

SECOND SESSION.—Opening, 184. Essay, "Our Resources in Men and Means," James Lewis, 184. Addresses—Bishop G. W. Clinton, on "Mission of Methodism to the Backward Races," 189; A. B. Leonard, on "Methodist Native Churches," 144; Bishop E. E. Hoss, on "Methodism in Korea" (manuscript not furnished), 147. Discussion—Richard F. Bromfield, 147; Owen S. Watkins, 148; H. W. Rowell, 149; Joseph H. Bateson, 150; R. L. Beale, 151; G. C. Clement, 151; Miss Clementine Butler, 152; Ernst G. Bek, 152; Joseph T. Barkhy, 158; Llewellyn E. Camp, 154; M. C. B. Mason, 155.

THIRD SESSION.—Opening, 155. Missionary Mass Meeting; Speakers—W. Howell Davies, 158; Bishop E. R. Hendrix, 157; Bishop Wilson S. Lewis, 181; Joseph Johnson, on "Home Missions," 168; Joseph H. Bateson, 170.

FOURTH DAY.

MORNING SESSION.—Opening, 171; Announcements, 171. Essay, "The Theological Heritage of Methodism," Geo. G. Findlay, 172. Addresses—"The Doctrine of Assurance," R. J. Cooke, 177; "The Essentials of Religion According to John Wesley," W. Windsor, 180. Discussion—J. G. Tasker, 182; Wm. Redfern, 188; Thomas Nicholson, 184; W. J. Moniton, 185; Joseph Dinnick, 185; Bishop J. L. Nielsen, 188; J. M. Buckley, 187; George Elliott, 188; N. Burwash, 188; Bishop E. E. Hoss, 189; M. S. Terry, 190; William Bradfield, 191; C. Ensor Walters, 192; C. T. Roman, 192. Announcements by Secretary, 198.

FIFTH DAY.

MORNING SERVICES.—Sermon, by Chancellor James R. Day, "Am I My Brother's Keeper?" 194.

AFTERNOON SESSION.—"Religious Aspects of Industry and Commerce"—Addresses by George H. McNeal, 210; Hon. O. W. Fairbanks, 218; S. S. Henshaw, 218; R. W. Essex (in absence of Arthur Henderson), 228; Paper of Arthur Henderson read by presiding officer, 225.

EVENING SERVICE.—Sermon by W. H. Fitchett, "Doing Wonders," 228.

SIXTH DAY.

FIRST SESSION.—Opening Services and Statement of Justice MacLaren concerning Exhibit of Methodist Antiquities, 287. Essay, "The Study of the Scriptures," by Prof. Peake (read in his absence by J. T. Barkhy), 238. Addresses—"Verification of Revelation in Experience," V. A. Gregory, 242; "Methods of Bible Study," J. Oliver Park, 247. Discussion, James L. Curtis, 250; James H. Moulton, 250; Levi Gilbert, 251; A. Carman, 252; W. Redfern, 253; J. M. Buckley, 254; Wilfrid J. Moulton, 254; George Elliott, 255; Joshua H. Jones, 258; J. S. Clemens, 257; M. S. Terry, 258; E. G. Bek, 258; Joseph Dinnick, 259; Joseph T. Barkhy, 259; J. Lewis, 280; Bishop E. E. Hoss, 261; J. G. Tasker, 282. Announcements, 282.

SECOND SESSION.—Opening Services and Statement of Chairman, 288. Essay, "The Newer Forms of Unbelief, and How to Meet Them," Prof. H. O. Sheldon, 288; Paper of H. Maldwyn Hughes, on "Christianity and Recent Philosophical Tendencies" (in his absence) read by W. W. Holdsworth, 289. Address on "Christianity and Modern Ethical Theories," President Francis J. McConnell, 272. Discussion—H. M. DuBois, 275; Wilfrid J. Moniton, 278; Bishop E. Cottrell, 277; H. L. Glond, 278; J. M. Buckley, 278; Thomas Worthington, 279; Bishop E. R. Hendrix, 279; Wm. Bradfield, 280; J. G. Tasker, 281; Enoch Salt, 281; A. B. Leonard, 282.