SCIENTISTS SCOUT BELIEF IN REPORTS OF NEW VOLCANO

Rome, Sept. 28.—Scientists say they do not believe that a new volcano was created on Mount Pisanino, near Spezia, during the earthquakes which began Sept. 7 and continued until Sept. 9 causing the loss of five hundred lives.

Tongues of flame and smoke or dust were seen to be emitted from what is popularly supposed to have been a new crater opened near the mountain top.

Frank A. Perrett, the American volcanologist for the Carnegie Institution, who occupies a station at Mount Vesuvius to observe his operations, has expressed to the Associated Press the opinion that no volcano has been formed but that the earthquakes caused displacements of subterranean strata causing a fissure in the earth's crust and that the gas escaping therefrom was mistaken by onlookers as the opening of a new crater. The phenomenon was not a new one. Mr. Perrett said the seismical instruments showed a towering of the earth level in the earthquake district previous to the tremors. This had been observed on other occasions when earthquakes ocurred.

This view is shared by Senator Caplellini, a leading geologist who has been interviewed by the Messagero, and who says there may have been an eruption of gas through a fissure on Mount Pisanino, and the supposed column of smoke above the mountain may have been caused by clouds of dust from falling earth.

The tongues of flame, in Senator Capellini's opinion, may possibly have been inflammable gas from underground wells of oil. He said, however, that volcanoes can appear independently of the structure of the earth's crust and that the greatest catastrophies have occurred from the appearance of volcanoes where nobody expected them.

For example, the geologist continued, Mount Etna rises out of post-Pliocene strata, while the volcanoes of the Andes mountains in South America arise from granite rocks. Therefore the nature of the Apuan mountains did not exclude the possibility of a volcano appearing on Mount Pisanino.

GREAT BRITAIN LIBERAL WITH WAR CONTRACTORS

Still Receiving War Materials Contracted For Before the Armistice

New York, Sept. 28.—(By Canadian Press)—Great Britain has been extremely liberal with her war contractors, said Donald Davis, Trust Officer of the Liberty National Bank, who has just returned from extensive invetigations of conditions abroad. "The English did not shut down immediately after the armistice on further war contracts," he said, "but let many of them run their course. To-day she is still receiving a large amount of war materials, especially aircraft, which were contracted for during the war period. This, of course, eventually comes out of the taxpayer, but it makes for a more equitable distribution of the losses attending the slowing down of high speed quantity production of war materials, and has made possible a gradual adjustment of labor distribution.

"England is far on the road to the recovery of her former high economic position."

SICILIANS INVADE ALL LARGE ESTATES

Occupy Properties, Owners of Which Spend Most of Their Time Elsewhere

Palermo, Sicily, Oct. 5.—Thousands of armed men have invaded the large estates of almost the entire island, which is still held in practically feudal condition by the barons. These absentee landlords, whose properties, though not well cultivated, usually yield immense profits, spend most of their time and money in Naples, Rome, Paris and Madrid.

Picturesque scenes were enacted, especially at Alcoma, where peasants marched waving the national flag, bearing religious standards and singing popular songs.

Among cries of rejoicing and prayers of thanksgiving, the strange procession occupied the large estate of the Duke of Corinellio. No resistance was offered, despite the presence of police and carabineers, whose instructions were not to oppose occupation of estates insufficiently cultivated.

CLEVELAND WINS FIRST BALL GAME WORLD'S SERIES

Coveleskie Holds Brooklyn Hitters, While Losers Use Three Twirlers in First Battle—O'Neill's Batting and Speaker's Fielding Are Features—Big Crowd Sees Games in Splendid Baseball Weather.

SCORE BY INNINGS:—

Cleveland	020100000	3	5	0
Brooklyn	000000100	1	5	1

BATTERIES:—Coveleski and O'Neill; Marquard, Mamaux, Cadore and Kreuger.

Brooklyn, Oct. 5.—Cleveland drew first blood in the battle for the world's baseball championship by defeating the Brooklyn club, 3-1, in a fast and interesting game. The steady twirling of Stan Coveleskie, star spitball artist of the winners was too much for the National Leaguers, and he carried his team to the first victory of the series. The Brooklyn hitters could not reach the spitballer for hits when they meant runs. On the other hand the winners made their five hits count, two runs being shoved over in the second inning, and another lone counter in the fourth.

O'Neill's heavy clouting with two two-baggers probably was the feature of the hitting strength of both line-ups, although Olson also garnered a couple of single for the losers Speaker's sensational fielding broke up at least two near-rallies, but the manager-player failed to get a hit in the game. Mamaux's feat of retiring the first three players to face him by striking them out, was the bright spot of the twirler's work on the mound. The fielding of both teams was almost perfect, but one error being chalked up against the two teams during the game.

First Innings

Cleveland—Evans out to Konetchy; Wambsganss flew out to Wheat; Speaker fanned and the crowd cheered Marquard.

No runs; no hits; no errors.

Brooklyn—Olson flied to Wood, hitting the first ball pitched; Johnston struck out, Covelskies spit ball being too much for him. Sewell threw out Griffith at first.

No runs; no hits; no errors.

Second Innings

Burns sent up a high fly which fell behind Konetchy who picked up the ball and threw into left field. Flash Burns scores— Olsen threw out to Gardner at first; Wood walked, Marquard temporarily lost control; Sewell up, the man who took Chapman's place, and got a cheer. Marquard tried to catch Wood off first. Sewell singled into right field, Wood going to third. Wood scored on O'Neill's double to left field, Sewell going to third; Mamaux now warming up for Brooklyn; Covelskie grounded out to Konetchy and Sewell attempting to go home, was run down, the play being Konetchy to Johnston to Krueger. Two runs; three hits; one error.

Brooklyn—Wheat flied to Speaker, who made a wonderful catch of Wheat's seemingly safe hit. Myers flied to Wood who picked the ball off the wall; Konetchy out, Sewell to Burns.

No runs; no hits; no errors.

Third Innings

Cleveland—Evans walked on four pitched balls. Wamby sacrificed. Johnston to Konetchy; Evans taking second. Speaker flied to Wheat; Johnston took Burns grounder and Evans was run down between second and third; Johnston to Kilduff.

No runs; no hits; no errors.

Brooklyn—Sewell threw out Kilduff at first, it was a close play at the bag. Krueger was out, Gardner to Burns; Gardner threw out Marquard at first.

No runs; no hits; no errors.

Fourth Innings

Kilduff tossed out Gardner at first. Wood sent a long drive in left center for two bases. The ball hit the bleacher fence, on the bounce, had it struck six inches higher would have been a home run. Sewell flied to Myers, Wood held second. Wood scored on O'Neills two bagger. It was O'Neills second two bagger in the game. Kilduff threw out Covelskie at first.

One run; two hits; no errors.

Brooklyn—Olsen shot a single over second, the first hit for Brooklyn in the game.—Johnston forced Olsen, Wamby to Sewell. Griffith singled into center, Johnston going to second. Wheat flied to Evans who knocked Speaker in making the catch. Myers flied out to Wood.

No runs; two hits; no errors.

Fifth Innings

Cleveland—Evans flied out to Wheat. The high wind bothered the outfielders. Wamby struck out. Speaker flied out to Griffith, who leaped up against the wall and speared the ball with his gloved hand. The catch cut off a two base hit. No runs; no hits; no errors.

Brooklyn—Konetchy flied to Speaker. Kilduff sent up a high fly to Wood. Gardner tossed out Krueger at first. No runs; no hits; no errors.

Sixth Innings

Cleveland — Burns struck out. Gardner flied to Wheat. Wood struck out. No hits; no runs; no errors.

Brooklyn—Lamar batted for Marquard. Lamar flied out to Sewell who made a classy leaping catch. Olsen singled to centre field, his second hit. Johnston bunted, but Covelskie threw him out at first. Covelskie threw out Griffith at first. o runs; no hits; no errors.

Seventh Innings

Cleveland—Mamaux went into the box for Brooklyn. Sewell struck out, Mamaux's speed being too much for him. O'Neill also struck out, Covelskie fanned, and the crowd cheered Mamaux, who retired the side on strikes. No runs; no hits; no errors.

Brooklyn— Wheat doubled into right for two bases. Sewell threw out Myers at first. Wheat going to third. The Cleveland infield played back. Wheat scored while Burns was throwing out Konetchy at first. Covelskie taking the throw. One run; one hit; no errors.

Eighth Innings

Cleveland—Jamieson batted for Evans. Olsen threw out Jamieson at first; Mamaux took Wamby's bunt and threw him out at first. Johnston knocked down Speaker's grounder and threw him out at first. No runs; no hits; no errors.

Brooklyn—Jamieson went into left field for Cleveland. Speaker robbed Krueger of a three base hit with a wonderful catch. Mitchell batted for Mamaux. Mitchell got a single into right field; at this point Neis ran for Mitchell. Olsen walked; Johnston popped to Gardner; Griffith forced Olsen, Wamby to Sewell. No runs; one hit; no errors.

Ninth Innings

Cleveland—Cadore went into the box for Brooklyn. Smith batted for Burns. Kilduff threw out Smith at first; Gardner grounded out to Konetchy. Johnston batted for Wood. Cadore tossed out Johnston at first. No runs; no hits; no errors.

Brooklyn—Smith went into right field and Johnston played first base for Cleveland. Wheat was thrown out at first, Johnston to Covelskie. Myers flied out to Speaker, who made another nice catch. Konetchy struck out. No runs; no hits; no errors.

ASQUITH FAVORS DOMINION STATUS FOR IRELAND

Necessary to Convince Irish That the Offer is a Genuine One

London, Oct. 5.—In a communication printed in the London Times Herbert H. Asquith, former Prime Minister, declares that the bestowal upon Ireland of the status of an autonomous dominion in the fullest and widest sense, is the only solution of the Irish problem. To accomplish this, says Mr. Asquith, it is necessary to make the Irish people believe that what is offered comes from an honest and also a reliable source.

With reference to Viscount Grey's recent proposal concerning Ireland, Mr. Asquith says:

"I cannot bring myself to contemplate, even as a counsel of ultimate despair, our final abandonment—as he seems to suggest—of the trust which history has imposed upon us."

Mr. Asquith says no British dominion claims the right to a separate foreign policy of its own, and that the tendency is toward fuller co-operation by the dominions in all external relations. Concerning naval and military forces, Mr. Asquith writes:

"No Irish Government could be so insane as to mortgage its scanty margin of resources for such a fruitless and costly enterprise as the creation of an Irish navy. Nor is it readily conceivable that it would seek to deny—what it would never effectively prevent—free access to Irish ports and harbors of the Imperial navy. . . . Further, no grant of autonomy could be regarded as complete which did not include the right to raise and maintain for purpose of local defence an adequate military force."

Mr. Asquith adds that fiscal independence is a necessary incident to dominion rule.

JAMES M. BEGG CITY ENGINEER

Appointment Made at a Special Meeting of City Council, Monday Night

Mr. James M. Begg has been appointed City Engineer and will have full control over the engineering work for the City of Brandon. This decision was reached at a meeting of the City Council held on Monday evening. Mr. Begg has but recently arrived from Montreal, having been appointed previously by the city fathers to conduct the work in connection with the waterworks survey. He was highly recommended by Mr. W. M. Scott, commissioner for the Greater Winnipeg Waterways Commission, and was formerly assistant engineer in the city of Edmonton.

The following resolution was presented by Aldermen Shewan and Hall to the City Council on Monday evening:

"That in view of the fact that the work of Mr. Begg in connection with the waterworks survey will necessarily involve his association with other branches of the Engineering Department of the City of Brandon; and, as it is desirable that complete and permanent records, down to the minutest detail, be on file and accessible at all times; therefore be it resolved that, in addition to the special waterworks survey in which he is at present engaged, Mr. James M. Begg be and is hereby appointed Engineer of the City of Brandon, with full control, under the jurisdiction of the Council, over all the engineering work of the City of Brandon, including the waterworks system."

The resolution met with some opposition on the part of three aldermen, but on a vote being taken the resolution was carried 7 to 3. Aldermen McKenzie, Grantham and Patmore were the men adverse to the appointment of the new City Engineer. W. Smith, who has been acting City Engineer, will continue his present duties.

WAGE ADVANCE FOR EMPLOYES ON C. N. R. LINES

Clerks, Freight Handlers, Station and Other Employes to Benefit

Ottawa, Oct. 5.—The Journal publishes the following:

Clerks, freight handlers, station and other employes of the Canadian National Railways and the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway will receive wage increases averaging about 25 per cent. and ante-dating to May 1, 1920, as a result of negotiations between a committee from the Canadian Brotherhood of Railroad Employes and representatives of the lines. A redistribution of wages on an equitable basis was also worked out, so that in some nistances the increase will amount to 45 per cent. but in no case will it be lower than 15 per cent. The full amount of the increase since May 1, will be included in the first period of October pay-rolls. Seven thousand employes of the two lines will be affected. Taking into consideration the increases granted by these lines since 1918, the wage award is considerably better than that granted by the United States labor board to railway employes in the United States this Summer.

The conference between the employes' committee and the representatives of the lines has been proceeding in Toronto for the past three weeks and complete agreement has been reached on all points concerning wages and changes in the rules governing working conditions. A few minor details remain to be adjusted and it is confidently expected that the conference will conclude its work this week.

During the proceedings the representatives of the C.B.R.E. alleged that attempts were made to disrupt the harmony of the conference by inducements at the International Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks.

The C.B.R.E. committee for Western lines is composed of H. F. Lawrence, Winnipeg, chairman; R. Dykes, Saskatoon, Vice-chairman; C. H. Minchen, Calgary, secretary. The Grand Trunk Pacific Western lines committee is made up of W. A. Hardacre, Edson, Alta., chairman; A. W. Ferry, Prince George, vice-chairman; J. A. Stewart, Melville, Sask., secretary. They have returned to Winnipeg where they will complete and sign the schedules.

CONGDON GIVES VIEWS ON EVENTS IN OLD COUNTRY

Vancouver, Oct. 5.—Mr. F. T. Congdon, ex-Commissioner of the Yukon, has just returned from London after an absence of ten months. In speaking of the Old Country conditions, Mr. Congdon predicted that there would be no coal strike, as the difference between the miners, operators and Government would be settled by compromise, although it was practically certain that there would be no reduction in the price of coal as formerly demanded by the men.

"Labor was in a fair way to gain Governmental power in the next election, but the present affair has done the party great damage and the loss of prestige to the labor leaders is antagonistic to the miners as it was threatened with great inconvenience. Labor has suffered a serious setback," said Mr. Congdon.

Prestige Waning

In speaking of the political situation in Britain he stated that the public appeared to be of the opinion that Lloyd George had passed his height of power and had lost his prestige.

"Lloyd George is certainly a wizard among politicians and no other man in England is so capable of turning apparent disaster into complete victory, yet the public appears to be less enthusiastic in his support than formerly. He could never again lead either Labor or the Liberals; he is distrusted in the intellectual quarters, who turn to the staid reliability of Asquith. Whereas he was earlier known as brilliant they now consider him cunning, but nevertheless a genius.

Asked as to the leadership of the Labor party Mr. Congdon said that the brains of England were behind it, and mentioned Bevan, Smillie, Wells and Shaw as samples. There was plenty of ability and intelligence in the Labor ranks, and in the event of Labor being called upon to form a government it would easily be available, said Mr. Congdon, although he personally disapproved such a possibility.

Same as Canada

"One of Labor's strongest points has been in the charge of extravagance against the Government. There, as in Canada, a war government has been handling the funds of the nation and has developed the greatest extravagance in public expenditure. Millions upon millions are being sunk into the Mesopotanian jackpot, which is in constant turmoil, and there is no revenue from it whatever.

"So far as the League of Nations is concerned, the average Englishman hardly ever thinks of it."

Questioned in regard to sentiment concerning Ireland and MacSweney, Mr. Congdon said that the British public felt that theoretically he should be allowed to starve himself but that actually "the great heart of England is in sympathy with him."

"Britain is absolutely opposed to granting the Sinn Fein demand for total independence and a solution of the problem appears very distant," said Mr. Congdon. "There is much regret that Home Rule was not granted long ago as it is believed that would have prevented the present state of affairs."

KEMNAY SCHOOL AGAIN WINS THE GORDON SHIELD

With a Total of 36 Points, Chater Second With 32, Turiff, Third

BOY'S CALF COMPETITION

Grand Championship Awarded Jack Pollock of Kemnay—Other Winners

From the time that the exhibits were first put in place until the last event in the big sports program was run off, the Boys' and Girls' Club fair, held in the Arena, on Tuesday, was a success. There was not a dull moment in the whole day for the youthful fair-makers, and the success of the day may be judged from the fact that nearly two thousand children and grown up people attended the exhibition at one time or another during the day. The exhibits were wonderful both in quality and quantity and set a new record for Brandon as far as Boys' and Girls' fairs are concerned.

The judging in the thousand or more exhibits did not commence until well after ten o'clock in the morning, and the judges had an arduous task to sort out the winners. There was a great array of quality in practically every department of the fair, and one of the judges voiced the opinion of all present when he said that every exhibit was worthy of a prize. Certainly next year, more accommodation for the exhibits will be needed as it was almost impossible to crowd in the exhibits in the space this year.

The exhibit of vegetables, was praiseworthy. The quality of the exhibit was most striking and every garden variety received it's full share of advertisement from the young exhibitors. Large potatoes labelled "Mortgage lifters," tomatoes, corn, turnips, carrots, cabbages and other vegetables were all neatly arranged on long tables just inside the Arena doors. The butter exhibit was a good one and received much attention, while the canning department came in for more than it's usual share of praise. The cooking exhibits were praised by fair visitors and practically all sold to H.C.L. victims, eager buyers after the Fair. All other classes received their share of patronage and helped create new records for the Brandon Club's fair.

Boy's Calf Competition

Possibly the feature of the live stock ring is the judging in the Boy's Calf competition. This event is usually looked upon as the prize plum of the Fair and there is much competition among the youthful exhibitors to gather in this prize. But Jack Pollock of Kemnay annexed the Grand Championship and in so doing won the principal honor at the Fair. In the pail fed calf event, Gordon Abey of Chater walked off with first prize, with J. Edwards of Kemnay second. M. Empey and H. Bailey tied for third place.

In the swine classes, the entry of Allan Burton of Turiff won first prize in the event for a pair of pigs. James Pottinger of Poplar Hills was second. Roslin Scott of Cater, third, and Roland Simpson of Little Souris fourth. In the single pig event, the entry of Tom Edwards of Kemnay was first. In fact the Edwards family made practically a clean sweep, Gordon Edward getting second place and Jack Edwards third. Fourth place went to William Burton of Turiff.

In the Lambs event, May Shepley of Cornwallis secured the premier award while Emma Lang of Little Souris, was second. Elsie Howard of Turiff was third. In the class which called for the harnessing of a team and an exhibition of driving, only one entry appeared. This was Roy Fish of Poplar Hills, and he gave an exhibition that received a round of applause for his clever work.

One Girl Has 38 Entries

In a previous report it was stated that Irene Clark had made a record of thirty-eight entries, this should have read Gertrude Buckley of Grand Valley. A full report on the winners in the various events is not available for today's issue, but the officials have promised the full list of awards later.

The sports program furnished all kinds of fun and excitement in the afternoon. There were many entries in every event and close finishes to the running races necessitated the re-running of these events when ties resulted. Chief interest in the sports centred around the winning of the W. V. Gordon Shield. This shield is awarded to the school gaining the greatest number of points in a number of events. Kemnay school again proved their right to the shield by gaining 36 points in the events, and

PATRIOTIC FUND COMMITTE HAS FINISHED WORK

Brandon Committee is Disbanded by Chairman Campbell After Six Years

DISPERSED $261,000

To Thousands of Families, Without a Single Complaint for Several Years

The Brandon Patriotic Fund and the Committee which administered it, has ceased to exist. Chairman Kenneth Campbell spoke the words which disbanded the organization at a gathering in the Mayor's office in the City Hall, about five thirty, Friday afternoon. The words were simple and direct, and were a benediction and a prayer that never again would anyone present be called upon to perform similar functions to those they had been engaged in during the past six years—a prayer that was echoed in the hearts of all present. The Chairman's voice trembled as he pronounced the benediction on activities which have been rightly regarded as a sacred trust by Secretary John Inglis, on whom the chief responsibility and activity devolved, Chairman Campbell, and all the others associated with them. The books have been audited and closed, and the funds on hand are to be transferred to the care of the Manitoba Committee which will carry on so long as there is any need. Mr. John Inglis will investigate and care for the Brandon cases still to be dealt with until the final winding up of the work of the Manitoba Committee, which will probably be within a very short time.

In a short review of the activities of the Brandon Patriotic Fund, Chairman Campbell stated that in the six years of its activities the Brandon Patriotic Fund had dispersed $261,000 and not one dollar of that sum had been paid to any one in fees or salary save for Secretary and stenographer "We have come," said the Chairman, "to the end of a long trail at the end of six years, and please God none of us will ever have to go through anything like it again." Upon the inception of the fund, and during the time that it was being raised locally there were a few complaints. These gradually diminished until during the last four years there have been none at all. During this time the money has been dispersed to thousands of families in sums often as small as fifteen or ten dollarse, and it is gratifying to the Committee to know that there have been no complaints.

Various motions were passed necessary to the winding up of the work of the Committee, and the transference of the funds. One of these, an appreciation of the work of Chairman Campbell, moved by Magistrate Fraser, follows:

"That a special vote of thanks be tendered Mr. Kenneth Campbell for his faithful and unselfish services as Chairman of the fund since it inception over six years ago."

Praise for Secretary Inglis

Secretary John Inglis came in for some words of commendation on the part of various members of the Committee, notably R. A. Matheson, K.C. and Magistrate Fraser. "The work which Mr. Inglis has done, has been done because of a fine patriotic sentiment and love for his fellows that cannot be paid for in money," was the statement of one of the committeemen, that was heartily applauded by all. As a realization of the miserly salary that has been paid Mr. Inglis, and of the worth of his services penetrated the minds of those present a suggestion was advanced that a grant of $500 be made him simply as a tangiable evidence of appreciation. This suggestion was agreed to most heartily, and the necessary steps immediately taken to that end.

HOLDING UP OF GRANT TO SUMMER FAIR BOARD FOUND TO BE MISTAKE

The City Council has recommended that a cheque for $2,000, being the balance due on the 1920 grant, be paid to the Summer Fair officials at once. Last Wednesday afternoon, at a special meeting of the City Fathers a cheque for $3,000 only was authorized. It was stated at the time that there were certain outstanding accounts which would have to be straightened up before the balance of the grant was paid. It has now been discovered that most of the amounts in the outstanding accounts should have been straightened up when the Council made the settlement of all accounts last Fall. In view of this, the City Fathers will wipe these accounts off their books, and charge the Fair Board only for the water actually used during Fair Week.

The water for the duck pond will be paid for by the city as the pond is one of the city's park features. A letter addressed to the Council from Secretary Smale pointed out the differences existing, and acting upon it the Council will make an adjustment which, it is stated, will be quite satisfactory to all concerned.

With the exception of the removal of the Trans-Canada trains the change in schedule will not effect the Brandon division. Branch line trains will run on the same time as before and there will be no change in the time of the Imperial Limited, Toronto Express or other transcontinental trains. There will, however, be a slight change in the equipment of the sleeping car accommodation on the trains across the Dominion.

JAPANESE WRITER THINKS GT. BRITAIN AND U.S. WILL RULE

Should They Co-operate in Work of Solving Problems of the World

U. S. "ENFANT TERRIBLE"

Unlikely They Can Agree—U. S. Suspicions and Lack of World Knowledge

Tokio, Oct. 2.—A belief prevailing in Japan that the United States and England may join hands in restraining Japan in her Far Eastern policy has been made the basis of much comment in the Press.

Japan's brilliant writer, Ichiro Tokutomi, the editor of the military organ, the Kokumin, wrote a special article on American-English relations in which he called the United States the "enfant terrible" of the world. Mr. Tokutomi regards the prospect of co-operation between England and America with some anxiety. The world will be obliged to agree with what they agree, he observes, but he consoles himself with the thought that such co-operation is unlikely owing to American suspicions of England and lack of world knowledge.

After summing up his conclusions as to the position of England as arbiter of the world, Mr. Tokutomi says:

"But there comes England's competitor, whom England at least in her heart of heart fears as a formidable power. America may be called an exposition of the world's different races. But the main-stay of the American people is the Anglo-Saxons. England and America are brother nations with the Atlantic between them. The destiny of the world is now entrusted to these brother nations.

Should They Co-operate

"If they should co-operate in the work of solving the problems of the world, however unreasonable the results of such solution may be, the world will be obliged to agree," thinks Mr. Tokutomi. But he asks: "Is America willing to act the role of younger brother and follow England's lead? Americans want to be the first in everything. Will they be content to take the second place in the solution of world problems?" He doubts it, saying: "To think that America will follow the lead of England as a younger brother dutifully obeying orders in the solution of the world problems and will be the unique supporter of England is the observation of a blind man."

Mr. Tokutomi describes the Americans in this way: "In a word the American is a rustic person who does not know anything about the world. He enjoys globe trotting and Europe is his pleasure ground where he dumps money. But on all occasions he carries his own country in his traveling bag. Consequently aside from satisfying his own desires for pleasure he does not enlighten himself very much by his observations of the world."

In short, Mr. Tokutomi observes, the war has Americanized the world rather than influenced America. Mr. Wilson's advocacy of the democratization of the world was, in his opinion, an illustration of how the American tries to measure the world with the rule he applies to his own country. The American considers that it is his mission to force Americanism upon other nations.

CHURCH PROPERTY IN KOREA UNDER SURVEILLANCE

It is Charged That Korean Places of Worship Are Used by Conspirators

Seoul, Korea, Oct. 2. — The semi-official Seoul press prints an interview with a police department official asserting that some Korean places of Christian worship were still used as resorts by Korean political conspirators. The official declared that, as the result of recent arrests, the authorities will be obliged to keep an eye on Christian churches and chapel buildings.

An official statement says the decision is the outgrowth of the arrest of Dr. Yi Wonsik, a Korean medical practitioner and 11 other Koreans on the charge of secreting seditious literature from Shanghai in the compound of the Chongkyo chapel at Doyomdong, which is in charge of Rev. Mr. Gerdine, an American missionary of the Methodist Church South. Subsequently, it is charged, Yi Wonsik took refuge in the chapel at Insadong which is in charge of Rev. Mr. Clark, of the North Presbyterian Mission, and concealed in the coalshed of the chapel over 1,000 copies of the Independence Journal.

There are no charges against American missionaries, but the police apparently wish to have it known that Christian property in Korea will be subjected to surveillance henceforth.

BLIND PASSION AND HIGH ARDOR ARE TO BLAME

Of Idealizing Soviet Russia as a Land Where Proletariat Wrongs Are at an End

Berlin, Oct. 2.—Only romancers and dreamers believe that the Russian Red army will eventually strike at Germany and seek to establish a Soviet here with the aid of which it will make war on France, declares Wilhelm Dittman, the independent socialist member of the Reichstag.

Dittman, who was one of the German delegates to the Moscow communist congress, in an article in the Freiheit turns upon Bolshevism, which, he declares, is an impossible system which can exit only in Russia because of the "crass ignorance of the Russian peasants.

"German workmen," he says, "who are not two-legged beasts but upstanding human beings, would never submit to the dictatorship of a few." He says they have nothing in common with men who "are neither socialists nor communists, and generally have only a vague understanding of politics, government and society.

"They are mostly unable to read and write," Dittman continues, "and their horizon hardly extends beyond their own thresholds, as might have been the case of the German peasants of the middle ages. And these men constitute 75 per cent. of the entire population of the country.

"Blind passion and high ardor have idealized Soviet Russia as a land where all the wrongs of the proletariat have an end. Hitherto, the exclusion of Soviet Russia from Western Russian has helped to crystallize and firmly establish these illusory conceptions," Dittman concludes.

CABINET AGREES WITH POLICY OF IRISH EXECUTIVES

Lloyd George and Some Cabinet Members Consider the Irish Situation

REPRISALS IN TUBBERCURRY

"Black and Tan" Force Entered Tubbercurry, Threw Bombs, Fired Buildings

London, Oct. 2. — Premier Lloyd George with some members of the Cabinet discussed today with General Sir Frederick Neville MacReady, Commander of the Military Forces in Ireland, and Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, the Irish situation including the question of reprisals.

According to a semi-official statement issued after the meeting, the Government found itself in entire agreement with the policy of the Irish Executive.

Reprisals Followed Shooting

Dublin, Oct. 2. — Confirmation has been received that reprisals followed the shooting of District Inspector Brady, near Tubbercurry, County Sligo, who was killed and two constables who were wounded.

Brady, when an officer at the front in the late war, was chosen by Field Marshal Haig to carry dispatches to Windsor Castle to the King.

After the shooting four lorries containing "Black and Tan" entered Tubbercurry, fired their rifles, threw bombs and set fire to houses, destroying six important business buildings and two creameries. Shops and residences were wholly or partly destroyed. Hardly a house in the town remained undamaged. The townspeople anticipated a raid and a majority of them had left. Extra police on their way from Sligo to Tubbercurry were fired on. No casualties have been reported.

Blames Lloyd George

London, Oct. 2.—An editorial appearing in the New Statesman, a weekly review of politics and literature, charges Lloyd George with responsibility for "Black and Tan" reprisals in Ireland. It says it understands upon authority "which we find it impossible to doubt," that the policy of meeting outrage with outrage was deliberately considered and deliberately decided upon in Downing Street four months ago, shortly after the appointment of Sir Hamer Greenwood as Chief Secretary for Ireland.

Ulster Not to Blame

Belfast, Oct. 2.—Ulster is not to blame for the failure of the Government forces to prevent the recent disorder in Ireland, writes Sir Edward Carson, Unionist leader, in sending a subscription to the fund for the relief of loyalists who lost their place of employment and homes during the recent riots here.

"Attacks upon our people and their property and the murder of faithful servants of the Crown, as well as efforts to boycott Ulster traders, are naturally provocative of reprisals," said Sir Edward, who has issued a caustic statement on Viscount Grey's solution of the Irish question, which he declares is "a policy of scuttle with a vengeance."

Griffith's Charges

Dublin, Oct. 2.—Sensational charges that the Government itself was responsible for reprisals in Ireland, and that a certain number of Sinn Fein leaders were marked for assassination, have been made by Arthur Grifth, founder of the Sinn Fein organization, who said he was the first on the list of intended victims. Griffith, in support of his statements, exhibited to a group of newspaper men to whom he made a long statement preferring the charges, alleged official documents secured by Sinn Fein agents. Among the papers was an official permit alleged to have been signed by General Sir Neville MacReady, Military Commander of Ireland. It was made out to a man named Hardy, who has had a life-long career of forgery and imprisonment and who is alleged to have been released prematurely from prison on a ticket of leave signed by Ian MacPherson, Chief Secretary for Ireland, permitting him to move about freely in Ireland unhampered by police surveillance, in the role, Griffith asserted, of Government spy.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' CLUB FAIR ENTRIES SHOW BIG INCREASE

Every section is said to be filled with entries and it is expected that a large crowd of Brandon people as well as those from the district will attend the Fair on Tuesday.

UNHAPPY LOT OF JEWISH TRADERS IN SOVIET RUSSIA

Forced From Factories and Counting Houses They Were Repulsed by Farmers

London, Sept. 14.—(By mail).—The fate of the Jews in Russia is anything but an eviable one, says an article in the current number of the Zionist Bulletin.

According to the writer, 98 per cent. of the forced laborers in Kharkov are Jews, who are treated brutally. The Gentiles about them are coming to regard them as a coolie caste, and they are shot at least as freely as other Russians for counter revolutionary activity.

Before the war, the article explains, about 66 per cent. of the Jews in Russia were engaged in commerce, and most of the remainder were atrisans or factory workers. When the Soviet Government closed down private commerce as being tainted with capitalism, most of the Jews lost their livelihood. Most of the non-Jewish Russians who were likewise made destitute turned to farm labor and have been able to scrape along, but Russian villagers, steeped in centuries of anti-semitism, would not tolerate Jewish setlers among them.

While the Soviet Government barred actual pogroms, it has not insisted on access to the land being given to the Jewish traders whom it dislodged from their counting-houses, says the writer, so when forced labor came in last March, a very large number of the Jews were visibly "unproductive persons" and ripe for industrial conscription, or for death if they objected.

"Almost all the Jews were entered as "of no occupation," irrespective of whether they knew a trade or not," says the writer in the Bulletin. "A terrible hunt began for the Jewish masses by Red soldiery, with the willing help of the anti-semites. The Jews were shut up in the courtyards of the labor barracks and had to camp day and night in the open, almost without food. The compulsory work consists mainly in the heaviset kind of labor, such as road building and the cleansing out of dirty places in town and country."

COUNCIL NAMES DELEGATES TO SEE C. N. R. OFFICIALS

Regarding Removal of Knox Station to Junction of G. T. P. and C.P.R.

TO BENEFIT BRANDON

Though Better Passenger and Freight Service North and West

Aldermen Hall and Shewan will be the delegates from the City Council to accompany the Board of Trade representatives to Winnipeg to interview railway officials with regard to certain proposals for railroad connection with the Grand Trunk Railway. At the special meeting on Friday evening, Messrs. A. E. McKenzie and J. S. Maxwell appeared before the City Council and laid before them the proposals which have already met with a certain amount of approval from the railway officials.

As the result of the visit to the Council and the proposition laid before the City Fathers, it was decided to send two delegates to Winnipeg with the Board of Trade members to interview the Canadian National Railway officials. In case one of the two aldermen appointed is unable to get away Alderman Patmore will take his place on the delegation.

The delegation to Winnipeg will lay before the officials the desirability of moving the station of Knox one mile farther East to a point on the junction of the Grand Trunk and the C.P.R. lines. This would then permit of local freight shipments from this city being sent to points on the Grand Trunk Railway. It would also greatly assist in the passenger facilities, and would be of great benefit to this city. The opinion has been expressed by the Canadian National Railway officials in Toronto that the Grand Trunk line to Brandon will never be completed, so the city is now seeking to have the railway carry out the proposal now made for a solution of the local traffic over the Grand Trunk.

The delegation will probably go to Winnipeg some time during next week, no definite date being set as yet.

MANITOBA COUNSEL OBJECTS TO NEW RAILWAY RATES

In Addressing Privy Council Asks Application For Increase be Deferred Until January

WHOLESALE GROCERS

Also Make Vigorous Appeal Against Increase—Consumers Will Suffer

Ottawa, Sept. 29.—"If this judgement is correct then it is a judgment that entitles them to take ten per cent. dividends, and in addition from ten to fifteen millions, by way of annual surplus. To the yoke of such judgment, Mr. Premier, the people will never submit. There wil lbe a continuous fight against it." In the foregoing sentences H. I. Symington Counsel for the Government of Manitoba, expressed his general objection to the recent judgment by the Railway Board increasing the railway freight and passenger rates, when appeal from judgment was being argued today before Prime Minister Meighen and several of his colleagues. Basing his arguments upon the assumption that there had been discrimination against the West in the matter of railway rates, Symington declared that the West must refuse to assume the unfair burden and at the same time have its natural advantages taken away. Forty-five per cent. of the gross earnings of the C.P.R., it had been shown, he said, produced in the West, had yielded a net earnings of 67 per cent.

On the other hand, 55 per cent. of the gross earnings in the East had produced net earnings of only 33 per cent. This showing was due to the circumstance that the operating ratio is so much lower in the Prairie Provinces where "we have everything that makes railway operation easy."

Hugh Blain, representing hte Wholesale Grocers' Association, vigorously supported the appeal, declaring that there was no valid reason for the increase in freight rates at the present time which would give the C.P.R. an additional revenue of one hundred million and impose a heavy burden upon consumers.

Defer Increase Until Jan. 1st.

Ottawa, Sept. 29.—H. I. Symington suggested that the application for increased rates be deferred until January first, 1921, when it had been demonstrated that it was, or was not, necessary. If any increase was granted it should be a minimum increase, and it must be based upon the requirements of the C.P.R. If it was based upon the requirements of the Government Railways and granted to the C.P.R. on this basis, the C.P.R. would soon own the country instead of having a very heavy mortgage on it.

DURANT WANTED IN MANY CITIES

Sought by Brandon Police on a Charge of Passing Worthless Cheques

Edward Durant, wanted in Brandon on the charge of forgery, will not be brought to this city for trial. Word was received from Victoria, B.C. that Durant was sentenced to two years in the British Columbia penitentiary on the charge of passing worthless cheques, and now the Montreal Police want him on the charge of murder. As the last crime is a serious one, it is expected that Durant will be taken East to stand his trial. It is further stated that Durant was perhaps the most-wanted man in Canada, as practically every city in the Dominion was after this clever criminal.

About a month ago, Durant paid a visit to Brandon and while here managed to pass off a cheque on Houssain Bros. in the amount of $84. Not only did he operate in Brandon but he was responsible for forgeries in practically every large Western city. When arrested he had in his possession a full set of bank stamps and "accepted" cheques.

The police also received word this morning of the arrest of two men in Regina who had Manitoba autos in their possession. These cars are alleged to be stolen, as the engine numbers were filed off, and the cars cannot be identified. One of the cars was a Ford roadster with a Manitoba license 37259, while the other was a Ford five passenger car No. 31370. The police are making inquiries to discover the owners of these two cars.

GOVERNMENT FARMS SHOW LARGE PROFIT

Alberta and Saskatchewan Greater Production Farms Have Good Crop

Regina, Sask., Sept. 29.—On a basis of $2.50 a bushel net, the cash value of the wheat crop now being taken off government greater production farms in Saskatchewan and Alberta is placed at $2,500,000 by W. M. Graham, Indian commissioner here. Mr. Graham would not venture an estimate of operating expenses, but admitted that the profit on the venture for the present year would be well over a million dollars. The wheat crop is placed at 500,000 bushels.

Approximately 20,000 acres were sown in wheat this year. The yield on the Alberta land is announced at 45 bushels to the acre, though the value estimate is on the basis of 40 bushels to the acre. Saskatchewan's quota to the total will only yield about 15 bushels to the acre.

B. C MAY HAVE ANOTHER WOMAN IN LEGISLATURE

Miss Katherine Ryan, of Stewart, B.C., is Likely Candidate—Would Make Good Run

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 29.—According to news arriving from the North, there is a possibility that Mrs. Ralph Smith, M.L.A., may in the near future be joined on the floor of the legislative chamber by another woman, for Miss Katherine Ryan, of Stewart, B.C., is likely to be a candidate for the seat left vacant by the death of the late Frank Mobley, the member for Atlin. More than the usual interest centres in this announcement, for Miss Ryan is unique among women, in that she may claim to the title of "sourdough" and the story of her adventures might well be culled from the ballads of Robert Service or the novels of Rex Beach. In addition, she has the unique distinction of having held office for the past seventeen years as gold inspector in the Yukon, and as far as is known, is the only woman in the world to hold such an office.

Miss Ryan has been in the Yukon territory for the past twenty-four years and is well known in every corner of that vast hinterland. The vicissitudes of fortune found her stranded in British Columbia early in 1898. The stories of the Eldoradoes in the Yukon kindled her imagination, and roused her fighting spirit and she determined to try her luck in the gold fields. She was the first woman to join the famous rush of '98 alone, and the fact that she succeeded in reaching her goal is eloquent tribute to her Spartan courage, grit and determination.

Planes to Operate From Jericho Beach — Major McLaurin, D.S.O., in Command

Vancouver, Sept. 29.—Arial photography will largely feature the work of the government pilots under Major C. McLaurin, D.S.O., operating from the seaplane station at Jericho Beach. It is planned to photograph any area on which the government wants data and specifications. Stretches of country whose geographical peculiarities are unknown because not heretofore accessible, will be mapped.

The station at Jericho now comprises a staff of eighteen men and six machines. The first flight will likely be to Kamloops, following the Fraser and Thompson rivers, making note of waterways, lakes, rivers, etc., that would be available for landing places.

Tentative plans are being made for a long flight to Prince Rupert, a distance of six hundred miles, in the F-3 type seaplane, equipped with two 385 h.p. Rolls-Royce motors, which has a cruising radius of 750 miles.

AVIATOR CASEWELL PASSED THROUGH SNOW RETURNING FROM ROBLIN

With the undercarriage of his airplane coated with ice, Aviator Casewell returned Tuesday afternoon from Roblin, Man., where he had been carrying passengers. The return distance of about ninety miles was made in one hour, a strong wind behind the machine helping the Brandon pilot to make a record flight. The air was extremely cold, and water which dripped from the machine froze solid on the undercarriage of the airplane. Casewell stated that the weather was too cold for enjoyment, although the high wind aided him on his flight. He ran into snow several times on his return flight.

The Brandon aviators have been carrying passengers steadily all Summer, and still have many engagements to fulfill; particularly in Northern Manitoba. They expect to be flying for another two weeks, and then will store the plane away for the Winter. Casewell stated today that the flying game has been a big success this year, and that it is becoming very popular in Manitoba. Hundreds are going up for flights this year, where only dozens sought the sensation last season.

SNOW IN DULUTH

Duluth, Sept. 29.—Lightsnow fell here and at Virginia Tuesday.

SOUTHERN ALBERTA WOOL SHIPMENTS FAR GREATER THAN FOR LAST YEAR

Lethbridge, Sept. 29.—Shipments of wool through the Southern Alberta Wool Growers Association this year far surpass those of last year, approximating 1,450,000 pounds. Last year only 800,000 pounds of wool was shipped through the local association to the Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers' Association in Toronto.

PREDICT GREAT SEASON FOR THE FUR TRAPPERS

Large Increase in Number of Rabbits and Mice is Good Omen

Edmonton, Alta, Sept. 28. — Fur in the North country will be more plentiful this coming season than for some years, according to reports received here. Positive signs show, it is claimed, that a large catch is assured.

There was a large increase in the number of wild rabbits and mice this year. Coupled with the game increase, it was irrefutable evidence that the country was on the eve of a great fur trapping season. It has always been the case that when rabbits and mice, which with game birds constitute the main food of foxes, coyotes, lynx and similar animals, are plentiful, a big fur catch results.

RUMORS OF PLOTS TO KILL THE KING

Lives of Cabinet Ministers Also Threatened if Hunger Strikers Perish

London, Sept. 29.—Rumors of widespread plots, which ranged from conspiracies to assassinate King George to blowing up public buildings, have been current in London during the past few days. These reports have been caused by fear that the lives of public men in Great Britain might be jeopardized should any Irish hunger strikers die, particularly now that the "Black and Tan" police have made reprisals in several Irish towns.

Police authorities have investigated some of the more plausible stories, and the newspapers have run down many more, and always with the same negative result

Volunteers Paraded

Belfast, Sept. 29.—Three victims of week-end rioting, John Gaynor, Edward Troddens, and John McFadden were buried today, and in spite of the order prohibiting marching by members of proclaimed political organizations, there was a large turnout of volunteers. Five hundred volunteers followed the coffins of Gaynor and Troddens. There were none in the procession which escorted the body of McFadden to the cemetery. Relatives deny that McFadden was a Sinn Feiner. Tension continues at a high pitch and the military authorities took every precaution to prevent fresh outbreaks during the funerals. Squads of soldier and an armored car patrolled the line of march.

Two Dead as Result of Clash

Belfast, Sept. 29—Two civilians were shot dead and a number of persons wounded during a clash between the soldiers and a crowd on the Fallis road last night.

ALBERTA WOMAN GUILTY OF MURDER

Mrs. Sarah Jackson Sentenced to be Hanged on December 21st

Edmonton, Sept. 29.—Mrs. Sarah Jackson was found guilty last night of murdering her husband last Christmas. She was sentenced to be hanged December 21, next. The jury strongly recommended leniency. The jury was out twenty minutes. This is the first case in Alberta where a woman was found guilty of murder.

PAUL WALTERS, VETERAN MOUNTED POLICE AND INDIAN FIGHTER, DEAD

Winnipeg, Sept. 29. — Staff-Sergt. Paul Walters, better known as "Pop" Walters, for 30 years a member of the Royal North West Mounted Police as well as Indian fighter in the United States, is dead. He died at the Old Folks' Home here aged 74 years.

"Pop" Walters had a checkered career," said Col. Knight, speaking of it at the Mounted Police quarters here. "He served in the 7th U. S. Cavalry at the time of the Custer massacre in '79. He happened to be in a reserve squadron of the regiment that was wiped out by the Sioux. After leaving the U.S. service he joined the Mounties in April, 1890, at Regina. In 1900 he served with the First Canadian Mounted Rifles in South Africa, where he received the South African medal and four clasps.

VICTORIA CANNOT SEIZE AND SELL R. C. CATHEDRAL

Court of Appeal Decides — Taxes Amount to $16,000, Unpaid Since Year 1913

Victoria, B.C., Sept. 29.—According to an important decision handed down by the Court of Appeal here, the city of Victoria cannot seize and sell for taxes St. Andrew's Roman Catholic Cathedral.

Bishop Macdonald, prelate of Vancouver Island, inaugurated the action against the city to prevent seizure of church property and putting it up for tax sale. Taxes amount to $16,000, not having been paid since 1913.

The plaintiffs contended that church sites are exempt from taxation. The decision, they maintain, means that a church cannot be sold for taxes and also that taxes cannot be levied against it.

PREDICT CHANGE IN CONTROL OF BRITISH ROADS

London Daily News Declares Transport Ministry is to Disappear

London, Sept. 30.—The Transport Ministry is practically doomed, the Daily News is informed. The Government has under serious consideration a plan to abolish what has become known as the "grandiose department of state control of railways" next August. Powerful oposition to Sir Eric Geddes' scheme for grouping the railways is the chief factor in the campaign.

The policy that now receives influential backing recommends abandonment of the grouping scheme, winding up of the Transport Ministry, revival of the pre-war railways branch of the Board of Trade, and the transfer of powers of the Department of Transport. Economy in public expenditures is the further reason given for the proposed changes.

FOUR MEN KILLED TWO INJURED IN WRECK AT CANORA

Yorkton, Sask., Sept. 29.—Four men were killed and two injured Tuesday in a wreck on the Canadian National Railway at Canora, according to word received here.

D. Vinitsky, Canora.

Paul House, Ollies, Iowa.

Harold Winn, Wadena, Sask.

The injured are:

S. Mighton, Wadena, Sask.

ONE YEAR ENOUGH ON CITY COUNCIL, CALGARY WOMAN HAS DECIDED

Calgary, Sept. 29.—Organizations of women of the city have decided to run at least one candidate in the civic elections, although the name has not yet been announced. Mrs. Gale, elected as alderman last year, has still another year to serve. She has refused to be entered in the mayoralty contest. Registration for the provincial lists has been exceptionally heavy among the woman voters.

20 VARIETIES OF FISH CAUGHT ALONG NOVA SCOTIA'S COAST LINE

Halifax, N.S., Sept. 30.—Twenty varieties of fish are caught along Nova Scotia's 5,600 miles of coast line. The five leading varieties are cod, lobster, mackerel, haddock, herring. The provincial fisheries are worth on an average $11,119,242 annually or more than 33 per cent. of the Dominion's total catch.

ADVANCE PRICE OF STAMPED ENVELOPES

Commencing Thursday, October 1st, the price of stamped envelopes will be advanced at the Post Office in accordance with new regulations received from Ottawa. The increase will amount to about ten cents per hundred. One cent stamped envelopes formerly selling for $1.20 per hundred will now be $1.30. Two cent envelopes now $2.20 per hunderd will under the new rates be $2.30. A new three cent stamped envelope is just being got ready for issue and will probably be on sale in a couple of months. These will be sold for $3.30 per hundred.

THIEVES STEAL SEPULCHRAL URNS AND OFFER TO RETURN THEM FOR REWARDS

Berne, Switzerland, Sept. 30. — Thieves broke into a crematory situated in Bienne, near Berne, a few nights ago and stole a few sepulchral urns containing the ashes of members of wealthy families.

Prominent families of Berne and Zurich are receiving letters, offering to return the urns for a consideration varying between 2,000 and 4,000 francs, according to the financial standing of the owners.

The police hope to lay a trap for the ghouls.

VOTES OF WOMEN TO PLAY BIG PART IN U.S. ELECTIONS

Estimated That 26,500,00 Women Are Eligible to Vote in November

Washington, Sept. 30—Figures compiled by the census bureau and other government departments indicate that the number of women in the United States over 21 years of age is 28,035,000 of whom approximately 26,500,000 are eligible to vote in the November election. This estimate makes a liberal allowance for alien women, American women married to aliens and others ineligible.

Exact figures are not available on the number of women over 21 but barred from voting through various reasons. Census Bureau officials believe, however that this year at least 1,000,000 of the 5,250,000 foreign-born women in the United States will not yet have become naturalized. In addition there were in 1910, according to the census about 60,000 Indian women most of whom were living on reservations, 8,607 Chinese and Japanese women ineligible to vote, a comparatively small number of American women married to aliens and bared from voting for that reason and a larger number deprived of the ballot under state statues in harmony with constitutional provisions. The total of these ineligibles was estimated at about 1,500,000.

American women married to aliens are not eligible to vote, the Department of Justice has held, but foreign-born women married to American citizens or whose fathers have become American citizens are entitled to the ballot without naturalization proceedings.

The number of eligible male voters in the United States this year has not been determined. Based on an estimated population of 105,000,000, however, the census bureau figured that there are now 34,807,000 men in the United tSates over 21 years of age of whom prabably 31,500,000 would be entitled to vote in November.

DOHERTY'S PLAN FOR SECURING HELP FOR ONTARIO FARMERS

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 29.—The Hon. Manning Doherty, Minister of Agriculture, speaking to the farmers here forecasts the establishment in London, Eng., of a distributing office for British emigrants in order to assist the farmers of the province in securing adequate farm labor. Providing for a definite destination for each emigrant and a proportional distribution will, he believes, be of substantial benefit to the farmers seeking labor.

186 PRESCRIPTIONS IN SAME NUMBER MINUTES IS WINNIPEG RECORD

Winipeg, Sept. 30.—One prescription per minute, for 186 minutes is the record established by Wm. McCullough, druggist, according to evidence given at his trial for breach of the Temperance Act, in Provincial Police court Wednesday. The prescriptions were, according to the evidence, served to two men, but each of them bears a different name and address. The greater part of these prescriptions were signed by Dr. M. Gervais. The case was adjourned till Thursday to enable the defence to procure exhibits which, it is asserted, are of vital importance in the case.

TORONTO CUSTOMS RETURNS

Toronto, Sept. 30.—Revenue returns for the port of Toronto for this month will be slightly in excess of $4,000,000.

POSSE JUSTIFIED FOR KILLING TWO BANDITS

Coroners Jury Declares Posse Justified in Action Taken Towards Capture

Regina, Sept. 29. — The coroner's jury empaneled at Tisdale to investigate the death of two bandits taken dead from a haystack after a battle with the police on Saturday, has found that the posse of Saskatchewan Provincial Police commanded by Inspector H. R. Tait, was justified in the action it took to capture the bandits.

This finding is added to the verdict rendered as to cause of death. The jury found that the bandits, known as Jerry and Tony, came to their death while resisting arrest, from bullet wounds received from firearms in the hands of the posse of provincial police.

Burial at Tisdale

The bodies of the two bandits were buried at Tisdale. The two captured alive, Bill Braschuk and John Fischowy, are now locked up at Prince Albert awaiting trial on charges of shooting with intent to kill and also with carrying concealed weapons.

Inspector Tait has had prints taken from the fingers of the dead men and an attempt will be made to find out something of their past history.

BRIBERY CHARGES AGAINST U. F. O FALL TO GROUND

Orangeville, Ont., Sept. 29—Charges that U.F.O. had sent financial aid from the central body to Dufferin County, to help in the election of Thomas K. Slack on October 20th, were withdrawn at the election trial here yesterday.

Charges of intimidation, bribery and widespread corruption made against the U.F.O. fell of their own weight, so counsel told the court it was necessary to withdraw them.

CHICAGO PASTOR RESIGNS TO BECOME SALESMAN: SALARY NOT BIG ENOUGH

Chicago, Sept. 30.—Unable to earn enough money to feed and educate his children, and yet live comfortably, Dr. Phillip Yarrow has resigned the pastorate of the Morgan Park Congregational Church here.

Dr. Yarrow has accepted a position as travelling salesman, which, he said, will give him an income of $5,000 a year. As pastor, he was paid $3,200, he said.

"It's impossible for a man to live on less than $5,000 under present conditions," he said.

Yarrow was formerly general superintendent of the Dry Chicago Federation.

"This doesn't mean that I have lost faith in the church," he said. "I have absolutely no bitterness against the church."

COUNTY COURT SITTINGS POSTPONED UNTIL NOV. 23

In order that two sittings of court will not conflict, the County Court sitting for Brandon, which was set for November 9th, has now been postponed until November 23rd. This change is necessary as the Fall Assizes will sit in Brandon commencing November 9th, and His Honor Judge Cumberland therefore shifted the date of the County Court sittings to the 23rd.

THE PAS PREFERS A MINISTER

The election of Hon. Edward Brown in The Pas constituency is no surprise. The Minister had a distinct advantage over the Labor candidate which only the rosy glasses the Labor men are wearing prevented them from discerning. A Minister, even of a Government insecurely in the saddle, has a great appeal in a backwoods constituency. This appeal was used no doubt to the utmost for there is some reason for thinking that the Norris Government is not now as coldly aloof from affairs in constituencies as it was previous to the recent general election.

The members of the Norris Government, whether regarded as politicians or as statesmen, could not fail to learn something regarding elections from the result of that appeal to the country. No doubt the wisdom thus dearly bought, was reflected in the Northern campaign.

OUR GLORIOUS AUTUMN

Why any person who lives in Manitoba wants to rave over the beauties of the Rocky Mountains, or the climate of California or any other foreign clime, is beyond understanding. It is worth a few months of severe weather to live through a Manitoba Autumn such as we are now enjoying. Forget last October's snow storms. Invite your friends to take you, if you do not own an automobile, and travel, North, East, South or West from Brandon and if you do not absorb enough glorious air and sunshine and find nature to have prepared panorama almost beyond compare, you are either singularly unfortunate or stone blind.

A LOSS TO ALL

Not the least important of the phenomena attending the generally higher wages, the higher prices for farm products and the increased profits of business generally in recent years is the flooding of universities and colleges with young men and young women eager to enjoy the educational advantages there obtainable.

Brandon College has been no exception and admission has had to be denied students eager to take the training courses. Lack of accommodation for class rooms and dormitories, even with the extensions secured, has been the reason. Inability to provide for students is a loss to the college, the students, the business men and the community. It is as if Brandon has had to refuse a most desirable industry an opportunity to do a greater volume of business.

THE RIGHT CONCLUSION

The attention of those who claim that the League of Nations has failed and who prattle of "the next war" may well be directed towards some of the probable features of the conflict they predict. Recently a Belgian writer discussed the possibility, which he thought was demonstrated by developments in the late war, of moving 500,000 men a distance of 250 miles in three hours by means of ten thousand large airplanes.

The proposition was thought of sufficient inportance to merit lengthy consideration by a former British air officer writing in the London Daily Mail. The British expert considered the transportation of so large a force, such a distance improbable in the present state of aeronautic science, and yet he admitted that figures which seem exaggerated today may be facts tomorrow. And continuing he outlined certain military manoeuvers which even now are practicable in the way of transporting by airplane both men and equipment.

There are planes today that could carry an eighteen pounder gun with its limber and shells, he said. Such an airplanes could easily transport motorcycles and motor cars. Granted so much, it is quite possible by the use of a sufficient number of airplanes to drop out of the clouds upon an unsuspecting district a sufficient force of men and equipment to ravage a whole countryside before aid could be brought.

This British expert concludes that Britain should make ample preparations and keep abreast of the foremost improvements in air service that the country may not be caught unawares in "the next war." Perhaps such a reaction is wise and necessary, but unless civilization is to be abandoned to the forces which seem bent on destroying it, it would seem to be the part of wisdom to focus attention on means for making "the next war" impossible.

It is not sufficient to say that the League of Nations is a failure. No great enterprise undertaken by men has been without its failures. When the world is a little further removed from the era of brainstorm which for the time appeared to deprive mankind of reason, we may address ourselves anew to this great problem. Let us remember the old copybook maxim "if at first you don't succeed, try again."

WELL DONE CANADIAN

Sir Campbell Stuart, K.B.E., is a young Canadian who has won outstanding recognition in the British Isles. Probably he is better known in Great Britain than in his native Dominion, his fame having been confined to a restricted circle in Montreal where, like Beaverbrook, he was once a cog in the wheel of finance.

After the war broke out Stuart had the necessary influence to secure a commission, also permission to organize a regiment of Irish Canadians in Quebec. After landing in England he secured reluctant permission from the War Office to parade them through Ireland on a recruiting mission. The Duchess of Connaught's Irish-Canadian Rangers were remarkably successful in securing recruits, contrary to expectations, and when Stuart got back to London there was ready recognition of his services. He was appointed an attache of the British Embassy in Washington, and made propaganda his specialty. Later he joined Lord Northcliffe's staff and had much to do with the flooding of Australia and Germany with a propaganda which helped materially to weaken enemy morale and shorten the war.

For his services, Stuart was given a knighthood. Since hostilities ceased he has been busy writing a book, "The Secrets of the Crewe House," a volume which critics declare will make him famous. As the secrets of the British spy and intelligence system were laid bare to him during the time he was engaged in preparing propaganda he had sensational material and is said to have made the most of it.

Canadians will be glad to accord to another son of Canada the distinction which is already shared by a notable band who have forsaken the land of the Maple for the good old mother land.

AIRIAL SMUGGLER MAKES APPEARANCE

Abandoned Airplane Causes Suspicion That Spanish Customs Were Defrauded

Pau. France, Oct. 1.—A polished gentleman wearing a full regalia of an aviator and presenting a pilot's certificate entered the shops of an airplane works here a few days ago and expressed a desire to purchase an airplane. Accompanied by a representative of the firm he evoluted over the Pau field in various machines, showing great virtuosity in airial gymnastics, looping the loop, sliding on the wing, doing the falling leaf and other stunts until he decided to purchase a biplane, for which he gave a certified check as payment. He then flew away.

In a field near San Sebastian, Spain recently, there was found an abandoned airplane in which there was a satchel containing several thousand francs in French silverand gold pieces.

A polished gentleman wearing the full regalia of an aviator had been seen to leave the plane a few minutes after it landed, carrying heavy grips of the same type as the one left in the plane. No one returned for the third grip and it has been confiscated by the Spanish authorites.

The Pau airplane firm has notified the Aero Club of France and the Aero Club of England as well as the Service of European Airial Navigation to be on the lookout for an airial smuggler.

PRICE CUTTING NOT SO GENERAL AS IMAGINED

Few Legitimate Stores at Which Prices Are Being Reduced Slightly

Montreal, Oct. 4.—The optimism that marked a dispatch from Washington in regard to price cutting in the wholesale trade is not shared by H. G. Munro, merchandise manager of Almy's Limited, who dismissed the story as one having no foundation.

Answering a question as to whether the price cutting wave was likely to come over the border line, he retorted that he was quite unaware of any such tendency, and he attributed the story to speculators. He thought there might be a few legitimate stores at which prices were being reduced slightly, but he did not think that would last.

GOOD CONNECTION

Would Then Be possible for Passengers Travelling on C.P.R. Line North

Direct railway connection with the Grand Trunk from Brandon may be obtained shortly according to a proposition which is said to have aldeary met with the approval of the Canadi an National Railway officials. The present plan is to move the station of Knox on the Grand Trunk one mile East to the junction of the C. P.R. line which runs from Brandon to Minnedosa. This would give this city better shipping facilities, and a strong effort is to be made to have the railway officials carry out this proposition within a short time.

President P. A. Kennedy, of the Board of Trade, has recently returned from a trip in the East during which he interviewed the officials of the Canadian National Railways regarding the completion of the Grand Trunk spur into Brandon. Mr. Kennedy took up with Mr. H. G. Hanna the question of laying the steel on the grade which has been laid to the outskirts of Brandon for some years, and the early completion of this line which would connect this city with the main line of the Grand Trunk. Mr. Hanna assured Mr. Kennedy that this line would never be completed, and as much as intimated that it was a bad piece of railroading to have laid the road into Brandon from that direction. Mr. Hanna suggested, therefore, that as the steel would not be laid on the Grand Trunk grade that the Canadian National Railway here give a better service which would give connections with the Grand Trunk at Petrel, Man. Freight over the Grand Trunk could then be shipped to Carberry North to Petrel, and transferred to points on the Grand Trunk Railway.

However, a much better plan than this is now proposed, and one which the Canadian National officials practically approved of. This is to move the station of Knox one mile East of its present location on the Grand Trunk to the intersection of the C. P.R. Brandon-to-Minnedosa line. This would make the station of Knox one mile straight North of Forest, and would also give passengers an opportunity to make direct connections with both railroads instead of having to motor, as at present. It would also present a splendid opportunity to local shippers as local freight could be shipped direct to points on the Grand Trunk, being transferred from the C.P.R. at Knox. At present, only carload shipments can be transferred on this line. The expense of moving Knox station to the point proposed would be very small, as there is only the station itself to move. An elevator at that point was moved away this Summer, leaving only the one building at this point.

The Board of Trade has taken up the matter actively and at a special meeting held on Wednesday, President P. A. Kennedy and A. R. McDiarmid were appointed as delegates to go to Winnipeg to interview the Canadian National Railways with a view to having the plan carried out. It is also stated that the City Council will be approached with a view to having a representative from that body also accompanying the Board of Trade delegates to Winnipeg. It is expected that the proposition will be put before the officials in Winnipeg early next week.

At the meeting held Wednesday it was also announced that there is a possibility of two large manufacturing concerns establishing in the city. Interviews in the East by Mr. Kennedy with the heads of these two concerns brought to light the very favorable inclination of the firms to establish here, and it is also added that one of the companies will take over the Gordon McKay building. Splendid inducements are being held out to the Eastern firms. Another industry for Brandon may be obtained here in the opening of a halter factory by a well-known Western distributing house.

WILLYS-OVERLAND PLANT CLOSED 4,500 MEN ARE OUT

Toledo, Sept. 30. — The Toledo plants of the Willys-Overland Company were closed down yesterday and today following a lay-off of 4,500 men and women workers. SITUATION IN BELFAST COULD NOT POSSIBLY BE WORSE, SAYS REPORT

Belfast, Sept. 30.—The continuance of rioting and bloodshed in this city is viewed officially as creating an intolerable situation, and Ulster's proposal for an armed civic guard is likely to be adopted by the Government if the disorders continue. Threats of the Sinn Fein that the organization guard would be taken as a "declaration of war" with the resultant uprising of the Irish Nationalists, is not taken seriously, it being asserted that the "eisting situation cannot possibly be worse."

C. P. R. COUNSEL PRESENTS CASE TO GOVERNMENT

Contends Company Entitled to Profits Earned Under Fair Rates

Ottawa, Sept. 30.—That a railway company is entitled to whatever profits are involved in working under rates that are fair and reasonable, was the crux of the argument advanced by W. N. Tilley, K.C., Chief Counsel for the C.P.R., in opposing a request for a reversal of the decision of the Railway Board by the Governor-in-Council in the railway rates case, being argued before the Prime Minister at ten o'clock. It is expected that counsel for the Railways will conclude today and the hearing be brought to a close. Tilley said he thought the company had been made the chief subject of attack. The C. P.R. in asking for a rate increase had not sought help from the records of any other railway company; it had put its case to the Railway Commission purely on its own merits or demerits, and was prepared to stand or fall by them. If the judgment of the Railway Commissioner erred in not granting the full application of the railways, there was, he said, no justification for the five per cent. deduction made by the Commission in Western rates, nor was the five per cent. reduction in the increased rates after next year, justified.

The body was found by a constable who noticing light in the office entered and made the discovery. It is not known yet whether the girl was murdered or committed suicide.

GREY'S PROPOSALS ARE VERY POPULAR

With Regard to Solution of Irish Question But Public Skeptical About Adoption

Dublin, Sept. 30.—Suggestions for the solution of the Irish problem, and which virtually offers a generous form of Home Rule, made by Viscount Grey, has attracted much attention in this city, but public opinion generally discounts the probability of their adoption.

A Unionist's Reply

Belfast, Sept. 30.—"It conforms to traditional policy of all British attempts to pacify Ireland, in that it follows the line of least resistance," declares a Unionist news letter commenting on the proposals of Viscount Grey for the solution of the Irish problem. It adds: "Until British statesmen abandon that policy and base Irish legislation upon principle rather than expediency of moment the Irish question will remain unsettled."

DRURY HITS BACK AT PREMIER MEIGHEN

Asks if Record of Ontario Government Can Be Classed as Bolshevist

Oshawa, Sept. 30.—Premier Drury addressing a gathering here last night the U.F.O. of South Ontario and Labor men of Oshawa, hit back at Premier Meighen for having, as Drury said, classed the Farmers and Labor men with the Bolshevists. "I resent that Can you call our record in the Province, Bolshevist?" He added "that the only thing his Government overturned was the "worse system of forest pilfering on the North American continent."

MENNONITES MUST OBEY THE LAW WITHOUT DELAY

Education Department Authorities Declare Final Notices Have Been Prepared

Winnipeg, Sept. 30. — Wholesale prosecution of Mennonites in Rhineland district for failure to comply with Manitoba educational laws is to be undertaken right away if final notices now being prepared are not heeded, Robert Fletcher, Deputy Minister of Education, announced. During the last few weeks, said Mr. Fletcher, great efforts have been made by officials of the department to induce this sect to co-operate.

In some cases, accepting the inevitable, the Mennonites have complied, and their children are now attending public schools. In other cases heads of families areacting in open defiance of the law, he declared.

"In Houston district, a populous centre with many children of school age, the entire colony has determined to fight," Mr. Fletcher stated. "Some time ago," he continued," a public school was built and a teacher installed. Mandatory notice was served on every family. The notices were ignored and no children attended the school."

Mr. Fletcher said there were five families in Shanzenfeld, and isplated recalcitrants in many other districts, all of whom would be compelled to obey the law or take the consequences.

The Houston school district is the locality from which Mennonites carried an appeal in defense of the 1865 agreemnt to the Privy Council and were defeated by a decision handed down some weeks ago. The feeling in the district, J. F. Greenway, assistant Deputy Minister, said on his return from there recently, is very acute against the education authorities.

"The department has determined upon a policy of vigorous enforcement of the Education Act and the School Attendance Act," Mr. Fletcher said, "and every Mennonite family in Manitoba which persists in keeping its children from school when the final notice has been served, will be prosecuted."

Younger Mennonites to go to Abitibi

Quebec, Sept. 29.—The younger Mennonites of Manitoba who were at first unwilling to leave the province with older members of their sect on account of the educational restrictions, have notified the Quebec Government that a delegation will be sent to the Abitibi region with a view to selecting land to migrate to.

I. W. W. SAID TO PLAN PERIOD OF TERRORISM

Tacoma, Wn., Sept. 30.—The plan of the Industrial Workers of the World to inaugurate a period of terrorism in the Northwest within 20 days is charged by Congressman Albert Johnston, in a statement today commenting on annonymous letters received by Seattle police and Federal authorities, bearing a warning that the Radicals are planning to blow up financial institutions and buildings in Tacoma, Portland and Seattle.

FEMININE APACHE ROBS FRENCH SAILOR

Bordeaux, Sept. 30.—Yves Berthon sauntered off the good ship Laverdiere where he presides over the destinies of the galley, with 1,900 francs in his pocket and a great longing in his heart for a "sailor's good time."

"Hands up," was the shout of a feminine voice that greeted him as he turned into a waterfront street from the docks.

"This is a good joke," said Yves, as he wheeled about to look into the muzzle of a business-like revolver, held by a steady feminine hand. "This is indeed a good joke, let me kiss you."

"Bing!" spat the business-like revolver and Yves felt a stinging pain in the left shoulder.

When he awoke, the 1,900 francs had gone and so had the business-like woman. It was just getting dusk. Yves went to the police station first, then returned to the good ship Laverdiere.

LIBERTY BOND SCANDAL REPORTED IN THE U. S.

Washington, Sept. 30.—The charge that many millions of dollars in duplicate numbered Liberty Bonds are in circulation in the United States, was made by J. W. McCarter, who recently resigned as Assistant Registrar of the Treasury.

McCarter alleges that millions of dollars' worth of Liberty Bonds, which were paid off by the Treasury, but never cancelled, are also again in circulation.

DOWNWARD TREND OF PRICES USED AS REASON FOR REFUSING INCREASE

Chicago, Sept. 30. — Statistics tending to show that high prices had to come to an end and that a definite downward trend had set in, were presented at the hearing on demands of stockyard employes for higher wages by Swift & Company as an argument against granting the employe's demands. L. H. D. Weld, head of the commercial research department of the packing company, said an increase in wages will keep prices up.

VICTORIA MAN TO ANSWER CHARGE OF EMBEZZLEMENT

Former Proprietor Daily Times Charged With Misappropriation Makes Allegations

Victoria, B.C., Sept. 30. — The case of Griffith R. Hughes, financier and former proprietor of the Daily Times, now charged with embezzlement of sums expected to reach more than one half million dollars, from Spencer's department stores, promises to reach its climax October 4, when the assizes open. Not only is the case most extraordinary from the vast amount of speculations extending over a long period, but new interest has become centred in it because of the publication of the counter-charges by Hughes against the firm for which he was chief accountant for so many years.

Hughes now alleges extensive sums as high as three hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars have been witheld from the Government by falsification. Members of the Spencer firm immediately replied to Hughes' counter-charges by saying that Hughes was himself entirely and absolutely in charge of the books, and that if any shortage exists he alone knows of it. The Spencers then invited the Government to audit the company's books, and upon this result they would pay the Government if it was found that they owed it anything. When Sir Henry Drayton was here last week the matter was fully discussed with him, and he has appointed Helliwell, Maclachlan & Co. to make the audit.

Hughes was for many years chief financier to the Spencer stores.

OLD SWINDLE IS BEING RENEWED

Currency Notes of Confederate States of America Again Being Passed in England

London, Sept. 30.—The old swindle of passing currency notes of the Confederate States of America which has been worked in England for years, is flourishing again. Reports of the victimization of shop-keepers at ports have been reaching the American embassy here in increasing numbers recently.

A ticket seller at one of the big London railway stations gave a Swiss waiter eleven English pounds for a $50 Confederate note but became suspicious before the waiter had gone far and had him detained. The police were in a dilemma as they could not distinguish the note from good American money and finally had to appeal to the American embassy.

The Swiss said he obtained the note from an American but declined to say how much the transaction cost him. The police believed his story that he had acted in good faith with the ticket seller.

The police say this swindle runs in waves cropping up every few years but that at present it is being perpetrated on a larger scale and more successfully than hertofore.

BANKING REVELATIONS WILL STARTLE PEOPLE SAYS TRUST OFFICIAL

Boston, Sept. 30. — Simon Swig, vice-president of the Tremont Trust Company, after a conference with Joseph C. Allen, State Bank Commissioner, declared he will make a "grand expose" of the banking situation in Massachusetts within a week He asserted his revelations would startle the people. Swig announced he would hire Mechanics hall and call a mass meeting, at which he would tell all.

A POCKET STILL TAKEN BY U. S. FEDERAL OFFICERS

Asheville, N.C., Sept. 30.—A pocket still is the latest device captured by Federal prohibition officers. Agents working out of the local office recently captured such a miniature still near Saluda. The whole outfit was so small the officers put it in their pockets and brought it to the city for exhibition purposes. The officers called it a parlor still. It is of about one table-glass capacity and manufactured an article for home consumption. It was said by officers that the still was complete to the smallest detail.

PREMIER SHOWS REAL ABILITY AS HARD FIGHTER

By Making Tariff Chief Election Issue—Has Secured Strong Support

EAST OF OTTAWA

Farmers Will Not Have Great Following After Next Election

Ottawa, Sept. 30.—The Government is in good spirits, its victories in Colchester and St. John having done much to dispel the anxiety that attended these two by-elections. In reality there was not much cause for anxiety, as the event showed, but during these days politicians, like many other classes of people, have bad attacks of nerves. It doesn't take much to frighten them.

The result of the two by-elections confirmed the opinion expressed in these letters. The St. John contest was not even a good camouflage affair. Two weeks before the day of polling the Government was informed that everything was all right, and that while Dr. Emory would remain in the field there would be no fight. Anyone who happened to be a cabinet minister could have won in St. John. The position simply carries the man in on its back. In some quarters down by the sea they don't take their politics nearly as seriously as they do some things that go with it. Politicians from that part of the country are not very keen on the abolition of patronage.

Those well versed in things political knew right well that in spite of all the reports about the strength of Dixon the Farmer candidate, McCurdy would win. To defeat a cabinet minister in a by-election is just about the hardest thing possible. Besides, formidable new political organizations are not built in a day. With both Liberals and Conservatives against him Capt. Dixon did well to poll so many votes. The Truro returns show that when a Farmer candidate runs up against a city or town there is a different story to tell as compared with what there is in the country.

The Premier a Great Fighter

If the by-elections did nothing more they demonstrated that the Government will put up a formidable fight in the next campaign. The Prime Minister has put more aggressiveness into the party he leads than it has had at any time since 1911. By getting out and talking to the people he has also, to some extent, arrested the drift to new political movements among his natural supporters. By making the tariff the leading issue he has also assured himself of a body of support that is always formidable. In politics fighting counts, and for a government no situation is absolutely hopeless to the leader who will fight hard.

One is now inclined to think that in the next Federal campaign the farmers will not be much of a factor East of Ottawa. They may win several seats in the Maritime Provinces; but are unlikely to amount to muca more than a ripple on the surface. Not having the strong co-operative movements to sustain them they are not the strength they are farther West. Of course a change may come over the situation; but it has not yet occurred.

All Eyes on East Elgin

All eyes will now be turned on East Elgin; for there it will be demonstrated what the Farmers can really do in Ontario today when pitted against two opponents. In this riding they are admittedly strong; but if W. G. Charlton, the Liberal candidate, remains in the field it is difficult to see how either he or the Farmer candidate can win. On the other hand, if the Government cannot carry the seat in a three-cornered fight its weakness in the rural portions of Ontraio will have been strikingly demonstrated. It is possible that even if Charlton remains in the field the Liberals may consider discretion the better part of valor and support the Farmer. At present it is impossible to say what may happen.

Eastern interest in the Tariff Commission is rapidly on the wane, it having been realized that both sides to the controversy have pretty well shot their bolt. There is a certain amount of interest in the Calgary meeting owing to the expectation that there both sides may try to come back at one another. Those familiar with the prairie situation are awaiting Hon. George Langley's appearance before the commission; for in some respects this may be as important as any incident on the whole prairie itinerary. The Tariff Commission loses weight in public sentiment through the realization that not it but the Government really makes the decisions.

Turgeon on Tariff

The recent addresses of Hon. Alphonse Turgeon on the tariff issue have aroused curiosity in some quarters, there being an impression that it foreshadows his entrance into Federal politics. Nothing is now said about Premier Martin coming East. His name having been so prominently mentioned in connection with the Liberal leadership, it cannot now be suggested for a minor position; but not so with Turgeon. As a lieutenant he would fit in well. He undoubtedly would be a success in Parliament, there being a splendid opening for men of his age and ability. Indeed, it is possible that he might go further than Martin.

The New Brunswick provincial elections will be held within ten days, but little or no interest is manifested in them here. The campaign is of so short duration that the impression prevails that Premier Foster deemed it advisable to get the operation over as soon as possible, the sooner the better. There is dissension in the Government ranks and there is dissension also in the ranks of the opposition. The latter have followed the dangerous practice of swapping horses while crossing the political stream, still the change cannot possibly make the situation any worse for the Conservatives. Opinion is that the Government will be sustained; but there is a lot of shifting sand in New Brunswick politics.

At present Ottawa is more keenly interested in the Manitoba situation than in any other provincial one. From a distance it looks like a coalition or else a defeat for the Norris Government. A coalition would, it is thought, place Norris pretty much along side the Meighen administration; for rumor has it that he does not take kindly to Mackenzie King. But the Government has to exercise extreme care in its attitude towards Manitoba politics, there being a remnant of old time Manitoba Conservatives to whom Norris is an athema, and it would hardly do to annoy them.

Ontario Conservatives have to choose a new leader, Hon. Howard Ferguson, who has been acting in a temporary capacity having announced that he is not in the running for the permanent position. General Ross, of Kingston, is being spoken of as a possibility; but it would seem likely that Toronto will have quite a finger in the pie. Drury is getting quite a little Conservative support. His play-safe policy on hydro-radials appeals strongly to the class that naturally votes Conservative.

Behind the Scenes

It is not generally known how near Sir Adam Beck came to being the leader of the Farmers' party last Fall, and thus premier of Ontario. He was within a hair's breadth of it. His name had actually been placed before the caucus, and had a vote been taken there and then he no doubt would have been chosen. But an important element in the ranks of the Farmers felt that if he were the leader it would be a Beck rather than a Farmers' party; a strong plea was made for a week's delay, which was granted. The opposition to Beck was thus given time to develop, and by the time the caucus reassembled Beck had no more chance than Hartley Dewart would have had. But it was a close thing, all right.

Two Speaking Tours

The prairies may see both the Prime Minister and the leader of the opposition in October. Mackenzie King is a certainty, having begun his tour. The visit of the Prime Minister now seems to be more certain. His, however, can only be a flying visit; for with the session coming on in January there is much to engage his attention at Ottawa. He has set for himself a very fast pace, and so far has stood it well; but there is a fear that he may over do it. Still the strain today is much less than it was during the war period. But even in the most peaceful times the position of Prime Minister is never a sinecure.

The success of the luxury and sales taxes has taken a load from off the back of the Government. At one time the raising of the revenue to meet the greatly increased expenditure threatened to become a bugbear to the government; but any such idea has been dispelled. Not only is the revenue today almost three times what it was in the pre-war days; but there is every prospect of it remaining large and indeed, increasing. Today there are not many clouds in Canada's financial sky. The big Western crop has dispelled them.

TO RELEASE CREDITS FOR THE RETURN OF AUSTRIAN PRISONERS

Vienna, Sept. 30.—Austria's promise to amend her treaty with the Russian soviets so as to conform with the peace treaty with the Allies has evoked from British and French representatives the announcement that their governments would release credits for the return of Austrian war-prisoners, which were held up recently.

MORE BALL PLAYERS MAY BE INDICTED

Chicago, Sept. 30. — Investigation of the world's series scandal, was temporarily delayed today until the return from New York of Maclay Hoyne, State Attorney. Indictments, it is said, may be brought against three more ball players and six or seven gamblers.

M'GREGOR'S CAR RECOVERED AT DEVIL'S LAKE, N.D.

Thieves Abandoned Car and Did Not Return to It, Sheriff Waited

AUTO NOT DAMAGED

Police Net Recovers Car and There Are Hopes That Thieves Will Be Taken

The net spread by the local police in an effort to locate the McLaughlin auto owned by J. Hilton McGregor, and stolen from the Western Motor garage, Tuesday morning, was successful in locating the car but not the thieves. Information was received in Brandon Wednesday afternoon that the car which was stolen from here in the early hours of Tuesday morning had been located at Devil's Lake, North Dakota, and is being held there pending the arrival of a Brandon representative. The car is not damaged in any way, according to the report, be ing in good running condition when seized by the authorities. A trap laid for the thieves proved unsuccessful, and up to the present time no arrests have been made. The police here are confident that the guilty parties will be arrested shortly, as they have several good clues to follow now.

News of the recovery of the car came over the long distance phone from Devil's Lake on Wednesday afternoon. The alertness of a motor cycle constable near Grand Forks resulted in the big McLaughlin car being sighted Tuesday afternoon. He at once tried to get into communication with the authorities at Devil's Lake but it was some time before he was able to do so. By the time the Sheriff at Devil's Lake had received the information, the car and its occupants had arrived in the town, and the thieves had deserted the car, apparently just to do some shopping. The Sheriff and his assistants did not immediately seize the car, but went in hiding, and awaited the return of the car drivers. Their wait was a long one, extending all Tuesday night and Wednesday morning, and during that time the thieves did not put in an appearance. It it supposed that they got wind of the authorities' suspicions and deserted the car. When the men did not re-appear, the Sheriff seized the auto and immediately got into communication with the Brandon Police. Although no definite word has been received from the North Dakota officials regarding the whereabouts of the men who were with the car, it is anticipated that they will be rounded up shortly.

To Bring Auto Back

Mr. George Nearing left this morning to bring the car back. It is stated that there is nothing wrong with the car, it being undamaged in any way when recovered at Devil's Lake. In the meantime the Brandon police are following a clue which they think will lead to the arrest of the parties responsible for the attempted theft of the furs and the theft of the car. They have succeeded in ascertaining the name of one individual, but his whereabouts is giving the authorities some trouble. His arrest may throw a lot of light on the series of carefully-planned attempts which took place here Tuesday morning.

It is now reported that the thieves operated in Virden the evening before, and made away with some cash, although their haul was said to be small. Three places of business were broken into, but in each case practically all of the cash had been removed before the store was closed that evening, and the thieves therefore got little for their efforts.

DECLINES IN PRICES ALREADY NOTED, FIRST OF DOWNWARD TREND

Ottawa, Sept. 30.—Further declines in the cost of living throughout Canada are to be expected. A statement from the Labor Department says that declines in prices already noted, appear to be the beginning of a downward movement toward pre-war levels.

RAILWAY RATE APPEAL TO THE GOVERNMENT

Closed Thursday Night With Presentation of Arguments by Counsel

CORPORATION LAWYERS

Present Their Case—Premier Promises Due Consideration by Government

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—Hearing by the Government of the appeal from the decision of the Railway Board granting increased railway rates was closed Thursday after two days of argument before Prime Minister Meighen and several of his colleagues.

The Prime Minister stated that due consideration would be given to the representations made, both in support of the appeal and in defence of the rates judgment. He remarked that many of the matters discussed before the ministers were such as could only be determined by a properly constituted tribunal such as the Railway Commission. Unless the Government proposed to reverse the decision of the Board it would be necessary for it to confine itself to the question of whether or not a policy has been adopted which is repugnant to the public policy. Should it appear that an error had been made by the Board a reference back to that body would be appropriate. However, much matter had been brought forward which could receive the consideration of the Government and a decision would be given as soon as possible.

Reply to Railway Counsel

During the afternoon, counsel for the railways, including W. C. Chisholm, for the Grand Trunk system, and F. H. Chrysler, for the Canadian Railway Association, closed their arguments. Then counsel representing the appellants were allowed to reply. H. J. Symington, counsel for the Manitoba Government, J. B. Coyne, counsel for the Winnipeg Board of Trade, G. R. Geary, representing the corporation of Toronto, and D'Arcy Scott, counsel for the Saskatchewan Government being heard. They emphasized their former arguments and dealt at some length with new matters brought into the case by the representatives of the railways.

The closing argument in support of the appeal, was made by Mayor Thomas Church, of Toronto, who declared that the nOtario Government is so busy administering the O.T.A. and other matters in which it is concerned, that it has no time to attend to the interests of the people.

Ontario Disappointed

The people of Ontario, he said, were disappointed with the C.P.R., a railway, which, during the war, had been patriotic. They thought this company might well continue its patriotism for another year and not seek an increase in rates.

Mr. Church maintained that no province has been treated so badly as Ontario in regard to railway rates, although that province had borne the brunt of the railway burden. Ontario had been discriminated against in the matter of short haul rates.

"The working people of Toronto," said Mr. Church, "are almost in rebellion about these things, and business men say the new rates will paralyze industrial life."

W. N. Tilley, counsel for the C.P.R. referred to the order of the Railway Commission increasing the rate on export traffic from the ports of Montreal, Quebec, St. John and Halifax, exception to which was taken by Mr. Symington. There was no intention or desire to discriminate against the West. The order did not apply to the Western haul, but only to that territory East of Fort William.

C.N.R. a Normal Railway

G. F. McDonald, counsel for the Canadian National Railways, stated that the Canadian National Railways were not able to pay operating expenses even at the increased rates which had gone into effect. The C.P.R., he said, was practically the only railway which had pulled through the war without Government assistance, and if the railways were allowed a rate only sufficient to carry the C.P.R. along, a great many other railways besides the C.N.R. would suffer. He was not suggesting for a minute that the C.N.R. should be allowed a rate which would permit it to pay its deficit, but he thought that every normal railway in Canada should be considered in the rate increase, and he proposed to show that the C.N.R. was a normal railway.

The services of the C.N.R., said Mr. McDonald, compared favorably with that of any other Canadian railway It could not be classed as a road which had been built for colonizing purposes. It was reasonably located, and the only thing that prevented its paying operating expenses was the increase in wages and material costs. The wage increases were, in some cases, 20 per cent. over those prevailing in 1915. The increases in material costs were around 100 per cent.

The Prime Minister asked Mr. McDonald whether he thought that the rates should be increased even though the Government should decide that the C.P.R. was not entitled to an increase.

Can Prevent Excessive Surpluses

Mr. McDonald replied that, if it was decided that the C.P.R. would be enabled to pile up reasonably large surpluses by reason of the increased rates, the Government had the remedy in its own hands. It could take back whatever it desired through taxation. A rate which would not permit a railway to pay its wages and material costs was not a fair rate, he argued.

W. C. Chisholm, representing the Grand Trunk Railway, said failure on the part of the Railway Board to allow reasonable rates could only result harmfully to the railways.

That a railway company is entitled to whatever profits are involved in working under rates, that are fair and reasonable was the crux of the argument advanced by W. N. Tilley, K.C., chief counsel for the C.P.R. in opposing the request for a reversal of the decision of the railway board by the governor-in-council in the railway rates case being argued before the prime minister and his colleagues. Mr. Tilley commenced his argument promptly at 10 o'clock and it is expected that counsel for the railways will conclude today and the hearing be brought to a close.

So far as Canada is concerned, Mr. Tilley maintained, this general principle had been established by the railway commission in the rail-Western rates case. In that case the matter of the C.P.R. surplus had been introduced and the board had decided that: "The question for us to decide is what rates are fair, irrespective of what the surplus is."

"The deficits incurred by other lines of railway," said Mr. Tilley, referring to the government system, "are no more material to this question than our surplus is."

Dealing with the operations of the company during 1917 under "fair and reasonable rates," Mr. Tilley stated that the surplus for the year was $12,420,916. The return was only 5,473 on the actual cash investment of $828,221,711, which was $200,000,000 less than all capital issues, while the surplus was only 1.52 on the total investment.

Reply to a question by Sir James Lougheed, Mr. Tilley expressed the view that it should represent half the current value of money. In other words if the current value of money is 7 per cent. the surplus should be 3 1-2 per cent. on the investment.

To the argument that the rates were discriminatory against the West inasmuch as the increase came during the last four months of the year when the crop movement was heaviest, Mr. Tilley answered that a portion of the increase was necessitated by the demands of labor. The railways had been threatened by a general strike unless wage increases were granted. The railway companies said that it was most important, in view of the crop movement, to keep their employes at work in order to avoid any tie-up of this movement. But it might fairly be argued that the traffic which necessitated the increased wages should pay the increased cost.

Right. Hon. Arthur Meighen dissentedt o this argument. The increased rates should be spread over the whole country insofar as possible, he said. It would be unfair to penalize any section of the country just because the traffic movement was heavier in that section.

Mr. Tilley asserted that the statement of the Chief Commissioner in his judment that Western rates are from 15 to 18 per cent. higher than Eastern was merely a guess and put forward as a justification of the action of the Board in making the Western increase five per cent. less than the Eastern. He quoted figures to show that present gross earnings per mile in the East are $19,173 as compared with $12,405 in the West.

He estimated that with the new rates effective Western gross earnings will be $15,129 per miles as against $23,894 in the East.

Mr. Tilley asked the Ministers to allow the judgment to stand. A flat increase was desirable, he said, because if conditions became normal it could be more easily removed. The Board, he said, had proceeded in the right way in asking the railways to send in monthly statements so that it could be conversant with the situation at all times, and tlso in saying that the whole thing would come to an end in 1922.

BRITISH CABINET HEARS COMMANDER FORCES IN IRELAND

Tell of Conditions in That Island —Irish Constabulary Warned Against Reprisals

SINN FEIN LEADER

Arthur Griffith Charges That Reprisals Are Calculated Policy

London, Oct. 1. — Members of the British Cabinet met today to discuss the situation in Ireland and learn from General MacCready, Commander of the Military Forces there, details of conditions on the island. It is considered likely that the Cabinet would request an explanation from the commander of the recent interview which has been interpreted by the newspapers as condoning reprisals by the "Black and Tan" police. Several journals maintain that if the Government's policy does not coincide with that of MacCready, he should be recalled.

Warns Against Reprisals

Dublin, Oct. 1.—Warning against reprisals, no matter what the provocation was, was given the Royal Irish Constabulary today by Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, in a speech on the occasion of the distribution of medals. He dwelt upon the provocation which had been given the police with 103 of their number murdered and 170 wounded, but declared no reprisals could be countenanced by the authorities.

Says Reprisals Calculated Policy

Dublin, Oct. 1.—Charges that reprisals in Ireland were the calculated policy of the Government; that occasion for them was often afforded by the provocation of agents, and that a plot exists for the assassination of the Irish Republican leaders, were made today by Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein organization. The charges were preferred in a long statement to British, United States and Continental newspapermen.

RADIO CONTROL OF BATTLESHIP IS GIVEN TEST

Found to be Highly Satisfactory By United States Officers

Washington, Oct. 1.—Tests of radio control installation on the old battleship Iowa, just concluded by the United States Navy Department off the Virginia Capes, were declared to have fulfilled the highest expectations of naval experts. The 12,000-ton battleship was navigated with precise accuracy, it was said, solely by means of radio waves, emanating from a control station on the battleship Ohio. The control was found thoroughly efficient up to a maximum distance of ten or 12 miles.

Plans are being made to use the Iowa in target practice for the United States Atlantic fleet. It will be the first time in naval history that a battleship moving under full speed has been used as a practice target. Guns of all bores and calibres will cut loose on the Iowa, which will be given the fair chance, however, of smoke screens and other simulated battle conditions. The practice probably will be held the latter part of this month.

ALBERTA MINE WORKERS MAY GO OUT ON STRIKE

United Mine Workers Demand an Increase of $1.50 a Day— O. B. U. Demands

Calgary, Alta., Oct. 1.—Alberta faces the most critical stage in the history of its mining operations. With the United Mine Workers demanding an increase in wages of $1.50 a day for the day wage men, and the O.B.U. ordering a strike to become effective over the entire province on Monday morning, in an effort to abolish the compulsory U.M.W. check-off, the situation is at a point where a move one way or the other means peace or war, and the coal operators do not minimize trouble.

The operators must grant the demands of the U.M.W. and thus strengthen the hands of that organization, the only miners' union officially recognized by the Government of Canada, or they will play directly into the hands of the One Big Union, resulting in the probability of thrusting many miners back into the ranks of that organization and thus making it possible for them to make a strike effective.

Senator Robertson is doing his best to bring the operators and the U.M.W. men to an agreement before the O.B.U. can get its forces into shape for a strike. He is going to Drumheller to look into the situation there.

Says, "Let 'Em Strike"

Calgary, Alta., Oct. 1.—Just before attending a conference with Alberta coal mine operators Thursday morning, Hon. Gideon Robertson, Minister of Labor, in the course of an interview with the Canadian Press, referred to a feature of the coal mining sitution which he intimated was entirely lost sight of by the O.B.U. element that threatens to call a strike.

"It may not be generally known," remarked the minister, "that during the first seven months of this year there was produced in the Alberta fields more than one million tons of coal in excess of the 1919 production, and that quite substantial reserves of both bituminous and lignite coal have been accumulated during the Summer months. The O.B.U. miners, therefore, who contemplate striking if they have been informed that there is a scarcity of coal and that immediate inconvenience would result from a discontinuance of production will find that they will be greatly mistaken."

Mr. Robertson further stated that adequate protection would be afforded to the miners desiring to continue work in fulfillment of their contract.

Speaking of the industrial situation in Canada today, the Minister in reply to a question, stated that conditions were more satisfactory than in any other country in the world that participated in the war. "We are, however, shortly to be faced with some unemployment," he said, "although I do not anticipate it will be nearly so serious as the Winter of 1914-15."

TO HOLD IMPERIAL CONFERENCE 1922

Dominions Want More Time to Study Certain Proposals— Prime Ministers to Meet

London, Oct. 1.—It is expected that the Imperial conference will be postponed until 1922, owing to the differences among the dominions on proposals for a departmental re-arrangement in London of Dominion affairs and Crown colony administration.

Canada has urged that more time should be afforded for consideration of these schemes, and this desire has prevailed. A conference of prime ministers, however, will be held next year, when the constitutional program for the Imperial conference will be formulated. In this connection the Morning Post intimates the probability of the inclusion in the Imperial conference of dominion opposition leaders and representatives of India and Egypt.

No date has yet been announced for the commencement of the flight.

MEMORIAL TO C.P.R. EMPLOYES PLACED IN DEPOT

Bears Suitable Inscription and a List of Chief Engagements

In the near future Brandon will have a new addition to its memorials of war. This will be a replica of a bronze tablet which the Canadian Pacific Railway is placing in its larger stations throughout the Dominion. These tablets are designed by Mr. Archibald Pearce, of the Chief Engineer's Department of the Company. The tablet depicts an advancing army of infantry, cavalry, artillery, supplies, munitions, tanks and railway transport, flanked on either side by a warship and a C.P.O.S. liner with airplanes flying overhead. Britannia calls with outstretched hands to the Overseas Dominions and points to the road to death and glory. Underneath is a scroll with the list of the chief battles on which the C.P.R. men fell. The inscription commemorates:

"Those in the service of the C.P.R. who, at the call of King and Country, left all that was dear to them, endured hardship, faced danger, and finally passed out of sight of men by the path of duty and self-sacrifice, giving up their own lives that others might live in freedom. Let those who come after see to it that their names are not forgotten."

Out of 11,602 employes who were reported as having joined the forces, 1,096 paid the supreme sacrifice. These came from every rank of the company, from every department and they served by air, land and sea, faithful unto death.

In addition to the memorial tablets, statuary groups, the work of the well known Montreal sculptor, Cour de Lion MacCarthy, will be duplicated for the Canadian Pacific Railway station at Winnipeg, and the Windsor Street station, Montreal.

BRITISH SHIPBUILDING REGAINS ITS PRE-WAR SUPREMACY, IS REPORT

London, Oct. 1.—That the British shipbuilding industry has regained its pre-war supremacy in shown by the returns of the Lloyd's Register of Shipping for the second quarter of 1920. At the end of June there were 941 vessels aggregating 3,578,153 tons under construction in British shipyards, the highest figures on record. The future of the shipyards is considered rather uncertain because of the high cost of production in the face of falling freight rates and depreciation in the market value of vessels. Reports of cancellations are numerous, 76 large contracts for new tonnage having been cancelled during June.

BACKUS INTERESTS AND GOVERNMENT SIGN AGREEMENT

Company Gets Waterpower on Winnipeg River—To Build Mill at Kenora

Toronto, Oct. 1.—An agreement between the Ontario Government and Backus, of Minneapolis, Minn., regarding pulpwood limits and waterpower in the Lake of the Woods district, was signed Thursday afternoon, after weeks of negotiations. The Backus interests asked for the English River limits, but in order to get this concession they must enter into public competition.

The first step called for in the agreement is the erection of a mill at Kenora, and the development of the Lake of the Woods limits, which the Backus interests now hold. The Government grants to the Backus people a lease of the water power of White Dog rapids on the Winnipeg River, subject to "rentals, reservations and conditions."

Mr. Backus, who owns the Normal Dam at the outlet of the Lake of the Woods, which is regarded as an essential work for the regulation of the level of the Lake of the Woods, consents to submit to such regulations to this dam as may be imposed by the Minister of Lands and Forests.

The Government has made a stipulation with Mr. Backus that any portion of the newsprint product must be available for sale to Canadian publishers at the instruction of the Government. The amount is left open, but it is said that the Government could order 100 per cent. to Canadian publishers under the agreement.

TO BRING GOLD TO UNITED STATES

Shipments from London to New York to Commence Within a Short Time

New York, Oct. 1.—The Wall Street Journal reports that Federal Reserve banks have decided to bring to the United States the gold which is benig held at the Bank of England, London, earmarked for their account and reports that shipments will probably begin within a short time.

This gold was purchased in August, 1919, by the Federal Reserve banks from the United States Grain Corporation, which received it from Germany in payment of foodstuffs. In September and October, 1919, this gold was shipped from the Continent to the Bank of England, adn since its arrival there has been included among the reserves of the Federal Reserve banks appearing on their statements under the caption "Gold with Foreign Agencies."

At that time, the total value of the gold was $176,546,676, but this total has been reduced to $111,456,044 through sales of gold from time to time in moderate amounts to banks desiring to ship gold from the United States in settlement of trade balances. In recent months such sales have practically ceased, the paper says, and it has now been decided to bring the gold to New York.

NAVY DIRIGIBLE CRASHES INTO A MOUNTAIN PEAK

But Members of Crew Escape With Slight Injuries—Fog Causes Crash

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 1.—The navy dirigible C-6 crashed into Laurel Canyon, near Hollywood, a Los Angeles suburb, Thursday. Four members of the crew were injured. The dirigible was lost in a dense fog.

The car was torn from the bag and the crew dropped 200 feet to the bottom of the canyon.

The dirigible was the largest of its kind on the Pacific coast. It was 200 feet long with a capacity of 172,000 cubic feet.

Chief Pilot Gordon McDonald, of San Diego, sustained severe injuries to both legs. Injuries of the other three were not believed serious. The fifth member of the crew escaped unscratched.

The four men hurt Thursday when the navy dirigible balloon C-6 crashed into a mountain peak were: Lieut. Gordon G. McDonald, 28, pilot, both ankles broken and badly bruised; Lieut. Junior Grade L. A. Pope, 25, back wrenched; Eugene Fry, 32, chief machinist mate, cuts and bruises; Ralph Hartman, chief quartermaster, cuts and bruises.

According to Lieut. McDonald, the dirigible left San Diego early Thursday morning and while proceeding at an elevation of about 1,800 feet encountered a fog. Because of the fog the crew became confused and gradually descended to sight landmarks.

Lieut. McDonald said he had recognized Hollywood and had then headed for San Pedro when the peak appeared so close by that the pilot was unable to gain elevation and clear it.

EXPRESS EARNEST DESIRE FOR RE-UNION CHURCHES

Earnest desire is expressed for re-union, but the suggestion is made that certain fundamental provisions in the bishops' report, to which the Free churches cannot assent, should be discussed with representatives of the Anglican church. Meanwhile the union of the Free churches themselves in Australia has reached a deadlock. The Presbyterian General Assembly of Australia has taken no action on a recent vote in favor of union with the Congregationalists and Methodists, which means shelving the question for two years.

TIME TO IMPROVE CURRENCY SYSTEM SEVERAL COUNTRIES

Not Possessing the Gold Standard —Advantages From Adopting Gold Standard

London, Sept. 17.—(By mail).—The times are propitious for improving the currency systems of those silver countries not possessing the gold standard, asserts Findlay Shirras, Director of Statistics in India, in a paper which has been issued by the League of Nations in connection with the International Financial Conference held at Brussels this month.

Mr. Shirras declares that the advantages of the adoption of the gold standard as a system of currency have been incontestably proved in the case of India, especially between the years 1898 and 1917.

The statistician points out that an agreement between governments regarding the purchase and sale of silver might lead to a steadying of the market and prevent speculation. "During the war," he says, "when the Allied Governments purchased silver jointly, competition was to a considerable extent, so far as the governments were concerned, restricted and the benefits of concerted action were clear."

He recalled that an American Commission on International Exchange in 1903 had pointed out that a steady demand on the part of the governments for the silver which they actually needed from year to year would tend to steady its price. He also recalled that a Mexican commission had suggested that the Bank of England and Bank of France act for their governments in making silver purchases.

Mr. Shirras ascribed the fluctuations in the price of silver in the last few years to a decline in production and a great demand for coinage owing to the war. Asia, he said, had enjoyed prosperity by exporting its products during the war and India and China had taken payment by importing precious metals, notably silver.

TO PLAN MENTORS TRAINING CLASS

At a Meeting at the Y.M.C.A. This Evening — Call is For Leadership

One hundred and fifty boys availed themselves of the swimming and gym privileges last week. The earlier part of the week was devoted to general gym work at which the respective Sunday Schools were well represented. On Friday evening the opening round of the season's competition commenced with a volley-ball game between the working boys of the Trail Ranger age. The gymnastic and athletic ability of the boys is gradually increasinig, and if continued with the same degree of enthusiasm should result in one hundred per cent. efficiency. At the end of this week, the points for the respective Sunday Schools are to be tabulated and submitted to Sunday School superintendents for announcement, so that each Sunday School might know where it stands in relation to the others.

Tonight the men who have been selected for mentorship from the Sunday Schools will meet at the Y at 7.00 o'clock to discuss plans for the immediate formation of a mentors (leaders) training class. Only as men interested in the welfare of the boy come forward and help in this Trail Ranger porgram, can it amount to anything in the life of the boy of Brandon.

Following this meeting the representative chosen by the Sunday Schools to represent them on the Advisory Committee in Boys Work, will meet to discuss plans for the advancement of the Trail Ranger program amongst the boys. The call is for leadership—and a full attendance is expected at both meetings.

POLICE ARREST FOREIGNER WITH SOME DYNAMITE

And Now Believe They Will Obtain Information on Wall Street Explosion

Pittsburg, Oct. 4.—Information obtained from Florene Zeleneka, Brooklyn, arrested here Sunday night with a quantity of dynamite in his possession, may lead to a solution of the Wall Street explosion, according to local police and government agents. The nature of the information is not divulged, but it is claimed that clues furnished by Zeleneka may lead to scores of arrests in Brooklyn and New York. He could furnish no good reason for having the explosives. His remarks on a train to an unidentified man, who called the police, brought about his arrest. Another remark attributed to him as he was placed in a cell was: "See what we did in Wall Street. Next time it will be bigger and more terrible. The last was only a start."

MEMORIAL SHAFT TO GRISWOLD MEN WHO DIED IN WAR

Marble Shaft Erected on a Solid Base of Cement in Centre of Town

A splendid memorial to the boys of the Griswold district who made the supreme sacrifice Overseas, has recently been unveiled in Griswold. The unveiling took place in the presence of almost a thousand people and was attended by practically every resident of the district for many miles around. The memorial unveiling and address was made by Col. Rattray, while Premier T. C. Norris attended as chairman of the service. A special memorial service was held the same evening and was a very impressive one, Rev. A. Birch and Rev. J. H. Shemilt conducting the service.

The memorial is erected in the centre of the village of Griswold. Two small platforms of cement form the base of the memorial, upon which a solid square of cement rises some seven feet. Upon this square a marble shaft is raised, while the four corners at the base of the shaft have each a large shell, giving the memorial a striking design. Upon the North side of the cement square, a bronze tablet bears the names of the sixteen boys of the Griswold district who were killed while serving overseas. The inscription on the tablet is as follows: "In memory of the men of Griswold and district who sacrificed their lives on the alter of liberty and freedom, in the Great European War, 1914-1918." Then follow the names of the men, Herbert Crampian, Augustus Cheesman, Stewart Cheesman, George Chandler, Carlyle Douglas, William Durston, Roland Donogh, David Graham, Frank Gudefin, Roger Humphries, Ivan Landon, Stanley Michie, Eric Milne, Gilbert Moore Earl Sager, John Taylor.

The unveiling ceremony was particularly impressive and one long to be remembered by the people of Griswold. After Premier T. C. Norris had given a call for silence, an invocatory prayer was made by Rev. A. Birch. Followed an address by the Premier, the singing of a hymn, and an address by Dr. H. E. Hicks. Col. J. G. Rattray then unveiled the memorial and gave a short address. The singing of a second hymn, an address by A. E. Hill and a prayer by Rev. J. H. Shemilt and the sounding of the "Last Post" brought the ceremony to an end.

PLANS TO DISBAND LARGE PART OF CHINESE ARMY

Another Reform Said to be Contemplated is Reduction of Government Officials

Pekin, Oct. 4.—Plans for disbandment of Chinese troops just announced call for the demobilization of the First and Third Divisions of the Frontier Defence Army (Little Hsu's command), and the 15th Division of the standing army, the unit which broke under attack by Wu Pei-fu's armies recently and retired upon the capital in disorder.

In addition, 50 per cent. of General Ma Liang's troops, stationed at Tsinan, three out of four mixed brigades of the North-west Defence army (Tuan Chi-jui's), besides two divisions and four brigades of General Chang Chin-Yao's Human troops are also slated for immediate disbandment. All the above were formerly Anfu troops.

During a second period, whose limits are not defined, it is proposed to reduce all provincial armies within the jurisdiction of the Government by 20 per cent.

A further reform which is said to be contemplated by the new cabinet is abolition of the principle which permits one official to hold concurrently several posts in the Government coupled with a general reduction in the personnel of all departments, which are at present overburdened with appointees. A competent authority expressed the opinion that this reform, if conscientiously carried out, would mean a reduction of 80 per cent. in personnel and approximately 60 in expense.

OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY WORK DISCONTINUED

Soldier Patients at Brandon General Hospital Are Greatly Disappointed

Occupational therapy work has been discontinued at the Brandon General Hospital, although efforts are being made to have it extended. This work has been conducted at the General Hospital for about a year and has been of untold benefit to the soldier patients, who are greatly disappointed at the closing of this department. Brandon people became acquainted with the work done at the hospital last Winter when the Teck Chapter I. O. D. E. put on a sale and tea in the Y. M. C. A. to help the soldiers dispose of their goods, and again when several stores exhibited similar articles. But the real display of the year was at the Provincial Exhibition held in July when many of the prizes awarded in the occupational therapy work went to soldier patients in the Brandon hospital. Many people interested are anxious that such a valuable work be continued for some time yet and strenuous efforts towards this end are being made.

Mother Twice Saved From Blood-Poison!

The unique power of Zam-Buk is well demonstrated by the case of Mrs. S. Cliff, of Melette, S.D. Here, once again, are facts which convincingly prove that pain, inflammation and blood-poison cannot withstand Zam-Buk's powerful antiseptic healing.

Mrs. Cliff, says, "I gashed my hand severely between the fingers with a piece of tin. The wound, though carefully tended to, somehow became infected and poisoned. I had doctor's treatment and used numerous prescribed remedies but the swelling and throbbing spread right up into the shoulder.

"Hearing splendid reports of Zam-Buk I determined to try it. So long as I live I shall remember the wonderful relief experienced the first time I used the balm. Under the cooling and soothing influence of Zam-Buk, pain disappeared, the swelling reduced rapidly and I was at last able to sleep.

"Day by day there was vast improvementand, when every trace of inflammation and poisonous matter had been drawn out of the wound by Zam-Buk, perfect healing resulted.

PROHIBITION IS CAUSE OF JAILS BEING CLOSED

Prison Population in Ontario is Reduced by Fifty Per Cent.

Toronto, Oct. 4.—As a result of prohibition in the province of Ontario, three of the seven provincial jails have been closed and the prison population reduced from 1,970 to about 1,000, according to Brigadier W. H. Fraser, of the Salvation Army here, in an interview. The three institutions closed were the old Central prison here, the jail at Guelph and the jail at Whitby.

"Before prohibition, we had a soup kitchen, but we don't have to keep one going now," Brigadier Fraser said. "Before prohibition, I used to have sixty or seventy persons lined up at my office door seeking relief. There is none of that now."

According to Salvation Army officers here, the increase in the number of "dope" victims is not largely due to the lack of liquor, but to the state of returned soldiers, who had been given drugs when sick or wounded and had a craving for the stuff after their recovery.

SMUTS APPEALS FOR FORMATION OF NEW PARTY

Whose Aim Sha llBe Against Revolution—Re-union of Parties Impossible

London, Oct. 4.—Cape Town cables report that General the Rht. Hon. J. C. Smuts, Prime Minister and Minister of Native Affairs and Defence, of South Africa, is convinced after recent conferences that a re-union of the South African and Nationalist parties is impossible and is appealing for the formation of a moderate party of both races, whose aim shall be against revolution, violation of the constitution and lawlessness in any form.

Unionists enthusiastically support the movement, and there is every prospect of their amalgamation with the South African party.

HEIR APPARENT ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Constantinople, Oct. 4. — It became known Sunday that Abdul Mejid, heir-apparent to the Turkish throne, attempted to commit suicide Thursday night by trying to swallow poison. A man-servant dashed the bottle to the floor before its contents reached his lips. Mejid previously had written a sealed letter to the Sultan.

The heir-apparent is said to have been nervous from his enforced seclusion and inability to go to the Angora front, where regular Turkish forces are fighting the Nationals.

The aim at suicide is believed to have been due to despair over his country's future.

CANADIAN INDIANS ARE PROSPEROUS

Ottawa, Oct. 4.—The approach of Winter finds the Indians of Canada in a flourishing condition and well provided with food and money, according to D. C. Scott, Deputy Superintendent General of Indian Affairs, who has returned from a visit to several of the reserves in British Columbia and the Prairie Provinces. The Indian farmers in the West have all had good crops this year, Mr. Scott stated to the Canadian Press, and those who make their living by fishing and hunting profited by the high prices of fur last Winter to such an extent that they are not worrying as to the possibility of lower prices this year.

NO BRANCH SCHOOLS—ANNUAL ENROLLMENT EXCEEDS 2,500 STUDENTS

Winnipeg Man. The Success BUSINESS COLLEGE LTD.

To the Theatre Goers of Western Canada:

I make the most interesting announcement I have ever made in my career as a theatrical manager.

I believe the information contained in the following statement will be read with intense interest by all who value the best and most artistic in the world of amusement.

I have always faithfully endeavored to bring to my patrons, the biggest and the best theatrical attractions of all times, for I know that only the biggest and the best appeal.

Now I am happy and proud to announce that I have contracted with F. Ray Comstock and Morris Gest, producers of the world-famous "Chu Chin Chow," whereby that brilliant and gorgeous spectacle of ancient Bagdad, the world's most beautiful production, will appear at the Walker Theatre, Winnipeg, Manitoba, week commencing Monday Evening October 18th.

"Chu Chin Chow" is a gigantic and gorgeous musical extravaganza, in fourteen scenes, with eighteen musical numbers, produced on a scale of colossal grandeur, employing the services of 300 people. It was originally presented in London at His Majesty's Theatre, nearly five years ago by Oscar Asche, in association with the late Sir Herbert Tree, and is still playing there to capacity.

The American production of "Chu Chin Chow" was made by Messrs. Comstock and Gest, after the payment of the biggest royalty ever known in the theatrical world, in New York more than two years ago, the scenery and costumes being imported from England and being exact duplicates of the originals.

"Chu Chin Chow" ran one entire season in New York at the Century Theatre, and then played an entire season in Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, and several other big cities.

This great production, once more presented in New York at the Century Theatre, in August, for a return engagement, and now embellished with many additional scenes and new costumes, comes here direct from its second engagement on Broadway.

Owing to intense interest in the engagement, MAIL ORDERS for this important theatrical event will now be received. Send remittance with self-addressed stamped envelope for return of tickets, and as there will unquestionably be an avalanche of mail orders, please name choice of two performances to ensure getting seats.

Prices—Nights: $1.00, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 and $3.50. Saturday Matinee: $1.00, $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00. Wednesday Matinee: $1.00, $2.00 and $2.50.

I believe the engagement of "Chu Chin Chow" will be the most notable event ever known at this theatre.

E. H. BENSON, Manager, Walker Theatre, Winnipeg, Man.

MARKETS

Receipts today are 3900 cattle, 355 hogs, 810 sheep.

This past week has been the worst that the cattle market at all the most important points on the North American continent has had since before the war, prices on all classes have gone smash and from the way things look at present they will go lower before they have a reaction. Talk everywhere is pre-war prices and while everyone interested in the cattle business thought the decline a week ago was just a flash it certainly does not look any too good at the present. Last week there were cattle sold that lost the shippers enormous sums of money, one shipper off this market to St. Paul lost between nine and ten thousand dollars on about twenty loads. This is just to show the difference between the South markets and ours. We are quoting for this week choice steers at from 8.25 to 9.25 with choice females from seven to eight cents. The real common cattle are selling about steady canners bringing around 4.00 with cutters around 4.50. Stockers and feeders are very low prices ranging from 5.00 to 7.00 with few extra good ones going around 8.00.

Hogs sold as high as 22.50 this last week the bulk bringing around 21.50 and the prospects are for a steady market at 21.00 this week.

Fair run of sheep and lambs, sheep bringing from 6.00 to 7.00 and lambs from 10.00 to 11.00.

It is most important to get a Health Certificate for all cattle coming into this market.

PLAN TRAFALGAR DAY DRIVE FOR NAVY LEAGUE

Brandon Committee Undertakes Canvass of City to Secure $3,000

SPEAKERS IN CHURCHES

On Sunday to Acquaint People With the Objects of League

Trafalgar Day, Oct. 21st, has been selected as the date for the holding of the drive in Brandon to secure $3,000 for the Navy League of Canada. This was the decision of the special committee appointed Monday morning and which held its first session on Monday evening. The committee went into all the plans for the successful carrying out of the campaign, and believe that the drive should even exceed the objective set for this city.

Arrangements are now being made whereby speakers will address audiences in the churches on Sunday, and acquaint the general public with the objects of the drive. In the plan devised for canvassing the city, it is being arranged to have the Daughters of the Empire make a house to house canvass of the residential districts of the city, while teams of citizens will look after the business sections of Brandon.

In order to have all the members of the committees acquainted with the subjects and plans, a luncheon is being planned for Tuesday noon, Oct. 19th. Mr. R. C. Macdonnell has been appointed secretary of the special committee in connection with the Navy League drive.

FIVE MENNONITE FAMILIES FINED A THIRD TIME

Refuse to Send Children to School —Trouble With Less Than 5 Per Cent.

Winnipeg, Oct. 12.—Prediction that five Mennonite families fined at Winkler, Man., Saturday for not sending their children to school would continue to break the School Attendance Act is made by members of the Department of Education.

"The Mennonites appear determined not to obey the school laws," it was said. "They declare it is against the law of God to attend Manitoba public schools."

Fines of $20 and costs were imposed Saturday on Jacob Unger, Cornelius Peters, Peter Goertzen and Peter Letkemann, by Magistrate Charles C. Milne, of Morden, in Winkler police court. All pleaded guilty, alleging religious conviction as a defence. In each case this was the third conviction under the School Attendance Act.

Less than five per cent. of Manitoba's Mennonites refuse to send their children to school, E. H. Deward, Provincial School Attendance Superintendent, said. J. F. Greenway, Department representative, who returned Saturday from Altona and Winkler districts, said attendance was improving.

HUNDRED PERSONS ASK THAT NAMES BE ADDED TO THE LISTS

One hundred and one persons appeared before the Court of Revision which sat in the Court House last week and made application to have their names added to the Provincial Voters list. This is considered quite a large number to appear before the Court of Revision, and is reported to bea new mark for Brandon. Of the number who appeared before the Court, thirty-five were women. The greatest number of applications were received during the closing days of the Court of Revision sittings, when fully half of the total number of applications made, came before His Honor Judge Cumberland seeking the last opportunity to register on the Provincial voters list.

CLEVELAND WINS WORLD'S BALL CHAMPIONSHIP

Defeat Brooklyn Team Today for Fourth Successive Time—Coveleski Hurls Team to Brilliant Win, Shutting Out Dodgers 3-0—Cleveland Wins Series by Five Games to Two

SCORE BY INNINGS:

		R.	H.	E.
Brooklyn	000000000—0	5	2
Cleveland	00011001x—3	7	3

BATTERIES—Brooklyn, Grimes, Mamaux and Miller, Kreuger; Cleveland, Coveleski and O'Neill.

Cleveland, Oct. 12.—Tris Speaker's walloping tribe of Indians can now add the title of world's champions to their American League pennant honors. They annexed the premier baseball honors of the world by defeating Brooklyn today for the fourth consecutive time, and Stanley Coveleski had the honor of having a shut-out game. Incidentally it was the third win for the big spitball twirler in the world's series, and it was his masterly pitching that carried the Cleveland team to their championship.

Today's battle was another close argument. Grimes pitched good ball, but his team mates could not connect with Coveleski's spitter, and the case was a hopeless one. The Cleveland team secured their hits when they meant runs, Tris Speaker coming through with the feature smash of the game when he slammed a three-bagger against the exit gate in the fifth inning.

First Inning

Brooklyn—Olson popped to Gardner, hitting the first ball pitched. Sheehan fell down hitting at the ball. Sheehan flied out to Jamieson. Johnston tossed Griffith's grounder to Coveleski who failed to touch the bag. Wheat sent a high fly to Wamby. No runs, no hits, one error.

Cleveland—Jamieson went out at first to Konetchy unassisted. Wamby flied out to Wheat. Speaker popped out to Sheehan. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second Inning

Brooklyn—Sewell threw out Myres at first. Gardner threw out Konetchy at first. Kilduff went out at first, Sewell to Johnston. Sewell made a nice stop and a pretty throw. No runs, no hits no errors.

Cleveland—Kilduff threw out Smith at first on a pretty play, taking the ball behind the box and making a snappy throw. Sheehan took Gardner's grounder and threw over Konetchy's head. Gardner held first, while the Clevelanders claimed that he was entitled to second on the overthrow. Umpire O'Day allowed the claim and Gardner went to second. Johnston walked. Sewell lined out to Griffith. Gardner held second. Kilduff threw out o'Neill at first. No runs, no hits, one error.

Third Inning

Brooklyn—Miller fanned, the third strike being a drop ball which he failed to go after. Grimes put a Texas leaguer back of short. Sewell mussed Olson's grounder and it went for an error. School Board Giving Consideration to Subject—Dr. Spiers to Report

DENTISTS OFFER HELP

Three Local Dentists Have Offered to Attend Clinic an Hour a Week

A dental clinic for Brandon public schools may be established shortly. The matter has again been discussed by the School Board and although no definite decision has been reached by that body, an inquiry has been commenced into the subject. Dr. Spiers has been delegated to inquire into the methods employed in the Winnipeg schools and then to make a report to the School Board at a later date. Dr. Spiers left for Winnipeg today.

It is stated now that three dentists have offered their services free to the School Board at the clinic, for one hour a week. That several other dentists may also offer their services for treatment of school children who are unable to pay for dental services, is also reported. It is proposed to use the Child Welfare Station as offices of the Clinic, if the plan is decided on by the School Board, and a grant of $300 has already been asked for to buy equipment. This grant has not passed the Board as yet, pending the report by Dr. Spiers.

RESULT OF COAL MINERS' VOTE IS UNCERTAIN

London, Oct. 12.—Though very few results of the miners ballot have been disclosed, it is quite probable that a total adverse result to accepting the last Government proposal will appear on Thursday. Nevertheless the opinion in many coal fields reveals feeling against a strike and the hope that the strike notices, which expires Saturday may be further suspended and negotiations continued.

NO CREDENCE IS GIVEN TO RUMOR

Ottawa. Oct. 12.—A report from the West that Hon. J. A. Calder, Minister of Immigration and Colonization, is shortly to drop out of the Government, is not generally credited here. It is pointed out by those who believe that Mr. Calder fully intends to remain in the Government that the Minister of Immigration is to accompany Prime Minister Meighen on his speaking tour of the West and that he would not be likely to do this were he seriously considering an early retirement from public life. Mr. Calder's recent trip abroad to familiarize himself with the work of his department overseas and to study matters relating to future movements of emigrants Canada-wards is taken here as another indication that he intends to remain in the Government.

MARKETS

This report given by Wood, Weiller & McCarthy, Ltd., of the Union Stock Yards, St. Boniface, Man., under date of Oct. 11th.

Receipts today 2600 cattle, 345 hogs, 300 sheep.

The market conditions here have changed considerably since our last report and we are pleased to say that trading has been better and that the prospects are for a good trade the balance of the week. Both Chicago and St. Paul report big runs to-day and slightly lower markets but they expect prices to come back tomorrow and we do not think the drop will hurt us here. Eastern buyers are a big asset here at the present time, buying and shipping large numbers of cattle to the Eastern Abbottoirs and feeders. The usual fall demand from the South for our feeders has not come yet but is expected shortly this will absorb a large part of our receipts and help to keep the market steadier. We quote for this week the top steers from 9.50 to 10.50 with the top females from seven to eight cents and the bulk of the females from six fifty to seven fifty, top feeders from eight to nine cents and bulk from seven fifty to eight fifty. There are large numbers of the common feeders coming and selling from 5.00 to 6.00, these are good weight cattle but poor in flesh and quality.

Sheep and Lambs selling about steady with last week's prices.

It is most important to get a Health Certificate for all cattle coming to this market.

CIVILIANS BURNT MILITARY LORRY IN CORK STREET

One Soldier Killed, Two Civilians Shot in the Legs

LIST OF OFFENCES

Given Out by Dublin Castle—Few Prepetrators Even Apprehended

Cork, Oct. 8.—Civilians bombed a military lorry which passed through Barrack Street this morning. One soldier was killed and three dangerously wounded. Two soldiers on the lorry who escaped without injury opened fire on the attackers. The street was filled at the time with people proceeding to work. Two men and a woman were shot in the legs.

List of Offences Published

Dublin, Oct. 8. — Dublin Castle has given out a list of outstanding "offences" from Jan. 1 to the week ending Oct. 2. It was accompanied by the statement that it was "a significant fact that for all the murders and shootings of policemen, the number of perpetrators apprehended could be counted on the fingers of one hand.

"In this fact," the statement adds, "might be found the motive for reprisals. The authorities cannot get the men responsible, or, if they do, they get off through hunger striking or clemency of the Government. No one can be found to testify against them, either through intimidation or because of political sentiment. Therefore, many of the police feel that drumhead justice is the only way to deal with them."

The list of offences follows:

"Court houses destroyed, 63; Royal Irish Constabulary barracks destroyed, 504; Royal Irish Constabulary barracks damaged, 168; raids on mails, 646; raids on coastguards stations and lighthouses, 38.

"Raids for arms reported, 4,075 (many of these raids do not come to the knowledge of the police); police killed, 109; police wounded, 174; soldiers killed, 16; soldiers wounded, 61; civilians killed, 27. These figures do not include the casualties in the Ulster riots in July and September."

Coincident with this announcement the Sinn Fein Bulletin publishes the details of attacks on 58 police barracks up to Sept. 30, of which, it is stated, 12 were captured and two destroyed during fighting, while 44 successfully resisted attacks. In the 12 barracks captured 81 police were made prisoner, disarmed and subsequntly releasd without injury.

"Seven men alleged to have taken part in the attack." the bulletin conues, "were captured, tried by court martial, and sentenced to long terms of penal servitude."

The bulletin adds that in addition, two civilians were murdered as a reprisal and the town of Trim was burned. It asserts that the object of attacks on barracks was to secure arms for Ireland to defend herself.

Railways May be Stopped

Dublin, Oct. 8. — It is hinted in authorative quarters here that Ireland is faced with a further curtailment in railway operations and a possible cessation, or at least a severe curtailment, of all the postal and telegraph services. The correspondent understands that the Government's positions is accurately reflected in the following statement: "For more than three months the railway employes have refused to carry munitions or the military and police. The railways were taken over during the war under an act to ensure priority for Government use. Large sums were paid the Irish railways, which benefited both employes and shareholders, who are mostly Irshmen.

"But the Government has not received the priority for which it paid. In fact, it has been actually deprived, with two exceptions, of the use of the railways for its most urgent needs. Care hitherto has been taken to refrain from any action which would be likely to force an issue. It has been hoped that a way out might be found which would not involve the stoppage of railway facilities, but the time is coming when the Government may have to insist on its rights. The postal and telegraph services are in the same position, as a result of raids on the mails and the cutting of telegraph wires."

FIVE KILLED WHEN EXPLOSION WRECKS BRITISH TANKER

Blast Endangered Lives of 200 Workmen—Caused by Gasses

New York, Oct. 8.—Five men were killed, three others are missing and believed to have lost their lives, and more than a score injured Thursday afternoon in an explosion which wrecked a forward compartment of the British tanker, G. R. Crowe, of Toronto, undergoing repairs at a Brooklyn shipyard.

The blast, which endangered the lives of more than 200 workmen employed on the ship's deck, is believed to have been caused when gases from an empty oil tank were ignited by a blow torch. City detectives, representatives of the fire marshal's office and agents of the Department of Justice, however, began an immediate investigation.

Several workmen were trapped in the hold of the vessel, while scores of others were swept from the decks by the explosion. One man was thrown more than a hundred feet in the air, crashing to death through the iron roof of a nearby machine shop.

Two of the dead were beyond recognition. The majority of the wounded were burned and lacerated, but all are expected to live, it was stated at the hospitals.

Flames Easily Quenched

The blast, which blew one of the six tanks in the vessel through the deck, also carried away much of the forward superstructure and blew a hole in the starboard side. Flames which started from the explosion were easily extinguished by the several fire companies and a fire boat which were rushed to the scene, when it was feared that four nearby vessels were endangered.

Ambulances from Red Cross headquarters and all hospitals in Brooklyn were summoned, while police were rushed to aid in rescuing the injured, many of whom were jammed under wreckage by the force of the blast.

Rescuers Worked Fast

It was several minutes after the explosion before ladders could be found, but as soon as some were brought to the dock rescuers worked desperately to save their fellow workmen in the very bowels of the steel tanker. One by one, firemen shrouded their grim faces in gas masks and descended the ladders into the smoke-filled hold. Bodies were hauled up with ropes and the injured rushed to hospitals. When the bodies reached the deck the victims were bleeding from many cuts and their clothing in many cases had been blown to shreds. Firemen employed at the yard, first to reach the scene, went into the hold without masks and many of them were overcome.

According to T. Murphy, first officer of the Crowe, about 100 men were on the forward part of the vessel when the explosion came and nearly 200 more were working around her. No one was in the forward tank hold which blew up when workmen approached it with gas torches.

C. Starr, one of the workmen, had a miraculous escape. He was blown more than sixty feet and dropped on the roof of a shed uninjured, except for a few cuts and bruises.

Other Vessels Endangered

Fire apparatus raced to the scene when it was reported that five other steamers in the yard had been endangered by the explosion. The vessels are the Halied, Von Stueben, Franklin County, Henry Connolly and Osage.

The Warner-Quinlan Asphalt Company, agents of the Crowe, which is owned by the Montezuma Transportation Company of Toronto, said that the explosion occurred in one of the steamer's tanks.

The C. R. Crowe, a British steel steamer, of 2,946 tons gross register, 331 feet long, was built at Dundee, Scotland, in 1907 and rebuilt in 1910 at Collingwood, Ont.

KANSAS GOVERNOR WANTS PROBE INTO U. S. WHEAT PRICES

Which He Declares Speculators Are Forcing to Low Levels of Canada

Wichita, Kansas, Oct. 8.—Governor Henry J. Allen, of Kansas, has sent a telegram to President Wilson calling attention to the sudden decline in the price of wheat and the serious losses now confronting the farmers of this section of the country, and asked the President to take some action to provide relief.

Governor Allen recommended in his telegram a "searching investigation" of the operations of the Chicago board of trade, where, he said, speculators were trying to force the price of United States grown wheat down to the low levels of Canadian wheat. Since removal of the tariff restrictions, the telegram declared, Canadian wheat has sold at a lower price than the United States farmer can afford to accept.

BUSINESS MEN WARNED AGAINST ACTIVITIES OF SMOOTH CROOKS

Brandon business firms are being warned against the activities of certain parties soliciting funds for benevolent societies of railway unions. The Railway Association of Canada has issued a warning from their Western office at Winnipeg that a number of solicitors are canvassing business firms in the West for employe's unions, although the solicitors are not in any way connected with the unions. They suggest therefore that where there is any suspicion that the appeals are not genuine, that an application should be made to the nearest railway official, and every effort will be made to give the correct information on the subject.

A case of a man fraudulently misrepresenting a railway union came before a Brandon firm recently He appealed for funds, and a cheque for $25 was made out to him. Before the money was paid over however, the firm thought it advisable to look into the man's credentials, and finding that there was some doubt as to the genuine character of the object the solicitor was canvassing for, cancelled their subscription. The firm took the matter up with the railway authoritics, with the result that the man was later arrested at Calgary, and is reported now to have drawn a jail sentence. He was in no way connected with a railway union, and he was for a ficticious institution.

"The Jew has his defects; every race has its defects, and the Jew may have more, because he has suffered persecution all over the world. But we do say that the Jew has the right to hold his head as high as any man for what he has given to civilization."

None of the farmers calling assistance however are seeking men by the day, but want to hire them for the month, and even for as long as six months. A monthly wage of $80 and higher is being offered by the farmers, but there are few takers as yet. The explanation of this is that there are still a large number of men employed by the day working on threshing gangs, and until threshing is over, the Employment Bureau does not expect to place many men.

There is also an insistent call for men to work in the mines, and Manitoba may supply a large portion of the help wanted in the West. Last year when the labor situation was acute, many Manitobans went West and worker in the mines, and it is possible that another large batch of men will take jobs in the coal mines.

RESTORATION OF WHEAT CONTROL IS BEING URGED

Restoration of Board Has Not Been Considered by Cabinet Council

NECESSARY AUTHORITY

Possessed by Government Should Such Action Be Considered Advisable

Ottawa, Oct. 8. — Falling wheat prices are bringing communications to Ottawa urging the restoration of wheat control. It is not considered likely however, that the Government will decide to re-elect the Wheat Board although there is authority for such course should it be considered necessary. The decline in prices it is observed, is due to world conditions and not to the termination of the Wheat Board.

Restoration of control it is understood, has not so far been considered in the Cabinet Council.

AMPUTATE LEG IN ORDER TO GET MAN FROM WRECK

Motorman is Pinned Beneath Two Street Cars—Loses Both Legs

New York., Oct. 8. — Physicians, working with the aid of a flickering lantern, early today amputated the right leg of Henry Helms, motorman, in order to rescue him from the tangled wreckage of two street cars which telescoped in a collision that caused injuries to twenty other persons.

Helms, who was pinioned under a car when the physicians arrived, persuaded them to perform the operation without an anaesthetic in order to save time. Later, his other leg, badly mangled, was also removed at a hospital.

FUEL CONTROL TO BE SIMILAR TO THE 1918 SYSTEM

Provinces May Appoint Administrator or Board of Administrators

Ottawa, Oct. 8.—Details of the fuel control order show that the general plan for the coming Winter follows very closely on the lines of the scheme in effect throughout the Dominion during the coal shortage of the Winter of 1918. The order explicitly deals with municipal and provincial coal distribution besides outlining a policy to be enforced by both wholesale dealer and the consumer. Contravention of any sections of the oder will result in prosecutions and penalties. The policy set forth dealing with the provincial organization and licensing of dealers is that the government of each of the provinces of Canada may appoint a Provincial Fuel Administrator or Board of Administrators. The duties of the fuel administrators, subject to the orders of the board, is to supervise the distribution of all coal and other fuel imported into or made available within such province; to develop the demand for and supply of wood and other coal substitutes to the greatest possible extent, also to promote within the province the greatest development of any coal areas available. To issue orders to dealers, consumers and others within the province regarding the distribution and use of coal, and to license brokers and others desirous of engaging in the business of selling coal, are other powers conferred by the board.

WORLD'S SECRETARY OF THE W. C. T. U. VISITS BRANDON

Addresses Small, But Enthusiastic Audience on Forthcoming Referendum

A small but very enthusiastic audience greeted Miss Agness Slack, World's Secretary of the W.C.T.U., when she addressed a mass meeting in the City Hall, Thursday evening, on the forthcoming referendum. A. E. Smith, the second speaker of the evening, also gave a very interesting address on the referendum. His Worship, Mayor Dinsdale, presided at the meeting, and in introducing the speakers said he thought this one of the most important meetings held in the city for some time, and felt honored to have been chosen as chairman.

Miss Slack in her address emphasized the fact that if Canadian provinces pass the forthcoming referendum it will greatly assist Great Britain in securing prohibition. No country can stand alone; each must help the other, and although she thought trade conditions will force prohibition in Great Britain within the next few years, the passing of the referendum would help it, in Europe as well as Great Britain. Miss Slack cited statistics to show the enormous decrease in the number of jails since prohibition. At the conclusion of her address Miss Slack said she had come to Canada to thank the Canadian women for the part they had played in the war, and stated that it was a great moment for the Motherland when Canada came to her help.

Briefly, but in a very interesting manner, A. E. Smith traced the development of prohibition in Manitoba. He thought the McDonald Act was the basis of all Dominion Acts. The Province at the present time has control over the sale but not the manufacture or importation of liquor, the duel authority of which causes much [illegible]. As Mr. Smith, the Government of Manitoba will be the only agency that can import liquor. Mr. Smith emphasized that a large vote should be polled on October 25th so as to show the sentiment and public opinion of the people.

Mrs. A. C. Partridge moved a hearty vote of thanks to Miss Slack and Mr. Smith, which was seconded by J. A. Lousley.

GREAT MAJORITY BUSINESS FIRMS AGAINST CLOSING

Thirty-five Sign Declaration Favoring Remaining Open Three Want to Close

THURSDAY HALF-HOLIDAY

The Year Round Considered to Be Discrimination Against Brandon

The majority of Brandon merchants in the down town district are not in favor of closing their stores on Thursday afternoons the year round. This fact was ascertained on Thursday afternoon when Mr. W. E. Crawford, President of the Retail Merchants' Association of this city, took a petition around to some thirty-eight merchants in Brandon. Of this number, thirty-five expressed themselves as decidedly against closing their stores, and signed a petition not to close their stores Thursday afternoons as proposed. Only three were in favor of closing the stores for the half-holiday, according to Mr. Crawford, while seven merchants could not be reached Thursday.

The closing of retail stores in this city on Thursday afternoons the year around was passed at a meeting of the Retail Merchants' Association held in the City Council Chambers on October 1st. It was decided at that time to petition the Council for a by-law authorizing the enactment of a by-law providing for the closing of the stores on Thursday afternoons. Yesterday afternoon some of the stores in the city closed, but a far larger number remained open, and some confusion resulted. Mr. Crawford stated this morning that as a result of the petition being overwhelmingly in favor of keeping the stores open, the question would probably be dropped now and the stores kept open on Thursday as usual.

Mr. Crawford added that many Brandon merchants are in favor of closing on Thursday afternoons if a Provincial law is enacted making the closure on the one afternoon a week province-wide. To have Brandon stores closed and stores in all other Manitoba centres open on Thursday afternoons, would be to discriminate against local merchants, he said, and he believed the stand taken by the Brandon merchants in turning down the idea to close the stores on Thursday afternoons was rightly taken.

SAN FRANCISCO TOOK LID OFF FOR WEEK OF DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 8.—That the city of San Francisco took off the lid during the Democratic national convention and "treated" visitors to 40 gallons of whiskey was charged here by John S. Dunnigan, a city employe who claimed he superyised the distribution of the liquor.

According to Acting Mayor Ralph McLeran, there was no secret about the "lid" being off.

CANON SCOTT ASKS AN OPPORTUNITY FOR RETURNED MEN

Pleads With Canadian People Not to Forget Overseas Achievements

A NEW OUTLOOK

Long Lines of Men in the Trenches the Men That Saved Canada

A splendid reception was given the Rev. Canon Frederick Scott, C.M.G., D.S.O., M.V.O., Senior Chaplain of the First Division overseas, on his visit to Brandon on Wednesday. A warm welcome was given the distinguished soldier-chaplain in the City Hall, while later in the Great War Veterans rooms he was tendered an informal reception which was well attended. His Worship Mayor Dinsdale, General Kirkcaldy, Colonel Templeton, Dr. H. P. Whidden, M.P., and Rev. S. R. Hammond extended a welcome to the visitor at the City Hall meeting and spoke in glowing terms of the Canon's work overseas.

Although the Rev. Canon Scottt was billed to speak on "Canada's New Outlook" at the City Hall meeting, he touched very briefly on his subject but his address was nevertheless one of the most interesting ever heard in Brandon. There was quite a large sized crowd out to hear the famous Canadian chaplain, whose record overseas is well known to every returned man, and to Canadians in general. In a most direct and appealing way Canon Scott spoke for nearly two hours on his work with the boys at the Front and of the many thrilling, and amusing incidents that occurred during his four and one-half years service at the Front.

The speaker did not make an address but rather talked to his listeners, and told them in his own inimitable way of his experiences from Valcartier to France and back. The story of his enlistment, his difficulties in reaching France, and of his work among the boys in the first engagements of the war, held the audience spell-bound for nearly two hours. During the course of his narrative, Canon Scott mentioned that in practically the first engagement overseas he had met Dr. Templeton in a dressing station and he gave high praise to the work of the Brandon surgeon overseas. "Of all the men in the war who deserve credit for their work and endurance, the Medical Service should get the lion's share," said the speaker. He told of the thrilling charges made by the Canadians, and said that the charge of the Light Brigade is but a matter of history now.

"Today we stand in a different Canada. If Canada has found a new place among the nations of the world it is because of what the men did overseas, when they helped fight for the greatest institution in the world, the British Empire," declared the soldier-chaplain. The eyes of the world are on Canada today and there is a new outlook. The comradeship which characterized the fighting men overseas must be brought back into civil life, and he urged an equal opportunity for every man. The men who saved the nation, he said, came from the masses, and he pleaded for the people to give the returned men a welcome and not to forget their achievements overseas.

"Give them jobs for which they are fitted." Canon Scott urged. The huge majority of the men are men in the highest sense of the word. "It wasn't the millionaires who saved Canada, it was the long lines of men in the trenches. Away with everything selfish, and work for the making of Canada into one large family" concluded the noted chaplain.

The Rev. S. R. Hammond acted as chairman for the meeting, and on the platform with him were His Worship Mayor Dinsdale, General Kirkcaldy, Colonel Templeton, Major Blake and Captain A. F. Campbell. The Rev. Canon Scott was given a very warm welcome to the city by Mayor Dinsdale, who in a few well chosen words, handed the keys of the city to the noted guest, and eulogized his work overseas. The Rev. Mr. Hammond said Canon Scott was a great man because of what he has given, while General Kirkcaldy said the Canon's record overseas, spoke louder than any eulogies which might be spoken for Canon Scott.

A note of appreciation for the excellent talk of the evening was sounded by Dr. H. P. Whidden, M.P., following the address. In moving a vote of thanks to the speaker, Dr. Whidden said that Canon Scott had once been described as "a parson but a man in spite of that." Dr. Templeton seconded the motion in a few words.

During the evening, Mr. Douglas Macdonald sang and was brought back for an encore, his renditions being warmly applauded. Mrs. Norma Hughes-Scott also gave two beautiful numbers which were well received, Miss Ruth Morgan being an able accompanist.

SMITH PITCHES GREAT BALL AND BROOKLYN WINS

Southpaw Twirler of Winners Proves Too Fast for Cleveland Batters, and Brooklyn Makes it Two Out of Three—Score Was 2-1—Wheat Gets Three Hits

SCORE BY INNINGS:—

		R.	H.	E.
Cleveland	000100000	1	3	1
Brooklyn	20000000x	2	6	1

BATTERIES—Caldwell, Mails, Uhle and O'Neill, Nunamaker, Smith and Miller.

Brooklyn, Oct. 6. — Sherrod Smith, the star southpaw of the Brooklyn team, pitched wonderful ball against the Cleveland team this afternoon, with the result that the National League champions walked off the field with the third game of the World's Series. The final score was 2—1 for Brooklyn. Three hits was all that Tris Speaker's team could get off the offerings of Smith, and the Brooklyn portsider had little difficulty in setting down the American League champions. Had it not been for an error by Wheat, it is probable that Smith would have had a shutout.

Cleveland's lone counter came as the result of Wheat's error. Speaker made a long two-bagger, and in his efforts to field the ball cleanly, Wheat let it go through his legs, and Speaker made the circuit. The Brooklyn fielder made up for his error by singling safely three times, and proving the batting star of the third game.

Splendid defensive work on the part of the Brooklyn infield aided Smith in carrying his team to a win. Two opportune double plays chocked off Cleveland where the next game will be for the National League champions to one gained by the Cleveland team. The two teams jump now to Cleveland wheer the next game will be played on Saturday.

Caldwell, who took the mound in today's game for the losers, did not last a complete inning, Speaker taking him from the box when Brooklyn made their two counters. Mails twirled great ball while in the box, being taken out later in the game to make way for a pinch hitter.

First Innings

Cleveland—Smith broke a wide curve over the plate for the first strike, Olsen threw out Evans at first. Wamby walked. Smith tried to catch Wamby off first and nearly got him. Johnston threw out Speaker at first, Wamby going to second; it was a hit and run play. Olsen threw out Burns at first. No runs; no hits; no errors.

Brooklyn—Olsen walked, Calwell's curves breaking wide of the plate, Caldwell worked very slowly and deliberately. Johnston sacrified. O'Neill to Burns. Sewell fumbled Griffith's grounder and the batter was safe at first. Olsen going to third. Olsen scored on Wheat's single to left field, Griffith going to second. Griffith scored on Myer's single t right field, Wheat going to second. Speaker came into the diamond and sent Caldwell from the box. Mails went into the box for Cleveland. Konetchy flied to Wamby; Kilduff flied to Wood. 2 runs; 2 hits; one error.

Second Innings

Cleveland—Gardner got a long foul into left field which looked safe. Gardner sent a high fly out to Griffith and then sat down. Griffith robbed Wood of a long hit by a fine running catch. Sewell went out, Konetchy to Smith. No runs; no hits; no errors.

Brooklyn—The fans stood and applauded Griffith as he came off the field. Miller claimed the ball was high and wide, Miller walked. Smith hit into a double play; Mails took his pop fly and then tossed to Burns doubling Miller at first. Olsen singled into center picking the first ball pitched. Olsen went out stealing, O'Neill to Wamby. No runs; 1 hit; no errors.

Third Innings

Cleveland—O'Neill went out at first on a peculiar play. Konetchy to Kilduff to Smith. O'Neills grounder bounded off Konetchy's glove toward Kilduff who made a quick recovery. Mails flied out to Myers after having two balls called on him. Kilduff tossed out Evans at first. Manager Robinson patted Kilduff on the back for the fine play. No runs; not hits; no errors.

Brooklyn—Johnston went out, Wamby to Burns. Neis batted in place of Griffith. Sewell threw out Neis at first, the ball just beating the runner to the bag. Wheat got a texas leaguer over Sewell's head, his second hit of the game. Myers flied out to Sewell. No runs; 1 hit; no errors.

Fourth Innings

Cleveland—Neis went in to right field for Brooklyn. Olsen took Wamby's grounder back on the grass, made a quick recovery and threw him out at first. Speaker got a long hit which went through Wheat's legs and Speaker scored. It was a two base hit for Speaker and an error for Wheat Burns went out at first, Johnston to Konetchy. Olsen threw out Gardner at first. 1 run; 1 hit; 1 error.

Brooklyn—The home folks gave Wheat a cheer as he came to the bench as a note of encouragement. Konetchy strolled to first. Kilduff sacrificed, Mails to Burns. Miller flied out to Evans and Konetchy was nearly doubled at second. Smith grounded out to Burns unassisted. No runs; no hits; no errors.

Fifth Innings

Cleveland—Wood struck out, falling victim to Smith's wide curves. Sewell walked, on four pitched balls. O'Neill singled over second, Sewell holding the middle bag. Mails hit into a double play, Olsen to Kilduff to Konetchy. No runs; one hit; no errors.

Seventh Innings

Cleveland—Burns whiffed and went back to the bench. Gardner went out, Kilduff to Konetchy, Kilduff also threw out Wood at first. The Clevelanders were completely non-plussed by Smith's wicked curves. No runs; no hits; no errors.

Brooklyn—Kilduff got a base on balls. Miller sacrificed, Mails to Burns. Smith hit a long foul over the right field wall which was a foul by only a few feet. Smith fanned. Olsen got a base on balls. Sewell threw out Johnston on first. No runs; no hits; no errors.

Brooklyn—Uhle went into the box for Cleveland and Nunamaker took O'Neills place behind the bat. Neis sent a long fly to Evans; Wheat's grounder bounced up into Sewell's face and went for a hit. Uhle tossed Myers out at first. Wheat slipping to second. Konetchy flied to Speaker. No runs; one hit; no errors.

Ninth Innings

Cleveland—Smith threw out Evans at first. Olsen tossed out Wamby at first, making a pretty play on Wamby's drive. Olsen threw out Speaker at first. No runs; no hits; no errors.

TRANS-CANADA FLIERS CRASHED NEAR ST. JOHN, N.B.

Started From Halifax This Morning and Passed Over St. John at 10:45

NEWS OF CRASH

Telephoned to St. John by Col Leckie Who Asked for Flying Boat

St. John, N.B., Oct. 7.—The Fairey seaplane manned by Col. Robert Leckie, D.S.O., and Major Basil Hobbs, who atempting the trans-continental flight, crashed twenty miles North-West of St. John on the first leg of its trip, which was from Halifax to Riviere De Loup on the River St. Lawrence. Col. Leckie telephoned to St. John and asked that a flying boat be sent along the beach where the accident happened as soon as possible. The seaplane badly wrecked.

Started at Eight

Halifax, Oct. 7.—Col. Leckie and Major Hobbs hopped off from here at eight o'clock this morning in the Fairey seaplane in which they propose to fly to Riviere Du Loup on the first leg of the Trans-Canada flight to Vancouver.

Passed Over St. John

Halifax, Oct. 7.—The Fairey seaplane, piloted by Colonel Leckie passed over Cape Blomidon at 9.25 this morning on the first leg of the Canadian Air Board's first trans-continental flight. St. John reported that the airship passed over that city at 10.45 headed Northwesterly and flying very low, at good speed.

The Fairey airplane which left Halifax this morning at eight o'clock on it's Trans-Canada flight will probably pass over Brandon on Friday afternoon. It is expected that the trip from Halifax to Winnipeg will be made in twenty-seven flying hours, so that Col. Leckie and Major Hobbs Hobbs should arive in Winnipeg about noon Friday. Only a short stay will be made in Winnipeg, another machine being used for the flight from the Manitoba capital to the Coast.

It will not be known until Friday, the exact hour at which the plane will fly over Brandon, but it is stated that it will be some time about four o'clock when the plane soars over Brandon. If for any reason the plane will not go over this city until the evening, large flares will be placed out at the Brandon airodrome, in case the aviators have to make a forced landing. The flares will point out a good landing area and enable the fliers to make a safe landing if they so desire.

The disaster which has overtaken the aviators, changes all plans.

NO PORTO RICO SUGARS FORCED ON THE MARKET

For First Time in Years No Sugar Shipments For Two Weeks

San Juan, P. R., Sept. 15.—(By Mail)—No Porto Rico sugars are being forced on the market. Whatever sugars there are here are being held for better or worse.

(This is evidently being done to prevent refiners from reducing the price of raw sugar, as the Cuban growers have asked the Porto Rican producers to join them in an attempt to prevent a cut in prices.)

For the first time in many years, two weeks have gone by without the shipment of any sugar from the island. Approximately 640,000 bags, or 80,000 tons remain in the island for export.

Porto Rico produced in this year's crop 485,887 short tons of sugar, according to a final statistical report just issued by J. Ruiz Soler, Secretary of the Porto Rico Sugar Producers' Association. This is 7,000 tons in excess of his estimate made at the commencement of the grinding season and about 80,000 tons greater than the production during the crop season of 1918-19. It is also 20,000 tons in excess of the production during 1917-18.

Export figures show 367,000 tons of sugar shipped from this crop. Local consumption is estimated at 35,000 tons.

BROAD MEASURE DOMINION HOME RULE WOULD DO

Sinn Fein Leaders Would Not Refuse if Majority of People Approve

IRISH PEACE COUNCIL

Said to Have Approached Sinn Feiners for a Statement of Position

London, Oct. 7—Leaders of the Sinn Fein have intimated that although they desire complete separation of Ireland from England, they would not oppose a broad measure of dominion home rule, if it can be proved that a majority of the Irish people demand it, says the Daily Mail. This intimation, the paper says, is given in response to approaches made by the Irish Peace Council, a body of moderates from all parts of Ireland, which just completed a plan for Dominion home rule in Ireland. The Mail asserts that Lloyd George will receive a deputation in regard to this scheme next week.

COAL IN ONTARIO?

Canadians everywhere will be greatly pleased if the hard black substance found by well drillers at Shelburne, Ontario, should turn out to be a good quality of anthracite coal. News dispatches on Saturday reported the discovery of a twenty-five foot seam of a hard black substance, pronounced by those who have seen the specimen brought to the surface by the drill, to be coal. Discovery of a good quality of coal in Ontario, especially in such a central location as Shelburne, less than one hundred miles from Toronto, would be of the greatest benefit to the greatest industrial area in Canada. More than that, it would help solve the fuel problem, which with the disappearance of the hardwood forests in old Ontario, has become acute.

Announcement of a confirmation of the report is advisable before indulging in rejoicing. It may turn out that some one has been induced to make the most of something unusual in order to facilitate the sale of farm lands.

CO-OPERATIVE GRAIN MARKETING

It is significant, in view of the tremendous fall in prices of wheat, that the Committee of Seventeen, representing the principal farmers' organizations of the grain growing states, are taking steps to develop a co-operative grain marketing plan to handle the grain crop of the United States. Whether an organization can be created which will do just that thing or not, the effort being made indicates a great desire on the part of the producers which is bound to bring about a change in the marketing methods presently employed.

The interests which are suspected of depressing the market for their own advantage, are biting in as if ravenously hungry after a prolonged fast. The savageness of their attack lends strength to the co-operative marketing movement which if even partially successful in the United States will count for much in Western Canada.

EXPOSING THE REDS

President Tom Moore, of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, refers to the decision to hold the next convention of that body in Winnipeg, as in the nature of a challenge to the enemy. Referring to the One Big Union he says: "They who have opposed the international trade union movement there have said that we are afraid to go to the Manitoba city, but we shall be glad to go West and so give the workers an opportunity to see at first hand what our policies and practices are."

There are indications to the man who views the labor movement from the outside, that the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress is trying to render that good service to labor of which it stands so badly in need in the Canadian West — of unearthing the Reds who have been boring from within, and making a use of the Labor movement for which it was not designed, and which tends to discredit it.

Friends of labor, in all walks of life, are anxious that this be accomplished and if President Moore heads the organization which can and will accomplish it, a singular service will be rendered the genuine labor cause.

A SCANDALOUS WASTE

Facts presented by the Manitoba Fire Commissioner should be read and pondered. They indicate a possible saving, which, if effected, would prove one of the greate boons to the province. During the month of August, 1920, there were 170 fires, the loss amounting to $163,378. For the same month a year ago, the number of fires was 155 for a loss of $115,195. The increase in the number of fires is 15, and the loss was $48,183 greater.

For the eight months from January 1st, 1920 to August 31st, the Manitoba fire loss amounted ot $1,431,203, while for the same period in 1919, the lose was $1,026,434. Thus the loss during these months of 1920 was $404,769 greater than for the same period one year ago.

The Fire Commissioner's report states that of the 170 fires during Augsut, 32 were in farm buildings with a loss $42,843, and that 37 fires occurred in private dwellings with a loss of $15,326.

Among the causes of fires, carelessness with matches is said to have been responsible for 17, causing damage to the extent of $24,053; careless smokers caused 14 others and a loss of $5,189.

The only argument which could be more convincing as tending to show the necessity for not only a Fire Prevention Week, but for making every week a Fire Prevention Week, would be a till greater number of fires, including loss of life. Undoubtedly the showing could be worse, but it is so bad that Manitobans must set themselves towards definite improvement and the only way is that of Fire Prevention.

A PARTIAL ANSWER

A partial answer appears in the Detroit News to the question asked in Thursday's issue of The Sun, concerning the price offered the farmer for livestock and that asked of the consumer, as reflected by the possibility of the French Government imposing restrictions on the sale and consumption of meat. The caption of the article was "The Hog Between." It follows:

"You know the hog the farmer sells and the hog you men buy are two different hogs," Thomas Price, president of the Saginaw Sugar Beet Growers' Association, told the Michigan Federation of Labor recently. "There seems to be another hog between them," he continued, evidently having in mind quite a different style of hog. There should be some way to get together and go gunning for that third hog."

It is not recorded that any definite steps were taken to accomplish this "get together." The fact is Mr. Price's picturesque figure of speech, mixed as it was, represents a type of talk that for the moment is very common in both farm and labor gatherings. It is doubtful if it is taken too seriously by the conservative and level-headed either among city workers of farm owners.

It is quite true that the hog the farmer sells and the hog the city labor union member buys is a different hog and therein lies the weakness of the argument. The farmer's hog is pork with an encumbrance of bristle, mire and obstinate, squealing life; the hog the city worker buys for his table is reduced to appetizing pork chops carefully selected and refrigerated and delivered in neat, sanitary wrappings.

The function of the hog between is not important. He is the transitional hog. He is the hog that is driven to market, slaughtered, dressed, refrigerated, transported from one establishment to another, cut up, prepared, iced, wrapped and delivered. He is the hog that receives a hundred times more painstaking care than is ever bestowed on the farmers hog. He commands the intelligent and expensive services of scores and hundreds of unionized workers most particular as to their hours of labor and their remuneration. And when he gives place to the hog at the end of the series, the hog the consumer buys, he is no longer a hog entire but is reduced to expensive fragments to be sorted over and culled out according to the more or less exacting tastes of the housewife who prepared him for the table.

There is not the slightest difficulty in Mr. Price and his colleagues getting together with the members of the Federation of Labor. But the experience of the city worker who has tried buying directly of the farmers has not been encouraging. The farmer is not a good retailer. The city worker seldom is prepared to buy an entire hog, and if he were he would find, doubtless, that he could buy it to better advantage of a regular meat dealer in the city.

So evaporates most of the harmless oratory of farm and labor organizers. Co-operative selling and buying may affect certain economies and are worthy of careful study, but the city dweller who wants everything brought to him at the lowest price, and the farmer, who wants to get the highest prices while rendering the least personal service, are a long way from intimate commercial contact.

A DISCOVERY

"Canada resents our boastfulness," is the text from which the Hartford Times preaches without mercy against that portion of the American population which is bombastic, anti-British and disposed to misunderstand Canada. While The Times is entirely wrong in supposing the Canadians are worrying about some of the matters upon which it speaks very forcibly, its aim is undoubtedly sound, for the article displays a sincere intention to cultivate good relations with this country. The Times, after reading a speech made in Toronto recently by Sir Auckland Geddes, says that the ambassador "knows what millions of Americans do not know, or to which they pay little attention, that there is a very marked anti-American feeling on the other side of the border, which he would do everything in his power to transform into a more friendly sentiment." The ambassador, if he discovered anti-American sentiment in Canada, has hade no direct public reference to it, but The Times is sure such a feeling exists, and proceeds to explain very forcibly in its own way why it believes Canadians have cause for resentment. The Times says:

"The causes of the present-day antagonism toward the people of the United States are not hard to find. They have their roots in our national propensity to brag. Canadians are reported by investigators, among the latest being William S. McNutt, to be sick and tired of the boasts of some newspapers and many spell-binders that 'America won the war'; they are disgusted with the motion picture films, especially the 'news weeklies,' with which they were fed during and just after the war from the United States, which even had the German fleet surrendering to the United States navy; they think of the four years they were in the war against our year and a half, and of their losses of lives and property, proportionately so much greater than ours, and they have become resentful of America's 'greatness.' They are very tired and striving mightily to recover from the effects of the struggle, and it jars their nerves to read the 'America first' speeches of opponents of the League of Nations."

In speaking of the present rate of exchange The Times finds it quite natural that Canadians should be talking about cutting down their purchases of American-made goods and reducing the adverse balance of trade, but it reminds us that during the Civil War the American dollar was worth only forty cents in this country. It advocates a better understanding of Canada's position among thoughtful Americans, saying that had the people of the United States "endured such privations and suffered such casualties as befell the Canadians long before we entered the war and after it we, too, should have resented such inanities and boastings as have made them sore." The Times proceeds to say that in time Canada will realize "that the American people as a whole are not such selfish creatures as some of our yellow newspapers and our anti-British and anti-League of Nations politicians make us out to be."

It is but fair to say that while on both sides of the line there are people ready to notice or exaggerate tendencies towards friction, Canada by no means judges the whole American people by the few boasters and the anti-British elements to which The Times makes such scathing reference.

WIRELESS COMPASS STATIONS TO BE SET UP ON GREAT LAKES

To Enable Ships Lost in Fog to Find Out Their Location

Chicago, Oct. 11.—Wireless compass stations, similar to those which have been in successful operation on the North Atlantic coast for more than a year, are to be installed along the Great Lakes. These stations, operated by the Navy Department, enable the operators to give to ships lost in a fog their position within a narrow radius of accuracy.

Fogs on the upper lakes have claimed one freighter and 30 lives as victims this year and record of previous years show a heavy toll of shipping. Success of the system on the Atlantic coast lead to its recent installation on the Pacific and now, it is announced, the inland waters are to be similarly protected.

One of the stations is to be built at Detour, Mich., and others at Grand Marais, Mich.; White Fish Point, Mich.; Eagle Harbor, Mich.; Thunder Bay Island, in Lake Huron, and another probably will be located either on Wind Point, near Kenosha, Wis., or Grosse Point, Evanston, Ill. Others are being planned for Lake Superior.

AUSTRIAN WORKMEN TO EMIGRATE TO ARGENTINA

Buenos Aires, Oct. 11.—Immigration of Austrian workmen to Argentina is being promoted by Dr. M. Fuchs, former consul general of Austria-Hungary here, who has been sent back to this country by the Minister of the Interior of the Austrian Republic to establish credits to be used in aiding workmen to emigrate and in building up Austrian industries.

Dr. Fuchs said that the decline in the exchange value of Austrian money makes it almost impossible for workmen to pay their own passages in order to emigrate. At the same time, he says, the condition of the republic is such that it is imperative to reduce the population of the country.

FOSTER MAY BE ABLE TO CARRY ON GOVERNMENT

Final Result of New Brunswick Elections is Still in Doubt

TWO CONSTITUENCIES

Said to Be in Doubt and Likely to Return Government Candidate

Fredericton, N.B., Oct. 11.—Supporters of the Government were confident today that in the final checking pu of the votes cast in the Provincial election on Saturday their candidates would be found to be elected in Kings and perhaps Charlotte Counties. The return of the government candidates in these two constituencies would give Foster a majority, where, according to returns available, his party only broke even.

Even Division of House

Fredericton, N.B., Oct. 11.—The general impression here as to the outcome of the provincial elections held on Saturday seems to be that Hon. Walter E. Foster, Liberal premier since 1917, would be able to carry on, although the returns at this moment show an absolutely even division of the house between the government and the groups opposed to the administration.

There are several counties in which only a few votes separate the winners from the losers, and friends of the government here are hoping an additional member or two of the government party may prove to have been elected.

On the other hand, it is said that the opposition will carry on the objections raised on nomination day in Queen's County to the candidature of George H. King, government supporter re-elected, deficiencies in his nomination papers being claimed by the opposition. It is stated that Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, leader of the opposition is prepared to carry the objection to the courts and endeavor to upset Mr. King's election.

Huthinson, Oct. 9.—Hutchinson's bomb plot mystery flickered out today when it was determined that the cylinder found by the boys on a creek bank in the centre of the city, and supposed to contain powerful explosives was only a discharged piece of fire works.

NEW BRUNSWICK ELECTIONS TO BE HARD FOUGHT

Women Show Keen Interest in Voting Today—105 Candidate Seek Election

FARMERS ENTER FIELD

And Add to Political Battle—Three Cornered Fight in Many Districts

Fredericton, Oct. 9.—Polling is taking place today in New Brunswick. Early reports indicated that women, voting for the first time in a provincial election, are turning out in large numbers. Altogether 105 candidates have been nominated for 48 seats in the legislature.

To be Close Fight

St. John, Oct. 9. — On the eve of one of the most interesting political contests which New Brunswick ever witnessed, political prophets are further at sea than usual in forecasts of the result of elections which take place Saturday. Two out of forty-eight seats have been filled by acclamation in Madawaska county by two Government supporters. For the remaining 46 seats there are 105 candidates, including 44 Government, 26 Opposition party (Conservative), 26 United Farmers, one Independent Farmer, four Labor, one Soldier and three Independent. The entry of the farmer candidates in such large numbers adds an element of uncertainty to the situation and makes it more difficult to judge the probable result, especially in sections where there will be a three-cornered fight. As the opposition has left several constituencies to farmers, the latter's chances are improved by that much.

A seam was struck 100 feet below the surface, the seam being twenty-five feet through. The samples are pronounced to be true coal of good grade.

GREAT WORK FOR BLIND IS BEING DONE IN CANADA

President Wood of National Institute for Blind Says 40 Per Cent. Preventable

CAPT. BAKER, B. Sc., M.C.

Declares Blindness Not an Affliction, But a Handicap to Be Overcome

"I thank whatever gods there be for my unconquerable soul," declared Capt. E. A. Baker, B.Sc., M.C., quoting Milton's words, in closing a magnificent address before the Canadian Club on Friday evening. Capt. Baker's cheery message followed the statement of L. M. Wood, President of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, of the situation which confronts the 7,000 blind Canadians, and presented what was to many a new phase. Captain Baker's message was one of optimism and good cheer. "I don't look on it as an affliction at all," declared the man who owes his condition to a bullet from the gun of a German sniper. "If a chap has a decent chance he will come through and be a credit." He asked his hearers why they should look on blindness as an affliction. There was only one perfect man. All are to a greater or less extent, below par. What happens to the man who gets disabled in a sporting event—he gets a handicap so he may have a decent chance—this is what we (the Canadian National Institute for the Blind) are trying to get for the blind. "We are trying to get that to help those fellows reach the winning post. The blind should have practical help and be afforded a practical opportunity to make good." The quotation from Milton concluded his address which was received with warm applause.

In introducing the speakers, President J. E. Matthews told of the connection of Mr. Wood and Cap. Baker with the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. Under Mr. Wood's presidency the institute has made many advances and has brought Canada to the forefront of the nations in its care for and treatment of the blind. Warm praise was given Capt. Baker for the gallant part he played in the Great War and since recovery first for blinded soldiers and now for all the blind in Canada.

7,000 Blind in Canada

In opening his address, Mr. Wood told of the beginning of work for the blind and the numbers in the various countries. In Canada, he said, there are 7,000 blind, 600 of these being in Manitoba and Saskatachewan. Of this number about 15 per cent. are able to take care of themselves, five per cent. have resources of their own, ten per cent are children under 17 and they ought to be in schools. Seventy-five per cent. are badly in need of finances and occupations. The National Institute aims to do four things—prevent blindness, educate blind children, provide training and employment for blind adults and monetary relief for the aged and incapable.

As forty per cent. of the blind need not have been blind, prevention is a great need. Nurses are to be employed to prevent blindness at birth by a simple treatment easily applied. No one is born blind. Sight-saving classes is another method of prevention that must be provided for. Mr. Wood declared that forty per cent. of blindness will be prevented in the future. For the education of the blind there are five schools in Canada, teaching everything to the children that is in the public schools taught those who can see, and a great deal more. The institute aims to provide necessary after-care for those who have been trained, as without it it would be better not to train blind people at all. Training and employment for adult blind was dealt with at length, and mention made of notable successes achieved.

That the support of the work for the blind should not be left to the Government, was Mr. Wood's contention. His idea is that the Government should provide fifty per cent. of the $65,000 now needed annually and the people the balance, so that they would have an interest in the work, purchase products made by the blind and assist them in every way. The women were asked to interest themselves in the work.

Capt. Baker briefly related the circumstances which led up to his present handicap, the training and help he had received and the work that was done for the blind soldiers, and told of his desires, as secretary of the institute, to secure equal advantages for the civilian blind to those enjoyed by the soldiers. His address sparkled with humor and was warmly applauded.

Dr. H. O. McDiarmid in moving a vote of thanks said there was no sadder sight than that of a child losing its sight through no fault of its own.

PUBLIC LIBRARY A GREAT NEED IN THIS CITY

Board of Trade Committee to Wait on the City Council

OBJECTION TO SITE

At Present Held by City for This Purpose—City Hall Block Favored

A free public library for Brandon is again under serious consideration. At the regular meeting of the Board of Trade on Friday evening in the City Hall, a delegation was appointed to go before the City Council and lay the matter before them, and urge immediate action on the part of that body. It is felt that the need here for a library is great, and several speakers pointed out this fact, and also advised the erection of a building in the very near future.

The matter of a public library was introduced by Rev. J. George Miller. He said he had taken the matter up and was of the opinion that the city should have a public library at once. He asked the members of the Board to express their opinions with regard to it, so that the subject could be brought before the City Council at the next meeting. F. W. Hobson also spoke in favor of an early move to secure a public library, citing the facts that practically all of the cities in the West, with the exception of Brandon, had a public library.

That the city now has a site for a public library was the announcement made to the meeting by Alderman Curran. He said the city saw fit to buy the corner of Lorne Avenue and Seventh Street some ten years ago, and that the site is still available for a library. The city did seriously consider the building of a library at the time the site was purchased and negotiations with the late Andrew Carnegie were opened up with a view to obtaining a grant. However, the matter was dropped owing to some disagreement, but Alderman Curran added that the sit would make an admirable place for a public library at the present time.

Want Central Site

Some opposition to the Seventh Street site was made by Mr. J. S. Wilmott. He said the site was not suitable for a library as it was not central. Instead of using that site, he suggested the purchasing of the remainder of the City Hall block and the erection of a suitable building. He claimed that the City Hall would soon have to be scrapped, and the Memorial Hall would have to be built, and suggested therefore that the public library he possibly embodied in one large building which would be a credit to the city of Brandon. While this big building is being built he suggested that temporary quarters be secured. In reply to Mr. Wilmott, Alderman Curran stated that the sit now owned by the City is a central one, but he took opportunity to remark that the city should buy the remainder of the City Hall block for future extension.

Following the discussion on the subject it was decided that a committee of five should accompany the Rev. J. George Miller to the regular meeting of the City Council on Monday, October 18th, and urge the immediate consideration of the Council in the plan to erect a library here. The following members were chosen as a committee to attend the Council meeting: Rev. J. George Miller, John Inglis, Dr. McCurdy, J. F. McDonald, H. L. Adolph and W. C. Hughes.

ANNUAL EXODUS FROM THE YUKON HAS COMMENCED

Veteran Yukon Prospectors Tell of New Silver Field Discovery

Vancouver, B.C., Oct. 9.—With first approach of Winter the exodus from the Yukon has commenced. Every passenger vessel arriving in port carries its full quota of passengers.

Stanley White and George Johnston, of Dawson, veteran Yukon prospectors, tell of a new silver field discovery. They say Mayo City, 150 miles Southeast of Dawson on the Stewart river, bids fair to become a second city of tents on account of the inrush of miners who are staking claims all over the district.

"The old prospectors, vanished during the war, are now all back on the job," said Mr. White. "Old time trappers are coming back to their trade also."

APPROVE PLAN TO GIVE BRANDON G. T. P. CONNECTION

Railway Companies Assure Deputation From Brandon That Project is Good

RAILWAY COMMMISSION

To Be Asked to Give Assent to Removal of Knox and Creation of Junction

The Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railway officials look with favor on the plan to give this city better railway connection with the Grand Trunk Railway. A delegation of three members of the Board of Trade waited on the railway officials in Winnipeg on Thursday and as a result of their visit state that the matter is being taken up at once by the railway companies, and it is expected that some definite move will be made shortly to carry out the proposals made to give this city a direct connection with the Grand Trunk main line.

The proposal is to move the station of Knox one mile farther East, to the point where the C.P.R. and Grand Trunk lines cross at present. If this were done it would give Brandon a better passenger and freight service, and it is even predicted that a passenger service from Melville will be inaugurated in the near future. The cost of moving Knox station to its new position would be comparatively small, according to estimates given recently.

President P. A. Kennedy reports that the Canadian National officials received the delegation most favorably and even promised to have an engineer proceed at once to Knox and make a full report on the matter to the company. The matter would then be further taken up by the Board of Trade here, the body which made the first proposal. The C.P.R. officials also promised every co-operation in the matter, and stated that they would not force the C.N.R. to lay any unnecessary trackage.

As a result of the meeting of the Brandon delegates and the railway officials, it is expected that an application to have the station at Knox moved to its proposed new site will be made before the Board of Railway Commissioners who sit in Winnipeg on October 25th. Should the Railway Commissioners pass favorably on the project, then the matter will be proceeded with at once.

Dunmore, Ireland, Oct. 9.—Ten armed men today ambushed three policemen at the same spot where the patrol was attacked Friday when a constable was wounded, and again today a constable was wounded. Members of the attacking party were beaten off. The police were escorting postmen carrying money when the attack took place.

NO ARMISTICE BETWEEN POLES AND RUSSIANS

Conference Delegates Adjourn Without Making a Decision—Sat All Day Friday

Riga, Oct. 9. — Polish and Russian Soviet delegates engaged in negotiations looking to an armistice and a peace treaty adjourned without signing the armistice.

No date was set for the next meeting of the conference. Delegates were in session all day Friday.

VEGETABLES HAVE BOTTLE AND CORKSCREW, WHERE ARE THE WET GOODS?

Regina, Sask., Oct. 9—When Augustus H. Ball, Deputy Minister of Education, dug up in his garden recently a potato in which was embedded an unblushing corkscrew, some of his friends were unkind enough to suggest that the bottle could not be far away.

They were entirely wrong. The bottle was discovered—or at least a part of it—several blocks away, snugly fixed around the neck of a carrot growing in the garden of the Rev. Father Gillies.

BOARD OF TRADE WANTS TO KNOW MORE DETAILS

Concerning the Contract Entered Into With Canadian City Bureau Ltd.

FURTHER CONSIDERATION

To Be Given Contract by the Committee That Originally Handled It

Further consideration of the contract entered into by the Brandon Board of Trade and the Canadian City Bureau Limited has now been decided. The matter received a thorough discussion before the regular meeting of the Board of Trade held in the Council Chambers on Friday evening, there being a large attendance at the meeting. Criticism has been directed from several sources at the action of the Board in entering into the contract, and as a result of the discussion Friday evening, the whole matter will be gone into by the committee which took the matter up when the subject was first broatched.

Letters were read from Western Boards of Trade regarding the Canadian City Bureau, but from opinions expressed it was felt that much more information should be secured before any definite action should be announced by the Board. The chief criticisms directed thus far against the Bureau have been from the financial side only, said Mr. Wilmott in outlining the objects of the Bureau and the service they would render for the money expended by the local Board. Not only would the Bureau conduct a campaign in the city but it would also give a three year service t the city which would more than repay any money spent. Mr. R. Crawford set forth his stand in the matter and said that if the Bureau could cement and bring together the different factions in this city, as they promised, that the money would be well spent.

There was considerable discussion both for and against the proposition but it was finally decided that the matter should receive further consideration and that much more information should be obtained by the Board. A resolution referring the matter back to the original committee, which took the matter up, and adding the President's name to the committee, was passed by the Board. The matter will be fully investigated and a report made later.

During the meeting a report on the activities of the Council of the Board of Trade since the last general meeting in May, was read by President P. A. Kennedy. The report showed the Council of the Board of Trade to be very much alive and to be doing a lot of valuable work. Several industries have been induced to come to this city through the recent activities of the Council and the report was received with great enthusiasm.

A very exhaustive report of the Manufacturers Convention at Vancouver was read by Mr. J. S. Wilmott. Business conditions of the West, the opportunities that Brandon is passing up in the way of advertising the city and it's possibilities, comparison of Brandon with other Western points, and many other subjects were thoroughly and interestingly read by Mr. Wilmott in the report. Following the reading of the report, motion thanking Mr. Wilmott for the presentation and preparation of the report, was passed by the Board of Trade.

Some time ago a committee from the Board of Trade reported on the quality of gas being burned by local consumers and the report was passed on to the City Council for action. No report has been made to the Board of Trade and the matter is again to be taken up with the City Fathers for their consideration, and a reply.

BATTERIES:—Bagby, Uhle and O'Neill; Grimes and Miller.

Brooklyn, Oct. 6.—Brooklyn evened up the series for the World's Baseball Championship this afternoon by defeating Cleveland 3-0. It was a clean-cut win for the National League champions, superior twirling on the part of Grimes, blanking the Indians' efforts all the way. Just as Coveleskie's spitball had tied the Brooklyn batters up on Tuesday, so did the wet-ball offerings of Grimes baffle the Cleveland hitters this afternoon. The winning pitcher was strong in the pinches and kept the seven hits secured off him, well scattered throughout the game.

The defeat was a bitter pill for Tris Speaker's team, as they had expected that Jim Bagby would carry them through to a win. Bagby is the twirling ace of the American League, and although he pitched good enough ball to win the majority of games, he could not stop the rush of the Brooklyn Dodgers. He was given good support, a double play nipping a Brooklyn rally when the bases were loaded at one time. Bagby gave way to Uhle in the seventh.

There was very little spectacular hitting. Tris Speaker made two hits, one of them a long double, Griffith's two bagger came at an opportune time, as it scored one of Brooklyn's runs. Speaker again took the lion's share of the fielding honors with two beautiful running catches, and proved his right to be called the world's greatest fielder.

The third game of the series will be played in Brooklyn on Thursday and then the teams will move over to Cleveland for three games.

Chilly Ball Weather

Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, Oct. 6.—The Cleveland Indians, with one Brooklyn scalp dangling at their belts, went on the war path again today in the second encounter of the World's Series warfare.

"A wind-blown fly was the cause of our downfall," said Manager Robinson of the Brooklyn team today. "With an even break on luck my club will show the way to victory. Speaker ruined our ball game with his catches in centre field. I think I'll tell our fellows to hit the ball over the fence then let Speaker do his worst. I am inclined to use Grimes in the box today."

Tris Speaker believes that the edge now lies with his American League pennant winners in the series. We have looked the Brooklyns over and my men feel they can take the majority of the games," said Speaker today. "Brooklyn has a fine ball club, make no mistake, and I have my troubles to find pitchers to beat them in a long series."

The chill of yesterday's defeat and a cold night did not freeze the enthusiasm of the fans who came early to the ball yard, over 20,000 people, to see todays battle.

Spectators seeking seats in the unreserved stands began to form in line two hours before the game and shivered and shook in the Arctic blast. A ground keeper making his rounds at midnight heard a heavy snore. He unearthed four men who had hidden in the ball park after yesterday's game and were taking a night's rest in a nest of newspapers back of the seats. The wind had dried out the field so ground keepers had to spray it with water to keep down the dust. Those who came early to the game bundled themselves up in heavy coats to keep out the cold, while the players appeared jacketed in heavy sweaters except a few who defied the wind.

Cleveland is Favorite

New York, Oct. 6.—With one victory to their credit in the Worlds Series of 1920, the Cleveland Indians, depending upon their pitching ace, Jim Bagby, were confident today of making it two straight over Brooklyn. On the other hand Manager Robinson and his players were not the least discouraged by their defeat and were determined to reverse the result this afternoon. Weather conditions this morning were favorable for the game. Cleveland continued to rule a slight favorite to win the series, odds remaining 6 to 5. Brooklyn supporters, however, insisted upon 7 to 5. Grimes will likely pitch for Brooklyn and the catchers probably will be O'Neill for Cleveland and Miller for Brooklyn.

The Brooklyns went through a long batting practice before the game. Manager Robinson was anxious to work his men out of the batting slump into which they had fallen in the last week or so. John Miljus went into the box for Brooklyn and was ordered to put everything he had on the ball. Both Grimes and Smith took part in the Brooklyn batting practice. The right hander, Uhle, threw the ball for Cleveland in their batting practice.

Third inning. Cleveland — Grimes tossed out O'Neill at first. Grimes knocked down Bagbys hot grounder and threw him out. Jamieson singled over second. Wamby flied out to Wheat. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Brooklyn—Grimes singled through the pitcher's box. Bagby took Olsen's sacrifice and threw wildly to second, both batter and runner were safe. Grimes was spiked as he slid into second. It was no sacrifice for Olsen, but a fielder's choice. Jamieson fouled out to O'Neill, trying to bunt. Grimes scored on Griffith's two-base hit into right field, Olsen going to third. Wheat was purposely passed, filling the bases. The infield played in close and a double play followed, Gardener taking Myers' grounder and threw it to O'Neill who threw to first. The throw hit Myers on the back. Olsen tried to steal on the play but was thrown out, Johnston to O'Neill. One run, one hit, no errors.

Fourth inning. Cleveland—Speaker walked. Smith grounded out to Konetchy unassisted, Speaker moving on to second. Gardner flied to Myers. Johnston flied to Wheat who ran to the bleachers to gather it in. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Brooklyn—Konetchy sent up a high fly to Wamby. Kilduff sent a long fly into left centre, which Speaker took after a long run. Bagby threw out Miller at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fifth inning. Cleveland—The stands gave Speaker a big hand as he came off the field. Grimes threw out Sewell at first. O'Neill went out by the Olsen-Konetchy route. Bagby sent a long fly to Myers. Grimes' spit ball had the Cleveland team badly puzzled, and he kept it close and inside and varied it with a fast inshoot. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Brooklyn—Sewell threw out Grimes. Olsen singled to the pitcher's box. Johnston out, Johnston to Bagby, Olsen going to second. Olsen scored when Griffiths' grounder got away from Sewell for a hit. Griffith went out stealing, O'Neill to Wamby. One run, two hits, no errors.

Brooklyn—Wheat flied to Speaker who took the ball over in right field. Myers got an infield hit which Gardner could not field in time. Konetchy flied out to Smith. Kilduff sent a high fly to Smith. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Seventh inning. Cleveland—Gardner got a single thorugh the box which Kilduff was only able to knock down. Johnston forced Gardner, Olsen to Kilduff. Sewell flied out to Griffith, who made a nice catch up against the wall. O'Neill got a single into left field. Graney batted for Bagby. Graney struck out on three pitched balls and the crowd cheered Grimes to the echo. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Brooklyn—Uhle went into the box for Cleveland. Miller struck out Grimes sent a high fly to Smith. Olsen fanned. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Eighth inning. Cleveland—Jamieson walked. Burns batted for Wamby. Burns also walked. Kilduff threw out Speaker at first, Jamieson going to third and Burns to second. Smith fouled to Miller. Gardner walked and the bases were filled. Johnston forced Gardner, Kilduff to Olson. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Brooklyn—Lunte went to second base for Cleveland. Johnston popped to Sewell. Griffith fanned. Wheat flied out to Jamieson. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Ninth inning. Cleveland — Sewell grounded out to Konetchy unassisted. O'Neill flied out to Griffith. Nunamaker batting for Uhle singled over second base, Jamieson flied to Wheat. No runs, one hit, no errors.

COURT OF APPEALS UPHOLDS SENTENCE I. W. W. LEADERS

"Big Bill" Haywood and 93 Others to Serve Out Sentences

Chicago, Oct. 6.—The United States Court of Appeals for the Chicago district has upheld the conviction of "Big Bill" Haywood and 93 other Industrial Workers of the World on charges growing out of alleged violation of war-time acts.

The case has been before the Court of Appeals for nearly two years. The men were convicted on four counts, but only two were upheld. These were alleged conspiracy to violate the Espionage Law, and alleged conspiracy to obstruct the working of the Draft Act.

As judge K. M. Landis, in whose court the trial was conducted, sentenced the men on each count, the sentences to run concurrently, the invalidating of two counts will not affect the sentences.

Haywood was given twenty years. The men out on bond will be ordered to appear immediately and be taken to Leavenworth penitentiary.

NEW ROUTE FOR CANAL TO LINK LAKES AND OCEAN

Submitted to International Joint Waterways Commission at Ottawa

Ottawa, Oct. 6.—The proposal to provide a route for ocean going ships from Montreal to the Great Lakes by way of the Ottawa river to a short distance below Ottawa and then through a deep water canal across to the St. Lawrence at Cardinal, was laid before the International Joint Waterways Commission when it opened its session here Tuesday afternoon. The members of the commission present were: Hon. H. A. Powell, St. John, N.B., acting chairman; Sir Wm. Hearst, representing Canada; Senator C. Gardner and Senator C. D. Clarke, representing the United States. The plan was submitted by John Bingham, president of the Ottawa Board of Trade, and Noulan Cauchon, consulting engineer.

The advantages claimed for this route as aaginst the deepening of the St. Lawrence river canal system, are that it would be much less expensive; there would be no great engineering difficulties to be overcome; there would be fewer locks, and it would reclaim 2,000 square miles of farm lands in Eastern Ontario now in swamp. These advantages, it was claimed, would more than offset the greater distance the boats would have to travel.

It was further argued that it would be an all-Canadian route, free from international complications. It was estimated that it would be cheaper by nearly $100,000,000 than the St. Lawrence river scheme.

The commissioners were deeply interested in the proposal, but pointed out that it was a purely Canadian project, the international body was hardly the right one to consider it.

Montreal Opposes Power Scheme

Montreal, Oct. 6.—The sitting of the International Waterways Commission, which is fixed for Friday and Saturday next here, will, it is gathered from shipping and transportation circles, evoke strong opposition to the proposals for a deep waterway to the Great Lakes and the development of the water power on the upper reaches. It is felt that the plan for developing power may imperil the interests of Montreal and the province generally. As to the deep waterway plan, it is not regarded as a practicable scheme and in its stead the Georgian Bay canal, as being all-Canadian, is favored.

$250,000 TO BE HANDED OVER

To Anglican Church of Canada—Donated by People in England and Wales

During the Anglican Centenary celebration, October 10-17, an interesting event will take place in Winnipeg at the service to be held Wednesday, October 13th, when the Church's thank-offering to Western Canada will be made. This will take the form of a sum of money amounting to about £50,000 contributed by Anglican people from every diocese in England and Wales for the work in Western Canada.

Last June in Westminster Abbey the fund started ten years ago by the Archbishops of Canterbury and York to assist the Church in Western Canada during a time of great stress and need, was formally closed. At that service the sermon was preached by the Archbishop of Rupert's Laud and the Church's thank-offering to Western Canada was formally made. In connection with the closing of the fund the Archbishops of Canterbury and York have made the following statement:

"We want to leave our work on a firm basis. We propose to hand over the whole of the mission work and equipment to the Church of Canada as a permanent part of its organization, and with it a capital sum as a trust fund, the interest of which will be used to obtain these missions and, in connection with them, to support a body of pioneer clergy, whose special duty will be to minister to immigrants in new districts and settlements in the West."

VOCATIONAL TRAINING IN TORONTO SAID TO HAVE BEEN WASTE OF MONEY

Toronto, Oct. 6.—The Toronto Telegram is a lengthy semi-editorial news story publishes criticisms of the local vocational training branch of the D.S.C.R. and states that $50,000,000 have been spent on training and that only 30 per cent. of the returned men hold jobs.

It is stated that not 30 per cent. of the thousands who have been retrained locally are following their vocations.

The Telegram was informed that nothing but a rigid inquiry would disclose what is said to be a "tremendous waste" public money involved in this failure to re-establish the Toronto soldier by training him in a new vocation.

O. B. U. ATTEMPTS TO DESTROY TRADE UNION MOVEMENT

Declares Tom Moore, President of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress

Ottawa, Oct. 6. — The One Big Union is an organization which set out two years ago to destroy the International trade union movement. Instead of proceeding against capital it attacked the International movement and sought to destroy it. In some communities the One Big Union efforts have delayed the wheels of progress for the next eight or nine years."

Such as the reference of Tom Moore, President of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, who on behalf of that body, and at the request of the Secretary of the American Federation of Labor, addressed over 130 visiting delegates, representing over thirty thousand workers in the United States and Canada, who were in attendance Tuesday at the ninth biennial convention of the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill workers. The whole of the morning session was devoted to speech making by representative Labor officials and the welcoming of the delegates.

Founded on Theories

Mr. Moore traced the part the International trade union movement played in the lives of the workers of the American continent. He stated that other organizations had failed because they had been founded on theories instead of facts. He drew attention to the representation of labor in the Ontario Legislature and other government bodies. "Politics, religion and race," he said, had no place in a labor meeting.

Paper Industry Well Organized

Referring to the paper industry of America, Mr. Moore said that today it had the greatest and best organization of capital that the world had ever known.

J. T. Carey, President of the International Brotherhood of Paper Makers, spoke on the relation of his organization to the pulp and sulphite and paper mill workers, and at one time said: "The man who is charged from twelve to fourteen cents per pound for newsprint paper is not getting justice."

CANADA PAYS OVER TWO MILLION TO HUN MERCHANTS

To Satisfy Pre-War Debts With Germans — Difficulties in Way of Department

Ottawa, Oct. 6.—Already the department of the Secretary of State has sent two million dollars of Canadian money to the Clearing House overseas to be paid to German merchants and individuals in payment of debts owed by Canadians prior to the war, and secured from them by the Department. In the meantime the Department is encountering certain difficulties with the Clearing House, which difficulties, an official will be dispatched overseas to clear up. One difficulty lies in the fact that Great Britain desires that all communications to the Clearing House be addressed through the Colonial office. The Department objects to this. A further difficulty arises from the fact that Canadian claims are being computed in pounds and not in dollars.

POLES AND SOVIETS SIGN ARMISTICE

Riga, Oct. 6.—An agreement for the signing of an armistice preliminary to peace, not later than October 8, was reached last evening by M. Joffe and M. Dombskie, heads of the Russian and Polish delegation respectively. M. Dombskie told the Associated Press that the details of the agreement would be made public soon. He said that the agreement was on the Polish eleven points declaration, made at the beginning of the Riga conference after M. Joffe's Moscow declaration.

The agreement to sign the armistice by October 8 was reached last evening after an informal conference between Dombskie and Joffe. While it had not been expected so early it did not come altogether as a surprise as reports had been in the air all day that an armistice would be signed within two or three days—by next Saturday at the latest.

The details of the agreement have not yet been announced.

The main commission has been working all day in a routine way on legal, financial and economic questions, when late in the afternoon Joffe and Dombskie went quietly into session with their secretaries and got together on the main questions in dispute between Poland and the Bolsheviki. The protocol was quickly drawn up and the signing of it by both the chairmen followed immediately.

COL. LECKIE HAS BEEN VICTIM OF ILL-FORTUNE

In What Was Designed as Start of Trans-Canada Flight

NO CIRCUS STUNT

Flight Calculated to Prove That Canada Has Pilots and Machines

Halifax, Oct. 6.—Col. Leckie, who arrived from Fredericton yesterday, said the Fairy seaplane behaved very well. He is convinced that he has been the victim of ill-fortune on the way to Halifax but expects better luck on the Trans-Canada flight.

This flight is not a "circus stunt" but is calculated to prove beyond doubt that cross-country flights of great magnitude are feasible and that Canada has an Air Board, pilots, and machines capable of successfully carrying out the longest flights.

Leckie Makes Flight

Halifax, N.S., Oct. 6.—Thetwo seaplanes piloted by Col. Leckie and Major Shearer, which left Fredericton at one o'clock Tuesday afternoon, arrived at the base here safely, the big Fairey machine reaching the station at 4:45 and the station plane following three-quarters of an hour later.

NO APPOINTMENT TILL NEXT SPRING

Brandon to be Without Agricultural Representative Until Spring Comes

As far as can be ascertained in the city today there will be no Agricultural Representative from the Extension Department of the Manitoba Agricultural College appointed in Brandon this year. It was expected that an appointment would have been made immediately following A. B. Weir's resignation last July, but no announcement of a successor has been made. Mr. Weir's appointment was made early in the Spring, six municipalities surrounding Brandon being the district allotted the Agricultural Representative. Much valuable work was accomplished here especially in the war waged on the grasshoppers, and it was felt that another representative would have been appointed at an early date.

However information gleaned this morning is to the effect no appointment will be made this Fall. The real bulk of the Representative's work is done in the Spring and therefore it has practically been decided not to appoint a successor to Mr. Weir until the early months of 1921.

STRONG IMPERIAL NOTE STRUCK BY PRESIDENT OF WOMEN'S PRESS CLUB

Montreal, Oct. 6.—A strong Imperial note was struck last night by Mrs. Murphy, of Edmonton, the president of the Canadian Women's Press Club, in her address at the second session of the eighth conference of the club now being held. Mrs. Emily Murphy stressed the point in the constitution of the club, which declares one of the aims of the club to be the promotion of national sentiment throughout the tenor of the contributions made to national publications by members of the club. The president also suggested that the club be affiliated with the London Society of Women Journalists on equal terms in the future rather than under the arrangements which obtain at the present time.

HUN COMMISSION OPPOSES SEIZURE OF COAL MINES

Advocates Control by State of Every Ounce of Coal Produced

REIMBURSE OPERATORS

But Deprive Them of Authority to Fix Prices—Socialization in 30 Years

Berlin, Oct. 11.—The Socialization Committee appointed by the Government, comprising 21 leaders of the industrial labor world and economic experts, has reported by a majority of one, that it is opposed to the immediate seizure of the nation's coal fields.

The commission was divided into two groups the smaller of which demanded the nationalization of the entire production and distribution of coal. This group supports the findings of the first commission which has since been disbanded, but whose majority recommended immediate confiscation.

Eleven members of the newly organized commission endorsed Walter Rathenau's proposal to give the state absolute control over every ounce of coal produced, thus depriving the operators of any voice in determining the method of disposing of their product or fixing its price. The output of the mines would be taken over by an imperial coal council which would have authority to fix the prices and reimburse the operators.

The commission was unanimous in favor of "far-reaching elimination of capitalistic gains from coal production." The majority of the commission was also convinced of the desirability of withdrawing the nation's coal assets from private ownership, but it was divided over the method by which this is to be achieved.

Rathenau's plan, which was given a small majority of support, provides for the indemnification of the operators for the use of their plants, payment of interest on invested capital, allowances for wear and tear and new equipment and fixed interest for actual capital required for operations.

The commission also favored allowing workers fixed bonus premiums for increased production and social welfare institutions but also suggested penalties in the nature of deductions for decreased output due to the fault of the workers.

The majority group pointed out that if its recommendations were put into effect the operator would at once be deprived of the opportunity of juggling prices as he would no longer be able to market the coal himself.

The majority of the Commission designated the present plan provisional procedure which will logically terminate in complete socialization not later than 30 years, assuming that the ultimate confiscation is fully warranted by the progress of economic developments.

NOW CONSIDER THE RENEWAL OF WHEAT CONTROL

Present Uncertain Market Conditions Said to Be Cause of Proposals

Ottawa, Oct. 11.—The renewal of wheat control, as a consequence of the present uncertain market conditions, has come to be looked upon at Ottawa not only as a possibility but a probability. Wheat control at the last session of Parliament was simply suspended, inasmuch as the Government provided legislation whereby, if conditions warranted, control could, by order-in-council, be renewed.) From reports received here, Sir Henry Drayton and Hon. J. A. Calder are considering making representation on the matter. Mr. Meighen himself leaves for the West at the end of the week and speaks in Winnipeg on the 18th. Undoubtedly the Premier will take up this important question when in the west.

During the past week Messrs. Boyd and Staples, of the Canadian Grain Commission, have been in Ottawa conferring with the Premier and members of the Government.

REFINERS ASK PROTECTION ON FALLING MARKET

Ottawa, Oct. 11—A deputation representing the Canadian sugar refineries waited on the government Saturday asking relief on the grounds that on the rising market their profits were held down by the fixed price of sugar and that therefore on a falling market they should be protected. The Government will consider the request.

WOMEN TRAVEL WHERE OTHERS HAVE TO WAIT

Vienna Newspapers Ask Questions About Swarm of Mysterious Women

Vienna, Sept. 20 (by mail).— The swarm of mysterious women who have made their appearance in the capitals of Central and Eastern Europe have begun to attract the speculative attention of Vienna newspapers.

Perfectly dressed, and nearly always of more than ordinary pulchritude, they seem to travel unhindered over frontiers where the average traveler is treated as a suspect. On crowded trains with the most limited first class accommodations, usually taking a week to secure, they always have the choice compartments at a moment's notice and in hotels with long waiting lists in Warsaw, Prague, Vienna, Belgrade, Bucharest and other cities, they find rooms waiting them.

They travel from country to country on smoothed ways, and frontiers present no terrors to them.

The newspaper belief is that they are principally engaged in smuggling of valuables and securities and foreign moneys under high protection, if they are not espionage agents or possibly combining the two.

There is not a first class hotel in this capital that has not its coterie of these mysterious persons who come and go irregularly and who can be seen by the traveler first in one city and then in another.

CLEVELAND TEAM WINS SIXTH GAME OF WORLD'S SERIES

"Duster" Mails Bests Sherrod Smith in Pitchers' Duel and Cleveland Defeats Brooklyn 1-0—Burns' Long Double in Sixth Inning Breaks Up Best Game of Series

SCORE BY INNINGS:

Batteries—Brooklyn, Smith and Miller, Kreuger; Cleveland, Mails and O'Neill.

Cleveland, Oct. 11. — Brooklyn's chance of winning the World's Series got a further setback today when "Duster" Mails won a pitcher's battle from Sherrod Smith and the Indians won by the smallest possible score 1—0. Cleveland's win made it four out of six for them, and they only need to annex one more victory before being hailed as the world's champions. The afternoon's game was featured by the air tight twirling of both pitchers, although Mails had really the better of the argument. He let the Brooklyn team down with three measly bingles, while the winners amassed seven off Smith.

The teams battled on even terms up until the end of the sixth when Burns long double scored Speaker with the only tally of the game. The Indians made three errors, while the Brooklyn team fielded perfectly, but even this advantage did not put over a win for the Dodgers. The teams meet again Tuesday afternoon.

CLEVELAND MAKES IT THREE OUT OF FIVE IN SERIES

Win Sunday's Game from Brooklyn 8-1—Smith and Bagby Get Home Runs

Cleveland, Oct. 11.—The Indians made it three wins out of five when they simply swamped the Brooklyn Dodgers here Sunday by the score of 8-1. Both teams were in a hitting mood, but the Cleveland team made their hits count for runs at opportune times. Smith came through with a home run in the first inning, with Jamieson, Wambsganss and Speaker on the paths. Bagby also made a circuit smash in the fourth driving in Johnston and O'Neill ahead of him. The two home runs featured the game, and cinched the result for the Cleveland nine.

Jim Bagby, Tris Speaker's pitching ace during the Summer season, came through with a win, while Brooklyn used both Grimes and Mitchell in a forlorn attempt to win the battle. Wheat scored the only Brooklyn run in the first half of the ninth.

SASKATCHEWAN GOVT. APPROVES OF FARMERS REQUESTS

Hon. W. A. Turgeon Reads Resolution Passed Last Session to Commission

IMMEDIATE REDUCTION

All Round With a Large Increase in the British Preference

Regina, Oct. 11.—An unanimous endorsement of the farmers' request for tariff reductions by the Saskatchewan Provincial Government, was the feature of this mornings' session of the Traffic Commission here today, when Hon. W. A. Turgeon, Attorney-General, read a resolution passed at the last session of the legislature which asked, among other things: (1) an immediate and substantial all around reduction of customs tariff; (2) reduction of customs duty on goods imported from Great Britain to one-half the rates charged under the general tariff and that further gradual uniform reductions be made to the remaining tariff on British imports that will insure complete free trade between Great Britain and Canada; (3) acceptance by the Parliament of Canada of the reciprocity agreement of 1911, and (4) placing upon the free list of all stuffs not included in the reciprocity agreement.

NEW POLITICAL ASSOCIATION TO BE INCORPORATED

Saskatchewan Grain Growers Plan Spectacular Drive for Members and Money

Regina, Oct. 8.—Incorporation under the title of "The New National Policy Political Association" was decided upon by the annual convention of the Saskatchewan supporters of the New National Policy in session here. Plans suggested by the provincial committee for a province-wide liberty drive to begin during the first week in November when over 2,700 canvassers will hold meetings on the same day for the same object, which will be "the biggest and most effective piece of work ever accomplished in the province."

Reports Submitted

Reports of financial and general conditions of the work in the province were submitted by delegates from each constituency. So far as the support which the movement is receiving in the rural districts, the testimony was summed up by the chairman, W. J. Orchard, Tregarva, as satisfactory and encouraging. It was pointed out that there has been no canvass made in the three large cities, Regina, Saskatoon and Moose Jaw. This is being witheld for the time being as a matter of policy, it being felt that the citizens will be more enthusiastic when the fire and smoke of an election is evident.

Throw Convention Open

While reporting for the Last Mountain constituency, G. F. Edwards, of Markinch, made the interesting announcement that they had decided to throw open their nominating convention to all comers irrespective of whether they had contributed to the campaign funds.

In some sections of the province little canvassing has been done where the foreign-born are thickly settled. This was reported to be the case in the McKenzie constituency. It was felt, according to Roy Beck, that more time should be permitted for these new Canadians to assimilate the ideas and ideals of the Grain Growers before making any concerted attempt to secure financial support from them.

Have 44,463 Supporters

Presenting the report of electors as compiled from reports of liberty drive canvassers, R. M. Johnson announced a total enrolment of 50,923 names had been reported upon. Of that number 44,463 were supporting "Our candidate," and the remaining 6,400 were Liberal, Conservative, Unionist and doubtful. The total number who had contributed to the funds were 37,102. It was anticipated that the number of eligible votes at the next Federal election would therefore be not less than 22,000.

RAILWAY BOARD TO AGAIN CONSIDER RATE INCREASES

And Determine What Are Fair And Reasonable Traffic Charges

EQUALIZATION OF RATES

In Eastern and Western Canada is Another Point for Consideration

Ottawa, Oct. 7.—The judgment of the Board of Railway Commissioners increasing the passenger and freight rates goes back to the Board for further study of certain definite features is the ruling of the Cabinet on an appeal taken from the judgment of the board, it was announced at noon today.

It lays down the principle that the Government to weigh the evidence and substitute their own judgment for judgment of the Board upon questions of fact arising "would defeat the purpose for which the Board was created and would in the end, be highly prejudicial to the public interest." At the same time, if it were felt that the Board had applied principles that it should not have applied, principles which the Cabinet consider not in consonance with public policy, such appropriate action should be taken as would lead to a finding in which only correct principles would be applied. While therefore not interfering with the new rates in force, the Cabinet recommends that the order be referred back for:

(1) Determination of fair and reasonable rates without taking into account at all for the time the order is in effect, the requirements of the Canadian Nation system;

(2) The establishment of rates meeting to the utmost extent possible, equalization, of freight rates between East and West.

AIRPLANE AIDS FIRE FIGHTERS IN FOREST BLAZE

Transported Fire Fighters to Scene of Blaze Without Any Delay

Washington, Oct. 7—Airplane forest patrols in California were able recently to reach the scene of a fire forty-five hours sooner than had they proceeded by train and pack mule, a report to the army air service shows. An airial observer spotted its blaze in Lassen forest while all foresters were engaged in fighting another fire in the Merced forest. Planes picked up the fire-fighters in the Merced zone and rushed them to the Lassen fire.

"In three hours," says the report, "the fire fighting personnel was on the job fighting the flames, whereas, had they proceeded by train and pack mule, 48 hours would have been consumed.

"The day will come when men and equipment will be caried by airships to the scene of fire, both men and equipment dropped by parachute, while the airship will rain down fire extinguishing chemicals from above."

CARSON ON THE ASQUITH PLAN TO SETTLE IRELAND

Asks for Thought of Encouragement Thus Given to Irish Assassins

London, Oct. 7.—Sir Edward Carson writes a correspondent who asked him for his opinion on ex-Premier Asquith's latest Irish proposal:

"I have no doubt that under a little pressure and after the murder of a few more policemen, Asquith will be prepared to go a step further and suggest that the Sinn Fein party should not only govern Ireland, but Britain as well. The microbe of funk is disintegrating, but pray think of the effect of this insanity on the encouragement of Irish assassins."

TRANS-CANADA PLANE COMPLETES ITS LONG TRIP

Arrived in Vancouver Sunday Morning — Coquahalla Pass Bad For Fliers

Vancouver, B.C., Oct. 19.—With the last 60 miles of the Trans-Canada flight accomplished in 35 minutes, the D.H.9-A plane arrived here at 11:10 o'clock Sunday morning, with Commander Tylee and Captain G. A. Thompson, pilot, on board.

The plane left Merritt at 7:50 o'clock Sunday morning, reaching Aggassiz at 8:45 o'clock. After a short stop there, it left at 10:35 o'clock, landing at Minorua Park 35 minutes later. Both the commodore and the pilots stated that the Coquahalla Pass was the worst part of the whole journey. There was a mist and the wind was very treacherous, requiring most skilful driving on the part of the pilot. When congratulated on the successful completion of the flight, Commodore Tylee stated all the credit was due to the pilots.

At Minorua Park, the fliers were met by Mayor Gale, H. O. Bell-Irving, chairman of the British Columbia executive of the Canadian Air Force association, and Col. Leckie, who was with the plane on the first leg of the bight from Halifax to iWnnipeg.

MAKES ATTACK ON PRESENT TARIFF

Independent Labor Party at Sault Ste. Marie Urges Elimination of Import Duty

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Oct. 19.—Thanksgiving Day made no difference to members of the Tariff Commission, and its scheduled session was held here Monday. The Independent Labor party, a strong factor in this city's politics, attacked tariff protection, urging the gradual elimination of all import duty or taxes on food, clothing, including shoes and boots, tools and machinery used in production, and advocating instead a tax on land values and luxuries.

The local Board of Trade, through its President, J. A. Hussey, presented a comprehensive statement urging a Government bounty of $1 a ton for iron ore mined in Canada, the granting of which, it was maintained, "would involve only a small annual outlay and would bring an overwhelming large return by the stimulation of industrial activity."

The Algoma Steel Company, one of the largest industrial concerns in the country and a subsidiary company of the Lake Superior Corporations, asked the retention of the present protective tariff on steel rails, the company's chief product, to prevent the possible flooding of the Canadian market by similar products of American steel companies. The sitting which was over early in the afternoon, closed the session in Western and Central Canada. In ten days further inquiries will be commenced in Eastern Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces.

ANNULMENT OF MIXED MARRIAGES IS DENOUNCED

Winnipeg, Oct. 19.—The annulment of fixed marriages by the courts of Quebec was denounced as "illegal and contrary to the right of Canadian people" and as a "menace to the moral life of the nation," in a resolution adopted here Monday by the Council for Social Service of the Church of England in Canada. The Council protested against any extension of the present grounds for divorce, while favoring an amendment of the present legislation dealing with judicial separations "in such a way as more effectively to protect the wronged party from unfair and unjust treatment."

MOTION PICTURES MAY REPLACE TEXT BOOKS IN VERY NEAR FUTURE

Philadelphia, Oct. 19.—Motion pictures will eventually displace many text-books in the public schools, predicts Louis Nusbaum, associate superintendent of the schools in this city.

Thirty public schools here now have motion picture machines and rent films from the film exchanges for use in their lessons.

"More can often be learned in five minutes with an instructive specially prepared motion picture film than in an hour of study from the text-book," said Mr. Nusbaum in urging the idea before the property committee of the Board of Education. "Motion picture machines would help out in the text-book shortage."

WILL PARLIAMENT FIND SOLUTION TO END MINERS' STRIKE

Eyes of All Britain Centred on First Session of Parliament This Afternoon — Over One Million Miners Idle and Coal Industry is Paralyzed — Irish Problem Now Takes Second Place to England's Big Strike

London, Oct. 19.—The eyes of all Britain were centred today upon the first session of Parliament after the Summer recess, the entire nation looking anxiously to the legislators for action which might open the way to end the coal strike. Interest in the Irish question which otherwise would have been the first topic of discussion today, waned in the presence of the situation menacing the prosperity of the whole country, and the members assembled with the idea of devoting their entire immediate attention to this pressing topic. Rumors in political quarters beforehand as to the probable developments, dealt mainly with two suggestions—one that, as the result of certain private discussions with political leaders and prominent Labor men, the Government and Miners' Federation would soon get into negotiations again; the other, that the Government is contemplating the dissolution of Parliament to test the opinion of the nation. All rumors of intervention by other unions in the controversy between the miners and the Government ceased for the present.

Hope for Settlement

London, Oct. 19.—Premier Lloyd George is expected to make declarations today at the opening of the British Parliament relative to the situation resulting from the coal strike, and the measures taken by the Government to meet critics. Laborite members of the House have been in conference for several days with the leaders of the Miners' Federation and other great labor organizations, and London hopes that as a result, they have reached some decision tending to bring about a solution of the question that brought about the strike.

Great Britain's mining industry has been almost completely paralyzed by the strike. Reports of idle pits come from all fields in England, Scotland and Wales, but thus far no disorders occurred. The first untoward incident of the strike occurred Monday at midnight at Ton-Y-Pandy, South Wales, when some young colliers collected and started singing the Red flag. Some stone throwing took place but the police finally dispersed the crowd.

Strike is Complete

London, Oct. 19.—The strike of coal miners throughout the country seems complete, for although the miners in some districts appear to have entered the strike in a half-hearted manner there is no sign yet of any break in the ranks of the men, and consequentry the dislocation of the country's industries is becoming widespread.

Nor is there indication of any mediation growing out of Sunday's various conferences, all parties apparently awaiting the re-assembling of Parliament today, when it is expected the discussion of the strike will displace the Irish Home Rule bill, which was the first scheduled business before the House of Commons.

There is an unconfirmed report to night that the Government intends to offer the miners a compromise of one shilling per shift advance, provided they accept submission of the whole dispute to an independent tribunal.

The strike will hit the iron, steel and cotton industries seriously. The great blast furnaces in the Middlesborough district are already beginning to damp down; thousands of furnace men and steel workers are idle. This Teeside district provides a third of the whole British output of pig iron, and it is feared, should the strike be prolonged, that some 25,000 men will be without work.

Liverpool and Manchester announce the impending suspension of the tramway services and among the minor effects of the strike is the countermanding of public school functions. Already the visit of the Prince of ales to the city on Wednesday has been rescinded and it is announced that the pageant, which was to have been a feature of the Lord Mayor's show, entitled, "The Makers of London," has been abandoned, owing to the coal strike.

Frank Hodges, of the miners' union, has issued a statement giving minute figures intended to prove that the miners' wages since 1914 have not

TWENTY THOUSAND BUSHELS OF GRAIN BURN AT JUSTICE

Ogilvie's Big Elevator Entirely Destroyed by Fire Early Monday Morning

Twenty thousand bushels of grain went up in smoke early Monday morning, when fire destroyed the Ogilvie elevator at Justice, Man. The fire was first noticed about two o'clock in the morning when smoke was seen pouring out of the top of the elevator. The fire soon gained great headway and it was impossible for the Justice people to do anything but to stand by and watch the big elevator burn. About four o'clock Monday morning, the walls of the elevator gave way, and the fire burned fiercely for a time. The grain was still burning when the last report was received Monday evening.

Besides the 20,000 bushels of grain, mostly wheat, there was also completely destroyed a large quantity of flour. The flour was stored in the power house, and the fire made short work of the power plant. It is not [illegible] what the loss will be, and the cause of the fire is a mystery.

WILL OPPOSE SUGAR ORDERS

Ice Cream Manufacturers Object to Board of Commerce Orders

Ottawa, Oct. 19.—The clerk of the Privy Council Saturday received a notification from D'Arcy Scott, on behalf of the National Dairy Council, stating that the Council, on behalf of the ice cream manufacturers throughout Canada, will oppose the Board of Commerce sugar orders at the sittings on October 20th.

In addition to opposing the orders on the merits of the case, Mr. Scott proposes to raise several preliminary legal objections to the order.

Mr. Scott contends that under the act establishing the Board of Commerce and the Combines and Fair Prices Act, the functions of the Board, assuming it has jurisdiction, are to prevent the taking of unfair profits and not the fixing of prices, and that the whole spirit and intent of the legislation is to revent unduy high prices from being demanded for necessaries of life and not to assist manufacturers, who are overstocked with a commodity, in trying to keep up prices to an artificial level above fair market value.

COAL STRIKE IN MEXICO SERIOUS

12,000 Miners Now Out of Work—Smelters May Close Too

Mexico City, Oct. 19.—The strike of 12,000 coal miners in the state of Coahuila has assumed grave aspects. Unless an agreement is reached soon it is reported that many smelters and other industries will be closed.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Mr. Donald McEwen, of "Tullichewan," one of the best known farmers of Brandon district, celebrated his eighty-second birthday on Saturday in rather a unique way. As this is the busiest season of the year on the farm, there was no time for special festivities, so Mr. McEwan clebrated by hauling two loads of wheat to the elevator.

BURGLARS AGAIN ATTEMPT TO ROB CLOTHING STORE

Arrival of Police Probably Interrupted Night Prowlers in Their Work

For the second time in six months an attempt was made to enter H. W. Ball's clothing store on Rosser Avenue. Quick work on the part of the police probably saved a large quantity of goods from being taken by the burglars, as several piles of clothing were ready for a quick delivery. Constable Coleman first noticed a rear transom window open and upon further investigation the front door was also found unlocked.

It was early Sunday morning when the constable on his rounds discovered a rear transom in H. W. Ball's store forced. Entering the store it was found that two piles of clothing, one of three suits of clothes and another of shirts and other articles, were ready for a quick get-away. Later examination of the premises by the owner failed to reveal any articles missing, however, so it is more than likely that the thieves were disturbed during their work by the police. The police are working on the case and expect to effect an arrest within a short time.

It is only about six months ago that the store was broken into by Joe Cufflick and a quantity of clothes stolen. Cufflick was arrested later, charged with the theft of the clothes, was found guilty and sentenced to a term in the provincial jail.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES ARE WELL ATTENDED

Special Service Held on Monday Morning — Harvest Decorations at Knox Church

A large number of people attended the Union Thanksgiving service which was held Monday morning in the First Methodist Church. The service was conducted by Rev. J. W. Churchill, Pastor of the First Methodist Church, assisted by Rev. J. George Miller and D. H. [illegible] of Brandon College preached an appropriate Thanksgiving sermon. Mrs. Kenneth Campbell acted as organist in the absence of Mrs. Berry, and appropriate hymns were sung by the choir and congregation.

In practically all the churches on Sunday special Thanksgiving services were held and appropriate sermons preached by the various ministers. At Knox Church, Rev. E. Everton of Brandon College was the special preacher in the absence of the Minister, Rev. R. H. Lowry. A splendid program of music was rendered by the choir. The church was particularly beautiful with its harvest decorations of Autumn foliage, grain, vegetables, fruit and flowers. Even luscious strawberries added their color to the general decorative scheme. The decorations will be left up until after the Thanksgiving meeting Wednesday night after which the vegetables and fruit will be sold.

CABINET MEMBERS TO BE PRESENT IN FULL FORCE

When Sugar Refiners Present Their Case on Wednesday Morning

Ottawa, Oct. 19.—When the sugar refiners present their case tomorrow morning there will be, it is expected, practically a full gathering of members of the Cabinet. While the future course of the Government policy with regard to the sugar order will depend on data still to be submitted by both sides, the view is current that legal difficulties lie in the way of an absolute embargo on the importation of cheap American sugar.

MANY THINGS TO BE THANKFUL FOR

Bishop de Pencier Speaks to Large Congregation on Sunday Evening

"For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea," was the text the Rt. Rev. A. U. de Pencier, Bishop of New Westminster, formerly Rector of St. Matthew's Church in this city, chose for his sermon in St. Matthew's Church on Sunday evening. The service was attended by His Worship Mayor Dinsdale, members of the City Council, the Fire Department and the Police Force, as well as many citizens and members of the congregation who filled the church to capacity. The congregation was led in the singing of the special Thanksgiving hymns by the choir under the leadership of Mr. R. C. Macdonnell, organist and choir leader. An anthem by the choir, "Ye Shall Dwell in the Land," was greatly enjoyed. The soloists on this occasion being Mrs. G. B. Coleman and Mr. Mountain. The service was conducted by the Rector, Rev. E. A. Anderson and just prior to the recessional hymn the choir and congregation sang the "Te Deum Laudamus" as a special hymn of thanksgiving and prai[illegible] God. The church was beautifully decorated with grain, fruit, vegetables and flowers for the Harvest Festival.

"This is the divine purpose and is the great reason for cheerfulness among men who believe in God," said Bishop de Pencier in the opening remarks of his sermon. "Today thinking men are gravely considering the conditions of the world. In Europe, aye, even in Canada, there are forces trying to work the downfall of all that is excellent."

"But the earth shall be filled with the glory of the Lord." This is the promise and we may be sure that God in his own good time will bring this about. He has His own way of carrying out His plans and we, who believe in Him, have been given the great privilege of assisting in the fulfilment of His purpose. When we are assisting in this great work we may be assured of safety."

"The Forward Movement did much to bring about a great change among the people of Canada. Today the greatest thinkers are studying the word of God and seeing how best it can be aplied in business, pleasure, in fact in all the every-day things of life. The Church was not forsaken by business men when the call came for help in the financial objective of the Forward Movement and the members of the Anglican Church subscribed three and a quarter million to carry on the work of the Church."

Much To Be Thankful For

"We have many things to be thankful for on this Thanksgiving Day. We can be thankful that we are Canadians and belong to that Dominion whose name was emblazoned throughout the world by those 60,000 lads who lie overseas and those others who helped in the Great War to make a name for Canada. We must be thankful that we are Churchmen. That one hundred years ago, the anniversary of which we have been celebrating during the past week, one man planted the Church in Western Canada which started the growth which has developed into such a wide field of work today."

"Then as Canadians, Churchmen and individuals, we can be thankful for Health, Peace and Prosperity, and the privilege of following in the paths God has set and assisting in making our Dominion a better place in which to live."

Sunday morning the Bishop was the special preacher at St. Mary's Church. The service was very largely attended and was conducted by the Rector, Rev. J. A. Maggrah.

CONVICTS ESCAPE FROM SING SING PRISON SATURDAY

And Spread Reign of Terror in Making Their Getaway—Still at Large

Ossining, N.Y., Oct. 19.—Posses were searching the hills of Western Connecticut and Westchester County, N. Y., Monday for two convicts who spread terror through that section after escaping from Sing Sing prison Saturday night.

The men are George Stivers, 21, serving a twenty-year sentence for killing a policeman and Marcus Bassett, 25, sentenced for stealing an automobile.

The convicts, who were "trusties," escaped by hiding in an ante-room of the key room and felling two guards with clubs. They may their way to the yard and attacked another guard, obtaining a rifle and a revolver. They stole an automobile and after crossing the state line near Danbury, Conn., held up a garageman, forcing him to replenish their gasoline supply. Later they encountered two automobilists and robbed them of $23, in addition to appropriating their overcoats with which they hid their grey prison clothing.

Near New Milford they held up another garage man.

GEESE AND DUCKS ARE POISONED AT FAIR GROUNDS

Unknown Parties Feed Strychnine and Oats to Wild Fowl

One of the biggest losses that the Fair Board ever suffered in its park features occurred Saturday afternoon when fourteen geese and forty-four ducks were poisoned by some unknown parties. Strychnine mixed with oats was the mixture used to destroy the greater portion of the big pond's flock of birds, the ducks and geese falling rapid victims to the poison spread by some unknown persons. The dead birds were discovered by the caretaker about four o'clock in the afternoon and the remaining ducks and geese [illegible] part of the bird buildings.

No clue has been obtained by police as to who the guilty parties are, or their motives for poisoning the birds, but it is expected that some developments will take place within a short time. The wholesale poisoning of the birds on Saturday leaves only seven geese and six ducks in the big pond now.

NOTED FRENCH GENERAL DIES

General Leman, Defender of Liege, Is Victim of Pneumonia

Brussels, Oct. 19.—General Leman, defender of Liege against the German advance early in the war, died at Liege Sunday from pneumonia.

General Leman was governor of Liege at the outbreak of the war. It was his gallant defence of the city from the German attack just as the drive through Belgium was in full swing, that held up the advance of the German troops for several days. The delay told materially against the Germans in the campaign, which ultimately resulted in their defeat at the Marne.

General Leman was 68 years old.

FOWL SUPPER ATTENDED BY MANY BRANDONITES ON THANKSGIVING DAY

In spite of the cloudy appearance of the afternoon many Brandon people motored to Aleyander on Thanksgiving Day to the fowl supper and concert which was held their Monday evening under the auspices of the Union church in that district. The women of Alexander and district are renowned as cooks ,but they surely excelled themselves in preparing the bumper repast which was served the hundreds of guests that thronged the hall. Three long tables prettiy decorated and loaded down with delicious turkey, salads, and other Thanksgiving dainties including many varieties of pie, had a seating capacity of forty-two each and so great was the crowd that the tables had to be reset several times. Today Brandon people who attended are loud in their praises of this Thanksgiving supper which in abundance and quality made one think of pre war days. At the conclusion of the supper those present enjoyed the concert for which a splendid program had been prepared.

SINN FEINERS AND TROOPS STILL STAGING BATTLES

Barracks Raided and Burned at Ruan — Rioting at Belfast

Ennis, County Clare, Oct. 19.—One constable was killed and two were wounded during a battle Monday with raiders who attacked the Ruan police barracks near here. The other constables are missing. The raiders seized all the arms and burned the barracks.

More Rioting at Belfast

Belfast, Oct. 19.—The rioting in the notorious Marrowbone district of North Belfast by Sinn Feiners and Unionists, which started Saturday afternoon, broke out again Monday night in a more serious form. Troops were obliged to fire into the crowds, killing John Gibson, a shipyard worker. Fifteen persons are in hospitals.

Two deaths occurred Sunday as the result of the rioting on Saturday night. The victims were Matthew McMaster and William Mitchell, who succumbed to gunshot wounds. One man was killed outright during the rioting and several others were seriously injured.

Two Killed in Raid

Dublin, Oct. 19.—Two men were fatally shot Sunday evening during a military raid on a hall in Rutland square, where a concert was in progress. Both the wounded men died Monday morning. The raid caused a panic among the women and children in the hall, and also badly frightened pedestrians in the street near the building. The two men who died from their wounds were shot as they were endeavoring to escape from the soldiers.

STORM DOES SMALL DAMAGE LOCALLY

But Souris Gets Full Force of Electrical Storm—Some Wires Down

Although the rainfall during Monday's storm just totalled .54 inches, the electrical storm Monday night was very severe in many districts and was unusual for this time of year. Very little damage was reported in Bran[illegible] at the Telephone and Telegraph offices, but everything was working as usual this morning. In the Souris district the storm seemed to break in all its fury and some property damage resulted. Some telephone wires were down around Souris as a result of the storm, but it was expected that the service would be operating as usual tonight. The storm seems to have been fairly general throughout the West. Telegraph wires are down West of Moose Jaw and Brandon seems to have escaped rather lightly in comparison with the damage done at other points.

William Howard Taft proceeding to Buffalo, and Sir Walter Cassells to Ottawa. It is understood that a meeting of the arbitrators will be held in this city on November 5 to decide upon the procedure to be followed at the arbitration hearings which will open, according to the latest advices, early in January. These hearing will be held in Montreal.

GOVERNMENT CANCELS BOARD'S SUGAR ORDER

Hearing Arranged For October 20 For Presentation of All Facts

TO PROBE PROFITS

Made By Refiners During the Long Period of Rising Prices

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—The Government has suspended the Board of Commerce order respecting sugar until a hearing can take place on October 20. Meighen has postponed his Western tour for one week.

Action by the Government in regard to the order of the Board of Commerce, fixing the price of granulated sugar at twenty-one cents per pound and confining sales to Canada, came with dramatic swiftness tonight when it was announced to the Canadian Press, Limited, that the order had been suspended pending the hearing before the Governor-in-Council on Wednesday, Oct. 20. Unless reasons can be shown for contrary action at the hearing, the order of the Board will doubtless then be finally rescinded. Meanwhile, as stated, it is suspended.

No Comment Available

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—There was no comment available at the offices of the Board of Commerce this morning, regarding the sugar situation. The members of the Board declared that they could not discuss the matter while things were in their present condition and while the subject was in the hands of the Cabinet.

Profits Will be Probed

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—When the sugar refiners appear before the Cabinet on Oct. 20, full particulars will be required of all profits made in recent years. The present situation of the refiners is regarded in official circles as one undoubtedly worthy of sympathetic consideration. But it is felt that the inquiry should not rest with the present financial difficulties of the refiners. There is also the question of profits made during the war period—whether such profits were distributed or placed to reserve—in fact, the whole recent financial history of the refiners. This history will have to be given by the refiners. With anything less it is felt that the inquiry would be incomplete. An emphatic denial was given today to statements that the Cabinet, in any way, inspired the order of the Board of Commerce. One Cabinet Minister describes the order as a "bolt from the blue."

Protest Meetings Called Off

Toronto, Oct. 15.—News of Premier Meighen having suspended the sugar order of the Board of Commerce for a week, pending further investigation, somewhat allayed the tide of opposition to the Board's order. Numerous protest meetings were called off.

Very Probably Illegal

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—Owing to the importance of the investigation into the sugar situation, and his desire to be present at the hearing and until the question is finally disposed of, Prime Minister Meighen has decided o defer for one week his Western tour. All dates of meetings announced are, therefore, postponed for that length of time.

The decision of the Government was arrived at after a full consideration of the effect of the regulations passed by the Board. This decision, which is set out in an Order-in-Council based upon a report made by Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice, sets out the view that the regulations passed by the Board of Commerce are very probably illegal and that, whether strictly legal or not, they are of a character never intended by the legislation establishing the Board. The view is further expressed that they seem designed to effect a purpose wholly outside the Board's authority.

On these grounds the Government has acted on its own motion, and has declared the order inoperative.

In view of the very great importance of the question involved, opportunity will be given to all interested; for and against, to be heard by the Governor-in-Council if they so desire, and Wednesday, October 20, at 10.30 a.m. has been fixed as the date of the hearing.

WESTERN MANITOBA DENTISTS TO FORM AN ASSOCIATION

As the result of the Dental Clinic held Thursday afternoon and evening in the Prince Edward Hotel, a Western Manitoba Dentists' Association is to be formed. The clinic was conducted by Dr. Bartleman and Dr. Beaty of Cleveland, Ohio, and was attended by all the dentists in this city and also several from outside points. That great strides have been made in the dental profession was clearly shown by these surgeons who demonstrated the various uses of the newest devised instruments in modern dental surgery. These specialists also showed how the dental manufacturing companies are endeavoring to keep pace with the new demands of modern surgery in supplying up to date equipment and instruments.

NITRO-GLYCERINE AND RIFLES FOUND IN PRISON WALL

Plot Uncovered in Portsmouth Penitentiary To Blow Up Structure

DISQUIETING FEATURE

Is That Rifles Could Not Have Been Taken Into Institution By Convicts

Kingston, Ont., Oct. 15.—One of the most daring attempts at jail delivery ever known in Canada has been discovered at Portsmouth penitentiary here, according to a sensational story published by the Kingston Standard. Evidence is said to have been discovered showing that part of the plot was to blow the penitentiary off the face of the earth. It is stated that enough nitro-glycerine to destroy the big prison has been discovered, along with some fuses and a number of deadly weapons.

No official account of the plot has been obtained, but it is stated that the suspicions of the officials of the penitentiary were aroused some time ago, and they at once began a thorough investigation. This investigation is said to have resulted in laying bare the scheme to blow up the prison. The quest for evidence against the supposed plotters involved the tearing away of some structure in the prison, and this revealed several cans of nitro-glycerine and some fuses. The weapons, which included rifles and shotguns, were unearthed in another part of the penitentiary.

One disquieting feature of the alleged plot, according to the Standard, is the belief that the explosives and firearms could not possibly have been taken into the institution by convicts and that some other agency than that of the suspected prisoners must have engineered the daring scheme. What [illegible] or who are behind it may posssibly be revealed in the investigation which is said to have been begun.

When the prison authorities became suspicious of the plot, they put under close confinement four convicts, it is stated, and segregated them. The four are believed to be: Symondski, who in August, 1914, escaped from the Portsmouth prison and almost killed Guards Dowsley and Tatten, and who was recaptured at North Bay; "Cigarette" Brown; "Wash" Kallis, who was sent from the prison at Edmonton, Alberta, to the Portsmouth prison for safe keeping, and a prisoner name Johnson.

WELL KNOWN FARMER EXPIRED ON TRAIN EN ROUTE TO HOSPITAL

Mr. Samuel Windrim, one of the best known farmers of the Rocanville district, passed away very suddenly this morning while on the Manitoba Express en route to Brandon for medical treatment. The late Mr. Windrim, who was fifty-six years of age, became very ill a few days ago evidently suffering from acute peritonitis, and his attending physician, Dr. Armstrong thought best to send him to Brandon for treatment. He however was unable to stand the journey and passed away on the train. His wife and a nurse who were accompanying him brought the body to this city. Dr. A. T. Condell stated this morning that an inquest was unnecessary but that thorough investigation had been made and death was due to acute abdominal conditions.

The remains will be shipped from Campbell & Campbell's undertaking parlors this afternoon to Wapella, Sask., where interment will be made.

TEACHERS ENJOY FINE ADDRESSES ON VARIED TOPICS

Secondary Section Favors Reduction Courses in Science Now In Use

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Miss Strachan, of Melita, President Primary Section—J. Boyd, Brandon, of Secondary

This morning the session of the Teachers' Convention held in the Collegiate Institute, was divided into Primary and Secondary sections, in which special conferences and discussions took place. The principal speaker in the Primary section was Miss K. McLeod of Winnipeg, formerly of this city, while in the Secondary section addresses were given by Messrs. C. Cresswell, Elkhorn, and A. M. Shields, Virden, respectively. There was a large attendance of teachers and a keen interest taken in the various discussions.

This afternoon the most important and final session of the Convention was held when addresses were given by Miss May Bere of Winnipeg; Mr. H. W. Huntley, of Winnipeg and Taylor Statten of Toronto.

Practically every train that arrived in Brandon on Thursday brought its quota of teachers to the Convention and Mr. B. A. Tingley, Secretary-Treasurer of the Association, was kept busy registering the many who attended. The total registration for this Convention is almost 100 more than the total attendance for the 1919 convention and shows an increase of sixty over any previous convention in the history of the Association.

Visitors Entertained

Thursday afternoon the visiting members of the teaching profession attending the convention, were tendered a reception and tea by the teaching staff of the Normal School and the city teachers, in the auditorium at the Normal School. The visitors were received by Mrs. B. J. Hales and Miss Bertha Pilling. Tea was served by some of the Normal students from a large table centered with a pumpkin and decorated with Autumn leaves and foliage.

In the evening the vistors were guests of honor at a musical and dance in the Normal School tendered them by the members of the Brandon Teachers' Association. The large auditorium was packed to the doors on this occasion and all [illegible] musical program which consisted of solos by Mrs. Olive A. C. Wilkins, B.A.; Miss Ruth Morgan; Dr. E. S. Bolton; Mr. George Fitton, and also three dances by Miss Yeoman's pupils. The accompanists were Mrs. Jessie Berry; Mrs. J. Cain; Miss Adeline Bailey and Mr. W. L. Wright. Mr. J. E. S. Dunlop acted as chairman. At the conclusion of the program, excellent music was provided for the dance by Higgins' Orchestra.

Officers Elected

The election of officers was the principal business at both the sessions of the primary and secondary sections this morning. Miss Strachan of Melita was chosen President of the Primary Section and Miss McNevin, Secretary; while Mr. J. Boyd of Brandon, was elected President of the secondary section and Miss Ross of Lenore, Secretary.

Play Natural Life For Child

"Child Study and Literature." This was the subject dealt with in an admirable way by Miss K. McLeod, of the staff of the Winnipeg Normal School who was the principal speaker this morning in the primary section. In the course of her address, the speaker stated that the function of literature was to promote character and that reading was an excellent habit for children to form. There is such an abundance of reading to choose from that it is not necessary to give a child just part of a poem at a time to read. Poems are the gems of literature and should be studied as a unit and not in parts.

"Classes may be instructed as a whole but the learning must be done by the individual. Everything is concrete to children who trust to their senses for the realistic things of life. Play is the natural life of the child and imagination is a most important function."

"Phantasy" governs a child from six to eight years. Anything that a child of this age cannot supply, he 'makes believe.' Home training cannot always be relied on for primary literature and the primary teacher should have special training to supply this deficiency. Reading drills or mechanics in reading are not necessary, for if the child is interested he will learn to read himself.

Miss McLeod gave a number of instances of simple narratives which children like on account of the rhythm of the stories. She recommended Lear's Book of Nonsense for every school; and stated that Eugene Field was one of the best writers for children. The Jungle Books by Kipling were also recommended.

Ideal Forming Period

In the next four years of life the child commences a new stage in his career. He assimilates all practical knowledge and memory work. Phantasy is dead but not the imagination. This is a more purposeful stage of life and is the period for forming ideals. The child has passed from the poetic stage to the prosaic. From eight to fourteen years of age from fifteen to thirty per cent. of what a child learns is permanent. During this stage a child can memorize from three to five thousand lines in a year. True stories, natural history, etc. are suitable for children of this age.

During the conference which followed the address short addresses pertaining to various phases of school work were given by Miss Ida Story, Virden; Miss A. H. Strachan, Melita and Mr. W. R. Beveridge, of Virden. Miss I. Hunter, of Firdale, led the discussion which followed Miss Story's address.

Favor Reduction in Courses

As a result of the conference in the Secondary section where "The Syllabus in Science as laid down by the Advisory Council" was discussed, a resolution, favoring the reduction of the course in science as now in use, was unanimously passed. Mr. Cresswell who opened the discussion stated that he thought the wide science course for grades nine and ten was an imposition both to the teachers and pupils. Speakers during the discussion included Mr. E. Knapp, Mr. W. A. Anderson, Virden; Mr. W. Dakin, Souris; Mr. Nason; Mr. Johannsson, and Prof. Wikins.

"The Teaching of Literature," was the subject of another interesting discussion in this section which was led by Mr. A. M. Shields of Virden. Mr. Shields emphasized the importance of literature in the school curriculum and showed the necessity of overcoming distance in studying the subject. He recommended more reading to the pupils by the teachers and the selection of good literature for use among children.

FINANCES ARE A BIG PROBLEM FOR DOMINION

Sir Henry Drayton Declares Tariff Commission Seeks New Sources of Revenue

CANADA NEEDS MONEY

Budget For This Year Calls For Expenditure of $296,000,000 —Must Produce More

"The problem of raising enough money to meet our obligations is big enough to demand service from us all," said Henry Drayton, Minister of Finance, at a special luncheon tendered to the members of the Tariff Commission by the Board of Trade ,in the Prince Edward Hotel, Wednesday evening. Sir Henry said that Canada is buying too much and producing too little, and he told of the objects of the Commission now touring Canada. Both Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture, and Senator Gideon Robertson, Minister of Labor, also addressed the luncheon. There was quite a number of Board of Trade members present, and they heard three very interesting and instructive addresses.

Sir Henry Drawton prefaced his address with a few remarks on the good work accomplished by Brandon in raising its share of the Victory Loans. On the occasion of this present visit to the West, he said, he was on another mission to raise money, this time by taxes. Canada must stop borrowing, and the Minister of Finance expressed the hope that there would be no big loans in the future. "We are now trying to extract loans without paying for them," he said with a smile. "A job in which there is hardly the same co-operation as that which marked the Victory Loans."

The task now is to find out from the taxpayer where other taxes can come from. The speaker was of the opinion that no one could know too much of the necessities and burdens of the taxpayer. "We cannot get too much light on the subject," he said. The present tour of the Tariff Commission is because the country needs a whole lot of money. The situation today demands the best thought of every Canadian citizen. The budget for this year calls for an expenditure of $296,000,000, and everyone must recognize the more generous obligations. Of this budget $130,000,000 is interest in the war debt, and this does not take into consideration the operation of the Government. "We can all recognize the weight of our obligations," said Sir Henry, "when you consider that in 1914 our total budget for that year was only $164,000,000."

Taking Counsel with Fellow Men

"The situation is too big for any one man or for any one body of men—it can only be properly looked after through the united effort of the Canadian people. So we are taking counthat we are going to do it, said Sir Henry Drayton. "The problem is big enough for our country to demand service from all of us, and as patriotic as we can make it, to the end that production shall continue and that new sources of taxes will be found. The loads are heavy, but what are they to the loads of other countries who entered the war? The thought before us should always be, "Thank God we are in Canada and that we are Canadians, and able to give Canada the best that is in us," concluded Sir Henry Drayton.

To Clear off National Debt

The splendid Exhibition which Brandon holds each year, its splendid management and the fame the Exhibition is gaining throughout the Dominion, formed the opening remarks of an address from Dr. S. F. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture for Canada. The speaker also took occasion to give personal attention to the work of Dr. H. P. Whidden, the member for Brandon, and the esteem in which he is held in Ottawa by his colleagues. Dr. Tolmie is quite confident that the spirit of Canadians sel with our fellow men. We are spending too much and not getting enough. We are buying too much and producing too little," explained the Minister of Finance. He showed the difficulties that are thrown in the way of Canadian markets, and how a favorable trade balance of $2,000,000 last year had dropped $22,000,000 this year.

"What are we going to do about it? We have no fairy wand to restore the dollar to what it ought to be. One way we can help, and that is by reducing the demand of the Canadian dollar in America to the lowest point," declared the speaker. The need of patriotic concern and action was emphasized and it was pointed out that we have not yet paid in substance for our liberty. We haven't yet determined how it is to be done, but we have determined will clear the way to a solution of Canada's debt. One of the greatest possibilities in clearing off the national debt is agriculture, but the speaker showed that unless mixed farming was taken hold of more seriously, that Canada would suffer according in the amount of revenue to be derived from agricultural sources.

Brandon Farmers Praised

The necessity for good live stock on the farms, brought in a word of praise to Brandon stock breeders for raising the best in the world, while Dr. Tolmie also told of the experiments being made at the various Experimental Farms to secure better fodder. The need of better hay stack and silo insurance to Western Canada farmers was pointed out, and the Minister of Agriculture again urged strongly the wiping out of scrub stock and the introduction of first class stock. There are great opportunities for better agricultural education, he said, but the men with whom the Department of Agriculture have the most trouble with, are the men who keep scrub stock. After relating the steps leading to the development of the sheep and bacon market, Dr. Tolmie concluded his remarks by stating that if agriculture is to succeed up to its standard it must have the support and co-operation of the business man.

A Better Spirit

"The thought has just struck me while Dr. Tolmie was delivering his address," said Senator Gideon Robertson, Federal Minister of Labor, "that if employers of labor showed the same spirit of welfare for their workers as McGregor does for his stock, whether there kouldn't be a better spirit throughout the whole Dominion. Isn't it well worth thinking about, that the welfare of the human element in our industrial life, should receive the same careful consideration that our live stock does?" Senator Robertson said that the relations between capital and labor in Canada are better than in any other country, but that there is still room for improvement.

The work of the Department of Labor, and of the service it is endeavoring to give the Western people, was outlined by the speaker. The organization of the Government Employment Service Bureau has done much to solve the employment question, and he told of the work of the Department of Labor in securing some 33,000 harvest helpers for Western Canada this year.

COST OF LIVING REACHES APEX IN UNITED STATES

Hoover Advises Program to Control Downward Readjustment, in Interests of All

PROTECT INDUSTRIES

Labor Can Hold Up Wages by Increased Production, He Declares

Topeka, Oct. 14.—The apex of the high cost of living has been reached in the United States, and from now on, prices will undergo a continuous downward readjustment, H. Hoover declared here last night. "If this price readjustment is not based on a plan providing easy stages in the descent, it will go down with a crash and result in the destruction of countless industries," Hoover continued. "America needs a national program to control this downward readjustment and protect our industries from ruin. Labor wages do not need to come down with the high cost of living, if labor increases production."

CABINET COULD NOT AFFORD TO WASH ITS HANDS

Of Railway Rate Increases Granted by Commission—To Be Reconsidered

BAR OF PUBLIC OPINION

Soon to be Faced by Government So Popular Clamor Counts

Ottawa, Oct. 14.—The West did well to refuse to accept lying down the decision of the Railway Commission in the railway rates case. This is shown by the action of the Cabinet in referring the matter back to the Commission, especially directing its atention to Chairman Carvell's admission that in the past the West had been discriminated against and expressing the opinion that rates East and West should approximate to a common basis. What the final result will be it is impossible to say; but the Cabinet could not afford to wash its hands of the matter.

The fighting man always commands respect and usually commands admiration, it being recognized that he has to be taken seriously. When an appeal to the Cabinet was decided upon the powers that be realized that there was more than noise in the protest from the prairies. They knew that the West meant business. Nor is it surprising that the appeal was made. It is a mistake to take lying down anything that you don't like especially a touch that takes from $100,000,000 to $125,000,000 a year. The prairie country is a wonderful producer but it takes a lot of work to clean up over $100,000,000 a year in profits.

Justified in Appealing

Under any conditions the West was justified in appealing, but the 50 cents a bushel drop in the price of wheat during the last three weeks has doubly justified such action. For the farmer, the days of fat profits, if he ever really enjoyed them, are pretty well over. From now on, what he clears will be hard earned money, this being especially true of the prairie farmer who is chiefly a grain grower and who must sell in a world market. An increase of thirty-five per cent. in freight rates when wheat was $2.50 a bushel was objectionable; but it is much worse now that the price hovers around the $2.00 mark. And this is the situation that confronts the prairie farmer today.

The action of the Cabinet in referring back the decision occasions no surprise. There has been an impression that the request of the railways was granted all too readily. The calm and thoughtful consideration, the impartial and careful weighing of evidence, which is characteristic of such a court as the Railway Commission assumes to be, we lacking in this case. There was, apparently, too ready an assumption that the railways were right and the public was wrong. The granting of increases aggregating $100,000,000 a year is not a matter for a hurry-up decision, but for deliberation. Before a decision of such importance is given not only should the railways make out their case, but time should be given those opposing the increases to thoroughly challenge and investigate the grounds on which such application is made. Moreover, the Commission should, through its own efforts, thoroughly satisfy itself that the request is justified. Several years ago when rates were reduced it took three years to do so; but this time it only took three weeks to increase them all the way from 35 to 40 per cent.

Public Must be Heard

Whether the public is right or wrong in its contentions, it will be heard. The Cabinet, which at no distant date must go before the bar of public opinion knows this. It also realized that the public demands a square deal, that it has a right to insist on a most thorough, rather than a hastily conducted inquiry. And with this respectful fear of the public before its eyes, the Cabinet said to the Railway Commission, you had better look over this again.

Not only did the Cabinet act wisely, but unless it were bent on self-destruction, it could not very well do otherwise than it did. There is no use talking about the rule of the people and then denying them an adequate hearing. It is possible that during the stress of war when things had to be done in a hurry, and when there was little time to consult the people, this sound principle of action may have been forgotten; but now when normal conditions are being restored, when the exigencies of the situation demand that ministers meet the people, there is but one course to take, namely to recognize their authority.

By-Election Contests

By-elections are being fought in different parts of the country. In these contests ministers are taking a very important part; public questions are being discussed and naturally the freight rates case receives attention. Had the Cabinet refused to take this action it would have been subjected to very telling criticism. This was especially likely to happen on the prairies, where the Prime Minister and Mr. Calder are to begin an extended tour.

Politicians, as a class, are not taking many chances these days. The voice of Democracy is abroad in the land and the politicians know it. There is also a recognition of the fact that to the Democracy an accounting will soon have to be made for the deeds done in office. Those in close touch with the situation have felt that the Prime Minister, being a Western man, and realizing how heavily the increase in rates rests on the prairie people, would be inclined to give the decision a second thought. So not only has the Railway Commission been asked to make further inquiries, but the broad principle has been laid down that discrimination against the West is not only unjustifiable, but should cease.

An Election is Coming

No argument is required to bring one to the conclusion that other influential members of the Cabinet took a view of the case similar to that of the Prime Minister. It is to be observed that of the eight ministers who heard the appeal, four were from the West, the Prime Minister, Sir James Loughead, Calder and Sifton. Having been in the Senate for a quarter of a century, Sir James Loughead is hardly so sensitive to public opinion as those who must stand for re-election; but during the hearing of the appeal he suggested that the situation was one calling for a complete revision of railway rates. No one knows the prairie people better than Hon. J. A. Calder and one may be sure that he suggested caution. Hon. A. L. Sifton is another who would recommend the soft pedal. So one can readily understand how it happened.

All Things Not Expedient

It is possible that even if the decision had been rendered in strict accordance with the evidence submitted it might still have been referred back. All things are lawful; but all things are not expedient, especially when election talk is in the air. Besides, the increases granted were so large that it was nothing more than good policy to ask the Commission to review the matter, and to make sure that a mistake had not been made. The public will stand only so much, and there is an impression that the limit has been reached in the matter of railway rate increases. It may also be taken for granted that the present Prime Minister knows more about public opinion on this subject than Sir Robert Borden did. The present ministry keeps its ear pretty close to the ground.

It goes without saying that with the general public the action of the Cabinet meets with approval. There exists in the public mind the impression that the Commission has recently shown an inclination to assume too arbitrary an attitude towards those who with right profess to represent the public. It may be that this is attributable very largely to the unfortunate way that Chairman Carvell has of referring to bodies that are supposed to be voicing public opinion. But whatever the cause may be, undeniably the feeling exists, that the public has not received sufficient consideration. This is regretable for more reasons than one; but chiefly for the fact that it has a tendency to impair the usefulniss of the Commission in public estimation. And it must be remembered that it was created for the express purpose of protecting the public interest.

Commission's Decisions Subject to Review

Fortunate it is that the decisions of the Commission are subject to the review of the Cabinet. Were they not, a decision once rendered, no matter how unwise it might be, would be without appeal. In ordinary matters, this might not be of an important nature. But when it relates to the increasing of railway rates that may take from the people an additional $100,000,000, or more, it is a different matter.

Whatever the final decision may be the action of those who refused to be satisfied with the decision of the Railway Commission, but insisted on an appeal, has been abundantly justified. The public has a right to insist on justice and when its case is good, nothing less than justice should satisfy. But the West has gained more than a mere referring of the matter back to the Commission; it has received from the Cabinet a statement that, as a principle of public policy, one scale of rates for the East and another for the West is unjustifiable. The value of this declaration it is difficult to estimate. Not only was it worth fighting for but it is worth a thousand times the amount of money, time and general effort that has been expended in this struggle.

The new situation that has been created may not make any easier the problem of making ends meet on the Canadian Nationals; but it would be a great mistake to make the cost of operation on this very badly disjointed and costly operated road the basis of rates on both it and the Canadian Pacific.

LARGE ATTENDANCE FINE ADDRESSES AT CONVENTION

Mayor Dinsdale Welcomes Teachers and Reminds Them of Their Opportunities

MAKING SCHOOLS NATIONAL

Dr. H. P. Whidden Says Schools Must Be National in Outlook and Spirit

With nearly 375 teachers in attendance, a larger enrollment during the first morning than for the entire session last year, the thirty-sixth annual convention of the Western Manitoba Teachers' Association opened this morning in the Collegiate Institute. Although registration commenced at 9.30 teachers from outside points were still registering at noon and it was expected that many more would register this afternoon and that the total attendance would far exceed previous years. This evening the visiting teachers are being entertained at the Normal School where they will be the guests of the members o fthe Brandon Teachers' Association. A splendid musical program has been provided and an orchestra will provide music for the dancing which will follow the program. At the close of this afternoon's session the teachers were entertained at a reception and tea at the Normal School. Special street cars conveyed the members from the Collegiate to the Normal School.

Among the many important items on Friday's program, which appeared in a previous issue, will be an address by Miss May Bere of Winnipeg, who addressed the Women's Canadian Club this afternoon. Her subject will be "Psychology in the Schools." She will speak at the Friday afternoon session.

Practically every available seat in the Collegiate auditorium was taken this afternoon when the first general session commenced wih Mr. E. Knapp, President, in the chair. The meeting was opened with community singing under the direction of Inspector Hunter formerly of this city and now of Deloraine. Routine business occupied the earlier part of the afternoon's program and this was followed by a short address from the President who referred briefly to the change made during the year in the teachers' remuneration and also to the improved status of the teacher. The speaker also made several announcements regarding the program for the convention which last year was planned to last three days but owing to the delay in getting permission from the department would only be a two day session.

Mayor Welcomes Teachers

His Worship, Mayor Dinsdale, welcomed the teachers to Brandon and made special reference to the teachers' profession as a profession of opportunities to instruct and train the children in the right paths of life.

A short address was also given by Mr. Anderson, of Carberry, who explained the work being accomplished in connection with the Retirement Fund.

Making Our Schools National

The address of the afternoon was given by Dr. Howard P. Whidden, M.P., President of Brandon College, who took for his subject, "The Making of our National Schools," or rather "The Making of our Schools National."

In the course of his remarks the speaker said, "The time has come in the history of our country when our schools, supported and directed provincially, shall be made national in outlook and spirit. In accomplishing this, the flag, national songs and national stories, will continue to have an important place, but there must be more than mere sentiment.

"There should be the working out of common standards; a program of study having much in common, and most of all a common Canadian consciousness with a common national purpose.

"A provincial outlook must make way for the Dominion outlook. This will probably be effected most readily by the teaching of some of the simplest subjects such as history or geography, from a local centre to the widest reach of the national circumference.

Particular problems will of course have to receive special methods of treatment in dealing with children of the non-English who have settled in our country. But even here the child mind is easily led to seize upon the story and traditions of their new home country.

"The Canadian Educational Conference held a year ago in Winnipeg, if followed up in a practical way, should assist in accomplishing the purpose we have in mind in treating this subject. Manitoba schools are as good as any in Canada, but they will be the best in Canada only when they become the most fully Canadian."

During the afternoon a letter was read from Mr. Roy B. Hunter, General Secretary of the Y.M.C.A., extending the privileges of the Association to the visiting teachers.

Model Classes

In this age when everyone seems to be economizing it seemed particularly fitting that "Economy of Time in Teaching" should have a place on this morning's program at the Convention. Mr. Alfred White acted as chairman, and demonstrations of the teaching of spelling in grade six and in grade three were given by Miss E. Ritchie and Miss M. G. Fraser, respectively. Mr. A. Black gave an interesting demonstration on "Making Physical Drill Interesting." These demonstrations were made all the more interesting by the presence in each case of a model class of students who, under the direction of the teachers, demonstrated the mehods usd.

Prize winning school exhibits from rural schools are on view during the convention in the chemistry rooms of the Collegiate Institute. Schools represented include Alexander, Minlota, Beulah, Souris, Arrow River, Cypress River and Isabella. The Souris exhibit has a splendid showing of sewing, and the collection of weed seeds, raffia work and paper work in the Alexander exhibit is also very good. A model Ogilvie's elevator in this exhibit is attracting much attention.

SUGAR IMPORTATION IS PROHIBITED BY ORDER OF BOARD

Commerce Board Issues Statement Setting Forth Reasons for Order

Ottawa, Oct. 14.— The fixing of the retail price of granulated sugar at a price not higher than 21 cents per pound, plus freight, and the prohibition of importations of refined sugar, are the features of an order issued last evening by the Board of Commerce of Canada dealing with the sugar situation. The order remains in effect until the end of the present year. Prohibition of importation is provided for in the first three paragraphs of the order, which state that: "Whereas in the view of the Board of Commerce of Canada it is in the public interest that the transactions as to buying and selling of refined sugar should be limited to certain strictly defined channels, the Board prescribed the following regulations governing the same:

"(1) Refiners are restrained from selling sugar otherwise than to wholesalers, manufacturers, or retailers, and such wholesalers, manufacturers or retailers are restrained from buying sugar otherwise than from such refiners.

"(2) Wholesalers are restrained from selling sugar to other than manufacturers or retailers and such manufacturers or retailers are restained from buying sugar otherwise than from such wholesalers.

Then follow regulations fixing the maximum price and making special provisions governing sales in small lots.

2 Cent Profit Guaranteed

It is provided that wholesalers must sell to retailers at a price which will enable them to resell at 21 cents per pound and realize, freight paid, a profit of two cents per pound. The sale price by refiners will include a commission of one-half cent per pound for the service of distributing to the retailers.

The Board of Commerce also issued a lengthy statement reviewing the sugar situation and setting forth the reason for the issuance of its order. In this document it is stated that the predecessors of the present Commissioners laid down the principle that it was the duty of the Board no less to protect the trader on a falling market than to protect the consumer on a rising market. The Board points out that all the sugar refineries in Eastern Canada have closed because of the fact that, owing to the embargo on export, which was put on to protect the consuming public, they have excess supplies on hand. Values of sugars bought and to arrive under these conditions are placed at approximately $60,000,000.

Refiners Face Crisis

"Thus it will be seen," says the statement, "the refiners face a situation which is frankly critical and becoming daily more acute. The refinery works are closed, the vast capital concerned is tied up and wasting, and the refineries are being in some cases already carried by the banks."

The Board draws attention to the fact that "refiners have during recent months, in co-operation with the Board, made reductions totalling 4 1-2 cents per pound from the highest price, representing values of several million dollars. A present further reduction would entail on the refiners' losess which would in the view of the Board exceed their resources."

To Prevent Purchase of Refined

The Board's statement says: "The Board's order, apart from the immediate reduction to $18.50 per hundred lbs. to wholesalers, providing for reasonable profits of wholesalers and retailers and permitting a miximum retail price of 21 cents per pound, will have, and is intended to have the effect of preventing the purchase of refined sugar outside of Canada, thus permitting the marketing at a loss, but not a ruinous loss, to refiners of the refinery stocks on hand, and increasing the prospect of a speedy resumption of operations on the part of the Canadian refineries.

"The Board has no hesitation in stating that the sugar situation in Canada justifies the action taken. It is the obvious and proper means of saving an important industry from threatened ruin."

The order is signed by Chief Commissioner W. White, K.C., and Commissioners F. A. Acland and G. A. Dillon.

Would Be Unfair Profit

The order provides that sales of granulated sugar by retailers thereof (whether or not the sugar is wrapped or delivered at a price higher than 21 cents per pound, plus freight, if any paid, will be deemed by this Board to have been made at a price which includes an unfair profit. Where sales in small quantities are demanded and, by reason of currency limitations, it is impossible to make exact payment for sugar in exact conformity with the provisions of the order, then if the demanded sale is of one pound and the price, in exact conformity with this order, is 21 1-4 cents or less, the sale, if made, shall be made for 21 cents. Generally where small quantities are sold, the dealer must adapt his price charged to currency conditions by marking down the price and not by marking it up, the whole notwithstanding anything in this order contained."

The expression granulated sugar does not include icing sugar, lump sugar, nor sugar in cartons. The various grades of yellow sugar shall be governed by the same rules as granulated sugar, maintaining the existing price differentials from granulated sugar as appear on the various refiners' price lists.

October 31, Protest Time Limit

The provisions of the new order do not apply to contracts for the purchase of sugar from any source prior to the date of the order. The Board allows until October 31st for any protests to be filed against the order.

Orders 82 and 88 of the Board are rescinded, but all penalties provided in these, with relation to the sale and purchase of sugar, remain in force.

A POOR SORT OF REVENUE

The representatives of the Western farmers appearing before the Tariff Commission are urging that a tax should be imposed upon unimproved land values as one means of raising Canada's necessary revenue in lieu of the tariff.

The City of Edmonton is advertising at the present time a sale of lands upon which the taxes have not been paid. There are over ten thousand lots on the list of delinquents.

If the City of Edmonton cannot collect on these unimproved lands how could the Dominion step in and impose an additional tax, asks the London Free Press. Between the municipalities and the provinces, which in the West assess wild lands, there is little opportunity for the tax collectors of Sir Henry Drayton. The taxation of unearned increment of land values will never run the Dominion and meet the interest on our war debt.

BLAMING THE TARIFF

Several briefs presented by farmers and farm women to the Tariff Commission at the sitting in this city on Wednesday, dwelt at considerable length on the hardships and privations of life on the farm. In one or two instances pathetic events were revealed. Farm life was painted as one of drugery and toil, and the implication was that because of the protective tariff, those who endured them were robbed of the fruits of their industry. An instance was cited showing the desire on the part of those most concerned to leave the farm, and again the implication was that they were chained there by the protective tariff which presumably enabled others not engaged in farming, to loll in ease and comfort.

No one who has the least knowledge of farming supposes for one instant that life on the farm is the ideal existence. People who live in towns and cities in Canada are not so far removed from the country as to indulge in any such foolishness. Successful farming, and unsuccessful farming even more so, are occupations involving ardous toil, considerable skill, and long hours, particularly at certain seasons of the year. Drugery there is, particularly on the part of those whose efforts meet with least success. There are however hundreds of thousands of workers in Canadian cities and towns who will be loath to admit that their farmer friends work any longer hours, or do any harder labor, year round, than they do. They toil as do the men on the land, to keep body and soul together, to provide food, shelter and clothing, and keep up a respectable appearance. And at the end, unlike the farmer, their estates consist not of broad acres but of sufficient insurance to pay funeral expenses and provide a few dollars to keep the wolf from the door until such time as survivors secure some sort of employment. Not all farmers leave a homestead clear of encumbrances, but more of them do, than of the city workers whether they labor with brawn or brain.

Failure greets the efforts of men and women in all walks of life, and the failures among farmers are not more numerous, according to the number engaged, than in other occupations.

Unfortunately for the implication that the protective tariff chains people to the land where they cannot do other than grub along with the bare necessities of life, one of those who gave evidence, assented to the summary by Sir Henry Drayton, that "You came here 28 years ago with $6,000 capital, worked hard, and today have a profit of $30,000."

The same issue of the newspapers which contained a summary of the Tariff Commission proceedings also recorded the death of a farmer at Glenboro, Manitoba. This farmer, Stephen Christie, by name, came to an unfortunate end as the result of an accident. It was recorded of him that he was born in Iceland and came to Canada with his parents when he was twelve years old. The family was said to be penniless, and ignorant of the language and the methods of this country. He settled in the Glenboro district in the pioneer days, without means, yet, at the time of death, he was the owner of three sections of land, fully equipped with modern buildings, farm machinery and stock. He also owned a modern residence in the town. He was but 56 years of age when stricken down.

The instances quoted, which might be duplicated thousands of times, indicate that the protective tariff proved no insurmountable barrier and while it is not shown that it contributed towards the success attained, it does show that Canada—under the protective tariff, which we have had for over forty years—is a land of opportunity.

Laying the onus for failure on the tariff is comparable to that old standby of empty handed hunters, blaming it on the gun.

A SWEET MESS

The Meighen Government is alive to the seriousness of the situation created by the action of the Board of Commerce in prohibiting the importation of sugar into Canada, and establishing a fixed price. Shortly after the Board issued its order and a statement of the reasons therefore, a Cabinet meeting was called and suspension of the order was decided upon. This suspension is to be effective until a hearing can be held on October 20th when all the facts may be set forth.

The action of the Board of Commerce was a most extraordinary one. Created to protect the consumers from the rapacity of profiteers, it has manoeuvered and vacilated until it blossoms forth as the protector of protected interests. Because of the minute relief it afforded Canadian consumers at one stage of the rising market, and because forsoothe in the effort to unload accumulated stocks of sugar, the market is falling rapidly, the refiners were to be sheltered and public gouged.

It would appear as if the Board of Commerce had delegated to itself the power of regulating the pace of price readjustment which no less an authority than Herbert Hoover declares must come slowly.

The Government's prompt action will ensure the presentation of all the facts in such fashion that their relationship may be studied and such action taken as will be deemed to be in the public interest. That it will be a continuance of the Board's order may well be doubted.

An explanation of the action of the Government in suspending the Commerce Board's order until a rehearing, and the apparent contrast with its action in the ruling of the Railway Commission on rates, may be found in the difference in status of the Commission and the Board. The Board of Commerce has not for a long time enjoyed public confidence. From the time of its inception until the present it has gone down steadily in the estimation of the people. A checkered career within a rapidly narrowing sphere, was followed by a state resembling that of suspended animation, till it blossomed forth as the champion of the interests rather than of the consumers it was designed to protect. The Railway Commission has enjoyed public confidence since its creation. It has rendered valuable service to the Canadian people, and though recent appointments and its conduct of public affairs have not been unchallenged, its undoubted services gives its rulings an altogether different status to those emanating from the Board of Commerce.

BOYCOTTING BRITISH LABOR

At a meeting held in Chicago to promote a curious plan for the boycotting of British goods, John Fitzpatrick advanced the following extraordinary argument in favor of the project: The working people of England have no more to say about their government than have the working people of the United States. The workers of England must be made to feel the displeasure of the other workers of the world. A boycott of British goods will hurt the British workers, and that will make them more radical and more revolutionary. Then there will be a new power in England—as there is in Russia!

It would be difficult to compress more absurdities into the same number of sentences, says an exchange. The real grievance of the Fitzpatricks is that the workers do not adopt their delusions and show no enthusiasm for "the new power in Russia," a power that has known how to destroy, to inflict widespread misery, to create chaos and civil war, but has proved itself quite incompetent to lay the foundations of a better system than the faulty one it ruined. The workers of the world prefer the present system—with all its imperfections — which are remediable—to Lenin's substitute, which brings starvation, pestilence and death.

The workers of England and America have as much to say about their respective governments as they care to say and as much as any other element has to say. What they say happens to displease a few noisy radicals. As to the notion that a boycott of British goods will make the British workers angry, not with the boycotters who seek to injure them, but with their own elected representatives, who carry out the will of the electorate as freely expressed at the polls, it is worthy of those minds that affect to admire the fruits of Bolshevism at a perfectly safe distance while taking excellent care to enjoy all the benefits of the "capitalistic" system they profess to abhor.

GIANT AIRPLANES TO BE USED BY THE U.S NAVY

Eight Torpedo Seaplanes to Be Stationed at San Diego, California

New York, Oct. 16. (By Canadian Press)—Great airplanes, with a cruising radius sufficient to enable them to cross the Pacific Ocean, are now under construction and will probably be available for use by the United States Navy Department early next Spring, it is announced by the Manufacturers' Aircraft Association.

Eight torpedo seaplanes with a cruising radius of 400 miles, the Association announces, will be stationed at San Diego, Cal., where they will co-operate with the United States Pacific fleet and coast defenses. These planes, brought from Cleveland aboard 23 cars, comprised the largest shipment of fighting aircraft in the United States since the armistice.

Each of the torpedo planes has a total gross weight of 11,910 pounds, including load of 4,590 pounds. In addition to pilot, navigator and gunner, each machine will carry a 1,650 pound torpedo, 450 pounds of bombs, two machine guns, various instruments and accessories, and fuel for four hours' operation.

RUBE MARQUARD DRUMMED OUT OF ORGANIZED BALL

Found Guilty of Ticket Scalping in World's Series—Pitcher Gets Heavy Sentence

Cleveland, O., Oct. 13.— "Rube" DeMarquis Marquard, Brooklyn pitcher, terminated his long and somewhat checkered career as a baseball player Tuesday morning, when he was drummed out of organized baseball by President Heydler, of the National League. The "Rube" appeared in the local municipal court charged with ticket scalping, was found guilty, but only fined the nominal sum of one dollar and costs, his punishment at the hands of the league president being considered sufficient.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 13.—President Charles Ebbets, of the Brooklyn Nationals, said Marquard would never again put on a Brooklyn uniform. Ban Johnson, president of the American League, declared Marquard would not be signed by any American League club.

CRIMINAL CODE RESPECTING FIRES

Penalty Provided for People Who are Guilty of Carelessness

The amendment to the Criminal Code which became law on June 6, 1919, and which provides penalties for carelessness resulting in fires, is not as generally known and its full import realized as it should be. Section 515 of the Criminal Code was amended by inserting the following sub-section:

"(1) Everyone is guilty of an indictable offence and ilable to two years' imprisonment who by negligence causes any fire which occasions loss of life or loss of property.

"The person owning, occupying or controlling the premises in which such a fire occurs, or on which such fire originates, shall be deemed to have caused the fire through negligence if such person has failed to obey the requirements of any law intended to prevent fires or which requires apparatus for the extinguishment of fires or to facilitate the escape of persons in the event of fire, if the jury finds that such fire or the loss of life, or the whole or any substantial portion of the loss of property, would not have occurred if such law had been complied with."

The Act was further amended by Section 515A which provides penalties for the refusal of any body or person to make alterations, remove materials or supply apparatus with a view to fire prevention when ordered to do so by the proper authorities.

GLENBORO SHOCKED BY TRAGIC DEATH OF A PROGRESSIVE FARMER

Glenboro, Man., Oct. 13.—The community was shocked over the tragic death of Stephen Christie, one of the most progressive and popular citizens of this community. Mr. Christie, whose farm is about six miles Southwest of the town, arrived home about 9 o'clock. He unhitched the horses and took the bridles off, but overlooked to unhitch one tug. The horses became frightened, and in attempting to get the horses under control he was run over. The wagon passed over him, and he was severely injured. He was picked up shortly after and removed to the house, but he expired, after terrible suffering, two and a half hours after the accident.

GERMAN ARMY DOCTOR BUSY IN SASKATCHEWAN

So Busy That He Drives C. E. F. Veteran From Foreign Settlement

Regina, Oct. 16.—The G.V.A. will delve into the allegation that a former German army doctor has driven an ex-C.E.F. doctor from his practice in a Saskatchewan village.

Secretary A. T. Hunter, of the G.W.V.A., said: "Immediately on receiving the report, I took the matter up with leading doctors in the city. According to the report received this German doctor came out to this country after serving four years in the German Army and was granted a permit to practice. The law provides that in a district where there is no doctor a permit can be issued for a doctor to practice pending his passing the Saskatchewan examination so long as he is a properly qualified man. But that is only in places where there is no other doctor practising. In this particular instance there was already a C.E.F. doctor practising in the settlement which is a German one."

"The veterans object not only to the unfair competition with one of their own members, but also to a German doctor being allowed into the country at all. Germans are not allowed to land in the old country."

THERE IS A LAW TO STOP INDISCRIMINATE SALE OF FIREARMS IN CANADA

Ottawa, Oct. 13.—There is a law on the statute books to prevent the indiscriminate sale and improper possession of firearms in Canada, but it is doubtful whether that law is being properly enforced. While protests against the increasing number of revolvers carried by persons in various cities of Canada are reaching Ottawa, officials here point out that there is a law to check the sale and carrying of dangerous weapons, if the provincial municipal and city authorities wish to enforce it.

THIRD ANNUAL SHEEP AND SWINE SALE AT ARENA

Manitoba Breeders Hold Sale of Carefully Selected Animals

NOT SO MANY SHEEP

Entered For Sale As Last Year Owing to Strict Regulations Adopted

Manitoba breeders will hold their third annual sale of sheep and swine in the Winter Fair Arena on Thursday, October 28th. The sale will commence at 9.30 in the morning and will probably be attended by a large number of buyers from all parts of Manitoba. There will be offered at the sale 162 pure bred sheep, 200 grade sheep and 45 pure bred pigs. The stock to be offered has all been subject to inspection and according to Manager Smale will offer choice buying to those attending the sale.

The number of sheep entered this year does not compare with the number entered in 1919, because of new regulations put in force by the sheep breeders. Last year there were nearly 1,000 grade sheep offered for sale in th Arena, and there was no limit as to the number breeders could offer. Consequently several breeders offered over 100 sheep each, while the record lot was 185. This year a regulation is in force that no breeder can offer more than twenty sheep for sale. The idea is, said Mr. Smale, not to make a dumping ground at the Brandon sales for large flocks of sheep. The sheep to be offered this year have all been inspected and selected, so that the number of pure breds offered almost equal the number of grades to enter the auction ring.

The swine entries for the sale exceed the number entered in 1919, and the success of this sale is already assured. There is a splendid demand at the present time for the pure bred stock which will be offered and the swine should bring some high prices when they enter the Arena on Thursday, October 28th.

It is the belief of the Department that the regular testing of individual cows will prove the most valuable feature of herd management that can be adopted.

WORK STARTED ON MONSTER TUBE

New York, Oct. 16.—Construction of a vehicualr tunnel under the Hudson River between New York and Jersey City started this week with the breaking of ground for one of the tube's big arishafts. State, county and municipal officials from both states were invited to participate in the ceremonies in Manhattan.

Engineers expect to complete the structure by 1924. The cost, estimated at $29,000,000, is to be borne equally by the two states. Shore works, including shafts and approaches, will require 18 months to construct, after which actual work of boring under the river is to begin.

Continued congestion at the ferries between New York and New Jersey prompts the belief of tunnel engineers that 5,600,000 motor and horse-drawn conveyances will use the tube in 1924, with traffic showing a steady increase, reaching an annual figure of 22,000,000 vehicles by 1943. Tolls based on the ferry rates will be levied for 20 years to pay for the tube, and then it would be free for the use of all.

Four driveways, two in each direction, will be provided. A sidewalk, two feet in width, also is planned. The tunnel, comprising twin cast-iron tubes each with an external diameter of 29 feet, will be six feet wider than the Pennsylvania Railroad tubes under the Hudson East Rivers.

Traffic bockades, now common on ferries, would be precluded by providing at each end of the tube derrick-equipped trucks to take stalled automobiles in tow. Three driveways in each direction will be furnished on the approaches, because of the vehicular queues.

Ventilation to rid the tunnel of carbon monoxide gasses from automobile exhausts will be furnished by four large shafts and also by an air duct under the roadway and an exhaust above. Smoky vehicles circulate poisonous gas freely in closed places but chemists working on the tunnel ventilation system estimate that at the highest point of saturation there will be only 3 1-2 parts of carbon monoxide to 10,000 parts of air in the tube. It requires 8 parts of the gas to 10,000 parts of air, they figure, to give a man a headache.

UNITED FARMERS PRESENT STATEMENT TO THE COMMISSION

Ask Definite Move for Freedom From Artificial Burdens on Necessities

DIRECT METHODS

To Be Employed If Artificial Assistance Is Needed by Industries

In coming before the Commission the United Farmers of Manitoba made reference to certain phases of the official statement presented by the advocates of protection on September 14th.

And first the implication of such sentences as the following:

"Purely agrarian countries have never reached any degree of greatness." "Remove the factories and imagine the effect on the wholesale and retail trade." Strike at the factory and you strike at nearly everyone in the city or town."

Our statement in this connection, declared Mr. Wood, is that the organized farmers have never contemplated the folly of trying to make Canada "purely" agrarian. They have never proposed any policy which would "remove" the factories or which would "strike" either at the factories or the towns.

The fundamental necessity of freedom for production was made an important point in the statement, and that the distribution of those natural products which are indigenous to a country should be as free as possible from any restrictions or handicap. The general injury through restriction to the fundamental industry was then emphasized. It was also stated that Canadian protectionists early in the war went to Ottawa and demanded and secured a practical abolition of the free list and a flat rate increase which increased the cost of living and made life immeasurably harder for the common people.

The failure of Canada to meet current obligations and the fact that the farmers' proposals are constructive were set forth.

Decadence of Rural Life

The statement then went on to show the decadence of rural life in Ontario and Western Canada and the quantity of untitled land there is at present in Canada. The situation is nothing less than a national tragedy, the speaker said.

How shall the wrong be righted? The farmers do not seek special favors nor the establishment of special conditions in order that they may prosper. They would unanimously repudiate any suggestion to levy tribute upon any other class for their advantage. All they seek is that existing restrictions and impositions be withdrawn.

The representation of the Farmers then stated that protection is fundamen' 'y vicious and gave their reasons for so stating. It has arbitrary restriction, is indefinite in contribution; it gives an opportunity for graft and is subject to underhand manipulation. The United Farmers denied the allegation that protection gives advantages to the laboring classes. It is admitted that it gives employers wealth which might be devoted to increasing wages, but no step has ever been taken in connection with the protective system to see that the employers share the advantage with their work people..

Publicity a Safeguard

Not least among the objectionable features of the tariff as it has been operated in Canada has been the secrecy which has characterized those operations. The interests that have been assisted have been permitted to present their requests and their reasons for them secretly.

The farmers embody in their political policy the principal (1) that all corporations engaged in the manufacture of products protected by the customs tariff be obliged to publish annually comprehensive and accurate statements of their earnings; (2) that every claim for tariff protection by any industry should be heard publicly before a special committee of Parliament.

The Organized Farmers' Plea

To sum up, the farmers are seeking an immediate and definite move toward freedom from the artificial burdens now placed upon the primary necessities of life and the implements of production. They insist that the common people be given freedom to build and maintain their homes, to undertake the cultivation of the soil, to expand the volume of the nation's basic products without the retarding and benumbing influence of tariff taxation.

They desire that the bonds between us and Great Britain be strengthened by immediate reduction and gradual elimination of the tariff handicap under which we have placed her.

They urge the placing of all foodstuffs on the free list and the removing of the import duty from lumber, cement, gasoline, kerosene, agricultural implements, farm and household machinery and vehicles and fertilizers.

The gradual general reduction of the import tariff with a view to making all industries self-supporting and competent to produce at world values.

If artificial assistance is to be continued, that it be by open and direct methods making its cost fully evident.

That as rapidly as feasible, direct methods of taxation be submitted for indirect.

That above all, the need for national revenue should not be permitted to be exploited for private gain.

Desire Greater Freedom

J. L. Brown, representing the farmers, prefaced his remarks by asserting that the United Farmers desire a greater freedom in the development of Manitoba's most important industry—agriculture. The farmers stand for revision of the tariff downward. He referred to the various conventions of farmers held in Brandon and said the sustained sentiment of the agrarians was against a high tariff. He resented, in the name of the farmers the suggestion that the agriculturalists are disloyal or are inclined toward Bolshevism. He denounced particularly the spirit of some manufacturers, exemplified by one leading representation of that industry, (The Dominion Textile Co.) was "not constructed for the glory of God." Mr. Brown said continued progress in the direction of movement away from the farm is serious. "The farmer's daughter will not marry the neighboring former's son because she does not want to spend her life on the farm. He asked that the farmers be relieved from the predatory interests. Sir Henry Drayton wanted to know who the speaker meant, exactly. Mr. Brown said, "especially the textile interests and others who, by removing the tariff, are in a position to buy a toll on agriculture."

Mrs. J. S. Woods Presents Brief

Mrs. J. S. Woods, president of the United Farmer Women of Manitoba, presented an interesting brief. She related her early experience in Manitoba when she came from Scotland in pioneer days. It was a hard struggle with poverty and uncomfortable surroundings. Mortgages were numerous and only the crudest furniture was to be found in the farm homes. Only in thepast few years have the farmers enjoyed the most ordinary comforts. She had exchanged a cow for a sewing machine.

It was a pathetic picture Mrs. Woods painted of the privations of mothers in those days and said that usually doctors and nurses were never present when children were born on the pioneer farms. It was a dreary and drab existence. She said a neighbor who had been forced to send to the States for a pair of spectacles worth $12, had paid duty of $4.

And Mrs. Woods is very womanly, a strong figure withal. When the chairman asked her how old she was when she came from Scotland (that was in 1882) she remarked, "I don't want to tell my age" with a smile. Sir Henry most gallantly withdrew the question with a cheery smile.

Promotes Race Suicide

Miss Mabel Finch, Secretary of the Farm Woman's organization, submitted an interesting brief. She described the various articles entering into the farm home on which a tariff must be paid. Out of $275 for meagre home furnishings, the minimum for a farm home, Miss Finch said the tariff toll was $72. She did not think clothes should be taxed, except possibly silks and other luxuries. She recalled that the common sewing machine that our mothers must have is taxed 30 per cent. duty. Especially, she claimed, all articles required for infants and invalids, should be free of duty. A baby's bed costing $11.10, caries a duty of $3.50. She thought this economically and morally wrong. "I believe" she asserted, "that the legislature of today in this direction is calculated to promote race suicide." The speaker said it was a cruel anomaly that children's toys carry a 30 per cent. duty while diamonds are admitted free. One instance related of a farm family she knew, managed to break 15 acres for 1920 crop and were elated, but later could secure seed for but 8 acres.

Miss Finch said 92 per cent. of Manitoba farm homes are lighted by oil lamps and 85 per cent. of the homes are frame, four per cent. logs, others stores and brick. Washing machines she explained, carried 37 1-2 per cent. duty, representing $20 on the price of these machines. From 100 homes, 96 per cent. were unable to keep domestic help.

Questioned By Chairman

The chairman asked the speaker where she got her tariff figures." She said, "the Winnipeg Customs Office."

"You have added the amount of the tariff charges entirely in your estimates to the price of the articles purchased?" "Yes" replied the lady.

"'And you mention flour at $7 per 100 pound bag" said the chairman, "Do you mean the price is too high, made so by the tariff?"

Miss Finch did not know whether their was a duty on flour or not but she thought $7 too high.

"I take it you think there should be no tariff?"

"Well, not on the necessaries of life that I have mentioned."

"But that is pretty comprehensive. It covers about everything?" Miss Finch very ingeniously defined her attitude in an animated exchange of views with Sir Henry Drayton. She did not believe all the obstacles to bringing up families are embraced in the tariff burdens but she was sure it is a considerable factor.

A Human Document

Mrs. James Elliott, a typical farm woman, who resides in a log house, with a family of five children, presented a very fine brief. It was a human document, replete with details of the farm home and the hardships of the mothers on the land. Of 50 of her neighbors, 20 helped in its field. She resides 36 miles North of Brandon. She said 13 of these neighbors of from 10 to 28 years residence never had a vacation in that time. Home made tables and bedsteads are still common articles on farms of Manitoba. She said that most of her neighbors rise at five each morning in the Summer. They end their day's work at an average 9.30 p.m. She said school books in her neighborhood are five times more expensive than in Ontario. Mrs. Elliott insisted that a high tariff penalizes larger families. They can't afford, she inisted, woolen clothes for their children. Of the 50 neighbor women who met at her home, she asked, "How many would leave the farm if they could?" All hands went up. "I asked a machinist at my place, a returned soldier, why he did not go on the land through the government aid plan. He replied that he knew agriculture, and the hazards. He had investigated the plan and knew it was not feasible for the average man." Mrs. Elliott was rather bitter in discussing the class that can afford expensive automobiles. The average farmer can't, she claimed. Merchants are handling but one-fifth of the fruit handled in other years, she said and that will work havoc among the children on the farms during the long Winters. For herself she had not preserved a pound of fruit this year. "I wouldn't pay the price" she exclaimed. A sister has sent her two barrels of apples from Ontario and the freight on each was $3.65. Each barrel contained 40 pounds.

What Watkins Made

G. L. Watkins, who has farmed here since 1887, urged strongly that the tariff be abolished or very much reduced. On an investment of $7,320 in eight years he lost $2,726 on his farm. In 1902 he showed a profit of $1,200. Last year he sold out at a total profit of $15,000 for 28 years' work. He said his chief source of profit was in the increase of $12,640 in the price of his land during those 28 years, giving him an aggregate profit in that period of $30,000. He deducted nothing for interest on his investment during those years. His annual wage averaged $300 reckoned on that basis. He was sure the farm implement manufacturers added the duty as profit to their machinery. "I object," said he, "to farmers having to sell in an open market and buy in a closed market." "In other words," said the Chairman, "you came here 28 years ago with $6,000 capital, worked hard, and today have a profit of $30,000?" "Yes," said he.

C. H. Burnell, of Oakville, said on a $2,290 tractor the duty was $400, an unduly harsh handicap on the farmer. He wanted the Government to investigate the price of oil and gasolene. At Emerson gasoline is 16 cents higher than just over the line. He thought this showed the Tariff works against the farmers. He did not charge the price of gasoline to the duty; he merely wanted the subject investigated. "I am not whining over the Tariff," said Burnell. "I was born in Manitoba and think we can give this Tariff problem publicity, I have enough confidence in the Government to feel sure the fiscal policy will be adequately revised. I farm 400 acres. I would rather be directly taxed, say an Income Tax."

The speaker admitted that he was not paying any income. When he bought farm machinery he was not helping pay his taxes.

"What sort of an acreage tax should a farm stand " asked Drayton.

Burnell thought the distance from the city should determine that.

Rod MacKenzie made a strong attack on the high Tariff policy. Settlers coming into the country made a market for the domestic manufactures. A new economic factor then made its appearance in Canada, he said, by the amalgamation of companies. Two hundred and forty-eight companies combined in 10 years, removing domestic competition. This, he claimed, enabled the local manufacturers to profit to the extent of the Tariff. "Farmers do not oppose manufacturers, but we offer them unreasonable tariff protection," he said.

"In 1911, 18 per cent. of those engaged in gainful occupations were manufacturers," MacKenzie said, and he claimed the main industries of Canada would unite, and develop more readily with the Tariff. It has a withering effect on small manufacturers.

Drayton remarked that many farmers want protection. MacKenzie replied that 95 per cent. of the farms, as he saw the problem, opposed protection. "Nothing on the farm is protected," he claimed, "but the moment these raw products reach the factory the manufacturers demand, and secure, protection."

SOVIETS AND POLES SIGN ARMISTICE EFFECTIVE OCT. 18

Agreement Said to be a Triumph For Spirit of Conciliation Shown

Riga, Oct. 13.—A preliminary peace treaty and armistice was signed by the Polish and Russian Soviet peace delegates here at 7.10 o'clock Tuesday night.

The armistice actually becomes effectice at midnight, October 18th.

The announcement that peace was to be signed brought gerat crowds to the square surrounding the Black Head House. M. Joffe and the Bolsheviki delegation entered the hall first and were followed by M. Dombski and the Polish delegation. About two hundred persons, including the entire diplomatic body and prominent Lettish officials, crowded the small room, many of them standing.

Considerable delay ensued, which was due to the physical work necessary to the completion of the treaty for signature. Tired by more than five days and nights of almost constant work, M. Joffe looked extremely pale, but his voice showed no nervousness, when he announced, without rising, that the treaty had been completed, and began reading the Russian text.

The head of the Soviet delegation described the Riga peace as "a peace without victor and without vanquished' in a brief address before the signature of the treaty. That describes the Riga agreement accurately as it appeared to disinterested onlookers. It was a peace of give and take, which those who have followed the course of events fear will not be very popular, either with the Bolsheviki or with the Poles.

But it is undoubtedly a triumph for the two chairmen who made it, and the spirit of conciliation with which they handled the explosive question is likely to win for them the gratitude of a war exhausted world.

The Riga Armistice will put the Bolsheviki at peace with all their Baltic neighbors and leave the Wrangel Government as the only great military operation against the Soviets.

M. Joffe called attention to the many difficulties encountered in arranging the armistice and also to the harmonious manner in which the delegations carried out the negotiations. He also expressed the belief that the foundation has been laid for a permanent peace as both nations are absolutely tired of war and unwilling to assume responsibility for continuing the strife.

PREMIER OPENS E. ELGIN CAMPAIGN

Presents Arguments to Prove Benefits of Protection to Industry and Agriculture

Straffordville, Ont., Oct. 13.—Before an audience of 2,000 electors of East Elgin, Premier Meighen Tuesday afternoon set forth the government's position on the tariff question, declaring that its trade policy had been framed wih a view to the needs of national industry. There would not be a tariff higher than was essential to maintain the industries of the Dominion and enable them to grow with the growth of the country. The government's taric was based upon protection and not upon free trade. It was hard to tell upon what the trade policies of other parties was based. Their leaders were not making it clear, while the policy of the National Liberal and Conservative party was definite and unchanging.

The Premier presented an array of argument to prove the benefits of protection alike to industry and agriculture. The majority of those present were farmers and farmers' wives.

It was the opening gun of the by-election campaign and the premier made an appeal for the Government candidate, John L. Stansell, who shared with Hon. Mr. Meighen and Mrs. Meighen, the cheers of the crowd.

ROBBERS BLOW BANK SAFE AND ESCAPE WITH $19,000 CASH

Union Bank, Winkler, Man., Robbed by Five Masked Men Who Forced Teller to Open Vault — Blew Safe and Secured Contents — Wires All Cut, Town in Darkness—Man Who Attempted to Give Alarm Shot in Leg—No Description of Bandits.

Winnipeg, Oct. 13.—Five masked men after blowing the safe of the Union Bank at Winkler, Man., at three a. m. today, escaped with $19,000. W. Graefer, blacksmith, who heard a noise in the bank and attempted to ring the town bell, was shot in the leg by one of the gang, who was outside on the lookout. The five escaped. Posses are out from Winkler and Morden. Claude Williams, teller of the bank, and the only one in the building at the time was awakened by four men who compelled him to come to the vault at the point of revolvers.

They forced him to open the vault and then tied him up, put him in his bed, and carried him, bed and all, out of the building, and left him at the door. They them blew the safe with dynamite or nitro glycerine, and took all the cash in the vault. Telephone telegraph and electric light cables in Winkler had all been cut before the robbery began. The robbers were masked and used only flashlights, so Williams was not able to give a description of them. When they were leading him to the vault one of them said: "Our Government wouldn't give us any bonus after we had fought for it, so we're going to get ours from the Canadian Government." They handled Williams roughly at first, until he told them he was a returned soldier, when they immediately became courteous.

The machine was badly smashed. It had apparently struck the Peak, head-on and was partially buried in the snow.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 13.—A deputation of East Wellington constituents of Attorney-General Raney waited on Raney yesterday with the request that he take action to prevent the Self Determination League for Ireland holding its proposed meeting in Ottawa. Raney suggested that the people of Ottawa should be the best judges as to whether the proposed convention of the league was a breach of the peace. He suggested that if any Government interfered it should be the Dominion. It was certain that the organization was seditious.

"The mere fact that language is foolish is no reason for interfering. Our democracy involves freedom to do foolish things," he declared.

PEOPLE OF CANADA NOT INTERESTED IN PARTY DIVISION

Montreal, Oct. 13.—Speaking at a banquet Tuesday night tendered by the Progressive Club, Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, said that he was now a member of the National Liberal-Conservative government and that the people of Canada were no longer interested in old party divisions. This party, he said, would, even though the present government is defeated at the polls in the next general election, still form the largest group in the Dominion. While the Farmers party is showing strength both in the East and the West, it should be born in mind that many farmers were in sympathy with the government. Tuesday night's banquet was one of the most brilliant political gatherings ever held here.

A WORD TO THE PUBLIC
OUR REASON FOR THIS SALE

The people of Brandon and all the surrounding country will, no doubt, be surprised and amazed at the announcement of this forced sacrifice sale, but our reason for same is simply this, our purchases for this Fall were very heavy and owing to the abeward season we have not been able to skell the amount of merchandise we anticipated and we now find ourselves overstocked and with bills coming due, manufacturers demanding their money which makes it absolutely compulsory to turn at least one-half of our present stock into cash, no matter what our loss may be; we must raise $15,000 in the next 12 days, and to do this will give the people of this section all the profits and in many cases part of the original cost, in order to raise the amount of money. This sale will prove a boon to every man, woman and child in this community.

SCHOOL TEACHERS CONCLUDE TWO DAY CONVENTION

Election of Officers, Passage of Resolutions and Four Addresses

COMMUNITY SINGING

A Feature of the Best Convention Teachers Have Had in Years

Community singing, which has become so popular in rural centres, had its place on the program of the Western Manitoba Teachers' Association Convention, and it seemed most fitting that the thirty-sixth annual meeting of this organization, which has been held for the past two days in the Collegiate Institute, should be brought to a close Friday afternoon with the singing of the greatest of the hymns, "Abide With Me." Inspector Hunter, of Deloraine, formerly of this city, acted as conductor of the musical program. Mr. E. Knapp, Past President of the Association, acted as chairman during part of the afternoon, and when called away, was succeeded by Mr. Alfred White. During the final session, that most important proceeding, the election of officers, took place and the following were chosen for the year: Honorary President—Hon. D. R. S. Thornton; President—Mr. A. M. Shields, of Virden; Vice-President—Miss Davidson, Alexander; Secretary-Treasurer—Mr. B. A. Tingley, Brandon; Executive Committee—Mr. J. S. Dunlop, Brandon; Miss Faryon, Souris; Publicity Committee—Ma. J. S. Dunlop, Brandon; Miss M. Switzer, Carberry and Mr. J. H. Snyder, Hartney. The officers of the primary and secondary sections appeared in a previous issue.

Resolutions Adopted

At this session several resolutions came up for discussion and the following were passed:

"In as much as it has been brought to the notice of the Convention that certain officers of the Customs Department have interpreted the Sales Tax to apply to scientific apparatus imported for educational institutions, and whereas the Convention feels that this is against the spirit of the Act, it is hereby agreed to request that instruction be issued specifically exempting scientific aparatus imported for educational purposes;

"That this convention welcomes the institution of an interim retirement fund pending the establishment of a permanent superannuation scale."

Resolutions of thanks were tendered Mayor Dinsdale; the School Board; those who assisted with the program; the entertainment committee; the Y.M.C.A. and the press.

The four speakers at the final session of the Convention, which has proved to be the most successful conference in the history of the Association, were, Miss May Bere, the newly-appointed Psychologist on the Winnipeg school staff; Mr. H. W. Huntley, of Winnipeg; Mr. Taylor Statten, of Toronto and Mr. Bailey, M.L.A., Labor member for Assiniboia.

The Teachers' Federation

In an address of special interest to the teachers present, Mr. Huntley described in detail the work accomplished by the Teachers' Federation of Manitoba, and gave instances of the difficulties experienced by teachers in the various parts of the province which were remedied through the efforts of the Federation. He gave a short resume of the meeting of representatives some months ago in Calgary when a Canadian Teachers' Federation was formed and stated that this body would deal with the problems of teachers as a whole. Mr. Huntley said that the Federation was endeavoring to find a better method for the teachers to present their problems; to improve the service of this provincial body; to obtain a definite standing for teachers, and also to improve their status and salaries. He stated that this, the teachers' organization, would be just as strong and just as good as the teachers themselves, made it.

In conclusion, Mr. Huntley stated that the Manitoba Teachers' Federation were going to endeavor to obtain legislation, preventing private bureaus; the appointment of more members of the profession on the advisory board; high standards for the profession; teachers residencies and many other improvements. The speaker said that many teachers had gone West because of the increase in salaries in the Western provinces. But that the tables are changing and that conditions in Manitoba are becoming better. In conclusion, he said he believed the teaching profession is going forward, and if each member would make an effort the future of the profession would be assured.

Psychology in Schools

"Psychology in the Schools," was the subject of the paper read by Miss May Bere, of Winnipeg, who with the aid of charts and drawings explained to the teachers what a wide field of work can be accomplished by the use of Psychology in the school room. "Like all other branches of science, psychology has undergone many changes," said the speaker, "and has become a vital force in the mental, physical and social problems of today."

In an interesting way Miss Bere described the various tests made at the Psychological Bureau where delinquent children are treated and recommendations made and remedies suggested. In the many tests made the co-operation of the child must be obtained or the test is of little value. Many of the tests are individual, but there are others that may be obtained in groups, and all tell just exactly in what category—mentally, physically or socially—the child should be placed These tests reveal the vast individuality among children and show the necessity for changes and classification.

In Winnipeg, the work of the Phychological Bureau has been most successful and plans are being made to go further along these lines in the development of children. Special classes for retarded children have been well worth while and the work of Auxiliary teachers was also recommended in some cases. Miss Bere gave statistics of the work accomplished in Winnipeg showing that a splendid start had been made to aid the school children in that city.

A Model School

Mr. Bailey, M.L.A., for Assiniboia, was the next speaker and chose for his subject, "The Function of the School in Training for Democracy and self government or self control, did el school that he had visited where the children, through the process of self governmtnt or self control, did many things the teachers have been accustomed to do. Everything worked smoothly through the co-operation of the teachers and the children. Mr. Bailey asked the teachers to think of him as their representative in the Provincial House. He said that his object was to raise the status of the teachers, for they are a vital factor in education; to obtain greater training for the members of the profession; to give more assistance to pupil teachers; and to take some of the drudgery of teaching off the shoulders of the teachers.

Character Building

The final speaker at the session was Taylor Statten, who after addressing several organizations in the city, is by this time well known in Brandon. He urged the utilization of play hours for character building. "For," said the speaker, "this is the time when the boy is free to do what he likes to do and when his character is either made or marred." Character building is also done during school hours and Taylor Statten asked for the co-operation of the teachers in aiding their pupils to live unselfish lives. He emphasized team play as a means of obtaining this end and urged the teachers to help their pupils to find true service in new citizenship.

Presented to Washington Descendents of the House of Mar

Washington, Oct. 16.—The sword of "Bonnie Prince Charlie," worn by him at court, and one of the romantic blades of Scottish history has come to the United States. It is the gift of Lord Garioch, only son of the Earl of Mar of Scotland to Mrs. Clarence Crittenden Calhoun, of Washington, one of the descendants of the House of Mar on her mother's side. The historic sword was delivered through the British Embassy where it came in care of the Ambassador, Sir Auckland Geddes.

The words of presentation which accompanied the claymore declare it was sent "in view of the fact that it was for their adherence and loyalty to the cause of the Stewarts that the Earls of Mar suffered so greatly in their estates and fortunes that some of the family in exile sought refuge in America."

IRISHMEN NOT STAYING AT HOME

Proclamation of Dail Eireann Prohibiting Emigration Generally Disregarded

Dublin, Oct. 16.—The proclamation of Dail Eireann prohibiting emigration has only had a slight effect and the American consulate is daily dealing with applications for passports. On a landing of the consul's office the Dail decree is displayed forbidding the emigration of Irishmen of military age and of all citizens of the Irish Republic without the written consent of Dail Eireann.

Intending emigrants are supposed to apply to the local Sinn Fein justices giving their reasons for leaving Ireland and full explanations must be forwarded to the Republican Minister for Home Affairs. Nevertheless the application to the American consul continue, most of them, however, from women. From 100 to 150 is the daily average. Third-class passages to New York are said to be booked for months ahead.

SCENES OF WILD DISORDER IN LONDONDERRY

MacSweeney was told that it was impossible to intervene in his behalf and that he was "at the mercy of the British Government" which could deport him without interference by United States officials.

Cork, Oct. 16.—Nearly fifteen hundred employes, virtually the entire staff of the new Ford automobile plant here, are reported to have found themselves at least temporarily out of work when they returned to the plant Friday afternoon from the massed celebration in all Cork churches for the hunger strikers in prison.

Notices were posted at ten o'clock in the morning forbidding the men to interrupt their work to attend church services, on pain of dismissal or having their wages docked. Nevertheless the majority of the force left the works at 10.30 o'clock and when they returned found that the plant had been closed down.

Leaders visited the plant and appealed on behalf of the men to the manager, Edward Grace. Mr. Grace is said to have declared that he was contemplating installing an entire new force of operators, but he finally consented to take the present workmen

SUSPECT TURNS ON POLICE CHIEF AND LOCKS HIM IN CELL

Lays Information Against Wetaskiwin Policeman For Being Intoxicated

CHIEF OF POLICE FINED

For Being Intoxicated While on Duty and Purchases New Suit For Complainant

Wetaskiwin, Oct. 16.—A. N. Haile, Chief of Police here, pleaded guilty in the police court Friday afternoon to a charge of being intoxicated while in the discharge of his duty and was fined $50 and costs. The charge of assault was settled by the Chief agreeing to purchase a new suit of clothes for T. A. H. Frost, ex-alderman of Calgary who forcibly refused to be searched for weapons at the train early Wednesday morning but on the other hand being a detective, he, after a struggle, handcuffed the Chief and had him confined in a cell. Information was laid by Mr. Frost.

MANY WINKLER PEOPLE DID NOT SOUND ALARM

Winnipeg, Oct. 16.— Attorney-General Thos. H. Johnson will propose to the Cabinet the offering of a reward for the apprehension of the Winkler Union Bank robbers. The Attorney-General and John Allen, K.C., deputy, considered the question Friday. No sum was mentioned. The Cabinet meets next week.

Local police are on the outlook for the bandits, recognizing the possibility that the gang may have doubled back on the trail and be in hiding in Winnipeg.

City police considered it a possibility, and had laid a net to catch them if they were in the city, but doubted the probability. Disposal of the Canadian currency, which might prove difficult in the United States without arousing suspicion, would be comparatively easy in Winnipeg, it was suggested. This, police said, was the basis for the assumption that the bandits might be in Winnipeg. They added that if they intended crossing the border it was not likely they would have mentioned it so freely to Claude Williams while they worked at the Union Bank safe.

Could Be Far Away

If the bandits escaped across the border, as Provincial Police believe, they are now far away and comparatively safe from capture. Driving at 20 miles an hour, 15 hours a day they could be in Chicago, Des Moines, Ia.; Topeka, Kansas, Omaha, Neb.; Denver, Col.; or Helena, Montana by noon Friday.

The description of one of the bandits recognized by Williams, the teller, follows. He was about five feet seven inches high, an American, 25 to 30 years old, clean shaven, with a round, full face and dark complexion. He wore a grey fedora hat.

Royal North West Mounted Police have not been requested to aid Provincial and Municipal police in the search for the bandits, R. N. W. M. P. officials said Friday.

Police surmise the band divided the booty as soon as soon as they felt safe booty as soon as they felt safe, and spread in different directions.

Whole Town Scared

"Cold feet' on the part of Winkler residents alone is responsible for the bandits' escape, Col. J. G. Rattray, Provincial Police Commissioner, said.

"It was a clear case of cold feet," Col. Rattray said. "Virtually the whole town knew about the robbery long before the bandits got away. Some of them were bold enough to come to windows, but most remained trembling in bed."

While he strongly denounced Constable George Hiebert for showing cowardice, he had no praise for the other citizens of the town who played principal parts in the episode.

J. Kastan, hotel keeper, came to Winnipeg from Morden early Friday, with several other men. All saw the bandit on guard in front of the bank, and knew that the bank was being robbed. Kaston did nothing himself, but sent George Weibe, a six-footer, over to warn Heibert, the constable.

Weibe also, according to his story to Col. Rattray, was the victim of his wife's fears. He said he wanted to go to the bank, but that his wife would not let him. He went to bed instead, and fell asleep.

J. P. Brown, a stable hanger-on, saw the lookout in front of the bank, and went to tell Kaston. He then went to sleep in Kaston's garage. Kaston also went to bed when he heard about the robbery.

Two daughters of William Graefer, who was shot while trying to sound a warning, watched the whole affair from a window of their home.

No attempt was made by anyone to warn F. J. Livingstone, the manager of the bank.

WANT EACH SPORT TO GOVERN ITSELF

Victoria, Oct. 13.—The seed of what may develop into a highly important and far-reaching growth in the interests of amateur sport in Canada was sown Saturday night at a meeting held in the Douglas Hotel, which was presided over by Mr. Geo. Mowat, president of the local Amateur Hockey Association. The meeting was a private one, as was pointed out by the chairman, and was intended primarily to get the opinion of men representing various lines of amateur sport in the city as to the advisability of a radical charge in the matter of governance of amateur spirt in its various branches.

It is common knowledge that considerable dissatisfaction has been felt and expressed in various quarters with the manner in which the B.C. A.A.U. exercises control over the amateur sportsmen of the Province, and this dissatisfaction was brought to a head by the recent farce by which a body of sportmen, thorough-going amateurs in spirit, were suspended recently for taking part in a semi-comic exhibition at the Stadium with professional baseball players. Although it is fairly generally admitted that, so long as the B.C. A.A.U. has the power, and acts up to it, that body followed the only course open to it in taking the action which it did, the result of that action has been to bring home to a great many the absurdity of the present laws governing amateur sport, and it was obviously the opinion of the meeting held last night, with the exception of a small minority perhaps, that the jurisdiction of the B.C.A.A.U., as at present constituted, was more of a detriment to the amateur sport of the city than otherwise.

Various instances were given by different speakers of inconsistency in the administration of their laws by the present governing body, and it was pointed out by several that in the Old Country, which sets an example to the world in its standards of amateur sportsmanship, there were no such drastic laws as are in force here, which prevent a man from retaining his status as an amateur if he take part in any athletic contest in which he also engaged an athlete who is a professional in that or any other branch of athletic sport.

Several of those present voiced the opinion that it was unsportsmanlike and contrary to British ideas of justice to bar a professional in one line of sport from playing as an amateur in other lines, and that opinion appeared to be very generally endorsed by those present.

The chairman made it very clear what the real object of the movement was, briefly, to provide that each branch of sport should have the power to form its own association and draw up its own rules dealing with the definition and status of an amateur, and that some new central body should be formed which should act as an influence for harmony rather than as a power to dictate their line of conduct to any particular branch of sport.

It was made abundantly clear that none of those present were in favor of laxity in real amateurism, but that they considered some of the present laws and restrictions ridiculous and not really in keeping with the true spirit of amateur sport.

The meeting was not in any way thoroughly representative of all the different branches of sport in Victoria, but of the five different branches represented, delegates representing four supported a motion in favor of the objects outlined above, and it was decided that they should confer with their respective associations concerning the movement, and that subsequently another meeting should be called to go thoroughly into the matter.

PREPARATIONS TO MEET STRIKE BY BRITISH MINERS

Emergency Measures Recommended by Government Are Being Perfected

TRANSPORT WORKERS

To Meet Monday to Decide Their Attitude Towards the Miners' Strike

London, Oct. 16.—Final preparations for the expected strike of one million British miners late today, is being made throughout the United Kingdom. Emergency measures, recommended by the Government, are being perfected, and there seemed to be a disposition on the part of the Government, the Miners' Federation and the people generally, to carry on a long, stern battle to settle definitely the issue upon which the miners decided to walk out.

Large stocks of coal have been accumulated and private consumers have laid in supplies. Many large industrial concerns have considered partial shut-downs and this phase may develop into one of the most serious of the situations. Members of the National Union of Railway and Transport Workers will hold meetings on Monday to determine the attitude of these organizations toward the miners' strike.

Government plans for the distribution of food, which were perfected during the railway strike last year, have been extended and a comprehensive system of transport worked out for the entire country in case the railwaymen join the strike.

ANGLICAN SYNOD GOES ON RECORD FOR TEMPERANCE

Also Advocates the Application of More Christianity in Industry

Winnipeg, Oct. 14.—In its final session the synod of the ecclesiastical province of Rupert's Land formally placed itself on record as urging church people and Christian people generally to stand for that increased measure of provincial control as regards the liquor situation which is the issue of the coming referendum. While views to the contrary were freely expressed the vote showed that the big majority of the delegates favored more adequate temperance legislation.

In the closing hour of the synod, also, another resolution was passed advocating the application of the principles of Christianity to industry, and declaring that "private gain must be subordinated to the public good." The motion also urged that workers should have an adequate share in control of the conditions under which they worked.

While the latter resolution was expected to be controversial in character, little disposition was shown to discuss it, and the motion was passed after short speeches by C. C. Carruthers, of Edmonton, and W. J. Melrose, the mover and seconder, respectively.

SCHOOL TEACHERS CONCLUDE TWO DAY CONVENTION

Election of Officers, Passage of Resolutions and Four Addresses

COMMUNITY SINGING

A Feature of the Best Convention Teachers Have Had in Years

Community singing, which has become so popular in rural centres, had its place on the program of the Western Manitoba Teachers' Association Convention, and it seemed most fitting that the thirty-sixth annual meeting of this organization, which has been held for the past two days in the Collegiate Institute, should be brought to a close Friday afternoon with the singing of the greatest of the hymns, "Abide With Me." Inspector Hunter, of Deloraine, formerly of this city, acted as conductor of the musical program. Mr. E. Knapp, Past President of the Association, acted as chairman during part of the afternoon, and when called away, was succeeded by Mr. Alfred White. During the final session, that most important proceeding, the election of officers, took place and the following were chosen for the year: Honorary President—Hon. D. R. S. Thornton; President—Mr. A. M. Shields, of Virden; Vice-President—Miss Davidson, Alexander; Secretary-Treasurer—Mr. B. A. Tingley, Brandon; Executive Committee—Mr. J. S. Dunlop, Brandon; Miss Faryon, Souris; Publicity Committee—Ma. J. S. Dunlop, Brandon; Miss M. Switzer, Carberry and Mr. J. H. Snyder, Hartney. The officers of the primary and secondary sections appeared in a previous issue.

Resolutions Adopted

At this session several resolutions came up for discussion and the following were passed:

"In as much as it has been brought to the notice of the Convention that certain officers of the Customs Department have interpreted the Sales Tax to apply to scientific apparatus imported for educational institutions, and whereas the Convention feels that this is against the spirit of the Act, it is hereby agreed to request that instruction be issued specifically exempting scientific aparatus imported for educational purposes;

Resolutions of thanks were tendered Mayor Dinsdale; the School Board; those who assisted with the program; the entertainment committee; the Y.M.C.A. and the press.

The four speakers at the final session of the Convention, which has proved to be the most successful conference in the history of the Association, were, Miss May Bere, the newly-appointed Psychologist on the Winnipeg school staff; Mr. H. W. Huntley, of Winnipeg; Mr. Taylor Statten, of Toronto and Mr. Bailey, M.L.A., Labor member for Assiniboia.

The Teachers' Federation

In an address of special interest to the teachers present, Mr. Huntley described in detail the work accomplished by the Teachers' Federation of Manitoba, and gave instances of the difficulties experienced by teachers in the various parts of the province which were remedied through the efforts of the Federation. He gave a short resume of the meeting of representatives some months ago in Calgary when a Canadian Teachers' Federation was formed and stated that this body would deal with the problems of teachers as a whole. Mr. Huntley said that the Federation was endeavoring to find a better method for the teachers to present their problems; to improve the service of this provincial body; to obtain a definite standing for teachers, and also to improve their status and salaries. He stated that this, the teachers' organization, would be just as strong and just as good as the teachers themselves, made it.

In conclusion, Mr. Huntley stated that the Manitoba Teachers' Federation were going to endeavor to obtain legislation, preventing private bureaus; the appointment of more members of the profession on the advisory board; high standards for the profession; teachers residencies and many other improvements. The speaker said that many teachers had gone West because of the increase in salaries in the Western provinces. But that the tables are changing and that conditions in Manitoba are becoming better. In conclusion, he said he believed the teaching profession is going forward, and if each member would make an effort the future of the profession would be assured.

Psychology in Schools

"Psychology in the Schools," was the subject of the paper read by Miss May Bere, of Winnipeg, who with the aid of charts and drawings explained to the teachers what a wide field of work can be accomplished by the use of Psychology in the school room. "Like all other branches of science, psychology has undergone many changes," said the speaker, "and has become a vital force in the mental, physical and social problems of today."

In an interesting way Miss Bere described the various tests made at the Psychological Bureau where delinquent children are treated and recommendations made and remedies suggested. In the many tests made the co-operation of the child must be obtained or the test is of little value. Many of the tests are individual, but there are others that may be obtained in groups, and all tell just exactly in what category—mentally, physically or socially—the child should be placed These tests reveal the vast individuality among children and show the necessity for changes and classification.

In Winnipeg, the work of the Phychological Bureau has been most successful and plans are being made to go further along these lines in the development of children. Special classes for retarded children have been well worth while and the work of Auxiliary teachers was also recommended in some cases. Miss Bere gave statistics of the work accomplished in Winnipeg showing that a splendid start had been made to aid the school children in that city.

A Model School

Mr. Bailey, M.L.A., for Assiniboia, was the next speaker and chose for his subject, "The Function of the School in Training for Democracy and self government or self control, did el school that he had visited where the children, through the process of self governmtnt or self control, did many things the teachers have been accustomed to do. Everything worked smoothly through the co-operation of the teachers and the children. Mr. Bailey asked the teachers to think of him as their representative in the Provincial House. He said that his object was to raise the status of the teachers, for they are a vital factor in education; to obtain greater training for the members of the profession; to give more assistance to pupil teachers; and to take some of the drudgery of teaching off the shoulders of the teachers.

Character Building

The final speaker at the session was Taylor Statten, who after addressing several organizations in the city, is by this time well known in Brandon. He urged the utilization of play hours for character building. "For," said the speaker, "this is the time when the boy is free to do what he likes to do and when his character is either made or marred." Character building is also done during school hours and Taylor Statten asked for the co-operation of the teachers in aiding their pupils to live unselfish lives. He emphasized team play as a means of obtaining this end and urged the teachers to help their pupils to find true service in new citizenship.

The chairman made it very clear what the real object of the movement was, briefly, to provide that each branch of sport should have the power to form its own association and draw up its own rules dealing with the definition and status of an amateur, and that some new central body should be formed which should act as an influence for harmony rather than as a power to dictate their line of conduct to any particular branch of sport.

It was made abundantly clear that none of those present were in favor of laxity in real amateurism, but that they considered some of the present laws and restrictions ridiculous and not really in keeping with the true spirit of amateur sport.

The meeting was not in any way thoroughly representative of all the different branches of sport in Victoria, but of the five different branches represented, delegates representing four supported a motion in favor of the objects outlined above, and it was decided that they should confer with their respective associations concerning the movement, and that subsequently another meeting should be called to go thoroughly into the matter.

PREPARATIONS TO MEET STRIKE BY BRITISH MINERS

Emergency Measures Recommended by Government Are Being Perfected

TRANSPORT WORKERS

To Meet Monday to Decide Their Attitude Towards the Miners' Strike

London, Oct. 16.—Final preparations for the expected strike of one million British miners late today, is being made throughout the United Kingdom. Emergency measures, recommended by the Government, are being perfected, and there seemed to be a disposition on the part of the Government, the Miners' Federation and the people generally, to carry on a long, stern battle to settle definitely the issue upon which the miners decided to walk out.

Large stocks of coal have been accumulated and private consumers have laid in supplies. Many large industrial concerns have considered partial shut-downs and this phase may develop into one of the most serious of the situations. Members of the National Union of Railway and Transport Workers will hold meetings on Monday to determine the attitude of these organizations toward the miners' strike.

Government plans for the distribution of food, which were perfected during the railway strike last year, have been extended and a comprehensive system of transport worked out for the entire country in case the railwaymen join the strike.

ANGLICAN SYNOD GOES ON RECORD FOR TEMPERANCE

Also Advocates the Application of More Christianity in Industry

Winnipeg, Oct. 14.—In its final session the synod of the ecclesiastical province of Rupert's Land formally placed itself on record as urging church people and Christian people generally to stand for that increased measure of provincial control as regards the liquor situation which is the issue of the coming referendum. While views to the contrary were freely expressed the vote showed that the big majority of the delegates favored more adequate temperance legislation.

In the closing hour of the synod, also, another resolution was passed advocating the application of the principles of Christianity to industry, and declaring that "private gain must be subordinated to the public good." The motion also urged that workers should have an adequate share in control of the conditions under which they worked.

While the latter resolution was expected to be controversial in character, little disposition was shown to discuss it, and the motion was passed after short speeches by C. C. Carruthers, of Edmonton, and W. J. Melrose, the mover and seconder, respectively.

BELGIUM MAY HAVE GENERAL STRIKE NOV. 1

Brussels, Oct. 16.—Miners in the vicinity of Mons have joined the Charleroi strikers in a demand for a wage increase of five francs a day. As a result, Belgium is now faced with a general miners' strike on November 1, in face of the leaders' advice against it.

Warner, of Chicago, Secretary of the American Students' temperance movement, while addressing a prohibition meeting in Sheffield, was kidnapped by Sheffield university students and driven in an automobile to the moors, where he was left, according to a dispatch from Sheffield Friday evening to the Evening News. Mr. Warner was not injured and eventually got back to town alone.

MILLERAND HAS CHECKERED CAREER IN FRENCH POLITICS

Alexandre Millerand, President of France, has had a political career that would have been impossible except in France, where politics is run under different rules to those prevailing elsewhere. Whenever anyone becomes Premier or President it is always related that as a boy he had formed the ambition. In this respect Millerand's career is quite orthodox. He determined to become Premier and afterward President. So he did but the vow to become President loses in probability when it is contrasted with the reports that Millerand became President against his wishes. When he finally consented to accept the greater honor it was because he had resolved to reassert the authority of the office, and to continue the conduct of foreign affairs. Under the constitution this is a right and duty of the President's, but never before has it been exercised so freely as the new President promises to exercise it.

An Anti-Clerical

French politicians are all either journalists or lawyers, and M. Millerand entered public life as a lawyer. It was his good fortune to be entrusted with the defence of several miners accused of strike violence, and the case attracted general attention. It was due to his own brilliant gifts that the defence was so strongly presented, and at once the young lawyer was marked as a rising man. The case also aligned him with the Socialist party, and he entered the Chamber as a Socialist after having had five years of valuable experience in the Paris Municipal Council. He identified himself with the anti-clericals of the day, and was prominent in an organization whose purpose it was to prevent boys and young men falling under the influence of the church. Curiously enough, when he became Premier a short time ago, we find the clericals rejoicing in his election, so far had he travelled in forty years.

Not a Marxian

He had not long sat as a Socialist member when the split which seems essential to Socialist politics divided the group into Marxians and moderatee. Millerand was repelled by the Marxians' doctrine and identified himself with the moderate camp. In 1896 Millerand drew up the charter of Reformist Socialism in France and Fabian Socialism in England, which aims constitutionally and gradually to establish a state Socialism opposed to revolutionary Socialism. In 1899, when the Waldeck-Rousseau Government was formed, Millerand was included as Minister of Commerce. He was the first avowed Socialist to enter a French Cabinet, and his action in accepting office exasperated a lot of his Socialist friends, who deemed him a traitor to the cause. It is understood, however, that Millerand had previously consulted Jaures, the Socialist leader, and obtained his sanction.

Not a Pacifist

For a time he remained a Socialist under a cloud, but the position was one that could not endure, and eventually Millerand brike definitely with his old party. The issue was one of military expenditure. Though Germany and other European countries were increasing their armaments, the French Socialists chose this movement to fight for a great reduction in the French military budget. Millerand vigorously supported the Government, although he was not then member of it, and eventually the program was put through. In 1904 a branch of the Socialist party definitely expelled him. This did not disturb Millerand, for he returned to his constituency and was re-elected. For several years he sat as an independent, although in the meantime the United Socialists had come into existence and as Millerand had many friends among its leaders he easily could have been reinstated had he cared to be.

The Railroad Strike

In 1909 Millerand again entered a Cabinet, this time as Minister of Public Works under Briand, and the following year had to face the great railroad strike. The problem was dealt with by Briand, himself and Viviani, three former Socialists, and they solved it, as will be recalled, by notifying the railroad men to report for military service on the day they contemplated striking, the military service to consist of running the trains. This ruse frustrated the strike, and even in the Chamber the Socialists declined to condemn Millerand and his colleagues for action that probably averted a revolution. Nevertheless, they formally expelled him from a party to which he had long ceased to belong. From that day to this Millerand has shown a stronger tendency toward conservatism. His patriotism has never been questioned, and shone brightly through the war and after it. The only thing left for his enemies now is to predict that he will wind up as a reactionary or a dictator.

WHEAT MARKET VERY ERRATIC

Market Was Active Today, With Exporters Buying Much Grain

Winnipeg, Oct. 19.—With fluctuations of 4⅝c to 6¼c on three contract months, the local wheat market today was nervous and erratic. The market was active during the early part of the session and considerable wheat changed hands with evidence that exporters were buying. The cash wheat market was active, with premiums ¼c to ½c better. American millers were good buyers. Coarse cash grains were in fair demand. Future coarse grain market was weak showing declines from ¾c to 7c. October wheat closed 3⅝c lower; November 4⅞c lower and December 6¾c lower. BRITISH WARSHIPS EACH CARRY A SPECIAL BADGE

Designed to Represent the Name of the Ship Pictorially—An "Heraldic Adviser"

London, Sept. 29—(By Mail)—Since the days of the elaborately carved figureheads, now only seen in naval museums, no British warship has carried an official badge but now an Admiralty committee, with an "heraldic adviser," has revived the ancient insignia in another form.

Each British Man 'o War has now been granted a duly authorized badge, to be fixed in wood or brass on the quarter deck, and on either bow of its boats. Badges have been designed to represent the name of the vessel pictorially, or, when that was impossible, to embody some device connected with its history.

The Venturous sports a badge representing two dice; Sportive has a butting goat; Tactician, a chess knight; Tormentor, a flea; Spitfire, a cat with arched back; Inconstant, a butterfly; Sesame, a key; Sterling, the pound mark (£) and Watchful, an eye.

Major Charles Ffoulkes, of the Royal Marines, acts as heraldic adviser.

Strikers are Peaceful

London, Oct. 19.—Monday's riot at Whitehall had no direct connection with the coal strike, the riot, in fact, was the work of a comparatively few hooigans, the great majority of the unemployed demonstrators who marched along Downing Street being perfectly peaceful. The mining districts are absolutely tranquil, nevertheless, unemployment among skilled workers is bound to increase daily This week's racing has been abandoned, and the Lord Mayor's procession postponed, but football will carry on as usual. Hopes are based on this afternoon's discussion in Parliament clearing the air, but reliable commentators hesitate, believing that the solution will be found suddenly.

Monday's Disorders

London, Oct. 19.— Disorders occurred in Whitehall Monday afternoon during a demonstration by unemployed men, who had sent a delegation to Premier Lloyd George in Downing Street. Several persons were injured in attempts to break through the police cordon and others were hurt when some stonework from a window on the Treasury building fell.

The situation which developed on Whitehall at the entrance to Downing Street was an ugly one. There were a thousand of the unemployed there, awaiting the return of their delegation, and the great thoroughfare of Whitehall in the vicinity was jammed.

Unemployed Start Trouble

The disorder started when the unemployed demonstrators tried to break through the heavy police guard and get into Downing Street. It was during this rush that the window stones from the Treasury crashed down. Police reinforcements were rushed up, and mounted police were called out to assist the regulars

At least two of the police and several civilians were injured in the early attempts of the crowd to get through the cordon. Finally the crowd began to throw stones.

The parapet on one side of Downing Street also collapsed during the crush.

Red Flag Captured

A number of persons were injured when a crowd headed by the Red Flag of the Tottenham district Socialist and Labor party made a determined rush and tried to break through the police line. Eventually the Red Flag was captured.

The deputation to the Premier consisted of fifteen heads of London boroughs asking relief for the unemployed. The disorders were still proceeding when the deputation emerged from the Premier's official residence at No. 10, Downing Street, and tried to quiet the crowd.

At the same time, a small party of demonstrators went to the neighboring Trafalgar Square, set up a red flag and sang the "Internationae," and cheered Lenine and Trotzky. No troube deveoped here, however, the police not interfering

The police finally dispersed the rioters.

WELL KNOWN BRANDON WOMAN AND DAUGHTERS IN SHOOTING ACCIDENT

A shooting accident which may have serious consequences occurred about five miles from Brandon on Monday, and as a result of which Mrs. J. F. Price, 349 Third Street, is in the Brandon General Hospital suffering from injuries to one of her eyes; and Misses Muriel adn Genevieve Price are also suffering slightly from injuries to their faces. Mrs. Price, accompanied by her daughters and Mr. Robert Lane, Jr., were on a shooting expedition. Mrs. Price and daughters were in the car when the shot fired by Mr. Lane from behind some bushes, scattered. One small ellet entered one of Mrs. Price's eyes, while other pellets slightly injured her daughters. Mrs. Price was rushed to the hospital and although in a great deal of pain, her attending physician, Dr. C. P. Templeton, stated today that she was progressing favorably.

2000 YEARS AGO

the fighting Gladiators of ancient Rome healed their wounds and sores with rare herbal oils and balms. These are said to have knitted the damaged tissues together in miraculous fashion.

Though the highly-prized secrets of those precious healers were lost with the fall of Rome itself, the introduction of the great herbal balm Zam-Buk, has furnished their true successor. It is so marvellously like them in action.

The soothing and healing touch of Zam-Buk is to-day known the world over. Wherever there is a Cut, Burn or Scald, a Festering or Poisoned Sore, a patch of Eczema, Salt Rheum, Pimples or Rash, Zam-Buk ends the trouble once and for all. The same with Ulcers, Ringworm, and Piles.

Nothing else known to Science performs such marvellous healing, or dispels disease from the tissues so thoroughly as Zam-Buk does. This is due to its pure herbal character and origin. Its absolute freedom from the animal fats and minerals found in present-day ointments is another valuable feature.

With production costs at high-water mark, the price of Zam-Buk remains at 50 cents. At the old price you still have the same high standard of curative and healing value. Increased world-wide demand allows this.

PROVINCE OF MANITOBA

MANITOBA—
A word with a double meaning!

To us, it means "Home," with all that the expression implies.

But out in the world—in Liverpool, London, France, the Antipodes!—What does the word "Manitoba" mean?

It means WHEAT—The prime market grade of the world's primary food.

There's a lesson here for us. Just as fast as Manitobans forget the development of Agriculture as the first work of this country; just so fast will Manitoba fail to proceed to her destiny.

The finest single thing for Agriculture this Province has done in a decade has been the policy of enabling farmers to secure easy, safe, legitimate credit.

The Provincial Savings Office is enabling Manitoba to finance this beneficial credit out of the resources of her own citizens.

But to really succed in its purpose, the PROVINCE OF MANITOBA SAVINGS OFFICE has got to become a BIG thing—Its immediate field is the area of all the unploughed acres of Manitoba. Your deposit, as a citizen, should be there.

DEATH OF GREEK KING DUE TO BITE BY PET MONKEY

Chosen King When Constantine Was Deposed—Loyal to His Country

Athens, Oct. 26.—King Alexander of Greece died last evening at 5.20. His death was due to wounds which he had received in an attack on him by a pet monkey early in October, the King being badly mutilated.

Throughout Sunday night the heart action grew weaker, his general debility becoming more pronounced and pulmonary trouble was intense. Breathing at times was most difficult, and at noon Monday it was announced that the King's condition was hopeless.

Alexander succeeded to the throne of Greece in June, 1917 when his father, King Constantine, abdicated in response to the demand of France, Great Britain and Russia, the three powers which had guaranteed the constitutional liberties of the Greek people. Alexander was the second son of Constantine and at the time of his accession was not quite 24 years old. His elder brother, Crown Prince George, was considered ineligible for the throne because of alleged pro-German sympathies.

In any event, King Constantine nominated Alexander to succeed him. The fall of Constantine had been brought through the agency of the French Senator, M. Jonnart, who went to Athens in June, 1917, as a representative of the three great powers on the ground that this step would establish unity of feeling among the Greeks and greater security for the Entente forces then operating in the East. Constantine had been accused of pro-German sympathies partly on account of his marriage to the Princess Sophie sister of the then Emperor William of Germany, and it was also charged that he had not acted honorably toward the Allies. Alexander, on the other hand, was reported to be free from pro-German proclivities.

Alexander took the oath of office at Athens in August 1917, and promised to carry out the policy of his father. This was said to have shocked the Entente powers. It soon was reported that he was at odds with Premier Venizelos and had refused to abandon his idea of continuing his father's program. Some doubts were raised as to the advisability of permitting him to assume the thrown unless he discontinued what was characterized as an obstructive policy.

Reports of lack of harmony between Alexander and Venizelos were circulated in the Spring of 1920, but the Premier disposed of these in a statement in which he paid tribute to the King's patriotism. One respect in which the King and his Premier were said to have been at odds was over the King's morganatic marriage to Mlle. Manos, daughter of a former aide-de-camp to his father, which is said to have taken place in November 1919. No record of the marriage was obtainable owing to the fact that it was not recorded with the Metropolitan of Athens, the supreme ecclesiastic authority of Grece.

Friends and Sweethearts

The young King and his morganatic wife were childhood friends and sweethearts. Alexander asserted that he had a right to marry whomever he pleased, and took his bride to the palace in Athens. This aroused a storm of discussion which so displeased his wife that in the early part of 1920 she went with her mother and sister to live in Paris, and Alexander visited her there in the following May. It was announced that the Greek constitution did not grant him permission to enter upon the morganatic marrage and that action by the Greek Parliament would be necessary to determine whether Mlle. Manos could become Queen of Greece or remain the King's official consort. Alexander's refusal to give up his wife was said to have greatly worried Venizelos and there were reports that the King would not return to Greece. He did so, however, and witnessed Greek operation in Thrace in the Summer of 1920, entering Adrianople, which had been surrendered to the Greek troops, amid a great demonstration.

On October 3 he was bitten by a monkey while endeavoring to protect his dog from an attack. His would became infected and several operation for the removal of flesh were performed. His condition for several days was reported to be critical.

Attacked By Dog

The monkey's attack on the King recalls a somewhat similar episode that occurred in the Spring of 1919, when the youthful monarch was bitten by a dog which had been present-

THREE PRAIRIE PROVINCES AND NOVA SCOTIA VOTE BONE DRY

Complete Returns Will Not Be Available for Several Days, But Majorities in Most Provinces Over Ten Thousand, According to Latest Estimates

Winnipeg, Oct. 26.—Belated returns on the liquor referendum vote in Manitoba, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Nova Scotia, early today indicate that there will be little change in the figures and estimates made late Monday night. It is probable that the Manitoba dry margin will be increased to more than 10,000, but there is no possibility that any other than a sweeping dry victory has been registered, wherever the vote was taken Monday. Nova Scotia gave the drys about 30,000 majority, the only wet polls being in Halifax.

Manitoba Votes Dry

Winnipeg, Oct. 26.—Virtually all the rural constituencies of Manitoba yesterday went on record as favoring "bone dry" prohibition with a temperance plurality which final returns may show to be around 15,000. One exception to this was the Federal constituency of Sprinfield which showed a majority for "No" of 1,369. St. Boniface was mainly responsible for this, giving the wets a majority of 1,164. Provencher also went wet with a majority of 159.

With approximately 67 per cent. of the 64,000 people entitled to vote having voted, Winnipeg voted itself "wet" Monday with a majority of 6,266. It is estimated that 90 per cent. of the women voted dry.

The results of Monday's liquor referendum by constituencies in Manitoba so far as received are as follows:

The Saskatchewan Vote

Regina, Oct. 26. — With scores of country polls still to be heard from, the Saskatchewan majority against the importation of liquor is now slightly more than 10,000.

It was stated at noon today that it would probably be several days before any accurate count can be given. The bad condition of the roads is responsible for the delay.

BULLISH TENDENCY ON WHEAT MARKET

Demand for Cash Wheat Light While the Offerings Are Heavy

Winnipeg, Oct. 26.—The local wheat market had a very bullish tendency throughout today's session which was apparently being led by Chicago. A spread of 7¾c to 9c was shown here with the market closing 8¼c to 9¼c higher. The demand for cash wheat was very light while the offerings were heavy. Coarse grain markets were acting strong in sympathy with wheat.

October wheat closed 8¼c higher, November 8¾c higher, December 9¼c and May 9c up. October oats ¼c lower, December ⅝c higher, May ⅞c higher and November ⅜c up. Barley 2c higher for October, 2½c up for November, 3c higher for December and 2¼c higher for May. Flax 6¼c higher for October, 6½c up for November and 6⅝c up for December. Rye closed 7c higher for all months.

Another case of suicide occurred Sunday when Robert Townley, a plumber, married but two months, drank a quantity of carbolic acid. He died while being taken to the hospital.

NINETEEN BREEDERS ENTER SECOND EGG LAYING CONTEST

Manitoba Pens Made Fine Showing in First Contest Now Concluding

Entry lists for the second Manitoba Egg Laying Contest, which will commence November first at the Brandon Experimental Farm and will continue for fifty-two weeks, have been completed. Nineteen poultry breeders have entered pens of ten birds each for this contest and other poultry raisers are keenly interested. In order to accommodate some of the birds competing in the 1919-20 contest which, although the contest finishes this week, have complete their record of performance, one new house has been erected. Although not competing in the contest the Brandon Experimental Farm will have four pens in this new house in order that a record of performance may be kept.

Superintendent McKillican stated today that the 1919-20 Manitoba Egg laying contest held during the past fifty-two weeks at the Brandon Experimental Farm had been a great success. In comparison with the six other contests at various Experimental Farms in the Dominion, Manitoba did particularly well, obtaining a standing five out of the first six places. The contest also did a great deal to promote interest in poultry raising among the people of Manitoba.

Entrants in New Contest

The following is a list of those who have entered birds for the contest which commences next Monday: One pen each of White Wyandottes—Mrs. A. S. Harte, Gladstone; G. F. Thompson, Minnedosa. One pen Silver Laced Wyandottes—J. M. Scott, Moorepark. One pen each of Anconas—E. Blake; E. H. Hebel, Brandon; L. J. Waghorn, Harry Cooper, Winnipeg One pen each of White Leghorns—J. J. Logan, Norwood; Arthur Howell, Brandon; Jos. McQubid, Winnipeg; Rutland Poultry, Karnack and C. S. Palmer, Brandon. One pen Rhode Island Reds, David Russell, Two Creeks. One pen Brown Leghorns—G. F. Windsor, Crystal City. One pen Partridge Rocks—Peerless Products Co., Brandon. One pen each Barred Rocks—Mrs. Jos. Woods, Brandon; John C. Kerr, Brandon. One pen Buff Orpingtons—J. B. Ober, Brandon. One pen Campines—Kerr & McGuinness, Brandon. The Brandon Experimental Farm are placing two pens each of Barred Rocks and White Wyandottes in one of the houses to obtain a record of performance.

GOMPERS URGES LABOR TO VOTE FOR GOVERNOR COX IN U. S. ELECTIONS

GERMANS SAY THEY ARE ASSIMILATED TOO QUICKLY

Washington, Oct. 26.—Plans to "assimilate" immigrant members were emphasized at the biennial session of the United Lutheran Church.

Delegates from the Northwestern synod, which includes parts of Western Canada, asked authorization to raise $50,000 for their educational institution at Saskatoon, Sask., but objected to the proposal to work in co-operation with the Board of Education. German members of that synod, it was stated in the debate, were "suspicious" of plans to bring their educational institutions under the control of the Educational Board.

"The German brethern of the Northwest," said N. W. Robb, of Milwaukee, "are waiting to see what kind of control we are going to try to exercise over their institution."

Another speaker said that the Germans thought that efforts were being made to "assimilate" them too fast.

VICTORIAN STATE GOVT. HAS MAJORITY OF ONE: 2 MINISTERS DEFEATED

London, Oct. 26. — Latest advices from Melbourne, Australia, indicate that the Victorian State Government of H. S. W. Lawson, Nationalist, will have a majority of only one as a result of the elections last week. The Government has to depend for its existence on the Country party which has hitherto acted independently of the Nationalists and Laborites, the two strongest blocks in the Legislature, using each as opportunity arose to further its own interests. Two ministers were defeated.

TOYLAND DISARMING: PEOPLE PURCHASING ONLY PEACEFUL TOYS

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Toyland has voted for complete disarmament and in place of brilliant tin soldiers, guns, miniature cannons and other "deadly" war weapons there will be jazzaphone horns, ferry boats, trains, whales which spout real water, and dolls, according to toy buyers here.

The youngster generation is becoming more pacific, according to dealers. As a result of the recent war, parents do not let the children buy tin soldiers or other toys which relate to the military.

PYRENESS WATERPOWER IS BEING HARNESSED

Lerida, Spain, Oct. 26.—Efforts to harness the waterpower going to waste in the Pyrenees and transform it into eectricity are being intensified. Engineers have surveyed the entire mountain range and have succeeded already in controlling many torrents and making them furnish power. Altogether 200,000 horsepower is now furnished and capital amounting to 300,000,0000 pesetas has been invested. Every day sees additions to the amount of power available and engineers employed in the work estimate that in a few years Catalonia will be able to do without coal.

Accused declined to answer questions and was remanded for one week.

ANGLICANS PLAN CANVASS TO INCREASE ATTENDANCE AT CHURCH SERVICES

As a result of the Anglican men's meeting held in the crypt of St. Matthew's church Monday night, a canvas of the city will be made during Advent in an effort to increase church attendance fifty per cent. Other denominations will be asked to join in a canvass for church membership at this time.

Rev. E. A. Anderson, rector of St. Matthew's Church, presided at the meeting and an address was given by Lieut. Burd, D.C.M., who is touring Western Canada in the interests of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. Lieut. Burd told something of the new form agreed upon in connection with the Brotherhood of St. Andrew and also spoke of the plans for the work of the men and boys in the church. He described the plans for a church attendance campaign which will take place in Toronto and several other cities in the Dominion during November. It will be along the same lines that the church attendance canvass will be conducted in Brandon at a later date.

BRANDON BOY HONORED BY BROADVIEW FRIENDS

Brandon friends of Mr. Ross Robertson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Robertson, 441 Twelfth Street, will be interested to learn that he has been transferred from Broadview, Sask., to the branch of the Imperial Bank at Regina, Sask.

Prior to his departure from Broadview a farewell banquet and presentation was tendered him by a number of his more intimate friends, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Collins. During the evening a solid leather club bag was presented to Mr. Robertson who, although taken by surprise, acknowledged the presentation suitably. Mr. Robertson has a great many friends in Brandon who will wish him success in his new position. He served overseas for about three years.

EFFORTS TO SETTLE COAL STRIKE ARE BRINGING RESULTS

Formal Negotiations Between Government and Representatives of the Miners

THE NEW FORMULA

For Settlement Appears to Offer Basis That May Be Acceptable

London, Oct. 26.—Formal negotiations between the Government and the executive officers of the Miners Federation, in an effort to settle the coal strike, were opened this morning indicating that the informal discussions which have been in progress since Sunday had proved satisfactory, in some measure, at least. It is reported from South Wales today that the Miners' officials there had before them Monday the Government's new formula on the wage question, which is said to be based upon coal value. The miners get two shillings a day increase, but the future selling price of coal will depend on the production. That is, if the production falls below a certain level, the price of coal will be increased to the householder; otherwise the present prices will be maintained. Under this plan miners, while receiving more wages, would co-operate with owners in preventing increased prices.

APPOINTMENTS ARE CAUSE OF MUCH DISSATISFACTION

Split Between Various Groups of Labor and Farmers Predicted in Ontario House

Toornto, Oct. 26.—The friction that has existed for a considerable time between the various groups of the Labor forces and the U.F.O. is likely to reach a crisis in the very near future. Murmurings of dissatisfaction with the various appointments made by the Drury Governmnet during the past few months have been heard aroung Queen's Park. A conference of Labor M.P.P.'s is being held and it has been intimated that a demand will be made for the resignation of Hon. Walter Rollo, Minister of Labor.

BRANDON GIVES WET MAJORITY OF 29 VOTES: INTEREST IN RESULT

Out of the 3,799 Votes Cast in Brandon Wets Won Majority of 29—Thousand Persons Who Voted at Provincial Elections Failed to Attend Polls—Tremendous Interest in the Result Both Locally and in the Three Prairie Provinces

The result of the voting in Brandon on the referendum came as a surprise to many as it was anticipated that the "drys" would carry the city. However when the final results were in it was shown that the "wets" had a majority of 29, Brandon being one of the few places in the Province to vote "no." The polling during the day was very light, the rain and unfavorable weather no doubt keeping a large number of the voters away from the booths. Only 3,799 voters out of 5,930 eligible to vote in Brandon cast their ballots on Monday. There were 4,655 votes cast in Brandon in the recent Provincial election.

Although there was comparatively little interest displayed during the day's voting there was a real election fervor in the evening when the results started to come in. The Sun phones were busy answering queries all evening, while a large crowd gathered around the bulletin board to read the results as they were posted. Difficulty in ascertaining results from outside points and the late arrival of the returns from Alberta kept the final results unknown until late in the evening. Judging from the remarks made over the phone and at the bulletin board, there were very mixed feelings and opinions on the result.

GREAT CROWD HEARS PREMIER MEIGHEN'S STIRRING SPEECH

Recond of Government Warmly Defended—Position on the Tariff Made Plain

POLITICAL JIG DANCING

By Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King Attacked—Calder in Fine Form

Winnipeg, Oct. 25.—A crowd which packed every bit of available space in the Board of Trade building here, heard the Hon. Arthur Meighen, Premier of Canada open his Western tour with a stirring speech. The Premier was given a splendid hearing throughout and the conclusion of the speech was greeted with an outburst of applause. The Premier was preceded by the Hon. J. A. Calder who is accompanying the Hon. Arthur Meighen on his tour. The Minister of Immigration and Colonization defended the war time record of the Union Government and said that Canada had done better by it's soldiers than any other country in the world, with the possible exception of the United States.

Government's Policy

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 26 (By Canadian Press).— A defense of the Government's course over the past three years, an attack on what he termed "political jig dancing," of Hon. W. L. McKenzie King in his present Western tour, and a statement on the Government's tariff policy featured the address here last night of Hon. Arthur Meighen, Premier of Canada, in the opening meeting of his tour of the Western provinces. He was preceded by Hon. J. A. Calder, who is to accompany the Premier on his trip, and who reviewed briefly what he considered some of the outstanding achievements of the Government in recent years.

"There must be," said Premier Meighen, "such a tariff as will make it pay Canadian industries to remain in Canada and make it pay industries to grow and to make goods in this country. Up to that point, and not beyond that point, the tariff in Canada on any class of goods should go. I ask the people of Winnipeg, if you first of all decide that you must take account of the needs of industry and and been established in this country, can you possibly adopt a more restricted principle than that? We do not intend to go further. There is no value whatever in a tariff that does less. I do not see how to find out what is necessary except by the most careful and thorough inquiry that can be made. That is the course the Government is pursuing, and before the electors of this country are asked to decide between our course and the vagaries of our various oppositions they will have a definite tariff from us in black and white. By the principle I have defined, by the limits I have clearly set out, that tariff will be constructed.

Await Completion of Investigation

"If I am asked," he continued "whether it will be possible to have a lower scale than prevails today, or not, I say that must await the completion of the investigation. For myself, I would hope that in the final result it would be found not to be higher, and perhaps lower than it is now, but I believe the interest of Canadians of every class require that Canadian industries remain Canadian industries, and that Canadian industries and not American industries grow with the growth of Canada."

Mr. Meighen declared that the language of the leader of the Opposition, on the stump was "even more reckless than his language in Parliament," He defended the Government from Mr. King's charges that it has been autocratic in its methods, and asserted that the Opposition leader's words on the Grand Trunk Bill constituted "a glaring example of incomprehensible inexactitude." "The irresponsible utterances of the leader of the Opposition," said the Premier "are an illustration of how completely partisan blindness can paralyze the human mind.

The Premier spoke in high terms of the services to the State rendered by Sir Robert Borden, and paid tribute to the memory of Sir Wilfred Laurier who taught public men, he said, lessons of self-control, of cheerfulness of mind and heart, of kindliness of manner of dignity of bearing.

Reviewing Government's Record

Reviewing the record of the Government, the Premier said that as trustees for the people they were proud to account "for every day and every hour of the conduct of our trust.

"The members of the Union Government," he went on, "both former Liberals and former Conservatives, believed that the bond of principle that bound its members and its followers together were more important

VICTORY HAS SO FAR RESTED ON FARMERS' EFFORTS

Remarkable Record of Triumphs Achieved in the Political Arenas

FEDERAL AND PROVINCIAL

Politicians Asking if Wave Has Begun to Subside — A Sugar Pill

Ottawa, Oct. 22. — The New Brunswick elections have set the politicians here scratching their heads. As is known, the Farmers elected seven and the Laborites four members, or about twenty-five per cent. of the whole house. Coming on the heels of the Nova Scotia elections, where the Farmers elected a similar number, the impression is gaining ground that the Maritime Provinces, too, have caught the Farmer fever, which seems to be running through the rural electorate like the "flu" did two years ago.

While the number elected in New Brunswick looks impressive, still the question of the quality is under discussion. Some New Brunswickers experienced in politics will have it that several of the Farmers elected are merely camouflaged Grits or Tories who, desiring to get into the legislature by hook or crook, ran as Farmer candidates because they believed this was the most popular label. In the provinces down by the sea the Farmers' movement may be just as genuine as it is in Ontario, or out West, but it is difficult to convince Maritime Province politicians that this is so. They say "Scratch a Farmer and you will find a Grit or a Tory." This remains to be seen.

New Brunswick politics has had a rather unsavory smell during recent years. The scandal that drove the Fleming Government from power is well known. Then came the "potato scandal." Even Carvell, who figured in a supposedly profitable hay contract during the South African war, was, in this connection, given a terrible going over in 1916 by Burrell. Indeed, some say that this was the best speech that Burrell ever made in Parliament. Certainly it was a hot roast.

The ease with which some of the old-time politicians in New Brunswick have donned United Farmer clothes recalls that some very prominent Federal politicians from that province have also made similar changes. Those who heard Carvell attack the Borden Government over the shell contracts little thought at that time that he would enter a Cabinet under Sir Robert; but he did. Some said, "But after the war is over he will be back again." But he didn't go. On the contrary, he accepted one of the best jobs at the hand of the leader that he had so denounced. Then there is that politician veteran, Hon. William Pugsley, more familiarly known as 'Slippery Bill." If there ever was a brainy man in Parliament it was he, a sworn enemy of the Borden Government. But when Union Government was being formed he accepted the Lieutenant-Governorship of his province from Sir Robert. It is now said that he is eager to get back into the fray as a Liberal, which, if true, may be taken as a fairly good indication that he believes a change of government is at hand.

Whatever one may think of the strength of the Farmers' movement in the Maritime Provinces, certain it is that the Government has trained its big guns on it all over the country. In East Elgin the Prime Minister seemed to pay more attention to the United Farmer than he did to the Independent Liberal. At a recent banquet in Montreal Mr. Ballantyne said that it was a straight fight between the Government and the Farmers. At the same time it is said that the Liberal in East Elgin is just now a very formidable contender.

What Farmers Have Done

A year having passed since the Farmers, as an organized party, began to nominate candidates for Parliament and for the various Provincial Legislatures, it will be of interest to set down what they have accomplished to date. They have elected sixty-seven candidates, five to the House of Commons and sixty-two to the various legislative assemblies.

As Parliament is the most important of these bodies, it is natural at first to look at what the Farmers have done in the Dominion field. At the latter end of September, 1919, they contested Assiniboia against Motherwell and trimmed him to a nicety. In October they won Glengarry-Stormont and Carleton-Victoria over Unionists. In December they won North Ontario over a Unionist. In April Angus MacDonald, a Labor and Farmers candidate, won a decisive victory in Temiskaming. In September they were badly beaten in Colchester by Hon. F. B. McCurdy. Thus in the six Federal contests in which they have participated during the last year they have won five, not a bad showing, especially for a new party. But it is to be observed that since Meighen took hold the Farmers have not been walking off so easily with things.

Now as to the Farmers' work in provincial politics. Their first appearance in a large way in this field was at the provincial elections in Ontario last Fall. True, they had two members in the assembly that had been dissolved, but this was the first time that they had entered a general contest since the days of the Patrons of Industry. They elected forty-five members and with their Labor allies formed a government headed by Hon. E. C. Drury who, from present indications, will hold office for a while.

Their next trial of strength was in the Manitoba provincial elections, when they elected eleven out of fifty-five members. In this province they now hold the balance of power. In fact Norris is at their mercy.

The next test was in Nova Scotia where they elected seven members. As this was the first time they had entered the politics of that province the result was an eye-opener. True, they did not hold Colchester, or rather did not defeat McCurdy, in that seat two months after, which may indicate a slump in their stock, or it may not.

It is of course unnecessary to produce evidence of the Farmers' strength in Alberta and Saskatchewan, where both governments, while nominally Liberal, really claim to be Farmers' governments.

So looking over the situation the Farmers' showing is impressive. While during the last year they have sent sixty-seven representatives to Parliament and the various legislative assemblies, the Liberals have sent one hundred and six, the Conservatives fifty-two and Labor thirty-two. Counting Macdonald among their number they have elected five members of Parliament, while the Liberals and Conservatives have each elected four.

The question bothering the old-time politicians is, Has the Farmers wave begun to subside, or is it still at the flood? The result in East Elgin should throw some light on the subject.

Sugar is considered to be a sure sweetener, even in politics; but since the ill-starred Board of Commerce issued its famous twenty-one cents-a-pound order sugar has become known as the champion political cyclone breeder. Ottawa has experienced some stiff political blows, but nothing like this ever before struck the capital. It came up in a single night and within twenty-four hours had blown the Board of Commerce so far that there has been difficulty in finding the pieces, and it also effected the suspension of the order.

In every one the public service there was an ill-starred body it is this same Board of Commerce. Rushed into being before the plan on which it was supposed to operate had been well thought out, it has had a short but troubled career. Created to protect the consumer from the ravages of the profiteer, it has turned to help the profiteer against the consumer, its crowning act being to issue an order that would have compelled the consuming public to make good the money that the sugar refiners said they must otherwise lose. It is surprising how some boards and commissions get twisted.

It passes understanding how this board, which everybody thought had made its last kick, should suddenly come to life and make this violent effort. Possibly weary of the agony of a lingering death, it may have thought that by hitting at the public in this way it would provoke someone into hitting it on the head and thus suddenly precipitating the end. If such was the desire it certainly will be gratified. Before the order was suspended by the Cabinet a member of the board remarked, "Well, it's all over with us."

It did not take the Prime Minister long to deal with the Board. If Sir Robert Borden had been in office he might have delayed action until someone had determined the identity of the ultimate consumer; but not so with his successor. There was nothing to do but to bow before the cyclone of public indignation, and he did it.

The wide-awake politician will draw from the incident the conclusion that the public is thinking more of the high cost of living and of "getting" the profiteers than of anything else. There is a rod in the pickle all right for these gentlemen. The public is aroused, it is demanding heads and very probably will continue to do so until the close of the next general election.

The incident has for politicians another lesson, namely, if you don't want your head blown off be careful how you handle any matter on which the women feel deeply. Abraham Lincoln was considered a sage because he said "You can fool all the people some of the time"; but in his day the women hadn't the vote. Certainly you can't fool them on such a matter as sugar.

EXPLOSIONS AND FIRING HEARD IN DUBLIN: NO EXPLANATION OFFERED

One Rumor is That Government Armory Had Been Raided and That Raiders Threw Captured Bombs in Running Fight With the Police

London, Oct. 22.—A violent explosion and firing was heard in various parts of Dublin early this morning, a dispatch to The Exchange Telegraph Company says. Numerous rumors are current in the city the dispatch said, but no definite explanation was offered. One report was that the government armory had been raided and a large quantity of arms and ammunition captured, explosions being due to raiders htrowing hand grenades in a running fight with the police.

Two Military Lorries Ambushed

The fight lasted half an hour and the attacking forces captured all the equipment carried by both lorries.

What About Larkin?

London, Oct. 22. — Colonel Malone demanded in the House of Commons last night whether the government was aware that James Larkin, former head of the British Transport Workers' Union, serving a prison term in New York for criminal anarchy, had developed tuberculosis in Dannemora prison, owing to the nature of the work on which he was employed and is in a critical condition. He asked whether the government had made representations to the U. S. Government with a view to releasing Larkin for treatment.

Cecil Harmsworth, Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, replying, said he was aware that Larkin had been sentenced on the charge of advocating the overthrow of the U. S. Government, but had no information regarding his condition. The matter was not one, he added, on which Great Britain could make representations.

Cabinet's Position Secure

Newspapers hostile to the Government admit that the debate on reprisals in Ireland did nothing towards weakening the Cabinet's position with its supporters in the House of Commons.

T. P. O'Connor described the conduct of the Black and Tans as a senile imitation of Prussianism.

Right Hon. Bonar Law epitomized the Cabinet's attitude in declaring that he did not intend that the soldiers and police should have any doubt as to their being supported. Commentators generally admit that the rejection of the motion for an enquiry by 346 votes to 79 was a foregone conclusion.

The Shooting of Walsh

Galway, Ireland, Oct. 22. — Sensational details of the shooting Monday night of Michael Walsh, urban councillor of Galway, in the "Old Malt House," of which he was the proprietor, were related yesterday by a 17-year-old apprentice, who was the sole witness.

At six o'clock Monday night five men in civilian clothes, said the apprentice, entered the "Old Malt House" and cleared out the customers. Walsh was nervous and asked the apprentice for rum.

"That liquor is going to waste, for you will be dead within an hour," said one of the masked intruders.

Walsh asked permission to see a priest, but this was refused him. The strangers demanded to know how many policemen Walsh had shot. Protesting his innocence of crime, Walsh was led from the place, according to the boy.

The body of Walsh was found in the river Tuesday morning. There was a bullet wound in the temple. A military inquiry has been ordered.

WELL KNOWN BANKER RESIGNS: MR. AND MRS. BIRNIE GO TO SCOTLAND

Mr. W. L. Birnie for over two years manager of the local branch of the Bank of Hamilton, accompanied by Mrs. Birnie, will leave the city early in December for the Old Country where after a year's travel in the British Isles and France, they will reside in Scotland. Mr. Birnie's successor has not yet been appointed.

With the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Birnie from this city, Brandon loses two people keenly interested in its welfare. Coming to Brandon in April, 1918, Mr. Birnie took over the managership of the Bank of Hamilton in this city. He has been in the service of that institution for the past fifteen years, having been manager of several branches and latterly being inspector of Western branches. He closely identified himself with the life of this city, was a member the Canadian Club, and for a year acted as Secretary of the Board of Trade.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Birnie have taken a deep interest in the work in connection with Knox Church. Mr. Birnie is Chairman of the Board of Management and Mrs. Birnie is President of the Ladies Aid and Vice President of the Missionary Society. Mrs. Birnie is a member of the executive of several other societies in Brandon, being a member of the Y.W.C.A. Board; a member of the executive of the Red Cross Society; a member of the Art Club and the Women's Canadian Club and until recently Treasurer of the Women's Service League.

Mr. and Mrs. Birnie are planning to have a little bit of Canada amongst the heather hills of Scotland, for they intend to build a Canadian bungalow for their future home.

OATMEAL MILL SUFFERS DAMAGE BY EXPLOSION

And Fire Which Followed to an Estimated Amount of $12,000

SPONTANEOUS COMBUSTION

Only Cause For Disaster Yet Discovered — Miraculous Escapes by Employes

An explosion, which blew off the top of the oatmeal mill at the Western Canada Flour Mills, and did damage estimated at about $12,000, occurred Thursday afternoon. Employes of the company had miraculous escapes from injury, one man only suffering injury when some flying brick struck him on the head. A horse, standing near the feed mill, was so badly hurt by falling timber and brick that it had to be shot later. Fire broke out in the oatmeal mill following the explosion, but the efforts of the Fire Department were successful in extinguishing the flames before they could do much damage.

There are two versions of the explosion. One is that the large explosion which blew out the top of the mill and caved in the walls was proceded by two smaller explosions. One of the employes at the mill stated this morning that one of the small explosions first blew one of the large doors on the first floor all to pieces, and then the third and final blast was preceded by one of smaller force. It is apparent, however, that practically all the damage was done by the explosion which found outlet in the top storey of the three storey oatmeal mill. This part of the mill has recently been added to and new machinery installed, the total alterations costing somewhere around $15,000. The oatmeal mill had just commenced operations and was working to capacity.

The explosion which did all the damage occurred about 2.32 on Thursday afternoon, an alarm being turned into the Fire Department at that time. The mill was in full operation at the time the blast came. The full fury of the explosion was spent on the top of the oatmeal mill just about the drying kiln, and here the top was ripped off and the brick scattered in all directions. Luckily, there was no one on that story, but employes were working in and around the building at the time. How they escaped injury is a mystery as the shower of bricks and timber caved in the roof of the power house, making matchwood of the roof.

Miraculous Escapes

An engineer was in the power plant at the time, but the roof fell across the massive engine and offered fortunate protection for him. Two employes were carried out of the doors of the building by the strength of the blast, and several men working near the feel mill had a narrow escape. An old horse which had been in the service of the company for a long time was crushed beneath the falling debris, its back and right front leg being broken. It was shot a few minutes later by Chief of Police Hardy. W. Scheming was the only man hurt, a brick hitting him on the head and giving him a scalp wound which required five stitches.

Fire Followed Explosions

Immediately following the explosion fire broke out in the oatmeal mill just above the drying kiln. The flames did not gain any headway owing to the prompt arrival of the Fire Department and consequently the loss from fire is very slight. Water caused more destruction that the fire, as Mr. Maxwell, managed of the Western Canada Flour Mills here stated this morning that 1,000 bushels of oats which were drying in the bins had been destroyed. It is anticipated also that there will be considerable damage to the machinery in the oatmeal mill through water.

This morning the results of the explosion were rapidly cleared away by a large force of men. The whole flour mill is at a standstill, and means a big loss to the Western Canada Flour Company as it comes at the busiest season of the year. It is expected that the oatmeal mill will be closed down for about two weeks at least while the flour mill will remain closed until certain engine parts are received from Eastern manufacturers. The appraiser was on the job this morning and an accurate estimate of the damage to the plant will be made later. Hower, it was unofficially stated this morning that the damage will run about $12,000.

Officials are at a loss to account for the explosion. Spontaneous combustion was the only reasonable cause, officials stated, although it has not really been determined what actually caused the explosion.

SOVIET OF ACTION AND PROPAGANDA PLANNED REVOLTS

To Overthrow Capitalism—Headquarter at Baku, on the Caspian Sea

Washington, Oct. 22.—In a statement based on its latest and most reliable official advices relative to the Congress of Peoples of the East, held at Baku, on the Caspian Sea, under Bolshevist auspices little more than a month ago, the State Department last night pointed out the far-reaching character of the plans formulated at that conference for stirring revolutionary activities through the world.

The statement shows that 1,891 delegates attended the conference, and that they have scattered with the avowed intention of spreading their Communistic propaganda throughout the East. The department has been advised that 1,273 of those present were native Communists, and that thirty-eight nations and tribes of Asia and the Caucasus were represented.

"Taking a solemn oath,' the announcement by the State Department reads, "sworn upon a naked sword, to wrok night and day to cause their respective countries to rise against 'capitalism' and overthrow it, the 1891 delegates to the Congress of Peoples of the East at Baku, Azerbaidjan, have disbanded with the avowed intention of spreading throughout the East their Communistic propaganda and organization in accordance with the purpose of the congress.

Soviet of Action

"The permanent work of this gathering of radical elements is now to be carried on by a 'Soviet of Action and Propaganda,' which will work in contact with and under the control of the Communist Internationale. The headquarters of this 'Soviet of Action' will be at Baku. The congress has also established a permanent commission of nine members, of whom two are always to be representatives of the Communist Internationale. The Communist majority dominated the Baku congress, and the Communists hereafter will control the radical propaganda in the East.

"The battlefield of the Soviet movement would embrace Asia as well as Europe under the plans and opinions of leaders like Zinovieff, the president of the Petrograd Soviet, and Radek, president of the Moscow Soviet. It is their announced purpose not only to fight 'capitalism' with their Bolshevik doctrine, but to fight also the authority and influence in Asia of all the world powers that nave interests on that continent. Zinovieff, as president of the Communist Internationale, is regarded as responsible for the program. It was at his suggestion that the congress adopted the resolution to form the Soviet of Action and Propaganda' to operate in the East. He proposed a committee to be made up of two delegates from each of the peoples of Asia and the Caucasus. The control of the Communist Internationale over the congress was further emphasized by the fact that of these two delegates from each nation one was to be chosen from the Communist party and one at large from the 'neutral population.'

WELLS DECLARES THERE IS HUNGER AND WANT BUT ORDER IN PETROGRAD

London, Oct. 22.—Conditions in Petrograd were summarized in one phrase: "Hunger and want, but order," by H. G. Wells, the British author, when he arrived here from Russia. He implied that similar conditions prevailed throughout Russia.

In a conversation with a representative of the Daily Mirror, Mr. Wells said he had a chat with Nikolai Lenine, the Russian Bolshevik Premier, and went about freely without a guide, in Petrograd and Moscow as well as other places. He said he was able to see and judge things for himself, but declined to give and general conclusions because his observations are not as yet digested. He declared he had been amused when he read of disturbances and insurrections in Russia, adding: "All that is just humbug."

British Labor and the Country as a Whole Anxiously Await Government's Next Move—Threats by Powerful Unions

London, Oct. 22.—British Labor and the country as a whole, waited anxiously today for the Government's next move in the miners strike following the ultimatum delivered by the Railwaymen yesterday and an almost equally pointed threat from the Transport Workers.

Representatives of the National Union of Railwaymen are in session and it is understood that they expected a reply from the Premier to communication sent him yesterday giving him to understand that the Railwaymen would quit work Sunday night unless by Saturday, strike was settled or negotiations to that end begun.

Meanwhile the Government and some of the Miners leaders are exploring the ground in an effort to find some basis for adjustment.

This afternoon it was announced that the parliamentary committee of the Trade Union Congress called a conference for Wednesday next of the executives of affiliated unions, to consider the methods of helping the miners in their efforts to settle the strike.

The Conference of National Union railwaymen, it was announced decided today to invite the miners executive to meet their railway conferees tomorrow afternoon. The miners executive has been summoned to London and will meet tomorrow to consider the railway unions invitation and the general situation.

London, Oct. 22.—The miners conference of South Wales today asked the National Miners Federation to call a national conference to consider the withdrawal of all labor from the coal mines. The miners are being kept in order by specially assigned forces and their withdrawal would render the pits useless for resumption of work.

CITIZENS BATTLE WITH BANK ROBBERS

One Killed, Three Others Shot — Auto Parked in Street — Money Recovered

Cleveland, O., Oct. 22.—George "Jiggs" Losteiner, said to be under indictment in many states on charges of murder and robbery, is under arrest at a local hospital, shot through the neck, as the result of a street battle at Bedford, 10 miles from here, late Thursday, which resulted in the death of one bandit, the serious wounding and capturing of two others, and the probable fatal shooting of a bank clerk.

More than 200 shots were fired.

The battle was the culmination of one of the most spectacular bank robberies ever staged in this state, during which eight bandits held up the Bedford branch of the Cleveland Trust Company.

The dead man was identified by Bertillon experts as Albert Joyce, alias Johnson. William Petrie, a bank clerk, was the victim of a shotgun in the hands of a citizen who had answered the burglar alarm and mistook him for one of the bandits as he emerged from the bank. Physicians say he is dying. The robbery occurred just as the bank was closing. Six of the gang entered with drawn revolvers and commanded the five employes and three customers to the rear of the building. The employes were forced to lie on their faces and the customers were placed under guard in a room.

Seizing all the money in sight, said to amount to $50,000, the bandits rushed into the street. Almost simultaneously George C. Flickinger, manager of the branch, touched the burglar alarm, which sounded in every downtown business house of Bedford.

E. W. Porter, a tire dealer, one of those attracted, fatally shot Joyce, who was at the wheel of the waiting automobile.

Unable to start the engine, the other bandits fled, leaving the money intact in the machine. During the ensuing battle, Losteiner, Harry Stone and an unidentified man were wounded, R. W. Osborn, proprietor of a grocery store, bringing two of them down.

Posses are searching for the four other members of the gang.

New York, Oct. 22.—Cotton broke 30 points on the New York market following announcement of the British railwaymen's strike ultimatum. Total exports for the year to date were 704,490 bales against 909,418 for the same period of 1919.

PARLIAMENT FAILS TO SOLVE COAL MINERS' DISPUTE

Believed, However, That Negotiations May Bring Some Solution Soon

BRACE'S PROPOSITION

That Increase Be Granted For Three Months Is Under Consideration

London, Oct. 20. — Negotiations which might settle the strike of the coal miners were today believed to be assured. The government officials and Labor leaders who outlined their positions before the evening session of the Parliament have shown a desire to reach an understanding and belief is general today that proposals were in preparation by both sides. Premier Lloyd George is determined that any decision reached must be final in settling the differences which brought about the cessation of work itnhe mines. The executive committee of the National Union of Railwaymen plan to meet today and it's certain attitude toward the strike of the miners is to be clearly defined. The further curtailment of shipping between England and the continent goes into effect today.

Hope For Settlement

London, Oct. 20.—The parliamentary debate on the coal strike Tuesday night, although it disappointed hopes of any immediate settlement of the dispute, nevertheless, owing to its extreme moderation and the conciliatory tone of the premier's speech, has left much brighter prospects that a settlement ere long will be found.

The Premier especially emphasized that no question of amour propre would prevent the government from honesty, fearlessly and sincerely examining any project promising a settlement having due regard for the public interest. and he expressed perfect willingness to consider increased remuneration for the miners, provided it meant a larger output.

While the Cabinet was discussing the suggestion of William Brace that the two shillings demanded by the miners should be granted pending the creation of a permanent wage board, and the matter reviewed by the end of the year, the Labor members of parliament held an important conference in the committee room of the House. Mr. Brace and other members identified with the mining industry attending, and there is a general belief that negotiations will speedily be resumed.

Transport Men Talk Strike

London, Oct. 20.—There were no new developments Tuesday in the coal strike which began last Saturday. One feature of the situation Tuesday night which bare possibilities of a widening of the strike was the prospect of the 25,000 London commercial road transport men ceasing work. These men on Saturda night passed a resolution declaring themselves as fully supporting the miners.

A conference as to have been held Tuesday to take final action on this resolution, but the meeting was adjourned until today. Meantime orders have been issued to branches of the union throughout the country to have their strike organizations prepared. Should thetransport workers in all parts of the country walk out, it is estimated that 180,000 men would be involved.

By an agreement between the Board of Trade and the jockey club all horse racing is to be suspended for the duration of the coal miners' strike.

Announcement was made this evening of the suspension of the sailings of nearly all the passenger steamers between England and Ireland. Exception is to be made in the cases of vessels carrying the mails. The railroads are also beginning to restrict their passenger traffic.

It is reported in the Middlesbrough district that about 30,000 workers have been rendered idle in the iron and dependent industries as a result of the coal strike.

STATISTICS ACT AS BAROMETERS FOR AUTHORITIES

States Expert at Dominion Conference For Child Welfare at Ottawa

Ottawa, Oct. 20.—At Tuesday afternoon's session of the Dominion conference on Child Welfare, E. S. McPhail, of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, said that the figures showed that where wages were low infantile mortality was highest. He urged the convention to recommend legislation enforcing statistical returns. "Statistics," he said, "were barometers whereby authorities could guage epidemics and determine how to combat them," Mrs. Arthur Rogers, Winnipeg, advocated universal legislation for handling child welfare and reducing infantile mortality. She urged that all nursing homes and mid-wives be registered.

POLITICS NOT MIXED UP WITH C. N. RAILWAYS

Allegations That Men Hired in New Brunswick For Election Purposes, Are Denied

Toronto, Oct. 20.—"There is no politics mixed up with the Canadian National Railways in any shape or form, and we have no interference from any Minister of the Crown at any time," said R. C. Vaughan, assistant to the President of the C.N.R., Tuesday, in answer to the reported allegations of William Varley, general organizer of the American Federation of Labor, that men had been hired in New Brunswick for election purposes.

HALF HOLIDAY BYLAW DID NOT PASS COUNCIL

The grocers and trades seeking a Thursday half-holiday the year round did not get their by-law passed at the regular meeting of the City Council on Tuesday evening. It was turned down on a technicality, but there is no doubt that it will be passed eventually. Petitions had been largely signed by different merchants asking that the Council pass the by-law, and commence the weekly half-holidays at once.

However, it was pointed out by City Clerk Brown that the petitions were not properly presented. Each trade must present a separate petition and the wording of the petitions must be according to statute forms. Under these circumstances the by-law could not be passed on Tuesday evening. It is practically assured, however, that the by-law closing the grocery stores in the city will be passed when the petition is properly presented. Other trades are seeking the Thursday half-holiday also, but these trades are not so sure that they have the unanimous support or the required number to pass on the petition to the Council. It is apparent, however, that the step of the grocery stores in the city in granting their employes a half holiday on Thursday afternoons the year round, will be followed by other trades in the city within a short time.

ENGLISH BEING INTRODUCED IN SERBIAN SCHOOLS

Great Shortage of Teachers But Work Meets With Success

Belgrade, Serbia, Oct. 20.—English is being introduced throughout the schools of Serbia. It is now made a compulsory subject in the normal schools. The first courses in English which were inauguarted in Belgrade a year ago under an American teacher, Dr. James Wild, of Chicago, have yielded such excellents results that the Government has decided to make the language a part of the circula of all schools.

Heretofore the dominating language of the Serbians, apart from their native tongue, has been German. The Germans were quick to see the advantages of introducing their language as a means of acquainting the school children with the ways and customs of the German people. The pupils were given little chance of acquiring the things that go to make up the life and cuture of Anglo-Saxon civilization.

A very large proportion of Serbia's school teachers were killed in war, 800 having died during the Bulgarian occupation. Scores of school buildings were destroyed, and most of the school books printed in the Serbian language were deliberitely confiscated and burned by the Bulgars. Even Bibles were carried off, the object of the Bulgarians being to displace all books in the Serbian language with publications in their own tongue.

Notwithstanding these disasters, out of 2,100 schools in Serbia, nearly 2,000 have re-opened. So great is the thirst for education in Serbia that it is a common thing for children in the country districts to leave their homes before daybreak and walk for several hours to reach school, not returning home until late in the evening. The school buildings, owing to the ravages of war, often are without window panes, heating, desks, books, and even writing material.

So great is the shortage of teachers and the influx of pupils that the former have to work from dawn until night taking their classes in "relays."

THRESHING ALMOST FINISHED IN THE BRANDON DISTRICT

Result of Harvest is Compared With Crops in British Columbia

With threshing operations practically finished in Brandon district and Fall plowing well under way the farmers are fairly well satisfied with the result of the harvest. A comparison of the crop harvested in the Frazer Valley of British Columbia with the yield in Brandon district makes the result of the harvest in this area seem very worth while.

Much of the grain in Brandon district has been marketed and none of it graded less than No. 3 Northern, so that very little damage was done by wheat sprounting during nearly four weeks of rain in the harvest season, when threshing operations had to cease. The average yield for wheat in this district is about nine bushels to the acre. Oats averaged about twenty-five bushels to the acre, rye twenty bushels, and barley from ten to twenty bushels to the acre.

In British Columbia, on the Delta, and in the Frazer Valley, they had an exceptionally heavy crop of oats and barley especially. Owing to the heavy rains which started the last of August and have continued off and on ever since, only about one-tenth of the crop will be saved. The cutting was just about finished and very little threshing done when the rain commenced. As a result of the delay in threshing there is about six inches of green growth on the stooks. The oat crop is almost a total loss and it is estimated that millions of dollars have been lost owing to the bad weather.

Mr. John Brown, a former resident of this city, who is at present in Brandon, stated this morning that it was the most unusual season for September he had experienced during his fourteen years' residence in Vancouver. He said there had been a great deal of damage done the crops in the Frazer Valley, where he estimated about fifty per cent. of the harvest had been ruined. The hay crop was saved, but the grain crop, owing to the continued wet weather, is a heavy loss. "A great deal of damage has also been done the potato crop. In many sections the potatoes are under water and the crop is ruined."

DESCRIPTIONS OF THREE WINKLER BANDITS SECURED

Winnipeg, Oct. 20.—Conclusive evidence that bandits who robbed the Winkler Union Bank Wednesday came to Winnipeg with their booty, was gathered in Winkler Tuesday. Descriptions of three of them, and of the two cars they used, also were found.

A grey tweed cap, worn by the lookout who shot and wounded William Graefer as he attempted to give an alarm, was found on the Morris road to Winnipeg three-quarters of a mile North of Winkler, by William Ens, a farmer. The hat was bought at the Seven Sorners clothing store, St. Paul, Minn.

Witnesses who saw the bandits before the robbery, and others who saw their cars heading North early Wednesday morning after their getaway, provided a complete chain of evidence to show Winnipeg was the bandits' destination.

Bandits Borrow Lantern

Five men in two cars, one large one and one smaller, stopped at Blumengart, five miles South of Plum Coulee, Man, coming from the East, at midnight, Tuesday, and borrowed a lantern. One man, of medium height, speaking English and German, wearing a black overcoat and hat, said his lights had gone out and asked for a lantern, saying he would leave it at W. Kashtan's livery stable in Winkler. He had a round face, clean shaven. Another member of the party wore the grey tweed cap found later. All tried to hide their faces.

They drove toward Winkler, lights out, using the lantern. George Wiebe, an employe of Kashtan, saw the two cars drive away after the robbery, also without lights and using a lantern.

Matthew Schults, a farmer, passed the two cars, driving by lantern light at 5 a.m. on the day of the robbery, heading toward Winnipeg, between Lowe Farm and Myrtle, Man.

URGE SOCIALIZATION OF RAILWAYS, SHIPPING CONCERNS, COAL MINES

GOVERNMENT WILL PROCEED AT ONCE WITH IRISH BILL

Bonar Law Declares It Is Intention Of Government To Settle Question

London, Oct. 20.—The Government intends to proceed with the Government of Ireland bill, it was declared by Andrew Bonar Law, the Government leader, in answering a question in the House of Commons Tuesday. The announcement was greeted with cheers from the coalition benches.

Col. Malone, Liberal member for the East division of Leyton, Essex, demanded to know whether the Government intended in the meantime to continue "the police murder reprisals." This brought cries of "shame" from the floor.

Mr. Bonar Law replied:

"It is the intention of the Government, meantime, to put down the policy of murder."

Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, stated that since January 1, policemen to the number of one hundred, with eighteen of the military, had been killed in Ireland, and 160 of the police and 66 of the military had been wounded. Police barracks to the number of 667 had been attacked and most of them destroyed. There had also been an organized attempt to boycott the police and their relatives.

Sir Hamar saidl he could not detail the steps being taken to deal with this campaign of murder and outrage, but he assured the house that the means of dealing with the situation were rapidly improving.

ALBERTA HAS REAL TOUCH OF WINTER

Three Inches of Snow Fell Tuesday — Minnedosa Reports Bad Storm

Winnipeg, Oct. 20.—Alberta experienced the first real touch of Winter Tuesday, when snow and sleet, accompanied by high winds, swept over the South Eastern part of the province. Three inches of snow fell during Monday night and early Tuesday, the district between Medicine Hat and Swift Current receiving the brunt of the storm. The snow fell as far East as Biggar, Sask. Wire communication between Winnipeg and the West was badly crippled until late Tuesday night. In Manitoba, Minnedosa reports an alectric storm of midsummer violence, a farm house being struck by lightning and completely destroyed, while the power plant was put out of commission. Throughout the West today the weather is reported as more settled with the prospects for lower temperatures.

TROTZKY BRINGS UP TEN DIVISIONS

In An Effort To Defeat Wrangel's Troops—Hun Officers Want To Fight

Sebastopol, Oct. 20.—Severe fighting continues along the Dnieper and the Northeastern front, in the vicinity of Nikopol. Trotsky is reported to be bringing up ten divisions of Communist forces, which will not surrender as easily as the ordinary troops. It is asserted that numbers of former German officers in the Baltic provinces are offering their services to General Wrangel.

CABINET DECIDES SUGAR ORDER WILL REMAIN SUSPENDED

Hearing Comes to Abrupt Ending This Morning — Refiners Present Case

CONCEDE ORDER ILLEGAL

Premier Does Not Hesitate to Declare Suspension is Justified

Ottawa, Oct. 20.—The sugar order of the Board of Commerce will remain suspended. With dramatic suddenness this morning's hearing by the Cabinet of the case came to a end and even without any plea being made by opponents of the refiners' claims, after Huntley R. Drummond, President of the Canada Sugar Refining Company, had presented the refiners' case. "As it is now stated,' he concluded, "that there was not warrant in law for the action of the Board of Commerce, we do not press for the order to be confirmed, but leave our claims for redress in the hands of the people and the Government of Canada with complete confidence that justice will be done."

"Under these circumstances," the Prime Minister said, "the suspension will have to be made permanent because on that ground alone, suspension would be justified and I think we may consider the hearing closed. I may say that we are obliged to you for presenting your case in so precise form and in such shape that it will be available for us and to the public as well. The hearing for the moment is only on the question of retention of the Government reversal order, and that being the only purpose of this hearing, and virtually the Government's position being conceded on the legal standpoint by yourselves, I don't see what there is now for us to consider.

Confirms Suspension

Ottawa, Oct. 20.—The Prime Minister announced today at the sugar inquiry that the Government would maintain the order-in-council suspending the sugar order issued by the Board of Commerce.

ENFORCE THE LAW

From many sections of the Province of Manitoba come reports that the prairie chicken has made a wonderful comeback. Large bags are reported by few. This is attributed to two causes, the generally unfavorable weather during the season and the unlawful shooting done before the season commenced. For some time before the season opened it was apparent that the chicken were being shot at and though this undoubtedly saved thousands of chicken from being killed the first day the season opened, it was most unfair to the men who have observed the law.

Few parties that set out from Brandon attained anything like the limit set by the law. This is not necessarily a reflection on the ability of the men as hunters, nor the accuracy of their shooting. They saw hundreds and in some cases thousands of chicken but the birds were so wild that in few instances were they able to get within gunshot range.

Friday marks the close of the 1920 season and as the ducks are still fairly plentiful and hundreds of hunters are still roaming the country, in fairness to those who observe the law, the others who are inclined to disregard it should do so at the imminent risk of incurring the penalties provided by statute. It is up to the Government enforce the law.

GOOD CANADIANS

In an address delivered to the public school teachers of Western Manitoba, assembled in convention in Brandon, last week, Dr. Howard P. Whidden, M.P., President of Brandon College, gave expression to sentiments, ideals and hopes, which should be fully concurred in by loyal Canadians. In the course of his address on "The Making of Our Schools National," he said:

"The time has come in the history of our country when our schools, [illegible] shall be made National, in outlook and spirit. In accomplishing this, the Flag, National songs and National stories, will continue to have an important place, but there must be more than mere sentiment.

"There should be the working out of common standards; a program of study having much in common, and most of all, a common Canadian consciousness with a common National purpose.

"A Provincial outlook must make way for the Dominion outlook. This will probably be effected most readily by the teaching of some of the simplest subjects such as history or geography, from a local centre to the widest reach of the National circumference."

In order to secure uniformity, and the maximum benefit from what has already been done along this line, our distinguished fellow townsman declared:

"The Canadian Educational Conference held a year ago in Winnipeg, if followed up in a practical way, should assist in accomplishing the purpose we have in mind in treating this subject. Manitoba schools are as good as any in Canada, but they will be the best in Canada only when they become the most fully Canadian."

The men of Canada proved worthy leaders against embattled wrong in the greatest crisis that ever faced humanity—when might threatened to trample over right. The ideal of service was exalted. Self was forgotten. When the schools of Canada, training the men of tomorrow, exalt and ever impress the ideal of service they will be most fully Canadian. God speed that great day!

A BROADENING CIRCLE

Manitoba Sheep and Swine Breeders hold their third annual sale in the Winter Fair Arena, on Thursday, October 28th. On that date, forty-five pure bred pigs, 162 pure bred and 200 grade sheep, will be offered for sale. As the animals have been inspected and selected, they will be of good quality, and the majority of them will be sold. In many instances, sellers will be buyers. Breeders sell and buy for the purpose of disposing of their surplus and maintaining and improving the quality of their herds.

Before the four hundred odd animals enter the sales ring here, they must be prepared, transported to this city and stabled here. Men who are not now in either the pure bred sheep or pig raising business, who live either in Mnaitoba, the adjoining provinces or states, as well as those who want new blood in their herds, will come to this city bringing sufficient funds to pay not only for the animals they purchase, but for entertainment while absent from home. Very many of them, while in this city will make purchases of necessities or gifts for those at home. Transportation to and from Brandon of buyers and their purchases and the money they spend while here, means a considerable outlay which goes into the regular channels of trade. What the total will be is hard to estimate but it will be no inconsiderable sum.

These facts are presented simply with the idea of bringing home to the people of this community, first, the desirability, from a purely business standpoint, of making adequate provision for the care and comfort of visitors attending these sales; second, the necessity for maintaining proper facilities and equipment for their staging; third, for suggesting that other organizations be encouraged to make use of the facilities afforded; fourth, that the possibility of making Brandon the centre for other activities be inquired into, so that the name and fame of Brandon be noised abroad even to a greater extent than it is at present.

Brandon is the natural centre for organizations of interest to Manitaba agriculturists. Let us not just sit back and let it go at that, but let us as a community get busy and see that when they come here they are made to feel at home, and that they find here just the facilities and the accommodation they desire and need. Let us make Brandon the centre of an everwidening area by improving and providing the facilities. Thus and thus only, will we be able to share th advantages.

CRISIS IN BRITAIN

Grave as appears the industrial situation in Great Britain because of the great coal miners' strike and the disposition of certain local unions of transport and railway workers to walk out in sympathy with the miners, the firm attitude adopted by the Government and the public furnishes ground for the hope that a settlement of the trouble on reasonable terms will soon be effected.

The miners themselves entered the strike half-heartedly, as Lloyd George says, and against the earnest advice of their ablest and most experienced leaders. According to one of the latter, indeed, "an unfortunate phrase," perhaps more, is responsible for the whole crisis. The miners demand an increase of pay, and the operators, as wall as the Government, weeks ago recognized the fairness of the demand, provided the production of coal was increased. The establishment of a "datum line" was proposed to the miners, with a definite understanding that further increase in the production of coal was to be followed by a corresponding advance in pay. The majority of the miners misunderstood and objected to the so-called datum. They were willing to make a general pledge to stimulate and increase production—for they could not ignore or explain away the slump due to war demoralization and vague restlessness. They were not willing to make increases in pay directly and definitely dependent on the increase in the output of the mines.

Such a difference manifestly does not justify a great strike that, if continued for any length of time, would paralyze industry, cause widespread unemployment and misery, cripple the export trade of the country, and arrest the already too difficult process of reconstruction.

Regardless of whether other workers join the strike in the next few days, the first stage of the contest is certain to be succeeded very soon by a period of sober thinking. An unwarranted strike in a great and basic industry is a challenge to the social order, to the constitution and the Government of the country. The whole is greater than any of its parts. In a free, democratic nation power cannot be abused with impunity, and the organized miners must learn that lesson.

PRINCE OF WALES TOUR

The Canadian people were delighted to hear that the Prince of Wales had returned home safely from his extended trip to the Australian and New Zealand Dominions, that the second tour of his successful "progress" was brought to a happy conclusion.

There is no doubt in the minds of the people of the Dominions already visited that the Prince is worthy of his high calling. The chief charm of young Edward lies in his sincerity, his simplicity, as well as in his generous endowment of those superior qualities that make the gentleman—be the man possessing them pauper or prince.

As a mere boy the Prince captured the hearts of the French, during the time he lived with his tutors, in Paris. On his recent tours he added to the list of "friends" the people of the United States, of Panama, of Mexico.

One proof of the golden opinions the Prince won may be cited from a recent editorial comment in the New York Times.

After remarking the fact that everywhere the Prince went he seemed to enjoy rather than be wearied by the long series of official welcomes and formal receptions, the writer, with psychological insight, says:

"With a virtuous appreciation of what he owes in return for his privileges, he accepted the task of listening and talking on these formal occasions as the performance of his allotted and accepted duty, which it certainly was, and found enjoyable the feeling he gained from having done his work in a workmanlike manner.

"That satisfaction apparently was well earned wherever the Prince went."

As to the young Prince's graciousness, affability, his kindly acts, his simplicity, the writer acknowledges they cannot be too highly rated—though they might have been expected from the grandson of the late King Edward, from the son of the man who lived, worked, and endured with his people, as King George worked and endured during the war.

Enlarging further the editor adds:

Yet many doubtless did have a feeling analogous to surprise as they observed the demeanor of the Prince of Wales, and if they only spread amid their own sort a revised opinion of governments unlike the one with which they are familiar—even that would give the British taxpayer something for his money.

But young Edward did much more than that. He won personal liking wherever he went—a personal liking that will be a help not only to himself, but also to his country when he comes into his kingdom. He must have learned, too, much not taught in courts or colleges as to the way the world is made and managed—which is highly useful information. Possibly he would have learned more if he could have travelled incognito, but to do that would have been hardly practicable, and, anyway, it would have meant the loss of all or most of the advantages derived from the journey as made.

Republicanism could make no more gracious tribute to monarchy than here is paid to Great Britain through the person of the Empire's heir.

International appreciation of this caliber cannot fail to weld the bonds of sympathy and understanding.

FIRE LOSSES

The September report of the Fire Commissioner for the Province of Manitoba is an astonishing one and provides food for thought. It shows an increase both in the number of fires and the value of the property destroyed over the same month one year ago, and for the first nine months of this year. There were 124 fires during September, entailing a monetary loss of $133,849, as against 123 with a loss of $107,270 for the same month last year. It is seen that there was one fire more than last year and that the property was worth $26,579 more than what was destroyed one year ago.

The report, instead of giving the figures in the cities for the Province cites Winnipeg and then the balance of the province. Winnipeg's record is thus available and for once an improvement is shown there, as far as the number of fires is concerned, though the loss is far greater. There were forty fires in the capital city with a loss of $27,888, as against 47 fires with a loss of $5,415 for September, 1919. While there were seven fires less than during the same month one year ago, the loss was greater by $22,473.

The total number of fires occurring in the Province from the First of January to September 30th, 1920 amounts to 1311, with a loss of $1,565,052, as against 1157 fires with a loss of $1,133,704 for the same period in 1919; showing an increase of 154 in the number of fires with a corresponding increase in amount of the loss of $431,348.

The greatest sufferers from the ravages of fire were owners of farm property. Forty-two fires on farms entailed a loss of $92,731, or almost seventy per cent. of the total loss of the province. Bush fires numbered nine, entailing a loss of $12,578. Thus it appears that the outbreak on the farm is really more to be dreaded than a blaze in the city. This is due to the almost universal failure to provide any sort of fire-fighting equipment on the farm, while in cities, in addition to the protection afforded by well-regulated fire departments with their forces of trained men and modern equipment, many industrial concerns supply and all large buildings are equipped with fire-fighting appliances.

Of the 124 fires, no less than sixteen were caused by careless smokers, entailing a loss of $10,831, while some of the twenty-one fires reported as of unknown origin may be attributed to the same cause. The loss thus entailed amounted to $31,634.

Fire prevention is something on which too much emphasis cannot be laid. Fire may destroy in an hour property representing the accumulated savings of a lifetime; an investment which may pauperize families, and cause either loss of life or grave personal injury. Because of this, those who contribute, through carelessness or any wilful cause should incur just punishment. Canadian laws are notoriously easy in this regard, or their enforcement is very lax in comparison to those of older countries where the losses due to fire are annually but a fraction of ours.

Fire prevention can be taught in two ways. Education as to what should and should not be done is far the most desirable form, but where it fails to produce the desired results, imposition of severe penalties on those responsible for continuance of conditions liable to produce conflagrations, or directly contributory thereto, is a method which may bring home needed lessons.

POLISH WOMAN SOLDIER WRITES HER EXPERIENCES

Went Ten Days Without Taking off Clothes—Marched 14 Hours

Warsaw, Oct. 25.—A Polish woman soldier who took part in driving back the Bolsheviki from Warsaw writing to a British newspaper, says she went ten days without taking off her clothes and that frequently the members of her detachment went five and six days without having opportunity to take down their hair. During one march, in keeping pace with the retreating Red forces, the women were on the go 14 hours, 13 of which were without food or water.

The letter says: "At 11 o'clock at night we were ordered to be in readiness. Our detachment, all women, at this time, had been ordered out for patrol duty. Our pack consists of a coat, rifle, ammunition and other articles, in all weighing 60 pounds. After four hours of marching and when I felt that I coudn't go a step further we received orders to return to our former post, several miles away. I scarcely remember how I reached our destination, I was so tired. I dropped onto a pile of straw and slept for an hour.

"When I was awakened I was informed that my detachment had gone away without me, to take part in a movement to surround a force of Bolsheviki hidden in a clump of woods. After six miles of good roadway, I encountered sand which made walking so difficult that my feet pained me at every step. I was covered with dust, and hadn't had a drink of water for hours. After walking fifteen miles I reached my comrades who were resting under trees, in the shade from a hot sun. A peasant boy brought a bucket of plums, but we privates only got a look at them, the plums all went to the officers, who were women too. And then the march started again, through a forest.

"Now and then as we advanced, I saw some of the women faint, and I heard others crying 'mercy' and I thought I heard curses which must have come from the men on our right. This march had continued 14 hours. For 13 hours we had neither food nor water. When we reached a series of trenches, we were promised something hot to eat. But the food never came, and then the fighting began. Oh, how I longed for a drink—longed for sleep, away from the roar of battle. But above everything there was a feeling of satisfaction—a feeling of undreamed of happiness—despite the suffering from hunger, from lack of water and the misery due to cold at night and heat during the day, when I thought and was thrilled as we fought that I, a woman, was a soldier of Poland."

JUDGE REFERS TO BIBLICAL LAW

Ruling That Dead Husband is Closer to Wife Than to Parents

Ottawa, Oct. 23. — A husband though dead, is closer to his wife than his parents. There is no property in his body, and he cannot, by will or any other instrument, dispose of it; nor the body of anyone else. This, in brief, is the civil British law in regard to the possession of dead bodies, which was steadfastly held by Mr. Justice Latchfield, presiding over the Supreme Court of Ontario, when he dismissed the action of Louis and Mary K. Gallien, parents of Hermidas Gallien, against his widow, Lida Gallien, and the Roman Catholic Episcopal corporation of the diocese of Ottawa.

Mrs. Gallien, mother of the deceased, was absolutely refused the possession of her son's body. During the course of the most interesting action, which has been pending in the civil courts for several months, Judge Latchford referred to chapter 19, verse 5, of the Gospel of Matthew, to emphasize that the law he was upholding or the view that he was taking was not by any means a new one. The verse says:

"For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife, and they twain shall be one flesh."

CANADIAN COUNCIL OF CHILD WELFARE IS NOW ORGANIZED

All Nationally Organized Bodies Interested to be Given Representation

Ottawa, Oct. 23.—The outcome of the Dominion Child Welfare Conference, held for two days in the Daly building, was the formation of the Canadian Council of Child Welfare. The objects of the new organization, as set forth by Dr. Young, of British Columbia, are to co-operate with Child Welfare Division of the Department of Health; to prepare and disseminate information on child welfare work, and to recommend a program for the work throughout the dominion.

All nationally organized bodies interested in child welfare work are to be represented on the council.

Dr. John A. Amyot, Deputy Minister of Health, explained the relationship which might exist between the voluntary organization and the Department of Health. If the council desired to put on a nation-wide child welfare week, he felt sure the Department would help in every way possible.

The first motion brought in by Resolutions Committee recommended the appointment of a minister of parenthood in the Dominion. The resolution pointed out that the post would be by no means a sinecure and that it was a necessity.

FIRST DECORATION AWARDED TO A POLISH AIRMAN

Citation Is for Part Taken by Lt. Noble in the April Drive on Kiev

Warsaw, Oct. 25.—Award of the virtuti militari, announced by the Polish War Department, to Lieutenant Edwin Noble, of Boston, of the Kosciuszko squadron, carried with it the rank of captain and is the first decoration to be given in the Polish air service. The citation is for the part Lieutenant Noble took in the drive on Kiev in April when Noble was wounded to such an extent that it may be months before he is able to take up flying again.

After silencing a Bolshevik battery with bombs, Lieut. Noble attacked an enemy armored train in the railroad yards at Berdyczew, causing the train to leave in a hurry which gave Polish troops opportunity to take the town virtually without losses. Several hundred Polish prisoners who were interned in Berdyczew escaped in the confusion caused by this attack.

Lieutenant Noble was wounded with an explosive bullet in his right arm, and the bone shattered, but nevertheless he flew 70 kilometres back to his home airdrome where he landed safely. Noble was in the American Red Cross Hospital in Warsaw several months, recently going to Paris for further treatment.

SCHOOL INSPECTOR BLINDED BY BLOCK OF KINDLING WOOD

Winnipeg, Oct. 23. — Public School Inspector E. D. Parker, of St. James district, has become totally blind as the result of an accident Monday while he was splitting kindling wood, Robert Fletcher, Deputy Minister of Education, announces.

Mr. Parker was struck in the face with a heavy billet of wood which he was endeavoring to split. One eye is believed to be badly damaged and physicians in charge of the case give little hope of restoring its sight. The other eye at present is in sympathetic blindness, but hope is entertained that when the first shock of the injury is passed sight may be restored in it.

Inspector Parker is a nephew of Mrs. Jos. Donaldson, of this city, who is at present visiting in Winnipeg.

AUTOMOBILE APARTMENTS BEING MANUFACTURED FOR FRENCH PEOPLE

Paris, Oct. 22.—Automobile manufacturers are attempting to solve the housing crisis by manufacturing large automobiles which, like Pullman cars, may be transformed into sitting or bedrooms at will, and which will also contain small kitchenettes and bathrooms. Considering the number of people in France who wish to marry but can't do so because they can't find any apartments or houses to live in, the new automobile apartment should prove a boon.

BRANTFORD BAKERS REDUCE PRICE OF BREAD

Brantford, Ont., Oct. 22.—The bakers of Brantford have announced that the price of bread had dropped one cent, being now 13 cents. This voluntary reduction follows as soon as the high priced flour in stock is exhausted. The price of sugar also dropped, consumers getting five instead of four pounds for one dollar.

FILLED TWELVE EXTRA BALLOT BOXES WITH BALLOTS, IT IS CLAIMED

Montreal, Oct. 25.—An unusual case of ballot box stuffing was alleged during the hearing of a provincial election petition here Friday. J. B. Amireault, of this city, swore that hs nephew, A. Amireault, filled up thirty-seven ballot papers, and registered them, although only twenty-five had been legitimately cast.

THOUSANDS OF CHINESE WILL DIE OF STARVATION

In Four Great Provinces—Complete Crop Failure Follows Light Crops

Pekin, Sept. 10.—(By The Associated Press).—Famine conditions in Chihli, Shansi, Shantung and Honan provinces, due to repeated light crops followed by almost complete failure this Summer, are reported by investigators to be the worst in years. It is estimated that 20,000,000 people are in peril of death from starvation and disease during the coming Winter unless help on a large scale is afforded. Thousands of families are already afoot making their way Northward in the hope of finding food and employment. Others are selling their belongings piecemeal to procure food at greatly advanced prices. Farm and draught animals are being disposed of for a song for lack of fodder to keep them and fuel to cook them if slaughtered.

Dr. F. F. Tucker, of Tehchow, Shantung Province, and Dr. E. J. Peill, of Siaochang, also in Shantung, report that being without food and unable to buy it, people are living on weeds and the leaves of trees, cotton seed and bran. Children, especially girls, are being sold or given away, they say.

John Griffith, of the Canadian Presbyterian Mission, Changteho, North Honan, writes:

"The last fading hope was that at least a crop of quick-maturing buckwheat might be secured after a late rain. But no rain has come and that hope is now entirely gone. Every road Northward swarms with the hunger-pinched humanity. The Pekin-Hankow Railway is generously allowing refugees to travel free on all trains bound for South Honan and Hupeh and these are crowded with families having many little children or old people who cannot face the trek over the mountain roads to Shansi and Shepsi.

The American Red Cross has appropriated $500,000 for the famine sufferers in China and Japan has promised a large amount of rice.

EXCITING SCENES IN DUBLIN: MILITARY RAIDS MANY PLACES

Dublin, Oct. 25.—Exciting scenes occurred here today in consequence of numerous military raids throughout the city. Armed soldiers occupied the Mansion House and a search followed. Hotels and private houses were raided and shots were fired. One soldier is reported to have been wounded.

Situation in Cork

Cork, Oct. 25.—Feverish interest in possible developments was caused by the death of MacSweney. Although some people appear very bitter, it is regarded as extremely improbable that there will be any outbreaks or disorderly demonstrations in this city. Cork jail, where number of hunger strikers are in a grave condition, is guarded inside and out by soldiers equipped with machine guns.

ALLEGED DRUG SMUGGLERS ARRESTED AT MONTREAL ADMIT STEALING CLOTHES

Rochester, N.Y., Oct. 25. — Extensive drug smuggling and peddling, with Montreal as the base of supply, is believed by the police here to have been uncovered in the arrest here of Mrs. Bryl Clute, 43, and her son, Joseph, 25, on charges of illegally having in their possession habit-forming drugs. They also are said by the police to have admitted stealing in Montreal valuable women's clothing, found in their room.

Quantities of morphine, Cocaine and heroin, in ounce bottles, were found by the police in the Clute apartment.

TRADE RELATIONS BETWEEN SOVIET RUSSIA AND GREAT BRITAIN TO BE ESTABLISHED

London, Oct. 25.—Within 30 days at the latest, providing Soviet Russia keeps her promise to return all British prisoners, trade relations between Great Britain and the Soviet Government should be established. In a fortnight's time the British Government will be able to collect all its Russian prisoners for exchange.

It is believed Finland will acquiesce in the plan to exchange prisoners over the Finnish border. There are varying estimates of the size of contracts which Russia is anxious to make in England, one figure mentioned being $100,000,000.

BRITISH COLUMBIA ELECTIONS TO BE HELD DECEMBER 1

Legislature Dissolved Saturday—Nomination Day Fixed For November 10th

Victoria, B.C., Oct. 25.—The British Columbia Legislature was dissolved shortly before two p.m. Saturday. Nomination day has been set as Wednesday, Nov. 10, with the election on Wednesday, December 1.

The present House has until September 21, 1921, to run, but it is seldom that any House runs for its full time. As constituted Saturday, the House consists of 31 Liberals, 9 Conservatives, four Soldiers, one Socialist, and Mrs. Ralph Smith, the only woman member, who is an Independent. There is one vacancy in the House, the seat for Atlin.

Premier Oliver stated that he would issue a manifesto early next week outlining the appeal of the Government to the people.

Government control of the sale of liquor is such a wide question that the Government, it is stated, has decided to submit a set of general principles for the proposed new act and secure the benefit of public opinion at the hustings before final drafting of the measure.

The chief principles of the measure remain undisclosed, but it is freely predicted in official circles that among them will be the principles of a revocable permit to purchasers, administration by an independent commission and a refusal to allow sale by any private parties.

Liberal and Conservative forces are preparing for an energetic campaign.

OCEAN FREIGHT RATES ARE DOWN

Since Beginning of Year There Has Been a Decrease of 50 Per Cent.

London, Oct. 25.—There has been a big drop in freights during the past few months, a shipping authority has informed the Liverpool Post. Taking the market all round he said, freights have fallen by about fifty per cent. since the beginning of the year. This situation is attributed to the increase in the world's shipping tonnage and the general scarcity of goods for export. Ships are leaving London and other United Kingdom ports with part cargoes.

"Before the war the United Kingdom was the carrier for half the goods of the world," said the shipping man. "Our share is now about one-third. The United States, which before the war owned a nominal amount of tonnage is now our chief competitor and swallows much freight that would otherwise be carried in British holds. Operating costs are tremendously high the coal item being one of the biggest factors.

250,000 KNOWN CASES OF TYPHUS

In Poland Makes Necessary a General Attack on the Scourge

Warsaw, Oct. 25.—Major Charles E. S. Webster, of Bethlehem, Pa., has arrived in Warsaw from Armenia to direct the attack of the American Red Cross on Poland's 250,000 known cases of typhus. Dr. Webster made a special study of sanitation and diseases for the American Government mission in Armenia.

"It wil take ten years at the present rate of progress," Dr. Webster said, "to wipe out typhus in Poland. The fever has become epidemic through six years of almost continuous fighting. We must have disinfectants, soap, clean linen, and clothing in great quantities if we are to make any impression against the scourge."

JUSTICE CURRAN NOW HEARING ADJOURNED CASES

From Last Sitting of the King's Bench — One Action Concluded

Cases adjourned from the last sitting of the King's Bench are being heard in the Court House this week before Mr. Justice Curran. The case of M. L. Abrahamson vs. The Wheat City Tannery was heard on Tuesday and Wednesday, while the case of The Wheat City Tannery vs. M. L. Abrahamson is occupying the attention of the Court. The argument is expected to be finished to-day and then the case of Fairlie vs. Fairlie, a suit for alimony will be heard.

In the case of Morris L. Abrahamson vs. The Wheat City Tannery, the plaintiff Abrahamson sued the defendant company for wrongful dismissal, wages and damages in the amount of $1,000. The evidence was taken on Tuesday and the argument concluded on Wednesday afternoon, with Mr. Justice Curran reserving his judgment.

Following the above suit came the case of Wheat City Tannery vs. Abrahamson, the same parties being the principals in this action. The Wheat City Tannery are suing Morris L. Abrahamson for infringing on their trade name. It is stated that the defendant opened up business on Ninth Street under the name of the Wheat City Fur Company. Previously he had worked in the Fur Department of the Wheat City Tannery. The contention of the solicitor for Abrahamson is that "Fur Department" is no part of the trade name of the Wheat City Tannery, and further that his client has a perfect right in calling his business the "Wheat City Fur Company," as there are several businesses operating in Brandon under the name of "Wheat City." The case was still proceeding at noon.

CONVICTS SHOUT AND INTERRUPT INVESTIGATORS

Lieut.-Col. Biggar Has Hard Time Collecting Evidence in Penitentiary

Kingston, Ont., Oct. 21.—Lieut.-Col. Biggar of Ottawa, has completed his investigation for the Department of Justice at Ottawa into charges made by former officials of the Portsmouth Penitentiary of having been wrongfully dismissed. All day Wednesday, while he was holding the investigation in the big prison, convicts who had been confined to their cells kept up an incessant shouting and yelling, so that it was with difficulty that Colonel Biggar and those assisting him in the investigation could carry on their work. Col. Biggar declined to make a statement as to the result of his inquiry at the penitentiary.

It is said the prisoners in the penitentiary have established a code so that by tapping on the walls of their cells with drinking cups, they can communicate one with another. In this way, it is said, they have been enabled to organize a chorus of shouting convicts.

ADVERTISERS THINK THEY ARE BEARING MORE THAN THEIR SHARE OF COSTS

Toronto, Oct. 21.—That advertisers are bearing more than their share of cost of newspaper production is the opinion of Vice-President W. G. Steward, of the Association of Canadian Advertisers, as declared to that body at its seventh annual meeting Wednesday. "So far the advertiser has had to pay the larger portion of the increased costs," he said, "and many of us believe that the time has arrived for the reader to pay his fair share of the increase in the overhead expenses of the publisher."

The standard price for single copies of daily newspapers in Eastern Canada is still two cents. One morning paper recently raised its price to five cents.

Some Candidates Named at Meeting—Others to be Agreed on Next Wednesday

The Labor party of this city has endorsed candidates for three wards in the coming civic elections. At a meeting held Wednesday evening further progress was made in the selection of candidates for vacancies occurring on the City Council and the School Board, but a complete slate was not adopted. Ward Four was not touched at all on Wednesday evening, while in Ward Five only a nomination for a School Trustee was made. Four names have been submitted in Ward Two and the final decisions will be next Wednesday.

Alderman Grantham is quite satisfactory to the Labor party of Brandon and when he seeks re-election to the City Council he will have the entire support of the party. Robert J. Bullard was also endorsed for School Trustee for Ward One if he seeks re-election. In Ward Two the names of R. Crawford and J. H. Skene were mentioned for the aldermanic vacancy occurring in this ward, while H. Connolly and Thomas Dorsett were names submitted for the vacancy on the School Board. No definite decision was made, however, at the meeting on Wednesday, but it is possible that final decision will be made next week.

In Ward Three William Hill was endorsed for Alderman and Abraham Zasles for School Trustee. No nominations for Ward Four were made, but H. C. L. Broadhurst was nominated for School Trustee in Ward Five. No names were submitted for Alderman in this ward. This leaves five nominations to be decided on next Wednesday. With regard to the Mayoralty, it is stated that Mayor Dinsdale is satisfactory to the Labor party and it is not anticipated that they will oppose his re-election.

B. C. VOTERS AGAINST A "DRY" PROVINCE

Vancouver, B.C., Oct. 21.—British Columbia, by a majority estimated at 25,000 expressed itself yesterday as preferring Government control and sale of liquor, to the prospect of continued prohibition. Although many districts are still unreported, the vote in the cities and towns is conclusive and decisive. Only two cities, Penticton and Nelson, give a small prohibition majority. Vancouver city gave 10,000 majority against prohibition, completely reversing the previous vote. Both sides expressed the greatest confidence in the women who enjoyed the vote, the poll all over the province being heavy. The result was not only a surprise to the prohibitionists but also to the moderationists.

The present prohibition law will be enforced until such times as the Legislature meets and enacts a new measure. A cabinet meeting has been called for Saturday morning at Victoria and it is expected that the Government's policy will be decided upon. It is considered likely that the Government will outline the scope of the new liquor bill and seek immediate dissolution, going to the people for a mandate on the details of the proposed measure in the near future.

The Questions Voted On

The question on which the people were asked to express themselves on Wednesday was:

"Which do you prefer:

"1—The present Prohibition Act? or,

"2—An act to provide for the Government control and sale in sealed packages of spirituous and malted liquors?"

The vote will result, it is expected, in a generous policy of sale of liquor, not over the open bar, but in Government shops. The present act was amended at the last session of legislature to permit of the sale only of eight ounces of liquor from a druggist or government dispensary, under a medical prescription. The act in its original form allowed the sale of any quantity on a doctor's prescription, and the government liquor stores in the various centres of population did a thriving business. Under the present act the illicit manufacture and sale of liquor by bootleggers thrived, and this fact, moderationists say, was a determining factor in today's result.

IRISH QUESTION IS DEBATED IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

Government Wins Overwhelming Victory in First Clash With Opponents

London, Oct. 21.—The Irish debate in the House of Commons Wednesday night solved itself into a duel between the Opposition and the Government, the former demanding, and the latter resisting an independent inquiery into the reprisals, the Government winning an overwhelming victory.

The defence of the Government, set up by Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, was that "while the Asquithians put the emphasis on the reprisals. I put it on the provocation." He insisted that no case had been made out for what he characterized as Arthur Henderson's insulting resolution, demanding an inquiry into the reprisals by the police and soldiers in Ireland. He incidentally remarked that the United States was no longer welcoming immigration from Ireland because it did not desire to swell the vast total of disturbing elements in the republic, and he declared his intention to rake Ireland from end to end, including Ulster, in the search for arms.

Lord Robert Cecil, former assistant Secretary for Foreign Affairs, and ex-Premier Asquith, both pressed urgently for an inquiry, Lord Robert declaring that the administration in Ireland, in the last eighteen months, was one of the most disastrous and tactless things in the country's history. For the sake of the country's good name the Government ought to clear themselves of the charge of connivance in the reprisals.

Mr. Asquith asserted that there was prima facie evidence that some officers and servants of the executive in Ireland had far exceeded the limits of legitimate self-defence and that until the perpetrators of the reprisals received punishment there would not be the shadow of respect for the authorities in Ireland.

Andrew Bonar Law, the Government leader in the House, based his refusal on an inquiry on the necessity of supporting the officials and those responsible for the maintenance of law and order. He declared the officers had condemned the reprisals, which since then had been greatly reduced.

The Government, he added, could not be a party to such crime.

GREAT CROWD HEARS

and more vital than any difference that had parted them in other days. They believed there was a far wider gulf between them and those who had opposed us through the war that any variance of view on matters of esser importance. A common ground was found, on that ground a platform was built, a platform upon which Liberal and Conservative could stand because it embodies principles to which each had adhered and could still adhere." Of the men who joined the Union Government in 1917 only one—Mr. Crerar—was now in opposition and he had left on the principle of tariff policy. There were seven former members of the Government consistently supporting the administration in the House of Commons now, and Mr. Meighen claimed this did not indicate "that avarice of office" had been the dominating spirit.

King's Wild and Wayward Declamations

The leader of the Government dealt in some detail with Western speeches by the leader of the Opposition—"wild and wayward declamations" of Mr. King, they were termed. Mr. Meighen asserted that Mr. King had no case when he charged the Government with using autocratic methods. "The authority of Parliament over its executive is pust as complete, just as final, just as supreme at this hour and has been at every moment of the last six years as it ever has been in the history of Canada or any other country on earth," he said. "There has never been a single day when Parliament could not by a majority vote have voted the Government from office or forced it to a general election." The Premier answered criticisms which he said were made by Mr. King that the Government spent in ship-building money that was not voted by Parliament. Asserting that the Auditor-General would not have passed a single cheque for which Parliament's authority had not been given, Mr. Meighen said Parliament passed in February, 1917, a supply bill for five hundred million dollars, out of which $25,000,000 was set aside for building ships. Announcement to this effect was made by Sir Robert Borden in March 1918, and there was no criticism. For the following year $40,000,000 was specifically voted by Parliament and a further sum was voted last session for the same purpose. Every care was taken to get the construction done at the lowest possible cost, but the tender system was not workable, he claimed, as one or two ports would have got all the contracts, and the work "had to be distributed through various firms or it would not have been done at all."

Criticism of King's Inconsistency

The Premier quoted Mr. King as asserting that the acquisition of the Grand Trunk Railway was a "glaring example of autocratic control," and went on to say that Parliament had discussed the bill fully and all members had the right to make amendments. The proposal had been before the country for a year and five months and had been freely discussed, so that there was no element of surprise. The Premier defended the calling of the special session of 1919 to ratify the Peace Treaty, and quoting Mr. King as saying a good part of last session was taken up with the new Franchise Bill for which there was no need, he declared that in the discussion of the bill in Parliament the Liberal leader had admitted the bill's necessity.

"Whenever," the Premier summed up, "the leader of the Opposition has condescended to come down from his ethereal wanderings and meaningless exhortations, from the habit of prating platitudes with an evangelistic fervor, when he comes down from words to concrete allegations, he can be refuted in every case as easily and just as decisively as in the instances I have selected tonight."

Constructive Legislation

The Premier answered criticisms that the Government was reactionary and inactive by pointing to its policy of land settlement, its vocational training and re-establishment policy, the nationalization of nearly 20,000 miles of railway, the granting of the franchise to women, the part taken by Canada in the Peace Treaty, the League of Nations, and the framing of the labor conventions; its scheme of technical education, its road and house construction.

Protection and Free Trade

The Premier then proceeded to deal with the tariff. There were only two tariff principles, he said—protection and free trade. "I believe the protective principle can be abused," he said. "I certainly believe it can be too high. I believe it has been abused. I believe in places and at times it has been too high, but I do not believe it can be abolished. There are many who believe that there is little, if anything, to be lost and very much to be gained by practically a prohibitive tariff. With that opinion the Government of Canada holds no sympathy and against the prevalence of that opinion it will stand just as firmly as against the prevalence of the opposite opinion, the theory of free trade. If we abandon the principle of protection we will pay a sure and heavy penalty and every class will share in the calamity. We do not intend any system of shutting out imports. We must hold the level of our tariff down to the minimum that will maintain fair but active competition with industries outside."

Tell Us Where They Stand

The speaker declared that Mr. King was trying to get the free trade votes as well as the votes of those who expect a protective tariff. "He says," declared he Premier, " that he wants union with the farmers and he says I am trying to keep them from uniting. In the name of common sense, what could I do to keep them from uniting? If the farmers' party want 'to take account of the needs of industry' then I tell them they want a protective tariff and they ought to get out in the open and say so. I say, let them unite if they want to and when they do let them tell us where they all stand, and don't try to hold up two flags and don't try to get votes on two utterly antagonistic policies. You can't mix salt and moonshine."

Mr. Meighen stated that when Mr. King himself was in office the tariff on implements averaged 20.18 per cent., and was now 14.64 per cent. The average tariff now was scarcely 23 per cent. on dutiable goods.

Definite Program and Principle

"The National Liberal and Conservative party," said its leader, "presents a dfinite program, a definite principle, and unmistakably defines where it stands. We present the record of a long list of vigorous legislation. We hold out a program of reform really accomplished unprecedented in the history of this country. I appeal to the citizens of Canada, East and West, who vision this country as one great unit and not a collection of selections; I appeal to all measure forces and to look ahead, to have regard to performance and to principle and to know well where they are going. I ask you to consider as citizens of a great country whether it is better to adhere in reason and in moderation to policies that have stood the test of forty years, that have been weighed in the balance of two great parties and have not been found wanting—whether it is better to put your trust in men who have stood true in the days of trial and through the night of tragedy and terror rather than to follow the uncertain vagaries of an orator who promises all things to all men.

Development of Resources

"The big task of the next few years is the development of the resources of Canada. Constructive plans that bring real results in the development of our resources must be thought out and got under way, and policies consistent with these plans must be pursued. Do not let the West of this country get the idea that the East must remain the business centre, or even the manufacturing centre of this Dominion. A territory that has the coal and the ore and the mineral wealth of Western Canada is bound to become a great industrial land.

A New Spirit

"There are those who continue to dote upon the old partisan hatreds, who would divide our politics into narrow grooves of bigoted thought, who want a return to the old futile quarrels. These men do not take into account the new spirit created by the war. Do you believe that men and women are not profoundly affected when they see about them the tragedies and the sufferings of a scourged and bleeding world? Surely it should teach us to avoid harsh extremes, to avoid the rigid, narrow mould of partisanship which crushes and warps and blinds. Surely it should teach us to stand still firmly together while storms rage around, to march with courage but to march with care, to remember that experience is better than theory, that performance is better than promise, and to hold fast that which is good."

UNITED STATES WILL SPEND FOUR BILLION DOLLARS

Secretary Houston of Treasury Department Gives Program for Next Year

APPEALS FOR ECONOMY

And Urges People to Practice Thrift—Another Report Presented

Washington, Oct. 21.—Expenditure by the United States Government of four billion dollars during the next fiscal year were forecast by Secretary Houston, of the Treasury Department, Wednesday in an address before the convention of the American Bankers' Association, in which he covered a wide range of financial and economic problems.

The Secretary outlined the Treasury's program for handling the war debt, liquidation of which, he said, must go on steadily in order that final redemption be accomplished without disturbance to national life. He appealed for " the strictest economy not only in our expenditures, federal, state, country and municipal, but also by thrift on the part of our people," adding that the program necessitated the maintenance of taxation, after this fiscal year, on a level of not less than $4,000,000,000 annually."

Turning to the demands of agricultural interests for Government help, Mr. Houston said that "scarcely had a reduction in the cost of living manifested itself when every producer manifested resistance."

John McHugh, chairman, presented a report of the Commerce and Marine Committee recommending the organization before next Jan. 1 of a national foreign trade corporation capitalized at $100,000,000 under the Edge law. Under Mr. Hugh's plan every section of the country would be given a chance to invest in the corporation, which would favor in so far as possible exports of commodities produced in the sections from which the investments came.

PETITION FOR REMOVAL OF KNOX STATION

One Mile East to Form Junction Point on G.T.P. to be Pressed

HEARING IN WINNIPEG

Board of Railway Commissioners to Listen to Arguments on Proposal

The petition for the moving of Knox station one mile East of its present location to make a joint station for the Grand Trunk and C.P.R., will be carried by Brandon Board of Trade representatives before the Board of Railway Commissioners sitting in Winnipeg on Monday. President P. A. Kennedy and Mr. A. E. McKenzie will present the petition in Winnipeg and it is expected that the delegation will receive a favorable hearing before the Commissioners. Prominent officials of the Grand Trunk and C.P.R. have expressed themselves in favor of the proposition.

The City Council, Board of Trade and the Municipality of Elton, in which the station of Knox is situated, have signed the petition. The moving of the station of Knox on the Grand Trunk one mile East will give this city direct railway connection with that railway. At present transfers have to be made, or an auto trip from Brandon made to catch the Grand Trunk trains. Local merchants will benefit greatly by the proposal to place the station at the junction of the two roads, as freight and express can then be shipped up the main line of the Grand Trunk. It will also allow them to offer competition to Winnipeg merchants who already have the big portion of what trade comes in from that line. The cost of moving the station to the site proposed would be next to nothing as there is only a station house at Knox at present.

1919 INCOME TAX NOTICES ARE NOW BEING SENT OUT

A Number of Writs Served on Brandon People for Failure to Pay

Income Tax notices for 1919 are already being sent out from the Dominion Tax Office in the Post Office building. These taxes must be paid within one month of the mailing of the notices or an additional five per cent. will be added and a penalty of one per cent. charged thereafter. Failing payment after one month has elapsed may cause the issue of writs at any time against the delinquents.

Most of the income tax notices sent out so far have been mailed to farmers in the district and to some of the Brandon citizens. The work of mailing the notices has just been commenced and it will be several weeks before all notices have been sent out. Mr. F. J. Clark, local income tax collector, stated that a number of writs had been served on Brandon citizens who had failed to pay their 1918 income tax. These arrears will have to be settled immediately to avoid court proceedings.

HON. ED BROWN RETURNS HOME TO CAST HIS BALLOT

Does Not Think British Columbia Result Means Desire For More Open Drinking

Vancouver, B.C., Oct. 23.—The Hon. Edward Brown, Provincial Treasurer of Manitoba, who has been here and at Victoria for the last few days, has left for Winnipeg, to poll his vote in the bone-dry-referendum on Monday, October 25.

Referring to the British Columbia result, he said, it might by this time have affected the opinion in Manitoba to some degree but he felt that Manitoba people would be making a mistake if they thought the British Columbian vote showed a desire on the part of the people to return to open drinking. His view was that people were as opposed as ever to open drinking but were actuated in their decision to try some other method in dealing with illicit drinking which had grown up under the Provincial Liquor Act.

WORK ON GOOD ROADS IS JUST ABOUT FINISHED

For the Year as Uncertain Weather Conditions Will Soon Force a Halt

About thirty miles of good roads have been graded since this work was commenced early last Summer. While much of the work planned will be accomplished some of it will have to be left until next year as road work was practically stopped during the harvest.

The Lake Clementi Road on Eighteenth Street is almost all graded and four miles of it have been gravelled. A substantial cement bridge is to be built over the Little Souris and five per cent. grade will be made over the hills which will be a great improvement over the old steep grade. When this work is finished the Southern approach to the city for a distance of eight miles on Eighteenth Street will be in first class condition.

Nine miles has been graded on what is known as the Douglas Road and when the grade has been trimmed up and depressions filled in, gravelling will be commenced.

The highway on Victoria Avenue as far as its approach to Brandon is concerned, is finished and has been gravelled. Five miles has been graded on the Brandon Hills road and grading is now being done one mile North of the city.

CANADIAN COUNCIL OF AGRICULTURE WANT WHEAT BOARD

Urges Government to Appoint Board for the Marketing of the Balance of the Crop

Winnipeg, Oct. 23.—On the ground that discontinuance of the Canadian Wheat Board has resulted in undue depression of prices, the Canadian Council of Agriculture last night decided to urge the Dominion Government immediately to reappoint the Board for the marketing of the balance of the 1920 wheat crop.

Marketing of the wheat crop by farmers co-operative agencies was strongly advocated. The resolution passed reading as follows: "That a committee of three to be known as the Wheat Markets Committee be appointed to inquire into the feasibility of the further development of farmers co-operative agencies in marketing the Canadian wheat crop and to report at the next meeting of the Council of Agriculture. Further development of co-operative marketing of al lines of Canadian farm produce with a view to working out plans for handling these products between the farmer and consumer as far as possible, by facilities under their own control, was also urged. In endorsing the position taken by the country elevator companys at a recent meeting of the Board of Grain Commissioners in Winnipeg, asked for increased handling charges. The Council urged the Board to hold another sitting for the purpose of reconsidering the whole question.

BREEDING PLACES OF WILD FOWL TO BE INVESTIGATED

With the Idea of Establishing Sanctuaries For Preservation of Wild Fowl

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 23.—The Federal Government has sent Hayes Lloyd, of Ottawa, ornithologist for the Dominion parks branch, to Manitoba to investigate certain wild fowl breeding areas which the authorities have in view.

Interviewed here, Mr. Lloyd stated that the Provincial Government has already a number of sanctuaries established but, for the preservation of the wild fowl and birds, it was necessary for the Federal Government to establish additional areas. With the country becoming settled, breeding grounds, one suitable for the birds, had become farm lands. It was the intention of the Government to secure a number of areas before they also became units of the industry of the province.

BRITAIN PUT ON WAR BASIS OWING TO REVOLUTION

Emergency Bill Introduced in Parliament Giving Government War-time Powers—Rations Distributed

London, Oct. 23.—Britain is being put on a war basis. Confronted by a virtual industrial revolution, the Government introduced in parliament an Emergency Bill, giving it war-time powers, the right to use military forces for any purpose, and authority to ration and control all resources.

The measure was presented by Home Secretary Shortt.

The Government's move followed announcement of a call for a general meeting of the Trades Union Congress, to consider what should be done to obtain the settlement of the miners' demands. The Congress will meet next Wednesday.

Taken As Veiled Threat

Taken in connection with the announcement of Transport Workers Thursday that failure to immediately resume negotiations with the miners will array the Government against the working classes, the call was accepted as a veiled threat that all British labor will consider joining the miners.

The Congress comprises delegates from all labor unions.

Prior to the call, the Parliamentary Committee of the Congress served notice on the Government that negotiations with the miners must be resumed before midnight or the meeting would be held. The fact that the ultimatum was not permitted to expire was taken as an indication that the more radical element has obtained control of the committee, just as they had in the railway and transport unions.

Railway Schedules Cut

The Government, in addition to the emergency legislation, proceeded with other plans for combatting the strike. All the measures adopted during the last railway strike were in effect.

Railway schedules were being cut and supplies of rations hastened to distribution centres.

The reply further declares the intention of Poland to respect the decision of the League of Nations.

M'NEAL ACQUITTED OF MURDER CHARGE MAY BE DEPORTED

Justice Kelly Said Another Jury Might Have Convicted Him on Same Evidence

PRISONER COLLAPSED

When Acquittal Announced — Crowd in Court Signified Approval of Verdict

Welland, Ont., Oct. 23.—After three hours' deliberation last night the jury acquitted David McNeal of the murder of four year old Margaret Boucock, at Thorold, Ont., on July 13 last. As the words "not guilty" fell from the lips of Foreman Neff, McNeal was embraced by his wife and her mother, Mrs. Honeywell, who came from Los Angeles, Cal., to comfort her daughter through the trial. A demonstration of approval was started which brought from Justice Kelly a strong rebuke. Then the nerve which the accused had displayed all through the trial and his ordeal in August at Thorold, when he was almost lynched by a mob, disappeared, and he sank into his chair in the prisoner's box and wept. Justice Kelly informed McNeal, whose correct name is Walls, that he had a close call and that another jury might have convicted him on the same evidence. As McNeal walked from the box he was taken in charge by Inspector Reynolds, of the Dominion Immigration Department, and will be held for deportation, which is expected to fit in with the plans of the United States Federal authorities, as he is wanted in Philadelphia for robbery and other charges.

TRUE BILLS AGAINST HAL CHASE ATTELL AND BILL BURNS

Said to Have Been Responsible For Fixing the World's Series in 1919

Chicago, Oct. 23.—The Cook County Grand Jury, investigating the baseball scandal, on Tuesday voted true bills against Hal Chase, the former major league player, expelled for alleged gambling, Abe Attell, former featherweight boxing champion, who is now in Montreal, and Bill Burns, ex-big league pitcher. The names of Chase and Attell have been frequently mentioned in connection with the investigation. Attell and Burns were said to have been mentioned by witnesses as some of the "fixers" of the series.

An official of the State Attorney's office that the indictments were voted after testimony had been given the jury that Chase was the "real fixer" of the 1919 world's series. Chase was said to have approached Attell asking him if he could place $100,000 in bets and also if he could raise the money for the scheme. Attell was said to then have approached a New York gambler whose name has been given the jury, the official said.

CANADIAN COUNCIL AGRICULTURE WANT RATES SUSPENDED

Winnipeg, Oct. 23.—Asking for immediate suspension of all freight rate increases until a final decision is made by the Board of Railway Commissioners, a resolution was passed by the Canadian Council of Agriculture at its meeting in the offices of the United Grain Growers, Ltd. The resolution read as follows:

"Whereas the Dominion Government, after considering the recent award of the Board of Railway Commissioners granting an increase in freight and passenger rates, referred the matter back to the Board for reconsideration with the comment that the need of the Government railways should not be the basis of the commission's decision, resolved that in view of the Government's action, the Canadian Council of Agriculture request early consideration of the whole question and immediate suspension of all increases ntil a final decision is made."

The following resolution was also passed by the council: "Resolved, that the Canadian Council of Agriculture is opposed to any decision being given by the Board of Railway Commissioners with regard to express rates until reconsideration and decision have been given in connection with the recent freight rates case, as requested by the Federal Government." Considerable discussion has taken place among the members of the council with respect to co-operative marketing, but so far no definite policy has been outlined.

PROPRIETORS OF ROOMING HOUSES IN TORONTO CARE FOR "SHEKELS"

Toronto, Oct. 23.—Coroner C. H. Butt sharply criticized conditions in some rooming houses in Toronto where, he said, the proprietors cared only for the "shekels" in their relations with people who seek shelter in their homes. The coroner rebuked the "inhuman" treatment meted out to Gavril Steranovitch, the Serbian, who was found lying helpless at the rear of his rooming house on Queen Street East, on Oct. 8, and died the next day.

FAIRLIES HAVE MONTH TO AGREE ON ALIMONY

Unless They Reach Decision Judge Will Decide Sum to be Paid

One month has been given Rebecca Fairlie and her husband Peter Fairlie in which to decide on some arrangement as to the amount of alimony to be paid. This was the decision of Mr. Justice Curran in the King's Bench, Friday afternoon, when it was stated that the parties were unable to arrive at a satisfactory arrangement. The case had been adjourned from the morning session in order to have the husband and wife arrive at some definite sum for alimony. When Court sat again in the afternoon it was stated that Peter Fairie could not see his way clear to pay the sum suggested, so His Lordship adjourned the case for one month, and at the end of that time an order may probably be made.

This morning the presiding judge gave his decision in the case of M. L. Abrahamson vs. The Wheat City Tannery. In this action the plaintiff sued for wages, wrongful dismissal and claimed damages in the amount of $1,000. His Lordship found that Abrahamson failed entirely in his action and ordered that the plaintiff also pay all the costs, together with a counterclaim of $36. Mr. Justice Curran did not hand down his decision in the case of The Wheat City Tannery vs. M. L. Abrahamson in which the Company claims infringement on their trading name. He did state, however, that his present impression is that The Wheat City Tannery motion will fail, judging from the cases referred to him. However, he would have to give further consideration to the evidence in the case and he might change his mind on later thoughts. His Lordship declared, however, that he would give his full judgment in this case next week.

This morning's sitting concluded the session of the King's Court being held to hear adjourned cases from the non-jury sittings of the Fall Assizes.

The delegates asserted that shoe prices in general had declined on an average of 35 per cent. since last May. Price reductions were attributed to unstable market conditions, a lull in foreign purchases and a decline in the rate of foreign exchange.

BRANDON BOY NOW GROWN RICH, VISITS BOYHOOD SCENES

Marshall A. Cook and Party Arrive in Private Car Over C. P. R.

OIL INVESTMENTS

In Kansas Bring Wealth to Former Brandon Boy—Remembers Old Friends

Investments in oil fields brought a meteoric rise in wealth to Marshall A. Cook formerly a well-known Brandon boy. On Saturday he visited many of his old friends in Brandon, arriving in the city on board his special car over the C.P.R. Mr. Cook is a partner of the firm of Forrester & Cook of Wichita, Kansas, and their holdings are at Peabody, Kansas. Fabulous sums have been made in the oil fields in that part of the country ,and the former Brandon man seems to have secured his share of the proceeds from this development.

The oil millionaire is a son of Mrs. W. J. Wilson of 218 Tenth Street, and he spent his boyhood days in Brandon. Many old timers will remember him, and many took the occasion of visiting him on Saturday. In 1904 he left Brandon and then began a long series of investments which finally wound up in January, 1918, by his taking over the holdings in the Peabody oil fields, with his partner W. H. Forrester. Since that time the oil interests have grown to such an extent that Mr. Cook need worry no more about the high cost of living.

His private car is one of the finest ever drawn over the C.P.R. and cost in the neighborhood of $110,000. It is sumptuously outfitted and is done throughout in Peruvian mahogany. Aboard his car on Saturday as his guests, besides his wife and daughter, Olive, were Mrs. M. B. Williams of New York, Mrs. W. B. Laidlaw of Edmonton, Mr. Cook's mother Mrs. W. J. Wilson, two sisters, Mrs. T. H. Quakenbush of this city and Mrs. Alex McIlroy of Neepawa, and his two brothers, F. L. Cook of Kenton and Charles Cook of Brandon. Following their day's stay in Brandon the whole party proceeded on Saturday evening to Winnipeg for a short visit. Mr. Cook is now returning from a two month's holiday in California.

SHIPMENTS OF BULLION WERE CLOSELY GUARDED

Halifax Port Received $700,000,000 in Gold and $262,000,000 Landed at Vancouver

Montreal, Oct. 25.—Interesting accounts of how immense shipments of bullion were received on both coasts of Canada during the war, and of the precautions taken to avoid interference form the enemy and to prevent information reaching the German Government were given by V. G. R. Vickers, of Montreal, a retired official of the Dominion Express Company, of thirty years service. Mr. Vickers is now Vice-President of the Holden Company, Limited.

At Halifax, during the war, $700,000,000 in gold was received and on the Pacific Coast $262,000,000 of Russian gold was landed and shipped to Ottawa.

The shipments from Russia came at different times. The smallest was $40,000,000 in gold bullion, while the greatest was $98,000,000, which took an all-steel train of thirteen cars to transport it from Vancouver to Ottawa. The shipments were usually taken from Japanese warships at sea by H.M.C.S. Rainbow. Putting to sea, under sealed orders the Rainbow steamed in various directions to deceive any enemy craft as to her destination or object, then made for some small cove on the Pacific Coast, as uninhabited and remote from shipping as possible. In such quiet rendezvous the bullion ship would be met. The vessels would warp alongside each other, and rapidly discharge the bullion in cases through chutes slung between the ships. This was done under the supervision of the Finance Department and the Dominion Express officials.

The Rainbow with her valuable cargo would head by devious routes to Vancouver, slip alongside the C. P. R. wharf in darkness and in the grey hours of early morning, transfer her cargo to a waiting train. The bullion trains, amply guarded by long-service Dominion Express men and Canadian Pacific special police, heavily armed, and with telephone communications throughout the train, were away before Vancouver was awake.

On one occasion, when the German menace had long disappeared from the Pacific, the transfer took place in Esquimalt Harbor, while on another occasion the two Japanese warships conveying the bullion steamed into Vancouver harbor in broad daylight as if on pleasure bent. Dropping anchor first one and then the other slipped alongside the dock and discharged her precious freight into the waiting train.

Bullion shipments from Britain were received by Mr. Vickers under more sober routine, for they arrived at Halifax on board British cruisers which steamed alongside the naval dockyard piers and discharged the cases of gold into wagons which, with a well-armed guard of marines walking alongside were led through the dockyard to the train at the South gate of the yard. Precautions were here even more stringent, and no traffic was permitted near the bullion trains, while guards were placed at every possible point. Some shipments went to New York while other went to Ottawa.

WORKERS LOOK TO GOVERNMENT TO PROTECT RIGHTS

Declares Tom Moore, Referring to Order Issued by C.N.R. Regarding Employes in Politics

Ottawa, Oct. 25.—The workers will look to the Government itself for the protection of their rights to take part in government, said Tom Moore President of the Trades and Labor Congress on Canada, in an interview regarding the order of the Canadian National Railways forbidding employes taking part in politics.

Moore's opinion is that it is drastic and a development that cannot go unchallenged. He asserted that it is up to the Government to gain redress of what he considers the countenancing of the taking away of the political rights and the destruction of a principle of democratic Government.

REPUBLICANS AND DEMOCRATS EQUALLY CONFIDENT IN THE U.S.

Both Sides Seem Sure of Winning Presidential Elections As Contest Nears End

HARDING HEADQUARTERS

Deny That the Senator Ever Voted For Mild Reservations on Peace Treaty

New York, Oct. 25.—Will H. Hayes, Chairman of the Republican National Committee, sent a message to all state chairmen, declaring that "we move into the closing days of the campaign with an assurance of victory as certain as the righteousness of our cause."

The Republican campaign, the statement said, had been a "revival of loyalty and patriotism in the United States," and had been carried on 'for the faith of our fathers and the perpetual freedom of our sons and daughters."

George White, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, in a statement here forecasting the result of the election, predicted that Cox and Roosevelt will have 256 electoral votes "as good as counted," the Republicans 164, and that the Democrats will win a majority of the remaining 111.

Expenses of Principal Parties

Washington, Oct. 25. — The Democratic National Committee had expended $699,071.69 in the national campaign up to October 21, according to a report filed with the clerk of the house of representatives Saturday by Wilbur Marsh, the committee treasurer.

Total receipts were placed at $677,934.87. This compared with total receipts of $2,466,019.54 and expenditure of $2,741,503.34 by the Republican National Committee, as sworn to in a statement filed by Treasurer Fred W. Upham.

The Socialist party National Campaign Committee reported total contributions for the national campaign of $51,028,24, and disbursements of $48,478.68 up to October 21st. The only contributions of more than $1,000 were from labor organizations.

Harding Headquarters Confident

Marion, Oct. 25. — Harding headquarters has taken on an atmosphere of quiet confidence and has no feeling of doubt as to the outcome of the campaign now drawing to a close.

One reason for this optimistic view of the situation is the apparent harmony among party leaders which it is believed has been achieved by Harding's League of Nations policy. The latest development which brought cheer here was the statement by Senator Hiram Johnson that he favors "a world forum." This Senator Harding interprets as endorsement of his own position against the Wilson League of Nations and in favor of some kind of association of nations.

The view at the headquarters here is that all Republican leaders now, except possibly Senator Borah, have come around to the Harding position on the league and the nominee believes he has achieved the end for which he has striven since the convention—unity on the chief issue.

It is denied at headquarters here that Senator Harding ever voted for mild reesrvations on the peace treaty, as Stated by Governor Cox listing the alleged shifts by Harding on the treaty issue. Harding made a speech at the time mild reservations were being considered in the Senate, in which he declared he would as soon favor mild reservations as he would mild Americanism.

DO NOT WANT JAPAN TO HAVE CABLE CONTROL

On the Island of Yap in the Pacific Ocean — United States Seeks Opening

Washington, Oct. 25.—The United States in the international communications conference will seek to internationalize the Island of Yap in the Pacific ocean as a cable landing station, it was learned authoratively here. This end is being sought, it was learned, to prevent an exclusive control by Japan over cables entering and branching from Yap. Cables of the Commercial Pacific Cables Co., an American concern, now enter Yap.

"Please take me to a hospital." The physicians say he will recover.

NAVY LEAGUE DRIVE MAY NOT REALIZE $3,000

Result Will be Known on Tuesday —Over $2,000 Already in Hand

TO PUT ON DRIVE

Committee Receives Offer of Assistance — Whole Position to be Reviewed

The Navy League campaign in Brandon will probably fall short of the objective of $3.000 allotted to this city. The final returns for the drive are not in yet, but Mr. R. C. Macdonnell, who is secretary for the Brandon campaign, stated this morning that the final results would probably be known Tuesday evening. Several of the canvassers who were not able to take part in the campaign last week were out this morning, and this will complete the canvass of the city. Over $2,000 has been realized up to the present and indications are that the total amount will not fall far short of the objective.

Should the drive not realize the full $3,000, Mr. Macdonnell stated this morning that an offer to put on a drive to obtain the remainder of the amount had already been made. However it is more than probable that the Navy League committee will wait until after all the returns have been made before deciding what steps will be taken to raise the remainder of the $3.000.

NATIVES TROOPS AND POLICE CLASH

Port Elizabeth, Cape Colony, Oct. 25. — Fourteen persons were killed and about 30 wounded in a clash between natives and troops and police Saturday, following the arrest of Masalababa, president of the native workers' union. After two or three vain attempts, the mob succeeded in entering the station, whereupon the police called for the soldiers, who fired upon and dispersed the mob.

$200,000 FIRE SWEPT STANISLAUS, QUEBEC

Montreal, Oct. 25.—Five homes, one hotel, two stores and a blacksmith's shop were destroyed by fire at Stanislaus, Que., near Valleyfield, last Friday, with an estimated loss of $150,000 to $200,000. The flames started in a defective chimney.

SUGAR PRICES TUMBLE

The price of sugar took another tumble in Brandon this morning, and further reductions are predicted. The price this morning quoted in several local grocery stores is $17.75 per cwt., which is almost two dollars lower than the price a week ago. A local wholesaler stated this morning that the arrival of American sugar in Canada had much to do with the lowering of prices and that it is quite possible that the reductions will continue for some time. The rescinding of the Board of Commerce order was the signal for the shipment to Canada of American sugar, and the Canadian manufacturers have lowered the price of their sugar to compete with the price of American sugar.

TO DEHORN CATTLE

Edmonton, Alta., Oct. 20.—That all the cattle in Alberta may soon belong to the hornless variety is a possibility disclosed during a recent quarterly meeting of the Edmonton Livestock Exchange. A campaign is shortly to be put on throughout the province to get all the farmers to dehorn their cattle. It is claimed that the animals feed, sell and ship better when dehorned. The practice has been extensively followed in the United States.

STRENUOUS EFFORTS BEING MADE TO END COAL MINERS' STRIKE

London, Oct. 25.—Lloyd George and the members of the Government this morning conferred with Government experts concerning a new set of figures for wages of coal miners and production in industry. Later the Government leaders and representatives of the miners met and continued negotiations begun Sunday for the settlement of the strike. It is believed that arrangements can be made by which each side can at least claim it has not yielded its main contention and it is asserted that Lloyd George will submit proposals by which hopes that increased production will result, making it possible to grant immediately increased wages to the miners. The miners representatives are quoted as saying that they are confident the Government will soon find a way to concede to the miners claims.

London, Oct. 25.—Mr. Lloyd George, cabinet members and representatives of the striking coal miners conferred for three hours in the Premier's official residence in Downing Street Sunday and after the miner's delegates had departed, the Cabinet members continued in session with Lloyd George.

Frank Hodges, on leaving with the other representatives of the miners, said the discussions would be continued.

After the meeting with the government leaders the miners' executive body went into conference, which lasted until 4.30 p.m., and then adjourned until this afternoon. The conversations with Lloyd George and the other members of the Government were resumed in Downing Street today.

Hope seemed to prevail that there would be a settlement of the coal strike as a result of the renewal of the direct negotiations between the miners and the Government. Meantime, neither side has disclosed the nature of these negotiations, but according to unofficial reports, Lloyd George suggested some new formula which would satisfy the Government and said that if a two shillings advance in wages was conceded it must be accompanied by an increased output. Nothing is known of the nature of this formula, but there seems to be a strong belief that the full executive committee of the Miners' Federation will meet the Government within a few days on a basis which can be submitted to the miners for acceptance or rejection.

The miners always have contended, and in this contention have been supported by J. H. Thomas, Secretary of the Union of Railwaymen, that it is impossible that they guarantee the output of coal, because they do not control the machinery. Further, they have accused the coal owners of restricting output.

At the conference Sunday in Downing Street, in addition to Lloyd George the Government representatives present included Andrew Bonar Law, the Government leader in the House of Commons; Sir Robert S. Horne, President of the Board of Trade, the Minister of Mines, the Coal Controller and other experts. Robert Smillie, President of the Miners' Federation; Frank Hodges, and Herbert Smith, represented the miners. The conference was quite informal. No official stenographer was present.

Lloyd George outlined a number of ideas, which he suggested might ultimately lead to a peaceful solution of the situation. While the conference was in progress Baron Stamfordham, the private secretary of King George, arrived and remained for a brief period.

When the conference concluded, the delegates of the miners went to their headquarters, where they met the entire Executive Committee. Mr. Hodges and Mr. Smillie explained to the Committee what had transpired in Downing Street.

Mr. Hodges declined to state the nature of the government's suggestions, but be appeared to be hopeful that they would lead to some acceptable arrangement. He asserted that nothing further would be done pending renewal of the conference with the government officials.

It was considered that the powers the bill conferred the Government would likely be strongly resented by the Liberal-Labor members of parliament as being suitable only to times of war and that a postponement of the project would greatly assist in the negotiations between the Government and the miners.

It is said that the new formula which the Government has proposed to the miners, while giving the miners the two shilling advance in wages will insure a substantial increase in the output of coal. Apparently, however, only the principles of the formula, and not its details, were discussed at the conference.

Late Season Pastures Lack Proper Food

DID you ever notice how the cattle pick over a pasture? They do not eat it off clean in one place and then proceed to another. They eat it over several times, picking here and there, and coming back over the same place where they pastured a few days ago.

Why is this? The answer is easy, when you think a minute—they are choosing different sorts of feed according to their needs. They get a quantity of one sort and another roughage as it is often called, and then they look around for another kind, which they eat eagerly, though they may eat only a little of it. Then they pasture over the same grounds again for the main supply of fodder, but always wander a little after being fairly well filled up.

What Your Cattle Need

They are getting a balanced ration in their feed. Where pasture is of various kinds they can get this balance, but often they have too much of the same sort of pasture, particularly late in the summer, and they need some other feed to fill up this balance. You can obtain what your cattle want.

The Need is Filled by "BIG CHIEF" STOCK FEED

It is a perfectly balanced ration containing, amongst other ingredients for balance, a quantity of molasses, which supplies the sugar content that is lacking in most dry fodder. You can add greatly to the feed of the stock by giving them a portion of Big Chief every day, and you can get the cattle to eat and fully digest the dry pasture instead of either refusing it or failing to digest it.

than 65,000 persons who voted on the liquor referendum 37,099 marked their ballots "yes," and 28,336 "no." The dry majority in Alberta is 8,763, according to unofficial figures compiled up to noon today.

It is probable that when the final and official count is made the drys will have a majority of about 10,000. Edmonton and Calgary, unlike large cities in other provinces, piled up majorities in each case against allowing the importation of liquor to continue.

Lethbridge was the only city in Alberta to go wet and by only 216 votes.

Winnipeg, Oct. 26. — With formidable affirmative majorities in virtually all of the rural constituencies, Manitoba went on record in yesterday's referendum as favoring "bone dry" prohibition with a temperance plurality which the final returns may show to be around 15,000.

Winnipeg, however, revealed itself as the stronghold for the "antis," the complete returns giving a negative majority of 6,392. The pronounced adverse vote in this city was the feature of the referendum.

The sharp cleavage in opinion between the sentiment here and that of the rural areas was manifest at the outset.

Heavy "No" Vote in St. Boniface

St. Boniface rather upset the forecasts by recording a heavy "No" majority. This attained such proportions as to swing the entire constituency of Springfield into the "wet" column. It was the only rural field outside of Provencher in which the anti-temperance forces triumphed.

BRANDON GIVES

shortly after 6.15, the advance poll being the first to report. Although only thirty-three votes were cast at this poll, twenty-four of them were for the "wets." From that time on the returns came in steadily, the final returns in Brandon City being known about seven o'clock. The largest majority of either side was reached by the "dry," Poll 14 giving those voting "yes" a majority of 72. The wets obtained their largest majority in Poll 2, which gave the negative voters a majority of 64. As far as polls were concerned, the wets carried twelve out of twenty-one districts, the advance poll being counted as a poll.

There was considerable excitement as the last local polls were heard from, the vote was very close. The wets had a considerable majority at one time, but Poll 15, one of the last to be heard from, reduced the majority considerably. That the result was a surprise in Brandon was evident, for the prohibition committee in charge of the dry campaign in Brandon had done a lot of hard work.

No Irregularities

The days voting passed off well. There was no irregularities reported, and all the deputy returning officers made their returns quickly. There were the usual number of rejected and spoiled ballots, it being estimated that about ninety covered the number of ballots thrown out in the counting. No official count on the result of the voting in Brandon will be obtainable until November 5th when the official count will take place in the City Hall. It is not expected however that there will be any great change in the local result.

Ninety-eight persons attended the polls and cast their ballots between six and eight a.m.

DEATH OF GREEK

ed to him by an admiring member of the Scottish Women's Hospital at Salonika. The correspondent of The Associated Press, who visited the King at his palace in Athens at that time, found the King wearing his right arm in a sling.

"Did you shoot the dog?" he was asked.

"No," replied the King, "he's only a pup and I decided to give him another chance. He bit me only in a playful spirit."

King Alexander was tall, of medium build, blond hair and light complexion. He invariably wore a monocle. He had many of the features of his mother, Queen Sophia. His education was gained from private tutors and he had an excellent command of English. His favorite pastime was automobiling. He owned several motor cars which he used to drive through the streets of Athens at high speed. He was personally popular among his people, but was not liked by the followers of his deposed father, King Constantine, who were anxious to return the older man to the throne. He exercised little power in the affairs of his country, all State and foreign matters being handled by Premier Venizelos and his ministers.

WEEKLY BANK CLEARINGS

Although the Clearing House Returns for the past week show a decrease of $91,598 over the corresponding period of 1919, this may be somewhat accounted for by the holiday on Thanksgiving Day. The total returns for the week ending October 21, are $974,749 and for the corresponding period of 1919 they were $1,066,347.

Have you heard about Peps? Peps is a scientific preparation put up in pastille form, which provides an entirely new and effective treatment for coughs, colds, chest and throat troubles.

Peps contain certain medicinal ingredients, which, when placed upon the tongue, immediately turn into vapor, and are breathed down the air passages to the lungs. On their journey, they soothe the inflamed and irritated membranes of the bronchial tubes, the delicate walls of the air passages, and finally enter and carry relief and healing to the lungs.

In a word, while no liquid or solid can get to the lungs and air passages, these Peps fumes get there direct, and at once commence healing.

WINTER SHOW TO BE HELD AT THE FAIR GROUNDS

Manager Smale Declares Record Breaking Show Will Be Held

UNDAUNTED BY LOSS

Winter Fair Was Held There in 1911-12 When Hospital Patients Were in Old Building

The Winter Fair will be held as usual in March. This statement was emphasized my Manager W. I. Smale Friday, shortly before the last flame had died out in the old building. He was not in the least discouraged over the handicap which apparently faces the local officials in staging their record-breaking stock shows, for he immediately announced that the Winter Fair would be held despite the loss of the old building. All doubt as to whether the Fair would be held were completely dispelled by the manager's announcement.

In 1911 and 1912, when the Old Winter Fair building, which today, is nothing more than a heap of smouldering ruins, was housing the inmates from the Hospital for the Insane, the Winter Fair was held in the Exhibition grounds. This arrangement will again be made, Mr. Smale stated this morning, and a temperorary building would be erected in the grounds for that purpose. Mr. Smale said that every exhibitor would be comfortably looked after and that ample accommodation for all the stock could be secured in the buildings on the Exhibition grounds. No change in the plans of the officials in connection with the Winter Fair program will be made, and the big stock show will be held as usual.

A great up-to-date plant on the site of the destroyed building is now planned. The building will probably be erected early next year, and will be one of the most modern on the Continent. Stables and poultry sections will be included in this new building, and a start on the plans of the building will be made very shortly, stated one official this morning.

POLICE SEIZE CAR OF HORSES

Consigned to Man in Ontario — Two Animals Said to Have Been Stolen

Following instructions received from Regina, the police seized a car of horses in the C.P.R. yards and took a young fellow named Thomas Laidlaw in charge. The instructions from the Saskatchewan capital were to the effect that a pair of bay mares had been stolen from Henry Dauphines at Dumas and had been shipped over the C.P.R. Acting on this advice, the police located the car in the yards early Sunday morning and it was held here, and Thomas Laidlaw, who was in charge of the animals, taken to the station.

There were some eighteen or nineteen horses in the car, and arrangements were made to have the horses cared for until further advice was received. Laidlaw told the police that the horses were consigned to Arthur Coxworth, at Hilsen, Ontario, but that Coxworth had got off the freight train at Reston and had taken the fast train for home.

This morning advice was received from the police at Dumas that Mr. Dauphines, the owner of the two bay mares, would arrive in the city today, and that following his arrival Laidlaw could be released. Laidlaw is not in any way connected with the theft of the mares in question, it is stated, and he will be allowed to proceed with the car of horses Tuesday. It was stated by the police this morning that a warrant had been issued for Coxworth's arrest.

BODY OF MAN FOUND HANGING FROM POLE IN EARLY MORNING

Police Believe Body to be That of Tideman Lium, of White Bear, Sask.

TWO LETTERS FOUND

Which No One Has so Far Been Able to Translate — May Explain Cause

Tideman Lium of White Bear, Sask., committed suicide in the early hours of Sunday morning by hanging from a telephone pole. He was found about 4 a.m. on Sunday morning by Constable Brown on his rounds, and efforts to restore the vital spark proved to no avail. The man had apparently been dead some time, when found. No inquest is to be held as Coroner Condell has decided that it is a case of suicide.

When Constable Brown of the local force passed down the lane between Eleventh and Tenth Streets about 4 a.m. on Sunday morning he saw a man apparently hiding behind a telephone pole at the rear of Vivian & Windle's warehouse. Coming closer, a gruesome sight greeted the constable. The man had apparently tied a piece of rope around his neck, climbed the pole quite a height, then fastened the other end of the rope around a spike in the pole and jumped off. When discovered by the constable his feet were about two feet off the ground.

The body was cut down and artificial respiration w s tried for about ten minutes without any sign of life appearing. His clothing was then searched and several letters addressed to Tideman Lium, White Bear, Sask., were found in his possession. Two newly letters, one addressed to Otto Lium at White Bear and the other to a woman in North Dakota, were also found. These have not been translated as yet, but may explain the cause of the rash act. Lium is said to be a man about thirty-five years of age.

It was ascertained this morning that Lium came to the city on Friday and registered at the Grand Union Hotel. The clerk did not remember seeing him go out on Saturday evening nor is there any light on the man's movements in Brandon during his short stay in the city. In his possessions were found several receipts from hospitals, which leads to the supposition that the man was apparently in poor health. The body is at present at the undertaking parlors of Campbell and Campbell's awaiting instructions from the dead man's relatives.

TWELVE MEN ARE KILLED IN POWER PLANT EXPLOSION

North Tonawanda, N.Y., Nov. 1. — Twelve men were killed Sunday morning in an explosion at the Niagara Falls power plant. The explosion occurred a few minutes after two transformers had been cut in at the distributing tower of the power company's plant. Thirteen men were crowded in the room watching the work of the machinery when there was an explosion, apparently caused by a short circuit. The force of the blast burst a steel barrel of lubricating oil which formed part of the new equipment, and a flash of the electricity ignited this oil which was thrown over the men in the room.

Four men were instantly killed, upparently. One escaped serious burns by jumping through a window. The other eight managed to escape from the flame filled room, but all were so badly burned that they died in the Hospital Sunday and tonight.

LETTERS THROW LITTLE LIGHT ON TRAGEDY

No Word Yet Received From Relatives of Man Who Hanged Himself

Despondency over ill-health and the fact that he had no money and no place to go, were probably the causes of Tideman Lium committing suicide in the early hours of Sunday morning. Letters which were found on his person were translated Monday afternoon and it is quite apparent from them Lium contemplated his act. He had arrived in Brandon practically destitute, and was grieving over the fact that he was in a strange city and did not have any funds. Several receipts from medical men and medical institutions are proof that Lium had been ill, while one of his letters stated that he "did not know whether he would ever get well."

One of his letters, written to Otto Lium, is as follows: "I wish to write you and tell you where I am. I am in Brandon. I am discouraged because they bought a ticket to Brandon and laid me on the train, and now I have no money, and I cannot get anywhere. I cannot stand it, and when you read this letter I will be dead. Live well all."

In several other letters he also stated that when the letter was received "that he would be dead." He thanked several persons in other epistles for their favors to him. Lium apparently owned a half-section of land near Overly, North Dakota, as a tax notice addressed to him was found on his person. Although the police have wired the relatives of the dead man, they have not as yet received any instructions from them as regards the disposition of the body.

REPORTED UNION NORTH AND SOUTH CHINA IS ALSO DENIED

Peking, Nov. 2.—The Pekin Government has just issued a proclamation declaring that there has been a reunion of North and South China and calling for the election of a new parliament on the basis of the old election regulations.

The Pekin proclamation has elicited a manifesto from Constitutionalist leaders, Dr. Sun Yat-Sen and Tang-Shao-Yi, at Shanghai, declaring the Constitutionalist Government was still in existence, and that they did not recognize the Pekin proclamation as having any force.

The alleged unity it declared, was based upon a peace agreement made by "irresponsible persons."

THE STORK WORKED OVERTIME IN BRANDON DURING OCTOBER, 1920

October certainly was a record-breaking month as far as Mr. Stork was concerned. He had his busy month of the year when he ushered in 63 births to Brandon, according to the statistical records for the month at the City Hall. This record is away ahead of the month of October in 1919, when only 29 births were reported. Dan Cupid failed to keep up to his mark of October last year when he tied 30 knots, as only 23 marriages were celebrated in this city last month. Deaths showed an increase, 22 being reported, as against 16 for the month of October in 1919.

POLICE CONTINUE PROBE INTO OLD FAIR BUILDING FIRE

Question of Stable Accommodation for Police Horses Not Before Council

The Mounted Police inquiry into the cause of the fire which destroyed the old Winter Fair building last Friday is still continuing. There is every prospect that the inquiry will hold sessions for another two days, according to erliable information given this morning. Some forty persons have already been summoned before the Board of Inquiry and have given evidence. Quite a number are still to appear, a very thorough and exhaustive investigation having been undertaken by the Mounted Police officers, assisted by Fire Commissioner Anderson. It is stated that Col. R. S. Knight will arrive in the city tonight from Winnipeg and will again sit with the board.

None of the Mounted Police officials appeared before the City Council on Monday night as anticipated. It was expected that the City Council would take up the matter in session of securing stable accommodation for the horses of the local squadron, but apparently the matter has been disposed of without coming formally before the Council. It has been suggested that the old City Market building might be rebuilt at a comparatively low cost, and that it would make splendid stables for the police horses. This [illegible] working, but no definite information is available.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Philp, who have been residents of Brandon for the past thirty-nine years, expect to leave Thursday for Winnipeg, and after visiting for a few days in the Capital they will proceed to Vancouver, B.C., to reside. Coming to this city in May, 1881, Mr. Philp practised law in Brandon for about twenty years and also looked after several farms which he purchased in the district. For about a year during the latter part of the war, Mr. Philp devoted his time to the work of the Canada Food Board, particularly with reference to the distribution of fish in Manitoba. Mr. and Mrs. Philp have been spending their Winters in the South or Vancouver for some time, and much to the regret of many friends in Brandon have now decided to move to Vancouver.

Stock Removed Before Damaged —Feed Destroyed—5 Horses Smothered at Petrel

Portage la Prairie, Nov. 1.—Fire destroyed the large barn on the farm of John Graham, ex-M.P.P., near Carberry last week. The loft was packed with Winter feed and a large quantity of threshed oats all of which was destroyed. The building was a frame structure 120x40 feet on a concrete foundation, the loss of which is partly covered by insurance. Neighbors assisted the men on the farm to get the stock out of the barn, before any of the animals were damaged in any way. The loss is estimated at $10,000 partly covered by insurance.

Fire also broke out in the stable loft of Mrs. Alex. McIntosh, Petrel, and in less than two hours the horse stable, cow stable and implement shed were reduced to ash piles. In the stable were eight head of horses, five of which weer burned together with harness, nine loads of oat sheaves, some poultry and the usual stable implements. All cattle and implements were removed from the other buildings. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

NORTHERN PROSPECTORS MUST HAVE PROVISIONS SUFFICIENT FOR YEAR

Ottawa, Nov. 2.—The Federal authorities are taking action in preparation for an expected rush of oil prospectors into the Fort Norman territory, where a very rich strike of oil was reported some weeks ago, and no person will be allowed to go into that country without having sufficient provisions and outfit to ensure that they will not become a charge on the public. Instructions have been sent from the Royal Canadian Mounted Police headquarters here to Edmonton, advising the officer commanding that district that an ordinance has been passed by the Governor of the Northwest Territories to turn back all persons who cannot show that they have sufficient provisions. This is an order similar to that which was in effect during the rush to the Yukon in 1897, when the Mounted Police turned back every prospector who did not have with him at least sufficient provisions to carry him for a year. Intending prospectors who have not the requisite supplies with them will be turned back by the Mounted Police at Edmonton or Peace River Crossing, or at whichever post they are required to report before beginning their long trek Northward.

PRISONER ROUNDED UP AFTER TWO HOURS IN HIDING

W. R. Johnston Made a Break For Liberty Out of Jail Garden

FOUND IN BUSHES

Near the Iron Bridge Over Assiniboine — Police Join in Man Hunt

W. R. Johnston, an inmate at the Provincial Jail, chose a poor time to escape when he made his getaway Wednesday morning. Daylight makes hiding very difficult along the banks of the Assiniboine River in the East end of the city, and as a result the fugitive was captured about noon today Many Mounted Police, Provincial Police and members of the local force took part in the hunt, and Johnston was located hiding in the grass of a small bluff near the Iron Bridge two hours after his escape.

Johnston was working in the jail garden Wednesday in company with four other inmates, when he made a run for the fence and was soon on his way towards expected freedom. Immediate chase was not given as the guard had to take his charges inside before the man could be gone after. An alarm was sounded and within a very few minutes, Johnston was reported to the police as being in the neighborhood of the Iron Bridge, East of the C.P.R. yards. The chase was taken up by Mounted, Provincial and local police for it was conceded that if the man got out of the river flats he would have a splendid chance of making a complete getaway. Johnston kept low for two hours when two constables located him in the bushes just East of the Iron Bridge. He was taken in charge without offering fight, and taken back to Jail.

Johnston had been in the jail just a week having been sentenced to six months hard labor by Magistrate Fraser last week. He was accused of, and pleaded guilty to, the stealing of a load of wheat from a farmer at Carroll.

MONTREAL VISITORS MUST HAVE PRESCRIPTIONS IN ORDER TO GET LIQUOR

Montreal, Nov. 2.—Armed with all the authority possible to give them, and with most minute instructions, 15 new inspectors started out Tuesday morning to take up their posts in the 15 licensed vendors shops in Montreal.

The new staff is the resutl of the activities of D. Murphy, general administrator of the license law.

The change means that not only Montrealers will have to get a doctor's prescription if they want a bottle of liquor "for medicinal purposes," but that all visitors to the city will have to do the same. Heretofore, it was possible for a resident of Ontario or any other place outside the province to get anywhere from a bottle to a case from any of the vendors on the mere declaration that the stuff was for his own use and was to be taken outside the province.

While the system is now being operated in co-ordination with Government roads, there can be no formal taking over till the award is made, which is unlikely to be before Spring. This will be followed by complete re-organization of the directorate and a decision as to the location of the headquarters of the amalgamated system."

TORONTO CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC NOW PART OF TORONTO UNIVERSITY

Musicians in Brandon will be interested in the latest development in the history of the Toronto Conservatory of Music by which that institution becomes a part of the University of Toronto.

In the fusion of the Toronto Conservatory of Music with the University of Toronto, it is felt that advantage to the general cause of music will follow. By this means the Conservatory, through the agreement sanctioned by the Legislature, passes over to the University, control as a school of music, with a well-established international prestige, fine equipment and unsurpassed location.

Examinations in music, it is expected, will now be standardized under the supervision of the comparatively recently appointed Faculty of Music of the University of Toronto, consisting of the following prominent musicians: Dr. A. S. Vogt, Dean; Dr. Healey Willan, F.R.C.O.; Dr. Albert Ham, F.R.C.O.; Mr. H. A. Fricker, M.A., Mus. Bac., F.R.C.O., and Mr. F. A. Moure.

In its new relation the Conservatory of Music, with its splendid staff, is destined to perform a great function in the general development of music in Canada as an essential factor in the life of a nation.

3 DEATHS TO 2 BIRTHS IN FRANCE IN 1919: EFFORT TO RAISE BIRTH RATE

Paris, Oct. 30.—France's efforts to raise the birth rate and lower the death rate, by means of the new Ministry of Hygiene, are too recent to be judged by comprehensive statistics. The importance of the problem, however, is given pessimistic prominence anew by publication of the Labor Ministry's statistics for 1919.

There were three deaths to two births last year. In only one department, Finisterre, did births exceed deaths. In a number deaths were double and even nearly treble the number of births.

EMERGENCY POWERS BILL IS ENACTED

Giving British Government Almost War Time Powers—Royal Assent Given

London, Oct. 30.—The Government's Emergency Powers Bill passed the final Parliamentary stages Friday and received Royal assent. It was introduced in Parliament with the advent of the miners' strike and when it seemed probable that the railway and transport workers might also become involved.

COMMITTE TO PREPARE BRIEF FOR PRESENTATION TO PREMIER MEIGHEN

Many questions of importance concerning the city of Brandon will probably be put before Premier Hon. Arthur Meighen when he visits this city in November. In order to prepare the plans for the careful presentation of these questions to the Premier, His Worship Mayor Dinsdale and Aldermen Hales and Shewan have been appointed a special committee by the City Council. This committee will act in conjunction with the one to be appointed from the Board of Trade. The entrance of the Grand Trunk Railway to the city, or in the alternative the connection of the C.P.R. with the Grand Trunk at Knox, will be one of the matters to be taken before the Premier.

TO DISCUSS EMBARGO ON CANADIAN CATTLE

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 2.—The Livestock Branch of the Department of Agriculture announces that a resolution advocating the removal of the embargo on the importation of Canadian cattle into the British Isles will be discussed at the meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce in London this month. The resolution advocated the removal of the embargo in order to increase the supply of beef and so cheapen prices, as well as increase the depleted herds of cattle in Great Britain.

Commenting on the resolution, the Canadian Livestock Commissioner states that the situation in Great Britain is such that the slaughter of cattle is being undertaken at a faster rate than can be coped with by production.

PUBLIC SHOULD KNOW ADVANTAGES DERIVED FROM MILLING IN CANADA

Toronto, Oct. 30.—The convention of Canadian millers at their session this morning discussed among other things, the necessity for educating the public to an appreciation of the manifold benefits which would accrue from general milling of wheat in this country, and from its export as flour instead of as grain.

This would not merely bring increased prosperity to milling and allied industries, but they claimed it would also affect very materially economics in transportation and the marketing of finished products.

CALIFORNIA PRICES HIGHER THAN EVER

Western Canada is not the only place struggling with the problem of better housing accommodation. In California, according to a letter received Friday from a former Brandon resident, it is almost impossible to get a house, and apartments in Los Angeles, San Francisco and other places are already reserved by tourists intending to spend part of the Winter there. Last year many people from Brandon and district who went to California for the Winter months found the high cost of living made even higher by the exchange on Canadian money. Some, rather than pay the increased rates, returned to Victoria or Vancouver and spent the balance of the Winter there.

Californian agents state that the Winter exodus is commencing earlier than it ever has. People starting South would do well to make their reservations for accommodation as soon as possible, for it is a bitter experience to arrive after a long journey and find no accommodation available.

PAN-GERMANS WANT ECONOMIC UNION WITH ENGLAND

British Considered Chief Factor With Which Germany Must Reckon

Berin, Oct. 30— Pan-German elements are agitating for an economic alliance with England as the only way in which Germany can regain her pre-war commercial prestige. The radical wing of the Conservatives believe the European situation has made such a union not only practicable but probable, and are urging that ancient hates be forgotten and an understanding reached between the two nations. England and not America, is considered the chief factor with which Germany must reckon in international and European commerce.

Writers in the newspapers discuss at length the problem of allaying what they say is an unabating anti-German feeling among the English.

The Kreuz Zeitung, the old organ of the monarchists, says in an editorial: 'If we have in mind any foreign alliance only England can be considered. I am fully aware that I will meet with the earnest opposition of many of my comrades when I suggest an alliance with England, which has done everything to destroy us. In spite of it I hazard to recommend an alliance with England on the following grounds:

"Politics are not founded on sympathies. That is the first lesson that the honest German should learn from his English cousin. We should possess enough cleverness to put sympathy out of our politics and as a wise business people travel with the partner who can make the going profitable.

"And that England certainly can do."

SUPERINTENDENT A. W. SHAW RESIGNS

After Twenty Years as Superintendent at Pumping Station—Accepted With Regret

Superintendent A W. Shaw, of the City Waterworks Pumping Station, has resigned. His resignation was received by the City Council on Friday evening, and accepted by that body. Mr. Shaw has been notified that he will be the new chief engineer at the Hospital for the Insane. Mr. Shaw came to Brandon twenty years ago and has been Superintendent of the Waterworks plant here since that time. Before coming to Brandon he held important positions in Toronto.

Mr. Shaw's resignation to the Council is as follows:

"I hereby tender my resignation a Superintendent of the City Waterworks Pumping Station, having received notification of my appointment as Chief Engineer for the Brandon Hospital for Mental Diseases, to take effect November 15th, if possible.

"I take this opportunity to thank the Mayor and City Council for past favors, also to say that I have enjoyed my work while in the City services.

"Wishing you all success for the future, I remain,

Yours truly,
A. W. Shaw."

The following recommendation was then passed by the Waterworks Committee:

"Your Committee has this evening received, and has given careful consideration to, the resignation of Mr. A. W. Shaw, who has been in charge of the City of Brandon Pumping Station for many years past, and who has been tendered a more important position by the Provincial Government.

"Mr. Shaw has rendered valuable service to the City of Brandon, during his many years faithful and efficient conduct of the operations at the Pumping Station, and your Committee sincerely regrets that, owing to existing conditions, it is not warranted in recommending increased emolument, commensurate with that attaching to the new position.

"Your Committee, therefore, regretfully recommends the acceptance of Mr. Shaw's resignation, same to take effect one month from the first day of November, 1920."

5 TO 10 YEAR SENTENCES FOR TWO MEN GUILTY OF CRIMINAL ANARCHY

The men had been on trial since October 6 under an indictment returned last year alleging that in promoting the publication of a Communist manifesto in the Revolutionary Age, they advocated the overthrow of organized government by force. James Larkin, Irish leader, convicted several months ago, was indicted at the same time.

CUT PRICE CAMPAIGN HAS HIT MONTREAL

Montreal, Oct. 30.—The cut price campaign has hit Montreal. All over the city there is whirlwind price reductions. It is not confined to any particular commodity, but every article is marked down, from former high prices. The cut in many cases running from 30 to 50 per cent. Shop windows contain display advertisements announcing the fact and some merchants are advertising in the papers giving the details of their drop in prices.

INCREASED RATES DO NOT APPEAR TO LESSEN TRAVEL

Reduction in Reservations For Ocean Voyages Attributed to Mild Weather

In spite of the fact that the high cost of travelling has been recently increased there is no noticeable diminition in the number of travellers who daily leave this city on long or short trips as the case may be. Journeys to Winnipeg or Regina are just as popular as ever while people from the Pacific Coast or Eastern Canada seem to plan visits to Brandon and vicinity almost as if the increase had not taken place.

Owing the the open Fall, bookings for the Old Country are not as numerous as they were a year ago when snow was on the ground and Winter had actually started. However, about thirty people from Brandon and district have made reservations to travel on one of the three boats which leave the East towards the end of this month. The Minnedosa will sail November 20; the Metagama, November 24, and the Empress of France, November 27th. These will be the last boats of the season to go via the St. Lawrence route and probably for this reason they are very popular with Western people planning overseas voyages. As soon as freeze-up occurs it is predicted that a rush for reservations will take place.

After twenty-six years' service in the Union Bank, Mr. H. J. Pugh has resigned. The retiring bank manager has been most active in civic affairs and his work as chairman of the Red Cross Finance Board was but one of many contributions to the affairs of the city.

Mr. Pugh will be succeeded in Brandon by Mr. W. J. Swaizland, of Vancouver, who has had eighteen years' experience with the Union Bank. Before coming to Brandon Mr. Swaizland was assistant manager of the main office at Vancouver and has held other official positions in connection with the Union Bank.

the real breatheable tablets, make the throat, chest, and lungs cold-resisting. When a nasty cold or a coughing bout foretells the revival of your old bronchial trouble, the best thing to do is to take Peps at once to strengthen and the chest. When a Peps tablet is taken from its preserving silver wrapper and allowed to dissolve in the mouth, it gives off powerful medicinal and germicidal fumes that immediately circulate with the breath through all the air-passages, and destroy any germs that have got into nostrils and throat. At the same time the sore, inflamed membrane is soothed, healed, and protected, phlegm is released from the bronchials, breathing is made easy, and that distressing cough and throat soreness disappear.

By this direct treatment Peps keep trouble off the

POOR ATTENDANCE AND SLOW BIDS AT ANNUAL SWINE SALE

Splendid Opportunities to Secure Pure Bred Animals at Low Prices

SALE OF FINE SHEEP

This Afternoon Opened With Small Number of Buyers in Attendance

A poor attendance and very little enthusiasm in buying, marked the opening of the Manitoba Sheep and Swine Breeders' sale being held in the Winter Fair Arena. Expectation of a falling market and that sheep and swine will be lower in price later on, is said to be the cause of the poor showing this morning. Buyers could not have hoped for better opportunities however than were offered this morning, practically all of the sales being made away below actual value of the animals. A large number of the swine were taken in and out of the auction ring without one bid being made.

The sheep sale this afternoon was expected to be better attended and also that the prices would be well up to the market standard. About 362 sheep are being put under the auction hammer this afternoon, of which number 200 are grade and 162 pure bred sheep.

Splendid arrangements had been made for handling the stock and the buyers expected to be present, but only a few persons sat in the bleachers when the sale opened. The bidding was slow and the prices obtained were low. The highest price paid this morning was for a boar owned by H. J. Hesketh of Brandon. This animal sold for $170 to the Peerless Products Company of this city. The same Company also bought a sow owned by Hesketh for $115. A Duroc Jersey boar owned by W. C. Pilling of Kemnay brought $60 when sold to J. W. McCrae of Carberry, while the Experimental Farms sold a Berkshire boar to George Gordon of Oak Lake for $65. Ed. Harte of Brandon got a bargain when he bought two Duroc Jersey sows from W. C. Pilling of Kemnay for $40 each.

WESTERN COAL TO COST MORE

Increased Wage Granted Miners Causes Advance in Price of Coal

An increase of fifty cents per ton on Western coal will probably become effectively almost immediately in Brandon owing to recent increases granted to Western miners, stated one of the largest fuel dealers in the city. At present there is a good supply of coal, and Brandon people are using more Western coal than they ever did before. Shipments of hard coal although slow are being received by local dealers and as fast as the cars arrive the coal is being delivered to waiting customers.

As the result of the decision of the Western Canada Coal Operators' Association last week, all day wage miners in Alberta and Eastern British Columbia ,who are members of the United Mine Workers of America, will receive an increase of $1.15 in the agreemnt that was made in June last. This is just $2.50 per day increase in the rate that applied on October 31, 1919.

Operators at the mines in the Lethbridge and Drumheller fields have accordingly determined on an increase of sixty cents per ton applicable to both bituminous and lignite coal. Consequently the next shipment of coal from these fields will cost the dealer more and as usual the purchaser will have to share the increase.

THRESHERS DEMANDED GRAPE FRUIT OR ORANGES FOR THEIR BREAKFAST

Granum, Alta., Oct. 28—"Grape fruit or oranges for breakfast or we quit!" No, this ultimatum was not made in a metropolitan restaurant, but to the operator of a threshing outfit East of here. Juicy Alberta-grown beefstake and porridge was not enough for the epicurean appetites of these men. They demanded a balanced diet. But they could not convince this particular thresherman of the justice of their claim and they "hit the road."

AMERICAN MOB BURNS BRITISH FLAG IN STREET

As a Protest Against Display of British Emblem in Apartment Window

New York, Oct. 28.—Several hundred persons solemnly burned a Union Jack on East 94th Street Tuesday as a protest against the display of a British emblem in the second storey window of the apartment occupied by Mrs. Wm. Sadler, a citizen of the U.S., born in the North of Ireland. Mrs. Sadler displayed the British flag while her neighbors were unfurling flags of the "Irish Republic" in reverence to the late Lord Mayor Mayor MacSweney.

Mrs. Sadler's brother enlisted in the Canadian Expeditionary Force before the U.S. entered the war. She declared that she did not hang out the Union Jack "to make trouble." She thought she had as much right to display it as "these people had to show the flag of a country that does not exist."

"The whole thing would be a joke," she said, "if my neighbors were not so bigoted, because my brother served under the British flag." Every possible means was applied to pull down Mrs. Sadler's flag, including sticks, mops and other implements, augmented by angry murmurs and taunting threats. Mrs. Sadler took it down herself, however, after kissing it in full view of the mob.

The flag burning was accompanied by a "funeral oration" over the British Government, rendered by Patrick McGovern, of 196 East 95th Street.

Bush told the Court that he had some money saved up in a bank at Cupar and that he could make restitution. He was therefore put back in the cells for one week in order to give him a chance to make good his promise and communicate with his people at Cupar.

Mary Sorokan broke quarantine and she was summoned before Magistrate Fraser and the seriousness of the charge made clear to her. After a warning she was fined $2 and costs, and allowed to go.

McSWENEY'S BODY TAKEN TO CORK: FIGHT OVER COFFIN WITH RELATIVES

London, Oct. 29.—The Government has refused to permit the body of the late Mayor MacSweney of Cork to be landed in Dublin, and has provided a special steamer to convey the remains to Cork.

The reason assigned by the Government for not permitting the body to be landed anywhere except in the Lord Mayor's native city was "the risk of political demonstrations, which might result in the loss of innocent lives."

Fight Over Coffin

Holyhead, Oct. 29.—Sisters and brothers of the late Lord Mayor Terrence MacSweney of Cork were forcibly expelled, with other mourners, from their railway carriage here late last night as a result of a fight over the coffin of the dead hunger-striker. SASKATCHEWAN FARMERS HAPPY

Heavy Rains Assure Moisture For Crop in Early Spring

Regina, Nov. 1.—Hon. C. M. Hamilton, Minister of Agriculture, states that the rains which fell in the province during the past week have been characterized as the heaviest that have fallen in the district since the Fall of 1914. "This," he added, "is a good augury for the crop of 1921."

Mr. Hamilton has returned to his office after spending a few days on his farm at Weyburn, and he declared that the farmers in the district, while unable to proceed with their Fall ploughing, are delighted with the rains as the ground will receive a good soaking and well prepare it for the crop of next year.

In his opinion, and that of the farmers with whom he conversed, heavy rains in the Spring are insufficient to ensure a heavy crop, but where the ground has been well soaked in the Fall preceding, the success of the harvest is almost assured. In this connection he referred to the rainfall in the Fall of 1914 and the Spring of 1915.

Asked as to what had caused their death, Mr. Foster stated that it was probably some disease that is affecting cattle this year.

HEART FAILURE CAUSES DEATH OF MRS. LUCIE DONALD THIS MORNING

Brandon friends of Mrs. A. W. H. Smith will be sorry to learn that her mother, Mrs. Lucie Donald, died very suddenly at seven o'clock this morning. Death occurred at the Royal Alexandra hotel, Winnipeg. Fortunately, Mr. and Mrs. Smith and Frances and Donald went to Winnipeg on Sunday, so that Mrs. Smith had the satisfaction of being near her mother when the end came with tragic suddenness.

Mrs. Donald spent the Summer with friends in the East and wast taken ill while in Winnipeg en route home. Though she was ill for some time and her condition was considered serious, she made marked improvement recently and her death, due to heart failure, came as a great shock. She was 62 years of age.

The body will be shipped to Virden and interment will take place either Tuesday or Wednesday beside the remains of her husband who predeceased her several years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Donald were well known Manitobans, and lived for many years at Pilot Mound, Man, where Mr. Donald was senior partner in the private banking firm of Donald & Fraser. Mr. Donald was an elder in the Presbyterian church and for many years a teacher of the Bible class. The family occupied a prominent place in the life of the community and their departure for Virden was regretted. The death of Mr. Donald occurred while the family resided in Virden and he was buried there.

Mrs. Donald has spent a great deal of her time in Brandon during the last few years and only this year disposed of her home in Virden, intending to spend her time in travel and with her only daughter, Mrs. A. W. H. Smith of Brandon. While visiting at Beamsville, Ont., she contracted pneumonia and never fully recovered from the effects of a prolonged illness.

FINE FOOTWEAR

Brandon, Manitoba,

Nov. 3rd, 1920.

To The Purchasing Public of Brandon and District:

On another page of this issue you will read the Announcement of my Business Birthday and the big Merchandising Event that I have planned to commemorate it.

Two years ago this month I opened up under the firm name as above, and from the opening day the people of this community have given this business a very generous and constant support.

In return I have endeavored to show my appreciation in worth while merchandise and good shoe service.

Never at any other period in history has the retailing of shoes been as difficult or the confidence of the public as hard to maintain. The rapid rise in the cost of manufacturing, and the scarcity of good raw materials has kept the shoe merchant right on his metal in order to give his customers shoes that could be depended upon to give good service at anything like a reasonable price.

In order to overcome the difficulties referred to during this period I bought heavily when prices were low and have been, therefore, in a position to give my customers the benefit of lower prices in the face of a high market, and I attribute the success of the first two years to this foresight in buying.

In planning this Birthday Event, the one thought was the third year—a bigger one than the last—and if good service and reasonable prices made for success last year, then better service and, if possible, lower prices will make for bigger success this year.

Now, just a word about prices! As you know certain classes of hides are cheaper, while others, such as fine kid skins, from which most of the fine shoes are made, are almost as high priced as ever. Then all manufacturing costs are even higher than last season. Most of next Spring's shoes have been ordered, and at prices that mean that shoes of the better grades will be from $1.50 to $2.00 a pair cheaper than the high point, and cheaper grades in proportion. Study the prices announced now, and you will find that they are considerably below the market value of next Spring's shoes.

Thanking you, I am

Yours very truly,

A. B. Knowlton

CHORUS OF DISAPPROVAL

A great chorus of condemnation arises from voters over the wording of the prohibition referendum ballot. Objection taken to the wording by the prohibition forces when it was first announced, was without effect. That the objection was well taken is a declaration now heard on every side. Ontario and other provinces where the vote is still to be taken should insist on a change. That the ballot was misunderstood is a statement oft repeated. The referendum is for the purpose of obtaining a declaration from the people as to their wishes regarding prohibition of the use of liquor as a beverage. Any confusion caused by ambiguous wording is to be carefully avoided. The fact that the ballot has been used is not sufficient ground for continuing to use it.

A KING IS DEAD

Announcement of the death of King Alexander of Greece is followed by an intimation that the throne will be an intimation that the throne will be son of former King Constantine. The King is dead—long live the King! No mention is made of former Crown Prince George who was passed over in the original search for a successor to the throne Constantine was forced to abdicate. Presumably the same objections are held which resulted in his rejection in the first instance.

Because of his pro-German activities the Allies brought about the downfall of King Constantine and induced him to name his second son as successor, Constantine going to Switzerland to reside. Alexander justified the confidence reposed in him, and though at first he seemed to carry out the policies which caused his father's downfall, no less an authority than Premier Venizelos paid tribute to his patriotism. His untimely end will no doubt give rise to a succession of stories similar to the one already circulated that his illness was due to activity on the part of his enemies in causing a pet to be innoculated with rabies in the hope that it would implant the fatal [illegible] matter. Though nothing is impossible, acceptance of such reports as facts can well be delayed until substantiated.

Because of the absence of Prince Paul from Greece it is intimated that a regency will be established and in the interval a council of Cabinet Ministers will rule the land.

That the new King of Greece, if a King is chosen, will govern with the same wisdom as Alexander, is the wish of all interested in the welfare of the world.

BACK ON THE JOB

It began with the craze for dancing about a year before the World War opened. Dancing had always had devotes—it has enjoyed popularity for ten thousand years—but this was a new kind of popularity. Suddenly all divisions of society went crazy at the heels. People danced at breakfast between the oatmeal and bacon and eggs; danced at luncheon while the soup was going down and the roast beef was coming in. They danced at afternoon teas, danced at dinner between courses, they danced between the close of the theatre and the opening of the bedroom door; danced on Sundays to celebrate victory at golf, or to limber up after a long automobile ride. They danced at the Ritz and Bellevue, says an exchange, and they also danced in less pretentious places where population swarmed. Some of the dances were indescribable; all of the music was bang, clang, helter-skelter jazz.

Boys and girls, old men and women, high, low, jack and the game all danced all caught the craze.

Then the scene shifted and the wild jazz was succeeded by a wilder jag. Everybody tried to outbid, to outspend everybody else. The dollar shirt of the "dollar a day" man graduated into the $18 silk shirt of the worker who had his dollar an hour pay to get rid of. The homely but healthy potato was advanced on the hotel bill of fare to the old price tag of succulent terrapin. Bread and butter was no longer thrown in as a gift, but charged for. The "service" charge made its appearance; the "tip" outgrew all old time limits. Everybody was buying everything, chiefly what they did not want and had never thought of buying in days before the "jag" era dawned. We had patriotic "jags" and overworked and oversubscribed business "jags" during which we overtraded and overgambled. Good excesses and bad excesses, but always and in everything the picture was overdrawn.

That was the "jag" era. Alcohol is not only the intoxicant. We had use of all the others. Now the war is is over. Our pleasure love which ran mad in the "jaz" era; gambling, that ran wild in the "jag" era, have come to the inevitable end, with new proof of the old truth, "they who dance must pay the piper."

What next? Why, after "jazz" and "jag" we come back to the "job," back to the good old plan expressed in the phrase "In the sweat of his face man shall earn his bread," earn his bread first, with a possibility of a terrapin afterwards; but earn his bread, and earn bread or buying powers for somebody else.

It's back on the "job," back on the job with brain and brawn, with mind and soul. It is up to each one of us to play the grand old game, according to the grand old rules recorded in the Ten Commandments and the multiplication table. We've "jazzed" and "jagged" long enough; let's get back on the "job" and stay there.

THE KIEL INCIDENT

German naval officers apparently are bent on showing the world that the armistice agreement existing between Germany and the United States is merely another "scrap of paper." The recent Kiel incident can be explained in no other light.

The commander of the destroyer, Broome, waiting under orders for the coming of United States cruiser, must have been unpleasantly surprised when his request for "moorings" in the Kiel harbor limits was refused by the German admiralty representatives.

Surprise at the curt reply necessarily gave way to indignation when he learned that the negative answer was supplemented by a motion that, should the destroyer fail to celar the harbor at once she would be fired upon.

The discourtesy of the German admiralty office synchronizes with the taking over by the United States of the largest vessel formerly in the possession of the German marine fleets.

The mailed fist habit has evidently taken such root in German official circles that despite the resumption of diplomatic relations with all the countries who took arms against that common enemy, Germany is not yet able to realize that threats of deeds of violence are out of harmony with the promises of good faith given after her breathless—"Hold. Enough!"—uttered late in the year of 1918.

Germany is slow to learn the meaning of "play fair," and until she gives evidence that she has grasped the idea and intends to guide her diplomatic relations on such grounds there is need of a vigilant observation of her "moves."

The merited suspicion which has [illegible] cannot be dispelled so long as she continues to show sporadic signs of return to theories and practices which have brought about her world discredit.

ILLUMINATING FIGURES

Sir Henry Drayton, Minister of Finance and Chairman of the Tariff Commission, has made public a tabulation showing in what proportion Income Tax was assessed last year on incomes derived in 1918 among those engaged in different occupations. The figures which are reproduced in another column, are both interesting and instructive, particularly in view of the interest in direct methods of taxation as a means for supplying public revenue, rather than the indirect methods now generally employed.

The tabulation shows that contrary to general expectations, those classed as employes were both the most numerous and their total assessment the greatest. There were 37,388 employes assessed and they were forced to pay on an assessment of $5,606,759, contributing a total of 31 per cent. of the amount. Mechanics were the next greatest in number but 20,445 of them only supplied 1.3 per cent. of the total which was second to the 986 engineers who were both the lowest in numbers and contributed the smallest total. Manufacturers, though few in number supplied 8.6 per cent. of the assessment while 6,493 agriculturists were only assessed $402,970, which was 2.2 per cent. of the total.

The tabulation may supply one of the reasons for the popularity of direct methods of taxation among those who subscribe to the platform issued by the Canadian Council of Agriculture. The tabulation indicates that some of them may be classed among those who favor the suggestion to "let George do it." Taxation which hits the other fellow is always the most popular kind though it would be unfair and unjust to attribute such motives to the earnest men who have drafted the platform already referred to.

46 POLICE HORSES BURNED TO DEATH: PROPERTY DAMAGE ESTIMATED AT $125,000 CROWDS WITNESS SPECTACULAR FIRE

Gallant Efforts Made by Mounted Police to Save Their Horses Were Applauded by Spectators—Sufferings of Doomed Animals Lent an Element of Tragedy to Spectacular Blaze — Firemen Did Wonderfully Well in Preventing Spread of Flames to Adjacent Premises — Insurance Amounts to $48,000 Exclusive of Insurance Government May Have on Mounted Police Animals and Property—Next Winter Fair Will be Held in Exhibition Grounds—Only Smoke Damage to Big Arena

The old Winter Fair building on Tenth Street was completely destroyed by fire Friday morning. The estimated loss will be in the neighborhood of $125,000, the building being a complete loss. Forty-six horses belonging to the Mounted Police were victims of the fire, although heroic efforts were made to get the animals out. The new Arena was not touched by the fire, the firement succeeding in blocking the spread of the flames, although there will be about $1,000 smoke damage to the Arena. Two Mounted Policemen were overcome with smoke, but no one was seriously hurt during the fire.

Shortly after 8.30 Friday morning flames were noticed coming out of the centre part of the old Winter Fair building, part of which was occupied at the time as a stable for the horses belonging to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. An alarm was turned in at once, and the Fire Department was soon on the job. In the meantime an alarm was sounded to the Mounted Police in their barracks as the men had just finished breakfast and were cleaning up for a parade. Only two stable orderlies were in the stable at the time the fire broke out. Every man in the local squadron immediately turned out, and rescue work was undertaken for the horses in the barns.

No work of praise can be too great for the efforts made by the Mounted Police to get their horses out of the barns. The flames had gained great headway when the men arrived on the scene, but despite this, the police rushed in and soon had quite a number of horses out of their stalls. Great difficulty was experienced in getting the horses into the open, as the crackling of the flames made them excited, and in many cases they refused to leave the stalls, balking and kicking the while. The heat from the flames was intense and the men worked under heavy odds. Some twenty horsese were taken out.

Crowd Cheers Policeman

A cheer went up as one horse was brought out by a Mounted Policeman just as the flames were licking up the front stalls on the South side of the building. Smoke started to roll out of the windows, but the stable part was free from smoke until the building started to go. Constables Pratt and Larkins were two of the last men in the stables and they brought out their horses, only to drop when they got outside, overcome by the heat and smoke. They were the only members of the local squadron who were injured. When the flames had eaten their way to the South end of the building the doors were closed, so as to give as little air as possible to the fire.

Best Horses Burned

The forty-six or more horses inside the building were soon victims of the flames, but their stamping and rearing in the stalls could be heard by the spectators outside. All the best horses of the Brandon squadron were destroyed, the officers' chargers being among the victims. The troop nearest the South door of the old Fair building got all their horses out, while a large portion of the saddles and equipment was also saved.

Fighting the Flames

While the Mounted Police were endeavoring to save their horses, the firemen were endeavoring to save the buildings surrounding the Winter Fair building. It was almost a foregone conclusion from the start that nothing could save the Fair building, as the timber was very dry and the hay and straw piled in the building would do much to augment the flames. Therefore the firemen directed their main efforts to stemming the spread of the fire to nearby houses, as the sparks were flying in all directions.

If there was any fortunate thing about the whole morning's fire, it was the fact that there was no wind blowing, and that the weather was ideal for fighting the flames. Lines of hose were run from nearby hydrants and streams of water were soon pouring into the fire, and especially on the North end of the building, formerly known as the City Market. The big steam engine, only used by the Fire Department in big fires to increase the pressure, was brought into work, and steady streams were directed on all parts where there was a danger of the fire spreading.

Protecting Nearby Dwellings

The sparks flying from the burning building threatened for a time to cause fires in other frame dwellings in the vicinity. Directly behind the Fair Arena and facing on Eleventh Street, in two houses the window glass was melted by the heat, but constant attention to the buildings and the application of water to smouldering places prevented the outbreak of fire. Pails of water, the use of the garden hose and other means were employed by the owners to stem the spread of the flames while the firemen were pouring water on the burning stables.

The houess on Tenth Street, just North of the fair building were possibly in greater danger than those on Eleventh Street. So great was the fear that the flames might get beyond control and reach their homes, that the residents began moving their household effects and piling them in the street. Assistance was given in this work by bystanders and the street was soon piled up with a great quantity of goods. Even the kitchen range was moved out of one house.

Across on the East side of Tenth Street flying sparks set fire to the houses in several places, but as in the case of the houses on Eleventh Street, these small fires were quickly extinguished and no damage was done.

Motor Cars Removed

Three motor cars in the burning building came within an ace of going up in smoke. For some time past the city has been using the oldl market building as a garage for its motor cars, and three city cars were stored there at the time the flames broke out. City Clerk Brown and City Foreman Smith were on the scene early and prompt work on their part succeeded in getting all three cars out.

The great fear expressed by the firemen and others was that the flames might spread to the new Winter Fair Arena and that it would be destroyed. Every effort was made by the firemen to prevent this and their work was greeted with success, as they stopped the flames before they engulfed the North walls of the old Winter Fair building. The big Arena was filled with smoke soon after the fire broke out, the smoke creeping along the passageway connecting the two buildings. Many persons saw the smoke coming out of the new building and thought it was going also. The big sheep and swine sale was held in the Arena Thursday afternoon, but luckily much of the stock had been taken away on Thursday evening.

Sheep and Swine Moved Out

Good work in effecting the rescue of the remaining sheep and swine in the Arena was accomplished by Winter Fair officials and employes who herded the animals out in a suffocating smoke. Not a single animal was lost, although two pigs were turned out shortly before the fire was finally extinguished. The pigs were apparently none the worse for their stay in the smoke and the first thing they sought after their release was the water leaking form one of the big fire hose.

When it was seen that the building was certain to be consumed, all lines of hose were directed in the effort to save the new Arena and the residences near it. About 10.15 a part of the roof on the burning building fell in and this was then followed by walls and ends of the building. When these were down, the fire fighting became much easier as the water could be played quite conveniently on all burning parts. The North wall of the former City market successfully withstood the assaults of the flames, and at the same time acted as a buttress, protecting the frame houses just North of it. At eleven o'clock the flames were all under control and it was assured that the damage would practically all be confined to the old Winter Fair building.

Police Kept Crowd Back

The flames made short work of the electric and telephone cables in that district and the power on the street railway was shut off for a time. Hundreds of spectators who gathered to see the fire pressed on all sides of the burning structure watching the fire fighting and several narrow escapes from being caught by falling wires were reported. Rumors were going round to the effect that some persons had been hurt by these cables but like many other rumors which commenced to circulate when the fire was under way, were not founded on facts. The City police were on the job and kept the crowd from pressing in around the dangerous sections.

Good Water Pressure

Considerable comment was heard from spectators as to the water supply and the water pressure. However the Fire Chief has stated that the pressure was more than satisfactory and that thesaving of the North wall is sufficient proof of this fact. The chairman of the Waterworks committee has also added his approval to the Chief's opinion and has added that the new pump at the Pumping Station did excellent work.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. It is almost certain that the fire first broke out in the hay or straw loft of the Mounted Police stables. The flames were first noticed coming out of the upper story. and the orderlies in the stables proper could not have seen the flames when they first broke out. What caused the fire in the first place is a mystery and one which may remain so. There are any number of rumors going the rounds as to the probable cause but until an investigation is made, the origin will probably be shrouded in mystery.

Loss and Insurance

An estimate of the total loss is given as about $125,000. The Brandon Poultry Association had a large number of crates entirely destroyed by fire and their loss will be about $2,000, almost entirely covered by insurance. The old building, complete with a steam plant for heating both buildings is valued at about $100,000. The loss to the Mounted Police is not known at present, but as the best horses of the squadron were lost, their loss will probably run close to $15,000. The insurance on the main building was in the neighborhood of $40,000, while the City Market building carried $6,000.

The decrease is due to lack of expert business.

MANY APPROVE SCHEME TO SETTLE LONDON STRIKE

Sliding Scale if Adopted Applicable to Both Owner's Profits and Men's Wages

MINERS TO VOTE

Next Wednesday on New Proposition—Leaders Favor Settlement Terms

London, Oct. 29.—Newspapers commenting on the settlement by which the coal strike may be ended if referendum among miners is available, generally recognize the scheme is a the representatives of the mine owners compromise. Neither the miners nor ers claim victory. There is universal approval of the arrangement by which a sliding scale would apply to the profits of owners as well as the wages of the men. For this reason, it is believed the plan will be endorsed by the miners. It is remarked that the settlement makes for future peace in the coal industry, and may prove an introductory step for a new era in British industry gentrally.

National Wages Board

London, Oct. 29.—The prospect is that the coal strike will terminate by the end of next week through the miners' acceptance of the agreement arranged with the Government under which they will get two shillings advance unconditionally until the end of the year and in the future their wages will be settled by the creation of a National Wages Board.

In the event of any delay in starting the wages board, wages will in the interval be settled, on the basis of increase or decrease according to surplus profits or otherwise from coal exports. This depends on such complex calculations as to render it hardly possible for any miner to understand. Therefore in the ballot to be taken next Wednesday, the miners must necessarily be guided by the rein of their leaders. The leaders favor a settlement on these terms.

A Skilful Agreement

The agreement is skilfully arranged, so that all concerned, including the coal owners, will be interested in increasing the output as in case of a decreased output the owners will be penalized by a reduction in their percentage share of surplus profits.

The news of the solution of the crisis, for the time being at least, evoked loud cheers in the House of Commons when Sir Robert Horne, the President of the Board of Trade, announced the success of the negotiations.

OLD WINTER FAIR BUILDING FIRST UNIT BIG PLANT

In March 1908, Big Fat Stock Show First Held There

HOUSED PATIENTS

From Hospital for Insane When it Was Destroyed by Fire in 1910

The Winter Fair building destroyed by fire Friday morning was erected in 1907, and was the first big undertaking of the local Winter Fair officials. In March 1908 the building was first used for the holding of the big stock show which has now become famed throughout Canada. The building was of such a commodious nature at that time that it was used for two seasons as Brandon's theatre and many road attractions were held in the main auditorium.

When the Hospital for the Insane burned to the ground in the Fall of 1910, the Winter Fair officials turned their big plant over to the Hospital authorities for housing the inmates of the institution. The patients occupied the building for two years until such time as their new plant was ready, and in the meantime the Winter Fair shows were held at the Exhibition grounds.

In 1913 the City bought the North fifty feet of the Winter Fair building for use as a City market, and farmers from surrounding districts brought their produce for sale at this market. The place has not been used for that purpose however since the outbreak of war. When war was declared in 1914, Canadian officials at once began a round-up of all aliens in the country and Brandon was selected as one of the round-up stations. The building was secured for a place to house the aliens and until they were removed to Banff in 1916 the aliens were housed in the Winter Fair building.

In the Spring of 1914 the new Arena was completed and the old building somewhat remodelled for the holding of the first of a series of fat stock shows. Since that time the old building has been used merely as the stables while the big Arena is the centre of the attractions. However with the arrival of the Mounted Police in 1919, and the location of the men in the Armory, it was decided to rent the Southern portion of the Winter Fair building for stables. The Mounted Police have since that time stabled their mounts in the building, moving their charges to the Exhibition grounds when they were crowded out of there present quarters by Winter Fair entries.

It is only a month ago that the old building was repainted and renovated Some repair work was also done to the big steam plant which was in that building and which heated both the old and new buildings.

CHICAGO MEN FOR ST. LAWRENCE WATERWAY PLAN

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Mass statistics was presented to the International Joint Commission at its meeting here today in suport of the proposed Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Waterway. Representatives of the Chicago Clearing House Association discussed the financial aspect of the scheme, saying Chicago banks were in a position to handle any development of foreign trade consequent upon the opening of the new route.

"We contend" said H. C. Barlow, Traffic Director of the Chicago Association of Commerce, speaking for the business interests of Chicago, "that the waterway will pay as a public investment. The project will pay strictly as a commercial enterprise in benefits which the people of both nations will receive.

FEW BUYERS AND LOW BIDS AT SALE OF SHEEP AND SWINE

Many Manitoba Breeders Sent Stock Home Rather Than Accept Bids

129 SHEEP SOLD

Falling Prices and Condition of Wool Market Frightened The Buyers

The sheep and swine sale held in the Winter Fair Arena, on Thursday, was disappointing to those attending the sales. Very few buyers presented themselves with the result that the prices obtained for the animals that were sold were away below their market value. Only fourteen swine and 129 sheep were sold during the day, many animals being taken in and out of the ring without a single bid being made. The average prices obtained were very poor, while many of the breeders preferred to send their stock home than to dispose of them at sacrifice figures.

Expectation of a falling market was given earlier in the day as the cause for the small attendance and poor prices obtained, while it is almost certain that the unstable condition of the wool market at the present time had much to do with the low bids on the sheep in the afternoon. Splendid arrangements had been made previous to the sale for the handling of the stock and the seating of the buyers, but the stock outnumbered the buyers.

There were 162 pure bred sheep and 200 grade sheep offered in the afternoon sale, but of this number only 129 were sold. The highest price paid for an animal was bid on an Oxford Down ram owned by J. B. Robinson of Belmont. J. Cockrill of Holmfield was the buyer and he paid $65. George Gordon of Oak Lake bought another ram of the same breed from T. S. Somerville of Hartney for $60, while Harry Leadley of Headingly paid the same price for a Shropshire ram owned by Maurice E. Hartry of Waskada. These were the highest prices paid, several other sales touching the $50 mark.

J. S. Hunter of Devlin, Ont. was the largest buyer, as he bid in over seventy sheep at prices ranging from $6 to $10 each. He also bought the only two goats offered in the sale for $5 each. Harry Leadley of Headingly bought quite a number of grade sheep at prices ranging from $12 each down. The total revenue from the sheep sale was $1,826.50

In the morning, fourteen swine were sold out of the forty-five offered for $820.

WORLD SHORTAGE WILL FORCE A PRICE ADVANCE

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Shortage of the wheat crop and increased exports are factors that will force an advance in prices, regardless of the success or failure of the first "wheat strike" in the history of the United States, according to J. S. Howard, head of the American Farm Bureau of Federation, an organization representing 1,500,000 farmers. The general sentiment among agrarians is one of vigorous opposition to the "farmer's strike," according to Mr. Howard.

BANDITS GET $60.000 WORTH DIAMONDS FROM JEWELER

JOE KORCZASKI SLASHES THROAT DIES IN HOSPITAL

Suffering From an Incurable Disease New Canadian Ends His Life

INQUEST NOT NECESSARY

Korczaski Permitted to Leave Hospital Found No One At Home

Despondent because of ill-health, and the fact that he might never be well again, Joe Korczaski slashed his throat with a razor Thursday afternoon and died one hour later in the General Hospital. The knife thrust was given at 59 Tenth street North, Korczaski's home. No inquest will be held as Dr. Beer, who held an investigation, stated that it was a clear case of suicide.

Korczaski has been in the General Hospital for about three months suffering from an incurable disease. It is stated that he suffered a great deal and this caused him to become despondent over the state of his health. On Thursday noon he expressed a desire to go home, and as he was in a good condition to do so, he was allowed to go. On his way home he talked with several persons and mentioned to them, "That life wasn't worth living." No one took any further meaning out of his remarks until an hour later.

About 2.30 a woman saw Korczaski staggering out of the house with blood streaming from his throat. He fell heavily to the verandah, dropping a razor beside him. Medical aid was quickly summoned and the man was conveyed to the Hospital where he died an hour later. Korczaski had lost a great deal of blood, and efforts to save his life were unsuccessful.

The suicide had spent some time in Ninette Sanatorium before entering the Brandon General Hospital and his disease was regarded as incurable. His wife and son had been up to see him last Sunday, but did not expect him home Thursday afternoon, with the result that they were out working when the man returned home. They did not arrive until after Korczaski been conveyed to the hospital.

Following the man's death, Dr. Beer held an investigation, and it was quite evident that the man had committed suicide. Korczaski's conversations with various persons, and the fact that he has been despondent for some time, all pointed clearly to suicide. The deceased leaves only his wife and one son. The funeral was held this afternoon from Campbell and Campbell's undertaking parlors to the Brandon Cemetery.

BALFOUR HOPES BIG NATIONS WILL JOIN THE LEAGUE

Brussels, Oct. 29.—In a speech at the closing session of the League of Nations council here Thursday, Arthur Balfour, British representative, declared he hoped "several big nations who are not now members will soon join."

Until these big nations have joined the League, Balfour said, it will be most difficult to predict what the future will bring forth.

After the final session it was announced the council had advised that a plebiscite be held to determine whether Poland or Lithuania should have possession of the city of Vilna. The council insisted that Polish irregulars withdraw before the plebiscite.

The Military Commission which looked into the use of poison gas, reported it failed to see how use of gas in war-experiments in peace time could be stopped.

"DRY" VICTORIES ARE DEMAND FOR FEDERAL ACTION

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 27.—That the "dry" victories in Western Canada and Nova Scotia are a definite pronouncement by the people of Canada for a "bone dry" Dominion and a demand for Federal action to bring about that end, was the opinion expressed by the Rev. Ben Spence, Secretary of the Dominion Alliance, when interviewed Tuesday night.

FIRE DESTROYS OLD WINTER FAIR BUILDING

No. 1 No. 2

A fire which broke out about 8.30 this morning, completely destroyed the building marked No. 1 in the above picture. The illustration is from an architect's drawing and does not show the correct situation of the buildings. The burned building was constructed in 1907, and housed Brandon's first big Winter Fair in March, 1908. The estimated loss for the entire building is placed at $125,000. Forty-six horses were destroyed in the stables of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, occupying the Southern portion of the building shown in picture No. 1. Cut No. 2 shows the Winter Fair Arena which escaped destruction.

KELLY-GRIFFITH

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Griffith, of Rounthwaite, Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock, when their second daughter Helen, was united in marriage to Victor Lyle Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kelly, of Melita. Rev. Mr. Parson, of Wawanesa, officiated. Miss Catherine Griffith, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and Harvey Cochlan, brother-in-law of the groom, was best man.

To the strains of the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin," played by her sister, Miss Agnes Griffith, the bride entered the drawing room with her father. She wore a lovely gown of white satin with overdress of georgette trimmed with beads, also the traditional veil with orange blossoms, and she carried a shief of bridal roses and chrysanthemums. Her only ornament was the groom's gift, a handsome onyx lavalliere set with a diamond. The bridesmaid was attired in a dainty frock of white crepe de chine and carried a shower bouquet of carnations and chrysanthemums. During the signing of the register Miss Thelma McDougal sang "Until" very sweetly.

After a buffet luncheon had been served the happy couple left on the afternoon train for Brandon en route to Melita, where they will reside.

The bride and groom were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts.

PRESENTATION TO MR. AND MRS. DUNBAR

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dunbar, for many years residents of the Brandon Hills district, will move into Brandon the beginninug of next month, where they will in future reside.

Tuesday evening a large number of the Brandon Hill residents made a surprise visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar. Gathering at the home of Mr. Johnston McPherson, the party proceeded to Dunbar's and fairly took the place by storm. On behalf of the people of the district Mr. James Davis presented Mrs. Dunbar with reading lamp, and Mr. Dunbar was made the recipient of a white onyx mantel clock. In a few words, Mr. Davis spoke of the valued work done by Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar both in the church and the district as a whole, and pointed out the deep regret which the community felt at the loss of such old timers from their midst. Mr. Dunbar suitably responded. The remainder of the evening was spent in music, refreshments being served about twelve o'clock. After the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and "For They are Jolly Good Fellows" the party broke up with the singing of the National Anthem.

FOWL SUPPER AND CONCERT

Great success attended the fowl supper and concert Tuesday evening given under the auspices of the North Brandon Community Club, in connection with the Union Church anniversary services. Supper was served in Zion Church while the concert took place in Bethel. A large number of Brandon people as well as people from all the surrounding district attended. There was such a crowd that some had to wait. However, everyone felt amply repaid for waiting when they finally gained entrance and were seated at the table. So generous was the quantity of food that an auction sale took place at the close which brought the sum of $25; Mr. W. Jewell acted as auctioneer. The proceeds of the supper was $300 which made a total of $325. Rev. R. H. Lowry, of Brandon, performed the duties of chairman for what proved to be a very enjoyable program of readings and vocal solos given by Miss Marguerite Murray, Miss Ruth Morgan and Miss Aleta Burchill, all of Brandon. That the program was very successful was evident from the hearty applause which the artists received.

FINAL DIVIDEND WHEAT CERTIFICATES IS TO BE 18 CENTS

Making the Price Basis No. One Northern, Fort William $2.63.

The following statement has been received from James Stewart, chairman of the Canadian Wheat Board:

"Realizing that producers are anxious to know, as early as possible, the full value of their Participation Certificates, the Canadian Wheat Board has made a careful audit of its accounts up to a recent date. The result indicates that it can pay on the final dividend eighteen cents, making a total of forty-eight cents. This will make the price, basis One Northern in store Fort William, $2.63, or an average price throughout the year at points of shipment in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta of $2.50 per bushel.

"The Board has already distributed, on the interim dividend, about $38,000,000, and payment of the balance of approximately $28,000,000 will, it is hoped, be commenced about the middle of November, and completed, before the end of the year. Over $60,000,000 of the foregoing will be distributed among producers in the three Prairie Provinces, the balance in Eastern Canada and British Columbia."

The interim payment was 30c per bushel, but at the time interim payments were commenced it was announced that the Participation Certificates would be worth at least round 40c.

Though no official announcement has been made of amounts handled, the amount being paid on Participation Certificates would indicate that it was about $130,000,000.

WHO PAYS THE DIRECT TAXES?

Sir Henry Drayton Makes Public a Table Which Supplies Information

Ottawa, Oct. 28.—Sir Henry Drayton, Minister of Finance, and chairman of the Tariff Commission, said that from the different representatives made before the Commission during its Western trip, it was obvious that the new direct methods of taxation had evoked considerable interest, particularly the income tax and its enforcement.

In this connection Sir Henry made public a hitherto unpublished tabulation, showing in what proportion income tax was assessed last year on incomes derived in 1918 among different occupations. The tabulations show that 20,445 mechanics were assessed for income tax, but their assessments did not amount to more than 1.3 per cent. of the whole income tax assessment, although mechanics constituted 20.5 per cent. of the total number of income taxpayers. Agriculturists assessed numbered 6,493, their assessments being 2.2 per cent. of the whole. Manufacturers assessed numbered 931. Their assessment was 8.6 per cent. of the whole. The tabulation follows:

DENTAL CLINIC FOR THE PUBLIC SCHOOL CHILDREN

School Board Votes $300 to be Expended on Initial Requirements

DENTISTS GIVE TIME

Three Brandon Dentists Offer Assistance — Clinic in Child Welfare Station

A dental clinic for public school children will be opened in the Child Welfare Station within the very near future. The School Board, after hearing a report from Dr. F. S. Spiers, gave the plan its unqualified support, and passed a grant of $300 to cover initial expenses in connection with the establishment of the clinic. The Provincial Board of Health, through Dr. M. S. Fraser, has signified its intention to give the clinic its support, although all the financial support to the movement will have to be taken over by the Brandon School oBard.

Telling of the working of the dental clinic in Winnipeg, and showing the vast strides being taken the vast strides being done in dental work among the school children, Dr. Spiers reported to the School Board the result of his investigations in other centres. In Regina, with a school attendance of about 4,500 children, one dentist is already devoting all his time to dental work while another dentist is employed on part time work. In Edmonton, Winnipeg and other centres the work is proceeding rapidly, and Dr. Spiers urged that the local School Board should make an attempt to commence this work, and not have Brandon lag behind in this most important branch of conservation.

Three Dentists Will Help

The Provincial Board of Health, he said, would give all the assistance it could in furthering the work, and offered the free use of the Child Welfare Station in the Court House as an office for the dental clinic. Dr. Spiers further added that there are three dentists in the city at the present time willing to devote a short period of their time each week, free of charge, to the work among the school children. Out of some 560 Brandon pupils reported on recently [illegible] in need of dental services.

Following the report made by Dr. Spiers, the School Board recommended the expenditure of $300 for initial supplies. As soon as the clinic can be opened up the work of attending to the most needy cases among the school children will be commenced by the three dentists who have already guaranteed to give the clinic their services. It is also anticipated that other dentists will also offer their services in the movement. The cases to be attended to by the clinic will first be recommended by the Provincial Health nurses, the children having the greatest need for immediate attention and who cannot afford to have their teeth attended to by practitioners in the city will form the large part of the clientele.

The following was the resolution passed by the School Board: "That a grant of $300 be made for equipment of a School Dental Clinic to be established in the Child Welfare Station and that the purchasing of the equipment and other dental matters be left in the hands of the Health Committee."

Splendid Reports

Some splendid school reports were heard at the regular meeting of the School Board Monday evening. Superintendent White's report showed the public school enrolment to be within seventeen of last April, when the school attendance reached the record number of 2,596. The attendance has been good but in the Northern part of the city, Mr. White said that a good many were kept out for days to pick potatoes. Evening classes in the regular school subjects show an enrolment of twenty-three, but the two technical classes did not open up strong, although an effort is being made to carry on the classes. An older girls' club for sewing and other activities has been started in the Assiniboine School, Mrs. D. Marshall and Miss L. Leybourne undertaking to direct this work. The manual training report showed 250 pupils enrolled at the Park School. The Normal School was asked to make some provision for further ventilation of the rooms in the Manual Training Department.

The Attendance Officer, Miss Gosling, said in her report showing the number of cases investigated for non-attendance at school, that nine pupils who did not return had been reported to the Police Magistrate, but that nothing has been done. The attitude of the authorities towards the attendance work, said Miss Gosling, is very detrimental.

ANOTHER SHARP DECLINE IN PRICES ON WHEAT MARKET

Closing Quotations For Wheat For November Delivery Ragged to $1.99¾

Winnipeg, Nov. 9. — Another sharp decline was shown on the local wheat market today with a close of 7⅝c to 8¼c lower. The opening was weak when there was quite a little selling but some good buying developed, reported to be shorts covering, and news from New York that a little business had been worked for export added new strength and prices reacted for a short time.

The cash wheat market was very dull except during the first hour when there was a good demand and fair buying. Premiums were again lowered ½c. Coarse grains were all weaker today. Cash coarse grains showed little or no change.

Wheat closed 7⅝ to 8¼c lower; oats 2⅜c to 2¾c down; barley 3¼c to 4¼c lower; flax 17 to 16¼c lower, and rye 5c to 2½c lower.

KEEN DEMAND FOR TIMBER LIMITS

Backus Interests Will Have to Pay as Other Bidders Are in the Field

Toronto, Nov. 9.—The Star says: "It was learned today from a reliable source that the Backus interests will have two powerful lumber companies as opponents in the bidding for the English River timber limits North of Kenora. This contradicts a story from Fort Frances that by virtue of the agreement between Mr. Backus and the Drury Government, the Backus interests would acquire the limits without opposition.

"Both Premier Drury and Attorney-General Raney ridiculed the statement in the Fort Frances story that the Ontario Government would lose $25,000,000 as a result of the agreement made for the disposal of the English River limits, and both intimated that the report was misleading from beginning to end."

WHAT IS STATUS OF GOVERNMENT LIQUOR VENDORS?

Legal Advisers of the Dominion Government Are Considering the Question

IS DELAY NECESSARY

Before Prohibiting the Importation of Liquor into "Dry" Provinces

Ottawa, Nov. 9.—What is status of Government liquor vendors? Opinion here, on teh point of issue, is apparently divided. On the one hand it is understood that a memo has been prepared submitting that Government vendors in bone-dry provinces cannot be classed as licensed vendors in the full sense of the word, and that, therefore, the Dominion Government will not need to wait for sixty days before prohibiting importation. On the other, doubt is expressed if such memorandum gives the correct legal interpretation of the situation. Legal advisors of the Government are considering the question.

PRICE REDUCTIONS FOR BREAD AND CLOTHING ALSO

Winnipeg, Nov. 9.—Bread will be one cent a loaf less, commencing Monday next, local bread manufacturers announced today. Following a reduction of eighty cents per barrel on flour yesterday, sixteen-ounce loaves will sell at eight cents, and twenty at ten cents.

Spring goods were shown at from 10 to 33 1-2 per cent. under those of one year ago, with men's shirts and similar articles at greatly reduced figures.

Same in Rochester

Rochester, N.Y., Nov. 9.—A reduction of 33 1-3 per cent. in the wholesale price of clothing was announced by one of Rochester's largest clothing manufacturing concerns, effective from November 1.

MANUFACTURERS ARE ASSAILING LUXURY TAXES

Claim They Cause Unemployment, Injure Business and Secure Little Revenue

Toronto, Nov. 9.—That the Luxury Tax now imposed by the Dominion Government is causing unemployment, injuring business, discouraging the investment of capital, and, on the other hand, that it is securing comparatively little revenue for the Government, are grounds on which the Canadian Manufacturers' Association is asking the Government to abolish this type of taxation.

Various Reasons Assigned For Reduction — Oil Companies Claim "Overproduction"

Washington, Nov. 9.—"Over production" in the United States is the reason assigned by British oil companies for an unexpected reduction of six cents a gallon in the price of gasoline in Great Britain, after a sudden increase of fourteen cents in August. British companies however, attribute the slump to the investigation of the Central Profiteering Committee into the increased price.

FEW CASES OF A CRIMINAL NATURE ON THE DOCKET

Chief Justice Mathers Declares This is Due to Residents Being Anglo-Saxon

VISIT PUBLIC PLACES

Grand Jury to Report on Conditions in Various Public Institutions

That the very few cases of a criminal nature on the docket before the Fall Assizes is a tribute to the community of Brandon, was the opening remarks of Chief Justice Mathers in his address to the Grand Jury today at noon. The Chief Justice said that the number of indictments before the Grand Jury was happily not a lengthy one, and it is a fact that they are never very heavy in this district. The explanation lies in the fact, declared the Chief Justice, that the people of this district are of the Anglo-Saxon race and law abiding. In scanning the docket of other districts, he said that almost without exception the greater number of persons charged had unpronounceable names.

After the Grand Jury had retired and appointed their foreman, His Lordship informed the jurymen of their duties and reviewed the cases they would have to consider. He also told them that it would be their duty to visit the public institutions in the district. In connection with the report to be brought in by the Grand Jury on their visit to these institutions, Chief Justice Mathers impressed upon the Grand Jury the fact that [illegible] public official was deserving praise, that it should be mentioned, and likewise if an official was lax in the performance of his duty, this fact should come in for mention in the report.

Altogether there are eight criminal cases on which the Grand Jury will bring in either true bills or no bills. This afternoon at two o'clock the Assizes formally commenced with the civil action of Pengelly vs. C.P.R.

Members of the Grand Jury sitting at present Assizes are as follows: A. F. Campbell, foreman, E. L. Christie, Wm. Ferguson, J. B. Curran, J. D. Kennedy, W. J. McComb, A. Aberdeen all of Brandon, Jos. Chapman, Hayfield; J. O. Argue of Elgin; A. Leslie of Chater: Wm. English of Nesbitt; Jos. Loxe of Douglas; R. A. Knight of Hargrave; John Campbell of Chater; James Forbes of Woodnorth; A. M. Lyle of Lyleton; C. D. Rex of Virden and W. S. Peters of Wawanesa.

JURY JUSTIFIES SPRACKLIN'S ACT

In Shooting Trumble—Smith Told Doctors Trumble Had a Gun

Windsor, Ont., Nov. 9.—Justifiable homicide was the verdict returned by the Coroner's Jury conducting the investigation into the death of Beverley Trumble, who was shot by Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin, Pastor-License Inspector at the Chappell house at 3.30 o'clock Saturday morning.

The most startling feature of the evidence was the statement of the two doctors that Smith had told them on the morning of the death of Trumble that the dead man had a gun and that he had flourished it in the faces of the inspectors.

This was in direct contradiction of Smith's testimony that he did not see Trumble with a gun, and that as far as he knew he did not have a gun.

Mrs. Deslippe, Windsor, wife of Ernest Deslippe, the man who was found in a battered condition outside the Chappell house on the morning of the shooting, stated that she had been in the hotel when Trumble was shot. She said she did not see Trumble with a gun.

FINE ADDRESSES AT MEETINGS OF MANITOBA SYNOD

Rev. J. B. McLaren, of Shoal Lake Elected Moderator for Coming Year

PROF. GRAHAM TAYLOR

Gives First of Series of Talks on Christianity, This Afternoon

The election of a Moderator for the Brandon Synod of Manitoba featured the opening session of the Synod being held in Brandon this week. The unanimous choice of the Synod fell on the Rev. J. B. McLaren, of Shoal Lake, and he was chosen as Moderator for the next year. Rev. Mr. McLaren has been associated with church work for the past thirty-six years and was at one time in charge of Knox Presbyterian church here. A vote of thanks was tendered the retiring Moderator, Rev. P. E. Scott, B.A., of Portage la Prairie.

Principal John MacKay, D.D., of Manitoba College, conducted the devotional exercises Monday evening. A committee on Bills and Overtures reported and no change in the program arranged for the week was announced. There was a fairly large attendance at St. Paul's church, where the sessions during the week are being held.

An urgent appeal for more men and women to take up the work of the church was made by the retiring Moderator. He told of the notable advance made during the past year by the church, particularly referring to the Forward Movement and the success of the church in this connection. The adherents to the church have made a magnificent financial response, and this response should be accepted as a challenge to greater service. The success of the campaign is an assurance that the people will be behind every movement of the church. A warning was sounded by Rev. Mr. McLaren, however, when he stated that greater efforts will be necessary to put over the spiritual campaign than those which marked the financial campaign.

Reference was made by the speaker to the great lack of men for the home missions. Materialistic influences played a big part, and he stated the [illegible] of men constituted one of the biggest problems the church has to face today. The concentrated effort of every minister is needed at the present time to stabilize social conditions, and the real hope of the church lies in re-establishing the good influences of the home.

With about 150 representatives present from various parts of the province the first morning session of the Synod opened in St. Paul's church this morning. Principal John MacKay, D.D., led the devotional exercises and gave the first of a series of addresses which he will give each morning on "The Faith of the Modern Man." Other speakers during the session were Dr. Howard P. Whidden, M.P., Principal of Brandon College, and Rev. George Bryce, a pioneer of Presbyterianism in Western Canada.

The following committees were appointed by the Moderator to examine the Presbytery records: Superior Presbytery, S. R. Wright, W. R. Ross, Winnipeg, E. E. Annand, Mr. Bertram, Rock Lake, P. R. Scott, A. White, Glenboro, J. S. Miller, R. J. Duncan, Portage la Prairie, Mr. Muir, G. A. Dyker. Dauphin, J. L. Cowan, E. Burnell. Minnedosa, R. H. Lowry, J. A. Hall. Brandon, R. Dewar, Isaac Bowman. Synod Roll, J. Hodges, J. C. Stewart. Assembly Documents, Principal MacKay, Dr. Murray and Rev. A. W. McIntosh.

At tonight's session addresses illustrated by lantern slides will be given by Prof. A. A. Scott, M.A., one of the outstanding missionaries of the Presbyterian church in India, and Rev. A. E. Armstrong, M.A., Associate Secretary of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

All meetings of the Synod are open to the general public and as there are many splendid speakers on the program no doubt there are Brandon citizens who will grasp the opportunity of hearing them.

In an inspiring address this morning Dr. MacKay emphasized the great need for brotherly love in Christ Jesus as the basis of a great advance in the evangelizing of the world. He stated that the beginning of all new life of the church is in church fellowship and fellowship with Christ.

"Facing the Difficulties," was the subject of an interesting address by Dr. Whidden, the principal speaker at the morning session. Remarking upon the great difficulties presented by the world problems today, the speaker urged the same facing of these difficulties. The liquor habit, the modern dance, etc., were some of the things enlarged upon by Dr. Whidden who warned the Synod of the need of careful action to prevent any downward trend by the young people of today. "The spiritual aspect is what counts in all phases of life," said the speaker.

Rev. George Bryce, D.D., of Winnipeg, presented the report of the Historical Committee and dwelt especially on the splendid record of work during the period 1870-75 in the Presbyterian Church in the West. Dr. Bryce also read the report of the committee on obituaries. He mentioned three men, D. J. Ferguson, John Mowatt and Archibald McLean, who for long labored within the bounds of the Synod and during the year had passed away.

Owing to lack of time at this morning's session the report on Aged and Infirm Ministers and Widows and Orphans' Fund, which was to have been given by Rev. W. Grayston, was deferred until a later session.

GERMANS HOME FROM RUSSIA ARE INTENSELY BITTER

Not Only Towards the Russians, But German Government Also

Stettin, Germany, Nov. 9.—Every contingent of German war prisoners arriving here from Russia contains a number of ragged, unshaven, haggard men who have been made insane by suffering during many months in Russian prison camps.

In three weeks the German Government sent 200 of these to insane asylums and sanitariums for treatment. A few have spells of violence, and during these periods, must be kept under guard, but the majority present a listless, [illegible] They look about with dull, unseeing eyes, or sit quietly weeping, unconscious of the fact they are home again.

The families and friends of the insane soldiers are allowed to greet them and to give them foood and clothes before they are sent away for treatment.

Nearly all the prisoners exhibit the most intense bitterness not only toward Russia but toward the German Government as well. One of them, who had lost a leg and an arm and who, it was learned, had been taken prisoner early in the war and has been confined in many Russian prison camps, shook his first at a German flag when he arrived and cursed his country, his people, and all other countries and peoples.

"To ——— with Germany!" he shouted. "That is not my flag and Germany is not my fatherland."

He then turned to the other prisoners and pointing to his wounds said: "This is what Germany has done to me. This is what a kindly fatherland has permitted. Why didn't they exchange me? Because I have only one leg and one arm? I lost them fighting for Germany and all the thanks I've had for it were the rotten years in a Russian prison."

The prisoners generally agreed they had been unable to procure proper medical treatment in the Russian camps, and that their food had been very bad.

At the close of the war there were 250,000 war and civil prisoners in Russia, and 255,000 Russians in Germany. The German Government estimates that not more than 5,000 Germans will remain in Russian camps this Winter.

Before the Russa-Polish hostilities began the Russians were being returned rapidly but it is now estimated at least 200.000 Russians are still in German camps, 60,000 of whom are the troops interned when they crossed the East Prussian frontier during the Polish offensive.

The German Government has expended 30,000,000 marks for transportation of Russians home, and 90,000,000 marks to bring German prisoners out of Russia.

SCHOOL TEACHERS PRESENT A NEW SALARY SCHEDULE

Which Provides for Increases Totalling $28,000—Board Defers Action

PROBLEM FOR NEW BOARD

Increases Provided for in New Schedule Run From $50 to $1,000

Salary increases totalling nearly $28,000 were asked for by the Brandon School Teachers' Association at the regular meeting of the School Board Monday evening. In a letter addressed to the members of the School Board the Association asks that in view of the unsatisfactory negotiations which have taken place between their body and the School Board, the new schedule presented be adopted. The schedule, according to the Teachers' Association, has been arrived at after careful consideration. The increases under the schedule presented on Monday evening range all the way from $50 to $1000 over the present salaries now being paid to the teachers.

There was no comment from the members of the School Board when the following letter was read from the Brandon Teachers' Association:

To the Members of the Brandon School Board,

Gentlemen:

Inasmuch as the negotiations between your Board and the Brandon Teachers' Association have up to the present failed to result in a satisfactory conclusion, we, the members of the Association, wish to present to you a schedule which, after full and careful consideration, we think to be fair and equitable to all concerned. We have endeavored to get this schedule into your hands at the earliest possible moment in order that we may receive advice from you of your action concerning it not later than Wednesday, November 10th, as our Association meets on Thursday, November 11th, to be advised of such action.

The schedule, together with a detailed statement of its application, and the above letter is submitted to you in accordance with the expressed wish of the Association.

Yours respectfully,

E. A. TINGLEY,

Sec. Brandon Teachers' Association

October 25th, 1920.

Later in the evening a resolution was passed delaying action on the schedule and leaving it for the incoming School Board of 1921. The members present on Monday evening were of the opinion that the question should be decided by the new Board as the salary schedule was retroactive to the first of September. It was considered that a schedule involving such large increases should be considered very carefully. Accordingly the following resolution, moved by G. A. Fitton and seconded by W. Wade, was passed: "That the salary schedule of the teaching staff of the Brandon schools submitted by the Teachers' Association be received and that the question be deferred for action by the new 1921 Board."

Discussion on Resolution

Dr. Spiers thought that the resolution could be worded differently as it looked as if the Board did not give a definite answer on it. G. A. Fitton replied that the present board had no right to commit the future Board to outlay of more than $25,000. Dr. Spiers stated that the schedule was drawn up by the Board some time ago and it was definite, and some word of explanation should be added to the resolution. There was some further discussion, but it was finally decided to let the resolution stand as at first presented.

Figures presented by the Secretary of the Board show that the total payroll of the Brandon teachers is $112,400 per year. The new increases mean an added sum of $28,000. Increases in 1919-20 amounted to $6,000, while bonuses totalling $15,555 were paid last year. A further increase of $4,000 over and above the bonus was given by the schedule adopted by the School Board last June. The schedule which was drawn up by the representatives from both the Board and the Association last June was adopted by the School Board and the 1920 salaries, since September, have been paid on that schedule but the cheques have been accepted by the teachers under protest. The Teachers' Association never really recognized the June schedule as the School Board did not make some alterations in it as suggested by their representatives.

Teachers Present Schedule

The following is the new salary schedule suggested by the Teachers' Association and presented by that Body to the School Board on Monday night.

OFFICIAL COUNT IN BRANDON GIVES DRY MAJORITY OF 3,152

According to Official Declaration by D. Marshall, Returning Officer

VOTE IN BRANDON

City Gave the Wets a Majority of 27, Not 29 as at First Reported

The Federal constituency of Brandon gave a majority of 3,152 for the "drys" in the recent referendum vote. This is according to the official declaration made by the Returning Officer, Mr. D. Marshall, of this city following the opening of the sealed ballot boxes this morning and the official count of the returns. One hundred and two ballot boxes were opened in the City Hall this morning and the returns of the various polling clerks recorded officially. Brandon constituency went overwhelming for the affirmative vote, although Brandon City and Souris went "wet" by small majorities. The total vote for the affirmative was 7,295, while the negative vote was 4,143 in the constituency. Protested ballots totalled 49, and spoiled ballots 63.

Brandon City gave a majority of 27 for the "wets." On the evening of the referendum vote it was announced that the majority for the "wets" was 29. This has now been decreased by two, the figures being 1887 for the affirmative side of the question and 1914 for the negative. In Brandon City there were 25 rejected ballots and 27 spoiled ballots. The highest number of rejected ballots was recorded in Poll 17, while there were the same number of spoiled ballots in Poll 12.

20	64	69
Advance poll	9	24
Total	1887	1914

Majority for "wet" 27.

There was very little difficulty in obtaining the final results this morning, although one deputy returning officer forgot his ballot box and ifnad to be sent for. Luckily, the deputy lived close to the city, and the ballot box was quickly secured. Another deputy forgot to include the number of negative votes registered at his poll, but luckily he also enclosed by mistake the return to the agent made the evening of the vote, and the vote was ascertained in this manner.

The recent referendum vote showed that little or no interest was taken in advance polls outside of the City of Brandon. In this city thirty-three registered their vote before the 29th of October, while in Souris only six cast their ballots and they were all for the "wets." Not a single voter visited the advance polls during the evenings they were open in Virden and Rivers. In the Brandon constituency there were 102 complete polls, although a large number of these were divided so as to facilitate the handling of the vote for that day.

MOORE GIVES LABOR EXTREMISTS DRESSING DOWN

Declares O. B. U. Interests Attempt to Disrupt International Unions in Toronto

Toronto, Nov. 5.— Toom Moore, President of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, gave the extremists in the Labor movement in this city a dressing down at a meeting of the Toronto District Trades and Labor Council last night, and declared that. backed by the Industrial banner of this city, they were working in the interests of the O.B.U. and to the disruption of the Internationals.

President Moore said the extremists in the local unions were traitors to the cause of the workers, and were following tactics similar to those which preceded the big strike in Winnipeg. He scored the Industrial Banner for publishing articles which led the public to believe that a serious feud existd in th ranks of organized labor in Toronto, whereas this was not the case.

Previous to the address from President Moore the District Trades and Labor Council dealt summarily with refractory union representatives present at the meeting. Delegates from the Butcher Workers' union and the Retail Clerks' union were expelled as extremists who were not wanted in the Trades Council. At the same time a warning was issued that wards other similar action would be taken towards other delegates regarded as Red, if occasion should arise.

MOORE DECLARES WAGE REDUCTION IS BAD BUSINESS

Because it Tends Towards Curtailment of the Best Market, the Home Market

WHAT IS NEEDED

Declares President of Trades Congress is Squeezing of Margin Cost and Selling Price

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 5.—Tom Moore, President of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, in an interview here, said a reduction of wages in factories throughout the Dominion would defeat the object which the employers making the reductions had in view. "The manufacturers of this country," Moore said, "depend primarily on their home markets, and any policy which curtails that market by reducing purchasing through a reduction of wages of the great mass of workers must be bad business."

"What is needed," he contended, "is the squeezing out of some of the margin which exists between the actual cost of production and the selling price of the finished product."

MARKED DECREASE IN LIVESTOCK ON CANADIAN FARMS

Prince Edward Island, Ontario, Saskatchewan, and Alberta showed increases in value, while New Brunswick, Quebec, Manitoba and the Yukon produced decreases.

ONTARIO DISTILLERS ATTEMPT TO DICTATE TO THE GOVERNMENT

Toronto, Nov. 5. — R. T. Ferguson, K.C., of Winnipeg, representing the distillers of the Dominion, told a special committee of the Ontario Legislature that the distillers would favor the prohibition of the importation of liquor into the province if the Drury Government would provide for selling of liquor for beverage purposes, under Government control. If the Government would not provide an alternative to the ubiquitious blind pigs, then the distillers would use their influence to keep the liquor gates open, Mr. Ferguson said.

Provincial Secretary Nixon said the Government would have to wait and see what would come from the referendum next Spring before taking any steps with reference to the liquor question.

REPRISALS FOLLOW MURDER IN SHORT ORDER IN IRELAND

Inhabitants of Nenagh Flee Into Country—Debate in the House of Commons

Debate in Commons

London, Nov. 5.—In the House of Commons Thursday T. P. O'Connor raised a debate attacking what he described as the authorities' policy of frightfulness in Ireland, which he declared was adding new battalions to the Sinn Fein army and besmirching Britain's good name.

Joseph Devlin, Belfast, and other members strongly denounced the reprisals in Ireland.

Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, replying, gave statistics showing that the military and police were not faltering in their endeavors to maintain the strictest discipline. Nine constables were under arrest, two of them charged with murder. Gen. Sir Neville MacReady, commander of the forces, had inquired into every charge against the troops, and disciplinary action had been taken in ten cases. Trials had been ordered in other cases, including seven men for complicity in the destruction of property at Mallow.

The Secretary denied emphatically that there was any government imprimature on the reprisals.

It was the government's duty to defeat the organized and armed attempt to intimidate into granting the independence of Ireland. If the government failed in this it was feared the assassination would spread to England.

The best way to put a stop to what were called reprisals, said the Secretary, was to stop the campaign of murder against the police and military.

Mr. O'Connor's motion of adjournment was defeated 133 to 51.

MEMORIAL SCROLL FOR NEXT OF KIN OF GALLANT DEAD

Accompanied by Message from King George Arrives at an Opportune Time

As a further expression of gratitude to those who gave their lives in the Great War and as a memorial, the Militia Department is sending to the next of kin of those who made the supreme sacrifice a memorial scroll on parchment paper, the lettering being exquisitely done in red, blue and black. Inclosed with each scroll is a message from His Majesty, King George.

The scroll is ornamented by the Royal Coat of Arms in colors and bears the following inscription:

"He whom this scroll commemorates was numbered among those who, at the call of King and Country, left all that was dear to them, endured hardness, faced danger and finally passed out of the sight of man by the path of duty and self sacrifice, giving up their own lives that others may live in freedom.

"Let those who come after see to it that his name be not forgotten."

Below the inscription, in red lettering, is the full name of the deceased soldier and the name of the unit to which he belonged.

The message from King George is as follows:

Buckingham Palace.

"I join with my grateful people in sending you this memorial of a brave life given for others in the Great War."

GEORGE R. I.

With Armistice Day less than a week away, the memorial scroll is being sent out at an opportune time when many will remember those who fought and died for Canada.

HEALTH DEPT INVESTIGATING DRUG TRAFFIC

Several Doctors are Struck Off Medical Register for Illegal Prescribing of Opium

Ottawa, Nov. 5.—The Health Department has been taking steps to put a stop to contravention of the Drugs and Narcotics Act, passed last session. With the assistance of the Mounted Police a number of prosecutions have been made, as a consequence of which several doctors have been struck off the medical register for illegal prescribing of opium, while a number of traffickers in the drug have been punished. It has been discovered that the illegal traffic, especially in the cities, is quite extensive and highly profitable, inasmuch as opium can be purchased at $6 per ounce and sold as high as $150. Opium under the law can only be legally imported under license, but owing to its small bulk is not difficult to smuggle.

MINNEDOSA MAN ON TRIAL FOR WOUNDING BOYS

Hallowe'en Prank Ends in Shooting — Property Damaged by Gang

Minnedosa, Man., Nov. 3.—Walter F. Grover, a well known citizen, was brought up before Magistrate Logan at the town hall here on a charge of unlawfully wounding, and was committed for trial at the Fall Assizes, which takes place here on Nov. 16 next. The accused is out on bail, $1,500 bond being forthcoming from two well know citizens. It appears that a bunch of lads were up to the usual Hallowe'en tricks, and eventually were going to have some fun with the accused's paint shop on Telson Street, when Grover, who was going home, noticed the bunch near his shop.

He proceeded on his way home, and came back in a few minutes with a shot gun, with the idea, it is thought, of frightening the lads away. It is alleged that he fired one shot in the air, but the lads took no notice. The accused fired in the direction of his paint shop, it is said, and the shot scattered and hit about six boys.

Clement Spackman, one of the boys, had about 14 pellets in his neck. The others were hit in the hands and body, but not seriously hurt. Inspector Morris, of the Provincial Police, was notified of the shooting, and upon investigation, arrested the accused in the Methodist church, which is opposite his paint shop, where, it is alleged, he was hiding. After the shooting the gang of lads increased, and considerable damage was done to his property. The accused is suing the town for damages.

If you would discover a woman's weakness keep quiet and listen.

GRAIN GROWERS DROP RESOLUTION POLITICAL ACTION

Resolution Favoring Political Action in Saskatchewan Was Withdrawn

Prince Albert, Sask., Nov. 5—A protracted discussion as to whether the Grain Growers of Saskatchewan should enter the political field in that province was precipitated when the convention of District 12 met.

In the discussion on the resolution for entry into provincial politics there appeared to be a good deal of difference of opinion, though the sentiment seemed to be about evenly divided.

Musselman Opposes Resolution

L. B. Musselman, General Secretary made a vigorous speech against the proposal of entering the provincial field. He suggested that the resolution be dropped.

Eventually the resolution favoring the entry into provincial politics was withdrawn and one substituted condemning the provincial executive for failure to draw up a provincial platform in accordance with instructions at the annual meeting, was carried by a large majority.

A resolution advocating that divisions be created throughout the Dominion, from which senatorial appointments must be made, was carried unanimously after considerable discussion.

A resolution was also passed demanding the reinstatement of the wheat board under the direction of the old chairman and vice-chairman.

Crerar on U. S. Election Results

Prince Albert, Sask., Nov. 5.—"Tariff questions did not come strongly into the presidential elections in the United tStates, therefore it is very difficult to say what effect the result of the election will have with respect to Canada's dealing with the States," said Hon. T. A. Crerar on his arrival here. "The election was fought on Americanism, Wilsonism and the League of Nations, and it is impossible to state just now how Canada will be affected."

How reciprocity would be affected; whether it woud be revived and the views of the new administration in the United States on the matter, Mr. Crerar would express no opinion at this time. He believed the United States would enter the League of Nations with reservations, but whether the League would accept the reservations was another matter.

Speaking to the Grain Growers' convention Mr. Crerar affirmed his faith in the Hudsons Bay railway. "I have been referred to as leader of a political party," said Mr. Crerar, who went on to state that leadership did not signify much in these days, especially in a co-operative party. He declared every effort should be made to develop the natural resources provincially.

UNION MEN SUPPORT LABOR'S SCHEME FOR ESTABLISHMENT BANKS

Winnipeg, Nov. 5.—Labor's recent scheme of establishing its own banks has met with enthusiastic support on the part of union men, according to Harry Kempster, local business agent of the machinists, whose international organization was the first to establish a bank of this nature.

Since the opening of the Mt. Vernon Savings bank at the headquarters of the grand lodge of the machinists in Washington, D.C., last April, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers have also established a bank in the States. Kempster said that the Machinists' bank had grown rapidly until now it was in a flourishing financial condition. It had also purchased a controlling interest in another old established bank.

Up to the present no similar banks have been opened on this side of the line but an expansion of this latest move on labor's part is planned.

404 SEATS IN THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE ASSURED HARDING

New United States Senate to Be Composed of 59 Republicans and 37 Democrats

NOTABLE VICTORY

Republicans Have Greatest Plurality Ever in House of Representatives

New York, N.Y., Nov. 5.—With the size of President-elect Hardings electoral vote virtually settled at 404 out of a possible 531, and the complexion of the new Senate set down as 59 Republicans and 37 Democrats, the Republican leaders today awaited belated returns on eight contests in six states to fix the exact size of the Republican House majority.

Exclusive of eight undetermined seats in the lower House, the Republicans had 284 members, to 137 Democrats, and four of other designations, a plurality of 149—the greatest ever had by any party in the House. The Republicans appeared to be assured of a better than even break on the eight outstanding seats.

Yesterday's count in Oklahoma assured the nations new women voters of one representative in the lower house—Miss Alice Robertson of Muskogee, farmer and restaurant owner.

SINN FEIN HOPES CRUSHED BY U. S. VOTE FOR HARDING

Declares Irish Minister Sent to Tell Ulster's Story to American People

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 5.—Sinn Fein hopes have been crushed with the overwhelming defeat of James M. Cox, in the American Presidential elections," said Rev. David Dempster, who arrived at Toronto yesterday. The Irish minister has a commission from the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Ireland, to tell Ulster's story to the American people.

Mr. Dempster prophesied that the end of Ireland's woes is now in sight, the people of the United States having served notice on the agitators that they do not want to meddle in an affair that is Britain's own business.

MENNONITES OBEY SCHOOL LAWS IN PROVINCE; SEND CHILDREN TO SCHOOL

Winnipeg, Nov. 5.—Mennonites are observing the school laws of the province better than at any time in the past, E. H. Dewart, School Attendance Officer, has announced. He has just returned from the Kronsweide school district in Rhineland municipality, where he found practically every family in the district sending their children to school. Early in the season the families living there refused to obey the law.

Conditions have improved to such an extent during the past three weeks that the department of education is withholding proposed action which was to be taken against some 100 families who refused to send their children to public schools.

FAMOUS JUVENILE JUDGE ONLY DEMOCRAT ELECTED IN ALL DENVER COUNTY

Denver, Colo., Nov. 5.—The only Democratic candidate in Denver county to withstand the Republican landslide was Judge Ben B. Lindsay, who was re-elected juvenile judge over his Republican opponent, Charles W. Varnum. Lindsay's lead over Varnum was 21,000 votes.

Judge Lindsay is nationally known as a juvenile court justice and his court has been used as a model for juvenile courts established throughout the United States. Lindsay is the only Democrat in the State who was chosen for an office of any importance.

WATER LOW IN RIVER

Last year at this time it was necessary for some of the staff at the pumping station to work nights clearing the snow and ice from the intake.

REPUBLICANS WIN SWEEPING VICTORY AT U.S. POLLS: ELECT PRESIDENT, CONTROL CONGRESS

In Absence of Official Figures, Senator Harding Seems Assured of 319 Votes in the Electoral College, 127 for Cox and 75 Doubtful—266 Votes Elects President So That if Cox Wins All Doubtful States He Can Not Be Elected—Republicans Control Congress—Democrats Lose Governors, State Legislatures and Other State and Local Candidates

New York, Nov. 3.—One of the most sweeping Republican victories in history stood recorded today for Senator Harding for President and a Republican Congress, the pluralities being tremendous and unparalleled. With the Presidency and the Congress went the loss to the Democrats of Governors, State Legislatures, and other State and local condidates.

In the absence of final figures, Harding seems assured of 329 votes in the Electoral College as against 127 for Cox, with 75 doubtful votes. The Republican Congressional swing was as strong, with increased majorities in both Senate and House being market up.

The States for Harding

With but few final or official returns, the indications are certain for the following votes in the Electoral College for Harding: California 13; Colorado 6; Connecticut 7; Delaware 3; Illinois 29; Indiana 15; Iowa 13; Kansas 10; Maine 6; Massachusetts 18 ;Michigan 15; Minnesota 12; Nebraska 8; New Hampshire 4; New Jersey 14; New York 45;; Ohio 24; Oregon 5; Pennsylvania 38; Rhode Island 5; Utah 4; Vermont 4; Washington 7; West Virginia 8; Wisconsin 13; Wyoming 3; Total 329.

Cox Coins 11 States

Cox has the following safe States: Alabama 12; Arkansas 9; Florida 6; Georgia 14; Kentucky 13; Louisiana 10; Mississipi 10; North Carolina 12; South Carolina 9; Texas 20; Virginia 12; total 127, with 75 doubtful owing to the small returns so far.

Returns at Noon Today

New York, Nov. 3.—At noon, Eastern time, today the incoming Presidential returns had increased the gain for Harding. It appeared probable that in addition there would be added Idaho, Nevada, Missouri and Maryland. Others listed in the doubtful column showed a growing list to the Republican column.

Republican control of Congress for another two years, with an increased House majority and prospective increase in the Senate, was the major part of the election sweep. A net gain of 25 votes in the House was shown with complete returns from only 17 states, but with most of the Democratic strongholds reporting.

Eight of fifteen republican Senatorial candidates had come in winners today, seven others had substantial leads, while in ten other states all the Republican entrants were reported in the van.

Early Indications of Result

New York, Nov. 3.—The Republican claims that the Harding victory has become a landslide were given support by early returns from Western States. The first returns form Nebraska showed Harding leading Cox 2 to 1. In Wyoming the Republican candidate was leading 3 to 1. In Montana first returns were almost 2 to 1 for Harding.

The first State outside the solid South that gave Cox an early lead was Kentucky, where, with more than one-third of the precincts reported, Cox was leading by 16,000. Scattered returns throughout Delaware indicated a decisive victory for Harding.

James W. Gerard chairman of the Democratic Finance Committee, conceded the election of Harding.

Chairman Will H. Hays, of the Republican National Committee, issued a statement in which he declared: "The returns would seem to indicate an unparalleled majority for the Republican ticket."

Harding carried the city of Atlanta, Ga., and two parishes in the Louisiana sugar belt, both Democratic territories. In the New York senatorial race Senator Wadsworth was leading his Democratic opponent, Lieut.-Governor Walker.

Senators of Brandegee, of Connecticut, and Moses, of New Hampshire, opponents of the League of Nations, both seemed certain of re-election.

West Virginia, on which the Cox managers had been banking, showed a list to the Harding column.

Harding carried all of 22 Ney York State cities that had reported complete returns at that hour. The Republican candidate also carried the home district of Charles F. Murphy, Tammany Hall leader.

Democratic National Chairman Concedes Defeat

New York, Nov. 3.—On the face of returns showing the growing landslide for Harding, Governor Cox's own newspaper, the Dayton Daily News, and Chairman White, of the Democratic National Committee, soon after 11 o'clock tonight, conceeded the election of Senator Harding. Without waiting for returns from the West, which four years awo elected Wilson in the face of pluralities for Hughes throughout the East, the Democratic candidate and his chief manager conceded that "the solemn referendum" which President Wilson declared would decide the League of Nations Question. American voters preferred Harding, who favored "staying out" to Cox who favored "staying in."

A Holiday Spirit

Glasgow, Nov, 3.—Although complete results of today's election question, whether Glasgow will be "dry" or "wet" will not be known until tomorrow noon, temperance forces tonight claim more than half the districts of this city voted against license. The walls of the cities are ablaze with colored posters expounding their claims of the rival parties. Automobiles are crammed with cheering voters and a holiday spirit is in evidence. All districts were visited today by airplanes from which leaflets were thrown. Women were out in force, many voting contrary to their husbands. All sixteen hundred saloons of the city were closed. Good humor prevailed but lively scenes were witnessed in many booths.

ZAYAS APPEARS LIKELY TO BE CHOICE OF CUBANS FOR NEXT PRESIDENT

Havana, Cuba, Nov. 3. — Alfredo Zayas, Coalition candidate for President, has carried five of the six provinces over Jose Miguel Gomez, Liberal, according to the Government Department of Communications. Zayas' lead, based on returns from about a third of the presincts, is estimated at 4,000.

The only official figures made public by the Electoral Board were from the provinces of Orient and Pinar Del Rio, which, virtually complete, give Zayas a majority of 8,416. The Board adjourned after refusing to indicate what the count showed in other provinces.

Incomplete Government figures: Gomez carried Havana by 7,235.

FEW CABINET MINISTERS REMAIN IN OTTAWA

Ottawa, Oct. 3.—With the departure for Geneva on Tuesday of Sir George Foster and Hon. C. J. Doherty, the Canadian administration is left with a bare quorum for Cabinet council. The Premier and Hon. J. A. Calder are touring the West. Sir Henry Drayton and his Tariff Commission have left for the Eastern portion of their inquiry, and there are left at Ottawa Sir James Lougheed, who will be acting premier, and Hon. Messrs. Ballantyne, Blondin, Sifton, Wigmore and McCurdy. Hon. Hugh Guthrie, who was but a fitful visitor at the capital, and who is scarcely yet acquainted with the staff of the Militia Department, of which he is the head, is expected back shortly, but not for long, since he will immediately take part in the Elgin by-election campaign now raging.

DO NOT ADMIT EXISTENCE OF PRICE FIXING

Wholesale Grocers' Association Present Statement of Defence in Toronto

ENDORSE PRICE FIXING

By Manufacturers—Say This is Most Economical Method for Community

Toronto, Nov. 3. — The Wholesale Grocers' Association, of Toronto, has delivered its statement of defence to W. Roebuck, representing the Attorney General. The statement pleads that the Board of Commerce has already decided in their favor and deny all allegations of conspiracy, illegal combination or other wrongful acts, as alleged by the Attorney General's statement of claim. They do not admit the existence of price fixing.

They deny having acted upon any policy of restricting the wholesale grocery trade of the province to those who are in membership of the association, or of fixing any non-competitive prices.

They say that a manufacturer who avails himself of the benefits of their organization, of warehouses and selling staff should not operate unfairly by selling in individual instances to the retail trade or to brokers selling to the trade. They claim the right to protect themselves against manufacturers who would use their organization in part and at the same time in competition with it sell direct to preferred members of the retail trade or brokers.

They endorse price fixing by saying that the principle of having the manufacturer fix the price at which his goods shall be sold and adhere to it is the proper and most economical and desirable method and in the interest of the community.

STRONG BRITISH FEELING AGAINST CATTLE EMBARGO

Disease Among Canadian Cattle is Not the Reason for Embargo

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—Dr. J. H. Grisdale, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, stated Tuesday night that he had read with much interest and with much pleasure an editorial in a Montreal paper Tuesday on the Canadian cattle embargo. He said: "This editorial, summarizes the situation exceedingly wel, and not only epitomizes the history of the embargo, extending as it does over the last thirty years, but it seems to me to put the present status of the affair in a nut-shell, when it declares that it is a case of pure protection not for one class merely, but for one part of one class as against all the rest of the population of the British Isles. This, of course, is quite legitimate, if the British consumer wishes to stand for it, but what does not seem fair to us is for the Secretary of Agriculture to again bring up the accusation of ill-health in Canadian herds, as he does when he states that it is still necessary to maintain this embargo for the protection of the British flocks and herds against insidious diseases that might possibly come from Canada.

Embargo Losing Popularity

"We are quite closely in touch with what is happening on the other side in connection with this embargo and feel that there is a strong sentiment spreading fairly rapidly through the meat consuming class against the importation of Canadian stockers into the British market for fattening on the British pastures or in the British feed yards. Official representations have been under way for some days to the British authorities as it has been felt that the time was opportune for some extra effort in view of the social and economic situations in Great Britain and Ireland, and although practically continuous efforts have been made for the last six years to us to have this most undesirable condition remedied, it was felt that little special effort at this time had much to recommend it."

RIDER LEFT WHEEL AND VANISHED WHEN HE KNOCKED MAN DOWN

While Dave Bancur, of 258 First Street North, was walking home Wednesday night a bicycle and rider suddenly appeared out of the darkness and crashed into him. The collision knocked him to the ground, injuring his chest and cutting two fingers. The young fellow riding the wheel did not stop to ask concerning the damages but disappeared into the night, leaving his wheel behind. Bancur took the wheel and handed it over to the police. The owner of the wheel did not have a light on it, and he will probably be prosecuted. The license number of the wheel was issued to Paul Katchmar.

PRESS DELEGATES TELL OF CANADIAN DESIRE FOR UNBIASED REPORTS

London, Nov. 3. — Much that was complimentary to Canada's hospitality was said at the luncheon Tuesday by the Empire Press Union to Lord Burnham, President Imperial Press conference, which toured Canada recently.

Lord Burnham also said that Canada wanted British news in Canadian papers from the British viewpoint, and that the British wanted almost as much Canadian news in the British press from the Canadian viewpoint.

GOVERNMENT TO GIVE EXHIBITION FINANCIAL HELP

Plan to Guarantee British Empire Exhibition $500,000 in 1923

London, Nov. 3.—When the bill authorizing the Government to guarantee £100,000 towards the expenses of the British Empire Exhibition to be held in 1923 was read a second time in the House of Commons on Tuesday, some opposition was expressed on the ground that the country cannot afford such outlays at the present time, no matter how good the object may be.

Hon. J. A. Clynes, the Labor leader, however, supported the measure because it allowed Parliament the opportunity to do a great amount of good in promoting the internal trade of the Empire. One member asserted that the dominions were not putting up a single penny, asked why England should put up money to develop the trade of the dominions. However, the second reading carried by a vote of 205 to 30.

MOTOR TRUCK CRUSHES HEAD OF CHILD WHO WAS PLAYING UNDERNEATH

Winnipeg, Nov. 3.—Jack, the 5-year-old son of Knud Schioler, contractor and engineer, died from the effects of injuries received when he was crushed beneath an auto truck in the vicinity of his home yesterday afternoon.

The truck, which was one of the J. H. Ashdown Company's, was driven by E. R. Maitland. It had been standing for a short time in the vicinity, and when the driver returned and moved it forward, the child, unknown to him was beneath it, and one of the wheels of the vehicle passed over its head, death being instantaneous. Maitland is held by St. James police pending the official inquiry.

Dr. McConnell, Provincial Coroner, has ordered a post mortem examination, and this was held by Dr. Gordon Bell. An inquest will follow, but the date of the inquiry has not been set.

ELTON VOTERS DEFEAT GOOD ROADS BYLAW

Large Majority Against Building 95 Miles of Road at a Cost of $143,750

CONDITION MONEY MARKET

Given as Reason For Defeat of Project — 339 Voters Went to Polls

The Good Roads by-law voted upon by ratepayers of the Municipality of Elton on Tuesday was defeated by a majority of 227, the vote being 283 no and 56 yes. The weather being favorable, about fifty-five per cent. of the ratepayers visited the polls, a total of 339 votes being cast.

It was proposed to build ninety-five miles of road at a cost of 143,750 and it was upon this that the people voted. The general feeling in the municipality seemed to favor good roads but objection was made to the proposition at the present time owing to the condition of the money market.

The result of the election by wards was as follows: Ward 1, six yes, fifty-nine, no. Ward 2, nine yes, forty-eight, no. Ward 3, eighteen yes, thirty-six, no. Ward 4, three yes, forty-nine, no. Ward 5, seven yes, fifty-four, no. Ward 6, thirteen yes, thirty-seven, no.

During the past Summer the good roads work in Cornwallis Municipality has progressed favorably and the first part of the program of good roads, which will take three years to complete and will cost $100,000 is now well under way. Splendid progress has also been made on the good roads work in Woodnorth Municipality.

Owing to the fact that their assessment was not high enough to allow debentures to be issued to cover the cost—$107,000—of the good roads program planned by the engineer, the good roads work in Whitehead Municipality was postponed until next year, when it is planned to build about ninety-two and a half miles of road. When this is finished the Brandon-Virden highway will be practically completed.

ALBERTA DRYS HAVE A MAJORITY OF 15,000

Edmonton, Alta., Nov. 4.—Estimates based on the official returns in constituencies where the declaration took place Wednesday on the prohibition vote and on the totals already received in the other ridings, where the counts were adjourned, show the majority for the drys in Alberta to be now slightly over 15,000. The figures have been compiled by H. H. Hull, provincial organizer for the dry forces, and he asserts that the full returns will show considerably over 20,000 majority.

REPUBLICANS WILL HAVE GAIN OF 8 SEATS IN SENATE

This May be Further Increased When Final Returns Are in

WILL CONTROL SENATE

Result Gives Republicans Big Majority — Some Doubtful Seats

Washington, Nov. 2.—A net Republican gain of "eight and possibly ten," seats in the senate was claimed late tonight by the Republican senatorial committee on the basis of "early reports" from the senatorial fights. Victories were claimed in South Dakota, Idaho, Maryland, California, Nevada, Oklahoma, Arizona and Colorado.

"Should the actual results bear out the early indications, giving the Republicans a gain of eight seats," said the committee's statement, "they will have at the next session 57 seats to the Democrats' 39, a majority of 18. Should they win all ten seats they will have a majority of 22."

Republicans Will Control

New York, Nov. 2. — The Republicans will control the next senate, according to returns received at midnight. In addition to 34 holdover Republican senators, the Republicans have won 12 seats, giving them a total on returns at this hour of over 46 seats. At the safe time the Democrats had won ten seats in addition to their 28 holdovers—a total of 38.

With twelve seats still undecided, the Republicans required but three more to give them a majority in the senate. Several of the seats yet undecided were considered almost certain for the Republicans.

Republicans Elected

Of the 34 seats balloted on today the Republicans have filled the following: Colorado, S. D. Nicholson; Connecticut, F. B. Brandegee; Illinois, Wm. B. McKinley; Iowa, B. Cummins; Kansas, Charles Curtis; New Hampshire, Geo. N. Moses; New York, J. W. Wadsworth, Jr.; North Dakota, E. F. Ladd; Ohio, Frank B. Willis; Pennsylvania, Boies Penrose; Vermont, O. P. Dillingham; Wisconsin,, I. L. Lenroot.

Democrats Elected

The Democrats have won the following seats: Alabama, Oscar Underwood and [illegible]; Arkansas, T. H. Caraway; Florida, Duncan U. Fletcher; Georgia, Tom E. Watason; Kentucky, J. C. W. Beckham; Louisiana, Edwin Broussard; North Carolina, Lee S. Overman; South Carolina, Ellison D. Smith; Virginia, Carter Glass.

Doubtful States

Seats in the following states were still undecided: Arizona, California, Idaho, Maryland, Indiana, Nevada, Missouri, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah and Washington.

How to Feed Wheat Straw Properly

THE Western farmer is blamed for burning wheat straw. He replies that it does not make good feed. Cattle take indigestion when fed upon it, he says, and even if they get through the winter all right, they have little strength in the spring. They seem to lack stamina, even though looking fairly well when fed on straw alone.

Yet there is good feed in wheat straw. Animals fed regularly on other food will eat it fairly well and thrive on it, for a short time; but they soon tire of it and go back in condition. The reason is very easy to find. It lacks some element.

How to Supply What it Lacks

One of these elements is sugar. All expert feeders know this. Some have used sugar, or molasses, to balance up with and get fair results. But there is danger of giving too much or too little; making the cattle sick, or depending upon too small a proportion.

Now, Big Chief Stock Feed, made in the West, is intended to fill this very want. It gives to the stock the proper proportion of sugar. Just as one gives bread its proper proportion of butter for human food. This sugar is mixed in the Big Chief Feeds in the form of molasses. With this feed you not only add sugar and several other ingredients needed in the food of stock, but you make all the fodder given to the live stock more palatable to them, and far more nourishing. The cattle need a balanced ration to help them digest all the different foods they eat. Otherwise valuable fodder is wasted, even when eaten, because it needs another ingredient to help digest it. Try Big Chief Feeds with this in mind, and you will be surprised by the results.

GERMAN COMMENT

Germans papers rejoice not at the victory won by Harding in the United States Presidential elections, nor yet at the defeat administered Governor Cox, but at the blow administered President Wilson, on whose shoulders the Lokal Anzeiger of Berlin, "lays the blame for our misfortune." The comment entitles the German papers to entrance into the class described as forgetting nothing and learning nothing.

NOT AGAINST GOOD ROADS

The decisive majority vote in Elton Municipality against adoption of the Good Roads program indicates either general dissatisfaction with the program, or unwillingness to incur the expense at the present time.

In either event, the people in that municipality have postponed enjoyment of the benefits to be derived from good roads beyond the time when their neighbors in adjoining municipalities will be in full possession of those undoubted advantages.

Had the vote been postponed for one or two years until such a time as the full benefits to be secured through good roads had been more clearly demonstrated there is no doubt that the unfavorable verdict would not have been recorded.

It would be a great mistake to suppose that the people of Elton Municipality do not want good roads.

ENDOWING MOTHERHOOD

Men have talked, poets have sung, artists have painted, sculptors have glorified in the dignity of motherhood, and let it go at that.

It has remained for New South Wales to create the first "Ministry of Motherhood" in the world. One of the first acts of the newly elected Government was the creation of such a cabinet office, charged with the duty of [illegible] children who are forced to enter industry to make a livelihood.

One of the duties of the new ministry is to administer the law endowing motherhood. New South Wales thinks that if a mother bears a large number of children, she has performed the most valuable service possible to the State, and she is to be compensated by endowment.

Instead of talking about "race suicide" and deploring small families, New South Wales has decided to do something practical about it—if not to make it worth while to raise families, at least not to penalize them.

Definite details of the proposed new law have not been worked out, but it is tentatively proposed that a working man's family having eight children, for instance, would have all but the first two subsidized in the form of an endowment paid to the mother, the money for which purpose is to be obtained from a graduated tax on incomes, to the extent of some $25,000,000 annually.

It is a logical extension of the principle on which the public schools were established—that the community is and should be responsible for the welfare of its children.

REVOLUTION IN RUSSIA

Russian Soviets are said to have discovered plans for a counter revolution. In an effort to render it abortive thousands of persons are being arrested daily, and 3,000 of the former Czar's officers have been interned in Orenburg. Leon Trotzky, Bolsheviki Minister of War and Marine, in a speech in Petrograd, is reported to have said: "I know the danger is coming. I realize the possibility of a severe Winter, but though three-fourths of the population die of hunger and cold, the remainder will survive to carry through to victory world revolution."

The confidence which Trotzky possesses is worthy of a better cause. History has time and again demonstrated the truth of the saying that those who live by the sword, shall perish by the sword and the slumbering nation which threw off the tyranny of the Czars despotic rule, will in time rouse itself and shake off the feeble clutch maintained by Trotzky and his followers. As for Trotzky's faith that though three-fourths of the people in Russia perish of starvation, the survivors will carry through to victory world revolution, it is sheer madness. History shows that when nations are threatened with extinction through famine and because of the mismanagement of their rulers, if a revolt occurs it wipes out authorities first considered responsible and that the pangs of hunger speedily drive other than elemental passions from crazed brains. The lust to kill and destroy is vented on those nearest to hand. Because of this, Trotzky and his small bands of followers should look first to their own safety and leave world revolution to those whose heads are not in imminent danger of being severed from their bodies.

A DIFFICULT PERIOD

A period of readjustment such as that which most industries are now facing is always one of peculiar difficulty, says a Royal Bank Review of business conditions in Canada; other conditions which affect finances and business are dealt with as follows: A fortunate characteristic of the Canadian market is its tendency to move more deliberately than that of the United States, thereby giving the Canadian industries more time and opportunity to prepare themselves for altered conditions. Basically, Canada's commercial position is a sound one and general business is far from being bad. Wholesale and retail trade conditions are less favorable than they were at this date last year, but the money actually realized or expected from large crops is having a beneficial effect. A marked disposition has been noted on the part of purchasers in both the wholesale and retail trades to hold back in expectation of lower prices. Future orders are affected more than purchases for immediate delivery. The latter are good, especially in the West. This is a logical development of the general uncertainty of next year's price level. Taking Canada as a whole, the industries in which special dullness is reported are clothing and boots and shoes. Hardware is the only trade in which increased prices are reported.

The labor situation throughout the Dominion appears, for the most part, to be very much improved. Reports show that labor is more efficient and that the men are more anxious to hold their positions than they have been at any time since Armistice. Some unemployment is anticipated on the Pacific Coast when the laborers return from the Prairie Provinces after the harvesting.

It is reported from all over Canada that the building operations that have been undertaken have been absolutely inadequate. The housing situation is poor; there is the greatest scarcity and rents are high.

[illegible] has been quiet during the Summer, but considerable improvement has taken place recently on account of the movement of grain and consequent demand for cargo space. Several Eastern Canada shipbuilding plants, called into existence by the needs of war, are now idle.

GET AND STUDY FACTS

There is disagreement in some quarters with the practice, now so common, of not holding inquests over the remains of persons who come to an untimely end unless the superficial investigation conducted by the Coroner, indicates foul play, discloses conditions which may be a public menace, or the relatives of the deceased demand a thorough inquiry before a regularly constituted tribunal.

The position taken by the Attorney-General's Department of this and other Canadian provinces, is calculated to discourage the holding of inquests unless there is a specific reason therefor. This position is due undoubtedly to the cost. An inquiry which viewed superficially results in the production of evidence which leads nowhere, or that does not point to specific conditions that should be remedied, apparently is regarded as an unnecessary outlay, and one that is to be avoided. Very often this leads to the slighting of conditions which require to be paraded before the public gaze to awaken an interest that will demand and secure needed betterments.

Take for instance, the death of the man supposed to be Tideman Lium of White Bear, Saskatchewan. Apparently Lium came to his death by his own act. Who was he, or how came he here? Why should he, a man supposed to own land in a far off state come to be in Brandon, penniless and alone? By whom was he put on the train with a ticket for Brandon? Was there any motive in treating him so? Why have his relatives whose address is believed to be known, not claimed the body? Why should he end his life? These queries are not prompted merely by idle curiosity. It is a human life that has been cut off and men are no longer content to shrug their shoulders and dismiss the matter from their minds. From a knowledge of facts which should be unearthed if the death of Lium were probed with an eye to other things besides payment of funeral and other expenses, conclusions might be arrived at which would lead to the saving of other lives.

Possibly the Attorney General's Department, which is no more open to censure than similar departments in practically all Canadian provinces, has arrived at the conclusion that inquests should be discouraged unless likely to reveal some notable circumstances, because nothing was done with the information gleaned in other cases. No study was made of them with a view to inauguration of movements calculated to alter these conditions, and because of this the data obtained was deemed valueless and the expense occurred waste. Is it not possible that valuable information on present day conditions is being lost? It certainly is a fact that failure to hold inquests often results in the loss of data which is of the greatest value to relatives searching for missing members of the family. It is time for a change in policy regarding the placing on record of facts concerning the death of human beings whose identity may be only guessed at under the present system.

SPRACKLIN MOVED TO WINDSOR JAIL

Evidence at Inquest so Far is Contradictory—Widow Claims Husband Unarmed

Windsor, Ont., Nov. 8.—Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin, Methodist minister and prohibition enforcement officer who had been held in jail here since Saturday morning in connection with the shooting to death of Beverly Trumble, an inn-keeper, was moved from here to Chatham Saturday night. The removal was effected quietly and did not become known to others than officers until this evening. This action is said to have followed telephone messages to the jail here that an attempt at violence was contemplated by certain friends of the slain man.

Removal of Spracklin will not prevent resumption of the inquest tonight.

"'Babe' Trumble pressed his gun against the pit of my stomach. 'Godamn you Spracklin,' he said, 'I'm going to shoot you.' I knew then that it was his life or mine," was the dramatic testimony simply given by Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin, special license inspector, at the inquest.

Widow Says Husband Had No Gun

Trumble's widow gave direct contradictory evidence. "My husband had no gun. He had only a cigarette in his hand when he went out to meet Mr. Spracklin," she swore.

Two witnesses, both Mr. Spracklin's aides, corroborated the pastor. [illegible] Mrs. Trumble's testimony was not corroborated. None of those in the hotel before the shooting saw Trumble with a gun. They did not see the shooting.

Every one of the crowd which filled the court room to a capacity was "frisked" upon entering, for a possible concealed weapon.

Coroner Labelle adjourned the inquiry until tonight in order to secure the testimony of E. Smith, in whose arms Trumble died. Smith was absent Saturday night, owing to a misunderstanding about the time.

Widow's Testimony

Mrs. Trumble, the first witness, said her husband was in her room, where she was ill, when the knock came to the door in the adjoining room. She followed her husband out and saw Mr. Spracklin standing in the doorway.

"My husband asked, 'What is the idea?' Mr. Spracklin replied, 'We are officers, and want to go through the house.'"

"Beverley said. "Then why the guns; you never were refused admittance? Who are these other men, and how did they get [illegible]? Mr. Spracklin replied that they were his men. Beverley asked if the men had badges to show that they were officers. My husband then walked toward Spracklin. I heard the report of a gun right after, and that is the last I remember, except that Beverley said: 'You dog, you've shot me.'"

Continuing, Mrs. Trumble said that Spracklin stood as if he didn't realize what had happened, then turned and went out. She said her husband died in about 15 minutes.

Must Resign Pastorate

Congregations of all Methodist churches in the border municipalities passed resolutions pledging financial support for Spracklin's defense. Whatever may be the outcome of the case, it is practically certain, church officials said, Spracklin will have to resign his charge at Sandwick.

It is one of the rules of all churches, they explained, that a pastor who has taken a life, whether in self-defense or not, cannot again occupy a pulpit.

WOMAN JUMPS FROM SECOND STORY WINDOW, CAUGHT BY POLICEMAN

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 8.—Mrs. Cicolini, of Centre Avenue, of this city, quarrelled with her husband Saturday night and leaped out of the second storey window of her home. Police Constable Byrt was passing at the time and saw the woman just before she jumped, and caught her in his arms. She was uninjured.

GREAT INTEREST IN CONVENTION UNITED FARMERS

250 Delegates Attend Gathering in Virden — Court House Too Small

MANY RESOLUTIONS

Dealing With United Farmers' Plans For Political Action—Want Advisory Board

About 250 delegates attended the annual convention of the Brandon District United Farmers of Manitoba held in Virden on Friday. So great was the crowd that the court house, where the morning meeting was held, proved too small and it was necessary to adjourn to the auditorium of the Presbyterian Church on the afternoon and evening meetings. Mr. J. M. Allan, President of the Brandon District U.F.M., presided, and in a short address at the morning session reviewed the year's activities and urged upon those present the necessity for electing the best they could get for their officers. Rev. R. Feir led the devotional exercises which opened the morning session. Much of the time of the delegates was taken up with routine business during the morning. At the afternoon sesion the following officers were elected for the ensuing year. President, J. M. Allan; Vice President, R. Forke, Pipestone; Secretary, J. G. Lothian, Pipestone; District Director, J. G. Rathwell, Bereaford; Director for Women's Section, Mrs. Gee, Virden; Directors, J. H. McKee, Little Souris; Mrs. W. Hill, Woodnorth, and Mrs. J. S. Lowes, Little Souris.

Following the annual reports from the various locals in Brandon district, an address on "The Efficiency of Locals" was given by D. G. McKenzie, Vice-President of the U.F.M. of Manitoba. Mr. McKenzie reviewed briefly the work of the locals and pointed out where some were more efficient than others, and emphasized the need for efficiency in all locals.

A report of the work accomplished by the Campaign Committee was given by Mr. J. H. McKee, Little Souris, and Mr. W. R. Wood, Provincial Secretary of the U.F.M., delivered a short address outlining the year's work in the province.

Important Resolutions

Among the resolutions of importance passed at this session are the following:

"Whereas the Government and the Liberal party have a thoroughly organized and co-ordinated machine for the whole Dominion, so that in case of an election being participated they could present a solid front with a duly appointed leader; and whereas we, the United Farmers, have no Dominion-wide organization with which to meet such a contingency, be it resolved that we, the United Farmers of Brandon Federal district, place ourselves on record as favoring the creation of some such body as an Advisory Board, without administrative power, for the purpose of co-ordinating the work of all the provinces of all political lines."

"That we, the United Farmers of the Brandon Federal district endorse the action by the Canadian Council of Agriculture in investigating the possibility of co-operative marketing of wheat under the pooling system."

Selection of Delegates

"That the delegates to the Nominating Convention be on the basis of one to ten or fraction thereof of the membership of each U.F.M. local, and all citizens, rural and urban, supporting the new National policy without amendment or compromise, who are not members of any U.F.M. local, in the same ratio on the basis of a $2.50 minimum contribution to the campaign fund, no individual to be given more than one vote, in the selection of delegates, however large his subscription.

Procedure at Convention

"That at the Nominating Convention the first ballot be a nominating ballot and the one receiving the latest number of votes be dropped from the list on the third ballot, and the lowest one dropped after each ballot taken thereafter.

"That the delegates to the Nominating Convention must present credentials signed by the President and Secretary of their local, and in the case of urbun centres like Brandon or rural residents not members of any U.F.M. local, by the Chairman and Secretary of the meeting called to appoint delegates to the Nominating Convention."

Suggests Wheat Marketing Plan

The evening session of the convention opened with community singing which was followed by a solo given by Miss Craig, of Virden. One of the principal speakers of the evening was J. R. Murray, Assistant Manager of the United Grain Growers, who outlined a scheme for the marketing of wheat somewhat similar to that plan used by the California Orange Association.

This address was followed by selections by the Virden Juvenile Orchestra.

Other speakers of the evening session were Miss Mary P. McCallum who, in a forceful manner, outlined the political situation as it stands today; and Mr. L. W. Donley, Chairman of the Tax Commission. Much to their regret many of the delegates of Brandon district could not remain for the latter's address as they had to board the train for home. However, the delegates from Virden and district remained and enjoyed the interesting address given by Mr. Donley.

Halifax, N.S., Nov. 8.—The Tariff Commission spent a busy morning here getting the views of Nova Scotians on the question of "protection." Representatives of the manufactures and fishing interests, farmers and retail and wholesale merchants presented their cases. "The best interests of Canadian consumers as well as those of the fishermen will be served by a continuance of the present duty on fresh fish. It will enable us to develop plans for marketing, so as to make fresh fish available at reasonable prices to practically all the communities in Canada," declared A. Brittain of Montreal, vice-president and general manager of the Maritime Fish Corporation, in presenting the case of the fishing interests.

DAMNABLE CONDITIONS IN JAILS IN ONTARIO

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 8.—"Conditions in Ontario jails are damnable," according to an interview in the Toronto Star Weekly with Norman Somerville, member of the Ontario Public Service Commission which heard evidence last week to the effect that many jails were very ancient and conditions had not been changed in fifty years.

"In the city of Hamilton can be found conditions that might be deemed more likely to be found in Russia," Somerville is credited with saying. "Lunatics who are so violent that they batter their heads against the walls are kept in jail there along with all kinds of other prisoners."

TWO CIVILIANS SHOT

Dublin, Nov. 8.—An attack by a mob on two policemen on Saturday night culminated in the shooting of two civilians, one of them seriously. The affray caused a great panic, as crowds of people were just leaving the theatres.

TO ESTABLISH AN AIRIAL ROUTE TO OIL FIELDS

Distance to Be Covered is Over 900 Miles—Would Take Three Days

EXPECT GREAT RUSH

To Oil Fields in Spring—Many Hardships Confront Oil Seekers

Edmonton, Alta, Nov. 8.—The establishemtn of an airial route from Edmonton to the oil fields of Fort Norman on the Mackenzie River is the latest talked of development in connection with the pressing transportation problem existing as a result of the Fort Norman point being so far removed from the business centres of Alberta. Edmonton aviators are entering into negotiations for such a service with a zest indicating that as little time as possible will be wasted.

The proposal is a big one in that in the preliminary arrangements it calls for the establishment of landing stages at intervals along the line route and the transportation, in the first instance, before flying, of gasoline and other essentials for the successful operation of flying machines. The distance to Fort Norman from here is about 900 miles, as the crow flies. The span is not a great one, as applied to flying distances, and three or four days at the most would be sufficient to accomplish the distance when once a relay service of planes is established.

The whole idea is looked upon with favor, and while its introduction might not become an accomplished fact until the Spring of 1921, anticipations can be held that such a service will become actual with the Spring of next year.

As it has become an absolute necessity to provide a swift means of communication between the outposts of the far North and their supply bases in Edmonton, an effort to have wireless stations established in at least nine important points is being made by H. G. Mackie, M.P. The stations would be established at McMurray, Peace River, Chipewyan, Fort Vermilion, Hay River, Fort Smith, Simpson, Resolution and Norman.

Captain C. Smith, skipper of the Lady Macworth, one of the Lamson-Hubbard steamers which for the past season has plied the waters of the Mackenzie, [illegible] that a route to the oil fields of Klondyke is looked for. "But people cannot go too well prepared, they cannot weigh the hardships of the trip too much, otherwise we shall have a trail of graves like that which came into being during the clamorous time of '98," Capt. Smith said. He looks for an exceptional rush to the oil country during the Spring and when river navigation is again resumed.

A warning to those anticipating a trip during the Winter months is issued by Capt. Smith, who stated that food is scarce in the far North country. He declares that unless they are thoroughly equipped with supplies and provisions they cannot for a moment hope to make the trip from the end of the steel. It is a long distance, more than a thousand miles, and calls for the greatest of preparation. Dog teams are also difficult to obtain.

BIG CUT IN PRICE OF TEA ANNOUNCED BY BIG FIRM IN TORONTO

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 8.—A prominent Canadian tea firm with headquarters here, has announced a cut of from 70c to 55c per pound retail for one of the popular varieties of tea. It is stated that other tea concerns probably will follow suit.

It is explained here that there is a glut on the British and Canadian tea markets owing to the fact that British merchants have been unable to get their long-hoarded stocks in on the Russian markets.

Laughton has made it easy for men to buy good clothes

No longer need men, who have been forced away from custom tailoring by the rapidly rising cost of hand tailored garments, hesitate about going to Laughton's for fear they will not get away without spending at least one hundred dollars.

The new Laughton plan of tailoring-to-measure makes it possible to purchase a good suit for as low as $45.00—backed by the Laughton 35-year guarantee of absolute satisfaction.

For many, many months we have been looking about the country, investigating here and investigating there, in an endeavor to establish a connection with a high-grade special order clothing house that would undertake to give us the same honest and capable service on special orders that we ourselves have given our customers all through our 35 years' business dealings, the idea being to sell "over the counter" individually tailored-to-measure garments at a quantity production clothing at modest prices.

And we have been fortunate enough to secure the close co-operation of two of Eastern Canada's best tailoring shops to execute special orders for us, and can now offer to the men of Western Manitoba reliable prices.

We shall be pleased to talk the matter of your new Winter suit over with you, and offer you the same absolute guarantee of satisfaction that has always characterized Laughton dealings.

ROOT IS NAMED FOR IMPORTANT STATE POSITION

Indicating That Republicans Favor Some Sort of League —Borah's Opposition

Washington, Nov. 6. — The apparently well-founded report that Elihu Root is to be the Republican Secretary of State, was accepted here as indicating that Republicans who favor "some sort of a league of nations" at present have the upper hand in formation of the administration of President-elect Harding.

In addition to the proposed appointment of Root, who recently returned from helping frame a world court as provided in the league covenant, there came reports from Marion that Harding will summon a bi-partisan conference to discuss his proposed association of nations.

The intimation of these proposed move on the part of the Republican administration has caused Senator Borah, league irreconcilable, to issue a statement declaring the overwhelming Harding majority was a clear indication of the people's decision against any league and that America must not be dragged in "by the back door."

B. C. REFERENDUM PRESENTS TANGLE IN LEGISLATION

Government Cannot Exclusively Control Sale of Intoxicating Liquors

Ottawa, Nov. 4.—According to official opinion here, the province of British Columbia is in a somewhat interesting tangle with regard to its recent liquor referendum. The result of that referendum, which was purely Provincial and not Federal in character, was to substitute for the existing Provincial Prohibition Act, government control of the sale of intoxicating liquors. It is now for the government of the province to introduce legislation implementing the people's will. The trouble is that under the present conditions there can be no monopoly of government control in the province.

The referendum recently taken does not prohibit the importation of liquor into the province by individuals for their own use, and it is not in the power of the Provincial Government to prohibit importation. It was exactly for that reason that the Federal parliament amended the Scott Act to provide for Federal plebiscites, such as were held in the three prairie provinces and Nova Scotia recently. Now Premier Oliver wants the Provincial Government to have the sole right of importing liquor into the province for medicinal, sacramental, and all other purposes. This monopoly, it is stated here, cannot be granted by the Federal authorities under existing federal legislation, and it may safely be predicted that no further legislation along that line will be forthcoming at the pending session.

The only way to restrict imports is by the same means as were adopted by the four provinces above mentioned, and if such a plebiscite carried, not even the Provincial Government could import, save for medicinal and sacramental purposes, and Government control, as approved by the recent referendum, would be but an empty phrase.

SUPPLY OF COARSE GRAIN IN UNITED STATES MUCH LARGER THAN IN 1919

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Estimates that the supply of coarse grain in the United States is 23 per cent. larger than last year, with farm animals three per cent. less numerous, did much today to lower cereal prices. Wheat closed unsettled at 2½ to 3¾ cents net decline, corn off 1⅜ to 2¾ cents and oats down ⅝c to ¾c. In provisions, the outcome varied from a setback of 50c to a 10c advance.

NEW YORK WORLD AGAINST EMBARGO CANADIAN WHEAT

As a Means of Increasing the Price of U. S. Wheat—Outspoken Comment

New York, Nov. 4. — A movement on foot in the United States to have an embargo placed on Canadian wheat imports as a medium of increasing the domestic price of wheat, received adverse comment in the World this morning. That newspaper says: "It must be assumed that in appealing to Washington for an embargo on imports of wheat from Canada, the Chicago Board of Trade is animated by the purely altruistic purpose of helping the growers of Kansas and round about to corner wheat and boost the farm price and profit, rather than of helping itself to an old-time corner for the benefit of its own crowd. Such an embargo can have no more effect in raising the Kansas or Chicago price of wheat than the damming up of Bering Strait could raise or lower the depth of the Arctic or Pacific ocean."

Practically a complete slate was nominated for the coming civic election, including candidates both for the aldermanic vacancies and memberships of the school board.

WANTS CONTROL OR WILL RESIGN

Temperance Official Does Not Want Divided Authority—Farmers in Liquor Traffic

Toronto, Nov. 4. — Both Chief License Inspector Mousseau, of Windsor, and Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin, of Sandwich, special license inspector, appeared Wednesday afternoon before the special committee of the legislature, which is investigating the work of the Ontario Temperance Act. Inspector Mousseau complained of divided authority between Mr. Spracklin and himself, and stated that if he were not placed in full control he would resign. Mr. Spracklin declared that he did not want the "miserable job," even at $10,000 a year, unless he had the entire confidence of those in authority over him.

Chief Inspector Mousseau admitted that conditions had improved since Mr. Spracklin was appointed inspector. He said he was surprised and shocked at the large number of farmers engaged in illegal liquor traffic.

Mrs. Biesen is held on a statutory charge.

PLEA FOR UNITY ON PART OF OPPONENTS OF PRESENT GOVERNMENT

So They May Win Victory When an Appeal is Made to the Electorate, Plea by Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Leader of the Liberal Party at a Meeting in the City Hall, Friday Night—Dr. Beland Delivers Message of Good Will From Quebec—Hon. Wm. Duff, Financial Critic of the Government

A bitter attack on the present Government, its method of holding office, and the setting forth of some of the planks in the Liberal party's platform featured the address of the Hon. Mackenzie King, leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons, who spoke here Friday evening. A crowded City Hall greeted Mr. King's first appearance in Brandon and that he made a good impression was evident from the enthusiastic reception given him at the conclusion of his speech. Time did not permit of the Liberal leader enlarging on or delving deeply into many questions of the hour, but he gave clear, concise statements in a pleasing manner, that earned for him marked attention.

The Hon. Mackenzie King was only one of the speakers of the evening, the Hon. Dr. H. S. Beland, member for Beauce, Que., getting a splendid hearing, as well as Hon. Wm. Duff. Dr. Beland was the former Postmaster-General but during the war was held captive in Germany for a period of three years. His address was featured by emphatic denunciations of the present government and the dissatisfaction the present party in power is causing across the Dominion. Dr. Beland's remarks were greeted with considerable applause and he made a favorable impression on his second appearance on the political platform in Manitoba. The Hon. William Duff, member for Lunenburg, N.S., was the first speaker on the program and he derided the attempt of the present Government to claim all the honor for work of the Union Government, when so many of the then members of the Government had since resigned.

There were no local speakers on the program, and the meeting started promptly on time, with the City Hall packed to capacity. Mr. A. E. Hill acted as chairman for the meeting and his remarks were confined solely to introducing the speakers. The audience was mosly interested in the appearance of the young leader of the Opposition party at Ottawa. There was very little applause during the Liberal leader's speech for the simple reason that he did not pause, but took advantage of every minute at his disposal to place the issues, as seen through Liberal party spectacles, before Brandon people.

Words of Appreciation

Before launching into the main issues the Hon. Mackenzie King stated that he was now at the end of a six weeks' tour of Western Canada and that his address Friday evening was the last evening speech on his tour. He gave some words of appreciation to his colleagues for their assistance in the tour, and said that if there was any success achieved by the tour the credit is coming to his colleagues. The Opposition leader declared that during his Western tour he had not had one unkind word spoken against him, which fact only had one meaning, and that was that the people of Western Canada were thinking along the very same lines as himself. He also took occasion to thank Mayor Dinsdale, Dr. H. P. Whidden, M.P., and others for the hearty reception given the party on arrival in the city.

"We have come here on serious business," said Mr. King. There should be large gatherings of the public to hear public men speak on public questions. The speaker said that it was about ten years since there had been a full discussion on public affairs, as in 1917 the people had only been looking towards the success of the war. Now the people are anxious to know whom to support. It is inevitable that there is unsettled public opinion at the present time, Mr. King declared, for this practically is a new electorate. In the first place there are the young men of ten years ago who are now coming forward to take their stand on public questions, the men who fought overseas and are back in Canada, and the women. "One can see how important it is that everyone should have a clear conception of public affairs."

Difference Between Parties

The main object at present, he stated, is to present the differences between the parties today so that the people can make up their minds where their choice lies. Mr. King mentioned the farmers and the working men as the new classes or groups springing up to get into the political arena. Some look askance at the new groups, but the Liberal leader said he welcomed the new movements as the determination of the people to share more largely in the affairs of the country. "We have only good to hope for from these expressions from the people," he said.

The Liberal party had held an open convention for those having Liberal views in Ottawa last August, and there the Liberal platform was drawn up and the leader chosen. Two other bodies had also acted along democratic lines in organizing, and in this connection he mentioned the Farmers and the Labor bodies again. They all had a common procedure, but Mr. King contrasted these methods to the ones adopted by the present Government in forming their platform, party, and in choosing their leader. He took up the "closed door" methods of the present Government, and asked if it wasn't something for everyone to think about.

CLOSES WESTERN TOUR

HON. W. L. MACKENZIE KING
Leader of the Liberal party, who practically closed his Western Canada speaking tour in Brandon Friday night.

For Their Own Interests

The Hon. MacKenzie King did not want anyone to think that the present party in power did not have power behind it. It must be powerful to hold the power it does, but it isn't an influence for the people, it's a group out for themselves, who can, by virtue of their privilege, put themselves in power, said the speaker. It is a body that will further their own interests only, and not those of the people.

"When I speak of the big interests, we take exception to the groups which are unwilling to share in the Government of Canada, and it is this invisible government that we have on one side, as opposed to all the people of Canada on the other side. This is the issue in Canada today," declared the Opposition leader. "The present Government has buried the name 'Unionist,' and Meighen and his followers have sought out a new name. This group won't be either Nationalist, Liberal or Conservative, but must be all three at the same time. On one side we have the progresive forces, and on the other side the present Government. In other words it is the representatives of the many against the influence of the few.

Real Issue of Today

"The real issue today is the big interests vs. the classes that represent the masses of the people," stated the Hon. MacKenzie King. The parties against the present Government are not united, and this is the strength of the present party in power. "I have no opposition to any group in Canada, but I come here to state that I am standing for a party of progress, which will influence and add strength to any body for progress. The time has come when those standing for progress should co-operate, so that when the fight does come, we can stand united against the big interests."

Autocrats Seek to Divide Opposition

The forces that seek domination and want to exclude the people are using the same methods that they have used for years. The autocrats say "rule and divide," and they have been trying to divide the forces pitted against them. However, Mr. King urged the various parties to get together and see that the forces of reaction are not permitted to continue their rule. The desire for a representative parliament and a leader is a national one, and those who supported the present Government during the war, did so on the distinct understanding that it was only for the duration of the war. The present parliament is in no sense representative now, and he mentioned the retirement of Mr. Crerar, in particular, from the Union Government.

A Union of Lawyers

Referring to group rule, Mr. King said that the present Government had had a union rule alright, a union of lawyers. He said that he would much sooner see the country run by a group of farmers, if it had to be run that way, than a group of lawyers. Mr. King declared that he was not against the lawyers, as he realized that Parliament would always require the ablest legal minds, but that there is a difference between the monopoly of a class and the representation of the majority. There are superior advantages in a great national party. The danger of group government is the danger to themselves, the Liberal leader said.

Duty of Government

"The greatest problem today is the cost of living, and there is not a person in Canada today who is not affected by it," stated the speaker. The duty of the Government is to seek some solution for the high cost of living, but up until the present time they have done nothing. Three great policies have been outlined in the Liberal platform, and briefly Mr. King outlined them as (1) retrenchment of public expenditures, (2) a revision of the tariff downwards and (3) the elimination of profiteering.

Dealing with the first policy, the Opposition leader told of the immense amount of money Canada had to pay each year as interest on its national debt, of the huge expenditures that arose out of the war and have to be met, and the expense of carrying on the Government of the country. The only solution, said Mr. King, to a more economical method of handling the finances of the country is in a complete change of administration. Until we get parliament representative of the people we will never get anywhere.

Liberal Tariff Policy

With regard to the tariff, the speaker said that the Liberals had laid down their policy in their platform of last August and by that policy the Liberal party would stand or fall. He then read the tariff policy of the party showing the revision to be sought, and said that it was a tariff in the interests of both the producers and the consumers. The purpose of the custom duties was for the purpose of revenue only, and the Liberals naturally seek freer trade. The point is that the necessities of life should be as free as possible so that the masses of the people can get as great quantities as they want. The cost of living can only be reduced by increased production. The war has destroyed wealth, and now we must make more wealth.

In speaking of the efforts of the Western people to get the wealth out of the land, Mr. King said he firmly believed that the instruments to dig this wealth out of the land, should not be taxed. It is merely a national interest that they should not be, he declared. Speaking of the efforts of the Liberal party to reduce the duties on the necessaries of life by a resolution, Mr. King asked the people of Western Canada not to blame the Liberals for the failure of that resolution to pass the House, as it was the Western members who had really defeated the measure in the first place, although the Farmers in the Govenment also had a hand in the measure's defeat.

Government Ownership

Speaking of the increased railway rates, Mr. King said that the real merits of Government ownership were that it did away with private profits on private capital, and that it had control of the policy. Neither of these merits were apparent in the move of the present Government in taking over the Canadian National Railways. Mr. King stated that the act under which the railways were taken over provides that the people may at the end of twenty years buy the railroad outright, and that the shareholders of the Company are being paid a higher rate of interest today than they would have been drawing had the road continued operating without Government ownership. Also the policy of the railways was not in the Government but in a small group of friends of prominent members. The high rate being paid to the shareholders was responsible for the increased railway rates, the big interests had to be paid.

Control of Natural Resources

That the Liberal party if returned to power would see that the Western provinces secured control of their natural resources on "just and equitable terms" to the rest of the Provinces, was the pledge given by the Hon. Mackenzie King.

"The work of the Government today is for social brotherhood, the essential feature of today being human life and human being. I welcome women into public life for it means that public discussions will now invade the homes, and in the last analysis the home is the sanctity of the nation. In the home it is the human well being that we consider, and not wealth. Today we are seeking a greater economic freedom, and we must all join in the forward movement. We made the pledge to the men that are gone, that the work will be carried on. It is for us to extend the bounds of freedom, and that is the only monument that is worthy to raise to the memory of the immortal dead," concluded the Hon. Mackenzie King. A great outburst of cheering greeted these final remarks, and three cheers were given for the Liberal leader.

SUPPORTS LIBERAL LEADER

HON. H. S. BELAND, M.P.
Member of Laurier Government and former Prisoner of war in Germany, commends Mackenzie King to Western Audiences.

Duff as Government Critic

William Duff the member for Lunenburg, Nova Scotia was the first speaker of the evening. He dealt very trenchantly with the present conditions at Ottawa pointing out that the present aggregation in power did not represent the people and claimed that they were usurping the functions of responsible government. Referring to the fact that Mr. Meighen in one of his speeches claimed the credit for anything the Union Government might have done from 1917 to July 1, 1920, while in another speech he (Mr. Meighen) argued that it was an entirely new party with a new name that had been brought into existence, Mr. Duff claimed that any Legislation introduced by Mr. Meighen for which he might claim credit, was the act imposing the closure on parliamentary debates, the vicious War Times Elections Act and the Grand Trunk deal, measures which the speaker characterized as not in the interests of the returned soldiers for which Mr. Meighen claimed credit was as much the work of the Liberal members of parliament as it was the work of the Government members. "From the time the first war parliament," said Mr. Duff, "Sir Wilfrid Laurier on behalf of the Liberal party pledged its support for every measure necessary for the successful carrying on of the war and the Liberal members sitting on committees which dealt with problems concerning the soldiers suggested and had adopted schemes respecting pensions and soldiers' settlement which were in the best interests of the returned men. "Thus" the speaker pointed out, "Mr. Meighen and his rump of a Unionist Government, cannot claim much credit for these things as Messrs. MacLean, Carvell, Mewburn, Crerar and the others who resigned from the Union Government are certainly entitled to their full share of whatever credit is due."

An Autocratic Government

Mr. Duff dealt with Mr. Meighen's eulogy of the existing government stating that it was an autocratic and not a representative government. He dealt with the Greek and Roumanian loans, the war purchasing board, the acceptance of obsolete war vessels from the British Government and the giving of contracts amounting to seventy million dollars for the Canadian Mercantile Marine all of which was done by order in council and in three instances while parliament was in session.

The people of this country, said the speaker, were looking for men who were sincere, free and independent. Serious men and women were taking a greater interest today in Federal politics and after several weeks spent in touring the West with Mr. Mackenzie King he had no hesitation in saying that the people were going to stand by Mr. King when the next election came.

A Message of Good Will

In his opening remarks Dr. H. S. Beland, M.P. for Beauce, Que., said he came from the East, but he did not come as "a wise man." It had been his pleasure before to visit Western Canada, and he was struck by the great family of peoples in Canada. "I come to you from the Province of Quebec bringing a message of good will from the people of that province," said the speaker. He told briefly of his stay in Germany as a prisoner of war, and of the great feeling of liberty which swept over him when he became a free man again.

On his return he found Canada in the throes of discontent, but instead of throwing his lot into the political arena he went on a tour on behalf of his people to promote a spirit of good feeling for them. "The time has come, however, when I must come into the political field," he said.

"Is there anything lacking in Canada today? The main cause of discontent is the disregard of public opinion by the reigning powers. I am not a strict partisan, but I come to pay a tribute to the brilliant Liberal leader, Mr. Mackenzie King," said Dr. Beland.

Mr. King was not annoying to his opponents at first, said the speaker, but he declared that gradually a strong feeling was manifested against him because he is now dangerous to his opponents.

A Plea For an Election

"Do you find any resemblance between the administration of 1917 and the administration of today? No, of course not," he replied. The prominent members, naming Crerar, MacLean, Rowell, Mewburn and White, had disappeared from the government of 1917. The mandate of 1917 was a war mandate only, and the Government should have ceased with the conclusion of the war.

Dr. Beland thought it was a political crime the way the present Premier was chosen. He read a resolution submitted by the Liberal leader asking for an appeal to the people at the polls when it was announced that Sir Robert Borden would retire. However, Mr. Meighen and his friends had voted down the resolution by a majority of 34. The prisoners of war in Germany did not have a chance to express their opinion on the issues in 1917, and Dr. Beland thought that the Canadian people now deserved a general election for a good many reasons.

Causes of Dissatisfaction

Dissatisfaction is still prevalent in Canada. Two years after war the war debt still continues to pile up. Dr. Beland said thirty-nine million dollars was asked this year to demobilize only a few hundred men. The British military authorities in 1916 condemned the Ross rifle, and six months after being requested to cease manufacturing them the Canadian Government voted $2,600,000 to continue making the rifles. The rest of the war debt was contracted honestly, Dr. Beland said. In Canada it is increasing every year, while in England they had made a payment on their war debt the first year after the war.

He further said that recommendations made by the Cost of Living Commissioner to the Government had not been acted on because the Government said they could not afford to interfere with industries. No wonder the people are dissatisfied, he said.

An Unhappy Remark

Dr. Beland said that Mr. Meighen had an order-in-council passed even after the Government in session had turned it down. The speaker in reference to the remark of Premier Meighen that there are only two classes, the nation builders and the nation wreckers, said it was an unhappy remark by the Premier, for there was no doubt that Mr. Meighen meant that the nation builders were those who were with him, and the nation wreckers those who were against him.

The fiscal policy of the Liberal party is to harmonize and to avoid scandalous riches, and it will assure the business of Canada to be carried on as usual. It will alleviate the burdens of all the people, he said. He believed that the platform adopted will help the farmers, and for this reason he had thrown in his lot with the Liberals. He invited all the various groups to co-operate with them. "If you scratch a National, Conservative or Liberal of this new party," he concluded, "you will find a Tory."

SUGGESTS SENDING ARMY U.S. NEWS WRITERS TO IRELAND

Is New Statesman's Plan — Why Not Ask U.S. to Mind its Own Affairs?

London, Nov. 6.—The New Statesman suggests that the United States press send over an army of the most able and trusted correspondents large enough to cover every county in Ireland. The British Government, says the newspaper, would then be faced with the alternative of either excluding them from Ireland, thereby admitting everything, or else take effective means to secure that they are not touched or threatened. This is suggested in place of sending a Commission of Inquiry to Ireland from Washington.

DRY MAJORITY IN PROVINCE WILL BE AROUND 14,000

From Three Federal Constituencies the Returns Are Not Yet Complete

13 DECLARATIONS MADE

Winnipeg Voters Gave Wet Majority of 6,268, Rural Manitoba "Plumped" Dry

Winipeg, Nov. 6.—The electors of Manitoba of November 25 piled up a huge majority against the importation of liquor into the province. A majority, which it is anticipated will reach the 4,000 mark. Friday, was the day announced by proclamation for the official declarations of the result of the polling of the fifteen Federal constituencies in the Province. Thirteen declarations were made and figures announced by the Returning Officers brought the majority for prohibition of the importation of liquor up to 12,631. Selkirk and Nelson postponed making their official declaration for one week. The returns of Portage la Prairie are also incomplete.

In the 13 constituencies for which returns were announced Friday, nine gave majorities for affirmative and the other four, two of which were Winnipeg divisions, voted "no." Winnipeg voters gave a pluralty of 6,268 in favor of the importation. Rural Manitoba, however, plumped "dry" and piled up a majority of 18,899 for prohibition.

INDUSTRIES SHOULD SHOW PARLIAMENT THEIR POSITION

When They Seek Protection, Declares Hon. T. A. Crerar at Battleford

North Battleford, Sask., Nov. 6.—In dealing with the tariff question here Friday night, Hon. T. A. Crerar, leader of the Progressive Party, declared there was nothing more important to the country than its trade. The larger the volume of trade the greater the wealth of a country. It was a foolish thing to raise a barrier against the natural course of trade and that was the effect of the protective tariff. "The farmers of Canada are selling everything they produce in open competition with the rest of the world," said Crerar, "yet they buy all implements they need in a protective market. The protective tariff operates as a hindrance to trade. The prosperity of the farmers is the basis of prosperity in this country. The platform of new National Party demands that tools and implements required in agricultural, mining and lumbering industri should be free of tariff. These are the industries of this country. Our policy is to develop them and not those of industries which require the shelter of a high protective tariff."

"Do we really need this tariff"? continued Crerar. "Various industries called before committee on the high cost of living, last year, revealed some interesting facts."

The platform of the new party demands that when an industry in Canada thinks it needs protection it should come before Parliament and justify what it asks.

"Every section of the Canadian people must unite," concluded Crerar, "to make this a country in which there is justice and fair play to everyone, in which our public men have a sense of honor and will not appeal to sectional interests for low purposes of party politics."

Colds & Common Sense

You have a cold, or your child has a cold; a cough; a tight feeling across the chest; a soreness in the breathing tubes.

In the past how have you treated such? You have bought some cough mixture, and swallowed this down into your stomach. Now, why? Your stomach was not ailing; and there is no direct connection between your chest (where the trouble is) and your stomach! Then why swallow into your stomach any mixture when the trouble is in your lungs and bronchial tubes?

It's a mistake; and Peps is the remedy provided to correct this un-commonsense treatment. Peps are little tablets, which contain highly beneficial Pine essences, combined with other medicinal extracts. These healing extracts are so prepared that as soon as you put a Pep into your mouth they are liberated in the form of healing vapors. You breathe these vapors down to the throat and lungs, and thus treat the organs that are inflamed, direct. In a way, it is like breathing from a vaporizer or bronchitis kettle, except that there is no apparatus needed, the little Peps providing everything needful for the treatment! The very small portion of Peps which you swallow has a slightly tonic effect upon the stomach and does you good, but the use of Peps is not for stomach troubles, but for lung, throat and bronchial troubles. Peps relieve these as no ordinary treatment can.

Children like Peps and they are best for the little ones because Peps contain no morphine, laudanum or other poison found in so many of the old cough mixtures.

Druggists and stores everywhere sell Peps 50c. box or from Peps Co., Toronto, for price. Remember the name—four letters only:—

FORMER HEAD OF U.S. GRAIN CORPN. DEFENDS SYSTEM

Of Grain Marketing Through Open Exchanges — Maintains Competitive Market

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 6.—Julius H. Barnes, former Director General of the U. S. Grain Corporation, on Friday appeared before the Marketing Committee of Seventeen of the American Farm Bureau Federation, offering opinions and suggestions on the subject of grain marketing and outlining the major influences of price fluctuations on trading exchanges.

Mr. Barnes said it was his conviction that the present system of grain marketing through open exchanges, by maintaining a highly competitive market at all times, worked to the advantage of both the producer and the consumer, and that future trading was beneficial, in that it furnished insurance for traders against destructive losses on committments which would of necessity be taken in wider margins of profits without exchange hedging.

Little Mary McKenzie, who made a charming flower girl, wore a dainty frock of white embroidery. She carried a basket of pink asters and white chrysanthemums.

The groom's gift to the bride was a leather suit case. To the pianist he gave a gold brooch set with pearls, and the flower girl was the recipient of a piece of silver.

Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served after which Mr. and Mrs. Kenny left for Winnipeg where the honeymoon will be spent. On their return to Brandon the young couple will reside at the corner of Tenth Street and Louise Avenue.

The out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Welch, of Boissevain, Miss Jennie Waldie, of Killarney, Miss Edith McKenzie, of Cartwright.

PREMIER MEIGHEN EXPLAINS TARIFF ISSUE

PRIME MINISTER'S STATEMENT OF BENEFITS OF PROTECTIVE TARIFF AND WHAT FREE TRADE MEANS

Prefers Tariff That Will Keep Canadian Workmen Employed in Canada, and Thus Provide One of the Best Markets for Canadian Produce. Issue is Free Trade or Protection—Brilliant Address by Premier Carries Conviction to Hearers—Overflow Meeting in Hotel—Premier Spoke for Two Hours in City Hall

A convincing, brilliant statement of the policy of tariff proteition was given by the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen before a packed City Hall meeting on Monday evening. The Premier's address carried with it all his seriousness and power of conviction and his explanation of the policy supported by the Government was completeness itself. That Brandon people were anxious to hear the Prime Minister was evidenced by the fact that half an hour before the meeting was called to order the City Hall was packed to its limit and the overflow accommodation in the Prince Edward Hotel could not cope with the crowds that turned out to hear the first Western Premier.

Dr. H. P. Whidden, M.P. for the Federal constituency of Brandon, acted as chairman of the meeting. Hon. J. A. Calder, Minister of Immigration and Colonization and President of the Privy Council, was also present and delivered the last speech of the evening. A surprise was sprung when it was announced that R. C. Henders, M.P. for Macdonald, would speak. Mr. Henders had denied in the afternoon the report that he would speak in the evening, but changed his mind in the interim. In his short address he did not make any statements of particular reference to his connection with the Grain Growers of Manitoba, but confined his remarks solely to endorsing the policy of the present Government.

Premier Meighen left no stone unturned in his attempt to place before the people of Brandon his position on the tariff question. He declared that the Government had not been attacked on its record, but a challenge had been thrown out on the tariff question. He reminded the audience that there was no question as to where he stands on the tariff question and in the most convincing manner outlined the reason why the protective tariff should be maintained. The Premier compared the results of free trade in other countries with the success of the tariff policy in the United States, and declared that free trade would be an injurious thing for Canada.

The Prime Minister said that if we wish to maintain our position we must keep our tariff wall up. Free trade with the United States would suit a number of large manufacturers for they would continue to make their machinery in the United States, but it would mean that factories in Canada would close down and the employes move across the line. He derided the claims made by the Opposition that the present Government is the "slaves of the big interests," and further declared that the rich men of Canada are taxed more than in any other country of the world. Throughout his whole address the Premier got a most attentive hearing.

The Hon. J. A. Calder declared in his speech that class consciousness is widespread throughout Canada, and it is interfering with the national good. He went on to show that such is the case, although his speech was the subject for much heckling from the audience. He came out best in the exchanges, his speech being the only one of the evening which was subject to remarks from the audience.

Dr. Whidden took the opportunity to set his position before the people in a short opening address at the meeting. The Premier's speech took over two hours to deliver, while he spoke for over an hour at the overflow meeting in the Prince Edward Hotel. Hon. J. A. Calder and R. E. Henders also spoke at the meeting in the hotel.

PREMIER IN BRILLIANT FORM

RT. HON. ARTHUR MEIGHEN

First Reply Now Being Made to Repeated Attacks on the Federal Government

That the present Western tour was the first extended effort to lay before the people the case of the present Government, was the opening statement of the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Prime Minister of Canada. It was an historical record that no Government has remained quite so long as the present Government, but the members of the Government had felt that there was no excuse for leaving their posts during the three years. If the Government had spent the time in spreading political propaganda throughout the country, the country would have suffered, but he believed that the only injury caused by this carrying on of the duties of the State, was the inquiry to the party itself. If anyone could have looked after the affairs of the country more closely they have not been located yet. The Government has stayed on the job day and night, and while the Government has not been perfect, it is not ashamed to meet the people now.

"We are before the people now," said the Premier. The greater part of the audience, he understood, was from the surrounding country, so he would order his remarks to meet the chief objections from the agricultural opposition. At the present time, the Premier declared, the Government is not challenged on its record, but there is a desire on the part of certain parties to dislodge the Government claiming its mandate has expired. The chief objection to the Government today is that "you were elected for the period of the war, and now that it is over, you should resign. We challenge you on the tariff question."

While taking up a newspaper article which stated that Canada never stood so high in the world as it does today, Premier Meighen pointed out the progress that has been made along the lines of handling the problems arising out of the war, difficulties between labor and capital, and he mentioned that Canada has lost fewer labor days than Great Britain, France or the United States over industrial questions. There is less industrial unrest here than in any other country in the world. The Government, the speaker said, had taken chances to get results for the country, and not for political results.

Premier Declares That Government Wants First to Get Truth to Country

The claim that the Government was only elected for the period of the war is not a sincere one, Premier Meighen said. "We'll get to the country, but truth will get there first." Political patronage has been done away, and he declared that one of the chief objections, and the main cause of so much open hostility, is because of the fact that the Government has abolished patronage so well. The present Government had a big problem to solve in the railways question, but now Canada is the owner of the largest railroad system in the world, and it had been secured by methods fair both to the investors and to the people.

"This Government is served by an able and devoted administration at the most crucial period of the country's history," stated the Prime Minister. Referring to the speeches made by prominent Americans during the recent campaign conducted in that country, constant reiteration had been given the statement that the Government of the Dominion of Canada at the present time is better than their own.

Choice Lies Between A Protective Tariff And Free Trade Tariff

The speaker said that the Opposition to the present Government says that protection is all wrong. The Government must legislate for the whole country and not for a section, and the Premier asked that his audience forget their political or religious leanings and follow his line of argument as people with open minds. He made no mistake about the stand he took on the tariff question, and any Minister of Finance who sets out to make a tariff has to decide on what principle he will do it. The whole thing narrowed itself down to the question, "you must either have a protective or a free trade tariff. Which will you have?"

England today has a free trade tariff but it is on goods that are not made in that country. They don't put a tariff on the goods that are made at home. If it is necessary to make goods at home then you must have protection, said the first officer

CALDER BESTS CRITICS IN MANY MERRY EXCHANGES

Minister of Immigration Draws Fire of Groups Represented at Meeting

STONES A COMPLIMENT

Class Movements Deplored as Tending to Hurt Canada and Classes

"I am just about ready to join the I.W.W.," said Mr. Calder as he stepped smilingly to the front of the platform in the City Hall Monday night. So were some of the audience, for they had listened for about three hours, and many of them were determined to go home. The declaration by the Minister of Immigration and Colonization, and President of the Privy Council, halted the rush, and for the most part the people stayed. It was worth while. The preceding addresses had been solemn affairs. Not so that delivered by "Smiling Jim," as someone had dubbed him. Heckling was one of the features, and in the exchanges the man from Saskatchewan generally had the best of it. The pep had not all gone out of the speaker though he had talked for two hours to a gathering in the Prince Edward Hotel, and that at the fag-end of three weeks of strenuous campaigning.

The Hon. M. Calder did not complain that people had been throwing stones at him, rather, he took it as a compliment. He considered he had been doing something during his seventeen years of public life or by this time they would be leaving him alone. "I have stood it and enjoyed it," he declared.

Condemns Class Movement

The Premier has told you where he stands on the tariff question, said Mr. Calder, and his statements are clear-cut and decisive. There are a lot of people travelling about and it is hard to find out where they stand on the leading questions of the day. The people want to know just where the public men are at, and anyone who wabbles is doing a disservice. The class movement in Canada is to be deplored, it is not going to live, he said. "You are no prophet," someone shouted, and the Minister came right back, "I am a prophet. It has been tried and has never continued to exist." Why should the good people of Brandon and district be in two clasess when all come from the same stock. Why divide into Farmer, Labor, Soldiers, "even the women will be going off by themselves."

"The Patrons of Industry movement in Ontario was as strong as this," said Mr. Calder. "No! No!! No!" shouted someone in the audience, and there was somewhat of an uproar. When it subsided the Minister continued, there are not only the Farmers, there are other groups, Canada.

and factions are a bad thing for Canada. "The basis," said Mr. Calder, "is class consciousness and class selfishness, instead of the national good." Again there was a tumult.

Groups Tend to Weaken

When the noise subsided the Minister declared that strong government cannot come out of groups, and pointed to Ontario, where he claimed that Premier Drury, because of the alliance the Farmers were compelled to make with Labor to maintain power in Parliament, is unable to do the things that a strong Government would. The reason given was that the things that the Farmer and Labor groups stand for are sometimes diametrically opposite, and they must stand still to agree. "You can't have a clear-cut policy under such conditions."

Did not Premier Norris give this Province good government? Then why did the various groups go out to defeat him? asked Mr. Calder, replying that it was because they were class conscious and because of the class movements. He prophesied that attempts will be made against the Martin Government in Saskatchewan because of the very same thing, which, he declared, is bad for the country and will prove bad for the farmers.

The tariff plank in the Farmers' platform denounces the principal of protection as wrong. "Ask Crerar,"

Souris Has Deputation, Also Small Group of Farmers—Premier Visits Fair Buildings

While in the City on Monday, Premier Meighen received several deputations from outside points. It is stated that no local deputations appeared before the Prime Minister, although it was anticipated that the Board of Trade, City Council and Winter Fair Board would possibly make some approach with regard to affairs of interest to the city. A small delegation was present from Souris to lay some matters of interest to that town before the Premier, while it is understood that a number of farmers asked for some light on the income tax as applied to the farmers. Numerous individuals also interviewed Mr. Meighen.

During the afternoon, the Premier was taken for a short auto trip to the scene of the recent Winter Fair fire and to the Exhibition grounds. Dr. Whidden M.P. and several members of the City Council were in the party. The intimation was made that the Winter Fair officials would probably send a delegation to Ottawa early in the new year, and it was intended to give the Premier a first hand knowledge of the need here for a new building to take the place of the one destroyed by fire. It is stated that the Premier did not commit himself in any way on the subject although he expressed satisfaction for the great work being acomplished by the Summer and Winter fairs here in the livestock circles of the West.

FREIGHTER ON PANCAKE SHOALS MAY BE SALVAGED

Members of Crew Recover From 60 Hours Exposure—Another Vessel Still Missing

Sault Ste. Marie., Ont., Nov. 16. — Captain Arthur Forbes, of the wrecked steamer Francis J. Widlar, and representatives of the Becker Line, owners of the vessel, were planning today to undertake to salvage the freighter which was driven upon Pancake Shoals Friday night and had, up to noon yesterday, withstood the pounding of heavy seas. The members of the crew have recovered from their sixty hours' exposure on the stranded vessel, and were preparing to leave for their homes today. Nothing had been heard early today of the whereabouts of the steamer Charles N. Bradley, another vessel overtaken by the severe storm last week. All other steamers on Lake Superior at the time have been accounted for.

TWO MINOR AUTO ACCIDENTS

Two auto accidents occurred on Saturday, fortunately without injuries to any of the parties in the vehicles. In the afternoon an auto proceeding West on Victoria Avenue collided with another car on Tenth Street, proceeding North. The result was a broken wind shield and a bent axle to one of the autos.

Saturday morning, Mike Gaska was going East on Victoria Avenue when his rig was struck by a car. The horn on the auto refused to work and Mike did not have warning, with the result that his rig was somewhat damaged.

WHITE WYANDOTTE HEN'S FINE RECORD

Minnedosa Man Owns Hen That Laid 272 Eggs in One Year From Time She First Started to Lay —150 Eggs Considered a Good Performance

With 272 eggs to her credit a White Wyandotte hen, owned by Mr. G. F. Thompson of Minnedosa, Man., holds the highest record of performance for an individual hen in the 1919-20 Manitoba Egg Laying Contest held at the Brandon Experimental Farm. Though the general contest closed the end of October, many of the hens did not begin laying at the commencement of the contest and in order to decide the record of performance for the year it was necessary to keep them until they had been laying for twelve months. To qualify for the record of performance a hen must lay 150 eggs within the year so that the record made by Mr. Thompson's bird is particularly good.

Although it has been previously announced that Manitoba captured the four highest positions in the 1919-20 egg-laying contests which took place at seven experimental farms in the Dominion, it is interesting to learn the exact standing of the province in comparison with other contests throughout Canada. The following results have just been announced.

FINE ADDRESSES MARK THE CONCLUDING SESSIONS OF SYNOD

Presbyterians Declare This Year's Synod Was Most Helpful of Any Convention—Decide to Hold 1921 Synod in Winnipeg—Prof. Graham Taylor Gives Brilliant Address at Evening Luncheon

The Presbyterian Synod, which has been sitting in the city since last Monday evening, came to a close on Thursday evening. Splendid addresses were again heard during the day, and it was the unanimous opinion among the delegates present that the Synod had been the most successful and most helpful of any Synod ever held in Manitoba. Although not attended by a record number of representatives, still the sessions conducted throughout the week were led by leaders of thought, and the addresses were both instructive as well as intensely interesting.

During the Thursday afternoon session it was decided that the 1921 Synod should be held in Knox Church, Winnipeg. An invitation was extended by the Rev. R. S. Laidlaw, former pastor of St. Paul's Church here, and the invitation was accepted by the members present. An interesting account of the work on the Forward Movement was given by the Rev. A. W. McIntosh, B.D., in the afternoon, while the work of Manitoba College and its religious education was the subject of a timely talk from Dr. John Mackay, D.D., principal of that institution. Warm eulogy for the work of the principal and for his teachings came from many of the leading representatives present at the Synod immediately at the close of Principal Mackay's address. The Synod voiced its sincere appreciation for the work of Dr. Mackay and its fullest confidence in his administration. The Rev. E. L. Pidgeon, B.D., of Winnipeg, presented the budget and finance report, which showed progress along these lines in the church.

Prof. Graham Taylor, that great leader from Chicago, gave another of his splendid talks at the evening luncheon in St. Paul's Church. "Socializing Christianity" was his subject, and the speaker's remarks showed that he was well acquainted with the growing note in the introduction of the social idea in religion. Rev. Robert Laird, D.D., treasurer of the Presbyterian Church for Canada, was the only speaker at the evening session, and he fully explained the strides that the Forward [illegible] in Canada, especially among the Presbyterian churches. Rev. Prof. F. W. Kerr, M.A., who was also to have been a speaker on the evening program, is ill, and he could not appear.

Prof. Graham Taylor said: "It's a far cry back to days when I entered the ministry, and in those days there were only a very few voices echoing the social note in religion." Mentioning the inauguration of the social note in religion and the great names connected with it, the speaker said there arose out of it the institutional church. The man who first started this movement was Edgar Allen Reid, and the great Y.M.C.A. college at Springfield and other colleges were the net result of his work.

Prof. Taylor told of his experience in suggesting to the Y.M.C.A. that evangelism should be carried into the machine shops, and he laughingly remarked that following this suggestion he was not asked to speak at a "Y" for seven years. However, later the great institution had industrial secretaries all over the country, and their work is of immense value.

Socializing Process.

The process of socializing has been steadily going on. The socialized teaching of the colleges has done much to bring about the change, declared the speaker. Our consciousness of self is derived from another. Man is a complex of all others who have contributed to his personality. There is no self-made man. Education is a great complex gathering of teachings, said Prof. Taylor. As we become educated, back goes the skyline, out come the horizon.

"How stupid it is all through life that we want to know others of our kind," he said. When he went to Chicago the one that impressed him most was Jane Adams, and he told something of her work, and the opinions voiced on her work. He said he should take off his hat to those who do work he isn't doing, or won't do. Why should he honor those who do what he is doing?

Prof. Taylor gave many instances to show how new thought was gaining a foothold among those who were taking up the social obligation of culture. The congestion of all saints in one place and "those who are not saints" in another is not desired. The missionary of family life is the work. The speaker said he would rather be a foreign missionary than a home missionary.

"We need to socialize the ordinary concepts of life," he declared. A great mistake had been made in calling the ministry the only sacred calling. "Happy is the man whose calling is his God, and whose occupation is his God." The church that builds itself up before the community has got the cart before the horse. There is no shortcut to the Kingdom of Christ, especially if it leaves out the cross.

Prof. Taylor particularly mentioned the irritating influences of gambling in grain crops that were not even sown. If there ever comes a revolution, he said, you have to watch for the causes which touch the bread of the worker.

Identification With Christ

We have to have identification with Christ. The world is the subject of redemption. The world is not so essentially needed as the work of God. We must socialize this city, and he mentioned that recently in Chicago only 37 per cent. of the voters voted and the worst people got in because the best element stood aloof and did not go to the polls. He would rather have any kind of a Labor party than political apathy. Prof. Taylor declared he thought the British Labor party one of the greatest forces for the making of democracy. The prediction was made that possibly within the next two administrations the Labor party would come into power in Great Britain.

This mighty way of not dealing collectively with the men will not do. The world's afire. It looks like a new Calvary for a whole lot of people, and if there was only a little more time spent in the Garden of Gethsemane there would be no crucifixion. We are at a particularly great crisis of the world, he declared. He put in a sympathetic plea for those employers who are bearing a heavy burden, and believed that they were as much entitled, in a great many instances, to consideration, as the employes. However, Prof. Taylor declared the church would stand by both the employers and employes.

Synod of Understanding

"This Synod might well be called the Synod of understanding," stated Rev. Robert Laird, D.D., at the evening session of the Synod in St. Paul's church. It has been one of the most hopeful and enlightening Synods he has ever attended, he declared. It is his belief, however, that we are enter- [illegible]

[illegible]

The speaker said it would be dangerous to explain the Forward Movement in a few words. But the movement is becoming a great crusade for a better Canada and a world of good will. Today there is about us a ringing challenge for a spiritual uprising.

The movement is now entering upon its third stage. First it was preparatory and educational. The educational work was done with some success and the speaker showed along what lines this success had been. Then the second stage appeared, in the plans for the financial effort.

Speaking of the thank-offering, Dr. Laird said $2,500,000 had been collected in the campaign, although only $4,000,000 was asked. It meant that not enough confidence was placed in the people to put over the objective. It was the work of the people that really put it over, although the wealthy men had contributed their quota. A large part of the money is sacrificed, and it should be considered a sacred trust.

One million dollars has already been distributed, a considerable amount having been sent to the colleges this year. Money spent for the building of 46 manses and 49 churches in the Presbyteries has totalled $156,000 Dr Laird also showed where $429,000 voted for home missions had been spent. In the foreign field $243,000 had been voted. Through all this financial activity there has come a new sense of courage.

Tackle the Harder Task

We now pass on to tackle the harder task of the Forward Movement, said the speaker, and is the advancement of our nation. Prayer home religion, life service, social well being and missionary education are all a part of the extension program.

A great effort will be made next Spring for the in-gathering of those who are not communicants today. Four hundred thousand Presbyterians in Canada are not on the communicants' list. In the three Prairie Provinces there is a population of 342,000 Presbyterians, and only 65,000 are communicants. In too many instances the congregations have let the ministers do all the work, declared Dr. Laird.

The great need of men to carry on missionary work was emphasized, and the outlook is very dark for the extension of the Church's work unless there is a great increase in volunteers. "Let us get ready now for the future day, before the demand is on us," urged the speaker. The responsibility is ours, but we need great concentrated personalities. They are the great custodians of the truth. Young men and women can do no better, said Dr Laird, than in dedicating their lives to God. What we need in Canada is that the Presbyterian Church yield itself to the great work," concluded Dr. Baird.

Adopt Recommendations

Principal Mackay, D. D., of Manitoba College, said that there was not the expected increase in the theological department. However, he anticipated that quite a number of Arts students were going to take up theological work. Dr. Mackay stated that seventy-five candidates for the ministry had been secured by the College team that toured the Province last Summer. This team had done a remarkable work.

The speaker referred to the large number of students who are preparing, not for the ministry, but for medical and missionary work. He then read the following recommendations, which were adopted unanimously.

The Special Committee appointed by the Board of Manitoba College to arrange for the celebration of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the College recommends as follows:

1. That the Celebration be held at the same time as the Synod and the various meetings form a part of the program of the Synod.

2. That a special Convocation be held as the last of the series of meetings, to be addressed by the most outstanding Theologian or preacher who can be secured. That representatives of other educational institutions be invited to this Convocation.

3. That one meeting be given over to addresses by recruits for the ministry and other forms of life service as well as by representative ministers emphasing their reasons for entering this service, and encouraging others to do so, and that during the intervening months, the Committee cooperate as fully as possible with the Forward Movement in its work of securing recruits

4. That a committee of laymen, with Mr. J. T. Haig as Chairman, be appointed to arrange to have some layman speak in each congregation in the Synod, showing the importance of the work of the local minister and urging the laymen to rally around him more heartily, and that a conference of laymen from all parts of the Synod be hld on one of the days of the celebration for the discussion of the layman's part in the life of the Church, and laying plans for meeting more adequately the [illegible] of the church in the Synod.

[illegible] That one meeting be given over to addresses dealing with the connection of Manitoba College with Missions at home and abroad. These addresses to be by graduates who have given distinguished service in either of these Fields.

6. That a careful study be made of the place of Manitoba College in the Church and nation, and an estimate be prepared of what will be required to enable it to take its place in the front rank of Theological Colleges, and that this information be given to those in attendance and the Synod at large.

7. That a Sub-Committee consisting of Principal Mackay, Dr. Baird, Dr. Laidlaw and Dr. Rumball be appointed to bring these recommendations before the Synod. Inasmuch as the College belongs to the Synod this Committee appeals with confidence for its endorsation of the above suggestions and its hearty co-operation in making the Jubilee a real contribution to the religious life of the Province. (Signed) John Mackay, A. B. Baird; M. C. Rumball; R. S. Laidlaw.

"The forward movement" was the subject for the Rev. A. W. McIntosh, B.D., to give an interesting address at the Thursday afternoon session. He said there is a divergent idea as regards the spiritual program to be carried out, but everywhere there is a widespread interest in it. It is essential to get the workers from the congregation, and it is an encouraging feature that the people are so interested.

The continuation program of the Forward Movement means first of all our own individual spirit to Jesus Christ. It must be a movement towards Jesus Christ. We must move towards Him and then swing out into the world of men.

Fire we must make an attempt to have the Church realize what Jesus Christ established it for. Many regard the church today as a sort of convalescent home where we take the maim and the halt. If it is estimated that 90 per cent of the church work is carried along by ten per cent of the people, we must get the people to realize they are not in a hospital, said Dr. McIntosh, but to think they are part of an army. There is a responsibility upon each one of us.

The continuation program is a modern one he said, and the church must be filled with social democracy. Every last member must be co-operated into a movement for service, real manufacturers working for the Kingdom of Christ. Everyone must have an interest in the work. One of the churches great work is to provide leaders for the church, he declared, and Dr. McIntosh said that the people today are looking for specific facts and lucid explanations.

There is no sense in organizing in the church unless there is a spontaneous movement, he stated. The lack of workers in the fields was commented on, and the poor results in certain districts pointed out. In one instance, Dr. McIntosh said, a Ruthenian speaker had been maintained in a Presbyterian church in Saskatoon and paid $10,000 in ten years. Then someone came along and pulled "the cloak off him" and he was discovered to be an orthodox priest at work among the Ruthenians.

The biggest thing God ever gave was the Church of God. When He founded the Church it cost Him the blood of His only Son. If we make the Church a petty thing, how are we going to create an atmosphere that will call the volunteers out into service. "The Forward Movement lays upon you," he said, "the task of creating the proper atmosphere."

This program is not like last year's campaign declared Dr. McIntosh in conclusion, but is a movement that will grow as the years come.

Next year's Synod will be held in Knox Church, Winnipeg. When the question came up as to where the 1921 Synod would be held, Dr. R. S. Laidlaw invited the Synod to meet in Knox Church, Winnipeg. Dr. E. L. Pidgeon seconded the invitation and the invitation was unanimously accepted.

Another resolution passed was as follows: "That in accordance with the recommendation of the General Assembly relating to Biblication instruction in the public schools, this Synod appoint a committee consisting of Prof. F. W. Kerr, F. M. Black and T. D. Patton to meet with similar committees from the other churches, to take steps towards securing some degree of Biblical instruction in our schools and to report to next Synod.

Religious Education

The committee on Religious Education brought in three recommendations which were adopted as follows:

1.—That this Synod urge that in all Presbyteries, the General Interests committee and the committee on Religious Education unite in the promotion of the continuation program of the Forward Movement so far as it relates to religious education and that special emphasis be placed upon:

1.—An aggressive campaign to secure the re-establishment of the home as the fundamental factor in religious education, this campaign to include a definite and substantial effort in homes where there are boys and girls in attendance at Sunday School, to have closer co-operation between teachers and parents through the retelling of the Bible stories used on Sunday in the family circle during the week, the dong of the assigned house work and the formal recognition of God by grace at meals and united prayer.

2.—A systematic and sustained effort to bring our young people to a definite decision for Christ, to enlist and train them for leadership in all departments of the Church's work through organized classes, teacher training classe, conventions, conferences, summer schools and camps, and to encourage promising young folks to enter upon one or other of the many Christian life-callings now seeking recruits.

3.—That this Synod commend to increased liberality on the part of our congregation the work of our Assembly's Board through the Rally Day offering annually in September; and the co-operative work of the Religious Education Council of Manitoba through the Provincial Sunday School Day offering every Spring.

Report of Progress

A report of progress was read by the Rev. E. L. Pidgeon in giving the finance and budget report Thursday afternoon. He said that the allocation to the Synod for 1919 was $135,000 of which amount $86,200, or 79 per cent had been raised. There were three Presbyteries that raised their total allocation and the other five fell somewhat below the amount accepted.

The total givings showed an increase of $15,729 while the Budget allocation increased $10,000. Dr. Pidgeon said it is still necessary to appeal to the leaders for organization and use of approved methods. Today the munber offering themselves for leadership is quite insufficient, in fact if the present tendency continues the very end of the church is in sight, for not only are the number insufficient, but it may be frankly stated that the calibre of men offering themselves is not as consistently high as in past generations. Dr. Pidgeon declared that the call of the Church today is "forward."

GOVERNOR-GENERAL IS REAL OPTIMIST

No Reason for Panic or Alarm at Present Time—Plea for Joint Action

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 12.—"I am still determined to label myself an optimist," said the Duke of Devonshire, Governor-General of Canada, in an address to the Empire Club in connection with Armistice Day. "Though there may be anxious and disquieting symptoms," His Excellency continued, "there is no reason for panic or alarm." The Governor-General made a plea for joint action by employers and employes in the adjustment of wages and salaries if the curtailment of these became necessary. "We may have to face these processes in the next two or three months," he observed.

This was revealed when a message received by Lord Mayor O'Callaghan from Arthur Griffiths, founder of the Sinn Fein organization, was given out. "I am of the opinion," read the message, "that our conntrymen in Cork Prison have sufficiently proved their devotion and fidelity, and that they should now, as they were prepared to die for Ireland, prepare again to live for her."

PENGELLY TO PAY COSTS OF ACTION

Jury Dismisses Suit Against C.P.R. and Assesses Costs Against Plaintiff

After nearly four hours' deliberation, the jury returned a verdict for the defendant on Thursday evening in the case of Pengelly vs. C.P.R. All the evidence was before the jury at the Fall Assizes before noon on Thursday, and the addresses of both counsels in presenting their argumens were concluded at five o'clock. The jury then retired and at nine o'clock, having been out four hours without having their supper, brought in the above verdict.

The action was one involving a claim for $10,000 general damages on the part of the plaintiff Pengelly. It was brought out that Pengelly was passing over a railroad crossing when his sleigh was hit by a train, and Pengelly was injured as a result. He laid action to recover special damages as well as general damages, but the jury decided as above, with costs of the action against Pengelly.

This morning the grand jury brought in a true bill in the case of King vs. Jeffers, but returned no bills in the cases of King vs. Brown, rape; King vs. J. Brown, abortion; and King vs. Walter Johnson, supplying a drug to procure abortion.

The case of King vs. H. T. Holman was before the morning session of the Court today. Holman is charged with forging a cheque in the amount of $21.55 and also of uttering. The alleged act occured last 16th of April. Considerable evidence was heard in the case, with Holman acting as his own lawyer. The case will go to the jury this afternoon. It is not expected that the Fall Assizes will finish within two weeks, as but two cases had been heard up to noon today.

The grand jury is on an inspection tour of the Provincial institutions today, and will probably bring in their report next Tuesday morning, when the Fall Assizes re-opens after the week-end.

MEET ORGANIZED BUYING WITH ORGANIZED SELLING IS HON. G. LANGLEY'S PLEA

Regina, Sask., Nov. 12. — Asserting that the condition which the wheat producers find themselves in today is trateable directly to the abolition of the Wheat Board, and should be met with organized selling in Canada, Hon. George Langley, Minister of Municipal Affairs in the legislature introduced a resolution urging the Dominion Government to re-appoint the Wheat Board.

Compared with the methods of the Grain Exchange, those of a central marketing agency, which deducted from the price paid the farmer for his wheat only enough to pay its officers, and returned the balance to the producer, said Mr. Langley, were the most economical, judicious and defensible ever adopted in connection with the marketing of a great national commodity.

Inspector Alex. McCurdy Shot Through the Head in St. Boniface Hotel

SLAYER ESCAPED

In the Confusion After Wounding Two Other Officers and Firing on Another

Winnipeg, Nov. 11.—One man is dead and two others wounded, as result of shooting following a raid at the Stockyards Hotel, St. Boniface, early today.

Dead: Provincial Morality Inspector Alex. McCurdy, shot through the head, dying five hours later.

The man who is alleged to have done the shooting, and got away, signed the hotel register as "John Brown and wife." The shooting occurred when the four morality officers entered the building in search of liquor.

Inspector McCurdy was leading his [illegible] when he entered a room, a shot rang out and a moment later a man, carrying a smoking revolver, emerged. He opened fire on the rest of the raiding party and wounded Dineen and Uttley. Constable Fred. Causey the fourth member of the party, had a narrow escape when the gunman rushed at him and fired point-blank, the bullet missing him by inches.

In the confusion which followed the man and woman fled from the hotel, the woman, who registered with the slayer disappeared and a round-up of the occupants of the hotel rooms netted the police only five prisoners. They are being held as material witnesses.

PRESIDENT DOWLING PRESENTS REPORT ON PROVINCIAL FAIR

At the Annual Meeting of the Shareholders of the Provincial Exhibition of Manitoba—Declares the Summer Fair of 1920 Was Unquestionably One of the Best Ever Held by the Association—Record Exhibit of Quality Livestock

President Wm. Dowling of the Provincial Exhibition of Manitoba, presented a comprehensive review of the year's activities at the shareholders meeting this afternoon. There was a large attendance and judging by the receptive hearing accorded the report, it is judged to be eminently satisfactory. The meeting had just got nicely under way when The Sun went to press. A complete report of the meeting will be published on Friday. The auditor's statement printed in another column notes that the loan indebtedness of the Association has again been reduced and the assets substantially increased. The increase in the amount of stock paid up is also gratifying. Exerpts from President Dowling's report folls:

The 1920 Exhibition was officially opened by the Hon.S. F. Tolmie, Federal Minister of Agriculture, who delivered an eloquent and practical agricultural address. The exhibition of 1920 was unquestionably one of the best ever held by your Association. We had a record exhibit of quality live stock, exceeding in numbers that of any previous year. The exhibits of poultry, dairy products, vegetables, domestic manufactures, fine arts and schools were also larger than at any previous exhibition. Our Exhibition has stimuated a greater interest in producing the best and has given practical and valuable encouragement to live stock breeding and is entitled to some measure of credit for the present high standard of our live stock, both pure bred and grade.

Early in the year your Directors made application to the Provincial Government to have our Exhibition made the official Provincial Exhibition of the Province. The Government acceded to our request and passed legislation changing our original name from Western Agricultural and Arts Association of Manitoba to Provincial Exhibition of Manitoba. We trust that you will approve of our action in this matter.

The press of Canada continues to speak in very complimentary terms of our Exhibition, ourgrounds and equipment.

New Buildings, Permanent Improvements

During the year we expended the sum of $17,000.00 on new buildings and permanent improvements. The new buildings were the Administration Building, erected on a desirable location. The building is of a beautiful design and regarded by many as the most beautiful building on the grounds. Commodious offices for all department of the exhibition are provided.

A new sanitary toilet was erected for the live stock exhibitors and patrons of the live stock section of our exhibition. We think this is the most complete and best equipped building of its kind on any exhibition grounds in Canada.

Washing platforms for cattle and swine were constructed, each having sewer connection and equipped with water and hose for washing purposes. This improvement was greatly appreciated by exhibitors.

Much work was done on the grounds. The park features were greatly improved. Immense quantities of gravel were drawn. Many low places were filled in and it was generally conceded that our grounds and buildings never looked as good as this year. All our buildings have been kept in a high state of repair.

Our Finances

Our receipts for the year are showing an increase of $6,000 over 1919.

RECOVERY OF GOODS

By Police Who Discover and Seize Arms in Boathouse Near Black Rock Castle

The police recovered a portion of the goods. Rifles, shot guns and ammunition concealed in a boathouse near Black Rock Castle were also discovered.

TO STOP CANADA DOING EMIGRATION WORK IN THE U.S.

International Hay and Grain Show Chicago, Cancels Space Allotted to Saskatchewan

Regina, Sask., Nov. 11. — The first gun in what is thought to be the commencement of a definite campaign to prevent, as far as possible, Canada doing emigration work in the United States, was fired by the cancellation of the forty-five feet of space allotted the Department of Agriculture for an educational exhibit at the International Hay and Grain Show, Chicago. It was learned that the Canadian Seed Growers' Association space had been cancelled also. The plea made was that there was no room. The small competitive exhibits of individual contributors have not, so far, been cancelled, as far as can be ascertained.

The exhibit prepared by Saskatchewan is on exhibition at the Winter Fair here and is a most beautiful thing, and it is to be hoped that it will be shipped to Britain to do its educational work there.

PROVINCIAL OFFICER AT WINKLER, MAN., IS UNDER ARREST

Charged With Failure to Discharge Duty on Night of Bank Robbery

ANOTHER CHARGE

Is That of Accepting Hush Money to Prevent Arrect of Young Farmer

Winnipeg, Nov. 11.—George H. Hiebert, Provincial Police Constable at Winkler, who failed to make an attempt to stop bandits from robbing the Union Bank at that town, a few weeks ago, when over $19,000 was stolen, was arrested yesterday. Magistrate C. C. Milne, of Morden stated that the charges against Hiebert were in effect for failing to carry out his duty as a police officer and accepting money for "hushing up" the case.

Hiebert, it is alleged, accepted a bribe of over $1,000 as hush money to prevent a prominent young Winkler farmer from facing a charge of assaulting a Winkler girl. The charge alleges that the consable got $750 of money and the woman in the case the remainder. Yesterday when he appeared in court at Morden he was granted a remand of one week and released on $20,000 bail.

GIRL EMPLOYES ARE THRASHED BY ANGRY CROWD

In Sylvia Pankhurst's Offices When Girls Fail to Respect Solemn Silence

London, Nov. 11.—Girl employes in offices of Sylvia Pankhurst's Communistic paper, The Workers' Dreadnaught, were thrashed and offices upset just after eleven o'clock today by an angry crowd. During the two minutes of solemn silence in honor of the fallen dead, some of the women in the office "were singing and dancing and banging in guns," leaders of the crowd claimed.

CANADIAN MANUFACTURERS WANT EQUALIZATION OF DOMINION FREIGHT RATES

Toronto Nov 11.—The Canadian Manufacturers' Association has made application to the board of railway commissioners asking for the earliest consideration of the question of equalizing freight rates between Western and Eastern Canada. The application is based on the recent order in council issued by the committee of the Privy Council recommending the Board of Railway Commissioners to reconsider their judgment in connection with the recent increase of the freight rates.

Particular attention is directed in the application to the question of rates in British Columbia and the Maritime Provinces and it is claimed that conditions have materially changed since the Board's order in the Western rates case was issued in 1914.

Winnipeg, Nov. 15.—Last worldly rites over the body of Provincial Morality Inspector Alex- McCurdy, murdered in the Stockyards hotel early Thursday, were held at 7.30 o'clock Saturday morning in his home, 19 Lenore St. Afterward, the body was taken to the Union station and left on a Canadian National train for Sanford, where interment took place.

The slain inspector's home was crowded during the service with Provincial Government officials, fellow police officials, relatives and acquaintances.

CALDER BESTS

said Mr. Calder, and he was interrupted while some of the ardent supporters of that gentleman gave three cheers. Crerar was said to consider the principal of protection economically and morally wrong. He would have no protection and no tariff wall at all. Such a course was favored by Maharg; Drury says protection is not a necessity for manufacturers; Dr. Clark would wipe out customs duties. "There are few people in this room that are free traders, there are few in the country, and these few have listened to talk and been led away by these leaders." Howls drowned the speaker's voice, and when the noise subsided, the speaker smilingly said that so long as there are 140 million people on the other side of the line protecting their industries, we need to protect the industries of Canada. "Are all the statesmen of all other nations, save Britain, wrong and you right?" he parried.

What About Ontario?

"Why not protect the basic industry?" asked a voice, and with a smile Mr. Calder asked him, What about the farmers in Yale, B.C.? What about the farmers in Ontario? The last time that was tried, Ontario sent seventy men to Ottawa to vote against taking protection off their industries.

Premier Meighen is accused of being a high protectionist, said Mr. Calder as he smilingly provoked a storm and an exchange of verbal thrusts. He is not that, and I don't believe in that. What I believe in, is sufficient protection to maintain Canadian industries." The Kingites call it a tariff for revenue, yet during the fifteen years the party was in office it maintained a higher tariff than we have today. "I talked tariff for revenue . . . I voted for reciprocity and I am not ashamed to say it." A voice inquired, "Were you just as honest then as now?" "Yes," said the smiling Minister, "I was fooling myself. I know better now," and the balance of the explanation was lost in a gale of laughter. The Kingites called 28 per cent. a revenue tariff, what is the tariff now when it is only 22.5? The Kingites say it is high protection.

Neither high protection nor free trade will win out, said Mr. Calder, who prophesied that neither wing will have its say but that the common sense of the people will prevail. An explanation of the mixup in the sugar situation was given that showed that the Government came out of the complex situation created by the Board of Commerce with credit to itself, while the sugar refiners suffered severe losses.

EDISON'S START

Thomas A. Edison was so stranded financially when he first landed in New York in 1869 that he hadn't a cent to buy food, for which he was starving. Seeing a tea-taster at work, Edison begged him for some tea, and this formed his first breakfast in New York.

Three days later Edison was sitting in the offices of the Gold & Stock Telegraph Company watching the gold ticker at work—speculation in gold was then at fever pitch. Suddenly scores of boys rushed into the place excitedly explaining that the ticker in their employer's offices had stopped working. Dr. Laws, head of the concern, also arrived breathless. The apparatus had broken down.

Edison calmly told Laws that he thought he could fix it and proceeded to do so.

The grateful and astonished doctor asked the stranger his name and next day, after a searching quizzing-bee, put him in charge of the whole business at a salary of $300 a month. When the hungry, penniless, out-of-work operator heard the amount he was to receive he nearly fainted.

A BEGINNING

The army maintained by Holland has been kept up for purely defensive purposes, and during the war it became a very powerful force for a small country. Though it was a great burden in the matter of expense its maintenance was vital. It is one of the good signs of the times that the Dutch Government has now proposed to reduce the army by nearly one-half and that parliament is expected to adopt the proposal. The plan of the acting Minister of War is to cut down the standing army by 200,000 men, reducing it from 460,000 to 260,000. Instead of having twenty yearly classes of 13,000 men each, it is proposed to have the same number of yearly classes of 1,300 men each, and to reduce the service period from eight and one-half months to six months to twelve for the hospital and artillery units, and from two years to eighteen months for the cavalry.

Holland evidently believes that no danger is to be apprehended from Germany, at least for a long time to come, and it is convinced that the French policy in maintaining a large army and in forming an alliance with Belgium is a purely defensive measure, a scheme of insurance to be reduced in scope as Europe settles down. As a sign of the times Holland's proposal is both interesting and welcome. Its situation is more fortunate than that of some other countries which would gladly follow its example now if circumstances permitted. Disarmament proceeds slowly, largely because of the welter of confusion and anarchy in Russia and a few other countries whose disorder is still a source of grave uneasiness, but the outlook has been better of late, and the time is coming when even Russia must get to work again, market its products in other countries and attain a position marked by decent order and reasonable security of life.

NO REAL DEMAND

People have become so accustomed to having things presented them on a silver platter, as it were, that they are loath to accept an equally good article, unless so delivered. One of Brandon's leading importers, a man who is in complete sympathy with the movement for lower prices, and who has tried and is still trying to make them possible, makes the statement. He declares that people want an attractive picture, and unless the article to be disposed of presents that, it is harder to sell, though it may be of superior merit.

A great deal has been said during the past few months about cheaper fruit. Some of the fruit dealers have done their utmost to provide it. What has been their experience? They have been forced to the conclusion that, at present, the public is not sincere in the demand. Take apples, for instance. A splendid quality of apples packed in wooden hampers has been placed on the market at a low figure, but because the apples are not of a color that makes an attractive picture, the sale is slow. The apples are good, for some purposes they are the best on the market, but the public does not purchase. Dealers report that they have little demand to rthese apples, people who complain about prices pass them over in favor of apples packed in boxes and wrapped in paper. They make the selection even while complaining.

Is it any wonder that dealers do not attempt to push the sale of the apples in bulk or in any other form save the one that yields them the greatest profit?

Undoubtedly the time is coming when there will be a strong demand for fruit at lower prices and when this demand does arise, people will purchase an equally good article for a lower price, even though it does not present so attractive a picture as the specially selected, individually wrapped article in an expensive outer coating of wood. In the meantime, many dealers will not attempt to froce the cheaper fruit on an unwilling market, because they have found that it is not profitable to do so.

THREE CHOICES

The Farmers' Sun, the official organ of the U.F.O., is not pleased with the campaign tactics of William Lyon Mackenzie King, Liberal leader. It objects to what it terms his ambiguous and twisting statements on the big issue of the day, the fiscal question. The Farmers' Sun, after stating that the Liberal press need not flatter itself that the United Farmers of Ontario will support Mr. King any more than Mr. Meighen, adds:

"The Premier by his outspokenness in regard to tariff matters is far more to be recommended than the pussy-footing which Mackenzie King has indulged in. The latter will not make clear-cut pronouncements on the tariff, but hedges and sidesteps, makes vague utterances, and in the end leaves the impression that he is neither hot nor cold, wet nor dry, high tariff nor low tariff, but is willing to "be all things to all men" in order that he may gain a few votes. The Farmers' party is not afraid to say where it stands in regard to tariff matters, in regard to prohibition, or in connection with the various other problems pressing for a solution. That is more than can be said for the leader of the Liberal party. In this respect one must admire the courage of Premier Meighen, who nails his colors to the mast and comes out openly as an advocate of high tariff. People at least know where to find him. They do not know where to find Mackenzie King."

The balloting in East Elgin will be in the nature of a test. The electors have three choices. They can support a Government candidate who favors a continuance of the policy which Canada has adhered to for forty-one years; or vote for a U.F.O. candidate who advocates the wiping out of protection; or they can mark their ballots for a Liberal candidate whose leader has made various statements regarding his stand on the tariff question.

The result of the voting in East Elgin is being eagerly awaited by politicians. Each hopes for gain for his particular party, and all hope to learn something from an analysis of the voting.

AN EASTERN VIEW

People who are surprised at the support given the Drury Government of Ontario by the Toronto Mail and Empire, find no occasion for perplexity over its attitude towards the party lead by Hon. T. A. Crerar in the Dominion House. Regarding Mr. Crerar and the tariff proposals he espouses, a recent issue of the Mail and Empire contains the following article:

In his Prince Albert speech on Thursday Hon. T. A. Crerar said, "we "want our opponents to come out "and discuss the matter in the open." The "matter" he refers to is the tariff question. Open discussion of that question is the one thing to be dreaded, not invited, by the Farmers' party of which Mr. Crerar is the Federal Leader. The United Farmers' policy has already had too much publicity for its own good, and, if we are to judge from the long ease Mr. Crerar intermitted in the course of his own "stumping" on the question we should think that he had come to the conclusion that the less said the better. But the Tariff Commission has been abroad since the middle of September. It has had hearings at all important points in Western Canada, and is now carrying on its inquiries in Eastern Canada. It has therefore been necessary for the United Farmers' organization to bring their case under the Commission's scrutiny at many of the points visited. They could not well fail to file an appearance. Sir Henry Drayton's questioning directed to the one object of getting at the facts, was embarrassing to them. Declamation, lamentation, confident and vehement assertion could not be of much service to Commissioners in quest of cold facts. Hence the necessity of careful sifting of the prepared statements and the passionate declarations. It was a case of much cry and little wool, as the man said who was trying to shear a squealing pig. In Prince Edward Island the members of the United Farmers' Association have brought forward the same stereotyped case as was presented by the United Farmers representatives who appeared before the Tariff Commission at various hearings in the West. There is no body, no substance to their case, and it has now become so familiar, and so threadbare that the public have grown tired of it. If the United Farmers' argument against the tariff would hold water, its influence on the public mind would increase with frequency of presentation. But there is "nothing to it." No body of citizens were ever asked to put their dependence in a weaker piece of constructive work than the thing called the platform of the Canadian Agricultural Council.

After his long lapse into silence Mr. Crerar delivered an address in Prince Albert on Thursday. He had singularly little to say about what he still calls his New National policy. He used again the sophistical argument Dr. Michael Clark presented to the House to show that the United States tariff is lower than the Canadian tariff. Taking the trade returns of the fiscal year ending March 31, 1918, he pointed out that the ratio of total duties collected on all imports into the United States in that year was lower than the ratio of the total duties collected on all imports into Canada in the same year, and then said that proved the United States tariff to be lower than the Canadian tariff. Mr. Crerar should blush to be caught trying that trick on the intelligence of his hearers. It is worse than his oft-repeated statement about the "absurdity" of diamonds in the rough being left free and polished diamonds being made dutiable at a high rate. He told his Prince Albert hearers that Britain was the only free trade country, and that she had recovered from the war more quickly than any other country. He then asked where did the other protected countries stand. Well, where does the United States stand? That protected country's currency is now quoted at a premium in nearly every other country. As for Britain being a free trade nation, what other country has resorted to so many protectionist shifts to shield her industries from outside competition as Britain has resorted to since the war? Then, too, is not the discount at which the pound sterling stands in the United States and in this country a very material protection to her? We are bound to say that Mr. Crerar did not obtrude his tariff platform on his Prince Albert hearers. He has apparently lost faith in that economic credo. He cannot but recognize that it has suffered from the exposure it has had before the Tariff Commission and from the discussion of it by Mr. Meighen on platforms from one end of the country to the other.

BEAUTIFUL BERMUDAS

The people of the Bermudas have been celebrating the three hundredth anniversary of the founding of their House of Assembly, which they say is the "oldest representative political body in the British Empire after the Mother of Parliaments herself." Little has been said in the dispatches about this celebration, but it has been watched with keen interest by visitors to the islands and by British statesmen who are in close touch with public affairs in that lovely section of the globe. And in connection with it the Bermudians have not been slow to direct attention to their wonderful climate and some of their still more wonderful products.

Who has not heard of Bermuda potatoes, Bermuda onions, Bermuda tobacco and Bermuda lillies? Not many. But it is doubtful if the average Canadian is aware that the castor oil plant grows without cultivation on the islands, or that the Bermudians have no reptiles to annoy them. Birds they have in great numbers and, as one writer has said, the inhabitants "would not starve to death even should the importation of meat cease." The castor oil production is of the greatest importance, for not only is castor oil used extensively in medicine, but it is almost essential to the airplane industry, being a lubricant of high utility in aircraft.

It was early in the sixteenth century when Juan Bermudez, a Spaniard whose ship had a cargo of hogs for Cuba, discovered the islands. He was trying to avoid them, or at least he was trying to avoid all obstacles in his course to Cuba, for he didn't know there were such islands until his vessel struck one of them with force enough to wreck the craft. Henry May and Sir George Somers, of England, were also shipwrecked there, the former in 1593, and the latter in 1609. Somers later established the first settlement on the islands, and it was not long before tobacco was grown there in large quantities. History tells us that St. George was the first capital of the Bermudas, and that Sir James Cockburn changed the seat of government to Hamilton. The New York Sun points out that although a Spaniard's name distinguishes the group of islands, "England speaks from most of the units composing the Bermudas; the Main Island, St. George, Paget, Smith, St. David, Cooper, Nonsuch, Watford Ireland and Somerset being typical. The population shows steady growth. The people wear with pride the distinction of being the oldest self-governing colony in the Empire."

FARMERS PLAN TO HANDLE GRAIN NOT COMPLETED

This Year's Crop Is Not To Be Touched — Plans To Be Submitted

Winnipeg, Nov. 15.—Details in connection with the completion of a plan for co-operative marketing of grain or a farmers' "pool," will not be completed in time for the handling of this years' crop, members of the Canadian Council of Agriculture special committee declare.

The committee expects to be able to announce details of the plan before the middle of December. The farmer organizations will then be asked to give approval. A conference of United Farmers of the Dominion will likely be called to ratify the plan.

Members of the committee declined to confirm reports that the scheme favored is similar to that used by the California Fruit Exchange Association.

The United States is understood to desire provisions for exclusion embodied in a treaty, but Japan, it is said, regards this procedure humiliating and as forming a precedent forced to be followed in treaties in the future.

Wrangel's men withstood twenty-two assaults before Perekop. The commanders of most of Wrangel's units were killed and the losses in men also were very large. SIX TOTS KILLED 12 INJURED IN PANIC AT THEATRE

Smoke From Paper Clogged Furnace Causes Alarm—Many Children in Building

New York, Nov. 15 — A paper-clogged furnace fire, which caused smoke to fill the Catharine Theatre, a motion picture house in the East Side Italian quarter, raised a cry of "fire" late Saturday and in the ensuing panic six little tots, between the ages of two to ten years, were trampled to death. Twelve others were seriously injured.

The theatre was crowded to capacity, Children filled most of the 300 seats, for the hero of the picture was an Italian lad who rose from humble surroundings like theirs to riches and fame. The youngsters were absorbed in the progress of the screen hero, when smoke began to sweep through the cracks of the theatre floor.

"My God! It's a fire." This shout came from an elderly woman, who gathered a little one under her arm and ran for the nearest exit. Immediately loud wails arose, children began to cry. They jumped from their seats, jammed the aisles and fought for passage. The lights flickered out.

Youthful cries attracted many residents of the Italian neighborhood. Camille Bruillo, who sells bananas from a push cart on the Bowery, carried more than fifteen little tots to safety, then collapsed, overcome by smoke.

Some one sounded a fire alarm. Many then were carried from the theatre, overcome by smoke. They were soon revived.

Frantic women and men, learning of the disaster, crowded before the little theatre, at this time guarded by a cordon of police, and sought news of their children who had attended the show.

The bodies of the victims soon were identified, but the excitement attending the panic kept children from returning to their homes ,and many women fought for admittance to the theatre, believing their missing ones might still be there.

Bernard Weinberg and Max Schwartz, proprietors of the theatre, were held by the police pending investigation of charges that one of the front exits of the theatre was locked.

UNVEIL TABLET IN MEMORY OF THOSE WHO FELL

Impressive Ceremony at St. Matthew's Church — Mrs. Thos. Lee Unveiled Shield

AN AGE OF EASE

Makes Man Who Was Hero in 1914, Man About Town in 1920

An impressive ceremony took place at St. Matthew's Church during the morning service on Sunday when the shield was unveiled, in memory of the young men of the Church School who fell in the Great War. The shield which was placed on the wall to the left of the South door of the church, was of oak, and had upon it as many maple leaves, in silver, as there were soldiers commemorated. The service was conducted throughout by the rector, Rev. E. A. Anderson. As is the custom the choir proceeded to the West end of the church for the special ceremony and as they returned to the chancel sang, "The Hymn of Sacrifice. Mrs. Thomas Lee unveiled the shield which had upon it, among other names, those of her son and grandson. A solo "Christ in Flanders," sung by Mr. Douglas McDonald, was much appreciated.

In a sermon particularly appropriate to the occasion, Rev. Mr. Anderson urged all to work in unity for the betterment of mankind so that "those whom we commemorate this morning will not have died in vain." The Rector stated that the shield had been unveiled on Sunday for two reasons, first, because it was the Sunday after the anniversary of the day when the Armistice was signed, and, second, because this Sunday had been set apart by the Bishops as a day on which to speak of the League of Nations.

"We do well to be anxious at this time," said the Rector. "Not for those whose memories we commemorate today, they are in God's hands, but for those who came back from the war and for those who did not go. . . . This is an age of ease. . . . I think it is one of the greatest tragedies of the war that those who were raised to the highest should be falling. That the man who was a hero in 1914 should be a man about town in 1920."

Stating that God's idea of a nation was that all men work together as brothers, Mr. Anderson said that this was what was being attempted in the establishment of a League of Nations. He read a message from the Bishops commending the eLeague of Nations and urging all Christian people to aid in its establishment.

VENIZELOS CLAIMS VICTORY IN THE GREEK ELECTIONS

If Venizelos Wins He Will Have Deciding Voice in Appointment of Sovereign

Athens, Nov. 15. — Victory in the Greek elections held yesterday was claimed early this morning by Premier Venizelos. Actual returns are as yet meagre. Throughout the campaign, which was conducted with unparalleled bitterness, the Premier was the storm centre and his assertion that his followers were successful, if confirmed by the actual count of votes, means for him a personal as well as a political triumph.

The issue of the campaign was the return of former King Constantine to his throne. Venizelos led the forces opposing the return of Constantine and if he has succeeded in the elections it is conceded that he will have a deciding voice in the selection of the next sovereign.

REFERENDUM COST DOMINION ABOUT $750,000

Cost of Voting in 1917 Was $500,000—Estimate 25 Per Cent Increase

Ottawa, Nov. 10.—(By Canadian Press)—Judging by the cost of conducting the election in 1917 the cost of the recent plebiscite on liquor importation, taken in the four provinces simultaneously, will be in the neighborhood of $750,000. The provinces voting on the same day. were Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Nova Scotia Copies of the Auditor-General's report covering the cost of the election held in 1917 show the average cost per polling district in each of these provinces to be roughly as follows:

Alberta, $12,000 to $15,000; Saskatchewan, $10,000; Manitoba, $6,000, and Nova Scotia, $4,000. In several of the districts in 1917 there were acclamations, but the above figures represent fair averages for the divisions in which the polling took place.

The districts in which there was voting under the Canada Temperance Act last month numbered 57. Of these there were 12 in Alberta, 16 in Saskatchewan, 15 in Manitoba and 14 in Nova Scotia.

This would bring the cost of the 1917 election, had all the provinces voted, to roughly $500,000 had there been voting in all districts. The cost of conducting an election, it is estimated, has increased by about 25 per cent. since that time. Increases have been made in the tariff of fees in several instances. In some cases the fees are the same, but the mileage allowance has been increased, and in that way it is estimated that the cost of the recent plebiscite would be one-quarter higher than the cost in the same provinces in 1917.

MONTREAL SUGAR MAKERS MAY GET TOGETHER

Ending Price Cutting—Sugar Sells for 14c Pound in Toronto

Monreal, Nov. 10.—The war in the sugar camp in this city has been considerably modified and peace appears to be in sight. The largest sugar wholesalers state that few retailers have availed themselves of the opportunity offered for buying sugar below market prices and at least two cents lower than the cost warranted by New York prices, combined with duty, freight and exchange. It is estimated that the bottom has been reached and that the time is fast approaching when the price will rise.

No word so far has come from the "big four" refiners. The preponderance is still at 13c flat to wholesalers, though the Atlantic sugar refiners are reported today to be quoting 13.50, less the usual five per rent. for wholesalers. The lowest price is still that of the Dominion Sugar Company at a straight 13c, less five per cent. Reports that sales had been made at 12c could not be confirmed.

A few retailers are selling at cost, 13c, but the majority at 14, 15 and some at 16c.

14 Cents, Toronto.

Toronto, Nov. 10.—Sugar was selling at 14 cents in some of the retail stores here Tuesday. In wholesale circles further declines were expected.

COLLEGE EXTENSION PLAN IS ENDORSED BY BOARD OF TRADE

Citizens of Brandon to Be Asked to Subscribe $100,000 of the $400,000 Needed for New Buildings and Endowment Fund—New Buildings Urgently Needed Include Science Building, Memorial Hall and Girls' Dormitory—College Plans for Extensions During Next Ten Years, Costing Over a Million Dollars

Plans for the extension of Brandon College in the immediate future costing in the neighborhood of $400,000, were laid before the Brandon Board of Trade at a well attended meeting in the City Hall on Friday evening. Although the plans submitted only call for the immediate extension work, the vision of the College authorities calls for the spending of over a million dollars in College buildings and work within the next ten years. The project was enthusiastically received by the members of the Board present and a resolution endorsing the campaign to be put on, was passed. A small advisory committee is to be appointed by President P. A. Kennedy, and this committee will act in conjunction with the College officials.

It was stated at the meeting that a drive in the city of Brandon would be put on before the end of the month and that Brandon citizens would be asked to raise $100,000 of the total $400,000. This $100,000 is needed immediately for the erection of a Science Building, and Dr. Sparks, who was one of the speakers present, pointed out that it would be a matter of civic pride if the citizens could erect this building themselves. The remaining $300,000 will be raised outside of the city and already there are promises of donations that will give the campaign a big boost towards its objective. Dr. H. P. Whidden, M.P., had a rough sketch of the plans present and explained that it was necessary that a Science Building, a Library, a Memorial Hall and a Dormitory for the accommodtion of girls be erected within the very near future. The accommodation at Brandon College is now taxed to its limit, and immediate expansion is necessary.

President Kennedy Endorses Project

President P. A. Kennedy outlined the object of the meeting and set forth some of the facts which made it apparent that the Brandon College today is Brandon's best asset. At present there are 400 students attending the College and the estimated expenditure by these students approximately amounts to $175,000 per year. President Kennedy declared that the new plans would mean accommodation for 1,200 students and that about $500,000 would be spent in Brandon annually. He said the project deserved the hearty support of every citizen, and that the program as it would be outlined, would be the largest proposition Brandon ever tackled.

"My reason in taking up this problem," said Dr. Whidden, "is that I believe in Western Canada." Particularly did he believe in the Western people. There is no doubt, he said, but that this city is the logical centre for the College, and it is now hoped to make the College worthy of the entire territory tributory to Brandon.

Giving a short sketch of the College, Dr. Whidden said that Brandon College really began in Rapid City, Dr. McKee started an academy there, but when Rapid City did not get in on the main line, he moved the academy to Brandon, and in 1899 a charter was granted to the institution. Since that time the school has grown and made for itself a great reputation. The College has grown in the inside but not on the outside.

The First Appeal

The speaker declared that the first appeal for funds for extension work would have to be for more than $300,000. Of this amount a great portion would be used for new buildings while the remainder would be devoted to endowment purposes. About $100,000 would be asked for from Brandon citizens and the remainder would be collected from outsiders.

Mentioning some facts in connection with the work of the College, Dr. Whidden said everwy nationality was in attendance at the institution. As far as money is concerned, the speaker estimated that at least $150,000 was spent in the city each year by the students attending the College. Over $32,000 had been kept in this city by reason of the fact that many local students who would have to go out of the city if there had not been a College here, and remained in Brandon and received their education in this city.

Dr. Whidden then showed the prospective plans for the College extension, which called for a new Science Building, a Library, a Memorial Hall and new dormitory accommodation.

Dr. Sparks Gives Impression

Dr. Sparks, who has had previous experience in College extension work, gave some of his impressions since coming to Brandon. After relating the mistake by a stranger in Brandon in taking the Hospital for the Insane for the College, Dr. Sparks said the Brandon College should be as much larger than the Hospital for the Insane, as the Hospital is larger than the College at the present time. He believed that Brandon has the power to put the big scheme over, and he urged the co-operation of public spirit. "We want this College to be not only worthy of Brandon, but of Western Canada," declared Dr. Sparks.

The real need of the College is a Science Building, a Girls' Dormitory and a Gymnasium, and these should be really erected within a year's time. The Science Building is urgently needed, however, and would cost about $150,000, and Dr. Sparks intimated that it would be a matter of pride to this city if the citizens could put over this amount themselves. He appealed to the citizens to put their efforts behind this larger program of the Institution.

A Practical Reason

Mr. J. S. Wilmott supported the project and said that the good of the College could not be over-estimated in a community. He declared the College should be supported also because of the very practical reason that so much money would be spent in the city. The scheme depends more on Brandon citizens than the mere intrinsic value of giving, because if Brandon citizens do not respond, then the canvassers cannot go before outsiders for support. He thought that the project should be taken hold of very enthusiastically.

A Big Proposition

"This is the biggest and boldest thing the city has ever attempted," said Mr. J. F. Kilgour. It is a matter of vision and for the people of Brandon. "Surely the city can rise to the occasion," said the speaker. The strength of a city lies in the strength and courage of the citizens. We must have this strength to make our city a success. It is a part of our duty to make our city grow and we must develop the institutions that thrive here. If Brandon does not put it over, some other city probably would, for the growth of the College cannot be stopped now.

A Worthy Cause

"No subject of such vital importance has ever been before the city before," declared Mr. A. E. Mc-Kenzie in supporting the project. "A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush"—Brandon College is here and he believed that this city would enable the institution to carry out its entire scheme by a very generous support to the extension program. There is no cause so worthy as this one, said Mr. McKenzie, and let us make it our civic boast.

Further support of the project was given by Mr. F. W. Hobson. The time is here for the expansion of the College and now is the logical time to get behind it. He therefore moved that the Brandon Board of Trade endorse this proposition and get behind the project enthusiastically. Mr. J. S. Wilmott seconded the resolution, and said that Brandon people should not be at all timid about putting this scheme over. The resolution was passed unaminously.

It was explained by Dr. Sparks that it is the intention of the College officials to put on the drive before the end of the month. It was then moved that a small adivisory committee be appointed by President Kennedy to act in conjunction with the College officials in the furtherance of their plans.

CAMPBELL—NESMITH

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Nesmith, of Fairlight, Sask., on Thursday when their only daughter, Hazel May, was united in marriage to Leslie R. Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell, 520 Russell Street Brandon. Rev. Mr. Harry performed the ceremony, which took place under an arch from which hung a large white wedding bell and yellow and white streamers.

The bride entered the drawing room with her father to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin," played by Miss Struble, and took her place under the arch. She wore a dainty gown of white crepe de chene trimmed with georgette crepe and heavily beaded. Her flowers were yellow and white roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Teena Campbell, sister of the groom, was attired in turquoise silk and carried a sheaf of pink and white carnations. Mr. Arlin Nesmith, prother of the bride, acted as best man.

The groom's gift to the bride was an onyx lavalliere set with pearls. To the bridesmaid and pianist he gave gold pins set with rubies, and the best man was the recipient of gold cuff links.

After the ceremony dinner was served. A huge wedding bell hung over the table, which was centred with the bride's cake and decorated with streamers in the prevailing color scheme of yellow and white.

The young couple are spending a honeymoon in Brandon and later will take up residence at Fairlight, Sask.

of the Crown. There is revenue in any tariff. Any man who wants a tariff is bound to tell on what principle he builds it. The man who refuses to tell that, then there is something wrong with him. Sir Wilfred Laurier had even talked free trade as in England, but now Mackenzie King says such a thing is impossible. There are just two questions to consider, said the speaker, and that is, will it be a protective tariff or free trade?

As for himself, he believed in a protective tariff.

Protective tariff can be overdone, Premier Meighen acknowledged, and it took a strong Government and a strong leader to hold against it. He is of the opinion, however, that if we wish to maintain oud in-

"Therefore you must seek a level that will enable a business that is fairly large to remain here instead of leaving the country. The Western Provinces did not feel the need of the protective tariff so much as the Eastern Provinces for the fact that the East and West are geographically separated by a long barren waste of 300 miles. The East is in a different industrial position, and that is why it is so easy to spread the propaganda of free trade in the West today," declared Mr. Meighen.

Leaders of the Farmers Party Are Not All Agreed on Tariff Pronouncements

"Protection is denounced in three out of four of the preambles in the Farmers' program," said the Premier, and the whole program practically denounces protection. The Hon. Mr. Crerar praises free trade, and yet he and his followers did not want to be known as free traders. If he believed as Mr. Crerar does that no industry which needs to be protected should be in the country, Premier Meighen said he would come right out and would uphold free trade. Through Mr. Wood of the Farmers' Party it had been said that any industry that requires protection should have it, and yet this was in direct opposition to the statements made by Hon. Crerar. Mr. King has coined a lot of words, so phrased, to catch him the votes which he might lose were he to come right out for protection.

The Premier admitted that tariff schedules may be too high or too low in some cases, but the Government is doing it's best to scale it for all. "They say our industries can't get along without it, they only think they need," were words attributed to Premier Drury of Ontario by Mr. Meighen. He referred to the swaying policy of the Opposition and remarked that their idea of protection is "that it is alright, if first you take off protection and then put it on again."

When Great Britain adopted free trade, it was the leading country of the world, the leading industrial power. It believed at the time free trade was adopted that the other countries would fall in line. Things went well for a time, France and Germany later falling in line. But the progress of industrial France and of Germany, dated from when these countries turned away from free trade. The United States had not adopted the policy of free trade and the States went right ahead, until the reports last year showed that they sold $7,000,000,000 worth while only buying $3,000,000,000. The trouble with Britain is that she buys more than she sells, and she only is able to do this by reason of the fact that she has the greatest mercantile fleet in the world.

Superior Position of United States Due to Its Protective Tariff

"It should be one of the chief interests of Canada that we make more out of our investments in this country, than from outside investments," declared the Prime Minister. The path of Great Britain will be backward unless she does away with free trade. The United States has the greatest factories in the world, and they are the advanced productive nation of the world. They are that, stated the Premier, because they have a protective tariff. At the present time they have a tariff that is higher than that of Canada. The tariff formerly averaged 40 per cent on dutiable goods, but is now down to 23.7 per cent. He believed that the revised tariff by the United States would be even higher. The States have had protective tariff for 131 years and will continue to keep it.

Continuing in his remarks regarding the protective tariff in the States, the Premier said that the United States has a home market. The industries are safe in investing in their own country. In Canada all that a man can build would be a factory that will meet the needs of 9,000,000 people, while an investor in the United States can build a factory to meet the needs of 110,000,000 people. The Canadian manufacturers today have only a share of the business not already taken up by the United States manufacturers. "If the United States offered to throw down their tariff wall, I wouldn't do it," said the Premier, because you could only be sure of the United States market for four years. A new administration might put it up again. "We've got to keep our tariff wall up if we want to keep Canada's industries."

It would be obvious madness for us to adopt the principle of free trade." Nothing could be more injurious to the country than that we should turn the State's prow in that direction. We have followed the protective tariff since 1878. In 1896 the Laurier party denounced protection but immediately they came into power, they adopted it. They knew that it was better to destroy their platform than their country.

The reason we have the International Harvester Company here and other big concerns is because we have a protective tariff, was a statement attributed to Fielding. "Do you think," asked Premier Meighen, 'that if they all followed a protective tariff, that we can all be the dupes of the money power, or hishonest men." Referring again to the United States policy, the Premier said they are becoming the great creditor nation of the world because of their policy. The United States is selling four millions dollars worth more than it is buying, and other countries are owing them. Let us continue to follow our policy and we will advance.

The speaker said that Canada has the largest population of agriculturists of any first rate country. Land values in Canada had been going up while those in Great Britain are going down because of free trade. Referring to the alarm that had been raised that so many people are leaving the farms, the Premier said that people did not eat any more than formerly and that it didn't need so many people to raise the food as formerly. On the other hand the needs of the world are more, we travel more, we go to see moving pictures more than our fathers, and the Premier explained that this condition called for more men in the community centres.

Canada Spends Many Millions That Helps the Man on the Land

The agriculturists have never been oppressed by any law in Canada, declared the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen. The statement han been made by the Opposition that only $5,000,000 is being appropriated for agricultural purposes out of the total appropriation of $500,000,000. He asked the audience if they did not think that the $50,000,000 being spent on land settlement, the huge sums spent on railways in the West particularly, the money expended on canals, the mercantile marine and other branches were not to the benefit of the farmer. The Opposition when they were in power had only spent $1,500,000 in their best year on agriculture.

The average sentiment in the country today, said the Premier, is farther away from the adoption of free trade than it has ever been before. The speaker said he believed in both outside and inside competition. But if we take our tariff wall down and they leave theirs up we will never get anywhere. Our imports are going to be $300,000,000 more this year than our exports, and we'll buy from the United States during the same time $1,200,000,000 worth of goods and only sell $500,000,000 worth. We are going to pay $70,000,000 to the United States in exchange alone. "Is it not better to pay this amount into our treasury than into the pockets of the United States producers," asked the Premier.

Free Trade Will Not Lower Cost of Living, Premier Meighen Claims

The question was asked of the farmers if the position today is not sound in view of the above conditions. We can't lower the cost of living by free trade, and the speaker read certain official statements from the United States which showed that living is ten per cent. higher over there than it is in Canada today. The Premier declared, however, that he would lower the tariff on anything that would keep the industries here that manufacture the necessities of life.

"You know what to expect of the Government if it is returned to power," said the Prime Minister. The tariff averages at the present time 22.5 per cent. What right has the Opposition to attack the tariff at the present time when they maintained an average of 28.3 for years when they only needed $100,000,000 to carry on the affairs of the country, while the present Government needs $400,000,000. Surely there is no need to call us high tariff men and slaves of the big interests, said the Premier.

Referring to the tariff on agricultural implements, Premier Meighen said that Canada is today maintaining the lowest tariff on the whole schedule of the country on these goods, and this is mainly so on account of the insistence coming from R. C. Henders. The Premier said that Henders might possibly have had more public acclaim if he had raised a howl instead of getting just practical reshits. The tariff was now down to 14.64. When the Premier came into power it was 20.18. If the tariff was wiped out altogether it would be all right for the large manufacturers, for they could continue to make their goods in their large factories in the United States. But the workmen would have to sell their homes in Canada and go over there to live. Referring to Mackenzie King's definition of the tariff question, the Premier said they were the mere "jockeying of words."

Canada Taxes Her Rich Men Higher Than Does Any Other Country in the World

Then there is the cry raised by the Opposition that he, the Premier had been chosen by the unseen hand. The Government leader created a mild laugh when he said that was right, because he hadn't seen it. Canada today taxes the rich men more than any other country in the world, and he made comparative statements to bear this out. The man whose income was $200,000 a year paid a Federal tax of $97,370, and the man with an income of $10,000 paid $619. In view of the fact that the rich people were being taxed so heavily, the Premier asked if it was fair that the present Government should be attacked on the ground that they are acting at the instance of the big interests. Canada has the highest profits tax and luxury tax.

In the face of these taxes, do you think that Mackenzie King's statement "that we should have graduated taxes suitable to the needs of the people,' shoud be accepted seriously. Further the Premier said that Canada has put statutes on the books that have made more progress in collecting the taxes in three years than New Zealand has in twenty years.

The Farmers program he said, called for the tax on farm lands, but the Prime Minister declared that a land tax by the Federal Government would be one of the most irritating things. It would cost more to collect the taxes than the revenue from the taxes themselves. He referred to the findings of the recent Tax Commission which sat in Manitoba, and of their recommendation that a tax on farm lands would be a backward step. In conclusion, Premier Meighen said that the people have not been betrayed in any way by the trust reposed in the Government ,and he urged their support, of a Government most liable to carry out the progressive program it has adopted.

Dr. Whidden Claims That He Has Been True to All His Pre-Election Pledges

Dr. H. P. Whidden M.P. stated in his opening remarks that he was glad of the opportunity which presented itself of putting his position before the electors of the Federal constituency of Brandon. The Canadian people are doing more thinking today, he said, than at any other time previous to the war. The people desire to hear principles discussed and policies fairly presented.

After looking over the simple manifesto prepared by him at the time of the elections in 1917, Dr. Whidden said that he believed he had not betrayed his trust on the basis of that manifesto by one hairsbreadth. He had forseen the period of reconstruction, as for instance the trade and tariff questions, and he stated at the time that he would not give his vote for any radical change during the war period in these great questions. Now that the war was over he will vote as he things best. He has continued to support the present Government, and Dr. Whidden declared that there has been a tendency on his part not to become a mere puppet of those in power, but to represent the average elector of the constituency of Brandon.

Referring to a statement made by the Hon. Mackenzie King on the platform in Brandon about ten days ago, Dr. Whidden said that a false impression had got abroad through that statement, which was to the effect that the Western members had voted down an amendment for the sealing down of the tariff schedule. The speaker said that about ten years ago the Borden Government had introduced a resolution calling for free wheat. But the measure was voted down, and Dr. Whidden reminded the audience that this recent measure was the only one voted down by the Western members. It was an alarmist cry that "the Government should go to the people," as many of the Opposition had told him not to be alarmed by the cry being raised by many of the Opposition members. Dr. Whidden said he would continue to support the present Government having regard for his independent vote, for he believed that the Government is the ablest Government that could be supported, and well able to carry along the great reconstruction work they have commenced. He did not intend to make any long political speech, but only a frank statement as to where the people can find him standing today. He concluded by thanking the citizens of Brandon for the splendid reception they had tendered the Premier at the noon luncheon.

R. C. Henders Endorses the Government Program: Says Promises Have Been Fulfileld

R. C. Henders M.P. for Macdonald was not expected to speak during the evening but in a short speech set forth some of the reasons as to why he is supporting the present Government. In the first place, he said, he supported the Government because of the course it had pursued in it's "win the war" policy. The Union Government had taken upon itself that great task, and had discharged well and faithfully that task. It had put into effect the promises that had been made the people regarding the framing of a fiscal policy. Mr. Henders said he believed that great good would come out of the present Tariff Commission's tour of the Domininon.

The work of the Government has been strenuous, declared Mr. Henders, so strenuous in fact that many of the Government leaders are not now physically able to come out and answer the criticisms directed at them. He supported the Government because he did not believe that any improvement could be made along the lines of direct taxation. Mr. Henders said he endorsed the work of the Government up to the present hour and he would continue to do so as long as they carried out their program and promises to the people.

Winnipeg, Nov. 16. — Unexpected strength developed during the morning and prices advanced 6 cents to 3¾c to the high price of the morning. Prices then receded somewhat. Pit offerings were very light, causing tightness, there being a good demand for shippers for November. There was considerable hedging, sales being transferred from November to December and May. Cash demand was fair to indifferent. Some new export business was reported, with offerings on a more liberal scale. Oats values showed little change, fluctuating about 1c in sympathy with wheat. There was a good cash demand for all grades, with increased offerings. Barley and flax offerings were fair, demand was indifferent. Wheat closed 3¾c higher to unchanged; oats 1c to ¾c higher; barley 1c lower to 1¼c higher; flax 1½ lower to ¾c higher, and rye 5c to 3c higher.

WILD UPROAR IN BRITISH COMMONS: HOUSE SUSPENDED

Joseph Devlin, Irish Leader, Struggles With Major Molson

APOLOGY ACCEPTED

Wednesday Session to be Devoted to Discussion of Irish Situation

London, Nov. 23. — Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, declared in the House of Commons Monday that plans of "paid assassins" discovered recently, included destruction of life and property in England as well as in Ireland.

Premier Reiterates Firm Stand

London, Nov. 23.—A wild uproar over the Dublin situation compelled the suspension of the session Monday of the House of Commons. The suspension was preceded by a scuffle between Joseph Devlin, Irish leader, and several supporters of the Government.

The altercation arose after Premier Lloyd George had addressed the house briefly on the subject, being followed by Mr. Devlin. The Premier, when he arose, said he shared the horror all felt at the cold-blooded murder of unarmed British officers. The Government, continued Mr. Lloyd George, had resolved to suppress murder and conspiracy in Ireland. It was realized by all that to suppress such carefully organized, highly subsidized plots would take time, but the Government was convinced that despite the recent happenings the Irish authorities were succeeding in breaking up the "gangs of assassins."

May Ask Further Authority

The Premier said, however, that should experience show that the powers possessed by the Irish Government had proved insufficient for that purpose, the Government would have no hesitation in asking the parliament for such further authority as might be necessary to achieve that end.

Mr. Devlin rose and asked why it was that when Sir Hamar Greenwood, the Chief Secretary for Ireland, was asked a question, he recited the horrible occurrences which had happened in Dublin, but said nothing about the appearance of a military force at the football match. He was interrupted with loud cries of "sit down." Mr. Devlin retorted: "I shan't sit down," and continued: "Why has the house not been made acquainted with a recital of these events, of the entry of the military into the football field and indiscriminate shooting of ten people?" There were loud cries of "oh" from the house at this.

Sir Hamar replied emphatically that he had been asked nothing about that question, but that he was prepared to answer. Mr. Devlin again rose, amidst angry cries of "sit down," and was endeavoring to speak when a member below him endeavored to yell him down. Mr. Devlin lunged forward fiercely in an effort to shake off the hold of the member, and the latter rising to his feet, the two closed with each other.

Devlin Loses His Coat

Other members came forward to separate the pair, but despite these efforts the two men struggled forward, Mr. Devlin losing his coat in the crush, but still holding his own, cried: "This is English courage and English chivalry, to attack one man in six hundred."

After a minute or two the pair were forced into seats by friends and the speaker suspended the sitting.

Upon resumption of the session, Major John Molson, Coalitionist-Unionist member for the Gainsborough division of Lincolnshire, who was Mr. Devlin's opponent rose and apologized to Mr. Devlin, to the speaker and to the house, saying he was afraid he had allowed himself to be provoked, and had forgotten himself.

Apology is Accepted

Mr. Devlin accepted the apology and assured Major Molson that in this or any other matter that affected him in the house he had no personal feeling. His complaint was against the growing practice of the members taking out of the speaker's hands the question of order in relation to questions. The question he wished to ask was why the Chief Secretary for Ireland had not recited all the incidents which occurred in Dublin Sunday, instead of giving a part of the story. The minister had not told of the murder of ten or fifteen civilians, Mr. Devlin pointed out.

Sir Hamar said that although he had not been asked that question he was willing to reply and said: "The

FREIGHT CHARGES MAY BE PAID IN CANADIAN COIN

Carvell Expresses Personal Views That Such Payment Would Be Legal

CARRIAGE IN CANADA

Of Freight for U. S. Points Has Now to Be Paid in U. S. Currency

Ottawa, Nov. 23.—On behalf of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, H. J. Symington, K. C., of Winnipeg, this morning brought to the attention of the Board of Railway Commissioners the rates on grain and grain products, shipped from Canadian to American points, where the haul is large in Canadian territory.

His proposal to the Board in a nutshell was that it should be arranged that payments for haulage within Canadian territory should be paid in Canadian currency while haulage in the United States only, should be paid in American funds. He maintained that payment on any other basis was illegal because contracts with the railways were made in Canada. Chief Commissioner Carvell expressed a personal view that he was inclined to think that Symington was right. The hearing is proceeding.

SENATORS FROM WESTERN STATES TO GET TOGETHER

Will Seek to Put an End to Evils Wheat and Corn Farmers Complain of

Washington, D.C., Nov. 23. —Informal conferences held among Republican and Democratic Senators from Western states have resulted in a decision to hold a formal conference of all Senators from Western states soon after the December session begins, Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, states.

At this conference a working program is to be mapped out, if possible, for concerted action by Senators from farm and livestock states regardless of party in the interests of the producers.

The first test of their strength is to be made on the Kenyon-Kendrick Packer Bill, which will come before the Senate as soon as it meets. Hitchcock said he and other Democratic Senators will support the bill energetically and will seek to amend it to reach some of the evils the wheat and corn farmers are complaining of. Senators hostile to any regulation of the packers are preparing to talk the bill to death, but Hitchcock predicted they would have difficulty side-tracking the measure because of the strong support it will command.

"The farmers in the corn and wheat sections have been roused to great resentment," said Hitchcock, "because of conditions which have lowered prices an extent that makes their future ruinous. We Westerners are going to try to get together regardless of party on measures in behalf of our constituency."

D' ANNUNZIO OPPOSED TO TREATY OF RAPALLO: WILL CONTINUE TO WAGE WAR

Fiume, Nov. 23—Gabriele D'Annunzio, insurgent commander at Fiume, declared Monday that he was unalterably opposed to accepting the treaty of Rapallo, settling the Adriatic dispute between Italy and Jugo-Slavia, and that he would continue fighting until the just claims of Italy were met.

MINERS AGAINST STRIKE

Halifax, N.S., Nov. 23—Secretary J. B. MacLachlan, of the United Mine Workers, who is in the city, expressed the opinion Sunday night that the miners of Nova Scotia would not vote in favor of a strike. Seventy-five per cent of the men must vote in favor of a strike before one can be called.

GOVERNMENT WINS IN YALE: FARMERS IN EAST ELGIN

Victory of Farmer Candidate Attributed to Unrest and Desire for a Change

THE FIGHT IN B. C.

Between Government and Liberal Candidates—MacKelvie's Majority is Small

Aylmer, Ont., Nov. 23—S. S. McDermand, former warden of Elgin county has been elected in the East Elgin Federal by-election as the U.F.O. candidate. He polled 3,043 votes, as against 2,855 for the Government candidate, J. L. Stansell, and 1,949 for the Liberal, W. G. Charlton. Out of approximately 11,000 voters, only about 8,000 voted, many remaining at home owing to the unpleasant weather conditions. A big demonstration was held here last night to mark the success of the Farmers' candidate.

The Conservatives claim the victory of the United Farmers' candidate is due to an unrest in the country that has created a great desire amongst the people for a change, and made them willing to accept almost any panacea offered them in the hope that thereby conditions may be remedied.

Lack of adequate organization of the rural districts for the proper bringing out of the vote in the Liberal interests, combined with the bad weather conditions are claimed by the leaders of the Liberal campaign as the reason not merely for the defeat of W. G. Charlton, but also for the fact that he is at the bottom of the poll. In support of these contentions, they point to the fact that where the Liberal organization was in good shape, in Aylmer and in Yarmouth heights, Mr. Charlton had a substantial majority.

Farmers Delighted.

The organizers of the Farmer campaign admit that while they were confident of their candidate heading the poll, they were surprised by the majority secured.

According to the officials of both the Conservative and Liberal campaigns, it is quite unlikely that there will be any questioning of the poll. They declare that the election, while a most strenuous one, has also been a clean, square fight, and that no reason has developed for disputing the figures unless the official count should show any material difference in the figures given out by the various polling clerks.

Government Wins in Yale.

Vernon, B.C., Nov. 23—In the Yale by-elections, J. A. MacKelvie, Government candidate, evidently has retained his seat for the Government. A number of small polls in remote districts are as yet unreported, but it is not expected that they will affect the result.

Revision of figures from Vernon and several small centres further diminished the lead of J. A. MacKelvie, Government candidate. He now leads by 163, with fifteen points to report. The figures are: MacKelvie, 5,056; Edgett, 4,893.

FIVE POLLS FOR CIVIC ELECTIONS NEXT FRIDAY

Polling Booths to Be Open From 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.

VOTE IN SCHOOLS

Arrangements for Voting Practically Complete—Light Vote Probable

There will be five polling booths for the electors at the civic elections next Friday, and they have been so placed as to be in five of the large public schools. The polls are as follows: Ward One, King George School; Ward Two, Central School; Ward Three, Park School; Ward Four, Fleming School; and Ward Five, Alexandra School. The polling booths will be open from nine o'clock in the morning until eight o'clock in the evening, and if the weather is favorable on Friday a large vote is expected.

In Ward One the voters will not have an opportunity to cast their ballot for a school trustee or aldermen, as their representatives were elected by acclamation. However, they will vote on the three important questions to be submitted. In all other wards the voters will have a choice either for school trustee or alderman. Arrangements for the handling of the vote on Friday have practically been completed by the Returning Officer, Mr. H. Brown.

RAILWAY BOARD IS NOT READY TO PASS JUDGMENT

On Application by Manitoba for Suspension of Railway Rate Increases

DECIDE ON CONFERENCE

By All Parties Interested to Be Held at Ottawa on Dec. 14

Ottawa, Nov. 23.—Judgment was reserved last evening by the Board of Railway Commissioners in the application of the Manitoba Government for suspension of the railway rate increases granted recently by the board. Chairman F. B. Carvell, in reserving judgment, stated that the Board would make every effort to deal with the matter promptly, and that its written finding might be expected before the end of next week. He stated that many of the questions brought before the Board at the present hearing would be discussed in the judgment.

The Chief Commissioner also announced that there would be an exhaustive investigation into railway rates generally, along lines to be indicated in the pending judgment. It should, he said, be thorough, and the Board was prepared to do its utmost to make it so. If any injustice existed in railway rates, not only in the West, but in any part of the Dominion, it was desirable that it be eliminated. He suggested that, as many counsel were present who would doubtless appear during the investigation, the date of the initial sitting of counsel should be immediately.

Conference Dec. 14.

It was finally decided that a conference between the Board of Railway Commissioners and all parties interested in the railway rate investigation shall be held in Ottawa on December 14th to determine the lines that the investigation shall pursue, and to decide on further dates.

F. H. Phippen, K.C., representing the Grand Trunk Railway, and F. H. Chrysler, K.C., who appeared for the Canadian Railway Association, spoke briefly before the case concluded. The former strongly objected to the contention that the Canadian Pacific Railway should be made the basis for rate increases, and urged that such a course would discourage railway development in Canada. Mr. Chrysler took the ground that the order of the Governor-in-Council, referring back the last judgment of the Board, afforded no ground for suspending the increased rates.

G. R. Geary, K.C., corporation counsel for the city of Toronto, made a plea for a scientific readjustment of freight rates in Canada.

Carvell Says People Content

The Chief Commissioner remarked that he had recently toured the West, and that on only four occasions had the subject of freight rates been brought before him. The people, generally, he believed, were not objecting to the new rates.

Mr. Geary said he was unable to agree with all that Mr. Symington had said regarding discrimination against the West in the matter of rates, but if there was an unfair discrimination it should be righted after investigation.

Two witnesses were produced by the railways to prove that estimates made as to increased freight and passenger rates at the rates hearing in August were too optimistic. They were Assistant Controller Moule, of the C.P.R., and J. B. McLean general auditor of the Grand Trunk. Mr. Moule's estimate in August was that there would be a 20 per cent. increase in freight and a 10 per cent. increase in passenger rates for the last half of 1920, as compared with the same six months in 1919. These figures, he said, would have to be completely revised. For the Grand Trunk, Mr. McLean stated that he had estimated a betterment of 15 per cent. in freight and 5 per cent in passenger rates. As a matter of fact, he said, there would be a decrease in both freight and passenger rates as compared with the last half of 1919.

C.P.R. Earnings Fall

Mr. Moule stated that while in July the C.P.R. increase had been over

MANY MILKMEN MUST CLEAN UP THEIR PREMISES

Otherwise They Will Be Refused a License to Sell Milk in Brandon

SCORE IS KEPT

And Only Those Dealers Who Make Fair Showing Will Be Licensed

Quite a number of Brandon milk men will have their licenses rescinded unless they comply more fully with the bylaws of the city. It was stated this morning that a number of milkmen in Brandon had already been refused licenses recently because they did not comply with the regulations and the Health Department has again issued a warning that the bylaws of the city must be lived up to. It has been the policy of the Department to give the milk dealers every possible opportunity to fulfill the letter of the law and has co-operated with the dealers to this end. However, now that the regulations have been fully explained, and the dealers know just what is required under the bylaws, the lid is going to be put on tight.

Unsanitary premises is given as the cause for the refusal of licenses to a number of milk men. The tests made of the milk shows that practically every test is up to standard as far as the butter fat is concerned. Tests are taken on an average of once a month by the Health Department, and the results recorded. Not only do the Health officials make a test of the milk, but they also examine the premises of the dealer and the conditions existing there. A score sheet is now being kept in the Health Department and it is upon these scores that the licenses next year will be granted. The required score to gain a license for next year is 70 per cent, and a perusal of the records this morning showed many of the milk dealers below that standard.

A new milk bylaw was submitted to the City Council some time ago but was referred back for some further legal consideration. This bylaw provides for a tuberculosis test, and was considered a model bylaw for this [illegible] were of the opinion at the time it came up, that the bylaw had some very stringent clauses. In the meantime the Health Department is working under the old city bylaws.

BETTER MEANS OF CO-OPERATION SOUGHT IN CHILDREN'S AID WORK

Monday afternoon in the Council Chamber of the City Hall a meeting of the executive of the Brandon Children's Aid Society and the committee appointed last Saturday to investigate work done in this connection, was held. Several speakers emphasized the great need of a shelter in Brandon to provide at least a temporary home for children and after a thorough discussion a committee was appointed to see what legislation is to come before the government regarding this matter, how it will apply to the needs of Brandon, and to endeavor to find a better method of co-operation should a provincial organization for Children's Aid work be formed. The members of the committee are: Chairman, Magistrate, A. C. Fraser; Mrs. S. E. Clement, Mr. K. Campbell and Adjutant Tutte.

NAVY LEAGUE CANVASS NETS $2,276 IN CITY

Feature of Canvass Was Collection of $558.20 by the Ladies

SHORT OF OBJECTIVE

Allotment May Have Been Reached if Whole City Had Been Canvassed

The final results of the recent Navy League campaign have now been announced by the secretary, Mr. R. C. Macdonnell. According to the report submitted, Brandon fell somewhat short of the objective set, the quota allotted this city being $3,000. The latest returns show that Brandon City raised a total of $2,276.04. Of this amount the ladies collected $558.20, their efforts towards the objective being possibly the big feature of the drive in Brandon.

Quite a number of canvassers fell down on the job, it is reported, or otherwise it is quite possible that Brandon would have obtained the quota allotted. Despite the handicap met by the local canvassers this city did proportionately better work than Winnipeg in the drive, and local officials who undertook to put the drive over have a reason for congratulation on the success attained.

TRAIN SERVICE INTO DUBLIN AGAIN RESUMED

Monday Night Comparatively Quiet—Curfew Law Strictly Enforced

CONTINUE SEARCH

of Dublin for Suspects Wanted in Connection With Murders

Dublin, Nov. 23.—All train services in and out of Dublin were resumed this morning after the city had passed a night of quiet following Sunday's bloodshed and the raiding activities of yesterday. The curfew law was strictly obeyed. The night however did not witness any let-up in the work of the military who were continuing their minute search of the city, presumably for suspects in connection with Sunday's assassinations. Before the curfew hour, several streets were surrounded by barbed wire barriers and soldiers examined all persons passing.

Treasonable Activity

[illegible] Dublin [illegible] has been tremendous, police and military activity in all parts of the country. Raids, searches and arrests have occurred in all directions. Last evening the city of Dublin was surrounded and was combed by the military and the police. There was incessant firing early in the evening. A boy ten years old and a man of 70 were shot.

There also was much firing in Cork last night, but no fatalities have been reported. Raids by men in lorries were made at the Cork and Queenstown town halls and the residences of the town clerks of these cities. Many documents were seized. Thirty arrests were made at Queentown.

Other places raided include Fermoy, Carrick-on-Shannon, Galway, Listowel, and Clonmel. In nearly all these places documents belonging to the local councils were taken. At Galway those taken into custody included Prof. O'Brien and many students of the college. Some houses in the vicinity of Galway were burned. George Murnaghan, a well-known North of Ireland solicitor and prominent as a Sinn Feiner, was arrested in Omagh. Constable Ryan, who was kidnapped in Cork, Sunday, has been released.

Three Assassins Captured

London, Nov. 23.—Three of the assassins of British officers in Dublin Sunday were captured redhanded with their arms, it was announced in the House of Commons by Sir Hamar Greenwood, the Chief Secretary for Ireland. One of the assassins had been wounded, he added.

Girls played a prominent part. A motor car driven by a nurse, Linda Kerins, which was proceeding towards Dublin late Saturday night, was held up near Sligo and found to contain ten rifles, four pistols and much ammunition. Another report said the men who did the shooting Sunday morning evidently were strangers in Dublin and some of the squads were led to "spotted houses" by girls.

BRANDON MOST NORTHERLY POINT SUNSHINE HIGHWAY

Route Being Logged From Crystal City — Completes Final Link

The Sunshine Highway trail from Brandon to Crystal City is being logged now by Mr. George Nearing, and it is expected that the route will be completed by this evening. Mr. Nearing left Thursday morning and at noon on that day had reached Baldur. The work is being done by Brandon City in order to complete the link and map out a main highway which will run North and South through the United States and thence into Manitoba. The logging of the route from Crystal City to Brandon will give motorists an accurate guide to this city, and will also make Brandon the most Northerly point on the Sunshine Highway at the present time.

The work of logging the route and thus giving an accurate guide to motorists travelling between here and the border was to have been done earlier in the year. On Tuesday evening an inquiry was raised in the City Council as to the progress made in the work. As a result of the inquiry, the City immediately asked Mr. Nearing to proceed with the work, and he left Thursday morning. The city took a membership in the Sunshine Highway Association and under the terms of that membership were to log the route between Crystal City and here. The Sunshine Highway ranks as one of the leading highways in America, and this city's connection with it, should bring many motorists here.

CONSTANTINE'S RETURN TO THRONE TO BE PREVENTED

Allied Nations May Think it Wise to Intervene in the Affairs of Greece

Paris, Nov. 19.—That Allied nations will probably intervene to prevent a return of the former King Constantine to the Greek throne, is the opinion expressed by Charles C. A. Jonnart, former French High Commissioner in Greece, and Denys Cochin, eminent authority on Greek affairs. "It is right and the duty of the protecting powers not to allow Greece, that is stronger than ever, to become a vassal of Germany," declares Jonnart.

CARVELL WILL STILL SIT AS CHAIRMAN IN TELEPHONE RATES CASE

Ottawa, Nov. 19.—Hon. F. B. Carvell, Chairman of the Board of Railway Commissioners, it was learned Thursday, has decided to sit as chairman of the Commission when hearing is resumed of the application of the Bell Telephone Company for an increase in rates. Mr. Carvell presided over the opening sittings at Ottawa at which the Bell Telephone Company put in its ase. Some exception had been taken to the chief commissioner sitting on the case because of his connection as a director and shareholder with the New Brunswick Telephone Company.

'CURLEY' O'NEIL PROVES AN ALIBI AND IS RELEASED

That Removed All Doubt of His Implication in the Tragedy

Winnipeg, Nov. 19—"Curley" O'Neil arrested at Moose Jaw, Sask., and brought to Winnipeg as a suspect in connection with the murders at the Stockyards hotel last Thursday morning, has been released, having given indisputable proof to the authorities that he was not near the scene of the tragedy. Shortly after his arrival in the city on Wednesday the suspected man was confronted with a number of the leading figures in the case but all declared that he was not seen in the vicinity before or after the shooting.

Col. Rattray, Chief of the Provincial Police, in reply to an inquiry last night stated that O'Neil had established a complete alibi and that all doubt having been removed as to his implication in the tragedy in any way, he had been released. The chief added that there were no further developments in the case.

Bullard, the alleged murderer, is still at large and the police of the continent have been furnished with his decription and details of the crime, 10,000 circulars in this connection having been sent out in addition to numerous telegraph messages. The authorities are now almost certain that he has succeeded in getting away from the city, the search for him in every probable haunt having proved futile. Attached to the circulars are four photographs of the man wanted together with a complete description, with an offer of reward of $1,5000 for his arrest and conviction.

The inquest in connection with the death of Provincial Constable James Ukley, the second victim of the tragedy, will be held next Tuesday night at the provincial court house. It is expected that there will be but little to add to the evidence already given at the coroner's inquiry touching Inspector McCurdy's death.

Jack Dineen, the third victim, who lies at St. Boniface hospital, may be considered out of danger, according to the opinions expressed by the physicians attending him. He continued to show gratifying signs of improvement yesterday.

"Curley" O'Neil submitted very quietly to arrest at Moose Jaw. Deputy Chief Townshend and Detective Blundell were driving along the street when they saw O'Neil at the window of Russ McGirr's livery barn. They stopped the car, went in, and arrested him. The accused, according to the newspaper reports had nothing to say, but appeared greatly surprised.

EMERSON GARAGE OWNER KILLED WHEN CAR GOES OVER AN EMBANKMENT

Emerson, Man., Nov. 19. — Victor Parkes, garage owner here, was instantly killed and his companion, Harold G. Whitman, a pioneer merchant of this town, was injured when the car in which they were riding turned turtle at a point three miles from town Thursday night, at about nine o'clock.

The men were going out from Emerson to tow in a disabled car. It is stated that Whitman offered Parkes, who was driving, some biscuits. The machine was going at a slow speed and Parkes took one hand from the steering wheel. The car immediately left the crest of the roadway and headed down the steep grade. The driver made a desperate attempt to bring the vehicle back to the crest of the road, when, it is said, one of the wheels collapsed. The car again turned toward the ditch and overturned.

Parkes was instantly killed, his neck being broken. Whitman was also pinned beneath the car and badly crushed, but hope is entertained for his recovery.

The coroner, Dr. Wallis, investigated the tragedy and deemed an inquest unnecessary.

The deceased was highly esteemed in this district, where he has farmed for a considerable time. Recently he sold his farm, came to reside in the town, and started a garage business here. He is survived by a widow and two children. His parents reside at Ridgeville, fifteen miles from Emerson.

SPLIT IN LABOR PARTY RANKS IN WINNIPEG

Dixon, Farmer, Johanneson, and Two Candidates For Aldermanic Seats, Resign

Winnipeg, Nov. 19.—Disintegration of the Dominion Labor party and partial disorganization of Labor's civic election machinery is the condition into which Winnipeg labor forces have been hurled as a result of factional stubbornness unreservedly manifested at a special meeting of the party held in the Labor temple Thursday night.

F. J. Dixon, President; S. J. Farmer, Vice-President, and S. J. Johanneson, Second Vice-President of the party, effected a dramatic climax to the already overcharged factional atmosphere by tendering their resignations. Mr. Farmer, the party's choice for the mayoralty candidature; Thos. Flye and Mrs. Kirk, selected on the aldermanic slate in Ward 2, have also withdrawn their nominations, and will not enter the civic field as Dominion Labor party candidates.

Several members of Ward two election committee resolved themselves into a caucus following the chaotic conclusion of the meeting. This body decided to call a meeting of ward electors for this evening to organize a campaign committee to support Mr. Farmer as an independent mayoralty candidate, and further to seek the election of the other candidates that withdrew last night.

Bitter hostility on the part of the O.B.U. element in the party directed against W. H. Hoop, selected as candidate in Ward two at the nomination convention of the party, is the chief factor contributing to the break-up of the organization. Continued threats of withdrawal from the D.L.P. slate by Messrs. Farmer, Flye and Kirk, if Mr. Hoop's name were permitted to be placed before the electorate, were reiterated, and this declaration was consummated as a result of the solid stand taken by International members present in support of his candidature.

PEOPLE PREFER TO WALK WHEN WEATHER IS FINE

Splendid Weather Knocks Great Holes in Street Railway Earnings

While the splendid weather this Fall is enjoyable, it has played havoc with street railway earnings during the month of October. Figures presented by the Street Railway Department show a decrease in revenue for that month over the same month of 1919 of $153.05. This is a considerable sum when it is taken into consideration that the increased fares were in effect this year and not in 1919. The weather is so good that people prefer to walk. Consequently the street railway earnings took a slump.

The decrease is better shown by the number of passengers carried during the month of October. For that month 46,795 passengers were carried as compared to 62,389 carried in the same month in 1919, or a decrease of 15,694. The total receipts for last month were $2,914.10 while in October, 1919 the receipts were $3,067.25.

A better showing was made by the Street Railway Department in September according to the report. The total number of passengers carried was 46,506 while the revenue amounted to $2,914.20. In September, 1919, the total number of passengers carried was 49,220 while the receipts were $2,901.30. It will be seen by these figures that the splendid weather has played a big part in pulling down the revenue of the street railway, as more people rode in September, 1919 than in September of this year, but the increased fares gave a larger revenue that month than last year.

PRACTICALLY ALL THE MONTREAL CLOTHING FACTORIES ARE CLOSED

Montreal, Nov. 19.—Wage readjustment negotiations have begun between the Clothing Manufacturers' Association and the Montreal Joint Board of Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, with a view to solving the problems of the clothing industry, which have placed, so it is claimed, more than 5,000 of the 6,000 members of the union out of work and have closed practically every factory, large or small, in Montreal.

The failure of the public to buy clothes, in spite of the reduced prices at which many retailers are now sacrificing their goods, has halted production and brought about a virtual stagnation of the industry, from which there is no indication of immediate recovery.

INDEMNITY NOT TAX IS $6 TO $8 PER ACRE

In the act respecting District Hail Insurance the indemnity, not the tax as stated in Thursday's issue, is from six to eight dollars per acre. The tax will be levied according to the amount of hail damage done. Some of the farmers are under the erroneous impression that the tax is from six to eight dollars and they are asked to specially note that this is not the case.

SOVIET DOES NOT CONTROL RUSSIA SAYS U. S. REPORT

Bolsheviki Can Only Hold a Few Places at a Time—People Are Hungry

Washington, Nov. 19.—State Department officials said today that advices from various sources showed conclusively that the Soviet government was not in control of Russia, even now. That the Bolsheviki were able to hold only a few places at a time and concentrated their strength in Petrograd and Moscow, and that even in those cities the people are suffering for food. The Soviet, the departments advices state, has practically no control in Siberia.

WINNIPEG CHIEF WANTS 100 EXTRA POLICE OFFICERS

Winnipeg, Nov. 19.—There are rapid-fire developments in Winnipeg's determined action to rid the city of gunmen such as those who dealt death to two provincial police officers at the Stockyards Hotel last Thursday, Mayor Charles F. Gray's announcement on Wednesday that the underworld gangsters and thugs must go, was followed within 24 hours by the following results:

Thugdom answered the challenge by staging five daring holdups in various parts of the city.

Chris. F. Newton, Chief of Police, declared Winnipeg cleaner of crime than most metropolitan cities, but asked for 100 additional men to give the city maximum police protection.

Four Ordered Away

Sir Hugh John Macdonald, Police Court Magistrate, started the deportation movement urged by the Mayor by ordering four vagrants, known as police characters, out of the city within 24 hours.

Mayor Gray called a special meeting of the Police Commission for today, when he will recommend a strong force of plainclothes men be engaged at once to assist the present city police force.

Five more hold-ups were added to Winnipeg's list of violent crimes Wednesday night. The dense fog which engulfed the city was used by the hold-up men to screen their operations and also give them the opportunity of making a quick getaway.

Mrs. Ted Freeman was stopped by an armed and masked man on Notre Dame Avenue, near Young Street, about six p.m. She was compelled to hand over her purse, which the robber threw away after taking three or four dollars which it contained. The hold-up man also searched Mrs. Freeman for jewelry.

Hardy Foster was attacked by two men at eight o'clock at the corner of McDermot Avenue and Ellen Street. They knocked him down but when he started to yell for help they made a quick disapearance in the fog.

Fred Ross, street car conductor, while walking on Maryland Street, near St. Matthew's Avenue, at 8.30 p.m., was jumped on and robbed by two men. They secured $18.

Screened by the thick fog Wednesday night a purse snatcher grabbed a purse from Miss Minnie Kurt on Main Street, at the corner of Stella Avenue. She screamed and Thomas Goldovsky, operator at the Midland Railway, who was passing at the time, tripped up the purse snatcher, took the purse away from him and returned it to its owner. In cheques and money the purse contained about $60.

Aided by Goldovsky, two or three passers by held the robber until the arrival of a policeman. He was taken to the police station, and gave the name of Harold Gallagher.

CANADIAN COLONY IN PARIS VISITED HUGE CEMETERIES

Where Canadian Soldiers Are Buried, on All Saint's Day, November 1st

In an interesting letter from France Mrs. L. G. Giraud, formerly of this city, who is now residing in Paris, gives an account of the memorial ceremonies in the cemeteries at Vimy on November 1st. Part of the letter, and an article from the Daily Mail, describing the ceremony, follows:

"November 1st was All Saints' Day and France turned out en masse to visit her dead, and there were ceremonies in all the cemeteries to the fallen heroes. We joined the Canadian party and went to Arras. Lens, Souchez and Vimy Ridge, stopping at four British and French cemeteries where there were Canadian boys buried.

"One's heart aches for the people who lived happily once in this now devasted country, and who even now, are living in temporary makeshift homes and puting their land back into shape. One cannot realize that our soldiers lived there until one has seen the battle fields, the trenches and the dugouts. Two weeks ago we visited Verdun and it is beyond description or belief what that country is like. We would advise anyone thinking of visiting the battlefields to go soon, as in some places they are rebuilding and removing the scars of conflict, and there will not be much of interest left in a short time."

Arras, Monday, Nov. 1.

"The sun was shining brightly on the battlefields of Vimy Ridge, Arras, and Lens today when a delegation of the Canadian colony of Paris visited them. Every Canadian grave was decorated with flags and flowers, and at the central monuments large wreathes were placed.

In many places the French country folk had visited the graveyards already and placed humble tributes of flowers grown in cottage gardens.

The principal celebration was at the cemetery of La Cahandiere, near Vimy, where 1,200 Canadian soldiers are buried. The Canadian High Commisioner, the Hon. Philippe, made a short speech.

LABOR MINISTER DEFENDS MEIGHEN AND PREDECESSOR

St. Thomas, Nov. 19—Speaking here last night in the interests of the Government candidate in the East Elgin by-election, Hon. G. D. Robertson, Minister of Labor, defended the Meighen Government and its predecessor in office against the charges of being a tool of big interests. He gave several instances where he said big interests had been foiled, including the Business Profits tax, which had already netted ten million dollars. He declared the lowering of the Ontario tariff and removal of the British preference would mean the closing of many, if not all, of the two hundred branch factories of United States concerns now in Canada, as well as seriously interfering with many purely Canadian industries and that this eventually would work to the direct disadvantage of the farming interests.

King Speaks at Aylmer

Aylmer, Ont., Nov. 19.—The Liberal leader's address last night was a sweeping condemnation of the Meighen Government and he urged the electors of East Elgin to register their disapproval of that Government's record by defeating their candidate. The election of the Government candidate, while it would in reality be merely a measure of the folly of the progressive forces in allowing themselves to be divided in the face of a reactionary nominee would nevertheless be construed by the Government as a ground for their continuing in office, irrespective of the wishes of the people of the Dominion as a whole.

BIG MAIL ROBBERY WAS PLANNED BY BAND OF BOYS: THREE ARRESTED

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 19.—The Burlington mail robbery in Council Bluffs, Saturday, probably the largest of its kind in history, in which $3,500,000 was stolen, was planned and executed by a band of boys scarcely out of their teens. Four of the boys have been arrested, three of whom are said to have confessed, and $1,000,000 of the plunder has been recovered.

OTTAWA WOMAN GIVES BIRTH TO 21st CHILD

Ottawa, Nov. 19. — Mrs. Albert Schingh, wife of a well-known Ottawa resident, has just given birth to her twenty first child, a boy. Mr. and Mrs. Schingh were married here twenty-six years ago.

GREAT MAIL ROBBERY NOW BEING CLEARED UP: TEN PERSONS ARRESTED

Council Bluffs, Iowa, Nov. 19. — Seven more arrests, one confession, recovery of a large amount of money all in ten dollar bills, and the discovery of an automobile last night, resulted today in clearing up the mystery surrounding the $350,000 mail robbery in the local yards Saturday night. Ten persons in all are under arrest.

POLISH PASSPORTS FOR CANADA ARE NOT GENUINE

Berlin, Nov. 19.—Investigation here has disclosed that many Polish passports for Canada, the U. S. and Mexico were fraudulent and the vises forged. The disclosure followed the investigation into the recent labor troubles in Belgium, which the authorities believe were fomented by Russian agitators. Therefore the Belgian Government instituted an inquiry here.

Information obtained by the British passport office in Berlin also led to the discovery that numerous holders of Polish passports vised for the U. S. were seeking to enter England on the representation that their passage had been paid on liners from English ports. Forged receipts for the passage are said to have been shown.

The British passport office refuses vises now for transit through England until the holders produce steamship tickets.

It is stated that about fifty arrests have been made in Belgium in connection with the fraud, but the Belgian consulate is not willing to discuss the matter in case wholesale arrests should be necessary. The destination of most of the emigrants who have gnoe to Belgium, it is understood, is Mexico, from which country they think they will be able later to enter the U. S. and Canada.

All the passport officers in Berlin are exercising the utmost caution, but the authorities say it is virtually impossible to weed out all the undesirables. William Coffin, the U. S. Consul-General, estimated that about 1,000,000 persons will have passed through European ports for the U. S. by the end of year, a majority of them from Poland.

MANY CHANGES ARE ADVOCATED BY FARMERS' PARTY

Farmer Members of Manitoba Legislature Draw up Platform — 24 Planks

TO AID AGRICULTURE

Several Planks Designed to Better Position of Those on Land

Winnipeg, No. 19.—Pledging themselves to a Provincial referendum on the liquor question; to the abolition of direct taxation for the purpose of supplying patriotic funds; the abolition of boards and commissions in government, to the creation of a labor portfolio in the Provincial Cabinet; and to a rigid policy of Provincial economy, the newly formed Independent Farmers' Party in the Provincial House, yesterday drew up its platform, containing twenty-four planks, many of them designed for the expansion and the protection of agriculture in the province. The platform was made public today.

In the preamble it is stated that the party has in view the entire elimination of party patronage, party friend privileges and party corporation privileges, "which have heretofore been the curse of past Governments."

The platform includes the following clauses: Establishment of Provincially controlled abbatoirs in cold storage plants; increased taxation on non-productive lands; return of natural resources to the province; the completion of the Hudson's Bay Railway; a vigorous Good Roads policy and a cabinet portfolio for proper supervision and application of an automobile license tax and to good roads expenditure; the provision of adequate educational facilities to give every child an elementary education and a thorough knowledge of the English language; promotion of the status of the pensions system for teachers. GREENWOOD NAILS LIE ON THE FLOOR OF BRITISH HOUSE

Telegram from Clerk of Tipperary Proven False by Officer's Report

MANY SUCH TALES

Authorities in Ireland Are Doing Their Utmost to Suppress Reprisals

London, Nov. 17.—William Adamson, Labor member, announced in the House last night that the Labor Party had received a telegram from the Town Clerk of Tipperary, saying that Tipperary is being burned by Crown forces who cut the fire hose and were preventing the firemen from working by threatening to use revolvers. Adamson demanded a discussion of the matter. Sir Hamer Greenwood said he had received a telegram from the District Inspector at Tipperary to the effect that the Inspector's men had assisted in extinguishing a fire Monday night, and that yesterday the town was quiet and the story of its being burned was absolutely untrue. Sir Hamar added that this report was characteristic of many of the unofficial statements being circulated. He declared the authorities are doing their utmost to suppress reprisals.

Cork, Nov. 17.—Four staff officers in civilian clothing were abducted from a train proceeding from Cork to Skibbereen. They were on their way to outposts.

Support Railwaymen

Dublin, Nov. 17.—The Irish Trades' Union Congress held a session here Tuesday at which the 1,000 delegates passed a resolution of moral support for the railwaymen in their determination not to move the military or munitions. The resolution urged Irishmen of all classes to employ their entire wealth and other resources in the struggle. It was stated that if a solution of the situation was not found, the 15,000 railwaymen would be made idle, with a consequent demoralization of industries.

The congress adhered to the policy of the British laborites for an adjustment of the Irish situation, including the withdrawal of the armed forces of the Crown, and the calling of a constituent assembly to draw up a constitution which would protect minorities and prevent Ireland from becoming a naval or military menace.

The conference declared its willingness to advocate acceptance of this program.

Dublin Bank Robbed

Dublin, Nov. 17. — Three robbers, styling themselves as secret service men, entered a branch bank here Tuesday and escaped with all available cash.

Vengeance Gang at Work

Montreal, Nov. 17.—The Montreal Star publishes the following under date of Cork:

Three men, one an English officer, were dragged from a Cork-Skibbereen train last night by kidnappers.

The officer was believed to have been in the court-martial which sentenced Lord Mayor McSweney to jail on charges of sedition.

A Sinn Fein Court was reported to have passed sentence on the "murderers of Terence McSweney." It was declared all those connected with his imprisonment would be sentenced and that the penalty would be exacted.

British officers have watched carefully for any attempt to carry out the threats. One "vengeance band" which set out for England immediately after McSweney's death, was broken up, it is alleged.

GREEKS MAY VOTE ON RETURN OF FORMER KING

Panic on Bourse When Defeat of Venizelos Became Certain

Athens, Nov. 17.—There are rumors that it is possible that the Greek army, which is supposed to be loyal to former Premier Venizelos, may create the Republic of Smyrna in Asia Minor. The present regency has been recognized by the opposition. The people will likely vote upon the return of form King Constantine. There was panic on the Bourse when it became certain that the Venizelist Government had been defeated. The dollar is doubling in value. The city is quiet, and Parliament House is occupied by the troops.

GRAND JURY REPORT PRESENTED TODAY

Contains Commendations and Recommendations Regarding Public Institutions

Commendations and recommendations were made in the Grand Jury's report presented to Chief Justice Mathers at the sitting of the Fall Assizes, this morning. The Jury visited the Provincial Jail, the Brandon General Hospital, the ruins of the old Winter Fair building and the Hospital for the Insane. Following their report to the Chief Justice, the Grand Jury was dismissed, their services at the present Assizes having been concluded.

Nine male prisoners are at present serving sentence in the Provincial Jail. No complaints were received from the inmates, and the building was scrupulously clean and well looked after. Certain recommendations were made with regard to a cut-off valve in the heating system, and that the North side of the jail grounds be sown in grass seed.

Overcrowding at Hospital

An overcrowded condition was found by the Jury at the Brandon General Hospital. The patients are well looked after by a competent and bright staff of nurses, who cheerfully perform their duties, although handicapped with equipment that is out of date. A recommendation was made that the medical section of the building should be refitted and modernized as soon as circumstances will allow. There are at present, seventy-three patients in the hospital. Every bed was found occupied and there were even cots in the corridors and the Acting Superintendent informed the Grand Jury that if the accommodation was doubled it would be none too great.

The fact was almost made known to the Grand Jury that the Hospital Board is thoroughly alive to the great need that exists in this Western part of the Province for a thoroughly equipped and up-to-date hospital. The plans for such a hospital have already been drawn up and it was originally planned to commence work on these new buildings this Fall, but owing to the unsettled state of the markets, both labor and material, it was thought wise not to proceed with the work until the coming Spring. It is intended then to push the completion of the buildings by Fall of 1921.

Recommend Government Aid

Visiting the ruins of the old Winter Fair building, the Grand Jury view the recent fire a calamity, insofar at least as the live stock and poultry industry of the Province is concerned. They therefore suggest that both the Provincial and Dominion Governments render substantial financial aid towards the reconstruction of the building in order that the splendid work may be carried on.

Hospital for Insane

The folowing are some of the extracts from the report made on the Hospital for the Insane by the Grand Jury:

The Main building is an imposing four story structure of red brick. To the East of it are the stables, and other farm buildings, unfortunately in too great proximity and occupying both sides of a ravine, that could readily be made a beautiful part of the grounds. To the immediate right and left of the main building, are, now in the course of erection, the Reception Hospital and Nurses' Home, respectively.

A mile further North is situated, what is known as the "Colony Building," a new unit for patients of a chronic type. It is practically completed and will be occupied within the next few days and will accommodate eighty-two male patients. It is designed to give the maximum amount of light and ventilation. From the standpoint of these great problems of Hospital construction, it leaves little to be desired and the institution is to be congratulated in having at it's disposal so fine a building. It is understood that a similar unit is to be constructed for the female patients, and it is recommended that this be carried into effect as soon as possible.

A Pathological Laboratory

A Pathological Laboratory has been opened and is being equipped. This will add greatly to the facility for the investigation and treatment of the patients of the Institution.

The Nurses' Home is under construction and work is being pushed in this connection. Whe completed it will provide comfortable accommodation for about seventy nurses. This should help to attract to the great work of nursing the mentally ill, a sufficient number of intelligent women. We are pleased to learn that it is proposed to establish a Training School for nurses.

The main defects of the old building are the dark corridors, and a number of insuciciently lighted dormitories. Owing to the massive construction of the walls, these defects it would be almost impossible to correct. In the new buildings such defects are absolutely done away with.

Recommendations

Following the mention made by the Grand Jury on the water supply to the Hospital for the Insane, and the fact that a plentiful supply of water is now available, the Jury makes the following recommendations:

That the construction of the new buildings be pushed with all speed, to relieve the serious congestion in the main building.

That the occupational, industrial and laboratory departments be organized as rapidly as possible, in order that those who are unfortunate enough to be mentally ill may receive every assistance available.

That in future all public buildings be let by tender under duly authorized supervision. We consider this system more economical.

That the cemetery now situated near the barns ,and in close proximity to the Hospital buildings be moved to a more suitable site, at a reasonable distance; and that the graves be marked in a more permanent and appropriate way.

That a suitable slaughter house be erected at once.

TO STANDARDIZE HOSPITAL WORK IN MANITOBA

Manitoba Hospital Association Formed at a Meeting in Winnipeg

As the result of a meeting held by the Manitoba Medical Association in the Medical College, Winnipeg, on Tuesday, a Provincial Hospital Association was formed. Those present at the meeting from this city included Miss C. N. McLeod, acting Superintendent of the Brandon General Hospital, Dr. W. A. Bigelow and Mr. J. S. Willmott. Dr. Bigelow and Magistrate A. C. Fraser of this city were appointed members of the executive council of the newly formed association. The object of the Provincial Hospital Association is to standardize the work of hospitals within the province and to improve the service for the public generally.

The officers of the new association are as follows: Honorary President, Sir James Aikins; President, Dr. George F. Stevens, Winnipeg; Vice-President, J. J. Garland, Portage la Prairie; Secretary, Miss Mary E. Martin; Treasurer, Dr. Glen Hamilton. It was decided to form an executive council of fourteen, seven representatives from Winnipeg and seven from the larger outside points in the province. This council will appoint representatives from the smaller towns in Manitoba where there are hospitals.

A representative number of doctors and nurses prominent in medical work in Manitoba were present at the meeting at which plans were made for the work of the association during the Winter.

EAST ELGIN FIGHT TAKES THE PALM FOR HOT ELECTIONS

Crerar Introduced as Next Premier of Canada, at Port Burwell

Port Burwell, Ont., Nov. 17.—Despite a driving snow storm which swept the country side from early evening, several hundred persons gave an enthusiastic reception to Hon. T. A. Crerar, ex-Minister of Agriculture, and other prominent men, who spoke in the local Odd Fellows' hall in support of S. S. McDermand, the U.F.O. candidate for East Elgin. It was the first appearance of Mr. Crerar in this riding during the present campaign.

Although the leader of the United Farmers' movement in Canada devoted much time to the tariff question and to criticizing the Federal government, he did not use his heaviest artillery last night and admitted he was holding much in reserve for the meetings to be held in Aylmer and St. Thomas, which he considers will be the most important of the whole campaign.

W. E. Burnaby introduced him as the next Premier of Canada and the crowd in one accord broke into cheers. In common with the other speakers, the ex-minister made comments on the number of speakers brought into the riding during the campaign. He said that he had seen many hot elections, but East Elgin certainly took the palm.

ELIMINATION OF SPECULATION WILL BENEFIT PRODUCER

Committee of Seventeen in U. S. Has No Plan to Form Farmers Combine

Chicago, Nov. 17.—On behalf of the farmers' marketing committee of seventeen, recently appointed by the American Farm Bureau Federation, C. V. Gregory, editor of a farm journal here, issued a statement denying that the committee had adopted any plan for marketing wheat. Recent reports had said that the Committee, of which Mr. Gregory is a member, was about to float a giant wheat combine.

"The Committee of Seventeen was appointed to study grain marketing and work out plans to prevent fluctuations in prices which are a hardship both to producer and consumer," said Mr. Gregory. "No member of the committee has suggested the formation of a grain 'combine' or 'trust.' The Federal Trade Commission has not been asked for advice as to the formation of any 'combine.'

"The question of handling the grain crop of 1921 through a 'combine,' or of contracting with growers to deliver their crops to such a 'combine' for a period of five to seven years, has never been discussed by the committee, and no proposal that the Government be made a party to any wheat 'combine' has been made by any member of the committe.

"The Committee of Seventeen realized that the public must not be asked to pay inflated prices for grain, and in any plan or grain marketing that may be proposed the interests of the public will be fully safeguarded. If some means can be found to keep grain prices on a fairly stable basis both the producing and handling costs will be reduced and both producer and consumer will benefit.

"Unrestricted speculation in grain benefits no one but the speculator. The elimination of undue speculation will benefit the consumer as much as the producer.

"The Committee of Seventeen believe, too, that any drop in wheat prices should be passed on to the consumer as quickly as possible, and that there is something wrong in a distributing system that compels consumers to pay war prices for bread when wheat is selling for more than a dollar below war levels."

U. S. MAIL ROBBERS MADE RICH HAUL

Losses Will Total at Least $3,500,000, According to Newspaper Report

Council Bluffs, Iowa, Nov. 17.—Loss in the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy mail car robbery here last Saturday night will total at least $3,500,000, according to a story published by the Council Bluffs Evening Nonpariel. This, according to the newspaper, became known when additional post office officials came to assist local investigators in a check of the insurance on the stolen mail pouches.

One sack, which was found ripped open, contained $800,000 in Government bonds, the investigators said. The bonds were en route from San Francisco to Washington and it was believed that a larger amount than that had been contained in the bag.

Officers made a thorough search, but no more sacks were recovered.

Merle Phillips, 20 year old mail sorter on the train, sticks to his story that he merely stood watch on the locomotive while two others did the actual robbing, but officers assert they are convinced he is witholding valuable information.

Vessels of her size, 4,880 tons, usually carry a crew of 45 to 50 men.

EUROPE STILL FAR FROM PAYING WAY ALL REPORTS SHOW

Weakness of Continental Exchange is Liable to Continue Indefinitely

Ottawa, Nov. 17.—There are few indications of any improvement in exchange conditions as between European countries and Canada and the United States, according to the best advices received here. The startling fact was revealed in a public finance report at the financial conference of the Allied Governments held in Brussels some time ago, that three out of the four nations represented will have budget deficits this year, which means that three-quarters of the civilized world is not paying its way in the second year after the cessation of hostilities.

Under the circumstances financial experts state, that no surprise need be felt if the weakness of Continental exchange is indefinitely continued.

DR. GODFREY, M.P.P. DENOUNCES RANEY TO CONSERVATIVES

Says He Will Not Rest Until Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin Has Been Prosecuted

Toronto, Nov. 17.—Dr. Forbes Godfrey, M.P.P. for West York, in an address last night to Conservatives of Ward 8, denounced Attorney-General Raney for not prosecuting Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin for shooting and killing Beverley Trumble of Sandwich. Dr. Godfrey said a minister of the gospel should not have been appointed license inspector. "I don't believe the people of this province will rest" Dr. Godfrey declared, "and I certainly will not rest in the legislature, until this has been done. I would say further that every amateur preventive officer in Essex County should be discharged."

Spracklin Would Welcome Trial

Toronto, Nov. 17.—On the question of whether or not Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin, special license inspector at Windsor, will be tried for the shooting and killing of Beverley Trumble, hotel proprietor at Sandwich, Ont., Attorney W. E. Raney said Tuesday that he would decide what action the Crown should take after he had read the evidence taken in the inquest.

Hon. Mr. Raney pointed out that the verdict of a Coroner's jury need not be accepted by the Crown as final.

The Toronto Daily Star quotes Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin as saying at Exeter, Ont., last Sunday: "Personally, I should welcome a trial." The Star says that Rev. Mr. Spracklin intimated that the reason his enemies had not pressed the matter was because startling things would come to light if he were tried. Not the least of these, Mr. Spracklin said, according to the Star, was that the dead bodies of at least two women had been surreptitiously removed from a roadhouse by an undertaker in the dead of night.

KIWANIANS NOW PLANNING FOR HUGE CHRISTMAS TREE

From Which Gifts May Be Given Children on Thursday, Dec. 23rd

A monster Christmas celebration for the children of Brandon is now being planned by the local Kiwanis Club for December 23rd. The largest available evergreen tree will be procured and placed on the City Hall grounds, and the Kiwanians will ask the city to light the tree up appropriately. A myriad of colored lights in the big tree will show up the hundreds of Christmas gifts that will be given away to the children.

At least one Christmas gift will be presented to every child that comes before the Christmas tree that night. Care will be taken that there will be no duplication of gifts, and it is proposed to have the children line up and parade in front of the Kiwanis tree. Further plans for the big celebration to take place on Thursday, December 3rd, are now under way.

Some men have such a hatred for greed that it worries them if others make more money than they do.

COUNCIL GRANTS $2,000 TOWARDS POULTRY SHOW

To Enable Brandon Poultry Association to Rebuild Equipment and Hold Fair

SECOND IN CANADA

Provincial Poultry Show Held Here Last Year Second Largest in Dominion

A grant of $2,000 has been made by the City Council to the Brandon Poultry Association. At the regular meeting held on Tuesday evening, a delegation from the Association appeared before the City Fathers and asked for the generous support of the City in re-establishing the Provincial Poultry Show to be held here possibly in March. During the recent fire in the old Winter Fair building the Poultry Association lost all the hen coops and material, just at a time when they were reaching their greatest success.

Mr. N. W. Kerr was the first speaker to be heard from the Poultry Association delegation and he pointed out to the City Council that over 2,000 coops had been destroyed in the recent fire. The local Association is very anxious to hold the Provincial Show here as usual, and he asked the Council to make an immediate grant of $2,000 so that the Provincial Government could be approached for a similar grant. He said that it was planned to raise about $10,500 for the Poultry Association, and it would take all of this amount to provide accommodation for another record entry at the annual show early next Spring. Mr. Kerr mentioned the fact that the Association had been built up by the enterprise of local men and that not one red cent had ever gone into their pockets for the work they had done. In answer to a query, Mr. Kerr said it is planned to hold the next show in the Gordon McKay building.

If Brandon doesn't make an effort to hold the Provincial Show here next Spring, it will probably mean that this city will lose it, said Mr. W. I. Smale, who supported the delegation. At present it is the second best show in the Dominion of Canada, the poultry show at Guelph alone exceeding the local show in point of size. Mr. G. R. Coldwell, K.C., also added his support, claiming that it is good business on the part of the city to maintain the poultry show here. The Summer and Winter Fairs need at all times the support of the city, and the Poultry Department formed one of the largest departments of the Winter Fair, and was therefore worthy of the City Council's best support. The poultry show had given a name to the city, and was one of the real advertising agencies Brandon had.

Splendid tributes to the men who conducted the poultry show and their work in connection with it, were paid by several of the aldermen. It was stated during the time that the City Fathers spoke in favor of the grant, that other Western cities contributed $500 annually to their poultry shows, while Brandon City had not given a cent since 1912. Every alderman present added his support to the application for the grant, and a resolution was passed by the City Fathers giving an immediate grant of $2,000 to the local poultry Association to assist them in holding the Provincial Show here and in rebuilding their equipment.

FARMERS FIND NEWSPAPER A POOR INVESTMENT

Aberdeen, S. D., Nov. 22.—The North-West Square Deal, non-partisan league daily newspaper here, is in the hands of a receiver. A petition filed in circuit court Tuesday by stockholders states that farmers of this vicinity invested $51,585.52 in cash and notes in support of the paper since January of this year. In addition, a mortgage of $6,000 against the real estate of the newspaper and a running indebtedness of $1,500 monthly, is said to have been incurred by the publication. The mortgaged plant is the sole asset of the firm, stockholders declare.

HEAVY SNOW STORM SWEEPS OVER ALL SOUTH ONTARIO

New York State Suffers Also From Heavy Fall of Snow

TRAFFIC DEMORALIZED

Shortage of Coal Actually Felt During Early Cold Spell

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 17.—All Southern Ontario is storm-swept and in many centres business is more or less affected by the inability of employes to get down to their factories and shops.

Reports from New York State show that many cities are snowbound. Buffalo had more than a foot of snow and traffic is demoralized. Niagara Falls had the first snow of the season. In some towns on the United States side, shortage of coal is causing real suffering. Western New York is digging itself out of a heavy blanket of snow and sleet to find wire communication badly crippled by the storm. The train service is nearly demoralized, and coal bins are still empty.

DEFEAT OF WRANGEL DOES NOT END FIGHT AGAINST THE REDS

Declares Wrangel's Special Envoy in Paris—"We Will Never Give Up" He Said

Paris Nov. 17.—The defeat of General Baron Wrangel will not end the fight against the Bolsheviki, Basile Maklakoff, special envoy in Paris for Wrangel, declared here today. "We will never give up the struggle. There are other ways besides the use of arms and munitions, and perhaps the fight will continue along bloodless lines." Wrangel's third army is still intact in the Ukraine and this could form the basis of a new military movement, he said.

Ukrainians Evacuate Kiev

Warsaw, Nov 17.—Ukrainians evacuated Kiev and other towns they had occupied and are fleeing defeated before the new Russian Soviet offensive. Bolsheviki Cavalry has swept through Ukrainian lines at various points.

MANITOBA POTATO YIELD IS POOR STATES REPORT

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 17. — An increased potato yield for the whole of Canada is reported by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The harvest for the whole Dominion is represented by 133,527,000 buhsels from 784,544 acres, as compared with 125,574,900 bushels from 818,787 acres in 1919. The average yield per acre for 1920 is 176½ bushels compared with 153½ bushels last year.

Manitoba had a particularly poor potato season, the average yield being only 91 bushels per acre against 126 last year.

ELECTION RESULTS

Election results in East Elgin, Ontario, and Yale-Cariboo, British Columbia, have resulted in a victory and a defeat for the Government forces. In Yale Cariboo, the Government candidate, J. MacKelvie, won the seat in a close contest with Col. C. Edgett, who ran as an Independent with the endorsation of the Soldier, Farmer and Labor forces. Early returns indicate that the majority was small. In East Elgin, there was a three-cornered fight. The Government candidate was J. L. Stansell, S. S. McDermand carried the banner of the United Farmers, and W. G. Charlton was the Liberal nominee. The returns show that the fight was between the Government and Farmer candidates, with the Liberal a poor third.

The heaviest artillery of the opposing forces was turned loose in both constituencies, and previous to the voting there was the utmost confidence of success in the different camps.

The result of the elections, a win and a loss, can hardly be said to be a decisive pronouncement for or against the Government. The result in East Elgin, is what was generally expected. The rural vote is overwhelmingly large in that constituency, and eight thousand of the eleven on the list, went to the polls. That constituency, in the Federal elections held on December 17, 1917, returned a Government candidate with a small majority, 308. W. G. Charlton the Opposition candidate recognized by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, polled 2,283 votes, while in the election on Monday, he was early quoted as receiving less than two thousand, though there were three thousand more votes cast. The Government candidate in the 1917 election, polled 2,591 votes, and on Monday hastily compiled returns give him 2,355. Charlton was the Liberal candidate in both elections while it was the death of the Government standard bearer, David Marshall, that made an election necessary.

[illegible] the contest it was recognized that the decision lay between Stansell, Government candidate, and the Farmer candidate, McDermand. The United Farmers are very strong in Ontario and the prestige gained when the Lieutenant Governor asked Mr. Drury to form a Government, made their candidate a strong contender, and his election no great surprise. Indeed his defeat would have indicated that the Farmer movement has passed the crest, and there is no political event which justifies such an assertion. The fact that Stansell is a farmer was the chief hope for a division of the farmer vote.

The fight in Yale-Cariboo was between a supporter of the Meighen Government and an Independent who had the support of Liberals, Soldiers and Labor. In the 1917 election, Yale returned Hon. Martin Burrell by acclamation and Cariboo gave the Government candidate a large majority. That Mr. J. McKelvie was successful against the efforts of the combined factions opposed to him and endorsing an Independent candidate is some solace to the Government, for the candidature of a soldier always has prestige with large numbers of people.

Though the Meighen Government has lost a supporter it has no reason to be discouraged. In fact it is encouraging to consider that one brief tour by the Prime Minister and a colleague, has done so much to offset the campaign of calumny which has raged with unequalled vigor for more than three years.

ATTEND THE CONVENTION

The first convention of the Religious Education Council of Manitoba is to be held in Brandon this week. This is the fortieth annual Sunday School convention in Manitoba. The sessions commence Wednesday afternoon and continue morning, afternoon and evening until the close, on Friday night. All who are interested in religious education are invited to attend the meetings, and Manitoba Sunday Schools are expected to send one or more delegates. It is estimated that the convention will bring at least two hundred persons who are directly interested in this work, to this city.

The gathering is undenominational in character, and among the speakers who will attend are men and women foremost in religious educational work in this province. It is a fine thing at this time when the steadying influences of religious teaching and thought are so badly needed, that Brandon people should have the opportunity of hearing addresses of the character that will be given at this convention. In order to derive the maxium benefit, every one who can attend the sessions should do so.

BUILD UP BRANDON

Members of the Board of Trade reflected the will of this community when they decided to get under the campaign for funds for extensions which Brandon College is making.

The following statement may be said to fairly describe the attitude of many:

"We have been anxious too long about the future of Brandon College. The time has come when we ought to do something in a big way and put it on its feet once and for all."

Others have expressed the same thoughts in different language. Brandon has decided to do it. It now remains for each one to consider his individual position. This is no time to "Let George do it." If this is the way the solution is to be sought, it will never be found. The time to make a supreme effort is now, and no doubt George will feel like helping with the rest. If this is, as some think, the greatest thing Brandon ever attempted, it calls for the greatest effort, and can never be achieved if any large element in the community refuses to do its best. Each must go the limit as an example to the other fellow.

Another important factor is the decision to do it now. An effort is being made to raise $500,000 before Spring. In order to make this possible, Brandon people must make their subscriptions promptly. A great deal of ground is to be covered and this can only be gotten over, provided there is no delay, hesitation or procrastination. Brandon people will render assistance by giving canvassers a careful hearing, and then digging down deep in their pockets.

By doing so, a bigger and better Brandon is sure to result.

PRICES AND METHODS

Any one who has watched the wheat market knows that prices are steadily declining. Some interested spectators insist that grain prices are fixed by gamblers through the medium of grain exchanges. These insist that the continued decline is due to the malignant influence of the exchanges. Without holding any brief for the grain exchanges, it is permissable to point out that the decline in prices is not confined solely to wheat. Much more marked declines have been recorded, and the end is not yet.

A bushel of No. Two Northern wheat marketed in Brandon, will today, pay for thirteen pounds of sugar. Sugar has taken a tremendous drop, and in the handling of sugar there is nothing that corresponds even remotely to the grain exchange with its provisions for buying and selling for future delivery.

Sugar, of course, is but one commodity. It is also one that there has been much speculation in. But the shrinkage in price that it has undergone is similar to the decrease that has been brought about without the possibility of trading in futures.

The Dominion Government can hardly be blamed for refusing to appoint another Wheat Board. World prices are falling and those who abused the Government for naming a Board on a rising market, would yelp in chorus, and with much greater effect over the operations of a Board on falling market.

There is a change coming in the methods of marketing wheat, but it is not likely to arrive until the public is thoroughly convinced that the present system is not anywhere so efficient as some other. Experience is the great teacher.

BRANDON MUST DO ITS SHARE

Plans for the extension and enlargement of Brandon College, as outlined at the Board of Trade meeting last week, show faith, courage and vision. A rough sketch was presented and explained by Pres. Whidden. The program calls for the construction in the very near future of a Science Building, a Library, a Memorial Hall and a dormitory for the accommodation of women. These are the immediate and pressing needs, the cost of which is estimated to be about $500,000. The plan provides, in a general way, for further development, so that when it is undertaken, the structures which it is now proposed to erect, will conform to the general layout, and the buildings will be of similar pleasing design.

The necessity for immediate adoption of the general plan and preparations for future expansion, is apparent to all who have given the situation any thought. College buildings are crowded to capacity and temporary arrangements have been provided to care for the overflow. This condition is undesirable and unsatisfactory. Something must be done. The College authorities are confronted with two alternatives. They must either go forward or back up. A continuance of present conditions is not to be thought of. After careful study of the whole situation, it was decided to lay plans for extension. These plans are matured to a sufficient extent to permit of public presentation, and this was done at the meeting of the Board of Trade.

The half million dollars that is the immediate objective, is only a portion of the sum that is required, and that plans have been formulated to raise. As soon as it has been achieved, providing $300,000 for new buildings and $200,000 for endowment, energetic steps will be taken to canvass the wider field from which support may reasonably be expected. Thus, it is planned to secure the funds necessary to provide the accommodation, secure additional members of the faculty, and win the status which such an institution may reasonably expect to attain.

After the project had been carefully explained and many questions answered, the members of the Board of Trade present at the meeting passed a resolution endorsing the plans and promising assistance. A drive is to be put on in Brandon for funds and the President of the Board of Trade was asked to name an Advisory Committee to act in conjunction with College officials. This has been done and the members of the Committee are, Messrs. A. E. McKenzie, J. S. Wilmott and A. R. McDiarmid.

Extension and development of Brandon College is a logical move. Since its inception the College has made rapid advancement. From a humble start at a time when the country was new, it has had steady growth. Department after department has been added. Building never kept pace with the increased attendance, until today the faculty and the student bodies are the largest in the history of the College and the present College buildings are totally inadequate. To provide accommodation, the College has been forced to rent premises at some distance from the centre and there carry on activities that it is impossible to find room for within College walls.

It is natural, in the present dilemna, that the College should turn first to Brandon people. Confronted with the necessity for expansion in a field that is never self-supporting— for no College worthy the name has ever secured in fees a sufficient sum to maintain it—Brandon College authorities naturally appeal to Brandon people. They know what the College is, and what it is doing, and if they are not prepared to contribute towards its support, who may be expected to do so? More than that, Brandon is the community which benefits most from the College; more Brandon students attend; the community derives the benefit that radiates from such a centre as Brandon College; the corporation collects taxes; the business houses draw patronage. In fact, the outside world may well ask what is Brandon doing for the College, before responding to an appeal for aid.

The people of this city are asked to contribute the sum of $100,000. This may reasonably be said to be a comparatively small amount, considering that one million dollars is to be expended in the next ten years, a very large portion of it in College buildings and equipment. It is estimated that the four hundred odd students now attending the College spend annually not less than $175,000. With accommodation for 1,200 students, which it is planned to provide, a reasonable expectation is that they will distribute at least half a million dollars a year in Brandon.

On the basis of a business proposition, this College expansion program appears to be one of the best that has ever been placed before Brandon people.

CLEAR OUT, NOT CLEAN UP

Winnipeg authorities are planning to rid that city of many undesirable characters. The killing of two Provincial Police officers and an epidemic of lawlessness have stirred the people out of their complacency and what is described as a "clean-up" is promised.

The "clean-up" is to be more in the nature of a "clear--out" than a "clean-up." Additional police officers will be employed and men and women, of whose criminal habits the police are aware, but on whom they fail to "get the goods," will be advised to, and they will clear out, at least for a time.

Some of these undesirables will not go far. They will simply move out of the Manitoba capital city, and await for the energy of the "clean-up" to spend itself, then they will return to their former haunts. Undoubtedly some of them will come to Brandon, and as for the most part their resources are small, they will, provided a suitable opportunity presents itself, engage in their habitual methods of gaining a livelihood.

Therefore the "clean-up" that the Winnipeg officials are engaged on, simply spreads them over a wider area. It will not to any appreciable extent, lessen their numbers nor their activities.

The Brandon police force is not sufficiently strong, though well organized and highly efficient, to cope with the situation that is likely to be created if the Winnipeg authorities proceed with their plan. If Winnipeg is made too hot for a lot of tough people, then it will be necessary to increase police protection in other cities, and Brandon will be one of them.

A BIASED COMMISSION

An "American Commission on Ireland" is hearing witnesses in Washington. This is the same organization as the Committee of One Hundred, which was publicly rebuked for inviting British speakers to appear and give testimony. The Times charges that the majority of the hundred members are anti-English with just sufficient pro-English among them to give a coloring of fairness. In the subcommittee which is conducting the hearing this pro-English minority has no place.

It is a forgone conclusion that this "packed committee" will bring in a report which will favor the extreme claims made by the Fenian Irish, and will go as far as possible to discredit English rule and the methods adopted.

The Times may well ask what would be the feeling in the United States if the London Saturday Review were to promote a probe into the Phillipine question or the treatment of the Haytians, by a committee composed of individuals well known for their hostility to the United States. The purpose of the committee may well be said to be to promote hatred instead of peace. The worst feature of the affair is that the finding by the committee may be accepted in some quarters, as being the report of an independent committee on the Irish situation. Nothing could be farther from the truth.

WHAT'S THE MATTER

"What's the matter with the world?" Not a thing!

The world is whatever the people living in it make of it. It is good, bad or indifferent as they will it to be, and according to the vigor of their will.

Where contentment and charity and kindness dwell, even though it be within only the narrow precincts of a single home, the world is a heaven. The more enlightened people there are in the world who are acting unselfishly and in the interests of the common good, the better off the world will be, and the more happiness there will be in it.

The more unenlightened, narrow, selfish people there are in it, sowing seeds of hate and pain and misery by elbowing each other out of the way, the worse off the world will be, and the more pain there will be in it.

If you are enlightened, and are acting unselfishly for the common good, so far as you are concerned the world is right and sweet and sound.

And in the last analysis, we can be responsible only for our own individual part in the world's affairs, and certainly we must be sure that that part is right before we undertake to be responsible for anybody else's part in them.

Head Constable Wounded

Newry, Ireland, Nov. 23. — Head Constable Kearney was shot and probably mortally wounded here by unknown persons. Subsequently the house of former Sergeant Curran, of the constabulary, was set on fire.

Search For Murderers

Dublin, Nov. 23. — Strong police forces systematically raided Sinn Fein gathering places in search for leaders of the murder outbreak here Sunday.

Fires which broke out along the Dublin docks were extinguished with little damage. These were reported to have been accidental.

All roads were blocked by heavy patrols of soldiers and police, backed by armored lorries. All conveyances were searched for arms, and all persons were forced to deliver any papers in their possession.

Railways operated no trains. The docks were watched as carefully as the other means of egress.

Increased activity against the Sinn Fein movement recently has resulted in the compilation of a great mass of documents and the raids were believed to have been conducted to regain some of that evidence as well as discourage further activity.

Press Calls For Action

London, Nov. 23.— — The London press called for determined action by the government to suppress further outbreaks. Punishment for leaders of the raids was urged. At the same time there was criticism of the government for its policy of "condoning" police reprisals and "thus permitting outrages of this nature to occur."

RAILWAY BOARD

23 per cent. it had fallen to slightly over 13 per cent. in October. He estimated that the showing for the remaining months of the year would be worse. The company's grain traffic earnings for October, 1919, were 24 per cent. of gross freight earnings, while in 1920 they had decreased to slightly over 23 per cent. Coming to a comparison of the passengers carried per mile, Mr. Moule stated that July showed an increase of 4 per cent., August a decrease of over 2 per cent., September an increase of 9 per cent., and October an increase of 13 per cent.

Deficit Under New Rates

That the elimination of the present rates increases would have produced a deficit of $18,400,116 was the conclusion arrived at on another statement submitted by Mr. Moule.

A further statement was submitted to show that even with the present rates continued in force until the end of the year, the C.P.R. will have a deficit of $1,935,795. Another statement submitted by Mr. Moule anticipated a deficit for next year of $415,000.

Under cross-examination by Mr. Symington, counsel for the Manitoba Government, Mr. Moule said that owing to the fact that the British Government is not purchasing Canadian wheat, the movement Eastward to Port McNicol is not as large as it was last year. The movement to Fort William had been heavy, however, and the grain was in the elevators to come Eastward when the market is restored. It would not be possible to move more over Eastern lines than last year. Mr. Moule agreed that business was bad in the East, but observed that if Western wheat is not sold, the purchasing power of the West will be affected and the East will suffer. The Western lines of the C.P.R. had maintained their percentage of earnings.

WILD UPROAR

authorities have reason to believe that Sinn Fein gunmen came to Dublin Sunday under the guise of attending the match in order to carry out the murders. Consequently a mixed force surrounded the grounds. This force was fired on, and in firing back killed ten and wounded others."

Revolvers Found in Crowd

Sir Hamar also gave details of the finding of revolvers and the crushing to death of a man and a woman, which latter he regretted. The statement made by the Secretary for Ireland earlier in the session, in reply to a question regarding Sunday's events, was that he hoped "that this series of cold-blooded, carefully planned atrocities would bring vividly before the house and the public the cruel reality of the Irish situation.

As to present conditions in Dublin, he stated he had received at one o'clock a telegram saying everything was apparently normal in that city, no fresh disturbances having developed.

Calls Nationalist "Liar"

After Mr. Devlin had made his concluding statement, there was a passage-at-arms between Jeremiah Macveagh, Nationalist member for South Down, and Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster leader, during which Sir Edward called the Nationalist member a "liar" for saying Sir Edward "had begun the use of rifles" in Ireland. Mr. Bonar Law, the Government leader, brought about peace among the members at this point by announcing that Wednesday will be given over for a discussion of the Irish question in the House of Commons.

NEWFOUNDLAND RAILWAY FORCED TO ASK FOR HELP

Narrow Guage Line 960 Miles Ran During War Without Government Aid

St. Johns, Nfld., Nov. 23. — Newfoundland, isolated from railroad communication with the outer world, has nevertheless caught the railroad troubles of operation and finance common to most countries. Its narrow-gauge line of 960 miles, after running through the period of war without government aid while railways of other countries were receiving some measure of assistance, has been forced to to call on the Colony for help in post-war adjustment.

The immediate result has been the placing of the railway administration in the hands of a joint commission of seven, of which the government has a majority of the members. The commission, equipped with $1,000,000 of Colonial funds, has been set the task of working out the salvation of a railway system which before the war lost an average of $100,000 a year, and in the last five years has had to meet without any advances in rates an increase in expenses which in the case of coal was from $164,693 in 1915 to $590,498 in 1920, and in wages from $507,444 to $1,417,512 for the same years. As one of its first problems, the commission is faced with a demand for further increases in wages ranging from 20 to 30 per cent.

Because of the georgraphical and industrial features of the island colony, which have drawn most of the quarter-million inhabitants to countless harbors and hamlets on the coast where they ply their fishery pursuits, steamship service is an essential and considerable supplement to the railroad lines. The commission for this reason has taken over with the railway the whole system of inter-bay and coastwise water connections which previously have been operated jointly by the Reid-Newfoundland Company, owners of the railroad and the Government. Thus, in a country of few trunk highways and of no trolley cars outside of St. Johns, the commission is administering virtually a monopoly of transportation mediums both of passengers and freight.

What the eventual result of the commission's administration and recommendations will be is uncertain. It is expected to report to the next session of the legislature when the question of continuing the commission under further temporary appointment, or of adopting a permanent plan of government, or private, or joint operation, will come up. Working out of such plans will involve several problems that go back to the early history of the road.

A Narrow-guage Line

The railway, one of the few narrow-guage lines remaining in North America, originally was built for the colony by Sir Robert Reid, of Montreal. Until the commission took it over, the road was operated by the Reid-Newfoundland Company, in which sons of the builder are now active spirits, under a 50-year lease. As payment, the company chose mail subsidies and land grants in preference to cash, the land being regarded as of high potential value because of its timber and mineral deposits.

Of the 960 miles of narrow-guage line, travel on which is adventurous at times, 546 miles run across the island from St. Johns, on the East coast, to a terminal at Port aux Basques on the West. Much of the road lies across barren wastes, swept by every storm, blocked by snows for weeks at a time and subject to washouts and derailments. At places the thin trains have to be anchored to the rails by special devices as protection against being overturned by storm. Trains have been two and three weeks making the 546-mile run, which in this country would be covered in 16 to 18 hours.

The commission, taking action toward economy of operation, has taken the thrills out of cross-country travel in winter and has decided to abandon during the winter months the exposed mid-interior section of the road, where the line ascends the back-bone of the country, a range of hills known as The Topsails. Passengers will be saved the previous dangers and delays by diversion to a steamship route from Sidney, C.B., to the Southern Newfoundland port of Argentina in Placentia Bay, which is being specially equipped for the new traffic. For local transportation purposes, auxiliary railway services will be established on each coast.

The commission also is undertaking development of certain coal areas on the West coast as a means of affording a fuel supply for the road.

FARMERS' PARTY REFUSES TO JOIN THE GOVERNMENT

Winnipeg Nov. 18.— While there will be no fusion of the farmers' party in the Provincial Legislature with the Norris Government group, largest group in the House, the Farmers will not enter the House as a formal opposition and they will support the Government in "all good legislation." This is the outcome of a meeting of the members group held here today, and it is claimed by Government supporters that it ensures a working majority for the Norris administration in vital matters. The Farmers' party rejected proposals for formal amalgamation with either Conservatives, Liberals or Labor sections. The Conservatives took similar action last night.

William Robson, member for Glenwood, was chosen leader of the Farmers' party today. C. R. Boivin, M.L.A. for Iberville, was elected Secretary.

The Farmers' group will support the Government's choice for speaker when the Legislature convenes, it is said. The platform is being prepared this afternoon and will have no criticism of the administration.

NAME CHANGED BUT GOOD WORK IS CARRIED ON

Religious Education Council Meets in Brandon Two Days Next Week

The first convention of the Religious Education Council of Manitoba, formerly the Manitoba Sunday School Association, will be held in Brandon November 24-26. Some of the outstanding leaders who will participate in the program at the First Methodist Church are: Dr. W. A. McIntyre, Winnipeg, President of the Executive; Rev. J. W. Little, Field Secretary; Rev. A. E. Hetherington, Field Secretary; Prof. F. W. Kerr, Manitoba College; Rev. Hugh Kilgour, Winnipeg; Rev. Basil W. Thompson, Winnipeg; Rev. W. C. Smalley, Superintendent of Baptist Missions; Mr. G. H. Stewart, President Religious Education Council; Mr. D. R. Poole, Field Secretary Boys' Work Board; Miss M. E. Macdonald, Field Secretary Girls' Work Board.

This will be the fortieth convention. For nearly forty years Sunday School work has been promoted by the well-known Sunday School Association. This organization spread all over the world and accomplished a wonderful work, but it was not linked up officially to the churches. As the immense importance of the Sunday School work came home to the Churches their sense of responsibility steadily increased, and in Manitoba, provincial Sunday School work was completely re-organized. The name of the organization was changed and the Provincial council in charge of the work now, consists of representatives from the great church organizations, and in addition, representatives elected at large at the time of the Provincial convention. Formerly they were all elected at the time of the convention.

MUNICIPALITIES TO VOTE ON ADOPTION OF HAIL INSURANCE

Cornwallis, Elton and Whitehead Electors to Reach Decision by Ballot

TO VOTE ON BYLAW

At the Time of the Municipal Elections, About 22nd December

A by-law to decide whether or not the ratepayers of rural municipalities want insurance against loss through hail, as obtainable under the act respecting District Hail Insurance, passed at the 1920 session of the Legislature, will be voted upon at the time of the municipal elections — about December 22nd—in the municipalities surrounding Brandon. This by-law has been given its second reading at recent meetings of the Councils of Cornwallis, Elton and Whitehead Municipalities, and in about a month's time will be placed before the people.

The act passed by the Legiclature provides for the insurance against hail of every acre of land in the various municipalities of the Province provided the farmer does not notify "the Hail Insurance Board of Manitoba" which will be formed before June 16th of each year, that he does not wish such protection. The indemnity will be from six to eight dollars per acre and a tax will be levied according to the amount of hail damage done. In order to establish "Hail Insurance Districts" thirty-five or more municipalities in the Province must vote to come under the operation of the act.

BRITISH LABOR PARTY PROPOSES IRISH ELECTION

Naming Members of Irish Parliament That is to Find a Solution

PROPER PROTECTION

Of Minorities and Ireland Not to Become Naval or Military Menace to Britain

London, Nov. 18. — The Executive Committee of the Parliamentary Labor Party has issued a manifesto signed by Arthur Henderson, William C. Adamson and John R. Clynes, calling upon the Labor Party throughout the country to take more active steps to secure the withdrawal of all armed forces from Ireland and the election by proportional representation of a constituent assembly charged with the task of working out whatever constitution the Irish people desire, in order to settle their own affairs, provided that proper protection is accorded to minorities, and Ireland is prevented from becoming a military or naval menace to Great Britain.

The manifesto explains that this action is taken because of the hopelessness of "expecting anything from a parliament dominated by a mechanical Government majority."

It announces that the party has decided to conduct a great national campaign to enlighten the British public on what is happening in Ireland, and also to appoint a Commission to visit Ireland and investigate Government policy and methods.

Midland, Ont., Nov. 19.—Arthur H. Griffiths, for twenty-two years lighthouse-keeper on a lonely rock in Georgian Bay, known as the Giant's Tomb, about 12 miles from this place, lived with only his wife there. She died last Friday night after a day's illness. A strong gale prevented his getting to the mainland until Tuesday night, when, after three days and nights of lonely vigil, he was enabled to reach Midland and make preparations for his wife's burial.

QUEBEC MEMBER BLAMES CRERAR AND MEIGHEN FOR CONSCRIPTION

Montreal, Nov. 22.—Speaking at the Reform Club on Saturday, Arthur Trahan, Liberal M.P. for Nicolet, included Hon. T. A. Crerar with Premier Meighen as being worthy of condemnation and as a partner in the doings for the Commission of which Trahan names the present Government. Trahan claimed that Hon. T. A. Crerar voted for the conscription of farmers' sons in 1917.

What the City man Told the Farmer

"What in Sam Hill are you doing?" said the city man, "Mixing molasses in feed for the cows?"

"Yes," replied the farmer relative, "mixing molasses into the feed of these young stock, and I even use some sugar of a low grade when I can get it."

"What's the idea?" asked the city man.

"What's your idea in putting sugar on your porridge?" Or in your tea? Just because you like it. Perhaps, but why do you like it? I'll tell you. Because your system demands it. Demands some of it, at least, to balance your ration."

"The children certainly demand sugar in some form," said the city man.

"That is because they are growing, like these 'cows' as you call them," said the farmer relatve, "These are not cows but healthy well-fed young heifers and steers. I am particular about their feed, for they are my best show animals, as well as the heifers, being my best breeding stock."

THE FARMER'S TROUBLES

"But," he added," it is a lot of bother to feed the proper ration th sway. I have to be careful to get the right proportion, and, try as I may, sometimes go wrong, then the cattle are off their feed a few days. Just as your little Jack was when Grandma gave him the big bag of candy.

"That is the reason why Susan and I cannot come to visit you as often or stay as long as you want us. I simply cannot leave the mixing of this feed to hired help. You see the reason.

"I do wish someone would invent a balanced ration for cattle that would contain the right amount of sugar or molasses, an dthen anyone could feed it."

HOW HE SOLVED THEM

"Why, there is such a food," replied the city man. "I noticed an advertisement of a balanced ration in the farm papers lately. It is the 'Big Chief Stock Feed,' made by the North-West Feed Company of Edmonton, Alberta. Look it up and it will solve your trouble."

Needless to say the farmer relative looked up the matter and found that the Big Chief Stock Feed was just what he wanted—a scientifically balanced ration for farm animals, including molasses as a stimulant and conditioner, and his fancy stock went off their feed no more.

Further he found a fair proportion of it fed to all his animals improved their condition in a wonderful manner. The stock all ate up their dry fodder better when their daily ration was balanced by using Big Chief Stock Feed. Pigs thrived upon it alone. Horses whinnied for it. Cattle lowed and shook their heads when it appeared. Even the hens picked it greedily.

His trouble was solved and all his farm put upon a basis of greater efficiency.

NOT ENOUGH MEN IN BUILDING TRADES IN GREAT BRITAIN

To Build the Homes That Are So Urgently Needed

TRADE UNION BARRIER

While Outside the Unions Are Thousands of Men Seeking Work

London, Nov. 10. (By Mail Canadian Associated Press). — Why is there such a shortage of housing accommodation. Dr. Addison, Minister of Health, in an article in a recent issue of the Sunday Times, attempts to give the public some explanation of hundreds of thousands of families being without a home of their own. He admits that while plans for houses have been passed exceeding in number a quarter of a million, yet the houses themselves are only forthcoming in driblets.

In the first place the Minister of Health points to the decrease of skilled workers in the building trade. Between 1910 and 1914 the number of bricklayers had shrunk from 116,000 to 74,00; joiners, masons and workers in subsidiary trades had shrunk in a like proportion. Building in the war years practically ceased, the workers being transferred to munition making.

Not Enough Mechanics

"There are not enough men in the trade to do the work; that is the first fact," continues Dr. Addison. "There are thousands of men outside the trade who are out of employment; that is the second fact. Somehow or other these two facts must be brought into relationship; and at once we are faced with the Trade Union bar.

The Minister goes on to indicate how the Government have attempted negotiations with the building trades on this matter, especially in regard to payment for time which men lose owing to wet weather. He admits that unemployment has been the bugbear of the trade in the past. The contention is that if the personnel is to be unduly inflated now, unemployment will be even more rife when the present demand is satisfied.

Moreover, the house-building is only one side of the demand; the reconstruction and expansion of industrial buildings, though for the moment subsidiary, will prolong the demand for labor still further.

"In the face of the national demand for houses; in the face of the widespread of unemployment among ex-Service men and others, can any trade union maintain its restrictions? Can one class, one trade, permanently stand in the path of the community, and in its own class interest bar the way to progress, prosperity and re-settlement? The State which will submit to such action is saddling itself with a sectional tyranny."

SEVENTEEN CENT MEALS SERVED ON ELLIS ISLAND

Delegates to National Hotel Assn. Convention Visit Island to See For Themselves

New York, Nov. 20.—Delegates to the convention of the National Hotel Association here couldn't believe that only 15 minutes from the tip of Manhattan tempting meals are served for exactly 17 cents each. So Frederick A. Wallis, Immigration Commissioner on Ellis Island, invited doubters on a tour of culinary inspection, just to show how they do it on Uncle Sam's doorstep.

A number of the hotel men, who say they are intent on bringing down the cost of tavern fare, accepted the Commissioner's invitation, with the idea of infusing some of the Ellis Island method into the conduct of their own kitchens.

"For particulars," said the Commissioner, "see MacGowan."

The secret of reducing the costliness of provender as it appears, steaming and succulent, on the dinner table, is a mystery, but MacGowan, D. T. MacGowan, caterer on the island, is on the inside. His explanation runs: "Purchases on a lowest bid basis, quantity production, and profits never more than 1.95 per cent on the monthly investment; result, 17 cent dinners."

And when someone interposed that MacGowan "couldn't serve a 'regular' meal for 17 cents," he exhibited, as a sample menu, the following:

Breakfast: Rice with milk, stewed prunes, bread and butter and coffee with two lumps of sugar to the cup.

Dinner: English beef soup with barley, Irish stew with vegetables, tapioca pudding and coffee.

Supper: Lamb hash, green peppers, bread and butter, blackberry jelly, coffee and tea.

Bismarck, N.D., Nov. 20.—O. E. The failure of farmers to meet notes held by the banks is the immediate reason for closing them.

Banks May be Reopened

Mismarck, N.D., Nov. 20.—O. E. Loftus, State Bank Examiner, today stated that three banks in Western North Dakota, closed yesterday at his direction, "are not closed as failures, and may be re-opened later." The failure of farmers to meet notes held by the banks is the immediate reason for closing them.

Beach State Bank, of Beach, was closed today by the State Bank Examiner. This is the fourth bank to be closed in North Dakota this week. A fifth bank has sent word it has decided to close.

Failure of farmers to meet notes held by the banks is one of the principal reasons for suspending operations. The holding of wheat for higher prices and poor crops in some sections, also are responsible.

MOVE TO PRESERVE REMAINS OF CLOTH HALL AT YPRES

Belgian Government Agrees to Leave Ruins Alone For Present

London, Nov. 10 (By Mail Canadian Asociated Press)—Mr. E. Wood has addressed a question to the Prime Minister in the House of Commons asking whether he is aware that considerable anxiety exists in this country as to the permanent preservation of the remains of the Cloth Hall at Ypres as a memorial to the historic defence of the town during the late war by British and Imperial troops, and whether he can state what steps, if any, have been taken by His Majesty's Government to approach the Belgian Government in order to secure this object.

Mr. Lloyd George, in a written reply, says: 'The Belgian Government have agreed temporarily to leave the Cloth Hall, the cathedral, and the ramparts of Ypres in their existing state pending formulation of a scheme by the British Government for the erection at Ypres of a memorial to the troops that fought there. As announced by the Financial Secretary to the War Office on June 14, the question of the erection of national memorials has been referred by the Cabinet to a committee presided over by the Earl of Midleton. This committee has made certain recommendations which include the rebuilding of the Menin Gate at Ypres, and I hope to be able to make a fuller announcement before long."

FRENCH THINK THAT DRUMMOND SHOULD NOT SPEAK

As General Secretary of League of Nations he Occupies International Position

Paris, Nov. 20.—Dissatisfaction was expressed at the French Foreign Office today over the fact that Sir Eric Drummond, General Secretary of the League of Nations, had spoken on the Polish-Danzig question before the League's council there. The Foreign Office takes the view that Sir Eric, as Secretary General, occupies a peculiarly international position and should not participate in debate.

LABON NOT GUILTY

The Fall Assizes were concluded here Friday afternoon when the jury sitting on the case of King vs. Labon brought in a verdict of "not guilty." The case was one of the longest on the docket and took up two days' attention at the Court. Labon was charged with the theft of a calf near Pipestone, and most of the evidence was given in French, thus prolonging the trial. The jury received the case about four o'clock Friday afternoon and were out only half an hour before returning with their verdict of "not guilty."

THREE QUESTIONS ARE TO BE VOTED ON NEXT FRIDAY

Aldermen Pass Decisions on to People for Final Settlement

ABOLITION OF WARDS

Aldermanic Salaries and Permitting Sale of Confectionery on Sunday

Three important questions before the electors at the forthcoming elections will probably rival the election of aldermen and school trustees for the chief interest in the polling next Friday. The three questions are knotty ones and have been before the city fathers for the greater part of the year, causing some very wordy battles in regular and special sessions. Following unsatisfactory agreements reached in the City Council by the aldermen themselves it was decided to put the three questions before the people and let them make a decision.

One of the questions which will be put in the form of a bylaw, is the abolition of the ward system. For some time past there has been an agitation that the city fathers be chosen from the city in general. It is claimed that this system would give better results than is obtained at present under the ward system. The argument advanced in favor of the abolition of the ward system is that it will give a larger field for securing the best available men for the City Council. The whole electorate will be directly interested in the election of all aldermen. It will also do away with the system of plural voting.

To Answer Two Questions

Two questions will be submitted in the electors at the forthcoming election, will be the opening of confectionery stores on certain hours on Sundays during four Summer months, and whether the aldermen are to receive a salary. With regard to the first named, if the proposal, if the referendum passes, to open the confectionery stores on Sundays during the months of June, July, August and September, between the hours of two and five o'clock in the afternoon and eight and ten o'clock in the evening. Several of the aldermen have stated that this measure is a reasonable compromise between those who are in favor of the confectioneries being closed all day Sunday and those who favor all stores being open on Sundays. The arguments presented by some of the aldermen were to the effect that out-of-town visitors in the hot Summer months would be able to have ice cream or a cool drink before leaving the city. Also that the opening of the stores during the hours named will not interfere with church attendance.

Aldermanic Salaries

Possibly no question has ever caused so much discussion or brought out so many new rulings to defeat ballots on the question, as the aldermanic salaries problem. The question has been raised time and time again in the Council with the aldermen being about evenly divided. The absence of one alderman was the signal for a snap vote, and on two occasions aldermen got up and left the council chamber when a vote was about to be taken, thus leaving Council with less than a quorum. Finally a truce was affected and the question is left for the people to decide.

The voting on this question will have no legal status but will express the opinion of the people. At present the aldermen receive a yearly sum of $300 for devoting their services to the City Council. This amount was voted in 1919 by the city fathers themselves. The statutes give the aldermen power to vote themselves a salary if they so desire. There is no doubt but that the city fathers devote a great deal of their time to the handling of the city's affairs, and in some Western Canadian cities the practice is to make the position remunerative.

Itwas originally passed by the City Council that the aldermanic salary question should come before the money bylaw voters. This has since been changed and the matter will be one for the whole electorate to decide, a popular vote being taken.

With three important decisions to make on these questions there will no doubt be considerable interest displayed in the voting. Ward One has elected its candidates for the City Council and School Board by acclamation, but the electors in this ward will go to the polls next Friday and register their votes upon these questions. In all other wards the voting on the three questions will share chief place of interest with the election of aldermen and school trustees.

LIVELY PASSAGES OVER BILL IN THE BRITISH COMMONS

Owners Refusing to Rent Charged as Guilty of Murder

ANOTHER VIEW

Is That it is Theft to Deprive Owners of Fair Return on Property

London, Nov. 20.—Lively passages constantly occur in the House of Commons committee which is considering the bill giving local authorities power to compulsory hire empty houses which the owners decline to let, except at an unreasonable figure. A Labor member charged those so acting as being guilty of murder, but another member called it theft if owners were prevented from securing a fair economic return on their property.

MANY BRITISH PRISONERS ARE STILL IN RUSSIA

And Until They Are Released Negotiations for Trade Re-opening Are Held Up

INACCURATE RECORDS

May Be Responsible, But Britain Stands Firm for Release

London, Nov. 20.—It became known today that one of the outstanding reasons why negotiations for the re-opening of trade with Russia are being prolonged, is the discovery by Great Britain, that there are many more British prisoners in Russia than reports to the Government a few weeks ago, indicated. The Soviet agreed some time ago, to release all British prisoners, many of them were repatriated.

At one time it was announced that not more than two score were left and that they were expected to be released immediately.

The Government is now certain that there are still in prison in Russia, British subjects of whom it has no record. They are scattered about the country and officials here believe that possibly the Soviet itself has inacurate records of their cases.

While it was believed ten days ago that the prisoner question had virtually been settled, it has now loomed big in present negotiations.

NEW BLOOD IN FEDERAL CABINET: MANY RUMORS

Increase in French Canadian Representation is Practically Assured

Ottawa, Nov. 20—Re-organization of the government, rumors of which are current, has not so far been discussed in Cabinet Council, it was authoritatively stated last night. It is regarded as very probable, however, that new blood will be introduced at an early date and certainly before parliament meets in January. So far, however, it is learned, the Prime Minister has not formally discussed the matter with his colleagues.

Considerable interest has been created by reports from Montreal that L. J. Gauthier, Liberal member for St. Hyacinthe is mentioned as a likely successor to Hon. J. D. Reid. Whether Gauthier consents to accept office or not, there is no doubt that efforts will be made to increase the French-Canadian representation in the cabinet.

GREAT RECEPTION GIVEN MEIGHEN TORONTO MEETING

Three or Four Thousand Returned Men Unable to Get Into Massey Hall

200 POLICEMEN

Held Crowd in Check Outside, While Premier Delivered Address Inside

Toronto, Nov. 20. — Hon. Arthur Meighen, in his first appearance before a large public audience in Toronto as Prime Minister of Canada, was given a demonstration that was as unique as it was enthusiastic and vociferous.

While within the crowded Massey Hall, Hr. Meighen, with punctuations of applause from his 4,000 audience, was enunciating the protective platform of the National Liberal and Conservative party and its policy of promoting Canadian manufactures by Canadian workmen, through Canadian investments, three or four thousand returned soldiers and their sympathizers in the streets outside, were practically storming the hall in an attempt to get in.

This overflow audience, held in check by a cordon of nearly 200 policemen, passed the time in chorusing a demand for the Government leader to come out and address them on the gratuity question, and to listen to speeches by their leaders.

When the returned soldiers outside were informed by J. Harry Flynn, President of the G.W.V.A., that the Premier would not address an outdoor meeting but would answer veterans' listed questions inside, there was a rush for the front doors to gain admittance, but the hall was then crowded. The front portals were closed and a squad of policemen three deep formed a barrier across them.

It was evident, however, from the interruptions offered some of the speakers, particularly Hon. Hugh Guthrie, that there were a number of returned men in the audience.

Premier Well Guarded

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 20.—Anticipating a possible demonstration from returned soldiers over the announced intention of J. Harry Flynn, organizer of the G. A. of U. V., to ask Premier Meighen to address a gathering of the turned men outside Massey Hall prior to making his speech inside, 200 uniformed policemen were on hand to guard the Premier and prevent disturbance at the meeting. The automobile in which the premier was conveyed to Massey Hall was protected by ten policemen. The Premier entered the hall unnoticed by the returned men, who numbered about 5,000, and was out of earshot when Mr. Flynn harangued the crowd in the street.

Soldiers Were Disappointed

Toronto, Nov. 20.—In addressing a meeting outside Massey Hall, lat night, before Premier Meighen's meeting commenced, J. Harry Flynn declared that "if nothing was done to relieve the situation within the next two weeks, he would send the returned men out on the streets of Toronto with boxes in their hands to collect charity." He said there were 8,000 veterans out of work in Toronto and there were many cases of destitution among them. Flynn, in addressing the crowd, was careful to state he was doing so as an individual, not as an official of the G.A.U.V. A list of a dozen questions had been prepared by the G.A.U.V. for presentation to the Premier, and evidently the soldiers were disappointed because their questions remained unanswered.

CHIEF OF IRISH REPUBLICAN ARMY ESCAPED CAPTURE

When Documents Were Captured, Concerning Alleged Plot to Infect Troops

JUMPED FROM WINDOW

And Disappeared Over Ten-Foot Wall, Effecting His Escape

Dublin, Nov. 20.—The Chief of Staff of the "Irish Republican Army" had a narrow escape from capture, by Crown forces last Tuesday night, when the public house in which he was secretly living was raided, according to an official announcement. It was in this raid that the military captured documents concerning an alleged plot to infect Crown troops with typhoid, and cavalry horses with glanders, which the Chief Secretary for Ireland, announced in the House of Commons. When the military entered the house, the Chief of State jumped from a window and vaulting a ten foot wall got away. As the greatest importance was attached by the military to his capture, they threw out elaborate cordons but without effect.

STOCKHOLDERS AWAIT ANNOUNCEMENT AS TO THEIR POSITION

London, Nov. 10. (By Mail Canadian Associated Press).—Holders of the four er cent. Debenture Stock of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, says the Times, have been awaiting with some anxiety to know exactly how they stand under the agreement for the expropriation of the line by the Dominion Government. Some of them have evidently been selling their stock, judging by th fact that it stands at only 45-50, as comared with 55-58 for the ofur per cent. guaranteed stock of the Grand Trunk Railway, although the latter price includes only about six months' interest, whereas Pacific Debenture stock carries arrears as from February, 1919.

The difference, of course, is that the position of Trunk guaranteed stock has been determined in a way that admits, no doubt, attitude towards Pacific debenture stock, although the agreement provides for the taking over by the Government of the whole liabilities of the Grand Trunk Pacific. The informal committee that has been watching the interests of the stock has been staying its hand awaiting from the other side of the Atlantic of Sir Alfred Smithers, the chairman.

OFFICIAL HANGMAN "CHUCKS UP SIDE LINE"

Montreal, Nov. 20.—Arthur Ellis, Canadian Government hangman, who has officiated in many cities between the two coasts, has "chucked up" his "side line," as an inspector at the Government liquor vendor's here, and will return to his fruit farm and horse ranch at Golden, B.C., after he has attended to the execution of a couple of death sentences in the East next month. Ellis declared that he was "sick of" the inspector job, which, it seems, became uncomfortably untenable, after the vendor's customers discovered that he was the same Ellis who conducted a recent hanging at a nearby jail.

LOOK!

If you were told of a new discovery for the treatment of coughs, colds and bronchitis, as certain in its action on all chest troubles as anti-toxin is on diphtheria, or vaccination on small-pox, wouldn't you feel like giving it a trial?

Peps is the discovery!

Peps are little tablets, containing certain medicinal ingredients, which, when placed upon the tongue, immediately turn into vapour, and are at once breathed down the air passages to the lungs. On their journey, they soothe the inflamed and irritated membranes of the bronchial tubes, the delicate walls of the air passages, and finally enter and carry relief and healing to the lungs.

In a word, while no liquid or solid can get to the lungs and air passages, these Peps fumes get there direct, and at once commence their work of healing.

BRITAIN AGREES WITH FRENCH VIEW

Regarding German Reparations—Wants Amount Settled First of All

Paris, Nov. 20.—Lloyd George in the course of an interview with the London correspondent of the Petit Parisien, declared, regarding German reparations, that Britain would stand elbow to elbow with France. The Premier, says the correspondent, insisted "first of all, let us fix the amount of the German debt."

"I have, I think," continued Lloyd George, "testified by acts, and not only words, to my friendship and admiration for the French democracy. We fought together and conquered together and must not renounce in peace, arrangements that in the past were dear to my heart. In return, the French people must not think I have become an enemy because I speak as a business man and as a realist. Friends should speak the truth to each other, and defend a system which seems best to conform with their common interests."

Spracklin, who shot and killed Beverley Trumble recently, during a raid on the latter's hotel at Sandwich, will be placed on trial, on a charge of "killing and slaying" Trumble, despite the fact that a coroner's jury decided that he did it in self-defence. This decision was announced by Attorney-General Raney.

25 PERSONS KILLED IN DUBLIN AFTER SHOOTING OFFICERS

Night of Terror in Ireland—Many Hurt During Fighting in Streets

ADDITIONAL TROOPS

May Be Sent to Ireland—Return is Demanded of Detective Kidnapped at Cork

London, Nov. 22.—Murder stalked through the streets of Dublin yesterday and at nightfall meagre reports received here indicate that at least 25 persons were killed and upwards of 100 more or less seriously wounded. The days disorders began with the apparently deliberate shooting of fourteen men who for the most part were military officers. Communication with Ireland was seemingly interrupted last evening but latest advices declared that fires had broken out in various place in Dublin. Shooting again began in the streets just before midnight and it was asserted a number of persons had been killed.

Ministers responsible for the administration in Ireland were called together this morning to discuss the situation. This morning's newspapers condemn the system followed in Ireland with great severity. Some demand sternest measures of repression and hint at the desirability of the imposing martial law in Ireland. The people in this city today eagerly awaited the announcement of any new steps to be taken in the presence of this new emergency. The sending of additional troops to Ireland is being seriously considered, it was stated by the War Office this afternoon.

Quiet Restored

London, Nov. 22.—Up to the early afternoon only meagre dispatches were received from Ireland. Reports up to noon said threes or four unidentified persons had been killed in that city late last night. A brief telephone message at eight o'clock reported the city at least temporarily quiet. Then came a gap in the reports up to noon hour but whether this indicated censorship, was not known.

A number of women participated in the Sunday morning attacks. In one case forty raiders arrived at the house on bicycles. The number of dead resulting from the Croker park shooting was placed at twelve.

Search for Detective

London, Nov. 22.—Searching for a detective who had been kidnapped, the auxiliary police in lorries visited Cork and it is reported have fired indiscriminately and thrown bombs. Notices also were circulated threatening the people of Cork if the missing detective did not return.

Widespread Murder and Reprisals

Dublin, Nov. 21.—Dublin became the scene today of widespread murder and reprisal. Not since the first outbreak of the vicious civil warfare that has been shedding blood in Ireland have the assassinations been so concerted or the retaliation so swift and pronounced. Not less than fourteen men are dead in the attacks arranged simultaneously all over the city this morning. The method was the same in each case and all the men assassinated were officers or ex-officers or otherwise in the service of the government.

Small bodies of men, numbering generally from six to eight, presented themselves at various houses, called their victims out or entered and shot their victims in bed, while dressing or at breakfast. The districts in which the murders were committed were in some instances close together, others were separated by miles, but all the assassination took place about the same hour, 9 o'clock in the morning.

In the afternoon while a football match was in progress at Croker park, sixteen lorries filled with auxiliary police moved swiftly and surrounded the place. Accounts differ as to what happened, when, after mounting machine guns on heights above, the police broke through the gates. The auxiliaries were hooted and, according to eyewitnesses, first fired in the air and then into the crowd.

Say Sinn Fein Fired First

It is declared from another source that Sinn Fein pickets first fired on the government forces when they were seen approaching and that the fire was returned.

When within the park the great assembly of 15,000 became panic-stricken, several are reported to have been trampled to death.

The streets of Dublin on Sunday are deserted in the morning hours. Those who had planned the murder of the officers and government employes moved systematically to their task. They completed the assassinations without disquise and all made their escape.

Gresham hotel was the scene perhaps of the greatest daring, and the raid was carried out by about 20 men with the utmost cruelty. The Gresham is in Sackville Street, and is one of the best-known hotels in Dublin. In this place two former officers were done to death.

Following fast upon the murders there was great military and police activity and houses were raided in search of the criminals. All motor traffic was ordered stopped, and all train services in and out of Dublin were suspended. The city was given over to terrified apprehension as armored cars and lorries filled with black and tans raced through the streets.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 23—Winnipeg has raised already $80,000 towards financing of the Western Canada Colonization Association, it was announced today at a Kiwanian Club luncheon, by M. A. Brown, Mayor of Medicine Hat, and originator and provisional chairman of the W.C.C.A.

"This handsome initial sum has been subscribed by a few outstanding public-spirited citizens," said Mr. Brown. The subscribers include several founders, among them being Lieut.Governor Sir James Aikins, Sir Augustus Nanton, E. F. Hutchings, James H. Ashdown and Jerry Robinson.

"Winnipeg had stamped with her approval," said Mr. Brown, "a project which had for its objective the settlement within the next few years of from twenty million to thirty million acres of fertile land lying within fifteen or twenty miles of the railroads."

Ottawa, Nov. 22.—That with the discovery of large silver areas in the vicinity of Keno Hill, the Yukon is entering upon a new industrial era, is that statement made by Dr. Thompson, M.P. for that district, who is back in Ottawa after a three months' tour of the territory. Dr. Thompson declares that the new silver find will take the place of the gold which first put the Yukon upon the map.

MARKETS

Winnipeg, Nov. 23.—Prices reacted heavily today, wheat at the close showing an advance of from 1c to 8c with a distinctly better feeling in the future market during the whole session.

In coarse grains large advances were made, flax being most noticeable with an advance at the close of 16½c. Wheat closed 1c to 8c higher; oats 3c to 1⅛c higher; barley 4½c to 3c higher; flax 16c to 19½c higher and rye 8¼c to 1½c higher.

MANITOBA COUNSEL AND COMMISSIONERS ARGUE RATES CASE

Provincial Counsel Asks Reconsideration of Decision Board Railway Commissioners re Rates

Ottawa, Nov. 22.—That in view of the finding of the Governor-in-Council the Board of Railway Commissioners should reconsider the judgment on freight rates given by that body on the basis of fair and reasonable rates for services performed, was the chief point made before the Board today by H. J. Symington, Counsel for the Manitoba Government, in supporting his application for a suspension of the rates. Failing such suspension his application asked that the Board should vary its judgment by reducing authorized increases by 15 per cent. in Western Canada as compared with the East.

There was a full attendance of legal lights, who appeared at the former sittings of the Board, and proceedings will be confined to the argument of the lawyers.

There was considerable argument between Chief Commissioner Carvell and Symington throughout the sitting and they appeared to differ considerably as to just what was before the Board for consideration.

SUCCESS ATENDED THE GOOD ROADS CONVENTION

Last week a very successful meeting of the Provincial Good Roads Association was held in Winnipeg and was attended by Mr. D. J. Miller, District Engineer, of this city, and Mr. J. W. Baldock also of Brandon. Owing to the fact that Mr. George J. Nearing was busy logging the Brandon-Crystal City Route on the Sunshine Highway, he was unable to be present at the meeting as he had intended.

In connection with this meeting, which commenced with a banquet in the Royal Alexandra Hotel, the awards were presented the winners of the recent competitions in road making and keeping. The Provincial cup for the best dragged road in the gravel section was won by Mr. Jos. Magee of Griswold, while Mr. D. McGregor of Lenore, secured the Provincial shield for the best dragged road in the earth class. These were the only prizes awarded in Brandon district.

TWELVE CASES ON THE COUNTY COURT DOCKET

Twelve cases are on the County Court docket for hearing at the sittings which commence Tuesday morning at ten o'clock. His Honor Judge Cumberland will preside at the County Court sessions. Three cases which were on the docket for hearing have now been withdrawn. They are Mitchell Hardware Co. vs. Atwell, Strange vs. W. A. and A. A., Tennant vs. Phillip The docket before Judge Cumberland is the most lengthy of the year, but a number of the cases will no doubt be set back to Chambers.

The following is the list of cases to be heard at the sittings: Allen vs. Leslie; Lane vs. Moore; McAuley vs. Merchants Bank; Neil vs. Moore; Iroquois Mfg. Co. vs Alix; Beaver Lumber Co. vs. Fletcher et al; White and Sons vs. Ryder; Smith vs. Kleinman; Scott vs. Cameron ;Buckley vs. Goldenberg; Marsden vs. Salmon; and Layet vs. Drennan. Besides these disputed cases, eleven garnishing orders will be spoken to, and two applications for naturalization papers made.

It isn't always the man who talks loudest that does the most good. The copper cent makes more noise on the contribution plate than a dollar bill.

ALBERTA FARMERS WANT TO CAST OUT THE SPECULATOR

And Send Their Wheat to Market in Such Fashion as to Get Best Price

MOST IMPORTANT THING

Before the Farmers at the Present Time—Need a Lot of Money

Calgary, Alta., Nov. 22.—To say that Alberta farmers have gone 'on strike" is a gross misrepresentation of their position," remarked C. Rice-Jones, general manager of the United Grain Growers, in an interview here. "It is a deliberate attempt to put them in an entirely wrong light," he continued.

Mr. Rice-Jones stated that farmers had a perfect right to market their wheat in such a way as they could get the best possible price for it, and because they studied the market and because they refuse to put all their wheat on the market at one time of the year, he could not see how the interpretation could be placed on it as a "strike."

"The fact of the matter is," he said, "that before the price was fixed because of conditions farmers were unable to avoid they were forced to market a large portion of their wheat in the Fall, when the price is always down, a considerable portion of it, no doubt, passing into the hands of speculators who hold it until the Spring when they are able to sell it at a considerable profit. It is, therefore very gratifying to see that the farmers this year are, as far as they can, sending their wheat to market in such a way as they will be able to get the best possible price for it. It is not a question of any organized plan that will mean that the wheat will cost the consumer a great deal more, but to save as much of the real value of the wheat for the grower as possible."

Referring to the question of the co-operative marketing of wheat, Mr. Rice-Jones stated that he thought this was probably the most important thing before the farmers at the present time. Farmers should undoubtedly control the marketing of their wheat to the final consumer, he said, through some system of pool marketing.

He stated that the executive of the United Grain Growers had been working on a skeleton plan for some time and had discussed it at length with the officers of provincial farmers' associations. It was hoped that the matter would be in such a shape that it might be placed before the next annual meeting of the United Farmers of Alberta.

"One feature that we consider essential to the success of the scheme, largely on account of the considerable amount of money it would take to finance such a plan," said Mr. Rice-Jones, "is the willingness of the farmer to sign a contract to deliver his wheat to the co-operative marketing agency for a period of years."

ORGANIZED LABOR WILL NOT TOLERATE ANY REDUCTION IN WAGES

Montreal ,Nov. 23—Tom Moore, President of the Dominion Trades and Labor Council, speaking at the weekly luncheon of the Canadian Club, made it clear that organized labor would not tolerate any reduction in wages. He argued that although in some cases there might have been unusually generous wage advances, in most trades the wage advance had not kept pace with the cost of living, so that organized labor was not prepared at the present time to consider any talk of reductions.

Mr. Moore laid it down that "of all irrational actions workers can attempt there is nothing more irrational than a general strike."

THREE EASTERN PROVINCES PLAN CONCERTED ACTION

If Western Provinces Get Natural Resources, Larger Subsidy Will Be Asked

Halifax, Nov. 22.—Concerted action on the part of Novia Scotia, new Brunswick and Prince Edward Island in the matter of Western lands, transportation and immigration was agreed upon at an all-day conference of Premiers and Ministers of the three provinces held here Saturday.

The members of the conference were non-commital as to what steps had been decided upon to press the questions of Maritime Provinces' rights in the matter of Western lands. In the matter of transportation an effort will be made to have the Railway oBard held a special meeting in Halifax, before which witnesses will be examined, presenting the viewpoints of the various industries affected by the general situation arising from the present management and the increased rates.

It was argued that if the Western provinces got back their natural resources from the Dominion Government, the subsidies to the Maritime Provinces from the Federal treasury should be increased.

To Discuss Natural Resources

Regina, Sask., Nov. 22. — Hon. Charles Dunning, Provincial Treasurer for Saskatchewan, gave notice Friday in the Legislature that he will introduce a resolution urging the Dominion Government the necessity of transferring to the Provincial Government its natural resources. The resolution will be considered in the assembly on Tuesday.

NO NEW ARRANGEMENTS FOR SUBSIDIZED NEWS FROM GREAT BRITAIN

London, Nov. 23.—Percy Hurd, in the House of Commons Monday, asked whether any fresh arrangements were being contemplated with Reuters Agency for the continued transmission of subsidized news to Canada and other parts of the Empire, and, if so, what is the character of the news to be subsidized, the amount of public money involved, what contributions would be made by the other governments of the Empire and the terms of the arrangement.

Col. Amery, Under Secretary of State for the Colonies, in reply, said the only new service at present in operation to which the Government contributed, is one to the Union of South Africa, the colonies and protectorates in East Africa, Malaya and Hong Kong, which had been approved up to December.

The cost approximately is, two-thirds paid by the Overseas Governments and one-third by the Imperial Government. The news sent relates to events of public importance, which in ordinary circumstances were not sent or sent only in a condensed form.

In regard to Canada, the Government would be glad to see the news service from the United Kingdom improved. There is reason to think that the Canadian Government take a similar view. Various discussions have taken place, but no arrangements have been arrived at.

CHILD BURNED WHEN LAMP IS UPSET IN A CANORA HOME

Canora, Sask., Nov. 22.—The 3-year-old child of George Waslyn, who was burned when it upset a lamp in the living-room of its father's store on Railway avenue, at 6.30 p.m. Saturday, died Sunday morning.

Willing helpers moved much of the stock out of the store. Condemnation of the fire system was freely expressed by onlookers; quite a long time was lost in getting the pressure working, and then it would only throw a stream of five feet. The building was saved. There was no insurance on the stock. The loss is estimated at $6,600.

As a result the Government began the issuing of permits. These are being granted preferably to returned soldiers or to persons who are willing to kill up to 1,000 head, on payment of a small royalty to the Department.

QUEER MIXTURE HAS AWFUL KICK: TWO YOUNG MEN CAN'T REMEMBER

Lemon extract, Wincarnis and Jamaica ginger must have an awful kick. It destroyed the memory of two young men who appeared in the police court this morning charged with infractions of the Manitoba Temperance Act and left their mind a blank. Both men complained that they were not drunk, but the sworn testimony of three police constables established a clear case against them. Both of the accused were put back in the cells until this afternoon for further consideration of their case by the magistrate.

Four minor charges under the by-laws of the city were laid. Two of them were withdrawn, while in the other two instances the accused paid the poundkeeper's fees of $1.50 each.

ADMISSION TO LEAGUE SOUGHT BY 14 NATIONS

Question of Responsibilities of League of Nations is a Big One

INTERFERENCE DANGEROUS

Rowell Declares There Must Be No Interference in Interior Affairs

Geneva, Nov. 22.—The responsibilities of the League of Nations and the responsibilities of its individual members under Article X of the covenant is one question the committee on admission of new members is considering in connection with the applications of fourteen states, not including Germany. These applications are now in the hands of sub-committees. They are:

Finland, Esthonia, Letvia, Lithuania and Luxembourg referred to sub-committee presided over by M. Poullet; Austria, Bulgaria, Albania, and Lichenstein, referred to sub-committee presided over by Lord Robert Cecil, and Georgia, Armenia, Azerbaijan, Ukraine, and Costa Rica, sub-committee presided over by Dr. Fridt Jof Nansen, Norway.

Besides responsibilities under article X, the committees will consider in respect to each applicant the following questions:

Is its aplications in order? Is the government applying recognized de jure de facto, and by which states? Has the applicant nation a stable government and settled frontiers? What is its size and population? Is it self-governing? What has been its conduct, including both acts and assurances, with regard to its international obligations?

The latter question is supposed to have been inspired by the French member of the committee, M. Viviani, with a view to any proposition that may be submitted to elect Germany.

The prescriptions of the league as to armaments will also be considered in connection with the military power of each applicant.

In the opinion of the delegations, the first week's work of the assembly has been satisfactorily accomplished.

Final concrete solutions are not expected on all questions because most of the important problems are complicated by the absence of the United States, Russia and the Central European powers. It is hoped, however, that fundamental plans will be laid to control armaments, organize an international court of justice, and put in force the blockade against any power breaking the covenant. slight amendments to the covenants may be made.

Says Interference is Dangerous

Geneva, Nov. 22. — Hon. N. W. Rowell, formerly President of the Privy Council, pointed out to the Assembly of the League of Nations Saturday the danger involved in any attempt to interfere with the interior affairs of any country. Canada, he said, would never consent to any such interference.

Mr. Rowell's remarks were made in discussion of the report of the Council to the Assembly, ending the first stage of the Assembly's work. He was referring to the demand that had been made by Senator la Fontaine, of Belgium, that raw materials, wherever found, be made available for the use of all nations. The question of raw materials Mr. Rowell held to be a question of interior affairs.

Says League Wasting Time

Rowell criticized the League Council, declaring it had wasted time with "secondary problems." He demanded immediate settlement of the territorial dispute between Poland and Lithuania.

"The Council is on trial before the world," he said. "The typhus report is a humiliating confession of failure. If the members of the Council cannot make pledges for their own nations, they had better resign and give way to others."

Rowell concluded with a warning that unless the Council is backed up by a few "well done actions" it will cease to hold the respect of the world.

HUNDRED SICK PERSONS CARRIED FROM BUILDING

When Flames Consumed the Muskoka Free Hospital For Consumptives

A NURSE'S HEROISM

Miss Lillian Powell Carried Patients Down Fire Escape From Second Storey

Gravenhurst, Ont., Nov. 30.—One hundred patients in the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumption were carried to safety early this morning, when fire destroyed the main buildings of that institution.

One of the outstanding incidents was the heroism of Miss Lillian Powell, nurse of Toronto, who carried women down the fire escape from the second story window.

The fact that the main building was devoted to bed cases, made the work of clearing the wards more than ordinarily difficult.

PRESIDENT BEATTY TALKS ON RATES AND DISCRIMINATION

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 30.—E. W. Beatty, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway in Winnipeg in connection with the preparation of the estimates for expenditure during the coming year, would make no prediction as to probable extension, beyond the cryptic remark that, "Railways are always building."

On the electrification of lines in mountain areas, Mr. Beatty said the feasibility of the project was being investigated by engineers. No reports definite enough to warrant a start had yet been submitted.

The 25 per cent allowance for increased living costs, which applied on all C.P.R. pensions during the war and up to the end of 1920, has been extended for another year, the President announced. This involved an additional outlay on pensions of about $100,000.

Construction work in Manitoba and the West will depend upon the report of Western officials and labor conditions," Mr. Beatty stated, in referring to the 1921 estimates, he would make no announcement as to improvements for the West beyond the fact that provision had been made for a new pier at Vancouver.

In connection with the situation in regard to railway rates, President Beatty said, "If discrimination has been found to exist between the East and the West it will be removed." Inquiry ordered, he said, would no doubt be exhaustive and he hoped that in the interests of the people and the railways that it would fix the relations between the rates in the East and the West in a satisfactory manner. President Beatty expressed the hope that rates set would have some permanence.

PROF. WALLACE SAYS 62 PER CENT. OF ORE LIES IN MANITOBA

Disputes Statement That Entire Ore Body Flin Flon Mine is in Saskatchewan

The Pas, Man., Nov. 30. — The statement of D. A. Hall, in the Saskatchewan legislature, that the entire ore body of Flin Flon lies in Saskatchewan has been disputed by Professor Wallace, commissioner for Northern Manitoba. According to the commissioner sixteen million tons of ore have been proven positively, and of this amount 62 per cent. lies in Manitoba. The main shaft of the mine is located in Manitoba and the producing end will lie within the boundaries of this province. The Commissioner adds that there are great possibilities in Northern Saskatchewan, but so far the development of minerals in Northern Manitoba far outclasses anything shown across the border line, due, he thinks, to the fact that capital has not been expended to any great extent in Northern Saskatchewan, and to the lack of information of the discoveries in that territory.

GOVERNMENT AREA OF LONDON LOOKS LIKE ARMED CAMP

Uniformed Men Guard Downing Street, Shut Off by High Fence

ARMED MOTOR BOATS

Fly on the Thames in Front of the Parliament Buildings

London, Nov. 30.—Government sections of London today assumed the atmosphere of an armed camp, with uniformed men guarding Downing Street, which has been shut off by a high fence, and the Parliament Buildings, are sentinelled. Last night buildings in London and in many other large cities of England, were closely guarded against apprehended Sinn Fein attacks, by heavy detachments of police and detectives. Armed motor boats moved up and down the Thames in front of the Parliament Buildings.

There is nothing to connect the Sinn Fein with the explosion of a bomb in a warehouse in Old Swan Lane, this city, early this morning. A small fire was started but the damage was slight. No dwellings are on the street where the explosion occurred.

AMERICAN WOMEN'S HOCKEY TEAM WELL RECEIVED IN ENGLAND

London, Nov. 30.—The American Women's Hockey team has been cordially received in England and newspapers have devoted columns to its members, not because of their smartness in play but what writers term their sportswomanship and pleasing personalities. When they arrived they frankly stated they had come to learn more of the game from the experienced Britishers and they proved "good losers" in their early matches.

Much has been written about the American costumes. The English girls wear their playing skirts well above the knee and were surprised to see the Americans come onto the field in skirts far below the knee. The short skirts undoubtedly gave the Britishers an advantage in the early games. The skirts, smart sweaters and "permanent waves," the latter admitted by some of the Americans, came in for more comment from the newspapers than details of the play.

In the first games the Americans showed to disadvantage in "nursing" the ball in which the English girls are so proficient but they have tried to improve their game in that respect.

LITTLE GROUND FOR COMPLAINT IN MUNICIPAL ACT

Accounts for Dearth of Resolutions at Union of Municipalities Convention

With about 120 representatives present from all parts of Manitoba the seventeenth annual convention of the Union of Manitoba Municipalities, opened this morning, in the City Hall. Alderman Marion of St. Boniface, President, in the chair. For the first time in the history of the organization, the meeting was opened with "O Canada," which was most enthusiastically sung by those present. City Clerk Harry Brown acted as accompanist. Brief addresses were given at this session by His Worship Mayor Dinsdale and Vice-President Haddow of Rosser. At this afternoon's session, President Marion delivered his address and Robert Forke of Pipestone, Secretary Treasurer, gave the report for the year. Several resolutions then came up for discussion.

Col. Ivens of Wallace made the presentation on behalf of the members of the Union.

"Talk is all right," said the Mayor, "but we must work if we are to reach the pinnacle of the ladder. The best brains in Manitoba are gathered at this convention. There are many problems to be discussed, we want your help and co-operation. You can assist us, we can assist you. If we co-operate we can make Manitoba the best province in the Dominion of Canada."

RECRUITING LEAGUE LAUNCHES MOVEMENT FOR WAR MEMORIAL

Shaft or Cenotaph Favored by Members of League —Committee Named to Secure Data and Prepare Proposals for Later Submission to a Public Meeting

Two great forward strides towards providing a suitable memorial for the Brandon men who made the supreme sacrifice in the Great War, were taken at a meeting of the Brandon Citizen's Recruiting League held in the Police Court room Monday night. These were: a decision to take the necessary steps to bring the whole question of a memorial prominently before the people of Brandon; the recording of the belief on the part of the Brandon Citizens' Recruiting League, that a cenotaph or shaft should be erected in the City of Brandon, of such design and size as to fittingly commemorate the supreme sacrifice of the Brandon men who fell in the Great War. These decisions were the culmination of a discussion which lasted for over two hours. When the motions were put there was not one dissenting voice.

Mr. A. E. Hill, chairman of the Recruiting League, made arrangements for the meeting and was voted to the chair. He outlined the purpose for which the call was sent out as being for the further discharging of an obligation incurred when the League was busily engaged in securing recruits for the fighting forces. The League had done a great deal, said Mr. Hill, towards getting men to join the army. Some of them had been killed, others have come back, and it is our privilege to honor the men who fell. He then stated as his opinion that a shaft or cenotaph is the most suitable form of memorial, laying as it does, the emphasis on the spiritual.

Mr. G. R. Coldwell favored erection of such a memorial, suggesting location in the City Hall square. He produced a copy of the London Graphic [illegible] ed illustrations of cenotaphs and shafts that have been erected in various cities in the Old Land. He declared that we have something to learn from the Old Land, and should give every consideration to the form of memorials they have erected before launching out on new schemes.

A two-hour discussion followed concerning the nature of the proposed memorial, the failure to make progress that had attended previous efforts, various sites, and ways and means of raising the money. When it was decided that the time for action was ripe, a motion was carried that the Recruiting League undertake the necessary spade work to ensure a memorial for Brandon. Following this a resolution was passed favoring the erection of a shaft or cenotaph in a central location, and Chairman A. E. Hill was requested, by motion, to name a committee of seven together with the Chairman and Secretary to consider the whole question and report. When matters have been advanced sufficiently to warrant it a public meeting will be called to discuss the proposals.

Those present were: G. R. Coldwell, A. C. Fraser, John Farrell, T. M. Percival, Geo. Longley H. Cater, Dr. S. J. McKee, W. J. Creelman, J. C. B. Inkster, W. I. Smale, A. Campbell, Geo. Williamson, C. C. Hean, A. bell, Geo. Williamson, C. Hearst, J. S. Willmott, D. H. L. MacNeil, H. J. Pugh, S. E. Clement, Ald. A. Shewan, A. E. Hill and W. S. Harris.

Mr. A. E. Hill was elected permanent chairman and W. S. Harris was named Secretary after Mr. Geo. Longley asked to be excused.

MASSEY HARRIS BUYS GORDON M'KAY BLDG.

Large Canadian Farm Machinery Concern to Open Distributing Warehouse in Brandon Location Here Adds to Tonnage Out of Brandon and Will Help Enlarge Trade Area—About Sixty People Will Be Employed—To Open Here in Time to Handle Spring Orders

The Gordon-McKay building has been purchased by the Massey-Harris Company Limited and will be occupied by them early in the Spring. This announcement comes as a result of the negotiations between the company and President P. A. Kennedy of the Board of Trade, and an agreement has now been made between the Massey-Harris people and the Gordon-McKay Company which is entirely satisfactory to all parties concerned. The purchase price is $130,000, with an additional $10,000 being given for adjoining property to be used for storage purposes.

The successful outcome of the sale of the Gordon-McKay building is due to the efforts of President P. A. Kennedy and the work of other Board of Trade officials in meeting some of the officials of the Massey-Harris Company. When President Kennedy was in the East last Summer he spent nearly two full weeks of his holidays in placing this and other propositions before Eastern firms, and as a result negotiations were entered into which eventually brought the Massey-Harris firm here. A delegation from the Board of Trade also visited one of the directors of the Massey-Harris company in Winnipeg last Summer and presented the proposition in a favorable light to him.

The coming of the Massey-Harris Company to Brandon will mean the employment of some sixty people at their office and warehouse in the Gordon-McKay building. The Brandon warehouse will be used as a distributing centre for the firm's machinery all over Western Canada. In addition they have also secured options on adjoining property and will use it to store much of their machinery that will not be taken into the building. The business of this big machine concern will increase the tonnage out of Brandon, and there is the added feature that the shipping of the machinery will not require special freight cars.

The Gordon-McKay building was erected in 1914, but has never been occupied by any commercial organization. It was originally intended that the Gordon-McKay Limited would establish a distributing centre here, but their plans fell through and the splendid building has never been used for commercial purposes. It proved an ideal barracks for the soldiers during the war, and also served as a convention hall for the United Farmers last January. In this connection it is stated that the building will again be available for the convention of the farmers, and the Poultry Show, as planned, as the Massey-Harris Company will not occupy their new premises until the Spring.

Hamiota, Man., Nov. 26. — A very creditable showing was made at the Hamiota seed grain and dressed poultry fair held here Wednesday, the number and quality of exhibits surpassing that of any previous year. H. E. Wood and B. Picka were judges and commented upon the excellent quality of the exhibits. W. E. Francis brought in some outstanding grain, winning first for Marquis wheat and white oats other than Banner. Mr. Francis' wheat was highly recommended for the provincial seed Fair. George McConnell won first for Banner oats and Thomas Westbrook first for six-row barley.

The leading exhibitors in the dressed poultry section were A. C. Little, W. E. Francis, C. Gibson and Mrs. Todd.

There was also a good exhibit of potatoes and roots. After the judging Mr. Wood gave a very interesting talk on the exhibits and pointed out the reasons for the placings in the exhibits and offered valuable suggestions in the work.

A successful meeting was held in the afternoon, when two hundred and fifty pupils from the school were entertained to a number of motion pictures dealing with boys' and girls' clubs, and other agricultural films. In the evening the agricultural meeting held in McConnell's hall was well attended. Interesting talks were given by H. Wood and B. Picka followed by motion pictures which were greatly appreciated by the audience.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS DISCUSS WAYS AND MEANS

Last Morning Session of the Religious Education Council of Manitoba

The final morning session of the first convention of the Religious Education Council of Manitoba held in the First Methodist Church, this morning, was well attended. After the devotional exercises led by Rev. J. Irvine Walker of Deloraine, the President, Mr. George H. Stewart asked Dr. W. A. Cooper of Winnipeg to act as chairman during his absence at a meeting of the Board of Management. Nearly all of the time of the meeting was devoted to the discussion of methods used in rural and city Sunday Schools, the means of financing of local Sunday School and the financing of the Religious Education Council. The principal speakers were Rev. T. W. Price, Darlingford; Rev. E. G. Williams, Winnipeg; Rev. H. T. Wright of Winnipeg, formerly of this city and Mr. G. H. Stewart of Winnipeg, President of the Religious Education Council. Mr. Stewart led the discussion on the financing of the Religious Education Council. This matter provoked much spirited discussion which continued long after the hour for the adjournment of the morning session.

After the close of Thursday night's session a subscription was taken with the hope of obtaining $2,000 to wipe out the financial deficit on the treasurer's books for 1920. As the result of the subscription the gratifying sum of $2,100 was secured.

Making the Best of Opportunities

"Making the best of one's opportunities in the rural school," was the subject dealt with in an admirable manner by Rev. T. W. Price, of Darlingford. "To make the best of one's opportunities," stated Mr. Price, "one must realize the disabilities under which the work is done. To remove a disability is equal to making an opportunity."

The type of building, time and the long drives to churches in rural centres were named as physical disabilities. It was suggested that vans be provided to take children to church in much the same way as public school vans are used; that the Sunday Schol workers protest to the Council regarding bad roads and that they also demand the proper heating of church buildings. Religious education is a most important work and the church should be built with this end in view. It was also suggested that the school board should be asked to grant a certain amount of time for religious education in rural schools. Much of the C.S.E.T. program could be taught in public schools. During the discussion Rev. H. T. Wright of Winnipeg stated that the Department of Education is willing to do its part but that before this can be done the churches must get together and then there must be co-operation in home, church and school. Many of these suggestions will be brought up at the general convention in the form of resolutions.

Mr. E. G. Williams of Winnipeg spoke on "Making the best of one's opportunities in the city Sunday School." Mr. Williams stated during his address that the great function of the Sunday School is two-fold. "To instruct concerning the Bible and to build character." "To do this Christ must be made so real in our Sunday School work that the boys ands girls will become Christians—utilize every opportunity. Efficiency is important. Make the school more interesting. Each church should feel responsibility to every house in the community. Membership campaigns with rewards for scholars who brought others to school, asking the Superintendent of the Home Department and Cradle Roll to make canvasses of homes were suggested as means to increase attendance. Buttons, certificates or ribbons were also suggested as rewards for attendance. Mr. Williams gave many splendid suggestions to Sunday School workers in his description of methods used in the Central Congregational Church in Winnipeg.

Methods of Financing

Rev. H. T. Wright of Winnipeg, formerly of Brandon led the discussion on "Financing the Local Sunday School." In the course of his remarks Rev. H. T. Wright said in part: "When will the church realize that the Sunday School is the biggest department. The Sunday School is the work. There should be one budget in the church, Sunday School scholars should not have to finance themselves. The scholars should have a budget and present the same to the church for the finances. Every cent of boys and girls offerings should be given to missions. If we give to missions, we will also give to the church. We have been teaching boys and girls to spend every cent on themselves. Mr. Wright also described methods used in his church where there is only one treasurer and where no sales, bazaars, etc., are held.

THREE KILLED IN ACCIDENT ON G.T.R. NEAR TORONTO

Broken Rail Causes Several Pullman Cars Grand Trunk Flyer to Leave Track

ACCIDENT NEAR TORONTO

Freight Train Side-Swipes Passenger Cars—One Car Being Almost Demolished

Toronto, Nov. 26. —Three persons are dead, four are injured and in hospitals, while seven others were seriously injured, according to the latest estimate of the casualties of the wreck of the Grand Trunk flier Thursday night. Several Pullman cars shot off the track owing to a broken rail and were side-swiped by a frieght train on another track. The wreck occurred about ten miles from the Toronto Union station. The Pullman car "Majura" bore the brunt of the collision with the freight, one side of the car being torn away and scattered along the track. One of the bodies recovered is that of the Pullman car porter, Emmanuel Brown, of Toronto. The other two persons killed in the wreck have not been identified.

Three of the injured are in Grace hospital, [illegible] were F. [illegible] Milwaukee; George Harros, Listowel, Ont.; and Alfred Snyder, St. Jacobs, Ont.

The wreck happened opposite the Toronto brick yards, and, William Rennie, night engineer there, states that the impact was terrific. He rushed to the embankment overlooking the track, and in the dim light distinguished the head of a woman through one of the broken car windows. He and others assisted her out. She was in her night clothes and had suffered a number of minor injuries.

The three in Grace hospital are suffering chiefly from injuries to their bodies. It is not known how serious their injuries are.

Emergency Brakes Applied

A witness of the accident states that the engineer of the freight train had applied his emergency brakes as soon as he saw the sparks, which the suddenly applied brake-shoes on the passenger brought from the car wheels. Number 16 (the East bound passenger) was in charge of Conductor A. H. Brown, of Montreal.

One of the luckiest escapes of the passengers on the wrecked train was that of J. M. Limoges, of Montreal. He barely caught the rear end of Number 16 as it was pulling out of Union depot, and after placing his grip in his berth he went to the smoker and was smoking a cigar when the collision occurred. His berth was No. 3 on the left side in the first pullman and this was completely demolished. He escaped without any injuries beyond a severe shaking up.

Relief Train Rushed

The left side of the "Majura," the first pullman, was completely torn out in collision, and the side of a freight car seemed to have replaced the part of the sleeper swept away. The bodies of the dead were all under the wreckage of this car towards the front. A great number of the passengers were severely shaken up and cut with broken glass.

As soon as possible after word of the accident reached the railway headquarters a relief train was made up and, carrying doctors, rushed to the accident. Some of the physicians are accompanying the train, which is taking the remainder of the passengers to Montreal, to look after any who require attention. Only the uninjured and superficially injured are proceeding.

George Johnson, of Toronto, is in Grace hospital cut about the forehead.

The train crews are working at the scene of the wreck, with lanterns their only light. The sleeping car "Majura" is being jacked up in order to extricate bodies under it.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' WORK BIG TOPIC AT CONVENTION

First Methodist Church Filled to Hear Addresses Thursday Evening

THE GREAT INFLUENCES

On a Child's Life Are the Home, the School and the Church

Boys' and Girls' work was the topic which held the centre of attention at the Thursday afternoon and evening sessions of the Religious Education Council Convention here. That the work is of intense iterest to the whole community was evidenced by the large audiences which turned out to hear the various speakers address the two sessions. In the evening the big auditorium of the First Methodist Church was packed to capacity and the overflow was accommodated in the Sunday School room. The spirit pervading at the sessions and the interest shown in the work of the Sunday Schools is making the convention one of the most successful ever held in Manitoba.

Four addresses of more than usual interest were given Thursday afternoon an devening. Prof. A. E. Hetherington gave a splendid talk on "The Appeal of Childhood," while in the evening, Miss M. E. Macdonald, an perts in Boys' work spoke on their D. R .Poole and G. H. Stewart. experts in Boys work sopke on their respective fields of labor. A united Teen Age girls choir assisted by an orchestra provided the music at the evening session of the convention.

Problems of Girls Work

That the problem of girls' work is one of the most important to be considered, was a statement made by Miss M. E. Macdonald, who addressed a large audience in the First Methodist Church Thursday evening on "Girls' Work." "There is a tide in the affairs of men, and this tide is the 'teen age girls," she said. There are many girls' clubs doing splendid work in Canada, but none doing better work than those in the churches. An effort is being made now to have the girls live along a four fold plan, with a spiritual foundation for all girls' work.

The girls' program is just a suggested program, Miss Macdonald said, [illegible] left to each group to arrange their own program. It up to the Church and the leaders of the Church to give the very best program to the girls. The great need today is leaders in the Sunday School work, not only for the Sabbath Day but also for the whole week. The speaker told of the great work accomplished by the women during the Great War and urged the women to turn this spirit of self-sacrifice to the girls today.

Miss Macdonald said that the girls and women have plenty of time to go to dances and the movies, but there is a great dearth of applicants for Sunday School work. This is an alarming feature of today. It is the girls, she declared, that are moulding the character of the young men. Girls are the most important part in our Christian life and we need them in our Sunday Schools. She made the suggestion that one evening a week and Sundays be devoted to Sunday School work. "It's up to the Church and to the women of the nations to remedy the defects in the girls' training today.

Suggesting how the remedies could be applied, Miss Macdonald named several books from which valuable instruction could be obtained. She said it is quite possible for every woman to help train girls along the four fold plan. Faith should be maintained in this program and more efforts made to help the girls. "Don't criticize the girls. Give them a better program. They are waiting for your plan," she concluded.

Boy Character Moulded By Play

D. R. Poole, Boys' Work Secretary, illustrated his address on Boys' Work by means of a chart. It was one of the most interesting addresses of the day and was reserved to rthe final item on the Thursday program. Mr. Poole has had long experience in boys 'work, and many of the illustrations presented were real incidents from every days life.

He showed that the adult must always come down to the boy, and then start with him on the upgrade to the adult's aim. The speaker then showed how the various activities could be arranged to interest the boys. He declared that it is impossible to determine the measure of a boy's possibilities by a chart, but that the measure of the opportunities taken advantage of by the boy could be determined.

Mr. Poole illustrated the system by which the boys were personally interviewed under the four fold plan, and in speaking of sport and play he said that a boy's character is made while he plays. Boys most respond to prayer, but the speaker lamented the fact that so few boys know how to pray in these days. Prayer meant power. The boys hunger for religious education, but so few people talk to them about it, and thus the boy's hunger for it goes unsatisfied. Speaking on the choice by a boy of his vocation, Mr. Poole said our greatest concern is not what they do, but why they do it.

The day is gone when a mass appeal to religion can be made. The greatest problem back of the Church today is the lack of men to enter the ministry. Mr. Poole then showed that the Christ-way would be the only proper way to get leaders. Illustrating this he said that he knew one man who had taken over the leadership of ten boys for five years. At the end of that time the boys would pass out as men, then he would take another five. In this way leaders would be prepared and the work of finding leaders would be solved. Thus boys could be naturally led into the Christian life. The boy must be built up along a definite program, if Canada is to realize the type of citizenship it must have, stated Mr. Poole.

The Work in Manitoba

Mr. G. H. Stewart, of Winnipeg, spoke for a few minutes on our boys' boys. He said it was his privilege to be president of the Boys Work Board in Manitoba, and he paid a splendid tribute to the work of the men associated in the work. He briefly reviewed the boys' work in Manitoba, and said it got a real start in 1913. Mr. Taylor Statten had inaugurated the program for boys, and in 1914 national and provincial committees were appointed to act as advisory boards.

During the war, said Mr. Stewart, the Boards did a splendid work, but the efficiency of the work was lacking to some extent. This year a con[illegible] was held in Toronto and larger plans for co-operative work among the boys were discussed. A larger share of responsibility was shifted to the Boys' Boards and the Provincial Board in Manitoba now has forty-nine men ready to carry out boys' work in this province.

Mr. Stewart explained the results coming from the efforts made to interest real, red-blooded men in the Boys' Work. The Canadian Clubs, Kiwanis Clubs and Rotary Clubs are co-operating in the work today. The task of being responsible for religious education is shouldered on the church. There are three sources where the religious influences abound and these are the home, the public schools and the church.

The speaker said the religious education of our childern would have to be accomplished in twenty-six hours each year, if the half-hour basis each Sunday is taken. The home must furnish its share of religious education, for despite the good work of the Sunday Schools there is still a large field of labor.

Because many of the boys did not have companionship when most needed, 1,150 boys went to the reformatory last year. "Believe in boys and trust them," and that is the secret for young men seeking leadership. The boys would not go wrong, he said, if they had been under the proper leadership at the time when they needed it. He urged the young men to take advantage of the opportunity and declared that the need of leaders is a standing challenge today. The job before the Boys' Board is to put leadership back into the church, and he appealed to the young men to take up the work of training the younger boys.

Canada for Christ

"Canada for Christ," was the theme of a short address by Rev. Hugh Kilgour at a supper conference in the Club room of the First Methodist Church, on Thursday. The Ladies' Aid served a splendid supper and appreciation of their efforts was expressed by Mr. E. C. Millard. George H. Stewart, who presided called on several speakers and all responded with clear cut concise statements. Canada, said Mr. Kilgour, has been thrust out into the spotlight. When Canada's status was questioned at the conference at Versailles, Sir Robt. Borden reminded his hearers that when the great drive was launched it was Canadian troops that were the spear-heads of the six great thrusts. The League of Nations admitted Canada among the first fourteen world powers. When the question was asked has Canada say claims, Clemenceau advised referring the question to Hindenburg. The sacrifices that Canada made during the world war were the basis of acceptance into the League of Nations.

"We must get the idealism this new day can bring," declared Mr. Kilgour. Europe is looking to this new country to see if it can last. Forces are at work to tear it asunder and the great steadying influences are the homes, industry, schools, churches and other organizations. No man can take a worthy part in shaping the future of Canada unless he hears the challenge of Christ. The meeting was declared to be rich in possibilities. The boy can't drift from the home, the school, industry, but he can and does drift from the church. Let us help to steady the boy in the church, to fix on Christ through choice, as one who is the greatest in this life.

Other speakers were Messrs. Lane, Smalley, Robertson, Little, Hill, Poole, and Prof. Hetherington.

Nominating Committee Report

The Nominating Committee brought in their report at the commencement of the evening session on Thursday. Mr. George H. Stewart, of Winnipeg, who is president of the Religious Council, was nominated for the presidency of the convention. He declined the honor, however, and asked the committee to reconsider their nomination. The other officers nominated were as follows: Vice-President, Mr. A. White, Brandon; Convention Secretary, Miss Helen Davison, Winnipeg; Convention Representatives, W. A. McIntyre, Winnipeg; Miss Helen Palk, Winnipeg; Mrs. A. G. Campbell, Winnipeg; His Worship Mayor Dinsdale, Brandon, Archdeacon McElherne, Winnipeg; T. A. Wilson, Winnipeg; S. E. Burch, Wellwood; Roy McPhail, North Brandon; Rev. R. F. Argue, Winnipeg; William Robson, M.L.A., Deleau.

The Appeal of Childhood

One of the most interesting addresses of the day came from Prof. A. E. Hetherington at the afternoon session of the convention Thursday. He chose as his subject "The Appeal of Childhood," and spoke of the inherent rights every child is entitled to. The child has a great right to religious inheritance and the speaker stated that it would look for this source of inheritance from religion in the home, in the public schools and in the church. There was a large attendance at the afternoon session, the auditorium of First Methodist church being packed.

"In childhood all possibilities for the improvement of mankind must be plied," said Prof. Hetherington. Dividing his address under the parts of subjective and objective, the speaker [illegible] regarding the subjective, that every child has inherent rights. Among these rights the child has the right to be well born, and that it should come into this world without taint of social sin. It should also be physically vigorous.

The child comes into the world pleading helplessness, and the speaker declared with regard to the physical development of the child, that the church has not yet made a study of the function of play. The child also has a right to be well educated, and has a right to have a training in preparation for democracy, and the expansion of individuality.

That there would be no unrest in the world today had the child been properly trained, was a declaration of Prof. Hetherington, who said there must be something wrong with the training of the child of today.

The child first makes its appeal to the parents and then to the community. Speaking of the marriage of persons who were not in the best of health, Prof. Hetherington said that public opinion should be crystalized in a law that will prevent such people from marrying. With regard to the right of every child to a mother and father, the speaker declared that divorce laws must not be made easy. "Just as soon as divorce comes easy we will see a disintegration that will overthrow society. The home is the ante-chamber of Heaven."

Reflex actions cannot be improved on, but nine-tenths of what you are or do, is the direct product of instinctive actions. Pure instincts in action are entirely up to the individual, he said, and the ability to act determines education, in a large measure. Religious inheritance is one of the chief rights of the child and Prof. Hetherington said the child would look to the source of its inheritance from (a) religion in the home, (b) in the public schools, and (c in the church. "The war will never be won until we train a type of character that will carry with it the spirit of Jesus Christ," concluded the speaker.

Following the address by Prof. Hetherington, the gathering broke up into sectional conferences. There was a large attendance at the conferences and some splendid instruction was obtained from the meetings. The conference on elementary work was led by Mrs. J. R. Hamilton, that on girls' work by Miss M. E. Macdonald, and that on boys' work by D. R. Poole.

GREENWOOD TELLS OF IRISH PLOTS TO DESTROY CANALS

And Other Valuable Property in Liverpool and Manchester

A NEAT REJOINDER

Given Liberal Who Refers to Secretary's Ancestor Sentenced to Be Hanged

London, Nov. 25.—(C.A.P.)—In the course of a debate in the House of Commons yesterday, on the Irish reprisals question, Sir Donald MacLean, Liberal, turning to Sir Hamar Greenwood, Irish Secretary said:

"The honorable gentleman comes from Canada where one of his ancestors was sentenced to be hanged, drawn and quartered for being a rebel against the Crown."

Sir Hamar, instantly interjected: "He was not an assassin," (loud cheers) continuing, Sir Donald remarked: "He was an innocent man suffering for some of the guilty. That's what is happening in Ireland today."

Irish Plots Revealed

London, Nov. 25.—The most conspicuous incident in the Irish debate in the House of Commons Wednesday was the revelation of Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland of Sinn Fein plans to destroy property in Liverpool and Manchester—a revelation which was greeted by Jospeh Devlin with the exclamation: "All that was written in Dublin Castle

In other respects the debate followed the customary lines.

Former Premier Asquith moved a resolution expressing abhorrence of the recent Dublin assassinations and condemnation of reprisals and urging immediate steps to bring about Irish pacification. An amendment by Colone John Ward converted this motion into an expression of admiration for the courage and devotion of the crown forces in Ireland. This was adopted by 303 to 83, and the motion, as thus amended, was adopted by acclamation, amid ministerial cheers.

The Chief Secretary appealed to the House to show every consideration by word and by resolution for the police, soldiers, civil servants and judges, who, he declared, were obeying the orders of parliament and fighting a battle against assassination, and not against the Irish people. The Secretary appealed especially to the "great Catholic church in Ireland," which he said, by appeals from every altar could greatly assist in this fight against assassination. Sir Hamar ended his address amid cheering when he said: "There is only one issue left. That is who is for the empire and who is for assassination?"

Plans Made Public

The alleged plans for blowing up the Liverpool docks and the Manchester power and water plants, which were made public after Sir Hamar Greenwood's statement, are said to show that they were made in military fashion, after detailed reports with drawings had been forwarded to "Irish Republican army" officers by spies at each place that was destined for destruction. The plans are said to have been captured when the documents relating to the spreading of typhoid and glanders were captured.

The Liverpool plans called for 23 officers, 27 engineers and 75 privates and 800 pounds of a high explosive for attacking 21 points, most of them dock gates, with a view to stranding ships.

Diversions suggested in the report would consist of numerous fires in cotton and other warehouses, starting a half hour before the other operations.

Apparently every precaution was taken for dealing with the "enemy forces—the police of both Liverpool and Manchester. The latter plan dealt with the destruction of the street car power plant in Manchester serving both industries and tram lines, with hammers and explosives, and also the Clayton Valley pumping station, which furnishes water to a large part of the city.

Asquith Deplores Assassinations

It was difficult, said Mr. Asquith, in speaking on his resolution in the House of Commons debate, to speak with restraint of Sunday's assassinations in Dublin. "They were cruel, cold-blooded murders," he continued, "and can only have been the work of men who have lost all sense of humanity and honor. The very gravity of such crimes as these—I am afraid it's a mistake to say they are decreasing—makes it all the more necessary that the executive shall be able to discourage them with a clear front and clean hands."

Answering Mr. Asquith, Sir Hamar Greenwood, the Chief Secretary for Ireland, was loudly cheered on rising.

"The vast majority of the people of Ireland are not in favor of murder," he said. "They want peace and they are getting peace because the forces of the crown are breaking the terror."

Bertie Arnold, seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Arnold, 637 Frederick Street, was taken to the General Hospital on Wednesday suffering from a fractured jaw and other injuries the extent of which is not yet known, as the result of an accident which occurred while he was out coasting. The incline down Percy street makes a splendid slide now that the snow has thawed and frozen and many children have been sleigh-riding down the hill every afternoon. The child had evidently started to slide down when Cristall & Schwartz' delivery auto appeared unexpectedly crossing the street and before either driver or child could stop, the little lad on the sleigh had been run over. He was picked up and taken to Dr. Condell's office where it was at first thought that he was very seriously hurt. After examination he was taken to the hospital for treatment.

GREAT NEED IS FOR TRAINED LEADERSHIP

Religious Education Council Considers Vital Needs of the Age

LARGE ATTENDANCE

First Methodist Church Filled to Hear Speakers First Evening of Convention

With a large attendance at each of the sessions of the first convention of the Religious Education Council of Manitoba, which commenced Wednesday afternoon in the First Methodist Church, the conference promises to be very successful. Over 130 delegates from outside points had registered up to the time of meeting Wednesday night and it was expected many others would register this morning. In addition to the visiting delegates there are many citizens attending the session and on Wednesday evening the church auditorium was practically packed with people interested in religious education. At each session on Wednesday and at this morning's meeting, Rev. J. Irvine Walker of Deloraine conducted the devotional period which opened the meetings, being assisted by several of the ministers present. Mr. George H. Stewart of Winnipeg, President of the Council, presided, and this morning the principal speakers were Dr. W. A. McIntyre of Winnipeg and Mr. A. White of this city, who dealt very effectively with different phases of Teacher Training. The first session of the Board of aMnagement was held this morning.

Wednesday night the special speakers were Mrs. J. R. Hamilton of Portage la Prairie, Rev. J. W. Little and His Worship Mayor Dinsdale. In connection with the musical program during the evening, Mr. John Davis contributed a vocal solo which was very much enjoyed. Mrs. Jessie Berry acted as accompanist. At the afternoon session Rev. Basil W. Thompson, M.A., was the special speaker. Reports and other routine business occupied the time of those present during the afternoon. A committee consisting of Mrs. S. Symes of Winnipeg Rev. J. E. Lane, Hartney, Miss A. Campbell, Winnipeg, Mr. S. E. Burch, of Wellwood, and Mr. R. H. Dennison of Newdale, were appointed Council officers and representatives on the Board of Management and Executive committee.

Preparation of Lesson

Dr. W. A. McIntyre of Winnipeg gave an outline of the best way to select, prepare and present a lesson to a Sunday School class. Dr. McIntyre was the first speaker at the Teachers' Training conference and illustrated his remarks with the aid of a blackboard. As an example Dr. McIntyre chose the twenty-third Psalm and adapted it to the different departments of the Sunday School.

"A teacher cannot teach a thing unless he feels it himself. This is the starting point in teaching," said Dr. McIntyre. "One must do things oneself first then one can appreciate what others have done. The presentation of the story must be suited to the children to whom it is to be presented, and the interpretation of the story must be adapted so that the children can undersand."

Appeal For Trained Leadership

In a strong appeal for consideration of the question of trained leadership in the Sunday School, Mr. Alfred White, of this city, stated that the greatest drawback was that "the importance of trained leadership has not yet gripped the people. If we don't realize the real need we won't get very far." The lack of leaders was another difficulty mentioned by Mr. White and also the lack of necessary material to carry on the work. Mr. White was the second speaker in the Teacher Training Conference this morning, his subject being "Leading a Teacher Training Class."

Continuing, Mr. White said that the standard for the first course of training should be a program of eighty units of work, each unit to consist of a forty-five minute lesson requiring two hours' preparation by the student. The work should cover Biblical work; child psychology and methods of teaching and administration of the school. Manitoba's training course has this material. Then there should be a good blackboard for the use of the teacher, a good dictionary of the Bible and at least ten volumes for reference. The training of superintendents and officers as well as teachers should be included in the training idea. Two years should be the minimum time for a course and one should be prepared to spend money to purchase the necessary equipment.

"In organizing a training class one must arouse in the minds of those going to study a strong desire to get something worth while. A good way to do this is to talk over the whole proposition and the needs of the work with the prospective students and let them decide the action to be taken. Leaders should always expect work from the members of the class and the class should always be prepared to do their share of the work. There is no use talking of general principles if you cannot illustrate by a concrete example. Teachers in training should be given an opportunity of observing good teaching and of practicing teaching under direction. Don't have too rigid a program. Give an opportunity for the bringing up of discussion the students' individual difficulties in teaching."

Following the addresses a discussion of them took place after which the first meeting of the Board of Management was held.

Welcome by Mayor Dinsdale

"We must put our all on the altar of service," said His Worship Mayor Dinsdale in an eloquent address of welcome on Wednesday night. "The home is God's first and holiest school," he continued. "Take the motto on the wall, 'Canada for Christ.' If this is our motto, then Canada will be won for Christ. There is no question of it." The Mayor then welcomed the visiting delegates to Brandon and gave them the freedom of the city.

Importance of Elementary Work

"The Importance of Elementary Work" was the subject dealt with in an admirable way by Mrs. J. R. Hamilton, of Portage la Prairie. In the course of her remarks Mrs. Hamilton said:

"Is elementary work important? When we think of the little children that come into the Sunday School the question is answered. Our Heavenly Father answered the question when He sent His son into the world as a little child. The place to get leaders is in the Primary Department. I believe that all the world loves children. It is not the world that makes things wrong for children, it is the grown-ups who don't make things right for children.

"The home is the greatest factor in the child's education. The little child needs to know God, needs to know primarily the God of love. The home is the school where the child should get the first impression of God. But the Sunday School opens the door to all children. What do they come for? To get acquainted with or to be taught about God. A child responds wonderfully to teaching and I believe almost unconsciously worships God." Mrs. Hamilton traced the work done in Cradle Roll work, Beginners' Department and Primary Department and urged a greater co-operation between the home and the Sunday School so that the little children who are seeking a knowledge of Christ today, might be "lifted up so they can see."

Religion in the Home

"Some form of home religion in every home in every district in Canada," was the slogan suggested by Rev. J. W. Little who spoke on "Religion in the Home." He traced the work of the Sunday School from the Cradle Roll to the Senior Department and stated that each superintendent when visiting the homes should be armed with proper books and literature so that he could intelligently assist the parents in their instruction with their children. In closing he said that the Sunday School should take the parents into its confidence and, co-operating with them, should go into the home as a helper and friends and be ready to make practical suggestions.

Rev. Basil Thompson

The principal speaker at the initial session of the Religious Education Council held Wednesday afternoon was Rev. Basil W. Thompson, M.A., of Winnipeg, who spoke on the subject, "Christianity the Hope of the World."

In a forceful manner Mr. Thompson explained the meaning of Christianity, stating that "Christianity as a religion is the story of man's quest for God and the story of God's quest for man." "Christianity is alive and no record has ever been made of its history, for the history of Christianity is not yet finished."

Speaking of the beginning of the Christian movement when, through the work of Christ and the fatherhood of God, individuals were brought together to live better and truer lives, the speaker said that in Christianity today there is the insistence of individual righteousness. "Christianity, however defined, has a hope for the world in which we live because it is the only religion that preaches a living God, the only religion that brings hope to the changing world.

"Today everything is changing. Every barrier is broken down. The world is astir and with a hungry heart asks Christianity to save. Is there in Christianity today that vitality to make now this terrific readjustment?

"The hope of Christianity for the future in the world is that we can say we can prevent wrong; that we can direct our boys and girls in Christianity so that their lives will not know sin. This is your task. If we fail . . . . it is dreadfully possible that Christianity may defeat Christianity.

"Christianity, the hope of the world, is the sowing of the seed, the preparing of the soil that the acorn may grow into the oak. This is the real work of Christian education. For the world, if it calls for anything, calls for the reconciled."

A splendid report of the first year's work of the Executive Committee since the reorganization of the Council was read by Rev. R. O. Armstrong, in the absence of Dr. McIntyre. This showed that seventeen conventions had been held in various places in the province, sixteen districts had been organized and five sub-districts organized. Particularly good work was done in connection with the Girls' Work Board and also the Boys' Work Board. The Treasurer, Mr. T. Gordon Russell, explained the report for the year, copies of which were handed those present.

BOY SCOUTS TO HAVE .22 CALIBRE RIFLES IN FUTURE

Requirements in Boy Scout Tests to Be Re-worded, Commissioners Decide

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—The Boy Scout Commissioners from Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, at a meeting yesterday, decided that hereafter 22 calibre rifles will be supplied to Scouts instead of the customary military rifles. In order to instil a stronger British sentiment into members of the scout units, most of the requirements stated in the Boy Scout tests are being re-worded. Any suggestion of militarism will not be tolerated in the corps, it was pointed out.

REFERENDUM RETURNS NOT ALL COMPLETED YET: TIME LIMIT EXPIRES

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—Complete returns of the voting on the bone-dry referendum on Oct. 25 in the three Prairie Provinces are still lacking at Ottawa. In view of the fact that the time within which the Returning Officers must send in their figures has practically expired, it is expected that they will all be received shortly and formally gazetted.

There is no possibility of the necessary proclamations making the results of the voting effective being issued within sixty days. Although some doubt has been thrown on the interpretation of the law that sixty days must expire before such proclamations are authorized by the Government, it is probable that the Government authorities, in order to remove any possibility of legal complications, will wait the full two months before taking action.

The Canadian Press endeavored to ascertain Mr. Crerar's views on a wheat pool but on this and other points, he firmly refused to express any opinion.

U.S. WRITER TELLS SINN FEINERS TO DO IT IN CANADA

Suggests They Come Over Border and Try Burning British Flags

New York, Nov. 25.—(By Canadian Press)—Protests against insults offered the Union Jack by Sinn Fein sympathizers here continue to appear in the correspondence columns of the local papers. Every day letters from United States citizens appear in the leading papers strongly condemning the tactics of the followers of De Valera and the frequency of the protests of late would appear to indicate the majority of New Yorkers are becoming weary of the Sinn Feiners' attempts to satisfy what one writer terms their "one-half-of-one-per-cent. politics" by burning the British emblem.

One writer offers the suggestion that those who take delight in burning the Union Jack should go to Canada and attempt to do it there. "Why don't they go to Canada and amuse themselves?" he asks. "There ought to be plenty of British flags there to burn and, besides, there are thousands of returned Canadian soldiers who could probably entertain them. The government ought to revoke their citizenship and deport them along with other trouble-makers."

Another letter, signed by a woman named Kelly, remarks that what with the burning of flags and the hostility shown Red Cross workers in "little old New York" one cannot help wondering "if the Irish cause is being exploited with the same incongruity in the old country."

Still another letter expressing indignation at frequent insults to the Union Jack says: "That flag on the seas during the war protected these shores from the Hun. That flag was everywhere in the thickest of the fight. Let us give honor where honor is due."

Berlin, Nov. 25.—During a bitter debate in the Reischstag yesterday over the financial outlook, Rudolf Breitscheid, leader of the moderate Independent League, said the national burdens not the result of the "infamous conduct of her enemies," but the sequel to Germany's pre-war policies, "Germany's collapse was not due to pacifists but to men who praised war as the fountain of youth and the bath of steel."

Hiebert, Provincial Constable at Winkler, appeared before Magistrate Milne on Wednesday to answer four charges preferred at the time of arrest—the first, corruption by police officer; second, taking bribe under the Secret Commissions Act; third, extortion; fourth, bribery.

The magistrate ruled that the evidence in all charges was not strong enough to warrant the sending of the accused for trial, and Hiebert was dismissed.

Four other charges, preferred at a later date, were then heard, and Hiebert was held on bail of $1,000 on his own bond, and two sureties of $500 each.

Winnipeg, Nov. 25.—It was announced at the parliament buildings here that George H. Hiebert, Winkler constable, had been dismissed from Government service.

NAIL THE LIES

A dispatch from Dublin, Ireland, conveys the information to Canadian and American people that the British Government has determined to put an end to the campaign of calumny and misrepresentation emanating from Ireland. Under authority of the Restoration of Order in Ireland Act, proceedings in court martial were taken against Directors Martin Fitzgerald and Hamilton Edwards, and Editor P. J. Hooper, of the Freeman's Journal.

The charge against these men is that of publishing false reports and reports calculated to cause disaffection.

Summons were issued on two charges, one relating to the alleged flogging of a youth at the Portabello Barracks, and the second to the killing of two policemen near Tullow. A third charge was withdrawn because of insufficient evidence.

Proceedings that have been taken against newspapermen engaged in stirring up trouble in Ireland indicate that the British authorities are at last awake to the menace created by Sinn Fein propaganda and lies. False statements appearing in what are generally considered as reputable journals are accepted as facts, unless denied, and denials are never as effective or as farreaching as the originals. The effect of a repetition of such statements, even on those who are in a position to know the truth, is injurious, and when repeated day after day, inflame the easily-aroused passions in Celtic breasts.

So proficient have Sinn Fein propagandists become, and such friendly understandings have been established in unexpected places, that it is difficult to get exact information. Even British statesmen have been hoodwinked. It is not very surprising, though it is regretable, that leading Canadian newspapers have either been tooled into becoming unconscious agencies for the distribution of Sinn Fein propaganda, or that they unwittingly lending themselves to an effort to tear asunder the British Empire.

The contract that the Canadian Press directorate last week was authorized to enter into with Reuter's News Agency should exclude a great deal of propaganda from the daily news service. Under the new arrangement this service is to be edited in London by Canadian Press editors and carried to Canada by direct cable. Hitherto the foreign news service was a rehash of the news service primarily designed to servie United States papers. Should the new arrangement not prove what is desired, changes can be made speedily to bring about desirable conditions.

It is a reasonable expectation that the prosecutions that have been commenced in Ireland will prove a deterrent to Sinn Fein agents and cause a more generally accurate reading of news and the consequent detection of conscious or unconscious distribution of hurtful propaganda.

PUBLIC WANTS PURE MILK

The public wants pure milk. The Health Department is assured of the support of the public in its demand that the stables where the cows are kept, and equipment used in the handling of milk, conform to such standards as will afford adequate protection. It is just here that differences occur. What the Health Department considers reasonable and proper is often objected to by people in the dairy business, and when they are unable, or decline, to comply with the requirements laid down, and discontinue supplying milk, a howl arises. This protest has never yet failed to result in a let-down of the bars that the officials in charge of public health work deem necessary. There have always in the past been persons in "the seats of the mighty," who have preferred to permit the continuance of present conditions rather than insist on sanitary measures.

Now that the Health Department appears to be moving towards adequate regulations and proper supervision, it may be more than ever necessary to ascertain that the Aldermen are prepared to furnish the necessary backing.

A WISE SUGGESTION

Grand juries are made up mostly of ordinary individuals, therefore they are sometimes wise and sometimes foolish. One grand jury recently said something that is as wise as Solomon.

This is that the responsibility of parents for juvenile delinquencies ought to be exposed by making them pay for all expenses incurred by the Crown in prosecuting juvenile offenders when the offences are shown clearly to be due to neglect or improper training of the children.

Whether that plan could be worked out practically, and whether it is the right way to get at what the grand jury had in mind, may be in doubt. Certainly there can be no doubt about this fact, which was uppermost in the minds of the jurors; that in an appallingly large proportion of cases of child delinquency the parents are at fault for the neglect of their children and for the perfectly atrocious training they have given them.

No one who has come in contact with large numbers of child offenders and has looked into the environment that produced them will have the slightest doubt about that. Some may be born bad; but where one is born bad a hundred, if not a thousand, are made bad by parental neglect or by bad training or by no training at all.

Why shouldn't such parents, being plainly guilty, be punished in some way? Why isn't that, instead of punishing the victims of their neglect, the quickest and best way to reach child delinquency?

It may be answered on behalf of many of such parents that they, in their turn, were left ignorant through the neglect of their own parents; and even that society itself might be brought to the bar for permitting such ignorance to perpetuate itself from generation to generation. That answer, while truthful, is forgetting the erring child whose condition called attention to the situation.

There is wisdom in the thought put forward by the grand jury, and matter in it deserving thought which may lead to constructive action.

INCREASED PHONE RATES

Dispatches from Winnipeg contain the information that the Manitoba Government will make application to the Public Utilities Commissioner for an increase in the telephone rates. The system is expected to incur a deficit of $200,000 this year and a fifteen per cent. increase in rates is desired.

According to the tenor of the dispatch, the Manitoba Government contemplates doing the very thing that it has vigorously protested against the C.P.R. being permitted to do—increasing rates to meet an anticipated deficit. Surely there is a mistake some where.

Telephone subscribers have no right, and do not expect the Province to bear any portion of the cost of operation of the system, provided always, that only such lines are constructed as may reasonably be expected to be supporting. If, however, the Province expends money on development and colonization lines, then it has no right to expect telephone subscribers to pay for them. The Province should make good any deficit thus incurred.

B. C. ELECTIONS

The Provincial elections in British Columbia which are to be held on December 1, bid fair to be uncommonly lively and will be likely to establish a new record with respect to the number and variety of the candidates in the field. Hitherto the fighting has been mainly between two old parties, but this year new groups have appeared and the result is not unlikely to resemble that in this Province where the Norris Government can hold office only provided it secures the support of some members who did not run as Norris Government candidates.

In British Columbia the Conservatives had things all their own way in the general election of 1912, carrying forty seats, while the Socialists carried two and the Liberals none. The situation was completely reversed in the general election of 1916, when the Liberals carried thirty-seven seats, the Conservatives nine and the Socialists one. On June 20, 1917, three seats were vacant, the Liberals held thirty-five and the Conservatives nine.

Today there are more than three candidates in the running for each of the forty-seven seats in the Legislature. In Vancouver, which has six seats, there are twenty-nine contestants, and in Victoria, which has four seats, there are nineteen candidates. The Liberals have nominated forty-four candidates, and the Conservatives forty-one. Other parties represented are the Soldiers, Independents, Federated-Labor, Socialists, Labor, Soldier-Labor, Farmer-Labor and Farmer. Women will vote for the first time in this Provincial general election, having been given the suffrage by the present Government soon after it came into power. Only three women have become candidates, and these are all contesting seats in Vancouver city. The first woman to sit in the British Columbia Legislature, Mrs. Ralph Smith, is a candidate in Vancouver, where she was elected to fill the vacancy created by the death of her husband, the late Hon. Ralph Smith, who died a few months after accepting the office of Minister of Finance in the Brewster Government.

Premier Brewster, whose death occurred in 1917, was succeeded by Hon. John Oliver, familiarly known as "Honest John." Premier Oliver's Government has some progressive measures to its credit, though the number of candidates in the field indicates that there are many causes for dissatisfaction. One of the troublesome questions at present is that concerning the sale of intoxicating liquor. The Oliver Government appears to have failed conspicuously to enforce the prohibitory law, and conditions arose which have been the subject of bitter controversy. Then came the referendum, and a popular vote in favor of the sale of liquor through the Government agencies in sealed packages. The Government has not yet submitted any definite plan but Hon. Mr. Oliver has said in his manifesto that the public will as revealed by the referendum will be carried into effect and there has been some discussion in favor of issuing permits to individuals, a plan said to be regarded with some favor in Government circles. Mr. Oliver, in reply to Hon. Mr. Bowser's criticisms, has said that it naturally will be the duty of the new legislature to frame a law such as will best give effect to the referendum vote calling for the sale of liquor under government control.

To outsiders it would appear as if the Oliver Government has done much to commend it, but it cannot be denied that the election is a complicated on, and the outlook is doubtful, and as said before, liable to result in the Oliver administration finding itself in a similar plight to that occupied by the Norris Government in this province.

BRANDON FIRM DISPOSES OF FINE NEW PREMISES

NEW FIRM COMING

While the Old Firm Will Not Disappear, is Cheering Assurance

Brandon is to have another big store. The L. R. Steel Company Limited, a firm which operates a chain of thirty, five cent to one dollar stores, will open up in Brandon. The best of it is that while the new firm comes in, an old and reliable one does not go out. Doig, Rankin & Robertson have disposed of their lease to the L. R. Steel Co. Limited, though it has not been announced when the premises will be turned over.

G. F. Doig of Doig, Rankin & Robertson informed The Sun this afternoon that the deal was finally consummated on Saturday but that until plans are matured details are withheld. He stated however that the firm of Doig, Rankin & Robertson will not disappear from Brandon though disposing of their present fine premises at the corner of Seventh Street and Rosser Ave.

R. L. CALDER URGES REVISION LIBERAL PARTY POLICY

States Liberals Have Hugged Too Close to Rocks of Temporary Advantage in Past

FUTURE SUCCESS

Assured if Policy is Revised—Hurricane Beating on All Parties

Montreal, Nov. 29.—R. L. Calder, a prominent local lawyer speaking at a Reform Club here Saturday before a Liberal gathering said: "I charge the Liberal party that it has hugged too close to the rocks of a temporary advantage in the past, that in the past it has been too fond of expedients, too forgetful of principles. I say to you that today a hurricane is beating upon all parties as the dissatisfaction of the people of Canada to parties shows and has led to the formation of groups and to desertions. Let us beat out to open sea."

He prophesied that if the Liberal party revised its policy it would not have immediate success but would win out in the future.

REV. M. L. ORCHARD RESIGNS FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Resignation to be Considered by Congregation at Wednesday Night Meeting

At the morning service in the First Baptist Church on Sunday the Rev. M. L. Orchard read his resignation as Pastor of the Church. Rev. Mr Orchard was recently appointed Assistant Secretary to the Department of Foreign Missions by the General Board of Missions of the Baptist Church in Canada, and if he accepts this appointment it necessitates his resignation as Pastor here.

About ten days ago Mr. Orchard brought the matter up before the local Board of the Baptist Church, who decided that it should be dealt with by the members of the congregation. No action was taken Sunday morning, but but atthe conclusion of mid-week service Wednesday night a meeting of the members of the congregation will be held to deal with the question.

Rev. Mr. Orchard came back to Canada from India, after seven years service as a missionary, in 1917, and for a time did deputation work for the General Board of Missions in the Maritime Provinces. In October, 1918, Mr. Orchard arrived in Brandon to take over the duties of Pastor of the First Church here. Since that time he has done a splendid work not only in connection with the church, but for the community. His addresses on India in various churches in Middle Western cities and also in towns surrounding Brandon, have been of great assistance in making the need of further mission work in this far off land felt by those in the West.

ALEXANDER LOSES A GOOD CITIZEN

Alexander, Nov. 2.—Our genial station agent, Mr O. M. Clark, will be leaving next week for Portage la Prairie, having been transferred to that point. Mr. Clark and family have been in Alexander for fourteen years and will be missed by the entire community. They have done their own work well and have been a splendid help in the community life. Mr. Clark is being congratulated on his promotion.

The Alexander Community Society had a most profitable evening on Wednesday of this week, when Miss Davidson, school principal, gave a masterful paper on "The Aims and Ideals of Education." Musical numbers and a couple of essays by school girls also helped to make the meeting a real success.

The debate planned between Alexander Community Society and Kemnay Community Club has had to be twice postponed but is now set for next Thursday, Dec. 2nd. The subject is "Resolved that the Church has a greater influence than the Press." It promises to be a real event.

Alexander United Sunday School is represented at the Provincial Sunday School convention in Brandon this week by the pastor, Rev. Hislop Dickson, Mrs. A. D. Blair and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lundy.

WESTERN CHURCHES MAY FORM NEW DENOMINATION

Including All Present Churches and Many More, Some Observers

REJECTION OF UNION

May See Protestantism on Prairies Unite in a Forward Movement

Toronto, Nov. 29.—Church continues to be a matter of absorbing public interest, and the local situation grows ever more acute was the statement made by Rev. J. H. Arnup, Assistant Secretary of Methodist Home Missions, who has just returned from a tour of the West.

"Unless the prospects of the early organic union can soon be revived, it would seem as if nothing can prevent the formation of a new denomination in the West. At least it will include all the present local churches and many more. Some observers, however, predict that in the event of a rejection of union as a nation-wide measure practically the whole of Protestantism on the prairie will break existing denominational relationship and be swept into a union with a type of organization suited to Western needs."

PIPESTONE HAS SPLENDID NEW MEMORIAL HALL

At the opening held recently of the splendid new Memorial Hall erected in Pipestone, Man., Mrs. Olive A. C. Wilkins, B.A., Lady Principal of Clark Hall, Brandon, contributed several vocal solos to the musical program. Mrs. J. Harris McKee of Brandon, acted as accompanist.

Built by the people of Pipestone and district as a memorial to those who fell in the Great War, the new hall will fill a great need in the community. It was erected at a cost of about $10,000 and the auditorium is well finished and has good seating accommodation with ample stage room provided. In the basement there is a large room suitable for a banquet hall or other social gatherings, with a kitchen adjoining suitably equipped. A reading room and library and a room suitable for lodge meetings is also included in the building, the whole of which is lighted by electricity.

On the night of the opening the ladies of the district provided a sumptuous banquet and after all had done justice to the repast the hall was formally opened by Sir James Aikens, Lieut. Governor of Manitoba. In his dedication of the building he said. "We dedicate this building to the Glory of God, to the service of the Community and in memorial to our Heroic Dead." Addresses were delivered by Col. Rattray of Winnipeg, Col. Clingan, M. B. A. for Virden and John Williams, M. L. A. for Arthur. Miss May McLaughlin and Mr. Gregoire also contributed to the program.

"There has been too much man-made legislation and not enough laws made for women by women."

LONDON FIRE BUGS INTERRUPTED BY POLICEMAN

Many Fires in Liverpool of Incendiary Origin — Well Planned Holocaust

ONE YOUTH KILLED

Warned Police Regarding Suspicious Actions — Killed by Fleeing Men

London, Nov. 29.—Half a dozen men were preparing to set fire to a large lumber yard in the district of Finsbury, an important section of the city of London, less than a mile from the North London bridge, when they were surprised by a policeman, Saturday night. This attempt is almost coincident with the breaking out of incendiary fires in Liverpool.

The policeman challenged a loiterer, who immediately attacked the officer and shouted for help. Five men, with revolvers, answered the call and the policeman was compelled to liberate the man he had seized. One of the supposed incendiaries was later arrested. Cotton waste soaked with gasoline had been pushed through the gateway of the lumber yard. Two revolvers and 100 cartridges were found.

Fires Result of Sinn Fein Conspiracy

London, Nov. 29.—Answering questions in the House of Commons this afternoon, Edward Short, Home Secretary, declared that there seemed no doubt that the fires in Liverpool Saturday night were the result of an organized conspiracy in which the members of the Sinn Fein party were engaged. According to the latest information, the situation in Liverpool was well in hand, asserted the Home Secretary.

Well Planned Holocaust

London, Nov. 29.—A dispatch to the Express Association from Liverpool says:

"An alarming outbreak of Sinn Fein violence occurred Saturday night, shortly before 9 o'clock. Fires broke out simultaneously both in the South and North ends of Liverpool, and also in Bootle.

There were seven fires in Bootle and eleven in various parts of Liverpool.

"Subsequent discoveries revealed a well planned Sinn Fein plot to spread a holocaust, of fire among the warehouses in the dock area. The fires were spread over almost all of the whole seven miles of the dock area. Owing to the inflammable contents of the warehouses the fire obtained a strong hold, and by one o'clock in the morning the whole sky was lit up. The local fire brigades were unable to cope with the situation and were obliged to call brigades from other sources. The police commandeered all telephone wires and took all steps to prevent fire outbreaks by concentrating policemen along the line of the docks. Three watching the suspicious movements of two young men at cotton warehouses in Parliament Street, warned the police who challenged the suspects. Thereupon they bolted and fired upon the police, who pursued them. The policemen were unhurt, but a bullet pierced the heart of a youth, Daniel Ward, who was among those who had warned the police, and he fell dead.

Proof of Organization

"The fires in some instances were quickly quenched. Others in stocked warehouses burned fiercely. One in the South end and another in Bootle, at the North end are taken as proving that there was careful organization. It was found that all the locks on the warehouses had been cut with bolt cutters. Empty petrol cans were found on the scene. Each fire started at more than one place. In the case of one lumber yard, there were three separate outbreaks.

"It appears that for each building marked for destruction, there were alloted gangs numbering from four to five men, one of whom stood sentry while the others cut the locks and applied the inflammables.

"Many fires were suppressed in their early stages, and in these cases there was clear evidence of incendiarism in the finding of rags soaked in paraffin and empty petrol cans and bolt cutters left behind. The most destructive fires were in two large cotton warehouses on either side of Jordan Street, which were not extinguished until seven o'clock Sunday morning, when the buildings were completely destroyed.

"It is impossible to estimate the total damage, but it is known it will run into tens of thousands of pounds.

"The man who shot Daniel Ward escaped, but the police chased and captured his accomplice."

Ottawa, Nov 29.—"If the manufacture, laborer and agriculturist in Canada can get together as one man, we need have no fear as to the future" declared the Hon. J. D. Reid, Minister of Railways and Canals who returned to his office today after spending a holiday in England and France. As a result of his visit abroad, the Minister was satisfied that Canada was in a better position than any other country and he thought that the position could be maintained and improved upon if there was reasonable co-operation between the various classes so essential to the progress and success of the country.

DOUGHTY ADMITS THEFT OF VICTORY BONDS FROM SMALL

But Persists That He Does Not Know Where Manager is

ENDS LONG CHASE

Police of Every Country After Doughty and Many False Alarms Given

Portland Ore., Nov. 25.—Owing to the sagacity of a constable at Oregon City, a small town near here, John Doughty was in custody here Tuesday after police of two countries had been searching for him for nearly a year, following the disappearance of Ambrose J. Small, millionaire theatrical man of Toronto, together with Canadian Victory bonds amounting to $100,000.

Doughty, who had been private secretary to Small, Tuesday night was in charge of Austin P. Mitchell, chief of the Toronto detective force, who started from here this morning, stopping en route to Toronto at Chicago, where he said, Doughty had confessed he had deposited the missing bonds. Mitchell said Doughty agreed to accompany him without extradition proceedings.

Circular Betrays Doughty

Constable Ed. Fortune, of Oregon City, said the arrest resulted from the receipt ten days ago of a circular describing Doughty and asserting $15-000 would be paid for his arrest. Fortune said he received the circular from Ed. Richardson, of Oregon City, who formerly was a detective. He ascertained that a man resembling Doughty worked at the paper mill in Oregon City, and, after shadowing the man until he could get a view of him with his hat off, as Doughty was shown on the circular, notified the Toronto police.

When Mitchell arrived he said he was skeptical as to the identity of the suspect, but when he and Fortune found Doughty at his residence Monday night he at once recognized him, having known him well in Toronto. Doughty is said to have confessed he had possession of the missing bonds, but would say nothing concerning the disappearance of Small, further than that he had last seen him at a theatre on the night last December when Small disappeared.

Richardson recognized Doughty in Portland from a circular he had seen a month and a half earlier, trailed Doughty to Oregon City, and later obtained a copy of the circular, which he turned over to Fortune.

Threw Telegram Away

"I'm going to get right home," said Mitchell. "I don't want to talk. Do you know, I've received so many reports of the capture of Doughty that when I got a telegram from Constable Fortune, of Oregon City, I threw it in the waste basket. 'There's another one,' I said to myself. Then I determined to take the chance and got my man."

Doughty was in the employ of Small for eighteen years, having worked himself up to a salary of $45 per week as Small's confidential secretary. The day Small sold his theatrical holdings Doughty went on the payroll of the Trans-Canada interests at a salary of $75 per week. He went to Montreal, returned to Toronto for Christmas, and disappeared on the following Sunday, December 28th.

Doughty is in his 44th year and a man of powerful physique. He used to pull stroke oar for a local rowing crew and in his youth was no mean athlete. He was however, not known as a quarrelsome man, nor was he ever known to have been involved in any act of violence.

The charge of conspiracy to kidnap arises out of the statements made to the police by two local men, who are alleged to have rece'ved a proposition to kidnap the missing theatrical magnate.

According to the two men, who claim that Doughty suggested the kidnapping of his then employer, he is alleged to have remarked. "There's a lot of money in making away with Small.' At that time neither regarded this seriously.

The charge of theft of the missing Victory bonds grows out of the disappearance of securities from the safe ty deposit box of the missing millionaire. Doughty, the record shows, opened the box the day that A. J. Small disappeared, though he has told Mrs. Small that it was done at Mr. Small's request. Asked for the key, he said he had given it back to Mr. Small.

Large Reward Offered

Toronto, Nov. 24.—John Doughty's arrest may mean the beginning of the unravelling of a Toronto mystery, which has become internationally famous and has baffled the sleuths in every civilized country. Ambrose J. Small, Toronto millionaire, disappeared December 2, 1919, and three weeks afterward his secretary, John Doughty, disappeared. The family of Mr. Small offered a reward of $50,000 for information which would make clear the fate of Mr. Small, and later $15,000 for the whereabouts of his secretary.

A multitude of theories have been advanced, but until Tuesday no practical results came of the theories and efforts to unravel the mystery. Reports of the presence of Doughty in England, France, United States and Australia, were investigated and found fruitless. One of the popular explanations of the disappearance of Mr. Small was that he had been kidnapped and was being held for a ransom. Mr. Small disappeared on December 2, after disposing of valuable theatre properties. The passing of time lent color to the idea that Mr. Small had met foul play. The moneys—a marked cheque for $1,000,000—from the proceeds of his properties were in a deposit vault.

STREET CLOSED TO PERMIT ERECTION NEW WAREHOUSE

Lieutenant - Governor - in - Council Gives Assent to Closuse of Dennis Street

The closure of a certain section of Dennis Street below Rosser Avenue and of certain lanes in that vicinity has now been approved by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council. The closure of the street became necessary because of the large plant that the Imperial Oil Company intends building on the corner of First Street and Rosser Avenue early next Spring. The new building will cover over a block, and a small section of Dennis Street together with portions of lanes had to be closed.

At the same time that an application was made to have the street closed, another application for an easement held by the City and sought by the Hanbury Mfg. Co., was granted. This easement effects a small strip of land immediately to the rear of the present plant of the Hanbury Mfg. Co., and is at present covered by a spur track. All the requirements of the Municipal Act having been complied with now, the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council has approved both applications.

BRANDON HOUSEWIVES PAY ABOUT THE SAME AS TORONTO WOMEN

Although seventy-five cents a dozen for new laid egg may seem a lot to Brandon people, those who purchased fresh eggs at the market in Toronto last Saturday had to pay $1.25 a dozen for them. Strictly fresh eggs have been soaring in price for some time in Toronto and dealers are predicting that they will reach $1.35 per dozen this week. In Toronto, potatoes were selling at the market on Saturday for $2.40 a bag if taken, or 2.65 per bag, delivered, while in Brandon they are 2.25 a bag. At the other dealers in Toronto the price for potatoes was $2.75 per bag.

The price of good dairy butter was about the same at the Toronto market as in this city, chicken sold for forty and forty-five cents a pound and turkeys at sixty-five or seventy-five cents per pound.

"At a meeting of the Board of Control nd city member held at the city Hall this morning in conference with representatives from labor organizations of the city, we were requested to wire you as to the imperative need of embodying in any contract relating to the completion of the construction of the steamships now on the way that City of Toronto labor only be employed thereon, and also to draw your attention to what in our judgment appears unnecessary, that any bonus should be paid to an outside corporation in connection with this work when a local organization is already at hand competent to complete the same without any such bonus."

MORE POWER IN BABY FIST THAN IN MAILED FIST

Declares Prof. F. W. Kerr of Manitoba College Addressing Convention

LAND OF CHILDHOOD

Rev. Hugh Kilgour Wants Old Bible Lessons Presented in Living Terms

The breakdown of nationalism can only be saved by the child, declared Prof. F. W. Kerr, of Manitoba College, who was one of the speakers at the closing session of the Religious Education Convention of Manitoba Friday evening. It is in the power of the child to save the world's destiny and he declared that there is more power in the baby fist than in the mailed fist of a kaiser. Both Prof. Kerr and Rev. Hugh Kilgour gave inspiring addresses at the Friday evening session, and brought to a close one of the most successful conventions ever held by Sunday School and religious workers in the Province.

As on previous evenings of the convention, there was another capacity audience in the auditorium of the First Methodist Church. The Salvation Army band was present and rendered some splendid music throughout the evening, while a "Teen Age girls' choir again led the singing. Prof. F. W. Kerr gave his address on "Religion and the National Life," while Rev. Hugh Kilgour chose as his subject "Follow Me."

It was announced during the day that Mr. F. M. Black, of Winnipeg, had been appointed President of the Convention for next year. Mr. George H. Stuart was offered the position for a second term but declined the honor, and the nominating committee named Mr. F. M. Black to lead the gathering next year. Mr. T. D. Patton, of Winnipeg, was chosen as chairman of the Board of Management, succeeding Mr. W. A. McIntyre, who resigned. Mr. McIntyre has done some splendid work wit hthe Board and tribute was paid him for his services. Rev. T. Neville, of Norwood, was re-elected recording secretary of the Board of Management, while T. Gordon Russell, of Winnipeg, was also re-elected Treasurer.

Land of Childhood

"The land of childhood is first of all a land of imagination" said the Rev. Hugh Kilgour, of Home Free Church, Winnipeg, in speaking on the subject "Follow Me," at the continuing session of the convention. The land of childhood is also a land of hero worship, then in turn a world of things, of facts, and then a world of actions. Now into this world of Childhood, came the Christ.

"Then into the world of childhood comes the teacher," said the Rev. Kilgour, "but the Christ is there first, and He says 'Follow Me'." The dominating influence in the training of the child should be the personality of the teacher. If there are tricks in teaching, said the speaker, there is also personality.

Christ had said "Follow Me, and I will give you knowledge." The Rev. Hugh Kilgour thought that the old Bible lessons were presented in too small a way. The lessons must be taught in no dead terms, but the boys and girls must see something in the life of Christ. The practical must come before the theoretical, the concrete before the abstract, in the teachings of the child. The speaker said that in presenting an illustration we must make it real and keep up the interest throughout. We should try to emphasize one truth and then fasten right to it, he declared. We should be thorough and master one thing at a time.

The Real Teacher

Above everything else Christ had said "Follow Me and I will make you great leaders." Personality is gotten up by living among men, and actions form personality. The only way teachers can impart the Christ-life is to live a Christ life. "The Sunday School teacher who appears on Sunday with only a slipshod knowledge of the Bible" said the Rev. Kilgour, "is a disgrace to the whole teaching profession." The real teachers are those who are living a Christ life every day.

"We should have in ourselves such a communion with God, that we should feel the challenge of His whole life," declared the speaker. We must have a great adoration for Him and not have Him smply because we come from Christian homes, but because we accept Him whole-heartedly for ourselves, concluded Rev. Mr. Kilgour.

The Child, the Hope of the World

That the child may yet save the destiny of the world, and is today the hope of the world, was the thought expressed by Prof. F. W. Kerr of Manitoba College in his address on "Religion and the National life." The speaker said there is a great breakdown of nationalism today, and that none of our institutions are safe. The whole Empire seems on the verge of a breakdown, and the child now comes to the front as the saviour of the country and Empire.

"By religion, I mean Christianity," said Prof. Kerr. Everything depends on our definition of national life. The time is going to come, said the speaker, when our men will refuse to be conscripted for the armies and for the navies unless the Christ motives are behind the motives. The speaker said that you think of nationalism in terms of industrial prosperity, but he chose to think of nationalism as a contented people.

"We have come to a crisis," he said, "when we see the breakdown of nationalism." At the present time there is no true or stable nationalism, and the continual breaking down of some of our eldest institutions have brought about a condition where none of them are safe. Our whole Empire seems to be on the verge of a breakdown. The recent slump in business is but the aftermath of the great war which we are now reaping. The social system, too, is in danger of breaking down. Where do you think nationalism is guiding today, Prof. Kerr asked. Labor and capital have been pitted against each other. With all this chaos and confusion no wonder there is a bitterness in our life. "There is only a spiritual solution of the present world crisis," declared the professor.

The Hope of the Future

The Kingdom of God is going to come everywhere when people devote themselves to the child. Jesus Himself had seen in the child the hope of the future. Just when the battle seems lost along comes the child. The solution for our unrest comes from the word of childhood, and Prof. Kerr declared thta there is more powe in the baby fist than in the mailed fist of a Kaiser. The child may yet save the destiny of the world.

One of the greatest goods arising out of a convention, said the speaker, is that our eyes are turned upon the paths we should follow. Speaking of the religious education, Prof. Kerr said we can take off our hats to the Jews as they devoted 320 long hours a year to the religious education of their children. "All honor to them," he said. The Roman Catholics, too, had set aside 180 hours a year for the education of their children, and therein lay the strength of their church today. They say that if the Church could have the first years of a child's life, that the child would later take care of the church. The Protestant churches have yet to do their share, for, said the speaker, a recent survey showed that only twenty-six hours were devoted to the religious education of the child each year. He declared that the Protestant churches in Canada are behind in their experimenting, possibly due to the fact that they are so conservative, and he wondered if we couldn't do somethnig more radical to get the children acquainted with Jesus Christ.

Summer Schools Endorsed

Prof. Kerr endorsed the Summer vacation schools, and said he would like to see many of them established with efficient teachers, for there were great opportunities there. We must also find some system which will bring our Sunday Schools and public schools in co-relationship. The speaker said it had sometimes been remarked that our public schools are Godless, but he declared that if the teacher of the children was herself a Christian and could bring those Christian influences into play, then the schools could not be called God-less.

The Church's Right

Prof. Kerr did not think that much good could be accomplished in the public schools by reading the Bible to the scholars, but said the school must recognize the Church's right to a proportion of the child's time. The child's time today is overcrowded. He made mention of the fact that the Government had taken steps to assist in the religious education of the child in the school The speaker suggested that one hour each day be devoted by the schools to religious education and have the school go to the Church or the Church to the school. It would be up to the Church to provide the education.

Predicts New Type of Ministry

That we are going to have a new type of ministry in the near future, was a statement made by Prof. Kerr. He said they would be professional teachers. He predicted the time is not far off when the children and grown ups will go over to the Church for a certain period each day, and there be taught by these trained leaders. When the Church shoulders its full burden of responsibility there will be no need of great revivals, for the churches will be crowded to the doors. "Wherever there is childhood there is hope. The Kingdom of God must be carried forward on the wings of childhood. Except if we become as little children, we will in no wise enter into the Kingdom of God," declared Prof. Kerr.

A change was made in the program for Friday afternoon. Rev. Hugh Kilgour, who was to have spoken at that session, addressed the gathering in the evening. The afternoon session was completely given over to sessions of the Board of Management and sectional conferences. The discussion on the Home Department was led by Miss Hattie Knight, while that on Young People's work was led by Prof. A. E. Hetherington. Rural schools and their activities was a discussion led by Rev. C. W. Smalley, while that on Superintendents and officers was led by Dr. W. A. Cooper.

400 DELEGATES ATTEND CALGARY MEETING U. G. G.

Combined Profits of United Grain Growers Limited in Year Are $699,770.14

Calgary, Alta., Nov. 27.—At the opening session of the annual meeting of the United Grain Growers, Limited, between 350 and 400 delegates were present. It was announced by the President of the company, the Hon. T. A. Crerar, that the combined profits of the company and subsidiary companies which it owns, totalled $699,770.14, which was earned on a business turnover of more than $113,000,000 during the year ending August 31, 1920, representing a little more than one-half of one per cent. upon the turnover. The net profit shown by the parent company was $63,675.64, which was subject to business profits taxation.

Old-Timers are Present

The annual meeting is held this year in Calgary, in accordance with the general plan worked out at the time of the amalgamation of the Alberta Farmers' Co-operative Elevator Company and the Grain Growers' Grain Co. three years ago. It was decided then to hold the annual meetings alternately in Winnipeg and Calgary. One of the interesting features in connection with the present meeting is the fact that there were quite a number of old-timers present who have been with the company since its inception.

The President made a general review of the year's business and the vice-President and General Manager, C. Rice-Jones, went into some detail in connection with the financial statement and the various aspects of past ad future developments.

A notice of motion for the appointment of an assistant manager for the Exhibtion is before the Board and a decision will probably be made by the directors at this coming meeting.

BIG PROFITS MADE BY SASKATCHEWAN ELEVATOR

Regina, Nov. 27.—The Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company, Ltd., made a net profit for the year ending July 31, 1920, amounting to $224,988.91. This was the report of the board of directors to the shareholders at the tenth general meeting which opened in the city hall today. They recommended a cash dividend of 8 per cent. amounting to $90,259.60, leaving a balance of $134,729.31 which when added to the balance at the credit of the general reserve account makes a total of $247,028.53.

There are 300 delegates from all parts of the province in attendance at the meeting which is being presided over by J. A. Maharg, M. P., president of the company.

SOVIET RUSSIA HAS NO SURPLUS CEREAL SUPPLY

Breakdown of Transportation and Military Operations Makes it Obviously Impossible

London, Nov. 27.—Hope that Europe may obtain any cereals or flax from Soviet Russia is entirely unfounded, says a circular from the Russian Liberation Committee in London, an anti-Bolshevist organization.

The circular recalls that according to the Food Commissariat's plans, roughly 7,250,000 tons of breadstuffs were to be delivered to the Soviet Government by December 1 but, owing to the breakdown of transportation, the Siberian quota of 2,000,000 tons can only be brought in with the greatest difficulty, while the Caucasian estimated output of 1,750,000 tons cannot be relied upon owing to the military operations in that region.

Quoting the Bolshevist Investia for the statement that up to October 1 only 100,000 tons of various cereals had been delivered, the circular points out that it will be obviously impossible to bring in the deficit by December 1.

As regards flax, the circular again quotes Bolshevist figures showing that the area sown in 1920 had shrunk to one-fifth of the pre-war area. The present crop was estimated at a mere 55,000 tons, from which, the circular deduces, little or nothing will be available for export.

PROTESTANT CLERGY WANT JUDGMENT IN NOTED CASE

Oppose Withdrawal of Appeal in Tremblay Case From Privy Council

Montreal, Que., Nov. 27—At a joint meeting of clergymen representing all Protestant denominations of Montreal, yesterday, resolutions were passed unanimously opposing the withdrawal of an appeal in the marriage case of Depatie-Tremblay from the Privy Council. It was urged that judgment on the merits of the case should be given and that the withdrawal of the appeal should be resisted by all lawful means. Both parties in the case have recently been remarried.

TO PREVENT ATTACK ON GOVT. CENTRES

Banners Being Erected to Exclude Public From Downing Street

London, Nov. 27.—The erection of barriers eight feet high, which will exclude the public from Downing Street and adjacent Charles Street, was begun last night with instructions that the work should be continued until completed. Both streets lead from Whitehall to a group of Government Departmental offices, including the Foreign Office and the India Office, and also the official residences of Premier Lloyd George and Andrew Bonar Law, Government leader of the House of Commons.

The barriers are of substantial character, foundations having been dug to receive them. Gateswide enough to admit automobiles are provided in the barriers. Nothing has been announced publicly regarding the unusual precautions which are assumed in some quarters to indicate that the Government has reason to expect an attack on the centres of government from quarters which at present can only be surmised.

COAL SOLD FOR MORE THAN RATIONED BREAD IN VIENNA RECENTLY

Vienna, Nov. 27.—Coal was sold here at the equivalent of nine cents a pound, a price higher than that of the black-rationed bread, the other day when the temperature suddenly dropped below freezing. Cart loads of the brown lignite of a very low heat value were drawn up to the curbs of the popular streets and the fuel was sold by the pound, the vendors being equipped with small scales.

MEXICAN FOREIGN MINISTER CANNOT GET OUT OF OFFICE

Mexico City, Nov. 27.—Although Dr. Cutberto Hidalgo, who has been in actual charge of the Mexican Foreign Office during the de la Huerta regime, resigned several weeks ago and made a formal valedictory statement in the press, the government has refused to accept his resignation and he is still at his post. Dr. Hidalgo desired to relinquish his office in order to press his candidacy for the Governorship of the State of Hidalgo.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS IN NORTHWESTERN SPAIN DO EXTENSIVE DAMAGE

Madrid, Nov. 27.—Serious earthquake shocks have caused extensive damage in Northwestern Spain, centering in the Pontevedra district. The pupils of a girls' school in Pontevedra became panic stricken and jumped from the windows of the dormitory, a number being injured.

PRESIDENT U. F. A SAYS FARMERS SHOULD ORGANIZE

If They Would Get Together and Hold Wheat, Price Would Be Restored

Calgary, Nov. 27.—There is no question but that every bushel of wheat in the world is going to be needed and the demand justifies a higher price than it is now selling at," was the comment of H. W. Wood, President of the United Farmers of Alberta, when shown a dispatch containing the statement that if every farmer in the wheat belt of North Dakota would hold his wheat 20 day, that the price would go to nearly $3 a bushel.

"The present comparatively low level of wheat," continued Mr. Wood, "is the result of organization, cohesion and system among the principal buying agencies. If the farmers of the selling countries could get as efficient organization they could restore the higher level of prices just as rapidly as they have been reduced. The question is, can the farmers do this in time to save the situation?"

Mr. Wood remarked that, what he called, the indifference of the Government to farmers in the selling of this year's crop of wheat was creating a sentiment among the farmers everywhere that they would have to force the fighting all along the lines in defense of their own interests, and out of that was growing a remarkable development of a sentiment for a wheat pool.

"Exactly the same indifference on the part of the Government of the United States is bringing similar results," continued Mr. Wood "although those people down there are putting more emphasis on simply holding their wheat then they are to organizing and stabilizing their strength for action."

MANITOBA GOVT. TO ASK INCREASE TELEPHONE RATES

15 Per Cent. Increase Requested to Meet This Year's Deficit of $200,000.

Winnipeg, Nov. 26.—The Manitoba Government will make application to P. A. Macdonald, Public Utilities Commissioner, for an increase in telephone rates chargeable on the Manitoba Government Telephone System, it has been announced at the Parliament buildings.

The increase which the Government will ask for will be approximately 15 per cent. This is to meet the $200,000 deficit which the system is faced with this year. The estimated revenue this year amounts to $2,450,000, while the operating expenses, it is estimated, will exceed $2,650,000.

The Government feels that telephone users should bear the burden of operating the system and that it should not be levied on the whole of the province. The increase which will be asked for will just be sufficient to cover any deficit which might occur.

WINNIPEG PIONEERS VISUAL EDUCATION

New System Experimented With in Schools Works Splendidly —Lessons Better

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 27.—Winnipeg is the pioneer city of Canada in the field of visual education. The theory that the child learns more quickly and thoroughly when the subject is illustrated has proven practical in Winnipeg public schools, Rev. G. F. Salton, of the School Board, announced.

A year ago work of this kind was begun in one of the junior high schools. Dr. Salton lectured every week with lantern slides and moving pictures. After six months the usefulness and effectiveness of this work was realized and now it has spread to all city schools. Studies taught by this new and pleasant way have brough forth much enthusiasm on the part of teachers. Lessons are infinitely better remembered and the child can produce in examination 50 per cent. more clearly lessons learned through pictures, it is claimed.

The importance of good citizenship is also taught by the visual method and lessons in duty, courage and class spirit taught the child in the way to appeals to him most strongly.

MOTHER AND THREE CHILDREN PERISH IN WINNIPEG FIRE

Another Family in House Escapes by Window—Coal Gas Exploded

Winnipeg, Nov. 26.—A mother and three young children are dead as the result of a fire and coal gas explosion at their home in East Kildonan, a suburb of Winnipeg early this morning. The dead are Mrs. Norah Fincham, Charlie aged eight, William aged four and Fred aged ten months. Gladys, aged six, was rescued from the gas filled house by her father, C. S. Fincham. The mother was also taken from the building by her husband, but returned in a vain effort to secure her children and she was found dead by firemen in the children's room. John S. Sundberg, his wife and daughter, who also resided in the house escaped through a window in their night clothes.

DEATH OF WELL KNOWN HEBREW

David Cristall Dropped Dead in His Store on Eighth Street on Wednesday

The death occurred very suddenly on Wednesday afternoon of Mr. David Cristall, aged sixty years, who dropped dead while in his store on Eighth Street. The late Mr. Cristall had influenza last year and while not confined to his home had not been in the best of health since then. Coming to Canada about thirty years ago from Russia, the deceased soon established himself in business in this city and at the time of his death was proprietor of the Grandview Hotel, the Crystal Garage and several stores. Having come to Brandon in the early days, the late Mr. Cristall was a leader among the Hebrews of this city. Besides his wife, a daughter, Mrs. Snitka of Calgary, Alta., two other daughters at home and six sons are left to mourn his loss. He is also survived by six brothers, Messrs. A. Cristall, J. Cristall, L. Cristall, R. Cristall, of Edmonton, Alta., and P. Cristall and M. Cristall of this city, and two sisters, Mrs. R. Cristall and Mrs. Rabinovitch of Brandon.

The funeral took place at twelve o'clock today from the former home of the deceased in the Cristall Block, 815-17 Rosser Avenue, to the Synagogue and from there to Brandon Cemetery. Rabbi Israel Coanovech, of Winnipeg, officiated.

Sir Charles Townshend, the defender of Kut-el-Amara, was on Monday declared elected to the House of Commons for Wrekin in the by-election made necessary by the death of Charles Palmer. Sir Charles ran as an Independent. The result of the voting was: Gen. Townshend, Independent, 14,565; C. Duncan, Labor, 10, 00.

Sir Charles Townshend recently retired from the army because he was not given employment.

SUIT FOR COMMISSION DISALLOWED BY JUDGE

A verdict for the defendant in the case of Buckley vs. Goldenburg was given by His Honor Judge Cumberland this morning in the County Court. The action was on the docket to come up at the regular sittings of the County Court this week but was set back to Chambers and heard this morning. The action rose out of a real estate transaction between Thomas Buckley and Jacob Goldenberg, Buckley claiming $100 commission. Buckley secured a purchaser for certain property owned by Goldenberg, but the deal fell through, due to the fact that the purchaser could not obtain possession as required by him. Buckley claimed that his end of the transaction was completed when he found the purchaser and sued for his commission. Judge Cumberland however gave his decision in favor of the defendant Goldenberg.

Colds & Common Sense

You have a cold, or your child has a cold; a cough; a tight feeling across the chest; a soreness in the breathing tubes.

In the past how have you treated such? You have bought some cough mixture, and swallowed this down into your stomach. Now, why? Your stomach was not ailing; and there is no direct connection between your chest (where the trouble is) and your stomach! Then why swallow into your stomach any mixture when the trouble is in your lungs and bronchial tubes?

It's a mistake; and Peps is the remedy provided to correct this un-commonsense treatment. Peps are little tablets, which contain highly beneficial Pine essences, combined with other medicinal extracts. These healing extracts are so prepared that as soon as you put a Pep into your mouth they are liberated in the form of healing vapors. You breathe these vapors down to the throat and lungs, and thus treat the organs that are inflamed, direct. In a way, it is like breathing from a vaporizer or bronchitis kettle, except that there is no apparatus needed, the little Peps providing everything needful for the treatment! The very small portion of Peps which you swallow has a slightly tonic effect upon the stomach and does you good, but the use of Peps is not for stomach troubles, but for lung, throat and bronchial troubles. Peps relieve these as no ordinary treatment can.

Children like Peps and they are best for the little ones because Peps contain no morphine, laudanum or other poison found in so many of the old cough mixtures.

Druggists and stores everywhere sell Peps 50c. box or from Peps Co., Toronto, for price. Remember the name—four letters only:—

LITTLE GROUND

Roads Act and its subsequent amendments; for the introduction of Hydro-Electric power in Manittoba; for the introduction of Public Health and School Nurses in rural districts, and for assistance given the Patriotic Fund of the province.

Less Ground for Complaint

Stating that there did not seem to be as many resolutions as formerly Alderman Marion said that "the Municipal Act has reached such a degree of perfection that there is less ground for complaint."

President Marion expressed his satisfaction with the conditions of the finances of the Union and said that at the end of the year there was a nice surplus to the credit of the organization.

In conclusion, President Marion made a strong plea for British fair play among the members of the Union and urged that all unite in discussing the many problems which will be brought before the convention during its sessions. "A nation's best asset is good understanding among its subjects. . . . . .and if this principle is followed by all our British subjects, harmony would exist throughout the British Empire and the rest of the world will follow our example."

Secretary-Treasurer's Report

Part of the report of the Secretary-Treasurer, Robert Forke, of Pipestone, follows:

"Meeting here in Brandon the parent city of the Union, it might be of interest to give you a few particulars regarding the organization meeting, when the Union was formed.

"The meeting was called by the City Council of Brandon sending invitations to the Municipal Councils of the Province to send representatives to meet in Brandon.

"When the meeting came together on March 14, 1905, Mayor Fleming was called to the chair and W. V. Stevenson, Secretary-Treasurer of Woodworth, was Secretary of the meeting. The first officers were Mayor Fleming, Brandon, President; Ald. Campbell, Winnipeg, Vice-President, the Executive appointed the Secretary-Treasurer, John Cardale of Blanchard.

Those present at the organization meeting still in Municipal life were Secretary - Treasurer Cochran, of Blanchard; Secretary-Treasurer Stevenson, of Woodsworth; Reeve Couling of Oakland; Secretary - Treasurer Noughton, of Lansdown, and Secretary-Treasurer Gayton, of Pembina. Your present Secretary-Treasurer has been present at sixteen conventions of this Union.

During the past year the Executive of the Union met the Government and laid before them the resolutions passed at the last convention.

At the last session of the Legislature a Tax Commission Act was passed. And a Tax Commission is now constituted dealing with Taxation and Assessment in the Province.

Membership Satisfactory

The membership of the Union is in a satisfactory condition, there are, however, a few Municipalities who are still wanted in the Union.

Your Secretary attended as a delegate from Manitoba the convention of Saskatchewan Rural Municipalities held at Saskatoon last March, and received a cordial welcome. This association has a much larger convention than Manitoba and is not lacking in energy and initiative.

Commissioner D. D. McDonald, of Dauphin, was a delegate to the Canadian Union at Quebec. Reeve Wroth of Ellice, recently represented Manitoba at the Alberta Association Rural Municipalities held at Calgary.

SAVED WOMAN'S LIFE

Fredericton, N.B., Nov. 30. (By Canadian Press). — Mrs. Charles Cremin, of this place, owes her life to one of the garages in town. When doctors who were administering oxygen ether, exhausted the supply on hand, one of the petrol shops supplied a sufficient quantity of the 'medicine."

NEW YORK CRIME WAVE SHOWS NO SIGN OF ABATING

Every Indication That it is Growing — Criminals Are Very Daring

New York, Nov. 30.— The crime wave that has swept New York City during the past 11 months shows no sign of receding. On the contrary, there is every indication that it is growing and that never before in the city's history have its criminals been so daring.

The record of crime during 1920 is traced through a series of 325 hold-ups, robberies and thefts, which netted criminals more than $3,100,000, and through a list of more than 100 unsolved murders says the Tribune.

In November alone thieves and hold-up men obtained more than $890,000 This is the largest total loot obtained in any of the last 11 months, the newspaper says.

Killings have gone on at the rate of one every third day, it is asserted. An investigation was undertaken of the present organization of the police departments, its general force, the patrolmen, whose duty it is to prevent crime, and the detective bureau, to which is given the task of running down criminals. The investigation indicates:

First: That many sections of the city, including the more important ones, are under-policed.

Second: That the detective organization built up by former Police Commissioner Arthur Woods has been broken.

BRANDON OLD TIMER DIES AT VANCOUVER

Many old timers of Brandon will regret to learn of the death of Mr. John A. Christie which occurred Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. Y. Griffin, of Vancouver, B.C. The late Mr. Christie, who had been in failing health for some time, was a former well known resident of this city.

Born at Oxford Mills, Ont., the late Mr. Christie came to Brandon in 1882 and established the Assiniboine Lumber Company. He was one of several broad-minded citizens who organized the first Brandon exhibition, and was also for some years chairman of the School Board in this city. At one time Mr. Christie ran as Liberal candidate for the Federal house but was defeated by the late Thos. Mayne Daly. Mr. Christie was predeceased by his wife two years ago.

MINGO COUNTY IS UNDER MARTIAL LAW, MACHINE GUNS WITH BATTALION

Huntington, W. Va., Nov. 30. — Mingo County, the scene of numerous bloody battles between striking coal miners and mine guards, has been placed under martial law. The proclamation was signed by President Wilson on the request of Governor Cornwell. Col. Herbert Hill and a battalion of 480 men arrived in the Mingo County seat Sunday from Camp Sherman, Ohio.

Orders to company and platoon commanders are secret, but Williamson civil authorities says the men have been informed of Governor Cornwell's statement that he did not intend to call F deral troops to Mingo again to act as "sign posts." One company of expert machine gunners is attached to the battalion.

WHOLESALE GROCERS SUIT SHOWS THAT PRICES WERE INFLATED

Toronto, Nov. 24.—W. F. Morley, wholesale grocer, Toronto, is plaintiff in an action in which he asks $40,172.80 damages from the Dominion Sugar Co., Ltd., for alleged breach of contract to supply 448,000 pounds of fine granulated sugar at 12½ cents a pound during the months of February, March, April, May, 1920, at a time when it was selling retail at 21 cents a pound.

HEAVY SALES HAVE BEARISH EFFECT ON MARKET

Cash Wheat Shows Loss of About Eight Cents —Oats Market Active

Winnipeg, Nov. 30—Heavy selling of wheat on the local market today had a bearish influence on prices, and the future market closed 3c to 4c lower with cash wheat showing a loss of 8½c to 7½c at the close. The demand for spot wheat was poor, indicating that November contracts had been well taken care of, but there was fair inquiry for early December delivery.

The oats market was not active, the demand being only fair for certain grades while the offerings were somewhat liberal. The top grade of barley was in fair demand.

Flax showed little change with a fair demand from crushers at unchanged spreads. Oats closed 1¼c to 1⅛c lower, barley 1⅝c to 2⅝c lower, flax 1c lower to 2½c higher and rye 1½c. lower to 2c higher. Cash flax declined 8c to 10c from the previous close.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

EDWORTHY—HANCE

Phylis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hance, of Bellingdon, England, was united in holy bonds of matrimony to Harry Edworthy, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Edworthy, Suite 37 Smith Block, at St. George's Church Tuesday evening at seven o'clock. Rev. S. R. Hammond performed the ceremony. Miss Mabie Maxwell attended as bridesmaid while Mr. Reginald Tame supported the groom.

The bride was given in marriage by Mr. G. Edworthy. She was becomingly attired in her travelling suit of grey serge, the coat opening over a rose tricolette blouse and she wore a small hat to match. A corsage of bridal roses completed her costume.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Great War Veterans rooms, Eighth Street, the bridal party passing under an arch of crossed swords as they entered. A delicious supper was served, the bride's table being decorated in white ribbon streamers, roses and smilax. After the supper several toasts were spoken to.

Mr. and Mrs. Edworthy will make their home at Suite 37, Smith Block.

The bride and groom both saw service overseas during the war. The groom was a member of the 181st Battalion while the bride was on duty as a W.A.S.C. at Folkstone.

STEWART—M'DOUGALL

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at one o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McDougall, North Brandon, when their second daughter, Thelma Lauree, was united in marriage to Clifford Charles Stewart, of Brandon. The Rev. Mr. Leith officiated. Miss Edith McDougall, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid while the groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Clyde Stewart.

To the strains of the "Bridal Chorus" from 'Lohengirn," played by Miss Agnes Griffith, the bride entered the drawing room with her father. She was becomingly attired in a costume of sand charmeuse satin with overdress of net embroidered in gold. She carried a bouquet of bridal roses and her only ornament was the groom's gift, a peridot necklace set with pearls. The bridesmaid wore a dainty frock of Copenhagen blue silk and carried a bouquet of roses. During the signing of the register Miss Dorothy Harves sang "Until" very aweetly.

The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a pearl ring, to the organist and soloist he gave gold brooches set with pearls and the best man was the recipient of a tie pin.

After the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served from a table centred with the bride's cake and artistically decorated with streamers suspended from the ceiling.

The happy young couple left on the morning train for Eastern points and on their return will take up residence at 424 Sixth Street.

The bride's travelling costume was of navy blue tricotine, the skirt being accordeon plaited. She wore a musk-rat coat and a picture hat.

The bride and groom are well known in the city and district and were the recipients of many beautiful gifts. The groom is a member of The Sun staff. He served overseas for some time during the war.

BARKER-WILLDEY

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. George's Church at one o'clock Saturday afternoon, when Rev. S. R. Hammond united in holy matrimony, Gladys Victoria, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Willdey, of this city, to Henry William Barker, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Barker, of Boissevain. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Winnie Willdey, while the groom was ably assisted by his brother, Mr. Melbourne Barker, of Winnipeg.

The bride entered the church with her father to the strains of the wedding march played by Mr. H. Brown. During the signing of the register Miss Winnie Willdey sang "O Perfect Love." The bride was becomingly gowned in a blue taffeta costume with gold trimming and wore a picture hat to match. Her bouquet was of bridal roses and pink carnations. The bridesmaid was attired in blue taffeta and velvet.

The groom's gift to the bride was a sealskin scarf to the bridesmaid a suede novelty bag and to the best man he gave gold cuff links.

After the ceremony luncheon was served at the home of the bride's parents, the table being centred with a three-tier wedding cake.

The happy couple left on the 4.20 train for Winnipeg where they will reside. The bride's travelling suit was of navy blue velour, the coat opening over a gold georgette crepe blouse with bead trimming.

The out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. B. Barker, Boissevain; Mr. Melbourne Barker, Winnipeg; Mr. and Mrs. H. Willdey, Chater; Mr. and Mrs. F. Maycock, Justice, and Mr. R. Rowling, Dauphin.

The flower girl looked very pretty dressed in pink silk trimmed with tiny rose buds. She carried a basket of pink carnations. The bottom of the basket was a tea plate which belonged to the grandmother of the bride.

The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a gold bracelet, a gold locket and chain to the flower girl and gold cuff links to the best man.

HOGS SELL FOR PRE-WAR PRICES

On Chicago Market on Tuesday—Heavy Receipts at Ten Markets

Chicago, Nov. 24. — Pre-war prices for live hogs became general throughout the United States on Tuesday. Big receipts from the farms appeared to be the immediate cause, the total supply of hogs on sale at the ten principal markets of the country being estimated at 182,000 head, as against 124,000 a week ago. In Chicago the market closed at the bottom figures of the day, the lowest since Dec. 16, 1916, and at an average drop of $1 a hundredweight as compared with Monday. The practical top at the finish was $10 a hundredweight whereas on July 31, 1919, hogs commanded $23.60, the pinnacle point on record. Five years before, the current price was $8.15.

Wheat Market Closes at Advance

For the first time in more than a week the wheat market closed at an advance on Tuesday. Brisk export demand together with assertions that liquidation was at an end, had much to do with the strength shown. The finish 163½ to 164. Corn gained 2⅝ to 3⅛, with Dec. 168 to 168¾, and March was nervous, 7½c to 9c net higher; oats 1½ to 1⅝ to 2⅝, and provisions 22c to 77c.

KIWANIANS TALK ABOUT A HOME FOR CHILDREN

Dr. H. O. McDiarmid Re-elected President—Attendance Prize Scholarship in Arts at Brandon College Won by Dr. F. L. Beer—Carveth T. Wells Gives Address on the Malay Peninsula

The Kiwanis Cub again had the question of a Children's Home for Brandon before them at the annual meeting on Monday eveniny. Besides giving the subject thorough consideration, the Club transacted much business, the election of officers for the coming season being the most important item on the program. Dr. McDiarmid will again head the Kiwanis here, his term of office having been crowned with success. An address was given during the evening by Mr. Carveth G. Wells on the Malay Peninsula, which was replete with interesting fact and annecdote.

The most valuable prize for attendance to be given during the year was given on Monday evening by Dr. Howard P. Whidden M.P. It consisted of a Scholarship in Arts, good for one year's free tuition at Brandon College. The attendance prize was won by Dr. F. L. Beer, and he will submit the name of the one to whom he wishes the honor to pass to.

The election of the officers resulted in Dr. McDiarmid being given a second term, while W. W. McCreary was elected Vice-President. C. S. Palmer and W. F. McGuinness were re-elected Secretary and Treasurer respectively. The directors of the Club will be J. M. Donaldson, L. A. Cuff, E. C. Whitehead and L. A. McKay. Dr. W. J. Elliott was elected a District Trustee. The attendance at the annual convention was given as 91 out of a possible 16 membership, while reports from the President, Secretary and Treasurer showed the local Kiwanis Club to be in a very healthy condition.

Children's Home

The Kiwanis Club left the matter of the Children's Home over for the executive to deal with. Adjutant Rutte was present at the meeting and it was explained that the City would be asked to furnish quarters for a Home, while the Salvation Army would look after it's administration. Teh assistance from the Kiwanis Club would be towards providing the furnishings for the Home. Following the discussion on the subject, the Kiwanians decided to let the matter rest with the executive and for that body to give it their consideration.

A Midnight Frolic

Arrangements were also made at the meeting Monday night for a Midnight Frolic to be put on in one of the theatres on the night of December 15th. The frolic program will be announced later by the Kiwanians, but all receipts from this entertainment will go to a fund for the big Christmas tree to be held in front of the City Hall on December 23rd.

An Imaginary Voyage

The Kiwanians took a trip from Canada to Malay under the direction of Mr. Carveth G. Wells, a noted explorer who spoke at the annual meeting. The members sailed on an imaginary voyage from Vancouver, and five weeks later arrived at Singapore, and another eighty miles found them in Malay. On the way they passed Borneo. In Malay, Mr. Wells said, they have white elephants, forty kinds of monkeys, five flying animals and about twenty million wild women. "You see I have been there for the past seven years having the time of my life," remarked the speaker.

Tin, Tapioca and Sago

Speaking of the industrial life of the country, Mr. Wells said that seventy per cent of the tin of the world comes from there. The Chinese dig it out of the ground in round bales and then it is sent away to be treated. The export of rubber will soon be as large as that of South America, declared the speaker. Mr. Wells exploded some bubbles in regard to tapioca and sago. Tapioca and sago, he said, are obtained from the roots of a plant which takes about fifteen months to grow. When the plant is grown it looks like a potato plant. After some processes have been gone through, milk is obtained and put in a tank. After a short period the milk is drained off and the tapioca is taken from the bottom of the tank. It is in small lumps and is thrown around the floor to dry.

Then comes the business of kneading this. Chinese go in there naked. They take off their clothes as a sanitary precaution and then knead the

COUNCIL ABOLISHES WARDS: CITIZENS APPROVED ACTION

Aldermen Will Hereafter Be Chosen by Votes of All the Electors

The ward system is a matter of history. On Monday evening the final reading was given to the bylaw abolishing the ward system in Brandon. Henceforth the Aldermen will be elected from the City at large. With the abolition of the ward system, there also goes the form of plural voting, and henceforth one person will have but one vote. These are the two most important points in the bylaw which was finally passed by the Council, Monday evening.

The abolition of the ward system comes as the result of a series of debates in the City Council extending well over a year. The question was bandied about for a long time, before it was decided to put the question before the electors and let them decide. Their decision was a positive "yes," and the Council acting on the mandate given by the people at the recent elections passed the bylaw which does away with the ward system and also plural voting.

FOSTER PLEADS FOR ACTION AGAINST TYPHUS IN POLAND

Representatives of Nations in All Corners of Globe Give Assurance of Aid

Geneva, Dec. 7.—Sir George E. Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce of Canada, stirred the Assembly of the League of Nations this morning in an eloquent appeal for action against typhus in Poland and the near East in general. Canada and Siam, Sir George remarked, were the only countries that had responded with cash contributions to the call of the Council for aid. "Let not be said that the flood-gates of sympathy are closed," Sir George cried, "let it not be said that the sensibilities of the world have been dulled to such imperative calls."

Rpresentatives f the nations in all corners of the world succeeded one another at the speaker's stand to ive assurance of the co-operation of their Gvernments in the work.

DAIRY COMPANY ASKS CITY TO GIVE THEM SQUARE DEAL

New Milk Bylaw Has Been Submitted for Approval to Attorney-General

SOME MILK NOT TESTED

Sold in Competition with Product That Has Been Pasteurized

Claiming that they are not getting a square deal, a delegation from the Farmers' Dairy Company appeared on Monday evening and set forth several grievances they have in connection with the milk situation in Brandon. They stated that some dealers were allowed to bring milk into the city and sell to stores, without the milk being given an official test. This, they claimed, was not right, as the Dairy Company has to comply with the bylaw, and is under a heavy expense in connection with the use of pasteurizing machinery.

A. G. Warr, City Sanitary Inspector, explained that the new milk bylaw had not yet come into force. He read certain sections from this proposed bylaw that would cover the question raised by the delegation. Certain legal objections have been raised in connection with the new bylaw, and it has been submitted to the Attorney-General for report.

To show the value of pasteurization, Mr. Warr read a report of Dr. S. J. S. Peirce , the bacteriologist who, on November 24th, made a test of milk from the Farmers' Dairy. This showed that there was a bacterial count of 21,200,000 before pasteurization and a count of 55,000 after, or a reduction of about 99 3-4 per cent.

Alderman Coleman said that the milk situation is acute as there is a great shortage at the present time. The committee which recommended the new bylaw thought that possibly it would be best to lower the standard of milk required under the bylaw, to see if this would increase the quantity, but on second thoughts the committee decided against this measure. Alderman Coleman pointed out that it is difficult for the Farmers' Dairy to carry on their business when other milkmen do not have to purify the milk they sell. Some people sell milk who do not own cows, he stated. The Alderman asked, therefore, that the Attorney-General be asked to hurry up his legal opinion on the new bylaw.

The delegation stazed to the Council that they were not after a monopoly in the milk business, but simply that they be given a square deal. The delegation was assured by His Worship Mayor Dinsdale that they would be given a square deal and that the complaints they made would be looked into immediately by the proper officials, while the new bylaw would be hurried along.

FREDERICKSON MAY PLAY IN U. S.

Toronto, Dec. 7.—Frank Frederickson, captain of the world's champion Falcons of Winnipeg, expects to leave here tonight for the West, having completed his course at Camp Borden. He said he had received offers from Frank Patrick and E. J. Livingstone and had declined both. Frederickson said he was returning with the hope that he might succeed in getting Haldorson, Benson and another Falcon player who had gone to Saskatchewan to return to their old club. If unable to secure their return the Falcons captain hopes to secure Morrison of the Selkirks, and Rod Smith, of the 61st Battalion Allan Cup team, and Barney McPhail of the Monarchs.

He did not appear at all sanguine of completing either plan. "So," he concluded, "if conditions are not satisfactory out there and I can't get the old club together again it is quite possible I will jump over the line."

POLICE CAR CRASHED INTO A STREET CAR

The police car crashed into a street car on Monday afternoon about five o'clock, one front wheel being broken and the axle bent on the auto as the result of the collision. Sergeant Skelton and Detective Barlow were proceeding South on First Street, and a street car coming East along Rosser Avenue. The police officers saw the street car, but when they turned the corner they found a rig in the way, and it was a case of crashing into either the rig or the street car. They chose the latter. No one was hurt in the collision, both the auto and street car brakes being jammed on hard when a crash seemed impossible to avert.

Fresh pork showed declines of from 10 to 20 per cent., the statement said, although it was less marked near the packing centres than in the East. Prices of lard fell approximately 15 per cent. during the week.

NO PEACE UNTIL IRISH EXTREMISTS ARE LOCKED UP

Hamar Greenwood Declares Irish Republican Army Leaders Cause Trouble

WITH THEM ARRESTED

It May Be Possible to Arrange a Truce—Response to Guilty

London, Dec. 7.—Sir Hamer Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, declared emphatically amidst cheers in the House of Commons today that he was "convinced there can be no true or successful advocacy of a truce in Ireland until the extreme leaders of the Irish Republican Army either surrender and deliver their arms, or are arrested."

Geenwood's statement was in response to a query by Joseph Devlin, Irish Nationalist, as to whether he thought the arrest of Dublin councillors yesterday was conducive to a spirit of peace when the Dublin Corporation was about to discuss a truce. Sir Hamar Greenwood had previously informed the House that all the councillors arrested were members of the Irish Republican Army and several of them had been continuously on the run for some time. One of them had spent the previous night in a hay shed, Sir Hamer declared, and a shotgun was found in the office of another.

Guilty of Spreading False Reports

Dublin, Dec. 7. — Directors Martin Fitzgerald and Hamilton Edwards and Editor P. J. Hoover, of Freeman's Journal have been found guilty of "spreading false reports intended to cause dissatisfaction," Sentence has been deferred.

Many Rumors in London

London, Dec. 7.—Efforts to arrange a truce in Ireland was the dominating topic in this morning's newspapers, which printed many rumors gathered in London and Dublin. These showed intense interest in the situation and a widespread hope for definite results from exchanges of views now understood to be going on.

It is pretty generally conceded that the conversations have not as yet reached a stage of definite negotiations. One Dublin dispatch stated there was no chance of a truce while Arthur Griffith and the MacNeil brothers, prominent Sinn Fein leaders, were kept in prison.

De Valera's Comment

New York, Dec. 7. — Britain must withdrew all troops from Ireland and liberate all political prisoners as preliminary to the restoration of peace in Ireland, declared De Valera in a statement here yesterday. "Removal of aggression, obviously is both the initial and also the final step. That is the whole essence of the trouble between the countries," he asserted.

BIG VOTE FAVORS RETURN OF CONSTANTINE TO THE THRONE OF GREECE

GERMAN STATESMEN MAKE SPEECHES THAT MAY CAUSE TROUBLE

Berlin, Dec. 7. — A joint British, French and Belgian note has been handed to the German Government protesting against speeches recently made in the occupied territories by members of the German Government, as calculated to cause trouble and bring the execution of the Versailles Treaty into question. The note utters a grave warning that such speeches by responsible persons must be avoided in the future.

Chancellor Fahrenbach and Dr. Simons, the German Foreign Minister, have recently returned from a visit to the Rhine provinces, where they delivered speeches, in which not only the civil policy of Germany was discussed, but matters closely connected with the Treaty of Versailles were brought to the front in such a way as to be considered by the Allies to preclude of a concerted effort to obtain revision of the treaty.

COUNCIL IGNORES REQUEST FOR AN INVESTIGATION

Into Qualifications of Mr. Boden for Position of City Electrician

A request that an official investigation be made as to City Electrician Boden's qualifications for his position was made at the Council meeting on Monday evening. The request came from Mr. George Hinners, and follows close upon the settlement of an argument which was before the City Council some time ago in which both men figured prominently. Mr. Hinners claimed that he was being treated unfairly and urged an investigation. The Council did not consider an investigation necessary, and an arrangement was made by which it is expected that the difficulties existing between the two men will be patched up.

In his complaint to the City Council, Mr. Hinners declared that much of his work is being held up through lack of definite instructions from the City Electrician. He claimed that continual fault was being found with his work by the latter, and that he never could receive written instructions as to the alterations to be carried out. Also that Mr. Boden was charging a fee of $1 which he should only receive fifty cents under the bylaws of the city. Mr. Hinners alleged that he was not getting a square deal in his treatment from the City Electrician had asked that an investigation be conducted at once into Mr. Boden's qualifications for his position.

Mr. Boden was called upon by the Council to state his side of the case, and explained the points raised by Mr. Hinners. He stated that he is at all times ready to give any service required, and repudiated the charge that he was unfair. He admitted, however, that he did not give any instructions as to the alteration work to be carried out.

"Either the City Electrician is efficient, or he is not," said Mayor Dinsdale, who added that he was tired of the petty quarrels. Alderman Curran suggested that the two men settle their difficulties between them, but the Mayor suggested that it would probably be a "no decision" result, and that the matter would again be foisted upon the Council.

Mr. Boden reiterated his willingness to go with Mr. Hinners at any time and show him what had to be done in the way of alterations, and it was finally agreed that the City Electrician and Mr. Hinners would get together this morning and reach an understanding with regard to the work to be carried out. Pressing for an investigation, Mr. Hinners received the reply of the Council through Alderman Coleman, "Oh, we'll attend to that later."

The matter was thn dropped, but later a resoluton was passed as follows: "That the Electrical Superintendent, Mr. Boden, be instructed to give written instructions after inspection to electrical contractors, whenever he is reasonably requested to do so."

CORPORATION TO ACCEPT LESS THAN RATE AUTHORIZED

By Public Utilities Commission for Supplying Power for Street Railway

5c AUTHORIZED INCREASE

Canada Gas & Electric Corporation Agrees to Accept 4½c Per K.W.H.

A reduction in the cost of power to the city for the operation of the Street Railway has been made by the Continental Gas and Electric Corporation. Following close upon the intimations from the Aldermen that the Street Railway may have to close down as the result of the recent increase granted the Canada Gas and Electric Corporation comes the reduction of the rate in power to the City for the street railway. The new rate offered and accepted by the City is four and one-half cent per K.W.H. instead of five cents per K.W.H. as set by the Public Utilities Commission.

The reduction of half a cent in the rate will mean a saving to the City of about $2,600, it is stated. Superintendent Boden of the Street Railway states that the increase from three and a half cents per K.W.H. to five cents as given by the Public Utilities meant an increase in power cost of $8,000 a year. The reduction now made by the Canada Gas and Electric Corporation to four and a half cents, means that the total increased power cost will be $5,400.

A telegram to Manager G. A. Paterson o fthe Canada Gas and Electric Corporation from the Continental Gas and Electric Company at Cleveland is as follows: "This Company is extremely anxious to co-operate with the City of Brandon in every possible manner that will tend to upbuilding the City. If the street railway service can be maintained on a power charge of four and one-half cents, I recommend that we share the loss with the City and endeavor to furnish the service." This is signed by C. S. E[illegible] President.

The City Council has accepted the [illegible] no comments have been passed as to the probable fate of the Street Railway. It is more than likely that the street railway problem will be one of the first that the incoming City Council will have to grapple with, and that the present Council will allow the Street Railway ot carry on as at present.

CITY BUYS PIPE MAY LAY SEWER THIS WINTER

Decision as to Construction Deferred Until Pipe is on the Ground

Construction of a sewer on Park Street will be proceeded with this Winter provided the season remains favorable. For some time an effort has been made to have this work completed and the City has now agreed to purchase the necessary piping for the work. It was suggested that a carload be purchased, but the City Fathers did not want to make an outlay of $600 when $100 would cover the work. It was finally decided to purchase only the necessary pipe, as the price is predicted to take a tumble very shortly.

Just when the work will be commenced is another matter. The Aldermen were not of one mind concerning construction and when it should commence. Several of the Aldermen stated that it would be impossible to carry out the work this Winter. However, when the pipe arrives the question of finishing up the sewer line will be dealt with. Residents on Park Street have been looking forward to this construction work for over a year.

PARNELL ELECTED MAYOR OF WINNIPEG

By a Majority of 945—Farmer to Ask for Recount on Account of Large Number of Rejected Ballots—Final Result of Balloting for Aldermen May Not Be Known Until Late Today—First Count Indicates That Labor Forces Failed to Secure Majority in City Council—Light Vote Cast

Winnipeg, Dec. 4.—There will be a recount of the votes cast yesterday for the Mayoralty of Winnipeg, it is announced by S. J. Farmer, Independent Labor candidate, who on the face of the figures now available, was defeated by 945 by Edward Parnell, candidate of the Citizens' Committee. There was an entirely unprecedented number of ballots rejected as spoiled by Deputy Returning Officers. Farmer mentions a proportion of 2 per cent. of the total ballots cast as having been rejected and in view of this condition the Labor candidate stated today that the validity of the election of Parnell would be challenged.

The election of civic officials was under the proportional representation system. For the Mayoralty, with only two candidates, the special features of "P.R." did not apply. Reports are published that a large number of Mayoralty ballots were rejected because they were marked with an "X" instead of by number "1" and that from 20 to 40 ballots were spoiled in most polling sub-divisions in Ward One.

The present figures give Parnell 15,305 votes and farmer 14,360. Farmer headed the poll in Wards Two and Three, but Parnell's majority in the First Ward was sufficient to overcome the Labor man's lead. Farmer, who ran for the Mayoralty a year ago, increased his vote by 1,846. Parnell polled 373 votes fewer than secured a year ago by Mayor Gray. The total vote, even allowing for the large number of spoiled ballots, was small, with cose to 90,000 names on the lists.

In the City Council of eighteen members, exclusive of the Mayor, Labor will have six to eight according to deductions to be drawn from totals of first preferences for candidates. Ald. A. A. Heaps, Labor, in Ward Three, is the only aldermanic candidate actually elected on the first [illegible] and he [illegible] votes [illegible] the [illegible]

Labor Forces Failed to Dominate

Winnipeg, Dec. 4. — (By Canadian Press).—The Labor forces of Winnipeg failed to elect S. J. Farmer as Mayor of the city for 1921. The total vote was : Parnell 15,115; Farmer, 14,014. Majority for Parnell, 1,101.

Edward Parnell, bread manufacturer, was the candidate of the Citizens' Committee. Farmer, who is an accountant, was the Labor candidate. The candidates ran neck and neck while the early returns were received and Farmer hopes were high. Later the figures gave Parnell substantial majorities and the Labor candidate's lead was overturned. The total vote of under 30,000, was about one-third of the electorate enrolled and entitled to vote today.

Farmer, who was the unsuccessful candidate for the Mayoralty a year ago, was nominated for the contest just ended as the candidate of the Dominion Labor Party. Following a disagreement in the ranks of that party over the civic candidates, he continued in the field as an independent Labor man. The campaign was waged through the medium of a great number of public meetings.

Aldermanic votes were cast on the proportional representation system and only first choices were counted last night. A study of these figures indicates that Labor has failed to secure a majority in the 1921 City Council.

The First Council

The count of first choices in the three wards follows:

Ward One, three to be elected.

Ald. Herbert Gray (citizens), 2,802; Ald. J. K. Sparling (citizens), 2,755; Wm. Douglas (citizens), 2,697; T. J. Murray (Labor), 1,644; G. S. Frame (Labor), 1,070; J. W. Morrison (Independent), 253.

Ward Two, two year terms, three to be elected.

J. A. McKerchar (citizens), 2,047; Thos. Boyd (citizens), 1,732; T. H. Flye (Labor), 1,358; Mrs. Jessie Kirk, (Labor), 1,357; Ald. Ernest Robinson (Labor), 1,252; A. J. MacLean (citizens) 1,010; Chas. Vanderlip, 433; C. S. Morrisey (Labor), 369; T. H. Truscott, 170.

Ward Two, one year term, one to be elected.

John Ohare, (citizens), 3,717; Dr. S. J. Johanneson (Labor), 2,820; Robt. Sutherland (Labor), 1,418; W. E. Hoop (Labor), 1,238.

Ward Three, three to be elected.

Ald. A. A. Heaps (Labor), 3,201; Col. Dan McLean (citizens), 1,492; Ald. W. B. Simpson (Labor), 857; Ald. J. L. Wiginton (Ind. Labor), 817; Jesse Howard (Labor), 622; C. F. Mount (citizens), 577; Dr. A. Moysc, 345; Samuel Lewis, 137.

It will be late today, probably, before the count is completed. The figures given above are unofficial.

The election of the School Board yesterday was made on the proportional representation system also, and not even the first choices were available early this morning.

For School Trustee

Winnipeg, Dec. 4. — In a School Board of fifteen members Labor will have a representation of probably five or six including members who were not obliged to seek election this year. W. J. Bulman, citizens' nominee, is elected in Ward One with 3,000 above his quota and his surplus vote will elect F. S. Harstone, citizens', as the other member. In Ward Two Anderson, citizens', is elected in the first place for a two year term and the second place seems to be between Mrs. Maud McCarthy, Labor, and Joseph Kerr, citizens. For a one year term, James Simpkin, Labor, is in the first place, with the second place in dispute between George Adam, Labor, and Garnet Goulter, citizens. In Ward Three no candidatae reached his quota, but chances favor R. R. Knox, citizens, and C. Beekin, Labor.

DRURY SAYS U.F.O MUST BROADEN

To Continue in Office and Fulfill "Our Greatest Mission as Government

Chatham, Ont., Dec. 4.—In a speech delivered here last night, Hon. E. C. Drury, Premier of Ontario, declared: "I am going to say something which I know will not be approved by all the members of the United Farmers of Ontario, but if we are to continue in office and fulfil our greatest mission as a government, the U. F. O. has got to branch out, and broaden out. The old name of the party, if it continues in office, will disappear of necessity, and if I were choosing a new name to be adopted I would Christen it not the Farmers' Party, but the People's Progressive Party and take in everyone. Before long we will have to develop into an ideal people's party. The Farmers will still have representation in that party and they will still stand for the ideals which they started out with when they went out to get power, but others will be represented as well, and the platform of that party will have to be one which the party desires to see carried out and not one to be used merely for the purpose of obtaining office."

OSBORNE FEARS FOR DISRUPTION BRITISH EMPIRE

If Canada Appoints Ambassadors —Thinks it is Entering Wedge

Saskatoon, Sask., Dec. 4.—The appointment of a Canadian ambassador to Washington would be the entering wedge of a movement which will disrupt the British empire, in the opinion of Prof. W. F. Osborne of the University of Manitoba, who discussed Canada's relations to the empire, recently in an address here, from the non-partisan attitude of the historian.

It was generally recognized, he said, that aside from the ethnic bonds between Canada and the Mother Country, there were legal bonds: (1) The British North America Act, which was an act of the British parliament, and served as a constitution for Canada which could not be amended by Canadian legislation. (2) The right of appeal from Canadian courts to the British Privy Council, and (3) The fact that the governor-general was appointed by the King upon consultation with the British ministry.

To these he wished to add a fourth, which had arisen quite recently, and that was the proposed appointment of a Canadian ambassador to Washington. The Imperial government had assented to this request, and had indeed ade to this an intimation that in the absence of the British ambassador the Canadian representative should act in his stead.

The actual appointment of this ambassador, which had not yet occurred, would mean that there would exist a possibility of a difference of opinion between the British and the Canadian ambassadors; it would mean that probably in the course of ten years every British dominion would be represented at various capitals by their own ambassadors, among whom differences of opinion might arise. This would lead to contentions within the empire, and the unity of the organization would disapear.

The Meighen Government had kept the actual appointment of the ambassador to Washington in abeyance, and he hoped that it would be kept in abeyance until the possible results of such an action had been thoroughly examined in all its bearings and had received the scrutiny of an enlightened public opinion.

He did not wish to see Canada in [illegible] Dominion hurl herself to a course of action which might lead to unforeseen results.

HEALTH OF THE LIVESTOCK OF CANADA IMPORTANT

Over Two Billion Dollars Invested in Livestock in Canada Declares Dr. Tolmie

Toronto, Dec. 6.—Hon. Dr. Tolmie, Dominion Minister of Agriculture, in an address at a complimentary banquet given to him at the King Edward hotel here Saturday night by 150 employes of the Federal Department of Agriculture in Ontario, spoke highly of the work being done by the employes of the Department.

Speaking of the importance and responsibility of protecting the health of the livestock of Canada, Dr. Tolmie estimated the value of the livestock at $2,000,000,000. Great credit was given the employes in the Department who had succeeded in cleaning up the mange area in Southern Alberta and Saskatchewan during the past Summer.

The Minister stated a large number of the employes of his Department were not on the present list. "This matter has received my very careful consideration when I have been in Ottawa," he said, "and just before leaving there, the matter was taken up in council; but in the order prepared by the Civil Service Commission it was noted that one or two amendments would be necessary and it has accordingly been returned to them to make these changes. Several thousand employes will be affected."

British control of Canadian bacon on sale in England was deprecated by Dr. Tolmie, who said efforts were being made to have the control removed. Canadian bacon was in keen demand in the old country, and was being used to help sell American bacon which was not of the same quality.

The Minister explained the injustice Canada suffered by the British embargo on Canadian cattle.

WOMAN ELECTED TO WINNIPEG COUNCIL

Mrs. Jessie Kirk First Woman to Hold Office on City Council

Winnipeg, Dec. 6.—Mrs. Jessie Kirk, Labor, is a member of the Winnipeg City Council for 1921 and is the first woman to hold such office in this city. The completion of the count in Ward Two for three candidates to be elected for two year terms put Mrs. Kirk among the winners today. The other successful candidates are Thomas Boyd and J. A. McKerchar, both of whom ran on the Citizens' ticket. Ernest Robinson, Labor member in last year's council, was defeated.

Investigation of many of the rejected ballots suggests that they would not materially make any difference in the relative count for their mayoral candidate.

LIGHTER LOADED WITH EXPLOSIVES BURNS AT DOCK

Naval Tug Tows Blazing Vessel to Narrows—Large Crowd

ATTRACTED BY EXPLOSIONS

While Near-by Residents Flee for Safety — Four Injured

New York, Dec. 6.—A lighter loaded with explosives caught fire at the Fort Hamilton dock in Brooklyn, late Sunday afternoon. A series of explosions followed, the dock caught fire, and the burning vessel was towed into the narrows. The noise of the explosions, which could be heard for miles, and the brilliant illumination of the sky, drew thousands of spectators to the scene. The cause of the fire is not known.

The steam lighter was loaded with 900 six-inch and ten-inch shells and hundreds of homes in the vicinity were virtually under artillery bombardment.

Gathering together belongings in belief that the naval arsenal at Fort Lafayette, a small island near Fort Hamilton, was ablaze, terrified scores fled from their homes for safer zones, driven to frenzied haste by the series of detonations. An official statement from Fort Hamilton Sunday night said no lives had been lost and that only four persons had been injured slightly.

One of the terrifying incidents of the barrage was the 400 yards flight of a ten inch shell clear over the reservations and into a house in Fort Hamilton parkway. The heavy projectile tore a huge hole in the roof of the dwelling, passed through two floors, and buried itself in the cellar. The house was occupied by several members of a family, all of whom escaped injury. It was shaken with the violence of an earthquake.

Two on Board Escape

The lighter was torn from its moorings by the violence of the first explosion about 5.40 p.m.. Two men were on board but they escaped. A naval tug reached the scene and in a desperate effort to prevent the flames spreading to the wharf the commanding officer deliberately headed his craft for the blazing lighter and its exploding cargo. He stuck her nose against the side of the lighter and pushed her away to a sand bar in imminent peril of his own craft being blown from the water.

The naval tug scarcely had with drawn when a heavy explosion occurred which tore the lighter apart. Two of those slightly injured were a man and a woman who had a miraculous escape from death. They were motoring past the wharf opposite the lighter when the first explosion occurred. Fragments of shell peppered their auto.

The proximity of the naval arsenal at Fort Lafayette with its stores of high explosives and inflammable material, was a source of intense worry to the combined military, naval and municipal fire-fighters.

FIFTEEN HURT WHEN STREET CAR JUMPED RAILS

Many Other Passengers Slightly Injured — Motorman Says Brakes Refused to Work

Montreal, Dec. 6.—Fifteen passengers were injured early this morning when a tram car running to Cartierville, a suburb of this city, jumped the rails, fell onto its side and slid down a deep grade. An equal number of passengers escaped with very slight injuries, or none at all. The car while sliding on its side hit a heavy post and literally broke in two. When coming down the grade, the motorman said the air brakes refused to work and when he threw on the reverse the fuse blew out.

OFFICIALS START AN INVESTIGATION

Philadelphia, Dec. 16.—Railroad officials started an investigation Sunday into a wreck at Langhorne, Pa., Saturday night in which one woman was killed and 30 other passengers were injured. The woman killed was identified as Miss Frances Darnato, 27 years old, of Chicago.

The wreck was the result of a collision between a Westbound special train, carrying immigrants recently released from Ellis Island, to the farm lands of the West, and a shifting engine standing in the Langhorne yard.

NO ONE SERIOUSLY INJURED IN WRECK NEAR KIRKELLA

C. P. R. Passenger Coach Overturned—Passengers Climbed Through Windows

As the result of an accident which occurred on the Canadian Pacific Railway near Kirkella about nine o'clock Saturday night, Mr. D. W. Beaubier and Mr. W. N. Sutherland, of this city, are suffering from slight bruises, and Mr. White, also of Brandon, is suffering from cuts on the head and hands. Brakeman George Hutton, of this city, has had a bone in his left hand broken. J. W. Buckley was the Conductor on the train. Evidently as the result of spread rails the entire train, No. 60, with the exception of the front wheels of the engine, was derailed about four miles North of Kirkella. The smoker and the first class passenger coach overturned down the embankment and t was necessary for most of the passengers, numbering about twenty, to climb through the windows to get out of the car. One of the trainmen phoned for assistance from a nearby farm house and help arrived in an incredibly short time. The injured were conveyed via an engine and caboose to Kirkella, and an auxiliary train arrived almost simultaneously with doctors on board to render assistance. Luckily the injured were slight and all passengers were able to continue their journey shortly afterwards.

HELP WINTER FAIR

Convention Asks Province and Dominion to Aid Manitoba Winter Fair

The election of officers featured the afternoon session of the Union of Manitoba Municipalities on Wednesday. John Haddow, in accepting the presidency of the Union, said that he was glad to hold a position that was second only to the Premiership of the British Isles. Greetings were received from representatives of Alberta and Saskatchewan Unions, and one of the main points emphasized by one of the visting delegates was that members of municipal councils must take a greater interest in all public institutions.

A resolution to amend the Assessment Act of the Province raised the first general discusssion of the convention. The question of assessment was a perplexing one for the delegates and it took a lot of explaining to clear up many points. Finally after many speakers had dealt with the subject the resolution was referred back to the Resolutions Committee, and will be brought before the convention again.

Officers Elected

The election of officers was the main item of business. Mr. oJhn Haddow, present Vice-President of the Union and Reeve of Rosser, was unanimously elected President No other candidates were nominated. For Vice-President, Reeve W. C. Wroth of Ellice and Reve D. Couling were nominated. Alderman Marion was also mentioned, but withdrew. As a result of the ballot Reeve D. Couling of Oakland was elected. Robert Forke of Pipestone was re-elected Secretary-Treasurer. Mr. H. L. Adolph was named solicitor for the Union and the Western Municipal News the official organ.

Support For Winter Fair

Urging the consideration and help of the municipalities in solving the problems which now confront the Winter Fair, Mr. Kenneth Campbell appeared before the convention and told something of the success of the Winter show. The recent loss suffered through the burning of the old building has been a serious set back. It will cost at least $100,000 to rebuild and before going before the governments for support, Mr. Campbell said it would be necessary to get the support of the people. He therefore urged the Union to lend their strength to the proposition of building a new Arena.

Mr. G. R. Coldwell K.C. also supported Mr. Campbell in his address for the co-operation of the municipalities. He asked for the influence of the delgates in an application which will be made to the Provincial and Dominion Governments.

A resolution strongly recommending that both the Dominion and Provincial government grant such financial assistance as will enable the Winter Fair Board to rebuild, was carried unanimously.

Executive Committee

The executive committee was chosen following the nomination of no less than fifteen names. The executive as elected is W. C. Wroth, C. E. Ivens, R. D. Willis, D. D. McDonald, Ald. Marion, S. R. Henderson, J. Mitchell.

Address on Hospital Work

Dr. Geo. F. Stephens, President of the Provincial Hospital Association and Medical Superintendent of the Winnipeg General Hospital said that as it was impossible at present to give full data on the work of the Manitoba hospitals, he would confine his remarks entirely to the work of the Winnipeg General Hospital. He therefore addressed the audience at some length on the work of that institution.

Speaking of the unpaid municipal accounts on the books of the Winnipeg General Hospital, Dr. Stephens thought it was up to the municipalities to assist in the collection of these acounts. He recommended amendments to the Charities Aid Act; and particularly he suggested that the bonus and grants be increased to hospitals.

Greetings from Alberta

Mr. J. T. Jackman brought greetings to the convention from Alberta. He told of some of the municipal work being carried on in that Province. Mr. Jackman also recommended that the Western Provinces get together in an annual session and discuss some of the problems which come before the Prairie Provinces, as the Canadian convention usually confined their discussions almost solely to Eastern Canada problems.

Increase Municipal Grant

The greatest asset this country has, is the rising generation, said Reeve J. French, in speaking to a resolution before the convention. It was advocated that the general municipal grant be largely increased. Following a discussion, the resolution was passed as follows, "Whereas at the time the general municipal grant and the legislative grant were fixed, the amount of same was approximately sufficient to pay the salary of the school teacher.

And whereas the average teacher's salary has greatly increased.

Therefore be it resolved that in the opinion of this convention the general municipal grant be largely increased."

Saskatchewan Greetings

Mr. R. Douglas, of Redvers, representing the Saskatchewan municipalities brought the greetings from that body. He said that the Saskatchewan convention sometimes had as many as nine hundred delegates present at their sessions. Mr. Douglas declared that all the representatives present are leaders in their community, and they have a great rseponsibility in carrying on the work. The real good men come from the farms, and he urged all the delegates to take an active interest in all public institutions. If each community made itself a centre for better conditions and living then Canada's future would look after itself.

Mr. W. Anderson, Chief Municipal Inspector, also brought his greetings from Saskatchewan.

Special "Weed" Train

A special "weed" train is being made up by the three prairie provinces, Manitoba Albert and Saskatchewan, declared Prof. S. A. Bedford, in issuing an invitation to all municipal delegates to attend these exhibitions. The Russian Thistle is threatening an invasion of Manitoba and he urged the hearty support and co-operation of the municipalities in combatting the spread of weeds in the Province. He also recommended that the municipalities appoint capable men as weed inspectors and pay them adequate salaries.

Suggests Changes in Assessment

One of the most important resolutions to come before the convention was that submitted by the Rural Council of Portage regarding a suggested change in the Assessment Act of the Province. Several members from Portage spoke in favor of the resolution which was as follows:

Whereas this Convention is of the opinion that to put into operation, in its present form and wording, the Act to establish a Tax Commission, and recent Assessment Act, will impose upon the Rural Municipalities of this Province the unnecessary expenditure of large amounts of the ratepayers' money;

And whereas it will necessitate an increased staff of Assessors with incrased salaries in securing information and statistics already obtained from several sources and agencies;

And whereas the various and numerous forms to be filled by the Assessors annually instead of once in three or four years, require a great amount of work which we deem to be a foolish expenditure of time and money;

And whereas a large number of the Rural Municipalities of this Province, during the past Summer, passed strong resolutions dealing with the undesirable features of the Act:

Therefore be it resolved that this Convention ask for an amendment to the Act, so as to simplify the Act and greatly reduce to the Municipalities the expense of putting the Act into operation.

Present Act Explained

Hon. Dr. J. W. Armstrong spoke in favor of the present Act as it stands. The Department is at all times the friend of the municipalities. He urged a uniform assessment al over the Province, and the assessment of all land on the actual value. He wanted one good assessment all over the Province.

Mr. Leo. Donnely, Chairman of the Tax Commission, also addressed the meeting on the resolution before the convention. He outlined the workings of Manitoba Tax Commission since the time of it's appointment. It did not matter so much what the tax is as it is to assure that everyone is taxed fairly and equally, said Mr. Donnely. He explained fully how assessment throughout the Province was to be made. He assured the Union that they would be given as equitable system of taxation as it would be possible to give.

Questions regarding the system of assessment rose from all over the hall, and Mr. H. L. Adolph, the Solicitor was called upon to explain the system as it is at present. Mr. Robert Forke of Pipestone also added a lucid explanation.

However it was finally decided to refer the question back to the Resolutions Committee, and the resolution will probably be amended.

PORTAGE CHOSEN BY UNION FOR THE 1921 CONVENTION

Hon. Dr. Armstrong Explains Large Levy For Provincial Government Revenue

GREATER ASSISTANCE

General Meeting is to Be Held in the Insane—Psycopathic Wards Suggested

Portage la Prairie was chosen as the location for the 1921 convention of the Union of Manitoba Municipalities. This decision was made by the convention sitting this morning, the delegates unanimously accepting the invitation extended by Mayor Metcalf of that city. No other invitations were extended this morning, although it had been expressed on previous occasions by Mayor Dinsdale and other members of the City Council that Brandon would give a hearty welcome to the convention if held here next year.

The morning's business was mainly given over to the passing of and discussions on resolutions. The resolution regarding a suggested change in the Assessment Act which proved so troublesome on Wednesday, was amended overnight and again presented this morning. This time it carried with little opposition. An explanation as to why the "Provincial Government Revenue' should form such a large part of the Municipal Commissioner's levy, was given by the Hon. Dr. J. W. Armstrong, the Municipal Commissioner. The Commissioner's explanation resulted in the defeat of the resolution.

The work of the Salvation Army, in Manitoba especially, was shown in an address given by Brigadier L. D. Taylor, of Winnipeg. Dr. J. H. Stewart, Superintendent of the Ninette Sanitorium also addressed the morning session on the work of that institution.

As the result of a resolution passed this morning, the Provincial Government will be asked to render more medical assistance at the Brandon Hospital for the Insane, and also to introduce psycopathic wards at both the Brandon and Selkirk institutions. This resolution was carried unanimously and received the support from many delegates present, who spoke to the measure.

The convention will probably be concluded this afternoon, but there are still many resolutions to be presented, and the discussions, if long on these resolutions, may carry the convention over until this evening.

Change in Resolution

Further debate on the resolution submitted by the rural Council of Portage La Prairie on Wednesday in connection with the suggested amendments to the Assessment Act, was reopened. Reeve E. H. Muir of Portage, revised his original motion, making the active clause provide "That the Executive be instructed to ask for an amendment to the Act eliminating overlapping, and empowering Municipalities to use approved tax rolls for three years, subject to the annual Court of Revision."

Explanation of Item

The Municipality of Argyle presented a resolution which read as follows:

Whereas in 918 the Municipal Commissioner's Levy was increased by the addition of an item entitled Provincial

And whereas no explanation of the Government Revenue:

creased over one hundred per cent. so it forms over three-fourths of the entire levy for 1920;

And whereas no explanatlion of the purpose of said levy has been given the Municipalities;

Therefore the Union of Manitoba Municipalities would respectfully ask the reason for said levy, and how long it is likely to be a charge on the Municipalities of the Province.

An explanation was made by the Hon. Dr. J. W. Armstrong, who said that there are increased costs of Mothers' Allowance, Health and increased overhead expense in regard to debentures. Of the annual levy, 1 1-2 mills yielding $1,020,000 was for supplementary revenue purposes. The need for increased revenue was as great on the part of the Government as it has been found in private undertakings, stated Dr. Armstrong.

The speaker did not know when the levy would stop, but he believed that the peak of prices had been reached. He would not hazard a guess as to when the cost decline would commence however. Dr. Armstrong said he would welcome any motion suggesting to the Government some new form of taxation by means of which the direct tax could be replaced.

Following the explanation given by the speaker and a vote taken, the resolution was defeated.

Resolution Defeated

A resolution submitted by the Municipality of Blanchard caused considerable discussion. The resolution as presented was as follows:

Be it resolved that this Convention ask the rescinding of Section No. 26 of the Regulations of Provincial Board of Health respecting slaughter Houses

A farmer or other person desiring to slaughter for sale or food animals raised by himself, in which case application shall be made to the local health officers, who may recommend to the Board that a permit to so slaughter be issued. The permit of the Board shall be in writing, and shall have force only from the first day of December in any year to the first day of March following.

Several delegates thought that the resolution would interfere with the "beef-rings", and that the farmers would not be allowed to carry on with this system. Dr. Armstrong explained that it was entirely a health measure. Following a discussion on the resolution, the motion was defeated.

Brigadier L. D. Taylor

Brigadier L. D. Taylor, of the Salvation Army expressed his appreciation on being able to present thanks for the sympathy of the municipalities to the Army. This was evidenced by the grants made, and these are an incentive to carry on the good work. "We are called to serve," said Brigadier Taylor, "and we are more ready now to carry out that service than ever before." He made reference to the training service of the Army, Thearies are no good without service, and the speaker declared that the Army believed in putting it into practice. "We are concerned greatly with the output and the result of our work," he said.

Mayor Geo. insdale spoke of the work done by the Salvation Army relief in Brandon. He spoke a few words regarding the success of the convention and trust that Brandon would be the scene of another convention of the Municipalities in the near future.

Ninette Sanatorium

An address on the work of the Ninitte Sanatorium was given this morning by the Superintendent of that institution. In the first ten years the sanatorium has received and taken care of no less than 3,333 patients. He said that the Province of Manitoba has reason to be proud of the institution as it ranked among the leading sanatoriums in Canada.

Tuberculosis is one of the hardest diseases to diagnose, said Dr. Stewart, and he believed that a great work is being done by the examinations carried out by the sanatorium. The institution has also done much to assist medical students in a study of tuberculosis. Senior medical students have been received into the residence for instructio purposes, and 106 students have received training in this manner. There is enough knowledge as to human tuberculosis to stamp out the disease entirely, but in order to do this the entire community would have to be revolutionized. "We are all advance agents of the millenium," said the doctor, "if we are doing our duties as citizens." He did not ever expect tuberculosis to be stamped out completely, but he did believe that conditions can be greatly improved.

The Municipality of Archie brought in a resolution asking that an extension of psycopathic wards to Brandon and Selkirk Hospitals for the be made and also for more medical assistance. The resolution submitted, and which was carried unanimously, was as follows:

"Whereas there is an increasing number of patients admitted to the insane asylums of Selkirk and Brandon;

"And whereas the experince gained at the psycopathic ward of Winnipeg General Hospital gives reason to believe that many patients can be wholly or partly recovered;

"And whereas these institutions are seriously handicapped owing to insufficient medical staff, the staff at Brandon being three doctors whereas seven are needed, besides more nurses:

"Therefore the Provincial Government is urgently requested to do all in its power to enable the physicians in charge to restore the patients to their former usefulness in life."

MAKING NAILS OF BARBED WIRE

In Riga From Vast Quantities of Wire Left on Battlefields

Riga, Latvia, Dec. 4.—A use has at last been found here for the vast quantities of barbed wire left on the battlefields of Eastern Europe. Riga inventors have devised machinery for stamping nails out of the wire and hope by this method to relieve the shortage of nails in the Balkan states.

Riga has been the center of so much fighting throughout the war that most of the lakes, streams and roads about the city are thoroughly lined with barbed wire entanglements and great numbers of full spools of wire are lying about. The expense of collecting wire for making nails is thus made light. Many of the piers at this port are stacked high with wire suitable for nail making.

BRANDON HEBREWS TO CELEBRATE "HANNICKA"

Commencing Monday, December 6th, and lasting for eight days, the Hebrews in Brandon and all over the world will celebrate "Hanicka," the Feast of Lights. In many religions, light is the symbol of joy and life-giving power, and while business will not cease for the celebration, many festivities will occur during the eight days.

In the ritual of the Jewish temple, fire and light played a conspicuous part long ago. In the Holy of Holies was a "Cloud of Light, (Shekinah) symbolical of the presence of Yahweh, and before it stood the candlestick with six branches on each of which, and on the central stem, was a lamp eternally burning; while in the foreground was an altar on which the sacred fire was never allowed to go out. Today, many of the Jewish synagogues have each their eternal lamp.

During the celebration of the celebration in Brandon special lamps will be lighted each night in many of the Hebrew homes in this city.

ELEVATOR CO. ASKS REINSTATEMENT OF WHEAT BOARD

Resolution Passed by Shareholders Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company

Regina, Sask., Dec. 4.—A demand that the Canada Wheat Board be immediately reinstated, was the subject of a resolution passed by the general meeting of the shareholders of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator company, held here last week.

"The future is difficult for agriculture," said Hon. C. A. Dunning, "and there is little immediate hope in sight for improvement. As far as wheat is concerned, the Saskatchewan farmer is less advantageously placed than any of his competitors in placing his wheat on the markets of the world, for it has cost him more to produce and ship his wheat"

The company's annual report showed that during the year ended July 31, the profit had amounted to $224,988.91. The directors recommend a dividend of 8 per cent., amounting to $90,250.60, leaving a balance of $134,729.31, making a total when added to the balance at the credit of the general reserve account, of $247,028.53.

The report went on to state that new elevators have been erected at Mantario, Rosthern, Bateman, St. Boswells, Lucky Lake, Birsay, Eaton and Leroy and one purchased at Kennedy.

A total of 19,512,000 bushels had been handled through the company's country elevators and 812,772 bushels shipped over platforms. The terminal elevators together handled 16,506,684 bushels, or approximately 15 per cent of the grain handled through public elevators at the head of the lakes

Your Livestock Needs Attention Now

In summer the livestock have range over considerable pasture. They pick and choose the food as they desire. The value of "range" is well known; few figure out that its real value is the variety of food it provides.

Now in winter you feed livestock their manger full of fodder and require them to eat it all. But if they have a chance to get out, eagerly they roam around and pick up other bits of food here and there? And how much better they do when a few fine days give them the chance to pick around and get some variety!

Much of the improvement following a few days outing comes from the variety of food they eagerly sought, and most of the Winter they cannot get this variety in their food.

VICTORY BONDS

The withdrawal of Government control or supervision of the sale of Victory Bonds should not depreciate the price of these select securities. Victory Bonds are a good investment to keep or to buy. The decline in price is due to the number of public and private securities more recently issued at higher rates of interest or lower price of issue. Notwithstanding these other offerings there are the best of reasons for expecting that these Victory Bonds which have a good many years to run will be above par before they are due, while the short-time issues will be redeemed at par on the due date. In the meantime they are a safe security, paying good interest. Thousands of persons who bought Victory Bonds for patriotic reasons or as a small family investment, may be tempted to part with them at a loss. These would do well to consult some trusted financial advisor before changing their investment. They will make no mistake by holding their Victory Bonds.

ROOT ON RUSSIA

Elihu Root has expressed the opinion that Bolshevism in Russia has but a short time to live. Mr. Root's interest in Russian affairs began long before he went as the head of the special mission sent by President Wilson to study conditions in the distracted country. Mr. Root says that in conserving the lives of those who will go back to their land to help it his committee in "saving the seed-corn which will bring forth the future harvest of real freedom, security, peace and prosperity for Russia." These blessings cannot be realized too soon. The present era, as H. G. Wells is pointing out in his illuminative description of what he saw, is an era of ruin. Mr. Wells puts the blame chiefly on antecedent capitalism and imperialism and not on contemporary communism; but whoever is responsible, the result is the same. That result offers a "spectacle of misery and ebbing energy." Both Mr. Root and Mr. Wells, from wholly different standpoints, but with the best will in the world for the future of the country, admit the dreary and appalling conition that obtains; and Mr. Root, is eager to help in the reinstatement not of a defunct and impossible autocracy but of those finer impulses and inspiration that represent the better self within the vast, unwieldy bulk of Russia.

Mr. Root is a friend of the country on the basis of knowledge and not of mere benevolent sentiment. He has faith in Russia. Political conditions have undergone a drastic alteration since he returned from his journey of 1917, and yet he still could say, as he then declared of the people: "They have a noble idealism which is developed and exhibited in the minds that are enlarged by education, and they have a strong sense of the mission of liberty in the world and an extraordinary capacity for concerted action." If (to borrow Mr. Root's own memorable phrase uttered in Philadelphia) there is at present a "corrupt and criminal combination masquerading" as Russians, they must not delude us into misreading the real character of the real people, says an exchange.

SIGNIFICANT EVENTS

The significance of recent events in the United States should not be lost sight of in Canada. Indeed, it may be that the outcome will be so serious that it cannot be overlooked.

A short time ago, there was a dispatch from a point in Southern Kansas stating that the flour milling industry in that State was about to close down. The reason given was that the millers found it impossible to compete with flour made from Northern wheat. During the month of November, seventeen North Dakota State banks were compelled to close their doors, and it is said that almost all the banks in North Dakota are calling loans and refusing to part with money. Depositors have become frightened and are withdrawing cash, thus complicating the situation. From parts of Montana come reports of a difficult situation consequent on poor crops. Senator Ed. S. Johnson, of South Dakota, telegraphed President Wilson last week, urging immediate financial relief for farmers and livestock producers of the Northwest States. His message stated that conditions are extremely serious.

The result of appeals to Washington is that a meeting was called for Thursday of the Agricultural Committees of the Senate and House of Representatives, to consider in joint session relief measures for the agricultural situation. It was expected that among the subjects that would come up at this meeting would be the placing of a tariff on wheat imports. At the time of writing it is not known locally whether this subject was discussed of not.. It is known, however, that a member of the House of Representatives from Kansas has drafted a bill which proposes to place an import duty of thirty-five cents a bushel on wheat. The stated purpose of the bill, which will be presented in due course, unless action is taken previously, is to protect wheat production in the United States from imports from Canada, Australia, and other countries.

United States is the country which a few years ago was to have been Canada's partner in a free interchange of agricultural commodities had not Canada decided otherwise.

Recent events indicate that action may be taken by the United States which will have a tremendous effect on Canadian affairs.

MANITOBA'S RATE CLAIM

The following editorial in the Toronto Mail and Empire is interesting as presenting a viewpoint that may be widely held in sections of the Dominion outside Manitoba:

"The recent increase in railway freight rates has revived agitation in Manitoba respecting the claim of that Province to the right to control Canadian Northern rates within Provincial boundaries until 1930. Tecnically, Manitoba may have a good case, but considering what its liabilities would be, if the Dominion Government had not taken over the Canadian Northern, it should have no complaint whatever.

About twenty years ago, when the Canadian Northern was being built, Manitoba guaranteed bonds for the railway at a rate of $20,000 a mile for 290 miles from the boundary to Port Arthur, and $10,000 for lines within the Province. In return, rates on grain to Lake Superior were reduced, other freight rates lowered, passenger rates put on a 3-cent basis, and the Government got the right to fix rates until 1930. In taking over the Canadian Northern, the Dominion Government inherited this obligation, but in March, 1918, a sub-section was put in the consolidated Railway Act nullifying it, and putting Manitoba rates on the same basis as other parts of the country.

"Those who still want to enforce the old rates in Manitoba, because of this agreement, fail to reckon sufficiently on the crisis in the C. N.R. affairs several years ago. What good would the rate-fixing privilege be, if the Canadian Northern had been allowed to go into bankruptcy? Manitoba would have suffered. The prospect of a receivership for the Canadian Northern alarmed the bond guarantors in Winnipeg, as well as in Regina and Edmonton. Manitoba was as eager as any other Province to be saved from its bond guarantee folly. Today, without the Dominion Treasury behind it, the Canadian Northern system could not operate because it has an operating deficit. Manitoba ought to be thankful that it has the National Railways, operating as efficiently as possible—with the Dominion Treasury paying the deficit—instead of trying to insist on the letter of an old agreement exploded by a life and death crisis. To insist on special low rates, under the agreement, would be simply another method of extracting an additional subsidy out of the Dominion Treasury."

THE SMALL MYSTERY

It is the expectation of the police that the discovery of John Doughty will aid in clearing up the mystery surrounding the disappearance of Ambrose Small. Naturally they are reluctant to believe that the vanishing of a millionaire and the disappearance of $100,000 in bonds from his safety deposit vault are two unrelated facts. Such coincidences belong rather to the realm of detective fiction than to that of actuality, though they sometimes occur. As it stands now the Small case is one of the most remarkable in police history. Here was a man, as well known by sight to thousands of citizens as any other man in Toronto, says the Mail and Empire, who disappears as though the earth had swallowed him up. It is to be doubted if he could have walked three blocks anywhere in Toronto without meeting somebody who knew him, and in other Canadian cities he was known to hundreds. Among actors and horsemen in the United States his name and his face were familiar. Every year he met personally hundreds of persons who live upon the road, and there is hardly a town on the continent where Mr. Small might not have expected to meet an acquaintance. Yet for nearly a year there has been no more clue to his whereabouts than there is to the identity of the unknown warrior in Westminster Abbey.

The fact that Mr. Small had no motive, so far as anyone knows, for voluntarily concealing himself, and that it would seem to have been virtually impossible to do so had he wished, led most people to arrive at the conclusion that he was either being held for ransom or had been done away with. The fact that there has been no demand for a ransom in all these months would indicate that the latter theory is the more probable. If murder is the answer to the Small mystery the case is equally unique. When before was a prominent citizen anywhere, a millionaire, so mysteriously made away with, that a year after the crime the police were utterly at a loss to supply any theory covering the known facts? Even the location of Doughty appears to have been a mere stroke of luck. Doughty was not traced from Toronto by any detective or officer. His identification in Oregon appears to have been the consequence of a series of accidents. Apart from the probably fatal consequences to the victim in the case, the disappearance of Ambrose Small is a most alarming incident. If a man of his prominence can vanish in an instant and remain as though dead for a year, who else is safe against a similar plot? The Toronto police force can have no duty that is now so important as the clearing up of this mystery and reassuring the public.

GROWTH OF TOBACCO INDUSTRY

The last twenty-five years has witnessed a remarkable development in the Canadian tobacco industry. There was a time when Canadians were prone to shrug their shoulders and refer in contemptuous terms to Canadian tobacco. Today, there are thousands of smokers whose favorite brands are made from tobacco grown in Essex County, Ontario, or in Quebec. The choice which may in the first place have been prompted by necessity, in time becomes a genuine preference. The development of the Canadian tobacco industry is indelibly related to the customs tariff. Twenty-five years ago when the only tax on tobacco was an excise stamp tax, practically all the tobacco used in Canada was foreign-grown, imported either in the leaf or manufactured form, while the production of raw tobacco was very small. In 1897 the Canadian Government imposed, in addition to the excise stamp tax, a duty of ten cents per pound on imported leaf. It was under the encouragement thus afforded, according to a witness before the Tariff Commission at Quebec, that the amount of Canadian raw leaf taken for use in tobacco and cigar manufacturing plants in the Dominion increased from 551,684 pounds in 1896 to 5,572,687 pounds in 1908. The amount of foreign raw leaf taken for use in the same factories advanced only from ten million odd pounds in 1898 to fifteen million odd pounds in 1908.

The import duty on foreign leaf was increased from ten to twenty-eight cents per pound in 1908 with the result that the amount of Canadian tobacco taken for use in the Canadian tobacco and cigar factories still further increased from 5,572,037 to 10,848,385 in 1914. During this period, the consumption of foreign leaf increased only from fifteen million pounds to 18,775,803 in 1914.

The import duty on foreign leaf was advanced to forty cents per pound in 1918, and in 1919 the production of all Canada amounted to about twenty-two million pounds. Estimates for this year place the production of burley tobacco in Essex and adjacent counties in Ontario between 19,000,000 and 20,000,000 pounds, with between 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 pounds of tobacco of the Virginia type. In Quebec, this year, the crop is estimated at about twelve million pounds, all of the cigar type. Thus it seems that the Canadian tobacco crop which amounted to very little in 1897, will this year amount to 32,000,000 pounds.

This country, which imported practically all the tobacco consumed here twenty-five years ago, today is exporting tobacco to the United States in addition to producing a sufficient quantity to supply the domestic demand. Though there are other factors which contributed towards the marvelous growth of the tobacco industry in Canada, all of them combined have not exerted an influence at all comparable with that of the tariff protection which encouraged Canadian growers.

BONE DRY LAW NOT EFFECTIVE UNTIL JANUARY 25

At the Earliest and it May be Still Later, Ottawa People Believe

Ottawa, Dec. 1. — A period of at least 90 days from the date of the taking of the vote on Oct. 25 will elapse before Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and Nova Scotia can go bone-dry under the amended Scott Act, for the prohibition for which these provinces have declared themselves. Importations will not cease until Jan. 25 at the earliest. This is the opinion in offeral circles here. Whatever may be the decision the Government to implement the expressed wish of electorate, it is the desire that final proclamation shall be proof against legal attack.

There is some dispute on the matter of vending licenses held in the various provinces affected. Whatever may be the decision of the act, prohibition cannot become effective until after the licenses expire. In the opinion of the officials here vendors are not licensed in the meaning of the act. The total voting returns are not yet in. After they have been gazetted a period of 60 days must elapse before the proclamation which will follow can become effective.

GOOD ROADS MUST BE MAINTAINED OR MONEY IS WASTED

Manitoba Municipalities Have Given Concrete Proof of Belief in Good Roads

SHARING THE COST

Towns and Villages Asked to Share Cost With Rural Municipalities

The necessity of spending more money on the maintenance of roads rather than spending money on new roads that could not be maintained, was emphasized by several speakers this morning at the convention of the Union of Manitoba Municipalities. It was stated that it is just a waste of public money if good roads are built and not properly maintained. This morning's session was almost entirely given over to reports from various municipalities of the work being accomplished in the building and maintenance of good roads Three resolutions were also passed at the close of the morning session.

One of the resolutions dealing with the financial responsibility of towns and villages in sharing with rural municipalities the burden of cost of all roads which are connecting links of Provincial highways, caused considerable discussion. However, it was amended from its original form, and passed unanimously as follows: "Whereas the towns and villages do not participate to the same extent as rural municipalities in the matter of assistance to good roads. Be it resolved that this Union of Municipalities do petition, or otherwise the Government, to so amend the Good Roads Act that towns and villages may share financially on an equal basis with rural municipalities where such roads are connecting links of Provincial highways."

An address was to have been given this morning by Hon. G. A. Grierson, Minister of Public Works, but he was unable to be present. Mr. A. McGillivray, Vice - President John Haddow, Reeve P. Couling, of Oak land President A. C. Emmett, of the Manitoba Motor League, Col. C. E. Ivens, Dr. J. W. Armstrong and J. D. Baskerville all delivered short addresses. At the conclusion of this morning's session it was announced that the delegates to the convention would be the guests of the city at a banquet to be given in the Prince Edward Hotel this evening at eight o'clock Some interesting addresses are looked for.

Good Roads in Manitoba

Mr. A. McGillivray, Highway Commissioner, was the first speaker on the program this morning. He declared that the annual convention of Manitoba Municipalities is a red letter day in the history of His Department. Manitoba people did not need much education with regard to the need of good roads.

Six years ago the Goods Roads Act was passed and some splendid work has been done, despite the great world conflict. The work this year alone has exceeded that of the previous three years, and this also in spite of the fact the labor was hard to get, and that there was a financial tringency in the money market.

Mr. McGillivray said that because no amendments were to be made in the Good Roads Act, made it apparent that the Act is suitable to the municipalities. The Department, he said, is willing to co-operate at all times with the municipalities in the carrying out of the Act.

The speaker said that over $1,000,000 had been spent on good roads in Manitoba The greater part of this amount had been spent on new roads and not on maintenance This is a deplorable fact, Mr. McGillivray said. The principle of having good roads for the present is all right, but if the future ratepayers are going to pay for them, then we should build and maintain the roads.

Take Core of Roads

No road can be built that will be permanent, and the speaker declared that it would be far better to build fewer roads and spend more money on the maintenance. He counselled the municipalities to build only as many roads as they could properly maintain. Up until the present time the building and upkeep of the roads had been left to the farmer, and Mr McGillivray said this is a reason for the non-maintenance of the roads. The farmers had their own work to do, and when good roads and their own work clashed, the good roads were neglected.

The time is coming, he said, when other parties will have to be organized to look after the roads permanently. He further stated that if both building and maintenance could be kept up, then it was well to proceed with the new roads, but he advised them to go slow. He recommended the use of gravel on the main roads where possible as this type of road is proving the most serviceable in Manitoba.

The First Good Road

The work of the Good Roads Association during the past eleven years was outlined by Vice-President John Haddow. During the early years the Association had been beset by many difficulties, and the first real good done was the Emerson-Winnipeg highway road, now to be known as the Lord Selkirk Highway.

Reeve P. Couling of Cornwallis said the good roads surrounding Brandon were a great advance step. He told of the work of the Brandon Good Roads Association, but lack of funds had held back the work somewhat.

To Standardize Markings

President A. C. Emmett of the Manitoba Motor League said the work of the judges in deciding the prize-winning municipalities in good road building had been very laborious. He declared that when municipalities are planning new roads they should plan them so they would be of benefit to the whole province and not just to the community. An effort is now being made to standardize the markings along all the routes in Manitoba, and Mr. Emmett illustrated the new signs proposed for the main routes. Thousands of American cars come into this province each year and in order to hold this traffic and bring revenue to Manitoba the roads must be passable.

The one great solution is the maintenance of the roads. If these roads are not properly maintained, then the public's money is simply thrown away, concluded Mr. Emmett.

Urges Permanent Maintenance Plan

The work of completing the 196 miles of good roads in the Municipality of Wallace is about finished, said Col. C. E. Ivens, who spoke of the work in his municipality. The municipality had been fortunate in selling its debentures when the market was high, and he believed their work could be concluded without borrowing any more money. Next year he hoped to see the last wooden bridges disappear and these to be replaced by permanent concrete structures.

Col. Ivens said it is hard to keep up the interest among the drag-men in looking after good roads. However, the municipality is doing all it can to maintain its roads, and with the labor situation looking a little easier, the outlook is much brighter. He urged the various municipalities to attempt some scheme for the permanent maintenance of good roads.

Through the agency of the Union of Municipalities and the Motor League a splendid feeling towards good roads is being obtained, said Hon. Dr. J. W. Armstrong, Municipal Commissioner. He said there are no more attractive parts on this continent than the prairie provinces, for eight or nine months each year. A real active class of people can be attracted here through good roads. This advantage is being taken by other provinces and States, and it is up to Manitoba to follow the example of other provinces and carry out the good roads work.

J. D. Baskerville, ex-M.L.A. for Emerson, told of the work in the Emerson municipality. Over fifty miles of road has been covered this year. Some of the roads built some years ago were a blot on the face of Nature and spoiled some real good prairie trails, he said. However, the good roads work had gone along speedily and he stated that they had accomplished more in the past eight years than in the previous 37 years of the municipality's history.

Two Resolutions

Two other resolutions presented this morning were passed, as follows:

"That a grant be made to the Provincial Good Roads Association by the Union of Manitoba Municipalities for the maintenance of good roads throughout the province."

"That the Union of Manitoba Municipalities recommend to the Municipal Councils throughout the province the adoption of road signs as supplied by the Manitoba Motor League, and that the erection of only such signs be permitted on the highways under the control of the Municipal Councils.

PUPILS MINIOTA SCHOOL HOLD SUCCESSFUL BAZAAR TO BUY GRAMAPHONE

Miniota, Man., December 1.—The staff and pupils of the Miniota school held a very successful bazaar. Over $150 was realized from the sale and tea. The primary room put on a "circus-parade," which was followed by a program of various 'stunts' in the school. This netted a further sum of $20. The large crowd present, the rapidity with which the articles for sale were disposed of, the generous contributions and the enthusiasm with which the enterprise was supported by the whole district, showed how thoroughly the splendid work of the school staff in the interests of the training and education of the children is appreciated. The proceeds are to be devoted to the purchase of a gramophone and records for the school.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY APPEALS FOR ASSISTANCE

Canon Heeney Presents Facts at Evening Session of Convention

PUBLIC HEALTH WORK

Dr. Stuart Fraser Informs Delegates Regarding Progress of Public Health Work

Delegates to the convention of the Union of Manitoba Municipalities ought to know considerable about the work of the Children's Aid Society of Winnipeg, a province-wide charity, for they listened for nearly two hours, Tuesday night, first to Canon Heeney, and then to Secretary H. G. Wade. Dr. Stuart Fraser, of the Public Health Department, also mentioned the work of the society several times during his address. This was after the Salvation Army band had provided a splendid half hour musical program.

Rev. Canon Heeney welcomed the farmers' movement as one providing a rock against which the surging wave of Socialism and the doctrine that no man must own anything, would beat in vain. Private ownership of property is a fundamental principle. The right to own property rests on the sanctity of your own personality, the eternal value the Almighty has placed on your personality, said the Canon. If you disturb, cover up, or camouflage that, so that men may not see it, you have taken away the basis of your right to own anything.

Obligation to Children

The work of the Children's Aid Society lays emphasis on all that is best. "Just as I have the right to own a house, so a little child has a right to protection. I appeal to you men representing agriculture, that you are under an obligation to see that no child is denied the protection of society." The Children's Aid Society is out to see that justice is done these little lives. The efforts of the society are not confined to Winnipeg. A response is made to cries from all over the province. There is no difference from race or creed. People talk in many languages, but a little child cries only in one.

The agents of the Society go to the homes where unfaithfulness, gambling, war, drunkenness or any other cause, has made conditions bad for little children. Efforts are made to improve conditions and if this is found impossible the children are taken to the shelter, not a permanent home, as the policy of the society is to return children to foster homes where they can get some of the loving care denied by unnatural parents. The society's need for greater facilities for caring for the children were emphasized and an appeal made for support.

Wade Presents Facts

Our records show, said Mr. H. G. Wade, secretary, that during the past 22 years over 20,000 little children's lives have been benefitted through the intervention of the society. Approximately 4,000 of these little ones have been rescued from lives of degradation, sheltered and cared for, and given a start on life's journey from our shelter. Legal guardianship has been assumed in 973 cases. Good foster homes have been secured for 1,215 children, and the society now have 547 children under their care for whom they are legally responsible.

It is in the improvement of the home conditions and surroundings that our society can be, and is, of immense assistance. In this all important field we are doing a work, and effecting an improvement, for which no other existing organization provides so suitable or effective an agency. and we are more than grateful to feel that the general public has had sufficient confidence in us to furnish the amount necessary to carry on the work.

Dealt With 494 Cases This Year

During this year 494 cases were referred to us, involving the interest of 1,335 children's lives, so it will be observed that the society has stretched out its helping hand to an army of little human lives, and has endeavored to alleviate their sufferings and distress, and so make their lives at least endurable.

In summarizing the source from whene complaints came, we find that 61 per cent of the cases or 57 per cent of the children are from English-speaking cases, and 39 per cent of the cases, or 43 per cent of the children are from foreign-speaking cases. There are 28 different nationalities involved and 17 different religious beliefs.

In dealing with these families it is gratifying to record that our agents were able, through mediation, advice, warning, etc., to satisfactorily deal with 93 per cent. of the number of children involved in their own homes; the remaining seven per cent. having to be removed to the shelter. Out of this latter number 39 per cent of the cases had to go before the court for adjustment; the remaining 61 per cent being adjusted through the society.

Visit Delinquent Homes

During the year our agents have made 6.508 visits to the homes of these delinquent parents. In addition 75 police and juvenile court sessions have been attended. The actual number of cases taken before the court have been 38, involving the interest of 58 children.

During the last year we have had a monthly average of 206 cases, involving 608 children, under supervision. The monthly average for each agent has been 68 cases, with 202 children involved. The average monthly number of visits has been 629 or an average of three visits to each case.

Total number of children who have been made wards of the society during minority by the courts, 915.

Society Works Without Publicity

The society works without publicity. Children in your own community may be wards of the society, respectable men and women there may owe their start in life to the society, yet no one outside of those immediately and officially in contact with the cases are aware of it. Its work goes on silently, effectively and continually.

The Society's Budget

The society's budget for 1921, as approved by the Finance Committee, calls for a required expenditure of $9,470, about ten cents for every man, woman and child in the province. Of this total, $10,500 is assured by grants from the Provincial Government and city of Winnipeg. The balance, $48,970 must be secured from the people, either by direct subscription or voluntary grants from the municipalities. If every municipality gives a grant of $100, over $35,000 must still be asked direct by individual subscription.

Public Health Work

Dr. Stuart Fraser gave a brief resume of the activities of the Public Health Department in four years. Four years ago there were three teaching the gospel of public health in Manitoba; today there are 50. Fifty-six thousand children during this time have come under observation and 2,000 suffering from defects have been helped.

There is real cause for worry. Europe is alive with disease. Dr. Fraser told of learning while in attendance at the convention in San Francisco, that bubonic plague was very prevalent. There are, he declared, hundreds of cases of bubonic plague in U.S. coast cities and as the plague is spread by rats it is bound to appear in Canada. Many new diseases are spreading death in Europe. More than 1,300 children under two years of age died in Manitoba last year despite the preventative work done.

"If we can bring our children up to the age of 15 without having disease, the chances are that they will go through life without having any," said Dr. Fraser, in pointing out the benefits of a pure moral purpose animating a sound mind in a sound body. "The proudest boast I can make is that I was born a Canadian citizen.

The greatest thing on earth is to give service. We don't want to receive alms from anybody. Children should not be at the necessity of receiving private benefactions, it is the business of the state to look after them, said Dr. Fraser, evidently referring to the appeal for aid on behalf of the Children's Aid Society.

Robt. Forke, of Pipestone, thanked the speakers for their wonderful addresses and urged the delegates to help build up a better Canada by laying the foundations for good citizenship.

C.P.R LAYS OFF 100 METAL WORKERS AT ANGUS SHOPS

Grant Hall Admits Some Men Laid Off, But Not 70 Per Cent.

Montreal, Dec. 1.—Reports made to the headquarters of the Labor Unions here yesterday stated that 1,100 workers had been laid off temporarily at the Angus shops of the C.P.R. The reports were confirmed by J. T. Foster, President of the Trades and Labor Council, who added that the same conditions obtained not only at the Angus shops, but also in practically all the metal industry in Montreal and district.

Grant Hall, Vice-President Canadian Pacific, declared a certain number were being laid off, but that this number certainly did not amount to 70 per cent of the staff.

DAMAD FERID PASHA CONVERTS PALACE INTO FORTRESS: FEARS ENEMIES

MUNICIPALITIES WANT CHANGE SHEEP PROTECTION ACT

By Which Owner of Sheep Killed by Unknown Dog Must Notify Municipality

At the Tuesday afternoon session of the Union of Manitoba Municipalities the resolutions given below were passed. Two addresses were delivered during the afternoon. R. Hingley of Regina, Sask., Manager of the Municipal Hail Insurance gave an interesting talk on the methods used in this connection in Saskatchewan. His address was of particular interest as the ratepayers of Manitoba municipalities will vote on the Hail Insurance Act of the Province this month. A lengthy discussion followed the address.

Mr. A. M. Fraser of Winnipeg read an interesting paper on "How our taxation affects the rent."

The resolution re school taxes was recommended to be sent to the School Trustees Association and the resolution re tax commmission which was also discussed Tuesday afternoon was left over.

Resolutions Passed

That Section 206 of the Muncipal Assessment Act as amended by Section 11 of 7 George 5 Chapter 59 be further amended by adding the words "deducting two per cent or" after the word without in the third line thereof.

That whereas the Reeve and Councillors of the Rural Municipality of Grey are desirous of having an amendment made to "The Sheep Protection Act," being Chapter 82 of 7 George V, R.S.M. 1917, and are desirous that the said amendment be referred to the Union of Manitoba Municipalities for their due consideration and approval;

And whereas by Section 12 of the said Act, which said section was further amended by an Act to amend "The Sheep Protection Act" and being Chapter 80 of 8 George V, 1918, a municipality is liable where sheep are killed or injured by a dog whose owner is unknown;

And whereas the said Reeve and Councillors are of the opinon that the said Section 11 does not give the Municipality an opportunity of investigating any claim for loss sustained by a claimant for the killing or injury of his sheep, and that it is unfair that a Municipality should become a defendant in an action brought for the payment of such a loss without first having received notice of such loss;

Resolved that the Union of Manitoba Municipalities, by petition or otherwise as they may deem fit, apply to the Legislature of the Province of Manitoba to have a further amendment made to "The Sheep Protection Act" to the effect that the owner of any sheep, killed or injured by a dog whose owner is unknown, be given forty-eight hours to make known his loss to the Municipality in order that the Municipality be given an opportunity of investigating and appraising the loss as provided in Section 11 of the said Act ;and that the said Section 12 shall be amended by adding the following words after the word "dog" in the last line thereof:—"Provided, however, that the owner of the sheep so claiming the said loss, by killing or injury by a dog whose owner is unknown, shall have given to the Municipality, in which such sheep were so killed or injured, notice in writing within forty-eight hours of the time of such killing or injury."

That this Council send a resolution to the Convention of the Union of Municipalities ,to the effect that the Dominion Government be requested to provide a fund for cutting and destroying Noxious Weeds on the Dominion Government Lands.

CRIME WAVE ATTRIBUTED TO AUTOS AND MOVIES

Denver, Colo., Dec. 1.—Movies and automobiles are largely responsible for the nation-wide crime wave which is sweeping the country, according to William A. Pinkerton, head of the Pinkerton Detective Agency.

"The showing of pictures of criminal acts promotes criminality," he declared. "Such pictures should be prohibited."

Most of the crimes committed today apparently are done by novices and young boys, Pinkerton said.

OLIVER RETURNED TO OFFICE IN B. C.: MAJORITY REDUCED

Liberals Win 24 Out of 47 Seats —Conservatives Win 15

MINISTERS RETURNED

Premier Oliver Leads — Farmers Fail to Elect a Single Candidate

Vancouver, Dec. 2.— The Oliver Government has been returned to office but with a greatly reduced majority in the British Columbia elections held yesterday. Returns received up to an early hour this morning assure election of 24 Liberals out of a house of 47 members. The Conservatives are conceded 15 seats while the remainder of the seats are distributed among Independent Liberals, Independents and Labor. There are two doubtful seats which the Liberals claim they will win. It is regarded as certain that the Government will have a safe working majority.

The Liberals are claiming Fort George where Major H. G. Perry is leading his opponents. Final returns are yet to be received from Atlin. The Liberals are also expecting to wrest the sixth seat from Hon. W. J. Bowser, Conservative leader on the absentee vote. He is leading C. P. Dougherty, Liberal, by a few hundred.

Premier Oliver himself led the van of victory by carrying both Delta riding, his home constituency, and in Victoria, where he was returned at the head of the list.

All the Ministers carried their constituencies, although Hon. Dr. King, Minister of Works, experienced a close contest in Cranbrook, where Cavan, Conservative, is only a few votes behind the Minister.

In Vancouver, the Liberals have captured five out of six seats, Mrs. Ralph Smith heading the poll and Bowser leading for the sixth seat. Joseph Martin K.C. who many predicted would secure one of the local seats did not run as well as expected and was 200 votes short. Labor captured South Vancouver and Fernie. A noticeable feature of the returns is the complete failure of the Farmers organization to secure representation in the Legislature.

Standing [illegible]

Liberals, Vancouver (5), Victoria (3), Cariboo, Chilliwack, Columbia, Delta, Grand Forks, Greenwood, The Islands, Kamloops, Kaiso, Nanaimo, New Westminster, North Okanagan, Revelstoke, Prince Rupert, Saanich and Cranbrook Total 24.

Conservatives—Vancouver (1), Victoria (1), Alberni, Dewdney, Esquimault, Lillooet, Nelson, Ominica, Richmond, Rossland, Similkameen, Slocan, South Okanagan, Trail, Yale, total 15.

Doubtful—Atlin and Fort George, total 2.

Independent Liberals — Cowichan, North Vancouver, total 2.

Labor or Socialists—Fernie, South Vancouver, Comox, Newcastle, total 4.

WAR DECLARATION BY D'ANNUNZIO DOES NOT DISTURB

Italian Military Commanders — Sound of Cannon From Direction of Fiume

Trieste, Dec. 2.— The declaration that a state of war with Italy beginning Friday morning, was made yesterday by D'Annunzio, is not regarded in a serious light by the military commanders here. There is warlike activity in Fiume, however, and the sound of cannon and rifle fire may be heard along the Gulf of Quarnero which has been tranquil for more than 14 months. Snuperior officers in D'Annunzio's army continue to abandon the poet-soldier.

BURNABY DOES NOT KNOW FARM THAT WOULD RENT FOR 5 P. C. ON INVESTMENT

Toronto, Dec. 4.—Interest in the Tariff Commission's inquiry here was accentuated this afternoon when R. W. E. Burnaby, President of the United Farmers of Ontario and Presidetn of the Council of Agriculture, crossed swords with Sir Henry Drayton on two or three occasions. Pleading for a lower tariff, Mr. Burnaby said that he did not know of a farmer in Canada that would rent at a figure high enough to pay five per cent. on the investment.

"Agriculture in this part of Canada, at least," Mr. Burnaby said, "cannot compete with other industries on the Labor market. Apples were rotting on trees because of the scarcity of help."

MOST FAVORABLE REPORT ON TAX COLLECTIONS

In the report given Saturday in The Sun on tax collections for the year, some of the figures given in the second paragraph were transposed. The arrears at the beginning of the year amounted to $412,817, while there has been uaid on this amount during the same time, $116,786. The total arrears outstanding in taxes amount to $296,031, while the total of the current arrears totals $263,341. The report on Saturday gave the total current arrears as $623,341. The report of the tax collections which shows $523,575 paid into the City Treasurer this year has drawn much favorable attention to the healthy financial condition of the city.

JAPANESE SEIZE SEA COAST AND CLOSE FRONTIER

According to Wireless Dispatch From Moscow—Some Doubt Truth of Report

London, Dec. 6.—A Moscow wireless message Saturday says that in revenge for the crushing by the Bolsheviki of the anti-Bolsheviki bands of General Semenoff, the Cossack leader, the Japanese have seized the sea coast and closed the Manchurian frontier to the Russian Far Eastern Republic.

Recent dispatches from Harbin, Manchuria, stated that General Semenoff, hetman of the Ussuy Cossacks, and leader of the last surviving anti-Bolshevik Russian force in Siberia, had escaped to Japan via Manchuria after his forces had been defeated and dispersed at Manchuria station, on the boundary between Siberia and Manchuria.

Supported by Japanese

Semenoff formerly had his headquarters at Chita, Siberia, an important point on the trans-Siberian railway line, and even during the Kolchak regime operated independently against the Bolsheviki. It was generally believed that he was supplied by the Japanese, and that his ultimate design was to form a Far Eastern Empire friendly to Japan. When the Bolsheviki regime was first begun in Russia and Siberia, Semenoff began operations against it, at first with a small troop of his Cossacks, which later grew into a large and well-armed force which dominated the railway from the Manchurian border to Lake Baikal.

There are two Russian Far Eastern republics at present, one with headquarters at Vladivostock and the other with its capital at Chita. The former is anti-Bolshevik, while the latter has adopted Communistic principles.

If Saturday's report is to be credited, the Japanese have taken proceedings against the Vladivostock republic, which was not responsible for Semenoff's defeat. Emanating from Moscow, the dispatch will probably be taken with some reserve.

HAS ONE WEEK OF REAL ENJOYMENT

Fifteen-Year-Old Boy Steals $4,300 and Spends $700 in One Week

New York, Dec. 6.—Arrested here Saturday night, after he had bought a ticket for San Francisco, Elliott Micner, 15 years old, Philadelphia office boy, told police the story of a week's travel and adventure that followed his disappearance from the Baldwin Locomotive works Nov. 26th with $4,300 of the company's money. Officers found $3,600 of the money in his suitcase, and the rest, he told them, he had spent.

The $700 that was missing had gone, he admitted, in the purchase of new clothes—suits with long trousers—for $3 meals in the best hotels in Philadelphia, New York and Chicago, for $1 tips to waiters and for berths in Pullman cars. There were movies also, and other entertainments.

He was helping pay off employes in the company's office when he took the money—"just drew a couple of years' salary in advance," he told the police.

TO HEAR ARGUMENTS IN EXPRESS RATES CASE, THEN RENDER JUDGMENT

Ottawa, Dec. 4.—The Railway Board has concluded taking evidence in connection with the application of Express companies for forty per cent. increase in rates. Argument by counsel will take place next week and judgment will subsequently be given.

CHICAGO BIDDERS BOOST PRICE PAID AT BRANDON FAIR

Champion at International Only Sells For 5c lb. More Than Price Paid Here

CANADIAN STOCK EXCELS

Manitoba Stallion Placed Second in 4-Year-Old Percheron Class

Chicago, Ills., Dec. 2.—The event of the morning at the International Livestock Show was the sale of the grand champion steer, "Black Ruler," for $2,380. He weighed 1,360 pounds and sold at $1.75 per pound, only bringing five cents per pound more than the second prize steer at Brandon last Spring.

C. D. Roberts, Winnipeg, got second placing on his four-year-old Percheron stallion, "Monarch."

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 2. — Wednesday was Canada's day for championships at the big show. The following are some of the good things which she won in a fair fight and no favors: Grand championship for Clydesdale stallions; championship for American bred Clydesdale mares; reserve senior and reserve grand champion for Clydesdale mares; grand championship for Southdown sheep; sweepstakes grand championship for wheat for the continent of America; sweepstakes grand championship for oats for the continent of America; championship for Durum wheat for America.

Other ntoable events of the day were the election of Professor Cutler, of the University of Alberta, as President of the International Crop Movement Association and the purchase by the Alberta Government of an $8,000 Percheron stallion.

Alberta's Achievements

Alberta—The following are the achievements of Alberta for the day: Sweepstakes for oats: J. B. Lucas, of Cayley, Alberta, taking the five regions into which the continent of America is divided. There were 240 competitors in oats, so that this sweepstakes was a notable achievement. In addition Alberta won a number of placings in hard wheat. No Alberta livestock was judged to date, so there is nothing to report from that section.

Saskatchewan Has Proud Day

Saskatchewan — Dwellers in the middle-West province will assuredly be purple with pride over today's achievements.

Starting with Clydesdales, "Wee Donald," a Canadian bred horse, owned by C. A. Weaver, Lloydminster, Sask., was first as aged stallions in a very strong class of 13 and was later made grand champion stallion of the breed. More than one competent United States breeder pronounced him the best draft stallion shown in the Chicago ring in years. He was in perfect fit and superbly shown and already more than one American breeder has made a bid for him. He is seven years old, his sire was "Hugo's Stamp" (Imp.), and his dame "Handsome Lass" (Imp.). He has not been in a show ring since he was four years old, until he appeared in the ring at Edmonton spring show of 1920.

Manitoba had a quieter day than her neighbors as the breeding Yorkshires were not judged and they had no other livestock in the show. However, the day was not uneventful as R. E. Gorman got first and E. E. Young second for Durum wheat and in hard Spring wheat E. E. Young was second and R. F. Gorman third, while the tenth placing on hard Spring wheat went to Smith. All these men are of Oak Lake. The winning sample of Durum wheat was a picture.

Clause by clause the constitution was taken up at this meeting and after some minor amendments had been made, was adopted. The Association's membership fee for municipalities or clubs was fixed at $20, the individual fee being $2. All dues must be paid before February 21st. It was decided to issue a prize list with rules and regulations for a dragging competition to be held in this district annually. In this connection Mr. J. G. Nearing stated that the Western Motors, Limited, would present a handsome cup for competition.

Wednesday's meeting was a great success and augurs well for the future of the organization. Reeve Couling, of Oakland, presided and about fifty delegates from municipalities in the surrounding and adjoining districts were present including the Reeves of practically all the municipalities. Agricultural Committees of Senate And House to Consider Measures

EXTENSION OF CREDITS

And Time on Loans Are Possible Expedients to Effect Relief

Washington, Dec. 2.—Placing of a tariff on wheat imports is one of the subjects to be discussed by the Agricultural Committees of the Senate and House when they meet in joint session this afternoon, to consider relief measures for the agricultural situation. Further extension of credits to farmers and amendment of the Federal Farm Loan Act to permit short time loans on cattle and agricultural products, will also be discussed as possible expedients to effect relief. GREEKS VOTE TO ASK CONSTANTINE TO ASCEND THRONE

Premier Rhallis Declares "We Can Only Do What the People Want"

FINANCIAL AID

Great Britain Will Not Lend Financial Assistance if Constantine is King

Athens, Dec. 6.—Great Britain will extend no further financial aid to Greece in case former King Constantine returns to the throne, according to a note presented the Greek Government yesterday. The French Minister also presented a note to the Government demanding the payment of outstanding loans. "We can only do what the people want" said Premier Phallis, in speaking of the two communications.

Returns from a plebiscite held yesterday to decide whether the Greek people would recall King Constantine indicate a majority of 500,000 in favor of the return of Constantine.

No Serious Incidents

Athens, Dec. 6—The plebiscite held Sunday has shown an overwhelming majority in favor of the return of former King Constantine to the Greek throne. The voting closed at sundown.

There were no serious incidents. The Greek princes now in Athens voted in the morning.

Balloting was not secret. Soldiers went to the voting polls in platoons, carrying photographs of Constantine.

One voting place was in a cathedral where groups of boys were distributing ballots on which was written the name of Constantine for the affirmative or the voter wrote the equavalent for "no" if he wished to vote negatively. The slip of paper was then handed in and dropped in a box.

Constantine Confident

Lucerne, Switz., Dec. 6.—Former King Constantine of Greece and his household were so confident that the plebiscite in Greece would result overwhelmingly in favor of Constantine's return that the day was robbed of the usual election day suspense. They admit, however, that if the Allies are in earnest it is possible Contantine, after returning to Athens, might find that the country's best interests necessitate his abdication.

Former Foreign Minister Streit, Constantine's chief adviser said he believed such a contingency improbable.

Not Attended by Allied Note

Constantine and his family attended the usual orthodox Greek service in the Hotel Chapel Sunday morning and spent the day as though he was unaware of his fate, after three and one half years of exile, depended upon the Greek people's attitude.

Must Modify Sevres Treaty

Athens Dec. 6.—A note declaring, in effect, that the Sevres Treaty between the Allies and Turkey must be modified should former King Constantine return to the throne, was delivered informally to the Greek Government Saturday by the Jugo Slav minister.

Long sessions have been held by the cabinet during the past week, the ministers considering the Anglo-French attitude, instructions from Constantine, and also the financial situation of the country. Prior to the delivery of the joint Allied note on Friday night hope was expressed that drastic conditions would not be laid down by England, France and Italy, as they might irritate national feeling. The question of finance is the main isturbing factor in the situation the army alone costing 4,000,000 drachmas per day.

Up to this time the army's expenses have been paid by vouchers to the International Allied Financial Control Committee.

French and Greek soldiers have engaged in a brawl at Soloniki, and three men have been wounded.

There also have been clashes in Smyrna between civilians and soldiers regarding the singing of a Venizelos song. At some poinots feeling is running so high that the Venizelists are refusing to eat olives, which are the Constantinist emblem.

In political circles it is stated the whole situation lay in the hands of Constantine, with any solution possible. The Venizelists were forecasting that he would abdicate in favor of his son, Prince George.

MANUFACTURERS AGAINST TINKERING WITH THE TARIFF

Ontario Division States it Would Be Disastrous to Change Policy

PRESENT FISCAL PLAN

Has Proven Its Worth in 40 Years —Good for Toronto

Toronto, Dec. 1.—"We respectfully submit that as the lowering or abolition of the tariff would have direct and disastrous results upon our employes, and ourselves first, and then later on other classes, that nothing should be done to disturb the fiscal system which has brought this country so far in safety and prosperity; and that measures of protection now afforded to the Canadian national development by the tariff should be continued." This was the contention of a statement presented at the opening of the Tariff Commission sitting here today, on behalf of the Ontario division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association by R. S. Shaw, Chairman of the Division.

T. A. Hollinrake, chairman of the Toronto branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, said that Toronto produced 14 per cent of the goods manufactured in Canada, and 31 per cent. of those manufacturers in Ontario. "Therefore," said Hollinrake, "so far as the welfare of Toronto is concerned there should be no departure from the policy of protecting and encouraging the national development of the country which has been the fundamental principle of our fiscal arrangement for over forty years."

FIUME ISOLATED: A STATE OF WAR

Came Into Effect Last Midnight—Blockade of Fiume Continues

Trieste, Dec. 3.—A state of war between the Kingdom of Italy and "regency Quarnero" at Fiume began at midnight, but up to a few minutes before that time there was no visible evidence that actual hostilities impended. The blockade of Fiume continues and the poet-soldiers occupational forces there appear to be isolated.

CARVELL DOUBTS ACCURACY OF THE FIGURES GIVEN

By Ontario Commission Which Declares 100 Pounds Milk Cost Farmers $2.68

EIGHT-HOUR DAY

With Wages for Farmer and Members of Family, Basis of Calculation

Ottawa, Dec. 1.—Doubt as to the accuracy of the figures laid before the Railway Commission by witnesses at the adjourned express rates hearing, was expressed this morning by Hon. F. B. Carvell, who challenged the statements of M. H. Staples, an official of the United Farmers of Ontario, who quoted the report of the Ontario Government Commission to the effect that it cost the farmers $2.68 to produce 100 pounds of milk which the farmer had to sell for $2.33.

The farmers are no fools, declared the Chairman, they would not continue producing something which is losing money for them. Government commissions in making reports, figure the farmers' time on an 8-hour day basis, with full wages for farmer, his wife and family, whereas the farmer works a great many more hours daily and profits thereby.

BOLSHEVISM HAS NOT GAINED HOLD IN LITHUANIA

According to Statement by Dr. Joseph Puryckis, Minister of Foreign Affairs

London, Dec. 1.— Bolshevism has never gained a foothold in Lithuania, says Dr. Joseph Puryskis, the Lithuanian Minister for Foreign Affairs, who has arrived here to plead his country's cause before the British Government. Various attempts, he said, have been made to introduce it there by Russian emissaries, but he declared that there was no truth in rumors that a pro-Bolshevist dictatorship was contemplated in the new country on the Baltic.

"In my country there is not even a Communist party," said Dr. Puryckis. "Of the 112 members of our National Assembly, 59 are Christian Democrats; 29 belong to the Farmers' Union! 13 are Socialists, of a moderate type; six are Jews and three may be described as friendly to Poland, although they are adverse to a union of Lithuania with that country."

WHY FARMERS ARE KICKING ABOUT PRICES

Packers Paying Great Deal Less Than Before Though Costs Are Still High

Regina, Dec. 7.— Charging packing houses with depressing meat prices, H. E. Jones, member of Tisdale and I. Stirling, Cypress, Monday described the deplorable condition of farmers to the action of packing houses.

When interviewed, Mr. Stirling said farmers are being paid from five to seven cents a pound for two and three-year-old steers, while the price in the Fall of 1919 was between 10 and 12 cents for animals of a like age and quality. Hogs are bringing the farmers about 13 cents a pound as compared to 29 cents a pound in 1919, he declared.

"People are wondering why the farmers are complaining," said Mr. Stirling. "The reason is easy to discover. They are receiving from five to seven cents a pound for their beef; it costs the packers around nine cents a pound dressed and yet beef is retailing at prices ranging up to 40 cents a pound.

"Mnay farmers are being driven to the wall; they are short of money and are forced to send their stock to market to raise money although they know that the stock should really be kept and fattened. But what can they do?

"It must be admitted that many farmers are themselves to blame. Some of them are in a position to keep their cattle and feed them, and instead of doing it they dump them on the market with the result that prices tumble. The only solution to the problem is to form a farmers' organization to combat the action of the packers," he said.

Mr. Jones supported the sentiments expressed by Mr. Stirling and in addition cited the Winnipeg stock market. 'From what I know of conditions there, the packers each arrange the day on which they will buy their stock. The result is that one representative of one particular firm is the sole bidder for the stock. There is no competition with the result that the packing houses secure the stock at their own price.

"This, to my mind, is the state of affairs that is responsible for the present strained position of many farmers in Saskatchewan. The only cure I can see is that some organization be formed to beat the packers at their own game."

STAMP SELLER NOTIFIED HE IS NO LONGER NEEDED

The Dominion Government has abolished the system of stamp vending that has been in vogue for many years. Hereafter the stamp vendors are to be members of the post office staffs. W. McAneran, stamp vendor, has been in chargein Brandon for nine years. During this time his yearly earnings have been small, he has had to furnish his own relief when he needed holidays, and the stamp vendors wicket has been open eleven hours daily. On December 2nd, Mr. McAneran was notified that after January 2nd his services would no longer be required.

Toronto, Dec. 7.—Premier Drury Friday sent to Sir Henry Drayton figures bearing out his contention when before the Tariff Commission that the population of rural districts had greatly decreased during the past 15 years, and that the field crops of Ontario had suffered a progressive decrease.

Since 1905, according to the Premier's figures, the population has fallen from 1,016,018 in the townships to 998,597 in 1919.

SECURE QUARTERS FOR CONVENTION

The United Farmers of Manitoba will hold their annual convention in January inthe Gordon Mackay building. Arrangements have been made by which the convention will be able to gather, as it did last year, in the Gordon Mackay building. Some doubts were held as to the sessions being held there in view of the purchase of that building by the Massey-Harris Company, but definite word has been received that the building will again be available for convention purposes.

Mayor Dinsdale and City Clerk Brown have been appointed a committee to complete the accommodation arrangements for the convention, and they will report their plans at the next meeting of the City Council. It is more than probable that one of the big problems confronting the incoming Council of 1921 will be the erection of a memorial and convention hall to take care of the conventions being held in this city.

CROWN COUNSEL IS DROPPED FROM TIMBER INQUIRY

Two Judges Threaten to Resign From Commission if Counsel Did Not

RECEIVED TWO RETAINERS

One From Lumbering Company While Conducting Probe for Government

Toronto, Ont., Dec. 6. — "Well, there's the first hide on the fence," observed Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Conservative leader of Ontario, when informed Saturday of the retirement of R. T. Harding as Crown Counsel in the timber probe.

Harding Dropped

Toronto, Dec. 6.—Robert T. Harding, barrister, Toronto, has been dropped from the judicial inquiry into the timber returns made to the Ontario Government prior to the accession of the U.F.O. Labor administration. Mr. Harding had been Crown Counsel in the timber probe since its inception, but on representations made to the Government by Mr. Justice W. R. Riddell and Mr. Justice Latchford, he was withdrawn from the investigation on Saturday. The two judges intimated that if Mr. Harding were not removed they would resign from the Commission and would not continue the timber inquiry any further.

Mr. Justice Riddell and Mr. Justice Latchford, as Commissioners, prepared a written statement on the matter, which was issued on Saturday from Osgoode Hall, giving the Government the option of either withdrawing Mr. Harding from the investigation or accepting their resignations. Their objecting to the further services of Mr. Harding as counsel in the timber probe was based on the fact that he had continued to hold a retainer from a lumbering company after he had accepted the Government retainer. The Commissioners stated that they learned of this double retainer only last Wednesday, when they were informed by two gentlemen, whose names have not been divulged. The name of the company whose retainer Mr. Harding continued to hold after having begun the probe was not given out by the Commissioners. They gave Mr. Harding credit for zeal, zest, ability and industry in conducting the probe, and stated:

"We have seen nothing to indicate aught but a desire to do his full duty under his retainer for the people."

product with their feet. It is then placed in a hammock near the ceiling and rocked. Water drops into the product and collects the flour like substance into small balls. The balls are graded, the large ones being shipped for tapioca and the smaller ones for sago. The speaker explained that sago properly is the pith of a palm tree, and that it takes about fifteen years for the tree to grow to the point where sago can be obtained. The Chinese therefore use the above method in getting sago.

Export Trade in Pythons

One big export trade is in pythons, and Mr. Wells said that the pythons grow to a length of about thirty feet. They dislocate the joint of the jaws and open their mouths to such an extent as to swallow a calf whole. The speaker told of his first deer hunt in Malay. One of his native servants told him if he wanted to shoot a deer to go with him. They went about two miles and came to a place where some trees had been felled. Here the servant made a small house and they crawled in. Mr. Wells shoved his gun out through the leaves and he noticed the native take out two sticks and start to drum away on a leaf.

After a few minutes the native pointed to the clearing and there was a deer. The deer repeated the drumming on a leaf, and every time the native answered the deer came a little closer. Finally Mr. Wells shot the deer, picked it up and put it in his pocket and went back to camp. The speaker explained that the deer of Malay are only seven inches high. Mr. Wells told many other interesting stories in connection with his stay in Malay that were filled to the brim with facts concerning that jungle life of Malay.

CARE OF NEGLECTED CHILDREN A DUTY OF THE PROVINCE

Delegates to Municipalities Convention Approve of Raising Funds by Taxation

CONVENTION CONCLUDES

Want Right to Tax Elevators Erected on Railway Right of Way

One of the most successful conventions ever held by the Union of Manitoba Municipalities came to a close here Thursday afternoon. The which had been held over for further consideration. The resolutions received some discussion in their passing, but as most of the delegates wished to get away on an early afternoon train deliberations were somewhat rushed.

One of the most important resolutions to come before the convention was one from the City of Portage and which has to do with the raising of funds for the care of neglected children. The final session was almost entirely given over to the passing of resolutions dren of the Province. In moving the resolution which will provide for an equalized assessment all over the Province and the collecting of funds from the ratepayers through the Municipal Commissioner, Mayor Metcalfe of Portage la Prairie, said that the day is passed when we must rely on private subscriptions for the care of neglected children. He argued that it is a charge of the State, and all should share in the burden of caring for the children. The resolution received the unanimous endorsement of the convention.

Mr. E. A. Weir, Administrator of the Provincial Savings Banks, told of the workings of these banks since their formation by the Provincial Government some time ago. A report on the Canadian Union of Municipalities convention at Quebec was made by D. D. McDonald, while Mr. Wm. Iverach, of Isabella, gave a short talk as a representative from the School Trustees Association. Votes of thanks to the city, the press, the Salvation Army Band and to the speakers at the convention brought the seventeenth annual convention of the Union of Manitoba Municipalities to an end.

The following were some of the resolutions which passed with little or no opposition:

Give Women Municipal Votes

"Whereas women in towns and villages are not on an equal bisis as regards franchise with women in rur municipalities.

"Be it resolved that the Union of Municipalities petition the Provincial Government to pass such legislation as will put women in urban and rural municipalities on the same basis as regards franchise.

Approve Western Union

"Copy of resolution of the Union of Alberta Municipalities endorsed by the the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts:

"Resolved that this Convention endorses the suggestion that the four Western Provinces of Canada organize a Western Canada Municipal Union, and that the incoming executive as a whole or as a committee specially designated by the President-Elect for 1921 be authorized to initiate negotiations with the Municipal Unions of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and British Columbia and take all necessary steps that will lead to a convention of representatives of the four Western Provinces for the purpose of consummating a permanent union of the Municipalities of the Provinces.

Date of Assessment

"Resolved that in the opinion of this union of municipalities that assessments of towns and villages should not be made earlier than March first in the year in which taxes are levied.

Want to Assess Elevators

"Whereas grain elevators and grain warehouses situated on the railway right of way, are personal property when they are to all appearance real estate. Be it resolved that the Union of Municipalities de hereby petition, or otherwise, the Provincial Government to so amend the Assessment Act that it shall read: 'for the purpose of this Act, grain elevators and grain warehouses situated on the railway right of ways shall be assessed as real estate.'

Basis of Assessment

"Whereas in towns and villages assessment must be made either under the Business Tax rental bases or an assessment on personal property, and whereas neither system brings a hardship by way of inequitable taxation on certain ratepayers.

"Be it resolved that the Union of Municipalities do petition or otherwise the Provincial Government to so amend the Assessment Act as to give municipalities power by passing by-laws setting forth what business shall be assessed on either of the aforesaid systems."

A motion empowering municipal councils to draw up herd bylaws that will stand in courts of law, was not given serious consideration. Another resolution coming from the Hamiota Council was also not voted on.

Lord Selkirk Highway

A resolution from the Resolutions Committee and which was carried unanimously, was one which officially names the main highway from Emerson, through Winnipeg to Riverton, as the Lord Selkirk Highway, in honor of the pioneer settler of this Province.

The present bounty on wolves is $2.00 each, but a resolution favoring increasing this bounty to $6 each was turned down when it came to a vote. Several delegates declared that they had suffered great loss through wolves, but despite the need urged for the extermination of these animals the convention turned down the proposal for increased bounties.

To Provide for Neglected Children

The City of Portage submitted a resolution suggesting that an equalized assessment of the Province be made to take care of indigent and neglected children. The resolution was one of the most important presented to the convention and was carried as follows by an unanimous vote.

"Whereas indigent and neglected children of the Province of Manitoba are supported almost wholly by voluntary offerings.

And whereas the care of such children is the duty of the State.

Now therefore this convention is of the opinion that a levy for the support of such children should be made over the equalized assessment of the Province and collected through the Municipal Commissioner."

Mayor Metcalfe of Portage spoke to the resolution and his remarks regarding the need for financial help for all children's institutions were heartily endorsed by the convention.

Provincial Savings Banks

Mr. E. A. Weir Administrator of the Provincial Savings Banks gave an account of the working of that institution since it's formation some time ago. He referred to the fact that the Provincial Government's savings banks could only be a success so long as the farmers of this Province gave their support to them.

Report on Convention

A report of the impressions gained while attending the convention of the Canadian Unions at Quebec was given by Past President D. D. McDonald. Mr. McDonald was the official delegate from the Manitoba Union of Municipalities, and he spoke of the progress made by the municipalities.

Raise Standard of Citizenship

"If a municipality is unable to raise money to fix a road or bridge, it is only a material loss," said Mr. Wm. Iverach of Isabella a delegate from the School Trustees Association. "But," he continued, "if the education of a child is held up for a year through lack of money, it is a distinct national loss." It must be our duty to raise the standard of rural citizenship and Mr. Iverach declared that if we are to fit ourselves to accept the political control of Canada, that the children should be properly looked after and given the very best of education."

A vote of thanks was extended to the Mayor and City of Brandon for the welcome and accommodation extended to the convention. The thanks was also extended to the press, the Salvation Army Band and the various speakers. An invitation was extended to the Canadian Union of Municipalities to meet in Winnipeg next Summer.

The last act of the convention was to appoint John Haddow as representative from the Manitoba Union to the Winnipeg General Hospital Board and also as a delegate to the Social Service Council.

CAPTAIN REMAINED TILL BURNING SHIP WAS FINALLY BEACHED

Kingston, Ont., Dec. 6. — Captain Thomas Sughre, pilot of the steamer Schoolcraft, emulated Jim Bludso when he, though in peril of his life at the wheel lof his burning vessel, "held her nose against the bank until the last galoot was ashore," and beached the blazing Schoolcraft on Wolfe Island, about 17 miles from Kingston.

The crew of the Schoolcraft took to the lifeboats before the vessel was run on the beach and the captain alone remained with the ship. All are safe.

The steamer, which was totally destroyed, was on her way to Kingston from Montreal. She was a 1,000 ton vessel, owned by Morley Brothers of Midland, Ontario, and had been engaged in coal carrying between Erie, Pa., and Montreal.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS CAN'T TAKE IN MORE PUPILS

New Premises Will Have to Be Secured or Pupils Refused Admission

TEACHERS' SALARIES

To Be Left to Incoming Board—Teachers Apply for Board of Reference

There is an overcrowded condition in the public schools of this city, and parents may be asked to keep back beginners until the Fall of 1921. Superintendent White of the public schools has stated that the situation as now existing is an alarming one, and that the enrolment in the schools today is the highest in the history of the city. The primary rooms in some of the schools are over-crowded, and he stated there are only two courses to pursue, either refuse to take beginners or open new rooms. The School Board may decide to open the old Fire Hall on the corner of Eleventh Street and McTavish Avenue to accommodate some of the overflow.

In his report on school attendance Mr. White stated that the enrolment is the highest and the attendance the best of the year. The total enrolment is 2,621. In speaking of the overcrowding at some of the schools he said the primary rooms in the King George school are especially overcrowded. The opening of a new room there to accommodate new pupils is the only remedy and this will partly relieve the congestion and accommodate all new pupils that may come in January. In the Alexandra school the situation is different. There is no proper class room available, and Mr. White stated that he did not like using part of the Assembly Hall in the Winter for two reasons. The class is so far away in case of fire, and the assembly hall is used so much for recreation in the Winter. "At the same time there are some objections to refusing to take pupils," said the Superintendent.

May Fix Up Old Fire Hall

Discussing the over-crowding in the schools, Chairman Condell of the School Board asked Mr. White if it would be advisable to ask the parents [illegible] beginners [illegible]

RAILWAY BOARD WILL CONTINUE INQUIRY RE RATES

Following Meeting in March, Tour to Be Made of Canadian Cities

Ottawa, Dec. 14.—Following a sitting of the Board of Railway Commissioners at Ottawa, to be held some time in March, the Board will proceed with a general inquiry into the railway rates throughout Canada. This was decided at a conference this morning between the Board, representatives of the railways and other parties interested in the inquiry.

The itinerary of the meetings will be decided on at the general meeting in March but in the meantime the railways must furnish to interested parties any information bearing on the matter of railway rates which may be desired. Although not definitely decided, it was suggested that the Board open its Western sittings at Vancouver early in April, the Western sittings to be followed by sittings in the Maritime Provinces.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS, 1921

Approve Plan Which Ald. Coleman is to Present to City Council

GOVERNMENT POLICY

Resolution to Be Forwarded Asking Provincial Government to Adopt Policy

There was a small attendance at the meeting held under the auspices of the Children's Aid Society of Brandon to consider the provision of a shelter. When President Kenneth Campbell called the meeting to order in the Council Chamber at the City Hall Monday night there were not more than 25 persons present. Those who did turn out manifested great interest and the discussion lasted till after eleven o'clock. Two resolutions were approved and the executive elected for the coming year. The report by a special committee was read.

D. S. Hamilton, Superintendent of Neglected Children, explained that his department assisted in the formation of Children's Aid Societies, of which there are three in the province, and took up cases regarding neglected children when specially requested to do so. Regarding the policy which may be adopted by the province in dealing with a work that has recently aroused considerable public interest, he was unable to make any statement. Mrs. S. E. Clement told of the efforts that have been made towards bettering conditions and the proposals that have been made to the Government by the Child Welfare and other commissions.

Everybody present was united on the need for a children's shelter in Brandon and a long discussion followed submission by Alderman Coleman of the proposal that is to be laid before the City Council for the establishment of a shelter here. Under the plan outlined the city is expected to pay the rent for premists to be acquired, the Kiwanians supply [illegible] nishings, and the Salvation [illegible] staff. A plan [illegible] maintena[illegible] also suggested [illegible] includes [illegible] press [illegible] quate policy [illegible] the care of all neglected children [illegible] the province.

Discussion resulted in the withdrawal of the suggestion that a deputation be sent and a resolution along these lines will be forwarded to the Government.

After some discussion the resolution following was adopted. "That this meeting of the citizens of Brandon, interested in child welfare and called under the auspices of the Children's Aid Society, would welcome any reasonable proposal looking to the providing and placing at the service of the Children's Aid Society a Children's Shelter and that the officers of the Children's Aid Society confer with the City Council on the question at the earliest opportunity. Under present conditions this meeting would approve co-operation with the Salvation Army in the conduct of the proposed shelter, reserving to the Society in the future, any action it may deem necessary in fulfilment of its functions."

ENGLAND AWAITS RESULT OF PROBE OF CORK FIRES

Military Commission is Expected to Complete Thorough Investigation Today

INCENDIARY BOMBS

Which Are Said to Have Spread Conflagration Are Not Supplied Police

London, Dec. 14.—Investigation by a military commission, headed by Major General Strickland, commander of the military forces in Ireland, of the fires which swept the city of Cork on Saturday night and Sunday, was expected to be completed there today. The Commission's finding is awaited with keen interest by the people of London today. Rival elements have been doing their utmost to fix blame on the auxiliary police or the Irish extremists, respectively.

Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, speaking in the House last night, asserted that the auxiliary police did not start the fires, and pointed out that they were not equipped with incendiary bombs, which, news dispatches assert, were used to spread the flames in Cork.

The prospects of a truce in Ireland appears to have been blasted by the more recent events in that island, declared Sir Hamar, so far as representatives of English people and representatives of Irish are concerned.

NO REBATE ON [illegible] TAXES [illegible]

[illegible] DAY

[illegible] nts Are [illegible] Constitute [illegible] Record— [illegible] Added After [illegible] 1st

Wednesday is [illegible] last day on which a rebate will be [illegible] fered to ratepayers for the prompt payment of taxes. A three per cent rebate is the inducement held out to the ratepayers if they pay this year's taxes before Wednesday at five o'clock and it is expected that a large number of citizens will avail themselves of the opportunity. After Wednesday, no rebate will be offered on taxes paid and after January 1st a charge of three-quarters of one per cent per month will be made on all unpaid taxes.

Tax payments this year have just about constituted a record as far as prompt payment is concerned. According to figures given some time ago, the taxes collected this year show Brandon to be in a very healthy financial condition, and there is every prospect of a new collection figure for current taxes being made this year.

OLDER BOYS' CONFERENCE HELD AT CRANDALL, MAN.

One of the series of Older Boys' conferences being held throughout Manitoba took place at Crandall during the past week and when addresses were delivered by Rev. J. W. BAN ON WHEAT IMPORTS MIGHT BE DISASTROUS

Wall Street Journal Says Such Action Would Cost U. S. Fine Business

BUY CANADIAN WHEAT

And Throw it Into Ocean Would Be Better Plan, Paper Declares

New York, Dec. 14.—Discussing the proposed tariff on Canadian wheat, the Wall Street Journal today says:

"This is a time when farmers should fervently pray to be delivered from their legislative friends. Schemes to help them in Congress are multiplying as rapidly as the natural farm pests. One of the most menacing is a proposal to shut out imports of Canadian wheat."

In analyzing the trade between the two countries, the Journal says that Canada this year sold the United States $489,000,000 worth of goods, a small portion being wheat, but purchased goods to the value of $841,000,000, so by the year's end Canada will owe us nearly half a billion dollars.

"A customer who buys twice as much as she sells should be preserved. A tariff bar against any one commodity which Canada sends here to help pay its bills would, in effect, be notice that 'We will deal with you for cash only.' That means the loss of our second best customer. Better by far to purchase every bushel of Canada's wheat and throw it into the ocean than to commit such folly."

BRANDON JOINS SELECT CIRCLE OF CANADIAN CITIES

Which Have Complete Symphony Orchestras—Aims to Develop Taste for Pure Music

There are only four, or at the most, five, cities in the entire Dominion which possess a complete symphony orchestra, and to these must now be [illegible] the City of Brandon. The [illegible] Symphony Orchestra [illegible] not [illegible] com[illegible] has a complete instrum[illegible] and a most enthusiastic pe[illegible] under an internationally exp[illegible]enced symphony conductor.

So far there have been four meetings of the organization, and from the second rehearsal the membership has practically been complete, except for violins, for whom there is no limit as there is for wood wind and brass. At present there are sixteen violins, but the conductor wants twenty-four if at all possible.

The Brandon Symphony Orchestra aims to develop a taste for pure music in the city of Brandon; foster worthy music pupils by prize competitions, and to hold annually a music festival along the lines of the ancient Welsh Eisteddfod.

The officers of the Brandon Symphony Association are: President, Dr. C. P. Templeton; Vice-President, T. Van Someren; Secretary—Mr. W. T. Reed; Assistant—Miss Kelly; Business Manager—Mr. W. B. Delapoer; Executive — R. C. Macdonnell, chairman; V. B. Delapoer; Hobart Macpherson, Esq.; Mrs. T. Jones; Mr. W. T. Reed.

PHONE SERVICE TO DUBLIN CITY RESUMED TODAY

Eye Witnesses of Burning of Cork Tell of Prevalence of Plundering

London, Dec. 14.—Telephone service between England and Dublin, which was interrupted last night, was resumed this morning. The break gave rise to much speculation and some anxiety here. Dublin passed a quiet night, said a message to the Exchange Telegraph Company from that city this morning.

Cork, Dec. 14.—Eye-witnesses of the burning of Cork graphically relate how men, masked with scarfs, removed loot from the flame-enveloped shops. Some of them had leather bags overflowing with plunder and additional plunder slung over their shoulders. It is reported that a large number of the employes of the destroyed establishments, anticipating their destruction, insured their salaries with British companies.

It is said that looters removed from a jewelry store several large trophy cups which, being too heavy for them to carry, were thrown into a blazing structure standing in a thoroughfare.

KING CONSTANTINE STATES HE WILL NOT ABDICATE THE THRONE OF GREECE

Lucerne, Switzerland, Dec. 14. — Former King Constantine of Greece, has personally declared he would not abdicate the throne. Professor Georges Street, his confidential adviser, last week denied reports that Constantine might abdicate in favor of Crown Prince George, but Monday's utterance by Constantine was his first direct statement on the subject.

"I will not abdicate and never had any such intention," said Constantine in his farewell interview with the correspondents preliminary to his departure for Venice Tuesday, en route to Athens.

FORMER BRANDON WOMAN ADDRESSES CALGARY COUNCIL

Mrs. Mildred Cunningham, Western Director of Training for Settlement Board

Brandon people will be interested in the report of an address delivered before the members of the executive of the Local Council of Women in Calgary, by Mrs. Mildred Cunningham, Western Director of Training for the Soldier Settlement board. Mrs. Cunningham is very well known in this city and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. McKee, Eighteenth Street. The report of her address which appeared in the Calgary Herald states that Mrs. Cunningham explained the plan for holding short courses for the benfit of the wives of soldier-settlers of the district along the lines of those held last year in Saskatchewan. Part of the report follows:

Mrs. Cunningham said that the co-operation of the Local Council in this effort was earnestly desired, and she felt that the opportunity to make their English sisters, who were struggling with the problem of life in a new country under rather trying conditions, feel that the women of this province were interested in them enough to plan the means of helping them solve this problem, was one which should appeal to an organization representative of so many [illegible]

The speaker stated that [illegible] gram as outlined called for a week's course in such subjects as would enable the wife of the soldier-farmer to plan her home life and farm activities to get the best results and make her surroundings more interesting and congenial. It was hoped these courses might be held in such centres as Edmonton, Calgary, Grande Prairie, East River and Lethbridge. Calgary's date would be the week beginning January 14, and the plans would include the billeting of about 325 women over the week end and during the days when the lectures would be given bed and breakfast would have to be provided.

Alberta Has 5,500 Soldier-Settlers

In closing her brief address Mrs. Cunningham called attention to the fact that Alberta has the largest number of soldier-settlers of any province in the Dominion, there being something like 5,500 of them. The S. S. B. has secured the co-operation of Dr. Tory and the department of public health in the preparation of the program, for these courses, and all that is needed is the promise of the organized women of the city, through the Local Council, to look after the hospitality for those who [illegible] come to Calgary to take advantage of the training offered.

BRANDON POULTRY WINS

At the poultry show held at Calgary, Alta., last week, there was strong competition in all classes, but in spite of this fact the Peerless Products Company of this city secured the following prizes on their birds: First prize for pen Partridge Rocks, third for pullets; first cock and hen; third, light Brahmas; third, pen white Leghorns. Unfortunately one of their best birds died on the way to Calgary.

BRANDON FIRM HAS BIG DRESSED POULTRY BUSINESS

Receives an Average of a Thousand Live Birds Each Day

BRANDON A CENTRE

$30,000 Worth of Poultry Being Shipped to Western Points

Outside markets will tap the Brandon district for about $30,000 worth of turkeys and chickens for the Christmas and New Year's trade. As a poultry centre Brandon is second to none, and this city is now supplying the market demands of Winnipeg, Calgary, Vancouver and Victoria. It was authoritively stated this morning that over 50,000 pounds of turkeys and 30,000 pounds of chickens will be shipped from Brandon to Vancouver and Victoria within the next week.

Few people in Brandon realize the importance of this city as a poultry centre. A visit to the Tungeland Creamery Company, one of the largest poultry distributors in the West, reveals the fact that an average of 1,000 birds is being received daily. These birds are either turkeys or chickens. They are received from all points in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, and come to the city in large crates. They are killed and dressed here, and then shipped to outside markets.

The largest number received in one day by the Tungeland Creamery Company was 500 turkeys and 3,000 chickens. That Brandon farmers contribute largely to this market is shown by the fact that one farmer brought in one load of turkeys last week that netted him exactly $250 for the sleigh load. Over 1,000 turkeys were received from Brandon farmers last week and Mr. Tungeland the manager of the local concern states that he never saw the turkeys so large or so plentiful as this season. He confidently expects that altogether Brandon merchants and concerns will receive from November 1st to January 1st about 15,000 turkeys and 20,000 chickens from the Brandon district alone. This estimate does not include the large number of birds which [illegible] Saskatchewan points outside of this district.

The work of killing and dressing the poultry received here is one that requires a good deal of skill especially when the birds are received in such large quantities. Mr. Tungeland stated this morning that one of their expert men can kill and partly dress 600 chickens a day. This man is paid according to the number he kills and his pay cheque for last week amounted to over $100. As the work of killing and dressing turkeys requires more attention, the men draw higher wages for this labor. Four women assist the expert fowl killer, completing the dressing of the turkeys and chickens for the market.

No one is reported to have been hurt except a few deputies and spectators who were bruised in the scramble to leave the Chamber.

WINTER FAIR MAY ONLY BE A ONE DAY EXHIBITION

Live Stock Breeders to Fix Date Which May Be in March

ON EXHIBITION GROUNDS

The 1921 Fair Will Be Solely a Beef Cattle and Stallion Show

The Winter Fair in Brandon for 1921 will probably be a one-day exhibition. This was a statement given out this morning and the final decision as to the date of the Fair will be made this afternoon. The executive of the Live Stock breeders meet in this city this afternoon and the decision will be made by them. Not only will the Live Stock breeders make a decision as to the date of the Winter Fair, but they will also map out a program for their annual meeting here during the second week in January.

This would be in March, as Easter falls on March 27th next year. An announcement had been made by the Fair officials that the Winter Fair would be held in April. The exhibition will be only for one day, and will be solely a beef cattle and stallion show. The judging will all be done in one day, and a Wednesday or a Thursday will be chosen as the day for the big fat stock Fair. RETRENCHMENT IS THE PROGRAM

London, Dec. 10.—Members of the House of Commons had been warned Thursday that important developments were impending and accordingly mustered in strength in anticipation of a vigorous and exciting debate on the question of the hour, viz., economy in public expenditures.

A motion was submitted by George Lambert, Liberal M.P., which would have prohibited expenditure during the coming year in excess of £806,000,000, but the House showed itself unfavorable to hard and fast lines and approved an amendment urging the Government to reduce the cost of the public services to the utmost possible limit.

Right Hon. Austen Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, joined in the debate and announced that the Cabinet had resolved on reduction in the military estimates; on stopping schemes of social reform involving expenditure ;and on ceasing new construction for the navy until the lessons of the war had been definitely ascertained.

PLANS ALL PREPARED

Fifteen Minutes After Jail Delivery Men Were Strung Up

A mob of about 100 men, all wearing black masks entered the jail, overpowered the officers there, took their keys and removed the prisoners to waiting automobiles. Fifteen machines carried the party. They moved quickly down the street to the cemetery, three blocks beyond the city limits. Ropes having been prepared the men were taken from the machines and hanged to an oak tree inside the cemetery. Within fifteen minutes after being taken from the jail the three alleged gangsters and murderers had been lynched. The three men were ex-convicts. Boyd and Valento had been identified last Monday by three young women as members of the gang which attacked them at a house in one of the more densely settled sections in San Francisco.

KNOX CHURCH, SOURIS, CALLS REV. N. MacLEOD FORMERLY OF PORT ARTHUR

At a meeting of the members of Knox Church congregation, Souris, Man., held Thursday night, it was decided to extend a hearty and unanimous call to Rev. Norman MacLeod, of Englishtown, N.S., formerly of Port Arthur, to become the minister in charge of this church. Rev. W. Scott, the former minister, resigned about a month ago owing to ill health. Rev. J. George Miller of this city, Interim Moderator, presided at the meeting in Souris.

No candidates were heard by the congergation as such splendid recommendations were received concerning Mr. McLeod it was unanimously decided to ask him to take the charge. Rev. Mr. McLeod is a native of Scotland, who came to Canada several years ago and took up mission work in Saskatchewan. He is a graduate of Saskatoon University and Theological College and spent his Summers doing mission work in Western Canada. For two years he was assistant to the Rev. A. W. Macintosh in Saskatoon, who is now stationed at Port Arthur and it was largely through his reccommendations that the call was extended to Mr. McLeod. The latter was three years Pastor of Knox Church, Port Arthur, and some time ago resigned his charge to enter the Foreign field. This plan, however, had later to be relinquished owing to the health of Mrs. McLeod who, the doctors stated, could not stand the climate where they proposed to move. Latterly Mr. and Mrs. McLeod have been visiting at her home in Englishtown and sail next week for Scotland to visit Mr. McLeod's former home. Until their return to the West members of the Brandon Presbytery will supply the pulpit of Knox Church, Souris.

CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING OF CANADIAN WHEAT

Is Planned for 1921 Crop—Council of Agriculture Approves Plan

WORKING OUT DETAILS

Pool to Be Established on a Basis of 5-Year Contracts With Growers

The Council will establish a pool for marketing wheat on the basis of five-year contracts with producers. At the present time, it is said, the scheme will not go beyond wheat, but it is understood that the successful application of the principle to wheat selling might mean the broadening of the scheme to include other agricultural pjroducts.

Extra Staff of Workers Engaged to Care For Annual Rush

GET STAMPS NOW

Weigh Your Own Parcels and Avoid Inconvenience and Delay

If the people of Brandon and district will remember to write legibly, paste the stamps on their letters and put their name and address on the outside of the parcel so that in case of non-delivery it can be returned to the owner, much of the delay caused during the Christmas rush at the Post Office will be eliminated. The proper place for postage stamps is in the upper right hand corner of a parcel or letter and delay is often caused by the stamps not being pasted in the correct place. Customs declaratio[illegible] when [illegible] must also be prop[illegible]

Next Thursday several new workers will be added to the staff at the Post Office to assist in taking care of the Christmas ruch which, it is expected, will be unusually large this year. Extra stamp wickets will be opened and an extra helper will be on hand to weigh parcels. Citizens will save much of their time at a later date by purchasing an extra supply of stamps now and weighing their parcels at home, as, if this is done, it will only be necessary for the weigh man to check the weight. If this is done it should be necessary to remember that the registration charge is now ten cents, not five, as in previous years.

DRURY AND CRERAR ADDRESS 5000 PEOPLE WINNIPEG MEETING

Premier Drury of Ontario Declares Farmers Have Given Birth to New Movement, and to Try to Confine This Movement to Farmers Would Be Foolish—Crerar Denies That Advocates of New National Policy Are Seeking Class Domination

Winnipeg, Dec. 11.—Canada's' third political party, which is known as the National Progressive Party, had its inning in Winnipeg last night. In the same hall where recently were heard the Prime Minister of Canada and the leader of the Liberal opposition, five thousand people were addressed last evening by Hon. E. C. Drury, Prime Minister of Ontario, and Hon. T. A. Crerar, National Leader of the Progressives.

Mr. Drury was given a hearty reception. He proposed, he said, to discuss broader issues than Federal or Provincial issues, being the Genesis, progress and destiny of what he believed was to be a nw political movement in Canada. This movement was destined, he thought, to revolutionize the whole national life, to bring about more perfece democracy, and to achieve a condition in which the people would have confidence in their governing bodies.

Mr. Drury told of the conditions which brought about the election of his Government in Ontario on year ago. Since that time, he said, the Government had grown in strength and in the confidence of the people. When the Legislature was in session faction was reduced to a minimum, he said. The opposition was asked to participate in shaping legislation, and they did.

"I believe that ninety per cent. of the people of Canada desire fair and honest administration. They want to do away with favoritism and class privileges. I believe any Government which embodies these things can command the support of the people and [illegible] said Mr. Drury.

[illegible] ed out, that [illegible] party has broaden[illegible] representative of party. It has broaded to include a greater number of people who say our policy appeals to them and therefore they would support us. The Farmers have given birh to a new movement and to try to confine this movement to the Farmers would be foolish. The Farmers have been quietly studying the business of citizenship and this movement is the result."

The curse of Canada's public life, said Ontario's Premier, had been that men could be divided on passion and prejudice and not on reason. The forms of democracy were of very little use unless citizens would think. It had remained for the Farmers to break away, but it would be suicidal to restrict the movement to one class. It was no reflection on the people in the towns and cities that they had not taken the lead. The time has come, he said, when the people of Canada can safely take the Government out of the hands of professional politicians and risk it in the hands of ordinary good citizens. Citizenship is a better qualification for Government than political skill. The people want square-going men who will say what they mean, and do what they think it right."

Prediction on Election Result

Mr. Drury predicted that the people of Canada, when they had the chance, would do the same as had the people of Ontario. The elections had sent to Ottawa a houseful of good citizens whom they can trust and from whom they will expect more advance than in one hundred years from men schooled to win popular favor. The issue is a demand for honesty, sincerity and courage in Government. Mr. Drury praised the work of Hon. T. A. Crerar, and expressed his resentment at Hon. Arthur Meighen's alleged imputation that the Farmers were Bolshevikks.

After twelve months of government by men of this class, said the speaker, a Provincial loan had been largely over-subscribed.

Tribute to Drury Government

Winnipeg, Man., Dec. 11.—(By Canadian Press)—Mr. Crerar in opening said tribute to the success in Ontario of Mr. Drury's Government the course of which, he said, had been marked by a "sanity and steadiness in judgment" that had been at any rate unsurpassed by any previous government. He denied claims that the advocates of the new national policy were seeking class domination, declaring Ontario was the best answer to the charge. Politics must not be carried out on the lines of class, or sectional or racial or religious divisions.

"It is a natural thing, and a quite proper thing," said Mr. Crerar, "that both agriculture and labor shall seek to secure its adequate share of representation in parliament. But once a man has the responsibility of being a member of parliament he has taken upon himself the burden of the nations welfare. A man's duty does lie largely, to the people who elect him, and in a larger, and I venture to say in a more complete sense, his duty ies to the whole people of Canada."

Against Further Gratuity

Mr. Crerar spoke of the magnitude of the Dominion's financial obligations, and agreed that it was impossible to pay "a further gratuity to all our returned men." But it must never be said, he continued, of the people of Canada that they refused or neglected to give a full and adequate care to those who had returned "bruised and shattered and unable to make their own way in life." Whatever was needed from public revenues to meet this debt of honor must be provided.

"The Government of Canada," he said "has already embarked upon a plan of generous assistance to those of our returned men who wish to go upon the land and I am glad to bear my tribute of acknowledgment that the work the Government has done in this respect appears on the whole to have been well justified." It might well be that other returned men could be given assistance in re-establishing them in some line of useful work upon the land settlement principle, and their claims should be considered and further help might well be given where there was a fair prospect [illegible]

[illegible] that the provinces were [illegible] the public domain within their [illegible] daries was recognized at the tim[illegible] of Confederation and has been reco[illegible] nized since in the case of all t[illegible] other provinces, excepting the thr[illegible] Prairie Provinces.

"This discrimination should not co[illegible] tinue and this matter should be e[illegible] tled without further delay. Declares Protection Unsound

Mr. Crerar stated that the principle of protection in the fiscal policy is unsound, and that there should be a radical change in that policy. "To that end we stand for the free admission of agricultural implements, all flour milling, mining and sawmill machinery into Canada." Between protection and free trade, Mr. Crerar said he had no hesitation about the choice he would make, when discussing tariff.

Mr. Crerar said it was a safe guess that the Meighen Government's tariff policy would be based upon the needs of expediency rather than upon "any evidence adduced before this perambulating Government Tariff Commission." The protective system in the past had not developed self-reliance in Canadian manufacturers, he declared. Mr. Crerar pointed to the cream separator industry as one which had developed in Canada without protection, and asked why other implement manufacturers could not do as well.

The Western plains could produce a billion bushels of wheat as easily as 300,000,000, and the new national policy should be framed to encourage in the widest possible way the development of agricultural resources. Markets abroad must be secured. Continuation of protection meant stagnation of agriculture.

"Our eyes, are set on the goal of the elimination of protection as a principle in our fiscal policy," said Mr. Crerar. "We propose to get to that goal by stages that will make it as easy as possible for our industries to adjust themselves to it. During this period revenue will of course come from the tariff and there is no reason why customs duties cannot continue as in Great Britain to afford a very considerable portion of our revenue, and if need be, the principle of a counter-vailing excise tax can be applied, in this way compelling the home manufacturer who enjoys the protection to contribute his share to the national treasury." Manufacturers, he held, might be assisted by government-developed electrical power at cost.

WINTER FAIR TO BE HELD HERE MAR. 16 AND 17

Livestock Breeders Decide on Two Day Exhibition—Map Out Program

TO HOLD SALES OF STOCK

On Second Day of Show—Fat Calf Competition to Be a Feature

The Winter Fair of 1921 will be held here on Wednesday and Thursday, March 16th and 17th. This decision was reached at the meeting of the Live Stock Breeders executive held in Brandon on Friday afternoon, and which was attended by many prominent members of the executive from all parts of the Province. It had been stated on Friday that the Winter Fair would probably be a one day fair on account of the lack of accommodation for the spectators, but the Live Stock breeders decided that a two day exhibition would be necessary in order to carry out the program mapped out for the show.

The Winter Fair will be a stallion and cattle show entirely, with the Boys' Fat Calf competition being one of the features of the exhibition. Wednesday will be taken up in placing and grooming the animals for the judging which will take place on Thursday morning. On Thursday afternoon, it is expected that several live stock associations will hold sales at which much of the prize winning stock will be disposed of. The show, of course, will be held in the Provincial Exhibition grounds as announced some time ago. The burning of the old Winter Fair building some time ago makes this move imperative.

Breeders Arrange for Meetings.

Besides setting the dates for the Winter Fair, the executive of the Live Stock Breeders also mapped out a program for their annual meeting which will be held here during the second week of January, on dates coinciding with the United Farmers of Manitoba convention here. Many prominent speakers will be asked to come here and address the live stock breeders on many interesting and [illegible]eyl subjects.

[illegible]e executive also passed a reso[illegible] supporting the projec[illegible] the [illegible]air officials to go be[illegible] the [illegible] and Provincial Gov[illegible]ts [illegible]id for a new [illegible]ding. A [illegible] solution [illegible] to Mr. William McK[illegible]dy and [illegible] McKirdy in the death of their [illegible]ther, the late Mr. James McKirdy, was also passed by the e[illegible]ve.

RED CROW'S SQUAW DEPARTS FOR HAPPY HUNTING GROUND

Joins Famous Warrior and His First Three Wives—Severs Link With Past

Lethbridge, Dec. 11.—The death at the Galt hospital here, of the Indian squaw, Mrs. Red Crow, removes an association linked with the fame of Red Crow, a renowned warrior chief of the Blood Indians, whose name is still regarded with reverence in that it was passed into the Prince of Wales when, on his visit to Lethbridge, he was created a chief of the Bloods by the Indians at that time assembled in the city. The late Mrs. Crow was the fourth wife of the famous Red Crow, who died some 20 years ago.

Red Crow was the last of the fighting warriors of the Bloods, and made a name for himself in the part he took in the tribal feuds of the old days between the Bloods, the Crees and the Grovans of Montana.

Chief Red Crow was the first of the peace chiefs of the Bloods. He received his status and a medal from Queen Victoria. In spite of his many marriages he left no issue and his name is carried on by an adopted son who goes by the name of Frank Red Crow.

MANY DELEGATES THOUGHT BRITAIN RULED CANADA

London, Dec. 11.—The correspondent in Geneva of the Times remarks that the incidental mention by Hon. N. W. Rowell of the statesmen of the Mother Country have no voice in the management of the affairs of Canada produced the amusing effect of a bombshell upon many of the foreign delegates and journalists, who appear not to have had the faintest conception of the relations existing between Great Britain and the dominions.

The meeting of the Assembly of the League of Nations will, he concluded, not have been in vain if it does nothing else but correct some current misapprehensions regarding the British way of doing things.

LIBERAL LEADERS TO OPEN DEBATE ON IRISH POLICY

Government's Policy to Be Attacked Next Tuesday—Newspaper Comment Restrained

London, Dec. 11.—Debate on the Government's Irish policy is expected to be opened in the House by the Liberal leaders next Tuesday. Comment in this morning's newspapers relative to the Government's Irish policy was for the most part restrained. A feature of the Premier's speech that did not escape notice was the fact that he was, in effect, holding an olive branch in one hand and a swort in the other. It evoked some questioning, but generally speaking was not regarded as banishing hope of success.

The Commission, in a special report to the Senate, in response to a resolution ordering an inquiry, asserted that during 1916-18, inclusive, more than 200 concerns manufacturing farm implements had combined to fix prices higher than the increased cost of manufacture and materials, and that dealers co-operating, had made local agreements supporting the practices, all of which the Commission alleged to be in restraint of trade.

Dublin city and the county of Dublin although they have been the scenes of numerous affrays and much vandalism, were not included in the district which is placed under Martial Law, but Lloyd George told the House of Commons that if conditions should warrant it, the interdicted area would be extended.

Under the proclamation, persons who without authority, possess arms or uniforms, must surrender them within a certain period or lay themselves liable to be held for trial by Court Martial and possibly suffer the death penalty.

CRERAR IS LEADER

Hon. T. A. Crerar has been formally appointed leader of the Farmers' Parliamentary group and the new national organization. This group has been officially recognized as the exponent of the "New National Policy." Bestowal of these honors was made by the Canadian Council of Agriculture, whose child the new national policy is.

Recognition of Mr. Crerar as leader of the new political movement is a logical choice. Mr. Crerar has long been identified with the Western sponsors of the new policy and the agencies which brought it into being. In some quarters it is said that the movement has been directed and fostered by him. In any event his choice as leader of a movement which owes so much of its origin and strength to the Canadian West, is not surprising.

Premier Drury of Ontario, would appear to be the only other possible choice, and although he has, especially of late, been well press agented, his claims to the leadership were not comparable to those of Mr. Crerar.

Official recognition of Mr. Crerar as leader, a position he has virtually occupied up to this time, is an important event in Canadian politics. It confirms him in the leadership of the Parliamentary group, and increases the chances of a Western Canadian occupying the position of Premier of Canada after the next election.

BRITISH SYSTEM BEST

On Tuesday, November 2nd, the people of the United States of America voted for President, for members of the House of Representatives, the United States Senate, and various other positions. This is almost six weeks ago, and although the Democratic party was overwhelmingly defeated at the polls, yet President Wilson is still the executive head of the United States and a Democratic Congress is in control, and will until March 4th. This means that [illegible] defeated party is governing the country and taking responsibility for policies that were presumably rejected by the people. President Wilson has agreed to be a mediator in Armenia, and Secretary of State Colby has taken on himself to protest certain policies in Mesopotamia.

Compare this system in democratic America, to the British system. Under the British system, as soon as a party loses the confidence of the people either through defeat in election, or an adverse vote in Parliament, it abdicates office and hands over the reigns to the successful party.

DANGEROUS ADVENTURING

Here's a pair of married folks that are having a glorious time. They "belong" in a lively crowd, and there is something doing all the time. There is no chance for life to get dull in this crowd, for there are always dinners, dances, parties, trips to keep it lively.

And this particular couple are keeping it up with the gayest of them all. They like it. They have no taste for the slippers and fireside life. An evening at home alone together finds them resourceless, bored, yawning and inclined to be irritable and even contentious.

Reading, study, religion—these are stale, flat and tasteless. Charity they "can't afford." Art and music are all right as social functions, but they yield no delights to minds toughened by the hot spices of gay living.

But there is, nevertheless, a specter in the background, a skeleton in the closet—finances. The income of this couple is far below the average of the crowd they train with, though there are a few others in the same situation. One reason a quiet evening alone is distasteful is that it is likely to bring up thoughts of unpaid bills, of credit strained to the breaking point, of an income that can't be stretched out to the demands of the life they are living. Perhaps there is—or was—a surplus upon which they have been drawing, and if so that is one of the ghosts that haunt their few thoughtful moments—the thought of the way that surplus has shrunk, dwindled, withered away.

The man of the house might, by working harder, make more money. But that would mean time taken out of playtime, and he might lose caste by it. Both might, it is true, reduce a little here and there and, cutting their garment according to their cloth, get by and still have a pretty good time. But that would never do. Nobody in that crowd [illegible] dreamed of such a thing. To be sure, there are others in the city who have not the money to spend on the lavish scale of this crowd. True, he may be mistaken about that. There may be many, even in this crowd, capable of respecting economic sense, and it may be that if this couple frankly stopped where the limits of their income bade them stop, their companions would think even more of them than they do.

But they dare not risk it. They have established themselves on a different scale and they fear to change. And possibly their fears are justified, too; perhaps if the death's head of economy should be reared in that gay circle those who did it would be frowned upon and shunned.

But it's a pretty different situation this couple are in, just the same. Strive to banish the thought though they may, it is there in the background all the time, stealing from them their pleasure, robbing their nights of rest—the thought that it can't keep up indefinitely, and that presently the breaking point will be reached.

People like that are in a dangerous way. They are on a slippery slide that leads to hell—the hell that is right here, within you if you let it grow there, just as heaven is right here and within you if you cultivate it. Every day somebody, his limit reached, falls out of that gay circle to be heard of no more. Theft, defalcation, bankruptcy, a betrayed trust, cheated creditors, misery and vain regrets weave their doom and haunt their future lives.

And, more rarely, somebody comes to his senses, quits the foolish pursuit he can't afford, turns to a simpler way of living that fit his income, and lives within his means.

GROWN UP TO THE TRAINER

The City of Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan, has only one daily newspaper. The Moose Jaw Daily News has disappeared in an amalgamation with the Evening Times. In an announcement made by the publishers the reason for the disappearance of the News is attributed to increased costs of everything which enters into the production of a newspaper.

There was a time in the history of the Canadian West when newspapers were springing up like mushrooms all over the prairies. This was during the days when the country was being exploited by its supposedly best citizens, when every railway junction was regarded as a coming metropolis, when a newspaper was the [illegible] of the promoters hope. With the advance of these balmy breezes of business adversity, newspapers disappeared almost as fast as they had previously blossomed. There were three daily papers in Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, Edmonton, and Brandon. Other cities such as Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Moose Jaw, Saskatoon, boasted two daily papers, and then there were places like Battleford, Swift Current and a flock of others, all proud of the daily paper which bloomed therein. Not one of these cities now boasts three daily papers. In the most of the cities where there were two papers, there is but one today, and daily papers have disappeared entirely from other centres.

So great a change in the newspaper situation was not brought about without a struggle. In all centres shifts of one sort or another were resorted to. Most of these served only to stave off the day of reckoning. It is only a short time since Winnipeg lost one of its old established newspapers and now Moose Jaw enters the one paper class.

Rising costs tell the story. Newspapers, no more than churches can exist without support, the measure of support in each case enlarging or curtailing the service rendered and the influence enjoyed. A newspaper must pay its way or it will disappear and the prairies are peopled with the ghosts of more than buffaloes.

A RE-ALIGNMENT

Dame Rumor has been busy with the name of Louis Joseph Gauthier, K.C., member for St. Hyacinthe-Rouville, Quebec, in the Dominion Parliament. Mr. Gauthier was elected on the Liberal ticket, as were all the members from Quebec with the exception of two ministers and Sir Herbert Ames. It has been said that, although he was elected as an opponent of the Union Government, Mr. Gauthier is seriously considering a Cabinet portfolio in the Meighen Government, successors to the Union Government. The reason for the change is the age old one that "the world do move." Since the 1917 election there has been a realignment of political factions. Old issues are dead and new ones are to the fore. Mr. Louis Joseph Gauthier is a protectionist and recent utterances by Mackenzie King gives protectionists as well as free traders a great deal to think about. It is difficult to know where the Liberal party, as led by that young man, stands on the tariff issue.

The future of Canadian industries is a matter for serious concern for [illegible] a food the production of which is [illegible] consumption of which is [illegible] at a stage very far indeed from [illegible] final limit of development. We [illegible] both produce more milk per cow and consume a great deal more per human inhabitant before exhausting the dairy as an element of expansion in our national food supply.

In order to do this, experts advise more agricultural Fairs with greater emphasis on the dairy industry, more dairy shows, more testing of cows, better feeding and wiser feeding. The prescription for increasing the consumption might have to include some observations on price. At any rate there is opend up here a little vista of possible progress.

GERMAN HOPES

It is characteristic of Germany that it should see fresh opportunities for international mischief in the withdrawal of the Argentine delegation from the Assembly of the League of Nations. The Argentine decision, which fortunately may not be final, is hailed with enthusiasm in Berlin, which sends out the crazy proposal that the republics of North and South America should form a separate league "in defence of the Monroe doctrine" and that Germany should be admitted to membership. The German hope underlying this suggestion is that the United States may be persuaded to withdraw definitely from all participation in European affairs, or may adopt a hostile attitude toward Great Britain, France and Italy. Friction between Japan and the United States is likewise regarded in Berlin as a hopeful sign from the German standpoint.

German misunderstanding of the British Empire has not been removed by the war says an exchange. The Germans built largely upon the belief that Canada and other overseas Dominions would declare their independence when the war began, or, at least, that they would not give their active support to the Allies. What actually happened should have opened German eyes to the nature of the British Empire, to its unity as well as its strength. But now Berlin is expressing the belief that if an American league of nations could be set up, embracing the United States and South American countries, Canada would be likely to join it. The Germans learn slowly. Fortunately their ability to make mischief is less than their desire to do so.

The withdrawal of the Argentine delegation will give temporary assistance to out and out enemies of the league in the United States, but public sentiment there will strongly resent the idea that the people of the Western Hemisphere should be formed into a group hostile to all the European countries excepting Germany, and thus serve Germany's purposes at the expense of a new war. Apparently most of the [illegible] Central American states [illegible]

CHIEF OF STAFF TOURS WEST

For the purpose of inspecting military establishments in Western Canada, Major General J. A. McBrien, Chief of General Staff at Ottawa, is this week commencing a tour of Western Provinces.

PRINCE HOPES TO SEE CLOSER TIES BRITISH EMPIRE

Unbreakable Bond of Fellowship Between Dominions and Motherland

London, Dec. 9.—"A purely business method of emigration is no good nowadays. What is wanted is to plan human co-operation." In these words the Prince of Wales in the city of London summed up his impressions of his recent tour of the Dominions. He added that the longer he lives the more he hopes to see the ties that unite the Mother Country and the dominions steadily strengthen and multiply until the bond of fellowship is unbreakable.

The Prince's final words were:

"The dominions want population. We have population to spare, but a purely business method of emigration is no good nowadays. Flaming prospectuses will not draw emigration steadily from this country. What is wanted is to plan human co-operation. We should not feel that we are populating places that will be lost to us and they, on their side, should welcome our immigrants as friends and comrades and make them feel, above all, that they are at home and really wanted there. There is no worse type of immigrant than the immigrant who fails; there is no better advertisement than immigrants who succeed.

"Success depends upon the way and spirit in which both sides tackle the subject. British population is a very valuable thing, and we must see to it that it remains all British. The closer and more human the understanding, the easier becomes the movement of man, and, I may add, of capital, which the Empire requires. We want to make that understanding wider and deeper, so that it is never swamped with jealousy, either local or otherwise. I hope the longer I live, the more I may see the ties that unite them multiplied until the bond of fellowship which unites us is unbreakable."

REFLECTIONS ON WHEAT POOL

HON. C. A. DUNNING,
Provincial treasurer of Saskatchewan, declared that a farmers move to form a wheat pool would not work out, until farmers had 75 per cent of the wheat acreage tied up in contracts.

MASSEY-HARRIS CO. TO OPEN HERE ON JANUARY 1ST

Permission Granted for Use of Building for United Farmers' Convention

THE POULTRY SHOW

Will Have to Find New Quarters in Which to Hold Manitoba Exhibition

Word has been received in the city this morning that the Massey-Harris Company Limited will take over the Gordon MacKay building on January 1st. On that date they will commence to get the big building ready for occupancy, and it is possible that offices will be opened then. The Masey-Harris people wired Alderman A. L. Hall today that one floor of the building could be used by the United Farmers of Manitoba for their convention. The plans of the City Council therefore in making arrangements for the convention in the Gordon Mackay building will not be interfered with.

The Brandon Poultry Association will have to seek other quarters for holding the Provincial show. It was planned to hold the show in the Gordon Mackay building, and it was expected that permission would be secured. The plans of the Massey-Harris people to take over their premises at an earlier date, will throw the Poultry Association out of a show building. The big fire at the Arena destroyed the coops, equipment and home of the Poultry Association, and the problem of housing the show is again before the Association. It is probable that another building will be secured to house the exhibition, and that an announcement to this effect will come from the Poultry Association at a later date.

PROVINCIAL ESTIMATES CUT

Deputy Ministers Notified That Their Departments Must Be Efficient

Winnipeg, Dec. 14.—Large reductions in provincial estimates have been ordered by the Cabinet, acc[illegible] the Parliamentary buildings. F[illegible] ing a lengthy discussion of mo[illegible] matters the Cabinet issued [illegible] uctions to all departments to cur[illegible] tail every unnecessary expenditure.

Notices were forwarded to all deputy ministers informing them that they must certify that every member of their department is absolutely necessary to carry on efficiently.

The fiscal Government year was brought to a close November 30. All departments are now busy clearing up the year's business and preparing estimates for 1921.

Estimated expenditures for the Government for the fiscal year of 1920 totalled $10,100,000. Two months before the closing of the Government year the Cabinet issued an order to decrease expenditures. While a number of the departments over-extended their appropriations inquiries made at the Parliament buildings gave the information that the Government expenditures for 1920 will not exceed $10,000,000 from Consolidated revenue account.

Authorities at the Legislature buildings declare that it will be impossible to lower estimates by more than five or ten per cent. owing to ever increasing cost of running Government business.

Several departments, such as the Mothers' Allowance Commission have given notice that they will have to double their estimates owing to demands made upon them by the public.

Expenditures from capital account during 1920 will exceed $10,000,000. This money was spent for carrying out the Government's building and good roads program and extensions to the telephone system.

WINNIPEG BANK CLERK FOUND GUILTY OF THEFT

Sentenced to Three Months Jail —Magistrate Says Salary Inadequate

Winnipeg, Dec. 14.—Chas. W. Johnson, charged with the theft of $1,600 from the Sterling Bank, where he was employed as a junior clerk, changed a plea of not guilty to one of guilty in police court Monday and was sentenced to three months in jail, the sentence to start from the time of his arrest. He has already served a month.

In passing sentence, the magistrate, Sir Hugh John Macdonald, said: "In my opinion, the salary paid this man was inadequate."

According to the information given in court, Johnson, who worked next to the teller's cage, shoved a package of bills to the floor with a lead pencil and then was able to pull them out of the cage, through a small space between the cage and the floor. He used the money to pay debts and only $105

Goodens' "MEN'S WEAR"

SHOULD REMOVE CATTLE EMBARGO DECLARES DRURY

Ontario Premier and Hon. Duncan Marshall Speak at Guelph Banquet

WHEN BRITAIN AWAKES

To the Fact That Embargo is Contributing Factor to High Prices it Will Go

Montreal, Que., Dec. 8.—Just returned from a visit to England, Duncan A. Campbell of this city one of the best known Canadian cattle men, is back with the impresssion that the cattle embargo against Canada is likely to remain in force until such time as people in the United Kingdom realized that it is one of the contributing factors to the high prices of meat and he is of the opinion that the awakening is due shortly in this respect.

At Guelph Winter Fair

Guelph, Ont., Dec. 8. — Premier Drury, Hon. Manning Doherty, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario, and Hon. Duncan Marshall, Minister of Agriculture for Alberta, were the chief speakers at the noon luncheon given Tuesday by the city to the breeders and principal visitors at the Winter Fair. All of them congratulated the directors on the success of the fair and emphasis was placed on the efforts that are being put forth to get Great Britain to lift the embargo against Canadian cattle.

Premier Drury pointed out that this had been put on under the false pretences and he did not think it fair that good Canadian cattle should be so treated. He and Hon. Manning Doherty have high hopes for the success of their efforts to have the embargo removed.

Hon. Duncan Marshall referred to the high prices now prevailing. Conditions on the farms were very serious at the present time, he said, and the farmer was the one who was being hit first. He got it both coming and going.

There were many things needed, Mr. Marshall said, and one was better training and better education. The farmers of the future must be 10 per cent efficient. Both the hen and the dairy cow were gradually coming into their own, as they should. He was of the opinion that during the coming year the livestock industry would play a mor[illegible] portant [illegible] referred to the cattle embargo, and was glad, he said, that steps were being taken to have it removed.

He suggested that the Dominion Parliament be asked to pass a resolution that this embargo be removed, as this thing has been going on too long. He said he felt that if such action were taken, good results would at once follow.

Drury May Go To England

Premier Drury dealt with the recent visit of Hon. Mr. Doherty to England and the efforts being made by the Ontario Government to persuade the British Government to lift the embargo against Canadian cattle. He declared that if American markets were not to be any longer accessible to Canada—which he did not believe, as he thought the American people had more sense—Canadians must look to the British markets. "Hon. Mr. Doherty went to England recently to see about our entry to the markets of Great Britain and he may have to go aagin," said the Premier. "It may be necessary, indeed, that I go with him. If it is necessary I shall go, for we are determined to get justice in this matter."

English People in Ignorance

The people of England, he believes were in total ignorance of the real state of ffairs, and they were being kept in ignorance by certain interested factions in the Old Country. His Government had found that Canada could gain little from the accepted practices of diplomatic exchanges and could hope for no consideration from the bureaucracy centered in the British Department of Agriculture.

"We think that there is a new and better way, and that is the way we are taking," the Premier declared. "The embargo was imposed upon a pretext and it is an unthinkable thing that Canada should suffer from an embargo established upon a pretext. For that reason we are determined to get results and, if necessary I myself shall accompany the minister of agriculture on a trip to the British Isles."

POLITICAL STRIKE WOULD NOT AFFECT QUEBEC

Repeal of excess profits taxes, elimination of certain so-called luxury taxes, and the readjustment of rates in the higher groups of income taxes is proposed.

NOMINATIONS IN SEVERAL NEAR-BY MUNICIPALITIES

Nominations in Oakland Municipality on Tuesday resulted in Mr. P. Couling being returned by acclamation as Reeve of the Municipality. Councillor Martin, who has represented Ward 3 on the Council for several years, is retiring, and there will be a contest in this ward between P. R. Dolly and Geo. Donaldson. C. E. Jackson was nominated as representative of Ward 4 and F. Hutchinson as representative of Ward 6 on the Council. As there was no opposition these two men were elected by acclamation.

Councillor A. E. Rome, who is leaving the municipality to reside in Winnipeg, wished to resign at the time of nomination on Tuesday. His resignation was not accepted, however, as the ratepayers had not had sufficient notification of his intentions. His resignation will be dealt with at the next meeting of the Council on December 10th and, after the fact that he has resigned is advertised according to the Act the nomination of someone to succeed him will take place. If there is more than one person nominated for this office it will probably mean an election contest toward the end of December after the general election day, December 21st, when the contest in Ward 3 will be settled and the Hail Insurance Bylaw voted upon.

Adjacent Municipalities

Many Brandon people will be interested in the results given below of nominations for Reeve and Councillors in various districts near Brandon.

FORMER GERMAN SPY AND DESERTER CAUGHT BY POLICE

Tells Sensational Story—Wac Captain in U.S. Army—Later Deserted

New York Dec. 8.—Sensational disclosures of his mission to the United States as a spy for the German Government were given in an alleged confession of John Willers, formerly captain in Company 1, 48th U.S. Infantry, alleged thief and deserter, after his arrest here Tuesday night, charged with absconding with $5,000 of his companys funds on December 19,1918.

Willers, the police said, recited in brazen fashion how he was sent to the U.S. as one of 300 cadets trained in the art of espionage to enlist in the U.S. army.

On his arrival in the U.S. Willers went to Albany, where he enlisted, he said, as a private. His military aptitude won him rapid promotion, and his knowledge of English and his ability to "speak like an American" enabled him to get a commission.

Willers said he had never been sent across the ocean, and while in the U.S. his instructions were "to act the part of a loyal American" and to take no action until he reached the war zone.

"What was your plan after reaching the other side?"

"I could lead the company to slaughter," the police say he replied.

"You also would be killed," he was reminded.

"What of that? Thousands of better men died that way."

While being questioned at the police station, the police say, Willers remarked that they would be surprised if they knew "the number of officials at Washington during the war who were employed by Germany as spies."

"Are they still there?" he was asked.

"That I don't know," he is said to have answered. "But there were many of them during the war."

The 48th Infantry was still at Camp Sevier when the armistice was signed, and, his usefulness as a spy at an end, Willers decided to become a deserter and to take the funds of his company, he told the police.

The deserter then went to Chicago, where, about a year ago, he married a young woman named [illegible] Since then he has roamed around the country, trying to get back [illegible]

SLAUGHTER TWO CHOICE PIGS BELONGING TO THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR

Quebec, Dec. 8.—There was consternation Tuesday among the farm hands at the official residence of the Lieutenant-Governor when the discovery was made that during the night a bold intruder had broken into the piggery, and, selecting two of the choicest milk-fed porkers, had unceremoniously slaughtered them and hauled the two pigs on a sleigh to his home, where he stored them away for the holiday season.

When he was later confronted with the theft, he calmly dismissed the incident by saying: "The pigs belong to the Province of Quebec. I am as much entitled to them as anyone else."

So far no action has been taken against the man.

ROWELL FEARS THAT EUROPE WILL DOMINATE

By the Formation of Technical Organizations to Do the League's Work

Geneva, Dec. 8.—Plans proposed for the formation of technical organizations of the League of Nations dealing with finance, health and transportation, were sharply attacked at today's session of the League's assembly by Newton Wesley Rowell of the Canadian delegation. These plans the Canadian representative contended, tended to take such organizations out of the hands of the Assembly, which should control them and throw them under the influence of Europe through the impossibility of non-European nations sending their best men to three or four conferences annually.

"Fifty thousand Canadian soldiers under the sod in Europe is the price Canada has paid for European statesmanship which drenched the continent in blood," Rowell exclaimed.

Lord Robert Cecil said he thought Rowell was mistaken in thinking that such organizations would fall under the control of Europe. All the world must co-operate in all the League's work, he declared.

SPLENDID ARRAY OF BEEF CATTLE

[illegible] from Alberta, Bet[illegible] shown at Guelph [illegible] Fr[illegible] from Man[illegible]

Guelph, Dec. 8. — The Canadian Western provinces are represented at the Provincial Winter Fair by a splended array of high class beef cattle from Alberta. These cattle came from the International show at Chicago, and were the centre of attraction. Ontario exhibitors are closely looking them over to see how they will compare with the entries from this province.

They are a formidable looking lot, comprising seven beautiful Herefords and some Shorthorns, and will take some beating.

In Herefords, the University of Alberta has a splendid entry. The entries are "Denn Perfection," "Alberta Boy," "Greenwood Gay Lad II," "Bonnie Lad 30th," "Alberta Boy II," "Fairfax King," and "Davidson Dare." In Aberdeen Angus the University shows three head of as fine animals as anyone would wish to see in the ring.

There are no entries from Saskatchewan or Manitoba.

Alexander, Dec. 8.—Rev. Mr. Goodeve, of Winnipeg, conducted divine worship in the Church of England on Sunday evening.

The home of Rev. and Mrs. Hislop Dickson was brightened by the arrival of a baby girl on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 5th.

A girl was also born to Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Curtis on Friday, Dec. 3.

Alexander village has a good number of farmers enjoying the village life for the Winter months. They will be provided with healthy occupation just as soon as the curling rink can be put in shape.

Nominations for Whitehead municipality passed off quietly, acclamations being the order of the day. The Reeve, Mr. Dan Roberts, was returned by acclamation, also the councillors for Wards 3 and 5, Mr. Robert Mainland and Mr. Ed. Grierson. In Ward 2 Mr. Gerow left the municipal field and Mr. George Davidson was chosen as his successor.

A large gathering was present in McIlquham's Hall to hear the account of the year's work as reported by the Reeve and councillors. Good roads and Hail Insurance came in for considerable discussion and meetings will be held in various parts of the municipality to further consider these matters.

JAIL BREAKER TO BE BROUGHT BACK FOR TRIAL

Singsheim, Who Made Sensational Escape From Jail Here, Caught at Prince Albert

W. Singsheim, who broke jail here in May, 1918, has been captured in Prince Albert and will be brought back to Brandon by a police officer to stand his trial. Singsheim has a long police record and is one of the most troublesome charges the jail authorities have had to handle both in the United States and Canada. He has broken jail in many States and at least twice in Canada but has now been apprehended in Prince Albert, and will be brought here.

It was May 2, 1918, that Singsheim and a fellow prisoner named Gilkinson made a sensational escape from the Brandon jail. They used an old spoon to pick the lock of their cell, cut a hole through the roof of the jail building, calmly lifted the keys of the place and made their getaway. They stole an auto and made for the border, hiding the car in a bush about forty miles from Brandon. Their liberty was cut short however for they were caught in North Dakota, and sentenced to a term there for robbery. Before going to jail they told the Brandon authorities where the keys of the jail could be found, and also the place where the auto was hidden.

Their proficiency at jail breaking was soon apparent in North Dakota, for they made a sensational escape there, and have remained at large since that time. Singsheim drifted back to Canada and the authorities have now succeeded in getting him at Prince Albert. His trial in Brandon should attract widespread interest, as he is one of the most dangerous characters the police have ever had to deal with.

JAMES McKIRDY DROPPED DEAD AT HIS FARM HOME NEAR NAPINKA, TUESDAY

James McKirdy, for many years one of the best livestock judges in the West, dropped dead Tuesday on his farm in the Napinka district. The late Mr. McKirdy, who was fifty years of age, came to the Napinka district about twenty-five years ago and with his brother, Wm. McKirdy had one of the best live stock farms in the province. Their sister kept house for them. About two years ago he hurt his side while plowing and later was operated upon. Since then he had not been in the best of health. His brother, Wm. McKirdy, has been judging live stock at the International Show, Chicago, Ill., and afterwards judging Clydesdales at Guelph, being expected home Thursday night. The late Mr. McKirdy had been out to the barn watering stock and on his way to the house dropped dead. The funeral will take place Saturday afternoon at two o'clock from the former home of the deceased in the Napinka district.

JUDGE GRANTS INJUNCTION PROHIBITING IMPORTATION OF BRITISH AIRCRAFT

New York, Dec. 8.—Federal Judge Julius M. Meyer has granted an injunction restraining the Aircraft Disposal Company, Limited, Handley-Page, Limited, and their representatives here, from importing into the United States 2,365 British airplanes and 34,000 motors. These machines from part of a lot valued at $500,000,000 turned over to the Aircraft Disposal Company at one per cent. of their cost for sale here through Handley-Page.

The restraining order was issued on application of the Wright Aeronautical Corporation, which, asserting the surplus British war planes were infringements of Wright patents, declared that if they were allowed to enter the United States the new industry here would be ruined.

U.S. MAY BE ASKED TO PUT AN END TO VALERA'S EFFORTS

London, Dec. 8. — The British Government is considering whether it will request the United States Government, in the interests of Anglo-American friendship, to take official notice of the anti-British activities in the United States of Professor Eamnon de Valera, "President of the Irish Republic," according to a statement made today by Andrew Bonar Law in the House of Commons in response to questions.

DRAGMAN'S BANQUET A SPLENDID AFFAIR PREMIER IN ATTENDANCE

D. J. Miller, District Engineer of Good Roads work, J. W. Baddock, Assistant District Engineer, and G. J. Nearing, Vice-President of the Manitoba Motor League, all of this city, attended the Dragmen's Banquet given by the Municipality of Sifton in Cameron Hall, Oak Lake, Tuesday evening. During the evening the men of Sifton Municipality who had won the prizes in the earth and gravel classes during the recent competition in road-making and being held throughout Manitoba, received their rewards. The presentation of the Provincial Cup for the best dragged gravel road in the province was also made to the winner, Mr. Joseph McGee, of Griswold, who did splendid work in that section. About a dozen cash prizes were presented to the winners in the Municipal Dragging Competition. Reeve Robinson, M.L.A. of Sifton, presented the awards.

Short addresses were given after the banquet by Premier Norris, Mayor Jack of Oak Lake, Reeve Morrison of Cameron Municipality, Reeve F. G. Gould of Woodworth Municipality, A. C. Emmett, Secretary-Treasurer of the Manitoba Motor League, and the representatives from Brandon. Members of Sifton Council and various of its dragmen were also present and spoke during the evening. All speakers dwelt on the need for better roads and some of the difficulties to be overcome were also mentioned. That there is a little friendly rivalry between the various municipalities was evident during some of the addresses. Reeve Gould, of Woodworth, the Municipality that secured the Provincial Shield for the best dragged road in the earth class, was particularly optimistic in his address and predicted that next year the Provincial Cup would be secured by his municipality.

CRERAR FORMALLY CHOSEN LEADER OF NEW ORGANIZATION

Farmers' Parliamentary Group Recognized as Official Exponent of New Policy

CO-ORDINATING COMMITTEE

To Meet With Hon. T. A. Crerar to Build Political Machine

Winnipeg, Dec. 8.—Hon. T. A. Crerar today was formally recognized by the Canadian Council of Agriculture as the National leader o fthe New National political organization and as leader of the Farmers' Parliamentary group, and that group in turn was recognized to be the official exponent of the "new national policy." The following resolution was adopted by the Council at this morning's session: "That the Council of Agriculture recognizes the third Parliamentary group in the House of Commons as the present Parliamentary exponents of the new National Policy and gives its full endorsation to their action in choosing as their leader the Hon. T. A. Crerar, and commends him as national leader to all Provincial organizations."

It was decided also that there should be a co-ordinating committee to consist of two representatives from each Provincial political organization with Mr. Crerar at the head. This committee will consult with the National leader in an advisory capacity and will seek to co-ordinate the political efforts of the party throughout the Dominion. The announcement of the Council's political action was made at the close of the session by Norman Lambert, Secretary of the Council.

CANADIAN WHEAT FINDS ITS WAY TO U.S. MARKETS

Ottawa, Dec. 8. — The heavy movement of wheat from Fort William to the United States has occasioned no surprise to Government officials here in view of the approaching close of navigation, the possibility of a duty being imposed upon Canadian wheat by the United States and the fact that the wheat movement this year has been largely an over-the-border movement. This has been largely because the Allied Governments have not [illegible] and the British market has absorbed but little of the Canadian product up to the present time.

CITY EXPECTS BIG SUM FROM LIQUOR FINES

May Receive $7,000 This Year—Claim Made to Attorney-General

The City of Brandon expects to realize close on to $7,000 from fines under the Manitoba Temperance Act, for 1920. By a recent Order-in-Council, all cities, towns and municipalities will receive one-half of the fines under the Manitoba Temperance Act, where the fines are the direct result of the activities of local police. As the fines in the Brandon police court for 1920 total somewhere in the neighborhood of $15,000, the City expects to realize nearly one-half of this amount. Only a few convictions secured in the police court here were the work of the Provincial authorities.

Since the new Order-in-Council came into effect, the City has had a list made of the fines under the Manitoba Temperance Act, and a claim has now been made to the Attorney-General for the return of some $7,000. It is expected that the amount will be refunded very shortly.

QUIET RESTORED IN WHAT IS LEFT OF THE CITY OF CORK, IRELAND

More Than 300 Buildings Destroyed Including City Hall, Carnegie Library and Market Place—Damage Estimated at Between Two and Three Millions Sterling—Shooting at Military From Ambush Was the Start—Loss of Life a Matter of Conjecture—Military Now in Complete Control

London, Dec. 13.—Dispatches reaching London today say that Cork is quiet, and an order has been given the regular soldiers to shoot looters on sight. Damaged premises have been plundered in some instances, it is said, but the military is in absolute control at present. Rumore relative to loss of life are conflicting and are for the most part ,vague and conjectural.

More Than 300 Buildings Destroyed

Cork, Dec. 13.—More than three hundred buildings are said to have been destroyed in fires, which yesterday laid waste a large part of this city. Most of the fires have been extinguished, but there are occasional sporadic outbreaks of flames.

A military patrol was ambushed at Cloyne, seven miles east of Queenstown yesterday. Attackers threw bombs from two houses, but were defeated. Two of the attackers were killed, several wounded and two captured. One soldier was wounded. The houses from which the bombs were thrown were burned.

Fires Under Control Sunday Night

Dublin, Dec. 13.—At six o'clock last evening the fires at Cork were reported under control. The official report says the City Hall, Carnegie Library, Market Place and eighteen other buildings were destroyed at that time.

Military Party Ambushed

Dublin, Dec. 13.—Several large sections of Cork were devastated by fire Saturday night and Sunday. The conflagration followed the shooting from ambush of a military party Saturday.

On the South bank of the river Lee the Carnegie Library, the Corn Exchange, and other buildings were razed by fire, while in the territory between Northern and Southern branches of the river much havoc was wrought by flames in this section.

Late Sunday evening it was reported that the fire was under control, but it was stated the damage done by the flames was estimated at between £2,000,000 and £3,000,000.

Costliest Destructions

Several blocks of buildings in the heart of the business district of Cork were destroyed by fire during the night constituting the costliest destruction of property since the reprisals began in Ireland.

A group of public buildings on Albert Quay, including the City Hall, the Carnegie Library and a portion of the Corn Exchange were also burned, as well as private residences in various parts of the city.

The fires extended to St. Patrick Street from Cook Street to Maylor Street and swept entire rows of buildings on both sides of Winthrop Street leading from St. Patrick Street to Old Georges Street.

Bomb Thrown From Lorry

It was reported from Cork Saturday afternoon that newly-arrived parties of auxiliary cadets marched through the streets holding up and searching pedestrians and firing into the air following the ambush of auxiliaries within half a mile of the barracks, twelve of them being wounded by a bomb thrown from a lorry.

Between seven and eight o'clock a period of intense quiet fell on the city, but near nine o'clock uniformed men began to display great activity in various parts of Cork. At some points tram cars were held up and passengers taken out. It was reported that a number were beaten and others placed against the wall and closely questioned, but were finally allowed to proceed.

In the Summerhill district, the scene of the ambush, shortly after curfew, two brothers, named Delaney, are reported to have been taken from their homes and shot, one subsequently dying. During the hour before curfew terrorism held sway, and when the streets were emptied of civilians loud explosions and rifle and revolver shots kept up until early morning.

Fear Many Lives Lost

These explosions appeared to come from incendiary bombs, as persons who ventured to look from their windows saw fires break out in St. Patrick's Street and daylight revealed full extent of the damage.

It is not improbable that lives have been lost in the fires, already several persons connected with the destroyed houses and business premises are reported missing.

At four o'clock Sunday morning people were just beginning to venture again into the streets. The whole city was then in control of the military, and it is understood that theofficer in command assured the population that the military would remain on duty indefinitely to prevent further destruction. The troops are in full fighting order, pickets with machine guns being posted at all vantage points.

MOORE SUGGESTS MEANS OF MAKING WORK THIS WINTER

Would Have Fund to Supplement Wages to 75 Per Cent. of Former Pay Envelope

Toronto, December 13.—President Tom Moore of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada at a recent conference of labor representatives stated he believed that during the present unemployment crisis many small industries would go under. These small industries wil be taken in by others. Mr. Moore also said that some of the unemployment was artificial and made the following sugestions. Distribution of work to keep all employed. The creation of a fund to supplement wages, if necessary to seventy-five per cent of the former pay envelope, this would become permanent later on. The reduction by the Federal and Provincial Governments of a ten hour day to an eight hour day on the Welland Canal contract and hydro development work at Chippewa.

C. C. HAMILTON MAKES SPLENDID IMPRESSION AT WINNIPEG MEETING

Delegates from Brandon and district have returned from the Christian Endeavor rally held during the week-end in Winnipeg and are most enthusiastic over the sessions held and over the splendid addresses delivered by Mr. C. C. Hamilton, of Boston, Mass., who speaks in St. Paul's Church Tuesday night. Mr. Hamilton quite lived up to his reputation as an orator, and as he has had much experience in Young People's work, especially along Christian Endeavor lines, he should have a message worth hearing. All young people and others interested are invited to attend the meeting which will commence at eight o'clock. A musical program has been arranged.

FEW CERTIFICATES NOW IN MILLING COMPANY OFFICES

Though Some That Are There Represent $48c a Bushel—Invalid After Dec. 31

Participation Certificates are being rapidly picked up by the farmers in the Brandon district, and it is expected that every payment on the certificates will be claimed before the end of the month. Recently the farmers have shown a good deal of activity in securing the certificates that have been held in local milling offices. The announcement made some time ago that the 31st of December would be the final day for payment on the wheat participation certificates has caused those who owned certificates and had not redeemed them, to seek the payment now being made on them.

According to information supplied at one local milling office this morning there are some forty certificates aggregating 1,500 bushels, still to be called for. Some of these certificates are good for the first payment of thirty cents, as well as the second payment of eighteen cents. It was stated, however, that the greater portion of these certificates would be called for before the end of the month. A query as to what would be done with the certificates that are not called for, elicited the reply that they would probably be claimed by the grain or milling company, as a certain war tax had to be paid on these certificates by the milling companies. However, no official information on the matter has come through recently, and local officials here are in the dark as to the delivery of unclaimed certificates.

EXECRATE VICTIMS NOT ASSASSINS

Premier Lloyd George Points Out Queer Trend of Many Utterances

London, Dec. 13.—Speaking at the Constitutional Club, Lloyd George took the offensive against those of his opponents who condemned the measures taken to deal with assassins in Ireland and wasted sympathy upon them [illegible] of sympathy for their [illegible] so rebuked that section of the foreign [illegible] no opportunity of attacking Great Britain without publishing the other side.

The Prime Minister accused his political rivals of using reprisals as a manoeuvre to get rid of him. He said:

"Is there a well organized, highly subsidized murder campaign going on in Ireland against the men who are discharging the elementary duties of civilization in that country? One of those duties is the guardianship of order, of life, of security and of property. Whilst the police are discharging those elementary duties of civilization and carrying out tasks which are most difficult, they are entitled to the support of every honest citizen, Liberals as well as Conservative. What is happening? I am really ashamed to say that men belonging to the party I belong to should be attacking those people, holding them up to obloquy, not only of this country, but of the whole civilized word. Hundreds of policemen and soldiers have been killed treacherously, but there is no map issued by the London Liberal Federation to mark the spots where they fell in defending liberty. The map is for murderers; cotton warehouses burned with material to provide employment and food (none too plentiful for the thousands in this country), and the poor boy who tried to give information that would extinguish the flames is shot like a dog in the streets.

Execrate Victims, Not Assassins

"I have not yet heard of a leaflet issued by Abingdon Street to denounce the fact that unarmed men are done to death in the presence of pleading wives. I have not yet heard that Sir John Simon had gone to Oxford to denounce that infamy when men, who had been shot while lying wounded on a lonely, dreary hillside road, mutilated, wounded, defenceless—in Ireland. I have not yet heard of a demonstration to be organized in Albert Hall to denounce that brutality. Not their denunciation, their time, their money, talents and enthusiasm have been devoted to holding up to execration the victims, and not the assassins.

M'GILL STUDENTS DID NOT INSULT AMERICAN FLAG

General Sir Arthur Currie Issues Denial to Story in Boston Paper

Montreal, Dec. 13.—"The statement that a howling mob of McGill University students tore down an American flag in Montreal on Nov. 20, spat on it, trampled it under foot and then did a snake dance on the soiled and trampled remnant is wholly and unqualifiedly untrue. The entire story which follows, established on these false premises, is equally untrue." The above is the statement of General Sir Arthur Currie, principal of McGill, when his attention was drawn to the story in the Boston Sunday Advertiser, claiming that a desecration of the American flag had been perpetrated by McGill students.

COLLEGIATE TEACHERS IN FORT WILLIAM RESIGN IN BODY

Fort William, Ont., Dec. 13.—The Fort William Board of Education seems to be up against trouble all the time. No sooner does the trouble over the women teachers' salaries seem like a settlement than the whole Collegiate staff goes out and sends in resignations to take effect on February 1, 1921.

The women's salary grievance has been placed in the hands of a conciliation board, consisting of C. Birkett, for the teachers, John A. Dyke, for the board, with Magistrate W. W. O'Brien chosen by these two as chairman.

The Collegiate staff of thirteen graduates and specialists claim that their request for consideration of a maximum salary has been ignored by the board, and they are asking that it be placed at $3,200 for heads of departments, and at $2,300 for assistants. Their contention is that they were promised a schedule by the present year's board and the matter has been shelved from May until now without their receiving proper consideration.

REST ROOM HAS GOOD BALANCE, OFFICERS ELECTED

Splendid Reports Presented at Annual Meeting—Mrs. J. S. Lowes, President

CONSTITUTION AMENDED

Giving Executive Power to Transact Business—Board to Meet Four Times a Year

Splendid reports, showing a successful year's work and a good balance in the treasury with which to start 1921, were read at the third annual meeting of the Brandon District Rest Room Association held in the Y.M.C.A. Saturday afternoon. Mrs. J. M. Allan, of Elton, who has been President of the Association since it was formed, presided at the meeting. It was largely through her efforts that the Rest Room has become so successfully established in Brandon, and general regret is felt at her retirement from office in the Association. The election of officers for 1921 resulted as follows: President—Mrs. J. S. Lowes, Little Souris; First Vice-President—Mrs. W. Jewel, Elton; Second Vice-President—Miss F. Conley, Beresford; Secretary—Mrs. W. G. Rathwell, Beresford; Treasurer—Mrs. W. P. Middleton, Elton; Auditor—Mr. D. T. McGregor, Elton. A unanimous vote o thanks was tendered Mrs. Allan, the retiring President, for her splendid work on behalf of the Association.

Since the establishment of the Rest Room in April, 1918, 22,468 people have used the rooms. The following is the registration per municipality which shows that Brandon people are also making use of the rooms: Brandon City, 4221; Whitehead, 4627; Cornwallis, 2676; Elton, 6156; Oakland, 491; Daly, 1039; travelling public, 3068.

An important amendment to clause three of the constitution was approved, and as a result in future, the executive will have legal power to transact business from month to month with the board called four times this year.

Rest Room is Popular

In a short but interesting address concerning the years' work, Mrs. J. M. Allan emphasized the popularity of the Rest Room since it was first opened in the city. So renowned the Rest Room become that inquiries have been recently from several [illegible] asking for information regarding the methods in connection with the up-keep, etc. "Our voluntary donations are not so large this year as in the past although we had reason to expect they would be larger owing to the increased number of the travelling public who have used the rooms," said Mrs. Allan in her address.

In submitting her report for the year, the Secretary, Miss Gladys Thornton, paid a tribute to Reeve Davidson of Elton, through whose efforts, in approaching the various councils, many of the grants necessary for the up-keep of the Rest Room were obtained.

Miss Thornton's report showed that two successful home cooking sales had been held during the year and that the cost of the up-keep of the Room had been successfully met. Magazines are always a welcome addition to the Rest Room reading table and donations of copies of those not already subscribed for would be most welcome.

Mrs. W. P. Middleton, Treasurer of the Association, reported total receipts for the year $2,226.43. Expenses $1,914.30, leaving a balance on hand of $312.13.

The meeting was well attended, representatives from the surrounding municipalities being present. The Brandon City Council was represented by His Worship Mayor Dinsdale and Alderman G. B. Coleman.

ETOMOLOGIST PREDICTS SERIOUS PLAGUE OF GRASSHOPPERS, 1921

Ottawa, Dec. 13.—"There is every evidence that the Western provinces of Canada will again be subject to a serious plague of grasshoppers next year," declared Arthur Gibson, Dominion entomologist, at a meeting of the Eastern Ontario branch of the Canadian society of technical agriculturists held on Saturday night. Mr. Gibson stated that as many as 3,000 grasshopper eggs per square foot had been found in Manitoba and also in lesser numbers in the other prairie provinces. This, he said, is a very serious condition and the Entomological Department is making full preparations for combatting the plague.

EMPLOYMENT MAY BE SERIOUS AFTER CHRISTMAS RUSH

[illegible]mployment may be serious af[illegible] the Christmas rush, according to [illegible] predictions of officials in Bran[illegible]. At the Dominion Employment [illegible]reau it was stated that there are [illegible]considerable number of men out of [illegible]rk in Brandon, and there is little [illegible]sibility of placing these men. Owing to the light snow fall this Win[illegible], there is little extra work created in the city for the unemployed [illegible]d when the Christmas rush sub[illegible]les, it is predicted by the Bureau [illegible]at there will be even a greater de[illegible]and for work.

[illegible]ome work is still available in the [illegible]r men, but even this employ[illegible]ill be closed shortly. The de[illegible]r farm help has fallen off ow[illegible] the mild weather. There is [illegible] available in Brandon at pres[illegible] unemployed, and the problem [illegible]ding work may be a serious [illegible]y shortly.

RENEWAL ANGLO-JAPANESE PACT IS ADVOCATED

Member British House of Peers Insists on Removal of Clause Exempting Great Britain

Tokio, Dec. 13.—Baron Sakamoto, a member of the House of Peers, advocates renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance and insists on the removal of the clause which exempts Great Britain from any obligations to Japan in the event of a dispute with America.

Baron Sakamoto points out that this exemption clause has been a dead letter for the past ten years.

The baron argues that the clause is against the spirit of Article X of the League Covenant which places an equal obligation upon each member of the League of Nations in respect of mutual defence against territorial aggression.

Finally, he argues that the peace of the Pacific is now maintained by the balance of power of Great Britain, America and Japan. If Great Britain is relieved of her obligation by means of the arbitration treaty the equilibrium of power in the Pacific will be destroyed, he asserts.

ORGANIZATIONS OF FINANCE TRANSIT ARE ABANDONED

Canadian Delegations Wins Victory at Meeting of League by Getting Compromise Adopted

Geneva, Dec. 9.—The proposed organizations of Finance and Transit under the League of Nations, which were considered yesterday, have been abandoned as a result of the compromise reached at midnight by prominent delegates. [illegible] existing International Health organization will continue its work and will come under the supervision of the League. This compromise is a victory for the Canadian delegation, which yesterday opposed the proposition that the Assembly recommend to the governments the establishment under auspices of the League, of three new organizations, Finance, Transit and Health, with an annual conference on these subjects.

CONSIDERING THE FARMERS PLIGHT

Washington, Dec. 11. —Legislation to provide relief for farmers confronted with falling prices, formed a part of the Senate's time today and when adjournment was reported there was a general agreement that the vote would be taken today on the Agriculture Committee's resolution to revive the War Finance Corporation.

Stimulation of agriculture through exports, was declared by speakers to be one of the principal reasons for urging the revival of the War Finance Corporation. Indirectly it would result in stabilizing conditions generally, it was added.

UNITED KINGDOM IMPORTS QUANTITIES OF FLOUR FROM CHINA

Saskatoon, Sask., Dec. 8.— The United Kingdom has been importing more flour from China than from any other country," stated a prominent local flour man in an interview. Continuing, he declared: "In the month of September 242,743 bbls. of flour were imported into the United Kingdom from China, almost 42 per cent. of the total flour imports for that month. This will no doubt be received with surprise, as in previous years Canada had exported large supplies of flour into China."

GREEK GOVERNMENT ADOPTS "WAIT AND SEE" POLICY WITH EX-KING

Athens, Dec. 8.—Plans to have ex-King Constantine return to Greece this week appeared today to have been abandoned. The decision of the Government apparently was to continue its "wait and see" policy with a tendency to leave the decision as to Constantine's return to the throne with the ex-King himself.

CANADIAN WHEAT GOES EAST THROUGH AMERICAN CHANNELS

In What is Said to Be An Effort to Head Off Deep St. Lawrence Waterways

Fort William, Ont., Dec. 9.—About 600,000 bushels of wheat left this port Wednesday under the hatches of thre ships Buffalo-bound, sending the exports of grain to the United tates up another notch, and adding to the keen interest in these shipments manifest throughout North America following the announcement that this country had successfully marketed a huge quantity of its farm produce when selling everywhere was bad.

Deep Laid Scheme

Now comes another angle to the story through E. A. Ursell, statistician for the Board of Grain Commissioners for Canada, who finds in the tremendous movement of wheat to Buffalo an alarming fact—nothing less than a deep laid plot of New York to head off the deep St. Lawrence waterways by re-establishing the Erie Canal route for Canadian wheat.

Moreover, as an aid to the Erie Canal in the diversion of Canadian wheat through United States seaports instead of through the St. Lawrence Canal system or any other canal system which keeps this trade within Canadian borders and in Canadian ships, Mr. Ursell refers to the steps which have been quietly going on to develop the Oswego Canal which runs from Lake Ontario to the Hudson River and so to New York.

Has Figures Ready

Mr. Ursell who has at his disposal here probably the most complete statistics on train transportation available in Canada, makes the estimate that not more than 10,000,000 bushels will be milled in the United States and the balance exported through New York, Boston and other Atlantic ports. Ordinarily the wheat sent South by railways West of here is that used by millers, something like 4,500,000; but this year, owing to the low quality of wheat raised throughout the United States, this figure has been more than doubled.

Therefore, the balance already shipped to Buffalo and that which will continue to go forward until the close of navigation, is destined for export. It has actually been sold to United States merchants and represents a Canadian ma[illegible] achievement, so Norman Paterson, chief exporter here avers.

Would Grab Trade

What the United States buyers do with the wheat after they get it is regarded among grain exporters here as none of their business. The contention is put forward that unless protective measures are provided the Canadian merchant marine will slip from its eighth place in the shipping world and not climb to third place as a maritime power as formerly. The claim is made that statistics indicate that New York State shippers are trying to grab the Canadian wheat rade.

All United States ports took 78,000,000 bushels of wheat in 1915 and only 28,000,000 in 1916, when the restrictions existed. Up to November of this year the records here reveal the shipments as 43,000,000, since which date it is estimated that 10,000,000 have gone forward and that 1920 exports to United States ports bid fair to reach the pre-war standard.

COOPER ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF MARRYING MOTHER OF HIS WIFE

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 10.—(By Canadian Press)—Walter Thornton, a Paducah cooper, married his mother-in-law on Thanksgiving Day, and the honeymoon lasted four days. They were arrested on a charge of violating the Kentucky statute which says "that a man shall not marry the mother of his wife."

Thornton married Miss May Hale five years ago. Recently Thornton obtained a divorce on the ground of infidelity, and he and his young daughter continued to live at the home of the mother-in-law, Mrs. Effie Hale. Thornton is thirty-two and his bride is forty two. Arraigned before County Judge Lang they pleaded that the bride was no longer Thornton's mother-in-law after he obtained his divorce. Judge Lang said there might be something in that and took the case under advisement.

LOUGH ACQUITTED OF KILLING SIX MEN AT GRAND PRA[IRIE]

Edmonton, Dec. 9.—A special t[illegible] Bulletin from Grand Prairie s[illegible] that Daniel Lough, charged with [illegible] Snyder murders, near there, in [illegible] last, has been found not guilty [illegible] the jury, after it had been out f[illegible] hour.

It is also reported from P[illegible] River that owing to the lack of [illegible] dence the case against Muneh[illegible] charged with Hillas' murder [illegible] June, has been called off

The acquittal of Lough leaves [illegible] mystery of the killing of the six m[illegible] at Grand Prairie still unsolved.

TEN ENTRIES FOR HUDSON'S BAY DOG DERBY TO DAT[E]

Race From the Pas to Flin Fl[on] Distance 200 Miles—Purse $2,500

The Pas, Dec. 14.—The fourth Hu[illegible] son Bay Dog Derby, which will b[illegible] run over a course from here to Fli[illegible] Flon, a distance of 200 miles, for [illegible] purse of $2,500, is already attracting a great deal of attention among fol[illegible] lowers of the game here and to date the entries number ten, including tw[illegible] from Alaska. The two from Al[illegible] are Goyne, who won last year's [illegible] by, and Seppala. Other well-kn[illegible] "mushers" who have announced [illegible] their intention to face the starter [illegible] March 1, are G. R. Bancroft, The R[illegible] one of the founders of the Der[illegible] Larry McKay and Sam Prantean, [illegible] Grand Rapids, Jack Hayes, of St [illegible] geon Landing, Batesse Campbell, [illegible] B. Morgan, Jack Bacon, of The Pa[illegible] and Steve Bjorkman, of Winnipe[illegible] whose entry was received first th[illegible] year.

It is practically certain that man[illegible] of the teams will use the Alaska har[illegible] ness and sled. Derby officials thin[illegible] a good deal of credit belongs to Goyne [illegible] for coming here last Winter and in[illegible] troducing the Alaskan style of racing. They believe it has given a great impetus to dog breeding and caused increased interest throughout The Pas district.

ALIEN MINORS ADMITTED TO U. S.

New York, Dec. 9.—Abraham Engle[illegible] [illegible] deported from Canada as un[illegible] desirable aliens, applied at Ellis Isl[illegible] for admission to the U.S. Their case, according to immigration officials, brings up a delicate question affecting the mutual immigration policies of Canada and the U. S.

The Russians arrived on the S.S. Saxonia from Halifax, where they had been refused admission to the Dominion. While technically under guard of the captain of the Saxonia as deportees, they were allowed to apply for admittance under a ruling by a U. S. court that once within the three mile limit any alien may make such application.

Last week, according to records at the island, two alien minors deported from Canada were accepted at this port.

JUGO-SLAVIA AND HOLLAND QUARREL

Holland Dismisses Serbian From Hague and Recalls Minister From Belgrade

The Hague, Dec. 14.—Democratic relations have been broken between Holland and Jugo-Slavia, it was stated here Monday.

Holland has recalled her ministe[illegible] from Belgrade and has dismissed th[illegible] Serbian charge d'affairs at The Hague.

The action was taken as the resul[illegible] of what the Dutch Foreign Office term[illegible] "a long series of insults to the Dutc[illegible] Government."

The beginning of the difficulty wa[illegible] the arrest in the early part of the wa[illegible] without notification to Holland, of th[illegible] Dutch consul at Belgrade, who was a Austrian subject. Since then, accordi[illegible] ing to the Foreign Office, repeated e[illegible] forts to Holland to adjust the difficu[illegible] ties amicably had met with insole[illegible] treatment.

The break is only a diplomatic in[illegible] dent and no other developments a[illegible] expected, the Associated Press cor[illegible] spondent was told at the Forei[illegible] Office.

Margate, Dec. 14.—The Rev. Day[illegible] Railton, the Vicar here, was the a[illegible] thor of the idea of the burial of [illegible] unknown soldier in Westminster A[illegible] bey, which took place on November [illegible] Mr. Railton, who was a military ch[illegible] la[illegible] France, communicated his i[illegible] to [illegible] Dean of Westminster and [illegible] adopt[illegible] followed.

U.S. REVISION OF TARIFF LAWS TO BEGIN JAN 6TH

[illegible]d Continue Until Shortly Before President-Elect Harding is Inaugurated

Washington, Dec. 9.—The Republi[illegible] revision of the tariff laws will be [illegible]rted Jan. 6, Republican leaders of [illegible] House have decided. Hearings, [illegible]hich are expected to continue until [illegible]rtly before President-elect Harding is inaugurated, will be started on [illegible]t date by the House Ways and [illegible]ans Committee, it was agreed.

The decision was taken to mean [illegible]at revision of the tariff schedules [illegible]ll precede revision of the revenue [illegible]ws in the work of the special session of the new Congress shortly after inauguration.

Republican members of the committee, however, agreed that some [illegible]ax hearings should be held before the Christmas holidays on demands [illegible]or immediate relief from the present [illegible]aws, including proposals to allow the deduction of losses sustained during the year from tax returns to be filed in March. Another proposal is to exempt from taxation mortgages on buildings when the amount held by an individual does not exceed $40,000. This is to encourage building.

Many Tax Increases Proposed

Secretary of the Treasury Houston [illegible]sked Congress to boost the Federal [illegible]come tax rate 2 per cent. on in[illegible]omes under $5,000. Houston at the [illegible]me time asked that:

Surtaxes be lowered on the larger [illegible]comes.

Corporations made to pay a flat tax [illegible] 20 per cent. on undivided profits.

Big increases be made in existing [illegible]onsumers' taxes on tobacco, cigars, [illegible]ga-rettes, candy, chewing gum, and [illegible]e like.

Gasoline be taxed two cents per [illegible]allon and automobiles 50 cents per [illegible]orse power.

Houston's proposals were contained in his annual report presented to [illegible]peaker Gillett, of the House, and [illegible]e intended to net the government [illegible]pproximately $2,000,000,000 a year. That part of the report dealing with [illegible] taxation was intended as a guide to [illegible]ongress in passing new revenue laws [illegible]o take the place of those enacted [illegible]uring the war period, and which ar[illegible] [illegible] failing to produce sufficient re[illegible]ue for the Government, accordin[illegible] the secretary. At least $12,00[illegible]

[illegible] years, Houston declare[illegible] [illegible]vernment is to pay its o[illegible] [illegible]eness and meet $7,500,000 [illegible] of floating debts and Vie[illegible] before May 1, 1923.

[illegible]VE HOPE FOR AN IRISH TRUCE

[illegible]remier Lloyd George Declares Prospects for Settlement Brighter Than Appears

London, Dec. 9. — Prospects of an [illegible]sh truce, which last night were generally regarded as having receded al[illegible]st out of sight, have been revived, [illegible]cording to a late edition of the Daily [illegible]il, as a result of a private interview [illegible]ween Archbishop Clune and Pre[illegible]er Lloyd George yesterday. The [illegible]chbishop, the paper declares, con[illegible]ed to Lloyd George what, in effect, [illegible] a message from Michael Collins, [illegible]mmander-in-chief of the Sinn Fein [illegible]y. It is understood the impression [illegible] given that Collins and other Sinn [illegible]n leaders were extremely desirous [illegible] truce and were prepared to take [illegible]nite steps to secure it. The Daily [illegible] adds that the Premier was much [illegible]ressed, concluding by saying: "It [illegible] definitely be stated that prospects [illegible] a settlement are much brighter [illegible] they appear on the surface."

[illegible]VY COMPASS BROKEN [illegible]OPEN TO GET ALCOHOL: MANY REPAIRS MADE

[illegible]ashington, Dec. 9.—Many repairs [illegible]avy compasses have been made [illegible]essary during the last year by [illegible]on of the fact that the instru[illegible]ts have been broken open for [illegible]alcohol they contained, says the [illegible]al report of Rear-Admiral [illegible]gewerff, superintendent of the [illegible] observatory.

[illegible]PENNANT FARMER HAD A GOOD YEAR

Swift Current, Sask., Dec. 11.—Does [illegible]al farming pay? Axel Nelson, of [illegible]nnant, a firm believer that it does, [illegible]st year Mr. Nelson bought a quar[illegible]section of land two and a half [illegible] South of Pennant, for which [illegible]aid $3,200. He cropped the land [illegible]year and he sold 1,500 bushels of [illegible]t some time ago at $2.50 a bush[illegible]alizing $3,900 from the wheat, or [illegible] more than he paid for the land. [illegible]hat is not all, as Mr. Nelson still [illegible]300 bushels of wheat and 1,000 [illegible]ls of oats left from this sea[illegible] crop.

★ UNITED STATES WAR BILL IS $24,010,000,000 ★

★ Washington, Dec. 9.—The net cost of the war to the U.S. Government was fixed by Secretary of the Treasury Houston at $24,010,000,000. This, he said, represented the "adjusted" expenditure of the Treasury, excluding all other outlay which had no relation to actual prosecution of the war at the period from April, 1917, to June 30 last, which, he said, covered the extremes of the Government's war time fiscal operations. ★

CATTLE EMBARGO NO SLUR ON HEALTH CANADIAN ANIMALS

London, Dec. 9.—The Secretary of the Ministry of Agriculture admitted in the House of Commons yesterday that his attention had been drawn to a statement by Hon. FREIGHT RATES INQUIRY TO COME AFTER CHRISTMAS

Conference to Be Held Next Week Will Determine Principles and Procedure

Ottawa, Dec. 9.—There is little expectation here that the general inquiry into railway freight rates, arising out of the Government's action in asking the Board of Railway Commissioners to reconsider the judgment granting increases now in effect and the application of the Manitoba Government for a suspension of the same, will be commenced before the new year. While nothing will be decided before the conference of all the interested parties, to take place on Tuesday, Dec. 14, it is regarded as practically certain that the decision will be that a beginning should not be made with this most important case until after the Christmas holidays.

Next week's conference will decide in a general way what is to be investigated, the principles and procedure to be adopted, and where the sittings are to be held. As the chief question likely to be considered is one of discriminatory rates, it is assumed that the hearings in this case will be held in all the most important centres from coast to coast and that they will be protracted.

While the main question at issue is one of discriminatory rates as between sections of the country lying West and East of the Great Lakes, respectively, British Columbia and the Maritime Provinces will have special representations to make to the Railway Board. It has been contended in British Columbia for some time past that the Coast province labors under discriminatory rates as compared with the Prairie Provinces, the reason for the higher rates being the assumption that the cost of operation is greater in the mountains of British Columbia than on the plains. It will be argued that the time has arrived when these difficulties should be wholly or partially removed. Then the Maritime Provinces will have some demands to make in regard to certain rates that have been complained of, so that the case will affect the Dominion as a whole to a greater degree than any matter that has ever been considered by the Railway Board.

NO CASKET, HEARSE OR CHAPEL SO BIG

Sacramento Joe Weighed 640 Pounds—His Funeral a Special One

Sacramento, Dec. 14.—Relatives of Sacramento Joe who died here while on two operating tables, are trying to make funeral arrangements. A spcial casket with twelve handles is being built. It will be six feet six inches long, two feet deep and wide enough to hold the bodies of four ordinary men.

The funeral director figures that he will be unable to get the casket into any chapel, so the funeral will be held in the hallway of his establishment. Sacramento has no hearse big enough to hold the casket, and a wagon has been secured.

Krebeck, known among circus people as "Sacramento Joe," died as surgeons were preparing to remove 100 pounds of fat. For several weeks he had been so fat that he was helpless and slept almost twenty-four hours a day. He was 44.

GOOD MORNING

Just to open up the day,
Just to brighten up the way,
Making life a bit more gay—
Say "Good morning."

Just a nod and cheery smile
'Twill make our work more worth the while
And 'twill shorten up each mile
To say "Good morning."

There's such a world of difference
'Twixt interest and indifference
That's why I make the reference
To "Good morning."

Who knows what heart you'll lighten
What tired eyes you'll brighten
Whose courage you will tighten

If you'll try it out some day
On those who come your way,
I think you'll find it pay
To say "Good morning."

BEAVERBROOK REPLIES TO CRITIC

Resents Suggestion That Daily Express is a "Tied Government Organ"

London, Nov. 25—(By Mail, Canadian Associated Press)—The Nation, a weekly review of the intellectual movement school, contains the following letter from Lord Beaverbrook in a recent issue:

I notice in the last two weeks the Nation has paid a flattering amount of attention to the views of the "Daily Express," the "Sunday Express," and of my humble self.

In the first article you mention me among the long list of newspaper proprietors as one tied by some obscure bond of interest or reward to the chariot of the Coalition Government. I do not in the least mind what you say about me personally. Any man who accepts a peerage stands to be shot at—and most of them are. My only point is the absurdity of the charge that you read them and that you read the Sunday Express" are in any way tied Government organs. It is only necessary to read either newspaper to prove that this is not so.

You yourself, Sir, in "A London Diary" of last week, show at once that you read them and that your regard them as the critics of the Administration. You quote at some length from an article by "Realist" in last Sunday's "Express," and your deep regard for Mr. Lloyd George and his fellow-Liberals seems almost shocked by the virility of the criticism and the strength of the metaphors employed. Is this the product of an organ tied to the Administration.

In a footnote the Editor of the Nation adds: "Certainly Lord Beaverbrook appears to have strayed from the fold of late."

OBITUARY

Mrs. Laura Wyck

The death occurred in the city on Saturday of Mrs. Laura Wyck, aged 45 years, beloved wife of Mr. Jacob Wyck, 150 Eleventh Street North. Besides her husband, three sons are left to mourn her loss.

This afternoon the remains of the late Sidney Robert Wright, year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Wright of Broomhill, Man., were laid to rest in Broomhill cemetery. John Morris Friday afternoon the remains of the late Mr. John Morris were laid to rest in Brandon cemetery following a short service at the family residence, 527 Twelfth Street. Rev. Robert Patterson officiated. The funeral of the late Mr. James Cumming took place at noon on Saturday from the family residence, 815 Seventh Street. After a short service at the residence the cortege proceeded to Zion Church, which was built largely by the exertions of the deceased and where the funeral service was largely attended by many former friends of the late Mr. Cumming. The service was conducted by Rev. Robert McKay, of Plumas, Man.; a very old and valued friend of the late Mr. Cumming and also of the family. The pallbearers were to have been six of the late Mr. Cumming's sons, but owing to a delay in messages Mr. Harry Cumming, of Vancouver, B.C., arrived too late and his place was taken by a son-in-law, Mr. Roland Coristine, of North Brandon. The other bearers were Messrs. William and George Cumming, of Saskatoon, Sask.; Jacob, of Winnipeg; James, of McCreary, Man., and David, of Granum, Alta.

R. F. Stratfull

After only a few hours' illness, R. F. Stratfull, aged 43 years, passed away Sunday night at the family residence, 1031 Eighth Street. Just recently he was taking a vocational course at Hardy's Tire Service Station. The late Mr. Stratfull is survived by a wife and children.

The late Mr. Morris came from Clinton, Ont. in 1882 and homesteaded in the Huntingdon district. He resided on his homestead until early last February when he was brought into the Brandon General Hospital for treatment and later the family moved into the city to reside so that he could obtain the best of medical care at his home. For many years Mr. Morris was trustee of the Huntingdon school situated on his farm. He was an earnest Presbyterian and always took a keen interest in affairs that would benefit the community. His death will be greatly regretted by many friends in the Souris district. Besides his wife there are left to mourn his loss four daughters, Mrs. Robert Mann, Ridpath, Sask.; Mrs. W. A. CAMELS HAUL TRAINS OF CARTS THROUGH THE STREETS OF WARSAW

Warsaw, Dec. 15.—Camels hauling long trains of small carts are frequently seen in the streets of Warsaw, one soldier acting as driver with other soldiers looking after the vehicles. The camels are used by the army authorities in the transport of goods about the city and suburbs, having been trained for this kind of service by Russians. The animals were captured from the Bolsheviki by the Poles in a drive in the Northern front last Summer.

Whereas many other Urban School Boards have given sympathetic consideration to the cases presented by local Associations as is evidenced by the up-to-date schedules recently adopted by them, and

Now therefore be it resolved that we emphatically protest at the three months hoist given to the consideration of this question by the Board.

That we affirm our conviction that as we ask that this schedule be retroactive to September 1, 1920, it is a question that should be dealt with by this present Board.

That we at once lay the whole question before the Executive of the Federation, and that we ask for a sitting of the Board of Reference that the facts above quoted, and others periment to the situation may be made known and an equitable finding arrived at.

That we proceed to give the public certain data in our possession which will enlighten all as to what has transpired during the negotiations up to date, and will also indicate what is being done by other Boards along these lines,

And that copies of this resolution be sent to the Federation and to the School Board.

(Signed) E. A. Tingley,
Sec. B. T. A.

Manitoba Teachers' Federation

There was also read at the meeting of the School Board, a letter from the Manitoba Teachers' Federation under date of November 24th stating that the Federation had carefully considered the negotiations between the School Board and the Teachers' Association. The Federation was of the opinion that the schedule dated October 25th is fair and reasonable, and that if some settlement was not agreed upon by December 7th, the executive would feel it to be its d[illegible] to ask the House of Delegates to [illegible] in the matter.

In taking the whole problem, [illegible] the Manitoba Teachers' Federati[illegible] said they were desirous not only [illegible] furthering the interests of the tea[illegible] ers but the interests of the schoo[illegible] and of the school children, and th[illegible] it is most desirous of working har[illegible] ably with the School Board in th[illegible] settlement of an important problem. There was also a second letter fro[illegible] the Federation stating that the Boa[illegible] of Reference would not be called unt[illegible] after the 15th of December, as it wa[illegible] learned that the School Board woul[illegible] not meet in regular session until th[illegible] time and they would await the de[illegible] lon of the School Board.

There was no comment from th[illegible] School Board members. In movin[illegible] a resolution on the question defer[illegible] ing action until 1921, Mr. G. A. Pitto[illegible] said that he could not see how th[illegible] School Board could follow any oth[illegible] line of action, than that which th[illegible] had adopted. The following resolu[illegible] tion was then carried unanimously: "That the communication from the Manitoba Teachers' Federation re the teachers' salary schedule be referred to the 1921 School Board in accordance with the resolutions adopted by the Board, November 8th."

Later there was an informal di[illegible] cussion as to preparedness for the e[illegible] pected sitting of the Board of Refe[illegible] ence, and the School Board member[illegible] will probably prepare data and in[illegible] formation for presentation at the sitting of the Board of Reference, if called upon to do so.

DEVOTION WON RECOGNITION FOR WIDOW OF KING

Greek Courts Declare Valid Marriage of Alexander With Mme. Manos

Athens, Dec. 14.—The devotion shown by Mme. Aspasia Manos, wife of the late King Alexander of Greece, to him during his fatal illness resulting from the bite of a monkey, had created so profound an impression upon the Greeks that even those who heretofore had spared no effort to separate her from the King, have to-[illegible] nothing but good to say about [illegible] for four weeks during which th[illegible] fought for life against blo[illegible] poisoning, when exhausted compe[illegible] take a little sleep. Th[illegible] she underwent was all the [illegible] ing because of her own state [illegible] since she is to become a m[illegible]

Heretofore King Alexande[illegible] riage had not been consider[illegible] some governmental quarters t[illegible] valid because it had been solemn[illegible] secretly and without the fulfilmen[illegible] of certain formalities. Since the death of the King, the governmen[illegible] has been so moved by the devotion of his widow that it has discovered a law by virtue of which Mme. Manos is recognized as having been the King's legal wife.

This was regarded here as excluding the possibility of raising difficulties in connection with her inheritance of the late King's personal estate. It is also understood that the government will lay it bill before the next Parliament for the payment of a pension to Mme. Manos.

All this has made her an interesting figure in the tragedy enacted at the Tatoi Chateau where the King and his wife led the happiest of lives until the terrible mishap cut short the life of the monarch. Their romance has been one of the most fascinating stories of royal life in Europe for years.

Aspasia Manos belonged to the Greek Pharmariote aristocracy but was not of royal blood. She was a beautiful girl and the young Prince fell in love with her. When King Constantine abdicated and Alexander was called to the throne, he laid down as a condition of acceptance that he shoud be allowed to marry the girl to whom he had pledged his word.

The government appeared to re[illegible] pect the Prince's sentiments but h[illegible]

Explanation of the VOTE to be taken in the matter of

District Hail Insurance

In accordance with the Manitoba District Hail Insurance Act, passed in 1920, the Council of every Rural Municipality in Manitoba shall, at the election of councillors, submit a by-law providing that the Municipality shall be brought under the operation of this Act.

In case 35 or more Municipalities vote to come under the operation of the Act, they may be established into a "Hail Insurance District." Such a Hail Insurance District will then carry on a hail insurance business under the Act.

Provision is made whereby land owners or tenants may withdraw their land from the operation of the Act, thus causing hail insurance on the part of the individual farmer to be optional.

For total loss the rates of indemnity will be $8.00 and $6.00 per acre, according to the choice of the farmer. The rate of assessment will vary according to the losses.
