M. Sweetnam, Reeve of Guelph Township, Elected Warden.

The newly elected County Council met in the Court House at half-past two this afternoon. Mr. John Beattie, Clerk, called the Council to order. After the roll had been called, the Clerk asked for nominations for Warden.

Moved by J. Robinson, seconded by John Mutrie, that Mr. Mathew Sweetnam be Warden.

Moved in amendment by John Darroch, seconded by Wm. Rae, that John W. Burt be Warden.

The amendment was lost and the motion carried.

Mr Beattie then declared Mr Sweetnam elected Warden.

Mr Sweetnam on taking the chair, briefly thanked the Council for the honour they had done him in electing him to preside over their deliberations for the year. He hoped that this Council would give him every assistance and co-operation in carrying out the duties of Warden.

The Council then adjourned until ten o'clock to-morrow.

A Lighthouse Mystery.

MORGAN CITY, La., Jan. 25.—Last week two assistant lighthouse keepers at Steep Shoal station on the gulf of Mexico went to Chafalga bayou for provisions. They did not return and Third Assistant Veech seeing a boat that he thought belonged to the lighthouse rowed out to it. He found a stranger in the boat and asked him how he came by it. He could not explain and Veech took the man to the lighthouse. During the night the stranger attempted to kill Veech and the chief keeper Dunn, but was finally made a prisoner, bound and taken to Michigan City. Veech was terribly injured about the head. The first and second assistants have not been heard of and it is thought the stranger murdered them both.

Count Von Hatzfeldt, Count Karoly and M. Waddington, the German, Austrian and French Ambassadors respectively, had a lengthy conference with Lord Salisbury Monday for the purpose of considering measures to prevent warfare in the east.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

The Government About to Tackle the Irish Question.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—In the House of Commons this afternoon the Right Hon. Robert Rourke, political secretary of the Foreign Office, in answer to enquiries regarding the warlike news from Greece, said that at the instance of England the six great Powers notified Greece yesterday that a naval attack by Greece upon Turkey would not be permitted.

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach said the Government had no intention of abandoning control of the Irish Constabulary.

Mr. Hunter (Liberal member for North Aberdeen) moved an amendment to the address in reply to the Queen's speech, denouncing the Government for having used the revenue of India to carry on the Burmese war.

In the House of Lords this afternoon the Earl of Kilmorey (Conservative) moved the abolition of the office of Viceroy of Ireland.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—It is stated that the Government will probably deal with the Irish question before taking up the proposed amendments to the procedure rules. This statement has caused surprise. It has been generally understood that the Government would seek defeat by forcing the House of Commons to act on the amendments, the Ministry according to report being afraid to face the Irish issue just now.

The Irish Conservative members of the House of Commons met at the Carlton club to-day and arranged to hold weekly meetings to discuss the best means of supporting the union between Great Britain and Ireland, and of upholding law and order in the latter country.

A SMASH ON THE NORTHERN.

One Man Killed and one Fatally Injured.

NEWMARKET, Jan. 25.—At 6 o'clock this evening a wild cat engine and tender passed through Newmarket going north. At the same time the regular mail train left Holland Landing coming south. Two miles north of here at Lundy's bridge the engine and train collided. The wild cat engine rebounded 20 feet, wrecked. The engine and tender on the mail were forced through the express car, smashing the contents and throwing Messenger Stinson into the baggage car. He sustained little injury. The fireman on the mail train was attending to the fires and was knocked down and instantly killed. His name is Wm. Little, Toronto. Harry McCuaig, fireman of the wild cat, had both his legs broken and is otherwise injured and scalded. He can hardly survive. Alfred Long, the engine driver, received severe injuries but it is thought he will get over them all right. None of the passengers or other hands were injured beyond a severe fright and shaking up. Several doctors from here were quickly on the spot. Wm. Mulock, M.P., pressed a conveyance into service, and after procuring some necessary stimulants was early at the scene. The engines are total wrecks.

When the news of the disaster reached Toronto, the railway officials dispatched a train to bring in the passengers and men to clear away the wreckage. A relief train from Allandale was on the spot inside of an hour. It seems that the light engine had been undergoing repairs in Toronto and Engineer Long was ordered to run her north avoiding all regular trains. He took on water at Aurora without reporting at the station and ran through Newmarket without stopping. Long and McCuaig live at Allandale.

GREECE SPLUTTERING.

The Little Power Wants to Fight Everything.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—The Greek Government, in reply to the note of the Marquis of Salisbury, says the representations of England infringe on international and diplomatic observance, and declares that Greece reserves perfect freedom of action, and further says that Greece has not declared war, nor has she given cause for England to interfere regarding her attitude. Bulgaria having violated the Treaty of Berlin under the ægis of England, Greece is justified in using every means in her power and even to resort to arms, if necessary, to obtain the concessions the Treaty of Berlin gave her. Greece will maintain her claim to Thessaly and Epirus, no matter what the cost may be, and is prepared to take the field at the earliest moment and fight to the bitter end in support of her rights. She is confident of success. The first movement of Turkish troops against Greece will be the signal for a revolt in Albania and Macedonia, and Europe will not look placidly on.

The North German Gazette says: "The attitude of England with regard to the warlike position assumed by Greece towards Turkey must be vigorously supported. The Powers must not allow that small fire brand to startle or jeopardize the peace of Europe."

THE TRAGEDY NEAR THOROLD.

No Clue to a Solution of the Mystery.

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Jan. 25.—The inquest on the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bates was continued to-day. Dr. Wm. McClure, who made the post mortem examination, explained the nature of the injuries of the old woman, Mrs. Bates having been 60 years of age. The fractured skull, which was enough to result in death, and other injuries on Mrs. Bates' person were caused by some blunt instrument. A large number of witnesses were examined, but beyond the fact that the deceased had not been on good terms with his landlord, James Dougherty, and that the latter had been heard to threaten the old man, very little of importance was elicited. The inquest will be resumed on Friday.

To Be Amnestied.

MONTREAL, Jan. 25.—The Star to-night says:—"The Star is in a position to state, on the authority of a Cabinet Minister, that between the present time and the opening of the Parliament a general amnesty will be granted to the halfbreeds now undergoing terms of punishment for complicity in the late Northwest rising."

Guelph Daily Mercury

TUESDAY EVE'G JAN. 26, 1886.

The Early Closing Movement.

Those young gentlemen and their employers who have been endeavouring to establish a uniform early closing hour in Guelph should feel encouraged by the action of the clergymen of Woodstock, who have just informed the citizens of that place that they desire to "secure an earlier closing of shops Saturday nights, in order that all persons may have a chance of being rested and prepared for the duties and privileges of the Sabbath." The clergy of any town or city could do much good, not merely to the overworked store clerks and proprietors, but to the church and the public, by educating their people into a proper sense of what is due their fellow creatures, and teaching them to have all their business and purchases accomplished in decent hours. Purchasers, especially lady purchasers, who linger in the stores till half-past ten o'clock are apt to forget that the wearied clerks have still to reduce chaos to order, and have everything ready for opening on Monday as smart as if the shelves had never been touched. It is not the store keepers who are at fault. They are just as anxious to get to their homes as their employees. It is the purchasing public who are responsible, who probably act as they do more from lack of thought than from necessity. In an industrial community, pay day is generally on Friday or Saturday, and the invariable rule is for purchasers to go down town on Saturday night, and make the rounds of the stores. Many there are who, because of family and other cares, cannot find time during the week to go and see the sights which modern enterprising merchants provide for their gaze, whether they purchase or not; and it would be a pity to deprive those of enjoying their rationally spent Saturday night. But if the stores closed at 9 o'clock, even this large class in the community need not be put about, for there is plenty of time between seven and nine o'clock for either purchasing or sight-seeing. And what a relief it would be to the shop girls who have to be on their feet from early morn till late at night! The Woodstock clergymen are engaged in a good work. We hope they will be able to convert all their congregations to the views set forth by them, and that the clergy of Guelph will inaugurate a similar movement here. Should they be successful, we predict that the preponderance of ladies in the morning congregations would be better supported by the masculine members.

A Heavy Indictment.

A recent issue of the Globe contained a condensed indictment of the misdoings of Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues which is worth preservation for purposes of reference during the next general elections. It is as follows;

"THE PEOPLE OF CANADA,
"Plaintiffs,
"SIR JOHN MACDONALD & Co.,
"Defendants.

"THE CHARGE.

"Gerrymandering 55 Ontario constituencies.
"Appointing partizan returning officers.
"Oaderdonk, Section B, and miscellanous contract jobbery.
"Taxing the necessaries of life.
"Grant to the C. P. R. to the amount of $170,000,000.
"A loss of population four times greater than ever occurred before.
"Seizing Ontario's territory and plundering her timber districts.
"Usurping the licensing power.
"Burdening the charitable organizations and municipalities, and robbing the workingmen by means of assisted immigration.
"Corrupting the press at the rate of $200,000 per annum.
"Seizing Provincial railways.
"The Bribery Conspiracy.
"Increasing the annual expenditure from $22,000,000 to $35,000,000.
"A deficit of $4,000,000.
"Increasing the public debt from $175,000,000 in 1878 to $300,000,000 in 1885.
"Placing the voters' lists in the hands of partizans.
"Responsibility for a rebellion, costing 200 lives and $8,000,000.

THE DEFENCE.

"Hanged one rebel."

The Globe might add to the defence that the one man hanged to exculpate was, according to the Minister of Agriculture, a lunatic.

THE St. John Globe contains the following criticism of Mr. Blake's banquet speech:—

"Mr. Blake has lifted Canadian politics to their highest level by his great speech of Thursday night, and honest men everywhere will feel that in the hands of such a man the destinies of the country will be safe. No matter what the temptation to secure power by the secession to him of the French-Canadian Conservatives who are dissatisfied with their leader, they can only be accepted by entering the Liberal ranks and accepting the policy of that party. 'I do not propose to construct a political platform out of the Regina scaffold, or to create or cement party ties out of the blood of the condemned.' This is hopeful language for the future of our country, if the country is to have a future at all. If not, those who have done their duty have the consciousness of faithfully performed duty, let the consequences be what they may. Mr. Blake's speech will not please those members of the Conservative party who look upon their control of affairs as necessary because it enables them to dispose of the public money and public offices; and possibly it will not please those Conservatives who are in arms against their party leader because he hung Riel, but they will satisfy all who feel that principles are greater than individuals; they will satisfy the patriotic instincts of all honest Canadians, whether Conservatives or Liberals."

SHILOH'S CURE will immediately relieve Croup, Whooping Cough and Bronchitis. Sold by A. B. Petrie.

OUR local contemporary is not better than any other Tory organ. It noticed a lie in the Mail regarding the MERCURY, and although it knew it to be such, deliberately copied it.

M. DE LESSEPS, nowise disheartened by what is now largely believed to be the enormous mistakes and disappointments of the Panama Canal scheme, is stated to be preparing to form a company to let the Atlantic Ocean into the desert of Sahara, thus forming a vast inland sea in the North of Africa. It is not probable that he will find French capitalists or the French Government very eager to participate in his new enterprise. Scalded cats dread even cold water.

EDMONTON Bulletin:—The Northwest Council shot rather wide of the mark in declaring in the address in reply, that the efforts of the Indian Department officials last spring prevented the rising from being general. In the three agencies in this vicinity the officials very sensibly occupied themselves in attending to the safety of their families. What ever little soothing of irritation was done—at Bears' Hill, Lac Ste. Anne and Whitefish Lake—was done through the medium of the Hudson's Bay Company and certain half-breeds. Honour were honour is due.

THE Mail has a special correspondent in the Northwest investigating the Indian problem. The general purport of his letters is that the Indians are uneasy, that there are a number of circumstances that might at any moment precipitate a conflict with white settlers or the Mounted Police and lead to an Indian war, and that the country should be prepared for an outbreak. The tone of the Mail upon this question is in marked contrast to its utterances one year ago, when it ridiculed the predictions of a rising that came so soon. To be forewarned ought to be forewarned.

HAMILTON Times:—The Guelph Herald is a Tory paper too set in its way to be diverted from its Nor'-east course of any talk of deficits. Our intelligent contemporary remarks: In 1885 the revenue of the Dominion did not diminish in comparison with that of the previous year. The following table will show this," and then it proceeds to quote the revenue returns for Great Britain and Ireland, showing a total of £87,579,543 for 1885 against £85,509,883 for 1884. Certainly an original way to prove the existence of a surplus in the Canadian treasury.

THE Duke of Argyle does not hold the same views about imperial federation as does his illustrious son, our late Governor-General. Referring to the cry for Home Rule for Ireland, and the propriety of granting some similar measure of self-government as that enjoyed by Canada and other independent colonies, the Duke, in a recent letter to the London Times, says: "Do not let us be led away by false analogies. Our relations with the colonies have nothing to do with it (the question of Home Rule for Ireland). Those of them to whom self-government has been committed are virtually independent States. Nothing but bonds of sentiment unite us, together with some, I hope, growing feelings of a common interest. These, in time, may produce a Federal constitution of some sort. But the inexorable conditions of physical geography, as well as social and economic differences of condition, forbid that, in the strictest and fullest sense, we can ever form with them one government. The same inexorable conditions of physical geography are reversed in the case of Ireland, and absolutely demand there a kind and a measure of connection which is impossible farther off." His Grace has packed a good deal of sound sense into these few lines. It is evident that the Duke of Argyll places little faith in Imperial Federation.

The Scott Act and Taxation.

To the Editor of the MERCURY.

SIR,—As the Scott Act will, by some people, be held responsible for any increase in taxation for the current year it may be well for the ratepayers to know to what extent, at the very outside, the rate need be advanced on account of the loss of revenue from licenses, &c. As stated in your issue of 31st Dec., the City has annually received and retained about $3,500 from tavern and shop licenses. As the licenses extend to the 1st of May there should, properly speaking, be only two thirds of this amount charged as a direct deficit for this year, but, for argument's sake, we will suppose the full amount to be lost to the city. The assessment is $3,089,970, and the rate last year was 10 mills in the dollar. It will be seen then that a rate of less then one and one sixth mills on the dollar will be sufficient to raise this $3,500. It may be said, perhaps, that the hotel property has depreciated in value, and hence less taxes will be received thereon, but this objection does not hold good, at present at anyrate, as the hotels are assessed as high as last year. The total assessment of hotel property in the city is $111,900. At 20 mills on the $ the total taxes on hotel property would amount to only $2,238 while the total City taxes would be at the same rate $61,324.80. In other words hotel property pays less than 1 cent in every twenty-five cents of taxes paid into the City treasury. Suppose, then, the hotel property were utterly destroyed the City would lose in taxes $2,238 and in licenses $2500, or a total of $5,738. But, as mentioned in the letter of 31st December, the people of Guelph lose in these hotels every year about $63,992, and they can therefore very well afford to lose the entire hotel taxes and licenses and pocket the remaining $58,000 which they will not be permitted to spend in taverns. Of course this is taking for granted the $3500 will be a direct loss to the City without any equally direct compensation. There can be no doubt, however, that the demands for charity upon the City treasury will be fewer and less urgent, that less property will be stolen and fewer crimes committed by parties under the influence of liquor and that less expense will be incurred in the prosecution of criminals. In the report of the Chief of Police, dated January 18th, 1886, it will be noticed that there were 284 arrests made by the police in 1885. Of these 124 were drunks, 40 vagrancy and 32 disorderly. Of the latter two classes it is probable the majority so arrested were reduced to vagrancy or rendered disorderly from the effects of drink, and it would not, perhaps, be going too far to say that fully two thirds of the 284 were brought to the lock up through drink. In addition to all this the City has to support its paupers when sent to the poorhouse, some of whom are also sent there on account of drink.

If the bar-room loungers were to spend their surplus (?) cash in purchasing building lots and erecting thereon comfortable cottages for themselves and families it would be much better for themselves, the City treasury and the public generally

Won't it involve a great deal of expense to enforce the Scott Act? Certainly not. We have all the necessary machinery in operation now, and if the police force only perform their duty as efficiently in carrying out provisions of the Scott Act as in enforcing the other laws in the statute book there need not be any additional expense whatever incurred. On the other hand the fines levied for infractions of the Act will help to fill the City treasury.

That Excessive Expenditure

To the Editor of the MERCURY:—

SIR,—Will you allow me space for a brief reply to the letter of "A Taxpayer," which appeared in your columns a few days ago. The item in the statement of expenditure of the Guelph High School for 1885, to which he refers, viz., "Books and stationery, $259.92," should more properly have been "Books, stationery and apparatus." When steps were being taken to have the High School raised to the rank of a Collegiate Institute it was found necessary to have a large additional supply of chemical and physical apparatus, and this item absorbed at least four-fifths of the above mentioned sum. One invoice of apparatus alone amounted, without counting express and other charges, to $182. The books purchased during the year were not very numerous, and were altogether for the High School Library, which, under the recent Regulations of the Educational Department, must contain books to the value of at least $450, a point which has not been reached. The sum allowed for several years in the High School estimates for books and stationery has been $100, but in 1885 not more than half that sum was expended for these.

Yours, etc.,
W. TYTLER, Head Master.

A REMARKABLE SUIT.

A New Brunswicker Endeavours to Recover His Love-Gifts.

QUEBEC, Jan. 25.—Gustave Frigault, aged 40, of Grande Anse, N. B., loved and wooed Elizabeth Dorion, of about the same age. All moved smoothly until Frigault was obliged to spend several months in Quebec on business. Returning he found the lady had married during his absence a young farmer named Abear, and he at once brought suit to recover the following presents given to the lady during their courtship: 2 kerchiefs, 1 silver ring, 1 pair slippers, horse hire, ½ lb. candy, 1 lb. raisins and 2 lbs. cotton chain. The defendant entered a contra account for three gallons of oil used during courtship, and time lost by the lady's mother sitting at night, as she says, to watch the couple. Many witnesses were called on each side of the case, the principal being the girl's mother who testified to loss of oil, sleep, etc., also that the lady was entitled to the handkerchiefs as compensation for hemming two for him, he having given them to her in attached pairs which she cut in two, returning one to him in each case after having hemmed it. The case occupied all day, and after short deliberation the jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendant and relieved the lady of all charges on account of her old courtship.

Fatal Labour Riot.

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—Jacob Barth, Maxwell Bros' teamster, was assaulted by a crowd of strikers this morning. In the melee which followed Barth was shot three times, and will probably die. The police dispersed the mob and arrested Jack Clohessy, who is charged with the shooting.

Mr. James Innes, M.P., held the last of his present series of meetings in South Wellington, on Monday evening. They were held in the following order:—At the Town Hall, Rockwood, on Monday evening, the 18th inst., Mr. James W. The meetings were on the whole well attended, and the speaker discussed at some length the work of the last session and the leading political questions. At the close of the several addresses, resolutions were put and carried pretty much of the same character as the one passed at the Aberfoyle meeting, and which is as follows:—

Moved by Mr. Wm. Kerr, seconded by Mr. Malcolm McBeath, that the cordial thanks of this meeting are due, and are hereby tendered, to Mr. Innes for his calm, clear, and logical review of the acts and proceedings of the late session of the Commons of Canada; that we approve of the upright, manly course pursued by the loyal Opposition and their talented leader in opposing the passage of Sir John Macdonald's reprehensible Franchise Act, framed to sap the foundation of Responsible Government.

The Foes of a Household

CHAPTER V.

GUIDED BY CIRCUMSTANCES.

Her silence lasted so long that Moore began to speak again, saying—

"Helen, say something, or I shall think you are angry."

She put out her hand, and he clasped it firmly in his, as though to give her courage.

"Tell me something," he said again. "I am waiting to hear your voice."

"I cannot speak," she said, casting aside her wraps, as though they weighed upon her, and suddenly sitting up. "You said yourself just now that people cannot talk about such things, and I cannot tell you what I feel."

"Won't you try? Not everything, but just a little to give me an idea."

He was smiling and speaking softly and persuasively. Helen went on—

"I have been so unhappy here, and I think I was like a princess in a fairy tale, always looking for a deliverer. I thought sometimes someone would be sure to come, must come; it could not go on for ever. Sometimes things were so bad I feared that if they went on I should become hard and reckless, and take the first person who came, whether I cared for him or not, just to get away from here. But I could not. Last summer a man came and wanted to marry me, and I tried to accept him, but I could not. When it came to the point my courage failed, I could not do it, though both papa and mamma were angry with me. Then it was worse, because I knew that, unless some one came for whom I cared enough, I should never get away, and it would last all my life. All the men who came here liked Alice best, though neither did I care for them. I began to think it would be always so, and——

She paused, her lips trembling, her chest heaving. Percival, who had kept his hold on her hand, pressed it gently to reassure her, though he still said nothing. He wanted her to say all that was in her mind. But she said nothing more, and he at last repeated

"And now?"

But she was still silent. She had followed her first impulse and spoken out of the fulness of an overflowing heart; now she was ashamed and reticent. She would say no more, though as Percival continued to urge her she turned away, saying,

"I don't know."

"Well, I am going to imagine; you must stop me if I am going wrong. I shall suppose that after the rejection of this unwelcome suitor, who, I daresay, was an exceedingly worthy young man—I am going wrong already?" as he saw Helen's lips trembling into a smile.

"He was not young," she whispered.

"As I was saying, a very estimable elderly gentleman, you lost all hope until fate threw in your way an individual who, though neither handsome nor brilliant, nor in any way a favourite with nature, was fortunate enough to possess something in common with yourself—something which harmonised with your own nature. That will do, will it not, unless you care to add anything yourself?"

"Only that this same person was original enough to prefer a girl for whom no one else cared. I can hardly believe my own good fortune."

"Is it so very great?"

"Immense. I am only twenty. How am I to believe that to the end of my life, which may be a very long one, I am going to be perfectly happy?"

"Don't say that, Helen. When you say you can't believe it, it seems to imply that your past unhappiness has been so great as to kill in you all belief in a brighter future. I can't bear to think of it. You must consider that you have a right to happiness."

"I thought we agreed only the other day that people's rights were very limited, and that happiness was altogether a matter of conquest. However some people get what they have no right to and why should not we?"

"That is better."

They were silent for some time, and then Helen spoke, slowly and hesitatingly.

"I am afraid, after all, we have been rather hasty."

"How hasty?"

"You have not seen Alice. Suppose, when you do see her, you like her better than me."

Percival's face was both grave and a little severe as he said—

"You speak without reflection, Helen. Do you suppose I do not know my own mind, or that I have no more respect for you than to ask you to be my wife before I am certain if I love you? If you do not trust me it is a different thing, only you should have spoken before you told me you accepted and returned my love."

Her cheeks were crimson as she replied—

"You say hard things, and you think you have a right to say them. You think I am jealous, and I am only speaking from experience. You have never seen Alice and me together; you do not know how accustomed I am to see her preferred to me. You have never seen people pay me attention, and as soon as Alice came into the room, make some excuse for leaving me to go to her. I do not grudge Alice her many lovers. She may have a world full, so long as she leaves me my one. But I could never bear to hear the words that had once been said to me repeated to another woman. Rather than that, I would go through life without having a single such word spoken to me. You cannot understand it of course; you have never seen her; you do not know how, sooner or later, every man falls in love with her."

Percival had risen from his chair, and was walking up and down the room. All that Helen said showed so clearly what her training and life had been, and how her doubts and fears of herself had been created and fostered. His heart ached for her; how could he prove to her that her fears were unfounded. She herself opened the way for him.

"She is so beautiful," she said, half to herself; "and I know you admire beauty."

"Did no one ever call you beautiful?" he asked, abruptly, pausing in front of her couch.

"Never," shaking her head, with a smile. "I have been called 'nice looking,' and 'essentially ladylike,' and a few other things of the same kind, but never beautiful."

"You are quite sure; never even lately?"

"Yes, really now you mention it, I remember two or three people have told me that I am improving; it amused me very much."

"Well, don't you know what brought the 'improvement' about? Don't you see it came because you were happier, and you were happier because you had a good reason for being so? Now use your own judgment. Which do you suppose would have more attractions for me—a beauty which is there of itself, as one may say, for anyone to admire, which does not vary very much under any circumstances, about which all that could be said has been said, and which has been looked upon by all eyes and criticised by all tongues; or a beauty which I myself have called forth, which belongs to me alone, and which no one else perhaps would ever notice, because it would not exist for them—which beauty do you suppose I should value most?"

She was conquered, he could not doubt it, every feature in her face showed it. She could resist no longer, she was not proof against such flattery. Her whole being went out in response to him. Her love was patent as the sun in the clear September sky.

"Will you trust me now?" he asked after a pause.

"With my whole life," she replied, earnestly.

He had bent down and kissed her gently, and she received and returned his kiss gladly and proudly.

"When may I speak to your father?"

"Not yet, please. Let us have a little time to ourselves, before people begin to congratulate us and watch how we behave to one another in public. And then, I won't say anything more about Alice since you hate it so, but I should like her to be here when it is to be made known; it is a little bit of feminine weakness, which you must allow me. Promise you will say nothing about it till I tell you."

He promised, but they agreed that Dr. Hazlitt ought to be told.

So Percival told him on his way back to Brantwood, and the old gentleman received the news just as Percival had expected he would. He did not say much; little more than—

"You have won a treasure, lad, and see you keep it. Trust Helen entirely. She is as true as time, and will never fail you."

And to Helen he said—

"It is not to every man by a long way that I would have let you go; but you may trust Moore. He will never love any woman but yourself."

Guelph, August 27, 1885.

G. F. STERNE, ESQ., DEAR SIR—I wish to express to you my great satisfaction with the working of the Radiant Home stove I purchased of you. I used it during the severe winter of 1884-5 and found it all that it was recommended to be. I consider it the best and most economical stove I ever used. The "Duplex Grate" is a great improvement upon the old. After a winter's experience I can cordially recommend it for beauty, comfort and economy.

The Great Donation Sale.

Commencing January 13th, '86

Closing March 8th.

To every purchaser of Boots and Shoes, Overshoes and Rubbers to the amount of One Dollar I will give a picture of the President of the United States. I will donate the following presents on the above date, namely,

One Cabinet Sewing Machine, Valued	$85.00
One Dinner Set, 88 Pieces, Valued	15.00
One China Tea Set, Valued	10.00
One Pair Hand Sewed Boots, Valued	4.50

Remember I am noted for the Cheapest Boots and Shoes in Guelph. You will not pay one cent more for your goods than our Rock Bottom Prices, besides you will have the opportunity of participating in our Great Donation of Presents on the day we will declare whom these splendid Presents have been selected. For the last three months, every one of the High Price Boot and Shoe Merchants in our city have been making extraordinary efforts to draw a few straggling customers by advertising, while we have not had time to write advertisements, as our business has increased so rapidly that our time has been fully occupied attending to our numerous patrons. Note the place, and do not be led away by spurious offers of catch penny dealers, who will try everything to accomplish a sale. Our Goods are all new and not shelf worn. The Presents to be given away will be in my window on exhibition.

ST. ANDREW'S Church choir, Guelph, will give a grand organ recital in the Presbyterian Church, Rockwood, on Friday evening, 29th instant. In addition to the concert the Rev. J. C. Smith, of Guelph, and others will deliver addresses

ADMISSION 15c.—Refreshments served from 6:30 to 8 p.m. at the social and entertainment to be given in the lecture room of Dublin street Church to-morrow evening. Mr. T. H. Carson, Toronto's ventriloquist, will give a nine exhibition of "throwing the voice." Every one should see his dumb orators, and hear his wonderful imitations. d1

CHARITY.—Mr. D. R. Rowen has finished stock-taking, and finding that he has some lines of goods on hand which he does not want to carry over for another season has decided to give the poor of the city a benefit, and will distribute among them groceries, etc., as announced in his advertisement. This is a good move, and would be appreciated from others as well as Mr. Rowen.

SNOWSHOEING.—The Guelph Snowshoe Club intend having their first tramp of the season on Thursday evening. They will meet on St. George's Square at half past seven, and form into procession with torches. The route will be along Wyndham to Norfolk street, down Norfolk to Gordon street crossing, thence along the Waterloo Avenue to Sleeman's, where they will take to the fields.

LAST evening a number of the County Councillors, under the guidance of Ald. Skinner, chairman of the Fire and Water Committee, paid a visit to the Fire Hall, and were shown through the place. A couple of "quick hitches" and a drive around the Market Square were given. The Councillors expressed themselves as highly pleased with the efficiency of the brigade and thanked the "boys" for their exhibition.

SUBSTANTIAL THANKS.—Major Armstrong, Chief of the Fire Department, yesterday received from Hon. A. M. Ross, Provincial Treasurer, a cheque for $50, as a slight acknowledgment by the Government of the services of the Fire Brigade at the fire at the Agricultural College last September. The Chief has forwarded the following acknowledgment and thanks:

Guelph, Jan. 27, 1886.

On behalf of the Fire Brigade, Chief Armstrong returns thanks to the Treasurer of Ontario for the handsome donation of fifty dollars, in consideration of their services at the fire at the Agricultural College on September 29th, 1885.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH Y. P. A.—On Monday evening the Young People's Association of St. Andrew's Church, held their annual meeting for the election of officers and other business. There was a good attendance of members present. W. A. McLean, president, occupied the chair. After a very pleasing programme of vocal and instrumental music, readings, etc., had been gone through, the election of officers was proceeded with. The following is the result:—

Hon. President, Rev. J. C. Smith, B. D.
President, W. H. Brasbie.
Vice do., Geo. A. Griffin.
2nd Vice do., Miss McLean.
Secretary, Thos. Anderson.
Treasurer, Miss Anderson.
Executive Committe—Mrs. T. Hill, and Miss Kirkland, Messrs. W. A. McLean, C. Strachan, and Thos McCrae.

DR. LETT ON THE MIND.—There was a good attendance at the meeting of the St. George's Branch C. of E. Temperance Association in the large school room last evening. The proceedings commenced with a short religious service, after which some new members were added to the list. Dr. Lett, of Homewood Retreat, then gave a lecture on the "Phenomena of the Mind." The subject is a very abtruse one, but under the Doctor's management he made it exceedingly impressive as well as interesting. His description of the comparative effects on the character of a man and his success in life, from having a strong well balanced will, or a weak and easily impressed one, was very striking. His view also of the results of evil impressions, or good ones, in the formation of character were listened to with deep attention. Lectures by a gentleman so admirably qualified to dwell on these deep questions and make them popular are an intellectual treat of no ordinary character, and it is to be hoped that there will be a crowded attendance at his next lecture on the same subject. There were some pleasing songs well rendered ere the proceedings closed. A hearty vote of thanks was given to the Doctor for his lecture, and his promise to give another.

SKATING RACES.—Last evening, in the Speed Skating Rink, a large crowd congregated to witness the five mile and three mile skating races. The first event on the programme was the five mile. At 8:15 the rink was cleared and three contestants entered—W. Speight, Acton; J. Phalen, Fergus; and W. McCutcheon, Guelph. A good start was made, and for a short time the contestants kept well together, but before the first mile was done Speight and McCutcheon gained a lap on Phalen, and from that to the finish the race centred on Speight and McCutcheon. On the last mile some fine skating was done. On the 12th lap of the last mile McCutcheon spurted and passed his opponent, who, in endeavouring to make up what he had lost, unfortunately broke the heel plate of his skate, leaving McCutcheon winner by about two laps, Speight taking second money, Phalen being eight laps behind. The time was 20 minutes and 17 seconds. The second was a three mile race for which there were four entries—Lee, of Georgetown; Walters, Orangeville; Joe Bunyan, and J. Brandon, Guelph. This was a well contested race as well as amusing. The contestants passed and repassed each other several times, and, occasionally, to vary the proceedings, "took a tumble." The race was won by Lee. Bunyan was awarded second place on account of being fouled by Walters. Brandon dropped out of the race, having disabled himself by a fall. The one mile green race completed the evening's programme, and was one by F. Nelles, Herbert Pass second. The City Band as usual performed a number of first-class selections. Messrs. Sleeman, Watt and Smith acted as referees and judges.

TO-MORROW afternoon the County Council will visit the General and St. Joseph's Hospitals.

THE installation of officers for Wyndham Counsel of the Royal Arcanum, held last night, is crowded out to-day.

MESSRS KENNEDY'S and Congalton's rinks which won the Caledonian medal from Georgetown recently, play this evening a friendly match to see which is the the best.

DECAMPED.—J. Hicks, Orangeville, has been employed for some time past as a tea agent for Wm. Humphries, Paisley street, selling tea and collecting accounts About a couple of weeks ago he suddenly disappeared, and not turning up Mr. Humphries naturally became anxious, and set to work making inquiries as to how much money Hick's had collected. He found the sum to amount to close on $100, and placed the matter in the hands of the Chief of Police, who telegraphed to different places giving a description of the delinquent. Last night a telegram was received from Toronto stating that a man answering description of Hicks had been arrested there. This morning Chief Randall left to identify the man and, if the party, will bring him to Guelph to stand his trial.

NARROW ESCAPE.—Mr. Donald Mackenzie, section foreman of the Great Western Division of the Grand Trunk between Guelph and Elora, together with his son John and M. Sullivan, had a narrow escape on Monday afternoon from being run over by a freight train. They were ascending Dundas hill in a jigger, when a freight train suddenly approached them. The men jumped from the jigger and attempted to throw it from the track, but on account of the snow banks on each side they were unable to turn it off the track. Mr. Mackenzie, sr., after the others had given up the attempt still tried to throw the jigger from the track, and tarried so long that the train struck it, throwing the jigger and Mr. Mackenzie from the track. Mr. Mackenzie was severely injured, and it will be some weeks before he is able to be around again. It is a miracle that he escaped with his life.

Fergus Correspondence.

CURLING.—The Elora Club was beaten by Fergus on Tuesday last, in the Fergus rink, by 20 shots. As a consequence Fergus had to go to Berlin to play for the Tankard medal on Friday last. Two rinks went down. They drew a tie in the morning and so did not play. In the afternoon they were pitted against Guelph, and two excellent rinks Guelph had During the first half of the game Fergus led, Donaldson's rink having 12 to 4 for Congalton's, against whom he was playing, while Mr. Michie tied his opponent. At the twentieth end, Donaldson led by two shots, Mr. Michie still standing a tie. The last two ends, however, were in favor of Guelph. Donaldson's rink being two behind and Michie's four. We congratulate our men on their play. Though beaten by six shots they were ahead up to the twentieth end, and won 23 out of the 44 ends, Donaldson's rink winning 13 of his 22. Fergus has every reason to feel proud when we remember the men against it. The rink medal match is not yet finished. One rink from Fergus goes to Toronto on Wednesday to take part in the game there, Toronto and County York against a rink from all the clubs in Canada belonging to the Association.

ROLLERS.—The Polo game in the Roller Rink did not draw much of a crowd.

FAIR DAY.—There was a large number of cattle in last Thursday. Prices a little low. Cattle are selling lower than at this time last year.

CURLING STONES.—When our curlers left Berlin they neglected to get their curling boxes checked to Fergus. The stones were put off at Guelph. The curlers ordered them to be sent on as freight as they were driving. By some mistake the stones were expressed to Fergus and $2 charged. The curlers refuse to pay, saying they gave no orders to have them so sent. Result, a want of stones in the rink. The trouble will soon be settled, and the curlers will make sure of their baggage next time.

REFORM.—So far Dr. Wallace has not signified his acceptance of the Reform nomination. We think justice to himself and the party requires a decided answer. The question should not now be left uncertain. Steps are to be taken at once to have the Fergus voters' lists properly attended to.

STOLEN.—Wm. Dawson, cattle buyer, had a pair of mits taken out of his coat pocket one night last week. The mits were afterwards found in another man's possession and the party arrested.

RUN OVER.—A little boy hanging on to a sleigh was accidentally run over the fair day, but escaped severe injury.

ICE CARNIVAL.—The first carnival in the Skating Rink for this season came off Thursday night, and was a grand success in the number present, both as skaters and spectators. The ice was good. The barrel race was most amusing. It is a difficult matter for a big boy to crawl through a flour barrel in a hurry, and so the slim boy, Wat Spires, won the race. J. Mennie took first for fancy gent skating. The costumes were not so good as we have seen. The Band was present and all skaters and onlookers enjoyed the cold excitement.

RACE.—We are to have a skating race here a week from Thursday. Our man will be on hand against all comers. Speight and Dawson are expected. Black is in good trim, and will no doubt give a good account of himself.

CARNIVAL.—In the Roller Rink, on Friday night, a number of prizes will be given, and the Band is to be on hand.

FIRE.—MRS. Grieve's greenhouse was nearly completely destroyed Wednesday night of last week. Fortunately the fire did not get to the main building. The villagers turned out in good style and put an end to the fire with buckets of water, No fire engine here. Mr. Mullen's Church was nearly on fire on Sunday from one of the registers. The trouble was noticed in time to prevent damage being done.

ARMY.—One branch of the Gospel Army still lives here, whether it is doing any good or not we cannot say.

MELVILLE CHURCH.—Next Sabbath communion services will be held, union meeting in the evening. Friday next is preparation day. Preaching at 11 a.m.

WHY WILL YOU cough when Shiloh's Cure will give immediate relief. Price 10 cts. 50 cts., and $1. For sale by A. B. Petrie.

Opening of the Guelph Snow Shoe and Toboggan Club Slide.

The formal opening of the above slide took place last evening under the most favorable auspices. Long before the opening hour tobogganers, decked in their gay blanket costumes of red, white and blue (the Club colours) could be seen on many of our streets, all making their way to the point of attraction, which was clearly discernable as soon as the Gordon street crossing was reached, where the lights on the slide came into full view, affording such a grand panamoric view as we in the Royal City seldom have an opportunity of seeing. From the single light at the extreme top to the double lights at the very hollow, every one of the fifty could be easily counted. When President J. Davidson took up his position on the platform of the slide not less than three hundred members and their friends were assembled awaiting the opening. The President said that as the Honorary President, Mr. B. R. McConkey, was unavoidably absent, the duty fell upon him to open the slide, and in so doing it afforded him great pleasure. The Club was to be congratulated upon its success, and more especially the Managing Committee, who had worked hard to perfect the arrangements for conducting successfully this Club. They had a splendid natural slide, over 400 yards in length, and second to none in Canada, which in itself assured success. He hoped that no accident or anything tending to mar its pleasure would take place. The President then seated himself on his toboggan, and as he shot down the slide was sent along by a hearty cheer, and so the ball was set rolling in earnest. The scene about this time of the evening's programme was simply grand, and greatly admired by the spectators. To observe it with effect one required to stand a few yards from the head and about an equal distance from the side of the shoot. The starting shout, "Tally Ho," (or I'm coming) was heard at the top, and almost like a flash of the electric fluid (called lightning), so went the basswood board with its precious load, skimming along between the rows of lights taking an occasional bump, bump, then a flying jump, as it struck a slight rise in the surface of the snow, but by no means delaying its hasty flight, to allow the enquiring passengers an opportunity to ascertain the why or wherefore of such conduct until all had been landed safely at the terminus. Then the debate was fully entered into. "Thus went the mariner whom fate compelled to ride his barque on shore," every minute during the evening till "lights out" had sounded. It is most gratifying to know that such a gala night (as last most assuredly was) passed off without a single accident, and this, considering the large number present, reflects great credit on the management, whose chief aim is the safety of all. It is hoped that this exhilirating winter pastime, which not only affords pleasure to those participating in it, but greatly adds to their health, will be liberally patronized and encouraged by our citizens, who are always desirous of affording pleasure for our young people.

Waverly Lodge A. F. & A. M.

Last night, in the Masonic Hall, an installation of officers of Waverly Lodge No. 361, G. R. C., A. F. & A. M., took place by V.W. Chas. Pettiford and W. Bro. Anderson. The following are the names of the officers:—

The toasts of "Queen and Craft, Prince of Wales, G. M., of England," were drank with all honors. "The Grand Lodge of Canada" was replied to by Very W. Bro. Pettiford, W. Bros. McBean, Andersen, Bolton, Gemmell and Somerville. "Sister Lodges" by W. Bro. Mahoney, Bros. Humphries, Marshall, Lyon, of Halifax, and Orr, of Whitby. "Sister Societies" was replied to by Bros. Martin, Gummer, and Richardson. "The Army and Navy" found fitting respondents in W. Bro. Bolton, McBean and Bro. Ball. "Commercial Interests" by Bros. Anderson, Nelles and Spragge. "Agricultural Interests" by Bro. Burr. "Newly Elected Officers" by W. Bro. Petrie and others. "Retiring Officers" by Very W. Bro. Pettiford. "The Host and Hostess" by Mr. Ellis on behalf of himself and lady.

After the Junior Warden's toast "Happy to meet, sorry to part, and happy to meet again," and singing "Auld Lang Syne" and "God Save the Queen," the brethren dispersed, having spent a most enjoyable evening.

A PLEASING CORRECTION.—In the MERCURY of last week it was stated that Moses Smith, Winterbourne, was killed by the falling of a tree. Our informant was misinformed, and we are pleased to make the announcement that the young man, although severely injured, is doing well and on a fair way to recovery. Smith received a severe cut by the falling tree on one side of the head running from the front to the back, and a physician found it necessary to put nine stitches in this wound. Severe bruises were sustained on the other side of the head, besides having one of his legs broken in two or more places.

SALISBURY TOLD TO GO.

The House Adjourned Till Thursday.

THE "ALLOTMENTS" MOTION DID IT.

Parnellites Jubilant.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—Sir Michael Hicks-Beach gave notice in the House of Commons this afternoon that the Government would introduce on Thursday a bill to suppress the Irish National League and other dangerous societies, to prevent intimidation, protect life and property and maintain public order in Ireland. Sir Michael said he would ask the House to give the bill precedence. He added that this measure should be followed by a bill dealing with the Irish land question on the lines of policy indicated by the Land Purchase Act of last session.

The notice given by the Conservative leader of the Government's intention to introduce a bill to suppress the National League was greeted by the Parnellite members with cries of "cowards," "shame," and with ironical laughter, the uproar continuing for some minutes.

Mr. Jesse Collings, Liberal member for Ipswich, moved his amendment to the address on the subject of "allotments." The amendment, although strongly supported by Mr. Gladstone, was opposed by the Marquis of Hartington.

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach said that the Government would willingly accept the decision of the House, as they had assumed office with reluctance and would resign without regret.

The amendment was adopted by a vote of 329 to 250, the Government thus being defeated.

The result of the division was received by the Irish members with derisive cheers and cries of "Boycotted." The House, on the suggestion of Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, adjourned until Thursday.

Mr. Courtney, Sir John Lubbock and other moderate Liberals voted with the Conservatives. Mr. Gladstone, Mr. Trevelyan, Mr. Labouchere, Mr. Bradlaugh, Lord Richard Grosvenor and 73 Parnellites voted against the Government. Lord Hartington and Mr. Goschen abstained from voting. It is rumoured that Lord Hartington will refuse to enter the Cabinet under Mr. Gladstone, but will undertake to lead a separate party in opposition to Home Rule.

Mr Colling's amendment, on which the Government was defeated, expresses regret that no measures are announced in the Queen's Speech for the relief of the sufferers by the depression in trade and agriculture, particularly in regard to affording facilities to farm labourers, etc., for obtaining allotments of small holdings on equitable terms as to rent and security of tenure.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The Morning Post says that the resignation of the Government will be announced on Thursday.

The Daily News does not seem disposed to exult over the Liberal triumph. It says that the Conservatives pursued the best possible policy, but that they had to bear a policy beyond human strength to support.

The Standard predicts that the next Cabinet will be shorter lived than the present. It says, "The outlook is gloomy. Either England and Ireland will be torn apart or there will be a succession of short-lived Governments, weakening the executive at home and abroad."

The Daily News ridicules the report that the Queen will summon Lord Hartington to form a new Government. Mr Gladstone, the News says, is perfectly able to form a strong united ministry.

Big Fire in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26.—One of the fiercest fires ever known in this city occurred at midnight. It was discovered at 12.30 a. m. In an hour six firms occupying buildings numbers 715 to 728 Arch street had been completely burned out. The St. Cloud Hotel adjoined the building in which the fire broke out, but all the guests, 275 in number, were got out safely. The fire was first discovered in Lehman & Bolton's lithographing establishment, on the second floor of No. 715 to 719. The eastern wall of Lehman & Bolton's building fell and crushed to atoms a small two story annex of the St. Cloud Hotel and the main hotel building was soon in flames. The loss will aggregate over a quarter of a million of dollars.

LATER.—At 3.45 a.m. the fire was under control. The St. Cloud Hotel, which was almost entirely destroyed, was one of the oldest in the city. It had accommodation for 350 guests, and last night it was filled to two-thirds of its capacity. The proprietors valued their effects at $50,000. The London Temperance Hotel adjoins the St. Cloud on the east and also caught fire. The guests, who were mainly permanent boarders, escaped and succeeded in saving their personal property. The loss by fire will reach about half a million dollars.

Guelph Daily Mercury

WEDNESDAY EVE'G JAN. 27, 1886.

SIR JOHN MACDONALD told the people of England, during an after-dinner oration, that Canadians were ready for imperial federation and all the responsibilities therein implied. They were quite ready to join the mother country in the offensive and defensive, and were willing to sacrifice their last man and their last shilling in defence of the empire and flag of England. It would be fine fun to see Sir John march out with his old '37 blunderbus, but it is tolerably certain that neither the last man nor the last shilling would accompany him. Sir John's buncombe was probably meant to offset his remark, "British connection be hanged," and also, not so many years ago, when warned that his N. P. nostrum might imperil British connection, "Then so much the worse for British connection." But Sir John is a Turner. That explains it.

THE cry is raised that the new franchise arrangement is incurring expense. It is. But that is not what really hurts the Reform politicians. It is the admission of so many new voters that breaks the Reform heart.

THE announcement is made that the Reformers have no machinery with which to secure the addition of the names of their friends to the new franchise lists. Where is the great franchise defence fund? Where are Sir Richard Cartwright's dollars?—Toronto Mail.

These two items, following each other in Tuesday's issue of the Mail, are very ill-considered. They are adding insult to injury in the most aggravating manner. The organ is thoroughly well aware that the object of the Franchise Act was to make it the easiest thing in the world to place Tory names on the rolls, while it at the same time made the matter so difficult and inconvenient for Reformers that it is feared many of them will be scared by the innumerable formalities placed in their way. The more we see of the Franchise Act and the more people have to do with it, the more cordially is it hated. Unless an immense amount of work is done by the leaders of the Reform party gratuitously, it is likely that a great many Reformers will be in the position intended by Sir John when he framed the measure, namely, out in the cold. The Mail, however, betrays the animus which is concealed in the Act and shows that no Reformers are wanted on the Dominion Voters' Lists.

THERE are a good many people who may be unable to preach a sermon, but who can readily draw an inference. That good man, Mr. Moyer, of the Berlin News, is partial to exhibiting himself in the pulpit, but it is evident he is not gifted in inferential reasoning. For instance he says:—

It must be a great satisfaction to every elector of North Waterloo to note the fact that while our friends, the Grits, are making such onslaughts—whether with or without any just cause we shall not stop to discuss—on any member of Parliament no one of all the screaming crowd, from M. C. Cameron down, has ever charged our member, Mr. Kranz, M. P., with anything of the kind. Of course many others are no doubt charged wrongfully; but it is all the more satisfactory that even under such circumstances, not a word of crookedness has ever been breathed against our highly respected and honourable member.

There are two other inferences which might be drawn from these facts; the one an honest and likely reason, the other not more mean than Mr. Moyer's that "Of course many others are no doubt charged wrongfully." The first, then, is that since Mr. Kranz is innocent of any Parliamentary bribery, and has not been so charged, the inference is that only the guilty have been exposed, and that Mr. M. C. Cameron has not lifted his voice except where he had sufficient cause. The other inference would be that Mr. Kranz was not bought by a timber limit or other fat deal because he might not stay that way.

THE Marquis of Salisbury's Government, which was only a snatch affair at the best, has thus early come to grief, having been defeated yesterday on an amendment by Jesse Collings regretting that no measures are announced in the Queen's Speech for the relief of the sufferers by the depression in trade and agriculture, particularly in regard to affording facilities to farm labourers, etc., for obtaining allotments of small holdings on equitable terms as to rent and security of tenure. The Government had tried to dodge the vote on this subject by bringing up the Irish question, but in vain, as the Collings amendment had precedence under the rules of the House. This amendment received the strong support of Mr. Gladstone, but was opposed by the Marquis of Hartington. When the vote was taken it was found to be 329 for the amendment to 250 against—the majority against the Government being 79, which is almost exactly the number of the Home Rulers. The Government will resign at once, the House having adjourned until Thursday. Although the Marquis of Hartington still holds aloof, it is expected that Mr. Gladstone will be able to form a strong Ministry. Hartington, it is said, will form a new Whig party, opposed to Home Rule, in which event, in order to make his small following of any account, he will have to vote with the Tories.

SHILOH'S CURE will immediately relieve Croup, Whooping Cough and Bronchitis. Sold by A. B. Petrie.

THE Orangeville Sun deals out a lot of frothy indignation over the recent outrages committed against the lives and property of Mr Munro and family because the latter gentlemen is a Magistrate specially entrusted with Scott Act enforcement. The Sun's indignation might be mistaken for genuine had it not in the the course of its article shown its sympathy with the dastardly would-be assassins by referring to Mr Munro as an "unprincipled old schemer.' Business and political rivalry should not be allowed to go such lengths. Whatever influence the Sun's article might have had for good is certainly nullified by such undignified treatment of a contemporary.

Care of Animals in Winter.

The American Humane Association offers the following suggestions relative to fowls, horses and cattle to persons having these in charge, in the northern latitudes, during the winter months.

Do not compel domestic fowls to roost in trees. Aside from danger of being captured by owls and other enemies, the swaying of the branches on which they are sitting will prevent them from getting rest: while in the severely cold weather, thus exposed, feet and combs are frozen and the bird is so benumbed as to make it impossible for it to be of much profit on the farm. Securely sheltered from wind and storm, and allowed to sit on a broad roost, feet are thus kept warm, refreshing rest is obtained and the fowl is much stronger, healthier and more profitable to its owner.

Do not clip horses during the winter months. With the same propriety we might cut the hair from a dog or shear a sheep at this season of the year. The argument in behalf of the practice is that the horse in perspiration will dry more quickly if the hair is short. If the animal is thoroughly blanketed and kept in a sheltered or warm place, after being driven, no danger results from perspiration, whatever the length of hair; while the horse that has been deprived of its coat in the winter time suffers perpetually while being exposed to the cold.

It is a cruelty inflicted upon beautiful carriage horses for the purpose of style. Blessed is the ordinary work-horse, in the winter time, for, however much it may perspire, it is allowed to carry its full growth of hair during the cold weather.

Do not leave cattle to stand shivering, while the extremities often freeze, in the snow storms and severe winds of winter, when a little time would suffice to construct of boards, rails or poles, a support upon and around which may be placed hay, straw or weeds, thus making a shelter that may comfortably protect them. Cattle kept in fairly warm condition throughout the winter will, as milkers, give a larger and better yield of milk, and as beeves will take on flesh much more rapidly than if left exposed to inclement weather.

Aside from a question of humanity, the more attention and care that is bestowed upon animals, with a view to their comfort, the more will they be of service and a source of profit to their owners.

Arthur Correspondence.

Early on Saturday morning last, after a brief illness, this village lost one of its oldest and most respected citizens in the person of Mrs. Jannett Small, Postmistress. She was the widow of the late Joseph Small, who was appointed Postmaster in 1864, by the late Dr. Parker, who was then member for the North Riding. At Mr. Small's death in Feb. 1868, his widow, out of sympathy and support from both political parties, received the appointment from Judge Drew, who was newly elected member for North Wellington. The widow was left with six children, 5 boys and one girl, all of whom are grown up and provided for with the exception of the youngest son, who is now 17 years of age, and has always remained at home attending the office with his mother, and is credited with being a very correct and efficient clerk. During the long time that the widow has been Postmistress very few complaints have ever been heard, and the family have all been noted for their civility and courtesy towards the public on all occasions. The funeral on Sunday was one of the largest attended that has been seen in this part of the country. As the office is a Tory appointment there is a host of applicants, all having their special claims on the party.

The Tory convention which was held here on Friday of last week for the purpose of organizing and electing officers was rather a tame affair. Notwithstanding it was Division Court day the crowd was very small in comparison with other occasions. Dr. Clarke, of Palmerston, was elected chairman; and M. Hally, of this village, 1st Vice. Scott, of Grand Valley, (Little Toronto), 2nd Vice; and Mr. Wallace White, of this village, was reappointed Secretary.

Arthur, Jan. 25, 1886.

Coming to Guelph.

Doctors of the great English staff of physicians and surgeons will visit the Commercial Hotel, Guelph, on the 6th of February, and will remain until the 15th of February. These doctors have but one fee which is $6.00. This charge includes consultation, examination, advice and medicine, for an entire course of treatment. It matters not what your complaint may be, nor how short or long standing, their charge will be no more or less than $6.00. They have made their fees small so as to enable the poor to obtain treatment. If your case is hopeless they will refund your money before you leave the office, as they will not take any case to treat without there is a moral certainty of giving entire satisfaction. If your case is incurable they will frankly and honestly tell you, also caution you against spending more money for medicine which travelling imposters are liable to suggest. They will not keep any patient in suspense relative to their disease. If you are troubled with lung or heart disease, an absolute disclosure will be made in such a manner as not to be productive of shock to the patient. THE FRANCHISE ACT.

The Qualifications of Voters—The Process of Registration Explained.

The time having arrived for the preparation of the voters' lists under the new Dominion Franchise Act, an appeal is made to the Liberals of Wellington to have their names enrolled as voters without delay. To assist in so doing a short summary of the qualification of voters and of the process for securing registration is given.

QUALIFICATION.

To entitle a person to be put on the list he must be—

(1) 21 years of age.

(2) A British subject by birth or naturalization.

(3) Owner of real property of value of:
In a city, $300.
In a town, $200.
In a county, $150.

(4) Or tenant of real property under lease at a rental of
$2 per month.
$6 per quarter.
$12 per half year.
$20 per year.

Provided that the tenant has been in possession for one year before 1st January 1886, and shall have paid one year's rent before final revision.

If the rent is yearly it will be sufficient if $20 of last year's rent shall have been paid before final revision.

Change of tenancy without intermission will not destroy the vote if aggregate of tenancies would give vote.

The assessor should be instructed to state in the assessment roll the rent payable by each person assessed as tenant. If, however, this is not done, each tenant is prima facie entitled to be registered as a voter if the property is assessed at the following values:—
In cities at $300.
In towns at $200.
In counties at $150.
In counties outside of villages the rent may be payable either in money or in money's worth.

(5) Or a bona fide occupant for one year before 1st January, 1886, and enjoying the revenues and profits for his own or his wife's use of real property of the following values:
In cities, $300.
In towns, $200.
In counties, $150.
The occupancy may be under license of occupation from the crown or from any person or corporation.

(6) Or by income without any other qualification.

A person may be registered as an income voter, if he derives an income from his earnings, trade or profession, or from some investment in Canada of $300 a year, for one year before 1st January, 1886.

In counties the earnings may be either in money or money's worth.

(7) Sons of owners of real property are qualified—

(a) Where the father is living and a son or sons living with him continuously for one year before 1st January, 1886, and the property is sufficient in value according to the above figures, if divided between them to give them all votes. If not sufficient to qualify all the sons and the father, then the father and only so many sons as the property will qualify can be enrolled, and in such case the eldest son will be preferred, and then the next elder, and so on.

(b) When the father is dead, and would, if living, be qualified, residence with the mother will suffice, and as many sons as the property will qualify may be registered, with preference to the eldest and elder sons, as in the last case.

Occasional absence from home of a son—not more than six months in the year—will not disqualify, and all time spent at school or college in Canada will be counted as if spent at home.

Son of an owner includes grandson, step son and son-in-law, and all these may be registered as voters on the property if of sufficient value. The provision as to sons of owners applies to the counties as well as towns and cities in cases other than those of farmers' sons.

(8) Farmers' sons—The same provisions substantially apply to farmers' sons, as stated in the last paragraph in respect of sons of owners in cities and towns.

A farm is to be not less than 20 acres of land.

(9) Fishermen and owners of real property and boats, nets, fishing gear and tackle of aggregate value of $150.

Income voters register where they reside at time of registration—all others where property is situate. If in more than one polling division in the same electoral district the voter may register in either.

All names entered in the last revised voters' lists under the old law, will be entered in the new lists by the revising barrister.

Every person not on the assessment roll desiring to have his name on the list must at once send to the revising barrister an application in writing to be put on the list, giving his name, residence and the property or other qualification in respect of which he applies to be put on.

This application must be accompanied by a declaration which is to be made and signed before a commissioner for taking affidavits, a notary or justice of the peace, showing the grounds of the applicants claim to be put on the list.

Substantially the voters are those who can qualify as owners, tenants, occupants, income voters, sons of owners and farmers' sons.

See that the application shows as correctly and fully as possible the qualification.

Make the declaration before a commissioner, notary or justice of the peace. It is convenient to have it attached to the application on the same sheet.

In case of an absent person, let some one else having a knowledge of the qualification make the application and declaration.

When one cannot find a justice or other person before whom the declaration can be taken let the application alone be sent in, with an explanation of the reason, and it would be well in such case to have the truth of the facts in the application certified on the back of it by one, or if possible, two other persons.

The application and declaration must be sent at once to the Revising barrister of the district.

URGENCY OF THE MATTER.

No name not on the last voters' list or assessment roll will be placed on the preliminary voters' list, unless on application and declaration as above.

In case of any difficulty or doubt, application should be made at once for advice to some of the Liberal friends in the neighborhood.

Explanatory.

Attention is directed to my advertisement in another column announcing the continuance of the discount sale, until the end of the first week in February. To prevent any false impression, the public are informed that the discounts stated do not apply to every article in stock, but to special lines. Also that the discounts are made on the prices the goods were sold at and the present price quoted is the net price without further discount. The great inducements offered have created a wide spread interest. Many people having seen the Bargains purchased are under the impression that the discounts apply to all goods alike. We never want to create an impression that we do not carry out. Customers are always sure of getting exactly what we advertise. Hence this explanation. E. The route will be along Wyndham to Norfolk street, down Norfolk to Gordon street crossing, thence along the Waterloo Avenue to Sleeman's, where they will take to the fields.

LAST evening a number of the County Councillors, under the guidance of Ald. Skinner, chairman of the Fire and Water Committee, paid a visit to the Fire Hall, and were shown through the place. A couple of "quick hitches" and a drive around the Market Square were given. The Councillors expressed themselves as highly pleased with the efficiency of the brigade and thanked the "boys" for their exhibition.

SUBSTANTIAL THANKS.—Major Armstrong, Chief of the Fire Department, yesterday received from Hon. A. M. Ross, Provincial Treasurer, a cheque for $50, as a slight acknowledgment by the Government of the services of the Fire Brigade at the fire at the Agricultural College last September. The Chief has forwarded the following acknowledgment and thanks:

Guelph, Jan. 27, 1886.

On behalf of the Fire Brigade, Chief Armstrong returns thanks to the Treasurer of Ontario for the handsome donation of fifty dollars, in consideration of their services at the fire at the Agricultural College on September 29th, 1885.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH Y. P. A.—On Monday evening the Young People's Association of St. Andrew's Church, held their annual meeting for the election of officers and other business. There was a good attendance of members present. W. A. McLean, president, occupied the chair. After a very pleasing programme of vocal and instrumental music, readings, etc., had been gone through, the election of officers was proceeded with. The following is the result:—

Hon. President, Rev. J. C. Smith, B. D.
President, W. H. Brasbie.
Vice do., Geo. A. Griffin.
2nd Vice do., Miss McLean.
Secretary, Thos. Anderson.
Treasurer, Miss Anderson.
Executive Committe—Mrs. T. Hill, and Miss Kirkland, Messrs. W. A. McLean, C. Strachan, and Thos McCrae.

DR. LETT ON THE MIND.—There was a good attendance at the meeting of the St. George's Branch C. of E. Temperance Association in the large school room last evening. The proceedings commenced with a short religious service, after which some new members were added to the list. Dr. Lett, of Homewood Retreat, then gave a lecture on the "Phenomena of the Mind." The subject is a very abtruse one, but under the Doctor's management he made it exceedingly impressive as well as interesting. His description of the companionship effects on the character of a man and his success in life, from having a strong well balanced will, or a weak and easily impressed one, was very striking. His view also of the results of evil impressions, or good ones, in the formation of character were listened to with deep attention. Lectures by a gentleman so admirably qualified to dwell on these deep questions and make them popular are an intellectual treat of no ordinary character, and it is to be hoped that there will be a crowded attendance at his next lecture on the same subject. There were some pleasing songs well rendered ere the proceedings closed. A hearty vote of thanks was given to the Doctor for his lecture, and his promise to give another.

SKATING RACES.—Last evening, in the Speed Skating Rink, a large crowd congregated to witness the five mile and three mile skating races. The first event on the programme was the five mile. At 8:15 the rink was cleared and three contestants entered—W. Speight, Acton; J. Phalen, Fergus; and W. McCutcheon, Guelph. A good start was made, and for a short time the contestants kept well together, but before the first mile was done Speight and McCutcheon gained a lap on Phalen, and from that to the finish the race centred on Speight and McCutcheon. On the last mile some fine skating was done. On the 12th lap of the last mile McCutcheon spurted and passed his opponent, who, in endeavouring to make up what he had lost, unfortunately broke the heel plate of his skate, leaving McCutcheon winner by about two laps, Speight taking second money, Phalen being eight laps behind. The time was 20 minutes and 17 seconds. The second was a three mile race for which there were four entries—Lee, of Georgetown; Walters, Orangeville; Joe Bunyan, and J. Brandon, Guelph. This was a well contested race as well as amusing. The contestants passed and repassed each other several times, and, occasionally, to vary the proceedings, "took a tumble." The race was won by Lee. Bunyan was awarded second place on account of being fouled by Walters. Brandon dropped out of the race, having disabled himself by a fall. The one mile green race completed the evening's programme, and was one by F. Nelles, Herbert Pass second. The City Band as usual performed a number of first-class selections. Messrs. Sleeman, Watt and Smith acted as referees and judges.

TO-MORROW afternoon the County Council will visit the General and St. Joseph's Hospitals.

THE installation of officers for Wyndham Counsel of the Royal Arcanum, held last night, is crowded out to-day.

MESSRS KENNEDY'S and Congalton's rinks which won the Caledonian medal from Georgetown recently, play this evening a friendly match to see which is the the best.

DECAMPED.—J. Hicks, Orangeville, has been employed for some time past as a tea agent for Wm. Humphries, Paisley street, selling tea and collecting accounts About a couple of weeks ago he suddenly disappeared, and not turning up Mr. Humphries naturally became anxious, and set to work making inquiries as to how much money Hick's had collected. He found the sum to amount to close on $100, and placed the matter in the hands of the Chief of Police, who telegraphed to different places giving a description of the delinquent. Last night a telegram was received from Toronto stating that a man answering description of Hicks had been arrested there. This morning Chief Randall left to identify the man and, if the party, will bring him to Guelph to stand his trial.

NARROW ESCAPE.—Mr. Donald Mackenzie, section foreman of the Great Western Division of the Grand Trunk between Guelph and Elora, together with his son John and M. Sullivan, had a narrow escape on Monday afternoon from being run over by a freight train. They were ascending Dundas hill in a jigger, when a freight train suddenly approached them. The men jumped from the jigger and attempted to throw it from the track, but on account of the snow banks on each side they were unable to turn it off the track. Mr. Mackenzie, sr., after the others had given up the attempt still tried to throw the jigger from the track, and tarried so long that the train struck it, throwing the jigger and Mr. Mackenzie from the track. Mr. Mackenzie was severely injured, and it will be some weeks before he is able to be around again. It is a miracle that he escaped with his life.

Fergus Correspondence.

CURLING.—The Elora Club was beaten by Fergus on Tuesday last, in the Fergus rink, by 20 shots. As a consequence Fergus had to go to Berlin to play for the Tankard medal on Friday last. Two rinks went down. They drew a tie in the morning and so did not play. In the afternoon they were pitted against Guelph, and two excellent rinks Guelph had During the first half of the game Fergus led, Donaldson's rink having 12 to 4 for Congalton's, against whom he was playing, while Mr. Michie tied his opponent. At the twentieth end, Donaldson led by two shots, Mr. Michie still standing a tie. The last two ends, however, were in favor of Guelph, Donaldson's rink being two behind and Michie's four. We congratulate our men on their play. Though beaten by six shots they were ahead up to the twentieth end, and won 23 out of the 44 ends, Donaldson's rink winning 13 of his 22. Fergus has every reason to feel proud when we remember the men against it. The rink medal match is not yet finished. One rink from Fergus goes to Toronto on Wednesday to take part in the game there, Toronto and County York against a rink from all the clubs in Canada belonging to the Association.

ROLLERS.—The Polo game in the Roller Rink did not draw much of a crowd.

FAIR DAY.—There was a large number of cattle in last Thursday. Prices a little low. Cattle are selling lower than at this time last year.

CURLING STONES.—When our curlers left Berlin they neglected to get their curling boxes checked to Fergus. The stones were put off at Guelph. The curlers ordered them to be sent on as freight as they were driving. By some mistake the stones were expressed to Fergus and $2 charged. The curlers refuse to pay, saying they gave no orders to have them so sent. Result, a want of stones in the rink. The trouble will soon be settled, and the curlers will make sure of their baggage next time.

REFORM.—So far Dr. Wallace has not signified his acceptance of the Reform nomination. We think justice to himself and the party requires a decided answer. The question should not now be left uncertain. Steps are to be taken at once to have the Fergus voters' lists properly attended to.

STOLEN.—Wm. Dawson, cattle buyer, had a pair of mits taken out of his coat pocket one night last week. The mits were afterwards found in another man's possession and the party arrested.

RUN OVER.—A little boy hanging on to a sleigh was accidentally run over the fair day, but escaped severe injury.

ICE CARNIVAL.—The first carnival in the Skating Rink for this season came off Thursday night, and was a grand success in the number present, both as skaters and spectators. The ice was good. The barrel race was most amusing. It is a difficult matter for a big boy to crawl through a flour barrel in a hurry, and so the slim boy, Wat Spires, won the race. J. Mennie took first for fancy gent skating. The costumes were not so good as we have seen. The Band was present and all skaters and onlookers enjoyed the cold excitement.

RACE.—We are to have a skating race here a week from Thursday. Our man will be on hand against all comers. Speight and Dawson are expected. Black is in good trim, and will no doubt give a good account of himself.

CARNIVAL.—In the Roller Rink, on Friday night, a number of prizes will be given, and the Band is to be on hand.

FIRE.—MRS. Grieve's greenhouse was nearly completely destroyed Wednesday night of last week. Fortunately the fire did not get to the main building. The villagers turned out in good style and put an end to the fire with buckets of water, No fire engine here. Mr. Mullen's Church was nearly on fire on Sunday from one of the registers. The trouble was noticed in time to prevent damage being done.

ARMY.—One branch of the Gospel Army still lives here, whether it is doing any good or not we cannot say.

MELVILLE CHURCH.—Next Sabbath communion services will be held, union meeting in the evening. Friday next is preparation day. Preaching at 11 a.m.

WHY WILL YOU cough when Shiloh's Cure will give immediate relief. Price 10 cts. 50 cts., and $1. For sale by A. B. Petrie.

Opening of the Guelph Snow Shoe and Toboggan Club Slide.

The formal opening of the above slide took place last evening under the most favorable auspices. Long before the opening hour tobogganers, decked in their gay blanket costumes of red, white and blue (the Club colours) could be seen on many of our streets, all making their way to the point of attraction, which was clearly discernable as soon as the Gordon street crossing was reached, where the lights on the slide came into full view, affording such a grand panamoric view as we in the Royal City seldom have an opportunity of seeing. From the single light at the extreme top to the double lights at the very hollow, every one of the fifty could be easily counted. When President J. Davidson took up his position on the platform of the slide not less than three hundred members and their friends were assembled awaiting the opening. The President said that as the Honorary President, Mr. B. R. McConkey, was unavoidably absent, the duty fell upon him to open the slide, and in so doing it afforded him great pleasure. The Club was to be congratulated upon its success, and more especially the Managing Committee, who had worked hard to perfect the arrangements for conducting successfully this Club. They had a splendid natural slide, over 400 yards in length, and second to none in Canada, which in itself assured success. He hoped that no accident or anything tending to mar its pleasure would take place. The President then seated himself on his toboggan, and as it shot down the slide was sent along by a hearty cheer, and so the ball was set rolling in earnest. The scene about this time of the evening's programme was simply grand, and greatly admired by the spectators. To observe it with effect one required to stand a few yards from the head and about an equal distance from the side of the shoot. The starting shout, "Tally Ho," (or I'm coming) was heard at the top, and almost like a flash of the electric fluid (called lightning), so went the basswood board, with its precious load, skimming along between the rows of lights taking an occasional bump, bump, then a flying jump, as it struck a slight rise in the surface of the snow, but by no means delaying its hasty flight, to allow the enquiring passengers an opportunity to ascertain the why or wherefore of such conduct until all had been landed safely at the terminus. Then the debate was fully entered into. "Thus went the mariner whom fate compelled to ride his barque on shore," every minute during the evening till "lights out" had sounded. It is most gratifying to know that such a gala night (as last most assuredly was) passed off without a single accident, and this, considering the large number present, reflects great credit on the management, whose chief aim is the safety of all. It is hoped that this exhilirating winter pastime, which not only affords pleasure to those participating in it, but greatly adds to their health, will be liberally patronized and encouraged by our citizens, who are always desirous of affording pleasure for our young people.

Waverly Lodge A. F. & A. M.

Last night, in the Masonic Hall, an installation of officers of Waverly Lodge No. 361, G. R. C., A. F. & A. M., took place by V.W. Chas. Pettiford and W. Bro. Anderson. The following are the names of the officers:—

T. S. Petrie, W. M.
Chas. Pettiford, J. P. W. M.
H. E. Richardson, S. W.
Rev. J. C. Smith, J. W.
Robt. Gemmell, Treasurer.
R. C. Chase, Secretary.
Wm. Anderson, Chaplain.
H. McLellan, Organist.
W. M. Wilde, D. of C.
Robt. Howie, S. D.
John Mitchell, J. D.
W. S. Bancroft, } Stewards.
D. Messenger, }
H. Gummer, I. G.
H. Bolton, Tyler.

After the installation the brethren repaired to the American Hotel, where a handsome repast was laid out, and after doing full justice to the same W. Bro. Petrie called the brethren to order.

The toasts of "Queen and Craft, Prince of Wales, G. M., of England," were drank with all honors. "The Grand Lodge of Canada" was replied to by Very W. Bro. Pettiford, W. Bros. McBean, Anderson, Bolton, Gemmell and Somerville. "Sister Lodges" by W. Bro. Mahoney, Bros. Humphries, Marshall, Lyon, of Halifax, and Orr, of Whitby. "Sister Societies" was replied to by Bros. Martin, Gummer, and Richardson. "The Army and Navy" found fitting respondents in W. Bro. Bolton, McBean and Bro. Ball. "Commercial Interests" by Bros. Anderson, Nelles and Spragge. "Agricultural Interests" by Bro. Burr. "Newly Elected Officers" by W. Bro. Petrie and others. "Retiring Officers" by Very W. Bro. Pettiford. "The Host and Hostess" by Mr. Ellis on behalf of himself and lady.

After the Junior Warden's toast "Happy to meet, sorry to part, and happy to meet again," and singing "Auld Lang Syne" and "God Save the Queen," the brethren dispersed, having spent a most enjoyable evening.

A PLEASING CORRECTION.—In the MERCURY of last week it was stated that Moses Smith, Winterbourne, was killed by the falling of a tree. Our informant was misinformed, and we are pleased to make the announcement that the young man, although severely injured, is doing well and on a fair way to recovery. Smith received a severe cut by the falling tree on one side of the head running from the front to the back, and a physician found it necessary to put nine stitches in this wound. Severe bruises were sustained on the other side of the head, besides having one of his legs broken in two or more places.

SALISBURY TOLD TO GO.

The House Adjourned Till Thursday.

THE "ALLOTMENTS" MOTION DID IT.

Parnellites Jubilant.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—Sir Michael Hicks-Beach gave notice in the House of Commons this afternoon that the Government would introduce on Thursday a bill to suppress the Irish National League and other dangerous societies, to prevent intimidation, protect life and property and maintain public order in Ireland. Sir Michael said he would ask the House to give the bill precedence. He added that this measure should be followed by a bill dealing with the Irish land question on the lines of policy indicated by the Land Purchase Act of last session.

The notice given by the Conservative leader of the Government's intention to introduce a bill to suppress the National League was greeted by the Parnellite members with cries of "cowards," "shame," and with ironical laughter, the uproar continuing for some minutes.

Mr. Jesse Collings, Liberal member for Ipswich, moved his amendment to the address on the subject of "allotments." The amendment, although strongly supported by Mr. Gladstone, was opposed by the Marquis of Hartington.

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach said that the Government would willingly accept the decision of the House, as they had assumed office with reluctance and would resign without regret.

The amendment was adopted by a vote of 329 to 250, the Government thus being defeated.

The result of the division was received by the Irish members with derisive cheers and cries of "Boycotted." The House, on the suggestion of Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, adjourned until Thursday.

Mr. Courtney, Sir John Lubbock and other moderate Liberals voted with the Conservatives. Mr. Gladstone, Mr. Trevelyan, Mr. Labouchere, Mr. Bradlaugh, Lord Richard Grosvenor and 73 Parnellites voted against the Government. Lord Hartington and Mr. Goschen abstained from voting. It is rumoured that Lord Hartington will refuse to enter the Cabinet under Mr. Gladstone, but will undertake to lead a separate party in opposition to Home Rule.

Mr Colling's amendment, on which the Government was defeated, expresses regret that no measures are announced in the Queen's Speech for the relief of the sufferers by the depression in trade and agriculture, particularly in regard to affording facilities to farm labourers, etc., for obtaining allotments of small holdings on equitable terms as to rent and security of tenure.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The Morning Post says that the resignation of the Government will be announced on Thursday.

The Daily News does not seem disposed to exult over the Liberal triumph. It says that the Conservatives pursued the best possible policy, but that they had to bear a policy beyond human strength to support.

The Standard predicts that the next Cabinet will be shorter lived than the present. It says, "The outlook is gloomy. Either England and Ireland will be torn apart or there will be a succession of short-lived Governments, weakening the executive at home and abroad."

The Daily News ridicules the report that the Queen will summon Lord Hartington to form a new Government. Mr Gladstone, the News says, is perfectly able to form a strong united ministry.

Big Fire in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26.—One of the fiercest fires ever known in this city occurred at midnight. It was discovered at 12.30 a. m. In an hour six firms occupying buildings numbers 715 to 728 Arch street had been completely burned out. The St. Cloud Hotel adjoined the building in which the fire broke out, but all the guests, 275 in number, were got out safely. The fire was first discovered in Lehman & Bolton's lithographing establishment, on the second floor of No. 715 to 719. The eastern wall of Lehman & Bolton's building fell and crushed to atoms a small two story annex of the St. Cloud Hotel and the main hotel building was soon in flames. The loss will aggregate over a quarter of a million of dollars.

LATER.—At 3.45 a.m. the fire was under control. The St. Cloud Hotel, which was almost entirely destroyed, was one of the oldest in the city. It had accommodation for 350 guests, and last night it was filled to two-thirds of its capacity. The proprietors valued their effects at $50,000. The London Temperance Hotel adjoins the St. Cloud on the east and also caught fire. The guests, who were mainly permanent boarders, escaped and succeeded in saving their personal property. The loss by fire will reach about half a million dollars.

ST. ANDREW'S Church choir, Guelph, will give a grand organ recital in the Presbyterian Church, Rockwood, on Friday evening, 29th instant. In addition to the concert the Rev. J. C. Smith, of Guelph, and others will deliver addresses

ADMISSION 15c.—Refreshments served from 6:30 to 8 p.m. at the social and entertainment to be given in the lecture room of Dublin street Church to-morrow evening. Mr. T. H. Carson, Toronto's ventriloquist, will give a fine exhibition of "throwing the voice." Every one should see his dumb orators, and hear his wonderful imitations. d1

CHARITY.—Mr. D. R. Rowen has finished stock-taking, and finding that he has some lines of goods on hand which he does not want to carry over for another season has decided to give the poor of the city a benefit, and will distribute among them groceries, etc., as announced in his advertisement. This is a good move, and would be appreciated from others as well as Mr. Rowen.

SNOWSHOEING.—The Guelph Snowshoe Club intend having their first tramp of the season on Thursday evening. They will meet on St. George's Square at half past seven, and form into procession with torches. The route will be along Wyndham to Norfolk street, down Norfolk to Gordon street crossing, thence along the Waterloo Avenue to Sleeman's, where they will take to the fields.

LAST evening a number of the County Councillors, under the guidance of Ald. Skinner, chairman of the Fire and Water Committee, paid a visit to the Fire Hall, and were shown through the place. A couple of "quick hitches" and a drive around the Market Square were given. The Councillors expressed themselves as highly pleased with the efficiency of the brigade and thanked the "boys" for their exhibition.

SUBSTANTIAL THANKS.—Major Armstrong, Chief of the Fire Department, yesterday received from Hon. A. M. Ross, Provincial Treasurer, a cheque for $50, as a slight acknowledgment by the Government of the services of the Fire Brigade at the fire at the Agricultural College last September. The Chief has forwarded the following acknowledgment and thanks:

Guelph, Jan. 27, 1886.

On behalf of the Fire Brigade, Chief Armstrong returns thanks to the Treasurer of Ontario for the handsome donation of fifty dollars, in consideration of their services at the fire at the Agricultural College on September 29th, 1885.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH Y. P. A.—On Monday evening the Young People's Association of St. Andrew's Church, held their annual meeting for the election of officers and other business. There was a good attendance of members present. W. A. McLean, president, occupied the chair. After a very pleasing programme of vocal and instrumental music, readings, etc., had been gone through, the election of officers was proceeded with. The following is the result:—

Hon. President, Rev. J. C. Smith, B. D.
President, W. H. Brasbie.
Vice do., Geo. A. Griffin.
2nd Vice do., Miss McLean.
Secretary, Thos. Anderson.
Treasurer, Miss Anderson.
Executive Committe—Mrs. T. Hill, and Miss Kirkland, Messrs. W. A. McLean, C. Strachan, and Thos McCrae.

DR. LETT ON THE MIND.—There was a good attendance at the meeting of the St. George's Branch C. of E. Temperance Association in the large school room last evening. The proceedings commenced with a short religious service, after which some new members were added to the list. Dr. Lett, of Homewood Retreat, then gave a lecture on the "Phenomena of the Mind." The subject is a very abstruse one, but under the Doctor's management he made it exceedingly impressive as well as interesting. His description of the comparative effects on the character of a man and his success in life, from having a strong well balanced will, or a weak and easily impressed one, was very striking. His view also of the results of evil impressions, or good ones, in the formation of character were listened to with deep attention. Lectures by a gentleman so admirably qualified to dwell on these deep questions and make them popular are an intellectual treat of no ordinary character, and it is to be hoped that there will be a crowded attendance at his next lecture on the same subject. There were some pleasing songs well rendered ere the proceedings closed. A hearty vote of thanks was given to the Doctor for his lecture, and his promise to give another.

SKATING RACES.—Last evening, in the Speed Skating Rink, a large crowd congregated to witness the five mile and three mile skating races. The first event on the programme was the five mile. At 8:15 the rink was cleared and three contestants entered—W. Speight, Acton; J. Phalen, Fergus; and W. McCutcheon, Guelph. A good start was made, and for a short time the contestants kept well together, but before the first mile was done Speight and McCutcheon gained a lap on Phalen, and from that to the finish the race centred on Speight and McCutcheon. On the last mile some fine skating was done. On the 12th lap of the last mile McCutcheon spurted and passed his opponent, who, in endeavouring to make up what he had lost, unfortunately broke the heel plate of his skate, leaving McCutcheon winner by about two laps, Speight taking second money, Phalen being eight laps behind. The time was 20 minutes and 17 seconds. The second was a three mile race for which there were four entries—Lee, of Georgetown; Walters, Orangeville; Joe Bunyan, and J. Brandon, Guelph. This was a well contested race as well as amusing. The contestants passed and repassed each other several times, and, occasionally, to vary the proceedings, "took a tumble." The race was won by Lee. Bunyan was awarded second place on account of being fouled by Walters. Brandon dropped out of the race, having disabled himself by a fall. The one mile green race completed the evening's programme, and was one by F. Nelles, Herbert Pass second. The City Band as usual performed a number of first-class selections. Messrs. Sleeman, Watt and Smith acted as referees and judges.

TO-MORROW afternoon the County Council will visit the General and St. Joseph's Hospitals.

THE installation of officers for Wyndham Counsel of the Royal Arcanum, held last night, is crowded out to-day.

MESSRS KENNEDY'S and Congalton's rinks which won the Caledonian medal from Georgetown recently, play this evening a friendly match to see which is the the best.

DECAMPED.—J. Hicks, Orangeville, has been employed for some time past as a tea agent for Wm. Humphries, Paisley street, selling tea and collecting accounts About a couple of weeks ago he suddenly disappeared, and not turning up Mr. Humphries naturally became anxious, and set to work making inquiries as to how much money Hick's had collected. He found the sum to amount to close on $100, and placed the matter in the hands of the Chief of Police, who telegraphed to different places giving a description of the delinquent. Last night a telegram was received from Toronto stating that a man answering description of Hicks had been arrested there. This morning Chief Randall left to identify the man and, if the party, will bring him to Guelph to stand his trial.

NARROW ESCAPE.—Mr. Donald Mackenzie, section foreman of the Great Western Division of the Grand Trunk between Guelph and Elora, together with his son John and M. Sullivan, had a narrow escape on Monday afternoon from being run over by a freight train. They were ascending Dundas hill in a jigger, when a freight train suddenly approached them. The men jumped from the jigger and attempted to throw it from the track, but on account of the snow banks on each side they were unable to turn it off the track. Mr. Mackenzie, sr., after the others had given up the attempt still tried to throw the jigger from the track, and tarried so long that the train struck it, throwing the jigger and Mr. Mackenzie from the track. Mr. Mackenzie was severely injured, and it will be some weeks before he is able to be around again. It is a miracle that he escaped with his life.

Fergus Correspondence.

CURLING.—The Elora Club was beaten by Fergus on Tuesday last, in the Fergus rink, by 20 shots. As a consequence Fergus had to go to Berlin to play for the Tankard medal on Friday last. Two rinks went down. They drew a tie in the morning and so did not play. In the afternoon they were pitted against Guelph, and two excellent rinks Guelph had During the first half of the game Fergus led, Donaldson's rink having 12 to 4 for Congalton's, against whom he was playing, while Mr. Michie tied his opponent. At the twentieth end, Donaldson led by two shots, Mr. Michie still standing a tie. The last two ends, however, were in favor of Guelph, Donaldson's rink being two behind and Michie's four. We congratulate our men on their play. Though beaten by six shots they were ahead up to the twentieth end, and won 23 out of the 44 ends, Donaldson's rink winning 13 of his 22. Fergus has every reason to feel proud when we remember the men against it. The rink medal match is not yet finished. One rink from Fergus goes to Toronto on Wednesday to take part in the game there, Toronto and County York against a rink from all the clubs in Canada belonging to the Association.

ROLLERS.—The Polo game in the Roller Rink did not draw much of a crowd.

FAIR DAY.—There was a large number of cattle in last Thursday. Prices a little low. Cattle are selling lower than at this time last year.

CURLING STONES.—When our curlers left Berlin they neglected to get their curling boxes checked to Fergus. The stones were put off at Guelph. The curlers ordered them to be sent on as freight as they were driving. By some mistake the stones were expressed to Fergus and $2 charged. The curlers refuse to pay, saying they gave no orders to have them so sent. Result, a want of stones in the rink. The trouble will soon be settled, and the curlers will make sure of their baggage next time.

REFORM.—So far Dr. Wallace has not signified his acceptance of the Reform nomination. We think justice to himself and the party requires a decided answer. The question should not now be left uncertain. Steps are to be taken at once to have the Fergus voters' lists properly attended to.

STOLEN.—Wm. Dawson, cattle buyer, had a pair of mits taken out of his coat pocket one night last week. The mits were afterwards found in another man's possession and the party arrested.

RUN OVER.—A little boy hanging on to a sleigh was accidentally run over the fair day, but escaped severe injury.

ICE CARNIVAL.—The first carnival in the Skating Rink for this season came off Thursday night, and was a grand success in the number present, both as skaters and spectators. The ice was good. The barrel race was most amusing. It is a difficult matter for a big boy to crawl through a flour barrel in a hurry, and so the slim boy, Watt Spires, won the race. J. Mennie took first for fancy gent skating. The costumes were not so good as we have seen. The Band was present and all skaters and onlookers enjoyed the cold excitement.

RACE.—We are to have a skating race here a week from Thursday. Our man will be on hand against all comers. Speight and Dawson are expected. Black is in good trim, and will no doubt give a good account of himself.

CARNIVAL.—In the Roller Rink, on Friday night, a number of prizes will be given, and the Band is to be on hand.

FIRE.—MRS. Grieve's greenhouse was nearly completely destroyed Wednesday night of last week. Fortunately the fire did not get to the main building. The villagers turned out in good style and put an end to the fire with buckets of water, No fire engine here. Mr. Mullen's Church was nearly on fire on Sunday from one of the registers. The trouble was noticed in time to prevent damage being done.

ARMY.—One branch of the Gospel Army still lives here, whether it is doing any good or not we cannot say.

MELVILLE CHURCH.—Next Sabbath communion services will be held, union meeting in the evening. Friday next is preparation day. Preaching at 11 a.m.

WHY WILL YOU cough when Shiloh's Cure will give immediate relief. Price 10 cts. 50 cts., and $1. For sale by A. B. Petrie.

Opening of the Guelph Snow Shoe and Toboggan Club Slide.

The formal opening of the above slide took place last evening under the most favorable auspices. Long before the opening hour tobogganers, decked in their gay blanket costumes of red, white and blue (the Club colours) could be seen on many of our streets, all making their way to the point of attraction, which was clearly discernable as soon as the Gordon street crossing was reached, where the lights on the slide came into full view, affording such a grand panamoric view as we in the Royal City seldom have an opportunity of seeing. From the single light at the extreme top to the double lights at the very hollow, every one of the fifty could be easily counted. When President J. Davidson took up his position on the platform of the slide not less than three hundred members and their friends were assembled awaiting the opening. The President said that as the Honorary President, Mr. B. R. McConkey, was unavoidably absent, the duty fell upon him to open the slide, and in so doing it afforded him great pleasure. The Club was to be congratulated upon its success, and more especially the Managing Committee, who had worked hard to perfect the arrangements for conducting successfully this Club. They had a splendid natural slide, over 400 yards in length, and second to none in Canada, which in itself assured success. He hoped that no accident or anything tending to mar its pleasure would take place. The President then seated himself on his toboggan, and as he shot down the slide was sent along by a hearty cheer, and so the ball was set rolling in earnest. The scene about this time of the evening's programme was simply grand, and greatly admired by the spectators. To observe it with effect one required to stand a few yards from the head and about an equal distance from the side of the shoot. The starting shout, "Tally Ho," (or I'm coming) was heard at the top, and almost like a flash of the electric fluid (called lightning), so went the basswood board with its precious load, skimming along between the rows of lights taking an occasional bump, bump, then a flying jump, as it struck a slight rise in the surface of the snow, but by no means delaying its hasty flight, to allow the enquiring passengers an opportunity to ascertain the why or wherefore of such conduct until all had been landed safely at the terminus. Then the debate was fully entered into. "Thus went the mariner whom fate compelled to ride his barque on shore," every minute during the evening till "lights out" had sounded. It is most gratifying to know that such a gala night (as last most assuredly was) passed off without a single accident, and this, considering the large number present, reflects great credit on the management, whose chief aim is the safety of all. It is hoped that this exhilirating winter pastime, which not only affords pleasure to those participating in it, but greatly adds to their health, will be liberally patronized and encouraged by our citizens, who are always desirous of affording pleasure for our young people.

A PLEASING CORRECTION.—In the MERCURY of last week it was stated that Moses Smith, Winterbourne, was killed by the falling of a tree. Our informant was misinformed, and we are pleased to make the announcement that the young man, although severely injured, is doing well and on a fair way to recovery. Smith received a severe cut by the falling tree on one side of the head running from the front to the back, and a physician found it necessary to put nine stitches in this wound. Severe bruises were sustained on the other side of the head, besides having one of his legs broken in two or more places.

SALISBURY TOLD TO GO.

The House Adjourned Till Thursday.

THE "ALLOTMENTS" MOTION DID IT.

Parnellites Jubilant.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—Sir Michael Hicks-Beach gave notice in the House of Commons this afternoon that the Government would introduce on Thursday a bill to suppress the Irish National League and other dangerous societies, to prevent intimidation, protect life and property and maintain public order in Ireland. Sir Michael said he would ask the House to give the bill precedence. He added that this measure should be followed by a bill dealing with the Irish land question on the lines of policy indicated by the Land Purchase Act of last session.

The notice given by the Conservative leader of the Government's intention to introduce a bill to suppress the National League was greeted by the Parnellite members with cries of "cowards," "shame," and with ironical laughter, the uproar continuing for some minutes.

Mr. Jesse Collings, Liberal member for Ipswich, moved his amendment to the address on the subject of "allotments." The amendment, although strongly supported by Mr. Gladstone, was opposed by the Marquis of Hartington.

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach said that the Government would willingly accept the decision of the House, as they had assumed office with reluctance and would resign without regret.

The amendment was adopted by a vote of 329 to 250, the Government thus being defeated.

The result of the division was received by the Irish members with derisive cheers and cries of "Boycotted." The House, on the suggestion of Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, adjourned until Thursday.

Mr. Courtney, Sir John Lubbock and other moderate Liberals voted with the Conservatives. Mr. Gladstone, Mr. Trevelyan, Mr. Labouchere, Mr. Bradlaugh, Lord Richard Grosvenor and 73 Parnellites voted against the Government. Lord Hartington and Mr. Goschen abstained from voting. It is rumoured that Lord Hartington will refuse to enter the Cabinet under Mr. Gladstone, but will undertake to lead a separate party in opposition to Home Rule.

Mr Colling's amendment, on which the Government was defeated, expresses regret that no measures are announced in the Queen's Speech for the relief of the sufferers by the depression in trade and agriculture, particularly in regard to affording facilities to farm labourers, etc., for obtaining allotments of small holdings on equitable terms as to rent and security of tenure.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The Morning Post says that the resignation of the Government will be announced on Thursday.

The Daily News does not seem disposed to exult over the Liberal triumph. It says that the Conservatives pursued the best possible policy, but that they had to bear a policy beyond human strength to support.

The Standard predicts that the next Cabinet will be shorter lived than the present. It says, "The outlook is gloomy. Either England and Ireland will be torn apart or there will be a succession of short-lived Governments, weakening the executive at home and abroad."

The Daily News ridicules the report that the Queen will summon Lord Hartington to form a new Government. Mr Gladstone, the News says, is perfectly able to form a strong united ministry.

Big Fire in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26.—One of the fiercest fires ever known in this city occurred at midnight. It was discovered at 12.30 a. m. In an hour six firms occupying buildings numbers 715 to 728 Arch street had been completely burned out. The St. Cloud Hotel adjoined the building in which the fire broke out, but all the guests, 275 in number, were got out safely. The fire was first discovered in Lehman & Bolton's lithographing establishment, on the second floor of No. 715 to 719. The eastern wall of Lehman & Bolton's building fell and crushed to atoms a small two story annex of the St. Cloud Hotel and the main hotel building was soon in flames. The loss will aggregate over a quarter of a million of dollars.

LATER.—At 3.45 a.m. the fire was under control. The St. Cloud Hotel, which was almost entirely destroyed, was one of the oldest in the city. It had accommodation for 350 guests, and last night it was filled to two-thirds of its capacity: The proprietors valued their effects at $50,000. The London Temperance Hotel adjoins the St. Cloud on the east and also caught fire. The guests, who were mainly permanent boarders, escaped and succeeded in saving their personal property. The loss by fire will reach about half a million dollars.

Guelph Daily Mercury

WEDNESDAY EVE'G JAN. 27, 1886.

SIR JOHN MACDONALD told the people of England, during an after-dinner oration, that Canadians were ready for imperial federation and all the responsibilities therein implied. They were quite ready to join the mother country in the offensive and defensive, and were willing to sacrifice their last man and their last shilling in defence of the empire and flag of England. It would be fine fun to see Sir John march out with his old '37 blunderbus, but it is tolerably certain that neither the last man nor the last shilling would accompany him. Sir John's buncombe was probably meant to offset his remark, "British connection be hanged," and also, not so many years ago, when warned that his N. P. nostrum might imperil British connection, "Then so much the worse for British connection." But Sir John is a Turner. That explains it.

THE cry is raised that the new franchise arrangement is incurring expense. It is. But that is not what really hurts the Reform politicians. It is the admission of so many new voters that breaks the Reform heart.

THE announcement is made that the Reformers have no machinery with which to secure the addition of the names of their friends to the new franchise lists. Where is the great franchise defence fund? Where are Sir Richard Cartwright's dollars?—Toronto Mail.

These two items, following each other in Tuesday's issue of the Mail, are very ill-considered. They are adding insult to injury in the most aggravating manner. The organ is thoroughly well aware that the object of the Franchise Act was to make it the easiest thing in the world to place Tory names on the rolls, while it at the same time made the matter so difficult and inconvenient for Reformers that it is feared many of them will be scared by the innumerable formalities placed in their way. The more we see of the Franchise Act and the more people have to do with it, the more cordially is it hated. Unless an immense amount of work is done by the leaders of the Reform party gratuitously, it is likely that a great many Reformers will be in the position intended by Sir John when he framed the measure, namely, out in the cold. The Mail, however, betrays the animus which is concealed in the Act and shows that no Reformers are wanted on the Dominion Voters' Lists.

THERE are a good many people who may be unable to preach a sermon, but who can readily draw an inference. That good man, Mr. Moyer, of the Berlin News, is partial to exhibiting himself in the pulpit, but it is evident he is not gifted in inferential reasoning. For instance he says:—

It must be a great satisfaction to every elector of North Waterloo to note the fact that while our friends, the Grits, are making such onslaughts—whether with or without any just cause we shall not stop to discuss—on any member of Parliament no one of all the screaming crowd, from M. C. Cameron down, has ever charged our member, Mr. Kranz, M. P., with anything of the kind. Of course many others are no doubt charged wrongfully; but it is all the more satisfactory that even under such circumstances, not a word of crookedness has ever been breathed against our highly respected and honourable member.

There are two other inferences which might be drawn from these facts; the one an honest and likely reason, the other not more mean than Mr. Moyer's that "Of course many others are no doubt charged wrongfully." The first, then, is that since Mr. Kranz is innocent of any Parliamentary bribery, and has not been so charged, the inference is that only the guilty have been exposed, and that Mr. M. C. Cameron has not lifted his voice except where he had sufficient cause. The other inference would be that Mr. Kranz was not bought by a timber limit or other fat deal because he might not stay that way.

THE Marquis of Salisbury's Government, which was only a snatch affair at the best, has thus early come to grief, having been defeated yesterday on an amendment by Jesse Collings regretting that no measures are announced in the Queen's Speech for the relief of the sufferers by the depression in trade and agriculture, particularly in regard to affording facilities to farm labourers, etc., for obtaining allotments of small holdings on equitable terms as to rent and security of tenure. The Government had tried to dodge the vote on this subject by bringing up the Irish question, but in vain, as the Collings amendment had precedence under the rules of the House. This amendment received the strong support of Mr. Gladstone, but was opposed by the Marquis of Hartington. When the vote was taken it was found to be 329 for the amendment to 250 against—the majority against the Government being 79, which is almost exactly the number of the Home Rulers. The Government will resign at once, the House having adjourned until Thursday. Although the Marquis of Hartington still holds aloof, it is expected that Mr. Gladstone will be able to form a strong Ministry. Hartington, it is said, will form a new Whig party, opposed to Home Rule, in which event, in order to make his small following of any account, he will have to vote with the Tories.

SHILOH'S CURE will immediately relieve Croup, Whooping Cough and Bronchitis. Sold by A. B. Petrie.

THE Orangeville Sun deals out a lot of frothy indignation over the recent outrages committed against the lives and property of Mr Munro and family because the latter gentlemen is a Magistrate specially entrusted with Scott Act enforcement. The Sun's indignation might be mistaken for genuine had it not in the the course of its article shown its sympathy with the dastardly would-be assassins by referring to Mr Munro as an "unprincipled old schemer." Business and political rivalry should not be allowed to go such lengths. Whatever influence the Sun's article might have had for good is certainly nullified by such undignified treatment of a contemporary.

Care of Animals in Winter.

The American Humane Association offers the following suggestions relative to fowls, horses and cattle to persons having these in charge, in the northern latitudes, during the winter months.

Do not compel domestic fowls to roost in trees. Aside from danger of being captured by owls and other enemies, the swaying of the branches on which they are sitting will prevent them from getting rest: while in the severely cold weather, thus exposed, feet and combs are frozen and the bird is so benumbed as to make it impossible for it to be of much profit on the farm. Securely sheltered from wind and storm, and allowed to sit on a broad roost, feet are thus kept warm, refreshing rest is obtained and the fowl is much stronger, healthier and more profitable to its owner.

Do not clip horses during the winter months. With the same propriety we might cut the hair from a dog or shear a sheep at this season of the year. The argument in behalf of the practice is that the horse in perspiration will dry more quickly if the hair is short. If the animal is thoroughly blanketed and kept in a sheltered or warm place, after being driven, no danger results from perspiration, whatever the length of hair; while the horse that has been deprived of its coat in the winter time suffers perpetually while being exposed to the cold.

It is a cruelty inflicted upon beautiful carriage horses for the purpose of style. Blessed is the ordinary work-horse, in the winter time, for, however much it may perspire, it is allowed to carry its full growth of hair during the cold weather.

Do not leave cattle to stand shivering, while the extremities often freeze, in the snow storms and severe winds of winter, when a little time would suffice to construct of boards, rails or poles, a support upon and around which may be placed hay, straw or weeds, thus making a shelter that may comfortably protect them. Cattle kept in fairly warm condition throughout the winter will, as milkers, give a larger and better yield of milk, and as beeves will take on flesh much more rapidly than if left exposed to inclement weather.

Aside from a question of humanity, the more attention and care that is bestowed upon animals, with a view to their comfort, the more will they be of service and a source of profit to their owners.

Arthur Correspondence.

Early on Saturday morning last, after a brief illness, this village lost one of its oldest and most respected citizens in the person of Mrs. Jannett Small, Postmistress. She was the widow of the late Joseph Small, who was appointed Postmaster in 1864, by the late Dr. Parker, who was then member for the North Riding. At Mr. Small's death in Feb. 1868, his widow, out of sympathy and support from both political parties, received the appointment from Judge Drew, who was newly elected member for North Wellington. The widow was left with six children, 5 boys and one girl, all of whom are grown up and provided for with the exception of the youngest son, who is now 17 years of age, and has always remained at home attending the office with his mother, and is credited with being a very correct and efficient clerk. During the long time that the widow has been Postmistress very few complaints have ever been heard, and the family have all been noted for their civility and courtesy towards the public on all occasions. The funeral on Sunday was one of the largest attended that has been seen in this part of the country. As the office is a Tory appointment there is a host of applicants, all having their special claims on the party.

The Tory convention which was held here on Friday of last week for the purpose of organizing and electing officers was rather a tame affair. Notwithstanding it was Division Court day the crowd was very small in comparison with other occasions. Dr. Clarke, of Palmerston, was elected chairman; and M. Hally, of this village, 1st Vice. Scott, of Grand Valley, (Little Toronto), 2nd Vice; and Mr. Wallace White, of this village, was reappointed Secretary.

Arthur, Jan. 25, 1886.

Coming to Guelph.

Doctors of the great English staff of physicians and surgeons will visit the Commercial Hotel, Guelph, on the 6th of February, and will remain until the 15th of February. These doctors have but one fee which is $6.00. This charge includes consultation, examination, advice and medicine, for an entire course of treatment. It matters not what your complaint may be, nor how short or long standing, their charge will be no more or less than $6.00. They have made their fees small so as to enable the poor to obtain treatment. If your case is hopeless they will refund your money before you leave the office, as they will not take any case to treat without there is a moral certainty of giving entire satisfaction. If your case is incurable they will frankly and honestly tell you, also caution you against spending more money for medicine which travelling imposters are liable to suggest. They will not keep any patient in suspense relative to their disease. If you are troubled with lung or heart disease, an absolute disclosure will be made in such a manner as not to be productive of shock to the patient. Number of patients treated and rejected in the following places viz.:—

Cobourg	416	of whom	267	were rejected

The continued use of Robinson's Phosphorized Emulsion invariably cleanses the blood from all impurities and restores the system to a state of healthfulness, that is manifested in increased constitutional vigor, mental activity, and lightness and bouyancy of spirits. Always ask for Robinson's Phosphorized Emulsion, and be sure you get it.

THE FRANCHISE ACT.

The Qualifications of Voters—The Process of Registration Explained.

The time having arrived for the preparation of the voters' lists under the new Dominion Franchise Act, an appeal is made to the Liberals of Wellington to have their names enrolled as voters without delay. To assist in so doing a short summary of the qualification of voters and of the process for securing registration is given.

QUALIFICATION.

To entitle a person to be put on the list he must be—

(1) 21 years of age.

(2) A British subject by birth or naturalization.

(3) Owner of real property of value of:
In a city, $300.
In a town, $200.
In a county, $150.

(4) Or tenant of real property under lease at a rental of
$2 per month.
$6 per quarter.
$12 per half year.
$20 per year.

Provided that the tenant has been in possession for one year before 1st January 1886, and shall have paid one year's rent before final revision.

If the rent is yearly it will be sufficient if $20 of last year's rent shall have been paid before final revision.

Change of tenancy without intermission will not destroy the vote if aggregate of tenancies would give vote.

The assessor should be instructed to state in the assessment roll the rent payable by each person assessed as tenant. If, however, this is not done, each tenant is prima facie entitled to be registered as a voter if the property is assessed at the following values:—
In cities at $300.
In towns at $200.
In counties at $150.

In counties outside of villages the rent may be payable either in money or in money's worth.

(5) Or a bona fide occupant for one year before 1st January, 1886, and enjoying the revenues and profits for his own or his wife's use of real property of the following values:
In cities, $300.
In towns, $200.
In counties, $150.

The occupancy may be under license of occupation from the crown or from any person or corporation.

(6) Or by income without any other qualification.

A person may be registered as an income voter, if he derives an income from his earnings, trade or profession, or from some investment in Canada of $300 a year, for one year before 1st January, 1886.

In counties the earnings may be either in money or money's worth.

(7) Sons of owners of real property are qualified—

(a) Where the father is living and a son or sons living with him continuously for one year before 1st January, 1886, and the property is sufficient in value according to the above figures, if divided between them to give them all votes. If not sufficient to qualify all the sons and the father, then the father and only so many sons as the property will qualify can be enrolled, and in such case the eldest son will be preferred, and then the next elder, and so on.

(b) When the father is dead, and would, if living, be qualified, residence with the mother will suffice, and as many sons as the property will qualify may be registered, with preference to the eldest and elder sons, as in the last case.

Occasional absence from home of a son—not more than six months in the year—will not disqualify, and all time spent at school or college in Canada will be counted as if spent at home.

Son of an owner includes grandson, step-son and son-in-law, and all these may be registered as voters on the property if of sufficient value. The provision as to sons of owners applies to the counties as well as towns and cities in cases other than those of farmers' sons.

(8) Farmers' sons—The same provisions substantially apply to farmers' sons, as stated in the last paragraph in respect of sons of owners in cities and towns.

A farm is to be not less than 20 acres of land.

(9) Fishermen and owners of real property and boats, nets, fishing gear and tackle of aggregate value of $150.

Income voters register where they reside at time of registration—all others where property is situate. If in more than one polling division in the same electoral district the voter may register in either.

All names entered in the last revised voters' lists under the old law, will be entered in the new lists by the revising barrister.

Every person not on the assessment roll desiring to have his name on the list must at once send to the revising barrister an application in writing to be put on the list, giving his name, residence and the property or other qualification in respect of which he applies to be put on.

This application must be accompanied by a declaration which is to be made and signed before a commissioner for taking affidavits, a notary or justice of the peace, showing the grounds of the applicants claim to be put on the list.

Substantially the voters are those who can qualify as owners, tenants, occupants, income voters, sons of owners and farmers' sons.

See that the application shows as correctly and fully as possible the qualification.

Make the declaration before a commissioner, notary or justice of the peace. It is convenient to have it attached to the application on the same sheet.

In case of an absent person, let some one else having a knowledge of the qualification make the application and declaration.

When one cannot find a justice or other person before whom the declaration can be taken let the application alone be sent in, with an explanation of the reason, and it would be well in such case to have the truth of the facts in the application certified on the back of it by one, or if possible, two other persons.

The application and declaration must be sent at once to the Revising barrister of the district.

URGENCY OF THE MATTER.

No name not on the last voters' list or assessment roll will be placed on the preliminary voters' list, unless on application and declaration as above.

In case of any difficulty or doubt, application should be made at once for advice to some of the Liberal friends in the neighborhood.

Explanatory.

Attention is directed to my advertisement in another column announcing the continuance of the discount sale, until the end of the first week in February. To prevent any false impression, the public are informed that the discounts stated do not apply to every article in stock, but to special lines. Also that the discounts are made on the prices the goods were sold at and the present price quoted is the net price without further discount. The great inducements offered have created a wide spread interest. Many people having seen the Bargains purchased, are under the impression that the discounts apply to all goods alike. We never want to create an impression that we do not carry out. Customers are always sure of getting exactly what we advertise. Hence this explanation. E. R. CHAPTER VI.

A FAIRY TALE.

Never in all Helen's after life did she forget the month following the day on which she had promised to be Percival's wife. Each day formed a separate item in her memory, and yet the whole month seemed like a long, happy dream which she scarcely wished to wake. No one could fail to notice the change in her now. Some attributed it to her accident, which they said, had, by keeping her a prisoner in the house for a fortnight, helped her complexion to recover from its summer tan. Others said she was at last learning to be reasonable, and to take things as they were meant. No one put it down to the right cause, of course. As before said, Helen was not strictly beautiful, and with a reputation for possessing an uncomfortable temper was not likely to be accredited with a superfluity of lovers, and, as for Percival, it was not generally supposed that a man of Mr. Lafone's pride of birth would allow his daughters to marry the sons of wealthy manufacturers, though he might make them welcome to his house. Besides, Percival and Helen were discretion itself. Never, in the presence of even the most insignificant third person, did they fall into the familiarity of employing their Christian names. It would have been impossible to detect in their manner anything warmer than a close friendship.

Helen was happy—perfectly happy. Her happiness overshadowed, swallowed up all the daily worries of her home life. They no longer existed for her. She saw them not; her eyes were fixed upon an object so bathed and flooded in golden light that they were blind to mere earthly things. She was accustoming herself to look up, and the first result of her uplifted gaze was that she lost sight of these low impediments to her content which had formerly occupied all her attention. If she had never before been really beautiful, she was so now. There seemed a glory and splendour in the soft fire of her glance and the haunting sweetness of her smile. Percival saw the beauty and rejoiced in it; his beauty, as he used to call it; beauty created by him, born of the power of his being, kept alive by the attraction of his individuality; beauty which flashed forth at his call, and at the call of no one else. They had not been engaged a week before he had thanked Helen for her wisdom in keeping the engagement a secret between themselves.

During this month, too, Helen's doubts and fears seemed to vanish. She obeyed Dr. Hazlitt and her own instinct, and trusted Percival. In the warmth of his love and the peace of the thought that her life at home might be ended whenever she chose, she grew to have confidence in herself. It was impossible to feel Percival's dependence on her in many things and the perfect sympathy between them without coming to a sense that she, too, had a place in the world. She even forget Alice, or if she thought of her it was as apart from herself; she ceased to believe that Alice would have any influence over the man who loved herself.

Percival did little or nothing without consulting Helen. She had so clear a head and could understand and enter into his plans so perfectly, he grew to feel every day more dependent upon her. Her woman's wit came in so often just where his solid common sense failed; her insight into character was so keen, he felt he might always trust her judgment. Every day he felt more convinced that in winning Helen he had won a treasure, and one day after a long discussion on some point on which they had thought differently Percival said, half gravely, half jestingly—

"Did it ever occur to you, Helen, to look below the surface of the old mythe and fairy tales, and to seek for their real meaning?"

"I don't believe they had any. You are bitten with the spirit of the nineteenth century, Percival, you want to find a meaning in everything. You are trying to make out that those simple minded ancients were just as much bothered and worried as we latter day sinners. You will never to it."

"We will keep the discussion of that problem until we are married. It will do nicely to fill up one of the long winter evenings when we are beginning to grow tired of one another, and have exhausted all our subjects of conversation."

"I am convinced they had no meaning," persisted Helen. "They were simply pretty fancies, invented to while away the evening hours, when people were too tired or too lazy to think of anything mild or serious. I shall always look at them in that light."

"One at anyrate had more than surface meaning," said Percival, "and that was the one about the Water of Life. What do you suppose they meant by the Water of Life, of which when you had once taken a draught you never grew old, or ugly, or ill-tempered?"

"An impossibility, I should think," said Helen, who chose at that moment to appear unsympathetic and matter of fact.

"No," replied her companion, "they didn't; they meant human love. Listen, and I will tell you a fairy tale. Imagine that somewhere—no one knows where, but somewhere—is a fountain containing the Water of Life, an eternal spring that never fails. It is quite a small fountain to look at, but deeper than the imagination can picture; it contains a whole ocean of the Water of Life—nay, it is infinite; its depth cannot be sounded. Whoever finds the Water of Life and drinks of it knows after that no real sorrow or trouble; whatever disasters threaten to overwhelm him, he can defy them all; he is possessed of a strength which will prevail against everything. Now, it is a fact that once every man and woman feels a desire to drink of the Water of Life, and sooner or later every one goes in search of it. It is rather a dangerous search, for it may only be undertaken once, and if anyone fails to find it he must abandon the the search for ever; and very few people do find it. For one thing, no one knows exactly where it is, and it happens sometimes that those who set out haphazard, or don't set out at all, stumble upon it straight away; while others who have elaborately explored the ground and made particular inquiry of others who have been successful in the search never find it at all. Now and then two people, a man and a woman, meet at the fountain, and if only the impulse to stoop down and drink moves them at the same moment, from that time their souls are bound together, and they live happily ever afterwards, for they have drunk of the Water of Life, and the strength which it gives shall never fail them,"

"How come so few to find it?" asked Helen thoughtfully.

"For many reasons. One is that there are other fountains scattered up and down so closely resembling the real one that only those whose instincts are true and pure can distinguish the right from the wrong. Most people drink at these fountains, the water of which is neither so pure nor so cold as that of the true one; but their taste is vitiated—they don't know the difference. Some knew from the very first that they were wrong, and console themselves by trying to believe that the real fountain is a myth, and that those who go in search of it are wasting their lives in running after the rainbow. Others drink in good faith, and only later find out their mistake, and feel that their lives are spoilt because they may not set out in their search again; they must abide by their first choice. Others, again, go on to the end of their lives and never find it out—never want to find it out; they are content with what they have got—nay, they scoff at those who seek the true fountain. The pure, cold water has no taste for them."

"And these are the worst off of all," said Helen rather dreamily, as he paused again, "because their natures must be coarse and low. It is better to die with longing for heaven, knowing we are on the earth, than to rest stupidly content with earth from inability to raise our eyes to heaven."

"Is it? Some people would tell you that since we are on the earth the best thing is to keep ourselves as earthly as possible, and that to waste our time in star gazing is both idle and wicked."

"Let them say so; they will always be in the majority. Surely they will not miss a few fools like ourselves."

"Not only that," went on Percival, "like everything else which is worth finding, those who wanted to find the Water of Life could only do it by making a sacrifice; they had to give up some pet vanity or weakness: and it seemed to some as if they were renouncing their whole individuality, while to others it came quite as a matter of course. No one need have hesitated, because they who find the fountain keep by the very nature of the search all that is purest and best in their nature. But everybody cannot make this sacrifice, their natures are not so strong, and wishing to remain unchanged they never find the true fountain."

They were both silent when he had finished speaking, until he said,

"Now what do you think of my fairy tale?"

"It is true enough," she answered smiling, "very true."

Elora Correspondence.

SUDDEN DEATH.—On Thursday last Mr. Thos. Short, of Pilkington, came into Salem for the purpose of going to the Post Office, and stepped into Street's hotel, while awaiting the sorting of the mail. While conversing with Mr. Street he suddenly fell forward and died, probably from an attack of the heart disease. A few months ago, deceased, by mistake, took a quantity of carbolic acid instead of a dose of Painkiller, but by the prompt administration of remedies was saved, and had apparently regained his usual health. Mr. Street was a native of Northumberland, England, being born near the border, and emigrated to Canada about fifty years ago. He settled in the vicinity of Wellington Square, and was engaged for some years upon the lakes, and thirty-seven years ago moved into the Township of Woolwich, now Pilkington. Mr. Short was a member of the Church of England, a strong Conservative, an honest man, a good neighbour, and deserving, as he received, the respect of all who knew him. His remains were followed to the cemetery in Elora, on Saturday last, by more than fifty teams, filled with the yeomanry of the neighborhood.

CHRISTMAS TREE.—The entertainment at Knox Church, on Thursday evening last was a great success. Rev. Mr. Rose occupied the chair, and delivered a short address to the large crowd of children present with their parents, and was followed by the Rev. Mr. Mills and Mr. Petrie, who made a few pertinent remarks. Two large trees, plentifully decorated with pretty and valuable gifts, were disclosed to view, and the hearts of the little ones were made glad with the liberal gifts so freely distributed. There was something for everybody, and none went away disappointed. The Rev. H. Rose was not forgotten, and a well filled pocket book fell to his lot. The pupils presented a small sum to Mr. Mitchell, the worthy Superintendent of the school, and the Treasurer was able to report the finances in a healthy condition.

MECHANICS' INSTITUTE.—The entertainment in aid of the funds of the Elora Mechanics' Institute, given in the Drill Shed on Friday evening last, was a great success in so far as the performance was concerned, but the turnout owing to the inclemency of the weather, was not so large as anticipated. Addresses were delivered by E. Barnes, President, and Revs. Messrs. Mills and P. L. Spencer. Messrs. Petrie and McKay gave readings, and Messrs. Filshie and Beam favored the audience with excellent solo performances. The Rev. H. Rose sang the solos to several excellent choruses. The music was really of first class character, evinced careful training, and was worthy of a much larger audience than that which listened to it. Two ladies, on their way to the concert, had a narrow escape from a serious accident. The night was dark, and the want of a lamp on the outside of the shed and at the crossing—wants which ought to be at once supplied—rendered it difficult to keep the pathway. As a result one lady fell to her middle in a hole filled with loose snow, and in falling struck the other over the left eye with the point of her umbrella. Fortunately no bones were broken.

CHARITY BALL.—Great preparations are being made for the charity ball to be given in the Drill Shed here to-morrow evening, and from the number of tickets sold, it is confidently expected that the party will be a large and agreeable one.

NARROW ESCAPE.—On Friday last, Mr Wallace, of Salem, had a narrow escape from drowning. While engaged in cutting ice on the dam there, he suddenly slipped and fell into the water, but help was at hand, and he was rescued with no worse results than a good ducking.

AN APPRECIATIVE AUDITOR.—During the delivery of Dr. Orton's lengthy and not very lively speech in the Drill Shed here recently, the most prominent legal supporter in this locality so highly appreciated the wonderful oratorical effort that he comfortably settled himself in his seat, and indulged in a slumber much longer than the ordinary forty winks. Those in his immediate locality felt sorry that he should lose so much worth listening to, but consoled themselves with the reflection that he had heard the Dr. so often that he knew his speech by heart. When the legal gentleman awoke, he rubbed his eyes, and looked as delighted as if he had really enjoyed a second edition of Jacob's Dream.

SETTLED AT LAST.—The many friends of Mr Harry Arkell, formerly of Elora, will be glad to learn that he has entered into partnership with Mr Grant, formerly of Elora, at the new City of Vancouver, B. C., in the general store business, and will one and all heartly wish both gentlemen full success in their new undertaking.

SKATING.—On Saturday evening, the lovers of good skating had a treat in the various competitions given in the Rink here. The first race, for the championship of Elora and Salem, and a silver medal, brought to the scratch, George Krausmann, Chas. Gale, Robt. Mitchell and J. Hillis. The distance was five miles. Krausmann led during the greater part of the race, but when half a lap ahead of Gale, unfortunately fell. Springing quickly to his feet, he still led, although he had lost distance, but fell again, when Gale shot ahead. Krausmann was particularly unlucky and had still another fall, Gale ultimately winning by half a lap. Gale never skated until last year, is built for an athlete, and promises with a little more practice to become an excellent skater. A barrel race, two miles in length, followed, in which George Hillis was successful. A three mile race, open to boys under sixteen, was the last event of the evening, and brought Oscar Wagner, Alex. Waddell, George Hillis, Wm. Bain, Wm. Dalby and John Krausmann to the line. A fair start was made, and the contest was a keen one, Wagner coming in first, and winning a championship medal, with Waddell second and Hillis third. There will be another test of skill and endurance between George Krausmann and Chas. Gale on Saturday evening next.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT.—Last evening the children attending St. John's Church, Elora, had their semi-annual entertainment in their school house. And it is needless to say that it was largely attended by the pupils. The Superintendent, Mr. Henry Clarke, after a sound, practical, common-sense address, presented a number of pretty prizes to the successful scholars, and gave words of encouragement to those who had almost, but not quite obtained the requisite number of marks. Following this came an exhibition of transparent photographs, by the Rev. P. L. Spencer, through a powerful sciopticon recently purchased by him. The views were numerous and interesting, and elicited the warm applause of the large body of small spectators. After a brief address by Mr. Spencer, who expressed himself as well pleased with the progress of the school, the proceedings terminated.

ENTERTAINMENT AT THORPVILLE.—The members of the League of the Cross, Guelph, visited Thorpville last evening, and in the large school house there gave an entertainment which was highly applauded by a large audience. Mr. Thomas Heffernan acted as stage manager, and the members of the League appeared in the roaring farce "Do you know me now," which was creditably rendered, and was followed later in the evening by the extravanza "Advertising for Talent." Miss Scanlon sang very acceptably and Miss Rene Heffernan rendered "Pretty Pond Lillies" so well that she was loudly encored. Miss Kate Halley, of Ponsonby, recited Abigail Becker, and Mr. Brockhurst, a local vocalist, gave "Sailing" in such capital style, that he was loudly called upon to give another song, which he did. Performers and audience were well pleased with the reception and performance, and the League of the Cross will be heartily welcomed, when it appears again before the people of Thorpville.

AN EXCITING RACE.—The proprietor of the Commercial Hotel prides himself on his ability as a sprinter, although he tips the beam at 220, and so also does the Reeve of West Luther, although not possessing so much adipose tissue. This morning these gentlemen had some variance as to their respective merits, and decided to settle the matter by a test. The Reeve of Harriston was appointed referee. Each contestant won one heat, and the last trial was a dead heat. The referee decided the race a draw. It will likely be run again at the June session. The race was witnessed with much amusement.

SNOW SHOE TRAMP.—This evening the Guelph Snow Shoe and Toboggan Club make their first tramp this season. They will assemble at St George's Square and form a torchlight procession. The toboggan slide will be closed and all the members of the club are expected to be present. From present indications the first tramp promises to be as successful as the opening of the slide. The members will not put on their snow shoes until they have reached outside the city limits. The torchlight procession will be a pretty spectacle and will no doubt be witnessed by many of the citizens.

MARKET DAY EXCURSIONS.—The Grand Trunk officials, with their usual liberality, have instituted cheap Saturday excursions to Guelph for the benefit both of the farmers of the surrounding country and the merchants of the City. The excursions will commence on Saturday, 30th January, and every succeeding Saturday till further notice. The excursions will extend as far east as Georgetown, and as far west as Waterloo on the G. T. R., and as far north as Drayton, and as far south as Preston on the G. W. Division. Tickets will be issued at single fare, and must be purchased at the Company's ticket offices before commencing the journey, and will be valid for a continuous trip in either direction on the day of issue only. Conductors will furnish tickets from way stations.

The party, numbering about forty, came in three large sleigh loads and were accompanied by four Sisters. The Balkans Trouble.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 27.—M. Tzanow, the Bulgarian foreign minister who recently arrived here with Gadban Effendi, the Turkish Commissioner, is negotiating with the Porte for a complete union of Bulgaria and Eastern Roumelia with one legislature and administration for both. The Porte is friendly to the scheme and an early settlement of the question is expected. The Turkish and Bulgarian troops on the frontier are on the best of terms.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 27.—The inhabitants of the island of Cretc, three-fourths of whom are Greeks, are excited over the prospect of the arrival of the Greek squadron. There are only two Turkish ironclads in Cretan waters and they are stationed in Sunda bay. They would be unable to resist the progress of a Greek fleet. The Turkish garrison on the island numbers 10,000 men.

Labour Riots in France.

PARIS, Jan. 27.—Two thousand striking employes at one of the iron works in Decazeville, department of Aveyron, attacked the house of the manager of the works. They broke open the door, entered the building, seized the manager and threw him out of the window. He was then trampled to death by the angry crowd. Troops were sent to quell the disturbance and restore order, but not until several of the rioters had been killed and a number wounded. The strike grew out of a question of wages.

New Gold Fields Discovered.

CHICAGO, Jan. 26. — A syndicate of Americans was formed some months ago to prospect for gold in Honduras. James Rector, who was sent to Honduras with the experts, reports that the field is likely to prove as important a one as any of the great placer districts of California. The new field lies in the eastern portion of Honduras, about one hundred and fifty miles from the Atlantic coast. The placers are in and adjacent to the head waters of Leupac River, which is one of the tributary streams of Rio Patuca, a region long known for its mineral resources. Mr. Rector and his party have explored the stream and its gravelly bottom for nearly fifty miles and have found scores of places where gravel yields from 10 cents to 80 cents to pan. They have begun regular mining, however, in a place where after much toil they succeeded in turning the river from its native bed. Here they dug down and found bed rock at six feet depth in a strata of clay and gravel. They are sluicing out from seven to ten dollars a cubic yard—a yield fully equal to that of the best placer diggings in California. The bed of the river they have reclaimed covers many acres in extent and under the laws of the republic they can lay claim to it all. Facilities for placer mining are unsurpassed. A quantity of gold which has been sent up was exhibited here yesterday.

Coming to Guelph.

Doctors of the great English staff of physicians and surgeons will visit the Commercial Hotel, Guelph, on the 6th of February, and will remain until the 15th of February. These doctors have but one fee which is $6.00. This charge includes consultation, examination, advice and medicine, for an entire course of treatment. It matters not what your complaint may be, nor how short or long standing, their charge will be no more or less than $6.00. They have made their fees small so as to enable the poor to obtain treatment. If your case is hopeless they will refund your money before you leave the office, as they will not take any case to treat without there is a moral certainty of giving entire satisfaction. If your case is incurable they will frankly and honestly tell you, also caution you against spending more money for medicine which travelling imposters are liable to suggest. They will not keep any patient in suspense relative to their disease. If you are troubled with lung or heart disease, an absolute disclosure will be made in such a manner as not to be productive of shock to the patient. Number of patients treated and rejected in the following places viz.:—

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Opening of the Third Session of the Fifth Parliament.

The Lieut.-Governor's Speech.

(Special to the Mercury.)

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 28.—The third session of the Fifth Parliament of the Ontario Legislature was opened at three o'clock this afternoon by Lieut.-Governor Robinson with the usual ceremonies. The following is the Speech from the Throne:

Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly:

It has once more become my agreeable duty to convene you for the discharge of the high public functions devolving upon this House, for your annual review of Provincial administration and for such measures in legislation as may keep pace with the rapid strides of this great Province, and for providing the supplies necessary to administer the Government and give effect to your enactments.

Immediately after the rising of the House last year the attention of our people was anxiously drawn to the Northwest Territory by most unhappy occurrences. That vast territory, like the intervening Province of Manitoba, is allied to Ontario by the closest ties of affection and kindness. Many of the pioneers in those distant settlements are the sons of your constituents, or lately were themselves your constituents, and their hardships and dangers touch very directly the heart and homes of Ontario. When the volunteers were called out to restore order it was gratifying to observe the spirit in which our Ontario youth answered the summons and undertook what in every civil strife must needs be a most painful duty. While sincerely deploring the necessity for their services we all felt a natural and just pride in our citizen soldiers, as we witnessed their patient endurance on the march and their unflinching courage in action. When tranquility was restored it was again gratifying to observe the alacrity with which they returned to their civil duties, and resumed the avocations of peaceful industry.

I am rejoiced to see by the official statistics that Ontario continues to maintain the lead of all Provinces and States on the continent in agricultural industry. The field crops of the past year have, with two or three exceptions, been very bountiful, though low prices and a wide spread disease in the potato have not permitted our farmers to realize the usual profits of some former years. I notice with pleasure that the increased attention which is given to mixed farming and to live stock and dairy products has widened the basis of our agricultural prosperity, and greatly limited the injury arising from the failures of a single crop or a single branch of this most important of the occupations of our people.

The recent organization of Farmers' Institutes by the Commissioner of Agriculture has furnished most important agencies for the exchange of valuable experience and for the diffusion of scientific principles and methods among the farming community, these Institutes having been largely attended and highly appreciated. The Professors of the Agricultural College have personally interested themselves in the proceedings, and have established between College and Institutes cordial relations of the greatest mutual advantage. In order to secure the permanent application of practical husbandry with scientific research a measure will be submitted for the formation of an Advisory Board of Farmers, whom the Commissioner may consult in the management of the College and Experimental Farm.

I congratulate you upon the result of the appeal taken to the Imperial Privy Council by the Government of Canada respecting the Dominion Liquor License Act. The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council have declared these Acts to be wholly null and void. Thus their Lordships have not only sustained the Provincial jurisdiction to the extent adjudged by the Supreme Court of Canada, but have sustained the full contention of Ontario, and have declared the entire subject of tavern, shop, vessel and wholesale licenses to belong exclusively to Provincial jurisdiction.

Notwithstanding the decision of Her Majesty in Council in 1884, determining in favour of the Province the long pending dispute respecting our westerly boundary, the settlement of the territory now called the Rainy River District, and the development of its resources have been further delayed by a claim recently set up that all the Crown Lands in this territory belong to the Dominion as Indian Lands, though in the case of other Provinces all lands similarly situated are admitted to belong to the Province within which they lie. The Dominion Government having covered large tracts of the awarded territory, with licenses to cut the timber, my Government, to preserve the Provincial domain from further waste applied for and obtained an injunction against some of the licensees, the effect of which has been to deter so far as known all Dominion licensees and other trespassers from further operations in the territory. The Court granting the injunction decided that in Ontario, as in all the older Provinces, the title to such lands lies not in the Dominion but in the Province. An appeal from this decision is still pending.

A measure will be submitted to you for the opening and settling of the lands of the Rainy River District, to take effect as soon as the claim of the Dominion Government has been abandoned, or set at rest by the tribunal of last resort.

I regret that notwithstanding the earnest efforts of my Government no progress has been made towards a settlement of accounts between Ontario, the Dominion and Province of Quebec. In view of this further delay, and of the apparent uncertainty as to the time when a settlement may be arrived at, my Government deem it inadvisable to any longer postpone paying to the municipalities the interest on the Land Improvement Fund derived from the sale of School Lands prior to Confederation, the principal, though not yet received, having been advanced by the Province to the municipalities in 1882. Provisions for this purpose will be made in the estimates.

The early settlement of lands recently made accessible by railroads and highways continues to receive the earnest encouragement of my Government.

The past year witnessed a partial renewal of the mining industry, and our valuable deposits of minerals and metals are again attracting attention.

I congratulate you upon the liberal bonuses receive at the timber sale deemed necessary last fall of limited areas of scattered and exposed limits upon the north shore of the Georgian Bay.

An unusually severe visitation of smallpox in the commercial metropolis of the adjoining Province excited much sympathy with our afflicted neighbors. The virulent character of the epidemic occasioned my Government the most anxious and watchful solicitude on account of our close business relations and constant intercourse with that city. Prompt and energetic measures were taken through our Provincial Board of Health to maintain a vigilant quarantine on the frontier, and to insist on the examination and vacination of passengers and the disinfecting of railway carriages and merchandise. Local boards rendered effective service as well in enforcing general vaccination among our own people as by other precautionary measures. In devising and carrying into effect the preventive measures necessary the enlarged powers conferred last Session by the Public Health Act were of eminent service. The result of the vigorous action taken has been that nowhere within our limits did the epidemic obtain any dangerous foothold, and that our towns and villages generally have enjoyed complete immunity from the dread disease.

During the recess I issued a commission for the Consolidation of the Provincial Statutes, now again dispersed through many volumes. Substantial progress has been made in this important work; and it is hoped that a report by the Commissioners may be ready for submission to the House during the present Session. Bills will be laid before you embodying improvements in the laws recommended by the Commissioners or suggested in their discussions.

Other measures are to be submitted for your consideration, including a bill for the auditing of the Public Accounts of the Province, a bill for increasing the usefulness and efficiency of Mechanics' Institutes, a bill for the amendment of the law relating to the estates of deceased persons, and a bill respecting the liability of employers for injuries suffered by their workmen.

I regret that in many branches of industry the present supply of labor seems so far to exceed the demand, and render employment uncertain. Under these circumstances my advisers continue to regard it as unwise for this Province to stimulate the immigration of the working classes from abroad, lest the hardships of the present situation should be aggravated.

I had hoped that the past year would have witnessed active operations on the projected Parliamentary and Departmental Buildings, but unexpected difficulties in the plans have intervened. I derive, however, much pleasure from the confident anticipation that early in the present season these much needed buildings will be in actual course of erection.

The urgent need of increased accommodation for the lunatic and idiotic of our population was recognized last session, and appropriations were voted for additional buildings at Hamilton and Orillia. It was found, however, that before the intended structure at Hamilton could be made available some interim accommodation for lunatics must be provided in order to the immediate relief of our gaols and overcrowded asylums. The Department was so fortunate as to secure, under a five year lease, the use of Regiopolis College as a branch asylum, which has been placed under the management of the officers of the Rockwood Asylum. After some repairs and slight alterations very suitable accommodation was thus provided for one hundred and fifty patients. This will, it is hoped, be found sufficient for the public wants until necessary permanent provision is made.

The reports of the various Departments of the Public Service for the past year will be laid before you. There will also be submitted the first report of the Master of Titles on the operations of the Land Titles Act of last session, and the report of the Commissioner appointed to inquire into complaints made against the Warden of the Central Prison.

The estimates for the current year have been prepared with a view to economy and efficiency, due regard being had to the varied requirements of this great Province.

I feel assured that your legislative labours will as heretofore be marked by earnestness of purpose and by a sincere and disinterested consideration of the public welfare.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From the Grey County Council, setting forth that the midsummer holidays were too long and not suitable for rural districts. Owing to the snow in the winter, which prevent in many instances people from a distance attending school, the Legislature should be petitioned to have the time of vacation reduced.

From the Township of York asking the Council to co-operate with them in petitioning the Legislature so that rights would be conferred on the Township Councils, after having obtained the consent of the parties, to open new streets and make other local improvements, with the consent of the parties owning at least one half in value of the property to be benefitted thereby, and to oppose a frontage tax on said property.

From the Stratford Council asking this Council to co-operate with them in having the Legislature pass a by-law regulating waggon tires, carrying over 2,000 pounds, to be three inches in width, and that sleighs be 3 feet, 9 inches between the tires.

From Perth County Council, showing that in many instances it was impossible to carry out the provisions of the Ditches and Water Course Act of 1883, as amended by the Act of 1884. Where a railway intersects the proposed crossing of a ditch, the Railway Co. should be placed on equal terms with a municipality. They asked the co-operation of the Council to petition the Legislature in this matter.

From the Grey Farmers' Institute in reference to petitioning the Dominion Government to have a general stock law and officers appointed to look after stock running at large.

From the Town of Durham asking the Council to prepare a memorial to the Legislature opposing the formation of a new county, comprising part of Grey and Wellington.

From the Prisoners' Aid Association, Toronto, asking for some aid in connection with carrying out their work.

From Dr. G. S. Herod, stating that he only received $100 per annum as Jail Physician, and asking the Council to raise the amount to $200, $65.40 of which would only have to be paid by the County, the City paying the balance. His communication stated that the town of Berlin paid their Jail Surgeon $100, and Owen Sound $200, being more in proportion than the County of Wellington. Allowed.

WEDNESDAY EVE'G JAN. 27, 1886.

Salisbury's Resignation.

There is one virtue which British political parties possess in an eminent degree, namely, a prompt recognition of defeat and submission to the superior will of the people. Mr. Collings' amendment to the address in reply to the Queen's Speech was but a trifling affair in itself. Its effect, when carried, was to deprive the Government of the choice of an issue upon which to go to the country, and any practical utility it may have had ended with the defeat of the Government. Nevertheless it showed the temper of the party holding the balance of power; it showed that the Nationalists had awakened from the delusion that they were likely to get anything better from the Conservative party, with whom they had cast in their lot during the elections, than a few more kicks and a decided refusal of any tangible scheme of Home Rule. The Government have accepted the rebuke, and already Salisbury's resignation is in the hands of the Queen. Nor is it at all likely that the retiring Government will recommend a dissolution of Parliament. Their refusal to do anything more for Ireland than to take measures to suppress the Land League simply gives to Gladstone the majority which he should have had from the beginning, and makes him the only leader entitled to form a Government. The general idea expressed by the British press is that he can form a strong Ministry if he is careful in the selection of his colleagues. Of course much advice is tendered him, but in all probability the Grand Old Man knows what he is about, and did not take up Jesse Collings' amendment for nothing. His hitherto well concealed scheme for pacifying the Nationalists will soon be forthcoming, and assurances are not wanting that it will not only be a practical measure but one on which the large body of Liberals will unite. A few more days will tell.

HAMILTON Times:—Now we know how General Middleton managed to suppress the Northwest rebellion so well as to earn a title, a promotion and an honorarium of $20,000. He owed it all to Dr. Orton, the modest M. P. for Centre Wellington; at least that is what he tried to make the electors of Orangeville believe at a recent public meeting in that town. The Dufferin Advertiser call Orton's contentions "an unlimited stock of egotistic presumption."

THE announcement of the Grand Trunk that in future it will issue market excursion return tickets at single fares from given points on their two lines of railway to Guelph should be very gratifying to our business people, as well as a boon to the farmers along the lines. They are thus provided with a cheap, comfortable and convenient means of reaching the Royal City every Saturday, and it is hardly necessary to tell those who may come that they will be sure of a hearty welcome. If our merchants are alive to their opportunities they will easily devise means of adding to the liberal inducements of cheap return tickets, and thus secure a largely increased circuit of customers.

THE Montreal Star, professedly independent, is about the most ardent supporter Sir John Macdonald has, and is of course spitefully inclined towards Mr Blake. But few would anticipate, even from a Tory organ, such barefaced impudence as is contained in the following editorial item from its columns:—"Hon. Edward Blake is promised to us for early next month. How would it do for Conservatives here to invite a few of the Cabinet Ministers to attend any meeting he may hold and talk against him? It is true that Mr Blake is not coming into his own constituency to address his own electors upon matters lying between him and them, but although all this, if it were the case, would doubly justify packing his meeting with Tories, still it may be worth while packing the meeting anyway."

THE people of the Parry Sound section of Muskoka have long asked for much needed aid to build them a colonization railway, and their demands are certainly reasonable. Recently, as we notice by reports in the North Star, published at Parry Sound, a number of meetings have been held at different points, and the whole matter enthusiastically discussed. Delegates have been appointed to interview both the Dominion and Ontario Parliaments for the purpose of urging the granting of liberal subsidies, and it is to be hoped the delegation will be as successful as they could wish. There is no practical sense in voting away millions of dollars to railway enterprises at the further ends of the continent, while this most valuable and most interesting portion of the Dominion, close by our doors, remains like a Dark Continent, shut out from the world for want of adequate railway facilities. There are resources in Parry Sound District in minerals, agriculture and lumber worth millions of dollars annually waiting to be brought to light, and it is to be hoped that our legislators will deal generously with a district so full of generous possibilities.

THE Wellington County Parliament now in session did a good deal more business yesterday than is usually done at first days and first meetings of such bodies. Like their predecessors, they have a keen sense of practicing economy of the public moneys, and to mark their pronounced policy in this regard they decided to rush business energetically, as some of them could not see the necessity for hanging around Guelph a whole week. As a compensation for increased diligence a motion increasing their per diem allowance by 50 per cent was carried by a large majority. If the gentlemen who give their time to public business are to be paid at all they ought to be sufficiently well paid, and it can hardly be urged that this last "salary grab"—which brings the allowance up to three dollars per day—is any too much for gentlemen compelled to stay away from home, in places of public resort, for a week at a time. But there is a danger that the increased indemnity, being a per diem allowance, instead of prompting members to hasten business may have a distinctly opposite effect. The Wellington Parliament have a grand chance for proving the sincerity of their motives. [Since the above was in type, the courage of a few of the "grabbers" oozed out at their finger ends, and when the by-law confirming the motion came up to-day, and "yeas" and "nays" were called for, the vote resulted in a tie. Warden Sweetnam cut the knot and the grab at the same time.

Fergus Correspondence.

STRANGE.—Without mentioning any names, we may say that a farmer in Garafraxa bought from one of our merchants a bill of goods on the 16th of April last. He put them in his cutter, which was in the hotel stable. Before starting for home the goods were missed and could not be found. The hostler had to pay for the lost goods and a certain man was accused of stealing them. Here it stopped for the time. This fall when a farmer in a different township, Eramosa, resurrected his last winter's cutter for a first sleigh ride, it was found to require brushing up a little, and naturally the box under the seat was inspected. The result of this inspection was the finding of goods which did not belong to the farmer. Fortunately the bill of sale and purchase was stuck on the parcel, giving the name of purchasing party. Enquiry made, the farmer in the other township found, and the goods all returned to their owner safe, after lying in a different township since last spring. Of course the Garafaxa farmer was amazed and at once determined to return the hostler's money and relieve the accused. The question is, how did the goods get in the wrong cutter? and why did the mice or the young farmer's children not eat the sugar?

CONSERVATIVE MEETING.—The Liberal Conservative meeting of Centre Wellington was held in the Fergus Drill Shed yesterday, a business meeting in the interests of the party being first held in Morrow's Hotel. It is currently reported that all is not smooth in the Tory camp. Some of the young men begin to have a mind of their own, and do not wish the machine here to thrash out John A. Macdonald's chaff forever. We cannot say how true this is, we did not arrive at the secret caucus in time to hear for ourselves. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon the officers of the Association, accompanied by Dr. Orton and Hon. T. White, and quite a large number of good men, congregated in the Drill Shed, Mr. H. Roberts in the chair. Hon. T. White was received with cheers. His speech may be termed a good one, especially from the Conservative side. We had nothing to grumble about. He spoke very nicely; did not abuse the Reformers to any extent; made what seemed to us a very mild, pleasant effort to uphold a bad cause; did not try to enthuse, or if he did with no success, as the applause was only very light. He defended and explained the C. P. R., commercially and nationally, putting special strength on the national part; made what even Conservatives admit was a poor defence of the increased debt and expenditure; got around the rebellion by saying there were only two petitions sent down, &c., ignoring altogether the fact that the Mail says there were grievances, &c., &c. Dr. Orton also made a few remarks mainly expressing his personal position, and contradicting many reports as to his getting timber limits, coal lands, etc., by Government favor. The Doctor's speech was short. Nearly all were there to hear Mr. White. No candidate was brought out. The feeling generally is that Dr. Orton will be the man, but nothing is definitely known. Altogether we had a good meeting. The speeches were high class and gentlemanly, the audience very orderly and attentive; certainly flat in applauding. This is not to be wondered at when there was no opposition, and the arguments in many cases not as good as expected, but of course our village was highly honoured with the presence of an Honourable, and we are delighted.

The thermometer was down to 11° and 13° below zero last Friday night. Sleighing is now good. The village busy with teams. A great deal of hay is coming in. Wood is more plentiful. Society still lively; parties, dancing, euchre, progressive and dinner.

CHORAL UNION.—The meeting was not well attended to night.

Mr. Anderson has not been elected Warden as we hoped.

We echo your words on sending the 30th Jumbo Rifles to England, if any are sent. This is the only Battalion that can uphold our military glory before the Queen. Style, pluck, size, beauty and discipline are all in Wellington.

Fergus, Jan. 26, 1886.

Hespeler Correspondence.

THE TELGMANN SEPTETTE ENTERTAINMENT.—This entertainment held in Glick's Hall on Saturday evening last under the auspices of the Methodist Church was one of the most successful ever held in this place. Mr. John D. Conway, who by a happy and decisive resolution in a moment of chance, secured the services of the troupe, deserves the warmest thanks of the congregation. As a family of violinists the Telgmanns perhaps stand unique, and the grand vocal powers of the generous Charley Kelley prove an invaluable accessory to every performance. The entertainment throughout was one of competence and refinement, and the demeanor of the performers so modest and unaffected as to elicit every one's esteem and approbation. We need not state that the audience was large when we tell that the receipts of one evening amounted to seventy-eight dollars and some cents.

LARGE CONGREGATION. — On Sabbath morning last it was announced in the Methodist Church that at the evening service Mr. Kelley, of the Telgmann troupe would sing a solo. The announcement seemed to have a magic effect, for at the evening service every available seat was occupied, and it was found necessary to place benches in the halls. The solo was rendered in masterly style, but had it not been, there would have been no cause of disappointment after listening to the excellent discourse delivered on this occasion by the Rev. James White.

BLUE RIBBON MEETING.—The generosity of Mr. Kelley in voluntarily rendering his services to sing at the Gospel Temperance meeting subsequently held on Sunday evening in the Hall, had no doubt something to do with the success of the occasion. The attendance was very large, and timely addresses were delivered by Rev. James White and Mr Edward Johnston. The speeches together with the excellent music rendered this G. T. meeting no exception to many others, one of enjoyment and profit. The chair was ably occupied by Mr Geo. E. Chapman, President of the B. R. Society.

PRESENTATION.—A few evenings ago a number of the employees of the Star Woollen Mills collected at the residence of Mr Edward Copeland, who until the last few weeks was an employee of long standing in the same establishment as commercial agent, book-keeper, etc., and presented that gentlemen with an elaborately finished secretary. An address expressive of the high regard always entertained for Mr Copeland by the other employees, and the regret they experienced at his departure, was read by Mr H. E. Marlatt, another official of long standing in the establishment. The address and presentation met with a feeling and hearty response from Mr Copeland, after which a few hours were very pleasantly spent. We add just here that we regret very much to imagine that we are to lose Mr Copeland as a fellow-townsman. He has been for several years an active member of the Presbyterian Church, and also of the Board of Directors of the Mechanics' Institute. His social and genial companionship is going to be very much missed. We feel quite sanguine that whatever institution secures his services as a commercial agent will secure those of a most efficient one.

ROYAL TEMPLARS' VISIT.—On the evening of Monday, the 25th inst., about twenty of the brethren and sisters from the Ayr Council of Royal Templars' drove over and visited our Council at Hespeler. It of course was the occasion of the regular meeting of the members of the Royal Degree of the Hespeler Council, and a most pleasant and interesting time was spent, the companionship of the Ayr friends proving most desirable. Songs, speeches, readings and instrumental music, constituted the programme in connection with which there was a most palatable lunch. The functions of the chair were conducted by Bro. James Hamer, Select Council for Hespeler, who makes as jolly and able a chairman as could well be elected. The proceedings lasted till about midnight.

WEDDING BELLS.—To day one of the town's fairest daughters was wedded, in the person of Miss Annie, fourth daughter of Mr. Edward Bolduc, to Mr. Benjamin Stock, of this place. The happy affair took place at the residence of the bride's father, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Father Plant, of Guelph. A large number of guests attended, and of course appropriate and costly presents were in order for the time being. After partaking of a sumptuous repast and the enjoyment of a few pleasant hours by guests and all, the happy young pair were escorted to the station by a large number of their well-wishers, and took the evening western bound train.

SAW LOGGING OPERATIONS.—Since the setting in of good sleighing saw logging is in full blast. A large number of splendid logs have already been delivered at the yard of Mr. Lewis Kribs.

Hespeler, Jan. 27, 1886.

FEBRUARY WEATHER.

A Month of Abrupt Changes—Unusual Mildness, Hard Storms and Floods Foretold.

Mr. Walter H. Smith sends his "Special Forecast for February" as follows:—The "peculiar winter" of 1885-6, with its "disastrous storms," "heavy gales," "floods," and periods of "extreme cold" having thus far pretty well kept to the track I laid down for it last October, encourages me, in answer to a correspondence that embraces nearly the whole continent, to write a line or two of "general forecast," on the probable behavior of February. Details I have already dealt with in my almanac. February in Canada is sometimes very cold and dry; sometimes extremely changeable. The latter is likely this time. I look for a month of rapid changes from zero weather to warmth, snow to rain and for thaw and slush. Heavy rains and floods, too, with a disappearance of snow in places, especially in the west, south and southwest, where the rivers that are now ice-bound, owing to the unusual cold spells of January, will re-open. January's principal storm tracks will be covered by February, the centres of disturbance passing southward again, and causing one or two—at least one—decided "cold dip," when temperatures in the Northwest will be extreme. Along the Upper St. Lawrence Valley 5° to 15° below zero, The worst snow and wind storms of the month I have previously located during the first, third and last weeks. That of the third week will prove most severe west of Toronto, through Chicago, Wisconsin, Iowa, and adjacent States, and passing southeasterly over Canada, the Middle and more northerly of the Southern States to the seaboard, causing heavy snow blockades in the Northwest. Winter will entirely reassert its supremacy ere February closes, and the month in its general features bear a striking resemblance to February, 1882.

Brant's Statue Cast.

The Brant statue was cast on Saturday at Messrs Masefield's foundry, Chelsea. The operation was successfully performed in the presence of a number of visitors invited by Mr Percy Wood, the sculptor, among whom were Sir Charles Tupper, Mr Chesson, of the Aborigines' Protection Society, and Waubuno, a chief of the Delaware Indians. The Duke of Connaught, Marquis of Lorne, and Sir John Macdonald, it was hoped at one time, would also be present, but their attendance was prevented by previous engagements. Waubuno, who was dressed in the costume of his tribe, of course proved a centre of interest, and the occasion was notable also from the fact that it is believed to be the first of its kind at which metal used for a Colonial statue, has been given for the purpose by the Imperial Government. The statue, we understand will be sent to Canada and erected at Brantford in the ensuing spring; the work thus being completed well within the limit fixed by the contract, namely, October 1st, 1886.—Canadian Gazette.

The Throne of Saxe-Coburg. Gotha.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—A violent and annonymous pamphlet has been published at Zurich, in relation to the Duke of Edinburgh and the throne of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha. It inveighs against the Duke's succession to the throne, and says: "We must at least be convinced, before he assumes charge of the affairs of the duchy, that he has broken with all English vellicities. We cannot accord to the sea-dominating nation, of which he is a representative, dynastic, diplomatic, commercial and political influence in our affairs.

New Colors Presented.

The last English mail contains an account of the presentation of new colors to the 7th Royal Fusiliers, at Gibraltar, on the occasion of the 200th anniversary of the formation of that historic regiment. The commanding officer made reference to the presentation of the old colors, thirty years ago, when leaving for the Crimea, which were carried in the storming of the heights of Alma. On that memorable occasion the regiment had no less than 229 officers and men killed and wounded. This regiment was ordered to Cairo three weeks ago.

Explanatory.

Attention is directed to my advertisement in another column announcing the continuance of the discount sale, until the end of the first week in February. To prevent any false impression, the public are informed that the discounts stated do not apply to every article in stock, but to special lines. Also that the discounts are made on the prices the goods were sold at and the present price quoted is the net price without further discount. The great inducements offered have created a wide spread interest. Many people having seen the Bargains purchased, are under the impression that the discounts apply to all goods alike. We never want to create an impression that we do not carry out. Customers are always sure of getting exactly what we advertise. Hence this explanation. E. R. The Foes of a Household

CHAPTER VI.

A FAIRY TALE.

They were on the island. They had rowed across the bay just when the tide turned, and now had to wait for its return to carry them back again. It was a still, autumn day; really autumn with a pungent smell of faded leaves and frost, and a keeness in the air which brought the colour into Helen's cheeks and an unwonted brilliancy into her eyes.

They were silent for a long time. Everything around them seemed to invite them to silence. The air was so still there was scarcely a rustle amongst the trees; the sun was shining softly through a golden haze, mist lay all round on the horizon, only above their heads was the sky clear and blue. The retreating sea had left the sands wet and glistening, and their boat lay there helpless until the tide came up again. At last Percival spoke—

"When am I to speak to your father, Helen?"

"Not yet," she said, "do not speak yet. We are so happy in this way, at least I am; what about you?"

"I am right enough, too, only this privacy does not suit my vanity. I want everyone to know of my good fortune and to congratulate me upon it."

"Do not build upon being overwhelmed with congratulations. I shall get far more than you. People will wonder what has made you choose me out of all the girls in the place."

"We must console ourselves with the thought of the unhappy position of the prophet in his own country; but, seriously, Helen, I do expect people will envy me, and I want to be envied."

"I will not be flattered into acting against my judgment," she said, frowning. "I will choose my own time."

"Have you any reason for supposing he will not consent?"

"Oh no, don't have any fears on that head, they are quite groundless. Papa will be glad enough, and mama will be delighted. By the way she heard from Alice this morning. She is coming home the day after to-morrow."

"Is not that rather sooner than you expected?"

"Yes, we did not expect her for a week, but Mrs. Herford, her aunt, wants to come home sooner; they will get to London to-morrow, and Mr. Herford will bring Alice here the day after."

Percival said nothing; perhaps neither he nor Helen was prepared to give Alice a very warm welcome when she did come.

"You will see a great change at home after Alice comes," went on Helen presently, "she cannot endure to be alone at home with just ourselves. A great many people will come to stay with us, the whole house will be upset, and peace and quietness will be at an end."

"I did not know you were such a hermit."

"I am not a hermit among people I like, but unfortunately I cannot get on with everybody. I never can get on with Alice's friends."

"Cannot you get any amusement out of them? That is always my refuge when I am with impossible people. I call my powers of observation and my sense of humour to my aid, and then generally find I get on pretty well."

"I shall succeed this time perhaps; you must own it is rather melancholy getting amusement out of some people by oneself."

"Is it?" with a smile. "Well, I promise to give you every aid in my power."

"I almost live on this island at such times; fortunately it never occurred to the people who came here that it might be a pleasant excursion by boat, and of course they could not walk.

"Did anyone except yourself ever walk?"

"A young man once for a bet, but he did not know the way, and he was drowned."

"A charming fate, and most encouraging to anyone who wished to follow his example."

They were silent for some little time watching the water creeping over the sands in the distance.

"The hours I have spent here?" said Helen. "I do not remember the time when this island was not my favourite haunt. If I ever go away from Osmotherley for long, I shall want to take it with me. I could not live without it."

"Why should you go away from Osmotherly?"

"I don't know; things happen," she answered vaguely.

"The tide is going to happen," rising to his feet as he spoke, "In ten minutes we shall see the advance of your wonderful wave, and in ten minutes after that we can go."

"Why be in a hurry? There is plenty of time."

In half an hour they were off. This time Helen did not row; she sat at her ease and made remarks, or was silent as her humour moved her.

It was shortly before seven o'clock when they reached the lodge of The Thwaite, and Helen said,

"Mamma said this afternoon that it was a long time since you had been to see us, and I was to ask you to come and have dinner with us this evening. Will you come?"

"Will your mother excuse my dress?" said Percival, looking down at himself.

"Oh, yes, she knew where we were going and what you would be like. Do come."

"You know I ask nothing better," swinging the little slide gate open for her as he spoke.

They walked up the perfectly kept drive in silence, and heard no sound until they got close to the house; when through the open window they heard a languid ripple of laughter and a girl's voice speaking, without being able to distinguish what she said.

Helen stopped short.

"That is Alice's voice," she said, as she looked up at her companion. "Is it possible she can have come to-day?"

"Suppose we go in and see," said Percival composedly.

"It must be," she said, moving on as she spoke. "That is Alice's voice. No one else speaks like that."

Percival had thought the voice exceedingly musical, and he was curious to see the speaker. Knowing the day on which Alice was to come home he had intended not to go to The Thwaite that day. He would not run the risk of disturbing a family meeting. But since he was unavoidably present he felt rather glad. He was curious to see how Alice and Helen would meet. He wondered if they would kiss one another. Probably, he thought. He had heard that girls always kissed, and that the less friendship there was the more effusive the kiss would be.

So he meditated as he followed Helen up the steps and into the hall. He was already watching her, and he thought there was impatience and annoyance in the gesture with which she took off her hat and tossed it on the hall table. He removed his own with customary calmness and followed her into the drawing room with a pleasant feeling of expectation.

It was occupied by four people—Mr and Mrs Lafone, a middle aged man, and a young girl. The man was Mr. Herford, Mrs Lafone's brother-in-law; the girl was, of course, Alice Lafone, Helen's half-sister.

Helen went forward to greet the newcomers. She shook hands and exchanged a few words with Mr Herford, who had apparently to make a slight mental effort to recognise her, and then approached Alice, to whom she merely nodded carelessly, saying,

"Well, Alice, how are you? How is it you have come to-day? When did you get here?"

Percival's breath almost failed him; no kiss, not even a hand-shake had been exchanged. Yet, no one seemed at all surprised; Mrs. Lafone went on talking to Mr. Herford, and Mr. Lafone continued to give his attention to what his daughter was saying. Alice herself merely paused in her flow of words to say,

"Oh, Helen, is that you? I am all right, only tired. We telegraphed from London and got here an hour ago."

Then she turned to her father again. Helen introduced Percival to Mr. Herford and then to Alice. Alice scarcely bent her head, nor did she trouble to turn her eyes upon the young man. He could not repress a smile; he caught Helen's eye and she smiled too. Then after watching the others for a moment, she turned to Percival, saying,

"You know your way, Mr. Moore." He nodded and went away to the lavatory, and Helen left the room immediately afterwards.

It was not until dinner was over that Percival found a really favourable opportunity for looking at Alice. He had sat on the same side of the table at dinner, and so had seen nothing more than the faultless oval of her face and a small shell-like ear. When they were all in the drawing-room again he took up his position near the low rocking chair in which she reclined, and taking advantage of a time when she was engaged in conversation with her mother he examined her face closely.

BRITISH PARLIAMENT.

Salisbury Sends in His Resignation.

GLADSTONE LIKELY TO FORM A CABINET.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The defeat of the Government last night has left all political parties in the House of Commons in a state of chaos, and may result in a dissolution of Parliament and an appeal to the country.

The Dublin Freemen's Journal is jubilant over the defeat of the Government, and says: "The action of the leaders of the National League in defeating the Government emphasizes the fact that there is a new force in politics which Parliament has to consider."

The Dublin Irish Times says: "The Parnellites rely for help on Gladstone alone. They believe he will make them an offer looking to the settlement of the Irish question."

Mr. Gladstone held a conference this afternoon with Lord Granville in relation to the reassumption of office by the Liberals.

The London Times ascribes the defeat of the Ministry to its hesitations and delays, and claims that it goes out needlessly on a side issue. It says Mr. Gladstone will have to reckon with the country, and that it is certain his Parliament will be short-lived. It will be the duty of all who regard patriotism more than party attachments to maintain an unflinching resistance to the measures of such Government as that now threatened, and to wage war against it until the commonwealth has been delivered from a peril greater than any that has pended over England for upwards of 70 years.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The meeting of the Cabinet to-day lasted an hour. The situation was fully discussed and it was resolved that the Ministers should at once resign. The Marquis of Salisbury sent a special message to Osborne to inform the Queen of the decision of the Cabinet.

The Pall Mall Gazette says Mr. Parnell confronts the country as the modern Warwick, being a king-maker in reality. The retiring Ministry, however, deserves ungrudging praise as no recent Government had such a creditable record. The Marquis of Salisbury's foreign policy has not been marred by a single blunder.

Speculating on the probabilities of a now Ministry, the Gazette says that a strong one could be formed by Mr. Gladstone if he would take into it such men as Joseph Chamberlain, John Morley, Wm. Sprostan Caine, Reginald Brett, Sir George Kussel, Lord Rosebery, Lord Hartington and Mr. Parnell. Mr. Parnell, the paper continues, will in any event be virtually the Chief Secretary for Ireland, and he might as well be taken into the Cabinet first as last.

The Globe (Conservative) says it is rumoured that Mr. Parnell has resolved to use the Home Rule vote to overthrow Mr. Gladstone at the first opportunity that presents itself should the Liberals assume power. Mr. Parnell will do this, the rumour says, for the purpose of exhibiting to the Irish abroad his power in Parliament in order to stimulate donations to the Parnellite treasury which was nearly drained by the recent elections.

THE JOSEPH HALL CO. IN DIFFICULTIES.

Also A Toronto Boot and Shoe Firm.

TORONTO, Jan. 27.—Among the business difficulties reported to-day is one which occasions a good deal of street gossip. Some few months ago Peter Ryan, who has been before the public for a long time and highly respected, went into partnership with Mrs. Glen in the Joseph Hall Manufacturing Co., in Oshawa, of which her husband, F. W. Glen, M. P., was the former proprietor. Report has it that injudicious purchases of material hastened the difficulty in the firm, which was wholly unexpected. The liabilities are variously estimated, but they cannot be far from $100,000. The creditors are mainly in Europe and Toronto, the Bank of Commerce being interested to some extent. The assets are not yet known. Mr. Ryan, who has just returned from a trip to Europe, has the sympathy of a large circle of friends. It is said that he will call the creditors together at an early day, but does not contemplate an assignment, as he believes in the possibilities of the Company, and the assets are largely in excess of liabilities. The difficulty with the Oshawa works has involved the firm of John Ryan & Co., dry goods. A meeting of creditors will be called at as early a date as possible, and Mr. Ryan's actions will be in accordance with the wishes of his creditors. The direct liabilities of the whole work at Oshawa are between $40,000 and $50,000.

TO GO TO THE NORTH-WEST.

Troops at Quebec Under Orders to Start in March.

QUEBEC, Jan. 26.—Report has it on the citadel that orders have been received from Ottawa to hold the troops in readiness to proceed to the Northwest in March. The corps included in the order are the remainder of B battery, the 87th County of Quebec Infantry and Nos. 2 and 3 of Quebec Garrison Artillery.

Gen. Middleton Says He Had Nothing to do with the Northwest Police.

OTTAWA, Jan. 27.—This afternoon Gen. Sir F. Middleton was shown a copy of the Fort McLeod Gazette, containing an article reflecting on the Major General for partiality shown by him in the distribution of favors among those engaged in quelling the rebellion. In reply Gen. Middleton says:—"There's not word of truth in the article from beginning to end. In fact, I have never been consulted in regard to the subject of medals for the police. Furthermore, the question has never been mooted to me at all. I think, and I hope, I have given due praise to all deserving of it. To those of the police officers who came under my immediate control I have given all the praise that was due. Of course I had nothing to do with the police officers who were not under my command. As I said before, the charges in that article were totally uncalled for."

The Hero of Calgary.

CALGARY, N. W. T., Jan. 27.—Mr. Hugh Cayley, committed to prison for contempt by Judge Travis, has been released from custody and his fine remitted, by order of the Minister of Justice. Judge Travis will be asked to explain. There was quite a jubilee time to-night over the release of Mr. Cayley, who is regarded as a great hero.

Death of the Oldest Man in Canada.

WINDSOR, Jan. 28.—On Tuesday night Freeman Coleman died here at the advanced age of 121 years. He was born in Buckingham County, Va., on August 4, 1764, twelve years before the Declaration of Independence was made. His Christian name was given him because he was born and always remained a freeman. He was of mingled Indian, Spanish, and negro descent.

Until last Saturday Mr. Coleman was about the house, active and in full possession of all his faculties, busying himself with various little pieces of work, and went to bed that night feeling as well as usual. Sunday he was too weak to rise, and he gradually sank until the hour of his death, eight o'clock Tuesday night. He was able to count a numerous progeny, his children, grand-children, great grandchildren, and great-great grandchildren, numbering in all 138. His oldest living child is Mrs. Mary Dunlap, 76 years of age, who resides in Ohio.

J. S. ROGERSON has just received a lot of Opera silk gloves evening shades, also black all-over laces, deep oriental laces, and a lot of goods suitable for evening wear.

Local News.

MR. C. W. PARKER, dentist, has returned from his trip to Cincinnati.

THERE is a Good Templar Lodge to be organized in Acton.

MR A. J. TAYLOR, Toronto, Travelling Passenger Agent of the Milwaukee and St. Paul's Railway, was in the City yesterday.

ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT W. R. TIFFIN, of the Northern Division of the G. T. R., paid a flying visit to Guelph in connection with some contemplated changes at the station here.

THE owner of a pair of mittens, and who has lost a pair of mittens, had better call at the MERCURY office and show his hands, and if his hands fit the mittens, and he pays for the advertisement, he can have the mittens, provided, nevertheless, that the mittens are his.

THE World says:—We read in a Guelph paper that Mr Woods, of the Model Farm, was recently "vigorously butted by a bull." Here is an opening for the agricultural editor of the London Free Press to denounce the dairy department of the Farm because of its strong butter.

AT the last meeting of the Acton Council the following persons were appointed as a Local Board of Health for the present year:—The Reeve, the Clerk and Messrs. H. P. Moore, Joseph A. Speight and Robt. Royce. Dr. Lowry was appointed Medical Health Officer and Mr. Thos. Easton Sanitary Inspector.

THE Mount Ayr Journal, Iowa, has the following:—Married, at the residence of James Humphries, Wednesday, Jan. 20, Mr Claud Humphries, of Missouri Valley, Harrison Co., Iowa, and Miss Jennie S. Philips, of Guelph, Ontario. The groom gave us a pleasant call to day and left us some of his excellent wedding cake. May happiness go with them and may they enjoy many pleasant hours together.

FUN AT THE RINK.—To-night the gift entertainment at the Rink promises to be well patronized. The City Band get a benefit and citizens should turn out generously. There are to be races, and the holder of the lucky ticket will get full value for his money and also see the fun. A good programme of music will be rendered. The ice will be in a splendid condition, and there is to be a big night's sport.

ONTARIO MANUFACTURERS.—At the annual meeting of the Ontario Manufacturers' Association held in Toronto Wednesday, the following officers were elected:—President, Thomas Cowan, Galt; 1st Vice, James Goldie, Guelph; 2nd Vice, Samuel May, Toronto; Treasurer, John Cosgrave, Toronto; Honorary Secretary, A. W. Wright, Toronto; General Secretary, Frederic Nicholls, Toronto. The usual committees were also struck.

WHAT HE SHOULD DO.—If every farmer advertised every strange animal that came into his premises, and every farmer read the notices of the same, there would not be a missing horse, cow, sheep, or pig in the country. Don't give the animals a first-class boarding house fare for months till the cost exceeds their worth, but advertise them immediately after they arrive. If animals are kept several weeks before any notice of them is given, the owner is not bound to pay the costs for all that time.

THE drizzling rain which fell yesterday evening put an end to the contemplated first tramp out of the Snow Shoe Club. About a hundred members met on St. George's Square for the start, and there was a large number of spectators present to see them off, but it was deemed best to postpone the excursion till next Thursday, when, if the weather is at all favourable, a good many more are expected to take part.

A GREAT SUCCESS.—The contest social and entertainment given by the young men of Dublin-street Church Y. P. U., in the lecture room, last evening, was an unqualified success, and an extraordinary treat to the three hundred people who were in attendance. The great feature of the evening was the ventriloquial performance of Mr. T. H. Carson, of Toronto, who, with his dumb orators "Mikle" and "Sally," kept the audience in continuous laughter. We sincerely trust that this talented gentleman may favour us again in the near future. Proceeds about $40.

VISIT TO THE HOSPITALS.—Yesterday afternoon the County Council paid their annual visit to St. Joseph's and the General Hospitals. The latter institution was visited first. Conveyances were in waiting at Ellis' Hotel to take the Councillors to the Hospital. At two o'clock they started out, and on their arrival were welcomed by the Board of Directors—Mr Geo. Elliott, chairman; Messrs E. Newton, Geo. Murton, D. McCrae, R. Melvin and Mayor Stevenson. After a thorough inspection had been made of the building the Councillors were entertained to slight refreshments, after which short speeches were made by the members of the Board, and on behalf of the Council by the Warden, Messrs. Hobson, Cross and others, who expressed themselves highly pleased with the institution and its working. On their return conveyances were in waiting to take them to St. Joseph's Hospital, where they were met by the Sister Superior, Father Plant, and the Directors, Messrs. Mays, chairman; J. Harris, J. E. McElderry, M. J. Doran, Dr. Nunan, and Ald. Keough. After the Hospital and House of Refuge had been visited the company assembled in a large room of the hospital where refreshments were partaken of. An interesting account of the work being done by these institutions was then given by Mr. Mays, Father Plant, and Dr. Herod. Warden Sweetnam and Mayor Stevenson testified to the good work being done by the institutions, and so also did Messrs. Black, Tolton Reynolds, Powley, McGowan, Hobson, Hampton, Beattie, ex-Ald. Coffee, and G. W. Fields, barrister, the latter of whom made a most interesting and pleasing speech. It was after six o'clock before the visitors left St. Joseph's Hospital. Full particulars of the work being done by the General and St. Joseph's Hospitals will be found in the proceedings of the County Council.

IMPROVEMENTS.—Since the recent fire the Guelph and Ontario Investment and Savings Society have had their office refitted, the woodwork painted, and grained in imitation of light oak, the walls and ceiling beautifully papered, and new gas fixtures put in. The painting and papering have been done by Mr. Reynolds, the carpenter work by Mr. Small, and the gas fixtures by Mr. Peek. The whole work is exceedingly neat and tasteful, reflecting credit on the gentlemen who did it, as well as on the Society. The office is now one of the most handsome, convenient and commodious in the City. The management have shown good taste in having the office so neatly fitted up, especially when it had to be done at a time when the books and accounts were being audited and prepared for the annual meeting which takes place shortly. But notwithstanding the inconveniences under which the manager and clerks have been placed, it is believed they will have their annual statement ready at the usual time. It might be said from what can be gleaned that the forthcoming statement will show continued growth and prosperity in all branches of the Society's business equal to, if not greater, than that of any former year.

CANTON, Ga, Jan. 28.—This morning while Dr. Moore was stooping down in front of his horse, the animal took a square bite at his neck, the teeth crushing through and severing the windpipe. Death is sure to follow. Dr. Moore is 81 years of age.

How the Minneapolis Papers Fill their Columns.

MINNEAPOLIS, Min., Jan. 28.—Newspapers here are filled with the details of an alleged plan to arm the Northwest Indians for a second uprising in case of coercion in Ireland. The weapons to be given them are Irish pikes, and a large number of them are being manufactured here.

Threw His Own Paper in His Face.

OTTAWA, Jan. 28.—This morning as Mr Moffet, the editor of La Vallee D'Ottawa, was sitting writing in his office at Hull, ex-Mayor Leduc rushed in and began denouncing him for his course in municipal matters. The editor leaned back in his chair to talk to his visitor, when the latter suddenly grabbed the chair by the back and spilled the editor out on the floor. Then picking up a copy of the offending paper he threw it in Mr Moffet's face and walked out. Mr Moffet will prosecute him for assault.

A Moral Victory for the Liberals

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The majority of Mr. Herbert (Conservative) over Baxton (Liberal) in the election in Croydon yesterday for the House of Commons was 647. The Conservative majority at the last election in the district was 1,069. Six hundred votes were transferred to the Liberal candidate in the present canvass.

Departs From Dublin.

DUBLIN, Jan. 28.—Lord Carnarvon, ex-Viceroy of Ireland, left Dublin Castle today, accompanied by his wife, for their home in England. The retiring Viceroy was followed to the railway station by enormous crowds, and his route all the way to Kingstown, where he took the ferry for Holyhead, was lined with people anxious to witness his departure. He was cheered almost continuously from the time he left Dublin Castle until he departed from the Irish coast. The enthusiasm of the populace was phenomenal.

WELLINGTON COUNTY COUNCIL.

January 27.

A lengthy document was read from His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, in reference to the Colonial Exhibition to be held in the City of London, England, during the coming summer.

From the Board of Public School Trustees of the town of Harriston, stating that they had all the requirements necessary to be converted into a High School, and praying that the Council take some action in the matter.

The Grand Jury's presentment at the recent Assizes, which has already been printed was read.

These communications were referred to the various Committees.

VARIOUS MATTERS.

The Treasurer read his annual report, which, on motion of Mr. Nicoll, seconded by Mr. Rae, was ordered to to be printed and handed to the members of the Council as soon as possible.

Moved by T. Carberry, seconded by W. L. Gordon, that leave be given to introduce a by-law to appoint a Director for the Credit Valley Railway for the current year, and that it be now read a first and second time. Carried.

The by-law was read a first and second time.

Moved by Mr. O'Donnell, seconded by Mr. Corbett, that leave be given to introduce a by law for the appointment of Auditors, and that the same be now read a first and second time. Carried.

Moved by J. Robertson, seconded by John Powley, that the Warden, Messrs. Mutrie, McGowan, Hobson, Foote, Hampton, the Clerk and the mover be appointed a Special Committee to examine and report at this session upon Waddell's infallible voting machine recently invented by John Waddell, of Harriston, and for which he has applied for patents in Great Britain, the United States and Canada. Carried.

Moved by W. L. Gordon, seconded by J. Reynolds, that the proceedings of this Council on the 21st day of November last past, as printed, be confirmed. Carried.

A BOUNDARY LINE ROAD.

Moved by H. McEwing, seconded by J. R. Wissler, that this Council engage an engineer to make a survey and estimate the cost of grading and gravelling the boundary line from Palmerston to Teviotdale and four miles eastward, and report to this Council at the June session.

Moved in amendment by John I Hobson, seconded by John Mutrie, that the matter dealt with in the resolution moved by the Deputy Reeve of Palmerston be referred to the County Roads Committee and that the Committee report at this session.

The amendment was carried.

RAISING THEIR SALARIES.

The motion was accordingly carried.

GENERAL HOSPITAL.

Mr. Hobson read the following report from Mr. Geo. Elliott, chairman of the Guelph General Hospital Board:

That at the close of another year the Hospital is in its usual state of efficiency, the medical staff kindly performing their voluntary duties, and the officials in their several departments doing their part in the work devolving upon them in their various duties.

During the year from January 1st to December 31st, 1885, 186 patients have been admitted, 116 from the City and 70 from the County, 161 Protestants and 25 Roman Catholics. There were 3 births and 12 deaths during the year.

The Treasurer's statement of the receipts and expenditures for the year is appended to this report.

During the past year a citizen of Guelph left by will $1,000 to the Hospital to be expended in permanent improvements. The Directors have applied the bequest and $207.15 in addition in the building of of a verandah in front of the Hospital, which will enable convalescent patients to enjoy the advantage of the air in the summer time. They have rearranged the whole of the water closet system adopting the newest and best improvements, and placing the pipes outside the building, so that there is a perfect immunity from all danger from sewer gas. And further they have built a new stable for the cows, and a driving shed for the horses in the winter. These much needed improvements have been made by means of the bequest above referred to.

These improvements and the appliances in the institution for surgical and other cases, render the Hospital, for its size, one of the most complete in the province. But the increasing number of patients will soon render it necessary to increase the size of the buildings by adding thereto a wing as projected in the original plans as soon as funds can be obtained for the purpose.

The Directors respectfully ask your Honourable Body in their liberality to grant the accustomed aid for the maintenance and medical treatment of patients sent to the Hospital by order of the Warden.

The Directors will be most happy to meet as many members of your Council as can attend at the Hospital on such day and hour as you may appoint.

The following are the Directors for the ensuing year:—The Warden of the County, the Mayor of Guelph, Ald. Cutten, George Elliott, chairman; Edwin Newton, Sec.-Treas.; Geo. Murton, chairman Visiting Committee; James Goldie, chairman Management Committee, Robert Melvin, John McCrea, J. B. Armstrong, David McCrea, F. W. Stone, James Cormack, David Stirton, John M. Bond.

The report then says:

From the foregoing statement you will at a glance perceive the large amount of work and relief given to poor suffering humanity for the small amount of means at our disposal. You will see per furniture statement that on 30th Sept. last a balance of $271.06 was on hand, and at that time your Hospital Board knowing of the terrible havoc that smallpox was making in our sister Province deemed it their duty to erect a smallpox hospital or pest house which they have done at a cost of $340. Said building is finished but not yet furnished. This building has not only taken all of our surplus funds but has left us in debt. It is the desire of the Board to do all the good they can and through the energy and devotion of the Sisters of St. Joseph, to take in all who really are in need or who are suffering, but from insufficient room we are unable to do more at present, but we hope at no distant day to be able to accommodate more inmates. Gentlemen, you have the honor to represent one of the wealthiest and most populous counties of Ontario, which gives us, your petitioners, courage to ask you in your charity to increase the grant to the above institution.

Both these reports were referred to the Finance Committee.

TO VISIT THE HOSPITALS.

Moved by Mr. Mutrie, seconded by Mr. Benham, that as many of the members of this Council, as can find it convenient, do visit the General Hospital Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock and St. Joseph's Hospital at 3.30 p. m. Carried.

The Council adjourned shortly after twelve o'clock until two p. m.

On the Council resuming in the afternoon all the members answered to their names.

MAGISTRATES TO CARRY OUT THE SCOTT ACT.

The Council allowed Mr, J. B. Mullen, Fergus; Rev. J. R. Black, Fergus, Secretary, and George S. Armstrong, Treasurer of the County Scott Act Association, to address the Council.

Mr. Mullen read the following petition:

GENTLEMEN,—Whereas, the first part of the Canada Temperance Act of 1878, has been brought to a poll in this County and carried by a large majority of the electors, and the second part of said Act will come into force on the first day of May next, and as it is desirable that the law shall be properly enforced, and in order to do this it is found necessary to have a police magistrate for the County, the Scott Act Executive of Wellington hereby respectfully request you at your present meeting to make application to the Ontario Government for said police magistrate, and apportion funds for the payment of his salary, and we beg leave to suggest the names of James Gladstone, of Salem, and Jacob Nixon, of Fergus, and A. C. Steele, of Guelph, Esquires, either of whom would be a suitable person for the above named office.

The Rev. Mr. Black addressed the Council at some length, setting forth the advantages that the appointment of such a magistrate would be in assisting the carrying out of the Scott Act. He did not for a moment impute the purity of the motives of the local magistracy, but at the same time it would be better to have a magistrate appointed for administrating the Scott Act in the County according to the statute. On a conviction being made there was no appeal from this magistrate's decision, while before the local magistrate a convicted party could go on appealing from court to court, and in the meantime violating the law and making enough money to cover the penalty and the legal expenses before the case was through. The speaker then urged that no means should be left undone for the carrying out of the Scott Act when it came in force. He showed that the amount coming in from fines would far more than pay the magistrate, or if there was any doubts on that point the Association would pay him.

Moved by Mr. Coleman, seconded by Mr. Howse, that Messrs. Darroch, Hobson, McGowan, J. R. Black, Powley, Long, Foote, and the mover, be a Committee to report on the Wellington Scott Act petition Thursday morning, at ten o'clock. Carried.

A by-law regulating the fees and mileage of Councillors was then introduced.

THE DRAYTON BRIDGE.

J. C. Johnston, Reeve of Drayton, read the following:—

You are hereby notified that the bridge in the village of Drayton, known as the 10th line bridge, which under Section 534 Consolidated Municipal Act, 1883, the County is bound to maintain, is in a dangerous condition, one of the sleepers having broken and if not immediately repaired accidents may occur, and damage is being done to the village of Drayton for which the County will be or is responsible. You are further notified that the Council of the village of Drayton intend holding the County responsible for certain moneys which they were compelled to spend in saving said bridge from destruction.

Moved by J. Powley, seconded by F. W. Johnston, that the report of J. C. Johnston, with reference to Drayton bridge be referred to a special committee, composed of the following gentlemen: D. Foot, J. Robertson, F. W. Johnston, Corbett and McGowan to report at ten o'clock Thursday. Carried.

PRINTING.

Move 1 by Thos. Carberry, seconded by J. W. Benham, that tenders be received for the County printing for the current year up till ten o'clock on Friday morning. Carried.

The Council then adjourned.

Jan. 28th.

The Council resumed at ten o'clock this morning. All the members present.

After the minutes had been read the Clerk stated that last year through some mistake Pathmaster's Schedules were not entered in the printing contract, and some of the municipalities had secured them from Toronto, at a cheaper rate probably than could be furnished at home. It would be for the Council to take some action in the matter.

AUDITORS.

The Council then went into Committee on the By-law appointing Auditors, Mr Nicoll in the chair. The Warden appointed Wm. Whitelaw as his Auditor, and the Council Thos. Thompson as theirs. The Auditors appointed for Criminal Justice Accounts were the Warden and Wm. Whitelaw. The first two named Auditors receive their old salaries, $40 cash.

Moved by Messrs Wissler and O'Donnell, that the blank on the by-law for the salaries of Auditors of Criminal Justice Accounts be filled in with $3. Carried.

The old rate was $2 per day.

The Council then rose.

PATHMASTER'S SCHEDULES.

Moved by F. Marshall, seconded by W. L. Gordon, that each municipality purchase its own blank Pathmaster's schedules.

Moved in amendment by J. R. Wiesler, seconded by Mr. McEwing, that the Printing Committee as usual get the Pathmasters' schedules printed and supplied to the various municipalities.

The amendment was put first and lost. The motion was then voted on and carried unanimously.

HIGH SCHOOL TRUSTEES.

Moved by J. Hampton, seconded by Thos. Carberry, that leave be given to introduce a by-law for the appointing of High School Trustees for the various High Schools of the County, and that it be read now a first and second time. Carried.

YEOMANS'S BRIDGE.

The Reeve of Mount Forest made another appeal to the Council for assistance to build the bridge at Yeoman's Mill, Mount Forest. It appeared to him that new men were big-hearted, and he trusted that they would show their generosity by giving liberally to this much needed object.

For a stylish pair of boots, shoes, gaiters, etc., give W. M. Hepburn & Co. a call and you will be sure to receive satisfaction.

Guelph Daily Mercury

FRIDAY EVE'G JAN. 29, 1886.

The Opening of the Ontario Legislature.

The third session of the Fifth Parliament of Ontario was formally opened by the Lieut.-Governor yesterday afternoon, amid the usual pomp and display so agreeable to those taking part as well as to the spectators. The Speech from the Throne, read by His Honour, is a lengthy and comprehensive document, in which all the striking events of the past year are briefly reviewed, and congratulations or sympathy extended as the case demands. In touching upon agricultural matters, and referring especially to the benefits derivable from the Farmers' Institutes, the Government proposes what cannot fail to be a popular, practical and useful innovation in connection with the management of the Agricultural College, namely, that in order to secure the permanent application of practical husbandry with scientific research a measure will be submitted for the formation of an Advisory Board of Farmers, whom the Commissioner may consult in the management of the College and Experimental Farm. Reference of course is made to the recent decisions of the Privy Council in favour of the Province, and to the delay in the settlement of the Rainy River District through the claim set up by the Dominion Government that the Crown Lands rest in them through the Indian title. Nevertheless, a measure is promised for this purpose, so that no delay will follow when the appeal now pending has been decided. The promised codification and consolidation of the Statutes passed since 1877, when finished will greatly simplify these documents to all connected with the administration of justice. Other measures to be submitted include a bill for the auditing of Public Accounts of the Province, a bill for increasing the usefulness and efficiency of Mechanics' Institutes, a bill for the amendment of the law relating to the estates of deceased persons, and a bill respecting the liability of employers for injuries suffered by their workmen. This last is an important matter which has long demanded attention, and for which employees in factories and among machinery will feel correspondingly grateful, as well as the vast army employed by the railways, whose lives are a daily risk. Mechanics and artisans will also be pleased to see that their demands that no further assisted passages will be granted to immigrants of their class will be complied with. The immediate erection of the much needed Parliamentary and Departmental Buildings is promised, as also, at as early a moment as may be practicable, additional accommodation for the unfortunates who are mentally disturbed.

The programme of legislation is certainly neither lengthy nor elaborate, but the measures promised are of a sound practical nature. Doubtless other measures will be introduced during the session, which in all probability will be short. The Ontario Government has acted wisely in not making for themselves legislative employment when none was specially called for. If a people can be happy and contented under the Government and the liberal laws already possessed, why should they be disturbed by legislative tinkering? This is the position of Ontario at the present day, and to the honest, upright and God-fearing men at the head of our affairs is the happy circumstance due.

The No Policy Cry.

There is nothing to which the Tory organs lend themselves with greater gusto than the reiterated assertion that the Liberal party has no policy. Of course the assertion is sufficiently nonsensical not to call for any vigorous denial, for it would be a sufficiently good policy for any party having the welfare of its country at heart to oppose a Government which has worked as much mischief as that of Sir John Macdonald. Debt and deficits accumulating with amazing rapidity warn us that if a stop is not placed upon the wasteful extravagance of the country's resources we shall become bankrupt, and all our great natural wealth awaiting development will lie buried for want of the capital and energy required to bring it forth. Taxation promises to become unbearable to all except those who have their heads over the Government crib. It should also be regarded as sufficient policy to ask the country to endorse the Opposition in an honest endeavour to repeal much of the iniquitous legislation passed by the present Government for no other purpose than to secure themselves in power and to reward the host of heelers who must be kept in good trim for their dirty work. It should be sufficient motive for a loyal, patriotic Opposition to seek office if only to prevent the further sacrifices of valuable land, mineral and lumbering resources for the same purpose. In short, there is a wide policy before the Liberals of Canada without their being called upon to enunciate any radical legislative measures, for which there is no immediate haste. The body politic needs to be put in a healthy condition before the Opposition can attempt any pronounced policy beyond being constantly mindful of its general principles of progressive reform, and losing no opportunity to advance the interests of all classes equally.

We have been told that Mr. Blake's speech lacked the necessary essential of a definite policy. Those Tories who are unable to see a very clear exposition of the principles guiding the leader of the Opposition, as set forth in his London speech, must be blind indeed. That speech made the Liberal platform, and it is broad enough for all to stand on it. It is divided into two distinct parts, namely, general issues, and the special issues connected with the Northwest rebellion. The principles of the former are:—

1. Wise readjustment of taxation, judicious relaxation of onerous duties, and honesty, economy and retrenchment in government.
2. The encouragement of inter-Provincial trade.
3. Reciprocity with the United States.
4. A change in the policy of assisted immigration.
5. The right to negotiate our own commercial and judicial treaties.
6. Reform in the present system of granting Provincial subsidies.
7. A senate elected and responsible to the people.
8. Repeal of the Gerrymander Act.
9. Repeal of the Dominion Franchise Act.
10. To impose checks upon the systematic violation of the independence of members of Parliament by the executive.
11. Maintenance of Provincial rights and the application of a policy of decentralization.

The principles in connection with the Northwest are as follows:—

1. That the present Government in the general dealings with the Northwest manifested the most scandalous procrastination, neglect, delay, incapacity, bungling and mismanagement.
2. That it neglected to settle the half-breeds' claims till the rebellion broke out and it then issued a commission.
3. That the Tory press has been fomenting a war of races and creed to obscure the real issue.
4. That the execution of Riel is a subject for parliamentary discussion and also the charge by Government supporters that they were misled into believing he would not be executed.
5. That the Government should immediately, without delay, deal with the sentences of the halfbreeds in a large and merciful spirit.
6. That party divisions must be upon the questions of public policy, and not of race and creed.
7. That the Government should explain why it tried Riel for a political offence instead of murder, if it originally intended to execute the sentence?
8. That as Judge Richardson, who tried Riel, was the paid legal adviser, the political law officer of the Government, and a member of the Northwest Council, the Government should explain its reasons for such a choice, in selecting a judge to try Riel.
9. That the reason for the last respite of Riel's sentence should be forthcoming.
10. That the Liberals will welcome accessions to their ranks from Quebec of those independent Bleus who are in substantial agreement with the principles of the Liberal party.

In working out and enforcing the principles laid down in these two platforms Mr Blake and the Liberal party have an ample field before them. It is a great pity for the welfare of the country that at present the opportunity cannot be afforded to put them into practice.

MR. P. E. W. MOYER, of the Berlin News, is madly jealous of Mayor Howland, of Toronto, who is crowding him for first place in the "truly good" ranks. Peter calls out wildly that it is time to stop telling how good and upright a man Mr. Howland is, or he will be entirely spoilt.

LONDON Advertiser: It seems it was the intention of General Middleton to fall back seven miles from Batoche before the decisive encounter, but that he was persuaded not to do so by Dr. Orton. At all events, that is the story now told by the Doctor. Dr. Orton should press his claim for a knighthood, if not for a pair of half-mast red breeches.

WHEN speaking to the nomination of Dr. Roome, at the West Middlesex Tory Convention, Mr. Folinsbee of Strathroy, is reported by the Free Press as saying: "With the liberal Act Sir John Macdonald had given them it was their own fault if they did not make a good fight." He also told them that it was not enough that all Tories legitimately voters should be placed on the lists, but that "it was better to err on the safe side" and put on "any name where it was reasonable to expect the man would have a vote." The West Middlesex Tories have evidently had instructions how to use Sir John's lever, and the utterances of such loose jawed men as the one quoted rather gives them away.

Explanatory.

Attention is directed to my advertisement in another column announcing the continuance of the discount sale, until the end of the first week in February. To prevent any false impression, the public are informed that the discounts stated do not apply to every article in stock, but to special lines. Also that the discounts are made on the prices the goods were sold at and the present price quoted is the net price without further discount. The great inducements offered have created a wide spread interest. Many people having seen the Bargains purchased, are under the impression that the discounts apply to all goods alike. We never want to create an impression that we do not carry out. Customers are always sure of getting exactly what we advertise. Hence this explanation. E. R. THE NEW REFORM CLUB.

A Brilliant Opening Yesterday.

TORONTO, Jan. 29.—The new Reform Club celebrated its opening yesterday afternoon by an At Home from 4 till 6 o'clock, in which 500 ladies and gentlemen participated. Fully one half of this number were ladies. The President of the Club, Sir Richard Cartwright, assisted by the reception committee, Messrs. G. W. Badgerow, M. P. P., W. B. McMurrich, W. D. Beardmore, Joseph Tait, A. J. Cattanach, and Capt. W. F. McMaster, did the honours, and were assisted by Mrs. Mowat, Mrs. McMurrich, Mrs. W. Mulock and Mrs. J. D. Edgar. Hon. Edward Blake, the members of the Provincial Cabinet, many members of the Legislature and several prominent Liberals were present. The handsomely appointed apartments on the different floors were thronged until luncheon, which was well got up and served by Steward Brown. A string band discoursed tuneful music for a couple of hours. The managers of the Club are happy over the success which attended their opening. The Club starts out with a membership of over 700.

THE SAMAON DIFFICULTY

The German Consul Ousts the King from His Residence.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 26.—Capt. W. B. Churchward, late British Counsul at Samoa, who left here yesterday on his way to London, said in explanation of the recent Samoan-German difficulty, that Mullen Point, in the city of Apia, the seat of the Samoan Government for many years past, came into the hands of Mr. Weber, former German Consul, and head of the leading firm at Samoa. Notice was given the Government to move, and though Weber was offered previously an agreed price for the land he refused to accept it, and the Samoan King was compelled to remove his residence to another part of Apia. Weber's action was supported by German Consul Steubel. The King hoisted the Samoan flag at his new place of residence, but subsequently upon an alleged insult to the German Government by the Samoans Consul Steubel forbade the King to display his flag anywhere within the municipality of Apia. He went personally to him and commanded him to pull it down. This the King refused to do. Steubel went on board the German gunboat Albatross, brought a party of armed sailors ashore, and forcibly and against the protests of the United States and British Consuls pulled down the flag. Two Samoan high chiefs went to New Zealand to claim sympathy in their troubles, and from their story reports of Germany's annexation of Samoa probably arose. Capt. Churchward's mission to London is to lay his despatches relative to the recent disurbance caused on the Samoan Islands by Germany before the British Foreign Office. The vessel containing the German despatches regarding the affairs failed to connect at Honolulu with the steamer which brought Capt. Churchward here, and will consequently be some time later in reaching Berlin.

Presentation to Mr and Mrs Kirby.

On Wednesday evening a very pleasant party took place at the residence of Mr Robert A. Kirby, Speedside. For years past a number of friends in Guelph have paid an annual visit to Mr and Mrs Kirby. This year the party comprised three carryall loads. The visitors on arriving were most warmly received and hospitably entertained, Mr Kirby and his worthy lady doing everything possible for the comfort and pleasure of their guests. During the evening Mrs Kirby was presented with a handsome cruet stand, purchased from the jewellery establishment of Mr B. Savage. Mrs Ross made the presentation and Mr John Coulson read the following address:

To Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kirby:

DEAR FRIENDS,—So frequently have we received at your hands kindly and most generous treatment that we are at a loss to know how to return you the slightest measure of thanks. Your open hospitality, your warm-heartedness and genial disposition, have rendered your happy home an ever welcome place to visit. Here we have on many occasions enjoyed those material pleasures which alone can make life happy and drive dull care and sadness away. Here we have often sought that freedom from the monotony of City life which your cheery hearth so pleasingly affords. And here, too, have we learned with the deepest feelings of gratitude that our presence was ever acceptable, and that we were always sure of a hearty welcome at your hands. Allow us, then, to ask your acceptance of this slight memento of our visit, not in any way as a recompense for the favours you have showered upon us, but only as a slight token of the appreciation, love, and esteem in which you are both held by us.

Mr. Kirby on his own behalf and that of Mrs. Kirby, in a few happy remarks thanked the visitors for their handsome present and the flattering address, stating that it was always a pleasure to himself and Mrs. Kirby to welcome their friends from every part, and he trusted that they would all enjoy themselves and feel perfectly at home.

The company apparently followed out Mr. Kirby's instructions to the fullest extent, for they did not arrive home until seven o'clock in the morning, all expressing themselves highly delighted with their visit.

Guelph High and Common Schools.

To the Editor of the MERCURY.

SIR—About two weeks since through the MERCURY, I asked for information as to how the $259.93 charged in the balance sheet of the High School, as having been expended for "books and stationery" had been expended, as pupils buy their own books. I wanted to get the taxpayers of Guelph informed, 1st, What books were bought with the $259.93; 2nd, How many of each kind were bought; and, 3rd, For whose use they were obtained. The information asked has not yet been given. Query:—Will it? Now, sir, let me direct attention to another matter. The Inspector's report says, "the total aggregate attendance for the first half year was 137,224, giving an average of nearly 1,125; and for the second half year 96,656, or an average of 1,102." Do these aggregate and average attendances of pupils include the pupils who attend the High School? If so, the average attendance for the year, at all the schools, was 1,114; and the report tells us that the average cost of educating each pupil was $7 and 4 mills for the year. The balance sheet tells us, that the running of the High School last year, was $5,151.50; and of running the Common Schools, was $13,129.60; Total, $18,281.00 If I divide $18,281 by 1114 (the average attendance) it comes out $16.42 per annum for each pupil instead of $7 and 4 mills each, which is a serious difference. Further, I find the taxpayers of Guelph are each and every week of the year paying for the education of each school-going child male or female, little or big, 31½c. per week; the scholars finding their books, and most of the stationery.

And, then, sir, in addition to the above school expenditure, I think the City Council each year pays interest on debentures issued to obtain money to erect school buildings and pays off a certain amount of these debentures. The monies paid by the Council as interest on school debentures appears to me to be using such money for school purposes as much as the City Assessment of $3,065.82 for the High School, and $12,560.78 for the Common Schools is. If the amounts paid for interest on school debentures, and to lift school debentures are added to the other expenses of running the schools of the City the average cost of the education of each child attending the schools would be much increased.

Because I think it will be well if these matters are ventilated, I have written. It is to be hoped that some one who is well posted regarding them will let the taxpayers of Guelph have some information, respecting the above mentioned expenditure. Let there be light. Let no one try to push the question aside, by telling us that school matters are carried on in Guelph more economically than they are in other cities. Two wrongs do not make one right.

CHAPTER VI.

A FAIRY TALE.

She was marvellously beautiful. In spite of all he had heard, and the preparation he had undergone, which had caused him to raise his expectations exceedingly high, when he did see her he was surprised and almost aghast at her beauty. She had the most perfect features he had ever seen. She was very tall—as tall as many a man of middle height, and her figure was very finely developed. At present it was perfect, and Percival did not consider that he need concern himself about its future. Her movements were slow and graceful, but somehow missed being stately. In complexion she was almost dazzingly fair; flaxen hair was coiled in masses at the back of her neck and lay in a loose waving fringe upon her forehead. Her skin was snowy white, with a faint, delicate rose flush in the cheeks. Eyes of a very dark blue, with brows and lashes of brown, lit up and gave light to a face which was otherwise rather wanting in expression. At eighteen she was magnificently beautiful; at eight and twenty she would, in spite of her exquisite complexion and clear, soft skin, be coarse. Percival knew it as well as if he saw her sitting there with the burden of her eight and twenty years upon her.

"She ought to die at five-and-twenty," he thought, eyeing her coldly and critically, "and she would go down to her grave with the reputation of being the most beautiful woman of her day. At present her beauty is simply gorgeous, and her white dress suits her to perfection; dead white, too—few women could wear it with impunity."

He began to talk to her, but she gave very evident signs that neither he nor his conversation possessed the slightest interest for her, and he gave up the attempt and turned to look for Helen. She was sitting at a distant window reading, and the light of the reading lamp showed her face in profile with striking distinctness. Percival tried to look at her as critically as he had looked at Alice. Would any number of years. any amount of worldly dissipation or unworldly sorrow and trouble ever thicken those delicate features or rob them of their spiritual beauty? So long as Helen was happy and well they would preserve their soft roundness, and wear and tear, be it worldly or unworldly, would only refine them into greater spirituality. He looked from the pale masses of Alice's hair to the burnished clouds of Helen's, from Alice's fringe-shaded forehead to Helen's broad, open brow, from which the hair waved freely back to the shining coronet on the top of the head, and with the sudden desire to be near her, born of this mental review of her attractions, he rose quickly from his lounging attitude against the mantelpiece, and crossing the room placed himself by Helen's side.

"What are you reading?" he asked.

"Wordsworth."

"You saturate your mind with Wordsworth, you have him at your finger ends. You ought to join the Wordsworth Society."

"Is there one? I dislike Sccieties. I like to study in my own way at my own time."

"I know you have an unbounded admiration for your own methods. Your self-confidence is stupendous. I would not try to skake it, because I know I could not."

"I suppose no man can violate his nature,'" she quoted, a smile curling the corners of her mouth.

"Now you take to quoting: that is another of your little ways when you have got the worst of it."

"You ought not now to be surprised at my 'little ways.' Surely you know by this time that I am full of them."

He said nothing, and she presently went on—

"How do you like Alice?"

"She is very beautiful."

"No more?"

"I think no more."

"Is that a return quotation?" she said, smiling again, partly because his words pleased her. Then, as he said nothing,

"Why don't you go and talk to her?"

"She will not talk to me."

"Then you have tried?"

"A little; but she is like a very beautiful statue, and I have seldom seen a statue which made me wish it was alive and able to talk to me."

"I suppose that means you did not find her interesting."

"I suppose so."

"Naturally, you think you have not interested her?"

"I dare scarcely flatter myself that I have been fortunate enough to do so."

Their eyes met and they both smiled. Helen's smile became a laugh, a low, musical little laugh, which nobody seemed to notice, and she said—

"Do not be too humble; humility may suit some people: it would make others look absurd."

Soon after this Percival went away. Sometime after he had gone Alice said—

"What were you and Mr Moore talking about, Helen? You seemed perfectly absorbed."

"Did you notice us? We were talking about Wordsworth part of the time."

"I thought Wordsworth was rather solemn. Were you talking about him when you laughed?"

"Did you hear me laugh? Then, we were talking about somebody else."

Alice shrugged her shoulders, saying—

"I thought he seemed rather stupid. I must see what I can do with him the next time he comes."

BUT NOW ITS EYES ARE OPENED.—The ladies of the Primrose League made themselves very conspicuous during the recent English elections. Here's a story of the doings of one of them, taken from the Sheffield Independent:—Mrs. Heathcote, one of the ladies of the Primrose League, and wife of the candidate for North West Staffordshire, was canvassing the other day somewhere in the Halmerend and Audley mining district, when she went into the cottage of a miner. The miner's cat had only a day or two before given birth to a fine litter of kittens. Mrs. Heathcote, seeking for a good cue to commence her canvassing, exclaimed, "Oh, what beautiful kittens! I suppose they are all Tories?" "Oh, yes!" replied the collier's wife. "Then I hope you will give me one of the pretty little things. Can it see?" "No, it cannot see yet," answered the woman smiling. "Then," said Mrs. Heathcote, graciously, "I will call for it when it has opened its eyes." A short time afterwards Mrs. Heathcote again appeared at the cottage, and gushingly exclaimed, "Oh, where is my pretty little pusy? Give it to me, for I want to show it to the captain. Let me see, you said it was a Tory." "Yes! It was a Tory when you were here last, but then it could not see, but now it has opened its eyes it's a Liberal."

BRITISH PARLIAMENT.

Many Conflicting Rumours.

The Queen to Send For Gladstone.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The Queen has summoned the Marquis of Salisbury to confer with her at Osborne. He will dine with Her Majesty this evening, and return tomorrow.

The Standard says that Mr. Chamberlain will be the Irish Secretary in the Gladstone Government.

The Daily News expects that Lord Granville. Lord Rosebery and Earl Spencer will be members of the next Cabinet, although it thinks the appointment of Granville as Foreign Secretary will elicit a deep groan from the Liberal party and the country. It admits that Lord Hartington has completely severed his connection with the Liberal party, and that Mr. Goschen will give the party no assistance.

The Telegraph says Sir Charles Dilke will be offered a seat in the new Cabinet, but that he will ask to be excused until the Crawford-Dilke suit has been settled.

The entire press is opposed to the appointment of Earl Granville to be Foreign Secretary.

The Evening News says it has authority for stating that Lord Salisbury has advised the Queen to summon Lord Hartington to form a Cabinet.

The Dublin Freeman's Journal admits that agrarian outrages still occur in the remote districts of the country, but it declares that the National League cannot be held responsible for them. It adds that the League has resolved to do all in its power to repress disorder and remove all semblance of a basis for the Government to revive the coercion law.

It was reported in the lobby of the House of Commons this evening that the Queen is sounding Lord Hartington as to his willingness to undertake the task of forming a coalition Ministry.

Both Mr. Gladstone and Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, the Conservative leader, were received with cheers as they entered the House of Commons this afternoon. Sir Michael stated that in consequence of Tuesday's vote in the House on Mr. Colling's amendment being adverse to the Government, the Cabinet had resigned. The House thereupon adjourned till Monday.

Lord Salisbury dined with the Queen this evening. He will return to London to-morrow, arriving at 9.30 a. m. Mr Gladstone will then probably be summoned to form a cabinet. Lord Hartington refuses to co-operate with Mr Gladstone.

The Times urges, in view of the general opposition to permitting Lord Granville to resume the office of Minister for Foreign affairs, that he would make an excellent President of the Council and leader in the House of Lords. The Times also points out Lord Hartington's splendid chance to construct a national party of the Whigs and Conservatives opposed to Home Rule. "The materials for the formation of such a party are abundant," it says "and the emergency requires only a leader of sagacity and courage."

The Standard says: "The Queen will unquestionably summon Mr Gladstone to form a Cabinet. If Lord Hartington refuses to join, the country may expect a succession of short governments until means have been found to re-arrange the parties upon a truly national basis."

The Post says: "Lord Hartington could reckon in all matters of foreign, Irish and domestic policy upon the support of at least 250 Conservatives. We have thrown away the chance of the Liberals helping us. We must now help the Liberals. Upon one point sound politicians ought to agree, the necessity of defeating the Radicals and the Irish."

The Premier's Cheerful Ditty.

The Montreal Herald the other day published an amusing burlesque report of "Our rulers in Council," in which Sir John Macdonald, to extricate himself from a close corner into which his colleagues force him, restores the happy family to harmony, and reconciles them to his sharp tricks by singing

AN OLD BIRD'S "TITWILLOW."

In an office of state and ol gentleman cried,
"To-morrow, titwillow, to-morrow,"
So I said, "Dear Sir John, may I ask what's implied
In "To-morrow, titwillow, to-morrow?"
He smiled as he said, "When the truth I'd conceal,
And the Commons for papers are making appeal,
The time of their coming I sometimes reveal,
As to-morrow, titwillow, to-morrow.

"Our treaty relations attention require,
To-morrow, titwillow, to-morrow,
Our finances must really be dragged from the mire,
To-morrow, titwillow, to-morrow.
And the Bleus I must coax if I Blake would defy,
For lately I find things have all gone awry;
I some rally must make, or I'll never more cry,
To morrow, titwillow, to-morrow.

"Here are letters from men each an office demanding
To morrow, titwillow, to-morrow,
Whom I've frequently promised a clear understanding
To-morrow, titwillow, to-morrow.
They say they've served me through thick and through thin,
And they hear that the party won't long remain in,
And to deal with their claims I have said I'll begin
To-morrow, titwillow, to-morrow.

"In England I've promised the Empire to knit
To-morrow, titwillow, to-morrow;
A thing quite beyond me, I shall have to admit,
To morrow, titwillow, to-morrow.
So you see how important it is to delay
And how much I may profit by gain of a day,
And, therefore, you'll find I invariably say,
To-morrow, titwillow, to-morrow."

THE many friends of Mr. John Mitchell, bookkeeper for Messrs Kloepfer & Walker, who has been laid up for over a week with a very dangerous attack of inflammation of the lungs will be glad to learn that he has been much better for the past two days and is now on a fair way to recovery.

THE LATE CHIEF MCMILLAN.—The readers of the MERCURY are familiar with the sad accident which terminated the life of the late Chief of Police of Brandon, A. L. McMillan, ex-Chief of Police of Guelph. His remains in charge of his widow and young son arrived in Guelph this morning by the 11:35 train. The remains were received at the station by the Mayor, ex-Mayor Chase, Ald. Lamprey, Ald. Bruce and a number of citizens, and were conveyed to the City Hall, where they will remain until two o'clock to-morrow, when they will be taken from thence to St. Andrew's Church, where a funeral service will be conducted by the Rev. J. C. Smith, B. D., pastor. After the funeral Mrs. McMillan will go to her father's home in Port Elgin and remain there until spring, when she intends to return here and make Guelph her permanent home.

THEY WERE APPRECIATED.—Mr. Philp and Mrs. Whitehead took part in a concert at Sarnia with Mrs. McCullough, of Hamilton, and Mr. Warrington, of Toronto, last week. The Sarnia Observer says:—Mr. Philp, of Guelph, presided at the organ, and besides officiating as accompanist for the singers, contributed several solos that brought out the capabilities of the instrument to considerable advantage. * * * Mrs. Whitehead was new to a Sarnia audience, but she jumped at once into the position of a favourite. Nothing finer than her singing of "Angels Ever Bright and Fair," and "Nearer My God to Thee" has been heard here, in the recollection of the writer, while her substitute song "Ashamed of Jesus," completely captivated her audience. Her voice is full and sympathetic, and of great compass, and peculiarly adapted to the class of singing to which the programme was confined. She was repatedly encored, but only bowed her acknowledgments.

NEW INVENTION FOR TOP BUGGIES.—Our attention has been called to one of the most ingenious inventions of the age, its object being to remove the obstruction of the bows and frame while entering or leaving a top buggy. The device is known as "Carroll & Ryan's Sliding Buggy Top," for which letters patent have been secured in Canada and the United States. Its practicability, simplicity of construction, and cheapnes are apparent at a glance, and will no doubt cause it to come into general use. This invention can be easily applied to buggies now in use at a very small outlay, and by using it a buggy can be entered and left as conveniently as if there was no top on the vehicle at all, and it can be operated by a child. It is specially convenient for ladies and infirm people getting in or out, and also in case of an accident or runaway. It is the most convenient top now in use to take off the buggy altogether, two thumb screws only being necessary for the operation, while in ordinary tops four screws are required. Manufacturers highly approve of it, and are of the opinion that it will soon come into general use. There is no rattling, and all parts are adjustable. It has many advantages over the old style of top now in use which would occupy too much space to describe. The inventors are residents of Guelph, and a specimen of the new invention can be seen at Penfold Bros. carriage shop, Macdonnell street.

KNOX CHURCH TEMPERANCE ASSOCIATION.—The regular monthly meeting of this Association was held in the lecture room of the church on Friday evening, Dr. McGuire, President, in the chair. There was a large attendance. After the Secretary, Mr. A. Scott, had read the minutes of the previous meeting, the entertainment was opened with the usual devotional exercises, after which a very interesting programme was rehearsed. Addresses were delivered by the President, Dr. McGuire, who made a short and pointed speech on temperance from a medical standpoint; by the Vice-President Alex. Russell, who gave his experience as a temperance man from his boyhood; by Thomas Anderson, 2nd Vice-President, who dealt with the evil effects of tobacco, characterizing it almost as demoralizing as drinking strong liquor; the Rev. R. J. Beattie, pastor made a few remarks complimenting the young men on the stand they had taken for temperance and the good which would accrue therefrom to themselves and the church in the future. Songs were sung, and well received by the following members:—Messrs. Jas. Law, Robert Millar, a duet by Miss Mary Stevens and Miss Maggie Hadden, accompanied by Miss Sarah Hadden on the organ. Accompaniments were played by Miss Knowles and Miss Hadden. A reading, "The Bridal Feast," was given by Miss J. Davidson, in which she displayed considerable eloquutionary powers. The meeting, which was the first one held this year, was greatly enjoyed by all present, and was brought to a close by the pastor pronouncing the benediction.

THE first Saturday cheap excursion on the G. T. R. to Guelph at half fare from Georgetown on the east, Waterloo on the west, Fergus on the north, and Galt on the south, was well patronized. These excursions will undoubtedly prove a benefit to parties having business to transact in Guelph, and to the railway authorities.

HENRY GEORGE is now engaged in preparing for the press his great work on Protection and Free Trade. He will deliver a series of lectures in Canada during the month of March, and arrangements have already been made for him at Brantford, Kingston and Montreal. Cannot he be brought to Guelph also.

THEATRICAL.—Mr. Fred. W. Robinson is arranging for the appearance of a number of first-class troupes, among them being the Egbert Combination, Lillian Lewis, and R. H. Baird, who will open the first week in March—with a repertoire of ten new plays. A number of other managers have written to him for dates. Mr. Robinson is trying to arrange for the putting in of a quantity of new scenery at the City Hall.

NEARLY A RUNAWAY.—This morning a farmer, bringing a load of grain to the market, narrowly escaped having a runaway at the Huskisson street crossing. After having passed the railway track a train came along and the horses became somewhat frightened and unmanageable. The bolt came out of the whiffletrees thus freeing the horses from the wagon. The driver held on to the animals and succeeded in stopping them opposite Millar's butcher's shop.

TOBOGGANING.—Last evening the toboggan slide was lighted up and presented a brilliant sight as witnessed from the Gordon street crossing. From seven to eight o'clock blanket coated ladies and gentlemen on foot and in carioles were to be seen making their way to the slide on Macdonald's hill, where they amused themselves till ten o'clock in the exhilarating and health giving amusement. Everything went off in a first-class manner and no accident occurred to mar the pleasures of the evening.

THE BASEBALL LEAGUE.—At a meeting of the Ontario Baseball League in Toronto on Friday it was decided to accept R. K. Fox's trophy for competition. It was decided that each club should make a forfeit of $250, to be deposited within two weeks, as a guarantee that the season would be played out. It was also resolved that it should be optional with visiting clubs whether they should take 50 or 40 per cent of the gate receipts. The secretary was instructed to find out on what terms the league could be supplied with approved balls. Another meeting will be held in about a month to arrange the schedule of games.

RACES AT THE RINK.—Last evening a large number of people congregated in the Speed Skating Rink on the occasion of the benefit to the City Band. At 7:45 the Band left their rooms, Market Square, and marched to the Rink by way of Wyndham, Douglas, and Woolwich streets, playing an excellent march on the route. After giving a few selections outside the rink, they repaired to the interior where the programme commenced with the performance of the "Philomela Waltzes, which were rendered in a masterly manner. Then came the first skating race, which was a two-mile one, the stake being the Stirton medal. Three entered, Joe Bunyan, McCutcheon and Gibbs. The race was devoid of interest. Gibbs left the rink before it was half finished. After a better effort on the part of McCutcheon, Bunyan finally won by about two feet. The one mile race was won by Matt. Bunyan, John Bruce 2nd. The obstacle race was the most amusing, there being four entries. It was won by Matt. Bunyan, Joe Bunyan 2nd. Alf. Mills had the misfortune to get so entangled in the netting as to be thrown out of the race. The handsmen's race brought four competitors to the front, and elicited abundant applause from their friends as they careened over the ice for one mile. The race was eventually won by James Fulljanes. During the evening the drawing for the watch took place, ticket 304 being the lucky number. It was held by Master Thos. Nicholson, who is now the proud possessor of a new watch and chain much to the envy of his young friends. The ice was in first class condition, the racing was enjoyed, and the band gave an excellent programme, so that all went home satisfied with the evening's performance.

Decrease in Flouring.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 29.—Advance sheets from the Biennial Millers' Directory show a net decrease of 6,812 flouring mills in the United States and Canada, as compared with 1884. The number of mills at present in operation is 18,267. The gross capacity shows a slight increase over 1884; every State and Territory shows a decrease in number of mills except Dakota, Nevada and District of Columbia. In Wisconsin there is a loss of 120 mills. The most marked loss is in Pennsylvania, Ohio, New York, Illinois, Missouri, Texas and Ontario.

THE ALLANBURG TRAGEDY

The Inquest Not Yet Over.

WELLAND, Jan. 29.—The inquest was advanced another stage to-day and a lot of evidence was taken, but of so vague a nature that the mystery surrounding the death of Joseph and Mary Bates appears almost as inscrutable as it was when the mutilated and charred remains were taken from the burning building on Saturday morning. County Attorney L. D. Raymond, and Government Detective Murray appeared on behalf of the Crown. The interest of the public is still at fever heat, and the impression is that the exertions of the Ontario Government will eventually lead to the detection of the murderer. The evidence taken at the outset this morning seemed to support the theory that the old man had, in a fit of delirium, murdered his wife, then committed suicide after having started the fire. People in the best position to know, don't have any faith in this theory whatever.

Andrews the Abortionist.

TORONTO, Jan. 29.—On Friday night the jury in the case of Ransom J. Andrews, charged with using instruments with intent to procure an abortion on Jennie Leslie, after having listened to the evidence in the case from 10 in the morning till 6.45 in the evening, and after being closeted an hour and a quarter, brought in a verdict of guilty. The court room was jammed all day and crowds were turned away. Never perhaps since the celebrated Davis trial years ago has any case attracted so much attention, and seldom has such a dish of revolting facts been served up in any of our local courts. The prisoner throughout appeared unconcerned. He was defended by R. B. Osler, Q. C., James Reeve and W. G. Bigelow. Hugh McMahon, Q.C., represented the crown. Jennie Leslie, looking very chipper in her neat attire, sat with her grey-haired sorrowing father behind Mr. McMahon. Jennie Leslie repeated the story that has been so often told. She described minutely the operation performed by Andrews and identified an instrument produced as similar to the one used. Cross examined by Mr. Osler, she said that she was a consenting party to all that had occurred. She had taken three bottles of pennyroyal provided by Worfolk. Judge Rose in charging the jury told them that they had nothing whatever to do with the question as to whether the fœtus was dead or alive at the time the girl came to the house. If the prisoner, before he operated, thought that the girl was pregnant, and if he accordingly performed the operation with intent to procure an abortion then he was guilty of the felony with which he was charged. The jury retired at 25 minutes past 6 and returned in an hour and a quarter, bringing in a verdict of guilty. The prisoner heard the verdict apparently unmoved.

Distress Among Fishermen.

QUEBEC, Jan. 29.—At a meeting of the committee of relief for the County of Bonaventure, it was unanimously resolved to appeal at once to the Government for aid in view of the following facts:—The great fishing firms of Charles Robin & Co. and Leboutillier Bros. have suspended. These firms have hitherto employed two-thirds of the population of this county. The greater part of these people are fishermen, and therefore dependent upon these firms. During winter, work was supplied them, and provisions in advance on next season's fishery. All this has ceased, for fishing was the one industry, and their condition is deplorable. The local subscriptions are totally inadequate to meet the gravity of the situation.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

Excellent Results.

Dr. J. L. Willis, Eliot, Me., says: "Horsford's Acid Phosphate gives most excellent results."

The February Harper.

Harper's Magazine for February maintains the strength which characterized the December and January numbers. Every article in it makes a point. The illustrations leave nothing to be desired, and the variety of its contents is as noteworthy as their excellence. The number opens with a thorough study of the present condition of the British Navy, by Sir Edward Reed, late chief of construction in the admiralty, who, by the way, notices at some length the influence of American upon European naval construction. The illustrations—numbering twenty-two—are for the most part from drawings by Chevalier De Marting. Very appropriately the frontispiece to the number is a fine engraving from a drawing by J. O. Davidson, representing the battle of Trafalgar. In an excellent article by James Lane Allen, the Bluegrass Region of Kentucky is fully treated, and is effectively and very beautifully illustrated from drawings by Julian Rix. Oliver Thorne Miller, in an article entitled Living Balls, treats the class of animals whose anatomy enables them, like the armadillo, to assume the shape of a sphere. The article is very happily illustrated by J. C. Beard. Mr. Howell's charming novel, Indian Summer, is concluded in this number. There are two first-rate short stories: For Looly, by Kate Upson Clark, and A Conflict Ended, by Mary E. Wilkins. Ex-Minister S. G. W. Benjamin, as a result of his observations of Persian life and institutions, contributes a very interesting description of the Tazieh, or Passion Play of Persia, as represented in the Royal Takiah of Teheran. There are many other good things. It is a magnificent number.

Convicted of Murder.

HALIFAX, Jan. 29.—Alex. Gillies has been convicted in Charlottetown of the murder of Pat Callaghan, cemetery keeper, last May. The jury returned a verdict of guilty. The crime with which the prisoner was accused was a most cold-blooded one, the victim being hacked to death with an axe in a lonely hut in which he lived near the cemetery.

The Toronto Lead and Colour Company's factory was badly damaged by fire on Friday as the result of an explosion. Foreman David Brown and book-keeper Wm. Aikenhead received rather serious injuries.

J. S. ROGERSON has just received a lot of Opera silk gloves evening shades, also black all-over laces, deep oriental laces, and a lot of goods suitable for evening wear.

Coming to Guelph.

Doctors of the great English staff of physicians and surgeons will visit the Commercial Hotel, Guelph, on the 6th of February, and will remain until the 15th of February. These doctors have but one fee which is $6 00. This charge includes consultation, examination, advice and medicine, for an entire course of treatment. It matters not what your complaint may be, nor how short or long standing, their charge will be no more or less than $6.00. They have made their fees small so as to enable the poor to obtain treatment. If your case is hopeless they will refund your money before you leave the office, as they will not take any case to treat without there is a moral certainty of giving entire satisfaction. If your case is incurable they will frankly and honestly tell you, also caution you against spending more money for medicine which travelling imposters are liable to suggest. They will not keep any patient in suspense relative to their disease. If you are troubled with lung or heart disease, an absolute disclosure will be made in such a manner as not to be productive of shock to the patient. Number of patients treated and rejected in the following places viz.:—

The Great Conservative Policy

Yesterday we took occasion to point out that the Reform party of Canada, notwithstanding what is constantly asserted by the Tory claquers, have a good, substantial policy, and the very best of reasons for asking the people of the Dominion to enable them to carry it out. We have no doubt the good sense of the electorate will give them the opportunity ere a great many months pass. When things are at their worst they mend, and that condition of Canadian politics is rapidly approaching. The Tory party sought office and received it on the understanding that they were to make bad times good times; poor people were to be made rich and the rich of course were to be made ever so much richer. Trade and business depressions were never again to disturb our national equanimity. Instead of the beautiful green fields and waving corn of a pastoral people, tall chimneys, belching out smoke and ashes, were to spring up in our valleys like mushrooms. The great factory gates were to swarm noon and night with dust begrimed toilers who desired nothing better than plenty work and good wages. The few farmers whose fields were not required for mighty work shops were to become millionaires from the sale of potatoes and pumpkins, cabbages and carrots. Liverpool would be brought to Canada, and a metropolis in every county was to consume every cereal the farmer could raise as fast as he could reap it and pay him any price he chose. Such were some of the roseate anticipations formed from the promising policy of Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues. The party are not so boastful about the advantages of a well defined policy now. Indeed, they have no room to taunt their opponents about the paucity of their programme. If we are to judge the Conservative policy now upheld as we have opportunity of examining it, we find it has simmered down to very small compass—Sir John Macdonald and office. Here are the resolutions of a representative gathering of Tories held in North York recently, and which evidently fully embody the whole Conservative policy and principles.

That this meeting highly approve of the yearly meeting of this association being held on the birthday of the Right Hon. Sir John Macdonald, the leader of the Conservative party, and that the co-operation of the Conservative Union of Ontario be requested to aid in inducing all Conservative Associations of Ontario to hold their annual meeting on the same day, that of the birthday of our chieftain, thereby making that day a general reunion of the party.

Whereas the annual meeting of this Association is held on the birthday of our leader, the Right Hon Sir John Macdonald, resolved therefore that this Association send the right hon. gentlemen their congratulations.

That this Association highly approves of the action of the Dominion Government in vindicating the law in the case of the arch-rebel Louis Riel, showing as it does to the world that neither religion, race nor politics are permitted to weigh against the even-handed administration of justice in this country.

That this meeting highly approves of the addition to the Dominion Cabinet of the Hon. Thomas White as Minister of the Interior, thereby placing in his hands the most important trust in the Dominion, and giving one of the younger politicians an opportunity of helping to govern a country so vast in extent and resources as this.

Not a word about the N. P., no mention of the Canadian Pacific, nor of the policy to be pursued toward the Indians, nothing about reciprocity, prohibition or any other vital question. The taxes may be high or low, expenditures wise or unwise, the debt may be doubled every ten years, and the North York or any other Conservatives will not protest. The policy is to hold annual meetings on Sir John's birthday—that and nothing more. Sir John has earned the thanks of his supporters by hanging Riel and by appointing Tom White to office—that and nothing more.

Which is the more worthy policy, that laid down by Hon. Mr. Blake or that adopted by the North York Conservatives? We leave our readers to decide.

THE Liberal majority in the Ontario Legislature keeps growing. In the first division of the present House, the majority for the Government was 12; last session it was 13; now, as the result of interim elections, the Premier has a clear majority of 19.

ONLY four of those who sat in the Legislature in Mr. Blake's time continue to be members. These are Mr. Gibson, of Huron; Col. Clarke, the present Speaker of the Assembly; Mr. Baxter, of Haldimand, and Hon. T. B. Pardee.

VOTING on the Scott Act took place in the County of Pontiac on Thursday. The Majority so far against the Act is about 500. Pontiac is in Quebec Province, north-west of Ottawa, where a large majority of the municipalities are opposed to the Prohibitory Law.

MR. HUGH SUTHERLAND'S scheme for the construction of a railway from Winnipeg to Hudson Bay is not meeting with the favour that was expected, especially on the part of those who have given much attention to the enterprise. For instance the Hon. Donald A. Smith, one of the most clear headed men in the Dominion, and one of the leading members of the C. P. R. Company takes the position that the route is utterly impracticable, that the season of navigation on Hudson Bay is too short to be of any value, and that if such a railway were built no traffic of any kind could be secured on the line except what would pass between Winnipeg and Hudson Bay.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Toronto, Jan. 29.

Mr. G. B. Hawley, member elect for Lennox, was introduced by Hon. Mr. Fraser and Mr. Young, and took his seat.

Mr. R. Ferguson, member elect for East Kent, was introduced by Hon. Mr. Ross and Mr. Balfour, and took his seat.

Mr. Hawley moved the address in reply to the speech. His references to the splendid services rendered by the volunteers in the Northwest was graceful and generous. His brief statements of the conditions of agriculture in the Province, the importance of mixed farming, and diversity of crops, and the valuable services being rendered the farmers by the Experimental Farm, received the hearty assent of the House. He also took occasion to exhume the remains of the great constitutional lawyer, Sir John Macdonald, on the license question. He was earnest in his felicitations over the final triumph of Provincial Rights reached in the recent decision of the Privy Council. He entered a strong protest against the infamous timber-grabbing operations carried on in Northwestern Ontario, under the auspices of the Ottawa Administration. He urged the Government to remain steadfast in their resolution not to surrender one stick of timber, one ounce of lead, iron or gold to the Dominion authorities, and predicted as great a triumph for the Province on the timber claims as on the territorial claim.

Mr. James Conmee, member for West Algoma, seconded the address. It is not often that a maiden speech is better received. As was to be expected, Mr. Conmee devoted himself chiefly to the questions intimately associated with the district he represents. The bad effect of the long-pending Boundary dispute upon the settlers of Algoma was told in vigorous language, the responsibility of the Dominion Government for the delay in the settlement of that question was clearly shown, and the obstinate determination of the Ottawa Government to go on plundering that territory was strongly rebuked. He showed at some length the vast timber, agricultural, and mineral resources of the Algomas, putting the claims of the district before the Legislature in a light that will ensure the readiest and fullest attention to the wants of its people, and dispose the Government to active measures to assist its development.

Mr Meredith followed in an hour's speech. He carefully dissected the different paragraphs of the address. Some he condemned, some he said had been cribbd from Opposition minds and some he opposed. Mr. Meredith taunted the leader of the Government with parading himself before the public at political pow-wows, as the little gentleman who had knocked out Sir John Macdonald in every constitutional prize ring. Speaking of the increase of lunacy in the Province, Mr. Meredith regretted the fact, but thought that there were a large number of patients in the more pretentious institutions totally beyond hope of cure. As a matter of economy he thought they should be aided locally or relegated to plainer accomodation. Mr. Meredith then made a review of the constitutionality of the great questions that have been before the House for a number of years. He said it took years for the United States, who had a constitution very similar to our own, to find out where States' rights ended and where Fedral powers began. Time alone settled the question. In closing, Mr. Meredith regretted that in the paragraph of the address thanking the volunteers of the province for their services in the Northwest, no mention had been made of the services of the brave young men who went from Quebec, Manitoba, Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick. He moved that the paragraph be so amended as to read that the thanks of the House was due to all the volunteers who were at the front as a common soldiery.

Hon. Mr. Mowat replied to the leader of the Opposition. He averred that he had not posed as a boaster at public meetings of how he had downed Sir John as a constitutional heavy weight. He did not deny that he bested the valiant knight in several of the high courts of the realm, but he did not claim any particular credit for it. "If my friends," continued the Premier, "give me any credit, of course I can only accept it." He went on to expose the fallacy of very many of Mr. Meredith's contentions. He pointed out that the Government had long been opposed to a system of assisted immigration; that that system is the recognized policy of the Dominion Government; that, although immigrants were not assisted, still expenditure had been necessary in connection with the securing of desirable immigrants, and that up to the present it had been undeniably necessary to employ imgration officials. This is an incontrovertible statement of the position. Assisted immigration has not been the policy of the Ontario Government, but to argue from that fact that all expenditure on immigration has been unjustifiable is obviously absurd. He denied the statement of Mr. Meredith that the Torrens Land Act is not giving the measure of success that was anticipated, but that, on the contrary, those who had taken advantage of the provisions of the Act were entirely satisfied. He disposed of Mr. Meredith's shallow defence of the discredited constitutional authority. He showed that in the Insurance case, the Escheats case, and the Rivers and Streams Bill case, the Dominion Premier adopted the cause of the defeated contestants, and therefore must share in their defeat. He showed also that Sir John Macdonald was wholly responsible for the license controversy, and could not escape the humiliation it had brought upon him. He took occasion to arraign Mr. Meredith for his unfailing, untiring sympathy with Sir John Macdonald as against Ontario, and to point out that in every struggle for the rights of the Province the Government had had the active hostility of Mr. Meredith and his whole following in the Legislature. He declared that since the Privy Council's decision in the Boundary case 5,000 square miles of Ontario timber had been granted away by the Dominion Government. He, amid the enthusiastic applause of his supporters, asserted the determination of the Government to exact recompense for this wholesale plundering of the Province and to resist to the Court of last resort the attempt to get possession of our timber by virtue of an alleged unextinguished Indian title. This claim, he showed, could be made with equal reason against all the older Provinces, and was simply a technical quibble and a last desperate device of Sir John Macdonald to impose humiliation and wrong upon Ontario. In conclusion he said: "We all thank the youth of Ontario for their manly defence of the country's integrity. The reason that the volunteers from other Provinces were not mentioned was because we thought we only had to deal with those of this Province. The same soldierly qualities pervaded the ranks of the citizen soldiers from every part of the Dominion. I have no objection to Mr. Meredith's amendment. I might add that I consider our Government never enjoyed the confidence of the people of the Province to a greater extent than now."

THE FIRM OF ROBIN & CO.

Failure of the Largest Fishing Firm in Canada.

A House that Treated Its Employees as Slaves—Fears that Much Misery will Ensue.

The news of the failure of the firm of Chas. Robin & Co., the great fishermen, the great shipowners, the real kings of the lower Lt Lawrence, is confirmed. This powerful house whose disposable capital was rated over a million pounds sterling, which was believed to be more solid than the Bank of England, has been obliged to close its doors. The news will seem so unlikely that more than one will refuse to believe it.

For over a century the Robin firm possessed fourteen establishments for fishing and the preparation of fish situated in the best places on the gulf and connected with the headquarters at Paspebiac; a large fleet of fishing boats and brigantines for the transport of merchandise to Europe and the West Indies; wharfs, stores, warehouses and all the outfit needed for a business of five to six million dollars a year.

To operate all this plant an army of employees, trained from youth to the work assigned them and subjected to a discipline more rigorous than that of the soldier, was entrusted with the duty of working and squeezing the poor fisherman; to let him have just sufficient to live, but not enough to enable him to procure his emancipation; to keep him in ignorance by prescribing the schools. These unfortunate people who, owing to the inadequacy of their land, are forced to fish for the company in order to gain their precarious livelihood are practically serfs condemned for life to the hardest labor, to continual privation and they become spectre thin in a hopeless melancholy and indigence.

Never has a more barbarous and odious monopoly been exercised with greater impunity. The Robin firm was powerful enough to bring governments to its feet and a fortiori members of parliament inspectors and public employes. Its organization was so perfect that no human means of gagging it were devisable: at the head was an able administrative council controlling unlimited credit and capital; an immense personnel at every rung of the ladder then below very far below, the people, the plebs, the fisherman, the stone of the press which feeds this great industry. One can perceive what powerful means this firm had at its disposal. It defied all competition and it needed nothing less than a decree of providence to bring it to account.

What will be the result of this suspension? Will the fishing stations and fleet be sold to the Americans? or will they be divided into small companies in each locality? We do not know, and it is certain that this sudden change is going to upset things. The fishermen, accustomed to the advances which the company made them and counting on them for existence, are going to be in the depths of misery.

It would be timely to organize this army of fisherman into a co-operative society and to place our Canadian fishermen on a footing of equality with the American fishermen.

This is to certify that I have used McGregor's Speedy Cure for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, and do honestly say that if it cost me one hundred dollars ($100.00) a bottle I would not be without it, as it has done me more good than all the medicines I ever used, and I feel like a new man.—Yours truly, Alex Sheel, Carleton Place, Ont. This medicine is for sale at 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at Thos. S. Petrie's Drug Store.

Lincoln County Council have decided to erect an Industrial Home at a cost of six thousand dollars, and the Industrial Home Committee has been authorized to secure plans and award the contract.

The city of Montreal has already spent nearly $150,000 in suppressing the recent epidemic of smallpox, leaving a number of accounts yet to be settled.

The latest remedy for Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, etc., is McGregor's Lung Compound. There is no remedy in existence containing any one of the active ingredients composing Macgregor's Lung Compound, so do not say you have taken everything until you have tried this for your cold or cough, and your opinion will be the same as all who have used it, viz., that it is the best. Sold in 50c. and $1.00 bottles by Thos. S. Petrie, Druggist.

All hopes for the safety of the three aeronauts who were last seen in the balloon Le Fugitif, carried out to sea in the neighbourhood of Brest, have been abandoned.

Explanatory.

Attention is directed to my advertisement in another column announcing the continuance of the discount sale, until the end of the first week in February. To prevent any false impression, the public are informed that the discounts stated do not apply to every article in stock, but to special lines. Also that the discounts are made on the prices the goods were sold at and the present price quoted is the net price without further discount. The great inducements offered have created a wide spread interest. Many people having seen the Bargains purchased, are under the impression that the discounts apply to all goods alike. We never want to create an impression that we do not carry out. Customers are always sure of getting exactly what we advertise. Hence this explanation. E. R. The Foes of a Household

CHAPTER VII

ALICE.

Helen's prediction was verified. After Alice's return The Thwaite became a different house. All through the summer Percival had been almost the only visitor there; the few others were friends and contemporaries of Mr. and Mrs. Lafobe, or from time to time some girls, friends, not of Helen, but her younger sister—girls in whom Percival had been able neither to feel nor to fein the slightest interest. They were all so much alike, a deadly monotony ran through their dress, manners, and conversation. Alice's presence in the house effected a kind of revolution: people came to stay, and those in the neighbourhood visited more frequently; garden parties and other festivities took place.

Under these circumstances, he saw very little of Alice. She was always in request, always surrounded by a crowd of admirers, and he failed to discover any pleasure in being one in a multitude. After having been singled out by Helen he resented the thought of being only one in a crowd to Alice. That he was onty one in a crowd would have been clear to anyone who had taken the trouble to watch her behaviour to him. She took little notice of him, seldom speaking, and then only in the same way as everybody else. She singled him from the rest neither through particular indifference nor undue attention.

Though she exercised no fascination over him, he could not be blind to her beauty, he could not help admiring her as she swept about the garden or up and down the large rooms of The Thwaite, rooms which seemed as if they had been built and furnished for the express purpose of showing off such beauty as hers.

In the indiscriminate admiration and attention which Alice excited, his own less obtrusive devotion to Helen passed unnoticed. She was not in such request as her sister, and they contrived to pass much time together, and to enjoy many long private conversations in the heart of the crowd. One day Helen said—

You still think Alice no more than beautiful?

He shrugged his shoulders, saying—

"I worship from afar. You must see for yourself that I have small chance of improving our acquaintance."

"She is very much admired, is she not? I often look at her and wonder how it is possible to be so beautiful. Who would suppose that she is two years younger than I am?"

"Intellectually you are much more than two years her senior. I do not imagine she has more than average intelligence."

"Perhaps not, but among the people who form her world that probably counts to her advantage. Still, how do you know she is not clever, since you never speak to her?"

"There are many things about her that make me think so. If we were to have half-an-hour's conversation I would bring you a hundred proofs."

"Only have a little patience. You will not long have to complain that she will not talk to you."

"Did I complain? But you speak in riddles; explain yourself."

"So far, at any rate, you do not feel any interest in Alice; is it not so?"

"Perfectly."

"She saw that at once. She is very quick in reading people's impressions when they concern herself, and she is fighting you with your own weapons. You are indifferent, so she is indifferent. By and by, if you do not change, she will, and then you will be forced to occupy yourself with her."

"What makes you say that?" he asked after a pause.

"Because I know it. She must have every one at her feet, and if they will not come of their own accord, they must be made to."

He laughed rather lazily as he answered,

"Could you not hint to your sister that she is giving herself some useless trouble which I should be glad to spare her?"

"It would be of no use; she would not believe me. She would put it down to jealousy."

This time he laughed heartily.

"There is an idea! Are you serious?"

"Perfectly. "I know Alice very well. She has the most honest contempt for my attractions—for want of a better word—and so far, I must confess, she had every reason for her contempt. She knows nothing of our engagement, and before you came the only man who showed any preference for me was one whose regard was not flattering."

"Poor Helen!" turning and looking at her with eyes full of amusement. "I do not wonder you were discontented with your life. Neglected by all these fascinating creatures, you must indeed have felt that your life was missed. I pity you, from the bottom of my heart I pity you. What a miserable makeshift you have had to content yourself with at last."

"True; still, the makeshift has its good points. Long-continued intercourse with these people," nodding towards the house, "would be as enervating as living in a hothouse. The society of the makeshift serves as a tonic. In fact," suddenly changing her tone, "coming from them to you is like passing from a scented, heated drawing-room, full of musk and heliotrope, to the open shore, where a strong, bracing wind full of the smell of the sea blows upon your face."

"Sir Cuthbert Maitland seems to admire your sister very much."

"Yes, I wish she would marry him, but she does not appear to care for him."

"Why do you wish she would marry him?"

"Because I think they are suited to one another, and you must confess they look very well together."

"Yes, he is dark and she is the fairest woman I think I ever saw; they are almost equal in height, and they have the same slow way of moving about. Yes, I think they ought to marry; perhaps they will."

"I do not believe she cares for him at all; and though Alice lives altogether among people who don't consider love a necessary adjunct to marriage, I don't think she will marry any one but the man she loves."

"Her character seems a little complicated."

"It is; she is not just like the ordinary girls one meets in society. For one thing, she has not learned to subdue her own personal wishes. If she sets her heart on anything she never rests until she has got it—somehow."

"Somehow! That seems to imply that she is not very scrupulous as to the means she employs."

"I do not think she would be scrupulous if she wanted anything very much, and it seemed quite unobtainable."

"You give her a strange character, and you seem to know her very well."

Helen shrugged her shoulders.

"The child is father to the man.' I was brought up with Alice; we passed years together in the schoolroom. There is no place for studying character like the schoolroom."

HOUSE OF INDUSTRY.

Mr. John Beattie, Inspector of the Poor House, read his report as follows:

To the Warden and Council of the County of Wellington.

GENTLEMEN,—I beg leave to present my eighth annual report, which shows that at the close of the year, there were 60 inmates in the house, viz.: 35 adult males, 16 adult females, 5 boys under sixteen years of age, and 4 girls under that age, the daily average number of inmates during the past year being about 61.

The various amounts for supplies, &c., were passed and audited by the Standing Committee in the usual manner, and it will be seen in the annexed statement, that the net cost of maintaining each inmate per week, has been $1,47½ cents. This includes the board of the keeper's family and hired servants. By adding to the expenditure a maintenance account, interest at the rate of five per cent on capital account, it will increase the cost of maintaining each inmate 30 cents per week.

The Protestant clergymen of Fergus and Elora held alternately divine service in the institution every Sabbath afternoon, as in former years, and the R. C. Priest, of Elora, continued his occasional visits.

I have nothing special to report at this time in connection with the management of the institution, but I may remark that a larger proportion of the inmates than usual, have been in a very helpless state during the past year, requiring extra attention from the keeper and matron and their assistants.

It affords me much pleasure to be able to say that the keeper and matron continue to discharge their respective duties in a very efficient manner, and I feel satisfied that they have done their best to keep the expense account as low as possible, having due regard to the health and comfort of the inmates.

Appended to this report are abstract and detailed statements of receipts and disbursements by the keeper and myself, as well as the statistical and other information usually furnished in my annual reports.

JOHN BEATTIE, Inspector.

Fergus, Jan. 25, 1886.

Mr. Beattie also read the Surgeon's report, which is as follows:—

To the Warden and Council of the County of Wellington:

GENTLEMEN,—I have the honour to present my fourth annual report as Surgeon to the County House of Industry for the year ending December 31, 1885:

Since my last report nine deaths have taken place in the institution, the names ages, and cause of death being as follows:

Steede Goddard,	aged	84,	senile decay.
Daniel Robertson,	"	79	senile decay.
Archibald Muir,	"	67	chronic abscess
David Young,	"	76	paralysis.
Patrick Cullen,	"	98	senile decay.
Richard Shields,	"	67	heart disease.
Ellen Taylor,	"	29	consumption.
Brian Murray,	"	54	heart disease.
James Church,	"	75	heart disease.

As will be seen from the above there has been no case of death during the year from acute or curable disease. The average age at death was seventy years, although in the case of Ellen Taylor the age was but twenty-nine.

That portion of the buildings known commonly as the hospital has been considerably improved by the changes which have been made in it, but the lower room needs ventilation. As it would be a very inexpensive matter it might be attended to at once, seeing that it would conduce materially to the health and comfort of the inmates.

No cases of contagious disease have occurred during the year, but one inmate was admitted suffering from typhoid fever. I advised her immediate removal to the Hospital.

At the time of the smallpox scare I thought it advisable to vaccinate all residents of the building who had not been previously vaccinated.

An old man had his arm broken near the shoulder by a fall. On account of his age and weakness I was of opinion that it would endanger his life to remove him to the Hospital, consequently he was treated in the House, and I am glad to say made an excellent recovery.

It might not be out of place to refer to a minute or resolution of the Committee on House of Industry and Refuge, dated 28th October last, in which it is asserted that I proposed "to remove certain tumors from the throat of an inmate named Aggie Muir by means of a surgical operation." I can assure your honorable body that I never had any intention of removing tumors from the throat of Aggie Muir or any other inmate.

At the November meeting of the County Council the Committee presented a report in which it is stated in the most positive manner that I have "deemed it advisable and expedient on several occasions to perform surgical operations on some of the inmates without consulting your Committee, etc."

In reply to this, I may say that during the past year I have not performed or proposed to perform a surgical operation on any inmate of a more serious nature than vaccination or the extraction of a tooth. As a matter of fact I may say that during the four years I have been Surgeon to the Poor House I have performed surgical operations of the slightest importance upon two inmates only, and even these were not of a character to require any very special after treatment, and moreover they were only such operations as I understand my predecessor was in the habit of performing in the Poor House. It will thus be seen that only a very liberal interpretation of the phrase "several occasions" would permit the report of the Committee to come within the pale of accuracy.

That part of the report which refers to the alleged gossip of "outsiders" is so vague that it seems scarcely to require a formal refutation.

In conclusion, I have only to say that in the future as in the past I shall conscientiously strive to do my whole duty to the patients under my charge in the House of Industry, sparing myself in no way in order to benefit them and to serve the County.

I have the honour to be, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
A. GROVES.

COUNTY PROPERTY.

Mr. Wm. Nicoll, chairman of the Standing Committee on County Property, presented his report as follows:—Your Committee beg leave to recommend that the following accounts be paid: Jas. Bain & Son, books for the Surrogate Register, $6.50; T. J. Day, cash book for Sheriff's office, $5.75; John A. Wood, brooms, brushes, etc., $4.10; H. Ferguson, coal for North Registry Office, 1884, $5.84; J. W. Colson, hauling wood, scrubbing Court House, &c., $12; R. Martin, fixing air pipe and sundries, North Registry Office, $3.25. In regard to the account of John Anderson of $61, we recommend no action until the necessary vouchers are produced. With reference to the petition of the caretaker for an increase of salary we recommend no action. Your Committee, after having considered the suggestions of the Grand Jurors, cannot recommend any change in the heating of the Court House at present, and fully believe that there is sufficient accommodation for witnesses and others attending the courts in the adjacent rooms. And your Committee would recommend that they be authorized to have said rooms and Court room thoroughly overhauled and cleaned in the spring. Your Committee have to report that since the November session they have leased to the Guelph Township corporation the vacant room in the new County office for a Council Chamber for a rental of $50 per annum from the 1st January, 1886, and that a by-law will be introduced at this session to confirm said agreement. In reference to the petition of Mr. Mercer, gaoler, which was laid over from last year, asking for increased sleeping accommodation in that portion of the jail occupied by him, your Committee after making careful inquiry into the circumstances would recommend that a room be fitted up in the garret of his residence at a cost not to exceed $200. Adopted.

EDUCATION.

Mr. Hampton reported as follows, recommending the payment of the following accounts: J. T. Skales, stationery, etc., $6.82; W. T. Brisben, entrance examination, Harriston, $3.10; J. Robertson, advertising, $2; J. T. Skales, entrance examination, Harriston, $3.25; H. J. Benner, advertising entrance examination, $1.35; R. R. Hopkins, assisting in entrance examination, Harriston, $6; A. P. Clapp, telegrams, stationery, etc., $5.07; Alex. McCready, postage stamps, $11.25; J. T. Skales, stationery, Model School, $7.07; Inspector Craig, postage and rent of box, $13.75; Robert Philip, stationery, (Fergus) $4.00; R. W. Perry, telegrams, stamps, $3.17, and stationery for the same, $3.85. Total, $73.08. In regard to the petition of Harriston and Fergus Public School Boards, requesting that another Model School be established, your Committee recommend that the matter be laid over until the June session. Adopted.

For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Price 25 cents. Sold by A. B. Petrie.

Vandalism in a Vineyard.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Jan. 29.—On the night of the 19th inst., one of the most dastardly crimes ever committed in this vicinity was perpetrated upon the old Dunning farm in the Township of Stamford, now owned by Messrs. Lindsey & Upton. During that night some person with malicious intent entered the vineyard and deliberately bestrewed 500 grape vines, cutting some close to the ground, while others were torn up by the roots. Detective Wynne was put upon the case and traced the vandalism to Horatio Hoskins, who had escaped to the other side. Wynne succeeded, however, in tempting him to cross the border again, and he was arrested and committed for trial.

Sudden Death in Toronto.

TORONTO, Feb. 1.—About church time yesterday morning the inhabitants of North Toronto were startled by the announcement that County Attorney Fenton had been found dead on the floor of his bedroom at his residence, 94 Bloor street west. Mr. Fenton had been at his office in the Court House on Saturday, and had been present at the marriage of James Worfolk and Jennie Leslie. He had a long conversation with Canon Dommoulin, who performed the ceremony and seemed even in better spirits than usual. During Saturday evening he was engaged in drawing plans for a new house that he had some idea of erecting. On Sunday he arose at his usual hour, and after requesting the nurse to dress the children for church, proceeded to make his own toilet. Mrs. Fenton is at present in a poor state of health and confined to her bed in an adjoining room. She heard a heavy fall and called to one of the children to open the door of their father's apartment. It was locked and could not be opened. Entrance to the room was made by way of the window, and Mr. Fenton was found dead, he apparently having fallen while taking his sponge bath, a practice in which he every morning indulged. Dr. Johnson was called in at once, but found that the vital spark had fled. The cause of death was heart disease. The office of County Attorney is a lucrative one, it being worth some $7,000 a year.

Prayers for a Ghost.

MONTREAL, Jan. 31.—The parish priest of Ile Bizard referred at high mass to-day to the extraordinary proceedings in Mr. Dufresne's house, and urged the faithful to offer prayers for the soul of some departed person who it is believed is undoubtedly the cause of all the manifestations. The unusual state of affairs has become the topic of every conversation at Ile Bizard. The beadle, it appears, swears that he found red hot embers in Mr. Dufresne's pew, the parish priest states that he was present in Mr. Dufresne's house when the bed clothes were disturbed and he is of the opinion that the soul of some departed unfortunate must be wanting prayers. The Dufresne family with their neighbours join in prayer every evening. A number of masses have already been said for the repose of the soul supposed to be in purgatory.

CITY COUNCIL meets to-night.

CHALMERS' CHURCH Literary Association give a grand musical entertainment in the church to-night.

ELMIRA will come into the county of Waterloo next year as a full fledged incorporated village. Mr. David Bean has been appointed by the County Council to take a census.

THERE are five Commercial Travelers' Associations in Canada. Toronto, with a membership of 2,300; Montreal, 1,500; London, 500; Winnipeg, 150; Halifax, N. S., about 150.

IT is understood that Harry Nolan, of the Rossin House, Toronto, is to have the management of the Ogilvies' new hotel, the Balmoral, on St. Joseph's street, Montreal, to be completed in a few weeks at a cost of over a million dollars.

A VICTORY OVER JUDGE TRAVIS.—A Winnipeg despatch says: When the order of the Minister of Justice for the release of Mr. Cayley, editor of the Calgary Herald, and the remission of his fine, reached Caigary, a procession was formed and Mr. Cayley was escorted from the gaol to his residence, the decision being regarded as a victory over Judge Travis.

THE BRAMPTON ABDUCTION.—George Tait, of Brampton, who is charged under the Charlton Act with enticing Eva Kennedy to Toronto for illegal purposes, was placed on trial on Saturday. The evidence of the girl did not tend to help the Crown, and as the prosecution had no other witnesses, the Judge directed the jury to bring in a verdict of acquittal.

CENTRE WELLINGTON CONSERVATIVES.—The Conservatives of Centre Wellington held a convention at Fergus on Monday afternoon, 25th January. Addresses were given by T. White, of Montreal, and Dr. Orton. Officers elected:—President, Hugh Roberts, Pilkington; Vice-President, J. McGowan, Peel; Treasurer, M. Anderson, Fergus; Secretary, Jas. Muir, Fergus; Vice-Presidents were also appointed for the various polling sub-divisions.

FATHER O'CONNELL, who has been pastor of St. Mary's Church, Mount Forest, for the past ten years, having been appointed to take charge of the Church in Galt, preached his farewell sermon last Sabbath morning to a very large congregation, and was presented with addresses from the ladies and gentlemen of the congregation, also with an address from the Sabbath school children.

WHISKEY DENS.—The Goderich Signal says the common report is that the stores licensed by the Dominion Commissioners in that town have degenerated into whiskey dens. At the present day they have no right to sell or keep exposed for sale any liquors. We believe the town constables, who appear to be rather in league with these liquor dealers, should either do their duty in the matter or be dismissed. They are a nice lot of officers if they don't know of the way things are going on in these whiskey shops; if they do know, they are a nice set of fellows to let the illicit sale go on.

DEATH OF REV. I. B. HOWARD. — We regret to learn that the Rev. I. B. Howard died in Toronto on Sunday. Some twelve years ago Mr. Howard was pastor of the Norfolk street Methodist church in Guelph, and was held in the highest estimation by his flock. After leaving Guelph he went to Dundas, but his health failing he had to take a superannuated relation. He resided in Southern California several years, preaching occasionally as his health would permit, and about a year ago returned to Toronto, and died at the residence of his son-in-law, Judge McDougall.

ROBBING THE MAILS.—A systematic robbery of the mails between Hamilton and Palmerston has been carried on for some time. Inspector Sweetnam investigated the matter and his suspicions fell on James Kelly, mail clerk, of Hamilton, who takes charge of the run between Hamilton and Palmerston. It was found that the robberies always occurred the particular days on which Kelly had charge of this run. The result was that about a week ago the inspector gave Kelly notice that he was suspended on suspicion. Kelly has since left Hamilton and his whereabouts can not be learned. Kelly is a married man, aged 30, and comes from Orangeville. He was formerly mail clerk on the C. V. R.

DAVID N. HOGG & CO'S SUCCESSORS.—In another paragraph we have referred to the purchase of the dry goods business of Messrs. David N. Hogg & Co. by Messrs. Ryan, Berkinshaw & Co., who will reopen the store after stocktaking on Wednesday. We congratulate the new firm on obtaining one of the largest and most successful dry goods businesses west of Toronto. We are glad to learn from the antecedents of the two principal partners that they are likely to be in all respects worthy successors of the well known firm which has just retired. Mr. Ryan, for the last four years was connected with a very successful dry goods business in Barrie, and the papers there speak of him in the highest terms. The Gazette says:—"Mr. Ryan came to town four years ago and has ever since been one of the most enterprising merchants of the town. He has had a long and practical experience in the dry goods trade, and buys advantageously every time. We are sorry that he has decided to leave Barrie, as he was ever ready to assist or help on any enterprise for the advancement of the town,'. We also clip the following from the Advance: "During Mr. Ryan's residence in Barrie he has been always ready to forward any measure for the good of the town. He is a first class business man, prompt, energetic and ready to recognize and assist any commercial enterprise that could add to the prosperity of the place, and we shall be sorry if we have to lose a man with so much enterprise and business energy." Of Mr Berkinshaw we have also the most favourable accounts. He has just left the employment of Messrs. John Macdonald & Co., of Toronto, who was for two years in their warehouse, and for 6 years was one of their most successful travellers. It will be seen therefore that these gentlemen have not only an extensive knowledge of their business, but have also had considerable experience. They begin their career as merchants in Guelph under the most favourable auspices, and we wish them every success.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

Excellent Results.

Dr. J. L. Willis, Eliot, Me., says: "Horsford's Acid Phosphate gives most excellent results."

THERE was a poor market this morning.

FOUR rinks of the Guelph curlers go to Toronto to-morrow to play the Caledonian Club of that city for a Royal Caledonian medal.

THE Georgetown Herald has again changed hands. This time Mr. R. D. Warren assumes control, having bought the plant and buisness. If he continues to improve the paper as the late proprietor did there can be no doubt of his success.

THE TOBOGGAN SLIDE.—A MEETING of the members of the Guelph Snow Shoe and Tobboggan Club was held this morning when it was decided to close the slide until Wednesday to allow of having the slide on Macdonald's hill altered so as to make a better bottom.

THE new horse recently purchased by the Express Company became unruly on St. George's Square this morning and seemed for a time to get the better of the driver. He finally succeeded in cowing the animal when it proceeded on itsway as quiet as a lamb.

"MISS HAVERGAL."—The Young Peoples' Association of the Norfolk Street Methodist Church intend giving "An Evening with Miss Havergal" on Thursday next, Feb. 4th. The programme comprises vocal music, solos and quartettes, readings, recitations selected from her works, and a paper on her life and writings. The meeting gives promise of being one of the most enjoyable ever held by the Association.

THERE are complaints of shipments of poisoned oranges from Florida. The oranges were frozen on the trees during the last cold snap, and externally appear to be wholesome, but they blister the tongue and lips, and are injurious to the mucous membrane.

ACQUITTED.—Wm. Watson, who was remanded on Monday last for one week, on a charge of stealing $43 from Mrs. Langford, on the 4th January, was before His Honor Judge Drew this morning. His Honor held that there was not sufficient evidence to convict, and in consequence dismissed the prisoner.

POLICE COURT.—Wm. James McCrae was before the police magistrate this morning charged with obtaining 619 bushels of turnips from Robt. Dawson, Guelph Township, by false pretences. After several witnesses were examined the case was adjourned until Monday next to allow of the appearance of Mr. John Ogg, whom McCrae represented himself as being agent for the purchase of turnips. Detective Kelly appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. G. W. Field, of Coffee, Field & Coffee for the defence.

RUNAWAY.—A horse belonging to James Hewer, which is stabled at Johnston's livery stable, was driven out yesterday afternoon attached to a cutter. Near Horsman's hill the occupant was thrown out, and the horse being freed proceeded at a break-neck pace. On making the turn at the corner of Grange and Queen streets the horse ran down the embankment and took the lane running along the rear of Mr. John McPherson's house, drawing the cutter on its side until after Allan's bridge was crossed when the animal cleared itself from the cutter and proceeded to the stable with only the check and bridle. The occupant escaped uninjured.

HALTON AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY. — The annual meeting was held in Milton on Wednesday, 20th: Receipts of the year $2,122.80; expenditures $2,220.58; balance due treasurer $97.78. The following officers were elected: Thomas Chisholm, President; James A. Watson, 1st Vice President; William Patterson, 2nd Vice President. Directors: Messrs. Robert Stewart and Abraham Stark, for Esquesing; John Dickson and Thos. Chisholm, Trafalgar; Thos. Blanchard, Col. Campbell, and Thomas Elliott, Nelson; A. McGibbon and A. C. McMillan, Nassagaweya; D. W. Campbell, Milton; Henry Foster, Burlington; John Alton, Oakville; D. McKenzie, Georgetown; Alex. Waldie, Acton. Auditors: J. H. McCollom and E. Dixon. Mr. Awrey, M.P.P., was the Society's choice to the Provincial Board.

The Funeral of the Late Ex-Chief McMillan.

As was stated on Saturday the coffin containing the body of ex-Chief McMillan who accidently shot himself in Brandon about the middle of December, on reaching Guelph was placed in the corridor of the Police Court and remained there till Sunday afternoon. By two o'clock a great many people had gathered about the Market House and on the Square. Shortly after that hour, the remains were carried to the hearse, by the following pall bearers: His Worship the Mayor, Ald. Lamprey, Ald. Bruce, N. Higinbotham, Registrar, James Innes, M.P., James Cormack, John S. Rodgerson, Hugh McMillan. A procession was formed headed by the hearse and followed by a large number of our citizens and proceeded to St. Andrew's Church, of which deceased was a member when a resident of Guelph. The coffin was placed by the pall bearers in front of the pulpit. The pulpit and organ gallery were draped with black. A large number of people crowded the church. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. J. C. Smith, B.D., who opened them by giving out the hymn "A few more years shall roll," which was feelingly sung by the choir, the congregation joining. Rev. Mr. Smith in a short address referred to the sad circumstances connected with the deceased's death. He also referred in feeling terms to the high character he had uniformly maintained, to his efficiency as a public officer and to the esteem in which he was held by the people of Guelph, which was evidenced by the large attendance here to-day, by the universal regret over his untimely death and the sympathy felt for his bereaved widow and orphan child. He then read appropriate passages of Scripture and offered up an impressive prayer. At the close the cover of the coffin was removed, exposing the face of deceased, and those present had an opportunity of viewing it. This took about forty-five minutes, about a thousand people having slowly passed the coffin in that time. It is stated that the features of deceased had not changed much from the time of his first interment, and his old friends and acquaintances could easily recognize them. During the time the people were viewing the remains the organist played the "Dead March in Saul." The coffin was again borne to the hearse which slowly proceeded on its way to the cemetery followed by a large number of sleighs and cutters. The Rev. Mr. Smith conducted the closing services at the grave in the presence of Mrs. McMillan, her son and other friends.

ST. THOMAS is negotiating for a reduction in gas. The present prices are $1.75 to $2.25 per thousand, according to the rate of consumption.

PETER WATT, formerly of Puslinch, who has been absent for two years in Wyoming Territory, Dakota, farming, returned home last night to pay a month's visit to friends in Puslinch and Guelph.

JOHN BOWMAN, who lives on Ontario street, had his wrist so severely cut by a cross-cut saw while sawing logs that it was found necessary to summon Dr. McPhatter to dress the wound.

MR. JOHN DUFF has sold his first class Clydesdale stallion, "Davie Lad," to R. McConkey, Arkwright P. O., Bruce County, for a big price. This was one of the best Clydesdale horses in this section, having taken eight first prizes in three years.

Mrs. Bayard, wife of the Secretary of State, died at her residence in Washington at half-past eight o'clock on Sunday morning. The immediate cause of Mrs. Bayard's death was congestion of the brain brought on by the shock of her daughter's sudden death two weeks ago.

MRS. CHAS. DAWSON, late Capt. Churchhill, of the Salvation Army here, arrived together with her husband from Newfoundland, on Saturday night. She conducted the meetings at the Army yesterday afternoon and evening. The barracks was crowded on both occasions.

"AMONGTH BREAKERS."—This fine melodrama will be presented on Wednesday evening at the City Hall by a company of amateur artists, composed of some of the best local talent in the city. The proceeds will be given to the directors of St. Joseph's Hospital to be applied to the charity fund of that institution. Outside of the attractions offered, the object for which the entertainment is got up, should be sufficient to draw a large crowd of citizens.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday evening Dr. McPhatter was attending to a patient on George street, near the Spur line station, and left his wife to attend to the horse. During his absence the animal made a sudden start, turning around, and throwing Mrs. McPhatter from the cutter. The horse then started off and ran for about a half a mile, when it was caught near the side of the river. The cutter was badly broken and the horse received several ugly cuts in the feet and legs. Mrs. McPhatter although badly shaken up received no injuries of any serious character.

SKATING RACE.—A skating race is to take place at the Speed Rink to morrow evening between Joe Bunyan, of Guelph, and B. Lee, of Georgetown. These were the principal competitors in one of the races which took place on the occasion of the City Band's benefit last Friday evening. Lee has spunk enough to think that although defeated on that occasion he is a faster skater that Bunyan, and as a result of this belief the coming race has been arranged. A good deal of interest centres in the contest and no doubt there will be a large attendance. The distance is to be two miles, and the stake $25 a side.

DEATH OF AN OLD RESIDENT.—Mr. Anthony Turner, an old resident in the vicinity of Orton, East Garafraxa, died suddenly last week at the advanced age of 71 years. Deceased was known far and near as a hearty, active, vigorous man. In fact, it is generally understood that he intended getting married during the present week, his wife having died about a year ago. For a few days last week he felt rather unwell, but he considered his ailment so trifling that medical treatment was deemed unnecessary. However, on Thursday he suddenly expired, his death being caused by heart disease. Mr. Turner was an old, well known and highly respected resident of East Garafraxa, and his sudden removal is sincerely regretted by an unusually wide circle of friends and acquaintances.

DEATH OF AN OLD RESIDENT.—The obituary column contains to day the announcement of the death of Thos. O'Neil, an old and well known resident of Puslinch, which occurred last night after a week's illness, at his residence on Preston street. Deceased came to Puslinch township over fifty years ago, and for a time lived with his brother Michael, who owned the farm now belonging to Mr F. W. Stone, about half a mile from the Agricultural College. After his brother's death he occupied the farm till some six or eight years ago when he retired, came to town and lived here ever since. He was a cooper by trade, and before going on to the farm was employed in that capacity in the neighborhood of Galt for several years. The deceased was 76 years of age, was an honest upright man and was a favorite with all who knew him.

RETIRED FROM BUSINESS.—To day the extensive dry goods business conducted by the firm of David N. Hogg & Co. has been transferred to Messrs. Ryan, Berkinshaw & Co. Though Mr. David Hogg had for some time been the principal, yet Mr. John Hogg, his father, had not ceased until now to be largely interested in it, and his retirement closes for the present his career as one of our oldest and most successful merchants. Mr. Hogg came from Dandas to Guelph in the year 1852. He has, therefore, for the long period of 34 years, with the exception of a short interval, conducted a most extensive and successful dry goods trade. His business gradually and steadily grew with the growth of the town, and his country connection embraced many customers from all the surrounding counties. This success was solely owing to his wonderful energy, enterprise, his thorough knowledge of the business and his peculiar aptitude for securing and retaining customers. After so many years' active service he richly deserves a relief from the cares of business, and though we regret his retirement from the ranks of our merchants we sincerely hope that his health will be benefitted by the change, and that he will still remain among us as one of our leading and most respected citizens. For years past Mr. Hogg has had the valuable assistance of his son, David, and the public would have been pleased if he had decided to continue to conduct the business for which he was, in many respects, so well suited. But it has been decided otherwise and we can only now wish that, whatever calling he may choose in future, he will be as successful as his father has been.

W. M. Hepburn & Co. are doing a good trade since opening out in Dempsey & Chamberlain's old stand, Lower Wyndham street. Strong, stylish and cheap is an alliteration which describes their stock of boots and shoes.

Hog cholera has again broken out in Kent county.

The Andrew's Abortion Case.

The grand jury on Friday brought in a true bill against James Worfolk for aiding in procuring an abortion upon Jennie Leslie. This morning Worlock, who was amongst the prisoners in court awaiting trial, was taken into the County Crown Attorney's office and united in marriage to Jennie. He will likely be discharged from custody, as the only evidence against him was that of the girl who is now his wife.

Death of a Centenarian.

WINDSOR, Ont., Jan. 30. Coleman Freeman, Windsor's coloured patriarch, who died last Tuesday in his 122nd year, was buried to-day from the B. M. E. Church. A goodly number of his numerous descendants were present. Among them is a daughter, Mrs. Green, whose husband, at the time of his death, was a bishop of the A. M. E. Church. The death of Mr. Freeman has brought to light some other remarkable instances of longevity about Windsor. A short time ago a coloured man named Moore, who resided about half way between Puce and Little Rivers, died at an age variously estimated at from 110 to 120, and among the guests at the wake Friday was a white woman whose mother, Mrs. Kennedy, is still living in the outskirts of Windsor in her 104th year.

The Government's Indian Policy.

The Hon. Wm. McDougall delivered a lecture in Ottawa last week on the status and condition of our Indian population, especially that portion of the race which is spread over the Northwest. In view of the past troubles with the Indians and of threatened outbreaks in the future this question must demand immediate attention in Parliament. Mr. McDougall has rather peculiar views with respect to the rights and capabilities of the Indians. He deprecated the forced removal of the Indians to the northern wilderness. He explained his Manitoulin treaty of 1862, and expressed contempt for partisans who misrepresented it, and said it contained humane and liberal provisions, such as are advocated by General Sheridan. The Indian title of occupation had been generally recognized under English rule, and the adequacy of compensation was the key to the problem. His formula for the solution of the problem had been to pay the fair market value. The result was that the Manitoulin Indians, under the operation of the treaty, have abandoned their nomadic habits and cultivated the land. Why were not other tribes equally well treated? We have surrendered their land to land grabbing companies and timber limit legislators who fix their own price. We have exterminated the buffalo and deprived the Indians of all means of subsistence. He referred to the Indian Treaty No. 5, which extinguished an undisputed title to one hundred thousand square miles, for what consideration? The reservation of certain small tracts and a present of five dollars per head. Yet no Indian possesses a deed of proprietorship. In a Court of Equity a transaction of this kind would be declared void on the ground of constructive fraud. After dealing with the subject at greath length he expressed the hope that public opinion will compel the adoption of a new Indian policy in the Northwest, which might prevent further trouble with the Indians, which might secure the safety of the lives of white setttlers, and take away any excuse for a rising somewhat similar to that which occurred last year.

Mr. McDougall's mode of treatment, which he recommends the Government to adopt, is altogether different and infinitely more humane than that proposed and pursued by this Government. In 1880, in announcing the policy of the Government Sir John Macdonald deliberately stated that that policy was to starve the Indians into submission. On that occasion Sir John said: "I must say that it was a dangerous thing to commence feeding the Indians. So long as they think they can rely, or believe they can rely, on any source whatever for food, they make no effort to support themselves. The only way to guard against that is being rigid, even stingy in the distribution of food, and to require absolute proof of starvation before distributing it." Speaking last session of the Indians, Sir John said:—"We kept them on short rations, on short allowances, and we tried to force them, and we have forced them, upon their reserves." We are beginning to reap the fruits of that policy now for everywhere throughout the Northwest, there are grave fears that the Indians will rise in force in the spring. The conduct of the Government's agents, too, in dealing out the rations to the Indians has been of the most scandalous character. This is now coming to light and even the Mail through its correspondent, who is now in the Northwest, has been obliged to admit that there is a great deal of truth in the reports. The Rev. Mr. McDougall, a missionary of many years standing among the Indians, has solemnly charged these agents with their criminal practices and we have no doubt that by-and-bye, now when the whole thing has been made public, that Mr. McDougall will bring forward these charges in specific form.

It is said that President Cleveland favours a material reduction of present duties.

Mr. Patrick Purcell was selected at a meeting in Glengarry Friday night to contest that constituency in the Liberal interest against Mr. McMaster at the next election.

The Ottawa Free Press says that "since Sir John's Return to Ottawa office hunters, contractors, jobbers and political hacks are arriving in large numbers." Wheresoever the carcase is, there will the eagles be gathered together.

The election in Lotbiniere, Que., on Saturday to fill the vacancy in the Local Legislature, caused by the resignation of Hon. J.G. Joly, resulted in the return of Mr. Laliberte, the Liberal candidate by 63 majority over his Conservative opponent, Mr. Beaudet.

The Hamilton Spectator scouts the idea that the Montreal Star, professedly independent, is about the most ardent supporter Sir John Macdonald has, and upon what grounds do our readers think? Here they are in the Spectator's own words:—"The Mercury knows very well that the Star has never done a cent's worth of job printing for the Dominion Government." Well, open confession is good for the soul and we are glad the Spectator has been outspoken for once. The only inference to be drawn from its statement is this that the support of Conservative papers must be purchased by the Government with printing patronage. That is what the Reform press has been charging all along, but the Spectator is the first Tory organ to admit it.

The Montreal Star, professedly Independent, but a great supporter of Sir John, says:—"While the 'Speech from the Throne' at the opening of the Ontario Legislature contained nothing very impressive, it was a speech based upon a fact which would make our Quebec speeches wonderfully satisfactory, namely, the Ontario surplus of $4,000,000. In Quebec we have better oratory and big deficits. . . . . If Ontario had a taste of Quebec Ministerial miscule and extravagance for a time it would be ready to be governed in a far narrower and meaner spirit than it is alleged to be at present. If the Mowat Government errs, it does so on the right side and in a way peculiar to itself, for there is probably not another Government on the face of the earth which can be charged with being too economical."

THE CRISIS IN BRITAIN.

Mr. Gladstone will Assume Office Without a Single Pledge to the Irish.

London, Jan. 30.—While everyone is discussing the possibility of Parnell being offered the Chief Secretaryship for Ireland, and the question whether he would accept it, if offered to him, a Scotch member took the simple course of asking Mr. Parnell himself, "Would you," he said to the latter in the House after the defeat of the Government, "under any circumstances accept the offer of the Chief Secretaryship." Mr. Parnell's reply was: "Certainly not. To administer any law an honest man must be in sympathy with it and believe it to be a just and right law. Now, I am not in sympathy with English rule in Ireland, but believe it to be both unjust in itself and prompted by alien feelings. Believing this, under no possible circumstances would I have part or lot in administering it."

Mr. Gladstone will go into office without giving a single pledge to the Irish. This is absolutely certain. The Parnellites were in a dilemma whether to sustain the Tories with certain coercion or to put in Mr. Gladstone with probable concessions. They have known since October 10 about what Mr. Gladstone was willing to do for Ireland, and since the session began they have had ample chances to confirm at second hand their faith that he is resolute in his wish to grapple with the issue of home rule. Curiously enough their confidence is largely based on Lord Spencer, whom a year ago they were saluting with black flags and howling at with execration.

The London News believes that Lord Hartington will remain neatral and will not seek to trammel Mr. Gladstone in his efforts to settle the Irish question. With the exception of Lord Hartington, it says, Mr. Gladstone will not find a serious defection among his former colleagues.

Independent opinion here is unanimous that any ministry formed now will prove a mere stop gap, no matter what elements it may comprise, and will assuredly be turned out before August. It is confidently asserted that Lord Derby, Lord Granville, Lord Spencer, Mr. Chamberlain, Mr. Childers, Sir Wm. V. Harcourt and Mr. Trevelyan are among the members of the late Government who have consented to join Mr. Gladstone in the formation of a new Cabinet. Lord Rosebery and Mr. Morley are also willing to take Cabinet rank under Mr. Gladstone. The number of seats varies with each ministry, but it will now possibly be thirteen or fourteen, and of these ten are secured. The tenth is possibly W. S. Caine, an untiring party worker who was taken into the last Administration for the first time.

Explanatory.

Attention is directed to my advertisement in another column announcing the continuance of the discount sale, until the end of the first week in February. To prevent any false impression, the public are informed that the discounts stated do not apply to every article in stock, but to special lines. Also that the discounts are made on the prices the goods were sold at and the present price quoted is the net price without further discount. The great inducements offered have created a wide spread interest. Many people having seen the Bargains purchased, are under the impression that the discounts apply to all goods alike. We never want to create an impression that we do not carry out. Customers are always sure of getting exactly what we advertise. Hence this explanation. E. ON FLOATING ICE.

The Terrible Experience of Four Hunters.

Quebec, Jan. 30.—During the frightful tempest which prevailed some ten days ago all over the Gulf and Lower St. Lawrence, four hunters of Godbout had a most miraculous escape from a terrible death, having drifted for some ninety miles during forty hours on a piece of floating ice. Napoleon Comeau, his brother, and two of his brothers-in-law named Labrie, went out from Godbout river in two canoes to hunt seal and duck. The two Labries were engaged in killing a seal upon a field of floating ice, when the animal fiercely turned upon them. The Comeaus went to their assistance. After killing the seal they were drifted so far out into the Gulf that they were unable to return. A merciless storm raged around them, and soon they were out in the middle of the Gulf, thirty miles from either shore. The Labries became badly frozen, and would inevitably have perished but for Napoleon Comeau. They had nothing to eat but a couple of frozen duck, and had frequently to take to their canoe, as the ice broke away beneath them. After drifting, as already described, for ninety miles during forty hours, they managed to land upon the south shore of the Gulf near St. Anne des Monts. Thence they were driven by sleigh to Metis, a distance of fifty-six miles, it being impossible for them at this season of the year to recross the Gulf. From Metis they journeyed by intercolonial railway, arriving in this city yesterday. They will shortly leave for their home on the north shore at Godbout, which is distant from this city some 240 miles. They will be able to drive as far as Sault-au-Cochon, but the remaining distance, some eighty miles, will have to be walked on snow shoes.

This is to certify that I have used McGregor's Speedy Cure for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, and do honestly say that if it cost me one hundred dollars ($100.00) a bottle I would not be without it, as it has done me more good than all the medicines I ever used, and I feel like a new man.—Yours truly, Alex Steel, Carleton Place, Ont. This medicine is for sale at 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at Thos. S. Petrie's Drug Store.

CHAPTER VII

ALICE.

The Sir Cuthbert Maitland of whom they had spoken was a man, staying not at The Thwaite, but one of the neighbouring houses, and some people said that had it not been for Alice Lafone he would not have been there, for it was known among his friends that a country house, filled with people gathered together from all parts of the kingdom, was his pet aversion. He was a man of between thirty and forty years of age, and of a commanding presence, without being particularly tall. His features were good, though he was not exactly handsome, and his manners were so quiet as to be almost severe. He was alone in the world, possessing absolutely no relations. Perhaps it was the consciousness of being the last member of an old and honourable family which gave his whole person a little tinge of melancholy which was attractive in the eyes of most women. He was exceedingly delicate, and his hair was already slightly grey. His admiration of Alice was very marked, and she did not apparently care for him in the least, though as she did not single anyone else out as the object of her particular interest, he was as yet spared the pangs of jealousy.

A few days after the conversation which had passed between Helen and Percival on the subject of Alice's character, Moore, came into the drawing-room as at The Thwaite rather late in the evening. It was, as usual since Alice's return, filled with people, and he had some difficulty in discovering Helen. He saw her at last seated rather in the background, her black dress helping to keep her in obscurity, and listening with rather a wearied and absent expression, or, so he thought, to the outpourings of a young man who was seated near her, and who by his gestures and a few words which he caught, Percival judged to be describing to her an exciting day on the moors.

"Poor Helen," thought Percival with a smile, "I can at any rate rescue her from that," and a few steps brought him to her side.

Her face lighted up as she saw him, and she bit her lip to hide a smile, as having shaken hands with both her and her companion, he said carelessly—

"Did you not hear Miss Lafone asking for you, Lang?"

With a hurried apology the young man was gone, and they were left to themselves in their obscure corner.

"How could you?" asked Helen, as he took the chair just left vacant by Mr. Lang.

"'All's fair,' you know; besides, confess, you are very grateful to me."

"I am grateful; he was such a bore."

"And you are such a hypocrite."

"Everybody is a hypocrite on an occasion like this."

"Of course. But I came here with a purpose to-night. Do you known Dr. Hazlitt is ill?"

"No," she replied, looking at him and feeling startled and uneasy. She never remembered hearing of the Dr. being ill before. "What is the matter with him?" she went on.

"A seizure—paralytic, I believe it happened this evening."

"When did you hear? Have you seen him? Is he very ill?" she asked, pouring out her questions one after the other.

"I heard on my way here—I had to call about something—it happened about an hour before. He was in bed; and I think it will be a very long time before he gets up again."

He said the last words slowly as if to himself. Helen felt a stab at her heart as she heard them, and remembered that her friend was no longer a young man.

She half rose from her chair, saying—

"He will be alone; I should like to go to him."

"You can't go to-night," he said, laying his hand upon her arm. "He is all right for to-night, but I was going to ask if you will go to him to-morrow?"

"How could you ask?" she said reproachfully. "You must know I shall go as early as I can in the morning."

"But will your people let you go? Can you be spared?"

"There is no question of sparing. I shall never be missed, and for myself I shall be glad enough to get away from all these people."

They were silent for a moment, then she went on—

"You said he was very ill, Percival, but he will get better; he is not so ill."

She raised her eyes to his face as she spoke, and there was an appealing tone in her voice, at which Percival smiled involuntarily, as though he held the old man's life in his hand.

"I cannot tell, dear," he said gravely, "it is too early to say yet, but we will hope for the best."

"Of course," she replied mechanically, as though she did not know what she was saying, and she looked away from him out of the window by which she was sitting, and of which the blind had not been drawn down, into the darkness of the night.

"I will call on my way home and tell him so, he said breaking in upon her meditations.

"That I will come? yes; has he asked for me?"

"He asked for you this evening, and I told him I would send you."

"I should so like to go to-night," she said sighing, "you could take me as you go home."

"My dear, it is impossible. I am going now, and I will tell him to expect you to-morrow."

"Say I am going to stay till—till he is better," she finished firmly. "Do go, Percival, go at once; good night."

She pressed his hand, then almost pushed it away from her as though bidding him make haste. They had been talking under cover of the music which was going on, and as he turned to go, Alice's voice came clear and ringing to where they stood together.

"Mr. Moore, I am told you sing 'Adelaide' very well. Will you let us hear it now?"

It was almost the first time she had addressed him—certainly the first time she had asked him [illegible] anything for her, and she was scarcely prepared for his answer.

"I regret infinitely that I cannot do what you wish, but I am forced to leave this moment, and cannot delay."

The colour flushed into her face, and she involuntarily drew up her white throat, but she asked again.

"It is not very long. Could you not spare those few minutes?"

He half smiled as Helen's words came into his mind—

"Go at once; good night," and he repeated,

"I am more sorry than I can say to appear ungracious, but my business admits of no delay. Another time if you are good enough to command me, I shall hope to be at your service."

He was gone, and Alice was left to digest his refusal as she could. Everyone had heard her request and his answer. She had never in her life encountered such persistent refusal nor one given so carelessly, so evidently free from regret in spite of the politeness of the words.

WELLINGTON COUNTY COUNCIL.

Jan. 28,

RAISING SALARIES OF COUNCILLORS.

After some discussion, and the withdrawal of two amendments, the Council on motion of Messrs. Wissler and McEwing, went into Committee of the whole, Mr. McGowan in the chair, to discuss the by-law regarding raising the remuneration of County Councillors from $2 to $3 per day and mileage.

The blank was filled up with $3 when the Committee rose and the Council resumed.

Moved by Mr. McEwing, seconded by Mr. Wissler, that the by-law fixing the remuneration of the members of the County Council be now read a third time and passed.

Moved by Mr. McGowan in amendment, seconded by Mr. McManus, that the by-law to increase the per diem allowance of members of this Council be read a third time this day six months, inasmuch as the members of this Council were elected on the understanding that they were to receive two dollars per day and mileage, while this by-law not only increases the allowance of the members of this Council, but also raises the per diem allowance of School Examiners and School Inspectors and Arbitrators from two dollars per day to three dollars per day and mileage.

Mr. McGowan, in moving the amendment, remarked that the Council should be very careful before they passed this by-law. There was a feeling in the country by many that the usefulness of County Councils was over, that they should be reduced or abolished. By passing this by-law not only the salaries of the County Councillors would be raised, but also those of school examiners and inspectors, and also arbitrators. He was decidedly opposed to the by-law.

Mr. Hobson said that since yesterday he had somewhat changed his views on the question. He fully admitted that the examiners and inspectors were entitled to extra remuneration, but he did not see his way to voting for an increase all around. As far as he was personally concerned he did not care for the extra $1, although he considered that the services of every member was worth $3 a day. He would have to vote for Mr. McGowan's amendment.

Mr. Black thought the thing looked like voting an extra dollar per day to themselves. If they did this every County official would be asking for an increase of salary. It was a bad precedent and he would oppose it.

Mr. Wissler did not wish the Council for a moment to believe that it was on his own account that he supported the increase, but for school inspectors and examiners. They only received $2 a day, and this sum was only about enough to pay their hotel bill. The paltry sum of $2 for these gentlemen's services he considered insufficient, and they should at least receive, and had a right to get more than would pay their board and expenses.

Mr. McManus was opposed to the by-law and considered their was no necessity for raising salaries.

Mr. Cross was in favour of the by-law. He considered that $2 a day was not enough for his services, and an extra $1 per day was not too much. There was an act of Parliament which empowered County Councillors to get $3 a day, and he did not see why they should not exercise the privilege. They had a good precedent to go by, for it was not long since that the Ontario Legislature had raised their salaries from $9 to $12 a day, and he thought that the services of the County Councillors were equally valuable in proportion and equally deserving of extra remuneration. His friend on the left, Mr. McGowan, who so strenuously opposed this increase, was one term in the Ontario Legislature—and he had never heard of him being there since—and he had never raised his voice in the Legislature against the increase to members of that body. It might be said that he would catch it when he went home for voting for the increase, but he did'nt care. He considered that $2 was not enough. With regard to the inspectors and examiners, if they were to have men that would do a good day's work they must give them a good day's pay.

Mr. McGowan remarked that if he had only been once in the Legislature it was more than Mr. Cross could say, for he was buried so that he never got there.

Mr. Mutrie remarked that if he read the statutes aright it was only the salaries of arbitrators that could be raised in conformity with that of County Councillors and it was very seldom indeed that the services of arbitrators were required.

Mr. Hampton remarked that they had been getting $3 a day, and perhaps a little over, and confirmed his statement from the reports.

The yeas and nays were then called for on Mr. McGowan's amendment, which was lost by a vote of 18 to 16. This is vote.—

YEAS.—Anderson, R. J. Black, H. Black, Burt, Coleman, Corbett, W. L. Gordon, Hobson, Kirkwood, Long, Marshall, McGowan, McManus, Rae, Reynolds, Robinson.—16

NAYS.—Carberry, Cross, Darroch, Foote, Gilmore, H. B. Gordon, Hampton, Howes, Johnston, Knott, McEwing, Mutrie, O'Donnell, Powley, Reynolds, Robertson, Tolton, Wissler—18.

The motion for the passage of the by-law was then put and the yeas and nays called on it. They are as follows:

YEAS.—Carberry, Cross, Darroch, Foote, Gilmore, H. B. Gordon, Hampton, Howes, Johnston, Knott, McEwing, Mutrie, O'Donnell, Powley, Reynolds, Robertson, Tolton, Wissler—18.

NAYS.—Anderson, R. J. Black, H. Black, Burt, Coleman, Corbett, W. L. Gordon, Hobson, Kirkwood, Long, Marshall, McGowan, McManus, Nicoll, Murdoch, Rae, Reynolds, Robinson—18.

Messrs. Nicoll and Murdoch, who were absent, came in too late to vote on Mr. McGowan's amendment, but were in time to vote against the motion for the final passage of the by-law, thus making the vote a tie. The Warden gave his casting vote against the by-law and it was accordingly defeated.

OTHER BY-LAWS.

Moved by J. Hampton, seconded by Thos. Carberry, that leave be given to introduce a by-law for the appointing of high school trustees for the various high schools of the County, and that it be now read a first and second time. Carried.

On motion, made and seconded, the Council went into Committee of the Whole to fill up the blank in the by-law appointing a director for the Credit Valley Railway, M. C. O'Donnell in the chair. On motion of Mr. Wissler, Mr. Carberry was appointed director. The committee then rose and the chairman reported the blank in the by-law filled up.

COMMUNICATIONS, ETC.

A communication was read from the County Solicitor in reference to the County assuming the Drayton bridge. It showed that the case was a similar one to that of the Irvine bridge, and was equally entitled to be maintained by the County, although Mr. Guthrie held to his opinion that Judge Scott's award in the case of the Irvine bridge was erroneous.

A petition was read from J. W. Colson, caretaker, asking that his salary be increased from $200 to $275, on account of extra duties in connection with the new County building and also that his duties be defined. Referred to Property Committee.

LICENSE REFUNDED.

Mr. Rae presented a largely signed petition from Wm. T. Tolton, Puslinch, asking that he be refunded his peddler's license fee.

Mr. Rae made a strong appeal for the prayer of the petition being granted. In the case of Mr. Tolton it was deserving. Some years ago he had met with an accident whereby he lost one leg, one hand and part of the other hand. He was anxious to make a living for himself and family, and had so far succeeded in doing so by peddling. If he had to pay the license imposed by the County it would prevent him from doing this. The case was an exceptional one and he hoped the Council would favourably consider the petition.

Mr. Hobson endorsed all that Mr Rae had said regarding Mr. Tolton as being one of those exceptional and deserving cases.

On motion of Messrs. Rae and Mutrie, the refund of license was unanimously granted.

SCOTT ACT MAGISTRATE.

Mr. McGowan, chairman of the Special Committee appointed to report on the petition presented by the County Scott Act Association, asking for a Magistrate to be appointed to try violations of the Scott Act when it came in force, verbally reported that the Committee were divided on what course to pursue, and suggested that the Council adjourn for ten minutes to allow the Committee to come to some conclusion. This was done.

Moved by Hugh Black, seconded by Thos. Marshall, that it is expedient that this Council memoralize the Ontario Government in favor of having a Police Magistrate appointed for this County.

Moved in amendment by H. McEwing, seconded by M. C. O'Donnell, that this Council is not convinced that it is necessary or expedient to take any action at this session of the Council in regard to recommending the appointment of a Police Magistrate, or making provision for his salary, as we do not believe that the parties named in the memorial of the Scott Act Committee are more competent to administer the laws than the Mayors of our towns and our County Magistrates, and while this Council is anxious to see the laws of the land vigorously enforced, it has grave doubts of the propriety of placing offenders against the provisions of the Scott Act in the power of, it may be, paid informers and a Police Magistrate with little legal knowledge or attainments as any of the parties the Association have recommended, more especially as there is no power to appeal from the decision of such a tribunal.

Mr. McManus strongly opposed any measure which would create a court from which no appeal could be made.

Mr. Hobson had scruples in supporting the creation of a court from which there was no appeal, and grave doubts as to its success. It would be liable to raise informers and great injustice might be done to some of the convicted parties. The matter was not so serious but what it might be left over to the June session. By that time the Act would be in force a month and the Council would be able to deal more intelligently with the question.

The amendment was carried, after which the Council adjourned to visit the General and St. Joseph's Hospitals in the afternoon.

Jan. 29.

The Council met at two o'clock. All the members present.

BY-LAWS.

The by-law appointing County Auditors was read a third time and passed.

The Council went into Committee on the by-law appointing High School Trustees, Mr. Knott in the chair. The blanks were filled up as follows:—Elora, David Foote; Fergus, J. W. Green—Armytage; Mount Forest, John Robinson; Harriston, Robert Blackwood. The Committee rose and reported the blanks filled.

NICHOL AND ERAMOSA BOUNDARY LINE.

Moved by John Mutrie, seconded by Jas. Reynolds, that as the survey of the boundary line between the Townships of Nichol and Eramosa, petitioned for by this Council at the June session in 1884, is now completed and confirmed by the Crown Land Department, that the bill of Alfred Howitt, P. L. S., amounting to $60, be paid. Carried.

THE FREE LIBRARY.

The Clerk read a letter from Wm. Tytler, Secretary of the Guelph Free Library Board, extending a cordial welcome to the Council to visit the library and use it while here.

The Warden explained that it was an oversight on the part of the Directors, which they regretted, that the invitation had not been sent on the morning of the first session. The Warden earnestly recommended that many of the members spend their evenings there than in more questionable pursuits.

Moved by James Kirkwood, seconded by Wm. Nicholl, that the thanks of this Council are hereby tendered to the Directors of the Guelph Free Library for the kind offer of the use of their free library during the session.—Carried.

VOTING MACHINE.

Mr. Hampton, chairman of the Special Committee appointed to examine the machine invented by Mr. John Waddell, of the town of Harriston, which he styles "Waddell's infallible voting machine," beg leave to report that they have carefully examined the machine and can confidently express the opinion that it is one calculated to secure secrecy and correctness in recording votes at municipal elections and a great improvement on the present system of voting by ballot. It is a most wonderful invention, which your Committee can most cordially recommend to the favourable consideration of the Government, with the view of obtaining legislation to secure that mode of recording votes at municipal and other elections.

Moved by Mr Hampton, seconded by Mr O'Donnell, that the report of Special Committee on the Waddell Infalible Voting Machine be adopted.

ROAD INSPECTORSHIP.

A communication was read from Richard Boyle, asking to be appointed superintendent of repairs to County bridges.

On motion of Messrs McGowan and Mutrie, Mr Boyle's application was referred to the Boundary Line Bridge Committee.

The Council adjourned at eleven o'clock until two p. m.

For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Price 25 cents. Sold by A. B. Petrie.

Vandalism in a Vineyard.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Jan. 29.—On the night of the 19th inst., one of the most dastardly crimes ever committed in this vicinity was perpetrated upon the old Dunning farm in the Township of Stamford, now owned by Messrs. Lindsey & Upton. During that night some person with malicious intent entered the vineyard and deliberately bestrewed 500 grape vines, cutting some close to the ground, while others were torn up by the roots. Detective Wynne was put upon the case and traced the vandalism to Horatio Hoskins, who had escaped to the other side. Wynne succeeded, however, in tempting him to cross the border again, and he was arrested and committed for trial.

Sudden Death in Toronto.

TORONTO, Feb. 1.—About church time yesterday morning the inhabitants of North Toronto were startled by the announcement that County Attorney Fenton had been found dead on the floor of his bedroom at his residence, 94 Bloor street west. Mr. Fenton had been at his office in the Court House on Saturday, and had been present at the marriage of James Worfolk and Jennie Leslie. He had a long conversation with Canon Dumoulin, who performed the ceremony and seemed even in better spirits than usual. During Saturday evening he was engaged in drawing plans for a new house that he had some idea of erecting. On Sunday he arose at his usual hour, and after requesting the nurse to dress the children for church, proceeded to make his own toilet. Mrs. Fenton is at present in a poor state of health and confined to her bed in an adjoining room. She heard a heavy fall and called to one of the children to open the door of their father's apartment. It was locked and could not be opened. Entrance to the room was made by way of the window, and Mr. Fenton was found dead, he apparently having fallen while taking his sponge bath, a practice in which he every morning indulged. Dr. Johnson was called in at once, but found that the vital spark had fled. The cause of death was heart disease. The office of County Attorney is a lucrative one, it being worth some $7,000 a year.

Prayers for a Ghost.

MONTREAL, Jan. 31.—The parish priest of Ile Bizard referred at high mass to-day to the extraordinary proceedings in Mr. Dufresne's house, and urged the faithful to offer prayers for the soul of some departed person who it is believed is undoubtedly the cause of all the manifestations. The unusual state of affairs has become the topic of every conversation at Ile Bizard. The beadle, it appears, swears that he found red hot embers in Mr. Dufresne's pew, the parish priest states that he was present in Mr. Dufresne's house when the bed clothes were disturbed and he is of the opinion that the soul of some departed unfortunate must be wanting prayers. The Dufresne family with their neighbours join in prayer every evening. A number of masses have already been said for the repose of the soul supposed to be in purgatory.

Local News.

CITY COUNCIL meets to-night.

CHALMERS' CHURCH Literary Association give a grand musical entertainment in the church to-night.

ELMIRA will come into the county of Waterloo next year as a full fledged incorporated village. Mr. David Bean has been appointed by the County Council to take a census.

THERE are five Commercial Travelers' Associations in Canada. Toronto, with a membership of 2,300; Montreal, 1,500; London, 500; Winnipeg, 150; Halifax, N. S., about 150.

IT is understood that Harry Nolan, of the Rossin House, Toronto, is to have the management of the Ogilvies' new hotel, the Balmoral, on St. Joseph's street, Montreal, to be completed in a few weeks at a cost of over a million dollars.

A VICTORY OVER JUDGE TRAVIS.—A Winnipeg despatch says: When the order of the Minister of Justice for the release of Mr. Cayley, editor of the Calgary Herald, and the remission of his fine, reached Calgary, a procession was formed and Mr. Cayley was escorted from the gaol to his residence, the decision being regarded as a victory over Judge Travis.

THE BRAMPTON ABDUCTION.—George Tait, of Brampton, who is charged under the Charlton Act with enticing Eva Kennedy to Toronto for illegal purposes, was placed on trial on Saturday. The evidence of the girl did not tend to help the Crown, and as the prosecution had no other witnesses, the Judge directed the jury to bring in a verdict of acquittal.

CENTRE WELLINGTON CONSERVATIVES.—The Conservatives of Centre Wellington held a convention at Fergus on Monday afternoon, 25th January. Addresses were given by T. White, of Montreal, and Dr. Orton. Officers elected:—President, Hugh Roberts, Pilkington; Vice-President, J. McGowan, Peel; Treasurer, M. Anderson, Fergus; Secretary, Jas. Muir, Fergus; Vice-Presidents were also appointed for the various polling sub-divisions.

FATHER O'CONNELL, who has been pastor of St. Mary's Church, Mount Forest, for the past ten years, having been appointed to take charge of the Church in Galt, preached his farewell sermon last Sabbath morning to a very large congregation, and was presented with addresses from the ladies and gentlemen of the congregation, also with an address from the Sabbath school children.

WHISKEY DENS.—The Goderich Signal says the common report is that the stores licensed by the Dominion Commissioners in that town have degenerated into whiskey dens. At the present day they have no right to sell or keep exposed for sale any liquors. We believe the town constables, who appear to be rather in league with these liquor dealers, should either do their duty in the matter or be dismissed. They are a nice lot of officers if they don't know of the way things are going on in these whiskey shops; if they do know, they are a nice set of fellows to let the illicit sale go on.

DEATH OF REV. I. B. HOWARD.—We regret to learn that the Rev. I. B. Howard died in Toronto on Sunday. Some twelve years ago Mr. Howard was pastor of the Norfolk street Methodist church in Guelph, and was held in the highest estimation by his flock. After leaving Guelph he went to Dundas, but his health failing he had to take a superannuated relation. He resided in Southern California several years, preaching occasionally as his health would permit, and about a year ago returned to Toronto, and died at the residence of his son-in-law, Judge McDougall.

ROBBING THE MAILS.—A systematic robbery of the mails between Hamilton and Palmerston has been carried on for some time. Inspector Sweetnam investigated the matter and his suspicions fell on James Kelly, mail clerk, of Hamilton, who takes charge of the run between Hamilton and Palmerston. It was found that the robberies always occurred the particular days on which Kelly had charge of this run. The result was that about a week ago the inspector gave Kelly notice that he was suspended on suspicion. Kelly has since left Hamilton and his whereabouts can not be learned. Kelly is a married man, aged 30, and comes from Orangeville. He was formerly mail clerk on the C. V. R.

DAVID N. HOGG & CO'S SUCCESSORS.—In another paragraph we have referred to the purchase of the dry goods business of Messrs. David N. Hogg & Co. by Messrs. Ryan, Berkinshaw & Co., who will reopen the store after stocktaking on Wednesday. We congratulate the new firm on obtaining one of the largest and most successful dry goods businesses west of Toronto. We are glad to learn from the antecedents of the two principal partners that they are likely to be in all respects worthy successors of the well known firm which has just retired. Mr. Ryan, for the last four years was connected with a very successful dry goods business in Barrie, and the papers there speak of him in the highest terms. The Gazette says:—"Mr. Ryan came to town four years ago and has ever since been one of the most enterprising merchants of the town. He has had a long and practical experience in the dry goods trade, and buys advantageously every time. We are sorry that he has decided to leave Barrie, as he was ever ready to assist or help on any enterprise for the advancement of the town.' We also clip the following from the Advance: "During Mr. Ryan's residence in Barrie he has been always ready to forward any measure for the good of the town. He is a first class business man, prompt, energetic and ready to recognize and assist any commercial enterprise that could add to the prosperity of the place, and we shall be sorry if we have to lose a man with so much enterprise and business energy." Of Mr Berkinshaw we have also the most favourable accounts. He has just left the employment of Messrs. John Macdonald & Co., of Toronto, who was for two years in their warehouse, and for 6 years was one of their most successful travellers. It will be seen therefore that these gentlemen have not only an extensive knowledge of their business, but have also had considerable experience. They begin their career as merchants in Guelph under the most favourable auspices, and we wish them every success.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

Excellent Results.

DR. J. L. Willis, Eliot, Me., says: "Horsford's Acid Phosphate gives most excellent results."

THERE was a poor market this morning.

FOUR rinks of the Guelph curlers go to Toronto to-morrow to play the Caledonian Club of that city for a Royal Caledonian medal.

THE Georgetown Herald has again changed hands. This time Mr. R. D. Warren assumes control, having bought the plant and buisness. If he continues to improve the paper as the late proprietor did there can be no doubt of his success.

THE TOBOGGAN SLIDE.—A MEETING of the members of the Guelph Snow Shoe and Tobboggan Club was held this morning when it was decided to close the slide until Wednesday to allow of having the slide on Macdonald's hill altered so as to make a better bottom.

THE new horse recently purchased by the Express Company became unruly on St. George's Square this morning and seemed for a time to get the better of the driver. He finally succeeded in cowing the animal when it proceeded on its way as quiet as a lamb.

"MISS HAVERGAL."—The Young Peoples' Association of the Norfolk Street Methodist Church intend giving "An Evening with Miss Havergal" on Thursday next, Feb. 4th. The programme comprises vocal music, solos and quartettes, readings, recitations selected from her works, and a paper on her life and writings. The meeting gives promise of being one of the most enjoyable ever held by the Association.

THERE are complaints of shipments of poisoned oranges from Florida. The oranges were frozen on the trees during the last cold snap, and externally appear to be wholesome, but they blister the tongue and lips, and are injurious to the mucous membrane.

ACQUITTED.—Wm. Watson, who was remanded on Monday last for one week, on a charge of stealing $43 from Mrs. Langford, on the 4th January, was before His Honor Judge Drew this morning. His Honor held that there was not sufficient evidence to convict, and in consequence dismissed the prisoner.

POLICE COURT.—Wm. James McCrae was before the police magistrate this morning charged with obtaining 619 bushels of turnips from Robt. Dawson, Guelph Township, by false pretences. After several witnesses were examined the case was adjourned until Monday next to allow of the appearance of Mr. John Ogg, whom McCrae represented himself as being agent for the purchase of turnips. Detective Kelly appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. G. W. Field, of Coffee, Field & Coffee for the defence.

RUNAWAY.—A horse belonging to James Hewer, which is stabled at Johnston's livery stable, was driven out yesterday afternoon attached to a cutter. Near Horsman's hill the occupant was thrown out, and the horse being freed proceeded at a break-neck pace. On making the turn at the corner of Grange and Queen streets the horse ran down the embankment and took the lane running along the rear of Mr. John McPherson's house, drawing the cutter on its side until after Allan's bridge was crossed when the animal cleared itself from the cutter and proceeded to the stable with only the check and bridle. The occupant escaped uninjured.

The Funeral of the Late Ex-Chief McMillan.

As was stated on Saturday the coffin containing the body of ex-Chief McMillan who accidently shot himself in Brandon about the middle of December, on reaching Guelph was placed in the corridor of the Police Court and remained there till Sunday afternoon. By two o'clock a great many people had gathered about the Market House and on the Square. Shortly after that hour, the remains were carried to the hearse, by the following pall bearers: His Worship the Mayor, Ald. Lamprey, Ald. Bruce, N. Higinbotham, Registrar, James Innes, M.P., James Cormack, John S. Rodgerson, Hugh McMillan. A procession was formed headed by the hearse and followed by a large number of our citizens and proceeded to St. Andrew's Church, of which deceased was a member when a resident of Guelph. The coffin was placed by the pall bearers in front of the pulpit. The pulpit and organ gallery were draped with black. A large number of people crowded the church. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. J. C. Smith, B.D., who opened them by giving out the hymn "A few more years shall roll," which was feelingly sung by the choir, the congregation joining. Rev. Mr. Smith in a short address referred to the sad circumstances connected with the deceased's death. He also referred in feeling terms to the high character he had uniformly maintained, to his efficiency as a public officer and to the esteem in which he was held by the people of Guelph, which was evidenced by the large attendance here to-day, by the universal regret over his untimely death and the sympathy felt for his bereaved widow and orphan child. He then read appropriate passages of Scripture and offered up an impressive prayer. At the close the cover of the coffin was removed, exposing the face of deceased, and those present had an opportunity of viewing it. This took about forty-five minutes, about a thousand people having slowly passed the coffin in that time. It is stated that the features of deceased had not changed much from the time of his first interment, and his old friends and acquaintances could easily recognize them. During the time the people were viewing the remains the organist played the "Dead March in Saul." The coffin was again borne to the hearse which slowly proceeded on its way to the cemetery followed by a large number of sleighs and cutters. The Rev. Mr. Smith conducted the closing services at the grave in the presence of Mrs. McMillan, her son and other friends.

MR. JOHN DUFF has sold his first class Clydesdale stallion, "Davie Lad," to R. McConkey, Arkwright P. O., Bruce County, for a big price. This was one of the best Clydesdale horses in this section, having taken eight first prizes in three years.

Mrs. Bayard, wife of the Secretary of State, died at her residence in Washington at half-past eight o'clock on Sunday morning. The immediate cause of Mrs. Bayard's death was congestion of the brain brought on by the shock of her daughter's sudden death two weeks ago.

MRS. CHAS. DAWSON, late Capt. Churchhill, of the Salvation Army here, arrived together with her husband from Newfoundland, on Saturday night. She conducted the meetings at the Army yesterday afternoon and evening. The barracks was crowded on both occasions.

"AMONGTH BREAKERS."—This fine melodrama will be presented on Wednesday evening at the City Hall by a company of amateur artists, composed of some of the best local talent in the city. The proceeds will be given to the directors of St. Joseph's Hospital to be applied to the charity fund of that institution. Outside of the attractions offered, the object for which the entertainment is got up, should be sufficient to draw a large crowd of citizens.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday evening Dr. McPhatter was attending to a patient on George street, near the Spur line station, and left his wife to attend to the horse. During his absence the animal made a sudden start, turning around, and throwing Mrs. McPhatter from the cutter. The horse then started off and ran for about a half a mile, when it was caught near the side of the river. The cutter was badly broken and the horse received several ugly cuts in the feet and legs. Mrs. McPhatter although badly shaken up received no injuries of any serious character.

SKATING RACE.—A skating race is to take place at the Speed Rink to-morrow evening between Joe Bunyan, of Guelph, and B. Lee, of Georgetown. These were the principal competitors in one of the races which took place on the occasion of the City Band's benefit last Friday evening. Lee has spunk enough to think that although defeated on that occasion he is a faster skater that Bunyan, and as a result of this belief the coming race has been arranged. A good deal of interest centres in the contest and no doubt there will be a large attendance. The distance is to be two miles, and the stake $25 a side.

DEATH OF AN OLD RESIDENT.—Mr. Anthony Turner, an old resident in the vicinity of Orton, East Garafraxa, died suddenly last week at the advanced age of 71 years. Deceased was known far and near as a hearty, active, vigorous man. In fact, it is generally understood that he intended getting married during the present week, his wife having died about a year ago. For a few days last week he felt rather unwell, but he considered his ailment so trifling that medical treatment was deemed unnecessary. However, on Thursday he suddenly expired, his death being caused by heart disease. Mr. Turner was an old, well known and highly respected resident of East Garafraxa, and his sudden removal is sincerely regretted by an unusually wide circle of friends and acquaintances.

DEATH OF AN OLD RESIDENT.—The obituary column contains to day the announcement of the death of Thos. O'Neil, an old and well known resident of Puslinch, which occurred last night after a week's illness, at his residence on Preston street. Deceased came to Puslinch township over fifty years ago, and for a time lived with his brother Michael, who owned the farm now belonging to Mr F. W. Stone, about half a mile from the Agricultural College. After his brother's death he occupied the farm till some six or eight years ago when he retired, came to town and lived here ever since. He was a cooper by trade, and before going on to the farm was employed in that capacity in the neighborhood of Galt for several years. The deceased was 76 years of age, was an honest upright man and was a favorite with all who knew him.

RETIRED FROM BUSINESS.—To-day the extensive dry goods business conducted by the firm of David N. Hogg & Co. has been transferred to Messrs. Ryan, Berkinshaw & Co. Though Mr. David Hogg had for some time been the principal, yet Mr. John Hogg, his father, had not ceased until now to be largely interested in it, and his retirement closes for the present his career as one of our oldest and most successful merchants. Mr. Hogg came from Dundas to Guelph in the year 1852. He has, therefore, for the long period of 34 years, with the exception of a short interval, conducted a most extensive and successful dry goods trade. His business gradually and steadily grew with the growth of the town, and his country connection embraced many customers from all the surrounding counties. This success was solely owing to his wonderful energy, enterprise, his thorough knowledge of the business and his peculiar aptitude for securing and retaining customers. After so many years' active service he richly deserves a relief from the cares of business, and though we regret his retirement from the ranks of our merchants we sincerely hope that his health will be benefitted by the change, and that he will still remain among us as one of our leading and most respected citizens. For years past Mr. Hogg has had the valuable assistance of his son, David, and the public would have been pleased if he had decided to continue to conduct the business for which he was, in many respects, so well suited. But it has been decided otherwise and we can only now wish that, whatever calling he may choose in future, he will be as successful as his father has been.

The Andrew's Abortion Case.

The grand jury on Friday brought in a true bill against James Worfolk for aiding in procuring an abortion upon Jennie Leslie. This morning Worlock, who was amongst the prisoners in court awaiting trial, was taken into the County Crown Attorney's office and united in marriage to Jennie. He will likely be discharged from custody, as the only evidence against him was that of the girl who is now his wife.

Death of a Centenarian.

WINDSOR, Ont., Jan. 30. Coleman Freeman, Windsor's coloured patriarch, who died last Tuesday in his 122nd year, was buried to-day from the B. M. E. Church. A goodly number of his numerous descendants were present. Among them is a daughter, Mrs. Green, whose husband, at the time of his death, was a bishop of the A. M. E. Church. The death of Mr. Freeman has brought to light some other remarkable instances of longevity about Windsor. A short time ago a coloured man named Moore, who resided about half way between Puce and Little Rivers, died at an age variously estimated at from 110 to 120, and among the guests at the wake Friday was a white woman whose mother, Mrs. Kennedy, is still living in the outskirts of Windsor in her 104th year.

The Government's Indian Policy.

The Hon. Wm. McDougall delivered a lecture in Ottawa last week on the status and condition of our Indian population, especially that portion of the race which is spread over the Northwest. In view of the past troubles with the Indians and of threatened outbreaks in the future this question must demand immediate attention in Parliament. Mr. McDougall has rather peculiar views with respect to the rights and capabilities of the Indians. He deprecated the forced removal of the Indians to the northern wilderness. He explained his Manitoulin treaty of 1862, and expressed contempt for partisans who misrepresented it, and said it contained humane and liberal provisions, such as are advocated by General Sheridan. The Indian title of occupation had been generally recognized under English rule, and the adequacy of compensation was the key to the problem. His formula for the solution of the problem had been to pay the fair market value. The result was that the Manitoulin Indians, under the operation of the treaty, have abandoned their nomadic habits and cultivated the land. Why were not other tribes equally well treated? We have surrendered their land to land grabbing companies and timber limit legislators who fix their own price. We have exterminated the buffalo and deprived the Indians of all means of subsistence. He referred to the Indian Treaty No. 5, which extinguished an undisputed title to one hundred thousand square miles, for what consideration? The reservation of certain small tracts and a present of five dollars per head. Yet no Indian possesses a deed of proprietorship. In a Court of Equity a transaction of this kind would be declared void on the ground of constructive fraud. After dealing with the subject at greath length he expressed the hope that public opinion will compel the adoption of a new Indian policy in the Northwest, which might prevent further trouble with the Indians, which might secure the safety of the lives of white setttlers, and take away any excuse for a rising somewhat similar to that which occurred last year.

Mr. McDougall's mode of treatment, which he recommends the Government to adopt, is altogether different and infinitely more humane than that proposed and pursued by this Government. In 1880, in announcing the policy of the Government Sir John Macdonald deliberately stated that that policy was to starve the Indians into submission. On that occasion Sir John said: "I must say that it was a dangerous thing to commence feeding the Indians. So long as they think they can rely, or believe they can rely, on any source whatever for food, they make no effort to support themselves. The only way to guard against that is being rigid, even stingy in the distribution of food, and to require absolute proof of starvation before distributing it." Speaking last session of the Indians, Sir John said:—"We kept them on short rations, on short allowances, and we tried to force them, and we have forced them, upon their reserves." We are beginning to reap the fruits of that policy now for everywhere throughout the Northwest, there are grave fears that the Indians will rise in force in the spring. The conduct of the Government's agents, too, in dealing out the rations to the Indians has been of the most scandalous character. This is now coming to light and even the Mail through its correspondent, who is now in the Northwest, has been obliged to admit that there is a great deal of truth in the reports. The Rev. Mr. McDougall, a missionary of many years standing among the Indians, has solemnly charged these agents with their criminal practices and we have no doubt that by-and-bye, now when the whole thing has been made public, that Mr. McDougall will bring forward these charges in specific form.

It is said that President Cleveland favours a material reduction of present duties.

Mr. Patrick Purcell was selected at a meeting in Glengarry Friday night to contest that constituency in the Liberal interest against Mr. McMaster at the next election.

The Ottawa Free Press says that "since Sir John's Return to Ottawa office hunters, contractors, jobbers and political hacks are arriving in large numbers." Wheresoever the carcase is, there will the eagles be gathered together.

The election in Lotbiniere, Que., on Saturday to fill the vacancy in the Local Legislature, caused by the resignation of Hon. J. G. Joly, resulted in the return of Mr. Laliberte, the Liberal candidate by 63 majority over his Conservative opponent, Mr. Beaudet.

The Hamilton Spectator scouts the idea that the Montreal Star, professedly independent, is about the most ardent supporter Sir John Macdonald has, and upon what grounds do our readers think? Here they are in the Spectator's own words:—"The Mercury knows very well that the Star has never done a cent's worth of job printing for the Dominion Government." Well, open confession is good for the soul and we are glad the Spectator has been outspoken for once. The only inference to be drawn from its statement is this that the support of Conservative papers must be purchased by the Government with printing patronage. That is what the Reform press has been charging all along, but the Spectator is the first Tory organ to admit it.

The Montreal Star, professedly Independent, but a great supporter of Sir John, says:—"While the 'Speech from the Throne' at the opening of the Ontario Legislature contained nothing very impressive, it was a speech based upon a fact which would make our Quebec speeches wonderfully satisfactory, namely, the Ontario surplus of $4,000,000. In Quebec we have better oratory and big deficits. . . . . If Ontario had a taste of Quebec Ministerial misrule and extravagance for a time it would be ready to be governed in a far narrower and meaner spirit than it is alleged to be at present. If the Mowat Government errs, it does so on the right side and in a way peculiar to itself, for there is probably not another Government on the face of the earth which can be charged with being too economical."

THE CRISIS IN BRITAIN.

Mr. Gladstone will Assume Office Without a Single Pledge to the Irish.

London, Jan. 30.—While everyone is discussing the possibility of Parnell being offered the Chief Secretaryship for Ireland, and the question whether he would accept it, if offered to him, a Scotch member took the simple course of asking Mr. Parnell himself, "Would you," he said to the latter in the House after the defeat of the Government, "under any circumstances accept the offer of the Chief Secretaryship." Mr. Parnell's reply was: "Certainly not. To administer any law an honest man must be in sympathy with it and believe it to be a just and right law. Now, I am not in sympathy with English rule in Ireland, but believe it to be both unjust in itself and prompted by alien feelings. Believing this, under no possible circumstances would I have part or lot in administering it."

Mr. Gladstone will go into office without giving a single pledge to the Irish. This is absolutely certain. The Parnellites were in a dilemma whether to sustain the Tories with certain coercion or to put in Mr. Gladstone with probable concessions. They have known since October 10 about what Mr. Gladstone was willing to do for Ireland, and since the session began they have had ample chances to confirm at second hand their faith that he is resolute in his wish to grapple with the issue of home rule. Curiously enough their confidence is largely based on Lord Spencer, whom a year ago they were saluting with black flags and howling at with execration.

The London News believes that Lord Hartington will remain neutral and will not seek to trammel Mr. Gladstone in his efforts to settle the Irish question. With the exception of Lord Hartington, it says, Mr. Gladstone will not find a serious defection among his former colleagues.

Independent opinion here is unanimous that any ministry formed now will prove a mere stop gap, no matter what elements it may comprise, and will assuredly be turned out before August. It is confidently asserted that Lord Derby, Lord Granville, Lord Spencer, Mr. Chamberlain, Mr. Childers, Sir Wm. V. Harcourt and Mr. Trevelyan are among the members of the late Government who have consented to join Mr. Gladstone in the formation of a new Cabinet. Lord Rosebery and Mr. Morley are also willing to take Cabinet rank under Mr. Gladstone. The number of seats varies with each ministry, but it will now possibly be thirteen or fourteen, and of these ten are secured. The tenth is possibly W. S. Caine, an untiring party worker who was taken into the last Administration for the first time.

Explanatory.

Attention is directed to my advertisement in another column announcing the continuance of the discount sale, until the end of the first week in February. To prevent any false impression, the public are informed that the discounts stated do not apply to every article in stock, but to special lines. Also that the discounts are made on the prices the goods were sold at and the present price quoted is the net price without further discount. The great inducements offered have created a wide spread interest. Many people having seen the Bargains purchased, are under the impression that the discounts apply to all goods alike. We never want to create an impression that we do not carry out. Customers are always sure of getting exactly what we advertise. Hence this explanation. E. ON FLOATING ICE.

The Terrible Experience of Four Hunters.

Quebec, Jan. 30.—During the frightful tempest which prevailed some ten days ago all over the Gulf and Lower St. Lawrence, four hunters of Godbout had a most miraculous escape from a terrible death, having drifted for some ninety miles during forty hours on a piece of floating ice. Napoleon Comeau, his brother, and two of his brothers-in-law named Labrie, went out from Godbout river in two canoes to hunt seal and duck. The two Labries were engaged in killing a seal upon a field of floating ice, when the animal fiercely turned upon them. The Comeaus went to their assistance. After killing the seal they were drifted so far out into the Gulf that they were unable to return. A merciless storm raged around them, and soon they were out in the middle of the Gulf, thirty miles from either shore. The Labrics became badly frozen, and would inevitably have perished but for Napoleon Comeau. They had nothing to eat but a couple of frozen duck, and had frequently to take to their canoe, as the ice broke away beneath them. After drifting, as already described, for ninety miles during forty hours, they managed to land upon the south shore of the Gulf near St. Anne des Monts. Thence they were driven by sleigh to Metis, a distance of fifty-six miles, it being impossible for them at this season of the year to recross the Gulf. From Metis they journeyed by intercolonial railway, arriving in this city yesterday. They will shortly leave for their home on the north shore at Godbout, which is distant from this city some 240 miles. They will be able to drive as far as Sault-au-Cochon, but the remaining distance, some eighty miles, will have to be walked on snow shoes.

The Foes of a Household

CHAPTER VII

ALICE.

The Sir Cuthbert Maitland of whom they had spoken was a man, staying not at The Thwaite, but one of the neighbouring houses, and some people said that had it not been for Alice Lafone he would not have been there, for it was known among his friends that a country house, filled with people gathered together from all parts of the kingdom, was his pet aversion. He was a man of between thirty and forty years of age, and of a commanding presence, without being particularly tall. His features were good, though he was not exactly handsome, and his manners were so quiet as to be almost severe. He was alone in the world, possessing absolutely no relations. Perhaps it was the consciousness of being the last member of an old and honourable family which gave his whole person a little tinge of melancholy which was attractive in the eyes of most women. He was exceedingly delicate, and his hair was already slightly grey. His admiration of Alice was very marked, and she did not apparently care for him in the least, though as she did not single anyone else out as the object of her particular interest, he was as yet spared the pangs of jealousy.

A few days after the conversation which had passed between Helen and Percival on the subject of Alice's character, Moore, came into the drawing-room at The Thwaite rather late in the evening. It was, as usual since Alice's return, filled with people, and he had some difficulty in discovering Helen. He saw her at last seated rather in the background, her black dress helping to keep her in obscurity, and listening with rather a wearied and absent expression, or, so he thought, to the outpourings of a young man who was seated near her, and who by his gestures and a few words which he caught, Percival judged to be describing to her an exciting day on the moors.

"Poor Helen," thought Percival with a smile, "I can at any rate rescue her from that," and a few steps brought him to her side.

Her face lighted up as she saw him, and she bit her lip to hide a smile, as having shaken hands with both her and her companion, he said carelessly—

"Did you not hear Miss Lafone asking for you, Lang?"

With a hurried apology the young man was gone, and they were left to themselves in their obscure corner.

"How could you?" asked Helen, as he took the chair just left vacant by Mr. Lang.

"'All's fair,' you know; besides, confess, you are very grateful to me."

"I am grateful; he was such a bore."

"And you are such a hypocrite."

"Everybody is a hypocrite on an occasion like this."

"Of course. But I came here with a purpose to-night. Do you known Dr. Hazlitt is ill?"

"No," she replied, looking at him and feeling startled and uneasy. She never remembered hearing of the Dr. being ill before. "What is the matter with him?" she went on.

"A seizure—paralytic, I believe it happened this evening."

"When did you hear? Have you seen him? Is he very ill?" she asked, pouring out her questions one after the other.

"I heard on my way here—I had to call about something—it happened about an hour before. He was in bed; and I think it will be a very long time before he gets up again."

He said the last words slowly as if to himself. Helen felt a stab at her heart as she heard them, and remembered that her friend was no longer a young man.

She half rose from her chair, saying—

"He will be alone; I should like to go to him."

"You can't go to-night," he said, laying his hand upon her arm. "He is all right for to-night, but I was going to ask if you will go to him to-morrow?"

"How could you ask?" she said reproachfully. "You must know I shall go as early as I can in the morning."

"But will your people let you go? Can you be spared?"

"There is no question of sparing. I shall never be missed, and for myself I shall be glad enough to get away from all these people."

They were silent for a moment, then she went on—

"You said he was very ill, Percival, but he will get better; he is not so ill."

She raised her eyes to his face as she spoke, and there was an appealing tone in her voice, at which Percival smiled involuntarily, as though he held the old man's life in his hand.

"I cannot tell, dear," he said gravely, "it is too early to say yet, but we will hope for the best."

"Of course," she replied mechanically, as though she did not know what she was saying, and she looked away from him out of the window by which she was sitting, and of which the blind had not been drawn down, into the darkness of the night.

"I will call on my way home and tell him so, he said breaking in upon her meditations.

"That I will come? yes; has he asked for me?"

"He asked for you this evening, and I told him I would send you."

"I should so like to go to-night," she said sighing, "you could take me as you go home."

"My dear, it is impossible. I am going now, and I will tell him to expect you to-morrow."

"Say I am going to stay till—till he is better," she finished firmly. "Do go, Percival, go at once; good night."

She pressed his hand, then almost pushed it away from her as though bidding him make haste. They had been talking under cover of the music which was going on, and as he turned to go, Alice's voice came clear and ringing to where they stood together.

"Mr. Moore, I am told you sing 'Adelaide' very well. Will you let us hear it now?"

It was almost the first time she had addressed him—certainly the first time she had asked him to do anything for her, and she was scarcely prepared for his answer.

"I regret infinitely that I cannot do what you wish, but I am forced to leave this moment, and cannot delay."

The colour flushed into her face, and she involuntarily drew up her white throat, but she asked again.

"It is not very long. Could you not spare those few minutes?"

He half smiled as Helen's words came into his mind—

"Go at once; good night," and he repeated,

"I am more sorry than I can say to appear ungracious, but my business admits of no delay. Another time if you are good enough to command me, I shall hope to be at your service."

He was gone, and Alice was left to digest his refusal as she could. Everyone had heard her request and his answer. She had never in her life encountered such persistent refusal nor one given so carelessly, so evidently free from regret in spite of the politeness of the words.

WELLINGTON COUNTY COUNCIL.

Jan. 28,

RAISING SALARIES OF COUNCILLORS.

After some discussion, and the withdrawal of two amendments, the Council on motion of Messrs. Wissler and McEwing, went into Committee of the whole, Mr. McGowan in the chair, to discuss the by-law regarding raising the remuneration of County Councillors from $2 to $3 per day and mileage.

The blank was filled up with $3 when the Committee rose and the Council resumed.

Moved by Mr. McEwing, seconded by Mr. Wissler, that the by-law fixing the remuneration of the members of the County Council be now read a third time and passed.

Moved by Mr. McGowan in amendment, seconded by Mr. McManus, that the by-law to increase the per diem allowance of members of this Council be read a third time this day six months, inasmuch as the members of this Council were elected on the understanding that they were to receive two dollars per day and mileage, while this by-law not only increases the allowance of the members of this Council, but also raises the per diem allowance of School Examiners and School Inspectors and Arbitrators from two dollars per day to three dollars per day and mileage.

Mr. McGowan, in moving the amendment, remarked that the Council should be very careful before they passed this by-law. There was a feeling in the country by many that the usefulness of County Councils was over, that they should be reduced or abolished. By passing this by-law not only the salaries of the County Councillors would be raised, but also those of school examiners and inspectors, and also arbitrators. He was decidedly opposed to the by-law.

Mr. Hobson said that since yesterday he had somewhat changed his views on the question. He fully admitted that the examiners and inspectors were entitled to extra remuneration, but he did not see his way to voting for an increase all around. As far as he was personally concerned he did not care for the extra $1, although he considered that the services of every member was worth $3 a day. He would have to vote for Mr. McGowan's amendment.

Mr. Black thought the thing looked like voting an extra dollar per day to themselves. If they did this every County official would be asking for an increase of salary. It was a bad precedent and he would oppose it.

Mr. Wissler did not wish the Council for a moment to believe that it was on his own account that he supported the increase, but for school inspectors and examiners. They only received $2 a day, and this sum was only about enough to pay their hotel bill. The paltry sum of $2 for these gentlemen's services he considered insufficient, and they should at least receive, and had a right to get more than would pay their board and expenses.

Mr. McManus was opposed to the by-law and considered their was no necessity for raising salaries.

Mr. Cross was in favour of the by-law. He considered that $2 a day was not enough for his services, and an extra $1 per day was not too much. There was an act of Parliament which empowered County Councillors to get $3 a day, and he did not see why they should not exercise the privilege. They had a good precedent to go by, for it was not long since that the Ontario Legislature had raised their salaries from $9 to $12 a day, and he thought that the services of the County Councillors were equally valuable in proportion and equally deserving of extra remuneration. His friend on the left, Mr. McGowan, who so strenuously opposed this increase, was one term in the Ontario Legislature—and he had never heard of him being there since—and he had never raised his voice in the Legislature against the increase to members of that body. It might be said that he would catch it when he went home for voting for the increase, but he did'nt care. He considered that $2 was not enough. With regard to the inspectors and examiners, if they were to have men that would do a good day's work they must give them a good day's pay.

Mr. McGowan remarked that if he had only been once in the Legislature it was more than Mr. Cross could say, for he was buried so that he never got there.

Mr. Mutrie remarked that if he read the statutes aright it was only the salaries of arbitrators that could be raised in conformity with that of County Councillors and it was very seldom indeed that the services of arbitrators were required.

Mr. Hampton remarked that they had been getting $3 a day, and perhaps a little over, and confirmed his statement from the reports.

The yeas and nays were then called for on Mr. McGowan's amendment, which was lost by a vote of 18 to 16. This is vote:—

YEAS.—Anderson, R. J. Black, H. Black, Burt, Coleman, Corbett, W. L. Gordon, Hobson, Kirkwood, Long, Marshall, McGowan, McManus, Rae, Reynolds, Robinson.—16

NAYS.—Carberry, Cross, Darroch, Foote, Gilmore, H. B. Gordon, Hampton, Howes, Johnston, Knott, McEwing, Mutrie, O'Donnell, Powley, Reynolds, Robertson, Tolton, Wissler—18.

The motion for the passage of the by-law was then put and the yeas and nays called on it. They are as follows:

YEAS.—Carberry, Cross, Darroch, Foote, Gilmore, H. B. Gordon, Hampton, Howes, Johnston, Knott, McEwing, Mutrie, O'Donnell, Powley, Reynolds, Robertson, Tolton, Wissler—18.

NAYS.—Anderson, R. J. Black, H. Black, Burt, Coleman, Corbett, W. L. Gordon, Hobson, Kirkwood, Long, Marshall, McGowan, McManus, Nicoll, Murdoch, Rae, Reynolds, Robinson—18.

Messrs. Nicoll and Murdoch, who were absent, came in too late to vote on Mr. McGowan's amendment, but were in time to vote against the motion for the final passage of the by-law, thus making the vote a tie. The Warden gave his casting vote against the by-law and it was accordingly defeated.

OTHER BY-LAWS.

Moved by J. Hampton, seconded by Thos. Carberry, that leave be given to introduce a by-law for the appointing of high school trustees for the various high schools of the County, and that it be now read a first and second time. Carried.

On motion made and seconded, the Council went into Committee of the Whole to fill up the blank in the by-law appointing a director for the Credit Valley Railway, M. C. O'Donnell in the chair. On motion of Mr. Wissler, Mr. Carberry was appointed director. The committee then rose and the chairman reported the blank in the by-law filled up.

COMMUNICATIONS, ETC.

A communication was read from the County Solicitor in reference to the County assuming the Drayton bridge. It showed that the case was a similar one to that of the Irvine bridge, and was equally entitled to be maintained by the County, although Mr. Guthrie held to his opinion that Judge Scott's award in the case of the Irvine bridge was erroneous.

A petition was read from J. W. Colson, caretaker, asking that his salary be increased from $200 to $275, on account of extra duties in connection with the new County building and also that his duties be defined. Referred to Property Committee.

LICENSE REFUNDED.

Mr. Rae presented a largely signed petition from Wm. T. Tolton, Puslinch, asking that he be refunded his peddler's license fee.

Mr. Rae made a strong appeal for the prayer of the petition being granted. In the case of Mr. Tolton it was deserving. Some years ago he had met with an accident whereby he lost one leg, one hand and part of the other hand. He was anxious to make a living for himself and family, and had so far succeeded in doing so by peddling. If he had to pay the license imposed by the County it would prevent him from doing this. The case was an exceptional one and he hoped the Council would favourably consider the petition.

Mr. Hobson endorsed all that Mr Rae had said regarding Mr. Tolton as being one of those exceptional and deserving cases.

On motion of Messrs. Rae and Mutrie, the refund of license was unanimously granted.

SCOTT ACT MAGISTRATE.

Mr. McGowan, chairman of the Special Committee appointed to report on the petition presented by the County Scott Act Association, asking for a Magistrate to be appointed to try violations of the Scott Act when it came in force, verbally reported that the Committee were divided on what course to pursue, and suggested that the Council adjourn for ten minutes to allow the Committee to come to some conclusion. This was done.

Moved by Hugh Black, seconded by Thos. Marshall, that it is expedient that this Council memoralize the Ontario Government in favor of having a Police Magistrate appointed for this County.

Moved in amendment by H. McEwing, seconded by M. C. O'Donnell, that this Council is not convinced that it is necessary or expedient to take any action at this session of the Council in regard to recommending the appointment of a Police Magistrate, or making provision for his salary, as we do not believe that the parties named in the memorial of the Scott Act Committee are more competent to administer the laws than the Mayors of our towns and our County Magistrates, and while this Council is anxious to see the laws of the land vigorously enforced, it has grave doubts of the propriety of placing offenders against the provisions of the Scott Act in the power of, it may be, paid informers and a Police Magistrate with little legal knowledge or attainments as any of the parties the Association have recommended, more especially as there is no power to appeal from the decision of such a tribunal.

Mr. McManus strongly opposed any measure which would create a court from which no appeal could be made.

Mr. Hobson had scruples in supporting the creation of a court from which there was no appeal, and grave doubts as to its success. It would be liable to raise informers and great injustice might be done to some of the convicted parties. The matter was not so serious but what it might be left over to the June session. By that time the Act would be in force a month and the Council would be able to deal more intelligently with the question.

The amendment was carried, after which the Council adjourned to visit the General and St. Joseph's Hospitals in the afternoon.

Jan. 29.

The Council met at two o'clock. All the members present.

BY-LAWS.

The by-law appointing County Auditors was read a third time and passed.

The Council went into Committee on the by-law appointing High School Trustees, Mr. Knott in the chair. The blanks were filled up as follows:—Elora, David Foote; Fergus, J. W. Green—Armytage; Mount Forest, John Robinson; Harriston, Robert Blackwood. The Committee rose and reported the blanks filled.

NICHOL AND ERAMOSA BOUNDARY LINE.

Moved by John Mutrie, seconded by Jas. Reynolds, that as the survey of the boundary line between the Townships of Nichol and Eramosa, petitioned for by this Council at the June session in 1884, is now completed and confirmed by the Crown Land Department, that the bill of Alfred Howitt, P. L. S., amounting to $60, be paid. Carried.

THE FREE LIBRARY.

The Clerk read a letter from Wm. Tytler, Secretary of the Guelph Free Library Board, extending a cordial welcome to the Council to visit the library and use it while here.

The Warden explained that it was an oversight on the part of the Directors, which they regretted, that the invitation had not been sent on the morning of the first session. The Warden earnestly recommended that many of the members spend their evenings there than in more questionable purauits.

Moved by James Kirkwood, seconded by Wm. Nicholl, that the thanks of this Council are hereby tendered to the Directors of the Guelph Free Library for the kind offer of the use of their free library during the session.—Carried.

VOTING MACHINE.

Mr. Hampton, chairman of the Special Committee appointed to examine the machine invented by Mr. John Waddell, of the town of Harriston, which he styles "Waddell's infallible voting machine," beg leave to report that they have carefully examined the machine and can confidently express the opinion that it is one calculated to secure secrecy and correctness in recording votes at municipal elections and a great improvement on the present system of voting by ballot. It is a most wonderful invention, which your Committee can most cordially recommend to the favourable consideration of the Government, with the view of obtaining legislation to secure that mode of recording votes at municipal and other elections.

Moved by Mr Hampton, seconded by Mr O'Donnell, that the report of Special Committee on the Waddell Infalible Voting Machine be adopted.

ROAD INSPECTORSHIP.

A communication was read from Richard Boyle, asking to be appointed superintendent of repairs to County bridges.

On motion of Messrs McGowan and Mutrie, Mr Boyle's application was referred to the Boundary Line Bridge Committee.

The Council adjourned at eleven o'clock until two p. m.

For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Price 25 cents. Sold by A. B. Petrie.

LICENSE COMMISSIONERS.—A meeting of the South Wellington License Commissioners was held in Guelph on Monday, Mr. W. J. Fairbank in the chair. The Inspector laid a communication, received from the Provincial Secretary, with respect to the more rigid enforcement of the Liquor Act, before the Board, which was read by the Chairman and approved by the Board. This constituted the only business.

AT a meeting of the officers and teachers of Dublin Street Methodist Church Sunday School held at the residence of Mr. Chas. Kelly last evening, it was decided to hold the anniversary services on the second Sunday in April, and the entertainment on the Monday evening following, of which other notices will appear. After the meeting adjourned an hour was pleasantly spent in the house at the request of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly.

INLAND REVENUE.—The following are the total collections at the Inland Revenue Department here for the month of January. The returns show a decrease of $361.65 compared with the corresponding month of last year:—

Spirits	$10,145 68
Malt	2,464 07
Tobacco and cigars	1,714 50

DARING ROBBERY.—A robbery was committed under peculiar and daring circumstances in the railway yard in Palmerston last week. About 11 o'clock at night a one-horse sleigh was driven to the freight house, near to which a car repairer was at work, and the driver told him he had come for some goods he had been after in the daytime; and in a short time after the employee went about his duty, but next morning it was found that one of the cars had been opened and a box of dry goods stolen therefrom.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH Y. P. A.—At a meeting of this Association held in the basement of the church last evening, Mr. John W. Clarke, in the chair, on motion of Rev. D. Macgregor, seconded by Mr B. Howell, it was carried unanimously, that this Association having heard of the proposed formation of a class of citizens to receive instruction from Prof. Edwards, graduate of the Philadelphia School of Oratory and Elocution, earnestly hopes that as many members of the Association as possible will avail themselves of the course of instruction in elocution, which is so generously placed within their reach by the O. A. C., under whose auspices Prof. Edwards lectures. After the business had been concluded an interesting programme was gone through, composed as follows:—Piano solo by R. McRoberts which was well executed; a song by Miss Bliss, late of Hamilton, was greatly admired; she sang it with force and expression; Mable Crowe played a violin solo, accompanied on the piano by Miss S. A. McLaren, in such a manner, for so young a girl, that the audience were taken by surprise at her execution. One of the chief features of the evening was a debate:—Resolved that the world is now in a better position, socially, intellectually and morally than during any preceding age. Mr. P. Maddock led off for the affirmative, supported by Mr H. Fairbank, Mr. John Brooking led off in the negative, supported by Messrs B. and H. Howell. The arguments on both sides showed considerable research, and were listened to with attention and interest. On a vote being taken the affirmative was sustained by a majority of one.

THERE is an old prophecy to the effect that when the Feast of St. George falls on Good Friday, the Feast of St. Mark on Easter, and Corpus Christi on St John's day, the world will come to an end. Such is the case this year. Delinquint subscribers should take warning.

BERLIN News.—We had a pleasant call the other day from Mr. E. R. Bollert, merchant, Guelph. Mr. and Mrs. Bollert were up at a family gathering at the residence of our old and esteemed friend, Mr. Cyrus Bowers, whose wife was celebrating her 65th birthday.

THERE is at last some chance of the long talked of Breslau Bridge being built. A committee of the Waterloo Township Council and a committee of the Town of Berlin Council are to meet shortly and if the Town will give $4,000 to $5,000 to assist, an iron bridge will probably span the river at Breslau before the year is out.

CORRECTION.—In our report of the financial statement of St. Joseph's Hospital and House of Providence as presented to the County Council, in the disbursements of the House of Providence the item "stationery, $288.53" should have read "stationery $16.15, flour, bread, etc., $288.53."

BENEFITS OF THE MASSAGE TREATMENT.—The many friends of Miss Mary A. Mahoney will be pleased to learn that she is steadily recovering. For nearly three years Miss Mahoney has been suffering from an injury received on the knee while attempting to push open a close fitting door. Everything that kind parents could do was done, and the best medical skill of this City and of Toronto employed, but all seemed in vain until last fall. Dr. Herod was called, who found the patient unable to move in bed without assistance. He at once recommended the Massage treatment given by Dr. Broberg. Under this treatment the patient speedily gained strength, and to it is attributed the restoration of a comparatively lifeless limb. Dr. Broberg has now opened an office on Church street, Toronto, where we wish him every success.

Beaver Temple has now 135 members in good standing. Last evening there were two initiations and three proposals for membership. The Lodge is the largest in the Western part of the Dominion and it is doing a good work in reclaiming a large number of persons who were in the habit of indulging in intoxicating stimulants.

CHALMERS' CHURCH YOUNG PEOPLE'S LITERARY ASSOCIATION.—An excellent entertainment was given last evening in the basement of the Church, before a large and appreciative audience. Mr. W. H. Wardrope, President, occupied the chair. A varied and attractive programme was entered on promptly at eight o'clock, and all expressed high satisfaction with the quality and quantity of entertainment furnished. The Misses Brown opened the entertainment by an overture, "Zampa," rendered in their usual brilliant manner. Next came a recitation, "The Red Jacket," by Mr. J. Kerr; followed by a song, "A Damsel Fair was Singing," from Miss Brown; an essay on "The Straits of Northumberland" by Mr. R. L. Torrance; an instrumental selection from Miss J. E. Brown; and a song "Twickenham Ferry," by Miss Stewart. Misses A. Thompson and J. E. Brown, delighted all with their violin and piano duet "The Bohemian Girl." After a short intermission the second part of the programme was opened by an instrumental duet by Misses Grant and Stewart. Mr. R. E. Brown was loudly called for again after rendering his song "Infelice"; Mr. J. R. Kennedy next recited "The Polish Boy" and "Napoleon's Farewell to France"; and a quartette "Incline Thine Ear to Me" by the Misses Brown, R. E. Brown, and H. K. Maitland, was well received. Mr. Hugh Guthrie, if possible, excelled himself in his humorous apology for disappointing the audience in not venturing to make his initial appearance as a vocalist yet, and gave a very pleasing reading. Miss Thain's violin solo was rapturously encored, which it well deserved; and the closing selection, a song by Mr. H. K. Maitland, was given in his usual style. A vote of thanks moved by Dr. Wardrope and seconded by Mr. James Innes, M. P., was unanimously carried. At the next open meeting on Monday, 1st March, Prof. Panton is to give an address on "Ornising amongst the Islands of Lake Winnipeg," and all are cordially invited to attend.

FINANCE.

Ald. Hall, chairman, reported:—In answer to the letter of enquiry from Burr Bros. relative to inducements likely to be offered them by this Council in the event of their establishing a chair factory in this city, their proposal being to expend some $20,000 or $30,000 in the erection of buildings and plant besides employing a large number of men in said factory, your Committee beg to report in favor of offering them exemption from taxation on all improvements in the way of the erection of buildings together with the requisite plant for the proper operation of the proposed factory, said exemption to be for a term of ten years. We also agree to offer them free use of water for general purposes in the said factory for a like term of years. We futher recommend the purchasing of a suitable site upon which to erect said factory providing a place can be procured at reasonable terms and that it be deeded to the firm of Burr Bros. in connection with the foregoing privileges, it being understood that proper conditions be complied with on the part of the firm in favor of the city, the Committee to confer with Burr Bros. relative to the location and costs of the proposed site and report to this Council at the next meeting.

BOARD OF WORKS.

Ald. Maddock, chairman, reported that the committee visited the Dundas bridge and found two of the centre string pieces very much decayed. They recommend that these be replaced by two new pine pieces of the same size which would make the bridge safe and strong for several years. Your Committee respectfully ask the Council for an appropriation of $500, the same to be placed to their credit to meet current expenses. Adopted.

MARKET HOUSE.

Ald Hearn reported for the Committee recommending the payment of the following accounts:—Feek & Kirkwood, $11.09; R. H. Barber, $10.35; Hugh Hogg, $10; David Fields, $1.40; Harvey & Co., $3.20; A. Bruce & Son, $2 85. Adopted.

BY-LAWS.

Ald. Coffee, chairman of the By-law Committee, presented a report recommending the introduction of a by-law amending a clause in the cab by-law. After considerable discussion it was decided to withdraw the report and embody in it some suggestion relative to the carters' and liverymen's petitions.

COLONIAL EXHIBITION.

James Hewer, Chairman of the Special Committee appointed in conjunction with the Citizens Committee to take into consideration the advisability of making an exhibit from this city at the Colonial Exhibition to be held in London, Eng., in May next, reported as follows:

Your committee have had several meetings and made necessary inquiries in regard to cost of such exhibit and recommend as follows:

That a suitable frame case with appropriate heading be got up with a short descriptive advertisement of our city and its advantages; birds eye views, photographs of public buildings, blocks, streets, etc., the same not to cost more than $100. Space has been granted for same and entry has to be made at once, and the exhibit has to be shipped from here not later than the last week in February. Adopted.

REPORT ON THE MAYOR'S ADDRESS.

Ald. Chadwick, chairman of the committee to which the Mayor's address was referred, reported as follows:

They congratulate the Mayor upon his election for a second term to the highest office in the gift of the citizens, and assure him of the hearty co-operation of the Aldermen in assisting him to carry on the work of the year and in preserving order and decorum during the meetings of the Council.

They are pleased to know that the financial position of the city is good, but believe it will be necessary to exercise the most careful economy in consistence with the proper and judicious management of our affairs.

It is a matter of satisfaction to know that the last instalment of the indebtedness of Guelph to the Municipal Loan Fund will be paid off this year while other municipalities are in arrears, and it will be a factor to the advantage of Guelph in a fresh settlement of this question when a further reduction in all probability will have to be made to the defaulting municipalities.

The consolidation of the by-laws is a work that has been on hand for a long time, and they would advise that they be printed for the use of members and the public generally so soon as the City Solicitor is satisfied that there is no doubt as to their completeness and efficiency in every particular.

They do not consider it advisable to make any cast iron rules as to the formation of the Committee to strike the Standing Committees for each year, as they think that is a matter that should be left to each Council to deal with on its merits.

They are fully alive to the importance of increasing our railway facilities, and hope that this long delayed question may be settled to the satisfaction of the ratepayers at an early date on the basis that the cost shall not exceed the advantages to be derived, upon which point those interested and who are entitled to express an opinion will have an opportunity of deciding.

The fostering of industries is a matter that commends itself to every one, and they think that exemption from taxation and use of water ought to be sufficient inducement to any manufacturer who contemplates embarking in a healthy industry.

The subject of drainage is one of great importance to the City and one that should receive the serious consideration of the Council, but they are of opinion that in view of the large expenditure that will be required to carry it out, the matter will have to be postponed till the finances are in even a better state than at present.

They believe that it would be in the interest of the City to appoint two Assessors in place of one, and that the Council should be careful to select intelligent men, well acquainted with surveys and values.

They believe that our present police force is sufficient for the requirements of the City, and that the employment of additional men, either permanently or as specials, is not and has not been necessary.

They approve of the present manner of distributing relief, which is much more satisfactory than the old method of leaving it in the hands of new men who necessarily were unable to deal with the number of cases coming before them.

They regret to learn the loss of income to the City of over $3,000, which it formerly derived from licenses, owing to the passage of the Scott Act, and do not see that there is any other source from which the amount can be made up. They believe that the expense necessary to enforce the provisions of that Act should not entail any heavier responsibilities upon the municipalities, but should be borne by the Dominion or Ontario Governments, and are not prepared to advise any appropriations for that purpose.

They are of opinion that some exemption from taxation, now allowed by law, are improper and that legislation should be had to correct these inequalities.

They are in entire accord with any steps taken for the welfare of the working classes, and as this is a matter belonging exclusively to the Legislatures they trust that they will deal with it in a just and efficient manner.

Ald. Smith wished to know if there was anything committal in the report, as there weresome portions of it which he decidedly objected to.

Ald. Chadwick replied that there was not, and the report was received.

THE BONUS QUESTION.

On the motion for the adoption of the Finance Committee's report being before the chair, Mr. Chadwick objected to the clause giving a grant to the furniture factory. He was always opposed to cash bonuses, and any town was better without a concern which had to be bolstered up with money. Exemption from taxation and free water was enough he thought without giving any more.

Ald. Bruce objected to bonuses, but he did not think the Council should stick for the sake of $1,200 or $1,500 to men who had lived in Guelph and were going to bring an important industry from another town here.

Ald. Smith could not look on the grant of a piece of ground as a money bonus. They were all willing to vote away $100,000 to the G. T. R. and give them land too. He believed in encouraging our manufactories and fostering them in every way. The value of the land would be trifling and the Council had lots of it.

Ald. Hall remarked that there was nothing in the report compelling the City to give one cent. He thought, however, that this factory would be a benefit to the citizens generally, and would be an inducement to bring other men to Guelph.

Ald. Hearn saw no difference between a land and cash bonus. He was against giving the land, but the City might have a cheap lot or two to give away.

Ald. Lamprey said that the company would start with 20 hands and in two years they would employ not less than 50. During this time it was also their intention to erect a building costing from $20,000 to $25,000. He thought the Council, if they did not take a hold of this matter, would be penny wise and pound foolish.

Ald. Coffee was in favour of the clause in the report.

The report was then adopted.

BY-LAWS.

On motion of Ald. Coffee a by-law was introduced and read a first and second time, to provide for the raising of money in advance of the assessment.

A by-law was also introduced to provide for the issue of $10,000 debentures.

With Ald. Bruce and Wm. Carter in the chair, both of these by-laws were carried through in Committee of the Whole, and then read a third time and passed.

GRANTS.

The following sums were granted to committees in advance of the appropriations:—Fire, Water and Gas, $2,000; Parks and Shades, $200; Railways, $100; Relief, $500; Market and Public Buildings, $500; Police Committee, $100, Water Works, $500.

BOOK MISSING.

Ald. Chadwick drew the attention of the Council to the fact that one of the Special Committee bookswas missingfrom the Clerk's office, and that some steps should be taken for its recovery. This was a very important book as it contained the history of special Committees for many years back.

Ald. Bruce said it would be well to put the matter in the hands of the Chief of Police.

A QUESTION.

Ald. Chadwick asked the Mayor how it was that in the report of the Cemetery Committee they had a fund of $200 and drew $300 from one of the banks.

The Mayor explained that during the time they drew the money a lot of the money had not come in. He could not give particulars without the book.

The Council then adjourned.

Guelph Daily Mercury

TUESDAY EVE'G FEB. 2, 1886.

MR. ERMATINGER has given notice in the Ontario Legislature of a bill to extend the polling hours for the Provincial and municipal elections.

IT is stated that there is no possibility of the suggestions in the President's message for the appointment of a commission to consider the questions of the Canadian fisheries or a reciprocity treaty being ratified by the United States Senate.

MESSRS. Sullivan and Ferguson, members of the P. E. Island Government, are on their way to England to lay before Her Majesty's Government their grievances against the Dominion Government. They complain that the terms of Confederation have not been fulfilled so far as regards winter communication, but they are willing to accept a sum of money as compensation. This looks very much like an attempt to blackmail the Dominion Government into increasing the subsidy to the Island Government.

THE order-in-Council declaring that the Canada Temperance Act will come into force in St. Thomas on the expiry of the present licenses has been approved by the Governor-General. The anti-Scott Act men made a desperate effort to get a recount of the votes, the Act having only carried by a majority of 11; but as there is no provision in the measure for a second counting of the votes, the Government at the last moment, concluded to proclaim the Act. It will come into force in that city on 1st May next, when the present licenses expire.

IT is stated that one of the last official acts of Colonel Stanley, Secretary of State for the Colonies in Lord Salisbury's Government was to recommend the promotion of Sir Charles Tupper in the Order of St. Michael and St. George. The recommendation was acted on and Sir Charles has been created a Grand Cross of St. Michael and St. George. The Great Stretcher has now an accumulation of honors. It no doubt gratifies his vanity to receive these, but the people in Canada place no value on them, and they do not raise him one whit in their estimation.

SOME of the provisions of the Dominion Franchise Act are very unjust. For instance, a person whether owner, tenant or occupant, moving from one municipality to another in the same County is deprived of his vote because the Act provides that before he can be put on the voters' list he must be a resident in the municipality to which he has moved for a year previous to the 1st of January, 1886. It will also deprive one-third of the Ministers in the Methodist Church of their right to vote. All ministers who have gone to new stations since January, 1885, are not entitled to be placed on the voters' list now in course of compilation, and the same provision will disfranchise all ministers of the Church who are moved this year, unless the Act is amended. The more it is looked into the more unjust and one sided do its provisions appear.

THE Liberal victory in Lotbiniere on Saturday is of far more importance than appears on the surface. The Tories had determined to buy the place up in order to stem the popular feeling against them in Lower Canada. Accordingly Beaudet, President of the Lake St. John Railway, was put in the field, backed by the influence of the Ottawa and Quebec Governments, but for policy sake he was advised to pretend non approval of Sir John's Northwest policy. It was a regular case of bargain and sale. Beaudet was to buy up Lotbiniere and the Dominion Government was to recoup him by increasing the subsidy to his railway. It is estimated that the Tories spent $15,000 in trying to elect their man, and though beaten they will no doubt insist upon getting the promised railway subsidy. Tory agents, members of the Local Government and other "workers," swarmed for weeks in every parish, while the Liberals were seriously handicapped by Mr. Joly's retirement.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Toronto, Feb. 1.

Mr. Charles Drury, M. P. P. for East Simcoe, was introduced by Hon. T. B. Pardee and Mr. Gibson, of Huron.

Hon. Mr. Morris resumed the debate on the Address. He complimented the Government and the Provincial and Local Boards of Health on the success of their measures to prevent a smallpox epidemic in this Province. He did not think it was right that charges of treason should be flung across the House. He did not like to be called a pirate or a traitor. Members should respect each other's honest convictions. He did not believe all was right in his party, and he did not think that gentlemen on opposite should arrogate to themselves all the virtue in the country. He held that all treaty rights of Indians should be respected; that he did not believe the Dominion Government's claims to the lands in which they may have extinguished the Indian title was sound; and that an immediate reference to the Privy Council in respect of these disputed rights was desirable.

Hon. Mr. Fraser, in a spirited speech, reviewed the specious arguments advanced by Mr. Meredith and Mr. Morris to prove that the Opposition had pursued a consistent course on the Boundary question, and w[illegible] to some measure of credit [illegible] settlement. He reminded Mr. Meredith that for two years he voted with the Government for the ratification of the Award. But at the great Tory Convention of 1881, under pressure from his Ottawa friends, he tacked about and afterward strenuously opposed Ontario's claim. Since the decision of the Privy Council was rendered, Mr. Meredith seems willing to return to his original attitude. In regard to the license question he pointed out that Mr. Meredith's resolution opposing imposition of Provincial fees on Dominion licenses was not calculated to strengthen Provincial authority, that in his speeches in the country he was careful to keep this subject in the background, and careful not to prejudice the position of his Ottawa leader. He attempted to combine a limited measure of loyalty to his Province with a safe measure of loyalty to his political leader. He thus deprived himself of all title to credit for the ultimate triumph of the Province. He spoke of the robbery by the Dominion Government of the railways which had been chartered and subsidized by the Provincial Government, and pointed out that the main object of the railway corporations in procuring the legislation from the Dominion Parliament had been to secure immunity from the effects of the acts of the Provincial Legislature compelling the companies to pack frogs and otherwise provide against accidents and granting compensation to those injured through a neglect of these precautions.

Mr. Meredith moved the insertion of the addition he had proposed on Friday, giving credit to the volunteers of other Provinces for their efforts in suppressing the rebellion.

Mr. Sol White moved as an amendment to the amendment that the following words be added to the proposed amendment:

And we trust, now that peace has been restored, the supremacy of the law vindicated and maintained, and just punishment inflicted on the principal participants in the rebellion, it may be found consistent with the public interests to extend the merciful consideration of the Crown to the cases of those who are now undergoing imprisonment for offences committed during or arising out of it.

Mr. Fraser objected to a motion of this kind committing the House to an approval of the acts of the Dominion Government, in which the House had no right to interfere, and suggested that Mr. White accept in lieu of his amendment the following:

And this House now hopefully trusts that peace and tranquility having been restored it may be found consistent with the public interests to extend the merciful consideration of the Crown to those who are now undergoing imprisonment for offences connected with or arising out of the rebellion.

Mr. White declined to accept this.

The debate was continued by Messrs. Balfour and Waters, and on motion of Mr. Ferris it was adjourned.

THE FRANCHISE ACT.

The Qualifications of Voters—The Process of Registration Explained.

The time having arrived for the preparation of the voters' lists under the new Dominion Franchise Act, an appeal is made to the Liberals of Wellington to have their names enrolled as voters without delay. To assist in so doing a short summary of the qualification of voters and of the process for securing registration is given.

QUALIFICATION.

To entitle a person to be put on the list he must be—

(1) 21 years of age.

(2) A British subject by birth or naturalization.

(3) Owner of real property of value of:
In a city, $300.
In a town, $200.
In a county, $150.

(4) Or tenant of real property under lease at a rental of
$2 per month.
$6 per quarter.
$12 per half year.
$20 per year.

Provided that the tenant has been in possession for one year before 1st January 1886, and shall have paid one year's rent before final revision.

If the rent is yearly it will be sufficient if $20 of last year's rent shall have been paid before final revision.

Change of tenancy without intermission will not destroy the vote if aggregate of tenancies would give vote.

The assessor should be instructed to state in the assessment roll the rent payable by each person assessed as tenant. If, however, this is not done, each tenant is prima facie entitled to be registered as a voter if the property is assessed at the following values:—
In cities at $300.
In towns at $200.
In counties at $150.

In counties outside of villages the rent may be payable either in money or in money's worth.

(5) Or a bona fide occupant for one year before 1st January, 1886, and enjoying the revenues and profits for his own or his wife's use of real property of the following values:
In cities, $300.
In towns, $200.
In counties, $150.

The occupancy may be under license of occupation from the crown or from any person or corporation.

(6) Or by income without any other qualification.

A person may be registered as an income voter, if he derives an income from his earnings, trade or profession, or from some investment in Canada of $300 a year, for one year before 1st January, 1886.

In counties the earnings may be either in money or money's worth.

(7) Sons of owners of real property are qualified—

(a) Where the father is living and a son or sons living with him continuously for one year before 1st January, 1886, and the property is sufficient in value according to the above figures, if divided between them to give them all votes. If not sufficient to qualify all the sons and the father, then the father and only so many sons as the property will qualify can be enrolled, and in such case the eldest son will be preferred, and then the next elder, and so on.

(b) When the father is dead, and would, if living, be qualified, residence with the mother will suffice, and as many sons as the property will qualify may be registered, with preference to the eldest and elder sons, as in the last case.

Occasional absence from home of a son—not more than six months in the year will not disqualify, and all time spent at school or college in Canada will be counted as if spent at home.

Son of an owner includes grandson, step son and son-in-law, and all these may be registered as voters on the property if of sufficient value. The provision as to sons of owners applies to the counties as well as towns and cities in cases other than those of farmers' sons.

(8) Farmers' sons—The same provisions substantially apply to farmers' sons, as stated in the last paragraph in respect of sons of owners in cities and towns.

A farm is to be not less than 20 acres of land.

(9) Fishermen and owners of real property and boats, nets, fishing gear and tackle of aggregate value of $150.

Income voters register where they reside at time of registration—all others where property is situate. If in more than one polling division in the same electoral district the voter may register in either.

All names entered in the last revised voters' lists under the old law, will be entered in the new lists by the revising barrister.

Every person not on the assessment roll desiring to have his name on the list must at once send to the revising barrister an application in writing to be put on the list, giving his name, residence and the property or other qualification in respect of which he applies to be put on.

This application must be accompanied by a declaration which is to be made and signed before a commissioner for taking affidavits, a notary or justice of the peace, showing the grounds of the applicants claim to be put on the list.

Substantially the voters are those who can qualify as owners, tenants, occupants, income voters, sons of owners and farmers' sons.

See that the application shows as correctly and fully as possible the qualification.

Make the declaration before a commissioner, notary or justice of the peace. It is convenient to have it attached to the application on the same sheet.

In case of absent person, let some one else having a knowledge of the qualification make the application and declaration.

When one cannot find a justice or other person before whom the declaration can be taken let the application alone be sent in, with an explanation of the reason, and it would be well in such case to have the truth of the facts in the application certified on the back of it by one, or if possible, two other persons.

The application and declaration must be sent at once to the Revising barrister of the district.

URGENCY OF THE MATTER.

No name not on the last voters' list or assessment roll will be placed on the preliminary voters' list, unless on application and declaration as above.

In case of any difficulty or doubt, application should be made at once for advice to some of the Liberal friends in the neighborhood.

A Young Man's Suicide.

TORONTO, Feb. 2. | John S. Ashurst, age 24, was arrested by P.C. Jarvis, on Terauley street, as a drunk last night. Some time after being put in the cells the Inspector found that he was dying. A doctor was sent for, who recognizing symptoms of poisoning applied the stomach pump, but to no avail. The man expired at 10:20 without having spoken a work. It was found that he boarded with a Mrs. Street, on Elm street, and on that lady being visited she stated that Ashurst came to her shortly after tea last night and gave her a bottle saying he had taken poison. She thought he was only joking and laughed at him. The bottle was produced. It is a small 2 oz. one and is labelled—"Poison, carbolic acid, Henry Schofield, corner Elm and Chestnut streets, Toronto." Mr. Schofield says he thinks it was purchased from his assistant while he was at tea. Ashurst has been out of work for some time, and was very despondent on this account. He is not long out from England.

WELLINGTON COUNTY COUNCIL.

The Council resumed at two o'clock.

THE POOR HOUSE.

Moved by W. L. Gordon, seconded by Mr. Foote, that the report of the Inspector of the House of Industry and Refuge for the year 1885 be received and adopted and printed in the minutes. Carried.

Moved by Mr. Foote, seconded by Mr. Cross, that the report of the physician of the House of Industry be printed in the meantime, and that the Standing Committee of the House of Industry and the members of the committee and the Inspector of the said House of Industry, be a committee to make due inquiry as to the truth of the allegations contained in said report, and ascertain whether the late Standing Committee were justified in making the statement, and recommendations contained in their report which was adopted at the late November session, and that the said Special Committee report at the next session of this Council, and that the chairman of the Poor House committee be the convener of the said Special Committee.

Moved in amendment by F. Marshall, seconded by Hugh Black, that the motion be amended by appointing a Special Committee composed of the following members of the Council:—Messrs. Burt, Long, and the Warden, and to report at the June session.

Mr. Hobson did not think that it would be right to appoint a new committee to sit on the old.

Mr. R. J. Black thought that in justice to the old committee a committee should be appointed to investigate the matters spoken of, composed of members away from the Poor House, and that they report at the June session.

Reference was then made to the Committee auditing their own accounts.

Mr. Wissler remarked that if the committee were not supposed to audit the accounts he would like to know what they were there for.

Mr. Cross said that to appoint another commitee would be showing a want of confidence in the present one. He was sure they did the best they could.

Mr. Darroch considered that the functions of the committee were to look after the wants of the House and not to audit the accounts. Everything might be all right, but it did not look well for a committee to audit their own accounts.

Mr. McManus was in favour of adding five to the committee if it was in order.

Several others spoke when a vote was taken and the amendment was carried.

FINANCE.

Mr. Hobson, chairman, reported recommending the following grants and accounts:—General Hospital, $1,000; St. Joseph's Hospital, $600; Prisoner's Aid Association, $20; that the petition of John Carter be granted and that he paid the amount provided by Statute $20. In regard to the petition of Elizabeth Menary, left over from December session, in which a request was made that she be paid for the loss of a horse used by the constables while in pursuit of O'Donnell, the murderer, your Committee having no certain knowledge of the actual cause of death—the certificate of the veterinary surgeon being so contradictory that little information can be gleaned from it—but considering that the weight of evidence tended in that direction recommend that she be paid the sum of $70. We recommend that the jail surgeon's salary be raised to $150 per annum. The memorial from Mount Forest has been carefully considered, and we recommend that the Council grant the sum of $700. From N. Tovell, funeral expenses of a County patient, who died in the General Hospital, $10.25. That the County Solicitor's bill, in the matter of arbitration between the corporation of the village of Elora and the corporation of the County of Wellington, be paid $282.69, and also Christopher Robinson's fee of $40 for legal opinion on the same matter. We advise that a County map be procured for each of the following offices:—County Court Clerk's, Surrogate's and County Attorney's.

Moved by Messrs. Hobson and Rae, that the report be adopted.

Mr. Wissler moved that the grant be $800 to each hospital.

The speaker in making the motion referred to the noble work being done by both Institutions. He did not see why the City could conscientiously get out of giving a grant to St. Joseph's on the technicality that it was outside the City, but to get the Mayor out of the dilemma he had moved this resolution. Seeing that the City could not legally give a grant to St. Joseph's Hospital this would be a splendid opportunity of showing their generosity by giving what they intended for St Joseph's Hospital to the General Hospital, and the County reducing the grant to the General Hospital and giving it to St. Joseph's. The City Council would by this means be able to raise the grant of the General Hospital to $1,100 or $1,200 probably, instead of $1,000.

Mr. Knott thought that the grant should be equally divided. There were more inmates in St. Joseph's Hospital than there were in the General Hospital.

Mr. Darroch thought there was something strange about the technicality of the City Council not being able to give a grant to the St. Joseph's Hospital while the County Council could give one to the General Hospital.

The Warden explained that such was the case. The City and County were incorporated under two different acts.

Mr. Hobson did not think that too much was voted to either Hospital. Neither of them got enough for the work they were doing, and members instead of trying to cripple them should do all they could to keep them up. If the grant for St. Joseph's Hospital was not enough the report could be amended by increasing it. He was not in the same position to speak of St. Joseph's Hospital as he was of the General. Mr. Hobson showed from the report of the General Hospital that out of the 186 patients admitted to that Institution during the year 70 were from the County, and at the average rate of maintenance it would have cost the County some $1,155 to keep them, so that the County instead of conferring a favor on the Hospital by giving it a grant, the County was actually in its debt. If there was not an Institution of this kind in the County the County would have to provide for its own sick, and it could not be done at such a low figure as this. The County of Wellington, one of the richest and most advanced in the Province, had not come to that low pitch that it had to receive charity at other people's hands. While extending sympathy to the good work being done by the House of Providence at St. Joseph's Hospital it had to be remembered that the County had an institution of this kind maintained by the County.

Mr. McManus said that there were 78 patients in St. Joseph's, and they were kept at a lower cost. Seeing that the County derives as much benefit from the one as the other the grant should be made as near equal as possible.

Mr. Wissler withdrew his motion and on motion of Messrs. Nicoll and Cross, the Council went into Committee on the report, Mr. Nicoll in the chair, when the report was read clause by clause.

Mr. Cross was in favor of reducing the grant to the General Hospital to $800. They had sent down a man from the Township of Peel to the General Hospital, and instead of keeping him there had him incarcerated in the common jail like a felon, even if the man had been a little boisterous he should have been shown some sympathy.

Mr. Hobson said the Directors of that Institution were debarred from speaking at the Council or they could no doubt fully explain their course. As far as he understood the man referred to by Mr. Cross was then a raving madman. He smashed the door of his room, broke his bed, and the authorities had to do something with him for his own safety, and that of other inmates. An hospital of this kind had not, nor was it intended to have, the facilities of any asylum.

Mr. R. J. Black would be in favor of reducing the grant because Guelph crept out of giving one to St. Joseph's. Let the City make up the deficit.

Mr. McGowan said that some steps should be taken by the Directors of the General Hospital to have patients admitted at once without going through the formality of having an order from the Warden—say an order from the Reeve or Deputy Reeve of a township. He would be in favor of giving a grant to both hospitals on the basis of the Government grant. As it was now St. Joseph's did not get justice.

Mr. Mutrie remarked that he had sent two patients to the Hospital from his township on order until such time as he could procure one from the Warden, and they were admitted at once. He would be in favor of giving a larger sum to St. Joseph's.

The clause as it stood was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Marshall the jail surgeon's salary was reduced to $100, the same as before.

The Committee rose and another discussion arose on the Hospitals. Here are the motions,—on each of which a yea and nay vote was called :—

Moved in amendment to the motion for the adoption of the report, by Messrs. Wissler and Knott, that the report of the Finance Committee be not adopted but be referred back to amend the grants to the Hospitals by making them equal, namely $800 each.

YEAS.—R. J. Black, H. Black, Coleman, Cross, Gilmore, Johnston. Knott, Long, McEwing, McGowan, McManus, Murdoch, O'Donnell, Wisler—14

NAYS.—Anderson, Burt, Carberry, Corbett, Darroch, Foote, W. L. Gordon, H. B. Gordon, Hampton, Hobson, Kirkwood, Marshall, Nicoll, Mutrie, Rae, Jas. Reynolds, John Reynolds, Robertson, Robinson, Tolton—20. Lost

Moved in amendment to the amendment by Messrs Wissler and McGowan, that $700 be given to St. Joseph's Hospital and $900 to the General Hospital.

YEAS.—R. J. Black, H. Black, Coleman, Corbett, Cross, Gilmore. Johnston, Knott, Long, McEwing, McGowan, McManus, Murdoch, O'Donnell, John Reynolds, Wissler.—16.

NAYS.—Anderson, Burt, Carberry, Darroch, Foote. W. L, Gordon, H. B. Gordon, Hampton Hobson, Kirkwood, Marshall, Nicoll, Mutrie, Powley, Rae, J. Reynolds, Robertson, Robinson, Tolton.—19. Lost.

Moved in amendment to the amendments by W. F. Johnston, seconded by F. T. Coleman, that the report of the Finance Committee be not adopted but that it be referred back to said committee with instructions to strike out the words one thousand dollars and substitute therefor the words eight hundred dollars. Lost.

Moved by H. McEwing, seconded by E. Tolton, that the report of the Finance Committee be referred back to that Committee with instructions to make the amount to the St. Joseph's Hospital $800 instead of $600. Carried.

The report as amended was then passed.

AMENDMENT OF AN ACT.

Moved by John Mutrie, seconded by John McGowan, that the County Solicitor be instructed to draft a bill to amend Section 532 and 534 of the Consolidated Municipal Act of 1883, in accordance with the terms of the resolution and memorial passed at the last session of this Council, and that the members of the Legislative Assembly from this County be requested to use their best influence to procure the passage of said Bill. Carried.

PRINTING COMMITTEE.

Mr. Carberry, chairman of the Printing Committee, reported as follows:—We have carefully examined the different accounts laid before us and recommend payment as follows: Erin Advocate, $89.30; Guelph Herald, $8.40; Mount Forest Confederate, $2.40; Palmerston Telegraph, $4; Fergus Advocate, $4. Total $108.50. We further report that we have received and examined the different tenders for printing for the current year, and have awarded the contract to E. H. Dewar, proprietor of the Erin Advocate, his tender being the lowest. The report was adopted.

Moved by Thos. Carberry, seconded by Thos. Marshall, that the report of the Standing Committee on Printing be received and adopted. Carried.

The by-law for appointing School Trustees was read a third time when the Council adjourned till nine o'clock Saturday morning.

COUNTY ROADS.

John Robertson, chairman, reported as follows:—Your Committee recommend that the County Roads be managed as formerly, by Commissioners, and that the sum of fifty dollars per mile be granted for their maintenance exclusive of bridges and culverts, and that the following members of the Council be Commissioners of the various roads hereinafter mentioned:

Guelph and Dundas, Messrs. Nicoll and Rae.

Guelph and Fergus, Messrs. Hobson and Reynolds.

Guelph and Eramosa, Messrs. Mutrie, Sweetnam and Benham.

Erin and Erin, Messrs. Burt and Robinson.

Fergus and Douglas, Messrs. Black and Black.

Fergus and Arthur, Messrs. McManus, Murdoch and Anderson.

Arthur and Mount Forest, Messrs. O'Donnell, Johnston and Hampton.

Glenallan, Messrs. Cross and Powley.

Junction to Alma, Messrs. Marshall, Foote, Wissler and Gordon.

Alma to Bosworth, Messrs. McGowan and McManus.

Bosworth to Teviotdale, Messrs. Long and Corbett.

Teviotdale to Harriston, Messrs. Darroch and Robertson.

Harriston to Clifford, Messrs. Howes and Tolton.

Luther and Arthur, Messrs. Coleman and Gilmore.

They would also recommend that the following amounts be granted to the Villages and Towns hereinafter mentioned: Fergus, $100; Elora, $100, Erin, $50; Mount Forest, $100; and that the above amounts be expended by the Reeves of the above mentioned Municipalities on their leading highways connecting with the County roads, and that the sum of $150 be granted to Palmerston, and $100 to Drayton to be expended by the Reeves of Palmerston and Drayton in improving the leading highways through these Municipalities, and that in all cases proper vouchers be produced by the Commissioners, and that their accounts be audited in the same manner as the County Road Commissioners' are audited.

In reference to the question of bonusing wire fences on the County roads, Your Committee would recommend that this Council do grant a bonus of $1.50 per chain, and not to exceed in any case more than three chains per mile by any Board of Commissioners except on the Arthur and Luther road, where they may build five chains per mile if so desired, then only, in case where the road is liable to be drifted by snow.

In reference to the claim of $500 damages made by Albert and John Hamilton, caused by an accident at a railway crossing in the village of Hillsburg, Your Committee from what evidence they have been able to obtain, have decided that the County is not liable.

In reference to the communication from the town of Palmerston petitioning this Council to assume the boundary line between Perth and Wellington, from Palmerston to Teviotdale, your committee would recommend that the County Clerk be instructed to communicate with the County Clerk of Perth in reference to the propriety of grading and gravelling the above mentioned road.

They have also to report that W. F. Johnston, Reeve of Arthur, has produced vouchers for the payment of $21.32 to cover amount charged against him in November session, also that John Corbett, commissioner of road from Bosworth to Teviotdale, produce vouchers for the unexpended balance of $5.75, reported as cash on hand of said commissioner.

In reference to the application of Richard Boyle, we would respectfully recommend Mr. Boyle to the different commissioners as a competent person to make any necessary repairs upon County bridges, but would also recommend that all accounts presented by Mr. Boyle be certified to by the respective commissioners before being paid by the Warden.

In the matter of the Arthur bridge we have to report that as the bridge is as yet incomplete, we recommend that the matter be referred back to the same committee, and that the present Warden take the place of the late Warden, and to report in full to this Council in June. Adopted.

The Distressed Fishermen.

OTTAWA, Feb. 1.—Senator Robitaille and Mr. Riopel, M. P., have returned to Quebec from a visit to the Government relative to obtaining relief for their starving constituents, left destitute by the failure of Robin & Co., the Jersey fishing firm. They obtained the Dominion Government's consent for an immediate distribution of the fishing bounties amongst the Bonaventure fisherman, and a promise that other steps will be at once taken for the relief of the threatned distress.

A South American Plot.

PANAMA, Feb. 1.—One of the most diabolical plots ever planned to overthrow a Government has just been discovered in Guatamala. It was a scheme to set fire to the Grand Hotel and theatre at the time when both were filled with people. In the panic that would have ensued, the conspirators intended to take possession of the barracks. President Barrillas and his family were to be murdered, all foreigners were to be attacked and the city was to be sacked. The plans of the conspirators were revealed in time to prevent what would have been a terrific calamity. Fifty persons, including some Colonels in the army, were arrested and they are now undergoing trial.

Destructive Fire at Owen Sound

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Feb. 1.—This morning about 5.30 a fire broke out on Poulette street in the premises occupied by W. H. Paulin, stove and tinsmith. A number of buildings were totally destroyed, together with contents. The following are the losses: W. Blanchard & Co., general store, building and stock damaged; Miss Hannah, millinery; W. Wooten, total loss; W. A. Grier, grocer, building and stock, total loss; W. H. Paulin, tinsmith, total loss; Mrs. Malone, millinery, total loss; B. Wilcox, fancy goods, partial loss. In Grier's store a terrific explosion took place which blew the entire front out of the building, and four men were buried beneath the debris, but all were rescued though seriously injured. The total loss is estimated at between $20,000 and $25,000. Against this there is a good deal of insurance. This fire wipes out half of the worst frame range in the town, and it is already rumoured that it will be replaced by handsome brick blocks.

Foreign.

The Prince and Princess of Wales will attend Miss Gladstone's wedding.

The German Government has ordered the seizure of several Polish newspapers for commenting on the recent debate in the Landtag.

An election riot is reported at Armagh, Ireland, where an election is in progress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John McKane, Conservative.

The subject of emigration is attracting much attention in London at present. The Times in an article says:—"If we are to send out emigrants, people are beginning to ask why should it not rather be to our own colonies than to the United States."

A mutiny occurred on Monday among the lads on the reformatory ship Clarence lying in the Mersey. The lads, armed with belaying pins and firearms, drove the officers into the cabin, and then lowered the boats and drifted away with the tide. They ultimately surrendered to the police. Two officers and eighteen boys were wounded.

THE CRISIS IN BRITAIN.

Mr. Gladstone Called on to Form a Cabinet.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—Gladstone left London this morning for Osborne, in response to the command of the Queen. At the railway station he was greeted with cheers by the people gathered there, and, smiling, bowed his acknowledgments. He will return to London to-night.

Mr. Gladstone received an ovation on his arrival at Portsmouth. He made a few remarks, thanking the people for their cordial reception, and saying that his future life was certain to be very short.

Mr. Gladstone has arrived at Osborne, and received the personal command of the Queen to form a Cabinet. Both Houses of Parliament met to-day and adjourned until Thursday, pending the formation of the new Cabinet.

DUBLIN, Feb. 1.—The Freeman's Journal states it has reason to believe that Gladstone has agreed with Parnell to join forces in Parliament for the passage of a bill which shall establish a native Parliament in Dublin to deal with Irish affairs; the new legislature to be so constituted as to add to the present safeguard of integrity to the Empire and rights of the Crown.

THE question "Who was Miss Havergal?" has been asked frequently within the last few days, in connection with the entertainment to be given by the Young People's Association of the Norfolk street Methodist Church, on Thursday evening next. Francis Ridley Havergal was an English lady, daughter of a Church of England clergyman, and is fast becoming known throughout the world in connection with many beautiful hymns and poems as well as prose writings, of which she was the author. Miss H. ranks among the modern poets, she having died only about six years ago, and to the beauty of her poetry is added the charm of belonging to our own times. At the entertainment on Thursday evening the entire programme of readings, recitations and songs will be from Miss Havergal's works, and a rich treat may be confidently looked for. d1

Mr. Field, who appeared for the defendant, applied for a postponement until tomorrow, to enable the defendant to get further evidence. Postponed accordingly.

DEPREDATIONS AT SPEEDSIDE.—Some evil disposed persons have lately been committing depredations at Speedside. Sometime between Friday evening and Monday morning an entrance was made into the school house, where the teacher's desk was broken open and a valuable watch chain belonging to Mr. Gibson stolen, besides some apparatus belonging to the pupils. It is only a short time since a neighboring farmer had some 200 lbs. of pork stolen, and the Speedside Postmaster several dollars' worth of postage stamps. Some efforts should be made to detect the guilty parties.

HALTON FARMERS' INSTITUTE. — The Farmers' Institute meeting, which opened at Georgetown on Friday last, and was continued on Saturday, was one of the largest attended of any of the series which has yet been held. Over 200 farmers and dairymen from the counties of Halton, Peel, and Wellington were present, among the latter of whom we noticed Messrs. John Ramsay, Eramosa, John Duff, Henry Smith, and Andrew Cree, Erin. The papers read by Prof. Brown, Prof. Grenside, H. Reid, V. S., and others were of a most interesting character and excited great interest and a considerable amount of discussion, which cannot fail to be followed by the best results to the farming industry.

GIFTS TO THE HOSPITAL.—The Directors of the Guelph General Hospital acknowledge with thanks the following donations in aid of the Hospital:—From Mrs. Jas. Hewer, 100 lbs of flour; Mr. Geo. Howard, 4 creamery cans; Dr. Lett, illustrated papers; Mrs. Jas. McIntosh, quilt and old linen; Mrs. Elliott, turkey, fruit and old linen; Mrs. J. B. Armstrong, 3 bottles of fruit and old linen; Mrs. J. A. Wood, old linen; Mrs. E. Morris, old linen; Mrs. Bennett, old linen; Mrs. Webster, old linen; Major Clarke, books; Agricultural College, books; Mrs. Adsett, magazines, Mrs. Guthrie, jelly; and Mr. Thos. McCrae, potatoes and turnips; Congregational Church, $11; Chalmers' Church, $56.29, and St. George's Church, $67.25.

A BACKSLIDER.—The Palmerston Telegraph says:—A tailor named Turner, formerly a "captain" in the Lord's Army (heaven save the mark) at Harriston, but lately carrying on his trade in Palmerston, left here on the 14th inst., much regretted by those who had let him have goods on credit. On the 22nd inst. his household goods were taken to the station, destined, we are informed, for Toronto. On the same day a new sewing machine arrived by train addressed to him, but some one of his friends here advised the sender that the tailor would not be likely to use it here, and the agent ordered it to be held over to await his orders. A young man named Donogh, who had been working with Turner as partner, left on the same day as the ex-captain.

DEATH OF MRS. R. WRIGHT.—The announcement of the death of Mrs. Robert Wright, of Hamilton, eldest daughter of Mr. John Thomson, formerly of Puslinch, will be read with feelings of sincere regret by all the old acquaintances of the family in this section. The deceased lady was a universal favorite with all her young friends here, and they particularly will mourn her loss, while all will sympathise with the family in their sad and sudden bereavement. The Hamilton Times of Tuesday says:—"The announcement of the death of Mrs. Robert Wright, of George street, will be received with the utmost regret by the many readers of the Times who have had the pleasure of her acquaintance. Deceased had been ailing for some time, but none of her friends thought that there was any danger in her case. Yesterday she felt much better, and her attending physician, although the symptoms were at first alarming, considered that she was not in a dangerous state. This morning she was seized with a violent fit of vomiting, and almost immediately afterwards expired. Deceased leaves a husband and three children to mourn her untimely end. She was held in the highest estimation by all who knew her, and the utmost sympathy is expressed towards the relatives in their bereavement."

SPEED SKATING RINK.—The Band concert last night at the rink drew a fair audience considering the extreme cold. The race between Lee, of Georgetown, and Bunyan, Guelph, was very exciting. Never were two skaters more evenly matched on a Guelph rink. Bunyan held the lead till after two miles had been covered, when Lee made a spurt and passed him, keeping it till the last lap, when just at the finish Bunyan, by a desperate effort, passed the home stretch about half a foot the winner. The mile race for boys under 16 years was also close and interesting. The entries were Heck Finlay, Geo. Jeffrey, Guy Finlay, Herb Pass and R. Tolton. After three quarters of the distance had been traversed the race was exciting. After that Heck Finlay took the lead, Pass second, and Tolton third, which positions they held respectively till the close. On Friday night the attraction will be a fancy dress carnival—the last of the season—a medal race between Bunyan, the present holder, and McCutcheon and Brandon, and the first polo match on ice held in Guelph. The match will continue for fifteen minutes, and will be between picked teams. The teams are evenly matched and the contest will no doubt be keen and interesting.

Probabilities.

Light to moderate winds, continued fair, very cold weather, with temperature below zero at most places to-night.

THE thermometer registered 14 degrees below zero at Savage's this morning, at eight o'clock.

MONTHLY FAIR.—The regular monthly cattle fair was held to-day. There was quite a number of fair butchers' cattle on the ground, and several buyers from a distance were present. The prices paid ranged from three to four cents per pound, few animals being sold below or above the figure mentioned. The market seemed to be somewhat stiff, fully more cattle being offered than there was demand for.

ORANGE LODGE.—The County Orange Lodge of South Wellington held their annual meeting in the Orange Hall, Guelph, Tuesday, 2nd Feb. After the general business was gone through with the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

W. Bro. J. Collier, C.M.
" " C. H. Marriott, D. C. M.
" " Benj. Thompson, C. Chap.
" " C. H. Walker, C. Rec. Sec.
" " John Smith, C. Fin. Sec.
" " Wm. Matthews, C. Treas.
" " John Carter, C. D. of C.
" " Jas. Irwin, C. Lecturer.

There was a good attendance at the meeting, and the lodges were all represented. The next annual meeting is to be held at Rockwood.

ACCIDENT.—Mr. D. A. McIntyre, teacher, School Section No. 2, Guelph Township, had the misfortune to sustain a painful accident on Monday afternoon. After his school was dismissed he went to the residence of a farmer in the neighborhood who was threshing. He stepped on the frame of the machine to speak to the driver, and in so doing one of his feet slipped and was caught in the bull-pinion and the heel so severely crushed that it was deemed necessary to bring him to the General Hospital.

KNOX CHURCH Y. P. L. A.—Last evening the Young People's Literary Association of Knox Church, held their regular meeting in the basement. There was a good attendance. The chair was occupied by the President, Mr. J. B. Williamson. The meeting was opened by singing a hymn after which Mr. George Walker, Secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting, which were confirmed. The regular programme of the evening was then entered into. Quartettes were given by Messrs. Gilles and Stevenson, and Misses Knowles, Hackney and Hadden, Miss Sarah Hadden presiding at the organ. Mr. Wm. Jones favored the audience with a song which was well received. A reading was given by Mr. J. D. Williamson entitled "She outlived her usefulness," which was also well received. Mr. James Kerr gave a recitation "Barbra Fretchie" with good emphasis. "Pronouncing exercises," comprising a number of difficult words which would hardly be supposed to be contained in our vocabulary, were given by Mrs. Thomas Goldie and Mrs. J. B. Williamson. Impromptu speaking, which created much merriment was called for. The gentlemen singled out were Messrs. Walker, Williamson, Cooke, Bell, Russell, and Gilles. The subjects were annexation, matrimony, free trade, woman's suffrage, tobogganing and smoking. The subjects were more varied than the remarks made by the speakers. Miss Davidson read a very interesting essay. At the close of the meeting it was decided to hold an open entertainment shortly, when a cordial invitation will be extended to all to be present.

Royal Caledonian Medal.

Yesterday morning four rinks of the Guelph Curling Club went to Toronto to play the Caledonian Club of that city for a Royal Caledonian Medal. The game commenced at twelve o'clock and 22 ends were agreed on to complete the contest. This occupied close on to four hours. The match was a close and exciting one throughout, and neither side knew how the score stood until after the game was finished and they had left the ice, which was immediately occupied by skaters. The umpire, Mr. Taylor, of the Granite Club, after adding up the score, declared the game a tie, and ordered the rinks to play an end each. The ice was accordingly cleared of skaters and play commenced with the following result. Dobbie secured one over his opponent, Congalton one, and Mitchell two, while Kennedy was defeated by one, thus making the Guelph curlers three ahead. The home club speak highly of the treatment they received at the hands of the Caledonians. The Guelph curlers deserve credit for winning the medal from a club which is considered to be one of the best in the Province. The following is the final score:

WEST WELLINGTON.—The annual meeting of the West Wellington Agricultural Society was held at the Royal Hotel, Harriston, on Wednesday, 20th January. James Slemmon, President, occupied the chair. The auditors report and financial statement was then submitted, and after considerable discussion was adopted. The following are the new Board of Directors:—John Prain, President; R. Scott, Vice-President; W. Lewis, of Mount Forest, 2nd Vice; Jas. Mannell, J. Slemmon, J. Burrows, T. Whale, J. B. Ridd, W. Scott, H. Stubbs, G. Preston and R. Dowling, Board of Directors; W. A. Harvey, M.D., and Alex. McReady, auditors. At a subsequent meeting of the new Board of Directors, John Robertson was elected Secretary and Treasurer. It was also decided to hold the next fall show in Drayton.

W. M. Hepburn & Co's. is the place to get cheap boots and shoes. You can get them at your own price.

Elora Correspondence.

THE BALL.—The charity ball given in the drill shed here on Wednesday evening last, was not a brilliant financial success, and afforded but a small surplus if any for distribution amongst the poor and needy. The attendance was small, about forty-five couples being present. The tickets were $1, the musicians came from Toronto at a considerable cost, and, although ladies of the village gratuitously furnished provisions, the expenses were altogether out of proportion to the receipts. When the poor have to be helped, it is better not to combine the amusement of a dance with the business of giving, and to let the votaries of Terpsichore pay for their own amusement without entering into a partnership with the less fashionable goddess of Charity.

LITERARY SOCIETY.—At a meeting of the students of the High School, on Friday last, it was unanimously resolved to reorganize the Literary Society, which was once such a prominent and useful feature of this educational institution. It is to be hoped, now that the society has been resuscitated, it will at as early a date as possible, renew its ever popular open meetings. The school is full of good material, and ought at least to equal, if it cannot outshine, any former effort.

ICE.—Notwithstanding the fact that with the return of warm weather the Scott Act will come into force in Wellington, our hotel keepers and brewers are filling their ice houses. It is probable that when the new law comes into operation, our jolly citizens will fall back upon iced lemonade and congealed cream as a pleasant summer stimulant, and their wants in this direction are being anticipated by those who are most likely to cater to them.

A WELCOME VISITOR.—An old Elora boy, Willie R. Hamilton, who has been in Manitoba for several years, is spending a few days in visiting his friends here. He has secured a good farm in the new land and is delighted with his home there and its surroundings. After spending a short time in Ontario, he expects to return to Manitoba.

IN TORONTO.—Mr. Alex. Smart, one of our oldest and most respected citizens, has been called to Toronto to occupy a position in the House of Assembly during the present session. All who know him will be pleased to hear that he has found a post for which he is so well fitted, and which is so congenial to his tastes.

SLEIGHING.—Despite the growling at the beginning of the season at the absence of the beautiful, sufficient has now fallen to make the roads all that could be desired. The result is seen in the increased daily attendance upon our market of the sturdy yeomanry of the neighborhood, and the large influx of wood teams, which has brought down the price of fuel to a reasonable figure. The best hardwood can now be had at $3.50 per cord, with an apparently unlimited supply.

FARM SOLD.—MRS. Fyfe, of Ponsonby, has recently bought one hundred and fifty acres of land from Mr. Sim Johnston, her next neighbor, for $10,000. The farm is a very valuable one, as it is that once owned and so much improved by the late W. Telfer, Esq., and is probably one of the best situated and most valuable in the County.

PITY THE SORROWS.—The irrepressible, but somewhat erratic genius, who edits, sub-edits, reports, works the roller, and folds the paper for the Conservative organ in the Royal City is evidently suffering from over-work, and an aggravated billious attack. Late hours, amateur performances, and singing school have unsettled his nerves, and he has lost his head in a vain effort to effectively use strong language. Even the Mail has ceased to call its opponents liars, and its most humble copyist ought at once to imitate its reformed and superior example. Because the Elora correspondent of the MERCURY made, what, in the opinion of nine-tenths of those present at the Elora meeting, was regarded as a fair summary of Dr. Orton's speech, and because the Heraldic Admirable Crichton, who was primed before and after the celebrated discourse, doesn't precisely, although admittedly in effect, agree with the correctness of this summary, it cannot be right that the good-natured Elora man should be pronounced a straight out-and-out falsifyer, a pedantic youth, and an unprincipled writer, who tells lies for the purpose of continuing to hold his lucrative position! Nor is it good reason that he should be styled the "Elora Annanias"—with an extra "N"—or to be struck on the head with a "tariff," with an extra "r." There is little wonder that the unfortunate victim of this ferocious attack feels bad about it, and with shame and contrition, enters the confessional, and, while declaring that he has lived just long enough to discover that honesty is the best policy, even in reporting the words of a political opponent, plainly admits that on one only occasion, he did draw the long bow, when, in noticing a very good entertainment in Elora, he sought to make the public believe that the rather peculiar gentleman, who represented "The Prince" in the pretty little play of "Cinderella, looked the character which he personated. But that was a trivial sin, and even the able editor of the Herald will, after this open confession, be inclined to grant absolution.

WHOSE IS IT?—On Thursday evening last, two men were seen to enter Krausmann's hotel together, one of whom carried a basket. They quickly departed leaving the basket behind them. An examination was made of it for the purpose of discovering its ownership, when it was found to contain a male baby about two weeks of age. The poor little fellow had evidently been stupified by the use of some narcotic, but in a couple of hours thoroughly awoke and was regarded as out of danger. The baby was well clothed and in the basket was a change of raiment. Two men, who drove to Dalby's hotel in a cutter, one of whom registered himself as Harry Hamilton and the other as Gow from Guelph, were placed under arrest as Constable Geddes thought one of them was the party, whom he had seen entering Krausmann's hotel with a basket, and as having driven a horse and cutter under Land's shed just before the baby was left. They were detained until next morning and then set at liberty, as no evidence could be brought against them. It is stated that the name of Gow was assumed, the proper name of the person using it being J. Forbes Grant. The baby has been placed in the Poor House, but will not long remain there, as several kind samaritans have offered to take charge of it.

DEATH.—The death yesterday of Mr. George Bye, after a few days illness, removes from our midst one of the earliest settlers in this section. He was eighty-three years old, was born at Banbury, Northampton, England, and coming to Canada many years ago, settled in Pilkington, where his two sons Wm. and Robt. still reside. Mr. Bye has lived in Elora for a number of years, and, though very frail for some time past, was able until a few days ago to take his daily walk on our streets, and to keep up an intelligent interest in all public matters. He was an earnest member of the Methodist church, and as a good neighbor and useful citizen was universally respected.

SERIOUSLY ILL.—We regret to have to announce that Mr. George Sutherland, of Salem, is seriously ill with typhoid fever, but trust that before many days the disease may assume a milder form, and that Mr. Sutherland may, in due course, be restored to complete health.

ACCIDENT.—The Rev. Mr. Fear while out driving this morning met with an accident, which fortunately, did not result very seriously. He turned his horse too sharply, the cutter was upset and Mr. Fear thrown out. A cut upon the nose was the only injury he received. The horse was captured in front of Krausmann's hotel, and Mr. Fear's wound was bound up at the same place.

SLATING RACES.—A large number assembled at the rink last night to witness the second contest for the silver medal, which was won by Chas. Gale a fortnight ago. There were also a boy's race for lads under sixteen and a barrel race. The boy's race came off first, and was run by Alex. Waddel, who succeeded in winning first place. Oscar Wagner, Geo. Hillis and H. McMicking, were the other contestants. A dispute arose as to whether Wagner or Hillis should be given second places, which was settled by dividing the prize money between them. The event of the evening came next, and C. Gale, G. Krausmann and T. Biggar entered the ring for a five mile race. The distance was accomplished in twenty-one minutes, C. Gale coming in first with Krausmann scarcely a lap behind. The race was satisfactory in every way, the ice being in good condition and nobody falling. The third contest was a barrel race, which was won by Alex. Waddel with Wm. Bain a good second. A third race for the medal will come off before long.

FAIR.—A large number of cattle were offered for sale this morning, but prices were low, the highest paid being about 4½ cents. Very little business was done in the village.

About the Rumored Indian Rising.

LETHBRIDGE, N. W. T., Jan. 29, 1886.

To the Editor of the MERCURY.

SIR:—It is said that uneasiness is a species of sagacity. If this is so, the people in the east are very sagacious, for they are continually uneasy about—we know not what.

Many sensational stories, regarding an Indian uprising, have been afloat, which are not only detrimental to our country but alarming to friends who have no opportunity of determining the situation. I therefore feel it my bounden duty, seeing that my name has been connected with a very misconstrued report, to venture a few remarks on the subject.

From the experiences of the oldest timers and Indian fighters in the country I gather that the red man will never give battle if unmolested. Numerous were the reasons which caused their uprisal in the north during the late rebellion, but very different has been their treatment here. Indians do not, although the contrary has often been said of them, fail to consider the consequences of a war with the whites. In popular parlance they know on which side their bread is buttered. Truly, their crimes have been punished, but their abettors have been dealt with rigorously. They are now aware that their "pale faced brother" can come in myriads from the "land of the rising sun," were there not sufficient numbers of them here already to insure their defeat.

Now, briefly consider their conduct in the past. Before the treaty had been taken by the Blackfeet nation, but immediately after the buffalo had gone south, starvation was rife throughout the whole country. The ground was dug over for bulbs and roots, and the trees in the river bottom decorticated to sate their hunger. Everywhere were to be seen the dead and dying. The commanding officers of the Mounted Police posts were forbidden to feed them; but a gentleman of my acquaintance, then in charge of Fort Calgarry, after an interview with an emaciated chief—undertook on his own responsibility to buy a band of cattle and drive them to the Blackfeet Crossing, where he had them slaughtered. A sarcophagous scene ensued—before the animals were quartered the Indians rushed upon them with their knives, and, cutting strips of flesh from the quivering limbs, devoured them raw.

Instances might be multiplied which would show their patient and generous endurance under suffering; but this is needless. If ten thousand Indians, then living in their wild state, were starving as we are, to plunder, ravage and kill the few whites then in the country, would their disease decimated numbers—six or seven thousand—attempt to do so now, when they receive almost every privilege of their white brethren, when they know that we have a very superior body of armed men—both Police and Cowboys—constantly on the alert, and a settlement of whites which, if patriotically inspired, could rout twice their number of the red persuasion?

It is to be expected that in such a nation there are grumblers, boasters and traitors who cause discord and threaten rebellion, but although the alarmist might make capital of these the general public should always keep in mind that "report is a quick traveller but an unsafe guide."

Yours truly,
JOHN D. HIGINBOTHAM.

THE CRISIS IN BRITAIN.

Probable Composition of the New Cabinet.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—Gladstone held a conference this forenoon with Salisbury. The subject under discussion was foreign affairs. The conference lasted twenty minutes.

Lord Northbrook will not have a seat in the Cabinet. Mr. Gladstone will be Chancellor of the Exchequer, combining this office with the Premiership. Mr. Childers will be Minister of War, Mr. Chamberlain, First Lord of the Admiralty, Sir Farrer Hershel probably Lord Chancellor, Lord Hampden Lord Privy Seal, Earl Spencer will very likely be Viceroy of India. Guelph Daily Mercury

WEDNESDAY EVE'G FEB. 3, 1886.

The Northwest Rebellion in the Ontario Legislature.

Mr. Meredith and his colleagues sought by a very adroit manœuvre to commit the Ontario Legislature to a justification of the course of the Dominion Government in relation to the rebellion in the Northwest and the execution of Riel. This was brought up in the shape of an amendment to the Address and was so skillfully introduced that at first blush no one would have suspected the ulterior object in view. But to anyone who critically examined Mr. White's amendment it was quite clear that it meant a justification, not only of the course of the Government but of the execution of Riel. Mr. Mowat and his colleagues felt that this was a matter with which they had nothing to do, and above all they felt that it was no part of the duty of the Ontario Legislature to whitewash or defend the actions of the Dominion Government in connection with the outbreak in the Northwest. The real object of the Opposition in presenting Mr White's motion was clearly brought out in the spirited debate which took place in the House on Tuesday, and the attempt on the part of Mr. Meredith and his friends to justify the Dominion Government in their whole policy in relation to this unfortunate rebellion was fully exposed and signally defeated. The position taken by the Government as expressed in Mr. Fraser's amendment is the echo, not only of the opinion of the Legislature, but also of the great mass of the people of Ontario, and the clever way in which the Opposition have been checkmated in their discreditable attempt to make capital for Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues will receive the approbation of everyone who is not blinded by bigotry or political prejudice.

WE regret to learn that Dr. Wallace, after careful consideration, has declined to accept the nomination for Centre Wellington, which was so unanimously tendered to him at the late convention.

"A YOUNG Reformer" asks us who is the Revising Office for South Wellington. Judge Drew is the Revising Officer and we would inform this young Reformer that he will be advised through the MERCURY where the necessary declarations for qualification to vote can be obtained.

THE other day we had a paragraph in reference to the disappearance of the Mail Clerk Kelly, who was suspected of opening registered letters on the Wellington, Grey & Bruce Railway and abstracting their contents. It seems from the latest reports that Kelly has made the best of his way across the border to save himself from the Penitentiary in Canada. He was one of Dr. Orton's most active agents in his earlier election contests, and no doubt did a great deal of the Doctor's dirty work in helping him to secure his election. For this he was rewarded by the Doctor with a Government office which he has disgraced and from which he was obliged to flee on account of his peculations. If Dr. Orton cannot recommend a better sample of officers than this fellow Kelly, he should give up bartering in public offices, for the appointment was no credit either to him or to the Riding.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

TORONTO, Feb. 2.

Mr. Lyon, M. P. P. for East Algoma, was introduced by Hon. G. W. Ross and Mr. H. P. O'Connor.

Hon. Mr. Mowat resumed the debate on the address. He said the Government could not accept the amendment of the member for North Essex (Mr. Sol. White), practically justifying the course of the Dominion Government in North-West affairs, and the execution of the principal participants in the rebellion. He said he could by no means think of voting for any motion which would endorse the action of the Government at Ottawa. Mr. Mowat severely denounced the Ottawa Government as being the parties responsible for all the blood which had been shed, all the treasure which had been wasted, and all the disturbance which had taken place during the rebellion.

Mr. Meredith replied to the Attorney-General pointing out that the stand taken by the Government was the exact opposite to that pursued by Mr. Blake in 1869. If, he said, Riel was guilty at that time he was still more guilty now when he came a citizen of a foreign country to create a rebellion for mercenary motives. He went into the whole question of the trial and the after proceedings to show that Riel was sane and had been pronounced so by all the courts.

The debate was continued over the recess, the following gentlemen participating in it, viz., Messrs. Ferris, Robillard, Baskerville, Mahahon, Morris, Young, French, Baxter, Ermatinger, Clancy, Wood and White.

Mr. McMahon scored a point against the Opposition by saying that that they were asking for an approval of the execution of Riel, and at the same time asking for executive clemency on behalf of those who had urged him on in his course.

Mr. Young spoke for some time, and was dilating on the Prince Albert Colonization Company having obtained a grant from the Government of a whole township already settled by half breeds when he was interrupted by Mr. Robillard who said he had seen the deed of that company and it contained a clause guaranteeing to the settlers the lands on which they lived. Mr. Young denied this, and for a moment there was a strong probability of a scene, but Mr. Young smoothed it over by admitting that Mr. Robillard might think he had seen such a clause, but that he, Mr. Young, was certain in his own mind that no such clause existed.

After Mr. White had closed the debate a division was taken on his amendment, which was negatived:

Yeas—Balfour, Baskerville, Blythe, Brereton, Clancy, Creighton, Denison, Ermatinger, Fell, French, Gray, Hammell, Hess, Hudson, Kerns, Kerr, Lees McColman, McGhee, McKay, Meredith, Merrick, Metcalfe, Monk, Morgan, Morris, Mulholland, Neelon, Robillard, Ross (Cornwall), White, Wilmot, Wood—33.

Nays—Awrey, Ballantyne, Baxter, Bishop, Blezard, Cascaden, Chisholm, Conmee, Cooke, Dill, Dowling, Drury, Dryden, Ferguson, Ferris, Fraser, Freeman, Gibson (Huron), Gillies, Gould, Hagar, Harcourt, Hardy, Hart, Hawley, Laidlaw, Lyon, McIntyre, MacKenzie, McKim, McLaughlin, McMahon, Master, Morin, Mowat, O'Connor, Pardee, Phelps, Rayside, Ross (Huron), Ross (Middlesex), Sills, Snider, Waters, Young—45.

Mr. Fraser then rose and spoke for about fifteen minutes and closed by moving—

"That this paragraph of the main motion now under consideration, and the proposed amendment thereto, expresses no opinion with respect to the cause or occasion of the recent disturbance or rebellion in the Northwest territory. That any expression of opinion thereon or in respect of any of the matters or proceedings subsequent thereto and arising thereout or connected or bearing upon any executive, governmental, administrative, or other actions of the Federal authorities in the premises would be on the part of the House an unwise and unwarranted intrusion upon the proper domain in that behalf of the Dominion Parliament. That this house consequently refuses to express or commit itself to any opinion bearing upon or having reference to any such matter or proceeding, save to the extent and as set forth in the said paragraph and said proposed amendment, when amended as hereafter proposed, and therefore this house resolves that the said proposed amendment to the said paragraph be amended only in the respect, viz., by adding thereto the following: "And this house now hopefully trusts that peace and tranquility having been restored it may be found consistent with the public interests to extend the merciful consideration of the Crown to those who are now undergoing imprisonment for offences connected with or rising out of the rebellion."

Mr. Meredith spoke very strongly against the action of the Government, and denounced the Government and its supporters as justifiers of rebellion. Cries of "order, order," "retract, retract," hindered the leader of the Opposition from proceeding for some minutes.

A division was taken on Mr. Fraser's resolution, when it was carried by a vote of 47 to 31, Messrs. Neelon and Balfour, who voted with the Opposition before, joining with the Government again.

The address was then passed clause by clause and ordered to be engrossed.

Harriston Correspondence.

THE MONTHLY FAIR.—The fair held here on Friday last was largely attended. Some very fine young cattle were offered. Prices were not satisfactory to the farmers. However quite a number were sold. One or two horse buyers were present and picked up several fine animals.

REFORM MEETING.—At the meeting called by J. McMullen, M. P., on Friday evening last, the Town Hall was well filled; a large number of electors from the Township being present. Dr. Landerkin, M. P., South Grey, was present, with Mr. McMullen. Mr. George Grey, President of the Harriston Reform Association, occupied the chair. Dr. Landerkin was first called on and for over an hour he showed the rapid increase of the National Debt and many of the causes contributing to the alarming increase; such as giving to the C. P. R. any amount asked for, the waste of money in connection with the Northwest rebellion; Subsidizing the whole Tory press, &c. He strongly held that the Government were, through wilful neglect and a course of wrong treatment, responsible for the late rebellion and should be held responsible for all the lamentable consequences. Mr. McMullen followed with an able address, giving a highly satisfactory account of his course since being the representative of North Wellington. He fully explained the working of the iniquitous system carried out by the Government at Ottawa of pensioning off scores of political civil servants to make room for relatives of Members of the Government, as well as their needy followers. Resolutions were passed endorsing the course taken by, and expressing continued confidence in, Mr McMullen and the Hon. E. Blake. Let the election come when it may, the Township of Minto, and the Town of Harriston will give a large Reform majority.

ANNUAL SOCIAL.—This evening the annual social is being held in the Methodist church. They have a full house and are spending a pleasant evening together.

ARRESTED FOR THEFT.—Some weeks since a car, standing on the siding at Palmerston was broken open and a large amount of goods carried off. The circumstances were laid before a detective, who after spending some days in working up the case, one day last week had a man living in Harriston named James Brown arrested, taken to Palmerston and locked up. The following day a large portion of the stolen goods were found concealed in the bush near Brown's house. It is said the evidence as to Brown's guilt is direct and clear.

REMOVAL OF A GOOD TOWNSMAN.—Dr. Allen, who has been a respected resident of this town for some years, leaves this week for his new home at Carlton Place. The doctor has been a good and useful citizen, and general regret is expressed on account of his removal.

AFTER HOURS.—License Inspector Moore struck oil here on Saturday night last. Arriving on the late train he quietly took a seat in the Royal Hotel bus. The driver not recognizing his cheerful countenance deliberately drove him to the Royal. Mr. Moore at once walked into the bar room where he found a number of the boys whooping it up. After a time the proprietor, J. B. Bingham, came in to see how business was progressing and was considerably surprised, and chagrined as well, when saluted in a friendly manner by the Inspector. It is not yet publicly known how the matter was settled, but it is supposed Bingham went to the Reeve and owned and payed up. It is to be hoped the Inspector may devote a little more of his time in this neighborhood as there is a grand opening for any person desirous of punishing law breakers of that class.

SOCIAL.—Last Tuesday evening a social was held in the town hall, Crosshill, under the auspices of the Union School Section of that place. Excellent speeches were made by the following ministers, viz: Boyd of Crosshill, Leskey of Linwood, McKibbon of Millbank, Russell of Hawkesville, and Kay of Milverton. Miss Flora Boyd conducted the musical part of the entertainment, and the children acquitted themselves very creditably, both in singing and reciting. The ladies in connection with the school are to be complimented on the efforts they put forth to satisfy the bodily wants of those present.

REMOVAL.—Dr. Vardon, who has been practising for many years in Hawkesville, has sold out his business there to Dr. Woodward. He is going to Galt to live and carry on his profession there. He is an estimable citizen and will be very much missed in Hawkesville and neighborhood.

THEFT.—Geo. Lane, a worthless character, who has been hanging around Crosshill since getting out of Berlin gaol a few months ago, stole upwards of $100 from John T. Wilford, of that village. He left and went up near Listowell where he was captured. On being brought back he confessed and was tried, but while in charge of County Constable Fraser, he succeeded in giving that officer the slip. He has thus far succeeded in eluding the officers who are searching for him.

PARALYSIS.—Mr. A. Hewitt, who lives near Crosshill, was suddenly prostrated last week by a paralytic stroke. For a time his life was despaired of, and his mind gave way under the strain, but the latest advices indicate that he is likely to recover his reason and health.

WELLINGTON COUNTY COUNCIL.

Jan. 30.

The Council met at 10 o'clock.

TENDERS FOR PRINTING.

A communication was read from Mr. H. Gummer, of the Herald, in reference to the tenders for printing. It is as follows :—

To the Warden and Members of the County Council of Wellington :

GENTLEMEN,—Allow me to protest against the awarding of the contract for the County printing for 1886 to Mr. E. H. Dewar, of the Erin Advocate, on the ground that his tender is about $200 higher than the one submitted by me. In my tender I offered to advertise the return of convictions for one cent per line, which would bring the cost of them (if there were as many convictions this year as in 1884) to $73.16, whereas by the tender of E. H. Dewar at 4 cents per line, they will cost the County $292.64, an increase over my price of $219.48, or an increase of $164.60 more than was paid for the same work in 1884. The tender of E. H. Dewar for printing the minutes and school reports is lower by 5 cents per page than mine, but this will not make a greater difference than $20 during the whole year, therefore, if the contract is awarded to Mr. Dewar, the County will save $20 on the minutes and school reports, but will pay $219.48 more for advertising the convictions than I am willing to do it for, thus causing the County to pay about $200 more than my tender calls for. I, therefore, ask that the tenders for printing be reconsidered, and, as I am the lowest tenderer, that the contract be awarded to me.

Mr. Wissler suggested that the communication be suspended to the June session.

Mr. McGowan said that some implications of a similar nature had been made against the Printing Committee last year. He thought there should be an investigation made by the Committee into Mr. Gummer's complaint for their own credit.

The communication was referred to the Printing Committee to report on.

EDUCATION.

Mr. Hampton reported as follows, recommending the payment of the following accounts: J. T. Skales, stationery, etc., $6.82; W. T. Brisbin, entrance examination, Harriston, $3.10; J. Robertson, advertising, $2; J. T. Skales, entrance examination, Harriston, $3.25; H. J. Benner, advertising entrance examination, $1.35; R. R. Hopkins, assisting in entrance examination, Harriston, $6; A. P. Clapp, telegrams, stationery, etc., $5.07; Alex. McCready, postage stamps, $11.25; J. T. Skales, stationery, Model Sbhool, $7.07; Inspector Craig, postage and rent of box, $13.75; Robt. Phillip, stationery, (Fergus) $4.90, R. W. Perry, telegrams, stamps, $3.17, and stationery for the same, $3.85. Total, $73.08. In regard to the petition of Harriston and Fergus Public School Boards requesting that another Model School be established, your committee recommend that the matter be laid over until the June session. Adopted.

Moved by Wm. Nicoll, seconded by John Burt, that leave be given to introduce a by-law to confirm the agreement between this County and the Corporation of Guelph Township as to leaving spare room in new County office to said corporation and that it be read a first and second time. Carried.

The by-law was afterwards read a third time and passed.

BOUNDARY LINE BRIDGES.

Mr. Mutrie reported for the Committee: Your Committee have received information that the bridge on the townline between Arthur and West Garafraxa is in a dangerous state. The committee would recommend that the same be repaired or rebuilt as the Commissioners may see fit. That the Warden and one Commissioner from each municipality adjoining any bridge be a committee to attend to the repairing or rebuilding of the same. That the account of Wm. Reed for 504 feet of plank, and laying the same on the townline bridge Nichol and West Garafraxa, amounting to $704 be paid. In reference to the request of Richard Boyle your committee would respectfully recommend Mr. Boyle to the different Commissioners as a competent person to make any necessary repairs upon County bridges, and all accounts presented by him for payment be certified to by the respective Commissioners before being paid by the Warden. Adopted.

FINANCE.

Mr. John Hobson, chairman of Finance, presented the supplementary report of the Finance Committee as follows:—Your committee have considered the matter of the Treasurer's security, and would recommend that in addition to that now held by the County, that further security be taken from his Bondsmen to the extent of $2,500, and his own bond for $5,000, and further, that the County Solicitor be instructed to have the matter attended to at once. Adopted.

LEGISLATION.

Mr. Hampton, chairman of the Standing Committee on Legislation, reported: Your committee, after going through the many communications referred to them beg leave to report as follows:—That the following petitions be signed by the Warden and Clerk and forwarded to the Attorney-General and Legislature of the Province of Ontario, viz:

1st. On ditches and water courses.

2nd. Petition on Torrens system of land transfer.

3rd. Petition on waggon tires and sleighs, insofar as it relates to the widening of sleighs.

4th. To the Hon. the Minister of Education. Petition to shorten midsummer holidays in rural districts.

5th. That regarding the communication of Thomas Gordon on Stock Laws no action be taken.

6th. That in reference the communication of the town of Durham. No action be taken.

7th. Petition of the township of York to amend Municipal Act. No action be taken.

Adopted.

IRVINE BRIDGE.

Mr. Wissler reported on the Irvine Bridge as follows;—We, the committee, beg leave to report that we found it necessary to erect a new bridge over the Irvine River, in the Village of Elora, and have let the contract to the Dominion Bridge Company for an iron bridge at $7.40 per foot, to be completed by the first of March, and plans and specifications are present for inspection of any of the members of this Council.

DAVID FOOTE, Chairman.

ARBITRATION.

A lengthy report was read from Geo. A. Drew, James J. Craig, John Mair, John Rae and John Mutrie, arbitrators, in connection with the dispute between school sections Nos. 7 and 10 Erin.

Moved by Hugh Black, seconded by Thomas Marshall, that the report of the arbitrators on school section No. 10 and 7 Erin Township be received and printed in the minutes. Carried.

NICHOL AND ERAMOSA.

Moved by Mr. McGowan, seconded by Mr. Long, that rule 51 be suspended and that the Solicitor be requested to report to this Council at its June session as to whether this Council is legally bound to pay the sum of sixty dollars for a survey of the town line between Nichol and Eramosa.

Mr. McGowan held that the survey was illegal, and that the costs should be paid by Eramosa.

Mr. Mutrie stated that in June 1884 the Council petitioned the Lieut.-Governor to appoint a surveyor to establish the line—(Alf. Howitt). They had acted on the Solicitors' opinion on the steps that should be taken to get a line established. He was surprised at Mr. McGowan raising an objection like this when he had offered to show the gentlemen all documents in connection with the affair before the matter was brought before the Council. Mr. Mutrie said that the line had been disputed from time immemorial. About 20 years ago a survey had been made by one Wheelock, and when the recent survey was being made scarcely one of his monuments could be found. It was not in justice that his township should pay for the survey. Only two voted for Mr. McGowan's motion.

PRINTING.

Moved by Mr. Carberry, seconded by Mr. Marshall, that the communication of Mr. Gummer be laid over until the June session.

The committee had considered the petition, Mr. Carberry remarked, and were sorry that such a matter had occurred. The misunderstanding arose from Mr. Dewar tendering for 4 cents a line across the column for conviction list, while the others tendered for the single column. There was nothing in the shape of partiality intended. The decision of the committee was unanimous that Mr. Dewar's tender was the lowest. The committee had taken Mr. Dewar's bond that he would advertise the convictions for 4 cents a line across the page.

Mr. McGowan would like to know what they were going to do with the matter at the June session. He was not satisfied with the way in which the printing had been let. There had been several complaints made by Guelph printers on the way the tenders had been let, and although knowing nothing about the matter himself, he thought that there must be some foundation for it. He was not at all satisfied with the matter.

Mr. Carberry said that the whole thing arose from the sore heads of the printers in Guelph who were not able to carry the County printing as before.

GRANT.

Moved by R. J. Black, seconded by W. L. Gordon, that the sum of $5 be granted to the caretaker, Mr. J. W. Colson. Carried.

WHERE TO MEET AGAIN.

Moved by Mr. Marshall, that the Council adjourn to meet in Elora in June next.

Moved in amendment by W. F. Johnston, that the Council meet in Arthur Village.

Moved in amendment to the amendment by J. Mutrie, seconded by Mr. Hobson, that this Council now adjourn to meet again in the Court House, Guelph, on the first Tuesday in June. Carried.

The Council then adjourned.

The Royal Templars of Temperance.

At the invitation of Dr. McGuire last year the Grand Council for Ontario decided to hold the annual meeting for 1886 in the Royal City, and in consequence thereof there will be probably from 150 to 200 delegates of the Order from all parts of the Province in Guelph, for a large portion of next week. On Tuesday evening, 9th inst., the Grand Council will be tendered a public reception in the City Hall, at which Mayor Stevenson has kindly consented to preside and to deliver the address of welcome. The meeting will also be addressed by the Rev. W. Kettlewell, of Ingersoll, Dominion Councillor, and W. W. Buchanan, Esquire, of Hamilton, Dominion Vice-Councillor. Both are zealous members of the Order and both are unusually clever speakers. Mr. Buchanan is also a member of the fourth estate. In addition to this, we understand, a good musical programme will be provided, the particulars of which will be advertised later.

On the 26th of April, 1882, the Grand Council for Ontario was instituted, and this may be taken as the date of the formal establishment of the Order in Canada, though it was founded in Buffalo in the year 1870. Since the organization of the Ontario Grand Council the Order has made rapid strides in Canada. The Province of Ontario alone has over 200 Councils, and there are over 50 others spread over British Columbia, Manitoba, Quebec, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland.

On the 14th February, 1884, the Dominion Council in Canada and Newfoundland was instituted, and this Council has now entire jurisdiction over the Order in Canada except in the matter of rituals.

The leading features of the Order may be briefly described as follows:—

1st. It is a strictly total abstinence society, and as such will take into its membership all who are willing to take and try to keep the total abstinence pledge.

2nd. Any member over 16 and under 50 years of age, who so desires and who is able to pass the necessary medical examination, may enter the sick benefit department, and will afterwards be entitled to receive in case of sickness $5 per week for the first 12 weeks, or portion thereof, and $3 per week for the succeeding 12 weeks. This feature is entirely optional.

3rd. On the same conditions also any member may enter the death benefit department and be entitled to carry a death benefit of $500, $1,000 or $2,000 upon payment of a monthly assessment ranging from 25 cents to $1.70 per month according to age of applicant and amount of death benefit desired. This feature is also entirely optional.

4th. The White Cross Degree for male members only. Each member in this pledges himself to a life of personal purity and also to do all in his power to preserve the purity of the opposite sex.

5th. The Knights Degree, a military degree, in which those who so desire may carry an additional death benefit of $500, $1,000 or $2,000. A detachment of Clement Command, of Hamilton, is expected to attend the Grand Council and be present at the public meeting on the 9th, as a guard of honour, in full uniform, which is considered very fine.

The following are the officers of Guelph Council No. 127, Royal Templars of Temperance, for the current half year:

S. C., Danil eScroggie.
V. C., Helen Stewart.
P. C., Adam Turnbull.
Chap., Mrs. E. H. Maddock.

SOIREE.—The Good Templars of Rothsay intend holding a tea-meeting on the 12th February, the proceeds to be devoted to clearing the remainder of the debt on the Hall. F. S. Spence, Toronto, has been engaged to deliver his lecture on "Matrimony." Judging from lectures which he has delivered in this community before, he will be sure to draw a crowded house. The admission for the tea and social is only 25 cents.

OYSTER SUPPER.—The Foresters of this village entertained their Sister Lodge in Moorefield to an oyster supper the other night. A social entertainment was also given, and on the whole a splendid time was spent.

SALVATION ARMY.—The Salvation Army have been holding meetings in this village for some time past in the Temperance Hall, and are having pretty well filled houses. Not much good has been done yet.

I.O.G.T.—The following the election of officers for the I.O.G.T. for the present quarter:—Wm. Ott, W. C.; Jas. Gamble, P. W. C.; Samuel Spence, Chaplain; Lizzie McKay, W. V. T.; George B. Oxby, I. G.; Archie Scott, O.G.; Robert Wray, W. M.; Joseph Fotheringham, Secretary; Wm. Lowry, F. S.; Mary Heseltine, Treasurer.

PREPARATIONS. — Coming events cast their shadows before, it is said. J. Joiles intends building a new brick house this summer, and is now drawing the brick from Harriston. The events can be imagined.

PERSONAL.—The Rev. Mr. Ferguson has been holding revival meetings in Teviotdale, with a band of Christian workers, and has met with great success.

BIBLE SOCIETY.—The annual meeting o the Bible Society was held last Tuesday evening. Rev. Mr. Henderson, agent of the Bible Society, delivered an able address on the great work that the Bible Society was accomplishing, which should call for the liberal support of every Christian.

BUSINESS.—The good sleighing at present has shad the effect of stirring up business wonderfully, and improving the markets.

PERSONALS.—Mr. and Mrs. James McLachlan have been on a visit of a few days to Mr. J. Anderson, teacher, Crosshill. Mr. Robert Smith of the 16th line, has been very ill for the past few months, suffering great pain. He is lying in a critical condition.

Rothsay, Feb. 1, 1886.

Rockwood Correspondence.

The second carnival takes place on Thursday evening, Feb. 4th. Our young people are laying themselves out for a high old time.

A public meeting will be held at Crewson's Corners on Friday afternoon for the purpose of considering the propriety of establishing a co-operative creamery. Messrs. Wark, of Lambton County, and McHardy, of Guelph, will address the meeting.

The lady evangelists are drawing crowded houses nightly. One of them, Miss Stonehouse, is an orator of the first water, and it is both pleasing and instructive to listen to her. One proof of their popularity may be found in the fact that one of our local ministers found it necessary to speak disparagingly of them on Sunday evening. We advise every one who likes to hear the gospel preached in good English to go and hear Miss Stonehouse.

A couple of young men on their way home from church on Sunday evening engaged in a slugging match to the great edification of a number of ladies who were unwilling witnesses of the scene. It is said they have agreed to a formal meeting to settle their dispute in an orthodox style, according to the Marquis of Queensbury rules.

Rockwood, Feb. 2, 1886.

Presentation in Puslinch.

Last Thursday evening about eight o'clock, a surprise party arrived at the residence of Mr. Donald Clark, of School Section No. 9, Puslinch. After all being comfortably seated, Mr. Wm. Smith was called to the chair, and having briefly addressed the audience, called upon two of the pupils to come forward, when the following address was read:

Mr. Donald Clark:

DEAR FRIEND—It is with feelings of deepest regret that we regard your departure from among us as our teacher, but however unwelcome such things may be we must bow to the inevitable.

During the year that good Providence has permitted you to be our instructor, we have profited much by your kind efforts. The loving pleasure and forbearance displayed to us, have endeared you to us all. We shall not forget you, kind teacher, and now beg your acceptance of this gold chain as a token of our love and memento of your pupils and friends in the Badenoch school section, Puslinch.

May your future life be bright and happy is the wish with which we all bid you farewell.

Signed on behalf of the pupils of the Badenoch school section,

DUNCAN MCLEAN.
RICHARD MOFFAT.

Mr. Clark replied in feeling terms, thanking the pupils and friends of the section for the valuable present, not alone for its intrinsic value, but also because it showed the esteem in which he was held by the pupils and friends of the section, which was now represented by about one hundred persons.

After tendering a vote of thanks to the chairman, the party began to enjoy themselves in various ways, chief among the amusements being "tripping the light fantastic" to the sweet strains of the violin. This continued until midnight when an abundant repast was partaken of, having been provided by the ladies of the section. The amusements were again resumed and kept up until near morning, when the party finally broke up by all joining in singing "Auld Lang Syne."

The chain, which is a valuable one, was purchased from G. D. Pringle, Guelph.

RUNAWAY.—Dr. McPhatter's horse, lately seems to regulate the matter of its course according to its own inclinations. Yesterday afternoon the doctor was visiting Mrs. Hartnett, on Waterloo Avenue, who has been seriously ill for some time. He tied the horse in front of the store, and entered to see his patient. Scarcely was he gone when Hisslop Bros.' confectionery sleigh, Brantford, came along and frightened the animal. It sprang back, broke the tie line, and at the same time pulled the bridle from its head. The horse in its movements upset the cutter, and finding itself free started off at a mad pace. Instead of keeping the road it ran into the boulevard on its way towards town, breaking the cuttet almost to pieces. After running about half a mile the animal was caught, having sustained several cuts on the hind legs during its escapade.

Death of Mrs. William Hume Blake.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—Mrs. Blake, widow of the late William Hume Blake, and mother of Hon. Edward Blake and Mr. Samuel Blake, ex-Vice-Chancellor, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. V. Cronyn, here this morning, as a consequence of injuries received by a fall in her room on Friday last. She was in her 83rd year, and had not this unforseen accident overtaken her, bade fair to live for years to come. At her advanced age, however, the fracture of her leg, not in itself very serious, proved fatal and she gradually sank from the shock, and expired this morning. Catharine Honora Hume was a daughter of Mr. Joseph Hume, of the County of Wicklow, in Ireland. She married William Hume Blake, and came to this country from Dublin in 1832, settling in the township of Adelaide, County of Middlesex. There her son Edward, now the Hon. Edward Blake, Leader of the Reform party in the Dominion, was born. About 1835 or 1836 the family removed to Toronto, where they continued to reside until some four or five years ago. In 1870 Mr. Blake died, and some years after Mrs. Blake lost one of her daughters, Annie, by death also. She then came to this city to spend her remaining days with another of her daughters, Mrs. Cronyn, and has remained here ever since. The late Mrs. Blake was the sister of Mrs. Elliot, wife of Judge Elliot, of this city. She was a member of the Episcopal Church, was of a kindly disposition, liberal to the poor, and was always prominent in her time in works of charity and benevolence. All the members of her family were gathered around her when she died, and as her last hours approached she bade them an affectionate farewell. Her remains will be buried at Toronto.

RELIEVING OFFICER CLARKE the other day had an eight months old boy and a thirteen months old girl placed under his protection. The Capt. wishes it to be understood that much as he admires children he has no intention at present of instituting a foundlings home.

COLD SNAP.—Yesterday and to-day were the coldest snaps that has been experienced this season. The lowest point reached at the Agricultural College last night was 20 degrees below zero. At eight o'clock this morning Savage's thermometer indicated 15 below that point. The weather is bitterly cold and indications point that it will be as cold again to-night.

BASEBALL.—The Denver, Colorado, News says:—"Bud" Fowler, the coloured willow wielder, has signed with the "Maple Leafs," of Canada. Rumour says that this is correct. Geo. Myers, the late plucky catcher of the "Maple Leafs," has been engaged as senior catcher for the St. Louis Maroons.

CONCERT IN SARNIA.—The Sarnia Canadian thus speaks of Prof. Philp and Mrs Whitehead, Guelph, who took part in a concert there on Wednesday last: Prof. Philp, of Guelph, presided at the organ, and his solos, as well as accompaniments, showed him to be a thorough master of the instrument. Mrs. Whitehead's singing was excellent, being far ahead of anything before heard in Sarnia.

TRAMP TO-NIGHT.—The Snow Shoe Club will meet at C. Davidson & Son's office at 7.30, and proceed with lights burning and colors flying along Macdonnell to Norfolk streets, up Norfolk to Woolwich, down Woolwich to Wyndham, and thence to the slide which will be open so as to compensate for being closed the fore part of the week. The boys have got a stock of fireworks which they intend shooting out in all directions along their route. d1

ACCIDENT AT CRIEFF.—Angus Stewart, in the employment of Donald Campbell, Crieff, met with a painful accident on Monday morning. He was going to the bush to chop timber for a new barn when he accidentally tripped over a stump and fell on the axe, cutting his leg so severely that a physician found it necessary to bind the wound with three or four stitches.

THE MISSES BUCHAN AT MOUNT FOREST.—The Mount Forest Index says:—The concert given in the town hall on Friday evening last by the Misses Buchan, of Guelph, was very poorly attended. We understand the class of entertainment given was good, but on account of so much going on in town just at the present time the turnout was very small.

OPENED OUT.—Ryan, Berkinshaw & Co., who have purchased the dry goods establishment of David N. Hogg & Co., opened out yesterday. Being fair day the sales made were far larger than they anticipated. The new firm carry a large stock which is being daily augmented by shipments of new and choice goods, independent of the remainder of the fine stock which was purchased from the late firm.

PERMANENT PASTURE.—Prof. Brown, of the Agricultural College, has a valuable paper on the question of permanent pasture in the Globe and Mail. The subject of permanent pastures was much discussed by the Farmers' Institutes, and it was with the view of supplementing these discussions that the paper was written. Mr. Brown clearly shows that there is a great deal of money lying about in Ontario if we only know how to pick it up.

MASSIE V. BOYLE.—The case of Massie v. Toronto Printing Company has been passed up to Osgoode hall on a motion to set aside the verdict. The action is one brought by Mr. Massie, Warden of the Central Prison, against Mr. Boyle for damages for libel; it was tried at the recent assizes before Mr. Justice Rose and a jury, when a verdict of $8,000 was returned for the plaintiff. On Wednesday Mr. John O'Donohoe, Q. C., for the defendants, moved before the Common Pleas Divisional Court for an order nisi to set aside the judgment on the ground of excessive damages, etc. The order was granted, and the merits of the case will be argued next week.

OLDEST PRESBYTERIAN MINISTER IN TORONTO.—"The Toronto World says:—Announcement has been made of the death of Rev. Mr. Baxter, of Truro, N. S. By this occurrence Rev. Thomas Lowry, a retired minister, now resident in Toronto, is placed at the top of the roll of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. Mr. Lowry is in the 76th year of his age and 53rd of his ministery. He is in the enjoyment o excellent health for his years, and able to do good service, being the secretary of th Foreign Mission Board." He is an uncle of Mr. Joseph Lowry of this city.

MARKETS.—The market was fairly attended to-day, pork being the principal staple. It brought from $5 to $5.75 per 100 lbs. A choice lot was sold at $6. Other produce brought good prices. The hay market was well supplied.

THE Inspector of Weights and Measures is in the city on his annual visit of inspecting the weights and measures of merchants and others. This morning he examined the different scales in use on the market, and found them correct in every particular.

OFFICERS OF KNOX CHURCH.—An adjourned congregational meeting was held in Knox Church last evening. The missionary money that had been contributed last year was apportioned to the several mission funds of the church. The session reported that a large number of ballots had been returned for the election of a Treasurer and Board of Managers. The following persons were elected:—Treasurer, Mr. Thos. Laidlaw; Managers, Messrs. T. Goldie, J. I. Hobson, W. Knowles, J. Millar, W. McCandless, J. McKenzie, G. Whitelaw, and G. Walker.

SPEED SKATING RINK.—There will be a dress carnival at the Speed Rink to-morrow night. Entries are coming in fast. From present indications this carnival promises to be the best that has been held so far this season. During the evening a polo match will take place between two picked teams of gentlemen skaters from the City. They are evenly matched, and as this is the first game of the kind that has been played on ice here it will no doubt prove very interesting and should draw a large crowd. A two mile race will also take place for the Stirton medal between the present holder, Jos. Bunyan, and McCutcheon and Brandon, all of the City. The City Band will furnish the music.

THE GLOBE'S PRIZE STORIES.—To-day the Globe publishes the names of the prize winners of the stories which were published in its Christmas edition. They are as follows:—First prize, $100, "The Settler's First Grist," Robert Sellar, Huntingdon, Que.; second prize, $50, "How We Got Out of It," Robert Barr, Walkerville; third prize, $25, "The Mouse on the Arm," Rev. W. W. Smith, Newmarket; fourth prize, $15, "Romance of a Canadian Stateesman," M. G. Cameron, Goderich; fifth prize, $10, "The Little Boy in Blue," Mr. David Nairn, Living Spring, Garafraxa, Wellington County. Mr. and Mrs. Nairn are well known in Guelph and neighborhood, Mr. Nairn having taught school for some time at Marden and afterwards removed to Garafraxa.

ELOCUTION. — The Rev. Mr. T. C. Edwards, Professor of Elocution from Wyoming Seminary, has arrived in Guelph for the purpose of giving instructions in elocution at the Agricultural College and arrangements have been made to form a class in the city. A meeting of those interested was held last night when it was decided to go on with the class, and that the first meeting should be tomorrow (Friday) evening at 7.30 p.m., at the office of Macdonald & Macdonald in which there is a large room suitable for the purpose and sufficient to accommodate 25 or 30 to which number it is intended that this class shall be limited. The Rev. Mr. Edwards has kindly consented to atten the meeting of the Literary Association of St. George's church, to be held at 8 o'clock this evening in the school room of the church, to give a short address or selection, and he will afterwards attend the meeting of the Norfolk street Methodist church, which will also be held this evening.

POLICE COURT. — The adjourned case against Benjamin Tripp for disturbing a Salvation Army meeting on Saturday night came up at the Police Court this morning. Several members of the Salvation Army swore that Tripp was singing out of tune, and that being requested to stop singing he turned around and struck the caretaker, knocking him down. The defence put in several witnesses to disprove these statements, and also to give Tripp an excellent character. The main argument of defence was that when Winer put his hand on Tripp's shoulder and pulling him he committed an assault, an Tripp was justified in striking him. Hi Worship said he differed from this view, but that he thought the argument was entitled to considerable weight, and although he had been in the habit of fining heavily in these cases he would find this disturbance was not wilful, and as a warning would fine defendant $1 and costs. Mr. G. W. Field appeared for the defence, and Col. Macdonald conducted the case for the Salvation Army.

"AMONG THE BREAKERS."—An amateur theatrical entertainment took place at the City Hall under the patronage of the directors of St. Joseph's Hospital on Wednesday evening in aid of the funds of that Institution. The hall was well filled by a very respectable and intelligent audience. The piece presented was the well known melo-drama "Among the Breakers" and the characters with three exceptions were taken by Guelph amateurs. The play was well put on the stage, the only scene being the interior of the lightkeeper's house, which however, was well fitted up in accordance with the piece From first to last the acting was excellent; the dialogues ran smoothly, there were no awkward freaks in the conversation, and the acting manifested a naturalness and evenness which is quite unusual in amateur playing. All this showed that the ladies and gentlemen taking part had not only closely studied their parts but are gifted with more than average histrionic powers. The following is the cast of characters:—David Murray, Keeper of Fair Point Light, Mr. J. Harris; Larry Devine, assistant, Mr. A. J. Weir, Galt; Hon. Bruce Hunter, Mr. J. E. McSweeney, Galt; Clarance, his Ward, Mr. L. S. Morphy; Peter Paragraph, a Newspaper Reporter, Mr. B. Hughes; Scud, Hunter's Colored Servant, Mr. Fred. Palmer, Galt; Minnie Daze, Hunter's Niece, Miss Johnson; Bess Starbright, Cast up by the Waves, Miss Hazelton; Mother Carey, a reputed Fortune-Teller, Miss Grace Hazelton; Biddy Bean, an Irish girl, Miss Heffernan. Where everyone did so well it is almost invidious to particularize, but special mention should be made of Miss Heffernan, who was very natural as "The Irish Girl" and who was well supported by her lover Mr. Wier. Miss Grace Hazelton as "Mother Carey" did her part very well, and the same may be said of her sister as "Bess Starbright" and Miss Johnson as "Minnie Daze." The male parts were also well rendered, and on the whole the play was one of the most successful hits of the season.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Re-organization for the Present Year.

The Board of Education met on Wednesday evening for re-organization. Present—Messrs. Kilgour, Cottis, Knowles, Murton, Mitchell, Skinner, Myers, Fairbank, Peterson, Spragge, Stewart, Bollert, Mackenzie, Burgess, Newton.

The Secretary, Rev. Dr. Torrance, called the meeting to order, and announced that he had been advised that Mr. E. Newton had been re-appointed Collegiate Institute trustee by the Council, and that Mr. Geo. H. Skinner had been appointed, also by the Council, in room of Dr. McGuire, whose term of office had expired. He then intimated that the first business to be proceeded with was the election of a chairman.

Moved by Mr. Peterson, seconded by Mr. Murton, that Mr. E. Newton be re-appointed chairman. The mover, in making the motion, remarked that Mr. Newton was one of the oldest members of the Board, and during the period which he had formerly presided over its deliberations had discharged his duties with ability and fidelity to the satisfaction of the Board and the citizens at large.

Mr. Newton was elected unanimously.

On taking the chair, Mr. Newton, in a few words, thanked the Board for the honour they had conferred on him in again choosing him as chairman. He could only say that it would be his endeavour in the future as it has been in the past, to do his best in presiding over the deliberations of the Board and for the interests of education in the City.

Moved by Mr. Murton, seconded by Mr. Knowles, that the Rev. Dr. Torrance be re-appointed Secretary of the Board for the ensuing year. Carried unanimously.

Moved by Mr. Cottis, seconded by Mr. Kilgour, that Mr. G. A. Somerville be Treasurer for the Collegiate Institute, without salary.

Moved in amendment by Mr. Hall, seconded by Mr. Mitchell, that Mr. E. Harvey be appointed Treasurer for the Collegiate Institute.

Mr. Hall in moving the amendment said that heretofore until the death of the late Mr. Harvey, when their was an interregnum, the City Treasurer had used to act as Treasurer of the School Board also. He thought it was better that it should be so now and not divide the city funds.

Mr. Peterson said it was desirable that the old practice should be carried out and it was better to have the money in the hands of a man directly responsible to the city.

Mr. Knowles found that Mr. Harvey, sr., got a hundred dollars. He did not propose to give a hundred dollars if Mr. Somerville was willing to do the work for nothing.

Mr. Hall remarked that Mr. Harvey was willing to do the work for nothing.

It was intimated that Mr. Somerville was in no way desirous of having the treasurership.

Mr. Cottis on these explanations withdrew his motion, and the amendment was carried.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

Moved by Mr. Murton, seconded by Mr. Mitchell, that Messrs. Knowles, Bollert, Hall, Mitchell, Peterson, Burgess, Fairbank and the mover be a committee to strike the Standing Committees for the ensuing year.

Moved in amendment by Mr. Fairbank, seconded by Mr. Bollert, that Messrs. Bollert, Cottis, McKenzie, Myers and the mover be a committee to strike the Standing Committees for the year.

The amendment was lost.

From Mr. Evans, asking the Board to purchase some of his wall maps for the County, for use in the Schools. The price would be $5, with a reduction of ten per cent for a number.

Mr. Tytler's report of the Collegiate Institute for the monfh of January, showed the number of pupils registered to be 219 with an average attendance of 198.

ACCOUNTS.

After considerable discussion the following motion was carried:

Moved by G. Murton, seconded by R. Mitchell, that in future all accounts laid before this Board be referred to the different Committees to which they belong, and that the chairman of such Committee report on the same at the next meeting of this Board, and that such accounts be laid before the Finance Committee for payment.

Mr. Torrance read his monthly report which showed that 1336 names had been registered, of which 673 were boys and 663 girls, giving a roll average to each teacher of more than 51, a daily average of 60 and a general average of 59.

An irregular discussion took place about on whose authority a gas drain was dug to the High School. The matter will likely come up again in regular form.

The Board adjourned at ten o'clock, after which the Committees appointed their

GLADSTONE'S NEW CABINET

Official Announcement of Its Composition.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—The new Cabinet is officially announced as follows:

Mr. Gladstone, Prime Minister and First Lord of the Treasury.

Sir Farrer Herschell, Lord High Chancellor.

Earl Spencer, Lord President of the Council.

Mr. H. C. E. Childers, Home Secretary.

Earl Rosebery, Secretary for Foreign Affairs.

Earl Granville, Secretary for the Colonies.

Earl Kimberley, Secretary for India.

Mr. H. Campbell-Bannerman, Secretary for War.

Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Marquis of Ripon, First Lord of the Admiralty.

Mr. J. C. Chamberlain, President of the Local Government Board.

Mr. G. O. Trevelyan, Secretary for Scotland.

Mr. A. J. Mundella, President of the Board of Trade.

Mr. John Morley, Chief Secretary for Ireland.

The following appointments have been made under the new Administration:—Earl Sydney, Lord Stewart of the Queen's Household; Mr. Arnold Morley, Patronage Secretary; Mr. Charles Russell, Attorney-General.

The composition of the new Cabinet has caused a great surprise. It is thought to show marks of a compromise.

The Daily News considers the new Ministry a strong one and especially approves of the appointment of the Earl of Rosebery and John Morley. It says that the selection of the Earl of Kimberley for the Indian Secretaryship is the only choice that is likely to meet with negative approval. The absence of Lord Hartington from the Cabinet the News says is a matter of regret which may however at no distant date be removed.

The Standard says Mr. Gladstone, in forming his Cabinet, has made the best of a bad situation. The members are men of undoubted ability. The selection of Earl Rosebery for the position of Secretary for Foreign Affairs was the best that could be made, and promises well for the good will of Germany. The appointments most likely to elicit criticism are these:—Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and John Morley, Chief Secretary of Ireland.

In the event of the defeat of John Morley in re-election at Newcastle, Mr. Parnell offers to find a constituency for him in Ireland.

Mr. Joseph Chamberlain's refusal to accept the office of First Lord of the Admiralty was based upon his desire not to be officially connected with the Military Department of the Government. Mr. Chamberlain aspires to the Chancellorship of the Exchequer, but Mr. Gladstone has absolutely reserved that post for himself, and it is more than probable that the radical leader will eventually go into the Cabinet as a minor officer.

Anthony J. Mundella has accepted the Chairmanship of the Board of Trade with a seat in the Cabinet.

The Queen has approved of the selection of John Morley to be Chief Secretary for Ireland.

Mr. John Morley will start for Ireland at once to assume the duties of Chief Secretary, and Lord Northbrook will go as Viceroy.

Fighting in Burmah.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—Advices from Mandalay, Burmah, say that the Dacoites have had several engagements with British troops since February 1, and that in every encounter the Dacoits were defeated with heavy loss. The officials at Mandalay believe that order will soon be completely restored throughout Burmah.

Illness of the Pope.

ROME, Feb. 3.—It is no longer possible to conceal the serious condition of the Pope's health. Yesterday while transacting important business with Cardinal Ferrieri, the Prefect of the Congregation of Bishops, he had a alarming fainting fit. He was carried in an unconscious condition to his chamber, and was restored by his physicians with difficulty. To-day his Holiness is better, but still very feeble.

Lore Dufferin Gone to Burmah

LONDON, Feb. 3.—News was received today at the India Office of the departure of Lord Dufferin for Burmah, where he will meet General Sir Frederick Roberts, who left last week by the P. and O. steamer under orders to proceed to the same place. Lord Dufferin will arrange for the extension of the British Indian administration to the annexed kingdom, and Gen. Roberts will perfect the military arrangements of Gen. Prendergast for the subjugation of the Dacoits and the general acification of the country.

Great Snow Storms.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 3.—A terrible snow storm has prevailed here for 24 hours. Traffic is entirely suspended, and the children being unable to reach the schools an edict has been issued by the Educational Board closing the schools for the remainder of the week. The snow in places is twenty inches deep.

In Washington there has been one of the heaviest snow falls ever known there, fifteen inches having fallen up to Wednesday night.

Pardoning the Rebels.

OTTAWA, Feb. 3.—Pierre Vandal and Jean-Baptiste Vandal, sentenced to seven years penitentiary for having taken part in the Northwest revolt, have been pardoned. Other pardons are to follow.

A fresh supply of clean dry stove and chestnut coal received at Allen's coal yard, opposite Goldie's mill. Orders receive prompt attention. d8

At Wednesday night's meeting of the Toronto City Councils by-law was introduced fixing the duty for tavern and shop licenses at $260 and $200 respectively and limiting the number to be issued to 150 tavern and 50 shop licenses.

SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY—a positive cure for Catarrh, Diphtheria, and Canker Mouth. Sold by A. B. Petrie.

A tugboat on North River, New York, ran down a row-boat belonging to an Austrian corvette lying off New York, and drowned a midshipman and four sailors.

Guelph Daily Mercury

THURSDAY EVE'G FEB. 4, 1886.

Mr. Gladstone's New Cabinet.

After considerable trouble Mr. Gladstone has succeeded in forming his Cabinet. In its personnel there is not much change from his old one which went out of office a few months ago, the only new members being the Marquis of Ripon and Mr. John Morley. These two members will, however, add strength to the Government. The Marquis of Ripon distinguished himself as Viceroy of India. Mr. Morley is new to official life, but he is well known as one of the ablest writers of the day on political questions. He is an advanced Liberal, and though in favor of Home Rule for Ireland is as strongly in favor of the rights of the Crown being maintained over that country. It is generally expected that his appointment as Chief Secretary for Ireland will be acceptable to the great majority of the Irish members.

Nearly all the members of the new Cabinet hold different positions from those previously occupied by them. The only two exceptions are Mr. Gladstone and Lord Kimberly. Those most conspicuous by their absence from the new Cabinet are the Marquis of Hartington, Lord Derby, Sir Charles Dilke, and Mr. Shaw Lefevre. But for the pending divorce suit Sir Charles Dilke would no doubt have been taken into the new Cabinet.

As regards ability the new Government will compare favorably with its Tory predecessors. Mr. Gladstone, the Premier, is a giant in himself, and the whole country—indeed we may say the whole world—is looking to him at the present moment to solve the difficulties which surround the question of legislation for Ireland. Whether he will be able to do so remains to be seen, but of one thing we are sure that he is most anxious to do so, that he will set his whole mind and energies to the work, and that if he fails it will be no fault of his for want of honest and faithful endeavour. The latest report is that he will introduce first a bill to stop evictions, then to bring in his Home Rule Bill, concomitant with a scheme for buying out the landlords, with the proviso that Home Rule is not to take effect until the purchase scheme has been passed into a law, the understanding being analagous to that carried out with regard to the franchise and redistribution measures.

MR. HENRY CARGILL, Reeve of Greenock, and formerly of Nassagaweya, has been nominated as the Tory candidate for the Commons for East Bruce.

SPEAKING of the address delivered in London, Ont., by the Hon. Edward Blake, the New York Sun says his advice "is the perfection of political wisdom, and the more thoroughly the Canadians follow it the better it will be."

THE course of the Tories in the Ontario Legislature in dragging the Riel question into the arena is generally condemned by the Tories in Ottawa as a piece of very bad policy. No doubt the Tories throughout the country echo the sentiments of their brethern in Ottawa.

THE Montreal Star says: "It is sincerely to be hoped that Mr. Joly can be prevailed upon to enter the Dominion Parliament. There is no one whose presence would be more welcome to the people at large. A gentleman without fear and without reproach, he would do honour to any legislative body in the world."

THE Dominion Franchise Act will not only disfranchise many Methodist ministers as we stated before, but also many teachers, who are subject to short terms of service and frequent changes. Many commercial travellers will also lose their votes—probably the whole of those travellers who are single and who live in hotels, or who give up their rooms during journeys.

ONE of our ablest lawyers has just passed away in the person of Mr. Joseph Doutre, Q.C., of Montreal. Mr. Doutre was brought into the greatest prominence by the Guibord case, which agitated the whole country a few years ago. In that case he was Counsel for the Institut Canadien and finally obtained a decision of the Privy Council authorizing the interment of Guibord's remains in consecrated ground. He was also one of the counsel on the British side before the Halifax Fishery Commission in 1877, when the award of five millions was obtained from the United States for the use of Canadian Fisheries. A few years ago he published a digest of the British North American Act, which work is now the standard authority on Constitutional law.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Toronto, Feb. 3.

The following bills were introduced and read the first time:

Hon. C. F. Fraser—To secure compensation for workmen in certain cases.

Mr. Gibson (Hamilton)—To amend the Assessment Act.

Hon. A. S. Hardy presented the following:—An Order in Council with reference to the commutation of the Surrogate fees of local masters; the report of the Inspector of Insurance for 1885; a return of the Toronto General Trusts Company; a report of the Inspector of Prisons respecting the educational institutes for the blind and deaf and dumb; the report of the Elgin House of Industry.

Mr. Meredith asked when the report of the Commission of Inquiry into the Central Prison would be presented.

Hon. A. S. Hardy—The report is in type and will be ready in a few days.

Mr. Waters asked if the Government intended to introduce any assessment measure dealing with the question of exemptions,

Hon. O. Mowat suggested that notice should be given of the question.

The February Century.

The publishers respectfully call attention to the fact that in the contents of the mid-winter Century may be found a remarkable list of names associated with the history, literature, and art of America. A peculiar interest attaches to General Grant's Preparing for the Wilderness Campaign. Here he is dealing with his plans for the last grand campaign, extending from the James round to Nashville, Atlanta, and the sea, and which gave the Confederacy the death hug. His method is vivid and anecdotal, and as outspoken regarding the personal aids and drawbacks of his officers as the physical difficulties to be overcome. Anecdotes of McClellan's Bravery, by one of his officers who was a companion in arms as far back as the Mexican war, lends additional interest to the war-time portrait of McClellan, which is the frontispiece of the number. Under the laconic title, Our March Against Pope, Gen. Longstreet gives the Confederate view of the second Bull Run campaign, with some caustic criticisms and amusing anecdotes.

Antoine Louis Barye, the French sculptor, is the subject of the opening illustrated article, by Henry Eckford, who gives a thoughtful study of the man and his art, as well as anecdotes and information. Geo. W. Cable contributes a paper on The Dance in Place Congo. City Dwellings, attractively illustrated, the subject of Mrs. VanRensselaer's fifth paper on Recent American Architecture.

In fiction there are the opening chapters of Mr. Howell's new story, The Minister's Charge. Other most entertaining articles, and the usual departments in a state of unusual repleteness, make the mid-winter Century one of the most interesting ever published.

CANADA METHODIST MAGAZINE FOR FEBRUARY.—Contents:—Mr. T. J. Moore's second article on "The Wonders of the Yellowstone," is as graphic in description as it is beautiful in illustration, than which we can give it no higher praise. H. E. Clarke, Esq., M.P.P., for West Toronto, contributes an admirable and well-illustrated Sketch of Travel to the Rocky Mountains. An interesting account of the Hudson's Bay Company and an inside View of Life at a Hudson's Bay Post is also given, with several engravings. The Rev. Dr. Lathern, of the Nova Scotia Conference, writes a spirit-stirring life-sketch of the grand moral hero Sir Henry Havelock, acccompanied by an excellent portrait. The account of the Relief of Lucknow makes the pulses tingle. Of special interest to many readers will be an admirable Memorial Sketch, by the Rev. Dr. Potts, of the late Dr. Slade Robinson. The powerfully written story of Jan Vedder's Wife grows in intense and pathetic interest. Dr. Sutherland concludes his serious and important paper on the Final Outcome of Sin; and another of Canon Farrar's beautiful Studies of the Four Gospels is given, which alone is worth the price of the Magazine. The Editor discusses the Educational Work of the Church and the subject of Revivals.

Coming to Guelph.

Doctors of the great English staff of physicians and surgeons will visit the Commercial Hotel, Guelph, on the 6th of February, and will remain until the 15th of February. These doctors have but one fee which is $6. This charge includes consultation, examination, advice and medicine, for an entire course of treatment. It matters not what your complaint may be, nor how short or long standing, their charge will be no more or less than $6.00. They have made their fees small so as to enable the poor to obtain treatment. If your case is hopeless they will refund your money before you leave the office, as they will not take any case to treat without there is a moral certainty of giving entire satisfaction. If your case is incurable they will frankly and honestly tell you, also caution you against spending more money for medicine which travelling imposters are liable to suggest. They will not keep any patient in suspense relative to their disease. If you are troubled with lung or heart disease, an absolute disclosure will be made in such a manner as not to be productive of shock to the patient. Number of patients treated and rejected in the following places viz.:—

Cobourg	416	of whom	267	were rejected

Hespeler Correspondence.

A PLEASANT SLEIGH RIDE.—On Saturday afternoon last the scholars and teachers of the Methodist Church Sunday School took their annual sleigh ride. The Superintendent, Mr. James Hamer, spent about an hour packing, in as comfortable a manner as possible, six sleigh loads of living freight. Two of the loads drove to Galt, and the others to Preston, and returned after a couple of hours all bearing the ruddy complexion usually imparted by a sleigh ride, and apparently well satisfied with the trip. People accustomed to much driving have but a small idea of the enjoyment afforded by a sleigh ride to those who seldom participate in it.

A MAN OF MANY OFFICES.—Instead of employing several officials our town fathers have recently secured the services of one man who is to be town constable, caretaker of cemetery, caretaker of public school, caretaker of roads and sidewalks, health officer and collector of taxes. The appointee is Mr. Henry Winterhalt, and a better or more fitting one could not have been easily hunted up. He has held the office of constable for some time and has more than once shown his efficiency by bringing "the boys" to time for little misdemeanors.

SALE OF THE ROLLER RINK.—We have just been informed that the Roller Rink has been disposed of to a party in Guelph, for the sum of $500. Of course the sale was the right to use the building for some three years, at which time it comes into the hands of Messrs. Harvey & McQuestin, manufacturers.

LECTURE BY REV. DR. CARMAN.—Rev. Dr. Carman is to deliver a lecture in the Methodist Church here on the evening of the 23rd inst. Judging by the missionary sermon preached here by the Rev. Doctor some weeks ago, we may safely anticipate a great literary treat.

GONE TO HER REST.—Last week our citizens were called upon to mourn the loss of one of the town mothers, Mrs. Pabst, mother of Mr. C. Pabst, of the Germania House. This venerable lady was in her 83rd year, and was of course widely known and highly respected.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

Excellent Results.

Dr. J. L. Willis, Eliot, Me., says: "Horsford's Acid Phosphate gives most excellent results."

Fergus Correspondence.

REFUSAL.—We are sorry to hear that Dr. Wallace has decidedly refused to accept the unanimous request of the Reformers of Centre Wellington to take his seat in the Dominion Parliament. We think he did right to decide at once, but the duty he owes to his country should have made him decide to accept the position and carry the Riding by storm. He was a strong candidate. First taken up by the Convention he defeated all opponents and received a full support from all, and it is to be regretted that this first choice did not stand. We were always opposed to bringing out any candidate so early. John A. will not have an election till he cannot help it. Let the Reformers keep cool and attend to details of importance, as the voters' list. Get men ready for war. A leader will turn up in due time, but when that leader is again chosen let those choosing know if their choice will accept if desired. It is bad policy to nominate a man that will not accept the position. Fergus has taken active steps to attend to the voters. Meetings have already been held for that purpose. We hope other municipalities will be alike active.

LECTURE.—Mr. Cameron, of Lucknow, gives an address here on Thursday evening, 11th inst. Subject, "The future destiny of Canada." The proceeds are in aid of Cumnock Church. We hope to see a good attendance.

COUNCIL.—No business of any great importance was enacted at our Fathers' meeting last night. A Board of Health was appointed the same as last year—the Council itself. The News-Record received the contract for printing. There was considerable discussion on sidewalks, etc., and the Council adjourned. A special meeting will be held on Thursday night to appoint an assessor and poundkeeper.

CARNIVAL.—The roller rink carnival on Friday night drew quite a crowd. Several were in costumes. The band played during the evening and the several attractions passed off satisfactorily.

SKATING.—A grand time is expected at the rink on Thursday, when prizes to the amount of about $90 will be given, the first prize being $25. Some fast time on ice will be made, We cannot say how many have entered for the races, but plenty to make them exciting. The band will be on hand.

MUSIC.—Our string band produced the music for the fantastic at the Drayton Masonic ball last week, and received much praise for its excellence.

BREAD AND BUTTER.—A bread and butter assembly is on hand in the Fergus drill shed for Friday night. It will no doubt be fine. There will be more than bread and butter.

EXHIBITION.—Inspector Craig, of Fergus, has some splendid school work in his office, performed by pupils at schools throughout the county. He purposes sending some of the finest specimens of drawing, writing, etc., to the Minister of Education, and from there the collection will be forwarded to the Colonial Exhibition in London, coming off next summer. This is to show how far our system o Education beats the world.

CHURCH.—Mr. McKay, of Eramosa, preached a fine sermon to a union congregation in Melville church on Sunday night, communion having been held during the day. The regular business meeting of this church for the year was held yesterday. Rev. Mr. Smellie intends going to the Old Country for four months' rest next summer. His place will be supplied by the Presbytery. The congregation discussed the jubilee to be given their pastor on March 1st, in Fergus. After the business was all done nearly one hundred of those at the meeting accepted their pastor's invitation, and spent a pleasant hour at the manse, where they were entertained and lunched.

NORTHWEST.—Conversation with one of Steele's Northwest scouts, who was in the rebellion last spring and has been living near Calgary ever since, goes to show that an Indian rising in the spring is to be expected and it it should come it will be much worse than the war of last spring. He says the Indians are friendly with each other and are not at all afraid of the police. In one case four Indians prevented eight police from recovering stolen horses, showing that the Indians are about masters. Dewdney, he says, is unusually disliked. Middleton was no great favorite. We are inclined to think $20,000 might have been better used given to those more deserving than in this case.

FRATERNAL.—The officers of the Oxford Rifles kindly invited those of the 30th to dinner in Woodstock. We have not heard how many of our officers upheld the tigers on that occasion.

COMING IN.—There is a great quantity of wood coming in now. Sleighing is good. Sports are rather dull.

WEDDING BELLS.—Some of our villagers are assisting in the marriage of Miss L. Campbell, of Belwood, to Mr. James A. Goodal, of the same place this evening. We wish them all happiness.

Fergus, Feb. 2, 1886.

This is to certify that I have used McGregor's Speedy Cure for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, and do honestly say that if it cost me one hundred dollars ($100.00) a bottle I would not be without it, as it has done me more good than all the medicines I ever used, and I feel like a new man.—Yours truly, Alex Steel, Carleton Place, Ont. THURSDAY EVE'G FEB. 4, 1886.

Mr. Gladstone's New Cabinet.

After considerable trouble Mr. Gladstone has succeeded in forming his Cabinet. In its personnel there is not much change from his old one which went out of office a few months ago, the only new members being the Marquis of Ripon and Mr. John Morley. These two members will, however, add strength to the Government. The Marquis of Ripon distinguished himself as Viceroy of India. Mr. Morley is new to official life, but he is well known as one of the ablest writers of the day on political questions. He is an advanced Liberal, and though in favor of Home Rule for Ireland is as strongly in favor of the rights of the Crown being maintained over that country. It is generally expected that his appointment as Chief Secretary for Ireland will be acceptable to the great majority of the Irish members.

Nearly all the members of the new Cabinet hold different positions from those previously occupied by them. The only two exceptions are Mr. Gladstone and Lord Kimberly. Those most conspicuous by their absence from the new Cabinet are the Marquis of Hartington, Lord Derby, Sir Charles Dilke, and Mr. Shaw Lefevre. But for the pending divorce suit Sir Charles Dilke would no doubt have been taken into the new Cabinet.

As regards ability the new Government will compare favorably with its Tory predecessors. Mr. Gladstone, the Premier, is a giant in himself, and the whole country—indeed we may say the whole world—is looking to him at the present moment to solve the difficulties which surround the question of legislation for Ireland. Whether he will be able to do so remains to be seen, but of one thing we are sure that he is most anxious to do so, that he will set his whole mind and energies to the work, and that if he fails it will be no fault of his for want of honest and faithful endeavour. The latest report is that he will introduce first a bill to stop evictions, then to bring in his Home Rule Bill, concomitant with a scheme for buying out the landlords, with the proviso that Home Rule is not to take effect until the purchase scheme has been passed into a law, the understanding being analagous to that carried out with regard to the franchise and redistribution measures.

MR. HENRY CARGILL, Reeve of Greenock, and formerly of Nassagaweya, has been nominated as the Tory candidate for the Commons for East Bruce.

SPEAKING of the address delivered in London, Ont., by the Hon. Edward Blake, the New York Sun says his advice "is the perfection of political wisdom, and the more thoroughly the Canadians follow it the better it will be."

THE course of the Tories in the Ontario Legislature in dragging the Riel question into the arena is generally condemned by the Tories in Ottawa as a piece of very bad policy. No doubt the Tories throughout the country echo the sentiments of their brethern in Ottawa.

THE Montreal Star says: "It is sincerely to be hoped that Mr. Joly can be prevailed upon to enter the Dominion Parliament. There is no one whose presence would be more welcome to the people at large. A gentleman without fear and without reproach, he would do honour to any legislative body in the world."

THE Dominion Franchise Act will not only disfranchise many Methodist ministers as we stated before, but also many teachers, who are subject to short terms of service and frequent changes. Many commercial travellers will also lose their votes—probably the whole of those travellers who are single and who live in hotels, or who give up their rooms during journeys.

ONE of our ablest lawyers has just passed away in the person of Mr. Joseph Doutre, Q.C., of Montreal. Mr. Doutre was brought into the greatest prominence by the Guibord case, which agitated the whole country a few years ago. In that case he was Counsel for the Institut Canadien and finally obtained a decision of the Privy Council authorizing the interment of Guibord's remains in consecrated ground. He was also one of the counsel on the British side before the Halifax Fishery Commission in 1877, when the award of five millions was obtained from the United States for the use of Canadian Fisheries. A few years ago he published a digest of the British North American Act, which work is now the standard authority on Constitutional law.

Nervous Debilitated men.

You are allowed a free trial of thirty days of the use of Dr. Dye's Celebrated Voltaic Belt with Electric Suspensory Appliances, for the speedy relief and permanent cure of Nervous Debility, loss of Vitality and Manhood, and all kindred troubles. Also, for many other diseases. Complete restoration to health, vigor and manhood guaranteed. No risk is incurred. Illustrated pamphlet, with full information, terms, etc., mailed free by addressing Voltaic Belt Co. Marshall Mich.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Toronto, Feb. 3.

The following bills were introduced and read the first time:

Hon. C. F. Fraser—To secure compensation for workmen in certain cases.

Mr. Gibson (Hamilton)—To amend the Assessment Act.

Hon. A. S. Hardy presented the following:—An Order in Council with reference to the commutation of the Surrogate fees of local masters; the report of the Inspector of Insurance for 1885; a return of the Toronto General Trusts Company; a report of the Inspector of Prisons respecting the educational institutes for the blind and deaf and dumb; the report of the Elgin House of Industry.

Mr. Meredith asked when the report of the Commission of Inquiry into the Central Prison would be presented.

Hon. A. S. Hardy—The report is in type and will be ready in a few days.

Mr. Waters asked if the Government intended to introduce any assessment measure dealing with the question of exemptions.

Hon. O. Mowat suggested that notice should be given of the question.

The February Century.

The publishers respectfully call attention to the fact that in the contents of the mid-winter Century may be found a remarkable list of names associated with the history, literature, and art of America. A peculiar interest attaches to General Grant's Preparing for the Wilderness Campaign. Here he is dealing with his plans for the last grand campaign, extending from the James round to Nashville, Atlanta, and the sea, and which gave the Confederacy the death hug. His method is vivid and anecdotal, and as outspoken regarding the personal aids and drawbacks of his officers as the physical difficulties to be overcome. Anecdotes of McClellan's Bravery, by one of his officers who was a companion in arms as far back as the Mexican war, lends additional interest to the war-time portrait of McClellan, which is the frontispiece of the number. Under the laconic title, Our March Against Pope, Gen. Longstreet gives the Confederate view of the second Bull Run campaign, with some caustic criticisms and amusing anecdotes.

Antoine Louis Barye, the French sculptor, is the subject of the opening illustrated article, by Henry Eckford, who gives a thoughtful study of the man and his art, as well as anecdotes and information. Geo. W. Cable contributes a paper on The Dance in Place Congo. City Dwellings, attractively illustrated, the subject of Mrs. VanRensselaer's fifth paper on Recent American Architecture.

In fiction there are the opening chapters of Mr. Howell's new story, The Minister's Charge. Other most entertaining articles, and the usual departments in a state of unusual repleteness, make the mid-winter Century one of the most interesting ever published.

CANADA METHODIST MAGAZINE FOR FEBRUARY.—Contents:—Mr. T. J. Moore's second article on "The Wonders of the Yellowstone," is as graphic in description as it is beautiful in illustration, than which we can give it no higher praise. H. E. Clarke, Esq., M.P.P., for West Toronto, contributes an admirable and well-illustrated Sketch of Travel to the Rocky Mountains. An interesting account of the Hudson's Bay Company and an inside View of Life at a Hudson's Bay Post is also given, with several engravings. The Rev. Dr. Lathern, of the Nova Scotia Conference, writes a spirit-stirring life-sketch of the grand moral hero Sir Henry Havelock, accompanied by an excellent portrait. The account of the Relief of Lucknow makes the pulses tingle. Of special interest to many readers will be an admirable Memorial Sketch, by the Rev. Dr. Potts, of the late Dr. Slade Robinson. The powerfully written story of Jan Vedder's Wife grows in intense and pathetic interest. Dr. Sutherland concludes his serious and important paper on the Final Outcome of Sin; and another of Canon Farrar's beautiful Studies of the Four Gospels is given, which alone is worth the price of the Magazine. The Editor discusses the Educational Work of the Church and the subject of Revivals.

Coming to Guelph.

Doctors of the great English staff of physicians and surgeons will visit the Commercial Hotel, Guelph, on the 6th of February, and will remain until the 15th of February. These doctors have but one fee which is $6. This charge includes consultation, examination, advice and medicine, for an entire course of treatment. It matters not what your complaint may be, nor how short or long standing, their charge will be no more or less than $6.00. They have made their fees small so as to enable the poor to obtain treatment. If your case is hopeless they will refund your money before you leave the office, as they will not take any case to treat without there is a moral certainty of giving entire satisfaction. If your case is incurable they will frankly and honestly tell you, also caution you against spending more money for medicine which travelling imposters are liable to suggest. They will not keep any patient in suspense relative to their disease. If you are troubled with lung or heart disease, an absolute disclosure will be made in such a manner as not to be productive of shock to the patient. Number of patients treated and rejected in the following places viz.:—

Cobourg	416	of whom 267	were rejected
Belleville	755	" 386	"
Peterboro	570	" 211	"

Hespeler Correspondence.

A PLEASANT SLEIGH RIDE.—On Saturday afternoon last the scholars and teachers of the Methodist Church Sunday School took their annual sleigh ride. The Superintendent, Mr. James Hamer, spent about an hour packing, in as comfortable a manner as possible, six sleigh loads of living freight. Two of the loads drove to Galt, and the others to Preston, and returned after a couple of hours all bearing the ruddy complexion usually imparted by a sleigh ride, and apparently well satisfied with the trip. People accustomed to much driving have but a small idea of the enjoyment afforded by a sleigh ride to those who seldom participate in it.

A MAN OF MANY OFFICES.—Instead of employing several officials our town fathers have recently secured the services of one man who is to be town constable, caretaker of cemetery, caretaker of public school, caretaker of roads and sidewalks, health officer and collector of taxes. The appointee is Mr. Henry Winterhalt, and a better or more fitting one could not have been easily hunted up. He has held the office of constable for some time and has more than once shown his efficiency by bringing "the boys" to time for little misdemeanors.

SALE OF THE ROLLER RINK.—We have just been informed that the Roller Rink has been disposed of to a party in Guelph, for the sum of $500. Of course the sale was the right to use the building for some three years, at which time it comes into the hands of Messrs. Harvey & McQuestin, manufacturers.

LECTURE BY REV. DR. CARMAN.—Rev. Dr. Carman is to deliver a lecture in the Methodist Church here on the evening of the 23rd inst. Judging by the missionary sermon preached here by the Rev. Doctor some weeks ago, we may safely anticipate a great literary treat.

GONE TO HER REST.—Last week our citizens were called upon to mourn the loss of one of the town mothers, Mrs. Pabst, mother of Mr. C. Pabst, of the Germania House. This venerable lady was in her 83rd year, and was of course widely known and highly respected.

Hespeler, February 3rd, 1886.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

Excellent Results.

Dr. J. L. Willis, Eliot, Me., says: "Horsford's Acid Phosphate gives most excellent results."

Fergus Correspondence.

REFUSAL.—We are sorry to hear that Dr. Wallace has decidedly refused to accept the unanimous request of the Reformers of Centre Wellington to take his seat in the Dominion Parliament. We think he did right to decide at once, but the duty he owes to his country should have made him decide to accept the position and carry the Riding by storm. He was a strong candidate. First taken up by the Convention he defeated all opponents and received a full support from all, and it is to be regretted that this first choice did not stand. We were always opposed to bringing out any candidate so early. John A. will not have an election till he cannot help it. Let the Reformers keep cool and attend to details of importance, as the voters' list. Get men ready for war. A leader will turn up in due time, but when that leader is again chosen let those choosing know if their choice will accept if desired. It is bad policy to nominate a man that will not accept the position. Fergus has taken active steps to attend to the voters. Meetings have already been held for that purpose. We hope other municipalities will be alike active.

LECTURE.—Mr. Cameron, of Lucknow, gives an address here on Thursday evening, 11th inst. Subject, "The future destiny of Canada." The proceeds are in aid of Cumnock Church. We hope to see a good attendance.

COUNCIL.—No business of any great importance was enacted at our Fathers' meeting last night. A Board of Health was appointed the same as last year—the Council itself. The News-Record received the contract for printing. There was considerable discussion on sidewalks, etc., and the Council adjourned. A special meeting will be held on Thursday night to appoint an assessor and poundkeeper.

CARNIVAL.—The roller rink carnival on Friday night drew quite a crowd. Several were in costumes. The band played during the evening and the several attractions passed off satisfactorily.

SKATING.—A grand time is expected at the rink on Thursday, when prizes to the amount of about $90 will be given, the first prize being $25. Some fast time on ice will be made. We cannot say how many have entered for the races, but plenty to make them exciting. The band will be on hand.

MUSIC.—Our string band produced the music for the fantastic at the Drayton Masonic ball last week, and received much praise for its excellence.

BREAD AND BUTTER.—A bread and butter assembly is on hand in the Fergus drill shed for Friday night. It will no doubt be fine. There will be more than bread and butter.

EXHIBITION.—Inspector Craig, of Fergus, has some splendid school work in his office, performed by pupils at schools throughout the county. He purposes sending some of the finest specimens of drawing, writing, etc., to the Minister of Education, and from there the collection will be forwarded to the Colonial Exhibition in London, coming off next summer. This is to show how far our system o Education beats the world.

CHURCH.—Mr. McKay, of Eramosa, preached a fine sermon to a union congregation in Melville church on Sunday night, communion having been held during the day. The regular business meeting of this church for the year was held yesterday. Rev. Mr. Smellie intends going to the Old Country for four months' rest next summer. His place will be supplied by the Presbytery. The congregation discussed the jubilee to be given their pastor on March 1st, in Fergus. After the business was all done nearly one hundred of those at the meeting accepted their pastor's invitation, and spent a pleasant hour at the manse, where they were entertained and lunched.

NORTHWEST.—Conversation with one of Steele's Northwest scouts, who was in the rebellion last spring and has been living near Calgary ever since, goes to show that an Indian rising in the spring is to be expected and if it should come it will be much worse than the war of last spring. He says the Indians are friendly with each other and are not at all afraid of the police. In one case four Indians prevented eight police from recovering stolen horses, showing that the Indians are about masters. Dewdney, he says, is unusually disliked. Middleton was no great favorite. We are inclined to think $20,000 might have been better used given to those more deserving than in this case.

FRATERNAL.—The officers of the Oxford Rifles kindly invited those of the 30th to dinner in Woodstock. We have not heard how many of our officers upheld the tigers on that occasion.

COMING IN.—There is a great quantity of wood coming in now. Sleighing is good. Sports are rather dull.

WEDDING BELLS.—Some of our villagers are assisting in the marriage of Miss L. Campbell, of Belwood, to Mr. James A. Goodal, of the same place this evening. We wish them all happiness.

Fergus, Feb. 2, 1886.

The Metropolitan roller rink, Toronto, was burned on Wednesday night.

The continued use of Robinson's Phosphorized Emulsion invariably cleanses the blood from all impurities and restores the system to a state of healthfulness, that is manifested in increased constitutional vigor, mental activity, and lightness and bouyancy of spirits. Always ask for Robinson's Phosphorized Emulsion, and be sure you get it.

This is to certify that I have used McGregor's Speedy Cure for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, and do honestly say that if it cost me one hundred dollars ($100.00) a bottle I would not be without it, as it has done me more good than all the medicines I ever used, and I feel like a new man.—Yours truly, Alex Steel, Carleton Place, Ont. This medicine is for sale at 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at Thos. S. Petrie's Drug Store.

CHAPTER VII

ALICE.

It was at breakfast on the following morning that Helen sought and obtained permission to go and nurse her old friend. Even Alice, when she came to hear of it, seemed interested, and said that since the doctor had expressed a wish to have Helen, she could not well refuse to go.

So, as soon as breakfast was over, Helen made her preparations, and went to Dr. Hazlitt's house with the intention of staying there till in one way or the other he could do without her. As there was nothing to attract her at home it came to pass that some weeks slipped by without her seeing any of her family. She was not missed, and as the certainty increased every day that Dr. Hazlitt would never leave his bed alive she was in no humour for taking part in the festivities going on at The Thwaite. The only gleam of anything like pleasure which visited her during these weeks was her intercourse with Percival. He and the doctor were such friends it was perfectly natural that he should pay frequent visits to the old man without its being supposed that Miss Lafone counted for anything in his reasons for going. But these visits were a great boon to Helen. Many a night watch had been made less arduous to her by the fact that Percival had come in just as they were settling down, and had sat for half an hour telling them all the Osmotherley news. Or she came to her day's work with far more strength and cheerfulness because Percival had looked in early, and said things, the remembrance of which had stayed with her the whole day, and made her sad task lighter.

For it was a very sad task which she had taken upon herself—to nurse through his last illness the friend of her whole life, whose kindness had been unfailing and his sympathy always ready.

During these weeks Percival went more to The Thwaite, rather against his will, since Helen was not there, and yet not without curiosity and interest. He could no longer complain of being one in a crowd. Alice's mood seemed to have changed; a dozen times a day he was made to feel that he was the object of her special interest.

On this particular afternoon she had almost insisted upon his coming to the house, and he had come, very much against his will, for it had been his intention to relieve Helen at her post, and to send her out for a walk. Alice, however, contrived to arrange things so that he could no longer refuse her request, and so in the course of the afternoon he found himself strolling in the garden alone with Alice, and in a very bad temper.

"Do you know, Mr. Moore," she was saying as she walked slowly by his side, her majestic height allowing her to keep perfect step with him, "what first made me take an interest in you, and think you must be different from other men?"

"I would not presume to distiugnish one from another among the many good reasons you must have had."

"Ah, you are sarcastic," smiling straight into his face, and letting him have a glimpse of the transparent depths of her blue eyes. "Do not give yourself that trouble. I never see the point of a sarcasm unless I choose, and if I choose not to show that I have seen it, I defy anyone to find it out. I want to tell you this, and I shall tell you, however sarcastic you choose to be."

"I should never think of being sarcastic with you. If you have anything to say, may I beg of you to say it now, and in a few minutes I must go, and it would grieve me to have to interrupt you."

"Why do you want to go?" she asked almost impatiently. "I have noticed that whenever I want to talk you always begin to say you must go. Where do you go to, and what do you do when you get there?"

"I can hardly expect that with all your kind indulgence for my many failings, you could support the recital of a long list of business engagements."

He spoke in a half bantering tone, but Helen would have detected a shade of impatience in it. Alice, besides, being devoid of the feeling which made it so easy for Helen to read Percival's moods, had not so fine an instinct, and she went on—

"If it is a matter of business we will say no more about it. What I was going to say is that you made me think you must be different from other men because you never paid me any compliments. Did you know?"

In spite of his annoyance, and the fact that he was beginning to feel bored, he could not help smiling, and his tone was a little more cordial as he replied—

"I do not pay compliments in the instinctive, unconscious way in which I breathe and move. I was perfectly aware that I had not yet exerted myself on your behalf."

"How simple you say it, as if it were not a matter of course to pay compliments. I wish some of the men I know thought so. If you knew the ridiculous platitudes I am sometimes compelled to listen to! I will tell you a secret. Often when I have been sitting in front of my looking glass, I have fallen in love with my own face, and have paid myself far more delicate and appreciative compliments than any man ever did. You see I knew exactly what where my pet vanities, and what I wanted to hear about them. I believe I could give any man, be he ever so skilled, a lesson in the art. If you ever want a teacher come to me."

"You see," replied Percival, "every position has its pains and penalties—even the most admired and adored have their times of disgust and weariness with the whole world. But remember, if you ever do get tired of all the flattery and homage you receive, that your weariness comes from very excess of what many women would give a great deal for a small share of. People who attract everyone can never excite the depth of feeling which falls to the lot of those whose beauty and charm exist for perhaps one alone."

"Do you think so?" she said reflectively. Then, after a short pause, she went on—"There may be some truth in it, but still," raising her beautiful head, and flashing her eyes into his, "it is glorious to be beautiful, to feel your power, and to know that you are at once the happiness and misery and the unattainable hope of more men than you care to count. I don't think I could exchange even the superficial homage of a crowd for the lifelong, unobtrusive devotion of one single man. It would have its advantages and it would be secure, but I think it would be dull."

Percival was surprised. Her words gave an idea of greater depth of character than he had given her credit for possessing. This seemed to imply that she had really considered her position, weighed its drawbacks and advantages, and ended in choosing to hold temporary away over the hearts of many rather than to reign unalterably in that of one. She had chosen the lower seat, and not unconsciously. She knew there was a higher. She had perhaps given serious thought to the glory of attaining it, but though not without backward, uplifted glances, she had decided to remain upon the lower level. There had been a struggle in her heart. How did he that it was at an end, that it might not be renewed at some future time with different results? She was very young; if the right man came in time, he might be almost sure of the victory. Only he must be the right man, that supposed his work would be full of interest.

Alice went on—

"I know you think I have chosen badly and that I have sunk in your esteem; always supposing you had some esteem for me, which I sometimes doubt. I have rather a gift for reading other people's thoughts, and I know you thought I was not worth taking the trouble to understand. It may be so, but you have no given me a fair chance. See, I will make a bargain with you—if you will take the trouble to study my character, I will take the trouble to give you opportunities for doing so, and to show you my true self. I do not let everyone see it. Do you agree?"

Some recollection of a conversation he had once with Helen flashed into his mind, and made him ask—

"Of what importance is my opinion to you that you should go out of your way to seek it?"

She shrugged her shoulders as she replied—

"How can I tell? A woman's reason—because it is. You are a friend of the family, and I have a caprice that you should think well of me. I am full of caprices. Will you take my bargain? Your hand upon it."

In spite of himself he was interested, and he clasped her outstretched hand, saying—

"You must not complain if you think me a hard judge. Now I must go; good-bye."

"Good-bye," she cried. "We begin to-morrow."

Ontario Temperance Alliance.

TORONTO, Feb. 3.—The seventh annual convention of the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance opened at Temperance Hall yesterday morning, with about 90 delegates present. In the absence of the President, Hon. S. H. Blake, Rev. A. E. Russ, of Milton, was called to the chair. F. S. Spence, Secretary, read the report of the Executive Committee. It showed that out of 22 contests in the Province, 17 were carried. W. G. Fee was thanked for his efforts in connection with these contests.

Ex-President Mayor Howland was present for a few minutes in the afternoon. He expressed his sympathy with the work. He said it would be no use to try to carry the Scott Act in Toronto. He did not think it could be done just yet.

The evening session was held in the schoolroom of Richmond Street Methodist Church. The financial report stated that the receipts for the year including a balance of $49.76, amounted to $1,466.57. The expenditure was $1,463.72. Most of the afternoon and evening sessions was taken up with discussing the provision of machinery for the enforcement of the Scott Act. The general opinion was that the Ontario Government should provide the necessary machinery. A report was presented and adopted covering a provision for Scott Act counties, which will be submitted to the Government. The Committee on Legislation also submitted a report, recommending delegates to the Dominion Alliance to urge that an effort should be made to have a square vote taken in the House of Commons at its coming session on the question of immediate prohibition.

TORONTO, Feb. 4.—The Alliance at yesterday morning's session adopted the remainder of the report of the Legislation Committee, which recommended among other things, that all the bar-rooms be closed on week nights, except Saturday night, at an hour not later than 9 o'clock in townships and villages and 10 in towns and cities, Saturdays to remain as at present; that all billiard tables and games be prohibited in licensed houses; that parties tried for drunkenness give evidence as to where they got liquor, and that provision be made in the Crooks Act for taking the poll in polling sub-divisions on the question of license or no license, providing thirty voters residing in such polling subdivision petition the Municipal Council within not less than thirty days of the close of the calendar year to have such vote taken at the regular municipal elections, and if there be a majority for "no license," the Commissioners shall not issue any licenses in such polling subdivisions for one year after the expiring of existing licenses.

In the afternoon the Alliance elected the following officers:—President, Hon. S. H. Blake; Treasurer, H. O'Hara; Secretary, F. S. Spence; Executive Committee, W. H. Howland, J. J. McLaren, Rev. Dr. Potts, Rev. Mr. Keefer and others.

A large deputation waited on the Attorney-General, Hon. A. S. Hardy, and Hon. G. W. Ross, to urge the adoption by the Government of the views of the Alliance. Mr. Spence read the demands of the Alliance, which included the removal of all screens and blinds from barrooms, and having liquor sold only in bars open to the front street, and with windows so arranged that any one could see in; the rigid enforcement of the Scott Act wherever adopted, and the appointment of Police Magistrates, Commissioners, Inspectors and Constables in those Counties, all of whom should be in full accord with the provisions of the Act.

Mr. Mowat said the Government had decided to appoint Commissioners and Inspectors in those Counties, but the other matters had not yet been considered, but should be. Mr. Hardy pointed out that no inspectors could fully carry out the provisions of the Act unless supported by the community in the Scott Act counties, and urged the deputation to see to it that the needed help was afforded. He said there was a provision in the Act for the appointment of Inspectors by the municipalities themselves, who should act in concert with the County Inspector. Only by getting men in each municipality to assist the Inspector could the Act be sustained. At the evening session it was decided to ask an opinion from sister Provincial Alliances respecting the amendments to the Scott Act proposed by the Brewers' Association at Ottawa.

On motion of E. H. Maddock, seconded by Dr. Ryckman, the Convention expressed its satisfaction at the fact that no intoxicating liquors were used at the London banquet to Mr. Blake.

Joint Missionary Work.

OTTAWA, Feb. 3.—A committee of ministers of the Presbyterian and Methodist Churches met in St. Andrew's Church yesterday to devise some plan for uniting the missions in smaller places. The Methodist ministers were Rev. Messrs. Hooker, Williams, McKitchie, Hansford, Scott and Mariety. The Rev. Messrs. Scrimger, Hastie, Jardine, Warden and Campbell represented the Presbyterian body. Rev. Mr. Hooker was appointed chairman of the Joint Committee, and Rev. Dr. Jardine, Secretary. Resolutions embodying a general scheme for joint missionary work were adopted, to be submitted to the High Courts of the respective religious bodies.

Local News

REV. DR. SEXTON, is to lecture in Galt on the 21st inst.

JAMES FORRESTER, Rockwood, had his leg broken by a kick from a horse the other day.

REV. DR. GRIFFIN will preach on Sunday evening at the re-opening of the Galt Methodist church.

REV. FATHER CASSIN, formerly of Priceville, takes the charge, just vacated by Rev. Father O'Connell, at Mount Forest.

THERE is every likelihood of a butter factory being established at McBean's cheese factory, St. George, during the coming season.

It seems only a step from the tragic to the ludicrous. All you want is a space and an apostrophe to turn manslaughter into man's laughter.

MR. BEARERS, late of the Elmira Advertiser, and Mrs. Bearers, were presented with an address and purse by the members of the Elmira Methodist Church prior to their removal to Galt.

MR. CHAS. F. BELL, junior member of the widely known firm of B. Bell & Sons, St. George, manufacturers of farming implements, died at his residence in St. George on Sunday morning last.

There is something extremely wrong in a fashion that makes a lady at a ball carry a long, useless trail of a dress in her hand when she is actually needing something to cover the nakedness of her shoulders.

After a gentleman has broken his leg or his neck tobogganing he is expected to make his apology to his companion and withdraw for the evening. It is regarded as bad form to go on sliding unless particularly requested to do so by the lady.

WHILE Rev. Mr. Tonge, Alma, was splitting wood a few days ago the axe caught a clothes line and came down upon his forehead inflicting a nasty wound. The doctor summoned found it necessary to stitch the gash together.

APPLY ASHES.—There may be some objections to sprinkling ashes on the slippery sidewalks, as they sometimes cling to the feet and are carried on carpets. But even these objections are not commensurate with the evil of broken legs, backs or heads. Therefore throw ashes on the icy sidewalks.

Brantford will prepare a pamphlet adorned with engravings of the principal buildings in the city for free distribution at the Indian and Colonial Exhibition. This seems to be a more sensible idea than sending a lot of views of the town to be stuck away in some unseen corner as is being done by Guelph.

COMING DOWN ON SKATING.—The Brantford ministerial association at its recent meeting gives skating the following slap in the face:—We cannot but earnestly deprecate the tendency to hurtful dissipation and positive immorality through some of the associations and practices of skating rinks. We therefore respectfully urge upon parents the urgent need of guarding their children from the financial waste and mental, social, domestic and moral peril involved.

WHAT MADE HIM STEAL?—Jas. Brown, of Harriston, who confessed to having stolen a quantity of goods from a car at Palmerston recently and returned the articles, and who is now in Guelph gaol awaiting sentence, was hitherto considered a well-to-do man. When it became known that he had been arrested for theft it created quite a sensation in Harriston. He is the owner of a good farm, and considerable town property, as well as having plenty of cash. Was it greed that made him steal?

THE RINK.—The carnival to-night at the Rink from present indication will be a great success, the ice being in grand condition and entries being large and varied in respect to characters. The polo match will last 15 minutes and being a novelty on ice will prove a drawing card. The medal race has now become doubly interesting on account of the leading position McCutcheon and Bunyan held in their respective races last night. Brandon is also noted for his great speed in a two mile race. Every one bring skates and 15 cents and spend a few hours in good exercise and enjoy heaps of fun at the same time.

IRISH ARISTOCRACY.—The Montreal Herald of the 26th has the following in reference to Gibson & Ryan, who appear in Guelph on Monday night in the play of the above title:—"Messrs. Sparrow & Jacobs, the enterprising managers of the popular theatre Royal have made a splendid hit in producing Gibson & Ryan's play of "Irish Aristocracy." The first performance was given yesterday, and crowds were turned away at both matinee and evening. Messrs. Gibson & Ryan, in their respective characters of "Michal Mulcahey" and "Michael Muldoon," are too well known to need description. Their acting is immense, full of jocularity and amusement, and causing roars of laughter. The support is good. Little Caro Burke, a pretty little Miss of five years of age, who took the part of "Jennie Muldoon," brought down the house by her clever acting and singing. She certainly is a wonderfully clever little lady, and was deservedly applauded. The piece is well put on and is safe to draw packed houses, and it would be wise to secure seats in advance to avoid the crush of yesterday." Reserved seats at Pringle's.

SHILOH'S CURE will immediately relieve Croup, Whooping Cough and Bronchitis. Sold by A. B. Petrie.

Probabilities.

Generally fair weather slightly higher temperature, higher temperature on Saturday.

A DETATCHMENT of the Salvation Army has attacked Rothsay.

THE C. P. R. Company are to erect a new station in Harriston next spring.

MR. FRANK CLARK, Elora, has purchased Mrs. Tytler's residence in that village.

MR. ANDREW MILLER, of Woolwich, has sold his farm of 50 acres for $3,410, and, intends going to Nebraska.

MR. HENRY WISSLER, of Salem, was a successful student at the final law examinations in Toronto last week.

JOSEPH O'DONNELL was before the Police Magistrate this morning and after medical testimony was sent up to jail as a lunatic.

ON account of the hard frost Mr. John J. Sutton is unable to post the bills for Gibson & Ryan's performance here on Monday night.

CONSIDERING the cold weather of the past three days there have been comparatively few breakages in water pipes, which will no doubt be a source of disappointment to the plumbers.

THE Choral Union have engaged the City Hall for the 16th of March, when they intend to give a grand concert. The Caledonian Society have also engaged the hall for their annual concert on the 1st of July.

SEVERAL of Rockwood's young men are now in Australia and like it well. Two are teaching, one is principal of a High School, one is controlling manager of Mr. Lyon's agents. All are receiving good salaries.

WHILE Mr. Thos. Everett, of Elora, was driving his team across the river, near Mr. Farrow's farm in Pilkington, the other day the ice gave way. After considerable difficulty driver and horses were extricated safely.

RELIEVING Officer Clarke has distributed a great deal of relief so far this week, principally in the shape of wood. He is daily besieged with tramps asking for railway passes. The majority of them have to take the proverbial "shank's mare" for their destination.

JOHN ERNST, an old resident of Waterloo, died at Hamburg, where he had been living with his daughter-in-law for about a year. He was 79 years old, and has been in this county at least half a century. He has for many years been Reeve of Wilmot, magistrate, in fact one of the most prominent men in the township.

WOOLWICH AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—At the recent meeting of the Township of Woolwich Agricultural Society held at Elmira, the following gentlemen were elected for the ensuing year:—H. Groff, President; Wm. Mackie, Vice-President; Peter Winger, Secretary-Treasurer. Directors, Isaac Wismer, Jacob L. Umbach, Alex. Peterson, Daniel S. Snider, Michael B. Oswald, Henry Christman, William Glennie, Jacob Steffler, Isaac Devitt. Honorary Directors, Menno Weber, John H. Ruppel, and A. Werner. Auditors, Michael Weichel, Sim. H. Ratz.

GOING TO MICHIGAN.—Mr. John Marshall formerly of Puslinch, returned home to Tiscula Co., Michigan, to-day after a two weeks visit to friends in this neighborhood. Mr. Marshall owns 160 acres of land in Tiscula and is well pleased with the country. He takes back with him a fine shorthorn bull from the well known herd of Mr. James Hunter, Alma. On Monday his brother Alex. will leave for the same place where he intends to take up land. He will take with him a car load of stock composed principally of a shorthorn cow purchased from John McCorkindale, four Shropshire sheep bought from James Glennie and three horses of his own.

CURLING.—The two rinks selected to play in the final competition for the Ontario tankard, in Toronto, are playing a practice game this afternoon. The rinks are composed as follows: J. Emslie, R. Mitchell, A. Robertson, A. Congalton, skip. Jas. Anderson, J. Spalding, Thos. Dobbie, D. Kennedy, skip. The rink from the various districts that wins the tankard will also win and hold the gold medal offered by Mr. Henry Michie, President of the Ontario Branch of the Royal Caledonian Curling Club. Several of the curlers are asking why, when the ice is in such good condition, the competitions for the Gow cup and other rink trophies are not being pushed ahead? It looks as if the skips were afraid to face each other.

DEATH OF A PIONEER.—The Acton Free Press says:—At the close of Sabbath last the soul of Mrs. Asa Hall, one of the first settlers in this section, departed from its earthly clay. For several years Mrs. Hall has been an invalid, the past few months of which her sufferings were at times intense. For half a century she was an active member of the Methodist Church. She arrived at the ripe old age of 74 years and 10 months, and for the past fifty years has been the loving helpmeet of her respected and now sorely bereaved partner in life, who survives her. She was the mother of five children, four of whom are alive and well known to our readers. The funeral on Tuesday afternoon was largely attended. The services were conducted by Rev. J. W. Holmes, Guelph, who preached an able and very interesting discourse in the Methodist Church on the occasion.

THE COLD DIP.—The weather of the past three days has been the coldest that has been experienced this winter, and appears to have been pretty general over the continent, extending from the lakes to the Atlantic and down to the Southern States, the only sections skipped being the Northwest territories and the extreme Southern States. All day yesterday, with the exception of a couple of hours or so near noon, the day was bitterly cold with a cutting breeze blowing. At five o'clock this morning the thermometer at the General Hospital stood 24 degrees below zero; at Mr. Alex. Mackenzie's residence, at 7 o'clock, 20° below; at Savage's store at 8 o'clock, 18° below. Mr. George Elliott's self-registering thermometer only marked 20 as the lowest point, and at the Agricultural College, where there is every appliance for having a correct record, an indication was made at 23½ degrees. At noon to-day it was one degree below zero. The cold has had the effect of keeping people pretty much within doors, except in unavoidable instances, consequently business has not been very brisk. In Quebec yesterday at 8 a. m., the thermometer stood at 22 degrees below; in Owen Sound, 27½, and in Ottawa 30.

GET your seats at Pringle's for Gibson & Ryan's Irish Aristocracy.

Twenty-three below zero. Duty on coal fifty cents a ton.

A PARTY of young folks from Guelph drove to the Lake last night and indulged in a social dance at the hotel there.

THE C. P. R. Company are to erect a new station in Harriston next spring.

MR. FRANK CLARK, Elora, has purchased Mrs. Tytler's residence in that village.

MR. ANDREW MILLER, of Woolwich, has sold his farm of 50 acres for $3,410, and, intends going to Nebraska.

J. B. LANG, Guelph, shipped yesterday a breeding pen of White Leghorn's to W. Tufft, of Welland. The price paid was good.

HE TOOK WHISKEY.—He was a prominent Guelph Alderman, and was discussing the temperance question with a total abstainer, while a commissioner was filling up an affidavit to which he intended swearing. In the middle of the discussion the commissioner handed him a Bible in order to take the oath, but the Alderman's mind being occupied with the subject matter of the discussion, he raised the Bible to his lips in an absent minded sort of way and said, "Well, here's to you." Tableau!

MARCH TO THE TOBOGGAN SLIDE.—Last evening the members of the Guelph Snow Shoe and Toboggan Club assembled on the Market Square in front of the office of Mr. John Davidson, President, and formed a torch light procession. There were close on fifty members bearing torches, and about a score more without. The President took the lead, having his toboggan attractively decorated with Chinese lanterns. The route taken was along Macdonell to Norfolk Street to the junction with Woolwich, thence along that street to Wyndham. On coming along this street in single file, serpentine fashion, and occasionally shooting off rockets as they proceeded, the effect was very good and the appearance attractive. On reaching St. George's Square the procession filed around the fountain and discharged a number of rockets, after which they proceeded down Wyndham and Macdonnell Streets turning at Bell's factory, and proceeding along Market Square and the Dundas Road to the slide on Macdonald's hill, where they enjoyed themselves until ten o'clock.

"An Evening with Miss Havergal."

The first open meeting of the Young People's Association of the Norfolk Street Methodist Church was held in the lecture room last evening. The programme took the form of a selection of vocal music and readings from the writings of Frances Ridley Havergal. One of her well known hymns appropriately opened the entertainment, after which the chairman, Rev. J. W. Holmes, offered prayer and made a few brief remarks. The Misses Stevenson, Messrs. Thomas and Knowles followed in a nice quartette, and Mr. W. S. Galbraith's reading, "What will you do without Him." was well given. Miss J. E. Smith's paper on Miss Havergal's life and work was perhaps the most interesting feature of the meeting. The graphic and complete picture of her inner life, the lights and shadows, the joys and sorrows, were pourtrayed with a sympathy and taste which gave evidence of loving appreciation on the part of the essayist with her subject, while the verses interspersed lent an additional charm and showed the life aim of Miss Havergal to be—"the Master's glory." The solos by Miss Fielding and Miss Schofield, which brought the first part of the programme to a close were fully in keeping with the general excellence of the programme. After a short intermission, Miss H. L. Maddock, in her selection, "Alice's Story," gave the audience a glimpse of Miss Havergal in a somewhat simpler vein, and the reading last evening lost nothing of its interest at her hands. Rev. Henry Edwards, who has arranged to give lessons in elocution in this city, delighted his hearers with a masterly rendition of the pathetic story of "Scotland's Martyr Maiden," and his second reading showed him to be equally at home in lighter pieces.

Miss Crowe's solo, "A worker's prayer," was sweetly rendered and the quartette, "Thou art coming," by the Misses Scroggie, Messrs. Knowles and Scroggie met with just appreciation. Prof. C. C. James in his number "The Ministry of Song" was accorded very close attention, which he well deserved. The solos of Miss Stevenson and Mr. George Thomas were excellent, and the quartette by Messrs. Knowles, Harris, Lawson and Knowles was given in good style. The programme throughout reflects much credit on the care and talent of the young people of the church, and although the intense cold prevented a very large attendance, the result was satisfactory. The evening's entertainment was brought to a close about 10.30 p. m.

The Late Mrs. Blake.

The Globe says:—The remains of the late Mrs. William Hume Blake, mother of the Hon. Edward Blake and Mr. S. H. Blake, Q.C., arrived in the city at half-past four o'clock yesterday afternoon by the express from the west. His Honour Judge Elliott, of London, brother-in-law of the deceased; His Honour Judge Robinson, of Sarnia, and Mr. Verschoyle Cronyn, of London, son-in-law of the deceased, accompanied the remains from London. They were met at the station by Messrs. Edward Blake and S. H. Blake and their families, and the remains were conveyed quietly to St. James' Cemetery. The funeral service was read by Canon Dumoulin. Only members of the family were present.

Ice Racing at Fergus.

Last evening proved to be an exciting and enjoyable time of it on the Fergus rink, the features being a five and a three mile race open to all comers for handsome prizes. The weather being so intensely cold prevented large numbers from attending who would otherwise have done so.

There were four enteries for the five mile race, Black, Phelan, Walker and McCutcheon. The first named was of course the favorite, and Phelan second, the general feeling being that McCutcheon, the Guelph representative would not take a place. For the first mile and a half Phelan led, with the balance close on his heels. At two miles Black forged ahead and maintained the first position to the close of the race, while the speed began to tell on Phelan who gradually lost ground. Walker was still holding his own, he and McCutcheon being good second When three miles had been traversed the latter fell, losing a quarter lap, but he soon recovered himself. Immediately after this Walker, who was in great form and second at this time, tripped and came with great force against the lower end of the building bending and almost breaking the blade of his skate, and practically disabling him for continuing, and after a couple of laps more he accordingly retired. The respective positions at the end of the fourth mile was Black, McCutcheon and Phelan. This was maintained to the close of the race, Black coming in winner by about a quarter lap, while McCutcheon was about the same distance ahead of Phelan. The general impression was that had it not been for McCutcheon's fall he would have made it very interesting for Black. His skating was very much admired. Phelan skated superbly, and one would scarcely have thought him the same man that skated here a week ago. The trio will make a grand race whenever they may appear in future.

The three mile race was noted for its large number of entries, no less than seven being called, of whom six appeared. The starters were Bunyan and Brandon, Guelph, Walker, Fergus, Gale, Salem, Krausmann and Couse, Elora. For the first mile Walker led with Bunyan and Brandon close behind, Krausmann, Gale and Couse, in rotation. After that Bunyan took the lead, Gale making a spurt and taking second. About the time the two mile call was heard Bunyan tumbled and lost half a lap, but with his well known grit recovered himself and in less than three laps again had the lead, Gale running him a close and exciting race. Within six laps of the finish they had each lapped the other contestants, and now the interest centered in them, Bunyan finally winning by about four feet. The others came in a lap behind in the following order: Krausmann, Walker, Brandon, Couse. Thus ended the most interesting meeting ever held on the Fergus rink.

France's Crown Jewels.

PARIS, Feb. 4.—The chamber of deputies to-day agreed that the crown jewels should be sold to provide a fund for aged workmen. It is estimated that the jewels will produce $40,000,000. The gems of artistic and educational interest valued at 15,000,000 francs, will be handed to the museum and school of mines. The imprial crown swords that belonged to Louis XVIII., and the dauphin will be melted in order to prevent the possibility of their falling into the hands of showmen.

BELLEVILLE FLOODED.

More than One Hundred Families Homeless.

BELLEVILLE, Feb. 4.—Bad as was the situation in the flooded district yesterday, it has altered materially for the worse within the last few hours. The intense cold that has prevailed for the past three nights has, by causing the formation of anchor ice in great quantities, almost completely blocked up the mouth of the river and dammed back the water to a height of about eight feet above its ordinary level. Not a furnace in the basement of any of the stores in the principal business portion of the city, but has been submerged, and immense inconvenience has been caused. The last that was flooded out was that in the Government building, which was reached yesterday evening. From the upper bridge southward on the west side of Front street to the lower bridge all the back yards and premises in rear of the stores are inundated, and several manufactories and bakeries have been compelled to suspend operations. All the buildings in a large district, over half a mile in length, with not more than half a dozen exceptions, have from six inches to four feet of water in them, and most of them have been vacated. A few families are huddled together in the upper storeys, where they have suffered severely from the cold, it being necessary to keep at least one door open as a means of communicating with the outer world. Two blacksmith's shops and two hotels have been obliged to suspend business, and the rapid rise in the water of over a foot which has taken place since morning has compelled the evacuation of some offices and business premises which had previously escaped. In the Ontario office the water covers the floor of the press room to a depth of five or six inches, but a temporary floor has been put in, and the presses have been raised above the flood. No 1 fire engine has been forced to seek other quarters, and the water now reaches within a few inches of the floor in the Intelligencer press room and business offices.

The water is steadily rising, and it is now feared that the whole of Front street will be submerged and the business of the city brought virtually to a standstill. More than one hundred families have been rendered homeless, and sixty-nine of these families are dependent upon public charity.

Singular Suicide.

A press despatch published a few days ago stated that John R. Moore, a farmer living near Burlington, Lapeer county, Mich., had opened a stove, plunged into it, and received such frightful injuries that death soon ensued. It appears that Moore had been ill for some time, and occasionally became insane. During the absence of his wife one day, he deliberately took the top off a box-stove that stood in his room, a large fire burning in it, and dived head first into it. The stove was not large, and Moore being a small man, his body completely filled the aperture. When his wife returned she was horrified to find his legs sticking out of the stove, and the upper part of his body in flames. She made a desperate effort to extricate her husband, but he was too tightly wedged in, and she had to secure assistance to rescue him. When taken out one eye and one ear were gone, and his face and arm so burnt that the flesh fell off in flakes. The unfortunate man only lived a few hours.

Loss about $15,000.

Guelph Daily Mercury

FRIDAY EVE'G FEB. 5, 1886.

Enforcing the Crooks Act.

The following is the circular which has been issued by the Provincial Secretary to License Inspectors throughout the Province, and which was under the consideration of the License Commissioners of South Wellington the other day:—

PROVINCIAL SECRETARY'S OFFICE, (LICENSE BRANCH,)
TORONTO, Jan. 29th, 1886.

SIR,—The decision of the Imperial Privy Council recently given in the matter of the appeals respecting liquor licenses has placed the whole question of the authority to issue licenses and regulate the traffic in intoxicating liquors upon a stable and permanent basis, and has put the authority of the Provincial Legislature in reference thereto beyond controversy or cavil.

Special efforts to counteract or overcome the state of confusion and uncertainty which the passage of the Dominion license law has during the past two or three years caused in the administration of the liquor license laws are absolutely necessary. Confusion and uncertainty will no longer paralyze the efforts of the Inspectors and Commissioners to suppress illicit selling or the violation of the Sunday clauses of the Provincial law.

The undersigned therefore begs specially to direct the attention of the Board of Commissioners and Inspectors to the following points in connection with the rigid enforcement of the law:

1st. The entire suppression of all illicit selling.

2nd. Prompt and vigorous enforcement of all penalties for violations of the Sunday and Saturday night clauses of the Act.

3rd. That holders of wholesale and shop licenses confine their sales strictly to the terms and conditions of their licenses.

4th. The enforcement of the clauses of the License Act of 1885, known as 'the Gibson clauses,' 48 Vic. Chap. 43, S. 1.

Inspectors will be held strictly accountable for the enforcement of the law within their districts. Investigations will promptly follow reasonable complaints and nothing short of faithful and zealous performance of duty will be accepted. Where proper, the employment of assistance will be promptly approved by the Department upon the report of the Commissioners and Inspectors of its necessity before actual employment.

Inspectors will, in all cases when they deem it necessary, call upon the police or constabulary. If aid is refused or neglect be continuous or systematic, they will report the facts to the Department.

Inspectors are requested to report to this Department quarterly or oftener if requested, whether the police force in cities and the police or constabulary in other municipalities comply with sections 94 and 97 of the act, R. S. O., cap. 181 and section 25 of 44 Vic. cap. 27 (sections 131, 136, and 137 of the compiled acts.)

You will be good enough to lay this communication before the Board of Commissioners at their next meeting.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
ARTHUR S. HARDY,
Provincial Secretary.

To the Inspector of Licenses.

In this connection it will be seen that a large deputation from the Dominion Alliance waited on the Ontario Government on Wednesday in reference to the enforcement of the Scott Act. Mr. Mowat in replying to the deputation stated that the Government intended to appoint Commissioners and Inspectors for every Scott Act county. Mr. Mowat stated that the Government have not yet decided whether they would appoint Police Magistrates in the Scott Act counties. He remarked that if the temperance sentiment was strong enough to carry the Act, it should be strong enough to get the County Councils to appoint the machinery to enforce it. No one would suggest that the Government should pay the salaries of Police Magistrates in all the counties. The whole country did not adopt the Act, and those portions which did not should not be burdened by a charge of this kind. The revenue derived from fines would have a tendency to decrease every year, because either the law would be observed or offenders would go to prison. Hence such a fund would be inadequate for the salaries of the Magistrates. In Halton the fines had fallen as low as $500 a year from five times that amount.

The Hon. Mr. Hardy also addressed the deputation on the subject. He pointed out the difficulty, he might say impossibility, of keeping up a sufficiently large body of detectives in Scott Act counties to be able to cover the whole ground. He remarked that the temperance people must themselves educate public opinion in Scott Act counties. The Government would be overwhelmed with work if they attempted to do more than appoint Commissioners and Inspectors, and leave the temperance people to supplement the efforts of such officials by friendly aid. The county and township councils were empowered to appoint Inspectors. He did not know what pressure they had brought to bear upon their local authorities to appoint these aids and assistants. The usefulness of an inspector was to a large extent limited unless the local councils and authorities were interested in his work, as in large districts of country it was impossible for him to be everywhere. The Government could not promise more than the Inspector and Commissioners.

THE Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance, at its session in Toronto on Thursday, decided to circulate for signature petitions to Parliament against the proposal of the Brewers' Association to amend the Scott Act by allowing the sale of ale and beer.

THE actual Reform majority in the Ontario Legislature is 19. Mr. Fraser's amnesty resolution was carried by a majority of 16, with two Reform members absent without pairing. This would bring the majority up to 18, and to this we have to add the Speaker's vote, which brings up the total to 19.

SAYS the Ottawa Free Press:—"A painful story comes from Port Arthur, which it is sincerely hoped is not true. A correspondent declares that there are a number of men in the town starving at the present time from ck of employment, and that to several of these men the Canadian Pacific railway owes wages for October and November."

THE trouble between landlord and tenant has reached a crisis in Wales. The landlords there have combined to resist the demand for a 25 per cent. reduction in farm rents. As yet it is not known what the tenants will do, but it is feared that the Irish programme of refusal to pay rents, eviction and agrarian outrages may be repeated in Welsh soil.

THE Ottawa correspondent of the Globe says it is generally believed that the amendments to the address moved by Mr. White in the Ontario Legislature were framed by Sir John, though he, as well as all the other members of the Cabinet, now plead ignorance of the whole affair and protest that the Conservative party of the Dominion should not be held responsible for the actions of Mr. Meredith and his supporters.

THE Council of the Ontario College of Pharmacy are not satisfied with the regulations affecting druggists under the Scott Act. At the semi-annual meeting now being held in Toronto, the Committee on By-laws and Legislation have presented a report in reference to this subject which the Council have adopted. They recommend that the amendments embodied in the bill introduced by Mr. Jamieson should be passed, which would more clearly define the duty of druggists in relation to the selling of liquor under the Act. They are not at all anxious to be entrusted with the privilege of selling liquor, but if this right is to be granted to them they claim that it should be done under proper regulations.

Now that the Grand Trunk Railway has inaugurated the system of cheap Saturday excursions to Guelph it behoves the merchants here to let the fact be known as generally as possible throughout the country affected by this arrangement. Mutual advantages on the part of those who patronize the excursions and on that of our merchants are to be derived from these excursions if they are only properly advertised and encouraged. In Guelph people in the outlying villages and farmers contiguous to them can no doubt deal to great advantage, there being large and varied stocks to choose from, and prices which are kept down by extensive buying and keen competition. By all means let these things be pointed out, as well as the fact that the highest figures can always be obtained for all kinds of farm produce on the Guelph market.

IT is understood that the estimates to be laid before the Dominion Parliament by the Government will contain an appropriation of about $150,000 for the purpose of paying inspectors and reimbursing hotel keepers who took out licenses under the Dominion License Act. It seems that the Inspectors were only paid for one year and that their salaries for the past nine months, aggregating over $100,000, are still due. This money will have to be paid out of the revenues of the country for the carrying out of an Act which by the decision of the Privy Council has been pronounced to be ultra vires, and which should never have been imposed on the country. All the expenses connected with it, therefore, together with the payment of salaries and refunding of fees, is so much money thrown away, which the country has to pay, and for which they hold the present Government responsible.

Coming to Guelph.

Doctors of the great English staff of physicians and surgeons will visit the Commercial Hotel, Guelph, on the 6th of February, and will remain until the 15th of February. These doctors have but one fee which is $6. This charge includes consultation, examination, advice and medicine, for an entire course of treatment. It matters not what your complaint may be, nor how short or long standing, their charge will be no more or less than $6.00. They have made their fees small so as to enable the poor to obtain treatment. If your case is hopeless they will refund your money before you have the office, as they will not take any case to treat without there is a moral certainty of giving entire satisfaction. If your case is incurable they will frankly and honestly tell you, also caution you against spending more money for medicine which travelling imposters are liable to suggest. They will not keep any patient in suspense relative to their disease. If you are troubled with lung or heart disease, an absolute disclosure will be made in such a manner as not to be productive of shock to the patient. Number of patients treated and rejected in the following places viz.:—

Cobourg	416 of whom	267	were rejected
Belleville	755 "	386	"

MR. GLADSTONE'S PLANS.

As Set Forth in his Address to Midlothian.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—Mr. Gladstone will tomorrow issue his election address to the electors of Midlothian, giving the elements of the policy upon which he asks that constituency to return him to the House of Commons. The Prime Minister will state that the Government will institute an enquiry into the entire land question in Ireland and into the question whether there exists any necessity for the introduction of any specially coercive measures in legislation for the Irish people. But the main policy of the Government will be to endeavor to reach the source and seats of the mischief generally admitted to exist in that counrry. Although the difficulties of the task, says Mr. Gladstone, make it impossible to anticipate success with confidence, we shall draw comfort from the knowledge that we are engaged in a great work of peace.

The appointment of Lord Rosebery as Secretary for Foreign Affairs is generally approved. It is believed Rosebery will follow the policy pursued by Salisbury. The markets have in no wise been affected by the announcement of the composition of the new Cabinet. Egyptian securities are firm.

No opposition will be offered to the re-election to Parliament of Mr. Chamberlain President of the Local Government Board in the new Ministry.

The newspapers of Ireland generally interpret the appointment of John Morley as Chief Secretary for Ireland to mean the transfer of power to Irish rulers, but they say that precedents warn people against being too sanguine.

Mr. Gladstone says that there are three questions concerning Ireland which demand the attention of Parliament the question of social order, the question of land reform, and the question of self-government. The desire for self-government, he says, must necessarily be subject to the law of imperial unity. The Government hopes to find a safer and more effectual method than coercion to remedy the social troubles.

The Daily News interprets the manifesto to mean that Mr. Gladstone intends to deal with the Irish questions in the order in which he has mentioned them. It thinks that the scheme will secure the unanimous support of the Liberals, while the Conservatives cannot with decency oppose, and will almost certainly support, measures for the establishment of social order and the reform of the land law. The News adds that if Mr. Parnell really has the welfare of his country at heart he will have an opportunity to evince his patriotism, but if he obstructs the completion of Mr. Gladstone's scheme, Parliament will turn a ready ear to a proposal of coercive measures.

The Liberals and Conservatives changed sides on the meeting of the House of Commons to-day. In the House writs were moved for the re-election of members who have been appointed to office by Mr. Gladstone except in the case of John Morley. The House of Commons adjourned until Saturday, Feb. 27, and the House of Lords until Monday.

The Queen, acting upon the advice of Mr. Gladstone will appoint a successor to Lord Carnarvon, Lord-Lieut. of Ireland. The writ for the re election of Mr. Morley cannot be issued till Lord Carnarvon's successor has been appointed.

Mr. Herbert Gladstone will accept the post of financial secretary in the war office.

John Morley's opponent in the recent parliamentary election at Newcastle is preparing to contest the seat at the coming re-election.

Mr. Chamberlain in his election address says he hopes to devote his attention to the land question. He is willing to support any just and reasonable proposal to settle the Irish question in accordance with the desire of the people, subject to the supremacy of the Crown in Ireland and the integrity of the Empire.

Archbishop Walsh, in an address at Dublin last evening said he was personally unacquainted with Mr. Morley, but appreciated the kindly spirit which inspired his speeches and writings from a purely political aspect. While welcoming him at the present time, under other circumstances Mr. Morley's views on matters pertaining to the Church merit an emphatic protest from every Irishman who values the faith of the Catholic people.

Eramosa Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

The annual meeting of the above company was held at the Centre Inn on Wednesday 27th January, at two o'clock p. m. There was a large attendance of the members of the company. Lazarus Parkinson, Esq., President, was appointed chairman, and after making a few well chosen remarks on the increased interest manifested in the affairs of the company, he called upon the Secretury to read the following report and financial statement:

ANNUAL REPORT.

In laying before you the 25th annua report of the affairs of the Eramosa Mutual Fire Insurance Company, your Directors refer with satisfaction to the gratifying condition of the Company's affairs at the close of another year.

For some years past we have had a steady increase in our membership, and also in our assets. The public have been watching us, and are beginning to have confidence that we are as likely to carry their risks safely, as are companies which charge two or three times as much as it costs to insure with us.

Our losses during the period of our existence have been very light, and we can hardly expect to pass another twenty-five years with so little loss as has marked the past.

Our business is not large, being confined entirely to the Township, and all our risks are of the isolated non-hazardous class, consequently our experience is limited; but still, during the past twenty-five years we think we have fairly established one fact, viz., that the actual cost of insuring farm property against ordinary risks is exceedingly small.

In looking over the past we find that the entire amount paid on a $1,000 policy for twenty-five years has been $33.60, which gives an average of $4.02, for three years insurance. Now, of the total amount paid into the company during that time, $2,485.90 has been paid for losses, and we have over $2,800 to our credit, which reduces the actual cost to less than $2 for insuring $1,000 for three years. We trust the farmers of our township will ponder well these facts, and we feel satisfied they must conclude that they can insure their property with us as safely, and at much lefs cost than in any company which does business with all classes of risks.

Since our last annual meeting we have paid the small loss which happened to the dwelling of Mr. Daniel Talbot, on 2nd December, 1884, also the cost of repairing the roof of Mr. David Shultis' house which was damaged by fire on 20th September last. These items of expenditure you will find in the financial statement.

The annual assessment for 1885, amounts to $208.25, of which sum $116.59 has been paid in.

During the year we have issued 85 policies; of these 14 were new risks. The amount of property insured during the year is $134.700, and the premium notes taken during the year amount to $6,213.25. We have now 193 policies in force, the total amount of property insured is $378,660, and the total amount of premium notes held by the company after deducting all payments thereon and assessments levied is $12,487.17.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

LAZARUS PARKINSON, President. HUGH BLACK, Secretary.

JOHN MCQUEEN, DUNCAN STEWART, } Auditors.

On motion by Messrs. Wm. D. Wood and Daniel Talbot, the annual report and financial statement were received and adopted.

The question of insuring against the risk of steam threshers was brought up, and was very fully discussed.

A motion by Messrs. John Scott and David Rea, to take the risk of steam threshers, subject to certain rules, to be decided upon by the Board of Directors, was lost, the vote standing 16 in favour, 20 against.

A motion by Messrs. Thomas Copeland and Daniel Talbot, to change our present form of insuring chattels from specifying the several items, "Produce, Stock," etc., to the term Farm Stock and Produce; and implements be kept a separate item, was carried by a vote of 18, against 20 in favour.

An amendment by Messrs. John Scott and David Shultis, to in future use the term ordinary contents, was lost.

The election of Directors for ensuing year was then taken up.

On motion by Messrs. Daniel Talbot and Thos. Waters, the number of Directors was fixed at six.

Ballots were then taken and the following gentlemen were elected for the ensuing year, viz: Lazarus Parkinson, David Rea, James W. Benham, Thos. Waters, John A. Armstrong, John Black.

At a subsequent meeting of the Directors, Lazarus Parkinson was re-elected President.

HUGH BLACK, Secretary.

Snow Storms in the States.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The snow storm which prevailed yesterday continued all night. It is a regular Western blizzard and undoubtedly the worst storm New York has experienced since 1882. The streets are filled with snow, and the street cars are pulled along with great difficulty by double teams. All the mails are delayed.

HARRISBURG, Va., Feb. 4.—Three inches more of snow fell last night. The pike across the mountain to West Virginia is so blockaded as to be impassable for a month. There is great suffering among stock. The mercury has fallen 23 degrees since noon and is still going down.

NEWPORT, R. I., Feb. 4.—Newport is experiencing the heaviest snowstorm known for several years. Since yesterday afternoon from 10 to 12 inches have fallen.

THE ALLANBURG MURDER.

An Open Verdict Returned.

WELLAND, Ont. Feb. 5.—The fourth and last sitting of the coroner's jury on the Bates case took place at Allanburgh today. The jury were obliged to render an open verdict. Coroner Cummins summed up the evidence and asked Detective Murray to give the jury the benefit of his opinion of the case. Mr. Murray said that his theory is that no murder was committed by any outside party. He thinks that the old people had been in bed, that the old man was attacked by one of his fits of delirium, that the old woman had got up to pacify him, that she had dressed hurriedly, putting on her clothes over the night dress, that she had lain down on the lounge and fallen asleep, that the old man had afterwards got up and with a hatchet or some similar instrument inflicted the blow which crushed his sleeping wife's skull. As for the other wounds on Mrs. Bates' body, Mr. Murray said there was no accounting for the acts of a crazy person, and it was likely the old man had inflicted the various gashes after the fatal blow was struck. There were several ways of accounting for the old man's death. He may have killed himself or died from the effect of heart disease after going into the cellar. The detective failed to account for the fire in any way.

The County Council offer a reward of $200 for the conviction of the murderer. Thorold Township Council will also probably offer some reward. No inquest was held on the body of Jos. Bates, as the charred remains found cannot really be identified as the corpse of the old man.

The Wheat Prospects.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 5.—The special crop reports to the American Rural Home of this city, from all the wheat growing regions, indicate that the wheat is well covered with snow and is in a good condition in that respect for a good crop. Thousands of wheat areas in Dakota, however, will be fallow this summer to correct foulness and weediness.

Still Unrecovered.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Feb. 5.—It is now seven weeks since the occurrence of the terrible disaster in Slope 1 of the Susquehanna Coal company at Nanticoke, by which twenty-six men lost their lives. The men working in the gangways are of opinion that it will be weeks, and possibly months, yet before they can reach the spot where the bodies are supposed to be.

CONCERT IN GALT.—In reference to the concert given in Galt recently, under the auspices of the young ladies of the Galt Collegiate Institute, the Reporter has the following in reference to Miss Braniff, teacher of vocal music in Loretto Convent: "Miss Braniff has a very pleasing, lady-like appearance on the stage. She possesses a clear, fairly powerful voice, under good cultivation, and rendered her solos and parts so as to meet with the warm applause of the audience. Miss Coffee, Guelph, was one of the accompanists on the piano. Miss Braniff intends opening a class in vocal music in Galt.

DAUGHTERS OF REBEKAH.—The first regular meeting of the newly organized Beatrice Lodge, Daughters of Rebekah No. 12, was held in the Oddfellows' hall last evening, and was well attended, the majority of the charter members being present. During the evening nine ladies and ten gentlemen were initiated and a number of propositions were received. The by-law committee brought in a new code of by-laws which were read a first time, and which will be adopted at an adjourned meeting. An entertainment committee was appointed to furnish a programme at the meetings to make them enjoyable. Beatrice Lodge starts under good auspices, and it is the intention o the sisters and brothers to make it th banner lodge of Ontario.

CHALMERS' CHURCH S. S.—Last night the annual entertainment of Chalmers' Church Sabbath School was held in the basement of the Church. There was a good attendance of the parents and friends of the children present, all of whom, the little ones especially, enjoyed a very pleasant evening. The chair was occupied by the superintendent, Mr. Adam Turnbull, who spoke a few kindly words to the scholars, after which the other part of the programme, consisting of music, etc., was left in the hands of Mr. H. K. Maitland, leader of Psalmody in the church. The different pieces were exceedingly well rendered, and gave evidence of the careful training which they had received at the hands of Mr. Maitland. During the entertainment the scholars were treated to bags, well filled with sweets and other tasty things, the contents of which were fully discussed, when the entertainment was closed.

SPEED SKATING RINK.—The carnival last night at the rink was fairly attended, considering the cold weather. The Polo Match was an interesting feature, but the light weights proved rather too strong for their heavier opponents, who succeeded in taking 3 goals to 0 in about 15 minutes. The names of the winners were A. Gibbs, Fields, Cutten, Hewer, Dillon, Fulljames. The race for the medal was close and exciting between Bunyan and Brandon, McCutcheon falling out before the finish, Brandon ultimately winning by a few feet. Next Thursday the most noted skaters in the Province will meet here to contest for the championship, and handsome prizes in five and three mile races. Black, Dawson, Speight, Phelan, Lee, Walker and other noted skaters have expressed their intention of taking part. Other announcements will be given.

ST. GEORGE'S CHURCH.—The conversazione held in the school room of St. George's Church Thursday evening was a very enjoyable affair. The attendance was not quite so large as could be desired, owing no doubt to the extreme cold, but those who were present went away satisfied that the time had been pleasantly and profitably spent. The seats were arranged on either side of the room, and in the centre were tables, upon which were to be found illustrated papers, stereoscopic views, and other objects of interest. A very large microscope kindly loaned for the occasion by Mr. A. Gausby was greatly admired, and was the chief attraction during the intermission. Those present were not slow to take advantage of the opportunity offered them for social intercourse, and all were made to feel at home. The Rev Mr. Edwards, Professor of Elocution from the Philadelphia School of Orators, added much to the pleasure of the evening by giving two excellent readings. His first selection was "The Last Hymn." For this he received a rapturous recall and responded by giving "Artemus Ward's Lecture," which caused great merriment. A good programme of vocal and instrumental music was carried out in a manner creditable to all concerned. The next entertainment will be held in the City Hall, on Thursday, 18th of February, of which notice has already been given.

IRISH ARISTOCRACY.—Messrs. Gibson & Ryan's company, who are to put the above play on the boards at the City Hall on Monday evening, will be remembered by many as the same who first presented "Muldoon's Picnic"—which is another name for "Irish Aristocracy—in this city two or three years ago. Those who saw them then are not likely to have forgotten the mirth provoking character of the play or the inimitable way in which it was put on by Messrs Gibson & Ryan and few of them will be apt to miss witnessing its repetition now. The following is selected from a number of highly flattering press notices. It is from the New York World and reads:—The leading characters are Michael Muldoon, enacted by Samuel J. Ryan, and Michael Mulcahey, represented by James K. Gibson. These two Michaels are Irishmen of an uproarious and thirsty nature, who are continually possessed of certain questionable luxuries called in the simple but expressive language of the day "heads." There movements are generally of an acrobatic nature and their speech highly uncomplimentary to surrounding personages. Messrs. Ryan and Gibson acted their roles with great earnestness and agility, and created a great deal of merriment. The company supporting the two leading actors was above the average. The theatre was full, and the people apparently enjoyed the performance thoroughly.

DEATH OF A VERY OLD RESIDENT OF PUSLINCH.—The Galt Reporter says:—We regret to announce this week the death of Mr. Angus McKellar, of Puslinch, near Killean. Mr. McKellar had been ailing for some time, so that his death was not unexpected. He was in his 71st year. Mr. McKellar came to Canada from Argyllshire, Scotland, sailing the day Queen Victoria was crowned, 20th June, 1837. He spent a short time about Peterboro', coming soon to Galt, however, and buying the land on the 1st concession of Puslinch, cut almost the first tree along the line. As soon as his preparations were completed he removed his young family to the house which he had erected and there he with some of them continuously resided until his death. During the 44 years of his residence he had the satisfaction of seeing the wild lot gradually put under cultivation, handsome and commodious buildings replace the humble ones of early days and prosperity prevail, where for many years nothing but the most active exertions kept the wolf from the door. Mr. McKellar was a genial, warm-hearted man, and enjoyed the respect and friendship of all who knew him thoroughly. He leaves a family of six sons and four daughters, viz: Mr. John McKellar, Postmaster, Avonton, Downie; Mr. Walter McKellar, of Michigan; Messrs. Archibald and William still residing on the homestead; Mr. Alexander McKellar, of New Mexico; and Mr. Duncan McKellar, of San Francisco; Mrs. A. Young, of Michigan; Mrs. David Jardine, of Galt; Miss Janet, residing with her brothers on the farm; and Mrs. John McCormick, of Puslinch. His aged widow resides with her sons also on the homestead. Mr. McKellar was buried in the pretty little cemetery at Killean, a very large gathering accompanying his remains to their last resting place.

HAMILTON Times:—John Thomas, of this city, was detained in Guelph on Thursday on suspicion of being connected with a robbery on the mountain about two years ago, when some chickens and grain were stolen from a farmer. Some of the stolen property was found in a house on John street, and a man was sent to jail for the theft. Chief Stewart sent word that Thomas was not wanted here.

A SPECIAL general meeting of the Board of Trade, Toronto, was held in that city on Friday, for the purpose of balloting for membership. Mr. W. D. Matthews, occupied the chair. RUNAWAY.—Mr. Joseph Heffernan, auctioneer, Nichol, met with a mishap this morning on his way to town. When passing Mr. John McGinn's place his horse became frightened at a threshing machine in operation near the side of the road, shied, threw him from the cutter, and then ran away. The animal was caught at Marden, having kicked itself free from the cutter which was badly broken up. Mr. Heffernan escaped unhurt. The horse received several light scratches on the legs.

THE AWARD OF PERSEVERANCE.—This morning Mr. E. Harvey, City Treasurer, and President of the Ontario College of Pharmacy, presented to Walter S. Galbraith, who received his elementary training in Mr. W. G. Smith & Co.'s drug store, the gold medal of the College, won by him in December last for the highest combined number of marks. The medal is a very handsome one, and is nearly twice the size of a $20 gold piece. On one side is inscribed the Arms of the College, surrounded by the words "Ontario College of Pharmacy, incorporated 1871." On the other side is a beautifully designed wreath, in the centre of which is the inscription "presented to Walter S. Galbraith, 1886," an surrounding the wreath are the words, "presented by the Ontario College of Pharmacy." Mr. Galbraith has just reason to feel proud of his hard earned tribute of proficiency in his calling.

THE GEORGE BROWN SCHOLARSHIP.—The financial experience of the Committee for the memorial to the Hon. George Brown is no less gratifying than rare. At a meeting of the Committee held yesterday, the treasurer reported a balance in hand of upwards $1,100, after defraying all expenses connected with the erection of the fine statue which now adorns the Queen's Park. After mature consideration it was unanimously resolved to appropriate out of the surplus on hand the sum of one thousand dollars to found a scholarship in University College, to be called "The George Brown Scholarship," to be annually awarded to the most distinguished student in the department of history and modern languages. We feel sure that no more appropriate object could have been selected; nor one more likely to command the approval of the whole body of subscribers. It identifies the name of the distinguished Canadian statesman with an institution in which he always manifested the deepest interest.—Globe.

A PLEASANT GATHERING.—Notwithstanding the intense coldness of Thursday evening last, it did not deter pleasure seekers from carrying out their programme of fun and frolic. About eight o'clock on that night three sleigh loads of human freight might have been seen driving out the Eramosa road, making the welkins ring with sounds of mirth and merriment. Their destination was soon reached, being the home of Mr. Geo. Whitelaw, Guelph Township, which was soon changed from its usual state of quietness to a modern "Kirk Alloway," from which resounded music, mirth and dancing. The company though select, was admirably calculated to turn everything to good account for its purpose, which was evidently to spend the evening in social enjoyment. The visitors were special friends of Mr. and Miss Whitelaw, principally from Paisley Block, Guelph city and Fergus. Checkers, music, dancing and other pastimes were freely engaged in, the host and hostess showing their tact and determination to entertain all, and indeed so well did they succeed in doing so that it was the "wee sma hours" ere home was thought of. The table fairly groaned under its load of substantials and delicacies, and so well did all hands acquit themselves in disposing of the contents thereof that the burden of the table was soon partially lightened. After singing "God Save the Queen" and "Auld Lang Syne" in the old-fashioned way, and a general good-bye all round, the party left for home.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—The receipts of the Anglo American Cable company for 1885, as compared with 1884, were reduced $469,000 by the cutting of rates and the competition of the Mackay-Bennett company. Unless higher tolls are sustained the Anglo-American threatens a war of rates.

Guelph Daily Mercury

SATURDAY EVE'G FEB. 5, 1886.

Dominion Franchise Act.

Now that the voters' list for 1886 for the city has been published fresh interest will be aroused in connection with the voters' list to be prepared under the Dominion Franchise Act. The Revising Officer for this Riding has decided to print his preliminary list made up of the names taken from the voters' list and those on the assessment roll entitled to vote. After this list is printed, and after the month's notice is given, as required by law, then at the first court to be held by the Revising Officer all who are entitled to vote under the Act, and who are not on the Revising Officer's preliminary list, are entitled to be put on by declaration.

It is with this object that we call the attention of Reformers in this riding to the provisions of the Act. By looking over these voters can easily ascertain whether or not he is on the present voters' list, and if not whether he is entitled to a vote under the provisions of the Act. We would especially direct the attention of young men to the provision made for their voting on income or as wage earners. The clause is as follews: That any young man who "Is a resident within (such city or town, or part of a city or town) and derives an income from his earnings or from some trade, calling, office, or profession, or from some investment in Canada, of not less than three hundred dollars annually, and has so derived such income, and has been such resident for one year next before 1st Jan., 1886, or in any subsequent year." Every one of the male operatives of 21 years of age and British citizenship by birth or naturalization, who earns $300 a year or is a tenant at $2 a month, $6 a quarter, $12 a half a year or $20 a year, and has paid a year's rent, has a vote in the constituency in which he resides, if he has resided there for a year. As regards the wage earners or the man who votes on income there are a large number of this class in this City who have a right to be put on the lists and who can do a great deal in urging their friends and companions to get their names also placed on the voters's lists. It is of interest to those young men to know that their enrolment involves no payment of taxes, as the provisions of the local Act are not applicable to those who are enrolled under the Dominion Act. All young men or others who are not on the present voters' list can have their names enrolled and the proper declaration made out by applying to Mr. Hugh McMillan, General Secretary, during business hours, at his office, over the Federal Bank.

SIR GEO. W. DESVAUX, Governor of Fiji, has been appointed Governor of Newfoundland, notwithstanding the fact that Sir Ambrose Shea was appointed to that position less than a month ago.

MR. C. W. BUNTING, of the Mail, is said to be urging his claims to be appointed a Senator in place of the late Hon. John Simpson, on the ground that he contested West Durham, which is included in the Home senatorial division, at the last Dominion election.

THE total revenue on account of the Dominion Consolidated Fund for January was $2,584,322, and the expenditure $4,906,460. The total revenue and expenditure for the seven months ending January 31st were respectively $17,360,027, and $22,477,315, the latter including $2,184,000 paid on account of the North-West rebellion, and $1,980,000 for Provincial subsidies.

A DEPUTATION of reeves of townships in the county of York waited upon Hon. Mr. Mowat the other day to urge amendments to the local improvement laws giving extended powers to township corporations. Mr. Mowat expressed approval of many of the points mentioned, and promised that they should receive his careful consideration.

THE Ottawa Journal (Tory) says:—"The Ontario Government has adopted the advice given by some of its best friends and will appoint an advisory board of farmers with whom the managers of the Ontario School of Agriculture may consult. This should have a tendency to make the school more practical and more thoroughly able to supply the wants of the Province. If the advisory board are chosen with care, not showing a preponderance of men who have some special "fad" to impress upon the country, but made up of level headed, progressive practical farmers, the change will undoubtedly result in good."

THOUSANDS of dollars of public money are being expended unnecessarily in preparing the Senate apartments for the meeting of Parliament. New flooring is being put in without necessity, and carpenters, painters, plumbers and other workmen have been engaged for weeks. After three men had spent about a month on varnishing the floors of one room, another set of men spent three weeks inscraping the varnish off, because it did not suit the Ministers' fancy. All this work is given to Tory jobbers without tender, by direction of Sir Hector Langevin, through his brother, the Clerk of the Senate.

MR. CARNEGIE has resumed active operations. The House on Thursday was again permitted to hear his familiar petition for a return from the Agricultural College. He will run this for the remainder of the session alternately with his timber license enquiry.

THE Marquis of Salisbury, Britain's ex-Premier on Friday received a deputation of unemployed workmen, who urged upon him the necessity of asking for Government help. Lord Salisbury told the men that he considered the question they presented more serious than the Irish question. He however, denounced the policy in vogue among foreign Governments of fostering industries by the granting of bounties from the public treasury, calling it a false political economy. He expressed the hope that the electors of Great Britain would give Prrliament the power to influence foreign Governments to abandon such policies. Concerning the land question Lord Salisbury said the proposition to help the poor by furnishing land to reclaim was impracticable, for the reason that nobody would invest capital in the work of reclaiming bad lad lands as long as the good lands of the country do not pay. In conclusion, he declared that the statesmen and Parliament must confront the question of how best to solve the problem of relieving the present general distress. It was growing while the population was increasing and caused emigration. Governmental support of private enterprises might be a good way to afford temporary relief and the promotion of public works might be another. He would do his utmost to contribute a satisfactory solution of the problem.

TORONTO was full of railway deputations on Friday. First there was a strong delegation from Parry Sound and surrounding district, asking the Government to bonus a road of forty miles, running due east from Parry Sound to some convenient point on the Northern Pacific junction railway, which is already built and is to be opened in eight or ten weeks. They claimed that the road would open up new territory, good for farming, rich in pine and hard woods, a good stock-growing land, and would also give Parry Sound and all the tributary country a winter outlet, the want of which was now their great drawback. Next there was a deputation from London to Mr. Van Horne, who represented to him the strong desire felt by the citizens for a connection with the Canadian Pacific Railway. The way the Londoners prefer to make it is by a line touching the Credit Valley road at Ingersoll, some eighteen or twenty miles distant. Another proposal is to connect at Belmont, also on the Credit Valley, which is sixteen miles west of Ingersoll and eight miles east of St. Thomas; but the Ingersoll connection appears to be the most in favour. The people of London last month voted a bonus of $75,000 to this line. Then lastly an influential deputation from Wingham waited upon Mr. Van Horne, in support of the scheme to extend the T., G. & B. track from Wingham road to Wingham, a distance of 4½ miles, thereby affording direct connection with Toronto.

YET another great invention has to be credited to this inventive age. On several occasions while Mr. Smith was sending messages through the telephone he noticed that he could hear messages sent by other wires in close proximity to the one over which his message was coming. This set Mr. Smith to thinking, and the result was a method of sending messages to and from trains in motion by an extra wire. The invention was shown to Edison, the famous electrician, who engaged with Mr. Smith in a series of experiments, and finally perfected a system demonstrated on the Staten Island Railway, the other day, by which messages can be sent and received on a train in motion through a distance of 400 to 500 feet from the ordinary telegraph wires, without the aid of any extra wire, and without interfering in any way with the ordinary messages passing over the wires at the time. The keynote of the whole situation is that the air for a short distance does nos make any perceptible resistance to the transmission of an electrical current. The train on which the experiments were made left Clifton, S. I., and the experiments were made while it ran to Tortenville and back. Many messages that had been delivered sealed to the operators at Clifton were received at written on the moving train, and on the return trip despatches were sent from the train to all parts of the country. One message was in Latin, but it was correctly transmitted. Mr. Henry Seligman telegraphed to his banking house for Lake Shore quotations and got an answer within an hour. The train consisted of five cars, with metal roofs which were made continuous with pieces of insulated copper wire. They were connected also with a telegrapher's outfit in the front car, consisting of a Morse key, a phonetic receiver, an electro magnet and a battery. The operator differed from others in having a telephone sounding plater over his ears, held in place by a rubber band passing over his head. The waves of electricity passed from the apparatus to the roofs of the cars and thence jumped to the telegraph wires on either side of the track. Thence they passed to the fixed stations and were gathered into focus from the various wires.

Dr. Wallace's Letter of Declinature.

The following is the letter of Dr. Wallace declining the nomination for Centre Wellington:

ALMA, Jan. 19, 1886.

J. Craig, Esq., Sec. C. W. R. Convention.

MY DEAR SIR,—At the Convention held in Fergus on Thursday, the 14th instant, I had the honor to receive the spontaneous and unanimous nomination as Reform candidate for the Centre Riding of Wellington. On receiving your telegram to come down to meet the Convention I was totally unaware of what had been done. Not, in fact, till I was ushered into the room and listened to the announcement made by you had I the least idea that I was the nominee. Parties who had personally spoken to me on the subject were told positively that I could not accept the nomination if tendered to me, and I thought the matter settled as far as I was concerned. But, when I entered that room, and saw the large assemblage of the most intelligent representative men of the Riding, and listened to what they had to say—witnessed the hearty enthusiasm which prevailed—need I say I was staggered; for the moment overwhelmed. You were good enough to say the Convention had kindly resolved that if I could not say "yes" at once, I was not to say "no," but take time for consideration.

I have thought carefully, and need I feel shame in saying it—prayerfully, over the whole matter. I felt that it was the duty of every good citizen, at the present crisis of our common country, to be willing to make almost any sacrifice if by so doing he could help to drive out the spoilers who are ruining and degrading our beloved Canada. But on the other hand I felt my own unworthiness—I knew there were men at that convention who were far more capable of rendering effective service to their country than I was. And I also felt there were duties I had to perform in my own proper sphere that no one else could fulfil, and that consequently I would not be justified in neglecting these latter to undertake the former.

Believe me, my dear Craig,
Yours very truly
J. WALLACE.

JAN. 30.—At the earnest request of some of our leading men I delayed sending the above as dated, but even on further consideration I cannot see my way to accept, and I think it not well to keep the party any longer in suspense. J. W.

THE SITUATION IN BRITAIN.

Mr. Gladstone Receives Great Praise for His skill.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—Mr. Gladstone's manifesto to his Midlothian constituents fairly outlines his proposed legislation, but the "great work of peace" clause carries with it the suspicion that while Mr. Gladstone is personally ready and willing to do everything desired by the Irish leaders, he fears that both Scotch and English voters will refuse to swallow the full dose at one gulp. It is also suspected that Mr. Gladstone made certain promises to the Queen which he is bound to remember in drawing up measures for the relief of Ireland; and when the proposed legislation is laid before Parliament, it is fairly certain that the clauses leaning toward Home Rule will be socarefully wrapped up in voluminous schemes for land reform that their discovery will be gradual and unaccompanied by the shock which would be sure to follow the bare announcement of an Irish autonomy. His address receives great praise for his skill in sympathetic allusion to the Irish question without showing his own hand. There is no special comment on it. As the Daily News says, "he has set the world talking for two months, and sits by listening."

The Earl of Aberdeen, Lord Lieutenant of Aberdeenshire, Scotland, has been appointed Viceroy of Ireland.

Baron Wolverton, ex-Paymaster General, has been appointed Postmaster General. The new Government is now completed, all the minor places being filled.

J. Collings has been appointed Secretary of the Local Government Board. J. Rigby Liberal member for Wisbech, has been appointed Recorder General.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—Michael Davitt, speaking at Holloway to-night, said he believed that Mr. Gladstone was the only English statesman that had the courage and ability to grapple with the Irish problem and establish peace between England and Ireland. The Premier, Mr. Davitt said, had already settled the question of religious inequality, and had made an honest attempt to solve the land problem. His failure to deal in a satisfactory manner with the latter question was due to the fact that he had not gone to the root of the matter.

CHAPTER VIII.

THE GOING DOWN OF THE SUN—A TERRIBLE HOUR FOR HELEN.

As Percival progressed in his study of Alice's character he became considerably interested; for he found she had a great deal more character than he had originally supposed. There were some points upon which he was still in doubt; but one characteristic had revealed itself to him almost immediately—she was selfish—openly, professedly selfish. She told him one day that it was one of her most fixed and unalterable principles to get all she could, and the best of everything for herself. Perhaps she had guessed the thoughts to which her avowal gave rise, for on the following day she talked a good deal about how bad such a life as she had led must be for any girl; it must of necessity develop all her latent selfishness. Percival had replied that some women had no latent selfishness to be developed. Alice, however, laughed very much at the idea, and said he must be very much wanting in penetration if he had not yet discovered that every woman had her pet selfishness, which, though she might do her best to hide it, was continually cropping up in unexpected places. Some women hid it better than others, others again seemed to hide it altogether, but it was there all the same, so she said, and Percival hardly knew whether she spoke in earnest or not. She had totally changed her manner to him. Now he was her chosen companion. Unless she had had a long and what she chose to consider a confidential talk with him—though, so far as he was concerned, the whole world might have heard every word that passed between them—she did not consider the day had passed off well. She forced him to be always in attendance upon her, though it was so skilfully done that to the curious onlooker it seemed as though she were rather reluctantly yielding to him.

Everyone noticed it. Though Percival's close and intimate friendship with Helen had given rise to no remark, almost every word he spoke to Alice was noted, and his most superficial attentions construed into a serious purpose.

Percival was often struck by the complete way in which Helen seemed to have vanished from among them. No one appeared ever to think of her, or to wonder what she was doing. Every day a servant from The Thwaite called at the doctor's house to make inquiry after him; Percival himself often brought tidings from the sick room; and there, communication between the houses ceased.

One evening he called on his way home. He had been spending the evening at The Thwaite—people said he spent a great many evenings there now, choosing to forget all the mornings and afternoons he had passed there in Helen's time—and he had left early on purpose to be in time to see Helen. There had been a large party at The Thwaite, and the rooms had got rather overheated; the sharp air of the autumn night blew cool and refreshing on his face. He took off his hat, and walked slowly on, thinking of many things, and in particular of Alice. She had looked exceedingly beautiful that evening, dressed in her favourite white, with a soft colour in her cheeks, and a greater brilliancy than usual in her eyes. She had been even more gracious than ever before to Percival. She had been the last person to whom he had spoken before leaving the house. Naturally she was present in his thoughts as he strolled along in the moonlight with the air of the song which she had just been singing still sounding in his ears. He did not understand her yet. He knew of one offer of marriage she had had since her return home, and so advantageous a one that for a day or two she had been half in disgrace for having refused it. She had told him of it herself with the most complete indifference, and he could not quite make out, what to use his own phrase, "she was driving at." She had told him she was capricious, and she certainly was. He felt half angry with her as he recalled the numerous caprices she had displayed since he knew her. Then he thought of her beauty. It was so superb, so wonderful, and almost enhanced by the fact that she herself was so fully conscious of it and gloried in it, as he might have done in some rare and precious possession which in nowise depended upon himself.

So musing, he reached the doctor's house, and rang the muffled bell. The servant who answered it told him in answer to his question that her master was "about the same, and just then asleep." Was Miss Lafone still up? he asked, he wanted to see her. Miss Lafone was lying down; she had gone to her room when the doctor fell asleep, but that was sometime before. No doubt she would soon be returning to her post; the maid would call her.

"No," he replied, "do not call her. I can wait. I will go upstairs and sit in your master's room till she comes, for I want to see her."

He went softly upstairs, pushed open the door which stood ajar, and entered the sick room. The doctor lay in bed, asleep and breathing heavily, but not in any apparent discomfort. Percival took a low chair by the fire, no doubt the one Helen had been using, and leaning back in it, looked round. The light had been shaded and the corners of the room were in the dark, except for the firelight. A screen stood between the fire and the bed. A little table stood by the chair with a small work-basket and a book upon it. He took up the book—Wordsworth; he smiled and read the poem which Helen had evidently been reading before she went to lie down, and having read it he fell into loose, disjointed thought.

How quiet the room was; what a change from the richly-furnished, brilliantly-lighted, and crowded rooms he had just left! Before coming upstairs he had stepped aside into the dining room where the remains of Helen's supper still stood upon the table, and he contrasted the simple food with the meal from which he had risen up only a short time before. A feeling of disgust came over him as he compared Alice's life with Helen's, and his heart swelled with tenderness as he thought of her. At that moment she came in; she had met no one on her way from her bedroom, and in the dim light saw only a man's figure seated in her own chair before the fire without recognizing whose it was. But a moment's reflection told her it could only be one person, and she went forward, saying in a low voice—

"Percival."

He turned at once, and rose to greet her.

"Why did you not let me know you were here?" she asked.

"The maid told me you were lying down. I would not have had you disturbed for anything."

"How good of you to come," she went on, looking up at him as she stood on the hearthrug by his side. "I had given you up for to-night. You have never come so late before."

"I could not get away earlier. I left before anyone else on purpose to come and see you."

"Where have you been?"

"At The Thwaite; they are very gay there just now."

"Are they? I have not seen anyone since I came here. They do not call, and I have no time to go and see them."

"Have they never been to see you, nor to inquire how you are getting on?"

"Never; but you know I would rather they did not come. Fancy Alice up here. She would look rather out of place."

She smiled as she spoke—a sad smile, for she was thinking of the man who lay there asleep, and her eyes rested upon him. Percival's followed them as he said—

"The servant told me he was about the same?"

He spoke interrogatively, for Helen's manner seemed to imply that the patient was worse.

She shook her head.

"He always seems about the same, and each day it gets a little nearer the end. Dr. Smith told me to-day that I should not be kept away from home much longer."

She looked up into his face as she spoke. They were sitting down. That is Percival was seated. Helen had slipped on to the rug, and was half sitting, half kneeling there with her arm resting on Percival's knee. There was unutterable sorrow in her eyes and in the drooping corners of her mouth. Percival pressed her hand without speaking.

"What shall I do when he is gone, Percival? I shall be so lonely I cannot bear to think of it. I cannot tell you how I love him!"

"You must make the best of me, my love."

"Ah!," clasping his hand and speaking with sudden vehemence—"I thank God every day that I have you. If it were not for that I should lose my courage, and be unable to stay here and see him fading away, growing weaker every day; yet always so good and kind, always thinking of me, and fearing lest I should overtax my strength. He thinks so much of you, too, Percival; he often speaks of you. We had a long conversation the other day, and he told me he was more reconciled to leaving me since I have you."

"He cannot be more anxious about your happiness and safety than I am, my child; and speaking of that, I want you to let me ask your father's consent at once. I think we have kept our secret quite long enough."

"Wait a little longer, just a little bit," she pleaded. "Wait till I am at home again. I could not bear people's comments and congratulations just now, and it will not be long, Percival."

He consented, and for some little time afterwards they were silent. Percival half wondered Helen did not speak of Alice; it seemed curious that she should be blind to the ghost that she had herself conjured up. Before Alice had come home she had seemed in a constant state of nervous apprehension lest Percival should find out he preferred her. Now that she was at home, that Percival and she were thrown constantly together, and that Helen herself was not present to see how far their acquaintance had advanced, she appeared to have forgotten her fears and to no more doubt Percival's constancy to her than she doubted her own to him.

Presently Percival rose, saying—

"I should have liked to speak to him, but there seems no chance of his waking, and I dare not stay longer for your sake, child."

She did not try to detain him, but rose to her feet at the same time, and they went softly downstairs together.

"How I should like a walk," she said, as they stood on the doorstep and saw the garden flooded with moonlight, and heard the sound of the sea below in the bay.

"Take one turn round the garden. He will not wake, and no one will see us."

She stepped on to the gravel path, and they went once round the garden slowly, as though loath to part. From time to time Helen stooped down and plucked a flower—an aster or two, a late blooming single dahlia, and a few fronds of fern. She bound them together with a bit of grass and put them into Percival's hand as they parted at the gate.

THE FRANCHISE ACT.

The Qualifications of Voters—The Process of Registration Explained.

The time having arrived for the preparation of the voters' lists under the new Dominion Franchise Act, an appeal is made to the Liberals of Wellington to have their names enrolled as voters without delay. To assist in so doing a short summary of the qualification of voters and of the process for securing registration is given.

QUALIFICATION.

To entitle a person to be put on the list he must be—

(1) 21 years of age.

(2) A British subject by birth or naturalization.

(3) Owner of real property of value of:
In a city, $300.
In a town, $200.
In a county, $150.

(4) Or tenant of real property under lease at a rental of
$2 per month.
$6 per quarter.
$12 per half year.
$20 per year.

Provided that the tenant has been in possession for one year before 1st January 1886, and shall have paid one year's rent before final revision.

If the rent is yearly it will be sufficient if $20 of last year's rent shall have been paid before final revision.

Change of tenancy without intermission will not destroy the vote if aggregate of tenancies would give vote.

The assessor should be instructed to state in the assessment roll the rent payable by each person assessed as tenant. If, however, this is not done, each tenant is prima facie entitled to be registered as a voter if the property is assessed at the following values:—
In cities at $300.
In towns at $200.
In counties at $150.

In counties outside of villages the rent may be payable either in money or in money's worth.

(5) Or a bona fide occupant for one year before 1st January, 1886, and enjoying the revenues and profits for his own or his wife's use of real property of the following values:
In cities, $300.
In towns, $200.
In counties, $150.

The occupancy may be under license of occupation from the crown or from any person or corporation.

(6) Or by income without any other qualification.

A person may be registered as an income voter, if he derives an income from his earnings, trade or profession, or from some investment in Canada of $300 a year, for one year before 1st January, 1886.

In counties the earnings may be either in money or money's worth.

(7) Sons of owners of real property are qualified—

(a) Where the father is living and a son or sons living with him continuously for one year before 1st January, 1886, and the property is sufficient in value according to the above figures, if divided between them to give them all votes. If not sufficient to qualify all the sons and the father, then the father and only so many sons as the property will qualify can be enrolled, and in such case the eldest son will be preferred, and then the next elder, and so on.

(b) When the father is dead, and would, if living, be qualified, residence with the mother will suffice, and as many sons as the property will qualify may be registered, with preference to the eldest and elder sons, as in the last case.

Occasional absence from home of a son—not more than six months in the year—will not disqualify, and all time spent at school or college in Canada will be counted as if spent at home.

Son of an owner includes grandson, step-son and son-in-law, and all these may be registered as voters on the property if of sufficient value. The provision as to sons of owners applies to the counties as well as towns and cities in cases other than those of farmers' sons.

(8) Farmers' sons—The same provisions substantially apply to farmers' sons, as stated in the last paragraph in respect of sons of owners in cities and towns.

A farm is to be not less than 20 acres of land.

(9) Fishermen and owners of real property and boats, nets, fishing gear and tackle of aggregate value of $150.

Income voters register where they reside at time of registration—all others where property is situate. If in more than one polling division in the same electoral district the voter may register in either.

All names entered in the last revised voters' lists under the old law, will be entered in the new lists by the revising barrister.

Every person not on the assessment roll desiring to have his name on the list must at once send to the revising barrister an application in writing to be put on the list, giving his name, residence and the property or other qualification in respect of which he applies to be put on.

This application must be accompanied by a declaration which is to be made and signed before a commissioner for taking affidavits, a notary or justice of the peace, showing the grounds of the applicants claim to be put on the list.

Substantially the voters are those who can qualify as owners, tenants, occupants, income voters, sons of owners and farmers' sons.

See that the application shows as correctly and fully as possible the qualification.

Make the declaration before a commissioner, notary or justice of the peace. It is convenient to have it attached to the application on the same sheet.

In case of an absent person, let some one else having a knowledge of the qualification make the application and declaration.

When one cannot find a justice or other person before whom the declaration can be taken let the application alone be sent in, with an explanation of the reason, and it would be well in such case to have the truth of the facts in the application certified on the back of it by one, or if possible, two other persons.

The application and declaration must be sent at once to the Revising barrister of the district.

URGENCY OF THE MATTER.

No name not on the last voters' list or assessment roll will be placed on the preliminary voters' list, unless on application and declaration as above.

In case of any difficulty or doubt, application should be made at once for advice to some of the Liberal friends in the neighborhood.

THE NORTHWEST INDIANS.

Stories About a Threatened Rising.

A Cree Delegation to Gabriel Dumont.

FORT KEOGH, Mont., Feb. 6.—The following despatch has been received from Lewiston, Mont.:—On January 30th at Gabriel Dumont's ranche, five miles from here, six Cree Indians arrived from the Northwest to hold council with Gabriel Dumont, one of Riel's lieutenants. They report about thirty lodges of their tribe near Fort Assiniboine. There is trouble ahead, and another rebellion is looked for in the early spring. They claim to be driven out. The stockmen are on the lookout, fearing the Crees will run off the horses.

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—A special says:—Bucks on Red Lake Reservation are flitting hither and thither in a most unexplained and mysterious manner, frequent expeditions being made to towns, and arms and ammunition are procured in quantities. Indian runners are traversing the country in every direction, and frequent pow-wows in almost every district are held Parties recently from White Earth Reservation report alarm and uneasiness over the actions of the Indians.

Robert Folsom, a trader in furs, says he never saw the Indians so eager and active as they are now. They are selling everything for whatever they can get. Folsom says the Indians are very insolent and hard to deal with. He does not know the cause of their present movements nor what they portend, but is under the impression that the Indians had an idea that an effort was being made to dispossess them of their lands for the whites and transport them all to some Dakota reservation. He had often heard them say that they would not stand removal.

How the Halfbreeds Are Faring

A Winnipeg despatch says: Mr. Duck, of the lands office, who has just returned from the Prince Albert district, says that at Batoche the halfbreeds are not suffering more than other settlers in this district. They expect an early release of the prisoners. Much sympathy is felt for Fisher, whose only connection with the rebellion is said to be his signing a proclamation as Lieutenant-Governor while drunk. The claims are all about settled. Mr. Goulet and himself are now winding them up.

ANNIVERSARY SERMONS.—Yesterday being the tenth anniversary of the Dublin street Methodist Church, Rev. Dr. Griffin and Rev. W. H. Carson preached able and appropriate sermons to large congregations, and made earnest appeals to raise a sufficient sum to clear off the floating debt of $3,000 resting on the church. In the morning the Rev. Dr. took his text from Proverbs 11, 24 and 25, and in the evening Rev. Mr. Carson chose Exodus 25 1-2. Both sermons were listened to with more than usual interest, as the whole congregation appeared to be in hearty sympathy with the scheme of their pastors to relieve the existing burden. Before the close of the evening service Rev. Dr. Griffin announced that the collection was the largest that had ever been taken up by a congregation of its size on the continent, and that the amount received was considerably over the sum asked for, as the amount raised reached the handsome figure of over $3,500. The enthusiasm, at this announcement, rose to such a height that the congregation could restrain itself no longer, and a clapping of hands followed. The Doctor kindly and good naturedly remarked that he would forgive them this time for their impropriety, but that they were not to repeat it. He then gave out the doxology, which was sung as it never was before in Dublin street Methodist Church. A praise and thanksgiving service followed to which a large number remained. The very efficient choir rendered valuable service at both diets of worship, under the able leadership of the organist, Miss Goodfellow. To-night the anniversary tea meeting takes place. See advt.

L. Stroud (Hamilton), and Griffith (St. Catharines) divided the 6th, 7th and 8th prizes. The remaining prizes will be shot for finally to-day. J. Townsend, of Toronto, and Luther, of Syracuse, N. Y., shot a match for $150 a side, 50 birds each, 26 yards rise, and Townsend won, killing 59 birds to Luther's 26. Several of the Guelph sports attended the match on Saturday.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?—On Saturday four very prominent and intelligent citizens were in one of our city offices. Some wag in the office had written on a sheet of foolscap five or six verses of poetry and this was lying on the counter. One of the four picked it up and inquired the name of the author. One wag mentioned the name of another person in the office and the piece was read over much to the amusement of the four. "It is rather home made," said one, "Very," said another, and the quartet had no difficulty in deciding that the verses were even below mediocrity. It happened the selection was an exquisite gem from the poet Campbell—the song in which the following well known stanza occurs;

"Bind the sea to slumber stilly,
Bind its odor to the lily,
Bind the Aspen ne'er to quiver,
Then bind love to last forever!"

The Scotchman is beautifully practical, and one of the finest illustrations of this trait was recently afforded in India. It is related that when Thebaw and his retinue were landed as prisoners at Madras and turned over to a burly Scot on duty there the officer who had brought them demanded a receipt. The Scotchman promptly made it out somewhat as follows: "Received of Col. Wilcughby, one King, two Queens, thirteen maids of honour, etc., as per invoice." Could anything be neater than that?

The sarcophagus is a work of art, and is the finest article of the kind ever manufactured in this country. It is solid bronze metal, handsomely ornamented, and weighs 450 lbs.

ST. THOMAS, Ont. Feb. 6. — Roderick Cochrane, general agent of the Cochrane Manufacturing Company, of this city, has skipped with $17,000. In settling up the accounts of the season's business Cochrane presented a contra account some of which was objected to by the company. The Dominion Franchise Act provides for a declaration and form of request to be put on the voters' list by one person on behalf of another. Anyone knowing the facts concerning the qualification of an absent or invalid friend can make this declaration and request. When properly filled up and declared, the papers will be handed to the Revising Officer, who will accept them as evidence of claim unless he has reason to believe the statements are not true or are not within the knowledge of the declarant.

Forms of this kind and all the other forms of declaration can be had, and will be made out, by Mr. Hugh McMillan, Secretary of the Reform Association, for all Reformers, at his law office, over the Federal Bank.

Land Grabbers and Timber Limit Hunters.

A rousing meeting of the Reformers of Halton was held at Milton on Friday last. Mr. John Charlton, M. P. for North Norfolk, made an able speech, in which he followed up the investigations lately made by Mr. M. C. Cameron, M. P., into the transactions between the Government and members of Parliament in their own behalf, or for their friends, for land grants, timber limits, or grants of coal lands in the Northwest. After reciting the various regulations issued by the Government from 1879 down to the present time, he referred to the regulations by which colonization companies could secure lands for two dollars an acre, with a rebate of one dollar per acre, if a hundred and twenty eight settlers were placed on each Township. This plan was opposed in Parliament by the Opposition in the session of 1882, on the ground that no middle man should be allowed to come between the country and the settler. The Government, however, had their own objects to serve in encouraging these colonization companies, for it wished to secure as many friends as possible in view of the general elections which took place in the following June. Colonization companies by the dozen were organized and soon there were two hundred and fifty applications made by these for lands covering 2,301 townships. Of these applications there were allotted 119 applications for 720 townships, covering 7,321,000 acres. Of these applications the first installment was paid on 26, covering 137 townships, or 1,402,800 acres. The number of townships on which payment was not then due was 305, covering 3,125,000 acres. As shown by the official returns, many members of Parliament were interested in these colonization companies, most of which have since come to grief. They, however, served the purpose of the Government for the time being, and secured the support to the Government of hundreds of men throughout the country who had a pecuniary interest in these colonization schemes.

Mr. Charlton then went fully into the policy of the Government, in reference to the coal lands and timber limits, and showed that these had been granted to Government favourites without asking for tenders, and without an attempt to ascertain what they were really worth. Blocks of land, some comprising a township, some covering 50 miles, were scattered about with a lavish hand, the conditions being a rental of $5 per square mile with 5 per cent upon the value of the timber cut, equal to about 50 cents per thousand feet, and all this was done without public competition. Again, in 1884, pasture lands to the amount of 2,782,000 acres were leased on private applications to favourites of the Government, with no restriction except that no lease was to cover more than 100,000 acres. The rental was one cent per acre, equal to the interest at 7 per cent on 15 cents per acre. He contrasted this iniquitous and unjust policy with that pursued by the Ontario Government in reference to their timber limits, which were put up for sale by auction and knocked down to the highest bidder. The returns made to Parliament down to February, 1883, gave over one thousand applicants for coal and timber licenses, covering in all an area of fifty thousand square miles. Among these applicants figure as usual a large number of members of Parliament—Dr. Orton among the rest—besides a long list of friends and supporters of members, whose names were copied from the returns, together with the amount of land asked for.

Tory members of Parliament and their friends are endeavouring to make fun of these exposures. The Mail has repeatedly attempted to question the correctness of Mr. Cameron's list of applicants for these lands, and it will now try to do the same with Mr. Charlton's. But with one or two minor exceptions, these lists have been found to be correct, and the Tory organs dare not impugn them. They show across how deeply the Tory members were interested in keeping the Government in power, and what enormous profits they expected to make out of it in exchange their vote and influence for the consideration named in the applications made either for colonization lands, coal lands, or timber limits.

The whole business from first to last, is of a most debasing character, both as regards the Government and the members implicated, and exposes a system of corruption which the people will not fail to understand and condemn.

THE Dominion Government announces that it has received no communication from the Government of the United States in regard to the reported action of the United States Senate Committee on Foreign Affairs relative to a treaty on the fisheries question. There seems to be a general belief that the delay of the Canadian authorities in taking action, combined with other influences, will prevent the negotiation of a treaty at the present time.

AT the meeting of the Ontario College of Pharmacy, held in Toronto last week, the provisions of the Scott Act with reference to druggists selling liquor were discussed, and the committee on legislation reported as follows:—Your committee are satisfied that the druggists generally do not desire to have placed in their hands the liquor business, but if this matter is to be entrusted to them, equal privileges should be granted to all to sell by license under such restrictions as to quantity permitted to be sold as may be thought best.

THE revenue for the seven months is $1,135,902 less than for the same period of the previous year, while the expenditure has been increased by $2,963,675. The deficit at the end of seven months is $5,137,287 in 1885, compared with $1,037,710 in 1884, so that, calculating on the basis of last year's figures, the deficit at the end of the current fiscal year will exceed seven million dollars. It is to be feared that Mr. McLelan's powers of taxation and collection will not be equal to his colleagues' powers of disbursement. The increase of revenue for January over the same month last year is due to the receipts of interest from investments which fall due at the end of the half year. In Customs revenue there has been a decline of nearly $100,000. Not more than two millions of rebellion expenditure are included in the deficit for the past seven months, so that the excess of ordinary expenditure over revenue is more than three million dollars. The expenditure for January shows an increase of $253,232.

THE terrible distress which at present exists among English workmen and the financial position of the country threaten to embarrass Mr. Gladstone's Government as much as the Irish question. The London Observer says that the demonstrations of unemployed mechanics which have been arranged to take place will strikingly illustrate the gravity of the situation. A personal enquiry in districts lying at the east end shows that on an average 40 per cent of highly-skilled workmen are unemployed. In one street it was found that as high as 60 per cent were idle. The workhouses of the metropolis are full to overflowing with respectable artisans, who, through the extreme dullness of trade, have been forced for the first time to seek parish relief. The financial outlook is not a whit brighter. The deficit already reaches several millions of pounds, and this is a most perplexing weight with which to move on the Commons. Trade is continually getting worse, and the temper of the country is very forcibly expressed against any further increase in the income tax, which is about the only thing the Government can have recourse to. Whatever the Government proposes to remedy the national monetary standing is certain to arouse dangerous opposition in the Commons. Even if individual members should recognize the necessity of raising taxes to supply the deficit they would scarcely dare vote according to their personal opinions in the face of the manifest antagonism of their constituencies to any such process.

Reports of Public Institutions.

The report of the Inspector of Prisons and Public Charities on the Belleville Deaf and Dumb Institute shows that the total number of pupils who attended at the Institution during the session of 1884-85 was 281—168 males and 116 females. The average number of pupils was 233 in 1884-85, against 213 in 1883-84. The annual cost per pupil was $166.31 in 1885, against $168.66 in 1884. The aggregate cost of maintaining the institution was $38,719.21 in 1885, against $40,985.68 in 1884. The report shows that the efficiency of the institution is increasing, that the management is careful and capable, and that no efforts are spared to promote the best interests of the pupils.

The expenditure in connection with the Brantford Institution for the Blind for 1885 was $33,385.52, against $33,297.24 in 1884. The average cost per pupil was $252.92, as against $277.48 in 1884. The attendance of pupils at the last session was 138. Gratifying progress seems to have been made in all departments. During the year five pupils qualified themselves for receiving graduates' outfits, and are now working at their own homes with every prospect of earning a livelihood. Saleable work, to the value of $1,018.95, was made during the session. In the sewing and knitting rooms good work was done. The general conduct of the pupils was satisfactory. One youth, however, was expelled for "gross moral delinquency, while clandestinely absent from the premises," and two others for persistent violations of the rules. The general health of the pupils has been good. The food provided is of the best description. The teachers are painstaking and devoted to their duties. There probably is not on the continent a better managed and more economically supported public institution.

The Late John Ernst, of Petersburg.

(From a Correspondent.)

One by one the original settlers of this country are disappearing and going to "that bourne from whence no traveller returns."

John Ernst, of Petersburg, died at New Hamburg on the 1st of this month, aged 79 years. He was born in the Province of Lorraine, which then belonged to France, but now to Germany, on the 4th Dec., 1806, and came to the township of Wilmot, county of Waterloo, in 1828, about a year after his arrival at New York. He settled in Wilmot, and became the founder of Petersburg, where for upwards of fifty years he carried on business as a hotel-keeper, merchant, postmaster, tanner, and miller. He was a Justice of the Peace, and for many years, first, one of the "District Councillors" from Wilmot to the District of Wellington, and afterwards Reeve of Wilmot.

The writer of this has known John Ernst for nearly forty years, and has a high opinion of his character and abilities. When he first removed from the neighbourhood of Berlin to his "lot" in Wilmot, a sleigh drawn by a yoke of oxen carried all his worldly possessions. The road was not cleared of logs, and from time to time, he had to stop and roll the logs out of his way. However, by industry and enterprise, he, eventually, become very wealthy. He was the friend of every one in distress, and was never backward in giving his assistance. He knew every person in Wilmot, could give an account of the early struggles, and final success of all the old residents.

In politics he was a Conservative, indeed, what is called an "old Tory." He had thorough contempt for "Grits" and all advocates of change although he expressed himself with such good humor, that all liked him. Singularly, although a Tory in Canada, he was a Republican so far as France was concerned, and frequently told the writer, that no Government but a Republic could succeed in France.

He was one of the oldest Freemasons in Canada. About the year 1838, he and two others from Wilmot were made masons at Simcoe, and belonged afterwards to lodges at Brantford and Berlin. He was a member of the Lutheran Church.

John Ernest, was a sterling, honest, upright man, a true type of the original, successful settlers of our newer townships, and will be much missed and long remembered in Wilmot.

CHAPTER VIII.

THE GOING DOWN OF THE SUN—A TERRIBLE HOUR FOR HELEN.

It was about a week later that the end came. The doctor had been growing rapidly weaker, and all that day had lain with closed eyes, scarcely speaking, or seeming to notice what was going on. Though the end of November, the weather was singularly bright and clear, and as warm as spring. The window was open, the only sound was the boom of the sea as the tide came in. The sun was just setting and pouring its last beams into the room. Helen thinking the doctor was asleep, and afraid least the brilliant light should disturb him, rose and went to the window to draw down the blind, but the doctor turned and revealed that he was not asleep by saying—

"Don't draw down the blind, Helen, I should like to see the sun set once more."

She came back and resumed her seat by the bedside without speaking. Till now she had wept her woman's tears in secret, and to the doctor had been always bright and cheerful. But to-day it was beyond her strength to smile, almost to speak, and she only raised the dying man's hand to her lips.

"Read to me," he said presently, speaking in his old way, using words which in form were imperious, while in spirit and tone they were gentle and caressing beyond the words of women.

"What shall I read?" she asked, forcing herself to speak calmly, as she thought this was the last time she would perform this familiar service.

"No," he said, seeming to revive a little just at the last, for his voice was firm, though weak. "You shall say something for me, as you used to do when you were a little girl, and came to pour out tea for me when I got home."

"What shall I say?" she asked, her voice scarcely rising above a whisper.

He appeared to consider for a moment; then his face lit up as he said—

"Say, 'It is a beauteous evening.'"

She was silent for a moment; collecting all her strength, then she cleared her voice and began to recite the beautiful sonnet.

The doctor lay still, his eyes fixed upon the window, through which was visible all the calm radiance of the sunset. He did not speak, only when she came to the words—

"Dear child, dear girl! that walkest with me here," he clasped her hand tightly in his own, and drew it close up to him till it rested on his heart.

Her lips trembled, a lump rose in her throat, she felt as if she must break down; but she only made a momentary pause, and then went on to the end.

The doctor was silent for a minute after she had finished. His lips moved as though he were repeating to himself the words she had just said.

"It has always seemed to me, Helen, as if that sonnet had been written for you and me. We have so often walked together on the sea shore and watched the sunset. It was the first bit of Wordsworth I ever set you to learn. Do you remember?"

"Very well."

"It is just suited to this evening," he went on, musingly. "Say it again, Helen."

She did his bidding, and began in a voice which she had to steady once or twice.

"It is a beauteous evening, calm and free;
The holy time is quiet as a nun
Breathless with adoration; the broad sun
Is sinking down in its tranquility;
The gentleness of heaven is on the sea;
Listen! the mighty Being is awake,
And doth with his eternal motion make
A sound like thunder—everlastingly.
Dear——"

She paused, her trembling lips refused to perform their office. She sat silent for a moment, and then said in a whisper,

"I cannot."

He saw her raise her handkerchief to her eyes to wipe away her tears, and he put his other hand upon her head, saying,

"Cry, child, if you want to; it will not hurt me, rather it does me good. Let your tears come freely, Helen."

She bent her head upon the bed and sobbed as if her heart would break, and he stroked her hair gently, saying,

"Poor child, poor child."

He did not attempt a word of consolation; he let her cry on, and partly, at least, ease her heart to him. Her sobs were the only sound that broke the silence; the room was nearly dark, for the sun had set and the fire was low. The boom of the waves—the everlasting thunder—came clearly through the still air. For some time no word was spoken. Helen had ceased crying, but she still sat in the same position, her head bent forward, her face hidden in the bedclothes. Now and then a long, shivering sigh shook her figure.

"Helen," said the doctor, at last, "I want to see your face."

She raised it, pale and tear-stained, and her large eyes, full of sadness, looked into his out of the gathering dusk.

"Light the lamp," he said, "I cannot see you." She did so, and then came back to him.

"Still I cannot see it," he murmured to himself. "Lift my hand to your face."

She lifted his hand to her forehead, and he passed it over all her features, saying,

"Yes, now I know, I shall remember it. I wish Percival were here, he went on.

"I will send for him." She wrote a note, which she sent by one of the servants, and then came back and said what she had done. He pressed her hand, but so feebly that she scarcely felt it, and then sat in silence. Presently the servant came in to say that Mr. Moore had been away all day, but the butler had promised to give him Miss Lafone's note as soon as he came in.

Hour after hour passed. Helen knew that the doctor would never speak again, that if Percival were to enter the room at that moment he would probably be unrecognized, but she longed for his coming with an inexpressible longing. It was past midnight. She had heard the servants go to their rooms some two hours before. She knew that she was the only person awake in the house. The fire had died out, and the lamp was burning low. She sat by the bed, the dying man, dead now to all intents and purposes, held her hand, which she dared not withdraw. She could summon no one, for she sat out of reach of the bell, and a kind of horror which was creeping over her prevented her from calling, for this was the first time she had seen death, and she had an almost exaggerated horror of it. She dared not disturb the silence, which was broken by the doctor breathing. At last when she could bear it no longer, she tried to draw her hand away, and found she could not. The dying man's fingers had so far stiffened that she could not withdraw without a greater effort than she had either wish or courage to make.

It was perhaps two o'clock in the morning when the heavy breathing ceased, and the long, delicate fingers for a moment relaxed their hold, enabling her to free her hand. Almost at the same moment the lamp flickered and went out, and she knew that her old friend was dead, and that she was alone with the corpse in a room without a glimmer of light.

She tried to move and could not. She tried to call, and her tongue clove to the roof of her mouth. She dared not break that awful stillness. So she sat rigid with terror, numb with grief, until she heard the house door open softly, and a quick, cautious footstep on the stairs, and which she knew even then to be Percival's. He came straight on to the dark, silent room; she heard him push open the door, and then stand uncertain whether in the dark he had not missed the familiar way. She knew it all, knew that he was on the point of going out again, and still she could not speak. Fortunately he did.

"Helen," he said, in a low voice.

The sound of his voice seemed to break through the horror that kept her dumb, and she answered him, saying—

"Percival!" with a sob in her voice.

School Section No. 10 Erin.

To the Editor of the MERCURY:—

SIR,—I would crave a small space in your widely circulated paper in answer to Mr. Kirkwood at Ospringe, on nomination day. He says he is no more to blame than the rest of the Council. My letter lays the blame where it ought to be. He says he has a right to change his mind. I did not object, but if a public man makes a sudden change on an important question it is but just he should give a reason for so doing. Then he says if "I" and "we" do not mean Cree I do not know anything. Well, I should not have said so, but I will let him have his own way in this case as it only affects himself, but if he would read my letter over again he would find that "I" and "we" mean the trustees of section number 10. Now, as to my appealing. Without the sanction of Mr Russell, our Secretary came to me and requested me in his own and Mr. Russell's name to take the necessary steps to bring the appeal before the County Council, and when Mr. Kirkwood made the unfounded charge at Ospringe, I did not refute the charge at the time in case there might be some mistake; so at our school meeting I asked our Secretary in presence of Mr. Russell and some others, if he had authority to use Mr. Russell's name in requesting me to take the necessary steps to bring the appeal before the County Council. Mr. Russell said he had his permission. So much for Mr. Kirkwood's unfounded assertions. Now. Mr. Kirkwood thinks it was small of me to rush into print. He was the first to do so in accusing me of appealing when I did not do so, and he has threatened me dire calamities if I do so again. I have heard it said it was not safe for those who lived in glass houses to throw stones. Now for our worthy Reeve; he stated he had a perfect right to have five arbitraters. I did not object if section No. 7 would pay the extra expense. I have been informed by two parties that Messrs Burt and Kirkwood offered our section through me one hundred dollars under 118 section of the Public School Act. It is false in every particular as I was never offered anything but sympathy. Now all we asked was that portion of land which once belonged to our section or we to it, and which was divided when the roads were bad. Now we wished to have them joined again, but it was going to affect Burt's and Robinson's sections, hence the opposition Now the assessement of our section in 1884 was $75,000. In 1885 $103,000, a raise of $28,000 in one year If Burt's, Kirkwood's and Robinson's had been raised in like proportion, but not in Mr. Burt's section would make 2½ sections like No. 10 and Mr. Kirkwood's would make two lacking sixteen thousand dollars and Mr. Robinson's somewhere between three and four sections as large as No, 10.

Yours respectfully,
ANDREW N. CREE.

THE SITUATION IN BRITAIN.

Working Man Taken into the Government.

THE VICEROY OF IRELAND.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—The several changes among the men in office which Mr. Gladstone hast just made, have somewhat disturbed the impression of harmony and permanency which was made by his first appointments. They have given rise to the fear that his entire course in the present crisis may be shifting and uncertain, and not as strong and positive as the situation requires.

The Dublin Freeman's Journal says the Earl of Aberdeen, who has been appointed Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, will be an ornamental figurehead; and John Morley, Chief Secretary, will do all the work connected with the government of the country. Lord Aberdeen is a young man of great liability and slight intellectual power. is an intimate friend and frequent host Mr. Gladstone. He will not stand in y of Messrs. Gladstone and Morley. following additional appointments en made under the new admistra- Chancellor of the Duchy of Lan- Edward Heneage; Lord Chancellor and, John Naish; Attorney-General land, Samuel Walker; Solicitor- al of Ireland, The MacDermott; cretary to the Admiralty, John Thibert; Under-Foreign Secretary, Jas. Bryce; Under-Colonial Secretary, Geo. Osborne Morgan; Under-Secretary for India, Sir U. K. Shuttleworth; Under-Secretary for the Home Department, Henry Broadhurst. The appointment of Mr. Broadhurst as Under Home Secretary has caused a sensation in political circles, that gentleman being the first workingman that has ever risen to the Ministry. The appointment is taken as an indication that it is Mr. Gladstone's intention to rely upon the masses against the influence of the aristocracy. The Liberal clubs are divided in opinion on the subject, the Reform and Devonshire disapproving of the disappointment, and the National Liberal enthusiastically approving it.

The hostility of Whigs to Mr. Gladstone is intense. This is shown in the difficulty experienced by the Premier in filling the peeresses posts in the Queen's household. The Duchess of Bedford and the Duchess of Westminster have refused appointments and others will follow their example.

Mr. Redmond, Nationalist member of Parliament, in a speech at Monaghan today, urged Irishmen to restrain their violent feeling and not to hamper the new Government, which he said would take immediate steps to stop evictions.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—The members of the late Ministry left London for Osborne at 9:30 o'clock this morning to deliver the seals of office to the Queen, and the members of the Gladstone Government proceeded to Osborne at 11:30 o'clock to receive the seals from Her Majesty.

The House of Commons has adjourned until the 18th instant.

THE FLOODS IN BELLEVILLE.

The Water Still Rising.

GREAT DISTRESS PREVAILS.

BELLEVILLE, Feb. 6.—The flood assumed a serious aspect this morning. It backed up, overflowing Main street and damaging the business part of the city. From the wharf to the city hall the water is five feet deep on the street. The water in the Ontario printing house is four feet deep, and publication has been temporarily suspended. At noon a fire broke out in a widow's house in the flooded district. The widow and five children were rescued by the hook and ladder company. The people are wild with excitement.

It is estimated that the damage done will amount to upwards of $100,000. The water-mark is now fifteen inches higher than it was last night, and many additional buildings have been vacated. The ice, of which immense quantities fill the river, has raised one bridge six inches and is within two feet of another. It is feared both will go. A number of buildings are damaged beyond repair. There were many instances of intense suffering throughout the long and tedious hours of last night. The thermometer indicated 33½° below zero. In the city the wood yards were flooded and could not be entered. This caused great suffering, as poor people consume soft wood altogether and rely upon these woodyards for their supply. Factories have been closed and workmen discharged, who are now depending upon public charity. Large and valuable buildings on the principal streets have been undermined and the occupants have had to move for fear the buildings would collapse.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

Dr. Daniel T. Nelson, Chicago, says: "I find it a pleasant and valuable remedy in indigestion, particularly in over worked men."

THE SICK TREATED FREE OF CHARGE.—The Doctors of the Great English Staff of Physicians and Surgeons are now stopping at the Commercial Hotel, Guelph, and will remain until the 15th of February. As this is their first trip through Canada they will treat you free of charge. The only favor they ask of their patients is a recommend after a cure is effected. Office hours from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Sundays from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. d6

THE KENNEDY FAMILY.—On the 18th ult., Mr. Kennedy, assisted by his daughters, Misses Helen, Marjory, Maggie and Jessie, gave the first of four entertainments in Glasgow prior to his departure on his fourth and farewell tour in America. The audience was numerous, and it is almost needless to say warmly appreciative of a programme which, under the title "Twa Hours at Hame," comprises a pleasant variety of selections, Scotch and Gaelic. Time has dealt leniently with Mr. Kennedy, both in frame and voice, and whether in his introductory and intermediate remarks or in such songs as "Scots Wha Hae," "The Auld Man's Mare's Dead" and "Get Up and Bar the Door," he showed undiminished spirit and humor.

CURE OF DIPHTHERIA.—We understand that the dreaded disease diphtheria, which has proved so fatal in other parts of the province, has made its appearance in this country. This being the case, we make no apology for copying the following remedy which appeared in the Medical Press, and although it seems very simple, may prove effective as a cure. Dr. Deuker says that "during twenty-four years of very extensive practice in the Children's Hospital, St. Petersburg, he has treated upwards of two thousand cases of diphtheria, and tried all the remedies, both internal and external, employed in this affection, has obtained the best results from the following method, which he has employed for the last ten years. As soon as the white spots appear on the tonsils he gives a laxative mainly composed of senna, which produces an abundant evacuation. When the purgative effect has ceased he gives cold drinks, acidulated with hydrochloric acid, and every two hours a gargle composed of lime water and hot milk in equal parts. Dr. Deuker affirms that when this treatment is commenced early it is generally and rapidly successful."

SUDDEN DEATH OF SERGT. CLAY.—The friends of Sergt. Clay in Guelph and elsewhere will learn with regret of his sudden death, in the American Hotel, yesterday afternoon. The Sergt., as was his custom, went there to read the evening papers and have a social chat with any friend that might drop around. About five o'clock he was in conversation with Mr Wm. Michie, and casually remarked that he had "felt better to-day" than for some time previous. He also entered into a social chat with Mr John Reading, when he suddenly threw his head backward, drew a heavy sigh and expired instantly. Mr Michie went at once for medical assistance, while those in the bar-room, and Mr Thomas Blanchfield, clerk, and the proprietor of the hotel, did everything possible to resuscitate the Sergt. Their efforts proved unavailing, and soon it became apparent to all that the spirit had fled. The deceased was universally known and respected by all who were acquainted with him. He was born in the Parish of St. Margaret, near the town of Leicester, England, and when 18 years of age enlisted in the 52nd regiment (infantry). He served 15 years and 9 months in this regiment, after which he was transferred to the "Royal Canadian Rifles." He served 10 years in this regiment, and was discharged on the 24th of June, 1857, after having served over 25 years in the British Army. On his retirement he received a pension of 1s 8d a day and was appointed as a drill instructor. He immediately came to Galt from Kingston and instructed a volunteer company in drill just organized there. He then came to Guelph and instructed the present No. 2 Company when it was formed, and has remained in Guelph ever since. He went out with the Guelph Company at the time of the Fenian Raid, and was Color Sergeant. The Sergt. will be buried with military honours to-morrow afternoon. As will be seen by notice elsewhere, the soldiers of the Guelph Company, who were out in 1866, will assemble at the Market Square, at 2.30 p.m., to attend the funeral, and the Battery will parade at the Gun Shed at the same hour for the same purpose. The cause of death was heart disease, from which Sergt. Clay has been suffering for a long time. He was 73 years of age.

SPEED SKATING RINK.—Everything promises well for a big night and exciting races Thursday night. The contestants are practising daily and will be in good form. So probably never again will so many first-class skaters be brought together in the Speed Rink. The races will come off without fail for this thaw will not affect the ice.

IRISH ARISTOCRACY.—Gibson & Ryan, supported with a good company, performed the laughable play of "Irish Aristocracy" in the City Hall last night to a well filled house. The play seemed to be thoroughly enjoyed by all. "Mulcahey," Mr. James K. Gibson, and "Muldoon," Mr. Samuel Ryan, kept the audience in the best of good humour throughout. "Jennie Muldoon," little Caro Burke, a mere child, won golden opinions and carried the sympathy of the audience in her acting.

THE ROYAL TEMPLARS OF TEMPERANCE.—About 75 or 80 delegates arrived in the city yesterday, one all the way from Montreal, in time to attend the Council of instruction in the evening. A splendid meeting was held in the evening in the Good Templar's Hall and the Councils of instruction in Royal and Select Degrees were found very interesting and instructive to delegates present. The balance of delegates are coming in by the various trains to-day, and the prospects are that there will be a large meeting of both delegates and citizens in the City Hall to-night.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—A bad accident happened on the 28th ult., to Mr. Robt. Scott, a nephew of Mr. Peter Hunter, of this City, and who formerly worked at Raymond's factory. He was engaged taking out sand from a pit, about two miles above Alma, when the sand caved in upon him. When dug out it was found that he could move neither hand or foot, his back having been badly crushed. Very little hope was at first entertained of his recovery, but matters have taken a turn for the better and it is hoped that he may get around again, but it will not be for some time.

MURDER AT OWEN SOUND.

A Joke About the Murderer's Appetite Leads to the Crime.

OWEN SOUND, Feb. 8.—To-night about 10 o'clock one of the most horrible crimes ever known in the vicinity of Owen Sound was committed. A colored man named Smoots, about 23 years of age, lost his life at the hands of another negro named Phillip Roy, in the house of a colored man named Johnson. It appears Roy and Smoots came to Johnson's house to-night, both under the influence of liquor, Johnson being absent, not having returned from work. When he entered the house Roy was eating at the table and Smoots making jokes at the quantity of food he ate. This led to a quarrel, when Roy attacked Smoots, who knocked Roy down. The latter got up, and after wiping the blood off his face started for the door with an oath. Smoots hearing this started after him, following him out, when Roy turned on him and with some sharp instrument gave him a terrible cut in the neck below the ear. Smoots was taken in the house and a doctor sent for, but before one could arrive he had expired. The police were notified and two constables despatched to the scene, who succeeded in arresting Roy. Dr. McCullough examined the body and found a great gash about two inches long below the left ear. On examination he declared that the carotid artery had been severed. An inquest will be held to-morrow.

Joseph Doutre's Funeral.

MONTREAL, Feb. 8.—Mgr. Fabre in course of an address at the church of Notre Dame yesterday, referring to Mr. Joseph Doutre's funeral said:—"An illustrious citizen, whose conversion we had hoped for until the end, has passed away without granting to the church this supreme consolation. Over 1,000 Roman Catholics, it is stated, accompanied his remains to their last resting place. This fact is a cause of sorrow for us and a great scandal for you all. It is an evidence of weakness which will be regretted until their death."

Strike in Toronto.

TORONTO, Feb. 8.—A serious strike occurred yesterday at the Massey Manufacturing Company's works, all except a few of the men quitting work. The trouble is attributed to the introduction of the piecework system and the refusal of the company to post up a price list in the works. Nearly 200 men quit work.

The Belleville Flood.

Anniversary Tea Meeting

And Presentation to Rev. Dr. Griffin at the Dublin Street Methodist Church.

Seldom indeed does a Church hold its annual social gathering under happier auspices than those with which the members and friends of the Dublin street Methodist Church were favoured last night. The effort to raise the amount of their floating debt by a cash collection on Sunday had met with such abundant success that last evening it seemed as if neither pastors, officials nor people could adequately give expression to their feelings of gratitude. The bountiful tea provided by the ladies of the congregation was however not neglected, time and again the tables being emptied only to be filled with later arrivals, and the social chat incident to this part of the programme was thoroughly enjoyed. Shortly before 8.30 the choir opened the musical services with a nice chorus, Mr. E. Rudd rendering the solo well. Seated on the platform were the Rev. Dr. Griffin, chairman, Revs. Dr. Torrance, R. J. Beattie, J. W. Holmes and J. H. Carson. After singing and prayer, the chairman in a most felicitous speech, referred briefly to the effort of the Sunday and explained the working machinery of the church. He then called upon the Treasurer, Mr. J. A. Davidson, whose interesting report of the financial history of the Church was attentively listened to. The receipts of the Trustee Board for the year from all sources had amounted to $1,537.96, expenditure $1,370.52, leaving a balance up to Sunday last of $167.44, and on that day in response to the earnest, systematic, and generous work of both pastor and people the magnificent sum of $3,429.27 was laid upon the collection plates at the morning service, an amount, it is safe to say, that has rarely been so generally given by any church of its size, the contributions ranging from 25 cents to $200. This was supplemented by $103.21 at the evening service, and the Treasurer reported a balance on hand of $3700, which will free the church of the floating debt which has hampered its work for years. Words of congratulation then followed from Revs. Dr. Torrance and R. J. Beattie, the thoughts expressed by both gentleman meeting with warm approval. The choir in their second anthem fully sustained their reputation, and the instrumental selections from the Dublin street Quintette Club, assisting Miss Goodfellow, who presided at the organ, with violin, Mr. W. Dyson; cornets, Messrs. S. Craig, and Geo. Beattie, and trombones, Messrs. W. Wheatley, jr., and N. Sunley, were a rich treat to the audience. Even a chairman is not supposed to know every item on the programme, and when on motion of Mr. McConnell, seconded by Mr. Gowdy, Dr. Torrance was asked to take the chair, the retiring occupant's surprise was considerable, and it was manifestly increased when Mr. E. R. Bollert stepped to the front and read the following address, while Mr. J. A. Davidson at the proper time handed over the envelope containing a cheque for $150, with which he was entrusted.

ADDRESS.

Rev. W. S. Griffin, D.D., Pastor of Dublin Street Methodist Church, Guelph, Ont.

BELOVED PASTOR,—The Trustees and friends of Dublin Street Methodist Church, feeling deeply thankful to "Him from whom all blessings flow," for the happy and successful consummation of the offering of the congregation to wipe out the floating debt of this Board, cannot ignore the fact that it was mainly through your untiring effort, tact, and zeal, that the project has been carried to a successful issue. They would also express to you their appreciation of your earnest efforts for the general welfare of all the departments of the church. They regret that severe family afflictions have added all the more to the burdens of your labours, but are thankful that through a merciful Providence your family circle has not been broken. They would also in this connection desire to mention in appreciative terms, the manner in which your labours are seconded by your assistant, Mr. Carson, whose very acceptable pulpit ministrations and efforts generally meet with their approbation. On behalf of the Board and congregation they would ask your acceptance of this cheque, with which is coupled the prayer that many years of usefulness in the Master's vineyard may be yours, and that the choicest blessings of God may ever attend your life.

Signed on behalf of the Board,

E. R. BOLLERT, Secretary.

Guelph, Feb. 8, 1886.

The rev. gentleman in grateful words expressed his appreciation of the spirit which prompted their handsome gift. He knew it must have been kept very quiet or else he would have heard of it: however he would acknowledge that they had got ahead of him this time. He had always met with kindness and generous help from his brethren of the Church in his work, and it would be his aim in the future as in the past to labor heartily with them. Rev. J. W. Holmes followed, and in a few earnest words expressed his pleasure at the result of their effort, and his hope for their prosperity, both material and spiritual in the future. Rev. J. H. Carson also spoke briefly, after which the meeting was brought to a close by the singing of the doxology, and the benediction by Rev. Dr. Griffin.

Presentation to Mr. Larmour.

STRATFORD, Ont., Feb. 8.—R. Larmour, assistant superintendent of the G. T. R., who has removed to London, was tendered a banquet at the Royal hotel this evening by a representative gathering of citizens and railroad employees. Mr. Larmour was presented with a gold watch for himself and a diamond ring for Mrs. Larmour by the employees, and a purse of $400 by the employees and citizens.

A Loss of $17,000.

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 9.—The Meadow Lilly mills, owned by Messrs. Plewes & Son, and situated near Holden bridge, were destroyed by fire on Saturday morning. The loss is estimated by Messrs. Plewes at about $25,000, while the insurance is only $6,000.

The Lumber Trade.

OTTAWA, Feb. 8.—The prospects for this year's lumber trade in the Ottawa district are reported to be better than for many years past. This year's cut will, it is stated, be unusually large, the output being estimated at 6,000,000 feet. Sales have already been made to the value of $4,500,000, the prices obtained being better than ever previously recorded.

A REIGN OF TERROR.

London Six Hours in the Hands of an Infuriated Mob.

POWERLESSNESS OF THE POLICE.

They are Pushed Aside While Hotels, Clubs, and Shops are Sacked.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—The starving mechanics of London held a mass meeting in Trafalgar square, around the Nelson monument, which resulted in a riot. The proceedings were opened with an assemblage of 10,000. The police were present in large numbers. They saw that the Socialist element of London greatly predominated in the crowd which was managed by well known Socialists, and extraordinary vigilance was ordered to preserve peace at all hazards. Conspicuous among the leaders of the multitude was Mr. Burns, who ran as Socialist candidate in Nottingham in the recent election. He sneered at the police, and acted as if he wished to bring about a conflict between them and the people. Finally he ascended the pedestal of the Nelson column for the purpose of delivering a harangue. He was well aware that this act would not be tolerated, and the police ordered him to get down. This he refused to do, appealing to the crowd to resist "interference with the exercise of popular rights." The officers, however, were determined, and they pushed their way through the excited and resisting mass of humanity, and by force removed Burns from the pedestal. The stir in the elevated spot where the Burns incident took place was easily perceptible over almost the entire area covered by the concourse, and the sight of the helmets and uniforms in the struggle was accepted as visible proof of the commencement of a fight against the law. The intelligence was responded to with a general and fearful howl, and an attempted rush from all directions to the point of interest.

Burns became emboldened by the cries of the throng and made a desperate effort to recover his lost ground. He was so effectively helped by the mob that the officers on the spot were brushed out of the way and the orator was soon pressed up against the monument. He reascended the pedestal accompanied by a number of other Socialist leaders. Burns bore a red flag, and he waved it to the assemblage as a signal of triumph over the authorities. He was greeted with deafening shouts, repeated again and again. Burns now leisurely finished his address. He read a fiercely worded resolution denouncing the authors of the present distress in England, demanding that Parliament start public works to give employment and bread to the tens of thousands of deserving men who were out of work through no fault of their own, but because of bad government, to afford every facility for the employment of British capital at home for the benefit of the British people and to give British enterprise the preference over foreign, and asserting that the time had arrived for Parliament to earnestly legislate for the relief of the depression in English agricultural industry. The resolution also demanded the immediate appointment of a Minister of Commerce and a Minister of Agriculture, and concluded with a resolution that copies should be forwarded to Mr. Gladstone, Lord Salisbury, Mr. Parnell, and the Board of Public Works.

The reading of the resolution was accompanied by fierce comment and short explanatory speeches by various orators who stood with Burns. Some of these orators went so far as to warn the Government that although the "starving mechanics" of London were now attempting to draw attention to their needs by quiet and peaceful actions they were bound to get bread, and would get it by attacking the bakers' shops next if the Government did not come to their relief. Burns himself in one of these side speeches denounced the present House of Commons as a body of landlords and capitalists, for whom hanging was too good.

From Trafalgar Square the mob poured along Piccadilly on its way to Hyde park, cursing the authorities, attacking the shops, sacking the saloons, getting drunk, and smashing windows. On its way the front of the mob made an effort to enter the War office, but turned away when the sentinel at the entrance confronted the intruders with his bayonet. Conspicuous among the buildings attacked by this mob was that occupied by the Devonshire club and that occupied as a residence by Arnold Morley, the newly appointed patronage secretary. The police along the route to Hyde park were brushed out of the way by the rioters as so many men of straw, and many of the officers terribly whipped for their interference.

That part of the Trafalgar square mob which went to Hyde park was composed of the hordes which had filed up Cockspur street, Pall Mall and St. James street, when the Carlton club was attacked. This long drawn out throng bent at Regent street, which begins at the Pall Mall, about half way between Nelson's monument and St. James' street, and moved north through Regent street to Piccadilly, a quarter of a mile away, and passing around Regent's circus went north again through Regent street, a half mile to Oxford circus. The rioters turned here to the left, and went west down Oxford circus to Hyde park, some three quarters of a mile.

Mr. Arnold Morley's residence is in the Piccadilly portion of this route. The house was formerly occupied by John Bright and was well known to many of the mob. When the rioters approached the house to-day Mr Morley loudly called for help and a number of policemen for a moment stood in the way of the men, but finally they were swept aside and a host of desperate men rushed up Mr Morley' steps. He had locked and barricaded his door, but it was burst open against his face and the house was overrun, despite his frantic screams and protests. When the invaders went away they left scarcely a sound pane of glass in the building. A very great number of other private houses along the mob's route fared much worse than did Mr Bright's old home.

The attack upon the Devonshire club took place at the very beginning of the riot, and was very savage. When the mob passed Hatchett's hotel, 67 and 68 Piccadilly, many of the rank and file were hungry, and these made a rush for the hotel. They had it in their possession in a moment, and they sacked it of food and drink and left the building badly wrecked. As the men were leaving the hotel they saw a carriage which had been pressed up against the curb by the passing procession and been abandoned by its frightened occupants. It was seized, and in an instant broken up and the spokes, shafts and other pieces were carried away for clubs.

The Turf club's house being in Piccadilly, presented a temptation to the rioters as they passed, and they smashed all its front doors and windows with stones. All along Regent and Oxford streets between Piccadilly and Hyde park houses were attacked indiscriminately and their windows smashed in.

After Burns had been driven away from the Nelson monument by the police, and had spoken from the National Gallery wall and Carlton club steps a savage fight took place between his adherents, the socialists, and anti-socialists. The battle raged for some time, but the socialists proved victorious, and they lifted Burns to their shoulders and bore him aloft to Regent street, where with him they succeeded in bending the crowd towards Hyde park, Burns leading the whole way. At the park Burns again addressed the mob. This speech was even more violent than the others he had made. The language was exciting and the whole address was well calculated to set the crowd loose upon the town. Burns was followed by several other socialist speakers who did all in their power to stir up strife.

When the speaking was over the mob broke up into sections and disappeared from the scene. The main body went back east along Oxford street again. The affrighted residents of this thoroughfare had not yet recovered from the panic and the mob had the street to themselves. They smashed every sound window they noticed. The wine shops were broken in and their contents distributed freely to whoever wished to drink. The beer saloons were similarly treated. Tailor shops were broken into and the clothes and rolls of cloth were thrown out into the street, to be taken by those strongest in the fights which resulted.

Every person met who looked like a foreigner was stoned or beaten from the street. Scores of times policemen attempted to make arrests but were every time beaten and compelled to surrender their prisoners.

In the meantime several thousand rowdies remained in Trafalgar Square daring the police to "come on" and making rushes at the constables and other obnoxious persons. In one of these rushes the mob overthrew two heavy granite pillars. These fell across Charing Cross and blocked the traffic to and from the Charing Cross railway station. The police made several desperate exertions to clear away the obstructions, but were easily resisted every time by the mob. This mob held their ground so well at Trafalgar Square that until they voluntarily abandoned the scene the entire power of the police proved insufficient to clear a way, to one of the most important railway stations in the world, large enough to permit even a single carriage line to pass to or from the depot.

Sometime after dark the mob gradually left Trafalgar Square. They went away satisfied that without having actually collided with the police they had won the day. As the mob dispersed its sections made havoc on the streets until they dwindled away.

The scenes which characterized the retreat of that section of the Hyde Park mob which went through Oxford street also attended the retreat of the other sections. Every street they entered was surrendered to them, and at midnight the police concurred in stating that never before in the present generation had such a tremendous disturbance occurred in London with so little loss of blood. Some officials declare that upwards of 50,000 men must have been rioting for at least six hours with absolute possession of every thoroughfare they chose to invade, yet no life is reported to have been taken. If the police had been strong enough to attack the mob at any point there might have been terrible records to make. At midnight everything is pretty much as it was yesterday, and the whole thing appears to have been a sort of nightmare. While it lasted the city was thoroughly excited, but the mob was essentially English. It made a frightful demonstration, was not resisted and went to bed at the usual time.

According to later estimates there were 15,000 persons engaged in the Trafalgar Square demonstration. Two-thirds of the crowd were bona fide unemployed workingmen, while the remainder were Socialists. The two sections were not in accord. There were frequent collisions between them. The workingmen took no part in the riotous acts that followed the meeting in Trafalgar Square. The Socialists aroused to fury by the violent tirades of the speakers in the Square, created a three hours' reign of terror. Jewelry shops were broken into and their contents carried off by the mob. Carriages containing ladies were stopped on the streets and their occupants forced to alight. Some of the rioters entered the vehicles and drove at the head of the crowd. The mob swept through the streets shouting "Smash the windows," "Let's get inside the shops" All decently attired persons who encountered the rioters were maltreated, the wearers of silk hats meeting with particularly rough usage. Lord Randolph Churchill appeared at a window of the Carlton Club building when the mob reached there. He was loudly hooted and menaced with clenched fists by the rioters.

The leaders of the Socialists, especially Burns, Hyndeman, Williams and Champion, the last named of whom is an ex-captain of artillery, will probably be prosecuted. The most violent acts were committed on North and South Audley streets and Oxford streets. Two hundred shops and a dozen club houses were seriously damaged, and about fifty shops were pillaged, including jewelers, bakers, butchers and wine shops.

The police were powerless at first, but ultimately succeeded in restoring order by breaking up the ranks of the rioters into small squads. The military were kept under arms all the evening, while policemen patrolled the streets.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

TORONTO Feb. 8.

The following Bills were read a first time:

Mr. Waters—Bill to enable widows and unmarried women to vote at elections for the Legislative Assembly.

Hon. A. M. Ross—Bill to amend the Act respecting the Ontario Agricultural College.

Hon. A. M. Ross—Bill to provide for the better auditing of the public accounts of the Province.

The following notices of motion were given:

Mr. Graham—On Thursday next, address for a return showing the number of Farmers' Institutes formed in the several ridings of the Province, together with the number of lectures delivered in connection with said Institutes by the Professors of the Agricultural College.

Mr. Graham—Returns of the number of widows and unmarried women who availed themselves of the franchise, at the last municipal elections, in the several municipalities of the Province.

The Canadian volunteers who go to Wimbledon this year will meet with a keener competition for prizes than has been their experience hitherto, if the arrangements now in progress can be carried out. Steps have been taken both in India and Australia to have the volunteer forces of these great dependencies represented by regularly selected teams at the next meeting of the National Rifle Association.

Guelph Daily Mercury

TUESDAY EVE'G FEB. 7, 1886.

Important About the Franchise Act.

The following questions were sent to the Globe by a correspondent. We give them with the answers:

1st. Can I get on the voters' list as income voter? I resided in this place since the 12th day of January, 1885, earned $1,500 by my profession, made arrangements to come here on nomination day, 1884. Now, as the Act reads one year before first day of January, 1886, I can't say whether my arrangements in 1884 count, or if I must count from the day I came and stayed here.

2nd question. Can a tenant's son be put on as farmer's son if assessed high enough and pays rent enough?

3rd question. Can a non-resident who has land enough to qualify himself and sons in two different counties, and works the two farms by himself and sons, get his sons on as farmer's sons in the county in which he is non-resident?

1. The Act is clear to the effect that a voter must not only have earned his income in Canada, but must have resided in the constituency for one year next before 1st January, 1886. Our correspondent cannot vote.

2. In cities and towns a son, grandson, stepson, or son-in-law of an owner and occupant of real property may vote if the father's, grandfather's, stepfather's, or father-in law's assessment be high enough to qualify both of them, and if the son, &c., reside with the father, &c. Any number of sons, &c., may come in if the assessment be high enough to qualify all of them. In counties farmers' sons, &c., and sons, &c., of any owner and occupant of real property other than a farm, vote on the same conditions. It appears that the son of a tenant farmer cannot vote, for the interpretation clause runs thus:—"Farmer's son means any male person not otherwise qualified to vote, and being the son of an owner and actual occupant of a farm, and includes a grandson, stepson, or son-in-law.

3. Under the Dominion Franchise a man can vote in every constituency in which he owns property. In the case of farmers' sons living on the farm of their father, who is a non-resident, the sons can vote.

DR. LAVEL, Warden of Kingston Penitentiary, who was one of the medical commissioners sent to Regina before Riel's execution to report upon the prisoner's mental condition, was in Ottawa on Saturday, having been summoned by Sir John Macdonald to discuss the formal report to be made on the subject. It seems that a delegation of Tories from Quebec insisted that Dr. Lavel should make a strong and elaborate report pronouncing Riel sane in order to help the Government's cause in Lower Canada.

WHEN the thermometer drops down among the twenties, and the coal burner has to be kept at full blast, people are apt to remember that they have to pay fifty cents per ton extra on coal. But this great charge on the taxpayers of the Dominion does not secure us from heavy deficits, and it is now openly stated that to meet in some measure that enormous deficit the tax on tea, coffee and coal will be increased. This is very cheering intelligence to a man out of work in the middle of a hard winter.

SIR JOHN MACDONALD will rely on his brute majority to prevent any proper enquiry into the causes of the rebellion in the North-west. It is stated that he has informed some of his supporters that they must be prepared to vote down any motion made for the appointment of a commission to make such inquiry, or the Government's conduct in relation thereto. He thinks that if a commission were appointed they would bring out evidence which would fix the whole guilt upon the Government without doubt, and that therefore it is better to smother the whole matter up, if possible.

IT is strange that the Dominion Government never conceived the idea of building the walls of the Welland Canal out of "solid nonpareil" in order to give a really good grab to their newspaper supporters, and promote a boom in typefounding. The amount which has been spent in useless advertising for tenders for work on that concern thus applied at the usual rate of "composition" might have built one of the locks, provided the engineers were not prejudiced as to the workmen and the material. The advertisements for the proposed enlargement of the Canal appeared in 150 Tory journals, at a probable cost of $4,000. This, however, is not as bad as the advertisements that were put in connection with Indian supplies four or five years ago, when the cost of advertising formed no inconsiderable percentage of the total cost of supplies required.

THE Montreal Herald edited by the Hon. Peter Mitchell, who held the position of Minister of Marine and Fisheries under Sir John Macdonald's previous Cabinet, takes an honest and sensible view of more than one clause of the Lieut.-Governor's addresss at the opening of the Ontario Legislature, but more especially in so far as it touches upon the Dominion Government's resistance to the Provincial rights in the Crown Lands. Says the Herald:—An important part of the speech is that which recites the triumph of the Government of Ontario over the Government of the Dominion. There was the Dominion Liquor License Act. The speech congratulates the Province on the fact that the Privy Council "have not only sustained the Provincial jurisdiction to the extent adjudged by the Supreme Court of Canada, but have sustained the full contention of Ontario, and have declared the entire subject of tavern, shop, vessel and wholesale licenses to belong exclusively to Provincial jurisdiction." The speech arraigns the Dominion Government for setting up the claim that all the Crown lands in the disputed territory, awarded in 1884 to Ontario, are the property of the Dominion as Indian lands. This claim, the speech declares, has arrested the settlement and development of that extensive territory, and although the court appealed to in Ontario had granted injunction against the Dominion licensees and trespassers and has declared that the right to the Crown lands lies, not in the Dominion, but (as in the case of all other provinces) in the Province of Ontario, a final settlement cannot be reached until the Dominion's appeal from the decision has been disposed of. The stubbornness with which the Dominion Government is resisting what seems to be the right of Ontario in this connection is of a piece with the other acts which have kept the Dominion and Ontario arrayed against each other for now many years.

MR. JAMES THOMSON, of Halifax, whom the Halifax Chronicle puts forward as an authority on figures and statistics, alleges that since Confederation Nova Scotia has been going to the dogs. One of his statements is the following:—

I assert that the wealth of this province has steadily decreased since that most inauspicious event and is still steadily decreasing. Now, is it at all to be wondered at? In 1867 the imports of the province amounted to about $12,000,000, and the average of the tariff was 10 per cent, indicating an expenditure of $1,200,000 for Government purposes. It is, perhaps, difficult to obtain the exact amount of our imports at present, because what came from the other provinces was then included in our imports and of course does not now appear in the returns of the blue books. Assuming, however, that in proportion to population we consume as much per head now as we did then, it may fairly be taken that our imports exceed $14,000,000. On this the average tariff would amount to 30 per cent, or over $4,000,000 per annum of taxes. The people of this province, in fact, contribute at present more than three times as much as they did in 1867 to the expenses of Government.

THE FRANCHISE ACT.

The Qualifications of Voters—The Process of Registration Explained.

The time having arrived for the preparation of the voters' lists under the new Dominion Franchise Act, an appeal is made to the Liberals of Wellington to have their names enrolled as voters without delay. To assist in so doing a short summary of the qualification of voters and of the process for securing registration is given.

QUALIFICATION.

To entitle a person to be put on the list he must be—

(1) 21 years of age.

(2) A British subject by birth or naturalization.

(3) Owner of real property of value of:
In a city, $300.
In a town, $200.
In a county, $150.

(4) Or tenant of real property under ease at a rental of
$2 per month.
$6 per quarter.
$12 per half year.
$20 per year.

Provided that the tenant has been in possession for one year before 1st January 1886, and shall have paid one year's rent before final revision.

If the rent is yearly it will be sufficient if $20 of last year's rent shall have been paid before final revision.

Change of tenancy without intermission will not destroy the vote if aggregate of tenancies would give vote.

The assessor should be instructed to state in the assessment roll the rent payable by each person assessed as tenant. If, however, this is not done, each tenant is prima facie entitled to be registered as a voter if the property is assessed at the following values:—
In cities at $300.
In towns at $200.
In counties at $150.
In counties outside of villages the rent may be payable either in money or in money's worth.

(5) Or a bona fide occupant for one year before 1st January, 1886, and enjoying the revenues and profits for his own or his wife's use of real property of the following values:
In cities, $300.
In towns, $200.
In counties, $150.
The occupancy may be under license of occupation from the crown or from any person or corporation.

(6) Or by income without any other qualification.

A person may be registered as an income voter, if he derives an income from his earnings, trade or profession, or from some investment in Canada of $300 a year, for one year before 1st January, 1886.

In counties the earnings may be either in money or money's worth.

(7) Sons of owners of real property are qualified—

(a) Where the father is living and a son or sons living with him continuously for one year before 1st January, 1886, and the property is sufficient in value according to the above figures, if divided between them to give them all votes. If not sufficient to qualify all the sons and the father, then the father and only so many sons as the property will qualify can be enrolled, and in such case the eldest son will be preferred, and then the next elder, and so on.

(b) When the father is dead, and would, if living, be qualified, residence with the mother will suffice, and as many sons as the property will qualify may be registered, with preference to the eldest and elder sons, as in the last case.

Occasional absence from home of a son—not more than six months in the year—will not disqualify, and all time spent at school or college in Canada will be counted as if spent at home.

Son of an owner includes grandson, step son and son-in-law, and all these may be registered as voters on the property if of sufficient value. The provision as to sons of owners applies to the counties as well as towns and cities in cases other than those of farmers' sons.

(8) Farmers' sons—The same provisions substantially apply to farmers' sons, as stated in the last paragraph in respect of sons of owners in cities and towns.

A farm is to be not less than 20 acres of land.

(9) Fishermen and owners of real property and boats, nets, fishing gear and tackle of aggregate value of $150.

Income voters register where they reside at time of registration—all others where property is situate. If in more than one polling division in the same electoral district the voter may register in either.

All names entered in the last revised voters' lists under the old law, will be entered in the new lists by the revising barrister.

Every person not on the assessment roll desiring to have his name on the list must at once send to the revising barrister an application in writing to be put on the list, giving his name, residence and the property or other qualification in respect of which he applies to be put on.

This application must be accompanied by a declaration which is to be made and signed before a commissioner for taking affidavits, a notary or justice of the peace, showing the grounds of the applicants claim to be put on the list.

Substantially the voters are those who can qualify as owners, tenants, occupants, income voters, sons of owners and farmers' sons.

See that the application shows as correctly and fully as possible the qualification.

Make the declaration before a commissioner, notary or justice of the peace. It is convenient to have it attached to the application on the same sheet.

In case of an absent person, let some one else having a knowledge of the qualification make the application and declaration.

When one cannot find a justice or other person before whom the declaration can be taken let the application alone be sent in, with an explanation of the reason, and it would be well in such case to have the truth of the facts in the application certified on the back of it by one, or if possible, two other persons.

The application and declaration must be sent at once to the Revising barrister of the district.

URGENCY OF THE MATTER.

No name not on the last voters' list or assessment roll will be placed on the preliminary voters' list, unless on application and declaration as above.

In case of any difficulty or doubt, application should be made at once for advice to some of the Liberal friends in the neighborhood.

CHAPTER IX.

MEASURING WEAPONS.

"What is the matter? Why are you in the dark?" he asked, in the low voice he was accustomed to use in that room.

"Get a light, please, get a light," was her only answer.

He went downstairs again to the hall, on the table of which he knew he should find candles and matches. He made a light and went upstairs again.

"Tell me what has happened?" he asked, as he re-entered the room; then, as his eyes fell upon the dead man's face, he went on quickly—

"My poor child, have you been alone?"

His words and presence, perhaps, too, the light he brought, woke the girl from the kind of trance in which she had been sitting. She woke to the fact that her friend was gone from her for ever, that she had heard his voice for the last time. Her terror vanished, leaving only grief and a feeling of utter loneliness. She leaned her head upon the bed and burst into an agony of tears.

Though Percival had all a man's dread of such things, he had penetration to see something of what she must have been enduring, and that to cry was the best thing she could do for herself. So he let her alone while he examined the face of the dead man lying so close to the little shivering, sobbing figure. Then he touched the girl on the shoulder, saying—

"You cannot stay here, Helen; let me take you to your room."

"Not alone, Percival. I dare not be alone again."

She raised her eyes as she spoke, and the look in them smote Percival's heart. He said nothing, but took her up in his arms, and carried her down stairs to the dining-room, where he laid her on the couch and lit the lamp. She lay with closed eyes, and he stooped to kiss her, saying—

"I will be back in a moment, and then I will not leave you again."

He went upstairs and knocked at the door of the housekeeper's room with such effect that in five minutes she was awake, and standing half-dressed before him.

"Law! Mr. Moore, is it you, sir?" she asked staring at him. "Is the master worse?"

He told her briefly what had happened, and his face and voice were very stern as he added a few words of blame for the way in which both the servants had gone to bed without making any inquiry as to whether Helen wished for or needed any assistance.

"Now go into your master's room and do what is necessary," he concluded. "I am going back to Miss Lafone; she is not fit to be left."

The housekeeper prepared to do his bidding; she only stopped to ask,

"Where is Miss Lafone, sir?"

"In the dining-room. I will stay with her till morning. She is very much upset, and I half fear she will be ill; if she does, it will lie at your door."

He went back to Helen. She was crying again, as though she would cry away all her strength. He felt furious with the circumstances that had kept him from her side at such a time, and he wished she would reproach him, but she only said—

"Why did you not come sooner, Percival?"

"My dear, I could not. I had been away all day on business, and stupidly missed the last train. I was determined not to stay away all night, because I knew Hazlitt could not last much longer, so I resolved to walk the fifteen miles. I only got home about three o'clock this morning, and came straight away after reading your note. I hoped to be in time yet—a vain hope, as you see."

She heard him in silence, only saying at the end,

"I am sorry you did not see him again."

"Now," he said, "tell me all about it, if it will not distress you too much."

"No; I want to tell you. If I talk about it, I may think of it less. At present it is like an awful nightmare, and I cannot bear to feel like that about his death. I have such a horror of it," she concluded, trembling all over.

He had got her some wine when he brought her down, and he put the glass to her lips, and, going to the sideboard, cut a piece of bread from a loaf which stood there. He dipped it into the wine and gave it to her, saying—

"Eat this first, then begin to talk."

She turned away her head, but he was firm.

"I will not hear a word, Helen; till you have eaten this. See," speaking to her almost as if she were a child. "I will eat a bit first."

He put a bit of the bread into his mouth, and she let him eat alone; but when he broke off the second piece she held out her hand and took what he gave her.

"Now, lie still for five minutes," he said when she had finished eating, "then you shall talk."

He drew the woollen sofa blanket over her as he spoke. It was a pretty thing, knitted in a shell-like pattern in wools of shaded brown and red. Helen touched it with her hand, saying—

"I made this for him; he was always so fond of it, and thought it so pretty."

When she had rested the required time Percival let her talk, and she told him the history of the whole day from the morning, when Dr. Smith had told her the invalid would probably not live through the night, of the short beauty of the November day, and of the evening, up to the end. She told him how he had wished to see the sun set, how they had heard the sound of the waves, of the poem she had repeated to him, and of what he had said. She even spoke, though with bated breath and some difficulty, of those last hours which had been so terrible for her.

Percival listened in silence. He was amazed at the strength she had shown. He thought of what the doctor had said that summer evening on which he had made up his mind to study Helen's character.

ROUGH ON A DELEGATE.—As one of the leading delegates of the Royal Templars entered the dining room of his hotel yesterday at noon, he said, "Waiter, can you let us have a table for six?" The delegate was a clergyman, and had on his white tie, but this might be misleading, at least so thought the waiter who knew that Muldoon's Picnic was in town. So after some consideration the waiter said, "Oh, I suppose we can. Are you running this show?"

This is to certify that I have used McGregor's Speedy Cure for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, and do honestly say that if it cost me one hundred dollars ($100.00) a bottle I would not be without it, as it has done me more good than all the medicines I ever used, and I feel like a new man.—Yours truly. Alex Steel, Carleton Place, Ont. This medicine is for sale at 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at Thos. S. Petrie's Drug Store.

County Sunday School Convention.

The 16th annual Convention of the Sabbath School Association for the County of Wellington, was held in the Methodist Church, Mount Forest, on Tuesday and Wednesday, the 26th and 27th, and was opened on the former day at 4 p.m., by the Rev. Dr. Aylesworth, pastor of the church, who was elected to the chair in the absence of the President, Rev. J. R. Black, of Garafraxa.

The Rev. J. C. Smith, M. A., of St. Andrew's Church, Guelph, presided during the remainder of this and earlier parts of the session.

Reports for the past year were then read by Mr. A. D. Fordyce, General Secretary, and Mr. A. Taylor, Treasurer, the latter showing that only seven schools had contributed to the funds of the Association since the last Convention. The General Secretary's report referred to the Sabbath School Teachers' Institutes, held by request of the Association is December, 1884, and conducted by the Rev. J. McEwen, and to the belief, he expressed at the close, that good would result in more intelligent Bible study and better teaching of the truth. The report further intimated that circulars requesting answers to statistical queries had been forwarded to all Sabbath Schools in the County, but from causes unexplained except in a few cases, only 61 schools had made returns. These, however, were complete, and showed that the schools reporting had 631 teachers (262 males—369 females), with an average attendance of 4378 scholars, of whom 872 were in Bible classes.

Delegates present gave verbal statements respecting the schools they represented, at the close of which the Nominating Committee presented their report, recommending that for the ensuing year—the Rev. L. W. Thom, of Arthur, should be President; Rev. I. B. Aylesworth, L. L. D., of Mount Forest, and Mr. Charles Raymond, of Guelph, Vice-Presidents; Messrs. A. D. Fordyce and A. Taylor, both of Fergus, as General Secretary and Treasurer respectively; the Executive Committee in addition being composed of Rev. Hugh Rose, M. A., of Elora, and Rev. B. Sherlock, of Arthur, Messrs. Robert Phillips, sr., of Fergus, Joseph Reid, of Mount Forest, and Wm. Simpson, of Garafraxa.

At the Second Session held the same evening, the Rev. Dr. Aylesworth addressed the Convention, after which the Rev. J. C. Smith, of Guelph, one of the late Vice-Presidents, addressed the large audience assembled on "The Sabbath School Outlook"—the dangers to be avoided and encouragements to be expected. The address was attentively listened to, deservedly well received, and suitably acknowledged.

The attendance at the Third Session on Wednesday forenoon was exceedingly small.

The Fourth Session commenced at two p. m. A letter was read from the Rev. J. B. Mullan, of Fergus, expressing regret on account of absence, the cause of which was explained. The letter was accompanied by the outlines of a paper he had proposed to prepare for the occasion on "The motives that should govern Christians in furthering the Sabbath School cause."

The Rev. B. Sherlock, Arthur, read an admirably prepared paper on the Word of God as the "Seed provided for the Sower"—the Sabbath School Teacher.

Mr. Jos. Reid, B.A., Head Master of Mount Forest High School and Superintendent of the Methodist Sabbath School, then gave a practical and earnestly delivered address on the "Teacher's Recompense," after which Mr. J. McMurchie, B.A., Headmaster of Harriston High School and Superintendent of Guthrie Church Sabbath School there, dwelt in a clear and impressive manner on the qualifications, aims and duties of the Sabbath School Teacher as a "Sower of the Word of God."

At its close the children were specially addressed by the Rev. J. Pepper, B.A.

The closing session of the Convention on Wednesday evening was particularly interesting. The audience was large, and the subject of the address by the Rev. D. Bickell, of Mount Forest, was "The Attitude of the Sabbath School to the Prohibition Movement." The happy manner in which the subject was treated, the appropriate illustrations and stirring utterances secured the close and interested attention of all, and enlicited the evident sympathy of the audience with the speaker.

Thanks were given to the Delegates, and also to all who had contributed towards the comfort of guests.

The next Convention was arranged to be held at Arthur, at such time as the Executive Committee should deem best.

JOHN CROWE Proprietor

County Sunday School Convention.

The 16th annual Convention of the Sabbath School Association for the County of Wellington, was held in the Methodist Church, Mount Forest, on Tuesday and Wednesday, the 26th and 27th, and was opened on the former day at 4 p.m., by the Rev. Dr. Aylesworth, pastor of the church, who was elected to the chair in the absence of the President, Rev. J. R. Black, of Garafraxa.

The Rev. J. C. Smith, M. A., of St. Andrew's Church, Guelph, presided during the remainder of this and earlier parts of the session.

Reports for the past year were then read by Mr. A. D. Fordyce, General Secretary, and Mr. A. Taylor, Treasurer, the latter showing that only seven schools had contributed to the funds of the Association since the last Convention. The General Secretary's report referred to the Sabbath School Teachers' Institutes, held by request of the Association in December, 1884, and conducted by the Rev. J. McEwen, and to the belief, he expressed at the close, that good would result in more intelligent Bible study and better teaching of the truth. The report further intimated that circulars requesting answers to statistical queries had been forwarded to all Sabbath Schools in the County, but from causes unexplained except in a few cases, only 61 schools had made returns. These, however, were complete, and showed that the schools reporting had 631 teachers (262 males—369 females), with an average attendance of 4378 scholars, of whom 872 were in Bible classes.

Delegates present gave verbal statements respecting the schools they represented, at the close of which the Nominating Committee presented their report, recommending that for the ensuing year—the Rev. L. W. Thom, of Arthur, should be President; Rev. I. B. Aylesworth, L. L. D., of Mount Forest, and Mr. Charles Raymond, of Guelph, Vice-Presidents; Messrs. A. D. Fordyce and A. Taylor, both of Fergus, as General Secretary and Treasurer respectively; the Executive Committee in addition being composed of Rev. Hugh Rose, M. A., of Elora, and Rev. B. Sherlock, of Arthur, Messrs. Robert Phillips, sr., of Fergus, Joseph Reid, of Mount Forest, and Wm. Simpson, of Garafraxa.

At the Second Session held the same evening, the Rev. Dr. Aylesworth addressed the Convention, after which the Rev. J. C. Smith, of Guelph, one of the late Vice-Presidents, addressed the large audience assembled on "The Sabbath School Outlook"—the dangers to be avoided and encouragements to be expected. The address was attentively listened to, deservedly well received, and suitably acknowledged.

The attendance at the Third Session on Wednesday forenoon was exceedingly small.

The Fourth Session commenced at two p. m. A letter was read from the Rev. J. B. Mullan, of Fergus, expressing regret on account of absence, the cause of which was explained. The letter was accompanied by the outlines of a paper he had proposed to prepare for the occasion on "The motives that should govern Christians in furthering the Sabbath School cause."

The Rev. B. Sherlock, Arthur, read an admirably prepared paper on the Word of God as the "Seed provided for the Sower"—the Sabbath School Teacher.

Mr. Jos. Reid, B.A., Head Master of Mount Forest High School and Superintendent of the Methodist Sabbath School, then gave a practical and earnestly delivered address on the "Teacher's Recompense," after which Mr. J. McMurchie, B.A., Headmaster of Harriston High School and Superintendent of Guthrie Church Sabbath School there, dwelt in a clear and impressive manner on the qualifications, aims and duties of the Sabbath School Teacher as a "Sower of the Word of God."

At its close the children were specially addressed by the Rev. J. Pepper, B.A.

The closing session of the Convention on Wednesday evening was particularly interesting. The audience was large, and the subject of the address by the Rev. D. Bickell, of Mount Forest, was "The Attitude of the Sabbath School to the Prohibition Movement." The happy manner in which the subject was treated, the appropriate illustrations and stirring utterances secured the close and interested attention of all, and enlicited the evident sympathy of the audience with the speaker.

Thanks were given to the Delegates, and also to all who had contributed towards the comfort of guests.

The next Convention was arranged to be held at Arthur, at such time as the Executive Committee should deem best.

For the last three months, every one of the High Price Boot and Shoe Merchants in our city have been making extraordinary efforts to draw a few straggling customers by advertising, while we have not had time to write advertisements, as our business has increased so rapidly that our time has been fully occupied attending to our numerous patrons. Note the place, and do not be led away by spurious offers of catch penny dealers, who will try everything to accomplish a sale. Our Goods are all new and not shelf worn. The Presents to be given away will be in my window on exhibition.

Local News.

INTERESTING races at the Speed Skating Rink to-morrow night. See advertisement.

AT a recent meeting of the General Hospital Board it was decided that Reeves of municipalities of the County be notified that patients from the County will be admitted upon the order of the Reeve, whenever it is inconvenient to obtain n order from the Warden.

THE anniversary tea meeting of the Presbyterian Church, at Eden Mills, will be held on Thursday, Feb. 17th. The choir of St. Andrew's Church, Guelph, will furnish the music. Addresses will be delivered by the Rev. J. C. Smith, B. D., Guelph; Rev. Arch. Blair, Nassagaweya; and the Rev. F. Swan, Rockwood, and the pastor, Rev. D. Strachan.

OBITUARY.—We regret to record the death of George Hume, youngest son of John D. McWilliams, Puslinch, which occurred rather suddenly on the morning of the 4th inst. Although ailing for some time no doubts were entertained of his recovery till within a few hours of his death when he sank rapidly. The parents have the heartfelt sympathy of friends and acquaintances in their bereavement.

AT the "Tableaux" in the City Hall on Thursday evening, 18th February, it is understood that the Snowshoe Club will give a series of scenes, illustrating winter sports in Canada; a toboggan slide is also to be erected. For completeness of design and fullness of detail these tableaux will be on a scale never before attempted in Guelph. Between each scene vocal and instrumental music will be supplied.

TEA-MEETING AT ABERFOYLE.—A tea meeting and entertainment under the auspices of the Methodist Church will be held in the Town Hall, Aberfoyle, on Friday, the 19th February. An excellent musical programme has been provided. The following gentlemen are also expected to deliver addresses:—Rev. Dr. Griffin, Guelph; Rev. Dr. McKay, Morriston; Rev. J. Stewart, Mountsberg; Rev. A. Blair, Nassagaweya; and the pastor of the church, R. C. Henders.

ONTARIO YOUNG MEN'S LIBERAL ASSOCIATION.—The Executive Committee of the Young Men's Liberal Association of Ontario will meet at the Reform Club in Toronto on Friday next. Members from all parts of Ontario are urged to be present, as very important business will demand the attention of the Committee. Among the objects of the meeting will be to promote the organization of clubs and to take what further steps are necessary in connection with the voters' lists.

TRUSTWORTHY.—Editor Lang of the Kincardine Review, has apparently won the confidence and esteem of his editorial brethren of Bruce County. He has been made treasurer of the Bruce Printer's Association, and the association does not employ Pinkerton detectives to watch him night and day. The fullness and completeness of the confidence reposed in Mr. Lang will be understood when it is mentioned that there is almost seven dollars in the treasury. It is a question whether Mr. Lang or the association are to be most envied.

VISIT TO OUR SCHOOLS.—Mr. W. Ross, Secretary of the Board of Education, of Port Perry, and Mr. Jno. Gordon, of Flesherton, who are attending the convention of the Royal Templars in this City, visited our Central and High Schools this morning. They were shown through the buildings and given an opportunity of seeing the working of the schools. They expressed it as their opinion that good, thorough work is being done, and were somewhat surprised at the accommodation which is provided for the pupils, it being first class in every respect. The attendance is large, and they are sure that the youth of Guelph have every advantage as regards education, and must say that the Trustees seem to be desirous for the welfare of those committed to their charge. They beg to thank the Janitors for their attention and courtesy in showing them round.

RACES IN GEORGETOWN.—Last night a few from Guelph went to Georgetown to witness and take part in the skating races on the rink there. McCutcheon, of Guelph, and Speight, of Acton, entered for the five mile race for a purse of $15. The race was very exciting both contestants leading alternately. Two laps from the finish McCutcheon made a spurt took the lead and kept it coming in about eight feet ahead. Time, 21 minutes. The three mile race was between Lee, of Georgetown, and Joe Bunyan, Guelph, for a purse of $10. This race was also interesting. As Bunyan was passing Lee on the inside near the end of the race, those from Guelph state that Lee fouled him. However it was held that he did not and Lee was awarded first. Time 11 minutes. Lee and Bunyan race to-morrow.

ANOTHER LANDMARK GONE.—The Grim Reaper Death has been unusually busy of late among the old residents and settlers of this district, and not a week passes without our hearing of the demise of some one who away back in the 'forties helped to make of the wilderness a shining valley, teeming with the fruits of the earth. Such a one was Mr. James Hassan, of New Germany, who died on Tuesday, after a painful illness, from Bright's disease, at the advanced age of 76 years. Mr. Hassan came to this country in 1830 from Londonderry, Ireland. Landing at Montreal, he gradually made his way west, working at his trade of carpenter, until he reached what is now Guelph. He soon afterwards settled on the homestead, on the town line of Wellington and Waterloo, which for half a century made the home of himself and the large family which he raised. Acquiring 180 acres of land, he set himself the task of clearing it. He raised a family of ten children, eight of whom survive, the youngest son alone remaining on the homestead, while the others have built up homes of their own in various places, and he lived to see twenty-nine members of his third generation around his knee. Mr. Hassan served his township frequently as a councillor, and was greatly respected and esteemed by all who knew him, and there are few in this part of Wellington who did not. He was a member of the Church of England, a Conservative in politics, and an upright man in all his dealings. His remains will be interred to-morrow.

MR. WM. SUNLEY has recently made the following sales of Plymouth Rocks:—J. Ford, City, cockerel; J. Tyson, City, cockerel; G. F. Leonard, City, cockerel; Goffat, Orillia, 2 cockerels; Jarvis, London, judge at the late Ontario Poultry Show, 2 pullets; a trio of old birds to a gentleman at Owen Sound for $18.

THE ROYAL TEMPLARS OF TEMPERANCE.

Public Reception at the City Hall.

The greater part of yesterday afternoon was occupied in Committee of the Whole on a new sick benefit scheme, to be conducted upon the monthly assessment plan. The following are the principal features of the scheme: All members of the Order will be permitted to participate in the sick benefits upon payment of $2 and the medical examiner's fee, and passing the necessary medical examination. The monthly assessments range from 25 cents to 50 cents, according to the age of the applicant. The benefits in case of sickness are $5 per week for males and $3 per week for females, and a funeral benefit of $50 upon death. Some changes may be made when the matter comes before the Council to day, but this is unlikely.

A considerable number of delegates did not arrive in time for yesterday's session, but the balance were expected by last evening's and this morning's trains. The following delegates were reported to the Council yesterday: J. B. Marshall, Toronto; C. Smith, Hamilton; George Shafer, Niagara Falls; Fred. Claringbowl, Hamilton; James Paterson, Thorold; J. A. Bushey, Ridgeway; D. J. Stone, Fonthill; Thos. Waugh, Scotland; Finnan Clement, Lynden; W. A. Guile, Toronto; G. Crosthwaite, Norwich; P. R. Williams, St. Thomas; Thos. White, Watford; J. A. E. Switzer, Richmond Hill; Donald Morrison, Newmarket; T. C. Javett, Bowmanville; T. Henderson, Milton; R. C. Currie, M. D., Rockwood; Thomas Ballantyne, Galt; David Rife, jr., Hespeler; James Greenley, Hamilton; Thomas Frewin, Blenheim; W. B. Smith, Harriston; Rev. J. H. Simpson, Merriton; W. J. Porte, Picton; R. Moment, Orono; Wm. Donald, Cannington; William Graham, Lakefield; T. J. Halliday, Brooklin; F. Metcalf, Blyth; W. S. Begg, Collingwood; J. J. Homuth, Wingham; Wm. Watson, Stayner; D. Waterworth, Ridgetown; Rev. J. J. Noble, Arthur, J. Clyne, placing temperance people in a false position. Referring to the efficiency of the Scott Act, he publicly declared from his own knowledge that there was not a tenth part of the liquor drank in Ingersoll that there was when the Act was not in force. He cautioned the people in Guelph not to expect too much from the Act at the start. It was the same as other laws—would have violators. In elections, if need be, he considered that taxpayers should throw their political principles aside and vote for temperance men. The speaker was listened to with great attention.

The Dominion Vice-Councillor, W. W. Buchanan, Hamilton, was the next speaker. He spoke for nearly an hour and a half on the benefits of the insurance system in connection with the Order, showing that the rates were cheaper and the risks less than in ordinary companies. The ladies were admitted for insurance, and they were as good risks as men.

During the evening the speaking was pleasantly relieved by songs given by Miss Stevenson, Miss Crowe, and Messrs. Scroggie, Thomas and M. Hammond, of Hamilton, while the Misses Scroggie performed some instrumental selections.

Mr. S. G. Green, Vice-Councillor of the Supreme Court of the U. S., was also called on, but on account of the lateness of the hour only spoke a few words in reference to the large gathering and the work being done by the Templars.

The meeting broke up after 11 o'clock by singing the Templars Ode and God Save the Queen.

Before the close of the meeting Mr. Steele, Secretary of the Templars' Society here, moved a cordial vote of thanks to the mayor for occupying the chair, and the Council for granting the hall.

Death of Gen. Hancock.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—General Winfield Scott Hancock, senior major-general of the United States army and commander of the military division of the Atlantic, died at 2.58 this afternoon. The immediate cause of death was the irruption of an irritant carbuncle near the base of the brain. His death was a surprise.

Another General Gone.

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—After quite a long illness Gen. Rowley died this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the residence of his daughter in this city. Gen. Rowley became widely known on account of his position as secretary to General Grant with the rank of brigadier-general during the last years of the war. He rose from the ranks.

CHANGE IN LAW FIRM.—Several changes have of late taken place in our law firms. We have to chronicle to-day another change. The firm of Coffee, Field & Coffee, which has, as most of our citizens are aware, lately lost one of the partners by the retirement of Mr J. C. Coffee, to study for the Priesthood at Montreal, has done what it can to repair the loss by taking in a new member in the person of Mr Henry Wissler, of Salem, who has just passed his final examination at Osgoode Hall. Mr Wissler studied in the office of Watson, Thorne & Smellie, Toronto, and took on the whole a very distinguished course. We understand he will take charge of the branch business at Elora, left vacant by the removal of Mr Field to Guelph, where his wide family connections, energy and probity will we venture to say tell very much in favour of the firm with which he has just become connected. The new partnership will be carried on under the name of Coffee, Field & Wissler. The rapid rise of this young and energetic firm to a leading position at the bar of the County has been for some time current comment in legal circles, and we venture to predict that strengthened by the addition of Mr Wissler in the north its success in the future will be still more pronounced.

WELLINGTON MUTUAL.—The annual meeting of the Wellington Fire Insurance Company was held in the office of Mr. Chas. Davidson, Secretary, yesterday, when the following directors were elected:—Fred. W. Stone, James Goldie, F. J. Chadwick, Geo. Hespeler, Geo. Randall, John Harris, Chas. McMillan, J. R. Wissler, and Chas. Davidson. Auditors—T. W. Saunders and Alex. Mackenzie. A ballot was then taken to determine who should be the retiring officers in rotation with this result:—1st year, Messrs. Goldie, Chadwick and J. R. Wissler; 2nd year, Messrs. McMillan, Randall and Hespeler; 3rd year, Messrs. Stone, Harris and Chas. Davidson. Mr. Stone was elected President; Mr. Randall, Vice-President; and Mr. C. Davidson was re-appointed Secretary-Treasurer.

that Love will weld the ties that bind your members one to all and all to one, and Temperance Knights restore the days of chivalry and honour, till the White Cross flag shall wave o'er every city, town and hamlet in the land, and drunkenness with all its vice and crime are known no more.

Mr. Flag, Grand Councillor, responded to the address, thanking the Mayor and citizens for the right royal welcome that had been extended to them. Speaking of the Scott Act he trusted that the good people of Guelph, when it came in force, would see that the law was carried out to the fullest extent. The Government had given us the Act but had not given the means for enforcing it. He referred with pleasure to the sight he saw in Chalmers' Church the day the vote on the Scott Act was being taken in Guelph, and the earnest prayers offered up by the women for its success. He then went on to speak of temperance generally and the work being done by the Royal Templars in particular. He hoped to see the time when the Parliament of our country would be filled with men who were not only in favor of temperance but who were avowed abstainers.

The Rev. W. Kettleworth, Ingersoll, Dominion Councillor, was the next speaker. He remarked that Guelph was not only royal in name but appeared to be royal in character, judging from the kindly address read and the large number of people present. In speaking of the Royal Templars of Temperance he said that there was a beneficiary fund in connection with it, but this was only a secondary consideration, and to assist in the work. The real object was temperance. The organization had only been in existence some four years, and today they had three Grand Councils and 200 local Councils. The speaker then dealt at length with the prohibition question, showing the evil that was done in the community by strong drink, and that the Scott Act did interfere with private interests these interests would have to give way for the general good, the same as they had to give way in the enforcement of laws of every kind. The Scott Act law was a law to protect society, not a law to make people good. The Government had not taken the same means for enforcing this law that they had other laws, thus placing temperance people in a false position. Referring to the efficiency of the Scott Act, he publicly declared from his own knowledge that there was not a tenth part of the liquor drank in Ingersoll that there was when the Act was not in force. He cautioned the people in Guelph not to expect too much from the Act at the start. It was the same as other laws—would have violators. In elections, if need be, he considered that taxpayers should throw their political principles aside and vote for temperance men. The speaker was listened to with great attention.

The Dominion Vice-Councillor, W. W. Buchanan, Hamilton, was the next speaker. He spoke for nearly an hour and a half on the benefits of the insurance system in connection with the Order, showing that the rates were cheaper and the risks less than in ordinary companies. The ladies were admitted for insurance, and they were as good risks as men.

During the evening the speaking was pleasantly relieved by songs given by Miss Stevenson, Miss Crowe, and Messrs. Scroggie, Thomas and M. Hammond, of Hamilton, while the Misses Scroggie performed some instrumental selections.

Mr. S. G. Green, Vice-Councillor of the Supreme Court of the U. S., was also called on, but on account of the lateness of the hour only spoke a few words in reference to the large gathering and the work being done by the Templars.

The meeting broke up after 11 o'clock by singing the Templars Ode and God Save the Queen.

Before the close of the meeting Mr. Steele, Secretary of the Templars' Society here, moved a cordial vote of thanks to the mayor for occupying the chair, and the Council for granting the hall.

Death of Gen. Hancock.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—General Winfield Scott Hancock, senior major-general of the United States army and commander of the military division of the Atlantic, died at 2.58 this afternoon. The immediate cause of death was the irruption of an irritant carbuncle near the base of the brain. His death was a surprise.

Another General Gone.

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—After quite a long illness Gen. Rowley died this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the residence of his daughter in this city. Gen. Rowley became widely known on account of his position as secretary to General Grant with the rank of brigadier-general during the last years of the war. He rose from the ranks.

THE LONDON RIOTS.

The Mob Still Truculent,

BUT THE POLICE GAIN THE ASCENDANCY.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—In anticipation of another demonstration to-day, small crouds of roughs poured into Trafalgar Square from different points of the city. Few of the leaders, however, of yesterday's disturbances made their appearance.

Tradesmen are indignant at the lack of protection afforded them by the authorities and at the impotency of the police and the Home Office.

Though it is well known who the leaders of yesterday's mob were none of them have been arrested.

Hyndman, president of the Democratic Federation, disclaims any responsibility for the actions of the mob. He predicts that trouble of very serious proportions will ensue if the distress existing among the working people is not soon relieved.

Taking advantage of the fog this afternoon roughs assembled in various parts of the West End. They were bold and impudent. One gang attempted to stop the carriages of members of the nobility who were on their way to St. James' palace to attend a levee given by the Prince of Wales. A force of police was at hand, however, who drove back the crowd and dispersed them.

At 3 o'clock the mob at Trafalgar square was estimated to be 10,000 strong. The majority of this great throng was composed of loafers and roughs of the worst class. Large numbers of policemen are present, but their efforts to control the turbulence of the mob proved unavailing. They were unable to clear the streets, and traffic was brought to a standstill. The spirit of the mob to-day was distinctly aggressive. Every carriage which happened to come within reach of the rioters was at once surrounded and its occupants hooted, hissed and insulted.

The mob appeared simply a tremendous mass of undirected human savages. Nothing but the want of some popular leader prevented it from exerting its strength in some organized movement which might bring about most disastrous results. During the afternoon the police charged the mob twice in full force for the purpose of breaking it up and driving the fragments from Trafalgar Square, but both efforts were absolutely futile. The mob would yield a little at the point of attack, but bulge out in some other direction. The police could not surround it or break it. Each failure of the police was greeted by the vast assemblage with cheers and yells.

The increasing gravity of the situation finally alarmed the authorities and they put forth all their energies to suppress the riot. The police force on duty at Trafalger square was enormously increased and prepared for a well defined assault. This after a long struggle resulted in pushing the mob into the side streets and thus splitting it up. The police followed up their work, and drove each fragment of the broken mob until its elements were dissipated in the alleyways and byways of the town.

Every precaution was taken to prevent the reassemblage of any mob. Many of the rioters were arrested. Some of these were fined and discharged. Others were remanded for trial, while a number were sentenced to imprisonment for terms ranging from one to six months.

Burns, Champion, Hyndman and Williams, the four Socialists who inspired yesterday's riots, called this afternoon upon Mr Joseph Chamberlain, the new President of the Local Government Board, at his office. Mr Chamberlain declined to receive the Socialists personally but conveyed to them his willingness to give attention to anything they might place before him writing. Burns and his colleagues thereupon addressed a statement of their wishes. They said they had called to obtain from Mr Chamberlain a declaration of the Government's intentions with regard to providing work for several hundreds of thousands of unemployed people, who were at present starving in the city of London and elsewhere in England. The statement contained the assertion that all the pressure the workingmen's societies had brought to bear upon the local authorities to secure relief for the distressed had entirely failed, and that letters sent the local government by persons authorized to speak for the distressed working people were left unanswered. Burns and his colleagues added that they had personally come for some statement of the Government's intention in order to be able to report something definite to a meeting of the unemployed workingmen of London which is soon to be held in that city.

Mr. Chamberlain replied in writing that he did not think that any of the remedies proposed by the social democratic federation would prove effectual to relieve the prevalent want and misery existing among the unemployed in England. He was on this account unable to support these proposed measures. At the same time he felt the urgent necessity of having something done, and he was now having an enquiry made for the purpose of ascertaining the exact extent and character of the distress. Wherever it should be found necessary to do so, the Boards of Guardians, unless they were already empowered, would be authorized to grant outdoor relief, when labor tests had been arranged sufficient to prevent imposture. The question of public works, continued Mr. Chamberlain, was not within the Province of the Local Government Board.

A FURIOUS GENERAL.

Orton's Braggadocio Makes Fred. Middleton Mad.

Major-General Middleton is terribly enraged over the statement made by Dr. Orton, M.P., a few days ago concerning the fight at Batoche, and the reflections on the General's management contained therein. It is probable that Dr. Orton, who is an officer in the Militia Force, will be called upon to explain his statements. The General regards the M.P's conduct as a gross breach of discipline, and in speaking of the affair to the Minister of Militia he is reported to have said that if subordinate officers were allowed to attack him and disparage his services in the newspapers he would resign at once, and refuse to accept the gift of $20,000 voted him by Parliament.

WEDNESDAY EVE'G FEB. 10, 1886.

The Wage Earner's Vote or the Vote on Income.

In the Ontario Legislature on Tuesday Mr. James Young asked whether wage earners, entered as voters at Dominion or Local elections, can be assessed for income unless it exceeds the amount of $400 per annum.

Hon. C. F. Fraser said part of the question referred to the Dominion Franchise Act, and he did not know that there was any wage earners' franchise as such, as they were entered as income voters. He would not, therefore, refer to that part of the question. He had no doubt whatever that wage earners could not be assessed unless their income exceeded $400, and they were not intended to be assessed. Before the session was over he would see that this was made perfectly clear.

From the above it is clear that young men who are earning $300 and over, and who qualify under the Dominion Franchise Act, are not liable to be brought in for the payment of the municipal income tax. Young men, remember, therefore, there is absolutely no expense incurred in the matter, no tax imposed, but a free and equal vote given to every one who possesses the qualification and takes the trouble to register his name.

The Farmers' Son Franchise.

There is no reason why every farmers' son in the Dominion, who is of age and a British subject, should not have a vote under the new Franchise Act. The special property qualification requires that the farm must be of the actual value of $1,50 in order to qualify the owner thereof, but for every additional $150 of value, the owner's sons, from the oldest to the youngest, who are of age, may qualify and vote. Thus, a farmer owning land and real property of the actual value of $1,050 and who has six sons come of age, may have his own name and that of each of his sons placed on the voters' lists in respect of the said property. The word "father" includes grandfather, step-father, and father-in-law; and "farmer's son" includes a grand-son step-son or son-in-law. The same rule applies, so far as the sons are concerned, when the farm is owned by a mother, step-mother, or mother-in-law.

THE Senate at Washington has passed the bill admitting the Southern part of Dakota as a state, and providing for the organization of the Northern part as a Territory under the name of Lincoln.

One-third of the ministers of the Methodist, United Brethren, Evangelical, and other denominations having the itinerant system are disqualified under the new Dominion Act. A man must have lived during the whole of 1885 in the constituency in order to vote in 1886. What a fraud this precious Act is, anyway.—Waterloo Chronicle.

MR. DOUTRE's great legal struggles, the Guibord burial case and the Lamirande extradition case, are probably much better remembered by Canadians than his duel with Sir George Cartier at Chambly in 1848, when two shots were exchanged. This personal affair between two of the foremost young Canadians of their day, seems to have been forgotten much more readily than these things usually are.

IT will be necessary to print the voters lists twice under the Franchise Act. This will cost at the lowest calculation $1,000 in each constituency, There are 211 constituences, so that the cost of printing the lists alone, to say nothing of the salaries of revising barristers, clerks and other officials, rent, etc. will be $422,000 a year. This should go a good way, judiciously distributed, in subsidizing the Tory press. And this is one of the main objects of the Act.

IT makes all the difference in the world whose ox is being gored, and it is evident that our courts of law are not equal to the task of compelling even handed justice to all when great political leaders are involved. A case in point will illustrate this sufficiently. During the trial of Wm. Kyle for forgery in Toronto a number of telegrams were produced by the officials of the Telegraph Company. It will be recollected that in the Conspiracy Case the Company refused to produce certain telegrams. Kyle was found guilty. The brawling brood got off. Comment is unnecessary.

THE full cost and trouble to the people involved under the new Dominion Franchise Act is only just beginning to dawn on all who are affected by it, and few are not in some way or another. The enormous cost of administering it, the cumbrous machinery, and all its absurd provisions in reference to residence, etc., are found to be drawbacks of a most serious order. But these are as nothing compared to the time, trouble and cost to private individuals. The aggregate loss to the country in this manner will in all probability treble the apparent cost as borne by the country and the municipalities, and when all is done, nobody will be a bit better of. Whatever additional privileges were intended to be conferred by the Act might have been given under the satisfactory method of assessment and enrollment by the municipalities, at a very slight addition to the ordinary expense. That, however, would have placed Reformers on as fair a footing as Conservatives, and such a possibility had to avoided at all cost and hazard.

THE London Free Press professes to favour the abolition of state pageantry at Toronto, and the Windsor Record recommends that this goose sauce that is to be dealt out at the Provincial capital should also be tried where there is still greater need, at Ottawa. The mediæval pageantry which still holds its grounds in the various capitals in Canada ought never to have had a foothold. It is the veriest mockery of royalty, and cannot impress those who witness it otherwise than unfavorably. By all means let us have a little more attention to business and a little less exhibition of such State pageantry.

"County Tyranny."

To the Editor of the MERCURY.

SIR,—The gentlemen who compose our County Council have recently ratified an act which does not reflect much credit either upon their sense of justice or liberality. If a man who cannot find work sufficient to maintain himself and his family in ordinary comfort should start out with a pack of goods on his back to enable him by trading with his neighbors to eke a precarious existence he must be fined for the privilege of doing so. Our county sages appear to have been taking lessons from their Dominion Archetype whose maxims and practices they are no doubt proud to emulate. It is certainly no part of their business to find employment for any one, still less is it any part of their business to place obstacles in the way of any one who is trying to live without becoming a burden upon others. It is evident that this sort of despotism is productive of no little satisfaction to our collective municipal wisdom. The tendency of exacting needless fines for the privilege of buying and selling is only to multiply the number of tramps, thieves, and paupers. No reasons are alleged for taxing those who in their own humble way are trying to live rather than prey upon society. Perched on their lofty pedestal our county sages have no need either to carry a pack or drive a horse and sleigh in order to maintain an existence. They think themselves much better employed in practising tyranny where it can be legally exercised. Their ideas of liberalism are as exalted as those of a Charles the 1st of England or of his more contemptible predecessor.

Reform newspapers are never wearied in pointing out the load of taxation the people throughout the Dominion have to bear. Sir Leonard Tilley tried to show in his own way that our taxes according to population were comparatively trifling. Politicians who have a purpose to serve, and few of them have not, are no way distinguished for sincerity. They have always large mental reservations. To tell the truth is only an infinitesimal part of their business. Deception and fraud when found productive of profit are so much more congenial and acceptable to themselves and their satellites that it is no wonder truth and sincerity are lightly esteemed.

Unlike Sir Leonard Tilley our county legislators do not endeavour to hoodwink the public. Their sincerity in the imposition of penalties upon those who dare to carry a pack is worthy of all praise. The Pharisees of old received their reward for saying long prayers and performing vain oblations, and doubtless our sages will be expecting a reward for what they have done. Even despots often have a method in their despotism.

One man may go with a horse and sleigh and purchase cattle, sheep, implements, etc., but if another, pressed by a stern necessity, goes in the same way and buys not sheep but sheepskins, not cattle but hides, paying for them in money, cloth, tea or any other commodity people may want, our county sages declare that unless previously mulcted he has no right to do so. Of Toryism it seems we can never become satisfied. As it advances individual freedom recedes. It is said that the progress of science has contracted the sphere of moral freedom, it is certain that the progress of Toryism continues to limit the sphere of political freedom and our sages are labouring within their sphere towards the same end.

Yours truly,

S. MCLENNAN.

The Lodger Vote Franchise.

Among the franchises created by the Dominion Act is the following:—

Any male British subject of 21 years of age who

Is the tenant of any real property within any city or town, under a lease at a monthly rent of $2, a quarterly rent of $6, a half-yearly rent of $12, or a yearly rent of $20; who has been in possession, and has really paid such rent for at least a year before 1st January, 1886.

Or is the tenant of any real property assessed at $300 in cities, at $200 in towns, and $150 in townships and villages.

The interpretation clause of the Act defines real property as follows:—

Real property means a lot or portion of a lot, or other portion or sub-division of real property, or a house, store, office, or building of any description whatsoever, or ANY PORTION THEREOF, situate upon real property and forming part thereof.

This enfranchises persons occupying a single room, or part of a single room, or part of an office, provided the rent paid for the same comes to the above-named sums.

Now is the time for everybody qualified under this franchise to get his declarations made out. Reformers can get these filled up and attested by applying to Mr. Hugh McMillan, over the Federal Bank.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Toronto, Feb. 9.

A number of petitions were presented, the more important being from 185 citizens of Hamilton praying that incomes under $1000 be exempted from taxation; from the County Council of Huron against the formation of the proposed County of Lansdowne, and from the County Council of Middlesex to obtain release from the law which compels county councils to provide fuel, light and furniture for Law Associations.

On motion of the Attorney General the house ratified an Order in Council authorizing the Treasurer of the Province to pay over to the Home for Aged Women in Toronto the sum of $3 378, realized from the estate of Elizabeth Neal, who died intestate in that institution.

Mr Carnegie obtained some information as to timber limits.

Mr Fraser, in answer to Mr Young, said that wage earners entered as voters could not be assessed for income under $400.

Mr Ross (Huron), in reply to Mr Brereton, said there was no butter in hand at the creamery, but that some of the new season's manufacture might be sent to the Colonial and Indian Exposition.

SHORTHORN BREEDERS IN COUNCIL.

Raising the Standard for Stock

The annual meeting of the Dominion Shorthorn Breeders' Association was held at Toronto on Tuesday. The meeting was a thoroughly representative one. Among those present from this section were Messrs. J. I. Hobson, Mossborough; Jas. Laidlaw, M.P.P., D. Rae, Jos. Cowan and J. C. Wright, Guelph; A. Armstrong, Speedside, and H. and I. Groff, Elmira. In a revision of the by-laws and constitution the following standard was inserted:—No animal shall be admitted to registry in the Dominion Shorthorn herd book except those whose pedigrees trace in their crosses to imported cows registered in the English herd book. Registering in the English herd book of stock imported previous to 1865 will not be required. No recorded animals in the English herd book that have not ancestors on record previous to vol. 21 will be admitted. Those imported since 1846 must trace to ancestry distinctly designated, but owing to the difficulty connected with keeping proper records prior to that date it will be sufficient to know that the ancestry has been imported.

The election of officers followed, the Board being chosen from every section of the Dominion. Among the Executive Committee we find the names of J. I. Hobson, and J. L. Cowan.

Elora Correspondence.

PROVIDED FOR.—The baby presumed to have come from Guelph, and which was presented to the citizens of Elora a few days ago, has found a good home with Mr Wm. Fenwick, clothier, of this village, who is kind hearted and intelligent, and who has gladly accepted the responsibility of clothing, feeding and educating the little stranger, and who will bring him up in the fear and admonition of the Lord. The lucky waif is to be named Wm. Fenwick, and if he turns out to be as good a man as his foster parent will eventually become a decent citizen.

LEAVING.—To the regret of everybody, Mr George Brown, who has been Excise Officer here for some years, left Elora yesterday morning for permanent residence in Hamilton, having been transferred by order of the authorities to a place where he will find more exercise for his business-like qualities than in Elora. During his stay here, Mr Brown has discharged his duties zealously, faithfully and courteously, and none will feel more sorry at the change, which has been deemed desirable, than those with whom his official duties have brought him into contact. Mr J. D. Kennedy, formerly stationed here, and now in Fergus, will attend to the Excise business of both Elora and Fergus.

LECTURE.—On the evening of the 11th inst., the Rev. Hugh Rose, will deliver a lecture in Knox Church, for the benefit of the Ladies' Fund, entitled "Rise and Development of Conservatism and Liberalism." The subject is an attractive one, and will be made unusually so in the hands of a gentleman so versatile and eloquent as the pastor of Knox Church. The chair will be occupied by His Honour Judge Drew, and a small charge will be made for admission.

ENTERTAINMENT.—The ladies of St. John's Episcopal Church here intend to give what they term a "Friendly Entertainment," on the evening of Tuesday, the 16th inst. Tea will be furnished in the good style which has always distinguished everything emanating from the ladies of this congregation, and a good time may be confidently expected and it is hoped that the Drill Shed will be filled with the supporters and friends of those who attend St. John's. The Rev. Mr. Spencer, who has become an expert in the manipulation of the Stereopticon, will materially enhance the varied character of the proceedings of the evening by exhibiting the numerous new views, which have recently come into his possession, some of them being of a strictly local character.

CHALMERS' CHURCH.—A soiree will be held on the occasion of the thirtieth anniversary of the formation of the prosperous congregation of Chalmers', on Friday 19th February, when the Rev. G. M. Milligan, of Toronto, noted as an eloquent and pointed speaker, will deliver a lecture. Other speakers will address the assembly, and music will be furnished by one of the most efficient of our church choirs, which is under the leadership of Prof. Spalding.

ANOTHER BALL.—Notwithstanding the absence of marked success in the way of money raising in the management of the recent charity ball here, another attempt to woo the votaries of Terpsichore was made on Wednesday evening last. The music, furnished by our local quadrille band, was found to be acceptable to young and old, who tripped the light fantastic and all went merry as a marriage bell. Solid enjoyment seemed to be the order of the night and no contretemps occurred to mar the pleasure of the evening.

SAD DEATH.—MRS. David Massie, of this village, suffered from cold at the beginning of last week, but unfortunately neglected to call in medical aid until an acute attack of pleuro-pneumonia had developed itself. The case seemed hopeless to her medical attendants, but other complications followed and her death became inevitable, and she died on Saturday Mrs Massie was an estimable woman, and beloved by all who knew her. Mr. Massie, who thus loses his second wife, has the sympathy of the whole community in his sad bereavement. The funeral yesterday, to the cemetery here was largely attended.

APPOINTMENT TO OFFICE.—The Elora Council have invited applications for the various offices in their gift, comprising those of assessor, collector, constables, bell ringer, caretaker of cemetery, caretaker of fire engines and caretaker of public buildings. The applications will be opened at the meeting of the Council this evening, and it is probable that the old officials will be reappointed.

INVOLUNTARY TOBOGANNING.—One of our oldest and most respected citizens, who has never yet entrusted himself to the modern happy dispatch tin board, termed a toboggan, but who has often coasted in his early days down the slopes of Elora, left his residence, which is on a hillside, a few mornings ago, and before he could take in the bearings properly, tripped, slipped and fell, shooting down the declivity at the rate of sixty miles an hour. He got there on time, with a bruised shoulder, and a feeling of warmth, which made him think that although the thermometer was 22° below zero, the cold wasn't worth talking about.

EXTRAORDINARY VITALITY.—A few weeks ago, a threshing took place at the farm of Mr Nathan Cowan, 10th con. of Peel, when a valuable fat pig was accidentally buried in the straw stack. At the end of twenty five days, his pigship, being probably anxious to learn later news of the day than had reached him in his involuntary retirement, worked his way through the superincumbent straw to light and liberty. Mr Cowan was surprised and delighted at the recovery of the missing animal, but calculated that he had lost about 100 lbs. of good meat by the temporary burial of his porcine friend.

SKATING COMPETITION.—On Friday evening last, there was another competition at the Elora rink for the silver medal, which has been twice carried off by Chas. Gale, and which must be once more won by him before it becomes his property. Six competitors entered for the five mile race, namely: George Kranzmann, John Hillis, Robt. Hillis, Wm. Thompson, Wm. Waddell, and Wm. Murdoch; Chas. Gale having been so disabled in the contest in Fergus on the preceding night that he did not care to come to the scratch on this occasion. George Kranzman took first place without difficulty, John Hillis being a good second and Wm. Thompson third.

ON the farm of the well-known stock breeder, Mr. Charles Terryberry, county of Glanford, were recently born twin calves, one of which has only three legs. This freak of nature is quite smart and doing well, and is a great curiosity to numerous sight seers from various parts of the township.

THE SICK TREATED FREE OF CHARGE.—The Doctors of the Great English Staff of Physicians and Surgeons are now stopping at the Commercial Hotel, Guelph, and will remain until the 15th of February. As this is their first trip through Canada they will treat you free of charge. The only favor they ask of their patients is a recommend after a cure is effected. Office hours from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Sundays from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. d6

Two hundred persons were received into church fellowship at St. James Street Methodist Church, Montreal, on Sunday night, as a result of the evangelistic services held in that church during the past few weeks.

CHAPTER IX.

MEASURING WEAPONS.

"You are a brave girl," he said, when she had finished, and he kissed her with passionate tenderness. "Many a man would have failed to do what you have done. I shall never forgive myself for having been so careless as to let you go through this alone."

"It is over now, and you could not help it. But he wanted you so much before he died. He wanted to talk to you, I think."

"I can guess what he wanted to say to me; he wanted to remind me of what I have won in winning you. There was no need. I trust you will soon be my wife, my other better self, whom to lose would be to lose all I hold dear in the world."

He held her close to him as he spoke, looking down into her beautiful dimmed eyes, and feeling at that moment unworthy of the love he had won.

"While I love you," she said, "I do not care what may come—poverty, sickness, even death. Had I not had you I could not have borne that death upstairs; it would have taken everything from me. Let us love with all our strength, Percival, for there is nothing else that is stronger than the world."

They had almost forgotten what had brought this meeting, till in the silence which followed Helen's words they heard the slow measured tread of the woman who was moving about in the room above, performing the last services which the man who had brought these two together would ever require. A shiver ran through Helen as she heard it, and she whispered,

"He brought us together, and now he is dead."

"Do not let this make you superstitious," he said gently.

They remained in this way for a long time till Percival, glancing down at Helen's face, saw she was asleep.

He smiled as he looked at her. Her head had fallen back upon the cushions and her face was turned upwards. She was strikingly pale—even considering all she had gone through she was strikingly pale; there were dark shadows under her eyes, and the long, curled lashes rested upon them. The corners of her mouth drooped sorrowfully; the lips just parted showed a glimpse of small, regular, white teeth. Her face looked almost childlike, it was so small, and soft, and pure; thinner than it had been, yet neither haggard, nor older, only finer and calmer. Percival looked and looked, he could not take his eyes away; it seemed as if the intensity of his gaze must have wakened her, but she slept on, never moving, her chest hardly stirred by her light, even breathing. She looked almost as lifeless as the dead man upstairs.

Presently he felt sleep begin to weigh down his own eyelids, a clock in the hall struck six, there was just time for a doze before it was time to begin the day's work. He threw himself into a large arm chair standing by the fireplace, and was asleep in a few minutes.

A carriage was sent for Helen soon after breakfast, and she left the house which for the last six weeks had been her home. She paid a visit to the doctor's room before going. The dead man's face was in perfect repose, and she swept the thick grey hair off the broad massive forehead, and kissed first that and then the cold rigid lips. She was alone; at that moment she forgot Percival, and felt in losing her old friend she had lost all that was (to her) worth losing in the world.

Her tears flowed fast during the short drive, but she was quite calm when she reached home. The servant who admitted her looked curiously at her pale face and tear-dimmed eyes, but she passed straight into her room without meeting anyone; nor did she leave it again that day.

She came down to breakfast on the following morning, and was considered by that time to have been allowed sufficient time to indulge her grief. Mrs. Lafone made a good many inquiries, though she said Mr. Moore, who had called the afternoon before to inquire after Helen, had furnished them with many particulars. Still she understood he had not been present at the time of the actual death. Helen, she supposed, had been alone then. (It did not seem to strike her what an awful experience it was for a girl of twenty to go through, nor that it might be painful to her to answer any questions on the subject. She was a woman with a natural appetite for such details, and with the unsympathetic nature which such an appetite implies.) Helen, who though exceedingly pale, was perfectly composed, answered her questions faithfully.

"What time did he die?" she asked, peering into the breakfast cups as she spoke to see that they were prepared to the taste of each person.

"I think it was about two o'clock."

"You think? You ought always to be sure of the exact moment of a death or anything of that kind; it is most important. Why did you not look at your watch?"

"I did not think of it," replied the girl, who would have died sooner than speak of the dying lamp, the awful stillness, and the stiffening grasp upon her hand.

"Then how do you know it was about two o'clock?"

"I heard the clock strike a little time afterwards."

"How did he die?—quietly, or was there any struggle?"

"Quietly," was the reply, in a scarcely audible voice.

"I wish you would learn to speak up; you always mutter so. I am glad it was quietly; it is so shocking when old people like that seem unwilling to die. Let me see. You have been away so long, I have forgotten—but you do not take sugar, I think."

"No, thank you."

"What was the last thing he said, I wonder."

Helen took advantage of the words being rather a remark than a question to make no reply.

"Can't you tell me?" asked her stepmother, turning to her and speaking rather sharply.

"No, I cannot."

"What do you mean by that? That you cannot or will not?"

"I will not," driven to bay at last, and looking steadily with sad dark eyes into her adversary's face.

Mrs Lafone sat petrified, with a cup in one hand and her other just ready to turn the tap of the coffee-urn.

"You are very disrespectful, Helen. May I ask if there were a secret?"

"They were addressed to me alone, and I shall tell them to no one."

Her voice was low and steady, and her face went whiter than before, as she again seemed to feel the slow, soft touch of the doctor's hand over her face.

The subject was so evidently painful to her that even Alice was moved to interfere.

"Really, mamma," she said, "how you do gloat over these things; it is not the most agreeable subject for a breakfast table; and I should think you might know by this time that when Helen gets that look on her face you will never make her do anything she does not want."

Mrs Lafone generally yielded to the will of her daughter, so the subject dropped and Helen was allowed to sit out the remainder of the meal in peace.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 6th.

The Blood Reserve.

From the Fort MacLeod Gazette.

There are probably few people who have a very correct idea as to the exact size of the Blood and Piegan reserves, or the numbers of the Indians. The area of the Blood reserve is 117,000 acres, and that of the Piegan reserve 180,000 acres. The total number of Indians in treaty number 7, which includes the Bloods, Piegans, Blackfeet, Sarcees and Stonies, is 6,417. The Bloods are from twelve to twenty-five miles south of Macleod; the Piegans about ten miles west; the Blackfeet about ninety miles north; the Sarcees about ninety-five miles northwest, and the Stonies about 130 miles northwest. In the event of an outbreak, suppose that all these Indians took part, there would be something like 800 warriors. When it came to equipment the number who would be fully armed would probably only amount to half of the above 800. The number might again be doubled by recruits from the other side of the line. We doubt if an outbreak among the southern Indians would put much more than 1,000 warriors in the field, exclusive, of course, of any northern Indians who might join in the uprising.

The Chinese Must Go.

PORTLAND, Oregon, Feb. 7.—To-day, as if by some preconcerted and settled arrangement, the Chinese are being driven out of Seattle, W. T., the scene of the recent raid upon Celestials by white miners. It is understood that the Knights of Labor are at the head of to-day's demonstration. So far no personal violence has been offered to the Chinamen, but they are corralled wherever found and marched to the steamship landing, where the steamer Queen of the Pacific, which plies regularly between San Francisco and Puget Sound, is lying. On arrival at the wharf the rioters march what Chinamen they have on board, after procuring for each one a steerage passage to San Francisco, which costs $10. Up to two o'clock this afternoon about 100 Chinamen were stowed away on the steamer. An effort was then made to rush a number of others aboard without paying their passage money, but the Captain of the steamer stationed five men at the gangways with trained hose, ready to pour boiling water into the mob if the attempt should be renewed.

Rockwood Correspondence.

It is reported that a leading manufacturing firm here have obliged their employees to sign an agreement to the effect that they will not speak to each other during working hours. This arrangement naturally causes considerable grumbling amongst the hands.

An exciting two mile race took place on the rink Thursday evening. There were four entries, Black, Laverty, Garston and Trotter, of Acton. The Acton youth, finding the ice too slippery for him, soon retired. On the fifth lap, Laverty got into a dispute with some benches in the corner, which knocked him out, leaving the field to the other two, who were frantically urged on to do their utmost by hundreds of voices. Black, who was behind, made several desperate attempts to pass Garston, who, however, managed to keep the lead, and came in about a yard ahead.

The carnival last week was not so largely attended as on the first occasion, owing, no doubt, to the severity of the weather. Some of the costumes were very attractive, and would do credit to a city rink. Madame Britannia and the Czar of Russia fraternized together as if there was no Eastern Question to disturb their friendship, while a daughter of Bismarck kept a sharp eye on her rivals over her spectacled nose, and the Stars and Stripes floated around as saucily as if annexation had become a fixed fact. Frank Lees representation of a Knight in armour was the gem of the evening and was much admired. A number of prizes were given for the best costumes, but the awards of the judges were so manifestly unfair that the competition became a farce. We respectfully submit to the managers the propriety of appointing judges honest enough to give all the boys and girls a square deal, and who will place every patron of the rink upon the same level, in regard to these competitions.

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS made miserable by that terrible cough. Shiloh's Cure is the remedy for you. Sold by A. B Petrie.

This is to certify that I have used McGregor's Speedy Cure for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, and do honestly say that if it cost me one hundred dollars ($100.00) a bottle I would not be without it, as it has done me more good than all the medicines I ever used, and I feel like a new man.—Yours truly, Alex Steel, Carleton Place, Ont. This medicine is for sale at 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at Thos. S. Petrie's Drug Store.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—James Anthony Froude has written a letter, declining the invitation to lecture in Belfast on the Irish crisis. In it he says that talking is of little use and that the time for action is approaching. England is now asleep, but when the state of anarchy in Ireland shall have become intolerable, she will awake, and do as she has done before.

Eastern Europe.

Russia's objection to the Turco-Bulgarian agreement is personal to Prince Alexander. The Porte has been informed that Lord Rosebery, the British Foreign Minister, will maintain Lord Salisbury's Balkan policy.

Parnell as Dictator and Supplicant.

GALWAY, Feb. 10.—Parnell in his address to the parliamentary electors of this city yesterday in response to appeals to have his candidate withdrawn in favour of Lynch, the Nationalist candidate, used the following language: "Having agreed to support Capt. O'Shea, we will not deviate a hair's breadth from the course decided upon. Capt. O'Shea will vote with the Irish party. If he be defeated it will weaken my hands."

AN IMPORTANT STOCK SALE.—Stock raisers, both of draught horses and thoroughbred cattle, should note the date, Thursday, March 4, of Mr. James Cowan's sale of stock. The cattle are all registered in the B. A. Herd Book, and embrace about 30 head. The horses are either imported or raised from imported stock, and are registered in the Canadian Stud Book. Catalogues may be had of the proprietor, or of Mr. James Taylor, auctioneer, Mosboro' P. O.

RAILWAY LIFE.—This is the title of a new paper piloted by T. S. Norris as editor, and W. B. Campbell as business manager, the place of publication being 64 Bay street, Toronto. Mr. Norris is well posted on railways, and has an extensive acquaintance with railway men, while Mr. Campbell has the reputation of being a hustler in business affairs. Their paper makes a highly creditable debut, being stocked with interesting and valuable information and neatly printed. The Railway Life should have a long and prosperous run.

A CANADIAN ABROAD.—The Minneapolis Saturday Spectator publishes sketches, with portraits, of the officers of the Caledonian Club, of that city, Secretary Hector Baxter being among the number thus honoured. This gentleman was born in Victoria, took a course at the Rockwood Academy some sixteen years ago. Mr. Baxter is a Past Grand Master of the I. O. O. F. in Canada. As a Master Mason he was for two years W. P. of his mother lodge. He is a Royal Arch Mason and a member of the Scottish Rites Body, A. A. S. Southern Jurisdiction, a Knight of Pythias, and is a member of Hermion Lodge in this city.

SPEED SKATING RINK.—The races tonight promises to be a success in every particular. The slight frost of last nigh has made the ice hard and it is now in splendid condition. The contestants at latest advices will be on hand without fail, and it is probable that there will be entries from quarters that are not anticipated, at least there are rumors to this effect. It may safely be said that it is not likely so much talent in the skatorial line will be presented on the Speed Rink again this season. These competitors are great rivals in their respective distances and close and exciting races may be looked for.

CURIOUSLY PRESERVED SURVEYORS MARKS.—In running lines through bush it is customary to mark any tree that stand within a few inches of the line by simply taking a chip from both sides. This is termed "blazing the tree." Where a tree stood directly on the line it was in old times customary to make three notches on each side and the surveyor passing to the other side of the tree set his compass to the proper bearing and proceeded with the line till another tree was struck. Trees thus blazed near the line are known as "line trees." Those notched are termed "centre trees." Two blocks shown us by Mr. Davis, P. L. S., were cut from trees blazed while running the line in Caledon Township, county of Peel. One blaze was made in 1835, by C. Kennedy, P.L.S., while running the line between lots now owned by Messrs. McClellan and Smiley. The other was made by a surveyor named McCartney in 1845 while running the line between farms now owned by Messrs. Scott and Erskine. On a re-survey of these lines recently by Mr. Davis these blazed trees were found to agree exactly with the true line between the lots. In the blocks shown the original cut has been completely grown over but the scars remain on the bark and counting from the bark to the axe marks on the wood, the number of rings indicate a number of years equal to the time that has elapsed since the blazes were made.

MILITARY FUNERAL.—Yesterday afternoon the remains of the late Sergt. Clay were interred with military honors in the Union Cemetery. At half-past two o'clock the veterans of 1866, some twenty in number—although many of them did not belong to the company—assembled at the City Hall under the command of Captain Bruce. Among the old officers present were noticed Col. Higinbotham, who was Captain in 1866, and afterwards raised to the rank of Colonel in command of the 30th Batt.; Col. Armstrong, recently retired, then Lieut.; Capt. Bruce, then Ensign. Quartermaster Mann, of the 30th, is the only officer now remaining in the Company who was out in 1866, Sergeant Clay, deceased, who was the Color Sergeant, being the only other remaining veteran. He appeared in full uniform, while the others were in civilian clothes. Shortly before three o'clock the veterans marched up Wyndham street and took up a position on the sidewalk in front of the deceased's place of abode on Woolwich street. Shortly afterwards No. 1 Battery, who assembled at the Drill Shed, and a firing party from No. 2 Company, who mustered at the same place, marched along Wyndham and Douglas streets to Woolwich, the whole being under the command of Col. Macdonald. The following were the pallbearers chosen from the Battery: Br. C. Notman, Corp. R. Power, Br. Cross, Gunner Holly, Gunner Flemming and Gunner McKechnie. After all who choose had taken a last look at the well known features of the deceased, the pall-bearers carried the coffin to St. George's Church, where a short funeral service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Irving, after which a procession was formed with the escort in front, the hearse, followed by the soldiers of 1866, and No. 1 Battery, followed by a number of conveyances. During the progress of the cortege the streets were lined with thousands of people. The Rev. Mr. Irving conducted the usual services of the English Church at the grave. When the military returned to their quarters Col. Macdonald complimented the rifles on their soldierly appearance, neatness and cleanliness and for the promptitude with which they had turned out.

MR HUGH WALKER, who has been confined to the house for nearly a month with affections produced by a severe cold, is getting better, and was in his store attending to business for a short time to-day.

THE officers and members of the Guelph Catholic Union beg to offer an apology to their patrons for the limited accommodation afforded at the entertainment on Wednesday evening. Better arrangements will be made next time. d1

"THE man that won't clean off his sidewalk, should be made to clean his sidewalk off," said a pedestrian to-day. It must be a source of intense disgust to the ratepayer who cleans his snow off to the boards to wade ankle deep over slush and rubbish in front of his next door neighbor's house. Another day like this and every one should clean up.

GLOVES STOLEN.—Relieving Officer Clarke mourns the loss of a pair of $2 gloves to-day. He left them in his office yesterday afternoon, and some one, who no doubt considered that they required protection for their hands against the cold westerly blast as well as the gallant Adjutant made off with them, during his brief absence attending to duties in connection with his office.

PROF. VALLANEE, F. S. Sc., London, Approved Master Glasgow University, is now in Canada giving a series of entertainments. He landed at New York on Sunday last, and on Tuesday evening appeared before a Toronto audience under the patronage of His Honor Lieut.-Governor Robinson, as well as of the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Societies. He is to be in Guelph on Tuesday evening next.

PURSE STOLEN.—Miss Jennie Hosken, Librarian of the Guelph Free Library, between twelve and one o'clock yesterday afternoon, had a purse containing $7 stolen from her satchel. The satchel was left in what is known as the lamp room, and during the absence of Miss Hosken for a few minutes at the time mentioned, some one entered the room and stole the money. It is to be hoped that the thief will be found and punished.

POLICE COURT.—D. O'Connor was before the Police Magistrate this morning on remand. He was again remanded for a week. The charge preferred against him is made by one Susanna Hebner, for attempted rape, some three months ago, between Sleeman's brewery and Nagle's tavern. The affair throughout seems to be somewhat hazy. J. Coffee, insane, was also remanded for a week. Owen Martin, Lucknow, charged with distributing bogus money in Bruce and Wellington County, was remanded until to-morrow.

ONE MORE.—Mr. Geo. Lamond, of this office, who has revelled in single blessedness for many years and has proved invulnerable heretofore to Cupid's wiles and darts, has got hit at last. Last evening he was married to Miss Sarah A. Howard, at the residence of the bride's mother, on Berlin street. The wedding was private, and the guests were principally composed of intimate friends of the family. Mr. and Mrs. Lamond were made the recipients of several handsome bridal gifts. After the ceremony had been performed the couple received the hearty congratulations of those present.

THE VETERANS OF 1866.—The following members of the Guelph Rifle Company, who served at the front during the Fenian Raid of 1866, marched in procession yesterday at the funeral of the late Sergt. Clay, who was attached to that Company for nearly twenty years:—Col. Higinbotham, Col. Armstrong, Capt. Bruce, Adjt. Porter, Bugle Major Dyson, Sergt. Congalton, Sergt. Bard, Sergt. Cordery, H. M. 16th Reg., Privates Wm. Marriott, J. Phillpots, H. M. 16th Reg., J. Simpson, T. Brown, J. W. Colson, T. Oliver, C. H. Marriott, J. Jones, G. Skinner, R. Bard, Jas. Hewer, John Marriott, T. Tansley, G. W. Lamond.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon an accident, which may turn out to be a serious one, occurred to Willie Dosch, son of Mr Frederick Dosch, of Alice street. The little fellow followed the funeral procession of the late Sergt. Clay to the cemetery. At the grave he tripped over the gravel that had been thrown up and fell on a glass bottle, cutting his knee into the joint in such a way that the knee cap was protruding. Dr. McPhatter, who was at the funeral, found it necessary to put several stitches into it, and had him removed home. It will be some time before the little fellow will be better, and from the severity of the wound may possibly have a stiff joint.

G. C. U. MINSTRELS.—The Guelph Catholic Union minstrel entertainment on Wednesday evening was a grand success. Long before eight o'clock the large hall of the Union was filled to the door. About four hundred people were present, while nearly as many more were turned away. The programme was a good one, but rather lengthy. Every number was well received. Flaherty and Sheahan as end men were really fine for amateurs. Gallaher's singing was well rendered, while Lynch's Dutch song and dance brought down the house. The Union orchestra, eight pieces, supplied the music. This was their first appearance and they created a very favourable impression. The success of the entertainment was such and the appreciation of the performers so evident that it has been decided to re-produce the play. Probably the City Hall will be secured on the next occasion.

The Massey Strike in Toronto.

The Massey strikers are still holding out. They are in the best of spirits and seem to be confident that they will triumph in the end. It seems that the trouble in the Massey manufacturing works has been brewing for months. It appears to have originated with the introduction about twelve months ago by the firm of the piece-work system, which was aggravated by the non-existence of a scale of rates for work by which the men might be enabled to know just what they were entitled to or could earn. About three weeks ago a deputation from the men waited upon the superintendent of the works and asked that the price list be hung up in the shop. This the superintendent agreed to do but as he failed to carry out his promise, the deputation some days afterwards again waited upon him, when he refused to hang up the price list. The matter was then brought before the Knights of Labour and a deputation from that body waited upon Mr Massey, who declined to hang up the price list, as by doing so their competitors could see the wages they paid for their work and thus place the firm at a disadvantage. He was, however, willing to adopt the contract system with his men. The deputation also asked that the men be paid fortnightly instead of monthly. Mr Massey declined to recognize any organization or union among his men and said that he would not have any union men around his place. After this interview the leader of the deputation of the men that waited upon the Superintendent was discharged, and on Saturday other members of that deputation were also told to go home. The committee representing the men and Knights of Labor waited upon the Superintendent on Monday morning and asked that these men be reinstated, but this was refused, and about 300 men thereupon quit work. The strikers are thoroughly organized, and say they are prepared to stay out till the firm agrees to their demands.

His Thigh was Severed.

WELLINGTON, Ont., Feb. 10.—On the farm of David Conger, near this place, two men by the name of Joseph Broas and J. Smith were chopping wood, when Smith's axe glanced off, striking Broas and severing an artery in his thigh, from which he bled to death.

Wilful Murder.

OWEN SOUND, Feb 10.—The inquest on the body of Joel Smoots, who was murdered here Monday night, resulted in a verdict being returned to the effect that the said Joel Smoots met with his death at the hands of one Philip Roy, who wilfully and maliciously stabbed him in the neck.

A Plow Line Badly Used.

STRATFORD, Ont., Feb. 10.—Robert Conway, a farmer 37 years old, hanged himself with a plow line in his father's hay loft at Harrington on Tuesday morning, about 9 o'clock. He has been slightly deranged for some time, being under the impression that his business prospects were ruined through the purchase of a farm at Mount Forest last October. He leaves a wife and five children.

Rough on Human Beings.

GRAFTON, Ont., Feb 10.—A young man living near this village named William Richardson committed suicide yesterday by taking a dose of "Rough on Rats." He mixed the poison in a tumbler of water and drank it at 1 a. m. At 5 o'clock he was dead. Dissipation and the loss of a small sum of money are given as the reasons for the terrible act.

Left a Cartridge in His Pocket.

PEMBROKE, Feb. 11.—A serious accident occurred here last evening, through criminal negligence on the part of a man who left his coat to be mended at the house of a washerwoman without taking from its pocket a dynamite cartridge, which was placed there. Two little children got possession of the cartridge and attempted to ignite it, when it exploded, blowing off the thumb and finger of one, and his brother was injured in the knees, groin and jaws. There is great indignation expressed at the carelessness which resulted so disastrously.

Miraculous Escape of Railway Men.

PORT LAMBTON, Feb. 10.—About 9 o'clock this morning a box car being brought to Sombra by the construction train, while making the curve at the south entrance to this place, jumped the track. Conductor Winegardner and another man were on the top of the car at the brake and signalled the engineer to stop, and the next instant the conductor was thrown up in the air about ten feet by the rearing up of the car, but he fell on the car beside the brake, to which he caught. The other man at the first threw himself down and held on to the walk on the roofing. The trucks were torn off the car, but no other damage was done, as the train was moving slowly at the time and was soon stopped.

All Quiet at Seattle.

SEATTLE, W. T.—Feb. 10.—The city has become a military camp and every corner is guarded by a sentry. Military rule is supreme and there has been no effort on the part of the rioters to interfere, or even to hold a meeting. They are without recognized leaders and are utterly powerless to do anything so long as the military are under arms. There is, however, an intense feeling of bitterness against the militia men who did the shooting on Monday, and it is severely threatened that they will be hung as soon as the military rule is relaxed. The trouble is practically over, and through the efforts of the citizen soldiers the people have proven their ability under most trying circumstances to govern themselves.

THE SICK TREATED FREE OF CHARGE.—The Doctors of the Great English Staff of Physicians and Surgeons are now stopping at the Commercial Hotel, Guelph, and will remain until the 15th of February. As this is their first trip through Canada they will treat you free of charge. The only favor they ask of their patients is a recommend after a cure is effected. THE LONDON RIOTS.

Unemployed Workmen Denounce the Socialists.

THE CITY STILL IN A PANIC.

Mansion House Measures for Relief.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—Yesterday's report of an outbreak in Deptford proves to have been a hoax. The police on hearing the rumours warned the shopkeepers to close their places of business, thus adding to the panic. The people of Greenwich were as anxiously expectant of the visit of the mob, as were the people of London. The scare originated in the fact that a jeweller informed the police that he had been met by a body of 500 rioters, who were smashing windows along their line of march.

The Daily News blames the police for not keeping cool heads. It says that as much harm has been done by their timidity as by their inaction on Monday. The control of the police, it adds, must be placed in different hands, as the public can never feel confidence in the present administration.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—A meeting of the West End tradesmen was held last evening for the purpose of giving expression to their indignation at, and want of confidence in the authorities for permitting the riot. Right Hon. W. H. Smith, member of Parliament, who was a member of Lord Salisbury's Cabinet, presided. Mr. Pickett stated that the loss caused by the rioters amounted to £2,000. Several members of Parliament addressed the meeting. A resolution was adopted to send a memorial to the Home Secretary asking him to receive a deputation of tradesmen for conference.

The Standard prints an interview with Hyndman, the socialist leader. Hyndman denied that the bad harvest or over population were the causes of the distress prevailing among the working people, because, he said, similar social troubles existed in America and France. The cause was the universal fact that producers had no control over the amount paid for production.

The Times severely censures the heads of the police departments, who, it says, proved themselves unfit for the positions they occupy.

Mr. Kelley, secretary of the unemployed workingmen's organization, accuses the socialists of causing the recent trouble, and lays part of the blame upon the police officials, who, he says, were perfectly aware of the intentions of the socialists.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—The various socialist and labor reform societies threaten to have a monster demonstration at Hyde Park next Saturday, to be attended by contingents of laborers from the country.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—A socialist meeting was held this evening at Cumberland market. At 5:30 o'clock, two and a half hours before the time announced for the assemblage, over a thousand men were on the ground. This crowd was constantly augmented by accessions from Trafalgar Square.

The cavalry from Albany barracks and large bodies of police were ordered to remain in readiness to preserve order.

A movement has been inaugurated to secure a meeting of all the London members of the House of Commons, both Liberal and Conservative, to devise measures for the immediate relief of the distress in London. It is proposed to have the meeting depute a strong committee to urge the Cabinet to action in the matter.

Warrants have been issued for the arrest of several Socialists believed to be the leading spirits in the riots of Monday. These warrants have been placed for execution in the hands of Scotland Yard detectives, who expect to have the arrests all made by midnight.

At 8 o'clock a crowd that numbered many thousand had gathered at Cumberland market. The lowest criminal classes of London were represented, by a strong contingent intent upon harassing and insulting the police. At 9 Hyndman, Williams and other Socialist leaders appeared upon the scene, and were greeted with uproarious shouts of welcome. They had a short consultation and resolved to abandon the attempt to hold a meeting tonight because, as they said, the dense fog that prevailed prevented their distinguishing the true unemployed men from the loafers. The announcement was then made that the meeting was adjourned until next Tuesday. As the crowd slowly dispersed cheering for the Socialist leaders the disorderly element in the gathering again manifested itself. The police were jeered at and stoned, but they easily drove their assailants from the ground.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—The city is quiet. The crowds disappeared by 10 o'clock, the streets are now deserted. The panic is subsiding. The scare is without parallel in the history of London. Tens of thousands of desperate men gathered in the streets, and only needed some one more reckless than themselves to lead them to commit the wildest excesses. Three regiments of foot guards, two of cavalry and a battery of artillery were confined in barracks all day in readiness to sally out at a moment's notice. The vigorous action of the police of South London to-day compares favourably with the action of the police at the Trafalgar square meeting on Monday. Mounted constables armed with cutlasses and revolvers assisted the police on foot in dispersing a mob of 5,000 near the Elephant and Castle. Many tradesmen and numbers of bona fide workingmen joined in assisting the police to repulse the rioters, who, dreading an encounter, quickly dispersed. The police had been informed early in the day of a conspiracy of thieves inhabiting common lodging houses to make South London a starting point of a pillaging expedition. Precautions were accordingly taken to prevent disorder.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—At a meeting this evening of the Mansion House committee, for the relief of workingmen out of employment, the Lord Mayor announced that subscriptions had been received to the amount of £4,300, including £1,000 each from Baron Rothschild and Mr. Baring the banker and £100 from Lord Salisbury.

THURSDAY EVE'G, FEB. 11, 1886.

The Outlook.

As the time approaches for the opening of the Dominion Parliament interest naturally centres on the political prospect. The past year has been a more than usually eventful one in political circles. Events have happened which ordinarily go to change if not absolutely to form public opinion. The revelations brought about by the outbreak in the Northwest were a surprise to many an honest elector who had hitherto placed implicit confidence in the Government and general policy of Sir John Macdonald. Many who, careless and indifferent themselves, regarded one party as good as the other, and the reigning power as the one always to be preferred, have had their interest quickened by the palpable misgovernment of that country, and the confession of weakness which the Government's haste to repair the wrongs they had done only when hostilities had broken out indicated. These events have made many think. They have seen that with ordinary prudence and foresight on the part of the Government hundreds of valuable lives might have been saved, to say nothing of the ten or twelve million of dollars spent in putting down the rebellion, and through its attendant consequences. Then the subsequent dilly-dallying of the Government over the sentence pronounced upon Louis Riel, with his subsequent execution when the hazards had been carefully calculated, thus trading on the life and death of a political prisoner, were sufficiently disgusting evidence of the sort of material comprising Sir John's Cabinet. The effect of that truckling was to alienate a large portion of the Government's supporters in Quebec, and although the most desperate efforts are being made to bring them back to the fold, those who pretended to know these things say that the disaffection is only increasing. Naturally, if such be the case, it is of a less noisy character than the first wild outburst, but it may be none the less serious for the Government. Sir John Macdonald has poised as the French Canadian's greatest friend in the past, and that people have been his mainstay in office and in power. Recent revelations, however, have taught them that they have been in his hands as heated wax, to be moulded to his will as circumstances required, and to be tossed aside contemptuously when done with. The coming session will show whether they intend to assert their independence, and place themselves above all pecuniary inducements, or whether their present indignation is again to give way under the wiles of the chieftain.

Then, again, the revelations of the Dominion blue books with their terrible iteration of deficit after deficit, have stunned many an ardent supporter of increased taxation and a protective policy as the panacea of all commercial ills. Instead of surpluses and prosperity, we have depression and shortages graver and greater than ever occurred under the Reform regime. In the depression which overran Canada, as well as every other country, between 1873-78, we had the consolation of knowing that at least our taxes were as low as circumstances would permit. Now the taxes are high, very high, and circumstances will prevent their being greatly lowered. But the circumstances which now call for high taxation are of the Government's own making. They are not so much the result of depressed commercial activity, severe though that has been, as they are of the wasteful extravagance and heedless incapacity of the Government. The Government is not merely bankrupt of political strength, of moral reputation, of statemanlike character, but it is bankrupt financially. The deficit this year will be stupendous, and three deficits—one for last year, one for this, and one for next year must be announced to Parliament if a truthful budget is presented. The Government is actually out of ready money wherewith to meet the ordinary expenditure. Mr. McLelan has been in Montreal, arranging with the banks a temporary loan of several million dollars.

Under all these circumstances it is no wonder that many believe the overthrow of the Government during the session is not impossible. The probabilities, however, do not point to a defeat of the Government in the next few months. Sir John Macdonald has too many of his supporters under his thumb, and has encouraged them to treat the Independence of Parliament Act with contempt until they dare not call their political souls their own, to greatly fear present defeat, although a greatly reduced majority will stare him in the face from the Quebec benches. But it is when the great voice of the people will be heard through the ballot boxes that his condemnation and punishment will come. It would almost be a pity if any premature action should destroy the wholesale character of that condemnation, and so well aware is Sir John Macdonald that it is coming that it is among the probabilities that he may cause his Cabinet to ride for a fall, hoping to be defeated on some peculiar issue, which he imagines would give a better chance in Ontario, by appealing to religious and race prejudices. If Sir John Macdonald sees his way, to carrying Ontario upon a fluke, or side issue, he will sacrifice Chapleau, Langevin and Caron, without any conscientious compunction. His public career is paved with the skeletons of his abandoned and betrayed political allies, and he may as well as not add those of his present three French colleagues to their numbers.

The day of reckoning is approaching, and if not this session or the next, it is near enough to satisfy every one who wishes to see his country delivered from the hands of those who have called up their own Nemesis by their evil courses, by the violation of every principle of statesmanship and political morality, and by the corrupt maladministration of the affairs of one of the finest countries the sun ever rose upon.

CORNWALL Freeholder:—It is a good thing that the country now knows who was the real hero of Batoche. Dr. Orton, M. P. for Centre Wellington, settled the whole matter in a speech a few days ago. According to his account General Middleton was anxious to retreat after the first day's fighting at Batoche, but the officers realizing the bad effect that would be produced by such a movement, sent Major Boulton to remonstrate, which he did, but unsuccessfully. The gallant Dr. was then sent, and by his representations about the wounded, and general persuasiveness, he succeeded in winning the General over to his way of thinking. Lord Melgund was called in, the order for a retreat was cancelled, and the country was saved!

THE Saskatchewan Herald, published at Battleford, in the Northwest, speaking of the probabilities of an Indian uprising the present season, says:—"Our sources of information are indisputable; the information we have given is beyond doubt; but it remains to be seen whether, when the season advances and the time for action draws nigh, they will hold to their present views, or, looking at the probable result of a conflict, their discretion will not get the better of their frenzy, and lead them still further to postpone the trouble they threaten."

Ontario's Public Works.

The report of the Commissioner of Public Works was presented to the Legislature on Tuesday. It refers to repairs at Government House, to repairs to roofs and drains of Parliament and departmental buildings, and to repairs to the Asylums for the Insane at Toronto, London, Hamilton, and Kingston. Particulars are given as to the purchase of a site and the letting of the contract for the erecting of the new Asylum for Idiots at Orillia. Reference is made to repairs and improvements at many of the benevolent and educational institutions of the Province. During the year a gaoler's residence was erected at Saulte Ste Marie, additions were made to the Gaol and Court House at Port Arthur, lock-ups were built at Fort William and Maganettawan, and improvements made to court-rooms and registry offices at various points. Particulars are given as to the works carried on on Gull and Burnt Rivers, the works at Des Joachim's Rapids bridge, the Georgian Bay works, the Scugog River works, the Maganettawan works, the Mud Lake works, the Nation River works, and of the year's operations in the maintenance of locks, dams, and swing bridges. It is shown that the construction of drainage works throughout the Province was continued during last year, applications having been received and aid granted under the "Ontario Municipal Drainage Aid Act," to the following townships, viz: Bosanquet, Dunwich, Ekfrid, Elderslie, Keppel, Moore, Malahide, Ops, united counties of Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry, Warwick and West Zorra. Reference is made to the progress of work on the Pacific Junction Railway and on the Erie & Huron. This last named road was opened for traffic between Rondeau Harbour and Wallaceburg in 1883. During the past year surveys were made, and the construction of the extension of the line from Wallaceburg to Sarnia proceeded with, the distance being about thirty miles. The extension is located in a northwesterly direction from Wallaceburg to Port Lambton, thence along the River St. Clair, making a connection at Courtright with the St. Clair branch of the Canada Southern, now known as the Michigan Central Railway, and at Sarnia with the Great Western division and main line of the Grand Trunk Railway. Stations will, it is understood, be erected at Port Lambton, Sombra, Courtright, Mooretown, Corunna, Froomfield, and Sarnia. Since construction was commenced the work has been vigorously prosecuted; the bridges, culverts, etc., are all constructed, the grading completed, and about twenty miles of iron laid. It is expected the entire line will be completed and opened for traffic in the early part of the year. The total expenditure on public works during the year was $185,584.37 as against $255,253 93 in 1884.

A Terrible Fellow is the Doctor.

(Hamilton Times.)

The Battle of Batoche was not a very gigantic affair in the annals of warfare, but it has been productive of about as many heroes as the Franco-Prussian war or Indian mutiny. The late lamented Col. Williams was regarded by not a few as fairly entitled to the honours of the day. Others were inclined to place the "man with the Gatling gun" in that particular niche of fame, while others again awarded the palm to General Middleton, and public opinion had gradually settled down to the latter idea when an unexpected claimant for the laurels to be placed on his brow comes forward. The latest claimant to be "Hero of Batoche" is none other than the gallant Dr. Orton, M.P. for Centre Wellington, who managed to draw his sessional allowance, his C. P. R. salary as chief of its medical staff and his salary as chief surgeon of the ambulance department of Gen. Middleton's column all at once. The doctor has publicly declared that had it not been for his determined opposition to Gen. Middleton's plans, the Battle of Batoche, instead of being a glorious victory, would have been as disastrous to Her Majesty's troops as the retreat from Moscow was to Napoleon's veterans. An Ottawa special says Gen. Middleton is terribly enraged at the doctor's audacity, and threatens all sorts of terrible things. But he would be a bold man who would dispute the honour with such a terrible fellow as the doctor makes himself out to be. Better let his name go thundering down the ages alongside of the heroes of Kars, Candahar and the Potomac.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Toronto, Feb. 10.

Among a number of bills read the first time was one introduced by Mr. McKim to consolidate the debenture debt of the town of Mount Forest.

In reply to Mr. Gibson (Hamilton), Hon. Mr. Mowat said it was the intention of the Government to bring into operation the Ontario Factories Act by proclamation as soon as this can be done with advantage and safety. It would be remembered that this was one of the matters in regard to which the question of jurisdiction is in dispute. It was greatly to be regretted that the Provincial Government could not refer a case to the Supreme Court the same as the Dominion, and it had occurred to him to try the experiment of bringing suit direct without the assent of the Dominion.

In reply to Mr. Preston in reference to the retention of the stock of the Model Farm in the Province, Hon. A. M. Ross said—Previous to the last sale of surplus stock arrangements were made to announce that the freight of all the stock purchased would be paid to the homes of the purchasers, provided they are residents of Ontario. This had the effect of placing all on the same footing. The consequence has been that not a single animal sold at that sale has gone to the United States.

Mr. Graham secured a return showing the total number of men, widows, and unmarried women who voted at the last municipal elections, and also of the number of male and female voters on the lists. He thought it desirable to have this information, inasmuch as it had been stated that women had not, to any considerable extent, availed themselves of the franchise.

More Rebels Amnestied.

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 9.—The following half-breeds, now undergoing imprisonment for participation in the Northwest rebellion, have been pardoned by the Federal Government: Ignace Poitras, sr., Ignace Poitras, jr., Joseph Arcand, and Maise Parantoau.

MONTREAL, Feb. 9.—La Minerve of today says that a despatch from Winnipeg announces that Joseph Riel, brother of the late Metis chief, refuses to sign a petition praying that clemency be extended to the Metis prisoners.

The Mounted Police Mutiny.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 10.—An Edmonton despatch says: At the Police barracks here and at Fort Saskatchewan the men are still insubordinate, doing much as they please. At the latter place some of them became intoxicated and, after locking the commanding officer in his room, proceeded to have a good time, damaging the kitchen furniture. Citizens await with considerable interest the outcome of the contest.

A Strange Case at Stratford.

STRATFORD, Feb. 16.—A case of a most shocking character came to light to-day. For some time past two sisters, Mrs. Tank, a widow, and Miss Riebe, 37 years old, have lived here in the same house. To-day the discovery was made that Miss Riebe was dead. Interrogation elicited from Mrs. Tank the fact that she had for the past several days heard her sister groaning, but did not go in to render any assistance. The passage from her part of the house to the other Miss Riebe had nailed up, as Mrs. Tank alleged to keep the latter from getting in. It appears that Miss Riebe has been kept by an allowance from the estate of their father from which Mrs. Tank has received no benefit. The first discovery of the death was made by Dr. D. M. Fraser and Sheriff Hossie, who were sent for by Mrs. Tank with the statement that she was afraid something was wrong with her sister. A preliminary inquest was held to-night and a post mortem examination will be held to-morrow.

Wellsley Correspondence.

Mr. J. E. Frey, keeper of the Temperance House in Crosshill, has been caught in the toils again. As our readers will remember it is only three weeks ago since he was fined for selling liquor without a license, but this did not keep him from again breaking the law. So a week ago last Thursday he was called on to go to Waterloo and there show cause why he should not pay for his misdeeds. Some of the witnesses for the prosecution failed to appear and the case was adjourned till Friday last. In the meantime his heart failed him and he paid the fine and costs, about $60. He will have to keep the law or he will be a boarder in that place known to common people as a gaol, at the County's expense.

Mr. J. T. Wilford, keeper of the Ontario Hotel, Crosshill, imagined that there could not be much harm in him keeping his house open on election day. No doubt he thought he was safe from the law, being assured by a legal luminary that he might do so ater the poll was closed. After an arduous day's work in polling booth No. 4, John Frame, Co. Con., Returning Officer John H. Campbell, J. P., Clerk, together with Jas. Rannie, retired gentleman, stepped up to the bar to have a social glass. What harm was there in that? Only breaking the Crooks Act, and that is so common that it almost ceases to be an offence. Nothing was thought of it till last Tuesday when Mr. Wilford was cited to appear in Waterloo before the powers that be to answer for the act. Rather than give anybody trouble mine host of the Ontario very promptly sent down $25 to the Waterloo authorities to say nothing more about it. "Surely the way of the transgressor is hard."

The Markets.

Feb. 10th, 1886.

The English breadstuffs markets to day were dull, and prices easier. In Chicago wheat was quiet, with extreme prices confined to five eighths, and closing a opening figures. The New York market was unsettled. Toronto market was quiet and prices unchanged.

Flour—The market continues quiet, there being a limited demand and offerings are not large.

Wheat—There is little or nothing doing, and prices are nominally unchanged.

Barley—The market is dull, and prices without change.

Oats—The demand is fair and prices firm.

Peas—There is a moderate trade, and prices are nominally unchanged.

Rye—Trade is quiet and prices nominal.

Bran—There are moderate offerings, and prices continue steady.

Butter—Business continues quiet with transactions restricted chiefly to tub lots of choice, which bring 18c to 19c. Large rolls dull and nominal at 12c to 13c for the best in small lots and at 10c to 11c in quantities. Culls dull at 4c to 5c.

Eggs—The market is quiet and prices steady. Fresh are quoted at 22c to 23c in case lots, and limed at 14c to 16c.

Live Stock Markets.

There were about 225 head of butchers' cattle offered at the East End Abattoir this forenoon and as there was a good demand, drovers were able to secure higher prices, choice beeves selling at from 4½c to 4¾c per lb., and pretty good beasts at about 4c do. Leanish beasts were also in better demand and sold at from 3c to 3½c per lb. Messrs. Charters and Boyd bought eight good steers at Point St. Charles this morning at 4¾c per lb. Yesterday (Sunday) there was an active trade in shipping cattle at the Point, and several carloads were bought at from 4c to 4¼c per lb. There were only about twenty-five mutton critters offered to-day, and they were a rather poor lot, and butchers did not seem to want them. Mr. J. Richard bought a lot of very choice lambs at 5c cwt, which came from Western Ontario, at $4.50 each; he also bought four good steers to-day for $205, or nearly 4¾c per lb. There were no live hogs on the market to-day, and prices are quoted at 4¾c per lb. Dressed hogs are advancing in price, being from 6c to 6½c per lb.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be so quickly cured by Shiloh's Cure. We guarantee it. Sold by A. B. Petrie.

Royal Templars of Temperance.

The whole of yesterday morning's session was occupied in committee work. The afternoon was taken up with the election of officers, resulting as follows:—

Grand Councillor, J. H. Flagg, Mitchell.
Grand Vice, A. C. Steele, Guelph.
Grand Chaplain, Rev. J. H. Simpson, Hamilton.
Grand Secretary, W. W. Buchanan, Hamilton.
Grand Treasurer, Jeremiah Cornell.
Grand Herald, W. Ross, Port Perry.
Grand Deputy Herald, J. Hebdon, Highgate.
Grand Guard, Thomas McKenna, Thornbury.
Grand Sentinel, George Vaughan, St. Thomas.
Grand Trustee, J. G. Y. Burkholder, Hamilton.
Grand Medical Examiner, E. W. McGuire, M. D., Guelph.

The following were elected representatives to the Dominion Council, which meets in Hamilton next August. The names are arranged according to number of votes received by each, the one receiving the largest vote standing first:—E. W. McGuire, M. D., and A. C. Steele, Guelph; J. H. Flagg, Mitchell; Rev. J. H. Simpson, Merriton; C. V. Emory, M. D., Hamilton; W. Ross, Port Perry; Rev. A. M. Phillips, Galt; Rev. D. Lewis, Norham; Rev. J. R. Gundy, Aylmer. It will thus be seen that Guelph has been fully honoured in having two of the officers of the Grand Council, and two representatives out of nine to the Dominion Council, the two latter heading the vote. A resume of last evening's business will be given in tomorrow's MERCURY.

The Council closed at about 3:30 this morning to meet in St. Thomas on the second Tuesday in February, 1887.

A Startling Rumor from the Northwest.

KINGSTON, Feb. 10.—Friends in this vicinity have been advised of the killing of six Mounted Police near Regina. They await confirmation of the report. They have also been informed by Northwest correspondents that a rebellion in the spring is likely to occur.

KILLED BY A FALL.—Word comes from Erin to-day that Chas. McLaughlin, who lives about two miles and a half from the village, yesterday afternoon fell from a mow and sustained such injuries that he died in a short time afterwards. The deceased was an early settler and a well-known resident of the township.

CHAPTER IX.

MEASURING WEAPONS.

All that day she longed to see Percival, and he did not come, but she heard a great deal about him. There were no visitors at The Thwaite just then, and Alice was reduced to her own resources for amusement and occupation. They appeared to be soon exhausted. In the afternoon she came into the room where Helen was sitting and began to talk about Percival. Helen also felt listless, weary, and unsettled, but because of the change from the regular, well filled life she had been leading for the last few weeks. She took up a bit of work, more for the sake of appearing to be occupied than anything else, and sat silent in the library. She could not go out. She felt too tired to walk far; the beauty and peaceful sunset of the day before had been succeeded by a cold misty rain, and she hoped that Percival would come. Before long Alice joined her, threw herself listlessly into a rocking chair, and swung herself backwards and forwards once or twice before speaking.

"I wonder if Mr. Moore will come to-day," she said at last.

"Why should he?" asked Helen hypocritically. "It is not a pleasant day for going about."

"Oh, he comes nearly every day, and its being wet is rather an additional reason. He is sure to want companionship. He will come if only for that."

Helen half smiled as she said—

"I should think he had enough occupation at home to get him over a wet day."

"Oh, but he likes to come, and he is sure to when he knows I want him."

"Helen said nothing; she began to think that the friendship between Alice and Percival had made considerable progress during her absence from home. At last she asked—

"How will he know—by instinct?"

"You are reviving, Helen; that was said quite in your old cutting way. He knows there is no one staying here at present, and that I hate being alone, so that natural amiability would bring him, if there were nothing else. But I believe there is some instinct mixed up with it, for we are great friends."

Helen's hand was perfectly steady as she threaded her needle afresh with silk, and her voice did not falter as she asked—

"Since when have you begun to prefer friends to lovers?"

"I never prefer," said Alice seriously, "where there is a choice between two things. I always like to get both, if I can. I should certainly never think of preferring one friend to many lovers, but I like to have both together."

"Combined in one person?" asked Helen a little drily, but before Alice could reply she was called away, and the conversation was not renewed that day. Helen was careless enough not to give it a second thought. She returned to her work and her watch for Percival, but he did not come. In the evening his negligence was explained. Mr. Lafone came in and brought the intelligence that Moore had been suddenly called away on business and would probably be detained a few days.

Helen said scarcely anything. It was Alice who gave utterance to the expressions of surprise and regret. Helen thought that Percival would regret not being at the funeral of his old friend. Her father was going and most of the neighbouring gentlemen.

A distant cousin of the doctor's had come over and made all the arrangements for the funeral—a hungry-looking man with whom the doctor had had a quarrel since his youth. He came with the feeling that, being the only relative of the deceased, it was possible he might profit by his death.

He was destined to be disappointed. Dr. Hazlitt's will dated some years back, and though one or two codicils had been added to it, the hungry cousin's name was mentioned in none of them. With the exception of one or two remembrances to personal friends, the will decreed that everything of which the deceased died possessed should become the absolute property of Helen Lafone.

There was no great amount of money. Dr. Hazlitt had no private fortune, and he was not made of the stuff out of which rich and prosperous men are formed; but, in addition to the property, there was a letter he had written only a very short time before his death, and which Helen in her impulsive way felt that she valued far above all the rest.

It was a long letter, and she instinctively went out of doors to read it. She went down to the shore, and stood for a few moments looking sorrowfully over the grey water which came stealing up to her feet. She took a boat and rowed herself across the bay to the island. An unutterable sadness lay upon her soul; words from a source which she did not trace were running in her mind—"it seemed as if all the joy had vanished from the world never to be restored."

As usual, she had the island to herself. She made her boat fast, and climbing over the rocks found her favourite seat, where she sat down to think. She had never been here alone since the day on which she had been detained and rescued by Percival. That thought alone would have been sufficient food for meditation once; now something of greater magnitude filled her mind. There was nothing to take her thoughts away from the subject; she sat with her back to the mainland looking out over the open sea, which lay wide and blank before her, not even the sail of a fishing-boat broke the monotonous expanse. The air was perfectly still; though she did not feel cold, there was a touch of frost in the air, and from time to time a golden or crimson leaf came fluttering down to her feet. One fell into her lap on the letter, which she held clasped in her hand, not yet having looked at it more than to see that it was of some length. She picked up the leaf, smoothed it, and slipped it into the envelope, feeling somehow comforted. Then she began to read. The letter contained much that perhaps her friend had not felt strong enough to speak, there were expressions of deep regret at being compelled to leave her, little bits of advice such as he had been used to administer in his own quaint style ever since she could remember, and some directions as to what he thought she had better do with his house and furniture.

Helen shed no tears as she read it, not even when she had come to the signature "your faithful friend, Richard Hazlitt." She sat still, feeling as if her heart would break with sorrow, as though, despite her love for Percival, a dearer than he had been taken from her.

But the tide turned, and she had to go home. Slowly and reluctantly she rose and looked around. She felt as if so many things had happened to her on this little spot of ground, that it would always, in her eyes, be invested with a certain sacredness. She gathered a little bunch of autumn leaves, and came away with her sorrow, if not lessened, yet lightened.

Again that evening she and Alice sat alone, and again Alice began to talk about Percival.

Hespeler Correspondence.

THE ICE HARVEST.—Much of the time during the past week has been utilized by several parties in securing ice for summer use.

DEATH OF MR RICHARD HARRIS.—Mr Richard Harris, who for many years resided about half a mile east of this village, died on Saturday night last, in his 77th year, after a protracted and painful illness, which he bore with wonderful endurance. He was long known and much respected by the people of the place, as a good upright neighbour, and a kind parent. He leaves a faithful partner in life, and a family of sons and daughters, all grown up and comfortably situated, his youngest son, Mr John Scott Harris, being one of the teachingstaff in the Fergus High School.

QUARTERLY MEETING SERVICES.—The Rev. James White dispensed the Quarterly Meeting Services with much ability in the Methodist Church here on Sabbath last. The congregation was large, and the collection and envelope deposits at both services amounted to over $70. The anniversary services in connection with the above named church will be held on Sabbath, Feb. 21st, Rev. Mr Moor, of Linden, to preach both morning and evening.

SLEIGHING PARTIES.—Sleighing parties are at present a very popular recreation. On Monday evening last two loads of the Royal Templars drove to the residence of Mr Wm. S. Dickie, at Lake Farm, Puslinch, where they were warmly received and entertained, and had altogether a jolly time. We understand that a goodly number of the members of the New Hope Council of R. T. of Temperance anticipate making the return visit to the Ayr Council on Friday evening next. There and return will be a drive of about 30 miles for the evening. We wish them a jolly time.

B. R. MEETING.—On Sunday evening last Glick's Hall was literally packed by an audience. It had previously been announced in the churches that Mr Merry, of Stratford, and Mr O'Keefe, of this place, would address the Gospel Temperance meeting, and the well known ability of these two gentlemen had no doubt to do with the "turn out." The meeting was most successfull one.

A COMMODIOUS SHOP.—Since Mr Henry Winterhalt has accepted the position of Town Constable, Collector, Caretaker, etc., his shop, which is a large and commodious one, on Queen street, is vacant, and is an inviting stand for the lover of some enterprise to try his luck.

REOPENING OF BUSINESS.—Mr J. Cunningham, sr., has reopened business in the old and popular stand in which business has been suspended for a few days, and the establishment is booming again. We wish Mr Cunningham every success.

Hespeler, Feb 10, 1886.

Fergus Correspondence.

SKATING.—The races in the rink on the evening of Thursday last were, on the whole, good. As was anticipated Black easily won. McCutcheon, now of Guelph, formerly of Fergus, took second place. Phelan did not count. The second race of 3 miles, 2 miles less than the first, was won by Bunyan, of Guelph. The night was a terribly cold one, and it was, if anything, colder in the rink than outside. The skaters of course had to don light clothes, and although they flew around the rink old Jack Frost was after them in good style and nipped the skaters in various parts of the body, ears, toes, cheeks, &c., suffered severely. We believe there was not one of the racers but what was more or less frozen and some worse. The crowd of spectators was not so large owing to the cold. The band was on hand.

SCHOOL BOARD.—The first meeting of the new Board was on Wednesday night. The old chairman, Mr. Armitage, was re-elected to the chair by acclamation. The right man in the right place. Our school expenses are getting up; why should our outside High School pupils not pay fees for their education? We think it only reasonable, and we understand it is done in other places. If so let us do the same, and from such fees provide all new and necessary equipments to make ours the best school in the county.

ACCIDENT.—Rev. Dr. Smellie by chance upset a can of boiling water on his foot last Wednesday morning. We believe he suffered in consequence a severe scald, all the upper part of his foot being burned by the boiling water. We understand he is doing pretty well, but he is unable to attend to his duties or even leave his room, and it will be sometime before he will be able to walk around. In his absence Dr. Hamilton, a very old gentleman from Toronto, preached in Melville Church on Sunday morning and evening, giving very good sermons.

OBITUARY.—It is our painful duty to record the death of one of the oldest, most honoured, and most respected residents of Fergus, in the person of Mr. A. L. Argo, who departed this life on Saturday evening, 6th inst., at the ripe age of 77 years. Having lived a Christian life he died a Christian's death, setting an example to his family and his friends, both in words and actions, worthy of being imitated by the world and Christians generally. An active, strictly honest business man, he accumulated a large share of this world's goods, but was ever ready to assist all church or other good objects liberally. His kindness and liberality to the poor were constantly being exercised and they have lost a friend worthy of being called a brother. Mr. Argo formerly resided in Eden, came here in 1852 or 1853; remained here for a few years, and then moved to Stratford, coming here again for good about ten years since. He was engaged in milling most of his life, here, in Stratford, and at his death, had a share in the Elora mill. He was, and had been for long, an elder in Mr. Smellie's church. He took a decided interest in public affairs, was a strong Reformer, and at his death was honorary president of the Centre Riding Reform Association. The last sad rites were performed to-day, when, as he is honored in life, so in death he is respected, and his remains followed to their last resting place by the largest number of relatives, friends and acquaintances, we think that we have seen at any funeral in Fergus. The deceased will be sadly missed by the Church and public, and much more seriously by his wife and family, who have all our sympathy.

HONORED.—We congratulate Mrs. D. Nairn, of Living Springs, Garafraxa, on her success in winning the 5th prize for her "Boy in Blue" story printed in the Christmas Globe. We did not know we had such talent so close at home. Mrs. Nairn must not keep her light hid in Garafraxa, but come out and educate the talent she has so well shown.

WEDDING.—Fergus has lost one of its finest young ladies in Miss Kate McQueen. She was married last week very quietly to Capt. R. Foote, and the happy couple are off to their new home in Collingwood. If Mrs. Foote gets all the happiness she deserves, a long life is in store for her to use it all up, the amount must be very great, and she loss to our village equally heavy.

COLD.—We had it 27° below zero last Thursday, a.m. We can recommend those driving in severe weather to rub exposed parts with oil. It is a good protection from frost bite. Sleighing going fast these fine days, but it is colder to-night, and we hope the thaw will stop.

ARREST.—The constable had considerable trouble with an unruly lad Saturday, but by the help of another man and a sleigh and horses, the noisy one was lodged in the lock up.

RUNAWAY.—The bus horses took a run yesterday. Nobody was hurt. Another cutter had a spill, a run and a smash.

LECTURE.—Thursday night, by Mr. Cameron, of Lucknow, in Drill Shed.

A HEAVY rain fell last night.

THE curlers are having a holiday at present much to their regret.

JAMES JOHNSTON, livery stable keeper had a telephone placed in his office yesterday.

IT seems as if winter's back had been broken, at anyrate the bottom has been knocked out of the sleighing and wheels are in general use to-day.

FERGUS Advocate:—The poor people of Elora got badly left when they expected to be relieved by funds from the late charity ball. $19 to make up by the committee will cause some of them to hump themselves.

THE strike at the Massey manufacturing establishment, Toronto, has ceased, the matter in dispute having been satisfactorily arranged to both parties. The men return to work next Monday.

THERE are in Acton 276 children between the ages of five and twenty-one years; 227 between five and sixteen, and 138 between seven and thirteen. The latter number comes within the provisions of the section respecting compulsory attendance at the Public School.

THE annual meeting of the Rockwood Bible Society was held in the Canada Methodist Church on Wednesday evening last. Rev. D. Strachan, President, presided. Rev. Mr. Manly moved the adoption of the report in an excellent address. Rev. Mr. Swan seconded it in a short address.

THE people living near the four corners of S. S. No. 4 and 5 in Pilkington, and 3 and 4 in Nichol are agitating a Union School, and are petitioning the people for that purpose, to submit to the Inspector. Those opposed to it are taking the same steps. It is uncertain yet how the matter may be settled.

A SHORT time ago a Milton man named John Cole was victimized in Hamilton by a man whom he became acquainted with at Niagara Falls, and who defrauded him of a watch and $20. The Detroit police have in charge a man named Lee or Fox, who is supposed to be Cole's "friend." Cole will go to Detroit.

To mark tools, first cover the article to be marked with a thin coating of tallow or beeswax; then, with a sharp instrument, write the name in the tallow. Clear with a feather; fill the place written, the letters, with nitric acid; let it remain from one to ten minutes, then dip in water and rub off, and the marks will be etched into the steel or iron.

THE old cemetery, situated in the rear of the Presbyterian Church, on Main street, Acton, was permanently closed by the passing of a by-law to that effect at the meeting of the council last Tuesday evening. It has been in use as a public cemetery for about half a century. Arrangements will shortly be made allowing permission for the removal of the remains of the dead to the new "Fairview Cemetery."

FASHIONS IN CATTLE.—In the course of his remarks before the Farmers' Institute in Hamilton, on Wednesday, Mr Dryden, M. P. P., said that the fashion in cattle had become as changeable and foolish as those in ladies' bonnets. There were animals on his farm which he could not hope to sell to a United States man, the reason being that they were out of style. Red was the color demanded in Shorthorns, and buyers would have no other. There was no sense in it.

ADVERTISING IN JAPAN.—Advertising in Japan sometimes attains a height of originality and force unsurpassed in the most progressive country. A bookseller of Tokio advertises: "Books elegant as a singing girl. Print clear as crystal. Paper tough as elephants' hide. Parcels done up with as much care as that bestowed on her husband by a loving wife," and other advantages which, it is strange to say, the advertiser finds "too many for language to express."

A POTENT DEBT REMOVER.—The Hamilton Spectator says:—Rev. Dr. Griffin well known in Hamilton, has been distinguishing himself as an annihilator of church debt. The second Methodist Church, of Guelph, owed $3,000. Last Sunday Dr. Griffin made an appeal that brought $3,541 to the plate. Taking the circumstances and numerical strength of the congregation into consideration, Dr. Griffin may be said to be the most potent debt remover in the country. He will be in demand among debt burdened congregations.

ELORA HORSE SHOW.—The 7th annual meeting of the Elora Entire Horse Association was held in the Dalby House on the 6th instant. The following officers were appointed for the current year:—President, Frank Dalby; Vice-President, James Haig; Secretary-Treasurer, J. R. Wissler. The Treasurer's annual report, showing a balance on hand of $36.38, was adopted. The following are the directors for the present year:—Messrs. D. Kilpatrick, J. Lindsay, W. McDermott, P. McBain, J. Craig, W. Anderson, J. Grieves, A. Farrow, D. Rea, W. Spires, H. Cull, F. Smith, J. Reynolds, J. B. Wagner, D. Foote, J. Gibb, E. Golden, J. Haig, F. Dalby, J. M. Shaw, J. Simpson, J. R. Wissler, T. Marshall, A. Atcheson, J. Ross, H. Larter, W. Thacker, J. McQueen, J. Stickney, R. J. Black, W. Jackson, A. Griffin, I. Devitt. Resolved, that the show be held on Wednesday, the 21st day of April next.

In Zululand a woman is rated at ten cows. This may look unreasonable to a civilized world, but it must be remembered that cows in Zululand run wild and have little or no value.

MRS. MCMULLEN, wife of James McMullen, M. P. for North Wellington, and daughter, are in the city to-day.

THE Erin fair on Tuesday was largely attended, and a good many cattle were brought out, principally in fair condition. Very few choice beeves were offered.

MR. HUGH BLACK, of West Garafraxa, has purchased the Glenlammond saw mill and property in connection, paying $3,700. Mr. Black takes possession immediately.

ADGT. CLARKE, City Relieving Officer, has not as yet disposed of the two babies who were left a few days ago in his charge. Now is the time for any one desiring to adopt children to apply.

SOME malicious individual put red pepper on the stove at the Army meeting, in Erin, on Sunday evening last, and caused such sneezing and coughing that the congregation had to disperse.

THE publisher of the Mount Forest Representative has raised the price of his paper from $1 to $1.50. He has concluded to quit starving. It is folly to try to publish a decent local paper for less than $1.50 a year. More, it is dishonest.

THE Acton Free Press says:—On Tuesday evening as the children of Mr. James Scott, of the third line, were on their way home from Dublin school, while a team was passing them on the road one of the horses kicked the little eight-year old daughter, fracturing and also severely bruising her right arm.

ALL the literary people of Guelph will be glad to hear that Prof. Vallance, F. S. Sc., of London, approved Master of Glasgow University, is to give one of his far famed entertainments in Chalmers' Church on Tuesday evening next, the 16th inst. As an elocutionist he occupies one of the first positions in Great Britain. For particulars see posters and hand bills. Don't fail to hear him. d1

A MEETING of those interested in horticulture was held a few days since, and a desire being manifested to revive the Horticultural Society, so successfully carried on here for some years, and for that purpose a general meeting was proposed to be held in the Town Hall on Saturday, the 13th, at 2 p. m., for the election of officers and other business connected with the reorganizing of the Society. Let there be a good turn out. d1

FORGERY CASE.—At the Police Court this morning O. G. Martin, of Lucknow, was arraigned on a charge of uttering a forged Dominion note at Guelph. A number of witnesses appeared for the prosecution, among them Detectives Rogers and McGarvin, Provincial Government officers, Toronto, and Mr. William Walker, of Guelph. But as the case, going to press, was still in progress, and promised to take all day, we hold over a fuller report till to-morrow's issue. Mr. Peterson conducted the case for the Crown, and Mr. G. W. Field defended the prisoner.

TRIBUTE TO THE LATE PROF. HARE.—At a recent meeting of the Oshawa Farmers' Institute it was moved by Thomas Conant and seconded by James C. Fox, that this meeting of the Oshawa Farmers' Institute desires to place on record its appreciation of the great services rendered it, at its last public meeting in 1885, by Prof. Hare, late of the Model Farm. At the same time, we regret his early decease, and feel that his death was a great loss to our young and growing Province of Ontario, which possesses so few persons as cultured as Prof. Hare was in his specialties. We feel that since he had prepared himself by passing through one of our own Universities, and a further course of four years' study at Breslau, Germany, it was, in sober truth, a calamity to lose one who had spent nearly all his life to prepare himself for usefulness among us, and deeply regret that his career was closed so untimely, and his widow and relatives have our deepest sympathy.

SPEED SKATING RINK.—The races at the Rink last night drew a very large crowd, and a number of strangers were noticed from neighbouring places. The ice was in fair condition. The five mile race was a contest of unusual interest and extremely exciting. It was between Speight and McCutcheon and peculiarly ludicrous and surprising on the part of Black. His falls were very frequent, and various reasons are assigned for his defeat. Whatever the cause, the management has determined on the re-occurrence of any such action on the part of skaters to rule them out altogether. Speight led for a considerable distance, with the others close behind, when Black led till he fell and slid a considerable distance, he having no less than three falls at the same end, on the two first falls getting up and before many laps again leading. On the third fall when near the close he got up and resumed the race, but too late to get a winning place. McCutcheon finally won by about three feet, with Speight second. The three mile race was noted for the large number of entries, no less than seven skating—Phelan, of Fergus; Gale and Krausmann, Elora; Lee, Georgetown; Jos. and Mat. Bunyan, and Brandon, of Guelph. The race was a good one between Phelan, Lee and Gale, the ice being at this time too soft and heavy for their lighter opponents. After a close and exciting race between these three Phelan passed the homestretch a winner by about three quarters of a lap, Lee second, half a lap ahead of Gale, Krausmann fourth. On Tuesday night, if the weather is favourable, a band concert with an egg race and fancy skating by members will be the attraction.

THE SICK TREATED FREE OF CHARGE.—The Doctors of the Great English Staff of Physicians and Surgeons are now stopping at the Commercial Hotel, Guelph, and will remain until the 15th of February. As this is their first trip through Canada they will treat you free of charge. The only favor they ask of their patients is a recommend after a cure is effected. Office hours from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Sundays from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. d6

TABLEAUX and concert in City Hall, 18 Feb. See advertisement.

AN organ recital will be held in St. Andrew's Church on Monday evening, when a very interesting programme will be furnished.

MR. GEO. PIKE, Guelph, has leased the lime kilns on the old Coulson farm, Rockwood, and will commence burning lime as soon as the weather is favorable.

THE sleighride party of the teachers and officers of the Dublin street S. S. which was to have taken place to-night has been indefinitely postponed on account of the weather.

A SLEIGH load of young folks from Guelph drove to Fergus last night, in the shape of a surprise party, to the residence of Mrs. Strachan of that place. They were most hospitably received and spent a very enjoyable time arriving home about five o'clock this morning.

Royal Templars of Temperance.

On Thursday evening an immense amount of work was pushed through the Grand Council that had previously passed through the various committees.

The Committee on State and Extension of the Order reported that the system of regular monthly assessments adopted by the Dominion Council a year ago had been found very satisfactory in its results, and a great improvement upon the old "call" plan. During the year 1885 the number of initiations amounted to 1,781, of which no less than 552 were during the last quarter of the year. Interest is thoroughly awakened all along the line and the prospects of the Order were never so bright as at present.

The Committee on Temperance Work reported renewed and increased interest in temperance work all over the Dominion, recommended the passage of the Scott Act wherever practicable, and urged upon the members the use of all legitimate means in their power for the enforcement of the Act wherever it is in force.

The Committee on Laws and Supervision recommended the representation of District Councils in the Grand Council, and this was adopted.

The Finance Committee proposed levying a uniform per capita tax of 10c per member instead of 5c, 10c, and 20c, as at present, and this was also approved, one of the features of the Order being to secure uniformity wherever possible.

The sick Benefit Scheme, as finally adopted, provides for the payment of $5 per week for any period of from one week to twelve in case of sickness of male members, and of $3 per week in case of female members. It is conducted upon the monthly assessment plan, members paying as follows, according to the age at which they enter:—

From 16	to	35 years,	25 cents	per	month.
" 35	"	40 "	30	"	"
" 40	"	44 "	35	"	"
" 44	"	48 "	40	"	"
" 48	"	52 "	45	"	"
" 52	"	55 "	50	"	"

The scheme also provides for a funeral benefit of $50 at death. All members of the Order may enter this department by passing a medical examination and paying a fee of $2.

There were many other questions discussed, but none of any special public interest. It was frequently remarked by old members of the Grand Council that the session has been the most successful one ever held. It would, perhaps, be difficult to find any other fraternal gathering composed of more intelligent, courteous or enthusiastic men than the present Grand Council, or men who could more effectually check any impersonalities. Industry was also another characteristic feature of the Council, the members working early and late, and finally continuing their labours on Wednesday long past midnight—till 3.30 in fact on Thursday morning. The religious element was strongly developed, a prayer and praise meeting been held each evening from 9 to 10 o'clock. The members of the Grand Council were greatly pleased with the reception given them by the citizens of Guelph and there will likely be very little difficulty in inducing the Grand Council to meet again in this City at an early date.

Confesses Himself a Murderer.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Feb. 11.—A stranger came to the Lehigh County Prison, this afternoon, and confessed to having murdered John Sharpless, the old Quaker farmer, near Chester, on the 22nd of November last. He made the confession, because as he said he did not want to see the negro Johnson, now under arrest, hanged for a crime that he had committed himself.

U. S. Tariff Changes which will Materially Affect Canadian Industries.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Morrison's Tariff Bill will make about fifteen printed pages. It is probable that amendments will be added fixing the rate on silks at a specific duty, the equivalent of the present ad valorem rates. There is pretty good reason to believe that Morrison will propose no reduction in the rates upon wool. It is, however, almost certain that the bill will reduce the rates upon carpet wools, which do not come into competition with wool grown in this country. A bitter contest is expected over the free list. It seems probable that lumber, and salt, and some of the metallic ores will be put in it. It is expected that a large vote will be cast for free lumber from the agricultural States the western cattle-growers and packers will be in earnest in favor of free salt. The calculations made by experts show that reductions in the aggregate will not be great.

A Disquieting Letter from the Northwest.

Mr. Adelard Forget, Deputy-Sheriff at Batoche, writes to his mother in the Recorder's Court, Montreal, a letter in which he makes the following remarks regarding the much-talked of Indian rising in the spring:—"Speaking of Indians you may tell the brave Canadian Volunteers to keep their arms clean and their powder dry. The only way to prevent an outbreak in the spring is by the immediate despatch of at least 2,000 men to the south to prevent hordes from crossing over into the Territories. I can tell you things are not at all reassuring here, and I feel very much afraid myself. The Indians don't like me very much since I took part in the execution of the Indian murderers last year. I take pretty good care, but at the same time I don't feel any too secure."

ALLEGED ABDUCTION.

A Runaway Simcoe Couple Captured in Hamilton.

James H. Bryson is a not very prepossessing young man, who has been a farm laborer in the employ of Mrs. Harper, a widow with a fine farm in the township of West Gwillimbury, Simcoe county, about four miles from the village of Bradford. This is a free country, and there was nothing to prevent James H. from aspiring to the hand of his employer's daughter, Lizzie. James did so aspire, but the mother did not regard him with favor. Lizzie, however, listened and agreed to fly with him. On Sunday night last, Bryson met her on the road a short distance from her home and took her in his sleigh to Beeton, from which place they took the train for Hamilton on Monday morning. They went to board at the corner of Park and Vine streets. When their flight was discovered a warrant was sworn out before H. S. Brought, J.P., of Bradford, and entrusted to Constable Mackie. The warrant charged Bryson with abducting a girl under 17 years of age. Constable Mackie and the girl's brother came to Hamilton on Tuesday and asked the assistance of the police in looking up the fugitives. Detectives Campbell and Reid soon found them. The brother took charge of the girl and Bryson was detained at No. 3 Police Station. Constable Mackie took him back to Bradford.

After coming to Hamilton the runaways got a marriage license, and were married by Rev. D. H. Fletcher.

The Outlook for Flour.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—"There may be 100,000 barrels of flour in store at Minneapolis, said C. A. Pillsbury, the largest flour miller in the country, "and it looks like an enormous quantity. The fact is that it is just four days' run of the Minneapolis millers alone when these mills are put to their speed." "There has been a great deal of talk about the Northwestern crowd in wheat, and so much talk of my own operations," continued Mr. Pillsbury, "that I am hounded by all sorts of people who think that I am in and out of the market all the while and have powders to give. I have never yet known of a long season of depression that was not followed by a revival. People need to eat, and need flour. Just following the period of inaction, the traders who [illegible] flour lost money and had had luck so long on big stock bought in advance that they gave up the contest [illegible] buyers have been taking flour from hand to mouth. The demand from all points is sharpening up, especially from the quarters usually supplied by the winter wheat mills, for those mills have practically ground nothing. In December I was compelled to store flour; this month we are selling as fast as we grind. Flour is a staple that goes into consumption right along. When the demand become brisk I dont see where the mills are going to get their wheat from." "Is there not wheat enough in the Northwest?" "Not wheat enough," said Mr. Pillsbury, "to run the mills of Minnesota and Dakota half through the season, if operated at anything like their capacity. If the wheat market would advance and keep buoyant for a month, all the while lifting a little so as to encourage flour buyers, the stock of flour would soon be exhausted, and the stock of wheat in the Northwest, too."

Guelph Daily Mercury

FRIDAY EVE'G, FEB. 12, 1886.

A Bogus Father of Confederation.

Sir John Macdonald is essentially a man of phases and faces. He has ever been ready to throw aside any principle which he claimed to possess in order to catch the popular current, but only when he saw that to pursue his own policy was to sign the warrant of his own banishment from public life. One of his pet hobbies, cherished till the old man possibly believed in its reality, was that he was the Father of Confederation. Many a time and oft has he tooted the horn of self-congratulation on that event while he has hidden in his breast the truth that Confederation had no more bitter opponent than himself. The letter to Senator Trudel, from a former friend and confidant of Sir George Cartier, now a member of the House of Commons, and which was recently published in the Globe, throws a flood of light on this subject, and adds a chapter to the history of Confederation hitherto undreamt of. That letter is specially interesting at this time, when Sir John is endeavouring to win back the disaffected Bleu bolters by sugared phrases and, in all human probability, more substantial inducements, showing as it does not only his deep-rooted hostility to the Federal system, but a daring attempt on his part to break faith with the Lower Canadian people, and force them into a Legislative Union against their will. Had he secured his will, or had Sir George Cartier been of as pliable material as some of the Premier's colleagues of the present day are, the Provinces would have lost every right they possessed, and remained but figures of speech. Notwithstanding Sir John Macdonald's professions since then, his conduct as revealed in the letter to Senator Trudel has been in perfect accord with his actions of recent years, shown in his determined efforts to wrench from the Provinces the rights and privileges conferred upon them under the B. N. A. Act. We reproduce that portion of the letter to Senator Trudel, which carries the lesson of Sir John's duplicity most effectively to the mind of the French people, who are now weighing in the balance his profession and practice. It says:—

"This is exactly what Cartier told me about Sir John's conduct, and this statement I am prepared, if necessary, to affirm upon oath. I may add here that an evening or two before the departure of Sir George for England on account of his health I went to see him at his house at Montreal. Among other things he then told me that he was going away to England very sick, and without any hope of returning to Canada, for the doctors here had told him that his disease was incurable. He entreated me to remember what he had said to me during the previous session about Sir John Macdonald, and added, "Don't trust him. He does not love French-Canadians. He detests them. This is my opinion, and I hope you will profit by it.'"

THE question of manhood suffrage for Ontario is one which has great interest for every young Reformer, and although a great electoral reform has been given by the present Legislature within the past two years, it is not surprising that the young men should desire to ascertain what prospects there are for the full accomplishment of their ideal franchise. A delegation of the Toronto Young Men's Liberal Club waited on Premier Mowat the other day with this object in view. The Premier told them that the Ontario Government could not introduce two great measures of electoral reform in one Parliament. It had already extended the franchise so widely as virtually to give every man a vote who worked for a living, and there were considerations in respect of granting manhood suffrage which could not well be overlooked. Among these was the enfranchisement of an undesirable class of tramps, loafers and even worse, whose influence in elections could not be considered desirable. But the subject would in all probability be carefully considered by the new Parliament, and through the Young Men's Liberal Clubs Mr. Mowat added that he expected to be returned again at the next general election. There is no reasonable doubt that he will be. He can safely count on the votes of the majority of the electors enfranchised under the recently passed Franchise Act, not so much on the ground that his Government saw fit, in justice, to confer the franchise on the new voters, but on the broad principle that the Government of which he is head has conducted the affairs of the Province honestly, and endeavoured to do its duty by all sections of the community. It would, indeed, be a retrogressive step to replace Mr. Mowat by Mr. Meredith, whose whole record has been one of sacrificing the interests of the Province whenever they conflicted with those of his chief and the land and timber grabbers and office brokers who have fattened at the crib of the Dominion.

A PAPER car wheel exploded the other day while in motion, and the railway men were at a loss to know what caused the explosion. An exchange referring to the matter says it was made of Tory newspapers and exploded from the amount of gas. This is unkind.

THE Globe: The revenue for last month was somewhat larger than the revenue for January, 1885. The Tory organs asserted that the increase was due to a revival of business. We are sorry that their assertions were not well-founded. The increased taxation imposed last session, it was estimated, would add two millions a year, or about $166,000 per month, to the revenue. Unfortunately the receipts from Customs last month were nearly $100,000 less than in January, 1885, and the receipts from Excise were only about $1,000 more. The figures show unquestionably that there has been a further shrinkage in the business of the country. The increase was under the heading "miscellaneous," and came, it is said, as interest on funds held by the Government.

CANADIAN fresh meat exporters to Great Britain are to have a new competitor in that line of business. The Buenos Ayres Herald says:—An English company has been formed, with a large capital, for the regular consignment of frozen meat from the Falkland Islands to England. A special agent has been appointed, who has entered into contracts with the sheep farmers for supplying 60,000 sheep for exportation annually for five years. The new steamer Setembia has been chartered by the company for the whole of that period. She has the requisite machinery and freezing rooms for freezing and transporting 1,000 tons of sheep every voyage. It is asserted that the flesh of the Falkland Islands sheep is superior to that of the Australian or New Zealand sheep, and the difference of distance is also in favour of the islands."

THE "Reformers" are still screaming to the people to be sure and get their names placed on the voters' list, under the new Franchise Act. And yet this is the very measure that was opposed so wickedly, at such a large cost of money and hindrance to legitimate business during the last session. London Free Press.

THIS is Tory argument all over. It is also the essence of the so-called Franchise Act. Sir John Macdonald never intended it to benefit Reformers, and if the trouble placed in the way of their getting their names on the lists is sufficient to defer any number of them from making the attempt the better pleased will the Tory party be. For Reformers to quietly submit to such a state of things, and refuse to take advantage of the Act as far as possible would be a species of stupidity of which we do not expect them to be guilty. It would practically rivet the links of the Act which was framed to keep them in perpetual opposition. The Reformers of Canada are not tired of their existence yet, and do not intend either to commit political suicide or submit to being killed off by their opponents, as the Free Press seems to desire and expect. The trouble and disadvantages to which they are put under the Act must be borne, while what is good of it must be used to the best advantage in order that they may get the means of remedy into their own hands. The taunts of journals like the Free Press, showing as they so plainly do the spirit which governed the Franchise Bill in its intention and construction should serve to nerve every Reformer into more steadfast endeavour to thwart its wicked motive.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Toronto, Feb. 11.

A number of private bills received their first reading, also one introduced by Hon. C. F. Fraser to further amend the Assessment Act.

The bill respecting compensation for persons killed by accident or in duels was read the second time.

In reply to Mr. Baxter, Hon. A. M. Ross said it was the intention of the Government to ask the consent of the House to make an appropriation for the purpose of assisting the Ontario Beekeeper's Association to make a proper display at the Colonial Exhibition.

Mr. Graham's motion for a return of the number of Farmers' Institutes formed in the several Ridings of the Province, together with the number of lectures delivered in connection with the Institutes by the Professors of the Agricultural Colleges, gave members on both sides of the House an opportunity of warmly expressing their approval of the Government's fostering care of the Agricultural interests of the Province.

Mr. Carnegie moved for a return showing the names of all persons who were at any time members of this house, or of either branch of the Legislature of Canada, who have been appointed by the Government of Ontario since 1st Jan., 1872, to any office, commission, or employment with emoluments.

Mr. O'Connor moved in amendment that the return contain the names of all the members from this Province in either the Senate or the House of Commons of Canada who have since July 1st, 1867, been appointed by the Government of Ontario or of Canada to any office, commission, or employment, with the nature of the employment, and the emoluments attached thereto, which was carried on a division, after a spirited defence by the Government of its appointments.

Hon. A. M. Ross intimated, in reply to Mr. Meredith, that in all probability the Budget Speech would be made next week.

The House adjourned at 5.50.

Wage-Earners and Tenants' Sons.

"SIR,—Must a wage-earner be a resident in the local municipality for the year 1885 to entitle him to be put on the assessment roll by the assessor? Also, can tenants' sons be put on the assessment roll the same as land-holders' sons? Also, can all the sons be put on if the father is only assessed for $200 in township?

"AN OLD ASSESSOR."

The Globe's reply to the above is as follows:—To get the benefit of the Provincial franchise a wage-earner must be:

1. Resident in the constituency at the time of the election.

2. Resident in the constituency at the time the assessment roll is made out.

3. Resident continuously in the constituency between the making out of the assessment roll and the time of the election.

4. Must derive or earn wages or income of not less than $250 from some trade, occupation, calling, office, or profession.

5. Must be entered on the assessment roll. But by this he does not become liable to taxation.

In the Provincial franchise the sons of tenants, as well of owners, are entitled to vote, and the father is required to be assessed to an extent sufficient to qualify himself. If the father is qualified to vote, his sons, step-sons, grandsons, or sons-in-law resident with him are also entitled. In the Dominion franchise the assessment has to be large enough to qualify each of the sons, etc., if divided among them and the father.

THE FRANCHISE ACT.

The Qualifications of Voters—The Process of Registration Explained.

The time having arrived for the preparation of the voters' lists under the new Dominion Franchise Act, an appeal is made to the Liberals of Wellington to have their names enrolled as voters without delay. To assist in so doing a short summary of the qualification of voters and of the process for securing registration is given.

QUALIFICATION.

To entitle a person to be put on the list he must be—

(1) 21 years of age.

(2) A British subject by birth or naturalization.

(3) Owner of real property of value of:
In a city, $300.
In a town, $200.
In a county, $150.

(4) Or tenant of real property under ease at a rental of
$2 per month.
$6 per quarter.
$12 per half year.
$20 per year.

Provided that the tenant has been in possession for one year before 1st January 1886, and shall have paid one year's rent before final revision.

If the rent is yearly it will be sufficient if $20 of last year's rent shall have been paid before final revision.

Change of tenancy without intermission will not destroy the vote if aggregate of tenancies would give vote.

The assessor should be instructed to state in the assessment roll the rent payable by each person assessed as tenant. If, however, this is not done, each tenant is prima facie entitled to be registered as a voter if the property is assessed at the following values:—
In cities at $300.
In towns at $200.
In counties at $150.

In counties outside of villages the rent may be payable either in money or in money's worth.

(5) Or a bona fide occupant for one year before 1st January, 1886, and enjoying the revenues and profits for his own or his wife's use of real property of the following values:
In cities, $300.
In towns, $200.
In counties, $150.

The occupancy may be under license of occupation from the crown or from any person or corporation.

(6) Or by income without any other qualification.

A person may be registered as an income voter, if he derives an income from his earnings, trade or profession, or from some investment in Canada of $300 a year, for one year before 1st January, 1886.

In counties the earnings may be either in money or money's worth.

(7) Sons of owners of real property are qualified—

(a) Where the father is living and a son or sons living with him continuously for one year before 1st January, 1886, and the property is sufficient in value according to the above figures, if divided between them to give them all votes. If not sufficient to qualify all the sons and the father, then the father and only so many sons as the property will qualify can be enrolled, and in such case the eldest son will be preferred, and then the next elder, and so on.

(b) When the father is dead, and would, if living, be qualified, residence with the mother will suffice, and as many sons as the property will qualify may be registered, with preference to the eldest and elder sons, as in the last case.

Occasional absence from home of a son—not more than six months in the year—will not disqualify, and all time spent at school or college in Canada will be counted as if spent at home.

Son of an owner includes grandson, step-son and son-in-law, and all these may be registered as voters on the property if of sufficient value. The provision as to sons of owners applies to the counties as well as towns and cities in cases other than those of farmers' sons.

(8) Farmers' sons—The same provisions substantially apply to farmers' sons, as stated in the last paragraph in respect of sons of owners in cities and towns.

A farm is to be not less than 20 acres of land.

(9) Fishermen and owners of real property and boats, nets, fishing gear and tackle of aggregate value of $150.

Income voters register where they reside at time of registration—all others where property is situate. If in more than one polling division in the same electoral district the voter may register in either.

All names entered in the last revised voters' lists under the old law, will be entered in the new lists by the revising barrister.

Every person not on the assessment roll desiring to have his name on the list must at once send to the revising barrister an application in writing to be put on the list, giving his name, residence and the property or other qualification in respect of which he applies to be put on.

This application must be accompanied by a declaration which is to be made and signed before a commissioner for taking affidavits, a notary or justice of the peace, showing the grounds of the applicants claim to be put on the list.

Substantially the voters are those who can qualify as owners, tenants, occupants, income voters, sons of owners and farmers' sons.

See that the application shows as correctly and fully as possible the qualification.

Make the declaration before a commissioner, notary or justice of the peace. It is convenient to have it attached to the application on the same sheet.

In case of an absent person, let some one else having a knowledge of the qualification make the application and declaration.

When one cannot find a justice or other person before whom the declaration can be taken let the application alone be sent in, with an explanation of the reason, and it would be well in such case to have the truth of the facts in the application certified on the back of it by one, or if possible, two other persons.

The application and declaration must be sent at once to the Revising barrister of the district.

URGENCY OF THE MATTER.

No name not on the last voters' list or assessment roll will be placed on the preliminary voters' list, unless on application and declaration as above.

In case of any difficulty or doubt, application should be made at once for advice to some of the Liberal friends in the neighborhood.

Navigation on the Fraser River was open on Jan. 25, and steamers were making regular trips. The railway trains, however, were stuck in the snow, which fell to the depth of two feet.

MANHOOD.

How Lost, How Restored!

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practise, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

CHAPTER IX.

MEASURING WEAPONS.

"Mr. Moore has come home again," she said.

"When did he come?" asked Helen, her heart giving a leap which sent the colour into her face.

"This afternoon. Papa saw him at the station. He said he should come u this evening; so I feel in better spirits."

"You speak as though you could not live without a man to talk to," said Helen, a little impatiently.

"In this case the man is rather of a special kind," she said, smiling graciously. "You remember what we were speaking of last night? You wanted to know if I liked to have a friend and a lover combined in one person. In this case I am willing to put up with the one for the sake of the other."

"What do you mean? You express yourself so vaguely?" said Helen, putting down her work and looking fixedly at her sister. A half-defined fear was growing in her heart, which yet was not strong enough to shut out the curiosity she could not help feeling.

"How you stare at me!" said Alice, a little pettishly, and not meeting Helen's eyes; "if you had had the least experience in such matters you would know what I mean without asking such glaring point blank questions. Have I not told you quite plainly what I mean? I am willing to put up with the one for the sake of the other."

"But which is which? I don't understand, and whether it is the friend or the lover with whom you are willing to put up."

"I thought I said yesterday I should never think of preferring a friend," said the younger girl, a little impatiently.

"That is true, but I was in doubt, because I cannot suppose Mr. Moore has given you any reason to think he will ever be more than a friend to you."

Her tone was so cool and positive that Alice flushed with indignation and wounded pride. She drew herself up, saying—

"Do you mean to say the man lives whom I could not make fall in ove with me if I chose?"

"If you take that tone it is different. I don't know how successful you may be in that way. But I don't see what satisfaction you can get out of having made a man desperately in love with you, when you care nothing in the world for him. I should think he becomes rather a burden."

Her tone irritated Alice more and more. She spoke and looked as if she had suddenly came in contact with something which she hesitated to touch even with the tips of her fingers.

"It might be so if I did not care for the man," she replied unguardedly, "but in this case you see I do."

"What do you mean?" asked Helen, growing paler and speaking coldly. "Having said so much you must go on. How do you care for Mr Moore—as a friend or a lover?"

"As it is only a question of time on his side," speaking with a smile which was almost insolent in its assured triumph, I don't mind telling you that I like him better than any man I ever met; and since he likes me, I am only going to improve the opportunity. That is," she went on more to herself than Helen, "I think sometimes he likes me, and then again I feel sure he does not. The odd thing is that when he is very plain spoken I have an idea that he likes me best, and when he pays me compliments that he does not care for me; and the prettier and finer the compliment the less he likes me. He is different from all the men I have ever met, and I believe that if we came to understand one another we might be very happy together. Only shall we ever understand one another? I cannot tell. I could make him love me, but as you say it would be more dignified to let him take his own course, and in time he must see—he must."

Helen had listened to all this in silence; surprise, incredulity, dismay, and indignation all kept her dumb. But at the end, when Alice had so plainly given her to understand that the feeling was all on her side for Percival, shame for her sister restored her voice, and she exclaimed,

"Alice?"

There was such a look on her face that Alice stared, saying,

"How you look! one would suppose that you were in love with him yourself."

As she spoke a servant opened the door, saying,

"Mr. Moore."

Montreal to Minneapolis.

(From the Montreal Herald.)

The recent visit to Montreal of Governor Washburn, ex-Governor Pillsbury and Mr. Fletcher, of Minneapolis, had an important object in view. Those gentlemen represent the flour milling interest of Minneapolis. Of all the product of the flour mills of that city, which is the great milling city of the continent, three fourths is forte export to Europe. Naturally, the millers wish to get their flour to Europe by the shortest and quickest route, and this route lies through Canadian territory and via the Canada Pacific Railway. A direct line to Sault Ste Marie from Minneapolis is in course of construction, and will be finished to that point during 1887. The visit of the Minneapolis delegates to Montreal was to come to an understanding with the Canadian Pacific Company in regard to the latter's branch to Sault Ste Marie. The Canadian Pacific having already a branch to Algoma Mills, will require to build about seventy miles further west to meet the Minneapolis line at the Sault; and it is understood that the Canadian company will have their rails laid to the Sault by the time the Minneapolis men have reached there. While in Canada, it is said, the gentlemen from Minneapolis made all necessary arrangements with a leading financial institution for the monetary assistance that will be needed, and in all human probability the fall of 1887 will see Montreal and Minneapolis in direct connection via the Canadian Pacific Railway. This will give Minneapolis a shorter line to the seaboard, by four hundred miles or thereabouts, than any existing, and with Montreal for its summer port, and a choice of United States and Maritime Province ports for its winter shipments to Europe. The addition that will thus accrue to the traffic of the Canadian Pacific road, and the importance to the country of this great western connection, will be readily understood by business men.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

Valuable in Indigestion.

Dr. Daniel T. Nelson, Chicago, says: "I find it a pleasant and valuable remedy in indigestion, particularly in over worked men."

The latest remedy for coughs, colds, croup whooping cough, bronchitis, etc., is McGregor's Lung Compound. There is no remedy in existence containing any one of the active ingredients composing McGregor's Lung Compound, so do not say you have taken everything until you have tried this for your cold or cough, and your opinion will be the same as all who have used it, viz., that it is the best. SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 6th.

A Picturesque Exhibit.

(From the Montreal Star.)

The order which Messrs. Notman & Son received from the Government to have some pictures of the principal cities of the Dominion painted for the Colonial Exhibition, is being carried out as rapidly as possible, and already five out of the nine are complete enough for inspection. These are Halifax, St. John, N. B., Quebec, Winnipeg and Montral. The view of Halifax is taken from the island, and shows the front of the harbor with the city spreading backwards up the slope. Quebec is seen from the opposite shore above Point Levis, and the citadel is backed by the Blue Mountain ranges in the far distance. Of Winnipeg, a half bird's eye view is given, the fine city hall being in the foreground, while the streets are dotted with carts driven by teams of horses and oxen. Below, a narrow strip is devoted to a prairie scene, with a railway train running through a golden wheat field. The favorite view of Montreal from the Mountain has been given, but below is a small view of the city from between the piers of the Victoria Bridge. The main view takes in the river and plain beyond, with the Belœil group of mountains as a background. All these pictures are on canvasses of a very large size, and the execution reflects great credit on Messrs. Notman and Mr. J. Weston, the artist. And people in England will be surprised at the appearance of the cities which so many imagine are little better than a collection of log cabins. The other views are to be of Charlottetown, P. E. I., Toronto, Ottawa, and Victoria, B. C.

Rules of a Rockwood Manufacturer.

To the Editor of the MERCURY.

GENTLEMEN,—In your last evening's issue we notice under the head of "Rockwood correspondence" an allusion to one of our printed rules. As worded it sounds harsh and arbitrary. The rule reads:—"Rule III—Employees are not allowed to visit other departments than those in which they are regularly engaged; and no conversation between employees, except on business, or between employees and visitors will be allowed during working hours."

In all well ordered and successful industries the interests of the employer and the employed must be one and the same. If this truth was fully understood and observed there would be little use for rules, and that little acting as a guide rather than as a restraint.

Yours truly,
HARRIS & Co.

Rockwood, Feb. 11, 1886.

It is a curious fact that birds, even when inoculated with the poison of rabies, do not suffer from the disease.

"Squaws do the threshing for the farmers in Nevada," says a correspondent. That is a peculiarity of the sex everywhere. Every small boy knows who does his threshing for him.

Local News

SHODDY peddlers are victimizing farmers around Erin and Acton.

MR. J. MORRISON, late of Grand Valley, East Luther, has purchased Mr. J. Armstrong's hotel, Arthur village.

THE Mount Forest Index has donned a new heading. This adds to the former sprightly appearance of the paper.

THE annual meeting of the shareholders of the Guelph Gas Company will be held in the City Hall on Monday afternoon at three o'clock. d1

MR. T. W. SAUNDERS has kindly consented to introduce the different "Tableaux" in the City Hall, Thursday, 18th February. Music and readings will be introduced between each scene. See advt.

A BRANCH of the Imperial Bank of Canada is about to be opened in the town of Galt. Mr. John Cavers, for many years a successful manager of the Consolidated Bank of Canada, has secured the appointment of manager.

AND now the butchers are talking about playing the MERCURY a curling match. A swimming match at the present time would be more in order. However, "what's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander." We're ready.

THE Berlin Philharmonic Society and the Concordia Maennerchor have united for the purpose of getting up a grand Saengerfest and Musical Convention some time during the summer—in July or August—to last two and perhaps three days.

THE eleventh annual meeting of the Sons of England Benevolent Society commenced on Tuesday, Feb. 9th, in Galt. The society is making very rapid strides, its present membership being about 4,000, while the accumulated capital is in the neighborhood of $25,000.

THE Municipal Council of the township of Arthur, has forwarded an official petition to the Minister of Justice, Ottawa, in favour of committing an exceptional unjust sentence passed by the Police Magistrate at Calgary, N.W.T., on John Sheehy, son of Patrick Sheehy, and a former highly respected resident of Arthur Township. Another very numerously signed petition will also be sent for the same purpose.

THE second number of the Oxford Standard is to hand. This new candidate for favour among the Reformers of old Oxford presents a creditable appearance typographically and editorially, but we should think that the Sentinel-Review, sound politically, and an excellent family paper, filled the wants of the district. But Mr. Andrew Denholm, the Standard publisher, is an old newspaper man, and ought to know just what he is about.

THE $2 COUNTERFEITS.—A gentleman in the city who is the unfortunate possessor of two counterfeit $2 bills says that they can be more easily identified than by any of the discrepancies lately described. In the imprint line on the lower border "British American Bank Note Company" the counterfeiters have failed to "dot" the letter "i". The dots are plainly visible if the bill is genuine. It may be worth $2 for you to see that the $2 bills you receive are duly dotted.

ONTARIO TANKARD.—The Harriston Tribune says:—On Wednesday the Elora curlers, headed by the invincible D. Foote, met the Wroxeter Scots on the keen ice of the Harriston rink in order to test who should claim the honour of taking home with them the Ontario tankard. The soft weather had a bad effect on the ice, which converted the sport of curling into hard work. However, the play was good on both sides, but resulted in a victory for Elora by 16 points.

W. C. T. U.—The regular monthly business meeting of the Union was held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms, on Wednesday last. There was a fair attendance of ladies and the different departments of work were discussed at some length. The Committee appointed to secure a room for holding meetings of the Union and other purposes reported having rented the rooms lately occupied by Mr. Wm. Hart as an office, over W. G. Smith & Co.'s drug store. The rooms are now being comfortably fitted and will be ready for occupation by the ladies at their meeting next week.

THE ARTHUR BRIDGE.—The Enterprise says:—Mr. M. Sweetnam, Warden, Mr. J. Mutrie, Reeve, of Eramosa, Mr. J. Black, Reeve of West Garafraxa, Mr. N. C. O'Donnell, Reeve of Arthur Township, and Mr. W. F. Johnston, Reeve of Arthur village, inspected the iron bridge in this village, on Tuesday last, and all agreed that it was a first class piece of mechanical construction in every respect. On account of the great difficulty in obtaining a first class stone the cost exceeded the estimates to a small extent. The cost is over $2000, and as this is much the largest grant obtained from the County, our Reeve is justly entitled to credit for obtaining it.

LOOK OUT FOR THE HOLES.—A Peekskill man has recovered $2,500 damages from the town for injuries sustained through falling into a hole in the street. The defence was set up that the man was drunk at the time, but the Chief Justice overruled that pleading, holding that "a man needs a good street to walk on if he does get drunk." Of course he does. There is no time when he needs a good wide street with a perfect pavement so much as he does when lamp posts, telegraph poles and other obstructions persist in running up against him. When a man steps to one side to give a lamp post the right of way and breaks his leg in a hole in the sidewalk he is injured in every respect. Again, a hole in a pavement is no respector of persons, and will break the leg of a sober man just as cheerfully as a drunkard's. But this is the first time we ever heard of a man making money by getting tight.

TO THE DEFORMED.—Chas. Cluthe, the well-known surgical machinist, of Toronto and Buffalo, inventor of the perfected spiral truss pad, will be at the Wellington Hotel, Guelph, on Saturday, February 20th, with a supply of his trusses for the cure of rupture and all kinds of deformities. Remember the date. w1.d1sat.

THE SICK TREATED FREE OF CHARGE.—The Doctors of the Great English Staff of Physicians and Surgeons are now stopping at the Commercial Hotel, Guelph, and will remain until the 15th of February. As this is their first trip through Canada they will treat you free of charge. The only favor they ask of their patients is a recommend after a cure is effected. Office hours from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Sundays from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. d6

Probabilities.

Light to moderate winds, cloudy or foggy weather, with light local rains; not much change in temperature.

ON account of the bad roads the market was poorly attended to-day.

MR. GEO. MORRISON, agent for the Sylvester Agricultural Implement Co., is in the City to-day.

WE are glad to learn that Mr. Philip Spragge's family have now all recovered from an attack of diphtheria.

THE rain storm of last night fairly put an end to sleighing. This morning the streets were flooded with water.

TALK about the fog of London and the mists of Scotland. Last night and this morning would bear a fair comparison to either.

THERE is another case of diphtheria on Northumberland street. The doctors attribute the cause of this disease in that neighbourhood to bad drainage.

ALD. JOHN HAMILTON returned yesterday after a two weeks absence to the Bay of Fundy where he has been purchasing granite monuments and other stock for his marble works. The first shipment will arrive in a few days.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—A despatch from Berlin dated yesterday states that Mr. Sheppard, of the Grand Trunk Station, met with a terrible and fatal accident that afternoon. While shunting trains his foot caught in a fog and the passing train ran over his leg and arm, cutting them completely off.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT.—The Directors of the General Hospital acknowledge with thanks the receipt of $1,000 from the County Treasurer for grant made by the County Council; also from St. Andrew's Church, $33; Knox Church, $20; Chalmers' Church, additional $4 for collections taken up in their several churches.

A BLACK NERO.—David Nero, the coloured revivalist, has been arrested at Glasgow, Scotland, on charges of extorting money from religious old ladies and keeping up an immoral correspondence with young women. It is said Nero formerly taught school in or near Georgetown, in Halton County. He is a splendid specimen of coloured manhood, six feet high, black as coal and of graceful bearing. He is also thoroughly educated.

CRAMPING MACHINE.—Improvements will never cease. Mr. S. J. Laughlin, foreman, of Bell & Co.'s organ factory, has recently invented a new cramping machine for cramping up material used for organs. This machine does the work far superior to the old system and in a third less time. It is made of cast iron, stands about three feet high, and has four sides revolving on a centre shaft, and each side takes in stock as it revolves around. Mr. McLaughlin deserves credit for his invention.

WHOLESOME ORANGES.—A paragraph having lately gone the rounds of the press to the effect that the Florida orange crop had been poisoned by the frost, and the same having appeared in the MERCURY, Mr John Griffiths desires us to state that his stock were all imported from Europe, and have, therefore, not been affected by the frost. We believe this is the case with all our fruit dealers. We have to thank Mr Griffiths for a handsome sample, and having duly assimilated the same, are prepared to vouch for the truth of his assertion.

SILVER MEDAL.—Mr Wm. Sunley, one of the most prominent poultry breeders in Ontario, has received the diploma and silver medal from the "Toronto Poultry, Pigeon and Pet Association," which he won at the exhibition held there some time ago for Plymouth Rocks. The diploma is for the hen, which scored 95 points, and the medal is for the highest scoring Plymouth Rock in the Show. There were some 116 birds shown, so that Mr. Sunley's victory over this competition was not trifling. The medal is a large and handsomely chased one.

PROF. VALLANCE, the great Scottish Elocutionist from Glasgow University, is to appear under the auspices of Knox and Chalmers' Churches' Literary Associations, on Tuesday evening next, 16th of February, in Chalmers' Church basement. Those who wish to hear such pieces as Tam O'Shanter and the Widow McCree's Courtship, rendered by a first-class artist, should avail themselves of this opportunity of listening to Prof. Vallance. But although a master of the Scotch dialect and a perfect delineator of the Scotch character he is said to be as much at home in the higher classes of pure English composition. d1

BACHELORS' AND BENEDICTS' BALL.—One of the most successful balls held in Guelph for years took place last evening in the City Hall, under the auspices of the bachelors and benedicts of this City. The attendance was large, quite a number being present from Toronto, London, Brampton, Berlin, Galt, Fergus, Elora, Mount Forest and other places. The costumes of the ladies were elegant and added much to the charm and appearance of the brilliant scene. The music furnished was by Seiger's Band, from Toronto, and was much admired for its sweetness and tune. Everybody present seemed to be well pleased and satisfied with the dance.

POLICE COURT.—This morning John Bianoffski was charged at the police court by Chief Randall with stealing a violin in 1884, from Wayper's Hotel, in Hespeler. The violin belonged to Joseph Wayper, jr. A day or two ago the Chief had reason to search Bianoffski's house in connection with some other business, when he spied the violin, took it down and closely examined it. From the appearance of the instrument, he was pretty sure that it was the one stolen from Mr. Wayper. Sharp as the Chief was the parties in the house seemed to be equally sharp, for when the Chief, after working up evidence, returned to secure the violin, all that he discovered was the "bridge" and a portion of the "head" taken from a stove. It would appear from this that the fiddle had been burned. Mr. Wayper, on being called, identified the pieces as belonging to his fiddle. The case was adjourned until Tuesday for further evidence.

AMPUTATED.—Mr. D. A. McIntyre, teacher, who had his leg caught in the gearing of a threshing machine, in Guelph Township, last week, had it amputated at the General Hospital this forenoon.

FELL INTO A WATER TRENCH.—There was quite an excitement on Douglas street yesterday afternoon, caused by a horse belonging to Mr. Jeremiah Fletcher, Nassagaweya, falling into a waterworks trench. Mr. Fletcher had been visiting Mr. John Mitchell, undertaker. It seems that a lock had burst in one of the water works pipes and had remained unobserved until the horse fell through. The animal was buried in the trench up to its neck, and it was over half an hour before it could be released from its uncomfortable position.

THE FORGERY CASE.

The Prisoner Committed for Trial.

O. K. Martin was placed on trial at the Police Court yesterday, as announced in last evening's MERCURY, charged with three several offences, viz: offering forged Dominion notes, inciting others to commit felony, and obtaining money under false pretences. The prisoner is a good looking and apparently respectable young man, and is said to be well connected in Lucknow and the vicinity. The first witness called by Mr. Peterson was

William Walker, who lives in Guelph, and who testified that last August he was out of employment and advertised for a situation in the Mail. He received in answer a circular worded in a mysterious manner, which, as he thought, indicated forged notes for sale. He sent ten dollars, but received no reply. The only object he had in doing this was to lead the writer on and detect him. Afterwards gave the affair into the hands of Detective Rogers. All his letters were to be addressed box 41, Lucknow. Never saw the prisoner before. Several letters were put in that passed between this witness and the unknown party, signing himself "Drawer 41."

Detective Rogers testified that he was a Government Detective, that many circulars had been received by the Ontario Government from banks and others like the one produced in court and that there was reason to believe that a regular and systematic series of forgeries was being carried on in the Province. That he was commissioned in conjunction with Detective McGouin to ferret out the forgers. He corroborated Walker's evidence and said he marked a ten dollar bill and enclosed in a letter to drawer 41, Lucknow. This bill was afterwards found on prisoner, when he arrested him. He produced a large number of circulars and other printed matter found in prisoner's safe.

Detective McGouin gave evidence as to putting a $10 bill in the post office at Lucknow. Prisoner's brother got the letter. He followed prisoner's brother and saw him hand the letter to prisoner. Afterwards he came back and saw prisoner read the letter.

The evidence in the other counts were similar.

Mr Field said that they were debarred from putting in evidence for the defence and His Worship should see a clear case before sending prisoner for trial. He contended that in no case had the crime been legally made out. His Worship held these objections might be urged with weight elsewhere, but the Statute gave him power to commit if he thought a crime of any kind had been committed, and he certainly could not hold that there was no evidence in this case. He committed the prisoner for trial on all three charges.

An application for bail on the part of prisoner's counsel was refused, but we understand an application will be made to the Judge at once.

THE CURLERS' BLUE RIBBON.

Final ties For the Ontario Tankard to be Played Next Week.

The primary competition for the Ontario tankard, by the curling clubs throughout the Province in groups, has now been finished, and has been the most successful yet held. For the first time the competition was carried out in every one of the groups, and of the 81 clubs in the Ontario Branch Association, 60 took part in the contest, and it is somewhat singular that only one of the previous winners of the trophy has succeeded in surviving the primary and finding a place in the final competition. Of the nine clubs six surviving are comparatively young clubs, and only Guelph, Thamesville and Bowmanville may be held as representing the older clubs. This circumstance, while full of encouragement and hope to the young clubs and young players, is perhaps not sufficient to support a theory of the superior skill of the young over the old curlers, but it points in that direction; and our old clubs and curlers will need to look well to their organization and practice if they wish to retain their laurels, for the "boys" are after them. The final competition for the trophy, the "Blue Ribbon prize" of the Ontario Branch, will commence on Wednesday, Feb. 17, at 1:30 p.m., in the Granite and the Caledonian clubs' rinks, and be finished on the following day in the rink of the latter club. The surviving clubs are Thamesville, Bright, Guelph, St. Catharines, Listowel, Collingwood, Toronto Granite, Bowmanville and Brockville, and all of them will be represented in the coming final competitions by the crack players of each club, and a most interesting time may be safely expected.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Toronto, Feb. 12.

A large number of unimportant petitions were presented and near a score of bills were read a first time.

Mr. Carnegie obtained an order for a return showing the number, concession and acreage of the lots in the township of Livingstone placed under license to cut timber, to John Ludgate, in August, 1884, and the township, number, concession and acreage of the lots in lieu of which the license of 1884 was issued. Mr. Wood obtained an order for a return showing the number of local mills east of the Bocqueygeon roads and the amount of lumber laid aside for them. He also obtained an order for a return showing the school sections which received aid from the poor school fund during 1885 together with the sum paid to each section.

In answer to a paragraph that appeared in the Globe, Mr. Wood stated that he had not denied receiving a salary from the Dominion Government as valuator since his election as a member of the House but had stated that he was appointed two years before his election.

THE eleventh annual meeting of the Sons of England Benevolent Society commenced on Tuesday, Feb. 9th, in Galt. The society is making very rapid strides, its present membership being about 4,000, while the accumulated capital is in the neighborhood of $25,000.

THE Municipal Council of the township of Arthur, has forwarded an official petition to the Minister of Justice, Ottawa, in favour of committing an exceptional unjust sentence passed by the Police Magistrate at Calgary, N.W.T., on John Sheehy, son of Patrick Sheehy, and a former highly respected resident of Arthur Township. Another very numerously signed petition will also be sent for the same purpose.

THE second number of the Oxford Standard is to hand. This new candidate for favour among the Reformers of old Oxford presents a creditable appearance typographically and editorially, but we should think that the Sentinel-Review, sound politically, and an excellent family paper, filled the wants of the district. But Mr. Andrew Denholm, the Standard publisher, is an old newspaper man, and ought to know just what he is about.

THE $2 COUNTERFEITS.—A gentleman in the city who is the unfortunate possessor of two counterfeit $2 bills says that they can be more easily identified than by any of the discrepancies lately described. In the imprint line on the lower border "British American Bank Note Company" the counterfeiters have failed to "dot" the letter "i". The dots are plainly visible if the bill is genuine. It may be worth $2 for you to see that the $2 bills you receive are duly dotted.

ONTARIO TANKARD.—The Harriston Tribune says:—On Wednesday the Elora curlers, headed by the invincible D. Foote, met the Wroxeter Scots on the keen ice of the Harriston rink in order to test who should claim the honour of taking home with them the Ontario tankard. The soft weather had a bad effect on the ice, which converted the sport of curling into hard work. However, the play was good on both sides, but resulted in a victory for Elora by 16 points.

W. C. T. U.—The regular monthly business meeting of the Union was held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms, on Wednesday last. There was a fair attendance of ladies and the different departments of work were discussed at some length. The Committee appointed to secure a room for holding meetings of the Union and other purposes reported having rented the rooms lately occupied by Mr. Wm. Hart as an office, over W. G. Smith & Co.'s drug store. The rooms are now being comfortably fitted and will be ready for occupation by the ladies at their meeting next week.

THE ARTHUR BRIDGE.—The Enterprise says:—Mr. M. Sweetnam, Warden, Mr. J. Mutrie, Reeve, of Eramosa, Mr. J. Black, Reeve of West Garafraxa, Mr. N. C. O'Donnell, Reeve of Arthur Township, and Mr. W. F. Johnston, Reeve of Arthur village, inspected the iron bridge in this village, on Tuesday last, and all agreed that it was a first class piece of mechanical construction in every respect. On account of the great difficulty in obtaining first class stone the cost exceeded the estimates to a small extent. The cost is over $2000, and as this is much the largest grant obtained from the County, our Reeve is justly entitled to credit for obtaining it.

LOOK OUT FOR THE HOLES.—A Peekskill man has recovered $2,500 damages from the town for injuries sustained through falling into a hole in the street. The defence was set up that the man was drunk at the time, but the Chief Justice overruled that pleading, holding that "a man needs a good street to walk on if he does get drunk." Of course he does. There is no time when he needs a good wide street with a perfect pavement so much as he does when lamp posts, telegraph poles and other obstructions persist in running up against him. When a man steps to one side to give a lamp post the right of way and breaks his leg in a hole in the sidewalk he is injured in every respect. Again, a hole in a pavement is no respector of persons, and will break the leg of a sober man just as cheerfully as a drunkard's. But this is the first time we ever heard of a man making money by getting tight.

TO THE DEFORMED.—Chas. Cluthe, the well-known surgical machinist, of Toronto and Buffalo, inventor of the perfected spiral truss pad, will be at the Wellington Hotel, Guelph, on Saturday, February 20th, with a supply of his trusses for the cure of rupture and all kinds of deformities. Remember the date. w1.d1sat.

THE SICK TREATED FREE OF CHARGE.—The Doctors of the Great English Staff of Physicians and Surgeons are now stopping at the Commercial Hotel, Guelph, and will remain until the 15th of February. As this is their first trip through Canada they will treat you free of charge. The only favor they ask of their patients is a recommend after a cure is effected. FATAL ACCIDENT.—A despatch from Berlin dated yesterday states that Mr. Sheppard, of the Grand Trunk Station, met with a terrible and fatal accident that afternoon. While shunting trains his foot caught in a fog and the passing train ran over his leg and arm, cutting them completely off.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT.—The Directors of the General Hospital acknowledge with thanks the receipt of $1,000 from the County Treasurer for grant made by the County Council; also from St. Andrew's Church, $33; Knox Church, $20; Chalmers' Church, additional $4 for collections taken up in their several churches.

A BLACK NERO.—David Nero, the coloured revivalist, has been arrested at Glasgow, Scotland, on charges of extorting money from religious old ladies and keeping up an immoral correspondence with young women. It is said Nero formerly taught school in or near Georgetown, in Halton County. He is a splendid specimen of coloured manhood, six feet high, black as coal and of graceful bearing. He is also thoroughly educated.

CRAMPING MACHINE.—Improvements will never cease. Mr. S. J. Laughlin, foreman, of Bell & Co.'s organ factory, has recently invented a new cramping machine for cramping up material used for organs. This machine does the work far superior to the old system and in a third less time. It is made of cast iron, stands about three feet high, and has four sides revolving on a centre shaft, and each side takes in stock as it revolves around. Mr. McLaughlin deserves credit for his invention.

WHOLESOME ORANGES.—A paragraph having lately gone the rounds of the press to the effect that the Florida orange crop had been poisoned by the frost, and the same having appeared in the MERCURY, Mr John Griffiths desires us to state that his stock were all imported from Europe, and have, therefore, not been affected by the frost. We believe this is the case with all our fruit dealers. We have to thank Mr Griffiths for a handsome sample, and having duly assimilated the same, are prepared to vouch for the truth of his assertion.

SILVER MEDAL.—Mr Wm. Sunley, one of the most prominent poultry breeders in Ontario, has received the diploma and silver medal from the "Toronto Poultry, Pigeon and Pet Association," which he won at the exhibition held there some time ago for Plymouth Rocks. The diploma is for the hen, which scored 95 points, and the medal is for the highest scoring Plymouth Rock in the Show. There were some 116 birds shown, so that Mr. Sunley's victory over this competition was not trifling. The medal is a large and handsomely chased one.

PROF. VALLANCE, the great Scottish Elocutionist from Glasgow University, is to appear under the auspices of Knox and Chalmers' Churches' Literary Associations, on Tuesday evening next, 16th of February, in Chalmers' Church basement. Those who wish to hear such pieces as Tam O'Shanter and the Widow McCree's Courtship, rendered by a first-class artist, should avail themselves of this opportunity of listening to Prof. Vallance. But although a master of the Scotch dialect and a perfect delineator of the Scotch character he is said to be as much at home in the higher classes of pure English composition. d1

BACHELORS' AND BENEDICTS' BALL.—One of the most successful balls held in Guelph for years took place last evening in the City Hall, under the auspices of the bachelors and benedicts of this City. The attendance was large, quite a number being present from Toronto, London, Brampton, Berlin, Galt, Fergus, Elora, Mount Forest and other places. The costumes of the ladies were elegant and added much to the charm and appearance of the brilliant scene. The music furnished was by Seiger's Band, from Toronto, and was much admired for its sweetness and tune. Everybody present seemed to be well pleased and satisfied with the dance.

POLICE COURT.—This morning John Bianoffski was charged at the police court by Chief Randall with stealing a violin in 1884, from Wayper's Hotel, in Hespeler. The violin belonged to Joseph Wayper, jr. A day or two ago the Chief had reason to search Bianoffski's house in connection with some other business, when he spied the violin, took it down and closely examined it. From the appearance of the instrument, he was pretty sure that it was the one stolen from Mr. Wayper. Sharp as the Chief was the parties in the house seemed to be equally sharp, for when the Chief, after working up evidence, returned to secure the violin, all that he discovered was the "bridge" and a portion of the "head" taken from a stove. It would appear from this that the fiddle had been burned. Mr. Wayper, on being called, identified the pieces as belonging to his fiddle. The case was adjourned until Tuesday for further evidence.

AMPUTATED.—Mr. D. A. McIntyre, teacher, who had his leg caught in the gearing of a threshing machine, in Guelph Township, last week, had it amputated at the General Hospital this forenoon.

FELL INTO A WATER TRENCH.—There was quite an excitement on Douglas street yesterday afternoon, caused by a horse belonging to Mr. Jeremiah Fletcher, Nassagaweya, falling into a waterworks trench. Mr. Fletcher had been visiting Mr. John Mitchell, undertaker. It seems that a lock had burst in one of the water works pipes and had remained unobserved until the horse fell through. The animal was buried in the trench up to its neck, and it was over half an hour before it could be released from its uncomfortable position.

THE FORGERY CASE.

The Prisoner Committed for Trial.

O. K. Martin was placed on trial at the Police Court yesterday as announced in last evening's MERCURY, charged with three several offences, viz: offering forged Dominion notes, inciting others to commit felony, and obtaining money under false pretences. The prisoner is a good looking and apparently respectable young man, and is said to be well connected in Lucknow and the vicinity. The first witness called by Mr. Peterson was

William Walker, who lives in Guelph, and who testified that last August he was out of employment and advertised for a situation in the Mail. He received in answer a circular worded in a mysterious manner, which, as he thought, indicated forged notes for sale. He sent ten dollars, but received no reply. The only object he had in doing this was to lead the writer on and detect him. Afterwards gave the affair into the hands of Detective Rogers. All his letters were to be addressed box 41, Lucknow. Never saw the prisoner before. Several letters were put in that passed between this witness and the unknown party, signing himself "Drawer 41."

Detective Rogers testified that he was a Government Detective, that many circulars had been received by the Ontario Government from banks and others like the one produced in court and that there was reason to believe that a regular and systematic series of forgeries was being carried on in the Province. That he was commissioned in conjunction with Detective McGouin to ferret out the forgers. He corroborated Walker's evidence and said he marked a ten dollar bill and enclosed in a letter to drawer 41, Lucknow. This bill was afterwards found on prisoner, when he arrested him. He produced a large number of circulars and other printed matter found in prisoner's safe.

Detective McGouin gave evidence as to putting a $10 bill in the post office at Lucknow. Prisoner's brother got the letter. He followed prisoner's brother and saw him hand the letter to prisoner. Afterwards he came back and saw prisoner read the letter.

The evidence in the other counts were similar.

Mr Field said that they were debarred from putting in evidence for the defence and His Worship should see a clear case before sending prisoner for trial. He contended that in no case had the crime been legally made out. His Worship held these objections might be urged with weight elsewhere, but the Statute gave him power to commit if he thought a crime of any kind had been committed, and he certainly could not hold that there was no evidence in this case. He committed the prisoner for trial on all three charges.

An application for bail on the part of prisoner's counsel was refused, but we understand an application will be made to the Judge at once.

THE CURLERS' BLUE RIBBON.

Final ties For the Ontario Tankard to be Played Next Week.

The primary competition for the Ontario tankard, by the curling clubs throughout the Province in groups, has now been finished, and has been the most successful yet held. For the first time the competition was carried out in every one of the groups, and of the 81 clubs in the Ontario Branch Association, 60 took part in the contest, and it is somewhat singular that only one of the previous winners of the trophy has succeeded in surviving the primary and finding a place in the final competition. Of the nine clubs six surviving are comparatively young clubs, and only Guelph, Thamesville and Bowmanville may be held as representing the older clubs. This circumstance, while full of encouragement and hope to the young clubs and young players, is perhaps not sufficient to support a theory of the superior skill of the young over the old curlers, but it points in that direction; and our old clubs and curlers will need to look well to their organization and practice if they wish to retain their laurels, for the "boys" are after them. The final competition for the trophy, the "Blue Ribbon prize" of the Ontario Branch, will commence on Wednesday, Feb. 17, at 1:30 p.m., in the Granite and the Caledonian clubs' rinks, and be finished on the following day in the rink of the latter club. The surviving clubs are Thamesville, Bright, Guelph, St. Catharines, Listowel, Collingwood, Toronto Granite, Bowmanville and Brockville, and all of them will be represented in the coming final competitions by the crack players of each club, and a most interesting time may be safely expected.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Toronto, Feb. 12.

A large number of unimportant petitions were presented and near a score of bills were read a first time.

Mr. Carnegie obtained an order for a return showing the number, concession and acreage of the lots in the township of Livingstone placed under license to cut timber, to John Ludgate, in August, 1884, and the township, number, concession and acreage of the lots in lieu of which the license of 1884 was issued. Mr. Wood obtained an order for a return showing the number of local mills east of the Bocqueygeon roads and the amount of lumber laid aside for them. He also obtained an order for a return showing the school sections which received aid from the poor school fund during 1885 together with the sum paid to each section.

In answer to a paragraph that appeared in the Globe, Mr. Wood stated that he had not denied receiving a salary from the Dominion Government as valuator since his election as a member of the House but had stated that he was appointed two years before his election.

Guelph Daily Mercury

FRIDAY EVE'G, FEB. 12, 1886.

THE Marquis of Lorne has been appointed to the position of Honorary Commissioner for Canada at the coming Indian and Colonial Exhibition and also the Presidency of the Canadian Commission.

THE East Simcoe Liberals have unanimously re-nominated Mr H. H. Cook, M. P., to be their candidate for the House of Commons, and Mr Charles Drury as their representative in the Legislature. The convention was largely attended.

IT is curious what complications party zeal will lead men into. Here now we have news from Ottawa that Pierre Vandal and Jean Baptiste Vandal, sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary for having taken part in the Northwest revolt, have been pardoned, and other pardons are to follow. And yet in the Ontario House Mr. Meredith and his merry men voted straight against a recommendation to just such clemency. Thus Ontario Tories have put themselves in direct opposition to the action of the Dominion Tory Government.

THE Ottawa Journal, itself a supporter of the system which creates monopolies, says: — The distress among the fishermen of Bonaventure and Gaspe is evidence of the evil effects which follow monopoly. The rule of one-man-power under which the fishermen lived was bad enough even when times were prosperous and the firm solvent. But when the bad times came and the institution upon which fishermen depended for almost a century was taken away the immediate consequences were disastrous. The company took from the fishermen all but a bare living, but it gave them the means of earning that living by furnishing the necessary fishing appliances and affording a ready market for the catch. If a better system is established, one that will give the fisherman more for the arduous and dangerous work he does, the change though so hard to bear now will be a boon to the people of the coast.

GRIP has been telling its readers that unless Hon. Mr. Blake is prepared to change the system of Government, corruption in the administration of public affairs will continue, no matter what political party is in power. The Stratford Beacon, at considerable length, shows that it is not the system so much as the men who administer it who are to blame, and concludes an able article with the following apt illustration of its contention. It says:—We have an Independence of Parliament Act which is supposed to prevent members from having financial dealings with the Government. The Act is good; the system is perfect. And yet over seventy supporters of the present Government are directly in the receipt of pay from Sir John A. Macdonald! What Canada needs is a change of men. A change of system with the same men at the helm would do nothing more than open up fresh fields for plunder.

THE Mail of to-day quotes approvingly some sentences from recent articles in our columns, giving instructions to the unassessed as to the means for getting on the Dominion Voters' Lists, and as to whom are qualified under the Act. The intention is to show that we are compelled to a moderate commendation of the measure. Well, we have read of men about to be executed approving of the means provided for their easy exit from the world, and that is about the extent of the admiration we feel for the Dominion Franchise Act. Its provisions nominally may be broad enough to suit even the most liberal mind, but it is like a fine possession fenced in with high walls and barbed-wire fences until it is next to the impossible for the uninitiated to get inside. Judging by the experience of those who are looking after the interests of young voters on both sides of politics, for the past few weeks, the indignation expressed against the measure during its passage through the House last year will be but as a vernal zephyr compared to a Kansas cyclone when next it comes up for discussion.

THE bill introduced by the Government to amend the Act respecting the Agricultural College provides for the appointment by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council of an Advisory Board of practical agriculturists, to advise and assist the Commissioner of Agriculture in the management of the college and farm. Such board would consist of five members, exclusive of the Assistant-Commissioner of Agriculture, and its duties and powers would be prescribed by Order-in-Council. A provision that will attract attention is one to the effect that every county and every territorial district in the Province shall have the privilege of having one student in attendance during all college terms free of entrance and tuition fees, the nomination of such students to rest with the County Councils in counties, and with the Advisory Board in the districts. The students enjoying these privileges must be the sons of practical farmers resident in the respective counties or districts, who have lived on their parents's farm at least two years prior to their admission.

MR. GLADSTONE is preparing a Bill providing for the expropriation of lands in Ireland by means of the State funds. This Bill will precede the other Irish measures which the Government intends to present to Parliament. The discussion of the Home Rule question has been postponed until next session.

THE Nova Scotia sugar refinery is in difficulties, The refinery owes the Merchants Bank of Halifax and the Dominion Government $500,000. What business the Government had to become their creditors it is difficult to understand. This concern is one of those which was to be boomed by the N. P. The boom was the wrong way, however, and the shareholders will doubtless lose heavily. This is only another of the many similar cases for which the so-called "national policy" is answerable.

THE following confession of "political faith" made by Henry Broadhurst, the workingman member of Mr Gladstone's new Government, shows the character of the man:

I am a Liberal because the true, full, and free application of Liberal principles is best calculated to promote the highest order of manhood. It teaches self-reliance, and gives the best opportunities to the people to promote their individual, as well as their united and best permanent interests.

Liberalism does not seek to make all men equal. Nothing can do that. But its object is to remove all obstacles erected by men, which prevent all having equal opportunities. This in its turn promotes industry, and makes the realization of reasonably ambitious hopes possible to the poorest man amongst us.

(Signed) HENRY BROADHURST.

SPEAKING of the Franchise Act the Montreal Herald, a staunch supporter, though sometimes caustic critic, of Sir John, says:—This act is almost a manhood suffrage act—but for some inscrutable reason, Sir John insists upon quibbles and distinctions that can have no worthy object. It is a disfranchising rather than an enfranchising act, because it raises difficulties and creates formalities, having the effect of keeping men off the voters' lists. The country has not so much money to spare at the moment that it can afford to spend nearly half a million dollars on a constitutional experiment, the only effect of which can be to deprive many thousand men of votes that the constitution intended they should exercise.

Potatoes in Demand.

Speculators are actively buying potatoes in the Maritime Provinces, probably for export to the States. Large importations have recently been received at New York from Scotland. Potatoes rotted badly last fall in some portions of the west, in York State and in New England. The cold weather renders it unsafe to move them under ordinary circumstances in the winter; besides, farmers who have a quantity to sell keep them back for better prices in the spring. Dealers did not dare purchase last fall, when they were decaying so rapidly, therefore the eastern market is now poorly supplied by home grown which has induced the importation. Boston and some other eastern cities received a considerable supply of potatoes last fall from New Brunswick, where the crop was large, and not diseased. Before cold weather set in they were shipped by water, and since the heavy frosts they came through cars heated by hot air. The old method of heating cars by stoves necessarily baked some of the tubers, if the fire was sufficient to keep others warm. By recent arrangements and the completion of the St. John Bridge, the cars go through from the farmers' fields or the point of loading, to Boston, without breaking bulk.

The Socialists Wait Upon Mr. Gladstone.

LONDON, Feb. 12. — Burns, Hyndman, Champion, Watts and Williams, the Socialist Leaders, who managed the Trafalgar Square meeting, called in a body today at Mr. Gladstone's official residence to obtain an interview. Mr. Gladstone was absent. His secretary received the callers. The Socialists stated that the object of their visit was to obtain from Mr. Gladstone some declaration of the Government's intention with regard to affording relief for the unemployed workmen of the country by means of public works. They desired to obtain this information for stumping the country in the impending labor agitation in order to be able to carry as much encouragement as possible to the people. Mr. Gladstone's secretary advised the deputation to call at the office of the Secretary for Home Affairs, as the subject was not properly pertaining to the Treasury. This reply was received with dissatisfaction, and the deputation handed the secretary a document for Mr. Gladstone's perusal. This was in the nature of a formal declaration insisting on behalf of the unemployed workmen that the Government take immediate steps to relieve pressing needs.

Mr. Childers, the Home Secretary, has appointed a committee, of which he is President, to inquire into the character and origin of the recent riots and the conduct of the police.

CHAS. CLUTHE,

Perfected Spiral Trusses for Cure of Rupture.

Patented Canada and United States, 1874, 1879, 1882 and 1884.

BE WISE,

There is hardly another disease which so undermines the health and happiness of hundreds of thousands of families as Hernia or Rupture. It creeps into almost every household as a worm; it causes nervous debility, impairs memory, extinguishes the spark which invigorates the relation of life in domestic circles, and inspires destruction to the most sacred institution of marriage, morality, etc.

In addition to the above it especially affects men, both physically and socially, of all ages and positions. It destroys energy and wears out the human machine tenfold quicker than age or labor. Sufferer, BE WISE. Rupture, as well as deformity, can only be treated by mechanical treatment. After all have failed to hold your Rupture, rupture always increasing instead of decreasing, I say come to or write to me, and I will do for you all I can.

Medals, Philadelphia Centennial and First Prize wherever exhibited.

Club Feet straightened without cutting or pain. The Paralyzed assisted mechanically, so that life will be of use to them again. Spinal Curvature treated most successfully.

CHAPTER X.

THE MASK THROWN OFF—THE BITTERNESS OF DEFEAT.

Even had Moore been a stranger, he must have guessed that something extraordinary was going on; that the two girls did not always look like that. Alice was standing by the mantelpiece, her cheeks flushed with the beautiful colour which excitement of any kind called up to them. Her eyes were very bright, and her lips parted, as though words were trembling on them, which she only restrained by a great effort.

Helen was very pale, but there was a look in her eyes which Percival had never seen there before, and which he thought, he should not like to feel had been called there by any word of his. Her lips were compressed, only in that way did she show her excitement. She had not risen from her seat, and Alice seemed to tower above her as she stood with her tall figure drawn upright. It was very evident there was a dispute going on.

Percival, perhaps, hardly rose to the occasion. He was so startled, almost shocked, that he could not behave as though he had noticed nothing. He looked from one to the other of the girls, and would perhaps have spoken if he had not been forestalled.

"Mr. Moore, will you go and ask papa now, please. He is in the dining-room."

He had never heard Helen speak in such a tone—cold and hard, without any of the little inflections which generally came into her voice when she was speaking to him. But she had raised her eyes full to his face as she spoke, and he knew perfectly well what it was he was to ask Mr Lafone. He merely said, therefore,

"I will ask him with the greatest pleasure."

He turned as he spoke and left the room without having exchanged any of the usual greetings with the two girls.

There was perfect silence in the room for a few moments after he had gone. A change had come over Alice's face; the brightness had died out of her eyes, but the color in her cheeks was deeper than before as she asked—

"What is Mr Moore to ask papa, Helen?"

"His consent to our marriage," replied Helen, a little curtly.

"Has Mr Moore asked you to marry him?"

"I should hardly have sent him to papa unless he had done so."

"How long ago did he ask you?"

"It is some time ago, now."

"And you have been engaged to him all this time?"

"Yes."

They could not possibly have been in a less favourable mood for understanding one another. There had always been a kind of tacit antagonism between them, caused as much by difference in bringing up as in character. Now, even the most superficial agreement had been swept away. Helen felt outraged. She had not at first believed Alice to be speaking seriously, and when it was forced upon her that she did in reality mean every word she said, she had been too much bewildered to make the only statement which would have effectually silenced her sister. Percival's entrance brought back her consciousness, and she lost no time in explaining matters, but in the curt, direct way which she always employed when very much annoyed or deeply moved.

Alice was equally angry. All her latent and strong prejudice against Helen was awakened by her words, and when she announced in that bald way that Percival and she had been engaged months before, while Alice had been losing her heart to him, she was almost dumb with astonishment and indignation.

So when Helen spoke her last words, Alice came up to her, and seizing her wrist gave it a little shake as she said—

"Do you mean that you have been engaged for months secretly to Mr. Moore?"

"Yes. Will you loose my wrist, Alice? If you feel an absolute necessity to hurt somebody, please let it be somebody else."

"I can never hurt you enough!" her passion bursting the bounds she had at first laid upon it. "Do you know what you have done with your ridiculous concealment and underhand work? You have let me fall in love with a man who was engaged to another woman, and you have let me make confession of my love to you—you of all people—the very girl to whom he is engaged. I will never forgive you, never, all my life long."

She was shaking with passion. All the time she had been speaking she had kept her grasp on Helen's wrist, but when she finished speaking she flung it from her with a gesture almost of fury. As Alice's passion increased Helen grew colder.

"How could I tell you? I had no idea you were speaking seriously. Do you suppose I would voluntarily have insulted you by supposing you capable of falling in love with a man who had not shown the least affection for you?"

"Ah, you sneer now; it is your turn, but my turn will come. If it is ever in my power to make you feel as I feel now I will use my power to the utmost. Could you not see? Could you not guess what was happening? Had you no instinct to tell you that such a thing must come?"

"None at all. What was I to see? When I went away you had not spoken half a-dozen times to Percival. Perhaps you think that when I was nursing my best friend upon his deathbed I was planning how to guard against the danger of your falling in love with the man who is going to be my husband. I never saw you and Percival together. All this has happened in my absence; that is not my fault."

"If you did not think of my danger, it might have occurred to you to guard against his."

"People do not guard against dangers that do not exist."

"You think so. You do not think me worthy to be your rival; certainly I never expected to have you for one. And you think there was no danger in leaving your lover for six weeks alone with me! You were very blind."

"Do you not think it was you who were blind?" interposed Helen in her low, soft voice. "Did you guess nothing? You knew that Percival and I were friends when you came home; you saw us together. It was rather you who should have inquired if Percival were free. Though after all to a certain extent you are right. I might have guessed that, accustomed as you are to have all you want, and far more than you want, forced upon you, you would really desire the one thing you might not have, and would want it all the more if you knew it belonged to some one else. It is always so with people of your character and training."

"You talk of character and training as if I had consulted my own pleasure in a character and training are a greater misfortune to their owner than to any one else?"

"You have always seemed perfectly satisfied with them."

"He would have helped me," went on Alice almost to herself without heeding Helen's words. "Under his influence I should have grown a better woman."

"So far his influence does not seem to have been very powerful, since you are just as determined to have and to keep whatever takes you fancy as before."

"How you talk!" said Alice, who had grown much quieter. "I cannot think now; I am stunned. But remember, Helen, I will never forgive you for this. You, the last of all the women in the world, to whom I would have confessed any weakness or failure, have cheated the admission from me. I never liked you, now I hate you, and will never in my life forgive you."

She left the room as she spoke, and Helen feeling a little shaken and upset began to wish for Percival, and to think how long he stayed away.

"If you did not think of my danger, it might have occurred to you to guard against his."

"People do not guard against dangers that do not exist."

"You think so. You do not think me worthy to be your rival; certainly I never expected to have you for one. And you think there was no danger in leaving your lover for six weeks alone with me! You were very blind."

"Do you not think it was you who were blind?" interposed Helen in her low, soft voice. "Did you guess nothing? You knew that Percival and I were friends when you came home; you saw us together. It was rather you who should have inquired if Percival were free. Though after all to a certain extent you are right. I might have guessed that, accustomed as you are to have all you want, and far more than you want, forced upon you, you would really desire the one thing you might not have, and would want it all the more if you knew it belonged to some one else. It is always so with people of your character and training."

"You talk of character and training as if I had consulted my own pleasure in both. Has it never struck you that such a character and training are a greater misfortune to their owner than to any one else?"

"You have always seemed perfectly satisfied with them."

"He would have helped me," went on Alice almost to herself without heeding Helen's words. "Under his influence I should have grown a better woman."

"So far his influence does not seem to have been very powerful, since you are just as determined to have and to keep whatever takes you fancy as before."

"How you talk!" said Alice, who had grown much quieter. "I cannot think now; I am stunned. But remember, Helen, I will never forgive you for this. You, the last of all the women in the world, to whom I would have confessed any weakness or failure, have cheated the admission from me. I never liked you, now I hate you, and will never in my life forgive you."

She left the room as she spoke, and Helen feeling a little shaken and upset began to wish for Percival, and to think how long he stayed away.

CRAWFORD VS. CRAWFORD

The Dilke Case in Court.

THE MEMBER FOR CHELSEA ACQUITTED.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—The trial of the divorce case of Mr Donald Crawford against his wife, in which Sir Charles Dilke is co-respondent, was begun to-day. Great interest is felt in the case and the court room was crowded. Dilke arrived early and took a seat in the court room without being recognized by most of the people in attendance. Chamberlain, President of the Local Government Board, and many gentlemen prominent in official and social life were present. The case being announced, the petitioner's counsel stated that the first intimation his client had of his wife's unfaithfulness was on the receipt of several anonymous letters, the writers of which warned Mr Crawford to beware of the "member from Chelsea" (Sir Charles Dilke.) Crawford thereupon made an investigation into his wife's habits, and found that she had been corresponding with one Captain Forster. This offence he had condoned. Receiving further anonymous letters, Crawford taxed his wife with infidelity. She admitted her guilt and made a full confession. She said she had slept two nights in the same bed with Sir Charles Dilke. His attentions to her, she said, commenced directly after her marriage. He professed to admire her because of her resemblance to her mother. The wife of the petitioner had attributed the anonymous letters to the vindictiveness of her mother.

The petitioner's case rested solely on his wife's confession. The servants of Crawford's household, counsel said, would give evidence showing that their mistress had been absent from home on the nights she stated she had slept with Sir Charles Dilke.

The petitioner (Crawford) was called to the witness stand, and gave testimony supporting the statements of his counsel. Crawford said he had been startled by his wife asking him whether he would forgive her if she had been unfaithful to him. His wife's sisters had been shown the anonymous letters, and agreed that they were in the handwriting of their mother. In her confession witness said Mrs. Crawford declared that Sir Charles Dilke had compelled her to enter a bed with "Fanny, his mistress," Sir Charles himself lying beside them. He then taught her every French vice. He then told her again how much she was like her mother.

Counsel for the petitioner submitted evidence against Mrs. Crawford, but submitted none against Sir Charles Dilke.

The Court granted Crawford a divorce from his wife and dismissed the charges against Sir Charles Dilke.
