ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE OF CONSUMPTION IN CANADA.

Messrs Young & Chamberlain:

SIRS,—I feel it a duty I owe to you, as well as to the public, to inform you of the most wonderful cure of Consumption, accomplished in my person, by the use of the Great Shoshonees Remedy and Pills. I coughed a great deal day and night, expectorating large quantities of matter, and had a great pain about my left lung. I had cold chills every day, and severe night sweats every night and between the racking cough and great sweating, I was almost deprived of sleep. By these miseries, as well as the loss of appetite, I was so reduced that I could hardly stand alone. I was under the care of a physician for a length of time, but finding no relief, I tried different receipts, but all without any good effect. Squire Paterson, of Bath, recommended me to use the Great Shoshonees Remedy. I procured three bottles at once with the Pills. Soon as I commenced using it I began to get better, and when I had finished this compliment, the cough, expectoration of matter, pain about the lung, chills, sweating, &c., left me, and by continuing to use it I became strong and healthy. It is now over two months since I quit the remedy, and there have been no symptoms of the disease returning, and I have been, and am now, healthier and better than I have been for many years. I trust you will make this known to the public that they may be aware of the peculiar virtues of this truly wonderful Indian Remedy.

PETER C. V. MILLER

To all whom it may come. This is to certify that I have been acquainted with the above-mentioned gentleman, Peter C. V. Miller, Esq., for many years, and have known him always to be of the very highest respectability, and a very candid and creditable person, and I am confident that I can safely vouch for the truth of the above, or any statement made by them.

STOP AND SEE.

THE following remarks on Testimonials of most wonderful and extraordinary cures in Canada by the GREAT INDIAN REMEDY. They are stern, undeniable and incontestable facts, sufficient to convince the most skeptical that the Great Medicinal Compound, prepared after for ages is now accessible in the Great for Diseases of the Throat, Lungs, Liver, Digestive Organs, Kidneys, &c., as well as Scrofula, the various Skin Diseases, Humors, and all diseases arising from ... remedy has NEVER BEEN EQUALLED. Where was there ever such a cure as that in the person of Wilson Storms of Brighton, C.W., of Consumption; or that of Peter C. V. Miller, Ernestown, C. W., of Consumption, or that of Ambrose Wood, of Cobourg, C.W., of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, or that of John Hoey, of Napanee, C.W., of Rheumatism, who had actually been on crutches for years, in spite of all treatment heretofore, and is now well. Scores of such cases might be mentioned had we space.

Call at the Drug Store and get a Circular or unquestionable certificates on the GREAT SHOSHONEES REMEDY and PILLS, and satisfy yourselves.

THE REV. W. WARNOR CLARK'S

EXCELSIOR

WASHING COMPOSITION.

THE BEST, and greatest discovery of the age for washing purposes, worth from fifteen to twenty dollars a year, to a family of six or eight persons.

No washBoard is Needed.

It will wash in Hard or Soft water.

All kinds of Flannels, Woolens, Linens, Lawns, and Cambrics, and the most rich and delicate garments may be washed by this process with perfect safety and success. It is warranted not to injure the fabric, but preserve and fix the colors, and will also

Remove Paints, Grease or Stains

CLARK'S EXCELSIOR WASHING COMPOSITION is Patented, and warranted perfectly free from everything injurious to clothes, hands or health. It is especially recommended for cleaning Windows, and the repeated use of it on painted wood tends to make it glossy; it also gives a beautiful polish to Silver plated ware, Tin-ware Brass &c. I am willing it should rest on its own merits, all I ask for it is a fair trial, and if it does not give full satisfaction the money will be cheerfully refunded.

The highest testimonials in favor of the composition is given by the Toronto Leader, the Canada Farmer, the Guelph Mercury, the Advertiser, the Ingersoll News. Also the Rev. J. N. ☞ The Fenians are going to "draw their swords" if a demand made by their President on the British Minister to guarantee the independence of Ireland is not complied with. They might as well draw them at once.

☞ We would remind Teachers that the Goderich Branch Association will meet in the Central School, on Saturday, Dec. 5th., at 10 o'clock, a. m.

☞ The Bruce Review speaks very highly of Clark's Excelsior Washing Composition.

☞ The Seaforth paper is awfully deep in a discussion of the Mosiac Cosmogony.

☞ Those in town having houses to rent or sell should advertise in the Signal at once.

☞ Wood now sells by the load in Goderich at $3,50 per cord. Hard times for poor people.

☞ If you want a first-rate job of printing done leave your order at the Signal office at once.

☞ Special attention is directed to the advertisement of Mr. J. S. Porter, Seaforth.

☞ The Ball circulars issued from this office cannot be surpassed for elegance and cheapness this side of Toronto.

☞ The Wesleyan Misionary Meeting held last evening was not attended so largely as it should have been. Addresses were delivered by J. V. Detlor Esq. and Revds. Messrs. Livingstone, Poole and Rice. Mr. Geo. Cox occupied the chair.

☞ The "Grand Rally" at the M. E. Church on Wednesday evening last was well attended. The principal feature of the entertainment was the singing, of a lady from Portland who pleased all present with her fine voice. Rev. Mr. Livingston, who is a most accomplished musician, rendered the accompaniments with grand and thrilling effect on his favorite organs.

☞ Goderich, in its rapid rise, is going a little too fast in some things: Petty thefts are of almost daily occurrence. We have heard during the past few days of cases where parties stole bags and buffalo robes, pieces of dry goods, silver spoons from restaurants, snatched from tills, &c. A few wholesome examples will be made, no doubt, as soon as possible.

☞ We hear that a strong company from Berlin contemplate starting a fresh Salt well in Goderich. Come on, gentlemen, there's plenty of room, providing a market large enough can be found!

OH, CHICKEY!—The Seaforth Expositor can do it, that's a fact. It says:—"We are indebted to the following prominent Periodicals in the United States for their very flattering notices given of the 'EXPOSITOR,' also for the papers put on the exchange list, Clipper, Albion, Wilks Spirit of the Times, Daily Tribune, Frank Lesley, Peterson's, Harpers Monthly, Weekly & Bazar, &c.

☞ The fresh prisoners in the Mullady murder case were brought before the Mayor and J. V. Detlor Esq., to-day (27) and remanded till next week in consequence of the absence, through indisposition, of the stipendary magistrate. Messrs. Doyle & Squire appeared for the prisoners, Mr. Lewis on behalf of the Crown.

SMALL COMFORT.—The Star takes comfort in saying that if the election as between Carling and Gibbons is declared void on account of the list used for Stanley being the wrong one, then Mr. Cameron might have been unseated. Consoling, very!

☞ Mr. Snider informs us that on and after the 1st prox. the tariff for telegraphing from Goderich to the various points along the line will be materially reduced. We hope the reduction will extend to newspaper telegraphing as well.

☞ The Leader says South Huron has been misrepresented long enough. We wonder if the country would feel impelled to congratulate itself on obtaining, in Mr. Gibbons' place, another representative of the Beatty stamp?

☞ The two pork packing houses in London, Ont., give good employment to about 200 people, while a large amount of capital is spent daily in the purchase of hogs. The speculation is said to be quite remunerative. One such establishment should be started in our own Lake city.—Who has ten thousand dollars to spare?

☞ A meeting of the Goderich St. George's Society will take place at the Maitland Hotel on Friday evening, Dec. 4th. A full attendance is requested.

☞ A gentleman named Foster writes from Metcalfe to say that he has invented and patented a new machine for the cheap evaporation of salt. We know nothing of its capability.

☞ The Huron Salt Co, sent a small cargo of salt to Oswego a few days ago. That is carrying coals to Newcastle with a vengeance!

☞ We regret to say that on Monday last the str Silver Spray broke her shaft when off Southampton. She was tugged to this port and will be compelled to lie up for the winter.

ANOTHER PICTURE.—Our talented townsman, Mr. J. Ratcliffe has shown us a view of Goderich Mills, the Railway Station and remainder of the Salt Wells. The work is highly recommended by the owners of the property upon which the views are taken as to the correctness of the work. We trust that he will meet with encouragement from the public and in particularly in Goderich, to enable him to get the work lithographed.

WINTER LEISURE.—Leisure is a blessing to the virtuous, and a great curse to the vicious. To suppose that leisure means a chance to do nothing, or next to nothing, would be a very dangerous blunder. It means only the substitution of a chosen employment for an involuntary one. The evening party, the singing school, the sleigh-drive, the neighborly visit, are things our families are all the better of; but for real enjoyment, without alloy, give quiet evening at home. The family that loves home is almost certain to have a happy future before its members, and the parent who succeeds in getting his family to love home, does more for them than he thinks. To this end a provision of wholesome reading is now-a-days indispensable, and better reading we could not recommend than the various publicotions of John Dougall & Son, Montreal.

MARKETS.—The present state of the roads is sadly against business—hardly any grain coming in—Wheat buyers nothing to do but wish for sleighing, at present there is just enough snow to make it very disagreeable.

OUR STREETS.—There never was, in any town, in any country, a street that could boast of more dirt than the Main street in Seaforth. A person, on being asked why the authorities did not keep the streets cleaner, pointed to the new Market house and said.—It cannot be done without money, and the money is all gone down there.

PETITION.—On Saturday signatures were being taken to a petition to the County Council, praying that body to reconsider the basis upon which they placed the county tax of the municipality of Seaforth for the current year. As the council of Seaforth conceived said basis to be incorrect. Some were signing it thinking it right. More were not, thinking it merely an electioneering dodge on a small scale.

Mr. Logan, has on hand just now, one of the best selected and cheapest stocks of ready made clothing that ever came into Seaforth It is hard to conceive that clothing of the very best quality, and newest style can be sold so cheap. Any one wanting a winter suit should give him a call.

Hickson, has a great quantity of skates on hand.

John Martin's new churn was tried on Saimplay at Mr. Modelau's house Tuckersmith. We witnessed the trial, and must say that we were very much astonished to see butter come out, just five minutes after the cream was put in, further comment is unnecessary as that churn will introduce itself.

Gibbons. Considerable feeling is manifested here by both Liberals and Conservatives about the trial of Mr. Gibbons. The way the trial is conducted is honestly and indignantly condemned by all parties as not being fair play.

Carter's grain Store house is the best at Seaforth Station.

Goderich Salt is in great demand here now.

CENSUS.—Mr. Bull, took the census of Seaforth last week and found 1502 resident inhabitants.

SIGNAL.—The people here, after a fair trial all round, have come to the conclusion that the Signal is the best newspaper in the County.

To the Editor of the Huron Signal.

DEAR SIR.—Could you inform us what the Goderich Star means by stealing so much of the Globe's thunder in favor of the pet colleges at Toronto, and the mixing it up with so much twaddle about the kirk of Scotland, the Episcopalian Church, the Congressional and the Methodist Churches. He says:—"The enemies of pure and undefiled religion could take no more sure way of deadening a religious spirit in the country, than by making governmental provisions for all the church requirments." Does he mean that the deadening religious influence of his church is owing to the governmental provisions for his favorite college in Toronto. It is very strange, that he wants all that deadening influence to be given to his church. It is a bad thing for churches to have their colleges aided from the endowment fund, it deadens their religious spirit very much. and yet, somehow, the twinkling 'Star' wants the whole vast endowment fund for his pet college and his own Church. The Star dont want to deaden the religious spirit of the quarter of a million Wesleyans, nor to deaden the Church of England, nor the Kirk, nor the M. E. Church, nor the Independents, nor the R. Catholics. AINLEYVILLE.

To the 'Signal.'

A letter appears in the last issue of the Goderich Star in which my name is brought out with special prominency by the same anonymous scribler, to whom I referred in one of my former communications. He stills shrinks from attaching his name to his incubrations for reasons that he doubtless regards as being insuperable. The meanest, the most contemptable characters, are those who give a stab in the dark—and if one happens to meet them pretend a friendship they do not feel. The criticism of this disguised foe falls as harmlessly as a flake of snow on a rock of adamant, not worthy of a passing notice. He goes on to say that his design is not to question my veracity and the proceeds to do the very thing he had just disavowed. His first narrative of the affair appeared in the Star of 16th of October, in which he represents the occurrence as having taken place on the preceding Friday evening. For the information of my disguised friend, I would say, that that would be 8th of October. His mind appears to be in a state of confusion with regard to dates. In reply, I stated, my engagement at a Missionary meeting held in Leethville on that Friday night. Finding the ground sinking beneath his feet, he selects the next preceding Friday night, evidently wishing to create the impression that he had said so from the beginning and that his meaning had been misapprehended. Wishing to convince his readers of the truth of his asseveration, he tells them he was a spectator. Then I would regard him as being on a level with the persons of whose doings he is the gratuitous historian. Such acquiescence from a person who makes any pretension to respectability is both inexcusable and reprehensible. How is it he is a thoroughly posted up in this matter while others who had opportunities of observation equal to his own, neither saw nor heard of these doings except in the columns of the Goderich Star? Mr. Grant the Postmaster, authorizes me to say, that to the best of his knowledge the statements of this scribbler are entirely false. Mr. Grant says he remonstrated by letter with the editor of the Star for allowing such anonymous slanders to appear in his paper. I sent a denial immediately after I heard of its appearance, but for some reason, of which I am ignorant, it was not published. If base truthless men are allowed to eject their venom through that medium, the proprietor of the Western Luminary will soon find his subscribers here, as well as other places I could name, getting small and beautifully less. There are a few characters here, who are capable of getting up a plausible story and then asserting it with a positiveness worthy of a better cause, among whom figures my rotten egg friend. I do not intend noticing anything more from my pen on this subject. Hoping that he may find more legitimate employment than attempting to injure the influence of ministers is my worst wish to any other enemy. I did not intend to write so much when I commenced; perhaps it was not worth while, I mean merely to kill a flea.

PLOT IN THE PENITENTIARY.

Determined Attempt to Escape

ONE OF THE PRISONERS KILLED.

From the Leader.

KINGSTON, Nov. 26

A great deal of excitement prevailed in the city this morning from a rumor that an extensive and deep laid plot had been discovered and frustrated at the provincial penitentiary, and that the effort had been attended with the death of one of the inmates. The deceased convict was known as Christopher Murray, and had been sentenced for a period of ten years, eight of which had transpired. He was not one of the Fenian prisoners, although associated with them in the plot.

At an inquest to day the following evidence was given by Henry Connolly, a guard who was on duty last night and the early part of this morning. He said he was in the south wing about a quarter to one o'clock when one of the guard's came running to him and said "Look out! the prisoners have broken out of their cells." He looked up to the gallery above and saw one of the prisoners endeavoring to cut the rope of the alarm bell. Witness called out to him to surrender and ran up stairs after him. When witness arrived there the convict was gone and witness followed in the direction he thought the convict had taken. It was in the south-west range. Witness came came down then into the fourth range into the railing and saw the convict endeavoring to pick the lock of the wicket doorleading out of the dome. Witness called again to him to surrender but he did not answer, when witness fired a round from his revolver. The convict still persisted in his object, when witness fired a second round. The convict then gave over and ran down the west wing and witness followed and found convict on the ground floor, lying on his back, his feet toward the stove. He was not yet dead. Witness then gave the alarm to the warden and told him one of the convicts was shot. The warden came down with witness and as soon as the warden saw the convict he sent for Mr. Halliday, the hospital keeper, who came in a few minutes and gave it as his opinion that the man was dead. Witness could not tell whether his was the fatal shot as there were other shots fired by the guard. Upon examining the deceased false keys were found upon his person. The rope of the bell was cut and fastened to the banister to prevent its making a noise by its fall.

The evidence of the guard is an epitome of the events of last night.

At dinner to-day the convicts were in a state of intense excitement and every precaution was taken to prevent an outbreak.

Changes in the School Law.

A Committee having been drafted by the House to enquire into the working of the Grammar and Common Schools, both at the head office and throughout the country, commenced its labors last Thursday. It would seem that certain changes are proposed by Dr. Ryerson, which, we must say, will meet the general approbation of the country. In the first place, he asks that his own office should be abolished, and that the head of the Department should be a responsible Minister of the Crown. The second proposition was that the practice of having local or township superintendents should cease, and that there should only be county superintendents, except where the county was so large as to require a second or assistant superintendent ought to be a person who has, at least, the qualifications of a first class teacher, and who has had experience in teaching. The Chief Superintendent, in addressing the Committee on these points, said "the appointment of local superintendents had been the weak point in our system hitherto. Some of them, in communicating with the Department were in the habit of writing the personal pronoun with a letter i, and making similar mistakes. Others, however, he admitted, were highly qualified. He thought the Minister of Education should be a person who should soon have such a Minister—with the advice of the Council of Public Instruction, should make the appointments; and he would propose that these officers should be paid, one-half by the County Council, and one-half out of the public treasury. The minimum salary he would fix at $5 or $6 per school, instead of $4, as at present. The Department, with the assistance of these highly qualified superintendents, would then be able to prescribe the course of study in the schools." It was also brought out during the discussion that the superintendent was to give his whole time to the work, and that the qualification might be defined the same as in Pensylvania—"a person of literary and scientific acquirements, and of skill and experience in teaching." Dr. Ryerson insisted that the appointment should rest with the Government; otherwise the Government would not be responsible for the working of the system. They might be made by the Minister of Public Instruction, with the advice of the Council of Public Instruction, a non-political body. After a good deal of discussion over the point, as to what body should appoint the County Superintendent, it was moved and carried that the County Superintendent should be nominated by the County Council, from those holding certificates of qualification from the Board of Public Instruction, and shall be appointed by the Governor in Council to hold office during pleasure.

SOUTH HURON ELECTION CASE

(From the Globe of Thursday.)

The Committee met yesterday at 10 o'clock. Counsel for both the sitting member and petitioner were present, as upon the previous day.

Dr. McMICHAEL proceeded to reply to the arguments urged by Mr Paterson on Tuesday. He considered first the objection taken as to the alleged contract between Mr. Carling and the Government, and contended that the Bonds—copies of which were filed—and to each of which Mr. Carling was a party, did not render the obligor a contractor within the scope of the statute. The words used in the Act (naming them) which defined what contracting relationship to the Government should render a candidate ineligible, did not—when rightly construed—take in the case of Mr. Carling. The whole tone of the enactment implied that some financial interest must be attachable to the aspirant for the seat to establish his noneligibility. There must be a money interest on the part of the obligor as well as to the Government. The reading of the Act indicated a bilateral and not a milateral phrase. Dr. McMichael cited several cases in support of his views. Then as to the charge of bribery, the learned Counsel contended that our Canadian Act having repealed the disqualifying English Act, by implication the effect of the Common Law, of which the last mentioned Act was merely declaratory, was also in effect extinguished. The Committee, he argued, had therefore no right to enter this charge, inasmuch as the statute gave the power of expulsion to the House. But even if the Common Law obtained as before, the rescinding of the English Act—which he confidently submitted it did not—even on that view he denied the right of the committee to take cognizance of the charge.

Mr. Gow—Well, Mr. McMichael, let me understand you thoroughly. Do you deny our right to entertain the charge of bribery against Mr. Carling, but not against Mr. Gibbons, if alleged?

Dr. McMICHAEL—Understand me. I deny the right of the Committee to deal with a charge of bribery as regards the admission of a contestant, such as Mr. Carling is, for a seat in parliament. I admit that you can, upon proof of individual cases of bribery, strike off vote after vote, and so upset an election; but I combat the idea that you can entertain a wholesale allegation of bribery on general grounds, such as my learned friend promulgates.

Mr. PATTERSON—We don't go upon general grounds. We adduce specific grounds, and support them by specific cases, as will be seen by reference to our affidavits. Moreover, we don't pretend to go into the question of bribery at the present time elaborately or thoroughly. We present the Committee what evidence we could hurriedly get, but sufficient to warrant the Committee in seriously entertaining the charge.

The CHAIRMAN—I don't think that we ought to trouble ourselves much about these affidavits, for there is not a member in the House, I apprehend, against whom depositions of a like nature might not be obtained. With respect to the argument against the lists, I am inclined to the belief that Mr. Patterson's objection per se is fatal enough. The only difficulty, and I must say that it is a serious one, towards its acceptance by us is, that Mr. Gibbons is too late in making it. The raising of an objection of this nature, and at this stage of the proceedings, is most inconsistent with his two years occupancy of the seat.

Mr. Gow held a different opinion. It was obviously not for Mr. Gibbons to attack his own position.

Mr. PATTERSON.—In the strict legal construction Mr. Clark must know that such an argument as he now promulgates is of the crudest and most obsolete description. Then view it in a mere social light, and the greatest tyro in such matters will admit that it would have been the height of silliness for Mr. Gibbons to say, 'Although I feel confident that you have obtained bad votes in a variety of ways; although I have proof of bribery on your part; and although I know that you are legally disqualified from sitting, inasmuch as you are a Government contractor; yet, because I am aware (if you choose to assume that we were aware at the time) that defective lists have been used, I will resign my seat and allow my constituents to be unfairly represented.' This is practically the procedure which you would inculcate as being the correct one to be pursued by us.

Dr. McMICHAEL recapitulated his arguments against the bribery objections, and contended in any case there was no sufficient basis eliminated by the affidavits to ground the charge. They were vague and pointless, and educed nothing for the Committee to deal with. Mr Gibbons had the right to attack the votes individually, on the ground of particular instances of bribery, as contained in those alleged defective lists, but not by a general accusation against the petitioner, and so against the lists, in to. Many of the votes in those lists must be good; and is the mere fact that they are defective to disfranchise the voters? Does the fact the defective lists are used in one or two townships invalidate an election; or does it not render scrutiny by the committee of the alleged bad votes the only thing necessary? The learned counsel contended that the latter was the correct course.

Mr. PATERSON then proceeded to reply to Dr. McMichael's arguments. He would say—he said—take them up in the order in which his learned friend dealt with them. He then read the words in the statute referred to by Dr. McMichael, as bearing on the question of contract or non-contract by Mr. Carling, viz.: 'holding or enjoying, undertaking or executing.' These, he went on to show at great length, were comprehensive in the fullest sense, and not having merely a bilateral effect, as contended by his learned friend, but also unilateral. The word—'contract'—was sometimes used in a popular sense, and not in a strictly legal one. It might, therefore, be argued, that it was to be construed so in this instance and under this statute; but fortunately we were not left to conjecture herein, for the statute adds an explanatory and broader term, viz., 'agreement.' The statute reads "contract and agreement," so that our case is taken in even by the very "letter" of it. Mr. Patterson then proceeded to attack the alleged analogy of the Maidstone case, (a decision of an English Election Committee cited by Dr. McMichael,) as viewed by Mr. McMichael. He reviewed this and other cases cited by the latter, and quoted other authorities bearing more appositely on the point at issue. This decision in the Maidstone case, he argued, when rightly viewed and properly construed, was in favour of his client. Mr. Patterson went into an elaborate discussion of the various cases which bear on the point, together with statute, and showed the result of the majority of opinions. As to the decisions of election committees, however, with all due deference, he would submit that they are not considered authority in any of the Courts. It is not usual to quote them as authoritative, although in one case he had found that a decision of such a committee was cited in England, but was ignored by the Courts.

The CHAIRMAN—Have we not the same right? We can ignore their decision.

Mr. PATTERSON—Of course; I don't controvert that idea. To proceed, however, Dr. McMichael contended that the committee had no right to entertain or be guided by the common law. This is a prima facie absurdity; for this committee is created by statute, as well as are the Courts, whose judgments undeniably conform to the common law, unless there moulded by statute

Dr. McMICHAEL—What I contended was, that in this particular case the common law should not enter into the deliberation of the Committee; not that as a general principle the idea was irrefragible.

Mr. PATTERSON—Very well, then we

on. In England, the statute repealed the Common Law; but when that repeal was taken off, I submit that the Common Law was—as it were—elastic and broad, resumed in fact its prestine power. Now, this being the case, then how much more so must it be with us here where the statute is not rescindatory, but declaratory. The doctrine as laid down in a case cited by my learned friend (naming it), is, that the statute gives fuller effect, if anything, to the Common Law, and completely knocks on the head my learned friend's argument, that any details not tabulated and set forth by statute, though formerly obtained under the Common Law, must become obsolete. Then as to my learned friend's query, "What if a man bribed voted for the opposite party, would that constitute bribery against the briber?"—I say, most decidedly, "yes." Again, as to the argument generally, that the committee have no right to deal with these objections of mine, I may just say that there is really no authority whatever for such contentions. Now, as to the allegation that our affidavits are insufficient, pray understand my explanation. This is our position. We do not say that we have proved Mr. Carling guilty of bribery. We say that in case the committee decide against us on other points, we crave leave to go into an examination of the facts as to bribery, and to be furnished with the proper facilities for producing oral evidence thereon, and we show by our affidavits good foundation for asking that leave.—We can't produce before you Mr. Carling's affidavit establishing his own acts of bribery; but we can, if allowed and provided with the necessary machinery, compel him to appear before you and subject him to question under oath, and the facts as brought out in our affidavit will fully warrant such procedure. We come now to the objection as to the lists. My learned friend says that we are taking the wrong course. We should, says he, in effect, go into a scrutiny of the votes rendered bad through bribery and not urge a general accusation of bribery. But my learned friend forgets, for per adventure he does it knowing that the committee have prescribed us in the premises, have said that they will not allow us to scrutinize Mr. Carling's bad votes. But aside from this the argument is unsound. The whole thing is in a nutshell. These statutes before me give us the power to hold the election, and upon their existance do we depend for our authority for holding election at all.—They define, also, the form and mode of procedure thereat and therein, therefore, we shall find words to guide us. Mr. Patterson then read over the various applicable sections, and showed that the procedure as laid down had not been complied with as far as regarded the township of Stanley. Very well, then, he went on to say—if you can hold the election valid and omit Stanley all together your objection a good, but not otherwise, for Stanley remains under the statute unprosecuted.—Then the lists are prima facie evidence of their internal truth; unless contradictory evidence is adduced, and such evidence my learned friend has not put in. Therefore I submit that the election is legally invalid.

The Committee then adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning, when they will deliberate upon the arguments of counsel.

A Maniac Alarms a Boarding House.

On Sunday night, a scene which may truly be described as "terrible," as long as it lasted, occured in the Robinson House, Bay Street. About half-past two o'clock, one of the boarders was awakened by somebody kicking at his door, and was saluted by a series of shouts, which alarmed the whole of the inmates. The person who created the alarm cried out in broad Scotch accents, which resounded throughout the house, 'I am Jesus Christ. I have the power to kill. Come out of this room, on my soul; I will strike you dead as you sleep.' He then rambled on in an extraordinary manner about 'damnation,' 'hell-fire,' spiritual life,' and things of that sort. He stated how he had wandered in this city of Toronto, and found nowhere to lay his head until he came to the Robinson House, when he was charitably allowed to sleep there. He added that he had paid his a-dollar—not as board, but as a token of his presence among them. He then required his supposed 'son' to open the door, but the 'son' didn't see it, and remained obstinately silent, when the maniac, still shouting and vociferating, said if he did not at once open the door he would strike him dead in his bed. Other lodgers came in for sentence, and most of them were ordered to die, but didn't. By this time several of the boarders had come out, and were descending the stairs to see the cause of all this hubbub, when the lunatic commanded them to desist, and said, if one of you dares to move I will strike him dead. One of the foremost, a Mr. Sharp, apparently the most courageous of the party, proceeded to descend, when with stentorian voice the man cried "you are dead! Don's move! Close your eyes; you are dead!" Not satisfied with this he proceeded to kill them off without benefit of clergy and seemed astonished that they all remained alive despite his commands. At logth, after considerable time had elapsed, the poor fellow insisted upon being led into the street, and with much reluctance Mr. Matthews was compelled to let him go. This singular affair has created quite a stir in the neighborhood, and occasioned an amount of excitement and speculation as to who the poor fellow may be. He was afterwards arrested by the police—Telegraph.

SUGGESTED ALTERATION IN THE MUNICIPAL ACT.—Petitions are now being circulated in Toronto for signature for presentation to the local parliament, praying for changes in the municipal act, with respect to the municipal election. The changes asked for are: First, that the law may be so altered, that the election of mayors in cities may be made, not by the aldermen, as at present, but by the annual vote of the duly qualified municipal electors as formerly. Second, that the whole board, or council of aldermen, may retire annually, and be subjected to re-election, or rejection, as formerly; and not that one third should retire annually, as at present. And lastly, that the present high rate of qualification for municipal electors be reduced to the former standard; to the end, that the large class of valuable and intelligent ratepayers, who have been disfranchised by the present law, may have their franchise privilege restored.

It will be a curious rebuke to the old partizans, who called him un-English, and an enemy to the Empire, to find that his influence will then be imperial, and so happily used as to unite all parts of the Empire in closer and nobler bonds of interest and of love.

OUR RICH MEN.

From the New York Star.

There are three men in this city whose aggregate wealth is not less than two hundred million dollars. There are at least a thousand others who are worth upwards of a million dollars each. These men have the power, through their money, to make cheerful and comfortable the home of every poor family in New York. The wealth held by them is equal to about $1-500 for every person on this island, or about eight thousand dollars for every family. These figures tell their own story about what our millionaries might do, but how different is that from what they actually do!

The three very rich men alluded to are Astor, Stewart and Vanderbilt. The income of each one of these men averages, perhaps, ten thousand dollars per day. It is absolutely impossible for them to spend more than a very small fraction of their enormous incomes, and their immense wealth is therefore daily growing larger and larger. Well, how do these men follow the Scriptural injunctions about giving to the poor? Astor owns fifteen hundred dwelling houses, half of them tenement houses, and is responsible more than any other men in New York, for the outrageous rents that are now extorted from the hard earnings of the poor. Astor practically controls the market in the matter of house rents. The smaller landlords are guided by him. If he puts prices up a notch, every other rent extortioner quickly follows, and thus it is to him that blame mainly attaches for the outrageous and unwarranted rents that we are now obliged to pay. So much for Astor's doing good with his wealth. Stewart is a meaner man than Astor. He is the hardest task master in New York, and grinds down his employees in a shameful manner. Whoever heard of his doing a good or generous thing? Vanderbilt owns, in great part, three or four of the best railroads in this country. Not long since he was elected President of the New York Central Road, and the first thing he did was to order a ruinous reduction in the wages of the poor employees. He is eighty years old, but, like Astor and Stewart, his whole soul is wrapped up in his wealth, and he thinks only of making his money pile higher.

The thousand other millionaires, with very few exceptions, are just such men as the three we have mentioned. They are all sordid avaricious men. Money is their deity and that alone they worship. They are all counterparts of the rich man spoken of in the Bible, and if they don't ultimately sweat like that individual, they won't get their deserts.

THE EXACT TRUTH.

Two young masons were building a brick wall—the front wall of a high house. One of them, placing a brick, discovered that it was a little thicker on one side than on the other.

His companion advised him to throw it out. "It will make your wall untrue Ben," said he.

'Pooh' answered Ben, 'what difference will such a trifle as that make? You're too particular.'

'My master,' replied his companion, 'taught me that 'truth is truth,' and ever so little an untruth is a lie, and a lie is no trifle.'

'O,' said Ben, 'that's all very well; but I am not ing, and have no intention of doing so.

'Very well; but you make your wall tell a lie and I have somewhere read that a lie in one work, like a lie in his character will show self sooner or latter, and bring harm if not ruin.'

'There is in that case,' answered Ben, and he walked away, laying more bricks, and carrying the wall up higher, till the close of the day, when they quit work and went home.

The next morning they went to resume their work when behold, the lie had wrought out the result of all lies! The wall getting a little slant from the untrue brick, had become more and more untrue as it got higher, and at last in the night had toppled over obliging the masons to do all their work over again.

Just so with ever so little an untruth in your character—it grows more and more untrue if you permit it to remain, till it brings you low and ruin.

A story is told of a Scotch dog which, whenever a penny was given him, used to go and give to a baker with the coin in his mouth, then, on dropping it, the baker would give him a penny roll. On one occasion the baker cheated him, taking his penny but only giving him a half-penny roll—and then the dog went and fetched a policeman! It should be remembered, however, that it was a Scotch dog. Another case of canine instinct may be given. A lady in London had a favourite poodle, which carried her letters from the postman to a corner in the lady's parlor. On one occasion the lady, to her astonishment observed her favourite dog putting the only letter it carried into the fire, instead of putting it on the couch. Amazed she rushed forward and rescued the letter, although partly half burned; and, lo and behold, it was a dog-tax schedule!

TWO QUESTIONS EASILY ANSWERED.—Why should men wear beards? Because they are a great protection to the throat and lungs, and add much to their personal appearance.

Why should we use "Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers?" Because when used for coughs, colds, tickling in the throat, Hoarseness, &c., they act like a charm. Ministers & Lawyers use them, physicians recommend them, and singers and public speakers say they are the very best medicine in existence for the cure of such complaints. Sold by all medicine dealers, at 25 cts per box.

CHEAP MUTTON.—The Cleaveland Leader, of the 20th inst., tells us that a singular sale was made in that city the day previous, in which J. Harah, Esq., sold to Case & Sholl, packers, 5,250 sheep, for five cents per head, the seller retaining the hides, and the purchasers slaughtering the animals. Who ever heard of mutton being so cheap before? It is said that large quantities of sheep are being slaughtered, as, on account of the scarcity of fodder, they will not pay for wintering. Carcasses are sold in the Cleaveland market at from forty to sixty cents each.

DECEMBER

THE discovery of many copies of the Holy Scriptures has established the purity of the text of the sacred law; the discovery of the laws of Motion and Gravitation has almost perfected Mechanical Philosophy; the discovery of the circulation of the blood has accomplished in Anatomy what is at last accomplished in Hygeine by the Great Shoshonees Remedy, which has so often checked the inroad of those lung diseases of the throat which imprudence and exposure have united to make so common.

MOTHERS, READ THIS!—HOLLOWAY'S WORM LOZENGES are a certain and safe remedy for Worms in Children and Adults—As it is a well-known and melancholy fact that one great cause of death among children is from Worms alone, it cannot be too deeply impressed upon the minds of parents the necessity of closely watching their children. By so doing, and understanding the symptoms and true cause of the disease, thousands of children might be saved from early graves. SYMPTOMS OF WORMS:—The following are a few of the very numerous symptoms and diseases which are caused by Worms: Deranged appetite, emaciated extremities, offensive breath, frequent picking at the nose, grinding of the teeth during sleep, hardness of the belly, with frequent slimy stools, and sometimes convulsive fits; pain in the head and stomach, unquiet sleep, faintings, trembling, doughs, indigestion, low spirits, frightful dreams, and a gradual wasting away of flesh.

They are palatable and self-administered to the child—drive out the worms thoroughly without pain and completely cleanse the stomach—thereby doing away with the necessity of administering Castor Oil or other unpleasant cathartics—as is the use of other Worm Medicines.

☞ Each box contains the fac-simile signature of NORTHROP & LYMAN, Newcastle Ontario, who are the sole proprietors.
