

308 A COLONIAL GOVERNOR IN MARYLAND

ST. CLAIR, SIR JOHN, 33-7, 46, 65, 76, 78, 101-2, 110, 138, 141, 145, 155, 158; wounded in Braddock's disaster, 59, 117.
 St. Luc de la Corne, 169.
 St. Sacrement, Lake, 68.
 Sainte Foy, battle, 180.
 Saratoga, 61, 272.
 Sawyer, Thomas, 231.
 Scharf's History of Maryland, quoted, 178 n., 284.
 Schuyler, Philip, 150.
 Schwerin, Marshal, 116.
 Scots exiles, 41 n., 289, 292.
 Scott, Dr. Upton, 2, 3, 260, 261, 263, 265, 277, 278.
 — Colonel, 86.
 Seabury, S. (Bishop), 233-4.
 Senecas, the, 38 n.
 Senex, the map maker, 204.
 Senezergues, Brigadier, 175.
 Servants, the planters' wealth consisted in, 46.
 — runaways, 41 n.
 Seven Years' War, 115.
 Seymour, John, 291.
 'Shades of Death,' the, 46.
 Sharpe, Horatio, Governor of Maryland, birth, 2; family connections, 2, 114; his commission in the marines and in the army, 2 and n., 3, 13; arrival in Annapolis, 1, 2, 293; reasons for his appointment, 13; difficulties with his Assembly, 17, 31, 42, 44, 52-3, 54, 136-7, 139-40, 148, 159, 163, 164, 165, 242; views of, on Washington's capitulation at Fort Necessity, 20, 22; receives commission as Lieut.-Col. from Lord Baltimore, 23; receives commission from King George, 24-5; consults with Dinwiddie as to defence plans, 24-6; difficulty with the Independent Companies, 27; endeavours to induce Washington not to resign his commission, 27; inspects frontier military posts, 27, 35; plans and preparations by, for attack on Fort

Duquesne, 25-6, 28; instruction from London as to measures for defence, 28-32; proposes taxation for a defence fund, 31, 137; conciliation of Indians by, 32-3, 126 et seq.; on attitude of the Indians, 33; preparations for Braddock's arrival, 35-6; letter to Braddock on the situation in America, 37-8; provisioning the troops, 38; visits Braddock at Alexandria, 39; loyalty to his chief on question of taxation, 42, 43, 163, 167; proposes lengthening session of the Assembly, 43; difficulties and anxieties of his office, 43, 98, 206; attitude to the 'virulent' burgesses, 44; joins Braddock at Fort Frederick, 45; endeavours to dissuade Braddock from recruiting intended servants, 45-6; receives warning from Bradstreet, 49; apprehensions as to Braddock's force, 52; endeavours to draft militia for defence of the frontier, 53; receives news of Braddock's defeat and sets off for Fort Cumberland, 57-60; remonstrates with Col. Dunbar, 60; account of Braddock's defeat by, 61-2; control of affairs left to, 62; raises volunteer force, 62; measures for defence of province, 63; invited to Shirley's council of war, New York, 71, 75-6, 77, 144; and the Indian ravages, 71-3, 76, 97-8, 103, 264; sends militia to Fort Cumberland, 73; view as to troops necessary in consequence of Braddock's defeat, 76; on the colonies and the question of defence, 76, 99; desires command of a regiment, 77, 96-7; and the Acadians, 89-92 passim; opposed to plan of raising regiments under foreign officers, 96-7; builds chain of forts on frontiers, 99; recommendation of Washington, 99; endeavours to restrain hostility to Roman Catholics, 111-12; death