The horses also were the centre of attraction for those who love the best in horseflesh, and there was plenty of keen competition. Mrs. Bryce, of Arcola, R. H. Bryce, of St. Charles, the Brandon Experimental Farm and C. D. Roberts, of Winnipeg, were the principal winners.

The professional butter-making contest on Thursday afternoon drew a large crowd, to the Dairy Exhibit, in the Crystal Palace. The competition will be furnished Friday.

There were not enough entries in the boys' and girls' classes to make a contest, and only one day was given to the amateur contest, in which five girls from the Normal School contested. They placed as follows: Miss Anna Gray, first; Miss Ella B. Milne, second; Miss Mary M. Leeson, third; Miss Violet G. Ward, fourth.

Fine Arts Exhibition Success

Judging in the Fine Arts was finished by Dr. Bush, of Winnipeg, early Wednesday afternoon. The China exhibit was the largest ever shown here and gained very sincere praise from the judges. Some of those who placed first in the different classes of hand-painted china, were Mrs. Batho, of Winnipeg, Mrs. Adamson and Miss Hatfield, of Ottawa, Mrs. McPhail and Mrs. Laidlaw, of Brandon, and Miss Simmons, of Winnipeg.

Mrs. Batho also took second prizes in the amateur photography classes. First prizes in the photography section, for groups of six pictures, went to J. J. Wall, of Brandon, for farm scenes, to Chas. Ramsay, Airdrie, for portraits, and to Mrsi C. Dennis, Rapid City, for Exhibition pictures.

Two silver medals were awarded in the oils section, one to F. W. Barter of St. Vital, for a copy of one of the old masters, the other to Alice M. Chapman, of Brandon, for an excellent monochrome.

Kitchen Products Need a Guard

In the little Dairy Building, next to the Crystal Palace, the home-baked breads and pastries, and the home canned preserves, fruits and vegetables are on exhibition. The judging was finished late Wednesday afternoon, and from the looks of the exhibits one of the Mounted Police is needed on duty, to keep the hungry mob from running away with things.

Most of the prizes were taken by Mrs. Robert Lane, and Mrs. Sawyer, of Brandon, and Mrs. John Munby, of Beresford, the latter taking several first prizes in fancy pastries, cakes and buns. Mrs. Munby is the lady that also walked away with all the egg prizes.

The judges considered the entries in fruits, vegetables and preserves of better class than the other entries. No first prize was given to soaps or to smoked or salted meats, as the entries were not considered worthy, but in all other departments, the preserved foods were of high quality.

Mr. McIntosh did the judging for the bread, and Miss Gertrude Dutton for the canned goods and pastries. A large crowd of women, with a good sprinkling of men, filed past the tables on which the goods are spread.

Swine Judging Finished

Judging of swine in all classes was finisheed Wednesday afternoon. First pries in the Bershires were divided between the Wright Farms, at Drinkwater, and the Canada Land & Irrigation Company, Mediicne Hat. Manitoba Agricultural College had the Grand Champion Boar, and the Canada Land & Irrigation Company the Reserve Champion. The Grand Champion Sow was shown by the Canada Land & Irrigation Company, with the Reserve Champion from the Wright Farms.

Moore & Compton made a good showing, placing second and third in a number of classes. An unusually large number of Berkshires were entered, and all of them were animals of a superior type.

Asylum Farm Shows Prize Yorkshires

The Brandon Asylum Farm showed the best Yorkshires, their two-year-old, and year-old boars placing first, one of these animals being the Grand Champion Improved Yorkshire at the show C. W. Thurston, of North Regina, took every first for sows, and also, the Grand Champion Sow of all ages was shown by this exhibitor. Manitoba Agricultural College also made a good showing, and held the Reserve Champion Boar.

Poland Chinas Strong

Thee contest was close in Poland Chinas, the animals being of almost uniform excellence. T. H. Wieneke, of Stony Mountain, took six firsts, and also showed the Grand Champion Pen, the Grand Champion Boar and the Reserve Champion Sow. Manitoba Agricultural College showed the sow which was awarded the Grand Championship, but this award is being contested, because of a ruling which disqualified the sow from first place in the class of breeding sow with pigs. The animal under question was placed first in this class, although two of her litter shown had been sold by the College, before the show, which may prove a disqualifying condition.

Mr. D. W. Agnew, of Douglas, made his usual good showing with all the swine he entered in the Poland China class.

Bailey and Son Win in Durocs

All of the places but one in the Duroc-Jersey class went to J. W. Bailey & Sons, Wetaskiwin. Mr. E. C. Harte, of Brandon, took second prize with his two-year-old Boar. The number of exhibitors in this class was small, but the animals shown were prize-winers, anyhow.

The Asylum Farm, at Brandon, won the prize offered by Swift and Company, for the best pen of bacon hogs.

Eastern Sheep Breeder Win Prizes

It begins to look as though all of the best positions in all classes of sheep will go to Eastern breeders. Mr. J. K. Thomson, of Stratford, Ont., won most of the first in the Leicester class, and P. Arkell & Sons, of Teeswater, Ont., most of the first in the Oxford Downs. Sheep are not raised so much in the West yet, and the breeders do not know how to fit their animals for showing like the Easterners do.

Agnew Wins Wool Prizes

Mr. D. W. Agnew, of Douglas, won three prizes at the Brandon Fair, for wool fleeces.

WARRINGTON BIGGEST WINNER POULTRY CLASSES

Splendid work by the judges Richard Oke, of London, Ont., and Geo. Woods, of Winnipeg, resulted in all poultry awards being placed on Wednesday. It was anticipated that the poultry judging would be completed Wednesday evening, but the work proceeded so rapidly that the last awards were made in the afternoon. J. H. Warrington, of Cornwall, and Sid Cross, of Killarney, who both have a carload of poultry entered at the show, were again to the fore with their winnings. W. H. Irwin, of Portland, Oregon, repeated his success of the previous days by taking what awards there were in the bantam classes.

J. H. Warrington's wins were mostly made in the Colored Dorkings, Red Caps, A.O.V. English, Golden spangled Hamburgs, Polish classes. He was a consistent winner in the classes he had made entries, and was probably the biggest prize winner at the Poultry Show. Sid Cross, of Killarney, gained many awards, while George Irwin's birds proved too good for the other competition in the bantam classes. The Turkey classes saw H. J. Thompson, of Weyburn, J. Windover, of Brandon, and Sid Cross, of Killarney, while the principal winners of the awards in the geese were S. Cross, W. Phipps, H. J. Thompson and John Windover.

There were a large number of entries in the duck classes with Sid Cross, Mrs. J. R. Lowe, Mrs. William Porterfield and J. H. Warrington sharing the prizes between them. In pigeons, Russell Maxwell, of Brandon, was a popular winner, although B. B. Noble, of Broadview, won all awards in the common pigeon classes. John Christ won many prizes in the Blue Poulters and White Poulters, while honors in Flying Homers went to Messrs. Kerr and Mc-Guinness of this city. Russell Maxwell took the placings in the Magpie classes, and F. H. Wienneke, of Stonewall, the awards in rabbits.

The large number of birds shown here may be judged from the fact that J.H. Warrington, of Cornwall, Ont., and Sidney Cross, of Killarney, have each a carload of poultry on exhibition here.

Several large classes were gone over on Tuesday and the Orpington departments practically completed. In the White Orpingtons, W. Rutherford, or Winnipeg, proved a very big winner, practically sweeping the class with his first prizes. Another Winnipeg exhibitor, F. J. G. McArthur, is out in front with many firsts in Buff Orpingtons. Mrs. Joe Woods, of Brandon, duplicated her wins at recent shows by practically making a sweep of the black Orpingtons. The Irwin Bros., of Portland, Ore., who are new exhibitors at Brandon, and who have made many entries at the Brandon Fair, have proved consistent winners in the Bantam classes. Sid. Cross, of Killarney, won four firsts in the White Wyandottes, while he made a sweep in the white Turkeys.

There is a great array of quality at this year's show and there is keen competition among the exhibitors for the premier awards. It cannot be said that the consistent winners of Other Fairs are making sweeps here, as their birds have had four weeks of travelling and are not in the best condition.

CYCLONE TAKES TOLL FROM TOWNS IN SASKATCHEWAN

Two Women Killed, Baby Missing —Many Injured—Property Damage $200,000

Regina, Sask., July 24.—At least two people have been killed, a score injured and property damaged to the extent of $200,000 in the trail of a severe thunderstorm which swept the Province. The extent of the damage of the crops or a complete casualty list is not yet known.

The greatest property damaged was caused at Alameda, Southeast of Regina. Here the cyclone cut a swath of two miles wide for several miles. While no lives were lost in this town, damage estimated at $100,000 has been caused.

The Alameda Schoolhouse was torn to matchwood and scattered for miles around. The telephone lines for a considerable distance being torn up and strewn all over the roads and fields. The residence of William Dunningan, constructed of brick, was almost a total wreck. A large threshing outfit was blown two hundred yards.

The storm broke about four o'clock and in town the downpour of rain was nothing less than a cloudburst. The district here affected was several miles in length, and the damage done was both East and West of this territory but no particulars are yet available.

Two were killed, a four-day-old baby missing, and the country laid waste in an area eight miles long and two miles wide East of the village of Frobisher is the toll of the cyclone here. Today along the country roads for miles are scattered timber, clothing, household utensils and farm implements.

The body of Mrs. Guy Holmes was picked up terribly battered half a mile from where her home stood and not a trace of her four day old body has been found. The nurse, Mrs. Geo. Byers, in whose lap the mite was lying when the cyclone struck the home man. Kronau, nine miles Southeast house.

Sixteen horses in a barn belonging to David King, were stripped of their hair. An eight hundred pound stallion was carried through the air half a mile and found uninjured. The village was in the grip of the storm for twenty minutes.

There are rumors of heavy damage in the vicinity of Benson and Lampman. Kronau ,nine miles Suotheast of the city, there was a washout and trains were held up for some time.

At Moose Jaw, the city power service and lighe wires were tied up for two or three hours. The cyclone Southwest of Yellow Grass blew down houses on the Gartrell Farm, severely injuring a man named Gilfoyle, who was blown about thirty feet into the air with debris. The Hale School House was also demolished. Hail hit Edgeley, Edenwold and Avonhurst districts over an area of twenty-five miles by five, cutting the grain down clean, as though by a mower. The G.T.P. roadbed was temporarily damaged by a cloudburst. The cyclone is also reported between Minard and Breezer on the G.T.P. boundary line, 117 miles South of Regina.

Damage of $25,000 was caused when an elevator of the Security Elevator Company at Estlin, fifteen miles South of Regina was struck by lightning and destroyed by fire. The building was practically empty of grain. At Lampman, Sask., one farmer's child was killed, his wife and six other children badly injured and all the farm buildings destroyed.

At Regina, considerable damage was caused by basement washouts. Lightning struck the Parliament Buildings, but caused little damage. The telephone communications were out of commission for several hours.

CROWD BURNS HOME OF SINN FEIN LEADER

Belfast, July 24.—The following announcement, regarded as significant, was issued from the Ulster headquarters in the Old Town Hall here Friday.

Lieut.-Col. Spencer, D.S.O., formerly connected with the Ulster volunteer forces, and Chief of Staff, has assumed command of that body. All Loyalists should report to their respective battalions.

Although comparative quiet has prevailed in Belfast, looting was resumed on Newtonards Road, shortly after eight Friday evening, and riotous scenes were witnessed in the vicinity of Dee Street, where a large spirits and grocery store was ransacked. The police made five arrests.

Altogether it is estimated that fourteen persons have been killed since the rioting began. Order was restored in the disturbed area early this morning, but their was renewed shooting in Kashmir Street area later. It was in this district and in Cromac Street and Newtonard"s Road that the heaviest casualties occurred.

Dromore, County Down, July 24—Rioting and pillaging by Unionists occurred here Friday evening. During the disorder, crowds attacked the house of a prominent Sinn Feiner, the occupants of the house fired upon the attackers as they approached, but slipped out through the rear entrance before the building was captured. The house was promptly burned. Shops belonging to Nationalists were attacked and badly damaged. Military re-inforcements were sent to aid the police, who were hard pressed.

Lull in Storm

Belfast, July 24.—Beyond a few cases of isolated fighting the city is quiet today, although this is regarded as merely a lull in the storm.

Rioting Continues

Belfast, July 24.—Last night a mob attacked St. Matthew's Cathedral; it ignored warnings to disperse and troops fired repeated volleys. There were several casualties. The rioting continues.

THE RELIABLE MAN

Charles M. Schwab, multi-millionaire steel magnate, has arisen to pay tribute to and proclaim the worth of the man who does his best every day, no matter in what capacity he may be employed. The world is not hunting for the superman, Mr. Schwab declares, but is hunting for the man who gives the best he has in him each day to the task that may be his and seeks to fit himself for a better place. The stability of industrial life, he says, depends on the man who is on the job each day on time, who gives his best efforts, who studies the task, masters it and fits himself for promotion.

In his long years as an employer of labor he says he has found it possible in all cases to fill a vacancy, no matter how experienced the man leaving may have been, by promoting some man who has been helping on the work, who has learned how to make his services worth while to the employer as well as to himself. It is not the man who has shown super qualities who is the most valuable, but the man who has been interested and fitted himself for larger tasks and that sort of man, he says, may always be found.

MILK FROM SAWDUST

Visiting stockmen will be interested in the statement that is made that cows fed on a mixture of which sawdust form no inconsiderable part kept up their production of milk and maintained their weight as well as on their regular grain ration. The information is contained in a recent article in the Chicago News which follows:

Food production as a science of methods, processes and apparatus has made extraordinary strides in recent years. Patient researches in laboratories and on experiment farms have contributed very effectively to the increase of food supply.

Announcement of the transformation of sawdust into good cow's milk has at first consideration the semblance of a jest. There is an old tale of the farmer who puts green spectacles on his cow and thus set her to eating sawdust under the delusion that it was fresh grass. The cow died just as she was beginning to get accustomed to the diet.

Now comes a serious report from the Wisconsin College of Agriculture telling of cows fed on a ration mixed with a chemically treated sawdust. Three cows fed on thirty parts of hydrolized sawdust, forty parts of ground barley, thirty parts of wheat bran and 15 parts of linseed meal kept up their production of milk and maintained their weight as well as they did on their regular grain ration.

There the matter stands. Cows are fed on sawdust. This is progress in food production, assuredly. Yet along with this news come reports showing that many good prairie farm counties of Illinois are losing population.

In technic, method, applied mechanical science, rural life constantly makes headway. On the human side it lags.

BUSINESS AND RELIGION

The blending of business and religion ought to be as vital a union and as sacred as the marriage tie. It was never the thought of God that business and religion should be divorced. Of this union we ought to be able to say in all seriousness: "What God hath joined together let no man put asunder." Yet how often between the two there is a great gulf fixed. There are still men who claim business is business, and religion is religion. They claim it is very nice in theory to think of blending the two, but that it will not work out in practice. How often it is said that a man cannot live an out and out Christian life and succeed in business. This is a false conception. Thousands of consistent Christian men have succeeded in business. It takes courage and endurance, but it can be done. Let us be done with the slogan "business is business and religion is religion," and substitute "Business is religion and religion is business."

Why should we discriminate between trade and worship? Why should not a man's place of business be to him is sacred as the home or the church? In the making of a living man is also making a life, and constantly influencing the lives of others. Two of the main purposes of business are : First, to provide a hallowed means of human fellowship; second, the holy privilege of human service. In this very connection Dr. J. H. Jowett has said: "Commerce between man and man, the merchandise which is the substance of our exchange is intended to be as a loom in which the shuttles that pass to and fro shall weave the web of sacred fraternity." The shuttles of commerce ought to carry the strands of honor, fair play and righteous dealing so that the colors are clearly seen in the fabric of all business dealing. The time has come when men ought to scorn the idea of getting rich at the expense of honor and character. To obtain wealth by violating the laws of God and man is a sin against oneself and God. No man can afford to sell his birthright for a mess of pottage. No man can retain a Christian conscience and enter into some of the conspiracies of modern business. Many of the desecrating things which go on in the complex realm of business, in profiteering, in trusts and combines are necessary to good business, and it is possible for Christian business men to so cleanse the temple of trade that men who make an profession will become ashamed of dishonest methods and practices.

If all the facts were known we would be amazed at the multitude in business life who are honestly seeking to apply Christian principles to the every-day affairs of life, but society is suffering because this endeavor is not more universal. There are throngs of church members who associate religion with Sunday services, prayers, hymns and sermons, but who do not seem to associate it with the practical affairs of the week. Religion's great purpose is not the making of a creed, but the molding of a character. We are not saved by character, but every man who professes religion ought to have a character, and one that can be depended upon as truly in a business deal as in his devotions. If the churches would inaugurate a propaganda for practical piety among professing Christians it would be a great boon to religion.

In view of the present conditions it might be well to remind ourselves that religion has a place for both capital and labor in the business world. Many have been inclined to look upon capital as an unmitigated curse and labor as a martyred saint. Sensible people know that capital is essential to industry. Without it there could be no raw material, no machinery, no commercial enterprise. Capital, honestly gained, is obtained by the accumulation of savings. To rob a man of his rightful savings, as some schemes of Socialism would do, would be ruinous to good business and society. Capitalism, per se, is not a sin. All that is needed is to eradicate the injuries it inflicts and the wrongs it involves, and let it be used for the legitimate benefit of all concerned.

Men who represent capital are called upon as never before to put the true value upon human life. Lives of men must not be sacrificed in the name of "big business." The waste of a single soul is a watse of the most precious thing in the universe. The man, the woman and child, deserve primary consideration. They have a divine value and must not be scrapped and thrown aside like wornout machines. The Christian attitude must be sought and followed in all the problems of business.

This applies to labor as much as to capital. The workman must have a conscience as well as the capitalist or the employer. He must be Christian enough to do an honest day's work. There are multitudes of workmen who are not doing that. They are not interested in increased production. Their interest centres largely on the pay cheque. This is not the Christian attitude. If a man chooses a trade or profession, he ought to love his work and seek to perform it in an honest and efficient manner, for his own good as well as the good of others. If a workman seeks to be a co-partner in a firm, it should not be a niggardly partnership in which he takes all the profits and shares none of the losses. He must not only be willing to pick the fruits of his toil, but bear the responsibilities and adversities of business.

The longer these questions are discussed, and the more these problems are thought over, the more convinced we are that there is only one real solution, and that is a thorough application of Christian principles to every-day life. Let those who profess to be followers of Christ so lead the way that others will be compelled to believe that the spirit of Christ in commerce will cleanse the temple of trade and usher in a happier day for mankind.—London Free Press

LARGEST STOCK PARADE I EVER SAW, SAYS TOLMIE

Federal Minister of Agriculture Dwells on Importance of Good Livestock

AT BREEDERS BANQUET

Declares That He Knows Stock, Having Had Long Experience

A complimentary banquet to the American visitors and to live stock breeders, was given in the Director's dining room of the Administration Building on Thursday night. The banquet was featured not only by the attendance of the American and Canadian breeders, but also by the presence of Dr. S. F. Tolmie, Federal Minister of Agriculture, who gave a splendid address. The supper was attended by about 125 persons who enjoyed the speeches. High tribute to the citizens of Brandon, the officials of the Exhibition and the enterprise of Manitobans, was palad by the Speakers during the evening.

W. I. Smale, Secretary and Manager of the Exhibition, acted as Chairman, and in his opening remarks stated that the Shorthorn exhibit was the best in Canada. "When we see so many sectional features throughout the country, we begin to realize that stock raising is the basic industry of agriculture." said Smale. The Brandon Fair is leading in the promotion of stock raising and he said he was safe in saying that no class of Shorthorns in America ever held nineteen entries previous to this Fair. Mayor Charles F. Gray, of Winnipeg, told of his trip from Winnipeg to Brandon via airplane, the objective of the trip being to visit the finest agriculture show that could be seen anywhere. He congratulated the men behind the Fair for their efforts, and extended a hearty welcome to the American visitors.

We Must Do Our Very Best

That the standards of Canadians and Americans are so much the same and that we must make the very best for our country out of the qualities we possess, was the keynote to a short address by Dr. H. P. Whidden, M.P. Prof. Day, of Ottawa, said that we sometimes lose sight of the importance of good live stock breeding, but that the men who breed good stock, are of great value to the country. The man who has a pure bred herd may not possibly be in the most profitable business in the world, but his business is safe and absolutely sound. Mrs. Kelly, of Devil's Lake, N.L., gave a few remarks on the Fair.

Mr. W. Russell, Honorary President of the Toronto Exhibition, and the Head of the Russell Motor Works, congratulated Brandon on having such a good Fair, and advocated the breeding of animals along sound lines. A district is generally known by the kind of stock it breeds, and he believed that Brandon stands high among the agricultural centres of Canada.

"There is nothing commercial about the Brandon Fair, and it is that spirit that makes for the great success of this Exhibition." said Senator Highland, of Devil's Lake, who paid a very high tribute to the Brandon Fair and Canadian people. "I nev- expect to live long enough," he said, "to see a Fair so thoroughly perfect." He advocated the breeding of pure bred stock and urged the breeders to sell their goods but to sell them right, and then back them up, and then the spirit that makes for success will be predominent.

Brandon is the smallest city on the Western Canada circuit but has the rank of a live stock breeder. Bracken. The work of the Agricultural College in Winnipeg will be to put agriculture on a perfect basis and to get behind the live stock industry. L. O. Clifford, of Oshawa, Ont., one of the big live stock breeders, said that he had never seen such a splendid array of exhibits as were shown at the Brandon Fair. Dean Rutherford, of Saskatoon, declared live stock industry must be made profitable and lasting, and that good crops must be fed to good stock. Miss E. C. Hind, of the Free Press Staff, gave some figures on the early stock breeding in Manitoba.

Tolmie Saw Largest Stock Parade

The speech of the evening came from Dr. S. F. Tolmie, Federal Minister of Agriculture, who complimented the Shorthorn men for promoting such a gathering. In relating his experiences as a stock financier, the speaker said that he had graduated from "chamber maid to a bull," to the ranks of a live stock breeder. His enthusiasm had been raised to the highest pitch when he saw the largest stock parade he had ever seen. He dwelt on the great amount of good that the Exhibition can do for live stock breeding, and stated that in some Provinces the conditions are appalling, over seventy-five per cent of the animals being of the scrub variety.

"If we are to keep agriculture as the main industry in our Western country we must build it on good live stock," said the Federal Minister. The Department of Agriculture at Ottawa is doing all it can to encourage the breeding of finished stock, and he emphasized the impetus given by the grants made for prizes. He said that it is a great pleasure for him to be in Brandon, especially during Exhibition week, and that he would go back to Ottawa prouder than ever that he is a Canadian, and that he is a Westerner.

WINSLOW HORSES WIN HIGH HONORS AT THE EXHIBITION

In Jumping Competition—Judge Awarded Firsts to Miss Lemon's and Winslow's Horses

I. M. Winslow, of Winnipeg, achieved the greatest honors of the week in the light horses classes, when he made a clean sweep of the final evening's judging at the Exhibition. Not only did Mr. Winslow produce winners in every class but he also walked off with the championship in both the harness and saddle horse events. He competed against a very classy field, and the competition was so keen that Judge Clancey of Guelph, Ont., could not decide on the winner of the high jump competition and a first ribbon was handed to both Mr. Winslow and Miss Della Lemon.

Mr. Winslow has proved a great winner during Exhibition week, but has received some close competition from the entries of Miss Della Lemon, of Winnipeg, W. U. Pitfield, of Brandon, Walter Sproulee, of Edmonton, and C. W. Tupper, of Winnipeg. The Winslow string of Kentucky-bred thoroughbreds went South from Brandon this morning.

The high jump probably furnished the keenest sport of the entire list of events in the light horses classes. This event was scheduled for Friday evening originially, but on account of the wet ground was put over until Saturday evening. There were three entries and the three horses made some spectacular leaps. However, the real competition lay between Pride of Erin, entered by I. M. Winslow and Lorraine, the property of Miss Della Lemon. Both horses cleared th ejumps until about five ft. eight inches were reached when they both failed to negotiate that height. The bar was lowered and both Lorraine and Pride of Erin cleared it. Judge Clencey decided that they were on even terms an awarded both horses a first and gave third place to Charlie Tupper's Bugler.

The harness championship went to Mr. Winslow who later added further to his honors by annexing the saddle championship with Cluster Chief. The Winnipeg horse fancier commenced his evening's winnings by securing first place in the Four-in-hand team class. Harveston Nell, Deaneton Helen, Shawhill Boy and Perfect Dream, outclassing their field. The combination saddle and harness championship also went to Winslow, with Charlie Tupper's Bugler second, and Miss Della Lemon's Bon Ton third. In the Ladies' Hunters class Winslow secured another red ribbon, Pride of Erin winning this class for him, from entries made by Miss Lemon and C. W. Tupper. The champion hunter of the show was awarded to Mr. Winslow's Pride of Erin, a splendid animal which received many firsts during the Exhibition.

FREIGHT TRAIN CRASHES INTO AUTOMOBILE AT ST. JOHN'S, QUE., 5 HURT

Montreal, July 26.—Four persons were injured, one probably fatally, when an automobile containing five persons, was struck by a freight train on St. Jame's Crossing at St. John's last night. The occupants of the machine were thrown out and landed some twenty-five feet away.

OFFICERS KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS VISIT MANY MANITOBA POINTS

Grand Chancellor F. T. Shipmon, of Winnipeg, and Grand Prelate G. P. Campbell, of Transcona, representing the Grand Lodge of Manitoba, of the Knights of Pythias, made a visit to Brandon on Sunday en route to Kenton from Portage la Prairie. While in the city they met informally several of the officers and members of the Brandon Lodge.

These provincial officers have been travelling throughout Manitoba visiting the various lodges with a view to finding out what condition each lodge is in. Besides visiting Brandon, Portage and Kenton, they also visited Dauphin and Neepawa.

BRING SUNSHINE HIGHWAY INTO CITY OF BRANDON

Suggestion by President J. W. Dalton, Addressing Kiwanis Club

HIGHWAY TO TEXAS

Will Be of Immense Value to Cities and Towns on the Route

Urging that Brandon should be the Northern terminus of the Sunshine Highway, and that some body in this city should undertake the organization work, Mr. J. W. Dalton, President of the Sunshine Highway spoke before the Kiwanis today at noon. Mr. Dalton is an enthusiastic booster for this great highway and is very anxious that Brandon should undertake some serious work in connection with the establishment of this city on what he calls "one of the three recognized highways in America"

The Sunshine Highway will start at Brandon and run right down to Brownsville, Texas, according to the plans Mr. Dalton outlined at the meeting. This highway will not run across any deserts or mountains, and only one large river, the Missouri, will have to be crossed on the whole route. Running through an agricultural stretch of country second to none in the world, the speaker said that it would be the most wonderful road in the world for motor traffic. The markings on the road were then explained by the speaker, who added that the great benefits to Brandon would arise if this city is located on the Sunshine Highway. Thousands of American visitors from every State in America would pass through Brandon and in their coming would leave much wealth behind them.

The speaker dealt with reports made at the annual meeting of the Highway Association, and also with the prospects aheaed of the Sunshine Highway. The object of good roads, he said, was to relieve the railroads of the short hauls and thereby send millions of tons of freight over the roads via trucks and motors. The work of buildings these good roads would be costly and involve a great length of time, but eventually they would be of inestimable value to both the United States and Canada. He then urged that some body take up the organization work and make the decision as to whether Brandon is to be located on the Sunshine Highway or not.

BRANDON BOYS DO FINE WORK: CAPTURE PRIZES

Twenty Out of Twenty-five Awards Won by Brandon Soldiers

Brandon Returned Soldiers had a splendid exhibit of work at the Exhibition and during the week many thousands of people visited the booths in the Crystal Palace to see not only the work of the Brandon men, but also the various articles made by men while receiving treatment in the Winnipeg or St. Boniface hospitals. The Brandon men were most successful and secured the majority of the prizes for the exhibits. Especially is this true in the Vocational department where the Brandon men secured twenty out of a possible twenty-five awards. E. H. Hicks, of this city, who many will remember as the artist whose picture, "Me, My Son and Him," appeared in "The Sun" some time ago secured first prize for "pen and ink" sketch, not only among the returned soldiers' exhibit, but also stood first in this class in the general exhibit of Fine Arts. Dr. Bush, of Winnipeg, acted as judge of the Soldiers' work.

Particularly practical, as its name implies, are the exhibits in the Vocational Department. Library tables, chairs, dressing tables, doors, etc, are just some of the things made by the Returned Soldiers, who in many cases are learning a trade which will enable them to earn their living. Mr. R. H. Warden is in charge of the Vocational Work Department in Brandon and Misses Sibylla McKenzie and Alice Chapman are instructors in the Ward Occupational Department.

During the past week many of the articles in the exhibit were sold and orders taken for others. The soldiers appreciate very much the co-operation of the visitors in helping them to dispose of their work. Orders for weaving, wood carving, beadwork, basketry, etc, may be given any time at the Brandon General Hospital.

CYCLONE NEAR, ALAMEDA, SASK.

Caused Injuries to Five Persons and $100,000 Property Damage

Alameda, Sask., July 23—A terrific cyclone struck this district Thursday afternoon, and lasted for about thirty minutes, during which time it cost at least one hundred thousand dollars damage. There has been no loss of life reported at this time of writing, but several people have been badly hurt. The affected territory lies South of Alamede town.

The South Alameda school hcouse was torn to matchwood and scattered for miles around. The telephone lines for a considerable distance have been rendered useless, being torn up and strewn all over the roads and fields.

TEN BEST BABIES JUDGED THURSDAY

Out of the 53 Entries—Some Mothers Neglected to Get Certificates

That a greater interest is being taken in "Better Babies" wa sevident from the fact that there were fifty-three entries for the Baby Contest in the Public Health Building on the Exhibition Grounds Thursday afternoon. Of this number ten proved to be best babies obtaining 100 per cent. standing. Dr. A. T. Condell, Dr. J. S. Clark and Dr. H. K. Groff were the examining physicians on Thursday, and Miss Chapman from the Brandon General Hospital assisted the nurses in their work.

Some of the mothers left the building without obtaining the certificates and score cards given with a record of each child examined. These may be secured from the Welfare Station in the Court House, corner Eleventh Street and Princess Avenue, during any morning. The following is the class in which the babies appeared and the name and address of the child:

Class one, under six months—Cora Geraldine Bauchop, 621 Twenty-First Street; Thelma Craig, 430 Percy Street; John Fisher, 736 Tenth Street; Vide Elaine Richards, 555 Eleventh Street; Yvonne Marie Rumble, Burchill Block; Eileen Walton, 9 First Street, North.

SHEEP EXHIBITS OF HIGH QUALITY

Though in Some Classes There Were Not Many Breeders Competing

Sheep Judging was finished on Thursday, Prof. Wood, of the Manitoba Agricultural College, finishing this work, as Dean Rutherford went to judge the Angus cattle.

The first sheep up on Thursday were the Suffocks, which were not only wooly, but wild, the animals being much harder to handle than the patient Leicesters and Shropshires of Wednesday. The Canada Land and Irrigation Company, of Medicine Hat, took all the first prizes in the class, and also showed the Grand Champion ram and ewe.

In the Southdowns class, P. Arkell and Sons, of Tesswater, Ont., were the only exhibitors, but, in the opinion of the judges and other sheep men, his animals were legitimate prize-winners, and they have taken prizes in other shows against heavy competition.

Mr. McEwen, of Brantford, Ont., took all the firsts in the Hampshire Downs class, and also showed the Grand Champion ram and ewe. A good showing in this class was made by Mr. Thos. Zachary, of Austin.

There was no competition in the Cotswold class, and all the prizes went to Mr. Thomas Smith, of North Battleford. Mr. Smith's sheep were shown by Mr. A. C. Stewart, of Lethbridge, who was also showing his own Lincolns.

In the Lincolns, P. Arkell and Son showed the Champion ram, and also won first place. The other firsts were all taken by Mr. Stewart, who showed the champion ewe of any age. This animal is a ewe lamb, four months old, and has won a Grand Championship wherever she has been shown.

Mr. James Turner, of Carroll, took the Dorsett Horns prize with a very fine lot of animals, his two-year-old ram being a classy beat, with good shape and horns, and fine fleece.

Westerners Win Grade Sheep Prizes

Mr. Stewart, of Lethbridge, Mr. Senkbeil, of Kenmay, and the Canada Land and Irrigation Company, of Medicine Hat, divided the honors for grade sheep. The grades shown were all good quality, fat and sturdy, with good wool.

Mr. McEwen took the grand prize in fat sheep with his champion two-year old ewe.

Stewart Wins Herdsman's Prize

Mr. A. C. Stewart, of Lethbridge, shower of Lincoln sheep, won the herdsman's prize for sheep. Mr. Stewart's pens were in excellent condition all through the show. He brought with him his own hay, and "alfalfa meal,'" and kept his animals in attractive shape. Other herdsmen's prizes went to George Christie, herdsman for McGregor's Angus cattle, and to Mr. McBane, Shorthorn herdsman.

MISS ANNIE KIPPEN CHAMPION BUTTER MAKER

Miss Annie Kippen, Strathclair, Man., is the open champion butter maker at the Fair, the awards being placed today. Second place was awarded Mrs. R. W. Bright, Redvers, Sask., and a third went to Mrs. E. Fleghen of Souris, Man.

These diagrams show the profil es of Shamrock IV. and Resolute and their contrasting dimensions, or a close approximation to them.. To the lay mind they are very much alike. T o the yachtsman they yare different indeed. The curious figures in the centre of eacr diagram are the "midship sections," or rather half of the midship section of each.. The midship se ction is the shape you would get if you sawed the yacht in two in the centre crosswise. Reesolute's is more ne arly a V shape than Shamrock's. T he latter suggests a champagne glass, with a rounded rim. This rounding is called "tumble-home." It and the f ollowing at what corresponds to the stem of the champagne glass, are no table features of Shamrock. So, too, are her long keel, straight deck line and huge amount of lead ballast. The water lines and under body lines a re also strongly contrasted. There is not one hollow line in Resolute, a nd she is very sharp.. Shamrock's lin es are very round in some places and hollow in others.

BOOTLEGGING PROVES HARD TO STAMP OUT

Ottawa, July 24.—As long as profits from bootlegging are what they are, and the only deterrent is a fine of $200 or so, there will be big money in the bootlegging game and it will be very difficult for the authorities on either side of the international line to stamp out the traffic.

That is the summary of opinions expressed by Ottawa officials as to the situation regarding smuggling of liquor from Canada to the United States. Further, high officials of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police say that while they are doing all in their power to check infractions of the federal laws in this respect, it is really for the American authorities to see that liquor does not reach thirsty souls beyond the imaginary line 3,000 miles long.

The situation apparently is that from three provinces in particular there is a large trade in bootlegging to the United States. These are Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia. At the same time a respectable quantity of fiery liquor is finding its way across from the Maritime Provinces and from Manitoba.

At Windsor and in the surrounding districts the Mounted Police are carrying on a constant campaign against the illegal liquor vendors, and many have been hauled into court and condemned to pay fines from $200 up. One parched Detroit man, however, is said to have parted with $500 for three cases of Scotch whiskey, which reached him via the "underground route," a short time ago, so that the rofits in the illeegal trade are known to be enormous. Information from Windsor and district intimates to the authorities here that some farmers in that vicinity have found it more profitable to smuggle liquor across the border than to farm, and have let their farms run to weeds while they pursue the elusive dollar via the bootlegging route.

Mecca For Thirsty Ones

Quebec, it is stated, is the mecca for thirsty thousands of Americans every week-end, and automobiles passing back and forth carry their loads of human and other freight, bound for the Sahara across the border. Under these conditions, Canadian police authorities admit that it is practically impossible to enforce the stringent liquor laws at present in force.

The chief reason for the difficulty of enforcement, according to an official of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police who have under their jurisdiction the carrying out of Federal laws, is the fact that many people are not in sympathy with the liquor legislation, and the securing of contraband liquor is regarded in many quarters as an achievement rather than a disgrace.

However, if the carrying of liquor into the United States from Canada is to be2 prevented it is intimated that it will have to be done by an army of customs inspectors and police on the American side of the line rather than in Canada.

FARM WOMEN WIN FANCY WORK PRIZES

The needlework prizes in this show went mostly to counitry women, contrary to the opinion expressed early in the show by some of the workers.

A number of first prizes were taken by Mrs. C. Dennis, of Rapid City, who is a farm woman. A tray cloth exhibited at the Brandon Fair has already taken between fifteen and eighteen firsts at recent shows, and is surely a perfect piece of embroidery. Mrs. Dennis is considered the champion embroiderer of the West, and probably of the Dominion, as her work has not been beaten, wherever it has been shown.

ELECTRIC STORM DOES $30,000 DAMAGE INCLINE RAILWAY, NIAGARA FALLS

Niagara Falls, July 24.—A terrific storm hit this city and district Friday night and raged for over two hours. Four or five inches of rain fell, flooding the streets and basements. A great many fires were reported from various places. The Incline building at the Whirlpool Rapids was damaged. The loss of contents is $20,000 and buildings $1,000. The Incline railway was saved only by strenuous efforts.

WINNIPEG MAYOR GREAT BOOSTER BRANDON FAIR

Which He Declares to Be Ahead of the 1919 Exhibition in Brandon

Mayor Charles F. Gray of Winnipeg was an interested spectator at the Exhibition on Thursday and as usual he is greatly enthused over the wonderful line up of exhibits and the magnitude of the Fair. Not content with taking the train to come to Brandon, Mayor Gray climbed into an airplane driven by Capt. Thompson of the Canadian Aircraft Company at Winnipeg and flew from the capital city to Brandon. The trip was made at an average height of 2,500 feet and the whole journey only occupied one hour and thirty-five minutes. The railroad line was followed for the entire distance, and the Trans-Canada flyer left behind by the plane in its speedy flight. A mechanic was the third passenger in the machine.

Arriving in Brandon, the plane made a successful landing in the Fair track enclosure, and Mayor Gray was more than delighted with the trip. He stated that the sensation of flyinig was away ahead of every other means of travel and that the mechanic even had a sleep while on his way to Brandon. Capt. Thompson did not remain very long on the grounds, but headed his machine into the East and made for home about three o'clock. Mayor Gray will remain in Brandon until Friday night and will then come back to ordinary travel by making the trip via the railroad.

OVER INCH AND ONE HALF OF RAIN

After two weary weeks of waiting by farmers and gardeners the steady rainstorm, which all had been hoping for, commenced Thursday night, and by 8 o'clock this morning 1.58 inches of rain had fallen. The storm seems to have been general throughout the district and the farmers are jubilant as the rain was badly needed. This makes a total rainfall to date of 5.36 inches. Last year up to a similar period 8.64 inches had fallen.

"Every drop's just so many dollars" was the way one-well known farmer of the district expressed his joy at the steady rain and general cloudy weather. Crops that are not too far gone will, if the weather continues cloudy so that the moisture can sink in, recover, and throughout the district all crops will be the better for the rain.

ANGUS COW BROUGHT $3,000 EARLY IN SALE

Blackbird Glencarnock 5th, Grand Champion Cow Sold to Alberta Breeder

The top price of $3,000 was received for one animal at this morning's big sale of the Aberdeen Angus cattle on the Exhibition grounds. The sale did not start until nearly eleven o'clock and consequently by one oclock when the latest report was received, only some thirteen animals had been sold. There was a large crowd of buyers present when Premier Norris formally opened the sale with a short speech, in which he laid special stress on the quality of the animals which would be offered for sale.

Of the first thirteen animals disposed of, the record price was obtained by J. D. McGregor for Blackbird Glencarnock 5th, the grand champion cow at the Brandon Exhibition. C. H. Richardson, of Bowden, Alta., finally bid the animal in at an even $3,000. Blackbird Glencarnock besides being Grand Champion at the present show, was also the Grand Champion at Saskatoon. Bidding was very spirited when she was brought in and made an added entry at the sale this morning. The bidding started at $1000 and rose by leaps and bounds until st struck $2,00. From that time on it was a battle royal between Dr. Brown of Morris, Ill., and C. H. Richardson, of Bowden. Both bidders were cheered each time the bid was raised, but Dr. Brown stopped at $2,900. Richardson promply bid $3,000 and the animal went to Alberta.

The second highest animals disposed of early in the sale was Shadeland Erica, also an added entry. She belonged to the McGregor herd and bidding commenced at $1,000 on her also. Shadeland Erica is senior champion at the present show and was second at the Chicago International show as a yearling. An offer to breed her to Blackcap McGregor shot the bidding up, the animal finally being sold to D. Martell of Russell who purchased her for $1,750. Martell also bought her calf Erica 29A for $925.

An even $1,000 was paid for Gwenmawr Princess by James Brown, of Neudorf, Sask., who also purchased Kindness 3rd from the McGregor herd for $875. F. W. Collyer, of Wellwyn, S. A. Ferrie of North Battleford, R. Graham, of Plumas, J. B. Robinson and Fred Bruce of Beulah were also early buyers at the sale. When the latest report was received from the sale at one o'clock the sale was still proceeding with some fifty animals to be disposed of.

Tonight the Aberdeen Angus Association will give a banquet in the Prince Edward hotel at nine o'clock. It is expected that there will be a very large attendance and a special program of speakers has been arranged for this evening.

FLEECES POORLY TIED AND FULL OF CHAFF

There were very few entries in Class 70—Fleece Wool—at the Exhibition, those that were exhibited showed that very little care had been taken to prepare the fleece for exhibition. Cleanliness and neatness counts in placing an award and some of the fleeces were very poorly tied and full of chaff. Ivan Hamilton secured first in the medium one fleece section, while D. W. Agnew, of Douglas, took second, third and fourth prizes. In the coarse, one fleece, exhibit, Mr. John Mumby, of Beresford, obtained first prize. The following is the complete list:

Medium One Fleece

1, Ivan Hamilton, Brandon; 2, 3, 4, D. W. Agnew, Douglas, 5, A .Mumby, Beresford; 6, John Mumby, Beresford.

Coarse, One Fleece

1, John Mumby, Beresford; 2, A Mumby, Beresford.

EX-SOLDIERS MEET MANY OLD COMRADES

Former Members of 45th and 79th Battalions Recalled Historic Days

Many were the reminiscenses exchanged by the returned soldiers in the city who attended either the Forty-fifth or Seventy-ninth Battalion reunions on Thursday. The former members of the Forty-fifth Battalion met at the Great War Veterans Rooms Thursday morning and at 11.45 headed by the Ninety-ninth band, paraded to St. Matthew's church where a 15 minute service took place. Major C. Whillier was in command, in the absence of Col. Clark, who was unable to attend the parade. With colors flying, borne aloft by Capts. W. H. Shillinglaw and C. T. Whillier, the color bearers of the Battalion who received the flags when they were first presented before the Battalion left for France, the men made a brave showing as they proceeded along Rosser Avenue to the tune of the Regimental March played by the band .

About 104 men were present at the luncheon in the G.W.VA. rooms where a delicious repast was served by the members of the Women's Service League. A short program of toasts concluded the luncheon. The officers present included, Col. F. J. Clark, Major C. Whillier, Major H. C. Cousins, Winnipeg, Major W. Donaldson. Capt. C. T. Whillier and Capt. W. H. Shillinglaw. After the luncheon the men were conveyed to the Fair grounds, through the kindness of the city having free use of the street cars, and were the guests of the officers of the Battalion at the Exhibition.

It was unanimously decided to hold the 1920 reunion on July 22nd in Portage la Prairie.

Seventy-Ninth Battalion

About fifty-six former members of the Seventy-ninth Battalion participated in the reunion of this unit on Thursday. The men assembled at the G.W.V.A. rooms and while there enjoyed several solos sung by Mr. Harry Benson. At eleven o'clock the men left the rooms, and under the command of Capt. J. T. Norquay, with the city band playing the regimental march, paraded to the Prince Edward hotel where lunch was served in the drawing room. Capt. A. F. Campbell and Capt Gordon Cumming were other officers present at the luncheon. During the afternoon and evening the men attended the Exhibition where they were the guests of Capt. A. F. Campbell.

The officers of the Seventy-ninth Battalion Association elected for the ensuing year are:—President, A. F. Campbell, Vice President J. T. Norquay, Secretary, Walter Ashfield; Treasurer, Hugh Kerr.

EX-STUDENTS AT M. A. C. WELCOME NEW PRINCIPAL

Prof. Bracken Declares He Will Give His Best to the College

About 200 ex-students of the Manitoba Agricultural College sat down to a re-union banquet held Thursday night in the Women's Hospital Aid Building on the Exhibition Grounds The banquet took the form of an informal welcome to Professor John Bracken. the newly appointed head of the Manitoba Agricultural College, and some very splendid remarks were made.

Prof. F. W. Broderick acted as Chairman and introduced Dean Rutherford, of Saskatoon, as the first speaker. Dean Rutherford told of the growth of the institution and how its ex-members were making their worth felt in the development of agriculture in the West. He particularly paid a great tribute to Prof. Bracken and dealt with his qualities both as a student and as a teacher. J. D. Duthie, of Winnipeg, talked in a humorous vein, and also emphasized the growth of the College. Miss Mary Kelso, of the M.A.C. staff, also spoke. J. H. Evans, Deputy Minister of Agriculture then introduced Prof. Bracken to the gathering, and the ex students rose to their feet and sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Prof. Bracken in his reply said that he appreciated the reception that had been given him and that it was entirely a surprise to him. He was glad to have an opportunity of meeting many ex-students of the College, and he also hoped that close touch would always be kept with all the ex-members of the institution. The character of an institution is always measured by its ex-members the newly appointed principal stated, and he is sure that Manitoba measures high among the colleges of Canada. In concluding he said that he would endeavor to follow in the footsteps of the former principal, Prof. Reynolds, and if he was able to do so, then he believed he would be giving his best to the College.

BRANDON NURSES MOST SUCCESSFUL IN EXAMINATIONS

Many Graduates of Brandon General Hospital Obtain Honor Standing

Graduates of the Brandon General Hospital Training School, Class '20, were most successful in the examinations for Nurses' Registration conducted by the University of Manitoba in June, the results of which have just been announced. All of the members of Class '20 passed, many of them with honors, and those whose standing is clear will be recommended for admission to membership in the Manitoba Association of Graduate Nurses at once. This will entitle them to the designation "Reg. N." (registered nurse). Unfortunately through illness or for other reason, some of the Brandon nurses, although they have secured standing and their diplomas as graduates, have a further period of training before they complete their three years' course and until this is finished cannot be recommended for membership in the Association.

There were a hundred candidates in the Province who wrote on the examinations. In the following list of the successful Brandon nurses, 1A indicate a grade of eighty per cent. or over; 1B a grade of 67 to 79 per cent.; 2, a grade between the pass mark and 66 per cent. 1A or 1B standing denotes honors.

Miss Grace Isabel Drummond, 2, Griswold, Man. The following require further training: Miss Dora Grace Cox-Smith, 1A, Portage la Prairie, gold medallist of Class '20 of the Brandon General Hospital Training School; Kathleen Olivia Amer, 1B, Qu'Appelle, Sask.; Bessie Chapman, 1B, Birtle; Mary Ermina Fargey, 1A, Lariviere, Man.; Edith Evelyn Lamb, 1B, Brandon; Ida J. McCuaig, 2, Carman, Man.; Harriot Annie Meadows, 1B, Brandon; Dorothy Gertrude Suddaby, 1B, Birtle.

Many Brandon friends of Miss Grace Mary Bedford, who graduated this Spring from the Winnipeg General Hospital, will be glad to learn that she obtained 1A standing in the examinations for Nurses' Registration.

Now is the time to get your building done. Estimates furnished free on request.

YACHT RACE OFF BECAUSE OF GALE: SAIL ON MONDAY

Sandy Hook, July 24.—A twenty-five mile Southwester, under which the Shamrock and Resolute staggered at the starting point, with the shortest possible sail caused a falling off of the race after both skippers had signalled an agreement to postponement. A terrific sea was running off the lightship. This is the first postponement of the cup race in 17 years, owing to the heavy weather.

Sandy Hook, July 24.—The Fifth International Cup Race, upon which hangs the fate of America's Cup, today was declared off by the Regatta Committee. The reason given was heavy weather. As the yachts started back to anchorage the Committee signalled that the next race would be held on Monday.

LIVESTOCK MEN ENJOY BANQUET AND ADDRESSES

J. D. McGregor, President of Aberdeen Angus Breeders Carved for Head Table

ELAPSIS JUNIOR

Slaughtered so That Distinguished Guests Might Enjoy Quality Beef

About two hundred live stock fanciers sat down to a complimentary banquet tendered in the Prince Edward Hotel on Friday evening by the Aberdeen Angus Association. Many famous breeders of pure bred live stock were in attendance, while Dr. S. F. Tolmie, Federal Minister of Agriculture, and Premier T. C. Norris were among the distinguished guests. Elapsis Junior, the Grand Champion of the Winter Fair, had been especially slaughtered for the banquet, and Mr. J. D. McGregor, who acted as chairman for the evening, carved the roast for the head table. Splendid speeches featured the evening's banquet, and splendid tribute was paid to the success of the Provincial Exhibition.

Following a toast to the King, J. D. McGregor open what he called the "get together" meeting, and welcomed not only the Aberdeen Angus stock men but also the members of other breeders' Associations. He then told of the efforts made to encourage calf breeding among the younger generation of breeders and the growth of this event is remarkable. The Grand Champion of the Winter Fair, "Elapsis Junior," had been slaughtered especially for the banquet, and Mr. McGregor created some laughter by stating that every champion would be slaughtered for this annual banquet.

Mr. McGregor expressed the opinion that great success had attended Friday's sale, and that the Aberdeen Angus Association intended to make the sale an annual affair. The black breed has made great strides in the development of livestock in the West, but the speaker urged the young breeders to pay close attention to the securing of high quality bulls. Mr. McGregor told of his own experience in securing good bulls and emphasized that "no bull is too dear to buy." The speaker then introduced Dr. S. F. Tolmie in glowing terms.

Must Change Methods

"It gives me a great deal of pleasure to be with the breeders this evening," said the Federal Minister of Agriculture, in commencing his address. He eulogized the Aberdeen Angus breed for their high standard of quality. A tribute to Mr. McGregor and the work he is doing for livestock in Canada was paid by the speaker, who said that there are too few cattle on the Western Canada farms. The methods of agriculture must be changed if we are to make for its continued success; mixed farming must be adopted and an impetus given to livestock breeding.

"There are greater opportunities connected with stock breeding," said Mr. Tolmie, who related the success which attended Great Britain's attempt to place farming on a good, sound basis. The efforts of the McGregor family in building up strong herds do an inestimable value to the livestock industry, stated the Minister of Agriculture.

Several of our Provinces have about fifty per cent. of scrub sires, and the speaker told of the efforts being made in Ontario to get the owners of scrub bulls to secure pure bred animals. European countries are taking a deep interest in Canadian animals, but strong opposition to Canadian cattle is being given by Australia and the Argentine. A feature of the Canadian cattle has been the fact that they are always in the best of health.

Britain May Lift Embargo

The embargo on live cattle entering Great Britain may be lifted shortly, stated Mr. Tolmie, who said that double pneumonia is the only reason why Canadian cattle are kept out of Great Britain, and that not one case of double pneumonia has been found in Canada for thirty years. There is a tremendous room for improvment in our cattle though, and every encouragement should be given for finishing high grade stock. Brandon's great Exhibition was praised by the speaker who declared that it is one of the greatest.

Sunflowers for Feed

The introduction of sunflowers for feed is doing much to develop livestock, and it is even of greater benefit than corn. Experiments showed this, and Dr. Tolmie mentioned the advantage of good feeding. "As long as I preside at the head of the Agricultural Department it will be my policy to work for the introduction of mixed farming on every farm," declared Dr. Tolmie. There is plenty of room in this country for all our industries and agriculture, and we should try to create a national spirit by working for the welfare of our country," concluded the Minister of Agriculture.

Norris Votes Progress

"It is always a great pleasure to me to see the progress that is being made in the development of livestock," said Premier T. C. Norris, in his opening remarks. The secret of success in agriculture lies in the development of livestock, and the speaker took occasion to remark on the great good done for better breeding by several cattle pioneers. The ability to produce lies in Manitoba, and not only in cattle or horses but also in grains and grasses, this Province can compete with anything in the world. This has been proven time and time again, declared the Premier.

This city has got into the front row of Fairs on the Continent, and both quality and quantity has featured not only the Provincial Exhibition but also the Winter Fair here. The calf-breeding competitions will do much to improve livestock and keep this district well up among the world's leaders. Encourage the young men, urged the speaker to breed pure bred stock. Already the younger breeders are taking away a fair share of the prizes from the older breeders. Two of the most successful sales ever held in Western Canada took place Friday, and this was a very healthy sign for the livestock industry.

We are proud of our wheat fields, but success must come from the introduction of livestock, said the Premier, and in conclusion he congratulated the stockmen on the success which had attended their efforts in such an exhibition of livestock

Tribute to J. D. McGregor

In a few remarks, Mr. W. Russell, Honorary President of the Toronto Exhibition, paid a high tribute to Mr. J. D. McGregor for his wonderful and successful efforts to strengthen the livestock industry in Canada.

R. A. Wright, of Drinkwater, Sask., and Miss E. Cora Hind, of Winnipeg, gave short addresses. The latter replied for the Press, and also spoke in a reminiscent mood of the early breeders at early Brandon Fairs. She particularly emphasized the place that young girls and women are taking in farming and livestock in Western Canada. She pleaded for equal opportunities for the girls with the boys where new ventures in livestock and agricultural benefits are being given.

W. I. Smale, Secretary of the Provincial Fair, Mr. W. Smith, Mayor C. F. Gray, of Winnipeg, and F. W. Crawford, Secretary of the Aberdeen Angus Association, also spoke.

GENERAL C. H. MITCHELL

Dean of the Faculty of Science, University of Toronto, who succeeds Mr. T. A. Russell on the Commission named by the Ontario Government to investigate and report on Hydro radials in the Province. ANGUS BREEDERS SATISFIED WITH RESULTS OF SALE

At Which 65 Pure-bred Animals Were Disposed of for $32,115

Entire satisfaction with the result of the big sale held on the Exhibition grounds Friday, was expressed by the Aberdeen Angus exhibitors who contributed stock for this sale. Sixty-five animals were sold for $32,115, or an average price of $494. This is considered to be a very good figure and The Aberdeen Angus men are congratulating themselves on the success of the sale of their quality stock.

The highest price obtained during the sale was $3,000 for Blackbird Glencarnock 5th, one of J. D. McGregor's champion animals C. H. Richardson of Bowden, Alberta, who also was a contributor to the sale, was the buyer, after some spirited bidding with Dr. Brown, Illinois. The second highest priced animals was also reported in Friday's issue of The Sun, Shadeland Erica, having been sold for $1,750 to D. Martell, of Russell, Man. Missie of Glencarnock brought $1.650, while Ed. Harte, of Brandon, purchased Glencarnock Rubicon from J D McGregor for $1,050 These three animals with Gwenmawr Princess were the only animals to get into the four figures. In all there were eighty-six animals offered, of which number twenty-one were not sold. Of the sixty-five animals auctioned off, sixty-two were females, while three were bulls.

Rain and Cold Friday

The rain of Friday and the wet condition of the Exhibition Grounds kept many thousands of visitors away from the Fair, and as a result the loss on the day to the Provincial Fair officials will possibly be in the neighborhood of $10,000. However, there was quite a large crowd of Exhibition visitors who braved the weather conditions and took in the fifth day's show despite the unpleasant prevailing conditions. There was only a handful on the grandstand in the afternoon, while the evening was not very much better, a cold wind making it uncomfortable there.

It was expected that the full racing program would have been put on in the afternoon, but a heavy downpour of rain caused the speed program to be called off. The judges rang the starting bell twice but none of the horses appeared to take a chance on the almost sea of mud on the track. There was only a few in the Grand Stand, and they emptied out into the Midway following a short concert by the 48th Highlanders' Band. None of the platform attractions were staged in the afternoon, but in the evening almost the entire program was given. It was cold and damp on the stands and the majority of the Fair visitors preferred taking in the Johnny J. Jones' shows and viewing the collection of side shows he has gathered together for this Exhibition.

"Daredevil" Mark Campbell gave another wonderful exhibition of daring with Aviator Casewell and his plane, even exceeding his performance of Wednesday and Thursday. Walking out on the plane, standing aloft on the top plane while it was a mile or more above the earth, hanging by his feet from the undercarriage of the ma-8gnticd and the man went down to chine were but minor parts of this daring and sensational actor's flirt with death. The climax came when Campbell sat on the top plane while Casewell piloted the plane to a great altitude and then brought the machine to earth in a series of "side-slips," that almost had the daredevil performer hanging head downwards.

Stock Judging Concluded

The stock judging was concluded on Friday afternoon, the horses being the last to be judged. There were two big cattle sales held on the grounds during the day, the Aberdeen Angus breeders holding a most successful auction in the morning, while the Shorthorn breeders held another big sale in the afternoon. Both sales were well attended and some fancy prices were paid for the best stock shown at these two auctions. In the evening the Aberdeen Angus Association tendered a complimentary banquet not only to members of their own association, but also to the members of many other breed associations.

Light Horse Classes

Six classes of light horses were judged on Friday evening in front of the Grand Stand, and as on previous evenings, the field was a very classy one. The wet grounds prevented the high jump being held, but the other classes were judged and the awards made by E. B. Clancey, of Guelph, Ont. The feature of the evening's judging was probably the class for the best lady driver and the very popular will of a local girl, Miss Flora Pitfield. Her sister, Miss Ada Pitfield, was a close second, with Miss Wright, of Winnipeg, third, and Miss Tupper, fourth.

The single high steppers brought out five very flashy entries, but after some elliberation the first award was given to Le Roi, owned and driven by Miss Della Lemon, of Winnipeg. Second and third went to I. M. Winslow, also of Winnipeg, while Miss Lemon secured the fourth ribbon. Mr. Winslow was winner in the class for mare or gelding suitable for a lady to drive and shown in an appropriate vehicle, securing, not only the red ribbon, but also third prize. NEW YORK TO HAVE MANY THEATRES

Millions of Dollars Being Spent for New Playhouses

New York, July 24.—Millions are being spent for new playhouses to ensure New Yorkers ample amusement this winter, although flat builders cannot get loans for housing the masses of the metropolitan district.

This was revealed today when a survey was made of the rush of theatre constructions, which disclosed that $25,000,000 worth of new amusement houses were under way.

Many of the new playhouses are wiping out old flats and dwellings urgently needed for homes, social welfare investigators declare, and as a result the housing shortage is becoming more acute.

The theatre builders assert that the immense sums pouring into places of amusement are justified as the new construction guarantees them a profitable return on the investment.

Although there are 500 running theatres in the greater city and six hundred and fifty in the entire metropolitan district, eight new theatres, costing more than $12,000,000 are planned in Long Acre Times Square district, three in Greenwich Village, four large houses and a score of smaller theatres in the Bronx, three in Washington Heights and five in Brooklyn. There are now one hundred and fifteen theatres in Brooklyn.

84 SHORTHORNS DISPOSED OF FOR OVER $30,000

American Buyers Leave $8,000 for Animals They Take South

AVERAGE GOOD PRICES

Paid for Animals Though There Was No Spectacular Bidding

The tent which housed the Shorthorn sale at the Fair grounds on Friday, was filled to capacity in spite of a heavy downpour of rain, which leaked through the tent in a good many places.

The animals sold were, for the most par: young stock of good and plain breeding, most of them Canadian bred stock, and not many from fancy pedigrees. No prodigious sums were got, but, on the whole average prices were realized.

Prof. Kotchell, of the American Shorthorn Breeders' Association, opened the sale with a few remarks on the value of the shorthorn as farm animal, and a wealth producer, and also, on the increasing popularity of the Shorthorn in the United States. Prof. Kotchell stated that agricultural wealth went hand in hand with the possession of Shorthorn, citing to prove his statement that Iowa, which is considered the richest farming state South of the line, is also the largest owner of pure-bred Shorthorn, and that Illinois, the second richest state, is the second largest owner of Shorthorns, etc.

In about three hours, the auctioneer, Mr. Frank Hyland, with his assistants, disposed of 73 Shorthorn cows, for a sum of $25,450, an average of $353.47 a head, and eleven bulls for $5,335, an overage of $485 a head. The total results of the sale to the owners was over $30,000.00.

The animals which brought the highest price in the sale was Jilt's Count, 124382, a roan bull two years old, owned by McMillen Bros., Newton, Man., and sold to Dave Menzies, of Shoal Lake. Mr. Menzies certainly procured a fine herd bull, as the young animal was big, thick in the pocket, and in excellent condition.

The best cow in the sale was Roan Lady 58th, an imported six year old roan cow, bred by John L. Reid, Cromleybank, Ellon, Aberdeenshire, and owned by the Wright Farm, Drinkwater, Man. This animal went to Andrew Olson, Brewster, Minn., and was considered a cheap buy.

Americans Buy Large Number

Over eight thousand dollars of the sale money was contributed by men who are taking cattle South of the line. D. W. Aylor, Grando, North Dakota, and Alec. Currie, of Cando, N.D., were large buyers, each man buying over two thousand dollars worth of young stock Other American buyers were from Minnesota, and the Dakotas

The largest buyer at the sale was J W Knittell, of Winnipeg, who took away with him over three thousand dollars worth of finely bred animals, including Duchess of Maple Shade, a three-year-old cow with a bull calf at her side, which went for the low price of $500, a fine cow and a well sired calf

Charles Yule, of Carstairs, Alta., was the largest seller, as he offered and disposed of thirteen heifers and cows, and two bulls. All of the stuff Mr. Yule brought into the ring was in good shape, smooth and of good color, and the prices he obtained were average. One heifer, which went to McMillen Brothers, for a thousand dollars, was Oakland Rosebud, a daughter of Mr. Yule's foundation cow, and a beautiful beast, a good dark red in color, smooth in shape, with a fine head. Mr. Yule also sold, for the first time, a son of Craven Knight, a bull calf which brought over $600.

Mr. Robertson, of Regina, bought four bulls for the Saskatchewan Government, and obtained all of them at prices little more than the market prices for beef. The animals were two and three year olds, of good size and shape, and while not prize winners, will make fine herd bulls.

Horse judging commenced Tuesday at 1.30, awards being placed by W. H. Gibson, of Indian Head.

In heavy draft class for filly or gelding foaled in 1918, only one entry showed up. John Clarke was given the red ribbon on a real smooth mare which would stand a lot of competition.

Foals of 1918 only produced one exhibit—W. M. McCrae, of Hayfield.

For best single draft mare or gelding any age, first place went to Lyttle Bros., of Roland, on a nicely turned mare, showing ample quality and a good mover. R. Dauley of Carrol captured second and third on a nice pair of Grade Percheron mares: fourth went to J. Clarke, of Brandon; third to W. M. McCrae of Hayfield.

In the Agricultural Class for foals of 1917 G. A. Browndridge, of Brandon, was awarded first and second, third going to Lyttle Bros., of Roland.

When the class for agricultural mares or geldings was called it produced the strongest class of its kind ever seen at this Exhibition. Nineteen entries lined up before Judge Gibson, all worthy of a ribbon in any ring. The prize money was extended, and two additional prizes given. First place went to Wm. McCrae on a smooth black mare, very symetrical and good at the ground. The second place mare "May," owned by Lyttle Bros., of Roland, met her first defeat in accepting this position. She showed considerable more style than the first place mare, but was a trifle light and hardly as good a mover. Lyttle Bros. also captured third on a very smooth bay mare, a little off at the ground. A. Galbraith, of Hartney, secured fourth and fifth while sixth place went to Wm. McCrae, of Hayfield.

For best mare any age and two of her progeny a slight mix-up occurred. The book only showed one entry, Robt. McPhail, of Brandon. He came into the ring and was immediately given the ribbon; two other entries showed up and McPhail refused to enter the ring again. The final decision was that Lyttle Bros. took first, McPhail second, and McCrae third.

For the best grade filly or gelding one year old, sired by a registered Clydesdale stallion, first went to R. McPhail, Brandon; Second, T. C. Chambers, Brandon; third Wm. McCrae, Hayfield, and fourth, T. C. Chambers, Brandon.

Sheep Judging Well Under Way

In spite of the intense heat Tuesday afternoon, and the close hot dampness of Wednesday morning, the sheep being judged at the Brandon Fair were very patient, allowing themselves to be handled and moved about with little remonstrance except their frequent an disconsolate blatting.

Dean Rutherford, of the University of Saskatchewan, who is doing the judging, moves about among the animals very quickly.

By noon Wednesday, the judging in Leicesters and Shropshires was completed and Dean Rutherford had carefully and sincerely awarded places.

J. K. Thomson, of Stratford, Ontario, walked away with all of the firsts but one in the Leicester class. This is the first year that Mr. Thomson has shown at the Brandon Fair, and he comes here from the Fairs further West, where his sheep have been taking grand, and first prizes regularly. All the Leicesters shown by Mr. Thomson are of his own raising.

OVER 100 LOAVES OF BREAD SHOWN: TEMPTING BUNS

Women Show Great Interest in the Display of Home Cooking

Women who visit the Exhibition will be particularly interested in the display of home cooking in the small white building next to the Crystal Palace. Over 100 loaves of bread are on exhibition and with so many to choose from the judges have had a difficult time deciding the winners. Delicious looking buns, bread rolls, muffins, shortbread, fruit cake, and several collections of home cooking make one wish to help themselves from such a tempting array of good things.

The entries of bread and buns made by girls under eighteen years of age, are particularly good. Many delicious looking loaves of bread are displayed in this section and the buns exhibited show what excellent work can be accomplished by girls who are interested in the art of home cooking.

Winslow and Miss Della Lemon, of Winnipeg, although Walter Sproule was a good contender for honors in two events. Miss Tupper and Miss Pitfield with their mounts were also very much in the running for saddle horse honors.

In the highsteppers class under 15.2 hands Miss Della Lemon secured first from I. M. Winslow, while the T. Eaton Company secured third. The Tandem class brought out three entries, Mr. Winslow being awarded the red ribbon, and second going to Miss Lemon. The saddle horse awards with four entries also saw first and second go respectively to Mr. Winslow and Miss Lemon, with Walter Sproule, of Edmonton, third, and Charlie Tupper, fourth. The second class for saddle horses again brought out four entries, the awards going the same way with the exception of third place, which went to W. U. Pitfield, of this city. AUTOMOBILE RAN UP ON SIDEWALK AND KNOCKED DOWN OUT-OF-TOWN VISITOR

A slight accident occurred Wednesday night about 8.30 at the corner of Princess Avenue and Ninth Street, when Mrs. A. Jones, of Holland, Man., was knocked down by an auto and her left arm was bruised. Mrs. Jones and daughter, Miss F. I. Jones, had walked through the City Hall grounds and were just turning the corner when the auto, driven by a lady, evidently got out of control and, according to Miss Jones' report, came up on to the sidewalk, knocking Mrs. Jones down and dragging her back on to the street. Mrs. Jones, although bruised and shaken refused to get into the car, but walked back to the Grandview Hotel, where she is staying while in Brandon. Miss Jones was badly frightened and was taken to the hotel in the motor. Dr. Edmison was the attending physician and stated this morning that Mrs. Jones had no bones broken and was only slightly bruised on her left arm.

RESOLUTE WINS TODAY: SHAMROCK WON ON TUESDAY

Sandy Hook, July 21.—The American defender, Resolute, today defeated Shamrock IV., in their series for America's Cup by her time allowance and not one second more. After a stern chase the challenger passed the defender half a mile from the finish and crossed the finishing line first, but the time allowance was too much for the Lipton boat to overcome.

Sandy Hook, July 21.—Resolute wins.

Sandy Hook, July 21.—The yacht race has started. Shamrock leads across the starting line.

Sandy Hook, July 21.—The Resolute rounded the half way mark well ahead of the Shamrock. The Resolute turned at 3.21.21, the Shamrock at 3.23.06, unofficial time.

Shamrock Won Second Race

Sandy Hook, N.J., July 21.—Sir Thomas Lipton last night was nearer achieving the confessed ambition of his life—lifting the America's Cup.

His "Irish Sweetheart," Shamrock IV., ran up a tally of two races to none against the defender, Resolute, winning in a neck-to-neck contest by 2 mins. and 26 secs., corrected time, and needing but one more victory to bear the bottomless pewter mug back to England.

SEVEN HEAT RACE FEATURES FIRST DAY OF RACING

Jim Mayburn Captures Long Drawn Out Race From Little Alexis

A seven heat race and an unexpected finished to the second heat of second race featured the program of speed events put on at the Exhibition on Tuesday afternoon. Persons who like to see upsets in racing dope certainly got all they wanted in the 2.30 pace or 2.25 trot when four horses won one of more heats and set the race into seven heats before the winner was decided. The second race saw Phil Patch, D. J. McDonald's great pacer, defeat Romala, when the latter mare simply stopped at the 5-8 mile mark in the second heat and was out of the races, after winning the first heat in sensational style.

The first race brought out seven entries and there was plenty of excitement until Jim Mayburn finally won first money by taking three firsts and winning the final heat from Little Alexis. In the first heat Lolita got away to a bad start but came up strong at the end of the second round. Gwen Direct won the first heat, never being headed. Little Alexis went out and won the second heat, while Jim Mayburn started to show his real class by stepping out and winning the third heat. Both Zelta and Nabob dropped out of the fourth heat, and Lou Axworthy went to the front in the fourth heat and won handily. Jim Mayburn came back strong in the fifth heat and won with Gwen Direct making a fight for the honors.

Further judgment on the winner was again postponed in the sixth heat when Little Alexis came into the running again by finishing in front with Lou Axworthy in second place. Going into the seventh heat it was decided that only the two double heat winners should race in the final and Jim Mayburn and Little Alexis came out for the final after a long wait. The judges took down R. McGirr from behind Little Alexis in the last heat and put up J. I. Dompier, who had driven Gwen Direct in the previous heats. There was no holding the Moose Jaw horse, however, Jim Mayburn taking the lead at the start of the seventh heat and never being headed. The time made was the slowest of the day.

The meeting of Phil Patch, the former Brandon horse, and Romala, the speedy Calgary horse, was the racing event of the day. The meeting of these two horses had been keenly looked forward to by all horsemen and it is stated that thousands of dollars were staked on the result of the race. Phil Patch, whose record this yea ris an undefeated one, was shown some real speed by the Calgary mare in the first heat and for the first half of the second heat, but after that there was nothing to it but Phil Patch.

In the first heat the horses got away to a very poor start with Romala taking the lead at the start, and never once being headed during the two rounds. Phil Patch tried to close up the gap which separated them, but Stewart eased up Romala under the wire, winning by a couple of lengths. It was clearly a fight between these two horses although Main Direct and Lady Penn were both entered. The second heat brought the great battle between the Winnipeg and Calgary entries to a sensational finish. The horses scored no less than ten times before Starter Baldwin got the horses away. Phil Patch took the lead, but Romala showed the greatest exhibition of speed ever shown on the local track by passing Phil Patch and flashing past the timer's stand for the first half in 1.01. Turning at the 5-8 mile mark, Romala suddenly stopped. Phil passed the Calgary mare and won easily. No explanation is given for Romala stopping as she did, except that the horse simply balked and would go no further. Phil Patch then went out and won the next two heats in good time, and with them, the race. Main Direct got into second money and Lady Penn came third.

Two running races provided some excitement. In the five furlong event, Prairie, owned by C. C. Emmett, of Connor's Creek, Alta., made a driving finish to nose out Lady Edmonton right at the wire. The second running race was featured by the win of Mable R., who won from Bonnie's Buck, with Belle of the Kitchen, a former Brandon horse, in third place.

There was considerable excitement in the paddock during the afternoon and one mand conducted a hand book, and did some business on some of the races. The "bookie" played safe though and would give no great odds. There were quite a number of bettors however who took the small odds in backing their favorites.

The following were the results for the day's racing:

DIX IMBRO EQUALS CANADIAN RECORD IN THE COLT RACE

Local Colt Equals Own Mark Made at Portage Week Ago

THE BLACK BASS

Stages Big Comeback With Substitute Driver to Win Second Event on Program

One Canadian record was equalled at the races at the big Exhibition on Wednesday afternoon and some fast times made in the other events, the track being lightning fast. The record was equalled in the race for three year old colts when Dix Imbro, a colt owned by a Brandon Syndicate, went out in the second and deciding heat and stepped the distance in 2.24¼. This record was made by Dix Imbro at Portage two weeks ago, and Dompier drove the Brandon colt again Wednesday in the same time.

It took five heats to decide the winner in the second race, when The Black Bass uncovered all kinds of staying powers and won the last three heats after being placed second and fourth in the first two heats. In this race W. F. Sanderson, who drove The Black Bass in the first two heats, was injured when the horses were scoring for the third heat. He fell out of his seat and the brace supporting the shaft caught him in the back. His place behind The Black Bass was taken by Russ McGirr, and the change worked wonders with the sensational horse, for in a driving finish in the third heat The Black Bass nosed out Tom Carlyle. The next two heats proved walkovers for the Minnesota horse and he won the race and first money.

Great difficulty was experienced by Starter Baldwin in getting the horses to score properly in this race, the horses getting away only on their sixteenth attempt in the first heat. Romala, the speedy mare, which took a heat from Phil Patch on Tuesday, again balkede in the first heat, stopping dead about 100 yards after the start of the race. Haledo showed a splendid burst of speed and won out and repeate again in the second heat, and repeated again in the 2nd heating the horses away in the third heat, the judges finally lining drivers, Huber, Dompier and Sanderson for scoring ahead of the pole horse. In turning to make a getaway for a score, Sanderson was hurt and carried off the track. McGirr took his place and the rest is a matter of history. The Black Bass made a grand finish to cop the third heat, outgamed the other entries in the fourth heat and then in the final and deciding heat with Haledo, showed altogether too much speed for its opponent.

The first race on the program proved a walkover for D. J. Burke, the Calgary entry. He showed far too much class for the rest of the field and went out in front and won as he pleased in three straight heats. Nabob proved a bad actor in this race and broke on three occasions. Lillian B., grabbed second money by finishing behind the winner in the last two heats.

The colt race brought out Dix Imbro, the fast Brandon colt, which was purchased by a syndicate of Brandon men some time ago. This colt had established a new Canadian record at Portage a week ago by going the distance in 2.24¼, when the former record for three year olds stood at 2.29½. Driven out in the second heat by Dompier, this young Brandon speeder equalled its mark and left his field about an eighth of a mile behind. Both heats were his in the easiest kind of fashion.

Camouflage proved a winner in the five furlong event, never being headed during the race, although pressed hard by the other three entries. Coming into the home stretch, McGraw, riding Little Miss, fouled Lady Edmonton and Min McLeod, and was set back from second to fourth. The other running race saw Welga secure first money with Certain Point nosing into second position and Foeman third.

The following is a summary of the races for Wednesday afternoon.

BERESFORD WOMAN BIG PRIZE WINNER IN THE EGG CLASSES

Judging in all classes of eggs was finished on Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. John Munby, of Beresford, taking most of the first prizes. Mrs. Munby took over forty dollars in prizes from the Fair with her eggs. With the exception of the siz dozen specials, in which class first prize was taken by Mrs. G. Miller, and also with the exception of the single dozen classes, Munby took all the first prizes.

Mrs. Mundy has raised all her own chickens which are White Wyandottes, and the eggs shown by her were all from her own farm flock. Mrs. Munby has about sifty hens. She has shown eggs and taken prizes at the Brandon Fair before, Mr. Fee from Manitoba College, did the judging.

VIRDEN TEAM AND GREYS PLAY FAST OVERTIME BATTLE

Darkness Halts Great Struggle in Vidren Monday Evening—Score 3-3

Darkness stopped a great battle between the Brandon Greys and Virden on Monday night in Virden, when the two teams battled ten innings to a draw, 3-3. It was one of the best games played this season and replete with every sensational feature that goes to make up a ball game. Both teams played stellar ball and there was excitement galore during the ten innings. Beautiful fielding was witnessed in almost every inning, several of the catches breaking up nice rallies. There was quite a large crowd out to see the game, and the people went away well satisfied with the calibre of ball dished up by the two teams.

STREET RAILWAY EARNINGS DURING WEEK OF THE FAIR

Were $669.46 More Than for Fair Week One Year Ago

FEWER PASSENGERS

Travelled on Street Cars Every Day Than When Fare Was 5c

Increased fares on the Street Railway proved of financial advantage to the city, if the statement given out by Superintendent Boden for Exhibition week is taken as a criterion. The statement reveals a surprising result, for notwithstanding a falling off in the number of passengers carried, the receipts for the week were much larger than in 1919. That people are riding to the Exhibition grounds in autos more every year is again demonstrated this year by a great decrease in the number of passengers carried on the Street Railway last week. Of course Friday was a bad day for passenger traffic, as there were very few visitors,but even in comparison with other days, the statement shows a falling off in the number of people patronizing the Street Railway system.

Last year 64,185 passengers were carried, while this year only 52,846 persons boarded the street cars for the Exhibition grounds. This shows a decrease in the passengers carried of 11, 339. Every day showed a decrease this year over the 1919 Exhibition week. Despite this big decrease, however, the receipts jumped $669.46, the increased fares being responsible for this splendid financial return. The total amount of revenue from the passengers' fares at the 1919 Exhibition was $3,237.49, while last week the fares totalled $3,906.95.

The following is a statement showing the number of passengers carried each day during Exhibition week in 1919 and also this year, as well as the revenue derived on these days:

Receipts	1919	1920
Monday	$288.46	$299.70
Tuesday	448.32	490.23
Wednesday	681.70	850.30
Thursday	882.84	1228.19
Friday	545.81	580.95
Saturday	390.36	457.58

EXPRESS RATES MAY ADVANCE

Companies Apply for an Increase of Not Less Than 40 Per Cent

Montreal, July 27.—A rate increase amounting to not less than 40 per cent. of tolls at present in effect has been asked for in an application forwarded to the Board of Railway Commissioners by the Express Traffic Association, on behalf of the American Express Company and the Dominion Express Company. It is claimed that the tolls, as increased a year ago, were insufficient to meet actual operating expenses.

It is pointed out that previous to the year 1911, the Board of Railway Commissioners conducted an exhaustive investigation into the express business in Canada, as a result of which certain concessions were granted by the companies, increasing the operating expenses of the companies and resulting in some reduction rates.

In 1911 the Railway Board ordered a further reduction in express rates of 20 per cent. in practically all except minimum rates. The express companies unavailing protested that under these reductions they could not show a reasonable profit. In 1913 the companies made application for an increase of 25 per cent. per 100 lbs West of Sudbury, and 37 per cent. East of that point, as a result of which a limited increase became effective in 1919. The express companies now state that this increase has amounted to less than 23 per cent. on the whole traffic, and that the result is, in fact, insufficient to take care of operating expenses. It is stated that since the tariffs were fixed by the Railway Board in 1913, the cost of operation has increased 100 per cent. It is further maintained that the 30 per cent. increase in freight rates asked by the railway company, will, if granted, entail a further substantial cost to the express companies and narrow the spread between express and freight rates.

The general position the companies claim is that they are operating on less than 61 1-2 per cent. of what the Board in 1913 declared to be a fair and reasonable tariff. Even if the 40 per cent. increase is granted, it is contended, that this will still leave tolls 15 per cent. below parity of those put in force by the Board in 1913.

FISH HATCHERIES FINISH DISTRIBUTION OF FRY FOR SEASON

Ottawa, July 27.—The fisheries branch of the Department of Marine and Fisheries announces that the Manitoba hatcheries have completed distribution of fry for the season, the total liberated numbering 226,446,850. Of these, 25,353,600 were pickerel, and the balance whitefish.

With some few exceptions, the distribution of fry has also been completed in British Columbia. In that province 114,479,487 fry have been liberated, chiefly of the various species of salmon. There were also, approximately, seven million whitefish and about 740,000 of Kennerley's salmon fry distributed within British Columbia.

NINE PIGS AT FAIR

When Wright Bros., of Drinkwater, arrived at the Fair Monday night with their exhibit, they had 31 swine to enter.

Tuesday morning, when they counted the pigs again, the entry had to be changed to forty. A pure-bred Berkshire sow had farrowed in the night and presented the Fair with nine little blue-ribbon winners.

RESOLUTE

erican Cup race started at 2.15 with the Shamrock crossing the line first. The wind had picked up off shore to about three knots; but few spectators believed the yachts could finish within the six hour time limit unless it freshens considerably. Southwest winds usually blow stronger as the afternoon advances and this probably was the reason for ordering the start.

Race Delayed in Starting

Sandy Hook, July 27.—The race was postponed for 15 minute intervals at 11.30, while the crew whistled for a wind. It was almost calm at the starting point.

Another Drifting Match Likely

Sandy Hook, July 27.—Clear skies, a smooth sea, and a seven knot wind from the Southwest. These were the conditions at eight o'clock this morning for the fifth and final cup race, which at that hour promised to develop into another drifting match.

Charles Nicholson, the Shamrock's designer, hoped that the race would not be determined by a fluke wind, and that the contest would demonstrate the sailing ability of the sloop. "Win or lose," he said, "we have learned much here that will be invaluable in the event of another challenge."

Mrs. Elizabeth D. McChesney

Many Brandon people will regret the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Dick McChesney, aged sixty-two years, beloved wife of Mr. Wm. McChesney, 308 Princess Avenue, East, who passed away at the family residence Saturday night. The late Mrs. McChesney came to Brandon with her husband about fourteen years ago from Braeside, Lanark County, Ontario. She was a very earnest worker in St. Andrew's Church, was one of the most active members of the Ladies' Aid and was Vice-President of the Women's Missionary Society. During the past year, owing to illness, she had been unable to do very much but whenever her health permitted she was always willing to do her utmost for either church or patriotic causes. In her death St. Andrew's Church has lost a very faithful worker. Besides her husband, the late Mrs. McChesney leaves to mourn her loss, five daughters, Mrs. A. Matheson, Vancouver, B.C.; Mrs. Stanley Bourke, Brandon; Mrs. T. Gilightly, Hartney; Mrs. A. Taylor and Miss Grace McChesney, at home; and two sons, Mr. R. McChesney, of Prince George, B.C.; Mr. John McChesney, Winnipeg, and a son-in-law, Mr. H. A. Black, who has been residing with Mr. and Mrs. McChesney, since his wife died some time ago. The deceased is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. H. Little, Colgate, Sask., and Mrs. Wm. Little, of Larnark, Ont. The passing of Mrs. McChesney at this time is particularly sad as it is the fourth death in the family within two years.

TWO GERMAN GUNS PLACED ON CITY HALL GROUNDS

Awarded Brandon City by the Director of War Trophies

BADLY DAMAGED

One Gun has a Piece of Shrapnel Imbedded in the Off Wheel

Looking as if they had been through several hard fights and got same rather rough usage from the Allies shells, two German guns arrived in the city this morning, and are now on the City Hall Grounds. The guns which have been awarded to Brandon by the Director of War Trophies arrived over the C. N. R. and were placed on the City Hall lawns this afternoon.

One of the guns arriving here is a small field gun of .77 m.m. calibre while the other, is of a little larger calibre, and might possibly have been used as an anti-aircraft gun. The field gun is in a badly damage condition, the left side of the gun shield having been shot away, while many parts of the gun are also missing. A piece of shrapnel reposes in the off gun wheel and bears mute testimony to its active service record. The other war trophy is in fair condition, although both guns are rusted and unworkable.

It is probable that there will be some official ceremony in connection with the formal placing of the guns on the City Hall grounds, although there is nothing definite at present. It was stated at the City Hall this morning that such a ceremony many be arranged very shortly.

IRISH COURTS MARTIAL TO HAVE WIDE POWERS

Under Terms of New Irish Bill Made Public Today

WITHOUT A JURY

Military Courts Will Dispense Justice—Compel Witnesses to Attend

London, August 3.—Duties of Crown Tribunals in Ireland will be taken over by courts martial, even to extent of settling civil disputes, infliction of fines and binding accused persons over to keep the peace, under the terms of the New Irish Bill, which was made public this morning.

Military courts will also take over the duties of Coroners, and will have power to decide cases without a jury. In trials for crimes punishable by death, however, one person who need not be an officer, shall sit as one of the judges. He must be appointed by the Viceroy, from a list approved by the Lord Chancellor of Ireland or the Lord Chief Justice of England.

Courts will be given power to compel witnesses to attend hearings and enforce orders for presentation of documents. Persons convicted by them may be imprisoned in any part of Great Britain.

The bill makes provision for excluding Ulster from the working of the law by stipulating that it shall be effective in the whole or any part of Ireland.

LOW BUILDINGS MORE PROFITABLE THAN SKYSCRAPERS

Besides Spreading Business Districts of Big Cities Over Wider Area

Minneapolis, Min., August 3.—Low buildings erected on expansive lots are more profitable than skyscrapers towering into the air in the opinion of various members of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers expressed at their annual convention here. This is contradictory to the generally accepted theory of realty men.

Reading a paper at one of the sessions on "Analysis of the Comparative Investment Value of Office Buildings of Various Heights," Edwin C. Jewell, of Omaha, an advocate of the low building theory, said that since land values are enhanced by the increase in population in a section and not by the size of buildings on it, structures under 10 stories in height were more profitable in that a saving would be made on the tremendous cost of foundation and enormous elevotor equipment.

"If a builder erects a six to eight story building in a part of the city that is the business section," Mr. Jewell said, "and that business shifts in a decade or two, the structure can readily be used for a factory, warehouse, or other purposes. It is still a marketable building. The same is not true of the skyscraper.

"When builders begin to erect low buildings in our cities, the tremendous amount of money now being used for building foundations and sub-basements, can be put into other buildings. The money put into elevators, heavy framework and other incidentals necessary to the erection of a skyscraper would pay for a good, practical office building four to six stories high covering the same piece of ground."

Mr. Jewell, who is chairman of the operating experience committee of the Building Owners' and Managers' Association, also asserted that the low building plan would spread the business districts of cities over wider areas and raise land values, enabling cities to raise more revenue for schools and other public improvements.

"The low building plan," he said, "would prevent congestion, promote safety and good health, and by forcing the spreading of the business district over a wider area, provide more stores, which would result in greater competition and lower prices to the buying public."

A low building, Mr. Jewell asserted, can be built for 14 cents per cubic foot cheaper than a tall building of the same quality because cement can be used instead of steel.

Mr. Jewell asserted he had made a study of revenues from a large number of office buildings in more than 50 cities, adding that the receipts and expenditures from 143 buildings in 1919 showed an average income of about $1.41 per square foot whereas it would require $2.64 per square foot to make the investment realize six per cent.

JAPS LOOK ON U. S. NOTE AS A CHALLENGE

Others Blame Japanese Militarists for Misconception Abroad About Japan

Tokio, Aug. 3.—The note from the United States dealing with Japan's occupation of the Northern part of the island of Saghalien appears to have made an unpleasant impression generally upon the Japanese, but the hope is expressed the Government will be able to convince the U.S. that the occupation is only of a temporary character.

The newspapers in their comment are adopting in the main three lines of opinion. The first, represented by Kokumajin Shimbun is that the U.S. attitude toward Japan is always in the nature of a challenge.

The second, voiced by the Yomi-Yuri, Shimbun is that the Japanese militarists are to blame for what it declares is the misconception abroad about Japan. The third, expressed by the conservative Jiji Shimpo, is that the occupation of Russian territory by Japanese troops constituted a doubtful policy, liable to cause difficulties both at home and abroad.

RESCUE OF LUCAS COST LIVES OF TWO SOLDIERS

Apparently General's Escort Made No Defensive Move Till After Attack

ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE

Cut Short by Murderous Volley From Raiders—General in Barracks

Belfast, July 31.—Reports received here, regarding the escape from Sinn Feiners of Brigadier-General C. H. T. Lucas, indicate that he was accompanied by twelve or fifteen armed soldiers at the time of the clash which resulted in his return to Tipperary.

Escorted by soldiers, he was being conveyed from Limerick in a lorry. As the lorry approached the village of Oola, a party of armed raiders appeared, demanding that it halt and surrender. The driver responded by putting on speed and the lorry was disabled by a volley of shots from the raiders.

General Lucas and some of the soldiers seized their rifles but before they could use them another volley from the raiders rang out. Two soldiers fell dead, several were wounded, and the remainder surrendered their arms. The raiders carried off the soldiers' equipment and were about to set the lorry on fire when another lorry appeared full of soldiers. JAMACIAN PORT AN OIL STATION

Kingston Also to Be Coaling Station for British Naval and Mercantile Ships

Kingston, Jamaica, August 3.—The estimates which have just passed the British House of Commons provide for an expenditure by the Imperial Government of $800,000 to equip Kingston harbor with an oil and coaling station for British naval and mercantile ships.

A large strip of land to the Eastern end of the harbor has been acquired for a quay and work is now in progress. An army and navy canteen under the auspices of the Imperial Government has also been established and everything is being done to attract vessels passing through the Panama Canal.

The local government's scheme of harbor improvement has been referred to a special Board of Experts. PREMIER MEIGHEN APPEALS FOR UNITY

Closer Co-operation of All Classes Urged so That There May Be a Larger Understanding of Problems That Cause and Arise Out of Unrest

Portage la Prairie, Man., Aug. 3—Hon. Arthur Meighen did not commit himself to any definite statement as to the future policy to be followed by the Government in the speech which he delivered at Portage la Prairie on the occasion of his rousing reception tendered him. More than 3,000 people heard the first Western Premier of Canada deliver an impressive oration in the afternoon, in which he appealed to those present for a bigger and better understanding of the problems of the present day. Premier Meighen outlined the causes of discontent, and pointed out that it was only by a larger understanding of these problems and by the closer co-operation of all classes that they could be solved.

In his opening remarks, Premier Meighen thanked the good people of Portage and district, and the distinguished guests, for the fine tribute paid to the first Premier from the West of the Great Lakes. Referring to the problems confronting him, the Premier said:

Refers to Problems

"When I get back to the streets and homes of this city and stroll again over the island where we watched the ball games together so very few years ago, I seem to forget all that has happened between. Much has transpired personaly to myself but let that pass. My struggles still are mainly in front and not behind. It is by performance and not by accession that all men in public life are judged. But think of what has taken place in the world. Never in all the history of mankind has the face of the universe so changed as in a few short years. Never has a succession of such tremendous events crowded into so brief a time. It is not to much to say that for four years the whole fabric of civilization stood wavering between destruction and [illegible] Writer of another period and less perilous, it was for a long time doubtful whether we were to emerge again into the enlightened progress of the twentieth century or revert to the barbarism of the fifth. We all know things were bad and there were not many homes that were free from constant and poignant anxiety, but I want to tell you that there are few, marvellously few, who even yet have any conception of the imminence and blackness of the final peril that came suddenly upon us in the Spring and Summer of the last year of the war. I was able at that time to take a small part in the war cabinet in London. I got a close view and I know something of just where we were in those months. There are some men in front of me who were in the thick of the battle, who don't say very much, but they know too, that is, if they could get at that time information that was at all complete. All I want to say is that the man who imagines that every action taken by this country at that time was not demanded by stern and terrible necessity, that man either does not know and does not want to know, or does not deserve a country.

"The grave danger, at least the gravest danger is past. That is really all that can be said. The war is over! That is to say Canada's participation has ended. But there is a lot yet to be accomplished, a lot yet to be endured, a lot of real patriotism yet to be displayed before the happiness of other years comes back. There is a lot of strong, steady navigation to be done in this country, as well as in other countries, before we get past dangers that are just as bad and just about as big as the militarism of Germany.

Unrest and Disorder

"The war developed, more than any war ever developed, epidemics of unrest and disorder. Grievances there have always been, and always will be. These have been intensified by sufffering. Extreme remedies, far more fatal than the diseases, have been tried in one country after another. The extremist has had an innings and has already laid more than one great nation prostrate and brought millions of people to poverty, anguish and death, worse than they endured in the war. We don't realize these things in Canada. But they do realize these facts and their great significance in every nation in Europe and we cannot be unconcerned. Even on this continent and in this country the forces of destruction are

STIPULATIONS FOR HOLDING BIG PEACE CONFERENCE

Russian Soviets Must Agree to Discuss Peace With Poland

FISCAL ARRANGEMENT

To Relieve France of Burden Through Banking Arrangement

Boulogne, July 28.—Premiers Lloyd George and Millerand determined at their conference here Tuesday afternoon to stand by the original plan for a peace conference with the Russian Soviets. They also outlined the execution of the financial plan of the coal arrangement with Germany.

Lloyd George accepted in the main Millerand's view, and it was decided Great Britain should reply to the Soviet demand for an international conference that it could not take place unless the Bolsheviki reversed their present attitude and agreed to discuss peace with Poland, and that all qualified representatives of Russia and the border states should attend.

Should Moscow accept these conditions, then M. Millerand will be consulted by Great Britain and he will lay down the conditions necessary for recognition of the Soviets. This attitude is taken to ensure Poland not being overwhelmed by facing the Bolsheviki alone in the negotiations.

Financial Dealings With Germany

Regarding the advances to Germany agreed upon at Spa in the coal agreement, it was determined that Germany should deliver to the Reparation Commission by September 1, 1920, German treasury bonds to the value of sixty million gold marks, bearing six per cent. interest and maturing May 1, 1921, which may be sold or used as collatteral with or without the Allies' endorsement as a means for the Reparations Commission realizing upon them.

After September 1, Germany shall deliver to the Commission similar bonds corresponding to the advances France is to make for fulfilment of the promised coal delivery.

In this way France will be relieved of the burden through a simple banking operation. To establish quickly the amount of advances France is to make to Germany the Reparations Commission can fix forty gold marks per ton provisionally, the amount to be adjusted later.

The Reparation Commission will be charged with the entire execution of the Spa agreement, so far as concerns coal delivery and Allied advances to Germany on account of the coal delivery.

Complete Arrangement Reached

London, July 28.—Mr. Lloyd George before leaving Boulogne informed the Reuter correspondent that a complete agreement had been reached on all points. It had been decided, subject to Italy's approval, to send a reply to Russia, saying that certain things must be made clear before the Allies will atend the proposed conference. Poland and other border states must participate in the conference whose primary object is to establish the peace of Europe. Then the conference could discuss the questions between Russia and the Allies with a view to establishing normal relations.

If the Soviet replies that it could only make peace separately the conference will fall to the ground, according to Mr. Lloyd George. If the Soviet complies the conference can meet within a month.

The British Prime Minister added that Premier Millerand and he agree that a good piece of work was done at Boulogne.

FARMERS HAVE NOTHING TO SAY

Winnipeg, July 28.—After a conference lasting over several hours in the Royal Alexandra Hotel Tuesday which was attended by the farmers and independent members elected to the Manitoba Legislature and two members with defined Conservative affiliations in the past, the only announcement that would be made was that a chairman and secretary had been elected and that another meeting would be held on August 12. The announcement was made by A. R. Boivin, Iberville, who stated that he had been elected secretary and that Geo. Little, Beautiful Plains, had been chosen chairman. Whether these elections were to be taken as meaning that the conference had decided definitely upon the formation of a Farmer-Independent party in the Legislative Assembly he did not say.

As to what other business had been transacted in the lengthy session nothing would be disclosed. "We have all pledged ourselves to say nothing," he said.

Joseph Hamelin, Ste. Rose, who had been one of the most active of the Conservative opposition in the last Legislature said he wished it to be distinctly understood that he was now an independent.

BLACKLIST GERMAN FIRMS WHO HAVE BROKEN CONTRACTS

Christiania, July 28.—A blacklist of German firms who are alleged to have broken contracts with Norwegian merchants is being prepared by the Christiania Chamber of Commerce, and will be published as a warning to Norwegians to "be careful of closing deals in Germany." The Christiania Chamber of Commerce now has under consideration names of 70 German firms against whom complaints have been made that they broke contracts, principally because of an unfavorable rate of exchange.

It is understood German Chambers of Commerce are co-operating with the Norwegians to force the German firms to fulfill their contracts.

COMMISSIONERS RECOMMENDATIONS ABOUT FISHERIES

Ottawa, July 28.—In recommendations made available Monday the Canadian-American Fisheries Conference, appointed to consider questions between Canada and the United States, expresses the belief a settlement of outstanding fishery that the markets of both countries should be available to fishermen of both on the same terms.

The commissioners recommend that the Canadian duty on fresh and the fresh frozen fish, not including shellfish, be removed, and with a view to that the two countries enter into an assuring stability in the industry, agreement by which such fish will be admitted customs duty free from either country into the other, and that such arrangement remain in force for 15 years, and thereafter until two years after the date, when either party thereto shall give notice to the other of its wish to terminate.

Want All Markets Available

The commissioners further recommend:

(1) That the fishing vessels of either country may enter from the high seas, any port of the other, and clear from such port back to the high seas and the fishing grounds.

(2) That the fishing vessels of either country may dispose of their catches and purchase bait, ice, coal, nets, lines, oil, provisions, and all other supplies and outfits in the ports of either country.

(3) That the repairing of fishing implements in the ports of either country be allowed to the vessels of the other country.

(4) That the fishing vessels of either country may dress, salt, and otherwise prepare their catches on board such vessels within the territorial waters of the other country.

(5) That the fishing vessels of either country may ship their crews and trans-ship their catches in the ports of the other country.

(6) That the fishermen of either country may sell their catches in the ports of the other country, subject to local tariff, if any.

To Protect Sock-eye Salmon

With regard to the rehabilitation and protection of the sock-eye salmon of the Fraser River, the commissioners express the opinion that a treaty or convention for the proper regulation of the fisheries should be entered into by Canada and the United States. Commissioners should study the situation, inspect the of the river to ascertain where slides which might bar the ascent of the hatchery operations and also the sides of the river to ascertain where slides which might bar the ascent of the fish might occur. They append a restoration and protection of the fishery, the adoption of which, subject to such modifications as responsible officers of the two Governments may consider necessary, is urgently recommended.

With regard to the halibut fishing industry on the Pacific coast, the commissioners recommend a close season for both United States and Canada from November 16 to February 15, during a period of ten years. They suggest that the commissioners appointed to investigate the Fraser River fisheries be charged with supervision of the halibut close seasons.

NOVA SCOTIANS AGAIN RETURN MURRAY GOVT.

Standing of Parties at Noon Today: Liberals 29, Farmers 7, Labor 6, Conservatives 1—Government Majority of 15 as Against 21 in the Last Legislature

Halifax, July 28—The standing of parties at noon today, with returns from three counties in Cape Breton, Antigonish and Halifax, not quite complete, was: Liberals (Government), 29; Farmers, 7; Labor, 6; Conservatives, 1. Government majority 15. The Government had a majority of 21 in the last House.

Halifax, July 28—Winning thirty seats in a House of forty-three, the Liberal Government, under the leadership of Premier George Murray, was returned to power with a clear majority of thirteen over Farmers, Labor and Conservatives, in elections held throughout Nova Scotia yesterday. Farmers elected seven candidater, Labor five, and Conservatives one. W. Hall, leader of the Opposition, was defeated in Queens. Mrs. R. W. Rogers, one of two women candidates in the field for the first time in Nova Scotia, led the defeated Conservative ticket in Cumberland, and Mrs. J. M. Donaldson, the other one of the two Labor candidates in Pictou, was at the foot of the poll in her constituency.

Hon. E. H. Armstrong, Commissioner of Public Works and Lieut. Col. J. L. Ralston, were among the prominent Liberals defeated.

The defeat of the Hon. R. M. McGregor of New Glasgow, member of the Murray Government, in the Provincial elections yesterday, was announced today. Mr. McGregor ran in Pictou County and was defeated by a Labor candidate.

Halifax Papers' Comment.

Halifax, July 28.—The Halifax Herald, commenting on the Nova Scotia election says: "The return of the Murray Government is not a surprise, and many reasons can be adduced for the defeat of the Opposition, but the principal of these lies undoubtedly in the thorough organization at the command of the Liberal party for their campaign. The Conservative leaders, on the other hand, were totally unorganized."

The Morning Chronicle says: "'Tis a signal personal tribute to Premier Murray that after twenty-four years in office and on his sixth appeal to the people in a general election, he has not only been returned with an overwhelming majority, but the Conservative party of Nova Scotia, as Mr. Fielding said last night, has been almost annihilated."

BITTER FIGHT OVER ATTEMPT TO ORGANIZE MINERS

In the Mingo County Bituminous Coal Fields of West Virginia

Williamson, W. Va., July 28.—The campaign of the United Mine Workers to organize the 5,000 miners in the Mingo county bituminous coal field has precipitated a situation which each side declares can only end when it has won complete victory. In the conflicts growing out of this move twelve or more persons have lost their lives. Wages, apparently, form a secondary consideration the battle being waged around recognition of the union and the right of mine owners to employ private detectives in and around the mines.

"The men and the operators could get together and settle this thing were it a question of the mine guards" said Charles F. Keeney, President of District No. 17, United Mine Workers, who is in command of the union forces. "But in their present temper these men are not to be fooled with Right now this situation is a powder mill."

"There is not a mine guard in Mingo county, and there has not been for years," said George Bausewine, Secretary of the Coal Operators' Association, of Williamson. "Private detectives are employed as other corporations employ detectives for intelligence work in and around their properties. They are not used for guarding the mines."

The question of wages hinges on the scale paid in the Kanowha field. The union leaders declare that adoption of this scale would increase the earning of the miners in Mingo, while the operators insist that their miners, under the scale now in force, are being paid more than it is possible for the Kanawha miners to earn. However, little attention is being paid to that phase of the controversy. Recognition of the union is the big issue.

Sandy Hook, July 28 — Defender Resolute gave the chalenger, Shamrock IV., the worst drubbing of the 1920 regatta in the final race of the series today, winning boat for boat by 13 minutes and 45 seconds. As a result, America's famous yachting cup remains in the United States.

Overcoming a 40-second lead and the advantage of a windward berth which Shamrock had taken at the start, the defender held a lead of 4 minutes and 8 seconds at the halfway stake of the 30-mile course, and crossed the finish line 13 minutes and forty-five secands ahead. Including her handicap of six minutes and 40 secs., Resolute won by 18 minutes and 45 seconds.

SOIL DRIFTING GREAT TOPIC AT CONVENTION

Of Western Canada Irrigation Association Now Meeting At Lethbridge

Lethbridge, Alta., July 28.—With a large number of delegates present from the three Prairie Provinces, the annual convention of the Western Canada Irrigation Association will be opened here this afternoon at 2.30. Sessions will be held for three days, ending July 30th.

This convention will undoubtedly be one of the most important in the history of the association. It is being held in the city that may be called the birthplace of irrigation in Western Canada, for it was here that the first irrigation system in Canada was projected. The crops are well advanced and the visitors will have an opportunity of seeing for themselves some of the good effects of irrigation of farms in the neighborhood of Lethbridge.

A program of addresses that are instructive, helpful and interesting to all concerned in irrigation farming and to those engaged in agriculture generally, has been drawn up. One of the principal discussions will be on "Soil drifting," a topic of much concern to the farmers throughout the Prairie Provinces.

SUDDEN DEATH OF YOUNG GIRL

Miss Rowena Devlin Taken Ill In Afternoon and Died in a Few Hours

Friends in Brandon and district were shocked to learn of the death of Miss Rowena Devlin, fifteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Devlin, well-known farmers, who reside about six miles West of the city. The late Miss Devlin passed away shortly before seven o'clock Tuesday night, death being due to cerebral hemorrhage, the excessive heat during the day probably being a contributary cause.

The late Miss Devlin had been over to her sister's during the afternoon, making the trip via motor, and returning shortly after three o'clock. Upon her arrival home she went out to the barn with another sister, and while there complained of her head hurting. They went to the well for a pail of water and then returned to the house. Miss Devlin just got inside when she fainted and was soon in a state of collapse. A physician was immediately sent for, and in response to his administrations Miss Devlin seemed to rally and was much better when he left for the city. However, shortly before seven o'clock he was again sent for, but Miss Devlin was beyond human help when he arrived. The death of Miss Devlin is particularly sad. It is the first break in a family of ten.

The funeral will take place Thursday afternoon at two o'clock from the family residence to Brandon cemetery, Rev. H. Dickson, of Alexander, officiating.

VETERAN LOST IN WILDS: THREE PARTIES SEARCHING

Fort William, Ont., July 28.—David Kincaid, a returned soldier who went overseas with the 52nd Battalion, has been missing from the Loon Lake, pleasure resort, 20 miles East of here, since Friday. His boat was found tied up near the shore of the lake. Kincaid was badly wounded overseas and has a wooden leg. Two theories to account for his disappearance are either that Kincaid has fallen into the lake or else that he has crossed the lake, tied up the boat and struck into the bush. The first theory might be correct if some one had found the boat adrift and tied it up, but the second theory is more likely if Kincaid tied the boat up himself.

Search parties are out. They include thirty Great War veterans in three parties of ten. The Indians have searched the trial to the Kelly mica mine, where Kincaid was supposed to be heading for, but found no trace. If the search is ineffective bloodhounds are to be brought from Winnipeg.

TIMELY ADVICE

In an article in the North American Review Dr. Eugene Lyman Fisk, an authority on personal hygiene in relation to the prolongation of life, explains that while scientists are experimenting to add to the years of the average man and woman, a great deal can be done in a simple and sensible way to prevent premature decay. Dr. Fisk points out that the Life Extension Institute of New York, in its examination of many thousands of men, women and children in all walks of life, found that more than fifty per cent. were suffering from diseases due to neglect, and practically all had defects more or less serious which might easily have been corrected. Had these persons received the proper medical, dental, or surgical treatment at the proper time, their "life prospect" would have been materially improved. Dr. Fisk says that out of 150,000 examined not one person was found to be in perfect physical condition; and he adds

"In a group of several thousand of insurance policyholders examined periodically under this sypstem for the purpose of prolonging their lives, the death rate during a period of seven years was cut down fifty per cent. It has been figured by a leading statistician that the periodic examination of any group will save at least three lives per thousand per annum, apart from the dividends in increased living capacity"

Dr. Fisk is very much impressed with the scientific investigations being conducted in the hope that some means may be found for prolonging life or at least for making old age less burdensome, and he urges men and women to pay strict attention to the rules of personal hygiene. He makes it plain that such a course would not "cause any upheaval or dislocation." Periodic physical examination and an intelligent regulation of our lives, of our social and industrial conditions," he says in conclusion," may seem a commonplace formula after discussing an elixir of life, but it will do much to lift the burden of woe and of error that now weighs down the nations of the world.

COLLEGE FAILURES

The notices sent out to 271 students of the University of Michigan to the effect that because of poor scholarship last semester, the faculty deems it undesirable for them to return to the university next Fall, will bring disappointment to many of these young people. It is not an easy thing to learn that you have failed, even when, as is probably true in most of these cases, the failure is not directly your fault. At all times defeat is a bitter pill.

And yet it is better to learn at 20 and 21 the lesson which comes to some of us not until we are well along in middle age. The choice of a trade or profession is one of the most important tasks which confront an iddividual. On a wise choice of the right kind of job depends much of the individual's happiness in the future. And still with many young people such choice is more or less determined by conditions of which they have but little understanding.

Today there is an unprecedented rush to college. Caught in the swirl of it on the day of graduation from high school many of our young people are borne on to college and university. Fortunately, the great majority of these are boys and girls to whom college work and examinations offer no insurmountable obstacles. They make good. But out of the entire group there are always some few who for any one or several of a dozen reasons should not have been caught in this rush to college. They find themselves unable to compete with their fellow students who are better equipped and mentally more agile. But although in their low grades in mid-semester examinations they forsee their defeat, it is difficult for them to accept it, to admit that they are on the wrong track.

It ought to be remembered by these students and their disappointed parents that the failure to carry college work to completion does not necessarily indicate that the student thus dismissed may not be eminently successful in other walks of life. It is not even an indication that outside of college walls, if the desire is sufficiently strong in him, he may not acquire learning which would put to shame many college graduates.

There is no end of good work to be done in the world. There is no end to the satisfaction that comes to the individual when by dint of initiative and looking about he has found the right job, and by dint of effort goes into it heart and soul. It is worth while to have failed once, if the lesson learned from this failure is used to advantage in our next effort.

TRAIN PROSPECTORS

Hon. Harry Mills, Minister of Mines in the Province of Ontario, a locomotive engineer who, in one day, made the big jump "from cab to Cabinet," has a scheme for training mining prospectors which might be of great benefit if adopted in Manitoba. The plan, as at present developed, is to open in Northern Ontario towns during Winter months, classes in geological formations, occurrences of various metals, etc. At these classes the aim is to instruct prospectors so that as they pass over any likely territory they will recognize not only gold or silver quartz, but the many valuable subsidiary metals. Northern Manitoba is rich in mineral resources, and it is safe to say that the prospectors there are no better fitted to locate less valuable minerals than the prospectors in Ontario. We are just on the threshold of the development of our mineral resources and it would be of incalculable value to the province to have thoroughly trained men doing the prospecting. An Eastern paper thus deals with the Ontario plan so far as it has been developed.

The organizing of schools for mining prospectors is one of the plans of the Ontario Minister of Mines. It is expected that classes will be opened in various mining centres of Northern Ontario this Winter. A general course in geological formations, occurrences of various metals, etc., will be provided. The project is one worth trying, for any aid to the prospecting of Northern Ontario is of general advantage to the Province. The discovery of Cobalt and Porcupine has been of tremendous benefit to Ontario commercially, and in other parts of the North similar camps are likely to be found. But gold and silver are not the only metals of economic value in the Northland. There are many valuable subsidiary metals and minerals there. The prospector should be technically so efficient that as he passes over likely territory, he can distinguish the presence of any valuable metal or mineral. Instead of being a hunter of gold outcrops, or of silver, he should recognize the rarer metals or minerals. Such a course should add infinite zest to the great gamble of prospecting. Along with this educational facility, the Minister of Mines should take steps to compel the re-opening of the thousands of claims that have been idle for years. Because a claim-owner has performed certain assessment work on a claim, it does not follow that he should have the title to let that land lie neglected for years. The North is full of claims, abandoned, or held for years in the hope of sale, and these ought to be re-prospected. Ontario mines are coming in for a great day, shortly, when industrial boom slackens and costs come down, and every preparation should be made for it.

GOING FARMING

The farm question as it bears on the life of the young American is discussed in a recent article by Secretary Meredith, issued by the United States Department of Agriculture. The article is as applicable to Canadians as Americans, and is most timely.

Many young men now filling positions in the cities find their thoughts turning to the outdoor life of the farm, but they do not know how to start farming. In his articles, Secretary Meredith, points the way to a successful career on the land. He invites young men who desire work for their muscles as well as work for their brains and an outlet for their initiative, to take his suggestions into consideration.

"A mere job is not enough. Even if the pay is good, there must be something to satisfy the ambitions of such a man. The man I have in mind does not want to be a wage earner all his life. He hopes for independence in middle age and the best of opportunities for his children, and he looks forward to an old age of comfort and freedom from financial worry.

"For men of that type there are more chances on the farm than they may realize, and I should like to tell about a few of them briefly.

"We may imagine such a man putting himself through an examination something like this:

"'How much money have you?'

"'Not much.'

"'What do you know about farming?'

"'Very little; but I'm good and strong, and hard work never scared me.'

"'What would you like to do for a living?'

"'I would like to own a farm somewhere and work it. I'd like to live in decent style and marry and bring up a family.'

"It is peculiar how the idea always crops up that the first step in farming is to own a farm. 'A farm of your own' is all right as a goal to look ahead to, but the man who lacks either the requisite money or experience will reach the goal quicker by starting in as a hired man. If he has money and needs experience, he will not find it profitable to acquire and operate a farm until he has gained the skill and judgment which will enable him to manage a farm successfully. The cheapest and quickest way to gain this skill and knowledge is by working on a well-managed farm in the Summer and attending the Winter short course in agriculture at the nearest agricultural college."

The road is open to "a farm of your own," and the road is no more difficult for one who likes farming than is the road to success in any other calling. The safest and best way is to start at the bottom.

It is contended by the head of the Department of Agriculture at Washington that at no previous time was farm labor in such demand as at present, or wages for unskilled farm labor so good, or when the standard of living on the farms was as high as today.

"From all parts of the country comes the demand for men who are not afraid of work. If the schedule of the day's wages in the cities appears lavish when compared with the pay of the farm laborer, just remember that the latter gets his board and rent—and usually his washing and a lot of other things—and that in the cities, where the wages are higher, these things are commanding greatly increased prices."

It is contended and rightly so, that the farm laborer's wage is nearly all gain. He has few opportunities to spend and many to save. In the right sort of farming community and the right sort of farmer's household the hired man is received on his merits as a man. If he is a straight, clean sort of fellow, his good qualities will be appreciated in the country as readily as in the city. It is up to the man himself and if he makes good he will have no reason to complain of his social status. The U. S. Secretary of Agriculture says in conclusion:

"The best of it is that all these efforts for the betterment of country life are in their early stages. There is great opportunity for the young man with initiative and new ideas to help make his community just what he wants it to be. And that is a lot more fun than finding something ready-made awaiting you.

"The business of agriculture is different from that of most industries. It gives the all-round man a chance to use his talents. It is not a matter of doing the same thing over and over again day after day as in some factories, for every month and every day brings its own special problems on the farm, and the man who is ingenious and clever at doing a variety of things has a chance to make good."

BEWARE OF FIRES

President Gamber of the State Fire Marshal's Association utters a warning against the possibility of wilful destruction of overstocked warehouses by fire. The warning points out a danger which some persons foolishly refuse to credit. Possibly the danger of an epidemic of this sort is greater in President Gamber's homeland than in Canada. Still, the warning should be taken to heart.

In brief but forceful sentences the Fire Marshal points out that there are hundreds of thousands of firms and individuals who cannot stand a sharp break in price. They bought in a rising market at a time when it seemed as if prices would continue to rise in spectacular fashion. The decision of the public not to buy, and the consequent accumulation of stocks threatens to wipe them out. Under the conditions, destruction of the stocks by fire offers a way out. There are unscrupulous people in business as well as in other lines of human endeavor. Some who would draw a line at setting a match to their stocks, may become wilfully blind to conditions which might easily provoke a conflagration.

Against those who would not hesitate to set out a fire and those who may be careless, the Fire Marshal issues a warning. The public is entitled to protection against them and their criminal intent or criminal carelessness. It is not merely a question of the payment of losses by insurance companies who have agreed to accept the risk. It is a question of the wanton destruction of goods that the world needs.

The present is a good time for the reviewing of the safeguards against fire. No honest individual or corporation has anything to fear from additional safeguards against fires nor thorough investigation of the origin and conditions under which a fire occurs. If additional safeguards can be devised which will not interfere with speedy settlement of honest losses, and will open wide the doors of penal institutions to the criminally careless and criminals, there will be less danger of the epidemic of fires which the President of the Fire Marshals warns against.

PRIVY COUNCIL DISMISSES APPEAL BY MENNONITES

Thus Ending Long Dispute Over Mennonite Claims for Exemption

COMPULSORY EDUCATION

Should Follow Disposal of Claims by the Court of Last Resort

London, July 30.—The Privy Council has dismissed the application by the Mennonites for leave to appeal from the judgment of the Manitoba courts.

Winnipeg, July 30.—The judgment by the Privy Council brings to a close the dispute concerning the power of the Provincial Government in Manitoba to enforce compulsory education in Mennonite districts. It is claimed by the Mennonites that by virtue of the concessions granted to them at the time of their arrival in Canada, 1870, that they were to be given compelte control over their school system. This claim is disputed by the Government Mennonites declined to carry out the act. The result was that the Government in the Spring of 1919 prosecuted five leading Mennonites. They were all convicted and given small fines. During the past year and a half the case has been slowly proceeding throughout the courts of Manitoba, and latterly the Supreme Court of Canada. It was finally appealed by the Mennonites to the Privy Council.

SASKATCHEWAN FARMERS TO KEEP OUT OF POLITICS

In the Provincial Field—Decision By Saskatchewan Grain Growers Association

Regina, Sask., July 30.—The Grain Growers of Saskatchewan have decided not to enter provincial politics yet. After a two days' session a meeting of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association passed the following resolution:

"Whereas the association in convention held at Saskatoon in February last resolved that the matter of formulating a provincial political platform be delegated to the Central Board and that the board of the Women's section be requested to convene with it.

"And whereas this meeting of the two boards is now in session in accordance with the said instructions,

"And whereas in order to ascertain what the locals of the association desire to have included in such proposed platform every local was circularized with a request that it make recommendations.

"And whereas to date only a small percentage of the locals have replied and of these many are opposed to while only a minority of them express a desire for the preparation of such a platform.

"And whereas it would appear that the locals in general have not as yet given full consideration to the many matters involved in the proposed undertaking.

"And whereas it may not be presumed that the association contemplates abandoning the character of being an organization for all the farmers without regard to their political affiliations.

"Therefore this conference does not deem it wise to declare itself on, or to include in, a program of legislative demands for the association approved by it in convention.

"Furthermore this conference recommends to all locals that they make a thorough study of provincial legislative problems with a view to forwarding their recommendations to the central organization in time for full discussion and consideration at the next annual convention."

Rev. S. Everton, who has been appointed Registrar and Burser at the Brandon College, is expected to arrive in Brandon during the week end with Mrs. Everton and children, from Edmonton, Alta., where Mr. Everton has been Pastor of the Strathcona Baptist Church. Prior to the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Everton from Edmonton they were tendered a farewell reception by the members of the congregation of Strathcona Church which was largely attended by a host of friends in that city. The following account of presentations made is taken from one of the Edmonton papers.

"Very gratifying appreciation of the work of both Mr. and Mrs. Everton was shown and during the evening several presentations were made, these included a fountain pen to Mr. Everton, and a pretty bon-bon dish to Mrs. Everton from Allendale Mission, with Mrs. Hawkins acting as its representative, and reading an address of appreciation. Mr. G. F. McNally, in an admirable little speech, voiced the appreciation of Strathcona Baptist Church; and Mrs. Rutherford then presented Mr. Everton with a handsome gold watch, and Mrs. Everton with a beautiful silver tea service and tray. Another pretty little event was when Master Wardlow Porteous and Miss Margaret Bowen, on behalf of the Mission Band at the church, made Mrs. Evertotn the recipient of a dainty necklace in a small basket. The former made a little speech and the latter then made the presentation. Mr. and Mrs. Everton replied, expressing their thanks to all.'

USE OF ECONOMIC BLOCKADE IS ABLY ADVOCATED

Arthur J. Balfour Points Out Advantages of Use of This Weapon

BLOCKADE QUESTION

To Be Considered by League of Nations Council Now in Session

San Sebastian, Spain, July 30.—"We must have economic blockade," declared Arthur J. Balfour, British representative on the League of Nations Council, in a talk with newspaper correspondents on the program of the council which opened its eighth meeting here today. He considered the meeting an important one, because, among other things, the blockage question was on the agenda. If an economic blockade was applied to the nation which defied the League, Balfour said he could not believe that that nation would be able to resist for long.

No nation would destroy itself in these civilized times by inviting such apentlay, he added: "It is not likely it will often be used, since it is not probable that the League will often be defied.'

Stewart River District in Yukon Wants a Wireless Station

Ottawa, July 30—Dr. A. Thompson, Federal member for the Yukon, is here asking the Government to install a wireless station at the new silver camp near Mayo in the Stewart River district. Installation here would connect the Canadian Yukon with the United States wireless stations in Alaska. It is understood that the Naval Department is objecting to the proposition on the ground of expense, the estimate being $42,500.

Dr. Thompson told the Canadian Press that he had enthusiastic letters from his constituents telling of the preparations to greet the airmen now making the trip from Mineola to Nome, Alaska. Supply bases have been established on the Yukon river and the arrival of the first machine is to be the occasion for great rejoicing.

After a brief trip to the Maritime Provinces, where he visited his aged father, Dr. Thompson is convinced that Mr. Meighen will have no difficulty in re-electing his two new cabinet ministers there.

DENIES CLAIM ROMAN-CHURCH ANNUL MARRIAGE

Chancellor Anglican Diocese Says Protestants Will Not Let Case Drop

Montreal, July 30.—A repudiation of the claim of the Roman Catholic church authorities here that they had the right to dissolve, as far as its sacramental rights were concerned, the marriage of a Roman Catholic (Miss Eugenie Duggan) and a Protestant (George Brennan), performed by a Church of England minister, is contained in a statement issued by L. H. Davidson, chancellor of the Montrea ldiocese of the Auglican Church.

Mr. Davidson says he is convinced the Anglican bishop of Montreal and his clergy will not submit to a continuation of this course of action and he contends this is also the feeling of Protestants throughout the Dominion.

Mr. Davidson refers to the ruling of the Supreme Court, which decided that the law of the Province of Quebec does not render civilly null and void the marriage of Catholics by a Protestant minister and agrees that the Roman Catholic church's decision in the Duggan-Brennan case is an act of disobedience to and defiance of the law of the country.

PREDICT DEFEAT FOR GOVERNMENT

Sir Allen Aylesworth Speaks at Liberal Meeting in Toronto

Toronto, July 29.—Sir Allan Aylesworth, former Minister of Justice, addressing a gathering of members of the Liberal executives of Toronto and York County ridings Tuesday declared that Hon. Arthur Meighen, the new Premier of Canada, was a "dyed-in-the-wool, hard-shelled Tory of the old school, who thought the few were qualified to govern and the majority to be governed."

The present Dominion Government, Sir Allan Aylesworth predicted, would go down to bitter and ignominious defeat when it went to the country. While deprecating government by any class, Sir Allan said he favored giving the farmers a chance, but he doubted that if they won in the next Dominion general elections they would better themselves or the country.

LADY BURNHAM UNVEILS MONUMENT TO "EVANGELINE"

Wife of President of Imperial Press Conference Makes Excellent Address

Grand Pre, N.S., July 30.—A monument to the gentle "Evangeline" of Longfellow's poem, was unveiled at Grand Pre Thursday by Lady Burnham, wife of the President of the Imperial Press Conference, in the presence of delegates to the Conference and a large number of visitors from different parts of the Maritime Provinces.

A tour of the Annapolis Valley was included in Thursday's itinerary of the visitors on their journey across Canada.

Lady Burnham's Speech.

Lady Burnham's speech at the unveiling of Evangeline's statue at Grand Pre, N.S., was:

" I am deeply conscious of the great honor you have done me by asking me to unveil your beautiful statue of a woman who has become the type of a devoted ministrant that has contributed its full share to the strength and sweetness of the British Empire. Evangeline is the beautiful conception of an American poet whose verses we learned to read when we were children on both sides of the Atlantic. History has shed another light on the Acadian story. We see today that British policy was not as black as it was then painted. Whatever may be the truth of this story, as a woman and an Englishwoman, I shall always regard it as one of the most painful episodes in our annals. Thank God those cruel days lie behind us forever, and from the fate of Evangeline has sprungy a great wave of sympathy which has carried on the healing hand of Time.

"The British Empire stands today in fast friendship with France, firmer during the last few days than it has ever stood before. The war with all its horrors and sadness has bound us through the deeds of our beloved and heroic sons with bands of steel. Ypres, Vimy, the Somme, and all those other deeds of glorious heroism lie deep down in our hearts, never, never to be forgotten. If those dear ones could speak to us today their message would be, "Stand fast together, and let not our sacrifice have been in vain." To Evangaline let us say, 'Thou art the sun of other days that shine by giving out their rays.' It is a good omen that your beautiful sun—God's healing hand—should be resting upon us all today who are here to do honor to that sweet woman. Under these rays in your beautiful land, so full of beauty and promise, the old hatred is dead; only the old character remains, and both characters are worthy of the respect and admiration of all mankind. I have now the great honor and privilege of unveiling the statue of Evangeline."

BRANDON FIRMS HAVE SUPPLIES

Of Farm Implements and Will Not Have to Pay Increased Freight Rates

With most of the implement dealers in Brandon, who import from the United States, having a sufficient supply on hand to meet the demands of the farmers this year, the increased freight rates which become effective in the United States, September 1st, will make little difference to Canadian firms in September.

By the beginning of next month practically all consignments to Brandon firms will be delivered, and for the present, at least farmers will not be asked to share the increase. Some firms have sufficient supplies on hand to meet the demands of the farmers this Fall, and others are expecting shipments which will complete their stock this week. With the exception of a few small tractors, etc., there will be very few shipments of machinery from the United States to Brandon firms in September.

The Genoa conference was called primarily to consider the application to seafarers of the labor conventions adopted at Washington in November. Further advices received indicate that the conference appointed a special commission to consider the preparation of this Children's Charter of the Sea. The commission was composed of representatives of governments, shipowners and seamen. It came unanimously to the decision that no children under fourteen years of age should be permitted to work on sea-going vessels with two exceptions: (1) on vessels on which "only members of the same family are employed"; and (2) in the case of children working on training ships under the supervision of public authorities.

MOOSE JAW POTATO GROWERS COMPLAIN BUGS ARE NUMEROUS

Moose Jaw, July 29.—Potato beetles are making their appearance in this district in much larger numbers this year than ever before, according to reports from various potato growers around the city. Up to this year this pest has been very little known in the district, but although there is no serious menace to the potato crop this year from the pests they are much more in evidence than ever before.

It is believed by the potato growers that the imported seed has had considerable to do with the number of beetles this year. Owing to the shortage of the crop in this country last year many growers were compelled to import a considerable amount of their seed.

SYRIAN GIRL SOLD AS WIFE IN DETROIT

Step-Father Charged Would-be Husband $3,000, and Got the Money

Detroit, July 29—In accordance with the custom of Syrians, Sahit Dugeley, 385A Belle Avenue, Highland Park, paid $3,000 to Hassen Palet, step-father of fourteen-year-old Mary Slamen, and despite her protestations, took the girl to the Michigan Central station and forced her to accompany him on a train bound for the East, where he plans to be married to her, according to agents of the Department of Justice.

The Government operative said that the "sale" of the girl had been carried out in the same manner as the average American would go about a sale of a piece of property. He found two persons who had acted as witnesses to the transaction. Following the "sale," at noon, the girl, who said she hated Dugeley, ran from her home and sought protection at the home of a school girl friend. Her step-father and the man who bought her followed and she was taken from the friend's place and back to her own home.

SCRUTINIZE FUTURE FIRES

Insurance Companies Frankly Disturbed Declares American Fire Marshal

Toronto, July 29—An attack on profiteers was made by President Gamber, of State Fire Marshal's Association, in an address before the Fire Chief's Association here.

"During the last year incendiary fires have been very few," said Mr. Gamber. "Business has been too good for incendiarism because of the high price levels. I need hardly tell you there are hundreds and thousands of firms and individuals who cannot stand a sharp break in prices. Their profits are built on inflation. They include many factories which have been equipped during the war or since and thrived because commodities of every sort have brought unheard-of prices.

"Many merchants are said to be overstocked also and we know that warehouses are stocked to bursting with food and clothing. But information trickles out that speculators have overplayed their game. They will be victims of their own greed and obliged to disgorge at a loss. But will they? Fire insurance for a year past has been written on inflated valuations and the insurance companies are frankly disturbed.

'Let us prepare to meet the emergency. Every suspicious fire should be scrutinized more closely than ever before. Conservation must be encouraged and the prison doors left over for those deserving them."

To alleviate the housing conditions, the speaker said 2,139,000 homes should be constructed before 1926.

POLISH MILITARY PLIGHT IS NOT SO DESPERATE

British Mission Makes Recommendations Towards Rectifying the Situation

SEND MUNITIONS

Employ British and French Officers and Regroup Polish Army

Paris, July 29.—The British Mission to Poland has made a report on the military situation in that country which declares that it is not so desparate, but that it can be retrieved without great difficulty, if the Mission's three recommendations are followed. It recommends first, immediate sending of munitions; second, employment of 600 French officers and 200 British officers, and third, a re-grouping of the Polish army notably moving troops from Galician to the Northern front.

POLICE RESCUE SLAVE GIRL IN SAN FRANCISCO

Whose Note Dropped on Street Gave Information to Authorities

San Francisco, Cal., July 29.—Shuffling homeward through the fog in the San Francisco Chinatown the other night, a Chinese youth noticed a piece of white paper flutter through a circle of light from a street lamp and fall to the pavement. He picked it up and read its message, in Chinese characters:

"I am a slave girl. I wish to get away from my cruel masters. I have been kept a prisoner six years on the fourth floor of 1115 Stockton Street. My name is Loi Mui. I was brought here from China when I was a little girl. I have a friend who says if I can send word to the man who passes in blue clothes with a star they will help me out. I want to get back to China. Please help me."

The young Chinese to whom the note had fallen happened to be an American-born Chinese. He knew that it was dangerous to interfere with the girl's captors, and to inform the police might mean death for him and his family.

His better instincts guided him to the Hall of Justice with the note. His name will never be known to anyone but the police.

Police Capt. O'Meara, with Federal officials and a representative of a Chinese mission raided the place an hour after the letter was dropped out of the window. They battered down three doors and on the fourth floor found Loi Mui.

The girl is held in the city prison while Federal officers investigate her story. She may be deported. She said she was sold as a slave in China when she was 12 years old and brought to this country afterwards. Detectives say she was held by the Hop Sing tong, one of the strongest factions of China.

B.C. HERDS WILL SOON BE FREE OF DREAD TUBERCULOSIS GERM

Vancouver, B.C., July 29.—"Ten years ago 80 per cent. of the cattle in British Columbia were infected with tuberculosis; last year only two and a half or three per cent. were infected, and within a comparatively short time the number will be nil," W. W. Alton, of Cartier, Provincial Government veterinarian, said.

This year four per cent. of the cattle inspected were ordered destroyed, but this is not an indication that tuberculosis is gaining ground again, as the whole Province has not been inspected yet, and the disease is more prevalent in some districts than in others, Dr. Alton added.

QUEEN WOULD NOT PAY HIGH PRICE ASKED FOR ANTIQUE

Paris, July 29.—The Queen of Roumania taught luxury buying folk a good lesson recently when she entered an antique shop. She picked up an amber statuette and asked the price. "One hundred and twenty pounds," was the reply. "That's too much for me," said the Queen and her daughter, Princess Elizabeth, who was with the Queen, added: "They must think we are Americans."

LIGHTHOUSE TENDER HAS A SKELETON CREW

Eighteen Men Quit When Wage Increase Was Not Forthcoming

Victoria, B.C., July 29.—Manned by only a skeleton crew the Dominion Government lighthouse tender Estevan reached port recently. Eighteen of her men quit at Prince Rupert when wage increases were not granted.

The ship was brought South by chief Officer Gordon Evans. Captain Bilton was in charge of the Estevan since the beginning of June, when Captain Barnes went on vacation. Before the Estevan left Rupert for the South Captain Bilton went back to the Newington again, and Chief Officer Evans, of the Estevan, who had been in command of the Newington during the shift, returned to his shift, bringing her to Victoria.

The Estevan was to have called at Triangle Island on the way South to pick up a crew of men who have been dismantling the Triangle light, but owing to the few men on board the ship came right through. The officers did their own steering and deckhand work, and some of the firing. A couple of men were picked up before leaving Prince Rupert.

The Newington was still tied up at Digby Island without a crew when the Estevan started.

BERRY—DRYSDALE

SUGAR UNNECESSARY IN CANNING FRUIT

The following article on canning fruit, taken from the Calgary Albertan, will be read with interest by many Brandon housewives:

"If you can your fruits sugarless and add this product as the fruit is opened, you will find that less sugar will be required than the usual process calls for," says Mrs. Deachman in the course of her demonstration on sugarless canning at the Hudson's Bay, Tuesday afternoon.

Those who attended the first of the series of demonstrations in sugarless canning, which are being put on three days this week by the Calgary Thrift Board for the benefit of those housewives who are finding it impossible to buy both fruit and sugar at present prices, learned that thorough and proper sterilization will ensure perfect success, and once having learned how to handle fruit according to the sugarless method one need never again fear failure. A summary of Mrs. Deachman's lectur is contained in the following leading points:

Test all jars, tops, and rubbers for defects the day before canning your fruit. Choose firm and slightly underripe fruit. Plunge jars, tops, and rubbers into boiling hot water to sterilize, drain and do not wipe. Pack jars with fruit and fill full of boiling water. Screw on cover until nearly tight and place in boiler. Cover with hot water and allow to boil from eight to twelve minutes according to the size and kind of fruit. Take from boiler and screw cover tight. Work quickly. As jars cool continue to screw covers tighter and tighter. If such precautions and methods are adopted the fruit is bound to keep. Sugar is not a preservative, what really preserves fruit is the perfect sterilization of both fruit and jars to kill bacteria.

Mrs. Deachman gave many valuable suggestions as she went along for handling hot jars, utilizing sugarless fruits for puddings and pies. She also gave instruction in general fruit canning and jelly and jam making. The lecture was very well attended by practiced housewives and young matrons as well who brought notebooks with them and followed the demonstration in every detail. Mrs. Deachman will give two more lectures on Thursday and Friday afternoons, beginning at 3 o'clock.

Friday, besides sugarless canning, she will demonstrate canning of garden products.

It has been a great pleasure to have had your assistance in the many activities connected with the School.

"As a teacher you have been most faithful and earnest, and in the social life of the work you have always been willing and have done your full share in the endeavor to make our entertainments, banquets and picnics both recreative and educative. We wish also to include your esteemed husband who has done such splendid work in the Mission Church, and also your three sons who have grown up in our School and filled positions of service with much credit.

We felt we could not allow you to take your departure without expressing in a slight degree at least our appreciation of the exemplary life you have lived and the great influence for good you have been. As a supplementary expression of our esteem for you we ask you to accept this cut glass bowl which we trust you will long be spared to use and will also remind you of your Brandon friends who wish you and yours your full measure of prosperity in your new home and business venture.

"Thanking you for the good thou hast done us, we say adieu. Kind friends, adieu.

"Signed on behalf of the First Methodist Sunday School.

PREMIER MEIGHEN

at work. I am afraid we are blind if we do not believe that they are a lot stronger than they were and that the menace is real.

Correct Injustices

"In these circumstances I am going to say a very few words as to what, in my opinion, the people of Canada who love their country ought to do.

"First we should be quick to remedy injustice wherever injustice appears. We cannot all agree as to where injustice does appear. What one person honestly thinks is right, another person honestly thinks is wrong. But we should be more alert than ever to examine, both as citizens and as Governments, every grievance that has any real foundation. We should do so in a liberal and generous spirit and not be too selfish about class rights. Remember that one class or group is just about as sincere as the other and every class thinks that every other class has the advantage. That is the distemper of the age. The imperative duty of the hour is to vigilantly seek out and redress all just causes of complaint and whenever in the framing and enforcing of laws there is no doubt as to where the line of justice lies, give the benefit to the man behind.

Poisonous Influences

"But experience has taught us that the removal of injustice is not itself enough. The idealist may talk as he likes, the theorist may prate as he pleases, but you cannot get rid of the enemies of order by the mere force of equitable laws. Make your laws as fair and just as human wisdom can devise, enforce them as impartially as you will, and the state may still be in danger. The demagogues and the destructionists can keep within the law and still do their work. By misrepresentation, by misinformation, by the arts of language, by the guile of words, they poison and inflame the mind. In nearly every case they first convince themselves. Then they go on with increasing enthusiasm, to set whole populations on edge. The tension of the last few years has been their great opportunity.

"Against this foe there must be set the united moral force of right thinking people. I firmly believe that the right thinking people, who want law and order, those who desire the security of property honestly earned, those who want policies of sanity and moderation, I believe the conditions of the country and, still more, the conditions of the world demand that they stand together.

"We ought, we have to, get away from differences that really are not differences at all, from the standpoint of the vital concerns of the country. We have two great races. The fundamental institutions of Canada are just as dear to the one race as to the other. There are just as many friends of law and order and responsible government among French-Canadians as among English Canadians. The prime minister of Quebec, the Honorable Mr. Taschereau, said a few nights ago that the time had come when, what he described as the isolation of Quebec, should cease and when that province should take its full part in the government of this Dominion. He appealed for a spirit of co-operation to take the place of a spirit of estrangement. I re-echo that appeal. I believe it to be my duty to answer that appeal to the utmost of my power. I hope it receives a warm and a cordial response in every end of this country. Neither side feels or will admit responsibility. If we wait until either side admits responsibility for what estrangement has existed we will never get anywhere. Let the question of responsibility go by and let us look to the future.

"The peril of every nation has been a tendency to divide, to divide on lines of race, on lines of religion, on lines of social caste, on lines of occupation. When the tendency gets too strong the beginning of the end has come. If we do not come together and reach a better unity on things that are vital and essential to the state there will be a heavy penalty paid.

"But there can be no compromise with what is fundamentally wrong. We cannot tolerate what is merely selfish and destructive. The common sense of the country must take warning in time and stand irresistibly against it. The fortification of law and order must remain impregnable.

Rights of People

"On the other hand there can be no curtailment of the rights of the people, at the hands of commercial power, or any other power. The bonds of freedom never can contract —they must progressively expand. But the liberty we seek is ordered liberty; it is liberty under the law; it is described best of all as British liberty. The government of the nation must take its stand between the enemies of order and the enemies of liberty.

"This is a grand country; we understand better every year what a wonderful land it is. In the richness of its soil, in the tonic and vitality of its climate, in the wealth of its waters, in the abundance of its minerals—in everything that makes for the prosperity and vitality of a nation we have the best and the biggest of the untaken areas of earth. Our trade has expanded; our wealth has multiplied. In the rate of increase, we have surpassed, I think, every country in the world save one. Our population is growing; the achievements of our people in every field of human enterprise in peace and war, have astonished even ourselves. The distribution of our wealth though far from ideal, has undoubtedly improved. Is there a country in the world where there is less poverty than in Canada? I don't know where it is. This is true not of one class alone, but of all. Permit me to suggest this thought and I do so without any reference to party — we may, in the past, have gone wrong on lines of policy, bue we never got very far wrong or we would not be where we are today. Remember, that while civilization moves Northward, it moves very slowly Northward.

"What Canadians should do is to cheer up and get together.

"Ladies and gentlemen of Portage la Prairie, I can never forget this welcome. If any incentive should be necessary beyond the good of my country to help me discharge the duties of Prime Minister to the last limit of my capacity it will be the memory of this reception and a desire to be worthy of the good will of my fellow-citizens of Portage.

BODY OF YOUNG LAD RECOVERED: CAUGHT ON SNAG

Police Procured Dynamite, But Did Not Need to Use It

INQUEST UNNECESSARY

Declares Coroner Condell—Body Found Near Where Clothes Were Left

The body of Joe Kopochinski, the young lad who was drowned on Sunday, was recovered by the City Police on Monday afternoon. The body was found about ten yards East of the spot where the young boy is supposed to have entered the water. It was caught among some snags and brush under the water, grappling hooks releasing the body. It was not necessary to use the dynamite secured by the police on Monday, as the body was recovered a few minutes before they intended to use the explosive.

The search for the body took place Sunday afternoon and evening and the police worked hard on Monday to locate it. A supply of dynamite was brought into the city for the purpose of using it in an effort to bring the body to the surface as it was supposed that it was caught in some snags under the water. A thorough search near the spot where Joe entered the water was made with the grappling irons, and finally the body was recovered within a short distance from the place where the young lad's clothing was found. The Coroner was notified and the body removed to Campbell and Compbell's undertaking parlors. Dr. Condell states today that there will be no inquest as he does not consider one necessary.

TAKE OATH OVER BIER TO AVENGE DEATH OF M-GURK

Chicago Detectives Take Oath at Funeral to Find Murderer

Chicago, August 10.—One of the biggest man hunts in the history of the Chicago police force started after the grave of Detective Sergeant Frank J. McGurk had been closed at Mount Carmel cemetery. Every member of the police and detective force, inspired by oaths taken at the bier of their fallen comrade, was enlisted in the search for the bandits who shot and killed McGurk.

Shortly after the burial the Detective Sergeants' Association of Chicago, announced that a reward of $1,000 would be given for the capture and conviction of the murderer.

Swear to Avenge Death

The entire detective force turned out for the burial. The first few who passed through the house at 117 North Karlov Avenue, where the body of McGurk lay, in passing the coffin, paused and swore a solemn oath that the death would be avenged. At the same time there came to the minds of the detectives and policemen the recent killings of other numbers of their ranks. Those who followed the first also swore an oath of vengeance.

During the ceremony the capture of thes layer was discussed on all sides. The detective sergeants then decided to offer the reward from their own pockets.

Chiefs Lead Cortege

Chief of Police Garrity and Chief of Detectives Mooney led the funeral procession from the house. Following them came the detectives under the command of Major John Bauder, drillmaster of the police department. A platoon of police and a band followed these.

Among those who attended the funeral were aldermen, police captains and city officials. Sergt. McGurk was one of the most widely known detectives on the force.

Detective Sergeant Patrick Mulvihill, McGurk's partner, was one of the pallbearers. The others were Richard Curran, William Moran, William O'Neill, Albert Bullard and Edward Kelly.

Railway Association Asks 20 Per Cent Increase in Passenger Rates, 40 Per Cent Increase in Freight and 50 Per Cent Increase in Sleeping and Parlor Car Rates—Canadian Manufacturers Association Will Not Oppose Fair Increases—Counsel for Saskatchewan Government and National Dairy Council of Canada, Absolutely Opposed to Increase in Cost of Living

Ottawa, Aug. 10.—A crowded court room greeted the Board of Railway Commissioners when they took their seats this morning at ten o'clock, for the opening of one of the biggest railway rates battles which has ever been fought out in Canada.

From the first, it was apparent that there was to be strong opposition to the proposed increases which are requested. The railways are asking for forty per cent advance in freight rates, twenty per cent increase in passenger rates, and fifty per cent increase in sleeping and parlor car rates. Their case was state to the Board by Judge F. H. Phippen, K. C., counsel for the Railway Association of Canada, and President E. W. Beatty, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, outlined the situation in so far as it referred to that road.

On the other hand, A. C. McMaster, counsel for the Canadian Manufacturers Association, made it clear that his organization would not oppose a fair increase, if it could be shown that such an increase was absolutely necessary to keep in operation, properly built, equipped, and managed railway. It did not propose to agree to any increase to cover defects on railways which had been over-built and run through sections of country where they were unnecessary.

D'Arcy Scott, counsel for the Government of Saskatchewan and the National Dairy Council of Canada, announced his absolute opposition to increases of any kind. Why, he asked, should the Board of Railway Commissioners be asked to increase the high cost of living. The peak of the cost of living had been reached; but the board was asked to straighten this peak.

Wants No Duplication

Ottawa, Aug. 10.—The railway rates case opened before the Board of Railway Commissioners at 10 o'clock this morning. The board room was filled with counsel for railways, Federal and Provincial Government's, municipalities and other organizations opposing the increase. After a number of representatives had announced their names and the names of the organizations for which they appeared, F. H. Phippen, K. C., counsel for the Railway Association, opened the case for the railways. Chief Commissioner Carvel expressed the hope that their would be as little duplication as possible in the presentation of the case by various representatives.

IS YOUR NAME ON BRANDON'S LIST OF VOTERS?

Ten Applications to Have Names Added Have Been Made So Far

Citizens who are entitled to vote on civic questions should make it a point to see that their names are on the Voters List. The list is to be seen in the City Hall, and it is the opinion that there are many persons in the city that are eligible to vote, but whose names do not appear on the list. Although the list has been in the City Hall for over two weeks, only ten applications have been made for the inclusion of their names on it. No applications will be received after the end of this present month, so that early attention in the matter is desirable.

MORE ALBERTA COAL MINED THAN YEAR AGO

Up to June, 3,043,940 Tons were Mined—Future Depends on Freight Rates

Calgary, Alta., August 10.—Official figures in the Alberta coal industry covering the present year up to June, show an output of 3,043,940 tons, as compared with 2,068,907 tons for last year. This includes both bituminous and lignite.

Operators state there has been more coal marketed up to this time than for a similar period in any previous year in the history of coal production in Alberta.

The present prospects as far as the Winnipeg market is concerned, operators state, are most encouraging. The actual output, however, to that market, and to further Eastern points, will depend upon freight rates. If these are prohibitive it will mean that a staggering blow will be dealt the industry.

If There Is Going to Be Participation by Canada in a War in Europe

Toronto, August 10.—Discussing the possibility of Canada again being involved in war, as the result of the Polish situation and the imminence of Britain's part in the fighting there, the Globe says, editorily: "If the Canadian people are again to become an active factor in the settlement of European affairs it must be in constitutional and regularized fashion. Loose talk of sending one or two Canadian divisions to Poland produce disquiet in the country, when the call comes is bound to

Semi-Official Wars Unpopular

"The Government of Canada has no delegated power to participate in war or to make peace without the consent of the elected representatives of the people in Parliament assembled. Mr. Meighen, in connection with the Siberian and Archangel adventures, learned how unpopular were small, semi-official wars entered upon by the ministry without the full consideration and consent of the people's representatives.

"He is not likely to give countenance to another such campaign without securing the considered judgment of members. That will involve a special session, should the Polish crisis become acute, but the expense and disturbance of an emergency call to members is greatly to be preferred to any attempt by the ministry to usurp functions which must be exercised solely by Parliament if popular Government in the Dominion is not to become extinct."

START FIGHT AGAINST TAX EXEMPTION IN CITY OF MONTREAL

Montreal, August 10.—The fight against tax-exempt properties in this city, which total the huge figure of $228,000,000, will, it is expected, be launched today in the City Council. Alderman Dixon, the promoter of the campaign, claims that only $28,000,000 of this amount applies to churches, hospitals and schools, and that the city is losing $43,078,000 annually in taxation. Government roperty and property held by atheletic bodies make up a large portion of the non-assessed real estate.

HARD TO GET TO POLITICAL HEAD OF SINN FEIN

Few Visitors Who Do See Him Impressed by Unpretentiousness of Surroundings

NECESSITY FOR SECRECY

Appears to Have Passed, Yet Guards are Not Less Alert

Dublin, August 10.—Arthur Griffith, editor of Young Ireland and the political head of Sinn Fein, is said to be one of the most isolated and inaccessible men in Ireland. The few visitors daily received by him say they are impressed by the unpretentiousness of his surroundings. He is as difficult to see, they say, as any big American political leader.

No person not known to Griffith may visit him in his office without previous arrangements made by someone high in the confidence of Sinn Fein. The situation is much the same as a stranger attempting an interview with a Cabinet officer at Washington.

Whenever the whereabouts of confederates have aided the stranger is taken down a side street, ushered in to an unimposing doorway and led up two flights of narrow, unpainted steps to an office. Inside the front door the stranger is confronted with a pine board partition with one small door through which he is taken. He passes a scene familiar in any small town newspaper into an uninviting room where Griffith holds forth. The furniture consists of a table in the middle of the room and a few chairs.

There is no necessity now or has there been for many months for Griffith to surround his movements with secrecy. It has been stated that a warrant for his arrest is ready, but many leading Sinn Feiners believe Government officials consider him a moderating influence and worth more directing the party's activities than looked upon as a martyr in jail.

Griffith is as unassuming as his surroundings are unpretentious. To one who does not express convictions on the Irish question and therefore does not have any, Griffith leaves outstandingly the impression that he has ceased to believe any English Government is ruling the country proper idea left is that the Republican Government is ruling the country preoperly, but having some difficult with an army of occupation and a number of policemen.

"Our volunteers are maintaining order where representatives of the British Government could not, our courts are organized and respected and other branches of our Government are working smoothly." said Mr. Griffith to a correspondent.

Griffith's sphere is only political, the planning and execution of force of arms being under the jurisdiction of the volunteer army.

NEW DEVICE FOR GUIDING SHIPS IN BAD WEATHER

New York Harbor Has New Means for Helping Ships Reach Docks

A 16-MILE CABLE

Makes It Possible for Ships Carrying Equipment to Move Safely

New York, August 10.—The principle of "follow the green line!" used successfully by the management of New York's subway system in handling crowds at congested transfer points has been adapted in a measure to ensure safety to ships at sea around crowded harbors. Instead of a visible "green line," however, a device has been perfected whereby vessels seeking their way into harbor in thick weather can follow with safety a submerged and energized wire.

In the outer reaches of New York harbor where deep water meets shoals, there begins a marine passage known as Ambrose channel. This channel leads up through the narrows into the outer harbor and to the docks and in this channel the guiding cable has been laid. Ships properly equipped to take advantage of its guiding powers can follow it through any kind of weather with the same degree of assurance as can the passenger who seeks to make his way from Grand Central terminal to Times Square.

The device consists of a cable 16 miles long laid in the centre of the channel. It is energized with an alternating current from the shore. Ships to take advantage of it must be equipped with audiphones or listening devices attached to the hull. Approaching the channel the sound waves emitted by the cable can be heard for some distance, and the increasing or decreasing strength of the sound enables the ship to be steered until it is right over the source. It is then a simple matter to follow its course through the dredged channel despite storm or fog which would make the marking buoys invisible or would tend to confuse the warning notes of automatic bell and whistle markers.

This cable is but an additional protection to shipping entering American ports. The compass installed and operated by the Naval Communications service now in successful use all along the Atlantic coast. By the compass, ships can ascertain their exact position in any kind of weather. Another protection recently tried out by the Navy Department is a machine for determining depth of water and proximity of other ships through the reading of sounds from the propellers reflected back from the bottom or nearby bodies.

FIRST BAND OF HARVESTERS FROM EAST REACH CITY

Some of Them Are Mere Boys. Out to See Country and Earn Expenses

The first harvest help from the East arrived in Brandon today at noon, about fifty men coming in on the Winnipeg local. They stated that they had come all the way from Nova Scotia, although several were from points in Ontario. Quite a number of the new arrivals were at once engaged by farmers who met them at the depot, $5 a day being offered to several of the men. Prominent among the harvest hands were many mere boys, it being their first trip West. They arrived on a special at Winnipeg and then took the next train West.

Information was given by the C.P.R. today that the first special train of harvesters is expected to arrive in Brandon this evening at 7.30. This train will have about 500 men for the West and it is expected that a large number will stop off at Brandon. Two more trains are billed to come through Brandon on Wednesday, although the exact time of their arrival is not known.

Superintendent Pryce, of the Provincial Employment Bureau, stated that about 400 men would be needed in the Brandon district to assist in harvesting the crop.

DOES ELETRIC WIRING DECREASE THE RAINFALL

Question Raised by Resident of Saskatchewan Who Gives His Observations

Regina, August 7.—Is there and connection between the extension in the West of rural telephone lines and the alleged decrease in rainfall? This question is raised in a letter from G. W. Booth, of Semans, Sask., to the Regina Leader. Mr. Booth writes as follows: "There is considerable comment on the decrease in rainfall throughout the West, each year seems a little drier.

"I have been a resident of the Semans district for fourteen years and know that severe electric storms are very rare of late years, whilst in the early days we used to get every year a number of heavy rainfalls accompanied with severe electrical disturbances.

"There is, I believe, a possibility that electric wiring and rodding is doing much to lessen disturbances. I

Dodd on letting electricity escape from ground to sky through his lightning rods, and also his remarks on grounding.

"I cannit remember one close violent display of lightning or thunder near our home since 1912 when our first rural line was built. It would be interesting to know if there was anything in this."

BELGIAN COAL MINES' OUTPUT

Within Ten Per Cent. of Pre-War Production — A Great Record

Brussels, August 7.—Belgian coal miners have almost reached pre-war production. The output of the Belgian mines for the month of May, 1920, reached 90.9 per cent. of the production for May, 1913, amounting to 1,737,080 tons as compared with 1,910,710 for the same period before the war.

What is more remarkable still, production for the Mons coal fields, taken alone, was even greater during May than during the same month before the war, the percentage being 104.3.

Further illustrating the wonderful progress toward reconstruction which Belgium has made, Director-General of Telegraphs and Telephones Rossen points out that 282 central telephone offices out of 283 have been re-established and 80 per cent. of the pre-war subscribers have been regained.

At Antwerp, Malines and Turnhout, more telephone subscribers are reported than before the war. The scarcity of materials has prevented even greater results in reconstruction. Wires were hard to obtain, the Germans having carried away most of the wiring throughout Belgium. Installations in Brussels were carried to Berlin where they were located by Allied officers and two engineers have been sent to recover what materials they can identify.

The Germans carried away $400,000 worth of telephone and telegraph materials from Brussels and $12,000,000 from Belgium as a whole.

As the result of an auto accident at Rivers, Thursday, Mr. Alex. Thomas, aged seventeen, died Friday morning. Mr. Thomas, who is employed at the G. T. He started out in his auto about five o'clock for the town and had nearly reached the top of a hill, when his hat blew off. Mr. Thomas left the car at what he thought was the top of the grade, but evidently did not have the breaks properly on, for the car backed down the hill, knocked him down and ran over him. He was on the road for about three hours until he was discovered by two girls. Medical aid was immediately summoned, but Mr. Thomas succumbed to internal injuries and injuries to the spine on Friday.

12,000,000 POUNDS OF BUTTER MAY BE MADE IN ALBERTA THIS YEAR

Edmonton, Alta., August 7.—The production of butter in this province in 1920 will, in all probability, reach twelve million pounds, W. W. Prevey, one of the leading creamery men in Central Alberta, predicts. In view of the scarcity of feed which prevailed in some parts of the province during the Winter and the very late Spring, this is regarded as a rather remarkable achievement, inasmuch as the entire production for 1919 was only 11,000,000 pounds. Last year Edmonton produced more butter than any other city in Canada.

WAR VETERANS WIN EXHIBITION FOOTBALL GAME

Rapid City Plays Up Well in First Half and Holds Vets

WINNERS SHOW CLASS

Especially in Second Half When They Have Practically All Play

The War Veterans team shut out the footballers from Rapid City on the Athletic Grounds Thursday evening by a 2-0 score. It was a fine exhibition of soccer, with both teams striving hard in the first half to keep the game going at top speed. The efforts of Rapid City in the first half were a bit too fast for them, however, and they tired in the second period, with the result that the play in this half was all in favor of the home team. The exhibition was one of the best seen here this year.

Winning the toss, the Rapid City team elected to play with the wind behind them and immediately set off at a fast pace. The first half provided some real football by both elevens, the visitors playing a wonderfully improved game to that which they put up at Rapid City last week end. Both goal keepers were being constantly tested with some good shots and the visitors were unlucky not to have scored on at least two occasions. The Vets from a good run up the field took a shot at goal but the ball bounched back into play, at least four players then tried their skill in rapid succession. The ball finally hit the upright and was safely cleared. The Rapid City team were right on their game in this half, but a little over eggerness spoilt some good efforts. Toward the end of the first half Gillows hit the cross bar with a nice shot the ball dropping through the goal out of reach of the opposing goalie, the teams crossing over with a one goal lead for the Vets.

Second Half

The second half was all in favor of the home team, the strenuous first half telling on the visitors who were all but played out. But at that they managed to hold down the Vets to a single tally. Rowland added number two from a nice pass from Tubbs. Several more good shots were safely cleared by the opposing team which looked like certain goals. Corner kicks were very numerous, but nothing came of them and the whistle blew with the Vets still unbeaten.

Play Good Game

East, Coutts and Boast were the pick of the visitors and in the first half they could do but very little, the rest of the team. In the second all they could do but very little, the ball crosisng the half way line on only a very few occasions, the goalie and backs being kept busy defending the goal against the Vets' attack.

Vets in Form

The Vets played an all round good combined game, their passing being of the best and every opportunity was taken for a shot at goal. The goal scored by Gillows was a nice piece of work being one of those shots that would give the best of goal keepers some difficulty in saving. Henry was kept pretty busy during the first half, but the second half was a cinch for him. Tubbs centred well, one of his centres enabling Rowland to score the second goal. The game was one of the nicest seen here, being entirely free from any penalties and played in a sportsmanlike manner. Although Rapid City was forced to admit defeat they made the Vets go all the way for their win. The line ups were.

Rapid City: Stewart, Ewing, Gardner, Dick, Coutts, Anderson, Stone, Christie, Boast, Shaw, East.

Vets: Henry, Burns, P. Shaw, Bridger, Coates, Woofindin, Tubbs, V. Shaw, Rowland, Gillows, K. Shaw.

Referee, Mr. C. Moore.

The aldermen were urged not to interfere with Hindu funeral rites, for their religion requires open-air ceremonies. They objected to using the Crematorium as the aldermen suggested.

KANGAROO COLONY IN STANLEY PARK

Vancouver, B.C., August 7.—Another little advertised but little successful Vancouver industry is located in Stanley Park in the shape of the kangaroo colony there. So successful have the parks authorities been in raising these animals that they are now being used for an exchange medium to augment the park zoo. Some time ago two kangaroos were sent to Spokane, and that city reciprocated by sending a female ostrich which is now sitting on ten eggs.

Word has been received that Mr. and Mrs. Kangaroo and their small son, sent to Toronto from here, arrived safely at the Riverside Zoo. It is understood that Toronto intends to return the compliment by sending two rare pelicans for the Stanley Park collection.

FINE SAMPLE OF WHEAT FROM NESBITT DISTRICT

A fine sample of wheat was brought into the office of The Sun on Friday by Mr. S. A. Hawkins, 455 Eighth Street. The wheat was grown on Mr. Hawkins' farm in the Nesbit district, has straw about thirty-five inches long and very even. The heads are nearly four inches in length, are well filled out and hardening rapidly. There was not a sign of rust on the sample of wheat exhibited.

Mr. Hawkins stated that farmers in the Nesbitt district are going to have the best crop for several years. The wheat is fully forty inches high on many farms. Rain has been more plentiful in that district and the crops promise to yield splendidly.

PLANS TO MARKET GRASSHOPPERS AS CHICKEN FEED

Southern Alberta Man Invents Machine to Collect Hoppers for Feed

Lethbridge, Alta., August 4.—If farmers in Southern Alberta do not get a crop this year they should make a fortune by selling chicken feed. That is the way one farmer reasons things out in the Hillspring country. This particular farmer has a scheme on foot to catch grasshoppers and place them on the market, alive, as cheap chicken feed. He believes he can do better catching them than poisoning the pests and has invented a machine to collect them. This machine will be sixteen feet wide, hauled by two horses, and the hoppers will be collected in a receptable in the rear, being carried there by the wind from a fan and the next step would be the market and then the chickens.

C. N. R. CROP REPORT SAYS WESTERN CROPS ARE GOOD

In Southern Manitoba the Harvest Will Be in Full Swing in a Few Days

GOOD CROPS

Are General With Exception of District of Which Saskatoon is Centre

Winnipeg, August 4—The Canadian National Railway crop report issued today, covering the entire country from Rainy River to the Western boundary of Alberta, shows that the rains last week broke the protracted hot spell that was seriously affecting both the early and late crops in almost every part of that extensive territory, and have vastly improved prospects. The rye harvest began last week in the three Prairie Provinces, and a few farmers are cutting their wheat, but the harvest will not be general until next week. In Southern Manitoba, where conditions are most favorable, the harvest will be in full swing in a few days, and by the middle of the month threshers will be at work. In the central sections of Saskatchewan and Alberta, good crops are expected everywhere, excepting in the limited district of which Saskatoon is the centre. Summarized briefly, the advices would indicate that the grain output of the West this season will be larger than for several seasons past. There are poor crops in a few localities, but average and bumper ones in most districts. Hail is the only cause of damage so far reported.

The verdict was returned by a jury in state criminal court Monday night after ten hours spent in deliberation.

Lloyd and six of his co-defendants were sentenced to from one to five years' imprisonment in the penitentiary. Eleven were given one year in the county jail and the other two were fined $1,000 each.

The Penalties Imposed.

The penalties were prescribed as follows: Lloyd, with an addition $2,000 fine; Ludwig Lore, New York, with $2,000 fine; Arthur Procter, Chicago, with $2,000 fine; Max Bedacht, San Francisco, with $1,000; Jack Carney, Duluth, Minn., with $1,000 fine; Niels Kiar, Chicago, and L. E. Katterfield, Dighton, Kansas.

One year's imprisonment was imposed on Edgar Owens, Moline, Ill.; L. K. England, Moline, Ill.; Samuel F. Hankin, Chicago; Morris A. Stollar, Chicago; James A. Meissinger, Chicago; Charles Krumbein, Chicago; Samuel Ash, Chicago; Perry Shipman, Rock Island, Ill.; Dr. Oscar J. Brown, De Kalb, Ill.; Edwin Firth, Indianapolis, and Dr. Karl F. Sandberg, Chicago. A thousand dollar fine was imposed on Niels J. Christensen, Chicago, and John Vogel, Chicago.

The defendants, who were specially charged with plotting to establish a Soviet government here through the agency of a general strike, formally requested a new trial. When this was denied they took an appeal. Meantime, all will be held under bond.

LIGHTNING KILLS TWO BOYS ASLEEP IN TENT

Edmonton, August 4—The electrical storm Saturday and Sunday, took its toll of life at St. Paul des Metis where Able and James White, aged five and nine respectively were instantly killed by lightning. The two boys met death at 3.41 o'clock Sunday morning, a watch in the trousers pocket of one of the lads which was stopped at that hour indicating the time at which the lightning bolt struck. The two boys, sons of R. S. White, of St. Paul des Metis, were sleeping in a tent.

POLES WILL HAVE TO EVACUATE WARSAW WITHIN FEW DAYS

Polish Army Retired Along River Bug in Such Haste That Bridges Were Not Destroyed—Military Men Abandon Hope of Poles Making a Stand

Paris, August 4—Warsaw will have to be evacuated within the next two or three days, in the opinion of French and British military experts there, and the Government is expected to be moved within that period, probably to Cracow. Experts report that the Polish army along the River Bug, which was Warsaw's last line of defence, retreated so precipitately that they did not destroy the bridges behind them. The Polish forces, the report states, were demoralized on the whole Northern and Central front and were falling back. Military men said they had virtually abandoned hopes of the Poles making a stand now.

Polish armistice delegates returned to Warsaw, Tuesday night, and the Polish Government has little hope of the speedy arrangement of an armistice. Experts said their gravest concern was the imminent cutting off of Warsaw's direct communications with Danzig, upon which Poland is dependent for military supplies.

Misunderstanding Caused Break

Warsaw, August 4.—The breaking off of the negotiations between the Poles and the Bolsheviki out of which it had been hoped would come an armistice and the early cessation of hostilities, was due to a misunderstanding, according to the contention of the Russian Soviet authorities, in a wireless dispatch received here on Tuesday.

The latest communication from the Soviet suggests that negotiations both for an armistice and for peace be held at Minsk, Wednesday. It asks that the Poles send a delegation to Minsk invested with all the necessary credentials to negotiate for peace.

The Poles contend that it will be a physical impossibility for them to comply with this proposal. While the Polish delegates are retracing their steps homeward, from Baranovitchi where the conference with the Bolsheviki ended so abruptly, the Bolsheviki troops are reported everywhere to be pressing their attacks on the entire battle line from the East Prussian front on the North, to the region adjacent to Lemberg in Galicia, on the South.

Inside the great battle arc, the Poles are hurriedly preparing defences, trenches and barbed wire entanglements in front of Warsaw.

Word was passed among the Americans here, upon thea dvice from Washington, that those desiring to remain in Warsaw, would do so at their own risk. It was said the authorities would request their passports, which will be returned afterwards if the individuals required it.

It was said that the indications were that few, if any, Americans would remain, although some naturalized citizens might desire to stay in Warsaw.

Hint of Bolsheviki Plans

Activities on the Northern front indicate that the Bolsheviki plans include an encircling movement against Lomza, which is of strategical importance in connection with the defense of Warsaw.

According to last accounts, the Soviet forces were endeavoring to drive directly West along the Prussian frontier, and if the drive is continued it would endange Warsaw's main line to Danzig, over which war materials are being brought in.

The Bolsheviki in the region of Ostrolenka are less than 50 miles from Miava, which is situated on the Warsaw-Danzig railway, about 60 miles Northwest of Warsaw.

Many British and United States subjects, including a number of former officers, are reported by the recruiting officers to be enlisting in the Polish volunteers.

Poles Make Stand

"The Bolsheviki," said Monday night's official statement, "have reached the line running throughKossaki, Mazowiecz, Vyszonki, Kosciele and Ciechanowicz.

"On the Northern front the line from Ostrolenka to the Prussian frontier is unchanged. In the region of Lomza, the Poles are making a stand against Soviet cavalry, but fresh enemy reinforcements have been thrown into the fight Southwest of that city."

Mention of Ostrolenka was the first intimation that the Bolsheviki had passed the river Pissa. Ostrolenka is Southwest of Lomza.

COALITION WITH LABOR IMPOSSIBLE STATES FARMER

Prominent Member Organized Farmers Says Norris Government Need Not Fear Farmers

Winnipeg, August 4.—According to statements from one of the most prominent men in the organized farmers' movement in this province since its inception, the Norris Government has nothing to fear from the election of several independent farmer candidates, so long as the legislation brought down at the next session is sane and progressive.

"The Government did perfectly right to continue just as if nothing had happened," said the farmer leader, who would not consent to his name being published. "The farmer members were not elected to defeat the Government, but because the Government candidate was not satisfactory. If the Government continues to bring down legislation like that which has so far marketed its career these measures will be endorsed by the farmer members and the Government need have no fear."

The farmer leader declared that another election was not desired. He was sure, although not a member of the House himself, that a coalition of the farmer members with the radical and Labor members was "simply out of the question."

Winnipeg, August 4.—An electric iron left turned on when the power was off Tuesday afternoon during the storm resulted in an outbreak of fire when the "juice" came back and two stores and a cottage situated in the outskirts of the city were completely destroyed. The loss is estimated at $10,000.

HEAVY RAINFALL FAIRLY GENERAL OVER MANITOBA

Tuesday's Rain Comes Down in Torrents at Some Points—Hail With It

STORM IN WINNIPEG

Street Railway Cars Tied Up When Lightning Strikes Transformers

Winnipeg, August 4.—The second "million dollar rain" of the season, fell Tuesday being fairly general throughout Manitoba. The storm was apparently in two divisions: one of which swept over Northern Manitoba, creating havoc in the way of hail and wind damage. The other was a slightly milder storm, which came over from the Southwest. This storm was accompanied by heavy rain, hail and electrical disturbances, was the one which visited Winnipeg and surrounding districts, after having brought welcome showers to many points West of the city. Roblin, situated just between the paths followed by the two storms, received no rain whatever, although Dauphin, 60 miles East of Roblin, experienced a heavy rain and hail storm, and crops in Ethelbert and Garland district, about 30 miles North of Dauphin were almost completely hailed out. Many windows in Ethelbert were broken. Crops in the Portage district also suffered from hail.

The extreme Southern part of the province was also badly hit, telephone communication with Emerson and Glenboro being cut off Tuesday night. The district most benefitted by the rain was the Southwestern corner of the province, practically all the points in that vicinity reporting good or fairly good rainfall and satisfactory crop conditions.

The storm in Winnipeg was the most severe, and at the same time the most welcome, to hit the city this season. Beginning about 2.15 p.m. with a heavy rainfall, accompanied by hail for several minutes, it developed into the biggest "soaker" of the Summer. After pouring steadily until nearly 3 o'clock, the storm held up for about an hour, giving pedestrians who had been forced to take temporary shelter a chance to hurry home before the second act of the drama should unfold, while kiddies left blissfully alone donned bathing suits, and splashed about in an abandonment of pure delight in the deep puddles on the streets, the rain having been too rapid and heavy to be carried away through the drain pipes until some time after it fell.

Electric Power Goes Off

The second episode of the storm had the effect of putting things in the city generally "on the blink." Lights went off, street cars stopped dead, and everything stood still for an hour or more. The tie-up on the Street Railway was due officials of the company said to the fact that lightning struck a bank of transformers at the hydro plant at Pinawa, the storm being very bad in this district. It took about an hour to get things going again, the cars being started by the use of the company's emergency steam plant, although power came through from their hydro plant soon after, and everything was brought back to a normal condition by soon after five p.m.

The city light was out of commission for nearly seven hours, an almost unprecedented period, owing to the effects of the fire at the generating station Monday afternoon. The storm had nothing to do with the fire, or with the temporary suspension of light service, it was said by J. G. Glassco, superintendent of the Light and Power Department. However, it was a rather awkward coincidence that the break should have occurred at the time as the other catastrophies of the evening.

ONTARIO GOVERNMENT TO ENTER SUIT FOR THEFT OF TIMBER

Toronto, August 4.—Suit to recover a large amount of money from Walter H. Russel, of Port Arthur, Ont., who is charged with having cut timber in New Ontario on lands to which he had no right, will be begun shortly, according to an announcement made by Attorney-General W. E. Raney. The amount which the Government proposes to sue for was not stated by the Attorney-General.

Hon. Mr. Raney stated that action would be taken also to cancel the patents granted by the Ontario Government to Mr. Russel.

The Government's action is being taken as a result of a recent interim report made by Justice W. Riddell and Frank Blatchford as commissioners investigating timber limits irregularities.

HUGHES TELLS ALL THE WORLD ABOUT MANNIX

Premier Hughes of Australia Declares His Receptions Are Stage Managed

HATRED OF BRITAIN

In Australia, Mannix is Said to Have Fanned Embers of Religious Bigotry

Melbourne, August 4.—Premier W. A. Hughes, speaking here yesterday, attacked Archbishop Daniel J. Mannix. The Australian Premier's speech was virtually a reply to a statement made public in New York City by Archbishop Mannix on July 29th, in which he vigorously denounced Hughes. "Demonstrations in the United States favorable to mannix," said Hughes, "were carefully stage-managed in a manner similar to that pursued in those arranged in Australia and the people who acclaimed him there were Sinn Feiners possibly leavened with Bolsheviki or other wild fanatics.

"When he arrived in Australia some years ago," the Premier continued, "Australia was freer from sectarian bitterness than any country in the world. Spurred by boundless personal ambition and hatred for Great Britain Mannix has fanned the dying embers of religious bigotry into a fierce blaze, gathering around him every fanatic alien and Sinn Feiner in the country."

London, August 4.—The British Government is irritated over what it believes is Soviet Russia's equivocation on the British suggestion that the Russians halt at the Armistice line of demarcation in Poland and begin peace negotiations. Britain has dispatched a sharp note to the Soviet Government demanding a "yes" or "no" answer as to whether that Government intends to listen to the suggestion.

KIDNAPPER OF INFANT ARRESTED AT EGG HARBOR FATHER PAID OUT $12,000

Philadelphia, Pa., August 4.—Federal authorities announced Tuesday that the man arrested at Egg Harbor, N.J., in connection with the kidnapping of the infant son of George H. Coughlin, is the individual who wrote letters to the Coughlins and signed himself "The Crank." Other details were refused for the present.

"The Crank" not only wrote letters but he used the telephone, the authorities state. He succeeded in convincing the distracted parents that he had knowledge of the whereabouts of their baby. The father was induced to proceed at midnight to a lonely spot where he placed $12,000 and then went home to await the return of the child. After many days he was forced to the conclusion that he had been swindled. Then the search began for "The Crank." According to postal secret service men he is under arrest. It is alleged that he recently started another letter-writing campaign, this time demanding $10,000 for the return of the child.

COMPLETE PLANS ARRIVE FOR NEW HOSPITAL BUILDING

Excavation to Be Completed This Fall—To Call for Building Tenders

A MODERN HOSPITAL

To Be Built, Present Structure and Nurses' Home to Be Remodelled

Work on the new Brandon General Hospital will be commenced very shortly, according to information given this morning. The complete plans for the new building have now arrived and a special meeting of the Hospital Board is to be held on Friday afternoon at four o'clock. At this meeting it will be arranged to proceed at once with the advertising for tenders for the new building. Active work on the new hospital will commence within a very short time, it being the intention of the hospital officials to have the excavation completed at least before Fall.

When completed, the new building will be the most up-to-date hospital in Canada. It is to be built on the most advanced plans and will provide for the incorporation of every improvement to be made during the next twenty years. Together with the remodelling of the present institution, the partial building of more commodious quarters for the nurses, the erection of the new hospital, and the most modern equipment, the total cost will be close on to $450,000. Plans for the raising of the money necessary to build such a splendid institution have been actively taken care of during the past few months by a strong committee, and the success of the campaign has been assured.

North of Present Location.

The new building will be erected on the vacant block just North of the present institution. It will be one of the most modern hospitals on the continent, and will be equipped in the most up-to-date manner. The present building will be remodelled and turned into a maternity and children's hospital, the ground floor being given over to the children. Elevators will be placed in the old building, while a tunnel will connect the present hospital with the new one. The elevators will be of sufficient size as to enable the removing of patients from one building to the other without disturbing the patient.

A large heating plant will be installed in the present building and the heat will be distributed through the two buildings. The Nurses' Home also comes within the plans of the Hospital Board, as the present building is to be entirely remodelled, and when completed will give the nurses up-to-date and commodious quarters. Many other improvements and remodelling work is planned to be done before the building is finally completed.

Chapman, 463 Douglas Street, was thrown from a horse and sustained injuries to her lungs, back and leg. Miss Chapman had been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell, of the Douglas district, and was out riding when the horse shied at an automobile, throwing Miss Chapman off and trampling her. CALL FOR CANADIAN NURSES

Canadian nurses may go to Roumania to instruct the women of that land in the scientific care of the sick. According to an announcement, a delegation may be sent from Canada, not to nurse the sick, but to instruct Roumanian women in the rudiments of nursing.

Canada has few enough nurses, and now faces the problem of training many more, but the need in Roumania is so great that the call for assistance cannot be denied. For this service there will not be the same inducements as overseas service in war time offered, but nurses offering their services will be given an opportunity to do a work that will earn the gratitude and love of a whole nation.

The record made by Canadian nurses during the war is such that no one doubts their ability to do the thing that the Roumanians are in such great need of.

A RECORD IN MURDERS

An epidemic of crime is sweeping New York city. During the seven months since the first of January there have been fifty-two murders, setting a homicide record unparrelled in many previous years. Convictions have been secured in six cases, none for murder in the first degree. In sixteen of the fifty-two cases there have not even been any arrests.

If fear of punishment is society's chief bulwark against serious crime, then new Yorkers are to be pitied. It is true that seven months, or less, is not sufficmet time in which to secure arrest and conviction of many of those guilty of recorded crimes, but against this there is the statement that in sixteen cases there have not even been any arrests, and there have been no convictions for murder in the first degree although newspaper reports would give one the impression that many of the murders were brutal and premeditated.

In the popular mind there is a glamor about life in "Little Old New York," but the average level-headed person prefers less congested centres where life is less hurried and more secure.

CHASE THEM OUT

People of German descent living in old Ontario are being victimized in a manner which should be stopped, if it can be done legally, though there will be but little sympathy for the victims. Smart salesmen from the United States visited German settlements in Western Ontario, and to the conservative, cautious, people there, have been selling German marks or coupons therefor. The price they have been obtaining is a great deal more than the current exchange rate for the mark which could have been bought from the banks.

The appeal the salesmen make is racial. These simple people are told that the money they invest will help put the Fatherland on its feet, and that then, with the mark restored to par value, they will make a great profit.

Though there cannot be laws which will protect people from their own folly, the misrepresentations these salesmen employ should be sufficient ground for prosecuting them, or forcing them to clear out. Through their operations they are reducing many old people, now in comfortable circumstances, to poverty and want.

SHALL THE LEAGUE FAIL?

Announcements that the League of Nations is living on overdrafts atthe bank, indicates the precarious position of that valuable body. If the powers that subscribe to the league of Nations, do not support it with financial grants, it must speedily crumble and disappear.

If the League is starved to death, with its passage will disappear one of the channels through which it was hoped to make the world a better place for all humanity. The attempt to build such a structure as would ensure fair treatment for small nations against the greedy encroachments by the rich and powerful, was one of the agencies through which the world hoped for definite betterment. The war, and the suffering arising out of it, directed popular thought towards a tribunal before which injustices could be aired and justice meted out. Such a body was the League of Nations.

The failure of the United States to do its share towards the organization and maintenance of this valuable organization was a severe blow. The United States of America was originally reckoned as one of the most ardent and influential supporters of such a tribunal, and its failure to ratify the covenant was a solar plexus blow. The announcement that the League is able to operate only through the kindly offices of bankers in advancing overdrafts, shows the serious nature of the predicament it is in.

Indications point to the rapid disappearance of the League of Nations unless the people who see in it an active agency for the betterment of humanity rally to its support with money and influence.

APPLES ALWAYS SCARCE

There was a time when the news that the New Brunswick apple crop would be about sixty per cent. of what it was last year, would disturb some people outside that Province. Such is no longer the case. It may mean something in New Brunswick. It means nothing in Manitoba.

Manitobans have come to a realization that the apples may rot on the trees in New Brunswick, but if they are picked and shipped to Manitoba, the price will bear no evidence that fruit is plentiful. In 1914, hundreds of barrels of apples rotted on the tree or ground in counties in Ontario bordering on Lake Huron. Growers claimed to have sold their orchards to the packers for one dollar a barrel, and they had no further interest in the crop. Finally the pigs were turned in on most orchards. West of Fort William, Ontario, apples, not in any respect better than those that were left to rot, sold from $6.00 a barrel up.

Knowledge of facts similar to these are common in Canada and form the basis for the conclusion that it is time for a change in governments which permit such abuses.

This season the wild fruits are not so plentiful in many areas in the West and the price of imported fruit prohibits it from appearing on the tables where it is needed most. As fruit is a necessity to a well-balanced diet, the health of the people is likely to be injuriously affected.

An investigation of the friut business and the application of such measures as will lesson the gap between the amount paid the producer and paid by the consumer, also preventing absolute and unnecessary waste, would benefit the health and the pockets of millions of Canadians.

NO OPPOSITION

D. B. Hanna, president of the Canadian National Railways, declares after a five weeks' tour of the Western Provinces that "there is no opposition in the West to an increase of freight rates for railways". Chairman Carvell of the Board of Railways Commissioners has arbitrarily decided that all the sittings of the commission on freight rates will be held at Ottawa.

Western Canadian organizations, including Boards of Trade, and Provincial Governments, are retaining counsel and preparing to oppose the demand by the railways.

The truth concerning the observation by President Hanna, will be made plain at the Ottawa sittings. Western Canadians definitely trace the tremendous increases in commodity prices affecting the cost of living, to a previous increase in freight rates, and they are not desirous of further experiences in the same lines. Granted the increased rates, the cost of living is again bound to soar. And yet Hanna is so far removed from the thought of the people of Western Canada, that he states there is no opposition in the West to an increase in freight rates. And at that, the organized opposition that will be offered the application is insignificant, though it may be more effective, than the popular opposition heard wherever men gather together.

There is popular irritation against the methods of Chairman Carvell. He wired the President of the Calgary Board of Trade a peremptory message and left payment to the Western organization, greatly to their amazement and wrath. Courtesy usually does not cost anything, but the Calgary men know that the courtesy of a reply from the Chairman of the Board of Railway Commissioners, costs a definite sum per word.

THE SQUARE DEAL

That there are some employers of labor who are not having trouble with their workers is proven by the experience of a Philadelphia firm of tool makers, Fayette R. Plumb, Inc. This firm has more than doubled production, reduced working hours, and cut down the yearly turnover of the company's 500 workmen seventy-five per cent. By a system of representative government, combined with a series of welfare features, all unrest and discontent in the working force, two-fifths of which is foreign born, has been eliminated — striking evidence that there is a solution for the labor problems and that, when found, it checks present day searing costs.

The employment manager of the works states: "Our policy of a square deal to our workmen is the most important single factor in our success," He is also reported as saying: "There is no getting away from the fact that application of the Golden Rule to business is as essential to success as it is in our private lives.

"In handling labor problems, I endeavor to put myself in the place of the workman and look at things from his viewpoint. I have worked in every department of our factory, and so have my brothers, Fayette R. and Joseph H. Plumb, and we know what the workman is up against. When there is a doubt, the workman is given the benefit of it. Though it costs a little here and there to keep such a policy in effect, we are more than repaid in better work, more faithful employes and a greater output."

NEEDFUL SAFEGUARDS

Scarcely a day passes but news columns record automobile accidents, in which people are killed, maimed, slightly hurt, or have marvelous escapes. That the accidents are increasingly frequent is not a matter for surprise, it is a natural consequence of the lack of safeguards.

It is no uncommon sight to see immature and reckless individuals at the wheel of vehicles capable of attaining a speed of between forty and fifty miles an hour. The system is absolutely wrong which permits persons to drive high powered cars, over which they have feeble or indifferent control, over the highways and trails of this and every other province in Canada. Recognition of this fact is gradually forcing its way even into the minds of those who fear the effect of restrictive regulations on the motor car industry.

Not only is the life of the reckless or inefficient driver threatened by permitting him to pilot a vehicle weighing at least a ton, over the streets and highways, but the lives of those who may ride with him are also endangered, and the lives of others who encounter them on the roads. Every person who motors over country roads, particularly at night, complains of meeting cars equipped with blinding headlights which apparently do not slacken speed, and which often times occupy the whole road. These cars roar past with a recklessness and abandon that invites disaster.

Two points are being generally admitted by motorists. The first is that before a person is given a license permitting him or her to drive a motor car, that person should be obliged to give a demonstration of ability to not only pilot it over a few quiet streets, but to demonstrate that in the emergencies which constantly arise, he or she can do the right and needful thing to avoid disaster. The other is that there must be a check on reckless and furious driving in the country as well as in the city.

It is not the wish of any one that drivers should be subjected to needless annoyance or petty persecution, but the public has a right to protection and to travel the roads without adopting such preventative measures as are now frequently necessary to preserve a whole skin.

Consideration of any of the phases of motoring involves necessarily the subject of roads. In the immediate vicinity of Brandon a great deal of road work is being done. When finished, these highways will afford good avenues for travel to or from the city. These highways are calculated to bear the traffic for some years, and they will no doubt do so, provided the use of heavy motor trucks does not become general. It should be borne in mind that Eastern and Southern neighbors have found their good roads entirely unfit for the heavy truck traffic that has been developed within the last few years, and if this sort of traffic is likely to develop in Manitoba, then the whole system of road building should be revised.

In the meantime, the state of the roads demands that drivers use reasonable precautions and that when travelling trails or highways with which they are not thoroughly familiar, that no thought of speeding be permitted to enter the mind.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

Ontario and Ontario laws are being discredited by the epidemic of rum-running across the Detroit River in the neighborhood of Windsor, Ontario. For prevention of illegal importation of liquor into the United States, chief responsibility may rest on the shoulders of others than Canadians, but an epidemic such as is said to exist in the neighborhood of Windsor, cannot fail but to have a disastrous effect on Canadians. It is said that one hundred boats are engaged in the rum-running traffic across the Detroit River and that at least one thousand cases of Canadian liquor are taken across the river to the United States every night.

According to evidence given in the Windsor police court recently, residents along the U. S. Border line give house parties at which "friends" from Detroit are entertained and consume from five to fifteen quarts of liquor nightly. Evidence introduced showed that the woman giving this evidence, and her "friends" had disposed of no fewer than 420 quarts of liquor.

According to news dispatches, Ontario Government authorities consider that the public attitude in and about Windsor is such as to make it reasonable to believe that the constituted authority of the law is threatened. There is therefore some criticism of the alleged slowness of Ottawa authorities in responding to the call for police assistance in cleaning up the gangs of international crooks attracted by the illicit liquor traffic and the three race tracks at Windsor.

The excuse put up by the Ontario authorities is not good enough. Before Ontario asks or seeks Federal assistance in cleaning up conditions province there should be a strenuous attempt on the part of the province to enforce provincial laws. There has been no such attempt. Rather, the Provincial authorities have attempted to evade their plain duties in an attempt to discredit the Federal Government.

When the grasshoppers threatened Manitoba and Saskatchewan crops this Spring, the Provincial authorities went right ahead to fight what threatened to become a plague, at the same time appealing to the Federal authorities for aid. Ottawa authorities soon made it clear that the responsibility rested on the Provinces and the Provinces accepted the ruling. If the Provinces had failed to cope successfully with the invasion there is no doubt that an appeal to the Federal authorities would have met with a ready response. So in Ontario, the Provincial authorities should first have done everything in their power, and if failure greeted their efforts, then would be the proper time to appeal for Federal aid.

Meanwhile the situation grows more serious and the Drury Government is not winning any compliments from the good people of Ontario, or the rest of Canada, by permitting the continuance of conditions which are a shame and a disgrace.

PROGRESS IN CIVIL FLYING MADE IN EUROPE

Even in Germany, Austria and Hungary Where Aircraft Engines are Banned

London, August 9.—Progress in civil flying made by the various countries of the world since the armistice is discussed in a detailed report just made public by Sir Frederick Sykes, Controller General of Civil Aviation in Great Britain.

Despite the fact that Germany, Austria and Hungary are forbidden, under the terms of peace, to manufacture or import aircraft engines, the report points out that these three countries are in progress of organizing departments of government to deal with civil aviation. At the present time Sir Frederick says, there are twenty-five air transport companies in Germany and the number is increasing monthly.

Shortage of fuel and the general chaotic economic situation is retarding aviation in Austria, says the report. Belgium has organized an Air Ministry and has established air attaches in Paris and London. The government, it is said, has appropriated 2,000,000 francs for development of flying in the Belgian Congo.

Great progress is recorded for France which has air attaches in all the chief capitals of the world, whose duty it is to study the aviation in various countries.

France, he says, has acquired five airdromes and twenty-four landing grounds for use of civilian flying and is also planning to connect all her colonial possessions by airlines.

Italy has appointed sixteen air attaches in as many countries says the report and is spending large sums of money in order to keep herself in the front rank of aviation development.

RELIGIOUS BAR TO BOLSHEVISM

Constantinople, August 9.—The Mohammedans cannot co-operate with the Bolsheviki without abandoning their religions, says a proclamation issued by Damad Ferid Pasha, grand vizier and acting Minister of War. While offering amnesty to all Nationalists except the leaders, if they stop fighting immediately, the proclamation states that continued resistance by the Nationalists may force further dismemberment of the country. It is reported that Damad Ferid will allow the Nationalist rebels to escape if fighting ceases. The latter condition is considered unlikely her sinc Mustapha Kemal Pasha, Nationalist commander has announced he has just completed re-organization of his forces into two primary units, called the Brusa and Ruyati armies. General headquarters for these forces has been established at Eskisher, where Mustapha Kemal's staff is directing operations in connection with the Bolsheviki.

AUTO BANDITS ARE HUNTED IN DENSE SWAMP

Police and Civilians Seek Men Who Threw Woma nand Child From Car

Worcester, Mass., August 9.—Surrounded in a swamp, Frederick Deslauriers and Jules Deslauriers, brothers were hunted Saturday by police and civilians on a charge of being auto bandits who have been operating in Southern Massachusetts and Northern Rhode Island and Connecticut.

Every road leading from the swamp is guarded by armed men and police have possession of two automobiles abandoned Friday night by the brothers on the edge of the swamp and which the police report were being driven to another city to be sold.

The hunt for the two men resulted from an attack Frederick Deslauriers made on his wife in one of the cars as they were entering Webster Friday night. They became involved in an argument, and Mrs. Deslauriers, charges her husband tried to force her from the car. They entered Webster with Mrs. Deslauriers riding on the running board and struggling with her husband who was driving the car. Her screams and those of their 4-year-old son attracted the attention of people in all parts of the town as they sped through the streets and soon a train of automobiles was chasing the two cars. After passing through the town, Deslauriers threw his wife and son from the running board, abandoned the car in which he was riding and entered the car his brother Jules was driving.

This second car entered the swamp where it was abandoned and the posse surrounded the two men who fired several shots at their pursuers as they made their way into the darkness.

BRANDON MAN DROWNED AT M'AULEY, MAN

Joe Mustassa Suddenly Disappeared While in Bathing on Sunday

A traveller by the name of Joe Mustussa, residing at 23 Sixth Street, was drowned at McAuley, Man., on Sunday afternoon. Mustassa was in the employ of Houssain Bros., of this city, and in the course of his travelling stopped over in McAuley on Sunday. About two o'clock in the afternoon he went in for a swim and must have taken a cramp, for he disappeared suddenly. Full details are lacking as yet concerning the drowning, and it is not known whether there were other persons in swimming at the time or not. His body has not yet been recovered.

Mustassa has been a resident of Brandon for the past ten years, being in the employ of Houssain Bros. for some time. He was a young man about twenty-one, and came to Brandon direct from Assyria, where he leaves a sister to mourn his loss.

FOUR KILLED IN MONTAIN HUNT FOR DESPERADOES

Two Policemen and Bandit Killed in Revolver Duel—Another Policeman Shot in Mistake

Lethbridge, August 9.—Kyslik, a foreigner, sworn in by the Alberta Provincial Police in the bandit hunt at Hillcrest, was shot and instantly killed in mistake while the police were raiding houses of the foreign miners Sunday night. Kyslik jumped from a window in a house being raided, and was shot by a constable who though he was the bandit Bassoff. The search for the bandits has become a watch and wait affair.

Lethbridge, Aug. 9.—Mining towns in the Crow's Nest Pass, from Frank to The Divide, were an armed camp Sunday, and two hundred police reserves and citizens, sworn in for special police duty, surround the famous Frank Slide, on which the two remaining desperadoes are supposed to be in hiding, following the shooting in Bellevue on Saturday afternoon 2.15 of Constable Frederick Bailey, of the Alberta Provincial Police, and Corporal Ernest Usher, of the R. C. M. P., by two of the bandits, who, on Monday last, held up Westbound passenger train No. 63 between Coleman and Sentinel, relieving passengers and train crew of some $500 in addition to jewelry.

More police are being rushed to the scene in an effort to make a final clean-up of the gang.

The bandits did not make a clean get-away following the shooting of Bailey and Usher. They left one of their number behind, George Akroff, killed by a bullet from a gun in the hands of Constable Frewin, of the Alberta Provincial Police, who fired from the cover of the police barracks on the edge of the mining camp as the bandits were making their get-away, fololwing the killing.

Akroff was shot dead by Frewin and Bassoff was badly wounded in the arm at the same time. A posse of police and citizens, which set out to trail him toward the Slide, was able to follow his trail of blood for half a mile before losing it in the woods at the edge of the slide.

With the wounded man, Tom Bassoff, who is the leader of the gang and the real gunman of the party, is Alex. Areloff, the third bandit, who was not present at the battle in Bellevue, but who later joined his leader and is now with him on the Slide.

When you begin to tell your troubles to a man he nearly always interrupts to tell you his.

NOTE OF ANXIETY IN COMMENT BY BRITISH PAPERS

London Daily News Says Present Situation Holds the Gravest Peril

WHAT WILL WORKERS DO?

This Paper Says They Will Strike if War Against Russia is Attempted

London, August 9.—There is a deep note of anxiety pervading the comment in this morning's newspapers relative to the rejection by the Russian Soviet Government of the request made by Lloyd George for a ten-day truce with Poland. Renewal of war in Europe is generally considered a possibility, and is treated in the gravest terms. "Very dark hour" is the Times editorial headline. "Is it war?" asks the Daily News and the Telegraph declares: "The Situation holds the gravest peril which has menaced Europe since the Germans marched into Belgium."

The attitude of British workers is given much consideration by several journals. The Daily News denounced "the irreconciliability of France to settlement with Russia" and declares:

"If the decision rested with Great Britain, there would be peace with Russia in a fortnight." In any case, the newspaper is convinced that the workers of all ranks in Great Britain will "refuse to lift a finger and will strike, if so criminal an enterprise as war against Russia is attempted."

The Times and Morning Post charge that the "Bolsheviki sympathizers among British Laborites" are acting in behalf of Soviet Russia and the Morning Post accuses them of "Helping to promote the civil war which Mikelai Lenine, Bolsheviki Premier, recently prescribed." This newspaper apparently believes that the attitude of the workers will compel the Allies to surrender to Bolshevism.

EARLY PITCHES VIRDEN TEAM TO BRILLIANT WIN

Greys Drop Best Exhibition of Ball This Year to Visitors 1-0

GOOD BASE-RUNNING

By Porter Enables Him to Score From First on Single

Brilliant pitching by Early, backed up by opportune hitting by his team mates, resulted in the Virden nill team defeating the Greys on their home lot, Wednesday evening, by the narrowest of margins, 1-0. The game was the hardest fought exhibition played here this year, featured with sensational fielding of the highest order. Both teams presented practically an air-tight defence and runs were the scarcest things at the ball park on Wednesday evening. A fairly large crowd turned out to see the game, and went away well pleased with the game.

Brandon fans have certainly been presented with some splendid games recently. Last Thursday night the Greys played Bottineau to a 3-1 score. Saturday with the Regina Vics, the scores were 2-1 and 4-0, and then Wednesday's game capped all performances. On their form of Wednesday night, the score of 1-0 just about represents the play, as the winners outhit the locals and outfielded them. Early, doing mound duty for the Virden team, was never in better form, and had the Greys popping them up in the air, and hitting everywhere but safe. The Greys had several rosy chances to push across a run, but the necessary bingle was not forthcoming. Twice likely looking rallies by Brandon were nipped in the bud on some stellar play by the Virden infielders, and the Greys never once succeeded in getting a man past second base.

The two teams battled hard for the one run, and it was not until the seventh inning that Virden finally scored the lone counter that gave them their win. Both sides had been blanked up until that time. With one down, Porter hit safely. Russell came up to bat and with the count two and three, smashed the next ball to centre field. Porter took second on the hit, and when the ball hit an uneven piece of ground and caused Cousley to make an error on the ball, he continued to third. Porter took a long chance, and started for home. The ball was thrown from Cousley to Stuart, whose peg home was too late to catch the speedy Virden third baseman.

The Virden team presented a very rally in the eighth, and it looked like another counter for Virden. With a runner on second a single was made to the outfield and the Virden runner attempted to go home. Robinson, who had taken Cousley's place in centre, made a beautiful peg to Brandt, just nailing the runner at the plate.

Greys Had Two Chances

The Greys had two real chances to score. One was in the seventh when Chabot scratched a hit and stole second. Fenwick hit a pop fly which was gathered in by McKay and he doubled Chabot off second. In the ninth, the Greys staged another belated rally. Two were down when Chabot drew a walk and again stole second. He was instructed to play safe, but took a long lead off second and McDougall's peg to second caught the Brandon first baseman off the bag by three feet and the game was over.

The Irden team presented a very strong line up and their work throughout was very high class. McKay, of Kenton, bolstered up their second base position, his heavy clouting making him a dangerous man. Russell was the big hitter on the team, however, as he garnered in three of the bingles that his team collected, while Porter provided a couple of safe ones, and the feature catch of the evening. He tore back into left field and with his back to the ball speared Falconer's sure hit. The Greys also played great ball in the field, Stuart, McNeill and Falconer were on their toes all the time and gave an exhibition of fielding that has been seldom equalled. Fenwick also gathered in a couple of fly balls that were nice catches.

The following is the box score:

MAKE "100" PHONE FIRE ALARM IN CANADIAN CITIES

Suggestion urged at Fire Chiefs' Convention in St. Thomas, Ontario

St. Thomas, Ont., August 5.—Adoption of uniform telephone numbers for fire calls in all municipalities in the Dominion, the number favored being one hundred, was strongly urged by the Dominion Fire Chiefs' convention at their meeting here. A resolution wa sforwarded to the Dominion Railway Commission and committee named to appear before the Board and explain the advantages of such a move.

Chief James Smart, of Calgary, who fostered the idea, is chairman of the committee. The convention decided not to suggest uniform traffic rules for the Dominion, believing that each municipality should make its own regulations.

RUSSIAN ARMIES ADVANCING SIX MILES PER DAY

In Direction of Warsaw—In Only One Location Are Poles Holding Them

Warsaw, August 5.—Russian Soviet armies, driving against the Polish line defending Warsaw, are maintaining an average progress of six miles per day in the direction of this city. They are being held in the South, however, and in some places are being pushed back from districts in East Lemberg, which is one of the objectives of their present dampaign.

Last Defenses Captured

Brest-Litovsk, August 5.—The last bastion of the permanent defenses of the East Polish capital is in the hands of Soviet armies: Lomza, an important railroad junction and strategic base to the Northeast, and Koval, Northeast of Brest-Litovsk, have been given up by the Poles.

There are many reports of Allies' action to stop the advance of the Bolsheviki, or to come to the aid of Poland, but as yet nothing has been reported relative to this phase of the seemingly desperate situation confronted by the infant republic.

U. S. INTERESTS TO BUILD A PULP MILL AT KAPUSKASING

Ontario Government Said to Have Come to Terms With Company

Toronto, August 5.—Terms were finally arranged here between the Ontario Government and the Spruce Falls Company, a corporation understood to be heavily backed by American interests, under which the company will erect a large pully and paper mill at Kapuskasing, formerly a soldiers' settlement, in Northern Ontario. MORE SHOE WORKERS OUT OF EMPLOYMENT THAN EVER BEFORE

Retailers have cleaned out old stocks in special sales, he said, and are now taking obseravtions before re-stocking.

Bacterial Count Drops from 350 to 20 at City Hall Tap

The new chlorinator at the Pumping Station is giving good satisfaction, excellent results having been obtained since its installation. In a recent report made by the City Health Officer, it is stated that the amount of chlorine per one million gallons has been increased from six to eight pounds. This amount is said to be the correct mixture and it is expected that there will be little variation from this amount.

Samples of water taken from six different sources on July 9th and again on July 29th showed a big improvement in the condition of the water between those dates. On July 9th a sample from the river intake showed the bacterial count as 390, from the filter as 350 and from a tap at the City Hall as 350. On July 29th the intake showed the count to be 470, but the bacterial count at the filter dropped to 40, and at the City Hall tap to 20.

PRODUCT OF MINES WILL RANK FIRST SAYS PREMIER

Addressing Sudbury People — May Soon Exceed Even Agriculture

Sudbury, August 5.—Thousands of people of the nickel district and a brass band greeted Premier Meignen at Sudbury station last night while he was en route to the capital. Speaking from the observation platform of his car, he made the prediction that in the next decade the products of the mine would exceed the manufactured, and perhaps the agricultural, production of the Dominion. He gave the production of nickel the premier place in this evolution.

VICTORIA AVENUE IMPROVEMENTS

Another Coat of Oil to Be Put on Avenue—Increased Cost Over Year Ago

More improvements to Victoria Avenue are planned, this time to the road bed on what is now Brandon's best driveway. Over 8,000 gallons of oil are to be put on Victoria Avenue this Fall, an order for a carload of oil having been placed by the city. The oil will eventually give enough body to the road to make it almost better than asphalt. Besides the oil a large quantity of fine sand will also be spread over the avenue, and this will add to the road bed considerably.

Last year this same work was done on Victoria Avenue and the cost was $1,154 for the oil, and it cost $239 for the labor to put it on. This year the price of oil has soared with everything else, and the same car of oil will cost $1,371. The oil this year costs seventeen cents a gallon. It is stated that the oil will arrive in a short time and that it will be put on the avenue as soon as it arrives.

BODY OF 4-YEAR-OLD THOROLD GIRL FOUND UNDER PILE OF WEEDS

St. Catherines, Ont., August 5.—The body of Margaret Boucock, the four-year-old little Thorold girl, who has been missing for nearly three weeks, was found Wednesday with the clothes almost torn off her back, covered by a pile of weeds.

The discovery was made by a ship canal workman inspecting the pipe line, as he thoughtlessly kicked out of his way some of the weeds that had been used to cover the murdered child's body.

For over two weeks searching parties had unsuccessfully scoured the locality. David McNeal, who was last seen with the girl on the day she disappeared, is still being held on suspicion. No trace has yet been found of six-year-old Kathleen Beechman, who mysteriously disappeared from her home in Thorold nearly three months ago.

U. S DEPENDS ON CANADA FOR 75 PER CENT OF PULP

And In Thirty Years U. S. Resources Will Be Completely Exhausted

New York, August 5.—(Canadian Press) — Warning that it is within the power of Canada to force the United States to "return, so far as the printed word is concerned, almost to the dark ages," is sounded by the writer of an article on the paper situation in the United States, which is printed in the Wall Street Journal.

"When Sir Auckland Geddes, Great Britain's Ambassador to the United States, spoke to the representatives of Southern newspapers at Asheville, N.C., a few days ago," the writer says, "he had in mind among other things the newsprint paper situation. He did not refer in words to a condition which has become alarming but he did speak of the importance of maintaining friendly relations between England, Canada and the United States. Should there come some irritation, some breech in these relations, Canada might be tempted to place an embargo upon the export to the United States of paper and of wood pulp. Should this happen, it would not be long before the United States would return so far as the printed word is concerned, almost to the dark ages.

"Sir Auckland knew that the manufacturers of newsprint paper in the United States are now dependent for 75 per cent. of their pulp upon Canada. A few years ago we were producing so much wood pulp in this country that less than 20 per cent. of the pulp manufactured into paper in the United States came from Canada. Rapid has been the increase in the imports of Canadian pulp. The estimate now is that not more than forty years and perhaps as few as thirty years will have passed when the announcement will be made that no longer has the United States any wood pulp timber so that we shall be dependent upon Canada for 100 per cent. of the pulp used in the manufacture of paper.

COMMISSION TO OPEN HEARING ON RATE INCREASES

At Ottawa on August 10th—May Adjourn After Railways Present Case

Ottawa, Aug. 5.—Although there has been talk of postponement of the opening hearing before the railway board of the application of the Canadian railways for a thirty per cent increase in rates, the expectation at the Railway Commission offices is that the case will be proceeded with on Tuesday, Aug. 10. It is thought that the hearing will proceed, at least until the railways have put in their side of the case, when an adjournment may then be taken, if the manufacturers and other bodies opposing the application are not ready to go on.

Present indications are that the interests opposed to an increase in rates are preparing to put up a stiff fight and the hearing is likely to be somewhat prolonged. Some objections have been taken to the board's plan to confine the inquiry to Ottawa, more particularly by Western Boards of Trade, who are asking that some sittings should be held in the Prairie Provinces.

In addition to the general freight rate case, the board will this Autumn hear the application of the express companies for a forty per cent. increase in express rates. The first hearing in connection with this application will be held in Toronto on Sept. 2.

The general increase in railway rates to become effective in the United States this month will undoubtedly have a considerable influence on the Canadian rates situation, but the Canadian commissioners are refraining from comment on the development across the border.

$5,000,000 ORDER FIRST OF SEVERAL FROM SOVIETS

To Be Placed With Canadian Syndicate, Declares Soviet Agent in U. S.

Montreal, August 5.—That the $5,000,000 order recently placed with a Canadian syndicate by the Russian Soviet Government is only the first of a number to be given in the Dominion is indicated in a statement made today by J. G. Ohsol, representative in the United States and Canada of the commercial department of the Russian Socialist Federal Soviet Republic.

WHISKEY FINES MAY BE MADE MORE SEVERE THROUGHOUT ONTARIO

Toronto, August 5.—It is believed that as an outcome of a conference Wednesday afternoon at the Parliament Buildings, between Police Magistrate Geo. T. Denison, of this city, and Attorney-General W. E. Raney, that $2,000 fines for breaches of the Ontario Temperance Act, as well as imprisonment, may become fairly common in the Toronto Police Court. So far heavy fines are uncommon.

It is understood that Magistrate Denison was instructed on lines similar to the notices sent out by the Attorney-General to magistrates through out the province, to the effect that prevention, not revenue, was the object of the prosecutions for breaches of the Ontario Temperance Act, and suggesting imprisonment as a means to this end.

London, Aug. 5.—Government suffered a defeat in the House of Lords late last night on an amendment to the Mines Bill, proposing that instead of a Minister of Mines there should be a Parlimentary Secretary.

Lord Peel, for the Government, urged that the amendment constitute an attack upon the principle of the bill, but the Peers carried on the amendment by 28 to 32.

IMPERIAL PRESS CONFERENCE HOLDS FIRST SESSION

Governor General, Premier of Canada and Leader of Opposition Extend Welcome

CABLE FACILITIES

And Rates for Transmission of News Throughout Empire, Considered

Ottawa, August 5.—A discussion of Cable facilities and rates for transmission of news throughout the Empire occupied the opening session of the second Imperial Press Conference here this morning. The Right Hon. Viscount Durnham was elected Chairman, and Lord Atholstan was elected Honorary Chairman, both unanimously.

In formally declaring the conference open, His Excellency the Governor-General, expressed the conviction that the assembling of so many influential newspaper men would have the same valuable results as did the first conference in 1909, and play a big part in the solution of the problems of re-construction.

Hon. Arthur Meighen, Prime Minister, and Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Opposition, spoke formally in welcome to the delegates.

FIRST PAYMENT ON CERTIFICATES FOR WHEAT IS MADE

Winnipeg, August 5.—The first payments of thirty cents per bushel on the wheat participation certificates were made on Tuesday by the Canadian Wheat Board.

As previously announced these certificates are worth at least 40c per bushel, and the payment now being made is only three-quarters of this value, the balance being held until the 1919 crop is all sold, when a final adjustment to holders of certificates will be made.

Payments are being made by the registration department of the Wheat Board on the eighth floor of the Grain Exchange and about $35,000,000 is ready for distribution.

CHURCHILL DECLARES PEACE WITH BOLSHEVIKI ANOTHER FORM OF WAR

London, August 5.—Winston Churchill's article in a Northcliffe evening paper wherein he urged that peace with the Bolsheviki was only another form of war, provided a lively interlude of heckling the Prime Minister. Government supporters, however, showed a tendency to draw a veil over the business, only one Coalitionist supporting the motion for adjournment. Lloyd George declared that the article did not bear the interpretation placed upon it. "I really cannot control my colleagues," declared the Prime Minister, eventually, after much badgering.

The final word was a refusal to lay down the rule that a Minister might not express his views in the newspapers so long as the views were consistent with Government policy.

The Daily Express, which has recently shown a certain amount of restlessness toward the ministry, declares that the malcontents were unwilling to put their fortunes to a test on the eve of adjournment, but that the incident has brought to light the force of cross-currents which are helping the Coalition crack to widen. The next round, says the Express, will be on Ireland.

FOREIGNERS ARE COMPELLED TO LEAVE U. S. CITY

Following a Riot in West Frankfort, Ill., Company of Militia Called in

MURDER OF TWO BOYS

Stated to Be Cause of Rioting in Which Five Are Killed—Scores Injured

West Frankfort, August 6.—Following a night of rioting in which five persons are believed to have been killed and scores injured, comparative quiet was restored today. Approximately 5,000 foreigners, against whom the rioters directed their attack, have left town, and this, coupled with the arrival of the militia, the Ninth Illinois Infantry, tended to bring about order.

St. Louis, August 6.—Five companies of Illinois State troops were on their way today to West Frankfort, Illinois, 140 miles South of here, where three men are believed to have been killed and many injured by a mob which at midnight last night, was ers. The trouble started with the indsetting fire to the houses of foreigning of the bodies of two young men, said to have been slain because they had information concerning the operations of a band which had committed several bank robberies.

Three suspects were arrested. A mob was formed and started for the jail but the men were spirited away and attacks on foreigners and their homes quickly followed.

Call for Troops

Springfield, August 6.—Governor Frank O. Lowden Thursday received a call from West Frankfort, Ills., for troops. The call was signed by the sheriff and mayor of the town, who declared that a mob numbering more than 3,000 was beyond control of the local officials.

The mob is threatening to drive out the foreign population, following the discovery yesterday of the bodies of Amiel Galcaterra, 19, and Tony Hampel, 18, who had been murdered, according to a long distance telephone message received in St. Louis from Cartersville, Ills. Forty persons have been injured, four seriously, in riots, it was said.

Advices from West Frankfort said it was believed by officials that the boys were murdered by a gang of robbers who have committed many depredations in Southern Illinois recently.

A photographer, who attempted to take pictures of the riot tonight, was beaten to death by the mob. This is the first death reported from the outbreak.

At 10.30 o'clock the mob began setting fire to the homes in Frankfort Heights, a section occupied by foreigners. Other houses throughout the place are also being fired. All the city officials and Sicilian residents are reported to have been given 24 hours to leave town.

STOVEL MUST RESIGN POST

On Joint Council of Industry Before Taking Seat in Legislature

Winnipeg, August 6.—Mr. Stovel is a member of the Joint Council of Industry and he knows he will have to resign that position before he takes his seat in the Legislature, was the comment of Premier Norris on a statement as to the eligibility of John Stovel for the Legislative Assembly of Manitoba.

The name of W. J. Tupper, K. C., was coupled with that of Mr. Stovel and it was stated that his ineligibility commission on the uniformity of laws arose through his membership on the commission on the uniformity of laws. Mr. Tupper said he had been paid nothing for this work nor had he received travelling expenses.

Carvell also intimated that there would be no adjournments of the hearing which will commence on Tuesday, August 10th, excepting such adjournments as may be necessary for the inspection of documents and exhibits the need for which may occasionally arise.

LLOYD GEORGE AND ASQUITH IN DUEL

Asquith Declares Irish Situation Needs a Cromwell—Premier Hits Back

London, August 6.—After a debate which developed great heat and a personal scene between Lloyd George and Herbert H. Asquith, the Government at 11 o'clock last night defeated the motion of John Robert Clines (Labourite) for rejection of the new Irish Crimes Bill, and the measure passed second reading by a vote of 289 to 71. The voting was carried out under a motion moved in the House by Andrew Bonar Law, providing for passage of the bill by six o'clock this evening.

At the very opening of the debate the days of Parnell were recalled. Mr. Asquith started an angry duel with the Premier by declaring the situation in Ireland needed Cromwellian treatment, but that he could see no Cromwell in the Government.

Asquith as Cromwell

The Premier retorted by describing Mr. Asquith as Cromwell when he was in power.

Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, opened the discussion by explaining it was not intended for the bill to supercede the ordinary courts; it would only apply to disturbed areas to the discretion of the Irish Government, and would not be operated in a revengeful spirit.

British statesmen are willing to give Ireland self-determination.

SEVERAL HEARINGS OF APPLICATION FOR NEW RATES ON EXPRESS PARCELS

Ottawa, Aug. 6.—In addition to the opening hearing by the Railway Commission of the application of the Express companies for an increase of 40 per cent. in rates, to be held in Toronto on September 2, the Board has decided to have other sittings, both in Eastern and Western Canada. The dates and places where evidence will be taken will be announced later.

Street Car Strikers and Strike Breakers Clash in Colorado City

MANY INJURED

And Thousands of Dollars Damage Done When Attempt Made to Run Cars

Wrecked Newspaper Plant

The mob entered the Denver Post building and wrecked the presses and other equipment

After partially destroying four cars in front of the cathedral, the mob overturned the cars and planned to set them afire. The crowd in front of the cathedral was estimated at 5,000. At 8.30 p.m. Commissioner of Safety Downer announced that Governor Shoup had been asked to confer with city officials on the use of troops to quell the disturbances.

Mrs. Georgine Smith, who said she came from across the river, was found sipping cocktails at a table in the place when the officers entered and she was fined $1,000, with costs added. Robert Morey, the proprietor, settled the case against him for $2,000, while Meade Childs, a colored waiter at the hotel, got off by payment of $24 costs.

CANADA MAY YET PLAY PART IN WAR AGAINST RED ARMY

Toronto Officer Says He Has Been Asked if Ready to Serve Again

SITUATION TENSE

In London Where Soviet's Reply to Great Britain is Regarded as a Refusal

Toronto, August 6.—Canada's part in the European war with the Red Army is yet to be played, if the statement made by a local military man today indicates the general movement. This army officer stated that he had received a message asking if he was prepared to serve again. His explanation of the message was that the conditions in Eastern Europe were agitating military authorities in London and he expected that similar messages would be received by other members of the Imperial Forces in Canada who have not yet been discharged from service. If the call comes only to those members of the Imperial service who have not yet received their full discharge, many of the Royal Air Force veterans would be among their number, some of whom will not receive their final release until December 1.

Anxiety Felt

London, August 6.—Among British officials and diplomats of the nations here, undisguised anxiety is felt over the Russo-Polish situation.

The Herald, the Laborite organ, said Thursday that the British North Sea squadron has been ordered to the Baltic Sea and that instructions have been issued to re-impose the blockade against Russia.

The Russian Soviet's reply to Great Britain's call for a halt of the Bolsheviki advance in Poland is a refusal, according to the London Times. The newspaper says that the ground taken is that the armies would not obey an order to halt and will only be content when they reach Warsaw, which has been promised to them for loot.

DRURY ASKED TO ENFORCE LAWS AMONG FARMERS

Toronto World Suggests Application of Fines to Liquor Law Enforcement

Toronto, August 6.—The World this morning figures out that the Drury Government will this year collect over $800,000 from race track licenses and says:

"Why not devote this money to enforcing the Ontario liquor law and also the hundred of thousands additional collected as fines for breaking the liquor law, in question? Even if you have to arrest citizens, including farmers, and send them to jail instead of levying fines. If the farmers are not breaking the law why this failure to enforce it?"

The reference to farmers relates, of course, to the oft-repeated statement that Ontario farmers along the Detroit River border are among the chief contributory offenders in regard to the non-enforcement of the liquor laws.

FOSTER REFUSES TO RESIGN SEAT

Upon Receipt of a Demand to Do So by the G. A. U. V. Association

Toronto, August 6.—Sir George Foster, M.P. for North Toronto, in acknowledging the receipt of a demand from the G. A. U. V. that he and other representatives of the Toronto ridings resign their seats in Parliament, refused to comply with the request. In his letter he says:

"I have my own ideas of the services I owe to my constituency and the country and I must be allowed to perform them in the manner I think most conducible to the public interest.

"As to my work in support of the war, my record is well known. While regretting that it does not meet with your unqualified approval, it is still open to me to hope there are soldiers and citizens in Canada who may think differently. It may be dullness on my part, but I indulge the belief that in no instance in the performance of my parliamentary duties am I chargable with breaches of faith either to my constituency or the veterans of Canada."

The other M.P.'s whose resignation were called for merely promised to give the matter consideration.

GREYS SHUT OUT MINNEDOSA TEAM IN FAST GAME

Brandon Team Gives Brilliant Exhibition of Fielding Behind Twirler Lutes

Errorless ball in the field and opportune hitting won the exhibition game of ball for the Brandon Greys at Minnedosa on Thursday evening, the score being 7-0. The Greys were on their best behavior in the fielding line, and did not pass up one chance in the thirty they had. They also slugged the ball hard, and had little or no difficulty in securing their seven runs. The Minnedosa players could do nothing with Lutes, who served up the benders for the Greys, and there was nothing to it but the Greys all the way.

After being blanked in the first inning, the Greys came back and scored two in the second. McNeill bingled safely, and went to third when Chabot's hit was fooled. Chabot was caught at second. Fenwick got on when Tremaine let his grounder away from him, and went to second. Crawford's hunt scored McNeill and on the play to get Crawford at second, Fenwick scored. Lutes struck out, and Stuart flied to shortstop.

One more was added in the third. Cochlan hit, Brandt was called out on a third strike which he did not swing at. Wilkinson got on, and McNeill's hit scored Cochlan. McNeill was caught going to second, however, and the relay to the plate nipped Wilkinson. In the sixth the Brandon team put over two more on some good base running and two timely bingles, while another brace was added in the seventh on four safe hunts, and two hases on balls.

Minnedosa only had one real good chance to send a runner across the plate. It came in the sixth when Clee got on by hitting safely. He stole second, and when Dumoulin poled into deep centre, he started for home. The ball looked for at least three bases, but Wilkinson turned his back on the ball, and after a hard run speared the ball with one hand as it was about to pass over his head. His return to second easily doubled Clee off that bag. The catch was one of the nicest ever made this season, and the Greys' centre fielder got a big hand from the fans.

Stuart also featured with some fast work at shortstop, one of his stops being of the one-handed variety on a hard hit ball that looked good for a safe hit. McNeill also handled everything that came his way in good style and made several difficult pickups. Clee and Dumoulin were probably the pick of the home team in the field but none of them shone very brilliantly at the bat.

Lutes pitched good ball for the Greys and was never in danger. Backed up by brilliant fielding, he let the Minnedosa team down with four hits. The ball was very hard to handle after the third innings on account of the rain, but both twirlers managed to keep the ball over the plate.

SOVIET REPLY TO BRITISH NOTE ABOUT DELAY

In Opening Negotiations for Armistice With Polish Army

WANT GUARANTEES

That Poland Shall Not Use Time to Prepare to Continue Fighting

London, August 6.—A long communication giving the Soviet Government's reply to Great Britain's note of Tuesday with regard to the delay in the armistice negotiations between Russia and Poland was sent to Lloyd George last night.

It states that the Soviet Government never desired to combine negotiations for an armistice with negotiations for peace, but that it demands that the terms of the armistice include reasonable guarantees which would prevent attempts on the part of Poland to use the period of the armistice for a renewal of hostile acts.

The sole obstacles in the way of beginning negotiations, says the note, is the absence of Polish delegates.

SEVERAL HOLES IN DEFENSIVE LINE EAST OF WARSAW

Officials Still Have Hope of Checking Russians East of Warsaw

Warsaw, August 6.—The defensive line East of Warsaw has been pierced in several places according to reports from that front. Preparations have been begun for transferring the Government, if that move is necessiated by the Russian advance. Officials, however, still hope that Soviet forces will be checked somewhere East of the Vistula.

Polish officials, it is reported, believe that the present rate of advance if maintained, will bring the Russians into Warsaw in seven to ten days.

Heavy Fighting Reported

Berlin, August 6.—Fighting is now going on virtually on the plains before Warsaw, says the Tageblatt's special East Prussian frontier correspondent. If the Red army succeeds in breaking through the Chorbelle-Pultusk line it will have arrived before the forts of Warsaw. (Chorbelle is about 70 miles North of Warsaw, while Pultusk lies about 35 miles North of the Capitol.)

Heavy fighting is reported by the correspondent to be proceeding at Novgorod (Northwest Russian). He says that on August 1 and 2 Russian reserves, comprising 30,000 infantry and a regiment of artillery, passed through Gnesze on the way to Novgorod.

May Stop Red Drive

Paris, August 6.—Inspired by a wave of patriotism in the rear and encouraged by the arrival of arms and ammunition, the Polish army seems to be stiffening in their defense against the invasion of the Bolsheviki, who are virtually at the gates of Warsaw, Poland's capital. Although but vague and somewhat contradictory reports have reached Paris, it is regarded here that the Poles still have a chance of stopping the Red drive and limiting the extent of the disaster. They apparently have not altogether abandoned the line of the Bug River. The Brest-Litovsk forts at last accounts were still in the possession of the Poles and denial is made that the Bolsheviki have reached Ostrolenko. The Polish staff even has been able to launch two counter offensives, in the North in the region of Lomza and in the extreme South in Galicia.

Another factor held by military observers to favor the Poles is that in view of the imperfect transport of the Bolsheviki, their rate of progress necessarily decreases as the length of their line of communication increases.

Bolsheviki Lose Heavily

The Bolsheviki are being held by the Poles at Brest Litrosk and have suffered a loss of 500 killed and drowned there on repeated attempts to throw their forces across the Bug river, according to Wednesday's communique from Warsaw, which officially confirms what previously announced.

END OF RUN ON 'BUSHEL' BASKET MILLIONAIRE

Boston, Aug 6.—For the first time since the run began on the office of Charles Ponzi, the "bushel basket millionaire," Pi Alley and the Italian tavern Ponzi's paying office, were almost deserted Thursday. Only a few investors were on hand an hour before the office opened. The run on Ponzi's office evidently is broken for the time, and return of public faith in the man was evidenced by the ovations he received on the streets.

RUSSIAN FORCES TEAR GREAT GAP IN WARSAW DEFENCES

Soviet Forces Have Swept in Great Encircling Movement North of Warsaw—Przasnysz, 41 Miles North of Warsaw Occupied by Bolsheviki Forces—Poles to Make Gigantic Effort

Russian Bolsheviki attacks apparently have broken the Polish lines near the East Prussian frontier, and Soviet Cavalry patrols have swept in a great encircling movement north of Warsaw. In the centre of the Polish front, the Soviet armies also seem to have torn a great gap in the defences of Warsaw. Przasnysz, a city 41 miles north of Warsaw has been occupied and it would seem that the Soviet horsemen are advancing almost without serious opposition. Polish troops have been entrenching their lines east of Mlawa, which is situated on the railroad line running from Warsaw to Danzig. It is believed that they will make a desperate effort to prevent the capture of this city by the Soviet armies.

Bolsheviki Cavalry Sweep Westward Along Prussian Frontier

Warsaw, Aug 9.—Przasnysz, a city about 41 miles directly north of Warsaw has been captured by the Bolsheviki cavalry which is sweeping in broad lines westward along the Prussian frontier, according to an official statement issued last night. Smaller detachments are approaching Mlaw, about nine miles further west, and some have been reported near Geichanow, still nearer this city. This is one of the most rapid strides the Soviet forces have made since they crossed the Orzyo river in their push designed to cut the Warsaw-Danzig railway.

Bitter fighting is reported northeast of Warsaw, where several villages have changed hands a number of times, but the enemy has made no gains.

Warsaw, August 9.—A plot, believed to have been of Communist origin and designed to blow up the General Army Headquarters, has been discovered in Warsaw. Many persons have been arrested and great quantities of arms and ammunition confiscated. In the basement of the old Russian cathedral, situated across the street from the army offices, was discovered a tunnel, nearly complete, which is being dug under the street.

Won't Move Government

London, August 9.—The Polish Government is leaving Warsaw its capital, it is asserted in a wireless dispatch from Moscow here this afternoon.

May Evacuate Warsaw

London, August 9.—Warsaw will be evacuated today by the Polish Government and Allied Nations representatives. According to a dispatch from Berlin, the Polish Government will retire to Cracow.

KINCAID CRAWLS OUT INTO TRACK

Veteran With Wooden Leg Turns Up After Two Weeks in Wilds

Port Arthur, Ont., August 9.—David Kincaid, the returned soldier, who has been missing in the neighborhood of Loon Lake, ninety miles East of Port Arhur, was picked up by a passing freight train saturday morning at mileage 92. Kincaid has been in the woods for the past two weeks, apparently living on berries and roots. He was taken to his home in Fort William.

The finding of Kincaid brings to a close one of the longest man hunts in this section of the country. Ever since his disappearance hundreds of citizens from Port Arthur and Fort William, Indians, Mounted Police and returned soldiers have been scouring the woods, but up till Friday night had not found a single clue which would lead to his discovery.

According to the story of the train crew, Kincaid crawled out to the track, being too weak to walk, and was placed in the caboose of the freight. The train men have fed him on spoonfuls of milk since his discovery. He was too weak to tell of his experience. How he managed to exist in the woods, hampered as he was by a wooden leg and suffering from the effects of long service overseas, is causing no end of speculation.

Mrs. Kincaid, the young wife of the returned soldier has been nearly distracted since his disappearance two weeks ago. When told of his being alive and well, the strain of anxious waiting was broken by a flood of tears of gladness.

FIRST GERMAN PORCELAIN MONEY

Now Being Manufactured Consists of 300,000 Twenty Pfenning Pieces

Meissen, Saxony, August 9.—The first German porcelain money is being manufactured here and will consist of 300,000 twenty pfenning pieces for use on the Hamburg Elevated Railway. The City of Meissen as well as several other towns have ordered porcelain coins for local use, with a view of solving the small change scarcity as well as obviating the present unclean and easily tearable paper currency. The German Republic is said to be about to introduce porcelain coins ranging from 10 pfennings to five marks.

"BIG BILL" HAYWOOD AND 36 OTHER I. W. W.'s MAY BE CONVICTED

Chicago, August 4.—State's Attorney MacLay Hoyne expressed confidence of obtaining a verdict against "Big Bill" Haywood and 36 other I.W.W.'s as a result of the conviction of Wm. Bross Lloyd and 19 fellow members of the Communist Labor party on a charge of conspiring to overthrow the Federal Government.

The I.W.W.'s who were arrested shortly after Lloyd and his companions last New Year's day, were held for violation of the same statute the latter were tried under, the Illinois Sedition law. The Lloyd trial constituted a test case, affecting similar cases in other cities as well.

REPRESENTATIVE PARLIAMENT IS KING'S PLEA

In an Address Delivered at Newmarket, Ontario, at a Liberal Picnic

RIGHT OF THE PEOPLE

To Govern Themselves Through Representative Parliament, is Big Question

Newmarket, Ont., August 9.—The need of a representative Parliament and responsible ministry was the theme of an address delivered here on Saturday, by the Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons. The occasion was the Liberal picnic held under the auspices of the North York Reform Association in the Agricultural Park, and first of a series of meetings in the interests of the Liberal party, which will be held in North York and throughout the province. Hon. Adolphe Lemieux and Sir Allan Aylesworth were the other speakers.

Asserting that the most important question at the present time is the right of people to govern themselves through a representative parliament and responsible ministers, the Liberal leader made a demand for an immedi was advanced that either the Government is entirely a new administration, ate general election. The argument in which event it ought to get the approval of the people, or that it is the old administration, in which event it has long exhausted its mandate and has lost its original complexion and personnel.

Lemieux's Statement

Lemieux spoke at length of the olive branch held out by Premier Meighen to the Liberals of Quebec. "We from Quebec thank him very much for his language and hope that his acts will correspond with his words, but should Quebec Liberals decide to throw their lot in with English-speaking Liberals, instead of Tories, I am very much afraid it would be vastly different sentiments he would express," said Lemieux.

WOMAN IN WHITE RALLIES ANTI-REDS

Central Soviet Said to Have Offered Large Reward for Her Capture

Tokio, August 9.—A mystic "Woman in White" is reported by the Soviet journal Rabotchi Golos, of the Voice of Labor, to be rallying the anti-Reds against the Soviet in Russia. The woman, who is popularly known as the White Tsarina on account of the color of her garments she and her companions wear, and because of her claim to the throne of the Romanoffs, first made her appearance at Kourgan. She claims to be a grandniece of Alexander I., grandfather of the late Tsar and declares she is in possession of the miraculous Ikon of Iversk held in reverence by all sections of the Russian people.

In February last, it is reported she, with a band of followers, seized Cheliabinsk, cut off railway communication, killed several Bolsheviki commissaries and engaged and destroyed some Red regiments stationed in that region. The Central Soviet is said to have offered a reward of 1,000,000 rubles for "The Woman in White" dead or alive.

STOVEL AND TUPPER MAY BE DEBARRED FROM LEGISLATURE

Because They Hold Office Under the Crown—May Invalidate Election

Winnipeg, August 5.—Ineligible to be members of the legislature because they hold office under the Crown, John Stovel, Liberal, and W. J. Tupper, K.C., Conservative, may be disallowed seats in the Manitoba assembly.

Furthermore, it is possible that their election may render invalid the whole Winnipeg election.

The matter was brought to the attention of H. H. Cottingham, assistant Deputy-Attorney-General. Mr. Cottingham made a cursory research into the authorities and gave it as his first judgment that the matter seemed clear enough. He would go more deeply into the subject, however, he said, and make sure before committing himself definitely

Mr. Stovel is a member of the Joint Council of Industry, and as such, is entitled to a stipend for each day the Council is in session.

Mr. Tupper is a member of the Commission on Uniformity of Laws, being one of the three Manitoba representatives. Members of this body receive no salary but are provided, by law, with legitimate expenses while travelling, and when out of their home city.

ACCIDENTS TO MANY AIRPLANES

Dangers of Air Travel Shown in Toll of Accidents to Pilots and Planes

Tokio, August 4.—Frank Kilby, pilot, and A. Sunman, his mechanic, both British subjects, were killed in the fall of the planes, which crashed to death three Japanese spectators. The accident occurred during a flying exhibition arranged by the Imperial Aviation Society. Fifty thousand people were present.

Endeavoring to avoid hitting a group of spectators when landing, the pilot lost control of the plane and crashed on a bridge, killing an ice cream vendor and two children.

Kilby and Sunman were dead when lifted from the shattered plane.

AGREEMENT ON PLANS FOR DEALING WITH RUSSO-POLISH CRISIS

Reached at a Conference Between Lloyd George and Millerand, Subject to Approval by the British Parliament, Which Lloyd George Addresses on Tuesday—War Not to Be Waged on Russia.

Hythe, Aug 9.—The Allied Conference here reached a complete agreement this afternoon on plans for dealing with the Russo-Polish crisis. It includes the reimposition of the blockade, but on the advice of experts no allied troops will be employed. The plans are subject to the approval of the British Parliament which Lloyd George will address tomorrow.

The British Government decided that the Russian mission may remain on in London until the Minsk Conference is concluded. It is probable that the plans will not go into effect until the preliminary results of the Minsk meeting are known.

Actual Warfare Not to Be Waged

Hythe, England, Aug. 9.—When Premiers Millerand, and Lloyd George met again this morning in continuation of their conference here over the Russo-Polish situation, they had before them the detailed report of Marshal Foch and Field Marshal Wilson dealing with the extent of the military, naval and economic assistance which France and England can give immediately to Poland. Having decided that actual war shall not be waged on Russia, the Premiers were confronted with the most difficult problem. It is known that they are inclined to give Poland every aid within the limit of this decision. In both French and British circles here, however, the word "defensive" is emphasized in connection with all proposed plans, and it is pointed out that France and England want it distinctly understood that they are not contemplating offensive measures against Russia.

Complete Plans for Checking Bolsheviki Westward Advance

London, Aug. 9.—Field Marshal Henry Wilson, Chief of the Imperial Staff of the British Army; Admiral Baron Beatty, Commander of the Grand Fleet, and Marshall Foch, France, conferred at Hythe relative to the Polish situation until an early hour this morning, according to the Central News. It is learned that Allied naval and military experts are in complete accord regarding plans for checking the westward advance of the Russian Bolsheviki, it is said.

There is a possibility that naval mobilization will be ordered to enforce the strick blockade of Russia, and that France will co-operate in the movement.

Lloyd George was to have made a statement to the British House of Commons today, and it was expected he would outline his proposed course of action. Later advices, however, state he will defer his declaration until tomorrow.

Refuse to Grant Truce

London, August 9—The Soviet Government had definitely refused a ten days' truce requested by Mr. Lloyd George as a result of Friday's meeting with the Russian mission, headed by M Kamenett and M. Krassin.

While there has been no talk of officially declaring war on Russia, the Allies have decided to give Poland all possible military, naval and economic assistance without delay.

The Premiers received two notes from Moscow in answer to Mr. Lloyd George's request for a truce. They sent another note to the Soviet and also advised Poland to seek a truce direct from the Bolsheviki, who indicated in their refusal of the truce that if the request came direct from the Poles it might have a better chance of being granted. One of the notes received from the Balshevlki said a meeting of the Poles and Russians had been called for at Minsk the next Wednesday, and the Bolsheviki preferred to make their own arrangements with the Poles.

The French are urging the establishment of a defensive line in Poland, either before Warsaw or immediately behind the capital if it is too late now for the former.

Naval Blockade Plans

If it is decided to re-impose the Blockade of Russia, the blockade can be made effective within a few hours, as far as the British navy is concerned, and upon the British navy will fall the bulk of the work.

A squadron of light cruisers and other light craft is in the Baltic, ready at a moment's notice to begin intensive patrols, while the units in the Black Sea are more than enough to effectively blockade all the ports.

The force in the Baltic is considered sufficient, and the Admiralty denies reports that another squadron was ordered there immediately, even should additional blockade work be decided upon

Soviet Communication

London, Aug. 9.—Russia is ready to start a withdrawal of her forces to the line stipulated in 1918 by the Supreme Council, providing Poland agrees to the armistice terms, according to a statement issued by the Russian delegation in London.

Before receipt in Moscow of the note dispatched as a result of Friday's conference between Premier Lloyd George and Leo Kameneff, of the Russian delegation, Sunday's announcement says the Soviet Government instructed its delegates to communicate to the British Government the following statement:

"Resultant on acceptance by Poland of the armistice terms, which will deal principally with reduction of her armed strength, the Soviet republic will be prepared to begin withdrawal of her troops to the line drawn by the Supreme Council in 1918 and indicated again by Earl Curzon, in his note of July 30, to M. Tchitcherin (Bolsheviki Foreign Minister), and considerably to reduce the number of Soviet troops on this line of the Allies, particularly France, undertake not to advance and not to support any advance against Soviet Russia on any front, and to withdraw General Wrangel's army from the Crimea."

This statement was immediately transmitted to Mr. Lloyd George and later a new communication was received from Moscow.

"A half hour before the British Government's note of Saturday was delivered to the Soviet Government," the new communication declares, "The latter received at last from Warsaw the Polish Government's answer that it was ready to accept proposals to send its delegates to Minsk for the conclusion of an armistice and the adoption of peace preliminaries. This document is a continuation of the negotiations inaugurated July 31, at Baranovitchi, where the Russian delegates declared their readiness to begin negotiations for an armistice and peace preliminaries as soon as the Polish Government would inform the Russian delegates by wireless that full powers to that effect had been sent to their delegates."

Warsaw, Aug. 9.—Essentials of the terms of peace Poland would agree to were set forth in the note sent by wireless to Moscow Thursday night, accepting the Soviet proposal to send delegates to Minsk to negotiate simultaneously an armistice and peace.

The note declared that Poland was compelled, however, to demand formal guarantees that the Polish delegates would be permitted free and direct communication with the Polish Government by wireless and couriers. The Government also said that because of the fact that the Soviet had previously refused to negotiate an armistice, hostilities should now cease on both sides from the moment of the beginning of the negotiations at Minsk.

The Poles, continued the note, were ready to conclude peace on the principle of national rights, and would try for such a solution of all questions as would guarantee future peace and friendly relations between Russia and her neighbors.

The note stated that Poland could not accept any terms that would be an attack on her sovereign rights or interfere with her internal affairs, and she asked an answer that would be the basis for future peace terms.

The not added that the fact that the first armistice negotiations were broken off because the Polish delegates were empowered to negotiate only an armistice and not peace compelled the Government to conclude that the Soviet would make an effort to continue military operations, and that therefore the Russians must take all responsibility for the continuance of hostilities. The Polish Government was making every effort to win the war, the note asserted.

Soviet Operator's Actions

The Foreign Office announced Saturday evening that the Soviet wireless operator at Moscow had refused for the third time to receive the Polish Government's message announcing that Poland would send delegates to a Bolshevik-Polish peace conference at Minsk. The Soviet operator declared that he was too busy to accept the dispatch. Prior to this refusal the Polish Government received a wireless dispatch from Moscow expressing surprise that the Polish peace delegation which returned from the unsuccessful meeting last week at Baranovitchi had not yet gone to Minsk. It adds that the Soviet Government was ready to negotiate peace and that the delay rested upon the Polish Government.

The Polish Foreign Office has sent to the League of Nations a note presenting the Polish side of the peace and armistice controversy with the Soviet Government of Russia. A proclamation calculated to quiet the Polish people, asking them to remain calm and to support the Government, will be issued by Government officials.

MANY AMERICANS KEEP MONEY IN PURSE NOT BANKS

About Half Total Currency Carried by People Who Want Ready Money

Philadelphia, August 5.—About one-half of the total currency of the United States, $3,000,000,000, is being carried around in pockets and purses, hidden under mattresses, in socks or locked in strong boxes, in the opinion of William H. Hutt, acting governor of the Federal Reserve Bank here.

Crooks and hold-up men consider it a poor job if they get less than $200 from a victim, Hutt pointed out today in upholding his contention.

The sum which is carried around, or hidden in private places, would pay off one-seventh of the national debt; stabilize the finances of the country; bring Liberty Bonds back to par; strengthen international credit, and bring about much needed deflation, Hutt said.

Although there is more money in circulation now than ever before, Hutt declared that bank deposits were not increasing. This he attributed to a desire of the people for large sums of ready cash.

JAPANESE TAKE TO EATING FROGS

Encouraged by Government After Series of Experiments in Raising Them

Tokio, August 9.—Frog meat made its first appearance last month in the menu of one of the most popular restaurants of the city. Frogs had never been considered as a food until very recently by the Japanese. In 1918 Dr. Watanabe brought some edible frogs from the United States. They were kept at the Infectious Disease Experimental Farm where experiments were made in breeding and raising.

The Government has taken steps to encourage the raising and eating of frogs.

Viscountess Burnham seldom speaks in public, but when she does it is with great charm and convincing effect. Every useful work during the war had her sympathy and help.

MERRELL-JACKSON

A wedding of interest to many people of Brandon took place this week in Winnipeg, when Ella Irene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jackson, of Narcisse, Man., formerly of Brandon, was united in marriage to Horace C. Merrell, (Bob), son of Mr. Lorne Merrell, of Roblin, Man. The ceremony was performed at Grace Church, Rev. Mr. Colwill officiating. Only the immediate relatives and friends were present.

The bride, who was unattended, looked charming in a suit of white pussywillow taffeta, heavily embridered. The coat opened over a georgette blouse of white, embroidered in nile green, and she wore a hat of white milan straw trimmed with white georgette.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrell spent the past few days in Brandon, en route to their home in Saskatoon, Sask., where Mr. Merrell is a well known druggist.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Merrell have many friends in Brandon, Mr. Merrell having been for several years a member of the staff of the Kennedy drug store, and Mrs. Merrel was for three years in the superintendent's office of the C. P. R. in this city.

In appreciation of the sevices while in the supeintendent's office, Mrs. Merrell was presented with a cut glass berry bowl and dishes from the staff.

DAVISON-CURTIS

St. George's Church, Elton, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Tuesday, when Jean E., daughter of Mr. W. J. Curtis, of Carnegie, was united in marriage to George A. Davison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Davison, of Beresford. Rev. A. Partington, of Rapid City, performed the ceremony.

Promptly at eleven o'clock the bride entered the church, which was prettily decorated with flowers and vines. The bride was given in marriage by her father and entered the church to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin, played by Mrs. Geo. Long, of Rapid City. Miss Hazel Curtis, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, while Mr. Dave Davison, brother of the groom, was best man.

The bride looked charming in a white satin suit, trimmed with pearls, the coat opening over a white georgette crepe blouse. Her hat was a pretty model of milan straw and white georgette crepe and she carried a large bouquet of white roses.

The bridesmaid wore a dainty frock of white French voile and a milan straw hat trimmed with touches of blue. She carried pink roses.

Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served at the bride's home, which was attended by about forty guests consisting of relatives and immediate friends of the bride and groom. The table was centred with the wedding cake and a large wedding bell from which were extended streamers and flowers in pink and white.

Later the bridal couple left by motor amid showers of confetti and good wishes, for Pelican Lake, where they will spend their honeymoon.

The bride's travelling suit was a becoming model of taupe French serge trimmed with military braid. A close fitting hat of the same shade trimmed with an ostrich plume and touches of rose, completed her costume.

Mr. and Mrs. Davison will take up residence on their farm in the Beresford district about the middle of August.

FARMERS' UNION TO MARKET GRAIN NEBRASKA GROWERS

Lincoln, Neb., August 10.—What is said to be the largest co-operative organization of farmers in the United States has just been formed here. It will market the grain of the 4,000 members of the Nebraska Farmers' Union and eliminate middlemen and brokers.

The organization, known as the National Co-operative Company, with a capital authorized at $2,000,000, according to C. H. Gustafson, of Lincoln, president of the state union, and organizer and president of the company, has 1,000 locals, 300 grain elevators, 50 general stores, 3 creameries and 2 flour mills, besides nearly a hundred shipping associations.

The union also has a livestock commission office in the yards of Omaha, Sioux City, St. Joseph and Denver, and a big wholesale exchange in Omaha that carries everything from farm implements to groceries to supply its retail stores.

The corporation, Mr. Gustafson, said, expects soon to build or lease a big terminal elevator in Lincoln or Omaha and negotiations are in progress for seats on the Lincoln and the Omaha grain exchanges.

A regular commission business will be conducted for local companies participating, Mr. Gustafson said, and net profits will be pro-rated on the basis of business done, after the company pays eight per cent. dividends on its stock.

The corporation also plans to find a market for all farm products, to locate and build elevators and to give technical assistance in book keeping and accounting methods to participating members.

A SUFFICIENT SUPPLY OF COAL

Ottawa, August 9.—Hon. F. B. Carvell, Chairman of the Board of Railway Commissioners, in discussing the coal situation in Canada, said that all of Canada, West of Fort William, as well as the Maritime Provinces, should be able to secure whatever they require. While there would be a scarcity of anthracite, there would, in his opinion, be enough to meet the actual needs of the people, provided they were willing to purchase their supplies as rapidly as it could be delivered, instead of waiting until Winter. Since most of the coal comes from the United States where there is no price fixing, Carvell stated it would not be feasible for the Board to fix prices in Canada at present. However, if there is further evidence of profiteering, the Board will deal with it.

GREYS STAGE WILD RALLY TO DEFEAT VIRDEN

Visitors Lead 6-0 for First Four and One-Half Innings and Look Like Winners

WILD SLAUGHTER

In Fifth When Greys Take Lead by Scoring Seven Runs

No balloon ascension was ever higher than that of the Virden team in the fifth innings of Monday night's game with the Greys, and when that wild inning was over the Brandon team had chalked up seven runs and overcome what looked like a sure lead for the visitors. The final score was 14-6 with the Greys hanging on to the long end of the count. As an exhibition of ball it was good in spots, but for real excitement it was the best battle of the year. The Virden team became so disgusted with the turn in the game that some of their members wanted to quit at the end of the seventh, but were finally persuaded to continue.

DAMAGED CARS TO BE REPAIRED

And Again Put in Operation by Many American Railways

Washington, D.C., August 5.—Repair of 150,000 damaged freight cars can begin almost immediately now that railroads are assured of additional revenue from increased rates. Director Parmlee, of the Bureau of Railway Economics, announced here Wednesday.

"Getting these cars into service will go far toward reducing the nation-wide car shortage," said Parmlee. "It should make available more cars for transportation of coal and food and other necessities. Wholesale repair of damaged cars probably will be the first direct result to the public and to shippers and manufacturers of rate increase. It will be feed and other necessities. Whole a highly beneficial result. Between six and seven per cent. of the nation's 2,500,000 freaight cars now are in need of repair and partially or wholly out of service.

Will Also Build

"The next direct result of the rate increase will be he addition of more cars through building.

"There is every indication that the rate increase will enable the roads promptly to increase their efficiency. They will be able to move far greater quantities of food and goods. Trains and deliveries will be sped up Many sections will begin to feel this within two months."

Bituminous coal prices will rise from 50 to 80 cents per ton after August 20th, when the new freight advances go into effect, officials of the National Coal Association estimated here. Officials here estimated the new rates will mean an additional revenue to the Government of $100,000,000 annually through taxes.

GRAPE MARKET NEVER SO BRISK

Demand for Manufactured Grape Products Now Exceeds Supply

Washington, August 10.—When the nation went dry by Federal amendment many grape growers thought they would be forced into some other line of business because of the subsequent cessation of wine production but reports to the Bureau of Markets show that the demand for manufactured grape products now exceeds the supply.

The production of unfermented grape juice and of jams and jellies is utilizing an increasing tonnage of grapes each year, these reports state and in the not far distant future, it is expected that the annual production of grapes will not meet the demand.

Lots of people look for trouble who do not know what to do with it after they find it.

CIVIC COMMITTEE NAMED TO MEET WITH FAIR BOARD

To Take Up Question of Rate of Pay Given Laborers At Fair

TEMPEST IN A TEA POT

Declares Ald. Curran—Other Matters Before Council of Routine Nature

A resolution askmg the Provincial Fair Board to pay all laborers employed by them a rate of wages not lower than the rate fixed by the City Council for city laborers, was defeated Monday evening at the regular meeting of the City Council. In its place it was decided by an amendment to this resolution that a special committee composed of His Worship Mayor Dinsdale and Aldermen Hall, Shewan and Carey be appointed to take the mater up with the Fair Board and investigate into the several complaints made. This was really the only business before the City Fathers Monday evening that contained any contentious matter.

Alderman Carey submitted the resolution and Alderman Grantham seconded it: "That in view of the fact that the Provincial Exhibition Board receives a substantial annual grant of public monies from the citizens of Brandon through the City Council, that the said Board be requested to assure the Council in writing that they will pay to any and all laborers employed by them a rate of wages not lower than the minimum rate fixed by the Council for city laborers, in any year."

In moving this resolution Alderman Carey said that the City should protect its interests and particularly the working men. He only asked that the laborers be paid the same rate as the City paid its laborers. Unless the Council supported this resolution, he stated that he would oppose any future grants to the Exhibition.

Special Committee Named

That the resolution was in the form of a mandate, was Alderman Coleman's declaration. He said that the Fair Board is composed of Brandon's leading men, and that the $5,000 paid to them for running the Fair is a mere bagatelle. He therefore moved an amendment to the resolution which named Mayor Dinsdale and Aldermen Carey, Hall and Shewan as a special committee to look into the complaints made. He said that he would like to see the wages asked for paid, and if they were not, then to know why not. To Alderman Coleman Alderman Carey replied that the resolution was not in the form of a mandate, and that it was only reasonable that the Fair Board should come to the City Council and not the Council go to the Fair Board.

"It is just side-tracking the whole matter to refer it to a committee," said Alderman Grantham who favored the first resolution. Alderman Hall was against Alderman Carey's resolution and stated that individuals had the right to make what bargain they liked when they were employed by the Fair Board. He believed that the Council did not know the particulars connected with the complaints well enough, and favored the investigation by the committee.

A Tempest in a Teapot

"A mere tempest in a teapot, and foisted on the City Council by some ulterior motive" was the way Alderman Curran described it when he rose to support the amendment. He said working at the Fair was a picnic job for many laborers and that the civic schedule only applied to civic employes and they could not dictate as to what the Fair Board should pay. Alderman Patmore asserted that 90 per cent. of the men working for the Fair Board were paid higher wages than they could get elsewhere. Alderman Shewan said the special committee could settle the mater amicably by interviewing the Fair Board. A vote was taken on the amendment and it was carried, only Aldermen Carey and Grantham being against it.

To Close McTavish Avenue

McTavish Avenue, between blocks three and four, will be closed in order to assist in the extensions being made to the new General Hospital. A letter was read from the Directors of the Brandon Hospital stating that in view of the new surgical building being connected up with the present buildings it is desirable that McTavish Avenue be closed. Another reason why the Board is desirous of closing it is that an addition to the Nurses' Home is contemplated and can be more advantageously done in front of the building than at the rear. If the street is closed it would afford the necessary room. The City Council granted the request of the Directors, subject to the publication of the usual notices.

Poles Hold Warsaw

London, August 17.—Warsaw is still being held by the Poles, as far as dispatches received here, disclose the situation. The latest Soviet Russian communique does not claim the city is captured, while the Polish official statement of Monday represented the defenders of the Polish capital as making a successful resistance. Reports announcing Warsaw's capture on Sunday announced by the Bolshevik staff at Vilna, are not confirmed from any source. All special dispatches, none of which, however, are dated later than Sunday, concur in the statement that Warsaw was then held by the Poles who, according to some of these reports were fighting so stiffly and successfully, that the menace to the city was decreasing.

BRANDON COLLEGE WILL OPEN WITH LARGE ENROLLMENT

Indications Are That There Will Be More Students Than Ever Before

NEW LABORATORY

Brandon Club Building Being Fitted Up, New Science Equipment Purchased

With the opening of Brandon College for the Fall term just a little over a month away, a large number of applications are being received from students desirous of entering the College after the Summer vacation. The Fall term commences September 28th and the attendance promises to be larger than that of any previous year. Already more definite applications have been received than at the same time a year ago. It is interesting to note the large area from which students come to Brandon College. Each year a greater number attend from various points in the middle West and very often students from the United States and Eastern Canada are also among those enrolled.

To meet the growing demands for better Science accommodation and equipment a new laboratory is being fitted up and two more class-rooms devoted to the work of this department. This re-arrangement is made possible by reason of the fact that the College Board has rented the Brandon Club for the entire use of the Business Department. Several thousand dollars' worth of new Science equipment is being purchased for the classes in Physics, Chemistry, Biology and Geology.

There will be several changes in the personnel of the Faculty when College opens. Mr. Joseph Howe, M.A., will be Professor of History, succeeding Dr. C. W. New, who is in charge of the History Department of McMaster University. Mr. Howe and family will arrive in Brandon about the end of this month, from Saskatoon, Sask. He is a distinct acquisition to the group of men and women engaged in the important work carried on at Brandon College. Mr. Howe is a distinguished graduate of Acadia University, a post-graduate of [illegible] years' experience and a fine athlete.

As Miss Fraser's successor, who was lecturer in English last year, the Board have been fortunate in securing Mr. Elmer D. Renaud, B.A., who has had successful experience in teaching English, and who has the high standing obtained by those taking the course with the Faculty of Education, Toronto University.

Dr. C. B. Freeman, the new Educational Secretary, who delivered the very able baccalaureate address to the graduating class, Commencement Sunday evening, in May, will move his family to the city about September first, from Saskatoon. Dr. Freeman is already at work directing the attention of young people to the College and securing funds for its maintenance.

The oard is negotiating with two highly qualified Lecturers in Science, whose names will be announced within a few days.

An offer of the Professorship in Philosophy, filled so successfully for many years by Dr. S. J. McKee, has been made to a gentleman of the highest standing in the East. Definite announcement concerning this position will also be made in the immediate future.

Dr. H. L. McNeill, Professor and Mrs. T. R. Wilkins, and Miss Jennie Turnbull, of the Brandon College Faculty, who are taking lectures during the Summer months at the University of Chicago, are planning to return to Brandon the last week in August, better prepared than ever to carry on the work of their important positions.

In connection with the new building program, work will not be commenced until next Spring. In the meantime the oard is laying strong and far-reaching plans for the erection of much needed buildings and the securing of increased endowment funds.

Declares If King Is Offended He Will Apologize to Him

London, August 13—Alexander M. In all, Carlisle's speech at the time consisted of thirteen words: "My Lords, if you pass this bill you may kill England, not Ireland."

He said that if he offended the King he was ready to make apologies, but if it was solely regarded as an affront to the House of Lords, "then the case is different."

SAME OLD PARTY KING DECLARES

Liberal Leader Compares Hon. Arthur Meighen to the Pharisee

Paisley, Ont., August 13—Declaring that the National Liberals and Conservative Party was the same old-fashioned Tory part of the high tariff, and that the Government was turning the established procedure of Parliament into autocracy, Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King, in a speech to an audience of Bruce County people, last evening, took occasion to reply to the declarations of Prime Minister Hon. Arthur Meighen, in his enunciation of the policy of the Government party at Stirling last Wednesday.

"I am reminded," he said, "of the Pharisee who kept to the middle of the road without allowing his garments to be touched by suffering humanity. There was another figure in that parable, and if Mr. Meighen wishes to play the role of the Pharisee, I am content that the party I lead shall take the part of the Good Samaritan and do what it can to bind the wounds and better the conditions of humanity."

FIRST DUTY OF GOVERNMENT AS PREMIER SEES IT

Is Not to Commit Their Treasure to Any Unjustifiable Adventurere

WHAT JUSTIFIES WAR

Peril of National Honor, Safety and Freedom, Declares Lloyd George

London, August 13.—A significant reference to the present crisis was made by Premier Lloyd George in addressing a meeting of Coalition Liberals Thursday. After expresoisng fervent hope for co-operation between Great Britain and France, which he said has been "sancitified by the common sacrifice," the Premier continued, apparently alluding to the possibility of war with Russia:

"When the terrible question of peace or war has to be decided, our first duty as a government is to the people, who trust us not to commit their treasure to any unjustifiable adventure. Nothing but the most imperative call of national honor, national safety and national freedom can justify war. Before this country is committed to it, even in the most limited form, we must be satisfied these are in peril."

There was no formal cabinet council last night, but a number of prolonged ministerial conferences were held at Downing street, after which Mr. Lloyd George received a deputation of the "council of action" of the Labor party.

Incident Exaggerated

Paris, August 13.—"Too much importance is being given by the British and French press to the divergency in views between the British and French Governments on the Wrangel incident," was the statement made to the Associated Press at the French Foreign Office. Premier Millerand is away from the city and M. Paleologue, former French ambassador to Russia, was in charge of the Foreign Office.

"France," it was added, "follows its own traditional policy towards Russia and towards Poland."

There was a feeling of surpise at the Foreign Office over the "evident misunderstanding of the attitude of France."

"The small misunderstanding is annoying," said one of the officials, "but it is not preventing in any way the cordial relations existing between the two great Allies."

British Reply to France

Paris, August 13.—Great Britain has communicated officially with France with regard to the differences between the two governments, it develops from a statement made by the semi-official Havas agency. The statement says:

"The British charge d'affairs Thursday morning brought to the General Secretary of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs a communication from the British Government. From the conversation engaged in between the charge and Maurice Paleologue, General Secretary of the French Foreign Affairs, it developed that both governments are examing in the most friendly spirit the divergencies in views which have occurred between them but which will not prevent them from continuing their friendly collaboration.

Premier Millerand, who arrived at Montdidier for luncheon Thursday (on a trip he is making to the liberated regions) was immediately informed of the conversation."

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE OF MENNONITES IMPROVES NEAR SWIFT CURRENT

Regina, Sask., Aug. 12.—According to Premier Martin, the latest reports reaching the Department of Education regarding the situation in the Mennonite settlement near Swift Current show a considerable improvement and figures for school attendance are much higher than last year.

This change is not the result of any change of heart on the part of the Mennonites, but comes with the stern measures adopted by the Government to compel the Mennonites to obey the education law of the Province.

The Premier says that no little difficulty has been experienced in enforcing these laws as many of the settlers prefer to spend ten days in jail rather than pay the insignificant fines imposed.

YORKTON STAGES BIG RALLY AND DEFEAT GREYS

Winners Pound out Five Runs in Fifth and Stow Game Away

FAST FIELDING

And Errorless Ball Features Exhibition at Yorkton on Thursday

Staging a big rally in the fifth inning, the Yoskton team chase across five runs and these tallies enabled the home team to defeat the Greys, 6-3, on Thursday evening. The exhibition was one of the best played on the Yorkton diamond, with both teams furnishing errorless ball, and putting up some great defensive play. The teams were about evenly matched when it came to stick work, but the Greys were unfortunate in that their hits generally went straight into a fielder's hands, while the Yorkton team made the best use of the hits they secured.

All the scoring was done towards the end of the game. Both teams travelled along for four innings without a score being made, but Yorkton made a stand in the fifth frame and before the side had been retired h crossed the plate with five runs and stowed away the game. They added another in the sixth, but were blanked in the next two. The Greys started to get to Kaye in the seventh with good results, two runs being pushed over, and a later rally in the ninth added another one.

Both Early and Kaye pitched good ball. The Yorkton left hander was not the same puzzle to the Brandon batters that he was the first time, and the Greys nicked him for nine safe bingles, although he did strike out eight men. Early was in good form, but found the going rather hard in the fifth when the winners made five safe hits, three of which were for extra bases. In the other rounds he was very steady and kept the Yorkton team in hand.

The big innings which netted five runs for the home nine was the result of a two bagger by H. Sigurdson, a hit by Doole a walk to Taite, a single by Eckhart, a double by S. Sigurdson and a single by Davies. Three hits in the sixth netted another tally. The Greys secured two runs in the eighth when two hits sent both McNeill and Fenwick across the plate. Hits by Falconer and Cousley in the ninth, sent the first named home with the final tally made by the Greys.

Fast fielding featured the game, many of the plays being staged at opportune times. Hard hit balls went right into Yorkton fielder's hands time and time again, the Greys being unable to place their hits safely out of reach of the winning team's fielders. The following is the box score:

Winnipeg, August 13—Conferences between Farmer-Independent, Conservative, and Labor members of the Legislature took place Thursday in the Royal Alexandra Hotel with a view to the formation of a coalition opposition against the Norris Government, but after prolonged discussion nothing definite was decided, according to the announcement of A. R. Boivin, Iberville, who is secretary of the Farmer-Independent group. It is intended to have another meeting some time in October.

Nothing further than this was offically announced but it was gathered that there is a decided indisposition on the part of the bulk of the Farmer-Independents to have any alliance with the Labor party in view of the first plank in the platform of the Dominion Labor party declaring that it stood for "the transformation of capitalistic property into social property, with production for use instead of for profit."

Take All or Nothing.

"We wanted to know where they stood," said a Farmer member, "and when we asked them to come to the point, they declared we would have to accept the whole Labor platform or nothing. Well, of course, we cannot do that."

Another member, the representative of a Southern constitutency in which there is a large Ruthenian vote, seemed to think that this was going too far, and he said that "they weer taken at a short; that they had not time to consider the proposals." He seemed to think that whatever the private views of the Labor members, they would have to follow the leader.

"Whatever the outcome of the conferences," was the statement of the man first quoted, "the farmers will stand together."

So far as could be learned, the Conservative delegation made a general statement on the necessity of having a stable government in the province. Nothing could be learned of any declaration by them in respect to how they stood on the education question and bi-lingualism.

Seires of Conferences.

The first conference took place in the afternoon. It lasted from three to six and was preceded by a meeting of the Farmer-Independent members themselves. W. J. Tupper, K.C., and J. T. Haig, Winnipeg; Major F. G. Taylor, Portage la Prairie, and Dr. Waugh, Norfolk, represented the Conservative party. John Kennedy and W. H. Spink, who were elected for Morden-Rhinland and Cypress as Conservatives lined up with the Farmer-independents, although they had attended a meeting of the Conservative members held immediately following the election.

In addition to the Conservative delegation, the Labor delegation attended the conference in the evening. This was composed of F. J. Dixon, Winnipeg; A. E. Smith, Brandon; J. H. Palmer, Dauphin; C. A. Tanner, Kildonan-St. Andrews; W. D. Bailey, Assiniboia; M. J. Stanbridge, St. Clements; A. E. Moore, Springfield. This conference laster from half-past seven o'clock until almost eleven, when the Conservative and Labor delegations retired after the statement and discussion of their views. The Farmer-Independents remained together for another half-hour. After leaving the room, the Conservatives, who seemed to have been joined by others than the original four composing the delegation, retired to a corner of the rotunda, apparently to have another talk over the situation.

Those Who Attended

The following were stated by Mr. Boivin to have attended the meeting caleld by the Farmer-Independents: W. A. Emmon, Swan River; W. C. McKinnell, Rockwood; Gundorson Yeljsted, Gimli; Joseph Hamelin, Ste. Rose; Samuel Fletcher, Killarney; Maurice Duprez, Carillion; Joseph Bernier, St. Boniface; N. Hyrhorczuk, Ethelbert; A. L. Mabb, Fisher; George Little, Beautiful Plains; W. R. Clubb, Morris; Wm. Robson, Glenwood; P. A. Talbot La Verandrye; W. H. Spink, Cypress; John Kennedy, Morden; F. A. Calverly, Fairford; D. Yahnnischak, Emerson, and E. Krisjanson, St. George.

Fatality in Dublin

Dublin, Aug. 11.—Many of Dublin's streets were ablaze Tuesday night with bonfires in celebration of Archbishop Mannix's arrival from the United States. The belief still exists here that the Archbishop will visit Ireland. The demonstrations resulted in one civilian being shot and another wounded by the military.

After midnight, military patrols notified demonstrators in various sections who were singing around bonfires that they must disperse in accordance with the curfew law. In most cases the parties left but one crowd in the Capels street district remained. A military lorry arrived with orders for them to disperse. just what followed is not clear, but the military fired a volley, killing the one civilian and wounding the other.

All the bonfires were deserted by three o'clock and the streets were quiet. Military patrols in armored cars with searchlights patrolled the city. Two soldiers were reported shot dead at Clonakilty, County Cork.

Government Grant Stopped

At the Dublin corporation meeting Tuesday night it was announced that the Government had refused to pay grants amounting to £170,000 unless the corporation refused to recognize the Dail Eireann (Irish Republic) Parliament. It was stated that the immediate result of this refusal would be the shutting down of municipal institutions, including three hospitals.

Landing is Described

London, Aug. 11.—Archbishop Mannix arrived in London Tuesday morning. The crowd at the station was principally composed of police constables. There was no throng on hand and the police were idle. A deputation from the Gaelic League and from the Casement-Sinn Fein Club met the prelate. The public was excluded from the platform.

As the Australian Archbishop, whose activities in behalf of the Sinn Fein alarmed the Government, stepped from the train, he said sarcastically: "This is probably the British navy's first victory since Jutland. The Government is making itself very silly."

GREAT OBJECTION TO INCREASED RATES ON COAL SHIPMENTS

Canadian Railways Better Able to Stand Increased Costs Than Consumers is Contention by Representative of Retail Coal Dealers

Ottawa, August 11.—The case of the consumer of coal was brought before the Board of Railway Commissioners this morning, when the hearing of the application by all Canadian railways for increased rates, was continued. J. M. Daley, of the Canadian Retail Coal Association, declared the consumer of coal in Canada could not stand further advances in price of that necessary fuel, and expressed the opinion that the railways got more out of their freight charges on coal than any other commodity. The railways were better able to stand increased costs than the poor consumer.

The railways, however, brought forward witnesses to show that their recent operations had been returning deficits instead of profits. J. B. McLaren, General Auditor of the Grand Trunk Railway, told the Commission that even if the new increases went into effect next month, his company would finish with a deficit of two millions. The United States Labor Board award would cost the Grand Trunk Railway approximately nine nine million dollars in increased wages, he stated, and compensation to employes on his road had been advanced 108 per cent. in the years from 1913 to 1919. The net corporate loss to the Grand Trunk during the first six months of the present year had been $4,404,711.

The Canadian National System, or rather that portion of it which was formerly the Canadian Northern Railway, also showed it was losing money under present conditions. Mr. Hills, assistant to D. B. Hanna, President of the System, stated that the earnings of the Canadian Northern last year were $53,552,000, while operating expenses were $60,634,000. Increases provided for in the United States Labor Board would mean an additional cost of approximately ten million dollars a year.

Great Increase in Cost

Ottawa, August 11.—That an increase in freight rates would mean a much greater advance in the cost of commodities to the ultimate consumer, was the assertion of Hugh Blain, President of the Canadian Wholesale Grocers' Association, before the Railway Commission Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Blain said that the profit of jobbers, wholesalers and retailers was figured as a percentage of the cost of a commodity, plus the freight rate.

If a manufacturer sold an article for $100 and the freight on this article amounted to $8 the wholesaler figured his profit at a percentage on $108. If a commodity passed through several hands before reaching the consumer, the rate would consequently be greatly enhanced.

Mr Blain was of the opinion that no increase should be granted unless it could be shown that the Canadian Pacific Railway could not make a reasonable revenue without it.

If the operations of Canadian National systems resulted in a deficit, this deficit should be met by taxation, rather than by an increase in rates. In this way, the public would at least know what it is paying. If the Canadian Pacific could not get along, it should use up a proportion of its large reserve, before demanding increased rates.

A large part of the afternoon was taken up in examination of W. J. Moule, Assistant Comptroller of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who was called to explain and corroborate figures produced by President Beatty earlier in the day. He estimated that the cost of commodities used by the company were increased by at least fifty per cent. over the figures of 1917. For the year 1920, the Canadian Pacific Railway would, he thought, have a deficit of $37,450,672.00, which a general increase of 30 per cent. on freight revenue would about provide for.

CANADIAN PACIFIC WILL NOT IMPORT EUROPEAN LABOR

Officials of Labor Department Deny Report That 20,000 Europeans Coming

PLENTY OF WORK

For Able-bodied Men in Canada at Present Time, is Statement

Ottawa, August 12.—There is no truth in the story to the effect that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company is intending to import 20,000 Italian laborers, or other workers from Southern Europe, to work on construction and maintenance in Canada. According to officials of the Labor Department, who have just conducted inquiries into the report. There is no need for an able-bodied man being out of work at present, according to this statement.

MEN AND WOMEN JOIN IN DEFENCE OF POLISH CAPITAL

Old and Young Determined to Repel Soviet Attack on Warsaw

Mingled with them along the roads, are endless trains of wagons, guarded by elderly civilians. All able-bodied men are being relieved from other duties so that they may be made available in the fight for the defense of Warsaw. Women soldiers are hurrying from place to place, acting as couriers. As fighting draws nearer Warsaw, squads of citizens, wearing their ordinary civilian clothing, but armed with rifles, are drilling in many parts of the city.

Russian Cavalry in Pragna

London, August 12.—Russian cavalry has reached Pragna, a suburb of Warsaw, according to wireless dispatches received here from Berlin today.

Siutation Little Changed

Paris, August 12.—The situation of Warsaw is little changed, judging from the scant news reaching Paris. It seems that the converging movement on the capital has made only slight progress and that the greatest danger still lies from the North, where the Danzig-Warsaw railroad is now cut on a length of thirty miles, and the Bolshevik cavalry continues to cree along the Russian frontier. The Reds also are advancing West of the middle Bug river.

The action of the Soviet Government in not replying to the Polish note August 5th, regarding an armistice, but at the same time sending delegates to the Polish line, has strengthened the conviction in military circles here that the Soviet either has no intention of making peace or is determined to put off negotiations as long as possible and throw the blame for the delay on the Polish Government.

AND OLD GAME

Examiners of Ponzi's accounts and methods find that they are a new species of a very ancient game. There is no great mystery about it. The alleged Boston financial wizard made money out of exchange. He made it by exchanging his notes for the cheques of his customers. Before these notes and the interest on them came due, other subscribers furnished the money necessary to meet them. With tens of thousands of persons sending him money, Ponzi was able to pay all demands. The young Italiam may not have been an original psychologist but he proved an accomplished one.

The United States authorities were slow in calling a halt to his operations and their very slowness cost citizens of the United States thousands of dollars. No laws can be enacted which will protect people from the results of their own folly, and those who were credulous enough to believe that Ponzi's business could be an honest and legitimate one, or were willing to blindly take the chance, will find few to sympathize with them in their losses.

OUR FRIENDS, THE BIRDS

At a time when the West is threatened with a grasshopper plague while in the East the caterpillar is causing havoc among the trees, we may ask ourselves: do we appreciate our birds?

Man, by his insatiable slaughter of the birds has so reduced the balance of nature that the destructive insects are getting the upper hand. In introducing the estimates in the House of Commons this Spring, Mr. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture, stated that Canada's annual loss from parasites amounted to $125,000,000, and that in preparation for fighting the expected grasshopper plague alone, there had been purchased 100,000 pounds of arsenic, 2,000 tons of bran and 50,000 gallons of molasses, from which to make poisoned bait.

To fight the caterpillar plague various methods of attack were employed, chiefly that of spraying.

Woodpeckers are the natural destroyers of caterpillars. One day this Summer a woodpecker was noticed at work upon a tree which was being defoliated by caterpillars. With the aid of binoculars, it was found that, in one visit to the tree, it secured twenty-four caterpillars. This bird, or another, returned in about quarter-hour intervals, each time disposing of a number of caterpillars.

Birds are the natural enemies of insects and bugs and, without them, we could not successfully combat the pests which destroy our food supplies. By protecting the birds, we are protecting ourselves. By destroying the birds, by permitting others to destroy them, we are leaving ourselves open to ravages.

THRIFT OR EXTRAVAGANCE

D. B. Hanna quotes figures showing the amount the proposed increased freight rates would add to the cost of certain specified articles, if shipped from and to designated points. The list of articles has been carefully selected and on the face of it a good case seems to be made out. For instance, it is said that the proposed increased freight rates only add 40 cents to the cost of one hundred pounds of soap shipped from Hamilton, Ontario, to Brandon, and six cents to the cost of a $60.00 suit of clothes if shipped from Toronto, Ontario, to Regina, Sask.

The contention which the figures quoted is supposed to advance, is that the increase is so small that it is not worth objecting to. What is to prevent the people who pay the shot from applying the same sort of reasoning and suggesting to the railway companies that the revenue to be derived from such paltry advances is not worth contending for?

The truth is, that is no way to look at it, and the public will be surprised that so distinguished a person as the head of the Canadian Government Railway systems, should stoop to such methods. The only figures that are worth considering in this connection are the total earnings by the railways under the proposed increased rates. These figures show the extra tax that will be placed on the Canadian people, if the increases are granted.

Railway rates to be just and fair, should be sufficient to pay a fair return on the investment, after providing for operating and all other charges, fairly and honestly incurred in the economic construction, maintenance and operation of the system. They should not be expected to provide for the covering of wanton waste or defects in building, or unnecessary duplication of lines. Beyond this they cannot honestly be expected to go.

The present rates appear to provide sufficient revenues for these purposes for the Canadian Pacific Railway. It is the "lame ducks"—the Canadian Government lines, that suffer. Apparently in the location and constructions of these lines, sufficient thought was not given to operating problems, nor the future needs of the system or the Dominion. Costly mistakes were made and are now charged against the new owners. It is largely because these lines have been unable to pay their way, let alone make a fair profit, that the application is being made. Fortunately for the C. P. R. it cannot be debarred if increases are granted and naturally that company would like the increased rates.

What then is the best course? Continuance of present rates, with the Dominion Treasury supplying the deficit Government lines will undoubtedly incur, or, grant the increase.

Against the granting of increases is the fact that transportation costs enter so largely into the cost of everything, that increased rates will immediately cause a further increase in the already too high cost of living. With increased revenues supplying plenty of money there would be no great incentive to close scrutiny or reduction of expenditures. It is easy come, easy go. National thrift will be encouraged to go into hiding. Extravagence and indulgence will be enthroned. Economy and thrift will be lost virtues. The day of reckoning will be postponed.

The decision is one of the most momentous ones that has ever been before an appointed body in the history of Canada. The Railway Commission must give the cue for the introduction of thrift, rigid economy, and the application of strict business principles, or throw wide the door and welcome extravagance and waste. Which will it be?

STAY, AND OBEY THE LAW

Some of the Mennonite settlers in Southern Manitoba will leave Canada after the present crop is harvested, hoping to find a domicile in the South where they will be free to educate their children as they please.

The first announcement was to the effect that the most of the colony would depart. Now that the date of departure draws comparatively near, it is stated that those who will go are the members of the Old Colony. The younger element refuse to leave Canada.

The first announcement was no doubt intended for effect. It was announced that unless they were permitted to enjoy a fancied right—which would prove a serious handicap to their children—they would all go. The Government stood firm. Pointing out that the laws are applicable to all citizens and that those who refused to obey must take the consequences, the Department of Education insisted on obedience.

Enforcement of the law may prove sufficient to drive some of these people out of Canada, but if they will not obey, they must go out. The more progressive Mennonites no doubt realize that they may move to some location where they will, for a while, be peimrtted to carry on as they see fit, but that it is only a question of time until law enforcement will again overtake them, and they must yield then, or again go forth in search of what they are unlikely to find.

It seems too bad that the younger element cannot convince the older people of the unwisdom of their demands, and the unlikelihood of their ever finding what they desire. Succeeding generations will acknowledge what members of the Old Colony will not.

NO COMMON GROUND

Failure naturally greeted the efforts of the active anti-Norris group that promoted the conference of the Farmers, Independents, Conservatives and Labor, in the hope of consolidating the opponents of the Provincial Government into one group. Probably it is just as well that the effort was made, for it demonstrates that the opponents of the Government are not merely anti-Government, but that they have definite objectives of their own.

Labor leaders fancied that Dixon should be Premier. They made the claim that they would dominate the House, that their platform and program was supported by more voters than any other. It was not unnatural, if they really believed this, to try to put it into effect. The failure ought to convince them that Premier Norris has not yet been supplanted—that though the Norris Government does not command the support, in all matters, of a majority of the House, that a greater number of members agree with his platform and policies than with any other.

The effort to consolidate the various factions represented in Parliament into opposition to the Government, failed as it deserved to fail and was bound to fail, unless the professions of many members meant little or nothing. There were some persons cynical enough to believe this, though happily they were in a minority, and their belief is shown to be unfounded. Dixon may yet be Premier of Manitoba, but more people are today looking expectantly towards the Norris leadership than towards any other.

PRICE OF BREAD INCREASES DURING MONTH OF JUNE

Bread Is Dearest in Calgary and Cheapest in London Ontario

Ottawa, August 16.—The price of bread in Canada taking the whole Dominion for an average increased during June to the extent of nearly half a cent per 24-ounce loaf. Flour increased in cost 65 cents per barrel, equivalent to one-quarter of a cent per pound or about two-fifths of a cent per 24-ounce loaf. Other increases in baking and delivery bring the increase to nearly the one-half cent given above.

The total average cost of bread throughout the Dominion was eight and three-fifths cents per pound, equivalent to twelve and nine-tenths cents per pound and a half loaf.

Consumption of bread per capita increased nearly six per cent., and the average yield of bread per barrel of flour was 264 pounds, a gain of two pounds over May.

Since January the cost of flour has gone up from $10.87 per barrel to $13.36, while all other costs entering into bread-making have gone up from $8.91 to $9.50, from which it is seen that the advance in bread prices is practically all due to increased costs of flour.

Calgary leads the West in the matter of high cost with nearly nine and a half cents per pound. Edmonton is a little above nine cents. Bread was cheapest in London, Ont., where the price is a trifle above seven cents.

ALBERTA COAL MINES ARE SOLD

Companies Operating in Northern Ontario Acquire New Properties

Toronto, August 16.—The Telegram publishes in its financial columns the following report of a mining deal now being negotiated between the McIntyre and Temiskaming Mining Companies of Porcupine and Cobalt respectively and the Blue Diamond Coal Mines, of Brule, Alberta

"One of the biggest industrial mining deals of the decade hes been completed so far as the preliminaries go. It involves two Northern Ontario mines and the great coal fields of Alberta. The Ontario companies are purchasing the Blue Diamond Coal Mines, Limited, of Brule, Alberta, a concern with an average of some six square miles, producing over 500 tons of steam and cooking coal daily, and have optioned the Canadian Coal Fields, Limited, a far greater tract, lying along the Hay River, some 30 miles from the Blue Diamond, and known to contain anthracite.

"The Blue Diamond's capitalization is $1,500,000 and that of the Canadian Coal Fields $10,000,000. The option on the latter is understood to be for 15 years and both properties have been secured at very low prices.

"The seller of the Blue Diamond is Mackenzie-Mann and Company, and this firm is also a heavy holder in the optioned property.

"The purchaser of the mines, the Telegram is officially informed, is McIntyre, and it is the intention of that company to share the deal with the Temiskaming on a 50-50 basis at the purchase price.

"Extensive plans are being made for the further immediate development of the Blue Diamond Mines. Engineers from the purchasing company are on the field and equipment is understood to have been ordered which will increase the daily capacity from 600 to 2,000 tons.

"McIntyre already owns the property, and Temiskaming shareholders will be asked to vote on entrance within a week or two."

VIRDEN AND GREYS AGAIN PLAY NINE INNING TIE GAME

Darkness Halts Exhibition After Virden Staged Last Inning Rally

GREYS SUPERIOR

In Hitting and Fielding, But Cannot Scratch Win in Virden

Although out-hitting and out-fielding the Virden team the Greys could get nothing better than another tie game in that town on Wednesday evening, darkness halting the game with the score 7-7. The Greys ran into their old jinx again, the Virden team staging that customary ninth inning rally on their home grounds, and knotting up the score in that round. It was so dark in this inning that it was impossible to see the ball, but the Virden team and supporters insisted on the game being played out.

The Greys had it over the home team practically all the way and started off early to tuck the game away. After getting a wild start, however, the Virden team settled down to good ball playing in the fourth and managed to stave off the likely looking attacks of the Greys, while they commenced to get out their heavy bats along about the sixth. Frank Lutes went to the mound for the first six innings, and blanked the Virden nine for five of the six rounds. In the sixth they started getting to him however, and when four runs were in he was placed in right field and Crawford took up the twirling. Olien was in the box for the Virden crew and he got away pretty well, some smart fielding saving him on several occasions. One play by McDougall resulted in a double play with three Greys on the paths, and choked off what looked like a flock of sure tallies for the Brandon nine.

Grey Had Good Third Inning

The Greys started away in the first inning with three runs. With two down, Brandt drew a walk, Wilkinson hit, sending Brandt to third, while he took second on the play to catch Brandt at third, Fenwick hit scoring both runners, taking second on the throw in. Falconer hit one to Porter, but Early dropped the throw and Fenwick rode home on the play. Chabot ended the innings by going out, Sorby to Early. Three more were added in the third. Brandt got a life, Wilkinson hit, Fenwick flied to Early at first. Early's second error allowed Falconer to reach first. Brandt scored on a passed ball. Chabot flied to Finmark, Wilkinson scoring on the throw in. Lutes hit scoring Falconer. Crawford hit safely, but Stuart struck out, ending the innings. The last run came in the eighth. Lutes got on by an error, Crawford flied out to Porter. Stuart drew a walk. McNeill punched a double scoring Lutes. Brandt lined out to McDougal who made a one-handed spear of the ball, and then doubled up McNeill at second.

Virden Replies in the Sixth

The Virden team scored four runs in the sixth, after being blanked the first five rounds. Porter started it with a three-bagger to the race track. Russell doubled, scoring Porter. McDougall's hit scored Russell. Olien walked. McLellan hit one to Falconer, and his throw to first drew Chabot off the bag, and McDougall scored Olien took third and later scored. Crawford was called into the box and struck Healy out for the third out. A fielder's choice and a double-counted Porter for a Virden run in the eighth. In the ninth, with the darkness making it almost impossible to see the ball at all, Virden staged a rally. With one down, Healy walked, Early hit, Sorby struck out, Porter scored two with his smash through short, which nobody saw. Russell ended the inning by popping to Falconer. The game was then called with the score 7-7.

IMPOSSIBLE TO GET ENOUGH FOOD IN SOVIET RUSSIA

Swedes Find Conditions Intolerable ad Return Home—Looting a Pastime

Stockholm, Aug. 16.—One hundred and forty-eight Swedes, including 30 women and children, have arrived here by steamship from Russia.

Workmen in the party were unanimous in saying that it is impossible to exist in Soviet Russia. Despite the extravagantly high wages paid they said they were insufficient to purchase necessary food and clothing. The arrivals included a number of Swedish Bolshevist metal workers who, some months ago, set out for Russia amidst the cheers of their friends. Some of their countrymen, they said, had been detained in Russia against their will.

The only food ration now distributed, the men said, is half a pound of bread. Fish, horsemeat, sugar, buter, tea and other food can only be obtained, they said, through illegitimate trading at increditable prices. A daily income of a thousand roubles one returned worker declared, would not be sufficient to avert hunger. Most industries have practically ceased, it is said, the great Putilow works having closed months ago, after vain attempts to keep it going.

Chancellor Oscar Lundberg semi-official representative of Sweden, said all foreign legations have been raided and looted and looked like "stables" after having been in possession of Bolshevist soldiers or sailors. All of the members of the party said they were ill as a result of the privations they had experienced.

ALLEGED DETECTIVES IN KINGSTON PENITENTIARY KEEP WATCH ON MEN

Kingston, Ont., Aug. 12.—Are there private detectives in Portsmouth penitentiary? It is persistently rumored that the Minister of Justice has authorized the admission to the penitentiary of detectives as if they were regularly committed prisoners to live and work with the regular inmates for the purpose of obtaining evidence regarding the existence of alleged irregularities. This, it is stated, is the answer to the demand for a thorough investigation.

LABOR OBJECTS TO WAR ON SOVIETS BY THE ALLIES

British Labor Leaders Threaten Gigantic Strike if War is Declared

London, August 12.—"We are still hopeful of peace," Premier Lloyd George declared in the House Tuesday morning, layng the Russo-Polsh situation before Parliament. The atmosphere was tense as the Premie started speaking, the members listening intently to every word.

There is no intention of sending troops to Poland, the Premier declared. Poland's resources are ample, he said, if they are organized by experienced leaders.

Substantial Allied stores are available near Poland, he announced, which can be shipped there in event that the Poles and Russians fail to agree on a peace at the Minsk conference.

Lloyd George said the peace of Europe would be endangered if a great and aggressive Soviet Russia extended its boundaries so it would be contiguous with Germany He declared the Government contemplated no action except what may be necessary in support of Polish independence.

The Premier said he regretted that the Labor people had the idea that the Allies were conspiring to destroy the Democratic Soviet Government. He appealed to organized Labor not to misjudge the matter.

The fact that the Poles attacked the Bolsheviki against the advice of the Allies justifies Russia in exacting guarantees for preservation of peace in the future, Lloyd George said, but it does not justify Russia in wiping out Poland's national existence.

Labor Makes Threat

London, August 11.—British Labor threatened virtual revolution if necessary to prevent war with Russia as Premier Lloyd George prepared to lay the whole situation before Parliament for final action.

"We have decided to tell Lloyd George that we will paralyze the nation industrially within a few hours if he institutes warlike action against the Bolsheviki, Fred Bramley, Secretary of the Trade Union Congress, declared.

"The entire labor body of the nation is united in this resolve. We have reports that millions are ready to stop work in a moment. We will halt railways, tramways, mines, docks and every form of industrial activity if the Government goes ahead with its war program."

Railway workers passed a resolution declaring they would refuse to haul food, munitions or supplies destined to aid Poland. Women's industrial organizations, representing 1,000,000 members, passed resolutions declaring a war on behalf of Poland would be a world crime which would increase the misery and sufferings of people in all countries.

Women throughout the world were urged to protest. Labor men in Parliament held a caucus flatly challenging the Government to declare war if it dared. M. Kameneff, the Bolsheviki representative here, was invited to attend this meeting, but failed to do so.

The labor men ordered executives of all unions to meet in London in readiness to declare a general strike if necessary to prevent operations against the Soviets. Such a war would be "a crime against all humanity," the laborites proclaimed. They represent 6,000,000 workers

The Independent Liberals in Parliament also held a caucus and adopted a resolution calling on the Government to establish a general peace, but protesting against intervention in Poland in any form.

CHIEF OF WINDSOR FIRE FIGHTERS FOUND TORONTO A WET, NOT DRY TOWN

Windsor, Ont., Aug. 12.—Clarence Defields, chief of the Windsor Fire Department, in a statement here declared that while in Toronto recently attending the Fire Chiefs' Convention, he was "shocked," at the open manner in which liquor was being offered for sale. "I hadn't been there 24 hours before I had all kinds of liquor offered me for a consideration. I could have had it in pints or barrels, and one didn't have to go into a back lane to get it either," said Defields.

WINDSOR POLICE COURT FINES NET CITY LARGE SUM

Convictions for Violation of Liquor Laws Result in Nearly $250,000 Being Collected

Windsor Dnt. August. 12.— Close to $250,000 has been paid to the clerk of Windsor police court in six months for violations of liquor laws. A search of the police court records reveals Magistrate Mears has imposed fines totalling $209,150, and with each fine convicted persons pay the costs of the court.

Mr. Mear's jurisdiction as magistrate takes in not only Windsor, but the entire border district. Yet the entire population is less than 60,000, and several judges in Detroit courts have levied in the same period fines totalling only $188,395 for a variety of offences and in a city of more than a million.

ALL POLITICIANS MAKING EYES AT QUEBEC PEOPLE

Because They Stick Together at a Time When Other Blocks Are Breaking Up

BACKBONE UNION GOVT.

is the Prairies Dwellers and They Seem to Be Looking Afield

Ottawa, August 12.—All the politicians are making eyes at Quebec. At present Mackenzie King has her favor, at least it was through her that he secured the leadership of the Opposition, and Prime Minister Meighen is making eyes at her in a way that leaves no doubt as to his intentions. It is a great game, the very thing that Quebec likes and wants. The French-Canadians are fond of a romance; they are pleased with a certain amount of attention. Besides, having been such a factor in the life of the Dominion they think that they are bound to get it, especially as they form one-third of the population. This means votes and they count.

Quebec is a factor that has to be reckoned with in Canadian politics. This has been demonstrated in a very striking manner during the last two or three years. It is so, for in addition to controlling about twenty-seven per cent. of the membership in the House of Commons, the people of Quebec stick together. Indeed their cohesion extends beyond the bounds of their own province, for Quebec means the French-Canadians in all portions of the Dominion, who, all told, control possibly one-third of the seats in the Commons. So when they stick together and the others divide, the stickers must be reckoned with.

French-Canadians Vote En Bloc

The situation arises from the fact that not only have the people of Quebec stuck together during the last few years, but they are sticking together today, that is divisions not being apparent. Ontario shows a tendency to elect quite a few farmers. The Prairies, which have been the backbone of Union Government, seems likely to send East quite a farmers' delegation; while the farmers are also gaining in the Maritime Provinces. In addition Labor is in a fair way to pick up a number of seats all along the line. Amid this break-up Quebec, to all appearances stands solid. This is why it is so important politically just now.

What will Quebec do? Who can tell? Most Liberals say that she will remain solidly by Liberalism, and this seems to be as good a guess as any. But Quebec is naturally Conservative: in the days of Sir John Macdonald it was one of the bulwarks of the Conservative party, and many old-tims Conservatives are convinced that, in some way or other, it will work around to that side again. It must, however, be taken into account, that Quebec naturally follows a strong leader, and there does not appear to be any Quebec Conservative in sight who is in the big leader class. So if that province is to give the Government any measure of support it will probably be through some prominent Liberal quietly going over to the Government side.

What Will Gouin Do?

The only name mentioned in this connection is that of Sir Lomer Gouin, a man who never has done anything of a rash nature. With him it is a case of safety first. Besides, for the present Sir Lomer is more identified with big business than with big politics. Not that he has abandoned politics completely; but business seems to be first. But he still has a finger in the pie; and it begins to look as though it were something more than his little one. The other day he became political director of La Presse, the most widely circulated daily French paper in Canada—salary $12,000 a year. This should command some very wise counsel, and have regard to the important moves in the political game. So it looks as though Sir Lomer would be some factor after all.

Those who say that this distinguished gentleman will not change his politics reason thus: he is not a plunger or an adventurer; he always plays safely. Besides, his connections are such that he cannot do other wise. If he were a young man with anything to gain through taking a leap in an effort to land somewhere he might jump; but he has already landed. For him there is really nothing better in sight than the position of Prime Minister and the chances of him getting that are not very good just now. This reasoning seems to be sound. They do say, however, that Sir Lomer in the position of editorial advisor will emphasize the need of protection, and protectionists, when they get into a predictment, usually forget party politics.

There Must Be Unity

Whatever the motives may be of those that are playing up strongly to Quebec, beyond question the bon entente movement is commendable and merits support. One does not have to be long at the seat of Government to find out that unless there is unity between the races, Canada will fall far short of realizing her possible destiny. Some talk as though imperialism and imperial trade were the matters of chief consideration, but they are not. A united Canada is the most important matter and in the effort to obtain this other questions must be subordinated. On this the wisest men in our politics are pretty well agreed; they are so because the events of the last few years have demonstrated that a thoroughly representative government without a strong Quebec representation in it is impossible.

A few weeks ago when Premier Taschereau of Quebec made his first public statement he held out the olive branch and started the bon entente movement on a new journey. He deplored the isolation of his province, tactfully refraining from naming the alleged cause, contenting himself with regretting the fact. His opinions dere re-echoed throughout the Dominion, and naturally so, for no one could object to them. Now in a country that is tired of war a peace-and-good-will-movement soon gathers momentum.

As is well known, the Prime Minister at Portage la Prairie eagerly accepted the proferred olive branch, and in so doing made a hit. Even the Toronto Globe and the French papers praised him. It was the best thing that he could have done; it enables him to say: "Well is Quebec will not co-operate with me it is not my fault." Of course it remains to be seen what Quebec will do. Some of those who really desire to get together fear that if the movement makes headway politically, some of the French-Canadian Liberal leaders mill raise aloft the picture of Laurier, appeal to the crowd and then it would be all off.

Difficult to Win Hostile People

To win over a large number of formerly hostile people is not now nearly as easy as it used to be. In the days not so very long ago, the most important thing in such an effort was to get a few of the recognized leaders in line, and the crowd would follow. But since the world has been made safe for democracy the crowd does not manifest anything like the old inclination to follow docilely. If leaders sets out on a course that the crowd does not approve of the first thing the leaders know, they have no following. For example, in the National Liberal convention of last year the majority of the leaders undoubtedly favored Fielding for leader; but the crowd said "no" and King was chosen. Even Sir Lomer Gouin himself could not budge the Quebec delegates. So the question is not, what will the leaders do, but what does the crowd think?

Importance of Quebec

Whether Quebec gives any measure of support to the Meighen policy or stands solidly behind the Liberal party, it will from now on exercise a very important influence on national policy. Much is heard of the new order of imperial relationships that is to be introduced. To predict respecting such matters is difficult, but one is inclined to think that matters are more likely to remain as they are than to be very much changed. Quebec has a dread of imperialism and will fight hard against anything that looks like centralization of authority in London. Aside from this, with the the prospect of a number of groups being represented in Parliament the probability is that attention will be so engrossed in domestic affairs that imperial relationships will be pretty much left in obeyance. Politicians will have enough trouble during the next few years without going out of their way to look for more.

Quebec's influence will undoubtedly be felt in another direction. As is well known, it is strongly opposed to the principle of public ownership and control, having fought the introduction of it into the Government handling of the railway situation. It is more than probable that it will make its influence felt in this and other directions in which this principle might otherwise be applied. Once strongly represented in the Government it might change its attitude; but in doing so, it would dissappoint many of those who now champion its claims. Its attitude on questions of this character seems to be a barrier in the way of close co-operation with the Farmers and Labor. But politics makes strange bedfellows and some very opposite characters can get along in a government when they have to do so.

Whatever happens, this coquetting with Quebec is a very interesting affair and much depends on it.

PREMIER MEIGHEN IN FIGHTING FORM AT STIRLING PICNIC

Declares it to Be Little Short of Madness in Midst of Turmoil All Over World, "to Think of Departing From Tried and Proven Policies Which Have Successfully Stood the Test of Time."

Stirling, Aug. 12.—In the course of his speech yesterday, Premier Meighen referred to the unsettled conditions in the world today. "The attitude of mind is unreasonably critical and censorious," he said. "Nothing that the Government can or will do, is satisfactory. The people in towns grumble at the high prices of farm products. The farmers grumble at the high prices they have to pay for products from the towns. In the midst of it all ,the Reds, Soviets and One Big Union are carrying on an insidious campaign in their lodge rooms by means of spoken and written propaganda, with the object of destroying everything not of their class.

"In these days when the world is in a condition of flux, when trading conditions are seriously disturbed and their future incapable of being predicted, and when in many countries the rule of law and order is annuled and the red hand of physical force appears as a distinct menace to civilization, it is surely little short of madness to think of departing from tried and proven policies which have successfully stood the test of time.

A Thorough Inquiry

Closing his references to the tariff the Prime Minister said that the Cabinet Tariff Commission, which commences its labors in September, will thoroughly inquire into the question to determine what is absolutely necessary to secure the ends aimed at by the Government, and the chief of these are:

To get revenue to carry on the work of Government and to pay out debts; to give Canadian industries just enough advantage in the Canadian market to enable them to expand, and to keep Canadian working men in Canada.

In a forceful and eloquent peroration the Prime Minister made a plea for the adoption of sane counsels in the conduct of the affairs of the nation. After painting a dark picture of conditions in any European countries, he said, "I stand for unity in Canada, for solidarity of condition and freedom of enterprise within our borders. The lesson for Canada and the free peoples of the British Empire is to avoid the pitfalls which have sunk into oblivion other nations and of those that are writhing in chaos and suffering. I shall strive with all my power for national unity embracing all races, languages and creeds. I shall fight with all by energy for national solidarity; for moderation of thought and action; for orderly progress, for the maintenance of law and order, and for the policies which have brough where we stand.

Denies Tariff Oppressive

Premier Meighen commended the tariff platform on which the Australian Government was elected and which declares for the production of industries born during the war, the encouragement of others that are desirable, and the extension of existing ones. He quoted the platform of the Labor party of the Commonwealth in its support of adequate protection and declared that the first people who would suffer by the adoption of any policy approaching free trade would be the laboring classes. He denied that the tariff has been oppressive to the agricultural interests of Canada. "The tariff never has been oppressive to agriculture under Government and never will be so long as I have anything to do in determining the tariff policy of Canada," the Prime Minister asserted, and the remark was greeted with vigorous applause. As for the third party in Parliament, no member of that party had ever taken the trouble to move the Farmers' platform by way of resolution. "I have challenged them to do it, but never a man of them got up," he said.

The Prime Minister was more inclined to censure those, who, he said, professed to be in favor of a policy of free trade for party advantage than the people who really believe a cure for all ills is to be found in the adoption of that policy. In a reference obviously aimed at the Liberal opposition in Parliament, he characterized such advocates of free trade as humbugs. The trouble was that in the event of the Government being defeated those who would go to the farthest in advocacy of free trade would be in absolute control of the situation.

Premier Throws Down Gauntlet

Stirling, Ont., August 12.—Vigorous condemnation of the National Progressive party and the Liberal opposition emphatic pronouncement in favor of the continuance in force by Canada of its present fiscal system, and warm praise for the war and general record of the Union Government characterized Premier Arthur Meighen's speech at Stirling village, West Hastings county, Wednesday afternoon. It was from first to last a speech militant, the Prime Minister having evidently decided to throw down the gauntlet to all and sundry opponents in his first pronouncement of Governmental policy since assuming the mantle of Government leadership. The present administration in this connection he described as "the direct and legitimate successors of the Government that retired with Sir Robert Borden." Out of the union of parties which formed the Union Government, he declared, "has grown the new National-Liberal-Conservative party. No political party in the world was better born or better bred. It was borne out of the war and it is a national because its care is the nation."

Defending the present fiscal system, the Prime Minister emphasized the need for its continuance both for the maintenance of the industrial life of the nation and the provision of necessary revenues. It was only by making more goods than could be sold in the United States that the value of the Canadian dollar could be maintained on the other side of the border. In support of this contention, he quoted a member of a Western Liberal Government as saying: "Put the platform of the Farmers into effect and you would immediately reduce the value of the Canadian dollar in the United States to fifty cents."

REINDEERS TO BE USED FOR FOOD AND TRANSPORTATION VETERAN PUT IN CHARGE

Ottawa, Aug. 12.—Captain A. H. Living, of the Dominion Parks branch, has been appointed to go to Labrador to take charge of plans to increase and domesticate the reindeer herd there. At the present time there are about 150 head of reindeer in that locality. It is the ultimate intention of the department to use reindeer to supply the missionaries and the people of the Hudson Bay territory with both meat and transportation. In order to accomplish this, Captain Living will have to spend the next four or five years travelling various parts of the territory and for the larger portion of the time he will be out of touch with the civilized world. The project has been under consideration for several years, but was held up owing to the war. Captain Living, who has had many years' experience in the wilds of Northern Ontario, Quebec, Alberta and British Columbia, leaves here for Quebec, taking on supplies there, and proceeding immediately to the Northern Coast. Captain Living served for nearly five years with the Canadian forces and saw active service in France.

STRONG PROTESTS AGAINST FREIGHT RATE INCREASES

Livestock Industries Take Stand Against Application for Freight Rate Increase

OPERATION INCREASE

Basis of Railways Argument Tuesday—Trainmen Only Work Five Hours a Day

Ottawa, Ont., August 12.—At the opening of this afternoon's session, the Board adjourned the rates hearing until Wednesday morning next and took up the hearing of the British Columbia Railway Company for the approval of the increased tariff of commutation fares between points on the Central Park line between Vancouver and New Westminster.

Ottawa, August 12.—Strong protests again increased freight rates were voiced by represetnatives of the live stock inductry before the Board of Railway Commissioners this morning. G. W. Gurney, of the Eastern Livestock Association, said live stock prices were controlled by the European market, and that if railway rates went up the consumer would ultimately have to pay the increase. He dealt with the troubles of farmers and live stock breeders in obtaining labor, declaring that the railway employe, with his eight-hour day, was working about half as long as the farmer and his wife. J. L. Walters, representing the Western Canada Livestock Association expressed the opinion that this is a bad time for increasing freight rates on food. Prices for food were beginning to go down, but freight increase would tend to stop this fall.

Still Seek Hearings in West

Ottawa, August 12.—A further effort is to be made by the strong array of legal talent here in opposition to the request for increased freight rates to secure hearing of the application in Western Canada, according to J. B. Coyne, Winnipeg, one of the counsel representing Western Boards of Trade. It is pointed out that the proposed increases, if granted will bring more revenue to the railway that the income tax and luxury taxes combined, bring to the Federal Government.

Wednesday's Hearing

Ottawa, August 12.—Two railway presidents appeared before the Dominion Railway Commission Wednesday afternoon to support the application for increased freight and passenger rates. They were D. B. Hanna, President of the Canadian National Railway system, and Howard K. Kelley, President of the Grand Trunk Railway, and also of the Canadian Railway Association, which is making the application. Their arguments were substantially the same. Costs of labor and material were on the up-grade and going fast. The railways could not exist on a paying basis if their rates were not advanced.

Mr. Hanna made it clear that the lines under his jurisdiction were not asking for increases in order to pile up profits. He insisted, however, that the national roads, even though regarded as poor relations of the Government, should be permitted to earn enough to make ends meet.

Tells How Costs Have Increased

He was opposed to a system which would compel them to go to Parliament year after year to ask for money to meet deficits. He gave a number of instances to illustrate how costs had advanced, stating that spikes to nail ties had increased in cost from 1½ cents in 1914 to 4 cents in 1920, and that the ties themselves had risen from 45 to 90 cents.

Mr. Kelley also went into the question of costs. He said that in the year 1913, the average wage paid on the Grand Trunk Railway was $608. In 1919 it had more than doubled and stood at $1,391. If the Chicago labor award was adopted by the Canadian railways, the average wage paid on the Grand Trunk, per annum, would be $1,780.84, or an increase of 157 per cent. since 1913.

When the afternoon sitting opened, the stand was taken by Mr. Hills, assistant to Mr. Hanna, who submitted charts contrasting costs of railway labor with the revenue from freight charges.

Contrasts Cost of Labor

In the course of the evidence of Mr. Hills, assistant to Mr. Hanna, he produced charts contrasting the cost of railway labor with the revenue from freight showing that the average receipts per ton per mile were actually lower up to 1916 than they were in 1907, and expressed for concenience as the return for moving 1,000 tons, 100 miles, the railways remuneration for performing this service decreased from $815 in 1907 to $653 i 1916 and that the annual average wage of the employes had increased from $473 in 1917, to $720.46 at which time the lines showed on the chart crossed, due to war conditions, the annual average employe's wage went up to $1,315.93 in 1919 whereas the receipts of the railway for moving 100,000 ton miles went up only to $962.

A similar chart submitted by Mr. Hills showed that the average fare for a 100-mile journey had remained practically stationary between 1907 and 1916, and had then gone higher, reaching in 1919 $2.55, whereas the cost of wholesale prices, as indicated by the department of labor's index figure, covering 272 commodities, went up from 126.2 to 182 in 1916 and up to 356.6 in 1920. The lines again crossed after 1916, the disturbed conditions being attributed to the war.

Mr. Hills also put in a statement showing the increased cost of coal. This showed that in 1916 the average price was $6.86 per ton as against $3.40 in 1915, the actual coal bill having gone up from $4,473,918 41 in 1916 to $19,226,162 in 1920.

Coal Costs Climbs 92.27 Per Cent.

This was for about twice the amount of coal the actual increase in price being 92.27 per cent.

The witness also exhibited a table showing the estimated result of operations for twelve months on the 1920 basis, with the wage increase granted by the United States Railway Labor Board and assuming that increased freight and passenger, etc., rates applied to the twelve months' business. Gross earnings were shown as $76,076,881, operating expenses $79,884,838.97, leaving a net deficit of $3,807,956.9, with an operating ratio of 105.01 per cent. This meant witness pointed out, that there was nothing left to pay any interest charges whatever.

In the course of his evidence Mr. Hills stated that under the new award, the increase would mean $10,000,000 to the Canadian National Railways.

Trainmen Work Five Hours Daily

A further statement that passenger trainmen were working for five hours a day caused Mr. Carvell to exclaim:

"If the railways want to charge the Canadian public $100,000,000 in order to pay trainmen for working five hours a day, I should like to know something more about about it. The trainmen should be here." He added that before he granted the application he would require to be supplied with the fullest facts.

Witness continuing, said that the wages worked out at $5.56 for the five hours day, passenger engineers receiving overtime at the rate of time and one half after five hours work, and freight engineers the same rate for overtime after an eight hour day. Some passenger engineers made the run in five hours, but there was a great deal of overtime.

Mr. Carvell caused considerable laughter by saying that he knew railways in Canada where the trains were always late and nobody seemed to know why. He wondered whether the railway hands could tell him. When it came to paying wages such as they had been told of, he thought it was time that not only the people of Canada should do a little thinking but the railway companies themselves.

SOLDIER LISTED AS DESERTER WAS IN A GERMAN PRISON CAMP

Vancouver, B.C., Aug.12.—Missing since November, 1917, mourned as dead by his wife and family, and classed by the Militia Department at Ottawa as a "deserter" from the 47th Canadians, Pte. J. W. Cooke, of this city, has written from Little Orchard, Walton-on-Thames, England, stating that he had been two years in Germany, and was in an English nursing home recovering from the effects of German imprisonment. While in Germany he had lost all trace of his family.

Mrs. Cooke was notified in May, 1918, that her allowances were stopped because her husband had "deserted," but it would appear that Cooke had been a prisoner of war in Germany.

BANDIT HELD IN LETHBRIDGE POLICE QUARTERS

Gave Himself Up Without a Struggle When Police Surround Shack

ONE OTHER BANDIT

Akroff in Hiding in Coleman—Three Killed During Man Hunt

Lethbridge, Aug. 12.—Bandit Bassoff is today behind the bars of a cell in the Alberta Provincial Police headquarters in Lethbridge. He was brought here from Pincher Creek last night following his dramatic capture at eleven o'clock, Wednesday evening. His preliminary hearing will be held in Lethbridge, according to present intentions, and witnesses will be brought from Bellevue for that purpose.

At a preliminary questioning of Bassoff last night, he admitted: "I am the man you are after," but would make no further confession. He was also identified by Constable Frewin, of the Alberta Police, who opened the battle with Akroff, the dead bandit last Saturday afternoon at Bellevue.

When arrested, Bassoff had his two guns which he used with such deadly effect. One was empty. The other contained seven shells in the chambers. He carried in the calf of his right leg the bullet which had crippled hi mso that a quick get-away was impossible. He declared he had not eaten for four days.

Bassoff stated to the police during the preliminary examination that Arloff, the third bandit, was in hiding in Coleman, and there are bright hopes that today will close the chase of the third and last man.

Bassoff Did Not Fight

Calgary, Aug. 12.—Bandit Bassoff was discovered near Pincher Creek last night by railway men who informed the police and put him under arrest. He made no resistance.

The fugitive was run to earth close to Pincher in a shack near the railway track, and gave himself up. No shots were fired.

The Capture was due to the wide-awake engineer of a pusher engine running from Pincher to Burmis, who at 10.15 last evening noticed a man on the track, revealed by the brilliant rays of a powerful searchlight, several hundred yards away. Bassoff was walking down the track, but disappeared as the engine approached. The engineer immediately notified the police and a posse set off down the track, locating Bassoff alone in a broken down shack. Exemption papers found din his pocket made his identity exhausted and hungry, and dentl yerhausted and hungry, and gave himself up without trouble.

The crime for which Bassoff was wanted was active participation in the hold-up by three gunmen on Monday ,Aug. 2, of the C.P.R. passenger train from Lethbridge through Crow's Nest Pass. The hold-up took place near Sentinel, Alta., 40 miles east of Nelson, B. C. The crime was complicated by a double murder attributed to the train robbers in Bellevue on Saturday last, when Constable F. Bailey, of the Alberta provincial police, and Corporal Ernest Usher, R.C.M.P., were killed. One of the bandits, George Arkoff was killed, by a bullet from the gun of Constable Frewin. Tom Bassoff was wounded at the time, but Alex. Areloff, the third of the party, was not present at the battle of Bellevue.

OLYMPIC STADIUM OPENED TODAY BY KING OF BELGIANS

Athletes From Thirty Nations March Past the Royal Box

A GOOD RECEPTION

For Canadian Athletes Who Fell in Behind England's Representatives

Antwerp, August 14—(Canadian Press. — The Olympic Stadium, in which many of the events of the 1920 Olympiad are to be staged, was opened today. In addition to the members of the Canadian Olympic team, a large number of Canadians and Anglo-Canadians came from London and elsewhere to witness the brilliant ceremony. Every formality was observed, and the spectators included royalty and the famous and fashionable of many nations.

The ceremony was staged with a setting of flags, banners and fluttering pennants against a background of white stone, cement and wood. Despite the scenic effects, however, interest of the great assembly centred in the actual Olympic contestants—athletes from thirty nations—who paraded the arena and who tomorrow will begin their tests of strength and skill.

The spectators were as cosmopolitan as the contestants, the flags flying from official, diplomatic or consular boxes proving that many countries were there represented. Some banners that had floated at the Sixth Olympiad at Stockholm were missing. Among these were the German and Austrian, as well as the Russian, none of these countries being represented this year at the games. The vacant places were filled by flags of nations that have achieved independence through the war, such as Poland and Czechoslavia. The latter replaces Bohemia, which, while represented separately at the last Olympiad, had to march behind the Austrians. The Jugo-Slavs today replaced the Serbians of 1912.

The program of the opening ceremonies included addresses by the King of the Belgians, who officially presented the Stadium to Baron Pierre de Coubertin, president of the International Olympic Committee, and by a number of other officials of the Belgian or Antwerp city government and Belgian Olympic committees. There was also tremendously impressive singing by a Belgian choral society.

Cheering was continuous as the athletes, filing in from the open space just back of the Stadium where they had formed up nation by nation swung into the arena oval headed by the members of the International Olympic Committee. The general order of march was alphabetical, though the Belgians, alphabetically first on the list, courteously took last place in their capacity of hosts. Canada, Australia, and the other overseas dominions yielded their alphabetically precedence to march behind the participant from the Mother Country. This brought Brazil first in line behind the official committee.

Each group of athletes was proceded by its flags and generally speaking, each group of nationals was uniformly dressed, not in athletic togs, but in suits of uniform cut and color. Many were in army and navy uniforms of their particular countries. As they swung by the royal box, where King Albert, Prince Leopold, and a group of government officials were standing, they saluted the King. Some of the marchers paid similar courtesy to the ambassadors or ministers of their nations, who occupied boxes all around the arena.

Each national group seemed to find a strong element of supporters in the dense throng of spectators. The Canadians came in for their share of cheers from the Canadian and British element, and the groups of the other dominions were also received with enthusiastic acclaim. No doubt, remembering the deeds of the Canadian Corps on many a hard-fought sector in France and Flanders, the French and Belgians were generous in applauding the visitors from the Dominion.

A glance at the list of nations participating in this Olympiad gives an idea of the cosmopolitan character of the athletes and crowd: Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, China, Chili, Denmark, Egypt, Spain, United States, Finland, France, Great Britain, Greece, Holland, British India, Italy, Japan, Luxembourg, Mexico, Norway, New Zealand, Portugal, Poland, South Africa, Roumania, Sweden, Switzerland, Czechoslavia and Jugo-Slavia. Of these, Brazil, China, Egypt, Spain, British India, Mexico and Poland did not padticipate at Stockholm in 1912.

Miss Alice Hearn, of Brandon, left Saturday for Minaki where she will be the guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. B. Hearn, who are spending the Summer at Minaki Inn.

ONE-ARMED EMPLOYER OF ONE-ARMED MEN VISITS CANADIAN WEST

Winnipeg, Man., August 14.—England's greatest employer of one-armed men was a recent visitor to Winnipeg. He is W. H. Dunkley, of London, manufacturer of carriages and is on a preliminary survey of land and social conditions in Canada, with a view of bringing poor from the slums of London to Canadian farms.

Since the armistice, Mr. Dunkley ha semployed none but one-armed men. He now has three hundred of them in his factory and has found these crippled soldiers, properly trained, not only can do almost the work of a man with two hands, but are given a new interest in life, working entirely with men of the kind.

'QUALITY' WHEAT RIPENS IN 80 DAYS ON LIGHT SOIL

W. J. Whitley of Douglas Has Variety Specially Suited to Light, Dry Soil

An excellent sample of a new pearl white wheat called "Quality' wheat and which ripens in eighty days, was brought into The Sun office on Friday by W. J. Whitley, of Douglas. Mr. Whitley and his son farm 1,100 acres South of Douglas, in a district which is not noted for its particularly heavy crops or for producng wheat of a superior quality. However in this new wheat with which Mr. Whitley has successfully experimented, he believes that he has wheat that will set a new standard for Canadian grains.

Mr. Whitley purchased the wheat at the rate of $5 a pound for seed, and from this year's crop will have just enough for next year's seed. The wheat is adaptable to any climate, and can be successfully grown in a light dry soil. It most resembles the hard Northern wheat, "Prize Marquis," but has a vitreous white berry of quite different appearance and quality. The heads are of medium size, tapering to a point, beardless, and on ordinary land stand three and one-half to four feet in height. Mr. Whitley is most enthusiastic about this new wheat, and expects to have great success with it.

Besides experimenting with wheat, the Douglas man has a new kind of barley which threshes out exactly like wheat. He purchased his seed at the rate of $4 an ounce and like his wheat, will have enough seed this Fall to put in a large crop next Spring. White flax seed, purchased at the rate of $1 an ounce, and which yields 12 per cent. per pound more oil than ordinary flax, is another venture that promises to bring Mr. Whitley success. This flax produces a natural limpid white oil, and the seeds are nearly double the size of ordinary flax.

This year he has also got over 200 acres in Black Duram wheat that is going 15 to 20 bushels to the acre. Particular attention to the light land is bringing Mr. Whitley much of his success as by successful experiments he is now able to estimate the strength of the land, and so crop it that he gets the very best out of it. Cropping wheat and clover together has proved valuable to him. Mr. Whitley and his sons are trying to set some new standards for farming in this province, and they certainly seem to be meeting with more than ordinary success.

GREAT CHANGES PLANNED FOR NEW YORK WATER FRONT

West Side Dock Problem to Be Solved by Proposed Improvements

10 YEARS TO COMPLETE

Vehicular Tunnel to New Jersey is Also Under Consideration

New York, August 14.—The greatest water-front improvement here in fifty years, involving the removal of thirty-two antiquated piers along the Hudson River, and the erection in their stead of eighteen new and vastly larger piers of latest design, has been planned by Murray Hulbert, Commissioner of Docks, and approved by the Sinking Fund Commission. The improvement will cost $50,000,000 and will require ten years to complete. Work is expected to be started next Spring.

This with the proposed vehicular tunnel to New Jersey is expected to solve New York's West side dock problem. The new water-front system is to consist of wide piers, slips and marginal streets, with warehouses and tracks where available in the reer.

"The cost of construction is expected to pay for itself within four years' time," according to Deputy Dock Commissioner Michael Cosgrove. "A permanent sea wall has been built along the entire stretch, no rock will be encountered to make a depth of forty feet and most of the real estate is owned by the city.

"These new piers will increase the pier storage area fifty per cent. f they are made only one-story," he said. "But because of the high value of this water-front it will be a uneconomical to stop even at tro stories They will have the most modern appliances for rapid handling of freight, including electric cranes, helpers and hoists of all kinds.

Present Facilities Inadequate

"The present lower North River water-front is just what it was in 1871. Its slips are so narrow there is not room in them at once for two big steamships. To afford relief the Board Department has three times permitted the pier headlines to extend further outshore. The more these narrow piers were brought out the worse the slips became, because boats have been continually growing bigger.

"The new plan," said President F. H. La Guardia, of the Board of Aldermen, "means that New York is going to have eighteen piers from 950 to 1,025 feet in length in place of the thirty-two dilapidated structures which are a disgrace to the city. Between each pier, there will be a maximum dockage space of 300 feet and a minimum of 275 feet. Two of the new piers will be 100 feet wide, seven 150 feet and nine 125 feet."

Along New York's 578 miles of water-front the Dock Commission already has under way other projects under contracts amounting to $20,000,000.

EXPERT TO TEACH CHINESE TO FARM

Baptists Sending Agricultural Missionary and Dairy Cattle to China

West Raleigh, N.C., August 14. — Gordon K. Middleton, instructor in agriculture in the North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering, has been named an agricultural missionary to China by the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention and will leave soon to take up his work in Kaifeng College, Honon Province.

To form the basis of the agricultural and livestock department of the college a number of American breeders have contributed a number of head of dairy cattle and Mr. Middleton will take these to China with him. The dairy herd will also be cared for by Chinese boys in exchange for their board and tuition. In addition, a demonstration farm similar to those operated in connection with American agricultural colleges will be established with a practical Chinese farmer as co-operative guide.

HORSE KILLED BY STREET CAR

A horse owned by Mr. William Crosby, of Nesbitt, was killed Friday evening by a street car on Sixth Street Mr. Crosby had just purchased the animal from Trotter's for $220 and was leading it up Sixth Street when a street car approached. The animal became frightened, and breaking loose from Mr Crosby, dashed in front of the fast-moving car. It was killed almost instantly and carried a distance of several yards before the car was stopped. The motorman tried to stop the car in time to avoid the crash but was not able to do so.

WESTERN LUMBERMEN ARE LOOKING FOR A REALLY GOOD SEASON

Calgary, Alta., August 14—Reports received from various parts of the country by lumbermen in Calagry indicate that lumber manufacturing conditions are progressing favorably, and labor and other contributing agencies are better than they have been for a number of years. There is still considerable complaint about the car service and the inability to make shipments across the border. Local yards are stocking up with lumber of all kinds, looking for a busy season in the Fall, and in many directions there is already a movement in the way of bigger business.

TEACHERS NEED SOMETHING MORE THAN GOOD PAY

To Retain Them in That Profession Declares Saskatchewan Official

Regina, Sask., August 14.—Calling attention to the serious nature of the exodus from the teaching profession now taking place in this province, W. J. McNeely, of the Teachers' Exchange of Saskatchewan Department of Education shows that there are several other considerations besides those of salary which are operating to the detriment of the profession; and consequently of the intrests of the children's education.

"Even at salaries of $1,400 and $1,550 per year, with free house and fuel," said Mr. McNeely, "we find that teachers are leaving the profession for more renumerative work where living conditions are more favorable than are found in many rural districts. Lack of good boarding and the short term of engagement are also playing their part in forcing good so playing their part in forcing good teachers to take up other work. A teacher cannot do efficient work in any district unless she has the cooperation of the trustees and the ratepayers and can safeguard her health and keep her energy by having good living quarters. She must also have good equipment and a comfortable place in which to do her work."

Mr. McNeely's report for 1919 shows that during the year 739 teachers were placed, an increase of 279.9 per cent. over the placements for 1918. Taking the reports up to the third week in June, it is found that 524 teachers have already been placed.

DIRIGIBLE FOR U. S. NAVY SOON TO BE COMPLETED

Is Being Built in England and May Take the Air in November

TO SAIL ACROSS

To United States Next April or May—Building Large Hangars

Washington, August 14.—Latest reports received at the Navy Department are that the dirigible, R-38, now being constructed for the American navy by the Royal Airship Works, at Bedford, England, is more than 60 per cent. completed and probably will be ready to take the air by the latter part of November.

When the great dirigible, which will surpass in size any airship ever constructed, thrusts her nose out of the hangar at Bedford for the first time there will be a trained-to-the-minute American crew aboard her to put her through her trial flight. Several training cruises on the British dirigible R-33, offered by the British Government for that purpose, already have been made by American naval personnel who will form the R-38's crew and the mammoth airship will be manned by experienced sailors of the air when she sets out on her trans-Atlantic flight, which officials say will be made next April or May.

With a gas volume of 2,724,000 cubic feet, the R-38 will surpass in size the largest rigid airship yet turned out by the Zeppelin Company, the L-71 by 304,000 cubic feet and the British dirigible R-34, which crossed the Atlantic last year, by 711,000 cubic feet. Her six engines will develop 1950 horsepower, or 130 more than the most powerful Zeppelin craft and drive the great gas bag at an estimated speed of 75 miles an hour.

To accommodate the 694-foot stretch of the R-38, the naval airship hangar at Cape May, N.J., already has been lengthened to 700 feet and also increased in height. The two large hangars now under construction at Lakehurst, N.J., probably will not be completed until July, 1921, or after the R-38's arrival.

TWO HARVESTERS ARE IN HOSPITAL

Suffering From Gunshot Wounds Received When They Raid Store

Winnipeg, August 12.—Two men, bound for Western Canada harvest fields, are in St. Boniface Hospital suffering from gunshot wounds as the result of an attack made on them at Kapuscascing, Ont., Tuesday afternoon. They are Ralph Lucan, 22 years old, and Ralph Torraville, 25, both of Halifax.

According to reports received in Winnipeg, both men were shot by a storekeepers in Kapuscascing when they attempted to force him to let them have food. Neither of them is fatally wounded, Lucan being shot in the calf of the leg, and Torraville in the thigh.

Six special trains from the Maritime Proivnces, bearing 3,000 harvest hands, were scheduled to arrive Wednesday over the Canadian Pacific lines.

No harvesters arrived over the Canadian Northern lines, but three trains with about 3,000 are scheduled to arrive early today, making the total arrivals for twenty-four hours about 11,000.

Not many of the workers are lingering in Winnipeg as the railroads have been adding equipment to the Westbound trains to accommodate the extra traffic.

Every available man is being employed immediately on his arrival by the agents from Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. In fact, the supply so far has not been nearly equal to the demand.

TIMELY HITTING HELPS GREYS TO DEFEAT VIRDEN

Visitors Stage Rally in Sixth Which Puts Them in Lead

Taking advantages of the misplays of the Virden team and sandwiching in some opportune hits, the Brandon Greys took the Virden team into camp on Friday night by a 7-5 score. There have been more lively games played on the Athletic grounds this season, but there was just enough free hitting, interspersed with some really brilliant fielding, to make the game interesting. The Greys had the game pretty well in hand all the way, but a rally by the visitors in the sixth, which netted them five runs, put the Virden team very much in the running. However, the Greys were there with the necessary punch in the last two innings and stowed the game away

The Virden team brought along an umpire named Thompson, and it must have been the first game he umpired for several years. His decisions were decidedly off on numerous occasions, and they took away much of the interest in the game. He was not particular in the decisions he made, and several players were called out when they were safe, while others were safe when they were out. He made the teams battle through until the eighth innings and then called it on account of darkness

The Virden infield had a bad night of it, every infielder with the exception of Early making an error. All their five errors helped a Grey clad runner to first, and figured very prominently in the run-getting as the Brandon team was there in the pinch with the needed hit. Porter, at short, made some beautiful stops of hard hit balls, digging a couple out of the dirt in deep left field.

On the other hand, the Greys' inner works were on their best behavior. Stuart fielded in brilliant fashion, his stops and throws to first being perfectly executed. McNeill made the feature play of the evening when he jumped into the air to grab a screaming drive off a Virden bat. It was a scintillating catch, and one of the best pulled this year. Andy Brandt also made a nice running catch in the field during the early stages of the game

Frank Lutes went to the mound for the Greys, and except for one inning went along in good style. He was inclined to be a trifle wild, but some good work by Cochlan behind the bat steadied the young Grey pitcher in the pinches Olien again stacked up against the Brandon team, but the Greys were able to nick him for hits when they meant runs. Cousley in particular found him to his liking, and he punched out three hits in four trips to the plate. Stuart also connected with one of Olien's benders for three bases, the hit coming at an opportune moment, and going right back to the left field fence.

The Greys started the run-getting as usual, and pushed two across in the third inning, and adding another in the fifth. Fighting to regain the lead which they lost in the fifth frame, the Greys pounded out three tallies in the seventh and garnered another lone run in the gathering darkness of the eighth inning. The Virden team collected all their runs in the sixth inning, when they started to find Lutes, and several hits, coupled with two errors, gave the visitors five runs. Before and after that inning, Lutes went right and Virden was blanked.

PASS RESOLUTION FAVORING HOME RULE IN IRELAND

Strong Irish-Unionist Party Favors Self-Government—To Pledge House of Commons Support

Dublin, August 14.—Irish Unionists of the Anti-Partition League, founded last year, declared for self-government in Ireland at a meeting Friday, which was attended by representatives of commercial and professional men and land owners. The resolution was unanimously adopted which said that the Government's Irish Bill now before Parliament was not acceptable to the Irish people and that it should be amended so as to give full control to the Irish people over all local affairs, including taxation. The resolution urged the Government to act immediately, as every passing month means more difficulty

To Pledge Government

Dublin, August 14.—Freeman's Journal announces that E. Wylie, legal advisor to Viscount French, Lord Lieutenant, has presented his resignation. Rather than accept it, the newspaper says, Andrew Bonar Law, Government leader of the House of Commons, has promised to pledge the Government on Monday to Dominion home rule with full fiscal authority.

TOURIST CROP WORTH $20,000,000 TO B. C. BUSINESS

According to Calculation of Vancouver Publicity Commissioner

Vancouver, B.C., August 14.—Twenty million dollars is the estimated value of "the tourist crop" in British Columbia this year. This is not guesswork, but is based on calculations made by J. Reginald Davison, publicity commissioner for the city. And the calculations are figured on a very conservative basis.

The figures of the returns from this delightful industry are worth keeping in mind. The man or woman who goes out of his or her way to make Vancouver attractive and pleasant to a visiting tourist is in the same class with those public benefactors who succeed in making two blades of grass grow where only one grew before. At least a third of this large sum of money is figured as having come to the City of Vancouver, so that it is doubtful if any industry in the city, net excluding lumber and shipbuilding, puts as much money into circulation in the city as the tourist industry.

FEW HARVESTERS WILL ACCEPT THE WAGE OFFERED HERE

Nearly All Go Farther West, Where it is Reported There Are Surplus Men

DEMAND $7 A DAY

Brandon District Farmers Not Getting the Help They May Need Badly

Harvesters from the East are still flocking to points in Saskatchewan and Alberta in the expectation of getting higher wages. Very few men are stopping off in Brandon, as they state that the wage being paid here is not what they want. Several farmers interviewed harvesters on a recent harvest special and asked them to come out and work on the farms near Brandon offering $5 a day. The harvesters refused to leave the train for that wage, asking $7 and $8 a day and pointing out that they could get it farther West. As farmers are unwilling to pay more than $5 a day very few men are stopping off.

So many men have gone farther West that a surplus of men is now reported at Regina and Moose Jaw, while at points still farther West it is reported that there are scores of men unable to get work. There are many applications for help to be filled in the Brandon district and it is possible that many of the men who went West will be back here shortly looking for work at the wage offered. It is not expected that there will be any difficulty in handling the harvesting operations here this Fall, but a call has been put in for more harvesters for this district.

MANY SMALLER GERMAN CITIES WITHOUT TRAMS

Owing to Increased Cost of Operation—Berlin to Have Reduced Service

Berlin, August 16—Owing to the enormous increase in the cost of operation, street car service in many of the smaller German cities has been discontinued. Jena, Wuerzburg, Freiberg and Heilbronn are among the towns now trying to get along without trams. Attempts were made to keep the lines going by radical increases in fares, but the public, unable to pay the price, took to walking.

Berlin and other large cities, where street car traffic has fallen off alarmingly because of increased fares, are facing the problem of reorganizing the service, retaining only those lines which are absolutely necessary for the accommodation of persons having to travel long distances. Wagons and carts brought out to give a lift to pedestrians during recent strikes of street car employes have indicated which routes through Berlin are vital for transportation.

SHIPS COLLIDE IN FOG ON THE ST. LAWRENCE

Tunisian and Manchester Division Limped Into Port—Not Seriously Damaged

Quebec, August 16.—The C.P.O.S. liner Tunisian, from London and Havre, and the Furness Withy freighter, Manchester Division,fl from Manchester, limped into port here Sunday morning, the Tunisian at 3 p.m. and Manchester Division, fro mManchesboth considerably damaged as a result of colliding off Red Island shortly after three o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Both vessels were inward bound and from what could be learned of the circumstances of the accident, it apears that the Manchester Division, coming into a thick fog, thought it prudent to anchor. As she was riding at anchor, with the tide ebbing, she was tolling her bell as a warning to other craft, when suddenly the Tunisian loomed up through the fog. When both vessels sighted each other, it was apparently too late to avoid the collision and they came together bow-on. When the impact ocurred the passengers on the Tunisian became panic stricken, especially the foreigners in the third class quarters, but they were gradually calmed down by the ship's officers who, on making an examination of the vessel's damage, found that she had not suffered below the water line and was in no danger of sinking.

The Tunisian had her starboard side ripped open for about fifty feet, while the Manchester Division suffered serious damage on her port side, but also above the water line.

Both vessels were able to continue after the accident.

FRANCE PREPARES TO RECEIVE MANY CHINESE STUDENTS

Former Premier Painleve Visited China to Interest the Chinese in France

Tokio, August 16.—Former Premier Painleve, of France, who stopped here on his way from America to China, was quoted as saying, as he disembarked at Tokio:

"The peace of the world has nothing to gain from Americanized or Anglicided in China. Without in any way meaning to offend our friends or Allies, we feel that to the French belongs the moral obligation to encourage and develop the intellectual, scientific and technical relations which exist already between China and France.

"France must not fail, at this time, while China, seeking to modernize herself, is calling for intellectual guides and technical counsellors, to answer that call. Anything that fails to present French culture to China leaves the way open for German kulture, to our hurt."

Mr. Painleve said his mission to China, which is his destination, had nothing to do with finance, but was purely educational, scientific and technical, with the idea of laying a foundation for a more thorough knowledge of the Far East. Above all it was his aim to guide toward France the Chinese who are seeking a higher education.

His visit is deemed here to be important in view of the preparations already under way in France to receive Chinese students, who are increasing in number. A project has been started at Paris by Senator and Mme. Hughes Le Roux to found a social club for visiting Chinese.

TOWN FAILS TO CATCH PLACE IN 5,000 METRE RACE

Brandon Runner Holds Fourth Position for One Mile in Olympic Race

A CLASSY FIELD

Of International Champions in First Heat and Fast Time is Made

Tommy Town, Canada's representative in the 5,000 metre race at the Olympic games, failed to catch a place in the final heat of this event, being distanced in the first heat. The Brandon runner was unfortunate in being placed with a very classy field in the first heat and after holding fourth position for over a mile was forced to drop back. The time made in the first heat was 15 minutes and 17 4-5 seconds, which was ten seconds faster than the other three heats. Falk of Sweden galloped away home in front of the runners in the first heat, with H. C. Irwin of England second and Hans Kolehmainan of Finland in third position.

Eddie Lawrence, of Quebec, the only other Canadian entry, failed also to catch a place in the fourth heat, although the time made in this heat was very slow. Guillemont, of France, who is conceded by experts to be the favorite in the finals, won the heat, but his time certainly wasn't impressive. Town and Lawrence are therefore out of the finals of the 5,000 metre race and their only chance at another point winning competition is in the 10,000 metre race in which both runners are entered. The change in the atmosphere may have had something to do with Town's running, but he was in such a fast company of runners that even his performance in staying up around fourth position for the time he did is commendable.

The time made in the first heat is faster than Town ever ran the distance in. At the Canadian Olympic finals in Montreal he went the 5,000 metres in the time of 15 minutes and 2 seconds, but had quite a lot of reserve at the finish. He was expected to clip many seconds off this mark at the Olympic games but apparently the effort was too much. The world's record for the 5,000 metre race is held by Hans Kolehmainan of Finland who negotiated the distance in 14 minutes and 36 2-5 seconds. It is to be noted that the record holder finished third in the first heat.

The 5,000 Metre Heats

Antwerp, Aug. 15.—The first of four heats of the 5,000 metre run was won by Falk, of Sweden, with H. C. Irwin, of England, second, Hans Kolehmainan, of Finland, third, and C. Furnes, of Purdue University, fourth. Thomas Town, of Manitoba, was distanced. The time was 15 minutes 17 4-5 seconds.

England, was first, Van Campenhout

In the second heat C. E. Bluett, of Belgium second, and the time was 15 minutes 29 4-5 seconds.

The third heat was won by Speroni, of Italy, with Furmi, of Finland, second, and W. R. Seagrove, of England, third. The time was 15 minutes 27 3-5 seconds.

Guillemont, of France, won the fourth heat with Bachman, of Sweden, second, Ivan C. Dresser third, and Nichols, of England, fourth. Edward Lawrence, of Quebec, was distanced. The time was 15 minutes and 35 seconds.

BELFAST RIOTERS THREW STONES FOR SEVERAL HOURS

Heavy Firing in Vicinity of Dublin Castle for Several Hours Saturday Night

Belfast, Aug. 16.—Rioting was renewed in this city last night but there were no firearms used during the disorders. Short strand, Nationalist area in East Belfast was the battleground and the contending parties threw stones at each other the locality remaining virtually in a state of siege until after midnight.

Four Nationalists were arrested and one constable was so badly injured that he was taken to the hospital.

Dublin, Aug. 16. — Dublin was aroused at nine o'clock Saturday night by heavy firing in the vicinity of Dublin Castle the result of a crowd attempting to rush the castle gates. Soldiers fired over the people's heads and there were a few revolver shots from the crowd. No one was injured.

The trouble started when a crowd saw a number of soldiers of the Lancashire Fusiliers, who they believe shot a boy named Farrell during the recent riots in the city. The soldiers were pursued to the castle gates. The firing lasted ten minuts.

Later wild rumors were circulated in the city greatly exaggerating the affair.

A short time after the firing at the castle an armored car with a lorry of troops toured the principal streets. The crowd pulled some of the soldiers from the lorry. Other lorries were sent out to pick up straggling soldiers.

The troops fired a volley over a crowd at the O'Connell bridge. Many people took refuge in buildings.

Irish volunteers finally advised the people to leave the streets.

LIBERAL TALKS ABOUT INSOLVENT GOVERNMENT

Dr. Beland, Former Postmaster-General Says Insolvent Government Ignores Problems

ONE CAUSE OF UNREST

Given As Government's Alleged Disregard for so Many Public Institutions

Toronto, Aug. 16.—At the Liberal picnic at Toronto Island Saturday, Dr. Beland, former Postmaster-General and member of Parliament for Beauce, delivered an eloquent address pleading for racial peace. Above political strife, he declared, the public welfare demanded, more than anything else, racial peace. It was because of that, that he welcomed the opportunity given him to speak to the people of Ontario.

"Our people on the whole, are meaning well," he said. "But many problems are facing us financial, social and economical, and these problems are pressing for immediate solution and seem to be entirely ignored by an insolent government."

Dr. Beland attributed the greater part of the unrest and suspicion in Canada to the Government's disregard of so many of public institutions so dear to the hearts of all British subjects.

RUSSIANS LESS THAN 12 MILES FROM WARSAW

Press Attack on the North East and Report Some Progress

London, Aug. 16. — Russians are pressing their fight for Warsaw with in a dozen miles of the capital on the Northeast it is indicated from Sunday's official statement from Moscow, received to-day. They report the capture of Radzymin in this sector and the continuance of the battle along the front and also near Novogeorgievsk to the Northwest of Warsaw.

Warsaw Still Holding Out

Paris, Aug. 16.—Warsaw was still holding Sunday night, as far as is known, but the battle raging under the walls of the city is increasing in violence. From the vague and scant news reaching Paris the Poles are making a good fight, but seemingly all they can hope for is to delay the fatal hour of the city's fall. The Reds are continuing to advance and have reached a point less than ten miles from the capital.

Military opinion in Paris does not visualize how any counter offensive operations are possible in the Warsaw region now, except in the event, which is considered most improbable of the Poles having been able, notwithstanding the advance of the Red cavalry toward Thorn, to keep or to send Northward forces capable of manoeuvering in right flank of the manoeuvering in right flank of the Red column which is operating southward along the Narew river.

German Airships Work for Bolshevik

Paris, Aug. 16.—A German aerial service has ben organized, according to advices to the French Foreign Office, to supply the Russian Soviet staffs with all military information concerning Polish stragetic movements that German pilots can perceive in their flights from East Prussia over Polish territory. The foreign office said that the entire arrangement was outlined in a document which fell into the hands of the Polish authorities.

The Russian forces are also being supplied with food across the East Prussian frontier, according to reports to the Foreign Office from the French military mission in Warsaw.

AUSTRIA LEAVES GRAIN TRADE IN PRIVATE HANDS

Decontrol Measure Adopted After Bitter Fight Between Political Parties

Vienna, Aug. 16.—Austria has abolished government control of her domestic grain supply after a bitter political fight in which the advanced parties were defeated by an overwhelming vote of the combined Christian Socialist-Grosse Deutsch parties. Government control, it was alleged, was a farce.

While the grain of Austria is negligible in the world's supply and but a fraction of her own need, passage of the decontrol act is interesting as a popular demonstration of the line of demarkation between the two great political factions.

The economic experts of the Socialist wing declared the decontrol act a reactionary measure in favor of the agrarian element and predicted that bread prices would rise because of it.

Advocates of the measure, on the other hand, insisted that in spite of laws the farmer withheld his foodstuffs from the government requisition and sold to the "left hand" trade, which in turn profited by the risk they undertook and ballooned prices. These men say that decontrol means a normal adjustment of prices to demand and the sale of breadstuffs being legalized the farmer and miller will again enter upon competition in a fair market.

The Decontrol Act brought the resignation of Food Controller Loweufeld-Russ. Under his leadership the Social Democrats fought the bill stage by stage. In its final shape the bill provides that when the individual farmer has given up three-tenths of his crop the rest of it is freed. The bill also abolishes milling permits

AIR ROUTES TO BE MAPPED AND BOOK PUBLISHED

Ottawa, Aug. 17.—The road map of the sky for all Canada is in the making: in fact, it is nearly complete, and will be published by the Air Board, according to Col. E. F. Scott, Director-in-chief of Civil Aviation.

This map will cover every route laid out within the Dominion. One of its most important features will be drawn to deal with both civil and military aviation. When revised and finally published, Canada will have as complete a directory of the travel through the blue ethereal as it is possible to get. There will be one vast highway across the Dominion which will, like the proverbial road to the Better Land, take in all and sundry who happen to come within the precincts of its course.

The map also involves an airial survey of the whole Dominion. For this purpose special cameras have already been secured, the first of them reaching here some days ago. Co-operation with other branches of governmental work is also a prominent feature of the undertaking.

BURLEY TOBACCO GROWERS MAY NOT GROW CROP DURING SEASON 1921

Lerington, Ky., August 17.—Delegates representing Burley tobacco growers of three states will meet here Wednesday to decide whether 50,000 burley growers, producing an average of 300,000,000 pounds of tobacco annually, will cut out the crop in 1921.

Agitation in favor or cutting out next year's burley crop has been brewing since the close of sales late last Winter. According to leading growers, at least 40 per cent. of the 1919 crop was grown without profit to the producing farmers, and the present crop, although above average in quantity, will fall far below last year's crop in quality. Tobacco manufacturers of the country who buy practically all of the burley crop raised in this section are already overstocked on second grade tobacco, growers say, and they are expecting prices to fall this Winter to a point where profit is no longer possible except to the farmer with nothing but high grade weed to sell.

AMERICAN EXPRESS COMPANY TO ASK INCREASED RATE

New Demand is in Addition to Recent Advance Offered by Commission

Washington, Aug. 17.—Application will be made soon to the United States Interstate Commerce Commission by the American Express Co. to increase its rates sufficiently to absorb additional wage increases recently awarded. The new demand, it was said, will be for an increase in addition to the 12 1-2 per cent. authorized Friday by the Commission.

The Commission award, which it is officially estimated, will add $35,000,000 to the annual income of the company did not take in consideration the Railroad Labor Board's award of increased wages approximating $43,000,000 to express company employes.

The increases authorized was about half teh amount sought, the company having requested authority to advance rates 25.16 per cent.

STANDARDIZATION OF EDUCATION MUCH DISCUSSED

Toronto Aug. 17.—Standardization of education in the different provinces of the Dominion, and inter-provincial interchange of teachers' certificaes is becoming a live issue in educational circles, according to the Toronto Star which interviewed Frank Moore, past president of the Ontario Educational Association, on this question. The chief obstacle, according to Mr. Moore, is the province of Quebec.

"The Roman Catholic church in Quebec," said he, "will fight nationalization of text books because it would be a move that might take education from its control. For some time the Minister of Education in Quebec has recognized the inefficiency of the system there, but until some schome is adopted in other provinces, Quebec will certainly never consent to have her educational system conform to that of the rest of the Dominion."

bridge is to be widened and put in proper shape at once. A stout railing will also be placed on both sides of the bridge to protect the approaches, while the bridge piles will probably be lowered in order to eliminate the small grade. It was suggested that a new bridge be built, but it was decided that this was impossible this year.

Growing weeds are apt to prove a menace to the city if not attended at once, was the warning sounded by several aldermen at Monday night's meeting. A report from the Weed Inspector on his work and the methods he is pursuing was requested, as the great need for prompt action in stopping the growth of thistles and other noxious weeds was pointed out.

A satisfactory answer to Alderman Grantham re his inquiry concerning the operation of the street car system during the last evening of the Fair, was given by Alderman Carey. A bent coupling pin in one of the trailers had held up traffic for some ten minutes or more and had caused delay to a large number of down-town passengers.

The Waterworks Committee reported that they are now ready to submit their findings in connection with their activities on Mr. Scott's report and a special meeting of the City Council will be held this week to hear the report.

The Finance Committee was given power to dispose of $5,00 worth of waterworks debentures at the best market price. The sale of the debentures will cover the cost of construction of certain water main extensions.

VIRDEN FINALLY WINS FROM GREYS IN SHORT GAME

Greys Take Weakened Line-up to Virden for Last Game of Series

GREYS HIT HARD

But Unable to Make Their Hits Count for Runs—Darkness Halts Game

Virden closed the ball season with a win over the Greys at Virden on Monday evening, the final score being 9–6. The Greys went up with a weakened team but even with a crippled line-up deserved to win the seven inning battle. They outhit the home team by two to one and outfielded them, but they could not make their hits count for runs. Errors also figured prominently in the Virden scoring, and the lead which the home team took in the first inning proved the winning tallies.

Without a twirler, Wilkinson went to the mound for the Greys and he did good work, considering it was the first time that he has attempted to pitch ball this year. He let the Virden nine down with seven hits and might possibly have got away with a win if he had been given errorless support. Falconer did not get away and Simons, a former Virden player was on third. He played a bang-up game and came through with two hits. Wallace, the C.P.R. catcher in the City League played in the outfield and he got away well, also banging out a couple of hits in three trips to the bat. McInnes went to centre field in place of Wilkinson who had ascended the mound.

The Virden team started right out in the first inning to stow the game away when they shoved five runs across the plate. Three bases on balls and three hits, two of them for extra bases, was enough in that inning to do the damage. They added another in the second, two in the third and one in the fifth.

The Greys got going in the second when five hits scored two runs. They added four more in the fourth when Stuart Cochlan, McInnes, McNeill and Simons all hit safely. That was the end of the first half of the seventh inning on account of darkness. There was a very small crowd in attendance, the cold weather driving the fans away from the game.

The following is the box score:

Summary—Two-base hits McInnes, Wilkinson, Wallace, McLellan, Healy: struck out by Early 4, by Wilkinson 6; bases on balls off Early 3, off Wilkinson 5; left on bases, Brandon 8, Virden 4. Time of game 1.30.

Notes on the Game.

It was the last game of the season for the Virden team and they will disband. They have had a very good year, and many of their players will probably be back in next year's line-up.

For a patched up team the Greys did well. They should have grabbed a win as they outhit and outfielded the Virden team, but the runs were not forthcoming when they were needed.

The Virden outfield had a busy time of it, gathering in no less than seven long drives during the evening's fun. On the other hand the Greys gardeners had nothing to do.

After pitching two games for the Greys, Early was back on the mound for Virden. He was no puzzle to the Greys, the heavy work of the past week telling on his box work.

HARVESTING IS NOW GENERAL

Some Farmers Having Finished Cutting Wheat Are Now in the Oats

Harvesting is general in Brandon district and on some farms the cutting of wheat and barley has finished and the farmers are busy now cutting oats. In the Forrest district the wheat crop will probably average about fifteen bushels to the acre, the barley yield is fair in this district and oats promise to be a rather heavy crop.

In the Beresford district cutting is about finished and the farmers are loking forward to a better yield than they at one time expected. The rye crop averaged about twenty bushels to the acre and was particularly good this year.

In Hayfield and Brandon Hills district, cutting is well advanced and will soon be finished.

Monday night's rain storm was general throughout Brandon district. The total rainfall in Brandon was .15 in., making a total of 6.40 inches so far this year. Some hail fell during the storm, in this city, but in the surrounding district, with the exception of Hayfield no hail was reported. In Hayfield district quite a bit of hail fell but as far as is known no damage was done.

PRISON STRIPES DISAPPEAR FROM CANADIAN JAILS

In Future, Prisoners Clothes to Be of Uncolored Material

Ottawa, August 17.—Prison stripes, which through years of use have acquired a sinister and degrading significance, will disappear within the next year from Canadian penal institutions and, henceforth, discharged convicts, their debt to society paid, will no longer bear with them into their free world the prison stigma, indelibly symbolized by the hideous and unmistakable discharge clothing which previously was supplied by the Government. This information was given out by a high official of the Department of Justice in outlining the steps which will be taken in an effort to ameliorate prison conditions which stamp convicts with the prison atmosphere.

Believing that the old striped uniform in which all convicts have been previously garbed, has a tendency toward degrading and hardening prisoners, the Department of Justice, has decided to abandon it. In the future, two uniforms, one for Summer wear and one for Winter, will be supplied to take its place.

Made from endurable, unicolored brown denim, the new Summer uniform will consist of jacket and trousers cut in conventional pattern with none of the hitherto distinguishing prison features. The huge painted numbers which, in the old uniform, adorned the back and chest of the wearer, and which were unnecessarily conspicuous, will be abandoned. They will be replaced with small, neat metal number plates, secured to the back and breast of the jacket, quite inconspicuous. Straw hats will be worn with the Summer uniform.

The Winter clothing will be made from French blue cloth while numbers similar to those on the Summer uniform will be affixed. Round cloth caps, similar in design to the forage cap issued by the German Government to field regiments, of blue cloth and with ear-flaps, will complete the convict's Winter equipment. The most radical change, however, will be made on the provision of discharge clothing for prisoners. In former years the Government has provided grey tweed suits badly cut and unmistakable to residents of prison cities. These suits will be replaced by well-tailored and modern garments in many varieties of texture and colorings.

WINNIPEG STREET RAILWAYMEN VOTE TO JOIN O. B. U.

Winnipeg, Aug. 17. — Eighty-three per cent. of the members of the Street Railwaymen's union have voted to join the O.B.U., according to announcemnt by C. A. Tanner, president of the carmen.

While Mr. Tanner did not have any figures available, officials of the O. B.U. said that the vote Sunday up to midnight stood 850 to 120 in favor of joining the O.B.U.

This ends a situation which grew out of the first refusal of the men to accept the Myers wage award. The award was not acceptable, says Mr. Tanner, and the men talked strike. Then they found that no independent union was strong enough to win a strike, and they accepted the award.

In order to gain the strength that they did not have alone, it was decided to vote on the question of joining the O.B.U.

TOWN UNLUCKY TO BE PLACED IN CLASSY FIELD

Had Brandon Runner Been in Any Heat But First, Would Have Been Placed

It is unfortunate that Tommy Town, the Brandon runner and Olympic entry, happened to be placed in the first heat among the world's premier middle distance men. To be mixed up with Hans Kolehmainan, the world's record holder; Falk, of Sweden; H. C. Irwin, of England; C. Furnes, of Purdue University, U.S.A., and others, in the first heat of one of the feature races at the Olympic games, was tough luck for any runner unless he was at the very height of form. That Town should make the real winners step out for short distance and hold fourth place for nearly a mile, shows that the Brandon runner was running true to form.

The pace was very fast, however, and the first heat was really the only one in which anything like championship time was made. Falk, of Sweden, who is the national champion of that country, and one of the touted winners at the big games simply choked away all opposition by the dizzy pace he set. Although nearly thirty seconds away from the world's record, he was travelling fast enough to force Kolehmainan, the world's record holder into third place. It would have been a cinch for Town in any of the remaining three heats to catch a place as the time made in these heats was far from impressive. Lawrence, of Quebec, had a great opportunity to catch a place in the finals as his heat was won in 15.53, or 36 seconds slower than Town's defeat.

Tommy Town has still a chance to prove a point winner for the Maple Leaf representatives when he goes to the tape in the 10,000 metre race. This event is just a trifle too long for Town to show at his best, but he may prove to be one of the dark horses in this race and get within the prizes. The 10,000 metres is about six miles and 170 yards, and the Brandon runner usually puts up his best race at the three or five mile event. However, there is just that chance that when the winners breast the tape in this event that the Brandon runner will be well up among the pace setters.

Cyril Coafee, the Winnipeg sprinter, failed to get into the finals of the 100 metres, being placed third in his heat. Ponton, of Toronto, got into the finals by capturing second place in this heat, but was nowhere in the final. Paddock, one of the best and most consistent sprinters from the U. S., led the field to the tape, and his time equalled the Olympic record for the distance.

Strangely enough, the anti-rat crusade hasn't brought any protests from the mushy sentimentalists who believe in free squeaks.

FIRST NEW WHEAT MARKETED GRADED NO. ONE NORTHERN

Brandon Experimental Farm Marketed About 300 Bushel Marquis Wheat

AT MAPLE LEAF MILL

Wheat Weighed About 61 Pounds to the Bushel—Others Threshing

The first wheat to be marketed in Brandon this season was brought into the Maple Leaf Milling Company one Monday from the Experimental Farm. About 300 bushels of the Marquis variety graded No. One Northern and averaged sixty-one pounds to the bushel.

Mr. W. Gray, whose farm is in the valley Northwest of the city, brought in a good sample of wheat on Monday which also graded No. One Northern.

The first threshing to be reported in the Brandon Hills district commenced this morning, when Messrs. J. H. and R. F. Roddick commenced work with their threshing outfit on a field of Marquis wheat on the former's farm, ten miles Southeast of the city. While the crop looks light, the sample is good and Mr. Roddick is expecting a fair yield.

NEW QUARTERS FOR PEERLESS PRODUCTS CO.

Brandon firm Purchases Bottling Warehouse From Brewing Company

GROWTH OF BUSINESS

By Local Concern is of Astonishing Rapidity—Started in 1918

The sale of the bottling warehouse and several small buildings by the Brandon Brewing Company is reported today. The purchasers are the Peerless Products Company of Brandon and the purchase price paid is in the neighborhood of $25,000. This local company has grown so rapidly that there is immediate need for new quarters, and the Peerless Products Company therefore decided to buy the big warehouse at the foot of Fifteenth Street.

The growth of this Brandon firm has been remarkable since its organization three years ago. Starting in a small way in a small store on Eighth Street, the company was incorporated in 1918 and the old St. Matthew's Hall was taken over for a manufacturing plant. A feature of the company is that all the shareholders are local citizens. With ever increasing business the company soon found that even the premises on the corner of Eleventh Street and Princess Avenue were too small, and the purchase of their new quarters followed.

The line of goods manufactured by the Brandon firm includes poultry and livestock food and drug sundries. These are all manufactured in Brandon, and the territory now covered by the Brandon firm extends from the Great Lakes to the Coast. Supplies are furnished to the Western Experimental Farms, the Manitoba Agricultural College and other large agricultural institutions. This year, with plenty of trackage beside their new warehouse, the Peerless Products Company expect to ship in many carloads of molasses and other goods used in the manufacture of their products, while they also expect to extend their trade all over Canada.

STRIKE OIL IN ARCTIC CIRCLE

Toronto, Aug. 24. — Oil has been struck by the Imperial Oil Co., Ltd., at a point just within the Arctic circle, North of the Great Slave Lake, and close to the MacKenzie river, according to an announcement made today. The flow of oil is small, and possibly cannot be made use of commercially, but it is regarded as significant that oil has been found there. The flow is ten barrels a day. Much more hopeful enterprises are being carried on at other points, and good results are expected at Czar, Alberta, where the company's well is already 2,000 feet down. It is expected that oil will be found in another 500 feet of boring.

KIWANIS CONVENTION CONCLUDES WITH A BANQUET AND BALL

F. W. Hobson, Brandon Man, Chosen to Lead Western Canada Kiwanians During 1921—Convention in 1921 to Be of Two Days Duration and to Be Held at Saskatoon—Many Splendid Speeches

One of the most successful conventions ever held in the West came to a close Monday night, when a banquet and dance in the Prince Edward Hotel concluded the one-day session of the Western Canada Kiwanians. Visiting delegates to Brandon were loud in their praise of the management and success attending the big gathering and were more than pleased with the reception they met during the day. The program for Monday was carried through on schedule time, thanks to District Governor, P. M. Anderson, K.C., of Regina, and Monday's convention promises to set a new mark in Western Canadian Kiwanian history.

Brandon was honored by the convention delegates when F. W. Hobson, of this city, was elected District Governor to lead Western Canada Kiwanians during 1921. His election was a popular one, and his choice was greeted with rounds of applause from the two hundred or more Kiwanians present at the afternoon session in the Willis Theatre. Another Brandon man was elected to the Executive when N. W. Kerr, of this city, was unanimously appointed Secretary-Treasurer for the coming term. Saskatoon was picked as the city for the 1921 convention, and in view of the large amount of business it was decided that hereafter the convention will be for two days instead of one.

Banquet Hall Suitably Decorated

The banquet and dance in the Prince Edward Hotel in the evening was a fitting close to a successful day. No efforts had been spared in the decoration scheme in the hotel dining room, but accommodation for 250 guests was not enough to seat the guests who attended the banquet. It was an overflow crowd, and an extra table was placed in the rotunda to seat many who were unable to secure places at the banquet tables. Witty speeches and lively entertainment featured the evening's program, while the dance brought the convention to a close in the early hours of the morning.

District Governor P. M. Anderson, of Regina, acted as chairman of the evening, and carried out his onerous duties in splendid fashion. Mr. F. W. Hobson, the District Governor-elect, was given an opportunity to express his thanks to the Kiwanians for the honor they had bestowed on him in the afternoon, and asked for their co-operation during the coming term in building the Kiwanis clubs and spirit throughout the West.

Toasts and Addresses

The toast to "Our Guests" was proposed by Dr. H. O. McDiarmid, of Brandon, in which he mentioned the more prominent guests in Brandon for the day, and some of their activities. The response to the toast came from W. L. Salmon, President of the Winnipeg Kiwanis Club, who eulogized the efforts of the Brandon club in arranging such an elaborate entertainment. He praised the Ladies' Auxiliary for their work, and urged all Kiwanians to get together for Western Canada.

The speech of the evening was that of Archdeacon Wells-Johnston, of Moose Jaw. He was scheduled to give an address on "Life," but owing to the lateness of the hour, touched but briefly on his subject. However, he gave just enough of it to make his hearers want more. His remarks sparkled with wit, and in the few short minutes that he spoke showed that as an after-dinner speaker he was one of the best that has ever been here. He closed his very short speech with the declaration that if the Kiwanis can do anything to develop character or personality, then Kiwanis is well worth while.

Mr. M. Goss, of St. Paul, one of the International trustees, spoke for a few minutes, particularly emphasizing the growth of the ladies' auxiliaries in the Kiwanis movement. Mayor Charles F. Gray, of Winnipeg, extended the greetings of the capital city to Brandon and spoke of the importance of Brandon in the livestock world. During the evening some splendid entertainment was put on by Mr. Sidney Barnes, of Winnipeg, and the Moose Jaw entertainers, assisted by the Great War Veterans' Orchestra.

VEGETABLE AND FLOWER SHOW SEPTEMBER 1-2

Garden Party and Dance Being Arranged in the Summer Fair Grounds

With favorable weather, the first half holiday in September should be the most enjoyable of the year for it is expected that a large number of people will attend the Horticultural show, garden party and dance, which will take place in the Exhibition Grounds on Thursday, September 2nd. The dates of the show are September 1st and 2nd, but as the first day is always given over to the placing of exhibits, judging, etc., Thursday will be the big day and a bumper crowd is looked for.

No more delightful place than the Exhibition Grounds could be found to spend a holiday and opportunity will be given picnic parties to follow their own inclination for pleasure and games. Arrangements are well advanced for a huge garden party and a special program of music will be given by a band.

As a garden city it would be difficult to equal Brandon this year, and the exhibit of flowers, plants, vegetables and fruit which will be shown pected to surpass all former displays. The Experimental Farm and the Normal School will have specially interesting exhibits showing what can be done by intensive methods of cultivation.

LISBURN SCENE OF REPRISALS BY LOYALISTS

Nationalists Leave town Fearing Reprisals for Murder of Inspector Swansey

NIGHTLY BURNINGS

And Lootings—Damages Estmated at Five Hundred Thousand Pounds

Lisburn, Aug. 24. — Last night's burning and looting of Nationalist property by Loyalists was the worst Lisburn has experienced. Some military premises are in ruins today and the damage is estimated at five hundred thousand pounds.

Nationalists Leave Lisburn

Lisburn, Aug. 24.—Burning of Nationalist property here continued until after midnight last night. Among the buildings destroyed was the Catholic Parochial Hall. Virtually all the Nationalists have left town in the face of Loyalist reprisals for the murder of Police Inspector Swanzey on Sunday.

Rioting in Belfast

Belfast, Aug. 24.—Rioting was renewed last night here, the most menacing disorder being a collision between Unionists and Sinn Feiners in Bally Macarrett on the East Side of the River Lagan. The police eventually succeeded in dispersing the rioters by batton charge.

Zeal to Avenge Death

Belfast, Aug. 24.—Lisburn, in its zeal to avenge the death of Police Inspector Swanzey, Monday reached a terrible pitch of excitement. Nationalist stores everywhere were attacked, and a boot factory, belonging to a prominent Nationalist, was burned. The sparks from the factory ignited other buildings on the County Down side of the town, which had not previously been affected. This section was then ravaged.

An inquest into the death of Constable Brennan, who was shot and instantly killed at Dundalk was abandoned today, as only eight of the seventeen jurors answered to their [illegible]

Riot During Inquest

Lisburn, Ireland, Aug. 24—Further rioting occurred here Monday morning while an inquest into the death of Police Inspector Swanzey, who was murdered Sunday was in progress. A butcher shop belonging to an Irish Nationalist was burned and other premises were attacked.

The inquest verdict threw no light on the identity of the inspector's murderers, it being recorded that the inspector was murdered by persons unknown.

In most of the business establishments here the workers were required to sign the following pledge: "I hereby declared I am not a Sinn Feiner nor have I any sympathy with the Sinn Fein. I also declare I am loyal to the King and country."

The police have little hope of tracing Inspector Swanzey's assassins, whose escape was well planned.

One Still Alive

Dublin, Aug. 24.—With the shooting of Police Inspector Swanzey at Lisburn it is calculated that only one of the men held responsible by Republicans for the shooting of Lord Mayor MacCurtain of Cork now remains alive. It is true that it is alleged 40 men participated on that fatal April night, but it is declared that only the leaders are being hunted, and the man who is said to be still alive is hiding in Killarney, afraid to show himself in public.

Official information is to the effect that 40 houses were burned at Lisburn as reprisal for the killing of Swanzey, and it is feared the disturbances will spread to Belfast.

Hundred Week-end Cases

Dublin, Aug. 24.—More than a hundred cases of destruction of property, assassination of police, Royalist reprisals and similar incidents were reported in Ireland during the last week-end, and the list continues to grow.

Among the latest reports is that of a fierce pitched battle at Lissaoda, County Cork, between the police and an ambush party. A considerable number of men are said to have been wounded in the engagement.

A basket picnic, baby show, sports, street dance and public meeting, are just some of the items on the program planned for the Labor Day celebration in Brandon which will take place Monday, September 6th. The committee in charge of arrangements is made up of representatives from the Labor Party, the Great War Veterans' Association and various Trades and Labor organizations, and they are sparing no effort to make the day a huge success.

During the morning hours of Labor Day a baby show will be held in the Child Welfare Station at the Court House. At eleven o'clock members of the Labor Party and the People's Church will meet at Exhibition Park where a basket picnic will be held and will be followed by addresses from various prominent Labor men. Monday evening there will be a public meeting in the City Hall, and the committee in charge of the celebration hope to secure such good speakers as Peter Heenan, M.L.A., of Ontario, and Possibly F.J. Dixon, M.L.A., of Winnipeg, or other newly elected Labor Members to give addresses.

Ninth Street will be roped off for the street dance which will commence at 9 p.m. The Great War Veterans will be in charge of the arrangements for this event.

The entire program will be under the auspices of the Labor Day organization and promises to be one of the best ever held in Brandon.

RED RETREAT IS FAST BECOMING TRAGIC ROUT

Herds of Cattle, Cavalry and Infantry, Intermingled in Flight

THROW AWAY WEAPONS

Officers Attempt to Restore Order by the Use of Revolvers

Berlin, Aug. 24.—German newspaper reports from the Russian front say that the Russian retreat along the East Prussian border developed into a panic under pressure of the Polish cavalry. Herds of cattle, cavalry and infantry intermingled in the flight. Officers tried to restore order with revolvers, some of the regiments having thrown away their weapons.

Bolsheviki Retreating

Warsaw, Aug. 24.—Russian Bolsheviki forces are retreating virtually along the whole line in an effort to save the remnants of the Red army, but they have so far been easily frustrated by the Poles.

On the North there is heavy fighting in the region of Mlawa and Soldau. Forced to face two Polish armies, one advancing from Modlin and the other from Braudenz, the Bolsheviki are making desperate efforts to extricate their advance guard, some of which adventured as far as Sylau and Plonsk. The Red losses in prisoners in this region have amounted to 11,000 in the past two days.

The attempt of the Reds to break the Polish lines on the Prasnysh-Makov-Rozany road and cross the Narew river has completely failed. Polish troops, advancing up the right bank of the Narew, threw back the Bolsheviki to the North. Meanwhile the main body of the Poles, advancing from Warsaw, occupied all the territory in the fork of the Bug and the Narew.

The only chance of the Bolsheviki is to open a passage in the direction of Ostrolenka and Lomza, so as to get away through Bialystok and Grodno. The Polish troops, accordingly [illegible] trolenka and Lomza, while the Polish cavalry, which has reached the upper waters of the Narew, has already cut the road between Lomza and Bialystok.

The battle now beginning on the middle Narew is likely to decide the fate of all the Red forces between the Narew and the Prussian frontier. Red troops, comprising infantry and cavalry, are making a bold thrust in the direction of Brody and Lemberg. Farther North Bolsheviki detachments, debouching from Lutsk and Vladimir Volinsky, tried to force a passage of the Bug before Prubreszov, but were hurled back with heavy losses. The same fate befell the Reds who appeared in the region of Lemberg.

Bialystok Recaptured

Copenhagen, Aug. 24.—The Poles have recaptured Bilystok after desperate resistance by the Bolsheviki, says a dispatch to the Berlingske Tidende, from Warsaw.

BETTER MAKE CERTAIN THAT YOUR NAME IS ON LIST OF VOTERS

The time limit for making application to be placed on the voters' list expires next Monday. Although the list has been hanging in the City Hall for inspection for nearly a month, only some sixteen applicants have filed out applications and filed them with the City Clerk. It is thought there are at least one hundred persons in the city who are eligible to vote on civic questions but whose names do not appear on the list. It is imperative that all those interested in civic affairs should inspect the list in the City Hall, and if their name is not on the printed list, then an application should be made at once. There is no way in which an applicant can get his or her name on the list after next Monday, and prompt attention is urged.

FIRST NEW WHEAT MARKETED GRADED NO. ONE NORTHERN

Brandon Experimental Farm Marketed About 300 Bushel Marquis Wheat

AT MAPLE LEAF MILL

Wheat Weighed About 61 Pounds to the Bushel—Others Threshing

The first wheat to be marketed in Brandon this season was brought into the Maple Leaf Milling Company one Monday from the Experimental Farm. About 300 bushels of the Marquis variety graded No. One Northern and averaged sixty-one pounds to the bushel.

Mr. W. Gray, whose farm is in the valley Northwest of the city, brought in a good sample of wheat on Monday which also graded No. One Northern.

The first threshing to be reported in the Brandon Hills district commenced this morning, when Messrs. J. H. and R. F. Roddick commenced work with their threshing outfit on a field of Marquis wheat on the former's farm, ten miles Southeast of the city. While the crop looks light, the sample is good and Mr. Roddick is expecting a fair yield.

NEW QUARTERS FOR PEERLESS PRODUCTS CO.

Brandon firm Purchases Bottling Warehouse From Brewing Company

GROWTH OF BUSINESS

By Local Concern is of Astonishing Rapidity—Started in 1918

The sale of the bottling warehouse and several small buildings by the Brandon Brewing Company is reported today. The purchasers are the Peerless Products Company of Brandon and the purchase price paid is in the neighborhood of $35,000. This local company has grown so rapidly that there is immediate need for new quarters, and the Peerless Products Company therefore decided to buy the big warehouse at the foot of Fifteenth Street.

The growth of this Brandon firm has been remarkable since its organization three years ago. Starting in a small way in a small store on Eighth Street, the company was incorporated in 1918 and the old St. Matthews Hall was taken over for a manufacturing plant. A feature of the company is that all the shareholders are local citizens. With ever increasing business the company soon found that even the premises on the corner of Eleventh Street and Princess Avenue were too small, and the purchase of their new quarters followed.

The line of goods manufactured by the Brandon firm includes poultry and livestock food and drug sundries. These are all manufactured in Brandon, and the territory now covered by the Brandon firm extends from the Great Lakes to the Coast. Supplies are furnished to the Western Experimental Farms, the Manitoba Agricultural College and other large agricultural institutions. This year, with plenty of trackage beside their new warehouse, the Peerless Products Company expect to ship in many carloads of molasses and other goods used in the manufacture of their products, while they also expect to extend their trade all over Canada.

Toronto, Aug. 24. — Oil has been struck by the Imperial Oil Co., Ltd., at a point just within the Arctic circle, North of the Great Slave Lake, and close to the MacKenzie river, according to an announcement made today. The flow of oil is small, and possibly cannot be made use of commercially, but it is regarded as significant that oil has been found there. The flow is ten barrels a day. Much more hopeful enterprises are being carried on at other points, and good results are expected at Czar, Alberta, where the company's well is already 2,000 feet down. It is expected that oil will be found in another 500 feet of boring.

KIWANIS CONVENTION CONCLUDES WITH A BANQUET AND BALL

F. W. Hobson, Brandon Man, Chosen to Lead Western Canada Kiwanians During 1921—Convention in 1921 to Be of Two Days Duration and to Be Held at Saskatoon—Many Splendid Speeches

One of the most successful conventions ever held in the West came to a close Monday night, when a banquet and dance in the Prince Edward Hotel concluded the one-day session of the Western Canada Kiwanians. Visiting delegates to Brandon were loud in their praise of the management and success attending the big gathering and were more than pleased with the reception they met during the day. The program for Monday was carried through on schedule time, thanks to District Governor, P. M. Anderson, K.C., of Regina, and Monday's convention promises to set a new mark in Western Canadian Kiwanian history.

Brandon was honored by the convention delegates when F. W. Hobson, of this city, was elected District Governor to lead Western Canada Kiwanians during 1921. His election was a popular one, and his choice was greeted with rounds of applause from the two hundred or more Kiwanians present at the afternoon session in the Willis Theatre. Another Brandon man was elected to the Executive when N. W. Kerr, of this city, was unanimously appointed Secretary-Treasurer for the coming term. Saskatoon was picked as the city for the 1921 convention, and in view of the large amount of business it was decided that hereafter the convention will be for two days instead of one.

Banquet Hall Suitably Decorated

The Red losses in prisoners in this region have amounted to 11,000 in the past two days.

The attempt of the Reds to break the Polish lines on the Prasnysh-Makov-Rozany road and cross the Narew river has completely failed. Polish troops, advancing up the right bank of the Narew, threw back the Bolsheviki to the North. Meanwhile the main body of the Poles, advancing from Warsaw, occupied all the territory in the fork of the Bug and the Narew.

The only chance of the Bolsheviki is to open a passage in the direction of Ostrolenka and Lomza, so as to get away through Bialystok and Grodno. The Polish troops, accordingly [illegible] trolenka and Lomza, while the Polish cavalry, which has reached the upper waters of the Narew, has already cut the road between Lomza and Bialystok.

The battle now beginning on the middle Narew is likely to decide the fate of all the Red forces between the Narew and the Prussian frontier. Red troops, comprising infantry and cavalry, are making a bold thrust in the direction of Brody and Lemberg. Farther North Bolsheviki detachments, debouching from Lutsk and Vladimir Volinsky, tried to force a passage of the Bug before Prubreszov, but were hurled back with heavy losses. The same fate befell the Reds who appeared in the region of Lemberg.

BETTER MAKE CERTAIN THAT YOUR NAME IS ON LIST OF VOTERS

The time limit for making application to be placed on the voters' list expires next Monday. Although the list has been hanging in the City Hall for inspection for nearly a month, only some sixteen applicants have filled out applications and filed them with the City Clerk. It is thought there are at least one hundred persons in the city who are eligible to vote on civic questions but whose names do not appear on the list. It is imperative that all those interested in civic affairs should inspect the list in the City Hall, and if their name is not on the printed list, then an application should be made at once. There is no way in which an applicant can get his or her name on the list after next Monday, and prompt attention is urged.

FARM VALUE OF WHEAT CROP PUT AT $117,500,000

According to Department Estimates — Yield Given As 47,022,500 Bushels

Manitoba's wheat crop this year is worth, approximately, $117,500,000 to the producers. That is the estimated value reached by computations based on the report of the Manitoba Department of Agriculture on crop conditions throughout the province. According to the report an average yield of wheat throughout the province will be 17.5 bushels per acre. The estimated average acreage in the province is 2,687,000 acres, giving a total estimated crop of $47,022,500 bushels. Last year the total yield was 40,975,250 bushels, and the average per acre was 14.25 bushels.

Grain men report that the farmer probably will realize an average price of $2.50 a bushel for wheat this season, based on cash and future prices today, which shows the crop to be valued at far more than 100 million dollars.

Wheat Cutting Well Forward

The summarized report of the Agriculture Department follows:

"Wheat cutting in Manitoba has been progressing to some extent almost from the opening of the month, and in most places was general by about Aug. 10. North of the Riding Mountain the crop matured more slowly, and cutting there is now just nicely under way. On the whole, the fields have ripened very close together, and the binders have been so continuously on the move during the past ten days that from 60 per cent. upward of the crop is cut in a considerable part of the province.

Some Threshing Done

"A little early threshing has been done, and some cars of rye and wheat have reached Winnipeg on their way East; but threshing will not be general for several days yet."

"Recent weather has been mostly dry and hot, though good local rains have fallen in places. Reports as to the yield vary greatly, but the general rains which fell about July 20, and for a few days afterward, did a good deal toward saving a rather critical situation, and the crop on the whole will be quite satisfactory.

"Probably the best crop in sight [illegible] a belt which sweeps South of Lake Manitoba and includes the Portage Plains and such points as Holland and Swan Lake to the Southwest. In this area there are many wheat fields that should thresh out 25, and some probably over 30 bushels to the acre. Farther west there was much less rain during early July, and the crops are much lighter.

How Average is Struck

"Striking an average of the rough estimates given us by correspondents from the different parts we have a figure close to 17.5 bushels for the wheat yield of the province. This is quite up to our average for the past ten years.

"Recent weeks have been comparatively free of hail storms, and though a little frost has fallen at one or two outlying places, the damage has been only inanitesimal. Rust has visited a considerable area, varying much from field to field. At spots in the Red River valley it is quite heavy, and it would have been disastrous but for the lateness of the attack, which permitted all the early crop to mature pretty well before its ravages became serious. At other places even the heaviest fields have escaped almost entirely. Late crops, of course, will suffer more than early crops.

"Several of the most careful correspondents report wheatstem sawfly, and there is reason to suspect that the ravages of the insect have been more general than the reports suggest.

Crops Will Grade Well

"Almost everywhere the wheat will grade well and much of it will get into one and two Northern classes, with a little of it falling down through rust damage.

"Relatively, the yields of oats and barley are less satisfactory than wheat, though there are some good fields of these. Reports on flax are meagre, but suggest a fair crop. Potatoes are dried out and maturing too early in the Red River valley, where a considerable part of the market crop is grown, but are better in some other places. On the whole this has been a poor season for this crop. The prospects for Winter feed for stock are just fair, and pastures in many areas are suffering for want of a soaking rain."

TORONTO TO FIGHT INCREASE IN RATES FOR BELL TELEPHONE CO.

Toronto, Aug. 20.—"If necessary, this city will spend from $5,000 to $25,000 in fighting the increase in Bell telephone rates," said Mayor Church. The city will also oppose any increase in express charges and the Railway Board will be asked to hold a sitting in Toronto on the proposed increase in the Bell Company. There is talk in some circles here of asking the Provincial Government to take over the Bell telephone system in Ontario as a Government-owned enterprise.

PARLIAMENTARY SECRETARYSHIPS HAVE LAPSED

Vacated Automatically When Sir Robert Borden and Government Resigned

Ottawa, Aug. 20. — Parliamentary Secretaryships of Departments of the Dominion Government will be discarded, it is understood. Three such offices were established by special legislation during the war to provide assistance for the ministerial heads of important departments. There were at one time Parliamenty Secretaries for External Affairs, for Militia and Defence, and for the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment. These officials received salaries of $5,000 a year in addition to their sessional indemnities as members of the House of Commons. Two of them remained in office when the Government was re-organized with Hon. Arthur Meighen as prime minister, Col. Hugh Clark, M.P. of North Bruce, Parliamentary Secretary for the Department of Militia and Defence; and F. H. Keefer, M.P. of Port Arthur, Parliamentary Secretary for External Affairs.

There was some doubt as to the precise status of these positions. They were created for the period of the war and a stated time thereafter. The question arose whether or not that time had elapsed when the Meighen Government took office. It is now understood to have been held that the positions of Parliamentary Secretaries were vacated automatically, just as were positions of cabinet ministers, when Sir Robert Borden and government resigned. It is stated that with a view to retrenchment the Meighen Government does not intend to appoint any parliamentary secretaries.

Sir George Perley's return to Canada revives the rumor that he contemplates retiring from the Canadian High Commissionership in London. The Government, it is understood, is not aware of any such intention on Sir George's part. It is known that some time ago he desired to relinquish the London post. He was prevailed upon, however, to continue in office, and it is said, will be asked to do so for another year at least. It is said that the government will not likely appoint a Canadian Commissioner to Washington until after the Presidential election in the United States.

WOMAN SAVED CHILD BUT LOST HER OWN LIFE

Many Narrow Escapes From Drowning When Launch Took Fire

Kenora, Ont., Aug. 20.—Mrs. Perry, wife of Dr. Perry, of Winnipeg, was drowned in the Lake of the Woods last night about 7.30 as the result of a tragedy caused by the back firing of an engine in the launch Wabisa, in which a party of 16 were returning to their camp from a trip on the lake. The fire spread quickly and all had to jump in the lake. Fortunately, they were good swimmers or many others would have lost their lives. The call for help was heard by Dr. Perry, Keith Gordon and others, who hastened in launches to the spot and rescued all but Mrs. Perry, who sank when help was near. She had been assisting a little child of six, and though able to swim, the effort was too much for her and she sank. The body was not recovered till about 10 o'clock.

COX BLAMES U. S. SENATE FOR GREAT MANY TROUBLES

Refusal to Ratify League of Nations Cause of Disturbed Conditions

TREATY RATIFICATION

Would Have Blazed the Way Early Return of Desirable Conditions

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 20.—The Republican "oligarchy" of the Senate is "directly responsible" for the unsettled conditions through the country, Governor James M. Cox, Democratic Presidential candidate, charged here in his first stump speech in Indiana.

The Governor again directed a sharp fire at the "reactionary Republican leaders," asserting that they have blocked reductions hoping to put the blame upon the Democrats. Normal conditions will return with ratification of the peace treaty "with such additions as are reassuring and helpful," he said, adding that the Democratic pledge is to enter the League of Nations with the least possible delay after March 4, 1921.

Responsible for H. C. L.

Cox charged that while "progressive democracy" has taken a positive position with reference to every vital question "the reactionary Republican leaders are passive and hypocritical."

"If they would follow their own footsteps backward, and they are so used to moving in that direction that they would not need a compass, they would find that every condition against which they now inveigh is of their own creation," the candidate said. "They discuss the high costs of living without apparently realizing that in a large measure they are responsible for the belated settling down of conditions which have continued the high living costs. Europe has been compelled to, but because she is not producing, and production in America has not moved back into its stride because things economically are disjoined, not only here but everywhere.

Ratification Means Stability

"If the League of Nations had been ratified months ago, exchange would have been stabilized; Europe could have started its work of rehabilitation, its countries would not have made drains upon our food supplies. War taxes, which should have been modified or repealed when the war was over, were [illegible]t touched, and the Republican oligarchy in the Senate is directly possible." Cox claimed that the House ways and means committee desired to repeal some of the levies, but that "the restraining hand of political policy was imposed by the Senatorial leaders."

"If the world does not proceed to arm itself to the teeth, if the cost of armament is diverted to the payment of interest and sinking fund on the bonded debt, then there is more than a hope that civilization can work its way out," Cox said "If this is not done, then no one knows what will happen. In the face of these things which strike the impressions of men every day, it is hard to believe that the Senatorial oligarchy continues its opposition to the league of conscientious purposes."

Effects of Treaty Ratification

Cox then gave what he believes will be the results of treaty ratification. He said "it will legally end the war. It will re-establish credits. A call will be made upon our mineral wealth and our productive skill. We have ships to sail every sea; the supply of life's essentials will be equal to the demand; living costs will be reduced. What we would spend for guns, powder and ships will be applied to our war debt, and above all we will be happy in the consciousness that war is practically impossible.

Cox's plans are to start the far West trip about September 3. It is proposed to swing through the Northern tier of the states to the coast, thence down the coast and back through Utah, Colorado, Nebraska and Iowa. One of the biggest days of the campaign will be at Columbus August 31. Harding and Cox are scheduled to speak from the same platform at the Ohio state fair

Three Ohioans on One Platform

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 20.—Three Presidential candidates, all Ohioans, may speak from the same platform at the Ohio state fair here Aug. 31, if plans of the management are carried out. Governor Cox and Senator Harding have both accepted speaking invitations for that date and fair officials wired Dr. Aaron S. Watkins, Prohibition party candidate, asking that he also deliver an address.

Harding's Statement.

Marion, Ohio, Aug. 20.—The Democrats might as well proclaim the constitution a fraud as to cry out against the United States Senate playing its proper part in government, Warren G. Harding declared, warmly defending that body in a speech to members and former members of the Ohio legislature here. He boldly accepted the issue raised by Governor Cox in recent speech that the Senate is trying to annex the White House through the election of Harding.

The Senate, Harding insisted, is the security of stable, popular government and by refusing to ratify the League of Nations covenant, it saved American nationality. "It has become quite the fashion among unheeding partisans of Democratic faith to cry out against the Senate and the part it plays in the Federal Government," he said. "One might as well proclaim the constitution is a fraud. The Senate is in reality the security of stable, popular government."

OVERCROWDING WILL BE SEVERE IN BIG CENTRES

Summer Crop of Newly Weds Will Find Thorns Bristling in the Roses

NOT ENOUGH HOUSES

No Solution of Problem in Sight Though Many Cures Have Been Tried

Toronto, August 20.—With the return to the cities within a few weeks of thousands of city people who have been spending the Summer months in the open, the housing problem in all the big centres of population in Canada—as, indeed, many other parts of the world—is becoming more acute. Reports from Many Canadian cities indicate that very little house building has been done during the Summer months, owing to the high cost of labor and material. There are not nearly enough new houses or new apartments to supply the Summer crop of newly-married couples, and in scores of cases the roses of the newly-weds are already bristling with thorns that come with vexatious, unsuccessful house hunting. Owners of such accommodations as are available are asking unheard-of prices, supposedly justified by the big demand and high price of fuel. Provincial Governments and Municipal Councils have so far been unable to solve the problem though many have" taken a whack at it." It has been suggested that the Dominion Government should take the matter up, but it is obvious that the Dominion Government cannot sow broadcast cottages like Victory Bonds.

PLANNING KING'S TOUR OF THE WEST

Liberal Leader May be Accompanied by Ernest Lapointe Quebec East

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—Arrangements for the tour of Western Canada to be made this Fall by Hon. Mackenzie King have almost been completed. While the definite date for opening the campaign of speeches has not yet been definitely settled, it is understood that Mr. King is likely to commence his tour at Victoria, B. C., about Sept. 25 and that during the next six or seven weeks he will address meetings in every city of importance in British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

No announcement has yet been made as to who will accompany the Liberal leader on his trip West, but it is said that one or two prominent Liberals will make the journey with him and address the electors at the various points. The name of Ernest Lapointe, member for Quebec East, has been mentioned as among those likely to make the trip.

Before commencing his tour of the Pacific Coast province, it is understood that Mr. King plans to pay a short visit to his brother, who is in Denver, Colorado, and that he will go direct from Denver to Victoria in time for his first meeting.

TRAGEDY IN POOR HOME IN MONTREAL

Montreal, Aug. 20.—A painful tragedy was revealed at the inquest held by Coroner McGhon at the morgue Wednesday into the death of Mrs. Nellie Babcock, which occurred Tuesday. The verdict returned was to the effect that death resulted from starvation and childbirth.

Investigation revealed the fact that the unfortunate woman had been deserted by her husband; was the sole support of her five children, and that another child was expected. As she had neither food nor money, the woman wished to destroy the child before its birth and had recourse to a physician. The baby was born dead and the mother burnt it in the stove, and shortly afterwards succumbed to starvation. The few rooms where the family lived were visited in the course of the investigation and were found to be almost bare of furniture, while not a single morsel of food was discovered.

RAILWAYS READY TO INCREASE PAY IF RATES GO UP

Kelley Attempts to Lay Onus For Possible Strike on Railway Board

ADOPT CHICAGO AWARD

For Canadian Railwaymen Because Denial Might Mean Strike

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—Because they believe that failure to do so would precipitate a general railway strike throughout Canada, the Canadian Railway Association has decided to recommend to the Canadian roads the apotion of the wage schedule passed by the Chicago Labor oBard of the United States. This statement was made by Howard G. Kelley, President of the Canadian Railway Association and of the Grand Trunk Railway before the Dominion Raiway Commission this morning. Announcement of the decision of the Railway Association was made by Mr. Kelley during the progress of an argument for the railways in their application for increased freight and passenger rates.

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—Opening the argument for the railways before the Railway Board in the rates case, W. N. Tilley, Counsel for the C.P.R., basing his deductions entirely upon the present position of that company, he urged that the application be granted in full. He maintained that with the granting of the original application for a thirty per cent increase, the C.P.R. would just about break even and that if there is no increase, the deficit on this year's operations would exceed thirty-seven million dollars. Granting of the supplementary application of ten per cent to cover prospective wages increases would mean a deficit of over four million dollars on wages account, but the ten per cent increase to cover increased operation in effect for the full twelve months, would yield twenty-five million dollars. Increased wages for the year under the terms of the Chicago award, would cost the company twenty-two million dollars leaving the company an estimated surplus of three millions for the first complete twelve months operating period after the new rates become effective.

INCOME TAX LAW TO BE RIGIDLY ENFORCED

Hamilton, Ont., Aug. 20. — That no mercy will be shown defaulters under the income tax law was further demonstrated here when, following the recent fine of $2,100 imposed on a well known citizen, Dr. Wm. A. Danderbrugh was assessed $1,500 for making incorrect returns.

LLOYD GEORGE MAY COME TO CANADA IN 1921

Provided That the European Political Situation Has Improved

Lucerne, Switzerland, Aug. 20.—Mr. David Lloyd George, the British Prime Minister, arrived in Lucerne Thursday afternoon. To the correspondent of the Associated Press he said that up to the present the only official meeting that had been arranged was one with Signor Giolitti, the Italian Premier. This would probably take place next Monday. No visits from Dr. Walter Simons, the German chancellor, or Prince Feisal, King of Syria, had as yet been arranged, he added. The Private Secretary of Mr. Lloyd George asserted that there was no truth in the report that the Premier intended to visit the United States and Canada in October. He said, however, that the Premier hoped to make a visit there next year if the European political situation is improved.

HOUSING SHORTAGE HAS BAD EFFECT ON THE WHOLE HUMAN RACE

New York, Aug. 20.—Six million people in the United States are inadequately housed, with little hope that the situation will be relieved in the near future, it was estimated by Edward P. Doyle, Secretary of the Mayors Housing Committee on the basis of figures obtained by the United Press. "In New York alone there is a shortage of more than 100,000 apartments and about 600,000 people are living in quarters that are cramped, unsanitary and in many instances immoral," Doyle stated.

WOMEN TO HAVE BALLOTS IN ALL STATES OF UNION

As a Result of Adoption of Federal Woman Franchise Amendment

Washington, Aug. 20—The Federal woman suffrage amendment is intended to extend the franchise to all women in state, local and federal elections, Solicitor-General Frierson said.

"Under the amendment, all states are under an obligation to permit women to vote in all elections, whether local or national," Frierson said in an informal ruling.

"If any state attempts to restrict the franchise of women in any particular, the question will at once be put to a test as to whether that state is violating the Federal constitution. The final answer to the questions will rest with the Supreme Court."

Harding Glad

Marion, Ohio, Aug. 20.—Commenting on the action of the Tennessee legislature in completing ratification of the suffrage amendment, Senator Harding, Republican Presidential candidate, said:

"All along I have wished for the completion of ratification, and have said so, and I am glad to have the citizenship of the United States take part in the Presidential elections. The Republican party will welcome the response of American womanhood to its appeal to the confidence of all our people."

"Women will be full partners in shaping national policies," Senator W. G. Harding declared. "However they may divide politically, they will be a constant inspiration to higher and better aims in national life."

"The enfranchisement of women," he said, "ranks along with the achievements of American independence, preservation of the Union, emancipation of the slaves, and America's contribution in the world war. The women," he added, "won their own victory."

Harding declared that prohibition is "menaced by a covert purpose of our opponents to attack it," and predicted that the woman vote would be lined up with the Republican in this issue and with the League of Nations issue as well.

Tennessee Does Not Reconsider

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 20. — The Tennessee house adjourned at noon until today without an effort being made to have it reconsider its action in ratifying the federal suffrage amendment.

North Carolina House Rejects

Raleigh, N.C., Aug. 20.—The lower house of the North Carolina legislature refused to ratify Federal woman suffrage by a vote of 71 to 41. The Senate had previously defeated the amendment.

MENNONITES ASK QUEBEC GOVT. FOR SPECIAL PRIVILEGES

As a Condition of Settling There —Premier Makes Demands Known

EXEMPTION FROM MILITARY

Stands First on List of Privileges —Want Language and School Privileges

Quebec, August 20.—After the meeting of the representatives of the Mennonite church in Manitoba and Saskatchewan with Hon. L. A. Taschereau, Prime Minister of Quebec, yesterday, the Prime Minister handed the Canadian Press a copy of the document presented by the delegates. The document is dated Reinland, Man., August 13th, 1920, and says they wish to make their abode in the Province of Quebec, and ask that the following privileges be granted them by law for ever.

1. Grant and assure or have it ratified by the Dominion Government), an entire exemption from any military forces as defenseless Christians, called Mennonites.

The delegation said that they represented some 12,000 Mennonites in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

MONEY TIGHT FOR SOME TIME BANKER DECLARES

Federal Government May Look to Banks This Fall For Large Sums

Toronto, Aug. 20.—The Evening Telegram's financial page carries the following:

Opinion is very divided in local financial circles regarding the money outlook. Sir John Aird, General Manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, foresees a continuation of restricted credits for some months, possibly until the turn of the year. Brokers, on the other hand, who are conversant with stock market conditions both here and in the United States look for a slight let-up in call money restrictions at all events within a few weeks, followed by a generally easier period.

Hitherto the cause of the money tightness has been attributed largely to the necessity for funds for crop movement, but a new factor was mentioned by an authoritative banker this morning when he pointed out that once the crop is moved the banks rather anticipate heavy calls will be made upon them by the government at Ottawa, which will continue to tie up funds which would otherwise come into the market.

News that the Government might have to make heavy demands upon the banks came as a surprise to a broker closely connected with the Victory Loan situation. He said that if the budget were working at all along the lines anticipated, he could not see why Ottawa should have to fall back on the banks to any large extent. He pointed out, however, that much would depend on the result of the railroad rate investigation. If the requested increases were granted it would remove still further the need of government financing.

On the other hand, if the increases were not allowed some temporary provision would doubtless have to be made to care for the heavy Canadian National Railway deficit.

LESS TENSION BETWEEN GREAT BRITAIN AND FRANCE

London, August 20.—The official entente between France and Britain has been more or less restored, says a Paris dispatch to the London Times. Following an extended interview with Lloyd George, the Earl of Derby, British ambassador at Paris, again visited the French Foreign Office and "the more immediately delicate moment in the Anglo-French relations has passed," the dispatch adds.

DRIVE THROUGH WHEAT LANDS A GREAT SURPRISE

Imperial Press Conference Delegates Express Themselves As Greatly Pleased

BEAUTIFUL COUNTRY

With Splendid Crops and Substantial Buildings, Astonish Visitors

"The most wonderful stretches of wheat country we have ever seen," was the way many of the visiting Imperial Press Conference delegates expressed themselves after their trip from Carberry to Brandon via motor. Taken through one of the most prosperous districts of Manitoba and through districts that boast of excellent crops, the distinguished visitors had ample opportunity of seeing the Brandon district at its best. They were more than delighted with the break in their journey by the auto drive, but unfortunately the trip was too long for some of them, and the roads were not of the best for auto travel.

Arriving at Carberry in two special trains, the press representatives and their party after leaving the trains were the guests of the town of Carberry at an informal luncheon on the lawns at the residence of W. D. Card. The town was splendidly decorated. A buffet luncheon was served by the ladies of Carberry and district and short speeches followed the luncheon. Mayor S. Taylor of Carberry welcomed the visitors to the town, while Dr. Waugh also spoke briefly. Lord Burnham replied shortly to the two informal speeches, thanking the Carberry people for their hospitality. Twenty-five cars from Brandon and the same number from Carberry then conveyed about one hundred of the delegates from Carberry to Brandon.

The route took the party about ten miles North of Carberry, through Inglewood, passing through a very fertile country, noted particularly for its splendid crops this year. Through this country the representatives had every chance to view the progress made along agricultural lines in Manitoba. Many of the visitors expressed themselves as agreeably surprised at the substantial nature of the farm buildings and homes, while the extensive nature of the farming was a revelation to many.

Two slight accidents occurred on the way. Sir Arthur Holbrook suffered some slight cuts on the face when the car in which he was riding was bumped by a car following close behind. Mr. E. E. Edwards, of Brisbane, Australia, had his lip and eye cut when he was tossed against the top of the car as it went over a bump on the road. There was a nurse in the party and first aid was given to the injured although neither of the men was seriously hurt.

Arriving near Brandon the visitors were taken through the Experimental Farm and were shown many of the beauties of the Dominion institution. The cars then motored through some of the main streets of Brandon to the Prince Edward hotel where the main party arrived at six o'clock after a very interesting drive.

Paris, Aug. 18.—The French Government intends to protest energetically against the decision of Reginald T. Tower, Allied High Commissioner at Danzig, who yesterday forbid further debarkation at Danzig of French munitions for Poland, it was learned today.

DECLARES THAT REBELS FIRED THE FIRST SHOT: AN HISTORIC DOCUMENT

Regina, Sask., Aug. 18.—What appears to be the original declaration of a corporal of the Royal North West Mounted Police establishing the fact that the first shot fired in the hostilities between the police and the Riel rebels in the Duck Lake country in 1885 was fired by the rebels, was brought here recently by W. H. White, of Winnipeg.

It is a single sheet of foolscap, signed by Hugh J. A. Davidson, Corporal, Royal North West Mounted Police, who was a member of the party that accompanied Major Crozier, to Duck Lake in March, 1885, stating that he distinctly heard a shot fired from the rebel ranks before Major Crozier gave his men the order to fire. The declaration was made at Prince Albert on May 30, 1886, and attested by Stephen Brewster, a notary public.

PRESS CONFERENCE DELEGATES WILL NEVER FORGET BRANDON

Where They Spent the Evening of the First Day After Driving Through Miles of Ripe Grain Fields—Banquet Tendered by City a Unique Success—Visitors Eloquent in Referring to Canadian Achievements and Resources and Warmth of Reception Tendered Them

The delegates to the Imperial Press Conference now on a tour of Canada bid good-bye to Manitoba when they left this city Tuesday evening after being the guests of Brandon for some seven hours. The distinguished party, which included leading pressmen from all over the British Empire, was tendered a banquet in the Prince Edward Hotel on Tuesday evening at which nearly 200 persons attended. Interesting and witty speeches marked the program, and the splendid reception with which the delegates are meeting on their trip formed the keynote of the visitors' addresses.

Although little decorating was done through the city in honor of the visitors, nothing was left undone at the Prince Edward Hotel to make the setting for the banquet an ideal one. The dining room was beautifully decorated for the occasion and the service and accommodation for the banquet was well managed. Sir Arthur Holbrook, Mr. Ronald W. Snelling, of Alexandria, Egypt; Sir Charles Starmer, one of the largest British newspaper owners; Dr. H. P. Whidden, M.P. for Brandon; Hon. Thos. Johnson, acting Premier, and His Worship Mayor Dinsdale were the speakers of the evening. Canada's optimism and the bright future of this country were all emphasized by the visiting speakers while the local speakers told of the benefits arising from the visit to Canada and to Brandon, of the men who represented the newspapers of the world.

Nearly 200 at Banquet

Nearly 200 persons sat down to the banquet in the evening tendered by the City to the visitors, and attended as well by representative citizens of Brandon. His Worship Mayor Dinsdale acted as chairman and seated at the head table were Lord and Lady Burnham and many of the distinguished guests. Addresses of welcome and replies were made which showed the strength of the bond existing between the representatives from across the seas and Canadians, while the expressions of genuine satisfaction with the great welcome that is meeting the visitors everywhere, featured several of the speeches.

After the toast to The King had been proposed His Worship Mayor Dinsdale welcomed the distinguished guests to the city. He told the delegates that although they may have visited larger cities, they certainly had not visited any better. He then extended a most hearty welcome to the visitors and told them that the keys of the city were at their disposal.

Emphasizing the great work of the pioneers of this country in their successful efforts to build a great Canada, Sir Arthur Holbrook, M.P. for Portsmouth, Eng., and owner of the Portsmouth Times, gave a splendid address. The speaker was a Colonel during the war and had no less than seven sons in different branches of the army, one of whom distinguished himself greatly. As the commander of a British submarine he dove under Turkish mines and sank a Turkish battleship. After stating what a great pleasure it was for him to be a member of the delegation and visit Brandon, Sir Arthur paid a splendid tribute to the grit of the pioneers in their efforts to make Canada one of the leading countries of the world. He trusted that recognition would always be given to the work of the pioneers.

Prediction of Greatness

Nations of the past had always fallen when they would not listen to the call of arms, but he was glad to say that the British Empire was still a great power because its men heard the call in 1914 and answered it. Sir Arthur then eulogized the work of the Canadians at the front, and stated that he was particularly interested in the First Contingent, as he had inspected the men when they first arrived at Salisbury Plains. Everyone admired the fighting spirit of the Canadians, he said, and stated that he never saw a finer body of men than the Princess Patricias' Light Infantry. The speaker then spoke of the remarkable signs of progress noted on their way across Canada, and that the entire trip was a revelation to him. "If Canada goes ahead in the next half century as it has in the past fifty years, this country will be the greatest power in the British Empire," declared Sir Arthur.

Sure Signs of Progress

The marvellous attention paid to education was one of the surest signs of progress, said the speaker, and he paid particular tribute to the Agricultural Colleges and the Domestic Science departments. This latter branch is important as Sir Arthur stated that thousands of men fail because women do not know how to look after their homes. Another sign of development was the attention paid to the school children's play.

Coming from a naval town, Sir Arthur Holbrook said he could appreciate the help Canada furnished during the war. He emphasized the great need for the British Empire maintaining command of the seas. "Nothing must jeopardize our hold on the seas. The power has never been used selfishly, but we cannot afford to take any risks. However great we are now, we would soon become a tenth power if we lost control of the seas, declared the Portsmouth member. He further stated that as a result of the visit of the press delegates to Canada, England would take a greater interest in Canada than ever before. He said he would urge the young men of England to come to Canada rather than go to the United States as England wanted to send her men where they will be a part of the British Empire. He prayed for industrial peace and urged everyone to combine for keeping the Empire ever great, glorious and free.

Glad to be Related

"We are glad to be vitally related to other parts of the British Empire," said Dr. Whidden, M.P. for Brandon, who followed Sir Arthur Holbrook. United in peace as we were in war, we must serve the interests of the Empire, or the Empire's interests, and fulfill our task, said Dr. Whidden. He told the delegates that they had just reached the heart of the prairie provinces. He stated, however, that it is not well to always measure ourselves altogether in material production. The same laws, the same customs, the same ideals bind the Empire close, one country to the other, and he said that the visit of the delegates, following so close as it did upon the visit here of the Prince of Wales is doing much to stimulate and create a deeper feeling throughout Canada.

"The intermingling will make possible the carrying out of the highest ideals in times of peace, which will only be changed in the years ahead of us," said Dr. Whidden, and that we can never do our full share towards the rest of the world unless we maintain our relations with the great country South of us. They are vastly more to us than those who have not the same blood flowing through their veins that we have, and he believed that out of all the misunderstandings across the line, that right thinking Americans will assert their opinions and smooth out the present trouble confronting that great people. The Federal member for Brandon pointed out the great amount of good the visit of the delegates to Brandon would do not only for this city and community, but also to the whole country, and cementing all the interests of the Empire in these great days of opportunity.

Speaker From Oldest Country

The wittiest and one of the most interesting addresses of the evening came from Roland W. Snelling of the Egyptian Gazette, Alexandria, who in his opening remarks said that it was a difficult thing to speak to such a progressive people when he came from the oldest country in the world. He showed the comparative figures illustrating the acreage and population of Manitoba and Egypt, and pointed out that his country is the most densely populated in the world, there being 1,500 people to the square mile. The delegates, he said, had come over as learners, and already their minds were blurred with the many interesting sights they had seen.

Hopelessness in Many Lands

Prohibition is something new to the visitors, the speaker said, and he facetiously related several of his experiences in drinking toasts in "water." However, he held that it was a most excellent thing for the country if the prosperous and rapid progress of the country was any sign. What struck him most in Canada is the great spirit of optimism so widespread in the country. Having visited about eighteen countries in the past six months, he noted the great hopelessness confronting other countries of Europe, especially. "The men in Europe have ceased to respect administration in civilization and many have ceased to believe in the principles of their nations. Disillusionments have come after the war, and the people have become discouraged." Human motives are like certain chemicals, the more you analyze them the worse they smell," said Mr. Snelling.

He further said that Canada has a genuine belief in democracy and there is a splendid destiny in the men of Canada. Noble ancestry, possessed of a rich land and having the inheritance of the English language, "no outlook is so bright as in this Canada of yours, look where you will," concluded the distinguished guest from Egypt.

A Historic Drive

Sir Charles Starmer, one of the largest owners of newspapers in England, with over thirty-nine publications under his control, in a short speech laid special stress on the pioneer work done on the railroads. His trip to Brandon will ever remain green in his memory, because he had been driven from Carberry by the great grandson of the first railroad engineer in the world's history. He referred to Mr. Ernest Whitehead, whose great grandfather was the engineer on the first steam engine invented by Stephenson and which ran over the Stockton-Darlington railway. The Whiteheads had been leaders in pioneer work in Manitoba, Sir Charles Starmer said, because they had come out to this country ahead of the development of railroads and had done much to assist in the making of Western Canada. Therefore he said it was a pleasure to meet the fourth generation of the family that had pioneered railroading not only in England but in Canada, and he referred to railroad construction work on the North shore and in the Canadian Rockies by the late Mr. Charles Whitehead. Sir Charles Starmer added that he was delighted with the reception and proposed a toast to the reception committee for their splendid entertainment while in Brandon.

E. Woodhead, proprietor of the Huddersfield Examiner, spoke for a minute or two and then His Worship Mayor Dinsdale and the Hon. Thos. Johnson, acting Premier of the Province, wished the visitors godspeed in their trip across Canada, Mayor Dinsdale expressing the hope that the influence of the delegates would grow ten-fold and make Canadians better citizens for having met the members of the Imperial Press Conference.

FRENCH TROOPS CLASH WITH MOB IN GERMAN TOWN

Crowd Attacks French Cavalry at Kattowitz, Killing One Trooper

FRENCH OPEN FIRE

With Machine Guns and Grenades Killing 11 and Wounding 26

Berlin, Aug. 18.—French troops clashed with the inhabitants of town of Kattowitz, an important mining town of Upper Silesia, today, 11 persons being killed and 26 wounded. Polish troops attempted to break up a mass meeting at Rymbinik, about 25 miles Southwest of Kattowitz, and in the resulting disorder, one person was killed and four wounded.

Workers in all towns in Upper Silesia struck at noon as a protest against war between Russia and Poland.

The crowd at Kattowitz attacked a detachment of French cavalry killing one trooper, whereupon the French opened fire with machine guns and grenades.

COST OF STAPLE FOODS DROPPED SLIGHTLY IN THE MONTH OF JULY

Ottawa, Aug. 18.—During July the cost of the weekly budget of staple foods dropped slightly, according to the figures given in the current issue of the Labor Gazette. The average was $16.84 at the middle of July as against $16.92 in June, $13.77 in July, 1919, and $7.42 in July, 1914.

The index number of wholesale prices again declined, being 346.8 for July as compared with 349.3 for June, 294.9 for July, 1919, and 134.6 for July, 1914.

C. P. R. EXPERTS FIGURES ARE UNDER CRITICISM

Council for Toronto Board of Trade Concludes Company Will Have Surplus

ON YEAR'S OPERATIONS

Even if Requests for Increased Freight and Passenger Rates Are Denied

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 18.—Argument by counsel was not proceedd with when the Railway Board this morning resumed its consideration of the application of the Canadian Railway Association for a forty per cent. increase in freight, and twenty per cent. increase in passenger rates, on all lines operating within the Dominion. It developed that there were a few additional witnesses to be heard, but chief interest in the sitting was centered in the cross examination by counsel opposing the demands of the Railways, of W. K. Moule, the C.P.R's statistical expert, who last week submitted figures to show that without higher rates the company would have a deficit for the year which will close with June 30, 1921.

A determined and sustained attack on Moule's figures was inaugurated by A. C. McMaster, counsel for the Toronto Board of Trade who submitted an imposing array of figures to show that the company's operations for twelve months would show a surplus of at least nineteen million dollars. Moule declared that McMaster's calculations were fallacious and maintained that in many respects his own calculations been made upon a too conservative basis.

MURDERERS CAN CONTINUE ON HUNGER STRIKES

British Government Will Not Release Them From Irish Prisons

NO RESPONSIBILITY

Will Be Accepted by Government for Course Such Men May Take

Dublin, Aug. 18.—A warning that hunger strike prisoners awaiting trial, who were arrested for murderous attacks on policemen or soldiers, or upon clear, direct evidence of complicity in such attacks, or for other serious offences will not be released unless acquitted of charges against them and that, the Government assumes no responsibility for the consequences of their abstention from food, is given in an official statement issued at Dublin Castle last night.

It has been decided by the authorities, however, to release temporarily twenty-two prisoners in Cork jail who are awaiting trial for less serious offences. Among the number are eleven men arrested with Lord Mayor MacSweeney.

WITNESSES TELL OF SHOOTING OF TWO CONSTABLES

Thomas Bassoff Hears Witnesses Tell of How He Shot Policeman

HOLD-UP CASE HEARD

Bassoff Committed for Trial on Charge of Hold-Up of C.P.R. Train

Lethbridge, Alta., August 18.—Committed on a charge of holding up a C.P.R. passenger train at Sentinel on August 2, Thomas Bassoff, the bandit, sat in the dock in the Provincial Police court Tuesday and heard witness after witness testify that he had seen the prisoner in the act of shooting the two police officers, George Usher and Constable Bailey, in the doorway of the Bellevue cafe on the afternoon of Saturday, August 7. The whole afternoon was occupied with evidence in the murder cases.

J. Robertson, J.P., of Bellevue, was the chief witness in the afternoon session. In a dramatic manner he told how he stood in the middle of the main street of the little mining village, almost opposite the Bellevue cafe, and witnessed the shooting after the policemen arrived in the door. He positively identified Tom Bassoff as the man who did the shooting and gave a wealth of detail about the affair. It was Robertson who had seen the bandits pass his office window next door to the cafe and enter. He had called up the police and told them where the bandits were, and was in his office when the shooting started. He also told of standing in the centre of the street when Akroff emerged mortally wounded, going around the corner of the building where he sank down and died, and of Bassoff coming to the door where the two policemen were lying, wounded. Bassoff appeared as a man infuriated, and when the constable raised his head in an effort to get up, Bassoff shot him from within a few inches of the top of his head. Akroff had only one gun as he came out of the door, and this he never raised, as his gun arm was badly shot up and useless. Witness identified an R.C.M.P. hat put in as an exhibit as that of Corporal Usher. There was a bullet hole through it, at the junction of the brim and the crown.

Doctor Gives Evidence

Dr. McDonald, of Hillcrest, gave evidence as to the wounds the policemen had received which caused their death.

Antonio Cantelino, a storekeeper on the opposite side of the street, heard the shooting, and identified Bassoff as the man who shot the policeman in the cafe door, as did also Daniel Datillo, Jacob Whillet and Arthur Charlesworth. The later had notified the police at Blairmore following the battle.

The police this afternoon evicted from the court house a foreigner who was loitering around the corridors of the court house. The man came from Hillcrest, and is known to the police. He is believed to be a friend of the bandit, over whom the closest guard is kept lest an effort be made to rescue him.

Train Robber Hearing

At the morning session, when Bassoff was tried on a charge of holding up a C.P.R. train, Conductor Sam Jones, who was in charge of the train held up, declared he saw Bassoff twice during the hold-up, each time with a gun in his hand. Baggageman Staples told of coming out of the baggage car to see what was the matter. Bassoff, who was perched on top of the smoker of the passenger coach, ordered him to hold up his hands, and a second bandit ordered him into the coach.

The Farmer-Labor Government of Ontario is asked by hundreds of fishermen in that province to go out of the fish business and stay out. It was not a Farmer-Labor Government that went into the fish business and invested over $400,000 in wharves, ice houses and equipment on Lake Nipigon, it was the Conservative Government presided over by Premier Hearst.

The object of the Government was to provide a supply of good food at a reasonable cost. Now that the competitive fishermen are objecting, it remains to be seen whether the Farmer-Labor combination favors a continuance of a policy of that sort or whether the business interests direct the Government's policy.

A WISE PRECAUTION

Insurance is the protection sought by the wise and prudent. A safety bulletin sent out by the Canadian National Safety League contains the following extract by Sir Edmund Walker before the Life Underwriters:

"Economy properly understood is a fine art, and is as rare as most of the fine arts. Of the various co-operative efforts of man to aid industry, and, therefore, to avoid waste, the honestly managed life insurance company is the finest example. It helps to mitigate the greatest trouble, death; it teaches people to apprehend and provide for other dangers; it multiplies their savings by its investments; it renders its beneficial provisions possible by spreading the cost of the individual disaster over the many who co-operate. It even improves the general health of man by its study of his life medically and by the wise conditions it imposes.

"On the investment side it enables countless farmers and landowners to make betterments, and it is, or it should be, the main help of the home builder, even of the most modest kind."

RUM RUNNING

News dispatches indicate that Estevan, Saskatchewan, is becoming a centre for rum-running into the United States which is second only to Windsor, Ontario. Every day the streets of that town are said to be lined with parked cars bearing license plates of every state in the union. Rum-running has assumed huge proportions. It is said that a regular line of communication has been opened and the men engaged in the traffic are making huge fortunes, clearing thousands of dollars a month. Single cargoes are said to be valued as high as $2,500 when landed in Minneapolis. Conditions along the border are at present in a state bordering on lawlessness. Rum-runners find thieves ready to ditch their cars and make off with the spoil, and therefore most of them go armed.

The great difficulty in preventing this rum-running is the fact that it is not unlawful to carry liquor in cars unless it is proven that it is for sale or has been purchased unlawfully. Once it is across the United States border it is beyond the jurisdiction of Canadian officers.

Rum-running, more or less prevalent along the wide border line between the United States and Canada, is annoying, immoral and of course unlawful. For those engaged in it, there may ensue a period of brief prosperity, a prosperity which will be short lived and cannot but be hurtful to the individual. Such wide proportions has the traffic assumed that it is necessary to take vigorous steps to put an end to it, because unchecked it will spread a poison through Canada which it will not be easy to counteract.

The Canadian and United States Governments, or the Provinces and States along the border line, should combine to create machinery which will speedily stamp out this vicious business.

ENGLISH PREFERRED

A convention of hotel stewards of this continent has come out strongly for a menu printed in the English language; that is, a menu in which the dishes will be given their proper names in English, and in which potatoes will no longer masquerade as "pommes de terre," and where good old beef stew will appear no longer as "ragout de boeuf."

Hurrah for the hotel stewards, and there is a genuine and pious hope that they will have influence enough to secure the change.

Canadians do not wish for the change because they are any less friendly to the French people, but because few have sufficient command of the French language to read the menu intelligently, and fewer still can pronounce it well enough to make the scornful waiter understand.

If this very sane decision is carried out, it will simplify life for a lot of people weary of trying to identify dishes under foreign names and of having to use the finger in calling for them when they do identify them. With this rule in force no man in need of food will hereafter find that he has ordered part of the orchestra program.

OBEY OR GET OUT

Mennonite demands for settlement in Quebec are such that it is impossible to grant them. Hon. L. A. Taschereau, Premier of Quebec, has not said so, nevertheless it is true. The Premier of Quebec cannot grant them exemption from military service and the Dominion Government certainly will not.

The Mennonites ask religious freedom and no interference with: "the rules of our Church without any kind of molestation or restriction whatever; the privilege of our own private school buildings and maintaining them at our expense, and to educate our children in the same, according to our creed, in our own customary German language, without any restrictions."

The Province of Quebec can, if it will, grant these requests, but that it will be so foolish is difficult to believe. The Mennonites, or any other people, are entitled to religious toleration, and enjoy more of it in Canada than is possible in many other lands, but the granting of such specific requests which might bring on a conflict with Provincial law, would be unwise.

If the Mennonites cannot make up their minds to obey the just and equitable laws of Canada, then they must get out, for while they remain it is the duty of the authorities where they reside to enforce the law without fear or favor.

PUNISH THE GUILTY

Announcement is made that the leaders in the disgraceful riot at Thorold, Ontario, are to be punished. On Monday night a mob gathered in that town and demanded that a prisoner accused of a horrible crime be turned over to them. Upon refusal, the structure in which the policeman and the accused were, was set afire and they were smoked out. The mob then prepared to lynch the victim. An appeal for British fair play caused a delay which resulted in his life being spared.

Canadian justice, respected at least all over the continent of North America, has been outraged. A disgraceful attack on corporate property, accompanied by incendiarism, a jail delivery, and other crimes were committed. The guilty ones must be punished. Mob violence and mob rule must not be tolerated in Canada. The prisoner upon whom the mob threatened to vent its fury, must have justice. Justice must be done to all, not too finely tempered with mercy, because of the danger of its being mistaken for weakness in these far from normal times.

To the credit of a mob which had already committed criminal offences, an appeal for British fair play is said to have caused a halt. Sanity and reason then slowly regained the mastery temporarily lost. That this was so proves that there were some persons who resisted successfully the dread mob psychology, who did not run away and hide when the spirit of lawlessness prevailed, but who stayed on the job, alert, resourceful and determined to prevent the consummation of the awful crime of murder.

When punishment is handed out to the leaders of the mob in the excesses committed, honor should be paid to those who courageously averted the greater disaster.

TWO COUNTRIES

Belgium is beginning to flourish again, although of all countries in the war it sustained the greatest injury, with the possible exception of Serbia. On the other hand, Russia, which contains vast natural resources and which could be in a great measure self-sustaining, is today about the most troubled spot on earth. Belgium settled down to work while Russia gave itself over to an orgy of internal strife. Belgium has faced steadily the hard facts of life. The Rssians have deluged their country with their own blood in seeking to demonstrate the virtues of anarchy. In the August Atlantic Monthly, Charlotte Kellogg, whose husband was one of Mr. Hoovers' assistants, has an article on the Belgium of today, bringing out some wonderful features of its recovery. From Ostend to Brussels she found the country a garden, everyone at work, digging, planting or harvesting. Not for a century she says, has Belgium been so near to feeding herself as today. And this in spite of the fact that in normal times forty per cent. of the population is engaged in industrial pursuits, whereas in Germany before the war twenty-two per cent. of the population was so engaged, and in France twenty-three. Mrs. Kellogg says that Belgium's coal production at this time is actually a little greater than it was before the war, and that her railroads have more employes than they had in 1913. The enemy wrecked the great metal plants and carried off so much of the machinery, yet this Summer their production is half as great as it was before the war and it is hoped that they will attain the normal output as soon as they can secure coke from Germany and ore from Lorraine. The smaller factories are again working to full capacity and Belgian industry as a whole is employing about eighty per cent. of its pre-war numbers. Coal production is constantly increasing.

Russia provides the extreme contrast. John A. Gade, commissioner of the United States to the Baltic States, has written an article on "Bolshevism From the Inside." In it he says that starvation has never taken place on so large a scale before. Not even the great famines in India produced death and suffering on the scale prevailing in Russia. In Moscow alone 370,000 people recently were dependent upon one scanty meal a day at soup kitchens. Lenine's railway expert, speaking in Petrograd a short time ago, said that of the remaining locomotives 200 were discarded every month for lack of repairs, and that shortly railroad transport would represent only twenty per cent of that before the Bolshevis's gained control. Of the textile plants only five per cent. were in operation.

Such trains as are available are used mainly for the Red army and its supplies, while elsewhere in the country grain rots in the warehouses and there is no fuel supply except such local wood as can be obtained. The peasants have lost the horses needed on their farms. They have food as a rule, but will not sell it for the worthless paper money offered by the cities. The price of a horse in Petrograd is 250,000 rubles. Eggs are 100 rubles each, bread 240 rubles a pound, and beef 450. The nationalized factories of Russia, which were to revolutionize production, are today turning out about thirty per cent. of the old output, and in many places even this work is done under compulsion, men being driven to work by bayonets. Until further bloodshed restores the Russians to some such sanity as that which has characterized Belgium the world cannot hope to be delivered from the Russian menace.

Mr. Robert McAlpine, a missionary from North China, will speak on "Missionary Work in China," at the Gospel Hall, 463 Eighth street, on Thursday night, commencing at eight o'clock. Mr. McAlpine has spent the past fifteen years in China and his address should be most interesting

PLEA FOR LIBERTY OF THE WINNIPEG STRIKE LEADERS

Deputation Headed by F. J. Dixon Waited on Two Cabinet Members

THEIR CONTENTION

Is That Recent Elections Demonstrated Bulk of Public Opinion Behind Strikers

Ottawa, August 18.—Pleading the cause of the imprisoned strike leaders, a deputation headed by F. J. Dixon, leader of the laborites in the Manitoba Legislature, waited upon two members of the Government yesterday afternoon. It is understood that their plea was to the effect that the recent election in Winnipeg demonstrated the people's confidence in the imprisoned men and served to show that the bulk of public opinion is behind the attitude of the men in forcing a general strike. Also that few people believe those imprisoned had any seditious intentions.

Interviewed by the Canadian Press, Senator G. Robertson, Minister of Labor, admitted that the deputation waited upon him and Solicitor General Hon. Hugh Guthrie. Asked if he cared to make a statement, Senator Robertson said the deputation was received and laid its case before the two ministers who will discuss it with their Cabinet colleagues. Friends of the imprisoned men here believe that there is every prospect of an early release for the men.

A singular fact in connection with the visit of the deputation is that neither the Prime Minister's office, nor the Department of Justice knew of the conference being held and the announcement that the conference had actually been held, came as a great surprise to them.

FRENCH AID FOR GEN. WRANGEL

Enables Him to Land Three Additional Invading Forces in Kuban Ports

Constantinople, Aug 23.—General Wrangel, the anti-Bolsheviki commander in Southern Russia, has landed three additional invading forces in Kuban ports with the purpose of encouraging Kuban uprisings against the Bolsheviki. The landing parties are reported to aggregate over 10,000. They were disembarked at Yeisk, on the Southeast of the Sea of Azov, at Taman, on the Taman peninsula, and at Sochi, on the Black Sea. French warships covered the landings which apparently had as their design the envelopment of Novorossisk and Ekaterindar and the severing of the Bolsheviki railway and highway communications Southward. The Don, Kuban, Terek and Astrakhan Cossack chiefs have signed an agreement to support General Wrangel, on condition that he does not touch their internal affairs until the conclusion of the civil war that is going on.

General Wrangel took 5,000 prisoners on the lower Dnieper in the Alechi region, where he permitted the Bolsheviki to cross the river and then cut them off by a speedy cavalry charge, giving his infantry, which had feigned a repulse, a chance to attack the surprised enemy. Kahovka now is the only bridgehead on the Nneiper held by the Bolsheviki

In the Northeastern sector Wrangel has taken a thousand prisoners and many guns.

ENTERPRISING FIRM GOING OUT OF THE RETAIL BUSINESS

Sutherland & Robertson Dispose of Stocks and Fixtures to Co-Operative Society

After ten years in the retail grocery business in Brandon Messrs. Wm. Sutherland and John Robertson, of the firm of Sutherland & Robertson have sold their stock and fixtures to the Great War Veterans Co-operative Society. Te latter will take over the business about September 6th. Mr. C. E. Irish, department manager of the Brandon Creamery and Supply Company, will be manager of the Co-Operative store. The Great War Veterans Co-operative Society has leased the building for five years and will carry on business at that stand.

It was in 1910 that Sutherland & Robertson opened for business on the present premises. They commenced business themselves and now have a staff of ten and have the largest turnover of any strictly retail grocery in Brandon. The opening of this retail store started the movement of business firms which today makes Tenth street such an important part of the business section of the city. Born in Scotland, both Mr. Sutherland and Mr. Robertson were employed in Brandon prior to commencing business for themselves. Their regular advertising played a large part in the success of their business.

For some years Sutherland & Robertson have had travellers in Saskatchewan and Northern Manitoba doing business for them among the farmers of various districts. The increased volume of trade demanded a change and they have decided to enter the wholesale grocery business. They are looking for a location in Brandon and expect to be settled in new premises early next month.

Both Mr. Sutherland and Mr. Robertson were married in Brandon soon after going into business and are looked upon as progressive, alert business men.

Mr. W. N. Sutherland has long been an officer of the Retail Merchants' Association in Brandon, was a member of the Council of the Board of Trade for a year and is now a member of the School Board. Both men are active members of the Boosters' organization.

SOVIET TROOPS CLEARED OUT OF DANZIG CORRIDOR

According to Report Received By French Mission in Poland

POLES DRIVE EASTWARD

Warsaw Holding Well, Though City Has Not Yet Been Relieved

Paris, August 18.—The Polish counter offensive with Thorn as its base, has successfully cleared the Danzig corridor of Russian troops, according to a report received from the French mission in Poland today.

Polish forces are still driving Eastward, the report says.

Paris, Aug. 18.—Warsaw is holding well, according to the latest news received here. The Poles, who were beginning to repeat their old despairing cry of 1831, "God is too high and France too far," fortified by the counsel of France's expert soldiers, have now plucked up spirits with immediate effect.

While it is too soon to forecast the favorable issue of the great battle now raging under the walls of the capital the Poles appear to retain the initiative they took Saturday and continue to hold the Bolsheviki in check. In the South-east on the Western Bug, they have scored notable successes. Nevertheless, the situation, with Warsaw threatened from three sides, undoubtedly remains serious and everything depends on the ability of the Poles to keep up their aggressiveness.

It is considered insignificant in military circles that the Moscow wireless has been unusually silent.

Paris, Aug. 18.—Tireless efforts by the Poles to push back the invading Bolsheviki have resulted in the capture of important strategic positions. Three days ago the Polish forces faced an extremely critical situation, with the Red centre virtually reaching the outer forts of the capital. On the right wing the Soviet troops had captured the Pultusk-Serock bridgehead, driving the Poles from the fork where the Narew joins the Bug.

On Sunday, however, the Poles launched a counter-offensive from Novo Georgievsk, clearing the North bank of the Narew, and Monday they captured the Serock bridgehead before the Bolsheviki had time to establish themselves. Operations are now proceeding against the Pultusk forts.

The Reds in their retreat abandoned considerable booty which has not yet been inventoried. Operations by the Polish right against the Vieprz and the middle Bug continue according to plan.

FIVE ALLEGED KIDNAPPERS TO STAND TRIAL

Charged With Forcible Removal of One Big Union Organizer From Benfait, Sask.

Bienfait, Sask., Aug. 20. — Three more of those concerned in the alleged kidnapping of P. M. Christophers, organizer for the One Big Union, who was spirited out of Bienfait on the night of July 3, and left at Noonan, N.D., were committed for trial Wednesday by Magistrate McEachern, while two others were dismissed.

Those committed were S. Dryden, A. Gough and James Clarke, while T. Jones and Roy Thompson were dismissed. Bail of $10,000 each and sureties of $4,000 were required from those committed. By arrangement with counsel the five men mentioned were tried collectively, and practically the same evidence as in the cases of Munroe and Hunter was adduced by the Crown. Christophers did not give evidence owing to the fact that in the previous cases he had stated he could not identify the last five men.

Evidence was given by Detective Killwan, of the Provincial Police, as to statements he obtained from these men, while evidence was also given by witnesses who had seen these men at the Bienfait hotel on the night in question.

Magistrate McEachern expressed a doubt as to whether the evidence was strong enough against Thompson and Jones to commit for trial, but had no hesitancy in sending the other three up for hearing. With Wednesday's trial, the first chapter in the legal hearing of the now famous Bienfait "kidnapping" case has come to a close. Five out of the seven men charged have been sent up for trial.

REVENUE FROM PRISONERS' WORK FOR FAMILIES

Is Suggestion Made by Ohio Warden — Urges More Education and Religion

Columbus, Ohio, August 21.—Warden P. E. Thomas of thes tate penitentiary here, is strongly in favor of a law providing that families of criminals receive the proceeds of the prisoners' labors while a ward of the state. "The State of Ohio has no right," he says, "to punish the families of criminals by depriving them of support by the family head."

The state, he says, should put every prisoner to work. He says the state should have five brick plants instead of one to keep the vast number of prisoners confined in the penitentiary employed.

"Work, religion and education bring about growth in prisoners," he says. "Idleness is a curse. Ignorance is a curse. Folks like to talk about the colege graduates in the penitentiary, but they are the exception; ignorance is the rule."

CROPS IN NORTH SASKATCHEWAN BEST IN HISTORY

Wheat Will Average About 25 Bushels to the Acre

Prince Albert, Aug. 21.—Northern Saskatchewan is now harvesting what will prove one of the best crops in its history. Late season developments have turned what in mid-July looked like a failure into a splendid revival, the results of which are astonishing to the farmers. Wheat will average 20 to 25 bushels to the acre, oats 40 to 120 and barley from 35 to 50. Potatoes, field roots and garden produce were never better. There has been an enormous return of wild fruits. Farm labor is slightly below the demand but the situation in this regard is not such as to seriously hamper the harvesting.

VILLA MADE THE PROFITEERS STAND LOSS OF GOODS

Equipped His Men From Stocks of Merchants Who Made Most Profit

San Antonia, Tex., Aug. 21.—The whimsical caprices of Francisco Villa which have ranged from practical jokes to violent outbursts, had an odd climax at the little town of Sabinas, Coahuila, when Villa concluded the terms of surrender to the De la Huerta provisional government of Mexico.

After closing the Sabinas brewery and all saloons, Villa dispatched four "auditors" to audit the books of all the larger mercantile establishments of the town and report to him the names of those men whose books showed the most profit made during the past 12 months. This being accomplished he requisitioned on these stores for shoes, hats, breeches, underwear, socks, shirts, forage, horseshoes, leather, pack mules and horses.

Later Villa told General Martinez with whom he concluded terms for surrender that he did not expect the provisional government to pay for these goods as "the people he had taken clothing and provisions from were able to lose it on account of the large profits made during the past year." All of the materials seized were issued immediately to Villa's command.

WOMAN ORDERED TO LEAVE TOWN

Refused to Give Account of Herself — Swallow Disc When Arrested

A woman who gave her name as Elizabeth Smith, is being sent out of the city today by the police. She has been in charge since Thursday following her suspicious movements on the streets of this city on that day. She was first noticed acting in a queer manner on Pacific Avenue, and when she gave her address as Winnipeg, the police saw her to the station on the train for that city.

On Thursday she was again found in the city and when she saw the policeman, took flight. Her actions were suspicious and the police took her to the station where she was asked to give an account of herself. During the interview with the police she suddenly slipped something into her mouth, and in the efforts made to get it away from her, the woman swallowed it. The woman told the police that it was a metal disc used as a means of identification. It was believed that the woman is in some way connected with a band of much-wanted men, but as there is no direct evidence against her, she is being sent out of the city. She is reported to be sick following the swallowing of the disc, but refused to go to the Hospital when ordered to do so by a medical man.

Six more infractions of the Manitoba Motor Vehicle Act were hailed into Court this morning and were dealt with by the Magistrate, while two young bays of the gang of garden thieves, were also on the docket.

BUY GOODS IN GREAT BRITAIN: OUTLOOK BRIGHT

Sir George Perley Advises Canadian Merchants to Order From Britain

Ottawa, Aug.21.—"Great Britain is having its troubles, and lots of them, but it will pull out all right and maintain her smile upon civilization," said Sir George Perley, Canadian High Commissioner in London, on his return from the Old Country with Lady Perley.

Sir George was pleased with the Changed position regarding Poland. He expressed the belief that the new turn of events would result in the mix-up between the Bolsheviki and Poles being straightened out much more quickly than if the Reds had reached Warsaw.

Asked regarding Canadian trade in Europe, Sir George said that outlook never was so bright. He counselled Canadian merchants to buy every possible dollar's worth of goods in Great Britain rather than in the United States. This he said, would have a double advantage in that it would strengthen Empire relations and offset the exchange situation.

COLONIZATION ASSOCIATION TO GET DOWN TO WORK

Money Subscribed on Certain Understandings Which Must be Lived Up To

Regina, Sask., Aug. 21. — Definite steps toward obtaining a Dominion-wide charter for the Western Canada Colonization Association are being taken at a conference of delegates from the three prairie provinces which opened here Friday. M. A. Brown, mayor of Medicine Hat, provisional president of the association, is presiding over the sessions, which probably will occupy two days. There are six members of the executive councils of Alberta, Manitoba, and five members of the Saskatchewan council present.

Friday there was a general discussion of future operations of the association. J. H. Ashdown, of Winnipeg, one of the founders, said that before any further steps are taken to collect voluntary subscriptions, the association should be placed on a business basis and the general terms of the charter agreed upon.

It was then decided to consider the draft charter prepared by Isaac Pitblado, K.C., of Winnipeg, and to obtain the services of Norman MacKenzie, K.C., of Regina, to assist in advising the members of the association regarding the legal questions involved in preparing a charter.

H. B. Shaw, of Winnipeg, general manager of the Union Bank of Canada, expressed the opinion that because $900,000 already has been promised on certain understandings it be impossible for the association to deviate from the basic principles set out in the memorandum used in the cast. He was also of the opinion it would be advisable to have several Eastern contributors represented on the executive committee that they would be satisfied with all the expenditures of money made.

Immediately after the draft charter has been agreed upon the conference will enter upon a discussion of the method to be adopted in raising the funds to $1,500,000.

APPEAL TO LABOR

To Stop War With Ireland—Protest Treatment of Lord Mayor MacSweeney

Lisburn, Ireland, Aug. 23. — The business part of Lisburn today presented a scene of ruin and desolation as a result of the burning of shops by the Loyalists in revenge for the murder of Police Inspector Swanzey on Sunday.

During the night the sky was lighted up by flames from shops of supposed Sinn Feiners, the fires also involving a number of Loyalist premises. Private homes of Sinn Feiners were burned and furniture carried into the street and ignited. The military authorities posted a guard over the Catholic Chapel.

Appeal to Labor Leaders

Dublin, Aug. 23.—The executive of the Irish Labor Party in an appeal to British Labor to stop "the war with Ireland" as they did with Russia and holding them responsible of continued, says: "The military governors whom you placed over us calculate that the death of the Lord Mayor of Cork will lead to an uprising which can be suppressed only by wholesale slaughter."

Send Protests to Premier

Dublin, Aug. 23.—Sir Stanley Harrington, leader of the Cork deputation to Lloyd George, and Captain Harrison, secretary of the Irish Peace Conference, have sent protests to the Government against the treatment of Lord Mayor MacSweeney and other hunger strikers.

Police Inspector Murdered

Belfast, Aug. 23.—Police Inspector Swanzey, against whom a verdict of wilful murder had been given for his connection with the case of Terrence MacSweeny, Lord Mayor of Cork, was shot dead Sunday while proceeding to his home from church at Lisburn, to which place he had been transferred after the finding of the court of inquiry.

An attempt was made to wreck the shop of a Sinn Fein leader within 40 yards of the scene of the crime, and only intervention by Ulster volunteers prevented it.

The crowd then attacked the residence of a Nationalist Republican, who fired from a window. His assailants returned the fire and wounded him.

Most Daring of Series

The killing of Inspector Swanzey was among the most daring of a long series. The congregations were leaving all the Protestant churches at the time and converging on the scene of the shooting. The officer had been with his mother and sister in attendance upon the services at Christ church and had reached the corner of Railway Street, where he resided.

Here three men, armed with rifles, confronted Swanzey and fired on him in the presence of his horrified family. Swanzey fell, but to make doubly sure, the assailants discharged their weapons again in to his body.

Escape by Taxi

Turning, the assassins ran along Castle street. The congregation was just emerging from Lisburn cathedral. Capt. Woods, commandant of the Lisburn branch of the Ulster volunteers, made a dash for the assassins, although only armed with a stick. The assassins fired on Woods, a bullet shattering the stick in his hand. He was not injured.

The murderers then fired on other persons who had joined in the pursuit, without effect, and jumped into a waiting taxicab and drove off toward Belfast. All the roads converging on the city were promptly patrolled by police and military, but the assassins escaped.

Jury's Verdict

The verdict at the McCurtain inquest found Premier Lloyd George, Viscount French, Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, and others, including Swanzey, guilty of murder. Applause followed the mention of Swanzey's name and it was deemed advisable to transfer him to Lisburn, an overwhelmingly Unionist centre.

In some quarters here the belief is expressed that the shooting of Swanzey was an attempt to intimidate the government in connection with the incarceration of Lord Mayor MacSweeny of Cork.

A police patrol was ambushed Sunday afternoon at Dundalk. One constable was shot dead and two wounded.

ORGANIZED FARMERS OF WEST TO START FALL CAMPAIGN

Farmers in Three Prairie Provinces to Secure More Supporters To Inaugurate a Drive

Winnipeg, Aug. 23.—The organized farmers of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta will put on campaigns at the same time this Fall for the purpose of securing more supporters, according to R. M. Johnson, secretary of the provincial committee of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers. The "drive" will take place in the first week in November. The Saskatchewan committee is planning to hold a provincial convention early in October and later in the same month to have meetings in every municipality preparatory to the drive.

Conventions Great Success

Referring to the constituency conventions that are now being held in Saskatchewan, Mr. Johnson said that "the success of these conventions has far exceeded the expectations of many of those responsible for calling them, and real good work has been done."

Battle Already Half Won

R. M. Johnson said that the battle in Saskatchewan was already half won, as eight Saskatchewan M.P.'s were already on the cross benches in parliament. He hoped that the other eight seats would be won at the next election.

At the constituency convention in Last Mountain 500 delegates were present. Funds collected amounted to $13,004. Chairman Geo. F. Edwards, of Markinch, said that the fact that the convention was shown to comprise representation from all the towns and villages in the country was a tribute to the value of the educational work which had been performed in the past year by the executive.

Referring to the attitude of the Canadian Council of Agriculture on the question of forming a national political organization with a central executive, to work in unison with various provincial organizations, Mr. Edwards stated that at the meeting in Winnipeg last Spring, when the various county and provincial executives from Western Canada discused this matter fully, it was felt that, in view of the many differences between the various provinces in methods of provincial organization that the time was not yet opportune for such a movement. A resolution, however, was passed recommending to the Canadian Council of Agriculture that a close study be made of the political situation and the progress of organization in the various provinces, and as soon as deemed advisable to call a meeting for the purpose of establishing a complete federal organization with a central staff.

BRANDON RINKS SECURE PRIZES IN EATON EVENT

Dr. Church and Creelman Get Third and Fourth in Big Competition at Winnipeg

Two Brandon rinks figured prominently in the prize winners in the Eaton competition at the Winnipeg Lawn Bowling tournament. Dr. Church's rink from the Brandon Club captured third place while Creelman's rink secured fourth. Both local rinks were put out of the running for the first two positions on Saturday. The Eaton trophy was won by Craig of Port Arthur, while Dean Rutherford of Saskatoon got second place. Play throughout the competition was very keen, and the showing made by the Brandon rinks in view of the many rinks entered is exceptionally noteworthy.

Dr. Church's rink was well advanced in two other competitions, the Spiers-Parnell and Walter Woods events, but they were knocked out of the running in the closing rounds, although the Brandon Club rink did not meet defeat in the Spiers-Parnell until entering the fours. Creelmans' rink did well at the tournament, but Turner was unfortunate in his games. J. Rees played well in the singles and was not eliminated from play until Saturday, although he di not get in the prize winning company. Rees and Robertson were also put out of the doubles competition in the closing rounds of that event.

RAILWAY BOARD TO PASS JUDGMENT ON RATE INCREASE

Carvell Declares No Improvement Possible in Presentation of Case by Other Sittings

THREE FINAL ADDRESSES

J. B. Coyne Contends C. P. R. Position for Consideration of Application

Ottawa, Aug. 23.—Argument in the application of the Canadian railways for increased freight and passenger rates was completed Saturday, and the case is now before the Board of Railway Commissioners for judgment. Indications are that the decision will not long be delayed. When the hearing closed Chief Commissioner Carvel thanked counsel for the courteous and businesslike way in which the case had been presented and said the board had been placed in a position which would enable it to render a fair and impartial judgment.

He expressed the opinion that the presentation of the case had vindicated the decision of the board not to hold sittings outside the capital. He was confident if the board had held Eastern or Western sittings, it would have obtained merely a repetition of the evidence and arguments which had been adduced in Ottawa. He thought that H. J. Symington, K.C., and J. B. Coyne, K.C., of Winnipeg, representing Western interests, had done all that was humanly possible for that section of the country.

The three final addresses of the sitting were given by Mr. Coyne, representing Western Boards of Trade, F. H. Phippen, K.C., appearing for the Canadian Railway Association, and W. N. Tilley, K.C., counsel for the Canadian Pacific.

Mr. Coyne in summarizing his arguments, declared that the railways had not treated the public fairly in connection with the making of this application; that they had not treated the Board fairly, and had come before that body under circumstances not fair to the public. The Canadian Pacific, he said, had asked for increases in rates when the company had not really suffered a deficit. It was true there might be some truth in the contentions put forward, but the Canadian Pacific should wait. If the operations of the company in 1920 should produce a deficit, then it could come before the Board, but not now. Finally he urged that there should be a considerable increase in Eastern rates before Western rates are touched.

Coyne's Contentions

Ottawa, Aug. 23.—J. B. Coyne, of Winnipeg, representing the Winnipeg and other Western Canada Boards of Trade, took up the argument in opposition to increased railway rates before the railway commission Saturday. He explained, in opening, that there is a distinction between Western and Eastern Boards of Trade, inasmuch as the membership of the former is not confined exclusively to commercial and manufacturing interests.

The professional interests and employes were also represented, and as a result of this the Winnipeg Board of Trade had the largest membership of any in the country. Therefore, he was representing the consumer as much as the commercial interests.

He was attempting to look at the application of the railways from a broad standpoint, said Mr. Coyne, and there was no hostility in his attitude toward the railways. The West wanted a continuation of good service, and recognized that a reasonable remuneration must be given for such a service. He took it that the C.P.R. was the company which would be regarded as the basis for consideration of the application.

Phippen Objects

F. H. Phippen, K.C., representing the Canadian Railway Association, refused to concede that the C.P.R. should be regarded as the basis.

Mr. Coyne then proceeded to give his reasons for insisting that the C. P. R. was the only fair road to consider when discussing increased rates. For the purpose of the application, he said, the other railways must be ignored absolutely. Suppose, he said, one railway was carrying on a profitable business in a certain field. Another railway chose to enter this field as a business speculation. The second railway assumed that the rates would remain as they were when the first railway was operating profitably alone. If the second railway lost money, its shareholders would have to make up the deficit. The rates would not be raised to accommodate it.

GREAT INTEREST IN POSSIBILITY OF COAL STRIKE

British Coal Miners Balloting This Week on Strike Question

GOVERNMENT FIRM

Unless a Compromise is Reached Strike May Be Inaugurated Within a Month

London, Aug. 23.—Much space is devoted by all the London newspapers today to the coal strike which is being balloted this week. Present indications show the likelihood of a large majority voting in favor of a strike. The Government appears determined not to grant the wage advance of fifty cents per shift and a reduction of the price of coal to the public amounting to about $3.50 a ton. Unless a compromise is reached, the strike may become effective in a month.

BRITAIN WILLING THAT EGYPT SHALL BE FREE

While Egypt Will Recognize Britain's Privileges in Nile Valley

London, Aug. 23. — The London Times says this morning it understands that Great Britain has agreed to recognize the independence of Egypt.

The decision, according to the London Times, resulted from recent conversations here between the Viscount Milner mission, which recently visited Egypt, and an Egyptian delegation, headed by Said Sagloul Pasha, former minister of justice.

Among the fundamental points of the agreement are: Egypt will recognize Great Britain's privileged position in the valley of the Nile and agrees, in case of war, to afford every facility for access to Egyptian territory. Great Britain will maintain a garrison in Egypt in the canal zone. Egypt regains control of foreign relations, subject to her not making treaties contrary to British policy, and will have the right to maintain independence abroad. Capitulations will be abolished.

ANOTHER DROP IN SUGAR PRICES

Said to Be Due to War Between Refiners—Sugar Cheap in Detroit

With another drop the end of last week of seventy cents per hundred pounds, granulated sugar is now selling for $24.75 per sack. A further drop is predicted in the near future. The decrease in price is said to be due to the keen competition existing between Eastern and British Columbia refineries, which has become almost a war since the British Columbia refineries again entered the market.

Cheaper prices for sugar in the United States may also bring down the price in Canada. In detroit sugar was selling on Saturday for seventeen cents a pound against twenty-five cents in Brandon. A Detroit merchant stated that the reason the bottom had fallen out of the sugar market in Detroit was because of the the large exportations from Canada.

SPIRITUAL VALUES ARE EMERGING SAYS PREACHER

Unbelief in God's Love As Revealed in Christ Jesus, is Root Sin

REV. J. GEORGE MILLER

Delivers Stirring Address at Sunday Morning Service in St. Paul's

In an interesting address at the morning service in St. Paul's Church on Sunday, Rev. J. George Miller urged the need of the people of today for God. This was the third of a series of sermons preached during the Union services and the texts chosen were, John 14:6, "I am the Way, the Truth and the Life: no man cometh unto the Father but by Me;" and 1 Tim. 2:5, "For there is one God, one Mediator also between God and men, the man, Christ Jesus." The gist of the sermon follows:

"Four outstanding facts bear witness to Jesus as Revealer of God's love and Mediator between God and men.

First: Jesus was conscious of his mission to bring men into right relationship with God. Christs claim for Himself, His life and death all evidence the passion of His life to bring men to know the Father. "The Son of man came to give his life a ransom for many." He makes the startling claim, "No man cometh unto the Father but by me." Either He was self-deceived above all men and the arch deceiver of his fellows or He was all that he claimed the Mediator between God and men.

Second: The Christian centuries bear witness to His claim. Every real spiritual forward movement has centred around the preaching of Jesus as Mediator between God and men. The philosophy of men has never been adequate to make men right with God. In the German destructive criticism, in the principles underlying socialism, in the low standard of moral life with its love of luxury and ease and pleasure there is a lost sense of sin—there is therefore no sense of need of a Mediator. Unbelief in God's love as revealed in Christ Jesus is the root sin. Unresponsiveness to the approach of God is our condemnation. We are on the eve of a great spiritual revival. We are passing through a period of unrest similar to that which has followed every great war. Spiritual values are emerging. We are created for fellowship with God. The man in men needs God. Nothing less will satisfy men. Again men will discover for themselves the truth of the claim of Jesus: "I am the Way, the Truth and the Life: no man cometh to the Father but by Me."

Third: Personal experience of millions who have come into new relationship with God is trustworthy evidence. The scientific mind of today seeks facts. When we see reformed men standing in our midst we can say nothing against their testimony. Harold Beglue and several other writers have emphasized the fact that faith in Jesus as Mediator has wrought a tremendous transformation in many a life. Facts are stubborn things. Christianity, when it gets its opportunity, makes good men. It works. Millions in the world today confirm the experience of Paul and of those who have believed through twenty centuries of Christian experience.

Human Nature Needs Help

Fourth: Our human nature needs help. The ethnic religions and the philosophies of men have made their effort to lift the race. All literature recognizes the existence of evil in the world and the source is in the evil will of men.

If men are not sinners, supremely in need of salvation, Christianity has no mission in the world. If good works alone are adequate for man's salvation Christ's death was earth's greatest tragedy and we have no longer ground for hope for the triumph of right. Human nature witnesses to the need of a Divine love and grace which will win man's confidence in God's love and lead him to make the venture of faith. In this way an evil will is changed into a good will and a good life follows. A Christless culture is a peril to civilization. Only as men come to appreciate human need shall they come to recognize the mission of Jesus Christ as the Mediator between God and men. The ethics of Christ springs from His union with God. To talk about having the ethics of Christ among men without a recognition or acknowledgement of the will conformed to Our Father's will through faith in God's love as He has revealed Himself in Jesus the Mediator is to give expression to the empty imaginings of men who deny Christ and His mission and to attempt to put the fools cap on twenty centuries of Christian experience which has found its ground of Faith in Jesus Christ the one Mediator between God and men.

The only hope for the Kingdom of God is to give Jesus His rightful place as Saviour and Lord."

SCARCITY OF GOOD JOBS; FALLING OFF IN BUYING; PRICES COMING DOWN

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 19.—Warning to prepare for a general decline in prices was issued here by Paul Findlay, of Los Angeles, Cal., addressing the session of the Wisconsin Association of Retailers. He asserted there was a falling off in buying, due to scarcity of good jobs and laying off of many in industries, as reported last week, especially in auto centres, and declared this reduction in buying would cause a drop in prices.

REVOLUTION IN CENTRAL EUROPE IN OCTOBER

Soviet Government Agent Arrives in Vienna to Get Propaganda Working

Paris, Aug. 23. —Soviet Russia is preparing to foment a revolution in Central Europe, scheduled to take place in October. Lincoln Steffans, chief propaganda agent of the Soviet Government, has arrived in Vienna, accompanied by four other Soviet commissioners.

They have been commissioned to create headquarters in the Austrian capital, from which all the propaganda of the revolutionists will be sent, and which ultimately will become the headquarters of the revolution itself.

These reports are brought back to Paris from Vienna by Americans who say that Steffans is making no secret of the fact that Austria is expected quietly to turn Communist. When this is accomplished, he is quoted as saying, the revolution will be spread to Czecho-Slovakia, Roumania, Hungary and from the latter country into Germany and even farther West.

'PHONE COMMUNICATION WITH AIRPLANE AND PILOT GETS A MESSAGE

London, Aug. 23.—What is claimed to be the first commercial conversation conducted by telephone through the ordinary central and wireless with a man in an airplane was carried out successfully Saturday. It was not an experiment, but was used for the delivery of imperative instructions.

A member of a London shipping firm, using an ordinary desk telephone, was able to give one of his air pilots flying across the English Channel, to Paris, instructions affecting coal supplies at Marseilles, which had run short on account of the Cardiff coal strike. Connection was first established with the Croydon airdrome, and it was then switched through to the air ministrys wireless installation. After two calls by the official at the desk, an answer came from the pilot in the air. The caller was able to hear the whizzing propellers. The pilot told him he was just passing over Folkestone.

SPELLBINDERS ARE VERY BUSY IN POLITICAL FIELD

If Electors Do Not Understand Political Issues by Fall It Won't Be Leaders' Fault

PRESS CONFERENCE

Canadian Delegates Did Not Make Themselves Heard or Influence Felt

Ottawa, August 19.—The political spellbinders are as busy as the binders in the grain fields, which is a very good indication of how busy they are. At Newmarket, Ont., Mackenzie King began a series of meetings which will take him throughout Canada. Four days later at Stirling, Ont., Mr. Meighen delivered his first political announcement since he became Prime Minister, and he too will spend much of the next two months in going up and down the country, among other things, visiting the West again, going as far as the Coast. In the meantime, the Farmers and Labor are busy, in Ontario the former has been hard at it all Summer. In a political cause they neither slumber nor sleep.

If by Fall the electors do not fully understand the issues of the day, it will not be the fault of the political leaders. The chieftains of the two old-time parties have been slow in entering the field, but having started they are now making up for lost time. In their own interest they should have been at it long ago. The country wants to be talked to. When the country is wrought up the only thing to do is to try to reason with it, the probability being that between reason and persuason it will be brought into a more reasonable frame of mind. Too long the importance of the personality of public men has been lost sight of. During the war the country was carried along on the tide of a great peril, the imminence of which danger subordinated the importance of leadership. At least, the country did without it; but this strong impelling influence having passed the personality of political leaders becomes of more importance.

Ontario is Important

It will be observed that much importance is being attached to Ontario. The Government looks on that province as important being eager to hold what support it has there. The Liberals consider it important because they need support in that province very badly. Besides, it is Mackenzie King's own province and a following of but eight or nine in a representation of eighty-two does not look well. The Famers have made strong inroads on the support of both parties. Indeed, there seems to be an inclination to leave the field to them, in the rural districts at least. This, however, will not do, unless the old parties desire to put themselves completely out of the running. Then again, Labor has quite a large following in the towns and cities, which is ominous to the regulars. For the time being, Quebec is left quite alone by the spellbinders; by the Liberals because they consider it useless to speak to the converted; by the Government, for the probable reason that it is looking for a more convenient season.

Difference in Speeches

The speeches of the Prime Minister and Mackenzie King differ materially. The former's was very militant in character, hard-hitting being quite noticeable, it being desired to rally the old-time forces. It was packed full of common sense, and undoubtedly will appeal strongly to hard-headed men, who have a stake in the country.

Mackenzie King's effort was not as militant. It contained a rallying call, but there was a strong persuasive appeal to old Liberals, a painstaking effort to convince them that the Unionist Government, which many of them supported, no longer exists. Both will, no doubt, follow these lines right through; it is natural to them, and besides, it best suits their purpose just now.

In both pronouncements there was little of a new character. This was to be expected. Both leaders' plan of campaign has been determined largely by circumstances. In appealing for support for the policy that, as he put it, "has brought us so far," the Prime Minister was bound to defend, in the main, what has been done; and in order to gain support Mr. King's method has been one chiefly of condemnation. In the working out of policies it is unlikely that he will get very far from the old positions.

These political picnics provide an excellent means for getting a line, not only on the prosperity of the country, but also of ascertaining the change that has come over rural conditions. In all parts of the country the automobile may be considered a fairly good evidence of prosperity, or the lack of it; it is an evedence also of up-to-date methods. In Ontario the auto is about as generally used by farmers as it is in the prairie provinces, which is saying a good deal. In Ontario also a number of farmers are taking the weekly half-holiday, just the same as the people in the cities and towns. Undoubtedly this is being forced by the younger generation, which is unable to see why the farmer should not have half a day off a week as well as the city people. The Eastern farmer today is working along new lines.

Bidding For Labor

Aside from other things, the Eastern farmer has to bid against the cities and towns for labor, which partially explains the introduction of better working conditions. It also puts up against the labor problem in a manner unknown to the farmer on the plains. Both suffer through lack of labor, but in the West there is no such development in manufacturing as is being experienced today in Ontario and Quebec. Hydro-electric energy has transformed these provinces, and the rise of new important industrial cities and towns has started a stream of labor from the farms which, apparently, can only be offset through the latter offering as good labor conditions as the factories. This condition of affairs may not last; but it is the one that the farmers must face today. It is all right to talk of some of these manifestations being bad for the country; but the worker intends to take his chance on that.

Imperial Press Conference

The Imperial Press Conference held at Ottawa has received a great deal of attention, and naturally so; but it was hardly the epoch-making event that some described it. From a distance it seemed to look a great deal more important than it was close up. As a press conference, indeed it was in some respects a kind of disappointment. There were few notable addresses during the sessions, though there were a number of notable ones at the attendant festivities.

John W. Dafoe, of the Manitoba Free Press, made possibly the most important contribution to the proceedings, standing up manfully for the Canadian point of view on the subject of Imperial relations. He said that dependance was quite out of the question, and that Canada from now on must be considered an equal with the Mother Country. In plain but courteous language he stated the position and was heartily applauded. If the delegates were looking for Canadian opinion, they did not, outside of Dafoe"s remarks, get much of it at Ottawa. There were about thirty Canadians in attendance, but Dafoe was the only one who had the courage to state the Canadian viewpoint. The rest either said nothing or merely re-echoed the opinions or those from overseas. It is remarkable how some of the native born lose their tongues in the presence of a lord or a duke. It did not seem to occur to the average Canadian delegate that if he were to be accepted on a basis of equality he should be expected to take an equal part in the discussion. In Imperial matters, to be merely a sounding board for overseas opinion is the very thing that the people of this country do not want. Incidentally, to hear the Duke of Devonshire say, "My lords and gentlemen" was to be expected for he could not very well address those of his own rank in any other way; but to have a Canuck say this is a litle too much.

Desirability of Co-operative Action

A great deal has been said of a desirability of co-operate action on the part of the Press of the Empire; but the discussion on matters of business soon brought out the fact that the problems of the press of the British Isles, Australia or New Zealand were not those of the press of Canada.

THE MEXICANS WANT HIM

One of the best known railway men on the Continent, who has been approached by the Government of Mexico to take hold of the reconstruction of the railroads in that country.

this country newsprint at 6 1-2 cents a pound is considered high, but it comes as high as 22 cents in the Antipodes. The way some of the Australian publishers criticized some of the Canadian newsprint makers for prices was rather startling. They also had their own opinions about the size of Canadian dailies. In unmistakable language they said that it was no use uttering a lot of fine talk about Imperial co-operation and then "soaking" them for paper. There was no convincing them that the state of affairs could not be changed. The trouble is that the talk of Imperial partnership has been carried to such lengths that it has given rise to expectations that cannot be met.

Difference in Problems

In the matter of cable services, the problems of the press in the Antipodes are not those of the press of Canada. The best cable copy available can, in this country, be had at very reasonable rates because of our proximity to the United States, where some of the greatest papers in the English-speaking world are published. The explanation is that the heavy portion of the expense falls on them and they sell the cables in Canada for very nearly what they can get. It is idle to say that this is doctored matter, for the very best papers in the United States insist on getting the truth. It is true that some good may come of the proposed wireless service throughout the Empire, but if it is feasible the big news agencies of the world will have it first.

ROAD BUILDERS FIND RUINS OF ANCIENT TIBERIAS

Work Stopped While Experts Make Excavations to Identify Ruins

London, Aug. 19.—The site of ancient Tiberias is believed to have been unearthed, says a Jerusalem dispatch to the London Times. The alleged discovery of ruins of the city which played a notable part in Jewish and Christian history, was made by Jewish workmen who were building a government road near Tabariyeh, the modern town.

When the remains of old walls and columns began coming to light the Government immediately stopped the work. The Director of the Department of Antiquities then visited the spot, accompanied by two members of the Jewish Exploration Society. The society has been given permission to conduct further excavations.

WHEN SUMMER HOME IS NOT A HOME

St. Thomas, Ont., Aug. 19.—County Magistrate Hunt decided that a Summer cottage occupied by more than one family is not a private dwelling under the meaning of the Ontario Temperance Act and fined a Hamilton man named O'Connor, who ordered liquor sent to his Summer home at Port Stanley, which he was occupying with another family. The magistrate suggested appeal on the case.

ABOUT 500 MEN HAVE BEEN PLACED IN THIS DISTRICT

More Than 150 Men Placed on Tuesday—$5 Per Day the Wage

MORE MEN NEEDED

Two Excursion Trains Arrive Tonight Over the C.N.R. Lines

Three hundred and four men have been placed by the Provincial Employment Bureau on farms already this week, according to information supplied this morning. The greatest day's work in filling applications for help, was done on Tuesday when no less than 150 men were sent from Brandon to fill jobs in this district. Together with the men who have been engaged by the farmers on the streets it is estimated that close on to 500 men have been placed since the first harvest special came West.

There are still only a few men leaving the special trains as they come West, as they are holding out for higher wages. Several foreigners were asked this morning how much they wanted to go out to the harvest fields, and they stated that their wage would be $6 a day for stooking and $7 a day during threshing. Practically all the farmers in the Brandon district have been successful in getting their harvest help at $5 a day although some cases are reported where a wage of $6 was paid. This has only been however where it was absolutely necessary for the farmer to have immediate help.

Applications are still coming in for help and despite the number placed in the Brandon district there is still a demand for three hundred men. Several excursions are expected from the East, two coming in over the C.N.R. this evening. With the arrival of these trains, it is anticipated that the farm help needed for this district will be fairly well supplied, providing of course that the men will stop over.

Many of the harvesters have adopted a policy when coming to the West to buy a ticket just as far as their money would take them. Naturally a large number are forced to get off all trains, and have found themselves in the awkward predicament of not having a cent to buy meals with while waiting in the city to get placed. If they are sent to some outside point, it is usually the case of "borrowing from a pal," but in almost every case the railroad fare has been found in some way, and the applicant gets to his destination.

In connection with the shooting of one of the harvesters at O'Brien in Quebec by some special police, when harvesters attempted to raid the store, one of the harvesters this morning stated that the man killed was an innocent bystander. He was standing by the train talking to his father, when the shooting opened up the street, and a stray bullet hit him, killing the lad instantly.

HEAVY RAINFALL AFTER WARM DAY

Storm General Over Brandon District—One-and-one Half Inches of Rain

After one of the hottest days this Summer, when the thermometer registered 95, the heavy rainstorm Wednesday night was a welcome change. During the storm 1½ inches of rain fell which will do a great deal of good to late crops and gardens. The storm seems to have been general in Brandon district and was one of the heaviest rains this year. The highest temperature this year was on August 7th, when the mercury reached 98. This was as hot as the hottest day last Summer, August 19th, when the thermometer also registered 98.

PROTEST AGAINST AN INCREASE IN FREIGHT RATES

Deloraine, Man., Aug. 19—Emphatic protest against "the autocratic methods of F. B. Carvell as representing the Railway Commission, was made by the Deloraine Board of Trade in a resolution passed at a meeting held Wednesday to discuss the proposed increase in freight rates.

Strong opposition to any increase was expressed. Reasons given were that the C.P.R. did not need advanced rates to meet its expenditures; that if the National roads needed such assistance it should be paid from Government revenue, that the increase asked would mean another advance in living costs, which would mean another request for advance in salaries, "to be followed by another increase in transportation rates, ad infinitum."

FIGHT AGAINST INCREASED RATES WESTERN WHEAT

Counsel for Manitoba Government Makes Strong Objection to Increases

RATES ON WHEAT

Should Not Be Such As to Pay Loss on Other Classes of Freight

Ottawa, Aug. 19.—The desire of the representatives of the Prairie Provinces that in the event of higher rates being granted, they should not be made applicable to grain, and more particularly wheat, was emphasized at the resumed hearing by the Railway Board of the application of the railways for increased rates, this morning. This demand was pressed by H. I. Symington, counsel for the Government of Manitoba, in the further examination by him of Wm. J. Moule, Assistant Comptroller of the C.P.R., who appears to be the star witness in the case. "Our contention is," declared Symington, "that whatever advances are given in rates should not apply to grain rates. Wheat should not be called upon to pay any losses in earnings on other commodities carried by the railways."

Interesting Development

Ottawa, Aug. 19.—An interesting development in the hearing before the Railway Commission of the application of the Canadian railways for increases in freight and passenger rates came just before the five o'clock adjournment Wednesday, when H. J. Symington, counsel for the Government of Manitoba, threw out the suggestion that in view of the fact that operating expenses are lower and exist for an increase of rates in the earnings higher on Western C.P.R. lines, the same necessity does not west.

Mr. Symington had been examining W. J. Moule, Assistant Comptroller of the C.P.R., at length on the cost of operation in the East and West, it being shown that during the past four years net operating expenses in the West are lower than in the East and the net earnings per train mile are higher, those for 1919 being approximately 80 per cent. higher.

"Would you say, in view of these figures," asked Mr. Symington, "that freight rate increases should be the same in the West as in the East, if the increase is to be upon the basis of paying money for services rendered?"

Mr. Moule, in reply, said that operating expenses in the East are largely incurred for the benefit of the West. These include large expenditures for port terminals, etc. For this reason, he said, operating ratios are not a proper indication of earnings on Eastern and Western lines. Expenses in the East of this kind were not, he said, spread over the entire system.

Traffic Originates in West

"Is not more traffic originated in the West for the long haul," asked Mr. Symington.

Mr. Moule: "I suppose it does."

"Even so," interposed Chief Commissioner Carvell, "does it not have to be transported over one thousand miles of waste country?"

Mr. Symington remarked that it was strange that the Lake Superior C.P.R. division was one of the best paying divisions of the C.P.R.

Commissioner McLean compared the Superior division to a bridge which must be maintained, and Mr. Carvell said that without it production in the West would not amount to much.

Mr. Symington remarked that the West originates most of the traffic, and to this Chairman Carvell agreed. "If it were not for the west," he observed, "that section of the railway would not be there at all.' He added that it would take a powerful argument to convince him that it was a paying piece of railway.

Wheat Movement Important

Earlier in Mr. Symington's examination of Mr. Moule he emphasized the importance of the Western movement of wheat to the C.P.R. He asked if in moving grain the ratio of cost of operation is not lower than in the movement of other traffic.

Mr. Moule said that while it was not necessarily so, the cost would come down as the density of traffic increased until the point was reached where the line would become choked.

"It costs less to move grain on the prairies than any other traffic?" asked Mr Symington.

"Yes, but we have a very low rate on it," Mr. Moule replied.

U. S. HAS ABOUT 12 VOTES

In Assembly While Britain and British Dominions Have Only Six

Butte, Montana, Aug. 19.—President Wilson "put one over" on Lloyd George in the distribution of the voting strength in the League of Nations, Franklin Roosevelt, Democratic Vice-Presidential nominee, declared here today. The Republicans are playing a shell game on the people of the United States, because they are still busy circulating the story that Britain has six votes to our one. He declared "It is just the other way. WIRE CACHE MAN BURNED TO DEATH IN RANCH HOUSE

Tries to Save Effects—Bad Bush Fires and Storms Along Thompson River

Vancouver, B.C., Aug. 19.—Frank Smith, a settler at Wire Cache, sixty miles North of Kamloops on the Canadian National Railway, was burned to death Wednesday when he tried to save his effects while his ranch house was burning.

The worst bush fires ever known in the district along the Thompson river are reported to have raged there on Monday and Tuesday. Six fire fighters were badly burned. Four of them were brought in aboard a special train and are in Kamloops hospital.

A sawmill owned by G. Fennell, at Mile 34, on the C.N.R. was burned. Railway traffic was interrupted by the burning of two bridges, but service was resumed Wednesday night. The Northern Construction Company lost a large amount of cut timber. Telegraph poles were burned. Injured persons were first removed to Birch Island station and the fire was especially bad around Abola.

Floods in Mining District

From another part of ritish Columbia came a story of a flood. The worst rainstorms in the memory of the "oldest inhabitant" in the mining district of Stewart have occurred in the past two weeks and not a bridge has been left standing by the high rivers and torrents caused by the downpour, which was not only heavy all the time but persistent to a degree nearly approaching a cloudburst.

Early in August it rained for four days steadily. Considerable damage was then done, but had not the rain come again this week bridges could have been saved.

Reports from Bear river, back of Stewart, and Salmon river, back of Hyder, are that not a solitary bridge has escaped. The greatest damage is up Bear river, where three bridges on the Canadian Northeastern Railway are out as well as the wagon bridges at Glacier, Bitter and American creeks. The main wagon bridge on Bear river went out of commission some weeks ago.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

LAST SOCIAL OF THE SEASON

The church grounds at Humesville presented a lively scene when the members of the Christian Endeavor Society gathered to enjoy the last social of the Summer season. During the early part of the evening the tennis courts provided recreation for some while others engaged in group games. Later in the evening the tennis courts were illuminated and made a splendid setting for a group of four stunts presented by the young ladies of the society. The stunts consisted of "A Spanish Tragedy," "The Great Drama of Love and Tragedy," "A Physical Culture Class" and "A Hypnotic Feat," all of which were cleverly staged and created a great deal of merriment. Following the stunts a huge bon-fire was kindled and the serving of ice cream and cake brought the evening's fun to a close.

HENDERSON—LORD

A marriage of interest to many Brandon people took place on April 24th in St. Luke's church, Berry, Australia, when Lily, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lord, of Berry, was united in bonds of holy matrimony to George, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. James Henderson, Eighteenth street North, Brandon. Rev. H. A. C. Rowsell ogiciated. Miss Ivy Lord, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid while Mr. Donald McLeod, formerly of the A.I.F., supported the groom.

The church was attractively decorated for the occasion with lillies and a magnificent wedding bell. As the bride entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her away, the choir sang "O Perfect Love." Miss Turnbull, A.T.C.M., presided at the organ. The bride looked charming dressed in ivory satin and georgette, hand embroidered, with a court train lined with silver tissue, and she wore a handsome tulle veil and the usual wreath of orange blossoms. The bridesmaid wore a dainty frock of maize satin and silk net trimmed with black tulle and beads. Her hat to match was of tulle and gold lace and she carried a bouquet of Autumn leaves and deep gold chrysanthemums, which together with a pearl pendant were gifts from the bridegroom. During the signing of the register Miss Eulalie Roberts rendered "Beloved, it is Morn."

After the ceremony a reception was held at the School of Arts at which about eilghty were present. The interior of the hall was elaborately decorated with palms and sweet peas.

Later the happy couple left for Bathurst where the honeymoon was spent, after which they took up residence at Springhill, New South Wales. The bride travelled in a biscuit colored costume and wore a black velvet hat.

The groom is a veteran of the great war, having served as a member of the Australian Imperial Forces.

SUSPENSION OF ORDER MEANS BIG SAVING TO BUYERS

U. S. Suspends Order Requiring Prepayment of Freight to Canadian Points

Washington, August 18.—Regulations proposed by railroads requiring prepayment of freight charges on traffic points to Canada were ordered suspended Tuesday, from August 18 to December 16, by the Inter-State Commerce Commission, pending investigation.

Ottawa, August 18.—News of the suspension of the order of American railways requiring the prepayment of freight on commodities consigned to Canadian points will have a welcome sound to Canadian business men and others, who had complained to the Government here and also the Board of Railway Commissioners. The latter body took the matter up and it is understood the situation was thoroughly gone into during the recent visit of the chairman to Washington.

Canadian business men protested that if they were required to prepay in U.S. currency, the freight rates on goods not only to the border but also over Canadian lines to their destination, it meant a hardship to them in the present exchange conditions. The prepayment in U.S. funds practically added from 14 per cent. to 15 per cent. to the cost of freight and consequently to the cost of goods, which had to be retailed in Canada.

In dollars and cents the saving to Canadian buyers of goods from the United States will, it is stated, reach huge proportions even during the period of suspension from August 18 to December 16.

KIWANIANS

Cut Out the Deadwood

Possibly one of the feature events of the noon luncheon in the Prince Edward Hotel was the address given by M. Goss of St. Paul one of the International Trustees of Kiwanis Clubs. Mr. Goss was the only American delegate present at the convention. In speaking to the big gathering in the Prince Edward Hotel, Mr. Goss extended the greetings from the International Kiwanians, and stated that no other organizations has grown more rapidly for quality and quantity, than the Kiwanis movement.

He pointed out that the Kiwanians should not be too eager to have their Club the largest, but rather that they should look to the quality of their membership. No success is attained without co-operation, and he advised the cutting out of all deadwood in the membership. Selfishness cannot be found in Kiwanis Clubs, as it breeds discontent. Kiwanis teaches us that it is better to love than to hate. Three great needs in our present day life, said Mr. Goss are acquaintanceship, good fellowship and true friendship. In closing the speaker mentioned that there are at present about 30,000 members under the jurisdiction of the International, and he praised the spirit of the Kiwanians in Western Canada. Mr. D. J. Scott of Winnipeg was also one of the speakers at the luncheon at noon.

Take Active Interest in Affairs

An address from Vice District Governor F. W. Hobson on the "Kiwanis Club and it's place in the community," the election of officers, and addresses from ten presidents of Kiwanis Clubs or their representatives, featured the afternoon session of the Western Canada convention. In his address to the delegates present, Mr. Hobson laid stress on the fact that Kiwanians should take an active interest in the political program, not to introduce political speakers but to help form public opinion. The work of the Kiwanis Clubs could do much good in the community, and he urged the fulfillment of every Kiwanis ideal.

"Kiwanis Clubs have a real place in the community," said Mr. Hobson, and he showed by the reports made by the secretaries of the Western Canada clubs, that the work is growing rapidly. The speaker gave a special tribute to the adoption of the scheme which results in that club looking after two poor families each week. Mr. Hobson also urged the welfare of children being closely attended to. Charity must be one of the outstanding features of a Kiwanis Club, said the Vice District Governor, but the charity should not just consist in giving material things, but also in giving thoughts and actions. He also expressed the desire that Kiwanis Clubs should do much to help in the settlement of lobar misunderstandings throughout Canada, and mentioned the action of the Port Arthur and Fort William Kiwanis Clubs in going to the Labor Temple and having a luncheon with the labor officers.

"Kiwanis should take an active interest in the political program," said Mr. Hobson. He did not think that they should introduce political speakers, but that they should help mould public opinion, by coming out boldly and criticising legislation that is not good for the community. The apathy of public men in coming forward and taking an active part in the government of cities is to be deplored, said the speaker. Mr. Hobson concluded by saying that if the actual works that count for something in life are carried out, then Kiwanis Clubs will be serving a valuable part in our community.

The New Officers

A Brandon man was chosen to head the Western Canada Kiwanis Clubs for the coming year in the person of F. W. Hobson. The election of officers for the Western Canada division occupied no small part of the afternoon's program, and great interest was evinced in the voting. Douglas Scott of Winnipeg was nominated along with F. W. Hobson for the District Governor, but the Brandon booster was elected. E. G. Penniman of Port Arthur was elected 1st Vice Governor, Dr. V. E. Black of Moose Jaw, 2nd Vice Governor, while N. W. Kerr was unanimously selected as the Secretary-Treasurer.

Saskatoon Next Year

According to the constitution the choice of the convention city for next year is practically left with the District Governor, and Mr. P. M. Anderson's choice of Saskatoon met with the approval of all the delegates. It was also decided that next year's convention will be of two days duration instead of one, as it has been found impossible to get through the Kiwanis business in one day.

Following the closing of the convention, a collection was taken at the door for a Brandon family in dire distress, the total amount of the collection being $94.55. As the final feature to the afternoon's program, the Kiwanians were taken on an auto drive to the Glencarnock Farms where they were shown some of the prize animals of Western Canada.

During the day the entertainment of the lady visitors was ably looked after by the Brandon ladies auxiliary, and in the afternoon a drive around the city and to points of interest in the surrounding district was made. At noon the ladies were entertained at luncheon in the private dining room of the Prince Edward Hotel.

COMMISSIONER OF TELEPHONES FOR MANITOBA RESIGNS

Owing to Ill Health Mr. Watson is Forced to Relinquish Duties

Winnipeg, Aug. 19.—George A. Watson, Telephone Commissioner for Manitoba under the Manitoba Government, has resigned, it was announced Wednesday afternoon officially. It was explained that the reason for the resignation was ill health and the too-exacting nature of the duties of the commissionership. It was intimated that, under the circumstances, the resignation would be accepted.

Mr. Watson has had a very arduous time in the post of commissioner for the Government telephones, especially during the last few years. Within the last three years he has had to contend with strikes and unrest among the employes of the department.

The army of operators were on strike for a long time a year ago last May and June at the time of the general strike. They also carried out a strike the previous year. The electrical workers connected with the department were also on strike during the general strike. Mr. Watson had a difficult task in negotiating with the employes and in making efforts to have the service carried on during the time the tie-ups were on.

Mr. Watson would not discuss his resignation, saying that any statement would have to come from the Government.

NATIONAL LIBERAL AND CONSERVATIVE PARTY ORGANIZE

Ontario Members Decide to Organize at Once — Other Provinces to Follow

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—Ontario members of parliament and senators supporting the National Liberal and Conservative party have decided to proceed at once with the organization of that party in Ontario. At a recent meeting it was decided to organize Ontario first and then each of the other provinces will be organized in turn. It is the aim of the party to have a strong and aggressive organization in each of the constituencies from one end of the Dominion to the other, so that when the need arises there will be at hand the ground work upon which to build up an energetic campaign.

While definite plans have not yet been announced, it is gathered that Dr. W. J. Black will direct the organization from a central headquarters office in Ottawa and that National and Provincial committees are also to be formed in due time.

DENNIS TACKLES ANOTHER BIG JOB

Engineer Who Bored Rogers Pass Tunnel Secures San Francisco Aqueduct

San Francisco, Aug. 19.—A. C. Dennis, who was in charge of the construction of the Connaught tunnel, which gave the Canadian Pacific Railway a new grade through British Columbia mountains, at Rogers pass, has just secured a contract for ten miles of tunnel construction for the San Francisco aqueduct. Tis headquarters will be at Groveland, Toulumne county, California. Mr. Dennis' experience as superintendent of the big Canadian railway tunnel and similar jobs has marked him as the man par excellence to probe through California hills. The work is one of the largest bits of engineering attempted on the coast for years. "Good 'hard rock' and tunnel men are hard to find," said Mr. Dennis. "I would like to have with me men of the old brigade who helped put that hole through Rogers pass. It was a mighty fine organization we had in Canada and with luck we hope to accomplish just as good results here. The Rogers pass job constituted a record in tunnel work."

STRIKERS AGAIN RESUME WORK

After All Their Demands Have Been Granted, Coal Miners Return to Work

Calgary, Alta., Aug. 17.—Coalhurst and Drumheller mines of the North American Collieries resumed work this week after a strike of some days, a settlement being reached in which the miners, who are O.B.U. men, gained their demands. They asked that the 13 per cent. increase in wages be retroactive to April, and that there be no increase in rents, and that there be no U.M.W. check-off. All these demands were granted.

ONTARIO FISHERMEN ASK GOVERNMENT TO GO OUT OF BUSINESS

Toronto, Aug. 20.—Strong pressure having been brought to bear on the Drury Government to discontinue the fish business because of the hundreds of fishermen in the province, Hon. F. C. Biggs, Minister of Public Works, leaves for Lake Nipigon on Saturday night to look over the situation. The province has more than $400,000 tied up in the wharves, ice houses and equipment at Lake Nipigon.

Hon. F. C. Biggs stated that the Government was "securing the catch to meet the demand." One petition was signed by 800 persons engaged in urging the Government to discontinue the trade.

Lord Burnham is now Chief Old Son of the Blackfoots and Lady Burnham is appropriately "chief-lady," for that is the literal translation of the titles bestowed upon them. They have added to their wardrobe two striking suits of leather and feathers.

Lord Burnham is the senior delegate in the Imperial Press Conference. Along with his conferees, number ing over a hundred, he witnessed a stampede Friday morning in Gleichen, where a splendid exhibition of cattle-roping and broncho-busting was staged for the benefit of the newspapermen under the auspices of the Southern Alberta Committee of the Imperial Press Conference.

LESSER SLAVE LAKE WATERS 5 FEET HIGHER THAN FOR YEARS PAST

Edmonton, Aug. 24.—Thousands of acres of hay land in the region of Lesser Slave Lake is covered by several feet of water, and the danger of this vast expanse of stock feed being ruined is apparent, according to J. A. McGregor, general manager of the E.D. and B.C. Railway. He returned to the city on Monday morning, having superintended with Col. J. G. Reid, chief engineer, the clearing of six miles of line damaged near Sawridge last week by washouts.

The situation caused by the Lesser Slave Lake rising fully five feet above normal level is a serious one, says Mr. McGregor, and fully warrants immediate Federal action in Sawridge. The water is well into the town of Sawridge, while a portion of Grouard, on the opposite side of the lake, can only be reached by boat.

THREE PEOPLE DIE IN BUSH FIRES IN NORTHERN MANITOBA

Twenty Homes Destroyed and Crops Burned—Great Deal of Property Damaged

Winnipeg, Aug. 23.—Three people are dead as the result of continued bush fires that swept through the town of Mulvihill, 96 miles North of Winnipeg. The dead are father, mother and wife of George Ward. It is believed that they were bewildered by smoke and died from suffocation or fell victim to the flames.

Twenty homes were destroyed, the families escaping. All property was lost.

Bush fires have been raging for nearly six weeks. The high wind of last Wednesday made it impossible for fighters to maintain their stand and the flames swept through the town.

The district had been suffering severely from a lack of rain and when the fire started in the low bushes South of the town it spread rapidly and was kept under control only by the efforts of fire fighters recruited from miles around the district.

The district covered by the fire is swept clean of its crops. The total loss will mount far into the thousands, it is reported.

Rescue parties are seeking the bodies of the missing.

The Mulvihill church was saved only through the efforts of the fighters. A new school, nearing completion was seized by the flames and got out of control. It was razed.

20 KILLED AND 200 INJURED BELFAST RIOTS

Which Began on Wednesday Last —Martial Law May Be Proclaimed

FIRST SCOTTISH RIFLES

Went Aboard Special Trains This Morning—May Be Sent to Belfast

Belfast, Aug. 31.—Nine persons are dead as a result of yesterday's rioting in this city, another man being killed last night and two of those wounded in yesterday's fighting, dying. Revised reports of casualties since the rioting began last Wednesday show 20 killed and 200 injured.

Parties of soldiers held stragetic points in the affected areas during the night. The city was placed under the Curfew Ordinance last night and there were rumors that martial law will be declared, but nothing definite has been done by the authorities.

Scottish Rifles Board Special Trains

Dublin, Aug. 31.—The First Scottish Rifles went aboard special trains this morning and it is believed that they were being sent to Belfast.

Four Hunger Strikers

London, Aug. 31. — Four hunger strikers in the Cork jail on Monday completed their twentieth day of fasting and were reported to be at the point of death.

Belfast, Aug. 31. — The Shankill district of Belfast late last night was a blazing inferno. Nearly a score of fires had been started, and virtually all the grocery stores and public houses owned by Catholics in the district were being destroyed.

The police fired on the crowd during the disturbances, inflicting several casualties.

At 5 o'clock Monday afternoon a minor battle started in Royal Avenue with the Belfast telegraph office as its centre. A crowd of Sinn Feiners crept down Library Street from Carrick hill and opened a revolver fusillade on the Unionists in the avenue, who replied vigorously. The windows adjacent to the fighting were crowded with spectators. The scene was unique in the city's history.

Two men killed Saturday night and Sunday were declared to be Sinn Feiners, while those killed Monday were virtually all Unionists.

The mills and factories and schools were closed Monday, and most of the shops in the disturbed areas were shut.

Pause in Tea Hour

Belfast's tea hour gave pause to the combatants, but they soon got under way again, though on a small scale. The Carlisle Circus district, in the North of the city, gave the military a trying time, the warfare there being of a house to house character.

Donegal Pass, near Sandy Row, the Orange quarter in the South of the city, burst into activity during the day. The military fired on the rioters and ambulances were immediately requisitioned.

The fury of the mob was unbounded. In one instance, a man who was seen to be possessed of a revolver was fallen upon by a mob. He was knocked down and savagely kicked and beaten and his revolver was wrenched away from him.

It is believed that all five of the persons killed in the York street fighting were victims of civilian shooting. Four of them were only 19 years of age.

Excursion to Heaven or—

In Monday morning's disturbances, Royal Avenue, at the end of North street, became the scene of intense activity. Baton charges by the police were watched with eager interest from the windows of big storeys.

BROOKLYN CAR STRIKE MAY BE FINISH FIGHT

Inconvenience to Public Does Not Deter Company or Employes

New York, Aug. 31.—The prospects of a long fight between the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Railway Company and its striking employes was apparent today. There is virtually no increase in service by subways, elevated roads or trolleys since Sunday. Both sides declare that they are determined to fight it out. Meanwhile Brooklyn's two million residents struggle with improvised means of conveyance.

TO INVESTIGATE FOOD PRICES IN RESTAURANTS IN THE CITY OF TORONTO

Toronto, Aug. 31. — Preliminary steps toward a thorough investigation of food prices in local restaurants and a vigorous warfare against overcharging were taken Monday morning, when a number of restaurant proprietors appeared before the Mayor and Police Chief Dickson.

A probe will take place into prices and profits and a strong effort made to protect the public against profiteering.

The Mayor told the restaurant men frankly that stern measures would be taken to check profiteering and that the public must be protected.

PREPARING FOR VOTING ON THE REFERENDUM

Only Those Need Register Whose Names Are Not on Provincial List

Returning Officer Mr. D. Marshall is making preliminary plans for registration in connection with the prohibition plebescite, and for the taking of the vote on October 25th. The Provincial voters lists are to be the basis for the new list of voters, and those whose names are on that list do not have to register, but those British subjects whose names are not on such lists, who have been in Canada for twelve months and in the electoral division for two months, are eligible to register and later to vote. The date of the issuance of the writ is August 14th, and those who have been in this division for two months prior to that date are eligible. Final return of votes to be made Friday, November 5th, at ten a.m.

In the Brandon electoral division there are to be three urban centres, Brandon, Souris and Virden. In each of these two poles will be open from siv o'clock in the morning of October 25th until six o'clock in the evening. In the rural polls which include all others, voting will be from eight to six.

Registration in urban centres is to take place between September 13th and 18th inclusive, and in the rural districts it must be completed by October 6th. There will be but one place of registration in each rural polling division.

There are to be advanced polls in Brandon, Souris, Rivers and Virden for the accommodation of persons who cannot conveniently go to the poll on the regular day of voting.

If the Manitoba vote proves to be in favor of prohibition of inter-provincial shipments of liquor, such prohibition will become effective by the issuance of an Order-in-Council setting the date when it is to be effective.

President of Steamship Company Makes Positive Statement on Costs

PURCHASE OF SHIPS

On the Clyde Is Much Cheaper Than Building Them in Canada or U. S.

Ottawa, Aug. 31.—"Prices are coming down in almost all commodities," said Robert Dollar, President of the Dollar Steamship Company, Vancouver, today. The statement was made from his knowledge of the carrying trade of the oceans of the world.

At the present time ships can be purchased twice as cheap on the Clyde as they can be built in the United States or Canada. Ocean freights are coming down materially. At the present time, charters are being made from the lower provinces of Canada to the United Kingdom at 100 shillings. One year ago they were 390 shillings.

LOWER RATES ON GRAIN VIA GREAT LAKES EXPECTED

United States Railroad Executives and Grain Shippers Request Cheaper Rates

Washington, August 27.—Representatives of United States railroads serving the Western grain regions, joining with grain shippers, are understood to be prepared to ask the Inter-State Commerce Commission to permit lower rates of grain from the Great Lakes going by rail from Buffalo to the Eastern seaboard. Such a decrease in rates, railroad officials believe, would stimulate the movement of grain across the lakes and thereby furnish increased transportation facilities for this year's crops.

The request for the lower rates is expected to be laid before the Commission within a few days.

Re-adjustment of rates on grain between Chicago and the Atlantic seaboard was ordered by the U.S. Inter-State Commerce Commission on the basis of 30 per cent. increase in domestic rates and 5 per cent. in export rates, instead of the 40 per cent. authorized in the recent increase allowed by the Commission.

PRIVY COUNCIL HAS GREAT VALUE

Gives Uniformity of Interpretation of the Laws of the Empire

Toronto, Aug. 31.—Appeals to Privy Council operate advantageously to all dominions and crown colonies in that decisions on disputes are of Imperial importance. This view was expressed by Viscount Cave when questioned regarding the work of the Empire's highest tribunal.

"On of the Privy Council's chief functions, or rather its effect," he explained, "is to give a uniformity of interpretation of the laws of the Empire. I do not mean by that, however, that the laws of all the dominions or colonies should be uniform. But in all cases where questions of a constitutional nature or of great importance are involved, it is perhaps very desirable that they should be decided by such a body as the Privy Council."

NO CHANGE IN PRICES OF FLOUR OR SUGAR REPORTED IN TORONTO

Toronto, Aug. 31. — There is no change in the price of flour or sugar. In connection with the latter commodity the motto is "Business as Usual." Predictions that there will be a drop in the price of flour are not justified, according to some merchants, who say that if there is any change there will be an upward direction and not downward. Farmers are holding for higher prices and increased rates will also be an influence.

NEW MARCHIONESS FORMERLY MADE HIT ON STAGE

As Irene Richards Took a Leading Part in Theodore & Co. at Gaiety Theatre

London, Aug. 31.—By the death recently in Johannesburg, South Africa, of the Marquis of Queensberry, an ex-Gaiety girl, who three years ago was the youngest star in Theodore and Co., becomes the new marchioness. Viscount Drumlanrig, the heir to the title, romantically married Miss Irene Richards, the actress daughter of a London mill-owner, in 1917. She is an exceptionally pretty and talented girl, and studied singing under Jean de Reszke.

Miss Richards got her first big chance in the West End when, after three rehearsals, she took Miss Iris Hoey's part in "Mr. Manhattan" at the Prince of Wales Theatre. When she took one of the leading parts in "Theodore and Co." she was only 18. At the time of the wedding Viscount Drumlanrig was 21 and lieutenant in the Black Watch. He was severely wounded just six weeks afterwards, and subsequently took a post under his stepfather, in Cornwall.

Marriages from the stage into the peerage were frequent during the war. Last year Miss Evie Carew, of Daly's, who had married Rowland G. Winn in 1915, became Lady St. Oswald on the death of her father-in-law. In 1913 Lord Edward Fitzgerald married Miss May Etheridge, and in the same year Lord Dangan, heir of Earl Cowley, married Miss May Dicard, whose stage name was Pearl Aufrere. Miss Connie Gilchrist became Countess of Orkney. Miss Belle Bilton married Lord Clancarty. Miss Eva Carrington became Baroness de Clifford. Miss Anna Robinson married the fifth Lord Rosslyn.

The ninth Marquis of Queensberry was a Douglas whose family had figured in the forefront of Scottish history since those days of the Border feuds. He was rich in honors and dignities, yet of personal wealth he had for most of his life next to nothing. For years his seat was a villa in a Hammersmith bystreet, and a little farm in Scotland was all that remained of the once broad acres of his famiy. He crowded a remarkably venturous life into his years.

The elder brother of Lord Alfred Bruce Douglas, was born in 1868, son of the eighth marquis, whom he succeeded in January, 1900. As a boy, he served for a short time in the Royal Navy, entering through the Britannia, but left as a midshipman. He then joined the Army, and became a subaltern in the 3rd militia battalion of the King's Own Scottish Borderers. Lord Queensberry did not remain with his battalion very long, and resigned from it in 1891. It is said that he found the restraints of discipline somewhat irksome to his freedom-loving nature, and accordingly embarked on a more independent career. He attempted several ways of earning a livelihood.

None was financially successful. On four occasions, indeed, his affairs were made the subject of public inquiry in the bankruptcy court; and in reply to a question at one such examination he candidly stated that at that time his only source of support was derived from selling wines and spirits on commission. About 10 years ago he went to the United States, with the avowed intention of settling there. While in Chicago he was at one time a sporting reporter; he was also an actor, a cowboy, and a rancher; and in Canada he worked as a mining engineer, while in Australia he was a gold digger, making $250,000, which he later lost on the Stock Exchange.

PROBE MYSTERY CONCERNING DEATH OF RETIRED FARMER

Who Gave Over His Farm to Another on Condition of Being Kept

Winnipeg, Aug. 28.—Investigation into the suspicious circumstances surrounding the death of John Kochut, a retired farmer in the Galician settlement six miles West of Gimli, is being carried on by the provincial police and one man, John Walechuk, has already been arrested in connection with the case.

Kochut died on Sunday night before medical aid could be given him, at the farm of Sam Rosen, a neighbor. Dr. D. W. Ganton, of Gimli, was summoned, but did not arrive at Rosens' house in time to see Kochut alive. Suspecting foul play, however, he refused to issue a death certificate, which was essential before burial could legally take place, and requested Dr. B. J. McConnell, Provincial Coroner, to investigate the death. Kochut was buried despite Dr. Ganton's action.

Provincial authorities ordered the body exhumed and a post mortem examination disclosed the fact that Kochut died from a fracture of the base of the skull, which produced a cerebral hemorrhage. Dr. McConnell held an inquest at Gimli, Wednesday night, at which the jury returned a verdict, stating the cause of the death and their ignorance as to how the fracture was caused.

Expect Another Arrest

John Walechuk has ben arrested and is being held at the provincial jail, probably as a material witness. Constable J. W. Houghton, of the Provincial Police, is investigating the case, and it is expected another man will be arrested in connection with the case very soon. Further particulars as to the man under suspicion cannot be obtained as yet. Kochut was 64 years old, and three years ago entered into an agreement with John Walechuk under which he agreed to give Walechuk 45 acres of land in return for his keep for the rest of his life.

It is stated that a few weeks ago Kochut began complaining of not receiving sufficient [illegible] he said, was not living up to the agreement and he threatened to alter the agreement. Walechuk then laid a charge of insanity against him and he was taken to Selkirk asylum, where he was held for a short time and released as being in complete possession of his reason. Returning home Kochut commenced proceedings to break the agreement, but his death occurred before a result had been obtained.

COMPLETE DEFEAT AND DESTRUCTION OF SOVIET FORCES

Of the Host That Descended on Warsaw Only 30,000 Fugitives Left

STORES CAPTURED

Leaves Bolsheviki Without Supplies Should They Assemble Armies

London, August 26.—Polish troops after hard fighting captured the fortress of Ostrolenka, 22 miles Southwest of Lomsea, it is officially reported today.

Destruction of Bolshevik Armies

Paris, Aug. 26.—The destruction of the Bolshevik armies may now be considered complete, according to advices received here. Of the host which swept down on Warsaw, nothing is left but 30,000 fugitives. The Poles have taken 80,000 prisoners thus far; but what is more important, they have captured great quantities of guns and materials. It is considered probable that the Soviets employed all their available resources and in their present condition Russian industries will take a long time to replace them.

Consequently, if the Soviets are able to find effectives with which to seek to restore the fortunes of their arms, lack of equipment will make them without military value.

During the past three days there has been heavy fighting in the marshy valleys of the Narew, between Ostrolenka and Lomza, where the Reds sought to break through in the direction of Bialystok. The losses have been heavy on both sides. On August 23, the Poles carried all the passages of the river. At this juncture two other Polish armies pursuing the Reds from the West came up and consummated their defeat.

Defeat Everywhere

The Prussian frontier as far as Myszyniec is now occupied by the Poles. All the Red troops West of the line of Ostrolenka-Myszyniec have been captured. The peasants continue daily to discover and hand over to the military fugitive Red detachments. The exact number of connon abandoned is not yet known.

Detachments of cavalry and infantry on horseback which escaped proceeded Northward along the line of the lakes and marshes between the fortresses of Ossowiec and Grodno. The same route was followed by those retreating from Bialystok.

It appears evident that the Bolsheviki are trying to make a stand in the region of Ossowiec where the nature of the ground facilitates a defensive, so as to maintain communication with East Prussia and prevent access of the Poles to Lithuania.

Profiting by the re-grouping of the Polish army, the Reds again invaded Galicia. General Budenny made a dash for Lemberg, but has been defeated and is in flight. Another detachment crossed the Dnieper and occupied Stryie. This detachment sought to destroj the Boroslav oil wells, but was driven off by local workmen.

In the region of Chelm, a Bolshevik attack was replaced by troops occupying the right bank of the Bug.

MAN ALLEGED TO BE LEROY SAYS HE IS MORRIS FOX

Denies All Knowledge of Detroit Crime — States Home is in Toronto

Rio Janeiro, Aug. 26.—When the British steamer Dryden arrived here Wednesday from New York one of the crew was placed under arrest at the request of the U.S. authorities. He is suspected of being Eugene Leroy, wanted by the police of Detroit, Mich., in connection with the murder of Mrs. Katherine Lou Jackson, who is said to have been his wife and whose mutilated body was found in a trunk in an unclaimed baggage warehouse in New York several weeks ago.

The suspect is confined in a steel cell aboard the vessel. He said: "I know absolutely nothing about the death of Mrs. Jackson in Detroit. I have never been in that city." He shipped under the name of Morris Fox. "Yes," he continued," I have read about the Jackson case in the New York papers, before sailing, but the police are silly to compare me with Leroy in personal appearance."

As there is no extradition treaty between the U.S. and Brazil, Fox will be detained on the Dryden until the vessel reaches Buenos Aires, when extradition will be asked. Fox claims that his home is in Toronto, where his mother resides at 225 Augusta Avenue He said he was a garment worker by trade and was a member of the New York local of the International Ladies' Garment Makers' Union.

The man denied all knowledge of the Landon and Hoxie murders, with which his name is connected by the police.

COCHRANE ONT. PROTESTS AT WAY HARVESTERS TRAVEL

Asks Dominion Government For Special Protection and Change Made

Cochrane, Ont., Aug. 26.— Strong protests have been made to the Dominion Government by the local Board of Trade regarding the conditions under which harvesters to the West travel, following the recent trouble at Kapuskasing and O'Brien. The board thinks that for "sparsely populated districts like ours" there should be some special protection provided, and urges " immediate action to compel a complete change in the mode of travel of these harvesters and also to afford protection to the localities affected so as to obviate residents of such localities having to take the law into their hands and protect their property and lives at the point of the gun.

Copies of the resolutions have been sent to Hon. F. B. Carvel, chairman of the Dominion Railway board; D. B. Hanna, Premier Meighen and Hon. J. D. Reid, minister of railways.

Insistent demands are coming from the Western provinces that the premier should address a series of meetings at leading points West of the Great Lakes. Mass of Records Will be Closed and Locked Away For Safe Keeping Ottawa, Aug. 26.— The Canadian Expeditionary Force is no more.

The fourteen N.C.O.'s who were employed to conclude the statistical work of the army on Tuesday wrote "30" on the concluding page of a mass of records covering every unit and every man who ever donned the Canadian uniform.

Just the number of records kept of every individual man would come as a surprise to even the soldier whose records they are. The Militia Department has original duplicates of about 21 army forms relating to everyone who served.

Asked what was going to be done with the thousands of apparently useless books and army forms, a Militia Department official stated that they would be carefully preserved and locked away.

LEARN GERMAN IS ADVICE THAT POINCARE GAVE

To French People and Soldiers to be Able to Dominate Germany

Paris, Aug. 26—"Learn German" is the advice former President Poincare has given the French through the Association of Language Professors. He said:

"To dominate German science we must understand it. And to maintain the independence or the superiority of our literature we must not close our eyes to foreign literatures, not even that of Germany."

M. Poincare said German must be known by those who undertake the administration of the occupied regions and also to restore French to its proper place in Alsace Lorraine.

Army officers recently were urged to learn German. The Government has reinstated that language in the officers training schools.

BRITISH COAL MINERS FAVOR GOING ON STRIKE

But May Be Deterred By Attitude of Labor's Triple Alliance

London, Aug. 26.—The balloting of the coal miners, which has been proceeding throughout the country, is going largely in favor of a strike. The voting in many places has been three to one in favor of the miners laying down their picks. The Welsh miners are virtually unanimous for a strike, it is said.

The Miners' Federation met Wednesday and discussed the question if it should permit steps to be taken to prevent the flooding of the mines in the event the men cease work, but no decision was reached.

John R. Clynes and other Labor leaders are seeking to bring about mediation, but the Government declines to discuss any compromise measures. The leaders say that the Government admits making a profit of £66,000,000 a year out of export coal, which it declares will be applied to reduction of the national debt, but contends that coal is sold to domestic consumers at a loss and steadily refuses to return to its policy of subsidizing necessities like coal and bread.

There seems to be a general belief that other trades unions will refuse to countenance a miners' strike, and that without the support of the Labor triple alliance, with which the miners are affiliated —the railwaymen and the transport workers—such a strike would be a failure.

The matter will be settled next week when a conference of the Triple Alliance is convened, and the General Trades Union Congress, representing all the trades, assembles on Sept. 1.

AMERICAN FRIENDS SERVICE STILL FEEDING GERMANS

Philadelphia, Aug. 26.—The American Friends Service Committee, Philadelphia, has arranged to make shipments of food for the child feeding work in Germany in sufficient quantities to last until the end of the year.

Recently there have been shipped from New York 240 tons of cocoa, 317 1-2 tons of lard and 14,320 cases of condensed milk.

In addition to this, there were shipped 31 barrels of cod liver oil for hospital use in combating rickets, the disease of children so common there because of under-nutrition. Dried peas and dried beans used in the food ration are already stored in warehouses in Hamburg, to be drawn as needed; 880 tons of rice have been purchased and will be delivered at Hamburg soon. The remaining articles of the ration, flour and sugar, will be supplied in the future by the German government.

The value of these goods is about $1,500,000 and it is expected it will be sufficient to provide a supplementary meal for about 500,000 children per day until January. This number is slightly less than the Friends fed during the Spring months of this year.

The original plan was to close the child-feeding operations on August 21 but the food situation was found to be so acute and the harvest poor that another year's program was prepared.

DENOMINATIONAL COLLEGES HELP TO STEADY STUDENTS

Because Professors Are Chosen With an Eye to Christian Integrity

In these modern times no activity of the church of Jesus Chist has undergone a more radical transformation than the denominational college. Its one objective in the old days was the training of the young people whose parents were adherents of the particular denomination it represented. Today there are few colleges indeed which are in that sense denominational. The doors are now wide open and young people of all creeds are welcomed on equal terms. The college is much more than a "church school." It is the great contribution of that particular denomination to Christian education. A place where the vital fundamentals of Christianity are stressed and to the students made to seem just what they are, the only foundation of all true life and character. In the choosing of professors for such a college, sound Christian integrity and teaching ability of a high order are sought rather than expertness in denominational argument. There is a spiritual atmosphere, breathing which the students become better Presbyterians, better Methodists, better Baptists because as their education progresses character develops.

The late J. J. Hill, President of the Great Northern railroad once said:

"There is something about a denomination college that always appeals to me. It is a character-builder. I believe in keeping a boy in the religious paths. Too many are sent to a non-Christian school where no one is by to guide them and they gather a great many ideas that lead them astray. In the denominational college they stay by the old precepts and the foundations which were laid in the home are builded upon to the great benefit of the student."

In this regard it is interesting to note that the attendance at Brandon College last year was made up as follows: Roman Catholics 4, miscellaneous 20, Church of England 56, Methodists 65, Baptists 120, Presbyterians 154.

ONTARIO MAN ALLEGED VICTIM OF OWN BURGLAR TRAP KILLED BY BULLET

Ottawa, August 26.—Robert Davis, aged 47, well-to-do farmer, of March township, three miles from Carp, Ont., was found dead Tuesday with a bullet wound in has head and a discharged gun not far away.

It is thought he fell a victim to his own trap which he laid for burglars. He was a bachelor. Burglars on three occasions this year broke into his house.

Davis decided to put a stop to these proceedings, and arranged an an inner and an outer door between which he placed a loaded gun in such a manner that should the outer door be broken through, the man entering would find the inner door unlocked and entrance into the house apparently easy. The second door, however, was connected by a contrivance with the gun, and on shoving it open the gun was discharged. He made this arrangement every night.

It is believed he, without thinking, entered the house after the trap was set and the gun was accidentally fired.

SUGGEST MEANS SECURING PEACE ON IRISH SOIL

By Immediate and Binding Offer of Full National Self-Government

TO BE DECIDED

By Specially Elected Representatives of the People of Ireland

Dublin, Aug. 25.—Resolutions suggesting a truce between the opposing factions in Ireland and declaring it was "possible for the British Government to secure peace in Ireland by an immediate and binding offer of full national self government, to be accepted or rejected by the specially elected representatives of the people of Ireland" were passed late yesterday at a conference of Irish moderates.

The meeting was marked by fiery oratory on the part of several speakers but no disorder. The only speech from an Ulsterman was made by the Earl of Shaftesbury who did much toward quieting the conference. Sir Horace Plunkett stated he had no definite plan for Dominion home rule, but sought to organize a movement bringing together the extremists of both sides. He paid a tribute to Sinn Fein but said that while circumstances compelled the Sinn Feiners to exercise authority, they must eventually accept a compromise.

EGYPT MAY GET INDEPENDENCE VERY SHORTLY

British Government to Receive Report From Committee—Agitation Against Britain

London, Aug. 25.—While no official pronouncement is yet forthcoming regarding any treaty of alliance which would recognize Great Britains' present position in Egypt, it is generally assumed by the English press that an agreement along this line has been reached as a result of conversations between the mission headed by Viscount Milner and Egyptians.

A violent anti-British agitation and a demad for freedom began among Egyptian extremists with the inauguration of a British protectorate during the war, and in recent months this campaign has culminated in serious demonstrations and assassinations. During the war, military rule in Egypt tended to keep down the demonstrations. but once peace was declared, the Egyptian Nationalists came out in full force.

The Nationalists had a large delegation to Paris during the peace conference, which worked assiduously to overthrow British power and to spread propaganda, including allegations of British atrocities and misrule.

The failure of the Nationalists in Paris was followed by the adoption of desperate methods in Egypt. British officers and soldiers were assassinated and attempts were made on the lives of prominent members of the Egyptian government under the protectorate. Even now the trial is under way at Cairo of the so-called "vengeance gang," composed of Egyptian extremists, who it is alleged organized for the avowed purpose of assassinating British and pro-British Egyptians.

Conditions in Egypt finally became so bad that the British government several months ago sent a commission under Viscount Milner to investigate. If the government has really decided to grant Egypt independence it would be because the work of the commission which delved into all angles of the problem religiously and became informed on both sides of the question.

ALBERTA WILL HAVE LARGEST WHEAT YIELD

According to Estimate by Regina Man—Manitoba's Estimate is 16 Bushels to Acre

Regina, Aug. 25.—Saskatchewan's wheat crop this year will total 122,496,400 bushels on the basis of 13 bushels to the acre from 9,422,800 acres sown to wheat. Manitoba will have 41,026,000 bushels from 2,565,500 acres or 16 bushels an acre. Alberta will have the highest average crop of wheat of the three prairie provinces, 66,295,200 bushels from 3,516,400 acres, an average of 18 bushels to the acre.

These estimates were supplied today by A. E. Whitmore, who for many years has made a close study of crop conditions in the prairie provinces and whose estimates of former years have been remarkably accurate.

Under Mr. Whitmore's estimate, Saskatchewan gains three bushels to the acre over 1919. Manitoba gains one bushel to each acre under cultivation and Alberta makes the highest gain of all. Last year the yield for the Western provinces of the prairie was based on a production of six bushels to the acre. This year the estimate, and it is conservative according to Mr. Whitmore, is 18 bushels to the acre. a jump of 13 for each wheat acre in the province.

RESURRECTION FROM THE DEAD NOW POSSIBLE

Celebrated French Surgeon States Heart Acton Can Be Restored

Paris, Aug. 25.—Resurrection from the dead is no longer merely a Biblical legend but an authenticated fact, according to the celebrated French surgeon Tuffier, who asserts that a heart which has stopped beating can be re-animated.

"Injections of andrenalin in the cardical cavity," says Dr. Tuffier, "may restore life to a heart already dead. The heart may also be kept beating artificially for a certain length of time by means of massage or certain chemical excitants."

Dr. Tuffier's statements have created a great senesation in Paris, where medical circles are discussing the possibilities of saving lives by artificial heart stimulation, just as is now practised by artificial breathing.

Dr. Tuffier also claims that a man can live for years with a bullet in his heart. In fact, says the eminent surgeon, the heart is far from being the fragile organ it is generally supposed to be. Delicate operations, he claims, can be performed in the heart tissues without mortal effect.

FORTY MEMBERS PROVINCIAL HOUSE TAKE TRIP TO PAS

Winnipeg, August 25.—Forty members of the Provincial Legislature already have announced their intention of taking a trip to The Pas and the Northern mine fields as the guests of The Pas Board of Trade. Others are expected to join the party as well.

An organization committee at The Pas has arranged the itinerary so that every important point of the mining country may be seen in the 11 days' trip. It has been arranged so as to give the farmer members an opportunity of going.

The party will leave Winnipeg early Friday morning, September 3, and will reach The Pas early Saturday. They will leave The Pas within an hour, via the Ross Navigation Company's steamer and arrive at Sturgeon Landing at 6 a.m. Sunday morning. It will leave two hours later for Goose Lake, which will be reached at 5 p.m. the same day.

ONTARIO FARMERS MAY BE BIGGEST FACTOR AT OTTAWA

Provided Morrison Makes Good His Promise of Fifty Seats For Farmers

DROPPING LAWYERS

Drury May Jolt Crerar Out of the Position of Leader of Farmers

Ottawa, Aug. 26. — A hot fight is brewing between the Government and the United Farmers forces in Ontario. It had to come, and one may be sure that it will be strenuous. If the Government cannot hold its own in Ontario it has little chance of success and knows it. Consequently there was no help for it but to throw down the guage of battle and go to it, East Elgin being the battleground. The Government doesn't fear the Liberals in Ontario, but it does fear the Farmers.

The recent caucus of the Government supporters from Ontario was for the purpose of devising ways and means for such a campaign. Those in charge of affairs know that little or no progress can be made without organization, and matters have got beyond the stage where merely talking organization will do. The Government supporters must get out and get to work. The indefinite thing called public opinion will not man the polls or get out the vote. As announcements indicate, the new Prime Minister has during the last month wrought a great change in his own ranks. Youth and vigor is finding expression in decisive action.

Ontario Farmers A Big Factor

Some people think that the prairies constitute the main strength, as well as the brain box, of the Farmers' movement. It certainly was until a year or so ago, but it is not so today. A movement that can send about 45 members to the Legislature, and form a government is of some account, and that is what the Farmers in Ontario can boast. Nor have they been idle since they placed Drury in power. No, that apparently was only the first lap. Today they are more vigorous than ever.

In the matter of organization, the Farmers in Ontario are exceedingly strong. All over Canada they have demonstrated their strength in this respect both in politics and in business. In this province they have a membership of 60,000 and as it is estimated that there are fully 150,000 other farmers that do not belong to the organization it is quite evident that there is a large field to work in and which, moreover, keeps them busy. Their co-operative body in this province is also of very great importance, its turnover last year having amounted to about $25,000,000, it having, among other things, marketed practically one-third of the livestock in the province. Time was when the farmer was prepared to leave the work of organization very largely to the city man, and the latter fostered the notion that he had special ability in this direction, which it was hardly possible for the average farmer to acquire. But this notion has long since been dispelled. This is so well known that to labor the point is unnecessary.

Morrison a Power

J. J. Morrison, the organizing genius of the Farmers in Ontario, is a power. He is so because he gets results. In some quarters he has come in for much criticism, because occasionally he tells Premier Drury and his colleagues where they get off at; but the crowd stands by him. The rank and file puts it this way: "It's all right for you fellows in Queen's Park, Toronto, to find fault with Morrison, but if it hadn't been for him you wouldn't be where you are. Besides, bear in mind that you will want his assistance to send you back." Now the man who delivers the goods cannot be dispensed with, and to date Morrison has delivered them.

All summer long these Ontario farmers have been political picnicking to their hearts' content. These events are popular since they hold out something for the whole family. The husband and father gets his politics, and now that woman's suffrage has come the good wife also takes in quite a little political opinion. For the children there are sports and a general good time. Nothing could be easier than to dress up, bundle the whole family into a Ford—it is usually something better now—and head for the picnic grounds where Premier Drury or some of his colleagues in the Government, or leading light in the movement is to be heard.

Since the warm weather set in this picnicking has been going on all over the country, Drury's audiences having run from 2,500 to 5,000 people. One had better believe that this has brought results, the old parties having, until recently, been merely standing by and allowing Farmers a monopoly of the fun. It is questionable whether any other form of campaign is as effective in the rural portions as the picnic. Certainly it is the most easily run and it gets results. Little or no funds are required, which is an important consideration. There is not even the expense of hiring a hall.

Old Parties Start Late

Apparently it has only recently dawned on the Liberals and Conservatives that the Farmers in this province have been getting in the work that counts. Early in August the former also got busy and have had some success. But they started too late; for while everybody likes a picnic, still the average person can only be depended upon to attend a certain number during a season, and it usually happens that the first one gets the crowd. Besides, it is invariably found that the first sowing of political opinions yields the harvest.

Battle in East Elgin

Morrison has been promising about fifty Farmers from Ontario in the next parliament. Should he succeed, one can well understand what a hole that will make in other peoples' calculations. Naturally the Government does not look on the situation with satisfaction, and as East Elgin offers the first opportunity for a showdown, the battle is on. It will be hot, because neither side can afford to lose.

Drury May Oust Crerar

If Ontario were to send forty, or even thirty-five Farmers to Ottawa, it is quite evident that it would be the strongest factor in the all-Canada Farmers' movement. There are only forty-three members from the prairies and it is too much to expect that five-sixths of them will be with the Farmers, so it can readily be seen how important Ontario is from this standpoint. Now a big Farmers' delegation from this province would be a big factor in the selecting of a national leader. Indeed, it might take things pretty well into its own hands: for as yet there has been no formal appointment. Very few people at the capital think that the Farmers will come into power; but a very large number look for a government formed of Liberals and Farmers. Should, however, the unexpected happen, as it did in Ontario, many good judges are of the opinion that the Farmers' Government would be headed by Drury rather than by Crerar. At the present time it is Crerar first and Drury nowhere; but these are days of lightning changes. Even should Crerar become Prime Minister it is probable that a strong effort would be made to bring Drury to Ottawa under him; for the Farmers are admittedly short of men of administrative experience. In Ontario they have done very well so far; but after all, provincial politics is a very narrow field compared with that of the Dominion. They would need all the strength they command, and even then would be none too strong.

Lack of Experienced Leaders

In parliament their lack of experienced men is one of the Farmers' most noticeable weaknesses. Were it not for Mr. Crerar and Dr. Michael Clarke they would not make nearly as good showing as they do. If they adhere to the policy of nominating farmers only they will much reduce their chances of success. They could, to a considerable extent, make up for their weakness in the Commons by engaging experts on political and social and economic subjects, as some of the Labor bodies do in the United States; but this would involve an expenditure of money, and there is no assurance that such money would be forthcoming.

Revolt Against Lawyers

The growth of the Farmer and Labor movements is often attributed to revolt against the old parties. To a certain extent this is true, but they are quite as much a revolt against lawyers in politics. The Cabinet itself is an evidence of how the lawyers are being reduced in number. When the Union government was formed there were in it fourteen lawyers out of twenty members. Today there are but seven out of sixteen. In the last eleven by-elections only three lawyers were elected, two of them from the Province of Quebec, in which province alone the gentlemen learned in the law are holding their own. This is quite as significant as any other development. No doubt parliament could do with considerably fewer lawyers than it now has; but if new men are not, to some extent, drawn from the ranks of those who, because of their vocation, make somewhat of a business of political discussion, public life will very probably be the loser. Above all things, those who sit in parliament should know what they are talking about; if they do not they are sadly out of place.

With the Government placing a strong organization in the field, and there is no doubt that it will be strong with the Liberals and Farmers' organizations already working hard, there is no doubt about there being some lively times in prospect. It will be a strenuous battle, because it will be very largely directed by young men. There is also good reason to think that the country welcomes the prospect; for as long as there is politics there will be controversy and as long as there are elections there will be contests.

MACHINISTS AND CARMEN ACCEPT WAGE INCREASE

Winnipeg, Aug. 25.—Canadian machinists and carmen have accepted the award granted by the Canadian Railway Association, H. Kempster, secretary of the local machinists, announced.

The award was signed Monday night by officials representing the men. Charles Dickie, Winnipeg secretary of Division 4, International machinists, and Percy Cann, Winnipeg, representing the Steamfitters' union, were among the Western delegates to the meeting held in Montreal.

The raise in wages granted by the award amounts to about 15 cents per hour. Machinists will receive 85c in place of 72c. Helpers will receive 67c in place of 54c. Carmen will now earn 80c in place of 67c. This increase is an extension of the award made by the American Railway Labor Board last July as a result of the continued application of the International labor unions. The grant was asked for because of the increase in the cost of living.

PASSENGER AND FREIGHT RATES JUMP IN UNITED STATES: FEW TRAVELLERS

Chicago, Aug. 27.—The going was harder Thursday. The goer was charged 20 per cent. more for his railway fare and 50 per cent. more for whatever accommodations he obtained from the Pullman company.

Railway traffic fell off Thursday because of the increase. The fall was more apparent because of the grand rush for the last ride at the old rate. The regular trains had been sold out days in advance and extra equipment was scraped up wherever possible to eke out. Because of the demand from all railway centres the extra equipment was hard to find and hundreds of passengers started from Chicago occupying standing room only. Reports here were that other centres had similar rushes. Freight rates advanced also at midnight. They rose 34.74 per cent.

EXPERIMENT GROWING RYE GRASS SEED AT BEAVER LODGE, SUCCESS

Edmonton, Alta., Aug. 27.—The Dominion Experimental Station at Beaver Lodge has just completed an experiment with rye grass which threshed out at a rate of 303 pounds of seed to the acre, and which graded number one at the Calgary seed laboratory. This represents a return of over $90 per acre and the Farm superintendent states that owing to harvesting and threshing conditions, not more than half the seed was recovered.

ABOUT 300 CARS OF OKANAGAN APPLES TO BE SHIPPED TO BRITAIN

Vernon, B.C., Aug. 27.—The price of 23 shillings and sixpence for a 40-pound box of British Columbia apples fixed by the British Ministry of Food, and to operate after November 15th, will be attractive to the Okanagan fruit growers. It is estimated 300 cars of apples will be shipped to the United Kingdom from the valley this Fall.

GREAT AWAKENING OF VITAL INTEREST IN EDUCATION

Western Canadians Catch Spirit and Young Men Flock to Colleges

At this time when parents everywhere are getting their boys and girls ready to go to college it seems fitting to say a word about the almost miraculous awakening of interest in education. Immediately after the war a great cry went up from all parts of the English-speaking world. That cry was, "What shall we do for trained leadership in this new day?"

We all know that when the war began young men from the colleges flocked to the colors and were the first to fall in battle. It seed as though the country was to be robbed of its most promising young manhood. As the war continued we said of these young men overseas, "So many of them have not completed their college work and this will be the end of their ambition for higher education. They went away boys, they will come back men. They will marry, settle down and give up all thought of their original objective." Yes, from wise, far-sighted men went up this cry of dispair as they thought of the future.

Then a strange thing happened. We were thrilled by the news of Vimy Ridge and in the months that followed we learned anew the sterling worth of Canadian manhood. In the years of hardship at the front these boys had not lost sight of their objective. Four years is a long time taken from a young man's preparation for life but these brave fellows had determined to finish their studies upon returning and for the purpose of retaining the habit of study and to also guard against falling too far behind they organized their "University of Vimy Ridge."

Perhaps the earnestness of these college boys awakened a new ambition in other men of the trenches. Perhaps on their return they set the hearts of their younger brothers on fire with the same purpose. Be that as it may, when they came home there sprang up among the young people of Canada a great desire for higher education. Western Canada has caught the spirt and young people are flocking to our colleges. Can we measure the value of this new movement? It means not only a larger degree of culture for the Western provinces but trained leaders born on out own prairies and bred in our own schools. When the multitudes we are looking for begin to make their homes among us, we shall have our own trained men to help in the solution of new problems.

During thewar one of the Brandon College students writing home said something like this, "I hope the folks will keep the home fires burning. In regard to the college funds I know of nothing that would be so sad as for us to return and find Brandon closed."

Brandon College was not closed and now it has more applicants than can possibly be accommodated. There will be scores of young men who cannot enter because of lack of room. We shall need every one of these men in the future. Brandon College must not be circumscribed and crippled in its work. It should be big enough for all who want to come.

FARM COLONIES TO BE STARTED IN SAN LUIS POTOSI

Farms to be Non-transferable in Any Form, But May be Inherited

Mexico City, Aug. 27.—To satisfy the land-hunger of the Mexican peasantry, the government is establishing farm colonies in the states of San Luis Potosi and Guanajuato. Other settlements will be founded as soon as these first two are completely launched.

In these colonies, the small proprietors will live like the Mormons in Chihuahua and Sonora—each community having its own streets, market, garden, mixed school and moving picture theatre. Apportionment of the adjacent farm lands will be made so that each petty landholder will literally have his own "row to hoe," thus obviating one of the greatest causes for the many recent uprisings that have occurred in Mexico. Each farmer will be furnished with agricultural implements and seed.

These farms will be non-transferable in any form, whether by mortgage, sale or exchange. They may be inherited, however, and are to be free from taxation.

It is planned to establish the proposed communities near railroad lines, so that the products will find ready markets.

MAYOR FINED AGAIN

Port Arthur, Ont., August 27.—Dr. Murdock, Mayor of Rainy River, who a few days ago was fined $2,000 and given ten days in jail for violation of the Temperance Act, again has been fined $2,000 on a similar charge.

FRENCH IMPROVE PHONE SYSTEMS BY MODERN DEVICES

Paris, Aug. 27.—An automatic time recorder for pay-station telephone calls has been installed in one of the Paris exchanges. It is one of a number of modern devices and methods now being tested by the Government in an effort to modernize the French telephone system. Eventually it is planned to re-string copper wires, and greatly enlarge telephone facilities throughout France and to install modern switchboards.

BRANDON IS GROWING

Location of an Imperial Oil Co. distribution plant in Brandon is welcome news to the people of this city. It is the sort of recognition of the advantageous location of Brandon that is desired. It affords convincing proof that astute business men, after investigation, select Brandon as a most desirable centre in which to locate a rapidly expanding business.

One of the great advantages which accrues to this centre through the location of a plant of this sort here, is that the volume of tonnage out of Brandon will in future be such that the railways will greatly improve their freight and passenger service radiating from Brandon. This will prove of inestimable advantage to firms already here and an incentive to others to come here. It greatly improves Brandon's status as a distributing centre. It will enlarge our trade area, and direct an immense volume of business to this centre.

A pleasing feature of the location of the Imperial Oil plant in Brandon, is the fact that no special favors are sought. Inquiry was made for suitable locations, a desirable site placed under option, and the city asked to do only one thing—close the street and lanes so as to give the company a solid block of land. Fortunately the area selected, is close to railway lines, across which the street and lanes are already closed, so that no one will be injured by compliance with the very reasonable request.

The Board of Trade, through whose efforts the attention of the company was focussed on Brandon, is to be congratulated on the success that has attended the efforts by President Kennedy. The growth and material prosperity of the city partially depends on such promotion work as that which arrested the attention of the Imperial Oil Co., and ultimately resulted in the decision to locate a plant here which will cost in the neighborhood of $2[illegible] and will provide work for Brandon people, or result in bringing additional people to this city.

The location of the new distributing plant is good news for Brandon. Another announcement of the extension and development of one of Brandon's greatest assets is expected within a few weeks.

DISTRIBUTION OF LABORERS

Shortage of Labor in Manitoba, particularly in the Brandon district, will tend to delay the completion of both harvesting and threshing. At the time when the harvester excursions were passing through, threshing had not yet commenced and the demand for labor was less insistent than at the present time. As the Eastern harvesters demanded high wages, and most of them at least were anxious to see a good deal of the country, not enough were induced to detrain here to supply the then existing demand, and now that the press of work has grown greater, vexatious delays are occurring. If the Fall weather is good no damage will result, but should there be much wet weather the labor shortage will cause considerable loss.

The best method to secure an even distribution of labor throughout the West would be for the farmers to agree on a fair wage and to pay it, paying in addition the additional train fare of the men from a central point like Winnipeg, and an allowance for the time lost in travelling.

Until some such equitable system is devised there will never be a proper distribution of the necessary help throughout the wide prairie lands of the Canadian West.

PRAIRIE CHICKEN SHOOTING

Announcement of a short open season for shooting Prairie Chicken will be greeted with mixed feelings by most sportsmen. The chicken were so nearly extinct that it is difficult to believe that they have made a sufficient comeback to warrant an open season. And yet motorists, and others supposedly well informed concerning the number of chicken, state that they are very plentiful.

The only announcement yet made seems to be a sort of tentative one, a sort of test of the feeling of the people regarding an open season. If, however, it has been definitely decided to have a short open season, every true sportsman hopes that the Government regulations will strictly limit the bags to a small number, and that this and other limitations will be strictly enforced.

The Prairie Chicken is the finest game bird on this continent, and every true sportsman in the Province would hold up both hands for a continuance of the closed season, provided an open one would imperil the existence of the birds. The bison had to disappear from the Western plains before advancing civilization, but there is no reason why generations yet unborn cannot have as good chicken shooting as residents in Manitoba will have this year, provided the birds are given adequate protection. This will only be possible with the co-operation of the sportsmen, each one constituting himself a game guardian for the protection of the Prairie Chicken.

SHALL IT HAPPEN AGAIN?

Canadians are aware of a wave of feeling in the United States in condemnation of the actions of politicians in that land in blocking the passage of the Peace Treaty and the acceptance of the covenant of the League of Nations. From this distance it is difficult to estimate the extent of this feeling of dissatisfaction, continual evidences of which are furnished, first in one quarter and then in another. The following article from the Duluth Herald gives a glimpse of the feeling in the city where the incident occurred:

It happened in a restaurant. The door opened, and a young man came in carrying another young man on his shoulders. The young man who was being carried has no legs—only stumps were left.

"The war?" somebody asked.

"The war," somebody who knew answered.

"Damn the Kaiser!" exclaimed a man at a table near by; and everybody fervently echoed his sentiment. Everybody, that is, but one.

"No," said one, "don't damn the Kaiser. He's damned anyway. What we should do is to damn Lodge and all the others who have stepped in to prevent the carrying out of a plan—the only plan before the world—of organizing civilization to prevent a recurrence of a war such as that which blasted the life of that young man and of millions of other young men and that left the world in a state of disorder that this generation will not see the end of."

And the vote was unanimous that this man was right.

RACIAL BETTERMENT

In its search for new worlds to conquer, the Evanston Woman's Christian Temperance Union has hit upon no petty problem in undertaking the betterment of the human race through [illegible] the new campaign will be different from that of prohibition of the liquor traffic. It lacks the harrow thrust of the old campaign. All will not be dramatically black or white, wet or dry, good or bad.

Racial betterment is a problem that must be approached on a broadly experimental basis. Physiological laws and social institutions must be carefully studied. It may be found that ethical doctrines may most uncomfortably need overhauling. Difficult vistas are likely to open to those members of the crusading sisterhood who carry their researches to a scholarly conclusion.

The importance of the quest cannot well be exaggerated. Its serious and thorough examination by conscientious women, who have in mind the intellectual, sociological and religious aspects of the problem, will mean the revision of much that is now accepted without challenge. It will lead the women on missions among their own group as well as among others less respectable. It will mean material alteration in many points of view. It is a hard and dangerous quest but, rightly undertaken, a hallowed one.

IS SCIENCE KING?

It had been confidently expected that as a result of the world war there would come great discoveries in every branch of modern science.

Two years ago the Duponts, well known munition manufacturers, established fellowships at many universities bearing an income of $700 per year. These fellowships were to go to men who would take advanced work in chemistry. At the same time they established some scholarships with an income of $300 per year but they did this hoping that these men would take advanced work after graduation. This thing was done as a stern necessity. With the money they had accumulated during the war and the vast equipment in their possession the Duponts intended to carry on chemical experiments on a large scale in the interest of industrial progress. To their surprise they discovered that in this science, still only in its infancy, there were very few men sufficiently advanced to carry on experimental work.

The Duponts believe that new discoveries in this important science are vital to the progress of the world. They are prepared to educate and offer good positions to men who will prepare themselves for this work. Here is evidence of the practical value of a thorough scientific education. Every college that would hold its own and prepare men for important positions in the industrial world must have a fine, up-to-date equipment for the study of modern science. The nation that can lead in both science and mechanics will lead the world in years to come.

DISHONESTY IN SPORT

Observers claim that since the war ended there has been a general deterioration of the moral fibre of the people—a drifting away from old standards and a failure to set up new ones on any sort of lofty plane. There is a vast difference of opinion regarding the cause but a general agreement concerning the effect. In order to find the remedy, it is important that the cause, or causes, be ascertained. In surveying the situation from the standpoint of the boy or the girl, one thing becomes almost instantly apparent, and that is, that the youngsters taking a cue from the conduct of their elders, have discovered that honesty is a neglected virtue.

Take the case of a young lad, full of life and proficient in athletics. What is it that stares him in the face on the athletic field, and is discussed among the fellows he associates with in sport. It is the fact that so and so made so much money this Summer playing baseball. The innocent youth at once inquires how did he make so much money and the answer is that he played so many games for such and such a team or teams and they paid him for doing so. This may appear a not unnatural thing, but when it is recalled that amateurs cannot compete for money prizes, nor can they accept money for playing games, the recital of the facts impresses the youth with the advantage and desirability of deceit or dishonesty.

A moral boy is naturally curious and on investigation he discovers the benefits that attend dishonesty of this sort. He finds that an amateur in sport, (so one gathers from the attitude of the players, clubs, and public,) is one who has not been denounced by the amateur authorities for receiving money for his services, participating in games with those who have been so discovered, competing, or taking part in games for cash prizes. While the "pro." is a "poor fish" who has been caught.

The attitude of the clubs and the public appears to sanction the employment of any sort of method to build up or assemble a winning team, the one and only unforgivable thing, being caught breaking amateur laws. Then again the attitude of the supposed guardians of the amateur status of the players, and their actions appears at times, to be so bound up with the effect of their rulings on the possible success of certain teams—their Rip Van Winkle habit of not seeing or knowing the things which are common knowledge on the athletic field—tends to confirm the youth in the belief that the error lies not in the unlawful act or deed, but in being found out.

In this day and age, there is general admission that the man who excells in athletics has a perfect right to a share in the monetary earnings of the club for which he performs. Baseball and hockey games attract thousands of people. The earnings of the clubs are large, and the men who make these games and earnings possible should have a perfect right to participate in the financial benefits derived.

This has been for years, and is today, an unrecognized practice. Not all the players ask to share in the takings, or demand so much a game, but some of them do, and that they get it will not be denied by anybody in Manitoba, save possibly the so called amateur authorities.

This being the case, why not do the thing openly and honestly. Why follow a fetish of amateurism, which stimulates the crafty youth to deceit and dishonesty, and deceives no one, save those who care nothing about it, or are wilfully blind. Why not get away from this system of amateurism with its abominations, and come out honestly and boldly for the thing which is honest and reasonable. Why not revise our definition of an amateur and allow those who receive pay and others who do not, to play openly with or against each other.

If this is to be done, a great many men who have recently been taking no interest in athletics, must step in and bear the burden of making the changes for present authorities are either indifferent or unable to effect a clean up. Every parent, every person, in this country should be interested in wiping out this mockery and deceit, and in putting sport on a clean new basis so that there will be no contamination, no deterioration of moral fibre through play.

Leaders are wanted in a new movement. The thinking public is ready for the change, and the others will follow any lead calculated to substitute honesty for deceit. The time is propitious.

It is easier to touch the average man's heart than his pocketbook.

BELFAST RIOTS OVER WEEK-END THE WORST YET

Unionist Quarter a Scene of Serious Disorders—Troops Fire on Mob

SHIPYARD EMPLOYES

Attacked While on Way to Work This Morning — Many Buildings Destroyed

Belfast, August 30.—Rioting and destruction of property was renewed in this city early this morning, the Unionist quarter being a scene of serious disorders. Troops rushed to the centre of the disturbance, opened fire to clear the street, a young woman being gravely wounded and a man injured. Further grave developments are apprehended.

Shipyard employes, unarmed, were on their way to work at 8.30 o'clock this morning when they were attacked, the police assert, by Sinn Feiners and the shooting soon began. Soldiers arrived soon after the disorder commenced and assumed a firing position across York Street, giving the crowd three minutes to clear the thoroughfare. Most of the people fled to cover.

Worst Rioting Yet

Belfast, August 30.—Today's rioting was said by the police to be the worst Belfast has yet seen up to one o'clock this afternoon. It was definitely known that four deaths had occurred as a result of the disorders. These included Grace Orr, shot when the troops opened fire to clear the street in Unionist quarters.

Eleven Dead Men

Belfast, Aug. 30.—Eleven men dead is the toll of Saturday night's fighting in Belfast. In addition to the six men killed during the height of the battle, more of the wounded died today.

A feature of the rioting was the extent of the destruction of property by incendiarism. The Fire Brigade had an especially hard time during the night in fighting the flames. Their work was rendered hideous by the constant rattle of machine guns. The Sinn Feiners were in strong force and appeared to be well supplied with arms and ammunition.

The greatest bitterness was displayed during the fighting. There was a great amount of wrecking of houses and the burning of furniture, both indoors and on the streets. The yells of the mob, the shrieks of women and children and the groans of the injured were audible throughout the fighting. When the rioting was at its worst, women could be seen, clad in their night attire, attempting to lead their families from the danger zone. The excitement was intense until Sunday morning. Isolated firing was to be heard throughout the forenoon, and the people were fearful lest there should be a renwal of the disorders at nightfall.

Three attempts were made tonight to burn the Independence Labor hall. The last attempt resulted in serious damage to the building. The police, tonight, charged crowds in the Crumlin road with their batons, but order was not restored until the troops arrived.

It is reported that an armoured car fired on a crowd around a bonfire and that a boy was shot through the breast. Two constables are declared to have been sent to hospitals as a result of their injuries.

Saturday night was the worst since what is popularly known as the Battle of Kashmir Road.

Ballymacarrett Quiet

Ballymacarrett, a suburb of Belfast, responded to the Lord Mayor's appeal and remained fairly quiet, but Saturday afternoon, Cullingtree road, abutting Grosvenor road, the Unionist district and from which side streets radiate to the Falls, became the storm centre.

Later in the evening the battle shifted to the Northern part of the city, by way of Townsend Street, a long thoroughfare extending from the Falls to Old Lodge road. The later and the upper parts of Crumlin and Old Park roads were the centres of the fiercest fighting of the whole week, especially the "marrow bone," the nickname of the Nationalist enclave at the top of Old Park road.

Organized Sinn Fein Attack

Sinn Feiners in this neighborhood made an organized descent on Unionists in Crumlin road, smashing windows and firing into houses. Failure of the police to hold them back led to the summoning of military aid. For several hours armored cars were in action together with squads of police and soldiers, and volleys were poured into the crowd. After two hours of stiff fighting, the Sinn Feiners were driven back into their own quarters, but sniping in the Unionist quarters continued far into Sunday morning.

Many Gunshot Victims

Fierce fighting occurred Saturday afternoon in Cullingtree road, lying between the Falls and Grosvenor road districts of West Belfast. The police barracks in Cullingtree road were wrecked and the military fired on the crowd.

Many gunshot victims were admitted to the adjacent Royal Victoria hospital. One of those wounded is in a virtually hopeless condition.

Shankill Road was affected for the first time, and even upper North Street, which is a few hundred yards from Royal Avenue, the city's main artery.

Daring Sinn Fein Outrage

In broad daylight today Sinn Feiners entered Ballycastle, County Antrim, barracks and decamped with all the arms and ammunition. A well known Republican called at the barracks and engaged the garrison sergeant and three constables in conversation, when a motor dashed up and five men, revolvers in hand, leaping out, ran past the party into the barracks. The police were too surprised to offer resistance, and the raiders got away with the booty.

A Sinn Fein notice posted near Newmarket railway station, Cork, says that all military found out-doors after nine o'clock at night will be severely dealt with.

MELITA TO HAVE FIRST POTATO FLOUR MILL SOON

Plans for a Series of Such Mills to Be Erected in Manitoba

Winnipeg, Aug. 30.—A series of potato flour mills for Manitoba, and naturally for the other Western provinces, as the industry spreads, is the plan of G. L. Dodds, formerly Reeve of Arthur and a farmer widely known as a practical agriculturalist and farm scientist. Mr. Dodds, stated in a recent interview that he is now well on the way towards the establishment of the first unit in his series of mills. It will be built at Melita, which is in the centre of a district known to Mr. Dodds to have a soil particularly adapted to the production of mealy varieties of potatoes—those which make good potato flour.

Mr. Dodds expressed his confident outlook for the success of the potato flour industry. Not only is the potato flour itself an economical and popular commercial product, but there are valuable by-products, such as starch and alcohol. Even the residue makes good stock food.

Kind of Potato Needed

Asked as to the kind of potato which would be raised for the manufacture of potato flour, Mr. Dodds instanced the Bovee. This potato is described as being pink in skin, white as to flesh, and markedly dry and mealy. It is said to ripen early, yield abundantly, and, while it does not attain to any phenomenal size, is perfect in shape and of fine quality. On suitable soil it is said to head the lists in trials of early sorts of potatoes. The vine is dwarf and stocky, enabling it to be planted close. The tubers grow bunched together in the hill close to the vine. The Bovee is a potato which needs a rich soil. Given the proper soil, and frequent and thorough cultivation, it is claimed that it will yield an abundance of potatoes of perfect shape and good quality, with the additional advantage that they ripen very early.

TWO BURNED IN BUSH FIRES NEAR GLADSTONE, MAN.

Winnipeg, August 30.—Word has reached this city that Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Doty were burned to death in bush fires that swept over their homestead in the Gladstone district last week. Mr. and Mrs. Doty came to Gladstone district from Ioawa, fourteen years ago.

BIGELOW CLINIC PURCHASES SITE FOR NEW BUILDING

Secures Splendid Location on N.E. Corner of Princess and Eleventh

THE OLD LANDMARK

Now on the Premises to be Demolished for Fine New Structure

With the purchase by the Bigelow Clinic of the property on the corner of Eleventh Street and Princess Avenue, opposite the Brandon Club, one of the land marks of Brandon will probably disappear in the near future. The land purchased measures about 72 by 100 feet and it is planned to erect a modern office buiding on this site which will be occupied by the Bigelow Clinic and be one of the most up to date in the West. In the absence of Dr. Bigelow who will not return until tonight, it was impossible to confirm the report that the building will be used for clinic offices.

The building which is now on this land was one of the first in Brandon. It was erected in April, 1882 by the late Mr. Thos. Burns and was used by him for offices for some time. Later his son, Mr. Alex Burns, of this city conducted a hardware business on the ground floor and resided on the second floor. This building was afterwards purchased by the Brandon Brewing Company and was finally sold to the Bigelow Clinic by Mr. Cloutier.

To look at the building as it stands today it is difficult to imagine it as one of the most imposing buildings in Brandon. But in 1882 when buildings of any kind were few and tents were numerous, it was indeed something to be proud of to reside in a frame dwelling.

FEDERAL HOUSE MAY MEET EARLY IN THE NEW YEAR

So That Business Can Be Disposed of During Winter and Early Spring

Ottawa, Aug. 30.—Plans for an earlier opening of the session next year are already being seriously discussed by the Government, it is learned. At the present time the hope is being expressed that everything will be in readiness for the opening of the next house by January 20. This plan, if carried out, will effectively dispose of any further talk of the house meeting for a short time this fall. So far as can be learned, such a contingency has not even been considered by any of the members of the cabinet.

The desire for earlier meeting of parliament has been frequently expressed by members during the last two sessions. These members from rural constituencies complained that the house meeting at the end of February and sitting until the end of June of thereabouts, they were compelled to sacrifice their most valuable time in Ottawa. They held that they could serve their constituents just as well by being in the capital for the same period during the Winter months or early Spring. The leader of the opposition, Hon. Mackenzie King, several times last session complained against the lack of progress in the early part of the session, as well as the lateness of opening, and he was supported by several private members.

It is intimated that the Government plans laying out a course for the next session which should bring it to a close by about the second or third week in May.

ANGRY BATHERS PELT PREACHER WITH TOMATOES

When He Attempted to Verbally Protest at Immodest Attire

Trenton, N.J., August 30.—Rev. Frederick Kopfman was pelted with ripe tomatoes when he attempted to address the bathers at Washington's Crossing, a Summer resort, on the immodesty of their attire. His automobile was wrecked and he was punched and mauled.

A GOOD CAR LOAD

BRITISH COAL MINERS STRIKE NOT AVERTED

Labor Correspondents Say Reversal of Government Policy Only Hope of Peace

London, August 30.—The executive committee of the miners will meet in London today to receive the results of the balloting on the question of a strike. There seems to be no doubt that the necessary two-thirds majority in favor of the men ceasing work has been obtained.

The Labor correspondent of the Central News says there is no foundation for the belief that a strike will be averted by conciliatory efforts of the Triple Alliance and other trades unionist bodies. The correspondent adds that the indications are that nothing short of a complete reversal of the Government's policy toward the whole of the coal mining industry will prevent a stoppage of work.

It is added by the correspondent that he understands the miners will refuse to negotiate with Pemier Lloyd George unless he gives them adequate reason for departing from the recommendation of the Sankey Coal Commission.

PORCUPINE MINES LOWER LEVELS ARE VERY RICH

The Deeper the Drills Go the Richer the Rock Proves

Porcupine, Ont., August 30.—Sensational and gigantic developments are believed to be due in the near future in Northern Ontario, particularly in the Porcupine district, where gold deposits are thought to greatly exceed anything ever before found. Enormous as the results so far achieved have been, it is believed that the present condition of the mines with ore reserves of a hundred million dollars may prove to be merely a preliminary development. Scores of millions of dollars worth of ore are thought to be here, awaiting development by going to the deepest point possible. This belief has been straightened recently by the finding of ore in a mine at a depth of nearly half a mile and in the increase in the gold content of ore being encountered at a depth of a quarter of a mile on the McIntyre Porcupine.

HORSE BOLTED KILLING MAN LEADING HIM

John J. Watson Killed While Leading a Horse to River to Drink

ROPE AROUND HAND

Held Him Fast and Horse Dragged Body For Considerable Distance

Two accidents occurred in Brandon district Tuesday afternoon, one resulting in the death of John Jacob Watson, who has been residing with his brother, Mr. Charles Watson, nine miles Southeast of Brandon. As a result of the other, James Leitch, thirteen-ear-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Leitch, 60 Eighth Street, was brought in from Belmont to the Brandon General Hospital suffering from a lacerated ankle.

Mr. Charles Watson and family, accompanied by his brother, Mr. John Watson, moved to Brandon district about two years ago from Grandview, Man., where two sisters still reside. Tuesday afternoon Mr. J. Watson started to take a horse down to the Assiniboine River for a drink. He was leading the horse by a rope which was twisted around his hand. The horse evidently took fright, ran away, dragging Mr. Watson for quite a distance through bush along the river bank and through a small gate. Unable to extricate himself, it is thought that in being dragged through the gate, his head struck one of the posts and he was instantly killed.

This afternoon the remains of the late Mr. Watson were laid to rest in Glen Souris cemetery, following a short service at the residence of Mr. Charles Watson.

Boy Kicked by Horse

While working on the farm of Mr. Taylor in the Belmont district, James Leitch was kicked by a horse on the left ankle. Medical assistance was at once summoned and the lad was rushed to Brandon Hospital via motor.

POLES ARE STILL ADVANCING ON A WIDE FRONT

Capture Another Town—Cannot Extend Operations on Too Large a Front, However

Warsaw, August 25.—Kolmo, an important town near the East Prussian frontier, and North of Lomza, was taken by the Poles. More than 10,000 Bolshevik prisoners were captured.

Paris, Aug. 25.—The Poles continue to exploit their victory in a most skillful manner. The Bolsheviki Northern army, even should it be able to cut its way Eastward, will find its road barred by President Pilsudski's forces, who have reached Bialystoy by a rapid march.

The Balsheviki, however, according to the latest advices to reach Paris, are very active higher up the Bug, notably in the region of Wlodawa, 72 miles Southeast of Seidlce. Pilsudski is believed, undoubtedly, to have left a force on the river to guard his flank and rear, but unless the Reds are altogether negligible, the Polish commander cannot long ignore the potential danger.

A Double Move

It is expected in French military circles that he will detach part of his troops against this danger and hasten the liberation of the whole of the territory. It is thought he will likely start a double move Northward toward Grodno, so as to restore strategic liason with the Vilna Lithuanians, and to the South or Southeastward, so as to force a retreat of the Bolsheviki still in positions on the Bug river and in Galicia.

So far it has been plain sailing for the Poles in the opinion of the military observers, but it is declared further development of the operations involves a certain danger for the Poles, who will be obliged to extend their front considerably. It is pointed out that it was such an extension of front which placed the Poles in a position of inferiority at the time of the Bolsheviki offensive, and if the same cause should be followed by the same effect by an ill-considered advance now, the Poles would be liable to lose a large part of the fruits of their victory.

POSTAL WORKERS BAN SYMPATHETIC STRIKES IN FUTURE

Declare Public Shall Not Suffer in Any Form Through Any Strike

Edmonton, Alta., Aug. 25.—A decision of far-reaching importance was arrived at Tuesday afternoon when the conference of the Amalgamated Postal Workers' Association decided to delete the clause in the constitution allowing members of the association to participate in sympathetic strikes.

The vote taken on this matter was absolutely unanimous, and in announcing this decision the point was emphasized by members of the Press Committee that it is the desire of the Postal Workers' Association to remove any apprehension that might exist in the public's mind as to the principle of the organization.

It is the intention of the association, according to officers, that the public shall not suffer in any form through any strikes, but at the same time the association will use all legal means at its disposal to maintain the dignity and utility of the organization to the betterment of working conditions for the employes of the Postal Department and the adequate service of the general public.

Endorse Legitimate Organization

The question of superannuation was also dealt with at the afternoon session, as was also the attitude of the association in its relations to organized labor and the postal workers have placed themselves on record as being in favor of the legitimate principles of the organized labor party.

An entire revision of the constitution is now under consideration and some important decisions are expected to be arrived at before the session sion adjourns.

Will Work Only 44 Hours Weekly

Strict adherence to the 44 hour week was decided upon by the convention. Complaints had come from a number of sources that full observance of the department instructions was far from being general, men in a number of localities working longer hours, due to local conditions. The convention felt that it was a situation that could not be tolerated and passed a resolution to that effect, which was carried unanimously.

Taken for Heinies

Another matter of grievance which was brought up was the color and cut of the uniforms supplied to transfer men at the railway stations.

It was contended that they bore a very striking resemblance to the German field uniform, so much so that when the Chinese coolies were returning to their native land through Canada they noticed a couple of men on a station platform, and called them "Heinies." The feeling of the convention was that there should be an immediate change, overalls being recommended in lieu of anything else.

The present arrangement for sick pay for Postal Workers was thoroughly discussed and voted entirely satisfactory. Where a man is genuinely ill, his pay goes on just the same, and the method of notification to the department is quite simple.

Today is expected to be about the busiest day of the convention when the committee on education will make its report. There are a number of radical changes to be made which are expected to be controversial, mut the committee is of the opinion that most of the obstacles will be overcome.

ACUTE SHORTAGE OF FARM HELP FOR HARVESTING

Excursions From East Have All Arrived and Manitoba Still Needs Men

NOW PAY $6 PER DAY

Threshing Will Be Delayed Unless Help Can be Secured Very Soon

Farm labor shortage at the present time is very acute in Brandon. With the threshing operations commencing in all parts of the Brandon district, the call for farm help has become more insistent. On Tuesday there were many farmers in the city looking for men. Some succeeded in getting one or two men, but still others had to go home disappointed. There are still a great number needed in this district and a call has been sent out for more men, but whether they will be available or not, is a matter of doubt.

Up until today the local employment office has placed 760 men in this district, and have a large number of applications still to fill. The harvesters' excursions have ended, and there is no chance of a further supply of men from the East. It is stated that there are enough men in the West to handle the harvesting operations but that they have been distributed badly. Practically ninety per cent. of the harvesters from the East passed through Manitoba for points in Saskatchewan and Alberta, drawn by rumors of high wages and big crops. The result is that Manitoba is shorthanded, while Saskatchewan and Alberta are reported to have a surplus of men.. There have been a number of men returned to Brandon and other points in Manitoba after looking things over farther West, and reporting work as hard to obtain. However, not much assistance is looked for from the few returning harvesters, as their numbers are too small to be of any great help in the present crisis.

The rate of wages now being paid to farm help is $6 per day, while some farmers have been known to even pay higher than that in an effort to land a few men for a short time. It was stated this morning that efforts are being made at the Provincial Employment Bureau headquarters in Winnipeg to get some help from the United States, but it is not reported, with what success. Certainly unless some more harvest help is given in this district threshing operations will be seriously handicapped.

B. C. FISHERMEN HAVE TO PAY $450 FOR FISHING NET

Scarcity of Twine and Flax Cause of Increase—Advanced Price a Hardship

Vancouver, B.C., August 25.—Fishermen in British Columbia are faced with another and serious advance in the price of nets and net twine. A net which has sold for $300 up to the present time will henceforth command $450.

The scarcity of the basis of the twine, flax, is given as the cause for the increase.

Many fishermen declare that they will be unable to follow their craft this Fall on account of lack of capital to finance high-priced nets, unless there is an improvement in the market for salted dog salmon in the Orient.

MRS. D. C. COLEMAN DROWNED WHILE BATHING IN LAKE

Wife of Vice-President of C.P.R. Drowned While in Lake Windermere

While out bathing at Windermere, B.C., Tuesday morning, Mrs. D'Alton Corry Coleman, wife of D. C. Coleman, Vice-President of the C.P.R. got beyond her depth and was drowned before assistance could reach her. Mr. Coleman passed through Brandon Tuesday evening en route to Windermere from Winnipeg.

It was in July that Mrs. Coleman engaged one of the largest cottages at Lake Windermere and with her children was enjoying a vacation at the recently opened hotel, which is built on the cottage plan. The Lake which is a beautiful sheet of water in the valley lying between the main range of the Rocky Mountains and the Selkirks is very popular with tourists on account of the clear water and majestic scenery. The beach is largely used for bathing and boating and is particularly suited for this purpose.

Invermere, B.C., Aug. 25.— Along with the whole of Western Canada this part was shocked by the death through drowning of Mrs. D'Alton C. Coleman, Winnipeg, wife of the Vice President for Western lines of the C.P.R. Mrs. Coleman nas for the past month been enjoying a rest with her two boys and nurse at Lake Windermere Camp. Monday she took a very active and leading part in the reception tendered to the Imperial Press delegates. In the evening she attended a dance at the club house, and, rising early Tuesday morning, went for a horseback ride with Mrs. Hackney, wife of Dr. Hackney, Calgary.

Contrary to her usual practice, immediately on her return from the ride she entered the lake for a swim about the hour of eleven in the morning. In this she was accompanied by a companion, who could not swim. The place chosen was a quiet but deep bay, protected from the strong South wind blowing at the time. When swimming about fifty feet from the shore, Mrs. Coleman apparently met with difficulties, and called for assistance.

John Taynton, engaged on shore in mending a canoe, immediately pushed out to the rescue, and was succcessful in reaching Mrs. Coleman. At the critical moment the canoe upset, precipitating Taynton into the water. Another effort to rescue was more successful, and good progress was being made towards the shore, when the canoe was thrown by the waves on top of Taynton, dividing the two. After this Mrs. Coleman immediately sank in deep water and the canoe floated away. Taynton reached the shore in a complete state of exhaustion.

Meanwhile an alarm had been sent out, and shortly a large fleet of boats and canoes were available for search for the body, but this was not successful until three hours after the accident happened, when the body was recovered fifty feet from the shore in ten feet of water.

A Western Canadian

Winnipeg, Aug. 25.—Mrs. Colemaan before her marriage in 1906, was Miss Anna Grant, a native of Cranbrook, B.C., though before coming to Winnipeg she, with her family, had resided for some time in Calgary. She was very prominent in philanthropic work in the city, was a member of the board of directors of the Fort Rouge Convalescent hospital, and also an active member of the Children's Hospital board. She was a member of the Winnipeg Skating club, and was one of the expert skaters of Western Canada, being one of the competitors at the carnival which was held at Banff last year.

Besides her husband and two young sons, Rowan, aged eight and Jim, aged five, Mrs. Coleman is survived by her mother and father, the latter being very ill at present in California and by two sisters, Mrs. Murray, of Montreal, and Miss Ella, at home, and a brother, Rowan, in Moose Jaw.

MEIGHEN HITS OUT AT CRITICS OF GOVERNMENT

Points to Only One Charge of Corruption Laid in Three Years

RESOLUTION QUOTED

Passed at Convention Nominating Opponent of Government in Colchester

Truro, N.S., Aug. 25.—Crowds that overflowed the Princess threatre and spread out into a nearby hall heard Premier Arthur Meighen, Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Militia, and Hon. F. B. McCurdy, Minister of Public Works, expound the policies of the new National Liberal and Conservative Government here last night, and show why in their judgment the last named should be returned over Hugh Dickson, United Farmers' candidate, in the Colchester by-election of Sept. 20.

Premier Meighen occupied the greater portion of the time at the Princess theatre meeting held simultaneously with the overflow meeting with a review of the achievements of Premier Borden's war-time administration and a discussion of the party's plans for the future. He was tendered an ovation upon arising, spoke in fine form, but was most effective perhaps in criticism of the farmers' attitude toward the present government. Quoting from a resolution passed at the meeting of Colchester farmers which nominated Mr. McCurdy's opponent, in which it was stated that "the corruption of the Unionist Government was a stench in the nostrils of the common people of Canada," he declared that the person who had phrased the resolution was either totally ignorant of the actual record of the Union Government, or else had wantonly defiled the English language. During the past three years, but one charge had been brought before the Public Accounts Committee, made up of farmers and Liberals as well as Unionists, and this was found to be wholly baseless. T. A. Crerar, the leader of the Farmers' party, was a member of the Union Government during two-thirds of its existence, and he ventured to say that Mr. Crerar would state, if invited to do so, that he knew of no cases of "corruption."

No Corruption

The fifteen members of the Farmers' party at present in the house knew nothing of any so-called corruption since they had never brought this matter to the attention of the House. They knew of no corruption or else they did not possess the capacity to expose it in the House. In either case he did not think it would help matters very much to add another Farmer to the present list.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie devoted a considerable portion of his time to a discussion of the reasons which had induced him to join with the new government upon the elevation of Premier Meighen, and extended an invitation to all Liberals to rally to the support of the administration as, he said, it was big enough and enterprising enough to harbor all, irrespective of race or creed.

Hon.F. B. McCurdy explained the law which required him to seek re-election on his appointment as Minister of Public Works, and dealt briefly with the candidature of his opponent.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE FOR ONE YEAR FOR LAD WHO STOLE SUM OF MONEY

J. J. Cymbroski, a young fellow from the Minto district, was charged in Court this morning with the theft of $131.55 from a farmer. The young lad is a farm hand and while the people were away from the farm one day, the accused took the money. He was later arrested and brought to Brandon. This morning an excellent character was given him and as most of the money was recovered, the prosecuting parties decided that they did not want to press the charge. Magistrate Jeffrey therefore allowed the lad to go on suspended sentence for one year.

Four young boys who stole a dozen mouth organs from a store in the city were supposed to have appeared in the Juvenile Court this morning. The theft of the instruments took place over a month ago, and it was not until Tuesday that one of the young lads was caught and the quartette summoned to appear in Court. However, not all of the young lads appeared this morning, one of the boys being reported as not having slept at home for two months. Needless to say he did not appear this morning. Their cases were remanded until Saturday.

STAND TOGETHER TO DEFEND THE HARD WON HOPE

That Through Law Made by People Man Will Escape From The Toils

ENEMIES OF DEMOCRACY

Are Bolsheviki, Declares Sir Auckland Geddes Before American Bar Association

St. Louis, Aug. 25.—The Bolsheviki were pictured as enemies of democracy, of Lincoln's ideal of government of the people, by the people, in an address by Sir Auckland Geddes, delivered before the American Bar Association's annual convention here today. The British Ambassador declared that the Bolsheviki were the real reactionaries endeavoring to establish a privileged class called the proletariat; to force on society a great idea, regardless of whether society wanted it.

Sir Auckland Geddes declared that Great Britain and the United States "are co-trustees for humanity, that the theory and practice of democracy shall not suffer distortion or diminution in spite of avalanches of assault losed upon it by its enemies." He said that democracy should be protected from the attacks by "all who desire to benefit humanity through some great idea of incalculable good, by all who as individuals seek for themselves privileges over their fellows and deny the equality of men before the law."

Sir Auckland defined the idea of government that constitutes the precious heritage for which the two nations are co-trustees as being: "First, that the revelation of the divine will is made to man through the understanding of all men; second, that this can be expressed in laws made by the people for the governance of the executive officrs whom they appoint, as well as for the maintenance of national discipline among themselves."

Tremendous Revolution

Sir Auckland said that Lincoln best epitomized the best form of government the human race had been able to devise as "by the people, for the people," but, he added, "I wonder how many realize what a tremendous revolution this relatively new idea is producing in all human relationships, or even how new the idea itself is and how little it has been tested. Only a trifling minority of the peoples of the world understand it. I doubt if even in Europe there is a majority which supports it, certainly there is not a majority which understands it. I would like to be convinced that there was a majority really understandingly in favor of it in the British Isles.

"If the idea is to continue without a serious setback, we people who believe in it will have to stand firmly together for there are powerful forces opposed to it. So far as we know, the millions of Asia have opposed the idea throughout all their history, although a small number of Asiatics are now loud in its support. Islam necessarily is opposed to it. The Bolsheviki are naturally violently opposed to it. So, too, is everyone who has what he regards as a big idea or great principle of incalculable good which he or she wishes to force upon the people whether they wish it or not.

Bolsheviki are the Reactionaries

"Theocracy and autocracy, forceful application of the big idea, inevitably lead to inequality before the law and so to tyranny, revolution and chaos or to decadence, conquest and chaos. That way lies no hope. Let the Bolsheviki and their supporters in all lands prate as they will of reactionaries and imperialists; they, themselves are the reactionaries. Their admitted doctrine is to establish a privileged class which they call the proletariat but they mean by that term a select body of their own supporters. Their whole creed is to force on society a great idea which has been revealed to them and to them alone; and, like it or dislike it, society is to swallow it whole—and that is nothing but pure theocracy.

"We have to maintain the heritage of freedom against assault from within and without, the priceless heritage of a great idea now in danger from its popularity. Even its enemies try to conceal their actions behind its phrases.

"Whatever difficulties might arise between our nations, I believe nothing is more important than this, that you and we stand together to defend the hard won hope of mankind that through law made by the people for their own disciplining, man will at last escape from the toils that have snared the feet of his ancestors and will have taken a great stride towar solution of the problem how he shall live in communities in peace and ordered freedom."

The gathering, which numbered nearly 4,000, was addressed by Frank P. Walsh, Chairman of the American Commission of Irish Independence, and de Valera, "President of the Irish Republic." A collection was taken up for the 2,000 participants in New York's first purely political waterfront strike. Walsh said 3,000 more men would quit work on British shipping here in a "fight for Ireland."

From Teulon comes the report that two lives have been lost in fires near the village of Erinview, 17 miles West of Teulon. This loss of life, however, has not been confirmed. Reports say that all able bodied inhabitants are fighting the fires which are still uncontrolled. Two fires immediately West of Teulon are burning fiercely and have destroyed crops. All residents have deserted the village to fight the flames.

MURDER OF CZAR IS CONFIRMED

London Times Publishes Interview With a Witness of the Tragedy

London, Aug. 28—All possible doubts that the former Emperor Nicholas of Russia and family were assassinated in the basement of their prison house at Ekaterinburg the night of July 16, 1918, seem displaced by accounts of two independent investigators which have been published here. The London Times prints a story from a correspondent who interviewed a witness of the tragedy and the facts are substantiated by another periodical.

IMPERIAL OIL CO. TO LOCATE PLANT HERE: MAY COST $300,000

Agree to Locate Distributing Plant at N.E. Corner of Rosser and First St., to Cost Between $250,000 and $300,000—Lease Floor in Security Building for Offices for One Year—Plan to Employ About Sixty People on Office Staff—Location of Plant Will Add Considerably to Tonnage Out of Brandon and Will Ensure Better Service on Railways—Western Manitoba and Eastern Saskatchewan to Be Served From Brandon Plant—Council Agrees to Close Street and Lane

The Imperial Oil Company is to establish a modern distributing plant in Brandon. The Company has agreed to do so, provided the City agreed to the closure of a stret and three lanes. The City has agreed to do so and will notify the Company to this effect and start immediately the necessary proceedings to make the promise effective. A lease has been signed for the second floor of the Security Building to be used as offices, for one year, and the company will now proceed to take up the options on the property for the location of the plant. Through the unanimous assent given by the City Council, this morning, to the Imperial Oil Company proposals, the Company will commence an outlay of between $250,000 and $300,000, for property, plant, office buildings, etc., and when completed will make Brandon the distributing point for company products in Western Manitoba and Eastern Saskatchewan. One of the benefits which the city should derive will be increased tonnage and better service to all points which properly lie in the Brandon trade area.

Location of Plant

The plant is to be located on the property at the North-East corner of Rosser Avenue and First Street and options have been secured on it by Mr. O. L. Harwood and now that the City Council has given formal assent to an undertaking to close Dennis Street and the necessary lanes, it is expected the options will be taken up without delay.

The location of this plant in Brandon is due to the efforts of the Board of Trade. President Kennedy got into correspondence with the officials of the company several months ago and succeeded in interesting them. The result was that the officials paid a visit to Brandon, looked over the city, gave instructions for the securing of options and are now planning to locate here.

According to a statement made by President Kennedy of the Board of Trade to the City Council this morning, fifty to sixty people will be employed in the company offices and a great impetus will be given Brandon through the location of this plant here.

Letter From Vice President

The letter from Geo. W. Mayer, Vice President of the Imperial Oil Company follows:

Toronto, August 24th, 1920.

Mr. P. A. Kennedy,
President, Brandon Board of Trade,
Brandon, Man.

Dear Mr. Kennedy:—

Referring to my recent visit to Brandon to look over the city with a view to putting in a modern distributing plant for our products, as well as a general office building covering the Western part of Manitoba and the Eastern part of Saskatchewan.

The matter has been taken up by the Board of Directors and it has been decided to put in a plant at Brandon, providing the City Council will grant us permission to erect a plant. What we have in mind doing is to buy the following property: Lots 1 to 12, 23 and 24 in Block 39; Lots 1 to 12, 23 and 24 in Block 38, providing the City Council will close and deed to us the lanes in both these blocks, as well as Dennis Street from the C.P.R. Siding to Rosser Avenue.

The plant we have in mind building will require not less than the above amount of ground. Mr. Harwood has secured options for us, on both these plots of ground, at a cost of somewhere in the neighborhood of $25,000. If the lanes in Blocks 38 and 39 are closed, and Dennis Street closed, this would give us one solid block of ground, about 206 feet in width and 586 feet in length.

We propose to erect on this property: Office building, approximately 50 feet by 80 feet concrete, fire roof. Warehouse, 50 feet by 200 feet concrete, fire roof, with basement, two stories high. We are leaving a sace of about 100 feet for further extension of this warehouse should the business warrant it.

Boiler house, pump house for power pumping and heating purposes, concrete, etc., fireproof. Garage, capacity of four cars, concrete, fire proof; leaving sufficient room for the extention of four more cars.

Tankage. We will erect 250 feet by 35 feet steel tanks, one for refined oil, and one for gasoline, and sufficient ground for the erection of two more tanks of the same size, later on, is the business develops.

The part of the warehouse marked on the blue print "lubricating tank building"; this is part of the warehouse in which we expect to erect ten lubricating tanks, having a capacity of 250 barrels each. This building, as a lubricating tank house, will be built as part of the warehouse—there will be a basement under this lubricating tankage, but the upper part of the building will only be used for storage of lubricating oils and shipped in bulk and put into tankage. The warehouse proper, will be used by us for storing products, handling and shipping.

Railroad siding put in as shown on the bule print adjacent to the warehouse.

If the City Council of Brandon will grant us permission for the erection of these buildings and will vacate the lanes and Dennis Street and deed these to the Imperial Oil, Limited, the Imperial Oil, Limited, will buy the property and erect the buildings as shown on the blue print attached herewith.

We estimate the expenditure we will have to make will be somewhere between $250,000 and $300,000.

I should like to have from you, a prompt decision as to the City granting us permission to erect these buildings and vacating the lanes in both blocks and Dennis Street, and deeding same to Imperial Oil, Limited, as the options we hold on this property expires the latter part of September, and if the city grants us what we ask for, we would immediately start in and close the purchase of property and arrange our plans for the building and construction so as to construct the plant during the year 1921, beginning as early as we could, so as to get the plant finished, if possible, before the busy season next Fall.

The attached blue print shows about the lay-out we would make on this property in erecting the buildings, tankage, etc. It must be understood that these are not accurate, but are approximately what we would put on the property. They may vary a little, but the blue print as per attached, is almost correct as to the lay-out of the construction we would erect on the property.

Awaiting with much interest an early reply,

Yours very truly,
G. W. Mayer.

The Formal Motion

Assent was given to the Imperial Oil Co. proposals by the following motion moved by Ald. Coleman, seconded by Ald. McKenzie: "That the proposed establishment of the Imperial Oil Co. in the City of Brandon, as outlined in a communication of the said Company to P. A. Kennedy, President of the Brandon Board of Trade, under date of August 24, be, and the same is, hereby approved by this Council, and that the City Clerk be instructed to have the necessary bylaw and notices of closure prepared, and the latter posted at once, and that on the expiry of the term of notice the bylaw be passed by the Council." Carried unanimously.

BOLSHEVIKI VICTORY ADDS COMPLICATIONS

To Situation Produced by Interruption of British Communication

London, Aug. 28.—Resht was recaptured when heavily armed Bolsheviki reinforcements which had landed at Enzeli from Baku on Wednesday night, drove back Persian Cossacks, says the Tehern correspondent of the London Times, in a message sent Thursday. The Cossacks are reported to be retracing their way along the Resht-Kazuvin road. This reverse of the Persians, add the correspondent, complicates the situation produced by the interruption of British communications in Mesopotamia.

BOY MINERS VOTE SOLIDLY FOR COAL STRIKE

New South Wales Miners Vote is Strongly in Favor of Strike

MEDIATION PROPOSALS

To be Made Next Week at Meeting of "Triple Alliance" in London

London, Aug. 28. — The threatened strike of coal miners engrosses the attention of the newspapers and the public. Balloting in South Wales on the question of whether the men should strike has virtually been concluded. The result is announced as follows: In favor of striking, 143,471; against striking, 42,013. This gives considerably more than a two-thirds majority in South Wales district in favor of the men ceasing work.

The newspapers point out that boy employes in the mines whose ages range from 14 to 18 years, are voting heavily in favor of a strike. According to the Daily Mail, they are believed to cast seven out of every ten of the votes recorded in the Scottish coal fields.

A proposal for mediation will be made next week at a meeting in London by the "Triple Alliance." The Transport Workers will take the initiative in this. Should it fail to achieve acceptance, the Trades Union Congress, which will meet at Portsmouth on September 6th, will discuss the situation from the point of view of other unions, which would have been affected by general industrial paralysis resulting from a strike in the coal fields.

Condition of Lord Mayor of Cork Unchanged Late Friday Night

London, Aug. 28. — Premier Lloyd George, at Lucerne, is being bombarded with appeals in behalf of Terence MacSweney, Lord Mayor of Cork, who is on a hunger strike in prison here. The general tenor of the appeals is that a show of clemency in this case will open the gate for reconciliation with Ireland, while a refusal would have the opposite effect.

Mayor MacSweney's condition was unchanged Friday night. He is very weak and one of 2his relatives remained constantly at his bedside.

The assertion is made that the fires were started in reprisal for the destruction of property of Catholics in Lisburn and Belfast.

IMPORTATION OF LIQUOR SHOULD BE STOPPED

Premier Martin States Infractions of Law Must Be Ended

London, Ont., Aug. 28.—"One of the most immedrate problems we are trying to solve is that of stopping the importation of liquor," said Premier Martin, of Saskatchewan. "We have provincial prohibition, and on October 20 the people are to vote on the question of importation. The results of provincial prohibition have been most satisfactory, notwithstanding a good deal of violation of the law. Stopping importation will help cure this.

"Unquestionably the great problem, not only in Saskatchewan, but all through the West," he said, "is tariff reform. There is absolutely no doubt that the position taken by the Dominion Government will not satisfy Western people. The West—and Saskatchewan especially—is a great agricultural country. Saskatchewan expects this season to produce approximately 140,000,000 bushels of wheat, or about one-half of all the wheat produced in Canada. The grain growers are a very strong organization, and they feel that there is urgent need for tariff changes."

PRICE OF FLOUR DUE FOR DROP

Winnipeg, Aug. 28.—Following the start of the full movement of wheat for the 1920 crop and the resumption of competitive dealing by millers it is announced on good authority that there will be a drop in the price of flour and also in the prices of bran and shorts.

Local millers would discuss the situation informally, but did not want to be quoted personally until the conditions had become more clear.

One prominent miller said that the drop in the price of flour would be $1.50 per barrel at least. It was likely to take effect soon, probably next week or the week following, he intimated. The price of flour per barrel now is $14.30, and the new price would not be more than $12.80 in his opinion. The present price of the 98-pound sack of flour is $7.15, and the new price, on the same basis would not be more than $6.40.

The price of bran and shorts, it was said, would drop as much as $6 or $7 per ton.

IMMIGRATION WAVE IS FAST ROLLING THIS WAY

Declare Members of Party of American Bankers Touring Western Canada

GREATLY IMPRESSED

With Vast Stretches of Golden Grain and Success Already Achieved

A wave of immigration destined to prove the value in the development of Western Canada may be expected during the next few months, according to members of the party of American bankers, business men and farmers who are just completing a 3,000 mile trip through the bread basket of the British Empire.

The party, which left Winnipeg ten days ago, arrived in Brandon late Thursday night and departed early this morning.

"We have seen some of the most wonderful country under the sun," said J. J. Morris, Emporia, Kansas, one of the leading bankers of that state, who has purchased large tracts of land. "Wheat that runs from 30 to 45 bushels to the acre has been the rule rather than the exception. Oats have been correspondingly large in yield. The mixed farming country has proven a revelation to all who made the trip.

"We are going home with Western Canada's message to the American farmer, an invitation to come to the land of opportunity."

V. M. Johnston, President of the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank, of Champaign, Ill., and one of the leading bankers of the Central West, expressed like views. Mr. Johnston purchased several thousand acres of land. It is understood that he represents a syndicate of American farmers and business men.

"The harvest special, the first of a series of immigration excursions to be run under the direction of the Industrial and Resources Department of the Canadian National Railways, has been a great success," said Dewit. Foster, superintendent of that department in Chicago. Mr. Foster, who has charge of the immigration work in the States, is also directing the excursion.

"Western Canada may prepare for the pent up tide of immigration which was delayed during the war. It is about to break. Thousands of farmers are preparing to come to Canada this Fall for the purpose of determining just what opportunities are available. Once they obtain first hand information they are convinced.

"The Industrial and Resources Department, which was inaugurated only two years ago through the efforts of President D. B. Hanna, and developed by Vice President Hayes, already has sent more than 7,000 farmers into Western Canada.

"Twenty thousand other farmers have indicated their intention of coming to Western Canada. The department also has placed before 150,000 American farmers the resources of Canada in general and Western Canada in particular."

Practically every man on the train represents from ten to twenty farmers or business associates in a dozen central West States. Many of the party dropped off at points along the way to negotiate for land. All were greatly impressed by the spectacle of vast stretches of golden grain and by the richness of the soil and the success in livestock raising and mixed farming.

"The excursion is the outgrowth, in part, of a desire on the part of the American farmer to see a Canadian harvest in the making," said W. E. Black, Canadian government agent for North Dakota and Northwestern Minnesota, a member of the party. "Their desire has been fulfilled. They have seen crops that cannot be beaten anywhere. The results of the excursion and other excursions to follow will soon be very apparent."

LIMITED HOTEL ACCOMMODATION MAY ALTER TOUR

Of Delegates to Congress of Chambers of Commerce—Montreal Wires Suitable Dates

Montreal, Aug. 27.—It was stated at the Board of Trade Thursday that owing to the limited hotel accommodation in Montreal, and the tremendous demands being made owing to the heavy tourist traffic and the sequence of conventions being held here, it would be impossible to entertain the delegates to the Congress of Chambers of Commerce of the Empire in this city unless they alter their itinerary so as to visit Montreal first and then proceed on the proposed visits to Grand Mere and Quebec.

The only date convenient would be between Oct. 8 and 10, it was stated. Notification to this effect has been sent to the Toronto committee.

BUILDING PERMITS EXCEED IN VALUE PERMITS IN 1919

Total Estimated Value of New Buildings and Repairs Given as $113,203

The total sum for building permits issued this year, already is greater than the total amount for the whole of 1919. Already this year the amount is given as $113,203, while the total amount for 1919 was $98,541. This shows a big increase and it is expected that with the permit for the General Hospital to be received later, that the 1920 total will be the largest in the history of the city. There are very few large buildings going up in the city, but the feature has possibly been the number of small dwellings that have been remodelled during the summer.

During July and August twelve permits were issued, the total for these two months being $56,700. Of this amount, however, $44,000 is given as the amount of the work done on the addition to the King George School, while the conversion of a store into a departmental block by Nation and Shewan, Ltd., totals $7,500. These are the two large permits for these months, the other ten being for small amounts.

MIDLAND GRAIN CO. PURCHASES OGILVIE PLANT

Remodelling Elevator So As To Make it Modern and Efficient

The Midland Grain Company, of Winnipeg, has purchased the large elevator formerly owned by the Ogilvie Milling Company, situated on Pacific Avenue, between Seventh and Eighth Streets. The purchase price is not given out, although it was stated this morning that it was a large consideration. The new owners have already started work on remodelling the big elevator, and will put in a 400 bushel hopper, while the roof is also being raised in order to provide for many important features in the elevator.

When it is completed the Midland people expect to put in a carload of wheat) clean it, and put it back into the car, all within an hour's time. New scales will also greatly facilitate the work of handling the grain. The present alterations to the building will cost in the neighborhood of $6,000, it was stated.

INCREASE OUTPUT OF MILLING PLANT

Western Canada Flour Mills to Turn Out More Flour and Oatmeal

Improvements which will materially increase the output of the Western Canada Flower Mills in this city are being made at the present time. The flour mill will be enlarged so that an additional 100 barrels of flour may be manufactured a day, and it is expected that the mill will be running to capacity about September 1st.

The capacity of the oat meal mill is also being enlarged to about 250 sacks a day, and will be ready for operation about September 10th.

POLES ON PEACE DELEGATION SEND APPEAL FOR FOOD

Want Any Kind But Have Preference for Non-perishable Varieties

Warsaw, Aug. 27.—The Polish peace delegates at Minsk are hungry. An urgent appeal has been received by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs asking that food be sent immediately to the delegates. The message says that the delegates are eager for any kind of food, but they desire non-perishable varieties.

As an indication that the Minsk conference may continue indefinitely, preparations are being made to send there five young women stenographers who have been asked for by the delegates. The women will go from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. They will take plenty for themselves and also supplies for the Polish delegation. Rooms have been reserved for the women by the Soviet officials.

May Move From Minsk

Warsaw, Aug. 27.—The question of insisting that the Russo-Polish peace negotiations be shifted from Minsk to some other city has been under the government's consideration. What action is necessary owing to the difficulties in communicating with Minsk, has occupied the various officials for several days, and the cabinet considered the question throughout Wednesday.

The Cabinet's recommendations have been forwarded to the National Council of Defence for final determination and an announcement of its decision is expected within a few days.

No Intervention

Paris, Aug. 27.—The Moscow Government insists that the peace negotiations must be discussed with Poland alone "without any outside intervention whatsoever."

The wireless says this concession is made in order to meet Premier Lloyd George's objection to the clause and try to arrive at a complete understanding with the Goverment of Great Britain.

$30,000 PAID ON PARTICIPATION CERTIFICATES

To Farmers in Brandon District and Many Have Not Yet Received Payment

Over $30,000 has been received by Brandon farmers since the 10th of August when the Wheat Board first started to make their first payment of thirty cents per bushel on the Participation Certificates.

Since the 10th of August the certificates sent into Winnipeg have been redeemed steadily, although it was stated this morning that the return of the certificates is tardy. However, no trouble has been had with the payments, although the return of the certificates later will entail a lot of extra work. There are still a large number of Brandon farmers who have yet to send their certificates in for the first payment. However, payments will be made until the 31st of December, although the Wheat Board intends having both payments completed by that time.

YOUNG LAD HORRIBLY CUT BY LIONESS' CLAWS

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 27—Harold Eide (11), of this city, had his scalp nearly torn from his head and his body horribly cut by the claws of a lioness at a carnival here Thursday. He was taken to hospital at Dickinson, and more than 50 stitches taken in his head, back, arms and chest. He is expected to recover. Harold crawled under the animal's tent at noon, and while the attendants were at lunch he got too close to the lion's cage, and she reached out and while holding him with one paw, clawed him with the other. Two shots were fired at the lioness before she released her hold on the lad.

GREAT CRITICISM OF LABOR PARTY'S ORDER RE FLAG

Which Rescinded Standing Order to Fly National Flag on Days of Rejoicing

London, Aug. 27.—The Labor Party in Islington, one of London's industrial boroughs, which recently rescinded the standing order that the National flag should fly on the town-hall on days of rejoicing, was fiercely criticized at a public meeting of protest. It was said the Labor majority only represented twenty-two per cent. of the electorate.

THRIFTLESSNESS EXTRAVAGANCE ARE BLAMED

By President of Wholesale Grocers For Present High Costs

Toronto, Aug. 27.—President Hugh Blain, at he opening of the Wholesale Grocers' convention at the King Edward hotel, said that since the war confusion had been worse confounded than ever. Everywhere there was a wail of distress "even in our land where plenty abounds."

"We are pursuing a course of extravagance and thriftlessness. The shock of the war seems to have distorted the moral and industrial fibre of the world. The high cost of living—the result of these conditions—has been largely attributed to the distributor, the so-called 'middleman', while as a matter of fact, the responsibility rests chiefly with the producer," said Mr. Blain. "In my experience the distributor actually made a lower percentage of profit on his turnover during the war than he did previously."

RUSSELL DUMAS SENT TO JAIL FOR 3 MONTHS

Convicted of Obtaining Money Falsely — Said He Was Dr. Gordon Mayo

Winnipeg, Aug. 27.—Russell Dumas, alias "Dr. Gordon Mayo," erstwhile "consulting specialist," in a palatial suite of Builders' Exchange building offices, was sentenced to serve three months in the provincial jail by Sir Hugh John Macdonald in the police court on Thursday.

Dumas was convicted of obtaining money under false pretence, while stay of proceedings was ordered in seven charges of breach of the Medical Act.

The former director of the Mayo-Curtis clinic, smiled slightly as sentence was passed, and with head erect, walked nonchalantly back to his cell. Just previous to receiving sentence he was gossiping and laughing with a trio of his former women patients at the rear of the courtroom.

In passing sentence the court held that the charge of obtaining money against Dumas had been established fully. While no verbal misrepresentation had been shown, the evidence proved that he represented himself to be a duly qualified physician, and patients would not have paid him had they known he was not a physician.

There was no doubt, the court said, that Dumas had benefitted some of the patients, so a light sentence would be imposed.

Will Sell Equipment

Sidney Goldstine, counsel for Dumas, said the expensive equipment of the former "clinic" would be sold at public auction, the proceeds to go to Dumas' wife, who is in Winnipeg at present.

Dumas' conviction is the result of action started by Mayo Brothers, of Rochester, Minn., famous surgeons, with whom, it was said, Dumas represented himself to be associated.

Dumas served nine months of a five-year sentence at Stony Mountain penitentiary, following conviction in 1916 for having caused a woman's death through an illegal operation. He was tried once previously on a similar charge, but was acquitted.

MINERS ARE STILL BALLOTING ON STRIKE QUESTION

Parts of Wales Show Large Majorities in Favor of it — Anti-Strike Movement

London Aug. 27.—Balloting Thursday again shows large majorities in Wales in favor of a miners' strike, but in some parts of the country adverse votes were recorded. The indications are, however, that the strike will be voted by the necessary two-thirds majority.

Simultaneously, the anti-strike movement among other trade unions is growing fast, as the public begins to realize the serious results a coal strike would have on practically all trades, apart from domestic inconvenience and discomfort. Campaigning is active on both sides and strong efforts at mediation by the moderate labor leaders may be expected immediately the result of the balloting is announced.

No Support From Other Unions

London, Aug. 27.—When allowance is made for the vigorous and efficient propaganda engineered against the miners and which is certainly marshalling public opinion against them, for their strike threat, there is also the fact that the miners have by no means yet secured a promise of support from the other big unions.

Ross Clines leader of the parliamentary Laborites, has given an interview, clearly intended to favor mediation. Herbert Smith, President of the powerful Yorkshire Miners' association, has also delivered a speech which has not yet received the attention it deserves and which is decidedly conciliatory. There will certainly be no definite change in the general position till next week. The news that the first miners' votes show a big majority for a strike is exactly what was expected and really conveys nothing.

FIRST CANNED ON FRASER RIVER

Skeena River Now Greatest Producer Owing to Rock Slide Into Fraser

The first salmon canned on the Pacific Coast were put up at New Westminster in 1863, by a Mr. Annandale. His operations that year, however, were on a very limited scale. In 1864, he became associated with Mr. Alexander Ewen, who, from that date till his death in 1907, was the recognized leader in the salmon industry in British Columbia.

The first salmon coming on what may be termed the commercial scale occurred, however, on the Sacramento river in 1864. The first pack of 2,000 cases were in cans soldered by hand. It sold for $15 per case but the high costs and the deductions for defective tins precluded any profits. In 1866, the operator, Mr. Hume, transferred his activities to the Columbia River. He lived to see the pack in that district increase from his pack in 1866, 4,000 cases, to 656,000 cases in the "banner" year, 1884.

In 1876, there were three canneries on the Fraser and the combined pack was 9,347 cases. In 1901, there were 48 cannaries on the Fraser and 25 in Puget Sound waters canning Fraser River salmon, or 73 in all. In the "banner" year 1913, the total pack of Fraser River sockeye was 2,392,000, or over 115 million pouds (57,500 tons). This represented 30 per cent. of the entire world's production of canned salmon in that year. At present prices it would be worth about $50,000,000.

Owing to a disastrous rock slide in the Fraser River in 1913 and to the overfishing of the depleted "runs" of sockeye, the total pack of this fish in 1919 was only 74,000 cases or three and one half million pounds.

Fishing on the Skeena River commenced in 1877. Today, owing to the eclipse of the Fraser fisherie, it is the principal salmon river of British Columbia.

Commencing in 1878, with a pack of 8,159 cases by two canneries, the Alaska fishery increased till, in 1918, 134 canneries put up 6,678,000 cases. Overfishing, however, has created a situation which demands drastic changes in the situations. POSTPONE DATE RECEIVING ENTRIES

For the 1920-21 Manitoba Egg Laying Contest Until September 10th

Poultry breeders in Brandon will be interested to learn that the date for receiving entries for the 1920-21 Manitoba Egg Laying Contest has been extended from August 15th to September 10th.

On account of the unsatisfactory conditions in hatching last Spring and the large proportion of late hatched chicks, many breeders have found it difficult to decide whether to enter or not. This delay will give them a little greater opportunity to size up the possibilities of their flocks.

Entries should be sent to the Superintendent of the Experimental Farm, Brandon.

PETER MIDDLETON PASSES PEACEFULLY TO GREAT BEYOND

Brandon Loses Good Citizen — Came Here 24 Years Ago From N. Wales

Brandon lost a good citizen and old resident by the death of Peter Middleton, which occurred at his home, 564 Thirteenth Street, Saturday evening. Mr. Middleton has been very ill for a considerable time and his death was not unexpected, coming as a happy release from suffering. He passed away in a quiet sleep.

Every movement for the benefit of humanity, and for the improvement and beautifying of the city had a warm friend and champion in Mr. Middleton, who during his twenty-four years' residence in Brandon has seen this city grow from a scrawney prairie town into a garden city. A growth in which he had a large part. He will be principally remembered for the part he played in beautifying the city, locating parks, stimulating movements for tree-planting, and the cultivation of beautiful flowers, shrubs and trees, and his home, before he became too feeble to care for it properly, was, in addition to being a beautiful spot, the scene of many experiments in horticulture. When the Public Parks Board was created in 1906 Mr. Middleton was a member, and retained his connection with the Board until a few years ago when he was forced to retire by ill-health. During the years 1913-15 he was Chairman, and the interest was always keen.

The late Mr. Middleton was the moving spirit in the Brandon Horticulture and Forestry Association of which he was Secretary for twenty years. The Horticultural Society during this period was the most prominent and proficient body of this sort in the Province of Manitoba and under its auspices many wonderful displays were held. He also contributed many valuable articles to the public press on horticulture.

In municipal affairs, the late Mr. Middleton also took keen interest and he sat as Alderman for Ward Five for five years, at the same time being a member of the Board of Directors of the Summer Fair. For years he kept a barometer and was the local authority on the weather. In regard to beautification of the cemetery, Mr. Middleton took an active part, and it was largely through his efforts that it was made the beauty spot it is today.

The late Mr. Middleton was as active in the promotion of the welfare of his fellows as in civic affairs. For nearly twenty years he was a faithful member of the vestry of St. Matthew's Church. He was also a past President of the Bible Society, and took a great interest in the affairs of the Y.M.C.A. and the Brandon College.

Born in Scotland

Peter Middleton, though his name will live forever in the history of Brandon, was a native of Scotland. He was born in Aberdeen, Scotland, July 10th, 1839. It was there he was educated, and in 1886 he was married to Christian Boyden Highbury, of London, at St. James' Church, Piccadilly. Mr. and Mrs. Middleton lived in North Wales and came to Canada when Mr. Middleton's health failed in 1896. They were greatly beloved by the people in North Wales and some remarkable testimonials were paid them on their departure. Mr. and Mrs. Middleton came straight to Brandon and very soon afterwards purchased their home site, which they soon made a paradise of flowers, shrubs and trees and where they have lived ever since.

Soon after coming to Brandon Mr. Middleton purchased a farm about five miles North of the city, next to Mr. Donald McEwan's, which he disposed of last Spring to Mr. Jas. Sinclair, who for years cultivated it for him.

The suvivors of Mr. Middleton, are his widow and two daughters, Mrs. R. H. Brotherhood, Elkhorn; Mrs. A. J. Keddy, Brandon, and two sisters, Miss Mary Middleton, Brandon, and Miss Sarah Middleton, Wadena, Sask., and one brother, William, at Santa Monica, California.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon. After a short service at the home, there was a service in St. Matthew's Church at 2.30 conducted by Rev. E. A. Anderson. The pall bearers were Messrs. D. H. Scott, D. Sheriff, Jas. Sinclair, T. M. Percival, Dr. S. J. McKee and Ald. Patmore. The Horticultural Society lined the grave in the Brandon Cemetry with the flowers he loved best.

RETAIL PRICES IN U. S. WILL DECLINE SLIGHTLY THIS FALL AND WINTER

Washington, Aug. 28—Retail prices, in the opinion of the Federal Reserve Board, will decline slightly during the coming Fall and Winter months and will slump next Spring to still lower levels.

Summarizing recent changes in prices of various commodities of the United States, the board in a report said that "saving afforded by manufacturers through lessened cost of materials and increased efficiency of labor must eventually be reflected in a downward movement of retail prices."

Changes in the prices of raw materials, which were reported to have declined sharply during the past few weeks, will not show their effect, according to the board, in retail prices until early next Spring.

MARKETS

Wood, Weller & McCarthy, Ltd., supply the following market report of the Union Stock Yards, St. Boniface, under date of August 30th.

Receipts today are 2,700 cattle, 200 hogs and 560 sheep. Prospects for this week are very good on all classes of fat cattle with the common ones selling to a very slow trade at mean prices. The real top steers are bringing from $11.50 to $12.25 with a few exceptions a little higher and the bulk of the butcher steers from $10 to $11. Stocker and feeder steers are meeting a fair demand at prices ranging from $5.50 to $8 for stockers and $6.50 to $10 for feeders, according to quality. We look for a good trade on stockers and feeders this fall (that is, for the good ones), our chief outlet being the Southern feeders, and we believe they will be with us in large numbers this year as there is a bumper crop being harvested there at this time.

Females are the best sellers here at present, top heifers selling as high as $11 with the bulk of the good ones going from $10.50 to $10.75. Top cows from $8.50 to $9.50, the common ones from $6 to $7.50 with canners and cutters from $4 to $6.

Hogs sold Monday for $20 with steady prospects for balance of the week, cutting being very heavy.

Sheep and lambs, if in good shape, selling to a good trade. Lambs bringing from $11.50 to $14.00 and sheep from $7 to $8.50.

It is most important to bring a health certificate for all cattle shipped to this market.

Transfer Negotiations

Warsaw, Aug. 30.—The Russian Soviet Government has accepted the Polish preposal for transfer of the Russo-Polish peace negotiations from Minsk to Riga, Letvia, it was announced in a Moscow wireless message to the Polish Government.

Definite indications reached Warsaw Saturday that but little progress had been made at the Minsk conference and that the Poles and Soviet representatives had agreed to a shift of the negotiations in the hope of bettering conditions generally.

A wireless message from Minsk by way of Moscow to the Foreign Office complains of the treatment suffered by the Polish delegates. The message asserts the commander of the Western Soviet army placarded Minsk with posters labeling the Poles as spies and warning the population against associating with them. The message adds that the commander destroyed the Poles wireless station, hindering communications with Warsaw.

Armored cars arrived at the scene, headed for Shankill, this being an Orange locality, on edge to avenge the "Marrowbone" invasion of the Unionists. Crumlin road was humming like a bee-hive, with workers proceeding towards the city, who found themselves "storm-bound."

An elderly lady who was there among others at the railroad depot, stared at the crowds and remarked to an overall-clad worker:

"Is there a big excursion on?"—"Yes, madam," was the reply, "to heaven, or the other place."

"Negotiations have been proceeding with the government, and an important statement is expected to be delivered to the Ulster Unionist council on Friday next.

"Meanwhile all loyalists are earnestly urged to exercise the utmost restraint and forbearance, however great the provocation they may be subjected to, and to comply with the orders issued by the military authorities."

Winnipeg, Aug. 28.—An official investigation into the reported disloyalty of Hutterites at Eli, Man., will be conducted by the Department of Education as soon as public schools reopen early in September, Robert Fletcher, Deputy Minister, assured a deputation of Great War Veterans.

Mr. Fletcher said the inquiry would be held at Eli. He asked for a representative of the Veterans to attend. He declined to make any comment on the value of the evidence submitted to him. The veterans made their report verbally.

No more 95 p.c. flour will be milled, they said. A drop of $1 a barrell on higher grades and $1.50 on Government standard grades, is expected to result immediately. It is believed probable today that many mills in the district would resume full operations by the latter part of the week.

BRING FARMERS AND LABOR PARTY CLOSER TOGETHER

F. J. Dixon Corrects What He Declares Are Misrepresentations by Daily Press

LABOR DAY PROGRAM

Includes Picnic, Sports, Speeches and Street Dance

The Labor Day program commenced with a basket picnic in the morning at the Exhibition grounds for the members of the Labor Party and the People's Church, was continued during the afternoon in athletic contests, concluding after the speeches by Labor leaders in the City Hall, by a street dance. Success attended all items and the glorious weather helped to make a holiday that will long be remembered. In the games the features were the success that attended the entry of Winnipeg North End Athletic Club athletes, and the even break in the double header the Brandon and Virden ball teams played. F. J. Dixon was the chief speaker at the meeting in the City Hall and he devoted his efforts towards showing that the Farmers and the Labor men can and will unite, and that what has been put forward as obstacles to such a union creates no real difficulty, the chief obstacle being, according to the speaker, the misrepresentation employed to keep them apart.

Welcomed by Mayor

Several of the speakers expected to attend the meeting called by the Labor party were unable to do so. This did not apply to His Worship, Mayor Dinsdale, who was not expected to make any extended remarks but who extended a welcome to the visitors, and was given a very hearty reception.

President Geo. Ayres in the chair, did the honors and stated: "I am labelled a Bolshevik by some, but as I don't know what that is, I am not worried." He read regrets from Wm. Robinson, M.L.A., Souris, and Peter Heenan, M.L.A., of Kenora.

A. E. Smith, M.L.A., congratulated the Labor men on the success of the celebration and criticized the Norris Government for attempting to retain the reigns of power when it does not command a majority in the house. The Liberal party went to the country holding forty seats and when the elections were over had but eighteen. He declared it had lost out but that there was no great outcry even, though the minority rules for the time being. A Government that spent about $20,000 in an attempt to convict Dixon, can't spend money to call an election. The Labor party, Mr. Smith declares, cannot merge with old parties. It stands for principles. He advised the Conservatives and the Liberals to get together.

Westward over Europe

Civilization is digging its grave in Europe, according to Mr. Smith, who advised letting it go as a better thing is being born than the thing that has died, though what it will be is hard to say. A wave is said to be sweeping Westward over Europe, driving the old political and economic faiths and religious superstition. Mr. Smith declared it has in it content and value for all peoples, values that will be disclosed as time proceeds. Events are in the saddle and no body of thought was described as being so well able to understand and face the truth of the facts as the Labor party. The overhead control system was described as a fisherman who has hooked a monster that is wrapped around the earth. No generation ever faced greater responsibilities or had a greater opportunity to be of service.

Farmers Real Labor Men

Geo. Little, M.L.A., Beautiful Plains, advised the Farmers and Labor to get together for their own salvation or they will be of no use. He declared the old political parties were trying to keep them separate. The farmer is a real labor man, according to Mr. Little, who declared his happiness at being present, but declined to attempt speech making.

Mayor Dinsdale advised Mr. Dixon to tell his Winnipeg athletes to come along next year to the sports as Brandon will be ready for them. He welcomed the speakers.

To Explain Misunderstanding

To explain misunderstandings created by the daily press, was the declared mission of F. J. Dixon, M.L.A. The Winnipeg Free Press was in a terrible way, he declared, for fear the Farmers and Labor m[illegible] would get to understand each o[illegible]. The first plank in the Labor party platform was, he said, declared to be something which forever prevents any merging of interests on the part of

GAS FUMES KILL FOUR, NORTH ALTA

Three Men Lose Lives Trying to Recover a Piece of Meat

Edmonton, Sept. 7.—Four fatalities caused through fumes were reported to the Provincial police on Sunday and Monday.

On Sunday afternoon, Thomas Leftis, [illegible] Caughlan and Elbert Christ lost their lives at Mellowdale, about 80 miles North of Edmonton, in an effort to recover a portion of fresh meat which had fallen down the shaft of a dry well, forty-five feet deep. Lewis made the first attempt to recover the meat and when he did not return his nephew went down to investigate. When he also failed to come to the surface, his wife, becoming alarmed, called in a a neighbor, Christ, who also went down, and not returning, Caughlan's wife summoned further help. Neighbors lowered a lantern which was extinguished by the gas fumes when ten feet from the surface.

The fourth fatality from gas fumes occurred at Tofield, about forty miles from Edmonton, on Monday, when James Easton lost his life while endeavoring to free a drill in the well which he was putting down. The drill stuck when forty feet from the surface.

MISS MARY GARTSIDE AWARDED SCHOLARSHIP IN SASKATCHEWAN

Brandon friends of Miss Mary Gartside, of Moose Jaw, Sask., formerly of this city, will be interested to learn that she has been awarded the first scholarship in Saskatchewan to be given by the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire in connection with their War Memorial Work. This scholarship is for $250 a year for four years and is part of the War Memorial program of the I.O.D.E. for assisting the relatives of soldiers. Miss Gartside is the eldest daughter of the late Lieut. J. H. Gartside, who enlisted with the 128th Battalion from Moose Jaw, Sask., and after seeing much active service in France was wounded and died a few hours later. The late Lieut. Gartside was at one time employed by the Hanbury Company in Brandon and several years ago moved to Moose Jaw to reside. Miss Gartside is an exceedingly clever student and expects to attend the University of Saskatchewan this year.

Both the Brandon and Teck Chapters I.O.D.E. contributed to the War Memorial fund and it seems most fitting that a former Brandon girl should have secured the first bursary to be awarded in Saskatchewan.

WHEN FARMING PAYS 310 P. C. THEN PEOPLE WILL FARM

Declares Director of United Farm Women of Ontario—Beware of Criticism

Owen Sound, Sept. 7.—Lt. Col. L. O. Carmichael, M.P.P., Mininter without Portfolio, in the Ontario Cabinet, speaking at a joint U. F. O., and War Veterans picnic yesterday warned the people not to pay too much attention to the criticism of the government regarding the hydro radial project, as much of the criticism was done in selfish interests. Referring to the Ontario timber probe, he said that some so-called leading citizens should be severely punished.

Miss Michael, Director of the United Farm Women of Ontario for North York, said there was a great wail over rural population. When farming pays three hundred and ten per cent, like the Dominion Textile Company, she declared, "you will have to erect barb wire barricades to keep people off the farms."

FIFTY ENTRIES IN BABY CONTEST

Judges Had Most Difficult Task in Selecting the Winners

There were fifty entries in the baby contest held Labor Day at the Child Welfare Station. Dr. R. E. Holbrook and Mrs. John Esslemont acted as judges and were assisted by Miss Parker and Miss Kidd. It was a most difficult job for the judges to decide the winners among such a splendid lot of babies, and it took practically the entire morning from 10.30 before they were able to complete their work. Parents may secure the prize winners' awards at the Bon Accord Grocery, Third Street.

The prize winners were as follows: Under one year, Dorothy Shaw, 451 Frederick Street; special prize, Bernice Wade, Suite R., Parkview Apartments; second prize, James Gartrell, 156 Thirteenth Street; third prize, [illegible] 356 Douglas Street.

Between one and two years: First, Mary Foster, 1456 Ninth Street; second, Lyle Thompson, 127 Twenty-third Street; third, Raymond Charleton, Suite 34, Bell Block. Special prize awarded by Dr. Holbrook and Mrs. Esslement was obtained by David and Mildred Blythe, aged one and a half years, twins of Mr. and Mrs. Blythe, 431 Russell Street.

RUM RUNNERS CAUGHT AFTER LONG CHASE INTO U. S. TERRITORY

Estevan, Sask., Sept. 7.—After one man had been wounded, their car pierced by nine revolver bullets in an eleven-mile chase by Customs Officer H. A. Roberts, of Crossbee, N.D., L. G. Mills and J. Jones, of Juanita, N.D., surrendered to Roberts twelve miles South of the international boundary.

The men were spotted by the customs officials and suspected of smuggling liquor across the line. When they refused to stop their car the officers answered by revolver bullets. During the fusilade one of the prisoners was wounded in the hand. They were caught in a clump of bushes, after abandoning their automobile.

ENJOY PERFECT HOLIDAY

A more perfect day than Monday for the last holiday of the season would be difficult to secure. If man had made the weather it colud not have been more satisfactory and many Brandon people took the opportunity to enjoy the holiday in the open. Many picnics up the river, out to Lake Clementi or to some of the other beauty spots in the district took place on Labor Day. Tennis, bowling and golf were very popular, and a large number of people attended the Labor Day sports at the Exhibition grounds.

DO SINN FEINERS PLAN NEW SERIES ARMED OUTBREAKS

Activity Noted Leads London Daily Mail to This Conclusion

London, Sept. 7.—The Daily Mail says it learns that a new activity has been noted among certain well organized members of the Sinn Fein Republican army. It is believed in official circles, the newspaper adds, that a new series of armed outbreaks has been planned to begin about September 25.

The Daily Mail also says that owing to the Government's refusal to liberate Mayor MacSweeney, friends have addressed an urgent petition to the "Republican Government" in Ireland asking that the Lord Mayor be released from his oath and that permission be given him to take food.

SIGNS OF BREAK IN TRADE BOOM

Portsmouth, Eng., Sept. 7.—At the Trades and Labor congress opened here Monday, James Henry Thomas, in his presidential address, justified the Council of Action." He said that Labor's course was bold; that it challenged the constitution there could be no doubt and that such change of method required an explanation.

"Labor," he said "gave an organized expression to public opinion and frustrated the desires of those statesmen who would drag this country at the tail of any foreign imperialistic policy, even at the cost of war."

The council was called into being, he added, for "the complete Independence of Poland and peace with Russia," and when these objects were carried out it would be content with the results of its labors.

Regarding the industrial position, Mr. Thomas said that the coming Winter would in many respects be the hardest experienced in a number of years. There were many thousands of unemployed and there were clear and unmistakable signs of a break in the trade boom. Steps were being taken in industry to concentrate the capitalists' interest.

"But the other side," he continued, "must clearly understand that the years of effort that have placed the workers in the position they hold today, and will not and must not be lost and that they would be prepared to accept a challenge to their industrial freedom or economic emancipation."

A resolution calling upon the government to adopt the draft convention of the International Labor congress held at Washington was carried unanimously.

SPECTATORS AT TENNIS MEET SEE AVIATORS CRASH TO DEATH

Forest Hills, N.Y., Sept. 7. — Two aviators were killed Monday afternoon, when a naval seaplane in which they were flying crashed into the ground a short distance from the Forest Hills tennis courts and within view of the crowd watching the finals in the national all-comers title tournament.

The victims had been circling over the courts when their engine suddenly stopped, and the plane dropped, plunging into the ground just across the railroad tracks from the tennis courts.

NO WARRANT FOR BIG INCREASE IN IMPLEMENT PRICES

U. S. Federal Trade Commission Recommends Re-opening Anti-Trust Proceedings

73 PER CENT. ADVANCE

During Years 1914-18 is Greater Than Increased Costs Warrant

Washington, Sept. 7. — Declaring that prices of farm implements in the United States to have increased without warrant through the concerted action of manufacturers and dealers, the Federal Trade Commission recommends a re-opening of anti-trust proceeding against the International Harvester Company and the institution of judicial proceedings against implement manufacturers and dealers. During the years 1914-1918 the prices paid by farmers advanced 73 per cent. with the greater proportion of the increase coming in 1917 and 1918. This increase, the Commission asserts, is larger than is warranted by the increased costs of production.

THREE KILLED IN CAVE OF WINDS

Slide of Rock Kills Three and Injures Two Other Sight Seers

Buffalo, Sept. 7. — Three persons were killed and two injured Monday afternoon by a fall of rock in the Cave of the Winds under Niagara Falls. The dead are: A. Hartman, 4118 Avenue P., Brooklyn; his wife, Louise Hartman; and Clara M. Faust, 2658 Norwood Avenue, Pittsburg.

The injured are: T. W. Lee, 44 South 22nd street, Pittsburg, and Frank Hashleng, 83 Clarendon Ave., Detroit, Mich.

The party was on one of the bridges when a slide of shale rock fell upon them. The bodies of the dead have not been recovered and it may take days to dig them out of the debris. The identification was made at the office at the entrance to the Cave of the Winds where visitors register.

The roar of the falls in the cave is so great that no warning of the slide of stone could be heard by any of the party.

To recover the bodies of the dead it was necessary to take a row boat from the Maid of the Mist steamer, which had been run up as near as possible to the falls and cave. It was a hazardous venture, but the row boat crew finally brought the bodies out of the pool and regained the steamer.

The accident is the first of its kind which has occurred in the cave since the first stairway was built in 1883. There have been slides before, but only in the Winter or early Spring.

All but one of the injured were from Toronto.

PREMIER MEIGHEN TRAVELS ABOUT GREAT DOMINION

Getting into Touch With What People Are Doing in Various Provinces

GOOD POLITICS

Sir Robert Borden Got Sadly Out of Touch Because of Absences

Ottawa, Sept. 2. — If Hon. Arthur Meighen keeps on he will soon acquire the reputation of being a great gadder. Certainly no other Canadian Prime Minister ever travelled anything like as much of the country, within two months after entering office, as he has done. Since the middle of July he has covered the nearly 2,500 miles between Portage la Prairie and Halifax and delivered several notable addresses. That is going some, to say nothing of the work done on Parliament Hill. Of course he had to do it. When you and your opponent are after the same thing, the public, and your opponent takes to the road, you must do the same or take chances. And the present Prime Minister cant' take chances. Sir Robert Borden took too many of this kind for the good of those who have come after him.

It is fortunate for himself and the country that the Prime Minister has taken to the road; and the same may be said of Mackenzie King. It will be even better if they stay on it until the snow flies. Talk as one may, but Sir Robert Borden got very much out of touch with the country. In a measure this was due to events in Europe, but not altogether. Sir Robert did not keep himself correctly advised of what was going on at home. Of course if he did not intend to retain office his lack of interest is explained. Be that as it may, his lack of contact with the people undoubtedly forced him into the position either of retiring or of going down to decisive defeat. This aloofness on the part of political leaders during recent years has given new movements their opportunity; while the former have done nothing the latter have been preaching their doctrines and securing converts.

Keep in Close Touch

Strange as it may seem, the more time a Canadian statesman spends in London the worse off it seems to be [illegible] Borden spent far more time there than any other Prime Minister and very few lost their hold on the public quicker. This may sound rather strange to readers far from the capital, but it is the truth. His strongest supporters now admit that he got hopelessly out of touch with things at home, and they realize that hope lies only in getting quickly in touch with them. In 1911 Sir Wilfrid Laurier went off to an Imperial Conference when, for his own good he should have been preparing for an election campaign, and during the six weeks he was away his opponents get the chance they needed. At this date there is no harm in speaking thus; for those who know anything about Conservative tactics in 1911 know that the forcing of Sir Wilfrid to take the trip at that time was part of a political manoeuvre which succeeded beyond expectations.

No on ever questioned the loyalty of Sir John Macdonald; but he did things a little differently. He had as weighty imperial matters to deal with as any Canadian Prime Minister ever had, and necessarily had to go to Great Britain once in a while. But he knew better than to make his visits too frequent or to remain away too long. He paid more attention to keeping the people at home in line with his policy than in keeping London in line , or even consulting it. And the reason is obvious; for he well realized that if he got out of touch with the Canadian public he could do nothing. He acted on the principle that what Canadians want is the most important consideration; and he was right. The result was that no political leader in this country ever got along better with the Canadian electorate and the Home Office.

One Sourse of Trouble

But during the last decade there has been a departure from this sound principle of action. Many good and well-meaning people instead of taking their cue from the people at home, have been inclined rather to take it from certain others across the sea, who do not know Canada or how to handle her. There also has been too much of a tendency to question the loyalty of those who did not fall in with their methods of procedure. This, possibly more than anything else, has caused the trouble with Quebec. It has caused trouble also with other parts of the country.

Importance of Quebec

As the politicians are paying much attention to Quebec just now, it will be quite apropos to make a few observations thereon. There are certain things that the history of the last fifty years should have taught every thoughtful Canadian. One of these is that Confederation is rightly considered one of the most important milestones in the development of British colonial policy. After all, who made it possible? The French-Canadians. If they had not been a party to Confederation it would not have been possible. Their support of Confederation was the test of their loyalty. Sir John Macdonald, in the main, had his own way with Quebec, not beause he gave it everything that it wanted, though he made notable concessions to it, but because he had the good sense to respect the large element in the population of that province which he must work with and whose co-operation was absolutely vital. The wisest among the old Conservatives are now convinced that their undoing began when they were steered wrong on the racial issue.

Of course the war and the implacable hostility of Quebec to conscription created a situation that has been difficult to deal with. But the principle holds good and must be recognized, that if the support of Quebec is to be assured that province will have to be respectfully listened to and more regard paid to its opinions in the shaping of public policy. This is but another way of saying that in at least one part of the country more attention will have to be paid to the folks at home.

Two Types of Leader

In politics there are two types of leader. One proceeds on the principle that certain things ought to be done and the other proceeds to do them whether the greater part of the people like it or not. On the other hand is the type that, discerning that only certain things can be done, proceeds to do them. The former waste a great deal of their time in fruitless efforts; the latter have a record of solid achievement. The time has come in this country when the latter policy, insofar as the big problems of national destiny are concerned, will have to prevail. In a country made up of so many diverse elements as Canada is, co-operation on the part of these elements is absolutely necessary.

Political Power Moves Westward

This applies to the West quite as much as to any other part of the country. There was a time when what Montreal and Toronto said on questions of policy, went. But this is no longer the case. Even Winnipeg cannot presume to speak for the West. Steadily the balance of political power is moving Westward, which means that the open-minded opinions of that portion of the Dominion will have as much influence as those of any other part in deciding national problems. Only disaster awaits those who fail to heed this.

These things have been driven home to the minds of our political leaders during the last year; for some of them have realized that they have been going one way and the public another. The change of attitude now apparent will do good. The country requires a concentration of thought and effort on domestic problems and undoubtedly will get it. The new political movements are gathering strength because those who direct them know what concerns the people.

Importance of Agriculture

The East is in fine fettle over the reports from the West indicating a good crop. This is natural for the East has a strong regard for its bread and butter. It is a long time since so much depended on a crop as depends on this one. In more than one Eastern city unemployment is becoming a problem. The reason is that the manufacturing interests cannot keep up with the pace set during the war. Besides, the competition of European nations is now being felt. The balance of trade is now going so heavily against the country that were it not for a large crop of wheat, thus swelling exports, a crisis would be precipitated. It is being more and more demonstrated that agriculture is the country's basic industry. Canada has also to thank her lucky stars just now that so large and profitable a market exists so nearby in the United States, which is now our best customer. Trade with Europe has taken a surprising slump and there is little prospect of the situation in that quarter improving for some time to come.

Tariff Will be Big Issue

The sessions of the Tariff Commission will be followed with much interest, especially those in the West, reports indicating that this body is not very highly favored in that quarter. Notwithstanding the enquiry it is certain that Old Man Tariff will be the big issue in the next campaign. The protectionist element will make it so and the low tariff element will not be loath to accept the challenge. It is the one issue that the public understands better than all others. It is the one on which the respective sides can best rely for support. Of course the spectre of Bolshevism may loom up; but that will not frighten many people, especially since the Red army has received such a trimming.

City to Be Asked to Submit Money By Laws to Vote of People

The boundaries of Brandon may be enlarged so as to include the new Suburban Park within the city limits. In an effort to bring this about the Brandon Parks Board will wait on the Council of the Municipality of Cornwallis at their next session.

The Parks Board also is preparing to ask the City Council to submit a by-law to the ratepayers for the authorization of the expenditure of a sufficient sum of money to erect a new greenhouse, and to fence the City Hall grounds. The cost of the greenhouse is estimated at $7,000 and it is probable that the cost of a suitable fence for the City Hall grounds will be in the neighborhood of $2,000.

At a recent meeting of the Parks Board there was an informal discussion of a proposal to dam the Assiniboine River about the First Street bridge for the purpose of raising the level of the river sufficiently to provide good bathing and boating facilities at the Suburban Park.

Work on the boulevarding on Victoria Ave. has been completed for the season. The grass spaces have been plowed, filled in and seeded at a cost of $949, according to a report by Sperintendent Shrives. The weeds are being killed between the street car rails and next Spring this will be filled in with gravel. During this season 1824 trees have been pruned and there still remain 3395 to be pruned next season. Extension of the Rideau Park Bowling Green is to be completed this Fall. When the additional ground has been prepared the bowlers will have a square playin surface, permitting of bowling several directions, thus saving the green.

A resolution of condolence with the family of the late Peter Middleton was passed by the Parks Board. Several members expressed appreciation of the very valuable service rendered by Mr. Middleton from the time of inception of the Board until he was forced by failing health to retire, a few years ago.

JOINT COUNCIL OF INDUSTRY CAN PROBE RENT RATES

Has Full Power to Look Into the Rental Situation in Manitoba

Winnipeg, Sept. 2.—It is up to the Joint Council of Industry to decide whether it will probe the rental situation. This is the decision of the provincial cabinet to which Dr. C. W. Gordon, appealed for advice in the matter Saturday.

Premier T. C. Norris Wednesday wrote Dr. Gordon apprising him that the council is empowered to administer the Industrial Conditions act in every detail. If the act gives authority to probe rents, the letter says, in effect, then the council should "go to it."

What the council will do in view of the letter is not known. No statement was given out as the premier's letter has yet to be considered by the full board.

PREDICTS DEFEAT OF NORRIS GOVT. ON FIRST VOTE

R. A. C. Manning, Conservative Organizer, Confident This Will Be Outcome

Winnipeg, Sept. 2.—R. A. C. Mannings, Conservative organizer for Manitoba, expressed his conviction today that the Norris Government will be defeated on the first vote in the 1921 session of the Provincial Legislature.

There could be no question of the Government's prospective defeat, Mr. Manning said, and for that reason he declined to forecast who would be the Conservative house leader for the next session. Mr. Manning said that it was most improbable that R. G. Willis, the defeated Conservative leader, would endeavor to win a seat in the by-elections, and declared that Mr. Willis would remain Conservative leader in Manitoba inside or out of the Legislature. Major F. C. Taylor is mentioned as the probable house leader.

FORMER METHODIST PASTOR DISAPPEARS FROM HOME NEAR FLINT SIDING, ONT.

Fort William, Ont., Sept. 2.—Rev. W. Louckens, 84 years old, a retired Methodist minister, disappeared from his home, three and a half miles from Flint Siding, on the Canadian National, Duluth extension, and a search has been instituted by the Mounted Police, but so far without avail.

The old man had been in the habit of leaving without notice for Fort William or Port Arthur, so that for the first day or two there was no anxiety felt. He is six feet in height, physically strong, and in good health, and is in good circumstances, owning several farms, on one of which he makes his home. When no word was heard of him since Saturday last, his nephew, T. Louckens, came in to enlist the service of the Mounted police.

CANADA RAILWAYS REDUCING CARS IN UNITED STATES

Want Every Available Car in Canada to Handle Wheat Crop of 1920

Ottawa, Sept. 2.—Efforts are being made by the Canadian railways to reduce the number of their cars on the other side of the boundary, in order to make provision for the handling of the 1920 wheat crop. In recent weeks the balance of Canadian cars on United States lines as against American cars in Canada has been greatly reduced, but railway department officials here point out that while the United States is actually suffering from car shortage herself, it is a hard matter to get the Canadian cars back to this side of the line. Further, there is naturally a normal balance of some 12,000 more Canadian cars in the United States than American cars in Canada, owing to the different classes of freight handled North and South.

So far as possible, however, Canadian railways are getting their own cars back here and are not loading for shipment to United States points, any Canadian cars which would be serviceable for the handling of wheat and other grain.

LIVERPOOL HAS ONLY ONE PAPER OWING TO STRIKE

Employers Show No Signs of Yielding and Printers Still Out on Strike

London, Sept. 2.—Manchester and Liverpool are still without newspapers owing to the printers' strike, with the exception of the Northern edition of the Daily Mail. The strike is causing great inconvenience to the commercial community, and also to the sport-loving public.

The Daily Mail has agreed not to print more than the usual number of copies, and papers publishing in other centres have agreed not to send more than the usual number of copies into Manchester and Liverpool.

Sir Edward Hutton, head of the great Manchester publishing house, is said to have asserted that so far as he is concerned the strike may continue forever. Other employers show a firm attitude and the men betray no signs of yielding on their demand for a ten-shilling a week increase.

EMISSARY OF EMPIRE TRADE VISITS BRANDON

During Mr. Feilden's Tour He Has Arranged for Series of Articles by Leading Men

EMPIRE MOVEMENT

British Capital Looks to Canada For Investment Opportunities

An emissary of the trade within the Empire movement that is being fostered wherever the flag flies, in in the person of Theo. Feilden, editor in chief of The Empire Mail and director of the Imperial Trade Propaganda Organization, London, was a visitor in Brandon on Wednesday. His mission is a double one, seeking avenues of investment for British capital to keep the best blood of the Empire on British soil, and to interest the Canadian people in a special edition of The Empire Mail. That he has met with success in interesting leading Canadians is evidenced by the fact that Mr. Feilden has succeeded in introducing the Premier of Canada, the Hon. Arthur Meighen, Messrs. Calder, Foster, Robertson and other members of the Dominion Cabinet and several of the Premiers of the provinces, to contribute articles, so that the edition promises to be an authoritative one.

In his edition it is planned to place before British investors and British people all over the world the advantages that Canada has to offer. In addition to the articles to be contributed, opportunity is offered various centres to advertise the advantages they possess, and as the British investors are looking for new opportunities in lands where the taxation is not so heavy and labor troubles less acute, the opportunity appears to be a worthy one.

In an interview with Mayor Dinsdale, P. A. Kennedy, President of the Board of Trade and a representative of The Sun, hurriedly arranged on Wednesday, Mr. Feilden explained that the main reason of his visit to Canada is to secure the most reliable information and data possible in connection with Canadian conditions—financial, commercial and industrial. The information he will obtain together with his impressions will be placed before [redacted] Empire Mail in a special Canadian edition issued upon his return to England. This information is intended to portray all the best elements of Canadian life, and to indicate how trade can be expanded between the Motherland and the Dominion, to show the advantages of settlement in Canada, and generally to present an up-to-date and true picture of the Canada of today, its potentialities and its opportunities.

Mr. Feilden recognizes to the full the position which Canada occupies as a great country with abounding opportunities for British capital, enterprise and emigration, and his tour will therefore be of vast importance to the trade relations between the homeland and the Dominion. This information he will be able to give readers of The Empire Mail will doubtless stimulate action in the development of Canada, and be of inestimable value alike to British manufacturers and the business men of what he describes as "the wonderful country" he is visiting.

Mayor Dinsdale arranged with Mr. Feilden to wait on the City Council upon his return from the West, promising that in the meantime he would do his best to acquaint the Aldermen with his mission.

Ottawa, Sept. 2.—Immigration to Canada is steadily increasing both from overseas and the United States. Approximately, July figures show that a total of 12,178 persons entered Canada from ocean ports and 4,300 from the States during the month. Information received here says all passages were booked for months ahead from British and other overseas ports.

SINN FEINERS RAID QUARTERS OF THE AIR FORCE

London, Sept. 2.—A Sinn Fein raiding party invaded the Royal Air Force headquarters at Baldoyle, near Dublin, Sunday night, carried off a large number of secret military documents, including the army code and the cipher used at the present time. The The coup was the most daring attempted since the present unrest began.

Snipers Fire Into Crowd

Bedfast, Sept. 2.—Snipers fired into a dense crowd shortly before eleven last night near the Crumlin road jail and a panic reigned for a time in that section of the city. One civilian was fatally injured. During another riot in Dover Street, one man was seriously wounded. At eleven o'clock the curfew hour, the streets were almost deserted.

Belfast Butterflies

Belfast, Sept. 1. — The military forces here have gained control for the moment the city is quiet. The last clash occurred yesterday afternoon when a mob from the shankhill district invaded the Nationalist area. Fortunately revolvers were not much used, the rioters returning to the classic missiles "kidney stones" and "Belfast butterflies."

Belfast, Sept. 1.—The troubles today resolved themselves into sniping on an extensive scale. Only the Ballymacarrett district was not affected. The worst spot was in North Street.

This evening the military dashed along Greshan Street, which abuts on North Street, in pursuit of a man who was alleged to have fired on them from close range. The troops are being hampered by the curiosity of friendly onlookers, who persist in getting across their line of fire.

GREAT INTEREST IN VOTERS LIST

Seventy-Five Applications for Changes on City of Brandon List

There are more applications for additions and alterations to the list of voters in the City of Brandon than has been the case for many years. There are nearly seven thousand names on the City of Brandon 1920 Voters Lists as compiled by the City Clerk, and seventy-five applications have been made to go before the judge for additions or alterations. Such a number indicates, so it is believed in well-informed circles, that there may be unusual activity concerning municipal elections. In former years there has seldom been more than a dozen applications for alteration.

Judge Cumberland will be asked to set a date for the hearing for such applications. As the elections are not held until November 26th there is no immediate pressure for the final revision of the lists.

President McKinnon suggested that this country is loaded down with taxations, investigations and commissions. Premier Drury advised bringing all classes together and having confidence in the truth.

NO MERCY WAS GIVEN EIGHTY POLICEMEN KILLED

Declares Sir Hamar Greenwood in an Interview With The London Times

PRESENT LAWLESSNESS

Work of Small Body Striving to Impose Succession From Empire on Others

London, Sept. 1.—Appeals on behalf of Terence MacSweeney will not be recognized by the Government, Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, strongly intimated in an interview with the London Times at Lucerne today. Sir Hamar also indicated that the Government would unswervingly adhere to its Irish policy.

"None of the mercy which some seek to invoke for the Lord Mayor," he said, "was shown eighty policemen who have lost their lives in Ireland." Sir Hamar said the present lawlessness in Ireland is the work of a small body, striving, by carefully planned anarchy to impose secession from the Empire on eighty per cent. of the Irish people who do not want to secede. Premier Lloyd George will return to London next week.

ATTENDANCE AT HORTICULTURAL SHOW GRATIFYING

Over 600 Persons Enjoyed Seeing Beautiful Flowers and Vegetables

THE PRIZE LIST

Many Well Known Gardeners Find Competition Very Stiff

Over 600 people attended the twentieth annual exhibition of the Horticultural and Western Forestry Society held in the Exhibition grounds on Thursday. The Horticultural Show, garden party and dance was the most successful ever held in this city, and as a result about $200 was obtained to add to the funds of the Society. That the interest in the show was very keen was evident from the number of people who attended, far surpassing the attendance in previous years, and also in the number of exhibitors and the excellent quality of the displays. Much of the success of the affair is due to the entiring effort of the President, Mr. T. M. Percival, the Secretary, Mr. A. G. Warr, and the splendid committee appointed to take charge of the arrangements. The beautiful surroundings of the Exhibition grounds are ideal for a Horticultural Show and the Executive appreciate the co-operation of the Fair Board in this matter. It is planned to make the show an annual event, to extend the accommodation next year and to have exhibits from the district as well as the city. Through the kindness of some of the exhibitors the vegetables displayed in many cases were sent to the Hospital.

Quite a number of people attendd the show in the afternoon but the biggest crowd was present during the evening hours when the Horticultural building was packed with people. The City Band gave an excellent concert which was much enjoyed and also provided the orchestra for the dance which was attended by about 200 people and held in the Experimental Farm building.

Among the vegetables collections at the Horticultural show a cucumber weighing forty-one ounnces created much interest. It was given by Mr. W. Baldwin, 135 Frederick St. He also had a plate of mushrooms, in the collection from spawn put in last May.

Pumpkin Contest

Great interest was displayed in the Pumpkin contest, and about 270 people tried to guess its weight. The lowest guess recorded was ten pounds and the highest 112 pounds. The correct weight was thirty-two pounds, three ounces, and the following people guessed thirty-two pounds which was the nearest to the correct weight: Mrs. W. Killar, Mrs. W. Hickling, Mrs. G. Lowe, Messrs J. Hales, S. Harris, M. McAuley and A. Currie. To decide the winner of the pumpkin it will be placed in the shop window of Mr. J. Harrison's store, 120 Tenth Street, with a second pumpkin beside it, and the seven who came so near the correct guess Thursday night are asked to estimate the weight of the second pumpkin. The guesses must be made by Saturday night.

Many Splendid Exhibits

So many splendid exhibits were displayed that the judges had a difficult time deciding the winners. Mrs. Wm. Porterfield, of South Brandon, carried off a number of the awards for plants in pots and also secured six other prizes. Mrs. Thomas McKenzie, 322 Sixteenth Street, obtained fifteen prizes. The first prize for the best collection of vegetables exhibited by a market gardener went to Mr. C. C. Gray, who also received the first prize donated specially by the Patmore Nursery Company for the best bushel of potatoes. Mr. Gordon Irwin, 835 Seventh Street, obtained the special prize for the best twelve tomatoes and Mr. George Hickling, 1037 Eleventh Street, obtained the award for the best half bushel of potatoes. Sharp contrasts are said to accentuate beauty and to step into the Horticultural building into a land of Summer from the great outdoors where the first chill of Fall is in the air, cannot help but impress every visitor to the Show. A close inspection makes one wonder how the judges ever decided the winners among such a wonderful collection of mammoth vegetables and exquisite flowers. A reason given for not having a Show this year was that there were no flowers to be exhibited, but the display fully contradicts this theory.

On the right of the entrance is a tomato plant about five feet high which has forty-two tomatoes on it, and is displayed by Mr. P. Allender, who has a splendid garden at his home on Eighth Street. The benches on the right hand side of the building contain displays from the Experimental Farm, D. H. Scott, and the Normal School; while the left side of the building is devoted to individual exhibits, vegetable collections, and a display of flowers by the Parks Board. Plants, cut flowers, tomatoes and potatoes are placed in the centre of the building, and ten-foot sunflowers from the Experimental Farm make an effective background for the entire display.

Experimental Farm

"A real education in what can be accomplished in Brandon and district," is the way one visitor spoke of the Experimental Farm exhibit. The fruit display alone should be of great interest as it shows there is a future for fruits in this district and that if properly cared for, a good harvest can be obtained from a small orchard. Fourteen varieties of native plums are shown, the mammoth variety attracting a great deal of attention. Seven varieties of crab apples are also exhibited. The Experimental Farm has become renowned for its tomatoes and the quality of the many varieties exhibited fully uphold the splendid reputation the Farm has. Other things exhibited include cantaloupes, muskmelons, seven varieties of cucumbers, the original gherkin, mammoth vegetable marrows and huge citrons, squash, mangels, eleven varieties of potatoes, eighteen kinds of corn among which is some popcorn sasify, and many varieties of onions, beets, carrots, parsnips, etc. The Farm is also showing some gigantic pumpkins and every visitor to the Show will have an opportunity of guessing the weight of one of these. The entire display is arranged by the gardener, Mr. G. H. Cooper.

Mr. D. H Scott

Mr. D. H. Scott has a nice collection of flowers and a large begonia which is covered with bloom. He is also exhibiting in the vegetable classes.

Normal School

Fifty varieties of flowers are exhibited in the Normal School display in the Institution class, and the same number of varieties are shown in the open class. The whole makes an exhibit that is worth seeing, and is wonderful when one considers the comparatively dry and short season. Among the flowers noticed was a huge dahlia, measuring nearly eight inches in diameter, of which the gardener, Mr F. J. Tucker, is very proud. The hollyhocks, cosmos, delphinium, gladiolus, lavatera, are very fine specimens and make a splendid showing.

In addition to the cut flowers exhibited the Normal School have a good showing or vegetables and at the rear of the room is to be found the collection of plants from the Normal School Conservatory.

Patmore Display

Beneath a hanging border of crab apples, plums, cherries and other small fruits, is to be found the Patmore exhibit in the centre of the building. This is one of the loveliest displays. Tall spikes of gladiolus in various colors of pink and yellow and other cut flowers top the display of ferns and hot house plants beneath them. A plate of everbearing strawberries, grown in September, are also shown.

Large Oleander

Quite the most admired plant in the building is a large oleander which stands over seven feet in height and has at least a thousand blossoms of a beautiful pink shade. This plant is twenty-two years of age and is the property of Mrs. W. Ledingham, 553 Fourteenth Street.

Parks Board Exhibit

Several hundred flowering plants are shown in the Parks Board exhibit arranged by Mr. Shrives. Against a background of cannas, which have been grown so successfully for the first time this year in the centre beds of the City Hall grounds, gladiolus, geraniums, petunias and many other flowers are displayed. It is just a little late for a good display from the various beds in the parks, as the season was at its height about a week ago.

Wonderful Vegetables

That this is certainly a tomato year is evident from the number of varieties of this fruit exhibited by individuals and the seemingly splendid quality of them all. A feature of the exhibit is the number of white tomatoes shown. One huge tomato measures 15 1-4 inches in circumference and has a diameter of 5 1-4 by 4 1-4 inches.

Individual exhibits of cucumbers and potatoes are also particularly good. It seems to have been a splendid season for cucumbers and some mammoth varieties are shown. The contest in the potato classes was very keen and many exhibits show that the land in this district is specially fitted for growing tubers.

One must see the individual exhibits of cut flowers and plants to really appreciate them. A whole table is loaded down with exhibits of sweet peas. Another has a splendid showing of pansies, and Mrs. Ogg is exhibiting some of her fine hollyhocks. Some beautiful double petunias are also shown.

To the left of the entrance Mr. Charles Gray has a wonderful collection of vegetables, and to look at the cabbages one would not imagine that there is a scarcity of this vegetable.

Honey Shown

There is a great future for bee culture in Brandon and district and two exhibits of honey are attracting much attention. Mr. G. R. Coldwell has a large case of pound combs on display and also some extracted honey. Mr. Frank Reid is showing clover honey in sections, weighing about ten pounds each.

Altogether the Horticultural Show is one that should not be missed by lovers of the great outdoors.

WANTS U. S. IN BRITISH LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Sir James Aikins Addresses Canadian Bar Association at Opening

Ottawa, Sept. 2.—"If the policy of an Imperial conference and an Imperial cabinet develops a league of British nations, let us hope that it will be extended into a larger league which will include the United States, declared Sir James Aikins, president of the Canadian Bar association, at the opening session of the association's annual meetnig in the Chateau Laurier Wednesday.

"Such a league would not only protect all its members and our Anglo-Canadian-Anzac-American civilization against eternal aggression, but would command the warring nations to be still."

"Or, will the policy develop an organic union of India and the self-governing nations of the Empire, with a common representative body, empowered to legislate and an executive council responsible to that body of elected representatives."

Widows Also Eligible

Widows of returned soldiers who have died after retirement or honorable discharge from the service, and before the expiration of twelve months from the coming into force of the act, are also eligible for insurance under the scheme. Policies will be issued for a minimum of $500 and in multiples of $500 up to $5,000.

The act was framed primarily with the object of giving to the returned man, whose physical condition, by reason of war service, prevents him from obtaining ordinary life insurance at normal rates, an opportunity to protect his dependents. It is open, however, to all returned men whether of impaired condition or otherwise.

Protection of Dependents

The government insurance policy is different in some respects from policies issued by regular insurance companies as the object of the scheme is protection of the dependents of the insured. Only immediate dependents may be named as beneficiaries and no provision is made for policy loans. The insurance money is not subject to the claims of creditors of either the insured or the beneficiaries and cannot be assigned. Only one-fifth of the policy is payable at death in a lump sum, the balance to be applied as an annuity under various plans to be selected by the insured.

Advantageous Disability Rate

An exceptional advantage of the statement, it is claimed, is the provision made for a disability benefit, not given elsewhere at such advantageous rates. Under this clause, should the policy holder become totally and permanently disabled, he is at once relieved from paying further premiums and the insurance is paid to him direct as an annuity of one-twentieth of the amount of his policy for a period not exceeding twenty years. Should he not survive in this period, the balance due is paid to his beneficiaries.

Policies may be taken out on several limited payments plans or for whole life, and premiums may be paid monthly, quarterly, half yearly or annually according to the convenience of the insured.

Explanatory booklets and application forms have been forwarded to the various returned soldier organizations. The commissioners, returned soldiers' insurance, have their offices in the transportation building, Ottawa.

LEADERS ORTHODOX MENNONITE CHURCH TO GO TO QUEBEC

Exodus From Manitoba to East Will Probably Split Church

Winnipeg, Sept. 2.—Leaders of the orthodox Menonite church, of Rhineland, Man., have decided to take their people to Abitibi, Que., and establish a colony there, J. F. Greenway, Assistant Deputy Minister of Education, announced Wednesday.

Mr. Greenway, who returned Tuesday from a trip to Rhineland, where he organized public school districts, said he had the authority of one of the church elders, who was a member of the delegation which waited recently on Premier Taschereau of Quebec, for his statement.

"The impression prevails," Mr. Greenway said, "that the exodus will split the church. Some will follow the bishops and elders, and others will remain in Manitoba." He had no information as to the probable number to go.

The decision of the church leaders to migrate to Quebec, it is learned from other sources, is based on the satisfactory reports received from Rev. Johann Griesbricht and others comprising the delegation assigned to investigating the Abitibi region from a colonization standpoint. The report, it is said, is extremely favorable.

VANDALS STRIP CLOTHING FROM FRENCH HEROES

Unscrupulous Souvenir Hunters Desecrate France's Most Glorious Tomb

Paris, Sept. 2.—Stories of vandalism by tourists on the French battlefields are still coming into Paris. Unscrupulous souvenir hunters have undermined at Verdun the famous "trench of the bayonets," a spot where the tips of bayonets disclose the tragedy of a mine explosion, where a company of French infantry were buried alive when standing upright in a trench.

Another trench had been dug at night alongside the place where the bayonets protrude and the desecrators of "Frances most glorious tomb," which is to be perpetuated as a national monument, have taken pieces of clothing and accoutrements from the skeletons of the heroes.

OCEAN STEAMSHIP SERVICE WITH C.N.R. IS BEING PLANNED

Proposed to Operate Several Vessels of 15,000 Tons Each

Ottawa, Sept. 2.— The question of securing Government operated steamship service on the Atlantic and Pacific, to be operated in conjunction with the National railway systems, is engaging the attention of the Government at the present time. The problem is more easy of solution on the Atlantic than on the Pacific inasmuch as on the former the Cunard Steamship line has an arrangement with the Canadian Northern and the White Star Dominion line with the Grand Trunk. On the Pacific there is no such arrangement. Negotiations for the purchase of several vessels was under way, but they fell through.

The plan, however, is to be proceeded with and it is proposed to have several vessels of about 15,000 tons each. In addition accommodation for passengers is being provided on certain of the largest of the Government freighters.

Government-owned vessels now total a tonnage of 300,000. The three Grand Trunk arbitrators—Sir Walter Cassels, Sir Thomas White and Hon. Wm. Howard Taft are all in Ottawa today and arrangements will shortly be made for the opening of the enquiry. In the meantime preparations are being made on the Canadian National for handling of their share of this season's crop. From six to eight thousand cars per year have been added to the system.

PLOT OVERTHROW BRITISH NATION DURING GREAT WAR

Dr. Powell States Danger Not Yet Passed — Helped Squash Plans of Conspirators

Vancouver, Sept. 2.—That a plot to overthrow the British monarchy and establish a republic in Great Britain was hatched during the war, is the statement made by Dr. Ellis Powell, of the London Financial News, a member of the Imperial Press party, which left here Monday.

Dr. Powell was one of the men responsible for the exposure of the conspiracy and in an interview which he gave before leaving the Coast, he reiterated the assertion that the danger outlined, is not yet past.

And referring to the alleged Sinn Feiner plot to assassinate King George, Dr. Powell declared that "this danger and the menace to the British throne do not originate among the Sinn Feiners, but among scheming British politicians of boundless ambition.

'There was a huge Republican plot," Dr. Powell said, "hatched during the war with the idea of seizing a favorable moment for disposition of the king and proclamation of a republic. The president was selected and the whole scheme was ripe. It was overthrown by a group of whom I had the honor to be one. We realized that the proclamation of a republic would be equivalent to taking the keystone out of the Imperial arch. The whole fabric would have dropped to pieces.

"We took vigorous steps to warn the king and to point out to the nation the sinister character of the conspiracy. The result was its total eclipse from that time, but the conspirators are still anxious to effect their aims. That is the reason why the revolutionary elements are fostered among us."

LABOR'S CHALLENGE—DEMOCRACY'S REPLY

Lloyd George spoke for all civilization when he answered the threat of British union labor to call a general strike if the Government took active part with Poland against Russia, with the statement that such dictation would not be tolerated and if attempted would be put down with all the forces of the Empire, says the new York Mail.

The policies of the democratic nations are not in the hands of selected classes who sit at machines in factories, or dig coal in mines, or hold the engine's throttle. They are in the hands of all who cast the ballot and of those who occupy executive and legislative posts as the result of the ballot.

In democracies policies are shaped by free discussion in the national legislature, in the newspapers and on the stump; by the right of petition, and finally by a verdict at the polls, in which the results of discussion are harvested, and the national purpose is declared and committed to parties and individuals there chosen as its agents.

"Hands off!" is the warning of America, and must be the ultimate message of free nations everywhere to any class, overalled or white-collared, which assumes that through close organidation or its relation to essential industries it can override the processes of self-government and substitute the will of a minority for the country's.

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE?

Consider the fruit situation. Eastern Canada and the valleys of British Columbia have produced an enormous crop of fruit for which the Prairie Provinces hunger. For some reason or other, or for a combination of reasons, by the time fruit reaches this country the cost is so high as to be almost prohibitive. This condition, always bad, grows rapidly worse. The indications are that fruit will spoil on the bushes and trees in Eastern Canada and British Columbia. This fruit may not be of the very best quality but it is sufficiently good to be appreciated if it could be placed on the market in Western Canada at a fair price.

There is irritation that the Government has not taken action against finding a solution of the difficulty but we have considerable reason for asking ourselves why we blame it on the Government. Supplying a demand for an article produced in one section of the country and wanted badly in another, is a commercial proposition. It is an opportunity. It is a chailenge to the business capacity of the country. Why, then, is it that there are not individuals and firms engaged in supplying this long-felt want? Is it because conditions of transportation are such that there is no opportunity for profitable enterprise? If it is, then it certainly is the business of the Government to remove such restrictions or hampering conditions. But if the shortage of fruit on the markets on the prairies is due to a lack of aggressive business enterprise, then the dwellers on the plains who want the fruit, and the growers who may see it rot on the bushes and trees, have only themselves to blame.

LEGISLATION FOR FARMERS

Legislation for farmers which will not injure urban dwellers is advocated by the Seattle Post Intelligencer, which thus describes legislation which may be enacted by the State of Washington:

Recent years of population movement to the cities have brought a shortage of farm energy in proportion to the public which it should serve. In the circumstances, overburdened with work, and doing the best he can to feed the country and part of the outside world, the farmer is in need of encouragement, and for the added reason that he complains of being short-changed in the food marts, and in receipt of too small a proportion of the price the final purchaser pays for his product.

Hence the political parties are paying some attention to the farmer's plaint. He is confident that he could improve his condition if he be authorized to form selling pools, to market his product in full understanding with his fellow workers. Some of the states now permit it, as organizations of capital and labor are permitted to operate for their own protection. But others of the states do not permit the farmers to do this, and now Republican statesmen are seeking to secure congressional approval of a national law through the Capper-Hersman bill, which is indorsed generally by farmers, in their behalf.

The Capper-Hersman law would authorize farmers to market their products in a co-operative way. It would place in their hands a weapon already possessed by other interests, and it will be difficult to deny them the right, in the existing conditions. There should, of course, be ample safeguards against abuse. But there is a national need of greater production on the farm, and this bill would do something towards encouraging it.

Somewhere along the line of production and marketing there must be provision made for less wastage in handling expense. If that be accomplished then the farmer will not only be assisted, but the public as well. Without that the day will come when the consumers, too, must be protected by organization.

DELAYS ARE DANGEROUS

The prediction by R. A. C. Manning, Conservative organizer, that the Norris Government will go down on the first vote in the 1921 session of the Manitoba Legislature, may be partially inspired by a desire to strike back at a Government and a Government press that is forever reiterating that the party of which Mr. Manning is organizer has ceased to be a factor in the public life of Manitoba and Canada.

No matter the reason, Mr. Manning appears to have sounded a warning, which if it does not come true as he gives it, appears to be generally correct. The opinion spreads that the Norris Government has lost valuable time by delaying an appeal to the electorate. When the last Provincial elections were held there was a profound and widespread feeling of unrest. The failure of the Government to receive a mandate was more largely attributable to this cause than to any other single factor. Though there were more votes cast for Norris Government candidates than for any other party or faction, yet the Liberals did not secure a majority vote. They were swept from a secure position unto the treacherous one the Government now occupies. And this in spite of the fact that there was general admission that the Norris Government, on its record, deserved another term. The failure of the Government to take firm steps to straighten out petty squabbles which endangered it, indicates that the members of the Cabinet deemed participation in affairs concerning candidates and organization, an impertinence, or they were so satisfied with their record as legislators, and so confident of securing a mandate that they thought it unnecessary. In any event, situations developed in many constituencies which while easily preventable, contributed materially to the failure of the Norris Government to secure the mandate that is necessary for any stable Government to have.

No doubt the decision of the Norris Government not to relinquish the reigns of power was partially due to the hope that by hanging on reinforcements might be secured from the ranks of anti-Government forces, split as they are into several groups. Several months have passed, no doubt Government agents have been busy among the members of the House, anti-Government forces certainly have, so busy that it is doubtful if today the Norris Government has improved its position. Should this prove correct, the delay will be disastrous. An immediate appeal to the people would have given the Norris forces the benefit of "shock effect." With a reduction of the Conservative party temporarily to a place of small importance, there would have been a general turning towards the Norris Government as the agency best calculated to provide stable Government, and the likelihood of its return with a sufficient majority to carry on would have been greatly enhanced.

Delays are dangerous, as dangerous for political parties as for any one else. If the Government finds it is impossible to secure recruits within the house, lapse of time from the date of election, before again appealing to the people will not improve prospects for it. There is more than a possibility that the Farmers may reverse the decision made last Winter and enter the Provincial political field. The success already gained almost forecasts this. Should they do this, where would the Norris Government be?

Unless the Norris Government is able to secure pledges of support before the House opens, Mr. Manning's predictions stand an excellent chance of fulfilment.

GERMANY'S CONDITION

The German Department of Commerce reports that while the economic and political conditions in Germany are a long way from normal, the first long step in the direction of a better order of things has been completed in the initiation of a policy of co-operation in politics and of allowing natural laws to take their course in business. The government is granting allowances to idle workers or providing work for the unemployed and paying wages out of the government funds, a practice that has become quite common in Germany since the war. A short time ago a shoe factory in Cassel was enabled to keep its men at work because the government gave it an order for 6,000 pairs of shoes rather than have the plant close. This is a sort of labor subsidy which gives the government a means of preventing deflation from proceeding at too rapid a pace, but it constitutes a sore strain on the national treasury and is a flagrant cause of inflation, the greatest of all evils in Germany today. The latest statement of the Imperial Bank of Germany shows that on August 7, 1920, the note circulation was 56,060,306,000 marks, an increase over the previous week of 291,806,000 marks and nearly double the note issue on August 7, 1919, when the paper money in circulation amounted to 28,426,680,000 marks. But experts are inclined to think, says an exchange, that the labor subsidy wisely administered will be a help in reducing suffering and disorder, more than counter-balancing the evil of some further inflation.

The report of the Department of Commerce shows that in July there were 136 business failures in Prussia alone, as compared with 106 in June and seventy-five in May. At Frankfort the index number of commodity prices declined during July from 289 to 277. The number of unemployed was 312,000 in July, as compared with 270,000 in June, but, owing to the government's action, despite the drop in prices and the increased number of unemployed, wages during the month showed an advancing rather than a declining tendency.

Mr. Henry Runkel, head of the American-Bavarian Relief Commission, who has just returned to New York, declares that there is practically no danger of Germany falling into the arms of the Bolshevists. She is heartily tired of both junkerism and militarism, he says; and he adds:

"In six months spent in Germany, it was quite plainly shown that Bolshevism has no chance to gain a foothold or cause an upheaval of any kind in that country. In the last election held there, less than one per cent. of the total votes cast leaned towards the Spartacists, and when that element attempted to hold parades they were routed and mobbed. Germany's physical condition is much improved now, but her economic condition is not so good. Nevertheless, her crops will be the largest this year during the last twenty-five years. It is realized in Germany that work is the country's only salvation, and that in this way only can she take her place again with the nations of the world."

The German people, Mr. Runkel declares, will never stand for the return of the "imperial regime." They "call the Kaiser yellow," and blame him for their suffering. And in Mr. Runkel's opinion the greatest punishment the Allies can mete out to the disgraced emperor is to leave him alone in his misery.

BOLSHEVIKI WANTS ARMISTICE

With Poland, According to Information Supplied The London Times

London, Sept. 4.—The Bolsheviki desire an immediate armistice with Poland, according to information that has beein reported to the Times from a "well-informed British source in Warsaw." It is unlikely, says the Times' informant, that there will be any difficulty over the frontier question, and it is probable that a preliminary agreement will be reached between the Poles and Russians a few days after the first meeting. The Poles are willing to confer either at Reval or Riga, and Poland is described as being conciliatory.

SOME DAIRIES NOT UP TO STANDARD INSPECTOR REPORTS

Aldermen Discuss Situation, But Fear to Lessen Milk Supply

UNIMPORTANT BUSINESS

Before Civic Committees—Water Penalties to Be Imposed—Decision Reversed

A report prepared by Sanitary Inspector Wart, read at the civic committee meetings on Friday night, laid emphasis on the fact that some of the dairies which supply Brandon people are very far from being in the wholesome condition they should be in. The report caused a general discussion of the milk situation which resulted in some outspoken comment but little action. Fear of lessening the supply already insufficient, is the great deterrent. Tuberculin cow tests, regulation of dairies and the best means of improving the supply without rendering it both inadequate and too expensive is the problem to which the key has not yet been discovered.

There was little business of great importance so that considerable time was devoted to small things. There was quite a difference of opinion over reversing a decision made by the City Council regarding imposition of water penalties in two instances where the receipt of notices had been delayed. Originally the Council decided not to impose penalties on the Tungeland Creamery and the Coco Cola concerns but in the light of information supplied Friday night, it was decided to do so. The question came up through a letter from City Treasurer Sykes pointing out the departure from procedure involved in carrying out the decision of the Council.

To Represent Brandon

Mayor Dinsdale, and Aldermen Hall and McKenzie were appointed to represent Brandon at the meeting of the Union of Manitoba Municipalities to be held in Brandon November 30, December 1 and 2.

An application by the owners of the new Orange Hall for a reduction in the license fee occasioned a long discussion. The fee is fifty dollars a year and as only four months remains it was felt that the imposition of the total fee was excessive. It was finally decided that under the by-law no other course was possible.

A report of the city relief work carried on by the Salvation Army was submitted by Adjutant Tutt.

Spur on Dog Catcher

The dog catcher is to be spurred to greater activity. Many dogs run the streets without tags and the dog catcher has halted his activities because the Magistrate seldom allows him fees and he cannot afford to work for nothing. All licenses in the city are to be put under the police.

The City of Brandon repudiates any liability for damages claimed by Wm. Crosbie through the death of a horse killed by a street car and the City Solicitor is to be instructed to prepare a defense in case the suit threatened is actually entered upon.

An offer by the Bank of Montreal to sell some land on which there is rock and under the top soil of which is gravel, was declined.

A cinder path is to be built Eastward on Louise Ave. from the Fleming school, between Twenty-second and Twenty-third Streets.

City Engineer Smith is to investigate a complaint regarding water lying on Fourteenth Street in the seven hundred block.

It was not ready to do so Friday.

HON. WILLIAM MARTIN

HEAVY CROPS ON LULU ISLAND

Streaked Nature of "Made" Soil Renders Necessary Use of Fertilizers

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 4.—Heavy Spring rains and the beneficient sunshine of July and August have coaxed from the fertile soil of Lulu Island one of the best crops garnered in years, and the harvest season will be a short one.

Lulu Island farmlands vary in a most marked degree. This is perhaps true of all "made" land, the alluvial deposit which settles one day being covered the next with shifting sands. Sometimes a one acre "farm" is as streaked as the family bacon layers of heavy clay, silt and sand alternating. This results in varying yields, and the condition is only remedied by the use of fertilizer. One field may yield 100 bushels of oats to the acre, while across the fence a beggarly 30 is the result. This the farmer is largely responsible for.

Near Bridgeport, Sexsmith and Camble may be seen some of the finest crops ever grown anywhere. Near Branscomb is an oat field where the binder could only cut half a swath, the grain being so high and heavy that a full cut choked the machine and the sheaves would not pass through. This field will yield well over 140 bushels per acre. Wheat in the same vicinity should thresh 60 bushels, while several of the barley, hay and rye crops would turn an experimental farm expert green with envy. Reeve Bridge of Richmond boasts a crop of hay this season which makes other records look small. From 36 acres, 180 tons were cut, or an average of five tons per acre. At $50 a ton this looks like $5400.

Over on No. 1 road, running South from the North Arm of the Fraser to Steveston, is a section of country reminding the visitor of Alberta prairie. During the hazy days of August, the sea is not visible and the open country seems to stretch away for miles. Large farms are the rule here and some bumper crops have rewarded the farmers this season. The Fowler Farm, given over largely to oats, has a stand of grain—now being cut—which will average 125 bushels to the acre over a large acreage. The grain is so heavy in places that it has lodged from sheer weight and has to be raised to be cut.

DOUKHOBORS ARE ORGANIZING FOR BUSINESS

Newly Incorporated Commercial Organization Indicates Permanent Location

Edmonton, Alta., Sept. 4.—It looks now as if the Doukhobors, instead of quitting Alberta, as rumored a short time ago, are attending to settle down even more permanently than before. They have just organized, for business purposes, the "Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood of Alberta," which has been incorporated and duly entered upon the list of new commercial enterprises in this province.

Peter Verigin himself, leader and business adviser of the Doukhobors, is on the directorate, and associated with him are J. R. Shonkin and M. W. Cayaroff. The concern opens up with an authorized capitalization of $20,000 and Cowley is its headquarters.

GOOD ROADS WORK WELL ADVANCED IN THIS DISTRICT

All But One Mile of Clementi Road Graded, Gravel Being Put On

ELTON PEOPLE TO VOTE

On Good Roads Bylaw on November 4—Concrete Bridges

Work on the Good Roads in Brandon district is progressing very favorably and much of it will be completed this Fall. The grading of the Douglas road, has progressed and the gravelling of the Provincial highway West on Victoria Avenue will be finished the end of this month.

Grading has been also completed on the South Provincial highway and in the Sifton Municipality much has been accomplished. The following roads are about finished: the Hartney road, Scarth Island, boundary road, Oak Lake-Deleau road, The Provincial Highway, and the North and South Griswold roads are under construction.

Work on roads in the Oakland municipality around Wawanesa is progressing splendidly. Whitehead Municipality is not doing road work this year, and the Elton municipality will vote on their good roads by-law November 4.

Two concrete bridges are under construction in Daly Muncipality and another concrete bridge will be finished this month over the Little Souris river in Cornwallis Municipality.

ULSTER VOLUNTEERS NOT RECOGNIZED

Proceedings of Ulster Council Meeting Secret—More Troops Reach Belfast

Belfast, Sept. 4.—Proceedings of the meeting of the Ulster Unionist Council today were strictly secret. Decisions arrived at were provisional. There is no foundation for the rumor that the Government proposes recognizing Ulster volunteers. It was pointed that such recognition would be regarded by Roman Catholics throughout the country as tantamount to a declaration of civil war. The question of enrolled army special constables was discussed at the conference. No decision was reached on this point.

Ships and Troops Arrive

Belfast, Sept. 4.—A light cruiser and the torpedo boat destroyer Tyven have arrived in Belfast harbor to protect the shipyards from possible damage in the event of a recurrence of rioting. Another battalion of troops reached Belfast this morning from England.

SET OBJECTIVE FOR GIVING TO CHURCH MISSIONS

Methodists Decide to Ask $8,000 From This Financial District

A representative gathering of pastors and laymen from all points in Brandon district attended the Financial District meeting of the Methodist Church held in the First Methodist Church, Friday afternoon. The chairman of the district, Rev. J. W. Churchill presided at the sessions. A part of the work of this meeting is to set the financial objectives for the year for the various connexional funds and for missions. With splendid unanimity the various fields in the district accepted as an objective for missions, a sum of not less than an average of five dollars per resident member. This for the district makes a total of about $8,000.

In addition to the local speakers, inspirational addresses were given by Rev. Jesse Arnup, B.A. who came from Toronto representing the different departments of the church; Rev. J. A. Doyle of Winnipeg, Missionary Superintendent for the Conference; and Rev. Dr. Riddell, Principal of Wesley College.

The work of the Methodist National campaign was credited by these speakers with creating a new spirit of unity which it was desirable to continue.

These visiting delegates have been attending meetings throughout the week in the Northern part of the Province and will attend others next week in Southern Manitoba.

LONGSHOREMEN'S STRIKE DID NOT OCCUR AS PLANNED

New York, Sept. 4.—The announced strike of 3,000 longshoremen employed on British steamship piers in Brooklyn failed to materialize Friday. Officials of virtually all lines announced no shortage from their customary number of workers. Further defections from the ranks of striking longshoremen on North river piers, who walked out last week in sympathy with the cause of Irish freedom, also was apparent Friday.

Both strikes have been denounced in statements from headquarters of the International Longshoremen's association.

New York, Sept. 4.—Extension of the strike of building trades employes to include carpenters, electricians and others engaged in apartment building and renovation, embracing a total of workers estimated at 55,000, was predicted by Labor leaders, unless the plumbers' grievances were amicably settled.

SASKATCHEWAN GOVERNMENT A REAL RICH UNCLE

Regina, Sask., Sept. 4.—About five hundred Saskatchewan farmers, who, owing to crop failure, were unable last year to meet their notes given for lumber and agricultural implements, or to pay the interest or principal falling due on their real estate mortgages, were protected by the Provincial Government. The government interceded with their creditors and secured extensions of credit for them. This was made public recently by Edward Oliver, Secretary of the Bureau of Statistics of the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture, who was designated by the government to handle this work.

GERMANS SPEED UP COAL DELIVERY

Paris, Sept. 4—The French Government made known today the Germans had delivered 1,500,000 tons of coal up to August 28, and said it was estimated the total deliveries for the month exceeded 1,600,000 tons. This would be 400,000 below deliveries promised by the Germans at Spa, but the Government statement said the rate of increase in production indicated that the Germans might in September and October make up the deficit and reach the required 6,000,000 for the quarter.

CAP STREETER PLANS TO REGAIN HIS "DEESTRICT"

GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

For Death of Man Killed in One of Frequent Assaults on Castle

Chicago, Sept. 1.—"Streeterville," in the "Deestrict of Lake Michigan," a part of Chicago's famous "Gold Coast" is about to be the scene of the thousand and first battle in its history, according to notice served on United States Marshal Bradley by Captain George Wellington Streeter, 80-year-old claimant to a $50,000,000 portion of the exclusive Lake Shore Drive section.

"Cap" Streeter and William H. Niles, one-time "military governor" and commanding general of the army of the "deestrict," having notified the Federal authorities that they are about to again try to enforce their claim that Streeterville is not any State in the Union, have invited the American Legion to assist them and set the date for the opening of hostilities as September 6. A letter to the Legion posts, a copy of which was also sent to Marshal Bradley, invites former soldiers to "meet me at the foot of Superior Street in uniform, armed, and carrying a flag, and help to end, by force of arms, the treasonable acts of judges, or stand up against a wall before a firing squad." A postscript invites the legionaires to bring their lunch.

Captain Streeter has been fighting since 1886 to establish his claim to one of the most valuable sections of Chicago's lake front. In that year his steamer, the Reutan, stranded on the beach during a storm. Captain Street built a breakwater about the stranded boat, 450 feet off shore, and made it his home. The rapidly shifting sands filled in the space between the boat and shore and added 193 acres to the city's area. To this land Captain Streeter laid claim, and in the next quarter of a century battles by the hundreds were fought in an effort to oust him.

One Memorable Occasion

On one occasion 500 police beseiged Streeterville. "General" niles proclaimed himself "military governor of the District of Lake Michigan" and with 50 men of his "escort" erected breastworks surmounted by barbed wire and stood off the police for several days before desertions in the ranks so weakened the defending force that a lone policeman finally executed a flank attack and carried the fort.

The courts in 1915 ruled that Streeter had no title to the property and his brick castle, which had succeeded the steamboat home, was wrecked by deputy sheriffs and then burned.

In 1920 Streeter and two friends were convicted of manslaughter in connection with the death of John S. Kirke, killed in one of the frequent assaults on the castle. All were sentenced to life imprisonment, but after a few months, were released.

The site of the "deestrict" is now covered by more than a dozen skyscraper apartment buildings and hotels. The land is valued at more than $50,000,000. Many of the present owners have purchased deeds from Streeter as well as the State in order that their occupancy may not be interfered with by the 80-year-old fire-eating veteran.

Streeter's claim is based on the contention that the Act creating the State of Illinois fixed the "meander line" of the lake as the boundary, and that therefore his "deestrict" was outside the State and owed allegiance to no one except the United States. The courts held, however, that Illinois extended to the centre of Lake Michigan, that all land created by natural secretions of the lake belonged to the adjoining property owners, and that all land created artificially belonged to the State. The stranding of Streeter's steamship created land artificially, it was held.

NEW ORGANIST AND CHOIR LEADER FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

Mrs. Jessie Berry, of Port Arthur, Ont., has been appointed organist and choir leader of the First Methodist Church in this city to take the position formerly occupied by Mr. Frank Matthews, who resigned a short time ago. It is expected Mrs. Berry will arrive in Brandon towards the end of the month.

For the past eight years Mrs. Berry has been organist and choir leader of Trinity Methodist Church, Port Arthur, and has also had a large class of pupils in piano in that city. She has been devoted to music since childhood and has studied extensively in Brantford, Toronto and New York. In addition to being an organist of note and a pianist of ability Mrs. Berry is a vocalist, and her coming to Brandon should be a distinct acquisition to musical circles.

SCHOOLS ARE GREATEST FORCE OF CANADIANIZING ALIEN PEOPLE IN WEST

Toronto, Sept. 1.—Premier W. M. Martin, of Saskatchewan, who is also Minister of Education of that province, was the guest of honor at the luncheon of the directors of the Canadian National Exhibition Tuesday, and in his address he dealt at some length with educational matters in Saskatchewan. He pointedly stated that English was the language taught in the schools of his province and he credited the schools with being the greatest force in the province for Canadianizing the alien peoples in the West. Premier Martin said he was alarmed at the condition five years ago when there were many non-English schools in Saskatchewan. Conditions are gradually improving, he said, and we are building up a population in Saskatchewan which Canada will have every reason to be proud of

FLOUR PRICES COMING DOWN MILLERS REPORT

Spring Wheat Millers Announce Reduction in Prices of New Wheat Flour

Montreal, Sept. 1.—Prospects for decreased cost of bread were further quickened yesterday when leading Canadian Spring wheat millers announced reductions in prices of the new crop of Spring wheat flour with prices running from $1.10 to $1.80 lower. Government standard flour was selling at a price for first patents, announced at $1375 with similar reductions all along the line for the various grades used by the bakers. Standard Spring flour is quoted now at $14.25 a barrel.

HEAVY RAINFALL TUESDAY NIGHT STOPS THRESHING

Tuesday night's rain seems to have been general throughout the district and as a result threshing operations have been stopped for some days. Farmers agree that they did not want the rain at the present time and some predict that it will do more harm than good as every day counts when harvest begins and operations may be delayed for several days. The total rainfall was 1.37 which makes a grand total of nearly ten inches this year.

INTERNATIONAL UNION MEMBERS ARE THE BULWARKS

Against Bolshevism in America, Declares Senator Robertson, Minister of Labor

Ottawa, Sept. 1.A striking tribute to the saner elements of trade unionism, as represented by the American Federation of Labor and the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, was paid by Hon. Senator Gideon Robertson, Minister of Labor, at a private luncheon at the Rideau Club Tuesday, given to the commissioners attending the conference on the uniformity of legislation in Canada. After speaking of the work accomplished by the International unions toward harmony between the workmen and the employers, commonly described as capital, Senator Robertson declared that if the labor situation was not stabilized in the near future, it would not be the fault of these organizations. He pointed to the International unions as being one of the strongest factors in combatting Bolshevism on the North American continent. The fact that out of 380,000 organized workingmen in Canada, 260,000 were members of International trade unions, gave the speaker grounds to hope that the saner element would assert itself sufficiently to bring stability to the labor situation.

Against the work of the International unions in this direction, Senator Robertson said that there were two factors, between 50,000 and 100,000 workers of the revolutionary social element, and a number of larger employers who, during the war, tactily co-operated with labor, boosting wages and improving conditions while it was necessary to have full production, but who, since the termination of the conflict, were endeavoring to "get out from under" their promises and concessions.

The address of the Minister of Labor was primarily on the question of enforcing labor legislation in the different provinces of the Dominion, having in view the constitutional provision that matters respecting property and civil rights are for the provinces to deal with and not for Federal legislation. In discussion, it was suggestion that if uniform legislation of labor was passed in all provinces, covering the same ground as has already been dealt with by the Dominion, the difficulty would disappear.

CANADA WEST ESCAPED FROST

No Reports of Frost From Any District in the Three Prarie Provinces

Winnipeg, Sept. 1.—No reports of frost have been received from any district in the three Prairie Provinces. During the past three days cool, showery weather has been general, but as the crop is cut and stooked no serious damage is anticipated. Many points report abundant moisture greatly facilitating plowing.

COMBINE OFFICES OF C.N.R. AND G.T.P. TO EFFECT ECONOMIES

Toronto, Sept. 1.—President D. B. Hanna, of the Canadian National Railways, announces that the order of Dr. J. D. Reid, Minister of Railways, in connection with the G.T.R was simply placing that railway under the operation of C.N.R. officials so as to act for the receiver.

"The receiver of the Grand Trunk Pacific is the Minister of Railways," said Mr. Hanna. "Under his last order he has simply turned over the operation to the board of management of the Canadian National. This simply means that the jurisdiction of a number of C.N.R. officials have been extended over the G.T.P. transcontinental lines."

Mr. Hanna said that this would result in a number of duplicate offices being abolished and such economies effected as would reduce the cost of operation and general management.

The C.N.R. President pointed out that not only would dual offices be dispensed with, but that a number of dual lines would also have to go.

"All duplicate efforts will be eliminated," said he, "and these will be worked out as rapidly as possible.

BROKERS SOLD STOCKS OF SUGAR AT 18c: PRICE REFINERIES ASK $22.80

Montreal, Sept. 1. — While sugar refineries announced last week that the price of sugar would be dropped two cents a pound all around, making the quotations for the best granulated $22.80 a hundred net, local broker's who have had heavy stocks on hand, have been offering this grade around 18 cents a pound, and there has been more of less fluctuation in the market between this figure and the 22 cent level. The refiners state that the brokers' stocks are now practically exhausted, and the expectation is that the price will stabilize at $22.80 per 100 pounds for the best granulated, with a like steadiness in other grades.

CROP CONDITIONS IN ALL PROVINCES

At the Beginning of August According to Reports Gathered by Bank

At the beginning of August the crop outlook in all parts of the Dominion was satisfactory and justified existing confidence in the business outlook. In the various reports received by the Canadian Bank of Commerce reference is made to the difficulty of obtaining labor. Conditions in this respect may be relieved by the migration of labor from sections where harvesting is approaching completion. Not only in the harvesting of cereals, but in fruit gathering and packing, there is a brisk demand for labor. Fruit-growers are having difficulty in securing baskets for small fruits, and barrels for apples. As business conditions depend so much upon the result of the harvest operations which are now under way, a synopsis of the reports received is given according to provinces:

Maritime Provinces.—Crops are up to the average, but the yield will be slightly less than the exceptional one of last year. Hay and potatoes are estimated to be 85 per cent. of a full crop; apples and roots, average; grain and dairy production, quite good. Apple crop in 1920: New Brunswick, 70,500 barrels ($527,000); Nova Scotia, 1,600,000 barrels ($9,989,630).

Quebec.—Cereals, roots, corn for silage, and orchard fruits, good; small fruits, excellent; hay crop, below the average. Pastures and crops of all kinds improved materially as the result of abundant rain in the last two weeks of July.

Ontario.—The hay crop was light and the weather unsatisfactory for haymaking. Fall wheat is now being cut and the yield is good; spring wheat in some sections is below the average. Oats, barley and rye are good. Corn is late, but rapidly improving. Early potatoes are yielding well. Sugar-beets and turnips promise well but mangolds are irregular. Pastures are generally good and the volume of milk has been well maintained.

Manitoba.—General rains falling about mid-July repaired to a great extent the danger caused by the drought of the preceding three weeks. Although only local showers fell in some Eastern districts, it is expected that these will carry the crops through until harvest.

Saskatchewan.—A good average crop is now almost assured in the central districts. In the North the rains were just in time and prospects are now greatly improved. In the Northwestern districts nothing but frost can prevent the harvesting of a bumper crop.

Alberta.—Plenty of moisture has been received to carry the crops through until harvest, and prospects on the whole are now excellent.

British Columbia.—Crop conditions vary considerably according to locality. Hay is quite heavy and of good quality, except in districts damaged by excessively high water in the Fraser and Columbia rivers. Cereal and root crops promise favorably. The yield of strawberries is light, that of raspberries and large fruits average.

In all the Western provinces the hay crop is heavy and pasture excellent. Present indications are that the yield of the chief cereals in Canada this year will be wheat, 25,000,000 bushels; oats, 460,000,000 bushels; barley, 65,000,000 bushels; rye, 10,500,000 bushels, and flax 7,200,000 bushels.

ALLIANCE MAY TRY TO EFFECT A SETTLEMENT

London, Sept. 1.—Consideration of the policy to be followed by the "Triple Alliance" of Labor, relative to supporting the prejudiced miners' strike was resumed when the Executive Committees of the three great union re-assembled this morning. It would not be surprising should the conference today decide to more thorqughly explore the path of mediation between the miners and the Government.

HEAVY FIRING MANY CASUALTIES ARE EXPECTED

North Street, Belfast, Again the Centre of Stubborn Fighting

214 SERIOUS FIRES

Within a Week in Belfast—Curfew Ordance Enforced—Ball Room Raided

Belfast, Sept. 1.—The fighting was resumed here this morning between Nationalists. Unionist shipyard workers from the Shankhill district, and troops. Heavy firing continued for nearly half an hour and it is feared the casualties were heavy. The fighting centered around North Street.

214 Serious Fires in Week

Belfast, Sept. 1.—The total number of serious fires in Belfast since Wednesday last reached 214 this morning.

Clear Streets Early

Belfast, Sept. 1.—Enforcement of the curfew ordnance in this city last night had a quieting effect. All persons without permits were compelled to leave the streets at 10.30 o'clock and tram cars ceased running at nine o'clock. Before midnight the streets were almost deserted and only a few persons without permits were arrested. There were several fires in various sections of the city during the early evening but no serious rioting occurred.

Censure Ladies Costumes

On Monday night, armed raiders entered the ball room at Ross Clare Strand Hotel, County Wexford, while a fancy dress ball was in full swing. They compelled the dancers to raise their hands above their heads after which the guests were searched and a number of military and naval officers were expelled. The officers were admonished that they were not permitted to mingle socially with the people as they belonged to the army of occupation. Several ladies were sent home on the ground that they were improperly clad.

Military Kill Looter

Belfast, Sept. 1.—An unidentified man was shot and killed by a military patrol during curfew hours Tuesday night. The shooting occurred during the looting of a saloon in Bankmore Street.

A soldier was accidentally shot dead by a military patrol on Lingfield road during the night.

Quiet After Night's Storm

There was none of the usual bustle associated with the opening of the day's work in Belfast. People were waiting tensely to see what the day would bring forth after Monday's unprecedented turmoil and bloodshed. The street cleaners did not appear and the city had a rather dishevelled looking appearance.

Sniping and rioting continued in various sections. In the Sandy road district, several licensed premises, which had been vacated by their owners, were wrecked, and in one instance the building was fired.

Monday night there were thirty-eight more arrests and the Crumlin road prison is overcrowded. A battalion of Cameron Highlanders arrived Tuesday morning from Curragh.

At one place Monday night it was found necessary for the police and military to disperse a crowd before fire brigade could get to work. Subsequently the crowd and the police came into conflict in Albion Street, a shower of stones being directed at the constabulary, who were forced to retire.

Troops Fire

Military reinforcements arrived and the situation became so threatening that the commanding officer ordered the troops to fire. About midnight a shooting affray occurred at Mount Collier. A woman was seriously wounded by a rifle bullet during a disturbance in the York road district.

The scenes of destruction witnessed in the Shankhill road district Monday night appalled the spectators. About a score of buildings, principally saloons, grocery stores and public houses were set afire. Many of them were damaged by the flames and some private houses adjoining became involved, several of them being burned.

More Serious at Night

The period of destruction commenced in the early part of the day with attacks on licensed premises and isolated private houses. Repeated attempts were made to burn these places, but prompt arrival of the fire brigade sayed the premises in most cases. Many boys appeared among the disturbers.

When night fell the situation became much more serious. Large crowds, chiefly consisting of young men and boys, became very active and were evidently determined upon a policy of reprisals for the Sinn Fein attack in York Street. Spirit, grocery stores and private houses very quickly became the objects of their attacks, and, almost simultaneously, onslaughts were made on many of these.

Tramway Service Stopped

The demeanor of the crowds was so threatening that tramway service in the York Street district was entirely suspended during the early part of the evening. By seven o'clock a number of fires had been started and from that time until after midnight the fire brigade had unprecedented experience in dealing with flames. The area of destruction was almost exclusively confined to the district between Crumlin and Shankhill roads from Agnes Street to Tenents Street. In some cases, after the first outbreaks had been extinguished, premises were set ablaze a second time.

There will be this difference from the procedure at the last Provincial election, those who seek to vote at the advanced poll must present a certificate from the Registrar before they will be permitted to do so.

LAID TO REST IN BED OF FLOWERS

Wonderful Floral Tribute Paid the Late Peter Middleton

For one who loved flowers and helped to make Brandon a city beautiful, it was a fitting tribute that the remains of the late Mr. Peter Middleton should be laid in a bed of flowers at the Brandon cemetery, Tuesday afternoon. The funeral service at St. Matthew's Church was largely attended and many were also present at the graveside to pay their last respects to the deceased who was so well known throughout the district. The services were conducted by the Rev. E. A. Anderson.

As a last tribute to a fellow member the Horticultural Society of this city were responsible for the beautiful floral decorations at the grave. In addition to the lining of the grave throughout an archway of green boughs was erected over the opening and covered with flowers, golden glow—the favorite flower of the late Mr. Middleton—predominating. At the side of the grave a carpet of blossoms was placed. Much of the work in connection with the arrangement of the flowers was done by Mr. D. H. Scott and Mr. J. E. Williams.

Many floral tributes were sent by friends of the family and also by the following organizations. The City Council, of which the deceased was a member for five years; the Public Parks Board; the Vestry of St. Matthew's Church and the members of St. Matthew's Mite Society of which Mrs. Middleton is President.

THE PAS ELECTORS MAY GO TO THE POLLS SEPT. 25th

Revision of the lists for The Pas will, it is understood, take place on Sept. 10. There are some 900 names on the lists. The date of revision which has been fixed would indicate that the by-election will take place about Sept. 25.

SHOT FIRED IN ANGER KILLS OTTAWA GIRL

"Queer" Farmer Shot in Direction of Flashlight That Annoyed Him

Ottawa, Sept. 1.—Miss May Casey, a well known Ottawa young lady 20 years of age, was shot and killed on Monday night by a farmer of Mudlake, near Westport, named John Neil. Neil was shortly afterwards arrested by the Perth police and is held on a charge of manslaughter.

Miss Casey, with a young man named Gillies, with whose parents she was spending a holiday, was sitting on a cliff over-looking Neil's house between eight and nine o'clock. They had a flashlight, which it is stated, they were shining through the man's window. This, it is said, annoyed him and he shot in the direction of the light from a rifle. The bullet entered Miss Casey's hip and came out of her abdomen. She was carried to Gillies' home, but before medical aid could be summoned she expired.

Neil, who is 65 years of age, admitted when arrested that he fired the shot. He stated, however, that he had no intention of shooting anyone and just wished to scare the young people away. Residents in the vicinity describe the man as "queer."

POTATO CROP A GOOD ONE

Brandon and District Shares in Bountiful Crop Throughout Dominion

That there will be a plentiful supply of potatoes this Fall in Brandon was the opinion expressed by a leading grocer on Tuesday. The crop in Brandon district is very fair and in the next few weeks when people commence to dig their potatoes it is expected there will be any amount on the market. At present potatoes are retailing at $1.75 per bushel, but they will be lower in price later on. Good crops of potatoes are reported in Eastern Canada and also in the West, so that there are no expectations that there will be a potato famine next Winter.

The crop of cabbages on the whole is very poor this year and as a result they will be rather scarce and high in price. There is an abundant crop of tomatoes and a good crop of cauliflowers.

RAINS EXTINGUISH NORTHERN FIRES

Winnipeg, Sept. 1.—Sixteen farmers in the Ste. Rose du Lac district have lost their homes, barns, implements and crops in bush fires that have been laying waste the area in the last few days, according to an official report by Provincial authorities.

Thousands of acres of hay lands and hundreds of tons of cut hay have been destroyed in the Northern part of the province.

The danger in all sections is at an end for the present, however, on account of the rainfall which was fairly general over Manitoba Monday night and Tuesday.

Heavy rains are in progress near Ste. Rose du Lac, and are expected to practically extinguish the fires, according to Z. H. Rheame, treasurer of the municipality. One hundred men from the town toured the fire area Monday, giving assistance wherever it was needed, he said.

SUSPEND RULES FOR FREIGHT PAYMENT IN U. S. CURRENCY

Washington, Sept. 1.—The Inter-State Commerce Commission suspended Tuesday, pending investigation, rules of certain Southwestern railroads requiring payment of freight charges in United States currency on through shipments to Canada. Some doubt was expressed as to the right of carriers to impose such a rule on traffic moving in Canadian territory and the Commission postponed the effective date of the regulations from Tuesday until December 29. Application of the requirement of traffic between points in the United States was not affected by the suspension.

SWEDES TO VOTE ON TOTAL PROHIBITION

Stockholm, Sept. 1.—Prohibition of all drinks having an alcoholic content exceeding 2.8 per cent. is recommended in a report of a Government committee appointed in 1911 to consider the liquor question. In addition, the commitee proposes that absolute prohibition be submitted to a vote of the people, and made effective if three-fifths of the electorate favors it.

Among the thirteen members of the committee were eight avowed prohibitionists.

CANADA MUST BE GOLDEN BRIDGE OF UNDERSTANDING

Sir Auckland Geddes Urges Canadians to Build Bridge to Span Abyss Misrepresentation

SYMPATHY, UNDERSTANDING

Needed in First Step Along Path to World Peace

Ottawa, Sept. 3.—"Canada must take her place for which she is fortunately situated, in the building of a golden bridge of sympathy and understanding, between the British Empire and the United States, over which will be crossed the chasms of ignorance and the abyss of misrepresentation." If successful, that bridge will be the first essential step to a world of peace and a future. We can then face the future, to deal with the problems that must be dealt with before the world returns to peace. If the bridge failed; if trouble arose between the English-speaking nations, then it would be a foolhardy man who would look for any peace in the future. There would be collapse after collapse and civilization would not long exist. This was the message left with the members of the Canadian Bar Association, whose luncheon was addressed Thursday by Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador to the United States. His audience included His Excellency the Duke of Devonshire, Viscount Cave, Sir Robert Borden, Premier Meighen and many other notables.

Causes of Unrest

The unrest throughout the world, Sir Auckland declared, came not only as an aftermath of war or because of economic and trade conditions, but as a by-product of industrial revolution which gave power and wealth to industrial democracy. Minds of workers were continually starved under industrial conditions as they existed in Great Britain and other European countries previous to the war. They had no creative function. Men were employed as tenders of machines. When his work was ended the man was either in a state of revolt or he was almost mindless. The living conditions under which he existed were often such that he was denied the right of parenthood, and the voices of millions of unborn children, as well as the voices of countless other children, slain by the slums, were the agitators behind the world unrest.

War a Product of Unrest

All the other causes must simply be added to that great fundamental. There were agitators, said Sir Auckland, but he compared them to mosquitoes; carriers of disease rather than the cause. There was some human satisfaction in swatting the mosquito, but it was more sane and effective to remove the places from which he drew his poison. The world war was a product of the unrest which existed and could be traced back to 1910 or further and the war, in turn, had added to the unrest. Previous to the war, relations between nations were growing more difficult. In the year before the war Great Britain had more strikes than either before or since.

In dealing with the unrest, he asked his audience to realize that they were considering something which was deep within the hearts of the nations affected. Referring particularly to Britain, it sprang mainly from the results and effects of the industrial revolution. There was more than one form of unrest. These included social and geographical.

Lessons of Recruiting

During the war Sir Auckland Geddes' duties in conducting recruiting in England, Scotland and Wales, he said, brought him into intimate contact with millions of people. He had found a condition of physical ill-being to a scale not imagined possible. Families were disorganized and separated by their living and working conditions. Minds were warped by occupations. Men were made machines, their mind devoid of a creative thought. Nothing could have a more serious effect on human life.

Industrial conditions were such that hundreds of thousands of adults men and women had never married. They lived among strangers, none knowing whether they came nor where they went, and none caring. They were denied the institutions of home and parenthood. That, said Sir Auckland, caused profound unrest, which was eating the hearts out of those men and women. The same conditions had existed to some extent on this continent, but here there were open fields and farms calling men to them. In Britain and European countries there was no such outlet.

The Heart of the Trouble

Men's minds were in a stupor. Some of them, when they finished their work, got drunk on Saturday night and sought to stay in that condition until Monday morning. The world unrest was a by-product of the industrial unrest which gave power and wealth to industrial democracies. There one must look for the heart of the trouble if he would apply the remedy properly.

The solution of the problem, and the finding of the peace of Europe was a task challenging the greatest minds. To continue civilization, and before these problems can be dealt with, it is essential that there should be aranged between the nations a secure international peace to allow of efforts being turned by each country toward its internal affairs. The nations of Europe must declare a peace of the Europeans. If the peace is to be enduring there must be developed a close sympathy, responsibility and understanding between he British nation and the U.S.

"On the basis of such a friendship, the peace of Europe could be established," Sir Auckland declared, adding, "I doubt if for many years it could exist any other form.

Canada's Favored Position

"Canada, by her position, her interests, her knowledge, and her experience is placed so that she can build a golden bridge of sympathy between Britain and the U. S. It must cross the chasms of ignorance and the abyss of misunderstanding by which some have sought to create misunderstanding. If it is successful, that bridge will be the first step on the pathway to the world of our dreams, a world of peace and of justice. With that step taken, we can face the future to deal with the problems which must be dealt with before the world returns to peace.

"If we failed; if trouble arose between the English-speaking peoples, it would be a foolhardy man who would look for any peace in the future. There would be collapse after collapse, and civilization could not long exist.

Glorious Responsibilities

"Canada's responsibilities and opportunities are enormous and glorious. You will take charge and build that bridge which we must cross to safety and prosperity in the future."

RAPID TRANSIT OF GRAIN IS ARRANGED FOR

Government Lines Make Special Effort to Move Crop Quickly

Winnipeg, Sept. 3.—Between 15,000 and 20,000 freight cars will be available on the Canadian National and the Grand Trunk Pacific Western lines to move Western Canada's grain crop to the elevators at the head of the Great Lakes.

No difficulties are anticipated in transporting the millions of bushels of grain to be garnered this year, A. E. Rosevear, General Freight Agent in charge of grain and livestock, said. "We are making special arrangements to facilitate unloading and quick return of all cars from the head of the lakes," Mr. Rosevear said. "In addition, we are making strenuous efforts to acquire the balance of the freight cars due us from the United States. At present, there are more Canadian cars in the United States than American rolling stock in Canada."

Loading of grain for shipment Eastward already has commenced in the West. The number of cars loaded Wednesday was 148.

Reports received from Saskatchewan agents show that the wheat yield in that province will average 14.3 bushels an acre.

He is reported to be wanted for North and South Dakota also for alleged automobile stealing.

ANTI-BRITISH PROPAGANDA ON INDIAN FRONTIER

Arrest Ring Leaders in Attempt to Organize a Provisional Government

AN ANGRY MOB

Demanded Release of Men—Reinforcements to Be Sent to District

London, Sept. 3.—An official communication from Simla, India, announces a virulent anti-British propaganda among the frontier tribes in Manshara region, where an attempt has been made to organize a provisional Government to supersede the British Administration. The British Commissioner hurried from Peshawar and arrested the ring leaders. Armed crowds demanded the liberation of the arrested men, but eventually were persuaded to retire. Though the situation looked dangerous for a time. Reinforcements have been sent to the districts where attacks have been made recently on posts.

NO COMPLAINTS RE ELECTIONS IN PROVINCE

Protest Term Expired Wednesday — One May Come Up in Court

Winnipeg, Sept. 2.—The 30-day time limit within which protests in connection with the recent provincial election should have been filed, expired Wednesday, without one petition of dissatisfaction having been presented.

The Election act provides 30 days after the date of official declaration by the returning officer in which any dissatisfied candidate or person may protest the election in any constituency, on grounds of corruption, bribery, personation or other statutory offences.

May Go To Courts

While no protests have been filed in the ordinary way, it is possible that Fairford election may be contested in the courts. Mark Shinbane, counsel for G. G. Serkau, Independent, who was defeated by one vote, contemplates attacking the validity of the election by way of a writ of certiorari in the court of appeal. Such action will be novel and legal authorities doubt the possibility of success.

Five Recounts Undertaken

Five recounts were undertaken, the net result being the reversal of Glenwood seat. James Breakey, chairman of the public accounts committee in the last legislature, was declared elected on the first count. Judge Locke, however, found on the recount that a majority of votes had been cast for W. Robson, Independent.

Other recounts were in Arthur, Fairford, Rockwood and Gilbert Plains.

OPERATORS AND MINERS SIGN TWO YEAR CONTRACT

Agree to Terms of Award Made by President Wilson

MINERS NOT SATISFIED

Scale Committee Present Statement—Want to Issue New Demands

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 3.—Anthracite operators and miners Thursday night signed a two year contract embodying the terms of the award made by President Wilson.

The agreement was signed under protest by the representative of the miners, whose scale committee were met here today for the purpose of asking that the wages agreement be reopened and the miners given such further increases as was done in the case of the bituminous coal diggers.

Miners Dissatisfied

The scale committee went on record in a statement to the operators that the award of the committee was far from being satisfactory; that it was economically unsound, disturbed the differentials, straddled the real act against harmony and co-operation.

The miners were prepared to present new demands at once, but it is understood the operators let it be known they were there for one purpose and that was to accept the award as approved by President Wilson and that if the workers had anything to communicate it would have to go through regular channels, as the mine owners' committee felt they had no authority to receive new demands.

One thing agreed to which was not a part of the award and which caused a long discussion, was that the back pay shall be turned over to the workers on or before October 16, or in 45 days.

BOARD OF RAILWAY COMMISSIONERS CONTINUE HEARING

Canadian Express Companies Plead Case for Forty Per Cent Increase in Rates

GENERAL MANAGER

Estimates Ensuing Year's Deficit $800,004.74—Gold and Liquor Shipments May Be Canceled

Toronto, Sept. 3.— In connection with the application of the express companies of Canada for authority to increase their rates by 40 per cent., the case for the Dominion Express Company was heard here Thursday by the Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada. The hearing of the express companies' application was continued today and may last for some time.

Hon. F. B. Carvell, chairman of the Board, was absent Thursday. Commissioners A. C. Boyce, K.C., and Dr. J. G. Rutherford, C.M.G., heard the evidence.

T. E. McDonnell, General Manager of the Dominion Express Company, estimated that the company would have a deficit of $800,004.74 during the ensuing year if the 40 per cent. increase in rates were not granted. He based this estimate on increases already in effect and on the possibility of the railway company's application for a 40 per cent. increase in freight rates being granted by the Board. This estimate, Mr. McDonnell said, had been arrived at on the assumption that the gold and liquor shipments would be discontinued.

In reply to questions put by Hon. F. H. Phippen, Counsel for the Express Traffic Association, representing all the express companies in the request for increased rates, Mr. McDonnell said from what he could gather in his journeys through the country, the express companies before long would be "relieved" of their liquor business. He said he could not make public the basis of his belief that the movements of bullion would cease, he said, but he had reason to think this would be the case. Since the outbreak of the war his company had handled for the Government a billion and a half dollars' worth of bullion, he said, and had not lost a dollar's worth of gold entrusted to its care.

LUXURY TAXES DOUBLE REVENUE FOR LAST MONTH

Full Advantage of Luxury and Sales Tax is Now Becomcoming Apparent

Ottawa, Sept. 3.—With an increase of $6,321,171.88 as respects war tax collections (which included sales and luxury taxation), for the month of August just closed, as compared with August of last year, the new taxesh aveb egun to make their weight felt in the national treasury. Canada's total reveune for the month just closed was $11,374,290.98 as against $5,251,801.41 for the corresponding month of last year. The increase in the amount of war tax wiped out the decrease of $198,915.76 in the total amounts received from excise and seizures, fines, methylated spirits and law stamps, and left a net increase in Inland Revenue for the month or $6,122,489.57.

The total revenue for the fiscal year, ending March 31 last, was slightly over $58,900,000. A very conservative estimate, based on the August totals places the total collections for the current year at approximately $115,000,000. However, it is expected that the total reveune for the fiscal year will be $150,000,000 or more. The luxury and sales tax collections, it is stated, are expected to show a substantial increase in coming months. Some merchants have not yet made full returns and it is expected that when the departmental staff of auditors are placed in the field they will be able to assist the merchants in making their returns and at the same time check up a great deal of laxity and carelessness.

For June, July and August of this year, the war tax collections have totalid $18,185,037.34, as against $3,973,287.43 for the corresponding three months of last year, an increase of $14,211,749.91. If the increase of last month is borne out during the balance of the fiscal year, the total increase would approximate $75,000,000.

INJURY FORCED TOMMY TOWN TO RETIRE FROM RACE

Brandon Runner in Olympic Games Suffered Severe Pain

A letter received from Tommy Town, the Brandon runner and Olympic entry dated August 16, at Antwerp, explains why he was obliged to drop out of the 5,000 metre race before it was finished. A couple of weeks before the event, Town, while practising, stepped on a stone and bruised the bone in his heel. He started out on the race in fine form and had gone one and a half miles when his leg, which had not bothered him before, commenced to give out and he had to stop at the two and three-quarter mile post with just another half mile to go. Town paid up for having stayed in the race that long next day when he could hardly put his foot to the ground.

During the race two other competitors dropped out after about the first mile and the others were all together about a 100 yards ahead of Town. At the time of writing Town expected to participate in some of the other events after he had received treatment for his heel.

The wrongs of our people are continually getting mixed up with our rights.

FARMER FOUND: BOARDED WRONG TRAIN AT 'PEG

Left Wife on Train While He Purchased Books and Failed to Return

Winnipeg, Sept. 3.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Thomas W. Benner, who left the C.P.R. train for Biggar, Sask., Tuesday night a little before the train started with his wife on board, was solved when a telegram was received stating that he had been found at Regina.

Mr. Benner's disappearance caused a sensation in Winnipeg. On Wednesday the city was scoured for him by the police, and Thursday Mrs. Benner offered a reward of $100 for his discovery. Grave fears for his safety was felt. Then it transpired that nothing more serious had occurred than the missing of the train by which he had intended to travel, and his conveyance by the wrong train to a different town than that he wanted to reach.

Reward Offered

Winnipeg, Sept. 3.—One hundred dollars is offered for the discovery of Thomas W. Benner ,a farmer at Biggar, Sask., who, leaving his wife in her berth on a Canadian Pacific Railway train Tuesday night, completely disappeared. The reward is offered by Mrs. Benner, wife of the missing man and her family, according to Chris. Newton, chief of police.

Ordinarily cheerful, Mr. Benner has become absent-minded since his son, Murray, was killed in France during the war. It is said that his intense sorrow brought him into that condition.

This is the first time he has disappeared, and family and police are equally at a loss to understand where he may have gone.

It is feared he has forgotten where he was going to, who he was with, and even his own identity. Being a farmer, it is considered possible that he has hired as a harvester. He is still hale and hearty, although 68 years old. He had little money when he disappeared.

His son is Dr. F. A. Benner, 646 McDermot Ave., Winnipeg. Mr. Benner and his wife have been visiting in Winnipeg for two months. They operate a farm at Biggar, Sask., and were bound for there at the time of the disappearance.

Police are scouring the city endeavoring to locate the missing man. from the moment he left the train, to make a few purchases at the news stand in the station, no one can be found who knew and saw him. He literally stepped into oblivion as far as police efforts have resulted so far.

Mrs. Benner did not become nervous when her husband explained to her that he could not buy the articles he wished on the train until it started. He said he would be back in a few moments and left her. When the train pulled out he was still missing. A search of the train failed to discover him.

Mrs Benner got off the train at Portage and took the next returning one to Winnipeg. Since then the search has been on and has failed to unearth a trace of Benner.

He is five feet six inches in height, has a gray mustache and gray hair, and false teeth. At the time of disappearing he was wearing a dark blue suit, black felt hat, and black boots. He wears spectacles.

FREIGHT TRAIN RUNNING WILD DID NO DAMAGE

Crew Forced to Abandon Posts by Outlaw Switchman Who Started Train Off

Chicago, Sept. 4.—A freight train seized here Friday night by a band of men, believed to be members of the striking "outlaw" switchmen, was found near Bensonville, Ill., with the throttle wide open and the 21 freight cars apparently untouched. Several battles between freight crews and bands of the striking switchmen who never regained their jobs, preceded the theft of the train, which occurred shortly before midnight in the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul yards at Cicero, a suburb.

Point Gun at Engineer

Thomas White, the engineer, was driver from his post at the point of a gun and when Bert Zimpone, the fireman, resisted, he was badly beaten. White immediately gave the alarm, and after several hours' search the train was found. Railroad officials believe the throttle had been pulled wide open and the train then abandoned by the band who stole it. It had apparently run down for lack of steam. Five suspects were taken into custody by the police.

PUREBREDS VS. GRADES

An interesting experiment has been conducted by the Canadian Government at their Experimental Farm at Agassiz, B.C., comparing the work of purebred Holsteins with that of grades. For the past three years the records of the five best purebred Holsteins at the Farm have been compared with those of the five best grade Holsteins and it was found that the purebred produced on the average 4476 pounds more milk and 163 pounds more butterfat per cow than did the grades. It is also interesting to note that the purebreds yielded an average profit over feed cost of $27.64 more per cow than did the grade animals.

Record was also kept of the progeny of the senior sire in the Holstein herd at the Experimental Farm from December, 1916, to December, 1918. During that time the bull sired 15 grade heifers and 12 purebreds, the value of the 12 purebreds being estimated at considerably better than twice the value of the 15 grades. The purebred bull calves born during this same period were sold to farmers in the vicinity for breeding purposes at $100 each, while the grade bulls of course were sold for veal.

New York, Sept. 4.—Sugar on the tables of the dining hall at Ellis Island precipitated a riot among 1,767 immigrants Thursday. To the vast majority of them, sugar had been unknown for five years. They leaped forward to clutch the bowls. After all the guards and the waiters had quelled the rush, six immigrants were removed to the hospital.

STATELY MATRONS STEAL MAIDS FROM EMPLOYERS

Induce Newcomers to Turn Backs on Those Who Brought Them Out

Montreal, Sept. 4.—An enthusiastic reception was accorded the twenty-three domestic servants from the British Isles who arrived here Friday morning on board one of the Atlantic liners.

The authorities of Dorchester house, who are in the habit of engaging English girls for service in Canada, under the arrangement that prospective employers here prepay the transportation of the girls, who afterwards work out their passage money engaged twenty-three girls in this manner, and took them, on arrival to the institution.

Word of their coming got abroad in the city, and Dorchester house was attacked by a palpitating army of servant-seekers. Ladies in the latest creations of Paris and New York, in luxurious limousines and stately touring cars, beseiged the institution, and, refused admission at the front entrance, invaded the rear with the result that certain sections of sedate Dorchester house resembled an old time slave market with three or four ladies surrounding a girl, out-bidding each other for her services. Competition was so keen that the girls were finally bundled, bag and baggage, into the autos, and driven off. the resultant confusion being so great, that the matron at the institution lost track of the servants, and is in a quandry to know where any of the twenty-three have gone. The original employers are out both girls and passage money for the time being.

LIGHT DEMAND HEAVY RECEIPTS

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 7.—The wheat market was not particularly active at the opening today and the prices were ruling low. After two days holidays receipts were heavier, but offerings coming on the market were light, the bulk of the receipts going against previous sales. In the cash market there was a good demand for the two top Northern grades, the premiums on No. 1 and 2 grades advancing ½c making top 12½c over October. In the coarse grain market there is a good demand for oats and barley with spreads unchanged. October wheat closed ¼c lower, December ⅝c down, October oats closed 1c lower, December oats ½c lower and May oats ⅞c better. October barley closed ⅝c lower with December barley ¾c down. October flax closed 2¼c lower, November barley 1c higher. October rye closed ½c lower.

MANY QUESTIONS BEFORE CANADIAN BAR ASSOCIATION

Several of Them of Great Importance Not Only to Lawyers But to Canada

Ottawa, Sept. 4.—The even tenor of the annual meeting of the Canadian Bar Association was rather rudely disturbed Friday morning by a report of the Committee on the Administration of Justice introduced by W. J. McWhinney, K. C., convener.

The report by no means satisfied a certain section of the convention, as in it was a great number of controversial recommendations.

Some of these were:

Further increases to all judges.

Judges' salaries not to come under income taxation.

Judges to enjoy full pensions hitherto enjoyed before the legislation of last session.

Maintenance of the present right to appeal to the Imperial Privy Council.

A recommendation that the Imperial Privy Council should sit in the various capitals of the Empire.

Increasing the number of Supreme Court judges and having an uneven number of judges in that court so it could not divide evenly, as in some recent cases.

Uniform Marriage Laws

Uniform laws on marriage and divorce to be passed by the Federal Parliament and adopted by the Provincial Parliaments.

Each sex should be treated on a basis of equality.

While the members expressed themselves guardedly, it was evident that there was much feeling on two points, namely, the recommendation to increase judges' salaries so soon after the recent increase, and secondly, the ever-controversial one of the appeals from Canada to the Imperial Privy Council.

Some members wanted a vote at once. George F. Henderson, in speaking of the latter question, said that owing to an incident early in the proceedings this matter had received a very full consideration by the members. Without expressing any opinion himself, he would like to see the members go on record in the matter.

Takes Advanced Ground

R. B. Bennett, of Calgary, took very advanced ground regarding the judiciary. He thought Canada could not have a great judiciary so long as the appointments thereto were the reward very often of political service. Moreover, judges should not be appointed after the age of 60, but should be younger, so they could get the judicial habit. He would almost advocate that men who made public life and service their vocation should be debarred from judicial positions, and these given to the most eminent practising lawyers who were in touch with the law.

Others agreed with this view.

Col. Ponton, of Belleville, in reference to the appeal to the Privy Council, supported the idea strongly. Little Englanders in Britain had taken down their shingle some time ago, and he advised Little Englanders here to do the same. The "right little tight little island," God bless her, was not a foreign land. (Cheers.)

After numerous motions the debate was seen to be so controversial that it was adjourned.

WATER SUPPLY WOULD BE COSTLY

To Supply Southern Saskatchewan With River Water Would Cost $7,000,000

Regina, Sask., Sept. 4.—Seven millions dollars is the minimum cost at which the Southern part of the province can be supplied with water from the South Saskatchewan river. This is the estimate of the Saskatchewan Water Supply Company, and is based on a wood stave pipe line being used. If a concrete pipe line is adopted the cost will be eleven million dollars. Should it be found necessary to adopt this type of construction to make the scheme a success, it would be financially impracticable at the present time, according to Major A. J. McPherson, Chairman of the Commission. A steel pipe line would cost thirteen million dollars.

CANADIAN RAILWAY MEN TO MEET C.N.R. MANAGERS FOR DISCUSSION OF WAGES

Ottawa, Sept. 4. — Arrangements are being completed between the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employes of Western lines of the Canadian National Railways to meet the management as soon as possible in connection with the increase wage scale which was recently decided upon for the United States railroad employes by the Labor Board. 12 HORSES BURNED IN OTTAWA FIRE; DAMAGE $150,000

Gladstone Avenue Rink, Producers Dairy Ltd., and a Large Block Burned

Ottawa, Sept. 6.—Fire which broke out at 3.30 Sunday morning destroyed the Gladstone Avenue rink and the Producers Dairy, Limited, stables, burning to death twelve horses and a large amount of dairy equipment, and damaging in some cases seriously, 22 residences and one apartment block.

The heart of the large block bounded by Gladstone Avenue, Percy, Bay and Florence Streets, is a smoking ruin, and fourteen families are temporarily homeless.

The total damage will amount to about $150,000, of which somewhat over half is covered by insurance.

The Gladstone Avenue rink was formerly well known and many Stanley Cup hockey matches were played on its ice surface. During the Summer months it has been used as a roller skating rink.

The fire is ascribed to a smoldering cigarette or to defective wiring.

ASK BRITISH PREMIER TO VISIT CANADA

Invitation Sent From Eighth Conference of Canadian Clubs In Montreal

Montreal, Sept. 7.—General Sir Arthur Currie delivered a brilliant address in opening the eighth conference of Canadian Clubs, which began a two-day session in the medical building of the McGill University Monday morning. The Rev. Symonds, rector of Christ church, followed with an address of welcome to the delegates.

A cordial invitation was extended to Premier Lloyd George to visit Canada as soon as he could find an opportunity, the motion to extend the invitation being put by Messrs Craig and Casey, of Winnipeg, and unanimously adopted. It was also decided to send a cable to King George and a special cable of greeting to the Prince of Wales, as patron of the associated Canadian Clubs.

There are over fifty delegates in attendance at the congress, representing all the large clubs from Victoria and Vancouver to Halifax and St. John, and it is a noticeable feature that of this number over half are the fair sex, representing the women's Canadian Clubs.

On behalf of the Canadian Clubs of Winnipeg, an invitation was extended by Mr. Craig that next year's meeting be held in that city and the invitation was unanimously adopted.

A resolution was unanimously adopted drawing the attention of the Government to the Hearst anti-British propaganda in Canada and also drew the attention of the Canadian Clubs to the matter with recommendations that steps be taken to find a remedy for this condition of affairs.

BALFOUR REPLIES TO TCHITCHERIN SOVIET MINISTER

Regarding Reduction of Polish Army to 50,000 Men as Just Peace Terms

London, Sept. 4.—Arthur J. Balfour, Lord President of the Council, Thursday replied to the dispatch of M. Tchitcherin, the Russian Bolsheviki minister, sent August 26. Mr. Balfour expresses gratification that the Soviet Government renounces its demands for a workers' militia, but declares that M. Tchitcherin is mistaken in supposing that the British Government recognized that a reduction of the Polish army to 50,000 men would be just peace terms. What the British Government said, Mr. Balfour declares was that Great Britain would not consider it sufficient grounds for active intervention.

Mr. Balfour characterizes Tchitcherin's representations concerning the civic militia as being a concession to Poland, as "evidently meant as a jest, and so far neither requires nor deserves a reply."

British People Deceived

He considers, however, that it is a jest requiring explanation from the Soviet Government and points out that both the British Parliament and people were deceived by the Soviet withholding the fact that the militia was to be etaken from a particular class chosen by a victorious enemy. The British Government's objection was not based on the choice of workmen. Its objections would be equally strong if the militia were composed of millionaires.

In either case it would be armed force imposed on the Poles at the bidding of a foreign power and therefore inconsistent with national independence and the permanent maintenance of civil order.

Interferences are Irrelevant

Mr. Balfour says he does not doubt Tchitcherin's statement that there are inequalities of wealth in Great Britain which no longer exist in Russia, but the inferences M. Tchitcherin draws from this are quite irrelevant to the present purposes.

Mr. Balfour concludes by saying that he never for a moment questioned the efficacy of Soviet methods for making rich men poor, but that it is in the more important task of making poor men richer that failure is to be feared.

Mr Balfour's reply is in answer to Tchitcherin's statemtnt called forth by the Italo-British ultimatum respecting changes in the peace terms offered to Poland by the Soviet Government.

MARKETS

Wood, Weiller & McCarthy, Ltd., supply the following market report of the Union Stock Yards, St. Boniface, under date of September 6th.

Receipts today are 5,900 cattle, 435 hogs, 200 sheep.

As we expected, we had a good market on everything all last week and notwithstanding the big run today prices are holding steady on everything, but should the run keep up for a couple of days there is sure to be a slump but we do not look for much of a change on the real good cattle, for everyone wants them and there are numerous outside buyers here at the present time representing the principal packers in the East and South. We would advise shipping mostly any time now the cattle that cannot be held after the snow comes.

There is practically no change in prices from last week on steers, but females if anything will show a big quarter rise all round, and are the best sellers on the market, the packers being more anxious for them if fat than they are for steers.

Hogs sold today at $20 with a few choice bunches bringing a quarter premium.

Sheep and lambs are going over the scales to a good demand at from $7 to $8.50 and from $11.50 to $14.

NO MORE BONUSES FOR BOOT AND SHOE CLERKS, COMMERCE BOARD STATES

Ottawa, Sept. 4.—Dealers in boots and shoes must not in future allow their salesmen or clerks any bonus or percentage for selling goods at more than "normal," proper or stipulated "price." The order handed out by the Board of Commerce declares that this practice tends to enhance the prices of boots and shoes, and must cease.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

PORTEOUS-FANNING

A marriage of interest to many Brandon people took place at London, Ont., Monday, August 23rd, when Grace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Fanning, of Montreal, was united in holy bonds of matrimony to James Porteous, only son of the late Mr. John Porteous and Mrs. Porteous, 141 First Street, Brandon. Rev. J. D. McRae officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Porteous will make their home at London.

The groom is a well known Brandon boy, having been born in this city. He served overseas for nearly five years, enlisting and going overseas with the Twenty-first Field Ambulance Corps.

ENRIGHT-HUGHES

St. Augustine's Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding Monday morning at 6.30 when Annice Margaret, second daughter of Mr. and Mr. S. J. Hughes, 315 Fifth Street, was united in bonds of holy matrimony to Melville Walter Enright, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Enright, 160 Fifth Street, Rev. Father Healey officiated, the ceremony being fully choralled. Miss Elsie Enright, sister of the groom, attended the bride, while the groom was supported by the bride's brother-Mr. Jack Hughes.

To the strains of the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin," played by Miss Irene Shea, the bride entered the church and was given in marriage by her father. The bride looked charming in a navy blue tricollette suit, the coat opening over a dainty pink gorgette crepe blouse, hand embroidered. She wore a small pink duvetyn hat to match and a corsage bouquet of pink bridal roses. The bridesmaid was gowned in a pretty frock of maroon satin and wore a picture hat of the same shade. Her corsage bouquet was of white roses. During the signing of the register the choir sang "O Bond of Love."

Immediately following the sermon the happy young couple left for Toronto and other Eastern points. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Enright will make their home in the McNeill Block, 305 Princess Avenue.

The bride and groom are both well known Brandonites. Prior to her marriage, Mrs. Enright was the guest of honor at a great many social functions.

WOMEN'S CANADIAN CLUB

Women's part in the war was the subject of a most interesting and instructive address given by Dr. M. Ellen Douglas, of Winnipeg at a meeting of the Women's Canadian Club, held in the drawing room of the Prince Edward Hotel, Saturday afternoon. After repeated efforts, Dr. Douglas received her overseas appointment and served two years overseas as a medical officer with the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, or the 'Waacs' as they are more commonly known, going over in charge of a draft of thirty Western Canadian young ladies.

Dr. Douglas described the way in which the women of England took over the work of the men so as to leave them free for active service in France. The speaker showed many interesting pictures of women at work formerly done by men, including coal stoking, horse shoeing, working in munition factories, delivering mail and cleaning electric trains. Dr. Douglas also showed pictures of the Waacs at work and of their camps.

The Women's Army Auxiliary Corps arose out of the Women's League, formed early in the war. These women were a real auxiliary corps and did whatever kind of work was needed. Some acted as cooks, others waited on tables while others did clerical work and still others worked at telegraphy, which was probably the most nerve racking work of all. On account of the splendid service rendered several of these girls received decorations. The Waacs did not drive motor ambulances but drove touring cars for the officers.

The Y.W.C.A. also came in for its share of praise from Dr. Douglas, when she eulogized the splendid work done by this association. The Y.W.C.A. was not needed in France said the speaker until after the Waacs arrived, but then they came over and did excellent work. The "Y" put on recreation for the girls, held dances which together with the rest room, and the chapel in the hut did more than can be imagined for the girls. After the armistice the girls did good work when they helped with camp converts, etc.

Dr. Douglas spoke of the many hardships the girls endured yet they were always cheerful and courageous. "But it all pales into significance in comparison with the hardships the boys engured," said the speaker. In conclusion the doctor urged the people of this country not to be hard with the returned men. They endured much and it will take some time before they are recovered.

At the conclusion of the address Mrs. G. E. Jones moved a hearty vote of thanks to Dr. Douglas, for her instructive address. Mrs. J. R. Little seconded the motion.

LETTERS OF INTEREST

What About John Smith, Farmer?

Editor Brandon Sun.

Sir: F. J. Dixon, M.L.A., made a really constructive address in the City Hall on Monday night and made plain some points in the Labor party platform that hitherto have been obscure. There is, however, one question that has been asked Mr. Dixon which is of great interest to farmers which he did not answer but talked neatly around. The question is, "What shall be done with John Smith, farmer?"

Mr. Dixon told about the system of leasing Dominion Park lands at Banff, the leasing of the land for use for forty years, and if the land is not improved within one year it returns to the Government. Does Mr. Dixon mean that this is what he proposes to do with John Smith, farmer? Will he, should he win to power as Premier of Manitoba, take away ownership of lands from the farmers? Having done this, will he lease these lands presumably to former owners, and revoke all leases where the lands are not improved within one year?

When Mr. Dixon answers this question the farmers of Manitoba will be in a position to settle the question of whether or not they desire to help elect Mr. Dixon and the men who follow him, into office. Mr. Dixon's treatment of this point was delightfully vague, so vague as to suggest that Mr. Dixon has one of the chief qualifications for the title of politician—that of conveying impressions rather than giving utterance to plain statements.

John Smith, farmer, would like to hear from Mr. Dixon on this point, and this is the reason I beg to trespass on your space.

Thanking you,

AN INTERESTED ONE

Brandon, Sept. 7.

BRING FARMERS

agricultural workers with industrial workers, it threatened to take the farm away from John Smith. Taking the Labor party platform, Mr. Dixon said the preamble clearly showed that all sorts of workers were welcome, that is, all of those who are rendering any useful service to society. The first plank in the platform provides for the transformation of capitalist property into social property for use rather than for profit. Abuses under the profit system were cited as the making of boots from paper and the waste of sugar when it was believed that high prices were due to world shortage.

Conversion of Capitalist Property

Conversion of capitalist property to social property that has been affected and has been of immense benefit to the world were instanced as the public control of roads replacing the old toll road system and the social control of the post office which first was a source of profit to those who operated it. The farmers had done some things themselves along this line in building elevators because those who operated them for profit were taking too heavy a toll. The operation of the Winnipeg electric power plant was given as an instance of the beneficial result of social or municipal ownership. This concern is said not to have advanced its rates though wages and other costs have not stood still.

The first plank of the Labor party platform is a declaration of principle which, according to Mr. Dixon, is to be applied as fast as the people are ready for it. To reduce the spread in costs of food, municipal abattoirs and cold storage plants were advocated.

To break the financial monopoly, Mr. Dixon would have state banks, on the same principle that the Provincial Government has already gone into the savings bank business. He would make it more widespread in its application.

Operated for the People

Natural resources should be owned by the people and operated in their interests. Under the system favored by Mr. Dixon, these resources would be fared out for the benefit of the people. Occupation of land would be possible provided it is worked and improved. Idle lands would be taxed back to the Government. The Province of Manitoba now imposes a surtax of five mills on unoccupied lands. Mr. Dixon declared this should be much greater.

The hope that the Farmers will go so far into the political business as to put the two old parties out of business, was Mr. Dixon's expressed wish, and that all classes of labor will get together for progress along the lines indicated.

The street dance in the evening proved a most successful affair. The Great War Veterans' Orchestra provided the music, and the extra lighting proved attractive. Dancing continued until a late hour.

PROTEST STRIKE AT BOSTON

Boston, Sept. 4.—The strike of longshoremen against work on British vessels as a protest against the British Governments attitude toward Ireland gained strength on Friday. Only 40 of a normal force of 350 men reported for work on three steamers, and the action of the steamship agents in sending other men to fill their longshoremens places caused most of the union freight handlers to refuse to work.

PROHIBITION IS PAYING ITS WAY IN UNITED STATES

Fines Collected Equal Cost Enforcing Law—Total $8,500,000

Washington, D.C., Sept. 6.—National prohibition is paying its way, according to Federal Prohibition Commissioner John F. Kramer.

"Collection of fines for evasion of taxes on the liquor business in so far as it still exists equals the cost of enforcing prohibition, I believe," said Kramer.

Appropriation for enforcement of national prohibition so far totals $8,500,000, of which $750,000 must be assigned to enforcement of the law against use of narcotic drugs. Approximately $2,000,000 was allowed for guarding more than $50,000,000 gallons of liquor in bonded warehouses. Appropriation so far made to last till June 30, 1921. The cost of enforcing prohibition averages $430,000 monthly.

CONFERENCE OF NATIONS TO TAKE PLACE SEPT. 23

Minister of Militia Also to Attend Meeting War Graves Commission in London

Ottawa, September 6.—The international financial conference, called under the authority of the League of Nations, at which Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Militia, will represent the Government of Canada, will meet at Brussels on September 28. C. G. Cassels, of the Bank of Montreal, London, and J. H. Grundy, of Toronto, are other delegates representing Canada.

While in England, the Minister of Militia will attend the meeting of the Imperial War Graves commission which takes place in London this month. This commission has charge of the graves of all British soldiers who fell during the war, whether they are buried in Europe or in the dominions. There are about 48,000 graves of Canadians on the battlefields of Europe, about 3,000 in Great Britain and almost 6,000 in Canada. The policy of the Imperial War Graves commission is that wherever possible the cemeteries and graves of all British soldiers shall have uniform treatment as to cost, headstone, ornamentation and future care and maintenance. This policy will apply to graves in Canada.

WANTS TARIFF ON A STRICTLY REVENUE BASIS

Council of Agriculture Presents Case for Organized Farmers Before Commission

WANT GOVERNMENT

To Act Upon Recommendations Put Forth—Seek Tariff Reductions

Winnipeg, Sept. 14.—The case of the organized farmers of Canada for a tariff put on a strictly revenue basis was presented to the Tariff Commission here today by the Canadian Council of Agriculture. N. P. Lambert, secretary of the Council and spokesman for them today set out their case. Some of the more important points from his address are as follows;

The Candian Council of Agriculture is made up of the executive heads of six provincial associations of organized farmers, and of the executive heads of four of their commercial companies. It is, in short, the federal organization of the organized farmers of Canada, and its business is of a twofold character.

First, the Canadian Council of Agriculture carries on an educational work, which aims to cultivate amongst its members an intimacy with the social, economic and political problems affecting the Dominion as a whole.

Secondly, the Canadian Council of Agriculture endeavors to attend in a concrete way to the commercial interests and material welfare of the agricultural industry, by dealing from time to time with such matters as costs of transportation, banking incurities, grain marketing, and the customs tariff. It is in this second capacity attending to the practical business interests of its constituency that the Council of Agriculture is represented before you today.

Four years ago, the Canadian Council of Agriculture issued a series of proposals for economics and fiscal reform embodied in a document which became known as the farmers' platform. [illegible] platform, however, was not created by the members of the Council of Agriculture four years ago. It represented, rather, resolutions which had been unanimously approved year after year for ten years by the annual conventions of the grain growers' associations in these Western provinces and also latterly by the United Farmers of Ontario. The compilation of the original Farmers' platform of 1916, therefore, was simply pushing into modified form a series of long standing recommendations born out of the practical experiences of thousands of men and women engaged in the work of farming. It may be observed here also that primarily, the farmers platform, which more recently has been described as a new national policy for Canada, was not designed as an instrument to be used for electing men to parliament. Neither was it designed for the purpose of embarrassing or defeating any government which might be holding office. The only idea behind the farmers' platform was that it should be put into effect.

To deal more directly with the protective tariff as it exists in Canada, the organized farmers attack it on the ground that it is the most wasteful and costly method ever designed for raising national revenue and also because of the gross injustices connected with its application. For example, using the figures for the fiscal year ending March, 1919, because a more recent report from the department of customs is not available, it is found that the cost of collecting the total customs revenue of 158 million dollars was over 5 1-4 million dolars. That is merely the first item of expense. The total amount of revenue of over 158 million dollars was produced from the importation of dutiable goods to the value of 526 million dollars. The importers of that amount of merchandise paid an average duty of slightly over 30 per cent. to produce a revenue of 158 million dollars. Assuming that the importer took 20 per cent. profit from his imported article, the wholesale dealer 20 per cents and the retail dealer 33 1-3 per cent., the 30 per cent. secured by the government for revenue, really the cost the ultimate consumer 58 per cent. That is to say, the consumer in Canada during the fiscal year 1919, had to pay at least 305 million dollars for the 158 million that the government collected in the form of customs revenue.

This suggestion of a conference on taxation is made, because at the present time, the direct method of tax-

MANITOBA MEMBERS HAVE ADVENTURES IN TRIP TO MINE

Boat Stranded on Mud Bank Twenty Hours—Menu is Hard Tack and Tea

The Pas, Man., Sept. 14.—Adventures, which included the stranding of their boat for twenty hours on a mud bank, met a party of fifty men from Winnipeg and The Pas, including many members of the Manitoba Legislature, on their way back to The Pas after visiting the Flin Flon Mine North of here. The party crossed Goose Kale in canoes in a gale and driving rain. The steamer scheduled to meet them at Sturgeon Landing was 24 hours late. After embarking Sunday morning the boat went aground and stayed for twenty hours. Thirty miles down the propeller shaft of the steamer snapped and the tourists, wet and cold, and hungry at midnight sent out volunteers to The Pas for assistance. A third steamer was sent out and the party is expected to reach The Pas today. Yesterday the visitors subsisted on hard tack and tea.

ARGUMENTS HEARD FOR AND AGAINST PRESENT TARIFF

Tariff Commission Opens First Western Session in Winnipeg This Morning

TO SECURE INFORMATION

As to How Canada's Fiscal Policy is Affecting the People

Winnipeg, Sept. 14.—The principle of protection was attacked and defended in forceful statements presented today at the opening session of the Tariff Commission.

The Canadian Manufacturers Association in a prepared statement of tariff views re-affirmed it "advocacy and support the policy of adequate protection for Canadian industry," which was, the statement said, the policy which has been maintained since 1878 in Canada by all political parties that held power.

The Canadian Council of Agriculture took the position that "a National policy based upon the principle of protection is wrong" and advocates "low customs tariff" and "direct methods of taxation." The Council of Agriculture viewed "the protective tariff" as the most wasteful and costly method ever designed for raising national revenue.

Sir Henry Drayton and the Hon. G. D. Robertson sat as the Tariff Commission in opening of the Western tour. In opening, Sir Henry Drayton stated that the purposes of the Commission to secure just as much information as possible as to how the country's fiscal policy is affecting the people of Canada, her industries and production; to ascertain what changes in tariff or other fiscal measures ought, in the interests of the public, to be made and what alternative and additional sources of revenue can be adopted. Sir Henry asked for the earnest co-operation of all. He had no doubt that all Canadians stand on common ground in regard to certain underlying principles.

(1) That Canada must pay her way and discharge it's current obligations [illegible]

(2) That policies conceived to bring about conditions assuring a maximum opportunity of profitable labor in all spheres of human activity and that can be properly and profitably carried on in our country, should be adopted.

(3) That in carrying out these principles our fiscal policies, while ensuring necessary revenue, should be applied in a manner least burdensome to the public. In our considerations it is necessary to keep constantly in mind the dollar cost of our preserved and continued freedom.

TEACHERS WANT TO KNOW ABOUT SALARY SCHEDULE

Brandon Association Writes School Board Asking Official Decision on Schedule Question

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

Increases and Some Congestion Now in Primary Grades, Reports Superintendent

The Brandon Teachers' Association have written the Brandon School Board expressing their disappointment at the delay of the School Board in notifying of them officially as to what has been done with regard to the new salary schedule. The letter was read at the regular meeting of the School Board held on Monday evening and as a result a copy of the minutes of the special School Board meeting held June 21st, and which finally disposed of the salary question, will be forwarded to the Teachers' Association. There was considerable routine business transacted at the session Monday evening.

In the letter to the School Board was a resolution passed by the Teachers' Association as follows: "That the Association express its disappointment and surprise at the delay of tht School Board in taking action on the teachers' schedule question, and that the Board be respectfully urged to take definite action on this matter at their next meeting, and that this Association be advised in writing immediately following the meeting of the Board." It was pointed out during the discussion that followed the reading of the letter that through some oversight, the Teachers' Association had not been notified regarding the decision of the Board made at the special meeting held on June 21st. At this meeting, it is stated, the schedule as drawn up at that time was adopted. The School Board on Monday evening therefore, directed that a copy of the minutes of the Board's decision at the special meeting be forwarded the Teachers' Association at once.

Miss Gosling has been appointed Attendance officer for the Public Schools at a salary of $[illegible] and [illegible] of $128, being equal to $2 per room, was made for playground equipment, as recommended by Mr. White. A grant of $25 was also made to Mr. B. A. Tingley for his supervision of the vacation classes held during the Summer. In order that the Collegiate students may take full advantage of their field sports, the Board granted that institution a half holiday on any date that may be selected for the sports. By a resolution it was decided also that a copy of the contract regarding the hiring of teachers as drawn up by the School Board, be sent to the Teachers' Association for their consideration.

The report given by Superintendent White of the Public Schools, showed an increase in the enrolment, this term, as was expected. An initial increase of 114 is reported, and there is considerable congestion in the primary grades. Special emphasis is to be placed on playground work under the direction of Physical Instructor Black. Mr. White also recommended that preliminary steps be taken at once for the organization of night school classes.

URGING FARMERS TO HOLD OUT FOR $3.00 A BUSHEL

Two Large Organizations Meet in Kansas City to Present Recommendation

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 14. — The financial fate of millions of bushels of 1920 wheat rests with recommendations to be made here by representatives of the Wheat Growers' Association and the Farmers' Union. These two organizations represent more than a half million farmers.

Preliminary discussion leading to recommendations to be voted upon late Monday indicate farmers will be urged to hold their wheat for a $3 market.

Despite the fact that this is one of the best years in the past ten, tenant farmers and many owners are courting financial ruin by putting their wheat on the market at $2.75 a bushel, delegates said.

They presented statistics showing a production cost of less than $3.00 a bushel. The present car shortage is also causing many farmers to involuntarily hold their wheat.

The advice on grains to the farmers to hold their wheat is not aimed to undermine the normal supply to the necessary market, the asstated that 15,000 airiel photographs

TWO PREMIERS CONCLUDE TWO DAYS MEETING

"The Italian and French premiers have exchanged their views in a most confident and amicable spirit concerning the European situation, as well as the political and economic relations between France and Italy. They are happy to note the general community of interests of the two countries, interests which can easily be reconciled.

"The premiers have resolved to study in full accord a solution of the grave problems growing out of the war and up to the present incompletely solved by peace. The essential aim remains general pacification along equitable conditions in respect to every nation's independence and the [illegible] lations, free from all idea of exclusive domination, either political or economic.

"M. Millerand and Giolitti recognize that the fundamental basis of such a peace, which, in order to be lasting must be just is a close entente of the allies in the world, especially in Europe, of England, Italy and France. The restoration of political and moral order is founded upon the application, equitably and sincerely, of the great treaties which terminated the war, as well as those which remain to be concluded, in order to assure definitely European peace.

"These treaties are jointly binding; they must remain the cornerstone of new International relations. The victors must bring into them the spirit of kindly moderation, the vanquished spirit of unrestricted loyalty." loyalty."

GROWING DEMAND FOR TRACKAGE IN SOUTH AFRICA

Large Iron and Steel Industry May Be Established to Relieve Situation

Cape Town, Sept. 14.—A growing demad for railway trackage is reported from every part of South Africa. The railways find this demand difficult to meet, though new freight cars constantly are being placed in service.

The "South African Journal of Industries" estimates that in the Union's annual requirements of iron are included 77,000 tons of rails for the railways and mines; 5,000 tons of angles and channels; 21,000 tons of bar, bolt and rod irons; 8,000 tons of girders, beams and columns as well as large quantities of plate and sheet iron, bolts, fencing standards, drill steel, steel castings and pig iron. All of this constitutes a total of 175,000 tons. South Africa possesses immense resources of iron ore and coal, and the question of establishing a large iron and steel industry in the Union is being seriously considered.

NEGOTIATIONS TO CEASE IF MAYOR MACSWENNEY DIES

This is Report From Dublin—Still Working for Settlement Irish Question

NEW UNDER-SECRETARY

Is Appointed to Deal With Problems in Six Ulster Counties

London, Sept. 14.—Negotiations for the settlement of the Irish question, which are described as most promising yet, will be nullified by the death of MacSwenney, the Dublin correspondent says. Secret negotiations on the basis of self-determination within the Empire have been going on for several weeks between the most prominent leaders of modern opinion and influential Republicans, the correspondent states. Moderates have been told, he adds, that nothing further can be done if the Lord Mayor dies, and the last hope of settlement on the proposed basis will disappear. The appointment of an additional Under-Secretary for Ireland has been decided upon by the Government. His duty will be to deal with problems arising in the six counties of Ulster.

NEED OF WORLD IS FOR UNITY OF IDEALS AND IDEAS

Rev. Dr. Pidgeon Gives Address —A Challenge for More Progressive Work

"The only unity that can possibly come among the nations of the world is by the unity of ideals and ideas. The League of Nations will be wholly ineffective if these spiritual interests are neglected. The need of the world today is a great Forward Movement of church work among these peoples."

Thus said Rev. Dr. E. L. Pidgeon of Winnipeg, who gave an interesting address in the Bible Class room of St. [illegible] Monday night un[illegible] bytery. The meeting was well attended, the class room being filled to capacity. Much of Dr. Pidgeon's address dealt with the budget of the Presbyterian Church in Canada and reviewed the work of the past year, when as a result of the financial campaign for the Forward Movement over five million dollars was raised by the Presbyterian Church in the Dominion.

In speaking of the methods of handling finances in each church, Dr. Pidgeon said that the "Every Member Canvass" and the "Envelope System" had been found most effective.

The speaker said that at the present time there is a challenge for more aggressive work to enlarge the obligations of the church in the Home Field and that this is a very critical time when help is needed in the Foreign work.

Another speaker during the evening was Rev. Mr. Cormie, the newly appointed Superintendent of Home Missions for the Synod of Manitoba. In his address on the work in the Home Field, the speaker made some startling statements regarding the lack of religious services in many parts of the Province. He said that in Northern Manitoba there were nineteen school districts where the people had not had religious services for five years.

The Brandon Presbytery have been busy all day today dealing with important matters in connection with church work in the city and district.

NEWS AND VIEWS FROM SEAT OF GOVERNMENT

Federal Bye-elections Give Politicians Something to Get Busy On

NEW RAILWAY RATES

Cost West Great Deal More Than East — Disposal of Wheat Crop

Ottawa, Sept. 10—Bon ententing is slow work; that is it takes a long time to produce results. Like experience is a plant of slow growth. The other day a better understanding meeting was held here under the auspices of the Federation of Fraternal Societies; but in truth little came of it. A few delegates met in the smoking room of the Chateau and talked over matters; but there was not enough of them to make much of an impression. Of course, something may come from the scattering of the good seed, for the politicians have certainly been turning up the soil and watering it with many expressions of good will.

The unfortunate situation which the "Better Understanding," or the Bon Entente movement, seeks to remove cannot be got rid of in a day. It is a crop grown from a liberal sowing of tares, which has come to full fruition. The trouble must be allowed to die out. But as many reaped an advantage from the resulting spirit of discord, so many others are equally interested in keeping it alive. It is surprising how many movements live on prejudice; a large part of our politics is made up of it. Eliminate it and many who have gained more or less political benefit must also go out of business. So, no matter how sincere the Non-Ententers, or "Better Understanding" people may be, many others will tell Quebec that in reality the leopard has not changed his spots, or the Etheopian his skin.

Hot Fight in Colchester

Down in Colchester Hon. F. B. McCurdy is having a hot fight. This is nothing new to him; but he is having it all the same. Being a wealthy man he will see that nothing in organization is lacking to ensure success, just as he did in 1911, when he defeated Fielding in Queens and Shelburne. The Farmers' candidate is a successful tiller of the soil with [illegible] an ordinary fight might hope for success. But to defeat a Cabinet Minister in a by-election is a hard matter. The truth is that neither the Liberals nor the Conservatives welcome the presence of the Farmers in the Maritime Provinces. The Liberals do not, remembering the showing that they made in the Provincial elections; and the Conservatives, as one can well believe, have even stronger reason for a like feeling. So it looks like a combination to beat the Farmer. But elections, these days, are queer things.

Wigmore Will Win

In St. John Hon. W. R. Wigmore will have an easy victory. St. John's politics is its harbor; this being so, a Cabinet Minister looks better to it than an empty-handed oppositionist. During the last eight years the harbor has cost the country at the rate of a million and a quarter a year; but the ocean has a voracious appetite. Throw a million dollars in to the harbor of a political hot bed on the coast, and there is so little to show for it that one usually wonders where it has gone.

New Grain Route

There are some who think that the advance in rates will have such an effect on the movement of grain from Alberta that 30,000,000 bushels will find its way to the world's markets via Vancouver and the Panama Canal. This remains to be seen. However, it does look as though the long haul would be much affected, if rates go much higher. It is bad enough to have to pay heavy charges on outward shipments, but to have to pay them on inward shipments is doubly hard. In so far as the greater part of the West is concerned, there is no escape from this as long as commodities are routed as at present.

Cost to Consumer

Freight increase may be inevitable, but for the West there is only one policy and that is—fight them hard. For they mean a great deal more to the consumer than the mere increase in railway charges. For the new scale is the basis on which all other dealers in goods base their charges and profits. A forty per cent. increase in rates will, it is expected, yield the railways $120,000,000; but it is pretty well agreed that the ultimate cost to the consumer will be $250,000,000. In other words, the public would, in seven years, pay as much as the total cost of the war to Canada. Viewed from this angle, the subject, serious enough before, takes on a much more serious aspect.

Disposal of Wheat Crop

This is no time to go borrowing trouble; but it is quite probable that the disposal of the wheat crop may create quite a problem. Since the outbreak of war, to sell the crop has been easy; for in addition to Europe needing wheat it could get it even if it had not the money, the Government having granted credits so that it was bought on time. This was made possible through the funds provided by the war loans. A number of European countries still want our wheat; but Canada has abandoned her credit-granting policy. So good an authority as Lord Beaverbrook is of the opinion that a serious problem has arisen, and he should know something about the situation. England will take a certain amount of wheat, but even her purchasing power is impaired through the rate of exchange. As for the other countries of Europe, the majority of them are infinitely worse off. Besides, there will be a tendency on their part to hold off buying in the hope of a slump in prices.

Pupblic is Gouged

Speaking of prices, the public is getting an idea of the manner in which they have been victimized in recent years. What the speculator has done to the consumer is sad to contemplate. Take sugar. It should not have cost the consumer anything like what it has; but the speculator, seeing his opportunity, stepped in, got hold of a large portion of the supplies, and then sat back and collected his toll. It is no secret that a large portion of the sugar that has been sold as high as 24 cents a pound was bought raw at prices ranging around seven cents a pound. A few of the refiners stocked up for twelve months at this price. Some wonder what has brought down the price of sugar. Merely this: the speculators in the United States have had to let go, the banks which lent them the money having called their loans. The result is that thousands of tons of sugar have been thrown on the market. It may also be said that the press and the public have been taken in by propaganda conducted by sugar brokers and others. Plausible stories, apparently backed up by facts and figures showing scarcity, have been readily swallowed, with the result that the public, fearing that the alleged scarcity might become even worse, was induced to buy heavily even at high prices. The purchasing public needs a Board of Commerce all right, but it needs one with a punch in it.

Tariff Commission

There will be quite an array of talent at the opening session of the Tariff Commission at Winnipeg on the fifteenth. The East attaches a great deal of importance to these sittings, especially the manufacturers, and the various interests will be well represented. It is known that several bright lawyers will be on hand to watch the proceedings. In addition, there will probably be a dozen newspaper correspondents from the East. The manufacturing interests are well worked up over the matter, fearing the next election campaign as they never did before. It is useless to tell them that the latter will be moderate; they believe, or profess to believe, that every Grain Grower, or U.F.O. man is a free trader. To them this Tariff Commission is no joke.

Premier's Western Tour

It is impossible to speak definitely about the Prime Minister's trip to the West this Fall. He has many messages urging him to speak, and it has been his intention to do so, but equally urgent requests come from other parts of the country. Besides, there will be several hard-fought by-elections in the East, to which he will have to give personal attention. In addition, every day brings its own work. So it is not as easy to put on a speaking tour as some think. Quebec will receive some attention this month, Mr. Meighen having arranged to address a big meeting at Sherbrooke on the 21st. It is also possible that other important gatherings may be held in that Province.

Sir Robert Borden is taking his regular turn on the golf links, and plays a very fair game; besides, the life seems to agree with him. Sir Auckland Geddes is supposed to be conferring with the Government on the appointment of an ambassador to Washington, but an announcement is not expected until after the Presidential elections.

The former Premier declared that he received no information suggesting wrongdoing in connection with the disposal of timber limits from Marks or anybody else.

RAILWAY MINISTER STRONGLY APPROVES OF INCREASED RATES

Hon. Dr. Reid Intimates That The Government Favors Increases

PLEA FOR OPTIMISM

Declares C. P. R.'s Advertising Work Entitles It To Advance

Toronto, Sept. 10.—Hon. J. D. Reid, Minister of Railways and Canals, who, with D. B. Hanna, President of the Canadian National Railways, and Grant Hall, Vice-President of the C.P.R., was a guest of the directors of the Canadian National exhibition at luncheon Thursday, gave an address in which he spoke strongly in favor of the the increased freight and passenger rates recently granted to the railway companies of the country by the Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada. The Minister intimates that the Government favored the increases.

"Canada is a prosperous country," said Hon. Dr. Reid. "The value of our agricultural lands has increased 37 per cent. during the last five years. Our banks have very much larger deposits. Our post office deposits are increasing. With the advance we are making, with our natural resources, with the great future we have in this country, let us not be pessimistic, let us be optimistic. Let us carry on the good work, and in the interests of the railways and the country as a whole do not let us be too hard on our railway systems. Give them a chance—give them an opportunity. If you can't boost, don't knock."

C.P.R.'s Advertising Work

Hon. Dr. Reid referred to the $46,000,000 deficit on the National Railways and asked: "Could anything be more discouraging, more disheartening than for these men (Canadian National Railway officials) to work as hard as they have and find that all their work was not succeeding in making the road pay?"

Stating that the C.P.R. had advertised Canada in all countries of the world, Hon. Dr. Reid asked: "What position would Canada be in if by any chance the C.P.R. were reduced to such a state as not to earn their dividends, or that they might have to [illegible] the Dominion of Canada."

Answering his own question, the Minister said: "There is not a man in this country, I believe, who would insist on such a proposition."

Referring to deficits on railways in the U.S. and increases in railway men's wages having been granted by the U.S. government, he said Canadian railway men were also entitled to increased pay.

Grocers' Association Protests

Toronto, Sept. 10.—A telegram was sent to Premier Meighen by the Canadian Wholesale Grocers' Association, signed by Hugh Blain, President of the Association, and A. C. BOARD'S FINDINGS APPLICABLE TO ALL RAILWAYS

Application by Alberta Railways For Increases Have Been Definitely Refused

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—In view of the general increase in railway freight rates, the Railway Commission, in a judgment handed down Thursday declines to take any special action in regard to the application of the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia Railway Company and the Central Canada Railway Company, for a general increase in both freight and passenger rates. The Board has decided that the applicant railway should be allowed to put in force the same increases as are authorized by the recent judgment for all railways coming within the jurisdiction of the board.

An interesting feature of the judgment is an expression of opinion by the Railway Board as to the conditions under which increased rates should be authorized. "The burden of increased rates," says the judgment, "is one which should be imposed only when there is a thoroughly established justification therefor. At the same time, in the present application as well as in the application launched by the railways for a general increase in rates, much material was submitted, reinforcing what is a matter of common knowledge, namely, that in the period which has elapsed since 1914, railway costs of operation have practically doubled, while rate increases have been much less. The weighty responsibilities imposed upon the Board by Parliament compel the conclusion that rates inadequately remunerative are not only detrimental to the public served by the and more important phase are detrimental to the public served b the railway, because if the rates do not adequately remunerate for the service, the efficiency will tend to deteriorate, and there will be progressive difficulty in obtaining these adequate facilities which are essential if traffic is to move."

The judgment is written by Assistant Chief Commissioner S. J. McLean and indicates that he is in accord with the view expressed by Chief Commissioner Carvell, who wrote the findings in the general rates case.

BOARD OF TRADE CONTRACTS FOR A MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Two Year Contract Entered Into With Canadian City Bureau

OBJECTIVE $12,000

Direction of Campaign to Cost $4,900 — About Forty Attend Meeting

A campaign in Brandon to make a systematic appeal to civic patriotism, public spirit, enterprise and initiative, and to take a larger value out of citizenship, will be put on shortly by the Canadian City Bureau, Limited. At a meeting of the Board of Trade called Thursday evening and which was attended by about forty members, it was decided to enter into a two-year contract with the Canadian City Bureau for this service. They promise to put on a membership campaign, and the objective will be $12,000 in Brandon. This will be made up with $25 memberships, and still larger membership fees. The Canadian City Bureau, Limited, however, does not guarantee the success of the campaign financially, but state that they have met with success in 300 cities.

The Thursday night meeting was held in the Council Chamber with Vice-President Hobson acting as chairman. The principal speakers of the evening were: C. A. Simmons, of Toronto, representing the Canadian City Bureau, Limited; A. E. McKenzie, J. F. Kilgour and A. Shewan. Mr. Simmons in an address on "Communing Growth," outlined his project and cited many instances where their campaign had resulted in great good to the city. The local speakers were all in favor of the campaign as outlined by Mr. Simmons, but opposition was expressed by two members, J. D. Kennedy and Thomas Dorsett. The direction of the campaign by the Canadian City Bureau, Limited, will cost the Board of Trade $4,900 to raise $12,000.

At a meeting of the Council of the Board of Trade this morning the contract was entered into.

The only other item of business transacted was the appointment of Mr. H. L. Crawford as Secretary to the Board of Trade, suceeding Mr. Harry Stuart, who leaves shortly for Victoria, B.C.

Report by Chairman McKenzie

A preliminary statement was made at the Thursday evening meeting by A. E. McKenzie, chairman of the special committee which investigated the project. Mr. McKenzie emphasized the great need for the proper use of citizenship in a city which we are all justly proud of. The importance of buying service, and that the time is now ripe to take a more active course in the city's development were two points made by Mr. McKenzie. The speaker said that we should have better patriotism and loyalty in the city, and a better understanding between all classes of citizenship. "Put more into our citizenship and we'll get more out of it," Mr. McKenzie said.

Telling of the good done by the Canadian City Bureau, and of its work throughout the United States, C. A. Simmons, of Toronto, gave an address on "Community Growth." He stated that it is a positive loss to a city, if the city is not organized, and he talked in business terms of the loss which results in the city because of lack of organization. There are three general classes of loss in a city, (a) human power, (b) civic development and (c) industrial growth. Mr. Simons spoke of the loss to a city when young people were attracted away from their home city, while he also cited many instances which grew out of civic pride and advancement. The modern methods of the Boards of Trade have reversed the older order, and industries cannot afford to pass up these cities.

Mr. Simons then gave some terms of the contract which the Board of Trade would have to enter into with the Canadian City Bureau Limited, if the campaign is to be directed by that Corporation. The Bureau promises to furnish skilled direction for a membership and financial campaign for a community association, or Board of Trade. During the campaign they will make a systematic appeal to civic patriotism, public spirit, enterprise and initiative. For four weeks following the membership campaign, they will retain a staff member of the Bureau in the city. They will also furnish many other services in connection with civic advancement, although their work is to be in the nature of direction only. For these services they are to receive $3,500, plus a commission of ten per cent. on all moneys collected over $5,000. It was later estimated that the total cost to the Board of Trade would be about $4,900.

Aid Shewan Favors Project

In favoring the project outlined by Mr. Simmons, Alderman A. Shewan said that the previous speaker had brought something to the doors of the Board of Trade that it had been looking for for years. He further stated that there has been a lack of co-operation among the citizens of Brandon for years. Seventy-five per cent. of the people are calling for a public librarb, while the completion of the Grand Trunk spur into Brandon, the erection of a Memorial Hall and the building of the Suburban Park, needed civic co-operation and attention. Mr. Shewan urged the endorsement of the plan outlined by Mr. Simmons.

Opposition to Scheme

Some opposition to the scheme was made by Mr. T. Dorsett, who said that if we have the man-power here why didn't we make use of it ourselves without calling in outsiders to tell us how the city should be advanced. The large cost of direction could be eliminated if it was run locally and he strongly opposed the project. Mr. J. F. Kilgour said we have the power here, it is true, but that is not harnessed, and that all local efforts had failed in this direction. He therefore heartily endorsed the Canadian City Bureau scheme.

Mr. J. D. Kennedy said that he had heard an eloquent address but really didn't know what it was all about. He said what Brandon wanted was results and that there was no use talking about "beautiful Brandon" unless we get industries and results. If the Canadian City Bureau, Limited, is working in 300 cities, he did not think that this city would get very much benefit out of it. Mr. Kennedy urged more thought being put on the project and not to have the scheme rushed through in one evening.

Following this discussion on the subject, a vote was taken as to whether the contract should be entered into, and with only two dissenting votes, the Canadian City Bureau project was adopted.

Thanks to Stuart

A vote of thanks to Mr. Harry Stuart for his untiring efforts as Secretary of the Board of Trade was passed by the members present. Vice-President Hobson and Mr. R. Crawford took occasion to refer to the splendid work done by Mr. Stuart, and they regretted very much that his transfer to Victoria would take place just at a time when his services were being widened out. Mr. Stuart replied with a few appropriate remarks.

INDUSTRY SHOULD BE RESPONSIBLE FOR UNEMPLOYMENT

Trades Union Congress Passes Resolution at Portsmouth Session Thursday

Portsmouth, Eng., Sept. 10. — The Trades Union Congress in session here adopted a resolution Thursday declaring responsibility for unemployment shall be borne by industry and that in no case should the level of income fall below 85 per cent. of wages earned when in full employment. Power should be obtained to force a levy on industry to raise the necessary fund, the resolution added, and the Parliamentary Committee of the congress was instructed to take necessary action to this end.

By a large majority on a card vote the congress decided to replace the Parliamentary Committee, which had hitherto managed national labor affairs, by a labor general staff or "general council representing every distinct industry affiliated with the congress."

James Harry Thomas, General Secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen, said that the two delegates appointed by Labor's council of action to proceed to Riga for the purpose of obtaining full information on the Russo-Polish peace negotiations arrangements were having difficulty in obtaining passports. He submitted a resolution approving the appointment of the delegates and coning on the government to grant passport facilities to British Labor delegates. The resolution was carried unanimously.

LABOR HERALD RECEIVES $375,000 BOLSHEVIKI GOLD

Being Held Pending a Decision by Shareholders As To Its Use

OPINIONS ASKED

By Readers as to Acceptance of Money — A Notable Episode

London, Sept. 10.—The admission is made here today by the Herald, organ of Labor, that it has in its possession 75,000 pounds of "Bolshevik gold." The newspaper states that the gold is being held pending a decision of the shareholders as to whether it will be used. The newspaper asks the opinion of its readers as to acceptance of the money.

Last month charges that the Soviet Government was subsidizing newspapers in other countries for carrying on propaganda, were published here and the Herald named as one of the journals having received Bolshevik money. "To accept it," says the Herald, "will be to complete a notable episode in international Socialism."

CANADA HAS HIGHEST TAXES ON BIG INTERESTS

Premier Meighen Asks if Canadians Want a Destructive or Constructive Policy

DEFEAT OF GOVERNMENT

Would be Gain For Controlling Interests Led by Crerar and Wood

Kingston, Sept. 10—Premier Meighen, speaking at the "get together meeting" last night, discussed Canada's taxation. "It is remarkable" he said, "that Canada taxes the big interest man higher than any other country in the world. The sales tax is a path untrodden by any other country."

"Are the general lines of the policy of the government sound, he asked. Are they not sound from the standpoint of argument and experience? "If the Government goes down," said Premier Meighen, "it will be a gain for the controlling interests which had their birth in the West and which are led by Hon. T. A. Crerar and Mr. Wood, of Alberta, who are bringing back the principles rejected four or five times by the people. You have to decide between a destructive policy and a protective one."

MILITIA DEPT EXTENDS TIME REFUNDING MONEY

Extenson of Date for Submission of Claims Set to December 31, 1920

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—The Militia Department has authorized an extension of the order issued some time ago providing for the refunding of passage money to ex-officers and men of the British army who came to Canada after the war. Extension of date for the submission of claims is to December 31st, 1920, inclusive, and its particular purpose is to give Imperials who have returned to Great Britain full opportunity to make application for a refund of passage money.

The extension is confined to the ollowing categories:

Those who were actually engaged in military operations in distant parts of the world, and in places other than France, Belgium, or the area of the Rhine army;

Those who were incapacitated by wounds or illness contracted on active service;

Those who were killed in action or died from the result of wounds contracted during their service. In this case, application should be made by or on behalf of the nearest relative.

Each claim must be accompanied by a full statement of the reason which prevented its submission before September 1st, 1919.

QUAKE DEATH LIST STEADILY GROWS LARGER

Nearly Three Score Italian Towns and Villages Suffer

10,000 HOMELESS

All Classes Assist Sufferers Who Want Food and Medicines

Florence, Sept. 9.—The number of dead from Tuesday's earthquake is steadily growing as additional reports arrive. Latest advices from Fivizzano bring the total dead there alone up to 432, while at Vignatta 124 are dead and about 1,000 injured. In nearly three score towns and villages serious damage was done and a total population of more than 10,000 has been rendered homeless.

Recover Fifty Bodies

London, Sept. 9.—Fifty dead, victims of the earthquake, have been taken from the ruins of the town of Bargu, a Lucca dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph reports adding that many more are buried in the debris of homes. The village of Grafagnana is a heap of ruins.

Another Great Disaster

Rome, Sept. 9.—Italy is again suffering from an earthquake disaster, the extent of which has not yet been measured. It is known, however, that hundreds of people have been killed and thousands injured. Many small towns and villages have been wrecked, and although assistance is being hurried from al parts of the country to the afflicted area, there is much suffering for want of food, medicines and shelter for the people.

"Every earthquake disaster is for Italy like a lost battle," said ex-Premier Luzzatti, after the Avezzano catastrophe, and this is now repeated in Tuscany. Though not so great, the present disaster recalls the distant tragedy of Messina.

It is not yet possible to calculate how many hundreds are dead—the list up to Wednesday evening shows close to 400 already reported. There are many bodies under the ruins, and there are wounded also under the ruins who have not yet been reached by the rescuers. There are believed to be many thousands of injured; the hospitals at Spezia have already received about 500; 300 have been taken to other hospitals nearby. Improvised hospitals composed of tents are caring for how many others nobody knows. The injured and the homeless are thankful at least that the weather keeps fair, but at night it is very cold, especially on the mountain slopes.

All classes are combining in their efforts to render aid.

Survivors describe the shock as terrifying; the air was filled with choking, blinding dust, so black that the sun was lost to view. "It seemed like the end of the world," terrified peasants say.

The great towers of medieval castles were shaken, partially destroyed, or seemed tottering to a fall.

The ducal palace at Massa Carrara, which was the Summer residence of Napoleon's sister, was seriously damaged.

Immense Area Affected

Reports received here indicated that an area of more than 300 miles long and 150 miles wide was affected. Scores of deaths and hundreds of injuries already have been reported and it was feared the casualty list would continue to mount as communication was restored. Property damage was expected to reach millions of dollars.

Relief work was being conducted under government supervision. Soldiers and volunteer workers were being rushed into the stricken area.

The earthquake, which occurred early Tuesday, apparently extended from the region of San Stefano, in the Apennines, fifty miles Southeast of Florence, Northwestward into the Interlaken district of Saberland. The more important cities which felt the shock were Florence, Leghorn, Spezia, Genoa, Milan, Modena, Lucia and Reggio.

The tremors seemingly entered the province of Massa Carrara in Northwestern Tuscany where Villa Collemandina, Fivizanno, Queeria, Molassa and Tarasco were reported completely razed. Scores of other towns and villages in other parts of the quake area were badly damaged.

Victims Number Hundreds

Florence, Sept. 9. — Graver news from the area affected by Tuesday's earthquake has been received, the number of victims being put at several hundred dead and injured. The quake caused great damage in the provinces of Florence, Lisa, Leghorn, Lucia, Massa Carrara, Reggio D'Emilia, Modena and Piacenza. The shock was fetl in the surrounding provinces as far as Milan, but there was no injury to life or property.

Estimate of Dead 300

London, Sept. 9. — The Epoca of Rome estimates that 300 persons were killed in Tuesday's earthquake, says a Stefani News Agency dispatch.

★ ANOTHER QUAKE SHOCK SHAKES EMILIA DISTRICT ★

Rome, Sept. 9—Another violent earthquake occurred in the Emilia district this morning, causing loss of life and heavy damage. This mornings shock was more violent than Tuesday's.

Everywhere, the dispatch reports, the population is camping in the open. Relief parties from Spezia, Genoa, Massa and Florence are scouring the devastated region.

NEW FREIGHT RATES WILL BOOST THE PRICE OF COAL

Large Shipments of Western Coal Arrive Daily—May Be Scarcity Later

Coal dealers, asked this morning what difference the increase in freight rates would make in the price of coal in this city, had very little to say. The general opinion, however, seemed to be that from twenty to twenty-five cents a ton would be added to the price of all coal shipped into Brandon.

Up to date there has been a fair supply of coal purchased by Brandon people, but not nearly as much as should be stored to eliminate the possibility of a shortage later on. Some kinds of hard coal, such as the stove size, is almost off the market at present, and shipments of any kind from the United States are largely governed by conditions in that country. The suppry of hard coal is very uncertain and the market unsteady. The demand for Western coal is abnormal, and this year a large area of Eastern Canada will be supplied with coal from Western fields. The demand is so great that even without strikes the miners can scarcely mine coal fast enough to supply the demand.

At present coal shipments are arriving almost daily in Brandon from the Western fields, particularly. But in a very few weeks every available car for the shipment of grain and coal shipments will have to take second place. When the grain movement starts there will be very little coal coming in and this will mean congestion later on.

FLOUR AND GRAIN PRICE REGULATED BY LIVERPOOL

Farmer Will Likely Have to Pay Difference in Freight Charges

Toronto, Sept. 9.—"The Liverpool price regulates that of flour and grain for the world," said a prominent Toronto milling firm manager Wednesday, when asked if the increased freight rates on the railways would affect the price of these commodities.

"Liverpool is not concerned with our freight problems and is only anxious to buy in the cheapest market, but I think they cannot do better than in this country. The farmer will, I think, have to pay the difference in freight charges, but the option market will give the first line on the question of the effect of the increases now granted the railways."

CROSS-CANADA AIRPLANE FLIGHT END SEPTEMBER

A Seaplane to Fly From Halifax to Winnipeg and Then to Vancouver

Ottawa, Sept. 9.—The first cross-Canada airplane and seaplane flight is expected to be made in the last week of September. A seaplane will fly from Halifax to Winnipeg and from that city to Vancouver. The journey will be completed by airplanes flying in relays. The seaplane will be piloted by Col. Leckie and the names of three of the airplane pilots who will take part in the flight have been announced. They are Captain G. A. Thompson, of Winnipeg; Capt. J. B. Home-Hay, Capt. D. Carruthers, of Kingston, Ont. All three are flyers with excellent records overseas. They have been provisionally selected for the trip and it is likely that three or four other names will be announced in the course of a fe wdays.

There will also be another seaplane pilot named to act as reserve pilot on the first leg of the journey.

The seaplane which is to be used by Col. Leckie was built in England for the trans-Atlantic flight, but the journey had been accomplished before she was finished. The machine has reached Halifax from England and is to be assembled and given trial flights there. The engine arrived at Quebec Tuesday, the Air Board was notified, and it is hoped to have everything in readiness for the flight to be made by Oct. 1 at the latest. The flying time expected to be consumed between Halifax and Winnipeg will be about 22 hours. If sufficient fuel can be carried to make the trip possible as a non-stop journey, it is not expected that the machine will alight between the two points.

The Western end of the journey, from Winnipeg to Vancouver, will be made in relays ,three machines being used. The machines for the flight have been shipped from Camp Borden to Winnipeg, and Capt. Thompson, who is connected with the Canadian Aircraft company there, will have charge of their assembling and testing for the flight.

MECHANICS TO ASSEMBLE PLANES FOR LONG FLIGHT ARRIVE WINNIPEG, FRIDAY

The first leg of the Western flight is to be from Winnipeg to Moose Jaw, where another machine takes up the flight to Calgary. The third machine flies to Vancouver. It is hoped that the flight from Halifax to Vancouver will be made in fifty flying hours.

THRESHING OPERATIONS AGAIN IN FULL SWING

After practically a week of wet weather, when threshing was impossible, operations have again started on farms in Brandon district. In spite of wet weather the grain is in good condition and the yield averages about twelve bushels. The average price being received by farmers is $2.60, the wheat grading about No. 2 Northern. With farmers so busy on the land at this time of the year, very little hauling is being done, and only a small amount of the wheat threshed has been marketed.

About twenty-five per cent. of the threshing has been done in Brandon district. Some farmers have a lot of wheat to thresh yet and operations have not been generally started on the oats or barley. Farmers are hoping for clear weather during the next few weeks.

FAREWELL PRESENTATION TO PLANT CHIEF AT BRANDON PHONE CENTRAL

Tuesday evening the Commercial Department of the Manitoba Government Telephone Office was the scene of a farewell presentation to Mr. F. J. Tremblay, who has been Plant Chief for the past nine years. Mr. Tremblay leaves Brandon to make his home in Boissevain, having purchased the business of Burgess & Lawler.

Mr. C. H. Snider, District Superintendent on behalf of the employes in presenting Mr. Tremblay with an arm chair and Mrs. Tremblay a reading lamp regretted losing one who so cheerfully and efficiently had carried on his work for such a long period, and wished him success in his new enterprize.

FARMERS PAY $7 DAY FOR HELP FOR THRESHING

Some Harvesters Demanding $8 Find Work Not Easy to Secure

There is still a big demand in the Brandon district for harvest help. A large number of applications are still held in the local employment office and have yet to be filled. According to reports the labor shortage is not seriously handicapping the farmers who are doing their best under the circumstances and getting well along with the threshing. Quite a number of men are drifting into the City from other farm jobs and are being eagerly picked up by farmers who come to Brandon looking for farm help.

A number of men were asked to go out threshing this morning at a wage of $7 a day, but they turned this down and asked the farmers for $8 a day. This was refused, although it is stated that some of the farmers were so hard pressed for help that this wage has been paid. Hearing of this big wage, some of the harvesters are now holding out for $8 a day, and expect to be placed in a few days. None of the men asking this wage at the Employment Office were placed this morning, for the ruling wage is $7. It is not expected that there will be any harvest help obtained now from the United State and farm help can only be obtained by picking up those men who have finished work on other farms.

DEMAND ACTION IN THOROLD CASE

Slowness of Authorities is Causing Complaint Niagara District

St. Catharines, Sept. 9.—So far no information has been laid against any of the Thorold rioters who were going to lynch Morneal, accused of killing Margaret Boucock. There is considerable complaint by the public against the slow action of the authorities. Dr. Wm. Rittenhouse, of Chicago, writes to a local paper as follows:—"One of many Canadians living in the United States, who still loves the old land and its traditions of British respect for law and order, I beg to inquire whether the ring leaders of the mob at Thorold are to go scot free. Are no proceedings to be taken to punish those who have brought disgrace upon Canada. Ontario stands at the parting of the ways. If this mob goes unpunished there will be more and bolder ones in the future and British fair play will become a mere tradition.

CITY ENGAGES ENGINEER TO MAKE CHANGES

James M. Beggs of Montreal to Have Charge of Waterworks Improvements

TO END DEFICITS

Aldermen Engage Qualified Engineer for This Important Work

James M. Begg, of Montreal, was appointed this morning by the City Council to take charge of the proposed improvements to the Waterworks system. A special meeting of the Council was held early this morning and a report from the Waterworks Committee on the investigation into the survey made by W. M. Scott, the consulting engineer, read and passed. The report shows that the ultimate objective of the proposed waterworks improvements will be the electrification of the plant, but recommends that the distributing end of the waterworks system be immediately surveyed, and any deficiencies corrected.

Besides recommending that a thorough examination be made into the distribution system, the Waterworks Committee have also asked that certain information regarding the erection of a stand pipe, the enforcement of compulsory connections to houses having the facilities for so doing, and the future extension of water mains, should be maintained. As soon as this information is available the Council can then proceed with the more important feature of the Waterworks survey, namely, the electrification of the plant.

In order to carry out the investigation and make the proper report, the Committee felt it was in the best interests of the city to engage a competent engineer, and accordingly brought in a recommendation which was passed by the Council this morning, engaging James M. Begg, of Montreal, as engineer at a salary of $300 per month. Mr. Begg is highly recommended by W. M. Scott, the consulting engineer who conducted the preliminary survey of the waterworks plant. Only one dissenting voice on the Council to this arrangement was heard this morning, Alderman McKenzie bitterly opposing the appointment of what he termed "a third engineer for the City of Brandon."

Committee's Report

The report brought in by the special Waterworks Committee, and passed at this morning's meeting is as follows:

"Your Special Committee appointed to cinsider the matter of improvements to the Brandon Waterworks System, begs leave to report as follows—

"The Committee has held several meetings, at which the various phases of the proposed improvements have been given serious consideration. The exhaustive report of Mr. W. M. Scott, Consulting Engineer, has been carefully studied, supplemented by correspondence with that gentleman, and any recommendation made by this Committee in the premises, bears the fullest approval of Mr. Scott.

"Your Committee appreciates that radical changes are necessary, in order to overcome the increasing deficit on Waterworks operations, and to place same, at least, upon a self-supporting basis. As the work is of such vital importance to the city, and as, in all probability, a considerable expenditure will be involved, we feel that it will warrant the placing of a competent Engineer in charge.

"The Committee is of the opinion that the electrification of the Pumping Station will be the ultimate objective. Before undertaking this work, however, it is essential that reliable information is available with reference to many factors in connection with our Waterworks system, including the following.—

"A thorough examination of the Distribution end of the System in order to correct any deficiencies which may be found therein, and to establish the amount of pumpage required.

"The question of the erection of a Stand Pipe.

"The enforcement of compulsory connections to houses having facilities for so doing and the consequent reduction of un-metered services.

"The preparation of plans for future water main extensions.

"As soon as reliable data is secured in connection with the above, the Council will be in a possition to consider the electrification of the Pumping Station.

"With the above work in prospect, together with other engineering problems likely to arise in the near future your Committee is of the opinion that it would be in the best interests of the city to engage a competent engineer for at least one year. In this connection, Mr. Scott has strongly recommended Mr. James M. Begg, at present residing in Montreal, but who has had some Western experience as Assistant City Engineer at Edmonton from 1912 to 1914. Mr. Begg is a B.Sc. of Glasgow University, Scotland, and, in addition to the recommendation of Mr. Scott, your Committee has secured independent outside opinions as to the former's character and ability, all of which speak of Mr. Begg in the highest terms. As it is very necessary, in view of the advancing season, that this work should be commenced at once, your Committee recommends.—

"That Mr. James M. Begg, of Montreal, be at once engaged by this Council for a period of at least one year, on a salary basis of $300 per month, to take charge of the projosed improvements to the Waterworks system, together with any other Engineering work which may arise from time to time, and which may be under the jurisdiction of the Council.

Mr. Scott's report and all correspondence is attached hereto.

"All of which is respectfully submitted.

(Signed) A. SHEWAN,
Chairman."

CAPITAL INVESTED WAS INSUFFICIENT

Reports Liquidator at Meeting of Dominion Shipbuilding Co. Creditors

Toronto, Sept. 9.—Insufficient capital and high labor costs were among the factors contributing to the failure of the Dominion Shipbuilding Company, according to a report on the company's affairs submitted by Osler Wade, the liquidator, to a meeting of the firm's creditors at Osgoode Hall. Mr. Wade was appointed permanent liquidator, with, to assist him, a committee composed of : William Inglis, A. E. Gilderson, J. P. Payette, of Penetang, and E. L. Cousins. The wages due employes, amounting to $106,252.32, have been paid on a liquidator's bond, charging all the assets as security. The official report suggests a possible method of re-organization by means of an arrangement with the creditors for deferred payment, which will likely be considered by the committee in charge. It is pointed out, however, that between five and six hundred thousand dollars would be required to carry out such re-organization, one-half to retire the secured and preferred claims and the balance for working capital.

The liquidator comments that the policy of a closed shop has had the effect on labor costs, which were constantly increasing, while the cost of material has been decreasing since the peak of last year.

TRADES AND LABOR CONGRESS WINDSOR SEPTEMBER 13-18

Ottawa, Sept. 9.—From Vancouver to Sydney, credentials are being received from delegates who will attend this year's Dominion Trades and Labor congress at Windsord. The congress will open next Monday and is expected to continue throughout the entire week, the closing sessions coming on Saturday afternoon. Resolutions touching on almost every subject of interest to labor men have been received, and it is expected that the chief interest will centre around discussions on the Industrial Disputes act, cost of living, workmen's compensation acts and immigration of workmen to Canada. Many workers in this country feel that labor is being brought in from other countries without any reasonable prospect of work being found for the men on their arrival. Political activities of the workers are also expected to be freely discussed.

DAMNABLE CURSES

The Labor-Soldier member for Riverside in the Ontario Legislature appears to have unburdened his mind at the Labor Day celebration in Toronto. He characterized Socialism and its kindred "isms" as a damnable curse to the Allied cause since 1914.

McNamara's sentiments are those of a great majority of people who had not the gift, and perhaps not the courage, to express them, as forcibly as he has done. These people know full well that the "isms" whatever the intent of the leaders, contributed little or nothing towards winning the war. And since the war has been won they have played the mischief with honest attempts to secure a just and abiding peace.

When others have the courage and opportunity to express their views, and do so in as effective fashion as McNamara appears to have done, these Westward drifting "isms" will receive the treatment they merit.

FOOLING SATAN

The funeral of a prominent Chinese woman is described in the North China News. It is related that more than 25,000 persons attended so it is evident that the deceased was a personage of great importance. There were thirty-six bands in the procession to the tomb—and two coffins each carried by forty coolies.

The practice of having two coffins is an old Chinese custom, and is intended to fool the devil. The coffin containing the body is carried in the rear of the first coffin, on the theory that Satan will look into the first one and finding nothing in it will be deceived and pay no further attention to the deceased.

Trying to fool the devil has been the custom for thousands of years with other people than the Chinese. All of us try to do so at times; the best among us, and the wisest, seem to think it is possible to do so. Many a church and monument has been built for that purpose. That is, many a man has contributed money to such purposes in the belief that he was fooling the devil. So it will not do to laugh at the Chinese for their superstition; not until we learn ourselves that Satan can't be fooled and give up trying to do so.

INCREASED RATES

The cost of living and doing business in Canada has been given another big boost. By the increases granted the railways for the carriage of freight and passengers, another round or two has been taken on the spiral stairs of ascending costs. An other advance has been made towards the peak load which when reached cannot fail to bring about a sharp reaction. Through the granting of the increases, organized business, under the plea of meeting the demands of organized labor and mounting costs, imposes further burdens on the consumers. According to the decision by the Railway Commission, given out on Tuesday night, freight rates are to advance, passenger rates step up also, while sleeping and parlor car rates do not lag behind.

The process by which these increases were imposed on the Canadian people are worthy of special note. The railways applied for a mandate to increase rates. The Railway Commission fixed a date for the hearing of the application. At this hearing there were two opposing factions. On the one hand was the railways that sought the increase. On the other hand, some of the representatives of Provincial Governments, Boards of Trade and other bodies representing the people.

Naturally the petitioners were required to prove their right to increases. This they proceeded to do after a fashion. The railways principally concerned were the C.P.R., the C.N.R., and the Grand Trunk. The latter two, the "lame duck" roads, had no trouble about that. They were built by geniuses with an eye to the profit to be derived from building rather than operation. The huge deficits they had already incurred proved without argument that they require some form of heroic treatment. It will probably be as easy for them to prove that they cannot make ends meet even under the more than generous increases granted, as it was before. With them it is only a question of the size of the deficit. With the C.P.R. the situation was different. Up to the end of June the C.P.R. showed no deficit. Their need for increased rates was purely speculative. They faced certain increased costs and the almost certain increase in volume of earnings because of the immense crop and other tonnage. This railway is in the comfortable position of having an accumulated surplus of one hundred and sixteen million dollars stored away during the last ten years for the purpose of being able to carry on during a possible period of adversity. This was the reserve stored away during the fat years to take care of possible lean ones, and of this huge fund they have never expended one dollar. The fight this company made, was to protect these reserves. In this they were successful.

It is no reflection on the legal talent employed by the C.P.R. to say that they did not make out a case for the increased rates. They could not. The company has not lost money. They could only state their expectation of doing so. It may easily be that this railroad could have earned a decent surplus during 1921 without increasing rates one dollar. It is all a matter of speculation.

It is therefore a reasonable assumption that the increases were not granted on the showing made by the C.P.R., but upon the deficits and necessities of the Government railways. It is here that the Railway Commission appears to have made the greatest blunder. The deficits and necessities of the Government railways are not the problems for the Railway Commission. they are questions of policy to be decided by the Government of the day. This was clearly stated by the Minister of Railways in the House of Commons last March. Parliament is the only competent tribunal in this matter.

The Railway Commission's function is to apply the recognized principles laid down by parliament to the facts of railway operation. The Commission overstepped the bounds of its authority if the decision was rendered on facts other than those supplied by the C.P.R., and there are many indications in support of the contention that this was the case.

The Railway Commission's conduct of the hearing was not such as to commend itself to the people of Canada. The Board has never been tied down by technicalities but there was a singular absence of the judicial calm at the hearings. Though the application was the most important one that ever came before the Board of Railway Commissioners, and affects the welfare of every Canadian, there was observable throughout the whole proceedings a haste that to many minds resembled a desire to have done with a nasty task. The attitude of the C.P.R. suggested that it was a waste of time to submit estimates and statements, and figures that should have been early forthcoming were supplied, if at all, at the last moment.

The position taken in this matter by the C.P.R. is a striking contrast to that taken by the United States Railways when they applied for rate increases. The American railways furnished statistical and other information to the public over a month in advance of the hearings. They had nothing to hide. They wanted the public to know the facts. The Canadian railways knew that the information they would be asked for would be similar to that produced in the Western rates case a few years ago. Rather than present it in advance, they produced only part of it on demand, and the balance is not yet forthcoming.

The position of those who combatted the request for increased rates was not one of hostility to the railways. No one with any common sense wants to see them starved to the point of reduction of efficiency. They do want however, the railways to show cause, and to many minds this has not been done, though the Commission has ruled that the rates advance at a sharp angle.

Western Canada has special reason for complaint in the discrimination authorized by the Board's ruling. Westerners are to continue to be penalized not only for the support of the profitable enterprises in the West but to pay deficits on unprofitable lines serving only the East.

The effect of the Board's decision will be that there will be another tremendous advance in the cost of living and the cost of doing business. Canadians have every reason to regret this. Costs, already are far too high, and showed a downward tendency that will be abruptly checked by the increased rates.

One of the results of the increases will be to add to and consolidate dissatisfaction with the railroads. That portion of the people that cannot pass the burden along to any one else, will bitterly resent the added burden, while those who profit most, directly or indirectly, are coming to a realization that the more they get, the more exactions there are, and that they are little if any better off in the end. The railways will not win their friendship except in passive fashion, while they have created a lot of active enemies.

FLUCTUATION OF EXCHANGE

The reasons for the fluctuations of exchange rates are obscure, a puzzle to the man on the street, though they affect his pocket book, if he has dealings abroad. In the great majority of cases men have to accept the statement of the financial institution through which they deal as to what they should get in Canadian currency for so many pounds sterling, or so much United States money. Even the men who spend their lives in the places where finance is engineered find the situation difficult to explain.

Some of the anomalies of the situation are pointed out in the September report of the Royal Bank of Canada in an article from which we quote

"An unusual feature in the exchange market during the last few months has been the course of the Canada-United States quotations. For some time the premium on American funds in Canada has fluctuated more or less with sterling in New York. When sterling fell, the premium on United States funds in Montreal rose, and vice versa. This has not been taking place recently. On June 26th pounds sterling sold at almost $4 in New York. The premium on United States funds in Montreal on that date approximated fourteen per cent. On August 25th when sterling was as low as $3.58 in New York, United States funds in Montreal were quoted at twelve and three-quarters per cent. premium. Thus, during the heavy fall of English exchange, Canadian funds moved slightly upwards in their relation to American dollars. A good portion of our grain exports are settled for in New York and it is probable that the prospects of large crops in the Dominion have had a strengthening effect on Canadian funds. While, to date, the premium on United States dollars has not been greatly reduced, Canadian dollars have at least not experienced the recent decline which has been the lot of the English and most continental currencies."

FOOD OR LUXURIES

A choice must soon be made between food and luxuries. This choice may not be necessary today or tomorrow, but it is a fact, as the Wall Street Journal claims that only one-third of the people of the United States are engaged in the production of the essentials of life, then the time will surely come when the choice must be made. It may be that sooner than we might expect the scarcity of actual food supplies will be so great that many persons will be forced back to the land under the threat of starvation. The luxuries against which the Journal disclaims are well enough in ordinary times.

"But these are not ordinary times; neither are those articles properly used when carried to such an extent as to endanger the production of food. They do endanger it now and a choice must be made between the two. Shall it be luxuries or shall it be bread and meat?"

Secretary Houston, of the United States Government, stated an appalling fact when he declared some time ago that the American people spent over $22,000,000,000 last year on non-essentials and articles of luxury. These millions represent productive energy directed into channels that not only do not provide the essentials, but actually make their production more difficult. An instance of this is the high wages paid by automobile factories, wages that are beyond the power of the farmer to cope with, and farm production is hindered accordingly.

Though it is not a cheerful thought, nothing is gained by refusing to look the matter squarely in the face. Far better to do this before actual want comes than be forced to do so by starvation conditions. If we neglect our opportunity to save ourselves we deserve to suffer whatever fate has in store. Yet here we are with the war won and nothing else to do but save ourselves, and we continue along paths that we have ample warning if persisted in, will lead to destruction. Existing general high prices of food would be impossible were there a surplus in many lines as there has been shown to be in sugar.

TORONTO VETERANS STATE PENSIONS ARE GENEROUS

Toronto, Sept. 13. — The Toronto United Army and Navy Veterans passed a resolution taking issue with the veterans organizations which have been urging an early Dominion election, claiming the present time inopportune. The resolution also claims that present gratuities and pensions to soldiers are on a whole generous and that they may possibly be added to later by the Government.

DEATHS CAUSED BY POISON GAS VERDICT OF JURY

Inquest Held Saturday to Inquire Into Death of Frank S. May and William Hurkot

M'BAIN'S WORK

Commended and Jury Recommends Him to Royal Humane Society for Recognition

A verdict of accidental death by asphyxiation was brought in by the jury which sat on Saturday to inquire into the cause surrounding the deaths of Frank S. May and William Hurkot. Both men were the victims of carbonic gas poisoning apparently, in a well situated on the grounds of Hospital for the Insane. With the verdict brought in by the jury, was also a strong recommendation that Alex. McBain, the returned man whose plucky attempts at rescue work resulted in at least the saving of one man's life, should receive recognition for his work from the Royal Humane Society.

The inquest held on Saturday afternoon wa shurriedly called, as advice was received from the Attorney-General's Department that as the fatality occurred in connecion with a public institution, an inquiry should be held. Accordingly the inquest was held in the Court House on Saturday afternoon and many witnesses were heard during the inquiry. A theory that possibly the men in the well might have been electrocuted was disapproved during the hearing of the evidence, and it was the unanimous opinion that carbonic gases alone was responsible for the deaths of both Frank S. May and William Hurkot.

Oakett Gives the Alarm

Owen Oakett, the first witness, testified that Wyborn first went down the well followed by Hurkot. Both men collapsed when they reached the bottom platform which was some twelve feet above the water in the well. Oakett, coming down the ladder saw the men collapse, and feeling himself becoming faint, ascended the ladder and gave the alarm. R. H. Ney, a fireman, told of receiving the alarm, and of pulling out two switches, to shut off pulling out two switches, to have been on in the well. It was shown during the evidence that the well was lighted by two electric lights and that two electric motors were situated in the well, but the wires and switches connecting these two motors had been cut out when the well was closed down about six weeks ago.

John Rees said that he and Frank S. May, the chief engineer reached the well about the same time. Rees was the first to enter the well at an attempt at rescue, but May passed him on the first platform. Following May down the ladder, he saw May collapse, and then found himself becoming dizzy. He held his breath and hurriedly climbed the ladder. Rees stated that May's first thought when he heard of the men being in danger in the well, was that the sides of the well had cayed in, and that the men were in the water. Rees further said that there had been no previous trouble as far as he was aware, with gas in the well.

McBain's Gallant Attempts

The many attempts at rescue work by Alex McBain, was vividly and modestly told by the returned man himself. McBain said that when he first arrived at the well Ney had volunteered the theory that the men had been electrocuted. Therefore McBain rushed to the power house and tried to pull out the switches, but not having any rubber gloves to work with left them alone. He then phoned several places to get the power shut off. When he got back to the well, Mr. May was there and had gone down the well in an attempt to rescue Wyborn and Hurkot. McBain went down after May collapsed.

Descending the well, McBain thought he saw a flash and was convinced that it was caused by electricity, but on climbing out again was told that it was a flash lamp that May carried. A German gas mask was then procured, for a lantern lowered four times about twelve feet in the well, showed plainly the presence of gas in the well, as the light was snuffed out on each occasion. Ney then tried to go down, but was forced to come up without reaching the bottom platform. McBain tried it the second time, but on reaching the platform with the men, felt himself going faint, and was hurriedly hauled to the top.

A Successful Attempt

He lay on the grass for some time and when he came around again, volunteered to make another trip. This time he only went part way down when he was overcome again and brought to the surface. After some water had been poured down the well, McBain tried again, this time with a smoke helmet on. This time he was successful in getting a rope around Wyborn's arm, and the man was pulled to the top, after McBain had clambered up the ladder. A man named Burnham, made an attempt, but the rope slipped. McBain, after a rest, went in again, and a rope was put around May's body and he was hauled to the surface. McBain gave it as his opinion that it was a pure accident and that reasonable precautions had been taken by the men before entering the well.

Dr. Golden could not say how the gases could accumulate in the well. He told of the efforts made to bring back life to both May and Hurkot, and was confident that death was due to gas poisoning. Robert A. Stewart, an expert who arrived in the city from Winnipeg to investigate the fatality, volunteered the information that the men could not have been electrocuted. Carbonic gases were common in wells and the sensations of the men who were almost overcome in the rescue work, bore out the theory that it was gas poison that resulted in the death of the two men. He told the jury that Wyborn "must be a wonder" to have withstood the gases for over an hour and a half, as ten minutes was sufficient to cause the death of an individual in carbonic gases. Mr. Stewart knew the late Mr. May personally, and gave him a splendid record. He was an engineer of exceptional ability, very cautious and known to consider the safety of his subordinates ahead of everything else.

Dr. C. A. Barager told of the orders given Mr. May to have the well put in shape, as the water supply at the Hospital for the Insane, made it necessary that the well should be put in operation. These instructions were given on Thursday morning but the attempt to place the well in operation was not made until Friday afternoon. J. W. Johnston, an engineer, gave clear evidence that it was impossible for the men to be electrocuted, because there was no current on at the time. He also testified that he had been down the well on many occasions and that there had never been any signs of gas there before.

The Jury's Verdict

Following the evidence, the jury brought in the following verdict. "We, the jury empanelled to inquire into the circumstances surrounding the death of Frank S. May and William Hurkot, find that the deceaseds met death on or about September 10th, 1920, through accident, being asphyxiated by gas in a well situated in the grounds of the Hospital for Mental Diseases, Brandon Manitoba.

We highly commend the courageous action of Alex. McBain in rescuing the bodies from the well, which action resulted in one life being saved. We recommend that this action should be brought to the attention of the Royal Humane Society."

The following sat on the jury, A. E. Holliway (foreman), J. F. McDonald, Robert Lunt, W. B. Webber, J. Cordingly, James Higgens, J. T. Norquay, F. Wright, J. G. Murdoch, John Popkin, William Campbell and W. A. Robertson.

MINERS' LEADER DENIES THAT HE SENT TELEGRAM

Miners Stand Pat

Sydney, N.S., Sept. 13.—Robert Baxter, President of the United Mine Workers, said today he had no intimation of the action taken by the O.B.U, at Calgary toward a sympathetic strike with the Old Country miners. He declared that the Nova Scotia miners are not in the least affected by the O.B.U., and only action taken by the International headquarters would bring the men out.

GRANARIES FILLED WITH WHEAT, BURN

Spark From Threshing Engine May Have Been Cause of Fire

Two portable granaries containing 900 bushels of wheat were burned to the ground last Thursday evening on the farm of W. W. Rathwell, fourteen miles South of Brandon. Mr. Rathwell had been threshing near the granaries and about six o'clock the large straw pile caught on fire and in a short time the blaze had spread to the granaries with the above result. It is thought that the fire was caused by a spark from the threshing engine or perhaps from a cigarette carelessly thrown by one of the harvesters. Mr. Rathwell has about seventy more acres of wheat to thresh.

TENANTS SLOW TO MAKE COMPLAINTS ABOUT HIGH RENTS

Only Two Official Complaints Made to Joint Council in First Few Days

LANDLORDS THREATEN

To Evict Tenants if Complaints Are Made, Says the Report

Winnipeg, Sept. 13.—Despite innumerable complaints in the past two weeks of rent profiteering in Winnipeg, the last 48 hours, in which the Joint Council of Industry has invited tenants to lodge particulars of profiteering, have resulted in but two official complaints being turned in.

W. A. Shepard, secretary of the Winnipeg unit Army and Navy Veterans' association, although unaware of the meagre response to the request of the council for data, said Saturday several tenants have informed him of receiving letters from their landlords threatening eviction if complaints of profiteering were made. Still others declare, said Mr. Shepard, they have been notified to vacate because their complaints have been made public.

Eight Complained Before

Before the Joint Council announced its inquiry, eight complaints were received. Official forms were sent to each of the complainants to be filled in and returned. Only one of these has been sent back, and the other one is from a tenant hitherto unknown to the council.

One of the complaints states that the rent in a six-room flat in a downtown apartment block has been increased from $70 to $90 per month, and the other that a boost from $35 to $65 has been ordered by the owner of another down-town apartment block, for a five-room flat.

Thursday Closing Day

Complaints will be received by the Joint Council until Thursday at their new offices, 244 Parliament buildings, Broadway. Sessions will be held then at which each complaint will be thoroughly investigated, and full particulars of the identity of the tenant, landlord, the name of the block and the evidence adduced will be given to the public.

LONDON MAY HAVE ANOTHER STRIKE NEXT THURSDAY

Walkout of Electrical Engineers Would Completely Tie-up Passenger Service

London, Sept. 13—London is threatened with a general strike next Thursday of all the electrical engineers, which would mean the complete tying up of all the street car and underground railway systems and industries depending on electrical plants.

About 5,000 men are involved.

The Electrical union Saturday decided to hand in a seven-day strike notice in sympathy with the employes of an electrical machinery works who are out owing to a strike in a Sheffield factory. This strike is in protest against the continuation in the firm's employment of a man who upon his promotion to foreman resigned from the union.

LLOYD GEORGE REFUSES TO MEET COMMISSIONERS

Herald Labor Organ Said to Have Received Bolsheviki Gold From Russ Soviets

London, Sept. 13. — The London Times this morning says the Russian Soviet Governments' placing of 75,000 pounds of "Bolshevik gold" in the hands of the Herald Labor Organ, temporarily wrecked the work of the Bolshevik Commercial Mission in London at a moment when M. Krassin and M. Kameneff, commissioners, had high hopes of success. The Commissioners had an appointment, the Times says, with Lloyd George, but on arriving at Downing Street they were politely informed that the Heralds' announcement that it had Soviet gold, entirely altered the situation and that until it was explained it was impossible to deal with any other subjects in view of the undertaking given that while the Mission was in this country no propaganda would be attempted. The Commissioners assured the Premier they were ignorant of the offer to the Herald and Kameneff said, he was returning to Moscow where he would consult with his colleagues concerning the offer. In the meantime the Commissions' activities are suspended.

REV. W. H. CASSAP HAS ACCEPTED APPOINTMENT: LEAVES FOR ENGLAND

Many people in Brandon will be interested to learn that the Rev. W. H. Cassap, at one time Curate of St. Matthew's Church in this city, and who has been locum tenens at St. Joude's Anglican Parish during the Summer, will leave the end of this month for England to reside. Mr. Cassap has accepted the appointment of assistant Curate in St. John the Baptist Church, Bournemouth, in the diocese of Westminster.

During the Great War Rev. Mr. Cassap was attached to General Plumer's Fifth Army in France, and it is just a little over a year ago since he visited Brandon on his return from overseas and preached in St. Matthew's Church.

In closing he thanked Canada for her kind hospitality from coast to coast.

Oshawa, Ont., Sept., 13.—With its engine dead and the members of the crew clinging to the edges of its wings in an effort to keep it in the air until a suitable landing place could be found, the Bishop-Barker hydro airplane bound from Orilla to Toronto crashed Friday among the tree tops of Bickles Wood, about 4 miles from here. Its four occupants were all injured.

QUAKES IN ITALY CAUSE LOSS OF HUNDREDS LIVES

Territory Violently Disturbed From Florence in South to Modern in North

ALONG ETRURIAN COAST

Little News Over Faltering Telephone and Telegraph Wires

Rome, Sept. 8. — Several hundred persons lost their lives in earthquakes at Fivizzamo and many were injured, according to a dispatch from Massa.

Scores Believed Lost

Rome, Sept. 8.—Scores of lives are believed lost in the district North of Florence as a result of earthquakes yesterday morning. As reports from the stricken region come in over faltering telephone and telegraph wires, the extent of the disaster seems to be growing. The territory violently disturbed takes in Florence at the Southern apex and Modern on the Northern end It extends along the Etrurian Coast and runs over the Appenines Eastward for 100 miles.

Reports from cities in the shock zone show that buildings crumbled beneath the strain. At Fivizzano, a town of 17.000, almost every building was damaged and many completely destroyed. At Villa Franca an entire family was buried in the ruins of the home and the village of Vigette was entirely destroyed.

King Visits Devastated Area

Pisa, Italy, Sept. 8.—King Victor Emmanuel left this morning to visit the districts in Tuscany effected by earthquakes.

SOUTH AFRICAN STUDYING OUR EDUCATIONAL PLAN

Miss Jenner, Principal of School at Oudeshoorn, South Africa, in Brandon

Miss Jenner, Principal of the school at Oudeshoorn, South Africa, spent the past few days in Brandon the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Campbell, 205 Victoria Avenue. Miss Jenner, who is on an extended vacation and recently concluded tours of India and Japan, is making the trip through Canada to study the work of consolidated schools with a view to adopting some of the methods in South Africa. Miss Jenner stopped off in Vancouver and this city on her way East and will also spend a short time in Montreal before sailing for England, en route to South Africa.

In comparing the methods used in Canadian schools with those used in South Africa, Miss Jenner said there were many excellent methods used in Canada but there was at least one great difference that she noticed. In South Africa students of the commercial classes are taken to shops, factories, etc., where they secure first hand information regarding the subject they are studying. Miss Jenner found that this was not done in the schools she visited in Canada. In South Africa the teachers live right in the school and pupils whose homes are at a distance from the school also board there by the week, going home for each week-end. This method is followed in many of the schools, although they are not boarding schools.

BRITISH COLUMBIA IGNORES CANADIAN GAME REGULATIONS

Vancouver, Sept. 8.—British Columbia game authorities will ignore a set of game regulation promulgated from Ottawa in a bulletin of June 20. Hon. J. W. Deb Farris, Attorney-General Tuesday telegraphed the Minister of Interior at Ottawa that the migratory birds regulations passed by the Dominion would conflict with British Columbia and are less stringent. Official notices sent to game wardens and provincial police by the Dominion have been ordered cancelled and destroyed by the provincial authorities. Federal regulations allow 250 ducks per season to each hunter. Provincial regulations cut these to 150. British Columbia regulations prohibit the use of pump-guns, which is allowed by the Dominion.

LARGEST CLASS IN HISTORY OF WHEAT CITY BUSINESS COLLEGE

RAILWAYS GRANTED BIG INCREASE IN FREIGHT RATES

Thirty-five Per Cent. in East and Forty Per Cent. in West—New Rates Effective on Monday—Passenger and Sleeping Car Rates Also Boosted

Ottawa, Sept. 8.—By virtue of a judgment, which will be issued from the offices of the Board of Railway Commissioners, railway companies in Canada are granted an increase of 40 per cent. in Eastern Canada freight rates and 35 per cent. in Western freight rates, effective on Monday next, Sept. 13, and to continue in force until Dec. 31. After Dec. 31, the increase in the freight rate in Eastern Canada is reduced from 40 per cent to 35 per cent., and in Western Canada from 35 to 30 per cent. This increase is applicable to all freight commodities with the exception of those which are expressly stipulated in the judgment, and for which special provision is made.

Passenger Rates 20 per cent.

Simultaneously with the increase in freight rates, passenger rates all over the country are advanced 20 per cent. so long as they do not exceed four cents a mile. This increase is effective only to Dec. 31. After that date and for the six months' period from Jan. 1, 1921. to July 1, 1921, a 10 per cent. increase is authorized. Following July 1, passenger rates return to those in force at the presnt time.

The judgment will authorize increases of 50 per cent. in sleeping and parlor car rates, and an increase of 20 per cent. in the rate on excess baggage.

A summary of the judgment which has been handed down by the Railway Commission in the application of all Canadian railways for increased rates was given out by the Chief Commissioner Hon. F. B. Carvell. The Chief Commissioner stated that, during the exhaustive hearing which opened on August 10 and continued for nearly two weeks, a tremendous mass of documents had been submitted. The work of going through this evidence had been a very large one and it was only by the greatest effort on the part of the commissioners that a judgment was arrived at so soon.

Some Rates Remain Same

The judgment will refuse to authorize any increase in the rates on sand, gravel and crushed stone, and incidental services, such as switching milling in transit, diversions, reconsignment, stop-overs, demurrage, weighing, etc., but provision is made for special applications in any or all of these services.

No increase is authorized in the rates on milk or commutation fares, nor in the minimum class rate scale, or the minimum charge for shipment.

Special Rates for Coal

Authorization is given for an increase in the freight rate on coal from ten to twenty cents per ton flat rate according to distance. When the freight rate is under 80 cents per ton, an increase of 10 cents is allowed. When it is over 80 cents, and under $1.50, the increase authorized is 15 cents, and when the rate is over $1.50 the increase will be 20 cents per ton. The rate on cordwood, slabs, mill refuse, etc., for fuel purposes is increased 10 per cent.

Coyne's Summary

Winnipeg, Sept. 8. — J. B. Coyne, who represented the Winnipeg Board of Trade at the hearing, was shown the above dispatch by the Free Press, made the following statement:

"The Ottawa dispatch granting railway rate increases appears to indicate that the application has been decided entirely upon the basis of the deficit and necessities of the Government railways. That is a question which is not properly within the jurisdiction of the Railway Board but is one of broad national policy, as stated by the Minister of Railways in the House of Commons in March last, and parliament is the only proper tribunal for its determination.

"The Railway Board's power and duty is to deal with purely railway problems and to apply broad and generally recognized principles to facts of railway operation brought before it and not to deal with political questions. As a railway question for determination of the board, the C.P.R. was the only basis for consideration.

"The effect of the board's order is to impose an additional transportation tax on every Westerner several times as great as on the individual Easterner, although the prairie divisions of the C.P.R. show large net earnings. The railway rates in the West are higher than in the East and the expenses are less.

Make Big Profits in West

"The net earnings of the C.P.R. per train mile are 60 per cent. more in the West than in the East, and the prairies, after bearing the burden of the heavy cost of operating the mountain grades of British Columbia, has yielded for years twice as large a total of net earnings yearly as the East. If the difference between the increase in West and the East was 15 per cent. (the amount of difference allowed between West and East in the United States), instead of five per cent. allowed by the Canadian Railway Commission, there would still be a disparity in favor of the East. No defense of the present inequality of rates was even attempted by the railways, and it is amazing that the Railway Commission should perpetuate this obvious injustice.

"The burden of proving to a demonstration the need of increased rates lay upon the C.P.R., according to decisions of the Board of recent date. The year 1919 was the poorest year for the C.P.R. since 1910. The figures for 1920 showed that the increasing railway traffic was rapidly approaching the level of 1912 and 1913.

"In addition there is the enormous crop of thi syear, the moving of which will give millions of revenue, and besides there is the revenue from the large amount of imports into the West which the increased purchasing power to flow from the crop will give. Further, the C.P.R., during the hearing of the general increase application, along with other roads, sprang a motion for increased rates on international through traffic, which was granted the following day. These international rates, their expert states, might amount to a net increase of $18,000,000 a year for the C.P.R., although his best guess was $12,000,000 a year. None of these additional items were taken into account by the C.P.R. in their statement of anticipated receipts. Nor was any allowance made in their anticipated expenses for the slump in prices of materials indicated by the Government returns for July. They were based on continued phenomenal high prices. The C.P.R. speculation on future earnings and expenses was absurdly out of keeping with the facts.

"The C.P.R. up to June 30, showed no deficit. Their need for increased rates was purely speculative. They have accumulated surplus of $116,000,000 in the last ten years. Such huge surpluses were only justifiable on the ground that they were providing in the fat years to take care of deficits in the lean years. They have never drawn on their surpluses for one dollar. It is a poor rule that does not work both ways.

"The C.P.R. did not make out a case for an increase of rates. In 1910 the C.P.R. had a surplus of a few thousand dollars and could then have made a much better increase for increased rates. In 1911, with no increase in rates they had a surplus of $15,000,000. So far as reasonable speculation can go, they should have a surplus in 1921, even with increased wages, without any increase of rates.

"But the outstanding feature of the whole case was the way in which the railways, and the chairman of the board supported them, rushed the whole matter through. Although the railways in the United States furnished ful statistical and other information to the public over a month in advance of the hearings, and the Canadian railways knew what that information so required was, and which the Canadian railways had been ordered to supply in the Western rates case a few years ago, no such information was offered and was only furnished on demand made during the hearing of the present application. An important part was only furnished 24 hours before the hearing was resumed and part of it was not furnished at all. No such an important application was ever made to the Railway Board before and probably never will be again. No application to Parliament involving so much money has ever been made. And yet that is the way in which this application was dealt with. If the C.P.R. had had a real case for increased rates, one would have imagined they would have courted investigation and have given in advance all information necessary to convince the public and their representatives of the propriety of their application. What stronger evidence of the fact that they could not make a legitimate case.

"The Western attitude was not one of hostility to the railways. We appreciate the excellence of the C.P.R. service and the efficiency of its management. We do not want to see it starved but desire the service and efficiency to be maintained. Nor was it hostile to the Government railways. We are part owners. But before increases were granted we wanted to see that increases were reasonably required as a railway proposition. That has not been shown. Everything indicates the contrary. In any event, Eastern rates should have gone up 15 per cent. before any increase took place in the West. That was not really a matter of controversy. It would have provided the C.P.R. with more than $10,000,000 net, without any increase in the West."

REGINA ROTARY CLUB TO HELP BOYS IN CITY

Will Try to Have Compulsory School Age Raised and Keep Boys in School

Regina, Sask., Sept. 8.—Dr. W. A. Thompson, of the Rotary Club Boys' Work Committee, announced at the club luncheon Tuesday that some time about the latter part of this month a survey of the boy life in Regina will be launched under the auspices of the Rotary Club. One of the objects is to look after the boys who are dropping out of school too soon. The public School Board and the Collegiate Board are co-operating in the preparations for this survey and a more complete report on it will be brought in at next week's meeting

The compulsory school age in Saskatchewan, he pointed out, ends at 14 years. This is not old enough, Dr. Thompson declared. In Alberta it is 15 years and in Ontario it is 16 years. An effort must be made to have the age in Saskatchewan raised. Many boys immediately on reaching the age of 14 years drop out of school. Many boys are lost from the public schools and the collegiate too soon.

The Boys' Work Committee of the Rotary Club proposes sending out a circular letter to all boys in the city who have dropped out of school this year on reaching the age limit and an effort will be made to have a Rotarian call on each one of them with a view to inducing them to return to school for another year. Those who cannot be induced to return to school will be watched in their chosen lines of work by the Rotary club boys' committee and every effort will be made to help them.

NEW YORK BIRTH RATE HIGHEST IN MANY YEARS: DEATH RATE DECLINING

New York, Sept. 8.—Despite the high cost of living, shortage of housing and the scarcity of domestic servants, the actual birth rate in New York City is going up at a rapid rate, according to health authorities' statistics issued here.

The figures show that the birth rate per thousand, for the first seven months of 1920 was 22.34 against a rate of 21.90 in the same period last year.

While the birth rate is on the increase, the Health Department's statistics show that the death rate of children in the city is on the decline. The rate of infant mortality for the past year on each 1,000 births was 83, while the preceeding year a much higher figure is on the records.

The decline in death rate is attributed by the authorities to the laws of sanitation and healthful living, which are now better understood by the mass of the people.

Hugh Blain, President of the Canadian Wholesale Grocers Association, said "its very much of a surprise to me that the railways have been granted their full request. The public cannot have confidence in a Commission which gives such a judgment. I was prepared to accept a compromise, but never expected to see the railways get all they asked. The result is bound to be a very great hardship on the consumer and the result must raise prices in a very large degree, because the consumer must pay. The increase came when the consumer was beginning to feel relief, now we are to have a fresh inflation of prices.

TWO MEN OVERCOME BY GAS IN WELL AT INSANE HOSPITAL

Frank S. May, Chief Engineer Lost His Life in Attempted Rescue

WYBORN SAVED

Hauled From Well Through Gallant Efforts of Alex. McBain

Overcome by gas fumes in a well at the Hospital for the Insane, two men are dead and a third man in the Brandon General Hospital. Frank S. May, chief engineer and William Hurkot, a laborer, were the victims, while William Wyborn is the man who is at present in the General Hospital recovering. The fatality occured shortly after one o'clock on Friday afternoon, but it was not until some time later in the afternoon that the bodies were recovered. Plucky attempts at rescue were made by at least four men who descended the well, and that William Wyborn is living today is directly attributed to the untiring rescue work and first aid work.

Shortly after one o'clock on Friday afternoon, Wyborn and Hurkot went to a well situated to the North East of the Hospital for the Insane. The well is a cement one and some fifty feet deep. For the past six weeks it has been in operation, and Wyborn and Hurkot were to fix up a water supply for some workmen who are erecting some new buildings. Both men descended the ladder some thirty five feet to a small platform, and in an instant were overcome by gas fumes. Chief Engineer May and John Rees immediately went to the rescue of the two men. May descended the well first but as he reached the platform turned quickly to Rees and said "beat it" and also collapsed.

Aid was soon forthcoming and many attempts were made to rescue the three men in the well. J. R. Nay first went down, but was unable to effect a rescue. Alex. Bain, a returned man, and one of the first of the Brandon men to return from active service overseas, then took up the rescue work. On his first attempt he partly collapsed himself owing to the deadly gas fumes. He then procured a fireman's smoke helmet, and with this on, tried a third and fourth time. On his fourth trip down he succeeded in getting a rope around Wyborn and he was quickly hauled to the surface. Dr. Baragar, Sergeant Taylor and Constable Coleman worked over the man for fifteen minutes and finally succeeded in resuscitation. McBain persisted in his plucky attempts at rescue and again went down the well for the fourth time. This time he got a rope around May, but efforts to restore life to the Chief Engineer after he was brought out of the well were unsuccessful.

A man named Burnam then descended the well, but did not succeed in getting a rope around Hurkot, who was still on the platform. Douglas Carter made the seventh attempt and was successful in his attempt to get a rope around Hurkot's body, and the man soon raised to the top. Although a long and continued effort was made on both May and Hurkot's body, neither man was brought around, although every known means of artificial respiration was used.

Frank S. May, the Chief Engineer at the Hospital for the Insane, was a particularly able man. He has been stationed in Brandon for about two years, coming here from Winnipeg, where he was on the staff at St. Boniface Hospital. He was 45 years of age, and leaves a wife and four children, who are at present residing in the city. William Hurkot, the second victim of the fatality, resided at 822 McDonald Avenue, and was 35 years of age. He leaves a wife and one child. William Wyborn, the only surviving member of the trio who descended the well, is the second engineer at the Hospital for the Insane.

WHEAT HEADS OUT IN THIRTY-SEVEN DAYS IN NORTH

Experimental Farm at Fort Simpson Meets With Great Success, Says A. L. Sawle

The crop that Mr. Sawle tells about is on the Dominion Government's Experimental Farm, where tests of Northern soil productiveness have been going on for several years. Fort Simpson is situated on the Mackenzie River near the mouth of the Liard River, in a little short of latitude 62.

LEAGUE NATIONS TO CONSIDER CASE POLAND SEPT 16

Officials of League Are Believed Not to Be in Sympathy With Poland

London, Sept. 10—Poland's application for arbitration of its territorial dispute with Lithuania will be taken up by the League of Nations at the meeting of the council in Paris Sept. 16.

Officials of the league were believed not to be in sympathy with Poland, pointing out that that nation had not conformed with its league obligations and had taken the initiative in the Russo-Polish hostilities. The political department of the league has started an investigation.

Peru and Bolivia have asked the league to settle the Tacna-Arica dispute.

Say Lithuania Soviet Tool

Paris, Sept. 9.—The Polish note to the League of Nations asking it to mediate in the Polish-Lithuanian controversy says that while the Polish armies were retreating before the Russian Soviet forces the Lithuanian Government concluded an agreement with the Soviet Government at Moscow authorizing the Soviet army to make use of Lithuanian territory for its passage and the establishment of a military base. This, the note points out, was a breach of neutrality. The note continues: "Later, when the Polish armies were forced to withdraw from ethnographical Polish territory, as awarded Poland by the Supreme Council on Dec. 8, 1919, Lithuanian troops occupied the evacuated territory and committed excesses toward the populations remaining faithful to Poland. When the Bolshevik invasion was repulsed the Polish army reoccupied Suwalki and the Lithuanian Government sent a note to the Polish Government declaring it did not recognize the frontier as fixed by the Supreme Council and asking the Poles to retire behind the line of Grajevo-Augustowo.

Tried to Avoid Bloodshed

"The Polish troops have tried throughout to avoid shedding blood, but on Sept. 2 a detachment of Polish cavalry occupying Seiny was attacked by Lithuanians and forced to evacuate the town, losing four dead. The Lithuanian army then occupied Suwalki and advanced upon Augustowo without declaring war. It was ascertained the Soviet troops co-operated with the Lithuanians.

"The Polish Government submits the above facts to the League of Nations and requests the League to use all the means at its disposal in order to prevent the Lithuanian Government from continuing to co-operate with the Soviets and cause Lithuania to abandon its strange enterprise, thus preventing the Polish nation from being under the painful necessity of waging war against a sister nation."

MARRIAGE WHICH TOOK PLACE 1914 ANNULLED: QUEBEC

Was a "Mixed" Marriage Performed by Protestant Minister

Montreal, Sept. 11.—The marriage of Bernard John Dahlmann and Gertrude Idella Barbeau, which took place at Quebec, Sept. 21, 1914, was annulled Thursday by a judgment of the superior court rendered by Mr. Justice Bruhean on the wife's petition. The ground for dissolution was that, being a "mixed" marriage, performed by a Protestant minister, it could not be held legal and binding under the Quebec civil laws.

According to petitioner, the couple went to the Bishop's Palace at Quebec on Sept. 21, 1914, and asked to be married. The request was refused both by a priest and the bishop because she was a Protestant and Dahlmann a Catholic. Her fiance then suggested that they should be married by a Protestant minister, and they went to St. Matthew's Anglican church, Quebec, and were married by Rev. Canon Scott by license. Her husband then, she stated, repudiated the marriage as having no binding effect on him "spiritually, religiously or civilly."

There was no contestation of the petition.

A SPEEDING UP IN EFFICIENCY

In Loading of Freight and Handling Cars Reduces Possibilities of Shortage

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Possibility of a shortage in coal, grain and essential commodities this Winter has been eliminated by a speeding up in railroad efficiency in handling and loading of freight cars, railroad officials here said.

As a result of a campaign to increase mileage and loading of freight cars, officials said more freight was being handled through Chicago today than ever before.

According to John Hayden, a member of the commission car service of the American Railroad Association, representing all roads connecting with Chicago, from 42,000 to 44,000 freight cars pass through Chicago daily. This, Hayden said, was an increase of 25 per cent. over a year ago and a record in railroading.

It means that there will be a great number of cars available to handle shipments of coal and food this Winter, and prevent any famine, he said.

The campaign aimed at increasing loading of freight cars and speeding up mileage will make available more than 80,000 more freight cars.

SERIOUS SPLIT DOMINION LABOR PARTY AVERTED

Winnipeg, Sept. 11.—When the Dominion Labor party met to consider the report or the committee to prove the charges against W. H. Hoop, former international organizer, a serious split in the party was narrowly avoided.

Hoop was found guilty of slandering F. J. Dixon and Rev. William Ivens in a speech delivered at a recent industrial debate, but the sentence of the party was not passed, the matter being held over until January 2, 1921. The One Big Union section of the party made every effort to have Hoop expelled and the International members exerted all their influence to retain him in the party.

X-RAY FINGER TIP IDENTIFICATION SUREST METHOD, STATES DOCTOR

Paris, Sept. 10.X-Ray finger tip identification is a much surer method than the finger print system, Dr. Henry Beclere told the Acadamie of Sciences. "An X-Ray photograph taken of the entire finger tip," he said, "shows the precise depth and shape of the nail, which differs in all persons. A slight surgical operation can utterly change the finger prints, but there is no method of camouflaging the interior of the finger except cutting it off."

NO SOLUTION COAL CRISIS NEAR FUTURE

Lloyd George Said to Be Satisfied With Offer Made by Horne

PREPARE FOR STRIKE

Government Departments Preparing to Deal With Strike Situation

London, Sept. 11.—Little hope is held out in official circles that a solution of the coal crisis would be found in the near future. Sir Robert Horne, President of the Board of Trade, had a conference with Premier Lloyd George today and it is understood that Lloyd George expressed his entire approval of the manner in which Sir Robert has acted.

It is stated that the Government does not intend to deviate from the terms offered by Sir Robert and that these still remain open to the miners. Meanwhile from Portsmouth, where the Trades Union Congress is in progress, comes word that the miners are resolute in their intention not to alter their claims.

Active preparations are being made by the heads of Government departments to deal with the strike situation should it arise.

"THIS IS THE WAY HEADS WILL FLY WHEN I RETURN"

Former Kaiser is Reported to Have Said As He Chopped Trees

Berlin, Sept. 11.—An extraordinary declaration by former Emperor William, was made on the grounds of his residence at Doorn, it is reported by Vorwaerts in a story purporting to emanate from a Prussian junker, who recently visited him. It is stated that the former Emperor was chopping a tree when he suddenly exclaimed, as he struck furious blows with his axe. "This is the way the heads will fly right and left, when I return to Germany."

"Commenting on the remark, Vorwaerts says: "It shows Wilhelm in all his old greatness as a politician."

BIG DIVIDENDS BY SUGAR COMPANIES

Santa Isabel Sugar Company Declares 100 Per Cent Cash Dividend

San Juan, P. R., Sept. 11.—Dividends declared by the South Porto Rico Sugar company and the Fajardo Sugar Company, which it was announced recently in New York, would reach 100 per cent., are not the only large sugar dividends that are being declared this year.

The Santa Isabel Sugar Company has declared a cash dividend of 100 per cent., which is probably the highest dividend that will be paid by any sugar company in Porto Rico this year. Other sugar properties may yield a return equal to or in excess of the Santa Isabel dividend but so far they have not been reported as having been declared in the form of dividends.

The Santa Isabel dividend is all in cash, while the dividend of South Porto Rico Sugar Company has been declared in the form of a stock dividend, now common stock being issued for each share of common stock now outstanding. The 100 per cent. dividend of the Fajardo Sugar Company amounts to 30 per cent. in cash and 70 per cent. in stock. Most of the sugar companies in the island, it is believed, will declare dividends that will probably reach 50 per cent..

ADVANCE POLL ONLY FOR TRAVELLERS, SAILORS OR RAILWAY EMPLOYES

In connection with the coming plebiscite the latest Provincial lists of electors is to be the basis of the new list. Therefore voters whose names are already on those lists, do not require to register. But examination of the certified lists which will be hung out by the registrar at or near the place of registration, will prevent disappointments on voting day.

There will be an advance poll held on the twenty-first, twenty-second and twenty-third of October, at which railway employes, sailors or commercial travellers only, will be entitled to vote and then only after having secured from the registrar, at his place of registration, a certificate to do so. The dates for registration are the 13th to the 18th of September inclusive.

Duty is usually too plain to be attractive.

Calgary, Alta., Sept. 11.—The female of the species appears to be living up to poetic specifications in this city according to the report of A. D. McDonald, Superintendent of the Children's Aid Society. Desertion of families is more prevalent among wives than husbands in Calgary these days and for the past month or so the number of girls before the juvenile court trebled the total of the boy offenders.

FRENCH POLICE PROBE DEATH OF OLIVE THOMAS

Paris, Sept. 11.—The French police have begun a thorough investigation into the death of Olive Thomas, a United States moving picture actress, who succumbed this morning to poison, taken it is said by mistake, several days ago. Authorities have issued a permit for embalming the body of Miss Thomas but as yet have not sanctioned its shipment to the United States on board the steamship Mauretania, sailing from Cherbourg, September 18. An investigation is also being made by the police of sinister rumors of cocaine orgies, intermingled with champagne dinners which lasted into the early hours of the morning, that have been afloat in the United States colony and among the habitues of the French cinema world during the past week. Last night, in the Sante prison, the police were closely questioning a man named Spalding said to be a former United States army captain, who was sentenced to six months in jail last Monday for vending cocaine.

FAREWELL TO W. S. MAGUIRE

Popular Y.M.C.A. General Secretary Given a Send Off by Associates

A royal send off was given Mr. W. S. Maguire, Friday evening, on the eve of his departure for Victoria, B.C. The members of the Board of Directors of the Brandon Y.M.C.A., some of the members of the business men's class and the members of the staff, tendered Mr. Maguire a supper in the Board room at the Y. About thirty men sat down to a delicious supper and afterwards spent a few social hours together.

President Wood, Mr. J. F. Kilgour, J. F. Dobbie and W. S. Harris, members of the Board of Directors, voiced the sincere regret of the Association at the departure of Mr. Maguire and appreciation of what he had achieved on behalf of the Association. It was said that Mr. Maguire came to Brandon when the Y. work was at zero and in less than three years the Y.M.C.A. not only fulfills the functions for which it was designed, but is held in high esteem by the public. The gain Victoria makes in securing Mr. Maguire is commensurate with the loss Brandon sustains. Confidence was also expressed for the future of the work in Brandon under the able assistants Mr. Maguire was largely instrumental in securing. Stories were told of the battles fought and won and the sincere wish expressed that Mr. and Mrs. Maguire and family may live long to enjoy the Coast climate. An impromptu musical program was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Maguire and family leave Sunday afternoon.

years ago an ulcer appeared on my ankle," writes Mrs. Jeffrey, of Methuen, Mass. "In spite of all the remedies I used, it spread to my knee, and developed into an open sore. I had medical treatment for twenty-five years, but only got temporary relief. The pain I suffered was terrible, and for years I was unable to leave the house.

"One day I saw in a newspaper an account of a bad ulcer having been cured by Zam-Buk. Although I was skeptical, now, of anything curing me—having tried so many remedies in vain—I decided to give Zam-Buk a trial. I applied the balm freely every day and to my delight the sore soon showed some improvement. Gradually the inflammation was drawn out, the pain was ended, and, after thirty years of suffering, I realized I was on the road to recovery. With perseverance, the awful sore was finally completely healed, and, although that was three years ago, there has not been the slightest trace of the ulcer returning."

Zam-Buk is the best remedy, also, for eczema, boils, pimples, blood-poisoning, piles, burns, scalds and cuts. All dealers, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, 50c. box, 3 for $1.25.

REV. CANON SCOTT TO VISIT BRANDON

Director of Chaplain Service With First Division—Great Record in France

There are few soldiers who saw service in France who do not know of Rev. Canon Frederick Scott, C.M.G., D.S.O., M.V.O., Senior Chaplain and Director of Chaplain service of the First Canadian Division. Many Canadian soldiers heard his addresses and those in Brandon and district who remember him will be delighted to learn that he is expected to visit Brandon next month.

In 1914 when war was declared, Canon Scott was Canon of Quebec Cathedral and Rector of St. Matthew's Church, Quebec. These duties however did not deter him from going to France where he felt a great work awaited him and it was not long after war was declared before he was on his way overseas. Some called him the "Fighting Chaplain," and he seems to have merited the name, as he was in every engagement the Corps was in from Ypres to Germany in 1918 and was wounded at Amiens during August, 1918.

In addition to being one of the outstanding figures of the Great War, Canon Scott is one of Canada's leading poets and foremost writers. His book "The Key of Life" has a place on many bookshelves and a later work written at the front, "The Crown of Empire and other Poems," is being widely read by Canadians.

Canon Scott is on a tour of Canada and has a special message for Western people on Canada's New Outlook.

FREIGHT RATES GO INTO EFFECT IMMEDIATELY

Government Declines to Grant a Stay in Order of Railway Commissioners

TO FACILITATE APPEAL

Provision to Be Made for Rebates if Appeal Should Be Successful

Ottawa, Sept 13.—The Dominion Government, in an official statement handed out Sunday night, declines to grant a stay in the order of the Board of Railway Commissioners granting the Canadian railways the right of increasing their freight, passenger and sleeping car rates. The order goes into effect today.

The statement points out that the decisions of the Railway Board cannot be lightly interfered with and that since the Board has been in aperation no judgment of the Board has been set aside by the Governor-in-Council.

The Government, however, recognizes the right of appeal and will facilitate in every way the early hearing of the appeal. The statement also sets forth: "If it should appear to be a case where the appeal should be granted and the decision modified or reversed, there could if deemed proper, be provision for rebates of rates charged beyond those ultimately fixed."

WIND AND HAIL STORM SWEEPS NIAGARA BELT

Total Loss for Many Fruit Growers—Wind Does Great Damage

St. Catherines, Ont., Sept. 13.—The worst wind and hail storm that has ever visited the Niagara Falls belt, swept over this portion of it on Saturday afternoon and caused a total loss to some rowers. The destruction took place in a narrow area of about half a mile in width and about five miles in length, West of Port Weller, along the South shore of Lake Ontario. As telephone connection between the fruit growers in that section is demoralized the complete damage will not be known for at least two days.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Sept. 13.—The severest storm of the season hit Niagara Falls, Ontario, on Saturday and did considerable damage.

There were no serious injuries as a result of the storm, but there were several narrow escapes. Miss Annabelle McMasters, Saskatoon, Sask., was cut by flying glass when the wind broke a window in an up-town building.

Queen Victoria Park Sunday presented a scene of devastation. Hundreds of fine trees were uprooted and broken off. Power and light standards made of iron were bent like putty and were lying flat on the ground. Heavy limbs were scattered over the ground of the park. In Niagara Falls hundreds of trees were felled by the storm and all of the streets were littered by tree trunks and heavy limbs. Century-old trees at Lundy's Lane were torn out of the ground.

The factory of the Niagara Falls Canning Company, a branch of the Dominion Canners, was uprooted and large sections of the roof were carried hundreds of feet away. The roof was struck by lightening and the storm wrecked the upper storey. The loss on the building was about $20,000 besides damage done to thousands of cans of goods.

DARING ROBBERY ON SATURDAY IN MONTREAL HOTEL

Crooks Break Into Apartment and Secure Valuables—Police Arrest Several Suspects

Montreal, Sept. 15.—A robbery took place at the Windsor hotel, in this city Saturday, which for cool and calculated daring rivals the best chronicled performances of the so-called International crooks. Thieves entered the apartments of two lady guests of the hotel during their absence, appropriated jewelry and other valuables, including in the haul the ladies' transportation to the Pacific Coast and also the checks for their baggage. The matter was reported to the police authorities who, on investigating, found that the miscreant had not only obtained rebates on the railway tickets, but had in addition redeemed the ladies' baggage and made off with the contents, the value of some two thousand dollars. Detectives Sunday morning recovered most of the stolen property in a house in the North end of the city, and took into custody a man and several women as they were preparing for departure for unknown destinations.

NEW YORK POLICE AND FIREMEN ASK INCREASED PAY

Want Salaries of $2,500 a Year—Not Necessary to Provide Statistics

New York., Sept. 13. — Fourteen thousand firemen and policemen Saturday asked for salaries of $2,500 a year beginning January 1st. At present they receive from $1,450 to $1,900 a year. A petition filed with the Board of Estimates reads: "We do not believe it necessary to present any facts on the cost of living in comparison with the wage scales."

CRAZY MAN HOLDS UP AUTO PARTY KILLING TWO

Levels Rifle At Occupants of Car and His Shots Kill Two Sisters

New York, Sept. 13. — Miss Sadie and Miss Susie Felter, sisters, who were school teachers in New Brunswick, N.J., died Sunday afternoon as the result of bullet wounds inflicted by Mike Mazurich an ex-soldier, known in the neighborhood of Stelton, N.J., where the shooting occurred early Sunday morning, as "Crazy Mike."

Seven members comprised the automobile party, which was proceeding along a lonely stretch of road when the assailant, wearing a British army officer's uniform and with a Lee Enfield slung over his shoulder, stood in front of the car and levelled the gun at the group. "You've got something in that car that's mine," said the intruder.

The driver protested good naturedly. A short controversy followed, Mazurich firing at the group and mortally wounding the two sisters. He was captured later by a posse of soldiers.

Mazurich had stolen the rifle and uniform Saturday night from the home of Captain Alexander Monroe, of Stelton, late of the Canadian Expeditionary Force. Captain Monroe reported the robbery and identified the rifle. Mazurich had been known as an eccentric.

LONDON PUBLIC NOT ALARMED OVER COAL SITUATION

London, Sept. 13.—The public still declines to become lugubrious over the coal situation. None of the newspaper comment is unduly bitter or pessimistic.

Within a few hours of the close of Thursday's conference between the Board of Trade president and the miners' leaders a verbatim report of the conference was issued to the press from the Government, which seems to show that the Government thinks its own case has nothing to lose by the fullest publicity. The miners, who are good tacticians, also departed straightway for Portsmouth to resume attendance on the Trades Union congress.

Newspaper reports from Portsmouth Friday indicate that while no official statement is yet forthcoming there is no reason so far to think that the contending parties have reached their final word. One correspondent remarks:

"With the knowledge that they can bring the coal industry to a standstill within a fortnight, the miners' leaders would be more than human if they displayed any undue precipitancy in accepting something less than the original demand."

The Daily Express editorially says that all the country knows that neither side has an unanswerable case. The Government is trading in coal and making a profit out of it. That policy, says the Express, is open to objection, but it is a political matter between the Government and the country and not a question to be decided at the dictation of a section of the community. The miners are wrong in attempting dictation on this issue, but may be right in asking for a rise in wages. They are wrong in refusing to substantiate their claim before an independent tribunal.

PROPOSE THAT WORKMEN TAKE OVER FACTORIES

Confederation of Labor Sitting at Milan Makes Drastic Demand

SOCIALIST DEPUTY

Presents a Resolution Favoring a Compromise in Present Situation

Milan. Sept. 13.—The immediate convocation of the Italian Parliament for the purpose of passing laws under which workmen may take over the management of industrial plants has been demanded by the Confederation of Labor in session here.

Favors Compromise

Milan, Sept. 13.—A plenary meeting of all the workmen's organizations was held Sunday night to take under consideration the industrial upheaval which has come through the strike of the metal workers throughout Italy. The Socialist deputy, Daragona, presented a resolution in the name of the general confederation of labor favoring a compromise. This was adopted by a majority of 200,000 votes. The total representation present was 1,094,000.

Daragona's resolution says that the dispute of the metal workers cannot be solved now by simply settling the differences which arose when the dispute began, and declares:

"Today's ristorical moment renders impossible hereafter the present relations between masters and workmen; determines that the further direction of the present movement be taken over by the general confederation of labor, with the assistance of the Socialist party and that the aim of the struggle be an acknowledgement on the part of the masters that their works shall be controlled by the men's union."

This, said Signor Daragona, will open the way to further conquests of the workmen, which must invariably lead to collective management and socialization, thus solving completely the problem of production. Meanwhile control of metallurgic work by the unions will give to the working classes the possibility of preparing themselves technically to substitute for the masters with the assistance of a technical staff.

FOUR SPECIAL REGISTRATION BOOTHS NOW OPEN

Those Who Have Not Registered Will Have Opportunity All This Week

In order to enable those persons to register whose names are not already on the voters' list for the Province, four special registration booths have been opened in this city. For all those who live in the district taking in polls one, two, three, four and twenty, a registration booth is now open at 134 First Street, with Mr. R. McComb as the deputy. For those residing in polls numbers five, six, seven, eight and eleven, a registration booth is open at 752 Tenth Street with Miss S. Kerr as deputy. W. H. Bates is in charge of the registration booth at 1633 Rosser Avenue, at which all those in polls twelve, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen and sixteen who have not registered previously, will have an opportunity of doing so this week. The fourth registration booth is located at the Information Bureau on Tenth Street in charge of Mr. John Inglis, and those residing in the district taking in nine, ten, seventeen, eighteen and nineteen will register here.

These registration booths are opened solely for those who did not register on the recent electors' list, pleted shortly before the Provincial elections. The booths will be open all week, and those who wish to cast their vote in the forthcoming referendum question should see to it that there name is on the voters' list. Mr. D. Marshall is the returning officer for the district of Brandon.

SCRUB WOMEN TAKE COURSE IN ORDER TO BECOME FILM STARS

New York, Sept. 10.—"Moving picture instruction schools," claiming ability to transform all-comers into "film stars" for the modest sum of $77, or thereabouts, are under investigation by District Attorney Lewis, in Brooklyn. Scrub women and mothers of large families were said today by Mr. Lewis to have fallen victims to advertisements.

SHOCKS ARE SUBSIDING

Rome, Sept. 10.—Indications are now that devastating earthquake shocks are subsiding. A volcanic crater has suddenly opened at the top of Pizzo Ducello mountain, 5,845 feet high, nine miles West of Spezia.

MANY BRANDON FARMERS ARE NOW ERECTING SILOS

That many farmers in the Brandon district are more ad more recogizing the need and value of silos is apparent from the large number being erected in and around this city. Messrs. N. Casson, J. D. Baker and Harris McKee were the more recent buyers of silos, a carload arriving in the city last week consigned to the Brandon heating and Plumbing Works. It is stated that many of the Brandon farmers are intending erecting silos this Fall.

METAL WORKERS SEIZE MANY ITALIAN PLANTS

London, Sept. 9.—Seizure of Italian factories by metal workers as the starting point of a general taking over of industry is advocated by Italian extremists at the meeting of the heads of the General Federation of Labor and the Metal Workers' Union and representatives of the Italian Socialist party at Milan, says a dispatch to the Daily Mail from that city. Moderates attending the meeting have insisted upon an agreement with employers as long as the Government does not interfere. No decision on the matter has as yet been reached.

In the meantime workers are in possession of virtually all metal establishments of Italy. Employers are still rejecting claims from employes for last week's wages which were refused because the workers were in possession of the shops. Strikers at Turin, the dispatch says, have announced that if troops are used in an attempt to drive them out of factories, they will wreck all machinery.

A report was circulated that representatives of the manufacturers meeting here informed Labor Minister Labiola that neotiatigons would not be reopened while the workers occupied the plants.

To Find a Solution

Rome, Sept. 9.—Government officials will open negotiations with the general industrial conference at Milan today with a view to solving the problem presented by the seizure by workers of metal factories throughout Italy. The Socialist group in the Italian Parliament will hold a meeting with the governing committee of the General Workers' Confederation on Friday.

Manufacturers declare that the wage increases demanded by the 500,000 metal workers employed by them would add at least 1,000,000,000 lire to their payroll, and that this burden could not be sustained. They point out that Italy pays eighteen times the pre-war price for coal, while Britain pays only three times, America only 3.5 France six and even Germany only eleven.

Give Employers Five Days

Rome, September 9.—The employers in metal factories which have been seized by workmen in the present contest over conditions in this industry have been given five days in which to comply with the workingmen's demands, according to a resolution passed by the Socialist members of the General Federation of Labor. Should the employers fail to yield, a rapid movement toward general nationalization is threatened.

DIAMOND ANNIVERSARY

A very happy event took place Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Cumming, 815 Seneyth Street when they celebrated their diamond wedding anniversary, about fifty persons being present. A remarkable feature of the occasion is that Mr. and Mrs. Cumming together with their twelve children are still enjoying life, there not being a break in the family. It was regretable that the boys of the family were not able to be present at the gathering but Mr. and Mrs. Cuming had their five daughters with them, namely, Mrs. J. Grant, of this city, Mrs. R. Coristine, Mrs. T. Davidson, Mrs. C. Brownscombe, of North Brandon and Miss Stella Cumming at home.

Mr. Cumming came to Manitoba from Huron, Ont., in 1882 and settled in the North Brandon district, the family following a year later. From that time until about seven years Mr. and Mrs. Cumming lived in that district, when they moved into Brandon to reside. Mr. Cumming has reached the ripe old age of eighty-nine while his wife had attained the age of seventy-nine. Their many friends in the city and district will wish them many more years of wedded life.

GRADUATE NURSES ASSOCIATION

The Graduate Nurses Association resumed their meetings for the coming season Tuesday night when they met in the lecture hall at the Nurses Home of the Brandon Genral Hospital. Mrs. S. J. S. Peirce, President of the association was in the chair. After the routine business had been completed Miss M. K. Finlayson, who attended the convention of the Canadian National Association of Trained Nurses, held in July at Port Arthur and Fort William, gave a most interesting report of the convention.

Miss Finlayson pointed out that at this gathering one met and felt proud of the capable broad minded and high souled women at the head of the nursing profession, and felt that the future of the profession was safe in their hands. The many new movements in the field of nursing were ably discussed and the need of fuller training emphasized. Many plans are afoot for the raising of the standard and the attraction of young girls in their formative years, towards nursing, to the end that the increasing call, not only for skilled nursing, but for education in prevention of disease may be adequately met. It is gratifying to know that there are several post graduate courses in nursing now available in our Canadian universities.

A forcible note struck in these days of grasping for sectional advantage was that not one selfish note crept in, but that the whole trend of discussion was towards a better service of the needs of the Dominion.

Miss Finlayson also mentioned the cordial reception given by the Twin Cities to the nurses, who appreciated greatly their hospital entertainments in the midst of business.

The next meeting of the association will be held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Peirce, Sept. 21st when it is hoped that Miss Haddock of West China will be present.

BRINDLEY-LOWRY

An interesting marriage to many Brandon people took place Wednesday afternoon at five o'clock at Young Methodist Church, Winnipeg, when Rev. Cunningham Moore united Alma May Lowry, eldest daughter of Mrs. E. Lowry, Melbourne Court, Winnipeg, in marriage to Leonard Robert Brindley, of Ottawa, son of R. P. Brindley, "The Leys," Tamworth, Staffs., England. Miss Bertha MacIntyre attended the bride while Mr. W. H. Van Allen supported the groom.

The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Mr. D. A. MacIntyre, ex-M.P.P., wore a suit of white serge, the coat opening over a blouse of cream georgette crepe piped with pink. Her hat was a black velvet model faced with pink and she carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses. The bridesmaid wore a dainty gown of electric blue satin and a large black velvet hat.

As the bridal party stood in front of the alter before the service was read, the bride's sister, Miss Ina Lowry, sang "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden" and during the signing of the register she sang "Because." Miss Rita Elliott presided at the organ.

The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond pendant. To the bridesmaid he also gave a pendant, and to Miss Ina Lowry he gave a silver vanity case. Miss Elliott received a gold bar pin. The bride's gift to the groom was a gold watch chain

After the ceremony a reception was held at the hbme of the bride's mother and later Mr. and Mrs. Brindley left on a brief honeymoon trip to Niagara, Buffalo and the Thousand Islands. The newly-married couple will take up residence in Ottawa where the groom is a member of the House of Commons press gallery.

Mr. Brindley is very well known in Brandon, having been for some time a member of The Sun staff.

Among the many gifts received by the bride and groom was a handsome silver tea and coffee service from the Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie, Federal Minister of Agriculture, and a cut glass bowl and servers from the Manitoba Free Press staff, of which the groom was formerly a member.

Reports received from Shereban have stated that Mrs. Buchanan was well treated by the Arab tribesman, who held the place until the approach of the British troops.

BODY OF INFANT FOUND IN ALLEYWAY BY JUNK COLLECTOR

Winnipeg Police Investigating Case — Child Dead Only a Few Hours

Winnipeg, Sept. 10.—Winnipeg police were seeking Thursday solution of the mysterious death of a six-months-old male infant, found at the rear of a cobbler's shop at Tecumseh Street and William Avenue. The body, covered with a newspaper, was discovered by a junk collector, who was seeking bottles and rags in the alley way.

The body was dressed in a night gown, stockings and bootees, and evidently had been left in its hiding place some time during the night. The child had black hair, and evidently had not been dead more than a few hours, according to the condition of the body.

Woman Caught Here

Death of another infant, found Saturday, by provincial police, near Inga, Ont., where it evidently had been thrown from a Canadian National train may have been solved through the efforts of Winnipeg police. A woman, formerly a waitress in a hotel at Kenora, Ont., but who had been visiting friends here since Saturday, was arrested late Wednesday night.

BIG DELIVERY OF STEEL RAILS IS CAUSE OF SUIT

Now Being Heard in Exchequer Court — Point of Issue Is Price

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—That the condition of Canadian railways was such in the early months of 1918 as to justify the Dominion Government in taking steps that practically stopped the making of steel for shells by the Dominion Iron and Steel Company in order that rails necessary for renewals might be rolled, was shown in the hearing of the case of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company vs. the King, which opened in the Exchequer Court this week. It was the first sitting following the Summer legal vacation and Sir Walter Cassels presided. The point at issue was the price the company should be paid for 116,000 tons of rails rolled and delivered subsequent to April, 1918, by the steel company, the rails being furnished in consequence of an order-in-council passed by the company to supply at least 100,000 tons, in order that the railways might be put in a position to operate up to full capacity during the period of the war.

NEWSPRINT MAY SELL FOR $200 IN TON LOTS

Montreal, Sept. 9.—From newspaper circles come reports which are strongly affirmative of predictions heard in pulp and paper circles of further advances in the price of newsprint. It is stated that another increase in price is expected to be made by the mills about the first of October. The understanding is that the new price will range from $130 to $140 per ton for rolled news and $20 in advance of these prices per ton for sheets in two ton lots and at the mill. In January, 1921, the prospects are that many newspaper publishers will be paying as high as $200 per ton, and it is even possible that this figure will have to be raised later on.

At $200 per ton, the price to sheet news users, would have trebled in four years. In 1917 the price was $65 a ton. This rose to $72 in the first half of 1918 and to $81 in the second half. During 1919 the price was $84 for sheet news.

It is understood that few complaints have been heard recently among the publishers regarding impossibility of obtaining supplies, manufacturers being able to meet requirements.

WANTS TARIFF

ation upon incomes and lands has been adopted by Dominion, provinces and municipalities, and as consequence there is a serious handicap being placed upon the principle of direct taxation which we recommend in large measures in the farmers platform. The farmers' platform recommends as sources of revenue, the graduated personal income tax, the graduated inheritance tax on large estates, the graduated income tax on the profits of corporations and a direct tax on all unimproved values of land including all natural resources. The direct tax on personal incomes, together with the income tax on profits, at least, should be levied by the Dominion government, and it is here that we wish to lay strong emphasis. The administration of the federal income tax in this country has not been efficient since it was introduced as a new feature of federal taxation some five years ago. The rate of income taxes compares favorably with that of other countries of a character similar to Canada, but there is every evidence that these taxes have not been applied or collected in anything like the amount that should be possible. Very little has been done by the federal department of finance in the way of instructing and educating the taxpayers of Canada in the adoption of an tirely new principle of taxation. When the income tax was first adopted in the United States, not only was a very elaborate form for the income tax return distributed, but a splendid booklet was also issued for the instruction and education of the people of that country. In Canada such educational work has been left to financial corporations and such associations as might have been interested in cultivating and intelligent opinion upon a new principle of taxation. During the first four years of the federal income tax, inadequate forms for returns were sent out to the rural districts, with the result that it is not infrequent to hear charges levelled against the Canadian farmer to the effect that he has not paid his full share of the income tax. The farmers of this country, and especially those who are represented through the united farmers organizations, are strongly in favor of the direct method of collecting taxes as opposed to the indirect system represented in the customs tariff. The Canadian Council of Agriculture made special suggestions to government representatives to have the income tax forms for farmers elaborated and itemized in such a way that the farmer would have a clearer idea of what returns to make than it was possible to give on the bare, skeletonized document which was issued from the Government department. Evidently our suggestions have been of some use, because a greatly improved form is now being sent out to farmers from the taxation department at Otawa. There is still, however, much room for education work in connection with the application of this method of Taxation, which is comparatively new to Canada. Also, there is more room still for extending the machinery of collecting the income tax, so that the fullest possible amount of revenue might be realized from this source.

It is not unfair to say that the income tax, if thoroughly and forcefully applied in this country, ought to yield a revenue of at least 200 million dollars per annum at the present time. As has already been said it is not the desire of those who are represented by the farmers platform, to bring about any immediate drastic changes in the customs tariff or the fiscal policy of this country which would endanger the business interests of the country as a whole, but it is submitted with all sincerity and earnestness that it is possible to so establish a national policy for this country that it will rest upon the principle of direct taxation as adopted in the methods here suggested, rather than upon the principle of tariff protection. By reducing the tariff immediately and providing for the reduction in revenue which might follow, by a more rigid enforcement of the income taxes, the federal government of Canada would have taken the first step towards adopting the recommendations which are put forth by the organized farmers of Canada through the Canadian Council of Agriculture.

THREATENED WAR AVERTED BY ROUND TABLE CONFERENCE

Council of League of Nations Does a Good Day's Work Monday

FOUR COUNTRIES AGREE

Delegates of Opposing Countries Shake Hands—Confidence in League

Paris, Sept. 21.—The ninth session of the council of the League of Nations adjourned Monday after having smoothed out difficulties between four nations in controversy which at one time threatened to result in war. Through its action in the Polish-Lithuanian crisis the council succeeded in getting the two countries to agree to an immediate suspension of hostilities pending a settlement of their dispute which both sides agreed to accept.

The Polish-Lithuanian accord came after calling on the countries to cease hostilities immediately. The resolution asked Lithuania to adopt the provisional line of the frontier fixed by the supreme council in December last and withdraw her troops from the territory to the West of the line which Poland was asking during its war with Soviet Russia, and to respect the neutrality of the territory occupied by Lithuania East of the line of demarkation fixed by the supreme council.

Ignace Jan Paderewski, Polish delegate to the league, made a stirring speech, in which he said Poland desired to be in complete peace with Lithuania, and had full confidence that Lithuania also desires peace.

Delegates from both countries shook hands amid cheering by the spectators and delegates, marking the first instance in which the league's mediation has been accepted by countries virtually in a state of war.

M. Woldemar, Lithuanian foreign minister, said he had full confidence in the spirit of fairness of the council of the league, and would abide by its decision.

It is expected that at least a tentative decision will be ready for the approval of the league council at its October session.

Finland also ironed out her difficulties with the council by accepting with certain reservations, the report of the council upon the Aland island question, which calls for an investigation by three commissioners.

League officials explained that although neither Finland nor Sweden was legally bound to accept the league's decision, they were morally bound to accept it. It was further pointed out that a settlement, "if backed by public opinion, would virtually compel acceptance.

BAPTIST PASTORS CONVENE HERE

Opening Session Held Monday — About Twenty Ministers Attend First Day

The opening session in connection with the conference of Baptist Ministers in the Province, which is being held in Brandon this week, took place Monday night in Brandon College Chapel. Rev. F. R. Julian, of Winnipeg, conducted the session which was largely of a devotional nature. In a short address Mr. Julian explained the plan of the program and the purpose of the conference. Tonight the sessions will commence at eight o'clock, Mr. C. G. Stone acting as chairman. Rev. W. E. Matthews, of Winnipeg, formerly of this city will be the principal speaker and has chosen for his subject, "The Sanctions of Jesus."

About twenty Pastors are attending the conference which is being held largely for the purpose of making plans for future work in the Baptist field in Manitoba. This morning the sessions opened at 9.30 in Brandon College, where all meetings are being held up to Friday. Rev. W. J. Scott of Peachland, B.C., who is Pastor pro tem of Emmanuel Baptist Church in this city, led the devotional exercises. In connection with the Bible study which occupied the balance of the time of the delegates at the morning session, Rev. M. L. Orchard gave a talk on "Jesus' Teaching on the Holy Ghost." This was followed by discussion. No sessions are being held in the afternoon which will be given over to informal conferences among the Pastors as they see fit.

Devotional exercises on Wednesday morning, which will commence at 9.30, will be led by Rev. S. Everton, Registrar at Brandon College. Dr. Howard P. Whidden, M.P. will give an adress on "The Message of Jesus," which will be followed by discussion. This company is composed of a group of British capitalists at the head of whom is Lord Cowdray.

BANDITS AND POLICE HAVE A RUNNING FIGHT

Nine Policemen Injured in Gun Play at Roscoe, Sask., With Daring Robbers

Regina, Sask., Sept. 21.—Nine members of the Provincial Police posse organized at Roscoe, Sask., about 250 miles Northeast of here, are injured, following a running gun fight with five bandits who raided the Red Deer lumber camp at Barrows, Manitoba, on Sunday and robbed the workmen in broad daylight. The highwaymen crossed the boundary line into Saskatchewan, and the police organized a possee and gave chase. They met the robbers a short distance outside Roscoe and exchanged shots. The extent of the injuries to the wounded men is not yet known.

Toronto, Sept. 21. — Preferential trade within the British Empire was the subject that occupied the attention of the ninth Congress of the Chambers of Commerce of the British Empire here Monday afternoon, and the discussion on it was not concluded. It was resumed this morning.

Six resolutions were presented to the Congress on the subject by Chambers of Commerce in Canada, Australia and the West Indies. All the speakers favored preferential trade, but exception to present conditions was taken by some of them.

Sir James Woods, of this city, moved a resolution in favor of preferential trade within the Empire, which resolution combined the sentiments of the Toronto and Montreal Boards of Trade. Sir James reserved his remarks thereon until late in the discussion, and the seconder, W. F. Cockshutt, M.P., Brantford, spoke to the resolution.

Message From King George

Recognition of the importance to the British Empire of the Congress was emphasized by King George, in a cable message read to the Congress Monday morning, in acknowledging the loyal greetings expressed by the congress, in a cable sent on Saturday. Lord Stamfordham, the King's secretary, cabled as follows:

"The King fully recognizes that these meetings are conducive not only to the commercial interests but to the very unity of the Empire, and His Majesty wishes that all possible success may result from your deliberations."

Mark Sheldon, of Australia, commenting on the formation of the Imperial Shipping Committee, expressed disapproval of the exclusion of the Dominions and dependencies from membership in the committee. A resolution, which was passed, added to this protest a demand that the British government afford the Dominions an opportunity to nominate their representatives of shipping and trading interests to serve on the committee.

Sir Alex. McRobert, of Cawnpore, India, asked that the passenger accommodation be included in the scope of the shipping committee.

AMERICAN SAILORS STEAL AUTOMOBILE LANDED IN JAIL

Winnipeg Police Have Wild Chase Monday Night After Thieves

Winnipeg, Sept. 21.—Thomas Fingall and Clifford W. Fish, American sailors, engaged in an escapade Monday evening which ultimately landed them in the police cells. The charge against them is that they stole an automobile the property of F. B. Pease, 308 Notre Dame Avenue, which they found standing in the rear of 625 Main Street at 5.15 p.m.

After taking the car the men headed for the North, going at a high rate of speed. At Louise bridge, however, they came to grief, evidently as a result of inefficient driving coming into contact with the ironwork of the structure. Sympathetic pedestrians went to their assistance and ultimately the damage was temporarily repaired and they continued their run towards Transcona. The theft had been reported to the city police and Chief Halcrow of Transcona, having been informed that they had gone in his direction, went out to meet them. Motor cycle men of the central police department chased them from the Winnipeg end. They were caught about one mile from Transcona, but after the arrest Fingall managed to break away and escape in the bush. He was caught a few minutes later, however, and both the men are now lodged in the central police station.

Mr. Pease's automobile was badly damaged as a result of the smash into the bridge. The impairment in the connection is estimated at $600.

MANUFACTURERS FAVOR PERMANENT TARIFF BOARD

Suggestion Made at British Columbia Sitting of the Commission

RAW MATERIALS FREE

Cunningham Cites Instances — Mining Should Not Be Handicapped

Vancouver, Sept. 21.—A. B. Weeks, president, and J. H. Cunningham, vice-president of the Manufacturers' Association of British Columbia urged strongly at the Monday afternoon session of the Tariff Commission that a permanent tariff board be appointed, whose duty it should be to devote their whole attention to tariff matters, and, from time to time, make necessary adjustments where it was found these were required in the interests of industry.

Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the Commission, desired most keenly to know just what a board could do, for it was obvious it could not exercise any influence in the fluctuations of the market.

Mr. Cunningham was not prepared to say just what might be accomplished by the board, but he urged that as Canada was now entering into competition with the rest of the world, raw materials should be allowed to come in duty free, and that a board could remedy any hardship in case a certain commodity was temporarily unobtainable in the country by allowing it to come in duty free from other countries.

He pointed out that in case of a certain kind of oil, the duty thereon had been fixed 25 years ago, and that it still prevailed, although it was not allowed to be imported as it did not come up to the Canadian standard of requirement. This was a petroleum produced in California.

Mining Should Not Be Handicapped

Turning his attention to mining, the speaker considered that all oils used for flotation purposes in the treatment of ores should come in duty free. The mining industry should not be under any disadvantage when compared with the same industry in the United States. Exemplying the benefit of using oil in the flotation process, Mr. Cunningham stated that at one time the Britannia Mining company, one of the largest copper operators in the country, recovered 50 per cent. of the metal contents of the ore, and since the addition of the oil flotation process, this recovery had increased to 96 per cent. Anything that added to the overhead expenses of a mine only worked to its detriment, and this oil could be used but once and then was lost.

None of this kind of oil was produced in Canada, so nobody would be hurt.

ENTIRE POLICE FORCE CALLED TO AVERT RACE RIOT

Three Negroes Kill White Man and Are Besieged in Chicago Church

Chicago, Sept. 21.—Quiet prevailed this morning in the stockyard district on the South side where Monday night one white man was killed by three negroes.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—Three negroes were beseiged for more than an hour in St. Gabriel's church, on the South side, Monday night by a mob of about a thousand persons, after the negroes had killed a white man, Charles Barret, who is said to have gone to the rescue of a white girl insulted by the negroes. They were rescued and placed in jail, when squads of policemen were sent to avert a possible race riot.

Chief of Police Garrity ordered the entire police force mobilized.

Shortly after Barret had been killed three negroes were dragged from a street car two blocks away and severely beaten.

The negroes who killed Barret, cutting his throat with a razor, were chased several blocks by a continually increasing crowd and finally dashed into the church. Two hid in confessionals and one back of the altar.

Only when policemen armed with rifles appeared did the mob break up.

The South side, "black belt," the scene of disastrous race riots a year ago, was placed under heavy guard, as was the stockyards quarter.

BOTH M'CURDY AND WIGMORE ELECTED MONDAY

Government Wins Both Seats in Nova Scotia By-Elections—Farmers Defeated

LARGEST MAJORITY

In History of Either St. John or Albert County, is Given Hon. Wigmore

Halifax, Sept. 21.—Both Hon. F. B. McCurdy, Minister of Public Works, and Hon. R. W. Wigmore, Minister of Customs and Inland Revenue, have been endorsed by their electorates in Monday's by elections in which they sought the opinion of their people on the choices for those portfolios made by the new premier, Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen. In the case of Mr. Wigmore, the opposition candidate, Dr. A. E. Emery, lost his deposit, the comparatively new double seat giving the government candidate a majority of 4,190, the largest in the history of either St. John or Albert county. Mr. McCurdy, instead of making any speeches after the result of the Colchester election was definitely known, said: "I have been elected by a majority of 1,505. I can say no more tonight." Capt. Hugh Dickson, the Farmer-Labor candidate whom Mr. McCurdy defeated, was almost as brief, saying: "Our party fought a clean fight and I am satisfied with the result as far as the honest electors are concerned. The United Farmers are not down-hearted."

Hon. Mr. McCurdy received Monday night from his chief at Ottawa, a telegram of congratulation, the premier expressing his appreciation and thanks to the Colchester electors for the support given his government through the election of his colleague "by the largest majority ever polled in the county."

Mr. McCurdy carried Truro town by upwards of two thousand majority and all but held his own in the country districts, which were expected to poll a heavy vote for the Farmer candidate. The result in the whole county of Colchester was conceded in favor of Mr. McCurdy by 8.30 p.m. Complete returns give McCurdy 2,941; Capt. Dickson, 831; maj. for McCurdy, 2,110. This was reduced to 1,505 in the rural districts.

Wigmore's Majority

St. John, N.B., Sept. 21.—Complete returns in the St. John-Albert by election Monday gave the following results:

St. John city, Wigmore, 5,148; Emery, 2,064; St. John county, Wigmore 1,466; Emery, 744; Albert county, Wigmore, 1,414; Emery, 1,030; total, for Wigmore, 8,028; Emery, 3,838. Wigmore's majority, 4,190.

"Mackenzie King, who forced this election has got his answer," shouted Hon. R. W. Wigmore in a speech he made Monday evening in the Seamen's Institute, when his majority had reached 4,000 and his election was conceded.

MINERS STRIKE EXPECTED TO TAKE PLACE ON MONDAY

Miners' Association and Board of Trade Representatives Cannot Reach Agreement

London, Sept. 21.—There was little hope Monday that the strike of the coal miners, set for September 27th, could be averted. The executive of the Miners' Federation had another long conference with Sir Robert Horne, President of the Board of Trade, but no agreement could be reached on the question of an increase of two shillings per day in wages as demanded by the miners. The Federation insisted that the Government should grant the increase, while Sir Robert Horne pressed his proposal that the question should be submitted to an independent tribunal.

Robert Smillie, on behalf of the miners, concluded his argument for an immediate increase, with the statement that the executive committee could meet the delegates in conference with a clear conscience and say that there was no other step to take but that which the ballot vote of the miners had indicated, to strike.

The delegates' conference can decide upon a withdrawal of the strike notice, which expires Saturday, but it is hardly expected they will act contrary to the recommendations of the executive committee, the members of which consider that they have receded considerably in withdrawing their demand for a reduction in the price of domestic coal.

ARGENTINA LAWYER BITTERLY ATTACKS MONROE DOCTRINE

Declares That Doctrine is a Bad One for North Americans

FEARS IMPERIALISM

Advocates Formation of Latin-American League to Unite Common Interests

Buenos Aires, Sept. 17.—The Monroe Doctrine is not a doctrine of "America for the Americans" but of "America for the North Americans," declared Dr. Lucio M. Moreno Quintana, an Argentine lawyer and a grandson of a former President of Argentina in an address recently before the law students of the University of Buenos Aires in which he attacked the proposal made by President Brum of Uruguay last April for the formation of an "American League."

President Brum's idea that the league should be based on a declaration by all Latin-American countries similar to the Monroe Doctrine which would thus place them on a footing of equality with the United States in maintaining that doctrine, was asserted by Dr. Quintana to be a dangerous one for Latin-America. He told the students that the danger lay in "North American imperialism," for the Monroe Doctrine was an imperialistic doctrine solely intended to maintain North American hegemony over the rest of the continent.

Dr. Quintana contended that the safety of Latin-American countries lay in the formation of a league exclusively among themselves, a Latin-American league of countries of the same origin, analogous customs, similar language and professing the same ideals and aspirations. It should be formed " with the end of uniting their common interests and presenting a defensive 'bloc' against North American imperialism and against any European pretensions," though he believed the latter would be very remote.

The Monroe doctrine, he continued, "has served as an admirable instrument for the United States to separate Europe from America and to establish its hegemony over the latter. The United States has been at all times preoccupied in obtaining concessions of every kind, the cost of the sovereignity of the rest of the American states." He argued that the doctrine was dangerous because it was "North American imperialism hidden under a principle of international law."

Dr. Quintana concluded by saying that the Pan-American league Dr. Brum proposes, would be "an organization redounding exclusively to the benefit of the United States which would convert itself juridically and officially into the director of America with consequent impairment and evident danger to the other countries of our continent."

Dr. Quintana's address is now being circulated in booklet form under the title "Politica Americana" and is dedicated to the late President Carranza of Mexico.

NO FEES FOR JUDGES UNDER DISPUTES ACT

Amendment Increases Salaries But Prohibits Other Fees From Special Duties

Ottawa, Sept. 17.—It is understood that a ruling has been made that under the amendment to the Judges' Act, passed at the last session of Parliament, judges are prohibited from receiving fees for sitting as members of conciliation boards under the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act. In the past judges have frequently been appointed to fill chairmanships on conciliation boards established by the Minister of Labor. In view of the above ruling, however, it seems likely that the number of such appointments will be materially reduced. While there is no doubt that in some cases judges would be willing to act without remuneration, it is a question whether parties to a dispute would feel justified in calling upon them to devote their leisure time to dealing with difficult questions arising out of industrial disputes on such a basis. It is understood that during the past Summer, and of course, subsequent to the passing of the amendment, several judges acted on conciliation boards. The amendment to the Judges' Act, while providing for increased salaries for judges, stipulated that fees will not to be accepted by them for other work.

EXPLOSION SAID TO HAVE BEEN CAUSED BY BOMB

Commissioner Drennan Makes This Report to Mayor Hylan Today

New York, Sept. 17.—Fire Commissioner Drennan reported today to Mayor Hylan that the explosion yesterday was evidently caused by a bomb. More than 15 pounds of broken sash weights and other metal fragments have been collected by the Fire Department at the scene of the disaster, and turned over to the police, Commissioner Drennan said.

New York, Sept. 17.—The mysterious explosion that rocked New York's financial district yesterday, causing death to 31 persons and injuring 200 others was probably caused by an infernal machine, possibly a time bomb, according to the almost unanimous opinion of expert investigators of the Department of Justice and the police today. Search of the wreckage revealed fragments of clockwork such as commonly used in making bombs. Three pieces of curved metal were also found beneath the surface of the pavement in a hole caused by the explosion. Another piece was taken from the body of Robert Westday, 16 year old messenger boy, who was killed.

Investigators Busy

New York, Sept. 17.—The financial centres of big United States cities from Coast to Coast are armed camps today with police and private sentries posted to guard against the repetition of the explosion here.

The homes of all wealthy men are under guard.

The scene of yesterday's explosion is roped off while the Stock Exchange and Allied organizations resumed business at the usual hour this morning.

Several New York detectives and Secret Service men left the city early today for "destinations unannounced" on out of twon ends of investigation of the explosion.

Wm. J. Flynn, chief investigator of the Department of Justice, Washington, viewed the scene personally but refused to talk.

During the early morning Wall Street was cleaned up of its tons of debris and gangs washed down blood stained and spattered sidewalks and builings, while repair men remedied the worst of the office structures in the Morgan building and glaziers by the score began the long task of rewindowing the entire financial hub.

MANUFACTURERS IN ITALY COMBAT PLANT CONTROL

Labor Organizations Seizing Many Cotton Mills and Other Plants

LANDLORDS IN SICILY

Driven Off by Tenant Farmers—Premier Confers With Strike Leaders in Turin

Rome, Sept. 17. -- Italian manufacturers were in session all over the country Thursday trying to decide some means of combatting the control of their plants by labor organizations.

Reports from Milan were that seizures of plants continued on a large scale. Cotton mills and jewelry works were among those put under workers' control. The movement extended to the peasantry. Landlords in Sicily were driven off by peasant farmers.

Premier Giolitti's arrival in Turin and his call for an immediate conference with strike leaders and manufacturers was expected to result in a quick turn in the situation.

Strikers' representatives have informed the prefect of Lusignoli that an ultimatum will be sent manufacturers demanding immediate acceptance of the principle of labor control of industry.

Socialist leaders announced they will attempt to obtain passage of a law to provide collaboration of labor in the management of all plants. Labor will insist in sharing in the technical and financial management of the works and assume charge of the employment bureaus for industries.

Conditions within the occupied plants remain secret. Shortage of materials and finances were expected to handicap the men. Sympathizers in transportation lines were ready to aid their fellows in the plants by diverting shipments of raw materials

Issuance of paper money was reported in some of the large establishments seized by workers.

NO AGREEMENT YET WITH MINERS AND GOVERNMENT

New Proposals Made by Miners Constitute an Advance Toward Solution Trouble

London, Sept. 17. — The conference of the coal miners' executive with Sir Robert Horne, President of the Board of Trade, adjourned late Thursday afternoon without an agreement having been reached in settlement of the controversy between the miners and the government. Sir Robert Horne declared, however, that new proposals made by the miners constituted an advance toward a peaceful solution of the trouble.

The miners proposed that the government forthwith grant the increase in wages demanded by them, but declared that an increase should not be put on the price of coal for consumption in the household. They also ask that tribunals be appointed to inquire whether the financial situation of the coal industry would stand a reduction in the price of coal, an inquiry into the declining output of coal, and an investigation of the present wage system with a view to granting up-to-date standard wages.

Sir Robert Horne replied that the only method of deciding the selling price of coal was that already adopted and on this point he declined to accede to the miners' proposal.

He also said he could not recommend that the miners should have two shillings advance under the present circumstances, but added that if an increased output were assured, an advance in wages could be given.

Robert Smillie, the miners' leader, had previously said that unless an advance were granted the executive could not advise the delegates at Tuesday's conference to postpone or call off the strike.

CAT REVEALS PLACE WHERE DYES HIDDEN

Newark, N.J., Sept. 17. — Methods attributed to the scientific detective in modern tales of mystery, as applied to chemical analysis of orange-colored spots on a water-front cat, brought recoverey of 300,000 worth of stolen German dyes and the arrest of 17 men, the United States Department of Justice Bureau here announces.

Government sleuths had been working for weeks to find out who held up a watchman at a State Department warehouse in Hoboken, where 6,000 pounds of German dyes, as part of Germany's indemnity, were being held, and carried the dyestuffs away in motor trucks. Suddenly attention was attracted by the strange orange color of spots on a wharf cat.

Following what amounted to an inspiration, a Department of Justice agent caught the cat and took it to a chemist, where its orange hair was analyzed, with the discovery, it was stated, that German dyes were responsible for its unique color.

The cat was then released and shadowed. Its "home" was said to have been located in a house on River street, Hoboken. The dyes were found nearby.

WANTS TO SIFT IRISH ATROCITIES

New York, Sept. 16.—Oswald Garrison Villard announced Wednesday that one hundred representative Americans had accepted the invitation of his magazine, "The Nation," to constitute a non-partisan commission to sift charges of atrocities in Ireland made against one another by the British government and Sinn Fein. The announcement says the "Committee of One Hundred on Ireland," as it will be known, feels that some neutral action is necessary in order to preserve Anglo-Saxon friendship and to prevent the spread of ill-will with the possibility of such irritation driving the U.S. and Great Britain into war.

Referring to Anglo-American relations, the invitation says that one grave result of the present situation is the "rapid growth of anti-British feeling, which seriously threatens the unspeakable calamity of war between the U.S. and Great Britain and endangers the peace of the world."

The program of the committee is not fully developed, but its sponsors suggest that the British government, Sinn Fein, and others be asked to present such evidence of violence or wrong-doing as they possess. The committee, it is said, will designate from its own members or outside, a small commission to hear testimony and make "a thorough and impartial report."

The committee plans to begin sessions in Washington early in October.

IMPROVEMENTS IN HOUSING SYSTEM ARE SUGGESTED

Federal Commission Also Recommends Increase in Miners' Wages in Nova Scotia

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 16.—Liwing conditions in Nova Scotia, miners with few exceptions described as "absolutely wretched" and a "menace to themselves and families," in the report of the Federal Royal Commission that recently considered the demands of 12,000 miners in Eastern Canada for salary increases. The report recommends improvements in the housing system and also wage increases of a dollar a day and twenty cents per ton on all tonnage. Increases practically cover the mens' demands. Both owners and miners are urged to co-operate for the purpose of increasing the output.

MOORE WILL AGAIN HEAD TRADES AND LABOR CONGRESS

Elected by Acclamation This Morning—Only Two Important Questions Left

WANT INVESTIGATION

Of All Federal Penitentiaries—Attack on Hon. Winston Churchill

Windsor, Sept. 17.—Tom Moore was re-elected President of the Trades and Labor Council of Canada this morning by acclamation.

To Conclude Saturday

Windsor, Sept. 17.—The regular order of business of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada was suspended this morning to elect officers for the ensuing year. With the decks cleared for elections it is expected that the balance of the business of the congress will be put through in time to allow the delegates to return home some time tomorrow. There are still a number of resolutions on the list, but with the exception of those dealing with self-determination for Ireland and non-interference with Soviet Russia, nothing of a controversial nature remains.

Thursday's Session

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 17.—A decision to request an investigation of all Federal penitentiaries and instruct Provincial executives to request an investigation of the conduct of all prisons, jails and asylums, including the disposal of the output of prison labor, and that at least one representative of organized labor be included on the board making investigation, was arrived at by the delegates to the Trades and Labor congress Thursday. It was decided to give any representative of the congress who might be appointed to such a commission authority to use his own judgment as to what class of labor should be engaged in by prisoners, even though it might conflict with the platform of the congress regarding the competition of the product of prison labor with free labor.

Causes of H.C.L.

Other features of the afternoon were an attack on President Tom Moore by former President J. C. Watters on complaints arising out of the trip of the Canadian delegates to the peace conference, in which Mr. Watters failed to have the question, though closed at the Hamilton convention, reopened by a roll call vote of 101 to 23; the adoption of the executive council's report of the cost of living, in which the opinion was expressed that the primary cause of the increased cost of living was due to speculation, manipulation and profiteering, without discussion, except by Peter Leckie, of Ottawa, who characterized the inflation of currency as criminal and offered the removal of financial institutions of the world from the hands of private interests as a solution; and an unsuccessful attempt of James Simpson, of Toronto, to have the high tariff interests included in the report on the tariff which was passed two days ago.

Davidson Defends British Miners

Perhaps the most important session of the convention since it opened was the one held Thursday morning, when fraternal delegates were heard and notable addresses delivered by J. E. Davidson, national organizer of the Iron Founders of Great Britain; D. J. Shea, representing the American Federation of Labor, and Eugene J. Brock, representing the Detroit, Mich., Federation of Labor.

Mr. Davidson came out strongly for the use of the ballot in preference to direct action as a means of securing the objects of organized labor, for which he was cheered to the echo by the delegates; who also cheered him when he declared that the British labor party was determined to gather the full fruit of their industry to themselves and not let the capitalists have it. He defended the British miners and said their loyalty was unquestionable, but they objected to having excess profits, which their speeding up production during the war had created, go into private bank accounts instead of developing the industries of the empire. He intimated that the visit of the British Press Association and financial magnates to Canada was worth watching, as it was no doubt planned to use the excess profits made during the war in exploiting Canada's natural resources.

Mr. Davidson also made a slashing attack upon Hon. Winston Spencer Churchill, whom he alluded to as "the gambler of Gallipoli; the raider of Russia, first a Tory, then a Liberal, and finally a Coalitionist; the jackanapes of politics; the hero of the Dardanelles."

ARGENTINA LAWYER BITTERLY ATTACKS MONROE DOCTRINE

Declares That Doctrine is a Bad One for North Americans

FEARS IMPERIALISM

Advocates Formation of Latin-American League to Unite Common Interests

Buenos Aires, Sept. 17.—The Monroe Doctrine is not a doctrine of "America for the Americans" but of "America for the North Americans," declared Dr. Lucio M. Moreno Quintana, an Argentine lawyer and a grandson of a former President of Argentina in an address recently before the law students of the University of Buenos Aires in which he attacked the proposal made by President Brum of Uruguay last April for the formation of an "American League."

President Brum's idea that the league should be based on a declaration by all Latin-American countries similar to the Monroe Doctrine which would thus place them on a footing of equality with the United States in maintaining that doctrine, was asserted by Dr. Quintana to be a dangerous one for Latin-America. He told the students that the danger lay in "North American imperialism," for the Monroe Doctrine was an imperialistic doctrine solely intended to maintain North American hegemony over the rest of the continent.

Dr. Quintana contended that the safety of Latin-American countries lay in the formation of a league exclusively among themselves, a Latin American league of countries of the same origin, analogous customs, similar language and professing the same ideals and aspirations. It should be formed " with the end of uniting their common interests and presenting a defensive 'bloc' against North American imperialism and against any European pretensions," though he believed the latter would be very remote.

The Monroe doctrine, he continued, "has served as an admirable instrument for the United States to separate Europe from America and to establish its hegemony over the latter. The United States has been at all times preoccupied in obtaining concessions of every kind, at the cost of the sovereignty of the rest of the American states." He argued that the doctrine was dangerous because it was "North American imperialism hidden under a principle of international law."

Dr. Quintana concluded by saying that the Pan-American league Dr. Brum proposes, would be "an organization redounding exclusively to the benefit of the United States which would convert itself juridically and officially into the director of America with consequent impairment and evident danger to the other countries of our continent."

Dr. Quintana's address is now being circulated in booklet form under the title "Politica Americana" and is dedicated to the late President Carranza of Mexico.

NO FEES FOR JUDGES UNDER DISPUTES ACT

Amendment Increases Salaries But Prohibits Other Fees From Special Duties

Ottawa, Sept. 17.—It is understood that a ruling has been made that under the amendment to the Judges' Act, passed at the last session of Parliament, judges are prohibited from receiving fees for sitting as members of conciliation boards under the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act. In the past judges have frequently been appointed to fill chairmanships on conciliation boards established by the Minister of Labor. In view of the above ruling, however, it seems likely that the number of such appointments will be materially reduced. While there is no doubt that in some cases judges would be willing to act without remuneration, it is a question whether parties to a dispute would feel justified in calling upon them to devote their leisure time to dealing with difficult questions arising out of industrial disputes on such a basis. It is understood that during the past Summer, and of course, subsequent to the passing of the amendment, several judges acted on conciliation boards. The amendment to the Judges' Act, while providing for increased salaries for judges, stipulated that fees which not to be accepted by them for other work.

Hamilton, Sept, 17.—Edward Fischer suspected of knowledge of the bomb outrage in New York yesterday was arrested in the Bank of Hamilton here this morning by the Hamilton police on a charge of instanity. Two men have been at the Royal Connaught hotel here for the past couple of days.

Ortonville, Minn., Sept. 17.—Two unmasked bandits early Thursday held up and robbed 20 laborers, who were occupying a special coach attached to train No. 3 on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, and escaped with $200 in cash and valuables. The bandits boarded the coach at Appleton East of here. One covered the laborers with a gun and the other went through their pockets and baggage. They left the train at Ortonville, and escaped in an automobile waiting nearby.

EXPLOSION SAID TO HAVE BEEN CAUSED BY BOMB

Commissioner Drennan Makes This Report to Mayor Hylan Today

New York, Sept. 17.—Fire Commissioner Drennan reported today to Mayor Hylan that the explosion yesterday was evidently caused by a bomb. More than 15 pounds of broken sash weights and other metal fragments have been collected by the Fire Department at the scene of the disaster, and turned over to the police, Commissioner Drennan said.

New York, Sept. 17.—The mysterious explosion that rocked New York's financial district yesterday, causing death to 31 persons and injuring 200 others was probably caused by an infernal machine, possibly a time bomb, according to the almost unanimous opinion of expert investigators of the Department of Justice and the police today. Search of the wreckage revealed fragments of clockwork such as commonly used in making bombs. Three pieces of curved metal were also found beneath the surface of the pavement in a hole caused by the explosion. Another piece was taken from the body of Robert Westday, 16 year old messenger boy, who was killed.

Investigators Busy

New York, Sept. 17.—The financial centres of big United States cities from Coast to Coast are armed camps today with police and private sentries posted to guard against the repetition of the explosion here.

The homes of all wealthy men are under guard.

The scene of yesterday's explosion is roped off while the Stock Exchange and Allied organizations resumed business at the usual hour this morning.

Several New York detectives and Secret Service men left the city early today for "destinations unannounced" on out of twon ends of investigation of the explosion.

Wm. J. Flynn, chief investigator of the Department of Justice, Washington, viewed the scene personally but refused to talk.

During the early morning Wall Street was cleaned up of its tons of debris and gangs washed down blood stained and spattered sidewalks and builings, while repair men remedied the damage done to office structures in the Morgan building and glaziers by the score began the long task of re-windowing the entire financial hub.

Casualty List

New York, N.Y., Sept. 17.—Paritally revised lists at 11 o'clock today showed 33 persons lost their lives in yesterday's explosion and approximately 200 persons were injured, besides scores who received slight cuts from flying glass.

MANUFACTURERS IN ITALY COMBAT PLANT CONTROL

Labor Organizations Seizing Many Cotton Mills and Other Plants

LANDLORDS IN SICILY

Driven Off by Tenant Farmers—Premier Confers With Strike Leaders in Turin

Rome, Sept. 17. -- Italian manufacturers were in session all over the country Thursday trying to decide some means of combatting the control of their plants by labor organizations.

Reports from Milan were that seizures of plants continued on a large scale. Cotton mills and jewelry works were among those put under workers' control. The movement extended to the peasantry. Landlords in Sicily were driven off by peasant farmers.

Premier Giolitti's arrival in Turin and his call for an immediate conference with strike leaders and manufacturers was expected to result in a quick turn in the situation.

Strikers' representatives have informed the prefect of Lusignoli that an ultimatum will be sent manufacturers demanding immediate acceptance of the principle of labor control of industry.

Socialist leaders announced they will attempt to obtain passage of a law to provide collaboration of labor in the management of all plants. Labor will insist in sharing in the technical and financial management of the works and assume charge of the employment bureaus for industries.

Conditions within the occupied plants remain secret. Shortage of materials and finances were expected to handicap the men. Sympathizers in transportation lines were ready to aid their fellows in the plants by diverting shipments of raw materials

Issuance of paper money was reported in some of the large establishments seized by workers.

NO AGREEMENT YET WITH MINERS AND GOVERNMENT

New Proposals Made by Miners Constitute an Advance Toward Solution Trouble

London, Sept. 17. — The conference of the coal miners' executive with Sir Robert Horne, President of the Board of Trade, adjourned late Thursday afternoon without an agreement having been reached in settlement of the controversy between the miners and the government. Sir Robert Horne declared, however, that new proposals made by the miners constituted an advance toward a peaceful solution of the trouble.

The miners proposed that the government forthwith grant the increase in wages demanded by them, but declared that an increase should not be put on the price of coal for consumption in the household. They also ask that tribunals be appointed to inquire whether the financial situation of the coal industry would stand a reduction in the price of coal, an inquiry into the declining output of coal, and an investigation of the present wage system with a view to granting up-to-date standard wages.

Sir Robert Horne replied that the only method of deciding the selling price of coal was that already adopted and on this point he declined to accede to the miners' proposal.

He also said he could not recommend that the miners should have two shillings advance under the present circumstances, but added that if an increased output were assured, an advance in wages could be given.

Robert Smillie, the miners' leader, had previously said that unless an advance were granted the executive could not advise the delegates at Tuesday's conference to postpone or call off the strike.

CAT REVEALS PLACE WHERE DYES HIDDEN

Newark, N.J., Sept. 17. — Methods attributed to the scientific detective in modern tales of mystery, applied to chemical analysis of orange-colored spots on a water-front cat, brought recoverey of 300,000 worth of olen German dyes and the arrest of 17 men, the United States Department of Justice Bureau here announces.

Government sleuths had been working for weeks to find out who held up a watchman at a State Department warehouse in Hoboken, where 6,000 pounds of German dyes, as part of Germany's indemnity, were being held, and carried the dyestuffs away in motor trucks. Suddenly attention was attracted by the strange orange color of spots on a wharf cat.

Following what amounted to an inspiration, a Department of Justice agent caught the cat and took it to a chemist, where its orange hair was analyzed, with the discovery, it was stated, that German dyes were responsible for its unique color.

The cat was then released and shadowed. Its "home" was said to have been located in a house on River street, Hoboken. The dyes were found nearby.

WANTS TO SIFT IRISH ATROCITIES

New York, Sept. 16.—Oswald Garrison Villard announced Wednesday that one hundred representative Americans had accepted the invitation of his magazine, "The Nation," to constitute a non-partisan commission to sift charges of atrocities in Ireland made against one another by the British government and Sinn Fein. The announcement says the "Committee of One Hundred on Ireland," as it will be known, feels that some neutral action is necessary in order to preserve Anglo-Saxon friendship and to prevent the spread of ill-will with the possibility of such irritation driving the U.S. and Great Britain into war.

Referring to Anglo-American relations, the invitation says that one grave result of the present situation is the "rapid growth of anti-British feeling, which seriously threatens the unspeakable calamity of war between the U.S. and Great Britain and endangers the peace of the world."

The program of the committee is not fully developed, but its sponsors suggest that the British government, Sinn Fein, and others be asked to present such evidence of violence or wrong-doing as they possess. The committee, it is said, will designate from its own members, or outside, a small commission to hear testimony and make "a thorough and impartial report."

The committee plans to begin sessions in Washington early in October.

NEW PASSENGER RATES BOOST HIGH COST OF LIVING

Brandon Travellers Already Find Trips Expensive—Comparison of Rates Given

With the increase in freight rates recently granted by the Board of Railway Commissioners to the Canadian railroads Brandon people as well as many other Canadians are now facing another increase in the high cost of living, and are now beginning to realize just what the increase means in connection with the high cost of travelling.

The holiday season is practically over and much of the general travelling is done, but many who have planned trips during the late Fall or probably the Winter months will find travelling much more expensive. As for the average business man, who is acustomed to take a short trip to a nearby city or town, the cost of these little trips will now occupy a much more important place in the annual budget.

With the increased rates in effect a flat rate of four cents a mile is established on Western lines, announced Robert Dawson, District Passenger Agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway this morning.

Fares in Eastern Canada have not yet been increased so that a trip to Toronto from Brandon means only an increase in sleeping car accommodation. The old rate for a lower berth from this city to Toronto was ten dollars, the increased rate makes it fifteen dollars.

While comparisons are always said to be odious, a few examples of how the increase will effect the travelling public in this city, should prove of interest.

Single fare from Brandon to Winnipeg, old rate $4.60; new rate $5.30. Round trip to Winnipeg, old rate, $8.30; new, $9.55. Fare for berth, old rate, $2.00, new, $3.00.

Single fare to Calgary, Alta., old rate $24.45; new, $28.30. Round trip to Calgary from Brandon, old rate, $44.00, new, $50.95. Price of berth, old rate, $5.00; new, $7.50.

With the new increase in force a trip to Regina from Brandon costs $8.90, instead of $7.65 as formerly while if one buys a round trip ticket now it will mean a cost of $16.00 instead of $13.75. The rate for a berth was two dolairs and with the increase effective is now three dollars.

GERMAN GENERALS RECEIVE LARGE SUMS FROM TURKS

Documents Showing Disposal of Secret Funds Reveal Interesting Facts

Constantinople, Sept. 16.—The publication of documents relating to the disposal of secret funds, amounting to several million dollars, by various Turkish government departments under the Unionist regime, purports to show that Djemal Pasha, now representing the Nationalists at the Baku Asiatic Bolsheviki congress, received more than $50,000 and that the late German Field Marshal Baron Kolmar Von Der Goltz, commander-in-chief of the First Turkish army, and the German Field Marshal Liman Von Sanders, commander of the Turkish forces in the Caucasus during the war, were given smaller sums as "gratification."

EMPTY GRAIN BINS AT KANSAS CITY

Shortage of Freight Cars Reflected in Situation Facing Missouri Elevators

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 16.—With wheat bins in Kansas City elevators practically empty and wheat arrivals inadequate to meet the demand for shipments to other markets and for export, the freight car shortage is clearly reflected here.

Slightly less than 2,000,000 bushels are now stored in local elevators which have a capacity of between 15 and 20 million bushels. A year ago the supply was nearly 9,000,000. The amount in storage here has increased only a few thousand bushels since the harvest.

The shortage of cars for grain shipment in the Southwest has never been more acute, according to grain company officials here.

A critical situation in business and financial circles was predicted by local grainmen unless the car situation is improved. tI will take 28 months, at the present rate, for the railroads to move wheat now in Kansas, according to Judge Clyde M. Reed, of the Kansas court of industrial relations, who is investigating the car shortage.

FIVE FIRMS SUBMIT TENDERS FOR HOSPITAL—BOARD TO MEET AGAIN

A meeting of the Hospital Board was held on Wednesday evening to consider the tenders for the building of the new Brandon General Hospital. The time for the filing of tenders with the Board expired on Wednesday, and it is stated that about five tenders were received. Winnipeg firms have made a bid for the work of constructing the $500,000 hospital, while several local firms have submitted tenders on heating, plumbing and electrical work.

As the meeting was not as large as was expected, it was decided to leave over the final consideration of the tenders until a later meeting, when a large representation is expected. No information regarding the amount of the tenders is given out at present.

OFFERS HUGE SUM TOWARDS FUND FOR EXHIBITION

British Government Plans to Help Big Exhibit in 1923

London, Sept. 16.—The Government has offered to give 100,000 pounds sterling toward the guaranty fund of the British Empire Exhibition on condition that a further sum of 500,000 pounds is secured otherwise. It is planned to hold the exhibitin London some time in 1923, the object being to demonstrate the natural resources the inventive and manufacturing possibilities of the Empire, and to foster a spirit of commercial and political co-operation among the dominions.

While the exhibition will be privately organized, the Government has stipulated, as a further condition of its offer of financial support, that the Board of Trade shall have the right to approve the appointent of the general manager of the exhibition, to supervise the selection of the executive council, and to aprove all regulations concerning the participation of the various parts of the Empire and the entry of British exhibitors. The board will be officially represented on the council.

COAL IS BEING RUSHED TO HEAD OF GREAT LAKES

Shipments Promise To Avert Threatened Shortage, But Rush Must Be Continued

Washington, Sept. 16.—Coal is being rushed to the Northwest by lake vessels from Ohio ports at a rate which promises to avert the threatened shortage in the states at the head of the Great Lakes next Winter. This is indicated by the weekly report of the geological survey on coal production.

It is shown that in the week ended Sept. 4th the coal dumped at Lake Erie ports totalled 1,074,756 tons, of which 1,035,372 tons were cargo coal and 39,384 tons vessel fuel. While this total was 16 per cent. less than the preceding week, yet it was twice as great as the quantity dumped in the corresponding week of 1919 and but little less than that of 1918.

It was twice as great as shipments during some of the weeks early in this season, when the traffic congestion caused a situation which resulted in the issuance of priority orders by the Interstate Commerce Commission to insure a supply of coal for the Northwest.

The shipments to the Northwest must be continued in more than ordinary volume during the remainder of the season of navigation in order to make up for the difficulties of the early part of the Summer. The coal thus far shipped by lake this season totals 12,084,000 tons, as against 17,952,000 tons during the corresponding period of 1918 and 16,702,000 tons in 1919. The year 1920 is thus about 33 per cent. behind 1918 and about 28 per cent. behind 1919.

RATE INCREASE APPEALS TO BE HEARD BY CABINET COUNCIL SEPTEMBER 29

Ottawa, Sept. 16.—Appeals against rate increases will be heard by the Cabinet Council at 10 a.m., Sept. 29. Generally speaking the grounds taken for apeal to the Cabinet are along the lines of those taken by the opponents of the rate increases when the case came before the Railway Commissioners.

SIXTY PERSONS REGISTER DURING FIRST THREE DAYS

Registration Very Small—Booths Close Saturday Evening—Women Show Interest

Only sixty persons have registered at the special booths in this city in connection with the registration for the coming referendum vote. This is a small number compared to those who are eligible to register, and it is expected that a big effort will be made before Saturday to have everyone register who has not already done so. It is pointed out that it is only necessary for those whose names do not appear on the recently compiled Provincial list, to register at the special booths. It is urged, however, that those who wish their names on the list should register as soon as possible, as the time for registration expires on Saturday evening at nine o'clock.

Four special booths have been open this week in four districts of the city, and those desiring to register may do so after nine o'clock in the morning and before nine in the evening The booth is closed only two hours during the day, between one and two o'clock, and again from six to seven o'clock in the evening. For those in the Eastern part of the city, a registration booth is open at 134 First street, a Central booth is located at the Provincial Employment Office on Tenth street, a Southern booth at 754 Tenth street and a Western booth at 1633 Rosser avenue. It is noted that the majority of those who have already registered are women showing that they are taking an active interest in the forthcoming vote on the referendum question.

RAILROADS MAY BE FORCED TO CURTAIL SERVICE

Shortage of Coal May Result in Tie-up of Northwestern Railroads

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 16.—Railroads of the Northwest may be forced to curtail service, with high prices, transportation congestion and waste the outcome, unless more bituminous coal reaches this section before Winter, J. M. Hannaford, president of the Northern Pacific, predicted. Coal docks at the head of the lakes are short over 4,000,000 tons of bituminous coal for railroads alone, he said. He said under normal conditions there should be over 5,000,000 tons of coal at Duluth and Superior for railroad use. There is now not more than half a million tons in storage, he said.

Railroads cannot operate without coal, Hannaford pointed out, and they might be forced into the open market, bidding against Northwest industries for coal badly needed for production. This would create a very serious situation.

TO HOLD ANOTHER MEETING BEFORE CALLING STRIKE

Miners May Have Misgivings Regarding Success of Strike

GOVERNMENT FIRM

Willing to Consider Question of Wages, But Not Coal Prices

London, Sept. 16.—Indications that the Miners Federation have misgivings relative to the calling of a strike on Sept. 25 is found in an announcement that a full conference of the delegates from every mining district in England is to be held next Tuesday. It is reported that a large number of the miners failed to give strike notices and the assertion is made that a large number of trades unionists are lukewarm in support of the miners. Another conference with Sir Robert Horne, President of the Board of Trade, will be asked for by the miners representatives it is stated. The Government is said to be willing to consider the question of wages but remains adamant on the demand for a reduction of coal prices.

HUNTERS FIND DUCKS PLENTIFUL ON OPENING DAY

War has been declared on the wild ducks. About one hundred local hunters went out to the various places in Manitoba where the ducks are said to abound and took part in the opening shoot of the season. Only a small number of the duck hunters have returned to the city, but quite a number report having secured the bag limit in their first day's shoot. The ducks are said to be very plentiful where there is plenty of water, but slough hunting is said to be very hard work this year. Consequently those who are able to visit the lakes were perhaps more fortunate in securing their limit than those who tried to shoot around the sloughs.

The Northern part of Manitoba is still favored by a large number of Brandon duck hunters, especially those who like slough shooting. Minnedosa, Basswood and other districts near these places, have always attracted a number of shooters from Brandon each year. That Oak Lake is really the favorite haunt for many Brandon men is quite evident from the number who left this city on Tuesday for that place. Practically all of the local hunters at Oak Lake have a regular shooting lodge to go to, and this greatly adds to the pleasure of duck hunting. The limit for ducks is twenty a day for the last fifteen days of September and then forty a day during the remainder of the season.

There is still some misunderstanding among many persons about the season for prairie chicken. Those out after game are reminded that the season for prairie chicken does not open until October 15th, and will be open then until the 22nd of the same month. A heavy penalty is provided where parties are discovered shooting chicken before the above time.

ITALY MAY ANNEX FIUME: TENTATIVE AGREEMENT REACHED BY PREMIERS

Rome, Sept. 16.—The Idea Nazionale declared Wednesday that an agreement was reached between Premiers Giolitti and Millerand at Aix les Bains whereby President Wilson's plans for making Fiume a free city under the League of Nations were discarded and a tentative agreement reached for annexation of that port by Italy.

The newspaper further stated that the main provisions of the pact of London, except that portion which does not award Fiume to Italy, were revived.

The pact of London was the agreement between Italy and the Entente whereby the former was to receive certain Austro-Hungarian territory for entering the war on the side of the Allies.

HAS LARGE BILLS IN POSSESSION WHEN ARRESTED

Man Committed at Rapid City Following Daring Theft—Case Puzzles Police

Charged with breaking and entering, James Farrell, alias Evans, was committed for trial at Rapid City on Tuesday. Provincial Canstable Hornby from this city, was present at the hearing. Farrell was arrested at Rapid City and when searched had six $100 bills and two $50 bills on his person. A merchant from Neepawa testified, according to Hornby, that Farrell had been held on suspicion in Neepawa a few days previous and when searched at that time had only twenty-three cents on his person. The large amount of money that Farrell had when arrested in Rapid City is puzzling the police, as the accused will not say where he secured bills of such large denominations.

Farrell was taken in charge following the sensational robbery of Messrs. Lockhart and Birkenshaw's place of business. A safe, which had the door shut, but not locked, was robbed, and a cash box containing Victory bonds and cash to the amount of $3,000 was stolen. The cash box was later found in an old mill. Another store in Rapid City was also entered the same night that the Victory bonds were taken and some merchandise taken. Enough evidence was given at the preliminary hearing on Tuesday to warrant the presiding magistrate committing the accused for trial.

COLLEGE JUNIOR KILLS STUDENT GETS 20 YEARS

Woodsville, N.H., Sept. 16.—Robt. T. Meads, of La Grange, Ills., the Dartmouth college junior who shot and killed Henry E. Maroney, of Medford, Mass., a fellow student, after a drinking bout in a college dormitory last June, pleaded guilty to manslaughter Wednesday. He was sentenced to serve 15 to 20 years at hard labor in the state prison.

Maroney, a senior, who had passed all his examinations and with class mates was celebrating the approaching commencement with a spree, was killed by Meads in Maroney's room, on the college campus, in the early morning of June 16.

The killing of Maroney by Meads uncovered rum running operations at Dartmouth college from Canada, in which Meads was alleged to be a leader.

BIRTLE MEMBER TO BE MINISTER OF AGRICULTURE

Winnipeg, Sept. 16.—G. J. H. Malcolm, M.L.A., for Birtle and senior private member in the government party in the provincial legislature, will be appointed minister of agriculture, to succeed the late Hon. Valentine Winkler, it was learned from official sources Wednesday.

The government, it is said, will announce the choice of Mr. Malcolm for the portfolio within the next three weeks, and his appointment will follow as quickly as possible. It is the desire of the government, according to reliable sources, to hold the by-election necessary to bring Mr. Malcolm into the cabinet before freeze-up.

Mr. Malcolm is a graduate of the Ontario Agricultural college, and is a successful farmer in his constituency. He has been a member of the provincial house continuously since 1910 and has been an able supporter of the present government since it assumed power and when it was in opposition.

He was first elected to the legislature in a by-election in Birtle, No. 27, 1909, and again in the general election of 1910 by a majority of 110 over E. Graham, who opposed him. In 1914 he defeated William Taylor by a majority of 309, and in the following year defeated F. Arnold by 451 majority. In the recent election he defeated Samuel Larcombe by a majority of 134.

He was born at Kussowile, India, August 20, 1865, the son of Colonel George Malcolm of the Border regiment. He came to Canada in 1882 with the intention of farming, and in order to gain scientific knowledge of agriculture, went to the college at Guelph. He has been prominent in the Grain Growers' organization in past years.

NEW 16 INCH SHELL MADE IN U. S. PIERCES 14 INCH ARMOR PLATE 10 DEGREES

Washington, D.C., Sept. 16.—On the heels of news that the Navy Department had successfully directed movements of an 11,000-ton battleship by radio, it was learned Wednesday that the Department has perfected a 16-inch shell which pierced 14-inch plate armor at an angle of ten degrees. The feat was made possible by the invention of an explosive of tremendous energy and by the special construction of the head of the shell.

THIRTY KILLED IN BIG EXPLOSION

Lower Manhattan Rocked With Terrific Force of Explosion in Wall Street

New York, N.Y, Sept. 16.—A terrific explosion which rocked all of lower Manhattan occurred at noon today outside the offices of J. P. Morgan & Co., on Wall Street Many persons were killed and many others injured. Julius Spencer Morgan, son of J. P. Morgan, and a member of the firm, was badly cut by flying glass. The officials of the company denied the first reports that bombs exploded in the Morgan building.

Never in its history has lower Manhattan witnessed such excitement as prevailed today. Trading on bith the stock and curb exchanges was suspended for the day a few minutes after the explosion occurred. Fire apparatus and ambulances dashed through the narrow financial district on which lay a covering of shattered glass.

Among the first bodies recovered were those of three girls, terribly mutilated. A police cordon was hastily thrown around the centre of the financial district when thousands, hearing of the explosion, flocked that way.

The United States Sub-Treasury, immediately opposite the scene, was placed under a heavy police guard to protect millions of dollars in the structure.

The first efforts of the police were directed towards removing the bodies. At 12.45 fourteen dead were seen lying in the streets and ten others reported taken away by volunteer workers. At 1 p.m. the casualty list was placed at more than a score dead and about 75 inured.

At 12.35 police reports showed 15 dead, but an accurate count was impossible owing to the excitement. It was actually impossible, an hour after the explosion, to determine either its exact nature or location.

It was reported, however, that shortly before noon an automobile containg two men drew up in front of the Morgan offices, and when Morgan deliveries approached one man alighted and either accidentally or purposely dropped what appeared to be a bomb. The occupants of skyscraper buildings on Wall Street told another version of the automobile story.

They declared they had seen a car draw up and the men leave it. These spectators advanced the theory that a bomb—if it was a bomb—had been timed. The first story claimed both men were killed.

New York, Sept. 16. — So far as could be learned no prominent financiers or members of the Stock Exchange were injured in the explosion. An hour after the explosion occurred the police were inclined to the theory that it had been caused by the collision of an explosive-laden truck or automobile on Wall Street, between the Morgan office and the Sub-Treasury building. They pointed out the fact that a demolished truck and wrecked auto were found at this point. The authorities switched their theory from dynamite which they had at first believed had been the cause of the explosion to T.N.T. because of the fact that there appeared no hole in the pavement, which would have been blasted by the downward force of dynamite.

Latest Report

New York, Sept. 16.—The unofficial estimate of dead at 1.20 this afternoon was 30, with the number injured estimated at 200.

TELLS HOW HE SECURED LARGE TIMBER TRACTS

Without Putting Up Any Money—Jackson Before Timber Inquiry

Toronto, Sept. 16. — Professing to have had only slight acquaintanceship with Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, former Minister of Lands, Forests and Mines, and declaring that he knew of no particular reason why he should have been so favored in the matter of obtaining timber limits, J. B. Jackson, of New Liskeard, told Justices Riddell and Latchford, at the timber inquiry here Wednesday that shortly before the last provincial elections were held he had been given a license for 81 square miles of limits in Stanley township wihout competition.

He had put up no money, he said, except a few hundred dollars for travelling expenses. He had found men with money, was given a third interest in the permit and had sold this for $2,000.

Albert Grigg, Deputy Minister of Lands, Forests and Mines, was recalled Wednesday afternoon with reference to a letter written by Samuel Marke to Hon. Mr. Ferguson about abuses which Mr. Marke had reported to the department, but the letter was missing and Mr. Grigg could not tell what had become of it.

CANADIAN FIRMS MUST PAY GERMAN DEBTS AT PAR

Canadian and British Governments Collect Debts Owing During War

Montreal, Sept. 16.—All debts payable by Canadian firms to German and other enemy firms at the time of the war, which were unpayable for that cause, are to be collected through the Canadian Government, acting with the British Government, and they must be paid at the full par value rate of the German mark, irrespective of its present value.

All amounts of over $100 are being collected through the Department of the Secretary of State and are being turned over to the British Government and credited against amounts owed by Germans to firms to business enterprises coming under the head of British subjects.

It was stated at the office here of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association that a number of Montreal firms have such debts running in some cases into large sums of money.

CANADA'S GREATEST FARMER

When Canada wanted to honor Seager Wheeler, her greatest farmer, she had, unlike China, no Order of the Golden Crop to give him. He had to be content with a humdrum LL. D. from Queen's College, Kingston, Ont., says the Nation's Business. That was the recognition of a man who has pushed back the Northern wheat limit 200 miles and added millions to the farming wealth of Canada. And all this on a farm of 160 acres which he bought for $3 an acre from the Canadian Pacific railroad in 1883 and to which he has never added.

If genius is an infinite capacity for taking pains, Dr. Wheeler is a genius. Year after year he selected seed wheat until he had produced the two varieties, Red Bobs and Kitchener, with which his name is linked. Year after year he picked the choicest heads to be replanted and picked over again. His Red Bobs was the result of one red head in a plot of white wheat from Australia. From it he has harvested sixty bushels to an acre. Kitchener was bred by the same painstaking selection, bred partly for length and strength of straw to stand the climate of Western Canada. With this wheat Dr. Wheeler made a world's record yield of eighty-two bushels to the acre. Think of that as against an average in the United States of sixteen or seventeen bushels. (He once refused $15 for a six-ounce bottle of this wheat, a little matter of $2,400 a bushel.

A GREAT REFORM

Criticism of the Union Government bids fair to become one of the great Canadian sports — and this, too, in spite of the fact that the Union Government did more for Canada than any government which has ever been assembled. The play was all one-sided until a short time ago, when some of the people began to realize the seriousness of wholesale condemnations and have since been recalling and enumerating some of the good measures enacted by this much maligned government.

It is remembered by some that when the Union Government took office, party patronage was one of the greatest obstacles to good government. The Union Government promised to put an end to patronage—and it kept faith. Appointments are made because of fitness for the post and promotions are now made upon merit throughout the various departments of the civil service. Under the old system which came into vogue with Confederation, the incentive of ambition was almost if not entirely removed. Civil servants realized that the position given to them at the time they entered the service would be theirs just so long as they lived, provided their political activities did not win them promotion or dismissal, depending upon a continuance or change of government. The vicious principle of influence and "pull" were the factors which counted for success. The plums of public service were reserved to be used as a reward for those who refused to accept minor posts and whose political services the successful Government candidate was in no position to deny.

This is all changed now. In both the inside and outside service employes can confidentially reckon upon promotion, provided they are fit, when the higher positions become vacant. Even the deputy heads of the great Government departments are generally selected from the staff, the qualification of efficiency being paramount with the appointing body.

Civil service reform, long clamored for, is a fact. It has come to stay and under the Meighen Government may be expected to reach a greater measure of proficiency than has been possible during the brief time since its adoption.

A TERRIBLE WEAKNESS

Forgetfulness is sometimes a blessing, at others it is a curse. It brings balm to the hearts of grief stricken ones, but when it results in overlooking plain lessons and stern warnings, it is a positive menace.

Canadians are proud of the fact that illiteracy is not so prevalent here as in the United States and often they are content with this knowledge, forgetful of the menace of illiteracy to the democratic structure. Every Canadian man and woman over a certain age has a voice in the nation's affairs under our form of democratic government, and too many of them can neither read or write and must look for their sources of information too often to the poorly informed and either vicious ones or others whose information is vague and unreliable.

George MacAdam, writing in the World's Work, reminds the United States of something that it was apparently in danger of forgetting: "With the coming of the world war and the draft, a big cross-section was taken out of our nation—a cross-section that represented all classes, city and country, North, East, West and South—and given a literacy test such as no mammoth cross-section had ever before been given. Unlike the census-takers, the army boards did not ask a man: 'Can you read and write?' They subjected him to tests. They tested him to see if he could read a newspaper intelligently, to see if he could write an intelligible letter home. No very ambitious tests. Literacy could hardly ask less. But practically one man out of every four—24.9 per cent.—failed. That cross-section was representative of our nation. Its showing means that one-fourth of our population is illiterate."

Supposing that in Canada a similar test had been made. It is unlikely that the results would show that we are more than fifty per cent. better off. Then, taking it for granted that one out of every six Canadians can neither read nor write, what is our position at a time when the forces of unrest are stirring up bitterness in the hearts of the unlearned against more fortunate or more ambitious ones.

If this assumption is correct it is then true that one-sixth of the bricks out of which the edifice of free government in this land is constructed are not honest bricks, but soft cubes of yielding mud.

The success of free government depends upon the intelligence and capacity of the self-governing people. Ignorance is a weakness. Illiteracy is a menace. What, then, is our position if one-sixth of the people cannot measure up to the simplest requirement of citizenship? Is not free government exposed to attacks liable to wreck it in a time of grave stress. So long as illiteracy holds sway the foundations of civilization are insecure. Let us banish illiteracy.

ANNUAL RALLY DAY NEXT SUNDAY

Sunday Schools of Manitoba Churches Hope to Have Large Attendances

Sunday, September 26, will be observed as the annual Sunday School Rally Day in the Baptist, Congregational, Methodist and Presbyterian Churches of Manitoba.

As is customary, this day will be observed for this purpose all over Canada, and a similar program will be used in the churches. This year it is hoped that Manitoba Churches will break all previous records and demonstrate the strength of the new co-operative movement which was recently set up through the Religious Education Council.

An outline of the program for the day follows: Doxology; Call to Worship; Hymn, "Forward Be Our Watchword"; Prayer, followed by the Lord's Prayer in unison; Reading in concert by school or class; Hymn, "I Am So Glad that Our Father in Heaven"; Recitation, by class or group in concert; Rally Day offering; Music, special; Address, "Our Aim" (two speakers suggested); Hymn, "Sowing in the Morning"; Roll Call; Award of Certificates, etc.; Hymn, "The Whole Wide World for Jesus"; Benediction; distribution of papers.

The Rally Day offering goes to the support of the denominational Sunday School and Young People's boards. As these denominations all enter heartily nto co-operative work, the whole community shares in the benefits.

FRYATT'S SHIP SOLD AT AUCTION

Britain to Use the Money Received For Memorial Purposes

London, Sept. 20.—The steamship Brussels, Capt Fryatt's ship, has been sold at auction at the Baltic Shipping Exchange in London for £3,100. The purchaser was T. B. Stott, of the firm of T. B. Stott & Co., ship owners, of Liverpool. The vessel was sold as she lay. The purchaser said he had not decided what he would do with her.

Many ship owners attended the sale, but bidding for the historic ship was not spirited. H. G. Kelloc, head of the firm of Kelloc & Co., conducted the sale and in his call for bids appealed to the sentiments rather than to the commercial feeling of the bidders. The first bid was for £3,000 and was on behalf of David Petrie, of London and Antwerp. After coaxing by the auctioneer, the bid was raised £100 by Mr. Stott, and with no other bid forthcoming the vessel was sold to him.

Sir Ernest Glover, representing the Ministry of Shipping, attended the sale and said a request had been received from the Belgian Government that a portion of the Bursels should be given to them for incorporation in a memorial to Capt. Fryatt, which Belgium was erecting in Zeebrugge.

The Government, it was announced, will apply the sum derived from the sale of the Brussels to some charitable purpose connected with Capt. Fryatt's name.

PORTSMOUTH HAS REAL GHOST SCARE

Swaying Apparition Proves to be Nothing More Than Strip of Wallpaper

Portsmouth, Sept. 20.—A ghost scare has just thrilled the dockyards district of Portsmouth, where hundreds of men and women passed the whole of a night recently watching "a woman dressed in white, with gently swaying body, standing beside an open window of a house that had long been deserted."

The "ghost" was first seen by children playing in the street in the moonlight. They ran from the place screaming, and soon a large crowd of men and women gathered and saw the spectre. Bricks were thrown at the apparition but still the swaying body remained beside the wondow, continuing always its mournful see-saw. Its invulnerability convinced the crowd that they were really looking at something supernatural, but examination of the room the next morning revealed that the "ghost" was only a strip of hanging wallpaper, upon which the rays of a street lamp fell.

Has Full Set of Rubber Stamps to Mark Checks "Accepted"

Victoria, Sept. 20—In the arrest here of Allan L. Coleman, alias Dr. Edward Durand, of Detroit, the police believe they have in custody the man who from Montreal West has been victimizing merchants at various towns by passing worthless checks stamped "accepted."

In his effects the police found bank books of a number of Canadian banks purporting to show that Coleman has money on deposit up into the thousands. These books, it is alleged, are forged.

A set of rubber type and ink pads were found, and a large number of checks, some of them filled in and marked "accepted."

The man was arrested here charged with obtaining goods by false pretenses.

ITALIAN POSTAL SERVICE IS FAR FROM PERFECT

Government Control Blamed for Unsatisfactory Conditions Which Prevail

Rome, Sept. 18.—Complaint that the government postal and telegraph service is poor is crystalized in a statement by Professor Ugo Ancona, member of the recent Italian cabinet, who declares that the Ministry of Posts and Telepraphs must be abolished and organized anew. The Professor suggests also that subsidiary branches of the Ministry, except the savings banks, be given over to private enterprise, declaring that it is impossible to go on as things now are.

Professor Ancona charges the Ministr yis a hopeless "maid of all work" which tries to operate the postal service, telegraphs, telephones, savings banks, loans and national lotteries and that it does all of these services poorly. The public is rapidly learning to send parcels by private firms since of those confided to the state more than 20 per cent. do not arrive, while 30 per cent. of those received are without their contents, says the professor. He charges also that the Ministry of Posts is enormously overstaffed with about 66,000 employes, some of whom are "terribly underpaid," and that both discipline and organization are sadly wanting.

The Ministry had a deficit equivalent to $13, 000,000 in its budget for last year owing to greatly increased operating expenses and wages. The deficit is expected to reach 30,000,000 for the current year.

COAL MINERS TO HAVE FIRST CALL IN U. S. FOR EMPTY RAILROAD CARS

Washington, D.C., Sept. 20.—Coal mines will continue to have first call on empty railroad cars to insure a supply of Winter fuel under an order of the interstate commerce commission which went into effect Sunday. The order extended for an indefinite period the life of the commission's recent priority list, which was to have become void on Sunday.

Extension of the priority list was made necessary by the strike of anthracite coal miners, which reduced the output of that fuel and decreased the supply of bituminous coal. Anthracite production fell to nearly 500,000 tons last week as a result of the strike, it was estimated here today.

STATEMENT SHOWS NEW AUSTRALIAN TARIFF POLICY

Became Effective March 25 But Still Requires Approval of Parliament

TRIPLE PURPOSE

Of New Policy Comprises British, Intermediate and General Tariff

Melbourne, Australia, Sept. 18.—A statement regarding the policy underlying the new Australian tariff has been issued by the Australian Commonwealth authorities. Although the new tariff became effective from March 25, the date of its introduction in the Federal Parliament, it is officially stated to be in "the proposal stage," and will require the approval of parliament before technically becoming the law of the land. In the meantime, according to the usual practice, the new 1920 duties are being collected. The statement says:

"In drafting the tariff, the chief object in view was not to give security to the industries which had started or expanded during the war, but also to provide scope for their further development, so as to enable them, so far as this end is attainable, to supply all Australian requirements, especially as regards those industries whose raw materials are produced in Australia. It was recognized, in fixing the measure of protection, that customs duties which are not high enough to be effective are worse than useless.

"It was also recognized that in consequence of the disorganization of industry in the United Kingdom owing to the war, and of the higher cost of production resulting from it, an increase in the preference to goods manufactured in the United Kingdom was necessary in order to give such goods a favorable opportunity of competing with the products of other countries trading with Australia.

"In addition provision is being made in the tariff act authorizing negotiations with other countries for the purpose of arranging reciprocal tariff agreements. This provision will authorize the extension of the benefit of the British preferential tariff, or of the intermediate tariff, subject to reciprocal concessions being agreed upon, to British Dominions, and the extension under similar conditions of the benefit of the intermediate tariff to countries other than those within the British Empire. It is now however, proposed to enter into tariff agreements with any country in which the economic conditions are lower than in Australia.

"In order to serve these purposes the tariff has been arranged on the triple-column principle, comprising the British preferential tariff, an intermediate tariff, and a general tariff. With the exception of goods the produce or manufacture of the United Kingdom which are being admitted under the British preferential tariff, and of certain goods the produce of South Africa, with which Dominion a preferential agreemnt has been in operation since 1906, all other goods are liable to duty at the rates of the general tariff, and will remain so liable unless a reciprocal agreement is made with the countries concerned.

"Another new feature of the tariff is the proposal of differential duties, i.e., of duties which will come into operation at a specific future date. The purpose of this procedure is to give encouragement to the introduction of industries already in existence and in connection with which there are evident prospects of capital being invested for their establishment in the immediate future. Examples may be cited such as steel plates and sheets, reapers and binders and mowers, hay rakes, caustic soda, explosives, etc.

"With reference to the ad valorem rates of the tariff, the basis of the value of duty is the domestic price in the country where the goods are exported to Australia; that is, the price at which similar goods in similar quantities are sold for home consumption in such country. To this price is added the cost of placing the goods on board at the port of export and to the f.o.b. value thus ascertained, a further addition of 10 per cent. is made."

CANADA EXPECTS BIG SUM FROM EUROPE FOR CROP

This Year's Crop Said to Be Second Best in History of Dominion

Montreal Que ,Sept. 20.—The new crop will bring Canada at leastu five hundred million dollars from Europe, which money will help substantially to build up Canadian industry commented Y. A. Allan of Jas. Carruthers & Co. declaring the banks have the money to move it.

"Our information," said Mr. Allan "is that it is a big money crop as well as one in which the higher grade of hard in numbers one and two Northern predominate. It is the second best crop that Canada ever raised. The 1915 crop was larger, but this crop will bring more money as the prices are higher."

Joseph Quintal, of Quintall & Lynch, said his firm had various estimates from private sources for the new crop ranging from 210 to 270 million bushels of wheat. It had been said that $2.60 would be the price per bushel, but in his opinion that was mere speculation.

DANCES AND DRESS CRITICIZED BY BISHOP JONES

Porto Rico Divine Advises Priests Not to Organize or Attend Dances

San Juan, Sept. 18.—Present styles of dress and the newer dances are severely criticized as immodest and degrading by the Rt. Rev. William A. Jones, Bishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Porto Rico, who has issued a warning to both priests and parishioners against their demoralizing influences.

Certain of the modern dances are "mockery to shame and in reality are nothng more than a bait to sensuality," in the opinion of the Bishop, while the style of the day in women's dresses, he warns, should not be used to "exhibit nakedness."

Priests are advised that they may not organize dances for church benefits, according to instruction from the Pope, while they may not attend festivals organized by lay members of their congregations where dancing is indulged in .

The Bishop gives his views on dress and dancing in an ecclesiastical letter addressed to both priests and mebers of the church in this diocese and published in the official church bulletin.

OIL WELL CLOSED BECAUSE DISPUTE OVER ROYALTIES

Lord Hartington Closes Well When Royalty Payments Are Not Adjusted

A dispute between Lord Hartington and the Government over royalties payable on oil from the Hardstaff well, near Chesterfield, England, has resulted in the well being "plugged," owing to lack of storage facilities. Thousands of gallons of oil of good grade from this well have been stored for months. Lord Hartington refusing to allow it to be marketed unless the Government comes to terms and allows him a royalty on the well's output.

The dispute between him and the Government will in all likelihood continue for some time, or, more properly speaking, until the Government obtains from Parliament the enactment of a law declaring all mineral oil deposits the property of the State. The present Government introduced such a measure, agreeing to pay a royalty on production, but a strong opposition caused its withdrawal. The measure probably will come up again, however, when Parliament meets net Autumn.

The product of the Hardstaff well, which is the only oil flowing well in Great Britain, will, according to experts, compare favorably with the flow of wells in America, and proves that petroleum production here is an attractive commercial undertaking.

STRENGTHEN BONDS OF FRIENDSHIP URGES PALMER

Commissioner of Friendship League Gives Eloquent Address to Canadian Club

PROPAGANDA AT WORK

To Sever Good Relations Between Canada and U. S.—Has Faith In Ireland

Urging Canadians to interest themselves greatly in the preservation of the present splendid relationship between the British Empire and the United States, Dr. Kennedy Huntley Palmer gave an eloquent address before the Canadian Club on Tuesday evening. Dr. Palmer is the Commissioner of the Society for American and British Friendship, and is at present on a tour of Canada investigating propaganda which is being spread over this country in order to destroy the good fellowship with our neighbors to the South of us. The shouting of peace, peace, peace, said Dr. Palmer, would do no good until we stamp out the insidious propaganda which is striving to sever the bonds of our present good relationship.

In commencing his address the speaker said that there is a great deal of attention in this country being directed to the relations between Canada and the United States. For one hundred years we have kept trust but there are at present influences abroad tending to weaken the present bond. He urged Canadians everywhere to work for the banishment from this country of all Hearst publications which are doing so much to spread propaganda which will weaken the friendship between the two countries.

Dr. Palmer also impressed upon Canadians the necessity of sending speakers to the United States and presenting to them the true facts concerning our British Empire. The British Empire has nothing to fear from the truth. He laid stress upon the international enthusiasm kindled during the last two years of the war, and that some are now trying to throw water upon those same fires. The parties interesting themselves in working against a common bond of friendship are being paid from New York for so doing, the speaker said.

Friendship can best be promoted by the interchange of ideas and ideals. Britain's ambassador to the United States was the young Prince of Wales who, said Dr. Palmer, got as great a reception in New York as any United States President. The speaker said that we are joined in sentiment, joined by language, by common literature, and ideals. He also added to this our material interests, and last, but not least, he said that we are joined together by our common enemy. This enemy is more deadly than the one faced in Flanders' fields because it works in the dark. He asked Canadian for to close their eyes to the dangers around us, but to fight against this common foe.

The blending of ideals and ideas will make for a lasting and enduring peace, when constitutions are forgotten and the League of Nations passes away. "Let us cultivate love for our neighbors to the South of us and we will have a League that will stand forever," said Dr. Palmer.

That he still has faith in Ireland despite the recent happenings, was the declaration of the speaker, who spoke for a few minutes on the great Irish question. Having lived in Ireland, Dr. Palmer is conv rsant with conditions there, and he said the trouble makers are at work in Ireland to stir up trouble and discontent in that country. "As for the United States taking issue in the present question, I say 'hands off, and mind your own business," said the Commissioner. The United States has plenty to handle at home without taking sides on the Irish question. To work for a friendship that would be lasting and which would forever keep the best of relations between the two great nations, Great Britain and the United States, was the urgent message given by Dr. Palmer in conclusion.

Ontario Leader Says Special Sitting to Pass on Sandy Bill Unnecessary

IMPERIAL PRESS PARTY SAILED FOR HOME TODAY

Lord Burnham Goes to Newfoundland for Trip—Slight Damage to Metagama

Montreal, Sept. 15.—The Canadian Pacific Ocean Service liner, Empress of Britain, left Quebec to-day for Liverpool and will carry the main group of the Imperial Press Conference party home. Viscount Burnham, the head of the party, has gone on to Newfoundland and will leave Quebec next week. The total carried on the ship is 120 first, 150 second, and 250 third class.

The damage to the Metagama must be very slight after her accident on Sunday, when she became embedded in a clay bank 25 miles below Montreal and remained fast for 40 hours. She is announced to load for passengers on Saturday next, as advertised.

The Cunard liner Carmania is expected to reach Halifax Friday or Saturday next. She has on board 17 first, 70 second and 132 third class passengers.

For the first time this season not a single vessel arrived at or left this port Tuesday and i addition there was nothing in the river between Quebec and Montreal beyond a few lake boats.

PEARSON IS NEW DEPUTY TREASURER

Succeeds Late W. J. Ptolemy to Provincial Office—Takes Over Duties at Once

Winnipeg, Sept. 15.—R. M. Pearson was appointed Deputy Provincial Treasurer, by order-in-council passed by the government Tuesday. Mr. Pearson has been selected for the position for some months because of the impending retirement of W. J. Ptolemy, whose sudden death came shortly before he would have obtained a complete rest from public duties. The new deputy had been working with Mr. Ptolemy since August 1, and would have assumed complete charge of the work in October.

Hon. Edward Brown, Provincial Treasurer, arrived in Winnipeg from The Pas, Monday afternoon, after making a 90-mile dash in a gasoline railway jigger in order to catch the only train which would bring him here in time to attend the funeral of Mr. Ptolemy Tuesday. He will return to his constituency Friday and remain until the election has been held on September 28.

Mr. Brown did not accompany the party of legislators, which has been inspecting the mining districts, but intended to board the freight train taking the party through to Hudson Bay Junction, 90 miles South of The Pas, when it passed through. The party, however, did not reach the Hudson Bay railway line and the train did not start. Mr. Brown failed to find out until too late to make the connection at Hudson Bay Junction by any other means than the jigger.

MANY CHARGES AGAINST ELECTED MEMBER DROPPED

Evidence Concluded in Charges Against Hon. G. H. Ferguson —No Further Witnesses

Toronto, Sept. 15.—With the conclusion of Hon. J. D. Reid's evidence in the South Grenville election hearing this morning, W. N. Tilley, counsel for the respondent, announced that no further witnesses would be called.

Drops 45 Charges

Prescott, Sept. 15. — A wholesale dropping of charges against Hon. G. H. Ferguson on account of lack of support in the evidence adduced, and a motion for non-suit by W. N. Tilley, K.C., chief counsel for Mr. Ferguson, featured Tuesday's hearing of the appeal against the election of Hon. G. H. Ferguson in South Grenville last October. When the court met Tuesday evening, Gordon Waldron, counsel for G. Arthur Payne, defeated U.F.O. candidate, outlined some 45 charges which he was dropping for lack of evidence to support them.

This left about 15 charges yet to be disosed of. These, Mr. Tilley claimed, had not been proved. There was no proof of agency on the part of any one alleged to have attempted or committeed corrupt acts. No connection between these men and Mr. Ferguson had been shown, counsel argued.

As to the alleged payment for meals served to persons attending the convention at Spencerville, there was no corrupt act or intent and no evasion or contravention of the section of the Election Act under which such matters would come.

Ferguson was not a candidate when this meeting was called. "Until a candidate is selected there can be no meeting assembled to promote his election," declared Mr. Tilley. "There is not a single charge set up so far which calls for any answer by Mr. Ferguson," counsel concluded.

REPUBLICANS SWEEP MAINE STATE ELECTIONS

Every Member of State Senate Will Be a Republican— Big Majority for Gov.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Is Outstanding Issue of Campaign —Victory Rebuke to Wilson

Portland, Maine., Sept. 15.—Maine gave an overwhelming plurality to the Republican ticket in the state election Tuesday with a total vote larger by 55,000 than the highest ever previously in the state. Frederick H. Parkhurst, of Bangor, was elected Governor by a margin of 65,000 over his Democratic opponent, Bertrand G. McIntyre, of Norway. The plurality was 17,000 more than the largest obtained by any other gubernatorial candidate in the history of the state.

Four Republican congressmen were elected by larger pluralities.

Every member of the state Senate will be a Republican, while of a membership of 151 in the state House of Representatives the Democratics succeeded in electing only 15. In the last legislature there were two Democratic senators and 41 Democratic representatives.

Present Autocratic Administration

Democratic state leaders were silent as to the possible significance of the vote with relation to the presidential election in November. Col. Parkhurst, after being assured of his election, gave the viewpoint of the Republicans in a statement in which he pointed out that the campaign had been "vigorously contested by the Democrats on national issues and said that the outcome gave "most conclusive evidence that the voters of Maine resent the autocratic and un-American administration that the Democrats have given us.' He declared that it was "equally an endorsement of Harding and Coolidge."

Matters of merely state importance were hardly touched upon in the campaign. The leading speakers were men of national prominence, both parties striving to effect a good showing in the "barometer state," the only state in the union to hold its state election in advance of the voting for president.

League the Outstanding Issue

The outstanding issue of the campaign was the League of Nations. Democrats and Republicans fought bitterly for and against it. Senator Lodge was one of the principal speakers against the league during the fight here. Republicans claimed today that the sweeping G.O.P. victory is a rebuke to the Wilson administration and a repudiation of the League of Nations.

ELECTION DATES FOR THE PAS AND RUPERT'S LAND TO COME ON SAME DAY

Winnipeg, Sept. 15.—Election dates are the same for The Pas and Rupert's land—Sept. 28—it was announced at the Government Buildings Tuesday. Nomination day in The Pas was Tuesday and in Rupert's Land next Saturday. By special provision in the Election act the election day can be set in these two constituencies to take place on a date more than one week following nomination day.

Hon. Edward Brown said that as far as could be learned the only opposition he would receive in The Pas would be from Allan Norgrove runninv on the Labor ticket. During the campaign there has been a total absence of personalities, said Mr. Brown, and both contestants had been very friendly. From personal observation, he said, the policy of the Government was meeting with general approbation, whereas, although there were strong Labor elements, the Labor platform did not seem to appeal to the electorate.

PROTECTION TARIFF LEVY NEEDED BY U.S. FARMERS SAYS SENATOR HARDING

MUCH BUSINESS IS TRANSACTED BY PRESBYTERY

Rev. R. Paterson is Pastor of St. Andrew's Church — Many Reports Made

At a meeting of the Brandon Presbytery held Tuesday in St. Paul's Church, Rev. Robert Paterson, of this city, was appointed pastor of St Andrew's Church for six months. The congregation of St. Andrews Church is making ssplendid progress towards clearing off the mortgage and debt on the church and expect to have this accomplished by the end of this month.

Routine business occupied much of the time of those present. Reports were given on Religious Education work and also on the work of the Missionary Committee. Missionaries who have been in the field within the bounds of the Brandon Presbytery gave reports of their work during the Summer months. Application was made for the right to sell some church property in order that the proceeds might be used for the Union Church at Griswold. The Presbytery decided to make overtures to the General Assembly in February to grant to all Presbyteries the rgiht to give such permission if deemed advisable.

The following nominations for the Assembly appointments were made as follows: For the Chair of Systematic Theology in Westminster College, Vancouver, B.C., Rev. E. McGougan, of Edmonton, Alta.

For the Chair of Systematic Theology in Robertson College, Edmonton, Rev. R. J. McDonald, of Prince Albert, Sask.

To the Business Managership for Presbytery and publications, Toronto, Rev. James Rollins, of Peterboro, Ont.

To the editorship of the weekly church paper for the whole Presbyterian Church in Canada Rev. Dr. George C. Pidgeon of Toronto, Ont.

In connection with the proposed appointment to a Chair in Saskatoon Presbyterian College to train workers in the non-English field, the Presbytery deferred nomination until the question of training such workers is further considered.

DELEGATES FROM DOMINION LEAVE ON OCTOBER 24

Sir Robert Borden and Hon. C. J. Doherty Attend Assembly League of Nations

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—Sir Robert Borden and Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice, plan to sail October 24th to attend the first meeting of the assembly of the League of Nations which is to be held at Geneva. Hon. N. W. Rowell, former president of the Privy Council, who is now on a trip to South Africa, probably will be the third representative from Canada. All three were present when the league was created in Paris and were signatories to the document.

The assembly will convene Nov. 15 and will probably remain in session for a month or so. The question of including the leader of the opposition among the Canadian delegation of three has been raised at the capital, but it is contended in objection that the representatives should be men wholly in accord with the Government's policies. In any case Mr. King has planned for a Western tour during the coming month and this he could not very well cancel. Mr. King's approval of the principle of the league is well known.

FIRST SESSION OF COMMISSION IS CONCLUDED TODAY

R. A. Pringle Defends Protective Tariff — Beamis Bag Co. Makes Statement

SINGLE TAX LEAGUE

Supports Reduction of Tariff — Propose Tax on Unimproved Land Values

Winnipeg, Sept. 15.—The first session of the Tariff Commission was concluded at 12.20 p.m.. The Commission will leave Thursday for Medicine Hat where they will hold a session Friday. The presentation of the case for the Canadian Manufacturers Association asking the retention of the protective tariff and the case of the Canadian Council of Agriculture asking it's reduction, occupied the entire Winnipeg sitting.

Local industries representing capital investments of millions of dollars in statements, urged the retention of the protective tariff which, they held made their existence possible. A number of local firms, including the Beamis Bag Company, a million dollar concern, definitely told the Commission that any drastic lowering of the tariff would result in their having to cease business on account of competition from the United States.

At the opening of the Tariff Commission this morning, R. A. Pringle, K.C., of Ottawa, representing the Textile Industries of Canada, continued his defence of the protective tariff. He said, "Dominion Textile Companies have been criticized for their war profits. I am prepared to justify these. Industries were called upon to take great war risks. Fortunately though, they managed to emerge with a fair profit."

Dealing with the tariff platform of the Farmers party, which he read, Pringle said it would mean the destruction of millions of dollars invested in Canadian industry. "Their platform says free trade in five years." If we are to die, far better would it be to have sudden death rather than prolonged agony," he declared.

D. W. Buchanan, representing the Single Tax League of Western Canada, advocated the reduction of the tariff along lines proposed by the Canadian Council of Agriculture. In a memorandum setting forth the views of the League it is stated, "tariff as a means for raising public revenue is inequitable and burdensome, and wasteful, and it would be wise and expedient for the Dominion Government to make a substantial reduction in the tariff and to replace revenues which are thereby lost by a direct tax of two per cent. upon all unimproved land values in the Dominion." In explaining what is meant by tax on unimproved land values the League memorandum states "we do not mean only land values of unimproved land, but unimproved value of all land, or in other words value of all land apart from any improvements which may be in, or upon it." Taking land values at being equal to $1,000 per head of population and taking the population of Canada at 8,500,000, the statement shows that by the imposition of a two per cent. tax, $170,000,000 would be raised. The memorandum also contains figures which show that a tax on land values would not be an injustice to the farmer but that the burden would be divided equally between the city and the country.

The Western Retail Merchants Association will not make a statement to the Commission at the present session. A general statement will be made by the Dominion officers at Ottawa when the Commission sits there.

Tuesday's Session

Winnipeg, Sept. 15.—The presentation of the case of the manufacturers against the National platform of the United Farmers was what the first sitting of the Tariff Commission in Winnipeg Tuesday resolved itself into. That the manufacturers were availing themselves of the opportunity was frankly stated by R. A. Pringle, K.C., of Ottawa, who appears for those concerned in the textile industries. He had not finished his statement when the Commission adjourned until this morning. "Surely," said he, after alluding to the success of the Farmers' party in Ontario and other parts of the Dominion, "we are not to blame if we want our whole story to be put before the people of the Dominion."

Mr. Pringle had been preceded by Norman P. Lambert, the secretary of the Canadian Council of Agriculture, who at the morning session had submitted the argument in support of a tariff on a strictly revenue basis. Mr. Lambert said: "Production and trade in Canada have been forced into narrow and uneconomic channels through the application of protective duty. The organized farmers atack the productive tariff as it exists on the ground that it is the most wasteful and costly method ever devised for raising national revenue and because of the gross injustices connected with its application." The statement from the Canadian Council of Agriculture, rested, he said, on the National Farmers platform.

Mr. Lambert was the only speaker during the day on behalf of the Farmers' policy.

Speak For Manufacturers

In addition to Mr. Pringle there were heard on the other side, J. S. McKinnon, Toronto, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association; D. J. Dyson, Winnipeg, president of the Prairies branch of the association, and A. C. Hornberger, representing the canadian fertilizer industry.

It will be thus seen from the parties concerned that the commission from the start has become a debating arena for the political parties, strongly divided on the tariff issue. Yesterday it was a national hearing in the broadest sense of the term.

INVESTIGATORS BUSY RUNNING DOWN ALL CLUES

United States Authorities Spreading Net for Guilty Persons of Bomb Outrage

OLD HORSE AND WAGON

May Give Detectives Something to Work On—Literature Found in Mail Box

New York, Sept. 18.—The receipt by the Department of Justice agents Friday night of five radical circulars signed "American Anarchist Fighters," which were found in a mail box at Cedar Street and Broadway at 11.50 a.m. Thursday furnished the first tangible clue, they said, to the idehtity of persons who were responsible for the explosion in Wall Street, which three minutes later killed 35 persons, injured 200 others and caused property damage running into millions. In making public the circulars, which were printed on cheap paper 7 by 11 inches, Chief Wm. J. Flynn, of the Bureau of Investigation, Department of Justice, called attention to the fact that the bombs sent in the nation-wide bomb plot on June 2, 1919 were wrapped in circulars announcing the coming of a revolution and signed "Anarchist Fighters."

The exact cause of the explosion remains tonight a mystery. The official opinion as expressed by Wm. J. Flynn, Chief of the Bureau of Investigations of the United States Department of Justice and Fire Commissioner Thomas Drennan, is that the disaster was caused by a time bomb loaded with high explosives and reinforced with metal slugs. The early theory that the blast was caused by a collision between an explosive laden wagon and another vehicle seems to have been dispelled by subsequent investigation, although it has not yet been entirely discarded by the official investigation. The key to the mystery apparently lies in the identification of a rickety old wagon drawn by an old horse, which was left standing at a curb in Wall Street, near the U.S. Assay Office and across the street from the Morgan building, a few minutes before the explosion occurred.

The horse was killed and the wagon was blown to bits in the blast. The driver of the wagon is believed to have escaped. Federal and police authorities tonight were centering their activities on this phase of the case.

Following a Clue

Hackensack, N.J., Sept. 18.—The identity of the blacksmith who shod the horse found dead near the scene of Thursday's explosion in New York's financial district is known to the Department of Justice, according to a statement made here Friday night by Wm. M. Mead, chief clerk in the office of J. P. Morgan and Company. The blacksmith, he added, claims to know the man who owns the animal. "A peculiar incident of the whole affair," added Mr. Mead, "is that a letter was received on the 15th day before the explosion, warning everyone to stay away from Wall Street between 2 and 3 o'clock on the day of the 16th. This letter came from Buffalo and was sent by a lawyer who was believed to have been in the employ of a prominent foreign concern."

Spreading Drag Net

New York, Sept. 18.—Convinced that the explosion which snuffed out the lives of 35 persons and injured 300 others in Wall Street Thursday was deliberately planned by radicals, officials of the Department of Justice, headed by Attorney-General Palmer himself, today spread a drag net over the country in an effort to trap its originators.

W. J. Flynn, head of th Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice, was the chief spokesman for this general opinion. He based his opinion on the finding of radical literature in a post office box near the scene of the tragedy.

There were still about 150 injured being cared for in the hospitals today, many being in a serious condition. Scores of those who will recover will be maimed for life.

WARNS GERMANS AGAINST RUSSIAN SOVIET SYSTEM

Communist Leader is Enlightened After Trip to Russia

Brunswick, Germany, Sept. 18. — August Merges, a German communist leader who has just returned from Moscow, says that "Bolshevism as practiced in Russia is not Simon pure unadulterated commuism. The cost of living there is excessively high; paper money is wiped out with paper money and people generally have the blues."

Merges, a little hunchbacked journeyman tailor, who staged the communist revolt in Brunswick in 1919, warns his comrades against settling in Russia.

"Politics in Russia are controlled by the communist party, which counts 600,000 members, several hundred thousands of whom are office seekers and political hangers-on who are not to be trusted," Merges declared in an address on his Russian discoveries.

He declared that the Russian system was not suited to Germany, because of its rigid centralization combined with a tedious bureaucracy, and its imitation of capitalistic methods. He told the Moscow reds, he said, that the German communists did not propose to take orders from them.

RECOMMENDS THAT EIGHT-HOUR DAY LAW BE SUSPENDED

Special Committee Advocates Length of Working Day Fixed by Mutual Agreement

Stockholm, Sept. 18.—A government committee which has investigated the operation of the eight-hour law enacted by the Liberal-Socialist Eden Government has just recommended that the law be suspended and revised. It advocates that the length of the working day should be made dependant upon a mutual agreement between employers and employes, and that some provision be made for longer working hours under certain circumstances.

The committee was unanimous in finding that the expectation that the measure would encourage industry on the part of the workers has not been realized. It reports that in no single line of work have the employes shown any greater efficiency or energy, that there has been a considerable decline in production. It says that several big plants are on the verge of closing down because they can not be made to earn profits owing to heavy charges for increased housing facilities for workers, higher payrolls and the high cost of machinery.

The committee's investigation covered a period of eight months. Under the law heavy fines on employers were authorized for infringement and councils of employers, employes and government representatives were established to consider any departure from the eight-hour working day established under the law.

When the measure was introduced, Hjalmur Branting, the Socialist leader and labor leaders declared it would not reduce production.

MAY ESTABLISH SCHOOL IN FAR NORTH NEAR MINE

Announced that Department of Education Considering Plan Now

Winnipeg, Sept. 18.—Establishment of a school house in the vicinity or Rex gold mine, Herb Lake region, North Manitoba, is being considered by the Department of education, Robert Fletcher, deputy minister, announced Friday Mr. Fletcher, said reports had been received from this remote North mining bistrict indicating that thern mining district indicating that from 12 to 14 children of school age were permanently in residence in the district. As the majority of the children are of white parentage, Mr. Fletcher expects an arrangement may be made similar to that obtaining in regard to Moose Lake school, where the department and the settlers each pay half the cost of maintenance.

Educational work in the remote regions North of parallel 53, said Mr. Fletcher, is meeting with considerable success. The department has a school house at The Bartrier, on the Saskatchewan River, and near the nterprovincial boundary line. This provides for a half-breed settlement, and the department defrays the whole cost. A similar school is established at Big Eddy, also in the Saskatchewan valley.

At Crane River school the provincial government pays two-thirds of the cost of maintenance, and the Dominion government one-third.

Trades and Labor Congress However Have Heated Discussion Over Question

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 18.—Self-determination for Ireland and the nationalization of industries divided attention as the points of interest at this afternoon's session of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

The Congress carried the recommendation of the committee on resolutions in both instances that the resolutions be not concurred in. The Irish question was introduced with a delayed resolution from Toronto, and a resolution tracing its parentage to John Thompson, Montreal Lodge 711 of the International Association of Machinists, and the committee added a rider to their recommenadtion that the congress reiterate the declaration made by the congress at Hamilton convention favoring a Dominion Home Rule for Ireland the same as enjoyed by Canada, Australia, South Africa and other nations within the British Empire. The committee's recommendation did not pass without heated discussion.

SMALLEST WHEAT CROP SINCE 1914

Price of Bread Soars With Shortage of Wheat—Barley Shows Increase

London, Sept. 18.—With bread selling at 25 cents a loaf and soon to be raised to 30 cents and later perhaps to 35 cents, England is harvesting this season the smallest wheat crop since the early days of the war. Production of barley, on the other hand, will show a material increase over that of the last few years.

The reasons for this state of affairs, according to Professor James Long, a well-known agricultural expert, are government control and beer. The price of wheat and oats is regulated, but no restrictions have been placed on that of barley. As the market price of barley is exceptionally high, farmers planted that grain instead of wheat and oats.

Professor Long shows that since 1918 wheat has been reduced by 679,000 acres, or more than one-third of the present area, while oats, also an important breadstuff, has fallen off by 512,000 acres. "On the basis of wheat," he says, "this means a loss of bread grain equal to some 38,000,000 bushels, or sufficient to feed 7,500,000 persons. It is a curious commentary on the fact that the barley crop has considerably increased, and that in consequence beer has so far occupied the position of bread."

The country has fewer cattle than in any year since 1903 and 5,330,000 less sheep than the average of the ten years from 1904 to 1913. The decrease in cattle since last year is more than 500,000 head.

FOREIGN BUYERS CANCEL TOY ORDERS AMOUNTING TO 600,000,000 MARKS

Berlin, Sept. 18.—Cancellation of orders by foreign buyers amounting to 60,000,000 marks suffered by a German firm of toy makers on account of the recent more favorable standing of the mark prompts the Tageblatt to observe that the charge made against Germans of being guilty of breach of business morals because in isolated cases they used similar pretexts to evade contract obligations no longer holds good. The German toy makers claim that shipments already on the way and out of Germany have been refused acceptance on the ground that prices based on the recent improved status of the mark exceeded the world market prices.

SPECIAL SESSION FRENCH SENATE NEXT THURSDAY

Paris, Sept. 18.—Leon Bourgeois, President of the French senate, Friday convoked the senate for next Thursday at the Versailles palace to choose a successor to President Deschanal.

Paris, Sept. 18.—Definite decision was reached by the cabinet at its session, that the parliament should be convoked in extraordinary session next Tuesday to receive the resignation of President Deschanel, which was handed to Premier Millerand Thursday at Rambouillet, where the president has been ill for several months past.

A successor to Deschanel, as President of France, will be elected Friday, Sept. 24, according to general belief in political circles although the date will not be definitely fixed until after the meeting of parliament on Tuesday.

That successor, it appeared will be Alexandre Millerand, the present premier, unless the premier's powers of resistance to a call to the office, prove greater than the rapidly accumulating force of public sentiment favoring him for the chief magistracy. The only contrary current observable is among thoughtful men in the political world who regard M. Millerand as worth far more to France as Premier than he could be as President.

Aside from M. Millerand, the candidate who seems to be most favored continues to be Charles Jonnart, France's special ambassador to the vatican.

HIGHER TAXATION IS NECESSARY

Cologne, Sept. 18.—Higher taxation or state bankruptcy are the only alternative possibilities for Germany, Dr. Koch, German Minister of Home Affairs, has just told leading public men in a conference on the economic and political situation of Rhenish Prussia.

Dr Koch declared he could not see the faintest possibility of any reduction of the tax schedules which had already been drawn up and approved.

Dr. Koch was overwhelmed with complaints about the shortage of dwellings and the paralyzing effect of the present export and import regulations.

Discussing the unity of empire, the minister announced that a special commission comprising members of the Federal Council, had been organized to study the problems affecting the new alignments of the federal German states.

Winnipeg, Sept. 18.—Loans for the erection of 23 houses were granted by the civic housing commission at a meeting Friday afternoon. The number of citizens securing loans was 23 and the total sum granted was $92,600.

The average cost of the houses to be erected under the loans granted is slightly more than $4,000. The houses, it was stated, will be of thorough construction and of pleasing design.

The commission arranged a transfer of securities with the provincial government, by which $200,000 will be available for building. A sum of $20,000 from the original fund is also available from the provincial government. This leaves $127,400 still available to applicants. Further applications will be dealt with shortly, it was announced, and the residue of the fund will erect 30 additional houses.

INDUSTRIAL DISPUTES LESS DURING AUGUST

Ottawa, Sept. 18.—Loss of time on account of industrial disputes was considerably less during August than during July, or August, 1919. During the month there occurred twenty-three strikes involving 4,812 workers and resulting in the loss of 79,482 working days. In July there were 49 strikes, involving 6,734 workers and 80,221 working days. In August, 1919, there were 46 strikes, affecting 24,511 workers, and causing a time loss of 365,062 days. Eight strikes were terminated during August, leaving fifteen strikes, affecting only 744 workmen, unsettled at the end of the month.

Industrial employment throughout Canada showed a slightly downward tendency during the month. This was partly due to the movement of unskilled labor from industrial centres to the harvest fields.

PASSING OF THE TWO SMARTEST MEN IN BASEBALL

Ty Cobb has begun the backward journey and it seems a prank of fate that at the same time that baseball is becoming convinced the Georgian's star is setting the man who came closer to Cobb than any player the major leagues have produced, should also be going out. But there is a great deal of difference in the manner of passing of Cobb and his greatest rival. While Cobb will leave, in the natural manner of leaving, Chase today finds himself disgraced and ostracized.

It is a tragic passing for an athlete of Chase's greatness. Here is a man who with moral fibre and backbone to resist temptation could have gone even much higher than he did and left a record for generations to shoot at. He found the course of least resistance too frequently until one after the other league dropped him despite his brilliancy, and finally even the independents turned their backs on him.

Chase played first base as no man ever did and as only he could. Brilliant and spectacular, he delighted the eye, he thrilled his admirers. Of medium height, slender, Chase was extremely supple. Fans described him as "double jointed." His play was acrobatic.

Chase was one of the smartest men in the game, not quite as smart as Cobb, for that gentleman's equal still has to appear, but he was right next to Cobb for mental quickness. Any time that New York and Detroit hooked up in a series students of inside baseball were in for a keen treat watching the wily Chase and the elusive Cobb hook up in a battle of baseball wits.

Coob took extreme pride in the times that he outguessed Chase. In him he recognized a foe worthy of his steel. Few men ever got the better of Chase on a play that demanded thought.

King of the Hit and Run

Like Cobb, Chase was often quite uncanny in the plays he pulled. And, as in the case of Cobb, the speed and agility with which he pulled them enabled him to get away with more than other players could. When it came to the hit and run and squeeze plays, Chase was king of them all. Chase had Willie Keeler as co-worker on the hit and run and they tried it at every opportunity. While they played on the New York team the Yankees made these plays their most effective offensive weapons.

It was Chase who started the trick of stealing inches of a throw. Whenever a grounder was fielded in deep territory Chase got to the bag in time and on these occasions he would extend his body just as far as possible in the direction in which the ball was coming. In this manner he met the ball on its way to the bag and meeting it meant many close decisions to him.

Cooperman; Secretary, Mr. H. Gold, Treasurer, Miss A. Visler. A large number of those present were enrolled as members of the newly formed organization and it is expected that they will secure others to join in solving the problem of the future immigration of the Jewish people from war stricken areas.

MORRIS FOX IS NOT THE MAN WANTED IN LEROY MURDER CASE—SET FREE

Montevideo, Sept. 21.—Morris Fox, the young man claiming Canadian citizenship, detained here on supposition that he might be Eugene Leroy, the alleged perpetrator of the Detroit "trunk" murder, is not Leroy, police officials of this city announced Monday. Fox was released Monday and probably will go to Buenos Aires to rejoin the British ship Dryden, from which he was taken when she touched here last Wednesday.

TWO DARING ROBBERS HOLD UP PASSENGER TRAIN—GET CLEAR AWAY

Mobridge, S.D., Sept. 21.—Every police officer in this district is on the look-out for two bandits who, early Monday, held up a Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul passenger train near Montvideo, Minn., robbed the passengers, mostly workingmen on their way West, of at least $250 in money and a dozen watches and escaped, after leaving the train near Appleton. Neither robber was masked.

NEW FREIGHT AIRPLANE GETS FIRST TESTING

Has Great Lifting Capacity—Feature is Cargo Container

London, Sept. 21.—Preliminary tests which have recently been made of a new type of freight airplane are reported to have proved entirely satisfactory. The new plane, called a "flying tramp," is radically different from any type of plane now in use, with the exception that it is of the monoplane type and has the same sort of controls.

By means of a new curve the single wings of the plane, which are constructed of mahogany planking, are said to make possible large loads and much cheaper service than the old type. The cylindrical body also is made of mahogany planking. The new wing is known as the "Alula" and has a weight-lifting capacity 35 per cent. greater than the ordinary wing.

"A feature of the machine is the type of cargo container. The body of the plane is fitted to hold a container that will hold four tons of freight when properly packed. The container is loaded in a warehouse or storeroom and the plane is run up to a loading platform and the container shoved into the body of the plane on roller bearings. A similar procedure is followed in unloading.

MARKETS

Wood, Weiller & McCarthy, Ltd., supply the following market report of the Union Stock Yards, St. Boniface, under date of September 20th.

Receipts today are 3500 cattle, 120 hogs, 130 sheep.

As we expected last week we had a very slow and draggy market the first two days but trading got considerably better on Wednesday and by the end of the week we had a real strong active market with numerous buyers here from both the South and Eastern Ontario. As with anything else, supply and demand governs prices and we can say that prospects are good for a good trade on the good cattle all this fall regardless of how heavy the run gets for there will be buyers here to absorb everything. The demand for the choice females has dropped off a little but prices, at from 10.00 to 11.00 with the bulk selling from 9.00 to 10.25. The extreme top on steers is around 12.50 with the bulk of the best going from 10.50 to 11.50. The Southern market report big runs to-day and the market a quarter lower but we do not look for this to affect this market at all. Stockers and feeders are in big demand at steady prices.

Hogs are keeping steady at $21.00 with steady prospect.

The few Sheep and Lambs that are coming are meeting a ready sale.

It is most important to get a health certificate for all cattle shipped here.

ARRESTED AFTER SPENDING WEEK IN THE WOODS

Alleged Murderer Taken in Charge—Two Young Girls With Him at Time

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Sept. 21.—William D. Mower, alias Dougall Moore, alleged murderer of George Elliott, the East Koreah farmer, was arrested Sunday six miles inland from Mile 60, on the Algoma Central railway, after having remained in the woods almost a week. He was trying to purchase food for himself and two companions, Maggie Bock and Pearl Mower, about 15 years of age, each, and both dressed as boys. One of the girls is said to have been mistaken in the dark by Farmer Elliott as a possible purloiner of his chickens, and it was in this connection that the shooting of Elliott by Mower is alleged to have taken place.

The two girls were arrested along with Mower.

THIEVES MAKE OFF WITH AUTO: FAILED TO SECURE FURS

Police Discovery Saves $2,000 Worth of Furs—Report Auto Missing Today

MANY BURGLARIES

From Midnight the Police Kept Robbers Continually on the Move

A series of daring robberies was attempted Monday evening in Brandon, but good work on the part of the police resulted in all but one of the attempts being unsuccessful. This morning a McLaughlin car owned by Mr. Hilton McGregor was reported missing, the daring thieves having stolen the car from the Western Motors garage some time during the evening. The first attempt at robbery was made at midnight when $2,000 worth of furs was the first objective of the thieves. The timely arrival of Constable Dunnett on his rounds prevented the robbery. A sequence of reported attempts at breaking and entry followed, which showed thatthe robbers had planned their night's work in this city. No arrests have been made as yet, but the police are hard at work on the case.

About midnight on Monday, Constable Dunnett was making his round to see that all the doors of business places in the city were secure. Going to the rear door of Abrahamson's fur store, 110 Ninth Street, the constable found the door had been forced. A hole had been cut through the door and several staples had been pulled in order to gain entrance to the building. Just inside the door and ready for a quick removal was a pile of furs which were later valued at nearly $2,000. The pile included sable, seal and mink stoles, several seat coats, a beaver coat and several other smaller furs. The store had apparently been searched by the thieves as only the best furs in the building had been placed in the pile.

Constable Dunnett notified the police station and the proprietor of the store and an inventory showed that only one article was missing. This is a fox stole valued at about $52. Later indications showed conclusively, however, that this was only the first part of a carefully planned attempt. It also showed that but for the timely arrival of the constable on his rounds the furs would have been missing today.

Garage Doors Wide Open

At 4.15 this morning the front door of the Western Motors garage on Ninth Street was found wide open by the police and another investigation followed. Entratce had beea gailed here by breaking a pane of glass in one of the rear windows and prying the doors open with a big crowbar. The foreman of the garage was called to the building but his check-up failed to reveal anything missing in the garage. A new Ford car was badly battered near the rear door, and it was at first supposed that the thieves had attempted to make away with the car but in running it out of the garage had crashed into the side of the wall. Alarmed at the noise it was supposed that the thieves had left the car at that time and taken flight.

Another Garage Entered

Another lok en the plan of the dering thieves was revealed when the door of a shed immediately to the rear of Lerner's Feed Store was found open. This shed formerly served as a garage, but there was no car in it at the time the entry was made Monday night. A few minutes later the Willard Service station on the corner of Eighth Street and Princess Avenue was found open, but a check-up failed to detect anything missing.

The full plan of the robbers came to light this morning, however, when word was received at the police station that the big McLaughlin car owned by Mr. Hilton McGregor was missing. The first check-up in the night at the Western Motors garage following the alarm had failed to discover anything wrong. This morning Mr. McGregor's car was missing and it is now supposed that the Ford car which was rammed at the door had been struck by the heavy McLaughlin car as it was passing out of the rear garage door. It is also the supposition that the Willard service station may have served the thieves with an opportunity to fill the car with gasoline for a long run.

A New Factor

The police force were at work all night trying to round up the person or persons connected with the attempted robbery at the fur store. That they were possibly on the wrong track was not suspected until this morning when the car was reported missing. Accordingly it is supposed that the thief or thieves lost no time in getting out

U.S. Federal officers say the drug was smuggled across the border from Canada.

Etampes, Sept. 28.—Sadi Lecointe, famous French aviator today won the international airplane race for James Gordon Bennett trophy. He covered the course of 300 kilometers or 186.3 miles, in one hour, six minutes. 17 1-5 second. Raynham, the sole British representative, withdrew after covering the first lap.

Etampes, Sept. 28.—After the International Airplane race for the James Gordon Bennett trophy had been in progress less than an hour today, the contest narrowed down to two competitors. All the nUited States competitors and two French having withdrawn owing to engine trouble, the only competitor remaining in the flight was the third French entrant, Sadi Lecointe, who had made 200 kilometres in 43 minutes, 42 3-5 seconds, a new world's record. There remained F. P. Raynham, sole British competitor who, with all entrants save Sadi Lecointe out of the running was still waiting to start.

MISSION BAND RALLY PROVES MOST SUCCESSFUL

Mission Bands From Five Churches Enjoy Rally and Supper

One of the most successful Mission Band rallies ever held in Brandon took place Monday afternoon and evening in Knox church when Mission Bands from Brandon Hills, Humesville and St. Pauls, St. Andrew's and Knox churches were represented. At the afternoon session Miss Laura Cole, Presbyterial Mission Band Secretary, presided, and short addresses were given by Mrs. Alfred White and Mrs. H. Leybourne. In an interesting way Mrs. White told a story which illustrated what boys and girls may do for their parents, and in a second story told how boys and girls may help others. Mrs. Leybourne spoke on Mission Band work and explained to the children present what the Band stands for. At the conclusion of the addresses Mrs. J. F. Kilgour presented five junior memberships to the following members of Knox church Mission Band: Jean Fotheringham, Helen Duncan, Alec. Bell, Gordon and William Fotheringham.

Supper For Children

Supper was served at six o'clock by the ladies of Knox church and all the children present seemed to enjoy to the utmost the delicious repast provided in the basement of the church.

At the evening session Miss Grant, President of the W.M.S, Presbyterial, presided and later in the evening gave an address on "Words of Encouragement to the Mission Band." A story entitled "The Swallow" was told by Mrs. V. A. Snyder. Mrs. A. R. McDiarmid read a passage from the Scriptures, her subject being "Little things." She told the members of the little things such as obedience, habits, etc., that help; and of such things that hinder, as untruths. A solo by Alec. Bell and a recitation by nine girls of St. Pauls Mission Band, entitled "Mission Stations in India," were much enjoyed. Rev. R. H. Lowry spoke a few words to the children before closing the meeting.

MEXICANS FAIL TO RESPOND TO I. W. W. PLAN

For General Strike in America to Begin on October First

Mexico City, Sept. 28. — Alleged efforts of Industrial Workers of the World to engage Mexican laborers in a strike on the American continent, Oct. 1, were a failure, according to the evidence today.

Demonstrations here and in other Mexican cities yesterday were orderly and the only action taken was the adoption of a series of resolutions relating to living costs and working conditions.

Previously the Industrial Workers of the World had announced that the meetings had been called to arrange for Mexican participation in a general strike to start on the North American continent Oct. 1, and thereafter spread throughout the world.

In Mexico City 2,000 laborers marched in a parade carrying banners with the usual labor slogans and listened to a number of speeches regarding labor's aims and rights.

The meeting demanded government action to reduce the cost of living and appointment of a price regulation commission.

Several paraders, however, gained admission to the National palace and addressed a crowd from a balcony. They urged action for the triumph of the proletariat and the downfall of the bourgeoise.

One speaker went to the extent of advocating the use of dynamite on the National palace, the chamber of deputies, newspapers and other institutions, "impeding the workers' progress."

Some red flags appeared in the parade. No attempt was made to break up the parade or choke off the speeches and there was no disorder.

HOLLAND MAY JOIN THE FRANCO-BELGIAN MILITARY ALLIANCE

Paris, Sept. 28.—Holland is considering joining the Franco-Belgian military alliance, according to dispatches from Brussels.

The Franco-Belgian agreement, announced a short time ago, provides that in case of an attack on either country the other would go to its aid. The strategic details of the treaty were kept secret, leading to speculation as to the attitude of the League of Nations, which requires that such treaties shall be made public.

POLES CAPTURE 1,300 PRISONERS

Warsaw, Sept. 28.—Polish cavalry operating in the rear of the retreating Bolsheviki forces in the region of Grodno reached North Lida, says an official statement. During yesterday's fighting the Poles captured 1,300 prisoners.

AMERICANS HAVE AN ATTACK OF COMMON SENSE

And this is Responsible For Price Reductions, Declares Jas. B. Clews

DISCOUNT RATES

Are Raised, Money is Hard to Get and Low Prices Are the Result

New York, Sept. 28.—The American people themselves, individuals and corporations, are bringing about the present price reductions through a determination to do without personal and business "luxuries" and to await lower prices before purchasing actual necessities, according to James B. Clews, managing partner of Henry Clews and company.

"In other words, the country is undergoing a sudden 'attack of common sense',!" Clews said in an interview Monday.

The banker added that a contributing factor in bringing about a return to normal conditions is "the determined attitude of the Federal reserve authorities with regard to deflating credits, which were becoming not only dangerous but a burden to the country.

"For a long time prices were bolstered to undue heights owing to the unwillingness of manufacturers and others to be satisfied with pre-war profits and owing to the comparative ease with which funds were obtainable large stocks of goods were kept on hand rather than put on the market," Clew said. "The raising of discount rates, the making of loans only on essentials and the attitude of the average citizen in making purchases to cover absolute requirements only have at last forced a change in the policy of sellers generally. The result is that lower prices are seen in almost every direction and this is something to be desired. To be sure, producers and manufacturers will , for a time, suffer from the effect of lower prices but they should bear this cheerfully, remembering that for the last five or six years their profits have been unduly large."

Predicts General Reduction

Chicago, Sept. 28.—A general reduction in food prices was predicted Monday by Sol. Westerfield, President of the Retail Grocers' Association, who excepted only eggs and butter from what he said would be a steady decline. He said high, interests on bank loans made price cutting necessary for producers to move heir crops.

Mr. Westerfield said canned goods now being packed must be lowered in price if they are to move; that coffee had recently dropped 10 cents a pound, and that he looked for cheaper bread because of the lower flour prices.

Fruit was at a minimum, in some cases lower than 1914 prices, he said.

TORONTO PEOPLE NOW CARRYING THEIR LUNCHES

Toronto, Sept. 28.—The "carry-your-lunch campaign" has reached Toronto, although there has been no organized effort to promote it here. Local papers publish articles to the effect that many thousands of Toronto down-towners, who formerly patronized the restaurants, have now returned to the "old-fashioned dinner pail" in various forms. In many cases it is merely a "snack" in a piece of white paper, but the movement is making an appreciable hole in the recipts of the restauranteus, as the result of which more of the eating houses have made extensive cuts in their prices.

WARNING TO CRAFT UNIONS

Chicago, Sept. 28.—A warning to building crafts that unless they resort to reason and end jurisdictional disputes the unions may be destroyed and the open shop come into vogue has been issued by John H. Donlin, President of the Building Trades Department of the American Federation of Labor. The warning is contained in a letter sent from Washington to each union affiliated with his department and made public here.

FRUIT GROWERS ASK PROTECTION FROM DUMPING

Evidence Given Before Tariff Commission by Representative Fruit Growers

Vernon, B.C., Sept. 28.—In every case the price of apples is the same in the United States as in Canadian cities, plus the cost of shipping, although it has been said that apples cost more on the prairies than in the United States.

This information was vouchsafed Sir Henry Drayton at the session of the Tariff Commission here this afternoon by R. M. Winslow, manager of the British Columbia Traffic and Credits Association, while presenting the brief for fruit growers of the Okanagan Valley. Growers, he said hoped to so enlarge their markets in the East and in Britain so that this year's crop of about 5,000 cars would be greatly exceeded.

W. F. Laidman, a member of the Fruit Growers' executive, stated that irrigation costs amounted to about $10 an acre, and the sum invested in the fruit growing industry was approximately $35,000,000. Under favorable conditions, the increase of production next year would be 30 per cent. If the United States was permitted to dump inferior grades of apples into Canada, it would mean the ruin of the industry here.

Advocates Protection

Mr. Winslow, during the session, told the commmission that his association advocated protection when it resulted in increased production, though in the case of peaches it had not had this effect. Fruit growers felt that fruit-stand men had held up the public in prices charged for cherries. Growers wanted an outlet for this fruit owing to great production.

L. A. Taylor read a report from a Vancouver paper saying that cantaloupes were received there at $1.12 a crate. If that were so, it was a clear case of dumping, for it cost $2.96 a crate last year to produce cantaloupes in the Okanagan Valley. The sale price ran from $3.50 to $4 a crate. He submitted that a specific duty of $1 a crate would be better than the present tariff of three crates each.

REDUCE TAXATION BY CURBING ALL EXTRAVAGANCE

Declares Hon. McKenzie King in Opening Speech Western Tour at Victoria

Victoria, B.C., Sept. 28.—Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, made the initial address of his Western tour before a large crowd here Monday night. "A general election is necessary," he asserted, "in order to restore to the people control over parliament." He declared that there should be a revision downward of the tariff with substantial reductions of duties on necessaries of life and that a reduction of taxation should be made by curbing extravagance. He believed that wider recognition of labor, with representation in the shaping and control of industrial policies, would have the effect of putting an end to industrial strife.

"We believe," Mr. King continued, "that if labor is as necessary to the sucessful running of our railways as capital or management, labor is entitled to its place on the board of directors."

Advocating the most open diplomacy in inter-Imperial and international relations, he said the floor of parliament, and not the round table or cabinet councils, was the place for treaties to be worked out and agreed to.

BOERS SEEK A RACIAL RE-UNION

But a Split in Opinion Prevents an Agreement Being Reached by Delegates

London, Sept. 28.—Fifty-five delegates of the South African and the Nationalist parties have been in conference in Blomfontein for several days, according to cables to London papers, seeking to effect a racial reunion among Boers. It is reported that no agreement was reached. The negotiations broke down on the Republican issue. The Boers of the South African party resolutely refused a re-union which would not include the British element. The correspondents state that the unswerving loyalty of these delegates to their union pledge greatly impressed the English South African party.

MULTI-MILLIONAIRE DIES, WANTS NO EULOGIES AT FUNERAL: POOR MOURN

New York, Sept. 28.—Jacob H. Schiff, multi-millionaire, died here Saturday night. Following his request no eulogies will be spoken during the funeral services Tuesday.

Although Schiff's residence was in one of the richest sections of New York, the poverty-clouded East Side contained some of his most sincere mourners.

One of the partners of Kuhn, Loeb and company, of which Schiff was the head, said that his estate exceeds $250,000,000.

JUDGE REFUSES TO ACT ON PETITION FOR CLEMENCY

Petitioners Want Stay of Execution in Favor of Marie Anne Houde

Quebec, Sept. 28.—Hon. Justice Albert Malouin, of the Superior Court, before whom a petition has been filed to obtain a stay of execution in favor of Marie Anne Houde, charged with causing the death of her step-daughter, refused to grant the request. In the opinion of His Lordship the petition should be dealt with by the Governor-General-in-Council. Unless the matter is immediately taken to Ottawa the execution will take place next Friday morning.

BOSTON PUBLIC UNEASY ABOUT LOCAL BANKS

And Three Trust Companies Require Special Law For Protection

Boston, Sept. 28.—Public uneasiness over local banking conditions Monday caused runs on some institutions, with the result that the Tremont Trust Company, the Fidelity Trust Company, and the Dorchester Trust Company invoked the law which makes it possible to require 60 days' notice of withdrawal from the savings departments in order to stop the rush of frightened depositors.

The run on the Tremont Trust Co. in Court Street, was participated in by hundreds, and the proportions of the crowd became so great that the police, mounted and foot, were called to maintain order. The bank sought for an hour to meet the claims against it, and officials announced that there was money on hand to pay all, but the demands became so great that Vice-President Simon Swig announced that the 90 day notice would be required.

The bank officers were joined by Governor Coolidge, bank Commissioner Jos. C. Allen, and city officials in statements assuring the public that the Boston banks were in sound condition and that funds entrusted to them were safe. At All three of the banks, which suspended payments in their savings departments, it was announced that business in the commercial departments would continue as usual with no ban on withdrawals there.

GOVERNOR OF NEW YORK SIGNS THE NEW RENT LAWS

Which Nullifl 100,000 Eviction Proceedings and Relieves Tennants

New York, Sept. 28.—Governor Smith yesterday signed the new rent laws, passed for the relief of tenants. The new laws have it is claimed, nullified 100,000 eviction proceedings, abolished "moving today" until November 1922, and put City Marshalls out of business. The latter have been reaping a harvest from eviction cases.

BELFAST SUFFERS FROM RIOTING: WORKERS ATTACKED

Armed Men Attack Shipyard Workers—Military Disperse Rioters

30 HOUSES BURNED

Black and Tan Reply to Burning of Police Barracks

Belfast, Sept. 28.—There was a recurrence last night of the rioting and shooting which have been in progress here at intervals since the week-end. The outbreak occurred in the Old Loge Road district, where shipyard workers were attacked by armed men. Seven persons were wounded by revolver firing. Military dispersed the rioters by bayonet charges.

There were seven arrests for violations of the curfew law.

Black and Tan Reprisals

London, Sept. 28.—Serious anxiety over the recurrence of black and tan reprisals in Ireland is reflected by English newspapers which sharply call for the Government to halt what is described by the Times as semi-official lynch law.

30 Houses Burned

Trim, County Meath, Ireland, Sept. 28.—Because of the burning of the police barracks here Sunday morning and the wounding of Chief Constable White, a number of armed men descended on the town and burned buildings, attacked the residences of Sinn Feiners and indulged in indiscrimate shooting. Several casualties are reported. The reprisals are alleged to be the work of the "Black and Tan "police. The regular police are taking steps to prevent further damage. During the reprisals some 30 houses were burned and the fires were still blazing at noon Monday.

Among the premises destroyed were a mineral water factory, which was a principal industry, and the market house. Practically all the houses on both sides of the chief thoroughfare were set on fire. The damage is estimated at fifty thousand pounds sterling. Two small boys were shot during the night, one being seriously injured.

The police, who were captured in the attack on the barracks, had been warned to resign within a week.

The conference of the Catholic clergy of Navan passed a resolution condemning the action of those who attack police barracks, but emphatically denouncing the "Black and Tans" for burning and sacking Trim as the negation of all Governments.

Sinn Fein Plot in London

Liverpool, Sept. 28. — The British Government has reliable information of the existence of a Sinn Fein plot in London, according to the Daily Mail. The newspaper says steps have been taken to checkmate any efforts to disturb the peace. Large forces of police are on duty every night in the neighborhood of Briton prison, where Lord Mayor MacSweney is being held.

The cabinet will meet during the week and will consider amoung other things the question of the Irish reprisals, the Daily Mail continues. Evidence in connection with this situation, collected by the Irish executives, will be submitted. A military inquiry in the Balbriggan affair already has been instituted, and it will be followed by a civil and judicial investigation.

In official quarters it was pointed out with reference to the recent statement of Sir Neville Macready, chief of the millitary command in Ireland, to the effect that "reprisals cannot be restrained" that General Macready as a general officer commanding in Ireland, is not concerned either with the constabulary or the "Black and Tans."

BIG INCREASE IN NOTICE DEPOSITS

Feature of August Bank Statement—Increase Amounts to $8,000,000

SELF-DETERMINATION FOR IRELAND LEAGUE CAN MEET IN OTTAWA

Ottawa, Sept. 28.—I shall not take any steps to prevent a Dominion convention of the Self-Determination for Ireland League which will be held here October 16 and 17. Mayor Fisher stated last night. "So long as constitutional methods are discussed and the convention does not advocate rebellion, I think it should be permitted to be held anywhere."

FARMERS A BIG FACTOR IN POLITICS OF THE DOMINION

Growth of Farmers' Movement East and West Causes Apprehension

FARMERS AND LABOR

Bad Mix-up in Ontario Politics—Liberals Are Puzzled Over Federal Seats in Ontario

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—When elections loom in sight it is impossible to keep the tariff from the centre of the political stage. This week it has crowded off freight rates so completely that one would almost think that the latter had never been before the public gaze. The explanation is that for one person who knows, or thinks he knows, why freight rates should not be as high as they are, there are a score who are dead certain as to what the tariff should be.

The protectionists carefully prepared the case they placed before the Tariff Commission and now are spending a portion of their good money on full page "ads" in some of the Eastern dailies. They realize that they are now up against a fight to which the 1911 contest was child's play. The appearance of the Farmers' party in the field has made all the difference. In their ranks are to be found thousands of old Conservatives who used to support the National Policy because it was the chief plank in the party platform. Out of party loyalty many of them swallowed it, especially those in the West, though they did not like it. In the Farmers' party they do not have to swallow it.

Cause of Worry

If the protectionists had nothing more than the West to worry over they would not be very much alarmed; for they have never received much support from the prairie. What makes them apprehensive is the growth of the Farmers' movement in Ontario and the Maritime Provinces, the old-time protectionist strongholds. In the 1911 elections only 13 reciprocity champions were returned from Ontario; but if the Farmers should get forty seats as they say they will, things will be much upset for those who bank on the tariff as it is. That's why there is so much advertising, which has become doubly dear, since newsprint went soaring.

Present indications are for an old-time political Winter. On this old politicians very generally agree. Everybody is in the race. The Government is bidding strongly for support, for it must have it if it is to continue in office. The Opposition is equally busy because its future depends largely on the ousting of the Government within the next eighteen months. Then the Farmers are quite as vigorous as either of the two old parties. Labor also is quietly mobilizing. With four strongly organized political forces striving to enlist public support, where formerly there were only two, interest is bound to be heightened. No wonder, then, that an old-fashioned political Winter is in prospect.

Farmers a Big Factor

The interest that the Farmers are capable of throwing into the political arena has hardly been appreciated. In the first place, they are well read on current topics, quite as much so as the average manufacturer. Indeed, the rural sections are sending more scholars to the high schools and colleges of the country than are the urban centres. Then at certain seasons of the year, especially in the West, large numbers of them have more time to devote to organizing and convention work than the members of any other numerous class. Besides, the auto has made them a force beyond comparison with any other movement that has existed in Canada.

It is for these reasons that the activity of the Farmers is in marked contrast to that of Labor. In attending conventions the farmers have a marked advantage over the latter; for they are capitalists while the latter are not. The Laborite must work every day; for if he stops, his pay stops. So only a few of them such as are appointed delegates, can afford to attend conventions. In getting around the country the Laborites are also handicapped, for only a small proportion of them have cars. On the whole the members of the Labor party are more tied to their work, which is a heavy handicap when others can afford to leave theirs.

Farmers and Labor

Sometimes it seems impossible that the Farmers and Labor should stick together, among other things, the eight-hour day demanded by Labor being almost impossible for the Farmers to grant. There is admittedly a difference in apparent aims; but, for all that, it seems quite probable that for a while, at least, the Farmers will very largely direct the political Labor movement in this country; for among the new political elements they are doing the most thinking. They also have strong financial resources. Through their well organized trading and other organizations they are buying and selling to best advantage. In these respects they have a clear advantage over Labor generally, which, in a political and economic struggle, cannot help but count heavily.

Mix-up in Ontario Politics

In Ontario politics there is a bad mix-up. General disintegration brought about the downfall of the Hearst Government, which, as events showed was little more than a shell. To make matters worse the timber probe has made the old Conservative Government appear in a bad light before the country, the innocent suffering equally with the guilty. The temporary leader of the party, Howard Ferguson, having been head of the department in which the irregularities took place, has thus made it difficult for the party to effect an early comeback.

The Hearst Government having been defeated, Hartley Dewart, leader of the Liberal opposition, thought that he should be called on to form a government, and naturally disliked to see Drury walk off with the prize. Dewart is a vigorous and capable fighter, but he has more than enough trouble in his own ranks. To begin with, both the Toronto Globe and the Star of that city, which have much to say in the counsels of Ontario Liberalism, have opposed his leadership. To make matters worse, a faction in the Liberal following in the Legislature knowing that Dewart is disliked in certain quarters, have actually bolted and apparently are on the verge of joining forces with drury. This is the explanation of the Curry incident of several months ago. Should they do this Drury would practically be independent of Labor.

Drury May Reorganize

Drury naturally looks with favor on this possible accession to his ranks. But if the bolters come in it means the reorganization of the Cabinet with the passing out of some of the weaker brethren. This would undoubtedly make for ministerial strength, but it would also impart such a strong Liberal appearance to the Government as to offend the strong Conservative in the Farmers' ranks, who probably would say that the Drury administration was only camouflaged Liberalism. In the meantime a number of leaders in the Farmers' movement complain that Drury is getting out of touch with the Farmers. But withal he seems to be making himself solid with the public. Some have thought Labor would line up with the Conservatives; but the timber revelations, among other things, stand in the way.

The Liberals hardly know what to do in the Ontario Federal rural seats. In North Ontario and Glengarry they remained out of the field and the United Farmers captured these seats, and seem likely to do so in East Elgin. But while this prevented the Government from securing support, it has not brought the Liberals direct benefit; on the other hand it has boomed the farmers. Tactics such as these are not of much assistance in the struggle for office. But what can the Liberals do? The Farmers are bound to contest vacancies and three-cornered fights would probably result, in most cases, in the return of Government candidates. So it is difficult for the Liberals to make progress in rural Ontario. The result is that MacKenzie King has to keep out of the fighting when, in his own interest, he should be in the thick of it.

Division Among Opponents

In North York, where King has been nominated, there is much division among the opponents of the Government. This being the scene of many of the activities that made his grandfather, William Lyon Mackenzie famous, and having also been a candidate there before, the Liberal leader naturally looks on it as with favor. But Burnaby, president of the Canadian Council of Agriculture, has been nominated by the Farmers and says that he will stick. As a youth Burnaby had neither money nor influence, but today he is reported to be worth a quarter of a million dollars. He shapes up pretty well on the platform and is in a fair way to make a name for himself. Between he and King it is a question as to who will leave the field; for if they both remain in it, Armstrong the Government member will be returned and they know it.

In East Elgin the Government candidate is a farmer and apparently stands high in his community. As Marshall, the late member, only had about 230 of a majority in 1917, or 110 without the soldier vote, the Government candidate's chances are not considered rosy. In a three-cornered fight he would undoubtedly win; but he is unlikely to get such a soft thing as that.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

It May be Necessary to Send Soldiers to Help England Hold Gains

Lawrence, Mass., Sept. 24.—Senator Borah, speaking on the League of Nations last night said, "England annexed two million square miles of territory as a result of the war. It would be the duty of the States, if we entered the League, to help police that territory, and if necessary send soldiers to protect it for England."

HAMONIC CLEARS CUTTING HAWSERS AT PORT ARTHUR

Mob Attempts to Intimidate Strike Breakers — Police Arrive in Time

Port Arthur Ont., Sept. 24. — Forced by striking seamen to cut her hawsers at the deck winches, the big Northern Navigation passenger steamer, Hamonic, cleared for the East at 5.15 Thursday afternoon, with a full non-union crew on board, but not until nearly one hundred striking lake seamen, for upwards of an hour hurled threates against what they termed "a scab crew."

Lively scenes were enacted on the Canadian National Railway wharf during the afternoon. The steamer Cadillac, renamed the Maplehurst, was also a target of attack by the strikers, and 125 seamen marched to the head of the dock with the idea of forcing the strike-breaking crew of that steamer to vacate. The attempt was frustrated by the arrival of a squad of local police officers. It looked for a time as if a battle would take place between the strikers and the police, but as the bluecoats formed in line across the dock approach, the strikers hesitated. Some shouted "rush 'em, boys, take 'em off their feet." A few broke away from the mob, but when they saw their comrades decline to follow they stopped.

Strikers are Frustrated

The Hamonic was lying at the outer end of the dock and the strikers turned their attention in that direction. The police offered no resistance to the men and they rushed down the dock. The captain, apparently anticipating trouble, made all gangways fast and the strikers had to be content with directing abusive language to the strikebreakers as they appeared on deck. Frustrated in their attempt to board the liner the strikers dared any man on the dock to cast off either bow or stern line. To avoid trouble the captain ordered his officers to sever the hawsers at the deck winches and the boat cleared from the dock amid the jeers of those on the wharf. It is said that the Hamonic had on board 102 strike-breakers, some of whom were to be transferred to other ships lying at anchor in the harbor. Officers of the steamship line would not confirm this statement, but when the Hamonic got clear of the brakewater she was seen to draw alongside two freighters at anchor.

Some Strikers Sign Up

Some trouble occurred when the Home Smith of the Algoma Central line cleared from the same wharf as the other two. Four of the strikers, who had taken part in the demonstration at the Cadillac and the Hamonic, boarded the Home Smith in full view of their comrades, and signed for the trip. This raised the anger of the remaining strikers, and after many taunting remarks one of the deserters returned to the ranks. Only one or two of the strikers were carrying weapons, one of them had a piece of hardwood about three feet long, while another brandished a three-foot length of galvanized iron pipe. There were no casualties. The Home Smith cleared.

Late last night there was apparently no change in the strike situation. At the headquarters of the Seamen's Union no word of settlement had been received. Five boats cleared the harbor today.

CONFERENCE OF BAPTISTS MOST SUCCESSFUL ONE

May be Made an Annual Affair—College an Ideal Place For Gathering

The session of the Baptist Ministers Conference held Thursday evening in Brandon College brought to a close a most successful series of meetings. Almost every Baptist Minister in Manitoba has been in daily attendance throughout the conference and matters of vital moment have been considered with great care. Brandon College was found to be an ideal place for such a gathering and the Ministers are very enthusiastic in expressing their appreciation to the College Board for the opportunity afforded them to get together under such pleasant auspices. At a business session Thursday afternoon it was unanimously decided to make the conference an annual event and the hope was expressed that Brandon might be chosen again as the place of meeting.

This morning conference of Baptist Ministers and lay delegates from all the Baptist Churches in the Province was held in the First Baptist Church. This joint conference was addressed by Dr. F. W. Patterson, General Secretary of the Baptist Union of Western Canada, and by Rev. W. C. Smalley, Superintendent of Baptist Convention of Manitoba. At noon a delicious lunch was served the delegates by the ladies of the First Baptist Church. Many of the pastors left for their homes this afternoon.

"Prayer in the Life of Jesus" was the subject discussed Thursday night, Revs. D. Ritchie, F. R. Julian and F. J. Noble, being the chief speakers.

The closing moments of the conference will not soon be forgotten. The special communion service at which every delegate was present proved a fitting climax to the series of meetings. Rev. W. J. MacCormick, of Stonewall, the senior Baptist Pastor of the Province presided at this service. The conference was beautifully terminated as the men, with joined hands, formed a ring of friendship and sang "Blessed Be the Tie That Binds."

A Spiritual Objective

At this morning's session Rev. W. C. Smalley, of Winnipeg, presided and Dr. F. W. Patterson led the discussion of plans for further work along the lines of the Forward Movement. It was finally decided that a definite program for a Spiritual objective should be observed by all the Baptist Churches in the Province and that a Workers' conference will be held during next month in every church in the Province. The work of Evangelism will be given prominence during the next few months and this will be followed in the New Year by definite classes of instruction for young people.

PEAK OF HIGH PRICES PASSED

Large Firms All Over United States Start Price Slashing—Reductions Permanent

New York, Sept. 24.—Proof that the peak of high prices has been passed and that the direction of curve is now downward, is seen by today's New York newspapers in announcements of price reductions from large firms in various parts of the Eastern States. These reductions, from large firms dealing in various commodities, are taken as symptomatic of a general "shake down" movement eventually bringing living costs back to a stable basis. Some local papers have secured expressions of opinion from business men scattered throughout the country supporting the view that the readjustment of prices is under way on a definite and permanent program.

COAL MINERS' STRIKE POSTPONED FOR ONE WEEK

Result of Meeting of Premier Lloyd George and Miners' Executive

SUSPEND NOTICES

To Strike For One Week — What Strike Would Mean

London, Sept. 24.—The coal miners of Great Britain will not go on strike next Monday as threatened. It developed today, as a result of a meeting between Lloyd George and the miners executive that coal strike notices previously handed in had been suspended for one week.

What Strike Would Mean

A general strike in the British coal industry will involve the following consequences:

A loss to the country of 4,500,000 tons of coal a week with an approximate pithead value of £6,750,000 in respect of coal for inland consumption, and of £1,850,000 in respect of coal delivered f.o.b. for export.

A loss to the miners in wages of £4,500,000 a week.

A loss to the exchequer of the "surplus profit" on export coal, estimated by the Miners' federation at £66,000,000 a year.

The dislocation of industry and a scarcity of domestic coal for an indefinite period.

Great hardship for the poor during the coming Winter.

A further rise in the cost of living.

NEW YORK POLICE HAVE CLUE IN BOMB MYSTERY

Health Department Identifies Tag Found Near Horse Attached to Death Cart

New York, Sept. 24.—After a week had passed without investigation being able to solve the mystery of the Wall Street explosion, they were presented Thursday with another mystery—who placed the package of dynamite in the Reid Avenue elevated station in Brooklyn Thursday morning?

The package was found by a policeman doing strike duty on the Fulton Street line, which is operated by the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company. He soaked it in a bucket of water, and then carried it to fire headquarters in Brooklyn. Later it was taken to a laboratory in Manhattan for analysis. Accounts differ as to whether a sputtering fuse was attached. Some officials reported that Patrolman Santelli, who found it, stamped out a fuse.

At the laboratory, where the package was taken, it was said there had been found two pipe cleaners impregnated with nitrate. These pipe cleaners, it was said, could have served as fuses, but it had not been established whether either had been lighted. Authorities seemed to agree that no percussion caps had been found.

Find Clue in Tag

Meanwhile, detectives investigating the Wall Street explosion reported that through the Health Department they had been able to identify the tag found near the horse attached to the death cart, which is believed to have been the centre of the blast.

This tag, it was learned, had been issued in 1918 to the Reid Ice Cream Company, Brooklyn, to certify that one of its horses was not afflicted with glanders, but since then the horse had been sold three times. The name of the last owner, if known, was not made public.

Chief Wm. J. Flynn, of the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice, says of the latest clue: "It looks good, but like any other clue it may blow up at any time."

More Scares

Meanwhile, in addition to discovery of the bomb in the B.R.T. station, New York and vicinity were subjected to more bomb scares. An anonymous warning that the Grand Central station would be blown up at 2 p.m., caused detectives to be rushed to the terminal and also to the Pennsylvania station and post office. But nothing happened.

In Brooklyn, seizure of a rickety buggy by federal authorities caused a little excitement, because of the almose pre-historic vehicle that figured in the Wall Street blow-up. The buggy, which drew up alongside the Federal building was found, however to contain 12 bottles of whiskey and not bombs. The liquor was seized and the driver arrested.

The grand jury investigating the explosion of last Thursday continued to hear witnesses.

GENERAL LOWERING OF PRICES FOR NECESSITIES

Cut in Automobile Prices Will Extend to Other Lines Experts Declare

Washington, Sept. 24.—A general price reduction of many necessities will be forced by the action of Henry Ford in cuting on automobiles, Wm. Lewis, Treasury Department Economist, says. Lewis said slashing of all automobile prices would result from Ford' action. As examples of some commodities which may be forced down in price by Ford's cut, Lewis named agricultural machinery, stoves, household hardware, waterproof clothing and building materials.

"All automobile manufacturers lately have noticed a slackening up of orders. Ford reported unfilled orders totalling 146,000. Other manufacturers also have unfilled orders, but they were received some weeks ago. The public has stopped buying automobiles at present prices, just as it stopped buying high-priced shoes, diamonds, jewelry and the like.

"The price cutting in automobiles is just one more certain indication that the public's orgy of spending has ended. Manufacturers now must give more for the price asked or see their sale fall off."

All Lines Affected

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 24.—Lower prices in all commodities may be expected to follow the action of Henry Ford in reducing the price of his automobiles, E. R. Fancher, Governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of the Cleveland district and Dr. R. C. Roueche, Fair Price Commissioner here said.

"Ford's action will probably be felt in every line," Dr. Roueche said. "His action indicates that there is a general feeling among manufacturers of all lines of commodities that the time for readjustment of prices is at hand."

Will Find Normal Level

New York, Sept. 24. — Prices of merchandise will soon find their normal level through gradual readjustment of the entire economic situation in the opinion of Edward C. Caldwell, Financial Executive of John Wanamaker's store in New York. Caldwell said he looked for lower prices, but did not believe they would ever reach their pre-war level, owing to the fact that wages and other costs of production would not drop to that level.

NINTH CONGRESS OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ENDS

Closing Business Featured by Resolution of Thanks to Congress

TEAM PLAY WINS

Lord Desborough Speaks on Empire Sport — Fixed Day For Easter

Toronto, Sept. 24.—A striking instance of the far-flung line of commerce of the British empire was given at the close of the ninth congress of Chambers of Commerce of the British empire here Thursday, when the thanks of that body were being presented to Lord Desborough, K.C.V.O., president of the congress. The resolution of thanks was moved by Hugh Blain, of Toronto, and was spoken to by the following: Sir Thomas MacKenzie, of New Zealand; Sir Alexander Roberts, of Bengal, India; F. Wallbach, of Pretoria, South Africa; T. Geddes Grant, of Trinidad, British West Indies, and Stanley Machin, of London, England. J. A. Alton, of Derby, England, one of the speakers, said the great patriotism of Canadians was a revelation to those of the delegates whose first visit it was to this Dominion.

Praises Team Play

Toronto, Sept. 24.—Putting emphasis on the importance of team play in sport, Lord Desborough, president of the ninth Congress of Chambers of Commerce of the British Empire, which Thursday concluded its business here, in address before the Empire club on "Empire Sport," praised the sporting spirit of Canadians. His lordship attributed in some measure the success of the Canadian flers in the war to their team play in sports and their resultant readiness for co-operation when this was needful.

Lord Desborough, himself a noted sport, made no reference to any of his triumphs. His record includes swimming across Niagara river twice, climbing six Alpine peaks in eight days, and stroking a racing crew across the English channel. He is a champion cricketer, runner, fencer, shot and whip.

A fixed day for the celebration of Easter throughout the British Empire was carried by the congress. Lord Desborough explained that the Archbishop of Canterbury and 250 bishops at the Lambeth conference recently had favored the terms of the resolution. Oliver Bodnington, of the British Chamber of Commerce in Paris, said that France would likely follow suit if the British Empire adopted the recommendation of the congress.

It was recommended that the Imperial Council of Commerce be asked to consider with a view to reform, contract and bill of lading forms and also uniform laws for trade mark and copyright. The misuse of hall marks, etc., was discussed and it was arranged that if an assay office is established in Canada, both the goldsmiths company and the silversmiths company will be asked to extend to Canada permission to stamp the British hall mark on Canadian-made goods, incorporated with a maple leaf for distinction.

Conflicting systems of weights and measures and currency ere discussed. A uniform decimal system of currency throughout the empire was recommended by A. J. Hobson, of Sheffield.

HARRISON RECEIVES ONE-TENTH OF THE PROFFERED REWARD

Attorney-General's Department Offered $1,000 Reward and Pays Over $100

FOR ARREST OF ELNICK

Where Nine Other Claimants Come in is Not Apparent

A reward of $100 has been forwarded Mr. C. W. Harrison, of this city, for information supplied by him leading to the arrest and conviction of William H. Elnick, who was later sentenced to a life term for the murder of William de Forge in Winnipeg. The original reward offered by the Attorney-General's Department was $1,000 when the police chase did not bring the murderer within the toils during the first few days after the crime. It is stated that Mr. Harrison was informed that there were nine other claimants for the $1,000 and that the money has been distributed equally among all claimants. No names were given, and as police officers are not allowed to share in the reward money Mr. Harrison is taking the matter up with the Attorney-General's Department in Winnipeg. He is anxious to know who got the money as Elnick's capture took place in Brandon, and there could be no other claimant but himself.

Facts Concerning Capture

The payment of the small reward again brings up the facts concerning Elnick's apprehension in Brandon. Several days after the murder of de Forge in Winnipeg, Elnick appeared in C. W. Harrison's store with three overcoats which he wished to sell. Mr. Harrison's suspicions were aroused and when the man left the coats for examination, the police were phoned for. Detective Barlow made the arrest and when being taken to the police station Elnick tried to get rid of a revolver by tossing it in the snow. The detective saw the move and the revolver was recovered. Later the revolver formed the connecting link in the chain of evidence which convicted Elnick and drew a life sentence for the man for the murder of de Forge. In view of these facts Mr. Harrison considers himself justified in asking who the other claimants to the money were, and on what grounds they made their claim.

TO ESTABLISH BOTTLING PLANT

Orange Crush Bottling Co. Lease Premises — To Employ at Least Fifteen Men

Another concern has decided to establish a plant in Brandon. This time it is the Orange Crush Bottling Company, Limited. On Wednesday they made final arrangements for the establishment of a plant here. A long lease has been secured on the old Price store and Bijou theatre building on Ninth Street and an up-to-date plant for the bottling of Orange Crush will commence operations early in the new year. Mr. N. McMillan, of Winnipeg, who was here Wednesday, stated that the factory would employ between fifteen and twenty-five men, and that all the machinery for the Brandon plant has already been ordered.

The entire rights for Manitoba, Western Ontario and British Columbia have been secured by the Orange Crush Bottling Company. They already have established a factory in Winnipeg, and now their plans include other plants at Port Arthur, Dauphin, Brandon and Vancouver. Abraham Schwartz, of the firm of Cristall & Schwartz, has been named as the manager of the Brandon branch. While no definite date is set for the opening of the plant, it is expected that the bottling works will commence operations about the first week in February.

CANADA WILL NOT GUARANTEE GOLD FROM RUSSIA

Soviet Agents Request Government to Protect Gold From Other Claims

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—Agents of the Soviet government of Russia have made requests that Russian gold, shipped to Canada to pay for goods, will be guaranteed from any other claims against the Russian government. They are asking that any gold sent to Canada to pay for goods purchased in the Dominion will not be devoted to any other purpose; and they wish to secure the guarantee of the Dominion government that the gold will be so utilized. The Dominion Government, however, it is understood, is declining to give any such guarantee or to be involved in any way in the shipment of Russian gold. Opening up of trade relations between Canada and Russia are therefore at an impasse.

The position taken by the Dominion Government is that if any individual Canadian wishes to trade with the Soviet or any other government in Russia, he may do so, but at his own risk. There is no embargo on the exportation of Canadian goods to Russia, but the exporter will have to make his own arrangements for payment, as no credit will be furnished by the Dominion Government.

The point in regard to payment has arisen in regard to news dispatches from London that the Canadian Government has declined to send a steamer to Reval to collect $5,000,000 in gold to pay for goods ordered in Canada by the Bolshevists. According to the dispatches, the Ottawa authorities might have considered it advisable to send a special vessel for a payment of $15,000,000, but not for a smaller sum. So far as can be ascertained here, no formal request has been made at all that any such special vessel shall be sent to Reval. But, in any event, it is intimated the Canadian government would decline to send it.

Advices to hand indicate that no further steps have been taken looking to the establishment in Canada of a Soviet Trade Bureau.

"The Government," a Canadian Press representative was authoritatively informed Wednesday, "does not propose to stand in with any such bureau or to be implicated with it in any way."

TO DECIDE ON ATTITUDE TOWARDS MINERS' STRIKE

Executives of Miners Federation, Railwaymen and Transport Workers Meet Today

Union Leaders Appear to Believe That Miners Have Proved Their Case

London, Sept. 23.—A decision relative to the nation-wide strike of miners and the support of Labor organizations is expected when the Executive Committee of the Miners' Federation of the National Union of Railwaymen and Transport Workers met here today. Statements by the union leaders indicate that they have reached the conclusion that the miners proved their case for increased wages and that Railwaymen and Transport Workers will heartily support the strike.

OFFICIAL REPORT LYNCH SHOOTING

Soldiers Replied to Fire and Lynch Fell Dead in Hotel Room

Dublin, Sept, 23.—An official report concerning the shooting of Councillor Lynch, a prominent Limerick manufacturer, in his hotel room in Dublin, was issued Wednesday evening.

It says that twerve soldiers, accompanied by two members of the Royal Irish Constabulary, went to the Royal Exchange Hotel to arrest Mr. Lynch. As they opened the door to Mr. Lynch's room, a shot was fired at them and the military replied to the fire, Lynch falling dead. He was shot through the mouth.

Surrounded in Mystery

The various versions of the affair leave it surrounded with considerable mystery. It apears, however, that at three o'clock after violent knocking on the door of the hotel, which is situated near the Castle, the porter admitted a dozen men who said they belonged to the military. They searched the register, discovered the name they wanted, and rushed upstairs, leaving some of their number to guard the porter with revolvers.

After five minutes had elapsed all the men left, the porter remaining in ignorance of what had occurred, believing it to be one of the usual raids for arms.

Alleged Sinn Fein Judge

Fifteen minutes later the police arrived, stating they had been instructed by the military to take charge of the body in room No. 6, which proved to be that of John Lynch, of Kilmallock, a member of the Limerick county council, and alleged to be a judge of a Sinn Fein court.

The police Wednesday morning were still guarding the room, to which no one was admitted, while the street near-by was full of excited crowds and a detachment of the military was parading outside the hotel.

The guests in rooms numbers four and seven of the hotel nearby the chamber occupied by Lynch, said they had heard no unusual noise during the night.

Inquest Cancelled

The City Coroner, having announced for today an inquest on the body of Councillor Lynch, received official notification from the Castle not to hold it as arranged.

NO MORE SCHOOLS TO BE BUILT HERE UNTIL NEXT SPRING

Arrangements Have Been Made to Provide Accommodation For Scholars

It was stated this morning that there will be no further school building in the city this year. Some time ago it was expected that another school would have to be built in Brandon in order to accommodate the ever-increasing number of pupils. This was particularly a need in the North end of the city. The School Board even went so far as to discuss the purchase of certain lands in the Western portion of the city lying North of the C.P.R. tracks, with the idea of building a new school.

School accommodation for pupils living in the North part of the city has been provided however in a two-room school on Thirteenth Street and Assiniboine, and within a block of another school. This school takes care of about sixty-five pupils and will relieve the congestion in that part of the city. The opening of this school makes four school on the Flats, one on Seventh Street, two on Thirteenth and one on Eighteenth Street.

The four-room addition to the King George school which was commenced shortly after the Summer holidays started, will not be completed before November. It was originally expected that the addition would be completed in time for occupation at the commencement of this term, but the non-arrival of the steel for construction purposes, held up the work. In the meantime the classes are using the Assembly Hall in the King George school. An effort will be made to have the new addition ready for occupation by the 1st of November.

The Manual Training Department of the Public Schools was crowded out of the Normal School this term and at present have quarters in the Park School. The accommodation for this department at the Park School is ideal, it is stated, and the classes are being continued without interruption. The Domestic Science classes are still continuing to hold their sessions at the Normal School.

It is anticipated that an early start will be made next Spring on a new School building on Twelfth Street, to take care of the Domestic Science and Manual Training Departments. A plan to remodel the old Langham Hotel building for occupation this term by these classes was entirely wiped out with the destruction of that property by fire. However the School Board have this property and may erect a modern building early next Spring.

URGES RETURNED MEN TO CEASE THEIR QUIBBLING

Secretary-Treasurer of Dominion War Veterans Speaks at Digby Convention

Digby, N.S., Sept. 24.—"The time is now for the returned men to cease quibbling about details and stride forward for high ideals," said C. G. McNeill, Secretary-Treasurer of the Dominion G.W.V.A. at a recent session of the annual Nova Scotia G.W.V.A. convention here.

The Association, he declared, had always been sane and reasonable in its views toward the commonwealth. Further aid for the returned man was necessary. Thousands of men were still adrift, and the situation was rendered more acute by the government demobilizing its re-establishment bureaus. The returned men were thinking on sane lines and the public should not be misled. They stood for a clean government and a square deal for all.

Among the resolutions adopted was one "that more general recognition be given to the fundamental principle which has actuated all representations with regard to further aid in re-establishment, namely, that the obligation devolves upon the nation to make the greatest possible effort to restore the discharged soldier to a status in the community life which he would have enjoyed but for war services."

He extinguished the fuse. At the police station it was found the package held a bomb, containing "enough dynamite to blow up the neighborhood."

The elevated platforms, which are unusually high at this point, were crowded with scores of persons. The Brooklyn Rapid Transit strike, which began several weeks ago and was marked by considerable violence during the past few days, is believed to be practically ended through the return of the men to their posts individually and the hiring of new men.

The arrest was made in the "bomb squad's" campaign against alleged radicals in an effort to aid New York officials clear up the recent bomb explosion there.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—Department of justice agents and police seeking clues here in connection with the New York bomb explosion, speeded up their inquiry following the discovery that 150 pounds of dynamite had been stolen on Sept. 7 from the Aetna Explosives company warehouse at Lambert, Ill.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 23.—Recognition of tuberculosis in its early stage, and co-operation with physicians in administering of treatment, has made the disease a curable one, declared Dr. G. Morris Golden, tuberculosis specialist, of Philadelphia, in an interview here Wednesday. "Although the question of cure in tuberculosis is debatable, it is a fact that by careful living and a regulated diet, the prognosis is less severe and the disease may be classed as curable," Dr. Gordon stated.

232 REGISTERED TO GET NAMES ON VOTERS' LISTS

Total Number of Names on Provincial Voters' Lists is 5,843

WOMEN VOTERS

Not Counted Separately, So That Number is Unknown at Present

The final returns for the special registration last week have now been given out by the Returning Officer, Mr. D. Marshall. They show that 232 persons registered at the booths and their names will be added to the Provincial list prepared in the Summer, and just prior to the Provincial elections. The largest registration took place in booth number three where 69 names were added to the list. Sixty-six names were added in District One, 58 in District Two and 39 in District Four. The total registration for the city at present is 5,834.

No returns were made showing the registration of women, so that it is impossible to say how many women voters there are in the city. It is expected that quite a number of names will be added to the present list when the Court of Revision is held in the Court House. Those who were unable to attend the special polls for registration last week, will have a last opportunity to get their names on the list at the Court of Revision. Only those whose names are on the Provincial list will be able to cast their vote in the forthcoming Referendum.

BOMB OUTRAGES

A second bomb outrage was narrowly averted in New York city on Thursday by the discovery of a bomb in a washroom of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit lines. Prompt and effective action was taken by a policeman in extinguished a spluttering fuse attached to a package containing what is described as "enough dynamite to blow up the neighborhood." The elevated railway platforms at the depot where the bomb was discovered, were crowded with people, and had the bomb done the work which it was designed for, another terrible fatality would have resulted.

The finding of this live bomb will likely cause abandonment of any theory that the Wall Street explosion was due to an accident, causing a return to the original belief that terrorists are at work.

Society must protect itself against crack-brained individuals or groups who mistakenly believe they can accomplish their object by such methods. Justice prompt and impartial, should be their portion.

PREVENT FIRE WASTE

Popular education regarding safety devices and preventative measures for the reduction of Canada's annual fire loss are initial steps in a definite effort to effect conservation. Should they, after thorough trial, prove ineffective, then it is likely that there will be added thereto stringent regulations concerning responsibility for fires with severe penalties for infractions or neglect.

The necessity for effective preventative measures is apparent when it is known that at a time of high building costs and acute scarcity of material, we are burning buildings at a criminal rate—$23,500,000 last year, or approximately $2.90 per capita. The highest rate per capita of any nation in the world.

Not only is this a complete loss of national wealth, but its replacement creates increased competition for available building supplies, thus enhancing prices for new building.

If there is to be a reduction of the annual fire waste, public education and a recognition of personal responsibility, are essential. In any such campaign it is particularly necessary to interest the younger generation. This can be best done through the public schools. Fire Prevention Day, Saturday, October 9th, will give a splendid opportunity for bringing this subject to the attention of pupils and should produce good results.

KEEPING YOUNG FOLKS ON THE FARMS

Hon. S. F. Tolmie gives clear evidence of his understanding of one of the great problems connected with farming—that of keeping the young people on the farm. Speaking in the House of Commons he said: "Since the war a problem which has been worrying agriculturalists all over the country is that of keeping the boy and the girl on the farm. All the literature that I have seen on the subject shows quite plainly that no panacea has been discovered to met the difficulty in connection with the exodus of the boys and girls from the farms. I think that hon. gentlemen will all agree that we can at least go a long way towards solving the problem by adopting better farm methods; by making the home more attractive; by keeping better livestock; which will make possible more comfortable conditions such as will be conducive to happiness and contentment; by making conditions tolerable for the farmer's wife; and generally by doing everything we can to make life on the farm appealing.

In addition to this, I think that good roads and cheap automobiles should play a very great part in helping to keep the young people on the farms by rendering very valuable assistance to the farmer in different ways in connection with his work and by enabling him and his family to move around and mix with the neighbors, thus obtaining some social pleasures out of life."

CAN'T KILL THE LEAGUE

The League of Nations is dead. United States Senators say it is dead, and they ought to know because they have done their best to kill it.

And yet the League of Nations has prevented war between Poland and Lithuania by taking over their dispute for investigation and decision.

The League of Nations has also taken over for investigation and determination a dispute between Sweden and Finland over the Aaland Islands, a dispute that was pregnant with war like possibilities.

Premier Brandting of Sweden, a great and far-seeing statesman, testifies "that the League of Nations has earned its right to live as an effective means of preventing future wars growing out of international disputes."

The League of Nations dead? Not yet!

Puny men in the United States Senate may think they have killed it, but they haven't and they can't. They have prevented the United States from joining it. They have postponed the day when the United States with its disinterestedness and its high ideals, will take its place in the councils of the League, ready to do a full share in preserving the peace of the world for the protection of humanity.

But they haven't killed the League and they can't kill the League. It lives. It is demonstrating its value. The United States will yet be a part of it despite all the partizanship and the politicians that stand in the way.

SAFEGUARD INVESTMENTS

It is a pleasant announcement that is contained in news dispatches, o the effect that there are hundreds of thousands of pounds of British capital awaiting favorable opportunity for investment in Canada. It is not so satisfactory to learn that this capital will not be available until the exchange problem has righted itself. It is a statement that over the hill lies opportunity. However, as Canada needs the money it is pleasing to know that British investors are ready to supply it, even though certain difficulties must be overcome before the source of supply can be tapped.

The British capital which is awaiting investment in Canada is held mostly by people who know the value of money, and want a good opportunity to invest it. This is not the same class as was so badly "stung" during boom days. It is the hard headed investor who believes there is to be found in this Western land an investment equally secure but yielding superior returns to what can be obtained in the old land. He believes it. So do Canadians. He has the money. We have the opportunities for investment which will work wonders in the development of Canada.

When the exchange situation is righted, Western Canada should not "boom." It should be developed along sane, scientific lines. There should be no place for the "slick" promoter. His operations are hurtful to everybody and his wings must be clipped in the interests of the development of Canada. Security of investment must be safe guarded if there is to be a continuance of the now pent up golden stream which is Canada's opportunity for progress and development.

THE DEATH CAR

Statistics given at the meeting of the United States National Safety Council held in Atlantic City, are calculated to arouse astonishment and horror. A statement was presented showing that automobiles caused 15,000 deaths in a year, one about every thirty-five minutes.

Automobile fatalities are roughly divided into two classes: those in which the drivers or passengers meet death, and those in which pedestrians or persons in other vehicles are the victims. In nine cases out of ten the accidents are the result of carelessness, sometimes on the part of the victim and sometimes in spite of all they can do to prevent it.

With more cars than ever on the roads, and the program of road building that is under way, the necessity for more care on the part of drivers and pedestrians becomes increasingly apparent.

Uniformity in safety regulations in all cities and Provinces of the Dominion, and in conformity with the generally prevailing regulations in the United States, is one way in which the liability of accidents may be reduced materially. And as this can be brought about through existing agencies the possibility and advisability of speedy action is apparent.

CLEARING AWAY THE FOG

The election of the two Meighen Cabinet Ministers in by-elections in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia is viewed very differently in sources friendly or unfriendly to the Government. Opponents declare the constituencies were overrun with Government agents, promised special preferential treatment, and practically stampeded into election of the Ministers. Friends of the Government view it differently. They claim that the result is due to whole hearted approval of the Government.

As is usual, it is probable that the truth lies somewhere in between. Few constituencies defeat Cabinet Ministers in by-elections, especially Eastern constituencies. Then again the record made by the Union Government, of which the present administration is the successor, has for the first time, been put fairly before the electors together with the platform of the Meighen Government, and the two when presented by able advocates, make a powerful appeal.

To Western Canadians, who may be said to be less inclined to slavishly follow political parties, than dwellers in other parts of the Dominion, it is becoming clear that Premier Meighen is making the most of his position. He has shown the record of the Union Government of which he was a member, and of which his Government is the successor, to have been freely maligned and misrepresented. The silence of that Government in the face of criticisms, many of which were unfair and untrue, has been broken. The Union Government's record and the facts have been proclaimed in characteristically vigorous style and the platform of the Meighen Government announced. The Federal by-elections mark the close of the first round, the result being a victory for the Government.

Premier Meighen has now opened his campaign in the Eastern Townships of Quebec. Reports of his speech at Sherbrooke show that he is dealing courageously with the situation. The issue he proclaims to be protection vs. free trade. Supporting free trade are the Farmers party and to some extent and in some places, the remnant of the Liberal party that clings to Mackenzie King. Protection is championed by the party led by Premier Meighen, and press dispatches of his speeches indicate that he is a sterling champion of a policy which for many years has been followed in all the leading countries in the world save Great Britain, where it is now said to be gaining steadily in favor.

The elections of the Cabinet Ministers and the speeches of Premier Meighen are doing a great deal towards clearing up popular misconceptions of the position of the Government.

WOOD'S SNEER AT MEIGHEN

Calgary, Sept. 25.—President H. W. Wood, of the U.F.A., displayed considerable amusement when his attention was drawn to the speech in which Premier Meighen charged the organized farmers and their leaders with having "aligned themselves with sedationists." He was disinclined to take this charge seriously.

"I think you newspaper men are taking this talk of Mr. Meighen's altogether too seriously," he remarked. "He is not half so bad as some of his talk would suggest. He has been thrust somewhat prematurely into a position that would tax the seasoned strength of one who has mature judgment an dthe settling influence of long experience. I am only afraid that the very zeal he is throwing into work that is too heavy for his age and experience will ruin him for many years, which otherwise might be filled with usefulness."

Referring to his own experience with a well-bred, highly-strung colt, which was ideal for light harness, but being hot-blooded and green, fretted and overdid himself, threw a bog spavin and was never useful afterwards, President Wood said:

"Mr. Meighen is highly-bred, brilliant, ambitious and sufficiently trained to give fine service in lighter political work. But when it comes to the solid, heavy work of real statesmanship, I fear his weight and experience are against him. If he is not careful he will throw a political bog spavin that will ruin him for real usefulness."

SENTENCED TO YEAR IN JAIL FOR FALSE PRETENSES

Prince Albert, Sept. 24.—Alex Syroishka, formerly of Wakaw, but recently engaged in the elevator business in Winnipeg, has been sentenced by Judge MacDonald to a year in jail for false pretenses in connection with the sale of a farm owned by A. Westorwall, of Cayley, Alta., to Yooknn Trach, a Wakaw farmer. Syroishka bought the land for $16 an acre, but represented that he had paid $19.75 an acre for it and had paid out $600 for the complainant which he later collected.

Fernie, B.C., Sept. 24. — J. W. Dill, 86 years old, who has been assistant postmaster at the Parliament Buildings in Toronto for nearly twenty years, died suddenly on the Westbound train here. The immediate cause of death was heart failure, though Mr. Dill had been in poor health for some time. He was accompanied by his wife and they were en route to Nelson where two sons reside.

SOVIET RUSSIA NEEDS RAW COTTON

Unless it is Forthcoming 800,000 Workers Will be Out of Employment

Paris, Sept. 25. — Unless Soviet Russia is able to import the huge quantities of cotton now being held in Turkestan there is danger of an absolute collapse of the textile industry in Russia, with the inevitable result that almost 800,000 workers will be thrown out of employment.

This is the blow which Lenine and Trotzky are most anxious to ward off, as it will have a far-reaching effect on the morals of the Russian people and undermine the structure of nationalization on which the Soviet Government has been built, according to French investigators just returned from the interior of Russia.

By Sept. 1, 1919, all of the cotton reserve in Russia had been opportioned to the State-owned factories. A total of nearly 600 mills were involved in the nationalization process, and these were kept busy for several months preparing cloth to be used in the Soviet army, little being available for civilian purchases.

Small Supplies Obtained

The Government has been able to get small supplies of the Turkish cotton, but since the development of Gen. Wranwel's opposition and the strengthening of the Ukraine barrier the stocks are said to be reduced to the dangerous limit of less than 100,000 pounds, barely sufficient to give work in the factories for another three months.

The Turkish reserve, however, is estimated at 9,000,000 pounds, which explains in no small measure the eagreness of the Moscow officials to maintain the closest possible contact with the Turkish Nationalists and the forcing of a corridor through the Crimea and Armenia through which convoyed shipments of cotton may pass.

The silk industry was also said to be suffering from lack of raw material. Forty-nine industries were nationalized. Of these only 25 are functioning at present, the workers in the other factories having been drafted into Trotzky's "labor army" for work in the fields and mines.

The knitting mills have been kept running by the use of fibre substitutes, but there is a constantly diminishing supply of these, which will be further reduced as the Winter sets in. However, at present there are 36 mills in operation, with a total of 56,000 machines.

Even M. Frossard, the French Socialist, has admitted the penury of workers and the shortage of fuel and food. "During the last few months," he reported in a recent conference in Paris, "there has been an unprecedented number of departures of skilled workers for the battle fronts and the agricultural regions. This has been largely due to the growing fear of famine, which can only be avoided if Russia is able to resume commercial relations with the rest of the world."

The industrial situation is being closely watched by French diplomatists, who realize that the inevitable discontent of the laborers provides a new and effective striking point against the Bolshevik leaders and the influencing of the Russian people toward the aceptance of a rational form of Government.

TORONTO PHYSICIAN MUST DEMONSTRATE CURE FOR CANCER TO MEDICAL MEN

Ottawa, Sept. 27.—Dr. Glover, the young Toronto physician, who claims to have discovered a serum cure for cancer and from whom thousands from all over America are seeking treatment, must demonstrate his capacity to "deliver the goods." The Health Department has ordered him to prepare within three weeks to demonstrate his treatment and its results publicly before the Ontario Academy of Medicine. Glover has agreed. The academy will then say whether the treatment has merit. Dr. Glover closed his public clinic but is accused of opening a private institution and practising without conforming to the medical ethics of making his treatment known to the profession for the benefit of the public.

FARMERS TO NAME FULL TICKET

BRUTALITY CHARGE DENIED BY 'PEG CHIEF OF POLICE

DEALERS MUST HAVE LICENSE TO SELL ARTICLES SUBJECT TO LUXURY TAX

A new regulation which became effective in Brandon on Wednesday compels every merchant who sells articles subject to a luxury tax, to obtain a license. Licenses have arrived from Ottawa and may be obtained at the Inland Revenue Office.

In the near future it is expected that special stamps will be issued for the use of the merchant who sells goods subject to a luxury tax. The new system of using stamps to collect the luxury tax on sales made is expected to be an improvement not only from the point of view of the merchant but from that of the customer as well.

FOREST FIRES BIG FACTOR IN PRICE OF LUMBER

Washington, Sept. 28.—Every time there is a forest fire it is a contributing factor to the increasing price of lumber, according to Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Forestry Association, who, in a statement here today denounced the needless $30,000,000 annual forest fire loss of the United States as "a wasteful strain upon the resources of the nation." Standing timber is being cut and destroyed by fire, diseases and insects, he said, more than four times as fast as new trees are being grown.

"Here is an example what confronts the nation," declared Mr. Pack. "The wholesale prices on upper grades of soft wood lumber in New York were from $20 to $25 a thousand feet prior to 1865, when mills in the same state supplied the market, from $35 to $45 between 1865 and 1917 when most of the supply came from the lake states and the South and are now entering a general level of $130 a thousand feet with a large part of the material coming from the Pacific Coast.

"Many industries have been unable to secure their supplies of timber at any price. The output of certain entire industries has been reduced as much as 50 per cent. Necessities have fared worse than luxuries. The ramifications of lumber shortage and high prices are limitless and have affected seriously practically our entire population."

Mr. Pack, as the head of the organization keenly interested in conserving the nation's forests, prefaced his statement with the hope that fire prevention would be "preached" in every school in the land on Friday, October 8, the day before Fire Prevention Day proclaimed by President Wilson, when the teachers are expected to inform their pupils of unnecessary fire hazards and to help reduce the country's total annual fire loss of $250,000,000.

SALES TAXES YIELD DOMINION $6,000,000 DURING LAST MONTH

Ottawa, Sept. 27.—Six million dollars of revenue came into the Federal treasury last month from the sales taxes. It is believed that in the Fall months it will be $10,000,000. The Inland Revenue Department last week selected a staff of 30 expert auditors distributed over Canada to check up returns, and other steps are being taken to see that the law is not evaded. A big batch of prosecutions is being initiated, and the heaviest penalty will be applied if the department has its way. In substitution of present methods, stamps will be used after Nov. 1 and attached to each taxable invoice. It has been found impossible to put it into operation earlier, as was intended.

LUMBER MILL AND 15,000,000 FEET LUMBER DESTROYED BY FIRE

St. John, N.B., Sept. 27.—Fire on Friday destroyed the mills of the Continental Lumber Company at Charlo River. Fifteen million feet of lumber was also consumed. No estimate of the damage is available.

OFFICIAL TRADE RETURNS UNION SOUTH AFRICA SHOW GREAT INCREASE

Cape Town, Sept. 28.—(By Canadian Press)—The official trade returns of the Union of South Africa for the first quarter of 1920 show an enormous increase over the foreign trade of the corresponding quarter of 1919. Imports increased by well over 4,000,000 pounds sterling and exports by nearly 9,000,000 pounds sterling, exclusive of raw gold. The total value of imports was 20,104,506 pounds sterling, and of exports, 29,038,334 pounds sterling, including raw gold which amounted to 8,191,455 pounds sterling. Exports of wool were 10,839,107 pounds sterling, and for the first time on record surpassed in value the raw gold exported.

REPORT SHOWS LOSSES SUSTAINED IN BUSH FIRES

About 100 Settlers Lose Property: Over Half Require Assistance

Winnipeg, Sept. 27.—Approximately 100 settlers in Manitoba municipalities around Lake Winnipegosis, lost property in the prairie and bush fires which swept those regions during July and August. Information to this effect is contained in a synopsis of the reports of nine investigators sent out by the Government, which was submitted recently to Premier T. C. Norris.

Not more than half will require assistance under the co-operative plan arranged between the government and the affected municipalities, the report indicates. In many cases hay and pasturage were destroyed, and the feed shortage is becoming acute in some places.

Few cattle have been sold out of the country because of feed shortage, but he is alarmed that many cattle buyers eager to take advantage of the current situation have invaded the districts.

C. C. Weatherhead, investigator in the Chatfield region, says there is a scarcity of potatoes.

J. A. McManus, reporting on the Fork River region, says two families living in one homestead, lost all they possessed, including the savings of 25 years, amounting to $4,000 in cash. About eight or ten lost hay.

C. E. James, reporting on the Hodgson, Fisher branch region, says the greatest scarcity is hay, but potatoes are needed in many places.

J. H. Kiteley, who investigated the Faulkner, Fairford and Birch Bay regions, says there is a great shortage of hay and also of potatoes.

The work of relief is being undertaken by local municipal authorities, the government having adopted the suggestion to bear half of all expenses.

HOGS FATTEN ON RICH ACORNS

Ashland, Wis., Sept. 28.—Four hundred hogs belonging to the John Schroeder Lumber Co. of Ashland and Milwaukee, are fattening on the acorns that drop from the trees on Oak Island, and feeding on the roots which they know how to find. The island, one of the Apostle group, is occupied during the Winter months by lumber camps, which have been supplied for several years with fresh meat from hogs which are allowed to run wild on the island.

By the time the camps open up late this Fall, the 300 old hogs which were left over this Spring may have multiplied to several times that number. Four hundred, the present estimate, is made from a brief view of numerous troops of pigs following their mothers, but the number may be much greater.

There is no reason why some of the smaller Apostles cannot be utilized in this manner, to raise unlimited supplies of hogs and cattle. The company has 100 horses which were turned loose on Stockton Island this Spring, brought to the island from camps at other places. Red clover and timothy, apparently as tall as a man, grow in the wagon roads and other places on Stockton where the trees have been cut, the seeds having been scattered from the hay carried to lumber camps. This accounts for the clover and hay which grow everywhere by the roadside in the lumber country.

WOOLENS TO BE CHEAPER IN SPRING: CLOTHING PRICES TO DROP SOON

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 24.—"Clothing prices must come down—they are too high," Frederick Levy, President of the Retail Clothiers' Association, told a thousaand members of that organization. Clothing dealers from all parts of the country are here to discuss the details of the trade. From delegates some bits of good news were gathered. One is that woolens will be cheaper in the Spring. The manufacturers are beginning to catch up. The price of clothes, however, will drop slowly so long as the average wage for needle trades is $47.

TORONTO HOUSEWIVES CANNOT GET FRUIT JARS

Toronto, Sept. 25.—The Toronto housewives are faced with a famine in fruit jars. None to be had in the city and manufacturers are unable to relieve the situation.

IRISHMAN 108 YEARS OLD DIES: BROTHER 103 YEARS

Belfast, Ireland, Sept. 27—A unique record of centenarian brothers has just been broken by the death of John Mullan, 108 years old, who lived with his brother, Henry, 103 years old, at Doneydale, near Dungannon.

LOW SPEED AIR CRAFT MAY BE USED FOR TOWING

To Make Cargoes That Can Wait for Favorable Weather Conditions

Cardiff, Wales, Sept. 28.—Low-speed cargo airships for towing other aircraft were suffered by Wing Commander T. Cave-Browne-Cave in an address before the Engineering section of the Conference of the British Association for the Advancement of Science held here.

When no speed greater than 35 miles an hour is required, and when reasonably favorable weather can be waited for, even small airships can be used for transport over otherwise impossible country, he stated.

It has been demonstrated that airships with a gas capacity ranging from 70,000 to 2,400,000 cubic feet can transport at slow speed from 0.73 to 48.1 tons when used as airships with crew and machinery, and from 1.3 to 52 tons when used as "dumb" vessels.

Such an airship service, the Commander said, would be of inestimable value in civil engineering such as the construction of railways and in prospecting for oil and minerals by transporting material. It would be possible to land one or two men or even a survey party by means of slings from a strong wire while the airship was practically stationary.

TERRIBLE CRIMES ON MONTENEGRINS BY SERBIAN ARMY

According to a Special Report on Alleged Tortures in the Occupied Regions

Washington, Sept. 28.—Terrible tortures and hardships were inflicted upon the Montenegrins by the Serbian army of occupation, according to an official report of a commission of investigation appointed by the Montenegrin Foreign Office after the withdrawal of the Serbian troops. Copies of the report have been transmitted to the European Governments and one also is understood to have been submitted to the United States State Department.

The commission charges that "crimes committed in Montenegro were ordered by the Serbian authorities and carried out by high officers, such as General Milosh Misilovitch, chief commander of the troops of occupation," and it gives the names and circumstances attending some of the alleged atrocities. The report avers that the purpose was either to force those persecuted to declare allegiance to the Serbian king or to obtain information about their male relatives who had escaped from the Serbian authorities.

NEW COMMISSION TO ERECT 500 HOMES TORONTO

Toronto, Sept. 28.—The City Council here last night appointed a new Housing Commission to erect 500 houses forthwith. A by-law was passed authorizing the issue of debentures for $864,000 to cover the expenses incurred by the former Housing Commission.

GREATEST IMPEDIMENT TO RECONSTRUCTION EUROPE INDUSTRIAL SOCIALIZATION

Brussels, Sept. 28.—The greatest impediment to the financial reconstruction of Europe is the movement for socialization and nationalization of industry, with the accompanying burdens on governments, it was declared by R. H. Briand, the British vice-president of the International Financial conference, in the opening debate of the conference Monday.

The conference chamber presented a scene of great animation with the beginning of actual work by the body. The assembly hall was crowded when Gustav Ador, ex-president of Switzerland, the presiding officer of the conference, called the delegates to order.

FEWER PARCELS OF LAND OFFERED IN THE TAX SALE

Which is to be Held on October 30th — Payments Made Fairly Promptly

EARLY PAYMENT

Of Taxes Should be Encouraged —City Treasurer Favors Offering Inducements

The annual tax sale for the City of Brandon will be held on October 30th. Notices to this effect are now being given and 279 parcels of land will be offered for sale unless redeemed before the day of sale. The payment of taxes during the past year has been much better than in previous years as is shown by the number of parcels offered this year, as compared with other years. In 1919, no less than 391 parcels were up for sale for the non-payment of taxes, but this season shows 112 less. The tax sale to be held on October 30th will include all lands for which the taxes of 1918 and 1919 are still owing.

Ratepayers have been making their tax payments rather promptly this year, according to City Treasurer Sykes. Although comparison with other years is almost impossible as regards the amount of taxes paid, Mr. Sykes stated that a large number were taking advantage of the special inducements offered for prompt payment. Up until October 15th ratepayers who pay this year's taxes are allowed five per cent. off, while those who pay before December 15th are allowed a reduction of three per cent. There will be no extension of time for payment this year as there was last Fall, the City Council having pledged itself that the final date for payment will not be extended beyond the time set in the statute.

The City Treasurer is in favor of even a greater inducement being offered ratepayers for the early payment of taxes. In this connection the plan submitted by A. E. McKenzie to the City Council last Monday night, and which would allow a ten per cent. reduction for payment in July, with a sliding scale of reduction for later payments, meets with Mr. Sykes' approval. However, the City Council will hardly take any action in the matter, as the letter of recommendation was filed without any intimation of a change in the present system.

PLENTY OF WORK BRANDON DISTRICT: MOSTLY ON FARMS

Demand for Harvesters Slackens —Construction Work Offers Good Pay

There is no need of a man being out of work in Brandon. According to the Employment Bureau there are any number of jobs open in the Brandon district and all for good money. These jobs range from farm labor to construction work, and there are many applications for help still on file and which have to be filled.

Although the demand for farm laborers has fallen off with the threshing operations practically concluded, there is still a large number of men needed for farm work. Most of these jobs are for short periods and pay $6 and $7 a day. Several applications have also been received from farmers for men to hire by the month. They are offering $75 per month with but few takers, as the men still prefer working by the day where possible.

Construction work in the district demands laborers and good wages are being paid. There are also many positions open in the city for female help, and an urgent call for women assistants at the Hospital for the Insane is among those positions which are offering good wages.

Since the Commissioners took charge of the fuel situation the imports daily have been more than trebled.

HARTNEY MAN ANXIOUS FOR RETURN OF CAR LOANED YOUNG MEN

E. W. Bailey of Hartney, is looking for an automobile which he loaned to two young men some time ago. The time for the return of the car has expired and Mr. Bailey, becoming anxious, has placed the matter in the hands of the Provincial Police. According to the police story, two young men named E. L. and Don E. Allen, selling a book called "The History of the War," called at Hartney. They were very much interested in a car which Mr. Bailey owned.

Accordingly, a plan was arranged whereby the two young men were to take the car for a week, and they were to sell it within that time for $600 or return the car. Any sum above the $600 they could have for themselves. The time for the return of the car was given as September 14th, and the car was to be delivered to the Brandon Auto Garage. The 14th came around but no car. Two days later, Mr. Bailey informed the police, and later the Provincial Police took up the matter. But the car has not been found yet. One of the number plates, bearing an Ontario license was picked up in Ook River, but this is the only clue which the police have.

REDUCED PRICES ON FORD CARS NOW EFFECTIVE

All Models of This Make Reduced in Price on an Average of $142 a Car

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 22. — Henry Ford has announced that prices on all models of his automobiles have been reduced on an average of $142 a car, bringing them practically to pre-war prices. The Ford Company has 146,000 unfilled orders.

In making the announcement, Ford said lack of materials which are stored in many parts of the country is impeding production and that a slashing of prices is the only way these materials can be forced on the market and pre-war conditions brought about.

The new prices are effective immediately.

"High prices impede progress," declared Ford, "and it is time we got back to a pre-war basis. The war is over. Prices must come down."

Wage at the Ford plant will not be affected by the new car prices.

The price cut made by the Ford Company will affect prices of other cars, according to prominent automobile men of Detroit. They feel the competition will force other manufacturers to cut retail prices.

"Now is the time to call a halt on war methods, war prices, war profiteering and war greed," Ford said. "It may be necessary for everybody to stand a little sacrifice, but it will be most profitable after all, because the sooner we get the business of the country back to a pre-war condition, and thelives of our people become more natural progress, prosperity and contentment will occupy the attention of our people."

CONTROL OF SALE PATENT MEDICINES IS NEEDED NOW

Uniform Legislation Throughout Canada Should Be in Force Owing to Prohibition

Uniform legislation was required, Mr. Stewart said, in order to deal with the sufficiency of medication in patent and proprietory medicine, so that the same law would be in force in every province. He recommended a reference of the matter to the Dominion Department of Health, which, he said, was the best equipped to deal with it.

CHARGE NEGRO WITH THEFTS IN WINNIPEG

Alleged to Have Entered Homes Shut Up For Summer—Part of Loot Recovered

Winnipeg, Sept. 22.—A series of mysterious robberies which have baffled police all Summer, has been cleared up by the arrest of Frank Mann, a negro, according to a statement by Police Chief Newton. Mann is alleged to have robbed between fifteen and twenty houses, mostly those of wealthy persons away for the Summer.

Jewels and heirlooms said to be worth approximately $20,000 were stolen from the Hutchings' home while the family was on a trip to Alaska. Acording to Chief Newton part of the loot was recovered from a place where Mann had hidden it. Chief Newton said he was able to connect Mann with robberies of the Chalmers and Champion homes by identifying stolen articles which were recovered after his arrest.

Between $6,000 and $8,000 worth of jewels, silverware and other stolen property was recovered from Mann's cache, it is said. Police believe he had another hiding place where the balance of the loot was stored, and they are endeavoring to find it.

In addition to the Hutchings' robbery, Mann is alleged to have stolen approximately $8,000 worth of property from other homes. He also caused damage to nearly $6,000, it is alleged, prowling through houses.

According to Chief Newton, Mann was a "society column" burglar." He watched the society pages of the newspapers, according to the Chief, and thus obtained information about the going and comings of the wealthy citizens whose homes he robbed. On no occasion, it is said, was the burglar seen by any of his victims.

As an instance of how Mann is alleged to have worked, Chief Newton said it was announced in a society column that Mrs. Chalmers would leave on the three o'clock train for the East, and two hours after her departure her house was robbed.

Mann was arrested by Detectives Sidney Young and James Dickie. He entered no plea in Police Court when arraigned on a blanket charge of house-breaking, and was remanded for a week. Chief Newton said he would file about fifteen separate charges of house-breaking against the negro.

Following Conferences of Provincial Representatives Such Action is Likely

DELAY WORK ON NEW HOSPITAL UNTIL SPRING

Tenders Exceed Building Estimates by Many Thousands of Dollars

EVER CHANGING PRICES

On All Sorts of Material Reflected in Bids—Plan Early Start Next Spring

It has been practically decided by the Hospital Board not to proceed with the construction work of the new General Hospital this Fall. This decision was reached at a meeting of the Board held recently, which although not as yet ratified by the whole Board, will no doubt stand as the final decision. The high cost of construction work is given as the cause for the calling off of building operations this Fall, but an early start is planned in the Spring.

When the Board held their first meeting to open the tenders received it was found the tenders exceeded the estimates by many thousands of dollars. The Board held another meeting and although there was not a quorum present, it was decided to return the checks accompanying the tenders and hold up construction work until next Spring. The Hospital Board could have gone ahead with the plans, but by doing so would have exceeded their finances. This they were unwilling to do and consequently they arrived at the decision to postpone the work until next Spring. In the meantime they will proceed with the furtherance of their plans, and either re-arrange their financial or building plans to meet the increased cost of building. It is stated that owing to the ever-changing prices it was difficult for contractors to get definite prices from factories, and this made it somewhat difficult to tender for such a large building as the proposed General Hospital.

MORE STUDENTS THAN EVER BEFORE BRANDON COLLEGE

Both the Young Men's and Young Women's Residences Filled to Capacity

COLLEGE FACULTY

Consists of Twenty-Five Specially Trained Men and Women

Brandon College will open its twenty-first session on Tuesday, September 28th, with the largest student attendance and Faculty in the history of the institution. Both the young men's and young women's residences are filled to capacity, as well as the Clark Hall annex (The John E. Smith house), and many applications for residence privileges have had to be refused for lack of accommodation.

The different departments of the College are well organized and it is expected that the attendance in each will be greater than that of last year. The registration of students for the Arts Department promises to run high. This is true also of the Academic and Music and Expression. As already announced to the public, the Business Department will be housed in its fine new quarters at the Brandon Club where it is expected numerous students will enroll from month to month. For the first time in the history of the College two Arts graduates will return for post-graduate work, one of these coming from Quebec; the other will have charge of the library while pursuing her M.A. studies.

The College Faculty, consisting of twenty-five specially trained men and women, is probably the strongest staff the Board of Directors has yet been fortunate enough to bring together. Some fourteen different colleges and universities of Canada, the United States, Great Britain and Europe are represented on this Faculty group in connection with their under-graduate and post-graduate training.

During the Summer Dr. MacNeill, Professor and Mrs. Wilkins, Mr. Logan and Miss Turnbull have attended lectures of the Summer Quarter at the University of Chicago. Other members of the Faculty have spent the vacation weeks in rest and travel. Professor and Mrs. Wright are just returning from their stay on a fruit ranch at Robson, B.C. Miss Evangeline L. Cline, A.T.C.M., is also returning to take her regular position on the Faculty after spending the past year in special study and recital work.

The regular registration for the coming session begins Tuesday morning at nine o'clock.

Schoolmaster and Pupils Sang "Deutschland Uber Allies" in the Street

Allenstein, East Prussia, Sept. 25.—Flags of the old German Empire, not those of the German republic, were raised over this city when the Inter-Allied Control Commission, which for six months had been the high government of East Prussia, packed up and left recently on special trains for Paris.

The authority of the commission ceased at eight o'clock at night and on the minute the German flags were raised.

Up at the high school, across the street from the building where the commission was quartered, the schoolmaster gathered his pupils and made a speech, in which he said this was a great moment for Prussia, which at last was out from under the yoke of the conqueror. Above his head as he spoke the black, white and red colors of the old empire fluttered, but nowhere was there a flag of the German republic. At the conclusion of his speech the master ordered three "hochs" which were given lustily, and then the children, with their eyes steadily upon the teacher, sang "Deutschland Uber Alles." A few Germans who had listened to the schoolmaster joined in the song.

Some prominent citizens were asked why there were no flags of the German republic.

"We are Prussians and conservatives," they said, "and have not accommodated ourselves to the new regime. The flag of the republic is the flag of a sect. We will fly the old flag."

While evidently bitter toward the Berlin Government they felt their duty lay in ignoring it as far as possible officially and to have little to do with it personally.

On the eve of the departure of the commission, crowds stood for hours in the streets and the station square in a silence so ominous that some inter-Allied officers interpreted it as the prelude to a serious demonstration.

The only violence, however, occurred on the steps of the station where Mayor Vladimir Zejgert, who had been ordered out of Allenstein by the commission, was received upon his return from Konigsburg, where he had spent his exile. A reception committee of the more conservative citizens, with whom the Mayor was very popular, was receiving him with great formality when a young German communist stepped up and knocked the Mayor down. It was a knock-out blow and the reception committee ordered a stretcher upon which the Mayor was carried to his home. The assailant was not arrested and the incident caused no comment among the crowds.

On the outskirts of the town a few communists attacked a reichswehr officer and badly used him. In another section a few shots were exchanged between communists and security police but the communists dispersed and there were no casualties.

When the blue automobiles carrying the personnel and property of the commission went roaring toward the station the crowds gave way, sometimes sullenly, but hardly a word was spoken. Here and there a German hat was raised to an officer in an automobile and the acknowledgment returned.

Major Schoenberg, head of the East Prussian security police, did not take the communists' efforts seriously. He said there were only four hundred communists in Allenstein and while all of taem possessed guns their names were known and they could always be controlled by the police. His office had the names of virtually all radicals in East Prussia, he said, except in some border towns where there is considerable commerce with the Bolsheviki. In his opinion the police could handle any situation brought about by the East Prussian radicals.

UNITED STATES AND JAPAN ON IMMIGRATION LAW

Difficulties Present Themselves When Two Nations Discuss Proposed Law

Washington D.C., Sept. 25.—Neither the United States nor Japan is willing to give way in the fight of the Mikado's Government to prevent further discrimination against Japanese by California, developments show. The complicated situation, rapidly becoming the most serious problem facing this Government today, was as follows—

The United States Government wil, mantain its position for exclusion of Japanese immigrants, but will make a supreme effort to avoid a conflict with Japan over further discriminatory legislation in California.

Japan concedes the right of the United States to bar her immigrants, according to state department officials but insists her subjects already in this country must not be discriminated against further by passage of the new California anti-Japan land laws.

The state department said it was unable to prevent the proposed law for absolute prohibition of all land holding by Japanese from being voted on by the people of California in the November elections.

QUACK REMEDIES TO BE PROHIBITED IN GREAT BRITAIN

Proprietary Medicines Bill to Put a Stop to Form of Cheating

London, Sept. 25. — The man who comes to England to try to sell a box of pills which will cure sciatica, lumbago, rheumatism, backaches, tired feet, scarlet fever and measles, is going to have a sorry time.

The Proprietary Medicines Bill has arrived to put a stop to his oratory. "Quack" remedies are to be prohibited and all proprietary preparations and appliances are to be registered complete, with full description, as well as the owner's name.

Some remedies are prohibited altogether. Among these come remedies for cancer, consumption, lupus, deafness, fits, epilepsy, diabetes, paralysis, locomotor ataxia, Bright's disease and rupture. These may not be sold or offered or advertised for sale, and the prohibition applies to "any medicine or surgical appliance of any kind whatsoever purporting or stated directly or by implication to be effective for the prevention, cure or relief of the diseases named." Other diesases may be added at the discretion of the Minister of Health.

Altogether the bill covers every trick of the "quack doctor's" trade, right down to the advertising of testimonials. Very soon all those philanthropists who have been administering mysterious pills for England's ills will have to pack their grips and seek more remunerative climes.

TO PUT A STOP TO RANK ABUSE

In Bringing Suit Far From Spot Where Accident Occurs—Heavy Costs

Regina, Sept. 24.—A tendency on the part of Saskatchewan juries to award abnormal damages against railway companies was suggested in Kings' Bench court here by O. H. Clark. Mr. Clarke is one of the counsel acting for the C.N.R. in an action for $30,000 damages brought against the company by the widow of William Walpole, killed at Lucerne, B. C., while operating a C.N.R. locomotive in April, 1919. The case is before Mr. Justice Bigelow and a jury.

The accident of which the action arises occurred in Lucerne, B.C., but the suit for damages was started in Regina and for the trial witnesses have to be brought from British Columbia. D. A. Campbell, is acting for the plaintiff.

Even if the plaintiff has a technical right under the common law to bring this case from another province all the way to Regina for trial, courts here ought not to encourage this, declared Mr. Clarke. He expressed the view that the reason why these cases are brought to this district for trial is because juries here have been known to award abnormal damages.

Mr. Justice Bigelow expressed concurrence in the argument that such cases should not be brought here.

"It is scandalous that witnesses should be brought all the way from British Columbia or Nova Scotia, for that matter," his Lordship declared. "I would like to be shown some fair way of putting a stop to it. As far as I am concerned some way will be devised of putting a stop to this."

CASHIER STAGES FAKE HOLDUP TO ACCOUNT FOR MISSING FUNDS

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 25. — Short $30,000 in his accounts, Melvin Ringold, 19 year old cashier, staged a fake holdup at the Kent State bank here. Two hoors after the "holdup" Ringold broke down and confessed, according to police, that he faked the story in order to cover his shortages.

Ringold was the first person to enter the bank Friday. Shortly after unlocking the door he yelled for the police. He said a man had followed him in and escaped with $10,000.

Passersby told police they had seen no one leaving the bank. The police subjected Ringold to a severe cross-examination, and finally obtained his confession.

MINERS PARTNERS WOULD NOT STRIKE IN SYMPATHY

Railwaymen and Transport Workers Not Prepared to Go That Far

INCREASED PRODUCTION

The Means by Which Miners May Get Desired Increase in Pay

London, Sept. 25.—A truce that has been declared in the coal miners dispute to permit the miners representatives and a committee of colliery owners to hold a peace conference at which an endeavor will be made to arrange some scheme of increased production whereby the miners can get an increase of pay without having to resort to strike which has been threatening for several weeks past. agreed to an order to recall of strike notices, after a committee of their executive had a conference with Lloyd George. The owners, in anticipation of this outcome, appointed a special committee to represent them. The first conference is to be held Saturday morning. It is evident that the miners hope some result will be reached by next Thursday for delegates are meeting on that day to receive the report of their representatives.

The decision of the miners to accept one of the Government's suggestions for avoiding a strike was doubtless the result of a meeting of the "Triple Alliance" which disclosed the fact that the Railwaymen and Transport Workers—partners of the miners in the Triple Alliance—are not prepared to go to the length of striking in sympathy with them.

BANDITS KILLED BY POLICE AFTER PITCHED BATTLE

Two Remaining Members of Gang Surrounded by Police—Bandits Riddled by Bullets

Prince Albert, Sask., Sept. 27.—True to their vow not to be taken alive, the two remaining of the quartette of bandits who held up the Red Deer lumber camp a week ago were taken dead by Inspector R. R. Tait and his posse of police late Saturday afternoon. They were taken from a hay stack five miles East of Tisdale after having fought the police, who surrounded the stack, located in the centre of a 200-acre field, for five hours. They stood pat to the very last and constantly returned the police fire. Their capture, dead, was effected only after they were riddled with rifle and revolver shots and the hay stack had been set on fire.

The bodies are now hard to recognize, but on the arm of one man are several tatoo marks, including a Russian name which has been interpreted as Joe Trychuck. No name could be found on the other man, except that it was learned from the two bandits captured alive that he went under the name of "Tony."

The battle which preceded the capture of the last two was probably the most desperate ever between police and bandits in the history of Canada. Over four hundred rounds of shot were fired by the police and bandits and all of the posse escaped uninjured.

LOOPHOLES APPEAR IN QUEBEC PROHIBITION LAW FOLLOWING SEIZURES

Montreal, Sept. 27.—Loopholes in the prohibition law, and what appears to be a too great eagerness to make cases, have resulted in an awkward situation for the officers seeking to enforce the prohibition law, following on the seizures last week on the roads leading out of Montreal of automobiles laden with liquor.

The trouble with the seizures is that the Quebec prohibition law does not specify that it is illegal for a man to go to a wholesaler in Montreal, load his automobile with liquor, and take it outside the province.

Orders for Ontario are usually shipped there by express, but there is nothing in the law forbidding the use of automobiles in this connection. On the other hand, liquor so shipped is known to be sold up and down the province, but proof of such sale is necessary before seizure can legally be made.

EFFIGIES OF WILSON, MILLERAND AND LLOYD GEORGE BURNED AT BAKU

Constantinople, Turkey, Sept. 27.—At the meeting of representatives of oriental nations, beginning at Baku Sept. 1, and lasting several days under the leadership of M. Narinanov, Bolshevist commissioner of Azerbaidjan, acting according to the instructions of the Executive Committee of the Third Internationale, the delegates, attired in various odd national costumes, paraded through the streets and amid cheering burned effigies of Premier Lloyd George, Premier Millerand and President Wilson. At night colored electric lights gave a festive appearance to Baku, which since the soviet rule began had been illuminated by the moon alone.

Nikolai Lenin was made honorary president and M. Zinoviev, chairman. The meting was attended by 1,000 delegates from Turkey, Persia, India Afghanistan and China.

RUSSIAN WOMEN HIRE FINNISH HUSBANDS SO THEY CAN GET AWAY

Viborg, Finland, Sept. 27. — Hiring Finnish men to marry Russian women to enable the latter to get out of Russia has become a popular and lucrative business in the border towns South of Viborg. The Finns exact a high price, but the method is unfailing. It makes a Finnish subject of the woman, and is recognized as lawful by the two countries which have assumed diplomatic relations. Endless trouble ensues, of course, if the woman thus freed of Russia refuses to part with her pseudo husband.

These newly married couples come out of Russia into Riarajoke, the frontier town, not more than 30 miles from Petrograd, with the daily exodus of Swedish and Finnish refugees.

CUBA REFUSES TO SELL SUGAR AT PRESENT PRICES

Will Wait Until Sugar Price Rises Again—Has Bearing on Canadian Situation

Ottawa, Sept. 27. — There is now little likelihood of Canada receiving more sugar from Cuba this year. In a dispatch to the Department of Trade and Commerce, H. A. Chisholm, Canadian trade commissioner at Havana, Cuba, writes:

"Whatever may be the existing stocks of raw and refined sugars in the United States and Canada, it is now a certainty that the world cannot count on any appreciable quantity of Cuban sugar until the sugar mills commence grinding the new crop towards the beginning of the new year.

"The stocks of raw sugar in the island at this time of the year are smaller than they have been for many years. There is a comparatively small quantity to be thrown on the market as compared with former years."

Mr. Chisholm adds that Cuba has determined she is not going to sell at present prices. Sugar mill owners and cane growers are holding out. There are buyers in the Cuban market, but no sellers, Mr. Chisholm remarked, as he commented on the recent landslide in the price of raw sugar.

"Cuban sugar interests," he says, "have watched the price of their raw sugar gradually subside in the course of a few weeks from a record high of 23 cents a pound to the present figure of eight or nine cents."

The Association of Sugar Mill Owners and Cane Growers has therefore adopted the policy that at the present level no Cuban sugar shall be sold; that they shall simply keep out of the market until prices stiffen. The result is that at the time of writing there are buyers in the market for Cuban sugar but no sellers. For several days there has been an absolute deadlock, but at the moment buyers are offering slightly higher prices.

Exports of Cuban sugar to Canada have increased ten-fold within the past twelve months. The result of the fight for Cuban sugar will, therefore, have a distinct bearing on the Canadian situation. Mr. Chisholm adds that, according to information, Canadian interests are in the market for several thousand tons of Cuban sugar for immediate delivery, but that they are finding no offerings.

FARMERS HOLDING WHEAT FOR HIGHER PRICES CANNOT MAKE FAIR PROFIT

Chicago, Sept. 27. — Replies to questionnaires sent to 200 grain elevator companies in middle Western states indicate that farmers are holding wheat for higher prices, according to a statement from the Farmers National Grain Dealers Association. These replies showed the the statement that wheat shipments this year was much lower than last and that elevators which normally were filled to capacity now were only about one-fourth full. The statement said, that wheat shipments their grain "because they cannot make a fair profit at present prices."

Mr. Calder visited the agencies of his department in England and Scotland and found the organization working efficiently. He did not go to Ireland, but he stated that reports he had received from the Belfast office showed that there was unusual activity there.

"Our Belfast office has had many inquiries from prospective emigrants recently," he said, "and there are indications that Canada will get many new citizens from the North of Ireland. Our Dublin office however, owing to conditions prevailing at present, is merely marking time."

Mr. Calder said that particular care was being taken by the Old Country representatives of the department in passing upon the immigrants and that every effort was being made to secure people who would go on the land. He declared that those who were being accepted at present were of a remarkably fine class and said that, judging from the enquiries received at the various Canadian offices in England and Scotland, ther would be a big tide of immigration to the Dominion next year.

GROFF—PATERSON

The home of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Paterson, 1340 Louise Avenue, was the scene of a very pretty wedding today at the noon hour, when their daughter, Dorothy Evelyn, became the bride of Dr. Harry K. Groff, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Groff, of Winnipeg. The living room was a profusion of gladioli when the bride, gowned in ivory satin and brocade and carrying a shower bouquet of cream roses, entered with her father. After the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. J. George Miller, a reception was held, the guests including relatives and a few close friends.

Dr. and Mrs. Groff left later on the Trans-Canada for the East, the bride travelling in a costume of navy baronette satin and tunic of navy and gold georgette, with hat to match, a tan top coat and taupe fox fur. On their return Dr. and Mrs. Groff will reside in Parkview.

The bride is one of Brandon's best known and most popular young ladies. The groom is also well known in this city and is a veteran of the Great War.

COLUMBUS NOT FIRST PERSON TO DISCOVER AMERICA

Original Discoverer Was Liev Ericksson in the Year 1000

REDISCOVERED IN 1476

When John Skolp Reached Labrador in Hunt for Northwest Passage

Washington, Sept. 28.—How many persons discovered America before Christopher Columbus.

The latest addition to the line of claimants is Jon Skolp, a Norwegian explorer. Sofus Larsen, a Danish scientist, who has recently made a report founded on researches of archives of the middle ages, has completed a work which he says proves that Skolp, the Norwegian, "re-discovered America" in 1476, 16 years ahead of Columbus, and twenty years before John Cabot reached the Strait of Hudson.

Larsen usest he term "re-discovered" considering that the original discoverer was Leiv Erickson, the Norseman, in the year 1000. Larsen's researches develop, he says, that about 1475 the King of Portugal sent a message to the King of Denmark and Norway, Christian I, requesting him to fit out an expedition and attempt to find a sea passage to Asia—in reality to Northwest passage. An old document to that effect was found in the Danish state archives. The expedition was headed by the Norwegian-German privateer — Captain Didrik Pining, and pioleted by the Norwegian pilot, Jon Skolp, to whom credit is given for having reached as far as Labrador and found part of the actual entrance to the Northwest passage.

In an old Spanish geographical work on America, first published in 1552 by Francesco Lopez de Gomara, a priest of Sevilla, it is mentioned that Labrador was reached for the first time by Norwegian sailors, piloted by John Scolvus. (Jon Skolp.) This information was first made public by the Norwegian professor of history, Gustav Storm, in 1886. But at that time this part of the history of the discoveries was still in its infancy, and isolated as it was then, the information naturally had to be used with great caution. Later on new material was found pointing in the same direction. One of the sources was a famous globe, dating from 1537 and made by the Dutch physician and mathematician, Gemma Frisius, who points that North America was reached in 1476 by Johannes Scolvus.

Johannes Scolvus is a name unknown in Norwegian history. Dr. Larsen connects it with the Norwegian surname Skolp, which means a man from the shores of fishing places of Northern Norway. His deed became famous in his own times, but on account of various conditions not traceable now, it was veiled in obscurity and forgotten. The account of his voyage undoubtedly has been of significance to other expeditions, Norwegian as well as English and Portuguese. Dr. Fridtjof Nansen in one of his scientific works has proved that even 100 years later English explorers were familiar with the expedition of Johannes Skolp, namely when preparing for Martin Frobisher's travel to Greenland in 1576.

MARKETS

Wood, Weller & McCarthy, Ltd., supply the following market report of the Union Stock Yards, St. Boniface, under date of September 27th:

Receipts today are 3,560 cattle, 240 hogs, 600 sheep.

Contrary to all expectations, the quarter drop on all Southern markets last Monday started a landslide in prices which has not reached a bottom yet, while the Southern markets have dropped from a dollar to two dollars per cwt. in places our market here has held up considerably well and our common kinds are selling about steady to quarter lower with the good and in between kinds from 75c to $1 lower. We figure our market will drop another quarter today but look for reaction before the end of the week. All talk everywhere is for lower prices on all commodities, but taking everything into consideration we cannot see how the livestock prices will come down any further, everything pointing to a higher market inside the next week or ten days.

We quote the best steers from $11 to $11.50 with very few going over those prices, and the real top females from $9 to $9.50 with the bulk from $8 to $9.25 and the bulk of the steers from $9.50 to $11.
