteen heavy army blankets. There was no justification for such management."

DEMOCRATS LEAVE TWO QUESTIONS TO CONVENTION

Committee Fails to Agree on Prohibition Enforcement and Irish Question

TWO PARTY PLANKS

Over Which There Promises to Be a Strenuous Conflict

San Francisco, July 2. — Framed after days and nights of struggle with clashing interests and opinions, the Resulutions Committee draft of the Democratic platform, leaves two questions for final settlement on the floor of the convention hall. These are: prohibition enforcement, upon which no agreement could be reached by the committee and the Irish question. The plank adopted by the committee on this subject was not considered strong enough by the Sinn Fein faction who have served notice that they will seek to have planks written to include a flat declaration for diplomatic recognition of the "Irish Republic."

Bryan will present his side of the prohibition question today, and Colby, Secretary of State, the committee manager's side, in thirty minute speeches.

Bryan's Friends Numerous

San Francisco, July 2.—At eight o'clock Thursday night, the hour set forth for the re-assembling of the Democratic National convention, the platform committee were not ready, and everything indicated that the convention would not get under way for some time. In anticipation of the prohibition fight, the convention hall was packed at the appointed hour.

Friends of William J. Bryan, recalling threats of bodily harm made upon him at Baltimore, had arranged to be present to defend their champion in case he should be imperilled in the heat of the battle of the wets and drys. They had favorable points about the speaker's stand and on the floor waiting for the possible developments they hoped would not come.

The great audience spent the evening in singing popular songs, listening to a speech of Mrs. George Bass, Illinois, who said that suffrage has come to stay, and discussing the proposal to suspend the rules and go ahead with balloting for nominees. The campaign leaders opposed balloting, and the convention was finally adjourned until 10.15 this morning, when the platform committee sent word about 10 o'clock that it was still unready to report.

Mr. A. L. Williams, of Weymouth, England, who is making a tour of Canada, is the guest of Mr. E. W. Williams, 230 Second Street.

DIRECTORS OF RACE MEET AT WINDSOR TO BE PROSECUTED

Toronto, July 6.—Hon W. E. Raney, Attorney-General of Ontario, has announced that he will order the prosecution of the directors of the Devonshire race meeting now in progress at Windsor, on the ground that they hold a chater only as an agricultural society and not as a regularly recognized racing association. MANITOBA ELECTORS WITHHOLD SUPPORT FROM NORRIS: VOTE FOR NEW POLITICAL GROUPS

Norris Government Defeated in the Sense That Norris Candidates Are Not Most Numerous Among Those Who Will Occupy Seats in New Manitoba Legislature—Labor Will Have Ten Seats — Results of Voting in Winnipeg Only Partially Known

Winnipeg, June 30—The electors of Manitoba seemingly have adopted the group system of government. Yesterday they defeated the Norris government in the sense that Norris candidates would not today command a majority over all the other groups in the Legislature, but the followers of the present Premier will number twenty or a little more, and will constitute the largest single group in the House. Labor will have a group of ten or twelve members and predictions are heard today that F. J. Dixon who received a tremendous vote in Winnipeg will be the Leader of the Provincial Labor party, this being based on the fact that he has had experience in the legislature and on his outstanding achievement at the poll yesterday.

Winnipeg's ten members for the most part are unknown. It is conceded that Dixon and Hon. T. H. Johnson, Attorney-General, are elected since they lead the other 39 candidates by a big margin, even though Dixon leads Johnson by probably 6,000. It is claimed that the remaining eight seats will go about three to Labor, perhaps 3 to the Government and two to Conservatives. Mrs. Arthur Rogers, Government candidate, is among the leaders and the final count under proportional representation might send her to the Legislature. At least half of the Winnipeg candidates are believed to have lost their deposits.

SMITH ELECTE DIN BRANDON: KIRKCALDY AND CLEMENT SPLITTING THE LARGER VOTE

Labor Candidate Polled 1912 Votes, Clement 1511, Brig.-Gen. Kirkcaldy 1232—Ten Out of Twenty-One Polls Gave Smith a Majority—Clement Headed Eight Polls — Steady Vote All Day.

A. E. Smith is the new member for Brandon in the Manitoba Legislature. The Labor candidate polled a majority of 401 votes over his two opponents, S. E. Clement the former Government member, and Brigadier-General Kirkcaldy the Independent Conservative candidate. The polling was about as heavy as expected, 4,655 votes being cast out of a total registration of about 5,550. The totals for the three candidates were: A. E. Smith, Labor, 1,912; S. E. Clement, Liberal, 1,511; Brigadier-General Kirkcaldy, Conservative, 1,232.

Tuesday's voting closed a hard four weeks campaign in which all three candidates had plenty or opportunity to present the issues to the electors. It was expected that there would be a close fight all round, but ten out of the twenty-one polls went in favor of Smith, while in one poll it was a tie between S. E. Clement and Smith. The Liberal candidate carried eight of the twenty-one polls while the Conservative candidate headed the polls in only one district. The first returns were made about 5.30 in the afternoon.

New Canadians for Smith

The East end of the city went strong for the new member. The voters in Poll No. 1 registered their selection in no uncertain manner. No. 6 poll at 840 Eighth Street also gave him a big majority, as did No. 7, and the North side of the C.P.R. tracks was almost solid for Smith. The poll at the Ukrainian Hall on Stickney Avenue registered 88 votes out of 104 for Smith. The fight between Clement and Kirkcaldy was close in all polls with the Norris Government representative having a little the best of it in every poll but one.

Voting was carried out in an efficient and orderly manner and the feature was no doubt the early polling of votes. There was not a big rush in the closing hours of the afternoon to cast ballots, as most of the electors took occasion to vote early in the day. No accurate return of the number of women electors who voted Tuesday can be ascertained as yet, but a fair number turned out.

Parade City Streets

When the final returns were in and it was assured that A. E. Smith had been elected a large procession formed, headed by the City Band, paraded the main streets of the city, finally ending at the residence of the newly elected member. Carried on the shoulders of his supporters, Mr. Smith was called upon for a speech, and responded by thanking all for their work in electing him to the Legislature. He particularly thanked those who had helped Labor in the Provincial elections. He urged the electors to carry on the work they had so faithfully performed, as this is the dawn of a great day, when the emancipation of the workers will be complete. Mr. Smith advocated that the electors take a deeper, personal interest in affairs, so as to give him a clear indication of the measures they desire for the benefit of the common cause. Other speakers were George Ayres, Alderman Grantham, ex-Alderman Doran, J. H. Skene, J. G. Davies and Rev. H. Salton.

PLAN TO STOCK ALBERTA COAL IN WINNIPEG

Sheds Being Erected With a Storage Capacity of 20,000 Tons

The following taken from the official organ of the Conservation Commission of Canada is expressive of the coal situation in Western Canada.

"This Summer an attempt on a large scale is to be made to place Alberta coal on the Winnipeg market. Difficulty has been experienced in this market extension work by the lack of storage capacity in Winnipeg, and the unwillingness of the consumers to purchase his coal during the Summer, when it could be delivered direct from the cars. To overcome this objection to early ordering, storage sheds with a capacity of 20,000 tons are being erected. These sheds will permit the shipment of Alberta coal to Winnipeg during the slack season and storing it against the rush period. This will have a two-fold effect. First, it will relieve the traffic congestion of the Autumn when the railways are handling the grain traffic. Secondly, it will permit the operation of the mines during a period when, owing to the absence of a market for the output they were ordinarily compelled to close down or operate with a reduced staff.

"This latter difficulty has had rather a widespread effect, and has militated against the ability of Alberta coal to meet competition. With the closing down of the mines for a portion of the year, the overhead charges of the entire year have had to be absorbed by the period during which the mines were operating, thus increasing the cost of production to a considerable extent. The enforced idleness of the miners also had an unsettling effect and created difficulty in securing and retaining efficient operatives.

"This new enterprise of Alberta coal mine operators will be watched with interest and it is hoped that with successful operation the partial dependents of the Western cities upon United States coal will be materially relieved."

Almost One-Third in Victory Bonds—All Goes to His Wife

Ottawa, July 2.—Application has been made for an Ontario probate of the will of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The superior courts of Quebec have already granted the necessary probate there, but on account of a small estate in this province a second probate is necessary. A total estate of $163,682.17 was left by the former Prime Minister. Of this amount only $15,700.27 was in the province of Ontario. The beautiful home on Laurier Avenue East, in which he lived for so many years is not held in his name. The entire estate without the slightest reserve goes to his wife.

The will of the late statesman is characteristic. It contains only three or four paragraphs of a few lines each.

The document is a simple affair, and gives no indication of the high rank held by the writer. He simply describes himself as a barrister-at-law, and signs the document as, "Wilfrid Laurier."

It is dated July 27th, 1912.

The will also names Louis Phillippe Brodeur, Judge of the Supreme Court of Canada, and Frederick L. Berque, barrister-at-law in Montreal, as the executors of his estate. The application for the Ontario probate is made by Mr. Robert Laurier, of Ottawa, a nephew of Sir Wilfrid's.

Although by no means a wealthy man, Sir Wilfrid had invested almost one-third of his total estate in Dominion of Canada Victory Bonds. He owned $50,000 worth of these.

CONDITIONS FAVORABLE FOR ALL STAPLE CROPS—IN ALL THE PROVINCES

Though seeding in prairie provinces was completed at a later date than usual, present conditions are most favorable, says the monthly communical letter sent out by the Canadian Bank of Commerce. The acreage in wheat is about fifteen per cent. less than in 1919, while the acreage in oats has increased about twelve per cent. and that in barley eight per cent. For the whole of the prairie provinces the decerase in acreage seeded as at 5th June was 3.8 per cent. In the Maritime Provinces, potato planting is on a larger scale than last year, and in Quebec fodder crops and pastures have made satisfactory progress. The prospects of the hay crop in Ontario have been improved by the rains in early June. Generally speaking, conditions to date have been favorable for all crops, including fruit.

TENDERS RESIGNATION AS PREMIER

Premier Borden asks to be relieved of duties after 24 years in public services.

Ottawa, July 2.—Members of the Senate and the House have begun recommendation of a successor to Sir Robert Borden as Prime Minister. Already a large number of suggestions have been received. By this evening it is expected they will be complete and Sir Robert will be in a position to place his formal resignation in the hands of the Governor-General and suggest a successor. The recommendations were not made public, but it is understood that Hon Arthur Meighen is favored as leader at present, with Sir Thomas White a close second. The formation of the new government it is though will probably involve several retirements from public life.

Hon. N. C. Rowell has already intimated that he considers joining the new party to beyond his mandate. Although Sir George Foster, Hon. A. L. Sifton and Hon. Martin Burrell may be induced to remain for the time being, it is altogether probable that their retirement is not far distant

To Form New Party

Ottawa, July 2—After practically an all-day session, the government caucus concluded seven o'clock on Thursday, Sir Robert Borden intimated his final decision to retire from the leadership and his decision was regretfully accepted by the caucus. No definite appointment of a successor was made. The caucus also decided to form a new party under the name of the National Liberal and Conservative party.

While no successor to Premier Borden was formally chosen, Hon. Arthur Meighen was favored by the caucus.

Hon. N. W. Rowell, President of the Privy Council, also tendered his resignation from the ministry.

GERMANS SENT DOCUMENTS TO ALLIED POWERS

Before Submitting Them to Supreme Allied Council at Spa

PLAN TO RESIST

Execution of Treaty Terms by Creating Division Among Allies

Brussels, July 2.—A very unfavorable impression was created when the Supreme Allied Council met here this morning to consider the program which will be discussed with the German delegates at the Spa meeting next week, when it became known that the memorandum prepared by the German experts regarding the economic situation of Germany, and her ability to meet reparation demands, had been submitted to the Allied Governments.

The step is regarded as a manoeuvre intended to prepare the way for strong resistance to the execution of the treaty on the part of the German delegation at Spa.

Reports Sent to Governments

Paris, July 2.—The Memorandum submitted to the Supreme Allied Council at Brussels this morning was presented to the British, French and Italian Governments today. It is understood that it tries to establish Germany's inability to materially fulfill her treaty obligations.

An Invitation to Talking-Machine Manufacturers

"We are informed that the representatives of one or more talking-machine manufacturers have stated, on several occasions, that they are able to distinguish between a singer's voice, or instrumentalist's performance, and the New Edison's RE-CREATION of such voice or performance."

"We hereby invite responsible representatives of any reputable talking-machine manufacturer to permit themselves to be blindfolded, and to listen to such a comparison, in the presence of judges of their own choosing, indicating to the judges when they think they are listening to the artist, and when to the New Edison. There is only one condition attached, and that is—that the representatives of the talking-machine company, and the judges selected by them, shall sign a written statement, setting forth, in full detail, the results of the test."

"The test will be made with an Official Laboratory Model, taken from stock, such as can be bought in any Edison dealer's store."

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

The Official Laboratory Model has proved its Realism in 4000 Comparison Tests, made before 3,500,000 people all over the United States and Canada. For instance, in Los Angeles recently, an audience of 1,500 people was unable to tell the difference between the living voice of Miss Marie Morrisey, world-famous contralto, and its RE-CREATION by the New Edison.

There's a way for you to test the wonderful Realism claimed for the Official Laboratory Model in this sweeping challenge. We give Mr. Edison's Realism Test. Come in and let us give it to you.

The price of the new Edison has advanced less than 15% since August 1, 1914. Mr. Edison has absorbed the bulk of the increased cost of material, skilled labor, and taxes. He is determined to keep the New Edison within the reach of everyone. But conditions may force a price-advance. Buy your New Edison now! Our Budget Plan makes it easy. PROPER USE OF THE LORD'S DAY IS ADVOCATED

In Pastoral Letter by His Grace the Archbishop of Rupertsland

Proper Sunday observance is being discussed by both clergy and laymen of many denominations. At the recent conference of Manitoba Methodists this subject was thoroughly discussed, the Presbyterian General Assembly also took up the matter during their sessions and the general feeling seemed to be that a better observance of the Sabbath should be urged. The following pastoral written by His Grace the Archbishop of Rupertsland, Primate of Canada, will be of interest to all those considering this question.

"Among the invasions upon the sanctity of the Lord's Day, it is being growingly felt that one of the most prevalent arises from what takes place during what is known as the "Summer holidays." During that period, attendance at church and the consequent observance of Sunday are being seriously interfered with in two ways. In the first place, in this age of motor cars, the practice of devoting the day to "outings" and visiting has grown very greatly, especially in the country districts, so greatly as to become almost a menace. The result is injurious in a two-fold way from the fact that not only do those who go out on these tours absent themselves from the services of their own Church, but in many instances the persons visited are also prevented from going to church. This, it is claimed, prevails for many weeks in the Summer months if the weather is favorable, with the results that congregations are most seriously depleted during the period referred to, the work and worship of the church impaired, and Sunday Schools are very largely dislocated. It is against the prevalence of this practice that the Synod desires me to put forth a warning word. The Church of England is a very kindly mother and has never been too exacting in laying down for her children stringent and harsh rules in regard to reasonable pleasure or recreation. For that reason, when she speaks she ought to be heeded."

"In the case before us, I do not think that the church would condemn a motor drive on Sunday, but she would ask her people to use their cars not as a hindrance but as a help to the worship of God on His Day. In other words, let their cars be used also for God. Let them carry you and your families to the House of God to meet your Heavenly Father there either before or after you seek to enjoy the pleasures and benefits of an outing in the genial air of the pleasant country-side which he has given you. Remember Him and meet Him and speak to Him in His own house some time on His own Day before or after you go forth into the larger temple of his Presence, in field or meadow, or roadside, which are also His. That is the first point I desire to stress."

"Then in the second place, there is the question of the Summer resort or the camping place. These are multiplying to a great extent all over the country, and hundreds and even thousands of our people spend either the whole Summer season in them or visit them every week-end. Halidays and change are refreshing and are a blessing, but why should the word "holiday" depart so far from its original meaning of "holy day." The practice of taking a holiday from church going during the period of rest and change is not good either for ourselves or those who are influenced by our example. It is not good for ourselves, for it means the suspension and the loss of church privileges for too long a time to be healthy for our spiritual lives. Then, again, the effect is not wholesome in the case of our children, who are thus induced to associate church going with the work af life and the absence of it with the leisure and pleasure of life. Most undoubtedly, this will react upon them eventually in their attitude towards religion. Moreover the example, to say the least, is not helpful to the residents who live at the place of our temporary resort. When they see persons who, at home, are recognized as good church people absenting themselves on the Lord's Day from the local church, they feel justified in going and doing likewise. What I ask, therefore, in all earnestness is, that for the reasons I have given, we should, in the language of the prophet, "consider our ways" in the matter of our vacations and our Summer holidays. If there is a church within reach, let us "not forsake the assembling of ourselves together" in it on the Lord's Day. I know the difficulties which are often in the way, especially when the camp has week-end visitors. It may call for a sacrifice. If there is no church within convenient distance, let us arrange at some period of the Lord's Day for meeting together and having Morning or Evening Prayer said by someone."

TOMMY TOWN WINS 3,000 METRE RACE IN EASY FASHION

Tommy Town had little difficulty in winning the 3,000 metre race in Winnipeg on Thursday and as a result he enters the Western Olympic trials next Wednesday as Manitoba's representative. The Brandon runner had things all his own way, taking the lead at the start and never being headed. He made a parade of the race by crossing the finish line over 100 yards ahead of the nearest runner, who proved to be Joe Keeper, also an ex-Brandon runner. The track was heavy and made fast time out of the question but Town's time is given as 16.42 and 2-5.

The local runner went to Winnipeg full of confidence to again win the Manitoba championship and his performance on Dominion Day shows that he is in prime condition for the big meet which takes place next Wednesday. Although it is not stated how many were in the race in Winnipeg, Irving, Finguard, Robertson and Keeper were among the contestants who tried to make a race of it for the Brandon runner. Keeper was Canada's representative in the 5,000 metre event at the Olympic games at Sweden in 1912, so that Town's defeat of the Indian, makes him a favorite for the big event next Wednesday. Town took no chances on the race Thursday, but set his own pace, and finished with t hundred yards to spare. Had he been pushed at all he might possibly have made better time. Joe Keeper was second, while Robertson was third and Finguard fourth.

Town is remaining in Winnipeg until next Wednesday when he will stack up against the best middle distance runners from the West. The winner of the big race next Wednesday will make the trip to Montreal for the final Olympic trials on July 17th, and the winner of that race will then go to Antwerp to represent Canada. There is every chance of the Brandon runner being the athlete who will wear the Maple Leaf in the 5,000 metre event, and it is just possible, that should he win the 5,000 metre race he will also try to annex the 10,000 metre event also.

A fund to assist in the paying of Town's expenses is now being raised by Dr. McDiarmid, and it is expected that several canvassers will visit the athletic organizations and their supporters for the necessary funds. Town is running under Brandon colors, but as there is no club backing him here, he will be compelled to pay all his own expenses, up until the time he runs at Montreal, if local fans here do not do the generous thing by the local star.

BRANDON FAIR BEST IN GREAT WEST

JULY 19-24--GREAT HOLIDAY WEEK FOR PEOPLE OF BRANDON

THERE WILL BE MORE OF THESE ANIMALS HERE THAN EVER IN HISTORY OF EXHIBITION

Quality Cattle at the Manitoba Provincial Exhibition, Brandon

MANITOBA SUMMER FAIR IS A HAPPY BLEND OF FUN, FROLIC AND EDUCATIONAL FEATURES

Something for Old, Young, Rich or Poor—The Finest Livestock on the Continent—Glorious Happy Crowds Out for Holiday Will Find Plenty of Amuse and Entertain—Races, Midway Features, Platform Attractions—For the Serious Minded and Those Thirsty for Knowledge These Are Excellent Features

Every great fair has two sides to it, educational and amusement. The Manitoba Provincial Exhibition provides the happiest blend of any fair on the continent. There is something for everybody, something that is clean, wholesome, enjoyable and interesting. Staged in one of the most beautiful exhibition parks on the continent of America, the Brandon fair is an event that thousands of people look backwards to for six months and forward to for another six. And they are never disappointed. There is always something new as the oldest patron smilingly affirms, always something to instruct and amuse.

For the farmer the great thing is the livestock and this year there will be the largest number of quality cattle ever assembled in Brandon. Sheep and swine will be in advance of last year and the horses will be the good quality, should there not be the numbers.

The machinery exhibit, in its varied lines will be the equal of anything ever seen here and with modern improvements there is a great showing. The poultry fancier can satisfy himself no matter what breed he prefers. They will all be here in nice airy quarters. The Manitoba Government exhibit will be of exceptional merit with many new features while the display of manufactured goods will fully satisfy.

The gardener will find this year's exhibit the best in many seasons. Vegetables, flowers and produce of various kinds of exceptional merit crowd the quarters alloted and more space may have to be given to this feature.

The Health exhibit this year centres around His Majesty The Baby. More than five hundred entries are expected of children in the three classes from one month to two years. The prettiest baby will not win. The valuable prizes will go to the best in health and development, the best specimens of the sex and experts will place the awards. Score cards will be made out and advice given for the correction of anything likely to retard the proper development of the child.

The school exhibit promises outstanding features and the domestic manufactures will be worth while. To enumerate the educational features is impossible but the foregoing are some of the most popular.

Some of the Amusements

The amusement features are even harder to catalogue. Broadly speaking they may be said to begin at the Midway and to go all the way around and back again. This is the routine followed by many holiday seekers. Johnny J. Jones brings the Midway shows and he has a continental reputation. The platform attractions are spoken highly of by Manager Smale on his return from Calgary where he saw them. The horse races are attracting more entries than any ever run here. More than that, they will be horse races all the way. There will be no betting and all that is in the races is the purses, and in order to get some money the horses must be driven out. On four afternoons the horses will travel Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Then on Saturday there is the motor races. Every person who has seen this form of sport one wants to see more of it. Saturday afternoon is the day the motor car drivers step on the gas.

From Monday until Saturday night, afternoon and evening the 48th Highlanders Band of Toronto will render a select program. The skirl of the pipes will please every Scotchman and the braw pipers are bonnie lads.

A feature of the fair which combines amusement and instruction is the big livestock parade. To see several hundred puny and frightened city men leading prize bulls, cows, and horses around the ring, one must be in the stand at seven o'clock on Thursday evening. The animals will be worth seeing, so will the antics of some of the would-be hostlers.

The dairy exhibit will be an especially notable one. Already there are entries from Quebec, British Columbia and intervening provinces. Last year the exhibit was the best in Canada. This year it will be even better.

ACCOMMODATION BUREAU

Those fair visitors who desire to secure accommodation are advised to visit the Accommodation Bureau, over which J. D. Kennedy will again preside, immediately upon arriving in the city. Suitable quarters will be available for all early applicants while those who postpone booking accommodation until late at night will not have the selection afforded the early ones.

Good accommodation is promised for all at reasonable prices with reliable guides to pilot strangers. Visitors will consult their own interests by writing Mr. Kennedy before Fair week, or visiting the Bureau early in the day.

28 EXCURSION TRAINS DURING WEEK OF FAIR

Fare is Fare and One-Third—Excursions From Manitoba and Saskatchewan Points

Twenty-eight one day excursions are headed for Brandon during fair week. Fare and one-third is the rate and patrons are able to leave home in the morning, see some of the sights of the fair and be home for work the following day. In addition excursion rates have been granted over all lines, good beginning the 17th to return not later than the 26th.

Thousands of persons will avail themselves of these cheap rates and fair week will bring bumper crowds to Brandon enabling many to renew acquaintances and meet old friends.

HEALTHY BABY SHOW A FEATURE

Babies Are to Be Examined on Wednesday and Thursday During Fair Week

The Provincial Health Department is to have a healthy baby show at the Provincial Fair and this feature is to form the main part of the Provincial Health exhibit this year. The examination of babies will take place on Wednesday and Thursday of Fair week, and there are to be three classes, one for babies under six months; another for those over six months but under twelve months, and the third class is for babies over twelve months and under twenty-four months.

Expert doctors and nurses will be in charge of the examination and contest, and each mother who enters a baby will get a certificate as to the baby's health. This is not a pretty baby show, it is stated, but each winner of this show will be decided according to a health and physical test. This "healthy baby" show is one of the features of the Des Moines Fair each year where over 1,000 babies have been entered in the contest.

ATTRACTIONS ARE BEST EVER SEEN AT ANNUAL FAIR

48th Highlanders Band Will Please All Who Are Fond of Good Music—Platform Attractions First Seen at Calgary Said to Prove Very Popular

That the attractions for this year's Fair will be the best ever booked is the statement of Manager W. L. Smale, who has just returned from Calgary, after viewing the attractions at that fair. The same attractions that appeared on the grandstand platform there will also appear here. Mr. Smale said that the exhibits at the Calgary Fair were of a very high standard, with the exception of the horses. These were few in number, but some good animals were shown. The cattle, sheep and swine classes were exceptionally good. Strong features of the Fair, however, were the grandstand and midway attractions. The real big feature which appeared at the Calgary Fair and which will also come here, is of course the 48th Highlanders' Band under the direction of Captain John Slatter. The band gave excellent satisfaction at Calgary, and should prove very popular here. Captain Slatter is said to have a wonderful personality. He knows his crowd and is not slow to respond to appreciation.

Platform Attractions

Some of the most remarkable gymnastic exercises ever seen in the West is given by the four Ishikawas, a quartette of Japanese athletes. They give an exhibition of balancing and equilibristic work that is different. One particularly outstanding feat which they perform is that of walking up and down a flight of stairs balanced on one hand.

The International Nine are a select troupe of individuals from the sandy deserts of the far East. These whirlwind sons of the desert present themselves in a glaring riot of color designed in their native styles and form numerous pyramids showing their strength. This marvellous group of acrobats hold the world's record for ground tumbling and they go like a streak of lightning down the track.

Madam Howes' Ballet is an aggregation of madamoselles who lend to the art of ballet dancing, rythmic sway, dainty grace and exotic charm. They were big favorites with the Calgary crowds and should be popular here.

The Airial Lloyds are dare devils of the air, who in their casting act perform every conceivable kind of single twisting and double somersault, pirouette and airial evolution with such rapidity and abandonment that

INDIANS ARE STARTED ALREADY FOR BIG POW WOW

Make a Gallant Show With Paint, Feathers and Beads

More Indians will attend the Brandon fair than for some years. Already some of them are on the way and each night finds tepees pitched nearer the city. From all points of the compass they are coming and they make a brave showing in their finery. There will be the usual ceremonies and presentation of prizes when bucks and squaws clad in all the glory of paint, powder and feathers, beads and buckskin, will make their appearance.

AUTO RACES ARE TO BE FEATURE LAST DAY OF FAIR

Many Famous Drivers Are Expected to Enter Speed Contest

DIRT TRACK CHAMPION

May Be Here to Defend Title Against Several Challengers

The Brandon Exhibition is to be a member of the great fair automobile circuit this fall, which includes the Minnesota State Fair, the Toronto National Exhibit; the New York State Exposition; the Texas State Fair, the Illinois State Fair, the Eastern States Exposition; the Texas State Fair, and other large institutions of the United States and Canada.

Secretary W. I. Smale of the Exhibition has been adviser that his application for a sanction for the automobile races has been acted upon favorably by the International Motor Contest association and he has been alloted Saturday, July 24th, on which date the speed fans of this vicinity will witness the fastest drivers of the dirt track world in action.

The names of the drivers and cars which wil compete in the Brandon fair races will be announced as fast as the entries are received. While the fair officials have the right under the rules of the I.M.C.A. to reject any entries that may be sent in through the International Motor Contest association, Secretary Smale says the advice of the controlling body will be taken in practically all cases.

The International Motor Contest association has over 200 professional drivers licensed at present according to the latest report of Secretary A. R. Corey. Up until June 1st, the list contains such names as Sig. Haugdahl, dirt track champion; Fred Horey, holder of 11 world's records; Louis Disbrow, ex-speed king; R. Burt Lampkin of England, Leon Duray, French speed marvel; Dave Coetzla, of Detroit; Floyd Willard, George Clark; Bill Endicott; Rowe Brainerd; Bob Maley, Lee Allen, Bob Cline; Verne Soules; Jimmy Toft; Harry Gilchrist; Charles Reynolds; Al. GERMAN FARMERS HIDE WEAPONS THEY CLAIM TO PROTECT THEIR HOMES

Berlin, July 6.—There is a reluctance on the part of some German farmers to surrender their firearms, due to "the desire to protect their homes against marauders," Minister of Agriculture Braun said to a Tageblatt representative. He added, however, that a number of farmers have been "storing arms deliberately for subversive purposes," but he said these were not as numerous as generally believed.

"If the people only keep their heads," Herr Braun said, "I do not believe there will be any organized outbreak in the near future. The rural situation at this time inspires confidence."

More Shows Than Ever Before—All of Them Clean and Wholesome

BRILLIANT LIGHTS

Jones Exposition Makes a Specialty of Clean Fun for Everybody

A whole lot of the fun of thefair is found on the Midway. The Brandon fair has always had a good clean lot of attractions there and this year they are to be more numerous than ever and just as clean and wholesome. Johnny J. Jones shows are the feature end of them. The Calgary Albertan says:

With hundreds of vari-colored, brilliant lights, bands, spielers and noise all combining to carry to those who visited the fair grounds far from city streets, Johnny J. Jones' exposition opened Friday.

Mixed with the best of last year's attractions are several new ones which are being shown for the first time here. The $20,000 carousal is again on the grounds and obtained the usual number of patrons, both children and grown-ups; Etta Louise Blake's "Superba," in which is introduced artistic views and living models; Stella, and the midget city, also are proving to be as great attractions as ever. Stella is reputed to be the most beautiful and divinely formed woman, and Prince Denny, Baroness Salone, Princess Marguerite and Duchess Leona are said to be the smallest women alive.

The pacemakers, with Mlle. Marie at their head, thrilled the hundreds who saw them ride automobiles and motor cycles around a, 45-degree, 60-foot saucer-shaped track.

Two new creations, the Jazzer and the "Krazy Kats" make one forget business troubles and any other worrying detail.

Chimpanzees, apes, baboons and every species of the monkey tribe do almost every stunt a human being could do, high diving, automobile racing, airplane acrobatic stunts, loop-the loop, dress and undress themselves, eat with a knife and fork and in many ways substantiate Darwin's theory.

The shell ship, Capt. Robert McPherson, is an attraction that interests and amuses.

Mysterious Jansen

The Mysterious Jansen appears in "Everything." It is a mystifying exhibition of thought transmission, necromancy and clairvoyance. The interior decorations, electrical effects and properties of the show are almost gorgeously extravagant.

Neptune's daughters, or the diving Venuses, ten shapely misses, perform acquatic feats in a glass tank.

Lady Little's toyland is a fairyland for the kiddies with miniature merry-go-rounds, ferris wheel, whirligig and other amusing features.

The I.X.L. ranch of Texas stage a performance that is on a par with the stampede held here.

Johnny J. Jones' mechanical battlefield shows 15,000 figures in action, with every device used during the late war. Mr. Milles, the inventor, took two years to assemble the exhibit.

Maybelle Mack's mule circus is a laughter maker.

The "Dawn of Tomorrow" shows the latest designs and models of war craft including a huge tank, whose motive power is wireless and a mammoth airship. In the great war exhibit are relics obtained during the late war.

Circus Side Show

Carl Luther's circus side show is a clean, wholesome attraction. The tent in which the side show is held is 170 feet in length, the same length as that containing Johnny J. Jones' exposition side show.

There are four new riding devices, the whirl, the ride in the rapids, the tirplane and the "tumble in." Besides these there are the carousal, the whip, the ferris wheel and the French frolic.

In the band there are 30 pieces and ten of the members are soloists. Parks Prentiss is the leader.

Johnny J. Jones' trained wild animal exhibition is a circus in itself. Lions, tigers, pumas, leopards, goats, ponies, dogs, kangaroos and other animals perform all kinds of amazing stunts.

Mr. Clifford Gair, of Brandon, is visiting for a few days in Fortage la Prairie.

NEW AND BETTER ROAD TO CARBERRY

The main road from Brandon to Carberry has now been changed according to Mr. George Nearing, who has just returned from a trip with A. C. Emmett during which they put out new sign posts. The Brandon road is the same until it reaches a point about a mile West of Camp Hughes when it strikes North over a splendid trail, and then turns East again into Carberry. This new road eliminates the sandy roads which have troubled motorists near Camp Hughes, and also gives a splendid trail through the hills. This new road to Carberry has been logged an sign-posted all the way.

HUNDRED DEATHS CHARGED DRUGGIST SOLD ALCOHOL

Held for Trial Next September—$25,00 Bail Bond Accepted

INVESTIGATIONS

Conducted During Five Months Points to Brooklyn Druggist and Another

New York, July 3.—Indicted in connection with the sale of poisonous alcoholic liquor that caused the death of more than one hundred persons in the Wood alcohol strike last Winter, Samuel K. Saleeby, Brooklyn druggist, was arraigned in the Kings' County Court today on a charge of manslaughter and was ordered held on $25,000 bail for trial next September. Another man also has been indicted and his arrest is expected within the next 24 hours.

The indictments grew out of five months' investigation by Federal agents and local authorities in New York and the New England States. Investigation disclosed, the police say, that the week before Christmas, truck loads of poisonous liquor were transported from this city to Massachusetts and onnecticut saloon keepers. According to investigators, it had been made from 330 gallons of wood alcohol stolen from the Manhattan Steamship shed where it was to have been loaded aboard ships for England.

Easily erected no danger from storms and the first cost is only two-thirds what an eight foot outfit is.

We have no hesitancy in recommending this Mill to our many customers.

SEE IT ON EXHIBITION AT THE FAIR, also at the factory.

Furnished with three post towers only, and equipped with or without regulator.

Many of these with 20 foot towers place the mill at ample height; hence to accommodate open wells, we furnish a special width 20 foot Tower.

GERMANS ARE WANTING REVENGE

Declares Captain of Seaforth Highlanders Now Touring Western Canada

Winnipeg, July 2. — Germans are actuated by strong feelings of revenge towards the allies following their defeat in Europe, according to Capt. Leslie Vickers of the Seaforth Highlanders and formerly a professor of English at the Frieburg college in Baden, Germany. He has left for West to give a series of lectures on pre-war and post-war problems.

While the Allies have no reason to respect the Germans, he advocates that it is in the interests of the world at large that the Germans should be supplied with food, and that every effort should be put forth to enable them to re-establish their factories and their industries.

"Satan finds mischief for idle hands, and if we are to avoid setting up a breeding ground for Bolshevism and for disease which will sweep Europe, we must give them the things they require, although we realize that they do not deserve them," said Capt. Vickers.

He was one of the Old Contemptibles who fought at Mons, and he said that he personally had no reason to love the Germans, as today he has a German dum-dum bullet in his head.

Resided in Germany

Having been in Germany in 1908 and 1909 and after the war, he made the following statement about internal conditions: "When I was in Germany and had a chance of studying the German people I became convinced that they had no desire for war. The war came as a surprise. When the armistice was signed, I returned to Germany, and I was astonished to find that the Germans did not believe that they had been beaten. Today they will not admit they have been beaten, except in the military sense. They are convinced that their downthrow was due to the political revolution in Berlin in October, 1918. Their troops returned to Germany after the signing of the armistice with all the glamor and pomp which surrounded them when they marched out in 1914, and this factor played considerable part in creating the illusion that an honorable and not a dishonorable army was returning."

Under the British North America Act of 1867, the right to legislate on matters respecting education in Canada was reserved exclusively to the provincial legislatures. In general throughout Canada there are two fundamental systems of education, one that of the Protest communities free from the control of religious bodies, and the other that of Roman Catholic communities in which education is united with the religious teaching of the church.

In all the provinces the cost of education is defrayed from the public revenue, provincial or local, and public and elementary education is absolutely free. With the exception of Quebec all the provinces have laws of formity in the training of teachers, text books and the grading of children. Upon application the provincial government gives immediate financial assistance for the erection of new schools where settlement warrants this or increased attendance demands a large edifice. Each year thousands of new schools are built throughout the length of the country especially in the ever growing Western provinces. Assistance in the payment of teachers is given by a system of grants. Nature study, manual instruction, school gardens, domestic science and technical education have been taken up energetically, whilst agriculture, which after all is the country's prime interest, forms an important item in the curriculum of all schools.

PREMIER BORDEN SAYS RESIGNATION FINAL THIS TIME

Leader of Unionist Government Announces at Caucus That He is Through

TO CHOOSE SUCCESSOR

No Decision at Full Caucus as to How Successor is to Be Selected

Ottawa, July 1.—After twenty-four years of faithful service in the public life of Canada, Sir Robert Borden, at a full caucus of the Unionist party today, tendered his resignation as leader of the Government and of the party.

He was urged to stay but indicated that his determination was final.

Without selecting any successor, the caucus adjourned at one o'clock, to resume at 4.30.

Today's was a remarkable gathering. Practically every senator and member of the house supporting the government was present. Sir Robert summoned a cabinet council for 10 o'clock and it was at this gathering that for the first time his colleagues heard of his intention to quit.

The caucus assembled at 11, and when the premier entered he was given an ovation. The cheering lasted several minutes and then they sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Sir Robert delivered what is described as a remarkable speech. It was in the nature of a valedictory referring to his long service; to the formation and successful carrying on of the Union Government, and to his physical breakdown. He asked to be relieved of the strain of his office. He urged, strongly the perpetuation of Unionism.

Appreciation of Sir Robert

There were several speeches suggesting the Premier to stay on and enlarging on his great services to Canada and the empire, but Sir Robert indicated clearly his desire to go.

Afterwards there was a discussion as to the best method of selecting a successor, whether it should be by causus, by a committee or by a convention, but no conclusion had been reached when the gathering broke up at one o'clock.

The opinion was very strongly expressed, however, that it would be desirable to select a permanent leader rather than adopting any makeshift policy under an acting leader.

There was no definite indication as to the choice of one upon whom the mantle should fall. Sir Thomas White, whose name has been mentioned, was not at the caucus.

At the conclusion Sir Robert Borden would make no statement.

Rowell also Wants to Resign

Ottawa, July 1.—The rumor is current that Hon. N. W. Rowell is also anxious to retire from political life. There is a suggestion that Mr. Rowell may accept the post of Canada's first minister to Washington.

FINAL COUNT 'PEG ELECTIONS DURING NIGHT

Shows Government Has Four Supporters, Labor Four, and Conservatives Two

LITTLE SURPRISE

At Result as it is Just About as Well Informed People Anticipated

Winnipeg, July 3.—Final figures placed on the board which was watched throughout the night and till 2.30 this morning by representatives of all parties, showed that four Government, four Labor and two Conservative supporters had been elected as Winnipeg's quota to the Provincial Legislature.

The last three names to be added to the list were those of George Armstrong, Labor; Mrs. Edith Rogers, Liberal; and W. J. Tupper, P. C., Conservative.

The ten candidates declared elected are: Government—T. H. Johnson, Duncan Cameron, John Stovel and Mrs. Edith Rogers.

Labor—F. J. Dixon, Wm. Ivens, John Queen and George Armstrong.

Conservatives—John T. Haig and W. J. Tupper.

There were some moments of tense interest as the last count was being made, when Duncan Cameron's surplus was being distributed. Tupper and R. B. Russell, the convicted strike leader, had been running neck and neck, but the final figures showed Russell low, and he was eliminated.

The result of the new system of voting confirmed the judgement of those who had taken the trouble to size up the campaign in this city.

Papers Favorable to Bolsheviki Make Much of the Document

BROUGHT FROM RUSSIA

By British Labor Delegation That Visited That Country Last Spring

London, July 3.—Newspapers friendly to the Russian Bolsheviki, give much prominence to alleged secret document published in the newspaper, Pravda of Moscow, which is said to expose Winston Spencer Churchill's "intrigues" with the Russian Imperialists in support of General Denikine. The claim is made by the Herald, organ of Labor, that the document proves Churchill "tricked the country into making war upon Russia, concealing from his colleagues and the country the fact that he was making terms with the Czarist Generals." The newspaper says Churchill agreed to General Golovine's plan for raising an army to aid Denikine. Under cover of the Red Cross, the document was brought from Moscow by the British Labor delegation, who visited Russia during the Spring and bears the date of May 6, 1919.

INCREASE IN PENSIONS TO JUDGES OPPOSED

Lanctot Declares Country Saddled With Debt—How is it to Be Paid

Ottawa, June 30. — Senate amendments to the bill amending the Criminal code were concurred in without opposition by the Commons Tuesday, and the bill to amend the Judge Act, which provides for increases in judicial salaries, came up for second reading. Roch Lanctot, LaPrairie and Napierville, opposed the second reading. He said that the country was saddled with a very heavy debt and the Government did not know where to get the money to meet it.

Mr. Proulx, Prescott, seconded by Mr. Lanctot, then moved six months' hoist for the bill.

Mr. Best, Dufferin, asked if judges on retirement would receive an increase in pensions to correspond with the increase granted in salaries.

Mr. Best added that he wanted to see public servants well paid for their service, but the pensions business was getting to be something of a crime.

The Minister of Justice replied that a judge now appointed would receive a pension based on his present salary and not on the increased salary. It was proposed that for the future a judge should be paid on retirement, a pension equivalent to two-thirds his salary instead of the full salary as at present.

Commencing the fifteenth of July the fee to register mail will be ten cents.

ATTRACTIONS ARE

their work is really miraculous.

The Midway will present many of the old attractions and many more new ones, that will prove extremely popular according to Mr. Smale. There are twenty-four sideshows with the Johnny J. Jones' shows, and 12 wheels of one kind or another. This year there is a novelty for the kiddies in miniature horses, and this feature is proving very popular. Among the new shows is a remarkable exhibit of British War Trophies and souvenirs, and a mechanical trench field. It was one of the best educational attractions at the Calgary Exhibition according to Mr. Smale.

18 BOLSHEVIK REGIMENTS WIPED OUT

London, July 6.—The British War Office says that Cavalry General Wrangle, anti-Bolsheviki commander in Southern Russia, has encircled a Bolsheviki cavalry corps consisting of 18 regiments. The message declares that only 150 Bolsheviki escaped, 1,000 prisoners were taken and the battlefield left covered with dead.

FINE FIELD OF WHEAT

Wheat thirty-two inches high, with heads nearly four inches long, well formed and splendidly filling out, is to be found on the farm of Mr. R. F. Roddick, thirteen miles Southeast of Brandon. This is the "Kitchener" variety and was planted April 26th. Mr. Roddick has twenty-two acres sown with this wheat. Last Fall this wheat yielded forty-four bushels to the acre and those who have seen the splendid fields this year predict a bumper yield at harvest time.

SIR ROBERT BORDEN SAYS ALL COLLEAGUES HAVE BEEN LOYAL

Ottawa, July 6.—The attention of Sir Robert Borden has been directed to certain statements in the press which allege or imply that certain of his colleagues have not been loyal to him during the past few years. The Prime Minister desires to assert most emphatically that all such reflections upon any of his colleagues are absolutely without warrant of foundation. From first to last every one of his colleagues has been thoroughly loyal to the Prime Minister on every occasion and in every way. He feels himself under a deep debt of gratitude to each of them.

POLE HAD PLENTY OF MONEY HIDDEN IN WEARING APPAREL

London, July 6.—A Pole named Pietr Talla, travelling from America to Dantzig was taken ill recently in the Young Men's Christian Association hut, Waterloo Road, and removed to an infirmary. He had only two shillings and threepence in English money but hidden in his clothing he had 22 ten dollar gold pieces and paper money to the value of $990. His shoes were found to be very heavy and when they were photographed by the X-ray, 12 large coins presumably $10 gold pieces were found hidden between the leather and the soles of each boot.

Johnny J. Jones shows are under contract to supply fun on the main drag. These shows have been running at other Western fairs on the circuit before Brandon and although money is scarce farther West on account of poor crop conditions, Mr. Jones wires that his receipts are record-breaking. This is a sure sign of the merit of his attractions.

One patron complained that there were too many good shows—that he had not time to see them all. All the good old riding devices will be here, and some you have not seen before, and of course, there will be the latest in fun makers that put the joy into life.

FARM GARDEN MAKES GREAT SHOWING NOW

And Shows What Can Be Done Relying for Moisture on Rainfall

7,000 FLOWERING PLANTS

Tomatoes Should Be Ready to Gather by End of Week

There are many wonderful gardens in Brandon this year which have been carefully tended by their owners, well watered morning and evening, or perhaps ofteners, and given every possible care. But there is one garden which is not watered, but depends, as the farmers do for their crops, on the rainfall for moisture. This is the large area of land known as the Experimental Farm where many different crops flourish in as many different "gardens." In spite of the scarcity of rain this season, 7,000 flowering plants, many of them in blossom, transform the beds surrounding the lawn and tennis courts into a riot of color. Paeonies loaded down with bloom surround the pinery and are greatly admired by visitors.

Visitors to the Farm should not omit inspecting the vegetable garden which is worth coming miles to see. In this huge "plot" are 575 tomato plants. Tomatoes, as large as those now imported and offered for sale in the stores, are ripening and it is expected some will be ready to gather by the end of this week. Last year two tons of tomatoes were harvested from this garden, the average being about eight pounds to a plant.

Experimental plots of onions, carrots, beets, parsnips, beans, and corn are all well advanced, but although sown at different times, owing to the lack of moisture, seem to be just about equal in growth. A good rain would make a vast amount of difference in their appearance. The crop of garden peas is practically over and soon the seed will be gathered. Cabbage put in the first week in June is now ready to eat and snowy white cauliflower is also ready for the table. Musk melon, squash, pumpkins and vegetable marrow are all to be found here and give promise of a bumper crop.

Small fruits, such as black, red and white currants, and gooseberries will be ready to pick the end of this week, and probably next week some of the raspberries will be ready to gather. Some of the currants are already ripe but the bulk of the crop will not be ready until later in the week.

The plum and apple orchard is also worthy of a visit. Both plum and apple trees have an abundance of green fruit which should yied a splendid crop.

PROVINCIAL SAVINGS BANK TO OPEN HERE

Department Plans to Have Information Booth at Brandon Fair

Winnipeg, July 13.—An announcement that the Provincial Savings Bank would open an agency in Brandon was made today by department officials. This will be the first branch opened outside the City of Winnipeg and marks a move to extend the activities of the institution. Officials of the Department will attend the Brandon Fair and open an information bureau.

BRITISH TRADES UNIONS AGAINST DIRECT ACTION

As a Means of Forcing Government to Obey Their Demand

London, July 13.—The proposal to employe direct action if necessary, to force the Government to withdraw its troops from Ireland and cease manufacturing munitions for use in Ireland and Russia, was defeated today in the special Trades Union Congress called to consider Labor's attitude on the Irish question.

3,000 ACRES OF WHEAT BURNED: LOSS $150,000

Oberlin, Kansas, July 13.—Fire late yesterday destroyed three thousand acres of harvested wheat between Oberlin and Norton, causing a loss estimated at $150,000.

STREET CAR FARES WILL BE TEN CENTS DURING FAIR WEEK

Owing to Trouble Making Change During the Big Rush

Cash fares on the Street Railway during Fair Week will be inreased to ten cents, although the sale of tickets will still remain as before, six tickets for thirty-five cents. Intimation to this effect was made this morning by Alderman Carey, who is Chairman of the Street Railway Department. The difficulty in making change during the big rush at Fair time especially with a seven cent fare is the reason for the suggested change in the street railway fare for one week. If the Street Railway conductors have to make change for a seven cent fare it is estimated that the operation of the system will be greatly delayed, and the adoption of a ten cent fare for one week will speed up the service.

Permission has been granted for the increased fares by the Public Utilities Commission.

TWO MURDERERS HANGED AT QUEBEC

Colored Man Officiated as Hangman When Ellis Refused to Act

Quebec, July 13.—Nick Debeka and George Morhart, two Roumanians, who murdered a compatriot, Toter Koltinian, July 17, 1919, at Benogami, were hanged in jail here this morning. The hangman was a Montreal colored man who volunteered to act as executioneer, when Ellis, the official hangman, would not act.

NO REPLY FROM SOVIET GOVT. AS TO ARMISTICE

Poles Look to Allies to Supply War Material if Armistice Not Granted

CAN RAISE BIG ARMY

To Fight Russian Bolsheviki But Need Supplies Without Delay

Spa, July 13.—The Russian Soviet Government had not replied up to this afternoon to the request of the Allies that an armistice be arranged with Poland. The Polish military authorities have informed the Allies that they can put in the field an army of 1,000,000 men, but that they need 400,000 rifles, artillery and a great variety of munitions. The Poles count upon the Allies supplying the material, deliveries beginning in about 15 days, unless the Soviet Government immediately accepts an armistice.

RAIN IS NEEDED AT ALEXANDER

Two Farmers Have Started to Plow in Some of Their Crop

Lack of moisture in the Alexander district, particularly North of the town is causing much anxiety to farmers. Some of the farmers are contemplating plowing the crop in, while others have decided to allow it to continue to grow with the hope that enough rain will come to allow them to harvest something from the crop or at least have feed for their cattle. Mr. Alfred Magee, five miles Northeast of Alexander, has commenced plowing in his crop and expects to turn under about seventy acres. Mr. A. H. Speers, who resides about the same distance Northwest of the town has commenced to plow under about 200 acres of wheat. Between Bradwardine and Alexander the drought is being keenly felt. Mr. W. R. Sibbald who also lives North of Alexander, has commenced to plow in his crop. The entire damage in this district is from lack of moisture. Grasshoppers have not been numerous in this area and have caused practically no damage.

In addition to the bad outlook as far as crop conditions are concerned, the lack of feed is also causing anxiety. Some farmers thought they had sufficient in pasture, but with the scarcity of rain they are finding it difficult to secure feed for their cattle. On one farm the cattle are eating two year old straw stacks, instead of the feed which is usually to be found on the prairies at this time of year.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS TO OPEN WITH 2,500 PUPILS

When Classes Are Resumed This Fall, According to Superintendent's Estimate

VACATION CLASSES

Have Attendance of 74—No Break in Term—Pupils Well Up in Studies

Reports from the superintendents formed the greater part of business before the School Board at the regular meeting on Monday evening. There was very little business of importance before the Board, the subject of the teacher's salaries not coming up for discussion. According to the School Board the schedule is practically settled, but the Teachers' Association still has a few minor changes to suggest. Owing to the difficulty of getting a meeting of the executive officers of the Association at the present time, the teachers' salary schedule will probably not come up again until the beginning of the Fall term.

A report from Superintendent White on the organization of classes for the Fall term is interesting. According to Mr. White, the classes for the new term wil have 2,421 names on the promotion list and an estimated addition of 175 beginners. To meet this demand it was found necessary to organize 64 rooms, or one more than used in June of this year. The distribution of rooms planned is as follows: Central 15, Park 11, Alexandra 12, King George 10, McLaren 3, Fleming 5, North of C. P. R. tracks 7, Normal School 1. This distribution leaves two rooms in the King George and one each in the Central and Fleming schools. There are only 74 pupils attending the vacation classes this Summer, this being a smaller number than previously, there being fewer children in need of instruction at the present time. There were 2,504 pupils enrolled at the Public Schools in June.

That there is urgent need for action on the part of the School Board in arranging for accommodation for the Manual Training classes, was the warning given by J. H. Skene in a report of the work in his department. He suggested some definite plan or arrangement being made at once for next year's work, as it is his opinion that there is no attention on the part of the Normal School authorities to give the same facilities to the Manual Training Department as it had this year.

Many Reports Received

In a report given on drawing in the Public Schools Miss A. E. Compton suggests another course for instruction of new teachers before school opens again for the Fall term. Miss Fagin in her report on the work in the Home Economics Department, states that 55 Grade VIII., pupils will receive diplomas for their work. Miss Garrow reports the Domestic Science Department a successful one. Home visits made by the Provincial Health nurses in Brandon during the month of June totalled 455, while first inspections were made of 85 children and a secondary inspection given to 156. Their report showed a great amount of work covered in one month.

The condition of Louise Avenue leading up to the Fleming School is to be a matter to be taken before the City Council by the School Board. The Secretary-Treasurer was instructed to write the City Council urging some action at once. Electric lights will also be installed in the Fleming School The action of the Finance Committee in disposing of $75,000 worth of debentures at 79 to the A. E. Ames Company was endorsed by the Board on Monday evening. Janitor's salaries are henceforth to be paid on the 1st and 15th of the month.

The resignations of four teachers were received, Mrs. Joe Hall and Misses Jean Brydon, Anna E. Clarke and Irene L. Armstrong all resigning.

CACHE CREEK B.C. HOMES WIPED OUT BY CLOUDBURST

Wall of Water Swept Everything Before it Into the Thompson River

Vancouver, July 13.—Ten people were rendered homeless, and considerable damage resulted from a cloudburst at Cache Creek, four miles from Ashcroft, on the Cariboo Road. A wall of water seven feet high swept down the Creek carrying houses, barns, trees and movable objects of all kinds into the Thompson River, which became a raging torrent of debris in a few minutes. The Cariboo Road for fifteen miles was badly damaged.

MENNONITES MAY NOT LEAVE, SAYS DEPUTY MINISTER

Even if Church Orders an Exodus —8,000 Might Go Out of 20,000

Winnipeg, Man., July 13.—Comparatively few Manitoba Mennonites are expected to leave the province this Fall, according to R. Fletcher, Deputy Minister of Education, who states that he considered it unlikely that any large number would leave, even if the church ordered an exodus. He estimated the number of Mennonites in Manitoba at over 20,000, but stated that the total number of the orthodox group,known, as, the "old colong" would not number over 8,000 in both Manitoba and Saskatchewan. The small group, he said, comprises the ones who would be the most likely to move away.

EIGHT MILLION BOTTLES OF WINE TO BE AUCTIONED

One of the Items of Sequestered Property of Baron Walter De Munn

Paris, July 13.—Eight million bottles of champagne will be among the items of the list of commodities to be placed on sale January 28th, when the sequestered property near Rheims, of the Baron Walter de Munn, will be auctioned off. The property was seized in 1915 subsequent to the Baron's resumption of German citizenship.

NEW STEAMSHIP SERVICE TO THE WEST INDIES

Ottawa, July 13.—First fruits of the West Indies Conference held recently here, will come in the form of the establishment, early in 1921, of a new steamship service between Canada and the West Indies. The Government, it is learned, has undertaken to commence negotiations with a view to the establishment of the service next, service considered by the Conference under the name of the Western Steamship Service.

AUCTION SALES PUREBRED CATTLE FRIDAY, JULY 2-3

Aberdeen Angus Sale in Morning —Shorthorn Sale in Afternoon

During the Provincial Exhibition next week there will be two important auction sales of pure bred cattle. They will be held Friday, July 23rd. In the morning, commencing at ten o'clock, the first annual unreserved Breeders' Combination Aberdeen Angus sale will take place in the old beef cattle barn on the Provincial Exhibition grounds. In the afternoon at three o'clock the Western Canada Shorthorn Show and Sales Association will hold a sale of imported and home-bred Scotch and Scotch topped Shorthorns. The auctioneer for the Aberdeen Augus sale is Dan Hamilton, of Dauphin, assisted by M. A. Judy, West Lebanon, Indiana, and H. J. Damron, of Bentley, Alta. Col. Gellier, of Minnesota, and Senator Hyland, of Devil's Lake, N.D., will act as auctioneers for the Shorthorn sale.

In the evening preceding the Aberdeen Angus sale a meeting of the directors of the Aberdeen Angus Association will be held in the Secretary's office. On the evening of the sale a banquet will be given in the Prince Edward Hotel at nine o'clock to which breeders from all over Canada will be made welcome.

SASKATCHEWAN KIDDIES KILL 2 MILLION GOPHERS

Regina, Sask., July 12.—Probably a million bushels of grain have been saved by the destroying of 2,000,000 gophers this Spring by the school children of this province. In order to stimulate destruction of the animals, the Provincial Government offered prizes of Shetland ponies, sheep and pure bred pigs to the school children with the biggest "kill." The first prize went to Elmer Oliver, Colgate, who destroyed 11,171 animals.

PREMIER MEIGHEN ANNOUNCES MEMBERS OF NEW CABINET

New Ministers are R. W. Wigmore, St. John City, Who is Minister of Customs and F. B. McCurdy Who Takes Portfolio of Public Works—Sir James Lougheed is Minister of Interior—Additions May Be Made Soon

Ottawa, July 13.—Hon. Arthur Meighen this afternoon announced the members of his administration. The new Cabinet contains two who were not members of the Borden Government. They are, R. W. Wigmore, member for St. John City, who takes the Portofolio of Customs and Inland Revenue, and F. B. McCurdy, who takes over the Department of Public Works.

The Cabinet is as follows:

Hon. Arthur Meighen, Prime Minister and Secretary of State for External Affairs.

Hon. J. A. Calder, President of the Council and MHinister of Immigration and Colonization.

Sir Robert Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce.

Sir James Lougheed, Minister of the Interior and Superintendent General of Indian Affairs.

Sir Henry Drayton, Minister of Finances.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Militia.

Hon. A. L. Sifton, Secretary of State.

Hon. Dr. Reid, Minister of Railways and Canals

Senator Robertson, Minister of Labor.

Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, Minister of Marine and Fisheries and Minister of Naval Service.

F. B. McCurdy, Minister of Public Works.

Sir Edward Kemp, Minister Without Portfolio.

Senator Blondin, Post Master General.

Dr. F. F. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture.

Hon. R. W. Wigmore, Minister of Customs and Inland Revenue.

It is understood that certain additions to the Cabinet are still under consideration and may be made shortly.

Ministers Sworn in

Ottawa, July 13.—Shortly before one o'clock today, nine additions were made to the administration headed by Hon. Arthur Meighen. Eight of the Ministers held Portifolios under Sir Robert Borden, the ninth, F. B. McCurdy, M.P., is a new member. Others sworn in were, Sir George Foster, Sir James Lougheed, Hons. Hugh Guthrie, J. A. Calder, A. L. Sifton, Dr. Reid, Senator Robertson and Sir Henry Drayton.

The Cabinet slate is not likely to be announced till later in the afternoon.

Cabinet Making

Ottawa, July 13.—Cabinet making today is in full swing. By an early hour the new Premier was in his office. There was a stream of callers. This morning an informal meeting of the Cabinet, the first of the new regime, was held in the Premier's office. Technically, the only members of the Cabinet at present are Hon. Arthur Meighen, himself, and the Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, who was sworn in a few days ago. The two who retired, have continued to administer their departments.

While the Cabinet slate may not be complete for some days, it is probable that sufficient ministers will be sworn in to enable the work of the Cabinet Council to be resumed.

BEARS, PIGS AND DUCKS IN SOUTH VANCOUVER

South Vancouver, B.C., July 13.—The prevalence of black bears is evoking much criticism in this district. One large black bear visited the thickly settled district between Main and Fraser Streets at midnight recently. It killed four ducks and badly mauled several pigs. The squealing of the pigs aroused neighbors whose shouts alarmed the bear. He scrambled out of the pen and ambled away in the darkness. A few days ago a chicken coop was raided in a similar manner by a bear. Local experts in wild animal lore are at a loss to account for these unusual forays.

CELEBRATION OF GLORIOUS 12TH AT NEEPAWA

Twenty Lodges Joined in Orange Walk to the Fair Grounds

One of the most successful celebrations of the "Glorious Twelfth" for many years, was held Monday at Neepawa. About 600 people attended from Brandon and district points, a large delegation boarding the special train at Carberry. The Brandon Fyfe and Drum Band, which is of a particularly high standard this year, won many favorable comments from the people assembled at Neepawa, and by special request paraded through the streets of the town during the evening. The Neepawa citizens turned out en masse to receive the visitors and throughout the day did all in their power to help them to enjoy their visit.

About twenty lodges joined in the "Orange Walk" to the Fair Grounds, which took place immediately after dinner served at the hotels. Fully 4,000 people packed the grandstand or stood around it when there were no more available seats.

[illegible] o'clock, of Neepawa, acted as chairman and addresses were given by the following speakers: Address of Welcome, Mayor J. L. McKay; "Education in the Dominion," F. L. Davis, M.P.; "The Necessity of the Orange Order in the Dominion," Rev. Mr. Allan, Douglas, Man.; "The Home Rule Question Today," Rev. P. C. Locke, Neepawa, Man.; "Patriotism," Rev. Mr. Taylor, Franklin, Man.; "The Present Duty of the Orangemen," Rev. W. Bridgeman, Winnipeg; "Social Unrest," Rev. M. L. Orchard, Brandon; "The Unity of the Empire," Rev. Dr. W. A. Cooke, Neepawa.

One of the outstanding addresses of the afternoon was that given by Rev. M. L. Orchard who, in a particularly forceful manner, brought home the duty of every citizen at this time.

Selections by the Neepawa Brass Band were much enjoyed. A program of sports and the baseball match provided entertainment in the evening, and the Brandon delegation left for home on the special train about eight o'clock.

CARSON SAYS ULSTER WILL ARM AGAIN

Penetration of Ulster by Sinn Fein Will Never Be Tolerated

London, July 13.—Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster Unionist leader, has declared that in the face of what he described as the inability of the British Government to protect Ulster against "mechinations" of the Sinn Fein "we will re-organzie in our own defence the volunteers who lent such splendid help to maintain the Empire during the war." Sir Edward asserted that one of the greatest ambitions of the Sinn Fein was to penetrate Ulster, "but" he exclaimed, "come what will, we in Ulster will never tolerate the Sinn Fein or its methods."

He said that 30,000 persons had been added to the Orangemen's ranks during the past year.

SOCIAL WELFARE WORK INTERESTS MRS. ROGERS M.P.P.

Native of Manitoba, Having Been Born at Norway House

Winnipeg, July 13.—Mrs. Edith Rogers, who was one of the successful candidates elected out of a field of 41 [illegible] provincial elections [illegible] only woman elected to the Manitoba Legislature. Mrs. Rogers is a Government supporter. Mrs. Harriet Dick, Independent, made a good run, being out on the thirty-second count

Mrs. Rogers based her appeal to the electors upon her record of social welfare work in connection with soldiers' dependents. Before the war Mrs. Rogers was one of Winnipeg's society leaders and although always interested in philanthrophy, her efforts were mainly directed to membership in several of the women's societies. With the outbreak of the war she became secretary of the Central Council of the Battalion auxiliaries. This work developed in conjunction with the administration of the Patriotic Fund and five years ago Mrs. Rogers opened an office in the Board of Trade building, which office is still doing business, with Mrs. Rogers ontinuing in charge. "She has welcomed soldiers' brides and families, found them accommodation, looked after them in sickness, advised and befriended them in every way possible. "My interest in the government is mainly in social welfare measures," she declared, "of which my work has shown me the importance.

Mrs. Rogers is the only woman member of the General Hospital Board. She is a native of Manitoba, having been born at Norway House, where her father, was McTavish, of the Hudson's Bay Company.

Conference By Representatives of Leading Organizations to Be Held Wednesday

To make further preparations for the proper reception and entertainment of the Imperial Press conference delegates, who will visit Brandon next month, a meeting will be held in the City Hall, Wednesday evening at eight o'clock. It is expected that five representatives from the City Council, Board of Trade, Kiwanis Club, Automobile Club, Local Council of Women, and members of the local press, will attend this meeting. Plans for the transportation of the guests from Carberry to this city, their entertainment here and many other important details will be discussed at this meeting.

POULTRY SHOW SHOULD BREAK ALL RECORDS

Entries for Provincial Fair Come From All Over Canada—Some From U. S.

The poultry entries for the Provincia Fair ill break add records according to officials in charge of that department at the big fair. The entries received are from all over Canada, and quite a large number are coming from the United States, so that the show will be a very representative one. The local exhibits are not as large as usual, but this shortage is more than made up by the entries from outside exhibitors.

Among the big entries received recently is one from J. H. Warringtoc, of Cornwall, Ont., Sidney Cross, of Killarney will again have a large number of show birds here, while new exhibitors include the Irwin Brothers, of Portland, Oregon. The rwin Brothers are former Manitoba boys who have been residing for a number of years in the States and who nave been engaged in raising high class exhibition poultry.

The Poultry Building has been remodelled, and the coops have been raised two feet higher. This last feature will enable all the birds to be seen by the Fair visitors. A premium list, which ranks second only to the Toronto Exhibition, has attracted the very best birds in Canada, and there is bound to be lots of keen competition before the awards are made.

THOMPSON'S REASON FOR THIS SALE

The reason for this sale is written for those who are wise enough to understand—broad enough to weigh the facts—firm enough to follow their own judgment—shrewd enough to profit by my loss. In my eagerness to protect my customers against a rising market, I overbought—the selling season has not warranted this investment, I'm overstocked with goods—goods, mind you, that were bought before the present market went wild. Even if my cash capital was big enough to allow it, I would not care to carry this great load of indebtedness over from one season to another. This is why I will sell at such astounding price concessions. Come, share in the savings.

EVERYTHING GUARANTEED AS ADVERTISED

A WORD TO THE PUBLIC

A word of truth to the customer of this store and the public:—There are only three things a merchant can do, go backward, stand still or go forward. I am not satisfied to stand still—I refuse to go back—so—I am going to advertise the biggest sale this community has ever seen—and make my store so well and favorably known that it will be the town talk for weeks to come. To do this, I will have to give genuine bargains. I know I will have to sacrifice profits, but it will mean more future business in which you will all share because the MORE BUSINESS I CAN DO, THE CHEAPER I CAN SELL. I AM GOING FORWARD.

DISTINGUISHED PARTY TO BE WELL CARED FOR

150 Delegates to Imperial Press Conference to Be in Brandon, August 17

THEIR ENTERTAINMENT

Including Drive From Carberry Entrusted to Brandon Citizens

Imperial Press Conference delegates will be given a proper reception and entertainment by Brandon people. This was the assurance given Mr. J. W. Dafoe by representative Brandon men at a meeting in the City Hall, Wednesday evening. Mr. Dafoe explained who the visitors are, the importance of their being well received and given a real opportunity to see Brandon and the beautiful farming country in this district. He made plain several points concerning their visit and answered many questions. The party he said will be composed of 150 of the leading newspapermen from leading countries which comprise the British Empire. They are crossing Canada on two special trains which are scheduled to arrive at Carberry at 2.30 and 3.00 on the afternoon of Tuesday, August 17. They are to detrain there and are to be driven through the beautiful farming country, arriving in Brandon about five. They will entrain here before midnight for Regina.

For the purpose of providing transportation and the proper reception of the visitors, a meeting will be held in the City Hall next Wednesday evening. In attendance at this meeting it is expected there will be five delegates from the City Council, Board of Trade, Kiwanis, Automobile Club, Local Council of Women and members of the local press. At this meting, which will be called together by Mayor Dinsdale, it is expected that committees will be appointed to attend to the transportation, reception and finances. A Publicity Committee composed of Messrs. W. S. Harris, E. C. Whitehead and Harry Brown, was appointed at the meeting on Wednesday as there are some matters requiring immediate action.

Mayor Dinsdale presided at the meeting on Wednesday evening and Mr. W. I. Smale thanked Mr. Dafoe for the explanation he gave and assured him he need have no fear that there would be any hitch in the arrangements for caring for the distinguished guests from the time of their arrival in Carberry until they entrain for the West."

FINLAND AND SWEDEN ROW OVER ISLANDS

Stockholm, July 8.—A critical situation has arisen between Sweden and Finland over Sweden's attitude toward a delegation from the Aland Islands which represented to the Swedish Government that the population of the islands desired self-determination on the basis of a referendum. After a sharp exchange of notes between the two governments a battalion of Finnish troops has been landed on Aland and encamped near Mariehamn.

The Finnish Government has arrested two leaders of the Aland deputation on a charge of high treason.

Sweden has dispatched a note to Finland urging the Finnish Government to consent to a plebiscite by which the population of the islands would decide whether they shall belong to Sweden or Finland, but it is understood the Finnish Government is unshaken in its determination to oppose any such measure.

Official opinion here is that Finland's attitude is based upon the assumption that the initiative for separation of the Alands from Finland was taken in Sweden, whereas, it is declared, the agitation began with the Alanders who based their right of self-determination on historical grounds and upon principals recognized by the League of Nations.

The Finnish Government has announced that it "absolutely rejects all such claims as are irreconcilable with whom 12,000 reside on Aland island, which Sweden recognized without reservation."

The Aland archipelago, in the Gulf of Bothnia, consists of 80 inhabited islands, with a population of 24,000 of whom reside on Aland Island, the principal town of which is Mariehamn. The islands formerly belonged to Sweden but were taken by Russia in 1809. The Finnish Government holds that the political importance of the islands is so great that no Finnish Government could cede them to a foreign power and that united with Sweden they would constitute a constant source of danger to Finland.

LAUCK CHARGES COAL INDUSTRY IS A MONOPOLY

Which Hoodwinks Public as to Profits by Use of Legal Devices

Scranton, Pa., July 8.—A charge that the United States anthracite coal industry is dominated by a monopolistic system that "presses up to squeeze the consumer and down to squeeze the wage earner, by diverting profits at points where neither can see them through the screen of bookkeeping and legal devices," was made before the Anthracite Coal Commission by W. Jett Lauck, in arguing the admissibility of exhibits on profiteering and monopoly which he submitted in behalf of the United Mine Workers of America and to which the representatives of the operators interposed objections.

Real Profits Huge

Mr. Lauck also declared that the real profits of the anthracite industry were at least seven times the apparent profits.

The Commission was appointed by President Wilson to arbitrate the differences between the miners and operators.

"The anthracite industry has been organized into a huge combination, a monopoly very similar in structure to an octopus. Its head and body are a very small group of banking interests," said Mr. Lauck. "Its entwining arms seven railway systems, which control at their extremities the anthracite mining interests of the country.

"The books of the entire concern of the industry from mine via railroad to final disposal by the sales corporation, must be examined before anyone can say just what are the profits derived from anthracite.

Would See Books

"Our contention is that such an examination of the books of the Anthracite Coal Combination is essential to the settlement of this controversy on the basis of justice.

"The point which we wish to make is that a well defined process exists by which the profits of the anthracite industry are successfully concealed, the high prices being explained by apparent high costs. The losses of the railroad coal companies are written into the cost of transportation through advances without interest and through the funding operations which impose large fixed charges upon the Railroad Department. The high freight rates which such inflated transportation costs seem to justify, are written into the cost of anthracite and serve to bridge the gap between the mine cost and the high prices which prevail."

SHOW OF FORCE TO OVER-AWE TROUBLE MAKERS IN TEXAS

Paris, Tex., July 8.—Extraordinary precautions were being taken here to prevent possible race trouble as the result of the action of a mob in burning at the stake Irving and Herman Arthur, negroes accused of having killed J. H. Hodges and his son, William, while at the latter's farm near here last Friday. Armed volunteers were patrolling the streets early and there were reports that desultory firing had taken place in the outskirts of the town.

According to ogicials the Hodges' were killed during a dispute over money alleged to be due them from the negro tenants.

MRS. LODDER GRANTED SEPARATION AND THE CUSTODY OF CHILDREN

The non-jury sittings of the King's Bench concluded on Wednesday afternoon, the final case being a petition for judicial sparation by Margaret M. Lodder of Virden from her husband E. A. G. Lodder. The grounds on which the petition is based is that of cruelty and non-support. The petitioner also asked that she be given the custody of her two small children. As the result of the petition, Mr. Justice Macdonald granted the separation with the custody of the children, the costs of the action being against the husband.

The evidence in the T. A. M. Hughes vs. The International Harvester Co. et al. case was taken during Wednesday morning and the case was concluded on Wednesday afternoon. The action involves the sum of $5,000 damages. Mr. Justice Macdonald reserved decision on the case. Several other cases which were on the list have been set over until the next Court.

FIVE WOMEN ENTER CONTESTS FOR SEATS IN U. S. CONGRESS

In the States Where the Franchise Has Been Granted Women

Washington, July 9.—Upon the threshold of national participation by women in the ballot and in holding political office five women are candidates for Congress in the coming elections. They hail from states where women already have the franchise.

Two are candidates for the United States Senate. The first to announce her candidacy was Rose Schneiderman, of New York, who was born in Russia. She is an organizer of the Women Garment Workers in her own state. She will contest the coming election with Senator Wadsworth. She will run on an "Independent Labor" platform.

Rose Schneiderman is President of the New York State Woman's Trade Union League. She was brought to America, by her parents at the age of three. She ran errands in a store when she was fourteen. At sixteen she organized the girls in the cap factory where she was working.

Anne Martin, of Nevada, who made the pioneer campaign by a woman for a seat in the Senate in 1918, is again running for that office.

Miss Martin will attempt to get the Republican nomination, but failing that, she will run as an independent.

In Oklahoma Miss Alice Robertson, of Muskogee, announced her candidacy for the Republican nomination for the House. She was postmistress of Muskogee during the Roosevelt Administration.

In the Third Nebraska District, Mrs. Marie Weeks has been nominated for the House by petition. She is the editor of a newspaper in Norfolk, Neb.

Mrs. Helen C. Statler is seeking the Republican nomination in the Third District of Michigan.

Dr. Esther Lovejoy will run for Congress from Portland, Oregon, on the Democratic ticket. Dr. Lovejoy was the first woman public health officer in Portland.

REDUCE RATES FOR AIR TRAVEL

Fares Between London and Paris to Be Lowered to £10 10 Shillings

Paris, July 9.—Early announcement is expected of the reduction of passenger rates for air travel between London and Paris, and many are wondering if the day is far distant when it may be cheaper to travel by air than by land and sea. At the beginning of the London-Paris air service last year the price for one-way ticket on small, fast machines was 20 guineas and 15 guineas on the larger passenger ships. It is now reported that fares will soon be reduced to £10 10 shillings.

In one recent week's flying more than 100 passengers were carried in the London-Paris air service and it is hoped that a reduction in price will increase the number of passengers. There have been an ever-increasing number of inquiries for the service, but the price has discouraged many prospective passengers.

TO ERADICATE YELLOW FEVER

Review of the Past Year's Work of Rockefeller Foundation

New York, July 9.—The review of the past year's work of the Rockefeller foundation by its president, George E. Vincent, will be made public soon.

In summarizing the year's work the first installment of the review says that during 1919 the Foundation participated in activities of public health and medical education in thirty-nine different governmental areas, in each case by invitation of and in co-operation with the local governments concerned.

Regarding the campaign for the eradication of yellow fever the review says, in part:

To eradicate yellow fever from these seed beds (Guayaquil in Ecuador, Merida in Yucatan, suspected areas in Venezuela, along the coast of Brazil and along the West Coast of Africa) is the high adventure upon which the Rockefeller Foundation embarked in 1918 under the leadership of Gen. William C. Gorgas. The results so far have been substantial and encouraging."

The campaign for the eradication of yellow fever was based upon the discovery already made by Drs. Finlay, Reed, Lazear and others in Cuba that yellow fever is carried from one person to another by a female mosquito of the species known as Stegomyia.

On the Trail of Fever Germs

Other important extracts from the review follow:

"Until recently attempts to discover the organism which incites yellow fever had failed. How the Stegomyia mosquito goes about her work was fully understood, but just what she injected into her victim remained a mystery.

"Guayaquil was selected as the most favorable centre for research. There cases of yellow fever were always available, and experienced physicians skilful in detecting them were at hand. The one man peculiarly fitted by natural abilities, training and experience to pursue the elusive organism was Dr. Hideyo Noguchi, bacteriologist of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, who had made a special study of its near relative the germ infectious jaundice.

"With the blood of patients who were in the early stages of the disease Noguchi infected guinea pigs. These fell ill, showing symptoms which resembled those of men suffering from yellow fever. The blood of the first group of guinea pigs was used to inoculate another group in which the same manifestations of disease duly appeared.

"Finally Noguchi was able to cultivate from the blood a minute, delicate, threadlike, spiral organism—half-way between a microscopic animal (microbe) and a microscopic plant (bacterium. To this he gave the name Leptospiria icteroides—'slim spiral, the jaundice maker.'

Dr. Noguchi Prepares a Serum

"Although Noguchi did not assert that he had discovered the inciting germs of yellow fever, and was careful to state that he wished to test his results at Guayaquil by further investigations in other places, especially in Merida, Yucatan, there is no doubt that he has made an enormously valuable contribution to the knowledge of the disease.

"Furthermore, his discovery of the slim spiral jaundice-maker enabled him to prepare a serum. This has been administered in a number of cases with apparently favorable effect. It seems more than likely that a means of identifying yellow fever has been found, and that the chances are good of substantially reducing the mortality of the disease which now ranges between 40 and 85 per cent. and furthermore, that vaccine can be made which apparently protects nonimmunes against infection.

"The average number of cases of yellow fever annually reported in Guayaquil for the years 1912—1918, inclusive, was 259. In 1918 the total reached 460. It was in November, 1918, that a representative of the International Health Board of the Rockfeller Foundation arrived in Guayaquil to organize a campaign of eradication. He came upon the scene when the disease was at its height. In December eighty-eight new cases were recorded.

"The attack was undertaken on the invitation of the authorities both of Ecuador and of Guayaquil, who left nothing undone to insure success. Officials were delegated to co-operate in the program. Special municipal ordinances were enacted and rigidly enforced to compel compliance with the measures which were recommended.

"Only one American was sent to Guayaquil to organize the staff, which was made up of Ecuadoreans, many of whom were experienced in yellow fever work. Within a short time more than 100 men were recruited and assigned to their tasks.

"The campaign aimed at two things:

"1. The earliest discovery of cases of yellow fever which were to be promptly isolated and screened from mosquitoes, and

"2. The elimination of the Stegomyia by denying the females access to water in which to deposit their eggs.

"It was the peculiar condition of the public water supply which presented the chief problem. The hydrants of Guayaquil flow only an hour and a half in twenty-four. The well-to-do have tanks on the upper floors of their houses; the less fortunate store water in barrels, cans and other containers.

These conditions were ideal for the breeding of the Stegomyia. It was not difficult to screen the tanks, or to protect barrels with wooden covers.

Minnows Mobilized for Fight

"There remained a good many open receptacles which it was hard to protect. Resort was had to the experiment of recruiting fish to live in these containers and to eat the mosquito eggs as fast as they were deposited. The first kind of fish tried was a disappointment. It was nervous, easily frightened and short-lived.

"A hardy fish was next drafted, but this turned out to be so vigorous that it was always jumping out of the water. Finally a satisfactory fish was discovered. It ate larvae gluttonously and darted to the bottom of the barrel whenever the surface of the water was disturbed. Thus, by a variety of attacks—drainage, filling, oiling, screening, and the mobilizing of minnows, the Stegomyia was baffled.

"By early January, 1919, the control work was far advanced. Here are the figures for successive months: January, 85 cases; February 43; March 17; April 3; May 2; June, 0. Since that time no case has been reported.

It is too early to affirm that yellow fever has been completely eradicated from Guayaquil. Vigilance will not be relaxed for a year at least. Nevertheless, the possibilities of control have been convincingly demonstrated. Guayaquil, the chief seed-bed of yellow fever, has been free from the disease for months. The public has proclaimed its deliverance from a menace which had never been absent since 1842. Gen. Georgas' ambition to write "The Last Chapter of Yellow Fever" seems no utopian dream.

League of Nations for Health

"In July, 1918, an outbreak in Guatemala has been reported. By quarantine isolation of cases and anti-mosquito measures the epidemic was brought under control before the end of the year. Later the disease appeared in Honduras, Salvador and Nicaragua.

"Offers of assistance were warmly welcomed by the governments of these countries and the Foundation promptly dispatched a group of experts headed by Gen. Gorgas. In each country a special government commission was created to take charge of control measures. The body was composed of local physicians and sanitarians, with one representative of the international health board of the Rockefeller Foundation. Each country provided at least a part of the cost of control.

"The Foundation contributed the services of its expert staff members, and made additional appropriations toward the common budgets. These several commissions co-operated in an international program for the protection of all the areas concerned. It was a practical League of Nations on a small scale and for a specific object. The plan was carried out energetically and thoroughly to such purpose that by the middle of October yellow fever had been practically banished from Central America.

Against Further Outbreak

"The commissions are being continued in authority, and concerted efforts will be made during 1920 to guard against another outbreak. The governments of Nicaragua, Salvador, Gautemala and Honduras have agreed to control Stegomyia mosquito breeding in all ports, to require daily inspection of ships which touch at Pacific ports, to discover whether there are Stegomyia breeding places on board, and to maintain a six-day quarantine against all travelers from Southern Mexico until yellow fever has been eliminated from that country.

With Guayaquil free from fever and with Central America protected, a good start hac been made upon the world-wide project of extirpation. Plans for the early future include the sending of commissions to Peru, where yellow fever appeared during the latter part of 1919, and, with the active co-operation of the British Government, to the suspected area on the West coast of Africa. It is hoped also that a way will be found to banish yellow fever from Southern Mexico. The League is widening its membership and is going confidently forward."

CANADIAN BEEF SENT TO NEW YORK SPOILS PRICE MODEL, PLANS

New York, July 8.—High prices of beef in New York have attracted heavy shipments of Canadian fresh beef, the Evening World says, in a special article dealing with the decline, compared with prices a week ago. The arrival of these shipments from Canada, the newspaper says, have curtailed the practice of short shipping New York and making the New York market a "price model" for the rest of the United States.

RESTRICTIONS HAVE REDUCED DRUNKENNESS

Declares Man Who Has Large Experience With British Distilleries

Winnipeg, July 8.—James McConachie, of Glasgow, Scotland, who has held important administrative positions in several of the big distilleries in Scotland, is staying here for a few days prior to proceeding to Banff.

Speaking of conditions in the Old Country, Mr. McConachie reported that the reduction of hours for the sale of beers and liquors ordered by the Government during the war, had been responsible for the reduction of 90 per cent. of the cases of drunkenness throughout the country. With regard to the quantities of whisky available for sale by the distilleries he reported that two causes were responsiblee for the shortage now in force. One is the shortage of materials necessary for the making of whisky, but the most important, according to Mr. McConachie, is the excess profit duty which demands of the distillers 80 yer cent. of the profits, over and above what they made early in the war. He stated that this tax does not allow the distillers a fair margin of profit and that, therefore, they are not able to release the quantities desired by the wine merchants, retailers, and hotels.

RELIEF WORKERS OWE ESCAPE TO GRATITUDE OF MACHINE GUNNER

Constantinople, July 8. — Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Eby, of Didsbury, Alta., two Canadian relief workers in the Near East, owe their escape from the American board mission buildings in Hadjin, to the gratitude of Enver Bey, a Nationalist machine-gun commander. This soldier had been nursed back to life by Miss Mary Super, Narbeth, Penna., a Red Cross nurse detailed with the commission of relief from the United States. On June 13th, thirty minutes after the escape of the Canadians and American workers, the buildings were destroyed by the artillery fire of the Nationalists.

This fact became known with the arrival here of Mr. and rs. Eby, Miss Super and Miss Katherine Bredemus, South Bend, Ind. Miss Bredemus was previously reported when she arrived at Samsun as "a Canadian relief worker," but it has been since ascertained that she is a citizen of the United States.

DID YOU KNOW

That Manitoba has twenty-three foundry and machine shops with capital invested $2,007,191.

That Manitoba has 151 textile and clothing plants.

That Canada is now being supplied with its own structural steel and also tin plate, formerly imported.

That enough soda ash is now being manufactured in the Dominion to supply the wants of Canada .

That Canada now supports a linen industry that carries out all processes from the flax to the finished sheets and towels.

INCREASED RAILWAY RATES

Announcement that the Canadian Railway Association, representing all the lines in the Dominion, has presented a request for a thirty per cent increase in freight rates, occasions no surprise. For some time it has been apparent that the railways were preparing to make a request for an increase in rates and any conjecture elicited has been as to the amount.

A suitable interval has elapsed since the announcement of the huge deficits on the part of the Government railways. All the people have become acquainted with the facts. The move for an increase in rates is put forward at a strategic moment.

The basis of the claim to be made to the Railway Commission for an increase in freight rates, is that rates have not advanced since August, 1913, while costs are continually rising. Wages have increased and the price of coal, rails, engines and other needs have advanced tremendously.

It may be safely predicted that the railways will make a good case. One of the leading lines at least has long been preparing to do so. Now that the application has been made it is safe to assume that on the face of it a case will be made out.

If the increase is granted millions of dollars will pour into the coffers of the C. P. R. If there is a refusal the Canadian Government lines will incur immense deficits. The question then is whether it would be better policy to refuse to permit increased rates, or to grant the increase and attempt to secure the return, through taxation, of some of the increased profits likely to be made by the C. P .R.

Past efforts have shown how difficult it is for a Government to secure the return of money once it passes into the hands of large corporations. It has a pernicious habit of sticking there that Governments are the very poorest agencies to combat. Costs have to come down, and a start has to be made some place. If the increase is denied, the C. P. R. will not be bankrupt. It will worry along somehow and though it may pare dividends to some extent, no great alarm need be felt. The Canadian people will be better off if the increase is refused and the deficits incurred by Canadian National Railways is put up out of the public treasury, than if an increase is granted which will enable the Government lines to come somewhere near breaking even, and will fill the coffers of the C. P. R.

A refusal to increase rates will tend to curb extravagance. It will encourage thrift. It will tend to lower costs. It will be a definite stand for economy in operation and expenditures that nothing can circumvent.

The granting of the increase asked for will, on the other hand, start once again the vicious circle of rising costs. It will add a fresh impetus to an inflation that already threatens disaster. It will increase the possibility of revolution.

POOR CONSOLATION FOR "WETS"

Though New Brunswick may not be accepted as a typical Canadian province the "Wets" will not be able to extract any cheerfulness from contemplation of the results of the prohibition referendum there. Two proposals were voted on. One was the retention of the Provincial Prohibition Act. The other was to permit the sale of light wines and beer. The vote for prohibition was 41,436; against 20,769; for wine and beer, 23,713; against 38,375.

Those Canadians, and there are quite a number of them, who have been predicting that a trial of prohibition would turn public opinion against it, are wrong as far as New Brunswick is concerned. It may take more than an adverse vote in one province to convince them, but convinced they will be.

The prohibitionists in New Brunswick are now asking the Government to plug the leaks in the present legislation and to make that province "bone dry." They claim that the people have given the Government a mandate.

ARTHUR MEIGHEN, PREMIER

Premier Borden's recommendation to the Governor-General, that Hon. Arthur Meighen be invited to form a Government will meet with genuine approval. The acceptance of the task by this distinguished Manitoban, is a matter for felicitations. The honorable gentleman is to be congratulated on the recognition of his undoubted talents. The Canadian people are to be congratulated that so able a leader is willing to take up the heavy burden.

The Hon. Arthur Meighen has undertaken a heavy task. A great deal of the unpopularity which accrued to the Union Government will be a legacy from which there will be no escape, while the credit and honor for Canada's effort during the most trying period of the great war will be accorded the Borden administration. Thus Premier Meighen will find on assuming office, a diminished following, discontent and unrest rife throughout the land, and a more than doubtful heritage of irrational irritation. The credit for the good accomplished being given where it belongs and the hasty and ill-considered acts laid at the door of the incoming administration.

The Hon. Arthur Meighen has a truly remarkable grasp of public affairs. He has won everything that has come to him in the way of position and honors by dint of hard work, unswerving determination, a natural aptitude for public affairs, and dexterity in debate. It is said of him that he would "sooner work than eat," and that he revels in the making of a speech that requires brains and knowledge to "get over." That he has the details of legislation always at his finger tips, is honest and fair, and not too frank for the rough and tumble of politics.

Western Canada will be proud of the recognition accorded through the selection of one of her favorite sons for this exalted post, and if in the general elections which must come in the not distant future, the Government of which he is Premier is not returned to office, it may not be because of any failure on the part of the Hon. Mr. Meighen. It will be because of what has gone before and the general discontent of peoples with established institutions, agencies and governments.

In the Hon. Arthur Meighen, the Canadian people will find a tower of strength in a period of stress. He is entitled to an opportunity to demonstrate his ability to solve the problems that confront us and to give this country the sort of Government it wants. This should freely be accorded him.

CORRECTING MISTAKES

The first item on any program that may be set up to make teaching a real profession and to induce capable men and women to select teaching as their life work, is remuneration for teaching comparable to that of other professions and involving a schedule of salaries ranging from a comparatively small amount for the apprentice up to a liberal income for the professional teacher. The second is the disqualifying of all who are without thorough training for their profession, and of those who have failed because of inadequate native ability, moral slackness or other index of incompetency.

Though the Provinces have control of education, it appears as if there should be a central authority, a national plan for teacher-training and the certification of teachers that authorizes them to teach in any of the nine provinces. When such a program is adopted and all Canadian schools are under the control of professionally trained teachers we may with confidence look to them to teach stability, moderation, honesty property rights, and a program of citizenship based upon a democratic cooperation in industry. Then the country may confidentially expect to find the schools an impregnable defense against imported radicalism, which flouts the painful lessons in civilization that the world has struggled through in past ages. Then the nation may reasonably look to the schools for light.

ON GOING INTO DEBT

Many people have such a horror of debt that they do not differentiate between kinds of debt but try to avoid them all. Debts incurred for running expenses mean living beyond one's income and, while sometimes necessary in emergencies, are deplorable and not to be contracted except in cases of dire necessity. But going into debt for the purpose of making conservative investments is a wise policy.

Such debts get a man started right and provide him with that very important aid in saving, a positive and definite incentive. If he buys a bond paying part down and binding himself to pay the balance in specified installments at regular intervals, he is not likely to go back on his agreement. Under such an arrangement he is more likely to save a certain sum each month than if he were merely trying to save it under no obligation to anyone but himself. It helps him stick to a good habit. Going into debt to save is a step toward independence.

AN AWKWARD PLIGHT

The Norris Government is in an awkward plight. Though the followers of Premier Norris are more numerous than the followers of any other leader, they do not constitute a majority of the House. In a House where there were only two parties there are now five factions. There are several possible combinations which could defeat the Government, and the leaders of these factions are tremendously busy.

There appear to be two courses open to the Government. One is to proceed with the business of government until such time as either their term of office expires, or there is an adverse vote on the Government measure. The other is to again appeal to the electorate.

The factors on which the decision as to the course to be persued should rest should be legality of procedure and the welfare of the Province. The fate of any political party should be a mere incidental.

WAR ON WEEDS

If prizes were given for collecting weeds big stakes could be won on some Manitoba farms. Weed Inspectors may not like to admit this but it is a fact. If the wheat crop is worth one hundred dollars more when weeds are destroyed than when they are allowed to grow, the difference in bushels is worth trying for.

Weeds are robbers that steal the farmers' crop. They not only decrease the number of bushels that go into the elevator or the granary, but they rob the soil of nourishment that should go toward sustaining useful plant life, which in turn should maintain human or animal life. It has been estimated that in some parts of Canada, weeds and weed seeds harvested, form from one to two per cent. of the total. This means train loads in the aggregate for Western Canada for what is true of Manitoba applies equally to the three Prairie Provinces.

Weed seeds in good grain cause a loss to the grower whether the grain is sold for milling or for seed. Added to shrunken grain they make an increase in the bulk that must be handled and transported while at the same time decreasing the value of the consignment.

There may be some who look on weeds as stimulants, urging the farmer to greater efforts, but he may have too much of these stimulants and the effect is not good on the individual nor the adjoining farms.

Noxious weeds may not be the greatest robbers. Do not forget the lambs' quarters and the other homely natives. Why should they be given the freedom of the farm?

Weeds first gain a foothold through carelessness in choosing feed and seed grains and in not tackling the first comers. Some farmers buy cheap and dirty seed and carelessly ignore the result. Some have weeds thrust upon them through unchecked growth on neighboring farms. Each farmer may understand his own farm and the conditions better than any outsider, but the Western Provinces have found it necessary to appoint Weed Inspectors, whose duties it is to see that weeds are cut or otherwise checked. Trusting to the individual farmer has not proven satisfactory in the past and there is no indication that it will in the future. Organized warfare on weeds is a necessity, so glaring a necessity that it is useless to waste time in argument with those who do not see it.

GIVE LEADER A CHANCE

A great daily paper gives publicity to a view which it declares is held "by most close observers of political affairs that Mr. Meighen lacks the political instinct necessary to leadership. They fear that he will promptly put the coach into the ditch; and they do not relish the prospect of being parties to the spill." This is represented as being the view of many Cabinet colleagues in the Union Government.

The great daily and the Cabinet members may have formed this opinion of the new Premier from experience during the past few years, and they may be right. The public, as far as we are able to judge, have not laid the blame for the mistakes which have made the Government so unpopular, at the door of the Minister of the Interior, and it is to the public that the new Premier must soon turn for authority to carry on. The pity of it is that the result of the next Dominion election is more likely to be decided by what has gone before than by actions or plans matured under the leadership of the Hon. Arthur Meighen.

MRS. MEIGHEN REAL HELPMEET

Mrs. Arthur Meighen, wife of the new Premier of Canada, is an Ontario girl by birth, but absorbed much of Manitoba's atmosphere during her girlhood spent in this province. She was born at Grimsby, Ont., and is a daughter of the late Capt. Charles Cox. Her uncle, Palmer Cox, is the well- known author who originated the "Brownie" books. She came to Birtle, Man., when six years old and received practically all her education in this province.

Irish blue eyes, golden brown hair and a sunny disposition contribute to the effect of Mrs. Meighen's magnetic personality, and make her well fitted to fill the elevated position which she occupies, according to those who knew her. She is very popular socially, and ready sympathy, tact, and gracious manner win her friends everywhere. She is both capable and accomplished. Her artistic tastes are well developed and she is an artist and musician.

An acquaintance, speaking of this side of Mrs. Meighen's personality, said: "Good music of all kinds appeal to her, but 'jazz' is anathema. She is also a good horsewoman and fond of outdoor sports."

The Meighen home is a very happy one and is blessed with three children, Theodore, 14 years old; Maxwell, 12; and Lilian, 10 years old. As a housewife and mother Mrs. Meighen is devoted and efficient, her friends say.

SMITH—GRANTHAM

The First Methodist Church was the scene of an interesting wedding this morning at eleven o'clock when Dulcie Vera, second daughter of Alderman and Mrs. J. A. G. Grantham, 218 Princess Avenue E., became the bride of Dr. Thomas Charles Smith, of Ponoka, Alta., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, of Kingston, Ont.

As the bride entered the church with her father, who gave her in marriage, the "Bridal Chorus," from "Lohengrin," was played by Mr. R. C. Macdonnell, who continued to play softly throughout the service, which was performed by Rev. J. W. Churchill. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Erma Grantham, while Mr. Arnold Bain, of Virden, supported the groom.

The bride wore a lovely gown of ivory duchess satin with drapings of hand-made lace caught with loops of satin ribbon. She wore a picture hat of ivory georgette crepe with ostrich trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia. The bridesmaid was attired in a pretty frock of shell pink organdie over taffeta silk and trimmed with filet lace and narrow organdie frills. She wore an organdie hat to match and carried pink roses and carnations.

The ushers for the occasion were Masters Alfred Grantham and Gordon Bertrand. During the signing of the register Miss Aleta Burchill sang "Love's Coronation," by Florence Aylward.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Both the house and the church were artistically decorated with ferns, peonies and shasta daisies. The tea table was centred with the wedding cake surrounded with tulle and flowers.

Dr. and Mrs. Smith left on the Trans-Canada for Banff en route to Pacific Coast cities. On their return they will reside at Ponoka, where Dr. Smith is assistant Medical Superintendent of the Hospital for the Insane. The bride travelled in a suit of jay blue jersey cloth, the coat opening over a dainty blouse of white net and hand-made lace. Her hat was a Gainsborough model of taupe taffeta and a corsage bouquet completed her chic costume.

The out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, of Kingston (parents of the groom), Mr. E. N. Grantham, of Regina, Mr. and Mrs. Trimble, of Portage la Prairie, Mr. and Mrs. Hedley Ross and Miss Marjorie Knaggs, of Winnipeg, Miss Kathleen Moffatt and Miss Elsie Kirkland, of Elgin, Man.

The bride is one of Brandon's best known young ladies and was particularly prominent in First Methodist Church circles.

LAST SESSION MARKED PASSING ELDER STATESMEN

It Also Saw Finish of Union Government Organized in 1917

FACE TOWARDS FUTURE

Hard Task Before New Leader—Faces Distinct Disadvantages

Ottawa, July 8.—With prorogation not only was the parliamentary session ended, but the curtain was run down on a notable scene in Canadian politics and there passed from the centre of the political stage one of the most notable of national characters, in the person of Sir Robert Borden. In reality it also marked the passing of the era of elder statesmen in Canada; for while a few of them still linger on the scene and that in places of prominence, the actual powers has passed to younger and stronger hands, who will fight the battles and upon whom will rest either the laurel of victory or the humiliation of defeat.

It has also to be noted that Union Government has passed away, the name having been changed to that of the National Liberal and Conservative Party. This is a distinct break with the order of things that has existed since the Fall of 1917. It marks the control of the Conservative element; and, incidentally, is in accord with the line of action suggested by Sir Thomas White during his address in the debate on the address at the beginning of the session. Those who remain with the Government must accept the Liberal-Conservative policy, which, in the main, is that on which the party led my the then plain Robert Laird Borden rode into power in 1911.

To say that Sir Robert's retirement did not come as a surprise is a trite statement. No one could tell just what would happen, he having communicated his intentions to the other members of the Cabinet just a little over an hour before the caucus began. But during the days immediately preceding this gathering the impression in the usually best informed circles was that the Prime Minister really intended to go on. On the other hand, a number of his followers in the House basing their conclusions only on his activities in the House, were inclined to think that he intended to carry on. Some thought that while he would again tender his resignation, he might again be persuaded to withdraw it. But this time he not only resigned again, but he had decided to remain by his decision. The caucus tried hard to induce him to relent, but it was of no avail. The die had been cast.

Looking for Opportunity

Manifestly Sir Robert Borden has, for several months been merely looking for a convenient opportunity to retire. That he delayed as long as he did was due merely to a desire to save the Government the embarrassment that would have followed had he stepper out during the session. When he returned from the South he looked well and his subsequent activities suggested that he might continue in the leadership. But a good coat of tan often is deceiving to the eye, and it seems to have been so in Sir Robert's case. His health is possibly pretty good, but he has not the strength he had two years ago and he knows it. He also realized that to lead the Government in the strenuous days that are ahead he would need all the strength he ever had. Undoubtedly too, the conviction had been borne in upon him that his work was done and that neither the country nor his colleagues could reasonably ask more of him.

The gravity to the Government of the situation caused by his retirement is appreciated by all. The desirability of infusing new blood into the Government is admitted, but in Canadian political life personal connection is of so much importance to a successful political leader that no successor, no matter how gifted he may be, can quickly fill the void occasioned by his superior's resignation. The history of the last fifty years has demonstrated this conclusively. In Sir Robert's case this will be found to be particularly true. He brought the present Government into existence, he has been to it a strong tower and bulwark, and it looked to him to give it a permanent existence.

Successor's Hard Task

Moreover, the successor cannot take up the work where Sir Robert lays it down. It is not for the successor a mere matter of continuing an old task. He comes to his duties under new conditions; he must work with new materials; he must confront new problems. For the most part, he must, if his work is to be enduring, gather round him new men. He also comes to his task under all the disadvantages of having to re-group the forces under him at a time when they are being hard pressed in the struggle. Every one admits that recently the Government has experienced rather heavy going. To attempt to re-organize under these conditions is not easy.

But the change had to come. Already it had been too long delayed. As long as Sir Robert continues to lead there was an assurance that nothing in the form of rash legislation would be introduced ;but the question of the future of the Government's following; whether, indeed, it was to have a future, would not down. In a country such as Canada an extensive organization must be built up by any political movement that hopes to endure. Besides, a Government that neglects this, no matter how good it may be, cannot expect to last. Sir Robert did a big man's job during the war, and he did it well; but it is doubtful whether he could have discharged with as much satisfaction the duties that will fall upon the successful political leader in the days that are upon us.

May Hold Off General Election

In some quarters an early general election is considered probable; but the Government has no present intention of appealing to the country in the near future. The Manitoba elections have disclosed anew the dangers that attend a general election at the present time; and one is safe in saying that no more elections will be held than are absolutely necessary. A few by-elections may have to be held; but three or four would seem to be the outside number. Those at present most likely to be brought into the Cabinet are Cronyn (London), McCurdy (Halifax), with possibly one or two from Quebec. It is believed that a majority of twenty-five can be held for some time, which, under ordinary conditions, is sufficient to carry on without concern. Should there be any further defection of Liberal-Unionists, other than Hon. A. K. Maclean, it is possible that the majority might be reduced to 20 or 22.

Disregard for Money

The last days of the session were attended with the usual rush. Having sat for over four and one-half months, with sittings near the end running from two p.m. to as late as five a.m., and that in a heated chamber, the members were thoroughly tired out. Many of the last estimates received but scanty consideration, but in this there was nothing unusual. The rushing of estimates is but another manifestation in Parliament of the present day disregard for the value of money.

The discussion over the increasing of the sessional indemnity provoked much feeling. Outside of Mr. Crerar, the Western members were practically a unit in supporting it; but among those from East of Fort William there was no such unanimity. Mr. Crerar was adamantine in his attitude, which did not quite please Dr. Michael Clarke. Mackenzie King had an instinctive perception that for him to join in the boost would be to invite more trouble than he cared to take on.

The members from the Eastern provinces took the matter very much to heart, this being particularly true to those from Quebec. To hear some of them pleading for the increase one would have thought that another war was being waged and that the voting of the extra sessional allowance was al ithat stood betweent victory and utter defeat. How some of them flew at their compatriots who opposed the increase. Poor Lanctot, the rural member for La Prarie, and Proulx, of Prescott, were flayed unmercifully. There was no quarter.

Press Roughly Handled

The press and all connected with it was roughly handled, it being held that the papers had received several hundreds of thousands of dollars for Victory Loan advertising, for which reason they had no right to object to an increase for the members. It was also charged that the press was always going to the Government for favors. It remained, however, for Dr. Edwards to goal the "unkindest cut of all," he having been reported as urging his colleagues not to be frightened by "half-paid and half-baked reporters." On the day following he said that he had been incorrectly reported and that in reality he considered the reporters over paid.

The friction between number of the members and the press is regrettable but undeniably it has existed. It began with the exclusion of the correspondents from the lobbies and was increased by the exclusion of the wives of the correspondents from the parliamentary restaurant. In former days such a mix-up would not have happened. One annot think of Sir John A. Macdonald or Sir Wilfrid Laurier allowing matters to come to such a pass. Party managers such as Israel Tarte, or Hon. Robert Rogers would certainly have headed it off; but during the recent session what was everybody's business, was nobody's business.

Since the foregoing was penned, Sir Robert called the correspondents in for a little talk after the caucus during which he expressed deep regret over the friction during the session over the restaurant affair and gave assurance that matters would be fixed up satisfactorily. He also expressed the hope that the correspondents would not take further notice of certain uncomplimentary remarks made about them by a certain member of the House. Sir Robert's attitude towards the press has been in line with that of Canada's really great Premiers, courteous and considerate to a high degree.

Between the English Speaking Governments on This Continent

Sandusky, Ohio, July 8.—Sir James Aikins, Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, the principal speaker at yesterday's session of the Ohio State Bar Association, at Cedar Point, received a message from Governor Cox, Democratic Presidential nominee, which in part said: "I have long preached the doctrine of better understanding between English-speaking governments of the United States and Canada.

"Let us hope as our soldiers fought side by side, so shall the two great powers of this hemisphere, support in union and harmony, the ideals which will guarantee a better and happier world."

U. S. MIDDLE WEST CROP OUTLOOK HAS IMPROVED

No Danger of Starvation in U. S. This Year, Declares Expert

Chicago, July 8.—Marked improvement in the principal food crops of the Middle West has been reported in the last few weeks, in contrast to unfavorable prospects earlier in the season which gave rise to some alarm. "There is no danger that the country will starve this year," is the comment that J. R. Howard, President of the American Farm Bureau Federation, made on reviewing the situation.

President Howard reported that the corn prospect was now very fair and that wheat was really better. Corn production promised to be a little under normal, but it was well cultivated and clean and would turn out well with good weather in July and August.

While the wheat crop would not be normal, the crop condition was very fair. As against a lighter ecreage there was a heavy carry over. Mr. Howard estimated that 30 per cent. of last year's wheat remained on Kansas farms today. In Kansas and Oklahoma a better wheat crop than last year is expected.

Oats were very short and showed no improvement, Mr. Howard added.

Crops are reported late.

North Dakota sends words of better crop conditions than for several years.

GERMANS MAY BE GIVEN ANOTHER SIX MONTHS TO DISARM

Spa, July 8.—A compromise with Germany on the time to be allowed her for the disarmament, fixing the periods at six months, looked to be the probable outcome today of the conference among the Allied delegates here. The Germans asked for fifteen months.

SATISFACTORY CROP OUTLOOK IN MANITOBA

Encouraging Reports Received by Provincial Department of Agriculture

RAIN IS NEEDED

At Some Points—Early Wheat is Headed Out or is Heading Now

Winnipeg, July 8.—On the whole the crop outlook in Manitoba is very encouraging, says an official report given out this afternoon by the Provincial Department of Agriculture. It is stated that reports from probably fifty per cent of the points are entirely satisfactory, while from others there is some word of lack of recent rains. There is no suggestion of crop failure, however, and indications run from fair to very good. Many early wheat fields are headed or heading. A fairly early harvest is expected. The grasshoppers have been successfully fought with poison, though they continue their work in some districts.

COX WOULD LET WOMEN VOTE FOR PRESIDENT

Securing for Democratci Party Credit for Making Universal Suffrage a Fact

Dayton, Ohio, July 8.—If the Legislature of Louisana acts in accord with the opinion of Governor Cox, the Democratic nominee for President, women will be enfranchised to vote at the November election and the Democratic party may get the credit for making universal suffrage a fact.

MEIGHEN ACCEPTS COMMISSION TO FORM GOVERNMENT

Resignation of Premier Borden to Take Effect on Saturday

TWO MINISTERS RETIRE

Hon. N. W. Rowell and Hon. Martin Burrell Are Leaving Government

Ottawa, July 8.—The resignation of Sir Robert Borden as Prime Minister will take effect on Saturday. He will be succeeded by Hon. Arthur Meighen, Minister of the Interior, who has undertaken the formation of a new administration. Official announcement to this effect was issued at eleven o'clock last night. The announcement reads:

"The formal resignation of Sir Robert Borden will be tendered to His Excellency the Governor-General on Saturday next, the 10th inst., and will be accepted by His Excellency with great regret. His Excellency has entrusted to Hon. Arthur Meighen, Minister of the Interior, the formation of a new administration and Mr. Meighen has undertaken that way.

There are to be two retirements from the Cabinet, Hon. N. W. Rowell, President of the Privy Council, is returning to private practice; Hon. Martin Burrell, Minister of Customs, is to become librarian of Parliament. The two retirements, it is stated, are not due to the change in leadership. Mr. Burrell has for some time expressed a desire to return to private life. Mr. Rowell's resignation is based on the point that a new party being created, and an administration formed to represent that party, he is entitled to ask "an honorable discharge."

The position which Mr. Rowell takes is outlined in the following official statement, also issued last night:

"About four months ago Mr. Rowell announced to the Prime Minister that at the close of the recent session he would retire from the Government. This announcement was communicated to caucus on Thursday last, but at the urgent and insistent request of the Liberal-Unionists in Parliament and of the entire caucus, Mr. Rowell promised to consult with his friends in Ontario and communicate his decision to the Prime Minister as soon as posssible. Wednesday Mr. Rowell informed the Prime Minister that, after such consultation, and after having given further and full consideration to the subject, he finds himself unable to reach any conclusion other that that communicated to Sir Robert Borden some four months ago and given to caucus on Thursday last. That conclusion was as follows, viz: That when a decision should be reached that the work of Union Government as such was finished and that a new departure should be made by the creation of a new party and the formation of an administration to represent that party, he might fairly ask an honorable discharge. Mr. Rowell will, therefore, retire from the Government when the Prime Minister's resignation takes effect."

Few Cabinet Changes

So far as the remaining members of the Cabinet are concerned, it was stated on high authority last night, they will give their "nundivided support" to the new Prime Minister. In the formation of his Cabinet, therefore, Mr. Meighen will have but two retirements to meet—those of Mr. Rowell and of Mr. Burrell—with the addition, of course, of that of Sir Robert, whose resignation will leave the Maratime Provinces without a representative in the Cabinet. Mr. Meighen, himself, possibly will assume the portfolio of President of the Privy Council, relinqished by Mr. Rowell. In that event it is likely that the Department of the Interior, over which he now presides, would be merged with that of Immigration and Colonization. The vacancy caused by the resignaion of Mr. Burrell, it is thought, is likely to be filled by the appointment either of F. R. Green, member for Kootenay West, or of H. H. Stevens, Vancouver Centre. As a representative from Nova Scotia, the name of F. B. McCurdy, of Halifax, has been suggested. Should either of these latter appointments be made, a by-election would be necessary. Although all members of the Cabinet technically resign when Sir Robert hands in his formal resignation, they will not require to be re-elected on accepting office in the new administration.

Meighen Receives Many Messages

Interviewed by the Canadian Press last night, Hon. Arthur Meighen declined to make any statements at the present moment. This, he pointed out, would not be altogether in place until Saturday.

The news spread locally like wildfire and the coming Premier was besieged with congratulations.

Before leaving his office late last night, Sir Robert Borden received the members of the parliamentary press ure was a matter of sincere regret in gallery. Upon being informed by the press men that his impending departthem, Sir Robert replied that he was indeed glad to think that his relations with the gallery men had always been most cordial and he bespoke the same co-operation and support for his successor.

Toronto July 8.—J. Harry Flynn, Dominion organizer of Grand Army of United Veterans, has sent a telegram to Sir Robert Borden as follows:

"Your resignation as leader of the Government and Unionist party without a general election will deprive hundreds of thousands of soldiers from expressing their indignation with your broken promises and pledges to them at the polls, and can be construed only as a lamentable lack of courage on your part."

NORRIS GOVT. TO CARRY ON SAYS HIGH OFFICIAL

Confident That Sufficient Support Will Be Accorded it in Legislature

WORKING MAJORITY

Assured Norris, Despite Rumors of Strong Coalition Against Government

Winnipeg, July 8.—The Free Press Bulletin today says: "A definite decision to carry on the administration has been reached by the Norris Government, according to information supplied today from an official source. The Government, according to the Free Press informant, has decided that there is no other alternative, even if they believed the vote showed a lack of confidence by the public. The Government, however, has decided that the public, to a large extent, is behind their return to power and that sufficient support will be accorded them in the next Legislature.

"Little stock is taken by the Ministers in reports that a coalition strong enough to command a majority can be formed by members other than those pledged to Government support, and, according to the statement, the administration is certain of a good working majority.

"As a matter of fact," declared a high official commenting on the reports, "we would not be allowed to do other than continue."

GERMAN DELEGATES SIGN AGREEMENT

Accepting Allied Terms Relative to Disarmament After Allies Presented What Virtually Amounted to An Ultimatum That They Would Send Troops Into Germany

Spa, Belgium, July 9.—Germany's delegates signed at 11.45 this morning an engagement accepting the terms of the Allied note relative to disarmament presented yesterday. This action was taken under protest by the German representatives. The Allied note, which amounted virtually to an ultimatum, demanded that the Germans accept the terms presented by noon today and stipulated that in the event of the Germans failing to carry out provisions of the demands, Allied forces would occupy parts of the German Empire.

Joint Conference

Spa, Belgium, July 8.—The joint Allied-German conference on the terms of the Peace Treaty reached another critical point today. The Germans have until noon tomorrow to say whether they will accept the Foch-Wilson plan for disarmament. The alternative is contained in the threat that the Allies will occupy the Ruhr or other territory if Germany cannot or does not accept.

The German Cabinet of which seven of the nine members are here, held a meeting, which continued from 5.15 o'clock this afternoon until eight. No decision was reached and the council adjourned until nine o'clock tomorrow morning. The prevailing view among the Germans was that the Allies had carried their demands, particularly the menace of occupying further German territory, much beyond any provision of the Versailles Treaty, and also that the Allies are taking up an aggressive position not contemplated by any clause of the treaty.

Wants View of Reichstag

The Allies disarmament note was communicated to Berlin in the day at Chancellor Fehrenbach's request, with the decision that it be submitted to the Reichstag and leaders of all the parties, whether supporters of the Government or the Opposition. Herr Fehrenbach asked for the view of the Reichstag and the party leaders but said that the decision would rest with the Cabinet now at Spa.

Private negotiations are reported to be going on tonight between Premiers Lloyd George and Millerand on the one hand, and Dr. Simons, for the Germans, but this could not be ascertained. Dr. Simons left the Cabinet meeting shortly before it ended. It was said he had gone to meet the Allied Premiers.

Allies' Demands

The final decision of the Allies sets forth:

First—Germany must immediately disarm certain of its forces, including the security police.

Secondly—Publish a proclamation asking for the immediate surrender of all weapons and firearms in the hands of the civilian population

Third—Abolish immediately compulsory service.

Fourth—Surrender to the Allies all arms, guns and cannon which it possesses above the limit fixed by the treaty of Versailles.

The Allied decision concerning disarmament reads:

"If on Oct. 1, the German army is not reduced to 150,000 men the Allies will proceed to occupy German territory in the Ruhr or any other part of German territory and will not evacuate it until all the conditions of the present agreement have been fulfilled."

Premier Grabski, Poland, arrived here today. He expressed confidence in the military position of Poland.

Allies Final Offer

Spa, Belgium, July 8.—Premier Lloyd George, on behalf of the Allies, offered the Germans this afternoon to extend to Oct. 1 the time for the reduction of the German army to 150,000 men and until Jan. 1, 1921, to the 100,000 men provided by the Versailles treaty, and also to allow the Germans to retain certain troops in the neeutral zone temporarily.

Premier Lloyd George said that after the three days of discussion on the question, it must be closed immediately. The treaty had not been executed, he asserted, and instead of 100,000 rifles there were 3,000,000 in Germany and six times as many machine-guns as the treaty allowed. The Allies had not insisted on strict execution of this clause of the treaty Mr. Lloyd George continued, because they recognized the difficulty Germany was encountering. The discovery of hidden airplanes, and aircraft material however, had caused suspicion.

VISITING PRESSMEN DELAYED AT START

May Be Forced to Eliminate Portion of Eastern Canada Tour

Montreal, July 10.—The unforeseen delay in the departure of the C.P.O.S. Victorian which will probably mean her return from England three days late, has considerably affected the plans for the first part of the Imperial Press Conference tour. Instead of landing at Halifax on July 20, as originally planned, the British party will disembark at Sydney on July 27, according to the present schedule. The two special trains which will convey the party on the Canadian tour will meet them at Sydney, and will leave for Halifax on that night, arriving there on the morning of July 28.

It was originally planned to visit Prince Edward Island on July 29, but this unexpected delay, and the fact that the date fixed for the conference at Ottawa on August 5, 6, 7, cannot be changed, makes it necessary to eliminate the visit to Prince Edward planned on the first part of the trip. The program for Nova Scotia and New Brunswick will be carried out as originally planned, unless some further delay in the arrival of the boat occurs, which may possibly delay the visit to St. John by one day, and eliminate some of the arrangements in the Province of Quebec. The meeting of the executive committee on Friday decided that the meetings of the conference would be open to the Canadian Press generally, but that the number of accredited delegates who may vote and participate in the official functions should belimited to the number of the combined Australian and New Zealand delegation in order that Canada should appear to assume unwarranted strength at the conference. In conseqence, the list of delegates will be limited to the Canadian membership of the Empire Press Union.

OPIUM GROWING REVIVES IN CHINA

Shanghai, July 9.—Opium is being grown extensively in parts of Fukien Province, despite the law against it, according to a mission worker stationed at Yenping. He writes to the Anti-Opium Society:

"At the City of Yungan, the headquarters of the Southern forces, I found they were growing opium extensively; even in the grounds of the yamen itself the ground was white with poppy. I was told there were over 100 opium shops in the city licensed for one dollar per night marked, 'Places for the breaking of the opium habit.'

"The military are forcing the people to plant the drug, and no matter what the value of the crop may be they are to be taxed a definite amount.

ICE-BREAKERS HAVE THRILLING RACE TO SAVE 83 PERSONS

London, July 9.—The thrilling story of a race in the Arctic Ocean between the British ice-breaker Sviatogor and the Russian ice-breaker Canada to rescue the Russian vessel Solovei, helpless in the Kara Sea with eighty-three persons aboard, is told by the Daily Graphic in a special dispatch from Vardoe, Norway. While the Canada was the better in the loose pack ice, the Sviatogor was better in the solid ice.

The contest at first went in favor of the Canada, until the Sviatogor struck a thick belt of ice which reduced the speed of the former vessel, which cut into the track of the Sviatogor. Eventually the British ship won the hard race by four hours. The conditions aboard the Solovei were pitiable. Everyone was suffering from scurvy. Another forthight's delay and all food would have been exhausted. Portions of the deck had been torn up for fuel.

Another proclamation addressed to soldiers, says the decisive moment has arrived in which Poland's fate is to be decided.

McComb this afternoon show A. E. Smith 2,907, S. E. Clement 1,403, and Brigadier-General Kirkcaldy 1,245. It will be seen by the official count now announced that the successful candidate gains 75 votes, the Independent Conservative, James Kirkcaldy gains 13 votes, while S. E. Clement loses 168 votes.

The declaration of the Returning Officer gives Smith, Labor a majority of 604, while Clement's majority over Kirkcaldy is only 158. There were 44 spoiled ballots in the boxes and 21 ballots were rejected.

Reardon, a cow-puncher of the district, who, Robinson alleges, stole not only cattle from his ranch, but a roll of greenbacks, and last but not least, his wife. Robinson was arrested at Vancouver on the cattle stealing charge, and Corporal Baldson of the Saskatchewan Provincial Police left for that city to bring him back to Regina. If Mrs. Robinson is anywhere on the horizon when he arrives there, he will bring her back also.

GREATER BOSTON 1,500,000 PEOPLE

Boston Metropolitan District With 15 Mile Radius Includes 26 Cities and Towns

Boston, July 9.—A compilation of 1920 census returns covering what is generally known as Greater Boston shows that the population of Boston and its suburbs has now reached almost exactly 1,500,000. Unlike most of the larger cities of the country, Boston has annexed very little of the territory immediately adjoining and has a total area of only 47.8 square miles, as compared with 287 square miles in Greater New York.

The Boston metropolitan district, covering an area within a 15 mile radius from the state house, includes 26 cities and towns in addition to Boston proper. The 1920 population of all of these except Watertown has been announced and the total is 732,541 for the suburbs. Watertown's population as recorded by the state census of 1915 was 16,515, a gain of 3,640 over 1910. If it made a similar gain in the last five years, it would now have 20,155 inhabitants. This, added to the other suburbs and to the 747,923 population of Boston, would make a total of 1,500,619.

The percentage of growth of most of the suburbs has been much greater in the last decade than that of Boston itself, due chiefly to the fact that a far larger number of people whose daily business is in this city have found it more agreeable to establish their homes outside the city limits. The great majority of the suburban population is made up of people whose work or business is in Boston. The city of Lynn, with a population of 99,148, is within the 15-mile limit, but is largely self-supporting through its shoe manufacturing and other industries and is not included in the compilation given above.

TO SALVAGE GOLD IN THE LAURENTIC

£4,000,000 in Bars in the British Cruiser Sunk by Mine Off Irish Coast

Londonderry, July 9.—Efforts will be resumed this Summer to recover the £4,000,000 of gold still lying in the wreck of the British cruiser cruiser Laurentic, which was sunk by a mine off the mouth of Lough Swilly, in January, 1917, while on her way to New York. The bullion is in bars each of which is worth £1,200. Altogether the Laurentic carried about £7,000,000 in gold when sunk. It is estimated that about £3,000,000 since has been recovered.

Up to now the weather has been unfavorable and as the wreck lies in an exposed position, the salvage work can be done only in the finest weather It is expected that some blasting will be necessary to get at the compartments in which the gold was carried. The work is being done by the Racer, a salvage ship.

London, July 8.—The House of Commons was greatly excited last evening over the statement by Mr. Churchill, Minister of War, that the Army Council had agreed with the decision of the Indian authorities condemning General Dyer for firing on the meeting of natives at Amritsar and declaring that he must not be further employed. Vigorous protests were raised and cries of "shame."

The Commons are now dealing with the budget proposals in the finance bill. The chancellor has stuck to his guns successfully against some opposition, the most important concession being the reduction of 20 per cent. in the increased duties on sparkling wines to 33 1-3 per cent.

ASK FOUR-HOUR HOLIDAY LAST DAY FAIR WEEK

Eastern Cities Have by This Means Boosted Attendance Records

SHORTHORN CATTLE

At the Fair to Be Largest Exhibit Ever Assembled in Canada

An effort to have a fourhour public holiday declared on Saturday afternoon, July 24th from one o'clock until five o'clock, is to be made by the Fair Board. Saturday, July 24th is the last day of the Provincial Fair, and incidentally the big auto race meet, and an effort will be made to break all attendance records on that day. Eastern cities have successfully made a feature of the closing day, Toronto in particular boosting their attendance record as the result of the co-operation of the citizens on that day. Manager Smale stated this morning the big Fair would close on Saturday evening at ten o'clock and that every attraction would be on the grounds until that time.

With the entries closing on Saturday evening and all mailed entries having to be in the hands of the Secretary not later than Tuesday evening, it is expected that there will be a flood of entries this week-end. The list already is a large one, and one that is satisfactory in every way. It was stated this morning that the showing of Shorthorn cattle here will be the largest exhibit of that class of cattle ever shown in Canada. The Aberdeen Angus and Herefords will also have an exceptionally large entry list.

Every available inch of inside space for industrial exhibits has been taken, and it is predicted that this will be a big feature of the Provincial Fair.

Capt. R. F. Carter, former captain of the Maid of the Mist, the steamer which plies in the river, close up to the falls, who was asked to manage the affair, refused on the ground that he did not "want to be a party to a suicide." Stephens had been a parachute jumper and a wild animal trainer as well as a barber.

WAR VETERANS DEFEAT STRONG MINNEDOSA TEAM

Brandon Eleven Plays Fast Football to Give Minnedosa First Defeat of Season

The War Veterans' Football club added further honors to their season's record when they journeyed to Minnedosa on Saturday evening and defeated the strong team of that town by 1-0. It was the first defeat of the season for the Minnedosa eleven, and the Brandon team was full value for their win. They had the greater part of the play in the first half, scoring during that period, while they kept their opponents at a safe distance during the last half of the match.

There was only a small crowd out to see the teams perform. The Veterans took the offensive as soon as the whistle set the game in motion, and tried the Minnedosa goalie on several occasions. He kept a safe goal, however, and the Vets' attacks went for nothing. End-to-end play followed with both teams taking a hand at pressing the play. Just before half-time was called K. Shaw received the ball from McDonald and made a splendid run up the left wing. He centred beautifully to Tubbs who headed the ball through the Minnedosa goal for the only tally of the match. The Veterans kept pressing up until half-time, but the interval found the score unchanged.

The second half was productive of end-to-end play goth goal-keepers being called upon to stop shots on numerous occasions. Although both teams made many attempts to break through there was no further scoring, and the whistle blew for full time with the Veterans winners 1-0. Henry kept a good goal for the winners, while P. Shaw and Pullinger were a safe pair of backs. McDonald starred at half-back, while Coates and Tubbs were perhaps the pick of the forwards, although everyone played a strong game. T. Hodgson at left back for Minnedosa was the star player of his team, while J. Hodgson in goal brought off some very good saves.

The line-up of the teams were as follows:

Minnedosa—J. Hodgson, Wilson, T. Hodgson, Rogers, Grover, Delmage, J. Stone, White, Brown, E. Stone, Johns.

War Veterans—Henry, Pullinger, T. Shaw, Y. Shaw, Burns, McDonald, Tubbs, Bridger, Coates, Ronald, K. Shaw.

Referee, T. Smith.

GREYS HAMMER BALL HARD AND HAVE EASY WIN

Te Brandon Grey simply walked all over Souris in their league game on Saturday night in Souris, taking the long end of a 15-3 score. The Greys it Jesse ard, took advantage of the misplays behind him and went out on a scoring bee in a game that was almost featureless. The winners trotted out a new twirler by the name of Lloyd, who looks a real find. He pitched the first four rounds and got away nicely. Cornell finished out the game and kept the Souris batters to two bingles and one lone run.

BRANDON GREYS GET EVEN BREAK AT BOTTINEAU

Drop Morning Game to Bottineau 10-3—Many Errors by Brandon

EVENING GAME FAST

When Greys Defeat Strong Rugby Team 3-2 After Brilliant Play

The Brandon Greys got an even break in their games on Thursday at Bottineau, where they stacked up against the home team in the morning and played Rugby in the evening. The Bottineau nine captured the morning affair 10-3 largely through the inability of the Greys to settle down to ball playing. It was a different story in the evening game however when the Greys played their best ball of the season to defeat the fast Rugby aggregation 3-2. This game only took sixty-one minutes to play and was one of the best games ever played in Bottineau.

It was Bottineau's fair day and both games were attended by large crowds. After travelling all Wednesday night to reach Bottineau, the Greys were not in shape to play the morning game against Bottineau and many errors accounted for Bottineau's runs. Cornell pitched one of his best games of the season, and was unfortunate in not having perfect support behind him. The evening game was a splendid exhibition of ball, not one run being scored until the eighth when the Greys pushed over three runs. This looked good to cinch the game, but the Rugby team staged a rally in the ninth that netted them two runs, and two runners were left stranded on the bags when Nordeen struck out to end the game. The time the game was played in almost constitutes a record for amateur ball.

Monte Woods, former Brandon star, was pitted against "Happy" Cornell in the morning game, and it was a real battle of Southpaws. The Bottineau heaver had a lot of stuff on the ball and had the Greys swinging for six innings in their efforts to locate the elusive sphere. However the Brandon team started to get to him towards the close of the game, but could not knick him for hits that would produce runs. "Happy" Cornell, after a long absence from the pitcher's mound came back in splendid style, and with faultless support the game might possibly have gone it to extra innings. He held the heavy hitting Bottineau team to nine hits and the feature of the winning tallies were that eight of the ten runs were made after two were out.

Smith and Estervaag did the heavy work for the winners, the latter getting three hits, while both men scored four runs each. Smith also had a good day at shortstop, accepting six chances without the semblance of an error. Wilkinson was the only Grey to get more than one hit, and he hammered out two nice singles. Amsbough's two running catches of hard hit balls featured the fielding end of the game.

Great Game in Evening

The evening game between the fast Rugby team and the Greys afforded some 3,000 baseball fans, what was stated to be the best game ever played in Bottineau. Played in the record time of sixty-one minutes both teams sailed along for eight innings without a score being made. Both R. Brandt and Crawford were in good form, and had the batters tied up for the greater part of the game. Brandt retired the Greys in the fourth on three pitched balls, while Crawford did the trick in the fifth and in the seventh innings. The Greys played sparkling ball in the field, there not being the semblance of an error, and several of their plays were of the sensational variety.

The break come in the eighth after the two teams had travelled that far without either team scoring. In this innings Fenwick got a hit. Crawford struck out, but Stuart hit to R. Brandt, Brandt threw wild to second to catch Fenwick, the latter going to third. Cochlan's hit scored Fenwick, but Stuart was caught at the plate on a throw from deep centre, Cochlan taking second on the play. Cochlan scored when McNeill hit safely. Wilkinson singled and McNeill drew up to third, scoring a minute later on a passed ball. Williams ended the rally by going out second to first.

The Rugby team died hard in their half of the ninth. Bob Brandt dropped a single into right field. McBride also hit safely, Brandt going to third. McIntyre struck out, and McBride went to second. Shoulders hit scored both runners. Andy Brandt flied out to Wilkinson. Erickson hit. But with two runners on the bases, Crawford tightened up and struck out Mordeen for the third out, and the game was over.

Shoulders was the only player on either team to get more than one hit, but no extra base wallops were hit during the exhibition. Two feature running catches were made by Wilkinson, while McLean's stop and putout of a hard hit ball, was another sparkling play in nine innings of brilliant ball. The box scores for the two games are as follows:

NURSES AT CONVENTION HEAR FINE PAPERS

Fort William, Ont., July 9.—The National Association of Nurses met on Thursday in Fort William, the sessions being chiefly devoted to public health discussion. A paper by Miss Mary Rodgers, Winnipeg, dealt with the function of the visiting health nurse, while the topic of school nursing was treated by Miss E. Breeze, of Vancouver. Infant welfare nursing was the subject of a paper by Miss E. M. Beith, of Toronto.

Among the more important papers for the afternoon session is one by Dr. E. B. Oliver, medical officer of health for Fort William, on the use of the public health nurse in the control of communicable diseases; while Miss Muriel McRay, of the Provincial Hydro, takes as her topic the position of the public health nurse with regard to industry.

At noon a luncheon was tendered to the visiting delegates by the city.

CAMP BORDEN CENTER FOR AIR FORCE TRAINING

Ottawa, July 9.—With civilian forces at present hard at work on preparations for the opening of Camp Borden as a chief training centre, the Air Force plans are maturing. Over 100 of the latest type English land machines and a considerable number of "boats" are at the camp now. Training is expected to commence in about three weeks.

VOLUNTARY PATIENT AT SAN. DROWNS HIMSELF

Guelph, July 9.—Stewart Pherrill, a patient at the Roomwood Sanitarium, took his life when he managed to elude his guards, ran to the river just opposite the sanitarium grounds and jumped in head first. The water at this point is over 10 feet deep and it was some 15 or 20 minutes before the body was recovered. Every effort at resuscitation was made with the lungmotor, but they failed.

ASK NEW SURVEY OF SOUTH-WEST SASKATCHEWAN

And Withdrawal From Cultivation of Sections Unsuitable for Farming

Swift Current, Sask., July 9.—A strong resolution demanding that the Dominion Government carry out a new survey of Southwestern Saskatchewan with a view to re-classifying the land and withdrawing from cultivation those sections unsuited to anything but grazing, was foreshadowed by a warm discussion on the subject entered into at a session of the better farming conference now sitting here. Community grazing was another means of promoting the livestock industry in this part of the province that was suggested.

It developed during the discussion that at the stock growers' meeting held last month a resolution asking for a re-survey was adopted substantially as follows: That this association request the Dominion and Provincial Governments to co-operate to make a survey of the rough and sand-hill lands of this province so that such lands may be available for grazing by the farmers and stockmen of Saskatchewan.

The session was opened by an instructive paper on the place of livestock in dry farming, prepared by Professor F. B. Linfield director of the Agricultural Experiment station at Bozeman, Montana, and read by Hedley Auld. "My observation in this Western country is that cold is not a factor to be seriously considered provided the animals have ample feed, are protected from the storms, and have a dry place to lie down," wrote Professor Linfield. "To as large an extent as is consistent with economy of forage the animals must feed themselves. The herd or flock must be the feed unit. As the success of the livestock on the farm is so dependent on cheap Summer feed, I have favored making the broken and forest areas of the country a community pasture under the supervision of the federal or state authorities as is the case for the forestry areas of the United States. I believe that it is just as necessary to have intelligent control over our pasture land as over the largest returns from them. I also believe the farm settler should have first consideration in the use of these range pastures. However, if he is to make economic use of such pastures the livestock must be handled in large herds or flocks, so that the labor supervision may be reduced to the minimum."

It is Professor Linfield's opinion that in order to avoid losses and to maintain the yearly calf crop at a high level, feeding the beef herd on the farm must be carried out during the Winter. The main Winter feed should be mixed straw and corn forage supplemented by such hay as may be grown successfully. Corn and perhaps sunflowers in certain districts will make valuable silo crops. Alfafa has been found a good dry land forage crop in the moister areas of his state. Sweet clover has also been successful in the drier country districts. The straw grown on the farm should all be fed, and we find that when properly handled our dry land straw particularly with a mixture of wheat oats and barley make a very good feed for carrying beef stock through the Winter," said the author.

Beef Cattle Production

"The basis of the beef cattle production on the dry farm is the cow. Her only income under range condition was the calf. That one calf a year would pay for her keep, was due to the cheap feed (a free range) and the small labor cost. The question is, can we get these conditions on the dry farm. The answer to this question will, I believe, depend on the ability to provide pasture during the Summer season. That problem solved, I believe the dry farm provides very good conditions for Winter feeding. A flock of sheep will occupy very nearly the same place on the dry farm as the beef herd, and somewhat the same system it management will apply to it. It is necessary to have pasture for Summer feeding and for economic management the community pasture is desirable.

PRESENT COAL PRICES SAID TO BE UNJUSTIFIED

Declares G. H. Cushing of the American Wholesale Coal Association

Washington, July 10.—A net profit of 100 per cent. is being collected by bituminous coal mine operators in some districts, according to selling price reports received here by George H. Cushing, of the American Wholesale Coal Association.

"Buyers are being forced to pay $8 and $9 a ton f.o.b. at mines in some districts," said Cushing.

Coal costs $4 a ton to produce, according to the Federal Trade commission.

Cushing warned consumers not to buy now. HHe denied there is a famine, and charged government agencies have played into the hands of profiteers in warning against a scarcity.

"Present coal prices are unjustifiable," said Cushing. "The country is paying prices fixed by alarmist representatives and these reports are industriously circulated by Government agencies."

Cushing said he had laid his facts before the Department of Justice officials. The Department notified all United States District Attorneys to investigate and prosecute cases of coal profiteering.

Cushing said his denial that coal shortage was responsible for high prices was based on an estimate that consumption will not exceed 535,000,000 tons for the twelve months ending March 31, 1921.

POLISH FORCES WITHDRAW TO FORM NEW LINE

Forced to Do So by Success of the Big Bolsheviki Offensive

TO FORM ON FRONTIERS

New Polish Frontiers to Be the New Line of Occupation by Poles

Paris, July 10.—Polish forces are withdrawing from Brest-Litovsk, Vilna and Pinsk as the result of the great Russian Bolsheviki offensive, according to a telegram received by the newspaper, L'Information, this morning. The evacuation of Brest-Litovsk, Vilna and Pinsk would seem to indicate a general withdrawal of the Polish line to the frontiers of the New Republic. Brest-Litovsk is approximately 120 miles East of Warsaw on the River Bug and is a strongly fortified town.

Advance 200 Miles

London, July 10.—Bolshevik forces are moving forward on a five hundred mile front and have advanced more than 200 miles since the capture of Kiew form the Poles, according to dispatches from Moscow. The Red troops have passed several cities beyond Rovno. One wireless dispatch from the Soviet capital said, "The most decisive moment has arrived." Premier Grabski has gone to Spa to seek allied intervention. This was taken to indicate the Poles consider the situation desperate.

Warsaw advices said volunteers were rushing to the colors. Practically all Polish universities and technical schools have closed, the students joining the army. The Bolshevik advance was continuing on the North front. A gain of 240 miles on the part of the Red troops will bring them to the German border, cutting Poland from the Baltic states. This would create a corridor enabling the Soviet forces to be joined by the German extremists, who are believed ready to aid the Reds.

FRENCH DEPUTIES HAVE ADOPTED 1920 BUDGET

The budget now goes to the Senate.

SOLD MORE SUGAR FOR BETTER PROFIT THAN EVER BEFORE

Declares President Crabtree of the Retail Grocers Association

UNEXPECTED DECLARATION

Made at Conference Between Board of Commerce and Different Retail Trades

Ottawa, July 10.—"That he had sold more sugar during the past year, had made bigger profits on this commodity than ever before, and that he was entirely satisfied with the present restrictive regulations of the Board of Commerce, with regard to the sale of sugar, which, he thought were quite fair," was the outspoken and most unexpected statement made by President B. G. Crabtree, of the Retail Grovers Association at a conference between the newly constituted Board of Commerce and a delegation representative of different retail trades, held in the Board of Commerce rooms this afternoon.

Mr. Crabtree's remarks were in direct opposition to those of other members of the association.

RAILWAYS ASK 30 P. C. ADVANCE FREIGHT RATES

Application Based on Increased Cost of Labor and Materials

Montreal, July 10.—Applications will be made for a thirty per cent. increase in freight rates before the Railway Commission at Ottawa by the Canadian Railway Association representing all lines in the Dominion.

Application Based on Costs

The application is based entirely upon the present costs of railway operation, including the cost of labor and the cost of material. Increases in these costs to date, all exceed by enormous sums the increased revenue obtained from the advance in August, 1918. The effect of the 1918 advance was to add $43,000,000 to the gross revenue of the railways as against $80,000,000 additional wage costs, thus creating a discrepancy of $37,000,000 for the first year following the introduction of the new rates of wages and tolls. This discrepancy is daily growing greater, say railway officials. The prices of coal and other principal needs of the roads have risen, they allege, by more than 100 per cent since the beginning of the war period.

VIRDEN TO HAVE PUBLIC CUSTOMS AIR HARBOR

HOSPITAL TO GET A CHEQUE FOR $1,007.12

As the Net Result of Race Meet and Sports Day on June 17

THE KIWANIS CLUB

Raised $785.45 of This Amount Through Activities They Had Charge of

A cheque for $1,007.12 will be forwarded to the Brandon General Hospital as the net result of the race meet and sports day here on June 17. This was the statement made by Secretary W. I. Elder, of the Brandon Turf Club, who has submitted a statement to the club showing how the amounts are made up. Unfortunately the race meet did not meet with the financial success it deserved although the street dance and sale of refreshments by the Kiwanis Club, and the two ball games paid well.

The receipts from the Kiwanis Club made up by the efforts of the members of that club in staging a street dance on the evening of June 17th, and the sale of refreshments on the grandstand and at the dance amounted to $785.45. The receipts from the two ball games with Bottineau after the visitors expenses were deducted amounted to $300, and a cheque for this amount was forwarded from the Brandon Greys. The Turf Club did not quite make expenses, their account showing a deficit of $78.33. This was disappointing to the Turf Club in view of the fact that they expected to reap big returns for the Hospital from the meet. According to the figures, only 1859 paid admissions were taken in at the Exhibition gate. The Turf Club was also under added expense in view of the fact that on account of the heavy entry list in one event, an added event had to be made for which a prize of $400 was given. The original purse was $1,800 and this was increased to $2,200, so that the expected surplus was wiped out by the purse for the race added on the day's program.

It was largely due to the extensive advertising carried out by the Turf Club throughout the country that such a large number of outside visitors came to Brandon for the day. Mr. Elder stated this morning that the cheque for $1,007.12 would be forwarded to the Brandon General Hospital today.

PUREBRED WORTH MORE THAN TWO GRADES

At an auction sale at Lulu Island Farms near Vancouver, B.C., recently, 30 grade Holsteins sold for an average price of $220, the lowest bringing $175 and the highest $235. There was only one purebred, the 7-year-old Princess Canary of Lulu, and she brought $525, thus outranking any two of her grade stablemates. She took no more room in the stable, she required no more care, several of her stablemates consumed as much feed as she did, and yet when her owner decided to "cash in" on her, she was worth more than any two of the others. With dairies and farms, as with factories, it pays to have the best machines.

NEW BRUNSWICK PEOPLE WANT TO BE "BONE DRY"

Huge Majority Recorded for Prohibition and Against Sale of Wine and Beer

St. John, N. B., July 12.—With a majority of 21,000 for the retention of the Provincial Prohibition Act, and a majority of approximately 15,000 against the sale of light wines and beer, the Province of New Brunswick gave emphatic expression Saturday to its position regarding the great question of prohibition, at the plebiscite held throughout the province.

The cities and larger towns, which may be termed the industrial centres and for which beer had been strongly argued, polled large majorities against beer and wine as well as being solidly for retention of the prohibition law. The four counties, Restigouche, Masawaska, Gloucester and Kent, which had been practically conceded to the "wet" upset all dope and with the exception of Masawaska, returned to verdict for prohibition and against wines and beer. Restigouche did, however, give a slight majority for beer and wine.

These were the counties feared by the prohibitionists and the ones expected to damage their cause.

Up to Government

Workers for the cause of prohibition feel that the question has been settled for all time in this province and that it is now up to the government to see that a rigid enforcement of the law is carried out.

The women of New Brunswick were most active in the campaign and at the polls. They were enthusiastic in support of the present law, and against wines and beer. They were all at the polling boths and worked diligently for the success of their cause.

Final vote on referendum follows: For prohibition — 41,436 ; against 20,769; for beer and wines 23,713; against 38,375.

SHAMROCK LEADS WITH HALF THE COURSE COVERED

And Half the Time Limit Expired —Lipton's Boat Mile and a Quarter Ahead

CHALLENGER GOT AWAY

On the Start—Race Appears to Be Close With Victory in Doubt

Shamrock wins second race by two minutes and twenty-seven seconds.

Sandy Hook, July 20.—At 3.15 half the course had been covered in half the time limit, the Shamrock leading by nearly a mile and by 3.30 she had increased her lead to a mile and a quarter ahead of the Resolute.

Shamrock Led at Start

Sandy Hook, July 20.—Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger, Shamrock IV. sailed over the line ahead of the American defender Resolute in today's race for the America Cup and breezed away on the first ten mile leg of the 30 mile triangular course, a reach out to sea.

At 12.55 the Shamrock was half a mile astern, but somewhat to windward. By one o'clock the Resolute ran into a soft spot and the Shamrock drew up to within a quarter of a mile of her, passing the American boat at 1.10.

At 1.45 p.m. the Shamrock was nearly half a mile in the lead, the yachts being four miles from the first leg.

At two o'clock the Resolute had gained, cutting down the Shamrock's lead to a quarter of a mile.

The Shamrock led the Resolute around the first mark with a lead of 800 yards.

Moderate West Winds

The winds off Sandy Hook today were gentle to moderate and mostly northwest to west. A heavy fog mantled the sea this morning.

Will Burton Make Good

Sandy Hook, July 20.—Interest in today's race for America's Cup is not only as to whether the Shamrock or Resolute will win, but whether Captain Wm. P. Burton aboard the Lipton craft would make a showing that would warrant Sir Thomas keeping the skipper of the challenger.

The Shamrock will use the larger club topsail in today's race and as a result she will be required to give the Resolute a time allowance of seven minutes and one second or 21 seconds over the previous allowance. Sailing experts expect that the Shamrock will show unexpected sailing speed when she carries a wind suited to her and finds a sea that will not pound against her bow and kill her speed.

"Maybe I'll disguise the Shamrock as a flivver and see what she can do," said Sir Thomas today. "I asked Henry Ford the other day when he visited me if he could not put an invisible motor in my boat."

May Have Expert Advice

Sandy Hook, July 20.—It is reported, but not confirmed here this morning that Captain Andrew J. Applegate, a well-known Jersey skipper had been taken aboard the Shamrock to assist Captain Burton with his knowledge of local tide and wind conditions.

FINEST HOG SHOW IN THE DOMINION

Tendency is Towards Berkshires —Swine Judging to Start Wednesday

The Swine Exhibit at the Brandon Fair this year comprises the finest animals to be found in all Canada.

Not so many breeds are represented as were last year, but the swine are of better quality than ever before. Every animal entered in every class is of a superior type, and the judging will be difficult. In the opinions of the directors, animals will not be placed here which would take prizes at other fairs.

The tendency of the show is toward Berkshires, and these are an especially large number of animals on show in this class. The Poland China hogs are strong. This breed has shown an increase during the last few years, over other breeds. The animals are of [illegible] while they are not yet so popular nor so well known in the Dominion as the Berkshires, they are gaining every day. The Durocs, too, have an excellent showing at the Fair.

The swine judging will not start until Wednesday, because of the late arrival of the train from Saskatoon. A large number of the Swine entries were unloaded from this train, and it was dark Monday night before they were all penned and bedded down. To-day is to be spent therefore, in rest for the animals, and in getting them ready for the show.

The big swine were being washed on Tuesday morning, on a concrete platform behind one of the sheds, and they took to the cool water from the hose quite kindly. Pigs enjoy being clean and cool in Summer just as much as any other animal, in spite of the fallacy that the pig is a dirty beast.

Imported Swine in Exhibit

Some very high quality imported swine are being shown by Canadian exhibitors. Mr. T. H. Wieneke, of Stony Mountain, is exhibiting 28 Poland China swine. Mr. Wieneke is considered the biggest importer and breeder of swine in the Dominion. A quiet, modest man, he would not talk about his achievements, but the other swine men were willing to talk about him. Some of the swine in his exhibition are valued into the hundreds, and there are several animals at the Brandon Fair now, for which Mr. Wieneke has been offered $200.00, by men who have shown against him. Some of his animals are of the best breeding in either the United States or Canada, and can't be beaten anywhere.

Mr. Agnew, one of the directors, is showing 19 Poland Chinas. Gray, from Bookdale, has two prize winning Berkshires. Manitoba Agricultural College has 43 Berkshires. Moore & Compton are showing 22. Besides these there are a large number from the Canadian Land & Irrigation Co., and from Thurston, in North Regina, and 40 from the Wright Farms at Drinkwater. The balance of the show is made up of single entries.

The increase in the swine raising business in Canada is one of the most hopeful signs for the increasing wealth of the nation.

Mr. and Mrs. D. F. MacLean, Suite 3, Lorne Terrace, have as their guests Mrs. Frank Robinson and infant daughter, of Rainy River, Ont. Rev. Frank Robinson and daughters, Mona and Doreen, are expected to arrive in Brandon the end of the week, and will also be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. MacLean.

Chicago, July 20.—The United States Railway Board awarded nearly 2,000,000 organized railway workers increases totalling $600,000,000.

The increase amounts to approximately 21 per cent. of the present rate of pay. The award is retroactive to May 1st of this year. The decision of the Board grants the railway workers approximately 60 per cent of the billion dollar increases which they sought.

The Presidents of all the leading Brotherhoods and representatives of railroad managers were present when the decision was made public.

BOMBS EXPLODE GERMANS FLEE

Fearing That Noxious Gasses May Be Liberated in Saar Region

London, July 20.—A big explosion has occurred in the Saar region of Germany, caused by airial bombs, according to a wireless dispatch from Berlin. The inhabitants of the vicinity are reported to be fleeing, as the explosion of gas shells is anticipated.

The wireless dispatch says: "As a result of the spontaneous ignition of some rockets, which caused an explosion of a dozen airial bombs, a tremendous explosion has occurred in a munitions dump in a former German [illegible]

"The inhabitants of the neighboring villages are fleeing, as the explosion of a large number of gas shells is expected. Two hundred railway carriages are being held in readiness in order to evacuate the threatened districts."

ANOTHER INCREASE IN PRICE OF SUGAR

Latest Boost in Price is From $21 to $24 Per Hundred Pounds

Montreal, Quebec, July 20.—The Board of Trade issues a bulletin announcing an increase in the price of sugar per hundred pounds of from $21 to $24. All Canadian refineries except the St. Lawrence refinery have joined in the increase.

INCREASED ENTRY IN SHEEP AT FAIR

This year's sheep show at the Brandon Fair, won great praise from the directors. There is an increase in the entries over last year, and the quality of the animals shown is better than ever before.

There are over three hundred head entered, all by Canadian exhibitors, some coming from Quebec but most of the entries being from Manitoba, and the Western Provinces.

A low estimate, as to the possible value of the show, placed the animals at $25,000.00. At auction, it was believed they would bring more.

The sheep are comfortably housed in pens West of the Grand Stand. The judging starts today, and will continue until Wednesday, when lists should be complete.

Although everything possible is being done for the comforts of the animals, they look quite hot and out of breath in their wooly coat and each sheep in a pen seeks his own corner to lie in, as they do not crowd like the pigs do.

HON. S. F. TOLMIE DECLARES FAIR OFFICIALLY OPEN

Federal Minister of Agriculture Gives Brandon Exhibition Generous Praise for the Great Part They Have Played in the Development of Agriculture and the Live Stock Industry

The Brandon Exhibition has played a great part in the development of live stock in Western Canada, and is regarded as one of the leaders in this respect in Canada, said Dr. S. F. Tolmie in declaring the big Exhibition officially open this afternoon. The Minister of Agriculture praised the efforts of the local directors for building up such a splendid Fair, while he also eulogized the encouragement given to young exhibitors in preparing finished live stock. That mixed farming must be the solid basis for the development of agriculture, and that livestock must play an important part in this development, was a very strong point made by Dr. Tolmie during his address.

President Wm. Dowling introduced the guest of honor and Dr. Howard P. Whidden, M.P., extended greetings on behalf of the people of Brandon and district.

"It affords me great pleasure to take part in the opening ceremonies of one of Western Canada's greatest fairs," said Dr. Tolmie in his address this afternoon. "The Brandon Fair has made a wonderful reputation for itself under the able management of the very capable men who have builded up this Exhibition since the first show about 1882. The Brandon Exhibition has played a most important part in the development of agriculture, not only in the immediate district but all over Western Canada. The livestock classes have been particularly strong, and this has encouraged mixed farming.

"If we are to place agriculture on a good strong basis, it must be built on mixed farming with live stock as the basis. This has been proven over and over again, one of the most striking examples being Great Britain.

Brandon has Lead

"Brandon has done wonders in the development of the Winter Fair, the chief function of which is to encourage the production of finished live stock. Great success has been achieved along this line by the Brandon Winter Fair, and it is particularly noteworthy that such encouragement is being given to young exhibitors. Brandon is playing a most important part in the encouragement of the gounger generation to take an interest in live stock. I am informed that your exhibit of calves at the last Winter Fair was one of the best on the Continent. This is more than encouraging, and very gratifying, particularly to the Dominion Department of Agriculture, who last inaugurated for the first time the plan to encourage the exhibiting of carload lots and groups of cattle. The object of the Department is to encourage better finishing and feeding of our live stock.

"As an indication of how necessary this is, let me say that not more than ten per cent. of the live stock passing through our abattoirs are fit for export to Great Britain, thousands of cattle are lost for export, and the loss in weight and prices per pound for unfinished stock each year is tremendous.

General Crop Better than Anticipated

"Looking over the country on my present trip, I am very much encouraged that the general crop conditions will be very much better than anticipated a few weeks ago. With anything like favorable weather the harvest throughout the West should be a very satisfactory one. I am impressed with the need for an investigation by the Federal Government of Agriculture into the climatic conditions prevailing in each district, so as to be in a position to offer each farmer the very best information as to the proper handling of the land in the district where climatic conditions prevail.

Tremendous Possibilities

"Being a Westerner, I have always realized the tremendous possibilities of Western Canada. This enthusiasm grows each year, and I feel that in the tremendous possibilities in Agriculture and other resources, the future of the country is assured. These resources require only intelligent handling and our present indebtedness will be but a trifle to deal with. I wish the Brandon Exhibition a successful week, and hope that the receipts will be large, also that the Fair will receive every encouragement to carry on their most excellent work. I therefore take great pleasure in declaring the 1920 Exhibition officially open."

Monday "A Work-Out Day"

The opening day of the Exhibition was fairly well attended, but [illegible] feature shows did not get under way until about five o'clock there was little activity on the grounds until that time. The program of grand stand attractions were put on in the afternoon before a very few spectators, and there was a small crowd out in the evening. The opening day as always reckoned as more or less of a "work-out day" for the Fair features, and the Exhibition officials were more than pleased with the showing made Monday.

It was a busy day for the officials of the Fair, as the concessions had to be placed and the various livestock entries which had arrived late, taken care of. The new Administration Building was the centre of the activity and its many features were utilized to the limit Monday. It was stated by Manager Smale that the receipts for the first day's Fair were the greatest in the history of opening days at the Provincial Exhibition. The gates were open to the public sharp at twelve o'clock noon, and there was a large crowd in the grounds for the early start made on a week's show. There was only a handful in the Grand Stand however when the attractions were put on in the af-

HORTICULTURAL BUILDING IS A GLAD SIGHT

Flowers, Plants, Vegetables Make a Brave Show That is Hard to Equal

Many hundreds of varieties of flowers, plants, vegetables, grains and grasses, make a riot of color in the Horticultural Building which is nothing short of marvelous to the visitor who pauses a moment at the entrance to admire the beautiful scene within.

Directly in front of the entrance is the Patmore exhibit of potted plants, about 2,000 being banked in the centre of the room, making a splendid display. A lemon plant, with a good sized lemon upon it is attracting much attention in this exhibit. This display was arranged by Mr. W. D. Harden, assisted by Mr. Robert Johnson, and is worthy of special appreciation. Patmores also have a beautiful display of cut flowers such as roses, carnations, gladioli, etc., and are showing small fruits such as currants, crab apples, plums, cherries, strawberries, etc., in another part of the building. A display of perennials and another of grains and grasses completes this exhibit.

Normal School Exhibit

Next to the Patmore display is the Normal School exhibit of plants, arranged by Mr. F. J. Tucker and his assistants. In this display is a huge rubber plant which reaches to the top of the building and is receiving much comment from visitors. Two Oleanders are also being admired. Many varieties of flowers are to be found in the exhibit from the Normal [illegible] unusually fine for this time of year, and roses, mignonette, peonies, pansies and sweet peas are just some of the varieties noticed.

Experimental Farm Garden Show

At the right of the door is to be found the display from the Experimental Farm garden. Black, red and white currants, gooseberries, beans, peas, carrots, onions, rhubarb, cabbage, cauliflower and lettuce are all to be found in this collection. The Farm also has a display of flowers and vegetables in the Dominion Experimental Farm Building. This exhibit was arranged by Mr. J. H. Cooper.

Beautiful Cut Flowers

Mr. D. H. Scott is again showing a beautiful collection of cut flowers and some very fine specimens of palms and ferns, his pansies being particularly good for this season. The wild flower collections are good, and the sweet peas are also worthy of mention.

Vegetables

Many excellent displays of vegetables are to be found in this building. The Hospital for the Insane has an exhibit in this section and the ripe tomatoes, citron, and cucumbers from the jail garden are amazing. Many good collections of vegetables are shown by individual exhibitors and the judges should have a difficult time choosing the winners.

Grains and Grasses

Near the East door of the building are to be found the exhibits of grains and grasses. Considering the dry season the exhibit is unusually good and some specially fine specimens of Marquis wheat and also of Fall rye are shown. The clover shown is very good, and an exhibit of grain and grasses from Portage la Prairie is beautifully arranged and splendid in every way.

IRISH SITUATION BETTER IN HAND

Declares Bonar Law—There May Be Abolition of Trial by Jury

London, July 20.—Bonar Law, leader of the Government in the House of Commons, stated last night that the Government was "Getting the Irish situation better in hand." He said that nothing would be gained by the introduction of martial law, but the Government was considering what additional powers could usefully be secured by new legislation. By this statement it is presumed he meant abolition of the trial by jury.

3,000 INDIANS ONE OF THE SIGHTS AT SUMMER FAIR

Many of Them Travelled for Three Days From North Dakota Homes

A DAILY PARADE

Of Down-Town Streets—Visit to Camp Reveals Many Strange Sights

There will be at least 3,000 Indians here for the Exhibition, there being now about 2,500 redskins camped outside the Fair grounds and a further 500 expected in the city today. The large encampment of Indians has always been a feature of the Brandon Fair, and this year the encampment is even larger than the record-breaking one of 1919. The great majority of the Indians visiting the Fair come here from North Dakota, although there is a small sprinkling of the red men from Manitoba reservations.

For years the Indians have looked upon the Manitoba Provincial Exhibition at Brandon as their big holiday of the year, and they come from many miles distant to view what is a truly wonderful exhibition. The Brandon Fair Board has always done everything possible to make the holiday an enjoyable one for the Indians, and the dark-skinned visitors have appreciated this spirit, and are not slow to respond with features that are alone to be seen at the Brandon Exhibition. This year a larger program than is usual is being arranged, and many novel and interesting features are to be put on by the Indians in native costumes.

Of the 3,000 Indians visiting this year's Exhibition about 2,500 of them come from North Dakota reservations. The Indians are of two tribes, the Sioux and the Chippewas, with the number about equally divided between these two once-great tribes. The Sioux Indians come from Devil's Lake, North Dakota, while

BIG BROWN BOAR MAKES SPECTATORS TAKE TO FENCES

One of the Sun reporters got quite a thrill at the Swine Exhibit on Monday afternoon. Everyone was hanging around, waiting for the arrival of the train-load of live stock from the Saskatoon Fair, when one of the exhibitors decided to take a big brown boar over to the pump and wash him. The animal had other notions, however, and pig-like, he began to charge madly up and down the alley-way. The lady reporter finally got behind a bale of straw near the fence and, by walking around it (as fast as her weak knees would let her), she kept the straw between herself and the boar. In passing it would be well to state the male persons in attendance had by this time become ornaments perched on the stall railings.

Forty Fine Hogs Entered from M.A.C.

Over forty fine breeding and show animals, including one pure-bred Berkshire sow with nine pigs, are on exhibit from the Manitoba Agricultural College at the Fair. The Swine Show promises to be one of the best of the live-stock shows, and speaks well for the increase of the swine industry in Manitoba and Western Canada.

Sheep Exhibited Are Pets

The show animals in the sheep pens are all pets, and the boys and young men in charge of them handle them with a gentleness that shows the good sense of expert breeders.

One big Shropshire ram stood quietly, his head on the knees of the overalled youngster who was grooming him, as indifferent to the noise and excitement around him as though in his own quite meadows. Three Leicester lambs, in a pen, were also nuzzling their boy-keeper as he trimmed and groomed them for showing.

NEW PRESIDENT AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE 'PEG

Commenced New Duties on Thursday—Reynolds Goes to Guelph

Professor John Bracken, recently appointed President of the Manitoba Agricultural College, was expected to commence his new duties at the College Thursday. Prof. Bracken was formerly head of the Field Husbandry department of the University of Saskatchewan, and succeeds Prof. J. B. Reynolds at the M.A.C. Prof. Reynolds left last week for Guelph, Ont., where he has been appointed President of the Ontario Agricultural College.

Professor Bracken is a B.S.A. from Guelph, was born and brought up on an Ontario farm, was high man in the first stock judging team from Guelph that succeeded in bringing back the Grand Challenge Trophy from the international at Chicago to his Alma Mater; took about everything there was to be taken in the way of medals and scholarships during his college course, and since graduation has spent practically all his time in Western Canada. He was a year in Manitoba, representing the Dominion Seed Grain branch; then took the superintendence of Institutes and Fairs in Western Canada, and when the university [illegible] the Agricultural College established, he was appointed to the chair of Agronomy and Field Husbandry, a position which he has filled with conspicuous ability ever since. He has, in addition to his class work, carried on extensive research and experimental work, and has issued a series of bulletins on methods of culture, suitable forrage crops for dry areas, etc., and is the author of "Crop Production in Western Canada." He has been keenly interested in the extension work of the College, and the farmers of Saskatchewan have found him ready and willing to assist them in any dificulty. He is a very popular lecturer with his classes and equally popular as a public speaker.

THREE AUTOMOBILE MISHAPS SATURDAY

Three auto acicdents occurred over the week-end, two boys being injured in two crashes, while considerable damage to a store front was done by the third accident. The first auto mix-up came on Saturday night about 10.30 when a car driven by H. Holton, of 1005 Tenth Street, jumped the sidewalk on Tenth Street and smashed into the front of Stone's Bakery store, completely demolishing the large plate glass front. The car had been standing at the curb when Holton endeavored to put the auto into the "reverse," but instead put it into "high." The car immediately jumped the curb, crashed into the big front window, smashing it, and then was turned by the driver down the sidewalk a distance of about ten feet before being stoppel. None of the three occupants of the car were hurt.

A second accident was reported when C. E. Irish, of 237 Dennis Street, ran into a boy on a bicycle, who is alleged to have been on the wrong side of the road. The boy was not hurt, although he was shaken up a bit and the bicycle damaged. The third accident resulted in a young boy being taken to the hospital suffering from a broken arm and some bruises to the head. A Mr. Johnson, of the Royal Bank at Arden, was nearing the foot of the hill on First Street near the [illegible] boys came on the road. They had their backs to the car, and when quite near, one of the boys suddenly darted across the road. The auto struck him, knocking him down, and he was taken to the Asylum, and given medical treatment. Later he was conveyed to the General Hospital and attended to by Dr. Condell.

ELECTRICAL STORM LIGHT RAINFALL

Saturday the Hottest Day This Summer—Special Prayers for Rain

After nearly ten days of sunshine the rain Sunday night was very welcome both in the city and district. The storm seems to have been general and the farmers were certainly glad to see the rain, although they want more of it. There was a good shower Saturday morning in some parts of Brandon district, which also did its share towards making the crops look better. The rainfall registered Sunday night in Brandon was .14, and this is the first rain since July 9th, when .09 inches fell. The highest temperature on Saturday was 92, this being the hottest day this year Sunday the thermometer registered 90. Although the rain Sunday night was accompanied by rather a severe wind and electrical storm, no damage was reported today as a result. Special prayers of intercession for rain were said in many of the churches in the Province on Sunday.

COUNCIL OF AGRICULTURE WANT GOVERNMENT TO CONTINUE WHEAT BOARD

Winnipeg, July 19.—Members of the Canadian Council of Agriculture are disappointed in the action of the Government in taking the 1920 wheat crop out of Government control.

MILITARY LORRIES BLOWN UP IN STREETS OF CORK

Between 60 and 70 Soldiers Injured—Sunday a Night of Terror

Cork, July 19.—Two military lorries loaded with soldiers which passed through the streets of Cork at three o'clock this morning were attacked by civilians with bombs and blown up. Between sixty and seventy soldiers were injured. Civilians threw 29 bombs.

Reign of Terror in Cork

Cork, July 19.—This city was in a state of terror last night as a result of street fighting which broke out following a bayoneting incident in the street of Belfast in which a former soldier was killed. About 10 p.m. indiscriminate firing started in virtually all sections of the city. Casualties reported up to this morning were one dead and fourteen wounded. The firing which was participated in it is stated, by military patrols in motor lorries and armored cars, caused consternation. Frightened women and children hurried into side streets and doorways and knocked frantically at numerous houses for admission. After midnight the streets were comparatively quiet with the military patrolling them.

NORWEGIANS SUFFER LOSSES IN BUSINESS

Christiania, July 17. — Norwegian business men have protested to the Berlin Government against alleged trickery of German commercial concerns whose failure to deliver to Norwegians goods bought and paid for, started official and unofficial enquiries which led the Norwegians to believe the delinquencies were deliberate.

Commercial intercourse between Norway and Germany had been steadily increasing, due to the low exchange rate on German money, until recently when a number of Norwegian concerns were notified by the Germans with whom they had placed large orders that the merchandise could not be delivered because "the Government had placed special export taxes which prohibited exportation at the prices at which the goods had been sold."

The Germans are said to have demanded additional sums ranging from 50 to 100 per cent. of the prices they had quoted before they would fulfil their contracts.

The Norwegians frequently were compelled to pay the additional sums, having contracted to sell elsewhere the German products. However, complaints that Germans were using this method to evade the unfavorable rate of exchange became so frequent that Norwegian commercial organizations made official representations to Berlin, and it is said the Berlin Government issued a statement that official cognizance would be taken of sharp practices by German business men in their international dealings. The Government denied the export taxes complained of had been levied, or that other restrictions had been placed on export trade.

Newspapers here for several weeks have carried editorial criticisms of German business methods since the war, and several trade papers have declared the Germans eventually must feel keenly the effect of "commercial trickery" they are alleged to have practised.

There also is widespread complaint against German life insurance companies operating in Norway, and the Norwegian Foreign Office has been petitioned to protect policy holders who, it is charged, have been paid in marks when the policies call for payment in kroner. Hundreds of thousands of German life insurance policies are held here, especially among farmers.

In this connection it's pointed out whereas 45,000 kroner, an average life insurance policy, before the war equalled 50,000 marks, the rate of exchange now made such a policy worth 375,000 marks.

INVALID SOLDIERS EXHIBIT IN THE CRYSTAL PALACE

The work of invalid soldiers, and war veterans in the Selkirk Mental Hospital, is on exhibition on the second floor, in the Crystal Palace, and everybody who goes to the Fair is urged to pay this exhibit a visit, and see the excellent work done by the boys who are still paying the price of their war service.

Two soldiers from the Brandon General Hospital, will be at work every day in the booth, demonstrating the methods that the boys are taught.

Of special interest is the raffia, wood-carving, and metal work from the Selkirk Mental Hospital. That these boys can be taught to do such careful and painstaking work is one of the hopes for their ultimate recovery. Hanging baskets, beautiful in color and design, book ends, lamp stands and lamp shades, and excellent book-binding, are all included in the exhibit from Selkirk. The doing of this work is a great help and inspiration to the boys and when the work is sold, it encourages them greatly.

The exhibit is under the control of the Soldiers' Civil Re-establisment Bureau, and the goods on show, and for sale, are valued at over two thousand dollars. The committee in charge hope to sell a good deal of this to the visitors to the Brandon Fair.

Entries have been made from the Selkirk Mental Hospital, the Tuxedo Hospital and the General Hospital in Winnipeg, and from St. Boniface. Exquisite beadwork is included in the pieces from Tuxedo.

HUN BANDITS COMBINE POLITICS WITH PLUNDER

London, July 15.—The Berlin correspondent of the Daily Telegraph reports:—

"It is now reported that the bandits who held up Sangerhausen, near Halle, combined politics with plunder by destroying the lists of voters, and that these Communists also intended to carry out similar tactics in other towns in Central Germany, beginning with Eisleben. There, however, the Independent Socialists had posted guards over the banks and public buildings.

The Hallesche Volksblatt tells an [illegible] story of the origin of this plot. A woman who goes about in male attire is said to be the moving spirit. Settling in Naumburg, she tried to induce the Communists to form battalions, and it is asserted that she is really an agent provocateur of the Anti-Bolshevik League, whose object was to break up the Extremists of the Left and incite them to risings which would lead to military measures.

A sensational sequel is reported in the papers, which state that the woman in question, whose name is Frau Schroeder-Mehnke, has attempted suicide by taking arsenic. Among her papers were found interesting documents concerning the Brest-Litovsk Treaty, which are said to leave no doubt that she has been for years in the service of the army.

Stories of coming militarist "putsches" in the Agrarian districts are countered by the Deutsche Tageszeitung, with information on the best authority that in these very regions risings are being planned by the Communists of the Land Workers' Union who are arming the proletariat at the same time as the bourgeoise is being disarmed.

Permission to import the cloth ordered in England for the Sicherheits police has now been withdrawn by the authorities and the two officials responsible for placing the order have been given leave pending inquiry. This is the sequel to a press campaign, in which it was stated that the cloth in question could have been supplied by German firms at about 100 marks less a meter than the price demanded by the English firm.

DAIRY EXHIBIT SAID TO BE BEST ON CONTINENT

The main floor of the Crystal Palace is probably one of the coolest places on the Fair Grounds these days. The butter and cheese booths which circle the East side of the entrance are ice-cooled, and the butter exhibit is one of the best for years.

Sixty per cent. increase over last year is shown in the butter entries. There are 112 Creamery Butter Entries and forty Farm Butter Entries. The dairy exhibit is said to surpass any show on the continent of America. The judging was in process Monday afternoon, and will be finished before Wednesday.

The lucky reporter went poking around the cheese glubits just as Mr. Villenuve, the judge, decided on the winning cheese in the Dairy Class, and the reporter had a sample. And the cheese was good too. It was rich and mellow, and certainly first class.

Mrs. T. Dougall, of Regent, Man., won first prize in the Farm Dairy Cheese Class. Her score was 92½.

The amateur butter making contest, first of the butter making contest, was held Tuesday afternoon, at 2.30, and attracted considerable interest. Winners will be given later.

WOMEN'S SOCIETIES CATER TO THE "INNER MAN"

Some of Them Have a Regular Clientele Among Fair Visitors

No matter how many, or how wonderful, the attractions at the Provincial Exhibition are, there comes a time, perhaps at noon or about six o'clock, when visitors begin to look for somewhere cool and quiet where they can obtain "something good to eat." This seems to be the universal slogan of visitors to the Exhibition, and this year many women's organizations are responding to this appeal and are not only supplying something "good," but food that is clean and is attractively served as well.

Hospital Aid Building

Many years ago, long before the Summer Fair grew to the proportions of a Provincial Exhibition, the Women's Hospital Aid Society commenced serving delicious meals to Fair visitors. In comparison with the other societies now catering on the grounds they are the pioneers in this work, and are renowned for their splendidly planned meals and efficient service. People who make a trip to the Exhibition an annual event know well the big cool building on the "main highway" from the entrance and make it a point to have their meals at one of the long tables daintily centred with fresh cut flowers, where they are served by some of Brandon's prettiest girls. Mrs T. Lee is President of this Society which year after year caters at the Exhibition, and many of Brandon's best-known women may be seen at work in the serving room at the rear. Some of the money that is made in this way this year will probably buy supplies for the new Hospital which is to be built in the near future. In this way visitors not only get what they want, but also aid a very good cause.

St. Matthew's Guild

"Home Made Pies," that surely should sound good to the men visitors at the Exhibition, at least, and one feels sure that the women will like them too, as they are fresh and made by an expert in manufacturing things like "Mother used to make." St. Matthew's Parish Guild has made a uying an Alexandra Rose from Miss y at the Hippodrome.

place for themselves as caterers at the Exhibition, and they make their delicious hot dinner a specialty. Meals are served at all hours at this booth and in the Horticultural Building, where members of the Guild sell soft drinks, ice cream, fruit, etc. over the counter, and in the tent at the rear, others are kept busy serving meals.

St. George's W.A.

Opposite the Horticultural Building, and right next door to the park, is to be found St. George's booth which has become well known to visitors. Here the members of the Women's Auxiliary serve those who wish with cold drinks, ice cream, peanuts, etc. Some specially good cigars are also offered for sale at this booth.

Victoria Avenue Methodist

At the West end of the grand stand is the entrance to the Victoria Avenue Methodist Ladies' Aid dining room, where a hot dinner is served from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., and supper from 5 to 8 p.m. The entrance is in the Northwest corner of the building, just next the gate to the paddock. Accommodation is provided for about 300 people at the long tables centred with yellow chrysanthemums. Hot home-made buns are a specialty among the members of the Ladies' Aid Society, and visitors are assured of a treat. The ladies also promise quick service, which is an advantage when there is so much to see at the Exhibition and seemingly so little time to see.

First Baptist Ladies' Aid

Some of the visitors to the Exhibition will look in vain for the dining room of the Ladies' Aid of the First Baptist Church. The ladies decided this year not to have a public dining room, but they are catering to the Directors of the Provincial Exhibition in the new Administration Building.

Knox Church Ladies' Aid

Delicious hot meals are being served by the ladies of Knox Church in the old Bijou Theatre on Ninth Street, just four doors from the corner of Rosser Avenue. Very cool and inviting was the long room this morning with its snowy tables centred with flowers. The ladies of this Church have an excellent reputation as cooks, and that the visitors have already found this out was evident from the number who were breakfasting in the building at an early hour this morning.

SHAMROCK IV WINS FIRST RACE FOR AMERICA'S CUP

Lipton's Challenger Had Just Passed Resolute When Cup Defender Suffered a Mishap and Withdrew From Race—Shamrock Got Away to a Poor Start

New York, July 15.—Shamrock IV finishes. Unofficial time is given as 4.29.

New York, July 15.—The Shamrock wins the first race. The Resolute withdraws. The Resolute was standing for mark on the port track when the throat halyard parted and the gaff came half way down mast.

The Shamrock had just passed here when she quit. The Lipton boat therefore wins the race provided she can finish the course within the time limit, or does not herself withdraw. The Shamrock is continuing.

Sandy Hook, July 15.—The Resolute led the Shamrock across the starting line today in the first American Cup race of 1920. The Resolute crossed at 12.01.50 and the Shamrock at 12.02.40, unofficial time. From a short distance off it was apparent that the Shamrock had a poor start, not crossing the line until after the handicap whistle had been blown at 12.02 o'clock. The yachts crossed the line on the starboard tack.

Yachtsmen said Captain Burton had made the worst start they had ever seen on a Lipton boat. The yachts moved with fair speed in the mild airs as they jockeyed for positions behind the starting line, each

The Resolute gained the best position and slipped across the starting line, while the Shamrock was so slow in coming to the line that the handicap whistle had been blown before she reached the line. This gave the resolute a lead in the first leg of the first race and the Shamrock had a bad start. The Shamrock had crossed the starting line before the starting signal sounded, and under the rules was compelled to go about and again cross the line with the result that the Resolute took a leading place with the Shamrock trailing about 200 yards astern.

A rain squall hid the yachts from sight from [illegible] after the start. One downpour succeeded another, flattening out the sea so that it was as smooth as a mill pond. The yachts were apparently seeking a position of advantage as the preliminary signal was given at 11.45 a.m. Ten minutes later, at 11.55, the warning signal was given, and promptly at 12 o'clock the starting signal sounded.

making poor time. With the last downpour came a heavy squall of wind from the West which caused the yachts to stagger in the sudden flow. Some of the yachtsmen believed the Race Committee might call today's contest off in view of weather conditions.

At 1.05, with both yachts standing off shore on the starboard tack, the Resolute was more than half a mile in the lead and slightly to windward. The wind breezed up again to six knots at this point in the race.

New York, July 15.—The Resolute led the Shamrock by a half mile after two hours of sailing, when the yachts had covered ten miles of their thirty-mile course.

Ten Knot Breeze This Morning

Sandy Hook, July 15.—A yachting armada gathered off the Hook today for the first America's Cup race in 17 years. A gentle rain fell in the night and with clearing weather an even breeze sprang up from the Southwest that held true throughout the morning here. A ten-mile breeze from the South-west and a smooth sea were the favorable conditions at nine o'clock this morning. Sailing conditions provided for a preparatory signal at 11.45, wind and weather permitting, with a warning signal ten minutes before starting. The signal was set for 12 o'clock with the handicap time to be taken two minutes later.

Official Starting Times

Sandy Hook, July 15.—Official starting times given by the Race Committees were: Resolute, 12.00-40; Shamrock, 12.01-38. It was also announced officially that the time allowance would be six minutes and forty seconds, due to a change in figures obtained by re-measuring the Shamrock's sails.

Betting Odds Favor Resolute

New York, July 15.—Wall Street brokers this morning reported the Resolute still remains the favorite at odds of 8 to 5, but that betting was light.

RUSSIAN GOVERNMENT TO NEGOTIATE WITH SOVIET GOVERNMENT

London, July 17.—A dispatch to The Times from Teheran says that the Persian Government has instructed the Persian Minister at Rome to open direct negotiations with the Soviet Government.

The Board's decision will be made public tomorrow. Wage increases asked by railroad workers of whom there are nearly 2,000,000, would total more than $1,000,000.

GREAT CATHEDRAL BUILT OF SALT

Without Salt Life Would Be Impossible—Facts About Salt Mines

With what could we least dispense? Coal? Iron? Gold? No, the answer is—salt! For gold, iron and coal substitutes may be employed. Without salt, however, life would be impossible. It is the greatest mineral treasure of the earth.

In some countries it is formed from the sea, notably at Alvarado, twenty miles from San Francisco. There tracts of low-lying country are flooded with sea water, which rapidly evaporates in the intense heat, leaving the brine behind in pans, to be harvested and carried to the refineries.

Open-air salt-farming is hopelessly impracticable in Britain for the simple reason that Old Sol cannot be depended upon. Consequently, the salt in the beds at Droitwich and Northwich has to be covered by mining and pumping.

Beneath the latter town there is a massive chamber, seventeen acres in area by seventeen feet in height, which has been produced by excavating salt, writes Frederick A. Talbot, in "All About the Treasures of the Earth."

The ground upon which the town is built is steadily caving in, the skin of soil and rock, one hundred and twenty four feet thick, upon which the buildings are resting, proving too weak to support them.

The most amazing salt mine in the world is at Wieliczka, in Poland. It is a vertable city of salt, with its magnificent cathedral, crucifix, altar, pulpit and statues of saints, magnificent ballroom, bewildering lay-out of broad streets, restaurant, railway station, and other features incidental to every surface colony, but all of salt.

Salt has been continuously quarried in these mines for over a thousand years, and is in full swing today. As is well known, the Galican is a religious zealot, and has an innate artistic taste. So when the quarrying of the salt was commenced the workers thought they might just as well fashion the huge caves aesthetic lines as to leave them gaunt and ugly square-walled spaces.

This underground city is, or rather Tria-Hungary, and it was most jealTria-Hungary, and it was most pealously guarded, permission to view the strange wonders being grudgingly given. The workmen toil unceasingly day and night, work being divided into three shifts. The only breaks they enjoy are the occasions when they are free to give expression to their feelings in fete and festival in the city underground.

The life is rigorous. The workmen are zealously searched, not only when entering and leaving the mine, but at intervals during the day. Salt was at one time regarded as currency, but as it now can be acquired for a few pence a hundredweight in almost any part of the world, the object of searching workers for a few ounces is hard to understand.

The city is freely interspersed with lakes and mysterious subterranean streams, upon which ply various craft.

C. N. R. TEAM PUTS UP STRONG GAME AGAINST VIRDEN

Locals Lose Out in Last Inning at Rivers Tournament on Wednesday

The C. N. R. team of baseballers made the strong Virden team hustle to get away with a win in the Rivers tournament on Wednesday. The local team was stacked up against the Virdenites in the very first game of the tournament and only an error on an infield fly permitted the Virden team to win out. Lutes pithed good ball for the Railroaders and had the opposing batters eating out of his hand most of the way. Being a tournament game it only went five innings.

Woodleyl, catching for the C. N. R. team, was knocked unconscious by a foul ball that caught him in the neck. He was treated by a Rivers doctor and by Dr. Elliott when he returned to the city, and is reported to be in good condition today. Reid finished out the game behind the bat. Seven teams competed in the tournament, with Virden winning first, Rivers second and Beresford third.

The score in the C. N. R.-Virden game was as follows:

Virden ..... 00103—4
C. N. R. ..... 20000—2

Batteries — C. N. R., Lutes and Woodley, Reid; Virden, Olien and Healy.

RESOLUTE HAS ADAMS AT WHEEL IN CUP RACES

A Man Who Has Won Recognition as a Skipper and a Business Man

New York, July 15.—Charles Francis Adams, 2nd, the man at the wheel, who will try to steer the Resolute to victory in her first race in defense of the America's Cup off Sandy Hook today is characterized by experts as the premier American yachtsman.

He has owned more than a score of yachts and has sailed nearly 100, small and large, and some of these have been the best boats of their class in America and the world.

Mr. Adams is treasurer of Harvard University and a member of the corporation, a director in many companies, and in personal charge of trust estates amounting to many millions. Years ago he became known to yachting associates under the nickname of "Deacon" and some of them still call him by that name.

Born at Quincy, Mass., he came of a long line of sea-faring men and inherited a love for the sea. He is credited with calm judgment and a high type of sportsmanship. His father used to take him sailing in Boston Harbor when he was a child, and by the time he was 12 years old he was winning races with his small boats. In those days he learned a lot about the tricky side of races, for rules were lax.

In later years Mr. Adams built and sailed to victory many notable yachts most of which bore names composed of seven letters with a double "o," such as Papoose, Baboon, Gossoon, Harpoon and Rooster.

He was at the wheel of the famous Pilgrim when she sailed a race against the Vigilant and Jubilee for the honor of defending the America's Cup in 1893. He sent his brother George, mate of the Pilgrim, to the leeward rail to watch the jib sheets as the yacht drove along in a smoky southwest. She heeled so hard that George soon stood in water up to his knees.

"Hey, there, Deacon," he yelled, "it's getting deep out here."

"I don't care if it comes up to your neck, you stay there until I tell you to come out," replied Captain Charles. But the Pilgrim was defeated.

There may be a very happy omen in the fact that Charles F. Adams years ago blocked the aspirations of one little Scotch cutter, the Inerva, which came to America and defeated a number of American boats in 1890. Her victories were regarded as ominous and suggested to yachtsmen the possibility that a larger boat of her type would be sent to carry away the America's Cup. The Minerva was sailed by Charles Barr, the famous skipper, who defended the Cup as skipper of the Columbia in 1901, and the Reliance in 1903. But Captain Adams with his little Gossoon stopped the victorious career by winning two out of three races.

Captain Christianson, the professional skipper of the Resolute, has sailed with Mr. Adams before. He was quartermaster of the Pilgrim in the race of 1893 and won Mr. Adams' approval by going out on the gaff, a dangerous position, to fasten a sail that became loose while the race was on.

FIVE FEDERAL BY-ELECTIONS TO BE HELD SOON

Ottawa, July 15.—With the advent of the new Government preparations are likely to be made shortly for by-elections in five constituencies. Acceptance of office in the Meighen administration by F. B. McCurdy and R. W. Wigmore entailed by-elections in Colchester, N.S., and St. John city, N.B., respectively, but when the Government assumed office there were already two vacancies in Ontario, one in East Elgin, due to the death of David Marshall; the other in Peterboro West, due tothe resignation of J. H. Burnham. In addition the acceptance of the office of Parliamentary Librarian by Hon. Martin Burrel will entail his resignation as a member of the House.

Another Probable

There is a probability also of a sixth vacancy. Sir Herbert Ames, having taken position of financial director for the League of Nations, is not likely long to retain his seat in the House.

A problem has arisen, too, in regard to the parliamentary under-secretaryships. During the war three were created by statute, namely, internal affairs, soldiers' civil re-establishment, and militia and defence. They were filled respectively by F. H. Keeler, Lt.Col. Hugh Clark and F. B. McCurdy. Mr. McCurdy resigned some months ago, and on Tuesday was sworn in as Minister of Public Works. Lt.-Col. Clark and Mr. Keefer remain.

The three positions were created for "the continuance of the present war and until the end of the session of Parliament held next after the end of the said war, or if Parliament is sitting when the war ends, then until the end of the session of Parliament."

Is War Ended?

The question is: Has the war technically come to an end? When the statute was passed, Great Britain (and of necessity Canada) was at war with Germany, Austria, Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey. So far, although treaties of peace have been concluded, ratifications have not been exchanged between the Government and Great Britain and all the four countries mentioned. On this point, whether or not the war is at an end so far as the meaning of the statute in question is concerned, it is understood that legal opinion is being sought. The point has also arisen as to whether apart from the terms of the statute, the parliamentary under-secretaries do not have to vacate their office as is the case with cabinet ministers when the Prime Minister resigns. This point, too, is under consideration.

HOSPITAL BENEFITS BY GIFT OF FUNDS RAISED BY A SOCIETY OF GIRLS

The Honorary Secretary of the Brandon General Hospital acknowledges with thanks the receipt of a cheque for $1,030.09 being transferred from the Girls' Hospital Aid Society to the furnishing fund of the new hospital, per Mrs. A. B. Fleming and Mrs. W. V. Gordon, President and Secretary, respectively.

When war was declared in 1914 the members of the Girls' Hospital Aid Society then in Brandon discontinued, many of their efforts for the hospital and as members of Red Cross or I.O.D.E. joined with many others who assisted in the making of supplies and the raising of funds for the soldiers overseas. At the time the members of the Girls' Hospital Aid Society stopped meeting, Mrs. Fleming and Mrs. Gordon were officers. During the years of war the bank account belonging to this society accumulated interest and grew to the handsome sum stated above.

Former members now in Brandon of the Girls' Hospital Aid Society will be interested to learn of the disposal of the money they helped raise. Part of this sum at least was raised for a cot in the children's ward of the hospital and it was hoped that a sufficient sum would be raised to equip an entire ward for children which would be a distinct gift from this society. It is particularly fitting that at this time when funds are being raisod for the splendid new institution to replace the present Brandon Geneeral Hospital, the former organization known as the Girls' Hospital Aid Society should have such a large sum to donate towards its equipment.

CLEMENCEAU NO LONGER WORRIES OVER CRITICISMS

Former Premier of France is Busy Putting Finishing Touches to Novel

Paris, July 15.—That Georges Clemenceau, the former Premier, has definitely withdrawn from active politics and worries little about criticisms levelled at him by enemies of his regime, and of the Versailles Treaty, was shown the other day when the correspondent of the Associated Perss called on him to obtain his reply to the taunts of his adversaries in the chamber of Deputies to the effect that he did not know where Mosul (Turkey) was located when he ceded it to Great Britain.

"These professors of geography who are criticizing me," replied the Premier, "would be greatly embarrassed if someone should ask them the location of a town of that size in their own circumscriptions."

M. Clemenceau was engaged in the task of putting the finishing touches on the first draft of a novel dealing with Egyptian life, and said he was through with politics forever. My task is finished—I have done my work," he told the correspondent.

The statesman, now entering his 80th year, looked hale and vigorous and in better health than he has been since the attempt upon his life by Emile Cotton.

W. J. M'COMB STARTS CUTTING 60 ACRES OF RYE

Which Promises to Yield About 20 Bushels Per Acre

The first report of rye cutting in this district was received from Mr. W. J. McComb, of Beresford, who commenced harvesting his crop of rye on Thursday. Mr. McComb has sixty acres of rye and expects it to average about twenty bushels to the acre. Generally speaking the rye crop is better this season than it has been for several years and gives every promise of a bumper yield.

Last year, grasshoppers caused much annoyance to some farmers by cutting the binder twine almost as fast as the grain was tied. Mr. McComb is trying a remedy that worked very successfully in the Deloraine district last season. He dips the twine in coal oil and lets it drain off. The hoppers seem to have a particular aversion to coal oil and so far have not touched twine treated in this way.

WOMAN ENDS HER OWN LIFE ON FIFTH ATTEMPT

Mrs. E. R. Dalgleish of Dunrea Throws Herself Under Moving Train

ESCAPED FROM FRIENDS

After Being Given Into Their Care by Police Authorities

Mrs Ellen Reid Dalgleish of Dunera, took her own life on Thursday by throwing herself under the wheels of a moving freight train in the C.P.R. yards. It was the fifth attempt in two days of the unfortunate woman to end her life, three attempts being reported on Wednesday, and one late Wednesday night. The police searched all night for Mrs. Dalgleish, when she got away from her friends, and were just too late this morning to prevent the rash act.

The late Mrs. Dalgleish, who was about fifty years of age, was in the Brandon General Hospital about three weeks ago, but was discharged, and sent home. She came to Brandon on Tuesday for treatment, and Mrs. J. H. Putman, of Dunrea, accompanied her here. On Wednesday Mrs. Dalgleish attempted three times to throw herself in front of automobiles with the evident intention of doing herself bodily harm. Only prompt work with the brakes saved the woman from being badly hurt, one auto knocking her down and cutting her wrist. She was taken to the Police Station where the cut was bandaged and friends soon called for. Assurance that she would be looked after was given, and the unfortunate woman was given in charge of her friends, and taken to the Y.W.C.A.

Escaped from Friends

During Wednesday night she escapfrom the custody of her friends and the police were notified to keep a sharp look out for her. Three constables spent the greater part of the night searching for the woman, especially in the neighborhood of the railroad tracks. It was reported this morning that on one occasion the woman got in front of a yard engine but prompt action on the part of the engineer saved her. This was not reported to the police until this morning.

About 9.30 a.m. Thursday Constable Rosenberg saw Mrs. Dalgleish on Pacific Avenue, and he immediately phoned the Police Station. He then followed Mrs. Dalgleish. The woman saw the constable and ran between some buildings at the foot of Sixth and Seventh Streets, and down on to the C.P.R. tracks. The constable gave chase, and arrived in time to see the woman throw herself underneath the moving wheels of a freight train, Westward bound. One arm and a leg were first severed and then the train passed over her body. She was instantly killed.

Police Witnessed Tragedy

Chief Hardy and Constable Taylor arrived on the scene in time to see the end of the tragedy also, but too late to prevent it. The train was stopped and the body conveyed to Campbell and Campbell's undertaking parlors. A brakeman two car lengths away from the scene of the suicide did not see the woman, so quickly did she run across the tracks and under the wheels.

Dr. Condell, the Coroner, stated on Thursday that he did not think an inquest would be necessary. There was no neglect on the part of the railways employ, and the fact that she had been trying to do away with herself for some time, did not warrent an inquest, he said.

The late Mrs. Dalgleish was the wife of Wm. Dalgleish, a farmer in the Lily Hills district, near Dunrea. At the present time Mr. Dalgleish is in the Brandon Hospital, having been operated on some time ago. Mr. and Mrs. Dalgleish were old residents of the Dunrea district, having been farming there for many years. Besides her husband, the late Mrs. Dalgleish leaves two daughters, Grace and Diana, and two sons, Jim and Wilfred.

NINE MONTHS SENTENCE FOR KOVACK, GUILTY OF INDECENT ASSAULT

James Kovack was found guilty of indecent assault and sentenced to nine months in the Provincial Jail by His Honor Judge Cumberland Thurs. morning. Kovack appeared last week before Judge Cumberland and elected for a speedy trial. Evidence in his case was taken this morning, after he had pleaded not guilty to the charge. However the accused had made a confession to Sergeaent Adam Ross of the Provincial Police, while the evidence of the mother of the child was so convincing, that Kovack was found guilty of the charge.

Judge Cumberland sentenced Kovack to nine months in the Provincial Jail with hard labor. The prisoner has already served about two months in jail waiting for his trial. The offence for which he was sentenced was committed at Scarth, Manitoba.

GIVE BACKUS FAIR TREATMENT

Public opinion in Canada should strongly support the Ontario daily newspaper publishers in their opposition to further Government grants to the Backus interests.

Application has been made to the Ontario Government by the Backus interests for an additional pulpwood concession of about 2,500 square miles, and for water rights at White Dog Falls. The newspapers are opposing the application because of their belief that it is not in the public interests to grant further concessione to a concern which has not lived up to the terms under which previous concessions were granted, and because of the refusal of the Backus interests to sell newsprint produced in Canada, from Canadian timber, to Canadian consumers, preferring to export to foreign lands their entire output from existing mills.

Backus proposes that if the Government will grant his application for increased pulpwood areas and water powers, that the new mill which he plans to locate at Kenora will supply its proportion of the domestic newsprint requirements. In this connection the publishers point out that it would be at least two years before the mill could be in operation and that meanwhile the Backus interests have cut off the supplies of Canadian newspapers from their Fort Frances mill.

Ontario publishers contend that the lease already held by the Backus interests should be cancelled because of failure on the part of the chief beneficiaries under its terms to live up to the stipulations therein contained. Under an agreement dated August 19, 1914, the Ontario Government granted to the Backus interests control of the Lake of the Woods pulp limit of 1,860 square miles. The agreement provided for the erection of a hundred-ton pulp mill by August [illegible] This mill has not yet been commenced.

The contention by the Ontario publishers that the lease now held by the Backus people should be cancelled is one that appeals to thousands of Canadians. It is the proper procedure to take unless the interests concerned can show that it was physically impossible for them to live up to the terms of the contract. If they cannot do this the Government should immediately cancel their lease. They could then, if so desired, make a new agreement with adequate penalties and provisos, that is, provided it is deemed advisable to make an agreement with interests which have no more regard for their agreements than they appear to have. The presumption of the Backus interests is astounding. They have unmitigated gall to apply for more privileges knowing that they have not fulfilled the terms of the original agreement, and after having given the Canadian public a slap in the face through refusing to supply Canadian customers with any portion of the product they were able to manufacture solely through the good will of the people of this country. The present is the time to accord these impudent and unfriendly interests with the treatment their conduct merits.

NORRIS TO CARRY ON

The Norris Government will carry on the business of the Province. The announcement to this effect occasions no surprise. Premier Norris heads the strongest individual group in the Legislature, and is expected to carry on until defeated by a vote in the Legislature or such an impasse arises that he can no longer do so.

Before arriving at a decision the Government held a consultation and obtained the endorsement of such a course by elected and defeated candidates from all parts of the Province.

It is proposed by the Premier that at the first session of the new Legislature, the Government will submit a statement of its position and policy to the House.

There will be general agreement with the decision arrived at by the Government. It is true that Premier Norris did not receive a mandate from the people to carry on the Government, it is equally true that no other person or group received such endorsement. Under the circumstances the leader of the late Government appears to be the proper person to be entrusted with the reins of power. If the anti-Government members do not like this they can combine and turn the Government out.

THE NEW CABINET

Cabinet reconstruction by the Hon Arthur Meighen has not been the thorough job many people anticipated. It seems as if the new Premier had chosen some of his advisors with an eye to the fact that they can retain their seats without by-elections, rather than because of special fitness for the positions. The new Premier no doubt wants the opportunity to launch his administration, shape his policies, and get under way without suffering the handicaps that defeat of ministers at by-elections would surely be. The new material he has chosen will commend itself to those who know the new ministers and is an earnest of the calibre of the men who will undoubtedly be added to the Cabinet before a general election.

Western Canadians form an influential group in the administration, the far East, with the new ministers, has also able and adequate representation. The weakness is in Ontario and Quebec. It is in representation from these provinces that Mr. Meighen has the greatest opportunity to strengthen his Cabinet. Within the Cabinet there is plenty of good working material to shape new policies to meet present conditions and to present them properly. Attempts to fan the flames of old party hates and to spread jealousy and discord will fail. The Canadian people are not concerned about the past political affiliations of the members of the new Cabinet. They are ioncerned with their polihies and fitness for the direction of the affairs of the country.

ASK CONTINUANCE OF WHEAT BOARD

Denounciation of the Canada Wheat Board was one of the forms of indoor sport indulged in by many farmers on the Western plains. The plan adopted for a deferred payment, the denial of the right of the individual grower to sell his crop where and when he pleased, the regulation governing first one thing and then another, aroused protest after protest. It was freely predicted that the overhead costs of the Board would eat up any pury profit it might make and that the Canadian farmer wonld be the poorer through its operation. So dissatisfied were many farmers with the Wheat Certificates which were issued for those marketing grain, that in many cases they were not called for. Some holders disposed of their certificates for a trifle of their value.

Announcement that at least thirty cents would be paid on each bushel of wheat stilled the clamor. Doubters held their tongues in face of the facts. The Wheat Board was no longer something to rail and sneer at. So beneficial have the operations of the Board proven that its continuance for the handling of the 1920 crop is requested by the Canadian Council of Agriculture. A request that will no doubt be approved by many former critics.

PICKING CHERRIES

The Government that will find the cause and apply the remedy to close up the spread in price between the amount paid Eastern or Western fruit growers, and the fruit-hungry people on the great plains, will have taken a long step towards securing the confidence of the people. The Meighen Government takes office in "cherry time." The statesmen may not know it, but the country does. The people are annoyed and irritated as well as considerably out of pocket by additions to costs that have never been satisfactorily explained. If the charges are fair and right, the people should know it and cease complaining. If they are not justified immediate steps should be taken to reduce them to what is reasonable.

Possibly this is a small thing. It is, however, one of the straws which shows the way the wind blows. Prompt and effective measures toward securing adequate supplies of fruit for prairie dwellers at a cost which only affords the growers a margin of profit and a fair profit to all other necessary agencies contributing useful service in marketing or transportation, would do a great deal towards restoring confidence in the Government.

SPECULATIVE WHEAT MARKETING

Trading in wheat futures was resumed on the Chicago market on Thursday after suspension for nearly three years. At the opening wheat for December delivery was quoted at $2. 72 to $2.75. Before the market opened it was estimated that the first quotations would not be less than $2.80.

Press dispatches state that there was a rush of trading at the opening but that it quickly fell away. As a preventative measure against wild speculation heavy margins were demanded.

Resumption of speculative trading in wheat futures in the United States comes at a time when there is a decided movement in Canada in favor of the continuance of the Wheat Board with its control of marketing and shipments.

SOCIALISTIC SLAVERY

A criticism of Socialism that has been justified by events in Russia is this: that, lacking the incentives of capitalism for energy and enterprise, the only way the Socialistic state could maintain adequate production would be by bureaucratic compulsion, which would amount to slavery.

Ever since the Bolsheviki turned Russia Socialistic over night that unhappy land has been doing the world the favor of proving that this criticism is well founded.

When the Bolsheviki set up a Socialist commonwealth in Russia, apparmagic to produce, immediately and automatically, a beautiful country in which everybody could do as they pleased and be clothed, fed and housed in comfort if not in luxury.

What happened was that production failed so completely that hundreds of thousands of Russians starved to death or died of diseases caused by insufficient nourishment.

The next turn of events was that the Bolsheviki authorities, realizing the plight of the nation, issued orders that everybody must work, and work as the Bureau directed; and there and then the dream of Socialistic plenty and leisure and freedom broke down. It has since been proven that there was more freedom under the Czars than under the bureaucratic autocracy of Lenine.

In fact, so complete has been the inroads on the freedom of the people under this form of government, that the parlor Bolsheviki in this country, who not so long ago were shouting for "the truth about Russia," are now silent and aghast.

John Sparo is said to be the ablest Socialist in America. He was often quoted by the parlor pinks in this country a few months ago. In an article in Harper's Magazine he thus records his opinion of a state of affairs which these reds or pinks were urging us to imitate:

"It has remained for Lenine and his coherts, in the name of Socialism and of Marx, its prophet, to place the seal of Socialist authority upon the conception of Socialism as a state of society in which the individual is wholly subordinate to a bureaucratic state.

"It is in the organic law of the Russian Socialist Federal Republic that this tyranny of the State finds its supreme expression.

"As one of the millions who have seen in Socialism the hope and the promise of a larger individualism, I frankly admit that I would rather be hungry in any capitalistic nation I know of than be ever so well fed in such a servile utopia.

"Better rags and a crust of bread with freedom than fine raiment and rich fare with servitude."

Many people in this and other countries originally feared the Russian experiment as a possible example to incite the world to Socialistic experiments.

The fact is that Russia, to its own bitter cost, has demonstrated beyond question the fact that Socialism, at least as Lenine conceives and practises it, and as pro-Bolsheviki in this country approve and applaud it, is the rankest kind of tyranny. It is more to be dreaded than any sort of government capitalism conceives at this stage of human development.

KOREA PRESS TO BE MUZZLED

Japanese Suppress Paper for Printing Anti-Japanese Articles

Tokio, July 19.—As bearing on the freedom of the Press in Korea promised by the Japanese Government in that country, a Seoul dispatch in the Asahi says that the To A Nippo (The Far Eastern Daily News) has been subject to suspension because of the publication of "anti-nationalistic circles," that is to say, anti-Japanese. Asahi says the Governor-General thinks that the general attitude of the newspaper toward the administration is too "reprehensible" to be allowed to continue. The journal adds that there is a tendency among the Korean newspapers to give publicity to articles which the authorities think fit to suppress.

The promise of the new Government was to permit freedom of the Press so long as it did not endanger law and order.

Tommy Town

The Brandon runner who again annexed the Dominion Championship in the 5,000 Metre Race, and who also won a place on the Canadian Olympic Team which leave Tuesday for Antwerp.

TOMMY TOWN WINS 5,000 METRE RACE IN EASY FASHION

Brandon Runner Wins Olympic Final at Montreal in Decisive Manner.

LEAVES FOR ANTWERP

Town is One of Nine Canadian Athletes to Compete for World's Honors

Proving conclusively that there is no runner in Canada that can keep pace with him for the full distance in the 5,000 metre race, Tommy Town won the Olympic final in Montreal on Saturday, and earned a place on the Canadian Olympic team. The Brandon runner not only demonstrated that he is the undisputed champion of Canada at the 5,000 metre race, but he did it in such a fashion as to show great possibilities for Canada in this event at Antwerp. As usual it was an uncertain race until the last lap, when Town simply ran away from his opponents and finished over 100 yards ahead of his nearest opponent. The time was very fast, the 5,000 metres being run in 15.06½.

The performances of Tommy Town this year, in addition to his winning of the five-mile championship of Canada last July, pointed the Brandon runner as a prime favorite for Saturday's race at Montreal. Only the winners were sure of representation on Canada's Olympic team and it was expected that several Eastern runners would make a good showing against Town. The Western Olympic trials had proved that the speedy Town was too fast for any of the runners West of the Great Lakes. But Town made sure of a place on the Canadian team by stepping out in his race, and carrying the Brandon colors to the front of a fairly large field, in a wild last lap sprint that left his opponents over a hundred yards behind.

Eddie Lawrence, of Montreal, was considered to be Town's most feared opponent, but the Montreal star was not in it on Saturday. Cecil Leath, a Maritime Province entry, gave Town the best fight and as the result of a plugging race finished second. Lawrence grabbed third place, after being run out by Town, who passed him quite easily. There was no holding the Brandon runner in the last lap, who, true to his usual style, simply sprinted past the other runners and finished in great style. In a telegram to Dr. McDiarmid, Town stated that he felt in fine shape after the race and was not pushed to win.

The time made by Tommy Town in winning the 5,000 metre race is very fast and if it is correctly given out is a new Canadian record. The distance for the 5,000 metre race is three miles and 85 yards, and the world's mark is 14.36 and 2-5 seconds held by H. Kohlemainen of Finland. The American record is 15.06 and 2-5 seconds June 26th, of this year, in which the stars of the United States competed, was 15.40, the race being won by Ray Watson. The time made in the Eastern United States trials on the same date in the 5,000 metre race was 15.30, John Simmons, of New York, winning this event.

In the accounts of the race, no mention is made of Town setting a new mark, but if the race was run in 15.06½, it stamps Town as one of the foremost runners at the 5,000 metre race in America. His fast time on Saturday indicates that Town should be well up among the leaders in the final race for the worlds championship at Antwerp in August.

Town Always a Runner

Although it is not generally known Tommy Town has always been a runner of note. Before coming to Canada from England eleven years ago, he annexed the boys' middle distance championship of England. Coming to Canada, Town took part in several road races, entering and winning The Sun road race at one time. He kept on developing as a runner until the Spring of 1918 when he showed his real class in annexing the North End Cup given by the Winnipeg North End Club for a five mile race. Last Summer Town entered several races and won them all with ease.

At the Labor Day sports here he won the challenge cup for the most consistent winner, and won all his races in easy fashion. His form was tawa where he competed for the five mile championship of Canada. He so convincing that his local admirers took up a fund and sent him to Ot- demonstrated his real ability there, winning that event in easy form. This Spring he annexed the Manitoba 5,000 metre event, won the right to travel East by winning the same event at the Western Olympic trials, and has now crowned himself the real speed king at the 5,000 metre distance of Canada by winning another popular victory at Montreal on Saturday.

A Fine Clean Athlete

That Town's win on Saturday was a popular one there is no doubt. No better or cleaner athlete ever ran under Brandon colors than the same Tommy Town. Modest and unassuming, the tow-haired champion, is the ideal athlete, and his clean cut victories are but types of Town, the runner. He is always in condition, and it solely through his own efforts that he has reached the highest goal of every athlete, a place on the Olympic team. Without a coach or trainer, Town has trained himself and all with one purpose in mind. It is his ambition to visit his parents in England after eleven years in Canada, and he wanted to win the race and have a trip home at the same time. By his performance on Saturday Town wins a place on the Canadian Olympic team and also the trip home to his parents in England.

RESOLUTE AHEAD WHEN SATURDAY'S RACE CALLED OFF

Sandy Hook, July 19.—As the sailing limit found the Resolute, although leading a considerable distance from the finishing point the second contest for the famous America's Cup was celled off on Saturday. At the time the race was declared off the Resolute had nearly eight miles to sail while the Shamrock the IV. was more than two miles from the stake that would have sent her on the last lap of the race. The score still stands Shamrock IV., 1; Resolute, 0.

The next race is scheduled for Tuesday.

LADY PENN WINS FREE FOR ALL AT VIRDEN SATURDAY

The races at Virden on Saturday, the last day of the big Fair at that place afforded some exciting sport, as well as some keenly contested races. Three races were carded for the afternoon and in two harness races, the winners won in straight heats. The time made was fairly good, the fastest mile in the harness events being 2.15.

The free-for-all was the feature race on the program and in this Lady Penn, owned by R. J. Beatty, of Yorkton, was too speedy for the other horses and secured first money. J.W.S., on entry from Garden City, and driven by A. K. Langstaff, won the second race, the 2.20 pace also, in straight heats. There was a great fight for second place, Billy K., and Benboe being the two contendrs, with Gertie Patc hshowing up in second position in the last heat.

Old Timers
and old Times

On a bench under the shade of the tall poplar trees, sat five Old Timers They were real Old Timers and they were enjoying the Brandon Hills Old Timers' picnic. The sun was hot outside, but where they sat it was deliciously cool. The conversation, after ample justice had been done to the delicious picnic supper, ran to old times for what else could Old Timers talk about at an Old Timers' picnic. Reminiscences were interrupted by a newspaper man. Five Old Timers in one spot roused his curiosity and a friend arranged the introductions. The Old Timers proved to be: Hugh Rice, J. C. Murray, Wm. Maher, John Graham, all of the Brandon Hills district, and James Milne, of the Hamiota district. The daddy of the party was J. C. Murray, who bore his 87 years with jaunty grace, whose grandchildren numbered twelve and whose great grandchildren, five. He was not among the first party of settlers on the hills though he settled there in '81. In the prime of life he weighed 185 pounds and today carries his 150 pounds better than many men of forty.

Hugh Rice ,the youngest of the party at 76, was a member of the original Roddick party that settled at the foot of the hills in 1879. Here with the first, this has been his home ever since and two of his sons are at present working the homestead on which he squatted. He built his long house, broke five acres of virgin sod and had a five acre crop, which he started finished by the Rev. Geo. Roddick with to cut with a scythe, but which was his reaper. In those days Mr. Rice weighed about 200 pounds, today his weight is only 135 pounds, but his military carriage an deliberate yet incisive speech is a matter for comment. Mr. Rice's grasp of public questions is remargable.

A Broth of a Boy

The very broth of an old boy is John Graham. Born in the North of Ireland, eighty-two years ago, he came to the Roddick settlement in 1881, then going a little further East took land near Routhwaite. Mr. Graham has forty grandchildren, and like all Old Timers has fought a stiff battle with the wilderness, but he longs to be back in Ireland where he would get into the fight.

The wilds of Ontario were not sufficiently wild for Wm. Maher who came to the Brandon Hills district thirty-two years ago, when as a young man he weighed 175. Today though in his 82nd year he is hale and hearty, the pride and joy of his nine grandchildren.

From Hamiota district came James Milne to join the Old Timers on the bench in the shade. Forty years ago in March, Mr. Milne came to Western Canada. At 83 years of age his stride is as lengthy and almost as springy as of yore, while his 160 pounds showed few signs of the passage of time.

No Hardship Says Pioneer

But the five Old Timers in one group did not account for all the veterans on the grounds. On a nearby bench sat Mrs. Hugh McPherson, who joined her husband the late Hugh McPherson, in the Brandon Hills district in 1880. She travelled for nine days from Winnipeg to Brandon Hills in ox-carts, accompanied by her three children. They built their log house of good sound timber and on the homestead Mrs. McPherson has lived ever since. Mr. McPherson passed to the great beyond two years ago. Of hardships, there were none, declares Mrs. McPherson, who at 71 years of age is one of the highest and best types of the Canadian pioneer.

Robert Nicol also attended the picnic though he did no find the group of originals. He is in his eightieth year and settled on a farm South of Brandon in 1885. For one year after he settled there with his wife and family he railroaded and since that time he has been on the farm. He is blessed with eight grandchildren.

Came With the First

One of the original party that settled at the foot of the hills in the Spring of 1879 was W. H. Dunbar, and so was his wife, who was then Miss Mary H. Roddick. So busy were they looking after the comforts of their guests that they had little time to talk. Later in the evening Mr. Dunbar told of the first settlement.

A fairly large party was made up in Nova Scotia and joined by some from other provinces. Westward they came in the Spring of 1879. North of Chater there was a halt and a division. Some of the party stayed there. A party of five went ahead and looked over the country South of the Assiniboine River. They ran a sort of survey line by compass from Township II. on top of the hill North of the river across to the foot of the hills, made allowances as best they could for roads, and chose their locations. Mr. Dunbar chose the land on which he was allowed to remain after the survey was properly made. Returning with the good word to the others, the party set out. The Assiniboine River was very high and the water was very cold. A French half-breed trader with about a hundred carts had crossed the river at the ford at Grand Valley, just shortly before the Roddick party arrived at the crossing.

The First Settlers

The party consisted of Rev. Geo. Roddick, Mrs. Roddick, Misess Mary H., Helena, and Georgina, and the sons, J. M. Roddick, D. R. Roddick, R. F. Roddick, G. H. Roddick, and Messrs. Simon McKay, W. H. Dunbar, F. Bowen, Gordon Halliday, Wm. Foxhall, Anderson McCabe, Jason Forsythe, James Davis, George McLaren, Wm. Evans, O. Jones, Hugh McPherson and Jack Copeland. All the carts save one that belonged to Rev. Geo. Roddick were drawn by oxen, Mr. Roddick having a team of horses.

Fording the River

The passage of the river was a difficult as well as a dangerous feat. Simon McKay, a strong swimmer and brave man, took a light rope in his teeth and swam the river, and soon they had a cable on which they were ferried across. When the squatters located they proceeded with the erection of their houses. Each broke a few acres of sod and sowed wheat and the settlement became a fact. During the Summer the first picnic was held Picnickers sought the highest point in the hills to evade the mosquitoes and enjoyed the outing. Since that time the annual picnic has been held at different points and for about the last fifteen years it has been held beside Lilly Lake on the Dunbar Farm.

Open Handed Hospitality

During the year many other settlers hearing that there was a settlement at the foot of the hills sought and found a warm welcome with shelter for man and beast. The open handed hospitality of the time sometimes proving a serious handicap, yet it was never withheld. During the Winter of '79, Mr. Dunbar went to Winnipeg. He had put up considerable hay before leaving and on his return found that incoming settlers had been permitted to feed their animals from his hay so often that there was none left for his oxen. They were weary and lean after the long journey and when there was no feed to give them the young settler did not know what to do. Finally he decided and taking them to bare knolls turned them loose making the statement that if they lived he would stay, but that if they died he would go. They lived. He stayed. So weak were the animals that Spring that they could only make in the forenoon, one and half times round the six acres he attempted to break.

A Fine White Cake

A grist was taken to Minnedosa in '82 by Mr. Dunbar and Mr. Roddick. When they returned with the flour, Mrs. McPherson, who had joined her husband previously, baked a cake and when it turned out flaky and white she said the country was fit to live in that could produce flour like that.

The wheat that was grown in 1881 was teamed to Grand Valley where it was loaded on a boat and sent down the river. The next year they drew some to Brandon selling it for 80c a bushel.

Naming the Hills

The hills bore no name when the first settlers located at the foot. The name Brandon was given them by the Roddick settlers. As there was the ruins of an old Hudson's Bay fort on the river East of the hills, that had been called Fort Brandon, they called the hills the Brandon Hills and Brandon Hills they have been ever since.

Of these and many other things the Old Timers talked until there came a realization that they were almost alone in the grove. The cheers of the spectators at the ball game caused the group to disperse recalling that when the next picnic time came round the outing would no longer be held on the Dunbar farm, because the Dunbars will have left it.

AUTO RACE DAY IS NOT TO BE HALF HOLIDAY

Retail Merchants Oppose Request for Proclamation of Holiday

There will be no half holiday Saturday, July 24th, the last day of the Provincial Exhibition here. At a special meeting of the City Council held Tuesday afternoon, the City Fathers expressed themselves as opposed to the request for a half holiday, and a resolution was passed to that effect. A delegation from the Retail Merchants' Association appeared before the Council and expressed themselves as against the closing of the stores on Saturday afternoon. It was following this expression from leading merchants in the city that the Council took action.

A request was made some time ago by the Exhibition officials that a half holiday be declared on Saturday, July 24th, between the hours of one o'clock and 5.30, in order that everyone could get to the Exhibition Grounds to see the auto races. Also it was expected that in this way the attendance at the Fair would be greatly increased, and would result in great benefits to the Exhibition. The matter was taken up by the President of the Brandon Retail Merchants' Association and the leading merchants of the city interviewed regarding the request. Mr. W. E. Crawford appeared before the Council and acted as spokesman for a number of merchants who also attended the special meeting.

Mr. Crawford said that after making a canvass of practically all the leading merchants in the city, the unanimous opinion was that the stores should not close. He thought it was asking a little too much of the retail merchants to close for the afternoon, especially when Thursday was a holiday. He did not like two holidays in one week and then there are a great number of people leaving the city on Saturday afternoon and they use that afternoon to do their shopping. Mr. Crawford therefore requested that the Council not acede to the request for the half holiday.

His Worship Mayor Dinsdale said that the Fair is one of the city's biggest assets and if it could be helped in any way, without being unfair to others, that every assistance should be given. Alderman Coleman said that it was just like asking each merchant in the city to contribute $300 or $400 to the Fair for that afternoon. Alderman Curran said that he had been told that some merchants were even considering opening on Thursday evening, although he said it is against the bylaw.

Mr. Bruce Knowlton said that it was asking too much of the merchants for all the benefit the Fair would get out of it for the afternoon. Alderman Coleman suggested that it would be a detriment to the Fair if the stores closed. Alderman Shewan said that the request was so ridiculous that he had never considered it seriously.

The following resolution was then passed by the City Council: "That this Council is not in favor of the request of the Summer Fair Board to close on Saturday afternoon of the Fair, the concensus of opinion among the merchants being against the proposal, and would therefore respectfully request His Worship Mayor Dinsdale not to proclaim said half holiday."

Ottawa Citizen

Ottawa, July 14.—The Citizen says: "This Government has no mandate. Until it has been endorsed by the electorate in a general election, it has no moral right to rule over the Canadian people. Until a general election is announced, Canada is being ruled by a caucus dictatorship which differs only in degree from the Soviet dictatorship."

M'GREGOR CATTLE WIN HIGH HONORS AT SASKATOON

Glencarnock Farm Products Win Firsts for Females 2 Years and Under

GRAND CHAMPIONSHIP

Awarded Black Cap McGregor Over Famous Imported Bull

Aberdeen-Angus cattle owned by Mr. J. D. McGregor of this city secured the majority of the honors in this class at the Saskatoon Fair which is in progress this week. Mr. McGregor's cattle won first prize in all the female classes below two years, a particularly pleasing feature being that they were all bred at Glencarnock.

He also won the grand championship bull with Black Cap McGregor, also an animal of his own breeding. To win this class he had to defeat Carpenter and Ross' famous imported bull, Prince Idyll, of Maismore, said to be the best Angus bull they could secure in Scotland. Other wins by Mr. McGregor were, second in the aged cow class; third in the 2-year-old heifer class; first for aged bull; second for junior yearling bull, and first for junior bull calf. He was also awarded grade female championship with Blackbird of Glencarnock 5th, a senior heifer calf sired by Black Cap McGregor, the grand champion bull and the junior female championship with Pure Pride 3rd.

CABINET TARIFF COMMISSION TO BE NAMED SOON

Ottawa, July 14.—The naming of the Cabinet Tariff Commission which will tour the country and reach its conclusions before Parliament assembles next winter may shortly be expected, now that Premier Meighen has announced the personnel of his cabinet. Sir Henry Drayton, Minister the naming of Hon. R. W. Wigmore of Finance, will doubtless be the chairman of the Commission, while as Minister of Customs means that he will be one of its members. Hon. J. A. Calder, Minister of Immigration, is practically certain to represent Western Canada on the Commission.

The Commission, when named, will be the third of its kind since 1896. The first was constituted in 1897 under the chairmanship of Hon. W. S. Fielding. It resulted in the tariff revision which included the introduction into the Canadian fiscal system of the principle of a preferential tariff covering goods imported from Great Britain. The second cabinet inquirt was commenced in 1906 under the chairmanship of Mr. Fielding, and led to the bringing down early in 1907 of what was described as the three-barreled tariff, because it made provision for intermediate, general and preferential work.

Will Contest All Seats

Present information here leads to the expectation at Liberal headquarters that when the necessary by-elections are held in the Maritime Provinces through the introduction of "new blood" into the cabinet with the inclusion of Hon. F. B. McCurdy, Hon. R. W. Wigmore and Hon. E. K. Spinney, there will be a Liberal candidate named to contest every seat opened. For the last few weeks the Nova Scotia Liberals have been busy preparing for the Provincial campaign, so there has been little attention paid to Federal possibilities, but prominent Liberals here are of the opinion that there will be a Liberal standard-bearer in each of the three ridings of Colchester and Yarmouth, N.S., and St. John, N.B. During the past few months there has also been great activity among the United Farmers of the Maritime Provinces in getting an organization together similar to that on the three Prairie Provinces, and it is being prophesied that there will be one or more three-cornered fights.

GREAT CHANGE IN METHOD OF ACCOUNTING

Ottawa, July 14.—The June statement of the Finance Department issued today bears the mark of important changes. For the first time, a deduction is made for non-active assets, such as loans to the C.N.R., G.T.R. and G.T.P., and to this extent the net debit is increased. The ordinary revenue during June totalled $32,618,021, and the ordinary expenditure $40,566,717. Excess of expenditure over revenue is due to heavy interest payments on Victory Bonds. Expenditure on capital account was $3,163,725 as compared with $54,632,871 last June. Heavy decrease due to fall in war expenditure.

The net debt, after taking into consideration non-active assets, now amounts to $2,300,119,030.

GREYS TAKE HOLD ON LEAGUE TITLE DEFEATING VIRDEN

Brandon Players Make Uphill Fight to Win Exciting Ball Game

McINNIS TWIRLS WELL

While Heavy Stick Work by Greys Bring Victory After Errors Give Visitors Lead

Making an uphill fight to get the long end of the score from Virden on Tuesday night, the Brandon Greys practically cinched the championship of the Western Manitoba League by defeating the visitors here 9-6. It was not the classiest exhibition of ball seen here this Summer, but it was made interesting because of the early battle waged by both teams to obtain the winning tallies. Errors, hits and good base running aided both teams in a run getting fest in the first five innings, but after that time the pitchers had all the best of it. Superior stick work and an airtight defence, after the fourth inning, gave the Greys their win.

BRANDON COLLEGE LOSES A FRIEND

By Death of Senator Wm. Dennis Donor of Eric Dennis Scholarship

The remains of the late Senator William Dennis, whose death occurred on Sunday last in Boston, Mass., were laid to rest in Camp Hill cemetery this afternoon following a short service at the family residence in Halifax. The late Senator Dennis a short time ago made a gift of a scholarship to Brandon College, to be known as the Eric Dennis Scholarship, in memory of a son who made the supreme sacrifice during the Great War. This is a scholarship of $250 a year for four years to be divided equally among the five returned men at the college who obtained the highest standing for each of the Arts classes and Senior Academy. Mr. D. H. Beaubier, of this city, was the first to receive the benefit of this Scholarship, being adudged the winne rat the end of the class term last month.

Born in Cornwall, England, in 1858, the late Senator Dennis came to Canada in 1873. He was a reporter o the Halifax Herald when it was first started in 1875 and later acquired control of the property and at the time of his death was the owner. He was summoned to the Senate in 1912 and was a Councillor in Halifax for seven years. Senator Dennis identified himself with the philanthrophic life of Halifax and took a leading part in various movements for the betterment of conditions affecting the people.

The Poles formally protested to the Inter-Allied Commission on July 10, asking for delay in taking the plebiscite. They now charge that the Germans used unfair methods in that they falsified the voting lists and other documents.

ROADS LIKE CROPS NEED GOOD RAIN

Work on Good Roads Near City is Progressing Rapidly as Possible

Like the crops the roads need rain. However the work in building good roads is progressing as rapidly as possible and three and a half miles of the eight mile route on Eighteenth Street to Lake Clementi has been graded. About the same number of miles on the Douglas road has been put into shape, and there is about eleven miles altogether to be done. Some gravelling has also been done on the Brandon Highway West of the city along Victoria Avenue.

GRAND ARMY OF UNITED VETERANS MAKE ATTACK ON OTTAWA GOVERNMENT

Toronto, July 14.—The recent resignation of J. H. Burnham, M.P. for West Peterboro, has given the Grand Army of United Veterans excuse for a united onslaught on the Ottawa Government, and the Provincial Organizing Secretary, Fred Marsh, has sent out letters to all the local members of parliament, pointing out the reason on which the organization bases its demand for the resignation.

The business of being a citizen is, just now, the most important business of life—one on which our future in the world of business and democracy depends.

Wool Cloth and Cloth Prices

Toronto Mail and Empire: The Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers' Company has issued a statement relating to the shary falling away of demands for wool. According to this statement, no market exists at present for wool, because of the wave of cancellations of orders at the mills. Many of these have had their prospective business cut in half. In the United States large woollen mills are operating three and four days a week, with business much reduced, and the wool producers are left with most of the Spring clip on their hands unmarketed.

The woolen cloth business seems to by the most representative example of conflicting tendencies in the business world today. Wholesalers who have bought British worsteds state that their invoices are far higher than before. An increase of nearly 100 per cent. for next Spring is indicated. Woollen manufacturers claim that wages have not been reduced. Indeed, only a month ago, mill employes in United States cities got 15 per cent. increase. If the cost of producing cloth goes up, it is argued, how can retail prices come down permanently? In the meantime, retailers are either lightening their stocks, or buying for only current needs. The public is remaining aloof. The wool growers find that manufacturers are not willing to buy, though wool is much lower in price than for several years. Prices offered are below cost of production. This is a peculiar state of deadlock, which must leave the wholesalers, woollen manufacturers, clothing makers, and others in the trade in some perplexity. A lot of the trouble is, of course, with cloth, now in the hands of the trade, that is costing "peak" prices. Someone has to get it on to the consumer at the high prices, or take heavy losses. If the consumer would buy at the high prices, everything would be rosy. But the mills have been making excessive profits, and all the way through the trade mark-ups have been generous. the Wool growers have been sharing in the great melon of war-time demand and speculation. It is natural that the buyers of the new high-priced goods for next Spring should claim that prices have to go up, accordingly, but what if the public will not buy.

Unquestionably every means in the trade will be employed to prevent prices from coming down. Dropping prices mean losses on goods in The tactics of the mills will likely be close-downs to keep production down, rather than make more cloth to sell at more reasonable prices. The British woollen manufacturers have also had their share of cancellations, but demand is too heavy there, from European and other sources still short of cloth, for any crisis to develop. But the peak of cloth prices has been passed, for if the public will not pay present excessive prices, how can it be expected to pay prices one hundred per cent. higher?

VACATION CLASSES ARE WELL ATTENDED

Public School Pupils, Backward in Studies, Receiving Real Help

The classes for children who need special help in certain subjects are being well attended by the students who have enrolled. They are obtaining instruction in subjects in which they are backward. This will be of great benefit to them when school opens next Fall. There are three of these classes in the Central School and one in the Park School and they will be continued until the end of the month, with the exception of Mr. Pullen's class in the Central School, which will be discontinued during Exhibition Week and will open again on Monday, July 26th, to continue until the end of the first week in August. Mr. Pullen will have charge of the exhibit of school work at the Exhibition.

FINAL MATCH PUT OVER UNTIL WEEK AFTER BIG FAIR

Congos and War Veterans Unable to Agree on Date for Game

There is no likelihood of the Congos War Veterans game being played this week for the football championship of the city. An effort to stage the final game this week has proved unsuccessful and there will be no further football play until after Fair Week. This means that the championship will be undecided until the last week of July. Both teams will have to get together again and fix a date that will be satisfactory to all concerned.

The War Veterans wanted to stage the final match on Friday evening, but the Congos claim that several of their men are used up after their hard game with the Mounted Police, and therefore unable to play in a championship game. Unable to agree on a date this week, the match was postponed until after Fair Week.

J. S. WILLMOTT AND JOHN INGLIS HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

As the result of a slight auto accident which occurred Friday night Mr. J. S. Willmott and Mr. John Inglis are patients in the Brandon General Hospital suffering from shocks and bruises sustained when the auto struck a hidden hole in the road and they were projected through the canvas top of the car. Their condition is favorable and it is hoped that they will be able to leave the hospital in a few days.

In company with Dr. C. P. Templeton and Mr. Robert Darrach, Mr. Willmott and Mr. Inglis left Brandon, Friday evening, in Dr. Templeton's auto for Belmont where they were to meet representatives from the Municipality of Strathcona with reference to the new hospital. The party were about eighteen miles southeast of Brandon when the car struck a hole in the road hidden by the grass and Mr. Willmott and Mr. Inglis, who were in the tonneau were thrown up against the top. Dr. Templeton and Mr. Darrach were not injured. With the exception of a hole in the top of the car the auto was not damaged and the injured men returned in it to the hospital.

RESOLUTE HAS SHORT LEAD IN SECOND CUP RACE

Sandy Hook, July 17.—At 2.35 the Shamrock took the lead, being 400 yards ahead of the Resolute, but 700 yards to leeward.

The Resolute Leads

Winnipeg, Man., July 17.—At 3.02 the Resolute was nearly a mile ahead. The United States boat's favorable position to windward gave her the advantage and accounted for the apparent sudden change in positions.

Race Started at 1.46

Sandy Hook, July 17.—A start was made at 1.46.23 for the Resolute, and 1.46.37 for the Shamrock.

Race May Not be Finished

Sandy Hook, July 17.—The second race, 1920, for America's Cup was postponed at 11.30 a.m. until later in the day, by order of the Regatta Committee.

At 11.30 there was probably two or three knots of wind stirring. The sea was filled with calm spots and the prospects were dubious for a race that would carry the boats across the finishing line within the time limit of six hours, and the Regatta Committee decided upon postponement till later in the day. The weather continues clear and the air is lifeless.

Minor weaknesses as disclosed in Thursday's struggle have been corrected, and both skippers hoped for a better test of sailing ability. Sir Thomas Lipton is said to have told friends here that he will challenge again if Shamrock IV fails to lift the Cup.

Time Allowance the Same

The Regatta Committee announce that the time allowance which the Shamrock must give the Resolute would remain at six minutes, forty seconds.

HUGE MARSHES TO BE SURVEYED

In Various Parts of Central and Northern Alberta and in Saskatchewan

Among the areas to be investigated in these surveys will be Chip Lake, between Edson and Entwistle; Big Lake, near St. Albert; Low Water Lake, South of Wabamun; Cygnet, West of Red Deer. MOVIE HEROES NEVER PULLED SUCH A STUNT

As Cowboy Cook Who Roped Bruin and Apparently Slew Him

BRUIN REVIVED

And Attempted to Climb Into Boat—Killed With a Hammer

Anyox, B.C., July 17.—Putting wild west movie stars to shame, Alphonso Kobloff, chef de cuisine at Grandby's mess house, is the local hero of a spectacular bear capture. That he is alive to tell the tale is a miracle.

Kobloff and a Chinese farmer were skirting the edges of Grandby Bay, so the story goes, in a skiff looking for a rowboat which had gone adrift, when a big black bear emerged from a thicket and made his way toward the pair. The farmer retired a few paces, but Kobloff, a cowboy of renown in his day, pcked up a folded rope from the boat.

Standing on hind legs, Bruin started again toward his captor, who then deftly threw a couple of half hitches over the animal's extended paws.

Neither man had a gun. Kobloff delivered a hard blow on the bear's skull with a hammer, however, apparently killing him.

Pushing off in their boat the men essayed to tow the bear home. When a few rods from the shore the bear revived and pulled a movie stunt of his own by attempting to trawl into the boat with two very unwilling passengers. The Chinaman succeeded in holding him off with a boathook until Koboff again brought the hammer into play. Bruin's hide was sent to Vancouver for mounting.

GOOD OLD ARCTIC CIRCLE FOR MINE SAYS TRAPPER

After Mingling With Crowds, Seeing Cars and Automobiles for First Time

Vancouver, B.C., July 17.—"The good old Arctic circle for mine," declared W. D. Clark, trapper and trader from the Eagle River country in the Arctic, after viewing for the first time the changing scenes of life in a bustling, modern city.

"For the first time in my life I have seen street cars, automobiles and skyscrapers; have mingled with your crowds," he said. It is all very strange and wonderful, but it is not my choice. I would not exchange for all this the vast open spaces, the great out-of-doors of the Arctic circle. It has been my home for thirty-three years and I hope to get back there in August."

Mr. Clark brought some magnificent fox and martin skins valued at $9,000.

Thirty-three years ago he left Vancouver for Calgary, travelling thence to Edmonton in an old Red River cart, and by the same method he continued the journey to the great rivers of the North.

MODERN METHODS NOW EMPLOYED BY CATTLE RUSTLERS

Calves Spirited Away Across the Border Line in Motor Cars

Regina, Sask., July 17.—The motor car, it seems, has achieved another success by winning its advent into the cattle rustling business. The old and well-known practice of cattle rustlers when they used to drive their stolen herds before them, is now a thing of the past. A few days ago three calves were rustled from herds near Bengough and spirited across the International Border in two motor cars. Three of the rustlers were arrested on this side of the line and two others in Montana, and are now awaiting trial.

FINANCIAL POSITION OF GREAT BRITAIN

Is Sound, According to Statement by Experienced Financier

UNINFORMED OPINION

In the United States is That There is Financial Paralysis

New York, July 17 (Canadian Press).—There is no occasion for apprehension regarding the financial position of Great Britain. This is the message brought to the United States by F. R. Shortis, who was recently appointed a vice-president of the Guarantee Trust Company of New York, and has just arrived here from London. A statement issued by Mr. Shortis clearly defines the present economic situation of the Old Country and indicates that Britain is not only balancing her budget in a satisfactory manner but also has a surplus on hand sufficient to redeem her outstanding debt within a reasonable time.

Mr. Shortis' statement is welcomed by Canadian and other British interests here as it is believed it will help to counteract the effect of propaganda which has been published in the United States by certain newspapers seeking to convey the impression that Great Britain is in desperate financial straits.

Mr. Shortis for many years was in charge of the foreign business of Kleinwort Sons and Company, merchants' bankers of London, and subsequently became manager of the firm. He resigned that position last year to become financial adviser of the Inter-Allied Rhineland Commission, from which post he recently obtained a release. In discussing the financial condition of Great Britain, he said:

No Financial Paralysis

"I think there is an impression in less well informed quarters of the United States that it is unnecessary to discriminate in regard to the respective economic positions of the Allies. It is probably felt in some directions that the war has left them all in such a state of financial paralysis, from which it will take them long years to recover, that the question of degree is immaterial. While this feeling may accurately represent the situation in regard to certain countries, it is certainly not correct in regard to Great Britain. It is true that she has spent in connection with the war from the first of August, 1914, to the first of May, 1920, the vast sum of 11,000,000,000 pounds sterling ($49,500,000,000 Canadian exchange) but it should be remembered as a point of extreme importance, that of this stupendous amount, more than 4,000,000,000 pounds sterling ($18,000,000,000), that is to say, more than one-third of the total, has been raised during the war by revenue, leaving a balance outstanding of approximately £7,000,000,000 ($31,500,000,000). The latter figure includes advances to the Allies, as well as to the British Dominions, of approximately 1,850,000,000 pounds sterling ($8,325,000,000). It is difficult to state what amount of the latter sum will eventually be recovered, but by assessing it for the purpose at 1,000,000,000 pounds sterling ($4,500,000,000), there would remain an amount outstanding in connection with the war of 6,000,000,000 pounds sterling ($27,000,000,000), or only one and a half of the amount that has already been raised in revenue during the last four years.

"Considering the extent of her expenditure on the war, the financial position of Great Britain is decidedly favorable. It is gratifying to know that she is not only balancing her budget in a satisfactory manner, but has, moreover, a considerable surplus in hand which should provide a sinking fund sufficient to redeem the entire outstanding debt within a reasonable time.

Position of Britain

"Taking the situation in general, the position of Great Britain cannot be regarded as unfavorable, although the fact that sterling in United States currency shows a depreciation of more than 20 per cent. may be taken as an indication that the credit of Great Britain is severely impaired. But people who are well acquainted with the actual economic position and the reasons for the present level of exchange are, of course, aware of the cause. It is not that Great Britain it not prepared to pay its debt to the United States, for it possess plenty of assets, but it does not, unfortunately, possess any tangible assets which can be removed from Great Britain to the United States. It is, therefore, necessary, to wait until such time as she can export or render services in sufficient quantities to produce a trade balance in her favor.

The war has made the United States so great a creditor country to Europe that she must now give her debtors an opportunity to pay her by the only means possible to them. This can be achieved only by exporting goods and rendering services. For this purpose, it is not necessary for Europe to export to the United States alone, but she must export to all other countries, and in particular, countries that the United States purchases from. For instance, by means of European countries exporting to the East in excess of her imports from the East, and at the same time by an excess of American imports from the East over her exports in the same direction, the balance of indebtedness by Europe to the United States could eventually be liquidated.

"For the purpose of adjusting the trade balance, it does not matter whether Great Britain, Germany, France, and Italy export in larger quantities one than the other, as the balance of trade of the latter countries all favor Great Britain, and these exports will relatively at the same time, no only adjust the trade balance between Great Britain and the United States, but they will bring about an adjustment between those countries and Great Britain."

SWISS WATCHES TO BE SENT VIA THE AIR ROUTE

To Paris to Avoid Troublesome Delays of Present Rail Service

Geneva, Switzerland, July 15.—Watches and jewelry are to be transported to Paris by a newly-established airial service, and from Paris to London by the present commercial air line, to avoid the troublesome delays of the present rail service. A syndicate of the principal manufacturers has been formed at Chaux de Fonds, the seat of the industry, to handle the air shipments. It is expected ten days will be saved by this method and the cost will be slight, in proportion to the value of the freight.

All shipments were decided upon largely because of American buyers' insistence upon prompt delivery.

The Shamrock IV., and her crew, are in first class fettel, and everything possible has been done to bring her to the starting line a worthy representative of the Old Country. If the good wishes I have received from all over the world during the past few days could ensure succeess, the ambition of my life will be achieved.

OPEN MARKETING CANADIAN WHEAT OF THE 1920 CROP

Government Will Watch Situation and if Necessary May Recall Board

Ottawa, July 17.—The Government has decided that the present Wheat Board will not function insofar as the wheat crop of 1920 is concerned. The marketing of this crop will revert to the usual and normal methods of pre-war times.

The Government will, however, carefully watch the conditions outside of Canada and will exercise the right to proclaim the enabling legislation of last session if circumstances make it necessary so to act in the public interest. From the present point of view, it is hoped that no such action will be found necessary.

Legislation passed a few weeks ago enabled the Government to constitute a Wheat Board, in continuance of the present Wheat Board. The Wheat Board, under the bill, was to have well-defined powers and could be called into operation, by proclamation in the Canada Gazette, should circumstances make it necessary.

Foster Explains

In announcing the decision of the Government, Sir George Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce, made the following statement:

"The Government has given very careful consideration to the course to be pursued in marketing the wheat crop of Canada for 1920. As is well known a bill was passed at the late session of Parliament enabling the Goernment to constitute a wheat board with well-defined powers, which board could be called into operation by proclamation in the Canada Gazette should circumstances make it necessary.

"The preference of the Government has been for a return to normal methods of grain marketing as soon as such appeared to be warranted by conditions abroad. The three principal factors which last year decided the Government to establish the wheat board were these:

"(1)—The fact that in Europe all buying of wheat was controlled by the various Governments either separately or in concert and that the buying by our principal customers, Great Britain France and Italy, was carried on in concert. There was accordingly virtually one purchaser, resulting in the practical elimination of competition. There was reluctance to enter upon purchase negotiations with consequent danger to the early movement of wheat during the navigation season.

"(2)—Financial conditions which necessitated advances and credits by foreign governments and which could only be adequately met by governmental agencies in Canada in order to ensure prompt and continued movement of wheat from the commencement of harvest.

"(3)—The control by the United States of the purchase and sale of thereof, together with an embargo on wheat and the fixation of prices imports of both wheat and flour.

"These factors either do not exist or are not in force to the same extent at the present time. From the best information available, it would appear that while as far as can be ascertained, European buying will be in a greater or lesser degree controlled by the governments of practically all countries in Europe dependent upon imports of wheat, there does not seem at the present time reason to believe that the purchase by the various governments or governmental agencies will not be made independent of each other, both as to transport and purchase, thus constituting conditions of competition that should result in a fair market value being obtained for the Canadian crop.

"The United States has controlled the market in grains and flour and the exchanges therein are now open for trading in December and later options, and there is no longer any embargo upon imports of wheat or flour. All the indications, therefore, are that the marketing of grain and its products in the United States will resume the normal methods and flow in the usual channels.

Rights Reserved

"It must be remembered, however, that the United States have legislation under which control can be brought into effective force if at any time their Government was to decide that national interests demanded such action.

"Under the circumstances above set forth, the Canadian Government has decided to take no steps at present to proclaim the enabling act, which means that the present Wheat Board will not function in so far as the crop of 1920 is concerned, and that the marketing of this crop will revert to the usual and normal methods of pre-war times. The Government will, however, carefully watch the conditions outside of Canada and will exercise the right to proclaim the enabling legislation of last session if circumstances make it necessary so to act in the public interest."

GERMANS AGREE TO ALLIED TERMS UPON CONDITIONS

Spa, July 15.—The Germans have agreed to the Allied demand for the delivery of two million tons of coal monthly with three new conditions. The first is that the German Government is to have the distribution of the Silesian coal, to be allotted, 1,500,000 tons monthly for Northern Germany instead of the present 1,200,000 tons. Second: A mixed commission is to be sent to Essen to examine food and housing conditions. Third: The Allies are asked to advance money or provide credit for importing additional food for the entire German population.

The Allied Ministers, up to shortly after noon, had not yet announced whether the conditions would be accepted. Herr Simons, German delegate said the German military had gone to the utmost limit and could do nothing more, so that if the Allied military leaders still wanted an invasion of Germany they must have it.

JEWISH PEOPLE CANNOT SELL THEIR HOLDINGS

New York, July 16.—While the Jewish people will be permitted to develop and reap the harvest from land purchased in Palestine by the Jewish National Fund and also be privileged to leave it to their children, then can never sell it. This is in accordance with the plan of the fund to nationalize the land in Palestine and eliminate land speculation as announced here by Dr. Baer Epstein, the fund's special commissioner, who has just arrived from England.

The fund, he said, will spend $1,250,000 during the next year for the purchase of barren land which must be reclaimed and made fit for settlement

More than 7,000,000 French francs, Dr. Epstein added, have already been spent in buying and cultivating 6,000 acres of what now is fertile Palestine land and in developing six agricultural colonies and a dozen individual farms.

"The fund not only has purchased land for farming," he said, "but it has made extensive purchases in Jerusalem, Tiberias, Haifa, Jaffa, Safed and other principal cities of Palestine. This city land is used exclusively for public buildings."

WEST IS MOST LIVELY POLITICAL FACTOR OTTAWA

Supplies Two Out of Three Great Leaders in Political Life

A GREAT BIG JOB

Is That Undertaken by Premier Meighen—Likely to Tour Canada

Ottawa, July 16.—Hon. Arthur Meighen's accession to the position of Prime Minister at the age of forty-four makes several new records in Canadian political life. In the first place he is the youngest Prime Minister that the Dominion has ever had; the next youngest being Sir John Thompson, who came to the office at the age of forty-eight. He is also the first Westerner to become leader of the Government, which is a notable event. Lastly, he will be the only Prime Minister during the last forty-two years who will go out of office without having been knighted. This is something in a really democratic country. Alexander Mackenzie was the only Prime Minister who had the courage to decline the honor of being known to posterity as Sir.

The growing importance of the West politically has been emphasized in these articles; indeed, some may have thought it has been exaggerated. But it is quite evident that this phase of the institution has not been overstated. The West is the most lively political factor at Ottawa. What that trinity of political brains, Meighen, Calder and Sifton, does not know either about handling men or affairs, in this country at least, is hardly worth knowing. Sir James Lougheed is an admittedly very able man; but being in the Senate he, of course, does not count with the public. The West also supplies two out of the three leaders in Federal politics, Meighen and Crerar. Surely this should convince the skeptical that the West is "some pumpkins" at the Capital.

Youth Must be Served

The calling of Meighen shows that a chapter in the political life of the country has been closed; it is the chapter of the elder Statesmen. This is not said in a slighting manner; it is merely the statement of a fact that deserves to be noted. Time was, and not so very long ago, when a man was not supposed to cut his political eye teeth until he was over fifty; that is, until he had reached this age he was hardly considered eligible for the position of Prime Minister. Of the seven Prime Ministers that Canada has had, Sir John Macdonald was fifty-two when he donned the purple; Mackenzie was fifty-one; Sir Wilfred Laurier fifty-five; Sir Robert Borden fifty-seven; Sir John Abbott seventy; Sir Mackenzie Howell seventy-one, and Sir Charles Tupper seventy-five. Thus one-third of them were at least three-score years and ten when they entered office.

Why the change? For one thing the war has worn out and broken down the older men; and those above fifty, not physically incapacitated, have been put out of the running for the leadership through other causes. Meighen and White had the lead over all others in the Cabinet because they were about the only two younger men that counted in a group of grey beards. It should also be remembered that when the Liberals chose Mackenzie King as leader they practically put all the older men in the Government's ranks out of the running. Some may not think so, but it is a fact, that only a younger man could hold the pace that King would set. When he, at forty-five, became Opposition leader, it became a young man's struggle.

White was Strongly Favored

Hon. Arthur Meighen did not have the honor presented to him on a silver platter. Anyone who imagines it was thus placed before him is ignorant of the facts. It is no secret that a majority of the Cabinet did not favor him. Sir Thomas White was the favorite. If he had only said "yes" he would have been the man; but like Caesar, he declined the crown. Nor was it easy for him to do so, the pressure brought to bear on him to accept having been very severe. So sure were some of Sir Thomas' supporters that he would be selected that it is said of one Cabinet Minister that forty-eight hours before the event he declared in a well-known local club that White would be the Prime Minister, the whole matter, according to him, having been decided last Fall.

First Class Fighting Man

Meighen, however, was the choice of the rank and file of the Government's following. He was the candidate of the first class fighting man, being favored also by an aggressive element in the Government's Press. Incidentally, he owes considerable to two correspondents, Tom Blacklock, formerly of the Regina Province, Grattan O'Leary, who talked and wrote Meighen for six or eight months, until many thought that it must be so. Towards the end, fools ing become so aroused that if anyone but Meighen or White had been chosen there probably would have been a riot. It is well known that Meighen was not the favorite of what are known as the "interests"; indeed, the latter proved to be very largely hoaxed, for when war strongly challenged they were not much of a factor at the end.

Cabinet Changes Likely

There is little likelihood of an election this Fall. Whether it comes soon or late will depend upon how well the members of the Cabinet work together. There is every indication that they will co-operate loyally, these bent on retiring, doing so gradually. It is understood that both Doherty and Ballantyne wonted to go at once, bue were prevailed upon to stay. The retirement of Burrell and Rowell is unlikely to occasion by-elections at once. Time will be taken to size up the British Columbia situation and Mr. Rowell's vacancy in the Cabinet will not be filled. At the moment and more than four by-elections are contemplated, that is, to fill Cabinet positions. Some portfolios will very probably be doubled up, the portfolios being reduced to fourteen or fifteen, of which three will be filled by members of the Senate. Representation for the Maritime Provinces in the Cabinet will be provided for at once, and an attempt will undoubtedly be made to strengthen up in Quebec.

May Tour Dominion

The task ahead is not one for a timorous individual and the new Prime Minister knows it. Even those who most ardently wish him well admit that the probabilities are for cloudy and stormy weather. Quebec is apparently as hostile as ever; while the Farmers, with no intention of helping the Government, are making political hay while the sun shines. But the consensus of opinion is that since the inevitable must be faced sooner or later, then 'twere better to be met now than at any other time. Undoubtedly the first business of the New Prime Minister will be to call into being a new and permanent organization; since to win without it is well nigh impossible. This will take time, which is another reason why there will be eagerness to dissolve Parliament. Very probably Mr. Meighen will tour a portion of the Dominion this year, it being quite likely that both he and Mr. King will visit the West. If the former does so he will only be able to visit a few places.

The Westward Swing

As further evidence of how the centre of political gravity is moving West, it may be pointed out that while at one time the French-Canadian element from Quebec was the dominating factor in the Cabinet, today there is only one Minister of that nationality and he is a member of the Senate. With the passing of Sir Robert Borden the last Minister from the Maritime Provinces went out. He was followed by two new ones; but the influences of the Provinces by the Sea is not to be compared with what it used to be. It is a long time since they showed such a lack of young political talent. Nova Scotia, which has supplied three Prime Ministers, has only one man of first rank in the Commons, Mr. Fielding. What a change for the province that produced Howe, the two Tuppers, Borden and Thompson! New Brunswick is also in a bad way for talent, it being a far call from Tilley, Pugsley, Hazen, Emmerson and Carvel to the present average representative from that Province.

Rowell's Retirement

Mr. Rowell's retirement at this time had not been generally expected. It was known that he desired to retire to private life, but few thought that it would be coincident with the retirement of Sir Robert. The two men, however, have been uncommonly close. By disposition and training they have much in common; they also have many points of similarity in their outlook on national problems. So perhaps it was somewhat natural that the President of the Privy Council, who entered the Cabinet only out of a desire to serve the country during a critical period, should consider his term of service ended with the passing of Sir Robert. Knowing the undoubted hostility that exists towards him in certain influential circles he has not allowed himself to be deceived by the habits of false hopes and impossible ambitions. The Government would have been glad to retain his services; but the circumstances that induced him to withdraw are well understood. He retires to private life, high in the esteem of the public and of his colleagues, with whom he has faithfully co-operated since the Fall of 1917. Though retiring it is questionable whether he is through with public life.

A Soft Landing Place

Hon. Martin Burrell, having long desired to retire, could not be induced to remain further. A wag put it rather aptly the other day when he said that it had been very hard for Mr. Burrell to get into the Cabinet and equally hard for him to get out, for he has been trying to leave for the last two years. The position of Parliamentary Librarian at $6,000 a year with short hours, no worry and the literature of the world at your feet, without money and without price, has looked very inviting to the ex-Minister. Indeed, the opportunity so much suggests the work of a kindly Providence that Mr. Burrell would not have been wise had he failed to take advantage of it. Thus when one door closes another opens to the alert politician.

L. A. Tachereau

SPEEDY DRIVERS MAY HAVE THEIR CARS IMPOUNDED

Impounding of the cars of auto speeders who appear in the Police Court was threatened on Friday by Magistrate Fraser, when several local owners of cars appeared and were charged with infractions of the Manitoba Motor Vehicle Act. The police have been warning drivers that they must not exceed the speed limits set down by the Manitoba Act, but motorists have apparently disregarded the warning to some extent, and six charges of speeding were heard.

R. H. Dennison pleaded guilty to speeding and was fined $20 and costs. It was during the hearing of the evidence in this case that Magistrate Fraser said that if speeding did not cease on the city streets that he would follow the system inaugurated in Winnipeg and impound the cars for a certain period, or take away the driver's license. A. J. Bodinsky claimed he did not have a speedometer on his car and therefore did not know how fast he was going. He was sure he was not going twenty miles an hour. Evidence was given by the police that Bodinsky was travelling at an excessive rate, and he was fined $10 and costs. The Canadian Stover Co. paid $10 and costs, while John Park paid $15 and costs for hitting twenty miles an hour on Rosser. A charge against John Clark wis dismissed, and further evidence will be taken in a charge of speeding against J. F. Price.

Mrs. McMullen Admits Thefts

In the Police Court on Thursday afternoon, the three charges of theft preferred against Marshall McMullen were dismissed after his wife had confessed before the court that she was entirely responsible for taking the goods found in her possesion, and that her husband knew nothing about it. The goods stolen have been handed over to their rightful owners and His Worship, Magistrate Fraser, decided to give Mrs. McMullen another chance and allowed her to go on twelve months suspended sentence.

CHINESE PREMIER FINDS IT HARD TO GET RELEASE

Each Time He Resigns, the President Refuses to Accept

Pekin, July 16.—A striking example of the office seeking the man, or rather pursuing him, is afforded by the present Cabinet situation. Premier Chin Yun-Peng, who became leader of the "Chihli" political faction after the death of former President Feng Kuo-Chang, wants to resign his post but the President won't let him.

The ostensible reason of his desire to quit is the difficulty the Government finds in financing itself. The real reason is said to be found in a contest which is in progress between the "Chihli" and "Anfu" factions, the latter being the military group.

For the third time the Premier has tendered his resignation and three times the President has refused to accept it, offering in lieu a leave of absence, each resignation bringing forth a new extension of leave. In the meantime, Admiral Sah Cheng-Peng, Minister of the Navy, is reluctantly filling the post of Premier.

Much political manoeuvring is going on under the surface and at the moment it is regarded as probable that Chin Yun-Peng will eventually resume his post possibly with some changes in the ministries upon which he is said to be insisting.

NEW PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS OPEN: MANY VISITORS

Lieutenant Governor Aikins Formally Declares Buildings Open

CITIZENS ATTEND

Thousands of Winnipeg People Inspect New Government Home

Winnipeg, July 16.—With impressive ceremony the new Parliament Buildings were formally declared open by Sir James Aikins, Lieut-Governor, Thursday at three p.m. Premier Norris then gave the freedom of the building to the citizens for the day, which was observed as the fiftieth anniversary of the Province's birth. Thousands attended for the formal opening and stayed to inspect the completed edifice. They were the guests of the Government, which provided music and refreshments from 3 p.m. till 5.30 p.m., and from 8.30 to 11 p.m. The band from the Grenadier Guards and a full symphony orchestra attended.

Felicitations from Governor-General

Premier Norris read the following telegram from the Governor-General to Sir James Aikins: "Sir James Aikins, Lieutenant-Governor, Winnipeg, Manitoba,—I hope as Lieutenant-Governor you will accept my most cordial congratulations on the fiftieth anniversary of the Province. The history of the Province during the last 50 years is a striking record of progress and prosperity, and the achievements of the past are a sure guarantee of what can be accomplished in the future. Devonshire."

In introducing Sir James Aikins, Premier Norris said: "Fifty years ago today, the Province of Manitoba came into being, the first Province to be added to the original four which joined together three years earlier to form the Dominion of Canada. It is fitting that this fiftieth birthday of the Province should be signalized by the completion of this noble and splendid edifice, which for generation after generation throughout the years to come will be the home of Manitoba's system of government.

"The occasion is one which compels us to look back over the milestones of Manitoba's history. We who stand here today, after the passing of fifty years, can plainly read the records of the early decades of development, of organization, of forming municipal institutions, of bringing the country out of the rough and into a condition in which it could make progress. Pioneers of Manitoba, hopeful and courageous men and women, faced the future with confidence. We can begin to realize now the meaning of their great undertaking. We see the ripening harvest from the seed they planted.

"This occasion is an inspiring one, and it is one which suggests serious thought. What will be said of us when 50 years have passed, and others stand where we stand today? Will our work from Manitoba bear the scrutiny of the future?

"It is good to reflect what has been done during the last fifty years. Fifty years ago very little else than virgin prairie, with a small hamlet at the junction of the Red and Assiniboine rivers — old Fort Garry— stood where now stands the City of Winnipeg. This was then the only centre the old settlers had, and it was there that the only production was effected.

"There was then a population of 250 people in the city, and only 1,200, or a little more, in the whole province. The growth from that city has been the result of the efforts of the early pioneers and those who followed them.

"Those peoneers were people of courage, foresight, and industry, and it was these settlers who laid the foundation of this city. We now have to look back to them with pride; we honor their memory for doing what they did; we are reaping the products of their activities, their work is well done." An old-timer who was standing near the head of the steps here interposed with an audible "Thank you."

At the conclusion of Premier Norris' speech the Lieutenant-Governor, Sir James Aikins, formerly declared the new Parliament Buildings open.

REGULAR ROUTE OF TRAFFIC IN ILLICIT DRUGS

Butte is One of the Depots for Importations From Canada, Investigator Declares

Butte, Mont., July 16.—That Butte is one of the stations on a regular route maintained by vendors who bring illicit drugs from Canadian points, was the statement recently made by A. M. J. Pritchard, a special agent of the Internal Revenue Department, who has been investigating the traffic in narcotics in Butte. Mr. Pritchard said the traffic in Butte amounts to thousands of dollars each month, and that the addicts in this city run into thousands.

During his stay in Butte, the special agent obtained evidence which resulted in the arrest of Dr. G. D. Bryant, a physician of Butte, and Wan Sing and Quong Chung, the latter two Chinese on Federal charges. The homes of the Chinese were raided and a quantity of opium, with full layouts for smoking, were seized.

"Tracing shipments of drugs which are sold in Butte, we have discovered that narcotics are being laid down here at a cost of $14.48 an ounce," said the special agent. "The drugs then are put out to intermediaries at $80 an ounce, and these men in turn sell the stuff at prices which vary up to $450 an ounce. The latter figure is reached when the vendor sells magnesia and milk, with a small quantity of drug mixed in."

"There is going to be no difficulty whatever in taking care of the men now with both Systems," he declared.

WATER IS FINE AT THE Y POINT

Brandon People Enjoy Vacation at Pelican Lake Camp

"Come on in, the water's fine," might be the slogan of the Brandon people who are enjoying a vacation at "Y" Point, Pelican Lake. W. S. Maguire has just returned from the Camp and reports everything in splendid shape. It has been several years since the water has been in as good condition for bathing as it is this season. Campers are revelling daily in the lake, some of them three of four times a day. Others are availing themselves of the opportunity of studying the habits of the many birds that are to be found around the Point. In this connection it is interesting to learn that at the Boys Camp recently concluded, the members discovered and in some cases drew pictures of ninety different species of birds and also found 150 different kinds of plant life, and were able to name practically all of them. The roads are in good shape at present for motoring.

HUNDREDS ENJOY PICNIC IN THE BRANDON HILLS

Old Timers' Forty-Second Gathering a Most Enjoyable Affair

STREAM OF MOTORS

Carried Large Number of People to Beautiful Spot in Hills

Brandon Hills Old Timers' held their forty-second annual picnic on Thursday afternoon. More than 500 people attended. The picnic was held on W. H. Dunbar's beautiful Oakside farm, the races and ball game being held in a natural amphitheatre, and the supper served in a picturesque grove beside the once well-known Lilly Lake, now a memory. The contents of the baskets provided for the guests proved of unequalled excellence, when served by well-known residents, the tea was hot and fresh and the picnic was an event to be long remembered.

Picnickers commenced to arrive about three o'clock, and for two hours there was a steady stream of motor cars. Visitors from Brandon and other outside points were given a royal welcome, and the picnic grounds presented a busy scene. Motor cars were parked in the bushes, children enjoyed the swings or secured cool refreshments at a booth presided over by the Brandon Hills Busy Bees, and where they took in $187. About five o'clock a splendid program of races was run off, including events for young and old, mostly the young, and when they were concluded supper was served. The benches in the natural park were filled while groups found seats on the ground.

There was one group of real old timers on one bench, five men whose ages when totalled, amounted to 410 years. They were Messrs. John Graham, Hugh Rice, J. C. Murray, Wm. Maher and James Milne. The youngest was Hugh Rice, and he is 76. Four of the five have long made their homes in the Brandon Hills district, and exchanged many interesting memories. For a group of veterans they are hard to equal, and their sturdy physiques, rugged health and alert mentality were favorably commented on by all who came in contact with them.

The picnic concluded after a baseball game between Rounthwaite and Hayfield, Rounthwaite winning a seven-one game by their superior batting ability.

FORT FRANCES POLICE ARREST WRONG MAN

The prisoner gave his name as George Harris, but denied ever having been in Brandon. He was released, and it is now stated that he will take action against the Chief of Police at Fort Frances for false arrest.

ternoon, but nevertheless the performers put lots of zip and pep into their work, and earned all the applause that the stand could give. Judging the performances Monday, the grand stand attractions this year are good.

Splendid Tumblers

Possibly the best act on the program and one which calls forth unstinted praise is the International Nine, pyramid builders and tumblers. These nine athletes do every stunt known to tumblers, and if there is anything missed out in their act, it is because it can't be done. Not only do they give a wonderful display of tumbling, but one feature of their act is the exhibition of strength given by one of their number when he holds eight men in the air at one time. The Ishikwa Brothers, Japanese equilbrists, gave a wonderful exhibition of hand stands, and what can be accomplished while walking along on their hands instead of their feet. These clever Japs do some particularly good work on a staircase, the feature of the act coming when one member of the troupe walks down a stair case on one hand, and finishes up with a balance act that is really marvellous.

Good Casting Act

The Four Lloyds casting act is also a good one, and is somewhat similar to the feature act of its kind at the Exhibition last year. Their work on the high bar and of casting one member of their quartette from one to another is exceedingly well done, and should be one of the features of the program. The comedy side of the attractions has Hamid's Old Fashioned circus dives, in which a number of comedians provided plenty of fun with some dives from a long incline. The real bit of merriment however is occasioned at the end of Torelli's circus, when an unridable mule proves conclusively that he is unrideable for everyone but his owner.

The ballet dancers under Madame Theo Hewe did not perform in the afternoon, but gave a finished performance in the evening. Two large spotlights aid materially in making this attraction a big feature of the program and one which was thoroughly enjoyed. There are some twenty-five girls in this series of dances which are given, while Ranoff, a dancer from the Metropolitan Ballet of New York, assists. The ballet also gave the 48th Highlanders' Band of Toronto, a chance to display their musical ability and they promise to give one of the finest band programs this week that has ever been given in front of the Grand Stand.

the Chippewas come from Balcourt, North Dakota. The majority of the Canadian Indians at the Exhibition hail from Griswold, but the Canadian redmen are in small proportion to the American visitors.

The American Indians have driven over 92 miles this year to take in the big Fair, it taking some of the duskies about three days to make the trip by ponies. On the road here, the Indians ran into considerable bad weather, the storm of Sunday night catching quite a large number of the travellers near Wawanesa, and many of the ponies broke loose from their tethers being frightened by lightening and thunder. Chief Gray Hawk, of Devil's Lake, is in charge of the encampment outside of the Fair grounds, this warrior being about 65 years of age.

The Indians will furnish several features on the platform during the Fair week, the War Dance, Tea Dance and Grass Dance being enacted in full Indian war paint and dress. Besides appearing on the platform, the Indians have a special tent in the Southern end of the grounds where Indian dances and songs will be sung for the entertainment of the spectators interested in viewing this feature. The parade through the principal streets of the city will also be carried out as usual in all the bright colors and dress that only the Indians can put on. Another feature will be staged some afternoon durthe week, when a relay race with Indian ponies will be run on the Exhibition track.

Many Interesting Figures

There are many interesting figures with the large encampment, including several old war chiefs and aged squaws. Perhaps one of the most interesting, as well as the best, educated Indian here is Frank Falling Cloud, who acts as interpreter for his kinsmen. Frank is well educat, ed, having attended Carlisle University in the United States, and having studied in several high schools. At the University, Frank was something of an athlete and played football and basketball with the great Jim Thorpe, possibly the greatest athlete in the world. In Indian, Frank's name is Mahypiyankokipapina, but the interpreter prefers his English name to the longer and almost unpronounceable native cognomen. Frank will be a very important figure at the Indian gatherings as he is called upon to do almost all of the explaining of the white man's talk for his people.

BRITISH AND GREEKS TO CLEAR OUT NATIONALISTS

Constantinople, July 19.—The British and Greeks are preparing to clear the Scular Peninsula of all Nationalists an destablish a line from Ismid to Chilehon on the Black Sea, which will control bandit raids against Bosphorus towns and check communications between Almer and Constantinople through Scatary Peninsula mountains. General Ironsides, of the British forces, probably will command the troops. The Turkish Nationalists continue to raid Greek villages. It was reported on July 15th that the village of Foulad, with a population of 2,000 was virtually wiped out. The Greeks were shut inside a church which was set on fire. Only 150 Greeks were left alive in the village.

FRANCE WILL KEEP HER WORD

Premier Millerand States in Referring to Ultimatum to Soviet Govt.

Paris, July 20.—Referring to Premier Lloyd George's ultimatum to Soviet Russia that if the armistice proposals were not accepted Great Britain and her Allies would defend Poland with all their forces in every way, Premier Millerand told the Chamber today, "France will keep her word as I am sure Great Britain will be faithful to hers."

BRITISH GOVERNMENT SEVERELY ATTACKED IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS

London, July 20.—The Government was severely attacked in the House of Commons last night when Wm. G. A. Ormsby, Gore Unionist moved an adjournment to call attention to the French policy in Syria and get a clear declaration of the British policy regarding it. He claimed that the moral responsibility of the British Government was deeply involved in view of the specific pledges it had given in support of Arabian independence.

TO PUT FORMER TOWN HOUSE OF EX-KAISER TO USEFUL PURPOSE

Berlin, July 17.—In the Berlin Schloss, the former Emperor William's town residence, on the banks of the Spree, is now installed the Psychological Institute of the University of Berlin. Scaffolding is still up, and workmen are leisurely repairing the front, which was badly scarred in parts by machine gun fire at the time of the revolution.

It's easier for you to make yourself tiresome than agreeable.

QUITS KITCHEN TO BECOME SHERIFF

Mrs Cates, of Oklahoma, is Making Good on Her Job

From the kitchen to the office of sheriff is a long jump, but Mrs. William Cates, of Duncan, Okla. has taken it—and is making good on the job, according to her deputies.

Mrs. Cates is the first woman to be appointed to the office of sheriff in Oklahoma or in the entire Southwest. She readily admits her age, forty-three years, and doesn't believe that her seven children are a handicap to her.

Mrs. Cates as the first woman to Commissioners of Stephens County came as the fulfillment of a promise they made her husband shortly before his death. As he lay on his bed, expecting death, he called the Commissioners to him and asked them to appoint his wife as his successor in the office after his death. This they did.

Three Stills Captured

That a woman can make just as good a sheriff and enforce the law just as well as a man is being demonstrated every day, Duncan citizens say. While this city is being flooded with oil field workers who are coming to help open up the new Duncan field, she has had no trouble in handling them.

Three stills have been captured. Mrs. Cates doesn't go on raids herself, but she says she is going to see that the moonshiners are cleaned out as fast as she learns of their activities. She has kept intact the force of deputies built up by her husband, and says she has implicit confidence in their ability.

Mrs. Alice Emery and little daughter Violet arrived in the city Saturday from Springstein, Man., and are the guests of the former's brother, Mr. H. Fenton, 738 Eighth Street.

SCOTCH ISLAND KINGDOMS LOYAL TO BRITISH CROWN

Most of Them Are Tiny Though Some Are Densely Populated

There are a number of diminutive water-surrounded monarchies off the coast of Scotland. They each have their kings, but are subject to the British crown. One of them is the Isle of Bute, in the Fifty of Clyde, which is owned by the Marquis of Bute.,

The kingdom contatins only fifty square milse, but has a population of 11,000 people. There are six lakes within the island, the largest being Loch Fad, which is about a quarter of a mile wide and about nine times that in length. The famous old home of the marquis dates back from the year 1608.

Arran is another of these kingdoms in the same firth. The Marchioness of Graham rules over 5,000 inhabitants. It is nineteen miles long and ten miles broad. It was on this island that Robert the Bruce is said to have hidden in a cave for some tim eand there planned one of his expeditions to recover the crown. The ruins of a castle, once the home of one of Scotland's kings, is on the island.

Sir John Bullough rules over the island of Rhuth, which is one vas tgame preserve. Nearly all this island is deep forest and moorland and all of it is mountainous. Only 300 acres are titliable, and there are 160 inhabitants. The island provides deer and other game for the nobility.

The largest of these island groups is doubtless Lewis island, one of the outer Hebrides group off the west coast ofScotland. It covers an area of nearly 700 square miles and boasts a population of 37,000 people. It has splendid lochs, where splendid fishing is to be had, and red deer stitll roam over the moors and forest land.

This ladn has a stirring history, for the people have always been fighters and have many times defeated the royal troops.

FANCY WORK OF FINE TEXTURE HIGH QUALITY

Almost All New and in Keeping With the Current Fashions

The Needlework exhibit at the Fair this year is one of unusual interest, the approximate value of the articles entered running into thousands of dollars.

Exquisite hand work, from both town and country women show that the old fashioned womanly art is not falling into disuse among Canadians.

Mrs. Winchell, in charge of the exhibition, says that almost all the entries this year are new. In old days, it seems, ladies would re-enter winning articles from year to year, but now the work is all new and modern, showing a tendency to keep strictly up with current fashions in matters of embroidery and sewing.

There is a large percentage of new exhibitors, from both Brandon and the entire province, and some of the articles come from the far West.

The fear of exhibiting beautiful hand-made goods which used to handicap thee exhibition, has entirely disappeared in the last year or two, and pieces of great value and uneness are cheerfully trusted in the hands of the fair people and this trust is instined, as nothing has been lost or stolen for a number of years.

ENGLISH PEOPLE ARE EXERCISING STRICT ECONOMY

Considerable Increase in Number of Business Failures in Last Few Months

BIG BUYING SEASON

Has Not Developed as Anticipated and Many Firms Suffer

London, July 27.—English people have determined upon a policy of strict economy resulting in a considerable increase in the number of bankruptcies during the last few months. These failures have occurred not only in London, but also in the provinces. Business men, however, are confronted by the fact that the aggregate number is far below the total for pre-war years, figures for 1919 being 737 as against 2,856 for 1914.

While many reasons are advanced for this state of affairs, the most acceptable one in business circles is the attitude of the buying public which has decided only to purchase absolute necessities. In consequence, traders who have purchased large stocks of goods at fancy prices in anticipation of quick and handsome profits, find themselves with "white elephants" on their hands and a non-buying public.

The goods had to be disposed of frequently at a big loss.

The recent bankruptcies included a number of demobilized men who started business with the proceeds of their gratuity and small savings. These men, for the most part, were inexperienced in the ways of trade and when a severe test came, they were forced to close their doors.

A woman proprietor of a high-class millinery shop in Bond Street explained recently that wealthy women who before the war bought generously in such specialty shops as hers, were unable to do so now, because of the tremendous increase in the cost of living, wages for servants, etc. These women now are only purchasing the necessities, the business woman added.

From every trade comes the report that [illegible] and business houses are [illegible] with an overstock of goods, purchased in hope of a big buying season this Spring and Summer.

KING POINTS TO GREAT OPPORTUNITY BEFORE CHURCH

By Identification with social as Well As Spiritual Life of People

London, July 27.—King George, in receiving the bishops attending the Lambeth conference, said:

"I am convinced that a great opportunity lies before the church today, if, acting in the spirit of your declaration, she will identify herself with the social as well as the spiritual life of the people, and set herself to serve as an interpreter and mediator, bringing lofty ideals and spirituality into close touch with the practical needs of the work-a-day world."

TO ST'R PYTHIANS TO GREATER EFFORTS

Grand Chancellor Shipman and Grand Prelate Campbell Making Tour

When war was declared many active members of the various lodges of the Knights of Pythias joined the colors and since the signing of peace there has been an active campaign for new members with the result that in the past eighteen months 75,000 men in Canada and the United States have become Knights of Pythias. The Order has a membership of three-quarters of a million in these two countries and 6,865 lodges. The total finances and resources amount to twenty-three million dollars.

According to Grand Chancellor Shipman and Grand Prelate Campbell who visited Brandon this week, prospects for the Order look very good. These officials are making a tour of the lodges in the Province and are urging efforts to increase the membership and to put the lodges in a good financial position. The principal object of the Order at the present time is to promote patriotism and good citizenship and to take an active part in community and relief work.

BRANDON SENDS OFFICIAL WELCOME TO PRESSMEN

Mayor Dinsdale Dispatches Message of Welcome From Brandon

An official welcome from the City of Brandon to the members of the Imperial Press delegation that will attend the big conference being held in Ottawa, was sent this morning by His Worship Mayor Dinsdale. While here the delegation will be entertained and shown all points of interest in and around Brandon.

The telegram dispatched this morning was addressed to Lord Burnham, who is chairman of the Empire Press Union. The telegram was directed to Sydney, Cape Breton, and reads as follows: "The City of Brandon, Manitoba extends to the Press Union its most cordial welcome to our shores. The conference will undoubtedly be productive of great benefit to the Empire."

BATTLE OF BALLOTS IN NOVA SCOTIA

Anything May Happen in Election in Province by the Sea

Halifax, July 27.—The culmination of the quietest provincial election in the history of Nova Scotia finds the issue, which will be decided today, as much in doubt as it was a month ago, when the Government, headed by Hon. George H. Murray, first announced an appeal to the people.

The uncertainty is largely due to factors which entered into a provincial campaign for the first time in the history of Nova Scotia. Included among these are the Women's Vote, an organized Farmers' party and an independent Labor organization. Leaders of each of the parties in the field gave out last night the usual expressions of confidence in the result, but to the man in the street the issue is very much clouded.

No questions of public policy are involved in the election and the campaign, which was brought to a close last night with last-minute rallies in all the more important centres of the province, early developed into one of local issues. In Halifax city and county, where fifteen candidates are in the running for the five vacant seats, the question has resolved itself into one of men.

EX-KAISER HAS MINIATURE COURT AT HIS NEW HOME

Within the "Forty Hectare Cage" The Discipline Is Prussian

VERY FEW VISITORS

Little Bit of Germany Has Been Set Up Within Dutch Borders

Doorn, Holland, July 27.—The former German Emperor, while professing a desire to lead at Doorn the quiet life of a country gentleman, has nevertheless created a little court around him—somewhat larger than that which he had at Amerongen and Dutch newspapers have already begun calling Doorn "The Little Potsdam."

The Allies' deands upon Holland to guard the former Emperor closely have made it impossible for William to mingle with the Dutch country gentry who have estates about Doorn and the house where he is said to expect to spend his remaining days is just like a little bit of Germany.

Strict military order prevails outside the House of Doorn, where passers-by must not be too curious. Within the discipline is Prussian. William's only associates are German. His entire staff, including approximately 40 servants are German, with one exception—the village barber, a Dutchman, is called in now and then to trim his hair or beard.

When at Amerongen, William went frequently to Doorn by automobile, but now, he is seldom seen outside the wire fence of his estate, which villagers call his "40 hectare cage." Forty hectares are about 80 acres.

The few times he has been out, he has paid visits to his former host, Count Bentinck, at Amerongen. Now and then, the former Crown Prince or others of William's song have been permitted to visit the exile, largely because of the illness of their mother, but from day to day, William seldom sees any new faces—only his daily associates.

SPECIAL WRITER VISITS BRANDON

Mrs. Harold Bayly, of Birmingham, England, to Tour Alberta

Mrs. Harold Bayly of Birmingham, England, special writer for the Birmingham Gazette and author of "Alberta" a handbook which is being used extensively in the schools of the Province of Alberta, was a visitor in Brandon today en route to Edmonton. During the next tw omonths Mrs. Bayly will make Edmonton and Calgary her headquarters while she tours the rural districts with the purpose of obtaining first hand information of conditions in Alberta. On her way West, Mrs. Bayly will stop off in Regina for a few days and then proceed via Saskatoon to Edmonton.

It is nine years since Mrs. Bayly made her first trip through Western Canada and although since that time she visited Japan and other countries, she had fallen in love with the Western Dominion during her visit in 1910, and planned to come back again. It was during her first trip through the West that she obtained the information for her book "Alberta" which so pleased the educational department of that province that they thought it excellent to use as a handbook in the schools to instruct the children about the resources, etc., of their own province.

Having planned to return to Western Canada in 1914, the trip was made impossible with the declaration o fwar and Mrs. Bayly commenced war work with the thoroughness and enthusiasm with which she seems to do everything. Mrs. Bayly spent three months in London and in 1915-16 was in France doing her bit. In 1916 she returned to Yorkshire and ran a munitions factory there, teaching 100 girls their various duties in the plant, where girls had never been employed.

Mrs. Bayly was in charge of the Munitions factory until January and in February she started on her long deferred six months trip to Western Canada.

On her way to the middle West, Mrs. Bayly spent two months in the United States visiting the factories in the large cities, and studying the conditions, etc. She was particularly interested in the industrial problems in Chicago, Ill., and while there addressed a large number of delegates attending the Industrial Galician Convention. Mrs. Bayly will return to Brandon in September and it is hoped, spend several weeks in the city.

RESOLUTE LEADS 13 MILES FROM FINISHING BUOY

Shamrock's Early Lead Cut Down by Cup Defender in Light Breeze

Flash—Resolute wins.

Sandy Hook, July 27.—At 5.39 with 13 miles to go to finish the Resolute was a mile in the lead.

The Resolute rounded the outer mark in the lead, the Shamrock being half a mile astern. Elapsed time, Resolute 3.01:29; Shamrock 3.05:37.

Having beaten Captain Adams, of the Resolute, for the position for the first time in the series, Captain Burton crossed the line on the starboard tack and then came about on the port tack. The Shamrock crossed the Resolute's bow at 2.32. The challenger footed very fast in the limpid aid and contrary to his former tactics, her skipper kept her right on the edge of the wind. The air was streaky offshore, but the Shamrock seemed to thrive on what the yachts were getting. At 3.50 the yachts had gone about six and a half miles of the first [illegible] the Shamrock had improved her position to weather and was leading by several hundred yards.

The Resolute was rappidly cutting down the Shamrock's lead having a better wind and at 4.10 was only a few yards behind the challenger.

Resolute Leads

The Resolute at 4.19 began to slip out ahead of the Lipton craft and had taken the lead from the challenger, although it was a slight one.

Resolute Leads Near Outer Mark

At 4.48 when the sloops were about 3 1-2 miles from the outer mark they went about on the port tack with the Resolute several hundred yards ahead of the challenger. At 5 p.m. the Shamrock was dropping behind. The outer tack was 1 1-2 miles away. The Resolute had picked up a better breeze and was speeding for the mark.

GRAND TRUNK TO PAY INCREASE TO EMPLOYES

According to Ottawa Journal Brotherhoods to Get Same Pay As in U. S.

Ottawa, July 27.—The Journal here publishes the following:

"The schedule of wage increases granted to United States railwaymen will be applied to the Grand Trunk system throughout Canada within the next two weeks, according to information from high officials of the company given to representatives of the men's brotherhoods, following the announcement of the award of the United States Labor Board in Chicago last week.

"In pursuance of the company's policy since the announcement of the McAdoo award, the increases will be put into effect on the Canadian lines of the Grand Trunk so that wages will be uniform with those on the United States lines of the system. The increase on the Canadian line will likely be antedated to May 1, in accordance with the United States award.

"W. G. Dewar, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers for the Grand Trunk system, stated that while the engineers accepted the increases as awarded by The Board, they were disappointed that the award did not come closer to meeting their demands."

TROOPS AND POLICE IN IRELAND SHOW NO PARTIALITY

Declares Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, Addressing Commons

PREVENT CATASTROPHE

In Belfast by Presence of Police Troops and Warships

London, July 27.—Sir Hamar Greenwood Chief Secretary for Ireland, declared in the House of Commons last night, that the troops and police had shown the sternest impartiality in Ireland and that the presence of the troops and warships had saved Belfast from a possible massacre of thousands and North Ireland from a devastating civil war.

In the House of Commons Joseph Devlin, Nationalists member for West Belfast, moved the adjournment to call the attention to the riots in Belfast and the alleged failure of the Government to afford adequate protection to Roman Catholics, asserting that the army of occupation in Ireland should maintain order impartially.

James Sexton, seconding the adjournment, stated that unless the horrible business ended quickly, he and his friends would no longer take the responsibility of keeping peace in the ranks of labor on the other side of the channel.

Sir Hamar Greenwood Chief Secretary for Ireland in reply repudiated the charge of partiality. All workers in Ireland would be afforded protection to the fullest extent irrespective of creed he said.

Prevented Catastrophe

Eighteen persons have been killed during the disturbances in Belfast and about two hundred wounded the Secretary stated and two hundred arrests were made. Replying in debate, Sir Hamar argued that the Government had prevented one of the greatest catastrophes that could have befallen Ireland. He said that if it had not been for the troops, police and warships in the case of Belfast, they might have had a massacre of thousands. [illegible] the riots and pleaded that in all parts of Ireland, men of all creeds should assist in putting down crime, and argued if the army was withdrawn Ireland's future would be incredibly bitter and sad.

Adjournment was refused and the House went into consideration of the Excess Profits Duty Bill, the proposal to limit which to the close of 1920, failed.

The Labor Party supported the Government.

Ready for Peace or War

Dublin, July 27.—The Freeman's Journal printed an article replying to the statement made by Premier Lloyd George last Thursday to a deputation of the Parliamentary Committee of the Trades Union Congress, in which the Premier declared he was as anxious as any man to see the Irish question settled on a basis acceptable to the majority of the Irish people and that the Government was prepared to go a long way in letting Ireland manage her own affairs if the necessary assurances were forthcoming.

"There is no serious obstacle in the present English Parliament to peace with Ireland, for the bulk of its members," says the newspaper, in its reply. "Ireland would welcome peace on a basis of full and free self-government, with one Irish Parliament, and one Irish Parliament only. She is also prepared for war, whether it be for five years, fifty years or a century. Which is it to be? let the English Cabinet answer, and quickly."

Addressing the Premier, the newspaper says: "We have been betrayed and deceived so often that we are determined not to be betrayed or deceived again. We want not soft soap and promises, but performances."

CORPORATION PLANS TO EXTEND DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM IN BRANDON

Mr. George Paterson returned home Monday from Cleveland, Ohio, where he visited the head office of the Canada Gas and Electric Corporation and conferred with the officials regarding conditions of the plant in Brandon. After a thorough discussion of the matter it was decided to extend the distribution system in Brandon so that it would cover the entire city. This had been contemplated before, but owing to the high cost of necessary materials it was not accomplished. However, as there seems to be no hope of a lowering of the cost the Corporation decided to proceed with the extension of the plant immediately.

BANDITS BATTLE FOR TREASURE ON CHICAGO STREETS

Four Persons Shot in Fight Over $10,000—Other Successful Hold-Ups

Chicago, July 27.—Two bandits and two express company paymasters were shot, one of the latter probably fatally, and $25,000 stolen in two daring payroll robberies on the West side, within 20 minutes of each other Monday afternoon. All the bandits escaped.

Five bandits, in a touring car, fought with three express company messengers in front of the Hart, Schaffner and Marx clothing factory, in the heart of the densely populated West side, and escaped with a steel box containing $10,000, after two of their number had been wounded.

More than 50 shorts were exchanged in the fight, while 200 pedestrians and employes of the factory looked on.

George Haubrock, one of the express paymasters, was shot through the head, and is not expected to live. Another messenger, Charles Gaude, was wounded in the leg.

MAKE BOULEVARD ON VICTORIA AVE CREDIT TO CITY

Parks Board to Complete Work First Undertaken Some Years Ago

Following a decision of the City Council authorizing the completion of the centre on Victoria Avenue, work will be commenced by the Parks Board almost immediately. This Avenue will become one of the most beautiful drive ways in the West when final plans are completed. The Parks Board will complete the building and seeding of the centre boulevard, while gravel and crushed stone will be used for a bedding for the street railway track which runs down the centre of the Victoria Avenue boulevard. It is expected to complete the work this Summer.

The Parks Board has also four men trimming the trees on the city boulevards. Superintendent Shrives stated this morning that there were 5219 trees in the city under the city's control, and [illegible] almost half of this [illegible] and the other half next year. The work was not done in 1919 and consequently many of the trees have grown too high, or branched too low over the sidewalk. The men have been at work over a week now, and are making good progress.

BIG CONFERENCE ANGLICAN CLERGY AT KILLARNEY

New Diocese of Brandon Will Be One of the Chief Topics of Discussion

Rev. E. A. Anderson, Rev. J. A. Maggrah and Mr. Robert Dawson, of Brandon, will attend the special conference of Anglican clergy which will be held in Killarney for three days this week. Clergy belonging to the deaneries of Brandon, Portage la Prairie, Dauphin Dufferin, Minnedosa, Pembina, Souris and Turtle Mountain will attend, and it is exp cted that the new Diocese of Brandon will be one of the chief topics of discussion. Mr. Dawson will be one of the principal speakers on Thursday and will deliver an address on "Obnoxious Weeds." The celebration of the centenary of the church in Western Canada, which will take place next October, will also be discussed.

Owing to the success of the Forward Movement financial campaign quite a large sum is already available for the endowment of the new Bishopric at Brandon. With the exception of part of Portage and Pembina all of the deaneries mentioned fall within the limits of the proposed ecclesiastical division, and the expectations are that definite plans will be made at this conference to bring the new diocese into existence. When the present diocese is formally divided it will relieve Archbishop Matheson of the administration of the whole Western portion of the Province.

AUTO RACE DAY A BIG FEATURE OF SUMMER FAIR

Every Seat in Big Grand Stand Filled to See Races and Attractions

DAREDEVIL CAMPBELL

Performed Most Sensational Stunts Ever Seen in the West

The attendance at the Provincial Exhibition kept up until the final day of the big Fair. The closing day of the Exhibition was featured by the largest attendance that has ever turned out for the last day at any previous exhibition. A crowd of spectators that filled every seat in the big grand stand and then overflowed into the enclosures, witnessed the auto races and a full program of grand stand attractions. It was "Auto Race" day at the Exhibition and thousands of out-of-town visitors came into Brandon especially to see the racing cars perform.

For another year the Provincial Exhibition is over, the big park looking very deserted now. Featured by almost ideal weather for five of the six days, the Provincial Exhibition had a splendid opportunity to set new records. Although Thursday was the real big day of the fair and smashed all previous records for attendance, Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday also saw new attendance figures set for those days. Monday was only an average day, while the heavy downpour of rain on Friday kept many thousands away from the grounds and called off the afternoon's program in front of the grand stand. Had Friday been as favorable as the other days, there is no doubt but what the attendance figures would have set a mark that would have been hard for any succeeding fair to equal.

The auto races provided keen sport for the crowd at the Exhibition on Saturday and not one accident marred the enjoyment of the day's program The performance was late in starting as the track was heavy and a lot of work was put on the speedway before it wa sready for the speed-eating autos. The grandstand attractions were put on according to program and they again delighted the spectators. Beginning with the Four Lloyds and finishing up with Madame Hewe's troupe of dancers in the evening, the acts brought forth as much applause as [illegible] week. The 48th Highlanders Band were especially good in their program and Bandmaster Slatter again responded generously with his encores.

Campbell and Casewell

Daredevil Mark Campbell and Aviator Casewell capped their sensational performances with the airplane on Saturday night by the most remarkable stunts ever seen here. Seated on the top plane with nothing to hold on to Mark Campbell looped the loop and brought a regular buzz of excitement from the spectators until this thriller was finished. It was the biggest act of the week and capped a most remarkable exhibition by Campbell, who had previously hung by his knees from the moving plane, walked out on the wings, stood on his head on the hood of the machine and done every imaginable stunt on the fast going plane that a human being could do, and live to tell the tale. It was a "flirt-with-death" act of the highest order, and a safe bet that there are few competitors in Campbell's line of business.

Wonderful Indian Costumes

The Indians had a big share on the program Saturday and they presented a truly wonderful picture as they paraded in front of the stands in their native costumes and war paint. There was about one hundred Indians on the platform at one time, the majority of the visiting red men and squaws coming from the United States, although there was a large number present from the Griswold reseerve. The Sun Dance was first offered by the Indians and this was just another version of the now famous shiver dances. A brand new dance was introduced by the Indians, in what they called at two-stey, and was the first time ever put on before an audience.

The war dance was the most spectacular dance of the program however and afforded the braves in their war paint and fancy dress an opportunity to give a real imitation of the dance that carried fearful results with it less than sixty years ago. A tug-o'-war between two picked teams was a good one considering that the Indians in their mocassins could get no foothold on the smooth platform. After a three minute tug, Rain-in-the-Face's teeam won the special prizes offered for this event.

Prizes for the best dressed Indians and squaws were then awarded by Mrs. C. E. Murphy, wife of the General Superintendent of the C.P.R. The prize for the best dressed American Indian was awarded to "Sitting Bull," while the prize for the best dressed Canadian went to Charlie Cash. A brilliant array of color and beaded work in the dress of Emma, won for her the prize for the best dressed American Indian squaw, while "Washday," a handsome Canadian squaw secured first for Canadian ndian women.

Indian Pony Race

The relay race in the evening provided some fun and also some very good racing by Indian ponies. There were four Indians entered in the race, each redskin having a mile and a half on three different horses, changing his saddle at each half mile. It was a race between three of them only in the first half, while the second lap saw one of the Indians named Andrew White take a big lead. Tom Wanda had left his fastest pony for the last half mile, and in a great finish on the home stretch, caught White and passed him and finished with over fifty yards to spare. The time for the mile and a half was four minutes and fifteen seconds.

Midway Features Move

Following the evening program it did not take the Midway and program features long to pack up. When the crowd poured out of the grand stand there was little for them to enjoy on the Midway, many of the shows having started "packing up" operations early in the evening. A few of the side-show features stayed open until a late hour in the hope of gathering in several large crowds, while tre various blanket, kewpie and chocolate wheels did a great business before closing down. The Johnny J. Jones' shows worked practically all Saturday night in an effort to get the shows packed on their special train, which departed for Regina on Sunday.

Ninety Cars of Stock

There were over ninety cars of stock taken out of the city on Saturday, Sunday and today, this number creating a record as far as the local exhibition is concerned. The largest livestock entry that has ever featured a Provincial Fair accounted for the extra number of stock cars needed to take away the animals and poultry on the closing days of the big Fair. Today and all this week a large gang of men will be put at work cleaning up the grounds at the Exhibition Park. "Successful from every standpoint," is the verdict of the Fair officials, who regard this year's exhibition as the best ever held in Western Canada.

DRUG ADDICT FOUND ON FLOOR DIES IN HOSPITAL

Edward Eul Had Evidently Taken an Overdose of Drug

HAD A CONCESSION

At the Summer Fair—Coroner Decides Inquest Not Necessary

As the result of an overdose of morphine or some other drug, Edward Eul, who operated a bowling alley on the Exhibition grounds last week, passed away in the Brandon General Hospital, Sunday afternoon. Sunday morning Dr. Bolton was called to the home of Mr .W. Mayo, 852 Twelfth street where Mr. Eul had been staying during the Exhibition. Mr. Eul was found on the floor in his bedroom in a semi-conscious condition, and from articles found in the room and marks on the man's arms, it was evident that he was a drug addict. The late Mr. Eul was removed to the Hospital where he seemed to rally, but early in the afternoon began to sink rapidly, his death occurring about three o'clock. The deceased was about twenty-five years of age and from papers found on him, it is thought that he was a returned soldier and that his home is in Minneapolis, Minn. He had, however, been travelling around to the different Fairs in the United States and Canada. Dr. Condell decided that an inquest was not necessary.

SIX HORSE TEAMS MADE WONDERFUL SHOW IN PARADE

Spirited Animals Appeared to Be Keeping Time to Band Music

LYTLE BROS. WIN

Premier Honors on Six Beautiful Well Matched Clydesdales

Awards in the six-horse teams were placed in front of the Grand Stand Thursday evening. This showing of horses was indeed a great for horse lovers. With heads erect and stepping as if they were keeping time to the Kilties' band, five magnificent teams, comprising 30 horses, swung into line and awaited the decision of the judges. Premier honors went to Lyttle Bros., of Roland, on six beautiful well-matched Clydes. Lyttle Bros. are to be congratulated on their showing here this year as they have won awards in every class in which they showed, and to top the winnings with the much-coveted six-horse class is indeed a very creditable showing for one firm. Ed. Down and Sons, of Holland, was not far behind when he took second with his six Clydes. Third went to Elton Municipality; fourth, Vance, of Crandall.

Registered mares in harness to wagon. Twelve magnificent pairs of mares, valued at over $25,000, paraded the ring for over an hour, before judges Gibson and Dowell. They finally settled on a beautiful pair of well-mathched Clydesdales, well finished, handsomely harnessed and well driven, owned by Isaac Cormack. Second, R. G. Huxtable, Conquest; third, Ed. Down and Sons, Holland; fourth, G. W. Marshall, Brandon.

Heavy draft team in harness to wagon. First award went to P. Dawley, of Carroll; second place to Lyttle Bros., of Roland; third, Wm. Lindsay, of Neepawa.

Team farm chunks in harness to wagon. First, T. Chambers, Brandon; second, A. Mulkins, Fairfax.

In the agricultural class for teams in harness, a splendid line-up of well matched, useful horses, arrayed themselves before the judge. There were ten entries in this class, and no poor ones.

Lyttle Bros., of Roland, secured first and second on four beautiful Clydes well harnessed. Third place went to S. Lindsay, of Neepawa, and fourth to [illegible]

Four-horse tandem teams, open to bona-fide farmers. First went to L. Cormack, of Glenboro; second, Lyttle Bros., Roland; third, Ed. Down and Son, Holland; fourth, M. C. Vance, of Crandall.

HORSES

Belgians

In the three-year-old class 4 entries lined up. First went to Pioneer Masterpiece, owned by Geo. Rupp, of Lampman. This is a grand colt displaying a top and showing style and quality rarely seen in a Belgian; second was awarded to C. D. Roberts and Son, on Orpha's Boy; third Besmarck, Vanstone and Rogers.

Aged Belgians. First, Bismarck, Vanstone and Rogers; second, Fox de Fare, C. D. Roberts and Son; third, Judson, C. D. Roberts; fourth, Guill, Vanstone and Rogers.

Clydesdales

Clydesdales stallion foaled in 1917—1, Down Lodge Conquest, Mrs. W. H. Bryce, Arcola; 2 also went to Bryce Farm on Down Lodge Scott; 3rd, Footprints Legacy, exhibited by Matthew Tyndall.

The aged class for Clydesdales produced eight entries. This class is always smaller in the Summer months owing to the fact that the good sires are all on the road—1st place went to Ben Finlayson on Carbrook Steel, a very typical horse showing wonderful style with a splendid set of underpining; R. M. McLean was second with Teriot Knight, a horse slightly smaller than Steel, but very well balanced: third award was given to Manchausen, shown by J. Graham, of Carberry; fourth, Belleisle, McPhail & Crawford, Chater.

In the special class for group of five stallions, or mares any draft breed, Mrs. Bryce, of Arcola, was first, on a string of very uniform Clydesdales, while W. H. Devine, of Brandon, was second with five Percheron stallions.

Groups of five grade horses any age or breed or sex, first and second, Lyttle Bros., Roland.

In stallions foaled in 1918, Downe Lodge Chancellor, a product of the Bruce Farm of Sask., secured first, a colt displaying a great deal of true with a wonderful underpining; second place went to Johnston Pride, by Johnston Count, shown by Oliver Mullin, of Myrtle, a thicker colt than the first place horse with hardly as much quality; 3rd Noble Farmer, owned by Mathew Tyndall, Bradwardine; fourth, Chief Haig, R. H. Bryce, St. Charles.

For fillies foaled in 1917 Mrs. Bryce of Arcola, again walked off with the premier honors on "Downe Lodge White Heather," a colt with great underpining and a flashy mover; second went to W. D. Galbraith, on Cocas Choice; third was Bonnie Belle Blue, McKirdy Bros., Napinka; fourth also went to McKirdy Bros. on Royal Lady Lee.

Fillies foaled in 1918, gave Mrs. Bryce, of Arcola, first, second and third, on Deaston Marion, Downe Lodge Mary, Downe Lodge Marjory. Fourth went to John Kirkpatrick, of Kennay, on Dandy.

Fillies foaled in 1919: R. H. Bryce, of St. Charles, was first on Deanston's Choice. Second went to A. Galbraith, of Hartney, on Bright Queen Mary. Third was Perpetual Queen.

Brood mare with foal by side: First, Deanston Ina, R. H. Bryce, St. Charles. Second, Beatrice Cordonald, Wm. McCrae, Hayfield. Third, P. Dawley, Carrol. Fourth, Wm. McCrae, Hayfield.

Yelding mares produced a strong class. To quote Judge Gibson the class was to good for the welfare of the breed. The Brandon Experimental Farm was first on Colony Peggy, surely a handsome beast, showing size, a wide, flat-foot and a snappy mover. Second went to Mrs. Bryce, of Arcola, on Doune Lodge Silver Maple. Third also went to Mrs. Bryce on Doune Lodge June Mist.

Percherons.

Percherons made a very creditable showing in stallions foaled in 1918. Geo. T. Fraser was first on Count Vim. Second went to Maplegrove Lagos, owned by W. H. Kerr, of Regina. Third also went to Fraser of Tate, Sask. on Iscarpe.

Fillies foaled in 1917 produced a nice lot of colts. Caroma, owned by Geo. T. Fraser, a very uniform mare, with exceptionally good under pinning, was first. Second and third went to J. Tett, of Foxwarren, on Dunhams Marvel and Karmine.

Fillies of 1918. C. D. Roberts, on Winnipeg, was first with Lagovine. Second went to Geo. Fraser, with Louise.

Brood mare with foal by side gave G. W. Marshall first on Minnje. Second Maud Adams, owned by M. E. Vance, Crandall. Third, Marguerite, Fraser Bros, Pilot Mound.

The three-year-old class of percherons produced a stronger class than the Clydesdales. This is something that is beginning to tell at this fair. A few years ago the show was practically all clydesdales with a sprinkling of inferior percherons and belgians. Now we find the Percheron classes well filled.

C. D. Roberts was first with Calabs Grove Paulis. This colt has won at all the fairs in the west and was reserve champion here last Spring; second went to J. H. Tett, of Foxwarren on Carim, a likely looking colt with hardly the symmetry of the first place animal; third, Fraser Bros.' Pilot Mound with Herbert H., fourth, W. H. Devine, Brandon, on Seal.

The aged class of Percherons brought out fourteen entries. With one or two exceptions, the animals were all good specimens. First place went to C. D. Roberts, of Winnipeg, on Monarch, a finely turned horse, showing exceptional quality a splendid set of underpining and has a rattling snappy stride; second went to W. H. Devine, on Durant, a horse with quite a show record, he is a magnificent big horse with hardly the quality of the Robert's horse; third also went to Devine on a neat black horse, Sheldon D., with not as much range as those above him.

She displayed a great deal of breed type and carried a load of flesh smoothly. Second award, Perfection Lass 5th, L. O. Clifford, Oshawa, Ont., an equally good animal, hardly as smooth as Miss Joy. Third Lady Britisher, owned by Jas. Moffat, of Carrol. 4th, Curtice Cattle Co. on Belle Donald.

The aged cow class produced very keen competition, J. D. McGregor's cow, Shadeland of Erica made a sensational win when she defeated Carpenter & Ross's famous imported cow, Pride of Maisemore. W. J. Parish, of Winnipeg was third with a cow of McGregor's breeding, Heatherbloom of Glencarnock.

For heifers calved July 1, 1917 to June 30, 1918, Carpenter & Ross secured first with their $6,500 heifer, Elmona. Glencarnock Beauty, J. D. McGregor, Brandon, was a close second. Carpenter & Ross were third with Pride of Meadow Lane, while fourth went to Jas. Turner, of Carrol, on Kalmia.

She is [illegible] animal and one for which their is a great future. Second went to Carpenter & Ross on an equally nice animal, wh-h did not, however, display nearly as much type as McGregor's calf. Third award was given to McGregor and Brown, of Griswold, on Envious of Glencarnock. Fourth, Carpenter & Ross on Muskogee Erica.

Heifer calved on or after January 1, 1920. First, J. D. McGregor; second, McGregor & Brown; Third, Jas. Turner, Carrol.

POLICEMAN KILLED WHILE MAKING SIGN OF CROSS

Irish Assassins Slay Victim Within Portals of Church

Cork, Ireland, July 26.—Police Sergeant Mulhern, chief of the Intelligence Department of West Cork, was shot dead Sunday at the door of a church at Bandon, 20 miles Southwest of Cork. He had left the police barracks shortly before, in civilian attire, and arrived at the porch of the church just as mass commenced, nearly all of the worshippers already being inside. He paused at the entrance, dipped his fingers in the font, and was killed while actually making the sign of the cross.

Mulhern's assailants were two masked men, hiding on the porch, who suddenly fired several revolver shots at arms-length and then escaped. Death was instantaneous. All members of the congregation were so horror-stricken that the service was suspended for an hour.

Reprisals Follow Attack on Girl

Dublin, July 26.—At Newport, Tipperary, last night, a gang of men sheared the hair from a girl because she was keeping company with a policeman. Exasperated at the outrage, soldiers and police turned out and burned the houses of all the principal Sinn Feiners, causing them to fly for their lives.

Two coastguard stations in the Bearhaven district were raided today. In one of the raids, at Ballygarvene, Chief Officer Snewin and Petty Officer Brown were killed.

AUTO RACES AND AUTO POLO GAMES ON SATURDAY

About 7,000 Spectators Watched the Cars Speeding Over Slippery Track

The lowering of the Manitoba record for one mile featured the auto races held Saturday at the Exhibition grounds The auto races were the feature program of the closing day of the largest Exhibition ever held in Brandon, and about 7,000 spectators viewed the thundering motor cars as they careened around the track at almost a mile a minute clip. There was a weary wait of almost two hours while the track was being put in shape for the speed events. The heavy rains of Friday left the home stretch in a muddy condition, and some twenty-five local cars raced round and round the track, and assisted by two teams with drags, succeeded in putting the speedway in pretty fast condition for the races.

There was probably not as much excitement connected with this year's races as formerly, although the time made by the drivers was better than was made in 1919. No accidents marred the sport, and the slippery condition of certain parts of the track did not seem to affect the speed kings. Several cars skidded dangerously on some of the turns but good piloting kept the racing cars in position, although it lost the race for three cars in the afternoon. Ray Lampkin was out of the pursuit race with a flat tire, but otherwise the racing cars went in perfect condition.

The track record for Manitoba was lowered in the second event, when Sig. Haughdahl went after the then existing mark of 1.08 held by Jules Ellingboe. This mark was set in 1919. Sig. Haughdahl is the acknowledged dirt track champion and made a new Canadian record of 1.02¼ at Edmonton about three weeks ago. The condition of the track on Saturday excluded him from making a more serious attempt to break his Canadian mark, but he shattered the Manitoba record in clean fshion. His roaring Essex creation at up the first half mile in the record time of 32¼ seconds, and then completed the mile in the new time of 1.05. Haughdahl was the only one of the racers to go after the new mark, his successful attempt apparently scaring off the other competitors.

The Matched Race

The matched race between Rowe Brainard and Sig. Haughdahl provided the keenest and best sport of the afternoon. Brainard is only a youth but he has recently been making rapid strides towards the top rung of the auto racing world. The race was for two miles with a speeding start, and the two cars made a great race for it. For the first lap the two speedsters raced hood to hood, with the Canadian champion hugging the outside edge of the track and Brainard preferring to make the pace next the pole. Neither speed king was able to get the advantage during the second round, but in the third lap Haughdahl's car showed just a trifle ahead of its competitor. Brainard made a great attempt to nose out Sig. Haughdahl on the home stretch but failed by about three yards. The time was very fast, the two miles being made in 2.29.

The Dominion Sweepstakes for a purse of $1,500 saw seven cars get away in three tiers and it was a pretty race with four cars making the pace and the remainder eating the dust. Ray la Plant, who made a poor showing during the day, led the field for two miles then he dropped behind in second place and finally out of the race in the fifth lap. Rowe Brainard then moved up into the leadership with Haughdahl forcing the leader hard for the premier position. At the beginning of the fourth mile the Canadian champion let his car out a bit and the result was to carry Haughdahl into first place with Ray Claypool also displacing Brainard for second position. For the final three laps the cars raced into this order, Haughdahl carrying his car over the finish line a winner, with Claypool and Brainard following. Ray la Plant dropped out and Red Rick finishing away behind the leaders. The time was given as 6.33 for the five miles.

The five mile pursuit handicap race was run by Ray Claypool whose speedy machine overhauled his three competitors and netted him $300. Ted Rick, Ray la Plant and Ray Lampkin were the other entries but they failed to show the speed necessary to hold up in the race and were passed by Claypool before the last lap was reached. The first event on the afternoon's race program brought out four entries, but Rowe Brainard was the successful pilot after a hot race with Ray Claypool and Leon Duray. The time made in this race was 2.32 for the two miles.

Some good sport was furnished in the evening when a free-for-all race was held in which seven cars entered for the special prizes hung up for this event. This race afforded possibly the keenest competition of the day, and was run in two heats. The best race was seen in the first heat, when Rowe Brainard pushed his car into first place after a stirring and exciting race with Duray and Haughdahl. The time made for the two miles was very fast, and the drivers showed some remarkable work in negotiating the turns at top speed. The second heat brought out three entries and in this Ray Lampman earned the right to enter the final when he snatched a win from Claypool.

The final heat brought both Brainard and Lampkin together and on their work in the first rounds it looked like a win for the youthful driver of No. 21, Rowe Brainard. His car showed all kinds of speed, and had it been speed alone that decided the contest he would have won. But on the third lap, Lampkin, by a daring piece of driving, cut in ahead of Brainard and took the pole position forcing the latter to slow up on the East turn and the race was almost over. Brainard could not pick up the distance he had lost by Lampkin's clever manoeuver and he was away back of Lampkin at the finish. The time for the final was 23.2.

Two Auto Polo Games

Although auto polo did not figure as one of the sensations at this year's Exhibition, it was very much a feature of Saturday's program. Two games were staged, one in the afternoon and the other in the evening, with the American team winning on both occasions. The sport proved just as dangerous as it did on previous occasions here, and the cars went through fences, turned turtle and smashed wheels, all in a thrilling half hour's sport. The first game of the afternoon saw Brainard and Daly team up with the American side and Lampkin and Claypool form the Canadian side. Both Brainard and Daly had an upset in the first period when their car tried to climb over the Canadian auto without success. There was no score in this period, but in the second half, the American pair scored the first counter. The Canadian team missed some excellent chances to score, before they were finally rewarded by pushing through the equalizer. The third and deciding goal was an easy one, Daly scoring from the face-off.

The evening auto polo game was featured again by the excepitonally good work of both Brainard and Daly, and they had no trouble in again winning for the American team, the score being 2-0. As a driver, Brainard had it all over Lampkin, While Daly far outclassed Claypool with the mallet. Daly rarely missed his swings at the ball and could drive with much more strength than his opposing mallet man. Coupled with some really good work at the wheel by Brainard, the pair were almost unbeatable.

REFERENDUM ON AWARD BY U. S. LABOR BOARD

Strong Plea Against a Strike Although Award is Disappointing

Chicago, July 26.—The order for a country-wide referendum by railway employes on the wage award of the Federal Labor Board was completed Sunday, with a strong plea against a strike, at a meeting of the executives of the railroad brotherhoods, before they departed.

"The Labor Board,' the order states, 'is the highest court of appeal in this controversy. No higher tribunal is created by the Transportation Act, and its decision must either be accepted or rejected without further negotiation

"Although the award was much less than the employes should have been awarded, much less than they were entitled to, and although they are, and have a right to be, disappointed with the amount of increase in wages granted, more than 84 per cent of them have agreed, through their representatives, to accept the award."

Y. BOYS ENJOY EDUCATIONAL TOUR OF FAIR

Notes Taken of Feature Events So That Essays May Be Written Later

Some thirty "Y" boys, accompanied by their "Big Brothers" made the tour of the Fair Wednesday. Arrived at the grounds, the suppers were stowed, the boys divided into groups, and the tour comemnced. A lengthy schedule had be set up, but the boys became so interested in the horse and cattle judging, live stock inspection, poultry examination and machinery demonstration, that the remaining exhibits were left open for the evening.

The boys gathered for supper at 5.30 when full justice was done to the good things provided by mother. During the latter part of the afternoon the boys dispersed and visited the grand stand attractions, inspected the airplane and went through a number of the best side-shows. According to the flow of conversation during supper the boys had gained an encyclopedia of knowledge from all sources, during the afternoon.

During the evening the tour was resumed. Again note books were produced, and notes taken. The Horticultural exhibit took the attention of the boys for quite a time, while they discoursed upon the relative merits of the array of flowers, vegetables, grains and grasses.

The Dairy products exhibit also proved a source of great interest. The boys took away pamphlets dealing with dairy, cooking, canning, etc., as though they owned farms and were trying to find out how best to run them.

The nurse in charge of the Soldiers' exhibits took time to tell the boys all about the work done by the Returned Men in both the Brandon and Tuxedo hospitals, and to show them the results of the work done by these men.

The boys completed the tour by a visit to a picture show demonstration especially arranged for them during the afternoon. Again they obtained a knowledge of the most up to date methods of farming by electricity, while a diversion was created by the alternation of comic films. By this time the boys had gained more than enough material for their essays, and were allowed to disperse to enjoy themselves in their own way for the remainder of the evening.

Two Men and One Woman Killed in Riots—Workers Return to Jobs

Belfast, July 22.—Belfast this morning was quiet after a night of sanguinary fighting between the Sinn Fein and Unionist mobs, but the situation was tense and the military with armored cars were patrolling the affected areas. Rain was falling and it was hoped this would prove a deterrent to further rioting. Casualties thus far recorded are two men and one woman killed and twenty treated at hospitals for serious shot wounds. Fifty-four arrests were made. Unofficially, estimates place the property damage and looting done by the mob at about $500,000.

This morning workers returned to the shipyards as though nothing had happened, although trouble was started in the yards yesterday after a number of Sinn Fein employes had been attacked.

The jumping competition was perhaps the feature of the evening and brought out a very classy field. I. M. Winslow was finally awarded first place, after a keen contest with Miss Della Lemon's entry. PRODUCERS PLAN TO CONTROL GRAIN

Chicago, July 24.—Plans for co-operation in the marketing of grain and livestock and development of better marketing facilities were discussed Friday at a meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

The organization plans a permanent bureau in Chicago, vested with authority to determine the best means of disposing of produce through co-operative efforts. This would eliminate speculation and stabilize prices to consumer, the speakers said.

"We plan to organize local grain interests in every state, so that the producers will have control of the grain until it reaches the consumer," said J. R. Howard, President of the Federation.

DAREDEVIL CAMPBELL FLIRTS WITH DEATH; SENSATION OF FAIR

Mark Campbell Stands With Outstretched Arms On Top of Swiftly Moving Plane, Over Which He Later Crawls Like a Human Fly—Hangs by Legs From Gear Beneath Plane While Travelling More Than Fifty Miles an Hour—Rounded Roof of Plane Driven by Casewell Bears Nothing That Affords a Safe Handhold Even When Resting on the Ground

There have been thrills furnished in the front of the Grand Stand in previous years, but there never was such a thrilling stunt enacted in Brandon as that performed by Daredevil Mark Campbell, Wednesday evening. To say that this intrepid young man flirts with death would be putting it mildly, for his airial stunt borders on the sensational. Gasps of amazement came from the crowded stands as Campbell pulled every imaginable thriller that anyone could perform in the air, and come through it successfully enough to acknowledge the plaudits of the spectators on the platform a few minutes later.

Campbell's thrilling act is done in conjunction with Aviator Casewell, the local birdman. Promptly at 7.45 Casewell and Campbell move in sight over the Exhibition track, and from the minute that The Daredevil Performer crawled out on the cross arms and waved his hands to the crowd, the act was the feature one of the Exhibition. Flying into the South, Casewell brought his machine into full view of the crowds and Campbell cooly crawled out on top of the plane and stood upright, with the plane flying at an estimated speed of over fifty miles per hour. He was holding on to nothing, and one can imagine what a hold can be had on that.

Wednesday a Busy Day

hibition exceeded last year's mark by over 700 paid admissions," said Manager Smale at the close of the third day, " and it must be remembered that Wednesday created a new record for the Brandon Fair in the way of attendance." This is some idea of the success which greeted the first real big day of the Fair. Splendid weather, large crowds and a feature program all tended to make Wednesday one long to be remembered in Fair history. From noon time until late in the evening there was a steady throng of people through the main gates and out on to the Midway and scattered through the big grounds Special trains brought many persons here, but the real crowds arrived by automobiles, hundreds of drivers braving weather conditions to bring their loads of passengers to Brandon.

That the stock is attracting much more interest than ever before is reflected in the grand stand receipts. There were more people in the grounds than on the same day last year, but not so many people in the grand stand, which indicates clearly that the outside attractions are proving to be strong drawing cards.

Great Day for Shorthorns

Wednesday was a great day for Shorthorns, this class being the largest ever assembled in Canada, according to expert opinion. L. A. Bowes, of Calgary, won the senior and Grand Championship for Shorthorn females and J. G. Barron, of Carberry, secured Junior and Reserve Grand Champion. Carpenter and Ross of Mansfield, Ohio, were also winners, their most notable win being in the class for aged cows, when eleven high class animals were entered. The largest class of the day brought out nineteen entries this being in the senior heifer calves. Bowes, of Calgary, secured first and Yule, second.

Aberdeen Angus

The largest classes in the history of the Aberdeen Angus breed turned out in the ring and a record was made when seven bulls appeared in the ring in one class. J. D. D. McGregor, of Brandon, secured first with Black Cap McGregor, and also secured the third award. In the class for yearling bulls, McGregor and Brown, of Griswold, were first, while in bulls calved between July, 1919, and December, 1919, Ed. Harte secured first. J. D. McGregor carried off the senior and grand championship with the famous Black Cap McGregor, while McGregor and Brown, of Griswold, got the junior championship, and Ed. Harte, the Junior reserve.
