THE BRITISH PERIODICALS
AND THE FARMERS' GUIDE.

LEONARD SCOTT & Co.,
No. 54, Gold Street, New York,

CONTINUE to publish the four leading British Quarterly Reviews and Blackwood's Magazine; in addition to which they have recently commenced the publication of a valuable Agricultural Work, called "THE FARMERS' GUIDE TO SCIENTIFIC AND PRACTICAL AGRICULTURE."
By Henry Stephens, F. R. S., of Edinburgh, Author of the "Book of the Farm," &c., &c., assisted by James F. Norton, M. A., New Haven, Professor of Scientific Agriculture in Yale College, &c., &c.
This highly valuable Work will comprise two large royal octavo volumes, containing over 1,600 pages, with 12 or 20 splendid Steel Engravings, and more than 600 Engravings on Wood, in the highest style of the Art, illustrating almost every implement of husbandry now in use by the best farmers, the best methods of ploughing, planting, haying, harvesting, &c., &c., the various diseases incident to their highest perfection; in short, the practical farmer of the book is minute, and will render it of incalculable value to the student of agriculture.
The Work is being published in Semi-Monthly Numbers, of 64 pages each, exclusive of the Steel Engravings, and in order to accommodate all, it will be issued in Numbers, of which there will be at least 32.
The British Periodicals Re-Published are as follows, viz.:—
The London Quarterly Review, (Conservative.)
The Edinburgh Review, (Whig.)
The North British Review, (Free-Church.)
The Westminster Review, (Liberal.)
AND
Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine, (Tory.)
Although these Works are distinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small portion of their contents is devoted to political subjects. It is their literary character which gives them their chief value, and it they stand confessedly far above all other journals of their class. Blackwood, still under the masterly guidance of Christopher North, maintains its ancient celebrity, and is, at this time, usually acknowledged to be the first Works of Science and other literary notables, written for that Magazine, and first appearing in its volumes both in Great Britain and in the United States. Such works as "The Caxtons" and "My New Novel" (Bulwer's works,) "My Professor Months," "The Quiet Horse," and other serials, of which numerous rival editions are issued by other publishers in this country, have to be reprinted by these publishers from the pages of Blackwood, after it has been issued by Messrs. Scott & Co., so that Subscribers to the Reprint of that Magazine may always rely on having the earliest reading of these fascinating tales.

THE COURIER.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 14, 1851.

The recent intelligence furnished by our London Correspondent, independent of its political interest, affords a variety of information acceptable to our readers. The position of Lord John Russell's Ministry is still precarious, and the results of its legislation difficult to be anticipated. The Papal Aggression Bill, unsatisfactory to a large portion of the British nation, will doubtless become a law, affording, however, but an imperfect and feeble barrier against those encroachments which seem to threaten the Established Church with additional dissensions and divisions. The recent action of the Archbishops and Bishops of the realm, in their Pastoral Letter to the Clergy, indicates a strong disposition, on the part of those dignitaries, to firmly maintain the distinctive doctrines and worship of the Church. They must speedily sweep away those unsightly cobwebs which have been permitted, by restless innovators, to deface the beauty and simplicity of our ancient and cherished faith. The foes of the Church, in this instance, have certainly been "those of her own household." The policy adopted by the Whigs, in many prominent measures contemplated by that party, appears to be extremely timid and indefinite. With many conflicting opinions among their leaders, they hesitate to act with that energy and decision indispensable to the successful accomplishment of their peculiar principles.

The principal object which in England now attracts public attention, and absorbs all other considerations, is found in the grand and imposing spectacle created by the united industry, enterprize, and ingenuity of the civilized world, heightened by the presence of five millions of people, among whom may be found every shade and distinction of human character. The "Correspondence" embraces, in its description of this mammoth creation of wonder, an interesting detail truly graphic in its delineations, and richly displaying the beauty and variety of the most prominent articles. Canada, is not without its share of interest in the productions which constitute the present wealth and ornaments of the Crystal Palace, and we anticipate for her Artists, Mechanics, and Artificers, an honorable distinction in those awards which belong to the efforts of industry and enterprise.

The present condition of France, we regret to learn, is still unsettled, and the keenest perceptions of political sagacity are unable to fathom those movements connected with its future policy. Possessing an elasticity of mind, and charged with a high mercurial temperament, the French are never passive. In the tumults of war, and amid revolutionary excitement, they find their most natural employment and their greatest pride. Whether the Republic will survive the present agitations, is, at best, problematical. The pretensions of the President towards Imperial elevation, are feeble and unsupported. The Napoleon of Austerlitz and Jenna, and that of 1851, are far different personages. The fame of the former belongs to France—the latter inherits only his name. The most prominent, and, we think, popular, successor to Louis, is General Cavaignac. His claims will be strongly supported by that party known as the Socialists, whose political power will likely prove disastrous to the Guizot policy, now so ardently at work for the return of the older branch of the Bourbons. It would not surprize us, in the mixing up of those discordant elements, where, by agitation, the dregs often ascend to the surface, to find, even in the obscure mechanic proposed for the Presidency by the Red Republicans, some extraordinary qualities of mind, and attributes of genius, by which he might arrive at the elevation claimed for him by his supporters.

From the intelligence referred to, it is gratifying to know that in England, engaged, as she is at present, in the development of those various resources so abundant in every department of her commercial and agricultural relations, the interests of learning, and the claims of literary merit, are not forgotten. It is with no ordinary pleasure we notice the noble and generous effort now being contemplated by some of the most distinguished Dramatic and miscellaneous authors of the present day, to provide for the necessities and infirmities of literary men. If Houses of Refuge are established for the reception of poverty and indigence—if Hospitals are erected for the decayed and worn-out veterans who have served their country—why should not the declining years of the aged scholar and man of letters find that solace and refuge from the precariousness incident to literary labor, which the kindred sympathies of learning afford. Sir Edward Bulwer Lytton, as the pioneer in this good work, has set an example worthy the author of Pelham; and the co-operation of Dickens, Douglas Jerold, and other eminent literary men, will go far towards the accomplishment of this design.

In our remarks in Monday's issue of the Courier, on the recent disturbances which occurred between the Captain of of the Crescent and the emigrants, we expressed our regret "to see on such occasions the necessity of a personal intervention of our chief city representative." We take great pleasure in stating, that these remarks were not intended to convey the idea that His Worship, without having been applied to, had sought the scene of the not. We felt assured that his interference had been solicited by the Chief of Police, with a view to suppress the threatened outbreak. The regret expressed had reference to the unpleasant position, and personal inconvenience to which such appeals from the subordinate officers would be likely to place the worthy head of our City Corporation.

Board of Trade vs. Trinity House.—Last week the public were favored with some correspondence of recent date between these Corporations, respecting a regulation controlling the landing of gunpowder enacted by the Trinity House. The correspondence was preceded by sundry observations of a contemporary of a somewhat offensive nature to the gentlemen composing the Trinity Board. The Editor assumed the character of Judge, but delivered his charge without hearing a title of evidence on the part of the defendants, why they should not be condemned as imbeciles, making a regulation worthy only of fools, in the first place, and then defending it "under the pretence," that it was intended to protect the city and its inhabitants from the possible contingency of an explosion of powder on the wharves or in the streets, whilst, at the very time, powder was being carted through the Quebec and St. Lawrence suburbs, without any regard to such a consideration.

Before bringing so grave a charge against a Board composed of individuals of respectable standing in the community for capacity and fair-dealing, it would have been only proper in our contemporary, to have made some inquiry into the facts, from members of the Board, and not to have adopted an ex-parte statement; and, it seems to us, that before calling on the Trinity Board to alter their By-law, it would have been well to have ascertained their reasons for making it. It would, in that case, have been discovered that it was only adopted after the views of the Mayor and Corporation had been ascertained, and with the full understanding that the city authorities should lose no time in regulating the removal of powder from the landing-place to the magazines, so that life and property should be endangered by its transportation, as little as possible. If it be true that the city authorities still permit so destructive an article as gunpowder to be carted through the streets, to them must attach the responsibility of such a course, and not to the Trinity Board, whose members have done their utmost to protect the citizens from so hazardous a practice.

Our contemporary would have done well to have cited the example of any city in Great Britain or in the United States, whose authorities permit powder to be landed on its wharves, or carted by wholesale through its thoroughfares, before attempting to cast the stigma of imbecility and hypocrisy on a respectable public Board, for refusing such permission. The Legislature, at its last session, gave the Trinity House authority to control the landing of powder. The authority necessarily involves responsibility; and the question at once presents itself, in what light would the Trinity Board be viewed by the country, if a whole city were to be in mourning through its gross and fool, hardy culpability, in permitting powder to be landed on the wharves in the very centre of business and population, whence, necessarily, it could only be carted to the magazines, through crowded streets?

With regard to gunpowder arriving for importers in Canada West, it must be evident that the Trinity Board could no more prevent its being transported from the foot of the current to the Lachine Canal, en route to its destination, than the Trinity House of Quebec could prevent Montreal traders, having gunpowder on board, from passing Quebec.

In addition to the above remarks, taken from the Herald of yesterday, we may add, that a change in the regulations relating to the landing of gunpowder, and of its cartage through the city, was called for by the citizens of Montreal, and the matter was brought under the notice of the City Corporation some months ago. So long as gunpowder was permitted to be landed on the wharves before the city, it could not be conveyed to the magazines in rear without passing through the principal thoroughfares, and the Corporation intimated to the Trinity Board, that unless they prohibited the landing of gunpowder on the wharves, the Corporation could take no action in the matter. Under these circumstances, the Trinity Board could not shirk the responsibility thrown upon them, and were compelled to pass a law prohibiting the landing of gunpowder on the wharves. This having been done, the Corporation are about to pass a law to regulate the carting of gunpowder, and which, we understand, is to the following effect:—That all gunpowder intended to be stored in the magazines in the rear of the city, shall be carted by the Victoria Road. Hence the landing of the powder at the Cross becomes absolutely necessary, and any inconvenience arising therefrom must be put up with, when considered in comparison with the public safety.

City Improvements.—We take pleasure in noticing the new arrangements and increased accommodations furnished by Mr. David Bansley in his Perfumery and Hair-Dressing Establishment, Notre Dame Street. He has, with a liberal outlay, greatly enlarged and ornamented his rooms, and furnished them with every article which fashion or beauty could desire. In addition to his many improvements, he has fitted up an apartment expressly for the use of ladies, and the junior branches of those families who may at any time require his services. His numerous Patrons we feel assured will properly appreciate his exertions to deserve their favor.

Notice to Gas Consumers.—Pay your Gas rent for this quarter on or before the 14th instant, (Wednesday,) or you will not be entitled to the discount.

The Bilingue Bulletin states that Cardinal Wiseman has invited some of the most celebrated Christian Orators of the Continent, to visit London during the Exhibition, and vast halls have been rented to accommodate the greatest possible number of auditors.

We are informed, says the Pilot, that the Gentlemen of the Seminary of St. Sulpice have agreed to assist the Industry and Rawdon Railway, to the extent of £1000.

On Saturday afternoon the body of a child was found in the river nearly opposite the Jail. It was considerably decomposed, so much so as to render its identification a matter of difficulty. It ultimately appeared, however, to be the body of a poor little orphan boy, who had lived with Mr. Newby, shoemaker of this city, and who was missed on the 22nd of March last, it being then supposed he had been lost on the ice opposite the town.

CANADIAN AFFAIRS.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

Toronto, May 10, 1851.

I have it on good authority that Mr. Hincks is in favor of the Halifax and Quebec Railway, in aid of which he will no doubt introduce a measure next Session, in accordance with the terms on which the British Government proposes to guarantee the loan. The question is one of great importance in many points of view. To add two millions to our present debt may, or may not, be bad policy—that will depend upon the charter of the investment. Will the Road pay? This question will be differently answered by different parties; and some, who will answer it in the negative, will not consider it decisive of the question whether the Road ought to be constructed or not. They may justify the expenditure on calculations of prospective advantages. It is quite clear that, without a Railroad from Halifax to Quebec, a Federal Union of the Provinces, whether desirable or not, is practically impossible.

Very little is known of what measures the Government intend to bring before Parliament in the approaching Session. They will propose to divide the County of York into four Counties; but whether the division will be made in such a way as to suit Perry, I know not. I may remark en passant that Perry's health continues very poor, and he will not be able to attend to his Parliamentary duties next Session. Nor will Malcolm Cameron attend, as the state of his private business requires his undivided attention. In the shape of effective opposition from the Clear Grit side of the House, there will, therefore, be nothing very alarming. Hon. J. H. Boulton will have that whole business pretty much to himself. What sensation McKenzie will make in the House remains to be seen.

The Church Union is making great efforts to prevent the secularization of the Clergy Reserves. Last week, Delegates (Lay and Clerical) from all parts of the Upper Province, met in this city, and held a public party meeting in the City Hall on Friday night. Their object, I presume, is to influence public opinion in view of the General Elections. I confess I have no idea that their success will be very great. Some effect they will undoubtedly produce; but they will also stir up the other party to greater exertions. In judging of the state of public opinion on this question, we shall deceive ourselves if we take it for granted that all the Members of any Church—even the Church of England—are opposed to the proposed secularization of these Lands. The Hamilton Spectator, and the Woodstock American, both Conservative journals, are in favor of secularization; and, I need not say, that of all the journals in the Upper Province, there is none that has a better knowledge of the state of public opinion than the Hamilton Spectator. So far as Upper Canada is concerned, I have not the slightest idea that the Church Union will be successful in their appeals to the judgment of the public.

The Mirror, a journal which strongly favored the Irish Rebellion, and which was yesterday the foremost advocate of Annexation, has just been selected as the organ of the Post Office Department. To its columns have been transfered the advertised lists of letters, from those of the Christian Guardian. These journals are both Sectarian, and, therefore, very unfit to be the organ of any Department; but the worst of it is, that the circulation of the Mirror is only about half that of the discarded Guardian. The latter paper dips into politics on occasions, and may possibly not forget to revenge the loss of Post Office patronage. Except this, Mr. Morris' changes have all been for the best; and if a change were necessary in the organship, a paper of large circulation should have been selected.

For some days past there have been vague rumors of a possible Coalition Ministry; but I cannot trace them to any reliable source. X.

Curiosity Governs the World.—A clergyman here announced to his people that he should preach to young men; the pews of his church were crowded with young ladies. He then announced a sermon to young women; the church was thronged with broadcloth. He proclaimed an address to children; and the fathers and mothers, and what some one calls "the dear middle aged people," were out in force. He gave notice he should exhort sinners; and had the sexton for audience. So, the announcement of a subject is not always the best way to secure the audience for whom it is the best calculated, and for whom the lecture is written.

Another Astonishing Gas Discovery.—Mr. Paine, who claims to have invented a method of producing light and heat by the combustion of water, not satisfied with this discovery, has hit upon a still cheaper and more abundant fuel. The Worcester Spy of yesterday says:—"Although the Patent of the Hydro Electric Light has been secured, Mr. Paine has not, remitted his investigations, and at last has discovered a process of extolyzing the oxygen of the atmosphere, and rendering it highly luminiferous at a mere nominal expense, without the cost of machinery, or any other apparatus than an air receiver, capable of holding a common air. We saw it in operation last evening in our office, examined it minutely, extalized the oxygen ourself, and read by the light so produced, which is equal, if not superior, to the best gas burned in the cities. The flame is peculiarly bright and brilliant, burns with a clear, steady light, is entirely inodorous, and during the half hour that we watched its operation, we could see no consumption of the extalizing material. The whole apparatus which we saw, could not have cost more than a couple of dollars, and it was capable of furnishing all the light needed for the illumination of an ordinary sized room."

Great Masonic Demonstration in Glasgow, Scotland.—The Glasgow Mail, of the 10th ultimo, gives an extended account of the ceremonies on the occasion of laying the foundation stone of the "Victoria Bridge" in that city, on the 9th April. The Victoria Bridge is to take the place of the old Glasgow Bridge, the oldest on the Clyde, and undoubtedly one of the most venerable structures in or about Glasgow, it having been built about the year 1345. The procession was very large, and comprised the magistrates, council and other civic authorities of Glasgow, several bodies of troops, the Grand Lodge of Scotland, and forty-three subordinate lodges.

When the line reached the site of the Bridge, the Grand Lodge, headed by the Grand Master, the Duke of Atholl, advanced, and performed the imposing ceremonies incident to laying the foundation stone, according to the ancient customs of the order. The stone was laid by the Grand Master, who delivered a very interesting address on the occasion. Save upon the Queen's visit, no demonstration was ever witnessed in Glasgow, which equalled this. Vessels of all nations, lying at the quays, displayed their colors, and flags decorated all the principal streets and edifices.

In the evening, there was a Grand Banquet at the City Hall, at which the Lord Provost, Sir James Anderson, presided. Among those by whom the Chairman was supported on the right and left, were the Duke of Atholl, Earl of Shannon, Alison the historian, and Sir James Campbell. Among the guests were several officers of the army; members of Parliament, and the U. S. Consul at Glasgow, Day Otis Kellogg, Esq. Several fine speeches were made by the Lord Provost, Mr. Alison, Sir James Campbell, the Duke of Atholl, Dr. Taylor, and others.

A Marriage Letter.

Dear Cousin,—Herewith you will receive a present of a pair of woollen stockings; knit by my own hands; and be assured, dear cos, that my friendship for you is as warm as the material, active as the finger-work, and generous as the donation. But I consider this present as peculiarly appropriate on the occasion of your marriage. You will remark, in the first place, that there are two individuals united in one pair, who are to walk side by side, guarding against coldness, and giving comfort as long as they last. The thread of their texture is mixed, and so, alas! is the thread of life. In these, however, the white predominates, expressing my desire and confidence that thus it will be with the colour of your existence. No black is used; for I believe your lives will be wholly free from the black passions of wrath and jealousy. The darkest colour here is blue, which is excellent, where we do not make it too blue.

Other appropriate thoughts rise to my mind regarding these stockings. The most indifferent subjects, when viewed by the mind in a suitable frame, may furnish instructive inferences, as saith the poet—

"The iron dogs, the fuel and tongs,
The bellows that have leathern lungs;
The firewood, ashes, and the smoke,
Do all to righteousness provoke."

But to the subject. You will perceive that the tops of these stockings (by which I suppose courtship to be represented) are seamed, and by means of seaming, are drawn into a snarl, but afterwards comes a time when the whole is made plain, and continues so to the end and final toeing off. By this, I wish you to take occasion to congratulate yourself, that you are now through with seaming, and have come to plain reality. Again, as the whole of these comely stockings were not made at once, but by the addition of one little stitch after another, put in with skill and discretion, until the whole presents the fair, equal piece of work which you see, so life does not consist of one great action, but millions of little ones combined; and so may it be with you. No stitch dropped where duties are to be performed—no widening made where bad principles are to be reproved, or economy is to be preserved; neither seaming nor narrowing where truth and generosity are in question. Thus every stitch of life made right and set in the right place—none either too large or too small, too tight or too loose; thus may you keep on your smooth and even course, making existence one fair and consistent piece, until together, having passed the heel, you come to the very toe of life, and here, in the final narrowing off, and dropping the coil of this emblematical pair of companions and comforting associates, nothing appears but white, the tokens of innocence and peace, of purity and light—may you, like these stockings, the final stitch being dropped, and the work being completed, go together from the place where you were formed, to a happier state of existence, a present from earth to heaven. Hoping that these stockings and admonitions may meet a cordial reception, I remain in the true blue friendship seemly, yet without seeming, yours, from top to toe, ——— ———.—Dollar Magazine.

Alexander Dumas.

There is a certain noted author, whose pen is worth a California placer, so prolific is it, whose extravagance would exhaust the Pactolus if it flowed through his house. Now this literary Hercules was early one morning visited by a hussar and two assistants, who avowed their purpose of seeing him safely to prison, on account of a certain debt, they being in fact only deputies of the gard de commerce.» He attempted to discuss, to negotiate, to entreat—but all to no purpose; the officer was polite and inexorable, the orders were formal, the writ regularly issued; 1200 francs must be forthcoming, or the door of the prison Chily would close upon him. How was he to extricate himself?

"You will at least go with me to my bookseller?" said the author, perceiving a ray of hope.

"Certainly, Monsieur, any where you please, I am at your service until sunset."

The whole [illegible] a coach, were speedily conveyed to the bookseller's, where the debtor alighted and, accompanied by his three satellites, made known his object, which was to procure an advance of 1200 francs on his forthcoming work.

"Sorry to refuse, my dear Dumas, but the fact is, you know our express agreement, not one cent in advance. In exchange for your manuscripts, I will go up to any amount at the rate of forty francs per page of writing; otherwise nothing."

"Take me home again," said the prisoner, addressing his guard.

"And what shall I do with my writ?"

"Don't be alarmed, take me back to my house."

Again they entered the coach; and in a few minutes are at the author's residence.

"Leave your bailiffs in the passage, and come into my library," said he to the officer. It was done, "Now take a comfortable seat on the sofa; here are segars, rum, and all my books, five hundred volumes—I admit none but my own works. Smoke, drink and read."

"Until sunset, Monsieur!"

"Yes, no longer time is necessary." So saying, Dumas threw off his coat, and seating himself at his desk, seized his pen and commenced writing furiously.

"What are you about to do, Monsieur?" asked the other.

"Don't disturb me, I am coining money."

A quarter of an hour elapsed. Dumas rang the bell, his valet answered it. "Take that to the publisher, he will give you forty francs for it."

He was obeyed; fifteen minutes after there was another ring; the groom appeared and was similarly commissioned. Each succeeding quarter of an hour a leaf was despatched—messengers were in demand; they formed a chain between the author and publisher. In a short time the crowds began to arrive, the copy and the money passed each other continually in the street, and the piles of each growing larger. At last, after seven hours and a half of intense labor, the battle was gained, and the debt discharged, while the sun was yet fifteen minutes high.

The hussar immediately sounded a retreat, much astonished at what he had seen, and somewhat so at what he had drank. It was only then that Dumas was conscious of having taken no sustenance since the evening before; seating himself at a table with as much spirit as he had just been taking a refreshing nap, he exclaimed,

"I have not wasted my day."—Gazette Française.

THEATRE ROYAL.

TO BE DISPOSED OF.
THE INTERIOR FURNISHINGS of the THEATRE ROYAL, Dalhousie Square, consisting of:—The entire Magnificent Scenery, together with the Machinery pertaining thereto; the very handsome Gas Fittings; the Stage Flooring; Orchestra Railings and Seats; Drum under the Orchestra, which cost £50; Pit Doors, Flooring, Partitions, and Seats; the Pillars; tastefully Ornamented Dress, and Upper Boxes, the Doors, Seats, Cushions, Linings, &c., &c.; the Gallery, with Seats, &c., &c.; the Stair Cases, made of Oak. The whole of the above are in excellent order; in the decorations, comfort and general good taste displayed; in the construction of the interior, by the former Proprietor, comment is unnecessary.
To a Purchaser giving good security, liberal terms will be offered.
Immediate application is necessary, as the whole must be removed forthwith.

THEATRE ROYAL,
ST. JEAN BAPTISTE STREET.
Should a Purchaser not come forward for the Scenery, &c., &c., it is proposed to offer a Lease of the Lot and Buildings, so far as prepared, (building of the Theatre to be completed by the party taking a Lease,) in St. Jean Baptiste Street, together with the interior, as above described, for a term of years. Said Lot measures 85½ feet by 77 feet. The high walls at present surrounding the Lot, also the Building adjoining, are quite adapted to be used for the walls of a Theatre. The cost of completing the Building is estimated at One Thousand and Three Pounds Currency.

JOINT STOCK COMPANY.
Should it be found impracticable to effect either a Sale of the interior work, or a Lease of the whole, as now to be seen, it is proposed to form a Joint Stock Company, for the purpose of purchasing the interior work, as before described, and of completing the building of the Theatre; and to permit of all, who feel disposed, to become Stockholders, the Shares are proposed to be, £5 each—on the amount of which the present Proprietor will guarantee six per cent: interest payable semi-annually; said Shares to be redeemable by him, on receiving six months previous notice from the party or parties wishing to dispose of their stock.

STIPULATION BY THE PRESENT PROPRIETOR.
In the Saloons, the Sale of Brandy, Gin, or Whiskey, will not be permitted—Wine, Ale, Ginger Beer, and Soda Water, of the best description, only; also Fruit, Sweetmeats, &c.

LECTURES, CONCERTS, BALLS, AND MEETINGS OF THE CITIZENS.
Had we a handsome Theatre, we might be favored some day with a visit from the incomparable Sougstress, Jenny Lind, and we would have some additional attraction for our American friends during the travelling season. We have no Concert Room, no properly constructed Lecture Room, nothing in the shape of a decent Ball Room—and last, not least, (there are stirring times ahead,) we require a comfortable place to resort to, where we can sit down and calmly listen to the story to be told to us by the future Representatives of our improving City. Had we a Theatre, we would be prepared for all such emergencies. At a moderate cost, a temporary floor could be laid, in a very short time, connecting the base of the lower Boxes with the Stage, thereby giving ample space for "the merry dance," or a public meeting of Citizens. We are 50 years behind "our neighbors."
Plans, specifications, &c., may be seen, and further particulars made known, on application to JOHN O. DINNING,
Land Agent,
35, François Xavier Street.

TURKISH BLACK SALVE.

UNDER THE PATRONAGE OF THE HONORABLE THE EAST INDIA COMPANY.

THIS SALVE, prepared from the original Recipe, procured from a celebrated Turkish Hakim, (physician) of Smyrna, in Asia Minor, and which has obtained an unprecedented celebrity in Great Britain and the East Indies, from the astonishing Cures performed by it in both these countries, has lately been introduced into Montreal. As might be expected, its popularity has followed it, and its use is becoming general among all classes. The contracted limits of an advertisement necessarily precludes entering into any adequate detail of its merits, but, for the information of the public, it is intended to publish, from time to time, such statements of cures as have or may occur. It has been used for the following complaints with the most complete success:—Sore by Swollen Glands, Broken Breasts, White Swellings, Whitlows, Scalds from Steamboat explosions, or other causes, Burns, Fever Sores, Scrofulous Sores, Sore Nipples, Carbuncles, Scald Head, Gunshot Wounds, Bruises, Boils, Frostbites, Wens, Chilblains, Ulcerated and Common Sore Throats, and Bunions. If used in time, it will prevent or cure Cancers, also Swellings arising from a blow on the Shoulder, Ring Worm, Pains in the Back, Rheumatism, Gout, Pains in the Chest, Palpitation of the Heart, Complaints in the Liver, Spine, Heart and Hip, Rushing of Blood to the Head, Swollen Face and Toothache. In fact, it is impossible to enumerate half the complaints that have been cured by the application of this Salve.

Photogenic Water.

When first applied to by Mr. Lemoine, for my opinion of the "Photogenic Water," I could only state that I had found it, on a cold experiment, a more valuable illuminator than any other of the trifling in various glasses, as shown and used in the Laboratory of the chemists, lamp and burners, particularly when [illegible] Water will be found extremely useful, and for the convenience of the chemists and lamps, which possess [illegible] properties, I have found it preferable to all other [illegible].

Having suspended my opinion until some years experience of the Water had satisfied me of its value, I have the true satisfaction to strongly recommend it to the notice and the public in the above address, in which I have found it superior to all the other Mineral Waters of Canada; and, as I have not yet seen any other [illegible] to be preferable to the above mineral, I have no hesitation in recommending it.

I may state, in conclusion, that I procured this Water for the chemists of my own family, and have always kept a supply in the house, since I became personally acquainted with its valuable qualities.

HUMAN HAIR.—SUPERIOR FLUID.—This is a compound, admirably adapted to the diseases of the hair, and has the particular merit of being prepared purely from vegetable ingredients, so that its application is perfectly safe. Many other fluids, which were sold but a short time ago, have nearly gone, or will very soon, be forgotten, arising from the destruction of the skin of the head, caused by severe acids, corrosive grist, and other mineral ingredients. By a liberal use of this Superior, in a short time they will find, to their delight, a luxuriant crop will have taken place in the setting of the skin, and a rich and luxurious growth of hair, of its original color, will shortly follow. Its effects in preserving the hair from turning, until a hundred years also truly wonderful. The Hyperion should be one of the principal toilet articles in every lady's and gentleman's toilet.—See testimonials.

SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, &c.

In all these distressing and prevalent cases, there is no question regarding the efficacy of this Medicine, on calling upon Physicians of this city, which is follows:—

Dr. [illegible] Sir,—Some time ago, I request on the part of Messrs. [illegible] of all resources in Scrofula, Sores, &c. One of my children, a daughter of 5 years old, was afflicted with a very persistent and protracted Scrofulous affection, which had continued for younger nearly two years, during which time [illegible] were tried but without effect. The disease attacked itself in several [illegible] and [illegible] which were scrofulous and very bad. At this crisis, I commenced the treatment with Dr. Sarsaparilla Bogle's Hebeaiona—the only remedy that stood in remarkable, was a discussion of Sarsaparilla, which soon conquered the disease, and a complete cure was effected. 265

OVERWHELMING TESTIMONIES.

M'ALLISTER'S ALL-HEALING OINTMENT,

From Physicians the most eminent, Clergy and celebrated, from Crown Lawyers learned in the Law, from Judges of celebrity on the Bench, from Ministers of the Gospel, whose undeviating integrity have made their shining lights in the pulpit of Truth; from Members of Parliament, Public Men, Merchants, and from thousands of every station, name and degree, unsolicited—all of which testify, in the most satisfactory manner, that the Ointment to be INFALLIBLE in the cure of Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Burns, Tetter, Piles, Erysipelas, Chilblains, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Quinsy, Croup, Rheumatism, Broken Breast, Ages in the Face, Gums, &c. It completely removes the IRRESISTIBLE PERSPIRATION, and by this means opens those cutaneous pores which have become so much impeded, the matter of the body, thus in the system clogged, will be freely purged, and the health restored.

It has power to cause all external Sores, Scrofulous Humors, Ulcers, Tumors, &c., to Burst, Mortify, or discharge their putrid matter, and then heal them, and will invariably be found to be efficacious and certain.

ELEGANT AND INVALUABLE ARTICLES FOR THE TOILET.

BOGLE'S HYPERION FLUID,

FOR RESTORING PRESERVING, AND ENNOBLING THE HAIR.

The following Certificate from Dr. Windsor Lewis, one of the most eminent Physicians of Boston, will show the estimation in which it is held by the scientific and learned, being one only of many similar ones.

Boston, Feb. 10, 1847.

Mr. Wm. Bogle,—Sir:—The preparation invented by you for the hair, has been extensively used in my family, and they give it the decided preference over all other compositions of the kind. It keeps the hair and beautifies the face, and cleans the skin of all impurities, without producing any obnoxious deleterious effects, which are so frequently the result of many well-known patented compounds.

WINSLOW LEWIS.

It is an indispensable article for the ladies, as it keeps the hair in place and curl, and the skin or parting of the hair free from dandruff and scurf. For children, it lays the foundation of a good head of hair.

BOGLE'S AMOLE,

A COMPOUND FOR SHAVING.

This delightful article is totally different and far superior to anything yet invented for shaving. The base of it is Hydrate of Potash, or, as it is popularly called, "Lye of Cedar," an article used by the natives of this country for washing; and then the use of strong alkali, so hurtful to the skin, is avoided. The vegetable and therapeutic properties of the Amole, and its marvellous effects on the skin, it is needless to add, always protective, and has a fine, thick, creamy lather, which does not dry on the face. It is a decided luxury to be shaved with it. Sold in tubes, 1s. It is done up in a neat stylish wood case for the shaving case of the "rough and ready" traveller, or the toilet of the most fastidious country gent.

BALDNESS CURED.

The following is from Sumner F. Barrett, Saratoga Street, East Boston:

East Boston, Feb. 6, 1851.

Mr. William Bogle,—Dear Sir: For several years past, my wife has been troubled with baldness on the Crown of the head, about six or seven inches in circumference. After repeated trials of other remedies, and at last by the advice of friends, she was induced to use your Hyperion at a trial, for the purpose of restoring her lost hair, and I am happy to say that no other has been to equate the hair to grow all over the part affected. She has used only two bottles, and thinks it decidedly; but she said it always and every regular, I am convinced that the growth of the hair would have been natural. Yours, Sir, yours respectfully, SUMNER F. BARRETT.

BOGLE'S HEBEAIONA,

FOR REFRESHING AND BEAUTIFYING THE COMPLEXION,

Ameliorating Tans, Pimples, and other eruptions of the skin, and rendering it fair, delicate, and blooming. It is equally efficacious in preserving the skin from the hot sun of Summer, and freezing blasts of winter, and is the most fragrant and delicious article to be found at the toilet of fashion.

All the above articles have stood the test of the strictest investigation, and are warranted superior to anything yet invented.

REDUCED RATES OF PREMIUM—HALF CREDIT RATES OF PREMIUM.

THE great and decided success which has attended this Institution, has induced the Directors to REDUCE the RATES originally required in British North America, to the ordinary European Rates. The result of such Reduction is to enable parties to avail themselves of the important benefits to Life Assurance at much lower Rates of Premium than those of any other Assurance Company transacting business in Canada.

The Directors have also resolved to extend to British North America the advantages afforded by the HALF CREDIT RATES of PREMIUM which have been so highly approved, and are so generally adopted by Policy Holders in the United Kingdom. The most liberal conditions are likewise offered to the Assured in the limits to which they may proceed by sea or land, to other parts of North America without affecting their Interest in their respective Policies.
